Nine Records Broken Here In Toast of Coast

Nine records were broken here in the annual Toast of the Coast relays, one by Pulido, of the local high school, who stepped the mile in 4:41.4, to break the record of 4:42.4 set last year by Eddie Gownes, of Flour Bluff.

Seven of the others were also in the senior division. Hodges of Woodsboro jumped 21'6" to beat the old record of 21 feet set by Bell of Woodsboro in prior years; Slusher of Calallen, leaped 11' 11 1/2" to set a new pole vault record, outstripping the previous one of 11'10", held by Allen of Refugio.

In the 440-yard dash, Keller of Poth turned in a sizzling 50.0 seconds, to beat the former time of 52.1, set by Olson, of Bloomington; San Diego took the sprint medley relay in the senior division, with a time of 3:45.0 to better the old record of 3:47.0, held by Industrial.

Results Given On Market Street Traffic Survey

Police Chief Bob Hewes said this morning that after the recent traffic survey by the Texas Highway Dept. at the intersection of Market Street and Highway 35, a number of measures have been taken to diminish traffic hazards and wrecks at the corner.

Hewes said both service station operators had been requested to remove all signs from the highway right-of-way; more enforcement is slated for the corner, and a barricade has been installed to keep people from leaving the highway and evading the stop signs. The council also will be asked to erect a "Stop Ahead" sign on Market Street at some distance from the intersection.

LICENSE PLATE DEADLINE APRIL 1

If you haven't already purchased your automobile license plates, you'd better do it before April 1 deadline. It's cheaper just to buy the plates than it is to pay a fine and then buy the plates.

Correction Please . . .

Last week, through an error in reading a telegram, the Pilot's reporter wrote a story saying that the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District commissioners were straining hard to get a big delegation to a hearing on the District's water bill. This hearing was reported as set for Wednesday, March 17, and that was in error.

The hearing, attended by a number of Rockport people, was actually on the bill which Rep. Leroy Wieting had introduced at the behest of the Rockport Sportsmen's Conservation Association, and which was reported on in a previous issue of the Pilot.

MOVIES DISCONTINUED

Due to the small attendance at the Rockport Elementary PTA movies that have been shown each Saturday morning, will be discontinued for the present.

Vietnam: Crisis Defies Solution

THIS JUNGLE WAR. In Vietnam war, both North and South are fighting a new kind of war, with a new type of rules. Above, tough South Vietnam troopers flush out a Viet Cong guerrilla from the reeds of a canal. Viet Cong fighters often pose as farmers and villagers, making all-out offensive against them impossible. Decision to use U. S. airmen in attacks on Communists, backed up by State Secretary Dean Rusk's warning that there can be no negotiated settlement until North Vietnam cuts off aid to rebels in South, illustrates American determination to resist further Communist inroads in Southeast Asia.

Stellman Classic Will Be Played This Weekend

The final 18 holes will be played on Sunday, March 20. There is no entry fee.

This is one of several programs being given throughout the state in connection with the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, which was formed to give the general public a better understanding of the petroleum industry of the state.

Improved Mail Service Effective This Week

Postmaster Maynard Rowan announced this week that changes in mail schedules placed into effect Monday, March 15 will be beneficial to the patrons of the Rockport Post Office. Earlier arrival schedule of the incoming mails will result in approximately one hour sooner delivery of mail to business firms and city delivery patrons each day.

This will also result in earlier completion of the make up of the Post Office box mail and delivery on the Star Route.

In addition to the earlier delivery of incoming mail, the morning dispatch of outgoing mail is now an hour and half later. This change in dispatch time will enable patrons to (continued on page 8)

Fulton Students Planning Concert

Students of Fulton Elementary are basing the spring concert that will be given later by the school music classes on the history of this area.

Mrs. Frank DeAngelis, music teacher, said that teams of pupils in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades are researching the historical facts that will furnish the theme for the concert.

Some are looking up history on Indians, others on pirates, others on early settlers and so on.

Mrs. DeAngelis asks that anyone having interesting historical facts on the area contact either her, Mrs. Albert Griffith, or Principal Carl Snyder.

Date of the performance will be given later.

Water Board Meets With San Pat Dist.

"The next logical step towards establishment of a permanent water district will be a meeting with officials of the San Patricio Municipal Water District," said Harold Picton, of the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District, "and we will have such a meeting this week to discuss mutual problems."

