PROJECT FOR SCHOOL PROJECTS

ATHLETIC FIELD SITE BE GIVEN BY LOCAL MEN

Twelve Acre Tract to Be Bought by F. L. Moffett and O. H. Dodson

CITY PARK ALSO BE BUILT THERE

Swimming Pool Expected to Be Constructed on Land Says W. W. Bragg

W. W. Bragg announced before members of the Lions Club Tuesday that F. L. Moffett and O. H. Dodson have agreed to purchase the twelve acres of land east of the high school building to be donated to the school and used as an athletic field and city park.

Bragg is a member of a Lions Club committee named to secure a field.

Sponsoring the project was voted by members and the club will undertake to interest civic organizations of Chillicothe in aiding the organization turn what is now a vacant tract of ground, into one of the most attractive parks in this section of the state, thus carrying out the idea of a city beautification program in conjunction with the holding of the Texas Centennial next year.

It was also divulged by Bragg the approved city swimming pool, construction which is planned soon, will probably be built on this site.

Next Tuesday the club will have as guests the entire squad of high school Eagles football players.

Mrs. Faye Ford, manager of the Northern Texas Ladies Club, entertained the club with vocal numbers, being accompanied at the piano by Miss Boyce Young, club pianist.

Carter Forbes acted as toastmaster and in the absence of President McCaw, the vice-president, C. R. Tubb, presided during the business session.

ROAD PROJECT BEEN APPROVED

Work Begins Next Week On Medicine Mound Road

Graveling of the road south from Highway 5 to the Medicine Mound is to be started this next week, it was made known yesterday by County Commissioner J. Luther Potts.

The project is one of a group planned for the county, and is in Precincts 2 and 3, the latter in charge of Commissioner Potts. Both commissioners have worked hard to secure this needed road work, and means much to Medicine Mound. Commissioner Potts also has in mind a well-improved road leading northeastward to the Wilbarger, county line, which would serve the people of the Center Point community.

Back from Deer Hunt

L. B. Wofford, Jack Sims, F. L. Moffett, all of this city, and Nat Wofford of Abilene, returned Tuesday night from a deer hunt near Junction. They report little luck, only one buck being killed. Nat Wofford having bagged him, George F. Vaughn accompanied them on the hunt but remained over for a few days in hopes of having better luck.

Back from Conference

Rev. E. T. Breedlove, Rev. J. N. S. Webb, and Joe H. Anderson, who were in attendance at the Northwest Texas Conference held in Plainview, and which closed Sunday, returned home late Sunday night. Rev. Webb, on his return, stated it proved to be one of the best conferences he has ever attended.

Shows Improvement

O. B. Houston, Jr., a student of the North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, is recovering from a case of scarlet fever, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Houston, are advised. He was forced to go to the hospital for treatment due to the seriousness of his condition.

1934 National Pool Tags Have Been Received

Now Ready for Distribution, County Agent, Wood, Makes Known

Cotton tags representing the unsold poundage in the 1934 National pool were received at the office of the county agent in Quannah late Wednesday. They are now ready for distribution. Many farmers had used up their allotment of tags this year and are glad to get these in order to cover the remainder of their cotton crop.

The 1935 National Pool was officially opened in Hardeman county Thursday.

Producers can only pool once this year. They are requested to be sure that they have secured the left-over poundage before pooling. Everyone should be able to estimate just how many more he will need before pooling in order to make it all in one transaction. No dead-line has been set for pooling. Farmers will be given time to get enough of their crop out so they will know how many more they need in order to do their pooling.

FIVE HUNDRED BALES GINNED FOR PAST WEEK

Boosts Total to 4,667, Increase Over Last Year by 1,364 Bales

Ginnings to date show a total of 4,667 bales, an increase over last week by 529 bales, or over last year for the same period by 1,364. It is revealed in figures given out this morning.

However, the present total is already ahead of the full season run of last year, according to records kept by The News. It is thought there, will be approximately 3,900 more bales to be ginned before the season is wound up.

Visitor Tuesday

O. M. Smith, former station agent for the Port Worth and Denver City railway, but now serving the same company as general agent, with headquarters in Wichita Falls, was a business visitor in Chillicothe Tuesday. Mr. Smith stated he loved old Chillicothe and that there were lots of good people here.

Last Rites For Mack O. Thorp Held Saturday

Pioneer Citizen of Chillicothe Died Friday After Year's Illness

Last rites for Mack O. Thorp, 70 years and 3 days of age, were held from the First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. E. T. Breedlove, pastor. Rev. Ira L. Parraek, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Vernon Henderson, a long-time friend of the family, and now pastor of the Odell and Medicine Mound churches.

The body was laid to rest in the Chillicothe cemetery. Mr. Thorp succumbed Friday following an illness of about one year. However, eight weeks ago he became so weak and emaciated condition was unable to withstand the fight any longer. He passed on quietly to the great beyond after a sojourn on this earth that was filled with good deeds for his loved ones and friends.

The deceased was born near Fayetteville, Tenn., in 1865. When at the age of 24 he came to Texas, locating at Plano, Collins county, where he farmed. In 1892, however, he returned to Tennessee where he was married to Miss Ida Jane Story, the couple returning to Texas and settling in Hunt county. They resided there until 1907 when they moved to Chillicothe, and had been since. During his stay in this community Mr. Thorp at first farmed and then became an employee of the Farmers Lumber Co., serving for eighteen years. In health forced him to resign. He was well-known and respected as a gentleman of high character. (Continued on Last Page)

UNICAMERAL LEGISLATURE IS PROPOSED

Plan Would Restrict Membership to 42, Meeting Continuously

SENATOR NELSON IS BACK OF PLAN

Points Out Savings to State Taxpayers Should New Method Be Adopted

The following is a news story taken from the Daily Texans of Austin, Texas, which expresses some of the views of Senator G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, Lynn county, with reference to the Unicameral Legislature. The same is enclosed together with a copy of the Resolution introduced by Senator Nelson in the Senate of Texas on the 6th day of November, 1935, that you may better understand some of the provisions of the Resolution.

"A two-headed snake was going to a creek to get a drink of water. Being in a hurry, it was not very observant of the dangerous path ahead and soon found itself caught by a twig, one of its heads on one side and one on the other. It was unable to get loose from its mooring and after about thirty days, it expired.

"That," Senator G. H. Nelson said, "is a fair analogy of what happens to laws the people want passed."

"To make the state government more democratic, to simplify its workings so that the will of the people can be carried out with the least possible expenditure of funds, Senator Nelson believes that Texas should replace the present Legislature with a unicameral body.

"Wednesday morning he offered a resolution in the Senate asking Representatives to go on record favoring, at the regular session of the Legislature in 1937, the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people on the question of the adoption of a unicameral legislature. The resolution was sent to the State Affairs Committee.

"Senator Nelson, who attended the University School of Law, 1921-23, has been in the Senate only a short time. He was elected to finish the term of the late Senator A. P. Duggan.

"Senator Nelson's proposal suggests a Legislature of forty-two members, two from each congressional district, to be elected for four-year terms. One member would be elected from each district every two years. Each would receive an annual salary of $5,000 and would be credited with taking or receiving any compensation from any individual, firm or corporation during the tenure of office.

"There would be a continuous legislative session. The chamber would recess or adjourn from time to time and would be subject to call by 50 per cent of the membership. Should a district feel that its wishes were not being followed, it could recall its representative. The Governor's power of veto would not be abridged.

"It is Senator Nelson's belief that once the people of Texas are made to realize how inefficient the present system is, they will readily adopt the unicameral legislature.

"The criticism by the public of the Legislature is growing year by year. There are loud grumblings about costs of legislation, and about the type of legislation. These objections are valid, and once the people are shown how they can get what they want, they will not hesitate to give the order.

