Thanksgiving Proclamation

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

As a nation, and as individuals, we have passed another twelve months in the favor of the Almighty. He has smiled upon our fields and they have brought forth plentifully; business has prospered; industries have flourished, and labor has been well employed. While sections of our country have been visited with disaster, we have been spared any great national calamity or pestilential visitation. We are blessed among the nations of the earth. Our moral and spiritual life has kept measure with our material prosperity. We are not unmindful of the gratitude we owe to God for His watchful care which has pointed out to us the ways of peace and happiness; we should not fail in our acknowledgment of His divine favor which has bestowed upon us so many blessings.

Neither should we be forgetful of those among us who, through stress of circumstances, are less fortunately placed, but by deeds of charity make our acknowledgment more acceptable in His sight.

Wherefore, I Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, next as a day of General Thanksgiving and prayer and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their daily work, and in their homes or in their accustomed places of worship, devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received and seek His guidance that through good deeds and brotherly love they may deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

Done at the city of Washington, this 30th day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and fifty-first.

WHITEKER TALKS TO C. OF C. WED.

TELLS MEMBERS WHAT W. T. C.
OF C. IS DOING—PERRY-TON A PART OF BIG BODY

B. M. Whiteker, Stamford, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, gave a very interesting talk to some of the members of the local commercial body who gathered last Wednesday evening, November 10. Mr. Whiteker related some of the things the West Texas organization has accomplished and are trying to do for this section of the state.

One of the biggest feats accomplished this year has been the defeat of the 5 per cent freight rate increase asked for by the railroads.
This one victory saved the farmers of Ochiltree county over $35,000 dollar on their wheat shipments.

Another instance of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's good work is the fighting of the increase in insurance rates. Data is being prepared and by the looks of things instead of an increase in rates, there will be a reduction of 10 per cent.
Investigations have been carried on and it has been found that West Texas is paying the insurance bill of several so called "Hot Towns" in central and East Texas.

The Perryton Chamber of Commerce is part of the West Texas
Chamber of Commerce and speakers will be brought here from time to time to talk to the members on topics relating to their business and the welfare of the community. It is hoped that more members attend these talks in the future.

About seventy-five delegates are expected at the business meeting which will be held this afternoon at the court house, among them state engineers from four states, Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Colorado, all of which are traversed by the route.

Contract For Well Six Miles From Perryton

WELL TO BE ON VAUGHN PLACE

ADJOINS BOREN BLOCK ON EAST AND IS TWO MILES NORTH OF NEW TALLEY BLOCK

A drilling contract was signed this week between Jno. W. Vaughn and D. W. Rober of the Canyon Oil company for the drilling of a well on the Vaughn place, the south 1-2 of Sec. 19, Block 12, work to be started as soon as sufficient acreage has been arranged.

The block is being formed by the Perryton Land & Loan company and they are very anxious that land owners in the neighborhood of the well will come in and place their land in the block. The block as outlined will adjoin the Boren block on the east and will extend six miles west, to within a mile and a half of Farnsworth.

The block will be two miles north of the new Talley block which has just been formed.

The location of the well will be just three miles west and a half south of the Boren well which is now drilling. This will make the well about four miles south and two miles west of Perryton, making the eighth location in Ochiltree county.

Mr. Vaughn, Joplin, Mo., is responsible for the drilling contract some time he has visioned an oil field in the vicinity of Perryton and is doing his utmost to see that a thorough test is made of the Perryton territory.

The actual work of leasing up the block lies in the hands of W. D. Christopher and C. E. McLarty of the Perryton Land & Loan company. A number of leases have already been arranged and it is hoped that the block will be completed soon so that work can be started.

CANADIAN WELLS REACH INTERESTING DEPTH

Another test that is being closely watched at this time is on the George land Section 40. It is being drilled at 2800 feet.

Work is expected to start on the Isaacs land within the next few days. November 21, is the final date that drilling operations may be begun, according to G. L. Addison.—Canadian Record.

The well has only been drilling ninety days.

OIL DEVELOPMENT AT STANDSTILL BUT OPERATIONS RESUMED IN A FEW DAYS

Two carloads of gas pipe for the Vickers test on the Hitch ranch northwest of Liberal have arrived and the hauling out and laying of the pipe to the Seward County Oil & Gas Tests, from which fuel is to be secured, began Monday. It is expected that by the time the gas pipe is laid that the twenty inch casing will be here and things will be in shape to go right down with the test.—Liberal News.

CARS COLLIDE, MANY ARE HURT

LIBERAL AND GUYMON PARTIES CRASH AT INTERSECTION ON PERRYTON ROAD

The accident in which Mrs. J. E. Gooch of Liberal was dangerously injured Sunday happened on the Perryton road thirteen miles south of Liberal at the intersection. The Ford touring car in which Mr. and Mrs. Gooch and their three sons, Fred, Paul and Jack, were driving north, collided with a Buick touring car coming from the west; driven by Raymond Davidson of Guymon, who was accompanied by his brother, Homer Davidson, and two of the teachers in the Guymon schools, Misses Mary Salyer and Winona Beeman.

The Gooch car was turned over by the impact and landed on its top facing the south. Mrs. Gooch was

Mr. Gooch suffered painful bruises about the hips and limbs and Fred slight cuts. The driver of the Guymon car, Raymond Davidson, was badly cut on the leg. The injured were all taken to the J. H. Dietrich home near the scene of the accident, where they were given first aid until the arrival of the ambulance, which took Mrs. Gooch and Mr. Davidson to the Hospital.—Liberal News.

