First Baptist Church plans services to honor local groups

The people at First Baptist Church are working hard to serve others, and they have planned special celebrations to honor those who serve others also.

From November 4th through 6th, FBC will hold meals of appreciation for certain groups within the community.

"We live in a wonderful community of tremendous people," FBC pastor Jerry Shields said. "So many people are engaged in serving for the good of others and are committed to working together in such a helpful and selfless way."

On Monday, November 4th, all city and county employees are invited to join members of FBC for a meal of appreciation at 6 p.m. at the church.

On Tuesday, November 5th, a meal of appreciation for all those employed by the hospital, nursing homes, EMS and other health care professionals will be held on Tuesday, November 5th in the FBC Activities Building.

School employees will be guests on Wednesday, November 6th, with starting time at 6 p.m.

These meals will be provided in conjunction with fall revival services at First Baptist which begin at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary.

"We'd love to honor you and express a portion of our thanks through this meal and to invite you to stay for our revival services to follow," Shields said.

Myers receives IT leadership award

The Texas Organization of Rural & Community Hospitals (TORCH) announced that Randy Myers, CIO of Mitchell County Hospital, is the recipient of the Rural Health IT Leadership Award in their 2013 Annual Rural Health IT Awards.

"There are great technical advances occurring daily at rural hospitals across Texas that help improve the patient care for their local communities and region," said Quang Ngo, vice president of TORCH. "TORCH is proud to have this opportunity to recognize their accomplishments and put the spotlight on Randy Myers, CIO at Mitchell County Hospital, for his hard work and dedication to technology."

The Rural Health IT Leadership Award recognizes an individual who had demonstrated outstanding leadership and dedication to the advancement and adoption of health information technology.

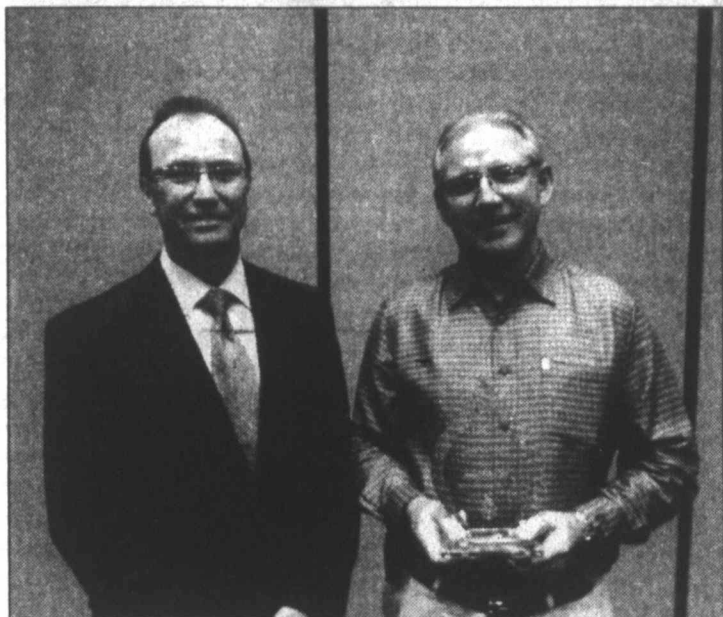

Myers was nominated by Joe Wright, CFO of the hospital, for his guidance and leadership allowed their facility to build a multimillion-dollar state of the art network that can drive Electronic Record Management System and provide the highest quality of care. In addition, in his spare time he consults and serves as the chief information officer at an additional rural hospital with a completely different operating system, which requires a different technology approach.

In addition to his work with rural hospitals, Myers is playing a leadership role in developing increasing opportunities for the information technology students at the local Technical College. He mentors these young students and has them intern at their hospital which allows them to get real hands on experience before graduation. He also volunteers at a local school ensuring their infrastructure and network is ready and available throughout the year.

He also leads the Healthland Electronic Medical Records Southern users group. This group gives critical guidance and suggestions to our vendor on needed improvements to meet the challenges of the electronic age.

