Golden Tornadoes Meet Amarillo Sandstorms In Crucial Game Saturday

Locals Will Be Under Dogs In Amarillo Grid Battle

The Golden Tornadoes will journey to Amarillo Saturday of this week to play the big bad Golden Sandstorm of the Pandhandle city.

Although the most optimistic rate the Tornadoes only an outside chance of stopping the Sandies, still there is always the possibility of an upset, and the local lads are determined to give the best account of themselves possible. They point to the fact that Amarillo is not unbeatable, by the fact that they have lost more times than they have gained this season, and they are not giving up until the final minutes sound to end the contest.

For the past several years the Sandies have been considered among the outstanding high school grid machines in the state and have been among the top ranking elevens most of the time.

The following clipping appeared in the Dallas Morning News Wednesday under the heading "The Sport Broadcast" written by George White and might easily apply to the Tornado-Sandies contest. The clipping follows: It may be just as well to defer ordering flowers for the Southern Methodists. There's at least an outside chance that their funeral, scheduled Saturday at Pittsburgh, will not materialize. Something could go wrong. The corpse might arise unexpectedly or Dr. John Bain Sutherland might bobble part of his sermon. It may be (Continued on Back Page)

LOCAL GROCER CONSTRUCTING NEW BUILDING

Fred Sanders, local grocery man, this week started the construction of a building to house his grocery business. Site of the structure will be at the corner of South First and Katherine Streets.

It will be 50x50 feet of frame construction, finished in ornamental white stucco. Facing the south the south side will be of plate glass, with one plate glass window on the east side. Setting back from the street thirty feet, it will allow for plenty of parking room in the front and on the east side, as well as on the west.

George Hornbeck, local contractor has the contract, and construction is progressing at a rapid rate.

The lots were purchased from Raymond Cope. Mr. Sanders will not move to the new building until after the first of January, he said Thursday.

ROTARY CLUB HOLDS MEET FRIDAY NOON

The Lamesa Rotary club met in regular session at the Williams hotel last Friday with all members present but three.

Pictures of the San Francisco Convention were shown. These movies are furnished through the Rotary International and cost the local club only the postage to the next point of showing. They were greatly enjoyed by all.

Cleve R. Austin has been appointed temporary chairman, to fill in for C. A. Hollingsworth, during the busy season at the bank. An appeal was issued this week to the members to appear at the meetings on time, as there has been a tendency during the past few meetings to come in late.

SACRED HARP SINGERS WILL MEET OCT. 23

Announcement is made this week that there will be a Sacred Harp Singing at the Primitive Baptist church in Brownfield the Fourth Sunday in October.

An invitation has been issued to all singers of the South Plains to attend. There will be dinner on the ground also, it is announced.

Estimated 18,000 Bales Are Ginned In Dawson County

Crop Is Probably Half Gathered Report Shows

Private estimates among several of Dawson county's ginner, place the cotton ginned in the county from the 1938 crop at around 18,000 bales. With the clear warm weather which has prevailed throughout the fall picking and ginning has gone forward as rapidly as in many years, and it is estimated that approximately half the crop has been picked at this time.

Although this would place the estimate at around 38,000 to 40,000 bales there are many who predict that the county will not gather more than 30,000 bales, while others raise the amount to near 45,000 bales. Last year Dawson county ranked third in Texas in cotton production with 110,000 bales. There are many reasons why this year's crop will get nowhere near that mark. In the first place under the new government program only 128,000 acres were allowed to be planted in cotton this year, and weather conditions have been far less favorable than they were in 1937. However, the crop this year will be near a normal crop for the county.

Golden Tornadoes Win Over Littlefield 25-0 Here Friday

A large crowd saw the Golden Tornadoes get sweet revenge on the Littlefield Wildcats for a licking administered last year, Friday night, when the locals took the visitors in tow, to the tune of 25 to 0.

During the first half the contest was tightly fought on each side and the half found the locals leading 12 to 0. The Tornadoes came back strong in the second half to take the offensive and run the Wildcats ragged. The local lads clearly outclassed the visitors in every department and only once did the Wildcats threaten to score, and then on the six yard line their offensive bogged down and they lost the ball on downs.

The Tornadoes gained most of their ground on ground plays, but mixed the aerial attack with end runs and line smashes to keep the visitors bewildered most of the game.

This game was scheduled to have been played here Thanksgiving day, but in view of the fact that Littlefield is a strong contender for Class B honors in the district, it is highly possible that they may have a championship performance for that day, and it was decided to hold the game here at this time rather than to take a chance of having to cancel it.

Col. Dickie's Band To Be Here Saturday

Announcement is made that Col. Dickie and his Cowtown Band will visit Collins Dry Goods Company in Lamesa Saturday.

This is a real hillbilly band and to those who like this kind of music and entertainment, a real treat is in store for you next Saturday. They will play a concert in front of the store which will be amplified through a public address system, so that all may hear.

This band represents Williamson-Dickie Company of Fort Worth, the largest manufacturers of work clothing in the entire southwest. Their product, Dickie's overalls and work clothing is handled exclusively in Lamesa by Collins, and they have an enviable reputation in this section for the state for their high wearing qualities.

JACK McLAUGHLIN

Mr. McLaughlin was born in Waco, Texas. While still a lad, he moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McLaughlin, to Stamford. He entered grade school there, graduated from the Stamford high school and also from the Stamford Junior College.

Upon completing his education, he accepted a position with the J. T. Bryant Dry Goods Company of that city. He worked for that concern until 1928 when he went to St. Louis and accepted a position with Ely Walker Dry Goods Company, large wholesale distributors. He traveled on the road for this concern until the summer of 1929, when he came to Lamesa to be associated with Bryant-Link Company.

He was with the Bryant-Link Company until 1932. Following which he worked with the Magnolia Petroleum Company, of Lamesa, C. E. Martin Motor Company, Sanders Grocery and others.

In 1934 he accepted a position with the Shook Tire Company as manager of their Lamesa Store. He ran this store for them until 1935, when he entered business for himself handling Goodrich products.

