Berlin Warned Must Face Red Reality

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's special envoy to Berlin, asserted Saturday there has been no change in U.S. policy on Germany and that the West is determined to maintain its rights in divided Berlin.

At the same time it was disclosed that Clay had advised West Germany to face up to the reality of Communist East Germany.

Clay came out with the advice Friday in a private talk with reporters and West Berlin publishers. Clay insisted that he should not be quoted, but the story created such a furor in Western political circles that his name quickly became connected with it.

The general called in reporters Saturday to issue a statement declaring, "There has been no change in U.S. policy and no change was announced by a U.S. spokesman in Berlin."

Informed sources said it is clear the United States has not made any decision at this stage to give any recognition to the East German Communist regime. But the new line taken by Clay apparently was intended to set the stage for a Western package proposal in forthcoming negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin.

Such a proposal may seek to trade some limited recognition of East Germany for a formal confirmation by both the Soviet Union and East Germany of Western rights in Berlin and on the access routes to the isolated city.

A proposal of this nature would constitute a major concession intended to safeguard the freedom of West Berlin.

Informants said the U.S. government evidently believed West Germany would have to be prepared for any such fundamental change in the Western position.

Western policy since the war has been based on the principle that the East German regime is illegal and that there can be no official dealings with it.

Clay in his public statement recalled that the reunification of Germany remains the ultimate goal of U.S. policy on Germany. He did not say how or when this could be achieved.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Displaying a rock'em - sock'em brand of hard - nose football, the Big Spring Steers not only won over Snyder Friday evening, but they endeared themselves to the fans for their scrappiness. Coach Emmett McKenzie was right when he predicted that they will be an interesting bunch to watch all season.

Our National Guard battery got its call sooner than anticipated. Previously alerted, the unit now has its orders to report for active duty Oct. 15. This is a stark reminder of the precariousness of the times and that sacrificial service is due from all.

* * *

The Bible Class Fund got marvelous support in its closing stretch and exceeded its $3,500 goal. Saturday $10 from the Credit Women's Club rounded the total at $3,661.19. Every bit of it will be needed due to increased enrollment and costs.

* * *

Biggest business news of the week was the word that Bankers Life & Casualty Company had taken over the Crawford and Settles Hotels and that Great Plains Hotel Company is preparing a major program of repair and renovation for the two. The Crawford is slated for conversion to downtown apartments, the Settles for complete refurbishing as a first class hostelry.

Response to appeals for Red Cross disaster relief have been encouraging. Right at this time the direct appeal is not being pressed, but United Fund directors announced that the remaining part of the quota would come out of the over-subscription to the UF goal.

Response also was encouraging at the Freedoms Foundation seminar here Saturday. It is indicative of a growing awareness of the nature of communism as a

Plane Down, 7 Missing

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A merchant ship picked up early today three survivors of a Navy plane which ditched off Bermuda and broke up on impact. Seven others were believed missing.

The survivors were picked up by the merchant ship African Pilot, which arrived on the scene about 6 a.m. EST.

Earlier, the Coast Guard said one of its search and rescue planes reported sighting three red flares and two rafts with survivors near the flying boat's last known position.

The plane, a Martin patrol bomber, was operating out of its home station in Bermuda with a 10-man crew. It was participating in the current Navy exercise Fishplay.

A spokesman at the fleet air wing headquarters here said the pilot radioed that one of the plane's two engines had gone out.

Names of crew members were withheld pending completion of the search and notification of next of kin.

Aide To Shriver

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) —President Kennedy Saturday announced his appointment of Paul Geren, 47, as deputy director of the Peace Corps which is headed by Kennedy's brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver.

Kennedy Faces Challenge In U. N. Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —President Kennedy personally faces a fateful challenge to United States leadership in the United Nations when he appears before the General Assembly Monday morning to deliver a major foreign policy speech.

Kennedy commands the full resources of American diplomacy and speaks with the authority which only a chief of state can exercise in this extremely power-conscious organization.

If he cannot inspire the non-Communist delegates with enthusiasm for U.S. aims here no one can.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is counting heavily on Kennedy's speech to prod representatives of the nonaligned, or neutralist, countries into action to save the United Nations, as he sees it, from Soviet strangulation.

Rusk has been working hopefully on the problem all week with the argument that the powers exercised by the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold must speedily be placed in the hands of some new executive in spite of adamant Soviet opposition.

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson is counting on Kennedy's appearance to help him in his long forthcoming struggle at this assembly to block the seating of Red China and to achieve other American objectives. Those include the condemnation, at least indirectly, of the Soviet Union for resuming nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere.

The President is expected to include disarmament proposals in his address.

Kennedy obviously wants to get across, not only to the delegates, but to the great world beyond these modernistic walls, that he is striving for peace and order to save mankind from nuclear war but that he cannot and will not consider peace at any price.

He has the double task of convincing the delegates that he wants a peaceful solution of the Berlin crisis but that, to get it, he is justified in standing up to pressures from Soviet Premier Khrushchev even at the grave risk of nuclear disaster.

By far the most urgent of the challenges before the President, however, is that of finding enough support in the 99-nation assembly to get a man into control of the U.N. secretariat and prevent Hammarskjold's death from leading to a breakdown of the whole organization.

2 Die, 1 Hurt In Plane Crash

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)— Singer Charles Applewhite was semi-conscious and in critical condition Saturday following the crash of a private plane Friday night which killed his wife and a Midland oilman.

Applewhite suffered facial fractures, cuts and a fractured leg.

Mrs. Nancy Applewhite, 29, died an hour after the plane crashed in a cotton field near here.

Robert J. McGannon, 35, president of Republic Mud, Inc., died in a Midland hospital two hours after the crash.

Unexpected Move Jams Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected parliamentary wrench jammed the legislative machinery Saturday just as Congress appeared to be rolling to adjournment.

A Republican maneuver on an appropriations bill stalled the adjournment drive—aimed at Saturday night—but the real issue seemed to lie in a special tax bill affecting the huge Du Pont corporation.

The Senate had emerged from a vestpocket filibuster, passed one of three remaining appropriations bills and seemed headed for the finish line. Then Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana suddenly broke the news that means this session cannot end before Monday—and may run well into next week.

Mansfield explained he had been advised by the Republican side that an objection would be made to taking up the $1-billion supplemental appropriations bill approved Friday by the Senate Appropriations Committee. Under Senate rules, money bills cannot be passed until three days after committee approval unless there is unanimous consent to waive the rules.

MEET AGAIN

The Democratic leader earlier had thought he had assurances there would be no objection. When he learned unanimous consent would not be forthcoming he at once got an order for the Senate to meet again Monday.

It appeared the sudden slowdown traces to a pending bill to ease the tax impact of a court-ordered disposal of General Motors stock held by the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co.

Mansfield had planned to lay aside this legislation in order to call up the supplemental appropriations bill. But a Republican groundswell developed against this procedure.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader from Illinois, made this clear when he said the session now probably will last "deep into next week" and promptly added that adjournment will not come until after passage of the Du Pont tax bill.

Many Republicans, led by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, share Dirksen's determination to pass the Du Pont bill. On the Democratic side, Sens. Albert Gore of Tennessee and Paul Douglas of Illinois are expected to spearhead stiff—and perhaps protracted—opposition.

ROBERT BAILEY

Former Big Springer Is Drowned

ROBERT LEE—Dan Wallet, 69, retired painter who had lived in Robert Lee for about two years, was found dead in Robert Lee Lake at 7:35 p.m. Friday. He was last seen Thursday before he left on what was apparently a fishing trip to the lake about a mile and a half east of the city.

Wallet's car and fishing gear were found nearby, and a kayak was capsized and adrift near the shore. A minnow bucket was found floating. Wallet still wore his glasses when he was found by Virgil Steinberger and James Wilcox of the San Angelo Game and Fish Commission office, and Jesse Eads and Waymond Robertson, both of Robert Lee.

He was an uncle of Mrs. George E. Lomas of Robert Lee.

Wallet, a bachelor, lived for a time in Big Spring and was engineer at the old Douglas Hotel at Third and Runnels, now the Howard House.

Funeral arrangements were pending Friday at Clift Funeral Home in Robert Lee. Survivors other than Mrs. Lomas are two brothers, Corell Wallet of Sedelia, Miss., and W. B. Wallet of Healdton, Okla.

Dallas Voters Approve Bonds

DALLAS (AP)—An $18.5 million courthouse bond issue was approved by Dallas County voters Saturday.

Returns showed the bonds passed by better than a two-to-one majority, with 16,309 voters casting ballots for the project and 7,262 against.

Victim Was Pioneer Citizen

A 15-year-old Negro told police late Saturday that he killed Mrs S. A. Hathcock, 85, a pioneer Big Springer and mother-in-law of Mayor Lee O. Rogers.

Robert Lonnie Bailey, often in trouble with the police, confessed to the murder about 10 p.m. after an hour of police questioning.

Mrs. Hathchock was found dead in her home at 611 Scurry about 5:15 p.m. by her two granddaughters, Mrs. Catherine Thompson and Mrs. Carolyn Martin, both of whom lived with her. They returned home from work about 5 p.m. and found her body lying across her bed.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said a charge of murder with malice was filed agaist Bailey in Jess Slaughter's Justice Court following the confession. Slaughter, justice of the peace, ruled that Mrs. Hathcock had died of a stab wound.

The examining doctor reported Mrs. Hathcock wounded in the heck, apparently with a sharp instrument which pierced the left thyroid. Although there were few signs of a struggle, the doctor said examination was being conducted to ascertain if she had been criminally assaulted.

NOTE FOUND

Slaughter found a threatening note using obscene language, apparently addressed to Mrs. Hathcock, under her body when it was moved.

The doctor fixed the time of death at between 2:30 and 3 o'clock.

Bailey, a high school student, told police he used a pair of six inch grass clippers for the attack according to Police Chief Jay Banks. He said he had thrown the clippers over the fence behind the Little Beaver Appliance Repair, 105 W. 6th, and police found them there, still stained with blood.

Neighbors said Bailey occasionally did yard work for Mrs. Hathcock and was seen in the area early Saturday, Detective Aubrey Hurley said. He was arrested following a tip from a neighbor. Officers Jimmy Ellison and Dub Day located him the Flats area of the North Side and took him to the police station for questioning.

Chief Jay Banks said Bailey has been often in trouble. On April 30, 1960, the youth was arrested and made a statement that cleared up 17 house burglaries on the police blotter. He has been in police hands on six occasions since then.

Bailey gave his home address as 509 NW 4th.

LAST SEEN

Mrs. Hathcock was last seen alive at noon, when she had lunch with her daughter, Mrs. Galen Shelly, who lives next door. No unusual sounds from the residence were reported by neighbors during the afternoon.

Mrs. Hathcock's pet dog, a constant companion, was in the bedroom when the body was discovered. Other dogs in the neighborhood, that usually bark when strangers come around, made no unusual noises.

District Attorney Gil Jones was in the process of taking a detailed statement near midnight Saturday and said that Bailey's admission had accounted for all facets of the case officers had previously ascertained.

PIONEER FAMILY

Mrs. Hathcock was the widow of the late Sam Hathcock, who died here July 1, 1944. He had come to Borden County from Bowie in the 1890s, taught school and ranched before settling in Big Spring in 1900.

For many years he operated a confections business, then a grocery and established Hathcock Hardware Company. He was active in business until about year before his death. At one time he had served as a city alderman and on the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees.

Funeral for Mrs. Hathcock is pending at the River Funeral Home.

She was born at Bowie, Texas, on Oct. 13, 1876. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, Mrs. Helen Shelly, both of Big Spring; three grandchildren, Glenn Rogers, Dallas, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Martin, both of Big Spring.

Odessan Killed In Rig Accident

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—A section of pipe at a gas line construction project struck and killed Cecil Richard H. Collins, 24, Odessa, Tex., near Eunice, N. M., Friday.

Witnesses said Collins was working around a boom truck swinging pipe into place. The boom and a section of suspended pipe suddenly broke loose.

The pipe section struck Collins in the chest and abdomen. He was employed by the J. J. Willis Trucking Co. He is survived by his wife and 6-year-old daughter.

MRS. S. A. HATHCOCK

Ex-General's Plot Blamed For Uprisings

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government said Saturday that last weekend's bloody Independence Day uprisings stemmed from a retired army general's plot to overthrow the government.

The attorney general's office said the ringleaders have been arrested, the plot broken up, and the situation is calm throughout Mexico.

Gen. Celestino Gasca Villasenor, a retired officer and prominent in politics back in 1952, was named as the master mind behind the plot.

In all, 29 persons have been formally charged and will be moved to a federal prison Sunday.

The obviously well-planned but not too well-financed disturbances erupted like a stinging rash in about 10 states Sept. 15 as President Adolfo Lopez Mateos launched a three-day holiday commemorating Mexico's independence.

There were reports of gun battles in at least two dozen towns and villages and the death toll was around forty, although informed sources said it was actually much higher.

The government has been vague on the situtation.

Manuel Rosales Miranda, chief investigator for the attorney general's office, threw partial light on the subject at a news conference Saturday.

Gen. Celestino Gasca, he said, had been a strong backer of Gen. Miguel Henrique Guzman in the 1952 presidential election won by Adolfo Ruiz Cortines.

Actions Speak Louder Than Words

The placard says "Pull for the United Fund", and the office staff of this major community undertaking demonstrates just that, with a little kidding for Angy Glenn. Glenn is contributing his full time to manage the office for this year's campaign, just as he did a few years back. The young women who are working with him to get all records in shape are (l to r) Barbara Swain, Lyndal Mason and Joan Weismantel. The UF offices this year are on the ground floor of the Petroleum Bldg., 120 W. 2nd, and the phone number is AM 4-4305. "We're ready,' says Glenn, "for the finest year in Big Spring UF history."

OPTIMISM GROWS WITH THE JOB

United Fund Time Is Near

The groundwork for the biggest community project that rolls around every year — the United Fund finance campaign — is virtually complete.

Another couple of weeks will see the launching of most of the actual canvassing. Campaign organization is accomplished. The central office in the Petroleum Building (120 E. 2nd) has records and workers' material in readiness.

The job, in dollars and cents, is bigger than ever before. The UF has a goal of $102,484—plus about $2,500 that will go to Hurricane Carla relief — but not in recent years has the community campaign gotten started in such an aura of success.

Why?

WHY NOT?

"Why not?" is the answer from Marvin M. Miller, campaign director who has set a fast pace in organizational activity. "Our town continues to grow. The financial prospects were never better. There are new people here, new business establishments. There are more people more aware of the merit of the 12 agencies the UF raises money for. They are aware of the savings in time and dollars and manpower that this one concerted effort can accomplish.

"The people who have volunteered to work have done so with enthusiasm, with a spirit of willingness and a determination to get the job done. I foresee a quick and successful campaign that will make every citizen in Big Spring proud."

WELL ORGANIZED

Miller's sure confidence is apparent in all divisions. Never have they been so well organized so early.

Actually, Webb Air Force Base will start the solicitation next Saturday to "jump the gun" on the civilian effort. The same optimism rules there, and Base Commander Wilson H. Banks and Project Officer Lt. Col. John F. Holt are pledging a bigger contribution than ever from the military. (Details on this phase of the campaign on Page 5-A.)

And a special meeting for Cosden employe organization — with members of IUOE Local 826 setting the pace — will come this week. The labor groups have accepted important assignments.

Douglas Orme heads the big gifts division, which starts work on Oct. 2. Raymond River is his vice chairman and they have 22 key business men as a canvassing team

Lewis Price and C. H. Rainwater are chairmen for the special gifts division and their 12 captains are Robert Stripling, Jack Alexander, M. R. Koger, James Cape, John Dibrell, Wendal Parks, Clyde Angel, Truman Jones, John L. Taylor, Ralph McLaughlin, Stormy Thompson and J. O. Dotson. Every one of these has a five-man team organized.

Dan Krausse, with W. A. Hunt as assistant, heads the employe division. Here again, scores of volunteers have agreed to work, and have already lined up prospects. E. H. Bouillioun Jr., Pete Cook, Ben Johnson, Joe Leach, Bill McRee, and Jim Watts are captains. They too have five- and six-man teams completed, and these members already have contacted employers in establishments they will contact.

A division to start work a bit later is the metropolitan division, under Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Odell Womack and R. H. Weaver. These workers are now being recruited.

R. L. Tollett is handling the out-of-town solicitation, and by the first of the month will have letters going to those firms who must be contacted at headquarters offices.

It is the intent, said Miller, that not one individual or one firm or professional office be overlooked in this year's campaign.

The UF effort is going forward on a strictly voluntary basis. No professional help is employed. Angy Glenn is devoting full time to running the office, at no cost. George Thorburn will head a group of volunteer accountants to audit campaign receipts.

12 AGENCIES

Twelve agencies share, with payments made throughout the year, from the money collected in the UF drive. They are: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Milk and Ice Fund, West Side Youth Center, Summer Recreation Program, Air Force Aid Society, Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center; Texas Rehabilitation Center (formerly Gonzales Warm Springs) and the Texas United Fund, which in turn serves several agencies, including the USO—now being called upon for expansion.

A special appeal will be made for local people to help the UF add another $2,500 so that the city's quota for rehabilitation of the storm-wrecked coastal area can be met. This was combined so that another special solicitation would not be made.

Cuban Reports On Castro's Freedom

By JOE PICKLE

"It was for the children, I knew we had to do it."

Vicente Muniz-Salazar, who gave up his photographic business and all of his equipment in Havana, told how he and his wife determined that they could no longer endure the oppression of the Castro regime.

"Sure we wanted out on account of ourselves, but it was really the children. I am 45 and I might have endured it — but the children grow up under this communism? No!"

So with funds furnished by his brother - in - law, Tito Arencibia, 1203 Lloyd, Vicente Muniz managed to get a tourist permit for himself, his wife, and their two children, a son Rene and a daughter, Marisol.

Once before he had come to Big Spring on a tourist visa, but this time when the family landed in Miami, Fla., it was in the knowledge that they were refugees.

An expert commercial photographer, Muniz has found difficulty in gaining employment. He has done exceptional work for architectural firms, hotels, clubs, stores, churches, etc. and numerous interior shots for the Sunday supplement of the Havana newspaper. Now in urgent need of work, he may take a place in a San Angelo photo lab.

The choice to seek asylum in the United States was not altogether easy, for over the years he had gradually accumulated equipment and supplies in his studio. He estimated that the value of his layout was something like $12,000 in U.S. money. He and his wife also had managed to save a tidy sum to apply to the purchase of a home.

SWAPS COMMERCIAL STUDIO FOR FREEDOM
Vicente Muniz gets the "feel" again

"It was for these things that we had sacrificed pleasure, clothes and other matters," he said, "but some things are more important than money."

As a school lad he began to dabble in photography, and when he reached manhood he went into business for himself, working at odd and long hours. Sometimes, photographing interiors of night clubs kept him up until 3 a.m. or 4 a.m., and if the picture was for a newspaper, he had to be up early to furnish a print.

When Castro came to power, no one was particularly concerned; there had been assurances that businesses would operate as usual and that people would enjoy freedoms. From the start, however, said Muniz, the influence of communistic tactics began to be felt.

He had done much work for the Catholic church, and this made him suspect. The expropriation of United States businesses was followed by a pinch on private operations. First he was denied some of his clients, such as the church. Then calls for his service had to be channelled through the government.

In his apartment, Muniz had a shortwave radio, and he listened to broadcasts from the U.S. and other parts of the world. Some members of the Committee de Vigilancia (n'er - do - wells and low class unemployed with nothing better to do than inform on their countrymen) turned him in. The G-2 (Cuban version of the Gestapo) began to check him, confiscating his radio, harassing him to the point he dared not even express an opinion.

Steadily the hand of the government tightened. He realized that although he owned his business, he was powerless to do anything with it.

"Maybe you own your home or your place," he said, "but you cannot sell it. Your children cannot even inherit it."

He made a visit here several months ago, and when he returned to Havana before his visa had run out, his mind was made up. When Arencibia, who is a brother to Mrs. Muniz, sent money for air transportation, the Muniz family was duly stripped of its jewelry and allowed to go aboard.

When they set foot at Miami, it was July 26.

"This," he shrugged ironically, "was on the anniversary of the founding of Castro's 'freedom' movement."

Integration Leader Named To Bench

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) —President Kennedy has risked new controversy with Southern Democrats by nominating Thurgood Marshall, Negro integration leader, to a high federal judgeship.

Marshall, who has argued the civil rights case for Negroes in court since 1938, was chosen Saturday for the U.S. 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals in New York.

The appointment was not unexpected, but neither was it announced until Congress headed into the closing hours of its 1961 session. The Senate must confirm Marshall's nomination, and it must pass first through the Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., who has long been identified with the most adamant Southern foes of racial desegregation.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, here for the weekend with the President, said Kennedy would submit Marshall's name again on an interim basis. This step would be necessary for Marshall to serve on the federal bench until the Senate, with hardly time left this session, acts on the nomination next year.

Kennedy made public his selection of Marshall, veteran lawyer for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, on the first full day of his 13th straight weekend on Cape Cod.

Mist hung over Nantucket Sound as Kennedy embarked in the afternoon on a short cruise aboard his 52-foot motor yacht, the Marlin.

On return, Kennedy concentrated once more on the speech he will deliver Monday morning to the United Nations General Assembly.

It was understood the death of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in a plane crash in Northern Rhodesia last Sunday has prompted Kennedy to place new emphasis on the U.N. structure in drafting his address.

Kennedy may also be more specific about U.S. proposals for maintaining a strong U.N. leadership than he had planned before Hammarskjold was killed. The United States hopes to gain support for an effective U.N. executive from nations avowedly noncommitted in the East-West struggle.

The death of Hammarskjold has given the Soviet Union an opportunity to force its campaign against the U.S. stand for an independent U.N. secretariat.

The East-West crisis over Berlin and possible avenues toward controlled disarmament also will figure in Kennedy's speech, now scheduled for Monday at 10:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Woman Wins Morals Case

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — A municipal court jury decided Friday night that Kay Ellis, 58, of nearby Burlingame was innocent of charges of indecent exposure and outrageous public decency when she took nude swims and sunbaths in the privacy of her backyard.

Miss Ellis, a divorcee, described herself during the two-day trial as a social worker working for racial integration of her neighborhood.

Her neighbors seized on her habit of taking nude sunbaths in her backyard—enclosed by a six-foot board fence—as a means of getting her out of the neighborhood, she charged.

She said bigotry—not prudery—led neighbors to make accusations against her. She said she had made her swimming pool facilities available to people regardless of "race, creed and color."

"I was completely absorbed in my drive to bring integration to Burlingame," she told the court with tears in her eyes. "I never dreamed that anyone could see me."

She said had she known she was being watched, "I'd have worn a fur coat."

2 Bodies Found, Storm Toll 32

HOUSTON (AP) — Two bodies Saturday were pulled from a submerged car in a small creek near Cypress. The deaths were blamed on Hurricane Carla.

The bodies were identified as Robert S. Curtis, 13, of Cypress, and Donald Manuel, 22, hometown not known.

The deaths boosted the hurricane death toll to 32 in Texas.

Good Support Given Effort To Reduce Debt

Big Spring businessmen and merchants have given their wholehearted support to the drive by the Chamber of Commerce to eliminate the Christmas decorations debt and secure fitting ornaments for the coming Yule season.

Friday evening 27 business concerns had responded to the call and agreed to double their annual pledge toward payment of the decoration expense. Four businesses contributed for the first time.

Doubling their pledges were C. R. Anthony Co., Texas Electric Service Co., Alice's Children's Shop, M. M. Edwards, F. W. Woolworth Co., T and T Supply, Neel Transfer and Storage, Phillips Tire Co., Gibbs and Weeks, State National Bank, Lewis Five and Ten, Garner McAdams, Cunningham and Philips Drug, G. C. Glenn Garage, and Barr Studio.

Others are Zack's, J. C. Penney Co., Walker Auto Parts, Grantham Brothers, Quigley's Floral Shop, Montgomery Ward and Co., McGibbon Oil Co., Swartz, H. W. Smith Transport, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and Merle Stewart, CPA.

Newcomers to the donation list are Blum's Jewelry, Gold Bond Stamp Co., Stripling-Mancill Insurance, and KBST.

Most concerns in Big Spring have received letters urging them to participate. Although the decorations cannot be hung in front of all businesses, every business in Big Spring benefits by having festive ornaments in the customary downtown area, according to Carroll Davidson, Chamber manager.

Former Star Dead At 64

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marion Davies, whose philanthropies matched her fame as a movie queen, is dead at 64 after a three-year fight against cancer.

The star of Hollywood's colorful 1920s succumbed Friday night in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. She had been in a coma for two days.

Miss Davies, educated in a New York convent, reached movie stardom via the Ziegfield Follies and the promotion of the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst.

Her movie success brought her a $4-million beach home, a leading role in Hollywood social life and a fortune estimated at several millions.

She retired from films in 1937 to launch a second career—this one of giving. Wounded war veterans and needy college students alike received her aid.

None Injured In Three-Car Wreck

A three-vehicle accident damaged three station-wagons an estimated $2,175 at the intersection of Birdwell Lane and Marcy Drive Friday afternoon. One driver suffered from shock but was not injured.

A 1959 station wagon, driven by Mrs. Maxine Boardman, 2514 E. 24th, was in collision at the intersection with a 1958 station wagon driven by Johnny Wright, Coahoma. Mrs Boardman's vehicle traveled almost a block where it and another station wagon, driven by Oliver Flint, collided.

Police said an ambulance was called to the scene but that Mrs. Boardman chose to go to her home where she was later given a sedative prescribed by her doctor.

Police also investigated two hit and run and reckless driving reports. R. W. Sanderson, 2401 Morrison, whose car was parked on the T&P parking lot reported that a car had struck his and left the scene.

A man at 612 Drake told police that a pickup had struck the curb in front of his house and kept circling the block. Johnny Hill, 1808 Donley, reported that a pickup with a butane tank drove through his yard and down the alley. He was unable to get the license number.

A resident on East Sixth went to the police station at 10 p.m. Friday and reported that four boys driving a 57 model car had hit the back of his car while traveling east on Fourth, and then one of the boys hit one of his passengers in the face, bloodying his lip. The boys were located at a local tavern and brought to the station. Police said no arrests were made.

A driver for the Southern Lead Co. of Dallas reported at 2 a.m. Saturday that two boys, driving a 1951 model car, pulled in front of his truck and slammed on their brakes. He attempted to change lanes to pass them several times and they would get ahead of him and repeat the brake slamming.

A third boy, driving a 1956 model car, also joined in. The truck driver stopped on Gregg and called police and said the two cars went on north. He gave the license number of one of the cars and police units were looking for them Saturday.

Beer Carnival

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Bavarians and thousands of foreign guests downed foaming mugs of brew Saturday to launch the 1961 Oktoberfest, biggest beer-drinking carnival of the world. Three million liters—(2.62 million quarts)—of Bavaria's national drink have been stored for the 14-day festival.

Crime Blamed On Money Lack

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston woman told police she put her newborn infant in a garbage can because she doesn't have enough money to care for it.

The infant was rescued, apparently unharmed, and put in the nursery at the City - County Hospital.

Mrs. Wilma M. Barber, 28, was charged with assault to murder but released to care for her other four children. She said the baby was born - without aid - in her apartment before dawn Friday.

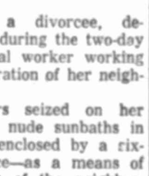
PRUDENT MEN



By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 3900 West Highway 80 P.O. Box 1383.

"The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going" (Prov. 14:15).

One has a right, —yea, a duty— to question what he hears preached; and it does not become the preacher to resent it. The Apostle Paul did not resent it when his preaching was questioned; and the Lord called them noble who questioned it, and checked it by the Scriptures.

"These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the Word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so" (Acts 17:11).

Be noble like that. Question my preaching and check it by the Bible. Question your preacher, who ever he is.

Write us for free printed material which points out Scriptures that justify our teaching and practice. Approach us personally. You will find us very approachable. Hear us preach, and take notes. Scripture references are always given. Participate in the question period every Thursday night. Let us help you if we can; and correct us if you find us wrong.

Welcome to our services today: 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. and 7 p. m.

Herb Helbig, county-agent-elect, is due in Howard County soon to take the post of Jimmy Taylor, who is joining the First National Bank.

Stork Helps Helbig In Making Move

When Herb Helbig, Littlefield, was in Big Spring last Monday to accept appointment as Howard County Farm agent, he said his move to Big Spring depended somewhat on just when an expected addition to his family showed up.

When he got home from his Howard County visit, he found this phase of his problem solved. He and Mrs. Helbig had become parents of a new son.

Helbig, who is to take the post left vacant by the resignation of Jimmy Taylor, may be here by Oct. 1 but it is still possible it will be later before he can establish residence in the county.

Taylor said the district extension office had told the new agent he did not need to hurry.

Taylor, meantime, officially leaves the post on Oct. 1. He is to be associated with the First National Bank as farm and ranch representative.

However, Taylor said that he would be available to lend a hand until Helbig has arrived.

TEC Ups Estimate Of County Cotton

The Texas Employment Commission has taken a new hard look at the prospective cotton crop in Howard County and has upped the crop estimate for 1961 from 35,100 to 50,000 bales.

TEC said that the increase was merited on the basis of the present crop conditions. Harvesting is just getting under way in this county and the gins are now operating on an "as needed" basis. In two weeks they will be humming around the clock.

The gins reported they had processed 1,100 bales of Howard County cotton through Thursday afternoon. The crop is about 20 per cent open and only two per cent has been harvested.

Meantime, over in Dawson County, where the estimate calls for a crop of 175,000 bales, the gins have already handled 20,387 bales. This ginning total (as of Thursday) was more than 12,000 bales ahead of the total ginned at the same date in 1960. It is estimated that the crop is about 30 per cent open.

TEC office here has also increased the estimate on Martin County's crop from 82,120 to 85,000 bales. Gins have already turned out 3,800 bales. The crop is 20 per cent open.

TEC has revised the Glasscock County crop total upward from 11,380 to 12,000 bales. Approximately 700 bales have been ginned and the crop is at least 35 per cent open.

Fisher, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry counties do not offer so advanced a picture in cotton harvesting. TEC office in Sweetwater says that there is much very late cotton in all of these counties and as a result the harvest is running behind the other counties in the area.

Fisher County has an estimated crop of 45,000 bales but has ginned only 194 bales. Mitchell County, with a crop estimated at 38,000 has ginned only 272 bales and Scurry County, with a crop estimate of 38,000 has ginned only 384 bales. Nolan County has ginned only 53 bales of an estimated 19,000 bale crop.