P. P. Lewis To Address Group Tuesday Night

Medicine Mound PTA Members To Hear Him Discuss School Needs

Parks P. Lewis, county superintendent, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Medicine Mound Parent-Teacher Association, Tuesday evening, November 26, at the school building. His subject concerns the "Needs of the School."

Other numbers on the program include a song-led by Mrs. Jim Barnes and accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, a shadowgraph playlet arranged by Miss Bogard and Mr. Vantine, a vocal duet by Mrs. Jack McMichael and Mrs. A. E. Howard of Chillicothe, a tribute to the Founder of Texas, P. T. A. by Miss Anderson, and a reading by Lela Bell.

Every one is invited to attend this meeting of the Association.

EAGLES TACKLE TIPTON ELEVEN HERE TOMORROW

Game Carded on West End Field, Starting At Three o'Clock

Chillicothe Eagles football team will clash on home soil next Friday afternoon in a non-conference game, entertaining the Tipton, Okla. eleven, said to have a fairly good aggregation of ball players.

The game is set for 3 o'clock. Due to the fact Jesse Muse's team played the Archer City Wild cats earlier, than was first planned, forced the local athletic officials to book a non-district game for tomorrow.

AUCTIONEER MAY LOCATE IN CITY

Will Arrive Soon to Look For Location

Col. Charles M. Carter of Scottsbluff, Ky., a close friend of Attorney Sam Robinson, of Chillicothe, is due to arrive here here from Stamford, in remodeling the building, next door to Rutledge Brothers Grocery store and will have one of the best equipped motion picture houses in this part of the State. It is being built along modern lines, and Meyer asserted he will show first run pictures for the entertainment of the Chillicothe public.

Several homes have been repaired of late, all tending to improve matters here, and with this condition existing Chillicothe is slated to return to more normal times in the next few months. The people are taking hold, and with this cooperation nothing will hold down this city in its effort for advancement.

BUSINESS CHANGE ANNOUNCED HERE

L. L. Rutledge to Have Charge of Store

Announcement appears elsewhere of the change in management of the Rutledge Brothers Grocery store. Hereafter it will be operated under the name of L. L. Rutledge Cash Food Store. C. S. Rutledge has severed connections with the firm.

According to L. L. Rutledge he plans to operate the store on a low margin of profit basis, but in order to do so is forced to sell for cash only. He invites all old and new customers to visit him.

C. S. Rutledge has not announced his future plans.

Mrs. Percy Stone, a niece of Mrs. M. O. Thorp, was here Saturday with her sons, George and Marney, from Crowley, to attend the funeral service for a relative, M. O. Thorp.

FAVOR ISSUE OF BONDS FOR GYM BUILDING

Cost to be $25,000 With $14,000 As Loan And Balance as Gift

SWIMMING POOL ASSURED CITY

Grant of $5,884.00 From Government Announced By Mayor Ledbetter

Taxpayers of the Chillicothe Independent School district went to the polls Saturday and said "yes" on the proposed bond issue of $14,000 for the erection of a building to house a modern gymnasium and rooms of the vocational agriculture and home economics departments.

Returns showed 67 for as against 48 "noes."

As announced previously (the election the school district will borrow $14,000 from the Public Works Administration of the Federal Government; $11,000 will be received from the administration as a gift. Therefore, the total cost for the project will be $25,000.

The amount loaned will be paid back on the basis of $500.00 per year at the rate of 4 percent. City Project Okcyeed.

Chillicothe is to at last have a swimming pool. It will probably be located on the old croquet grounds in the east part of the city, near Highway 5. Approval has already been received. The government has agreed to furnish all labor, concrete and iron, as well as smaller items in its construction, while the City of Chillicothe will erect the bath house and lay water lines. The cost to the city will approximate $11,556.00, and the grant from the government will be about $5,884.00.

Erection of the swimming pool should be started Monday, November 25. It is thought by Mayor W. L. Ledbetter. The mayor has put in considerable time as well as other members of the city council body in assuring this city the project, which was applied for some time ago.

The pool is to be 60x125 feet. Twenty men will be employed. No bonds or warrants will be issued, the mayor declared, as the project is to be self-liquidating.

With all the building underway conditions in Chillicothe should show an improvement, not to say anything about the other construction work now being carried on. Lester Meyer, recently come here from Stamford, is remodeling the building, next door to Rutledge Brothers Grocery store and will have one of the best equipped motion picture houses in this part of the State. It is being built along modern lines, and Meyer asserted he will show first run pictures for the entertainment of the Chillicothe public.

C-C Directors To Stage Breakfast Monday Morning

Although complete plans have not been formulated, C. L. Glazner, president of the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce, stated this week the organization would stage a downtown breakfast next Monday morning for members.

It is hoped to make it a month-long Monday morning for directors, closer in harmony with the doings of that body.

Mrs. J. Hutton McRee and Mr. McRee's father were visitors in Vernon Tuesday.

ONLY EXPLANATION

When an automobile crashes into a train, it is obvious that the driver has been careless. All railroad crossings are marked and trains are neither small nor noiseless. The only explanation that can be supplied for such collisions is that the driver either tried to beat the train to a crossing or that his thoughts were not concentrated upon the operation of his motor car.

THE WAY TO DO IT

A reader hands us the following for publication: For the married man who absolutely must drink, start a saloon in your own home. Be the only customer and you won't have to buy a license. Give your wife two dollars to buy a gallon of whiskey. Remember there are 69 glasses in a gallon. Buy your drink only from your wife. When the first gallon is gone she will have eight dollars to deposit in the bank and two to start business again. If you should live ten years, continue to buy booze from her and then die with snakes in your shoes, she will have enough money to bury you respectfully, bring up your children, buy a house and lot and marry a decent man and forget all about you.

BILLY SUNDAY

Billy Sunday went out of this world in the way he had prayed that he might go; "Oh Lord, when I have to go, please make it quick."

The methods of the famed baseball player and evangelist were spectacular in the extreme. He was a great showman, what with the picturesque terminology of the diamond he used, his acrobatic gestures, his fiery exhortations—"Hit the sawdust trail!"—and with his resort to music and other expedients to appeal to the millions who flocked to hear him.

Billy was the greatest evangelist of his type in his generation. They called him the "man who saved a million souls." His impress upon the nation was deep and wide. Undoubtedly he reached and turned toward Christianity thousands who otherwise would have gone uninfluenced by the Gospel.

Many conservative persons, both ministers and laymen, did not approve of the Billy Sunday methods, nor of the fact that he accepted "free will offerings" running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. But his sincerity was hardly debatable, and the results he attained were gigantic.

Persons of different temperaments must travel different roads to a common objective. There were those, indeed many, who could see no good in Billy Sunday's sort of preaching. Nevertheless, it was a sort of gospel, rather a method of exhortation, that appealed tremendously to another class of individuals.

JOES AND HUMAN DEAD WOOD

The best figures available would seem to indicate that there are about 9,500,000 unemployed in this country. Visualizing the end of the depression, we naturally picture this rosy era as the time when we can find 9,500,000 jobs to place all the idle at work again. But aren't we falling into error in making such computations?

It should be remembered that this compilation of 9,500,000 unemployed includes every idle man and woman in the country, those who want work, those who don't want work, and those who wouldn't work if they had it to do. It includes the vast army of professional hoboes, placed at 350,000 several years ago, and probably double that number now. It includes the 1,500,000 in the nation who wouldn't work even in good times, except at odd jobs when they had to do so, but who were content to live off poor boards, private charity, and the generosity of the public. This number is probably twice that size now, for the dole has taught hundreds of thousands of Americans that it is possible to live without work. Then, too, included in this number of idle are the unemployables, at least three-quarters of a million persons whose physical condition, either real or imagined, makes labor out of the question for them. And on top of this are from 750,000 to 1,000,000 aged, who will have to be taken care of by poor boards when the federal government shuts down on relief.

If we can find 4,000,000 additional jobs in this country, it is entirely probable that we can employ every person who can work or who wants to work. Some there are who say that two and a half or three million jobs would do the trick.

