Telephone Company Announces Proposed Rate Increase In Spur

Declaring that it is making less than an adequate return with the telephone system here working at full capacity, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company announced today that it is asking the city commission for approval of an increase in telephone rates, made necessary by the rising costs of furnishing telephone service here.

In announcing the request for revised rates, C. H. Cale, manager, said that the company is not taking in enough money from local operations to pay the cost of furnishing telephone service here and allow a reasonable return on the investment in the Spur exchange.

The proposed new rates represent an increase of $1.25 a month for business telephones and 50 cents a month for residence telephones. The increase also is 50 cents a month for rural customers. Spur's present telephone rates were established in 1941, following replacement of the magneto telephone system here. Since that time, costs of furnishing telephone service in Spur have increased considerably, Cale said.

During 1948, telephone revenues here were $18,546, while costs of furnishing the service were $18,280, leaving only $266 profit on the company's investment of $46,408 in Spur.

"This represents a return of only about one half of one percent," Cale said. "The small present return is based on a telephone system working at full capacity, and it is obvious that, with expenses at high post-war levels and with more expansion ahead of us, the only solution to our telephone earnings problem here is a reasonable adjustment in telephone rates," the manager stated.

Telephone payrolls, the biggest item in the cost of operating the exchange here, have increased sharply in recent years, Cale said.

The monthly payroll in Spur is more than three times as high as it was in 1941. This is because of higher wage rates and the larger number of employees required to handle the greater volume of calls.

Spur had 365 telephones eight years ago, when present rates were established, as compared with 700 today.

"With several families waiting for telephones, we are faced with the problem of enlarging the telephone system here at a time when costs are at the highest level in history," Cale said.

This year, an additional long distance circuit to Abilene will be installed, along with more toll terminal equipment in the central office here. Next year, another section of switchboard and 200 subscribers lines are scheduled to

Lions To Hear Kelley Tuesday

Oscar Kelley, of Edwards-Kelley Imp. Co., will address members of the Spur Lions Club on the subject "Progress and Petroleum" October 18, at 12:20 p.m. His speech is being made in connection with the observance of Oil Progress Week in Spur, and Dickens, county from Oct. 16 to 22.

Mr. Kelley will trace the 90 year history of the petroleum industry since the first well was drilled at Titusville, Pa., in 1859 and show the many progressive ways in which the six oil companies and 35 service stations of Spur and Dickens County have contributed to the growth and prosperity of this community.

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District News Notes

O. M. McGinty, Chairman J. B. Montgomery, Secretary
Bill Wright Clark Forbis Chas. Witt

King Ranch bluestem, one of the grasses used by Ralph Bennett whose ranch is in Cottonwood group to reseed an old cultivated field, has made considerable growth this summer and will possibly yield a seed crop this fall. At the time of seeding, which was in the spring of 1947, the field had blown off to the clay subsoil. Despite the eroded condition of the soil and the dry summers of '47 and '48 the King Ranch bluestem has established itself.

G. W. Bennett in West Elton group has noticed weeping lovegrass coming up from seed planted three years ago. Bennett got only a spotted stand the first year and just about gave up hope. He had almost forgotten the planting when he noticed this year's improvement of the stand.

T. B. Wason is one of several Duck Creek Soil Conservation District cooperators who has praise for his terrace system. Concerning terraces Watson made this statement: "I didn't like my terraces much at the time I was working them but now they have really paid off."

S. C. Thomas, who is developing a conservation plan for his farm, has this to say about terraces: "I never could see the value of terraces until a few days ago when several of my neighbors and I visited a number of farms right around us." "Some of the farms," he continued, "had been terraced and some hadn't, and I could sure tell a difference." Construction of a level ridge type terrace system on all of the cultivated land will be the first thing done toward establishing a conservation system of farming on Thomas' farm.

A contour map of a 173-acre bottomland field on Cooperator Jim Barron's ranch has been completed in preparation for construction of a water spreading system.

E. C. McGee has a stand of rye and vetch up on his farm in Spade Draw group. One patch of vetch which McGee planted by itself has come up and grown about an inch. At the time of seeding his cover crop about two acres of salty land on the farm was sown to Birdfoot trefoil, a salt tolerant legume. It can be seen coming through the ground.

Mrs. Tom McArthur has an ideal crop of sudan this fall which is to be used as cover for a spring grass planting. This sudan was sown with a drill to get a thick stand.

Holly Insurance Agency Redecorated

H. S. HOLLY INSURANCE AGENCY, pictured above, has recently been redecorated to increase the efficiency and comfort of this prominent Spur business establishment. Mr. Holly, standing, is shown looking over the modern arrangement of his office while Mrs. Billy Powell and Mrs. Holly are busy with some of the many phases of handling general insurance and loans. The business is located at 410 N. Burlington.

'Oil Progress Week' Proclaimed In Spur

"Oil Progress Week" for Spur and Dickens County from October 16th to 22nd was proclaimed today by Mayor Ned Hogan.

The Mayor's proclamation said the special week was being set aside because it was significant that the 90 years since the petroleum industry was born are the 90 years of greatest progress that the nation and Spur and Dickens County had known.

Men and women of the oil industry here will cooperate in informing the public about the ways their industry has contributed "to our high standards of living and to the preservation of our free, democratic American way of life," said the proclamation.

Mayor Ned Hogan in his proclamation directed the attention of all citizens to a study of "the contribution and service the oil men who live among us make to our public, social, business and private life."

"Oil Progress Week" will be marked by a number of special events and speeches to community audiences by local oil men, said Larry O. Booth.