"We have been delayed by the fact that the water survey for this county was not completed until after the first of this year, and that it was necessary to get a bill in the legislative hopper before the deadline.

"As it is now, members of the local water board have met with the governor, the water commission of Texas, city councilors, the mayor and officials of Aransas Pass, and representatives of the larger taxpayers of Aransas County, in order to acquaint them with provisions of the bill that was to be introduced, and to obviate misunderstandings."

Picton said a number of people have asked questions about the bill, some of which showed a complete misunderstanding of House Bill 797, introduced by State Representative Leroy Wieting, and designed to amend the bill that formed the district two years ago.

"This bill will give us power to do a number of things that have been impossible to accomplish before now. For instance, until this bill is passed, we have no basis on which to request federal aid. If we did ask for federal funds under our present law we wouldn't be able to match these funds. As a rule, such federal aid is given only when the city or other agency asking for these funds is able to devote as much money to the project as is granted by the Federal agency."

"We have no funds other than the small amount allotted for the engineering survey, of which we have spent about $45,000, and the $25,000 left cannot be spent for such purposes. We haven't a chance in the world of matching any federal money."

"We have tried to figure out a permanent water supply on the basis of revenue bonds. Our engineers and financial advisors tell us this is practically impossible. We have no revenue until we have water to sell, and we won't have any water to sell until such time as we have a pipeline, and we won't have a pipeline until we get money to build it. It's a vicious circle."

Picton said the engineering survey showed it would cost around $2,500,000 to build the necessary pipelines and treatment plant under present conditions, but the whole picture could change very rapidly.

"If, for instance, the San Patricio Municipal Water District should decide to build a water treatment plant before we are ready to install our system, we could buy treated water from them, and this would knock off about $800, 000 that we would otherwise have to spend for a treatment plant."

"Likewise, if the San Patricio district can deliver this water to us at the Aransas-San Patricio county line, rather than making us run a pipeline to Ingleside, we'd also save on the cost of that line, which we wouldn't need, at least between Ingleside and the Aransas County line."

Other things would have as much or even more effect, Picton stated. For instance, if the City of Rockport should decide to start using the water at once, instead of postponing such use for a number of years, dependent on how wells lasted, the bond picture would change rapidly, because of the increased water use position.

PLANE LOCATES DISABLED BOAT

A patrol plane from the Coast Guard Air Station located a disabled Rockport shrimp boat 400 miles southeast of here at 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

The plane returned to Corpus Christi after making contact, and the Coast Guard cutter Legare towed the Miss Marilyn W. into port.

The 55-foot boat, owned by Johnson Fish Co. of Rockport broke a rudder. It has a crew of two.

Salt Water Regulatory Bill Heard

Aransas County, the first in Texas to give salt water regulatory authority to the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, likes it and wants it continued.

That was the tone Wednesday night when Rep. Leroy Wieting of Portland asked the House Game and Fisheries Commission to approve his HB 623. It would make permanent the regulatory authority of the state agency over hunting and fishing in that county.

Sport and Commercial fishermen, often on the opposite sides in legislative hearings, both testified for the bill. When James B. Johnson of Aransas Pass, a sea food dealer, said he favored it, Rep. George Cowden of Waco said all other commercial fishermen who have come before the committee feel like the commission was going to put them out of business. He wondered if other commercial men agreed with Johnson.

"If they were against it they would be here to oppose the bill, Johnson said."

"The real bugaboo to commercial fishing is the possibility that all bays will be closed to netting and they will be if the sportsmen keep putting pressure on the legislature. We're outnumbered."

M. W. Cochran of Rockport, (continued on page 8)

Carr To Be Guest At Stag Dinner

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr will be honor guest at a stag seafood dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Live Oak Country Club.

Members of the Rockport-Aransas Pass Bar Association are hosts. Approximately 400 invitations have been mailed to members of area bar associations, area businessmen, public officials and justices of the appeals courts of the state, Tom Andrews of Aransas Pass said.

A coffee for Carr is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Thursday in the district courtroom at Sinton. Hosts are Frederic Johnson, Mrs. Ray Granberry, Ray Harris and J. J. McWhorter.

SPORTSMEN'S CONSERVATION ASS'N TO MEET MARCH 23

The Rockport Sportsmen Conservation Association will meet March 23, next Tuesday at the Women's Club, 7:30 p.m.

Election by the members present of the officers and directors for the next year should be participated in by many. Nominations from the floor will be in order.

Reports on the pending legislation which affects all fishermen, hunters, and bird watchers will be made by the Committee, which attended the hearing in Austin last Wednesday.

