

BUFFALO SALE

This buffalo family—bull, cow and yearling calf—was sold by Wellington Livestock Auction Thursday, June 7. Billy Henard, of the auction company who had bought the trio, said they came originally from the Wichita Wildlife Refuge near Ft. Sill, Okla. Ottie Hopkins of Carnegie, Okla. bought them at an annual buffalo sale, conducted by the reserve, and kept them on feed with his cattle until they were tamer and more docile than is to be expected. The new buyer was Lewis Blau of Booker, who gave $750 for the pair and $250 for the calf. The bull is 5 years old and the cow is four.

PUC Grants Increase On LD Rates

The Public Utility Commission of Texas has approved a slight increase in charges for intrastate long-distance calls within the regional calling areas called local access and transports areas (LATA) established by the federal judge overseeing the divestiture of AT&T and the Bell operating companies.

The new charges, effective June 1, do not apply to intrastate calls made between the regional calling areas which are carried by the long-distance carriers rather than the local telephone companies.

The new rates apply to customers of all local telephone companies, including General Telephone, since the local companies are joint providers of long-distance service within each of the regional calling areas.

WTU Files for 12.4% Rate Hike

West Texas Utilities Company has filed for an increase in its electric rates for retail customers.

Local Manager Tommy Hudson said the application was filed Friday, June 8, a full year since WTU's last rate application, and is a systemwide request for higher rates. Simultaneous filings were made in all incorporated towns and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas at Austin for an increase in rural areas, unincorporated towns and in 21 municipalities which have ceded jurisdiction over electric rates.

The proposal would produce an annual increase in total retail revenue of $30,846,198. This amounts to 12.4 percent.

Hudson said the additional revenue is necessary to carry out WTU's current heavy construction program, which includes a new coal-fired power plant at Oklaunion near Vernon.

"By the time these rates become effective, we will have spent $167 million on the Oklaunion Power station and related projects," Hudson said. "Our last rate increase was not enough to carry us through this construction program, which is essential to continued reliable electric service to our customers."

WTU had requested an increase of $26.6 million in its filing in June, 1983. A hearing in that case was held at Austin in September, and the final PUC order granting about half the requested amount became effective January 4, 1984.

The Oklaunion plant will be completed in late 1986, almost 10 years after WTU's newest existing generating unit was completed at Fort Phantom Power Station near Abilene.

Citing a "light at the end of the tunnel," Hudson said WTU's spending should taper off as the construction program nears completion. Also, since coal is much cheaper for generating electricity than natural gas or oil, the fuel cost should be more stable after the new plant comes on line.

No major changes in rate structure are included in WTU's proposal. The requested rates would mean that a residential customer

Hance Loses One Vote in Recount

During the recount of votes cast in the U.S. Senate race, one vote was dropped from the total given Kent Hance in the second primary election, County Clerk Helen Gollighugh has reported.

The recount was held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, June 12.

As this was an apparent mis-count, it did not change the total received by Lloyd Doggett, she explained.

The mis-count was found in the Absentee Box, Mrs. Gollighugh said. Hance new total in that box was 63 votes; down from 64;

Doggett's count remained at 9; and two persons did not vote for either candidate.

In the county total, Hance total is now 715, down from 716; Doggett received 51 votes and 11 persons did not vote for either candidate.

Counters for the recount were Mrs. Earl Parker, Mrs. Bill Anders, Norman Miller and Pauline Bias.

Tommy Hudson, Hance campaign manager here, was the Hance observer for the recount. Two out-of-town men served as Doggett Observers, R. Scott Smith and Gene Frisbie.

Wheat Yields Better Than Expected

Rain during the weekend shut down completely a wheat harvest that was hitting its stride, but by Tuesday, June 12, cutting had resumed in several areas of the county and other growers were sampling their wheat to determine if it was too damp.

"Sampling has been going on since the rain, but most of the wheat is still running a little bit tough today," Glenn Warrick of Warrick's Inc., said Tuesday.

"A little bit of cutting is going on around Loco and Arlie and other isolated spots where there were smaller amounts of rainfall. We were well into the harvest but it's shut down till the fields dry up."

Warrick said yields and quality have been better than expected. A few dryland fields have made 30 bushels or a little better in scattered locations. Most of the cutting has been south, southeast and southwest of Wellington. Sandier grounds are not quite ready yet, according to Warrick.

"We are getting another scattered sampling from the north part of the county. We don't know if there was any damage from the rain, but we don't expect anything serious at all."

"We've had real good quality so far," Warrick reported.

Bill Lowe, manager of Singley Mill and Elevator, said his customers had started cutting Tuesday, with most of the what coming from the Loco-Arlie area, where not as much rain fell.

"Yields are better than everyone expected, 20 to 25 bushels on the average and we've had some, on irrigated land that was watered two or three times, that looks like 45 bushels. One (dryland) field ran about 36 bushels, better than we really expected.

"The quality is not bad although there are some shriveled grains."

"They have started cutting north of the River and if we get another week without more moisture the harvest will be pretty well over," Lowe commented.

Looking back over the wheat growing season Lowe said: "It's been so dry on a lot of the wheat that the drill furrows were still standing

General Rain Falls Throughout County

Drouth-breaking general rains the county so desperately needed came Sunday night, June 10 and although amounts varied, every part of Collingsworth had some moisture.

The lightest rainfall was in the Loco area, where an inch was reported, although most of the Loco-Arlie area reported up to 1.5 inches.

Wellington received from 2 to 2.7 inches and the measurements just north of Salt Fork were 2.5 to 3 inches. In general, the rainfall was heaviest along Salt Fork and in the northwest and west parts of the county.

There were reports of up to 3.5 and 4 inches in the area west of Samnorwood, and high wind accompanied the rain in that section.

Extension Agent Don Reeves said much of the cotton in the county was already planted, most of it dusted in with growers hoping to get rain in time to germinate the seed.

"Most of the cotton was planted on the bed fairly shallow and I'm hoping they can get it up," Reeves said.

"Cotton planted with a lister planter will have to be planted over unless farmers can get to it in time to loosen the dirt crusted on top."

Around Dodson, where 1.5 to 2 inches fell, most of the irrigated cotton was up. There was also a little more moisture in the ground to plant dryland cotton and it is estimated that around 50 percent of the crop in that section was dusted in.

At Marella, Jo Carson reported 3" fell altogether Sunday night, June 10. Two inches of this fell about 9:30 p.m. accompanied by hard wind. Another inch fell at 2 a.m.

She and her husband, John Carson were returning home and rain fell so hard they could hardly stay on the highway, she said.

Jean Ross, also of the area north of Quail, reported 2.5" Sunday night with additional rain and high wind about 4 a.m.

Three inches was reported from rain gauges, but it is believed high winds prevented an accurate measure.

Quail reported 2.5 inches and at Swearingen, southwest of Wellington, Wayne Cudd reported 2".

Along Buck Creek, Judy and Bill Hall had 2 to 2.5 inches. In Wellington rain gauges held from 2.2 to 2.7 inches, with one report of 3 inches.

Virginia Ford, southeast of Wellington, reported 2" while Tommy Hightower had 1.25 and Sandy Covey 1.5.

North of Salt Fork 2.5 inches of rain fell in the Lutie area, and 1.8 was measured at the Jimmy Brown home east of Lutie.

Two and one-half inches fell at Samnorwood, Kay Martindale said, but west of Samnorwood and around Dozier, 3" and more was measured.