Two area servicemen are stationed in the Berlin area of East Germany, currently the hottest spot of the cold war. Army Pvt. Alton E. Currie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adison E. Currie, Colorado City, and Pfc. Harold L. Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isom H. Ferguson, Lamesa. Both are members of the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment's 3rd Reconnaissance Squadron which guards the northern sector of the East-West German border in Europe.

The sector, over 100 miles long, parallels the border which is marked by a plowed strip approximately 10 yards wide that contains sections of barbed wire. The members of Ferguson's unit keep the border under constant surveillance through the use of jeep-mounted patrols and observation and listening posts.

Ferguson, assigned to the squadron's Troop K which is regularly located in Bad Hersfeld, entered the Army in November, 1960, completed basic training at Fort Hood, and arrived overseas last spring. The 20-year-old soldier is a 1960 graduate of Lamesa High School.

Currie, also assigned to Troop K, entered the Army in February, 1961, completed basic training at Fort Hood, and arrived overseas last July. The 17-year-old soldier attended Colorado High School.

Parks Harbored 25,000 Refugees

AUSTIN (AP) — State parks harbored some 25,000 evacuees of Hurricane Carla, a parks board official reported Saturday.

Figures based on belated but "fairly complete" reports were provided by R. W. Barlow, assistant executive director of the State Parks Board.

The bulk of the refugees were housed in 12 of 60 state parks used for the purpose. The lodging was provided "generally without cost," Barlow said in a statement.

Five Executed

HAVANA (AP)—Five men convicted of counterrevolutionary activities were executed Saturday in La Cabana fortress. The military court that condemned them gave 64 others prison terms ranging from 10 to 30 years on charges of sabotage or terrorism.

4-H Members Honor Taylor

Howard County 4-H Club members and their parents Saturday night paid tribute to Jimmy Taylor, Howard County farm agent, and Mrs. Taylor. Taylor is leaving the county agent's post on Oct. 1 to accept a job with the First National Bank.

Members of the County 4-H clubs and their families presented Taylor and Mrs. Taylor with gift certificates and gave Taylor an engraved silver tray at the close of a barbecue served at the Howard County fair grounds Saturday night.

Slick Boatler, who has long been an active worker in the 4-H Club program and is the father of Wanda Boatler, a leader in 4-H Club activities, served as master of ceremonies.

He praised the work of Taylor in the six years he has served as county agent and voiced regret that he is leaving the job.

Four Thefts Are Reported

One report of vandalism, and four thefts were investigated by police Friday afternoon and night.

A. P. Kasch Sr., reported that his car received a flat tire because of two heavy slashes in a tire while on the Slaughter parking lot, Scurry at Third.

L. J. Martin, of the Empire Electric Construction Co., doing work at Webb AFB, reported that several items valued at $225 had been stolen from a tool shed located at the base. A 10-gallon water can, a wrench, power saw, sledge hammer, about 100 pounds of nails, five gallons of paint, hand axe, and various small items, were reported missing.

Kenneth Williams, with Thomason Enterprises building a house at 3622 Connally, reported the loss of 12 squares of siding valued at $17 a square, or $204.

J. D. Reid, with B&B Construction Co., reported the theft of automatic flashing warning lights from the construction site, 1800 Birdwell.

Jimmy Simmons, 501 E. 12th, reported the theft of a hood and a chrome radiator for a 1928 model car, at his residence. He said he is a student at Baylor University and had come home to drive the car back to Baylor. The items were taken from inside the car, and the time of the theft was not known.

Police Ticket Large Number Of Violators

A large number of tickets for all kinds of traffic violations have been issued by Big Spring police this week in a move to prevent accidents.

The crackdown followed a meeting held three weeks ago by police and city officials in which police were instructed to start issuing tickets for all violations in the business and residential area, including parking on the wrong side of the street.

187 PAID

A check of the police docket Friday showed that 187 traffic violation tickets had been paid since Wednesday. Not a single appeal was listed. Of these fines, 157, for $2 each, were paid for wrong side parking, and 30 for other types of violations.

The 30 persons who paid fines totaling $267 had been tagged for running stop signs, having no drivers licenses, negligent collision, speeding, failure to control speed to avoid accidents, improper backing, loud mufflers or excessive noise, following too closely, running red lights, exceeding safe and prudent speeds, and contest for speed.

Those listed include only the ones who have appeared in corporation court and were assessed fines, or who have voluntarily paid the minimum fines, for each violation. The police traffic division reported that more than twice that number of tickets had been issued.

LITTLE CRITICISM

"We have had little criticism from those paying the tickets," Chief Jay Banks said Saturday morning. "A few have complained but we have been surprised at the number who have come in and paid and admitted that they knew they were violating laws and ordinances but had been getting by with it for so long they didn't think about it any more.

"One of the reasons for more wrong side parking tickets than for other violations is that a parked car will be there for some time. Moving violations have to be ticketed only when patrolmen catch the violators in the act, or where some one files a complaint," he said. "We have been able this week to catch more than the usual number, and one will find tickets issued for more than have paid their fines. The amount goes up, depending upon the violation and whether an offender has been fined for the same offense more than once, and these appear more slowly. It is harder for some to pay from $5 to $25 than it is to pay $2."

RIGHT TURNS

Banks said many of the minor accidents are being caused by drivers making right turns on red lights in heavy traffic.

"I hope the city commission will follow through on suggestions made, when it abandoned the one-way streets, to place signs at intersections where right turns are permitted after a stop," he said. "Under Texas law it is illegal to make a right turn on a red light unless there is a clearly marked sign saying it is permissible. But under the uncertainty of knowing what the city is going to require, we have refrained from issuing tickets except where a driver is caught turning right onto a highway from a cross street. We have to be there, or be called to investigate an accident when such a turn is made, before we can issue tickets. If this can be straightened out we can cut down on more accidents."

Fines paid since Wednesday for 115 offenses, including 27 for drunkenness, totaled $1,219.

Water Mining Hurts Supply

Water is being "mined" in the Southern High Plains of Texas at a rate which should not be considered lightly by a multi-million dollar farming operation, irrigators are warned in a bulletin just released by the State Board of Water Engineers.

Geologists who investigated ground - water resources in the Southern High Plains area, which contained 4,300,000 acres under irrigation in 1958, reported that improved water conservation practices offer the only hope of prolonging the life of an underground reservoir which supports the state's largest intensively farmed area.

Bulletin 6107 is titled "A Summary of the Occurrence and Development of Ground Water in the Southern High Plains of Texas." It is the first such report on the area since 1949.

44,000 WELLS

The investigation covered a 22,000 square-mile area, 250 miles southward from the Canadian River and 120 miles eastward from the New Mexico border—including all or parts of 31 counties. About 44,000 well in the area in 1958 supplied water from the Ogallala formation to irrigate cotton, grain sorghums, and other crops.

Investigators reported that "the estimated amount of water withdrawn from the Ogallala formation in the Southern High Plains so greatly exceeds even the most optimistic estimates of recharge that it must be concluded the water is being 'mined', that is, it is coming from storage. Depth to water measurements show that since large-scale pumping was started about 1938, the water table has declined in practically all of the Southern High Plains except for areas remote from pumping."

RESERVES DWINDLE

It is estimated that 36 million acre-feet of water was pumped from the underground reservoir from 1938 through 1957, and that 160 million acre-feet remained available to wells at the end of 1958. Natural recharge of the reservoir is from precipitation, which probably returns to the aquifer only a fraction of an inch of water a year, the amount depending upon the annual rainfall.

Proposed conservation measures include recharge of the underground reservoir from rain-filled lakes and development of supplemental supplies of surface water. The report describes encouraging experiments in recharging by injecting into wells rainwater which accumulates in playas, or shallow, undrained lakes which dot the area.

"It will require the efforts of everyone affected, both individually and collectively, in order to extend the life expectancy of ground water, the life blood of the Southern High Plains," the report concludes.

COPIES AVAILABLE

The bulletin, which reports results of one of the most extensive investigations of its kind ever undertaken in the High Plains of Texas, was written by J. G. Cronin and prepared by the U. S. Geological Survey in cooperation with the Board of Water Engineers. Costs for printing the first 2,000 copies were shared by the Board and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District; copies may be obtained by writing to either Texas Board of Water Engineers, P. O. Box 2311, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas; or High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, 1628 Fifteenth Street, Lubbock, Texas.

Weather Man Cooperates With Airport Construction

By M. A. WEBB

Work on improvements at Howard County Airport is progressing well with the weather man cooperating.

Conduits for changing landing strip and parking lights have been completed, and the island in front of the terminal building excavated for fill and paving. W. D. Caldwell, contractor, will start putting in the fill in a day or so. Work on the new run-up pads is being done and other accessory dirt work has been started.

"It will not only improve the appearance of the field but will give us more than twice the ramp space we now have," Ted McClung, airport manager, said Friday. "There are times when our present ramp is crowded and we have to hangar some of the aircraft for minutes to allow more space for incoming craft."

The work is being done jointly by Howard County and the federal government. Estimated total cost of the program will be around $32,000.

• • •

Business traffic out of the airport this week included the Shell Pipe Line plane, piloted by Don Joseph of Tulsa, Okla., who spends a night in Big Spring while on line patrol; an ambulance plane from Wyoming brought Mrs. M. L. Dailey to Webb AFB Hospital; a representative of Air Associates who spent Wednesday night in Big Spring; representatives of West Texas Coffee Co. stopping twice this week; a representative of a cable TV service out of San Angelo twice (home base is Bladenburg, Md.); Imperial Roofing Company's Twin Beech and pilot spent three nights in Big Spring.

• • •

Transient private plane traffic included Bill Echols from Caddo, Texas, for refueling and several others.

• • •

Local pilots flying since the weather improved included the Webb Aero Club planes and pilots; Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Lurting, Dr. and Mrs. B. Broadrick, Bert Andreas, J. R. Henderson on several business trips, Thomas and Bill Flynn to Marfa; Fred Kasch to Houston and Bryan Sunday, and several local trips; Paul Kasch to Lubbock and San Angelo Tuesday, San Angelo and Andrews Wednesday, and Wichita Falls Thursday.

• • •

Ted McClung has been grounded, almost, this week because of a misplaced vertebrae in his neck.

"If I'm slow in answering the telephone or getting out when needed, you'll understand that it's tough moving around, but hope I'll be over it before long."

'CONQUERING HEROES'

Theme Announced For Lutheran Rally Day

"Conquering Heroes" will be the theme of the annual education rally day festivities at St. Paul Lutheran Church here today, according to Mrs. A. A. Graumann, publicity and promotion chairman. The thoughts of the theme are found in the Old Testament book of Judges.

The Sunday school hour at 9:30 a.m. will mark the end of another year of religious instruction. More than 140 pupils from the nursery through the senior department will orally review the lessons of the fourth and final quarter.

Class and department promotions will precede the closing devotion. A sound picture entitled "Gideon" will be shown to the assembly. The five preconfirmation departments of the school are staffed with 15 teachers, including the superintendent, Lee Axtens.

Leading the children's processional for the 10:30 a.m. rally day service will be the pastor, the Rev. Clair Wiederhoft, the superintendent, and the teaching staff. Between the readings of the Epistle and the Gospel for the 17th Sunday after Trinity the children will sing "How Precious Is the Book Divine." Following the sermon and the offering, the pastor will solicit responsive pledges of faithfulness and diligence from both teachers and pupils.

A congregational potluck dinner will again follow the service. Free ice cream and soft drinks will be served by members of the board of Christian Education.

Weather permitting, outdoor games will be led by the following faculty members: Mrs. Ray Cantrell, nursery; Mrs. Lee Axtens, beginner and primary classes; Mrs. Walter Pachall, junior, intermediate, and senior classes; Jim Weber, junior Bible class; Charles Owens, and Ned Crandall for adults.

On the planning committee for rally day this year were Leroy Budke, chairman, Charles Hutchins, Moran Oppegard, Mrs. Frank Long, board of education, Sunday school superintendent and the pastor.

To Remain

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope John XXIII told visitors at a general audience Saturday he intends to remain at his summer palace a while longer this year because of an unusual heat wave in Rome. The Pope came here from the Vatican July 16. Usually he returns to the Vatican by the last week in September.

County Officials Attend Meet

No meeting of the Howard County Commissioners Court will be held Monday because three members of the court and the county judge are out of the county.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, said that he and Mrs. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Stallings are leaving at noon Sunday for San Antonio to attend the annual meeting of the Texas County Judges and County Commissioners Association.

The only member of the board who did not plan to attend is Joe Hayden.

The meeting will be in progress through Wednesday but the delegation from Howard County plans to come home on Tuesday.

LEGAL NOTICE

INVITATIONAL BID

The City of Big Spring will receive bids until 4:00 p.m., Tuesday, October 10th at the City Hall Building, Big Spring, Texas, for the purchase of five new 1962 model, four door passenger cars. Four used automobiles will be offered for tradein. Specifications and bid requirements will be available at the Office of the Assistant City Manager at the above address, October 2, 1961.

Don't Starve

YOUR CHILD

Rich Mrs. Fairchild loved to entertain lavishly. She set a lovely table for her own family, too.

Imagine her surprise when the doctor said her children suffered from malnutrition. They were undernourished! She was starving them. Of all the nerve! Her children ate all they wanted, even between meals. She wrote the doctor a nasty letter and quit him.

But it was still true. The children were getting food, but not the right kinds of food. Many children are starving that way. Even more children are starved emotionally, by not getting enough love from their parents.

But worst of all is the spiritual starvation! Few children have enough of God's Word in their homes and schools to feed their spiritual needs.

We have a plan that will help guard your children against spiritual starvation. Bring them to our church. Start this Sunday!

If you would like to know more about the teachings of the Christian religion, if you have no church affiliation and are in need of spiritual counsel, please write us.

Four Builders, Pioneer Gas Invite Kentwood Inspection

Four builders in the new Kentwood Addition join with Pioneer Natural Gas Co. today in inviting residents to consider home ownership in that area.

The builders are Cortese-Milch Construction Co., Lloyd F. Curley Construction Co., E. C. Smith Construction Co. and Alex Alexander, builder.

The several concerns point up the advantages of purchasing a home in this new area in a special section of today's Herald. Included are remarks from nine of some 52 families who have already established residence there.

Located on the southeast edge of Big Spring, the promoters call it "just over the hill from downtown." The addition lies at the foot of South Mountain and will eventually be only a minute's drive from the Big Spring Country Club, when a street is completed up the mountain side.

Pointing out the advantages of the Kentwood Addition, the developers point to the conveniences of natural gas as a standard utility in all of their new homes. Modern gas appliances are standard equipment in many of the houses, including central heating, water heater, and built-in range.

Optional are such gas appliances as a refrigerator, incinerator, clothes dryer, bathroom heater, broiler, and yard gas light. Economy added to faster and safer energy are promised in these gas equipped homes.

Gracious, suburban living is invited in Kentwood, which its developers point out, has paved and lighted streets, sewage system, water, gas and electric service. They point out that the Three S's, considered by home buyers as most important, are these: schools, shopping facilities, and social opportunities.

The addition is near the Washington Place elementary school, Goliad Junior High School the high school, and Howard County Junior College. A new site within the addition has already been picked ou tby trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

A Methodist Church is located in the addition, a Church of Christ and a Baptist Church are nearby. The future calls for a shopping center within the addition, and at present, the Eleventh Place Shopping Center is not far away.

The builders offer a variety of residential home construction.

Curley, who has built 900 houses in the last 20 years, has quarry tile entrances in his houses, with cedar shingle roofs, mahogany paneling, exposed beams, ceramic tiel in two baths, three bedrooms, and brick veneer.

Alexander, who has been custom-fitting houses for 13 years, offers four bedrooms, birch cabinets and paneling, glass sliding doors, metal vanities in two bathrooms, and composition roofs in brick veneer homes.

Cortese - Milch offer larger homes with larger bedrooms and two ceramic tiled bathrooms, with mahogany panelled den and large patio in brick veneer with spaciousness as a keynote in three bedrooms.

Smith, who has 600 houses to his credit, separates the master areas, and includes custom touches such as antique ironwork on cabinets, adjoining utility room, engineered trusses, with three bedrooms and two baths in brick veneer.

All four builders offer a wide variety of new residences and each is encouraging residents to inspect the various open houses in the Kentwood Addition today.

The houses can be financed in a variety of ways—FHA, GI, or conventional—the builders will accept trades; property values are expected to go up in this area; and the builders promise quality controlled construction.

The welcome mats are out today for inspection.

ROW Cases May Be Tried During October

Wayne Burns, county attorney, who has been employed on a fee basis by the Howard County Commissioners court to appeal valuations returned on US 87 right of way, would like to try all of the pending cases in October.

The county and the state have appealed the findings of a special commission appointed to fix valuations and damages on seven tracts of land. The State Highway Department protested the findings as excessive and pointed out they were nearly double the offers made by the state to the land owners while the matter was under negotiations.

Appeals will be tried before juries in the Howard County court. The jury will be required to decide if the amounts allocated the owners are excessive, adequate or inadequate.

Burns, who has been engaged at $250 per case to prosecute for the state, feels it would be possible to try at least one of the cases per day.

It is understood that the landowners are as eager to have the matter finally settled as the county and state. They have been paid the sums proposed by the special commissioners but until the matter is finally settled, they do not know if they are to receive more or, perhaps less, money than the checks they now hold.

Jumping The Gun

The 1961 United Fund campaign is already under way at Webb Air Force Base — and the first subscription came from the Base Commander, Col. Wilson H. Banks. Col. Banks, seated, is shown making out a check for Lt. Col. John F. Holt, UF project officer for the Base. Webb's solicitation in the gigantic community undertaking actually will get under way Sept. 30. The military people are saying they'll account for $10,000 — up considerably from last year.

Webb Takes Early Start, Higher Quota

Webb Air Force Base has set its own time-table in its participation in the community's United Fund campaign for this year—and also has set its own generous mark.

The military people at the Base have announced that they can subscribe $10,000—a healthy increase over a year ago.

First formal solicitation will start next Saturday, under general direction of Lt. Col. John F. Holt, project officer for the campaign. Actually, the first contribution already has been made, by Base Commander Col. Wilson H. Banks.

An outstanding example of Webb's close liaison with civilian affairs has been the generous UF contribution every year. Every year, the military people—with civilian workers at the Base—have gone "over the top" on their anticipated estimate.

No formal goal is set, but commanders do hope for 100 per cent cooperation of every unit. When this is accomplished, the estimated gross total is nearly always met and often exceeded.

An estimate of $9,000 was made last year, and was exceeded by $628.

Top Levels Of Government In Texas In Major Shifts

AUSTIN (AP)—The top echelons of Texas government shifted like a kaleidoscope Saturday with not one of the top five state officials serving in his original capacity.

Sen. Bruce Reagan, Corpus Christi, as president pro tempore of the Senate, became governor Saturday afternoon when Gov. Price Daniel left the state.

Daniel will be gone approximately eight days while attending the Southern Governors' Conference in Tennessee and the Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting in Mississippi. He is due back in Texas Oct. 1.

Reagan became second in line for the governor's chair last week when Ben Ramsey quit as lieutenant governor to serve on the Railroad Commission.

The state is without a lieutenant governor until one is elected in the general elections next year. The Texas Constitution does not allow appointment of a lieutenant governor.

Under state law the succession to the governorship is: Lieutenant governor, president pro tempore of the Senate, speaker of the House of Representatives, state attorney general, and then the chief justices of the courts of civil appeals in numerical order of their districts.

Thus Reagan became governor Saturday afternoon; there is no lieutenant governor; Speaker James Turman is second in line for the governorship; and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson also assumes the third spot in line to the chief executive chair.

The Senate will have the choice in the coming special session of leaving Reagan in his post through re-election or of electing another president pro tem for the session and possibly another for the following interim period.

Traditionally, the post is shifted among the senators on the basis of seniority. However, with no lieutenant governor and several of the senators thinking seriously about running for the state's second post, a struggle for president pro tem is not unlikely.

Reagan will have his "governor for a day" celebration Monday in the early part of his eight-day term.

Each president pro tem of the Senate is given one day in which he sits as governor when the governor and lieutenant governor leave or announce they are leaving the state.

The ceremony is nearly always the same, with the temporary governor holding a press conference, signing several proclamations, greeting hometown guests and ending with a banquet.

Reagan is scheduled to receive guests in the governor's office Monday from 9 a.m. to noon and 2 to 4 p.m. His banquet is set for 7:30 p.m.

Moderate Wins Vote

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta, the first major city in the South to integrate its schools peacefully, has nominated a racial moderate to be its next mayor.

The nominee is Ivan Allen Jr., 50, a political novice who defeated segregationist Lester Maddox by a margin of almost 2-1 in Friday's runoff primary. Both men are Democrats.

Victory in the primary, which is conducted on a non-partisan basis, is tantamount to election.

Allen campaigned on a platform of racial cooperation, compliance with federal courts, municipal expansion and economic growth.

"I've been confident all along that the good sense of the majority of the people of Atlanta would back me up," he said. "I'm happy to have the mandate of the people to back up my plans."

Allen is the political heir to outgoing Mayor William B. Hartsfield. In his victory, he put together the same coalition of Negroes and upper-income white voters which maintained Hartsfield in office.

Hartsfield, 70, is retiring after 23 years in office — a record among mayors of major American cities.

Dance Of The Hours Sets New Tempo; DST Goes Out

By The Associated Press

The dance of the hours got swinging this weekend, with various states and communities throughout the nation returning to Standard Time.

Some had done so earlier. Minnesota and various communities in western Kentucky and in the Butte, Montana, area ended Daylight Saving Time on Labor Day. Several other states and communities made the switch at 2 a.m. Sunday morning.

However, most of the 28 states that adopted daylight saving in whole or part earlier this year will take back their deposited hour on the last Sunday of next month, Oct. 29.

All of which puts a simple question like "What time is it?" on a more relative basis than ever.

For instance, California, where many of the nation's television shows originate, is back on Standard Time.

New York, however, where many of the other TV shows originate, won't be going back on standard until Oct. 29. So any shuffling the networks do before then will have to be reshuffled again next month.

Nevada, Washington State and Wisconsin residents also moved back the clock Sunday, as well as residents in various communities in Idaho, New Mexico, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The situation will be a bit confused in Nevada and Pennsylvania. In Nevada, two counties will switch to Mountain Standard Time, which, in effect, keeps them on Pacific Daylight Time the year around. Consequently, the switch in those counties was not on the clock but in the name.

The bulk of Pennsylvania goes off daylight time Oct. 29, while the rural counties made the change Sept. 24.

Other states which adopted DST statewide and are going back to Standard Time at the end of next month are Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Also slated to return to standard at that time is the nation's capital and St. Louis, the only Missouri city to go on daylight time in the first place.

Additionally, there will be scattered communities in Iowa, Indiana, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia going back to normal time on the last Sunday of next month.

States that will have no clock-setting problem because they never went on daylight time to begin with are Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Hawaii, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Wyoming.

Alaska, of course, situated on the top of the world and with more summer daylight than it can use, never even considered switching to DST. So, in the absence of a Darkness Saving Time, the state stayed on standard all summer long.

The only area in Florida which has been on daylight time is Eglin Air Force Base.

Phinney Named Guard Chief

AUSTIN (AP) — Maj. Gen. Carl L. Phinney has been named commanding general of the Texas National Guard by Gov. Price Daniel.

Daniel also announced Phinney's promotion to lieutenant general.

The governor announced the appointment of Brig. Gen. Everett S. Simpson of Amarillo to command the 46th Infantry Division, succeeding Phinney. Simpson has been assistant division commander of the 36th since February 1960.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, Assistant Adjutant General of Texas and for seven years chief of staff of the 36th, will be assigned as assistant division commander, Daniel said. Bishop will continue as assistant adjutant general.

State Adjutant General James E. Taylor was not affected by the shuffle among the top echelons of the State National Guard.

The post of commanding general of the Texas Guard has been vacant since 1957, when Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson resigned.

Planning For Freedom Seminar

Ralph McLaughlin, left, president of Big Spring Rotary Club, Rev. H. DeWitt Seago, Rotarian and pastor of First Methodist Church, James Cape, seminar chairman, and W. P. Strube Jr., director, get ready to open the all-day Freedom Seminar at the city auditorium Saturday morning. The seminar, sponsored by the Rotary Club, was held to acquaint people with the menace of Communism, and how to combat it.

Freedom Seminar Attracts Several Hundred Saturday

The Freedom Seminar held at the city auditorium Saturday, with several hundred persons attending each session, gave a picture of Communism working toward world domination and how to stop it in the United States.

W. P. Strube Jr., of Houston, conducted the session which began at 9 a.m. and ran throughout the day until 7:30 p.m. Many people attended one-hour sessions while others came for the whole day. The seminar was sponsored by the Big Spring Rotary Club through the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade of Houston.

Strube told his listeners that the nations taken over by Communism had been taken without shots being fired.

"When we hear some of our own Americans say that 'It is far better to be Red than be dead,' it makes us wonder how they compare with the once-popular saying about the time the United States began fighting for Freedom: 'Give me liberty, or give me death!'," he said.

"It is some of the supposedly well educated people who are in danger of selling our freedom by saying that Communism, Freedom and religion, are coexisting in some countries.

"They believe it," he said, "but they have made no effort to get the facts about what Communism really means."

Strube went through the whole process, during the day, of showing the meaning of Communism, how it has worked, and the plans for world domination, including the United States, by 1973.

Liberty Cited In Tower Talk

AUSTIN (AP)—Preservation of liberty, necessary to maintain our present society, should be our greatest concern, Sen. John Tower said Saturday night in a banquet speech concluding the first interfraternity workshop at the University of Texas.

The Texas Republican senator said "the substance of liberty is freedom of choice. Freedom of choice should be limited by laws and regulations only to the extent necessary to preserve order in the society, protect the rights of others, and promote the safety of the nation."

Tower said college life should serve not only to develop and stimulate intellectual growth, but should "also encourage freedom, the exercise of good judgement, self discipline, and freedom of association. Fraternities and sororities can and should play a vital role in the fulfillment of all these functions."

Mohammed Film Creates Furor

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A religious furor has blown up over reports that an Italian film firm is furtively making a movie about Mohammed. Italian movie men and diplomats denied any such movie was in the works.

"They cannot fool us," cried Ayatullah Behbehani elderly head of the Islamic faith in Iran.

In Iran, where a foreigner can get stoned for taking a snapshot of a mosque, Moslems regard as a sacrilege any statue or picture of the prophet who founded Islam 1,300 years ago.

In Rome, major Italian film studios said they knew of no plans for such a movie. A spokesman at the cultural office of the Iranian Embassy in Rome said he had neither heard about the picture nor received any instructions from Tehran about it.

TV Responds To Minow Plea

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's three major television networks have responded favorably to the proposal by Newton W. Minow, Federal Communications Commission chairman, that they improve children's programs on a share-the-risk basis.

In a speech to broadcasters Friday, Minow urged that the networks rotate a regularly scheduled afternoon show for children, with each network presenting the program twice a week.

Robert E. Kintner, NBC president, said in a statement that his network "is wholeheartedly in favor of all practicable steps to expand and improve quality programming which contributes to the development of the nation's youth."

Frank Stanton, president of CBS, said CBS will give "serious consideration to this recommendation and looks forward to discussion with the other networks."

Leonard H. Goldenson, president of ABC-Paramount Theaters, Inc., said: "We fully support the concept of more creative children's programming. We will give serious consideration to the proposal."

Titan Is Success

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A Titan missile fired from here Saturday dropped its mock warhead "in the general area downrange" 4,500 miles away near Wake Island, the Air Force said Saturday night.

The Titan—a 97-foot, 110-ton monster—is this country's mightiest missile. It was fired from here at 12:36 p.m.

It was the first firing of a combat-type Titan from what is called an armored combat launch site—where the missile rises from an underground silo and then is fired toward its target.

Details of the exact distance covered wasn't given. Said the Air Force: "Preliminary telemetery reports indicate the re-entry vehicle impacted in the general target area downrange."

The Air Force spokesman added: "We're extremely happy with the entire test, this being the first Titan launched from an operational-type facility."

Mrs. B. J. Steven, Fort Worth, was named president of the Texas Municipal Police Wives Association. Delegates voted to hold next year's convention in El Paso.

Other new officers of the TMPA include Dayton Murray, El Paso, first vice president, and Gerald Byrd of Sweetwater, second vice president.

City Officials Seek Higher Water Rates From Hospital

An effort will be made in Austin Monday to negotiate a new water contract between the City of Big Spring and the State Hospital.

Commissioner George Zachariah, City Manager A. K. Steinheimer, and City Attorney John Burgess, will appear at 10 a.m. Monday before a meeting of the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools to present reasons for an increased rate to be paid by the hospital for water.

A contract drawn in 1937 set a rate of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons of water, with no escalator clause, to be paid by the hospital through the life of the contract. This same contract said that the City of Big Spring would furnish a maximum of 210 gallons per minute to the hospital. The city has furnished that much and more water, according to city records brought before a special meeting of the city commission Thursday night.

A review of costs to the City of Big Spring for furnishing treated water over a year's time, with figures broken down for each month, showed that cost to be over 40 cents per 1,000 gallons.

A request from the state hospital was made in 1959 to the city for an increase from 210 gallons per minute to 750 gallons. This amount was more than the contract called for and a request for an increase in water rates was made by the city. Consequently a resolution was passed by the last session of the state legislature stating that a new contract could be negotiated. The attorney general ruled that a new contract could be negotiated if it contained "new and adequate considerations" for the hospital.

The lines for providing more water to the hospital were included in the $4.3 million bond issue for capital improvements for Big Spring.

Still an additional line, which would make 750 gallons per minute available to the hospital, was authorized by the city commission when the state requested relaying water lines to widen US 87 north.

Attorney John Burgess, in preparing a brief to the hospital board, pointed out that the "new and adequate consideration" for a new contract would include the expenditure of $80,000 for a new line, building a new elevated storage tank north of the present tank at a cost of $225,000 for the tank and connections, and the acquisition of Lake J. B. Thomas and proposal to build a second reservoir in the foreseeable future.

The city commission agreed at the Thursday night meeting that, unless an equitable rate could be negotiated for furnishing treated water for the hospital, it would not be possible to construct the new lines and provide more water.

Burgess also pointed out that the 10-cent rate being paid by the hospital was in direct violation of laws requiring equitable and nondiscriminatory rates under bond programs, and that the hospital is a state institution operating under the same state laws under which the attorney general approved the bonds for Big Spring's capital improvement program.

Texas GOP May Put Hopes On Party Switching Art

AUSTIN (AP)—Whether Texas remains a two-party state depends to a great extent on the fine art of political party switching.

