BURN VICTIM — Frank Kierdorf, 56, nephew of a Detroit aid to teamsters union chief James R. Hoffa, lies on a hospital bed at Pontiac, Mich., in a critical condition, the result of burns which covered 85 per cent of his body. Police are investigating to determine if Kierdorg mght have been a torture victim. (AP Wirephoto)

New Mystery In Burning Of Teamster Agent

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — New mystery piled up today in the human-torch burning of an ex-convict business agent for the Teamsters Union. His ex-convict uncle, who swore revenge, has disappeared.

Herman Kierdorf, 63, was missing and sought on a warrant charging him with possessing a silencer for a pistol.

Herman had both sworn revenge for his nephew's burning and reported receiving a telephone threat of: "You'll be next."

Herman's nephew, Frank Kierdorf, 56, lay near death at a Pontiac hospital, his body burned nearly from head to foot.

Frank told authorities two gunmen he didn't know made a human torch of him Monday, and he was positive the torture-burning was in some way connected with union business. Frank was tossed from a car to the hospital grounds.

Herman disappeared Monday night after persuading Frank to gasp out his pain-racked story.

County Prosecutor Frederick Ziem said a briefcase Herman Kierdorf left at a neighbor's home contained a German pistol with a home-made silencer.

Two telephones and another weapon also were found in a sack left at the neighbor's by Herman, Ziem said. He said that Herman "wouldn't tell us anything."

Earlier, the uncle was quoted as saying: "I don't have any idea who did it, but I'm going to find out."

Police said he was last seen as he left St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Monday afternoon.

Alerts were sent to neighboring police departments.

Frank at first would only whisper through his burned lips that he was "John Doe of Washington, D.C." Identity finally was established through fingerprints. He apparently had dug his finger tips into his palms as flames seared him.

Both nephew and uncle have been reluctant witnesses before the Senate Rackets Committee in its probe of the Teamsters Union.

Frank Kierdorf said he was lured from his home and driven to a lonely woods where his sadistic captors poured an inflammable liquid on him and lit a match to him.

Kierdorf said the two men came to his house in nearby Flint late Sunday night and asked him to go with them on union organizing business, pulled a gun on him and took him in their car to the woods. They later dumped him on the grounds of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The attending physician, Dr. Norman F. Gehringer, indicated Kierdorf would live at least a few days, giving authorities a chance to question him further. The doctor explained that when patients survive the initial shock from severe burns, they generally live until complications set in.

He indicated Kierdorf's chances of survival are very poor.

Two investigators for the Senate Labor Practices Committee Walter Hansen and Sherman Wilse, waited in the hospital corridor.

"We're here on orders from Washington," Wilse said. "We want to find out the facts of the case and report to the committee. If it deals with labor and management, we are definitely interested."

Both Kierdorfs have long police records. In 1941, Frank and an accomplice robbed a collector for a coal company of several thousand dollars. He was convicted in 1942 and was sent to Southern Michigan Prison. He was paroled in 1945 and went to work for the Teamsters.

Along with his uncle, Frank was arrested in 1941 in connection with the $23,000 robbery of a Cleveland bank messenger, and he was questioned in a beer garden holdup in Youngstown, Ohio.

Herman first was arrested in 1919 on a charge of receiving $22,000 in stolen bonds. In 1932, he was convicted for impersonating a federal officer and served a year at Leavenworth. In 1935, he was charged with kidnaping a prominent Canadian brewer, John S. Labatt, but was acquitted. Six years later, he was sent to the Ohio penitentiary for the Cleveland bank job.

When he got out, he went to work for the Teamsters.

Another Try Set To Avert Allotment Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern congressmen figured today they probably will have only one more chance to try to avert a big cut next year in the cotton acreage allotment.

This last chance is a bill now pending in the House, an amended version of a farm bill passed recently by the Senate.

"I believe this is about the only farm bill we now have a chance of passing," said Rep. Thomas Abernethy (D-Miss), a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

He added that because of a snarl which developed in the House over the measure yesterday he isn't at all certain it will pass. The House took up the bill but a debate developed and it was put over until Wednesday.

The situation is that unless some legislation is passed this year the national cotton acreage allotment for 1959 will drop to about 14½ million acres, compared with the present allotment of 17½ million acres.

Cotton interests are fearful that if this happens the present surplus will drop to the point where there will be no acreage and marketing controls in 1960 and the sky would be the limit on plantings.

Both the House and Senate bills would fix a minimum cotton acreage allotment of 16 million acres, plus 310,000 acres to take care of minimum allotments.

Both bills have similar but not identical provisions to give farmers a choice of programs for 1959 and 1960.

Under the House bill the grower could choose between these two programs: (A)—his normal share of the acreage allotment and a price support of not less than 80 per cent of parity in 1959 and probably 75 per cent in 1960. (B)—an increase of up to 40 per cent in his acreage allotment (the increase to be determined by the secretary of agriculture) and price supports 15 points below that for the "A" farmers.

Price supports for the "A" farmers would be available through a purchase program, for the "B" farmers through loans.

The Senate bill gives the same choice except that "A" farmers would get 75 per cent of parity both years and the acreage increase for "B" farmers would be a flat 40 per cent.

After 1960, under the House bill, farmers would receive their regular acreage allotments and there would be no "A" and "B" choices.

Where the Senate bill provides that in 1961 and subsequent years the price supports for cotton would be the average of the market price for the preceding three years, the House bill provides that the secretary shall set the support level at between 90 per cent of parity and not less than 70 per cent in 1961 and not less than 65 per cent in 1962 and thereafter. But in no event, under the House bill, would the support level be under 30 cents a pound.

Price supports now are based on ½-inch middling cotton. The Senate bill would alter this to inch middling beginning in 1961, which would have the effect of dropping support prices on all grades. The House would use as the standard the average quality for the crop. This would cushion the reduction somewhat.

The House bill provides that in 1959 the Agriculture Department shall provide price supports for split grades, such as light and heavy spotted cotton, under both the purchase and loan programs. There was no such provision in the Senate bill.

Troops In Lebanon Are Boosted Again

By EDWIN SHANKE

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One thousand more U.S. troops arrived in Lebanon today. An American military spokesman said this completed the movement of troops assigned here.

There are now more than 14,000 U.S. soldiers and Marines here. The troops debarking from the transport, Gen. Geiger, included a hospital unit, signals and photos units and a graves registration team.

Gen. Fuad Shehab, Lebanon's army chief who was elected president of the nation last week as a compromise in a three-month rebellion, declared Monday withdrawal of U. S. troops was foremost among the national aims.

But President Camille Chamoun indicated his determination to keep the troops here until his term ends Sept. 23.

In his first pronouncement since he was elected last Thursday, Shehab indicated he intends to follow a policy of neutrality toward the big powers, friendship with Arab neighbors and unity and stability in Lebanon.

A U. S Embassy spokesman said American troops will leave when asked to do so by the duly constituted government.

Chamoun, the pro-Western President who asked Washington to send the troops three weeks ago, said, "I won't ask the Marines to leave." He has rejected rebel demands that he step aside early for Shehab.

Chamoun also said he would represent Lebanon at any summit conference to which Middle Eastern leaders are invited.

Leaders of the three-month-old rebellion against Chamoun say the now smouldering strife will flame anew if he tries to represent Lebanon at the summit or name one of his men as his delegate. The rebels — who also demand immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops — say Shehab should speak for Lebanon at any summit conference held before he becomes president.

Shehab said the national charter drawn up by all sects in this half-Christian, half-Moslem nation when the French left in 1943 "emphasizes Lebanon's independence and it is a clear Arab policy. Frankness in relations with our Arab brothers will be among the bases of the country's future foreign policy."

Chamoun's acceptance of the Eisenhower Doctrine had separated Lebanon from Arab forces led by U.A.R. President Nasser and was one cause of the revolt which led to the Marines' landing.

Chamoun spoke to newsmen just before meeting with Robert D. Murphy, President Eisenhower's troubleshooter. The rebels have been pleased that Murphy used his influence last week to have the presidential election held. Chamoun's supporters have been happy with the recent arrival of more U.S. troops here.

Plans Made For Annual Farm Tour

Plans were made in a meeting yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee for the annual agricultural farm tour here.

The committee set the date for the tour at Aug. 28, and Bill Jordan, chairman, made a number of sub-committee appointments to take care of details of the tour.

The tour will open at 8:30 a.m. that day at the stock barn in Towle Memorial Park and last all day. There will be a noon meal at the pavilion in the park, with a speaker scheduled. The committee will attempt to get civic clubs here to hold a joint meeting in conjunction with the luncheon.

The committee also briefly discussed a farmer-businessman supper which will be held at Dunn next week for farmers of the Dunn and China Grove areas. Definite night for the supper has not been set yet, but the committee will make final plans within the next few days through a sub-committee headed by Henry Burchett.

More Prices Hiked On Steel Products

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co. today increased the price of still more steel products, virtually completing the piecemeal increase in all products.

Bethlehem, the nation's second largest producer, said it was raising the prices, effective Wednesday, of hot rolled plates, structural shapes and sheet piling by about 3¼ per cent. Special alloy plates and high strength steel blades also are included in the latest revisions.

The third round of price increases comes on top of higher prices put into effect today by three more firms on bars, rods, wire and tubular items. Bethlehem; U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer; and Inland Steel, No. 8, announced these increases Monday.

They followed the lead set last week by Republic Steel, third-ranking producer, and other smaller firms.

For U. S. Steel it meant further abdication of its leadership role in price adjustments since World War II. Early last week Armco, No. 7, took the initiative by boosting prices on flat rolled products an average of $4.50 a ton.

U. S. Steel and Inland said increases, effective today, average about 3 per cent. Bethlehem did not announce any specific figures for its list, which also included carbon and alloy blooms, billets and slabs.

Products on which new prices have been posted in the two rounds of adjustments represent about 60 per cent of the industry's annual tonnage output. Observers generally anticipate higher prices will be announced soon on the remaining items.

Increases to date indicate an average boost of between $4.00 and $4.50 a ton. Prior to the increases the composite price of steel was estimated at about $155 a ton.

BOB McCORMICK

McCormick New Officer Of Chamber

Bob McCormick of McCormick & Sons Oil Co. last night was named second vice - president of the Chamber of Commerce here by the chamber board in its monthly meeting.

McCormick succeeds R. C. Patton in the post. Patton was chosen president of the chamber last month upon the resignation of Bob Taylor, who moved to Shreveport, La. First vice - president is Dr. Carl Dillaha.

At last night's meeting, the board approved Christmas program plans of the merchants committee after a report by J. W. Phillips, chairman. Approval was given to expenditure to repair all present Christmas decorations and to other plans, including a proposed treasure hunt and the Santa Claus program, which will be held this year for smaller children only.

There was also some discussion concerning the type program for the annual businessman - teacher appreciation banquet, which will be held sometime in September. The merchants committee will make plans for that banquet.