School Attendance Stable

Wellington school attendance held steady through 1983-84 school year, Wellington school board was told at regular board meeting Monday, June 11.

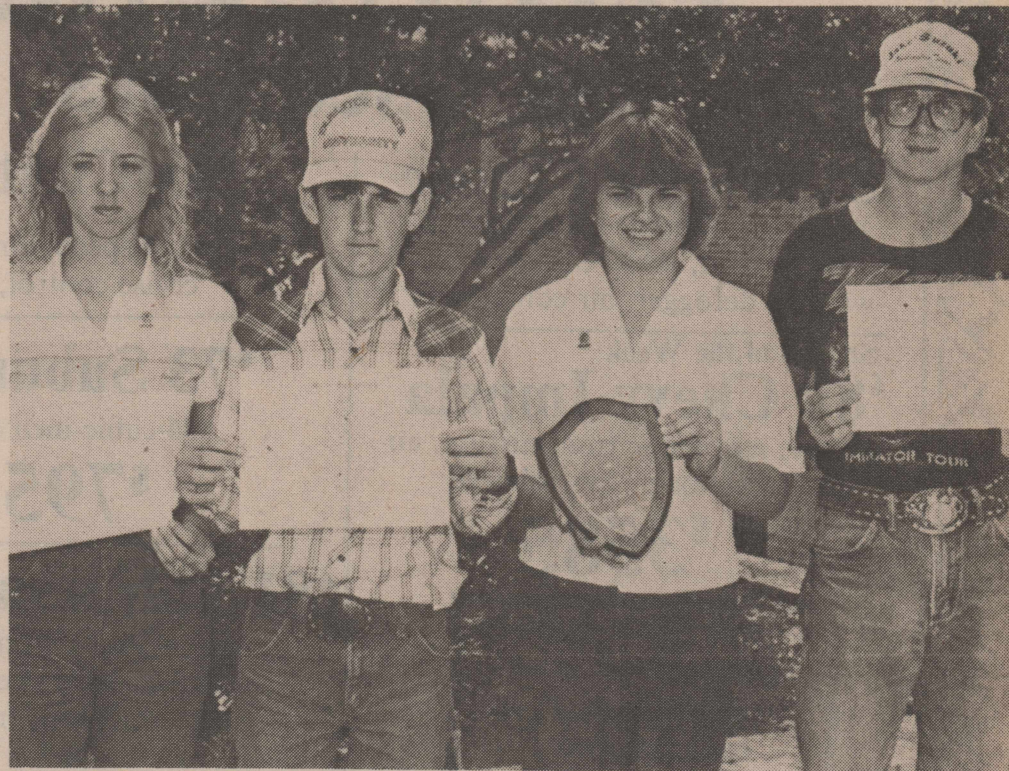

The school's refined A.D.A. (average daily attendance) from which the lowest six-weeks period has been excluded and on which state aid to the district is calculated was 664.47 students, up 1 from last year's 663.57. The school had a 95% attendance figure, Supt. Kenneth McKay said in his year-end report.

Counselor Louis Graham reported on results of the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) test administered to Wellington 3, 5, and 9th graders. Graham said that over the four-year period since the tests were instituted Wellington students' scores had increased significantly in areas that were initially identified as problems, and on which the school has placed special emphasis during the last

Grass, Pasture Team Win at 4-H Roundup

A 4-H team from Collingsworth County captured top honors in the range and pasture grass identification contest at the 1984 State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 5-6.

One member of the team was the high point individual in the entire identification contest.

Team members were Sandy Henard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Henard, Craig Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Brown; Stephanie Brandvik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brandvik; and Shaun Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Coleman.

Craig was the high point individual in the range and pasture grass identification contest.

The four attend Samnorwood School and practiced for several hours each evening before going to the Roundup.

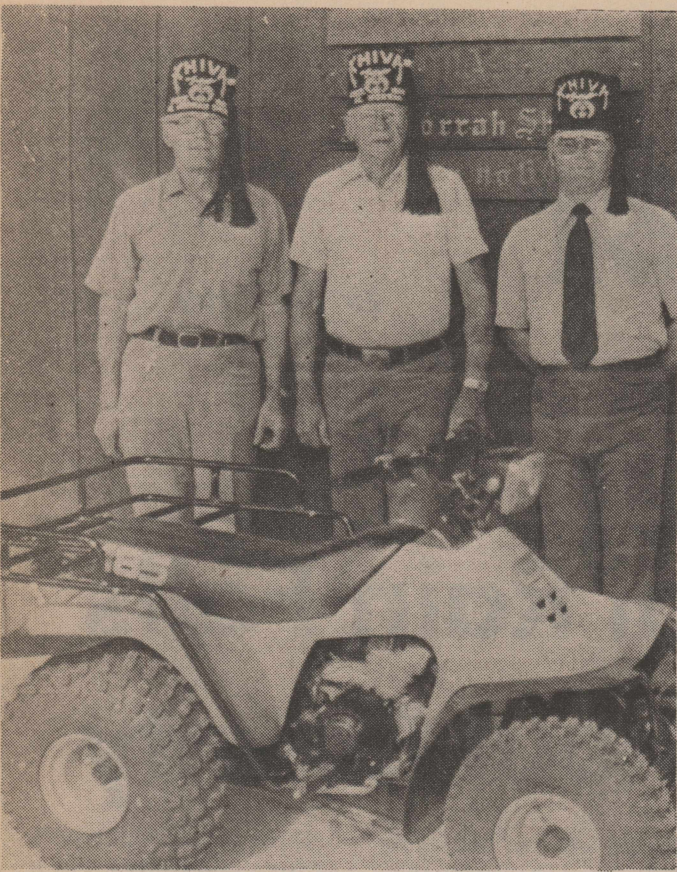

Jimmy Brown, coach of the team and vocational agriculture instructor at Samnorwood, and Don Reeves, CEA accompanied the team.

"Only the first and second place teams from each Extension district can enter the state event, and competition is extremely tough," said Reeves.

"The superintendent of the range and pasture grass identification contest said the top end of the scorers was higher than it had been in a number of years. And our team was at the top of the top end!"

"This team competed with 16 of the top teams in the state."

Officers of Al Morrah are A.R. Henson, past president; Chuck Rogers, president and Billy Ray Johnston, secretary.

Production of Oil, Gas Listed

Oil and gas production figures by county was announced April 10, by Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace.

Collingsworth produced 2,803,440 Mcf of gas well gas, according to the report.

Production of condensate amounted to only 948 barrels, and production of crude oil was 12,074 barrels.

Casinghead gas production amounted to 119,971 Mcf.

Pecos County again was the leading crude oil producer among Texas 254 counties in 1983 with total output of 50,250,720 barrels, according to Wallace.

Preliminary figures indicate Texas fields produced 849,072,112 barrels of crude oil in 1983, down from 871,780,379 barrels the previous year.

Pecos county was also the leading gas producer in 1983 with 253,750,744 Mcf of gas.

Bloodmobile Collects 55 Units Thursday

Fifty-five units of blood were given Thursday, June 7, during the semi-annual visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, according to Billy Owens, who directed the program for the Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary, the sponsor. The bloodmobile comes from the Red River Regional Red Cross Blood Service in Wichita Falls.

The next visit of the bloodmobile will be on Thursday, Sept. 20.

Pauline Masten reached the three gallon mark as a blood donor. "It's the easiest way to help others I have ever found. It seems to fill a need," she said.

and we made a good wheat crop. We had good fall moisture and that is all that made it. If we hadn't had that fall moisture, we wouldn't have this wheat crop."