His business grew to the extent that in the summer of 1937, Eldrid Travis, joined him in the operation of the store.

He has been a steady growth ever since he opened for himself and today he has one of the outstanding tire and accessory stores in West Texas. Mr. McLaughlin was married in 1930 to Miss Ruth Fry, of Anson. She is a teacher in the Lamesa school system. They own a nice home at 306 North Wason.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and the First Presbyterian church. He has been most active in the organization and operation of the Tornado club, a club sponsoring the local football squad. He is most active in the civic development of the town and county, and a firm believer in the future growth of this community.

WILL DISPLAY NEW CHEVIES ON SATURDAY

Announcement is made this week that the 1939 Chevrolets will be on display at the showrooms of Vaughn Chevrolet Saturday, October 21.

These new cars promise some outstanding mechanical improvements, new lines which greatly enhance their beauty, and most interesting of all, substantial reductions in prices.

Your attention is called to the large ad in this issue of the Courier. Read their ad and go around Saturday and see these new cars.

A. B. Cooper, 82, Lamesa Resident Is Death Victim

A. B. Cooper, 82, pioneer citizen of Lamesa and Dawson county, died at his home in Lamesa Wednesday night.

Judge Cooper had held the office of Justice of the Peace in this county for a number of years, but retired from the office a few years ago.

He was very active in the Odd Fellows Lodge and they will hold a service at the grave.

Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist church in Lamesa on Thursday afternoon, with Rev. T. C. Willett, and Rev. J. A. Wheeler officiating. Interment will follow in the Oak Cemetery.

Hiway Department Held Safety Drive Monday - Tuesday

Over 2,200 Cars Pass Through Safety Lane

The State Highway Department stationed nine highway patrolmen in Lamesa Monday and Tuesday of this week to conduct a safety test.

Special equipment was set up on the north side of the square for testing for wheel alignment, testing brakes, headlights, horns and windshield wipers. With this equipment it is possible to tell whether wheels are in line, and exactly how brake action is on each individual wheel.

Between 2100 and 2200 cars and trucks were carried through the line and many of them were found to be faulty in some form or another. Where the car was at fault a red tag was given with the request that the trouble be corrected and the vehicle returned for another check. According to the officers in charge, the motoring public of Dawson county were very cooperative, and although it was not compulsory that these corrections be made, nearly everyone had the trouble fixed and returned for another check to secure their final okay.

Another feature of the test was the headlight test. With this equipment it is possible to tell at what speed a vehicle may safely travel at night.

Another test will be made in Lamesa in about ninety days, according to the officers in charge.

Mrs. R. W. Myers Dies At Home In Lamesa

Funeral services for Mrs. R. W. Myers were held Monday afternoon at Higginbotham Funeral home, with Brother Foster officiating.

Mrs. Myers was a pioneer of Dawson county, having lived here for a long number of years. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dade Frost, who preceded her in death, were among the first settlers in this county.

She is survived by her husband, R. W. Myers, pioneer merchant of Lamesa and the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schuler of Snyder; Noble Frost and Mrs. Clyde Frost of O'Donnell; Mr. and Mrs. Wren and Mrs. Wright of Snyder; Mrs. W. L. Clement and Mrs. Mattie Wyatt of Lamesa.

The body was carried to Snyder, where burial was made in the Snyder cemetery.

Mrs. Myers leaves a host of friends in this county who will mourn her passing and will join the Courier in deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mutual Aid Ass'n. Given OK By C. C.

Chamber of Commerce recently approved the organization of a Mutual Aid Association for Lamesa and Dawson county, and in line with this, Matt McCall, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is calling a meeting of the business men and other interested parties affecting permanent organization. The meeting is to be held in the District Court Room, Wednesday morning, October 26.

Due to the many requests for aid from would be relief clients and the heavy burden placed upon the business men of the town, because of the lack of organization, it has become necessary and expedient that a permanent organization be set up to handle the situation.

All merchants and other interested parties of the county are earnestly requested to attend the meeting and assist in organization of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Amel Payne and son of Lubbock visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Kennedy Saturday.

This week the Courier is proud to present this winsome little Miss as the number one citizen of the week. She is Miss Treva Joyce Check, four-year-old daughter of F. C. Check, who lives ten miles west of Lamesa. Her birthday is January 26th. She has beautiful hazel eyes and black curly hair. She loves to make flowers grow.

Voting Precincts In Dawson County Undergo Changes

Shumake Is Added And Pride And Lou Merged

The Commissioners' Court of Dawson county have recently made some changes in the voting precincts of the county.

The Hagan box has been discontinued and voters in this precinct will vote at Patricia in the future.

The Pride and Lou boxes have been consolidated into one voting precinct.

Shumake is a new precinct created out of precincts 5, 9 and 12. Voters will cast their ballots in the Shumake school building. Boundaries for this precinct are given as follows: Beginning at the point in the east line of Dawson county, where said line is intersected by the north line of section 45, block 33, T5N, thence west along section lines to the northeast corner of section 43, block 34, T5N, thence south to the southeast of same section, thence west to southwest corner of same section, thence south to northwest corner of section 19, block 34, thence east to northeast corner of the same section, thence south to southeast corner of same section. Thence east along section lines of the east line of Dawson county thence north along east line of Dawson county to place of beginning.

COOL WEATHER ACCOMPANIES .3 RAINFALL

The first blush of winter descended on this section Wednesday of this week, when a chilling east wind drove the thermometer down into the fifties.

Accompanied by heavy clouds, the sudden change from near summer heat, brought out many sweaters and heavier garments.

Thunder, lightning and rain was the weather man's dish for Wednesday night. A total of .3 inches fell in Lamesa and Thursday morning there is still a strong nip of winter in the air.

The wet cool weather will delay the gathering of cotton, for at least the time being.

Is Pronounced Best Fair Ever Held In History Of County

Horse And Mule Show Decidedly Best Attraction

Under a brilliant fall sun the Dawson County Second Annual Fair swung open its gates last Thursday morning to the largest crowd to ever witness an exposition of this kind in Dawson county.

