LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED AT SHOW

PLAINVIEW, April 17. (AP)—Delegations from Panhandle-Plains cities were battling muddy roads today en route to their regional dairy show here. However, early reports received by Grady Shipp, secretary-manager, indicated attendance would be large in spite of general rains over the area last night. Rainfall varied from a quarter of an inch to an inch throughout the territory and heavy clouds threatened to bring more precipitation.

The Amarillo's delegation, headed by a 50-piece high school band, left that city early and headed into a 30-mile unpaved gap across Swisher county. The Tulia delegation, which last year was the largest at the show,

FDR MAY HAVE GARNER PROVE FISH STORIES

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt today received a delegation of Texas newspaper editors and in a brief talk expressed the hope of going to Texas next year for some fishing.

Lowry Martin, editor of the Corsicana Daily Sun, presented the president the Lone Star flag of the state of Texas and Mr. Roosevelt announced he would place it in his library in the White House.

"I am very appreciative of the state of Texas," said Mr. Roosevelt. "Sometimes I have the feeling that Texas is not only the largest state but that it is running the government more largely than any other state. When I go away to the Bahamas for fishing or to other places, the vice president carries on 100 per cent in my absence.

"Then, too, all the purse strings of the government are in the pocket of Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC.

"I am very happy in your congressional delegation. Senator Morris Sheppard and my old friend Tom Connally are among my warmest friends and supporters. In the house—well, there are occasional lapses in the house, but we get along very well.

"I hope to get down to Texas next year and try some fishing. Jack Garner has taught me how to tell fish stories. I want to make him prove them."

(By The Associated Press)

Claus, under indictment for the killing of A. C. ("Bill") Street, was in a hospital suffering from gun shot wounds. Physicians said he would recover.

A personal bodyguard was "standing by" Claus' hospital room, his attorney, Louis Schlesinger, said, for fear gunmen might attempt to "finish the job."

PARTY GUESTS DENY WIRT'S TESTIMONY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 17. —Attendants at the September dinner party where Dr. William A. Wirt said he heard talk of revolutionary conspiracy within the administration today branded his testimony "false" and "untrue."

"He did all the talking" was the substance of assertions to the house investigating committee by Miss Alice Barrows, hostess on the disputed occasion, and agreement with her came from among the five other guests.

Denies Statement

Miss Hildegarde Kneeland, department of agriculture worker, replied "I did not" when asked about Wirt's attributed to her of statements about her following the philosophy of Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture.

She said she did not meet Tugwell until five months after the dinner and had never read any of his writings.

Miss Barrows, at one time secretary to Wirt, has been in the interior department since the Coolidge administration.

Another of the diners, Miss Mary Taylor of the agriculture department, testified that Dr. Wirt "had no conversation" but "a monologue" at the dinner.

"Did you or any others present that night tell Dr. Wirt you were close to the president and could control his decisions?" Chairman Bulwinkle asked Miss Barrows.

"We did not," she answered.

"No Kerensky Talk"

She, Miss Kneeland and Miss Taylor said there had been no statement about President Roosevelt being "only the Kerensky of this revolution."

Dr. Wirt was present in the huge audience. Now and again there was laughter as the witnesses depicted him on the night in question as having monopolized the conversation with his views on inflation.

Republicans on the committee lost attempts to have him called again, and for summoning of Tugwell, Secretary Wallace and others.

Mrs. Manville Not To Seek A Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—Dropping all thought of a Reno divorce, Mrs. Tommy Manville, wife of the asbestos heir, is flying back to New York today to rejoin her husband.

The former Marcella Edwards of the stage came to Hollywood a week ago on what was to have been a month's "marital vacation" from her sportsman-husband. While here, she disclosed after boarding an airplane for the east last night, the thought of obtaining a Nevada divorce.

But daily long distance telephone conversations with her husband convinced the former actress that she didn't even want a "marital vacation."

Felons Flogged As Break Fails

SIX LASHES APPLIED TO THREE CONVICTS; TWO GET AWAY

(By The Associated Press)

CANON CITY, Colo., April 17. —Six lusty lashes, applied to bare backs of three convicts who failed in an effort to escape the Colorado state penitentiary, ended the episode as far as they were concerned, but prison officials pushed a search today for two others who manage to get away.

The three, William Crosby, Marvin Green and Roy McVey, were captured soon after the quintet, armed with an improvised knife, marched Joe Moschetti, labor overseer, through an open gate of the prison and attempted to flee.

The other two were Claud Reeves, who was believed to have fled in a stolen motor car, and Raymond Perry.

Promise To Behave

Shortly after McVey, Green and Crosby were returned to the prison they were taken to a storeroom for the flogging. The whip, a leather strap eight inches wide and a half inch thick, attached to a wooden handle, was applied by Jim Pate, husky negro guard. Each prisoner later promised to behave.

Warden Roy Best said these were the first whippings at the institutions in several years.

The five men, all long-term convicts, were working near an opened gate when suddenly one of them drew a knife and threatened Moschetti. Pete Hanning, a returned parole violator, leaped to the overseer's rescue and fought a lively battle with the men, enabling the overseer to attract the attention of guards in two towers. With Hanning subdued, the five men surrounded Moschetti and walked out of the gate under menace of the towermen's rifles. Although covering the group, the towermen were afraid to shoot for fear of killing the overseer.

Dodge Rain of Bullets

Once outside, the five men scattered and fled, dodging a heavy rain of bullets.

McVey and Green, in an effort to steal a car, found one belonging to Mrs. William Kinney, wife of the

France Tells Leon Trotzky To Leave

PARIS, April 17 (AP)—Leon Trotzky, exiled Russian revolutionist, was ordered to leave France by the government today because of his efforts to organize a world revolution.

Legality Of Cuban Debt To Be Probed

HAVANA, April 17 (AP)—President Carlos Mendieta appointed a commission today to investigate the legality of Cuba's debt to the Chase National bank of New York.

Cuban government officials have held the obligation "illegitimate" because it was contracted by the deposed President Gerardo Machado without the approval "of the Cuban people."

HEIRESS FREED FROM TITLED HUBBY

EL PASO, April 17. (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Janet Snowden, oil investment fortune heiress who married a titled Italian nobleman for "spite," is free of her marital bonds.

Her fight to rid herself of Prince F. Caravita Siriggnano of Italy, whom she describes as "a nice fellow," terminated yesterday after many legal efforts that started in New York City just five days after she was married last August.

Arturo Martinez, clerk of the Juarez, Chih., Mexico, civil court, announced last night that the divorce had been granted, but refused to give other details.

Janet's attorney, Jerpiroc Ceniceros, who said he acted in behalf of a New York attorney, said the divorce action was based on allegations of incompatibility.

Janet was the recipient of a huge oil fortune, willed to her upon her father's death. She married the Prince di Siriggnano Don Francesco Caravita and five days later announced she was seeking an annulment.

She pictured her titled husband "as a nice fellow", but added that her marriage to him was prompted by "spite" and that she loved another man. She alleged in her annulment application that she did not live with the prince, and that she had listed her age on the license application as 25 years, while she was only 19.

QUIET PREVAILS AFTER VIOLENCE BY MOB AVERTED

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 17. (AP)—Quiet prevailed about the El Paso county jail today after five negroes, held as suspects in the beating of two Colorado college students, had been rushed to the state penitentiary at Canon City for safekeeping.

