LIGHTWEIGHT ENTRIES—Pictured above are the calves entered in the Commercial Show held by Garza County 4-H and F.F.A. members Saturday. These steers will be taken to the State Fair in Dallas, October 10, and will be entered in the packer calf division there. The calves weighed up to 950 pounds and were judged on the way their carcass would look on the packer's racks. These calves were judged prime, at the Garza show, which is the best grade. Other divisions are choice and good. Pictured left to right: Harlon Pennington, his calf which was judged good; Carrol Davis and his choice steer; Auvy Lee McBride with his prime steer; John T. Brown, good; Bobby Cowdrey, choice; and Mike Terry, choice.

Annual 4-H And F. F. A. Fair Saturday Attracts Large List Of Fine Exhibits

The annual 4-H club and F.F.A. Fair was held Saturday in Post with entries from all 4-H clubs in the County, the F.F.A. of Post, and all Home Demonstration clubs of Garza County.

Judging in the women and girls' divisions was conducted all day Saturday and judging in the boys section started at 1:15 in the afternoon. This show determined winners to enter the district show in Lubbock on September 20, and the State Fair in Dallas on October 10, Lewis Herron, county agent reported.

In the boys' section there were entries in the following divisions: Sears Foundation gilts, open class gilts, fat barrows, feeder calves, commercial steers, garden products, poultry and rabbits.

The winners in the Sears Foundation gilts were: Auvy Lee McBride, first; Sonny Gossett, second; Jerry Morris, third; Ernie Popham, fourth; Darrell Jones, fifth; and Jack Morris, sixth. Auvy Lee McBride of the Graham club will enter the district show at Texas Tech, Saturday. In the open class gilts McBride's entry was awarded the grand champion prize and Janie Morris, reserve champion award. Janie Morris is a 4-H club girl from the Graham club and was the only girl to enter a livestock contest this year. This pig was given to Janie by the county. Darrell Roberts had the grand champion fat barrow, James Barron, the reserve champion, and Darrell Jones won third place.

In the Hereford feeder calf division, Delwin Fluitt had the top feeder, Auda Voe Teaff, second and third prize went to a calf owned by Ned and Fred Myers. These calves are for next year's shows and have not been fed yet. They were judged on estimate of the way they would finish out by the shows in 1953. The Angus feeder calf prizes went to Don Richardson, first place, and Paul Wheatley, second. The grand champion feeder calf was entered by Delwin Fluitt of the Hereford class and reserve champion was Don Richardson's of the Angus group.

The commercial steers were judged differently from the feeder calves. Prime, choice, and good are the grades of this division. Winners were determined by the way the calves would look on the packer's racks after butchering. These steers will be taken to the Commercial Show at Dallas in October. The light group, weighing 950 pounds or less, was judged as follows: Auvy Lee McBride's entry was prime, Mike Terry, Carroll Davis, and Bobby Cowdrey's entries were placed in the choice group. John T. Brown and Harlon Pennington had the good entries.

The Commercial heavy class, weighing over 950 pounds, had the following winners: Darrell Roberts, prime; A. J. Stone, choice; Bobby Cowdrey and Dean Huddleston, good.

Judges for the livestock groups were: Kenneth Goforth, agriculture teacher at Snyder, and O. M. Fowler, Scurry county agent.

Congressman Geo. Mahon To Be Banquet Speaker

Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock will be guest speaker for the annual Rotary-Teacher banquet next Thursday night, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Monta Moore, president of the Rotary club.

The popular 19th District Congressman has made talks in most of the towns of his district since returning from Washington, and graciously accepted the invitation from the club president to appear here for the annual occasion. Mr. Mahon, in most of his talks, has set forth to defend the administration's foreign policy with regard to the Korean situation and military preparedness, and it is presumed he will make a similar talk here, however, he did not announce a definite topic for his address.

Mr. Mahon is a very able speaker and in addition to giving his listeners pertinent facts he usually concludes his talk by answering questions from the audience.

The annual banquet, primarily for the purpose of getting acquainted with new teachers and entertaining them, is looked forward to each year by both the Rotarians and their Anns, for it one of the few occasions of the year that the Anns attend.

Post school board members and their wives are also invited, Mr. Moore said.

The banquet will be held in the city hall dining room at 7:30 p. m.

"Please help us out and we will greatly appreciate it," concluded Mr. Greenfield.

First Aid Chairman Of Red Cross Named

A Campaign Chairman has not been appointed, but as soon as the selection is made, organization for the annual campaign fund to be held in March, will get underway.

PMA Awaiting Report On Request For Disaster Aid

A request for additional information concerning the County PMA Committee's application to the State Mobilization Committee for assistance in buying hay and being included as a part of the State's disaster area, was received here the latter part of the week and the data was immediately compiled and forwarded to the Committee the first of the week.

"We hope to get definite information concerning our application by the latter part of the week," declared Mrs. Conrad Hartel, an employee of the local office. "As quickly as we receive the information it will be published in the monthly news bulletin, which is sent to farmers and ranchers of the county the second week in each month and which is being held up awaiting the information, advising them of the State Committee's action."

The request for the additional information came from B. F. Vance, chairman of the State PMA and Mobilization Committee. This Committee was created to handle special programs brought on by national defense and disasters, such as droughts and floods. Recommendations handed down by the Committee go direct to the governor, it was explained.

