Report of Staff Study Of Police Department

This is a continuance of the report on a study of the City Police Department made by the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

Proposed Organization

The proposed organizational structure for the Rockport Police Department improves the overall design of the department because it represents distribution of responsibility on the basis of function, rather than on the basis of the individuals assigned to perform a particular function, as is the case at present. The examination, analysis, and subsequent recommendations regarding the organizational structure of the department are based on modern organizational principles and upon the particular needs of the Rockport Police Department. The functions of the proposed units are described below.

The Chief of Police. The chief of police should continue to report directly to the mayor. The chief of police should command, control, and coordinate all the resources of the Police Department. To assist him in this task, a civilian clerk-police aide—should be assigned to perform the routine administrative and clerical functions of the department.

Shifts. The three shifts should provide optimum police coverage during the hours of greatest need. Members of each shift should be responsible for traffic law enforcement, accident investigations, and all criminal and non-criminal investigations.

Police Aide. We recommend the creation of the position of police aide. Since the 1970-71 budget calls for a clerk, the adoption of this recommendation should present no problems to the city administration. The civilian police aide should report directly to the chief of police and should be responsible for the following functions:

—Administration of the records system.

—Communications activity, for emergencies and back-up service.

—Crime analysis functions, including the preparation, study and analysis of Uniform Crime Reporting statistics and National Safety Council traffic accident statistics.

—Preparation and handling of routine correspondence for the chief of police.

A more detailed description of the position of police aide is included in the appendix.

Night Watchman. The city originally gave police officer status to this position so that watchman could receive retirement and other benefits. In Rockport, the function of night watchman precludes the Police Department.

We recommend that the night watchman function be removed from the Police Department. This position does not call for a police officer since it involves only checking doors and watching for fires. The city should encourage private enterprise in this area. Each participating client could pay his own fees, and the city could regulate the function through a business license. Successful patrol services are common in many areas of the county.

Recommendations

1. Organize the department as described.
2. Establish the position of police aide, and assign responsibilities as discussed in the text and in the appendix.
3. Remove the night watchman function from the Police Department, and encourage private enterprise in this area.

Section 3—Manpower Allocation and Distribution

As stated, approximately 66 percent of the present police budget is allocated to personnel salaries. The high cost of employing personnel demands that they be deployed with maximum effectiveness. The present scheduling practices and insufficient manpower have created problems in manpower allocation and deployment.

Since certain basic records were lacking, we were unable to conduct a detailed manpower allocation study to determine patrol personnel requirements. However, based on a study of the present manpower allocation methods, and a review of departmental statistics, we recommend that the available patrol force be distributed.

This method of scheduling will provide coverage seven days a week on all shifts, and will emphasize those days which normally have a higher incident rate. Although it does not provide for 24-hour a day coverage, the proposed schedule does provide for on-call availability of personnel.

The Need for Additional Manpower

The IACP method of manpower deployment and allocation is based on workload rather than on population; thus, past performance is critical to our evaluation. With an amplified records system as recommended later in this report, data will be generated to identify the city's police manpower requirements. If the city decides to retain its own police force, (Continued on Page 8)

Seventeen Run In Navig. Dist. Race

Considerable interest is being expressed in the July 10 election of five commissioners for Aransas County Navigation District No. 1.

In the first place, in accordance with a new law this will be the first time that the Navigation District will have five commissioners—one for each of the four precincts and one to be elected at large. In the past, there have been just three commissioners.

Secondly, the fact that seventeen persons have filed as candidates has stirred up a lot of interest. And most of these 17 are working hard to get elected.

The candidates, listed in the same order their names will appear on the ballot as determined by drawing, are:

Precinct 1-A: William M. Brown, Jr., Milton Harrell and Fernando Martinez.

Precinct 2: Richard J. Fox (unopposed).

Precinct 3: Jack T. Smith, Robert M. Hill, R. W. Landrum and Mrs. Tommy (Mary Lou) McGlathery.

Precinct 4-A: J. Henry von Pein, Francis M. "Monte" Rouquette and Charles Herbert Mills.

At large: Bernita Kinsey, W. E. (Ed) Beasley, Eugene W. Carter, James T. Little, David Magulgin and Leon Bateman.

Voting on Saturday, July 10 will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Polling places are as follows:

- 1-A: Voting Center in Aransas Pass.
- 1: V.F.W. Hall.
- 2: Courthouse.
- 3: Fulton Baptist Mission.
- 4: Fulton Fire Station.
- 4-A: Lamar Fire Station.