David Pearson, president and CEO of TORCH added, "There has been considerable progress made by many rural hospitals and we're proud to recognize the effort, dedication and perseverance that our hospitals, their leadership teams and IT staff have demonstrated over the past year."

The award was presented during the 2013 TORCH Hospital Information Technology Conference (HITCON) awards luncheon held on October 17 in Frisco. The three awards presented include the Outstanding HIT Partnership Award, Rural Hospital IT Award of Excellence and Rural Health IT Leadership Award.

Local schools turned in UIL enrollment figures last week

School officials turned in enrollment figures to the University Interscholastic League (UIL) on Friday, October 25th for the 2014-15 alignment. Coaches and administrators won't know anything about the district realignment until February 3, 2014.

There will be a reclassification of six-man to Class 1A, which means all current classifications will be raised a class higher. That means that Colorado City will be in Class 3A next season.

The UIL has announced its intention to keep the two divisions during football, keeping larger schools in each class playing in Division I, while smaller schools compete in Division II. All other sports will compete in one division in what may be different districts.

Realignment is conducted based on the number of enrolled 8th through 11th grade students. During the last week in November, the UIL will announce the cutoff numbers for each class.

CISD Superintendent Reggy Spencer turned in 286, a slight decrease from two years ago. He said that he expects Colorado City to remain in Division II.

Other communities that have begun to experience an oil boom are seeing the effects in enrollment figures. Spencer said that Lamesa turned in 469, which may put the school into Division I. He also said that Brownfield is right on the cusp of the cutoff.

Westbrook ISD Superintendent Todd Burleson said that though enrollment is up as a whole at Westbrook, most of the growth is in the elementary grades. However, Westbrook's UIL enrollment is 63, up by 10 students from year before last.

"Enrollment is at a record high (at Westbrook)" Burleson said Tuesday. The smallest class at this point is the senior class with 12 students.

Travis Edwards, Loraine Superintendent, told a similar story. Though enrollment is up significantly at LISD, most of the growth can be seen in elementary grades. Edwards turned in 38, compared to 40 from two years ago.

Maximum allowed for six-man is increasing by five students from two years ago, which was 104.5.

Loraine ISD plans veteran program

Loraine ISD is planning a special ceremony to honor the men and women in the area that have served in the armed forces, and all area veterans are invited to attend. Families and friends of the veterans are also welcome at the assembly.

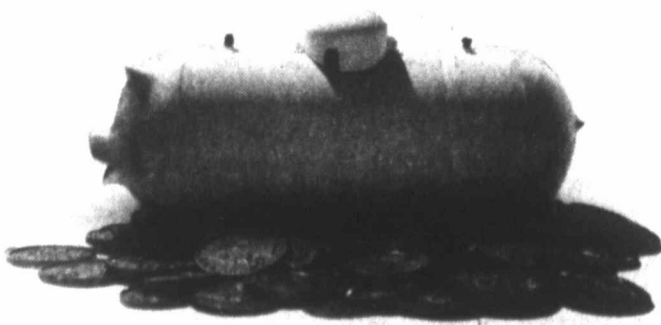

The Veteran's Day assembly will be held Monday, November 11th in the Loraine Cafetorium beginning at 9 a.m. There will be a special program of patriotic songs, reading of patriotic essays and recognition of area vets and family members serving in the U.S. armed forces.

Special recognition is planned for any veteran that joined the service during World War II, the Korean War or Vietnam instead of graduating from LISD. School officials will honor any honorably discharged soldier that was serving his/her country instead of graduating from Loraine High School by awarding them a diploma.

Those planning to attend that are eligible for a diploma should contact Eric Sanchez or Micki Hernandez at 325-737-2225 in order to complete required paperwork by October 31st.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH A big bang in the temple

I have written about Reid Bunker before. He is a high school classmate of mine who had an outstanding career as an opera singer. He performed in major opera houses in the world, including the ones in Tokyo and Sydney. Reid lived in Vienna for 20 years and sang all over Europe.