Since last week's announcement that the local PMA was endeavoring to get Garza county declared in the disaster area, so that farmers and ranchers could purchase hay through government channels at reasonable prices in order to encourage stock owners to retain their livestock, an average of from 10 to 15 farmers and ranchers, have appeared at the local office to place orders for hay.

Mrs. Hartel explained that it is impractical to take orders, in so much as there is no definite assurance that the County will be qualified to receive the hay. Too, a five dollar deposit is required with each application and the office is not authorized to receive this money.

If the County is declared among the disaster counties of West Texas, the hay will be available through the PMA at $36 per ton for legume hay, $32 for mixed hay, and $28 for grass hay.

County's Cotton Harvest Is Underway This Week

Garza county's cotton harvest is reported well on the way with 110 bales ginned up to Wednesday noon by the six county gins.

Gin managers stated that the demand for transient workers is small at present and that most of the pulling is being done by local laborers. In a few more weeks the harvest will be in full production and more workers will be needed. This year's start is quite an increase over the records of last season, which up to this time showed only two bales ginned.

Yesterday's checkup revealed that Planters gin of Post had a total of 22 bales; Graham gin had accounted for 5; Close City, 20; Pleasant Valley, 12; Southland, 48; and Storie gin, 3.

Enrollment At Post Schools Increases

Enrollment for Post schools has increased by 30 students since last week's Dispatch report, D. C. Arthur, superintendent, said Wednesday noon. Total enrollment is now 960.

Six of the new students enrolled in High school, 16 in Grade school and eight in the colored school. The record exceeds the 1951 year by 114.

E. M. Mills, principal of Grade school, said that the lower grades are almost to their maximum capacity.

Mrs. J. O. Miller Is Donor Of Single Room

A single room has been donated to the Garza Memorial Hospital by Mrs. J. O. Miller of Post. This room is in memory of Mrs. Miller's son, John David Miller, Seaman First Class of the U. S. Navy. Miller was the first Garza county fatality in World War II.

HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISM

The sole purpose of traffic endorsement is to save lives and property, and to improve the flow of vehicles. If the organization of the Citizens' Traffic Commission in Garza County can make us all more alert and courteous, can cut down on some of our hazardous driving habits, not only among the youngsters but the oldsters as well, then the Dispatch heartily endorses the Commission. The recently organized Citizens' Traffic Commission, which includes representatives from the city, county and state, joined forces with representatives from almost every club and other organization in the county, to assist in reducing motor accidents, injuries and deaths. Through unanimous adoption of improved traffic engineering, through an intelligent safety education program in schools and clubs, through courteous driving manners, through a strict teen-age license law, the Commission believes much progress can be made in improving traffic conditions. Efforts to secure complete cooperation of the citizenship at large and to arouse public support for official bodies undertaking constructive safety in traffic will be one of the first phases of the program. Committees on education, engineering, enforcement, legislation and administration are discussing plans for establishing better traffic in Garza County. Let us all pledge ourselves to become skilled drivers; to take pride in Garza's Safety Program; to support official efforts for better education, engineering and enforcement.

You have more to gain than anyone. "The life you save today may be your own!"

The announcement that journalism is being offered for credit for the first time in Post High School is most welcome news. Too long newspapers in small towns have had to rely on "imported" reporters to help write the news. With the establishment of a journalism class, boys and girls can get a "taste" of what it takes to "write a piece" for their papers as they are to have as a workshop project the editing of their school paper. In this laboratory they will learn how to assemble facts and figures about their friends and foes and to give detailed accounts of all their fun fests; and how to put these facts into chronological and grammatical order. They will learn in a practical workshop the basic principles of reading, writing and arithmetic. They will be on the ground floor as far as being familiar with the people who make the news and with the customs and traditions that fit into the background of every news story.

The newspaper business is a game of eternal youth. It reflects the growing world. News reporting may be learned like any other subject. There is no magic way to become a reporter. The beginner will need to accumulate facts of literature, history, science, government, etc., in order to render service to his paper. In so doing he will receive a well-rounded education. The addition of journalism courses is a splendid gesture for the school. It will bridge a wide gap between academic study and practical experience if students apply their learning to a journalistic vocation.

The Dispatch hopes to have some of these journalism students on its staff in the future.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT Unless a vessel is clean whatever you pour into it turns sour.

Dedication of this year's Parent-Teacher Association's yearbook to Life Members of the organization is a most fitting tribute. The yearbook committee is to be commended on this gesture. To Life Members, Mmes. A. W. Bouchier, A. C. Surman, J. A. Stallings, Kelly Sims, Tom Bouchier, B. J. Edwards, J. R. Durrett, Lee Davis, J. E. Parker, Willard Kirkpatrick, Paul Jones and Nola Brister, and Messrs. E. E. Pierce, G. R. Day and S. D. Strasner. I want to say well done, faithful ones. I feel, and I am sure all will agree, that the unselfish devotion of this group of folks has been an inspiration to all of us.

THE WOMEN. God Love 'Em—Girl to clerk in missing person's bureau: "Oh, it's nobody I know, but if you find a man that answers the description I gave you, I'd just love to meet him."