The paid attendance for the three days was something over ten thousand, and with over five thousand school children admitted free last Friday, as well as exhibitors and others, the total attendance for the three days is conservatively estimated at seventeen thousand. The density of the crowd reached its peak Saturday night when estimates were placed on the crowd inside the fair grounds, at eight thousand.

Interesting and educational exhibits were the order of the day, with the livestock exhibits proving to be the most interesting of the entire fair. It was freely admitted by the throngs who visited the exhibit barn, that the showing at this fair in this department would do credit to a fair many times the size of the local exposition.

Although the poultry exhibit was comparatively small, nevertheless a great deal of interest was shown by exhibitors as well as visitors.

The agricultural exhibit was shown in a group covering all phases of this department and covered the entire county, rather than each community vying for honors as heretofore been practiced.

NEW 1939 FORDS TO BE ANNOUNCED AT EARLY DATE

Announcement is made this week by the Lamesa Auto Company, local Ford Dealers, that the new Fords will be announced in the near future.

Just what the new models will be has been the subject of much conjecture among automobile men, not only of Lamesa, but the entire country as well.

No definite announcement has been forthcoming from the Ford Factory, as to just what the motoring public may expect.

Martin New Cities Service Agt. Here

Announcement is made this week by C. E. Martin that he has taken over the wholesale and retail agency for the Cities Service Oils and greases in this territory.

He has just completed a brand new wholesale oil station and storage just north of the ice plant. The building is of pink stucco and besides housing the office, has ample storage space for a large quantity of oils and greases.

Mr. Martin has four storage tanks for gasoline and kerosene each with a capacity of 6,000 gallons.

His headquarters will be maintained at the service station on the corner of Houston and North First. He will continue to do both a wholesale and retail business. Fred Martin and D. O. (Fig) Moore will continue making the deliveries of the new product.

Your attention is called to their ad in this issue of the Courier.

National Art Week. The first exhibit was held at the Woman's club house, where a dainty program entitled "An Appreciation of the Beautiful" were given to the guests as they entered to view the paintings, plaques and wall hangings of local artists.

Jack McLaughlin, president of the club spoke briefly of the work done in the field of art by the Delphian club. She then introduced Mr. Harry Simms, master craftsman from Tros. N. M. who is nationally known for his wood carving. Mr. Simms gave a brief resume of his work and study and talked informally with the guests. A classical Spanish dance by Inez Sharp and R. B. Snell, accompanied at the piano by Mary Ellen Lambeth, concluded the entertainment at the club house.

Flowers were featured in the home of Mrs. Carl Rountree in arrangements which were beautiful in every detail. Women from the entire city, including both of the local florists, Mrs. R. R. Townsend and Mrs. J. R. Weaver responded to this display. Many varieties of dahlias, zinnias, chrysanthemums, roses and other flowers were shown.

Mrs. Guy Simpson, outstanding in Lamesa as an authority on flower culture spoke effectively on the arrangement of cut flowers. Edna Merrick, in lovely Irish costume, accompanied herself on the accordion as she sang a medley of songs.

The guests then proceeded to the home of Mrs. Z. T. Davis, where a real treat was in store for them. The antique furniture and novelties of Mrs. Davis' own collection made a rare showing as well as many other antiques which contributed to this exhibit. Mary Mallory Kelly, costumed in a dress worn a hundred years ago, read a poem, "The Old Fashioned Gown." The tour was brought to a close in the home economics department of the high school building where many varieties of hand work were on display, and where delicious refreshments were served. Lovely miniature corsages tied in the club colors of black and gold, were presented as plate favors.

The program here consisted of charming Spanish novelties sung by Mrs. W. J. Beckham, a piano duet artistically played by Mrs. Matt McCall and Miss Lorraine Wilkowske, and a lovely arrangement of old Southern songs by Mrs. Weldon Lindsey's Symphonettes. At the conclusion of the program a set of lovely wall plaques were presented to the lady who drew the lucky ticket.

Hostesses were Mesdames L. M. Pratt, E. R. Yates, Russell Clark, Swanson Hurt, Matt McCall, Carl Rountree, Claude Cox, M. R. Hall, N. W. Boldin, A. J. Thwaitt and Misses Eleanor Ragle and Florence Griffith.

Mrs. Day Hostess To Pioneer Club

Mrs. D. S. Day was hostess to members and guests of the Pioneer club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The entertaining rooms were very attractively decorated with bouquets of Fall daisies and roses.

Games of Forty-Two were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Mrs. Dalton Myers Honored With Shower

Mrs. E. L. Craddock honored Mrs. Dalton Myers with a miscellaneous shower last Friday night at her home. As the guests arrived they were asked to register in the bride's book, which was presided over by Miss Edna Earle Craddock.

Miss Crane rendered several appropriate musical selections during the evening.

Punch and cookies were served to the guests. About fifty guests attended this lovely affair and many others sent gifts.

Mrs. Webb Hostess To Happy Dozen Club Wednesday

Mrs. W. T. Webb was hostess to members and guests of the Happy Dozen club Wednesday afternoon at her home on South First Street.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent playing forty-two.

At the conclusion of the games, mince pie with cream and coffee was served to Mesdames Nelson Cope, Dan Davis, R. E. Tinsley, A. E. Jacobs, Russell Clark, Arthur Hull, George D. Norman, V. O. Key, W. K. Crawley, A. G. Bearden, A. G. Waugh, Ray Williams and the hostess, Mrs. W. T. Webb.

Miss Robertson Mr. Lloyd Married

Miss Francis Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson of Big Spring became the bride of Mr.

Robert Lloyd Monday evening at the home of Judge Campbell. The very impressive single ring ceremony was read by Judge Campbell.

The bride was very attractive in a rust suit with brown accessories. Mrs. Lloyd is a graduate of Big Spring high finishing with the class of '37.

Mr. Lloyd is a graduate of Sunset high school, Dallas finishing with the class of '29. He has been employed with Cornett's Radio Sales, at Big Spring for several years and has recently been made manager of the store here.