Look for this to be the principal discussion at the Oct. 2 meeting in Dallas of the State Republican Executive Committee.

Texas Republican leaders right now are hilariously happy over recent bolts from Democratic groups in Fort Worth, Harlingen and Littlefield.

"We are looking for a lot more switches," said James A. Leonard, Houston, the new executive director of the state GOP. "We know of three more places where switches are working now. One of them is almost to the point of announcing."

Principal speaker at the GOP sessions will be the state's No. 1 bolter — Jack Cox, 39, Breckenridge oil man who made a surprisingly strong race last year against Gov. Price Daniel in the Democratic Party Primary.

Cox publicly switched to the Republican party a few weeks ago and is considered a potential GOP candidate for governor in 1962. His reception in Dallas may make the decision.

State GOP leaders will begin their biggest pitch ever to Texans who want to take an active part in politics. The switches at Harlingen and Fort Worth were accompanied by sharp denunciations of present Democratic party leaders and politics.

"We intend to participate actively in the Republican party because we feel that as conservative Democrats our support of the Democratic party is taken for granted and, consequently, our conservative philosophy is completely ignored in the formulation of party policies and the selection of candidates," said the Harlingen announcement.

State GOP chairman Tad Smith, El Paso, said the Dallas meeting will make plans to put every Republican in the state — admitted or unadmitted — to work in the 1962 political campaigns.

"We are going right to the people — right to the grass roots level — and get every conservative, every Republican, on the poll tax list," Smith said. "The election of (Sen.) John Tower has proved that we have the capability to get these people to the polls."

Texas' only two GOP congressmen — Tower and Rep. Bruce Alger, Dallas — will attend the Dallas meeting.

There will be a mass meeting in Fort Worth the night of Oct. 2 at which the bolting Democrats will publicly pledge allegiance to the Republican party.

"The original Fort Worth announcement was made by about 100 conservatives but it has been spreading and we may have as many as 500," Leonard said.

The Harlingen switch consisted of about 150 persons and more than 100 made the announcement at Littlefield. Leonard said one group expected to switch soon would affect about 250 persons in a rural area.

Red Actions Up In Iraq, S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—It was a bad week in South Viet Nam's war against Communist Viet Cong rebels and almost everybody here agrees it will probably get much worse before it gets better.

While world attention has been centered largely on Berlin the Congo and United Nations crisis, the Communists have started mounting major efforts. Some diplomats suggest developments here are part of a worldwide Red plan.

Viet Cong rebels from Communist North Viet Nam have started infiltrating from neighboring Laos in large regular fighting units, not just in small bands, well-informed sources say.

The Viet Cong has started attacking with major units, sometimes two battalions or more, in a rash of incidents around the country.

Most dramatic was the predawn attack Monday when rebel forces overran and burned the fortress housing the capital buildings of Phuoc Thanh Province, about 60 miles north of Saigon. The provincial chief and military commander and his aides were beheaded and more than 70 civil guardsmen killed as the rebels ran wild, freeing 270 prisoners, before fading into the nearby jungles.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The revolution among Kurdish tribes in northern Iraq was described by an informed source here Saturday as a more serious issue for Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's Iraqi government than was the Kuwait crisis.

Baghdad has blacked out most news on the revolt by turbanned tribesmen, but some sketchy reports reach here from travelers in the mountainous Iraq-Iran border area. Accurate accounts of casualties and the extent of the fighting are still lacking.

The source said traditional warfare between the mountain tribes broke out in July along the Zab River, but ended this month when Kurds united and turned their rifles against government troops.

Government troops evidently have firm hold of those regions and other major towns, while mountain warriors control surrounding hills and villages. The Iraqi Embassy here calls the fighting an "imperialist insurrection."

The fighting is led by Mullah Mustafa Barzani, an expert in guerrilla warfare who spent 12 years in exile in the Soviet Union.

Barzani, head of a tribe that bears his name, became a general in the Soviet army. He returned to Iraq with 800 armed followers after the revolution of 1958.

News Roundup

DETROIT (AP) — Top leadership of the United Auto Workers Union strove Saturday to work out agreements at the last 15 strike-bound General Motors plants before a UAW International Executive Board meeting.

GM and the UAW earlier reached agreement on terms of the national contract covering 350,000 GM production workers, but ran into troubles trying to settle local plant problems.

Some 110 of GM's 129 plants across the nation had settled Saturday. Negotiators sought to wind up the remaining units.

The UAW board had urged its local units to speed settlements so plants could return to normal operating conditions across the nation—possibly by the middle of next week.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, expressed complete sympathy with the problems of his GM locals still on strike, but he made no secret of his desire that his unionists should go all out to reach local agreements quickly.

Reuther worked out a plan to bring leaders of his striking locals to Detroit where they could air their problems with representatives of top GM management, with representatives of the UAW international headquarters sitting in on the talks.

While the continuing strikes at the GM locals occupied the main attention of the union leadership, the leaders of the Ford-UAW department were pressing for authorization to call a strike of 120,000 Ford workers if contract talks do not make progress next week.

Ken Bannon, national director of the UAW Ford section, said: "We intend to better the economic package won at GM. We will try to do better at Ford. In other words, we want to put the frosting on the cake this year at Ford."

Bannon said if the board grants him strike sanction, he will give Ford "a reasonable time to demonstrate its good faith in bargaining on a new contract."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union was reported Saturday to have proposed a meeting of Big Four diplomats to discuss the question of temporary U.N. leadership to replace the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Diplomatic sources said Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin had given the proposal to a middle-of-the-road intermediary for relay to U.N. Ambassadors Adlai E. Stevenson of the United States, Sir Patrick Dean of Britain and Armand Berard of France.

But they said that in making it, Zorin stated that the temporary leadership of the U.N. Secretariat should be of a troika consisting of U.N. Under Secretaries Ralph J. Bunche of the United States, Georgy P. Arkadev of the Soviet Union and Chakravarthi V. Narasimhan of India.

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas retail sales climbed 7 per cent in August, with the new state sales tax getting much of the credit, the University of Texas Bureau of Business said Saturday.

The bureau's monthly report, written by statistician Francis B. May, said "this brisk rise contrasts very favorably with the 2 per cent decline in sales registered in July."

"A major factor contributing to the rise in sales was the impending state sales tax, effective Sept. 1, 1961," May said. "Sales in this category of stores rose 23 per cent in August. The usual seasonal rise for this group of stores is 1 per cent in August."

The Big Spring State Hospital has a new chaplain, the Rev. Max Maguire. He succeeds the Rev. Don Hungerford, who has been filling in since the Rev. Marvin Berkeland, first and only fulltime chaplain, left several months ago. Another development on the ministeral front came with word that the Rev. Robert F. Polk had resigned as pastor at Central Baptist in Bryan to become the First Baptist minister here on Oct. 15.

When it comes to recruiters, Oscar Glickman and Jeff Brown stand right at the top of the heap. During the past three months, they have each enlisted 50 new members in the Chamber of Commerce—a great record, and, we trust, a great service.

Howard County has a new county agent to succeed Jimmy Taylor. He is Herb Helbig, now of Littlefield and a native of Uvalde. He was uncertain about when he could report because Mrs. Helbig was expecting their second child. That question was resolved before he returned home Monday from an interview with the commissioners court here. The baby had arrived.

Panhandle Under Storm Warning

By The Associated Press

Scattered severe thunderstorms with large hail and damaging winds were forecast Saturday for portions of the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles.

The forecast, which had been originally scheduled to end at 8 p.m., was later extended until 11 p.m.

The area involved was along a 120-mile wide area centering on a line from 40 miles southwest of Gage, Okla., to Chanute, Kan., and covered the extreme east portion of the Texas Panhandle.

No rain fell in Texas during the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Saturday. The high temperature was 101 at Presidio and the low maximum was 84 at Dalhart.

A cool front that was stationary across the Texas Panhandle retreated northward out of the state.

Partly cloudy and warm weather was expected to continue through Sunday with a few daytime showers near the coast.

Wind warning flags were displayed on North Central Texas lakes.

Mother On Trial For Murder Of Her 3 Children

ATHENS, Greece (AP) —The trial of a U. S. Air Force sergeant's wife accused of murdering her children opened in a Greek court Saturday.

Joanne Baker, 28, from Stockdale, Tex., is charged with strangling her three children, Kathy, 2, Susan, 5, and Joel, 8, during the night of May 27, 1961, in an Athens suburb.

Her husband, M. Sgt. Joel Baker, 31, China Grove, N. C., who was stationed at Athens Air Base, discovered Mrs. Baker with her throat cut and the children dead in their beds on May 28.

Mrs. Baker looked pale and depressed.

Sgt. Baker gave his account of a relationship with a Greek telephone operator.

Baker broke down when he described finding the children, weeping and sobbing, "my babies, my babies."

Baker was accused by his wife in a note that was found after her attempted suicide, of having an affair with the air base telephone operator. He denied any intimacy with the operator, saying: "I was only taking Greek lessons from her."

U. S. Air Force Maj. Manuel Protos, head of the investigation department at Athens Air Base, said Mrs. Baker admitted strangling her children. At the time of the questioning, Protos said Mrs. Baker did not appear well and some of her answers were incoherent.

If convicted, Mrs. Baker can be given a maximum penalty of 25 years imprisonment.

Stock Market Takes Sharp Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Ignoring good news, the stock market last week took its sharpest loss in three months.

The decline seemed baffling to some, in view of an expected pickup in business and profits, but it was in line with the thinking of some of the stock market technicians.

These experts have repeatedly been pointing out the declining ratio of gains to losses, even while market averages have advanced, due to gains by "pivotal" blue chips. They have also warned of the imminence of tax-loss selling in a wide range of issues.

Church Seeks Largest Merger In U. S. History

DETROIT (AP) — Episcopalians gave a go-ahead Saturday to a quest for the most sweeping reunion of churches in American history.

Lay and clerical delegates to the Episcopal governing convention joined bishops in approving talks seeking merger with at least four other denominations of various backgrounds and characteristics.

"Reunion will take a long time," said Howard T. Foulkes, of Milwaukee. "Yet under the guidance of the Holy Spirit it will ultimately come because it is the will of Our Lord and Master."

The measure winning Episcopal approval calls for joining United Presbyterians in asking Methodists, the United Church of Christ, the Polish National Catholic Church, and possibly others to take part in merger talks.

In passing the resolution by an overwhelming 139-18 majority, the House of Deputies added a slight amendment to a measure previously passed unanimously by the House of Bishops. Technically, the bishops will have to act again.

However, the bishop of South Florida, the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, of Winter Park, said there remains no question that both houses are "in favor of entering these conversations."

The amendment specified that the talks be on the basis of the Chicago and Lambeth "quadrilaterals." Bishops had specified only the Lambeth quadrilateral. Both, in general, set these essentials for a united church:

1. The Bible as the "revealed word of God" and rule of faith.
2. Acceptance of the ancient Apostles and Nicene creeds as confessions of belief.
3. Use of the two sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper, ministered with "unfailing use" of Christ's words in instituting them.
4. A ministry acknowledged by every part of the church as possessing not only the "inward call of the spirit, but also the commission of Christ," as carried on through the historic Episcopal succession.

Survivor Follows Dag Into Death

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — The sole survivor of the plane crash that killed Dag Hammarskjold died Saturday, ending investigators' hopes that he could supply a first-hand account of the tragedy.

Harold (Harry) M. Julien, an American U.N. security guard, died in an Ndola hospital. He had suffered multiple injuries and severe burns in Monday's crash. His death raised the toll to 16.

A short time after Julien died, the Rhodesian Federation's director of civil aviation, Lt. Col. Maurice Barber, issued a statement clearly intended to counter speculation that the plane had been shot down.

He confirmed that bullets had been found in the body of one of the guards aboard the plane but that they had been exploded by the fire that followed the crash, not by weapons.

Steady But Thin

CHICAGO (AP) — A fairly steady but thin demand held the grain futures market on a generally firm trend last week and most contracts finished with moderate gains.

U.N. Chief Blames Katanga Whites For Major Troubles

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Lt. Gen. Sean McKeown claimed his U.N. troops now have the Katanga situation completely under control. He blamed white residents of Elisabethville for much of the hostile activity now stemmed by a cease-fire.

The Irish chief of the U.N. Congo Command told newsmen Saturday the U.N. forces were never in danger of defeat in their eight-day battle against President Moise Tshombe's army, and he believes the operation has been successful up to the present.

"We still have what we started with—four intact battalions with armor," McKeown said.

His greatest single loss was an Irish company of 155 men captured by Katangans at Jadotville. The general looked tired and drawn. Several times he passed a hand wearily over his eyes.

"There is no doubt there was a violation of the local cease-fire concluded between the Irish commander and the local Katanga officer," McKeown said. "The Irish were led into some trick or trap, but we have few details of what actually happened."

Speaking of stories that Indian U.N. troops committed atrocities, the general said emphatically: "I can flatly deny charges of Indian brutality. They displayed the finest discipline in very difficult and aggravating conditions."

A U.N. spokesman announced that the cease-fire that was ordered Wednesday midnight was being observed almost everywhere. But in Elisabethville, the capital, there was still sniping around the edge of U.N. camps housing 30,000 or more Baluba refugees. The spokesmen said U.N. troops, withholding their own fire, had been ordered to put a stop to the shooting.

He admitted that the one form of attack which the United Nations could not cope with in Katanga was the bombing and strafing by Tshombe's two-jet air force.

The general said nearly every white person living in Elisabethville was armed and nearly all were against the United Nations.

"Every white was a source of information on the movement of U.N. troops and this greatly embarrassed our activities," he said.

Among those arrested on suspicion of passing information to the Katangese were two white priests found with maps under their robes, it was reported. The priests were questioned and released.

New Supervisor Election Slated

Notices of a supervisor's election to be held at Gay Hill School Oct. 3 at 8 p.m. have been posted by Jack Buchanan, chairman of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

The election of a supervisor in Zone 3 has been ordered by the State Soil Conservation Board.

Buchanan has been supervisor in Zone 3 for the past five years. His successor, or Buchanan if he is re-elected, will be chosen by majority vote after nominations are made from the floor at the meeting.

Only landowners whose farms lie in the zone are eligible to vote. Zone 3 is the eastern portion of Howard County including all territory east of the Vealmoor-Big Spring road and US 87.

Buchanan urges all landowners to be present to vote for the person they believe will best serve their interests in soil and water conservation activities.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the kind friends, neighbors and relatives for expressions of sympathy, beautiful flowers, food, and other courtesies extended to us during the illness and death of our husband and father. We especially want to thank those who sat at the hospital and helped in any way.

Miss Clooney Asks Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—After eight years of marriage and five children, the marriage of actor Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney has reached the stage she describes as "termination."

She filed suit for divorce Friday, charging extreme cruelty but declining — at this time—to give details.

She said they separated Aug. 7. But the word caught Hollywood by surprise. Ferrer has been in Dallas, directing a new film version of "State Fair."

What caused the split? Neither wanted to explain.

At Dallas, Ferrer snapped: "no comment." In Hollywood, Miss Clooney told a newsman: "Joe and I have a difference of opinion as to a way of life. And for the children's sake, we feel it is best to terminate the marriage."

She wouldn't elaborate. But she confirmed a statement made earlier by her attorney: that the rift had begun about two years ago.

The Ferrer marriage was considered one of Hollywood's so-called "ideal" marriages. They seemed well matched. Both were successful—he won an Oscar for the lead in "Cyrano de Bergerac," she had million-sales records to her credit.

When the divorce suit was filed she described Ferrer's net worth in excess of $2 million.

The Kentucky-born blonde is now 33, Ferrer 49. Their children's ages: Muguel 6, Maris 5, Gabrielle 4, Monsita 3 and Raphael 1.

After the birth of Monsita Miss Clooney told an interviewer:

"I want all the children I can have. When Joe and I were first married, I thought six would be a nice round number. But golly, now I realize I only have two more to go—and that isn't enough."

Highway Dept. Takes Road Bids

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department has tabulated low bids totalling $18,652,067 on 268 miles of highway construction and improvements.

A total of $9,354,124 in low bids were taken in the second day of lettings Friday.

Low bids Friday included:

Winkler — Texas 302, structures and bridge approaches, at intersection of Highway 302 and Bellaire Road in Kermit, Jones Brothers Dirt and Paving Contractors Inc., Odessa, $25,235.

Steelmen Refuse Price Level Plea

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Major U. S. Steel producers have given President Kennedy a unanimous "no" to his request for a pledge to hold the steel price line.

They didn't say they would boost prices, but most disputed his contention that they could absorb a coming increase in wage payments and still record ample profits.

Goliad Students Enter Contest, Sell Ribbons

By ROXANNE BOLTE

It's too bad that the students of Goliad don't have their pictures taken every day for the annual. Everyone turned up looking like Miss America or Beau Brummel this past week. Everywhere you looked you saw well dressed students.

Goliad has several entries in the "What America Means To Me" essay contest sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and Webb AFB. Three girls and three boys with the best essay will be chosen first, second, and third place winners. Runnels and Goliad are the only two schools competing in the contest. The essay has a 425 work maximum and prizes will be awarded.

Practice started this week for the Kick, Pass and Punt Contest sponsored by Goliad. Any boy from Goliad's seventh, eighth, or ninth grade may enter, excluding football players. The boy who can kick, pass, and punt the best from his grade level will be selected and medals will be awarded.

In Thursday's hard - fought game at the Steer Stadium, Goliad's ninth grade was defeated by Snyder Travis, 20-8. Goliad's touchdown was made by Ricky Earle. Eighth grade Mavericks playing in Snyder lost their game 8-2. Snyder scored their touchdown in the last thirty seconds of the game. Also playing here was our seventh grade team which lost to Snyder Travis 38-12. Goliad's touchdowns were made by Jerry Cook and Paul Waggoner.

This month the Home Economics girls are going to have the first sale of game ribbons for this year. The ribbon depicts a catchy slogan and a cartoon sketch of the rival team's mascot. The girls planned their trip to the District Meet in Big Lake Tuesday and Wednesday. The meet is to take place October 7.

Mr. Jess Blair, science teacher at Goliad, who did such a fine job sponsoring Goliad's newspaper, THE TUMBLEWEEK, last year has agreed to help out this year too. We are very grateful to Mr. Blair for his time and co-operation. At various times he has written for THE BIG SPRING HERALD.

Goliad will continue its National Junior Honor Society this year. Sponsors for the society are Lee J. Freeze and Mrs. Jeanne Grant.

Student office workers for this year have been selected. Workers from seventh, eighth, and ninth grades help during their study hall period.

Goliad's Curtain Club was organized this week. Its sponsor, Dan Shockey, is the speech teacher for Goliad.

Band class representatives were elected this week. Ninth grade representatives are Penny Frazier and Mike Ballard. Eighth grade electees are Kay Bettle and Wayne McChristian.

If you lose your fountain pen, notebook, purse, or more likely your mind, contact either Cecilia Pachall or Jean Watson who are in charge of the Lost and Found Department at Goliad.

Unlisted Numbers Called A Hindrance

By JOE BEYER

An unlisted telephone is often an asset, but for most purposes it is more often a hindrance, according to Byron M. Alexander, manager of the local Southwestern Bell Telephone office.

There were 8,491 telephones in Big Spring at the end of July and only 417 were non-published. Even though less than one-half of one per cent are unlisted, the telephone company personnel try to discourage increasing the number.

"We feel that we cannot give the best service to a customer if the number is unlisted," Alexander said.

"There are, of course, many legitimate reasons for having an unlisted number, but most people find them discouraging rather than an asset," Alexander said.

Businesses often have an unlisted number in addition to those numbers which they publish. This gives them a free telephone at all times for outgoing calls.

Other instances where it is helpful are where a person may be pestered by cranks, salesmen, or if the person is a day sleeper.

"It is easy enough for a business to get an unpublished number, but we screen all residential applicants closely," Alexander said.

All pay telephones are unlisted numbers. Semi-public phones, where a firm has a pay phone with an extension for private use, may be listed, but purely pay telephone numbers are not given out to customers.

An unlisted number often places a hardship on the subscriber because friends and relatives may not have the number and may have urgent reasons for completing the call.

Often the number does not remain private because an acquaintance or some member of the family passes it around indiscriminately.

Many problems are encountered by operators. Information operators do not have the numbers and as far as they are concerned, such persons do not have a telephone. All non-published numbers are in a special book and only the chief operator has access to it.

In emergencies the chief operator may dial the unlisted number to see if the person wishes to accept the call, but the number is not divulged under any circumstances.

"We once had a man who kept forgetting his unlisted number," according to Mrs. Bertha Morton, chief operator. "I do not know if he ever learned it or had it published."

Reader Takes Dim View Of Radar Device Ads

To the Editor:

This (an advertisement for a device to warn drivers when they are entering a radar zone) makes me think of the woman who bought a cosmetic preparation to feed the pores of her skin. Then, of course, that called for a preparation to help reduce the pores. Why do we have radar? So that the company, Radar Gard, can make a fast buck?

Every year at this time, business people, parents and police work closely together to promote safe driving to protect our school children. There are slogans and ads all over—radio, TV and newspapers urging us to help protect "strict law enforcement." I just don't see how you could have accepted an ad like this.

I feel that you are helping this company to help promote delinquency, both adult and juvenile, and are appealing to all those people who live by the 11th commandment: "Thou shalt not get caught."

I am not a crank; this is the first mean letter I ever wrote, but I felt I had to write. I reread this ad several times hoping I had misunderstood. I just couldn't believe the Herald would print such a thing.

To the Editor:

A short time back Bob Whipkey warned housewives about magazine peddlers. Well, they are just a drop in the bucket to some others. Take (some out-of-town) hearing aid man, a slick tongued salesman. Special consultants, they claim to be. Well, they sold me one guaranteed not for a year but for life—with a promise to be here every week so I could have service. After I got this thing paid out (several hundred dollars), they haven't shown up since. I have written five times in four months and they haven't even answered my letters.

Small Church Wins Award Second Time

DALLAS — Conducting a community survey and aiding in construction of a recreational area for their community helped the Greenwood Baptist Church earn the district award in the 1961 Texas Baptist Church Achievement Program.

The 189-member church located near Midland in Dist. No. 8 of the Baptist General Convention of Texas received the highest district award for the second consecutive year.

Members sponsored 44 projects during the year in an effort to build "a better church, a better community, and a better world."

Runners-up in the district judging were the Knott Mexican Baptist Mission and the First Baptist Church of Westbrook.

As the representative of Dist. No. 8, the Greenwood Church will be honored with its pastor during the annual Baptist General Convention of Texas meeting in Austin Nov. 7-9. A total of 669 churches across the state entered the program this year.

The district's 12-county area extends from Yoakum County on the north to Midland County on the south, and from Mitchell County on the east to the western borders of the state. It has 140 churches, 26 missions, 62,673 members.

Some of the projects carried out by the Greenwood congregation to help build a better church include building eight new Sunday School rooms, a kitchen and a nursery. They sent youngsters from the church to summer encampments, built the church a cabin at the encampment and helped landscape the camp grounds.

In the area of "a better world," among other projects, the church helped a Negro church with gifts of literature and clothing, substantially raised their gifts to the Southern Baptist Cooperative Program of support for world missions, increased by 63 per cent their gifts to the Annie Armstrong offering for home missions and gave $616 to the Lottie Moon offering for foreign missions.

Read Hails Conservatism

David Read, state representative from this area, told members of the American Business Club at their luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel that there was a definite trend toward conservatism and away from liberalism in this nation.

"I am a conservative and always have been," Read stated, "and my voting record in Austin proves it."

He said the only element that could actually create jobs for the working man was "business" and that the government should be discouraged from competing with business.

Read said the U. S. was remiss in its obligations in not helping the anti-Castro elements in Cuba and a similar fiasco was shaping up in Brazil.

Garner McAdams, president of the club, said that a board of governors' meeting would be held at his home starting at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Club members voted to have a Christmas party through a show of hands but did not set the date.

C. J. Parsons was given his credentials as a new member.

The first week's count in the attendance contest being staged within the club showed the Jim Lewis group ahead, with 19 points; followed by Tom Conway's forces, with 18; Roy Reeder, 14; and Elmo Phillips, 13. The contest extends for 12 weeks.

Guests present included Milton Carver, Tom Ivey, Charles Carter and Bill Mancill.

Tucker Counts

Jerry Tucker (15), Big Spring quarterback, is shown going in for two vital extra points in the above picture. Joe Robinson (50) made a futile job of trying to stop him. Big Spring won the game, 22-6, and Tucker played a major role in the win.

Sophomore Leads Huskers To Win

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska's Cornhuskers, drawing heavily on the versatility of sophomore quarterback Dennis Claridge, tomahawked the Sioux of North Dakota U. 33-0 Saturday in Nebraska's football opener before 22,000.

Claridge field-marshaled Nebraska to three of its touchdowns, loosened North Dakota defenses with effective passes and ran and kicked when the occasion demanded.

North Dakota, 46-0 winner over Montana State, but undermanned for Big Eight competition, never threatened.

Rice Claws Bengals; TCU Edges Kansas

HOUSTON (AP) — Billy Cox threw two touchdown passes Saturday night as Rice University opened its Golden anniversary season of football by defeating Louisiana State, 16-3, before an overflow crowd of 73,000.

Cox, a 193-pound junior from suburban Galena Park, passed four yards to Johnny Burrelt in the second peroid and iced the defensive battle away by passing 47 yards in the fourth to Roland Jackson.

LSU, ranked fifth in the preseason Associated Press Poll, was held to one first down and a net offense of 30 yards in the first half but moved 61 yards from the second half kickoff to set up a 25-yard field goal by Wendell Harris.

A 25-yard run by Randall Kerbow sparked a late Rice drive that permitted Butch Blume to kick a 27-yard field goal.

Otherwise Rice penetrated no deeper than the LSU 40 and the Tigers got no deeper than the Rice 32.

The first Rice touchdown drive began after Jerry Stovall was rushed on a quick kick and the ball went out of bounds at the LSU 40. The second touchdown came on the first play after Rice covered Stovall's fumble at the LSU 47.

FORT WORTH (AP) — Jerry Spearman, a cool junior halfback, kicked a 36-yard field goal in the fading minutes of the game Saturday night to give Texas Christian University a startling 17-16 upset over Kansas' nationally ranked Jayhawkers.

The underdog Frogs, under the masterful guidance of Sonny Gibbs, pushed across 10 points in the fourth quarter to nail the lead and then held the penalty-ridden Jayhawkers the final four and a half minutes.

TCU nearly threw the game away with less than three minutes left when a Frog inadvertently touched the ball after a Kansas punt. Kansas recovered at the 29 but could do little but lose ground in four desperate attempts to score.

Gibbs, the mighty 6-7, 230-pound quarterback, actually was the hero of the game. He scored once from the 4 and then brought the Frogs back into the game with a 24-yard touchdown toss to Roy Dent in the fourth quarter.

Jimmy McAteer converted after both TCU touchdowns.

Kansas, with John Hadl pulling the string, drew first bloos in the first quarter with halfback Lee Flachsbarth plowing in from the 1 for the touchdown.

Gibbs' four-yard tied it up and then Elvin Basham connected on a 30-yard field goal to put Kansas back out front. The Jayhawkers climaxed their scoring in the third period when Hadl dashed in from the 2.

Basham converted after the first td and his second attempt also was true but a penalty wiped it out. His second try from the 25 was short.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's Rebels unveiled another potent football machine Saturday, smashing touted Arkansas 16-0 with a display of talent and poise.

Coach John Vaught's 1961 Rebels took up where their predecessors left off with a brilliant mixture of runs, passing and defensive aggressiveness. Quarterback Doug Elmore, successor to the departed all-America Jake Gibbs, handled the team with confidence and it responded from the start.

Elmore directed the Rebels to a touchdown with a 68-yard drive following the opening kickoff, then came back in the second quarter to engineer a relentless attack to the four for a successful field goal.

The final Mississippi touchdown came on another Elmore inspired drive in the third period covering 80 yards.

Arkansas, either over-rated or facing a better Rebel team than expected, had little opportunity to show any offense. Its line was outcharged and its backs outmaneuvered during the most of the affair.

The game, televised nationally by ABC, was the first in the new Mississippi Memorial Stadium and drew a capacity crowd of 46,000.

Elmore used only six plays to take the Rebels to their first touchdown. Fullback Billy Ray Adams and halfback Louis Guy alternated with Elmore in an effective ground attack that went to the 35 from where Elmore pitched a strike to end Woody Dabbs for the score.

Halfback Art Doty joined the trio in the second quarter march from the Rebels 25 to the Razorback four. End Wes Sullivan dropped back and booted a 22-yard field goal.

The top Rebel backfield replaced substitutes for the third period march which all but bowled the Arkansas defenders out of the game. At one stage, the Rebels made four first downs in seven plays with Guy, Doty, Elmore and Adams sharing offensive duties. Doty smashed the final two yards for the score. Sullivan, trying for his second conversion, got no chance with a bad snap from center.

Dogies Upend Ponies, 20-0

SWEETWATER—The Big Spring B team won its third straight football game here Saturday night, knocking Sweetwater's reserves, 20-0.

Eddie Nelson took a pass from Rickey Peters and went eight yards for the first score of the game. The drive went 65 yards and occurred in the first quarter.

The game rocked along until the third, when John Nichols counted on a 20-yard end sweep.

The Dogies failed to convert after either of their first two touchdowns but they added a third six-pointer in the fourth when Nelson intercepted a Pony aerial and zipped 60 yards across the double stripes.

Peters then sprinted toward the sideline and passed to Nelson for the two extra points.

Sweetwater maneuvered as far as Big Spring's eight late in the game but the Dogies dug in to hold.

Jimmy Nipp blocked a Sweetwater punt and Kenny Chrane fell on it to set up Big Spring's second touchdown.

Nipp, the left linebacker, played a fine defensive game, as did Walter Minter, middle linebacker; John Roden, guard; Mike Houston, tackle, and others.

Donnie Phillips, Big Spring back, re-injured his leg and may be lost to the team for another week.

The Dogies were playing without their regular quarterback, Albert Fierro, who was ill — possibly with a virus.

Coahoma B Team Is Winner, 18-0

COAHOMA — Wayne Krause scored two touchdowns and Dwayne Allen one in Coahoma's B team 18-0 football victory over the Stanton reserves here Saturday night.

The Coahoma club was outweighed several pounds to the man but the Buff B team couldn't mount a threat.

Krause went 30 yards for a score in the first and ten yards in the second while Allen counted after a run of 15 yards in the second.

The Coahomans have now won two games without a loss and are scheduled to play at Bronte next Saturday.

Tommy Grant scored another TD on a run of 60 yards in the fourth but the play was called back.