The little woman, always on the search for new gadgets for the house, was telling me that remote control wiring now makes it possible to press a button at your bedside and start the coffee maker, press another button and greet your night guests with a friendly front-door light, giving you added time to tidy your tresses before answering the bell, and press still another button to turn off a radio competing with your telephone conversation. All these buttons she would like to have, but one I would like to have is one that would cut off the bark of my dog, Bugle, when he trees the neighbor's cat 'bout two a. m.

I read some place where in New York City there are fifteen places of business listed in the phone book under the name of New Deal, including a hand laundry, two Democratic clubs, a delicatessen, a liquor store and a uniform company. There are eleven businesses with the name Right Deal. In Richmond, Va., there are no New Deal and Right Deal listings, but there are twenty-six Square Deal businesses. In Dallas there is a New Deal Beauty Shop and a New Deal manufacturing company, and two Square Deal listings, but not a single Fair Deal. This strange that nobody wants to be connected with the Fair Deal.

TEXAS BRAGS: Texas jack-rabbits, with ears as big as sails, can stomp their hind feet so loud the echo bounces back from three counties off, can jump two mountains without a running start, and can run so fast that they can travel in the opposite direction to the way the world is turning and actually stay in one place all the time.

Now that I have learned that our handsome, might even go so far as to say pretty, Governor Allan Shivers is to officially open the annual Texas Prison Rodeo come the first week in October, I can hardly wait to miss the occasion. The Governor all but wilted my bobby sox when he made his appearance at the July 4th Cowboy Reunion at Stamford. The prison rodeo down at Huntsville, has in past years, developed into one of the finest entertainments in the state and, why the officials in charge of arrangements, can't unroll the show without dragging our governor into it is more than I can stomach.

The Governor at the Stamford show looked sweet enough in his tiffed rodeo get-up. His calf-skin, Texas shaped, tie was right becoming, as was his pin-striped shirt and tight fitting riding breeches. His cowboy boots even had the appearance of being shop made. . . his broad brimmed brown Stetson was a darling too, but it almost covered those long, curly Hollywood locks that friz up around his collar line on his ordinary looking neck. The hat even cast heavy shadows on the profile that makes me swoon. Now I can just picture our governor riding behind a life-termer and in front of a bank robber. . . don't think he won't add dignity to the grand entry.

When our governor is called up to make his appearance in the center of the arena, unless he has learned to ride since the Stamford show, there will be four inches of daylight between his fanny and the saddle every time his horse's feet touch the ground and, to my way of thinking, our governor's riding side doesn't look any better than the saddle calloused one owned by our top rodeo hand, Lee Byrd.

Besides, I get a thrill out of seeing 75-year-old Mr. Byrd's rear sail past me in the stands, when he rips by on his horse running at breakneck speed, his shirt tail sticking straight out as he stands erect in his stirrups, carrying the U.S. flag around the arena. Give me cowboys on the ranches and in the arenas, and politicians in Austin and Washington.

Obvious Correction

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

It Sex Hero

A teacher who whips a school boy for a good cause can expect to lose his job, be punched in the nose by an irate father, and dumped on the outskirts of town by do-gooders of the community. But let Junior show up after the first day at school, beaten to a bloody pulp by upper-class "hazers," and all concerned bear up stoically under the impact of this despicable form of juvenile sadism. Hobbling around town today are plenty of Ralls high school freshmen who are recovering from some pretty bad cuts and bruises, the result of hazing by high school boys. Of course, we know all the stock arguments in favor of hazing; it puts hair on your chest, develops team-work, inspires loyalty and toughens one physically. So does a stretch in the cotton patch, and we recommend same for the particular brand of idiocy that delights the hearts of future pantie raiders. Since hazing is against Texas law, we just feel sure that school authorities are going to grab these violators and make horrible examples of them. Yessir, we're just sure that's going to be done. —The Ralls Banner.

It's Later Than They Think

Mr. Truman may be a good politician, as many people hasten to say, but he didn't indicate it the other day when he said there is no cause to worry about the South. "We'll get them anyway." We don't believe Southerners will swallow that. And we know nobody has ever put that over in Texas as Mr. Truman will find out come the second Tuesday in November. While the President may brush the Solid South off with a "we'll get 'em anyway" gesture, other high-up Demos are greatly concerned and are, for the first time, paying attention to us. They feel it is necessary to do something to hold our vote. But it is later than they think. —The Hamilton Herald.

Just Talk

Ran into Frank Hill, publisher of the Lynn County News, when he came over to see the Slaton Tigers eat Petersburg Buffalo meat last Friday night. Believe he was acting as an undercover man for the Tahoka football team. While we were discussing the many problems newspaper guys have along came Dick Ragsdale and in giving me the raspberry about my farming operations he said that I must be knee deep in greenbacks. "Why is it that everyone seems to think that any knock-kneed, bald-headed guy with a breakdown press and a shirt tail full of type is rich these days," said Hill. "It used to be that everyone seemed to feel sorry for such characters and would buy a two dollar ad just to help out, but it is not so any longer, they want to fill a ten inch space full of six point type and expect to get two thousand dollars in trade from it." According to Frank there are times that he feels plum sorry for himself. The last thing he said before he left was "I just bought a farm myself." That's when I really began feeling sorry for him, myself. —The Slaton Slatonite.