Dams and Lakes Will Be Built Over This Area Beginning Soon According to Announcement

Work in three water facilities projects in the drainage basins of four West Texas streams and their tributaries calling for the construction of stock ponds, farm water storage reservoirs, wells, water spreaders and garden irrigation systems on farms in fifteen counties will get under way this week. Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator for the Soil Conservation Service with headquarters at Fort Worth announced today. Approval for the establishment of these projects was made in Washington last week by the Water Facilities Board.

Paul H. Walser, College Station, Texas, state coordinator for the Soil Conservation Service in Texas will exercise general supervision of the project work.

The three projects approved by the Water Facilities Board for development in the western portion of Soil Conservation Service Region 4 are:

California Creek Watershed. Water facilities construction work will be done on farms in the 700,000-acre watershed lying in the northern half of Jones County, the southern half of Haskell county and portions of Fisher and of Throckmorton counties.

Champion Creek and Lone Wolf Watersheds, a 200,000-acre drainage basin in Mitchell and Nolan counties.

Mustang and Seminole Draws Watershed, a 4,000,000-acre drainage basin lying in Midland, Martin, Andrews and Gaines counties and parts of Howard, Glasscock, Ector, Yoakum and Dawson counties. Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service in the Region four sector of Texas, which includes all territory outside the High Plains, will work in Midland, Martin, Howard, Glasscock and Ector counties. Region six of the service, with headquarters at Amarillo, will direct water facilities work in Andrews, Gaines, Yoakum and Dawson counties.

The need for conservation and utilization of rainfall in the arid and semiarid areas of the West has long been requested and various agencies have attacked the problem in their own ways," Mr. Merrill said today. "But not until the passage of the Water Facilities Act of 1937 did a comprehensive program to aid the farmer and rancher through small water developments on his own land come into being.

"Now with an appropriation of $500,- 000 from Congress and an allotment of $5,000,000 by the Farm Security Administration for rehabilitation of needy farmers in seventeen Western states, including Texas, through the provision of water facilities the initial drive is being launched to promote a better use of land by means of small water development," Mr. Merrill explained.

The water facilities program for West Texas is a cooperative enterprise being carried on jointly by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the Farm Security Administration and the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Texas Planning Board, the State Board of Water Engineers and the Texas Extension Service assisted the Federal agencies in selecting locations for the water facilities projects.

General responsibility and leadership for the operations phase of the program, especially in receiving applications and in constructing and installing water facilities has been assigned to the Soil Conservation Service.

Assisted by the Farm Security Administration, the Soil Conservation Service makes the contacts for the program with the general public and supervises arrangements with state and local agencies in the operation program.

The Farm Security Administration is to have charge of the financing of farmers including the approval of loans for facilities work and the drafting of repayment schedules. It also will help the Soil Conservation Service in making farm plans and will help the farmer put these plans into effect.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is charged with the responsibility of over-all planning of water facilities program in specified agricultural areas.

Mr. Merrill pointed out that the plan for each farm approved for a water facilities loan will include, in addition to installation of water facilities, farm and home program all designed to promote a profitable and stable agricultural enterprise.

"Funds are not to be expended for the provision of water facilities on a 'hit or miss' plan, or for a great variety of purposes," Mr. Merrill stated. "They are to be expended to provide carefully planned water facilities to achieve wiser land use over a period of years, and through wiser use of land

Clean as a Kitten

AS IF IT HAD NINE LIVES, a clean, correctly lubricated motor keeps going mile after mile, and year after year... with less fuss and noise, and fewer costly visits to the repair shop.

The dictionary says that refine means "to purify, to cleanse"—which gives you an idea of what we do to produce Phillips 66 Motor Oil. Out goes destructive impurities and harmful elements. Out goes wax, to insure free, fast flow in winter. Out goes gum which might make piston rings stick.

What remains is a great lubricant... 100% Paraffin base... 100% Phillips value, with rich body and high-degree oiliness to provide a tough, friction-reducing film... resistant to high speed, high pressure, high heat.

And the big plus is the Phillips name. This makes for peace of mind, because you know that you are getting all the lubrication you pay for, when you drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil... at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

FOR A Clean Motor

to promote the welfare of the people who live on the land."

Operations in the three project areas will be directed from small field offices, new being set up. Headquarters for the California Creek project will be set up at Stamford with H. M. Bird, formerly with the Vernon project of the Soil Conservation Service in charge.

Headquarters for Champion Creek project will be at Colorado. D. C. Lerner, formerly in charge of soil conservation field work for the Brownwood CCC Camp will be in charge.

Olin Fenner, formerly located at the Temple project and the San Angelo area offices of the Soil Conservation Service will be in charge of a field office at Midland from which point activities of Region four of the Soil Conservation Service in Mustang and Seminole Draws project will be directed. Region 6, of the service will be set up a field office at Lamesa.

Mr. Merrill pointed out that since isolated farms would be expensive to plan and administer the program will be concentrated in areas where the most good can be accomplished for general farm welfare. In the assistance provided this year, first consideration will be given to needy farmers who are not financially able to provide adequate water facilities to insure the proper farm operation.

Farmers requiring financial assistance for water facilities work on their lands may be granted loans through the Farm Security Administration. Such loans can be repaid on liberal terms.

Farmers will be required to contribute as much as possible of the labor, materials and team power needed to install water facilities. Technical assistance in planning and supervision of installations will be furnished without cost to the farmers.

Small facilities to be constructed under the program include stock ponds, farm water storage reservoirs, garden, irrigation systems, wells, detention, retention and diversion dams, pump installation, windmills spring development, water spreaders and facilities that will help to replenish underground water supplies. All of these will provide immediate assistance to the farmer in improving the quality of his farming operations.

Coupled with these developments will be the use of contour cultivation, strip cropping, terraces, crop rotations, pasture development and improvement and other conservation farming practices designed to retain soil and water for productive uses. The farm and home phase of the program sponsored by the Farm Security Administration will emphasize the importance of subsistence farming to supply home needs of the farm family.

Applications for work in three projects areas may be made to the field offices at Midland, Colorado and at Stamford, any county agent or field representative of the Farm Security Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson left on Sunday for Clovis, N. M., where they will visit with friends and relatives for several days.