Duggie Jameson, wheat grower in the Dodson area, said Tuesday wheat in that area was cutting from 18 to 30 bushels per acre, with some dry land wheat making up to 26 bushels. There is one report of irrigated wheat in the Loco area that yielded 49 bushels per acre.

Jameson also reported a little goat grass or joint grass showing up in wheat, the first year it has been seen south of Salt Fork. He called it a bother.

Goat grass has been seen in the county north of Salt Fork for two or three years.

Because the seeds are about the size of wheat grains, appearance of goat grass can keep farmers from saving their seed wheat, as it will be contaminated with the grass seed.

Goat or joint grass has been found in Nebraska in the past, Jameson said, and it is presumed that combine equipment, returning from harvests farther north, have carried seed in equipment, the operators unaware of its presence, and scattered it as they passed through the county.

The grass was first seen along the highways, it was pointed out, and it is probable that winds have blown the seeds into wheat fields.

Mrs. Masten has type AB blood, according to Mike Duncan, chairman of the Blood Services Committee.

Two donors reached the two-gallon point. Paulene Estes, with Type A blood, is on the staff of Wellington State Bank. Trinidad Cantu, Jr., with type O Positive blood, is employed by Greenbelt Electric Co-op.

Six donors on Thursday reached one gallon:

Betty Baumgardner, type B Positive, an employee of the ASCS office; Jimmy Cantu, Jr., type B positive, employed by Greenbelt Electric Co-op.

David Pruitt, type AB Positive, manager of Greenbelt Electric Co-op; Barbara Clements, type O Positive.

William Guthrie, type A Negative; and Dana Larri son, type A positive.

Other donors were Ray Cozad, Maria Torrez, Larry Wood, Verdel Masten, Teresa Collins, Lee Ann McDowell, Morine Childers, Denise Wilbur, Jerry Patton, Zelda Hatch, Phyllis Floyd, Loretta McKinney, Perry Foster, Jerrell Needham, Brenda Ferguson, Jack Barnett, John Kirksey, Tom Lonon, J.D. Ward, Truett Thomas, Jr.

March Drilling Applications Total 3,333

AUSTIN, Texas, April 11

- A total of 3,333 drilling applications were processed by the Railroad Commission in March, according to RRC Chairman Mack Wallace. In February, the Commission processed 2,990 applications, and 3,867 were handled in March 1983.

The March 1984 total included 2,538 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas tests.

few years.

Graham also reported to the board on a 1-year follow-up study of 1983 Wellington High School graduates. Of 45 graduates, 18 entered college, 3 entered technical school, and 2 more entered college at mid-term. Of the students attending college or technical school, 732 received some form of financial aid. Six girls were single and employed, 4 girls were married and employed, and 1 was married and unemployed. Two boys entered the armed services, five boys were single and employed and 1 boy was married and employed. One student entered technical school last fall but had to drop out for financial reasons, and is planning on returning to school this fall. Two students had moved from the area and could not be contacted.

The board took a preliminary look at proposed budgets for band and athletics, although the board took no action on the requests.

The board also heard a report on a proposal to buy various insurance policies through the Texas Association of School Boards, but took no action on the presentation.

The board also accepted bids on several old sewing machines from the home economics department and adopted a student records policy as required for federal handicapped funding.

John Birkey advised the board that they should be thinking now about replacing one of the school's busses.

Present were board members Frances Schmidt, Reed Souder, John Barton, Kirby Campbell, Carroll Nunnely, Bill Spillman and Dan Langford.

Extended Coverage

By Kirby Campbell

An automobile is stolen every 29 seconds--will the next one be yours? There are more than a million thefts each year, and most of the cars are never recovered.

Most tempting to thieves are expensive cars and accessories. Sports and specialty models are particularly vulnerable. But even ordinary cars are stolen for their parts and dismantled quickly in "chop shops".

You can't guarantee your car won't be stolen, but you can make it more difficult to get at. Be sure you lock your car and take the key with you. If you have an anti-theft device, use it.

Make your car hard to tow, too. If you park on the street, turn front wheels sharply to the curb. Try not to park at the end of the street. If your car has front wheel drive, pull on the emergency brake and put the car in "park".

Because there are auto thieves, there has to be insurance. Let's talk about yours at 1st Wellington Agency.

Tammy Hiatt, Joel J. Meade Wed in Formal Ceremony Sat.

MRS. JOEL JOHN MEADE

The College Church of Christ in Paris was the setting for the wedding of Miss Tammy Hiatt and Joel John Meade, both of Paris. The formal ceremony took place at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, June 2. Dr. Jimmy Newman, minister of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Hiatt, Sr., of Harlingen. The family formerly lived in Wellington and she is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis McGuire and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hiatt, all of Wellington.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Meade of Honey Grove.

The couple repeated their vows before an altar centered with a 15-branched arch candelabra, flanked by 14 branched candelabras. A pair of spiral candelabras and a pair of seven-branched candelabras completed the scene. Fresh foliage decorated the candelabras and baskets of mixed pink and burgundy gladiolas, carnations and chrysanthemums and carried out the bride's colors.

Wedding selections were sung a capella by Mark and Diana Welch, Steve Elkins and Martha Crockett and included "We've Only Just Begun," "I Owe You," "Only One," "The Lord's Prayer," "Wedding Song" and "Follow Me."

Mr. Hiatt gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a peau de soie princess style gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline. The bodice was accented with Schiffli embroidered lace, and the long sleeves were appliqued with matching lace and formed petal points at her wrists. The attached chapel train fell in soft pleats from a self-bow at the back bodice. Lace appliques outlined the skirt and train. The bride's veiling of illusion fell from her appliqued lace-brimmed hat accented with organza roses and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of fresh gardenias, pink roses and baby's breath.

Diane Ryser of Honey Grove was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Hiatt and Donna Hiatt, both of Dallas. Tyra Hiatt of Harlingen, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore burgundy gowns of bridal satin with deep scooped necklines and princess style bodices. The gowns had large puffed sleeves and tea-length skirts.

The junior bridesmaid wore a pink bridal gown with puffed sleeves and full skirt, with a wide ruffle at the hemline. Tiny ruffles bordered the neckline and sleeve cuffs. The waist was marked with a burgundy satin sash.

Each carried a long-stemmed pink rose with foliage and baby's breath.

Valerie Barnett of Paris was flower girl and Jon Eric Jenkins of Durant, Oklahoma, was ring bearer.

Steve Meade of Paris was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Blake Lane and Brad Lane of Honey Grove and Dana Hiatt of Paris, brother of the bride.

Ushers were Greg Meade of Atlanta, Ga., and Randy Meade of Arthur City, brothers of the bridegroom, and Roger Allen of Honey

RETIREMENT PLANNING

People often overlook retirement planning until they are nearly ready to retire. It may take many years to save enough for a comfortable retirement. So early planning can pay off. You can plan and manage a sound financial strategy for retirement by considering the following:

- Review your investment program. Will you be getting the best returns on your investments when regular income is lower? Make sure your financial holdings, including life insurance, can be shifted to the form best suited to your retired status. You may need to consult financial advisors to assist with this planning.

- Review your current spending plan. Study your total spending. You may want to look for savings on items that take large portions of your income, such as transportation or convenience food. However, if you don't eat out and entertain guests frequently, you will probably not make noticeable savings on food.