Candidates Known By Company

Just what manner of man is this candidate Stevenson? That is just what the verage voter is asking. A former citizen of Illinois stated the other day that no man could be elected to the high office of Governor of Illinois without having thrown in with the gamblers of Chicago, who are Democrats. Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY,
Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. (AP)—Forty-five million, or 48 per cent, of the eligible voters of the nation did not choose to vote in 1948, a report issued recently by the Senate states. Only a quarter of the Texans who could have done so voted in the presidential election of that year.

Less than 10 per cent of the Texans eligible to vote did so in the 1950 gubernatorial race.

What should be pointed out, however, but was not noted in the report is the fact that in Texas as in many other Southern and Southwestern states the heavy balloting is done in the Democratic Party Primary Elections. The Senate Document listed only the November general election results.

Declaring that elected officials, political leaders, civic and business organizations could render no greater service than to "stimulate greater voter interest in the fight against apathy and indifference" among the electorate, the report estimated that some 100 million people throughout the nation would be eligible to participate in the 1952 national elections.

The total U. S. population 21 years and over, as of 1950, was put at 97,416,365. Those voting for President in 1948 numbered 48,833,680, and in the 1950 November, 42,186,435. It was noted that in Georgia voting is permitted at 18.

Texas' population 21 and older, potential voters, was estimated in the report at 4,737,225. Those voting in the 1948 election numbered 1,236,834, and in the 1950 November gubernatorial election, 394,784.

Comparable figures for some of the larger counties in Texas:

Speculation has arisen here as to how Texas' prospective new Junior Senator, Price Daniel, will manage to get along with the administration that occupies the White House after next Jan. 20.

The reason for talk lies in the outspoken position that Daniel, whose election was virtually assured when he won the Democratic primary, took on Adlai Stevenson. He said he couldn't support the Democratic Presidential nominee because of the latter's Pro-Federal Tidelands ownership stand.

So, if Stevenson gets elected, the big question is how welcome Daniel would be at the White House if he had some business there. Or if General Eisenhower should be elected, with the Republicans carrying Texas, would Daniel get a friendly reception on calling at the White House? They'd still belong to opposing political parties.

Regardless of who is President, the attitude of the Chief Executive toward a lawmaker is important. Knowledge of their relationship permeates down through the top levels of the various departments of the government and influences the ability of the legislator to get results in handling the innumerable problems, he takes up for his constituents.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Gravity Waves May Someday Give Free Power And Heat, Increase Safety Of Transportation

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Sept. 12, 1952—The time has come for John L. Lewis to demand increased wages, pensions, and fringes for his coal miners. Although he will curtail some of his demands to enable the coal operators to "save face", nevertheless he will get substantial gains. This is because his labor union controls what is now an important source of power, light and heat.

The Coal Outlook

However, Mr. Lewis' power is gradually diminishing. For instance, ten years ago the annual output of bituminous coal was 514,100,000 tons. While our total national industrial production has risen about a third since 1941, the output of coal has increased only about 4 percent. Yet every "victory" by Mr. Lewis means an increase in the price of coal and downward pressure on production.

This does not mean that any investor should sell his coal securities. Coal is very rich in vital chemicals. A hundred years from now our descendants will wonder why we permitted valuable coal to be burned up. Already coal is being used to make textiles, plastics, dyes, building materials, and important pharmaceutical products. The list includes hundreds of products, from the clothes which keep us warm to the vitamins which keep us well.

Oil Outlook

Experts once thought that the oil supply would be exhausted in about thirty years. But today there is more proven oil available than ever before. New fields are being discovered. One of the most marvelous fields is the new Williston field in the Dakotas and Western Canada.

When I was a boy, small water powers were the source of most of the power then used by the mills of New England. In my home town of Gloucester, the corn was then ground by two tide-water mills. I can even remember a windmill which provided power for one industry. Then almost every American farm had a windmill, which has now been superseded by gasoline engines or electric motors.

Atomic Power

Many magazine stories have been written to the effect that Atomic power will take the place of coal and oil in connection with public utilities, steamships and airplanes. I doubt if any readers of this column, though, will live to see this change. Atomic power may postpone World War III for many years. The dangers of using Atomic power appear now to make it impossible for any but very large users.

President Conant of Harvard University suggests that before Atomic power is used the heat of the sun will be harnessed. Already this heat is being used by householders in southern Florida as a source for hot water. Houses have been built in New England heated by the sun's rays. But no cases exist where the sun is operating factories of any kind. When, however, a method of harnessing the sun's rays to operate irrigation pumps is discovered, the deserts certainly will "blossom like a rose."

Gravity Power

I am writing this column while attending the Annual Conference of the Gravity Research Foundation at New Boston, New Hampshire. Here are gathered scientists, metallurgists, and mere "dreamers" like myself, who are interested in finding a partial insulator, deflector, or absorber of gravity waves. When this is done we will have a differential which in turn will give us free power for our farms and small factories, free heat for our homes, and which will greatly reduce the cost and increase the safety of transportation by highway and air. If you have any doubts as to the force of gravity, just jump off the roof of a ten-story building! Or attempt to walk up the Washington Monument, or drop a window on your toe!

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

"Rules of the Road" Explained

With the death-laden Labor Day weekend just past and the usual series of football weekends coming up, the thoughts of many Texans are turning toward traffic safety. There can be no doubt but that a better acquaintance among drivers with the "rules of the road" and other traffic safety regulations could greatly reduce the death toll of our highways.