Threats of violence caused authorities to spirit the prisoners away late yesterday after they had been viewed by the victims of the beatings, Miss Georgia Lindley, 22, Longview, Tex., and James O'Brien, 19, Colorado Springs. Hugh D. Parker, chief of police, said the two had identified George Williams, 21, as one of the two men who robbed and later beat them.

Twice during the night, crowds estimated at 1,000 persons, gathered at the jail demanding the prisoners be turned over to them. But each time officers invited representatives to inspect the jail and satisfy themselves that the prisoners had been removed.

BOARD PROBES AIR POLICY

DERN FOLLOWS FDR IN ASKING POLITICS BE KEPT OUT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Secretary Dern dropped the army's air policy into the lap of an 11-man board of inquiry today.

The war department chief opened the investigation into all phases of army flying just a day after President Roosevelt called for a congressional commission to outline a national air policy.

"Keep politics out of this," was the tenor of Secretary Dern's admonition to the committee of six civilian and five military air authorities. He directed them to find out what should be done to make the army air corps "second to none in modern equipment and training."

"Mission Is Technical"

"Your mission is technical, not political," he said.

The group is headed by Newton D. Baker, wartime secretary of war. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was originally named, but declined to serve. The inquiry was decided upon after a dozen fatalities accompanied the army's taking over of the airmail.

As the army air corps investigators sat down at the war department for their first meeting, President Roosevelt's demand for a national aviation policy was getting prompt attention on Capitol hill.

The president, in conferring at the White House yesterday with three congressional leaders, told them he wanted:

First: A commission named by congress to outline a national aviation policy, and

Second: Speedy enactment of pending airmail legislation in order to free airmail awards quickly from any contact with politics.

Mansfield Offers FDR-Opposed Bill

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—President Roosevelt and Chairman Mansfield of the house rivers and harbors committee apparently came to a parting of the ways today on the question of how and by whom waterways improvements should be carried out.

Frankly mindful that the president is opposed to consideration of rivers and harbors legislation at this time because of the budget situation, Mansfield today asked congress to pass an omnibus bill anyway.

NO PROVISION FOR PAYMENT TO BE MADE

NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN REPORTS PROFIT FOR PAST FISCAL YEAR

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, April 17.—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, declared to the house of commons today that he did not propose to make any provision for the payments of war debts to America or the receipts of war debts from Great Britain's debtors.

His statement was made in the midst of a speech in which he said Great Britain now had "regained its place as the first exhorting country of the world."

Profit Reported

He told his listeners, who cheered him repeatedly, that the past fiscal year had shown a profit of 39,000,000 pounds—or about $200,000,000—and that "the atmosphere is distinctly brighter."

He listed sources of revenue in proposing his budget for the year 1934-35 and said that in the year past the beer tax had produced 5,000,000 pounds more than expected but that there had been a deficit in the revenues from tea and sugar. Groans followed ceers with this announcement.

The British public received a gift of a six pence in the pound reduction of income taxes—a reduction in the case of small incomes, of approximately 10 per cent.

The reduction was announced by Chamberlain.

He further declared that one-half the pay cuts suffered by government employes would be restored July 1 and that unemployment relief would be fully restored at the same time.

He said that with the first of the year the present automobile license tax would be cut 25 per cent from its present rate of one pound per one horse power.

JAP PROTESTS TO U. S. SEEN

POLICY TOWARD CHINA RESTATED; SALE OF PLANES OPPOSED

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, April 17.—The draft of a "restatement and clarification" of Japan's policy toward China which may be made the basis of protests to the United States was revealed to the Associated Press today.

From a high official source, it was learned the draft already has been submitted by the foreign office to Foreign Minister Koki Hirota for approval.

Peace Held Aim

It will be communicated shortly to the Japanese minister at Nanking and to all other Japanese officials now in China.

The draft contains a statement of Japan's insistence that she holds special responsibility to "maintain the peace in east Asia" and to determine that China's contacts with other powers shall not be of such a nature as to jeopardize that peace.

In order that other powers may "fully understand," an official spokesman said the draft probably will be communicated to Japanese ambassadors in Washington and other capitals to serve as a basis for explanations to the governments

NEW WAY TO REDUCE—BURN OFF FAT

CHICAGO, April 17. (AP)—Latest tests of a new way to get thin—a drug that puts your body under "forced draft" and "burns" the fat off you, making you feel better at the same time—were outlined today to the American College of Physicians.

The drug, one of the chemicals known as "dinitro compounds," can be used to take off any amount of weight desired when used properly, said Dr. Edward L. Bortz of Philadelphia. He warned at the same time, however, that people who use these drugs without a physician's advice are running grave risk of ill health and perhaps death.

The new reducing medicine "lets more air into the furnace." A fat man is like a slow fire burning in a furnace with the damper barely open. His bodily fuel is burned up slowly in the production of heat and energy, which scientists call basal metabolism. The new medicine "opens the damper," and the slow fire burns faster. The fat melts away because the body is producing heat and energy faster than before. Scientists call it accelerating the metabolism.

"Weight loss averaged from three to six pounds during the first ten days on one to three capsules of 100 milligrams each daily," Dr. Bortz said his experiments showed. "In those individuals showing a physiological response to the drug, weight loss continued at the rate of one to four pounds each week for as long as the medication was taken."

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, April 17.—Floyd P. Stambaugh, 58, and Ira Robinson of Emherst, a Tri-State employe, were killed in an automobile collision here early today.

Both victims were thrown clear of the touring car. Stambaugh died a few minutes after being picked up from the sidewalk. Robinson died later in a hospital.

The driver of the touring car, Alvin Woodall, was uninjured. Whitford suffered only from shock.

REEVES HEADS CREDIT BODY

WICHITA FALLS TO BE HOST TO THE NEXT QUARTERLY MEET

Panhandle-Plains Credit association, of retail merchant association secretaries, elected Garnet O. Reeves of Lubbock president at a quarterly meeting Monday at Hilton hotel. Next quarterly meeting will be at Wichita Falls.

J. E. Chilton, jr., Dallas, manager of Merchants Red Book company, and Arthur H. Hert, Austin, manager of the Retail Merchants association of Texas, were principal speakers.

Succeed Townsend

Reeves succeeded Rollie E. Townsend, Amarillo.

Advocating support of a proposed state-wide educational campaign urging prompt payment of retail credit accounts, to be sponsored by the Retail Credit Men's association of Texas, Chilton urged each retail merchants association secretary present to go back to his respective town and secure additional members for the credit men's association to support the program.

Plans Announced

Hert announced plans for the annual state Retail Merchants association convention which will be held at Temple May 21, 22, and 23.

Mrs. Leslie Huffines of Wichita Falls was elected vice-president and Mrs. Adella S. Drew, Plainview, was elected secretary.

The following were elected directors; Rollie E. Townsend, Amarillo; Miss Aubrey Stiles, Floydada; Mrs. Lee Green, Slaton; Carson Loftus, Pampa, and Walter Daugherty, Borger.

Farm Leaders Will Hear O. W. Sherrill

A meeting of county farm agents and vocational agriculture teachers of the nine counties of the Lubbock Production Credit association territory will be conducted Wednesday, beginning at 10 a. m., at Lubbock hotel, Owen W. Sherrill, secretary of the Production Credit corporation at Houston, called the meeting.