When I sat in front of Reid at a high school assembly and the audience sang the national anthem, I didn't have to look behind me to see who was singing. His voice literally shook the walls of the auditorium. When he sang the Star Spangled Banner at a Rangers game, the microphone malfunctioned but he continued singing and the audience heard him. Reid is not only a student of opera. He knows most of the words to country western songs and amazes his fellow classmates at class reunions. He is an accomplished storyteller.

When he was studying music at TCU, the university had an annual ranch week. "People did all sorts of nutty things," says Reid. "They dressed like cowboys, they walked around carrying guns. Every once in a while you'd hear a shoot-out inside a building when someone pulled a gun on somebody. Bang. Bang. Of course they used blanks. I was packing, too. I had a .22 caliber five-shot pistol in my holster, loaded with blanks."

Reid sang with two or three church choirs in Fort Worth. On Friday night of ranch week, he was having a big time with his friends when suddenly he realized he was supposed to be at Temple Beth-El, a synagogue where he sang in the choir for Friday night services. He drove like mad to get there and arrived just as the service was starting. Because he was in such a hurry, he didn't have time to change clothes. Or take off his holster with his fully loaded pistol inside it.

"I still had this gun on me," he says. "I never thought about the gun, didn't give it a second's worth of thought. We had a Jewish man, Dr. Peters, who was a good friend to all of us in the choir. He liked to come up and sit between the tenor and the bass and sing along with us. He was great. No problem at all. He just enjoyed it. He usually sat right at my shoulder."

"We were in the middle of singing a song and I'm feeling something down on my hip. I looked down and saw this gun leaving the holster. Dr. Peters had the gun in his hand. My mind went blank. And before I could do anything I'm seeing this man cock the hammer back and pull the trigger. BANG! It was inside the sanctuary and the sound of that gun going off was very loud. I looked at Dr. Peters and his eyes were as big as paper plates."

"We did our best to keep singing and at the conclusion of the song, Rabbi Schur continued with the service as usual. When it ended, the Rabbi came up to the choir loft and he said, 'you know, there was a big noise early in the service. Do you have any idea what that was?' I looked right at him and said, 'door slam.'"

When you want it to cut, it has to be sharp

By Monte Wilke

The summer after high school graduation I spent in the Forest Service in Montana. We were called "brush-pilers" and our job was to cut the limbs off of trees that had been cut down because they contained pine beetles, and then put them in big piles to be burned during the winter snows. The first pieces of equipment we were handed were an axe and a file to keep it sharp. The men who felled the trees and cut them into manageable sections with huge chain saws kept the teeth sharp with special round files.

I remember granddad had a big round whet stone built into a little bench. He would sit on the bench, pumping the pedals that turned the wheel. My job was to add a steady stream of water to keep the blade cool. He also used a razor strop to keep his razor "razor sharp". Dad used a big knife file to keep his carving knife at peak condition for barbecuing steaks and chickens. He also kept Mother's paring knives ready.

And the old push mower. We had a special stone with a guide that we ran along the blades to keep them sharp so we could make the big five dollars for mowing an entire yard.

When you want it to cut, it has to be sharp.

But can you imagine a whole country without a file? The Israelites did not have files to sharpen their swords and spears back in King David's time. They had to go down to their enemies the Philistines, to have their smiths sharpen their weapons! I don't know why they couldn't make or copy a file, but all they had were stones to use to whet the edges of their weapons.

To sharpen anything requires the use of an additional tool. Things are not self-sharpening. So when we speak of "sharp minds" or "sharp dressers" or "sharp-looking cars", it calls for a process involving many tools and artisans. Teachers, books, computers, and inquisitiveness are needed to make sharp minds. A dull mind does not get any more done than a dull ax. The fashion industry requires a multitude of talent to design and make clothes. But then you have to have a certain flair to wear them effectively. And sharp cars can be in any variety or age. They are sharp because someone cared and worked to make them that way.