It appears that the Israelites were among the earliest people to observe a special day of thanksgiving. They observed faithfully, with great rejoicing and solemn ceremonies, their Feast of Tabernacles, a day of thanks not only for the bounties of the land, but also for the escape from Egypt.

"The feast of tabernacles shalt thou hold for thyself seven days, when thou hast gathered in the produce of thy threshing floor and of thy wine press."—Deuteronomy 16:13.

The ancient Greeks also had a day of thanksgiving, known as the Feast of Demeter. This nine-day feast was in honor of Demeter, goddess of the field and harvests, and was meant very obviously, as a day of gratitude for the richness and bounties of the harvest. Sacrifices of fruit, wine and honey were made. The Romans appear to have had a similar festival called Cerealia, a time of rejoicing and thanksgiving.

OIL CO. ENGAGES NEGRO BOY FOR FISHING TOOL

Drilling at the I. S. Brown test of the Sanger Oil and Refining company, four miles east of Abilene was under way Tuesday because of the daring of a small negro boy who went down into the hole for a depth of 110 feet, attached a cable to a lost bit and made possible the clearing of the trouble.

The boy, Dick Rawleigh, first stayed in the fifteen-inch hole twenty minutes, but was unable to attach the cable. He was hoisted to the surface, given further instructions and once more made the descent between the crumbling walls he was successful and received $25 of shales and limestone. This time for his work.

WELL REACHES CONTRACT DEPTH IN TEXAS COUNTY

The second Reiter-Foster Test in Texas county, the Kugle farm well, ne. ne. 10-2-11, is shut down and to be plugged. The contractors have reached the contract depth of 3500 feet, and gone two feet below, and with two drills hopelessly wedged in the bottom of the hole there is no alternative. Whether the company will drill another well, we have not heard. They were drilling in lime and shale when the tools were hung in the well.

The Allison Well No. 1, se. 4-1-12 has drilled through the third oil showing at 2700 feet, and is now to feet. They missed the big gas flow a depth of between 2800 and 2900 that showed up in the old Allison well at around 2700.

The H. & H. Well on nw. 25-1-12 is to spud in this week. A new boiler received was found to have a flaw and had to be exchanged, thus delaying the spudding that was to have taken place Tuesday.—Guymon Herald.

Town Team Gets Revenge In Armistice Game

RANGER TEAM GET NEST EGG SCORE

STILL SMARTING FROM LAST SEASONS DEFEAT, TOWN TEAM COMES BACK WITH VICTORY

Perryton High School suffered one of the most overwhelming defeats in years when they were forced to take the short end of a 16 to 0 score last Thursday afternoon, at the hands of the Town Team who, although not playing regularly this year administered defeat like veterans, using a crashing straight football offensive mixed with beautiful runs and a spectacular air attack. Approximately one thousand fans cheered and gasped with delight when early in the first quarter "Runt" Dear, flashy halfback for the Town Team scooped Shradler's 55 yard punt on a dead run, circled the ends, dodged plugged, side stepped and twisted his way to an open field to go racing madly 85 yards down the sidelines for the first and probably most sensational score of the game.

It was a hard fighting and bitter team that fought to turn the tide of this onslaught but of no avail. The half ended with the Town Team leading 7-0.

Still fighting for breaks that did not come, the High Boys had to look dolefully on in the third quarter while Oris Bruner, the boy with the educated toe for the Town Team dropped nonchalantly back and booted the ball from the 37 yard line, against a stiff north wind, for the longest field goal scored on the home field this season.

Rallying for a moment in the fourth quarter the High School displayed a brand of football that carried them to within fifteen yards of a touchdown, when the defense of the Town Team stiffened and held a most threatening scoring machine. As if grasping a final straw with which to score the High opened up with their aerial attack in the late minutes of play but were immediately stifled when Cecil Dodd plucked a high one and galloped forty-five yards through the dusk, ringing up the fifteenth counter for the town team. Bruner added goal from placement.

It was a great game from the spectators point of view and from the players and coach. No doubt it will bring to earth and reality the aspiration of Coach Holderman and his proteges. In all due consideration, however, the defeat of the High must be spelled with the superiority of the Town Team and it is with suppressed enthusiasm and anxious eyes that the fans await the outcome of the League championship game.

Mrs. Wilbur Slaton arrived in Perryton Tuesday evening and is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Murphy. Mrs. Slaton is going to school at Greeley, Colorado.

ASKS SCHOOLS TO FOLLOW RULES

HENDERSON, HEAD INTER-SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE, INSISTS ON CLOSE ADHERANCE

Austin, Texas, Nov. 17—As some high schools which are members of the Interscholastic League of the University of Texas are overlooking the necessity of strict adherence to the scholarship rule regarding football, Athletic Director Roy Henderson has called special attention to the part in school activities which the sport occupies. He says:

"Football should be fostered in the school for the good of that school, for the benefit of the students, for its citizenship training values, and for the opportunities it affords for developing character, ideals, morals, and the like. It should never be conducted primarily for the purpose of interesting the patrons in the school, for the advertising of a town, or for the reputation of a coach or school official. Nor should the fans ever come first.

