WPB Revokes Many Production Controls

Sweeping Move Scraps 210 Bans To Speed Flow Of Peacetime Products

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—The War Production board tonight scrapped 210 production controls in a sweeping move to speed reconversion of American industry.

In one stroke the agency wiped out restrictions which had prohibited or limited manufacture of hundreds of consumer products.

Only about 125 controls were left on the books. WPB said many of those would be revoked in the next few days.

Among controls eliminated were those on the number of radios, refrigerators and trucks that could be produced. Ceilings on automobile production will be lifted very shortly, WPB said.

These Products Included

Also scrapped were restrictions on manufacture of such products as stoves and laundry equipment, metal furniture, electric fans, motorcycles, storage batteries, photographic film, shipping containers, oil burning equipment, silk and cotton duck, machine tools, construction machinery and caskets.

J. A. Krug, WPB chairman, said removal of controls was designed "to facilitate the reconversion of industry and speed the flow of a wide variety of peacetime products into the hands of consumers, while still avoiding price inflation, preemption of scarce supplies, or a buyers' scramble.

"These moves," Krug said, "are further steps toward achievement of fundamental WPB policy to make it easy for industry to help itself and to solve its problems without government assistance."

Effective At Once

Except for most chemicals and a handful of other items, the revocations are effective immediately.

Krug stressed that WPB had conferred with consumer durable goods manufacturers on "the importance to economic stabilization of large production in their lines."

"They have agreed," he continued, "to produce the same proportion of low cost merchandise as they did prior to the war. The lifting of individual orders does not remove this obligation from industry. We are prepared to reimpose our orders if this does not prove to be the case."

The WPB chief said also that industry had agreed "to do all it can to step up output to high levels."

He said WPB would keep a careful watch on the effects of removal of controls and "will reimpose whatever restrictions may become necessary."

Krug promised that priorities

Bond Election Is Set Today

Lubbock's electorate—from 3,000 to 4,000 persons are eligible—will go to the polling place in the office of Lubbock Independent School district at 1007 Texas Ave., between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m today, and cast ballots in a $1,500,000 school bond election

J. L. Murfee will be election judge, P. C. McCoy and R. Bush Smith, clerks.

Vote Qualifications

It is not necessary for a qualified elector living in the school district to own real property as a prerequisite to voting eligibility, said A. C. Jackson, business manager of the district.

The law, Jackson said in correcting an erroneous statement made in a report published Sunday, is as follows:

"None but resident, qualified property taxpaying electors of Lubbock Independent school district who own taxable property within said district and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, shall be entitled or allowed to vote at said election."

This means, he explained, that a person who has declared and paid tax on personal property, for instance a piano, is just as eligible to vote as an owner of real estate property, provided he is 21 years of age, has paid his poll tax, and is otherwise qualified.

It also means that an elector, owning real estate, does not have to live on the property that he owns but must reside in the district and own property—either personal or real estate—located in the district and "rendered" for taxation in order to be eligible, in the special election on the proposed issuance of the bonds, needed for the enlargement of Lubbock's school facilities.

British Define Foreign Policy

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 20.—British foreign policy under the new Labor government emerged clearly in the House of Commons today, where Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin drew cheers with a blunt statement that Great Britain will oppose any attempts to substitute "one form of totalitarianism for another" in liberated Europe

He condemned the governments of Bulgaria, Romania, and Hungary as undemocratic and instructed the Poles and Greeks to unite in their own lands for the task of reconstruction.

First Major Address

Bevin's first address as head of the British foreign office, worldwide in scope, was enthusiastically received by the lawmakers.

When he concluded, his predecessor, Anthony Eden, declared Bevin's words had received the approbation of the entire house. "We feel that what he said represented a foreign policy of which he was speaking for all parties," Eden asserted.

Thus Great Britain's postwar diplomacy, launched with a united front, embraced these salient positions:

1. Great Britain will not recognize the governments of Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary at the present time because they "do not in our view represent a majority of the people, and the impression we get from recent developments is that one kind of totalitarianism is being replaced by another."

Regime In Greece

2. The British desire "a stable and democratic" government in Greece. It is the British view that the government of Premier Peter Vulgaris should carry on until a free election is held.

3. Official reports from British troops stationed in northern Greece did not bear out "serious allegations" made by the Yugoslav government about treatment of Slav speaking Greeks.

4. Although the British government would take "a favorable view" if the Spanish people changed the Franco regime, it is "not prepared to take any steps which would promote or encourage civil war in the country."

5. The question of making a peace treaty with Italy will come before the council of foreign min-

Invasion Of Norway Laid To Quisling

By NED NORDNESS
Associated Press Staff Writer

OSLO, Aug. 20.—A sensational charge that Maj. Vidkun Quisling planned the Nazi invasion of Norway and received gold from Hitler for betraying his country marked the opening today of the treason trial of the former puppet premier.

Quisling, visibly shaken by the accusation, rose from his seat and muttered weakly "that's not true."

Trying desperately to control himself, Quisling answered that he always considered Germany Norway's most dangerous threat.

"I am the saviour of Scandanavia," he said. "I am the martyr of Norway."

He "Stopped" Attacks

With strong emotion, Quisling added: "By appeasing the Germans in Norway I stopped them from attacking Norway."

As the trial opened the prosecution disclosed that testimony is now being taken in Germany, and will be introduced in court, from Hermann Goering, Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, Joachim von Ribbentrop and other high ranking Nazis themselves awaiting war crimes trials.

Quisling is charged with military and civil treason, 16 specific murders and various other crimes. He is being tried before a high court with three judges and four laymen sitting in judgment.

State Prosecutor Anneaus Schjoedt read from a document he said was discovered in Germany and in which Hitler disclosed that steps taken resulting in Germany's successful occupation of Norway were based on warnings and advice from Quisling.

The document was one of two presented by the prosecutor. He said they were taken from German archives by American forces last April.

Letter To Hitler

One was a letter allegedly written by Quisling to Hitler July 10, 1940, in which Quisling professed has hard labors for a greater Germanic Europe with Norway included, and expressed bitterness over his treatment at the hands of Josef Terboven, German commander of occupied Norway, by which his first government was deposed.

The second document was a full report of political preparations for the invasion of Norway which was delivered to Rosenberg, one of Hitler's high ranking administrators.

This document asserted that as early as the summer of 1939 Quisling approached and collaborated with Rosenberg, Reichsmarshal Goering and others in planning the invasion of his own country.

Federal 'Triple A' Agency Is Abolished

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—One more of the government's alphabet agencies — AAA—which means Agriculture Adjustment agency, went out of existence today but another — PMA — took over its duties.

PMA stands for the newly created Production and Marketing administration of the Agriculture department.

In line with an announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, the old "Triple A" as such ended and its duties will be handled by the "field service branch" of PMA.

A spokesman said the only change would be possible consolidation of previous state AAA offices with various other Agriculture department offices such as the Office of Supply, but not the Soil Conservation service, the Farm Security administration or the Farm Credit administration.

Under the new plan, there will be a state director in each state. The state director may be, although not necessarily, the previous chairman of the state "TripleA" committee.

Little, if any, change in the personnel of the state offices is contemplated for the time being.

France To Add $17 Monthly To Pay Of U. S. Men Still There

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP) — The French government will pay a "subsidy" to members of the United States armed forces in France, amounting to 850 francs a month, beginning on Sept. 1. It is estimated that this amount—about $17.00—will double the serviceman's "take-home" or "pocket" money.

The announcement was made tonight in a joint statement by the Treasury department, the War department and the French government. In effect, the move amounts to a revaluation of the French franc as far as service personnel are concerned.

The payment which treasury officials say is made outright to the United States government by France is free and clear of any further obligations, is entirely apart from lend lease and will not become a debt to France.

Generally, it will be paid in this manner:

Servicemen regularly stationed in France will receive the extra francs on payday.

Servicemen on temporary duty or in transit during redeployment, will receive the money upon their entry into France.

Servicemen on furlough in France will receive their additional money if they are to be in France in excess of a specified number of days, not yet made public.

This payment is a plan of the former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau. He had worked on it for months after numerous complaints were received that the American servicemen was being forced to pay exorbitant prices for entertainment, presents to send home and small luxury items. Another evil of the system before development of the subsidy plan was that in some instances, servicemen were patronizing a black market in francs, thus endangering French economy.

Prayer Helped In Escape From Fiery Superfort—

Survivors Tell Of Tragic Crash

CAMP WOLTERS, Aug. 20. (AP)—How two members of the shattered bomber fought through the plane's wreckage for freedom as it was plummeting to earth after a tragic collision with another B-29 near Weatherford last Friday night was told by the survivors now recovering in the station hospital here.

"Put me down for saying that praying helped," said Cpl. Earl E. Wischmeier, 25, West Burlington, Iowa, command gunner on one of the planes. "Anyone who doesn't believe in it is crazy."

Only Two Survived

He and Flight Officer Edwin F. Smith, co-pilot, of Glasgow, Ky., were the only survivors of the accident, which flashed across a peaceful sky scattering debris over a large area.

According to Smith, this is the story of the accident: "We were going west on a routine training flight. I was keeping the altitude and checking the instruments when I heard my pilot say 'Oh my God.' I looked up and about 10 feet away I saw the wing of the other B-29 coming at us. Then it hit with a terrific crash.

"Our fourth engine caught on fire and I was thrown to the top of the cockpit. The plane went into a spin and centrifugal force threw me to the gun turret. I pulled myself to the controls and tried to straighten out the plane, but the controls were frozen.

"I reached for a bar on an escape window and crawled out. The slipstream pulled me out to my thighs but my legs were caught. This lasted for 15 seconds while we were going down fast. Then my chute opened miraculously and jerked me clear of the plane and I passed out."

Smith landed in a field near Weatherford. He suffered severe bruises on his legs and a fractured right ankle. Also his right shoulder was dislocated. After

OPA To Reduce Meat Points In September

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (U.P.) — The Office of Price administration plans to lower the point values of many cuts of meat in September, it was understood today.

And outright end of meat and possibly butter rationing is expected to follow later in the fall unless there are unforeseen supply complications.

The outlook for the civilian meat situation became brighter over the weekend when Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson announced the suspension of set-aside orders on beef, veal and pork hams.

The government, however, will continue to require packers to set aside quantities of pork shoulders and loins and lard, which continue in scarce supply.

Australians Report Occupation Forces

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20. (AP)—Melbourne radio said today Australia has decided to send an occupation force of two Army brigades, three air squadrons and a naval force of cruisers and destroyers to the Japanese homeland, Malaya and Singapore.

Men now serving actively in the islands north of Australia will compose the occupation force, said the broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

Nips Now Say Surrender To Apply Only To Armed Forces

They Stress Necessity Of Keeping Armed Strength; Singapore Defiant

(By The Associated Press)

THE Tokyo radio warned in English today that "hot headed" military men might take direct action because of distaste for alien occupation and a Japanese-language broadcast quickly explained that occupation, according to the Potsdam declarations, would apply "only to military or politically important points."

The later broadcast, directed to the Orient and recorded by the FCC, also analysed the term "unconditional surrender" as meaning only the unconditional surrender of the Japanese armed forces.

Earlier Tokyo broadcasts beamed to the United States hinted at possible internal upheavals and said acceptance of Allied terms was "resented by a considerable portion of the military men."

Emotions May Rule

"Some of the hot-headed among them," continued the broadcast, beamed in English to the United States, "may allow their emotions to get the better of their judgment and there is no telling what unfortunate incidents may occur."

Pointedly asserting that a "considerable portion" of Japan's military forces "remain intact, without any actual defeat on the field of battle and with their morale unimpaired," the broadcast added:

"To disarm and disband these units and to watch passively while the Allied armies of occupation disembark on the soil of Japan may be too much for some of the military officers to bear."

The broadcast, unidentified as to authority, recognized there would be a "clash of divergent opinions" in the days ahead and said this might result "in the disorderly clash of premature action."

Discipline Urged

With increasing stress, the government, the press and officials appealed to the populace for strict discipline, peace and order.

A message from the government to General MacArthur indicated the necessity of keeping Japanese armed forces in the homeland for the present "for the maintenance of order and the protection of the general public."

These omens, seeming to portend some violent domestic com-

Great Armada Set To Move

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Tuesday, Aug. 21—General MacArthur announced today that he would leave quickly for conquered Japan at the head of a mighty array of Army, Navy and Air forces and would dictate surrender articles in the enemy homeland within ten days.