Much as we may hate to admit it, there is a certain amount of human dead wood that can't or won't fit into our industrial system. And social service leaders will admit privately that at least half our present number of supposed unemployed come under such classification.

NEARER THE DEATH CHAIR

The electric chair is just a little nearer to Bruno Hauptmann, convicted for the kidnaping and killing of the Lindbergh baby. In some quarters there has been some criticism of the slow operations of justice in this case. But it is just as well that the law has moved deliberately since the jury convicted Hauptmann. There has been time for sober second thought, far removed from the passions and tensions of the trial. New Jersey's highest court's recent decision should dispel any lingering thought that justice has not been done.

SANCTIONS IN EFFECT

The League of Nations has placed an embargo on shipment of arms to Italy and has granted Ethiopia permission to buy all the armament found necessary to stop the Italian invasion.

This marks the first retaliatory measure of the world against Mussolini, but it remains to be seen how far the powers are prepared to go to enforce their embargo.

If it means that the British and French fleets are going to halt all arms shipments by force, then the conclusion must be that war in Ethiopia is not far away. If the sanction is but a gesture, the Italian invasion will continue—but the league will pass away.

UNICAMERAL LEGISLATIVE SYSTEM?

Present system of two-house legislature originated in England in 1642 because of the oppressive rule of the King in connection with his non-taxed Lords and Peers, to give to the people just voice in governmental affairs.

However, the dual system has been practically abandoned by England; the Dominion of Canada and all its provinces, with the exception of two, have discarded the old system for the unicameral, or one-house legislature.

Since Texas legislative members, representative and senatorial districts, are elected by a district vote of the people, for the same purpose, with the same compensation, purporting to represent the same interests, the trend of the people, or the voting public, are beginning to see the foolishness—and that is what it is—of such a system. The unicameral plan is gradually growing in favor. More recently Senator Nelson of Tahoka has taken a stand for the one-house system. He has even gone so far as to cite, "In one hundred years the people of Texas have not been able to so perfect the bi-cameral system as to preclude the passage of crude and ill-digested laws, which often puzzle learned jurists who cannot solve them with anything like satisfaction to themselves or to the public."

"Due to this system being in effect the major part of our laws are written by free conference committees resulting many times in the passage of or defeat of laws contrary to the will of the people. The bi-cameral system permits of the shifting and dodging of responsibility and accountability to the people, such as would be impossible under the unicameral system and the check of the recall."

Senator Nelson hopes to have the unicameral system presented before the voting public of Texas in the form of a constitutional amendment. Compensation as a salary of five thousand dollars would be paid per annum.

A Kansas girl who disappeared is said to have been a blonde when last seen.

With men winning first prizes at knitting bees, diaper contests, and jam making, about the only thing a woman can excel at any more is singing baritone over the radio.

Many cities suffer simply because the citizens generally do not know the attractions of their city and what it provides for the entertainment and comfort for the tourists.

Up-to-date business men realize that newspaper advertising is a service they owe the public. The fact that they back the goods they sell with their name shows that their goods are honest goods. It is always safer to buy from concerns that advertise.

The people of this country are the ones who will keep it ahead in the March of Progress—not our politicians.

Some people are citizens of a city—and others just live there.

There is often a vast difference between what men honestly intend to do and what they actually do.

What most cities need are fewer pessimists and a greater number of citizens with more faith in its future.

A little carelessness often causes an accident that a lifetime cannot repair. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Brains and work and capital are needed in the upbuilding of a city.

HOPE TO BOOST CROP ALLOWANCE IN WEST TEXAS

WTCC Advises Secretary of Agriculture Unfairness of Present Plan

Efforts to regulate the Bankhead cotton control plan as it affects West Texas are being continued by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, of which Ray H. Nichols of Vernon is president.

It is hoped to have the plan adjusted on the basis of West Texas crop production during the dry years. A point that has not been taken into consideration by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Figures to substantiate the argument are given as follows: The five-year base period specified in the Bankhead bill results in penalizing West Texas to the benefit of other cotton sections. The ninety West Texas counties produced 11.5 percent less cotton during the five year period than they produced during the previous five-year period.

cotton against 4.5 percent less cotton for the rest of the cotton belt. A 7 percent differential and penalty are hereby created against the West Texas territory. Because of the terms of the Bankhead Plan, we must pay the 7 percent penalty for all the years the plan is in effect. In other words, we must in effect each year give to other sections 150,000 bales of our cotton to produce."

AULDS NAMED GAME WARDEN

Austin E. Aulds, for the past several years serving as a tonsor artist in Chillicothe, has departed for Dickens county. He is to serve the State as a game warden.

Aulds will have charge of nine counties in the supervising work. He is not expected to return to Chillicothe until in January of February. Counties included in his district are Cottle, Motley, Floyd, Crosby, Dickens, King, Garza, Kent and Stonewall.

Has Been Ill

Chubby Hutchens, who starred on the Chillicothe baseball club this past season, has been ill for the past few days with an attack of influenza. He was confined to his bed for three days. Monday he was taken to Vernon by his father, E. P. Hutchens, and a molar was extracted in the hope of putting the lad back in 100 per cent shape. Tuesday morning he was ailing again and complained of having a sore spot on his right side, causing him to feel there might be such a thing as a bad appendix. Last reports, however, reveal him to be showing an improvement.

WITH THE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS.....

A canning demonstration will be given by Miss Lela M. Vaughn of the Kerr Glass Company on Saturday, November 23 in the Quannah high school auditorium. The demonstration will be from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

The demonstration will be on the canning of fruits and vegetables. The general public is invited to come and learn the newest developments in home canning.

Several members of the Willow view 4-H club put out winter onions which were given them by Mrs. J. C. Marshall of Quannah. Each girl reports that the onions are living and growing well.

The winter onions provide fresh onions during the winter when the other onions are out of season. These onions will stay in ground from year to year.

Thirty-one pounds of butter had been sold by Mrs. J. A. Jenkins of the Medicine Mound home, demonstration club from the first to the thirteenth of November. This is an average of three pounds of butter per day. Mrs. Jenkins is milking four cows.

Top prices is always given Mrs. Jenkins and she never has trouble selling her butter for she wraps the butter in good butter paper and places her name on every pound. Any butter which is not satisfactory is replaced. The sweet cream is used most of the time.

BREEDLOVE WILL GO TO STRATFORD

Rev. Nichols of Spearman Comes to This City

Rev. R. T. Breedlove and several other Methodists have returned from conference held in Plainview, closing last Sunday night when appointments for the coming year were announced.

Rev. Breedlove and his family will leave this week for Stratford, located in the far northern part of the state, bordering the Kansas line. He will be succeeded here by the Rev. Nichols who comes from Spearman where he has served for the last six years. Rev. Edridge of Vernon was returned to this district as presiding elder, with his home located in Vernon.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin—Both houses of the legislature approved pension report on the old-age pension bill and sent to Gov. Allred for signature as the special session took its last week end adjournment. The session ends automatically Thursday. The pension bill carries an appropriation of $25,000,000 out of a special pension bill which, as this is written, is penniless. Senate debate on the issue omnibus tax bill, estimated to raise $5,000,000 annually, with a fourth going to the school fund under constitutional requirements, was still under way, with final passage doubtful. Pensions are to begin July 1 under the bill passed, so indications are there will be no special session immediately, even if revenue for pensions is not made available.

The bill providing salaries for certain fee officers also was in conference, with every prospect of early passage before final adjournment. The bill regulating liquor, likewise was in the hands of a dry-dominated conference, with passage virtually assured. It provides no sale by the drink except for beer and 14 per cent wine, hard liquors to be sold in unbroken packages through licensed stores. Whether die-hard wets would refuse to give the bill the necessary two-thirds majority, and prevent the law taking immediate effect, thus losing a million dollars in liquor tax revenue to the state, remained about the only question.