Being sharp is a discipline. It requires tools, know-how and effort. That is why parents "rasp" on their kids to achieve, behave and succeed. It is not to cause a fuss, but to create a sharpened mind, a more useful and productive person. We should not object to authority, because it is a training tool. We should not pollute or abort the efforts of those with experience and concern to shape and sharpen a great potential.

There is a special kind of sharpening tool for every type of edge. All face the common problem, dullness, lack of top efficiency. Whether we realize it or not, we grow complacent, sharpness is blunted or used up. It is vital that we restore our souls, as the psalmist says, and refresh our spiritual drive as Jesus did in quiet, solitary moments. We should never cease to learn. Something should always be on the burner to catch our attention, lead us into new disciplines, increase our enjoyment. The result is worth the effort.

Lions Club hears news on power plant, desal plant

Economic Development Director Sue Young spoke to members of the Lions Club on Friday, reporting on the status of two major projects going on in the county. Mitchell County will soon be home to a gas-powered power plant and a water desalination plant.

Young said that she expects SNC Lavilan of Washington to begin construction of the power plant at the end of December or the first part of January. She said that while waiting for the permit process to be completed, FGE Texas, LLC, had time to work in a new air and water cooled hybrid system that will reduce water needs by 70%.

The company has been talking to city officials about the possibility of using the city's gray water to operate the plant. Young said that it would be "good for everybody."

Phase II of the plant is already being planned, and the "green" company wants to incorporate solar and wind energy into the plant. Construction of Phase II is at least five years out. According to Young, the plant will be a $1 billion boon for Mitchell County's tax base in the long run, and the wind turbines will be located in the Colorado City school district.

There will be as many as 600 temporary workers during the construction phase of the plant, with 22 to 25 permanent employees. Lion Jay McCollum asked Young where exactly the plant will be located and she said off of FM 670 near Westbrook.

Wells have been drilled and tested, and the planned desalination facility has a project manager, according to Young. She said that plant officials hope to be running water through the plant in April 2014. Turbines which will operate the plant were delivered this summer and will be used 35 to 40% of the time.

The plant will start out by producing 250,000 gallons per day of potable water, and Mitchell County Utility will buy the water from the county. Similar skids can be added to the project, expanding it by 250,000 gpd per skid.

By purchasing the water produced by the desal plant, Mitchell County Utility will be able to expand their service area by putting in more meters.

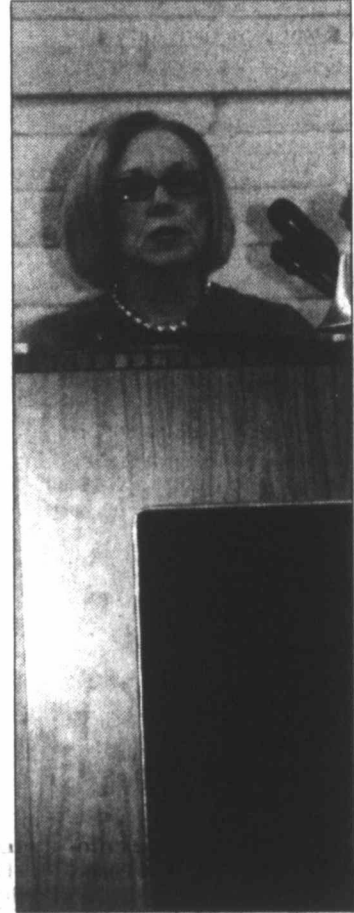

The City of Colorado City is all but guaranteed to be the recipient of an economic incentive grant in the amount of $750,000 through the Capital Fund to be used to expand infrastructure. Funds will be used to extend sewer and water lines out to I-20 for development of the I-20 corridor.

Young said that there is approximately $20 million up for grabs, and Colorado City may end up getting close to $3 million.

A GOOD CAUSE - The Mitchell County Branch of the Big Spring Federal Employees Credit Union is raising funds for the Children's Miracle Network again this year, and tickets are on sale now for drawings on all kinds of merchandise.