A report was made to the board by Ed Harbaugh, representative of the industrial committee, on a natural resources survey made here by a representative of the Bureau of Economic Geology for the University of Texas. Final report on the survey will not be complete until fall.

On request of Grady Elder, manager, the board voted to have an audit made of chamber books for the year ending last January. Lee Smyth was appointed auditor.

Patton made a report to the board on plans of the agriculture committee for the annual agricultural field tour late this month and for a farmer - businessman supper to be held next week at Dunn.

Racial Integration Hits Twin Barriers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Racial integration of public schools in the South is running up against the twin barriers of judicial delay and legislative defiance.

A court determination of how long integration can be delayed is in the making at St. Louis only one level below the nation's highest court. There the seven-judge 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is considering the legality of a 2½-year suspension of integration at one of the focal points of the whole far-flung integration dispute—Little Rock's Central High School. A ruling is expected before the schools open in the fall.

A still longer delay of seven years was granted by a U.S. district court judge in bringing the races together at schools in Virginia's Prince Edward County, which figured in the Supreme Court's 1954 integration ruling. State officials hailed the delay as realistic and gratifying, while attorneys for Negro children seeking admission to white schools pondered whether to appeal.

Enactment of segregation laws has continued apace in the South. The Southern School News, published by the Southern Education Reporting Service, disclosed today in Nashville, Tenn., that there have been 496 such enactments since the 1954 integration decree.

Seven states have resolved by legislation to close their public schools if integration is forced upon them. Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia passed such laws this year. Taking this anti-integration step earlier were Alabama, North and South Carolina and Georgia.

If these laws are carried out, any integration victory in federal courts might prove a hollow one. Another result very well could be untold confusion and a serious set back to public schooling.

Arkansas, Florida, Texas and Tennessee also have put new segregation laws of various types on the books.

The Southern School News reported that 777 Southern school districts have been desegregated. Only roughly three times this number — 2,122 — it said, remain segregated in Southern and border states.

City Budget Adopted, Water Extension Discussed, Public Housing Hearing Set

Employes of the city of Snyder will receive a small increase in pay starting Oct. 1, with next year's city budget.

The council voted unanimously to approve the budget on first reading of two ordinances concerning the budget last night.

Although a public hearing had been announced on the budget for 1958-59, no citizens appeared at the hearing to question any aspects of it.

The budget was approved slightly revised from previous figures the council had considered, but all changes were minor.

An across - the - board increase in pay to city employes is provided in the budget, although the pay increase is small, it will help bring city wages up to a point more in line with the cost of living, Harold Bennett, mayor said.

An increase in the salary of the city manager, Roy Dunlap, was also approved by the council last night. Dunlap's salary will be increased by $600 per year, making his total salary for next year $10,600.

"We believe that Dunlap is doing an excellent job, and deserves an increase in pay," Bennett said.

Total of next year's budget is $793,321, including revenues from taxes, water and sewer, police and miscellaneous incomes.

An increase in city employe retirement fund appropriations of from three per cent of the salary paid to five per cent had been considered, but was not approved. The city contribution, which is matched by the employes, remains three per cent.

Difference in the two figures is approximately $8,000 per year.

That saving will be used to add one mechanic's helper to the staff of the city motor maintenance department. The man's annual salary will be about $3,600. The remainder will be used to pay costs of handling a bond issue which is anticipated this fall sometime.

The council unanimously approved an ordinance adopting the budget for 1958-59, and another ordinance setting the tax rate for the city for this year at the same rate as for the past year. The ordinances require a second reading.

Councilmen stated last night that a new water extension bond issue will be necessary to meet needs of the growing city. Extensions will have to be made in many areas, and larger mains will have to be installed in parts of town. Already water pressure is low much of the time in many parts of town, Bennett said.

The council unanimously approved first reading of an ordinance which would close Thirty - sixth Street between Denison Avenue and El Paso Avenue. Request for the street closure was made by Colonial Hill Baptist Church, which owns the property on both sides of the street. A second reading of the ordinance will be necessary before it becomes effective.

The council voted to proceed with condemnation of easement right - of - way west of Snyder for a sewer line to serve the new junior high school to be built in southwest Snyder. The line will cross property owned by Seaborn Eicke. Negotiations have failed to secure right-of-way for the sewer line.

Russell Yorgesen and Fred Bullard were reappointed to two-year terms on the city planning and zoning commission. Other members of that commission are Tony Holcomb, Cecil Boren and Herman Trigg.

All except Yorgesen and Bullard

HEAR LITTLE ROCK INTEGRATION APPEAL—The Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals met in a special summer session at St. Louis to hear arguments in an appeal from a federal court order postponing for 2½ years integration in the Little Rock Central High School. The judges are, left to right: Martin D. Van Oosterhour, Orange City, Ia.; Harvey M. Johnson, Hastings, Neb.; John B. Sanborn, St. Paul; Chief Judge Archibald K. Gardner, Huron, S. D.; Joseph W. Woodrough, Omaha; Charles J. Vogel, Fargo, N. D.; and Martin C. Matthes, of St. Louis. (AP Wirephoto)

Integration Decision To Be Rapid

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Uncharted legal territory will be explored by the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in studying suspension of racial integration at Little Rock's Central High School.

The seven-judge court is expected to make a decision before the fall school term begins at Little Rock.

At issue is a June 21 order by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley of Arkansas granting a 2½-year suspension or cooling off period at the school where integration was enforced with federal troops during the last school year. The order was appealed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The big question before the appeals court is whether such a delay is legally permissible under the Supreme Court's order that segregation in public schools be ended with all deliberate speed. The question has not been considered previously.

Reserve Board Makes Move To Clamp Down On Credit

By JOHN H. AVERILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — In its first major move since the recession to clamp down on credit, the Federal Reserve Board raised margin requirements on stock purchases to 70 per cent, effective today.

This means anyone buying securities must put up enough cash to cover 70 per cent of the purchase price.

The board's action restores margin requirements to the level in effect from April 1955 to last Jan. 16, when the board slashed the margin to 50 per cent.

At that time, stock prices had declined sharply from the previous summer. The cut was designed to loosen credit as a means of fighting the recession.

Today's increase, predicted for weeks on Wall Street, comes in the wake of a stock rally that has set successive new highs for the year.

But a reserve board spokesman said the purpose of the increase was to prevent excessive use of credit and was not influenced by stock prices.

The announcement came after a day of vigorous trading which pushed stock prices to another new high for the year in Eastern markets.

Wall Street greeted the board's move with mixed feelings.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, said he didn't believe there was an excessive use of credit by margin customers of exchange members.

"Although we may differ with the Federal Reserve Board's evaluation of the need for increased margin," Funston said, "the new credit restriction will of course be observed meticulously by member firms."

Warm support of the move came from a spokesman for Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, the nation's biggest brokerage house. He said: "The hike is a good thing. Normally, we are not in favor of constant regulation by government but the stock market has been going up pretty fast for some time now."

In contrast, President Edward T. McCormick of American Stock Exchange in New York, said: "The adoption of a higher margin requirement under present circumstances is unfortunate and uncalled for."

Arguments On Bowles Case Going

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP) — Arguments began today in the Bryant Bowles Jr. murder trial, enlivened by a slapping incident yesterday.

Dist. Judge H. L. Coe first will charge the jury. Bowles, founder of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, is on trial in the shotgun slaying of his brother-in-law, James Earl Harvey, 35, at Loeb, last May.

Mrs. Bowles, sister of the slain man, testified earlier in the trial that Harvey slapped her during a quarrel the day before he was shot.

A witness, J. E. Roberts, was on the stand when Joe Goodwin, Beaumont defense lawyer, stepped up and told Roberts: "Stand up and slap me about as hard as you think Harvey slapped Mrs. Bowles."

Roberts struck Goodwin sharply on the left cheek.

"I'd say it was about that," Roberts said. "It was a fast slap. It wasn't a love pat."

Bowles testified he had a gun the afternoon of the shooting but didn't intend to kill Harvey.

Panel Has Questions On Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Petroleum Council has asked clarification of a request that it accept government control of its activities. It also objected to parts of the proposal.

The council is an industry advisory group appointed by the secretary of the interior.

It has operated for 12 years with an industry man as chairman.

Secretary of Interior Seaton has asked the group to accept a government co-chairman who would have equal authority with the industry chairman plus specific authority to end meetings he feels are being improperly used.

Chairman Walter Hallanan made public today the reply to Seaton, prepared by a council subcommittee consisting of Hines Baker and Howard Marshall.

The subcommittee said the proposal for a government co-chairman "leads to confusion as to what particular functions the chairman and co-chairman each performs."

It also objected to Seaton's proposals for a government co-chairman of all council committees and certain subcommittees, and for government formulation of agenda for all council and committee meetings.

Education Bill Is Ready For Senate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 1½-billion-dollar education bill to establish federal college scholarships and provide other school aid today.

Approved by a 10-2 vote of the Senate Labor Committee yesterday, it was ready for action today by the Senate Democratic Policy Committee. That group decides the order in which legislation is to be considered.

Chairman Lister Hill (D-Ala) of the Labor Committee predicted the Senate would pass the bill later in the week.

Meanwhile, House sponsors of similar legislation agreed to some compromises in a meeting with Republican congressmen and administration officials to win needed votes in that body for the measure.

Rep. Carl Elliott (D-Ala), author of the House Bill, said he would offer a floor amendment to cut the number of college scholarships from 23,000 to 10,000 and base them solely on need. He said this would bring the measure in line with President Eisenhower's wishes.

The House bill was approved by the House Labor Committee July 2 but still is awaiting Rules Committee clearance.

The twin developments gave strong indication that an education bill will be sent to the President as one of the final major legislative acts of the 85th Congress.

A new call for such action came today from Arthur S. Flemming, new secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, which would handle the program.

He said the House bill, with changes suggested by Eisenhower, "offers an effective vehicle for those who want to substitute action for talk."

Contending that inaction will do irreparable damage, he added in a statement: "Some allege that this program is too much. Others allege it is too little. I feel that all who are interested in strengthening our education system should support it so that we will not, in the future, be accused of being too late."

Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo), a Labor Committee member, said there would be a floor fight over some provisions of the Senate Bill. But he, too, forecast that a bill would be passed.

The Senate version of the legislation contains more scholarships and more funds than Eisenhower asked. It also is larger than the House bill, which totaled $1,070,000,000 as it was approved in committee. Both measures call for four-year programs with a three-year tapering-off period.

Both bills carry 175 million dollars in college scholarship funds. This would provide about 23,000 four-year scholarships in each of the four years.

Both also include 260 million dollars in college student loan funds.

Both measures also contain large grant authorizations designed to improve the nation's teaching of science, mathematic and foreign languages.

NEW YORK (AP) — News of tighter margin rules knocked the stock market down today in the wake of its biggest advance in seven months.

Leading stocks were off fractions to a point or so in early afternoon.