Proclamation

WHEREAS it has been brought to the attention of this office that 90 years ago forward-looking businessmen drilled the first successful oil well, and

WHEREAS it is significant that those 90 years have been the 90 years of greatest progress for our nation and our community, and

WHEREAS members of our community who are engaged either producing, transporting, refining or marketing petroleum products desire to report to other members of our community on the progress of their free and cooperative industry and

WHEREAS October 16th to 22nd inclusive has been designated as "OIL PROGRESS WEEK" when members of the oil industry will cooperate in informing the public about the ways in which their industry has contributed to our high standards of living and to the preservation of our free, democratic American way of life

NOW, THEREFORE, I Ned Hogan, Mayor of Spur, do hereby proclaim the week of October 16th to 22nd inclusive to be Spur and Dickens County OIL PROGRESS WEEK, and I direct the attention of our citizens to a study of the contribution and service the oil men who live among us make to our public, social, business and private life.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I HAVE HERE
UNTO SET MY HAND AND CAUSED THE SEAL OF SPUR TO BE AFFIXED.

NED HOGAN, MAYOR.

Picker Shortage Grows Serious In County; Little Relief Seen

The bumper cotton crop in Dickens County is still largely in the fields as a serious shortage of pickers has left many a farmer wondering about how to get his cotton picked.

Several farmers in the county have started dusting their cotton to hasten defoliation. This will enable them to use mechanical pickers. Others are paying maximum prices for pickers—often as high as $2.25 per hundred.

The late crop throughout the state is the main cause of the picker shortage, according to authorities, and is causing many farmers to plan on using mechanical devices to get their cotton in. An early frost would aid in this plan.

The local girls report a total of 2036 bales ginned in the city up to late Wednesday. Farmers' Co-op Gins reported 1018 bales to date; Williamson Brothers Gin, 550; and Swift's, 458.

There have been rumors in town of a picker strike for 35 high as $3.00 per hundred, but direct or confirming information to this effect can not be found. The trouble is, according to most, is that there just aren't enough pickers for the demand.

While visiting with them, they made a trip to Santa Fe and the Indian Reservation at Taos as well as many other interesting places. Mrs. Lollar has recently returned to her home in Spur.

Visits in New Mexico
Mrs. Alonzo Lollar of Spur accompanied her niece, Mrs. Edmon Hall, and her sister, Mrs. J. F. Young, both of Abilene, to Tucuman, New Mexico, where they visited in the homes of other relatives. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allen, a nephew, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gregory, a niece.

Bulldogs Upset By Dragons; Meet Lockney Friday Night

A fighting Bulldog eleven was upset last Friday night by an underdog Paducah team 18-12. The Dragons received and were held by the fast charging Spur line. After an exchange of kicks the Dragons forced a drive to the Bulldog 20 yard line but were stopped promptly. The Bulldogs threatened by driving to Paducah 12 yard line but a series of penalties forced them back. The quarter ended 0-0.

Soon in the second period Pat Green, Paducah fullback broke over the line for 35 yards and the first score, Paducah converted. The period rolled along even until in the quarter a Bulldog fumble gave the Dragons the ball on Spur 30 yard line. A drive carried to the Spur 2 yard line and on the last play of the half the Dragons drew blood. Half-time score 13-0.

The Bulldogs battled back with the interception of a pass by Charles Grimland who put the ball on Paducah 18 yard line. A few plays later Blair rolled around end for 8 yards and scored. Here Pat Green again took over piloting the drive that ended with an off tackle slash making the score 19-6.

Dean Watson chunky Bulldog fullback pounded out 3 first downs with the help of Wayne Smith. Later Smith climaxed the drive with a 15 yard dash around end. Final score 19-12.

The Bulldog defense standouts were Joe King, Dick Gibson, and Melvin Lindsey.

The Bulldogs will try to re-instate themselves in the District 3-A running this week end when they meet the pre-season favorite, Lockney. The game will be played on the Lockney field—game time 8:00 p.m. Friday, October 14. October 21 the boys will return to their home gridiron against the Crosbyton team.

Tech Physicist Says Russian Atom Bomb Expected This Year

American scientists knew five years ago that Russia would probably develop an atomic bomb in 1949, a Texas Technological college physicist said today.

Paul Elliott, assistant professor of physics at Tech, worked with the "Manhattan project" at Oak Ridge, Tenn., from July, 1944, to September, 1946.

"We knew in 1944 that Soviet Russia would be able to split the atom within five years, but there is nothing to be alarmed about," he said.

Elliott said that atomic energy was never a secret. The only mystery concerned a method of separating the flow of gases in uranium. Scientists in every part of the globe have been working on the answer for decades, he added.

The Tech physicist said he doesn't believe the threat of World War III is imminent, but he believes the threat of atomic warfare makes necessary the creation of an international police force.

Elliott came to Texas Tech in 1946 immediately after his work at Oak Ridge ended.

Tommy Alldredge spent the week-end visiting his friends and his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Alldredge. Tommy is a freshman in Tech.

Palace To Show Wayne Film

John Wayne is Hollywood's "Man of the hour." With his last four pictures, "Fort Apache," "Red River," "The Fighting Kentuckian," mopping up at the box-offices of the nation, he is in a position to write his own terms on all film deals—an enviable and unusual status in Hollywood today.

"The Fighting Kentuckian," due to open Sun. at the Palace Theatre presents Wayne in a dual capacity as star and producer.

Wayne was born in Winterset, Iowa, the son of a drug store proprietor who joined other Iowans in the trek to California when John was but five years old. Christened Marion Michael Morrison, the name was quickly shortened to "Duke," and as "Duke" he went through childhood and a college career at the University of Southern California.

Prop Man
Like many another star athlete, Wayne sought rugged summer vacation jobs to keep his trim for the football season, and he landed a job carrying heavy props on one of the motion picture studio sets. There he was discovered by Raoul Walsh and zoomed to stardom in his very first picture, "The Big Trail."