Purpose of the meeting, said Sim O'Neal, secretary of the local group, is to "better acquaint these workers with the methods and entire set up of the association." It will last one day.

"It is the desire of Mr. Sherrill to give such information as will eliminate the confusion which now exists between the emergency credit and production credit," Mr. O'Neal explained, "as the production credit associations are intended to serve the loan needs of stockmen and farmers in bad times as well as in good."

At noon the Lubbock Rotary club will entertain the visitors with a program including reports on the recent Texas Tech expedition to the Yaqui Indian territory of Mexico.

The session will close late in the afternoon.

THREAT FACED BY CURRY

TAMMANY LEADER MAY BE OUSTED; MEET TO BE FORCED

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Tribal chiefs of Tammany sharpened their tomahawks today and went after John F. Curry's scalp.

It was the regular "receiving day" for Curry, leader of Tammany, but whether he would receive a scalping or a further lease on his dictatorship of Tammany Democracy none could predict with certainty.

Anti-Curry leaders, whose insurgency has shaken the Democratic city organization, once the most powerful in the nation, said they had mustered the strength to force out Curry, should he refuse to quit.

"Hopelessly Divided"

"The party is hopelessly divided under Mr. Curry," said Miss Annie Matthews, a district co-leader. "I think he should step out for some other man who could come in and reunite the party."

The insurgents have signatures, representing 18 of the 25 votes in the Tammany executive committee, affixed to a petition, calling for a meeting to act on a resolution to oust Curry.

Claiming at least two and a half more votes, the opposition leaders—if Curry does not resign—planned to force the meeting and the vote on the ouster motion. Twelve and 2-3 votes would be enough to end Curry's rule.

White-haired, dignified and silent, Curry became the Tammany leader after George W. Olvany, ally of Alfred E. Smith, resigned in 1929.

The Curry fortunes have waned rapidly in New York Democracy, as those of the forces of Franklin D. Roosevelt have risen.

If you want safe relief from Constipation

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

1. Regulate intestinal action gently—no "purging"
2. Measure dose to suit your individual needs
3. Avoid Bowel Fatigue and the laxative habit

Here's Why:

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise use of harsh laxatives often does more harm than good.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains doubtful drugs, don't take it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using it, you avoid danger of bowel strain.

The liquid test:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics:

First. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find is suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

SEED IS BEING STERILIZED

PLAINS FARMERS SEEK TO PREVENT SPREAD OF PINK BOLLWORM

To prevent spread of the pink bollworm in this area, more than 2,000 farmers in seven South Plains counties west and southwest of Lubbock have had their 1934 cotton planting seed sterilized in 21 government-owned sterilizers.

H. B. Prickett, federal supervisor of the bureau of plant quarantine, made that estimate Monday.

"This is only about one third of the seed that should be sterilized before being planted," Mr. Prickett said. "All seed grown in the infected territory should be sterilized to kill the pink bollworms before planting. The machines are being operated at gins at no cost to farmers.

To Save Year

"By having the seed sterilized this year before planting, it may be possible to save a year. If we can kill the worms this spring it will mean that the quarantine will be shortened a year. Otherwise, it will take another year to stamp out the pests.

"In order to kill the worms it is necessary to have 100 per cent cooperation. The only cost to the farmer is that of hauling his seed to town and back home."

A federal inspector is stationed at each gin where a machine is operating. He tests regularly the steam heat in the machine to see that it does not get too hot and kill germination of the seed. Samples are taken before and after a load is cleaned.

Location Given

Every effort is made to see that the steam heat does not reach the point where germination may be affected.

Machines are located in gins at the following points:

Bailey — Goodland, Circleback, Enochs, Bula.

Hockley — Anton, Whitharral, Levelland, Pettit, Ropesville.

Lamb—Sudan, Amherst, Beck gin south of Littlefield, Fieldton, Littlefield.

Terry — Meadow and two at Brownfield.

Gaines—Seagraves.

Cochran—Morton and Whiteface.

Dawson—Welch, (new town composed of Pride and Lou.)

Meetings Held

A series of 40 meetings with farmers over the eight counties was held in March and April at which the plan was explained to about 3,500 farmers. Sentiment was overwhelmingly for the sterilization plan, Mr. Prickett said, only three or four men expressing any opposition.

Ginners are paid by the government of Texas for operating the machines. The machines can handle about 30 tons of seed per day, each, if operated at full time. A temperature of approximately 145 degrees is maintained in each machine. This is sufficient to kill all worms in the seed. Germination of seed is not affected by steam under 165 degrees, it is explained.

LUCKY FOR "PROFS" THEIR PROBLEM CHILD DIDN'T POP PROBLEMS AT THEM

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 17—Lucky for these college "profs" their problem child didn't turn around and pop problems at them.

Nine-year-old Joanne Xenos became a brain clinic for a group of child training experts and when they got through asking about her dolls and her favorite movie heroes and what she knew about A squared, plus 2AB, plus B squared, being the social of (A plus B) squared, they couldn't agree what to do about it.

Joanne, the middle of five daughters of George Xenos, a jobless cook, took the grade schools on high and in less than three years crossed the finishing line. There was nothing they could do but give her a seat in high school.

Dr. Charles A. Stone, head of the University of Chicago laboratory school, and a flock of educators, put her under glass today for observation.

Dr. Stone tried algebra first. "Subtract plus 4S plus 6B plu 17 from minus 7A plus 6B minus 20-square plus 8."

The answer, of course, was—well anyway, Joanne reeled it right off. High school algebra was "pie" to her. They tried reading tests. Joanne sliced seconds off the speed record. They got away from academic posers and found that she liked roller skates best for playtime, reads mystery and ghost stories and prefers crime series over the radio.

Joanne decided one thing for the professors. She intends to become a nun. She is now attending Immaculata High school.

Her ultimate future settled by that decision, she left it up to the learned men what to do about her education meanwhile. They talked her over, after the brain clinic, but there were as many views as there were professors.

One, a teacher 40 years in Chicago schools, said: "You can see that she is crammed. Look how tense she is. She needs to be in the gym class or out in the country. She should be held back."

PAY CUT RESTORED

MEXICAN FARM PLAN MAPPED

AGRARIAN PROGRAM IS PUSHED FORWARD ON RODRIGUEZ' TRIP

By C. G. LEE
(Associated Press Foreign Service)

MEXICO, D. F., April 17 (AP)—The Mexican agrarian program was given a vigorous forward move in the current inspection tour of President Abelardo Rodriguez through the northern part of the republic. The program is keystone of the socialistic revolutionary movement which since 1910 has been seeking a solution of the country's land distribution problem.

The president visited irrigation and agricultural works and studied conditions in Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Chihuahua and Durango. General Rodriguez, at the capital of the latter state, promulgated an agrarian code which unifies all previous legislation on the subject in such a way as to hasten realization of the chief aim of the agrarian reforms, namely, to give to every Mexican who desires it sufficient land to support himself and his family.

Action Held Important

The president's action was hailed as the most important of his administration. It was taken to put into effect the provisions of the six-year plan of the governing revolutionary party which promised to take steps for the immediate distribution of large land holdings, for the redistribution of rural population and for the colonization of the interior of the country.

Under an amendment to article 27 of the national constitution, passed in December after adoption of the six-year plan, the way was opened for wider distribution of land and the executive was given complete power in agrarian matters.

