Tahoka Opens At Slaton Tuesday

Tahoka boys' and girls' basketball teams open conference competition Tuesday night of next week when they meet the Slaton Tigers at Slaton.

The A team boys are playing this week end in the Floydada tournament. The Bulldogs drew a bye in the first round, and tonight, Friday, will probably meet Spur Bulldogs, or the winner of the Spur-Plainview B game.

Entered in the upper bracket are Stanton, Lockney, Floydada, and Post. In the lower bracket are Spur, Tahoka, and Plainview B team.

The tournament may give some indication of the comparative strength of four 5-AA teams, Floydada, Spur, Tahoka, Post.

Then, next week end, Jan. 15 and 16, the Tahoka boys will play in the Seagraves tournament.

Slaton and Crosbyton were originally entered in the Floydada tournament but withdrew.

TahokaA and B boys teams lost to the Brownfield Cubs 41 to 37 and 47 to 27 respectively in that city Tuesday night.

In the A game, the score was close all the way, with both the teams shooting poorly. Tahoka possibly lost the game at the free throw line, missing seven free shots in the last quarter.

Robert McIntire of the Cubs hit for 24 points, while J. B. Ables was high for Tahoka with 12, and Junior Pitts had 10.

In the B game, Duane McMillan scored six points to lead the Tahoka scoring.

Dunagan Reports 475 Are Fined

A. L. Dunagan, Precinct 1 Justice of the Peace, who has recently been troubled with a heart ailment, states that he hopes to finish out his present term but that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds due to his health.

He gave The News the following report on the past year's operation of his office:

I hereby submit my annual report of my work as your Justice of the Peace to the people of the Precinct and the County.

There have been 475 fines paid to this Court totaling $6,352.10, which I paid the County Treasurer monthly and I have his receipts for same.

Broken down into different violations, they are:

409 people paid fines for Highway violations, consisting of just about every known kind of traffic violation.

45 paid fines for being drunk in a public place.

11 were fined for disturbing the peace. I will state here that each had been drinking, and this was what caused them to disturb the peace.

Five paid fines for gambling, two for vagrancy, and two for fighting.

Cases filed in my court in which it was my duty to set bonds and refer to grand jury were: Burglary, nine cases; forgery, four cases; theft, four cases; drunken driving, second offense, 2 cases.

There were five contested cases in my court; convictions were had in four, and in one the defendant was found not guilty. Three cases were appealed to the County Court, where convictions were secured.

I served four search warrants, one for stolen property, and three for whiskey and beer. On all four officers found what they were looking for.

The Civil Docket includes the following: 105 births recorded, 43 deaths recorded, eight inquests held, seven marriages performed, and four suits heard.

I thank the citizenship of the County for their cooperation. I would like to serve out this term if my health will permit. I do not choose to run for re-election.

(Signed) A. L. Dunagan.

Child Uninjured In Windmill Fall

Leonard Ray Hill, age two, received slight injuries about noon Wednesday when he fell from a windmill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Hill, in the Petty community.

The child was found lying unconscious at the mill by a sister. His parents rushed him to Tahoka Hospital where he regained consciousness in about 45 minutes. Physicians could find no injuries, not even bruises, other than the slight concussion. He was able to go home Thursday.

It is not known how high up the windmill the child had climbed before he fell.

Water District Election Is Set

The election of a Lynn County Committeeman for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District will be held Jan. 12, according to District Manager Tom McFarland.

This election is held each year to provide officers whose duties include the representation of county water users to the District Water Board. Specific duties include ruling on county drilling permits, meeting with county water users and general coordination between users and the district officials.

Candidates for Lynn County Committeeman are E. L. Blankenship and Judson Hewlett, both of Wilson.

All resident, qualified taxpayers in Lynn County are urged to cast ballots in the election.

Voting stations have been set up at the New Home School House with B. A. Morrow presiding, and the Wilson School House with H. R. Williamson the presiding judge.

Voting stations will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m.

O'Donnell Man Talks At Rotary

John Saleh, young O'Donnell attorney, was the speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Mr. Saleh brought a very interesting talk in which he compared the governments of ancient Greece and Egypt with present-day governments.

He said Greece developed a high state of civilization in a remarkably short time because emphasis was laid on individual thinking and initiative, while Egypt emphasized on the opposite and withered and died.

Mitchell Williams, who introduced the speaker, said Saleh Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lamberson, at the University of Texas Law School.