One of two Japanese planes carrying the Tokyo emissaries home from Ie island rolled into a ditch this afternoon while proceeding toward the takeoff runway but none of its occupants was injured.

Other Off For Tokyo

The second plane, bearing Lt. Gen. Takashiro Kawabe and eight other envoys, left without incident at 6:40 p. m. for Tokyo. The other Japanese remained overnight on Ie. They are expected to resume their trip Wednesday.

American consorship had delayed announcement of their departure from Manila for several hours after their C-54 American transport left for Ie. There had been no further word until Ie dispatches disclosed the accident there.

The sky-filling American air fleets, the landing troops and the Allied armada scheduled to move speedily into Japan will be alerted for any emergency as they approach the shores of that seething country.

Resentment Feared

The Japanese notified MacArthur officially that they were keeping forces under arms at home "for the maintenance of order," and the Tokyo radio warned that many of the Japanese military might forcibly resent the occupation.

But the manner in which the

Damage To American Carrier Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP) — The Navy disclosed today that a Japanese bomb and plane hit the big carrier Hancock on April 7, causing 140 casualties.

The toll included 29 killed, 76 wounded and 35 missing.

The attack occurred on the day that a fast carrier task force found and sank the Japanese super-battleship Yamato when it left the shelter of homeland waters in an attempt to attack invasion forces at Okinawa.

At the time, the Hancock was crusing south of Kyushu, southermost of the main Japanese home islands.

Mercy Mission Of Planes Abandoned

RANGOON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Last minute orders from headquarters stopped a flight of planes poised on Mingaladon air field today with cargoes of medicines, cigarets and other supplies for air drops to 10 prisoners of war camps along the Moulmein-Bangkok railroad.

It was understood that the order was issued because Japanese might fire on the planes.

Reds Smash On Into Manchuria

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Russian troops rolled into the great Manchurian cities of Hsinking, Mukden and Harbin today and Moscow indicated that Japan's stolen empire—a vast country of 503,013 square miles and more than 39,000,000 people—had been almost entirely occupied by the Red Army.

All organized warfare appeared to have ceased in Manchuria and thousands of Japanese troops were being rounded up.

Jap Puppet Capital

Hsinking, the Japanese puppet capital of Manchuria, capitulated on the 11th day of the Russo-Japanese war. Mukden, Manchuria's old capital, and Harbin, a big industrial center, also surrendered as there Soviet armies closed in over Manchuria from the west, east and north and joined airborne troops in the key cities.

Moscow's war bulletin indicated that some areas, particularly north of the Korean border and of the great former Russian naval base at Port Arthur, had yet to be occupied.

It was possible that the entire occupation of Manchuria and a proclamation of the end of the war might be announced tomorrow in an order of the day from Generalissimo Josef Stalin.

Moscow's nightly war bulletin was terse and undetailed. But it failed to report any active Japanese resistance and declared "the reception of surrendering units and detachments of the Kwantung Army continues."

Navy Slashes September Draft Calls, Asks Enlistment Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP) — The Navy, clearing its decks for demobilization and return to peacetime status, cut its September selective service requisitions by 9,000 today and said it hopes soon to start recruitment of volunteers.

Announcing the cut at a news conference, Vice-Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of the bureau of personnel, said the new September total of 13,000 includes 10,000 for the Navy instead of 17,000 originally requested and 3,000 for the Marine corps instead of an original 5,000 figure. The coast guard, at peak strength now, had no September quota.

The Army last week announced a monthly draft cut of from 80,000 to 50,000.

Admiral Jacobs said the Navy has asked President Truman to revoke a ban on recruitment of volunteers in the 18 to 28 age bracket for the Navy.

The first of an estimated 327,000 personnel immediately eligible for discharge under the Navy demobilization program announced last week already are enroute home, Admiral Jacobs said. Five separation centers already are in operation and 13 others will be opened by September 15.

The Navy expects to release from 1,500,000 to 2,500,000 within the next 12 to 18 months.

Combat and overseas credits such as are considered by the Army and Marines in their point discharge systems were disregarded by the Navy, Admiral Jacobs explained, because of incomplete personnel records. He said records are not up to date because of security delays in reporting ships in action, transfer of personnel from ship to ship and the general mobile character of naval warfare.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

A RUNAWAY son is still precious; a runaway daughter loses her value."—From the Chinese.

THOUGHT — It was Horace Walpole who said "nine-tenths of the people one meets serve no other use than to make one wish to be with the other tenth."

What sort of a person are you?

Oh, Mr. Ripley!

NOV. 11 and Aug. 14 are great days in the United States: the former because it marks the time of cessation of hostilities in World War I; the latter because it was the day of surrender of the Japanese. And in the Jack Ater family those days mean national holidays and something more because Mrs. Ater's birthday is Nov. 11 and daughter, Janye Ruth's birthday is Aug. 14.

Robert Ripley might like to know Mrs. Ater was born the 11th hour of the 11th day of Nov. 1911 and furthermore she weighed 11 pounds at birth. Janye Ruth was 15 years old a week ago today.

MAKING DECISIONS — The title, "Valley of Decisions," had a dramatic and appealing title because everyone, adolescent and adult alike, has at one time or another had to make an important decision.

As a matter of fact, more decisions are likely to be made, for better or worse, within the next few months than in previous years. We are thinking of the men who are returning to civilian life and confused as to whether they want to go back to their old jobs, to go to school or to strike out in a new field of work. Some of them will take their loved ones with them in their "valleys of decision" and others will work the problem out alone, between multitudious cups of coffee, chain cigarette smoking and walks from here to there and back again.

THREE years ago when the Woman's Angle aided in interviewing young women who were applying for enlistment in the Women's Army corps we were interested in the question of decisions. One of the questions had to do with how the applicant would handle an important decision and to illustrate. The answers, although interesting, were hardly unusual and showed how unexciting the lives most of us lead really are when you come down to it.

HAPPY WIFE

THE happiest person we saw Monday was a young wife who had talked recently with her Navy husband who is stationed at Honolulu and who wah still beaming.

She said the 18-minute call cost $67 and was worth every minute and every cent, although the first few minutes were lost because she and her husband "got to crying."

ANNULMENTS VS. DIVORCES

WE were writing the other day about the increase of annulments in the last few years and this month's issue of Woman's Home Companion carries an article by New York State Supreme Court Judge Leander B. Faber that indicates the proportion has increased by nearly 1300 per cent —and is still growing.

Contrary to popular belief too, annulments today are not all sought by youngsters married a few days or months. Many annulment suits are brought by couples who have been married five to ten years and are parents of children, according to the judge.

"Many seek annulments," he declares, "who otherwise would have weak grounds for divorce or who, having stronger grounds, would forego divorce because their religion forbids it. Grounds for annulment are many with virtually the full range of precedent in contract law applying to the marriage contract. Moreover, unlike divorce, most civil grounds for annulments are recognized by canon law."

The common grounds for annulment are "fraud, lack of capacity to understand the nature of marriage, and duress."

Duress can be simply undue pressure exerted by the girl's family while in four out of five cases, writes Judge Faber, the grounds are based on the secret determination of either husband or wife never to have children.

"The law assumes that intention to have children is an integral part of every marriage," points out Mr. Faber. "Therefore, if either party enters into the state of matrimony concealing his or her dislike for children that party has married under false pretenses and in the eyes of the law the injured one "was the victim of fraud."

EPISCOPALIAN and most other faiths agree with civil law that marriage founded on fraud is void and religious marriage ceremonies can follow annulments. The Roman Catholic Church also considers secret determination of either party to the marriage not to have children as grounds for annulment. A Roman Catholic can have his or her marriage annulled in the church or "since the grounds are clear, she (or he) may obtain a simple dispensation if that person should ever wish to remarry," says Judge Faber.

The annulment evil has grown quietly explains the Judge, while complicated divorce questions, such as should one state's divorce be recognized in another state, have kept this type of separation on the front pages of our newspapers.

Holding parents responsible for at least four annulments out of five, Judge Faber believes "few annulments would be asked for if a whole generation of intelligent attractive young people whose marriages are falling apart had been taught a few simple lessons about personal relationships, if their parents had brought home to them what marriage really means and all that it implies." Because, states this Supreme Court Judge, "Behind virtually all annulments lie tragic stories of basic confusion at the very inception of the wedding tie, of ignorance and stupidity on the part of the young people or their parents." He firmly believes that the growing annulment evil highlights a fundamental weakness of our attitude toward marriage.

Picture Of Jap Peace Delegation Shows Humbled Former-Conqueror

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Even without his handle-bar mustache, I think I recognize Lt. Gen. Takashiro Kawabe from his picture.

He is the unfortunate Samurai chosen to head the mission to General MacArthur to learn the terms of Japanese surrender.

WHITE

If this is the Kawabe I knew years ago, he has plumbed the depths of degradation for a Japanese, for when I knew him he was a conqueror.

It was August 9, 1937, and a mechanized Japanese Army brigade was taking over the ancient capital of China, Peiping. Along the mimosa-lined street rolled a staff car, and in the staff car was General Kawabe, his moustaches waving in the breeze.

Story Begins Earlier

But the story begins still earlier. Early in 1937, some months before the Japanese invaded China from their Manchurian base the commandant of the Japanese embassy guard threw a party for foreign correspondents.

The commandant was a Col. T. Kawabe. His first name, we were told, was a military secret.

From the careful questioning at the dinner it was apparent the Japanese wanted to know exactly what foreign correspondents thought about Japan and what she was doing.

Boisterously Drunk

Kawabe, as host, was all over the place and got boisterously tight as he tried to get us drunk. He confided to each his consuming friendship for foreigners who understood Japan's real intentions.

He got very gay, along with the other Japanese present, and ended up by giving us a demonstration of how he could walk on his hands.

He was good, too. He stumped around the room upside-down, and the skirts of his long black kimono fell down over his head. He was wearing long underwear.

Kawabe then went to Manchuria, but soon came back.

When war broke out with China the next summer a mechanized brigade thundered down through the great wall and encircled Peiping. Its job was to let the Chinese garrison slip out and thus take the great cultural center intact.

Much Changed Today

From his pictures radiophotoed from Manila, he is much changed today. The proud moustaches are gone, but the jutting cheekbones and the stiff gait look the same. He looks, of course, many years older.

Kawabe used to be one of the more appealing Japanese, one of those who seems in spite of long military careers to have a joke dancing in his eye, but who is all spit and polish and military efficiency at the same time.

Of course, there could be more than one General T. Kawabe.

Braniff Announces Lower Airline Fares

New fares for Braniff Airways on a four-and-one-half cent per passenger mile basis, effective Monday, have been announced in Dallas by Chas. E. Beard, vice-president, to the Associated Press.

Betty Gilbert, Braniff ticket office clerk, said here that the reduction in rate would effect local prices considerably, especially on lengthy trips.

New prices were given by Miss Gilbert, excluding the 15 per cent tax on each ticket. They are: to Amarillo, $5.10 as compared to $5.50 previous to the announcement; to Ft. Worth and Dallas, $13.05, the old price was $14.05; other new rates are $24.35 to Houston; $54.65 to Chicago via Dallas; and $22.70 to Denver.

Seven-State Duroc Show And Sale Held

Three hundred seventy-five dollars, plus a $45 premium, went for the top gilt in the regional show and sale of registered Duroc hogs here Saturday at the Lubbock Auction and Commission company ring. Gilts were entered from Tennessee, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

The animal was shown by E. L. Goodrich of Jayton and was purchased by C. L. Browning, jr., of San Antonio. Sale of 30 gilts in the show averaged $139 and the top ten animals averaged $198.50. The show and sale was one of nine regional events being conducted throughout the nation this year under sponsorship of the United Duroc Record association, which awarded $555 in prizes to the top 21 animals in the show.

West Texas Duroc Breeders association was joint sponsor of the show and Kenneth Bozeman, president of the association, was auctioneer. Coleman Cowan, secretary of the local association, was manager of the show. Judges were: Fred Hale, College Station; Leonard Afdahl of Dallas and J. C. Buchanan of Blytheville, Ark.

Goodrich, who showed the top animal, had a second gilt in the top three with Wynn farms of Wynnburg, Tenn., showing the other one. T. D. Julian of Lubbock had a gilt placed in the second three best gilts. It brought $150 in the sale.

E. M. Regenbrecht of College Station, Extension Service swine specialist; M. C. Cramer of Monroe, Ia., field man of the record association and Herman Anderson of Des Moines, Ia., vice president, attended the event.