Last week, Texas rangers raided a notorious gambling resort in Tarrant county. They were acting on specific, personal instructions from the governor. For eight months, Allred has been trying to get the rangers to close this place. The greatest secrecy surrounded the plans for the raid. Two rangers who had been on duty in south Texas came secretly to Austin, conferred with the governor, then left by automobile, taking the road to Houston, to prevent the gamblers being "tipped off" in advance, as they have been in the past on every attempt to raid the place.

By a roundabout road, the rangers went to Fort Worth, drove to the place on the Dallas pike, cut a wire fence and crawled half a mile across a field to surprise the gamblers. Charges of operating a gambling house were filed against five operators. There may be a shakeup in personnel of the ranger force as a result of repeated previous failures to raid this place successfully.

Another notorious gambling resort in south Texas has ceased gambling operations and its proprietor, a kinship gambling racketeer, is said to have moved to New Orleans, because of Gov. Allred's war on gambling dives. This place, operated for years in defiance of all anti-gambling laws, was closed by the personal efforts of the governor, who sent a trustworthy member of the rangers, there and told him to sit in the place every night until it closed. With the rangers sitting there, the gamblers couldn't gamble, and with an orchestra and floor show that cost $2500 a week they couldn't run indefinitely at a heavy loss. The ranger sat there every night for a month. Then the boss gambler threw in the towel and closed up, announcing he would leave the state.

Sen. Morris Sheppard, with a gray tinge to his once red hair, but otherwise appearing as youth full and vigorous as ever, served notice on Texas that he is a candidate for re-election on one issue—support of the Democratic New Deal and President Franklin D. Roosevelt—at Temple last week. The occasion was a huge gathering to honor the senator and Gov. Allred for their aid in making possible federal appropriations for the great Brazos Valley reclamation project. More than 1900 prominent men and women from the upper end of the valley to the coast, participated, paid high tribute to the governor and the senator for their untiring efforts.

It was the first public gathering attended by both Allred and Sheppard since the federal control of oil was in Washington, and political observers, hearing Allred pay glowing tribute to Sheppard, declared the rumors that Allred might oppose Sheppard for re-election next year, finally dead. (They were specifically denied in this column weeks ago.) Sheppard spoke for an hour, giving a masterly summary of the New Deal and its achievements from AAA to WPA, and casting his lot unreservedly with Roosevelt.

"The New Deal is a song of brotherhood and a hymn of humanity, and Franklin D. Roosevelt has done more for the common man than any president who ever sat in the White House," he extolled Allred, and the deafening ovation. Political wisecracks marked up the odds on Sheppard's election to about 10 to 1. He intently did not mention repeal.

Throughout Texas, communities are engaged in raising the funds for Will Rogers memorials. Here is an unpublished, authentic account of how Will Rogers wrote his first newspaper material for publication.

In 1920, Charles H. (Chuck) Newell, well-known Texas newspaper executive of Dallas, Texas, Austin and elsewhere, was editor of Newspaper Enterprise association, a national feature service in vaudeville, and contributor of having him write a dozen or so a day on the Republican national convention at Chicago in June. They went over with a bang, and at the Democratic convention in San Francisco later, Newell again hired Will to write-crack. That was the first acquaintance the great American news-reading public had with Rogers, and from that modest start sprang Rogers' voluminous writings, his daily news feature and his magazine articles that were eagerly read by scores of millions.

"He was as nervous about how his stuff was going to 'get over' with the newspaper readers as a high school girl," said Newell. "And he grinned with joy when the reports showed it was clicking all over the country."

McGinnis Loses Brother By Death

J. M. McGinnis, 74, of Sherman, a brother of J. T. McGinnis of Chillicothe, died at his home in that city last Saturday morning. Funeral rites were held Sunday afternoon.

Attending from here included Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGinnis and Mr. and Mrs. Dea Thorp. Due to both being ill at their home here the deceased's brother and Mrs. McGinnis were unable to be present.

HEALTH TALK

By John W. Brown, M. D. (State Health Officer)

Pyorrhea is a chronic disease involving the gums and also that part of the jaw bone surrounding the roots of the teeth. It also affects the membrane which fastens the tooth to the bone and helps to hold it firmly in place, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Being an adult's malady it is seldom seen in children. It is most common after middle life. It begins at the gum margin. Early symptoms include swelling and redness. Moreover, the gums are prone to bleed when brushed. Usually there is no pain, even in advanced cases. If the progress of this disease is not arrested, the bone and ligament become involved, pockets are formed between the teeth and gum, and pus collects.

Uncleanliness, undue stress on a few teeth, malnutrition, and irritation produced by the accumulation of food, tartar, and bacteria around include swelling and redness. Moreover, the gums are prone to bleed when brushed. Usually there is no pain, even in advanced cases. If the progress of this disease is not arrested, the bone and ligament become involved, pockets are formed between the teeth and gum, and pus collects.

It is a curable disease if it is not too far advanced when recognized. Treatment is not by the use of drugs but in educating the patient in the proper use and care of the teeth and the removal of the remnants of dead membrane adhering to the root surfaces, as well as any existing tartar.

Proper daily attention to the mouth hygiene is the one great bulwark against pyorrhea.

Mrs. W. Lloyd Current of Petrolia was a guest of her sister Mrs. A. E. Howard, and Mr. Howard, Sunday.

V-8 LEADERSHIP

On October 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year. One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm. These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

JUST THINGS GOSSIPY

(Editor's Note: This column is resumed following requests of several News readers that it not be discontinued.)

There is one person in town you never want to steal from—at least a pocketbook containing a few checks I have been told on good authority, none other than A. L. Honeycutt, that one of the darker hue was rounded up and made to confess of stealing the pocketbook, and had hid it in the weeds. The method of getting the "truth" is even more severe than the so-called "third degree." I am further told, it was a necktie party, eh E. E.?

One thing is sure—should there be more football games year. Superintendent W. E. Hancock will not detail himself to keep the crowd off the sidelines—or at least tell them to "squid" down.

Nor that I need a set, but in as much as the cost was greater than I could reach, I then and there confessed to a book agent. "Well, you is a good prospect man having children!" "Dewey Marsh," I answered. I am going to find out if Dewey bought the set of encyclopedias.

Gene Williams remarks Dallas is a much better place to go when wanting to market. It used to be St. Louis, but of late things in Dallas are much more attractive—even don't cost as much. That's what I call figuring 'em out.

Theystillkethissupponassat. And now and then they kiss. And then he says some darn-fool thing and then they sit Like _____-this!

I know of one Chillicothe young married woman who cursed her husband while he was in her presence, and now that he is absent she cries. Figure it out for yourself—it's beyond me.

Oh, well, us married men are being laughed at by bachelors during these years of depressed pocketbooks. I don't care, do you?

Jack Morrison has been given the nickname of "Tomato." Why, I do not know. Ask Wallace Waldrip. Dick Jeter is about the busiest young man in and out of town. Our Intertype operator enjoys out-of-town football games far more than games played here. If women were as hard to please in the choice of a husband as they are in his behavior after they have been married, there would be lots more old maids in the world. Hardin Cole rises to question: "Why is it that so many who can't sing, try?"

The young lady who was going to— or considering might be the better term—get married, tells me "A good job paying you money, so you can buy your own pretty clothes, be yourself, do as you please, is a whole lot better than baking biscuits for some grocer of a man."

Yes, she is a blonde. They do say blonde's are fickle. Perhaps, but this one apparently has enough intelligence to leave well enough alone. Blonde's are all okay-dokes, by the by, and I'm for 'em. Yet, as for this young blonde lady—very pretty—not getting married in due time. Well, I still think she is going to opine differently.