- Remember that some expenses will be reduced. Work-related expenses including clothing, transportation and some professional dues and subscriptions may be reduced. Federal income taxes may be lower, some forms of retirement income are not taxed and an extra exemption can be claimed by persons 65 or older. Investigate your possible deductions as well as property and homestead tax exemptions.

Calculate your expected income from all sources, and compare that income with projected expenses. Retirees may expect to have income that includes Social Security, pensions, and savings and investments.

- Consider ways you might supplement your Grove.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception.

Members of the house party were Lisa Kimbrell of Dallas, Tina Roe of Edmond, Oklahoma, Wanda Briscoe of Denison, and Lori Lane of Honey Grove. Rice Bags were distributed by Tyra Hiatt and Valerie Barnett.

The bride completed work at Paris Junior College and is a senior at East Texas State University. She is presently employed at First Federal Savings and Loan.

The bridegroom who attends Paris Junior College, is employed at Titan Homes in Honey Grove.

After a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple will make their home in Hopewell.

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Meade were hosts for a dinner Friday, June 1, at the Holiday Inn following the wedding rehearsal.

retirement income. Part-time employment, home production or bartering are possibilities. Check with a local Social Security office to find out how part-time work will affect your Social Security benefits.

- Investigate when to retire. Early retirement is likely to reduce your Social Security and pension benefits. Timing of retirement may also require changes in your health insurance coverage, and effect your ability to continue savings and investment plans.

- Plan for higher health care payments when you are no longer covered by a group health plan at work. This is especially important if you will not yet be eligible for Medicare. Even with Medicare, you may need additional health coverage to meet expenses not covered by Medicare.

- Think about the changes that might affect your lifestyle. Plan for the economic impact of losing a spouse, living alone, or moving to a different location.

You can make plans wherever you happen to be in your life. Both husband and wife should be involved in this important retirement decision-making. For assistance in retirement planning you can contact your company personnel and benefits officer, banker, or other financial professional.

"Lefties"

Hold Meeting

BY KIMI HENARD

Have you ever eaten with people who are all left-handed? That's what "Lovable Lefties" of Wellington Elementary School did on their final meeting of the year Monday, May 21.

A report was given on a survey made by one of the "lefties", Sam Needham, in elementary school. It showed that there were 135 right-handed boys and 16 left handed boys; 159 right-handed girls and 9 left-handed girls.

Those attending were Chris Fairless, Heidi Lewis, Corey Norman, Lupe Garcia, Lonnie Needham, Cherrill Shrubbs, Gabriel Owens, Brent Outley, Roy Sweeten, Dulberto Jaimes, Raymond Chambers, Kimi Henard, Sam Needham and Pamela Nash.

Annual Terry Family Reunion Draws Members Here Sat.

The annual reunion of the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Terry was held Saturday, June 9, in Bura Handley Community Center.

The C.C. Terrys, among the earliest settlers here, filed on land northeast of Wellington.

The group Saturday visited this home place, went to cemeteries to visit family graves, talked, took pictures and combined much of this with reminiscing.

The reunion dinner was served at noon. Some had not been here in a number of years.

Mrs. Joe Terry was the reunion hostess, assisted by other family members.

Those registering were Charles and Linda Terry and

Jim of Iowa Park; Leigh Havens, Lance Havens and Luke Havens of Booker, Louise Bouchelle; Lena Love and Gene Drake of Georgetown;

Jim Terry of Arlington; Peggy Sultemeier and Richard Sultemeier of Santa Rosa, N.M.; Joe and Karen Sultemeier of Dallas; Clara Black of Arlington;

Geneva Morris, Mike Aguiano and Ramona Aguiano, all of El Paso; Joyce Ann Miller of Albuquerque, N.M.; Shirley Moore, Taylor Ann Brock and Donna Brock Craven and Edith Cole, all of Amarillo; Kenneth and Dianna Terry and sons Denton and Derek of Oklahoma City, Don and Donnie Terry of Broken Arrow, Okla.; Mamie Terry and Sue Terry and Dusty Brown of Canyon.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Janes

FATHERS' ROLE IN FAMILIES

The way to celebrate Father's Day - with a cake, special dinner or gift for dad - may not change much over the years. But a father's role in the family has and continues to change.

Family relations experts tell us that one of the biggest changes in the father's role is parenting.

For years a father's parenting role has been considered secondary to his work, especially for men in professional and managerial positions or for ambitious men in any occupation. In addition, society has tended to equate womanliness with being a mother while fatherhood was less frequently associated with manliness.

But changes in both women's and men's roles are having an impact on fathering. For example, increasing numbers of fathers take an active role in preparing for childbirth and the actual delivery. Participation in all aspects of childrearing are being shared to greater degree by both parents as well.

Many factors including divorce, the employment of women outside the home and more leisure time have increased men's involvement with children. But perhaps the most significant factor is society's recognition that fathers have an important role to play in their children's lives.

Preserve Heirloom Textiles

Some families enjoy preserving a bit of their past by keeping grandma's wedding dress or handmade table cloth. Others enjoy buying their history at auctions and antique stores.

Wherever you get your textile heirlooms, you'll have them longer if they're cared for properly.

"Many of these textiles can never be restored to their original condition," says clothing specialist Becky Saunders. However, further deterioration can be prevented with proper storage and handling, says Saunders, a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

A dark, cool, dry place provides the best storage conditions for heirloom textiles, she explains. They need to be protected against heat, light, temperature extremes, mold, water, dirt, smoke, insects and vermin.

When preparing textile items for storage, do not starch or iron them. Also removed jewelry or pins, since the metal will harm the fabric over time, cautions Saunders.

Stuff all three-dimensional items, such as hats, bustles or puff sleeves, to preserve their shape. Vacuuming or using canned aerosol air will help remove dust before you store the fabric.

Label and store like things together to reduce later handling, advises the specialist. Then store the textiles flat, with the heaviest items on the bottom.

Make sure the items have plenty of room. You might also want to cushion or pad folds and re-fold items occasionally, since fibers can break at fold lines, she says.

If space is a problem, roll heirloom textiles in tubes, with the best side out. Make sure the tube is large enough to accommodate the item without crushing it.

Saunders advises against storing textiles in tightly closed plastic containers, because they retain moisture.

Use wood or cardboard drawers and boxes or cardboard tubes instead. Line all containers with unbleached and pre-washed muslin or sheets.

To hang heirloom clothing temporarily, use padded and shaped hangers which will help retain the garment's shape. Don't use padded hangers in bright colors, however, as some of the color might rub off on your garment.

Also fasten all of the closures on the garment. Knitted and crocheted clothes should not be hung, says the specialist, since they will lose their shape in the process.

If you go to the trouble of preserving and carefully storing heirloom textiles, make sure you also record as much information as you have about each item, says Saunders.

Records of who made the item, the date it was made and where it was worn can help with resale, contests or family awareness and may even increase the value of the heirloom, she adds.

Edna Crow Awarded National Distinguished Service Award

Edna Copeland Crow, who grew up at Loco and now lives at Hollis, has been chosen to receive the National Distinguished Service Award by the National Future Homemakers of America.

Mrs. Crow is the southwest district supervisor of vocational home economics education and Oklahoma State advisor of RHA-HERO (Future Homemakers of America), Home Economics Related Occupations, State Department of Vocational and Technical Education, Stillwater.

Each year one individual is selected for the award, based on that person's outstanding contributions and continuing service to the national organization.