S.C.S Notes

An interesting exhibit was shown at the Dawson County Fair by the Soil Conservation Service. Many pictures, most of which were made on Dawson county farms, presented a true representation of the different phases of the soil and moisture conservation. A member of the staff was present to explain the exhibit and the program to all interested parties. The interest shown indicates a wide spread of conservation practices in this community.

Farmers Of This Area Eligible To Participate In Government Water Conservation Program

Farmers of the drainage area of Musang Creek, Sulphur Draw and the tributaries of eight Texas Panhandle counties now are eligible to participate in the benefits of the Department of Agriculture Water Facilities Program. T. O. Williams, manager of the Soil Conservation Service project at Hereford announced today.

This area, which is the second to be approved for water resources development in the Texas Panhandle, includes Andrews, Gaines, Dawson and Yoakum counties, which will be administered by the Amarillo office of the Soil Conservation Service, and in Martin, Ector, Midland and Glasscock counties, which will be handled under the Fort Worth office of the service.

Headquarters for the portion of the area in Andrews, Gaines, Dawson and Yoakum counties will be in the courthouse at Lamesa. Application may be made to the Farm Security Administration or the Soil Conservation Service water facility office at Lamesa.

The Water Facilities Program, which is to be carried out in the seventeen semi-arid western states, was authorized by the Water Facilities Act of August 1937, and during the current year, $500,000 is available for its administration.

In addition, the Farm Security Administration has set aside $5,000,000 to be used in helping eligible farmers develop such water resources as are needed to place them on a self-sustaining basis. This action makes available a total of $5,500,000 for the program in the seventeen states during the current year.

Three bureaus of the Department of Agriculture are cooperating in the functioning of the Water Facilities program. General plans for the selected areas are made by the Bureau of Agriculture Economics. These plans take into consideration the present and past land use, economic conditions, tax problems, surface and ground water supplies, and other natural conditions.

When this plan has been approved, the Soil Conservation Service proceeds with the construction or installation of the needed water facilities in connection with the planning of a complete soil and moisture conservation program for the entire farm or ranch. The Soil Conservation will furnish all technical assistance necessary for this work at no cost to the farmer. Farm plans for the operating unit then are written by the Farm Security Administration and any necessary loans for construction or installation of the water facilities are made by that organization. A policy has been adopted of concentrating the program in areas where the most good can be accomplished for farm welfare, Williams stated. Assistance will be limited to those farmers who are not in a position to provide for themselves the complete water facilities needed.

In addition to repaying the cost of installation or construction under the liberal terms, the benefiting farmer will be required to contribute, as far as possible, his own labor, materials and equipment to the construction of the facilities. The benefiting farmer also will be required to sign an agreement binding for the duration of the loan, to insure maintenance of the facilities, compliance with a conservation plan, and repayment to the Government. When the benefiting farmers are tenants, certain additional requirements will be made of the landlord as a protection against exploitation of the tenants.

Facilities that may be constructed under the program include ponds, reservoirs, wells, including repairs, detention, retention and diversion dams; pump installations, including windmills, spring developments, water spreaders, stock water tanks, flood irrigation and small irrigation projects, either for individual families or small groups of families and facilities for recharging underground reservoirs.

Do You Know That:

GOVERNMENT RESEARCH shows that 90% of the American people are constipated?

PHYSICIANS assert that a slowing up of bowel movements is man's chief ailment and the underlying factor in most of our physical troubles?

PSYCHOLOGISTS have traced most of our unhappiness, neuroses and failures in life to faulty waste-matter elimination?

THE DEGREE OF YOUR INTESTINAL ACTIVITY determines to a great extent the state of your health, your happiness and even the length of your life. Anything less than normal intestinal activity permits an accumulation of residues in the colon (large bowel) that contaminate the blood-stream and by unnecessary and excessive work wear out the liver, the kidneys and other detoxifying (poison destroying) organs; damage the blood vessels by their very contact with vessel walls; irritate and intoxicate and render prematurely senile the cells of the body.

We had a pie and box supper here last Friday night, October 14. The funds will be used to buy our girls new basketball suits. Dorothy Helen Martin was elected the prettiest girl and J. A. Ritchey, the ugliest man.

We had Sunday school and church Sunday. Everyone come out next Sunday and help us build up our church.

Miss Ruby Dickey of Harmony, daughter of R. C. Dickey, became the bride of Mr. Oates Haynes of New Mexico Saturday evening, October 15.

Mrs. Jessie Lane who was in the Lubbock hospital until she returned to her home Friday is fast recovering from an operation. We are glad that she was able to return.

Our boys will play Union in six-man football Thursday. Our boys have won every game they have played and our community is hoping a victory for them Thursday. We also are proud of our pep squad, because their cheer songs add much to the football games. Jessie Lee Ables is our pep squad leader.

Rex Austin of Harmony is in the Lamesa hospital. He is recovering nicely. We will be happy when he is able to return to his home.

Mr. Alton McMurtrey became sick Friday afternoon. He had pneumonia.

Miss Marion Gillispie and Mrs. Gillispie attended the all-day singing at Key Sunday.

FEMINE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

It is smart to have your bedspread match your draperies these days. It is a notion we applaud. Surely nothing could better tie the entire bedroom furnishings into one harmonious whole than repeating the colors of your curtains exactly in the shade of your bed cover.

The new pastel hued pottery seems to be growing in favor. Although it lacks the vital, dashing quality of the more vivid colors of the past few years it will give a table a delicate, lady-like air that some housekeepers will prefer.

A clever hostess we know gave her tables a distinguishing note by using one of the brilliant shades and one of the pastel shades in her pottery service at a party.

The Duchess of Windsor heads a list of the best-dressed women which was recently compiled. The territory covered by the listing included four continents and several countries so. Her Grace should feel that she has accomplished something—besides marrying a King-That-Was.

It is still not too late in the season for barbecues. So popular is this mode of entertaining growing with South-westerners that a whole list of accessories to make preparation of the meat easy has been worked out by alert manufacturers and merchants.

