By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas appear to be making headway toward narrowing down the field for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Although it is not a two-man race as yet, the two senators are fighting their bids on delegates in preparation for a head-on battle in the early balloting at the July Los Angeles convention.

No politician is counting either Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri or Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's nominee, out of the running. But at best the latter two appear likely to have to wait for any Kennedy-Johnson deadlock before they can make their move.

Kennedy already has been able to crack open the 81-vote Pennsylvania delegation. He had feared it might be a solid holdout against him in the initial convention counting.

Kennedy's friends, say Gov. David L. Lawrence's announcement he will not try to put the Pennsylvania group under the unit rule means that the Massachusetts senator can hope to pick up about half of the state's vote.

Kennedy hopes he can persuade Minnesota's 11-vote delegation to come his way without too much rallying. It is committed now to Humphrey.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, got a national "booster" Wednesday when the Scripps-Hoar and newspapers endorsed him as "the ablest and strongest Democrat available" for the presidency. Johnson could count on new convention support from this but its influence on undecided delegates might be considerable.

Kennedy endorsed by the Textile Workers Union of America, interrupts a western campaign swing today for a conference with Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams at the latter's summer home on Mackinac Island.

There were indications that he may come up with Michigan's hefty 51 votes on the early balloting if Williams agrees to step out of the way. Williams has been a favorite son candidate available for a national job if the Demo-

Soil Test Fees Hiked

Due to increasing costs of operating the Soil Testing Laboratory at College Station, soil test fees will be increased to $2 per sample effective Sept. 1.

County Agricultural Agent Billy Roach said he received the information on the increase today from Director John E. Hutcheson, Texas-Agricultural Extension Service.

The increased costs for labor and chemicals used in operating the laboratory were listed as primary cause for the rate increase.

Even though soil tests will cost $2 beginning Sept. 1, Roach pointed out that money spent for a soil analysis is still the cheapest and most convenient method for determining fertilizer need, and as a guide for investing more profitably in a fertilizer program.

They've learned not to carry a heavy electric iron or heavy cosmetics jars because these weigh more than half-a-dozen light-weight dresses. They know it's best to stick to one color scheme, with shoes and handbag to go with everything.

Recently fashion experts of a major airline and a leading chemical company got together and combed the market for a washable, packable, wash-and-wear travel wardrobe of the new synthetics and resin-treated cotton, all to fit in one 27-inch suitcase.

Each garment was tested before inclusion. Here's the result: all in one color scheme of simple blue and white, with black patent shoes and bag.

Reduce Wrinkles

Over-drying cause wrinkles in natural as well as man-made fibers. New clothes dryers have warm or medium settings for synthetic fabrics. If your clothes dryer has only a high heat setting, remove the clothes while still damp and put them on hangers. Never leave garments in the clothes dryer after the tumbling has stopped. This will put the wrinkles right back into the fabrics.

International Phone Book Assists In Shrinking World

By INEZ ROBB
A friend of mine, who knows my weakness for the printed word, has just sent me the 10th annual edition of the International Telephone Directory, a staggering compendium of which I had never heard until 24 hours ago.

But, as you can see, it is now celebrating its 10th birthday anniversary with an edition in two volumes, both of which are only slightly less hefty than the Manhattan telephone guide.

The two books, in giddy bright red covers, add up to 2,157 pages of miscellaneous telephonic information in four languages—English, French, German and Spanish—ranging from the right number to call in Aden for an aluminum saucupan to the correct number in Yugoslavia for a reliable "weeking contractor."

is the Canary Islands at $15.90 for a three-minute period. That is $2.90 more than a similar call to Norway, Israel, Okinawa, the Philippines, the U.S.S.R. or Yugoslavia.

Sometimes, too, the night rates are lower, but there seems to be no general rule. If you have to call British Guiana, it is going to cost you $15 around the clock. But if you call the United Kingdom, it will cost you $9 at night, or $3 less than in daylight. If it cost $13 any old time to speak with Afghanistan, but if you talk with the Cape Verde Islands on Sunday you can do so at the bargain rate of $12 or $3 less than on weekdays.