To obtain correct and authoritative information about driving is a simple matter. A letter or postcard to the Department of Public Safety, Driver's License Division, Austin, Texas, will bring an official publication, the "Texas Driving Handbook", to anyone who requests it.

Aside from considerations of personal safety, proper driving habits and observance of traffic laws will help prevent financial loss. This is true in spite of the fact that most people now carry liability insurance as a protection under the Texas "Drivers' Responsibility Act." Jury verdicts in personal injury cases tend to go higher and higher, and the likelihood of suffering an adverse judgement for an amount in excess of the limits of your liability policy is ever present.

Fault, or liability, is determined by applying the law to the particular facts of an accident. In Texas the law is in several forms—the statutes as enacted by the Legislature, the ordinances of each city and town, and the court decisions in cases similar to the one to be decided.

A negligent or intentional act is necessary in order to impose legal liability for damages. Where both parties to an accident are negligent, the court will very likely say that both are at fault, and that each must pay for his own damages.

Two of the most important legal rules pertaining to accidents are those having to do with "proper look-out" and "proper control." Driving in a lawful manner and complying with all ordinary traffic rules is not always sufficient. In addition, the driver is expected by law to be alert to all that is happening around him.

If an accident should occur and the driver has not been alert—has failed to keep a proper look-out—he may be charged with "improper look-out" as a traffic violation and also held liable in damages to the other driver. The courts call a "proper look out" such a look-out as a reasonably prudent driver would have kept under the same circumstances.

Of equal importance is the rule of "proper control." This rule means pretty much what those words imply—that the driver should have his car under such degree of control as to be ready for any emergencies as might arise. It may be breached even though no violation of ordinary traffic laws is involved.

For instance, a driver may be complying with the legal speed limit but still be driving at a rate of speed which is unsafe under the existing circumstances.

Even though legal speed limits are expressed in terms of a certain number of miles per hour, conditions may arise which prevent the driver from maintaining

Post Quarterhorses Win Places In Show

Three Quarterhorses, owned by as many Post men, each placed third in their respective divisions of the Jacksboro Quarterhorse show last Saturday. The show was sponsored by the fire department of that city and drew approximately 130 entries.

Earl Hodges' entry, "My Do" placed third in the 1952 filly division; George Samson's horse, "Georgia Brown" placed third in the 1950 filly division, and Bill Long's entry "Shenanigan" was third in the 1949 filly class.

Hodges and Long took the horses to Jacksboro and returned home Sunday with them.

The three exhibitors plan to enter their horses in the Leveland show Saturday and the following week will show them at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair.

Seven-year-old Roger Camp also plans to enter his horse, "Mindy McCue," a 1951 filly in the two shows.

Worst Drought In History Of West Texas Kills Mesquite Trees And Cacti

BIG SPRING, Tex., (AP)—Even the Mesquite trees have died from the drought in some parts of West Texas.

Still stranger, and maybe harder to believe—some prickly pear cactus and yucca on the hillsides have died from the lack of water.

Death of the Mesquite isn't a general thing by any means. It's just in those areas where there haven't been any showers to sustain it. This situation prevails in spots over Howard, Martin, Sterling and Glasscock counties. The situation also is reported in spots down across the Edwards Plateau to the south and southwest of Big Spring.

The death of the Mesquite has been determined by Post Mortems in which we have sweated down to and through the roots a sufficient distance to determine the roots are definitely dead. We also have made every effort in such cases to determine that these particular Mesquite plants have not been poisoned.

Definitely, we say, in spot Mesquite has been killed by the drought.

It should be explained here that the Mesquite in this part of the country is not a tree as some persons know it, but a scrubby shrub. There's quite a difference in the Mesquite and that no farther away than the Llano river.

If we had the same larger growth of Mesquite out here that they have, this drought might not kill it all—and on the other hand might kill it quicker. I don't know.

As far back as probably a little more than two months ago, W. S. Goodlett, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service and I found shinnery that had definitely been killed by the drought.

(Shinnery is a dense growth of low trees.)

In one pasture we went down to the roots of quite a larger number of these plants and confirmed this point. This shinnery had received a light shower or two. In further confirmation of our findings we found a low place in the same pasture where the shinnery was not dead, but thriving and doing well because some moisture had drained into and been held by this low place, probably an old Buffalo wallow.

The dead pear cactus and yucca is principally on rocky hillsides where there has been a heavy runoff of such meager showers as have fallen.

While it is true that pear and yucca will grow on the desert where there is less rainfall than we have here, our theory is that the pear and yucca in this part of this country has become acclimated or has adapted itself to more moisture for plant generation after generation and is therefore dying this summer because of the lack of that quantity of moisture to which it has become accustomed.

I have one particular spot in mind where we found dead yucca and pear that was not more than about 300 yards to a sub-irrigated low place where clover was growing head high on a man. The moisture just could not seep up into that hill and the pear and yucca roots could not reach down to that moisture.

To the south and southwest of us, down in the Edwards Plateau country and out towards the Trans-Pecos country, down in the Cedar country, much of the cedar, is also becoming a drought victim and is dying from a lack of water.

Everybody talks about the "Great Drought" of 1917. Our rainfall here so far this year has been a little less than it was at the same time that year. And in 1917 only 4.68 inches of rain was recorded here all year.