This amendment provided that the government would immediately give lands and water to those communities which previously had been unable to prove title or right to them. The land will be expropriated from adjacent properties, in most cases privately owned.

The national agrarian department, organized under the amendment, has just ordered engineering parties to proceed to the seven potentially most important agricultural zones in the country to survey the nearly 100,000,000 acres of government-owned land and mark boundaries. The work will be concentrated in the following regions: 1—The lake of Texcoco, 2—Baja California, 3—Sonora, 4—Jalisco-Nayarit, 5—Coahuila, 6—Tamaulipas, and 7—Guerrero. Much of the land in the vicinity of Texcoco, now useless, will be reclaimed for agriculture.

To Distribute Land

Nearly 2,500,000 acres will be distributed before the end of this year out of the national holdings and a considerable amount, not yet estimated, will be expropriated from private properties and given to individuals and communities, with especial attention to the needs of peons and the poorer peasants. New laws make possible the expropriation of much property hitherto protected from seizure.

Under other points in the program outlined in the six-year plan, the government promises to guarantee peasants employed by land-owners a minimum salary, the right to cut wood from the mountains near their homes, free use of water for domestic necessities and their cattle as well as educational facilities and free medical treatment.

New lands will be sought for communities which until now have not been able to supply their needs for for lands and sustenance. Similarly, provisions will probably be made to set aside lands for an ever increasing number of returning immigrants whose presence is creating a serious economic problem for the government.

To Construct Dam

To aid in making agriculture more productive and less burdensome in the states of Coahuila and Durango, the president during his trip announced that the government would construct a huge dam on the Nazas river in Durango at an estimated cost of 30,000,000 pesos (currently $8,500,000). This will provide irrigation facilities for a wide area in the two states.

The problem of communications was also studied by Rodriguez and he promised the governor of Durango that the federal government would aid in constructing a highway between Durango City and the port of Mazatlan, on the Gulf of California.

It is expected that the new road will lead to profound changes in the life of the coast region which for centuries has subsisted chiefly on sea food on account of difficulty in communicating with other parts of the country. After its construction, which will begin shortly, a way will be provided for rapid and easy interchange of products between the coast and the rest of the country.

Bible Is Clue

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—State Fire Marshal F. B. Watkins, told a gathering of firefighters that the family-Bible often serves as a clue in detecting arson cases.

Fire-plotters, he said, usually remove the Bible although allowing other possessions to burn.

Hen To Market

TITUSVILLE, Pa.—J. W. Norris, who is employed in an Oil City, Pa., bank has a pet Rhode Island red chicken.

Norris hopped in his car the other morning and the little red hen jumped on the running board, only Norris didn't know it.

He didn't discover his pet until he got out of the car at Oil City after an 18-mile drive. There was the hen triumphantly sitting on the running board.

To The Rescue

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S.—The jailor of the town lock-up, George Forsay, 70-years-old and crippled, awoke to find his room filled with smoke. The jail was on fire.

Hurrying through the corridor, he unlocked the cells and escorted three prisoners to safety. They had been asleep and might have been overcome.

Poetic Platform

Wages high.
Prices low to buy;
Through governmental barriers removed,
Production and exchange improved.

"That sums up my platform," he explained. The rhyme is pretty good although I'll have to admit it has no meter. But I'm against meters" (referring to his opposition to a proposed city tax on gas and water meters.)

Killed By Kindness

HAVANA — Employes of El Encanto and La Casa Grande, two of Cuba's largest department stores, went on strike because their wages were raised.

Not that they minded the raise so much, but the management it seems, ordered the higher wages without consulting the workers' union, a very unethical action indeed.

CATTLE MOVED TO MARKETS

MOVEMENT UNDER WAY FROM OKLAHOMA, KANSAS, TEXAS

WICHITA, Kas., April 17. (AP)—The nation's largest mass movement of cattle is under way.

Long trainloads of the bawling animals are moving into the some 5,000,000 acres of blue stem pasture lands of eastern Kansas and the adjoining Osage nation pastures of Oklahoma.

Already approximately 200 cars have been unloaded from New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle. The Osage country has a big carryover of cattle. More cattle was quartered there during the winter than usual.

Grass Growth Retarded

Cool weather and lack of moisture have retarded growth of the grass over the limestone hills, Owen L. Cope, Santa Fe railroad livestock agent, reported.

Two trainloads of cattle have been received from the Coalgate district of southwestern Oklahoma in the Osage country and 60 cars from Farley, N. M. Many carloads from Texas are being received at Arkansas City.

The blue stem movement is expected to increase steadily until the peak is reached around the first part of May.

LIQUOR TO BE VOTE ISSUE

SEVERAL STATES WILL TAKE ACTION THIS YEAR ON BOOZE

(By The Associated Press)

Liquor is among the matters upon which voters will pass in several states this year.

On July 10 Mississippi, now dry, will decide whether to permit counties to sell liquor.

On Aug. 28 South Carolina will have a non-binding referendum as to whether sales of liquor shall be legalized. The result is only for the consideration of the general assembly in legislating next year.

Candidates Take Sides

Some candidates for nominations for the legislature in North Carolina have expressed themselves as in favor of repeal of the state dry act. Three candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor of Alabama have taken different positions on the liquor question. The state is dry.

Much has been heard of the sales tax in legislative campaigns in some states. In North Carolina, where a three per cent emergency sales tax is in effect for the aid of schools, merchants are actively opposing candidates for the legislature who favor keeping the tax. Real estate men are supporting the tax. Arguments for and against sales taxes have been made by candidates for the legislature in South Carolina and by candidates for governor in Alabama.

In Florida, which has a primary June 5, the league for better schools is opposing candidates for the legislature who will not agree to support the appropriation of $7,500,000 annually for schools.

Number Of Measles Cases Set At 8,900

TEXAS LEAGUE SEASON WILL OPEN TODAY

INTERESTING PENNANT MARATHON EXPECTED; STEERS FAVORED

(By The Associated Press)

Probable batteries:

Dallas at Tulsa: Vangilder and Funk; Bivin and Berger.

Fort Worth at Oklahoma City: Whitworth and Wolgamot; Kennedy and Horton.

Galveston at San Antonio: Hutchinson and Mealey; Wiltse and Severeid.

Houston at Beaumont: Cvengros and McCurdy; Freitas and Lorbeer.

Weather forecast:

Oklahoma City, clear.

Tulsa, clear.

Beaumont, unsettled and cloudy.

San Antonio, partly cloudy.

Umpire assignments:

Basil and Kober at Tulsa.

Ballanfant and Defate at Oklahoma City.

Coe and Pate at San Antonio.

Sears and Palmer at Beaumont.

The thirty-third Texas league championship race went to the barrier today prepared for an interesting pennant marathon with the Dallas Steers an early season favorite.

Optimism Prevails

With the Shaughnessy pennant plan again in vogue, club owners greeted opening games with a profound spirit of optimism prevailing. They know that regardless of what the future holds, this season can hardly be more trying than last year.

The league started its 1934 race with the same cities of last year but with three managerial changes. Jake Atz, last year Fort Worth pilot, is managing the Tulsa Oilers. Del Pratt, former Waco and Galveston head-man, is skipper at Fort Worth, and "Dutch" Lorbeer has replaced Bob Coleman at Beaumont.

All the umpires except Pate are veterans in the league. Pate, former star southpaw at Fort Worth, has replaced the retired Jim Galloway.