And sometimes, it will pay you to go to Washington to make your calls. Rates to some countries are cheaper from the nation's capital than from New York.

But what the directory proves, on the whole, is that you can't get away from the phone in Madagascar, or Ghana, or the Territory of Papua, or St. Helena (what a comfort such service would have been to Napoleon) or Oman or Iqanda. When you contemplate inflation, and then what $15 will buy today, you can see that no permit is safe.

However, this directory is not for backfence gossip. It is strictly a "world-wide subscriber listing of business and professional groups classified by country, city, type of business or profession, name of subscriber (where supplied) and telephone number." No big operator should be without one!

Where's Line Of Tideland?

Now it would be a lie for me to say that I haven't found the directory fascinating, especially the information that you can phone any place in the world today, where the telephone reaches and the teenagers aren't on the wire, for no more than $15.90 for three minutes of snappy conversation (this and following charges are based on calls from New York or Washington, D. C.).

For some reason beyond me, the most expensive place to call of those 2,157 pages or that I found it impossible to put down either volume until I had perused it to the ultimate number, which happens to be 32,192, and will get you "Deen Boring Contractors" in Zagreb. Just for the record, the first number is 2067-82 and will put you in touch with Air-India International, Esplanade Road, in Aden.

But it would also be a lie to say that I haven't found the directory fascinating, especially the information that you can phone any place in the world today, where the telephone reaches and the teenagers aren't on the wire, for no more than $15.90 for three minutes of snappy conversation (this and following charges are based on calls from New York or Washington, D. ## All Divided But Family Meat Loaf

By HAL BOYLE
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — She had done her best—that she was sure of.

The decree had been granted and she was alone in the dark with the two children that should have fleshed her and her husband together but in the end hadn't.

He hadn't fought her and she had had her way in court and the victory was all hers, and she washed in her dry mouth for the sweet taste of victory, but it had no flavor.

Yet the victory was there. The court said it was there. The children were hers, and she had got a good settlement—all he had in the bank—and lawyers fees, the insurance and a third of his salary.

She could thank the judge for that. He has been stern and just. He was a family man himself. He had done what was right. He had recognized she was a good wife.

She had a feeling of relief. "I have done what was right, too," she told herself. She even told herself she held no anger against her husband. It was just life.

"I wasn't trying to punish him, but he has his responsibilities," she said, alone.

She went into the kitchen and opened the refrigerator and made herself a sandwich.

As she munched it she thought back about the whole thing. "What else could I do?" she thought. "After all I have my pride."

She pulled out a bottle of milk and poured herself a glass. She pushed back the refrigerator door. It slammed shut with a bang. She jerked, startled.

Nervously she opened the door and the light came on. The judge had changed her life for tomorrow, but her refrigerator was stocked for the yesterday she was more familiar with.

As if she were from another world she studied its contents—the planned meals ahead undelivered, the covered leftovers from before the jars of baby fruits the kids still cling to for dessert, the meat loaf good for a husband's lunch.

When she saw the meat loaf, she wanted to cry. That was something the judge hadn't divided.

It was true of the whole refrigerator. The judge hadn't gone into that. It still belonged to the family as it had been. It held the children's frozen home-made fruit pop sticks, her marmalade from last summer, the bottle of barbecue sauce the husband insisted on making that always had too much garlic in it.

Alone in the kitchen she heard her daughter cry from her bedroom. "Mommy, can I have a drink of water?" Obeyed by the child a drink and the girl sighed and relapsed in sleep.

And then her son stirred in his slumber, and murmured, "Daddy."

"Daddy?" she asked, startled. "Daddy?" her son murmured again, "Daddy."

The mother looked down at her boy in the dark and her heart was dry for an answer. "What would I say to him when he awakens?"

She went back into the kitchen, opened the refrigerator, and pulled out the meat loaf that would have been part of her husband's lunch.

She had meant only to make another sandwich for herself, but all of a sudden she clasped the cold meat loaf to her warm bosom and wept for the years ahead.

Birds Riding High After Brown's Feat

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Those bustling Baltimore Orioles have a 2½ game lead in the American League, the biggest bulge of the season in the majors, now that old pappy guy Hal Brown has shown the kids how it's done.