Fireworks Display Set at Key Allegro

People in the Rockport area will have the opportunity to view a spectacular display of fireworks the night of the Fourth of July.

The display will be staged in the open commercial area at Key Allegro Isle and will be easily seen by persons viewing from Fulton Beach Road, across the bay from Key Allegro.

Those who are planning the event state it will be the biggest fireworks display ever staged in Rockport.

Contributing the funds to purchase the fireworks were Caspary-Wendell, Harper Real Estate, Jackson Marine Corp., Bayshore Building Co., Key Allegro Development and Sales Co., Key Allegro Marina, Key Allegro Hotel and Eugene McCard, Jr.

NOTICE

Texas Dept. of Public Welfare representative John Stubbs will be at the courthouse in Rockport all day Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Lions Barbecue Fourth of July

The annual Fourth of July Barbecue sponsored by the Lions Club will be held again this year. People have come to look forward to this event every year, not only because of the good food but also because they know the proceeds will be used to help blind people and crippled children.

The barbecue will be held at the Lions Club pit, across the street from the Woman's Club building, Sunday, July 4, with serving to start at 11 a.m.

Beef, chicken and sausage barbecue dinners with all the trimmings will be served for $1.50. Sandwiches and barbecue by the pound also will be sold.

Glastron Boat Wins Ski Race

Ray Standley, Dick Kemp and Gary Miller teamed in the second annual Rockport to Riverside at Houston ski race Sunday to win over a tough field, averaging over 40 m.p.h. along the 210-mile course that included rough bays, locks and draw bridges.

Second by 13 minutes were Robbie Robinson, John Mitchell and Donnie Kemp, followed by Lee Richter, Dick Welch and Gene Leonhard.

All the teams had to pull a skier over the entire course. The race began at Key Allegro in Rockport and ended at Riverside Inn on the San Jacinto River, near Channelview.

A large crowd of spectators was on hand Sunday morning to watch the nine competing boats take off from the starting place in the bay just off the shore at Key Allegro Hotel. Each boat had two or more skiers to spell each other off during the grueling 210-mile race.

Among the sponsors of the second annual Rockport to Houston ski race were the Rockport Chamber of Commerce, Key Allegro Motel and Marineland Boat Center.

Frank Randt, owner of Key Allegro Hotel, gave a cocktail party Saturday night for the crewmen of the boats and for local people who helped promote the event.

The event created a lot of publicity and good will for the Rockport area. One example was the following article in BOAT NEWS by Larry Muske:

"It's June, summer's here and Texas boat racers are out in full force. Rockport, Texas is the place. A small town on the Texas coast between Galveston and Corpus Christi, Rockport is quite a surprise to the visitor. Beautiful unpolluted water, clean beaches and a luxury hotel second to none. Mr. Randt has built his Key Allegro Hotel right on the water's edge and has spared no details in establishing the finest facilities for a weekend (Continued on Page 5)

Mrs. H. A. McDonald, Rockport "greeter," urges all new permanent and summer-weekend residents who have not been called on to contact her at 729-6587, or call the Chamber of Commerce. The following actions took place at a meeting of Aransas County Commissioners Court: John Paxton met with the court and presented plat of a private subdivision, Copano Beach Resort Mobile Home Subdivision, being lots 1 through 12 out of a 9.9 acre tract lying west of Texas State Farm Road No. 1781 in Ocean View Lands Traversal No. 4, C.O.D. Gilliland Survey, Abstract 70, Aransas County.

After due consideration it was voted to permit the plat to be placed of record upon Paxton making performance bond, payable to the Commissioners Court in the amount of $3,000 with the understanding that all roads, utilities and fire plugs meet subdivision requirements as set out by the Commissioners Court.

The following monthly reports of fees collected were read and approved:

Attend Square Dance Convention

Billy Ogle and Mark Pattillo went by bus to New Orleans to attend the 20th National Square Dance Convention.

The youths took the Rockport Paws and Taws traveling banner to hang in the main dance room along with many other banners. There were teen-age youths from virtually every state including Alaska, and also from Canada.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a matching grant of $35,817 for the City of Rockport to help the city develop a beautiful park on a 25-acre tract of wooded land northwest of the city limits.

The city has an option to buy the land for $20,000 from M. W. Cochran. That is the same amount of money the city received from Charles A. Roe, Jr., who recently purchased the old Little League park at Highway 35 and North Pearl Street from the city.