In the early 1920's hundreds of thousands of acres of grassland was plowed up in this country and put in cultivation. Land with good grass on it will absorb about nine times as much water as bare land as a general thing in West Texas. At the same time evaporation is much higher from bare land than from grass-covered land. The result is that we just don't have any moisture in the soil this year.

"WITH A SONG IN MY HEART" is one of the truly good entertainment movies to come out of Hollywood in the last few years and everyone from "grandpa" to "junior" will enjoy it.

Wednesday and Thursday's show, "QUO VADIS", has won the title of being the only picture in history with such breathtaking spectacle, scope, gigantic cast, color and pagentry.

Robert Taylor, Deborah Kerr, Leo Genn and Peter Ustinov are the stars that head the cast of thousands for this unusual production. This movie is based on a best selling novel and filmed against the grandeur of historic Rome.

Robert Taylor plays the part of Marcus Vinicius, a triumphant warrior; Deborah Kerr is Lygia, a young Christian girl who is captured by the Roman soldiers. Vinicius sees Lygia as a captive and falls in love with her, her faith is a barrier to their romance, but finally he is converted after Nero, the cruel emperor of Rome played by Peter Ustinov, had Rome burned to the ground with Christians' bodies as torches. Buddy Baer, Hollywood giant, plays an important role as Miss Kerr's bodyguard.

The Main Issue of this story is the corruptness of the Roman empire at that time, and the martyrdom of Christians. Life magazine said that "QUO VADIS" was the most genuinely colossal movie you are likely to see for the rest of your life." General Federation of Women's Clubs stated that the picture was "Spectacular . . . magnificent . . . stupendous achievement . . . an epic milestone in picture-making." See "QUO VADIS" at the Tower and then you'll know if Nero "fiddled while Rome burned."

John Hopkins, manager of the local theaters, announced that the prices for "QUO VADIS" are being raised. Matinee prices for this superb film will be 75c and night performances will be $1, the change in matinee and night prices will be at 6 o'clock during the two day stand. Children tickets will be 35c for all showings.

Suppose you were sent to deliver a secret that could blow up half the earth! This is the situation Tyrone Power faces in "DIPLOMATIC COURIER", showing Friday and Saturday. This film is set against a background of Iron Curtain border countries in Europe. Power is cast as an ace courier for the State Department and finds his life in the hands of two beautiful women, Patricia Neal and Hildegard Neff. Stephen McNally portrays the man who must get Power to safety regardless of danger, women, or come what may. "DIPLOMATIC COURIER" is full of excitement, drama, and timely adventure.

Tuesday's movie deals with the rehabilitation of a young ex-Marine, the name of this gripping drama is "SHADOW IN THE SKY". Ralph Meeker, a newcomer to the screen world, Nancy Davis, James Whitmore, and Jean Hagen are the stars of this true to life picture.

Meeker and Miss Davis enact brother and sister, and Whitmore and Miss Hagen are others in the stellar cast of this new and different offering. "SHADOW IN THE SKY".

"WITH A SONG IN MY HEART" has been selected as our movie of the week, perhaps Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Presson would enjoy this feature. If so, two tickets, for any performance, are at the box office for their asking.

JAMES L. MINOR

James Minor was honored recently with a request from the Dallas Historical Society for his biography and photograph to be placed in the archives in the Hall of State in Dallas. This honor was bestowed upon Minor for his outstanding military record.

The Hall of State was erected in Dallas in 1936 by the State of Texas as a permanent memorial to the sacrifices and heroism of the men who created Texas as a century ago. The Historical Society is preserving in this shrine photographs and biographies of Texans who's conspicuous services during World War II have earned for them official decorations. Minor sent in the following biography:

"James Leroy Minor was born at Haskell, October 29, 1918, the son of John W. and Bertha Swope Minor. At the age of four years he moved with his parents and their family to Tahoka. He attended Tahoka schools and was an outstanding High School athlete, starring in football, basketball and track. In May 1936, he graduated from Tahoka high school with highest honors.

"In September, 1936, he entered Howard-Payne college at Brownwood, where for four years he was an outstanding athlete and student leader. He was All-Texas Conference Quarterback and received honorable mention as Little All-American. He was president of all of his college classes and during his senior year was president of the student body. He was also named to 'Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.' He received his A. B. degree in May 1940, graduating with honors. In September 1940, he entered the University of Texas Law school at Austin, where he studied law until he was called into the service of his country.

"Minor entered the service at Brownwood, November 25, 1940, as a private, mobilizing with the Texas 36th Division, and was commissioned a second lieutenant April 1, 1941, at Camp Bowie. He trained with the 36th Division at Camp Bowie, Alexandria, La.; Camp Blanding, Fla.; Camp Edwards, Mass.; and Amhurst, Va.

"James sailed for overseas in March 1943, with the Advanced Detachment of the 36th, landing at Casablanca. As a first lieutenant he was in the assault wave at 'The Bloody Salerno Landing' September 9, 1943, when the 36th was the first division to set foot on Continental European soil in World War II.

"He fought with the 36th as a company executive officer, company commander, battalion executive officer and battalion commander through Italy, Southern France, Germany, Bavaria and Austria; and was in five major campaigns, Naples-Foggia Anzio, Rome-Arno, Southern France, Central Europe and Rhineland.