During the next few years Wayne made westerns, including Republic's popular Three Mesquiteers series. Then John Ford chose him for a role in "Stagecoach." The film was a phenomenal hit, and Wayne found himself one of the most desirable leading men in Hollywood, a position which he has maintained consistently for the past ten years.

Producing Debut

A year or so ago, Republic agreed to give Wayne free-hand in producing his own picture, and the result was "Angel and the Badman." It did so well at the box-office that the studio repeated the offer for "The Fighting Kentuckian." Wayne has very definite ideas on how pictures should be produced, and judging from the success of both of his efforts, his theories are sound.

Methodist Announce Mass Meeting

Methodists representing nearly every community in the Northwest Texas conference will attend an Advance mass meeting at the First Methodist church in Lubbock, Texas, on Oct. 20-21. Bishop William C. Martin, resident bishop of the Dallas Area and national chairman of Methodist's four-year program, Advance for Christ and His Church, will direct the meeting.

"Our Faith" will be the central theme of the meeting which features addresses by Bishop Ralph S. Cushman, resident bishop of the St. Paul Area, Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Columbus, Ohio, resident bishop of the Ohio Area and

Bishop Martin. Bishop Cushman will speak on "Our Faith in Christ" and Bishop Werner on "Our Christian Conception of the Word of Man."

Other speakers include Dr. Evelyn M. Duvall, secretary of the National Conference on Family Relations, and Dr. Warren Johnston, pastor, First Methodist church, Fort Worth, Texas.

A series of eight "Faith booklets" to be studied simultaneously by the church and a half million members, will be officially introduced at the meeting, which will also include opportunity for group discussions and a youth meeting in the evening.

The Advance program represents Methodism's positive thrust at secularism and indifference and has the purpose of a deeper understanding of the basic elements of the Christian faith.

HEALTH NOTES

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Oct. 13.—Lockjaw, or tetanus, is a very serious disease caused by a tiny germ that looks like a stick with a ball on one end—something like a microscopic lollipop, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. This ball is called a spore and it is the seed of the germ. Lockjaw germs are found in the soil, especially in manured soil of the barnyard or garden; in blank cartridges; etc.—in fact, just about everywhere. These germs grow best in wounds where there is considerable tissue destruction and in which chips of glass, wood splinters, or grains of dirt have been embedded.

Every accident seen by the physician must be considered from the lockjaw angle; and whenever there is any question, tetanus antitoxin should be given, for it is the antitoxin that has helped to keep the incidence of lockjaw at its low level. Your physician will advise you as to its use. Its disadvantages are that it gives only temporary protection; it does not get rid of the lockjaw germs in the wound; and it does sometimes cause hives and other disagreeable symptoms for a few days, particularly if the subject has had previous injections. Should lockjaw develop, it requires much antitoxin and entails great expense; and even then, not all cases can be saved. It is not possible to free the environment of lockjaw germs, but now there is a method of active immunization. The subject becomes his own manufacturing establishment for antitoxin to combat lockjaw poison.

One nice feature about the treatment is that it can be combined with diphtheria and whooping cough prophylaxis. The current immunization is, preferably, carried out in infancy. Should a child already have had his diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine injections, he can take the lockjaw toxoid injection alone; and these can be given at any time with very little discomfort.

Why new telephone rates are necessary in Spur

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY is asking the City Commission for approval of a new schedule of telephone rates. This request has been made necessary by rising costs of furnishing telephone service here.

Present telephone rates were established in 1941. These rates are not now bringing in enough revenue to pay the costs of furnishing telephone service here and allow a reasonable return on our investment.

Expenses At High Post-war Levels

Spur now has nearly twice as many telephones as in 1941 when present rates were established. Costs of furnishing service have increased greatly since then.

During 1948, costs of furnishing telephone service in Spur were $18,280, while telephone revenues were $18,546, leaving a return of only $266 for the entire year. This is a return of about one half of one per cent on the company's investment of $46,808 in Spur.

The telephone payroll, one of the major costs of furnishing telephone service, now is more than three times as high in Spur as it was in 1941.

Prices of automobiles, clothing, food, and most other items have increased sharply—some of them several times—in recent years. But local telephone rates have not gone up in the past eight years.

Telephone Expansion Program for Spur

Spur has grown rapidly, and a continuing construction program is needed to expand the telephone system here and improve the quality of the service.

The telephone company's construction and expansion program includes:

A section of switchboard and 200 subscribers lines to be installed next year.

Expansion of the network of outside lines and cables throughout Spur this year and next.

An additional long distance circuit to Abilene to be put in service this year to help expedite Spur's increasing volume of calls to other cities.

Special long distance terminal equipment to be installed in the Spur central office this year.

Proposed New Telephone Rates for Spur

Following is the schedule of telephone rates required to put operation of the Spur telephone system on a more sound financial basis and justify going ahead with the telephone expansion program here:

Class of Service	Proposed Monthly Rate*
One-party business telephone	$5.00
Rural business telephone	3.50
Business extension	1.25
One-party residence telephone	2.75
Two-party residence telephone	2.50
Rural residence telephone	2.50
Residence extension	.75

*Plus Federal tax.
Rural customers more than five miles beyond the city limits will pay a mileage charge of 25 cents for each five miles, or fraction thereof, beyond the five-mile allowance.

The proposed new rate for business telephones is about four cents a day more, while the increase for residence telephones is about one and one-half cents a day.

Rural business and residence telephones will cost less than two cents a day more than at present.

Charges for certain special items of telephone service will be adjusted in relation to today's higher costs of furnishing them.