Mrs. Crow was nominated for the award by the FHA-HERO 1984-84 State Officer Team and from many local chapter advisors from across the state.

She was a vocational, home economics teacher for 28 years before joining the state staff 9 years ago. Twenty-six of those years were in Hollis Public School system and two years were in the Ron School System.

Her career is marked with accomplishments in the vocational home economics education field of FHA-HERO in Oklahoma.

Among these are:

- Promotion of Oklahoma's fund-raising drive for the National Leadership Building fund and helped Oklahoma raise over $100,000, more than any other of the 53 organizations. The new building located in Reston, Va., has a large conference room named "Oklahoma" in recognition of the state's large contribution.

- Made possible the Oklahoma FHA-HERO Cookbook

"Cooking up a storm." Seven other states have since adopted the cookbook idea.

-Initiated the Oklahoma FHA-HERO newsletter published twice a year.

-Has attended the National Leadership Meeting for 20 years.

-Was responsible for organizing the FHA-HERO Leadership seminar.

-Helped organize the first state officers alumni association.

Other professional honors have included serving as past president of the Home Economics Division of Oklahoma Vocational Association Division of OEA, Past president of the Oklahoma Vocational Association.

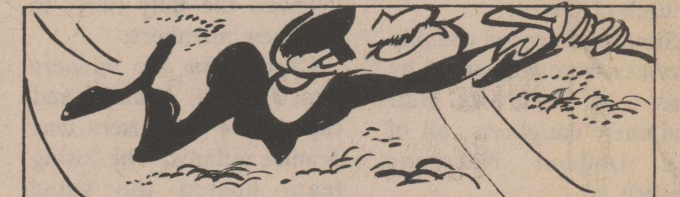

Within her community, Mrs. Crow is a member of the Order of Eastern Star, Daughters of the American Revolution. She was Harmon County's Teachers of the Year and Outstanding Woman of Harmon County.

Mrs. Copeland is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Copeland of Loco and Wellington. Her brother, Bob Copeland, and sister, Edith Copeland Carter, also had careers in teaching.

Scoopin'

There has been a great deal of discussion in recent years about the decline in American productivity compared to other nations. Productivity is the average amount of goods and services that each of us produces in a year.

One problem that has been identified is the confrontational style of American management and labor relations.

Workers in the first stages of our industrial development were not treated fairly in many instances, and one of the consequences was a system of rigid union work rules.

We saw in Wellington this week an example of how those rigid work rules decrease productivity and make our economic system less efficient.

A local elevator had ordered 12 cars per day to handle the wheat harvest which was pouring in. The railroad had not delivered as many cars as had been ordered, but last Saturday 12 cars were dispatched to Wellington.

The train arrived in Wellington, but when it was just one city block from the elevator, the train crew's scheduled time ran out. According to the work rules, the crew was obliged to stop the train, get out and call the Childress office 30 miles away for a ride back to Childress. The crew had to sit on their hands, according to the rules, while their ride was on its way, even though the time available was probably enough to move cars onto the elevator siding where they could be filled with grain. The train sat one block from its destination for 24 hours before another crew was driven over to complete the trip.

Meanwhile, the elevator's crew had been standing by waiting to load grain.

This story is an example of some of the things we need to correct in our economic system to help make us all more productive.

It is not an indictment of unions, because we need strong, savvy unions. And it is not an indictment of good pay for responsible jobs. But it is an indictment of some of the practices to which common sense and good business demand an end.

---Henry Wells

We Want Your Letter

The Wellington Leader encourages readers to comment on issues of local, regional, state, national or international interest with letters to the editor. The best letters are brief and discuss only one topic. All letters to the editor must be signed. The letter must include the signer's address and phone number, although this information will not be published with the letter.

Number of County Farms Decreases

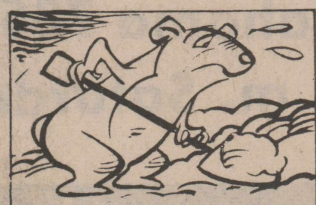

Preliminary reports of the 1982 Census of Agriculture show that the number of farmers in Collingsworth County decreased from 456 to 388 since the 1978 census. All land in farms totaled 459,678 acres in 1982, an average of 1,185 acres per farm. The Census Bureau defines a farm as any place from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were sold or normally would have been sold.

Land from which crops were harvested decreased to 86,387 acres since 1978.

The county's farmers sold $15.0 million in agricultural products according to preliminary reports from the 1982 Census of Agriculture. The 1982 sales figure represents an average of $38,578 for each of the county's farms.

The census reports that $6.2 million or 41 percent of total sales were for crops, while $8.8 million or 59 percent of the total came from the sale of livestock, poultry, and their products.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The Legislature convened in special session last week to consider whether to raise certain taxes and by how much, to pay for higher teacher salaries, education reforms and state highway construction.

Privately, some House members predicted it would take the Legislature close to the full 30 days allowed by the Constitution to enact a new program.

Governor Mark White gave lawmakers a formal $4.8 billion tax package that includes raising the sales tax by one cent, the fuels tax by five cents, and taxes on alcohol and tobacco by 20 percent.

The increase in the sales tax is heavily opposed by business and industry, and, at this point, is probably the most controversial of White's much-discussed tax program. The gasoline tax is the most popular.

The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, favors removing exemptions of the sales tax for certain professions.

White opposed closing those sales loopholes because he didn't want his program to become bogged down taking on the powerful special interests who had the clout to initiate those loopholes. But he said last week he doesn't object to Schlueter's efforts.

Perot, Bullock

In opening week speeches, lawmakers heard from three key players in the tax-reform drama: White, Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock, and H. Ross Perot, chairman of the select committee which drafted the reform plan.

Perot urged House members to enact the reform plan to give Texas a first class public education system, and not to ignore some recommendations. Perot wants the Legislature to abolish the 27-member elected State Board of Education, blaming its unwieldy operation for many of the state's problems. He wants a three-member board appointed by the governor, instead.

Bullock repeated his estimate of the state surplus at $15 million, and warned that if the Legislature spends money for any new or existing program, it will have to come up with the money for it.

Two Tax Increases

He also insisted that lawmakers should understand they will probably have to raise taxes again next January when they return in a regular session.

On this issue, White and Bullock clashed during the opening week. Bullock already announced several months ago he intends to run for governor against White in '86, and this special session in many ways is an early campaign confrontation between the two powerful officials.

White has already gambled by calling lawmakers to raise taxes, and he wants to avoid a regular session increase as well.

Cushion Future

Right after Bullock's speech, White unveiled his plan to avoid a second tax hike by freezing state agency budgets at current levels and by limiting state employee raises to only three percent.

He wants the Legislature over the next three years to set aside $971 million to cushion the 1986-87 budgets.

"The hardest part, of course, is to convince the Legislature to leave unspent funds on the table," White said.

That particular posture wasn't well received by some lawmakers who favor raising taxes for specific spending needs or not at all.

But White assured legislators that a second tax increase won't be necessary.

$80 Million Windfall

The State Education Commissioner told lawmakers that a dramatic drop in the enrollment of new school children in Texas has produced an $80 million windfall.

Enrollment declines were significant in Dallas and Houston suburbs, the Rio Grande Valley and the Midland-Odessa area, according to Raymond L. Bynum.

He said the money will be added to the surplus in the state budget where it can now be spent on education and highways.

Senate Early

Meanwhile, in the Senate they're working to pass an education reform bill that might be ready for floor debate as early as June 15, said Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Hobby named the entire Senate to the reform committee, and placed Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, as chairman.