Traders rushed to sell at the opening with huge blocks pushing stocks down from one to more than two points.

Aluminums, steels and chemicals were among the weaker spots but losses ran through all major divisions.

Trading was so heavy the ticker tape twice lagged behind in reporting transactions for a total of 25 minutes.

Late Monday, the Federal Reserve Board raised margin requirements on stock purchases to 70 per cent from 50 per cent. This action, effective today, means a buyer must put up 70 per cent of the purchase price and can borrow to finance only 30 per cent of the total cost.

Down a point or so were Magma Copper, Reynolds Metals, Jones & Laughlin, Lukens, U.S. Rubber, Eastern Air Lines and Allied Chemical.

Du Pont lost more than two. Ford, Penn-Texas, American Smelting and Eastman Kodak were small gainers.

U.S. government bonds were lower.

Two Plead Guilty To DWI Charges

Two men were assessed fines of $50, plus court costs of $23.50, three-day mandatory jail sentences and their driver's licenses were suspended for six months in county court yesterday when they pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated.

They were W. J. Garner and C. E. Pinkerton. Both had been arrested by city police here.

are relatively new members of the board, and councilmen believed that some experienced men should remain on the board. Yorgesen and Bullard have served five years on the board.

Carl Jones was appointed to serve on the city board of adjustment to replace R. A. (Skeet) Schooling, who has moved outside Snyder.

Other members of the board of adjustment are Gene Dulaney, Tommy Deffebach, Clyde Hall and Kenneth Wilson.

Councilmen voted to postpone the regular meeting for September from Sept. 1, Labor Day, to Sept. 8.

A public hearing on public housing for Snyder will be held Sept. 15.

Gene Dulaney, attorney, appeared before the council last night and requested the city to not issue propaganda in favor of public housing or urban renewal to the public.

Dulaney said he appeared before the council only as an interested tax payer.

Dulaney was assured by Bennett and members of the council that the city would not pass out information which contains propaganda in favor of public housing here.

The items to which Dulaney referred as propaganda were included in a lengthy brochure prepared by the city for information of members of the city council.

Youth Kills Brother With Shotgun Blast

STURGIS, Ky. (AP)—Clayburn Brooks recently heard noises near his home at night and loaded a shotgun for protection. He left the gun in a corner of his bedroom. His two sons, Truman, 7, and Vernon, 11, found the gun. Vernon picked it up and pulled the trigger. One blast killed Truman.

Lifted Wrong Sign

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Officer M. W. Hagler thought there was something familiar about the sign the three men were carrying up a midtown street. He called county police, who picked up the trio and the battered sign. It read "No Parking" and it came from the county police parking lot.

Iraq Chief Shows Western Leanings

By STAN CARTER

BAGHDAD (AP)—The head of the new government of Iraq in his first public statement on the Baghdad Pact gave strong indication Monday his regime is leaning toward withdrawal from the Western-sponsored alliance.

Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem, who led the revolt that dethroned and killed King Faisal, said in an interview that his government is giving careful study to the pact which U.A.R. President Nasser and the Soviet Union so often have assailed.

"The most important thing in this matter is friendship between Iraq and other states," Kassem declared. "This friendship is above any kind of pact or treaty."

The alliance with Britain, Iran, Pakistan and Turkey was "drawn up by a few people here in Iraq," he said.

"Though we have studied it, up until now we have been unable to get from those connected with the administration of the pact any details about the pact's function because these details were considered secret and are still secret to us," Kassem went on.

"We are studying, and then we will make our decision. But the decision won't be announced without previous contact with other members. We want everything to be settled in a friendly manner."

Kassem asserted there would be no interference by Nasser in Iraqi affairs.

Nor will Iraq interfere in the affairs of neighboring Jordan, Kassem continued. But he said he thinks a plebiscite should be held in Jordan to determine whether the people want King Hussein to keep his throne.

Kassem reiterated his government's oft-proclaimed desire to keep Iraqi oil flowing to Western Europe, in Iraq's interest as well as Europe's.

His government had restored diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, he added, because it feels it has the same right to such relations as Britain and the United States have.

Kassem was interviewed after a speech to a crowd of 2,000 in front of his headquarters in the Defense Ministry.

Congress May Adjourn Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said after a White House conference today he believes Congress can adjourn by the end of next week.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) said he was hopeful but also somewhat skeptical of adjournment by that date.

Saltonstall and Martin talked with newsmen following the weekly meeting of President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders.

Martin said no new legislation was discussed and the President has no additional proposals for Congress.

Martin said he believes Congress must, before it adjourns, enact an aid to education bill, a farm bill, a bill boosting the debt limit, bills extending the reciprocal trade act and financing the foreign aid program, and other legislation in a position to be disposed of quickly.

Saltonstall reported the Eisenhower administration is anxious also for action before adjournment on labor legislation and a bill to provide more federal judges.

Underground Awaits Decision On Order

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Greek underground EOKA waited today to see whether Turkish Cypriots and British officials would accept its offer to halt violence on this strife-ridden Mediterranean island.

Col. George Grivas, EOKA leader, announced in leaflets that he had ordered attacks on Britons and Turks stopped in an effort to end communal violence which has cost more than 100 lives since June 7.

It was the third cease-fire in two years proclaimed by Grivas, who has led the Greek underground's guerrilla war to unite Cyprus with Greece. The previous two truces were scrupulously observed.

To the man who says, "I'm from Missouri"...

Frankly, we don't expect you to take our word for it when we say the Swept-Wing 58 Dodge is unlike any car you have ever driven. We don't expect you to believe it rides smoother, corners better and handles easier just because we say so.

You want more than claims. You want proof. You want to be shown, to be convinced.

That's why we invite you to come in and Take the Wheel . . . Get the Swept-Wing feel. Take a '58 Dodge out on the road and compare it with any other car you have ever owned or driven.

Is it everything we say it is? Does it actually ride smoother? Corner better? Handle easier?

We'll leave the answers up to you. You be the judge. Just see and drive and compare the Swept-Wing 58 Dodge. That's all we ask.

Advance On New Books

"City of Spades," a novel by Colin MacInnes, will be published August 26 by Macmillan. The city is London, and the "Spades" (their own name for themselves) are some of the thousands of Africans and West Indians who have settled there since the war. The hero is Johnny Fortune, a Nigerian youth bursting with high spirits, curiosity, and sardonic wit. He and his English mentor, a young official supposed to be looking after the welfare of colonial students, each embarks, in the other's company, on a voyage of discovery: one explores the English London and the other enters the mysterious world of the "Spades." The Englishman's horizons are enlarged rapidly by acquaintance with the sinister Mr. Peter Pay Paul, Mr. Billy Whispers and his henchmen, Mr. Jimmy Cannibal and Mr. Ronson Lighter, and other more amiable characters such as calypso - singing Mr. Lord Alexander. A law student from Sierra Leone, Mr. Karl Marx Bo, sums up a point of view: "We Africans, you see, are not a people who deposit our days in a savings bank, like you do. Our notion is that the life is given us to be enjoyed." And the Londoner concludes: "I say thank goodness they've come into our midst."

Colin MacInnes is a young writer well known in England for short stories, articles, television and radio work, and two earlier novels. In "City of Spades," his first novel to be published in the U.S., he demonstrates perfect pitch for the sounds of the vivid city-within-a-city he describes.

"The Case of the Triple Twist," a new Macmillan Cock-Robin Mystery, is the 52nd detective novel by Christopher Bush to be published in this country. The date: August 26. Title as published in England: "The Case of the Treble Twist."

"The Romance of the Clipper Ships," selected from Sail by Basil Lubbock, is published this week by Macmillan. Illustrated in color with six paintings by Frank Mason, R.I., the book records the histories of 39 of the Greyhounds of the Seas - passenger and emigrant clipper ships, tea clippers, general traders, and American-built clippers—including the Cutty Sark, now preserved in dry dock in London, the Thermopylae, the Flying Cloud and Lightning, and others whose adventures, mishaps and high performances made history in their day, indexed.

"The Idiom of the People: English Traditional Verse," edited (with an Introduction and notes from the manuscripts of Cecil J. Sharp) by James Reeves, is on Macmillan's list for this month. This selection of 115 annotated sets of folk song lyrics has been culled from the material amassed by Cecil Sharp, famous collector of authentic country verse. As traditional English poetry, these songs are remarkable for their beauty, vigor and freshness. James Reeves is General Editor of The Poetry Bookshelf, published by Macmillan.

Though the inner nature of Zen is incapable of direct description, especially with regard to "enlightenment," the author approaches his subject from diverse angles in such a way that he succeeds in giving a vivid impression of it. Summer's Not Easy On Clothes

Summer, "when the living is easy," is actually the time when more care than ever is required for washables.

With an increased emphasis on outdoor living and varied activities, textile analysts have noted that clothing seems to pick up more stains and receive harder wear during summer months.

Stains resulting from catsup, mustard, berries and grass are difficult to remove once they've become "set" in the fabric, according to the textile experts. Such stain should be rinsed immediately. However, home treatment of troublesome stains is not recommended. There are many stains and conditions which require special treatment and improper handling can make the situation worse. Such difficult stains should be cared for by the professional laundryman.

Particularly during the summer, clothing should be laundered frequently and soon after wearing to avoid fabric damage or staining caused by perspiration.

This also holds true for wash-wear garments. Hand-washing at low temperatures is usually not enough to remove body oils, soil and perspiration from minimum-care articles. Thorough laundering is required, or these garments may become gray or discolored.

An added precaution given for summer care of clothes is to avoid prolonged exposure to the sun, which may fade and gradually weaken some fabrics. The best safeguard is to look for the Certified Washable Seal, which assures the shopper that the article has not only been tested for sun fading, but also for shrinkage, fabric strength, gas fading, crocking and perspiration damage, as well as general appearance after laundering.

Ferdinand would be happy with this season's handbags. Many come in a clear vinyl with a flurry of artificial flowers either inset or peeking through. With these clear handbags, it is wise to keep items you carry to an essential minimum and also keep the inside and outside sparkling clean.

State Fair To Show Fall Fashions

A fashion parade of fall creations will be presented in daily free home sewing style shows in the Women's Building during the 1958 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4-19.

The "Sewing Fashion Festival" will feature a variety of latest styles from the chemise to the blouson.

Six major home sewing firms will sponsor the 34 "Fashion Festival" shows that will be presented during the 16 days of the Fair.

A highlight will be the presentation of the top five winning garments of the 1958 Grand National Singer Sew-Off. The $25,000 first prize winner is a floral design silk brocade topped with a wide-collared overdress of pale green wool crepe.

Other winners include a colorful at-home costume of blue ribbed silk trousers, blouse and overskirt of blue and green printed sheer wool, an evening gown of green print ribbed silk with a green chiffon stole, a chemise of white peau de peche overlaid with polka dotted black net and a two piece middy dress of blue and green printed wool challis.