Included are long forks and grills and (believe it or not) asbestos mitts to handle them with. On yes, and there are pots for the barbecue sauce in which masculine cooks take such pride, with swab sticks to spread it on the hot steaks or chickens.

And if you want to go quite elite, there's even a wooden shovel for serving hot rolls, et cetera, without danger of burned fingers.

That is an idea that any housewife will appreciate who feels that she can not do away with all the brighter dishes at once but does have some of the new lighter-shaded pottery that she wants to use.

Nothing if not frank is a descriptive phrase that may be aptly applied, not only to the much-maligned younger generation but to modern hostesses.

Applly applied, that is, when said

Average Repairs Loan Is $483 Under FHA Plan

The average loan made under the terms of the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration from the date of re-instatement of Title I of the National Housing Act in February 1938 to July 31 was $488, according to an analysis made by the FHA.

In making this analysis 140,776 loans valued at $67,931,195, were granted by 2,978 private lending institutions. All of the states, the District of Columbia and the territories of Hawaii and Alaska were represented by institutions actively engaged in making improvement loans.

For loans aggregating more than half of the amount the major item of expenditure was listed as exterior and interior finishing or additions or alterations.

The average loan made to finance new structures, in accordance with the provisions of the amended Title I, was well below the maximum of $2,500, being but $1,506.

Improvements to small homes accounted for the greatest percentage of loans made, but the average of these loans was less than that of any other classification. That type of property with the greatest average loan was commercial.

The Federal Housing Administration is cooperating in a Nation-wide repair and modernization program with the dealers, builders, and others. This program, styled "Ready for Winter," is now under way in all section of the country.

proposition, like tossing a coin, according to Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist in Farm Management. For the past ten years the predictions averaged 81 per cent correct. From these data, there appears to be reasonable assurance that, so long as agricultural prices are not subjected to new economic influences, their behavior can be forecasted with fair success.

As in the past, the annual Agricultural Outlook conference, sponsored by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics is in cooperation with the State Extension Services will be held in Washington, October 24-29. In this meeting facts of importance to farmers in making their 1939 production and marketing plan will be assembled, analyzed, and reported. The printed outlook report, comprising individual commodity reports, will be ready for popular distribution by November 16; however, commodity releases will begin on October 31.

The question is usually asked, "How can I use this information on my farm?" One of the best methods is to obtain reports pertaining to the major enterprises adapted to your farm, and then list the favorable and unfavorable factors affecting the supply and demand for that particular commodity. For example, on beef cattle as to supply, the following statements may be noted as favorable: (1) numbers of cattle, (2) beef cattle changes, (3) slaughter of cattle expected, (4) supply of feeder cattle and calves in other sections, (5) and expected average prices.

Some people follow the Outlook still closer in their planning. One housewife's eyes sparkled last year when she heard that egg prices throughout 1938 would probably be somewhat higher than in 1937, but her hopes fell when it was brought out that owing to increased hatchings prices for poultry would probably be lower late in the year. "I'll beat that gun!" she thought. "I'll get all the eggs I can from my pullets, market my poultry early and not depend too much upon money from selling poultry late in the fall.

FARM PROGRAM FOR 1939 BEING MAPPED OUT

With Texas Agricultural Conservation Association committeemen and state AAA workers back to their Texas A. and M. College headquarters after a regional conference in Fort Worth field men went to work this week on a simplified farm program for 1939.

Chairman George Slaughter of the state committee said the bulk of 1939 cotton acreage allotments will be calculated and sent to farmers by December 1, well ahead of planting time, and in broad contrast to the situation in which aroused criticism last year.

Because of late amendments to the farm act of 1938, allotments this past spring could not be calculated until April 7, or after most Texas cotton had been planted, Slaughter observed. "Getting allotments to farmers around December 1," he said, "will give farmers the benefits of full facts before the marketing quota referendum, expected to be set in the forefront of December."

TORNADOES—

True that no sane person could forecast anything but a Pitt victory. Nearly everyone is conceding the game to the Panthers. There'll be sympathy in the eyes of some of the gathering which waves goodbye to the Ponies when they board their train east on Wednesday afternoon; pity for the lambs being sent to the slaughter.

But, there may be some partially hidden beauty in the picture which can be seen better if you move your seat to another view. Another angle is that those Panthers aren't superhuman.
They're all made of human clay. As Francis Schmidt of Ohio State once said, "They climb in their pants, one leg at a time just like we do."

And, too, the Tornadoes have the backing and best wishes of the entire community in the journey to the Northern City. They have everything to gain and not a great deal to lose, for a win over Amarillo would boost their stock to a new high, while a loss would only mean that football dope had true to form.

But win, lose or draw, the Tornadoes will give the best account of themselves possible. Quite a large number of local fans will go along with them to see the game.

Present plans call for the Lamesa high school band and pep squad to make the trip to lend a bit of noise, music and snappy parading for the folks of Amarillo.

FAIR—

booths, wherein the products of that community were placed on exhibition in competition with neighboring communities, the educational type of booth was used. In this type of exhibits many interesting and educational ideas were advanced by the different communities represented. It was shown in miniature how the farm home could be improved with a few additions, such as adding running water, modern plumbing, the building and repairing of fences and outhouses, as well as arranging the outhouses, in relation to the farm home, to the best advantage.

The merchants exhibits proved very interesting to the steady stream of people who passed them.

Of course, the carnival attracted large crowds as the screaming voices of happy children rang throughout the entire fair grounds, as one or another of the thrill rides, almost took their breath away.

Thus another Dawson County Fair is history, and from it those in charge will profit by the experience gained, to the end that each succeeding year
the fair should grow and be better, until it will take its place among the better fairs of the state.

It was intended by the Courier to give a complete list of all winners at the fair, but the list was not completed until late in the week and it will be impossible to give it all in this issue.
However as much of it as possible will be printed and the remainder will be run next week.

Moves Family Here From Brownfield

J. C. Powell, local manager of Sherrod Brothers, this week moved his family to Lamesa from Brownfield.
Mrs. Powell and two children, J. C. Jr.,

and MonRae, arrived this week and the young folks were enrolled in the Lamesa schools Tuesday.