Fundraiser at credit union to aid miracle network

Employees of the Mitchell County Branch of the Big Spring Federal Employees Credit Union is at it again. They are raising funds for the Children's Miracle Network, an agency that provides vital medical equipment for 170 children's hospitals across the United States and Canada.

Credit union workers have solicited donations from many businesses and individuals around the area, and there are lots of prizes again this year. A drawing will be held in November for each of the prizes. That means there will be over 50 winners.

Last year, credit union employees donated over $2500 to the Children's Miracle Network. Over 60 children enter a Children's Miracle Network Hospital, like Hendrick Medical Center, every minute. That's one every second. Some are battling cancer, some are suffering from a traumatic injury, others require constant care because they were born too early or with a genetic disease. Tickets cost $1 each or six for $5, a small price to pay to support such a worthy cause. So, make a trip down to the credit union and help employees raise funds.

class is available at reduced cost

While attending an annual meeting held by the State of Texas, Colorado City EMS representatives were informed that funding was available to begin an educational program for those in this area. Because of a grant, those attending a planned EMS class will get to do so for a greatly-reduced rate, according to EMS representative Rusty Noletubby.

A TEEX representative was at the meeting held in Abilene recently, and he told local EMS members that due to population here, Colorado City is considered a rural area and qualifies for the grant. Noletubby said that the local emergency medical department is planning to hold an EMS class sometime in the spring of 2014.

In order to qualify to use the grant funds, at least 10 people must sign up for the class. EMS personnel are getting the word out to drum up potential members for the class. Tentatively, the class is planned for two nights per week, from 6 to 10 p.m. each evening.

Those interested in the EMS class should contact Noletubby at 325-650-3951 or Jason Gruben at 325-728-3483, to allow for planning.

SCHOOL NEWS

SENIOR BAND STUDENTS – The Pride of Wolf Country Marching Band competed at the Area Marching Contest held in Amarillo last Saturday and placed 5th. Senior band students are: (l-r) Cody Thomas (trumpet), Jacob Ludwig (alto sax), Sarena Lujan (percussion), Joey Maberry (trombone), Michael Molina (percussion), Ashlyn Kildow (trombone), Cason Smith (alto sax), Doug Garcia (alto sax), Claudia DeLoera (trumpet), Ana Ramirez (flute), and Kenzie Douglas (alto sax). Band places 5th at area

On Saturday, October 26th, the Colorado High School Band traveled to Amarillo to compete in the UIL Area Marching Contest. After a late night of returning from the Hawley game on Friday, band students met at the band hall at 5:00 am Saturday morning to head to Amarillo.

The band performed its show in the prelims among 17 other 2A bands from Music Regions 1, 6, and 16. Then, 36 2A Bands began the competition season in Area A at their respective Region levels. There were 17 bands earning first division ratings, qualifying them to compete at the area level.

The "Pride of Wolf Country" Band placed 3rd in preliminary competition.

"We were all so excited," said Darin K. Johns, CHS Band Director, "because placing in the top seven earned us a spot in finals to compete for state. The top three in finals go to UIL State Marching Contest in San Antonio, so since we were in the top three in prelims, we knew we had a great shot!"

The top 7 bands following prelims were:

1. Crane HS
2. Bushland HS
3. Colorado HS
4. Littlefield HS
5. Cisco HS
6. Denver City HS
7. Lamesa HS

Finals competition began at 7:00 pm, and the CHS Band drew the first spot to compete.

"Emotions were positive, excitement was high, and they put on an outstanding performance in finals. I couldn't be more proud of them!" said Johns. "I really feel they left it all on the field, but I guess the judges didn't quite think it was as good during the 2nd round."

Finals results were:

1. Crane HS
2. Bushland HS
3. Littlefield HS
4. Lamesa HS
5. Colorado HS
6. Cisco HS
7. Denver City HS

Johns has this to say, "After we performed, we moved into the stands to watch the other six bands. The students were so focused, critiquing the other bands as if they were the judges. That's part of what made it so hard when we didn't advance to state. We've spent so much time working hard, teaching the students how to get better themselves, they knew what to look for in the other bands. They saw other groups make mistakes. They formed their own opinions on who they thought did better and who they thought didn't do as well."