Texas Tech Loses To Mississippi State

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi State, playing its usual brand of rugged defensive football, showed signs of promise for the 1961 season Saturday night by downing Texas Tech 6-0.

The Southeastern Conference Maroons displayed a potential attack but couldn't punch a touchdown across until late in the third period when quarterback Charlie Furlow rammed over from the one.

During the scoring drive, State's fullback Mackie Weaver supplied the offensive impetus, covering 42 of the 80-yard march.

Furlow blasted over with just a bit more than two minutes left in the period. Fullback Sammy Dantone's kick sailed wide.

On two other occasions, Mississippi State moved deep into Red Raider territory—once to only one foot from the goal line—but failed to score.

It was a blend of running and passing from quarterbacks John Carrero, Billy Hill and Furlow that moved State forward most of the time.

The victory ended a 22-year drought for State against Southwest Conference teams. Tech beat State 27-20 in 1953 and Saturday night's game was only the second meeting between the two.

Tech's only serious threats came early in the game when fullback Coolidge Hunt, the leading rusher in the SWC last year, sparked the Raiders on two drives that carried 40 yards, both ending on State's 32-yard line.

Jaybirds Slam Kats, 34-14

JAYTON—An active passing attack gave the Jayton Jaybirds a 34-14 victory over Garden City Friday night.

Jaybird backs Harold Murrell and Cecil Hallum teamed up for three TDs, with Hallum doing the throwing and Murrell the receiving on two; before changing places for the third.

The first Jaybird tally came in the second quarter on a Hallum to Murrell connection. Hallum caught a TD pass from Murrell in the third stanza, and then the pair returned to their original hook-up for a final period score.

Hallum hooked up with Woody Byrd for touchdowns in each of the second and fourth quarters.

Murrell darted over for two two-pointers.

Garden City scoring also went the aerial route, with quarterback Dennis Cypert connecting with Jamie Pagan on a 68-yard scoring play, and then with Dennis Seidenberger on a 14-yarder. Cypert added two points to the final TD.

Statistics show both squads with eight first downs; Jayton with 180 yards passing to 165 for Garden City; and 124 yards rushing for Jayton to 52 for GC.

Score by quarters:

Terrapins Tip Ponies, 14-6

DALLAS (AP)—Dick Novak ran for one touchdown and passed for another as Maryland dominated the first half, then the Terps beat off a spirited second half rally by Southern Methodist for a 14-6 victory Saturday night.

Southern Methodist scored its touchdown in the third quarter on a dazzling 30-yard run by Tom Sherwin and threatened several times to score again in the final periods.

A slim crowd of 17,000 watched Jerry Rhome, the SMU sophomore quarterback, bring the Methodists alive offensively.

Maryland bit into Southern Methodist territory five times in the first half while SMU got past midfield only twice.

The first Terp touchdown was on a 61-yard march after the opening kickoff with Dennis Condie making 42 running and Novak passing for 18. Jittery SMU was offside three straight times to help get the Maryland drive moving. Novak made the touchdown on a five-yard run and John Hannigan kicked the extra point.

The other touchdown was in the second period on an 18-yard pass from Novak to Jim Davidson. Maryland got the ball on a fumble on the SMU 21 to set up the score. Condie made one and Novak passed to Condie for two, then Novak threw into the end zone to Davidson and Hannigan converted.

SMU reached the Maryland 22 in the first period on the passing and running of Harold Morgan and a 21-yard sprint by sophomore Billy Gannon. Then just before time ran out in the first half the Methodists thundered to the Maryland 27.

Cougars, A&M Fight To Tie

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Houston and Texas A&M, a pair of last year's also-rans trying for better things this season, put a pair of burly squads on the field Saturday night and battled to a 7-7 tie.

Playing in 83-degree, humid weather, each side cut loose a flashy runner from time to time but was rarely able to mount a sustained drive. A pass interception halted a desperate drive by each team in the final minutes.

Houston's Bobby Bolin accounted for the Cougar touchdown almost by himself, recovering a fumble on the A&M 7 with five minutes left in the first half and scoring on a slashing sprint around right end three plays later.

Bolin's touchdown and Eddie Mitchamore's kick gave Houston a lead that stood up until towering Aggie quarterback Jim Keller lunged through the middle from the Houston 2 not quite three minutes deep in the final period.

Darle Keeling's kick made it 7-7, a score that satisfied nobody.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)— The Longhorns of Texas ground out a 28-3 victory over stubborn but outclassed California Saturday in their football opener before 41,500 sun-drenched fans.

The Golden Bears, expected to be the doormats of the Big 5, recovered four Texas fumbles and intercepted a pair of Longhorn passes to prevent a more lopsided thrashing.

One fumble recovery and one interception were in the California end zone.

Highly touted Jim Saxton and Jerry Cook, a brace of shifty halfbacks, led the Texas running game.

Cook scored the second touchdown on a sweet 29-yard scamper in which nobody laid a hand on him. That run, after a 13-yard California punt, proved the decisive score of the game.

The Bears, unable to move except for sophomore halfback Rudy Carvajal, held the favored Longhorns to 7-3 at halftime, then sagged in the late going.

Texas fullback Ray Poage, who lost the ball twice on fumbles, scored the opening touchdown on a plunge of less than one foot on a fourth down play in the first period.

The Bears had stopped the Longhorns on their 9 after Texas had moved 65 yards in the opening series.

Jim Ferguson's 13-yard field goal with 49 seconds left in the first half provided the only California score.

The Texas line, outplayed by the Bears in the first half, held Cal to minus 12 yards rushing in the second half. Mike Cotten and Johnny Genung, the Texas quarterbacks, didn't get their passing arms working until midway in the third quarter. Each passed for a fourth quarter touchdown.

Genung hit Bob Moses with a 9-yard scoring pass and Cotten found Bob Nunis with a 14-yard paydirt pitch just before the gun.

Eldon Moritz kicked the first three conversions and Tony Crosby booted the fourth.

Baylor Rips Wake Forest Deacons By 31-0 Count

By ROBERT E. FORD

WACO (AP) — Baylor mauled Wake Forest 31-0 Saturday night with a crushing performance that kept bright the Bear's pre-season rating as a Southwest Conference favorite.

Ronnie Bull, Baylor's top candidate for All-America, gave Wake Forest a show, scoring on a 21-yard thrust and on an 80-yard pass from Bobby Ply.

Bulls's second touchdown came on a screen.

Toward the end, Baylor's third and fourth stringers slashed through the Deacons, going 64 yards but failed to score. Sid Alexander's field goal attempt was wide.

The game, played in 84-degree temperatures, was the season opener for the two Baptist schools.

The Atlantic Coast Conference Deacons found their unseasoned line unable to cope with Baylor's stable of fast, rough runners. Their attempts to stop the Bears on the ground left them wide open for Baylor's potent passing attack.

Baylor scored the first three times it got the ball and tallied in each quarter.

Bull's 21-yard run set off the scoring and the going was so easy coach John Bridgers promptly inserted his second team, which scored in 10 plays, with Jim Oldham driving the last eight yards.

Baylor started the second quarter scoring with a 21-yard field goal by Carl Choate, who also kicked four extra points. Ply made it 24-0 in the third quarter with a seven-yard touchdown toss to Herb Harlan, then wrapped it up with a 20-yard throw to Bull.

Baylor gained 442 yards, of which 292 stemmed from rushing. Wake Forest gained 127 yards, 72 on the ground.

FORSAN — A three touchdown splurge in the second quarter gave Gail a 22-18 win over Forsan here Friday night, handing the Buffalo squad its third straight setback.

Gail, who depended on a hard-driving ground attack, sprinkled with timely passes, scored its entire output in the first half, while the hosts tallied once in each of the first, second and fourth periods.

Forsan drew first blood as Ken Soles took the opening kick-off and scampered 70 yards to pay-dirt. A run attempt for the point-after failed.

After a punt exchange, Gail marched 40 yards and scored on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Mike Stephens to halfback Rus Hensley. A pair of off-side penalties aided the scoring drive.

Good fortune struck Gail in the second quarter as the Buffaloes fumbled on a punt return, the Coyotes recovering it on the enemy five. Hensley carried it over on the second play, and fullback Oscar Ovalee bulled over for the PAT.

In that same period, Stephens intercepted a Forsan pass on the 11. Two plays later he went around right end for the TD. Ovalee again added two points.

Forsan caught the Coyote defense off guard as a screen pass garnered 39 yards, bringing the Buffaloes to the Gail eight. Soles toted it over center for the score.

Forsan marched 62 yards in the final stanza to cap the game's scoring. Taking the ball on their own 18, the Buffaloes kept to the ground, getting good performances from Soles and Larry Stroud. Stroud flashed gains of eight and 10 yards and carried the load on two fourth down situations. Sole scored the TD and Stroud's running attempt at the point after was caught short.

In the closing minutes, Gail penetrated to the Forsan 11, but was hindered by penalties.

Joe Alderdice and Tim Cockerham were defensive standouts for the Coyotes, with Danny Wash and H. K. Elrod shining in the losing cause.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Coahoma could have a whale of a football team next year . . . Coach Jimmy Spann has only three seniors on his squad now . . . They are guards Weldon Self and Billy Ford and back Ronnie Lindsey . . . Tommy Grant, a quarterback at Garden City last year, will fit into the Coahoma picture as a halfback next fall . . . Grant had a big role in the Coahoma B team's recent 36-6 victory over Forsan . . . Juniors in Coahoma's starting lineup include ends Maurice Cutright and David Fisk and backs Billy Turner, Yogi Cunningham and Jimmy Mays . . . There are two sophomores on the starting unit, tackle Dan Shelburne and Dwayne Fraser . . . Freshmen who have been playing include tackle Larry Pherigo and Ronnie Burgess, who has been dividing time at center with Fraser . . . Ted Cearley, a starting linebacker on defense for the Bulldogs, is also a freshman . . . Two of the boys who would have been playing a lot for Coahoma this fall, senior Don Reid and Larry Roberts, were injured in a car wreck after Coahoma's first game and lost for the season . . . Reid was a back, Roberts a guard . . . Coach Spann also expects to make use of Bobby Williams, who lettered as a tackle for Big Spring as a sophomore, in 1962 . . . Another ex-Big Springer, Billy Steagald, a defensive tackle, became eligible only last week to play with Coahoma . . . Big things are expected of a 190-pound fullback named Wayne Krause, who is in Coahoma Junior High but who is performing for the Coahoma B team (because of his age — he'll run out of eligibility before he graduates) . . . KWKC Abilene is the only West Texas radio station I know of carrying play-by-play accounts of the Dallas Cowboys' NFL football games . . . Pearl Ward returned to Midland from Houston to take a job as assistant golf pro at Hogan Park's course . . . Royace Woolard, who performed in the last Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament, will report for freshman basketball drills at Texas Tech this year.

ROBINSON

Golfer Turns Down $10,000 Offer

Little wonder football is such a complex game . . . The rules differ at any level you play, and sometimes by areas . . . Even the statutes in the two big pro leagues, not to mention the one in Canada, differ widely . . . One of the great goal kickers in NFL history, Cliff Patton of the Philadelphia Eagles, is now employed in the local school system . . . Oddly enough, Cliff didn't kick PAT's while in high school here . . . That role fell to Frank Barton, now superintendent of schools at Wink . . . Patton performed for some of Philadelphia's greatest teams . . . A Wisconsin public links golfer named Archie Dadian recently rejected an offer calling for $10,000 a year for two years to join the pro tour, held out instead for a flat salary of $250 a week for three years . . . "That much is needed to insure against financial pressure," he explained. "I feel it takes two years to get accustomed to pro play if you're able to concentrate on your game without outside worries" . . . A Racine-Milwaukee group of men extended the offer to Dadian . . . The golfer says he plans shortly to move to California, where he'll continue in the insurance business and perhaps turn pro on his own . . . That huge turnout for the Rice-LSU football game in Houston Saturday night included 14,000 Louisiana fans who drove over from the Baton Rouge area . . . Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle will be paid $7,500 each for appearing on a Perry Como TV show this fall and will earn around $7,500 each for endorsing a brand of wearing apparel . . . Cincinnati's Frank Robinson probably will carry arm trouble into the World Series . . . He has a bad tendon in his right arm. . . . One of the cheer leaders at Rice University this fall is a 6-feet-7 ex-basketball player from Dallas named John Mullen . . . Don Altman, who was quarterback for Duke in the last Cotton Bowl football game, will go to Arizona to gain experience in a baseball instructional league, as one of the Houston Colts' hired hands, next month . . . He's a pitcher and could have played with the Blue Devils again this year.

The last edition of The Sporting News had a fine writeup on Charley Johnson, Big Spring's gift to the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals.

Work On Webb Lanes To Start

Work is scheduled to begin this week on the renovation of the Webb six - lane bowling alley.

Captain Roger N. Anderson Personnel Services Officer at Webb said that the contract, calling for the removal and replacement of the lanes, the installation of underground ball returns and the installation of the new Tel-E-Scores, had been awarded to the Brunswick Company.

New chairs for scores and settees for the players are also on the cards. The total cost of the project is $22,048.00 and will be paid out of non-appropriated welfare funds; the job is expected to be completed by mid-October.

Bowling season at Webb usually extends to approximately six months. League schedules take in A, B and C circuits; the Friday night Couples Loop and the Teen - age League on Saturdays. Open bowling follows each night's league activity.

Mustang Stop Stamford 'Dogs

STAMFORD — Sweetwater exhibited a fiery ground attack Friday night as it downed Stamford, 12-0.

Exhibiting a series of dives and sweeps, the Mustangs ground out yardage steadily, marking 242 yards rushing, and 18 first downs.

Each Sweetwater score came after Stamford fumbles, the first being early in the second quarter. In punt formation, the Stanford center oversnapped the ball, and the Mustangs took over on the Bulldogs' eight. The TD resulted when quarterback Marty Stewart passed to Buddy Alldredge in the end zone. Alldredge's kick went wide.

The second Stamford miscue occurred when a pitch - out got away and the Mustangs' Jesse Patterson recovered on the 14. Three plays later Stewart swept right end behind a swarm of blockers and went over untouched.

Cowboys Trounce Eagles, 20-14

GRANDFALLS — Grandfalls - Royalty outlasted Sterling City, 20-14, in a non - conference eight-man football game here Friday night.

Both teams are members of District 5-B but this one was carded as a practice contest.

Butch Cox, Sammy Trees and Walt Perryman each counted once for the Cowboys while Bill Coleman managed both of Sterling's TDs.

Amarillo Tascosa Defeats Midland Rebels, 41 To 7

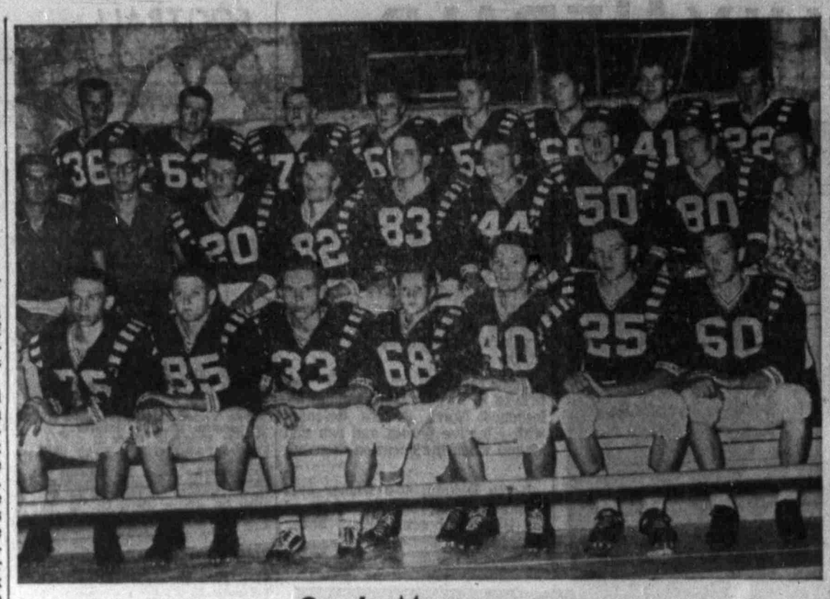
AMARILLO — Midland Lee evened its record at 1-1 Friday night as it bowed to Amarillo Tascosa 41-7. The win was Tascosa's second against one loss.

Midland's only TD came on a two - yard spurt by halfback Don Weens. Kwayne Casbeer kicked the conversion.

Eddie Whiddon and Mark Yarbough scored twice for the winners. Whiddon with runs of one and 39 yards, while Yarbough returned a punt 71 yards and ran back a kickoff 91.

Bill Defee scampered 39 yards for a TD, and Johnny Weidling scored on a two-yard plunge.

Defee kicked for one point after, Weidling ran for a two-pointer and Weidling passed to Lewis Thomas for another.



Sands Mustangs

Pictured above is the Sands team which bested the Meadow Bronchos Friday night to win their first game of the 1961 season. Left to right are, top row, Ray Long (36), Doyle Lewis (63), Dean Newsom (77), Billy Rasberry (66), Ike Wasson (53), Eugene Coleman (65), Larry Hall (41), and Ronnie Gaskins (22). Middle row, Jackie Flinn, Mike Kemp, Bob Smith (20), Jessie Franklin (82), Max Harding (83), Jim Schueike (44), Lonnie Taylor (50), Dan Shortes (80) and Paul Davis. Bottom row, Tommy Fryer (75), Alton Richter (85) Bobby Gaskins (33), Larry Barefoot (68), Larry Benton (40), Eddy Herm (25) and Bill Smith (60).

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs took advantage of a blocked punt and turned it into a touchdown Friday night at Ackerly to beat the Meadow Bronchos by a score of 6-0.

On the last play in the third quarter the Bronchos punted on fourth down only to find it blocked by a charging Mustang. The Mustangs took over on the Broncho 12-yard line and were almost halted by a stiff defense. Larry Hall, 168-pound quarterback for Sands would not be stopped, however, and five plays deep into the fourth quarter he plowed through the center of the line for the touchdown.

Hall tried to carry over for the extra points, but when the play ended he had been pushed back to about the 10-yard line.

The Mustangs looked good against a Broncho pass attack late in the first half, allowing only one completion in five attempts.

After throwing only three passes in the first half, the Mustangs came out throwing in the second half, but the defense had receivers well covered and one short pass completed behind the line of scrimmage lost yardage. In all, Sands completed two of eight attempts for 21 yards.

The Bronchos were ineffective after receiving the opening kickoff and were able to make only one first down before they punted.

Sands came out charging and with the help of a 26-yard pass from Hall to Ike Wasson pounded their way to the five-yard line before they were forced to relinquish the ball.

A fumble on the Broncho 38-yard line minutes later put the Mustangs in good position to take command, but the Meadow line allowed few holes to be opened and when it failed, alert linebackers quickly closed the gaps.

Line-backers stood out during most of the game and few runners ever got into the secondary.

The game see-sawed back and forth across the field and until the touchdown was scored it looked as though the game might end in a tie.

Sands got within the 20-yard line on four occasions, but the nearest the Bronchos got was the 28-yard line. The Bronchos put on the pressure when they found themselves six points behind with time running out and racked up four quick first downs before they lost the ball on a fumble. Sands stalled away the remaining minutes and Meadow never got another chance.

The victory, first of the season for Sands, gives it a record of one won, one tie and two defeats. For Meadow this was its fourth dismal trip to the locker room.

Breck Decisions Cooper, 22 To 6

ABILENE — Harry Ledbetter led the Breckenridge Buckaroos to a 22-6 victory over the Cooper Cougers Friday night, as he tossed two touchdown passes and ran a third.

Ledbetter connected with halfback Jimmy Fox from eight yards out to put the Buckaroos in front at halftime, 6-0. In the fourth quarter, he capped the Breckenridge scoring with a 25-yard heave to Phil Wiggins.

A 12 - yard keeper play gave the Buckaroo quarterback his score in the third quarter. Fox ran the two pointer.

The game held significance for the Cougars, as they scored their first TD of the season in the final period, when Bill Boyd went eight yards over left end.

Ledbetter led his team offensively, completeing six of 13 passes and marking 41 yards in six carries.

Left halfback Danny Chapman ran 34 yards in 11 carries to lead the Buckaroos in the running department. Fullback Troy Kenny clipped in with 28 yards in 12 carries.

With the exception of Ledbetter's aerials, it was primarily a defensive contest. Neither team made a first down in the first quarter until Cooper picked one up in the closing minutes.

Joe Benson, Don Bowen, Jackie Whorton and Joe Kemp were outstanding in the defensive line for Breckenridge.

Merkel Triumphs Over Eden 11

MERKEL — Merkel won its first game of the season Friday night at the expense of Eden, as the Badgers capsized their guests, 30-8.

Wayne Brown ran a 38-yard touchdown for Eden's only score, and then added the two - point PAT.

Roger Moore dashed 30 yards around right end for the first Badger score with eight minutes gone in the first period. Moore scored again in the second stanza on a 19-yard scamper, and tacked two - point conversions on each TD.

Larry Dudley sprinted 31 yards into the end zone on a reverse in the third quarter. Later, James Bible recovered an Eden fumble on the Bulldogs' 28 to set up the final score. Don Karmelley carried it over from the two. Dudlay also added a two - point conversion.

Georgia Mentor Undergoes Knife

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — The University of Georgia's new head football coach was recovering from an emergency appendectomy today as his team prepared to open the Southeastern Conference season against the University of Alabama.

Johnny L. Griffith 36, was operated on Friday night only hours before his scheduled debut as head coach.

Prior to the operation he appointed defensive coach John Gregory acting head coach for the contest.

Alabama ranked No. 3 in the nation, was a seven - point favorite but there was no telling what the Bulldogs might do as a result of the illness of their head coach.

San Angelo Toys With Plainview

PLAINVIEW — The San Angelo reserves got a good workout as the Bobcats ran over the Plainview Bulldogs, 52-0, here Friday night.

The Cats rolled up 269 yards rushing and 122 passing on the hapless Bulldogs, who have now had 88 points scored against them in two starts against District 2-AAAA teams.

Plainview gained 110 yards rushing and 39 yards passing, mostly against the San Angelo reserves.

Mike Tabor counted the first San Angelo TD from two yards out, then added the two extra points.

A pass from Larry Mullins to Dennis Gray scored the second and Bill Cameron added the two extra points.

In the second period, Cameron crossed the double stripes from five yards out and Wayne Fox added the conversion to make it 24-0. Frank Schiller then scored from the one for San Angelo and Weldon Allen added the two points.

Fox broke loose for a 55-yard run and a score shortly before the half ended and Richard Wallace added the two points-after to make it 40-0.

In the third quarter, Fox intercepted a Plainview pass and raced 80 yards to pay dirt while in the fourth Don Hughes counted from two yards away.

Cincy Battered By BC Eagles

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Boston College battered Cincinnati 23-0 Saturday, launching its 1961 football season on the power-thrusts of Harry Crump and the timely passes of George Van Cott.

The brawny Eagles line wore down the outweighed visitors while leading two long second period drives worth 10 points.

Jack Irons (32) of Big Spring is finally stopped by Darrel Aldridge (23) of Snyder, after going for a sizeable gain in the above picture, snapped during the Steer-Tiger football game in Snyder Friday night. James Gilbert (24), Big Spring; Johnny Mitchell (21), Snyder; and Bob Smith (60), Snyder, are others in the picture. Big Spring won the game, 22-6, to stay in the ranks of the undefeated and untied teams. Irons scored two touchdowns for the Longhorns.

SNYDER — Obviously dedicated to the proposition that, though all men might be created equal, some are destined to find fire more digestible than others, the Big Spring Steers went out and won themselves a football game here Friday night.

As a crowd in excess of 4,000 looked on, Emmett McKenzie's marauders pummelled Snyder, 22-6. Although they had thoroughly demoralized Plainview in their opening game, the Steers played as if they had to prove themselves all over again.

Not since 1953 had Big Spring beaten Snyder in Snyder but there was no doubt about the thoroughness of their conquest this night. Snyder was a soundly beaten ball club at the end.

The Steers came to town heralded as a team with an uncommon talent for passing and no running game of consequence. They made good use of their aerial arm, enough to keep the enemy's defenses honest, but actually swung the issue with a sledge-hammer ground offensive and a rock-ribbed defense.

The Tigers played the Bovines on fairly even terms for a half and led the visitors, 6-0, for a while but the Steers elbowed them into the wings after the bands had come and gone.

Snyder made use of an intercepted pass, a five-yard penalty and off-setting penalties that erased a loss of the ball through a fumble to get their lone touchdown drive going.

Mike Morris picked off one of Jerry Tucker's arching aerials at the Snyder five and roared all the way to Big Spring's 40 midway in the opening period to set the Tiger drive in motion.

The Tigers then got the score in eight plays, with sophomore Eddie Kirby doing the honors from the two.

At that time, 3:28 minutes were left in the first period. Kirby also tried for two extra points on a run but the alert Steer line was there to ride him to the turf.

Big Spring took the ensuing kickoff and methodically went 74 yards in 19 plays for its first tally.

Tucker, who was a tremendous player all night and who engineered the march down to the five-yard line, suffered a lip injury and had to be taken out at that point.

Big Spring fans held their collective breath as Rickey Wisener went in to spell Tucker. Rickey coolly sought out James Gilbert with a pass in the end zones on the first play and Big Spring had its TD. There was 6:51 showing on the clock in the second period when Gilbert scored.

A snapback that drifted in a little high kept Bobby Pryor from ever getting the kick away on the PAT try and left the tally at 6-6.

Big Spring raged up and down the field but didn't score again until the fourth, when Tommy Young intercepted a pass thrown by Eddie Phy on his own 30 and jitterbugged his way to the Steer 41.

It took nine plays for the Longhorns to score again and a pass interference play called in the Snyder end zone set up the score.

Eddie Everett, another young turk who came onto his own for the Bovines, was clobbered in the end zone by a Snyder defender when he went down for a pass. The line of scrimmage was the Tiger 19 at the time.

Big Spring wound up with the ball on Snyder's one, all the law would permit. From that point, fullback Jack Irons barrelled over for the go-ahead score.

Tucker followed through with a run that added two points to the Big Spring aggregate and the Steer followers began to breathe easier, what with only 8.36 to go in the game.

The Tigers had plenty of time to square matters but subsequent developments proved that the decision was it the bag.

Everett, who had to go to the sidelines for repairs following that injury in the end zone, leaped high to gather in a Steve Free-thrown pass on the Big Spring 47 and hurried all the way to Snyder's one to set the stage for Big Spring's final score.

Irons again blasted through on the first play from scrimmage and Big Spring led, 20-6, with 2:32 still to play in the game. Gilbert accounted for the two extra points this time with a run.

Everett legged it as far as he did (and came within a whisker of going all the way) mainly because his mates were doing a devastating job of pushing the Tigers out of the way.

Snyder had to punt again before the game was over and Dickie Spier and Young almost got the Steers another score before time ran out. The Steers, with reserves manning most of the positions, were smashing away at the Snyder 14 when the clock winked away its last second.

Young Tommy Erhardt played a masterful game on defense for Big Spring, sharing the spotlight with such standouts as Butch Vaughn, Dexter Pate, Bobby Pryor, Buster Barnes and Jack Wilson, to spotlight a few. Again, it was a masterful team effort.

David Maberry, who missed last season due to an injury, was outstanding with his bull-like rushes into the line for Big Spring, along with Gilbert (who was used sparingly), Tucker, Irons and Young.

Johnny Mitchell and Baxter Callaway turned in fine games in the Snyder backfield, along with Kirby.

Snyder suffered a crippling blow when sophomore Jackie Stewart broke his leg in the first half.

Mantle Blasts 54th Home Run

BOSTON (AP) — Roger Maris failed to hit a homer but Mickey Mantle got his 54th Saturday as Whitey Ford won his 25th game for the New York Yankees, 8-3 over Boston.

Ford needed four innings of stout relief pitching by Jim Coates and Luis Arroyo, three double plays and one of his own patented pickoff moves to grab the decision by working the required minimum of five innings. Ford was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the sixth with the Yanks leading 4-3. Coates pitched the next three and Arroyo finished the job.

Mantle's three-run homer off loser Don Schwall came in the first after Bobby Richardson had been hit by a pitch and Maris reached first safely on an error by rookie first baseman Don Gile.

Mantle hadn't started since last Sunday because of a heavy cold.

After getting a life on an error in the first, Maris walked in the third and fourth and grounded out in the sixth before he singled in the eighth. He didn't come close to boosting his homer total past 59. Elston Howard smashed No. 21 and pinchhitter Bob Cerv hit No. 8 in the ninth.

Maris scored the tie-breaking run in the fifth when he walked, moved to third base on an infield out and a wild pitch and scored on Frank Malzone's wild throw of Howard's grounder. Maris' single in the eighth knocked in the second run of the inning, the first having scored when Chuck Schilling threw to the plate too late to get Clete Boyer, who had walked and moved to third on Coates' sacrifice and Arnold Earley's wild throw.

HOLT ACES WEBB HOLE

Col. John Holt of Webb AFB achieved the second hole-in-one of his golfing career Saturday when he named the 135-yard fourth hole at Webb's course Friday, using a nine iron.

Holt was playing with a Mr. and Mrs. Hallam at the time.

Holt fired his first ace in Arkansas back in 1935. He wound up with a 36 for the round. Par is 37.

Robert Lee Wins Decision, 14-6

ROBERT LEE — Robert Lee chalked up its first win of the season Friday night by beating the Melvin Bulldogs, 14-6.

Point makers for Lee were John Kinsey and Joe Roe, Kinsey scoring on a four - yard dive in the first quarter, and fullback Roe plunging over from one yard out in the fourth.

David Siler gave Melvin its only TD in the third period when he rolled around end for three yards and the score.

Engineers Romp Past SC, 27-7

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Not since 1929 had Georgia Tech's Ramblin' Wrecks played football in the Los Angeles area. But it was no different Friday night as they came through with a 27-7 victory over Southern California.

On their last appearance in Southern California 32 years ago, the Engineers edged California 8-7 in the Rose Bowl.

Georgia Tech, with second - string quarterback Billy Lothridge starting and ending the scoring with first and fourth period field goals, took a commanding half - time lead with three touchdowns in the second quarter.

Stan Gann, Tech's No. 1 quarterback, scored the first TD and passed to Billy Williamson for the second. Lothridge was in the lineup to wind up a 58-yard parade for the third with a 30-yard scoring stroke to Joe Auer.

Southern Cal tallied in the third quarter with Pete Beathard going over from the two to end a 46-yard march in nine plays.

Monahans Scores 2 TD's In First To Rip Wolves

MONAHANS — Two first - period touchdowns gave Monahans the edge they needed to hold off a Colorado City aerial attack Friday night, as the Loboes won, 20-7.