The Fort Worth club is operating under new owners, a combination of Fort Worth business men. All other last year owners are again at the helm with a new spirit of confidence.

Seven Clubs Stronger

The San Antonio Missions won last year's pennant by beating Houston and Galveston in the Shaughnessy play-off. The Missions have another good team and are expected to be in the first division fight. It is the consensus that seven of the eight clubs are stronger than last year with Dallas holding top spot. Little hope is held for the Fort Worth Cats unless new material is sighted.

President J. Alvin Gardner's Texas league circuit is off on another pennant voyage—one that owners hope will reap a profit.

BABE DIDRIKSON WILL PITCH FOR HOUSE OF DAVID

GALVESTON, April 17. (AP)—Babe Didrikson confirmed reports here last night that she would join the House of David baseball team. Miss Didrikson said she planned to leave the last of this month and join the bearded team May 15. When ask if her salary of $1,000 monthly, as announced by the team's business manager, was correct, she gave a surprised "huh?" and then said emphatically that it was to be $1500 and not $1,000.

Babe will be a member of the House of David mound staff.

Curtain To Go Up Today On Major League Baseball

SEVEN CLUBS HOPEFUL OF WINNING FLAG IN AMERICAN

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, April 17. (AP)—The American league joined in big time baseball's rousing opening chorus today, with no less than seven of the eight clubs harboring honest hopes of making pennant music next September.

Deprived by rain of opening the campaign under the presidential eye yesterday at Washington, Boston's new deal Red Sox, and the champion Senators were in Boston to start even with the rest of the league.

Senators Favored

Expert opinion figures Washington to land the title again, with the New York Yankees, and perhaps the Red Sox, furnishing the foremost opposition. Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago rank as lively possibilities. Owners, managers and followers of these six clubs have declared them in on the championship battle.

While the experts failed to include Connie Mack's Athletics as a threat, the 72-year-old schemer thinks his team is "going somewhere." Only Rogers Hornsby, starting his first full season in charge of the St. Louis Browns, has failed to hint at expectations of being up there, but he can't see the Browns finishing last again this year.

Forget Past Seasons

The high enthusiasm is not confined to prospects of a free-for-all struggle for the championship. Club owners feel that this is a good time to start doing a lot of forgetting about two sorry financial seasons, conditions in general, plus the redistribution of playing talent, what may prove to be Babe Ruth's last stand, along with Sunday baseball in Philadelphia, form the basis for their hopes.

The weather behaving, around 90,000 fans were expected at the four openers. The Yankees and Athletics at Philadelphia, figured to attract 30,000, with 20,000 at Chicago to see Mickey Cochrane make his debut as Detroit's manager, against the White Sox; the same number to watch St. Louis and Cleveland at Cleveland, and 15,000 for the delayed Washington-Boston entertainment.

RUTH MAY NOT BE THROUGH

THINKS HE CAN STAND THIS SEASON AND THE NEXT ONE

By BOB CAVAGNARO
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—After all, this season—his 21st—may not be Babe Ruth's last in the big leagues as an active ball player.

The boisterous Babe said so himself today in his best baritone.

Notwithstanding what he has said before, the Babe right now feels that his legs might be strong enough to carry him through a 22nd season.

Surprised At Himself

"I'm surprised to find myself in such good condition," he said. In fact I haven't started a season feeling so fit as I do now in five years.

"There's nothing wrong with my batting eye or my batting. Didn't I lead the boys during the training season? Red Rolfe gave me a close race but I nosed him out in the last game with Brooklyn.

"Unless my legs crumble under me, I'll not only play in more than 100 games but I'll be in there next year, too. Of course a lot depends on what Col. Ruppert has to say, but if we both have a good year why there shouldn't be any contract trouble."

The Babe not only anticipates a good season for himself, but for the Yankees as well. He figures the Yanks the best ball club in the American league—far better than last season's pennant-winning Washington Senators—and hasn't a doubt they'll wind up with the banner.

NOWL, BARBEE WIN

FORT WORTH, April 17. —(AP)—G. G. Nowl, pro for the Waco Country club, and Al Barbee won first place in the weekly pro-amateur golf sweepstakes Monday at the Boaz course with a best ball score of 67. George Albauch and Eddie Conners of Dallas turned in the next best score of 68.

GRIFFIN STILL IS HOPEFUL

CALLING OFF BATTLE WAS REAL TRAGEDY TO PROMOTER

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, April 17 (AP)—A sad, battle-scarred little man stood at his hotel window and looked down on the street below.

Nothing mattered much to him and he wasn't talking to anyone in particular when he said:

"I feel the urge to leap from this window. I probably would if I could laugh at the crash below. I don't know of any tougher break I could get than what has occurred. I'm ready to dump this racket—and I guess after all its is a racket—into a trash can and get me a job at a cigar store. What's the use of it all anyway?"

Magnificient Idea Bursts

To some persons the cancellation of the Tony Herrera and Barney Ross world's junior welterweight championship fight scheduled here Friday night was just one of those things, but to Griffin it was tragedy. It was to be the biggest enterprise of his life.

The situation was ideal. A world's championship fight during progress of a Texas sports writers convention and on the eve of the $10,000 added Texas derby. To Griffin it was to be a Roman holiday and night.

A trip to California to sign Ross. A journey to El Paso to sign Herrera, and then back to Fort Worth where he started preparations for what was to have been Texas' biggest legalized fight.

One day last week a telegram was handed Griffin. Griffin ripped it open, he was sure it was from Ross with information on when he would leave Chicago for Fort Worth. It was from Ross, but read:

"Sorry but will have to call off fight."

"Couldn't Believe It"

"When I read that telegram I couldn't believe it," Griffin said. "I had Ross' signed contract plus so much faith in him and his managers that I never even requested an appearance guarantee. I guess that was a mistake but he is the champion and I thought a contract was enough.

"Since then I have begged Ross to reconsider and go through with the fight, but his managers now claim the champion had an infected ear—sure I know its the swan song, but a fellow like me hates to admit the fight is off—I guess that's why I keep on trusting that something will happen that will send the champ and Tony into the ring Friday night."

Frankly, Griffin believes Ross, through advice of his managers, took a "run-out". And that signed contract, Griffin realizes now, is just a scrap of paper.

Griffin walked from the room.

"To get behind the eight ball," was the reply.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., April 17. (AP)—C. W. Hughes, 59, former Oklahoma banker, waived extradition and will be returned to Lawton, Okla., where he is wanted for embezzlement.

Hughes was taken into custody at George T. eter's Lazy J. E. ranch in Williamson valley where he had worked as a ranch hand for the past five months.

"I don't know how serious the charge against me is," Hughes said, "but I do know this: I'd rather spend the rest of my life in jail than work on a ranch."

NO NATIONAL LEAGUE CLUB SEES CHANCE OF BEING LAST

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—For the 59th time, the National league plunged into the opening of a new baseball season today and for the 59th time not one of the eight clubs would admit the possibility of finishing last.

Forecasts of clearing skies in the east and fair weather in the middle west indicated all four opening games would be played with a turnout of some 100,000 baseball-hungry fans who have spent a long, hard winter studying an unprecedented number of playing shifts.

Recovery Expected

Whatever the outcome, President John Arnold Heydler and the owners as well confidently expected a real financial recovery after several lean years.