The six participating companies are Singer Sewing Machine Company and Talon Zippers and Advance, Butterick, McCall's and Simplicity patterns. Each will present a capsule show as an integral part of the entire production. The four pattern companies will preview the latest styles in street clothes, outdoor garments ensembles and after-five fashions. Talon Zippers will point up the use of zippers in the wide range of silhouettes now present on the fashion scene.

The "Sewing Fashion Festival" will present hints on selection and handling of fabrics, show what's new in fashion, and suggest ways to give home-sewn garments interesting and individual touches of style.

The grand finale will be a showing of evening wear, to be staged by all six sponsoring firms.

The free shows will be staged twice daily Monday through Friday at 2 and 4 p.m. in the auditorium of the Women's Building with additional showings on Saturdays and Sundays, except Sunday, Oct. 12.

Feet can be pretty. But most persons just give them a whisk when bathing and hide them in shoes. Keep toenails clean and trimmed straight across. Push cuticle back after bathing to keep it from becoming too hard and ugly. And give your feet a daily massage plus lotion. Then you won't be ashamed to let them show.

Air Explorers To Be Formed Tonight

A special meeting of boys 14 to 16 years old has been called for tonight for the purpose of organizing an Air Explorer squadron in Snyder.

The Air Explorers are a part of the Boy Scout movement, designed especially for senior age boys who are interested in aviation.

A boy need not already be a Boy Scout to join the new squadron.

The meeting will be at 7 o'clock tonight in the recreation room of the central fire station. The recreation room is on the second floor of the station.

Mark McLaughlin, senior Explorer advisor here, said the Rotary Club will sponsor the new unit.

Emphasis in the unit will be study of airplanes, aviation, and related subjects.

The Air Explorer program will be one of familiarization. "We don't pretend to be trying to train pilots," McLaughlin said, adding that the youths will study aviation.

The unit's program will include visits at Air Force installations and some practical experience in airplanes, in which the youths will be taken for rides occasionally.

Panama Lawyer Is Lucky In Shooting

PANAMA (AP)—Ruben Miro, who never made good on his promise to tell all he knew about the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon, survived a burst of gunfire from an unidentified automobile Monday night.

The 30-year-old lawyer sustained three wounds. His condition was described as not serious.

Miro and six other defendants were acquitted last December of complicity in the 1955 machine gun slaying of President Remon. Both before and during the trial he promised to tell all he knew about the murder but never made any revelations.

Clear Paths Seen Today For Symington, Williams

Two possibilities for the 1960 Democratic presidential race are expected to clear their local political hurdles in good style today as four states hold primary elections.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri are strong favorites to gain renomination in primaries in their states. Williams, the onetime boy wonder of Michigan politics, is seeking an unprecedented sixth term.

Other primaries are being held in West Virginia and Kansas. In all, voters in the four states will name candidates for 4 Senate seats, 41 House spots and 2 governorships.

Williams, who has done little campaigning, is opposed by William L. Johnson, a radio station operator at Ironwood. Another term at the statehouse would put Williams in a good position to bid for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 is he chooses.

Symington, former secretary of the Air Force, has nominal opposition from former Republican Lamar W. Dye of Kansas City and Lawrence L. Hastings of Aurora, a retired Veterans Administration employe. Symington, a darkhorse at the 1956 Democratic convention, is again being mentioned as a possible nominee in 1960.

Missouri Republicans will pick their candidate to oppose Symington from a group of four. Eleven House seats are up for nomination in the state.

Republican Sen. Charles E. Potter has no opposition in his primary race in Michigan. Williams' running mate, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, is opposed by Homer Martin, a former United Auto Workers president, in the Democratic senatorial primary. Eighteen House seats are up for nomination.

The fight for two senatorial berths highlights West Virginia's elections. The GOP incumbents, Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell, have no opposition.

But four Democrats have been locked in a tight struggle to win their party's nomination to run against Hoblitzell, who has been filling in for part of the term of the late Democratic Sen. Matthew Neely. The term has two more years.

Rep. Robert C. Byrd heads a list of three Democratic candidates for the right to oppose Revercomb for the six-year term. West Virginia also has to make nominations for six House seats.

In Kansas, Democratic Gov. George Docking is unopposed for renomination, but five Republicans are seeking the GOP nod to run in November. They include former Gov. Fred Hall, who was denied renomination in 1956, and Clyde Reed Jr., Parsons publisher who has strong organization baiking. Kansans will nominate for six House positions.

DURING SEPT. 9 STATE CONVENTION

Johnson, Rayburn May Show Power

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas native-son bigwigs in national Democratic Party affairs are expected to show their backstage power at the Sept. 9 state party convention in San Antonio.

Between the lines in post-county convention comments — which openly included unity talk—were indications that control of the San Antonio session will hinge on political deals and tradeouts involving leaders of the factions.

If this convention, which has great bearing on 1960 the next presidential election year, is like those in 1956, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn will be there or nearby to help hold Texas Democrats together in some semblance of unity.

Gov. Price Daniel, who had their help in organizing the September governor's convention in 1956 after they gave Texas a unified national convention delegation at the May presidential session, issued a statement yesterday calling for a united party.

So did Ralph Yarborough, who won the party nomination for U.S. Senator by a whopping majority in the first primary. There were also some fighting words in the statements by Daniel and Yarborough.

Yarborough took a crack at Daniel when he said that the party must ask its leaders: "Where were you in '52?" This was obviously aimed at Daniel's support of Eisenhower in 1952. In 1956, Daniel backed the party's presidential ticket and the State Democratic Executive committee subsequently has worked with the national committee.

Daniel said the county conventions indicate that his administration and the SDEC would be supported by at least a two-to-one vote at San Antonio and "it could be even better than that."

The governor said the DOT was "completely swamped" in the county conventions and that if it came to a test vote between his forces and the DOT, it would be five-to-one against the DOT.

Daniel thanked all who had worked "to bring about this large vote in favor of majority rule and cooperation among conservatives, moderates and all others who sincerely desire unity within our party against the Republicans and the DOT splinter group."

Yarborough said:

"Texas Democrats must unite to give the party of the people the greatest strength it has had in the councils of the nation in many years. x x x Regardless of whether they are termed conservative or liberal, real Democrats can convene and work out their differences honestly and intelligently, and the majority will rule. This is the strength of the Democratic Party."

Daniel had considerable help from friends of former Gov. Allan Shivers in winning the Travis County — Austin — convention. Shivers was named as a delegate. Yarborough was not. Other Counties friendly to him put him on their delegate lists.

It seems likely now that the national party leadership will want to give Daniel considerable say because of his first - primary, heavy majority victory for a second term, and that Yarborough's big vote will also be taken into full consideration. There will be much strength in a large group of Democrats who have been called liberal in the past, but who have refused to join up with the DOT in fighting Daniel and the state executive committee.

The national party leadership wants to have minimum difficulty in nailing down the May 1960 state convention which will name Texas' presidential electors, the national convention delegates, and which will nominate the national committeeman and woman from Texas.

There is a split now between Texans on the national committee. Committeewoman Mrs. R. D. (Frankie) Randolph of Houston is also state chairman of the labor-liberal DOT which has been fighting the state committee. Byron has called for dissolution of the DOT to bring about party unity in Texas.

Weakness Of States Made Aid Bigger

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee says weaknesses of the states themselves have been a major cause of the federal government's stepping into bigger aid programs over the years.

The Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee draws this conclusion from a three-year, nationwide study of grants-in-aid to the states.

Under the program, the federal government allocates funds for a wide range of projects provided the states put up money of their own too.

The subcommittee's findings are contained in a report adopted unanimously in closed session.

The report said federal grants for programs ranging from aid to state soldiers' homes to highway building and pullution control have climbed from 124 million dollars in 1925 to more than 5 billion for fiscal 1958.

The report said the grants generally have found favor throughout the nation.

But the subcommittee, headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain (D-NC), described as unsound the "idea that the federal government can vacate particular tax fields and thereby automatically create revenues for the states or municipalities."

"The transfer of federal grant programs is no panacea for the weaknesses of state and local government," the report said.

3 Californians To Try Suicide Trip

HAMBLE, England (AP) — Three young Californians said today they plan to sail a 10-ton racing boat across the Atlantic even though yachting veterans say it will be suicide.

They are Bill Ayres, 29, Garden Grove; and James May, 27, and Henry Burleson, 28, both of Glendale.

They are refitting their sloop, Lerche, and plan to start before the end of August.

The Lerche has a beam of only 8 feet and an over-all length of 41 feet. Seasoned yachtsmen said the Lerche and her crew will be lucky to get through the English Channel.

"We are looking for adventure and no one is going to stop us," said Ayres, a veteran merchant seaman.

Two Admit Attack On Iranian Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—Two teenaged girls Monday admitted being involved in a razor attack on the 16-year-old daughter of Iran's representative to the United Nations.

Patrolman Eugene Hatchett caught Shirley Sherard, 16, through a police artist's sketch of the two assailants.

She led police to Harriet Fleming, 19. Both girls are Negro.

Shirley told police she merely watched as the Fleming girl cut Frieda Abdoh, daughter of Djalal Abdoh, in Bronx Park last May 10.

The Abdoh girl's dress was slashed and the little finger of her right hand cut. She was accompanied by her 12-year-old sister Masty, who helped describe the assailants for police.

The Sherard girl was charged with juvenile delinquency because she was 15 at the time of the attack. The Fleming girl was held on a felonious assault charge.

Film Pioneer Hurt In Wreck At Cannes

CANNES, France (AP) — Jack L. Warner, pioneer American film tycoon, was seriously injured early today in a collision as he drove his sport car home from an all-night session at the Palm Beach Casino in Cannes.

Warner, 66, was taken to a hospital in Cannes with head injuries. The hospital reported he was in a coma.

Warner's auto in which he was driving alone, and a coal truck collided almost in front of the seaside villa of Prince Aly Khan. The sport car was badly damaged.

The accident occurred about five miles from Warner's home.

Close Look Given Steel Price Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department told Congress today it is giving extremely close scrutiny to recent steel price increases with a view to possible antitrust action.

Victor R. Hansen, chief of the department's antitrust division, testified at the start of Senate hearings on increases announced last week averaging about $4.50 a ton, or 3 per cent.

He said the department is concerned not only because of possible injurious effects on the economy but also because certain laws may have been violated.

The chronology of events leading up to the latest price boost, Hanse said, is getting close scrutiny for a number of reasons.

"In the first place," he told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, "it clearly shows that the steel companies 'march up the hill together' in raising prices.

"Secondly, the smaller companies look to U.S. Steel, if not to lead the parade, certainly to join it. If U.S. Steel doesn't join in the raising of prices, the smaller companies would have to back down."

Informal Agreement In Mexico Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP) — An informal agreement was reached early today to end a strike of Mexico's nationalized railroads that threatened to snowball into a Red-agitated general strike.

The agreement was made by Roberto Amoros, general manager of the railways; and Demetrio Vallejo, a dissident railway labor leader who called the wildcat strike Saturday night.