City workmen and equipment will be used to develop the park. Uses tentatively planned for the park include a baseball field, an area with playground equipment for youngsters, picnic areas, quiet areas for relaxation, parking lots, public restrooms, access roads and designated areas equipped with grills for cook-outs.

The park was proposed by Harland Bartholomew and Associates, planners and engineers, in their long range, comprehensive plan for Rockport which was prepared in 1968.

Announcement of HUD's approval of the $35,817 grant was made by the offices of U.S. Sen. John Tower and Congressman John Young in Washington.

Falk Attends Lions Convention

Lions District Governor Walter S. Falk, Jr., and his wife, Anne, have returned to Rockport after six days attendance at the 54th Lions International Convention in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Governor Falk is enthusiastic over the year's theme of "Commitment to Community Needs." The local Lions are already committed to providing eye glasses for all needy persons as well as supporting the Boy Scout and Little League. In addition, they maintain the Rockport Lions Bar-be-que pit for any local organization's use.

While in Las Vegas, Gov. Falk attended a three day seminar on the functions of a Lion District Governor.

The convention was attended by 50,000 Lions and their families. It was the largest convention ever held in Las Vegas. The Lions International is the largest service organization in the world. It has 850,000 members in 145 countries. Texas has the largest multiple district with 45,000 members. Gov. Falk is responsible for 70 clubs and 2,500 members.

Almost two centuries later we are celebrating the anniversary of our country's founding with the certain knowledge that, with all its faults, the United States has the best system of government of any nation on earth.

TEXAS GOVERNOR Preston Smith signs a proclamation designating July 4-10 as Safe Boating Week in Texas. Discussing the problems of safety afloat with the Texas chief executive are Lloyd F. Palmer, General Manager, Texas Safety Association, George Cook, Director, Water Safety Services, Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife, and Wade N. Geraghty, Commander, Austin Power Squadron. In the proclamation Governor Smith said "the increased use of our waterways has caused an increasing water safety problem, and the ever increasing use of these facilities makes it imperative that all boatmen observe the basic rules of boating safety."

or a vacation in the sun and fun. Gary Miller and Ray Staley (River Rats Forever) have organized the world's ski race. I have talked about it before and now it's here. A course of 210 miles from Key Allegro in Rockport to Riverside Inn just outside of Houston will include the intra-coastal canal, Matagorda Bay and Galveston Bay, Whooooo! "This race has no rules except that a team that starts will not be allowed to pick up any fresh skiers. If you start with a team of three skiers, you must finish with those three skiers. Just "Run What Ya Brung." You can have as many on a team as you want, but then that splits the $600 first prize up more.

"This will be the second annual Rockport - Riverside ski race and is shaping up to be a good one. The National Outboard people have a championship team entered. Glastron Boat Company has a team entered as does Red Adair.

Shrimp landings in Texas in May amounted to 2.1 million pounds valued at over $2.0 million. This was below the volume and value of landings in May 1970, with all ports showing a slight decline. The following represents landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods:

Port Arthur-Sabine area: May 1971, 90,300 pounds; Jan-May 1971, 362,900; Jan-May 1970, 257,000.

Totals: May 1971, 2,120,300 pounds; Jan-May 1971, 8,941,700; Jan-May 1970, 10,110,100.

Trawlers working offshore Gulf waters made fair to poor catches of brown shrimp from east of Tampico, Mexico to south of Morgan City, La. High southeast winds kept smaller vessels in port some 12 days during the month and forced large trawlers to make broken trips. White shrimp catches were spotted and poor throughout May as severe drought conditions prevailed along the entire coast.

Blue crab landing amounted to about 675,000 pounds in May. This was 63 percent above landings in May 1970. Demand for live crabs and picked meat was very good throughout May causing an increase in effort in this fishery. Fishermen received from 8-12 cents per pound for live crabs.

In late April and early May, shrimp trawlers from central and north Texas ports caught a large number of metal drums used for waste disposal by some coastal industries. Based on fragmentary reports an estimated 100 barrels were recovered during this 2-month period. Many of the drums were filled with industrial waste, very heavy, and dangerous. The cost to fishermen and/or vessel owners from damaged gear and discarded catch has already climbed into the thousands of dollars and increasing each week.

No new vessels entered the fishery in May. Two were lost at sea.

For the first time in more than a decade, brown pelicans have been born in Louisiana, reviving hopes the bird will not become extinct.