The lean right-hander permitted just one hit—Mickey Mantle's first-inning home run—while beating the New York Yankees 4-1 Wednesday night. It was Brown's first one-hitter in a 10-year career, and rookie Ron Hansen's three-run homer in the fifth inning made it pay off for the Birds' sixth victory in seven games.

Baltimore gained half a game over the second place Cleveland Indians, who were rained out at Kansas City, and stayed 2½ games ahead over Chicago's defending champion White Sox. The Sox whipped Detroit 6-0 behind southpaw Frank Baumann, who gave up four hits in the first shut-out of his six-year career.

Boston's two-night doubleheader with Washington was rained out.

In the National League, Pittsburgh retained a 1½ game lead, winning five in a row with a 5-0 decision over Cincinnati on Bob Friend's three-hit pitching. Second-place San Francisco defeated Chicago's Cubs 2-1, on a two-out double in the ninth by winner Sam Jones. Milwaukee regained third place, 6½ games behind, with a 6-3 victory at Philadelphia after losing four in a row. St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 5-2.

Brown, now 4-1 with his second victory over the Yankees, walked two, struck out three and was perfect over the last 3 2/3 innings. He came around on Gabler's wild pitch and a single by Mary Breeding.

Baumann, now 6-0 lifetime against the Tigers, failed to strike out a man, but walked just one and faced the minimum 12 men over the last four frames while sending Detroit to a fifth straight loss. Gene Freese drove in four runs for the White Sox, three with a homer in a four-run, ninth against reliever Tom McLean. They had only three hits in eight innings off loser Jim Bunning (1-3) but clumped three of them in the fifth for two runs on singles by Minnie Miñoso and Freese, that sandwiched Sherm Lollar's double. Earl Ferguson also homered in the ninth.

RONNIE JONES And His Left Handed Bat

Tigers Meet Nederland In State Opener

Ronnie Jones (6-4) was to have mounted the hill at 2 1/2 this afternoon for the Snyder Tigers, as they go in quest of their initial state baseball championship in Austin, with Nederland furnishing the fodder.

Jones, a southpaw, is expected to be opposed by right hander Fred Neely, who has posted a total of 15 victories for the year without defeat.

The remaining teams competing for the Class AAA title in addition to Snyder and Nederland are Seguin and Kilgore. 4A action will be led by San Antonio Harlandale, Midland, Houston, Bellare, and Fort Worth Paschal.

The state meet is a two-day affair, with each team entered playing two games in as many days. The winners in each class will lock horns tomorrow for the championship, while the first-day losers vie in consolation games at the same time.

Nederland Is Favorite In Tourney

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Schoolboy Baseball tournament began today with a game between two rookies in the meet, Seguin and Kilgore.

Nederland plays Snyder in the second Class AAA game and the big cities compete tonight with Fort Worth Paschal against undefeated San Antonio Harlandale and Midland against Houston Bellare in Class AAAA.

Fred Neely, with a remarkable 15-0 season record, will open for Nederland, slight favorite for the title. Neely, a 5-foot, 8-inch right-hander, made the all-tournament team last year as a first baseman. Catcher-pitcher George Devries is slugging at a .494 clip.

Pitcher-outfielder Ronnie Jones leads the Snyder attack with a lustrous .453 batting average while sophomore outfielder Spencer Dyer has a .349 average. The Tigers have four strong pitchers in Jones, Norman Gladson, Freddie Miller, and Charles Gladson.

Six of Snyder's 13 losses were in Class AAAA foes.

Seguin, winning its first district title in any sport in years, has been a clutch club all through the playoffs and the later stages of its district race. Coach Bill McEliduff will send right-hander Charles Hartenstein in the opener.

Big hitters for Seguin are first baseman Joel Tiggett (.400), catcher Vank Camarillo (.333), shortstop Bob Kramer (.348) and third baseman K. Dorr (.265). Seguin ousted defending state district.