Lobo quarterback Jim Bob Barton bootlegged a 64-yard TD in the first quarter for the first score of the game. The point after attempt failed.

Barton's dash gave a fast pace to the first half, during which all the scoring took place.

Quarterback Gordy Tamplin made it 12-0 on a one-yard sneak later in the quarter.

Danny Latimer, Colorado City quarterback, connected with halfback Jim Womack for a 52-yard scoring thrust in the second quarter. Mike Andrews kicked the extra point.

The Loboes iced their lead late in the second stanza. Fighting the clock, the winners called five time - outs during the drive, which was climaxed by a 15-yard toss from Tamplin to Barton. Tamplin teamed with Lang Kinsey for the point after with only 25 seconds remaining in the half.

Monahans drove to the Colorado 15 in the final period, but were halted by a pass interception.

Carnage Is Fierce Among Top Teams

By The Associated Press

Fewer than 30 undefeated, untied teams are left in the Class AAAA division of schoolboy football as the field starts a steady movement into conference play this week.

Corpus Christi Miller, the defending state champion, was still among the teams with perfect records and looking like a strong contender for a repeat with the title. Miller beat Galveston 21-6 last week in a good test. It knocked Galveston from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Odessa Permian, San Angelo, Ysleta, San Antonio Jefferson, Sherman and Arlington showed to the best advantage the past week. San Angelo, which already had highly rated Corpus Christi Ray as a victim, blasted Plainview 52-0. Permian trimmed Lubbock Monterey 20-6, Ysleta rolled on in conference warfare with a 19-0 triumph over El Paso Tech, Jefferson lashed Harlingen 55-0, Sherman smashed Durant, Okla., 40-0 and Arlington clouted a Class AAA toughie, McKinney, 14-12.

The carnage was fierce among the unbeaten, untied teams as a dozen fell out.

More will take the long count this week because there are a half-dozen games matching teams with perfect records. The clash of Arlington with Fort Worth Paschal, the battle of Victoria with San Antonio Edison, the scrap between Brazosport and Galena Park and a meeting of San Angelo and Jefferson are among the big battles of the week.

The week's schedule by districts:

1. Thursday: Ysleta Bel Air at El Paso Burges (conference); Friday: El Paso Irvin vs. El Paso Austin (conference), El Paso vs. El Paso Bowie (conference), El Paso Jefferson at Ysleta (conference)
2. Friday: San Antonio Jefferson at San Angelo, Corpus Christi Carroll at Odessa Permian, Sweetwater at Big Spring, Abilene at Breckenridge, Lubbock Monterey at Midland.
3. Friday: Borger at Amarillo Palo Duro (conference), Midland at Lubbock, Littlefield at Plainview; Saturday: Pampa at Amarillo Tascosa (conference).
4. Friday: Wichita Falls at Lawton, Okla., Dallas Adamson at Irving, Fort Worth Eastern Hills vs. Fort Worth Haltom.
5. Thursday: Arlington at Fort Worth Paschal; Friday: Dallas Highland Park at Fort Worth Arlington Heights, Fort Worth Poly vs. Fort Worth Tech (conference).
6. Thursday: Dallas Sunset vs. Dallas Bryan Adams; Friday: North Dallas vs. Dallas Jefferson, Grand Prairie at Dallas Kimball, Dallas Hillcrest at Terrell.
7. Friday: Denison at Greenville, South Oak Cliff at Garland.
8. Friday: Tyler Lee at Mt. Pleasant, Spring Branch at Longview, Fort Worth North Side at Texarkana, Fort Worth Carter - Riverside at Marshall, Sherman at Tyler.
9. Thursday: Houston Sam Houston vs. Houston Austin; Friday: Houston Westbury vs. Houston Waltrip, Houston Jesse Jones vs. Houston Milby, Houston Lamar vs. Houston Reagan.
10. Thursday: Houston San Jacinto vs. Houston Jeff Davis; Friday: Houston Bellaire at Aldine.
11. Friday: Beaumont French at Deer Park, Lake Charles, La., at Beaumont, Vidor at Orange, Port Neches at Nederland, Beaumont South Park at Sulphur, La., Port Arthur at Lake Charles, La., La Grange.
12. Friday: Galena Park at Freeport Brazosport (conference), Baytown at Texas City (conference), South Houston at Galveston (conference), Smiley at Pasadena (conference).
13. Friday: Bryan at Conroe, San Antonio Harlandale at Austin Travis, Dallas Samuell at Waco, Denton at Austin McCallum, Brownwood at Temple.
14. Friday: Rio Grande City at Brownsville, Kingsville at Alice, McAllen at Mission, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Harlingen, Austin at Corpus Christi Ray, Edinburg at San Benito.
15. Friday: Austin Johnston at San Antonio MacArthur, Victoria at San Antonio Edison; Saturday: San Antonio Burbank vs. San Antonio Highlands.
16. Thursday: South San Antonio vs. San Antonio Lanier; Friday: San Antonio Brackenridge at Uvalde, San Antonio Edgewood at Del Rio, Laredo at Beeville, San Antonio Tech at Killeen.

MORE SPORTS 5-B

Utah Outlasted By Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's highly touted passing combination of Ron Miller and Pat Richter clicked on a 5-yard scoring maneuver enabling the Badgers to edge stubborn Utah 7-0 Saturday in a sloppy football meeting on a rain soaked field.

Miller, a senior quarterback who led the Big Ten in passing and in total offense last season, lobbed a soft aerial to Richter in the second period and Wisconsin made the touchdown stand up for a triumph in its 1961 opener.

The payoff toss capped a 27-yard march in five plays after Bill Hess intercepted a Utah pass late in the first quarter. Hess picked off a loose ball on the 31 after halfback Jerry Overton apparently had the pass knocked out of his hands. Wisconsin was unable to capitalize on several other scoring chances. Its attack sputtered at key times and Jim Bakken, the place-kicking specialist, missed five field goal attempts from the 46, 12, 16, 39 and 27.

In addition, Miller had two passes intercepted when the Badgers had the ball deep in Utah territory in the final period.

Middies Falter In Upset Bid

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Don Caum picked up a faltering Penn State offense Saturday to thwart Navy's bid for an upset, 20-10.

For three quarters the Navy line led by end Greg Mather contained the Nittany Lions offense except for senior halfback Don Jonas.

Jonas scored State's first touchdown on a 6-yard sprint around end, kicked the extra point and later added two field goals as State struggled fitfully against the two-touchdown underdogs.

Until Caum's entry in the final quarter, the Lions couldn't find the right offensive combination.

Junior quarterback Ron Klemick and Bob Hecht gave Navy a passing superiority that kept the Middies ahead until Jonas' second field goal, in the fourth quarter.

Dean Pay Bounds Sought By Conoco

By JOE BEYER

The extreme southeast portion of Dawson County has been the scene of steady drilling for the past year as the bounds of the Ackerly (Dean) pool are being sought. Since the beginning of the year 16 wells have been completed in the vicinity of Ackerly.

Most active driller has been Conoco, which has 26,000 acres under lease in the area. Conoco has completed 12 of the wells. A total of 24 projects are expected to be completed by Conoco by the end of 1961 at a cost of approximately $3,250,000, according to John E. Kircher, Fort Worth, southwestern region general manager.

The first well completed in the area was in the Martin County portion of the field. Stanolind No. 1 C. M. Brown, C NE SE of the southeast quarter of section 15-34-3n, T&P survey, was completed in the Canyon, or Pennsylvanian, January 26, 1954 for 16.59 barrels. It was soon depleted. Aug. 17, 1954 the well potentialed 65 barrels of oil from the Dean. This too soon depleted.

The next completion logged in the area was on Jan. 7, 1955, when Ray Albaugh No. 1 R. B. Adams, 660 feet from the north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 1-34-3n, T&P survey, in Dawson County, flowed 442.84 barrels of oil from the Dean.

Drilling continued intermittently until 1960. Then three more projects were completed, with another Canyon dual which has since depleted.

Eight projects are now in operation drilling, testing or completing. All are Conoco ventures staked on the fringes of the field.

The area was at first named the Ackerly, Northwest field but has since been designated a part of the Ackerly (Dean) field.

Wells and dry holes in the area include:

1. Ray Albaugh No. 1 R. B. Adams, a Dean discovery well Jan. 7, 1955, flowed 442.84 barrels of oil.

2. Conoco No. 1 Paul Adams was completed Dec. 5, 1960, for 213 barrels of oil flowing from the Dean.

3. Conoco No. 1 J. Archer flowed 233 barrels of oil from the Dean June 13, 1961.

4. Conoco No. 1 A. D. Brown pumped 98 barrels of oil from the Dean Sand June 22, 1961.

5. John Cox No. 1 Graves flowed 195 barrels from the Dean Nov. 25, 1957.

6. John Cox No. 1-A Graves was completed Aug. 2, 1958 for 171 barrels flowing from the Dean.

7. George Gibson No. 1 R. B. Adams pumped 163 barrels of oil from the Dean Jan. 10, 1958.

8. Gulf No. 1 T. L. Wallace flowed 159 barrels of oil from the Dean sand June 13, 1961. On June 8, 1961 it was completed in the Canyon for 203 barrels of oil flowing.

9. Joe W. Humphrey No. 1 J. L. Billingsly, completed in the Dean Dec. 29, 1956 for 163 barrels flowing.

10. Santiago No. 1 M. V. Bowlin potentialed in the Canyon Aug. 18, 1960 for 860.88 barrels. It soon was depleted in that pay. On Nov. 18, 1960 the Dean flowed 218.64 barrels.

11. Santiago No. 1 D. B. Kieger flowed 198 barrels of oil from the Dean sand June 7, 1961.

12. Seaboard No. 1 T. L. Reed was plugged and abandoned July 22, 1955 after testing both the Dean and Canyon Reef. It has since been rescheduled for drilling by Conoco as the No. 1 Reed. Drilling has not been started.

13. Southern Union Production Co. No. 1 M. E. Dyer was completed in the Dean Feb. 8, 1961 for 174 barrels flowing.

14. Southern Union Gas No. 1 Janie Pitts flowed 271 barrels of oil from the Dean Nov. 6, 1960.

15. Southern Union Gas No. 1 Lottie White produced 121 barrels of oil flowing from the Dean Feb. 1, 1961.

16. Texas Pacific and Coal No. 1 R. B. Adams flowed 132.05 barrels from the Dean Nov. 20, 1955.

17. Texas Pacific and Coal No. 1 Odessa Davenport potentialed for 184.08 barrels flowing from the Dean Jan. 27, 1956.

18. Woodford Co. No. 1 E. C. Mahaney was drilled to 9,490 feet and was abandoned March 24, 1953. It was drilled to 1,375 feet as Santiago No. 1 Mahaney - Brown and was again abandoned Sept. 22, 1961.

19. Stanolind No. 1 C. M. Brown is one of two wells in the Martin County portion. However, it has been depleted in both zones. On Jan. 26, 1954 it pumped 16.59 barrels from the Canyon and on Aug. 17, 1954 it pumped 65 barrels of oil from the Dean on initial potential.

20. Stanolind No. 1 Odessa Davenport was drilled to 9,944 feet and abandoned Apr. 12, 1954.

21. Conoco No. 1 W. J. Beckham flowed 345 barrels of oil from the Dean July 13, 1961.

22. Conoco No. 1-A Brown flowed 202 barrels of oil on initial potential from the Dean July 23, 1961.

23. Santiago Oil and Gas No. 1 S. D. Lewis was completed in the Dean for 209.99 barrels on Aug. 11, 1961.

24. Conoco No. 1 Odessa Davenport potentialed for 183 barrels of oil from the Dean Aug. 27, 1961.

25. Conoco No. 1-A J. Archer flowed 179 barrels of oil from the Dean on Sept. 7, 1961.

26. Conoco No. 1 N. J. Etheridge was completed in the Dean Sept. 7, 1961 for 71 barrels pumping.

27. Conoco No. 1 L. C. White flowed 84 barrels from the Dean Sept. 15, 1961.

28. Conoco No. 1 J. M. Womack flowed 254 barrels from the Dean sand Sept. 14, 1961.

29. Gulf No. 2 T. L. Wallace was completed for 193 barrels of oil flowing on initial potential from the Dean Sept. 15, 1961.

30. Conoco No. 1 Snell produced 68 barrels flowing from the Dean Sept. 21, 1961.

1,300 INVITED

Pioneers Day Set For Oct. 27

MIDLAND—More than 1,300 invitations had been mailed Saturday to the second Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers Day scheduled here Oct. 27, Roy A. Minear, general chairman, said.

Advance registrations indicate the event, jointly sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and a group of Midland oil pioneers, will attract more than 1,200 persons.

The first Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers Day was held here Oct. 29, 1959, as a feature of the nation-wide centennial observance of the American petroleum industry.

The program will honor persons who had a part in the early-day development of the Permian Basin Empire.

The designation "Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneer" is given to those men and women who, 30 years before or earlier, actually worked within the Permian Basin Empire on some job connected with the exploration, development, production, transportation or processing departments of the petrodate for this year's event is Oct. 1, 1931.

The fact that a person later may have entered some other industry or moved out of the region does not disqualify him, Minear explained. Widows of men who would have qualified as pioneers will be designated "Pioneer Widows."

This classification, Minear said, includes those widows who lived with their pioneer husbands in the Permian Basin prior to Oct. 1, 1931, and were married to them at the time of the Pioneer's death and who have not since remarried.

E. D. Brockett of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of Gulf Oil Corp. will be the speaker at the celebration.

An open house for the men will be held at the Petroleum Club during the morning. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Mrs. John W. House, chairman of the committee of ladies activities, is planning special entertainment. A reception and buffet for both men and women at the Petroleum Club will conclude the day's activities.

More than 800 persons attended the 1959 reunion, with 789 qualifying as Pioneers.

Area Gains Active Rig

One more rig, 255, was making hole in the Permian Basin Empire Friday than the previous week's 254, according to Reed Roller Bit Company's survey.

This count also topped this time last year's 221 active units. Lea County, N. M., with 35, continued to pace West Texas and Southeast New Mexico activity.

Nine Oil Tests Drilled Last Week

AUSTIN (AP) — Thirty-nine wildcat gas wells were drilled in Texas this week, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday. Nine oil wildcat wells were drilled.

Organization To Boost Permian Basin

MIDLAND — Formal activation of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association is expected to be completed Thursday at a luncheon in Odessa. Hamilton E. McRae, Midland, announced Saturday. He is chairman of an area-wide organizing committee which was formed in August.

The Thursday event will be in the Hotel Lincoln; approximately 150 persons are expected to attend.

Included in that group will be petroleum industry executives, public officials, chamber of commerce representatives, officers of financial institutions and other business and civic leaders from the 55 counties in West Texas and from the four in Southeast New Mexico which compose the Permian Basin.

Reports will be presented by committees now working on a suggested constitution and by-laws, membership qualifications and nominations for officers and directors. If recommendations of those three panels are accepted the association would immediately become operative.

Formation of the organizing committee headed by McRae, a Midland attorney, was authorized on Aug. 17 at a meeting of West Texas — Southeast New Mexico leaders held in Midland. The association, McRae said, will undertake to work on industry wide, area projects which would benefit all segments of the petroleum industry and the general economy of the entire Permian Basin region.

Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a compromise bill creating a U.S. disarmament agency.

Guthrie Spots Shallow Tests

A variety of new projects were reported Saturday and other operators reported new completions.

C. W. Guthrie, Big Spring, staked two new locations, both in the Howard - Glasscock field. No. 6-C Sarah Hyman is 11 miles southeast of Coahoma on 160 acres, 990 from north and 330 from west lines of section 89-29-W&NW survey. No. 7-C Hyman is 1,650 from north and 330 from west lines of the same area. Both are to bottom at 1,350 feet.

Basin Drilling Co., Big Spring, also has two projects in the field, set for 1,400 foot bottoms. No. 5-B Anne Bowen is 330 from south and 1,650 from east lines of section 65-29-W&NW survey. On 320 acres, it is 11 miles southeast of Coahoma. Offset is No. 4-B Anne Bowen at 330 from south and 990 from east lines of the section.

In Martin County, Texaco No. 27-A Mabee Foundation is a Mabee (San Andres) field location set for 5,010 feet on 1,280 acre lease. It is 1,998 from south and 1,995 from east lines of section 20-39-2n, G&MMB&A survey, 22 miles southeast of Andrews.

In Mitchell County, Sawnie Robertson No. 29 Percy Jones is an East Iatan-Howard field location on 320 acres set for 3,000 feet. It is five miles east of Coahoma, 330 from south and east lines of the north half of section 13-30-1s, T&P survey.

E. G. Rodman and W. D. Noel No. 1 Good is a Clara Good (Fusselman) field location in Borden County on 80 acres set for 9,900 feet. It is 15 miles southwest of Gail and 660 from north and 1,868 from east lines of section 9-32-3n, T&P survey.

Texaco-Seaboard No. 2 George Beggs is a Post (Glorieta) field location in Garza County, set for a 3,000 foot bottom about 13 miles east of Post. It is 1,980 from south and 660 from west lines of section 41-2-T&NO survey.

Socony-Mobil has completed two projects in the Howard-Glasscock field. No. 14 Sarah Hyman had an initial pumping potential of 44.10 barrels of 29.3 gravity oil per day with 27 per cent water. Elevation is 2,458 feet, total depth is 1,655 feet plugged back to 1,636 feet, top of the pay is 1,514 feet, the 4½ inch casing goes to 1,655 feet, perforations are between 1,514-24, 1,588-608 feet. Operator fraced with 30,000 gallons. Wellsite is 2,310 from south and 1,650 from west lines of section 113-29-W&NW survey.

No. 15 Sarah Hyman had an initial pumping potential of 40.48 barrels of 29.3 gravity oil with 60 per cent water. Operator fraced with 30,000 gallons and the site is 2,310 from south and 330 from west lines of section 113-29-W&NW survey. Elevation is 2,457 feet, total depth is 1,657 feet plugged back to 1,638 feet, top of the pay zone is 1,522 feet, the 4½ inch casing goes to 1,652 feet, and perforations are between 1,522-610 feet.

Allied Doubles Poly Production

NEW YORK (AP)—Allied Chemical Corp. announced completion of another stage in a program to double capacity for polyethylene production, mainly through expansion at Orange, Tex. The first polyethylene unit at Orange went on stream last year. The substance is used in polishes, printing inks, paper coatings, paints and rubber and other products.

Another Year

PARIS (AP) — France will retain its 28-month compulsory military service requirement for at least another year because of the tense international situation, military officials reported.

RESPONSE!

Newspaper Advertising Brings Reader Response . . . through Buying Action!

More buying action results from newspaper advertising because of the atmosphere of believability. You've heard people say, "I know it's true, it's in the papers." The printed word has always been accepted as more honest and binding.

Newspapers report facts; other media offer entertainment. Your advertising in an atmosphere of believability is bound to induce more "want-to-buy" action than that framed in fiction or entertainment.

Newspapers offer another vital element—an atmosphere of timeliness and urgency. This sense of immediacy fosters "here-and-now" sales action that no other print medium can match.

If it's a question of consumer response—newspapers are the answer!

Wins By San Angelo, Permian Spotlighted

By The Associated Press

The schoolboy football picture in Texas snapped into sharper focus Friday night but the power-to-be in the weeks to come remained a bit blurred.

Forty-two unbeaten, untied teams fell by the wayside, narrowing the total to 107 with the gigantic grid show only a few weeks old.

Class AAAA's No. 1 power, Wichita Falls, was pressed before downing Amarillo, 14-0.

Highly rated Lubbock Monterey got slapped with its first Class AAAA defeat this season at the hands of Odessa Permian, 20-6. Richard Keller, Odessa's classy running back, proved to be the back-breaker by rolling up 213 yards in 18 carries and scoring two touchdowns.

Corpus Christi Miller, defending state AAAA champion, turned loose a bevy of fast backs to slip Galveston Ball a 28-6 licking and deal the Galveston crew their first loss.

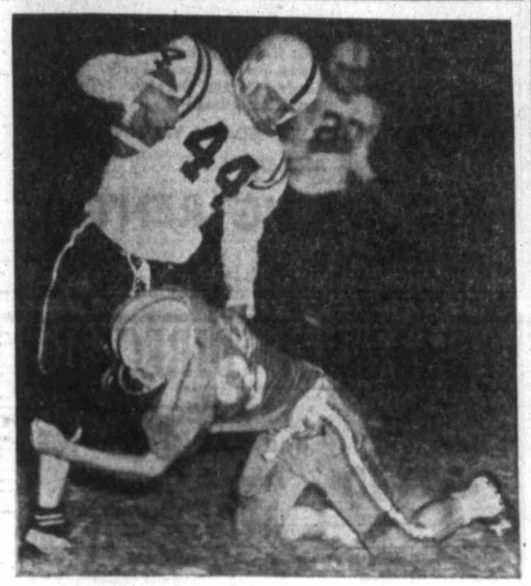
The squad from Ball High was the only team that beat Miller's state champions last year.

In Class AAA, Brownwood, the No. 1 rated team, fell victim to the inspired defense of Waco LeVega and took a narrow 7-6 loss. The only LeVega score came on a fumble in the end zone.

Impressive showings weren't uncommon in AAAA. San Angelo stretched its winning streak by blasting Plainview 52-0. Jefferson handed Harlingen a thorough 55-0 beating. Sherman beat a team of Oklahomans from Durant 40-0.

A power from last year's Class AAA race, Jacksonville, rolled over Athens 34-0. In other AAA action, Mesquite trounced Wilmer-Hutchins 54-0; Hereford beat Muleshoe 39-8 and Fort Worth Castleberry rolled over Weatherford 30-0.

The Class AA powers kept the end zones hot. Denver City wallopped Abernathy 44-0; Dublin romped to a 52-0 triumph over Eastland, and Olney downed Bridgeport 37-0.



Sizeable Pickup

Coahoma Is Upset By Loraine Eleven

LORAINE — Coahoma's football trip to Loraine Friday night proved disastrous.

The Bulldogs, although they threatened the Loraine goal several times, lost an 8-0 decision to the home club.

Loraine recovered a Coahoma fumble on the invader's seven-yard line and three minutes before the game ended Lorenzo Moreno pushed through for the score.

Loraine earlier had driven to Coahoma's one and lost the ball on downs. Coahoma was trying to work the ball out when the bobble occurred.

Coahoma's deepest penetration was to the Loraine 18. The charges of Jimmy Spann were driving deep in Loraine territory when the game ended, however.

Coach Spann blamed his team's defeat on poor blocking.

The Coahomans made eight first downs to seven for Loraine, 118 yards rushing to 71 for the hometown Bulldogs and completed three passes for 15 yards, compared to two for 31 for Loraine. Each team lost the ball twice on fumbles.

Jackie Narrell made the two extra points for Loraine.

Coahoma plays host to Big Lake at 8 p.m. next Friday.

Stanton Wins 14-0 Decision

GAME AT A GLANCE
Stanton		Ozona
10	First Downs	9
184	Yards Rushing	90
84	Yards Passing	61
2 of 4	Passes Completed	9 of 21
2	Passes Intercepted By	1
3 for 29.7	Punts, Average	4 for 36.2
7 for 45	Penalties, Yards	2 for 20
3	Fumbles Lost	1

OZONA — Stanton raised a few eyebrows around the area by downing Ozona, 14-0, in a football thriller here Friday night.

In winning their third start in four assignments, the Buffaloes had a big edge in the statistics.

The Bisons rolled 28 yards in seven plays for their first score, with quarterback Robert Turner plunging the final six yards to the tally. The play occurred in the second quarter.

Halfback Joe Williams drove in for the two extra points.

In the fourth, coach Harlin Dauphin's team added an insurance touchdown on a 80-yard drive, which came following a sensational 62-yard punt on the part of Ozona. The boot was all the more amazing, considering the fact that the snapback from center was erratic.

In nine plays, fullback Dewey Anderson managed to score on a ten-yard burst through right tackle.

Ozona threatened in the first period but Sammy Webb of Stanton blunted the march by recovering a fumble on the Buff 37.

The Sorley brothers, Herb and Mike, played outstanding defensive games for the spirited Buffs.

A Stanton pass, Jimmy Sale to end Mike Black, covered 67 yards for Stanton in the second quarter but Ozona later stopped that drive.

The Buffaloes host Fort Stockton in a game next Friday night.

Stanton Jr. High Triumphs, 12-6

STANTON—Floyd Sorley's Stanton Junior High School football team humbled Coahoma, 12-6, in a game unreeled here Thursday evening.

Earlier, the Junior Buffs had bombed Loraine, 16-6. The Stanton club plays Sands in Stanton at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Dink Polson scored the first Stanton TD on a 12-yard run at the end of a 38-yard drive in the second quarter.

Polson, who plays fullback, also got the second in Round Three with a 67-yard sprint through right tackle.

Right end Glenn Pardue and linebacker Jesse Sanchez were outstanding on defense for Stanton.

Dragons Vanquish Toyah, 55 To 13

FLOWER GROVE — Flower Grove won its third straight eight-man football game here Friday night, beating Toyah by a score of 55-13.

Dan Lemon scored 18 points for J. W. Massengale's team while Beaver Ramsey wound up with 20. Ronnie Deatherage six, Jerry Webb 6, U. Hays four and Lee Roman one.

F. Martinez counted all 13 points for the Dragons, who meet Grandfalls-Royalty at Grandfalls next Friday night.

Flower Grove led at half time, 37-7.

Getting Ready

Webb AFB mechanics and technicians are being "retrained" for the new supersonic T-38 soon scheduled to replace the old T-Bird. The work is being done by Mobile Training Detachment 751A. Here one of the instructors, S.Sgt. Lloyd D. Basler, explains the intricacies of the T-38's radio navigation system.

First T-38 Trainers Due Here In October

Early in October, the first of the new T-38 supersonic jet trainers will arrive at Webb AFB to be used primarily in the training of maintenance personnel.

The flow of T-38s to Webb will be stepped up in November and the scheduled rate of delivery is expected to be 12 each month as they are put into commission. A like number of T-33s will be removed from the program.

The task of transitioning aircraft and maintenance personnel has been undertaken by the 751A Mobile Training Detachment. This small outfit—18 men strong and commanded by Capt. Robert A. McCann—was activated at amarillo in 1960. Their mission was a roving one designed to provide technical assistance to jet mechanics at bases slated to receive the new craft.

The combined experience of Capt. McCann's men amounts to 230 years or an average of about 13 years each. They first attended the Northrop Factory's school for jet mechanics at Amarillo AFB after which they went to the line at Edwards AFB, Calif., for practical experience on the T-38. Next they took a turn at the Northrop plant at Hawthorne, Calif., where they were briefed on modifications of the T-38.

In January of this year, the 751A Mobile entered the third phase of the test program as they assumed the duties of technical advisors at Randolph AFB, San Antonio. The detachment now in operation at Webb uses Building T-603 as classrooms in conjunction with the 420th Field Training Detachment, which is currently conducting the training of technicians on the F-102 Delta Daggers.

With the 751A, and acting as instructors in their respective fields are: T. Sgts. Elmer E. Mahurin and S. Sgt. Carl F. Olnick, aircraft maintenance; T. Sgt. Clyde M. Goodwin, pneudraulic technician; T. Sgt. Lloyd K. Turbin, and T. Sgt. George L. Kempner; S. Sgt. J. L. Sims Jr., and S. Sgt. Charles E. Gillil and electrical technicians; T. Sgts. Walter E. Hubmaier and Vincente M. Flores, communications; T - Sgt. Carl E. Watts and S. Sgt. Lloyd D. Basler, navigation; S. Sgt. Arthur C. Clauson, and Airman 1. C. John Bugg, automatic flight control; T. Sgts. Robert H. Williams, Francis J. Meehan, and S. Sgt. George R. Stoker, jet engines. On the aircrew familiarization course all instructors take part.

Courses conducted by the detachment vary from 20 to 100 hours. On the administrative end are M. Sgts. Carred N. Neighbors and Neis K. Hogberg.

Daniel Sets Election Day

AUSTIN (AP) — Bexar County voters will go to the polls Nov. 4 to fill the vacancy in Congress caused by the resignation Friday of U. S. Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio.

Gov. Price Daniel received Kilday's resignation Friday and immediately called the election.

Kilday has represented the 20th Congressional District for 24 years. He has been named by President Kennedy to the U. S. Court of Military Appeals.

The governor also chose Nov. 4 as the date for a special election to fill the seat in the Texas House of Representatives formerly held by the late Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, who died in July.

DEAR ABBY

Be Tactful In Correcting

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and have a problem. My mother and I disagree about correcting people when they make a mistake in pronouncing words, or use them in the wrong place. My mother says it is wrong to correct your mother or father or any elderly person in private or in front of others.

I said I didn't think there was anything wrong with correcting people in a polite way in private or in front of people. I don't think anybody is ever too old to learn. Who is right?

"PERFECTIONIST"

DEAR PERFECTIONIST: Your mother is wrong, Honey, but she is still your mother. The pride of older people suffers when they are corrected by children, even if the correction is offered politely and in private (as it should be.) So drop the practice and remember—you may have a "perfectionist" of your own some day.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A rather irate woman wrote to tell you that a child today can name all the players on the Yankee and Giant teams, but ask him who God is and he doesn't know.

If this remarkably well-informed lady will tell me or anyone else just who God is, she will have answered a question that has remained unanswered for thousands of years.

Sincerely, LYNNE

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Recently my brother passed away. He left a wife and two step-children (when he married this woman she was a widow with two children). She had been married to my brother less than two years, but this is what she did. She had him buried in a plot next to her first husband! When my parents found out where he was being buried they almost went into shock. As though this wasn't bad enough, this plot is a family plot for HER family. We wanted our brother buried with HIS family. Did she have a right to do this? Can we take legal action against her?

UP IN ARMS

DEAR UP: Calm down. There is nothing you can do.

First Air School Planned For Police

A first-aid school will begin at the Big Spring police department classroom Monday night and will run two hours each night for the first four days of two weeks. Gordon Cizon, president of the Citizens' Band Group, a group of local ham radio operators, will conduct the first school.

Chief Jay Banks said three of the sessions would be necessary for the three shifts at the department.

The session starting Oct. 9th will be under the supervision of an A&M College instructor.

The sessions will run from 8 to 10 p.m. each night.

Legion To Hold Safety Campaign

An announcement of the annual safety campaign has been made by J. G. Littlejohn, commander of the Howard County Post of the American Legion. The campaign will start Monday.

The campaign stresses safety in the home, office or on the highways through a constant reminder of multiple use of safety stickers. Revenues from the campaign, now in its sixteenth year, provide the post with a part of its annual budget for welfare and youth programs.