Parker will also chair the subcommittee on teachers. Grant Jones, of Abilene will head the subcommittee on education finance, Tati Santiesteban of El Paso will lead the subcommittee on educational quality, and Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls will chair the subcommittee on organization and management.

PTA Poll

The Texas PTA is putting on an intensive lobbying effort to secure the pay hike, but it doesn't want all the proposed reforms.

A recent PTA-member poll released to the Legislature showed the majority favored raising taxes, especially the sales tax, and opposed replacing the elected state board with appointees. They also oppose lengthening the school day or school year.

Sales Tax Saga

Sales taxes usually contribute up to 40 percent of total state tax revenues, growing steadily over the past decade with annual leaps over 10 percent.

Last year, the tax fell by 4.5 percent. The problem was not in the retail sector, but in the non-retail portion which declined by 8 percent.

The non-retail decline included a whopping 31.4 percent drop in the mining industry, which has a very large oil and gas component.

Add to that an 18.1 percent drop in manufacturing, and a one percent decrease in construction.

Link to Oil

Bullock researched what wise Texas solons have known instinctively, but he linked revenues to oil in specific terms.

In 1982 about 11 percent of the sales tax collections came from some phase of the oil and gas industry.

An additional 19 percent of the sales tax was linked indirectly to petroleum.

Totaled up, that comes to 30 percent, or almost one-third of the sales tax has some link to the performance of the oil and gas industry.

In Dollars

In dollars, the state lost about $300 million in potential growth in sales taxes last year due to the oil price slump, according to Bullock.

The peso devaluations cost border sales an estimated $100 million in potential growth and the national economic recession took another $170 million.

THOMAS ROLL CALL REPORT

Your Congressman's Votes Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON - Here's how area House members were recorded on major roll call votes May 31 through June 6.

SPENDING The House voted, 247 for and 138 against, to spend $1.27 billion in fiscal 1985 on itself and legislative agencies such as the Library of Congress. Separately, the Senate is expected to fund itself in the $300 million neighborhood, putting the total legislative branch budget at more than $1.5 billion.

Members voting yes supported the bill.

Voting yes: Jack Hightower, D-13, Kika de la Garza, D-15.

Voting No: Charles Stenholm, D-17 and Kent Hance, D-19.

STAFFS By a vote of 191 for and 201 against, the House rejected an amendment to cut $13 million out of the 1985 legislative branch budget for staff salaries in the House. The vote occurred during debate on HR 5753 (above).

Members voting no were against a small percentage cut in spending for House staff salaries.

Voting yes: Stenholm, Hance.

Voting no: Hightower and De la Garza.

MILITARY By a vote of 298 for and 98 against, the House passed and sent to the Senate a $207 billion military authorization bill for fiscal 1985. This funds about 70 percent of the total military budget, which will account for nearly one-third of total federal spending in 1985.

Opponent Ronald Dellums, D-Calif., said the bill goes "beyond deterrence" and has "enormous and frightening implications for human life on this planet."

Members voting yes favored the military authorization bill.

Voting yes: Hightower, De la Garza and Stenholm.

Not voting: Hance.

AGRICULTURE By a vote of 232 for and 164 against, the House approved a one percent across-the-board cut in the agriculture appropriations bill for fiscal 1985. This

Melody Singers Here Sun.

Melody Singers from Oklahoma Bible College and Institute, Oklahoma City, will be in the morning service of Fundamental Baptist Church on Father's Day, Sunday, June 17.

These singers are Bible students preparing for full-time Christian service.

During the summer months they tour churches representing the college in order to impress young people to consider attending a Bible college as a means of strengthening their faith with a possibility of going into full-time Christian service.

Their itinerary carries them from Oklahoma to Texas, and parts of New Mexico. During their travels they will be in 11 churches in a 3 week period, Rev. Jim Vinyard is president.

"Feel free to attend this service of song and preaching this Father's Day. All are welcome. Services begin at 10:00 a.m. for Sunday School and the worship hour begins at 11:00 a.m.," said the Rev. Howard McCann, pastor.

City Receives $3,912.82 in Sales Taxes

State Comptroller Bob Bullock on Monday, June 3, mailed a check for $3,912.82 to the City of Wellington as local sales tax payment for the period ending May 25.

Wellington's sales tax collections show an increase of 9.27% over collections the same period in 1983. For that period, the city was rebated $2,459.27 in sales taxes.

The 1984 payments to date total $39,862.81 up from a total of $36,481.62 received for the same period a year ago.

These June payments reflect taxes on sales made in April and reported to the Comptroller by May 20.

For those who grew up in the country or in a small town this scene brings back fond memories of childhood fun, of carefree days when life was alive and shared with bosom pals. Whatever happens to those times as we grow older? Why don't we have those open companionships? The answer lies in us, for we have become sophisticated and inflexible, lacking in trust and sincerity. The only remedy for us is some real trust in God. Real trust in Him leads our lives into paths of real trust and joy in our relationships to our fellowman. When Mamie Terry answered her telephone on one of the 100-degree-plus days, she could hardly believe what it was telling her.

One of the Terry nephews, Bob White, had called from Colorado high country to say that he and his family couldn't get to the Terry reunion Saturday because they were snowed in. They'd flown their plane from Dalhart not knowing of the weather in store.

History Book Questions Answered

Answers to several questions concerning the county History Book were answered this week by Mrs. Evelyn King, chairman.

Those who settled in the Oklahoma Strip are eligible to be included in the history. It includes those who came when the strip was part of Old Greer County, Texas, Indian Territory, or Oklahoma, as well as those who have come to the area more recently, said Mrs. King.

"We have had several people to ask us to pick up their family histories from old newspaper articles, or from stories of their families published in books. We cannot do this. You must send your family history to us. It won't be there if you don't send it, she added.

Korean War Veteran Dies In California

Bobby Frank (Dink) Turner, a 25-year veteran of U.S. Army service, died May 27 in Covina, Calif. He was 53 years of age. Turner grew up in the Lutie community and attended Samnorwood School. He enlisted in the Army in 1947 in Amarillo. He served four tours of duty in Korea, and in the Korean War he participated in 5 major campaigns. For bravery in action he received the Silver Star and the Infantry Combat Badge. In 1951 his unit received the Presidential Citation. S/Sgt. Turner also had tours of duty in France, Germany, Japan and Okinawa. Other assignments were at Fort Ord, Calif., Fort Benning, Ga., Fort Lawton, Wash. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner and was born Sept. 8, 1930 at Lutie. He was married to Winfred Kay Hull April 11, 1954 at Yuma, Arizona. Funeral services were conducted Friday, June 1, at 11 a.m. at the Christiansen Chapel, West Covina, Calif. Officiating was the Rev. Robert Wendel of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in La Puente, Calif. Burial was in the National Cemetery at Riverside, Calif.

Survivors are his wife, Kay; three sons and two daughters. He is also survived by two brothers, James Claude Turner of Garden Grove, Calif., and Alvin Turner of Norwalk, Calif. One son preceded him in death. Relatives here are two aunts, Mrs. Walter Deger and Miss Maudie Coffee.

Mrs. A.Y. Bell Dies June 9 At Age of 98

Mrs. A.Y. Bell, who came to Collingsworth County 75 years ago as a bride, died in Thomas Nursing Center at 5:55 a.m. Saturday, June 9. She was 98 years of age. Mrs. Bell was a member of a family which was instrumental in the growth of North Texas.