Rev. C. C. Ehler, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Wilson, has resigned to organize a new American Lutheran Church in Abilene.

First service of the new proposed church was held last Sunday in temporary quarters. The building site with 265 feet frontage has been bought in the Elmwood West Addition of Abilene, and a parsonage is nearing completion on the site. Rev. Ehler is commuting from Wilson until the parsonage is complete.

Former Citizen Dies Christmas

Mrs. John W. Holland Sr., 54, daughter of Mrs. Iona West and a former resident of Lynn County, died at her home near Levelland on December 24. Funeral services were held December 26 in the First Baptist Church of Levelland, and burial followed in Tech Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Nola Holland was born at Richland Springs, May 25, 1899. She came to Lynn County with her parents in 1917 when they settled on the present West home place, 10 miles north of Wilson. She was married to John W. Holland in 1923. The family moved to Hockley county about 18 years ago. She had long been a faithful member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include the husband; two sons, J. W. Jr. of Amarillo and Travis L., a student in the Southwestern Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth; two daughters, Mrs. R. G. Whitney of Corpus Christi and Nina Mae Holland of the family home; her mother, Mrs. Iona West, Wilson route 1; two brothers, Lynn West, Wilson route 1, and Jackson West of Monroe, Lubbock county; and two sisters, Dr. Ann West of Dallas and Mrs. Herbert Hunt of Claude.

Kenneth Lamberson, 6, and Wendell Lamberson, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lamberson, route 4, underwent tonsilectomies at Tahoka Hospital Thursday.

Wilson Youth Death Victim

Funeral services for George Parker, Jr., were held at the Wilson Baptist Church Monday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. J. A. Martin, local pastor, was in charge of service, with the Rev. Vickery, former New Lynn Baptist pastor, preaching the sermon.

George, who was 18, died Sunday morning at 2:30 in Baylor Hospital in Dallas. He had undergone surgery some time before but his condition became worse several days ago and he was rushed back to the hospital. He is survived by his parents and two sisters, Mrs. Vandell who lives near Tahoka and Mrs. Parrish of Hereford.

Burial was in Tahoka cemetery.

Youth Injured In Car Wreck

A. G. Cook, age 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook of Threlkirk, was critically injured, and four other children were slightly injured in a car accident south of O'Donnell Saturday at about 11 p. m.

A. G. received a serious skull fracture. He was first taken to O'Donnell doctor, then to a Lamesa hospital and from there was rushed to Temple for possible brain surgery. He underwent surgery Monday, and reports received here Tuesday indicated that it was entirely successful.

His sister, Reba Jean, 13, received a cut on her right leg; his brother, Bobby, 16, and Kay Caviness, about 13, and Raymond Pierce, about 15, were only shaken up and bruised.

Bobby was driving the Cook car south on a dirt road. Another car in front of them was kicking up dust, and Bobby failed to see a jog in the road, and the car ran into an embankment. A. G., in the back seat, was thrown against something which caused the fracture. The 1953 Chevrolet was badly wrecked, although it did not turn over.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are at the boy's bedside in Temple.

Former Citizen Dies At Canyon

J. M. Deen, 78, formerly of Tahoka, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home in Canyon Monday night. Mrs. Deen found her husband dead in a roosting chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Deen moved to Canyon from Tahoka about four years ago. He was a brother-in-law of the J. O. Freemans of Tahoka. Several children survive.

Nothing was known here of funeral arrangements except that he would be buried in Merkel, possibly Thursday.

Local People See 'Gator Bowl Game

Truett Smith and son, Gordon, High School sophomore, were among those attending the Gator Bowl game in Jacksonville, Fla., New Year's day, won by Texas Tech over Auburn.

The Smiths flew to the game in a private plane owned by a Plainview friend.

Floyd Tubb and Tracy Brown, High School teachers, also attended the game, going by chartered bus from Lubbock.

Several ladies who brought food to the Jim Burlison home on the death of Mrs. Burlison did not get their dishes back.

Mrs. Opal Pittman says she does not know to whom the dishes belong, and asks that the ladies pick them up at Paul Pittman's service station.

Mrs. Carl Griffing underwent surgery at Tahoka Hospital Wednesday. Her condition was reported Thursday as being satisfactory.

County Officers Asking Re-Election To Posts

Mrs. Pridmore Clerk Candidate

Mrs. Beulah Pridmore is seeking re-election as County Clerk of Lynn County.