Expert opinion, given with considerable trepidation after the shock of the New York Giants' flag-winning drive and subsequent world series victory a year ago, was that at least five clubs must be figured as contenders.

If the Giants fail to get the same brilliant pitching that was responsible for their amazing triumph of 1933, the experts select the Chicago Cubs, bolstered by the acquisition of Chuck Klein, the Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves as potential pennant-winners, with the well-known "breaks" as the determining factor. The Brooklyn Dodgers, Phillies and Cincinnati Reds almost universally are tagged for the last three positions.

Giants Meet Phillies

Some 35,000 fans were expected at the Polo grounds where the Giants opened their bid for another flag against the Klein-less Phillies, led by a new pilot, Jimmy Wilson. Bill Terry selected Carl Hubbell, southpaw hero of the world series, to oppose Ed Holley, big right-hander, on the mound.

Lesser crowds were in prospect for the other three get-away games —30,000 at Cincinnati where the rebuilt Reds, operating under the new ownership of Powel Crosley, jr., and his associates, were to be unveiled with the Cubs as opposition; 10,000 at St. Louis for the Cardinal-Pirate tussle; and 25,000 at Brooklyn where Casey Stengel's Dodgers faced the Braves.

Bob O'Farrell, picking up the managerial reins dropped by Donie Bush, called on Silas Johnson to oppose the Cubs' pitching ace, Lon Warneke, in a duel of right-handers. Stengel, third of the league's new managers, summoned Van Lingle Mungo, fast ball expert, to oppose either Fred Frankhouse, right-hander, or Ed Brandt, accomplished southpaw. Heinie Meine, a source of much embarrassment to Cardinal batsmen for several years, was George Gibson's choice for Pirate mound duty while Frankie Frisch planned to counter with Jerome (Dizzy) Dean.

KIRK DEFEATS J. D. SPANN IN SIXTH

PLAINVIEW FIGHTER IS KNOCKED OUT; PERRY LOSES TO VERNON

A lightning-like right hook landed on the mouth of J. D. Spann, grinning Plainview boxer, and floored him for the count of ten as Jack Kirk, pleasing middleweight from the West Coast, made his debut in the National Guard Armory ring last night.

Kirk let fly the knockout punch after the sixth round of the main event had opened. It was the climax to a kayo-studded card that saw eight slugging but rather ill conditioned athletes go through their paces in a manner to bring loud cheers from a small crowd.

Opens Gash In Eye

At the start of the bout Spann came roaring out of his corner and immediately opened a gash above Kirk's eye. He continued in this mood for the next two heats, battering Kirk with terrific rights to the head and shoulders. The bell saved Kirk at the close of the third. He was lying on the apron of the ring, apparently sea-sick after absorbing a rat-a-tat-tat of rights to the lunch-basket.

The fighters swayed together in the ring during most of the fourth in a sort of modulated classical dance. Then Spann floored Jack, but stumbled over his victim and had to take a couple of counts himself. Spann came out for the fifth, still with his characteristic smirk, but obviously tuckered out, and went down before Kirk's winning hook.

In the semi-final, a scheduled eight chapter embroglio, Joe Vernon, 163 pounder from Pampa, disposed of Jim Perry, at 164 pounds from Fort Sumner, New Mexico.

After one minute and 59 seconds of the seventh round, Vernon knocked Perry to the canvas with a terrific right cross to the jaw. Perry's head hit the floor with a resounding wham and he was out cold with his eyes open and his mouth sagging.

Perry, a chunky blonde youth with a stream-lined nose, carried the fight most of the way. Both fighters, however, seemed to be attempting a Rebecca At The Well pose, or something, in the first four rounds. Perry occasionally rushed in to deliver a fusillade of body blows, then would retreat, and the waiting game would continue.

Hershell Howerth, 155 bobbing, weaving boy from Amarillo was the principal in a short but action-filled four round prelim, stopping Jimmy Spencer, 160, of Sweetwater, in one minute and ten seconds of the initial round. Howerth worked Spencer over with a relentless two-handed attack, and then smacked him prone with a right uppercut between the eyes.

Bill Gay, 155 of Morse, had little trouble with Jack Dismukes, 160, of Sweetwater, in another preliminary scheduled for the six round distance. Gay knocked Dismukes to the floor twice, the bell coming to the rescue the last time. The second round was still young as Dismukes lay on the canvas listening to ten beats after receiving a jarring blow on the schnozzle.

DERBY LOTTERIES TERMED ILLEGAL

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 17. (AP)—A warning that lotteries and sweepstakes conducted on the Kentucky Derby are illegal and have no connection with the derby management was issued today by Col. Matt J. Winn, president of the American Turf association.

"Those who buy such tickets are throwing their money away," said Colonel Winn. "There is no responsibility on anybody to pay winning tickets. The whole thing is illegal and we will prosecute to the limit any person or group of persons who may use the name of our organization in this connection."

Colonel Winn, who said many letters had come to Churchill Downs from people who evidently had put money in derby sweepstakes and lotteries, said some tickets sold bore the initials "A. T. A." and gave the name "American Turfmen's association," which he said was evidently an attempt to make the public think the project was sponsored by the American Turf association.

Their Goal 20 Victories Each!

Paul (left) and Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, St. Louis Cardinal pitchers, have separately and collectively expressed a willingness to shoulder the club's pitching burden for 1934. Twenty victories apiece is the minimum they have set for the season. Paul, who won 22 games for Columbus last year, said he would turn in 25 triumphs just to prove he has more stuff than his brother. IF PETE CAWTHON had been the only one to tell the story, we'd have been forced to take it with a touch of seasoning, but the same dope comes from other sources and can not be passed off with a shrug of the shoulders.

Unbiased, unprejudiced sources of information have it that the University of Texas will be one football team to watch next fall. This applies particularly to Texas Tech, upon whose Matadors the Longhorns are training their streamlined guns. It appears that Jack Chevigny has stepped in down at Austin and fired the University of Texas athletic department like it hasn't been fired in many seasons.

"And listen here, you mugs," was what Chevigny was supposed to have said to the Steers shortly after introducing himself, "we're not going to have anything like that young upstart of a Texas Tech team knocking us around as if it was the kingpin of the Southwest. So get that into our heads now. We've got to lick the tar out of that team if we lose all the rest of our games."

We've heard that story from fellows who aren't in the habit of carrying untruthful stories, and now Cawthon comes back from a little tour of Texas with the same account. He visited at the Texas campus a day or two last week and watched the Longhorns go through their paces. "Jack's sure got a lot of fine material," Cawthon reports, "and they've got more spirit than I ever saw on the Texas campus before."

Which means that the Matadors have gotta hustle if they start the 1934 season as impressively as they ended the 1933 card. Up until a week or so ago we would not have hesitated to lay you anyway three or four to one that the Matadors would knock the daylights out of the Longhorns, but we've just about changed our prediction all the way around. Tech has been unlucky with its season openers, losing to the Texas Aggies year before last and the Methodist Mustangs last year in first games. If they beat Texas on September 22 they'll be off to a fine start, but it's a big assignment.

Returning from his tour, Cawthon was not in high spirits. Loss of a great athlete and the moving away of Dell Morgan hit him hard. "It's kinda like the breaking up of an athletic machine we've tried so hard to build up," he said. Cawthon had prepared a written statement concerning Morgan's move to Auburn.