Her maternal grandfather, Pleasant Thorpe, settled in Hood County in 1853 and founded the town of Thorpe Springs which became a major trading point. He was a founder of Ad-Rand College, which later moved to Ft. Worth to become Texas Christian University.

Mrs. Bell was the former Amanda Jane Carraway, daughter of L.J. Carraway, a Confederate veteran, lawyer, farmer and merchant, and of Catherine Ann Thorpe Carraway. She was born in Parker County Oct. 30, 1885 in Parker County and grew up at Thorpe Springs. She attended Ad-Rand College and on June 1, 1909 was married to Andy Y. Bell in Weatherford. They boarded a train for Memphis, then came to Collingsworth County, settling at Marella, on land which remains in the family. Mr. Bell was to become a rancher, banker and civic leader. Mrs. Bell was a talented pianist.

In 1912, Mr. and Mrs. Bell moved to a farm west of Wellington and later to their home on Childress Street where they lived many years. They also lived for a time at their farm north of Wellington. Mrs. Bell was an active community church and school leader and helped with Red Cross work during two world wars.

She was a member of 1st Christian Church and played the piano for services many years. At the age of 95 she joined the United Daughters of the Confederacy, becoming a "Real Daughter". In the organization this indicates she was the daughter of a Confederate soldier during 18, 1949 to Miss Armaleta Ingram. Mr. Moore was an outstanding Wellington High School athlete, and his interest in many sports continued through his life. He was also especially interested in the Ex-Students Association and had attended most of the reunions.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday, May 31, at Johnson's Funeral Chapel in San Angelo, with the Rev. Mr. Gaines officiating. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery in San Angelo.

Survivors are his wife; Armaleta, and one son, Eddy of San Angelo; one grandson; three brothers, J.M. Moore of Kerrville, Howard Moore of Lubbock, and Joe Moore of Austin; and four sisters, Mrs. Maurine Whisenant and Mrs. Leslie Denmead of Amarillo, Zonetta Moore of Pilot Point, and Faye Duncan of Austin.

Change Made In Drivers License Days

A change has been made in part of the dates on which a drivers license examiner for the Department of Public Safety will be in Wellington. The examiner will continue to be here every Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. In the future, however, the examiner will be here on the first and fourth Friday of every month. Hours will also be 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Thompson Dies Friday Unexpectedly

Mrs. Loren Thompson, Wellington resident most of her life and long-time bank employee, died unexpectedly at her home, 1602 Corsicana Street Friday morning, June 8. She had been in ill health several years.

A member of a family that came to Collingsworth County in the early years of its settlement, Mrs. Thompson was the former Eva Lovelle Glenn, the daughter of the late B.G. Glenn and Maude Ryan Glenn. She

the Civil War.

Services for Mrs. Bell were conducted at 11 a.m. Monday, June 11, in Schooler Gordon Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. David Keller, pastor of First Christian Church, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Schooler Gordon Funeral Directors.

Pall bearers were Earl Hunter, Sandy Parsons, Robert Lewis, John Robert Henard, Zook Thomas, Barney Glenn, Tommy Thomas and Melvin Seale.

Surviving Mrs. Bell are one daughter, Mrs. Newton (Faye) Crain of Canyon; three grandchildren: Jim Copeland of Anton, Charlotte Slay of Austin and Dorothy Frost of White Deer; and 8 grandchildren: Charles, Cherie and Christy Frost of White Deer; Joel Slay of Canyon; Carol Slay of Austin, Kurt Copeland Kalette Copeland and Andy Jack Copeland of Anton.

Relatives living here are two nephews, Paul Bell and Guy Bell; and a niece, Vaudine Pate lives at Lubbock.

Mr. Bell died in 1966 and their older daughter, Dorothy Bell Copeland Walker in 1981.

was born at Memphis October 8, 1911, but she was less than a year old when the family came to their farm east of Wellington. She graduated from Wellington High School in 1929 and attended a business school in Dallas.

On April 20, 1930, she was married to Loren Thompson in Hollis. They had lived away from Wellington only three years, when they were in Wichita Falls and El Paso from 1937 to 1940.

Mrs. Thompson was employed on the staff of Wellington State Bank from 1953 until 1973, when she retired.

She was a member of First United Methodist Church and of the Dorothean Group of United Methodist Women. She was a former member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 10, in First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Tom Thomson, pastor, officiating. Burial was in North Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Schooler Gordon Funeral Directors.

Pall bearers were H.L. Jenkins, R.L. Mabery, Louis Allred, Robert Lewis, Sandy Parsons and Earl Hunter.

Survivors are her husband, Loren Thompson; two sons, Jerry Thompson of Floydada and Jimmy Thompson of Kansas City, Mo.; one daughter, Mrs. Wayne (Joan) McClendon of Denver, Colo.; one brother, Barney Glenn of Wellington; two sisters: Mrs. Mava Hunsaker of Lubbock and Mrs. Virginia Horsman of Georgetown. There are 8 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mrs. Thompson was preceded in death by a brother and sister, Eugene Glenn and Nora Petty.

R.C. McNetts to Live at Blanco

Dr. and Mrs. R.C. McNett, who formerly lived in Wellington and more recently in Shamrock, have moved to their new home in Blanco.

They will be near their four children and several grandchildren, Mrs. McNett said.

One son, Roy C. McNett, Jr., is publisher of the Blanco County News, and their other son, Judd McNett lives at Canyon Lake. One daughter, Marilyn Hill is in Austin, and the other, Christine Doan, is relocating in San Marcos.

Dr. McNett practiced dentistry in Wellington after he retired from the U.S. Navy. Mrs. McNett was active in Daughters of the American Revolution. Her mother and sisters live in Shamrock.

U.S. Newspapers sold more than $660 million more advertising than did television and radio combined last year.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORT

VACCINATE HORSES FOR SLEEPING SICKNESS TETANUS

Though sleeping sickness is no longer a major problem in the horse industry, it still exists and all equines should receive a protective vaccine each year.

A highly effective combination vaccine is available for horses.

Losing horses to sleeping sickness is unnecessary.

In recent years cases of the disease have been reported in Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, and Alabama, probably due to high mosquito populations during the summer months.

Equine encephalitis (sleeping sickness) is carried naturally by several species of birds. When mosquitoes bite an infected bird, the disease can then be transmitted by the mosquitoes to other animals.

Early signs of the disease include fever, loss of appetite and depression. The animal is usually restless, may walk aimlessly in circles and be sensitive to sound and touch.

One common symptom is a horse that stands with his head hung low like he's sleeping. He doesn't fully chew hay or forage, and as the disease progresses, the tongue may actually hang out of the mouth.

Once a horse is infected, treatment is generally unsuccessful. That's why proper immunization each year is so important.

The disease can also be transmitted to humans and some other animals. The virus has been found in dogs, goats, pigs and domestic birds.

All equines should be vaccinated each spring before mosquitoes become prevalent. This should give them the protection needed for another year.

Consult your veterinarian regarding available vaccines to combat sleeping sickness.

Bicycle Route Maps Available

AUSTIN - Bicycling enthusiasts may obtain free maps from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department outlining more than 400 miles of interconnecting bike routes through the Hill Country and other areas of Central Texas.

Prepared by the department and the Austin Cycling Association, the 10-map packet shows state and local parks, hazardous areas, road conditions, points of interest, mileage, basic and full services and important telephone numbers.