"When they found out the order, they (and I) really felt we'd done much better than some of the bands above us," Johns said. "That makes it impossible for me to explain to them why the judges saw it differently. It's all so subjective. However, the CHS Band is truly my extended family, and they are a class act!"

Johns said that after each band performed, CHS students clapped and cheered for them. As always, they represented Colorado High School and Colorado City in the best way possible.

Lady Wolves tied for district; face off against Denver City

Game this weekend determines opponent in playoffs

Last week, the Lady Wolves beat Lamesa and Coahoma to stay tied for 1st in district, and the girls faced Post Tuesday night in the last game of regular season play. The varsity volleyball team will play November 2nd against Highland Park or Bushland, which will be determined after Colorado City plays Denver City this weekend.

Lamesa fell to the Lady Wolves in 4 matches, with Coahoma going down in 3.

The girls faced Lamesa at The Pit last Tuesday, and enjoyed celebrating senior and parent night before action kicked off. Head Coach Anita Graham said the girls came ready to play.

"The first two games went like you would want games to go. We made them make mistakes, and we had some good serving by Heather (Merket) and Brittany (Muñoz)," she said. "We were controlling the net."

Momentum did not stay in the Lady Wolves' favor though, and Lamesa took advantage of Colorado City's errors and managed a win in the 3rd match.

"Lamesa got on a roll and was making us make the mistakes. We were not passing like we should. We could not get any good attacks," Graham said. Stats for Lamesa are as follows.

The Lady Wolves came out serving hard in the game against Coahoma, and the Lady Bulldogs had a hard time returning serves. "When they did return it," Graham said, "they gave us a free ball so we scored with attacks from them." Stats for the Coahoma game follow.

Wolves lose heartbreaker to Hawley

The Wolves stepped off the bus and trailed 14-0 last Friday night in Hawley. Well almost!

Hawley jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead and immediately recovered an on-side kick scoring again quickly and led 14-0 three minutes into the game enroute to a 55-12 win.

Racking up 500 yards of total offense, most of that (334 yards) on the ground; the bigger, faster and stronger Bearcats man handled Colorado City last Friday night in Hawley. "We got physically whipped," Coach Dan Gainey said Monday.

The Wolves found the end zone early in the second quarter when quarterback Dillion Gainey hit sophomore Trinnon Jackson on a 62-yard pass. The PAT failed and when dust had settled, the Bearcats held a 27-6 halftime lead.

The Wolves were shut out in the third quarter but did manage to take on 6 more when Gainey hit Isaiah Jennings on a 67-yard pass. The 2-point conversion failed and Hawley roughed up the Wolves for a 55-12 win.

The Wolves suffered 5 turnovers, 4 fumbles, and 1 pass interception.

Kick-off is 7:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium

Wolves to face mighty Cisco at home Friday

It certainly doesn't get any easier for the Colorado City Wolves as the state-ranked and undefeated Cisco Lobos come to town Friday Night. "I don't think Coach Brent West of Cisco has had a better team. This is a team he's been looking forward to. They're good in all phases of the game," head coach Dan Gainey said.

It will be the last home game for the Wolves this season and against perhaps the best Cisco team in years. "They have no weaknesses," Gainey said earlier this week.

The Lobos are ranked 5th in the AP coaches poll.

The Lobos return six starters back on offense and defense, including the pre-season offensive MVP in running back, Mason Reed. Last season the Lobos were (9-2) area finalists and are expected to make another deep play-off run.

The young Wolves are in for a stern test. Having graduated two strong classes the past two years, the Wolves find themselves with youth and inexperienced but strong senior leadership will ensure the Wolves will be no pushover.

The learning and growing process has been painful, but the Wolves continue to play hard and improve.