The Mexico Labor Department was expected to make the agreement formal. Vallejo said once this is done, rail service should get back to normal quickly.

Vellejo called out more than 100,000 rail workers to protest the arrest of union members trying to take control of the union.

Snyder Wins GPL Crown

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

Snyder's All-Stars wrapped up the Graduate Pony League district playoff with the Childress All-Stars in two straight games last night when Ruben Gonzales fired a two-hitter for a 6-2 Snyder victory before a near capacity crowd at Towle Park.

With last night's victory the locals qualified for the regional tournament to be held in San Antonio next week. Snyder had won the first game of the best two-out-of-three game series, 11-5, at Childress last Friday.

Gonzales possibly turned in his finest pitching performance of his career last night by holding the heavy-hitting Childress team to just two hits.

The curve-balling right hander retired Childress in order in five of the seven innings, missing only in the fourth and seventh innings of getting the Childress outfit down in succession.

Gonzales struck out seven and walked only one batsman. His pitching rival, Tommie Tucker, ace of the Childress staff, had control trouble, issuing seven walks as compared to six whiffs while giving up four hits.

All four of Snyder's hits figured in on the locals' run-making. Two big hits were delivered by Alex Cross and Gonzales, himself, in the sixth inning when Snyder broke a 2-2 deadlock.

Cross hit a clothes-line single to right center to drive in the tie-breaking run and then Gonzales followed up a few moments later with a bases loaded double that cleared the bases to insure the victory.

First baseman Franklin Moore, the hitting star of the series for the Snyder team, collected the other two hits off Tucker. Moore drove in Jesse Crawford, who had walked, with a double in the first inning to open the night's scoring.

Then in the third, Moore singled to load the bases afterwhich Ronnie Wylie drew a walk to force in Crawford, who had walked, for the second Snyder run, making it 2-0.

Moore, who had two-for-three last night, wound up with four-for-five for the series that included a pair of doubles.

Childress tied the score in the fourth inning with a balk sending the tying run across. Mike Cope walked with one away in the fourth to become the first Childress base-runner. Tony Merrell followed by hitting one back to Gonzales who elected to try for the force at second but his throw was late and all hands were safe.

Then Jimmy Holeman grounded a single to left field for the first Childress hit to load the bases. Cope scored when Don Meek forced Holeman at second and then came the balk that sent Merrell home with the tying run, making the score read 2-2.

An error opened the door to Snyder's winning rally in the sixth. First baseman Jimmy Winters dropped shortstop Hugh Frith's throw to let Wayne Berry get on. Wylie walked and after Eddie Watson whiffed, Cross came through with a clutch single to right to send Berry across for what proved to be the winning run.

Pinch-hitter John Weaver kept the rally alive by drawing a walk to load the bases and set the stage for Gonzales' long double to left center that scored Wylie, Cross and Weaver, putting the game virtually on ice.

Gonzales gave up a harmless double in the seventh to Holeman before striking out Winters for the final out.

LADY RINGER CHAMP—Mrs. James (Rachael) Rosser, above, although confined to a wheel chair the last month of the tournament, has been crowned champion of the annual Snyder Country Club Women's Ringer Tournament. Rachael suffered a broken ankle July 4 and the tournament didn't end until Aug. 1, but her lead in the tournament before the injury held up 'til the end. Keeping her company in above picture is "Wee Willie," the family's pet boxer. (Lee Watson photograph)

Mrs. Rosser Wins Despite Injury

Mrs. James (Rachael) Rosser became the first "wheelchair golf champion" in Snyder Country Club's history this summer when she won the club's annual Lady Ringer Tournament with a fascinating 35 score, four under ladies' par figures.

A fractured ankle sent Rachael to the wheelchair last July 4, more than three weeks before the tournament ended Aug. 1.

Before going any further, Rachael didn't post any of her scores in the tournament after suffering the broken ankel bone. But she had to sit it out in her wheelchair for the final 27 days of the tournament while the other tournament entries tried to catch up with her.

The tournament began last May and Rachael led with a 35 when the injury pushed her to the sidelines after the first two months of the three-month long tournament.

As aforementioned, her lead stood up 'til the tourney's end.

Rules of the Ringer Tournament are this:

"The ladies could play as often as they wished and they took their best score for each hole during the tournament and put them on one score card."

Rachael, incidentally, had played golf the day of her injury. After returning home following her round of golf, Rachael took the family's pet dog, "Wee Willie," a boxer, for a walk around the neighborhood.

As she had started back home with Wee Willie, she stopped along the way to view some little puppies in one of the neighbor's yard when Wee Willie spotted a "friendly" cat nearby.

The chain attached to the dog's collar had unnoticeably become wrapped around Rachael's ankle and when Wee Willie gave chase to the cat, he upended Rachael, causing the injury.

Rachael's leg will be in a cast for at least another two weeks.

Mrs. A. J. (Boots) Shaw won second place in the tournament with a 36. Other entries and their scores were: Mrs. Shanty (Lera) Hogan, 39; Mrs. Walker (Edith) Dabbs, 42; Mrs. Nolan (Opal) Von Roeder, 46; Mrs. Max (Mary) Dyer, 49; Mrs. Hollis (Virginia) Jones, 50; Mrs. Joe (Joyce) Williamson, 53; and Mrs. Edith McKinnon, 56.

Following is Mrs. Rosser's winning score-card:

Par	643	535	463—39
Mrs. Rosser	553	525	352—35

Venturi Wins Chicago Open By 1 Stroke

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—San Francisco's Ken Venturi, a professional of 20 months, carries his top swag of $9,000 from the Chicago Open into title defenses the next two weeks at Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Venturi, the leader all the way, squeaked to a one-stroke triumph Monday in the $50,000 Chicago Open which replaced the currently defunct Tam O'Shanter golf show in this precinct. Venturi now has earned more than $60,000 as a pro.

Venturi made two superb shots in his closing round of an 8-under-par 272 route performance at Gleneagles Country Club which beat out veterans Julius Boros and Jack Burke.

One was a 60-foot putt for a birdie three on the 390-yard 69th hole. This put Venturi nine under par with three holes to play and really was the back-breaker of the tourney, although Venturi closed with a two-over-par 72 after firing rounds of 65-67-68.

However, Venturi regarded a 40-foot pitching wedge shot to within two feet of the 71st pin for a par three the greatest stroke he had made in his life. It was indeed a pressure shot because the hot-pursuing Burke, playing in the same last threesome with Venturi, was on the green ahead of Ken with a cinch par.

REGISTRATION HITS 2,200 MARK

Neely Kicks Off Coaching Clinic

HOUSTON (AP)—Cagey Rice football Coach Jess Neely, who guided the Owls to the Southwest Conference title last year, kicked off the annual Texas High School Coaches Assn. meeting today with inside talk on his football philosophy.

Neely was the first speaker to lecture to the several thousand coaches here for the world's largest coaching school. The meet runs through Saturday.

Officials opened the registration booth after signing up some 2,220 coaches by closing time last night.

A total of more than 3,000 are expected to crack the old attendance record of 2,677 set in Dallas last year.

One record Dallas set which Houston will fail to meet is to register the organization's only woman member, Virginia Coulston, an elementary school coach at Lancaster. She notified officials she will be unable to attend.

Thus far the register includes representatives from Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico, California, Arizona, Oregon, Illinois, Florida, Mexico and Cuba.

Visitors hopped from one air-conditioned building to another to escape the 100-degree heat which baked the streets.

Neely was followed on the speakers stand today by David Nelson of the University of Delaware, an authority on the Wing-T formation to be exploited by both the North and South football teams in the All-Star game Saturday night.

Other speakers today included Bob Rogers of Texas A&M and Russell Walseth of the University of Colorado, basketball coaches. Jack Patterson of Baylor talked on track.

Meanwhile, the All-Star football teams held their second practice sessions after surviving the first without a casualty. South Coach Shorty Hughes of Deer Park said he was particularly impressed yesterday with the work of backs Shirley of Corpus Christi and Steve McWilliams of Baytown.

Coach Gordon Wood of the North concentrated on dummy play, timing and offense. Ken Chancelor of Gilmer, Jerry Ferguson of Sundown and David Russell of Amarillo pleased Wood with their play.

One injury was chalked up in Rice Gym where the North and South basketball squads worked out.

Jim Curtsinger of Hereford was nursing a bad ankle but North Coach J. W. Black of Dallas be able to play Friday night.

Black named a tentative starting lineup of Bill Brown, Pampa; Phil Reynolds, Waxahachie; Rick Martin, Dallas Woodrow Wilson; Bobby Bernard, Graham; and Jan Loudermilk, Big Spring.

South Coach George Carlisle of Clear Creek heaped praise on David Warnell of Galena Park, Troy Hinson of South San Antonio and Billy Wilbanks of Belton.

Cats Up Lead To 11½ Games

By The Associated Press

Texas League - leading Fort Worth, with a comfortable 11½-game cushion, bounded back in the win column Monday night and ended Dallas' stay in a fourth-place, first division tie at 24 hours.

Each team used three pitchers and Dallas didn't fall easily, but the Cats outhit the Rangers to take a free-swinging 7-5 victory.

It was a hard night on Texas League pitchers, 22 seeing duty in the four games and only Glenn Mickens of Victoria going the route. Mickens had himself a 2-hitter as his Victoria Rosebud mates garnered 23 hits off San Antonio pitching to win 16-0.

In the other games, Tulsa decisioned Austin handily 5-1 and i sti8- 3tarwoalmfyaraarDwoda\sd take undisputed possession of fourth place.

Houston's bats exploded against the league's top pitcher, Frank Funk, for a 6-run sixth inning that left Corpus Christi bedraggled and beaten. The Buffs Slammed out 7 of their 12 hits in that big inning, including Ellis Burton's 19th home run of the season.

Tulsa used 10 hits in routing the Seantors at Austin. Mickey Harrington was the batting star for the Oilers. Mike Clark was the loser.

Pirates New Challenger In National; Cards Snap Slump

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe the Milwaukee Braves can't start counting their World Series money after all. The Giants are still hanging around and a new challenger has appeared in the Pittsburgh Pirates.

After polishing off San Francisco in a four-game weekend series, the way appeared clear for the Braves to take the short road home to another pennant in the National League. It doesn't look so easy now.

The Pirates, who had won 10 of their last 12 previous games, not counting two suspended games, rode into County Stadium Monday night and proceeded to cool off the Braves 4-3.

Roberto Clemente's ninth-inning homer with the score tied hung a first defeat on Juan Pizarro. The Braves' six-game winning streak was broken and their lead over the Giants was cut to four games.

San Francisco whipped Chicago 6-4 in an afternoon game. The Pirates, fresh from a series sweep over St. Louis, all by shutouts, are only six games behind the Braves and are challenging the Giants.

Willie Mays finally hit a home run, his first since July 2, and added two other hits to push his batting average to .338, a second-place tie with Stan Musial of St. Louis, four points behind the Phils' Richie Ashburn.