Kilgore sports fine clutch pitchers in Bob Sehanan, who hurled a 7-0 victory against Jimmie Carpenter, Jimmy Crouch, Max Beck and Tommy Tilton. Leading hitters are catcher John Skeeters (.441), shortstop Roger Minor (.346) and second baseman Dickie Welch (.328).

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Friend, a 22-game winner in 1958, and a 19-game loser last season, definitely is back in business with Pittsburgh. But the big question now is whether the Pirates can stay in business on a 17-game, three-week road trip.

Friend won his sixth, putting away his third shutout with a three-hitter, as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 5-0 Wednesday night. It was the fifth straight success for the Pirates and left them 1½ games ahead of San Francisco in the National League race as they closed a 104 home stand.

Now all the Pirates have to do is to keep rolling on the road trip that opens at Philadelphia Friday night.

The Giants stayed close with a 2-1 decision over Chicago's Cubs, breaking a 14 tie on the winning pitcher Sam Jones' two-out double in the ninth. Milwaukee regained third from Cincinnati with a 6-3 victory at Philadelphia. St. Louis rapped Los Angeles 5-2.

In the American League, Baltimore built a 2½ game lead, leading off the season on Hal Brown's one-hitter in a 4-1 victory over New York Chicago's White Sox defeated Detroit 6-0 on a four-hitter by Frank Baumann.

All of the Reds hits were singles. The Pirates beat ex-mate Bob Purkey (3-2) with two runs in the first, when Dick Groat doubled between singles by Don Hoak and Rocky Nelson. Roberto Clemente doubled home two more in the third. Hoak, Groat and Bob Skinner singled for the final run in the seventh.

The Giants had a 1-1 tie, but had only two hits off losing lefty Dick Ellsworth (2-2) with two out in the ninth. Then Bob Schmidt singled and Jones, after watching his mates leave seven men on base, ended it with the two-hitter. Jones (6-4) allowed five hits and struck out seven, losing a shutout in the fourth when Ernie Banks singled and Ed Boachee tripled.

Milwaukee, 6½ games behind the Pirates, scored the clincher against Robin Roberts (1-7) on Wes Covington's solo home run in the sixth inning. Covington and Joe Adcock, who regained the NL lead from Clemente at 336 with two hits, each drove in two runs.

Bob Buhl (4-2) gave up 10 hits.

Ken Boyer upped his major-league leading home run total to 17 and drove in two runs for the Cardinals. His single and Daryl Spencer's two-run double brought St. Louis from behind in a three-run fifth against loser Sandy Koufax (1-6). Winning reliever Bob Dillito (3-2) and Andy McDaniel blanked Los Angeles on six hits after rookie Ray Sadecki gave up two runs.

Covington's Foot Better

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wes Covington, the big guy the Milwaukee Braves need in left field daily for their pennant run, says there is some improvement in his ailing right foot. He hopes to be in the lineup regularly now.

The 28-year-old outfielder, who helped the Braves to pennants in 1957 and 1958 before being hurt late last year, has started only five games this season.

Wednesday night he made his second straight start and helped the Braves to a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia by driving in two runs with his third homer of the year and a double. He kicked his average from .179 to .219 as the Braves snapped a four-game losing streak and moved into third place in the National League.

"To some extent there is some improvement," Covington said after the game, "and when I get those arch supports that will help, too. They're built up my inseparable foam rubber and that has given some relief but it still hurts when I cut out after a line drive or fly."

"I'm running better than I have been, not as fast, but better. If I can continue the progress I feel I will run even better."

Busy Slate Mapped For Champion Joe Brown

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP) — As soon as lightweight champion Joe Brown regains his health and strength there is a lot of money and action in store for him.

Manager Lou Viscusi has mapped out a busy campaign for his 34-year-old mauler, including several title defenses.

Brown has been out of action since last March 21 when he suffered a fractured rib, costing him a technical knockout loss to unsung Ray Portilla.

Viscusi expects Brown will be passed by the doctors and start training next week.

Then, said Viscusi, he has the following tentative schedule lineup for Brown:

1. One or two overnight fights to get sharpened up.
2. A title defense in San Francisco against the winner of the Carlos Ortiz-Dulio Lol junior lightweight championship fight.