Wet-Weather Driving Tips

Austin—The current drought conditions in Texas won't last forever and when the dry spell ends, many Texas motorists may find themselves involved in a wet-weather driving accident.

Wet-weather driving is different, an extensive research project conducted by the Texas Highway Department indicates.

But it need not be as dangerous as the rash of accidents that always seem to happen as soon as the rain starts to fall.

The Highway Department study points toward several actions the motorist can take for his own safety when driving in the rain:

—Slow down.
—Avoid sudden stops and driving maneuvers.

—Make sure tires are in good condition.
The tips are just plain common sense, but, unfortunately, not everyone uses common sense when it rains.

For example, the Highway Department researchers found that high speeds loom large among the factors involved in wet weather accidents.

Checks made by the research engineers indicate that the average motorist diminishes his normal dry pavement speed by only a few miles per hour in the rain.

But a slight decrease in speed will not provide a good margin of safety in rainy day driving. For one thing, it can take as much as four times more distance to stop on wet pavement than on dry.

Tires are another factor in wet-weather accidents that the driver can do something about.

The Highway Department studies, based on analysis of 500 wet weather accidents which occurred in a 10-county area of Central Texas, show slick tires can be murder.

Researchers say tread depth of all four tires should be at least 2/32 of an inch. Any less, and there is real danger of skidding or hydroplaning.

Hydroplaning occurs when a thin film of water builds up between the pavement and the tire. When tires do not have good contact with the traveling surface, of course, the driver has no control over his car.

Through research, Highway Department engineers have found ways to improve curves; they found ways to improve cross section of the roadway so that water will drain faster; they have found ways to develop new skid-resistant surfacing material and many other improvements.

Still, it is up to the individual driver to do his part—slow down, avoid sudden stops or maneuvers and make sure tires are in good condition.

Church of Christ

What's in a name? More than you may think. In New Testament days the followers of Christ were simply called Christians. They did not call themselves by the great distinguishing denominational names of our day. Indeed these names are no where found in our Bible. The child of God is a Christian, and he is a Christian only.

If he suffers it is to be as a Christian; (1 Pet. 4:16). Religiously he is to be called a Christian, (Acts 11:26). We are to persuade men to be only Christians; (Acts 26:28).

How unfortunate for a Christian to call himself by a lesser name than Christ's. What a joy to hear His blessed name. (11 Tim. 2:19).

MISS SARA WHITE, HUGH MORRISON EXCHANGE VOWS

Miss Sara Green White and Hugh Martin Morrison were married in the Immaculate Conception Church, Perryton, Texas on June 19 by Rev. Robert Hammond of Tulamocari, New Mexico.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon White, Perryton, Texas. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Morrison.

The double ring ceremony was performed before a background of large urns filled with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and roses. The altar was illuminated by a series of six, seven-branched tapering candelabra entwined with greenery. The side altars each were flanked by twin candelabra tapers and white flower arrangements of chrysanthemum, gladioli, and roses. The altar rail was decorated with a garland of greenery. White satin bows and greenery marked the family pews.

Mrs. Bob Urban, organist, played a prelude of musical selections prior to the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Mrs. Steve Sanford of Houston as she sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, chose a formal length gown of candlelight organza and satin designed by William Cahill. The bodice of the gown, featuring a scalloped portrait neckline was fashioned of candlelight alencon lace finish in an overlay of scalloped lace. The A-line organza skirt fell from the bodice at the empire waistline. The chapel train was designed in French satin and was cut in the skirt of the gown. The train continued in a deep satin line around the entire skirt, applied to the upper skirt of organza in a scroll of alencon lace. The cape and lower puff of the long organza sleeves were applied in alencon lace. The cuff of satin was buttoned to the waist. A chapel length mantilla designed especially for the bride was made of imported English silk illusion applied in alencon lace identical to that of the gown.

The bride was attended by Miss Kay Allen as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Dina Whigham, Miss Beverly Wade and Miss Jan Haynes of Lovington, New Mexico.

Lt. Joe Sheridan of Killean, Texas was the best man. The groomsmen were Glen Roe and Bill Kelly, both of El Paso, and Ed Morrison, brother of the groom from Austin. Ushers were Stan White, brother of the bride, Glen Roe and Bill Kelly.

The bridal attendants wore formal length gowns designed in petal pink silk with a candlelight, Cenice lace bertha ending in a V at the empire waistline. The long puffed organza sleeves of candlelight had cuffs of venise lace. The headpieces were identical petal pink Dior bows. The bridesmaids carried colonial nose-gays of pale pink sweetheart roses.