They are at home at 607 South Sixth Street. Mr. Powell has been here for some time but until now has been unable to secure a house to move his family to.

CITY HALL IS GIVEN PAINT DRESS HERE

Painters this week refinished the walls and ceiling of the City Secretary's office in the city hall.

A light cream color was used with the darker wainscoting. Not only does it improve the appearances of the office, but it adds materially to the appearance of the room.

The living quarters of the caretaker, as well as the fire boys rooms were also refinished at this time.

It is planned to have the halls and other offices refinished at a later date.

Much Of Materials Placed On Ground For New Stadium

Although actual construction has not yet begun on the new football stadium, preliminary work is rapidly being done.
The old wooden seats, which ranged along the south side of McCollum field have been moved to the west end of the field and will be used as temporary seats pending the completion of the new ones.

Foundations are being dug and the pouring of concrete should be started within a few days. The placing of needed materials on the ground is going rapidly forward and it is expected before many days the structure will begin to take shape.

It is not expected that the new stadium will be finished in time for use during the present grid season, but by arranging the old seats along the west end, it is still possible to seat as many people as formerly.

When completed the stadium will have a seating capacity of 2,500 and will give to Lamesa one of the finest and largest of its kind in a town anywhere near the size of this city.

Lloyd Cotton, Dickie Hill and Jimmie Cotton left Sunday for Van Alstyne where they plan to visit with friends and relatives for several days.

SHELTERBELT OF TREES IS BENEFICIAL

The finest dividends are not always direct cash returns, is the opinion of Mrs. W. C. Dennis, about three miles north of Kirkland, Texas. The influx of birds to the farm, Mrs. Dennis believes, makes this especially true of an investment in tree shelterbelts of which the Dennis place has one planted in 1936.

There are ten times as many birds on the farm now as before the trees were planted, says Mrs. Dennis. She especially appreciates the presence of mocking birds and other song birds which stay near the home. Their continuous chatter and singing "brighten things up."

The Dennis shelterbelt, planted by the U. S. Forest Service, has become a part of the Texas State Extension program which has designated the place as a whole demonstration farm—that is, a place where approved methods are exhibited by the extension service.

The shelterbelt, only two years old, has grown to the extent that it furnishes nesting places for hundreds of birds, many of them insectivorous. Also the extension service has found that the shelterbelt provides ideal cover for game birds.

Shelterbelt planting by the Forest Service is a cooperative enterprise with the farmers. The belts' principal purposes are to prevent blowing of loose-textured farmlands which has created a national problem, protect growing crops from hot summer winds, furnish fuel and fence posts for the farm, and to provide cover for wildlife. The trees are furnished and planted by the

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Lamesa Circuit Missionary Society met October 10, with a nice crowd present. Program: songs, "Draw Me Nearer," and "Pass Me Not." Prayer, Mrs. J. M. Peterson. Third lesson from "Songs In The Night," led by Bro. Wheeler. Song, "I Am Resolved." Prayer, Mrs. Hubbard. Visits reported, social 6, sick 5, trays 3, and showers 3.

The society will have its regular meeting Monday, October 24. On the 31st, which is fifth Monday, there will be held an all-day meeting at the parsonage for all the women on the charge. At this time all Sunshine Sisters are to bring gifts for their Sunshine Sisters. All the ladies are invited to come, and bring covered dishes for lunch together at noon.

MRS. SLOVER, Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

I desire to take this means of extending my heartfelt appreciation to all for their many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy during the illness and death of my beloved wife.

Especially do I wish to thank the good ladies of the Baptist church, who prepared meals during my bereavement, the ladies of the Church of Christ, who set up with the body and Brother Foster for his comforting words. May God bless you with such friends should you be called upon to go through a sad bereavement such as mine, is my prayer.

R. W. MYERS

Forest Service. The farmer prepares the land, furnishes the fence material, and cultivates the shelterbelt until the leaf canopy is closed.

HIGH LIFE IS USED IN TEXAS STOPPING ANTS

Five thousand dollars spent for carbon disulfide, or high life, and used for cut ant control during the early part of 1938 resulted in the eradication of 12,029 cut ant towns and saved crop damage estimated at $65,912, according to R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Cut ants are pretty well scattered over the entire state with the exception of the Panhandle and the High Plains, Reppert says, and take an annual toll in excess of a million dollars. A single cut ant town has been known to clean up the crop on several acres.

Control is effected by pouring 25 gallons of water into the main entrance to the town and adding a quart of high life, washed down with water. When the entrances are closed, the ants are suffocated with the fumes. Best control is obtained during the winter and early spring months when egg laying is at a standstill.

In many counties, county agricultural agents have helped farmers to buy high life on a cooperative basis and to stage community-wide eradication drives, Reppert indicated.

COTTON PARITY

Whether conscious of it or not, proponents of the so-called domestic allotment plan for cotton are using some of the AAA's best thunder, according to George Slaughter, chairman of the state agricultural conservation committee.

Slaughter, a Wharton county farmer who heads the intra-state policy making board of the AAA, observed that

HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL AT HANCOCK

A Halloween carnival at Hancock promises to furnish plenty of fun and entertainment for this year's "Spooky" night. Side shows, doll racks, fishing ponds and an amateur program are only some of the features of the entertainment. This carnival will be different from any carnival previously held at Hancock, the football boys announce. The team, together with the school faculty, are sponsoring this fun night. New ideas in the way a carnival entertainment are being worked up along with the Halloween ghosts and witches.

The amateur contest is open to the general public and prizes will be awarded. The date is Friday night, Oct. 28 and those people who like to laugh can't miss it.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for every kind word and deed accorded us during the long illness and death of our dear husband and father.

Especially do we thank you for the beautiful floral offering.

In time of such trouble may we direct you to Him, "Who Doeth all Things Well."

Mrs. C. J. Morris and family.

domestic allotment backers promise, under their plan, a parity price on that portion of the cotton crop domestically consumed.

"Why, for the past six years under the farm program now in effect, farmers have received only eight-tenths of a cent per pound less than the parity price on cotton domestically consumed," he pointed out.