Reared at New Home, the daughter of a pioneer Lynn County couple, Mrs. Pridmore has lived in Tahoka many years. Before becoming clerk, she had considerable experience in clerical work and also in the business life of the town and county.

She has authorized the following statement:

"To the Citizens of Lynn County, Texas:

"In seeking re-election as your County Clerk, I am mindful of my indebtedness to you for your support in the past. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve you in this capacity.

"If I am successful in my candidacy, I shall endeavor to continue to give your prompt, courteous service.

"Your vote is earnestly solicited and will be most appreciated. Mrs. Beulah Pridmore."

Treasurer Reid Asks Re-election

Thomas Reid authorizes The News to announce he is a candidate for re-election as County Treasurer of Lynn County.

Mr. Reid has been a resident of Lynn County about 25 years, during most of which time he was either in business for himself or worked for other business institutions. He has had much experience along this line, and those who know say he has done a good job in the office he holds.

"I have tried to make you a hand in the past, and if re-elected I will do my best to continue to serve you in a capable manner as your County Treasurer," Mr. Reid states in his brief but pointed message to the voters of this county.

Wilson Tournament Opens Thursday

Wilson's annual invitational boys' and girls' basketball tournament will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of next week.

In the boys' division, Cooper and New Home and Slaton and Southland will play Thursday night, and Frenship and Wilson and Plains and Tahoka B tangle Friday afternoon.

In the girls' play, the tournament will open with New Home vs. Cooper and Wellman against Southland Thursday, and Friday afternoon, Wilson meets Frenship and Plains plays Slaton.

Girls Playing In Ropes Tournament

Tahoka High girls' basketball team is playing in the Ropesville tournament this week. The girls lost Tuesday night to Whitharal 29 to 24, and will play Plains in the consolation round.

Sue Sargent was high scorer for Tahoka with seven points in the game with Whitharal.

Thursday night, New Home and Meadow boys and girls were scheduled to play.

Congratulations:

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin (Skeeter) Nettles of Lakeview on the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, in a Lubbock hospital at about 3:20 p. m. Tuesday. The boy weighed 6 pounds 2 ounces and has been named Rodney Ray. The girl weighed 5 pounds 7 ounces and has been named Robyna.

County Judge Will Seek Re-election

County Judge, Walter M. Mathis informs The News that he will invite the voters to return him to the office he now holds.

He expects to make a formal announcement next week in which he hopes to point out some of the progress made by the county during his term of office.

County Attorney Asks Re-election

County Attorney Mitchell Williams announces that he is a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds.

Mr. Williams was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Sam Garrard, and is now serving his first elective term.

His statement follows:

"I am asking the people of Lynn County to give me a second elective term.

"If I am elected, I pledge to conduct my office in an efficient manner with fairness toward all and impartiality toward none. If elected, I shall endeavor to give each problem that comes to my office careful and individual attention—striving always to work toward the growth and progress of Lynn County."

Williams is a native of Arkansas, a graduate of Baylor University School of Law, and practiced law at O'Donnell before being appointed County Attorney.

Taylor Out For District Clerk

W. S. (Skip) Taylor is a candidate for re-election to the office of District Clerk.

He has no long list of promises to make the voters other than that, if the people see fit to keep him in office, he will handle the District Court clerical duties efficiently and to the best of his ability.

This is not a full time job, but because he has his abstract office located in the court house he is always available during office hours to attend to the duties of District clerk.

Mr. Taylor is one of the pioneer abstractors of this area, and for a number of years has capably handled, also the District Clerk's duties.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Taylor of Galveston returned home Tuesday after spending the Christmas holidays here with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. C. Skiles Thomas, and family.

Brown Seeks Another Term

J. E. (Red) Brown is throwing his sombrero in the ring as a candidate for re-election as Tax Assessor and Collector of Lynn County.

Brown was born and reared here, and needs no introduction a second time to anyone he ever met.

His statement follows:

"I am asking to be re-elected your Tax Assessor and Collector.

"I am 34 years old, married, and have four children."

"I have tried to make you a good Tax Collector in the past, and will continue to do so in the future, if elected."

"I quote you from my last State audit: 'It is a pleasure to audit an account that has been so accurately kept.' (Signed) Robert S. Calvert, State Comptroller."

"Anything I can do for you, don't hesitate to call on me. Anything you can do for me will certainly be appreciated."