The bride's mother chose a turquoise silk, long sleeved dress, featuring a full skirt and a jeweled V neckline. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother was dressed in blue with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother, was attired in a beige silk ribbon knit ensemble, which was complimented by accessories and a white orchid corsage.

At the close of the nuptial ceremony, the wedding reception was held in the Perryton Club. The bride's table was in white, centered by the five-tiered wedding cake, decorated atop with a miniature bride and groom. Two white floral arrangements stood on either side of the wedding cake. The groom's table was done in pink, with two large pink ribbon-covered rings suspended above it, containing the names of Sara and Hugh. The motif carried out was two entwined rings symbolic of the marriage union.

To the right of the bride's table on a round pink covered table stood a three-tiered fountain from which streamed sparkling champagne.

Mrs. Steve Sanford registered the guests. The table was covered with a hand drawn cloth with a large gold candelabra with pink candles.

Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Victor White, Ft. Worth, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Jack M. Allen. At the groom's table serving were Mrs. William Buchhoz of Portland, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Ed Morrison of Austin, sister-in-law of the groom. Other members of the house party were Mrs. H. C. Brillhart, Jr., Mrs. J. B. Whigham and Misses Nancy Allen, Suzanne Allen, Sherron Baumann and Johnell Mayfield. Terri Taylor passed pink rice bags to the guests.

As the bridal couple departed for a honeymoon in Acapulco, Mexico, the bride wore a lime green silk coat and dress and matching accessories. She also wore a white orchid corsage.

They will be at home in El Paso, upon their return.

The bride was graduated from Perryton High School in 1969 and attended McMurry College in Abilene. She will continue her education at the University of Texas in El Paso.

The groom is a Rockport-Fulton High School graduate and of Texas A&I in Kingsville. He is an accountant for the firm of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell in El Paso.

the minor orders of Porter, Lector, Exorcist, and Acolyte in the Spring of 1970 by Most Rev. James McManus, C.S.S.R., Auxiliary Bishop of New York.

In March, 1971 Rev. Picton professed his life vows as a Redemptorist before being ordained to the order of sub-deacon the following April by Most Rev. John Fearn, Auxiliary Bishop of New York. Last May, Father Picton, was ordained to the order of deacon by Most Rev. James McManus, Auxiliary Bishop of New York.

On-the-job pastoral training was a vital part of Father Picton's years of study. He taught religious education for two summers at San Luis Rey Church, Laredo, and the same for two years at St. John's Church, Glasco, New York. He spent one summer taking the Catholic Census at Holy Ghost Church, Bellaire and another summer in a recreation program for underprivileged children at St. Alphonsus Church, New Orleans, Louisiana. Other pastoral training included part-time home visitation and pre-evangelization work among the Spanish speaking in Kingston, New York. For the past two years, Father Picton has written regularly and recorded for a radio program of music and comment called "Soundings" carried by stations in Wisconsin and New York.

Rev. Picton concelebrated a Mass of Thanksgiving on Wednesday, June 30, at 5:30 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. The Rev. Msgr. Alvin Tengler, Director of Vocations for the Diocese of Corpus Christi and Procurator at Corpus Christi Minor Seminary, preached the homily.

After a short vacation at home, Father Picton will report to his summer assignment at Holy Redeemer College in Waterford, Wisconsin, before returning to New York in the Fall to complete his studies.

For working the soil, a gardener should get a spading fork (for turning the soil) and a spade (for turning and digging holes). Any deep digging calls for a long-handled pointed shovel. For leveling the turned earth, get an iron rake. A hand trowel is good for setting out small plants.

For cultivating, you will need either a pronged cultivator or a hoe. You can get a combination hoe that has a wide blade on one side, a two-pointed blade on the other.

STAND IN for President Nixon in next year's presidential primary voting in Ohio will be Sen. Robert Taft Jr. His announcement is the first in what is expected to be the pattern during next year's campaigning—prominent Republicans in various states offering themselves as "favorite sons" pledged to the President—rather than the President himself entering the primary contests.

Texas Ranger Talks Here

Responsibilities and functions of the Texas Rangers were described by Jim Peters, a member of the famed state law enforcement agency, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Wednesday at Corky's Restaurant.