64 CHEMICALS USED BY PLANTS FOUND IN SOIL

At the turn of the present century only 10 chemical elements were considered necessary for plant growth, but now agricultural chemists know that at least 64 elements are present in soils, and of these 58 have been found in plants of one kind or another.

"Many of our poor yields and diseases of plants can be explained by what are called deficiency diseases," explains M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. "Pecan rosette, citrus mottle leaf, and white top of corn, sudan, and the sorghums are due to zinc deficiencies, while lack of adequate amounts of boron is responsible for cracked stem of celery heart, dry root of beets and turnips, and the pathological condition of cauliflower and alfalfa."

In some parts of Texas, the use of minor elements such as zinc, boron, copper, and iron has been found profitable, the chemist said. However, in most of the state, the soils contain adequate quantities of these.

The use of farm manures, compost, wood ashes, tankage, and the like tends to conserve the minor elements in the soil, hence farm manures and wastes should be utilized to as great extent as possible. In many areas, this farm manure should be treated with about 75 pounds of muriate of potash, per ton of manure in order to balance the plant nutrients better.

Most of the soils of Texas are deficient in humus and if this is supplied good crop yields will be had.

Thornton recommends that some

WILSON BAPTIST CHURCH

All of the teachers and officers were present last Sunday and eighty-three on time for Sunday school. There was an interesting discussion on the Sunday school lesson enjoyed by all.

Our budget for the coming year was made out and adopted. We are planning to do greater things for the Lord next year, than we ever have before. For the people had a mind to work.

One of our finest girls of Wilson community, Miss Floy Norris has accepted a position with a department store in Lubbock. We will miss you, Floy, but we are happy with you in your good fortune in securing this good position. Our young people are great in their cooperation with the church and pastor. We are proud of them and their loyalty.

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day at Sparenberg. We hope to see each of you there. We plan to make out our budget next Sunday for the coming year. So it will be essential for each member to be present.

This good church closes out a successful year next Sunday. Our budget has been over paid with almost $200 given to mission. They truly believe in missions, and are striving to carry out the command of our great Savior I wonder if Matthew 25:21 can be said of our churches today.

If you live in Sparenberg community this is your invitation to worship with us Sunday morning and evening. A friendly welcome awaits you at this good church.

For the past 12 years we have featured Dickie's outstanding Garments in our work clothing department . . . that they have met with the hearty approval of the men of this territory is evidenced by the fact that we have known a steadily increasing volume of business ever since we started handling them.

And it's no wonder too . . . for Dickie's name on work clothing is your assurance that the garment is made of only the very best of materials obtainable, regardless of cost, manufactured under the most exacting conditions, to bring to you a garment that is truly a wonderful piece of merchandise.

Williamson-Dickey, who manufacture these garments are the largest manufacturers of work clothing in the entire southwest, and the largest cutters of khaki cloth in the world. To do this volume of business, their products must be good.

To the thousands of users of Dickie's Work Clothing in this section there is no need for argument. You have tried them, tested them and you know of their superiority . . . To those who have never worn these super garments, all that we ask is that you give them a trial, compare them, in every way with any other garment on the market, and we are willing to rest the decision with you.

We honestly believe that dollar for dollar and garment for garment . . . you'll be way ahead with DICKIE'S!

ACKERLY

Hazel Ward, corres.

We had a pretty good crowd out at Sunday school Sunday. Let's all try to be out next Sunday.

Mr. J. L. W. Coleman and Mr. J. W. Coleman were called to Lubbock Sunday night due to the serious illness of their brother.

Mr. Reece, the new school teacher was called to Knox City by the serious illness of his father. He returned home Friday.

Several of Ackerly young people attended the show Sunday evening. J. T. Cook is building a new house in Ackerly. Ackerly is steadily growing. Mrs. Will Woods is on the sick list this week. We are hoping for her a speedy recovery.

Most people here attended the fair at Lamesa. School turned out Friday afternoon so the school children could attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Honey Hughes of Desdemonia were Ackerly visitors last week.

Our school is progressing nicely. The pupils are taking their six-weeks examinations this week. Everyone is taking a lot of interest in school this year.

Donnoleta Love

Sunday school was not so well attended. Brother Wright will preach the fifth Sunday. Every one come and bring someone with you.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Woodward and Mrs. Day of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Woodward and family of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Woodward of Lamesa visited Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Woodward and family Sunday.

Quite a few people from this community attended the fair. Midway won high score on their booth, but didn't win first place as they didn't have enough other exhibits.

Mr. Shaffer won eight first places, three second and one third in the agricultural exhibit. Donnoleta Love won two first places in clothing. There were several places won in the canned food exhibit.

Mrs. Conner of Lamesa visiting in the Will R. Jeter home over the week end.

Those on the honor roll this month are Janet Dean, Clydene Gibson, Billie Fae Taylor, Annie Mae Jeter, Wynona Goff, Clara Dean James, Neva Goff, Louise Woodward, Douglas Dean, Agatha Goff, Jeanne Peterson, Leroy Ogden, Charlene Dean and Dorothy Lee Jeter.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will dedicate the Methodist church at O'Donnell next Sunday at 7:30 p. m. The evening service will be dismissed here so all who care to may go and hear the Bishop. At the morning hour the pastor will have as his subject, "Others What We Owe Then and Why," this message will contain a lot of information about our benevolences and why we should support them.

The Southern Methodist church raises for benevolences, including orphanages and rescue homes about two and one half million dollars annually. Some time during the year every member of the church is solicited for a contribution to this cause. We are now in the midst of this canvas and have set, November 6, to close it, at which time we hope to have a contribution from every member of our church.

Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Epworth League 6:45 p. m. Prayer meeting each Wednesday 7:30 p. m. You will find all of these meetings helpful and inspiring. And you are cordially invited.

T. C. WILLETT, Pastor.

Stock Ponds Improve Range

Stock ponds not only provide water for livestock, but distribute grazing if properly located over the range. By catching and holding water, such ponds also tend to reduce possible flood damage downstream, the Soil Conservation Service points out. The ponds also provide a haven for water fowl and in many instances serve recreational purposes.