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY is not asking Spur telephone users to pay the costs of expanding the telephone system here. That money comes largely from people who are willing to invest their savings in telephone securities.

Telephone rates must cover all the costs of furnishing telephone service and allow a reasonable, fair return on the dollars invested in the telephone system here if we are to continue to get the flow of investment dollars we must have to keep pace with the city's increasing needs for telephone service.

The adjustment in telephone rates here—the first since 1941—is necessary to put telephone operations here on a more sound financial basis.

Tech Physicist Says Russian Atom Bomb Expected This Year

American scientists knew five years ago that Russia would probably develop an atomic bomb in 1949, a Texas Technological college physicist said today.

Paul Elliott, assistant professor of physics at Tech, worked with the "Manhattan project" at Oak Ridge, Tenn., from July, 1944, to September, 1946.

"We knew in 1944 that Soviet Russia would be able to split the atom within five years, but there is nothing to be alarmed about," he said.

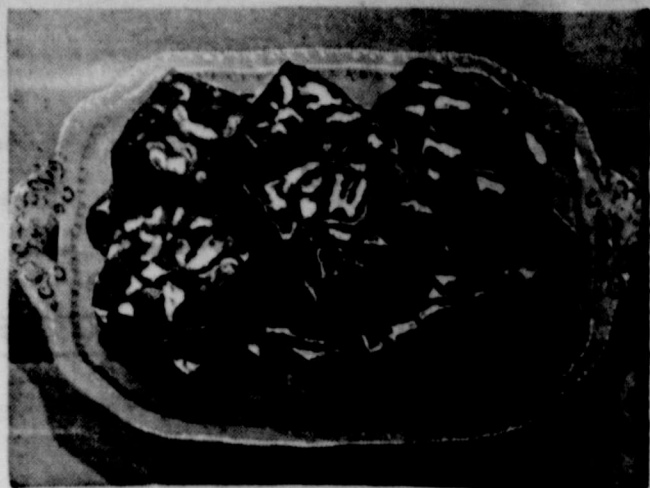

Elliott said that atomic energy was never a secret. The only mystery concerned a method of separating the flow of gases in uranium. Scientists in every part of the globe have been working on the answer for decades, he added.

The Tech physicist said he doesn't believe the threat of World War III is imminent, but he believes the threat of atomic warfare makes necessary the creation of an international police force.

Elliott came to Texas Tech in 1946 immediately after his work at Oak Ridge ended.

Tommy Alldredge spent the week-end visiting his friends and his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Alldredge. Tommy is a freshman in Tech.

For the New Taste In Brownies

Semi-Sweet Chocolate gives busy chewsomen to your old love "Brownies"

From the Test Kitchen of that famous chocolate manufacturer, who gave you TOLL HOUSE COOKIES, QUICK FUDGE and LONGO SQUARES, comes a Semi-Sweet adaptation of the old, loved Brownie recipe. The use of Semi-Sweet Chocolate instead of the old fashioned cooking chocolate adds an intriguingly different edginess to these old time favorites. Since Semi-Sweet Brownies retain their moisture longer than the old time Brownies, they keep better—provided, that is, you hide them away from the eager hands and mouths of your family! Try the easy recipe herewith and learn how to do them up Brownie.

Put together and set aside:

Palace To Show Wayne Film

John Wayne is Hollywood's "Man of the hour." With his last four pictures, "Fort Apache," "Red River," "Wake of the Red Witch" and "The Fighting Kentuckian," mopping up at the box-offices of the nation, he is in a position to write his own terms on all film deals—an enviable and unusual status in Hollywood today.

"The Fighting Kentuckian," due to open Sun. at the Palace Theatre presents Wayne in a dual capacity as star and producer.

Wayne was born in Winterset, Iowa, the son of a drug store proprietor who joined other Iowans in the trek to California when John was but five years old. Christened Marion Michael Morrison, the name was quickly shortened to "Duke," and as "Duke" he went through childhood and a college career at the University of Southern California.

Like many another star athlete, Wayne sought rugged summer vacation jobs to keep his trim for the football season, and he landed a job carrying heavy props on one of the motion picture studio sets. There he was discovered by Raul Walsh and zoomed to stardom in his very first picture, "The Big Trail."

During the next few years Wayne made westerns, including Republic's popular Three Mesquiteers series. Then John Ford chose him for a role in "Stagecoach." The film was a phenomenal hit, and Wayne found himself one of the most desirable leading men in Hollywood, a position which he has maintained consistently for the past ten years.

Producing Debut
A year or so ago, Republic agreed to give Wayne free-hand in producing his own picture, and the result was "Angel and the Badman." It did so well at the box-office that the studio repeated the offer for "The Fighting Kentuckian." Wayne has very definite ideas on how pictures should be produced, and judging from the success of both of his efforts, his theories are sound.

Methodist Announce Mass Meeting

Methodists representing nearly every community in the Northwest Texas conference will attend an Advance mass meeting at the First Methodist church in Lubbock, Texas, on Oct. 20-21. Bishop William C. Martin, resident bishop of the Dallas Area and national chairman of Methodist's four-year program, Advance for Christ and His Church, will direct the meeting.

"Our Faith" will be the central theme of the meeting which features addresses by Bishop Ralph S. Cushman, resident bishop of the St. Paul Area, Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Columbus, Ohio, resident bishop of the Ohio Area and

Bishop Martin. Bishop Cushman will speak on "Our Faith in Christ" and Bishop Werner on "Our Christian Conception of the Worth of Man."

Other speakers include Dr. Evelyn M. Duval, secretary of the National Conference on Family Relations, and Dr. Warren Johnston, pastor, First Methodist church, Fort Worth, Texas.