"High school football should raise the standard of scholarship. The scholarship rule is, accordingly, the most essential of all, as it is the foundation of the whole structure. A superintendent, principal, or teacher who makes the least concession to a student in applying this rule loses the greatest thing that athletics can be made to do in the school."

As there is no rule in the constitution of the Interscholastic League which cannot be easily met by any average high school student, a boy who cannot make a reasonable amount of scholastic work has no right to represent his school on the gridiron, Henderson believes.

PLAY BEAVER ON THANKSGIVING

RETURN GAME SCHEDULED FOR THANKSGIVING AFTER-NOON—TIE FIRST GAME

After much arrangement a return game with Beaver has finally been scheduled on Thanksgiving Day, according to Coach Fred Holderman, and it is hoped that one team or the other will be able to break the 0 to 0 deadlock that resulted in the last meeting of the two teams.

Beaver has an excellent team according to spectators of the first meeting of these two teams. Not only do they have a pair of the fastest halfbacks played against this season, but they have one of the flashiest right ends ever seen in action on a Beaver team.

It was feared at first that the Ranger schedule would not permit a return game, but this has finally been arranged. It was also thought that the Thanksgiving game would be played away from home but this trip has also been eliminated.

A large crowd is expected down from Beaver and it is hoped that Perryton rooters and supporters will be on hand to help put the fighting spirit in the Ranger team.

SCHEDULE FINAL CONFERENCE RUN

INTERDISTRICT GAMES BEING ARRANGED BY HEAD OF INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

Austin, Texas, Nov. 17—Immediately following Thanksgiving the Interscholastic League Bureau of the University of Texas will begin arranging the inter-district high school football games.

According to Roy B. Henderson, athletic director, it is likely that in conference A, District No. 1 will play District No. 2, the winner meeting District No. 3, and so on through. Although no arrangements have been made, it is likely that the conference B districts will be paired in the following order: Districts Nos. 1 and 2; 3 and 7; 4 and 5; 6 and 10; 8 and 12; 9 and 13; 14 and 15; 11 and 16.

PROPER SETTING NECESSARY FOR THANKSGIVING AFFAIRS

Remembering the background on which this first of our purely American holidays is built, the hostess plans to have as much good cheer as good cooking. She starts off right by having the proper setting. The table decorations, for instance, are simple fruits and vegetables instead of the customary flowers. For the centerpiece a huge pumpkin may be used, banked around with polished apples, autumn leaves and nuts. At each place there may be a scooped out apple filled with shelled nuts, or perhaps just a lighted candle, if the children can be induced to be careful. Sometimes a great yellow paper pumpkin is used for a centerpiece, and it is filled with favors for the guests. Green and orange ribbons attached to the favors reach out across the table and end under the service plate.

True to the traditions of the day, the hostess brings forth all her finest and most cherished silver and chinaware. For this is a great day indeed to be celebrated as the jolly old-fashioned affair. It is the one time of the year when everyone likes to linger at the table, browsing in mellow lanes on memory, reminiscing fondly until the last candle has flickered and died.

According to one authority, Thanksgiving is not Thanksgiving at all if the pie is lacking. Lillian Eichler in her book "The Customs of Mankind," quotes the following description of mince pie:

The true mince pie should be an inch thick, with a thin, flaky crust tinted by its imprisoned juices which threaten to break through. Around its edges must be a slight crinkle made by the tines of a fork, and in its top a hole here and there from the stroke of a knife to let the steam out. This steam, once known, can never be forgotten.

It typifies the joyous, generous Thanksgiving spirit, that steaming mince pie!

WIRELESS POWER.
BIG BUSINESS IS BIG.
DON'T PUSH LABOR.
BIGGEST JAIL IN WORLD.

It has been suggested here occasionally during several years past that a solution of the flying problem would eventually include wireless transmission of power. What men can imagine, they can do when imaginations run on same lines.

Electric waves are power and can be sent without wires. It is not too much to hope that power generated at one place on the earth will be sent without wires to another place, or sent to machines flying in the air.

Latest, most important news is that Marconi, speaking cautiously as usual, suggests the possibilities of power transmission without wires as a scientific possibility, not a mere hope. There could be no greater practical scientific achievement.

Reports from our big business proves that it really is big. No wonder Europe envies us. While doubting Thomases ask, "What do you think of the business outlook?" reports of great companies answer the question.

In the first nine months of this year General Motors earned more than $149,000,000, and the big United States Steel Company more than $145,000,000.

It is interesting to see one of the automobile organizations making bigger profits than United States Steel, biggest industrial organization in the world.

In nine months United States Steel earned more than $13 a share on five hundred millions of common stock. That was once called "thin air," it wasn't even "water." Now with earnings "put back" it represents no one knows how much real wealth.

The important thing, according to Stalin, Russian boss, is for Russia to get control of "reactionary labor unions." He means especially the American Federation of Labor.

American capitalists should realize that the American Federation of Labor is a great bulwark of conservatism, and not try to push it in the direction of Bolshevism by any gloating over the fact that organized labor power is not what it once was.

Chicago attacks one big problem in a big way, building the 'largest, best jail in the world.' The cost, with a court house in front to help fill the jail, will be seven and a half millions. Rooms for fourteen criminal courts will be built with high ceilings, and back of the court the big jail for the modern crime army.