"At the age of 25 Minor was the youngest lieutenant colonel in the Armed forces commanding an infantry battalion in combat. His battalion, the 1st Battalion, 142nd Infantry, 36th Division, received the Presidential Unit Citation for its action at Selestat, France, Dec. 12, 1944. He was wounded in action three times at Cassino, Italy; near Hagenau, France; and at Wissembourg, Germany in the Siegfried Line.

"He has been awarded the following decorations and citations: Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, Purple Heart with Two Oak Leaf Clusters, European Theatre Ribbon with five Combat Stars and two Division Stars, German Occupational Ribbon, Victory Medal, Presidential Unit Citation and French Croix de Guerre with Palm Leaf.

"Minor was married July 20, 1941, to the former Miss Marian Lee Mason. They have a son, Jimmy, and a daughter, Marilyn.

"He returned to the states in June 1945, with Lieutenant General Alexander M. Patch, Seventh Army Commander, and his party of officers and enlisted men. They flew from Paris, France, to San Antonio, where they were given a 'Heroes Welcome.'

"Minor was released from the service with the rank of lieutenant colonel on November 11, 1945. Since that time he has been in the furniture and funeral home business here. He has been commander of the local American Legion Post, president of the Rotary Club, president of the Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the Post school board, honored by being presented as the Howard Payne Man of the Year."

POWER STEERING on the Roadmaster and Super

ROADMASTER
CUSTOM BUILT BY BUICK

BENEATH that big broad bonnet is the reason for this headline. It's a four-barreled automatic carburetor—Airpower by name—which has a way of gulping in what the dictionary defines as "a sudden blast of wind" when extra power is needed. And the way this gorgeous performer can step out as this occurs is something you'll always remember.

When extra power is wanted in a hurry—the "reserves" swing into action—feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners. It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power—a car of expansive room—restful silence—level in gait—beautifully responsive to your mood and will. And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in parking and slow-motion maneuvers, and still let you feel a proud sense of command and a sure sense of control on the highway.

There's just one question we'd like to ask: When are you going to come in and enjoy the ride of your life?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER and SUPER only.

Whirlwinds Defeat Antelopes In First Football Game Of 1952 Season

Floydada Whirlwinds handed the Post Antelopes a defeat of 7 to 0 in the season opener for both teams at Antelope Field Friday night before a crowd of 1,500.

Dane Clark and Adrian Helms, powerful backs, sparked the Whirlwinds to victory with four of the five touchdowns and halfback Carmack, made the other tally for the visiting team. L. W. Evans racked Post's score, after a few drives and taking pass from Quarterback Darrell Stone on a six yard run. The extra point was made around right end and Stone carried.

Floydada's first scoring play occurred when Clark intercepted a pass and ran 22 yards. The kick for extra point by Carmack was no good.

Post took the ball on the kick-off and Stone carried to the 29 yard line. On the first down Stone carried for a five yard gain, then the Antelopes had a tough break with a fumble and the Whirlwinds recovered.

The second score was marked up when Carmack took the ball around right end for two plays then went over for the TD. Extra point kick failed again.

Post took the ball and Fred Long carried for several plays for a small gain. As luck would have it Helms caught a punt kicked by Stone and ran 78 yards for the third tally, bringing the score to 18 to nothing.

The Antelopes came back on the field at the half, calmer and more collected. Long carried again for considerable gain, which brought the ball up to the six yard line. On a snap pass from Stone to Evans, the score was marked up. Try for extra point was good.

After Floydada took the ball Post's defensive team was a solid wall with J. C. Shedd, end, and Pete Hays, guard, being principle men on the tackles. The Ante-lopes held and took the ball on downs. Another fumble gave the ball back to Floydada in the fourth quarter and the fourth touchdown was made. Helms took the ball over from about the 2 yard line, after a fine offensive drive. Helms ran through the middle for the extra point.

The Antelopes received the kick and Charles Chandler carried. He was stopped on the 30 in Floydada territory and a few yards were lost on the next plays. Another pass was intercepted by the Whirlwinds and after a few tries, Clark ran for the final TD of the game.

Hays and Shedd have been named outstanding players of the week, by Bing Bingham, Antelope coach. These men were exceptionally good on defensive work and will prove great assets for the season. Randall Lawrence was another outstanding player. He played fine offensive ball. The 126 pound halfback was full of hustle and drive against the Whirlwinds.

Texas Tech Determined To Make The Southwest Conference Accept Them

By Harold V. Retliff Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas Tech is going about the business of making the Southwest Conference want it as a member. To do it, Tech is building its athletics. The flurry over trying to get into the conference last spring has helped. The result: greater publicity has meant greater football crowds than ever before. The season ticket sale in football has been great.

The stadium has 3,700 new seats for the opening of the 1952 season. And there's a scoreboard

Antelopes To Meet Eagles In O'Donnell Friday Night

The Post Antelopes will journey to O'Donnell Friday night to meet the Eagles in a non-conference tilt. After dropping their first game to Floydada Whirlwinds, the boys are in better shape and have more experience for this week's attempt for victory.

Coach Bing Bingham has reported changes in the Antelope line up. The major change is Fred Long, 224 pound man, from fullback to tackle. Long has been doing a good job this week at tackle and is expected to increase the power of the Antelopes' line, Bingham declared. Charles Chandler has been moved to the fullback slot. Chandler

Juniors To Trek To Slaton For Game Tonight

Post Junior Antelopes will go to Slaton tonight for their first games in the Junior Conference. Game time is 7:30.