Peters, who is stationed at Corpus Christi, said Stephen F. Austin founded the Rangers in 1823 with 10 men for the purpose of protecting settlers. The Rangers were organized officials in 1835 with three companies of officers, Peters reported, adding that the organization was made a part of the Texas Department of Public Safety in 1935.

Strength of the Rangers has fluctuated through the years. At present there are five companies, each with a captain and a sergeant and a total of 80 men.

Basic responsibilities of the Rangers are law enforcement, criminal investigation and riot control. They always are available to assist local law enforcement agencies on short notice, even to the extent of flying officers to the scene of trouble, Peters said.

Candidates for appointment to the Rangers must be at least 30 years old and have a minimum of eight years of law enforcement experience. After a series of tests, candidates appear before a selection board, and there often are 300 to 400 applicants for each Ranger opening, according to Peters.

He pointed out that the Texas Rangers comprise a unique law enforcement agency, with no other state having a comparable organization.

New Methodist Minister Welcomed

Mr. and Mrs. Tom D. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Randow welcomed Rev. and Mrs. Tom McClung with an open house at the Moore's home. Rev. McClung is the new minister of the First United Methodist Church.

Those serving were Mes- ames D. T. Adams, E. N. Adams, I. E. Allemang, H. C. Bristow, Billy B. Dunlop, Leonard Hensley, Jack Horton, Bill Sprigg, Richard Stafford, Jim Wade, Gene White, and Lee Roy Young.

Assisting were Misses Jane Moore, Beth Randow, Beverly Young, DeLois Young and Mr. Tommy Moore.

additional personnel should be employed. Two possible sources of supplemental personnel are discussed below.

Summer Police Officers. Several eastern resort cities employ additional personnel during the summer only. Their resort-recreational area problems are similar to those of Rockport. Beach patrol, vacation home area patrol, and traffic enforcement efforts require additional personnel because of the increased population and police workload.

We recommend that Rockport hire police science students from the various Texas universities and colleges to supplement the regular police force during the summer. These summer officers would gain valuable practical experience in police work, and the city would receive the benefit of the officers' academic training. At least five summer officers should be employed for assignment to beach, city and residential patrol. The recommended qualifications, salaries, and other benefits for summer officers are discussed in the personnel section of this report.

Reserve Police Officers. Many small cities in the United States use reserve or auxiliary police officers to supplement their regular police force. These forces generally consist of citizens who have received little or no police training.

Even ten years ago it would have been difficult to justify handing an officer a gun and a shield and putting him on patrol without any training whatsoever. Today, this practice is indefensible. In the long run, the employment of two additional full-time police officers would be much more efficient and economical than the employment of a number of part-time reserve officers. The citizens of Rockport should not have to rely on reserve police officers.

Recommendations

1. Staff shifts as described.
2. Implement the use of summer police officers as discussed in the text.

Staffing Patrol Cars

One-man patrol cars should be utilized as they are now. The city is not presently divided into individual beats; rather, cars patrol the city at large. This practice should be continued unless more than one patrol car is on duty. In this case, the city should be divided into patrol districts with each car responsible for a given area of the community.

Recommendation

When more than one policeman is on duty, adopt district patrol methods.

Section 4 — Management

It is axiomatic that the chief of police is responsible for the performance of the entire police department, and that even a small department must have sound management if it is to operate effectively. The management functions of planning, organization, staffing, directing, coordinating, and budgeting must be professionally accomplished in small departments as well as in large departments. Even in a small police department, specific objectives must be established, programs planned, procedures outlined, plans put into action, and controls exercised. In Rockport, these management tasks should not be delegated; they should be performed by the chief himself.

STRICTLY FRESH

The catch is always poor when fishing for compliments.

A man embraces a girl before marriage, and afterward she puts a squeeze on his wallet.

We would like to inform you with pardonable pride, that no groundhog remarks were muttered in this corner prior to the recent happening.

One thing harder to keep than money is quiet.

DRIVE FRIENDLY—Gov. Preston Smith is joined by two other state officials in urging drivers to DRIVE FRIENDLY during the summer when traffic is heaviest. On the left is A. Ross Kammel, the state's traffic safety administrator, and on the right is

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety. The Governor said the state is doing everything possible to cut down on traffic accidents. "But, we need the full support of the driver himself," the Governor said.

of continuing investigations to find out exactly how marijuana affects man, was presented in SCIENCE, major publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

They found, using human volunteers in a carefully planned experiment, that marijuana remains in the bloodstream for more than three days and that it takes more than eight days for all of the chemical traces of marijuana to remove themselves from the body.