In view of jail breaking and the unusual energy of criminals, would, n't it be a good idea to let jailers wear gas masks, and install in corridors and in the main office valves, that when opened, would flood the jail with some convincing gas of the mustard type? Nothing to kill or permanently injure the convicts, of course, but strong enough to take their minds off any jail breaking plan.

Forty odd years ago, Edison, now eight-four, who personally superintending the installation of a small electric lighting plant in "Harry Hill's," on Houston Street, New York, where John L. Sullivan used to box.

He probably did not think that he would live to see electric light and power develop into a business of seven thousand five hundred millions of dollars.

And that is only the beginning. Insull in Chicago, Williams in New York, and the great electric companies on the Pacific coast are constructing power plants of hundreds of thousands of horsepower.

All the goblins in the world seem-

My readers doubtless feel that, all has been said about the national morning beverage, that can be said. There is an old admonition, I recall distinctly—"If you can't say anything good, say nothing." Discussing my old friend, I shall mention only the virtues.

Who has not found relief from distressing headaches in the amber cup—especially on extended journeys? Ask the soldier on the strenuous march, or after the hard fought battle; ask the laborer in whatever his endeavor is expended; ask the excursionist, the vacationist on his camping trip, if coffee isn't a genuine blessing undisputed.

Most everybody knows that caffeine is the alkaloid of coffee—a heart, and nerve stimulant of exceedingly dependable action. The physician prescribes caffeine with absolute confidence, in neuralgia conditions, to offset the depressing influence of more powerful pain-relievers; there is no more reliable drug.

People that have high blood pressures from other causes, should always proceed under the advice of the capable physician; here, coffee may be prohibited; but, that coffee is a cause of high blood pressure, I cannot believe; if it were, there would be nothing easier to cure than the tension produced by the drug—simply by abandoning the cause. I do not believe there is a "coffee habit" any more than I believe in a milk habit, or a meat habit, or a bread habit.

Coffee for breakfast only, is a good rule for users. One cup is quite sufficient for the adult. Children do not need stimulants. Mild, black coffee is easier for the stomach than when creamed and sugared.

MAIL RECEIVES LETTER FROM NELLIE M. PERRY

The Herald is in receipt of a very interesting letter written by Nellie Perry, 356 Singer Avenue, Astoria, Oregon, in which she states she missed a copy of the Herald and says that she is sure she missed a new Chamber of Commerce enterprise, the finding of the Ochiltree gusher or something really thrilling.

"Really we do enjoy your good paper," she continues, "and now especially when so far from home. I can only wait to read it."

New York has been making it quite ridiculous over Queen Mah-Roat. The people seem to be celebrity mad. Mayor Walker is kept busy with social affairs, receiving royalties and stars of various kinds and attending all the ball games. The New York World wisely suggests that there ought to be two mayors, one to attend to the business and the other to attend to the social life.

The subway system here is most interesting, awe-inspiring and wonderful. It expresses me more than anything except the crowds of people, and the crowds in the subway are worse than the crowds on Fifth Avenue during a parade. A football player has the best of surviving but he needs to know all the tactics of the game. Once you get a seat or find a way to hang on to, it is one succession of crashes and explosions, and an awful deafness striking your ears as the train plunges along under East river, air close and horrid flickering electric lights.

"A whizz and a bang and there you are, that is if you know enough to get off at the right station. It is my boast that I can find my way to the public library and to Woolworth's popular 10 cent store and get home again intact but more extensive trips are quite beyond me unless personally conducted."

"With kindest regards to yourself and Mrs. Stewart, in which Louise and Harriet join."

Cordially yours,
Nellie M. Perry

GAMES ADD MUCH FUN TO THANKSGIVING DINNER

At the first Thanksgiving the Indians entertained with weird dancing pantomime, feats of skill. The others, according to Edward Winslow "among other recreations—exercised our arms." For three days they feasted and made merry, and somehow the spirit of jollity has hovered about the holiday ever since.

An old Thanksgiving game is called the cranberry contest. A large bowl of cranberries is placed on the floor and around it are seated from four to ten contestants. Each one is supplied with a spool of thread and a needle. At a given signal they thread the needle and begin to string the cranberries into a necklace. At the end of three minutes the one who has made the longest necklace is awarded the prize.

The corn game is very old, but it is always popular. Five ears of corn are hidden in the room, and the guests begin to search for them.

The five to find the hidden ears are the contestants in the game; the losers look on. Then at a given signal remove the kernels from the corn and drop them in a bowl which has been placed on the floor for that purpose. The one who removes all the kernels in the shortest time wins.

In the old-fashioned pumpkin race always a favorite, small pumpkins are rolled over a short distance with a spoon. The smaller the spoons the greater the fun. The pumpkins roll this way and that out of line, and must be coaxed back again, but not with the hands.

THANKSGIVING— THEN AND NOW!

In these days of rush and rustle, the advent of Thanksgiving serves most of all to remind us of what wondrous changes time has wrought. The Thanksgivings of our fathers and those of today are no more alike than the minuet and the fox trot, the dances that well typify the era of the present and the past. About the only thing left to us from out of the old days is the Thanksgiving turkey, and even this bird is not now held sacred and necessary for this festival.

The very mention of the word Thanksgiving brings to the mind a picture that modern conditions have turned to the wall. It is a picture of the time when life was simple in its pleasures and robust in its strength; when people were really folks; when the race of rivalry of life did not extend their office hours over the entire day. That state of things has now passed away. It has followed in the wake and the trail of the pioneers and the other figures of the American national life that was but is not.

In the old days there were tippets and mitt'ns, things that hang in memory's closet on the same nail as the high stock, men's shawls and daguerotypes. Gone are the marvelous tippets that went round and round the neck until a person was swathed like a mummy of ancient Egypt. Gone, too, are the mitt'ns, knit at home in colors of sunset and sunrise blue, those cozy ancestors of gloves. As for the bootjack, in these days of luxury and ready-made shoes it is as unknown as any creature of the prehistoric age.

No longer does Thanksgiving bring the real mince pie, that culinary triumph of every well-regulated household, with its wonderful fruity flavor, that cunningly combined the qualities of solidity and crispness, a pie that even if dangerous to health made a danger well worth facing and putting down. Compared with the bakery-built substitute of today the mince pie of those days was a vintage pie as far above its modern rival as a vintage wine is above the grocery wine for cooking use. Its existence was a splendid testimonial to the physical traits of the men and women of the era in which it flourished.

Even the plum pudding, that carnival of richness, is disappearing from the stage. It is giving way to ice cream, that mollycoddle of digestion that invites to slow eating and deliberate enjoyment.

The Thanksgiving stage is now set with new scenes and new characters. There is the cabaret and terrapin, and football and the theater. There is the social function in place of the family festival; and in the evening hours the elaborate entertainment in the gilded ballroom, instead of the homely dance to the strains of the fiddle and the bow and the ministrations of the merry, squeaking fiddler. Truly, the coming of this holiday and its observation well measures the distance that the nation has gone from its life and its habits in the days when Thanksgiving day was young.

GETTING HOGS READY TO SHIP TO MARKET

Hogs ready for market should be assembled a sufficient length of time prior to the date of shipment to allow them to become rested. Do not crowd into small pens or houses or feed heavy rations. If they are to be driven to the loading point, do not rush them on the way. Where they are hauled it is important that not too many be crowded into the truck or wagon. Loading hogs after a heavy feed is injurious to them. There is nothing to be gained by forced feeding just before shipping. Crowding too many hogs in a car is likely to result in a number of them dying in transit. Hogs are often loaded in cars containing sharp pieces of broken timber, nails sticking out of boards, and in which the flooring is covered with mud and rubbish. As a result many of the animals reach the yards badly crippled, the injuries commonly involving the hind quarters, thus lowering the quality of the most valuable cuts—the hams. Steps should be taken to remedy such conditions before loading.

COW CHEMISTRY

If the heavy milking cow does not get sufficient calcium (lime) in her feed she will take it from the reserve supply in her bones in order to put it into the milk. This drain on the cow's body has a serious effect on her health, and ultimately reduces her capacity for milk production and the bringing forth of normal, well developed offspring.

The assimilation of calcium from such calcium compounds as ground rock phosphate, ground limestone, and bone meal has been found to be much lower than that from either alfalfa or timothy hay.

If the diet of the milking cow contains sufficient assimilable calcium but not enough phosphorus, she will at first take phosphorus from her soft tissues to put into the milk. This supply, however, is soon used up and the cow begins to take phosphorus from her bones. The chemical composition of the bones being not easily changed, when phosphorus is taken from them calcium comes along with it in the proportion of two parts by weight to one of phosphorus. Calcium coming from the bones in this way and not used for milk secretion is lost in the manure. Thus a cow may lose calcium from her body on account of a shortage of phosphorus in her diet.

BETTER BREAD FROM HARD WHEAT KERNELS

That hard, vitreous kernels of wheat have superior qualities for bread making when compared with the starchy grains of the same class of wheat is indicated by a series of tests recently made by J. H. Shollenberger and D. A. Coleman of the United States Department of Agriculture. This belief was recognized when the official United States grain standards were promulgated, and the percentage of hard and vitreous kernels was taken as the basis for establishing subclasses for the hard red spring, hard red winter, durum, and white wheat classes.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas produces more than one-fifth of all the natural gas gasoline made in the United States.

Texas has the largest natural gas well in the world.

Texas produces about one hundred billion cubic feet of natural gas a year which is about one-tenth of all the natural gas produced in the United States.

Texas now leads all the states in production of petroleum. California is second.

Texas farm crops and Texas manufactured products are valued at approximately one billion dollars a year.

SELECTING THE TURKEY FOR THANKSGIVING DINNER

When you select your turkey for Thanksgiving, one of the chief considerations is the amount and quality of the flesh of the body, especially on the breast, back and hips. Plenty of flesh means plenty of meat for carving, and there should be also a generous amount of fat to insure a moist, tender turkey. The French always expose a turkey in the market with the back up so the housewife can better observe how plump the bird is.

Feeling the end of the breast or keel bone and examining the spurs or the feet may give some idea of the age of the turkey, but these tests are not infallible so far as picking out a good tender turkey is concerned. Almost any turkey can be cooked so that it is tender, but it is, of course, easier to roast a young bird. The best method of cooking a turkey is that by which the flesh is kept moist and juicy. Cooking it in a covered roaster with a little water in the bottom in a carefully regulated oven will prevent it from drying out. The time for cooking varies according to the size of the turkey and its age.