Musial snapped out of his slump with two doubles as St. Louis, blanked for 33 innings, nosed out Los Angeles 3-2 on some brilliant pitching by Larry Jackson. The Cardinal righthander struck out 12, the last five in a row, and the last 17 Dodgers in succession.

Gene Greene's home run in the sixth broke a 2-2 tie and ended the Cards' seven-game losing streak. As a result of the victory, St. Louis moved up a slot to seventh, dumping the Dodgers into the cellar.

In exhibition games, Cincinnati lost the second half of their home-and-home set with Cleveland 3-1 in 13 innings. Philadelphia lost 5-4 to the Washington Senators in the Hall of Fame game at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Yanks Win Lone American Contest

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

With almost eight weeks to go, the Yanks are rapidly approaching their own record of 1941 when they wrapped up the American League pennant by Sept. 4.

After their customary Sunday slump, the Yanks resumed their winning ways Monday night at Baltimore where Mickey Mantle hit his 29th home run during a 9-4 victory. It was the onyl game scheduled in the league.

As of Tuesday morning, the Yanks had 50 games to play. Second-place Boston, 16 games behind, had 52 to go. If the Red Sox win them all, the Yanks could clinch it by taking 36 games.

In fact, a 25-25 split by the Yanks would make it necessary for the Red Sox to take 42 of 52 just to get a tie.

The Orioles were off to a fast start before they sunk to their eighth straight defeat. Arnold Portocarrero, one of Manager Paul Richard's retreat jobs, was pitching hitless ball for four innings. Then the Yanks started to move. Each New York starter made at least one hit and six men knocked in runs. Bill Skowron's 11th homer with Elston Howard on base in the fifth opened the Yanks scoring and Mantle's blast ended it. A four-run spurt in the sixth broke a 3-3 tie.

Although Don Larsen had a comfortable lead, he gave way to Ryne Duren in the seventh after he hit a man and walked his fourth.

Duren didn't allow a hit in the last three innings.

Turkey has frequently changed the name of its major cities. Constantinople was changed to Istanbul; Smyrna to Izmir; Brusa to Bursa; and Angora, the capital, was changed to Ankara.

STILL SOME 'POSTAGE DUE' MAIL

Some Here Forget Rates

So many one-cent stamps were sold by the Snyder post office during the past few days that the post office's supply was almost exhausted, according to Dawson Moreland, postmaster.

Residents were buying the one-cent stamps to be combined with the three-cent stamps they had on hand so they could comply with the new four-cent rate on all letters.

Both four-cent and one-cent stamps have seen good sales here since the new rates went into effect last week, Moreland said. One businessman even bought more than 6,000 one-cent stamps. Most of the businesses here had a number of stamps on hand.

The new four-cent stamps are sold in rolls of 100 and 500, as well as in sheets, and many rolls of the new stamps have been sold, the postmaster said.

"We don't take any three-cent stamps as trade-ins," Moreland said, adding that residents are urged to combine one-cent stamps with the old three-cent variety until the supply is gone.

The majority of Snyder residents are well aware of the new rates and keep them in mind when mailing, the post office chief said, but there are still a few forgetful persons who put too little postage on letters.

That will complicate things for the city or rural carrier for awhile, since there is a new postal policy, started July 1, that a letter will be delivered "postage due" even if it has a return address on it if there is too little postage.

That means the person receiving the mail must pay the additional postage, taking extra time of the carrier, who must do the collecting.

Things would have been still further complicated had not another policy been lifted for awhile. That policy states that there will be a five-cent penalty on all postage due mail, plus the cost of the extra postage necessary. The penalty will not be put back into effect until Oct. 1.

Moreland urged residents to remember when mailing that letters cost four cents now and that normal-size postcards are three cents.

Hearing Set For Polish Runaway

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Efforts were under way today to get a hearing here for a young Polish sailor quoted as saying—and also as not saying—that he wants political asylum in the United States.

Richard Eibel, 22, was due tomorrow aboard the Polish vessel Frydryk Czopen (Frederick Chopin).

His cousin, Leon Marmor, 59, of St. Louis, flew here to hire an attorney to draw up a writ to be submitted to a federal judge. He hoped the writ would get Eibel off the ship for the hearing.

Marmor said the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) was helping him to get the attorney and the hearing.

"I just want to make sure he gets a fair hearing on the matter," Marmor said.

Eibel was given a hearing last week aboard ship at Mobile, Ala. The ACLU in New York said the sailor had been denied a proper hearing on shore on the matter of political asylum which the ACLU said he has asked.

When the vessel docked in Galveston yesterday, Eibel denied—in an interview conducted in the presence of ship Capt. Sanislaus Janos—that he had sought to stay in the United States.

The sailor also denied reports that he is anti-Communist and feared for his life if he returned to Poland.

The Polish-American Immigration and Relief Committee said last month in a telegram to the U.S. attorney general that the sailor would face certain prosecution if he returned behind the Iron Curtain.

Mrs. Hurst Tells Of Homemade Marriage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The month before her son was born, wealthy yachtsman Paul Hurst dipped a ring in a glass of champagne, placed it on her finger and told her:

"I know you feel terrible about not being married. So now you are married."

So testified Mrs. Blanka Hurst yesterday as she asked Superior Court to rule if the rite, performed in 1956 in a San Francisco bar, constituted a valid marriage to Hurst.

She also asked for support and for a ruling on the paternity of her son Paul, now 18 months.

Mrs. Hurst said that she and Hurst lived together as man and wife before he left her in October. He denies the ceremony occurred, or that he is Paul's father.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A bench warrant has been issued for the late Bob (Bazooka) Burns' daughter, Barbara Ann Burns.

She failed to appear in court yesterday on a final accounting of her guardianship estate. Her attorney said he doesn't know where she is.

The 20-year-old girl recently was convicted on a misdemeanor charge of being a narcotics user. She is at liberty on bond, pending appeal.

Curves Are Too Much For Woman Prisoner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jeanne Brown, a 35-22-36 cocktail waitress in jail on a drunkenness charge, tired to leave her cell by way of the small opening through which food is passed to prisoners.

The 28-year-old squeezed her 35 through. The 22 was a cinch. But at the 36, her escape attempt came to an end.

Hacksaws freed her for another cell.

Officers Seek Reason For Death Of Fish

SAN SABA, Tex. (AP)—Hundreds of dead fish have been spotted in the San Saba River from Risien Falls Park downstream two miles.

Sheriff Brantley Barker said the state game warden, J. L. Briggs, is trying to determine whether the fish were poisoned from heavy spraying of pecan trees.

Blakley's Cost Near $300,000

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN (AP) — William A. Blakley was the top spender among all campaigners seeking public office this year.

His reported $298,045 expense payments might have made Blakley's campaign for the U.S. Senate the most expensive ever staged in Texas.

Secretary of state's records yesterday showed the Dallas financier reporting $298,441 in gifts, including $11,225 that Blakley added to his own campaign. He did not list any debts or loans on his final campaign reports.

The secretary of state's office and Capitol newsmen could not recall of a higher expense figure ever being reported.

U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who won the Democratic Party's renomination in the primary, reported campaign costs of $166,659, gifts $104,079 and said he still owed $42,013 in debts plus a $2,400 loan.

Gov. Price Daniel's report was filed late last night, but figures were not immediately available.

Other gubernatorial candidates reported: Henry B. Gonzalez, San Antonio, state senator who was runnerup to Daniel, reported a total $17,075 in expenses, $20,063 gifts and $4,740 debts; W. Lee O'Daniel of Dallas, expenses $14,893, gifts $12,578 and debts $216.

Campaign gifts to $500 and more as reported by candidates for the July 18-26 period following earlier reports included:

O'Daniel: John Lee Smith, Lubbock, $720.

Blakley: Ed Lohman, Port Arthur, $500; S. H. Killingworth, Longview, $500; G. E. Kadane, Wichita Falls, $500; J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls $3,000; H. L. Long, Kilgore, $500; R. Cargill, Longview, $1,595; Robert Cherry, Edinburg, $500; Hollis Rankin, Edinburg, $500; W. D. Noel, Odessa, $1,000 and $1,500; E. G. Rodman, Odessa, $1,000 and $1,500; J. E. Connally, Abilene, $750; French Robertson, Abilene, $500; G. G. Rodman Jr., Odessa, $500; W. T. Edwards, Odessa, $500; H. A. Cherry, Odessa, $750; Gus Bowman, Odessa, $750; J. B. Tucker, Odessa, $500.

Yarborough: J. Callahan, Galveston, $600; J. A. Boren Sr., Wichita Falls, $1,500 and $960; C. J. Palmer, Galveston, $500; C. Britt, Alvin, $500; E. M. Belcher, Dickinson, $500; J. H. Boren Sr., Wichita Falls, $1,000; G. T. Adams, Beaumont, $500; W. West, Houston, $5,000; R. R. Wheatley, Amarillo, $600.

Ex-Wife Of Teel Hires Attorneys

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A well-known Indianapolis father-and-son lawyer team was hired Monday by divorcee Connie Nicholas to defend her in the killing of drug company executive Forrest Teel.

Charles W. Symmes announced he and his father, Frank A. Symmes, will defend the twice-divorced woman.

The younger Symmes indicated Mrs. Nicholas' strategy would be self-defense.

Her right eye is swollen shut," he said. "Someone really slugged her."

He visited the 42-year-old woman in General Hospital Monday. She continued to improve from an overdose of sleeping pills she took shortly after the married 54-year-old executive vice president of the Eli Lilly & Co. was shot last Thursday.

When she awoke from a coma Saturday, she told police she shot Teel in a violent argument after he left the apartment of a newer friend, Laura L. Mowrer, 29.

Detective Capt. Michael Smiley said he will ask for a first-degree murder indictment, which could result in the death penalty.

Murder, Attempted Suicide In Shooting

DALLAS (AP)—A verdict of murder and attempted suicide was returned yesterday shortly after Mrs. Ann Lincoln, 52, was fatally shot and her husband, L. M. Lincoln, 63, wounded.

The shooting occurred at Lincoln's small notary public and income tax office. A small caliber bullet entered Lincoln's forehead and emerged a few inches away without causing serious damage, hospital attendants said.

Lincoln told officers he had an argument with his wife who "tormented me."

Sanity Trial Still Going At Henderson

HENDERSON (AP)—The defense was to present one more witness, an unidentified woman, today in the sanity trial of Mrs. Thelma Crelia, 34, who killed her two small daughters last May 18.

Ten witnesses—including her former husband, her father and three doctors — testified that they believe she is insane.

The children—Andra Lucinda, 9, and Cecilia Ann, 11, were shot to death in their sleep at their grandparent's home at New London, Tex., near here.

HOUSTON (AP) — Three companions failed in efforts to rescue Mrs. Kitty Orian Henley, 21, yesterday when she stepped into 10 feet of water in the San Jacinto River.