"Dell was not an applicant for the position with Jack Meagher, and Auburn had applications from outstanding line coaches in all parts of the country. Meagher has been in touch with me for several weeks in an effort to secure Morgan, but Dell knew nothing of the promotion that was to come. We could not expect to keep a man of his caliber long, for he is in too much demand. His work with the basketball team besides his fine work in football, intramurals and track has attracted much attention.

"As I have said before, Morgan is the greatest athlete I ever coached, being an outstanding star in all sports. Naturally I am grieved to lose such a fine coach and above all, such a great fellow. But I'm proud of the fact that Meagher so honored one of my old boys, to pick him as his assistant. Morgan is well grounded in the fundamentals of the Notre Dame system, used at Auburn, and will make a most valuable man. He will be loyal to the nth degree, will be the most popular man on the staff, the hardest working coach at Auburn.

"Auburn's gain is our distinct loss, for I will not find any man who has all of Morgan's fine qualities. He is the highest type of gentleman, a great coach, knows men and is the best friend I ever had. He has given his best to me, first as an outstanding athlete, second as a loyal assistant. I am pleased to see him advance in his work, but I sure hate to lose him at Texas Tech."

Cawthon and the Texas Tech athletic council hope to announce within the next few days Morgan's successor. Although he would reveal no names, Cawthon said the man already had been chosen, and that it was up to the council and board of directors to approve his selection.

JESS WILLARD TO ARRIVE IN CITY TODAY

FORMER FIGHT CHAMP WILL REFEREE MAT CARD WEDNESDAY

One of the few remaining ring personalities of a time when boxing was boxing and the best man won, Jess Willard, original "man mountain" of the 20th century ring, is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock this afternoon. He will be the main attraction tomorrow night at the Auditorium when he referees the regular Wednesday night wrestling card.

A world's champion before Jack Dempsey, Willard is following the footsteps of the man who wrested the title from him, touring about the country, refereeing boxing and wrestling matches.

Should Have Hands Full

Unlike Dempsey, Willard has not the reputation for getting extremely rough with wrestlers who get away from legitimate fighting. That is he doesn't seem to be as rough. He believes in "letting 'em go" so long as they're fighting and pleasing the customers, but he's not averse to taking an easy but punishing swing with a ham-like fist if the fighter get too far on the illegal side of the rule book.

Hesitant though he may be to interfere with the fighters in the course of a setto, the towering Willard probably will have his hands full tomorrow night.

Dutch Mantell, grizzled veteran of more than a quarter century of professional grappling, returns to the local ring tomorrow night after a layoff of several months. Mantell who stands for the roughest and toughest in wrestling, has been taking it easy of late in order to give his new set of teeth a chance to settle. He'll be in there tomorrow night against Jittery Joe Bauer, the German funny man, in a 30-minute semi-final that is bound to be packed with bloody action.

Newcomer On Card

Then there's the newcomer, the wild one from Ireland, Danny Mc Shane. The Irish runs into Jack Van Bebber, Olympic champion and Texas Tech coach, in the main three-fall event.

Another wrestler who goes about his business in the undignified but popular manner that characterizes the fighting of Rod Fenton, Canadian champion who has appeared here recently, McShane threatens to make things hum for the more even tempered, legal minded Van Bebber. McShane is said to be as lethal with the drop-kick as Fenton himself, and the Irishman will introduce other torturous methods.

That Girl on Broadway says you never know why a man is a failure until you hear his schemes for solving the country's problems.

* * *

Oh well, it could be worse. These strikes and threatened strikes prove that both capital and labor are feeling their oats again.

* * *

THE PLAINSMAN came back from the Great Unknown to discover that there is in progress a chess tournament, sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal.

These newspapers have sponsored cooking schools, beauty, culture and charm schools, George Bernard Shaw 'drammers', Will Rogers and a prize fight or two, but never before have they sponsored anything anywhere near like a chess tournament.

Therefore, it begins to commence to start to look like we have quite a clientele among the truly smart folks.

* * *

Chess, you know, is a kind of a high-brow checker game.

Those who play it must, above all things, learn to do a charade on Rodin's "The Thinker".

With aesthetic abandon, they must learn to place their chins in their hands and, without a single motion, convey to the world the fact that they are buried in deep thought.

Anyone who can do that can learn to be a chess player.

* * *

DOWN here at the office we have a very capable and promising young man by the name of John Gordon Webb, who is quite such a much as a chess player.

He knows exactly at what angle his chin should be elevated as he emulates "Thought".

And he is an inveterate chess player.

For the past four months he has been a star factor in a mail chess tournament, pitted against a gentleman from Philadelphia, one from Fort Worth and one from Cleveland.

About every other day he receives a U. S. postal card bearing such symbols as 'P-9', or 'K-3'.

Thus far, in four months, each entrant has spent $17.82 with Mr. Farley's postoffice department and has eliminated two men from the others' boards.

It's a great life, if you don't weaken, but in the words of the late and immortal Ring Lardner,

"Whoever saw people
Stand out in the rain
To get the reports
From a checker game?"

* * *

Probably, playing chess is a great pastime.

Numerous of our outstanding men, from Caesar to Johnson, have been sincere adherents to chess.

But among the games and vices from 'African dominoes' to trying to pull an ace out of the coat sleeve, there are many which appeal more to The Plainsman.

(Oh, yeah, you chess players. He'll say it for you. "The sap! he hasn't sense enough to learn how to play chess!")

That Man on Avenue Q says a hick town is a place where a hustler can make money faster than his women folks can find places to spend it.

Two prominent New Dealers were strolling down Pennsylvania avenue in Washington the other day when a couple of manipulators of steel drills let loose, driving bolts into skyscraper steelworks.

"Good Heavens!", ejaculated one. "What can that be?"

"Nothing at all. Nothing at all", his companion said. "That's just Huey Long extending some remarks for the record!"

* * *

SPEAKING of Huey Long is an unpleasant thing and one unpleasant thing usually leads to another.

Which is just another way of saying that The Plainsman remembers noting the announcement, in Monday's Journal, that Jim Ferguson will be active in the forthcoming gubernatorial campaign, taking the stump for his long-time henchman, Charley McDonald, of Wichita Falls.

Naturally, birds of a feather flock together, which gives rise to another remembrance that will be of interest to all Lubbockites of ten or more years residence, and to all others with good memories.

* * *

That remembrance comes from a note, left on The Plainsman's desk just prior to his leaving for Mexico, by the Hon. Walter C. Witcher, to the effect that the Hon. Mr. Witcher will speak in Lubbock for Mr. McDonald.

Hon. Mr. Witcher once received an appointment as district attorney in Lubbock and nearby counties—by Mrs. Ferguson, of course,—and finally gained senate confirmation. Then Hon. Mr. Witcher ran for the same office in the following primaries, only to take a beautiful shellacking from the sovereign voters of this and adjoining counties. Then, like the Arabs of old, he folded his tents and silently stole away to the oil fields.

Since Mr. McDonald should not be governor of Texas and since, above all things, he should be 'snowed under' in these parts, what could be sweeter?

Hon. Mr. Witcher warns The Plainsman that he'd better hunt cover when he (the Hon. Mr. Witcher) comes to town, which, in turn, promises everything but Mr. McDonald's candidacy a wonderful time in the torrid weeks to come!