The packets are available from several sources, including the state parks

Little League Receives Mobile Concession Stand

Robert Owens of Owens Auto Salvage has donated a slightly damaged travel trailer to Wellington Little League Association to be used as a concession stand.

The trailer will be repaired and remodeled, said Nick Gilley, Little League president. The damage is to one end that would be removed anyway for installation of a serving counter.

"We'd like to use it for activities other than the Little League," Gilley added.

"We would appreciate donations of labor and material to complete the project."

Volunteers who would like to help do some work on the field should contact Gilley.

LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES

The Astros are the team to beat in the Wellington Little League Association, Gilley declared this week. "They have scored a lot of runs in all their games."

With play already deep in the season, the Astros have won almost twice as many games as their nearest competitor, the A's.

Edith Brown On Staff of Wells & Wells

Edith Brown of Samnorwood has joined the staff of Wells and Wells Insurance and Abstracts as a secretary, according to Jack Sanford, owner of the business with Cal Hurst and Lyn Hurst.

Mrs. Brown worked in a similar capacity for Bill Spillman, attorney, 16 months and at the County ASCS office a year prior to that.

She also worked while she lived in Lubbock.

She is the wife of Jimmy Brown, vocational agriculture instructor in Samnorwood High School. They have two sons, Craig 14, and Alex, 11 years of age.

Mrs. Brown, the former Edith Lemons, graduated from Dodson High School.

Glass was first manufactured in the New World in 1608 in Jamestown, Va. The work was disbanded after 7 years for more profitable tobacco growing.

A's	5 3
Braves	3 6
Athletics	0 8

Beginning with the Monday, June 4 game, the Astros defeated the Athletics 33-12. Michael Shrubbs was the winning pitcher and was relieved by Doug Dorton.

The losing pitcher was Lamont Sterling. Reggie Jones hit a home run for the Astros.

These teams played again Thursday, June 7 and this time the Astros won 37-6. Brent Duncan was the winning pitcher and Johnny Shaver the losing pitcher. Doug Dorton and Reggie Jones pitched in relief for Duncan.

On Tuesday, June 5, the A's won over the Braves 13-4. Billy Culpepper the winning pitcher, went all the way. The losing pitcher was Joann Outley.

In their second meeting of the week, the A's defeated the Braves 15-9, Friday June 8.

Marvin Lynch was the winning pitcher and was relieved by Steven Hale in the 5th inning.

Losing Pitcher was Clifton Curry, with Larry Lewis coming on in relief in the 5th. Lewis tripled for the Braves and Lynch for the A's.

On Monday night, June 11 the Astros beat the Braves 18-5. Again Duncan was the winning pitcher and Joann Outley the losing pitcher. Doug Dorton tripled for the Astros and Joann for the Braves.

Umpires for Little League games have been Charles Britten, Walter Clements, Kirby Campbell, Tommy Hudson, Candy Reyes, David Caison, James Carroll, Ray Cozad, Tommy Allison, Charles Darter, Harold Talley, Vernon Day, Larry Boyd, Jim Ingram, Larry Adams, Kenneth McKay, Craig Darter and Tommy Thomas.

Anyone willing to umpire or help with any other Little League duties is asked to contact Gilley.

NEW IGA STORE

IGA Store Holds Grand Opening Announces Mgr.

IGA Foodliner grocery will hold its Grand Opening beginning Thursday, June 14, through Wednesday, June 20, and the owners announced the appointment of a new manager for the store this week.

The IGA store is the old Owens & Scott Thriftway store which was purchased last month by Southwest Foodliners, Inc. which owns 7 other stores in the Texas panhandle. Southwest is associated with IGA, Independent Grocers Alliance, which serves 3,300 grocers across the nation.

New manager for the Wellington store is Joe Holliman. Holliman has been associated with United grocery stores for the past 10 years and his position before moving to Wellington this week was as assistant manager of the United store on South Washington in Amarillo. He was born in Wellington and graduated from Monterrey High in Lubbock.

Holliman and his wife, Sheri, have four children, Maria, 9, Jennifer, 7, Joe, 5, and David, 3. Holliman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bo Holliman of Amarillo and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Holliman of Wellington.

"We're glad to be in Wellington, and we're glad to be able to offer to the public the buying and advertising power of being associated with IGA and its 3,300 stores," Waylon Newman, Southwest Food-liner managing partner said. Southwest has renovated the building and installed a new canopy and new signs were added this week.

Modern postage stamps came into use in 1840.

Loco-Arlie in County History

The histories of families now living, or who have ever lived in the Arlie-Loce area will be included in the Collingsworth County History Book, according to Evelyn King, chairman.

Wellington was the trading point and religious and educational center for the families living in the north part of Childress county, and this will be brought out in the history.

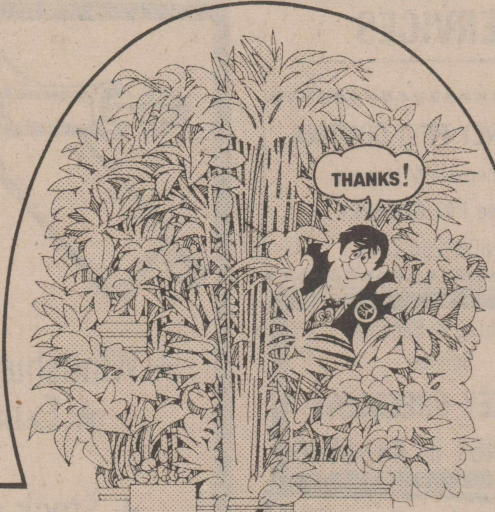

Present population histories need to be included in this history book, said Mrs. King. Because it will serve as a source book for the future. She urges that all families of the county be represented.

The size of the book is 9x12 inches, hardcover, with leatherette binding. The price is $35 plus $1.75 tax and $3.25 shipping charge. Out of state buyers do not pay a sales tax.

The book will be issued on a pre-sale basis--only as many copies will be printed as are needed to fill the orders already sold.

Those wanting memorial or tribute space will pay $250 for full page; $150 per half-page; and $85 per fourth page. Checks should be made out to the Collingsworth County History Book and mailed to Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce, Box 267, Wellington, Tx., 79095. The outside of the envelope should be marked "History."

Church Approves Change of Name

The Assembly of God Church in its annual business meeting Tuesday, June 5, changed its name to New Life Assembly of God. "After much prayer and consideration, Pastor Boyd and the official board brought forth the name change to the congregation to be voted on," the announcement read.

"The new name reflects the new spirituality being outpoured," said Rev. Boyd. "Regardless of church affiliation, I want to be of service to anyone who needs spiritual guidance and counseling."

Everyone is invited to join the congregation in its services. There is no change in the hours of services.

Help clean up Wellington.

Thank You

With heartfelt gratitude, we would like to thank all the dear friends whose support and prayers helped so much during the loss of our loved one, Eva Thompson. Your many kindnesses and generosity will be remembered and were so much appreciated. God bless you one and all.

Take control of your Life.

Universal Life. A remarkable new policy that puts YOU—not the insurance company—in control of your life insurance.

- You determine premiums (how much, how long, when to pay)
- You determine protection/cash value blend (adjustable to meet your current needs)
- You save on administrative costs (have one flexible plan instead of several policies)
- You earn competitive interest rates (Your cash value is credited with an interest rate determined monthly. The rate may rise or fall periodically but never below 4 1/2%.) We're currently paying over 12% on amounts of cash value in excess of $1,000.

You owe it to yourself—and to your family—to find out more about this new concept called