The custom of having a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner dates back to the early New England settlers, who found wild turkeys and highly recommended by the Indians. Domestic turkeys are at their prime in the fall and their size makes them suitable for serving to a good many people, so that the custom, for practical reasons, has continued down to the present.

PLAINVIEW HARDWARE RE-PAINTING STORE FRONT

The Plainview Hardware and Furniture company greatly improved the looks of the store front last week by having the woodwork around the plate glass windows repainted.

YEAR OF 1621 WAS DATE OF FIRST THANKSGIVING

Reaffirming Washington's original intention, Abraham Lincoln in 1860 appointed a national Thanksgiving day to be observed the last Thursday in November. And so it has remained ever since.

The first Thanksgiving was unquestionably held in the winter of 1621, and was a simple expression of gratitude. There are some writers however, who attribute the establishing of Thanksgiving to a different cause. It seems to be a common notion that "to the mind of the Puritan Christmas smelled to heaven of idolatry," and that the Puritans abolished Christmas as a hateful relic of paganism, establishing Thanksgiving as a purely Puritan festival to take its place.

Wanting a day to replace Christmas, says one writer, the Puritans "appointed every year some day in Autumn, generally late in November, as a day of solemn prayer and thanksgiving for the blessings of the year, and especially the bounties of the harvest."

According to this belief, Thanksgiving was simply a day of rejoicing and family reunion in November instead of December. The Puritans at turkey, Indian pudding and pumpkin pie instead of the "superstitious meats and plum pudding" of Christmas time. But, we are told, the influx of Roman Catholics and Episcopalians brought Christmas and its customs into vogue again, and both holidays were accepted.

The distaste of the Puritans for Christmas may very possibly have helped to establish Thanksgiving as a national holiday. Years earlier in England the Puritans prevailed upon Parliament to prohibit the extremely elaborate Christmas festivities then in vogue. Christmas was declared a day of fast and festivities were prohibited by law. But we can be absolutely certain that Thanksgiving has its true inception in 1621, when fifty-five grateful men and women, surrounded by ninety painted Indians, gave thanks for the corn and fowl upon which they feasted.

FARMERS HAVE BIG YEAR

OF AGRICULTURAL
ISSUED BY GOV.
SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Of extensive discussion of the price of cotton in the Semi-Weekly Farm News, it is advisable to issue the facts and figures. These cover all crops and are based on the United States Government statistics as far as such statistics have been available.

Government estimates show that the total value of Texas crops will exceed the total of last year by more than $28,000,000, an increase of more than 22 1-2 per cent. The fact that the value of Texas crops for the year of 1925 will be less than that of 1924 by more than $28,000,000, an increase of more than 7 per cent of the value of the 1925 cotton crop.

Unusually favorable season, however, been responsible for gains in the value of crops. Prices are slightly above the line but production is such as 250 per cent above.

Texas is producing 198,000 bales of cotton with a total value of $100,000,000 at the figure fixed by the United States Department of Agriculture for the Texas price to farmers. The corn crop of only 26,000,000 bushels at a farmer's average Government estimate for 1925 brought only $29,000,000.

In manner grain sorghums, wheat, barley, hay and some other crops in excess of the 1925 crop.

Government's estimate of the total value of all Texas crops based upon the total of the 1924 crop was $799,000,000. This figure is arrived at by adding the 1925 crop to the 1924 crop.

Government keeps figures on the principal crops of the year and on each fifth year of all crops is taken.

The ratio of the value of major crops to the total on census years is applied in arriving at a grand total for years when a census is not taken.

The estimates of this year's major crops will indicate a grand total of more than $210,000,000 for Texas. Such an estimate is considered fully justified this year in view of Texas movement of about 55,000 carloads of truck products.

Estimates on the major crops for 1926 and 1925 are given in parallel columns below—value in table No. 1 and production in table No. 2. All figures are Government figures, except the "value" figures for 1926. The Government has made no estimate of values as yet, but these values are computed from "average prices paid producers in Texas" in the latest number of Crops and Markets, a publication of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Comparative estimates follow:

LIVESTOCK CO-OPS INCREASE PROFITS FOR SHIPPERS

Wherever co-operative livestock associations have been operated efficiently in communities where there was a genuine need for them, an appreciable saving to the farmers has resulted. The profit that formerly went to the local shipper now goes to the farmer, who receives for his stock the actual market price, less the cost of marketing.

The principal requisites to the success of co-operative livestock shipping associations are a competent manager, good business methods, and loyalty on the part of members. It is important that the manager be well known in the community and experienced in marketing livestock, and that the officers, particularly the board of directors, keep informed at all times as to financial affairs of the association.

FAR AWAY SIAM HAS DAY OF THANKSGIVING

In England, as in other countries, it was customary to hold special days of fastings and prayer in times of danger, of famine, of pestilence. When the danger was past, when there again was plenty of food, plenty of water, no ravaging diseases, feasts and celebrations would be held by the people. These celebrations were fundamentally thanksgiving festivals. A special day of thanksgiving was proclaimed by Oliver Cromwell at the time of the defeat of the Spanish Armada. Another day of thanksgiving was declared on the day that the famous gunpowder plot was discovered.

Among the Siamese there is an old festival known as the "Swing festival," which is similar to our own thanksgiving. Its purpose is to show gratitude for the richness of the land, the happiness of the people. In this festival the much-quoted sacred white elephant of Siam assumes a prominent part. But although there have been many days of thanksgiving, and although many festivals like our own November Holiday exist in many parts of the world, America was the first nation definitely to set apart one day in each twelfth month for the sole purpose of rejoicing in the good things of life and "giving God thanks."