Roberts Seeks Precinct 2 Job

C. W. Roberts, commissioner of Precinct 2, announces that he is a candidate for re-election.

Mr. Roberts states he has done his best to serve all the precinct alike and to the best of his ability. Some mistakes may have been made, but he has reason to be proud of the fact that roads have been improved and the county finances are in excellent shape in spite of the dry years, as he and his co-workers have attempted to run the county's business in a sane and economical manner.

Mr. Roberts has lived in the precinct 30 years and feels that he knows the problems of its people.

He will appreciate the vote and influence of all voters of the precinct.

Mrs. Tunnell Is Again Candidate

Lenore M. Tunnell this week requests The News to announce that she is a candidate for re-election as County Superintendent of Lynn County Schools.

Mrs. Tunnell has devoted her full time and interest to the schools of this county for many years, and has worked unceasingly toward their improvement. Naturally, she will sincerely appreciate the support and vote of the people. Possibly she will make a fuller statement of her candidacy later.

She was called to Austin Wednesday by the Texas Education Agency to attend the Mid-Winter Conference on school problems.

Clarence Church Will Announce

Clarence Church informs The News he expects to be a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct 1.

He will make his formal announcement at an early date.

New Home Wins In Conference Games

New Home boys and girls won District 9-B basketball games on Monday night over Union.

The boys took a close 43 to 41 decision, with Ronnie Smith scoring 20 of New Home's points.

New Home girls took a lopsided 63 to 26 victory, with Sue Cowan pouring 27 points, one more than the opposition scored, through the hoop.

Watch Service At Sweet St. Church

"Praying in The New Year" was the theme of the Watch-Night Services at Sweet Street Baptist Church last Thursday night.

The program began at 9:00 p. m. with an old fashion song and testimony service. At 10:00 the pastor and his family were "pounded" with canned goods, sacks of sugar, crocheted articles, etc.

After coffee and cookies, the final portion of the program began at 11:00. Two hymns were sung, and then Carolyn Duckett brought the special in song. The sermon of the evening was preached by Rev. B. H. Baldwin, pastor of Union Baptist Church.

The altar was decorated by a picture of Christ in Gethsemane lighted by candles. Just before 12:00 Midnight, the auditorium lights were turned off, and there was a period of silence until an old-time clock chimed out the news that the old year was gone.

The New Year's prayer was led by the pastor, Bill Wadley, and the service closed with everyone shaking his neighbor's hand and wishing him a "Happy New Year."

CARD OF THANKS

Weather Cause Of Skin Chaps

Austin, —State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox looked at the calendar today and saw chapping weather ahead.

"Two weather changes—dew point and barometric pressure—cause skin to chap and crack," the season-conscious Dr. Cox pointed out. "Chapping is always more frequent and severe from December through February."

That is the time of year when weather forecasts are likely to read: "low barometric pressure, moist air followed by sudden high pressure and dryness with low dew point." It adds up to real chapping conditions.

Dew point is the temperature at which moisture begins to condense into visible form. It makes a useful index of actual humidity. When it is low, chapping can be severe.

Wind hastens chapping, too, Dr. Cox commented, especially when skin is wet. Quick evaporation is the big factor here. Dryness might actually be increased by hot water, soap, or the so-called protective oils, lotions, and creams. A day's injury sometimes takes weeks to heal.

A chapped condition can run the gamut from plain dryness and itching to splits and fissures which bleed and crust.

An artificial humidifier in the house would be a big help, the health officer said, but you could probably get the quickest relief by checking with your doctor.

And if you happen to have a psychrometer, an instrument which determines humidity, you'll be able to foresee chapping weather ahead and take precautions. Don't think in terms of "relative humidity," though. That indicates the percentage of atmospheric saturation at a given temperature, and is unreliable because warm air can hold more water vapor than cold air. For example, relative humidity of 80 percent indicates far less moisture at 40 degrees than it does when the thermometer stands at 60 degrees.

Officers Installed By Pythian Sisters

Installation services were held Tuesday night when the Pythian Sisters of Lynn Temple No. 45 met in regular session.

Installing officer Thelma Oliver was in charge of the ceremonies.

The following stations were filled:

Past Chief, Hannah Nordyke; Most Excellent Chief, Helen Ellis; Most Excellent Senior, Helen Biggerstaff; Most Excellent Junior, Glenda Dunagan; manager, Jessie Jewel Stevens; secretary, Ola Belle Lamb; treasurer, Verle Carter; protector of the Temple, Corene Cathcart; and guard, Becky Thurman.