Mrs. Henley, whose body was recovered two hours after the accident, had been wading on a sandbar in the river.

Naval Cadet Dies In Trainer Plane Crash

Woman Dies, But Accuses Youth First

HARRISON, Mich. (AP) — A well-to-do woman, fatally beaten and stabbed today by an assailant who then set her house afire, staggered outside and named a youth as her attacker moments before she died.

Mrs. Beverly Thompson, 54, of Cooperton in Clare County, staggered and crawled toward the home of her brother, Ted Cooper, who lived across the street.

She gasped out to him the name of Gene Heath, 17, of Saginaw.

Sheriff Jim Darling said Heath, arrested a short time later, admitted the slaying. Heath was booked on an open charge for investigation.

Sheriff Darling said the dying woman told her brother that Heath beat her and stabbed her in the head with an icepick. She said he then set a fire in the cellar in an apparent effort to burn the house down and conceal the crime.

The blaze severely damaged the house.

Saginaw police records show that Heath had a long police record including charges of burglary, assault and rape.

Sheriff Darling said Heath, in a formal statement, related that he set out from his Saginaw home early today intent on robbing somebody.

Tax Suggestions On State, Local Level Made By Group

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—A motorist may have to show he has paid all his property taxes to buy a vehicle license in the future, if a tentative League of Municipalities proposal is adopted by the Legislature.

A key revenue subcommittee group yesterday united behind this proposal in hopes of getting more revenues to meet expected increased expenses in the future.

The sbucommittee also recommended permissive legislation which would allow cities to pass several broad-based taxes, including an income or salary deduction tax and a general sales tax.

Other such taxes, which are not specifically prohibited by either the constitution or state law, would allow cities to adopt gross receipts business licenses, hotel occupancy taxes, sewer service charges and the motor vehicle license fees. These have been adopted in other states.

Junked were proposals to abolish the ad valorem tax on autos and either increase the license fee or establish an "in-lie-of" tax.

"The urban property owners in Texas have reached the limit for acceptance of further increases" in the property tax, said Chairman Phillip Boeye, mayor of McAllen. The ad valorem tax is the major source of money for cities. It also is used by counties, school districts and other special districts.

Boeye said that the property tax was designed for an economy based on land while today most of the wealth is in personal property and is largely intangible and untaxed.

"Each time we complain of the ad valorem tax having to carry all the weight, the Legislature says, 'You're not using what (tax sources) you've got,'" said Boeye. "We are asking for legislation to make it possible to collect the ad valorem tax on motor vehicles."

OUR VIEW

Misunderstood . . .

THE CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER:

President Eisenhower and many of his advisers are reported to have been profoundly shocked by sharp criticism from our allies and friends of the landing of American troops in Lebanon. This shock must have been greatest at the stinging criticism offered by some Canadian newspapers.

The Toronto Globe and Mail, for instance, had this to say in an aditorial: "What is the difference, leaving aside the bloodshed and brutaliity in Budapest—between what the Russians did in Hungary and what the United States has done in Lebanon?. . . The comparison will outrage most Americans but most of the world's population will draw it."

And the Toronto Star said this: "Canadians can take no pride in their government's position at the United Nations. . . From the creation of the UN emergency force — perhaps our greatest diplomatic triumph—we have come to this: Meekly approving when the United States uses military force to play power politics in the Russian fashion."

If we cannot make plain to our friends the righteousness of our course in Lebanon, how impossible it seems to make the uncommitted peoples of the world understand our action.

Bond Yield Close To That On Stocks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Treasury's financing problems and the growing belief that a new round of inflation is starting have brought the yield on bonds today strikingly close to that on stocks.

That is, bond prices have gone down, making a return on their fixed interest rates higher if bought today. And stock prices have gone up while corporate earnings were falling and dividend payments were mostly static or dwindling, making a return on stocks at today's prices smaller.

Traders in stocks and bonds are disturbed both over the growing belief that inflation is inevitable and over possible effects on the money market of the steps that the Treasury, aided by the Federal Reserve Board, may have to take in the months ahead to finance the growing federal debt.

At first the U.S. bond market's troubles were blamed on speculators who bought on slim margins hoping for a quick kill. When the price of newly issued government securities, which they had thought were priced below the market, went down instead of up, they were forced to sell at a loss, further upsetting the market.

But some observers are looking for more far-reaching causes.

They cite the Treasury's subsequent refunding of a little more than 16 billion dollars of maturing government securities. The return on the new offering seemed right, but the Treasury says that holders of around $2\frac{3}{4}$ billion dollars asked for cash instead. This was 17 per cent of the total.

But the National City Bank of New York points out today in its August bank letter that the Federal Reserve held many of the exchanged securities and had bought more of the old ones just before the offering to help the Treasury.

Counting out the securities held by the Fed, which automatically exchanged for the new, 29 per cent of those held outside the system were turned in for cash.

And the bank adds that the Fed also bought more than a billion dollars of the new offering from outside holders on a when-issued basis, which are being turned in for the new securities. The bank figures this brings public holders demanding cash to 42 per cent of their original holdings.

Out of this came renewed downward pressure on bond prices, both government and corporate—and hence higher yields at today's prices.

U.S. government bonds are the safest in the land. They will be repaid in full. But the bank points out that in times of creeping inflation the fixed return on bonds looks unattractive to those who see the market value of the dollar receding.

The rise in stock prices last week owed some of its umph to the turmoil in bonds — perhaps more to belief that government deficit spending means more inflation, egged on by some recent price rises and by a hoped-for upsurge in business this fall.

Normally when the bond and stock yields get this close, many investors switch to the safer bonds. But the fact that still more U.S. securities will swell the market supply, and belief that inflation may erode their returns, causes some observers to feel that this may not happen so markedly this time.

The bank notes as the core problem "getting federal government expenditures and financial commitments of every type under control." It holds, "It is not fair to ask anyone to buy bonds of a government which seems to be embarked on deficits as a way of life."

Many will dispute the bank's views, but that's how it feels about it.

Baghdad Pact Can Be Stumbling Block

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—American treaties with other countries circle the globe but the latest commitment — to the Baghdad Pact — can by itself be a stumbling block to any real settlement in the Middle East.

The United States helped create the Baghdad Pact — which was born in 1955 — but has avoided becoming an outright member. The members were Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan.

All but Britain lie across the southern Soviet frontier. The purpose was to unite them in a mutual defense agreement against any Soviet attack. It would also serve as a military wall against Soviet invasion of the Middle East.

We supplied arms to the pact countries, but stayed out of actual membership. Then the July revolt in Iraq all but ended that nation's participation. It probably will pull out. This brought the whole arrangement to the edge of disaster.

To avoid collapse of the pact Secretary of State Dulles last week signed an agreement committing the United states to defense of Iran, Turkey and Pakistan. This in effect made the United States a full-fledged partner, although still technically not a member. Thus the wall against the Soviet Union was preserved.

Presumably the United States could move into any one of the pact countries to preserve their pro-Western governments from internal overthrow, if requested to do so, just as the United States moved into Lebanon upon request.

What will be the effect of American partnership in the pact? It can be stated on excellent authority that the Eisenhower administration feels there will be a good psychological effect, perhaps more important than any practical effect.

This would seem to mean the administration believes the present pact countries, friendly to the West, would, with American partnership, be strengthened against Soviet pressure from without and subversive efforts from within.

But the Arab nations — with the exception of Iraq prior to its July revolt — have been hostile to this military alliance on the northern fringe of the Middle East, sitting just above the Arab world.

And the Soviet Union, of course, was and is violent in its denunciation of such military alliance on its southern frontier. This can be understood.

It's not hard to imagine the reaction in this country if the Soviet Union had sponsored — and then joined — a military alliance of the Latin-American countries just south of the United States from Mexico to the Panama Canal.

An agreement between the Soviet Union and the West to ban arms shipments to the Middle East has been mentioned as one way of preserving peace and some stability in that area.

Such an agreement now seems impossible.

Before the Soviet Union agreed to a ban on arms shipments to the Middle East it almost certainly would want the pact countries in the area just south of it — Turkey, Iran and Pakistan — included among the nations which no longer could get arms.

But how can this country, after virtually joining the pact, now do an about-face and, even at the price of getting peace in the Middle East, agree to an arms embargo that applied to its new pact partners?

Pace Of Life Makes Trouble For Writer

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the main problem of a creative writer in this country?

"It's the pace of American life itself," said Budd Schulberg.

"It's so easy to get distracted. Too many things going on. Too many phones ringing. You have to find a place where you can dig in and be along."

Budd, a strongly built, gregarious fellow with a face like a friendly grizzly bear, has a place of retreat. It's a small beach shack at Sarasota, Fla.

But he has had no time for privacy since he and his brother, Stuart, teamed up as movie producers, following the family tradition established by their noted father, B. P. Schulberg, a Hollywood picture pioneer.

Their first venture is the until now untold story of the renegade plume hunters in Florida's watery frontier wilderness. They plan next year to make a film on the capture of the Remagen Bridge across the Rhine in World War II.

"But I want to keep on writing," said Budd, who is currently working on a Broadway production of one of his earlier novels, "The Disenchanged."

Budd is a writer who never has known real hunger himself, although he has written often about people who are hungry for something—whether it be for food, power or love.

He sold a couple of short stories for $50 each while still a student at Dartmouth. After graduation he clicked with the slick paper magazines, worked on a dozen film scripts, then hit big with hs first novel, "What Makes Sammy Run."

The film version of a later novel, "On the Waterfront," won an Academy Award.

Schulberg, a man with a vast appetite for living, likes to work hard and play hard. His prodigious researches have made him acquainted with enough rogues and rascals, caught and uncaught, to overflow Sing Sing. He goes for the off-beat character, whether the guy's a prisoner, prince or prelate.

"Sometimes I don't know whether the research I do is really work," he said, "or a form of procrastination—to delay the actual writing.

"But I'm pretty fast once I start writing. I write my first draft in pencil on one of those long yellow legal pads. In fact I'm blocked without one—can't write until I do find one."

Budd makes corrections in his second draft, which he turns out on the typewriter. Then makes interlinear changes in it before having his third and final draft typed.

He turns out about 5,000 words a week when things are going well, but it's hard to keep up that average, he says.

Budd feels the biggest price any writer has to pay is failure because of refusal to compromise his material.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: How much gold is there in the sea?

• • •

ANSWER: Quite a bit, not even counting sunken treasure. Actually, the sea contains a good deal of gold, about one grain to every ton of water. But before you dash out and start scooping up the ocean, remember that a grain is worth about five cents and it would take a great deal of work and money to separate it from its ton of water. In ancient times the Greeks and later the Romans sought a way to separate the gold in the seas from the water and all the other materials with which it is mixed. Today it can be done but it is neither profitable nor practical. Occasionally gold coins and objects are still found by divers in the hulls of sunken ships in the Carribean, Mediterranean and other areas of the sea. Several books, complete with maps and charts, have been written on modern day treasure hunting, but the pursuit of pirate gold is more for the adventurer than the would-be millionaire. It too is a very expensive hobby.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is an imaginary scene of a pirate guarding a huge chest of gold washed up on a beach. Color it with your crayons and save in your scrapbook. If the subject interests you, ask your local library to show you some of the material recently written on treasure hunting in sunken ships.