The scientists also found that the influence of the marijuana compound was rapid once it entered the body and traces appeared in blood plasma and in the brain within ten minutes after administration. They used tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), the active ingredient of marijuana, in their investigation.

From their study, they concluded that the compound and its by-products produced in the body accumulate in tissues with repeated administration or regular use. They believe that it should be possible to develop useful tests, such as a sensitive assay for detection of marijuana in human urine.

This is interesting and even exciting research progress, but it is also well to remember that new information is only one of many building blocks of knowledge that we must have for the ultimate conquest of the vast, complex problem of drug abuse.

CALENDAR juggling has enabled banks to collect interest overcharges of an estimated $150 million a year, according to Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), chairman of the House banking committee. In a speech to a bankers' association meeting, Patman said the practice of loaning money for a 360-day year but charging interest for a full 365 days is widespread. The five-day difference raises the cost of loans to businesses and consumers.

New Research On Marijuana

As a part of the fight to prevent and control narcotics and drug abuse, research plays an essential role, the importance of which is sometimes overlooked.

For example, one of the greatest needs connected with the problem of marijuana is for research to uncover new and solid knowledge about this controversial compound. There have been many lacks and gaps in our understanding of marijuana, such as precisely what happens to it when it is taken into the human body.

Now, research is increasing in this and other crucial drug fields and is beginning to pay off with new findings. These bit by bit, will form a broad and accurate base of truly scientific information. From such a base we can determine just what kinds of approaches to make to attacking the problem.

A recent illustration of the new knowledge being accrued comes from laboratories of the National Institute of Mental Health, where a team of government scientist, including 1970 Nobel prize winner, Dr. Julius Axelrod, studied the fate of marijuana in man. Their study, full significance of which is yet to be determined and which is part

FIX-IT TIP

In repairing a noisy, older water faucet, check the threads of the faucet spindle itself. If badly worn, it may not fit well. Look at the threads for signs of wear or damage. Get a new spindle if you can, taking the old one with you to a plumbing supply house. It will help if you know the name of the manufacturer of the faucet. In rare instances, the entire faucet may need replacing, but generally a new spindle will be enough.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Hayden of Rockport announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Lynne, to Charles Edward Peters, son of Mrs. Marianne Peters of Aransas Pass and Mr. Arthur W. Peters of Houston. The wedding is set for August 13 in Rockport.

Frying The Proud Catch

Austin — A healthy appetite resulting from plenty of fresh air and exercise means that a fisherman who has prepared his proud catch over an open campfire will probably be something less than a discriminating gourmet.

Consequently, the recipe is not quite as important on a camping trip as it might be under other circumstances.

But when the fisherman's catch is taken home to be cooked, the recipe becomes more important.

Pan-frying is the all-time favorite way of preparing fish, and corn meal is the traditional coating used in Texas. Pan-fried fish take on a new dimension when prepared by a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department recipe — Sesame Fried Fish.

Although the recipe requires more ingredients than a fisherman normally carries on his trip, it is perfect for a grand meal back home.

And just in case that new lure doesn't work, store-bought fish works just as well as those caught on your own.

Fish may be either deep-fat fried as indicated or pan-fried in about 1/8 inch of oil in a skillet:

Sesame Fried Fish

2 pounds fish fillets
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Dash pepper
1 cup pancake mix
1/4 cup yellow corn meal
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash Pepper
1 1/4 cups milk
1 jar (2 1/2 or 2 3/4 oz.) sesame seeds
1/2 cup flour

Clean, wash and dry fish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Combine pancake mix, corn meal, salt and pepper. Add milk and stir only until blended. Stir in sesame seeds. Roll fish in flour and dip in butter. Place in a single layer in a fry basket. Fry in deep fat, 350 degrees, for three to four minutes or absorbent paper. Keep warm. Serves six.

Social Security Teleservice

You may now telephone your social security office to file a claim or get information or if you are already a beneficiary, you can phone to change your address or make any other report, according to H. M. Cleveland, District Manager of the Social Security office in Corpus Christi.

Use of the telephone may save you a trip. Cleveland especially urged that beneficiaries use the telephone to report changes that affect payments, such as a marriage, death, or change in earnings of a beneficiary. The telephone is faster; the time saved includes that usually spent looking for a parking space, and waiting inside the office for a personal interview.

It works this way. Say you want to apply for social security payments or Medicare. The application will be filled out from information that you furnish by telephone.