At the first meeting of 1954, 15 suspensions of membership were made and five withdrawals of membership were accepted.

Hostesses were Thelma Oliver, Ruth Benson, Lura Mae Galtier, and Loyce Fleming.

A committee was appointed headed by Jessie Jewel Stevens for making plans for some event to raise money for the polo fund.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 19, at the home of Thelma Oliver at which time a cove party will honor Grand Chief Margaret Wofford on her official visit to the Tahoka Temple. Initiation will also be held for two members of the Lamesa Temple.

Syngman Rhee, President, South Korean Republic "If we stand firm the Communists will come to terms."

George Samson Is Visitor In City

George "Scottie" Samson of Post, his daughter, Miss Jeanne Samson of Lubbock, and his niece Betty Samson of Scotland were in Tahoka Saturday visiting friends.

His niece, Betty, has been in the States several months, and was en route to her home in Scotland, from Oregon where she has been visiting. Although she was born in New York, she returned to Scotland as an infant and had lived there until her recent return to the United States. Only a short time ago, last May, she was naturalized as a Scottish citizen. She will return home aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Miss Jeanne, who works in the County Agent's office at Lubbock was born in Scotland but has lived nearly all her life over here. "Scottie, born and raised in Scotland, came to Post in 1907. He made his first visit to Tahoka, however, in 1905, and stopped overnight at the old Stokes Hotel. He says he will never forget the supper he had at the Hotel, the meal consisting of the best ham and eggs and hot biscuits he ever ate.

WALKER IS VISITOR

J. B. Walker of Lubbock was here Tuesday visiting his son, Clint, and family and old friends. J. B. and wife came to Tahoka in 1905 as a school teacher. The couple lived here and raised their family here, then moved to Lubbock in 1939.

Robert Adamson, stationed at Fort Bliss for several months, arrived New Year's eve for a visit with his mother, Mrs. D. R. Adamson Sr., and other relatives. He leaves Jan. 13 for Fort Devins, Mass., where he will take further Army training.

Ronnie Gurley, home for Christmas from the Army, returned to Fort Sill, Okla., Sunday.

Workers Meeting At Wells Church

The Worker's Conference of the Brownfield Baptist Association will hold an "Evangelism" meeting at the Wells Baptist Church next Thursday evening, Jan. 14.

Following is the program:
6 p. m., Board and W. M. U. meeting.

7:45 p. m., song service.

SURPRISE SHOWER

Barbara McNeely, bride-elect of Leland White, was honored with a personal shower, Saturday morning of last week at 9 a. m. in the home of Mrs. B. C. Dollins. Hostesses were Sue Dollins and Sylvia High. Girl friends surprised Barbara with many lovely gifts.

Coffee, hot chocolate, and doughnuts were served.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Skiles Thomas took his mother, Mrs. C. A. Thomas, to San Angelo Sunday to attend funeral services for the latter's step brother, C. B. Harris.

U. Mrs. Gladys Morehead. Rev. Robert Clements will deliver the sermon.

Mrs. G. C. Murray and two sons, Billy and Tommy, who live east of town, spent the Christmas holidays visiting relatives in Houston.

THE instant you see these 1954 Buicks, you'll know that something sensational has happened in automobile styling. Here is vastly more than the usual model changeover. Here is vastly more than could be done just by warming over what Buick had before. Here is something accomplished by going far beyond artful face-lifting. Here is that rarity of rarities—a completely new line of automobiles.

But Buick didn't stop with the bolder, fresher, swifter-lined beauty you see in raised and lengthened fender sweep—in the huge and back-swept expanse of windshield—in the lowered roofline—in the host more glamor features of exterior modernity. They upped all horsepower to the highest in Buick history.

They engineered a new V8 for the SPECIAL—and in the process came up with new Power-Head Pistons that boost gasoline mileage in every engine.

the beautiful buy

They brought to market a sparkling new-comer with a famous name, the Buick CENTURY—a car with phenomenal horsepower for its weight and price—a car with more pure thrill per dollar than any Buick ever built.

And they did all this without change of the price structure which, for years, has made Buick the most popular car at its price in the world.

We invite you to come in and inspect these great beauties, these great performers, these great buys. Then you'll see why the Detroit previewers are already saying, "Buick's the beautiful buy!"

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

Cerebral Palsied Clinic Scheduled

A clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children will be held Monday, January 18, at the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center, 3502 Avenue N, Lubbock.