Bulldogs bulldoze Lueders-Avoca

Loraine used a strong rushing attack last Friday night as the Bulldogs scored a season high 12 touchdowns enroute to a 94-67 trouncing of Lueders-Avoca in the opening district game for both squads.

Also the Bulldogs amassed 555 total yards of offense, of which 439 came from 47 rushing attempts.

Ricky Cantu scored 7 touchdowns on nine carries for 149 yards. Also, Patrick Tillis had another good night rushing, scoring 4 times while rushing the ball 24 times for 228 yards.

The Bulldogs added 1 touchdown through the air when Tillis hit Cantu on a 50-yard pass midway through the fourth quarter.

Timothy Garza scored a touchdown on a 4-yard run as time was running out in the first quarter and Dakota Delgado put up 6 when he returned a fumble 32 yards in the 3rd quarter.

Defensively the Bulldogs were led by Este Benivamondez and Cantu. The duo recorded 15 and 14 tackles respectively. Also Tristan Mosher had 11 tackles and Tillis recorded 7. Delgado, J.T. Cooper and Garza each recorded 3 tackles each.

Benivamondez also had 2 tackles for 5-yard losses, 1 pass broken up, 1 interception and 1 blocked kick. Mosher had 1 tackle for a loss of 6 yards, 2 hurries and a broken up pass.

Tillis also recorded 2 passes broken-up and 1 interception while Delgado recovered a fumble for a touchdown and blocked a kick.

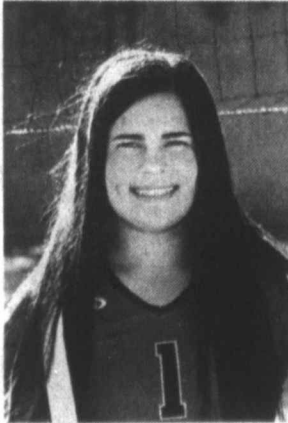

It was a big victory for the defending district champs.

and Trent beat Westbrook (4-4) 69-20.

The Bulldogs and Trent set atop District 7 with a 1-0 district record while Westbrook and Lueders-Avoca are 0-1.

LEGAL NOTICES

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

AMENDED NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION FOR AN AIR QUALITY PERMIT

PROPOSED AIR QUALITY PERMIT NUMBERS:
110025 AND PSDTX1364

APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION. FGE Power, LLC, 21 Waterway Ave Ste 300, The Woodlands, Texas 77380-3099, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for issuance of Proposed Air Quality Permit 110025 and Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) Air Quality Permit PSDTX1364, which would authorize construction of a Greenfield Electric Power Generation located approximately 3.5 miles south southwest of the intersection of Interstate 20 and Main Street, Westbrook, Mitchell County, Texas 79565. This application was submitted to the TCEQ on May 6, 2013. The proposed facility will emit the following air contaminants in a significant amount: carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxides, particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less, organic compounds, and sulfuric acid mist. In addition, the facility will emit the following air contaminants: hazardous air pollutants and sulfur dioxide.

The degree of PSD increment predicted to be consumed by the proposed facility and other increment-consuming sources in the area is as follows:

PM_{2.5}

Maximum Averaging Time	Maximum Increment Consumed (µg/m ³)	Allowable Increment (µg/m ³)
24-hour	m ³	9
Annual	4.3	4

The executive director has determined that the emissions of air contaminants from the proposed facility which are subject to PSD review will not violate any state or federal air quality regulations and will not have any significant adverse impact on soils, vegetation, or visibility. All air contaminants have been evaluated, and "best available control technology" will be used for the control of these contaminants.

The executive director has completed the technical review of the application and prepared a draft permit which, if approved, would establish the conditions under which the facility must operate. The permit application, executive director's preliminary decision, draft permit, and the executive director's preliminary determination summary and executive director's air quality analysis, will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, the TCEQ Abilene regional office, and at the Mitchell County Courthouse, 349 Oak Street, Colorado City, Mitchell County, Texas, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review at the TCEQ Abilene Regional Office, 1977 Industrial Blvd, Abilene, Texas.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE ONLINE.