This is the only local organization, dedicated to the conservation of the Bay Natural Resources and working daily at the job of conserving the seafood resources—is there any better way to provide more to share by the fisherman, commercial and sportsmen alike?

The public is cordially invited.

FULTON FIFTH GRADE HAS CANADIAN VISITOR

The Fulton fifth grade was most fortunate in having Mrs. C. H. Steele of Southampton, Ontario, Canada, visit their classroom. She has traveled extensively in Canada and shared the many wonderful experiences with the class.

After Mrs. Steele's most interesting talk, the entire class and their teacher felt as if they had personally made the trip. The geography unit on Canada was much easier and far more interesting due to the graciousness of Mrs. Steele.

Virginia Pearson presented Mrs. Steele with a gift of appreciation.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele are guests of the Sandollar Motel. —Sharon Davidson

Wieting Writes From Capital

Representative Leroy Wieting, during the past week, introduced House Bill 738, extending the boundaries of the Aransas County Wildlife Sanctuary, and met with the subcommittee on Congressional Legislative redistricting, presenting the desires of the people of Aransas and San Patricio counties.

Wieting said the people who had contacted him wanted to stay in the present or new Coastal Bend Congressional District, along with a group of surrounding counties, such as Jim Wells, San Patricio, Aransas, Bee, Refugio, Live Oak, Nueces, Kleberg, Duval, Kenedy, McMullen and Karnes counties.

During the week he also introduced House Bill 797, an amendment to the conservation and reclamation bill passed two years ago. After the bill was passed, granting authority an engineering study was made.

The new bill, Wieting said, will allow the district to construct water and other facilities and to issue bonds supported by ad valorem taxes, not over to exceed $3,000,000. The tax was limited to not more than $1 per $100 of assessed valuations.

Other legislation that will affect this area was introduced by various representatives along the coast. Among such bills was one to abolish the office of ex-officio county school superintendent in counties in which there is a county-wide independent school district or where the office of county superintendent and the county school board have been abolished has been introduced by Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad.

The bill provides for the duties of the ex-officio school superintendent. Usually the county judge, to be performed by the school superintendent of the independent school district and for the duties of the county board to be performed by the elected trustees of the independent county district.

The county judge, however, would still approve or disapprove applications for transfers to schools outside the county.

Appointment of seawall commissions by all counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico is authorized by HB 908 introduced by Rep. Otha Birkner of Bay City.

The commissioners would erect and maintain seawalls and breakwaters, levees, dikes, floodways and drainways and would beautify any boulevard erected in connection with such seawalls or breakwaters, as already authorized by law for counties and cities on the Gulf.

A bill to let the state Park and Wildlife Commission regulate crab fishing in all coastal waters of Texas has been introduced by Rep. Rufus U. Kilpatrick of Beaumont.

HB 907, the bill would let the commission specify the size and sex of any crabs that may be taken. It could also specify open and closed seasons and regulate the size and type of equipment to be used in crab fishing.

Licensing of crab fishermen and crab processors could also be required by the commission under Rep. Kilpatrick's bill.

ROCKPORT NEWS GETS AROUND

Rockport news continues to get around. This month in one of the slickest of the slick covered magazines—no less a publication than American Artist—Simon G. Michael and the Rockport School of Fine Arts have been listed in the Second Annual Art School Directory, compiled by this magazine.

In the numbered key attached to the listing, it says that catalogs are available; the school is co-educational; there are fall and spring classes as well as a summer school. Teacher training is part of the school's curriculum; drawing, painting and sculpture are taught.

This recognition is an earned one; Michael's school is now in its second decade and has grown steadily since its inception, with the summer classes becoming larger and larger through the years.

Gene Carter returned to the Veteran's Administration Hospital at Houston today for treatment and surgery. He will be there for the next six weeks.

It is easier to travel by plane than by car in Alaska.

MAN ON THE MOON. Above is an artist's conception of what a U. S. astronaut might see when he lands his spacecraft on the surface of the moon before this decade ends. Meanwhile, photographs of the moon taken by Ranger VIII have sparked a new controversy whether men CAN land safely on the moon. The photographs show what is likely lava beds on the moon's surface, which some scientists think has turned to solidified foam. Such a foam, it is feared, would cave in under the weight of astronauts and their equipment. — WFS

The four members present were served coffee cake and coffee upon their arrival. In the absence of Mrs. Clark the circle chairman, Mrs. Cavitt presided over the meeting. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer by the members.