All of us know the appalling hardships that the first settlers of America were forced to endure. A handful of homesick men and women in a strange, bleak country. Indians everywhere, food scarce and home across many miles of ocean. No home here, for they could not return to the land from whose intolerance they had fled.

In the first year, forty-six of the one hundred and one white people who settled in Plymouth died and were buried on the bluff overlooking the landing. But in the autumn of 1621 the remaining men of Plymouth gathered in a wonderful crop from the twenty acres of corn and six acres of barley and peas they had planted. And the cold weather brought plenty of game into the harbor. Plenty of food—and a great new hope in the hearts of the wanderers.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

A. G. Hollander, advertising manager of the Evansville (Indiana) Courier and Journal, says:

THAT a newspaper is the history for one day of the world in which we live, and with which we are consequently more concerned than with those which have passed away and exist only in remembrance.

THAT the careful reader of a few good newspapers can learn more in a year than most scholars do in their libraries.

THAT a newspaper is either good or evil according to the character of those who direct it. It is a mill that grinds all that is put into its hopper; fill the hopper with poisoned grain and it will grind it to meal, but there is death in the bread.

OF ALL THE AMUSEMENTS THAT CAN POSSIBLY BE IMAGINED FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY, THERE IS NOTHING LIKE READING AN ENTERTAINING NEWSPAPER. IT RELIEVES THE HOME OF ITS DULLNESS OR SAMENESS AND TRANSPORTS THEM TO A GAY-ER AND LIVELIER AND MORE DIVERSIFIED AND INTERESTING SCENE.

WE BEG PARDON!

In the last issue of the Herald it was stated in the real estate transfer column that the title to the ground upon which the Union Chapel is to build was made to C. I. Newman.

Mr. Newman states that the title was made to three trustees of the Union Chapel association and their successors, as community property, for religious purposes only. The trustees are John P. Bollinger, Everett Trollinger, and C. I. Newman.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

I DON'T KNOW

The three words in any language hardest for the average person to say are:

"I don't know."

If you doubt this observe the distinguished foreign visitors who arrive to investigate our fair land.

At the pier they are interviewed.

They answer questions on religion, politics, art, morals, music, history, literature, biology, philosophy, clothes and the younger generation without batting an eye.

They proclaim with the gravity of a Delphic Oracle undisturbed in the slightest by the evident fact that they don't know what they are talking about.

The late Joseph Conrad, the writer of sea stories, is the one refreshing exception in recent memory. When pried with questions requiring an omniscient mind to answer, he simply stated: "I am a novelist and of course lay no claim to authority on such subjects."

Consider also the octogenarians, septuagenarians and centenarians who fill the papers with absurd secrets for long life.

One old woman says smoking a corncob pipe did it; another says scrubbing floors was responsible. One man says riding a horse gave him his longevity; another never getting more than a few hours' sleep.

After a while the truth begins to dawn that they know no more about it than anyone else, but they can't admit it.

The old negro who said the secret of his long life was "Because I was born so far back," gave as valuable and a much more honest answer than most old people who divulge the secret of their longevity.

Also consider the distinguished fellow citizen, the specialists who have become famous in a single line, the inventors, automobile manufacturers, millionaires and novelists who give oracular and worthless opinions on education, history and religion, whether they have ever given them any study or not.

Why is it that so few people are able to admit the self-evident fact that they don't know.

Having time to think it over I am able to admit that I don't know.

But, if some day a reporter pulls out a pencil and interviews me suddenly on the subject undoubtedly I will be able to give a number of plausible, fine-sounding answers.

God of Hosts be with us yet, Lest we forget, Lest we forget," as it is examination week. We are hoping that we make a better showing for this six weeks work than we did the first six weeks.

JUNIOR NOTES

The history examination which was to be given on Monday was put off until Thursday on account of Dr. Dutton's lectures.

The first year Spanish class is taking some very interesting work. They made place cards for their room last week, they are also keeping scrap books.

Miss Mildred Francis has been ill for a few days. The Junior class hopes she will be back soon.

Mr. I. S. Bradshaw visited the tenth grade History class Monday morning.

9TH GRADE ECHOES

Many of the Sophomores have been burning the midnight oil this week because of the fact that our notebooks must be turned in.

During an algebra class this week Mr. Carver was trying to bring out the point that to make two numbers equal you must add to the smaller so he said, "Now suppose Francis weighed 100 pounds and I weighed 145. How could we weigh the same. A silence came over the class, but this was soon broken by a certain member of the class who never fails to have something to say.

Eugene: "I know."
Mr. Carver: "How, Eugene?"
Eugene: "You would have to reduce."

The Agriculture classes have each spent several hours work in the project field picking cotton and have been successful in gathering enough to have a bale ginned. This work may not be altogether appreciated by all members of the two classes for some are unaccustomed to such a laborious task, but as "Variety is the spice of life" one should not "kick" at having to do a little physical labor in place of mental work.

In the first year Agriculture class there are two book cases being made, while in the second year class two library tables have been started. Such work requires time and pains. Everyone is invited to come and visit the shop room and see the work which is being done.