Specialists present to examine children will be: Dr. E. T. Driscoll, Midland, Dr. R. Q. Lewis, Lubbock, and Dr. Charles Ratcliff, Lubbock, orthopedists; Dr. R. K. O'Loughlin, Lubbock, neuropsychiatrist; Dr. C. J. Breaud, Lubbock, dentist; Dr. G. W. Wallace, Lubbock, eye specialist; and Dr. N. A. Ellis, Lubbock, pediatrician.

Cerebral palsy, sometimes referred to as spastic paralysis or birth injury, is evidenced by the child's inability to sit or stand alone or walk or hold objects at the age these things are accomplished by the average child. Research has shown that treatment is most effective if started within the first few months of the child's life, although children respond to treatment begun at a much later stage.

Parents who plan to bring children to the clinic are requested to register the children at the Center before the date of the clinic. Information regarding the clinic may be obtained by writing Dr. Esther Snell, Director or calling Lubbock 4-7110.

Mrs. Harold Green underwent major surgery in a Lamesa hospital Monday. She will possibly be able to come home the end of this week.

Bronchitis Takes Heavy Chick Toll

College Station.—Planning to lose 10 to 20 percent of your next batch of chicks? That's exactly what could happen if the young birds become infected with infectious bronchitis says Dr. W. A. Boney, poultry pathologist, Texas A. & M. College.

Caused by a virus, infectious bronchitis is an extremely contagious respiratory disease of chickens. It does not affect turkeys and other domesticated birds. While no effective drug treatment has been discovered, Boney says poultrymen can take steps to help prevent the spread of the disease.

The symptoms of this disease are difficult breathing, gasping, sneezing, rattling and in some cases, a thin watery nasal discharge. It may affect any age bird, but does not cause a nervous condition similar to Newcastle disease.

Mortality among chicks less than five weeks old varies widely, but usually 10 to 20 percent. Boney adds. It does not cause any significant death in older birds. When the virus strikes, a four to five day drop in feed consumption is noted and often times broilers are delayed two weeks in getting ready for market as a result.

An attack of infectious bronchitis in laying flocks shows up as a rapidly spreading cold. Egg production drops sharply and some hens stop laying altogether. Usually, the poultry pathologist continues, it takes four to six weeks for a flock to return to its former production rate.

During the outbreak soft shell, small and irregular shaped eggs are common. Even on the conservative side, Boney says, the loss from the disease in commercial flocks is $1 per bird. The loss is greater in hatchling flocks.

All birds on the farm usually become infected regardless of sanitary or quarantine precautions once the virus begins. It may "jump" long distances during an active outbreak, he adds.

Infectious bronchitis also is spread by mechanical means such as clothing, poultry crates and equipment. Birds which recover may remain carriers.

A laboratory diagnosis is necessary to isolate infectious bronchitis from other poultry diseases such as Newcastle disease or chronic respiratory infection. If the disease is suspected, at least five chicks or three adult birds showing the symptoms should be submitted to a reliable laboratory as soon as possible.

As far as control measures are concerned, Boney says increasing the brooding temperature slightly may help young chicks. Any means of increasing food consumption will help get a laying flock back into production. Certain dusts and sprays which may aggravate the disease are not recommended, he adds.

This disease respects no sanitary barriers, but to help prevent it, Boney offers these tips: Purchase only day old chicks and never introduce started chicks into a flock. Obtain chicks from a reliable hatchery. Either pick them up yourself or have them delivered to the farm by private conveyance. Chicks should not be purchased from a hatchery that keeps started birds in the same building where incubators are located.

Birds should never be returned to the farm after a poultry show, he says. Do not allow buyers to bring a partially loaded truck on to the premises prevent any contact between young and old birds and discourage visitors in the poultry yards and houses.

Boney says there is a program of immunization that will protect laying hens from infectious bronchitis. The program, he explains, consists of inoculating the birds with a known strain of the disease when the birds are six to 12 weeks old. At this age, the disease causes no mortality and the slight retardation in growth is quickly overcome.

Many factors must be considered before this type program is undertaken and interested poultrymen should contact the near-

23 Killed During Hunting Season

AUSTIN, Jan.—Four additional hunting fatalities have brought to twenty-three the number of Texans succumbing during the fall hunting season, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

All of the latest deaths were attributed to firearms. Of the previous list of eight reported, six had been caused by drowning of duck hunters.