Busy Slate Mapped For Champion Joe Brown

The Ortiz-Lol bout is scheduled for San Francisco, June 15. Viscusi said he has a $70,000 offer from San Francisco matchmaker Benny Ford.

A title defense in London against England's Dave Charney. Brown stopped Charney in the sixth round of a title fight at Houston, Dec. 2 that was Brown's eighth and most recent title defense.

A title defense against Detroit's Gene Gresham in Detroit.

"That's the way it looks right now," said Viscusi today. "There could be changes. I've turned down propositions for fights with Len Mathias and Philadelphians in New York and Philadelphia. The other offers are better."

"Of course, Joe has to win to keep on fighting for the title. Joe would rather fight for the title and make big money, anyway, because he's getting older, you know."

Tommy The Horse Gets Top Service

CHICAGO (AP) — You could hardly buy the services involved in rescuing Tommy from his predicament.

Maybe Julius Pekofsky couldn't have bought those services; maybe he wouldn't.

Tommy couldn't have bought his way out of his trouble; it looked like he didn't want to get out of it anyway.

But, Tommy the Horse, whether he enjoyed his fling into the public eye or not, is once more a member of the diminishing horsey set that pulls a fruit and vegetable cart.

Tommy's troubles started Monday when he fell down a stairway for walked down or fell through rotted boards into an unused, empty wine cellar. The first floor now is used as a stable.

Pekofsky, his owner, found him Tuesday, and when his own efforts to free Tommy failed called the anti-cruelty society for help.

J. J. Shaffer, managing director of the society, looked over the situation and decided Tommy might be enticed out of the cellar with hay and other horse goodies. None worked.

So engineers were called; they looked over the problem and decided to call.

Four pieces of fire department equipment; several police and squad cars; several civil defense rescue unit trucks; an assortment of construction crew men; a tow truck, a winch; block and tackle unit.

Tommy spent most of Tuesday and Wednesday placidly munching hay and drinking water.

A tarpaulin was stretched around his midsection and attached to a hoist; it slipped and anyway, Tommy refused to cooperate. Tommy remained in the cellar.

Workers covered Tommy with an asbestos blanket and others widened the opening above him. When the grounds workers en-

'Savvy' Sides Stepping Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Savvy" Sides is a technician, a seasoned sailor, a fellow who gives orders in quiet tone.

On Sept. 1, John H. Sides, moving up from his present three-star rank to four-star admiral, will become commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

The appointment of the 56-year-old native of Roslyn, Wash., was announced by the White House Wednesday to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Adm. Herbert G. Hopwood.

Sides is a veteran of bitter battles in the Pacific, and has two Legion of Merit decorations for action against the enemy. He was commander of a mine division which penetrated "dangerous waters protected by hostile mines and numerous suicide craft" to help put American forces ashore on Okinawa.

However, Sides never has held command of any of the "numbered fleets"—a normal step toward the high commands of the Pacific or Atlantic sea forces. His brilliant record as weapons technician, including his present duty as head of the Defense Department's Weapons Systems Evaluation Group (WSEG) probably accounts in part for his appointment to the Pacific Fleet command.

Sides gained his nickname "Savvy" after graduation from the U. S. Naval Academy while serving on his first ship, the battleship Tennessee. He declines to say why the nickname was tagged to him, admitting only to the time of its origin.

But his friends note that he was a "brain" even in the Academy, from which he was graduated ninth of 494 members in 1925.

He preferred weapons, became post graduate ordnance engineer, and has spent much of his naval career specializing in that field. He contributed to development of some of the first of the navy's missiles, including the talos, terrier and tartar weapons.

In 1956, as the Navy moved into the era of missilery, Sides became the first admiral to hoist his flag in a sea-going guided missile command. He was given command of the then new cruiser division six, consisting of the missile-firing cruisers Canberra and Boston and the command ship Northampton.

In August 1957, the Defense Department, which had kept an eye on technician Sides, brought him into the Pentagon as director of WSEG.