Red Cross Contacts Jap POW Next Of Kin

Lubbock chapter of the American Red Cross has been successful in contacting next of kin of 47 of the 48 prisoners of the Japanese listed from this area Mrs. Marguerite Stiles, secretary of the local chapter, reported Sunday.

Letters to 45 of the men, who are held in Japanese prison camps, were dispatched Saturday through the efforts of the Red Cross. On Sunday relatives of Pvt. Russell A. Gill called at Mrs. Stile's home and got an official form, so that they could send a message to him.

Mrs. Audry Gill, 2425 Twenty-second, the next of kin, had been out of the city on a vacation. This left only three of the next of kin of the 49 prisoners un-contacted, and the Red Cross then wired Dr. J. M. Michie at Austin to inform him of the new order, permitting longer messages to prisoners of war. Dr. Michie's son, Second Lt Lee Michie, is in a prison camp at Fukuoka, according to last reports.

McKay Book On O'Daniel Ready

"W. Lee O'Daniel and Texas Politics, 1938-1942," a book by Dr. S. S. McKay, history professor at Texas Technological college who resides at 2909 Twentieth is now in circulation in a 628-page volume.

Handsomely bound, printed by Stech & Co., of Austin, as a project of the Research division of Texas Tech, the book is a factual treatise of the first five years of the political career of the now junior United States senator from this state.

Dr. McKay put in three years of effort and research on the book which was awaited with interest by persons interested in politics in Texas and over the nation. Dr. McKay has authored three other books previously.

Used Texas Newspapers

The author has used Texas newspapers, chiefly, in running down the O'Daniel record, although he has gathered a mass of other material from other sources. In his book, Dr. McKay makes no effort to either condemn or praise his subject, being content to let the record speak for itself.

The book has seven divisions comprising 34 chapters, a preface, bibliography and index. In the preface, Dr. McKay sets out that he has "tried to analyze and explain the political strength of this candidate in four successful campaigns and at the same time to throw light on Texas political developments for the period 1938-42."

The volume is dedicated to Dr. McKay's 20-year-old son, LaFayette, employed in a war plant. Young McKay, who lost an eye in an airgun mishap when a youngster, went into war work when turned down for active Army and Navy service.

Dr. McKay has been a Tech faculty member since 1928.

An air route in Alaska schedules the trip from Juneau to Nome in seven hours. It formerly took 34 days by dog sled and river boat to cover this distance.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE

To all Plymouth, DODGE, DeSoto and CHRYSLER owners—
These are the facts as we see them:

TODAY is a good day to give some thought to the care of your car. There are two big reasons why this is an especially good idea right now.

1. YOUR NEW CAR MAY BE MONTHS AWAY

Some new cars may be made this year. But the number will be limited and it will be months before everybody who wants a new car will be able to get one.

That means it is in your interest to keep your present car in shape for what may be thousands of miles of additional driving. And your dealer wants to help in every way he can.

2. TAKE YOUR CAR TO THE MAN WHO KNOWS IT BEST

He's the Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer. He knows the car from bumper to bumper and he has many reasons for serving you well.

He has the experience, equipment, mechanics and factory-engineered parts—everything needed to give you a dependable job.

So telephone or see your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer and set a date for whatever service is needed on your car. You will find that it is an idea that pays dividends. A little spent for care now can save a lot of time, trouble and expense later.

PLYMOUTH, DODGE, DE SOTO, CHRYSLER SERVICE IS GOOD SERVICE

Survey Shows Million Made Idle In Nation By War Plant Closings

(By The Associated Press)

A million Americans were jobless today in the nation's transition from war to peace.

A United Press survey of major war production centers showed at least that many workers had lost their jobs through war contract cancellations in less than a week after Japan's surrender. And the army of men and women released from war production continues to grow by thousands daily.

Workers flocked into United States Employment service offices looking for postwar jobs. In Chicago three times the normal number of applicants appeared at the employment offices. The War Manpower commission assured workers that all layoffs were not permanent.

Many Plants Reconverted

John Nuveen, jr., Chicago regional War Production board chairman, said 385 Chicago war plants had been reconverted to civilian uses. The plants employ more than half a million workers. About 80,000 Chicago war workers have been released after war contract cancellations.

Within 48 hours after the Japanese surrender, the migration of workers from the war factory centers was under way. Some of those in California were among the first to be on the move. Cars loaded with families, dogs, furniture, and clothing streamed through the Arizona border inspection stations. The Ehrenberg, Ariz., border station alone counted 1,200 such emigrants last week.

A survey of discharged employes at the Kaiser Co., yards in Vancouver, Wash., disclosed that approximately 15 per cent plan to return immediately to their home states.

Gasoline Stations Busy

Gas stations around Vancouver reported rush business from families heading back east.

Workers generally were concerned about the future. At Huntingdon Park, Calif., Mrs. Ruth Frank, 49, ended her life by taking poison. Her husband said she became hysterical when he told her he had lost his job in an aircraft factory.

At Chicago the Congress of Industrial Organizations held a parade and rally tonight to "rouse the nation" to the plight of the worker idled by reconversion.

In the New York-New Jersey industrial area about 125,000 workers already are jobless. Approximately 30,000 of these job losses are permanent. The others are temporary, during shutdowns for inventory and analysis.

100,000 At Detroit

In Detroit, 100,000 have been laid off, mostly because of cutbacks in aircraft production, with 150,000 jobless expected by Wednesday.

Munitions plants and aircraft lay-offs have idled approximately 100,000 at St. Louis, where 355 of a total 362 war contracts have been cancelled.

Only 900 layoffs, all at the Puget Sound Bridge and Dredging Co., were reported at Seattle, where companies are planning gradual cutdowns.

At Buffalo, unemployment reached 45,000. Buffalo steel mills and foundries were expected to absorb much of the surplus labor.

Approximately 55,000 were idled at Cleveland, mostly from layoffs at the Fisher Body plants and Jack and Heintz, while 30,000 were unemployed in the area around Philadelphia.

Dallas And Fort Worth

At Dallas, Tex., 18,000 were unemployed and in Fort Worth 10,000 were laid off at North American and Consolidated Vultee aircraft plants.

Atlanta, Ga., reported 25,000 idle in the state of Georgia, as aircraft, ordnance plants and shipyards closed down.

Very little unemployment resulted from the peace announcement in New Orleans. Only 1,500 workers have been laid off.

Not all war workers were idled by cutbacks. The 600 workers at the Massey-Harris Co., plant in Racine, Wis., can count on jobs until Feb. 1946. The plant, whose war contracts were cancelled last Wednesday, on Saturday received a new order from Army ordnance for 300 M-41 tanks.

A coat of wax added three miles an hour to the speed of transport planes used by one air line.

Three Winter Cover Crop Practices Are Announced By AAA

Three winter cover crop practices have been approved by the Washington office for Texas under the 1946 Agriculture Adjustment Agency program, Walter Y. Wells, Lubbock county administrative officer, has announced.

Establishing of a cover of winter legumes seeded in the fall of 1945 has been specified as one of the practices. Rates of payment and legumes include Austrian winter peas at 6.05 cents per pound, hairy vetch at 14.25, mixed vetch at 10.60, common vetch at 8.15, bur clover (hulled) at 39, bur clover(unhulled) at 8, singletary peas at 8.50.

Seed should be properly inoculated with fresh inoculants and seeded not later than December 1. Phosphate should also be applied.

Establishment of a cover of ryegrass seeded in this fall with payment at 7.75 cents per pound of seed planted is another part of the program.

Third practice is the establishing of a satisfactory cover of small grain (except wheat) seeded during this fall and the growth not harvested for hay or grain. The payment is $1.50 per acre. In each of these practices a satisfactory cover will be deemed to have been established when the land is uniformly covered with a growth from which a reasonable tonnage of forage could be harvested, Wells said.

A new requirement inserted says that in all these practices the payment will be for the full amount of the practice performed, not to exceed the amount of which prior approval is given. Producers who intend to plant a winter cover crop are reminded that they must secure approval from the county committee before the crop is planted, if they expect to receive payment, Wells said.

Assistance available for all practices under the 1946 AAA program will be limited to $2 per acre of land in commercial orchards plus 20 cents per acre of pasture land. The above three practices are all that have been approved to date but Wells said that other practices are due to be approved shortly.

All practices for which payment will be made will require prior approval of the county committee, which Wells described as necessary to assure the county does not obligate more money than is available under the 1946 program.

Army Not To Relax Ration Of Tobacco

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Army exchange service said today no relaxation of cigarette and tobacco rationing at Army installations in contemplated at present, despite the end of the war and increasing supplies of cigarettes for civilians.

The current ration at post exchanges and similar Army outlets is six packs of cigarets or 12 cigars weekly for Army personnel and civilians authorized to purchase there.

War Chest Heads To Meet In City

Lubbock Army Air field will play host Friday to a regional meeting of United War Chest officials with workers from the surrounding area and officials at the field meeting to plan arrangements for the 1945 War Chest Campaign in Lubbock and on the South Plains, which gets under day in October.

Funds collected during the War Chest campaigns are being used for USO shows and many other war agencies for the benefit of men in uniform and Allied nations needing relief now more than ever.

To Plan 1945 Campaign

Representatives from 15 counties and officials at LAAF will meet at 10 o'clock Friday in the post theater to plan the campaign in this area similar to that which was so successful last year. The meeting also will include a tour of the post.

On the program will be two veterans of overseas, one a pretty USO singer and the other a veteran of the savage battle of Europe who holds the Nation's second highest award for bravery. The veteran is Capt. R. G. Morere, holder of the Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star, and several other medals, now a patient at McCloskey General Hospital, where he is recovering from wounds. After leading his Company, although seriously wounded, he will speak on the sacrifices made by the men in uniform and the help received through War Chest agencies.

USO Singer To Speak

The USO singer is Miss Paula Bane, who has entertained U. S. soldiers in both the European and Pacific theaters. She will talk on her experiences in helping boost the morale of men overseas.

Also on the program will be Wayland D. Tower, general manager of the United War Chest in Texas, who will discuss plans for the drive which starts October 1.

Col. Howell M. Estes, jr., commanding officer, will welcome the vistiors to the field. J. O. Gillham of Brownfield, regional chairman, will also be on the program.

County chairmen and the counties they represent who will be present include: Tye Young of Muleshoe, Bailey county; Sid Reeder of Gail, Borden county; Judge R. C. Strickland of Morton, Cochran county; Will Marr of Ralls, Crosby county; Judge J. R. Leuenberger of Lamesa, of Dawson county; Johnny Koonsman of Dickens, Dickens county; D. O. McAdoo of Seminole, Gaines county; Homer McCrury of Post, Garza county; Judge Z. O. Lincoln of Levelland, Hockley county; Judge E. V. Peek of Clairmont, Kent county; Otis P. Kitchens of Guthrie, King county; Wade Potter of Littlefield, Lamb county; C. H. Bates of Aspermont, Stonewall county; and M. M. Rogers of Denver City, Yoakum county.

Loss Is $25,000 In Fire At McNary

EL PASO, Aug. 20 (AP) — Only a few buildings are left in the business district of McNary, 66 miles east of here, after fire of undetermined origin yesterday caused $25,000 property loss.

McNary has a population of 300. Two stores, the post office, a garage, service station and restaurant were razed by the fire. Mail was saved from the post office.

Bevin Frowns Upon Balkan Governments

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told Commons today that "the governments set up in Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary do not represent the views of the majority of the people."

All three countries are in the Soviet sphere of influence.

"The impression we get from recent developments is that one kind of totalitarianism is being replaced by another," he told the House in the first full dress debate on the new Laborite government's foreign policy.

That, he said, "is not what we understand by that very much overworked word democracy which appeared to be in need of a definition."

(Secretary of State Byrnes on Saturday told the Bulgarian government that the United States considered it did not fully represent the people of Bulgaria.)

Spain Persists In Potsdam Resentment

MADRID, Aug. 20 (AP)—Since announcement of the Potsdam decision to bar Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spain from the United Nations, hundreds of editorials in the country's controlled press have asserted that ousting of the Falange and Franco would bring chaos and communism to Spain.

The newspapers also declared that Franco's attitude during the war aided the United Nations more than it did the Axis.

There has been a notable increase in republican underground activity since the denunciation of Franco's regime by the Big Three at Potsdam. Monarchist elements still seem weak and divided.

Hero's Family To See Award Presented

HOBART, Okla., Aug. 20 (AP)—The Treadwell family thanks to preseverance of those in the medical profession, will be well represented Thursday when Capt Jack Treadwell receives the Congressional Medal of Honor from President Truman in Washington.

The hero himself, wounded five times in battle while serving with the 45th infantry division through Sicily, Italy, southern France and Germany, has been patched up sufficiently by Army doctors to make the trip. He has been under treatment at an Army hospital in Palm Springs, Calif.

The hero's mother, Mrs. T. W. Treadwell, has been confined at her home here for some time with a heart ailment. But in order that she can witness the ceremonies in the White House, her physician has agreed to accompany her on the trip to Washington.

Capt. Treadwell was nominated for the nation's highest military award after receiving a battlefield commission from the rank of platoon sergeant in March, 1944. He had directed his own and two other platoons in beating off a four-hour German attack near Caruno, Italy, and later directed heavy fighting at two other points and on the Anzio beachhead.

His mother and an uncle, Dee Treadwell, Snyder, Okla., and a brother. Brown Treadwell, Hobbs, N. M., will meet him in Oklahoma City Sunday for the trip to Washington. The captain already holds the Distinguished Service Cross, Presidential Unit Citation and Purple Heart — with three clusters.

Doom Of Japan's Great Financial Houses Sealed By Potsdam Edict

By RALPH HEINZEN
United Press War Analyst

The doom of the industrial and financial "emperors" of Japan is certain, regardless of the fate of Hirohito. Article I of the Potsdam peace formula specified that those "who have deceived and misled the people of Japan into embarking on world conquest" must be eliminated for all time.

That applies to the "war lords." But it also fits exactly the influential and authoritative Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo and Aikawa families and trusts. Those four groups hold the control of Japanese finance and industry, shipping and farming in their tight-fisted and ambitious grasp.

One Already Gone

One of them has disappeared already in the debacle, the upstart of the great family trusts—the Aikawa group which virtually monopolized the development of Manchuria and now stands to lose its $150,000,000 investment there.

Twenty years ago Aikawa was an unknown. In 10 years he was the fourth most powerful figure in Japan's financial empire. He heads the $150,000,000 Manchuria industrial development company.

Greatest and oldest of the financial clans is the Mitsui family—the name means "three wells"—which can trace its roots to medieval Nippon. Baron Mitsui is easily worth $100,000,000 in his own name and is one of the ten richest men in this world.

Mitsui Control Sweeping

The Mitsui group controls 14 per cent of all Japanese cotton business, 15 per cent of its rayon, 78 per cent of its paper. 17 per cent of its cement, 17 per cent of its mining, 11 per cent of its coal shipping, 5 per cent of its electrochemicals and 5 per cent of its engineering.

Second only to the Mitsui family is the Mitsubishi trust. This is not a family but a trade name, meaning "three lozenges," and the family involved is named Iwasaki. Its money comes from banking, shipping, insurance and warehousing. It controls 47 per cent of all Japanees wheat business, 19 per cent of its sugar, 17 per cent of its beer, and 37 per cent of all Japanese shipping.

Sumitomo Restricted

The Sumitomo family is comparatively restricted in its investments but controls 20 per cent of all warehousing, 10 per cent of all trust investment business and 32 per cent of the wires and cables.

The fortune of Emperor Hirohito and the imperial family is tremendous and has recently been estimated at 4 per cent of all the wealth in Japan.

Hirohito's fortune was known to be widely scattered but contains much Tokyo real estate, as well as mines, shipping and industry.

Traffic Hazards Are Sharply On Increase

AUSTIN, Aug. 20. (AP) — Your chance of being injured or killed in an automobile accident increased 25 per cent this week.

That's a by-product of traffic conditions resulting from the end of the war and a reminder from Col. Homer Garrison, state police director, for motorists who are now hitting the highways with the end of gasoline rationing.

Says Garrison:

"The postwar traffic boom is here. Volume on streets and highways has increased 25 per cent since Japan's surrender. The increase in fatalities and injuries will parallel, if not exceed that figure immediately."

Wrecks are just waiting to happen, he adds.

Training Program To Be Launched By CAP

DALLAS, Aug. 20 (U.P.)—An extensive training program for senior personnel and cadets will be launched this fall by the Civil Air patrol, Lt. Col. D. Harold Byrd, Texas CAP wing commander, announced today.

Included in the training program will be cross-country flights, simulated search missions and night flying.

The Civil Air Patrol league, whose function was to assure continuance of CAP activities, recently was incorporated in the air power league, Byrd said.

The program in Dallas will begin some time in September.

Marine Commanders Ask Jobs On Wake Above All In Pacific

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Aug. 20 — The commanding generals of six Marine divisions in the Pacific want one assignment above all others. It is Wake island.

All want to be the first to reoccupy the tiny outpost where a handful of Leathernecks fought valiantly and well against enormous odds. They want to see Old Glory flying over the white coral sand again.

Commanders of all six Marine divisions have made formal requests to be allowed to restore Wake as an American possession.

Wake is more than a convenient stopping place for Trans-Pacific planes—2,000 miles from Honolulu; 1,000 beyond Midway; 2,650 from Manila. Especially to men of the Marine corps, it has become a symbol of fighting courage.

Japs Dropped Bombs

So well did the American garrison of 517 fight that the angry Japanese asserted there were at least 4,000 troops ashore.

There were 379 officers and men of the First Marine Defense battalion, commanded by Maj. J. S. P. Devereaux.

Many were killed in the first five hours, in which 24 Japanese bombers dropped 100 hundred pound bombs. More perished in the daily air attacks and later naval bombardments which the Japanese unleashed on the stubborn garrison.

With six 5-inch naval guns and 12 wildcat fighter planes, the Wake defenders held the enemy off day by day, inflicting damage all the while. On Dec. 10, the Japanese sent in a task force of 12 warships. Devereaux let the vessels come closer and closer. Not until they were only 4,500 yards offshore did he order "open fire."

Destroyers, Gunboat Sunk

Two destroyers and a gunboat were sunk. The other warships, damaged, fled smoking. Leatherneck pilots sank a light cruiser.

Courage wasn't enough. Early Dec. 23, Devereaux messaged Hawaii "island under gunfire. Apparently landing."

Enemy guns were pounding the atoll. At 5 a. m., the major sent his famous message:

"Enemy on island. Issue in doubt."

Even then, the Japanese had to fight their way ashore to take what was left of Wake.

(Devereaux, now a lieutenant colonel, was raising pigs in a Shanghai prisoner of war camp when he wrote to his son, Pat, 11, in San Francisco. The letter, written April 14, 1944, but received only last February 8, asked Pat not to be too boastful about the Marines, encouraged him in school.)

Mechanics Course Is University Project

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (U.P.)—With millions of dollars worth of automotive testing equipment idle in American garages and cars going on the blink at rapid rate, the University of Texas is doing something about it.

A trailer complete with all sorts of diagnosis equipment has been sent out in training course for mechanics. The program started at Taylor and Temple with three-hour classes held three times a week. Other places can get dates on application.

Maritime Commission Cancels Contracts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—The Maritime commission announced today cancellation of $425,000,000 in contracts covering the construction of 135 ships and three contracts for special military equipment.

The cancelled contracts covered 35 coastal cargo ships, 42 victory cargo ships, 24 small tankers for lend-lease to Great Britain, four liberty ships being converted to aircraft repair ships, eight military type victories, eight tankers, five large military transports of the C-4 type, six refrigerator ships, and three large passenger ships of the P-2 type.

The commission said three contracts covering special military equipment for the Navy accounted for $70,000,000 of the $425,000,000 in cancellations.

A list of the yards and vessels involved included:

Coastal cargo ships: Pennsylvania Shipyard, Inc., Beaumont, Texas, six.

Motorists Take To Roads Again Sunday

(By The United Press)

Motorists took advantage of bright summer skies and full gasoline tanks to hit the highways Sunday in the first peacetime Sunday exodus since this nation went to war nearly four years ago.

Contrary to popular expectation, however, the death toll was surprising low and highway officials reported that most drivers were mindful of the condition of their automobiles and treated them accordingly.

Early reports from United Press bureaus throughout the country showed only 10 traffic fatalities yesterday, comparing favorably with previous wartime Sundays.

City, county and state police all reported streams of automobiles heading for the beaches, mountains and picnic grounds in the wake of cancelled gasoline and speed restrictions.

Child Dies After Throat Is Slashed

HOUSTON, Aug. 20. (U.P.)—Funeral services were being arranged today for Richard Kimberly, jr., 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimberly of Houston, who died yesterday after his throat was slashed by a piece of broken glass.

His parents reported that the child was playing in the rear of their home when suddenly he screamed.

Rushing to him, they found he had fallen down a flight of stairs and a piece of broken glass from a bottle with which he was playing was stuck in his throat.

The baby died shortly later at a Houston hospital. Survivors include his parents, a brother and a sister.

How MEAT
helps restore our convalescent fighters

Meat for a Man for a Week

Here is a typical week's supply of meat served to patients of the Convalescent Hospital of the Army Air Forces at San Antonio—one of 12 such hospitals in the United States. Meat is served three times a day. The week's assortment shown above includes fresh pork, beef, lamb, ham, bacon, liver, frankfurters and cold cuts.

While receiving heat therapy, Pfc. Delbert Scott, Dover, Delaware, moves in on a lunch built around country fried steak and gravy. A protein-rich diet (which calls for a lot of meat) helps speed recovery from injuries.

Our men in convalescent hospitals are being rebuilt to health with a speed never known before. An excellent example of this is the far-sighted program of the Personnel Distribution Command of the Army Air Forces headed by Major General Ralph Royce.

One way the recovery of these men is hastened is by feeding them generous quantities of meat containing the protein substances (amino acids) to make up for the protein they have lost.

When the body loses protein excessively (as in wounds, severe burns and infections) or when the diet does not provide enough protein (as with starved prisoners) the body literally "eats itself."

Meat proteins contain all ten of the essential amino acids needed to maintain and rebuild the body.

This emphasizes anew the rightness of our age-old liking for meat.

Newhouser Wins 20th As Detroit Cops Twin Victory

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (AP)—Lefty Hal Newhouser, ace of the Detroit Tigers mound corp, was the first major league pitcher to reach the charmed circle here today, notching his season's 20th win with a 4-0 victory over the last place Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of a double header. Les Mueller held the A's to four hits to win the nightcap, 4 to 1 and give the Tigers a clean sweep of the twin bill.

Newhouser spaced seven Athletic hits in besting Bowles in a brilliant pitching duel. Bowles allowed only five hits, but two of there were four-ply wallops, one by Doc Cramer in the first inning with none on base, and another by Roy Cullenbine in the eighth with Cramer and Hank Greenberg on base, to account for all four Detroit runs.

YANKEES BUMP CHISOX

CHICAGO, Aug. 20. (AP)—Shut out until the ninth inning, the New York Yankees staged a four-run rally tonight against Earl Caldwell, White Sox night-game specialist, to defeat the Chicagoans 4-1, before 34,104. A single by shortstop Frankie Crosetti, concerted pinch singles by Aaron Robinson and Hershel Martin to put the Yanks ahead and a homer by Art Metheny, scoring Crosetti, capped the rally.

TURNSTILES CLICK

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. (U.P.)—The hot American League pennant race paid off at the box office yesterday as 214,003 baseball fans paid their way into eight major league doubleheaders for the second largest total of the season.

Grid Camps Open Over Southwest

AUSTIN, Aug. 20. (AP)—Head Coach D. X. Bible of the University of Texas Longhorns put his 85 charges on the spot today.

"I will predict we will have a good season; that will put you fellows on the spot to make good," he said.

The Steers will work daily in preparation for their first game, against Bergstrom Field here Sept. 22.

In a general way the squad shapes up well, on the basis of men reporting for the initial workout.

First of all it was determined that Jimmy Canady, backfield letterman, will be available. That removes Bible's concern over a capable signal-caller.

On hand also were other lettermen including All-American Hubert Bechtol, an end; and gigantic tackles Harlan Wetz, 285 pounds, and Jimmy Plyler, 240 pounds, eminent '44 regulars. Adding to the tackle contingent was Alfred Clayton of Howe, formerly of Austin college, 283 pounds.

Lots of potential backfield strength was in evidence including lettermen and squadmen from last year. A new entry in this division was H. D. (Ike) Peel, 195-pound tailback, a former All-State junior college player from Georgia. Peel is an Air Corps discharge.

The back roster includes also George Graham of San Angelo.

TCU HAS BIG SQUAD

FORT WORTH, Aug. 20. (AP)—Fifty-two gridmen reported today for start of fall football practice at Texas Christian university. Surprise starters included Beekie Ezell, a 1941 squadman, two 200-pound backs and a 200-pound end.

Ezell, 175-pound end from Wink, received a medical discharge from the Marines three weeks ago after having served in the Pacific.

The backs were Ray Newton, who played for Marshall High school in 1939, and later for Stephen F. Austin college, and Sam Frank of Chicago.

The over-sized end was Clayton Worthington of Compton, Calif. He has had junior college experience.

Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer started the workouts at full speed, had the men wearing pads.

RUSTY OPENS CAMP

DALLAS, Aug. 20. (AP)—Prospects for a successful 1945 football season for Southern Methodist university soared high today when more than a dozen outstanding freshmen reported for the first time to acting Head Coach Rusty Russell as fall practice got under way officially.

Fifty candidates for the team participated in morning and afternoon practice sessions. Only veterans conspicious by their absence were Co-Captain Red Maley, halfback; Gene Wilson, end, and Eugene McClintock, back. Maley and Wilson are at a summer camp in Wisconsin and McClintock has been working in the oil fields in New Mexico. All were given permission to report later and are due in by the end of the week.

Standouts among the newcomers are Harold Clark, All-State end from Highland Park, and August Pelz, the 187-pound Wichita Falls tailback who was a sensation in the Texas-Oklahoma high school all-star game Friday.

RICE STARTS TODAY

HOUSTON Aug. 20. (AP)—Rice Institute starts daily football practice tomorrow afternoon with approximately 50 candidates expected to report to Coach Jess Neely.

Only four lettermen will be in the group. They are Bob Nemir and Jesse Mason backs; Bob Zelsman, tackle; and Bruce Bradbeer, end.

Giants Blast Chicago Cubs

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—The New York Giants hammered Hank Wyse for fourteen hits, including three homers, to crush the Chicago Cubs, 9-3, tonight as Van Lingle Mungo notched his fourteenth victory. The defeat cut the Cubs league lead to six and a half games over the St. Louis Cardinals.

CHAMPS BOW OUT

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 20. (AP)—Sherman Field, 1944 ruler of the nation's semi-pro baseball clubs, entered the realm of the ex-champions last night, dropping out of the 1945 National semi-pro baseball tournament via a 10 to 2 defeat at the hands of the Orlando, Fla., Army Air Field.

Army Tens And Post Are Jaycee Winners

SPAAF, LAAF, and Postex came through with wins over Sundown, Meadow, and Lamesa Monday night, to go into the quarter-final round of the Junior Chamber of Commerce softball tourney.

In the seven p. m. opener, SPAAF ousted the Honolulu Oilers of Sundown from the tourney with a 10-1 count. Hook pitched the win for SPAAF; Greenwald caught. Battery for Sundown was Piercy, Bounds, Craddock, and Sparks. Sundown protested the game on the legality of Hook's delivery.

LAAF won from Meadow in the middle contest, 9-6. Farina allowed Meadow 11 safe blows, but kept them widely scattered. Massey caught. LAAF bunched 9 hits from the offerings of R. Hinson, who pitched to Barrett. Meadow was forced from the tourney by the loss.

The Postex ten edged out Lamesa in the finale 2-1. Walter B. Holland, hurling for Post, whiffed 9 Lamesa batters and gave up three hits. Wade Holland caught. Mahann limited Post to two safe blows, striking out four; Berry worked behind the bat.

Blue Bonnet laundry, the Jaycees, and O'Donnell were winners in Sunday afternoon games.

Economy Mills meets Seagraves in Tuesday night's opener at 7 p. m. Cumming's grocery and Blue Bonnet laundry follow in the 9 p. m. game, and SPAAF plays Ray's grocery in the nightcap.

Ben Hogan Warms Up For Knoxville Open

KNOXVILLE, Aug. 20. (AP)—Lt. Ben Hogan, top U. S. professional golfer in 1940-41-42, will return to tournament play this week in the Knoxville Open.

The lieutenant, who is eligible for an Army discharge Sept. 5, spent most of yesterday practicing over the Holston Hills course where the second annual open tournament will begin Thursday.

"I don't know how I'm going to play," the Texan said, "but I'm feeling pretty good and believe I can put up a stiff fight."

Reade Reaches Final In City Net Tourney

Lt. Ed Reade, of Lubbock Army Air Field, formerly of Williams College in Connecticut, reached the final round in the Lubbock city-wide tennis tournament by defeating Sgt. Truman Wingo, of the South Plains Army Air Field, 6-4, 6-3. Reade, No. 1 at his alma mater, was in top form as he outstroked his formidable opponent.

Reade will play the winner of the Lt. Ben Cowling versus Houston Boyd semi-final match to be played Tuesday at 6 p. m. at the courts on the corner of Avenue U and 21st Street. Boyd is former New Mexico state champion while Cowling lettered at John Tarlton College, Stephenville, Texas.

Survey Started For Best Hunting Spots

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (AP) — Texas hunters will be able to go into the field this fall with the latest first-hand dope on where the best places to hunt are.

Daniel W. Lay, director of the game, fish and oyster commission's division of wildlife restoration, is in the field with a party of biologists to make a last-minute survey for the information of hunters.

He will return this week and report on the outlook to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the commission.

Assisting in the survey are biologists from the federal fish and wildlife service. The numbers and condition of doves, quail, turkey and deer are being given particular attention. The outlook for ducks will not be known until the fall migration starts.

Lifting of gasoline rationing and prospects of more ammunition were expected to boost the number of licenses issued. Current hunting and fishing licenses expire at the end of the state's fiscal year, Aug. 31.

Holmes Holds Lead In National Batting

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—With six weeks to go Boston's Tommy Holmes still is out front in the National League batting race today with a .370 average, seven points better than Chicago's injured first sacker, Phil Cavarretta.

Holmes added one point to his mark during the past week while Cavarretta, sidelined by a shoulder injury, appeared in only one game as pinch runner and did not bat, maintaining his .363 level. All averages include Sunday's games.

Goody Rosen of Brooklyn slumped out of the race to .345, 25 points behind Holmes, when he went up 37 times for only six hits a .162 pace for the week. Because of his weak hitting, Manager Leo Durocher demoted Rosen in the Dodger batting order.

GAAF ABANDONS GRID

GALVESTON, Aug. 20. (U.P.)—Galveston Army Air Field today announced wartime conditions had forced cancellation of its proposed eight-game football schedule this fall. Among others, the team had games scheduled with Tulsa on Sept. 15, West Point Junior varsity on Oct. 12, National University of Mexico on Oct. 28 and the University of Nevada on Nov. 10.

The first organized baseball game was played June 19, 1846, when the New York Knickerbockers beat the Hoboken, N. J., team.

Texas Demos Wondering Whether Party Breach Healed Or Widened

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 20.—Democrats holding a Monday morning quarterback review of Saturday's double political events here wondered if the recent breach in party affairs had been healed or widened.

On the surface all was harmony. Speakers declared the party in Texas more united and stronger than ever, but some recalled:

Resolutions were readopted at the state executive committee meeting against considering job recommendations from those who opposed or failed to support the party nominees in 1944—a direct slap at U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, who still apparently has a large following among Texans, and indirectly at Gov. Coke R. Stevenson whom O'Daniel recommended for the vacant federal judgeship in Texas.

Other Deflections Cited

A resolution to put Texas regulars on probation for four years before they can reenter the Democratic party. Recalling the court ruling when such noted Democratic leaders of their time as Tom Love and others supported Hoover for President, the resoultion went of a subcommittee to report at the next meeting. Former Gov. James V. Allred advised that such a bar would not be legally valid.

Another possible cause of keeping the factions from harmony was Democratic State Chairman Harry Seay's charge that party control had been taken away by chicanery in 1944 and that instruction meetings were being held to prevent a recurrence. Next instruction meeting he said will be Aug. 30 at Amarillo.

Chief point of bad feeling, however, will be the attacks on former Texas Regulars who contributed no small part of the approximately $90,000 raised for the national Democratic congressional campaign.

Recognition Service

Picking out of persons in the audience at the night barbecue for recognition also may cause some hard feeling. Among those present and overlooked were Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith and State Railroad Commissioner Beauford Jester.

Political indexes from the meeting were the sweeping applause that met U. S. Sen. Tom Connally's prediction that President Truman will receive the party's 1948 nomination and the applause given former Pres. Homer P. Rainey of the University of Texas.

Bob Holliday, veteran Democratic leader in El Paso, got a big hand when pointed out as among those present.

TEXANS NUMBER 140

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20 (AP)—Enrolled in the national university's recent summer school courses were 140 students from Texas, from a total of 1,200. California students numbered 169 and New York 112. Ninety-five per cent of the students were women, with ages ranging from 15 to 65.

Canon Funeral Set At Oak Cliff Today

Funeral services were to be conducted in Oak Cliff, a Dallas suburb, at 10 o'clock this morning for W. A. (Will) Canon, 56, who died in a Dallas hospital Sunday following an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Canon, an employe of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is survived by his mother, Mrs. A. S. Canon; two brothers, Dr. Robert T. and Aubrey Canon, and a sister, Mrs. W. L. Stangel, all of Lubbock; a wife and daughter residing in Dallas, and another brother, Joe, of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Stangel, Mrs. A. S. Canon and Aubrey Canon left Lubbock early Monday morning to attend the funeral. Dr. Canon and his wife left Monday afternoon.

Will Canon suffered a cerebral hemorrhage little more than three weeks ago while in Lincoln, Neb., on business. His condition gradually improved and he later was removed to Dallas. A second stroke, Sunday morning, was fatal.

In a recent story appearing in Time magazine, Mr. Canon was credited with almost siglehandedly setting up the Rio Farms Inc. in southern Texas' Rio Grande valley. As FSA assistant regional director, Mr. Canon envisioned, and set into motion, a model farming community whereby experienced and dependable tenant farmers and sharecroppers could eventually become self-sustaining landowners.

Cochran Farmer Fined In Contempt Of Court

MORTON, Aug. 20. (Special.)—Found guilty on three counts for contempt of court, R. B. Grindstaff, Cochran county farmer, was fined $100 and costs and assessed three days in jail on each count by Judge Daniel A. Blair in 72nd district court here today.

The complaints were an outgrowth of civil action brought by Mrs. Morton J. Smith of Lubbock against Grindstaff, who received title to land formerly owned by her after default of payments. Injunction was issued against Grindstaff going onto the land. "On three different occasions, he cut alfalfa in alleged violations of the injunctions," the complaints charged.

Grand jury of the court is expected to report its findings to Judge Blair early next week, court attaches said today.

Salary Stabilization Order Prepared For Release Shortly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Salary stabilization—the holding of white-collar salaries to 1942 levels—has almost passed out of the picture, it was learned today.

The reason: The government's new wage-and-salary policy permits employers to grant raises without government permission if the raises will not result in higher prices.

A government official said today probably more than 95 per cent of the salary raises which employers have asked permission to make will not involve any price increases.

Therefore they automatically come out from jurisdiction of the salary stabilization unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

That unit, it was learned, is preparing a formal order to clarify this situation by relaxing its salary controls. The order may be released soon.

Functions of the salary stabilization unit will be greatly reduced and will consist of two parts, it is understood:

1. To rule on the small number of salary raises that would involve higher prices on the products produced by the company wishing to grant the raises.

2. To prevent the reduction of salaries below 1942 levels.

The unit has jurisdiction over salaries of $5,000 and more, and salaries under $5,000 in the case of administrative and professional people not represented by labor unions. The War Labor board has jurisdiction over other workers.

Burglars Get 'Change' From Morton Business

MORTON, Aug. 20 (Special)—Several dollars in "change" was taken by burglars who ransacked a cash register of Minneapolis-Moline Tractor company here over the week-end, Sheriff Mac W. Hancock said.

The sheriff was assisted in his investigation by Assistant Chief of Lubbock Police Bill Mabray and Ranger Raymond Waters of Lubbock.

Milking Shorthorn Group Plans Sale

Texas Milking Shorthorn Breeders association will stage a utility bull sale in Lubbock in mid or late December, it was decided at a picnic of the association Saturday at Mackenzie State park.

Plans for the sale will be formulated by a committee within the next few weeks. Saturday's meeting also was featured by the making of preliminary plans for next spring's show at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview. It has been designated as the Tenth Anniversary show, the association having been organized in 1935.

A sale committee composed of V. M. Peterman of Amherst, sale manager; E. R. Gracey of Roscoe and Frank Ford of Lubbock was appointed for the spring show.

A total of 125 persons attended the picnic which opened at 10 a. m., continued until late afternoon with a fish fry being staged at noon.

Dr. C. E. Donnell of Canyon, one of Texas' veteran Shorthorn breeders, was among the out-of-town visitors, most of whom were West Texans.

Williams' Resignation Deferred Until Oct. 1

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (U.P.)—Resignation of Claude A. Williams, head of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, will be deferred until Oct. 1, it was learned here today.

Williams will represent a group of industrialists at Washington on compensation matters, and had planned to leave early in September.

About Postwar Crime

Lubbock's Worries Not Pressing

J. EDGAR HOOVER warns the nation that we should prepare for a postwar crime wave.

Pointing out that there were 1,393,665 major crimes in the United States last year, he declares that we must expect an increase in crime when unemployment and other conditions encouraging lawlessness occur. More than 80,000 persons, he adds, are now being sought as fugitives.

One can understand the chief G-man's cause of alarm. There is a mounting wave of juvenile crime—especially in the larger, congested metropolitan centers.

But on one point there is room for an argument. It is on Hoover's theory that crime will rise with the return of soldiers and sailors, who have been trained to kill. This is an old argument that the pacifists have raised in times past. But it is possibly untrue. Although there will be criminals among the returned servicemen, just as there are criminals in every group of men, the chances are the major law-breakers, especially those operating in city gangs, will be recruited from the class of slippery draft-dodgers.

Millions of men in military service learned discipline during the war. This training in obedience to orders will help make them good citizens. They will come back to civilian life much as the boys of that other World War did in 1919. They will become our best citizens.

There is also another angle to this problem. The government is going to have on file the finger-prints of these millions of men who have been in service, and of the millions of others who have worked in war plants. These finger-prints will be added insurance against criminal activity.

Fortunately, Lubbock has little to fear from the crime rise that the Mr. Hoover predicts. While the City commission is considering the possibility of enlarging the City Jail building, the chances of increased crime in this community is not much to worry about. The larger jail is made necessary by the fact this city is growing rapidly, not because of any expectation of incerased criminal activities.

Reaching Japan's Masses

WHILE Allied statesmen were not entirely in accord on the problem of what to do with Emperor Hirohito, they were in perfect agreement on the two principal objectives, which underlie the Allied surrender terms to Japan.

The objectives are: (1) Rapid stabilization of the country to permit withdrawal of occupation forces; (2) Establishment of conditions which will make possible early formation of the "peacefully inclined" and "responsible government" called for in the Potsdam declaration.

The critical question, which was the subject of considerable controversy, was whether these objectives could best be achieved by leaving the emperor on his throne or whether the whole "God-emperor" racket should be abolished.

The final decision was to make use of the emperor as a puppet ruler, since this assured a quick surrender and better cooperation from the Japanese people.

Yet the United States will order its occupation officers in Japan to by-pass the entrenched leadership and deal directly with the people. The purpose of this method is to foster democracy. It is the conviction of our leaders that the only way to develop a democratic Japan is to work with persons close to the masses and ignore the militarists and industrialists, who in the past have been the ruling elements.

In time Allied officials hope to reach the masses and teach them the meanings of the freedoms provided by democracy. The success of this teaching will be our best guarantee of future peace.

Trees---And More Trees

ONE thing that is needed in West Texas is a modern Johnny Appleseed to go up and down the country urging people—especially people living out on the farms—to plant trees, and more trees.

True the elements of nature—the South Plains' climate, the warm dry winds and small annual rainfall—have not always favored the growth of trees. Yet there are beautiful trees that find this climate and soil friendly, and one driving roads and highways with a tree-conscious eye can discover many farm homes that have been beautified and enhanced in value by the planting of trees.

In striking contrast there are other ranch and farm houses, which appear bleak and naked because their grounds are devoid of trees or shrubs of any kind. The persons living in these homes, perhaps, have never noticed the lack of trees. They may have lived too long in a section of the country—the great open plains—where trees were a rarity.

But to a man or woman reared in a community of trees, such a treeless place could never be "home." Something important and necessary would be forever lacking. Valuable for shade and fruit as well as for beauty, trees are a factor in creating a home that should never be overlooked. For while as Joyce Kilmer wrote—"Only God can make a tree," we can all help.

Let us all plant trees in memory of the heroes, we know, who will never return.

We Flew Without Guns

By Gen Genovese

(Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.)

This is a true story of the men who fly the "hump"—carrying passengers and cargo over the high Himalayas between India and China. Pilots call it the toughest airline route in the world.

A NEW LIFE

XXIV

IT had been six months since I wrote that letter to Gerry Ewing, the beautiful blonde who danced in the floor show at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe. I had yet to receive an answer, so the night after we arrived in New York Gingiss and I decided to look up Gerry Ewing and demand an explanation.

"But Captain Genovese, you're so short!" Gerry said, the very first thing when we met her at the St. Moritz. "I thought you said in your letter that you were—what was it? Six feet?"

"I don't remember," I said, embarrassed, because I had been a trifle liberal in estimating my height. "But flying takes a lot out of a man. Makes you lose a lot of weight sometimes — probably affects your height, too. . . ."

The picture of Gerry in the magazine was very good, but it didn't do her justice. In the flesh she was twice as beautiful, with silky blonde hair and wide blue eyes and soft red lips and a smile that crinkled around the eyes. Just hearing the soft melody of her laugh made me all wobbly inside. After she had dressed and come from her room and slipped her arm through mine, we went out and got a cab and drove over to the Stork Club, and I asked the headwaiter for a table for two.

"Aren't you all together?" he asked. I turned and saw Gingiss standing there looking rather bewildered. "Oh—oh, yeah," I said. "That's right. Make it a table for three."

The flying slump that washed me out of Randolph Field back in 1939 was nothing compared to the complete daze that engulfed me in the three weeks following my first evening with Gerry Ewing. At the end of that time I was still walking around with my head in the clouds and there was nothing to do but lay my cards on the table.

"I love you, Gerry," I told her one night, and she smiled and said, "That's nice, because I love you, too."

And so we were married.

MUCH as one hates to concede the fact, honeymoons cannot go on forever. Ours ran on blissfully from the end of August until early October with never once a thought of the turmoil in which the rest of the world found itself, but then reality returned in the form of a telegram from Gingiss, who had gone back home to Chicago a few weeks before.

"Have nice airline job lined up in South America," he wired. "Room for you, too. Good pay and dangerous. What more could you ask?"

"What do you think, dear?" I asked, handing the message to Gerry. "Would you like to live in South America?"

Gerry read it three or four times, and then she said, "I'll tell you what I think: I think there are mountains in South America, and the first thing you know that prostrate trouble or whatever it was will start up again. Another thing I think, as long as you've asked me, is that you've done enough dangerous flying. Your work at Lockheed and at Brewster Aircraft and your knowledge of planes from all these experiences in England and in China and India, all that ought to qualify you as an engineer, some kind of a job where you could put all that knowledge to good use. Why say, I'll bet . . ."

On and on Gerry went, building up her bridegroom so vigorously that if he had listened to all she had to say and taken it seriously he would have gone out next morning and started the foundation for an aircraft factory of his own. But the bridegroom didn't listen to all of it—he was already becoming a husband.

* * *

THE bridegroom's argument with himself was short-lived. Most important to him as well as to everyone else in the United States, if not in the world, was to get the war over with. And flying in South America would contribute little to that.

He returned to his apartment after an absence of two hours the next afternoon and told his bride to start packing; they were on their way to Evansville, Indiana.

"Evansville?" Gerry exclaimed. "What are we going to do—buy a farm?"

"No, Cookie, we aren't going to buy a farm," he said. "I'm going to see about a job with Republic Aviation. They have a big plant just outside Evansville where they're turning out P-47 Thunderbolts, the hottest fighing planes in the world, and there's a chance that I can get in on the deal."

"As an executive, you mean?" Gerry said, all excited.

"Well, kind of," I replied. "You see, once in a while a plane comes off the line that isn't just right, and they have to have an expert on hand to figure out just what's wrong. It's a mighty responsible job—I'll be lucky if I can land it."

"Well, just so it's safe, that's all I care," Gerry said, and the bridegroom was too busy packing his suitcase to answer.

He had done his best not to misrepresent the job, but even so Gerry was pretty upset when an Evansville paper carried a nice big story two days after he started to work captioned: CAPTAIN J. GENOVESE JOINS REPUBLIC AS TEST PILOT.

Oil Well Drilling To Remain About Same

HOUSTON, Aug. 20 (AP) — A domestic drilling program of 27,000 to 30,000 oil and gas wells during the year following the close of the war with Japan is forecast by the oil weekly.

This forecast is based upon opinions of 17 leading oil executives whose operations cover the United States and foreign areas.

The drilling program forecast would compare with 27,000 in 1945 and an average of 30,000 annually in the five years preceding the war. However, replies from the oil executives indicate that wells likely will be drilled deeper and in equipment cost be equivalent to a considerably larger number of pre-war wells.

Cotton Exports From U. S. Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20, (AP) — The Commerce department reported today that United States cotton exports increased 571,000 bales for the 11 months of the cotton season compared with the previous year.

Exports from August 1944 through 1945 totaled 1,615,000 bales compared with 1,044,000 bales for the corresponding period of 1943-44.

Lend-lease shipments from August through May amounted to 708,000 bales or 53.7 per cent of the total.

Compared with the preceding season, shipments of cotton 1⅛ inches and longer declined by 30 per cent. Shipments of cotton 1 1-16 to 1⅛ inches and cotton under 1 1-16 inches were 44 and 59 per cent larger, respectively.

The United Kingdom, Canada, France and Spain received 90 per cent of the exports for the 11-month period.

Congressional Medals To Be Awarded To 27

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20, (AP) — The largest mass award yet of Congressional Medals of Honor will be made by President Truman Thursday morning to 27 army officers and enlisted men.

The White House said the ceremony will he held at 9:00 a. m., cwt., on the south lawn of the White House with relatives and a group of officials present.

The recipients include S/Sgt. Macario Garcia, Sugar Land, Tex.; Pfc. Silvestre S. Herrera, Phoenix, Ariz., a native of El Paso, Tex., and 1st Lt. Eli Whiteley, Georgetown, Tex.

Citations for those whose awards have not been previously announced will not be released until the medals are presented.

Looking At Life------By Erich Brandeis

A seventeen-year-old girl writes me this letter:

"I wish you'd help me and lots of other kids.

"In our Sunday school class there is a group of five girls who attend whenever the spirit moves them. For the last three Sundays my fishing pole has meant more to me than Sunday school.

"The main reason for this is that we are not given a chance to discuss our ideas on the problems that arise. The teacher settles them all on the spot, whether we agree or not.

BRANDEIS

"Our former teacher, Miss M., let us challenge and discuss and fight it out with us. She understood youth's very unreligious ways.

"During her time we went to Sunday school regularly. Then we lost our very good friend, Miss M., a new teacher came — and the church lost us.

"I just wish you would emphasize the fact that teen-agers have their own minds and like to express the thoughts which they regard as truth.

"Our pastor reads your column. It would be a good thing to get me and the other girls back to church. I have been feeling mighty evil lately."

Isn't there, in this letter from a seventeen-year-old girl, perhaps the reason why so many ministers are complaining about "half empty churches?"

In all my years I have never heard religion discussed so much as it is now.

People need religion more than ever before.

They need something to restore to them the faith which the war has so badly shaken.

But we live in an enlightened age.

We have been taught to think, to reason, to use our brains.

There is much in religion that needs explaining.

Blind faith is not enough. There must be logic, reason and understanding.

* * *

MANY questions are being asked. Why the slaughter of innocents? Why the terrible grief of mothers and fathers and wives?

Why the torture of children and the pure at heart?

The happenings of today force a challenge which is a reality.

Every thinking human has a right to make the challenge.

Every minister of the gospel is faced with it and must be able to answer it.

He must answer it courageously, truthfully, logically, openely.

Or his church will be empty.

As empty as religion itself may be without an understanding minister as its interpreter.

Did We Err In Keeping Hirohito?

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

AFTER READING Hirohito's "alibi rescript" many high officials here are not so sure as they once were that it is a wise move to keep the emperor as our figurehead in ruling Japan.

They laugh scornfully at his statement that he never intended to "embark upon territorial aggrandizement" and his message to his Asiatic "allies" who have "cooperated" with him "toward the emancipation of East Asia." This sort of double-talk appears to be an attempt to whitewash himself and his nation before General MacArthur muzzles him one and for all.

Oriental experts in Washington warn of trickery. Maj. Gen. Chennault has told friends that he thinks the Japs will be meek during the initial period of occupation but that they are highly capable of diabolical underground activity.

TUCKER

Hirohito may still be regarded as a semi-deity by his subjects. But Japanese "gods" are not bound by moral compunctions. The emperor's last free word to his people was a calculated falsehood to pervert the record.

Shintoism teaches that when the "supreme race" or its leader performs an act as a matter of national policy the possibility of wrong is at once excluded. Or as one Far Eastern authority puts it: "What the aggregate of Nipponese does cannot be anything but right."

Japanese commanders in the field repeatedly lied to their superiors about losses. Tokyo radios often broadcast stories of "glorious victories" when Nimitz and Halsey had pulverized their fleets.

The cult of "Kodeo" or emperor-worship itself is a fiction which only the credulous could possibly believe. The Emperor Meiji, Hirohito's grandfather, was helpless clay in the hands of the militarists. His son, Emperor Taisho, was insane. And Hirohito was a front for the war lords. A race that believes such tripe will swallow the Mikado's mendacious swan song.

LABOR: Strange as it may seem, many leaders of the various labor movements in the United States think the Attlee-Bevin-Morrison-Laski victory in the British election is a bad blow for workingmen's organizations throughout the world. The modified Socialist program outlined this week in Parliament has not changed their fears. Among American union czars who do not subscribe to this opinion are Philip Murray of CIO and Sidney Hillman of PAC.

The old line labor groups in this country — the AFL, the United Mine Workers and Railway Brotherhoods — are essentially conservative. "Bill" Green is a Baptist lay preacher. John L. Lewis is an Iowan of Welsh descent. The railroaders operate an enormously profitable insurance business.

They want no truck with folks who seek nationalization of basic industries. Members of craft unions are highly skilled and intelligent men who realize that private enterprise gives them opportunities to make money and does not force them down to the level of less efficient laborers. Indeed, as a result of their experiences with the New Dealers, our conservative labor bosses want less rather than more government domination.

NEW YORK
By Albert Leman

MAYOR LA GUARDIA always ends his radio broadcasts with the admonition, "Patience and fortitude."

New York textile executives say that this advice should be taken to heart by customers eager for nylons, men's shirts and other scarce apparel and fabrics. The tight situation will clear up gradually, but it will be three to 10 months before articles are available in quantity.

The mills have no nylon stocks at all. Before this popular hosiery item can be plentiful the WPB must cancel the controls put on it in 1942.

The government has been using nylon for parachute cloth, airplane tire cord, special rope and insect netting for the Pacific. Although through drastic cutbacks have been ordered, the trade believes the effects will not be felt soon in the retail field.

LEMAN

Distribution is likely to follow the suggestion of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers that adequate stocks be accumulated first and released on a prearranged date, thus giving every branch of the industry an even start.

Otherwise, the initial rush of women for the stocking counters would completely wipe out the supply and the store owners would be blamed by disappointed customers.

As the end of the war approached, military and high-rated orders were taking about 45 per cent of rayon yarns. There are shortages in certain lines, especially underwear, but no over-all scarcity. The cutback is expected to release all but five per cent of total production.

The automobile industry will use up some of the yardage in civilian tire cords. Mills also plan to introduce new high tenacity rayons that are far superior to the old-fashioned weaves. Forecasters estimate that when conditions are normal the market will be divided so that silk, nylon and high tenacity rayons will each receive about one-third of the business.

COTTON: As every housewife knows, the dearth of cotton has been unusually severe.

Textile production is split ordinarily as follows: 80 per cent of it is cotton; eleven, rayon (snythetic yarns); nine, wools. Forty per cent of cottons is for wearing apparel, 50 for industry and 20 for domestic purposes — sheets, towels, dishclothes etc.

Annual output is 10 billion square yards. Uncle Sam is now buying about one-fourth of the total; 95 percent of his orders probably will be cut back. The best authorities say that this means that major civilian shortages will be relieved early in 1946.

It is almost impossible to buy a man's shirt for less than a $1. Improvements are looked for at once in children's clothing and women's house dresses. But New York experts shake their heads over the underwear situation; they fear that the present shortage cannot be eased before late Winter. A row over prices between the OPA and the trade also slows output.

Housewives may not be able to purchase as many sheets, pillowcases and towels as they anticipate, because of heavy demands from public institutions, hospitals, colleges, hotels and other rated outlets. These establishment have been getting along a best they could but they will be forced by competition to restock— and hoard if they can.

Vast amounts of cotton will be needed by the automobile industry for upholstery. Textile mills will do their best to satisfy their old customers; they don't want the Detroit designers to substitute leather synthetics and soft plastics for cotton. Home furnishings concerns also will be after whatever is available.

WOOL: At present Army-Navy procurement officers are taking no woolens and only 25 per cent of worsteds, some of which will be cut back.

Civilians should receive ample supplies before the year's end. Blankets are rolling out of the mills but shortages are so acute that there is little hope of soon filling the gap.

Army occupation forces and the Navy must eventually replace worn-out uniforms. At present they can draw on their pipe lines and reserves but these reservoirs will dry up later. Re-outfitting demobilized veterans will drain current supplies. There are rumors in clothing circles that former soldiers and sailors will be given some form of priority in purchasing new wardrobes.

Clothing mills normally take orders 10 months in advance of a season and start deliveries six months in advance. So, even if they get all the breaks, some time must elapse before the new garments reach the shops. Marginal mills are turning out low quality overcoats; good staple materials are still scarce.

Reconversion Problem Challenge To Nation

Strong Peace Economy Essential

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Everybody who was able to work and wanted to work had a job during the war.

That is an outstanding fact of our war economy.

It is, likewise, the challenge as we return to peace.

Is it too much to ask that we try to arrange our economy to do in peace what it did in war?

This question is being asked now on every side.

This, of cours, does not mean literally a job for "everybody." A peacetime economy does not envisage that. Many women, many older people who did not have to work joined the lines at war plants every morning, some even for night shifts, in order to fill up the gap and help win the war. They will go back to their homes or to chairs by the fireside or on the porch.

STOKES

But the war did provide jobs for many millions who did need jobs and who, in 1940, before it started, still did not have jobs. They will need jobs hereafter. In addition to absorbing them, the postwar economy also must take care of many in the service who had not entered the labor market before they went to war. Some of these will go back to school. Others will not. It is presumed that those in the service who had jobs before they went away—and this runs into millions—will get their old jobs back.

There's Difference of Opinion

The "Jobs for Everybody" or "60,000,000 jobs" is a slogan representing a new psychology in this country. This is taken as meaning a job for everybody who has to work for a living. It has stirred up quite a debate. This debate will continue and get warmer as we settle down to peaceful living again. Already there is rising an opposing school of thought which says it is a fantastic dream that cannot be realized.

This new psychology is a phenomenon that is worth analyzing since it is going to play an important part henceforth. It cannot be dismissed lightly, for it is by now deeply ingrained. It derives perhaps from a number of causes, most of them in the war, itself, and in the nature of the war.

THIS war was presented, by our political leaders and by a full body of literature, as a war of the common man against tyranny, against those who would exploit his body and mind. It was presented as a war designed to give a better break to the ordinary individual in a free society, as well as a war to save our skins as a nation. The politicians promised jobs after the war. So did industrial leaders. The expressions of solicitude were many.

Perhaps this was not with real sincerity in every case. Perhaps there was some lip service. Perhaps some of it was inspired by the fear of the threat to our nation. But, whatever the reason, those who promised it—whether for propaganda purposes or not—now are going to find themselves held to it.

They are stuck with it.

Co-operation Essential

This new psychology derives also partly from the nature of the war. Everybody was enlisted in it. The inference was natural, and has been taken widely, that a nation which enlisted every citizen in some way or other for the war, also assumed a responsibility to provide for its people in peace.

This does not mean the government only, except as it is the instrument of the people, but the government in co-operation with industry, business and all other elements of our society. The program will have to be many fold, enlisting every agency.

* * *

THE WAR only interrupted an attempt by the Roosevelt administration to solve the basic problem of reorganizing our society to provide jobs. The New Deal did not sole the unemployment problem. It did give the people a greater voice in their government in many directions, and built up additional protections for them.

Much was done, many innovations were introduced, in seven or eight years.

What the politicians probably will find, as they go into this new era of peace with many of the old problems still before them, is that the process of innovation will have to be resumed if they fulfill their pledges.

A backward look at the New Deal is worthwhile now.

Industrial Production Expected To Increase

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. (U.P) — The Committee for Economic Development predicted today that the annual rate of industrial production will reach $80,518,000,000 by September, 1946, a rise of almost $24,000,000,000 over 1939.

The CED described as "verging on hysterical" some of the current forecasts on post-war unemployment.

After a two-year study, the CED said that business "can and will be good."

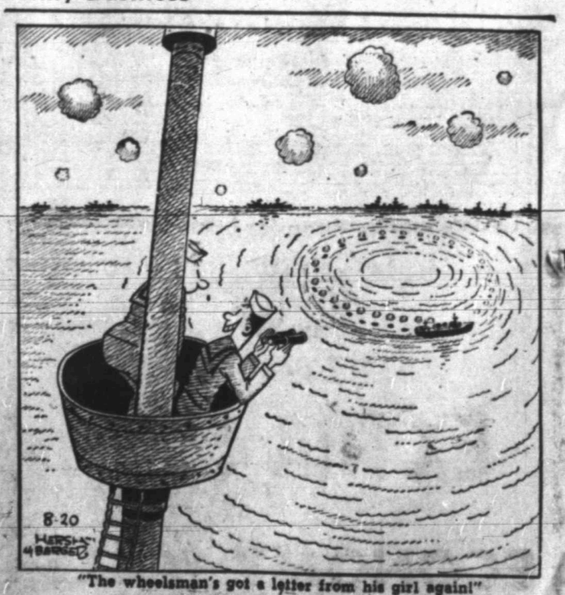

The committee's study covered statistics and information gathered from 1,406 manufacturing firms and 158 trade associations numbering 20,000 members.

HEADQUARTERS ON GUAM

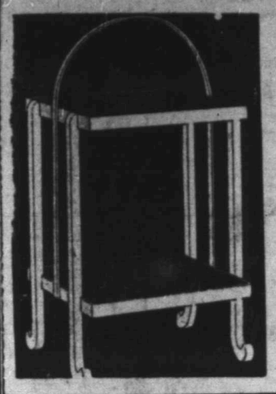

GUAM, Aug. 20 (AP) — Admiral Nimitz will continue to maintain his headquarters on Guam for the time being, his aides said today, although he contemplates establishing headquarters in the Tokyo area eventually.

DDT Used In Test To Control Polio

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 20 (UP)— Cool headed scientists and fear-stricken citizens waited anxiously today for the outcome of an experiment which converted DDT, powerful wartime insecticide, to a peacetime "mercy" duty in the battle against infantile paralysis.

A specially equipped B-24 bomber spread DDT from the air yesterday in a desperate effort to halt the epidemic of poliomyelitis which already has killed 17 persons here. A total of 148 infantile paralysis cases have been reported in the Rockford metropolitan section since July 1.

It was hoped that by using the insecticide—most powerful developed—scientists could determine whether or not the polio virus is carried by the common house fly. It also was a mercy mission for the powerful plane, brought here from the Canal Zone especially for the experiment.

The great olive-drab B-24 plane, one of two equipped with the spraying devices, roared low over the roof tops of Rockford from Truax field, Madison, Wis., spraying the city with 1,650 gallons of the miracle insecticide.

Armada Set To Move On Japan

emperor's emissaries offered cooperation at now-concluded preliminary conferences here indicated Japan would be occupied with a minimum of friction.

A headquarters spokesman said that for the present a "technical state of truce" existed, and until the Allied entry into Japan no formal surrender would be signed. It was indicated the signing would take place in or near the ruined capital of Tokyo.

MacArthur did not deign to see the Japanese delegation, but shortly after it left he issued a statement saying that the emissaries "imparted all information required and instructions of the United Nations are being conveyed by them to the government of Japan."

Armed With "Difference"

"In my capacity as supreme commander for the Allied powers," he added, "I shall soon proceed to Japan with accompanying forces composed of ground, naval and air elements.

"Subject to weather that will permit landings, it is anticipated that the instrument of surrender will be signed within 10 days.

Members of all Allied delegations will accompany MacArthur. The Russians are due to arrive here soon. The others, including British, Chinese and Australians, are already here.

Lt. Gen. Takashiro Kawabe, head of the 16-man delegation to Manila, was advised yesterday the still undisclosed date of MacArthur's arrival was told to prepare air fields, harbors and other facilities.

Japs "Promise" Their Best

"We will do the best possible to make sure that all arrangements are completed on time," Kawabe replied.

Within 24 hours after its arrival in Manila, the mikado's delegation left Nichols field for Ie island off Okinawa, en route back to Tokyo.

The emissaries carried 25 pages of detailed documents on steps to be taken to prepare for the occupation.

All through the Orient, the final acts in the drama of war were unfolding.

The supreme commander of Japanese forces in China was ready to meet with the Chinese tomorrow in the south central air base city of Chihkiang to surrender.

Only hint of trouble from this quarter was an official message to MacArthur from the Japanese indicating that it was necessary to keep forces under arms on the mainland to preserve order and asking him to send officials to investigate "the actual situation in China."

(As heard by the FCC in San Francisco, the Japanese claimed Chungking and rival Communist forces both were rushing into territory occupied by Japan, making conflicting surrender demands that added to "a confused situation.")

PRICES DROP SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Stocks, bonds and commodities were thrown for further substantial losses in today's markets as bearishness over vanishing wartime profits inspired liquidation.

The stock division displayed recovery inclinations in the forenoon with rails and selected industrials negotiating an encouraging comeback. Volume picked up when carriers and steels resumer the retreat and declines running to two or more points were widespread.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .8 of a point at 63.2, a low mark since mid-April. The market was relatively broad, 939 issues appearing. Of these, 660 were down, 134 up and 146 unchanged. Transfers totalled 1,220,000 shares compared with 1,210,000 last Friday.

Among pivotals able to finish on the upside were American Telephone, Santa Fe, Radio Corp. and Chrysler.

Prominent casualties included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Westinghouse, General Electric, Standard Oil (NJ), International Telephone and Johns-Manville.

Secondary railway loans were especially weak.

Cotton . .

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Reconversion trouble and fear that the present government price support for cotton may be changed next season brought in heavy commission house liquidation in the futures market today.

Final prices were at or near the lows for the day to show net losses of $1.00 to $3.00 a bale and were below the government buying price under the 1945 purchase program.

The largest losses were registered in the distant months with the October 1946 delivery at one time selling off $4.35 a bale. This was attributed to the fact that government officials have recently expressed the need for a change in the cotton program to make prices more competitive with both foreign cotton and synthetic fibers in the home market.

Some traders also reasoned that a period of heavy unemployment might affect industrial prices and bring about a downward trend in parity prices.

Futures closed $1.00 to $3.00 a bale lower.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (AP) — Grain futures tried to start a rally today, but it was short-lived. Wheat and oats fell fractions to a cent or more a bushel near the close, while rye and barley dropped more than 2 cents at times.

Hedge selling and weakness in New York cotton were factors in causing reactions in wheat and oats after early strength.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅝ lower than the previous finish, September $1.62⅞, corn was down ⅛ to ⅞, December $1.13⅛, oats were off ¾ to 1 cent, September 56½, rye was 1⅞ to 2⅝ cents lower, September $1.35¾, and barley was off 1 to 3¼ cents, September 98⅝.

motion in the misled nation, were reported by Japan's Domei news agency as well as the Tokyo radio. The broadcasts were recorded by the FCC.

In striking contrast to the notes of anxiety from Japan was the defiant broadcast from Singapore, reported by Domei, that Nippon's armies at home and in Asia have "an unchallenged dignity which remains supreme" and "are prepared to crush" the foe. The emperor's decision to surrender, however, was accepted.

Based On Proclamation

The broadcast was based on a proclamation issued by the "supreme commander of the Nippon Army" in Singapore.

The proclamation denounced American use of the atomic bomb, which it said had induced Japan to accept surrender.

An utterly frank appraisal of the situation facing Japan was given to a Tokyo press conference by Dr. Chuzo Iwata, justice minister in the new cabinet. He was reported as warning the people that the Allied conquerors might take a hand should local authority fail.

The premier, Prince Naruhiko Hogashi-Kuni, appealed for "strict discipline and equanimity." He spoke over a Japan-wide radio hookup.

Tokyo's newspapers handled the situation without gloves. They said "unrest, fear and despair" ran unrestrained, that leaders who plunged the nation into war had no place in Japan's future and that henceforth all Japanese people should participate in the government.

The Nippon Times, which publishes in English, placed "control of the military" as an even greater problem for the cabinet than dealing with the restlessness seething within the defeated, hungry and economically broken nation.

Recognizing the slumbering fires of discontent, the newspaper Asahi urged the people to "reflect seriously on the grave mistake made in the past of following government leadership blindly." It urged all Japanese to participate in government in the future.

Anderson Abolishes Milk Sales Quotas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson today suspended sales quotas on fluid milk, cream under 19 per cent in butter fat content, buttermilk and chocolate dairy drinks.

Milk distributors in the 138 largest cities of the nation had been operating under sales quotas since the fall of 1943.

The Pates returned by way of Hollis, Okla., where Mrs. Pate remained for a visit with her mother, Mrs. F. A. Parks.

Burglary Sunday night of a service station in Sudan was reported to Lubbock officers Monday. Two automobile tubes were taken. W. A. Kelly, Sudan nightwatchman, described two youths, between 18 and 20 years old, as suspects.

Not all women like to be whistled at, police learned Monday. And a 12-year-old boy was on his way to learning that it is not quite Emily Post to pucker greetings to any passing fair lady. A police prowl car went to 2400-block Ave. V after a woman complained that someone had whistled at her in that vicinity. They found the boy who was told to report to juvenile authorities.

Five Die In Wreck Of B-29 Superfort

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 20. (U.P.)—At least five airmen were killed today when an Army bomber exploded in mid air and crashed northwest of McAlester.

Deputy Sheriff Clint Gladden said five bodies had been found with wreckage scattered over a one-mile area. He said the plane was a B-29 Superfortress.

Parts of the plane were still burning when highway patrolmen and city and county officers reached the scene.

Gladden said three bodies were found in the smashed nose section of the craft; the two others a half or three-fourths of a mile away.

Crash Recounted

the accident, he learned that his right shoe had been cut off above the toes by a whirling propeller blade.

Other In Left Blister

Wischmeier was seated in the left blister at the time of the crash. He said:

"It seemed like we stopped in mid-air. I had my harness on but not my chute. The plane tipped on its side, but inside it was dark and hot. A gas tank burst and sprayed the blister with burning gasoline. This was what saved my life. In a faint light I was able to see a chute floating through the air toward me and I grabbed it.

"I grabbed a sight nearby and smashed the plexiglass and it cracked because of the heat. My feet slid through the glass and I was burned around the legs by the gasoline. I kept smashing at the glass until it all broke out. Then I slid out feet first with my hands on the rip cord."

Dropped Scant 200 Feet

His drop was a bare 200 feet. The earth was coming up at him rapidly and he looked up to see that his chute was not open all the way.

"I flexed my knees for the crash," Wischmeier added. "But a miracle happened. A tree caught my unopened chute and halted my fall. I unbuckled my harness and walked about a mile to a farm house, where an ambulance picked me up."

Both survivors were of the same plane, stationed at the Clovis, N. M., Army Air field. The other plane was on a routine flight from Alamogordo Army Air field in New Mexico.

Eighteen airmen were killed in the crash.

"WEREWOLVES" ACTIVE

LONDON, Aug. 20. (AP) — The Moscow radio said tonight that Japanese "werewolves" were operating in Russian occupied sections of Manchuria. The broadcast, heard by the Soviet monitor, said bands of isolated Japanese troops were hiding in caves in the steppes and emerging by night to attack with knives and daggers.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.—Adv.

Redeployment Of Troops In Europe

PARIS, Aug. 20. (U.P.)—Here is today's redeployment schedule for American divisions in the European theater:

30th Infantry—Main body now shuttling from France to the United Kingdom for shipment from Southampton, except for the 137th regiment, whose sailing date from Le Havre has been advanced to about Aug. 23.

13th Airborne — Still shipping out, expected to clear Le Havre tomorrow.

45th Infantry — Main body now moving from Reims area to Le Havre, expecting to ship for England Aug. 26 to 28.

The Ninth Armored and 70th, 99th and 106th Infantry divisions have been added to the list of newly-alerted divisions, making a total of 11 notified to be ready for shipment home. Four of these are now in the process of moving out.

U. S. Army headquarters said the alerted divisions will be filled mostly with high score soldiers eligible for discharge on their arrival in the United States.

A maximum of 800 low-point troops will be authorized for shipment home with each of the alerted divisions to fill key specialist and administrative jobs necessary for demobilization of the other soldiers.

assistance will be used to crack any bottlenecks which threaten to impede civilian production. He emphasized, however, that aid would be given "only after the applicant has exhausted all possible means of helping himself." He continued:

"The nation faces a remobilization of industry on a scale that matches the mobilization for war. We all have a tremendous stake in the speed with which this remobilization is accomplished."

Private Business

Noting that President Truman had declared recently that "every opportunity must be given to private business to exercise its ingenuity and forcefulness," Krug said:

"We do not want to perpetuate government controls. We do want industry to solve its problems in the traditional American spirit of 'let's get the job done!'

"This opportunity we are providing. At the same time we will exercise our powers to keep the transition as orderly as possible. There will be shortages of some materials and it will be necessary to prevent hoarding. Therefore we are keeping controls on them.

"On others we are controlling inventory to prevent hoarding by large consumers at the expense of the small manufacturer."

New Car Deliveries

Krug indicated that removal of production ceilings on automobiles was being held up temporarily while the question whether new cars will be delivered equipped with spare tires is being discussed.

Leaders of business, labor and agriculture—members of the reconversion advisory board—expressed their pleasure with the direction of home front events, since Japan quit, with this:

A unanamous resolution praising Reconversion Director John W. Snyder for his outline of government policy in the period ahead: "From War to Peace.— A Challenge."

Here were other developments on the fast-moving peace-time front:

1. President Truman met with Snyder and the advisory board, stressed the need for labor-management teamwork.

2. The government was readying its official blessing for pay increases for salaried workers. It already had blessed them for wage-earners.

Draft Calls Slashed

3. The Navy and Marine corps slashed September draft calls from 22,000 to 13,000.

4. The President ordered time-and-one-half pay for all war workers who stayed on the job last Wednesday and Thursday when the Japanese agreed to surrender.

5. The Maritime commission cancelled contracts totalling $425,000,000 for 135 ships and equipment.

6. The White House announced V-J day will be the date Japan signs surrender documents.

7. The Senate Banking committee will resume hearings tomorrow on the measure labelled by its sponsors as the "full employment" bill.

8. Government experts predicted a boom Christmas shopping season with many now-scarce or completely missing products due back on the shelves.

9. Gasoline and fuel oil price ceilings will be cut moderately soon in the east.

Atomic Bomb Called 'Atrocity,' Group Wants Work Halted

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. (AP) — Characterizing the atomic bomb as "an atrocity of a new magnitude" and "a new low for humanity," a group of 34 educational and religious leaders has asked President Truman to stop production of the weapon and seek "commitments by all nations" outlawing use of the bomb.

Signers of the statement included: Prof. Roland H. Bainton, Yale divinity school; Rev. A. D. Beittel, president of Talladega college, Ala., Rabbi Abraham Cronbach, Hebrew Union college, Cincinnati, Ohio; Rev. Samuel W. Marble, Trinity Methodist church, Denver, Colo.

British Policy

isters in London next month, with Britain desiring "the treaty should be made on fair terms and the people of Italy should be given the chance of reviving their life on the basis of liberty."

Repatriation Of Poles

6. Great Britain would like to see all Poles overseas — military and civilian — return to their homeland and "assume the responsibilities in building a new Poland."

7. The new government feels confident that Hong Kong, the British colony on the China coast, will be returned to Britain "in agreement with our Chinese and American Allies."

Early in his speech Bevin declared the British government regarded the economic reconstruction of the world as a primary object of its foreign policy. All that followed, in its firmness and moderation, appeared to bear this principle in mind.