The latest casualties included: A Bonham man shot by his own gun, which was discharged when he set it down against a tree. The bullet struck him in the head.

A Corpus Christi man killed by his son near Uvalde when the latter fired at a wild turkey.

A 15-year-old Marshall had killed hunting rabbits when a companion's gun was discharged as he hurried through a fence to shoot at a rabbit.

A 14-year-old Fort Worth boy killed by a self-inflicted rifle wound while hunting.

The Executive Secretary said the fall casualty list seems to be running slightly higher than that of last year.

He said that while all the reports have not been made, it is significant that not one case has been reported of a hunter being killed in Texas when mistaken for wild game.

The Executive Director said the final total would not be known for some time since the last phase of the major fall harvest carries on through January 16 when the quail season ends under the General Law.

Did you know that the American Junior Red Cross provided 30,000 gift boxes and 50 school chests for child victims of the Greek Earthquake this August? Transportation charges were paid from the Junior Red Cross National Children's Fund.

ODDS AND ENDS

(BY E. L. THE ELDER)

In our issue of December 4, 1953, as some of you may remember, I started out to publish a series of brief historical sketches of Mexico to be furnished to me by Senorita Gutierrez, a resident of Mexico City, whom I met and became well acquainted with while I was visiting in that city in February till April, 1952.

I published her first contribution to this column in that issue of this paper, in which she told briefly of the founding of the city of Vera Cruz on the Gulf coast at the foot of the Sierra Madre Mountains in Mexico by Cortes and of his determination to march westward across the Mountains with the purpose of capturing the Aztec Indian capital of Tenochtitlan. The title given to that contribution was "Vera Cruz, the Land of the Gentle Art of Living." She wound it up by promising that other contributions would follow.

On December 2, she had sent in a second article "The People," but as the pre-Christmas advertising rush was on and we were running short of help in the office we decided not to publish the ODDS & ENDS column any more until after Christmas. So we are just now getting around to the publication of this her second contribution to this column. You may just mentally tie it on to contribution No. 1, which she ended with the observation that in 1492, when America was discovered, the Aztec king at Tenochtitlan little suspected "the existence on the same planet of other continents inhabited by a strange race (or races) of people." Not many European or Asiatic rulers suspected it either, we might observe.

But here is Aurora with her second contribution:

"Who could have foretold then that twenty-six years later Cuba would have been over-colonized and would be sending expeditions to explore the Mexican Gulf coast as far around as Ulua (Vera Cruz) or that by 1521, less than thirty years after Columbus lifted anchor, a small group of Spaniards would have become the masters of a great new continent?"

"The expedition of Hernan Cortes was the third from Cuba to the American mainland. In Tabasco, the lusty adventurers were presented with twenty slave girls, among them one who, as the con-pyramid in the world in so far as acreage covered is concerned and looked across a fertile plain some fifteen or twenty miles to old Mount Malinche named in honor of the slave girl who saved Hernan Cortes and his army at historic, yes pre-historic-old-Cholula, the town long-known as the town of 365 churches.

But Senorita Aurora is going to tell you next week about the breathtaking scenery encountered in the vicinity of Orizaba and the twin mountains, Popocatepetl and Iztaccihuatl. While one looks to the northeast from Cholula to see Mount Malinche, he turns half-way around on his heel and looks across the plain to the southwest for a full view of old Popocatepetl standing as trim and neat as a general on dress parade, and reclining by his side is the Smoking Mountain's faithful bride, the corpulent sleeping White Woman.

We sincerely appreciate the many visits, cards, flowers, each word and act of kindness offered during the recent illness and death of our husband and father. For contributions of food, Christmas gifts and other contributions we are deeply grateful to each and every individual and the various churches and civic groups. Our heartfelt thanks extended to doctors and nurses who were cooperative in treating him and to Bro. Jim Sharp for the watchful care he accorded us. May God reward each of you for our earnest prayer. — The Frank Bryan family.

Laying hens need 12 to 14 hours of light daily to maintain top egg production. One 40-watt bulb for each 200 square feet of floor space is sufficient. Commence using lights now and increase the lighting period as the days become shorter. Early morning lights are recommended. All night lights are satisfactory, but egg production is not increased after 14 hours.

"Machines certainly help a man turn out more work"

"Look, Joe, I'm making these lamps in my spare time."

"Swell job, Jim. But these tools must have cost you plenty."

"Yes, I've put over $800 into them, but soon my hobby will be paying me a good profit."