Littlejohn has urged full support of the week long campaign in an effort to stress carefulness toward reducing accidents in the community. He also pointed out the need of an expanded budget for more youth activities.

Further information on the long established program may be had from Littlejohn or past commanders Joe Pendleton and Frank Hardesty.

Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate confirmed Saturday on a voice vote President Kennedy's nomination of Fowler Hamilton, New York attorney, to head the new Agency for International Development.

Record Forecast For Grain Harvest

Howard County's sorghum grain harvest is still two weeks in the future but from preliminary reports, this year will see record breaking acreage yields scored.

Already, one farmer has brought in an early harvesting of grain which has weighed out at 4,120 pounds to the acre.

He is G. U. Reed and the grain was grown on his farm one mile west of Vincent on SH 350.

The grain, handled by the Big Spring Grain and Commission Co., was reported by E. T. Tucker, manager, as being of good quality although it was not dry enough to qualify for top price.

Tucker and Clyde Eager, with Kimbell Grain Co., said that all the early grain which has been received is excessively heavy with moisture and as a result is being downgraded in price.

By the time the harvest is really in action, the moisture level may have diminished materially.

The Big Spring Grain Commission plant is operating a mechanized drier on grain on hand.

Attends Seminar

Dr. Halvard Hansen, local chiropractor, is in Fort Worth through the weekend, attending a refresher seminar, conducted by Dr. James Parker, director of the Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation. Purpose of the seminar is to discuss latest findings in the practice. Over 1,500 practitioners from 50 states attended a similar seminar in the spring.

Dr. T. A. Patterson Speaks Here Today

Dr. T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, is to be at the First Baptist Church for three services today.

Dr. Patterson, for many years pastor of the First Baptist Church in Beaumont, has long been a leader in Texas Baptist work. This marks the first time that Dr. Patterson has been able to be in Big Spring for such a purpose, and church officials are anticipating a large congregation to hear him.

SHARING AN AFTERNOON DRINK are the pretty blonde twins of Mr. and Mrs. Bill A. Jones, 2511 Lynn Dr., Janet, left, above and Pamela olsa share a great love for horses but so far have never had one of their own. Before moving to Big Spring the family lived in Greeley, Colo., where the girls rode often. The two are 11 years of age and are in the sixth grade at College Heights.

"WHICH ONE DID I TELL THAT TO?" might be the question in the mind of Mrs. Matt Harrington, high school secretary, as she assists Viola, left, and Yolanda, right, identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Gamboa. The Big Spring High School seniors are active in school and have as a common hobby their liking for sewing their own clothes. They always dress alike and are signed up for the same courses in school.

THEIR OPPONENTS IN THE LITTLE LEAGUE probably thought they were seeing double when the Aces team put 10-year-old Tommy and Timmy Sims (photo above) in the field. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sims, 2201 Nolan. Timmy, at right in the picture, is 15 minutes older than Tommy and is just about a half inch shorter. Baseball is their game but they do take time out for their fifth grade studies at College Heights.

The DAILY DOUBLE

Among the complexities school teachers encounter is that – at least once in a while – of "double vision." This means that twins will be in the same classes and may look so much alike that identification is well nigh impossible. Parents may have made the differentiation easily, and good friends, too; but if they're new students in a new class – well, it takes time. Pictured on this page are some of the twins enrolled in Big Spring schools, appearing in the "daily double" role in their classrooms.

WOMEN'S NEWS

The Big Spring Herald

SECTION C

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1961

NO MATTER FROM WHAT DIRECTION they view themselves, Rose and Jackie Cordes, nine-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cordes, 1522 E. 17th St., turn out to look alike. Both are avid readers and they have just added a new book shelf to their old ones at their home to hold their books and study materials for their fourth grade work at Washington Elementary School.

FROM THE MISCHIEVOUS EXPRESSION on the face of Bobby Sullivan, right, his twin brother, Billy, could be just a breath away from getting a squirt of water in his face. They are at a drinking fountain in the College Heights School where they are sixth grade students. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sullivan, 2400 Goliad, the boys like to build things. Billy is gathering parts with which to construct a go-cart and Bobby likes to build bird houses. They plan to put in a partnership garden next spring.

Wedding Theme Of Shower

Gwen Lawdermilk, bride - elect of James Reynolds, was honored when a shower was given Thursday night at the home of Mrs. D. D. Johnston.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. L. C. Lawdermilk, her fiance's mother, Mrs. E. L. Reynolds of Stanton.

A floor - length cloth of white organdy, trimmed with white ribbon streamers, wedding bells and small red flowers, covered the refreshment table. The symbolic centerpiece was a white dove on a base of white satin and lace adorned with bits of ribbon, red flowers, wedding rings and bells. Lighted tapers flanked the center arrangement.

Forty guests attended and hostesses for the occassion were Mrs. Monroe Gafford, Mrs. W. E. Pate, Mrs. J. C. Eudy, Mrs. Hartman Hooser, Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Mrs F. D. Rogers, Mrs. Charles Fannin, Mrs. Garland Sanders, Mrs. Curtis Sherman, Mrs. B. F. Mabe, Mrs. Ross Callihan and Mrs. Johnston.

Also members of the house party were Freeda Wiginton, Mrs. L. D. Keefer, Beverly Hooser, Pat Fannin, who alternated at the register and gift display.

Coffee Honors Mrs. Bill Currie

Yellow chrysanthemums decorated the home of Mrs. Paul D. Warren Saturday morning, when a coffee was held complimenting Mrs. Bill Currie, the former Mrs. Marie Carter.

Mrs. Currie received a gift from the hostess and guests, teachers of Runnels Junior High School.

Orange Muffins

Ever add grated orange rind to the batter you've prepared for cornbread muffins? Serve hot with butter and orange marmalade for double flavor!

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

According to all the people who judge a change of weather by their arthritis, rheumatism, mended broken bones and game limbs, we are supposed to have a change in the temperature . . . a change for the cooler, that is. Through the days past that were hot enough to qualify for summer, some of the "weather gauges" have ached more, ached longer and all these generally denote a change; but at this writing the wind is blowing, just like summer, the dust is blowing with it, just like summer, and it's rather warm for so early in the day . . . still just like summer. And then, too, we have converted from air conditioning to heat . . . that is probably what brought about the warm trend.

MRS. JACK KING and her daughter, MRS. C. E. PEARCE, plan to leave by train Sept. 29 for Columbus, Ohio, where they will spend 10 days in the home of MR. and MRS. DICK MILAM. Mrs. Pearce is Milam's mother. This will be the first time Mrs. King and Mrs. Pearce have seen the Milams' baby daughter, Malinda, who was born on July 2. Mrs. Milam is the daughter of MR. and MRS. BOONE HORNE.

MR. and MRS. E. V. SPENCE are expected to return here at the end of the week after an extended vacation in Mexico. Mrs. Spence had joined relatives for a tour in August and he joined them several weeks ago. A card from Taxco, Gro., Mex., from Spence says they are on the go and the trip is well worth while.

* * *

I suppose the season for blooming is waning for the pretty pink flowers in the front bed at the home of MR. and MRS. ROD NUGENT, 701 W. 17th, but they have certainly been a beautiful sight these last few months. They appear to be double petunias.

* * *

When a picture of an unusually large elephant ear plant, taken in Lubbock, appeared in the papers MRS. GARNER McADAMS decided one in her back yard was larger . . . and sure enough it was, by several inches.

* * *

I liked the story the mother of a first grader tells of her son who was having a hard time adjusting to keep the regular hours, playing at given times, etc. As she was taking him to his school he said, "Mother, about this school . . . I sure do like the going and coming but I hate the in-between."

Study Is Completed By Circle

The study book, "Christian Sharing of Possessions," was completed Thursday evening by members of the Douglas Circle, Baptist Temple.

Mrs. James Renfro, hostess for the gathering, reviewed the concluding chapters.

Officers, who will be installed Friday at the church, were elected, and include the following; Mrs. Sam Arrington, secretary; Mrs. Stanley Harbin, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Ray Crook, community missions; Mrs. Renfro, Mrs. Ken Collier, Mrs. Eddie Bellamy, social; Mrs. Charles McCollum, missionary and stewardship; Mrs. Charles Modisette, program; Mrs. Ernest Barbee, prayer.

Nine were present for the meeting, which was concluded with a farewell party for Mrs. Larry Stephenson, who will leave soon for Durham, N. C., to make her home.

Dye Is Cast And Hart Is Brunette

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Dolores Hart has managed to keep her long blonde tresses intact through eight motion pictures.

But for her latest role, as a young Jewish refugee in Mark Robson's film, "The Inspector," the comely actress was told she must become a brunette.

So when she reported to the 20th-Century Fox make-up department for the change, two male apprentices — draftees about to leave for boot camp — were assigned to her.

Quipped one of them:

"Miss Hart, we who are about to salute, dye you."

Diplomacy Is The Name For Debbie

WANTAGH, N. Y. (AP) — Debby Daley rushed home from Lee Road School the other day bursting with news.

"Daddy, I've been appointed foreign ambassador of the fifth grade!"

Her father, Joe Daley, noting that classroom chores had assumed international overtones since he was a tad, humbly asked about the duties of the job.

"Well," Debby said importantly, "I've got to arrange a volley ball game with the sixth grade!"

Employes Signing For UF Donations

Kick-off for the United Fund Campaign is several days ahead. Cosden is getting a "running start," however, and several employes have already signed their pledge cards.

Sympathy is extended M. M. Hines in the loss of his brother, who died suddenly last weekend. Funeral services for Mr. Bill Hines were held Monday in Fort Worth, with several refinery and pipeline personnel in attendance. Included in the group who flew down were Jack Y. Smith, N. Baumgarner, Bill Skiles, LeRoy Wright, Delbert Bardwell, Lloyd Thomas and Leo Parker. Joe Holladay, Forsan school superintendent, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Farris have been called to Oklahoma City to the bedside of her father, Mr. J. G. Ford, who is seriously ill.

Sam Hefner, Cosden tank car salesman, was here Thursday and Friday from his post in Omaha, Neb.

Pauline Sullivan and her sisters, Mrs. R. H. Carter and Mrs. H. C. Beene, visited their brother, W. A. Sullivan, in Freer early this week. They also stopped in Laredo and Nuevo Laredo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott are in Fort Worth for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Randolph are in New Mexico for a weekend tour of Carlsbad Caverns.

Smith's Tea Room was the setting for a Friday luncheon attended by the girls at the refinery main office.

The 10th national convention of the Desk and Derrick Clubs, which met in Houston Friday and Saturday, was well-attended by Big Spring members. Among the delegation were Mrs. W. H. Kay, Mrs. Alma Gollnick, Mrs. W. A. Boeckel, Mrs. George Thorburn, and Mrs. Eleanor Matheny, all of Cosden; Mrs. Ed Black of Hayward - Hyer, and Mrs. Herbie Smith, who is employed by C. W. Guthrie.

Genie Smith is enjoying a weekend visit with Teresa Smith, who is attending Abilene Christian College.

Purchasing Dept. associates celebrated Mrs. A. T. Ringer's birthday Thursday with a pie and coffee session.

Disfigurement Led To Career In Modeling

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A tragic auto accident badly disfigured the face of a young Methodist minister's wife and strangely opened the door for her to a new career in modeling and beauty therapy.

The Rev. J. Bond Johnson, his wife, Ruth, and their three children were on their way to Texas for the Christmas holidays three years ago when the accident happened.

Although the others escaped serious injury, Mrs. Johnson left the hospital many months later with scars that were "very demoralizing," as she puts it.

LEARNS SECRETS

A sympathetic friend of the family, however, arranged for Mrs. Johnson to consult with William Tuttle, head of a Hollywood makeup department. He taught her his trade secrets which would camouflage her scars.

Intrigued with the process, the tall, slender daughter of a Methodist minister enrolled in a modeling school to learn more. Mrs. Johnson had not intended to make modeling a career. However she was soon in demand by fashion photographers. Resulting photo assignments took her as far away as Japan.

Then Mrs. Johnson took a teaching position in a modeling school that specializes in makeup techniques. There a psychiatrist asked her to help him renew a depressed divorcee's interest in life. She had become overweight and careless in her appearance.

Mrs. Johnson showed the unhappy woman how to improve her makeup, choose clothes to hide her figure faults, wear her hair more flatteringly, and induced her to replace horn rim glasses with contact lenses.

The transformation was successful. As a result Mrs. Johnson was called upon by other psychiatrists and psychologist for help. Soon she was forced to give up teaching modeling to devote more time to beauty therapy.

MINISTER'S WIFE IS PRETTY MODEL . . . Overcame Scars

OTHER DUTIES

She still accepts fashion show and photo modeling assignments. And she continues her musical studies. She is a soprano soloist and a regular member of the Roger Wagner Chorale.

Mrs. Johnson says she is no assistant pastor but believes one should "utilize to the fullest the talents God has bestowed upon one.

"Being a minister's wife and mother is wonderful, and being a fashion model is stimulating. But helping women achieve new self confidence is the most rewarding thing in this career," she says.

She herself is proof that demoralizing unattractiveness does not need to be a permanent thing.

Coffee Is Given In Norred Home Friday

A coffee, given Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Neil Norred, initiated the fall season of meetings for City Home Demonstration Club members.

A yellow linen cloth was a background for copper serving accessories and a cornucopia; this was filled with small dark red dahlias and yellow and red apples.

Fifteen members were present with two guests, Mrs. Ida Baker of Plainview and Mrs. G. W. Kiker.

Mrs. Armour Long described her trip to Alaska, during which she traveled by helicopter, aquaplane, narrow-gauge railroad and dogsled.

Mrs. Johnny Green is incoming president; Mrs. Dalton Johnston, vice president; Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, secretary; Mrs. E. T. Arnold, treasurer. Mrs. L. C. Rone will be council delegate. The officers will take office in January.

At the next meeting, Oct. 13, members will make dried arrangements; Mrs. Marvin Sewell, 407 Washington Blvd., will be hostess.

MRS. DALE MAXWELL

Johnson Residence Scene Of Wedding

Linda Johnson and Dale Maxwell were united in marriage Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Vows were exchanged in a single ring service performed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Johnson, 3704 Hamilton, with the Rev. Curtis Smith, Baptist Minister, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. George Calvin Maxwell of Abilene are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of white organdy and lace featuring a full skirt, tapered bodice and bracelet length sleeves. Her veil of matching lace was secured by a rhinestone tiara. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid.

Sandra Jean Johnson, cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She wore a blue nylon, semi-formal gown and carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home, where the bride's table, spread with a white lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of blue carnations. Also featured was the white frosted, three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Vernon Johnson, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the register and with Mrs. R. T. Baker and Louise Cole, she assisted in serving.

Among out of town guests attending were Mrs. Richard T. Baker and Louise Cole of Abilene.

The couple will reside in Big Spring at 111 W. 19th.

Teen-Agers' Skin Will Profit From Two New Creams

Teen-agers with skin problems will be interested in two new products which can be used in a two-step treatment of such complexion problems as oiliness, blackheads and pimples of acne.

First step is a pleasantly scented white cream that effectively but gently removes pore-clogging oil, make-up and dirt. This stimulating medicated cleanser also helps check skin bacteria. Apply it at night and in the morning, leaving it on for a few minutes or until the face feels tingly, then rinse it off with warm water.

Step two is a medicated lotion. Shake it well and apply on a cotton pad. It helps conceal, dry and heal unsightly blemishes of acne. Dot it on overnight to let it work its magic while you sleep, or use it as a powder base during the day. The medicated lotion comes in two skin color shades, light and medium in a one and a half ounce bottle.

Both products are available at drug and department stores.

Dry Milk Shake

When you are liquefying dry milk just put it in a jar, cover tightly, and shake thoroughly. Or beat the dry milk and water together in a bowl.

Charity Bridge Game Scheduled For Friday

All bridge players are invited to attend the quarterly charity bridge game to be held Friday at the Big Spring Country Club.

Those who have never played duplicate bridge are especially asked to participate, and the charge will be $1 per person.

Proceeds will go to a national charity as designated by the National Board of Duplicate Bridge of the American Contract Bridge League.

Friday at the regular Big Spring Country Club duplicate session, winners were announced as:

North-south: Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., and Mrs. Doug Orme, first; Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, second; Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow and Mrs. Don Newsom, third; Mrs. Fred Lurting and Mrs. Hudson Landers, fourth.

East-west: Mrs. Benton Reneau and Mrs. George McGann, first; Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. J. H. Parks, second; Mrs. Dan Greenwood and Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, tied for third.

Explorer Scouts Taught Spanish

A Spanish lesson was given members of Girl Scout Explorer Troop Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr.; this is in line with the study the girls are carrying on this year.

The group selected as a project the making of school satchels and filling them with supplies for the children.

Plans were made for a trip to Santa Fe, N.M., in January for skiing.

Meat Sauce Tip

To make a quick sauce for a meat loaf, saute onion, green pepper and celery (all sliced thin) in a little butter or margarine and then heat with a can of condensed tomato soup and about a half-cup of water.

New Soups Have Essence Of Chili

Chili fanciers will welcome a new soup, just being released for markets; a blend of beef, beans, onions and tomatoes, the condensed soup is flavored with a dash of chili powder.

Another tasty soup is made with beef broth chuck full of vegetables, beans and lentils. Both are prepared with the addition of a bit of water and heating.

Stretch The Sauce

Add drained crushed pineapple to ready-prepared whole cranberry sauce and serve with poultry or meat. Good way to stretch the cranberry sauce when unexpected company comes.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Kay Starr Tells Reducing Secret

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—"Be glad if your family seems to nag you because of your big appetite," singing star Kay Starr declares. "That way, you'll be conscious of your portions.

"My mother was fond of cooking and kept urging me, the only child, to have second helpings. We lived on the Texas border near Oklahoma, and we had all the Souhern dishes with lots of hot breads, gravies and two desserts.

"She gave no thought to calories or balancing a menu, but she used to tell me I'd get sick if I didn't clear everything on my plate.

"As a result, I ate more than I wanted and stretched my stomach, and by the time I was 13 I weighed 173."

Kay was chatting with me in her NBC dressing room wearing a slim, dark sheath, and it was hard to believe she had ever had a problem with her weight.

"I wish I had been taught about food when I was young," she confided, "for I like all the wrong things. I could live on starches and sweets. And even now I sometimes go on what I call a "lost weekend." But I follow this starch binge with my favorite reducing diet. I can lose a pound a day and keep my energy.

"When I first wanted to take off weight, I foolishly decided to do it on my own. I figured," she admitted, "that if eating had made me fat, not eating would make me thin. I lived on black coffee and went without food for so long I fainted during a rehearsal. Fortunately I was given medical attention before I had permanently ruined my health.

"The doctor gave me a stern lecture. I remember his explaining that when you don't supply the body with the fuel it needs, it feeds on itself. When I was starving myself, I really didn't look much thinner, and this was frustrating. I learned I have a tendency to water retention, and all that coffee was bloating me.

"The doctor gave me a book on nutrition that taught me how to plan balanced meals. He told me, too, that the idea of dieting is not to gain back the weight that is lost. 'Do it slow but sure,' he said.

"It was not easy," Kay groaned. "If something in my life disturbed me, I found myself turning to food. I understand compulsive eating. My daughter is like that, too. When she has a problem or doesn't have enough to do, she overeats and gains weight. Parents have to think of other ways than nagging. It does no good to tell a girl she's overweight — she knows it. You have to correct your thinking to correct your habits.

"It took me years to overcome my bad eating habits," Kay confessed. "I would have no part of reducing pills and appetite killers. I think they are a crutch. And I don't want to go through life using will power. I had to find a way of balancing my intake with my output.

"Low calorie snacks are a great help to me. I always carry bouillon cubes and find sipping a hot cup of soup very satisfying. I drink skim milk, carry hard boiled eggs with me and keep raw vegetables sliced and ready to eat in the ice box.

"Dieting is so mental," Kay observed. "When romance came into my daughter's life, she slimmed down so fast I could hardly believe it.

"When you are taking off weight, it is very helpful to exercise. You can do this with sports, with a reducing machine or by setting-up exercises.

"After I've been on a tour or working hard, I like to get away to a health farm near here. They serve the right foods for your particular problem, so there is no way to cheat and no temptations. And they keep you so busy with massages and health routines, you don't have time to fret about food.

"But," Kay observed, "like everything else in life, you get out of this only what you put into it."

KAY'S DIET

If you would like to follow the same diet used by Kay Starr, here is your chance. It's a three-day "Diet for Those Extra Pounds," Leaflet M-94, designed to help you drop those few pounds you've just put on. For your copy of this new diet leaflet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

Changed Habits

Kay Starr, NBC-TV's frequent singing star, admits it wasn't easy, and tells how she overcame the problem of overweight.

Poseys Guests Of Phoebe Class

Mrs. Joe Blassingame entertained at her home, 1605 E. 16th St., Thursday evening, for members of the Phoebe Class of the Baptist Temple. The Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Posey were guests. Rev. Posey gave the devotion taken from the Book of Samuel.

Mrs. Ernest Workman and Mrs. Wade Shanks who are being promoted to another class, received red carnations, the class flower.

Red carnations were also used with red tapers to center the refreshment table which was spread with ecru lace cloth over red. Table appointments were milk glass.

AAUW Will Have Tea

A membership tea has been planned for members and guests of the American Association of University Women to be given Monday evening in the parlor of the student union building, Howard County Junior College.

Helen Hurt will discuss plans for the study groups, and Mrs. Doug Orme will have a display of mosaics; she is to be the instructor in that line. There will also be an exhibit of the past year's work done by the units.

Eulalia Mitchell has extended an invitation to all women who are eligible for membership in the association to attend the tea, stating that two more schools have been added to the organization's list. These are Howard Payne College at Brownwood and Hardin - Simmons University at Abilene.

The AAUW is continuing the drive for books to be placed in the children's library at the Big Spring State Hospital school, Miss Mitchell stated.

Hostesses for Monday's affair will be Mrs. J. T. Draper and Mrs. Ira Williams.

For more information, you may call Mrs. Keith McMillin, AM 4-6350.

Three-Way Tie Is Made By Duplicate Players

A three-way tie for third and fourth places occurred in the games of duplicate bridge Thursday evening at the Officers' Club. Nine tables accommodated the group.

The tie was made by Mrs. Fred Haller and Jackie Jernigan, Mrs. George McGann and Mrs. Benton Reneau, Mrs. Arlis Ratliff and Mrs. Glenn Riley, both of Garden City. They were east-west players.

Other winners in east-west position were Mrs. J. H. Holloway and Mrs. John Stone, first; Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, second.

Winning in north-south position were Sgt. Ed Hartstein and Grover Cunningham, first; Mrs. Doug Orme and Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., second; Mrs. J. J. Havens and Mrs. Ray McMahen, third; Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. E. L. Powell, fourth.

Spaghetti To Please

Use 3 to 4 quarts of boiling water when you are cooking a half-pound of spaghetti or other macaroni product.

Mrs. McCall Will Head Forsan Club

During a called meeting of the Forsan Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. A. J. McCall was elected president; Mrs. H. L. Tuck was named vice president; Mrs. Lee Yarbrough, secretary, and Mrs. Bobby Riley, treasurer.

Mrs. L. M. Duffer will serve as council delegate, and Mrs. Louis Soles will be reporter; assistant reporter will be Mrs. Bryant Childress.

The group met at the Forsan Clubhouse, with 10 attending; Mrs. Wayne Moore was a new member. The regular session is set for 2 p.m. Tuesday at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Dozier Joins Staff Of The Herald

Mrs. Edgar W. Dozier, for nearly a decade editor of the woman's page for the Northwest Arkansas Times in Fayetteville, has joined the Herald's woman's department staff.

West Texas is not entirely new to Kathleen Dozier, for she was reared in Amarillo before moving to Dallas. Later she lived in Dallas before she met Mr. Dozier in Memphis, Tenn., and they went to Fayetteville from there.

Drafted into service to fill a vacancy on the Times, which is the paper for a three-county area, she remained on the job for 9½ years. After her husband's death, she took time out to devote entirely to her family. Subsequently she took a position doing drafting work. But the ties of newspapering were strong, and thus she accepted an invitation from the Herald to get back to reporting women's activities.

Mrs. Dozier was active in various affairs at Fayetteville, and was on the board of the Central Methodist Church. Golf is her hobby and she was a member of the Women's Golf Association. She also was a participant in an investment club, but her favored avocation is housekeeping.

Mrs. Dozier has five children, Edgar Dozier, with an advertising agency in Little Rock, Ark.; Robert Dozier, manager of a Skillern Drug store in Dallas; Mrs. Douglas Vibrock, lab technician for an orthodontist in Dallas; Mrs. Lawrence Giles, Corpus Christi; and Phillip Dozier, a freshman in the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, pointing toward a degree in law. She plans to make her home here at Parkhill Terrace apartments.

Class Re-Elects Several Officers

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. H. K. Lawson was re-elected president of the Friendship Sunday School at the recreation hall of the First Baptist Church, Tuesday, when a covered dish luncheon was served to 16 members.

Also elected to serve as officers were Mrs. Arthur Graves, vice president; Mrs. D. E. Ory, re-elected secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Maxine Pardue, Mrs. C. S. Bevers, Mrs. Glen Petree and Mrs. Chalmer Wren, all elected as group captains; Mrs. Walter Graves, re-elected reporter; Mrs. Woodford Sale, re-elected personal minister.

Teachers for the class are Mrs. Waymon Etchison and Mrs. Dortha Hayes.

WEBB WINDSOCK

The 3561st held the monthly meeting at the Officers' Club last week. Mrs. Jo Polone did hair styles for the women and was presented a gift for the showing. Door prizes were won by Mrs. James Downs, Mrs. G. R. Thompson and Mrs. H. A. McLaughlin. Red Flight wives were the hostesses this month and White Flight will host the October meeting.

Mrs. Murhl Ruhl has been the recipient of many going-away parties these last few days. Last week she was the honored guest at a dessert bridge at the Officers' Club. Mrs. Ruhl was presented a green and beige orchid and a white china chip and dip set.

There were eight tables of bridge; winning high was Mrs. William Semler and second was Mrs. Francis Bates. Low was won by Mrs. Harry Hon.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Wickard, Mrs. Donald E. Jonker, Mrs. E. G. Baumann, Mrs. W. A. Nixon, Mrs. J. C. Hurley, Mrs. Robert F. Daley and Mrs. Ad Lindsley.

Later in the week Mrs. Ruhl was honored at a bridge luncheon in the home of Mrs. A. K. Halverson. Mrs. Ruhl was presented a personalized cigarette lighter and a leather address book.

Winning first was Mrs. Hurley and second was Mrs. W. H. Huse while third went to Mrs. Nixon. Maj. and Mrs. Ruhl will be leaving this month for a new home in California as he has just retired from the Air Force.

The wives in Class 62H gave a surprise tea at the Officers' Club on Friday for Mrs. Stephen J. French. Mrs. French has just arrived at Webb from Boulder, Colo., to join her husband. She was presented a silver serving dish as a wedding present as she is also a bride. Mrs. Leonard Wilson, Mrs. Jimmie Crain and Mrs. William Niles were the hostesses.

* * *

Mrs. R. K. McManigell will leave soon to spend a few days with her parents in Denison.

Sept. 28 is getting closer, and this will be your last reminder to make plans to attend the September Welcome Coffee. It is just as important for the old timers to be there as it is the newcomers. So try to come and help welcome the girls that have just arrived here; that is 10 a.m. at the main lounge at the Officers' Club.

Also another reminder that our luncheons will start on Oct. 5 and from what little birds have told me the first promises to be a real goody. A new permanent reservation list for the luncheons must be made, and you can do this by calling either Mrs. J. M. Gehrig at AM 3-4715 or Mrs. L. J. Morris, AM 4-4531.

Winners At Bridge Revealed

Winners announced for Thursday afternoon party bridge, held at the Webb Air Force Base Officers' Club, are:

Mrs. Murhl Ruhl, Mrs. Donald E. Jonker, Mrs. Robert W. Buck, Mrs. B. J. Easterwood, Mrs. George Moench, Mrs. A. D. Lindsley, Mrs. C. D. Johnson and Mrs. S. T. Howerter, prizes for high; Mrs. Charles Lillie, door prize; Mrs. Franklin C. Snyder, travel prize.

Winning bottles of champagne, donated by the club, were: Mrs. W. H. Huess, Mrs. W. L. Hugo, Mrs. F. D. Johnson, Mrs. Howerter, Mrs. J. C. Hurley, Mrs. N. C. Hewitt and Mrs. A. K. Halverson.

Forum Has Breakfast

A breakfast at Cokers Restaurant Friday morning opened the club year for the Modern Woman's Forum; Mrs. Harwood Keith was hostess.

Tables followed a fall theme in decorations, and yearbooks were distributed. Mrs. C. W. Parmenter offered the invocation. Theme of the study for the year is "Today's World," with a discussion on the Berlin crisis slated for the next meeting, Oct. 13.

Mrs. Ira Driver will be hostess for the October meeting at her home, 1206 Johnson, at 3 p.m.

Members heard Mrs. A. C. Bass tell of the meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs which she attended in Miami, Fla., in June.

Lipstick And Liner New In Beauty Field

What an important part lipstick plays in our lives! It's the first make-up a girl demands when she starts turning adult. And it's the one make-up accessory she continues to wear almost constantly most of her life. Why? Because she knows it makes her look prettier. The trick is to apply it with a neat, flattering outline.

Now there's the perfect solution for beautiful lips for everyone. It's an exciting new creamy, long-lasting lipstick and liner combined! Unlike anything you have ever used before, it gives you complete control while you outline and fill in your lips. Now you can skillfully shape your lips in a twinkling any way you please—trim and neat, pouty and flirtatious or softly feminine.

The secret lies in the unique shape and design. It is almost twice as long as old fashioned lipsticks but is only about half as big around. This lets you hold it as you would a pencil to give your lips the most becoming shape. Once you've achieved the perfect outline, two quick strokes over your mouth will fill in for a complete finished effect.

The slender, brushed golden case is jeweler designed and has a chic black flanged tip for contrast. It will last and last and, happy news—these cases are refillable.

And the colors! There is a shade of this smooth wearing lipstick to harmonize with every group of fashion color. These range from brilliant reds, through youthful pinks to the sunny coral family. For added drama, try a darker shade for the outline and fill it in with a lighter harmonizing shade. Very new, very smart, very pretty!

New Speller Is Interesting

Jerry Wayne Stout, his mother, Mrs. Robert Stout, and twin sisters, Jan and Ann, scan pages of the twin's new spelling book which Ann is holding. Questioned about school, the twins say that what they don't like about it is summer vacation.