Those who work with him say he has been impartial and objective in directing the agency which assays a proposed developmental or operating weapons system. A little over a year ago, Sides WSEG ordered tests made of the Navy's antisubmarine warfare system against modern, nuclear powered undersea craft. WSEG reportedly gave the Navy's ASW force a low rating on its ability to detect and destroy modern day submarines.

Sides, at 56, looks younger than that, his hair still black and neatly combed to one side, his eyes sharp, his jaw square.

Back before the Pentagon's unrelenting pressure dictated his life, Sides played golf.

Mrs. Sides is the former Virginia E. Roath of Intex, Ky. They have one daughter, Joanne. Her middle name could be the feminine form for Sides' own nickname. It is "Savina."

Church Tries To Pacify Rebellion

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Leaders of the American Baptist Convention strove today to pacify rebellion in the ranks, and at the same time maintain brotherly ties with Protestantism at large.

At issue was the denomination's long-standing affiliation with the National Council of Churches.

With an estimated 10,000 Baptists massing for the opening tonight of their annual convention, delegates from the First Baptist Church of Wichita, Kan., pressed a demand that connections with the council be repudiated.

They accused the council of left-wing tendencies, citing support for such things as more foreign aid, disarmament agreements and federal aid to education.

They challenged its rights to speak for Baptists on such subjects as the Vietnam war.

After three troubled days of preliminary huddles seeking to settle the dispute, including sessions with Wichita representatives, church leaders still were struggling to find a solution.

The 15-million-member denomination includes 6,240 churches in 42 states.

The 4,200-member Wichita church, one of the communion's largest, has voted to withhold its previous $33,000 annual allocation to the national body, so long as it maintains links with the national council.

Power Fails In Big Area

ABIENE (AP)—A power plant generator failure Wednesday interrupted electrical service to a large section of West Texas.

A spokesman for the West Texas Utilities Co. said the 115,000-kilowatt generator in the No. 5 unit of the Texas Electric Service Co. Permian Basin plant at Monahans failed in trying to take up the slack, the 125,000-kilowatt plant of West Texas Utilities at Paint Rock then was knocked out of service by the resulting overload.

Power was off in Abilene from 11 a. m. to 12:25 p. m. and in other cities power was off for periods ranging from five minutes to 1 1/2 hours.

Hospitals used emergency power.

Also affected, along with surrounding rural areas, were San Angelo, Sterling City, Wall, Eola, Christoval, Tankersley, Ballinger, Cross Plains, Cisco, Albany, Stamford, Anson, Haskell, Hamlin, Rotan, Knox City, Spur, Sweetwater, Roscoe, Colorado City, Snyder, Seymour, Bomarton, Andrews and Lamesa.

Vegetables, Flowers Growing In Streets

JEANNETTE, Pa. (AP) — Vegetables and flowers are growing on a main business street in this western Pennsylvania community.

Tomatoes, cabbage, corn, peer for operating rooms and police-station standby power for radio equipment until service was restored. Some elevators in buildings stalled between floors.

The project was started about three months ago on a seven-block section of the street. It was to be finished by now. But slowed-up installation of water lines and a gas company strike have impeded progress.

East-West Stalemate Seen During Remainder Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western leaders now look for a stalemate on major issues between the Soviet Union and the Western powers for the next six to 12 months.

During this time there may be periodic crises brought on by Soviet or Red Chinese efforts to probe for weakness among the Allies and throw them off balance.

Berlin, and Southeast Asia are considered danger points, but the chance of a major Soviet challenge to the West at Berlin is presently believed to be remote.

In the interim British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle are expected to take the lead in trying to work out closer ties between Britain and international economic organizations on the continent. These include the European Common Market, the European Atomic Community and the Coal and Steel Community.

Macmillan reportedly feels that the failure of the Paris summit meeting last month, and the resulting blow to his hopes for broad improvement in relations with the Soviet Union, makes it necessary for Britain to re-examine its policy of standing largely apart from the continental allies in the economic field. De Gaulle wants to forge the nations of the European area into a new force in world affairs, as he made clear in a speech this week.

The impact of the summit failure on East-West relations and the development of future allied strategy were discussed around the dinner table Wednesday night by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. They met at Herter's home.