"I guess those machines we have at the plant cost a lot of money, too."

"Right. I've read that it costs a manufacturer about $12,000 per worker for tools and equipment to provide jobs like ours."

"That's quite an investment, isn't it?"

"You bet it is! But these modern machines help us turn out our product at less cost per piece — that means our company can sell at lower prices and more people can buy from us."

"And when the company does more business and makes a profit, our jobs are more secure, aren't they?"

"Right again, Joe. It takes sales and profits to provide new machinery, higher wages for us, and more jobs for other people. The better we produce the more all of us benefit — and modern machinery helps us to increase our output."

Your Farm Problem

By Ezra Taft Benson
Secretary of Agriculture
Part II

Any effective solution of today's farm problem must provide methods for reducing our huge stockpile of agricultural commodities and at the same time prevent further burdensome accumulations.

Getting rid of these surpluses is only half of our problem. Even if we are able to bring them down to manageable proportions, we would soon acquire a new hoard of wheat, corn, cotton and butter under the existing system of price supports.

We already have approximately $2.5 billions tied up in loans on farm commodities, in addition to an equal amount invested in goods which we own outright — $5 billions in all.

Our present program does not encourage the production shifts which are required to meet the changing market demands for various commodities.

Of course, we could destroy some of our surpluses. Remember the government's potato fiasco of a few years ago?

Or we might plow under every third row of cotton and kill little pigs. Remember the mid-1930's?

Actually, we would not even consider such wasteful practices. We are attempting to move surplus food and fiber into foreign markets. World prices, however, are well below the figures at which we acquired these commodities under our price support operations. This means that we will be forced to take substantial losses on whatever we sell abroad.

At the same time, we must avoid outright dumping, which would disrupt normal trade channels and bring down upon us the wrath of other friendly countries.

There are other alternatives: We can make a real effort to move surpluses out of warehouses and into stomachs by promoting greater public consumption of some commodities. We can push forward in our research programs to uncover new uses for farm goods. We can throw out entire weight behind plans for expanding present foreign markets and finding new outlets overseas.

Such methods, while they will not produce results as quickly as dumping or destroying food, offer a far sounder approach to our basic problems.

Along those lines, I can report that our promotional campaign, undertaken with the meat industry and food stores, is producing real results. We are consuming beef this year at the rate of 75 pounds per person, the highest in our history.

Farm exports have turned upward since July 1, reflecting our emphasis upon expanding trade. Continued high employment at home, with national income at record levels, means a strong demand for farm goods in the United States.

Our population is growing at a rate of more than 2,000,000 per year, which means that by 1975 there will be 200,000,000 Americans. Our future farm problems

Mites Damage Small Grains

College Station, —Mites are on the rampage causing serious damage to oats, wheat and barley in many winter grain growing areas of Texas.

Fields infested with winter grain mites take on a silvery appearance, says Neal M. Randolph, extension entomologist, and during severe attacks, leaf tips turn brown and the plants become stunted. Eventually the entire plant may be killed.

Also commonly known as winter oat mite and blue oat mite, Randolph points out, the winter grain mites activity is not restricted to oats alone.

Either parathion or TEPP effectively controls the insect, he says, and it's advisable to commence control measures before they completely destroy valuable winter grazing or next year's grain crops.

Winter grain mites feed at night and conceal themselves under clods and plant residues during the day. The insects, about 1/32 to 1/16 inch in length, are readily identified by four reddish-orange legs supporting dark brown bluish boddies.

Randolph recommends parathion or TEPP at rates of 0.25 pounds of technical material to the acre. Mix one pint of 25 percent parathion or 20 percent TEPP emulsion concentrate in the amount of spray your machine puts out per acre.

These insecticides are toxic to man and animal and should be handled according to manufacturer's directions, he warns.

Livestock should not be allowed to graze grain crops for five days after TEPP treatment or 14 days after an application of parathion. Usually, Randolph concludes, one spraying of parathion will control winter grain mites, but a second application within seven days is a sure kill. A second treatment of TEPP within four or five days is often needed.

may involve questions of shortages, rather than surpluses.

We cannot wait for an expanding population to solve our immediate troubles, however. We need an interim program to encourage shifts to other crops. We must halt further build-ups of government stockpiles now.

Our urgent need is for a price support program which can be adjusted in terms of production and demand. One which will effectively reduce surpluses, with a minimum of government control.

That is our immediate goal. Such a program will be offered to Congress by this Administration in January.