Unusual Talk Stops Try At Suicide

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The man stood up several times, blessed himself and looked into the cold waters of the Allegheny River 100 feet below the highest point of the Ninth Street bridge.

Traffic Patrolman Phil Morello was one of the first officers to arrive. He climbed an aerial ladder, grabbed the man's leg, holding firmly. They talked.

"What's on your mind?" Morello asked.

"I'm having trouble."

"Do you have any children?"

"I got one, a little boy five years old."

"You won't help him by jumping. Who will take care of him?"

"He'll understand."

"If you come down, you'll be able to take your little boy swimming."

"Do you know a motorcycle cop by the name of Phil? the man asked.

"That's me," Morello answered.

"Oh, I know your brother, Joe. He told me he had a brother Phil who was a motorcycle cop."

They talked for almost an hour as police and firemen closed in gently. They shackled the man, handcuffed him and brought him down.

He was identified as Robert D. Flack, 28, a steelworker from suburban Wilkinsburg.

Ex-Con Wants Into Pen For Operation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ohio ex-convict Bernie Ray Saville wants to go to federal prison so he can have an operation. There's going to be some delay — perhaps 40 years.

Saville admitted stealing a car July 9 in Akron, Ohio. He surrendered here July 15 and told officers he had been paroled while serving a 2-to-40-year term for forgery in Ohio.

Saville told U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally he took the car in order to land in a federal prison and obtain surgery, explaining: "The (Ohio) state prison won't do it."

Said Judge Connally: "I don't look with favor on a man who deliberately commits a felony. I sentence you to 18 months in prison, the sentence to be suspended until you finish your term in Ohio."

Milan's Trip Cost Trujillo $10,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Lita Milan has made another flying trip to Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr.'s yacht. This one cost Trujillo $10,000.

The Brooklyn-born starlet and four other guests flew to Acapulco last Friday in a chartered four-engine, 60-passenger airliner.

Western Air Lines, which furnished the plane, pilot, copilot, navigator and stewardess, said Gen. Trujillo paid for the junket with a check made out to cash.

Miss Milan who returned here yesterday to resume work in a movie, said she didn't know when she'd see Trujillo again. The general is en route home, but, she said, "That boat has a slow engine on it."

Steelmen Denied Injunction

DALLAS (AP) — A district judge yesterday denied employes of the Lone Star Steel Co. a temporary injunction to prevent the East Texas firm from replacing them with former strikers.

The 850 men were hired last September to replace members of the United Steelworkers of America who left their jobs at the Daingerfield, Tex., plant.

But in May the company and the union agreed to a federal mediator's ruling reinstating the union strikers. Company officials said that the 850 men will be laid off probably permanently.

Judge W. L. Jack Thornton ruled yesterday that the company and the union followed the terms of their collective bargaining contract in meeting with the mediator.

"The contract was in force when the new employes were hired. And I can't set aside the arbitration order . . . it was agreed upon," he said.

Ewing Adams, Longview attorney representing the new employes, said he will appeal the ruling.

Adams claimed the company hired his clients on a permanent basis.

"These men were sacrificed by the company to save it from law suits," Adams said. "The company breached its contract with the new employes."

Howard Jensen, company attorney, argued that Lone Star fought the mediator's ruling. "This decision was not made lightly," he added.

"The company had to buy its peace and salvage the best it could of a bad situation," he continued. "The company made a struggle to be fair."

Albert J. Tarbutton Jr., Lone Star's Daingerfield attorney, testified earlier:

"The company was gambling for high stakes. The case (with the union) could have gone to the Supreme Court and cost 20 to 30 million dollars in back pay."

Chris Dixie, Houston labor attorney, told the judge that the collective bargaining contract was binding on the company. He said federal courts would enforce the ruling of the ediator, a Chicago man proposed by Lone Star.

It was brought out that 200 ringleaders of the wildcat strike were not reinstated. The company demanded seniority for 850 workers who did not leave their jobs last fall.

Some of the 850 workers testified that they were promised their jobs would be permanent when they were hired during the strike last fall.

Two Drown In Pond In Central Texas

THORNDALE, Tex. (AP)—Harry Goetz, 17, and his sister, Angeline, 7, drowned in a pond on the John Wendall farm about 8 miles north of here in Central Texas yesterday.

They had gone swimming while visiting at the Wendell home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Goetz of Friona.

Other children with them said the little girl stepped into deep water and her brother drowned trying to rescue her.

Doris Nesbitt Takes Post At Amarillo

Miss Doris Nesbitt, who resigned here early in July from her post as county librarian, has been appointed assistant city librarian in an Amarillo library.

In the new post, she joins a staff of 35 at the Bivins Memorial Library at Amarillo.

Miss Nesbitt served as county librarian here for nine months, chosen last September to begin getting the library ready for opening.

She had come here from Midland, where she had been assistant county librarian.

Postal Receipts At Record High Here

Postal receipts in Snyder are at a record high for the first seven months of the year.

By the end of July, receipts in Snyder stood at $71,518.92.

That was slightly over $200 more than for the same period last year and almost $800 more than that for 1956. The 1957 receipts for the first seven months totaled $71,307.31, the 1956 receipts $70,724.96.

July receipts totaled $9,932.01 here, according to Dawson Moreland, postmaster. That is the second highest July has ever run in receipts here. The highest was $9,956.15 in 1952.

This year is far ahead of most previous years. Receipts for the first seven months of 1955 were $67,276.72, while they were $64,826.86 in 1954, $59,168.05 in 1953, $66,095.82 in 1952, $61,626.13 in 1951.

In 1950, receipts for the period totaled $57,905.66, or almost $14,000 less than for that period this year.

Brazilian Incidents Important

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) said today Brazilian demonstrations against Secretary of State Dulles add new importance to a forthcoming Senate inquiry into U.S.-Latin American relations.

Morse, chairman of a Latin-American subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the incident at Rio de Janeiro shows "the need for a thorough study of all the forces at play in U.S.-Latin American relations."

However, both Morse and Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), another subcommittee member, cautioned against exaggerating the significance of the jeering and whistling by Brazilian students that greeted Dulles on his arrival for talks with President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Aiken, expressing belief the student demonstrators "do not represent the country or the government," said: "Jeering and whistling by students is a popular pastime, even in our own country. Also there has been a economic slump in Latin America and the students are impatient, especially those who don't know where jobs are coming from and they have to blame somebody."

Maid's Story Blown Up By 8-Year-Old

DALLAS (AP) — A little girl, about 8, approached singer Johnny Ray as he sunned beside a swimming pool. She wanted his autograph.

While he was writing, she asked importantly: "Do you know Elma Johnson?"

Ray confessed later it sounded like someone he should recall, and he relayed the query to several fellow members here in the cast of "Guys and Dolls."

"No," he admitted finally. "Who is she?"

"That's our maid," piped the youngster. "She knows all the Hollywood stars."

Auto-Train Collision Kills 3 In Family

SUGAR LAND (AP)—An automobile collided with a crack passenger train at a crossing near here yesterday, killing three members of one family.

Dead were Allen Tony Lemke, 28, a state prsion guard; his wife, Margie, 26, and the couple's 8-month-old son, Timothy.

Two other children, Tony, 5, and Richard, 2, escaped without injury.

The father and son were killed instantly as the Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited collided with the automobile at a crossing near the gate to Central Prison Farm.

Newspaper Executive Named At Longview

LONGVIEW (AP) — Longview newspaper publisher Carl L. Estes yesterday announced the appointment of Syril A. Parker, longtime associate, as assbciate publisher.

Estes publishes The Longview Daily News, The Longview Morning Journal, The Longview Lens, and The Greggtoniian.

Parker's appointment followed the recently announced naming of R. H. McLeod as president of the publishing firm. McLeod, veteran New Jersey manufacturing executive and banker, is the father of Mrs. Carl Estes.

Estes also announced that Mrs. E. C. Lee, a member of the business staff for many years, has been appointed secretary-treasurer.

Parker has been associated with Estes since the latter acquired the Longview newspapers in 1934, when Parker was named vice president.

Production Of Oil Rises In Oklahoma

TULSA (AP) — Daily average U.S. oil production rose 17,900 barrels to 6,524,400 during the week ended Aug. 2, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma had the week's largest loss, 4,700 barrels to 567,400.

The Journal estimated 1958 production at 1,382,368,200 barrels compared to 1,582,509,689 a year ago.

Increases were in Colorado, up 1,400 to 133,500; and Arkansas, 825 to 74,525. Louisiana was down 75 to 810,875.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,406,100 barrels and in New Mexico, 276,400.

Purse Snatcher Is Unskilled At Trade

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—A teen-ager snatched a woman's purse and fled Monday. In the purse was $26,000.

But, said police, the youth removed a wallet, then dropped the purse. The money wasn't in the wallet—it was stuffed in several envelopes.

Anastasia Krouses, 38, a Green national living in Long Beach, told officers she had been carrying that money around with her for more than a year.

"In Greece, everybody carries money with them," she said.

Police said the cash included fourteen $1,000 bills.

Legless Man Rebuilding Business

CHICAGO (AP)—A legless man who spent 15 years on his stomach in a hospital after an automobile accident has driven 18,000 miles since his discharge a year ago seeking to rebuild his former business.

Cornelius (Bud) Koster, who operated an electrical sign business before his spine was crushed in the accident in 1942, has put this mileage on his specially rigged car driving in the suburban Bellwood area in search of new business.

"I want to get back where I was before I got hurt," Koster told a reporter. "The way I look at it, if a guy really wants to do something he can do it."

A year ago Koster, 39, was released from the Cook County Hospital after his marriage to Mrs. Josephine Masterson, 41.

Mrs. Koster rides with him at night after she gets home from her job as a telephone company supervisor. She writes down the names of businesses where they see faulty neon signs. The next day Bud drops the firms a card calling attention to the trouble and offering his services as a electrical and neon sign expert.

Bud gets around in a wheel chair and negotiates the stairs in an elevator which he adapted from a builder's brick-hauling elevator.

Poor Folks Do Not Have Most Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau says the popular belief that poorer families have the most children is not true.

A bureau survey found that families with incomes under $2,000 average 3.2 members while those earning $7,000 or more average 3.8 members.

The largest families are in the South — 3.74 members — and the smallest in the West with 3.51. The Northeast average is 3.55 and in the north central states, 3.57.

The survey also turned up evidence that Americans are getting more schooling these days. In 1950 the man of the house averaged 9 years of education. Today's it's 10.4 years.

About 18 million fishermen and 15 million hunters annually buy licenses in the U. S.