This conference was organized for District 6-AA schools and all schools in this district, with the exception of Spur are in it. O'Donnell Eagles have been added, although they are not a class AA school. This district is for eighth grade boys who were not 15 before September 1, 1952.

Each school in the conference contributed $5 to buy a trophy for the winner. The games will consist of 10 minute quarters and are to be played on round robin elimination with home and home basis. Other games for the Junior Antelopes are: Tahoka, Sept. 25, there; October 2 at O'Donnell; Oct. 9, Slaton, here; Oct. 16, Tahoka here; and Oct. 28, O'Donnell, here.

Bing Bingham, coach of the group, stated that he had some fine boys on this squad and was looking forward to a profitable season.

This game will be played immediately following the game of the sixth and seventh grades teams. The Little Antelopes will play the Tigers' sixth and seventh graders at 6:30 tonight.

The game of this team will consist of eight minute quarters and will be completed before game time of the Junior Conference game.

Herman Raphael, coach of junior high, said he had a heavy team for their ages and a large number out. He is looking for a fruitful season also. No definite schedule has been arranged for the team at present, but plans are to have a game preceding each Junior Conference tilt.

Divorce Cases Filed Outnumber Marriage Licenses Issued In '52

Of the marriage licenses issued and divorce cases filed this year in Garza County, the divorces have been greater in number than marriages led in 1951.

The record for 1952 stands as 21 marriage licenses issued to 26 divorces filed. This shows a decrease in licenses and increase in divorce cases compared to the 1951 records. In 1951, 33 licenses were issued and 22 divorce cases were filed.

Ray N. Smith, county clerk stated that there could be no comparison to marriages of Garza County residents, because of the medical certificates which are now required by Texas law. Now many candidates for marriage go to New Mexico because of the quicker system. New Mexico requires no medical examination and no wait before marriage.

At present the divorce rate is higher in Garza County than in the previous year, but the marriage rate of Garza County people may be higher also, as explained in the above paragraph.

Walcott Is A Rated Remarkable Athlete

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Win, lose or draw in the second defense of his world's heavyweight boxing championship, Jersey Joe Walcott must go down in history as a remarkable athlete.

The 38-year-old fighter who once boxed for a ton of coal to keep his eight kids warm belongs in the category of veterans who were active long after their prime.

Some of these fellows are still active like Gene Sarazen in golf, Johnny Longden in racing, Willie Hoppe in billiards and Satchel Paige in baseball. Others who never knew when to quit were marathon runner Clarence DeMar, footballers Jim Thorpe and Bronko Nagurski and pitchers John Pincus Quinn, Adolfo Luque and Bobo Newsome to mention a few.

"A man is as old as he feels," says Walcott. "I feel young."

Walcott defends his crown in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium on Tuesday, Sept. 23 against Rocky Marciano who has won all of his 42 fights as a professional.

HIS HABEAS CORPUS CASE IS POSTPONED—Attorney Nago Alanis of Alice, Tex., charged with assault with intent to kill in connection with the fatal shooting of Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr., 22-year-old law student of a prominent and politically-active Alice attorney, is shown at the jail in Alice. A habeas corpus hearing to determine whether or not he should be held in jail had been rescheduled for Monday, Sept. 15th.

Negroes Escape Serious Injuries

Three Negroes miraculously escaped serious injuries Thursday, when their car crashed into a creek in west Kent county. The three occupants of the 1946 Ford were Jordan Johnson, Hattie Mae Johnson, and Floyd Lowery of Aspermont. They were en route to Post to start working in the cotton fields. The Johnson woman was driver of the vehicle.

A Hudman Funeral Home ambulance brought the victims to the Garza Memorial hospital. Hospital attendants reported that only two were hurt and they were suffering from shock and minor chest injuries. The woman had broken ribs and remained overnight in the hospital before being moved to Aspermont the next day.

Johnson reported that the crash occurred as the car was coming down a hill and the brakes failed to hold. The driver lost control of the vehicle as they approached the bridge and it ran headlong into the creek. Fay Claborn, Garza county deputy, said the car flew through the air about 60 feet before hitting the ground then turning over twice and coming to rest against a tree.

If broken auto glass is distorting your vision... if it's causing health-hazardous winter drafts... if it threatens to fall in on car occupants with possible serious consequences, it's time to drive up here for quick, low cost replacement. Do it today!

This Is Your Invitation...

To Gin With Us This Fall

Throughout the years we have had only one thought in mind... that of giving cotton growers the best possible ginning service, extracting the most lint from every bale you bring to us, and leaving it in condition to demand the highest possible price on the market.

To this end we have completely modernized our Post plant in the past few years. Every piece of worn machinery has been replaced and the latest PROVEN devices for improving the QUALITY of your cotton have been added.

Last season we converted the gin to an all-electric power system, and this season we have added a new all-steel burr machine. We have just completed a complete overhaul of the plant.

Those who have ginned with us in the past know that they received the MAXIMUM amount of lint cotton and the HIGHEST QUALITY from every bale brought to us, regardless of whether it was early pulled cotton or the "bollies" that were machine-pulled at the end of the season.

We only ask the chance to prove to you that we know how to gin cotton, and that we have the equipment to do it with. We believe you will be satisfied, too, if you will give us a trial.

It is always a pleasure to render

SERVICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS