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports were given announcement from the general meeting of the WOC were presented.

Each member present was asked to send "Thinking of You" cards to two persons in the Bayview Nursing Home this month.

After a prayer by Mrs. Jimmy Little, she presented the Bible lesson on "The Church's Messenger." Miss Winona McFall read the Scripture.

There were 28 visits made during the month and 14 cards sent out.

The meeting closed with the mizpah.

WAR CRIMES. Arthur Goldberg, associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, says there should be an extension of the May 19 deadline on trials of Nazi war criminals. Under international law, 20-year statute of limitations will prevent further trials after that date. Mr. Goldberg says "there should be no escape from justice for such terrible crimes." — WFS

The Library Corner

During the past year or so, the Rockport Rotary Club has operated its book plan, whereby each member, in celebration of his birthday, donates $5 towards the purchase of books at the Aransas County Public Library, and in this manner, some $300 has been collected over the period.

Many a book that would not have been in the library has been purchased from this fund, which has been used to supplement the various collections, as have the memorial donations received from time to time, and for these gifts the Library Board is grateful.

And, because the fund for salaries and maintenance is necessarily low, at least until the building is paid for, it would have been impossible to handle the great number of books received by gift and by purchase if it were not for the volunteer workers who give cheerfully of their time and labor to type, to shelf books, to check out volumes, and all the other multifarious duties that arise in the library.

The community as a whole owes these people thanks for their contribution to the welfare of everyone in it.

At present, practically all of these workers are exceptionally busy in preparing reference volumes made possible by a generous donor, who prefers to remain anonymous.

Latest to arrive are those published by the Texas State

Historical Association, practically all of which may be found on the Texas shelves.

Among them are biographies of Judge McAlpin Williamson, the famous "Three-legged Willie," of early Texas history, and of Stephen F. Austin, who wrote a new chapter in the westward movement of the Anglo American people when he founded Texas.

Migration into East Texas from 1835 to 1860 is dealt with in a new book by that name—new to our shelves, at any rate—and there are several county histories. Among them is the one on Western Falls County, by Lillian Schiller St. Romain; another on Young County, by Carrie J. Crouch; and a third on Collin County, by J. Lee Stambaugh and Lillian Stambaugh.

To aid students looking for references, two biographies of Texas material have also been added. One of these describes theses on Texas history in the University of Texas; the other describes similar theses in other universities. Between them and the cumulative index of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, a vast store of information is placed at the finger tips of those seeking knowledge of our state.

And, if the book requested is not in the library, the librarian will attempt to obtain it on interlibrary loan for a small fee, which covers the postage.

The library already had "The Handbook of Texas," a two-volume encyclopedia crammed with Texas lore, from the historical society; and other books just arrived from this same source include "Santa Rita," the story of the oil that made Texas University one of the great schools of the United States; the "Great Hanging at Gainesville," and Seymour V. Connor's book on "The Peters Colony of Texas."

Soon to be placed on the shelves are books for younger readers, describing what to expect from the various professions and trades they may be considering as life work, and a number of new books on birds of this area and the ocean.

But despite great strides that are being made towards developing a reference collection, the library will always need books, of all sorts, new and old, and welcomes any that folks may wish to give. If they are duplicates of some already on the shelves, the gift books are passed along to another library not as fortunate as ours, and in this manner, gifts have been made to Aransas Pass, Goliad, Victoria, Mathis, La Retama in Corpus Christi and the library at Port Lavaca.

So whether you want to read or borrow books, have books to contribute or want to aid in the work of the library during your spare time, you're always welcome at the Aransas County Public Library, which is open from 2 until 5 from Tuesday through Friday, and from 9 until 12 Saturday mornings.

New Science Stories Now In Library For Reading By Everyone

A new science series is now in Aransas County Public Library and should be of much interest to the students and others who require information on various subjects without having to take an exhaustive course of study.

Published by the University of Michigan and written by acknowledged experts in the various fields, the books provide readable and authoritative introductions to many things, and are designed especially for the general reader.

In the series are the following volumes: "Ants", "Stars", "The Human Senses", "Lights", "Birds", "The Ebb and Flow of the Tides of the Sea and Air", "Animal Camouflage", "The Earth", "The Sun", "Evolution of Man", "Viruses" and "Space Chemistry."

Also new is a book on moose, published by the University of Toronto, which makes fascinating reading for hunters and naturalists, and, for younger readers, the 1965 volume of the World Book in which well-written articles deal with many things on this earth.

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE

get their morning mail on the way to its destination as late as 11:00 instead of waiting for the late afternoon dispatch. Since the afternoon dispatch time for mailers is now 4:55 p.m., it is requested that business, especially the larger mailers, deposit their mail periodically through the day instead of waiting until just prior to dispatch time. This will relieve the heavy flow of mail at deadline time and is in accordance with the NIMS (Nationwide Improved Mail Service) Program which is successfully operating in large cities thru the cooperation of business firms.

Another improvement in the service that will be of value to all patrons, as well as firms conducting business and making mailings on the following Government holidays (Feb. 22, May 30, Labor Day, and Nov. 11), is the inauguration of an afternoon dispatch. Hereafter, mail deposited after 9:30 a.m. on all holidays did not leave until the following morning at 9:45 a.m. This 24-hour delay will now be eliminated by patrons depositing all out of town mail in a specially labeled curbside collection box. Latest deposit time for this outgoing mail will be 5 p.m. on the holidays named above. The Regular and Air Mail letter drops inside the post office will be closed on those dates to insure deposit in the outside collection box marked (out of town only).

A continued effort is being made to increase the efficiency of the mail service and it is respectfully requested that mailings be made as early in the day as possible and that ZIP Code be used to assist in expediting your mail.

tential and added income. This would allow the district to switch from tax payments to revenue payments, with a consequent drop from the tax levy.

"But," he said, "all these things are merely whistling in the wind until we find out whether our bill passes. Without it we can't do anything; with it we at least have a starting point. And don't forget this, all those things about which people want to argue won't amount to a hill of beans unless we get authority to act."

"We have purposely limited this bill. Other water districts throughout the state have unlimited taxing power, and can issue all the bonds they can sell. We aren't asking for this. We ask in the bill that the tax levy be limited to $1 per $100, based on county values; and we further ask that the total amount of bonds that can ever be sold be limited to $3,000,000."

"We don't think we'll use either the $1 levy or the $3,000,000 bonds, but we have set these limits in order to have a little leeway if we need it. We did that when we asked for money for the water survey. We said then we wouldn't use any money we didn't have to, and we haven't."

"Of the $45,000 spent thus far, approximately $9,000 was incurred before the district was ever organized, in legal fees and other fees attendant upon formation of the district. Another $5,000 was spent on a preliminary survey, and for the final survey the charge of the engineers was $27,500."

"The two elections held by the district took some money; bonds for the commissioners absorbed a little more, but we have conserved the preliminary small bond issue. We intend to do that in case we later get the power to tax the district for sufficient funds to build the water system."

"Even so, before we do anything, the whole question of water-system or not water-system will have to be voted upon by the people of Aransas County. We can't issue five cents' worth of tax supported bonds without a vote, and by the time we get authority to hold such an election, the whole picture may have changed, and we may not need as much as we think we will. But we have to play it safe."

president of the Rockport Sportsmen's Conservation Association, said the plan has worked well. Pat H. Greene of Rockport said sportsmen have been very happy with the pilot law and that the winter just ended had the best fishing in years.

Three More Big Shrimpers Leave

Three more big steel shrimpers left here yesterday, bound for French Guiana and the new gold rush to catch shrimp of the mouths of the Amazon and other South American rivers.

The were the Cayenne Countess, the Cayenne Duchess and the Cayenne Debutante, all owned by Henderson's Portion-Pak, of Coral Gables, Fla.

This makes six out of a fleet of fifteen that Rockport Yacht and Supply is constructing for the Florida firm, which operates in Guiana through subsidiaries, H&S Trawlers, Inc., wholly owned by Henderson, and PIDEIG, of which Henderson's owns about 80 per cent and the rest is in hands of Cayenne fishing interests.

Capt. James Brady, a native of Tarpon Springs, Fla., and port captain for Henderson's left a day ahead of the boats, to fly to Cayenne to have things in readiness for the big trawlers when they arrive in French Guiana.

On hand to watch the boats depart were cameramen from Corpus Christi, who are getting ready to show a short program on Rockport Yacht and Supply as one of a series on area industry, and this film will appear Friday, March 19, if it can be made ready by KRIS-TV. Otherwise it will be a week before the film is shown.

Departure of the three boats brought no diminution in action at RYSCO, which still has nine boats to build for Henderson's, two for men in Freeport who will use them in seismograph work; four trawlers for Casterline Fish Co., Fulton, and another for a partnership comprise of T. J. Johnson, of Rickport, and R. A. Bedre, of Aransas Pass.

Robert H. Wallace, executive vice president of the ship building company, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Luling Oil and Gas, of which T. Noah Smith is president and Wallace vice president, says that the next boats that will be delivered to Henderson's will be the Cayenne Goddess, Cayenne Princess, and Cayenne Vixen, and these will be followed by the Cayenne Madcap and Cayenne Witch.

All of them are 72-footers, powered with D-43 Caterpillar engines, and will handle 90,000 pounds of ice in their holds, allowing them to go to sea and stay for extended periods.

The design was developed by Albert Silchenstedt, production manager of RYSCO, where Johnnie Mitchell, well-known to the shipping industry in Texas, is the administrative head.

Two Bills May Have Local Effect

Two bills recently introduced in the state legislature may have considerable local effect if they are passed.

Commercial fishermen who take shrimp bait are given a break by HB 1005 introduced by Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont.

The bill provides that shrimp of any size or species can be taken in outside water for bait except that during closed season taking of the shrimp is restricted to out side waters not more than four fathoms deep.

Proposed amendments to present law in the bill would raise the daily catch and possession limit for bait shrimp taken from inside waters to 250 pounds, from 150 pounds, and would reduce the allowable mesh size on shrimp nets for that purpose from 6½ inches to 1½ inches.

Seafood handlers would be required to get a health certificate in order to work under terms of HB 1009 introduced by Rep. James L. Slider of Naples.

Rep. Slider's bill requires a health examination and a certificate for persons working in "the handling, preparing, or processing of oysters, clams, mussels, shrimp, fish or other aquatic animals for sale or delivery to the public."

The bill would prohibit persons with communicable diseases from working with seafood.

Violation of the act would lead to a fine of from $10 to $200, with each day of failure to comply with the act being considered a separate violation.

CIRCLE NO. 2 HAS MEETING

Circle No. 2 of the First Presbyterian Church held its regular meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Fred Brundrett.

Refreshments were served to the members by the hostess, after which she opened the meeting with a prayer.

Eleven members were present. Roll call showed 62 visits had been made, and 79 cards had been sent.

The lesson, "The Church's Messengers — Stewards of God"—was moderated by Mrs. Edward Settenbo, and the monthly emphasis was given by Mrs. L. W. Hight. The meeting closed with the mizpah.

GIVING NATURE A NUDGE. Using light and chemicals, scientists are learning to change the growth patterns of fruits and vegetables to benefit both farmers and consumers. Above, a researcher with the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Maryland adds hydrazine to a pineapple plant, which forces the plant to fruit in 6 months. Under natural conditions, it takes 3 or 4 years for a pineapple to fruit. — WFS Photo

GAS GOES TO TOWN

The age of air conditioning has arrived and gas air conditioning is on the move!

During the 1960-1963 period gas air conditioning installations more than doubled and the increase continued through 1964. This was true in the residential area as well as the more established commercial and industrial fields, according to George Taggart of Aransas Natural Gas Co.

Participating in this unprecedented rate of growth, Aransas Natural Gas Co. will join 150 other gas utility companies throughout the country and the American Gas Association to hold a national gas air conditioning promotion, March 21-27, 1965.

Designated as National Gas Air Conditioning Week, the program will be especially significant to the residential market. Gas utilities will inform both potential customers and gas company employees on the latest refinements in gas cooling equipment, on the basic facts of gas air conditioning and on the special rates and package offers which make gas air conditioning equipment highly competitive in the air conditioning market.

Many of the advantages of gas units are especially desirable for the home owner, according to Mr. Taggart.

Installations in the Rockport-Fulton-Lamar area include the Pilot shop, which has been cooled with gas for three years. Gas year-around cooling and heating systems are now being installed in homes at Lamar and Oak Terrace with many more on the drawing board, according to Mr. Taggart.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fox of Fairmont, Ill., are visiting Mrs. Fox's aunt, Mrs. H. S. Wood.

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

CROSSING THE RHINE. It was 20 years ago this month that Western allies stormed across the Rhine river and entered Germany. The U.S. First Army seized the Ludendorff bridge intact at Remagen, and troops under command of Gen. Omar N. Bradley smashed into German territory over the bridge. Heavy weight of army equipment finally caused the bridge to collapse on March 17, 1945. — WFS Photo