Stouts Go Dancing— So Goes The Family

When the Robert Stouts go square dancing they are accompanied by twin daughters, Jan and Ann, and son, Jerry Wayne, who, like their mother and father, respond readily to the beat of the music and the voice of the caller.

Employed by Eagle Transport, Stout brought his family to Big Spring from Abilene about three weeks ago. They now reside at 1100 Ridgeroad, and attend the Baptist church. Jan and Ann, both fourth grade students at Boydstun School, hope to receive bicycles for their 10th birthday, Oct. 2. Jerry Wayne does not attend school but he is first on the birthday list next month, having his sixth on Oct. 1.

Swimming, skating, baton twirling and caring for babies in the neighborhood are the girls' favorite pastimes while Jerry Wayne likes nothing better than a good game of cowboys and Indians or horny toad hunting.

With father away much of the time, the children and Mrs. Stout frequently spend their evenings playing games, a large collection of which is ever present.

Jan and Ann are learning homemaking under their mother's guidance. Sewing is of particular interest to them, and on occasion they help to make their own dresses. Too, they have made a few garments for their dolls.

Weekends when Stout is a part of the family group—his time for relaxation—horseshoes are brought forth or a table set up for a fast game of table tennis. Excelling in both games, he is considered champion by his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stout express appreciation of their neighborhood and friends, made since moving to Big Spring, and hope that soon they can begin plans for building a home here.

Broiled Tomatoes Easily Made, Tasty

These broiled tomatoes look so attractive, taste good and are easy to fix.

PARMESAN TOMATOES

3 medium or large tomatoes
¼ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
4 tsps. grated Parmesan cheese
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
Parsley sprigs

Cut tomatoes in half horizontally; place on small cookie sheet (or heavy, foil or small shallow pan) cut side up.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper and Parmesan. Dot with butter.

Garnish with parsley sprigs. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Asparagus, Chicken Is Good Lunch

This dish is sure to please a woman friend when you are entertaining her at noontime.

CHICKEN-ASPARAGUS

16 asparagus stalks
2 large servings cooked sliced chicken
2 tbsps. each butter and flour
½ cup chicken stock
¼ cup milk
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
¼ tsp. sugar
Salt and pepper
1 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Pare asparagus stalks up to buds and cook whole just until tender and still green in a small amount of salted boiling water in a skillet; drain. Divide asparagus between 2 shirred egg dishes or other wide shallow individual baking dishes, cutting off any portion of the asparagus stalks that protrude.

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat melt butter; stir in flour; add stock and milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened.

Off heat, stir in cheese until melted, the sugar and salt and pepper to taste. Spread sauce over chicken; sprinkle with Parmesan and paprika. Broil until hot through and topping is browned. Makes 2 servings.

Skillet Meat Loaf

Did you know you can make meat loaf in a skillet? Use about 1½ pounds of the beef as tha base, pat into an oval-loaf shape, and brown in a little hot fat in the pan. Cover and simmer, basting occasionally with tomato sauce. Turn the loaf once using a couple of wide pancake turners. The loaf will need about an hour before it's done through.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION D — BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1961 — SECTION D

118th District Court May Be A Model For Decorum

By SAM BLACKBURN

According to press dispatches, the judges in the district courts in Dallas and members of the Dallas bar, are seeking to set up rules which will develop better decorum in the court rooms and add to the dignity of legal proceedings handled in the Dallas courts.

Here in Howard County, no such program is needed.

The 118th District Court is, and has been, since the present Howard County Court House was occupied in 1955 comparable to the average federal court for dignity, decorum and orderliness during hearings.

UNNECESSARY SIGN
. . . on District Court Room bench, not needed

COAT, TIES

Attorneys, and other officers of the court, wear coats and, usually ties, when they appear before the bench.

Attorneys and the judge are punctilious in the established rules of court room etiquette. The lawyers arise when they address the bench; they see to it their clients abide by the regulations and customs applicable to them.

There is a sternly observed "no smoking" rule.

No matter how hot the weather, the barristers always are formally—at least semi-formally—c l a d when they take their places at the counsel tables. No matter how long the session may go on, nor how tense nerves may be, no attorney or other person involved in the proceedings, lights up a cigarette while in the court room.

Because of these regulations, the attorneys, the principals, the witnesses and the audience behave with exceptional orderliness all of the time.

It wasn't always thus in Howard County courts, older attorneys recall. In the old days when the old court house was in use, little, if any, emphasis was placed on the matter of court room decorum. The attorneys, in shirt-sleeves and tieless, slumped in their chairs. They smoked when the impulse struck them. They let ashes fall where they might and crushed out their cigarette butts on the scarred floor.

NEW RULES

Attorneys say that the new rules were installed by the late Judge Charlie Sullivan.

When the new court house was completed and the court removed from the old quarters to the new, Judge Sullivan promulgated his "no smoking" rule.

He offered the explanation that the new "bullpen"—the area in which the attorneys and court officials sit—was covered with cork flooring which, he said, burned and scarred easily.

"Actually," says Gil Jones, district attorney, and a close friend of the late judge," there was a little more to it than that.

"Judge Charlie suffered a heart attack shortly before the new court room was occupied. One of the restrictions imposed by his illness was that he must quit smoking. Charlie formerly was a 'chain' smoker and it wasn't easy for him to cut the habit. It certainly wasn't any help when he sat on the bench, presiding in a lengthy hearing, to see the lawyers and others out in front puffing away to their heart's content.

"Anyway, he put the 'no smoking rule' in effect and it's still in force."

AGREED

The attorneys seem to have agreed on the coat-and-tie requirement on their own.

When Judge Sullivan left the bench and Judge Ralph Caton took over the post, the rules remained as they were. Now, they have been in effect so long, no one thinks of violating them.

One result of the regulation has been that the judge's private chamber (which are anything but "private") has become a smoking room. And the big ash tray on Judge Caton's desk usually piles high with cigar and cigarette butts on the days court is in session.

From time to time during proceedings, the attorneys, witnesses and officials of the court quietly tiptoe out of the room into the judge's office. There they light up and puff contentedly until their services are required in the court room.

RECESSES

Judge Caton, who enjoys a good smoke himself, is considerate enough on the litigants to declare short recesses from time to time. As the attorneys, jurors and others parade out of the room, all automatically begin fumbling in their pockets for the makin's.

But insofar as judicial decorum is concerned, the 118th District Court is tops. Dallas, if it wants to study a good example, could do well to come here and watch the local court in action.

Penland Merger Gives Statewide Operations

DALLAS — Penland Distributors, Inc. of Dallas, announced that it has taken over two other wholesale liquor firms—the statewide Texas Wine & Liquor Co., with headquarters in Fort Worth, and Coastal Distributors, Inc. of Corpus Christi.

The merger makes Penland Distributors' operations statewide. The firm, which distributes Schenley products in Texas, will have branches in Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Odessa and San Antonio.

Stockholders of the merged companies, at a meeting, elected new directors who in turn elected officers.

Buford Penland of Dallas was elected president. Also elected were Raymond Willie, Jr. of Dallas, vice president; A. A. Olchoff o' Corpus Christi, vice president; J. D. Patterson and Max Golman of Dallas, vice presidents; Jerry Healy of Odessa, honorary vice president; James L. Hamlet of Dallas, secretary-treasurer and Harry S. Alexander of Dallas, assistant secretary-treasurer.

APRIL DEADLINE

New Inspection Stickers Ready

It's a long time until April 16, 1962 and the inspection sticker which adorns your car may still look fresh and pretty to you.

Never - the - less, if the Department of Public Safety had its way, you'd be getting a new sticker as of right now.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the DPS, has suggested that Sept. 23, officially start of the 1961 fall season, would be an ideal day to have your car safety inspected in preparation for winter driving and cold weather hazards. You would also get a new sticker.

He points out, in passing, that the new 1962 Texas Vehicle Inspection stickers are now in the hands of the 5,000 official inspection stations in the state. There are more than a score of approved inspection points in Big Spring and Howard County. They, too, have inspection stickers.

The order which accompanied the distribution of inspection stickers pointed out that all vehicles which fall under the provision of the inspection act must display the 1962 stickers not later than April 16, 1962.

There is no indication there will be a grand rush of motorists this week in Howard County seeking to have their cars inspected. However, Garrison said that mechanics in the inspection stations have been given an intensive training program the past three months to better qualify them for their job. And, he added, they would be most happy to demonstrate their new skills.

He emphasized, too, that in the 10 years which have passed since the beginning of the inspection program, accidents caused by vehicles having defects have steadily decreased.

Cosden Family Sets A Challenge

It is a brief letter sent out by the Cosden Employes United Fund Advisory Committee over the signatures of D. A. Brazel, Frank Parker, Bill Crooker, Otto Peters Jr., Lloyd Thomas, Keats Watts and J. Y. Smith, but it sets a challenge for all Big Spring and Howard County people who love their community.

Pointing out that in a cost-conscious day that it will be easy to forget the needs of our community agencies, the committee appealed for support. Not all agencies hold the same appeal to every individual, who has the privilege of designating distribution.

"None of us would say that all these agencies should be abolished," said the letter. "None of us would want to live, rear and educate our families in a community where these agencies do not exist. A thriving, prosperous community certainly is closely related to the united spirit of cooperation among its citizens. . . The true spirit of Big Spring and Howard County was revealed recently in rescuing the Crippled Children's Center from abandonment. This organization. . . now is affiliated with the United Fund as one of its agencies.

"Your committee (believes) that our goal should be a day's pay for a better community. . . . Big Spring is advertised as the home of Cosden; we. . . and our families ARE Cosden." Let's prove to all that the real heart of Big Spring beats in the pulse of Cosden employes."

This is an excellent example of the spirit that has made the Cosden family so much an influence for good in our community.

It also is an example of what all others with a sense of responsibility will want to do.

You may be sure, with this humane attitude, that Cosden employes will do their part. What about the rest of us who have just as much at stake in our community?

John Garner's Investment

Former Vice President John N. Garner has made a second gift to Southwest Junior College at Uvalde. This one, for $400,000, was added to $600,000 he gave three weeks ago to the college.

"Everything I have was obtained from this area and I decided to give it back where it came from," he said.

Back in the days when we were promoting the centennial of the discovery of the "big spring," this was the thing we were trying to impress on the public mind.

In the intervening years there has been some notable progress in this direction. The Dora Roberts Foundation, for instance, has provided the student union building at Howard County Junior College as well was having a substantial hand in the YMCA and Salvation Army facilities. Some other firms and individuals have made encouraging investments. These are doing far more toward brightening and assuring the future of our community and area than most of us realize.

John Garner will go on living in Uvalde for generations because he gave back to his community many of the blessings he received from it.

Our Efforts Toward Peace

WASHINGTON — The ray of hope, thin as it must seem in the encircling gloom, is a possible portent that the storm of conflict will subside and the world will survive. Congress has approved a United States disarmament agency that will devote itself wholly to the search for peace.

While it is a small olive branch — $10,000,000 provided for administration and research into methods for arms control and paths to agreement on a future peace — this is nevertheless a beginning. The new agency will be within the Department of State but nevertheless it will have a certain autonomy.

THE EXPECTATION is that it will be headed by William C. Foster, who has proved his abilities in several difficult negotiating assignments and as President Truman's Deputy Secretary of Defense. President Kennedy's current principal adviser on disarmament, John J. McCloy, who became in his months in Washington a convert to the desperate need to find a way out of the jungle of nuclear arms, wants to return to New York. McCloy has some able assistants who will be the nucleus of the new agency.

Again and again in his campaign a year ago candidate Kennedy talked about how few people — less than a hundred was the figure he used — in the vast Federal bureaucracy were giving their full time and effort to the search for peace. This was in contrast to the millions of men and women in government and in industry and the many billions of dollars given over to the multiplication of arms in the defense effort.

A FULL-TIME disarmament agency responsible to the President as well as the Secretary of State was a campaign pledge on which the President has now made good. So is the Peace Corps which in a small way — in a sense of token fashion —stands for the kind of sacrifices that as candidate and in his inaugural address the President called for. The 2,700 young people who will go to various countries to contribute their skills are making genuine sacrifices.

Appraisal of the Kennedy record in the session of Congress now concluding is inevitably made against the backdrop of the fearful demands of this perilous moment. Judged by the standards of normal times, these two measures would be considered major steps forward. They are pioneering efforts and with diligence and good luck they can mean much for the future.

IT WAS NOT initially in the cards that the disarmament agency would get by difference and covert hostility seemed likely to kill the proposal. As the measure passed the Senate the President admitted to his astonishment.

"There was a time," he said, "when Congress. In fact, a combination of in- I thought this had about as much chance of getting by as we have of getting to the moon next week."

HE WAS TALKING to Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, majority whip of the Senate who has been one of the President's most loyal and at the same time discreet lieutenants. Both the disarmament agency and the Peace Corps owe a great deal to his efforts. He had a major hand in helping to restore the foreign aid appropriation on the Senate side.

In the long and often-troubled history of Presidential friendships loyalty and discretion stand high on the plus side. One of the faults for which Humphrey was often criticized in the past was a seemingly incurable gift of gab. He could and would talk 300 words to the minute on almost any subject under the sun.

THE SENATOR has developed in recent months a gift for silence at the right times, which is part of a maturity that has greatly enhanced his usefulness. After their fierce tangle in the primaries in Wisconsin and West Virginia one might have thought that Humphrey would carry a grudge at least to the extend of standing by to see whether his successful rival was going to make it in the impossible office of the Presidency.

But instead he has done everything in his power to try to further the success of the Administration. During his trip to Berlin in July, which he took on his own initiative, he made a determined effort to stir discussion of the need for constructive proposals that would not leave the West merely reacting to the action of the Soviets. He worked hard to marshal support for the new disarmament agency.

AMONG THE military witnesses to testify to the need for such an agency was General Eisenhower, who as President for eight years knew at firsthand how limited and how often hamstrung was the work of the few men delegated to explore the ways to peace. President Kennedy's intention is to ask his predecessor to serve as chairman of a citizen's council that will work with the new disarmament agency.

In his close relationship with the President, and perhaps no one outside his own official family has had more of the President's time, Humphrey has observed a cardinal rule of Presidential friendship. To have been proved right in any discussion when events may have proved the President wrong must be a closely guarded secret. To advertise it even indirectly is to destroy confidence.

Free Food Program

Officials Report Little Abuse In Surplus Distribution

By The Associated Press

Is Uncle Sam's free food program good or bad for the country?

Does it, as some complain, make able-bodied men and women shiftless so that they spurn work as long as the larder is well stocked?

Does it cut down on the grocers' sales?

What about reports that allegedly needy have driven to distribution stations in Cadillacs and carted away free rations?

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has no doubts about the merits of the program.

He says: "We are using America's food abundance. As long as there are hungry people in this country, or as long as families have inadequate diets because they cannot buy the food the farmer produces, we intend to find way to use the unsurpassed capacity to serve human need."

The program was expanded shortly after President Kennedy took office. Additional foods were added to the direct distribution list, and more needy persons were added to the rolls, both at the President's direction. As a result food distribution is running at about three times the level of a year earlier.

The Agriculture Department estimates that slightly more than 14 million children will participate in the school lunch program this year. It also reports that 6.8 million persons in 46 states, the District of Columbia and the territories participated in the direct distribution program during the 1961 fiscal year ended June 30. This compared with 3.4 million a year earlier.

Additionally, 248,000 persons are participating in a food stamp plan under which the government makes stamps available to needy persons for purchase of foods at regular grocery stores. The stamps are redeemed from grocery stores by the department through the banking system.

Under the direct distribution plan, certain foods acquired by the Agriculture Department under its price support and related surplus disposal programs are donated to the states, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and to the territories for use in the nonprofit school lunch program and for needy persons in charitable institutions and family units.

With a program so widespread and vast, it was inevitable that complaints of abuses would arise. The Associated Press uncovered surprisingly few instances of out-and-out chiseling.

For example, John Sanford, supervisor of the commodity unit of the Oklahoma Public Welfare Department, says he doesn't think able-bodied men are turning down work to get the food.

"There isn't enough to justify turning down a job," he observed.

Marvin E. Larson, Kansas Welfare Director, said his office had received a complaint that a woman appeared in a Cadillac and picked up free groceries.

"That checked out to be a volunteer church worker who was picking up an order for someone incapacitated," Larson added.

At Wichita, a Welfare Department official said "There certainly, to our knowledge, has been no one (who turned) down private employment in order to receive public assistance—they could be terminated on assistance if they even refused to take a job washing dishes, for example."

Floyd Quinlisk, Executive Secretary of the Wichita Independent Businessmen's Association, which includes many grocers, commented:

"I've had absolutely no complaints, and our members are in the habit of speaking out at everything they don't like. They must feel that these are surplus foods, and it's better to give them to those who need them than let them go to waste."

Dona Girard, chairman of the Lewiston, Maine, Health and Welfare Board, said "If welfare people weren't receiving free food, they could not buy it at stores. They would have to do without."

Paul D. McClay, General Relief Director for Maine, said: "The town officials would be hot on the track of any who were turning down jobs."

In Connecticut, welfare officials said they had not heard of any abuses nor adverse criticism.

Massachusetts sources said apparently the $5 or so weekly benefits for a family of four has not resulted in any abuses. Nor was there any adverse reaction from grocers.

Thomas D. Sheehan, administrator of Jackson County, Mo., surplus food distribution, said "Most of these people are very, very grateful and very appreciative of what they get. We have found very few cheaters."

However, Sheehan added, "Grocers in low-income areas are not so happy. One Kansas City grocer said his business was down about 10 per cent."

Robert F. McGonagle, chief of the commodity distribution in the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, said "It's a good program—one of the best. We've received some complaints about people picking up the food in taxicabs or cars, or that the recipients are too healthy looking. But usually the complaints are vague — no names."

C. W. (Jack) Skinner, director of the Wyoming Welfare Department, remarked, "There has been a minimum of criticism of our program."

He said there probably was not one case in 500 in which a man who could be working was using the surplus foods.

In California, the Education Department, which distributes and stores the food, said it had received no complaints.

William Herndon, director of the commodity distribution division of the Texas Department of Public Welfare, said there was an upsurge in participation soon after the program was broadened but this is now on a decline.

He said most participating counties—70 of Texas' 254 counties participated in the federal-state-county program in February—think the broadened menu was a good thing "but more and more are concerned with the validity of case loads."

Herndon estimated that less than 10 counties refuse to give aid if there is an employable adult in the family asking help. "However, more and more are thinking in that vein," he added.

Suppressive Drugs Prevent Malaria Flare-Ups

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I contracted malaria about four years ago and have had two attacks since. I wonder what effect quinine has, and why I am subject to occasional chills and so much fatigue after each attack. Are there any preventive measures? And what is the general effect of malaria on a person's health?—Mrs. L. A."

Although death from malaria is very rare in North America, and the disease has been quite well subdued; this letter may be a needed reminder that we are not yet entirely free of the disease.

Other parts of the world have a great deal of malaria. In India, for example, as recently as 1950 there were estimates of 300 million new cases and three million deaths in a single year!

The cause is a parasite carried by the anopheles mosquito. Suppressing this insect is the key to stopping malaria.

The parasite, once in the blood stream, attaches itself to a red blood cell and multiplies. In about two days the red cell bursts, a dozen or two of the new parasites invade other red cells, and the process continues over again, many times.

Chills, and fever up to 104 or 105, general aching, poor appetite, marked fatigue, anemia all are part of the malaria picture. About two patients in five may have a chronic headache.

For over a century quinine has been the standard drug for malaria and given in small (5-grain) suppressive doses to prevent flare-ups.

It may take many months or years to rid the system entirely of the parasites. Some of them continue for a long time to exist in certain types of tissue cells and occasionally break out into the blood stream to bring on relapses, or recurrences of the symptoms.

In World War II and even more so since the Korean fighting, there has been the development of a number of other drugs, among them chloroquin (aralen), quinacrine (atabrine) and amodiaquin (camoquin), which are effective in suppressing malaria, but which may have toxic side effects. For that reason careful dosage and periodic supervision by a physician are essential. It may be that some combination of drugs may prove superior to the use of one alone.

A program of suppressive treatment is in order. Quinine works rapidly to suppress attacks; some of the drugs appear to have more ability to prevent further relapses.

The question of general effect on a person's health is mainly answered by point to the periodic disability of flare-ups of the disease. Suppressive drugs to prevent such flare-ups until the system has rid itself of the parasites is the obvious solution.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I broke my hip six months ago. It seems to me that doctors should give out a small pamphlet on how to take care of oneself while mending. I thought you might be able to give advice. Most doctors tell you nothing and just dump you out of the hospital to worry it out. I am 56 years old and weigh 230.—C. G."

Here I go—losing a loyal reader! But I doubt that you were "dumped out of the hospital to worry it out." Most doctors give instructions on what to do and what not to do after a fracture. Did you listen? Did you ask anything that puzzled you? Or are you hoping I'll give you some "easy" advice? If so—my advice is to start losing 30 or more of those 230 pounds.

Around The Rim

Reading Time: A Minute And A Half

President Kennedy has my compliments for having revived the popularity of the rocking chair — this is a wonderful thing; but he's got everybody off on another tack which I must protest.

That is this gimmick called "speed reading." Young JFK is supposed to devour ponderous tomes in a matter of hours, and to digest lengthy reports in minutes. Well, if he's that sharp he deserves to be President, but the trouble is, there's not enough of the rest of us who can understand what we're reading at any speed.

AND THE BUSINESS of trying to get everybody to finish his weekly magazine in 30 minutes — what's that got us?

If Americans are suffering from a common ailment, it might be a tendency toward superficiality, which is a big word meaning we don't delve deeply enough into our problems. This skim reading is only going to make it worse.

THERE ARE NOW correspondence courses being offered on how to speed up your reading. You can project this into a circumstance whereby readers would be so fast that they would skip over the correspondence lessons!

The following paragraphs come from a Southern newspaper which observed that less than one person in ten will be able to read the article, with comprehension, in 30 seconds. If your reading is not at that rate, then supposedly here's a way you can improve it:

(1) DRAW A LINE down the center of this newspaper column. On each line of print, focus your attention on the drawn line, and, at the same time, on the first letter of the first word and the last letter of the last word. Go all the way down the column — not reading, just stretching your "seeing span."

(2) Draw a center line down another newspaper column. On each printed line, take in everything on the left of the drawn line, and then on the right of the line. This will train you to see two or more words at a glance.

(3) AFTER mastering the above, divide another newspaper column in the same way while focusing on the drawn line, try to see the entire printed line at one time.

(4) When you can see three or more words at a glance, cover a line of print with a card. As you uncover and then cover the line rapidly, try to read it. If you cannot read the entire line, repeat the uncovering and covering until you finish the line. Repeat this on other lines.

GOT IT? If you comprehend all the above numbered paragraphs in 30 seconds, you don't even need to bother. You might get a job on JFK's staff — if you went to the right college and you're young enough.

I checked the matter out, and figured that by the time I drew all the lines down the columns, and fetched a card for covering and uncovering, and got caught up on my blinking and unblinking, I could have read the article in my own good old slow time.

As far as that business of seeing two or more words at one time, this can be done by taking about six slugs of bourbon, but after that who wants to read?

LET'S ADMIT, some writings — the real, real good ones — need to be read slowly, for savoring and for inward enjoyment. If you get to be one of those speed demons, how will you ever know the difference between good and bad?

The President ought to be consistent. Either he puts us in rocking chairs for leisure reading, or he makes speed readers out of us so we run all the more.

—BOB WHIPKEY

GOP Voices Hope For 1962

Holmes Alexander is on vacation. During his absence a number of prominent and interesting guests will contribute columns.

By Rep. ROBERT J. CORBETT (R-Pa.)

WASHINGTON — In preparation for the 1962 Congressional election, the Republican party will carry a grassroots campaign to the pavements of the nation's big cities and the sprawling suburban areas which surround them.

As a party, we realize that the task is sizable. In 1960, we carried only 14 of the 40 cities with a population of over 300,000 in the United States. We lost the Presidential election because of the preponderant Democratic vote in such cities as Chicago, Philadelphia and New York.

OUR PROBLEMS in the city are chiefly education and organizational — and are admittedly monumental. However, we feel highly optimistic that the tremendous vote margins rolled up by opposition political machines in the major cities can be trimmmed back substantially.

A pragmatic example of voter education effectiveness was a recent mayoralty election in St. Louis. Richard M. Nixon lost the city by 100,000 votes. Subsequently, an intensive GOP educational effort succeeded in doubling the Republican vote in the city and cutting back the Democratic margin by nearly 40,000 votes. This was accomplished with a revitalized Republican organization which will flex its political muscles fully in future contests.

Although Congressional races in the big cities have given Republicans less worrisome times than the national races, the job we face in 1962 is formidable — but not by any means insurmountable.

Big cities lend themselves to organization. With Democratic scandals rocking the metropolitan areas, the decay of bossism is apparent. The public demand for good Government, honest balloting and candidates of high caliber will be great. We Republicans expect to benefit from all these factors.

BUT, WHILE IT often is said that the trouble with Republicans is that they spend too much time talking to other Republicans, we are now embarked on a program of organization. We are trying to revitalize presently-defunct GOP organizations which have been ineffective in performing the tasks of keeping our party a separate and dynamic entity. We are meeting enthusiastic response. The traditional, automatic tendency for city people to vote Democratic is being overcome as more and more Americans realize that taxation, inflation and destruction of individual liberties must be checked if we are to survive as a healthy nation.

ONE OF OUR fertile fields for organization is in the suburbs — where most of the people who work in the city have their voting residences. Here home-owners, many with large families, feel the pinch of increased taxation. Here also is an area with a traditional Republican background, one which will be revived and strengthened.

We will field a vigorous slate of candidates for Congress, many of them for the first time in serious contention instead of in token opposition to the city machines.

AN INTENSIVE "talent hunt" for good candidates is in process. We intend to field high-caliber candidates who are articulate, conversant with problems in their cities, and capable of communicating to various city groups the need for a Republican Congress to halt the drift away from the Constitutional principles of our founders.

I have every confidence that a Republican resurgence in the urban and suburban areas will account for a substantial number of the 44 seats we need to regain control of the House of Representatives in 1962.

Time To Tell The World About Russia

WASHINGTON — What an opportunity President Kennedy now has to go before the United Nations and state the case against the Soviet Union! What a chance to enlighten peoples all over the world—including those behind the Iron Curtain—so that hereafter it will be manifest hypocrisy for the U.N. to ignore the aggressive and sinister plotting in which the Moscow government is continuously engaged!

A SIMPLE RECITATION of the facts of what happened from June 1950 on in Korea could dispose of the effort of the Soviets to gain admission for Communist China as a member of the U.N. It could clarify the same issue in Laos, in the Congo, in Cuba, and in other areas where the Soviet Union is undermining the people's freedom.

For the main issue has been obscured too long. The fundamentals are being ignored today by those nations which, strangely enough, seem willing to reward an aggressor state with a seat in the U.N.

The story begins as an army of 60,000 North Koreans, with 100 Russian-built tanks, invaded South Korea on June 25, 1950. They violated the 38th parallel, which had been established at the end of World War II as the dividing line between Communist-controlled North Korea and the newly-created Republic of South Korea.

THE COMMUNIST plot to seize all of Korea failed because of the courageous and timely action of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson in immediately ordering American forces in the Far East to help the South Koreans. This step was promptly ratified by the United Nations at a Security Council meeting.

THE PART played thereafter by the Soviet Union in actually making war on the United Nations army has never been discussed as fully as it should be. It is a matter of record, however, that the United Nations, on February 1, 1951—by formal resolution—declared Communist China an "aggressor." Shall that aggressor now be rewarded?

The U.N., unfortunately, took no steps against the treasonable acts of the Soviet Union. No resolutions were adopted formally denouncing the Soviet disregard of the charter. How can any international organization profess to be the friend of small nations, or to be interested in preventing wars, when it closes its eyes to the perfidious behavior of one of its principal members?

PRESIDENT KENNEDY need not remain silent on this question. Many people may perhaps have forgotten what happened in the Korean War. But the parents and relatives of the more than 54,000 Americans who died and of the 103,000 who were wounded in that conflict can never forget.

The President of the United States is the spokesman of freedom in the world. He need not be concerned with the petty politics of the "uncommitted" or "nonaligned" nations who are afraid to stand up for basic principles and who pursue instead policies of timidity, if not indifference toward the crimes of the Soviet Union.

THE DEBATE ON the issue of Red China's admission to the United Nations furnishes a timely opportunity to proclaim the whole philosophy of freedom against tyranny, free government against autocracy, and the cause of peace as against those who would precipitate war.

THE PRESIDENT of the United States has an almost made-to-order occasion to issue now before the United Nations General Assembly a clarion call for decency, morality and a sense of justice, so that, if war has to come, the issues will be clear.

State's Rights Is Costly When Pushed To Extremes

By HOUSTON HARTE

CANBERRA, Australia—A shining example of what state's rights, when carried to an extreme, can do to a nation is seen in the plight of the present Australian railroads.

Australia's states, while preserving their state's rights built their roadbeds on five separate width gauges and made through service impossible between the states. This has been an almost insurmountable handicap to domestic commerce. It also gave the nation's transportation to the trucks and the airlines. The states which own the railroads have tried many ways to force travel away from the trucks and the airlines, but the people will not stand for it.

There are but 26,331 miles of railroad in Australia. This is about the mileage operated by the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe combined. One of the reasons is that in the last quarter of a century, particularly since the beginning of the Second World War, Australians have recognized what Australia needed first was a standard gauge throughout the present system. This was recognized to be more essential than more miles of different gauges.

DIFFERENT GAUGES

Australia's six states have five different gauged tracks. They range in width from five feet three inches in Victoria to two feet in parts of Queensland. Only this year did Queensland and New South Wales agree on our standard gauge, four feet 10 inches, and provide the first through service between Brisbane and Sydney.

On a trip to Melbourne from Sydney our New South Wales train of four feet eight and a half inches carried us to Albury at the Victoria border. There we drew up alongside the Victoria train which travels on a five-foot three-inch gauge. All passengers carried their luggage across to the Melbourne train and after a half hour we went south on the wider gauge.

There is sleeper service between these two cities of almost two million each. But the trains must arrange their schedules to do the platform crossing in the daytime.

The Canberra government is supplementing the cost of the change to standard gauge. The states have agreed not to build any additional mileage except at the standard width. It is said the standard gauge between Sydney and Melbourne will be completed by Christmas. This will give Australia standard gauge from Melbourne north to Sydney, Brisbane and most of Queensland, a distance of 3,000 miles. Soon standard gauge will provide through service around the eastern, southern and part of the western perimeter of Australia. It will serve three-fourths of the nation.