Clarence Carlock "straightened me out" the other day. For some reason I cannot explain, I fell in to the habit of writing "Jim" Muse. Maybe it's because he should have been named Jim in the first place. Anyway, "Jesse" is correct. Thanks a whole lot, C. E. Hereafter, it will be "Jesse," and I apologize to "Jesse."

They tell this one on Sam Robinson: "All right, I'll take your case. I feel sure that I can get you justice."

"Client: "Why, say Sam, I ain't justice. I want. You've got to get me off."

Here's one on Dr. Thos. A. Lowery: "A fortnight ago you gave me a plaster to get rid of my rheumatism."

"Yes," answered Dock. "Now I want something to get rid of the plaster."

Headline: "Republicans urged to run Ford for President in coalition." They better run 'em with gasoline. Headline: "General Booth opens world-wide 'war' on sin." And they told me he was fighting sin for a long time.

Yes, it's better, to have loved and lost. Saved lots of expense, anyhow.

Volney Hill is said to be doing as well as could be expected since he was stricken here last Friday afternoon with lottisia. But, there's a coach for you. He likes winners—not quitters. They must fight hard to win or else they must quit. I like a winner, myself. I hope the old boy will have better, luck next year, until he meets the Eagles, of course.

Thanks, Mack! Hats off to the Chillicothe Valley News for accurate football forecasting. Before the season opened the Chillicothe writer said the race would again settle down to Crowell and Olney, and despite odds to the contrary, the Eagles would win in third place by defeating the highly touted Seymour Panthers with the aid of Ramsey's passes. In astounding this area with a 27-7 victory last week over Seymour, the Eagles' first two touchdowns resulted from Ramsey's passes. Mack, Howwell, Board County News.

I wish Jess Britt would leave my hat alone. AIR COOLING SYSTEM—Bayne Young and several other young progressive men of this city have about completed plans for an air-conditioning and ventilation system to be used in time to come—at least that is their statement and will explain their system to any one who is interested and will only inquire. They expect to get an endorsement from several social clubs when plans are completed.

Edinburg: The 1,522 containers of food valued at $208.64 in the pantry of Mrs. R. E. Bowker, Hidalgo county pantry demonstrator, has served her family other than by supplying an abundance of food for the table. Food was exchanged for the services of a trained nurse, and 300 cans of tomato juice and tomatoes have been sold for cash. Mrs. Bowker told Miss Mattie Wilroy, home demonstration agent. Fifty cans of broccoli and spinach were also sold.

Eagles Whip Bulldogs By Score 44-0

District 9, class B, football for the year of 1935 was brought to a close for the Chillicothe Eagles eleven here last Friday afternoon "in a blaze of glory" trouncing the invading Burk Burnett Bulldogs, led by the former Eagles coach, Volney Hill. The count was 44 to 0.

Although the weather carried a touch of winter, a light wind whipping down from the north, forcing onlookers to shiver, it failed to mar the interest in the game, and a goodly number of the faithful were on hand to watch that sort of team Hill was bringing back to his former home. And by the way, they were not too sure of an Eagles victory when the whistle sounded for the end of the first half. Jesse Muse's corollary was, leading by only a score of 6 to 0, and it had been a pretty battle all the way, with McKown quarterback for Hill's eleven, doing the ball totting, and doing a nice job of it. However, right half back Aults of the Eagles and full back Aults of the same team, took most of the honors for the afternoon. Keys right after the opening of the second half, was given the ball and went off right tackle sidestepping opponents, to finally wind up back of the Bulldog's goal line. It was merely a matter of racing 70 perfectly good yards for a touchdown.

Mr. Aults, having a good right toe, made it very troublesome all afternoon for the Burk team. Besides, he was gaining considerable yardage for the home cause. No. 66, a Mr. Clifton, who played a stellar fullback game for Volney Hill, was nearly as bright a star as was McKown in trying to score touchdowns.

Chillicothe's first score was counted in the closing minutes of the second period. After the Eagles blocked a Burk punt, with Aults carrying the ball, gained a first down to place the ball at about the Burk 21-yard line. Keys made two yards, but failed to gain on the second down. On the third down Jake Francis dropped back and shot the ball to Woody Ramsey, who easily carried the ball across. Aults had picked up enough yardage for a first down on three plays. Keys was then given the ball and went off right tackle, skirting through a mass of players to race 70 yards for a touchdown. The try for extra points was successful making the count: Eagles 13, Bulldogs 0.

That was all the scoring for the first three periods of the game, but it was a hectic ball game for Volney Hill's crew from then on. Tidmore counted six more points on the fourth goal line, but the try for point failed, making the score board register Eagles 19, Bulldogs 0.

Keys raced 45 yards on the first play after the Eagles had been given the ball, and accounted for another first down; Aults gained a yard; Keys picked up 12 yards and a first down, and on the next play scampered over the Bulldogs line for another touchdown. The Bulldogs were, in a condition known as "blow up"; Aults made the extra play with a good kick. Score: Eagles 26, Bulldogs 0.

The home team scored again when Aults shot a pass to Keys for approximately 30 yards, and the lad ran the remainder of the distance, some 18 yards, for the touchdown. Score: Eagles 32, Bulldogs 0. The try for extra point, a pass, failed.

Th. Eagles kicked off, Aults putting lots of power behind the ball sending it far across the goal line. Referee Weir brought the ball back to the 20-yard line where it was given to the Bulldogs. On two downs, however, Burk was unable to gain any appreciable yardage and on the third selected to kick, but left end Kersey and in third place by defeating the highly touted Seymour Panthers with the aid of Ramsey's passes. In astounding this area with a 27-7 victory last week over Seymour, the Eagles' first two touchdowns resulted from Ramsey's passes. Mack, Howwell, Board County News.

The final score was added also by Aults. After the kick off by Burk having the ball, could not gain through the Eagles defense and kicked on the second down. Chillicothe took over the ball and Aults fumbled on the first play, kicked up four yards on the second. Ramsey then took the ball and zig-zagged for 20 yards before he was brought down, Aults on the first down, failed to gain. Keys accounted for 5 yards, Aults added three more yards, and on the next play crossed the Bulldogs goal line. The ball was low on the conversion. Score: Eagles 44, Bulldogs 0.

Olney at Crowell
The feature encounter for this week's games in District 9-B, will be Olney clashing against the Crowell Wildcats at Crowell. The sets will be staged under the trees. Much interest is being shown by both towns. Olney plans to invade the Board county city by special train, busses, automobiles and any other vehicle that can be used. Vicked, the chairman of the committee, says: "We'll pick ours, we'll pick ours, and here goes: 7-0—Olney."

Volney Hill has a good chance of winning this week when his Bulldogs play at home against the Iowa Park eleven. McKown, Clifton and Rose ought to be enough. Something has gone dead-wrong with Seymour. They have folded up, maybe. Looked it in last Friday's game, with Archer City—or else Archer City is much better than being credited. Anyhow, they faced Throckmorton Friday. Let's take Seymour for sympathy's sake, if nothing else.

A. I. Davenport of the Farmers Valley community was here on business last Trade Day. He is quite a hefty young fellow, which is all the more reason why he is easy to get along with.

IT WORKED FOR ME
Women should take only liquid laxatives
MORE people could feel fine, be fit and regular, if they would only follow the rule of doctors and hospitals in relieving constipation. Never take any laxative that is harsh in action. The dose which can't be exactly measured. Doctors know the danger if this rule is violated. They use liquid laxative and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all. Reduced dosage is the secret of doing Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why it should be a liquid like Syrup Pepsin.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if it doesn't give you absolute relief, it isn't a joy and comfort in the way it overcomes any sluggishness or biliousness, your money back.

FOR ONE HUNDRED YEARS DEAD TO SURROUNDINGS AND THEN BROUGHT BACK TO LIFE IN FAR OFF 2035

Merey Imagination of Chillicothe School Youth, But He is "Wired" at Thinking of What May Come in Later Years
(By Jack Morrison)
Everything is very strange to me now—when I was put to sleep in 1935 but I guess I had better start at the first of the story— I was a criminal in prison for life, but for a crime of which I was innocent. However, my great chance came. A scientist wanted a man out of the prison on which to make an experiment. There was much opposition to this, most people claiming the scientist shouldn't be allowed to do this, saying the experiment was impossible, and the scientist just wanted publicity. Finally, the experiment was allowed to go on. I was chosen. I remember the days of preparing for it, having to lie down and rest nearly all day as well as all night until it became almost intolerable and I longed to jump up to run around and around the room, to jump up and down, hit the assistant sitting by me; but instead, I laid there and gritted my teeth and waited.

Then there is the time when I was wheeled into the operating room. I remember it vaguely as if it were a dream. I remember the feeling I had and it was exactly the feeling I used to have when mother had tucked me in bed and then some, leaving me in the dark. In plain words I was scared! That is all I remember—the rest is just a jumble blot.

But now I am awake! alive! free! I feel like Rip Van Winkle. This is in the year 2035. I feel very, very sorry for those poor old fossils who lived in 1935. They did not get to see the rocket planes, the thought typewriter, the concentrated food tablets they take now which has a full meal in a tablet the size of a pea, or a thousand other things.

The experiment performed on me was that they froze me, like a fish and some way which is too complicated for me to explain—or you to understand—kept me alive for a hundred years. They thawed me out, opened a can of blood, poured me full of it, and some way started me to ticking again.

But I won't pull the hero stuff. I have been in the Elm Grove community was seen on the streets this last week looking just as healthy as ever. There is one thing about Elm Grove folks—they get enough to eat.

KNOWS HIS FARMING—O. K. Hafe, is another one of those good farmers on the Moffett place. From the way he tends to his cotton, and other agricultural crops, and then his dairy cattle, he is bound to be one of the best. Yes, O. K. has a mighty good helpmate, which is another—maybe a better—reason why he is getting along satisfactory.

Miserable with backache?
WHEN kidneys function badly and you suffer a nagging backache, with dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination and getting up at night when you feel tired, nervous, all upset... use Doan's Pills.
Doan's are especially for poorly working kidneys. Millions of people are used every year. They are recommended the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Beware The Cough That Hangs On
From a common cold
No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the essential elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect. Fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Bechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with the best results.
Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and

THE FLAMING CHAPTERS OF ONE WOMAN'S LOVE...

TRAPPED BY TWO WORLDS LOCKED IN TITANIC CONFLICT!

The glory of the West...the splendor of Asia...in the hollow of her hand! Great armies crouched like beasts...while in the tents of the mighty, a gorgeous woman, sworn to be wife in name only...balanced the brow of Christendom against the wiles of an Oriental despot.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Big news on the high school front! All students, especially underclassmen, are excited and all agree over the new site, for the football field, swimming pool, playground and park that has been donated to the school and city by Mr. Dodson and Mr. Moffett.

It is the universal opinion of all students, teachers, and everyone in any way connected with the schools that this is one of the most forward steps that has ever been taken in Chillicothe, and that these two men have made a donation that will far outweigh any other deed of public service that has been done for Chillicothe.

This, coupled with the new gymnasium that is being built, will make the city of Chillicothe and the school system of Chillicothe among the most modern of their kind in Texas.

Students possibly more than adult citizens extend a sincere vote of gratitude to these two men because students will take full advantage of the swimming pool, football field, tennis courts, etc.

Last football game of the season is to be tomorrow on the local field with Tipton, Okla.

The debating club is sponsoring a sing-song tournament, to begin the night of Monday, Dec. 9. And intramural football is beginning now that the regular season is over. There should be some fine games among the non-professionals.

KING GIVES VIEWS OF AAA AS IT AFFECTS FARMER AND RIGHTS UNDER CONSTITUTION OF UNITED STATES

Difference of Opinion Between "Farmer B" and "New Dealer" Interestingly Related

(Continued from Last Week) moves mountains, we have stretched our farms through the valleys, hung them across endless slides, flung them across endless plains, developing the greatest enterprise known to man. It may appear and yet rude in us to question your sincerity, you must consider that you offer just a few pieces of silver in exchange for something that cannot be bought with gold. The feeling of absolute ownership of this little farm, to do with as we want, is a supporting staff to our manhood, just as the wings are to the soaring eagle. Would you clip its wings, bring it down from its heights? If not, then be compassionate, in your trespassing upon individual liberties and the sanctity of property ownership. Yes, I know your rebuttal. That the old must be nailed to the cross never to be recalled either in song or story, that the day of individualism and private initiative is dead and that collectivism is the order of the hour. If this be the inevitable, then true to the ways of the chattel slave, we will bow our heads to the dominant power. Collectivism means pulling all together. It is a beautiful conception of principle and one that has been properly interwoven into yet remains our comforter and the rock of ages for our weary souls. No, you cannot eat Love. Yet they die in love's compact. No, you cannot eat patriotism, yet the battlefields of the world are sanctified with the blood of the patriot. Your political philosophy does an injustice to the American citizen, in presuming that he possesses the anatomical stomach, the one that devours ham and eggs. Remember, he has an invisible stomach which feeds the intellect and the soul, and food for it is far more important than food for the physical want. What dinner ever compared in rapturous ecstasy with those moments beneath a silvery moon, lost in the enchantments of love. What morsel ever tickled the tongue, like worthy service swells the soul. Beef steak in the stomach will not appease an unratified ambition of the pent-up energies generated in the intellectual brain. Who is there who would not deny his stomach the ambrosia of the Gods for the accomplishments of Thomas Edison, for the eloquence of William Jennings Bryan, or for the humanitarianism of Florence Nightingale. No, a full stomach sates the soul, not a shackled brain, or a hungry soul, rob life of the initiative to accomplish unfettered by any extraneous unnatural forces, then it weakens in its shackles and degenerates into a state of serfdom. You may kill the horse, plow up the cotton and wheat, build dams and plant trees, but let us remind you that liberty was conceived in the womb of ages and given birth by the constitution of our country. This Magna Carta may be ancient, but like our mothers, grow more precious with age. We grant you the right to modernize her dress but we challenge your right to change one wrinkle in her brow or pluck one lock from her forehead. We Americans shall respond to any attempt to change our constitution, very much like the Arkansians in the changing of the name of Arkansas. His response as you know, was: "Change the name of Arkansas' Hell fire not!" This spontaneous burst of eloquence, should be a reminder to those ultra modern L. L. D. political and economical country saving politicians, who would for personal aggrandizement attempt to alter and rearrange this covenant of the foundation upon which the beautiful edifice of our democ-

SEEDLING PEACH GROWN IN LANCE ORCHARD SHOWN

OWNED BY MRS. LANCE; LUTHER DOES 'HEAVY' WORK, HOWEVER

Well-formed, and delicious, a peach, grown on Mrs. Luther Lance's two and one-half acre orchard, found its way to The News office a few days ago. Peaches have been growing in the orchard since May 25, and of this variety, seedling, Mrs. Lance has five trees. When it was brought to the office was beginning to ripen. A little later on departed where all peaches are. Consequently, more could then be said but acclimated with "Sho tasted good." The orchard is cared for by Luther in that he cuts the weeds, keeps trees growing and producing so Mrs. Lance will be able to eat the fruit. Not a bad system because Luther eventually gets paid. It is hoped the orchard will not be faced with a severe frost after putting out buds this next year, and that there will be able to eat the fruit. Not a bad system because Luther eventually gets paid.

determination, and needing strict paternal regulation. We hold no brief for the public utilities, for we hope they are sufficient within themselves to hold those fields begotten legally and justly. Our consideration goes out to the humble hog. Now days one rarely sees a sho-hog in company with a hobo. No more do they roam together through the stables and up, and down the moon-hit alfalfa fields, grunting their words of endearment. The sho-hog has come to know that the G-men are hidden in the barnyard, shooting just on general suspicion. This inhibition of swine propagation would be of little human interest, were it not for the fact that a very enjoyable, and necessary article of diet has been denied the table of the average family. Common every day smoke house sow-belly selling around 40c per pound, the average individual can no longer afford to have his eggs embroiled with strips of juicy bacon. Establishing an equilibrium between production and demand through the process of restriction is a frank confession by our professed statesmen of utter lack of statesmanship. This must be accomplished by the fool. Had we been saved these destructive experiments and had we been led constructively, we dare say that today, our normal production would be consumed in world trade, and that our future would not be so harassed by increased foreign production. You new dealers deny this. But you will not deny the governmental report showing that in the year 1935 the exports of farm products were the lowest in 29 years, and that the imports of farm products were the highest in 40 years. What an incongruity! What rank injustice! Kill our hogs and import foreign meat. Plow up our cotton and import cottonseed oil and meal. Curtail the growing of wheat and corn and buy these commodities in foreign markets. And listen, in this same year, the export of manufactured farm products, almost reached the level of normal. Again, pay heed, for this year 1935, the Federal census of farms show that there are five hundred thousand more farms and sixty million more acres in cultivation than in the year 1921. And yet the value of farm lands had depreciated $15,000,000. This is a good example of hokus pokus pro-

erty. Take back from us the outright bounties, subsidy and loans advanced to us out of the public treasury, all of which must be directly or indirectly repaid, and we would find ourselves worse off than in the year of 1932. Therefore the seeming improvement is artificial with no guarantee for permanency. Summary In summing up, we condemn this program for the following reasons: 1. Unfairness in its application as between both individuals and sections of the cotton belt. 2. It trespasses upon individual liberties and the sanctity of property rights. 3. We oppose its inconsistencies — on the one hand it would curtail production by retiring land already in cultivation, while on the other hand it seeks to increase production by reclaiming arid lands by the building of irrigating dams; by removing people from other vocations onto the farms, soil erosion measures to make the land more productive. 4. It attempts to gain the end sought by destructive rather than constructive measures. 5. It would equalize the capacities of the farmers by holding back the thrifty, rather than spurring up the sluggish. 6. It has and is destroying our markets, to the advantage of other nations. 7. Carried to its logical conclusion, it must necessarily include all farm products and in the end meet that ever-existing resistance from the consuming public. 8. Its success depends upon bounties and subsidies, and these will in time be dependent upon varying political thought. 9. It offers a restricted outlook, promising at the best no more than a bare existence. Therefore, as a final admonition, we would ask that if you would deny us the right to use our intellect and the experience gained through the centuries, then at least, allow us to recall those primitive instincts which we lost when we unraveled our fall from the limbs of the bamboo tree. Self preservation and the foresight to store up the fat from the good years against the time of want or scarcity, is dominant in the lowest species of life. Thos. A. King.

Do You Ever Wonder Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE? Ask Your Doctor and Find Out Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN. He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief. Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this. You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store — simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this — and see that you get what you want. Bayer Aspirin ry has been successfully and nobly built. If you are cognizant of the loss of liberties in the recent upheavals of the nations of the old world and yet prize your liberty and freedom, you cannot but pray and acclaim with us: Let not the hand of the deceiver, let not the hand of the vandal toy with its mastery masonry. For every stone within its framework was pressed from the heart of free men, prayers and longings of free men. Think not of it as a lifeless piece of parchment, blotted here and there with splotches of ink, but rather think of it as it really is, a living pulsating panorama of the life and dreams of free men, seeking that enviable state of freedom of mind, of body and of soul. New Dealer: Hay! Brother, calm yourself. Now permit me to talk a while. Farmer B: No stree, for three long years you have talked the people into a state of como. You have held the center of the stage, and a Hindu maejian you have befuddled our minds. We have stood by like idiots, watching you attempt the uneasy. Gracefully but irresistibly you slip your hand into our pocket, draw out a gold dollar, then with a little hokus pokus, you change it into two gold dollars. Now with much hokus pokus and to our bitter bewilderment you drop both dollars down into your own pocket. This is a cute little trick and if universally and permanently applicable, offers a painless route to prosperity. Why create money in the old fashioned way by stone bruising your feet, and callousing your hands in toll and labor? Just nimbly up your fingers, polish the nails and master the magical trick. Contrary to the teachings of our predecessors you tell us that the less we produce the more abundant will be our lives. Naturally we fall for this, do nothing economical philosophy, for it dovetails so nicely into the natural proclivities of human nature. To eat without working is a subconscious desire in primitive men. However, this happy state, having been unobtainable in the past, we are carrying that same conviction that one has on entering the tent of a fortune teller. To look into our crib and see not a rubbin, to look in our hog pen and see not a hog, naturally it is confusing to conjure up prosperity. It is like believing something that is not, a very unsatisfactory state of mind. We must admit that these new fangled doctrines are foreign to our breeding and the abruptness of their application have at least temporarily clouded our perspective. In your attempt through a planned economy to remove all hazards of life and to direct each human life with mathematical precision you have undertaken the impossible, and you have, at the same time, robbed the individual of that boyish inate desire to explore the hazardous. Farmers not unlike other classes of people cater to business. It is the ever-advancing mirage alluring him onward. When he dreams of land it is not of truck patches, but sizeable farms. When he envisage cotton, it is not in locks but in bales. When he thinks of wheat and corn, it is not of pits and quarts but in bushels and sacks. This vast pocket method of farming, full of menacing regulations and promising no more than a bare existence, takes the sand out of our craw, and the starch out of our spines. It is rather humiliating that we farmers be chosen along with the public utilities and the hogs, out of the thousand and one vocations, as the only ones ineapable of self-

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Ira L. Parrack, Pastor

All regular services Sunday and a cordial welcome awaits you at any of the services.

It has been suggested that we gather with others at the Methodist Church next Sunday evening for a joint Thanksgiving service, at which we will greet Brother Nichols, the new Methodist pastor. He will be asked to bring the Thanksgiving message.

Splendid progress is being made on the effort to raise $500.00 besides our running expenses this month. It is hoped that by the close of the Sunday services we will be able to report victory. This $500 will take care of the amount due on the church's indebtedness together with interest and insurance premiums and pay for the roof on the Annex.

"For the Forty-second Legislature, which he said was a fair example, salaries to members totaled $492,842.34, the amount estimated to $477,123.27; stenographic help, $241,278.06; postage, $22,435.52; telephone and telegraph, $23,861.71. Numerous other items make the total mount.

"First, the one house legislature will save thousands of dollars to the State, Senator Nelson said.

"It conforms with modern ideas of business direction. It will change our representative form of government because, like the present senators and representatives, the members of the one house would be chosen from identical districts by the same people. Each of the two would be paid the same salary.

"The one house, instead of breeding corruption, will eliminate corruption. It will do away with the free conference committee, which is in fact a separate house. Senator Nelson, on this point, explained that conference committees often inserted provisions in important bills which do not conform with the wishes of a majority of the legislators of the public. When late in the session something like that is done, members of the separate houses have the alternative of refusing to adopt the report of the conference committee, in which case, an additional expense is entailed because a special session generally has to be called, or of adopting the report, in which case they are being made to vote against their own and the wishes of their constituents.

"Besides," he continued, the one house would eliminate the practice of shifting responsibility.

"The people of Texas are vitally interested in seeing that their orders are obeyed. Senator Nelson said. If they simplify the machinery of government, then they can get farther and farther away from their control. Simplification. Simplification! is the task that awaits us. To reduce the number of persons to be voted for to the absolute workable minimum—knowing whom you have selected, knowing whom you can trust, and have so few persons to watch that you can watch them."

"Another passage he cited from text by James Wilford Garner, in which the author gives as one of the advantages of a bicameral system, that it affords "a convenient means of giving representation to special interests or, classes in the state and particularly to the aristocratic portion of society," in order to counterbalance the undue preponderance of the popular element in one of the chambers, thus introducing in the legislature a conservative force to curb the radicalism of the popular chamber.