A series of eight "Faith booklets" to be studied simultaneously by the church and a half million members, will be officially introduced at the meeting, which will also include opportunity for group discussions and a youth meeting in the evening.

The Advance program represents Methodism's positive thrust at secularism and indifference and has the purpose of a deeper understanding of the basic elements of the Christian faith.

HEALTH NOTES

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Oct. 13—

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is a very serious disease caused by a tiny germ that looks like a stick with a ball on one end—something like a microscopic lollipop, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. This ball is called a spore and it is the seed of the germ. Lockjaw germs are found in the soil, especially in manured soil of the barnyard or garden; in blank cartridges; etc.—in fact, just about everywhere. These germs grow best in wounds where there is considerable tissue destruction and in which chips of glass, wood splinters, or grains of dirt have been embedded.

Every accident seen by the physician must be considered from the lockjaw angle; and whenever there is any question, tetanus antitoxin should be given, for it is the antitoxin that has helped to keep the incidence of lockjaw at its low level. Your physician will advise you as to its use. Its disadvantages are that it gives only temporary protection; it does not get rid of the lockjaw germs in the wound; and it does sometimes cause hives and other disagreeable symptoms for a few days, particularly if the subject has had previous injections. Should lockjaw develop, it requires much antitoxin and entails great expense; and even then, not all cases can be saved. It is not possible to free the environment of lockjaw germs; but now there is a method of active immunization. The subject becomes his own manufacturing establishment for antitoxin to combat lockjaw poison.

One nice feature about the treatment is that it can be combined with diphtheria and whooping cough prophylaxis. The current immunization is, preferably, carried out in infancy. Should a child already have had his diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine injections, he can take the lockjaw toxoid injection alone; and these can be given at any time with very little discomfort.

Why new telephone rates are necessary in Spur

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY is asking the City Commission for approval of a new schedule of telephone rates. This request has been made necessary by rising costs of furnishing telephone service here.

Present telephone rates were established in 1941. These rates are not now bringing in enough revenue to pay the costs of furnishing telephone service here and allow a reasonable return on our investment.

Expenses At High Post-war Levels

Spur now has nearly twice as many telephones as in 1941 when present rates were established. Costs of furnishing service have increased greatly since then.

During 1948, costs of furnishing telephone service in Spur were $18,280, while telephone revenues were $18,146, leaving a return of only $266 for the entire year. This is a return of about one half of one per cent on the company's investment of $46,803 in Spur.

The telephone payroll, one of the major costs of furnishing telephone service, now is more than three times as high in Spur as it was in 1941.

Prices of automobiles, clothing, food, and most other items have increased sharply—some of them several times—in recent years. But local telephone rates have not gone up in the past eight years.

Telephone Expansion Program for Spur

Spur has grown rapidly, and a continuing construction program is needed to expand the telephone system here and improve the quality of the service.

The telephone company's construction and expansion program includes:

A section of switchboard and 200 subscribers lines to be installed next year.

Expansion of the network of outside lines and cables throughout Spur this year and next.

An additional long distance circuit to Abilene to be put in service this year to help expedite Spur's increasing volume of calls to other cities.

Special long distance terminal equipment to be installed in the Spur central office this year.

Proposed New Telephone Rates for Spur

Following is the schedule of telephone rates required to put operation of the Spur telephone system on a more sound financial basis and justify going ahead with the telephone expansion program here:

Class of Service	Proposed Monthly Rate*
One-party business telephone	$5.00
Rural business telephone	3.50
Business extension	1.25
One-party residence telephone	2.75
Two-party residence telephone	2.50
Rural residence telephone	2.50
Residence extension	.75

*Plus Federal tax.

Rural customers more than five miles beyond the city limits will pay a mileage charge of 25 cents for each five miles, or fraction thereof, beyond the five-mile allowance.

The proposed new rate for business telephones is about four cents a day more, while the increase for residence telephones is about one and one-half cents a day.

Rural business and residence telephones will cost less than two cents a day more than at present.

Charges for certain special items of telephone service will be adjusted in relation to today's higher costs of furnishing them.

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY is not asking Spur telephone users to pay the costs of expanding the telephone system here. That money comes largely from people who are willing to invest their savings in telephone securities.

Telephone rates must cover all the costs of furnishing telephone service and allow a reasonable, fair return on the dollars invested in the telephone system here if we are to continue to get the flow of investment dollars we must have to keep pace with the city's increasing needs for telephone service.

The adjustment in telephone rates here—the first since 1941—is necessary to put telephone operations here on a more sound financial basis.

Fat Stock Show To Award Cash Prizes

Approximately $112,000 in cash awards will be offered by the 1950 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will open Jan. 27 and extend through Feb. 5.

The scene of Fort Worth exposition will be the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum and the cluster of buildings which give the show a plant unsurpassed in America for beauty and facilities.

In line with the steady, year-by-year progress carried out by the officials and board of directors, a number of improvements will be noted by the visitors. A new feed building and a second judging and auction arena have been constructed. Other structures added in the past few seasons include six livestock buildings extending over a 950-foot frontage and connected by a covered corridor; the horse show building, with space for 600 animals, and the pen and carload lots building, these structures representing an outlay of around $2,000,000.

Mud has been banished through the paving of walks, roadways and parking areas.

Premiums in the Hereford divisions aggregate $15,800; Aberdeen-Angus, $8,680; Shorthorns, $3,760; Polled Herefords, $2,000 and Brahman, shown competitively for the first time last year, $2,000.

Winners in the fat steers, open

The horse show awards will approximate $23,000, apportioned among the gaited horses, walking horses, road horses, Hackney ponies, hunters and jumpers, cut-horses, quarter horses, Palominos and Shetland ponies.