CITIES FEARED

In the days of the Crown Colonies the Australian states feared Melbourne and Sydney and Melbourne and Sydney feared each other. They wanted to be self contained and not dependent on New South Wales and Victoria. Making it almost impossible for interstate commerce was one of the protective measures taken to protect state trade.

Unloading and reloading freight was not as costly as it appears now because the states enforced tariffs and custom duties on their sister states even though they accepted manufactured goods from outside the continent duty free. Business jealousy never was expressed in a more costly experiment.

Australia's railroad rolling stock is much lighter than ours. With standardization of gauges imminent, little new equipment has been bought since the start of the war. In railroad yards between Sydney and Melbourne you could see the repair work going on on the old gauge "wagons" as Australian cars are called. It's quite a job to widen a car. It appears to be easier to cut the four and a half inches off the Victoria width. What can be done with the motive power is something else again. The old coal burners can be junked, and the new diesels may have been ordered with standardization in view.

PRODUCTIVE

The country between Sydney and Melbourne and between Melbourne and Canberra is some of the most productive in Australia. Every station had concrete elevators to store the grain which this spring looked almost perfect. Thousands of cattle and sheep were grazing on it, but in a few weeks they will be put on pastures and the wheat and oats left to mature.

This area has been cleared of its timber and the deep red soil appears to have no bottom. It is said 60 per cent of Australia's cattle are Shorthorns, but from the train it looked like more than half of the animals were Herefords.

Melbourne is growing as fast as Sydney and soon will have two million people. Its streets were laid out a century ago, but whether they had a J. M. Millspaugh, who wanted San Angelo's streets wide enough for a team of oxen to turn around without backing, I can't say, but Melbourne' 100-foot streets everywhere make a city of distinction. Now I know why visitors to San Angelo always remark about our 70 and 80-foot wide streets.

Melbourne is the financial capital of Australia. The downtown area is lined with banks, savings and loan associations and insurance companies. It has a Wall Street look.

NEW HOTEL

Pan American Airlines is building a downtown hotel as big as the Dallas Statler-Hilton. It has a curved facade like the Dallas hotel. It appears larger than the Sydney Chevron Hilton, which is on the fringe of the city. These two hotels will do considerable to encourage travel in Australia.

Canberra, the new capital of the Commonwealth, was selected as a result of the intense struggle between Melbourne and Sydney for the capital. In 1909 the actual area of the Australian Capital Territory was selected and a development commission appointed to lay out and build the city. At that time it was part of a large sheep and cattle station. In 1911 the Commonwealth held a worldwide competition for a design of the new city. Walter Burley Griffin of Chicago won the 1,750-pound prize for the accepted design.

Canberra gets its name from the station which once occupied the site. Most views of Canberra in the United States give an entirely erroneous idea of the city. It is situated along the Molonglo River surrounded by low hills and further back snow covered mountains, which provide an almost year-round ski run. Instead of being flat and desert looking, the area has 30 inches or more of rainfall and in September the soil and everything it grows was bursting in the bloom of early spring.

CHERRY BLOSSOMS

There are more Japanese cherry blossom trees in Canberra than in Washington, D. C., and in early September they rival the pinkest and most fragrant anywhere. Amid them were the yellow wattle trees whose light yellow blossoms put the cherry trees to shame.

The largest embassies in Canberra are those of the South Pacific nations whom we hardly consider powers. Our embassy is on a 10-to-20-acre site commanding a hill which slopes away from the buildings to a circular drive around it. The buildings are Georgian in the best Williamsburg style. After trying three places for a postcard you were told "we just can't keep these cards in stock, they are gone a day after we get a new supply, no matter how many we order."

Catholics Plan Fund Campaign For Activities

Catholics in the Amarillo Diocese are undertaking a diocesan fund campaign to finance a number of activities, including interparish high schools.

Included are schools at Midland-Odessa as well as at San Angelo, Lubbock and Amarillo. Midland has its site picked out on a 40-acre tract northwest of Midland Airpark.

Plans for the campaign were announced in a pastoral letter from Bishop John L. Morkovsky of Amarillo. A. E. Herrmann, Amarillo oil man, has been named general chairman of the campaign. Associate chairmen are John M. Sweeney, Odessa, Anthony Willeke, San Angelo, and Frank Weil, Hale Center. John L. Buckley, Midland, is regional chairman.

Other objectives of the drive, which will be kicked off in October, are erection of a minor seminary at Amarillo; acceleration of a program to establish a diocesan home for elderly people; retirement of debt on the children's home; the establishment of retreats.

from ages 18 to 52. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay as high as $444.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service helps thousands prepare for these tests every year. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

RUNNELS

Runnels Students Elect Class Officers, Enter Essay Contest

By CANDY BACUS

Runnels seventh grade cheerleaders are really getting into the swing of things. Their uniforms are very sharp. They have red corduroy vests with "Yearlings" imprinted on them and red knee-tickler skirts. To top it off, they have red velveteen shoes. These cheerleaders went to Sweetwater last Thursday with the boys. The game resulted in a tie.

The freshman football team and cheerleaders went to San Angelo. They played Edison and were defeated with a score of 16 to 6.

Yearbook pictures for the freshman and the ninth grade teachers will be made Sept. 28-29. Runnels students entered an essay contest sponsored by Kiwanis Club and Webb AFB last week. The topic was "What America Means to Me."

Installation of the FHA executive council will be held Oct. 3 at the high school. Sept. 29 the first regular FHA meeting will be held.

Officers for the eighth grade Hi-Y are: Steve Underwood, president; Danny Walling, vice president; secretary, Roger Terry; treasurer, Danny Lane; social director, Butch Colvin. Ray Thomas sponsors these boys.

Leading the freshman class this year as president is Andria Askins. Vice president is Paula Leonard; secretary, Dana Lou Rosene; treasurer, Nancy Sessions; representative — Peggy Spier, Pam Vines, Beverly Womack, Jerry Peurifoy, and Sherry Stevens.

Class officers for the eighth grade class are Bobby Griffin, president; Susan Baker, vice president; Harvelyn Adams, secretary; Betty Pedro, treasurer; representatives — Cindy Jones, Susie Engle, Jimmy Johnson and Lara Smith.

Heading the seventh grade class as president is Larry Peurifoy; vice president, Juz Campbell, secretary, Linda Jones; treasurer, Susie Garcia; representatives—Sandra Sessions, Sue Ann Fallon, Wynelle Collins, Linda Thompa and Mike Ray.

Runnels eighth and ninth grade Yearlings will play Sweetwater next Thursday there while the seventh plays Travis of Snyder there.

All of you remember to throw your candy wrappers in the baskets provided for them outside in order to keep our campus clean and neat. In other words, let's not be "Litterbugs!"

Seventh Grade Cheerleaders

BSHS FHA Names Officers; Classes Nominate Leaders

By MARILYN GUM

Raider fan's enthusiasm will hit a high peak this week as they prepare the "TWELFTH" man to meet our old traditional foe, the Sweetwater Mustangs. Pep Squad and cheerleaders are busily preparing signs and pep rallies for Friday night's game.

Chapter officers of FHA have been elected. Serving as Chapter III officers are: Jane Tamplin, president; Ann Drinkard, vice president; Katie Bess Morgan, secretary; Gloria Greenwood, treasurer; Linda McNew, reporter; Martha Thompson, historian; Carla Sledge, parliamentarian; Sylvia Cole, song leader.

The officers of Chapter I, sponsored by Miss Edna McGregor, are: Alice Long, president; Margaret Gary, vice president; Tommie Lou Hutto, secretary; Yolanda Garret, treasurer; Karen Walker, reporter; Katherine Hepner, parliamentarian; Gwynn Davis, historian; Suzanne Compton, song leader. Plans are being made for the installation of officers to be held in the near future.

Officers of Chapter II will be: Lois Tarbox, president; Joe Anna Patterson, vice president; Thresa Foster, secretary; Charlotte Shive, treasurer; Cheryl Whittington, reporter; Jane McElrath, historian; Christy Liles, parliamentarian; Jan Anderson, song leader. Installation of officers is scheduled for October 3, at 7:00 in BSHS auditorium. Plans are being made to attend the District Meeting in Big Lake October 7.

The BSHS Steerettes, holding the honor of state champions for many years, have begun workouts for a busy schedule. Tryouts for the team were held last week. Steerettes serving on the team are Carol Bohannon, Gayle Bratcher, Rosemary Bustamente, Beverly Casey, Janice Cobb, Suzanne Compton, Joyce Davidson, Eileen Farquhar, Gloria Greenwood, Mozelle Groebl.

Others on the team are Sara Homan, Rosemary Horn, Jinny Jackson, Virginia Mancha, Kathleen Morton, Sharon Mullins, Marie Neece and Linda Parker. Also playing volleyball are Vickie Parkhill, Judy Pate, Kay Peacock, Martha Thompson, Diane Womack, Lynda McDonald, Sherry Aton, Priscilla Grizzard, Judy Marsh, Asucena Olguin, Kay Oakes, Suzanne Peters, Sharon Talley, Jane Womack, Dominga Correa, Diane McEwen, Elnoga Baker, Martha Glickman and Valena Mieland.

The Key Club, a service organization for betterment of school and community, discussed plans for the coming year at their first meeting. The club has made preparations for several projects during the year. Officers for the year are Max Moore, president; Don Alexander, vice president; Chester Smith, secretary; Greg Gossett, treasurer. At the next meeting they will elect their club sweetheart for 1961-62. Preparations for a membership drive are also being made. The club presently has 32 members.

The first paid assembly of the year will be held Thursday, Sept. 28. Dramatic adventures in chalk, featuring Bob Williams, a brilliant young American cartoonist - entertainer, will be held during the second period. The unique use of fluorescent chalk and black lighting produces a spectacular effect which never fails to delight the audience. The price is 10 cents.

Wilbur Cunningham, algebra teacher at BSHS, has been called to active duty in the National Guard. Cunningham is the only teacher on the campus who has been called for active duty. I'm sure students will hate to see him leave.

The Steers B team journeyed to Sweetwater last night for a tangle with the Mustangs.

It's fantastically amazing at all the new - fangled hair - dos to be seen these days and times around the campus. The senior and junior football boys have more or less gone razor happy giving haircuts to the sophomore boys. If you care to see any of the works of art, just take a look at any sophomore who plays football. Keep a cool head, boys !

The Pep Squad has been working very hard on the card section, this past week. Monday and Thursday afternoons have been set up as permanent meeting days. As a money making project the Pep Squad will be selling decals. These decals are priced at 25 cents. Come on Steer supporters, get a decal for your car.

Don't forget to watch Steer football with Coach Emmett McKenzie Monday night at 6:00 on KEDY-TV.

Class officer elections were held Friday morning. Senior class officer candidates were: president-Dick Ebling, Jimmy Hinds, and Chap Smith; vice president-Gayle Bratcher and Jerry Tucker; secretary - Beverly Ann Casey, Mozelle Groebl, and Lynn Wood.

Candidates for junior class offices are: president-Donnie Clanton; vice president-Sandra Crawford, Pat Hampton, Darla Moore, and George Rice; for secretary Carolyn Hoover, Bill Andrews, and Karen Walker.

Running for sophomore class officers are: president - Richard Bethell; vice president - Tony Carillo, Cheryl Whittington, Judy Marsh, Diane McEwen, and Tommy Lou Hutto; secretary - Jan Anderson, Martha Glickman, and Joanna Patterson.

Tri - Hi - Y and Hi - Y meetings are well under way for the year. Meetings are held at the YMCA every Monday night at 7:30 Following each meeting a social hour is scheduled. Plans are being formulated for Pre - ledge, which will be held in Abilene on Oct. 28.

A caravan of students went on a safari to Snyder for a Tiger hunt last Friday night.

Don't forget the Corral sales end this Friday. Prices $1.50 for the year.

SANDIE CLANTON

Sandie Clanton Is Sweetheart

By LINDA THOMAS

COAHOMA — At its last meeting, the FFA Chapter elected its sweetheart. She is Sandie Clanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clanton Jr. The next meeting was set for Oct. 2, when the Big Spring FFA Chapter will install the new officers and the greenhands will be initiated. The public is invited.

The student council had its first meeting Wednesday morning. Jean Newman was elected reporter of the council. The members who attended the student council workshop in San Antonio this past summer gave reports of their meetings. The Boy and Girl of the Month were elected. They are Frankie Firenza, senior, and Jon Ellen Ford, junior. Frankie, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Firenza, is an outstanding halfback on the football team, vice president of the National Honor Society, and a member of the Church of Christ. Jon Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ford, is head cheerleader, secretary of the National Honor Society, assistant editor of the annual, and a member of the student council.

The annual staff reports that they are still selling annuals. Don't forget to buy your yearbook from your class representative.

Red and white prevailed in the halls of CHS Friday, as the supporters of the Bulldogs donned their togs in observance of "Color Day." Friday night the Bulldogs went to Loraine for their game.

SC Members Installed Thurs.

By MARSHA BRISTOW

This week Fort Stockton comes to Stanton to play football. Naturally we hope that we beat them, but we also hope that they have a safe trip and enjoy our hospitality while they are here. Welcome, Fort Stockton!!

The FHA Chapter has really been working this week. The magazine sale is still in full swing. We will continue selling magazines until Tuesday, Sept. 26. If you are interested in subscribing to a magazine, let any of the FHA girls know. Also plans are being made for District Meeting which will be held in Big Lake, Oct. 7. Kay Bryan, our local vice president, is also District president, and she will preside at the meeting. We also elected girls to run for district and area office. Kay Bryan will run for an area office, and Joanna Epley will run for a district office. Marilyn Sale will serve the chapter as voting delegate. Good luck, girls!

Friday the freshmen looked very funny! They wore tow sacks; the girls wore one high heel; the boys wore one boot; they wore ribbons around their ankles; the girls wore 15 pigtails in their hair; the boys wore long earrings. They generally presented a very funny picture!! It was a lot of fun for everyone, especially the upper-classmen!

The student council installed its new members Thursday morning in assembly. The president, Glenda Payne, read the oath of office to the new council members as they repeated it after her. The student body also took an oath to work with the student council. Another thing the SC did this week was select their representatives to the Southern Association of Student Councils. They are Glenda Payne, senior, Ann Yater, junior, Mary Glaspie, sophomore, and Mary Wilson, freshman.

June Foresyth Wins Free Record Via Megaphone

June Foresyth, student at Goliad Junior High School is this week's winner of the record to be given away by the Record Shop. The winner may pick up a certificate at the Herald and take it to the Record Shop to receive a record.

Would you like to win a free record? You can by filling out the form below and sending it to the Herald or giving it to your school correspondent.

In addition to a free 45-rpm to be given away each week, Oscar Glickman, owner of the Record Shop, will offer a long-playing record as a bonus once a month.

Flower Grove Student Council Elects G. Caughman President

By CAROLE WADE

FLOWER GROVE — Flower Grove met and organized a Parent-Teacher Association Monday night. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Bob Hill, first vice president, Mrs. Robert Waldrop, second vice president, Mrs. R. J. Deatherage; secretary and reporter, Mrs. E. D. Holcomb; historian, Mrs. Orvis Davis. The P-TA will meet regularly every third Monday night of each month at 8:30.

The student council met last Wednesday morning and the following officers were elected; Glynn Caughman, president; Dan Lemon, vice president; Martha Carmicheal, secretary and treasurer; Lawana Froman, reporter. The council discussed having coke machines placed in the school. The students also wanted to have the school lunch room menu planned and printed ahead of time. Another student council project is to buy a new flag pole for the school. Each class is to decide what booth they would like to have for the Halloween Carnival. They are to report it to the student council representatives and it will be brought up at the next meeting. The student council meets on the third Wednesday of each month.

The FHA girls and their sponsor, Miss Joan Gallagher, will be making a trip to Big Lake on Oct. 7 for a District FHA meeting. Each FHA member is invited to attend, but it is now known yet as to how many girls will go.

High school girls have begun basketball practice this past week. Fourteen girls are coming out for practice which includes the six new freshmen.

The Flower Grove Dragons played Toyah last Friday night. The Dragon team has good prospects of winning that regional title again this year. They will play Grand Falls next weekend at Grand Falls for their fourth game of the season.

FORSAN HIGH NEWS

Senior Rings Here; Annual Subscription Campaign In Progress; Paper Published

By BONNIE SIMPSON

FORSAN — Tuesday, Sept. 19, the student council held its second meeting. It was decided that they would have a student council bulletin board again this year as they have in the past. Each member is responsible for a certain section and puts up things of interest for the rest of the high school. This has been very successful in the past and should prove to be even more successful this year. Each student council member was urged to inform the members of his class of the activities of the student council in order to create a greater interest in its works.

Student Council Officers

An FHA meeting was held in the high school cafeteria Monday night at 7:30 p.m. Dana Parker was chosen voting delegate for the district meeting to be held in Big Lake next month. Nominees were also picked to run for offices at the area and district meeting. They are Rosemary Wall, nominee for district meeting, and Lanell Overton, nominee for area meeting. A panel discussion on FHA was the program. Members of the panel were Mrs. J. W. Overton, Darla Dunagan, Glynda Roberts, Jannette Strickland, Rosemary Wall, Dena Parker and Helen Holladay. The girls answered roll call by telling how they thought FHA prepared them for the future. The FHA Chapter parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin Elrod and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stockton.

The long awaited day finally arrived! The seniors received their rings last week. The seniors weren't the only ones who were anxious to get them. Everyone, from freshmen on up, were eagerly awaiting their arrival. This is the first year the rings have been standarized and everyone wanted to see what they looked like. They're really very pretty and everyone seemed well pleased with them.

The yearbook subscription campaign is in full swing. Everyone who wants one, be sure to pay for it or put up a deposit. The price is $3.50 or $1.50 deposit. Next week will probably mark the end of the sales so if you have not gotten yours, get it now.

Special notice to pupils taking Spanish: If you want to join the Spanish Club be sure to pay your dues to the secretary. The dues are $3.50 for the year.

After a week of rest the football team played Gail Friday night. The boys were cheered on and everyone was filled with school spirit at the noon pep rally. The pep squad provided entertainment at half - time with a marching routine and the Captain of the Pep Squad and cheerleaders were introduced.

New Dictionary

A simple, yet important new idea in educational aids introduced this fall eliminates in one stroke the word-poor student's traditional refuge, "I didn't have a dictionary with me." It is a 15,000-word dictionary (compressed into 32 pages), punched and packaged with the notebook index dividers used by virtually every high school and college student.

HCJC Groups Elect Officers

By LYN CLAWSON

Howard County Junior College settled into a regular routine this week as students got used to their schedules, learned their way around the campus and got back into the habit of studying.

Phi Theta Kappa had a meeting Monday during the activity period. Harley Fritz was elected vice president for this school year and Marilyn Bigham was elected Interclub Social Council Representative. Doug Davis, president, and Barbara Jo Moelling, secretary, were elected at the end of last year. Doug reported on the national convention trips. The following committee heads were appointed: Harley Fritz, executive committee; Barbara Jo Moelling, financial; Roy Cebic, publicity; Marilyn Bigham, social; Sammy Waters, service.

Also during the activity period Monday, the annual staff met with Harold Dobbs, representative of Color Press, Inc. School pictures will be taken Oct. 2-4 in the parlor of the Student Union Building. Boys are to wear coats and ties.

The speech department, one of HCJC busiest departments, is planning to present two big plays during this year. They will participate in the State Junior College One Act Play contest. Interest in debate is just beginning to appear. The speech department is also planning to participate in some debate tournaments. Martin Landers, new to the HCJC faculty, is head of the speech department.

The first assembly of the year was held Wednesday during the activity period. Mr. Martin Landers opened the assembly with a prayer. Roby Allen, student, sang after which Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, spoke on "Making the Most of Your Opportunities." Dean Bean Johnson then introduced the faculty to the student body.

Tuesday night the women's dorm held a dorm meeting and elected officers. Penny Jones from Lorenzo will serve as president this year. She will be assisted by Mary Griffin from Pyote, vice president; Sue Lindsey from Winters, devotional chairman; Mary Helen Yater, Big Spring, and Hermalinda Lopez, Falfurrias, are scrapbook chairmen.

Sigma Delta Phi, science and engineering society, met during the activity period Friday. Officers were elected last year. They are Mack Green, president; Don Gregory, vice president; Wayne Williams, secretary; Jim Leslie, reporter.

The Baptist Student Union had its organizational meeting Monday night at the college. The following were appointed to be on a nominating committee: Linda Lewis, Joann Horton, Mary Helen Yater, Barry Clayton, and Roby Allen. They discussed the BSU State Convention which is to be in Dallas Oct. 20-22. M. B. Smith, pastor of College Baptist Church, spoke on "Is There Not a Cause." This group meets twice a month and for a devotional once a week. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Landers sponsor this group. About six churches and five towns were represented at the meeting.

Friday the BSU met and elected the following officers: Tommy Gilmore, president; Roby Allen, vice president; secretary-treasurer, Joy Redman; Barry Clayton, social chairman; devotional committee, Rayford Harrison, chairman, Kay Watson, and Cleta Newsom; publicity committee, Mary Helen Yater, chairman, Jean Hammon, and Roy Cebik; stewardship chairman, Dorothy Wheeler, pianist, Marilyn Smith with Cleta Newsom and Dorothy Wheeler as assistants. Sharon Martin is in charge of the music; Alvin Hiltbrunner, missions chairman; Linda Lewis, Interclub Social Council Representative. Pastor adviser is M. B. Smith of College Baptist Church.

At the end of last week the choir had 30 members. Ira Schantz, director, is extremely pleased with the attitude and talent of the group and stated that much progress in learning the music is being made. One of the major projects of the group will be the performance of Vivaldi's "Gloria Mass" sometime in December. Plans are also being made to present the opera "Down In the Valley" by Kurt Weill in the spring. The group will appear before several of the area high schools and at many civic groups in Big Spring.

A GOOD JOB

Billy's getting bigger, and Susie's catching up. And Mom—like any proud mother—is delighted. Their physical progress is one indication that she's doing a good job.

But is she being just as careful about other, equally vital parts of that job? Is she also measuring their spiritual progress? As it happens, she is. Billy and Susie are both already going to church and church school.

If you have been thinking that your own children are too young to begin their religious education, why not give them the chance to measure up spiritually, as well as physically? They're apt to surprise you!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Exodus' Is Dramatic Story Of Zionist Move To Israel

The big news in movies this week is the showing of "Exodus," the Leon Uris story of the Zionist settlement of Palestine which led eventually to the establishment of the nation of Israel.

Another big item is the remodelling which will be accomplished this week at the Ritz Theatre previous to the opening of "Exodus."

* * *

Ike Robb, Ritz manager, said the remodelling job had nothing to do with the showing of "Exodus." There are no special gimmicks or wide screens, or anything like that. The renovation is simply a business policy matter, he noted, an attempt to keep the Ritz in good shape.

* * *

"Exodus" has been both praised and slammed, but it seems to have come out ahead among the critics, and certainly has done so at the box office.

Starring are Paul Newman as an Israeli underground leader during the British occupation of Palestine following World War II; Eva Marie Saint as the American nurse who falls in love with the hero; Peter Lawford as an anti-Zionist British officer; Ralph Richardson as a ditto, pro-Zionist; plus a bevy of other top stars, including Lee J. Cobb, Sal Mineo and Gregory Ratoff.

SPOOK?
No, just Vincent Price

The settings are three-fold: The refugee camps on the island of Cyprus, where the Jews were detained by the British; the rusty ship "Exodus" in which the home-seekers absconded to their Promised Land; and Palestine itself, which was later to become the nation of Israel.

Producer is Otto Preminger, the controversial film maker who doesn't believe in sticking to formulas and who always keeps his big eye on all phases of any movie he's in the mood of making. Preminger always comes up with something to talk about, even if his efforts don't always give birth to a first rate movie.

Preminger made use of thousands of extras, and don't be surprised if some of the tears you see on certain faces are for real—many of the Cypriots and Israelis who fleetingly appear in the crowd scenes were re-enacting ancient heartbreaks.

Critical objections to the movie seem to fall into these categories: (1) It's too long and dreary (2) the Arabs — who, after all, were defending their homes — are depicted as the bad guys.

The good points are exacting attention to detail, emotional acting, expert direction—in short, a dramatic story well told.

* * *

Science fiction also make a big splash. "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" continues through today, making room for the Ritz remodelling which begins Monday.

Over at the State Theatre beginning Wednesday science fiction fans will be treated to what would seem to be a good movie. "The Day the Sky Exploded" is a Japanese import, and the Japs nearly always come up with a good, fast-moving yarn, acceptable science, realistic philosophy, beautiful photography and — believe it or not — dubbed English dialogue that does not make one wish to commit hara-kiri.

* * *

Some of the returning films classify as fair to good.

Among the horror types is Vincent Price in "House on Haunted Hill."

It is a ghost story of an earlier type, and there are plenty of gimmicks whomped up by producer William Castle to spook his audience.

Price is depicted as a wealthy playboy type with a slightly warped mind (anyway, one thinks so through most of the picture) who is intensly jealous of his wife. He rents a creaky old mansion for a night and throws a party, enticing guests by paying them $10,000 for the adventure. Seems his spoiled wife wanted a "haunted house party" so he's willing to pay the bill.

But it turns out to be really haunted, and one by one the guests depart — but not the way they'd have wanted.

It's got a sort of wacky ending, but by that time no one in the audience cares. You'll be either scared too stiff or bored too stiff —depending on your tastes.

* * *

"Sabu and the Magic Ring" is another in an exhumed series of ancient films which started with the casting of a young Indian lad in a filmization of Kipling's Jungle Stories. I don't recall right now just how the plot on this one goes, but I do recall that I found the exotic Sabu tales to be fascinating. Your critic was but a child at the time, and not at all critical.

* * *

"The Magnificent Seven" makes its umpteenth return with Yul Brynner in the starring role. Only this time, Yul's skull is hidden under a 10-gallon sombrero.

The story was adapted from a Japanese tale of seven Samurai who gave their lives in defense of a helpless village terrorized by a band of bandits.

The essential Oriental philosophy of courage, miraculously, has been preserved in the Western version, and studio sources claim this was no Occident. Indeed, it was intended, for without this philosophical point to make, "The Magnificent Seven" would have been simply another cowboy opus.

* * *

Rating in the fair category is "Cimarron," a re-make of Edna Ferber's monumental literary work which captured the spirit of a growing Oklahoma.

Glenn Ford, Maria Schell and Anne Baxter, along with an excellent and rather large supporting cast, did a fine job in their own departments, and the directing was acceptable. Photography was superb. But "Cimarron" is strong evidence for those in Hollywood who argue that a story which covers several generations, a wealth of characters, and such an expanse of territory, cannot be successfully translated to the screen. Something must be dropped, condensed, or re-written, they argue.

The weaknesses of "Cimarron" are in its inordinate length and its inability to stay with one point long enough to make anything of it. And these are mutually self-defeating points.

Years ago, Hollywood filmed the story of Thomas Edison, and the producers were wise enough to tell his complicated story in two parts. The result was two films, "Edison the Boy" and "Edison the Man." Both were huge successes.

Only a few years back, the producers of "East of Eden" were faced with a similar situation. They chose the path of decreased dimensions. Most characters were sliced out, some were combined into single personalities, and the film story dealt only with the latter portions of the book.

Many who read the book were disappointed at not having seen the entire story, but I have a feeling they'd have been even unhappier had the "Cimarron" formula been allowed to water the story down. As it came out, "East of Eden" — as a film — was a classic.

* * *

"Desire in the Dust" has Perry Mason — pardon, Raymond Burr — as a Southern gentleman who runs a small town and who wants to run the whole durn state. His no-good daughter is guilty of murder, and he knows it, but he doesn't trust the sharecropper who has spent a long time in prison to cover for the girl. He wants the man dead in case the murder should out. It's a mess of psychology and gun fightin' and comes out second best to the white trash themes as handled by Caldwell and Faulkner.

Police Activity

Three accidents were investigated by police Thursday and Friday. At Tenth and Runnels, John Edward Brown Jr., 702 Tulsa, and Billy James Hutcherson, 109 Nolan, were drivers involved; Fourth and Austin, James Thomas Collins, 805 W. 16th, and Reuben Grady Hill, 406 Dallas, as drivers; Fourth and Goliad, Lavena L. Walker, and Claudia C. McCreary, Big Spring, as drivers.

J. A. Perez, Permian Bldg., told police that he lost a collection book containing cash and checks. He said he would like to have the book back.

Principal John Hardy called police at 3:55 p.m. and reported a girl's bicycle belonging to Robert Fallon, 402 Wood, taken from Washington Place School around 3:30 p.m.

In other calls, police investigated: a window peeper at OK Trailer Court, another on Drexel; hot speeders and loud mufflers on Gregg (Patrolman Myrick reported that he slowed down some of them); prowler on Douglas, and a possible dog-poisoning.

"Hansel and Gretel," the beloved children's story by Grimm, has been translated into nearly every known language in the world. Now scenes from the classic work appear on the latest set of four semi-postal stamps issued by West Germany. Each of the four depicts a different scene from "Hansel and Gretel," reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency.

The 7 pfennig plus 3 shows little Hansel and Gretel strolling through the woods after they have been sent on a ruse by their wicked stepmother. Hansel is seen dropping crumbs of bread to help find his way back while a little bird hovers in the background ready to eat the crumbs.

The 10 phennig plus 5 depicts Hansel and Gretel being invited into the gingerbread house by the evil witch. The 20 phennig plus 10 pictures Hansel in a cage where he is being fattened. The witch gleefully watches while sad little Gretel looks on helplessly.

The 40 phennig plus 10 illustrates the happy ending after the witch has been dispatched by the clever children. The relieved father is shown hugging Gretel as Hansel smiles approvingly.

The additional values on this set will go to general charities of West Germany.

The first 1962 edition of the H. E. Harris "U. S. and British North America" catalog is on the market. It has 160 pages and nearly 2,000 illustrations. Featured is a special "Americana" section. United Nations issues complete and the valuable U. S. Stamp Identifier.

The new edition has hundreds of up - to - the - minute price changes and its editors claim it is an accurate barometer of the current stamp market.

The catalog costs only 35 cents and can be obtained by writing to H. E. Harris & Co., Boston 17, Mass.

Liberia has issued two new stamps and a souvenir sheet to commemorate the 15th anniversary of UNESCO. The 25 cents for regular mail is labeled "Education-Science-Culture" and depicts a discussion group. The 25 cents air mail shows a vignette scene of a science class at the University of Liberia. The souvenir sheet, bearing a 50 cents air mail stamp, pictures Liberian students being instructed in physics at the University of Liberia by an instructor from UNESCO.