The members of the class have been putting in some overtime this week studying for six weeks examinations which come this week. We all hope to make some good grades.

EARLIEST SETTLERS HAD REAL FRIEND IN MASSASOIT

Governor Bradford gave directions that a day of thanksgiving be held on December 13, 1621, to give thanks for the great blessings that had been bestowed upon them. A feast was prepared including "as much fowle as with a little helpe beside, served the company almost a week." Friendly Massasoit, with his ninety Indian braves, was invited to the feast and they came in all their holiday paint and feathers. Of white men and women there were only fifty-five at this First Thanksgiving.

Although Thanksgiving did not then become a regular yearly festival, our own Thanksgiving, which we observe every November, is a direct legacy of that historic feast with the Indian. Just when Thanksgiving became a fixed annual festival in New England has not been definitely established.

On February 22, 1630, a great public Thanksgiving was held in Boston by the Bay Colony. It was in celebration of the safe arrival of the ships bringing food and friends from across the ocean.

As clearly as can be established, there were about twenty Thanksgiving days from 1630 to 1680—one every two or three years. In 1675 when the Indians attacked the settlers and engaged them in widely separated warfares there was no Thanksgiving. In 1742 there were two such festivals.

It was not until after the Revolution, when congress adopted the Constitution in 1789, that Thanksgiving was definitely established as a yearly day of festivity. Just before the congress adjourned one Boudinot moved that a day be recommended for universal thanksgiving. The motion was carried, and Washington appointed Thursday, November 26, as the "National Thanksgiving day."

BOX SUPPER WELL ATTENDED

The box supper at Cedar bluff school the 12th, was attended by most of the patrons of the district and a number of the young folks of Perryton. A nice program was given by the pupils. Miss Gertie Bryant received the cake for the most popular lady and Henry Richardson the socks as the ugliest boy. The teacher, Marguerite Beardsley thanks all for their interest and attendance.

WHAT IS DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Stamford—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to check a new form of "bootlegging" being practiced by unscrupulous hog dealers who are spreading hog cholera through their careless introduction of infected or exposed swine into West Texas and federal aid is being sought by the regional organization in the matter.

Graham—A novel storage system has solved the cotton problem for a farmer in this section. Asa Vaughn and sons of Wilbarger county are using a hay baler to put up their seed cotton as it is picked. Dispensing with the cost of ginning and storage, the cotton seed bales are to be held in Vaughn's barns during the present crisis, and will be released to the market at a later date. When ready for marketing, the cotton seed bales will be loaded and taken to a gin.

Fort Worth—The committee named by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to investigate the cotton situation in Texas went on record at its recent meeting here as endorsing the Texas Cotton Corporation to be organized with a $5,000,000 subscribed capital stock by a special cotton committee of the Texas Bankers Association in accordance with plans adopted by six Southern States for the retirement of 1,250,000 bales of Texas cotton. The committee also adopted a resolution relative to a plan for cotton acreage reduction in the state of Texas to an extent of not less than 25 per cent.

Ballinger—The More Feed, Food and Conservation campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to be launched at the Central West Texas District Convention of that organization which meets here Nov. 15. The movement for living at home and encouraging thrift through more livestock for West Texas farms involves a contest in which prizes aggregating $2,500 will be awarded by the regional chamber of commerce to farmers in its territory.

Plainview—A new addition to the Missouri hotel here to cost $5,200 has been planned by its proprietor to consist of ten rooms of brick and tile construction. The improvement program will make the Missouri Hotel a first rate structure, fireproof throughout.

Tulia—In line with the increasing business in the local postoffice, a second regular clerk has been added by the Tulia postmaster.

Robert Lee—Lights in this community are to be installed upon receipt of a transformer which was ordered some time ago.

Paint Rock—A new produce house has been opened up in this section. It will handle poultry, pecans, wool, mohair, furs and other products.

Big Lake—Conditional acceptance of a bid for the construction of a City Hall was made recently by city officials, and work upon the building is expected to start soon.

THANKSGIVING DISHES SAME THEN AS NOW

Pumpkin pie and turkey are associated with Thanksgiving because both of these palate-ticklers were headliners on the first Thanksgiving bill-of-fare. Cranberries also appeared, they having been gathered from the nearby marshes.

Thanksgiving is a time of great social activity. The Puritans invited Massasoit and his gang of ninety to the feast. The hostess today invites a houseful. Somehow one feels more strongly at this time of year than at any other time the urge to give, to share, to be hospitable.

Before the war between the states it was a popular custom for families to hold great reunions on Thanksgiving. The children came from school; the married sons and daughters came with their families; aunts, uncles, cousins, friends, everyone came to the great turkey-carving. During the war and for a time afterward this custom died out, but later was revived. Today many families, both in the cities and in the country, still observe this old custom of reunion on Thanksgiving day.

The custom of making up baskets of food for needy families originated early in the Eighteenth century and was started by a group of young women who determined to set aside one day of the year to be devoted to purposes of charity. They selected Thanksgiving as the most opportune time. Today this custom survives in certain sections of the country, but the charity at Christmas time has replaced it in many communities, especially in the cities where newspapers have regular Yuletide campaigns for Christmas charity funds.

Every hostess knows Thanksgiving good food is as important as good fun, and other considerations hold place to what the table has. A fowl of some kind is in and there is nothing like a pumpkin pie for Thanksgiving moshpere.