The three are attending a conference here this week of foreign ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

Herter told the eight-nation SEATO council Wednesday that since the summit conference a breakdown in probing actions by the communist powers must be expected, particularly in the Far East.

The present belief among Western officials, however, is reported to be—not that the Chinese Reds are planning a frontal attack on any country—but that they will try by subversion to make trouble in countries under allied protection, like South Viet Nam.

So far as diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union are concerned, Western officials are said to be largely convinced that Khrushchev does not want to start the cold war going full scale again. On the contrary they think he wants to keep the way open for summit negotiations with Eisenhower's successor some time next year.

At Paris two weeks ago and later in a speech in East Berlin the Soviet leader talked about a summit conference in six or eight months. He deferred action on a Berlin showdown at least until that time.

By staying his hand on Berlin Khrushchev has preserved a pressure, the threat of a war-breeding Berlin crisis, which he undoubtedly hopes to use if necessary to force the leaders of the United States, Britain and France back to the conference table.

Indications at the moment are that he may find this far more difficult to achieve than he did last year when his threat to Berlin persuaded President Eisenhower to agree to a meeting. The dominant attitude in the West now, especially in Paris and Washington, is that summit diplomacy was badly damaged by Khrushchev's bitter personal attacks on Eisenhower.

Even if the next U.S. president is willing to attend a summit conference, none is considered likely for at least a year. The extent of preparations needed after he took office would make such a top level East-West session almost impossible before the summer or fall of 1961.

Watermelons Are On Way To Market

By The Associated Press
Have your watermelon knife ready.

That's a suggestion from folk who check Texas fruit and vegetable markets every morning. They note increased shipments of charleston greys from Florida. The crop estimate for the Florida melon crop is 15 per cent more than last year.

The Texas summer melon acreage is 21 per cent larger than in 1959. Prices are adjusting to the larger shipments.

Huge supplies and economical prices continue on cabbage, carrots, celery, greens, lemons, lettuce, okra, onions and green onions, blackeye and other peas, Potatoes and yellow crookneck squash. That's on the basis of reports from the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Cantaloups are lower than last week but still fairly high, as shipments from California and Arizona enter.

Apples, avocados and grapefruit carry higher prices. New-crop seedless grapes are appear-

Pair Killed In Stolen Plane

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — Two young brothers who had read a book on how to fly stole a plane today and flew it for 10 minutes. They then crashed to their deaths in a screaming power dive.

Their small brown dog was killed with them.

The single-engine plane exploded and burned on impact. It just missed a group of houses, plunging straight into the ground at a school.

Only three weeks ago, police said, the youngsters tried to steal an airplane at the same field from which they took off just after midnight Wednesday. They said they "would die trying" to fly.

The victims were James A. Mc-

Donald, 14, and Thomas, 12. Descriptions of the crash varied.

Police Lt. D.F. Archer said the boy at the plane's controls apparently "gunned it wide open" as it nosed toward the ground. A witness said it sounded as though the engine sputtered just before the fatal dive.

Police could not determine who was at the controls.

The boys were listed as runaways by their father on "Tuesday."

On their earlier flying attempt they were caught by deputies as they taxied a light plane down the runway at Cable Air Field in nearby Claremont. Juvenile authorities handled the matter.

One boy said then he had read a book of flying instructions.

Walter Cable, operator of the airport, six miles from the crash location, said private planes left at the field usually are kept full red with fuel.

An ignition key is generally required to start the engine, he said; but the brothers had started the plane on their earlier attempt by short-circuiting the ignition system.

Well Spacing Plan Upheld

AUSTIN (AP) — The Third Court of Appeals held Wednesday that leased land in unproven oil territory is subject to the state's conservation rules.

In effect the appellate upheld the Railroad Commission in denying the application of M. D. Richards for a permit to drill a well on a two-acre lease in the Poesta Creek Field in Bee County.

The court's opinion said a two-acre tract created by dividing a larger tract "is not entitled to separate development under the rules of the commission."

The decision reversed the decision of Travis County District Judge Jack Roberts who held that state oil well spacing rules (Rule 37) allow the drilling of at least one well on each tract, no matter how small.