"That, he said is one of the issues involved. The people of Texas will not be long in discovering what's what and who's who. They will probably make their expression of opinion felt at the next election, if not on the issue of unicameral legislation itself, then on the question of whether they would like the Legislature to submit such a proposal."

Funeral Service For W. T. Collins Being Held Today

Long-Time Resident of Wilbarger County, Succumbed Tuesday

W. T. Collins, age 75 years, pioneer farmer and business man of Wilbarger county, died Tuesday night in a Vernon hospital. He underwent an operation ten days ago, but had been in failing health about a year and his death was not unexpected.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Jackson Springs school auditorium.

The deceased had resided in that community since 1889 and it was his wish that services should be held in the community where he had lived so long. The body is to be laid to rest in the East View cemetery, Vernon.

Mr. Collins moved to Wilbarger county from Tarrant county in 1899, and acquired considerable land holdings in what is now the Jackson Springs community. He was a native of Alabama and came to Texas as a young man and settled in Tarrant county.

In 1910 Mr. Collins moved from his farm to Odell, which had been started soon after the Orient railway line was built across the northwest corner of Wilbarger county. He was one of the organizers of the Bank of Odell and served as president of the institution until 1925 when he disposed of his interests in a merger of the Bank of Odell and Farmers State Bank.

He was also engaged in the cotton business, but retired a few years ago due to failing health of his wife. At one time Mr. Collins was one of the largest cotton buyers of this section. About two years ago he moved to Vernon so his wife could receive medical treatment. She died in May, 1934.

Since that time Mr. Collins has lived with his son, J. M. Collins, and his daughter, Mrs. Phipp C. Spars, both of whom live at Jackson Springs.

The deceased was at one time very active in community affairs and at one time was active politically, though he was elected to the office only one time, that of county commissioner in 1898.

He affiliated with the Primitive Baptist Church in his youth and remained an active member of that church until the time of his death. In recent years he usually attended gatherings of Primitive Baptists in this section of Texas and in southeastern Oklahoma.

Two of his old friends will conduct the funeral service, and who are ministers in the faith which he had long claimed, his devotion, Elder O. Strickland of Munday, and Elder A. B. Hughes of Vernon. Grandsons are to be acting pallbearers.

Survivors are three sons, J. M. Collins, Jackson Springs, A. T. Collins, Chillicothe and Theodore Collins of Tucson, Arizona; one daughter, Mrs. Phipp C. Spars, Jackson Springs; three brothers, Dr. J. D. Collins and J. H. Collins, Arlington, and A. K. Collins of Port Worth; one sister, Mrs. A. W. Alexander of Westover. In addition there are eighteen grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

George Mitchell was a business visitor in Vernon one day last week.

Miss Ada Campbell was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Campbell Sunday. Miss Campbell resides in Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Story of Altus, Okla., were here Saturday to attend the funeral rites for M. O. Thorp. Mr. Story is a nephew of Mrs. Thorp.

PLENTY OF MILK!—T. D. Howard, fearing he would be forced to do without milk, bought this last week and bought a cow from Dock Hopkins. She is a good one, says "Docker" Hopkins so that ought to please Hon. Mr. Howard. The reason Hopkins got rid of her was on account of cold earnings. He didn't cherish the idea of getting up early and doing the milking.

100 BALES COTTON—Odus K. Tooley, not always being a truthful cow, comes out with the announcement he will make some 100 bales of cotton. That isn't bad. Odus will have plenty of money to buy coffee, and in dealing with cattle buyers hold out for his price. He sold one cow some months ago for $28.00, but he had paid $20.00 for that. His judgment, but Tooley says he wanted to treat the buyer right.

HOG CHOLERA—Sidney Archer, living in the Toberth community, and Harvey Carr, of the Cowen Point community, had hogs to contract cholera a few days ago. They immediately secured serum to prevent a further outbreak.

Decennial of Tech Observed

Mrs. Lula Higginbotham, who attended the Decennial celebration of Texas Technological College, held at Lubbock a few days ago, gives an account of what took place, and reads as follows:

"The main event was the address of Governor Allred to the student body and visitors on Sunday afternoon in the gymnasium building, followed by a reception given in his honor at the Women's Residence Hall. Governor Allred rode to the college between two freshmen who had come after him in a red "strip down". He and Dr. Knapp showed their sportsmanship by braving the West Texas north on this "cool and thrilling ride."

"Among the great things Governor Allred said in his address was the many achievements in the future, for Texas Tech. It is his belief the college will be admitted to the Southwest Conference in the near future.

"The student convocation Monday morning, in which were many notable speakers, was the most interesting feature of the program. Dr. Benedict, president of the Texas University, told of the provision made in the Texas Constitution making it possible to pass laws to build such schools as Tech. I think in 1875.

"L. A. Wood, superintendent of Public Instruction of Texas, told of the confidence people of Texas have in Tech, as evidenced by the fact high school graduates from all over the state have their eyes on Tech, and the enrollment is increasing by leaps and bounds since it now has almost two-thirds more enrolled than the first year. The number in 1934-35 being nearly 2,700 students.

"Senator Carpenter, one of the most interesting speakers, was the man who put 'Tech' in Tech College. He said a friend told him there would then be more dictionaries purchased than ever before in the history of the state, or folks would be wanting to know what the word "Technological" meant. He told of the visions and dreams of those in whose minds the thought of the college was conceived, and of how they grew and were perfected and finally became a law, and Tech was a real possibility.

"This law authorized "the establishment of a college in West Texas which should be a co-educational college of the first class, thorough instruction in technology manufacturing, engineering, branches of agriculture, home economics, and also complete courses in arts and sciences, physical, social, political, pure and applied, in these branches, and any and all other degrees given by colleges of the first class. "Covers a lot of ground doesn't it?"

"One of the speakers was Mr. Sanderson, acting superintendent of the State Board of Education, who told of the rapid growth of Tech. He said Tech is 290 years younger than Harvard, and that it had grown more in this, her first ten years, than Harvard grew in its first one hundred and fifty years, or than Yale did in fifty years. But he pointed out the greatness of a college depends not upon its large enrollment, but upon the high standard it sets for its students.

"Last but not least in interest was Dr. Knapp's address looking to the future of Tech. He told of finding in his travels in the eastern part of the United States of old Texas Tech students filling high and responsible positions, and of his high ambition that Tech students in the future may fill still higher places, even aspiring to the governorship of the great state of Texas.

"It was all very interesting. Even the weather man did his part with a sandstorm, a northern rain, sleet and snow, and lastly, beautiful sunshine for the benefit of the crowds attending the football game on Monday afternoon between Tech and Arizona University of Tucson.

"Brother Neal Lipscomb's sermon Sunday night was full of good things. It seemed like old times when he was here among us. He looks much the same, and seems to have the same high visions as of old."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Hardeman County, Greetings:

You are hereby commanded to summon Joseph Johnson by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Hardeman County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Quanah, on the 1st Monday in December, A. D. 1935, the same being the 2nd day of December, A. D. 1935, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 18th day of November, A. D. 1935, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2372, wherein Vannie Johnson is Plaintiff, and Joseph Johnson is Defendant, and said petition alleges:

That the plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married in Case County, Texas, on or about the day of September, A. D. 1925; that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the day of December, 1932, when the defendant with out any fault of the part of this plaintiff abandoned their home, and has not since lived with plaintiff, and that plaintiff knows any thing about where the defendant resides.

That while they lived together as husband and wife that on different occasions the defendant was guilty of cruel treatment; that he would curse and abuse this plaintiff and strike her with his fist.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and for a judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for her costs of suit, and for such other, and further relief, special and general, in law and equity, that she may be justly entitled to.

Sam Robinson, Attorney-at-Law

Herein Fall Not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