Most daring and skilled of cowboys will compete in the rodeo, always a picturesque and exciting part of the Stock Show. In fact, the Fort Worth exposition originated the indoor rodeo, the first world had ever seen being in 1917.

Dairy cattle will compete for $3,950. In the swine department $8,720 is offered, sheep, $3,641; poultry and rabbits, $2,000. Prizes in the boys' livestock show total $7,650.

Premium lists are going out to 5,000 prospective exhibitors. Entries in the cattle, sheep and swine departments must be in the show's general office by Dec. 12. Entries bearing that day's postmark will be accepted. Exhibitors are urged to make their entries as early as possible so they can be shown in the official catalog and so that stalls can be assigned. Entries are free but charges are made for stalls and pens.

Deadline for horse show entries is Jan. 5.

Officials of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show are Amon G. Carter, chairman of the board; W. R. Watt, president; Ernest Allen, vice-president; Marshall A. Fuller, treasurer, and Mayor Edgar Deen, secretary-general manager.

The requirements for a U. S. Grade A turkey are: must be well fleshed, entire carcass covered with fat and practically free of pin feathers. These birds bring the top prices.

The finger from an old glove or a thimble placed over the end of a curtain rod helps the curtain slip on to the rod easily without catching or tearing.

To keep belts in one place where they are easy to find, serve cup hooks all the way across an ordinary wooden coat hanger and hang the belts on them. This saves space too.

Legislature Adopts Proposed Amendment For Women To Do Jury Service

The idea of making women eligible for jury service is approved by two out of every three representative voters in the latest statewide survey by The Texas Poll.

Voters will ballot officially on this issue, along with nine other proposed constitutional amendments, in the special election November 8.

The Texas Poll has been measuring public opinion on the question of jury service for women since before the war. In 1941, just before the U. S. entered the war, a survey showed that most men did not approve of women serving on juries. However, most women did. Of all adults interviewed in the pre-war survey, exactly 50 per cent said they thought women should be allowed on juries.

In 1947, The Texas Poll found 65 per cent of a cross section of adults approved the idea. That survey indicated the rank and file of Texas men had come around to the view that women should be allowed on juries. But members of the Texas Legislature, after considering the question, failed to submit it to a vote of the people.

Six months ago, before the Legislature finally adopted the proposed amendment, a statewide survey by The Texas Poll showed almost the same results as the 1947 survey. Now the latest Poll, completed last month, indicates opinion among all qualified voters has remained fairly stable during the past six months.

Division of voters in the last two surveys is compared below: "Do you think Texas should or should not allow women to serve on juries?"

Farm Cash Income Down From July

Austin, Texas, Oct. Texas farm cash income for August 1949 totaled $178,391,000, falling 6 per cent from July, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Cotton was the greatest source of income, bringing Texas farmers $403,476,000 during August. Income from cottonseed totaled $14,527,000; and cattle, $14,724,000.

Compared with August 1948 farm cash income for August 1949 fell 4 per cent. With the exception of cotton, cottonseed, wheat, oats, and eggs all farm commodities brought Texas farmers less money in August than in August of a year ago.

July-to-August increases in crop reporting districts varied from a 2-per-cent rise in the Lower Rio Grande Valley to a 32.2-per-cent gain in Southern Texas Prairies. During this period declines ranged from a 6-per-cent decrease in Northern High Plains to a 78-per-cent fall in Southern High Plains. In comparison with August 1948 increases varied from 2 per cent in Southern Texas Prairies to 74 per cent in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. From August 1948 to August 1949 declines ranged from 4 per cent in Northern High Plains to 52 per cent in Coastal Prairies.

After adjustment for seasonal variation, the Bureau's index of farm cash income declined to 473 per cent of the 1935-39 base period in August from 654 in July and 490 in August 1948.

For the first eight months of 1949 farm cash income totaled $813,983,000, falling 8 percent under a like period in 1948. Except for a 42-per-cent increase in Northern High Plains and a 7-per-cent gain in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, all districts recorded declines from 10 to 59 per cent below their 1948 levels.

H-SU Cowboys Face Lobos In Odessa

Undeclared in two Border Conference starts, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys will play their next loop tilt on a neutral field in Odessa Saturday night.

The Baptists will meet the University of New Mexico Lobos. The Pokes hold conference wins over Arizona State (Tempe) 34-13, and Arizona University 35-0.

Displaying a mighty defense that allowed the Wildcats to penetrate the Hardin-Simmons end on the field only twice, the Cowboys, already known for a powerful running and passing attack, manufactured three first half scores and two in the third period to win over the supposedly strong Arizona Wildcats. The Wildcats, slated as top contenders for the Border Conference crown, defeated the Cowboys last year 20-14.

H-SU head mentor Warren Woodson, after taking inventory on the physical condition of his gridirers Monday afternoon, sent his charges through a light workout. A heavier session, both on offense and defense is slated for Tuesday.

All Conference and All American mention Wilton (Hook) Davis was injured in the Saturday night tilt which was witnessed by a capacity Homecoming crowd. It is believed that the Austin flash will be ready for the New Mexico tilt.

Davis ran for a net of 79 yards and set up the initial score with a 45 yard gallop. His two understudies Nolan Tiger and sophomore Harold Taylor took over for the injured Davis. Taylor accounted for three of the H-SU scores, receiving a John Ford touchdown aerial, and carrying the ball over from the one and two yard markers.

Sparked by members of Coach Al Mitchell's last year's undefeated and untied freshmen team, the Cowboys allowed the Wildcats to get past the midfield stripe only once on their own initiative.

A pass play—Fred Batiste to Bill Glazier—was good for 16 yards late in the third quarter down to the H-SU 33. That was close as the Wildcats managed to get the H-SU goal line.