These documents are accessible through the Commission's Web site at www.tceq.texas.gov/goto/cid: the executive director's preliminary decision which includes the draft permit, the executive director's preliminary determination summary, the air quality analysis, and, once available, the executive director's response to comments and the final decision on this application. Access the Commissioners' Integrated Database (CID) using the above link and enter the permit number for this application. PUBLIC COMMENT/PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting about this application. The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit comment or to ask questions about the application. The TCEQ will hold a public meeting if the executive director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application, if requested by an interested person, or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing. You may submit additional written public comments within 30 days of the date of newspaper publication of this notice in the manner set forth in the AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION paragraph below.

After the deadline for public comment, the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all public comment. The response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or is on a mailing list for this application.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in a state district court. A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. A contested case hearing request must include the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "I/we request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; and (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility. If the request is made by a group or association, then one or more members who have standing to request a hearing and the interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns. ZONING

multiple-bedroom apartments which would begin to address housing concerns in the area.

He is currently in the planning stages of an apartment complex behind Spanish Inn in Snyder. The housing he suggests for Colorado City would be a 76-unit apartment complex, and he said he would like to use the same plans he's using for Snyder.

Saletta said that he does not build subsidized housing, and market rent will be charged for the housing.

Several citizens wanted to know what kind of hotels would be interested in building in that area, and Masters said that he is looking to attract hotels such as Holiday Inn Express, Fairfield and Hampton Inn.

Saletta said that his apartments would be multiple-family dwellings, for which the property is already zoned. Masters is seeking rezoning only on the 7.922 acres toward the eastern side of the lot.

He assured those attending that his apartment buildings will be nice.
"It's gonna be the sort of place Chili's would look at,"

Masters said.

Many issues were discussed, such as traffic concerns, unusually bright lighting, but school board president Sally Neff asked the question at the crux of the matter: "Your neighbor across the street is the school. Can you guarantee that this will be a safe environment for our students?"
Neff asked.

Masters said he can't guarantee the safety of the students, just as no one can do that today. He said he will negotiate with quality establishments and the use of the commercial businesses will not be detrimental to CISD students.

CISD Superintendent Reggy Spencer asked about a time frame for the apartments, and Saletta said that construction takes about 15 months.

"In the long run, this will help the tax base and could possibly generate additional interest in development (near Colorado City),"
Masters said.

He also brought up an issue many may not think of, but it is an issue. He said that most Good restaurants won't locate in an area where there is a housing shortage. An apartment complex would help address that concern.

Since there was plenty of community interest, City Manager David Hoover suggested to the zoning commission that they pass the consideration of the project on to the city council, as an approval by the council is necessary any way.

Hoover cited additional time to speak with a city planner in Midland about the two companies, as the reason for the pass. Zoning commission members agreed and voted to pass the decision to the council in a unanimous vote.

"This is obviously a special piece of property to the citizens," Hoover said. "If we're gonna do this, we want some control."

The only other item on the agenda was a street abandonment regarding the same property, and the commission decided to table the item until the council has a chance talk further about the project.

Westbrook falls to Trent in district opener

Westbrook lost their first district game last Friday as Trent scored 32 first half points while the Wildcats could muster only a touchdown in the first 3 quarters before falling 69-20 in Trent.

Trent's offensive efforts piled up 455 total yards of offense while Westbrook racked up only 239 yards of offense.

Andrew Fuentes scored the Wildcats first touchdown on a 59-yard run with 4:59 to go in the first quarter. Robert Booth added another touchdown on an 11-yard run late in the second quarter. A Wildcat third quarter touchdown came with 6:59 to go when Trevor Lamb scored on a 13-yard pass from Jay Williams.

The Wildcats were hurt by turnovers, fumbling 3 times and losing all three.

Westbrook will take on Loraine this Friday in Loraine as both teams continue district play.