Then the application will be mailed to you for signature and return. If documents such as birth certificates are needed, you may mail them with your application, but these will be returned to you, Cleveland said.

Try the telephone for your convenience. In Corpus Christi, the telephone number is 883-5511. When the operator answers, ask for Social Security, and a representative will take your call.

Peninsula Oaks Garden Club

The Peninsula Oaks Garden Club met in the Peninsula Oaks office June 24 at which time pictures of the members were taken for the scrapbook.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Thelma Sours, and the Secretary's report read by Mrs. Dorothy Morrison, who also gave the gardening report for July. Treasurer Mrs. Betty Abt reported $8 already collected for dues. A thank-you note from Mrs. R. L. Eckman was read thanking the group for the bud vase sent to her.

While waiting for the speaker to arrive, cookies and his girl friend home from a party when he had an accident. The girl was badly injured, and he rushed her to a hospital.

There he begged the doctor to do everything he could to save her life. He said he "felt responsible" because she had suffered the injury in his car.

Later, he tried to avoid liability to the doctor by pointing out that he had not made a specific agreement to pay. But a court held him responsible anyhow. The judge said the comments he did make, under such circumstances, could fairly be interpreted as a promise to foot the bills.

Veterans Hit High Of 28.2 Million

The number of American veterans hit a high of 28.2 million this month, the Veterans Administration announced today.

The VA said the number of living veterans is likely to continue to increase in the foreseeable future since the military discharge rate has been running over 80,000 a month and older veterans have been dying at a rate of about 26,000 a month.

Of VA's 28.2 million veterans, some 25.1 million served during a wartime period and an additional 3.1 million served after the Korean conflict and before the Vietnam Era—

Feb. 1, 1955 to Aug. 4, 1964 inclusive.

Most of the million veterans now in training under the post-Korean G.I. Bill served during the Vietnam Era (after Aug. 4, 1964) and this group also makes up the large bulk of those now applying for G.I. loans.

In contrast, these young Vietnam Era veterans compose only 15 percent of the patients in VA hospitals, and about 10 percent of those on the disability compensation rolls.

Veterans who served after Jan. 37, 1955, are eligible for all VA benefits. While time has run out for World War II and Korean conflict veterans for G.I. Bill education benefits, unused portions of home loan guaranty benefits have been restored.

Veterans interested in VA benefits' information should contact their local VA office or veterans organization service officer.

Rockport has been my home for 26 years. I have attended Texas A&M and Texas A&I colleges, a member of the Presbyterian Church, a director for the Rockport Shrimp Co-op, and a past representative of the Texas Seafood Institute.

The water has provided a living for me for 13 years and I have worked at all phases of jobs on the water (dredging, bulkheading, foreman on seawall project, pier building and etc.). I feel sure I am thoroughly qualified for the job of the Navigation Board.

I would like to see Rockport preserve the remaining wildlife and bird sanctuary. These are the breeding and feeding grounds of most of our aquatic and bird life on which a portion of our Rockport economy is based. I think we need to work with and consult our marine biologists on matters of this nature, and not hire, at the Navigation's expense, outside help when we have it here at no cost.

We have a growing pollution problem which needs to be curbed and controlled before it gets completely out of hand:

Through daily working on the water, I know most of the problems of our Navigation Board and can handle them.

You have two votes, one for the man in your precinct and one for your choice (at-large).

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Doctor in the House?"

Suppose you are sitting in a theater when the man next to you slumps to the floor, unconscious. In alarm, you shout:

"Is there a doctor in the house?"

And a doctor comes and gives first aid. As the person who summoned the doctor, could you be held liable for his fee?

As a general rule, when you request any kind of services to be performed for someone else, you may indeed be responsible for payment. But in the case of a medical emergency, the law usually makes an exception and denies liability. As one court explained:

"Persons commonly call for medical aid for the sick solely out of a spirit of kindness, without any expectation of becoming personally responsible." Would it matter that the sick person was your friend or relative? Not necessarily. Thus:

A man brought his daughter-in-law to the hospital for some tests while her husband was away on a trip. When surgery became necessary, he told the doctor to go ahead. Did this request, plus kinship to the patient, make him responsible for the surgical fee?

A court said no, because it was not customary for man to be responsible for his daughter-in-law's medical expenses. To make him liable, said the court, there would have to be a more specific understanding between him and the doctor.

Still, the understanding need not be as specific as a formal legal contract. In another case, a man was driving