Both head mentor Woodson, and line coach Murray Evans were pleased with the defensive work displayed by the "Pokes."

Scoring honors for the Cowboys are well distributed. All-Conference end, Bob McChesney, leads the Ranchers with four six-pointers to his credit. Davis and Harold

YOU MEET SUCH INTERESTING PEOPLE

by Robt. K. Christenberry
President of the famous Hotel Astor

I just got a telegram handed to me, "Get out that old brass bed, cousin, I'm on my way." Signed, "Jimmy."

No need to wonder which of the four or five hundred Jimmys the cryptic message came from. At a glance it meant that my favorite human being was headed home again, that Jimmy Durante was on his way back to put a glitter into Broadway that even a million bright lights couldn't give it.

No matter how many interesting people a hotel host meets, The Schnoz is in a class by himself. I'll never forget the first time we shook hands. I was managing the Jefferson Hotel in Peoria, Illinois, when a noise in the lobby announced the arrival of an oddly dressed trio of men. One was nattily toggled out in a finely tailored blue serge suit, with a pearl grey fedora and spats to match. The second wore a loud tweed suit, topcoat and cap made of the same imported material. And the third chap, a little nose-heavy, looked like a picture out of Esquire—the picture on the left under the caption: "Incorrect."

"Lou Clayton, Eddie Jackson and Jimmy Durante—Broadway," they snappily signed the register. I dropped up to say hello and, for a moment, hesitated. For outside the door was a hand-made sign that read: "We don't wish to be Disturbed, See!"

"That wasn't meant for you, Mr. Christenberry," Jimmy grinned, shaking hands graciously, "that's for the holly polly whom we don't like to greet in our undywear." I laughed right out loud. For the comedian was wearing a pair of long woolen undies with his monogram sewed across the chest. "That's in case of a fire," he explained.

Two years later I played host to Jimmy again. Checking into the Astor at a time when we were rebuilding and redecorating the famous hostelry, a clerk assigned our illustrious guest into a suite that hadn't been redecorated. An old chandelier hung from the ceiling, paper, grey with age, covered the walls and a massive brass bed took up half the bedroom. I offered to switch the suite. "Never, cousin," Jimmy said seriously, "whaddyu think I've been woken for all these years—so I could afford to sleep in Mr. Astor's brass bed. As long as I snooze here you must promise I'll always have this brass bed."

That was a million laughs ago, but to this day we've never violated our promise. Jimmy's brass bed remains one of our proudest pieces of furniture. It has a corner of its own in our storage room, is shined daily and ready upon an hour's notice to send up to the Durante suite whenever a phone-call or a wire reveals that Jimmy's on his way home.

Actually we ought to pay Durante for staying with us. For he's the greatest morale builder in the world. He calls each bellhop by name, asks one veteran elevator operator how his sinus is getting along and wonders whether a certain maid's son has graduated from college yet. He likes people; he doesn't care what their station in life is—concern himself about his pre-eminence. Jimmy's plain folks and plain folks and fancy folks adore him for it.

One thing about Durante. He'd rather spend his vacation in the City of Timesquare, U.S.A., than see the world. Once Jimmy decided he'd pay a visit to his father's homeland, Italy. We had a little "barn voyage party" as the tourists described it, and waved goodbye from the pier. Within seven days a cable arrived telling us to get the brass bed ready—that he'd been to three mosques, four bars and one church and saw everything he wanted to see in Italy. He hasn't been abroad since...

God and Nations

Lesson for October 16, 1949

WHEN the Spanish fleet was about to invade England, back in Queen Elizabeth's time, nothing the English had could stop them. But when the Armada arrived, that vast fleet had been blown to bits by a storm, and the English neatly mopped up what was left. How do you account for that? The English always said God was with them.

When the Nazis had overrun France in 1940, it would have been simple for them to invade England. There was next to nothing to stop them. But Hitler delayed from summer till fall . . . and by that time the British were able to mount an invincible defense. How do you account for that? Over and over again in history the unexpected, the unexpected, the "miraculous," has happened. Some call it chance; but others call it God.

God In History

BUT GOD does not always usually operate in spectacular ways. God works in history as he works in nature, out of sight, visible to the eye of faith but seldom to the eye of faith.

History, from the Christian point of view, is the working-out of the purposes of God. The pattern is not entirely clear to us, because we cannot see enough of it at once. But looking back through history, we can see signs that God has been there. This is the message of the prophets of Israel, especially of the great Isaiah.

In a troubled era, when every thing seemed to be in most complete confusion, Isaiah gave out some clear and plain truths from God, and helped men then and now read the pattern of God's design.

The Life Of A Nation

ONE TRUTH is that justice is a nation's life and sin is a nation's death. God being the God of justice, his purpose is to set justice in the earth. God plays no favorites among nations. Any nation that lives by God's laws, lives; the nation that defies God has signed its own death warrant. There are no peoples who can "get by" with what they please, if what they please is not the will of God. There are people now who do not believe that. They would say, Look at Russia! In Isaiah's time there were those who would say to Isaiah: You must be wrong—look at Assyria! There is a nation that does not know God, and yet grows every year stronger and stronger.

God's Ax

ISAIAH has a startling answer to that objection. (Chap. 10.) Assyria is a tool in God's hand, no more. He admits that Assyria has no standard but force, she worships only sheer Power. But there are other nations, wicked ones, which God intends to punish; one of these is the nation of Israel.

Assyria was destined to destroy Israel once and for all, and to damage Judah so severely she never would recover. All this, Isaiah says, is in God's plan.

God does not punish an evil nation with legions of angels and demons in war. Assyria was an ax in the hand of God, cutting down the rotting trees of selfish and unjust nations.

Return To God!

PEOPLE in Isaiah's time were putting their trust, just as we do nowadays, in alliances, pacts, international combinations of all kinds. Isaiah warns ominously that this will not do, by itself. Not that all alliances are bad; in chapter 19 he actually pictures Assyria, Egypt and Israel as brothers-in-arms.

But he does not hold out any political scheme or combination as the best hope of a nation. Return to God! is the prophetic call. So in our time, whether it be a general MacArthur or a theologian Bruce

Many of our ablest men are warning us even now, that humanity is facing an alternative: Either go on the way of selfishness and war down to destruction, or else go back to the Source of justice, truth and love, the God in whom alone is salvation.

Garden Theme Used For Baptist WMU Installation

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met in the educational building of the church at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, October, for the formal installation of its officers for the coming year.

Pastel flowers and greenery decorated the receiving room. A miniature garden with a lattice-work gate adorned with pastel flowers was constructed at one end of the room. A tiny church with lighted windows could be seen in the background of greenery.

Miss Faye Middlebrooks played soft music at the piano as the guests arrived. The guests were met at the door by members of the Junior R. A. who acted as ushers. Programs for the evening were miniature dolls in garden dresses with lavender sashes.

Mrs. Elmer Hagins led the group in a period of singsgiving. Rev. C. Melvin Rathel, pastor, brought the devotion for the evening on "Watered Gardens". A vocal solo, "In the Garden", was sung by Miss Johnna Lou Scudder, a Junior G. A.

A gift of appreciation, the W. M. U. pin, was presented to Mrs. Joe B. Long for her services as W. M. U. president during the past year.

Each officer for the new year was presented with her duties for the new year by the installation officer, Mrs. Grady Lackey. A corsage was given each officer as she accepted her duties and walked through the "gate of opportunity" into the "W. M. U. garden of service." The "gate of opportunity" was opened for each one by little Miss Patty Ann Patrick, a member of the Sunbeam band. Bro. Rathel led in a prayer of dedication for the new officers at the close of the installation ceremony.

Officers which were installed were: Mrs. C. P. Scudder, president; C. Melvin Rathel, young people's director; Elmer Hagins, chairman of the Cautious Circle; L. W. Langston, chairman of the Lockett Circle; W. S. Patrick, chairman of the Bagby Circle; Mrs. Leon M. Huff, Jr., second vice-president and program chairman.

Myrtle Whitwell, recording secretary; W. Franklin Patrick, community missions chairman; Jerry Ensey, corresponding secretary and treasurer; Joe B. Long, Bible and mission study chairman; Walter Gruben, Stewardship chairman; and T. J. Seale, benevolence chairman.

Members of the Intermediate G. A. presided at the serving table which was laid with a white cutwork cloth. A centerpiece of crystal candelabra with white tapers was encircled by greenery and pastel flowers. The W. M. U. colors of purple and white were carried out in the refreshments of fruit punch and white cake squares. The napkins were white with W. M. U. engraved in purple.

Approximately 55 members and guests attended the installation ceremony.

Your Child

A WEEKLY COLUMN
conducted by Claud C. Roch
Educational Director,
Childcraft Advisory Service

In many homes, the word "father" is used by the mother in a fault-finding manner in order to cause obedience from the children.

Without realizing the effect you are having on a child, some of you mothers will say occasionally in a moment of exasperation:

"Wait until your father hears about this!" or "If you do that again, I'll tell your father!"

The Childcraft Advisory Service, which answers thousands of queries from parents every year, has found this to be a form of discipline quite commonly used by mothers. And the discovery that it is almost always effective, may tempt you to use it more and more often.

But, the next time the need arises for disciplining a child, try to resist the temptation to exact obedience in this way. It will not be hard to do if you remember that children reared in families where the father's word is law, may grow up to be either extremely dependent or else resentful of any authority.

When you meet a grownup who seems unable to make decisions for himself, or who lacks self-confidence and initiative, you will quite often discover that he comes from a family in which the father was—or was made to appear—a dominating individual and a strict disciplinarian.

Friends and business associates of this type of individual may refer to him as "nearly-paranoid" or "wishy-washy." They will not fault in his ability and ignore his timidity expressed opinions. Now and then they will be heard to say in a puzzled manner: "I wonder what's wrong with John! Why, he's nothing at all like his father!"

Such persons may not realize it, but they are seeing what happens when one personality is crushed under the weight of another.

9 to 16 years of age are cordially invited to attend.

Dry Lake 4-H Club Elects Officers

The Dry Lake 4-H club met Thursday at the Dry Lake school for their first meeting of the fall. The purpose of this meeting was to elect officers for the new year.

They were as follows: Joe Ann Johnson, president; Mary Baker, vice president; Strela Calvert, secretary; Linda Hotscho, treasurer; Nancy Powell, reporter; Ineta Kidd, poultry demonstrator; and Shirley Moore, bedroom demonstrator.

Mrs. Jack Gordon, sponsor of the club announced that the girls had begun to sew on their aprons.

Dickens Owls Down Flomot Squad 25-8

The Dickens Owls, seeking revenge for last week's defeat, gave the Flomot Longhorns a sound 25 to 8 licking.

The Dickens Squad lost little time in scoring when Green ran 12 yards for a TD in the opening minutes of the game. Early in the second quarter Koonman completed a pass to Swearingen in the end zone for the second score. Dickens led 13 to 0 at the half.

Koonman opened the second half by returning the Flomot kick-off 35 yards for a touchdown. Flomot then marched 60 yards on ground plays to score. In the last quarter Koonman completed another pass to Swearingen who ran the remainder in 13 yards to score.

Dickens traveled Southland Friday night to tangle with the Eagles. Both teams are now tied for third place in the District.