'Horrible Examples' Of Scenarios Show Why Studios Are Hard On Outside Writers; 'Bath Tub Hero' Theme Cited

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 16—One of the reasons studios refuse even to consider stories submitted to them by unknown writers was illustrated recently by two scenarios submitted to the RKO studio. In one, entitled "The Glad Bath Tub," a tub was made the hero, a cake of soap was the heroine, and the other characters were a sewing machine, two oranges, three apples, and an old hat.

The other, entitled "Blue Turned the Turnips," was classed as a "drama of the vegetable kingdom."

It doesn't seem possible that such things actually would be submitted, but hundreds of them are and scenario editors are too busy even to look at such trash.

Dog Bites Man—News!

At last the dream of all newspaper reporters has come true—the ordinary event of a dog biting a man is news.

The victim was Pete Smith, the witty gentleman whose short subjects are rated among the most popular products of moviedom.

For 12 years Pete has been accustomed to wrestling with and playfully biting his dog every evening upon his return home from the studio.

A few nights ago the tables were turned and the pooch took a nip at Pete's nose — which was made especially conspicuous by its bandages for several days after.

Menjou Helps Fellow Actor

A little applause for Adolphe Menjou, please — for sacrificing a day's pay to help a bit player.

Menjou's contract for his current film stipulates that if he works after 6 p. m. he is to receive an extra day's pay. In the same picture is James Burke, playing a bit.

The other day Jimmy received an offer to go to another studio on a six week's guarantee. However the company was to leave on location the following morning and there didn't seem to be much chance of Burke's scene in the Menjou film being finished by 6 o'clock.

Menjou heard about it and offered to work as late as necessary without extra pay so that Burke could finish and report for the other job.

BIGGER AND BETTER SPECIAL WEEKS

In case you missed the small item telling of the fact in Sunday's paper, be officially informed that Texas is at present supposed to be observing 'be kind to dumb animals week'.

The Governor of Texas even took time from her arduous duties—including the granting of paroles and pardons—to issue a proclamation setting aside a special week and the residents of this vast domain are supposed to do something about it.

Being kind to dumb animals is a commendable trait, one which should be exercised always—not only during 'be kind to dumb animals week' but in every week in the year and calling this fact to the attention of the public is decidedly all right, from two points of view. In the first place, it calls for humane actions on the part of the people and in the second place it shows how far we have gone along the road of having inane special 'days' and 'weeks'.

There is an 'eat more cheese week' in Texas now, it having been observed several months ago. There probably is also an 'eat more prunes week', a 'drink more peruna week' and a 'talk about your neighbor week', too. And as time rolls along, and we mortals become more and more civilized, we may expect more and more of these 'weeks' until it becomes necessary to crowd more weeks in the year so the much touted 'five day week' will come into its very own.

'Bigger and better weeks' seems to have become the slogan for the busy folks who are taking the part of dumb animals, cheese and other classifications in which genus homo has found more or less interest.

It's a great thing for the country and gives a lot of people something to do, even if the general public declines to quit the even tenor of its way to follow the supplications!

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17. —Notwithstanding steady business improvement, the New Deal situation on President Roosevelt's return seems more serious than at any time past.

The atmosphere of hushed expectancy has been firmly based on knowledge that certain groups were in for a bad licking. You can't be sure in which groups—or how bad.

The repetition may be tiresome, but a fundamental factor is that old conflict between the conservative business crowd, which insists government must keep its hands off if there's to be sustained recovery, and the social reformers, who believe business must be held in check if we're to avoid another big crash with all its misery and losses.

NRA and AAA are under more than the usual fire. Conservative Democrats—the powerful element which fought Roosevelt's nomination and has been pretty well ignored here since—are more vocal and active.

The automobile truce may be breaking down and many other strikes threaten. Even the Republicans show signs of life.

Roosevelt must decide whether to back up General Johnson in abandoning the NRA licensing power, whether and how far to support the stock market bill, securities act, Wagner bills, communications bill, the Senate's tax boost, food and drug bill, his own Brain Trust and other liberal supporters.

Many of his men in Congress, facing elections, urge him to rock no more boats.

Brain trusters fear that not only their proposals may be lost, but that they may be tossed overboard as a result of concerted attacks against them.

The silliness of Dr. Wirt's charges doesn't comfort them much.

Jahncke Wears 'Em Down

Ernest Lee Jahncke, former assistant naval secretary, who roared so often and in such frenzy for Hoover in the last campaign, is still here and seems bound to get a federal job in this administration sooner or later. He's that persistent.

Predictions are that he will land on some non-partisan commission. Trouble has been the White House disposition to hand appointments on such commissions to Republicans who aren't Hoover Republicans.

• • •

And She Burns 'Em Up

Congressional cross-examiners say it's a toss-up whether they'd rather not have Secretary Francis Perkins or Mrs. Gifford Pinchot on the witness stand.

Miss Perkins irritates them by talking down to them and usually knowing more about the subject. Red-headed Mrs. Pinchot is saucy—she flips off disconcerting answers to their best questions.

"Now if General Johnson is making a failure—" began Senator Walcott of Connecticut, after she had attacked Johnson and NRA before the labor committee.

"He's not making a failure as far as big business is concerned," snapped Mrs. Pinchot.

Would Walcott defend the cotton code, she demanded. Walcott said he wasn't there to take sides.

Well, did he approve it? Well, the senator had to admit he wasn't entirely familiar with it.

"Hasn't the governor (Pinchot) any authority to prevent NRA violations in Pennsylvania?" Walcott asked.

"No! If he had, there wouldn't be any violations. That's too easy."

Walcott insisted that any employe had the right "as a free citizen" to discuss grievances with his employer.

"And as a free citizen he gets fired, doesn't he?" demanded Mrs. Pinchot.

Intolerance Rears Head

Old-timers in politics tell you to watch out for an outbreak of both red-baiting and religious bigotry in this campaign year. They anticipate promotion of underground rumors that the administration here is being packed with Communists and Jews and that Jim Farley is filling the postal service with Catholics.

Such stuff already is being spread about in a small way. Later it may become organized.

More Jews are found in the government's legal division than used to be there, but they're a small minority in the upper reaches of the Brain Trust.

Two or three of the latter groups have "Jewish-sounding" names, however,—which is just as good for secret propaganda purposes.

PABLITO, a handsome youth, becomes a fugitive when he flees from Key West to Havana with BEAU and LOTTIE, two thieves. Pablito has been accused of a murder he did not commit. MARCIA TREADWAY, socially prominent, could prove he is innocent but fears scandal.

Pablito is in love with ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich JIM FIELD. In Havana, under the name "Juanito," he becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a gymnasium.

SIR AUBREY, a titled Englishman and Pablito's father, is searching for his son, employing BILLINGS, New York detective.

Three years pass and then Pablito sees Estelle again. They admit their love for each other and meet secretly until Estelle's father hears of it. He tells her she must break off with Pablito or he will turn the young man over to police on the old murder charge.

Meanwhile Billings, convinced Pablito is the youth he has been seeking, has cabled Sir Aubrey this news.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

• • •

CHAPTER XXXIV

Jim Field spoke slowly, eyes on the girl. "If you want to save your Pablito," he said, "you'll write him a letter saying that it's all over—that you never did care for him and the whole thing was a mistake. Otherwise we'll read of his being strapped in that chair. We'll read about it—after it's all over—"

The words ended. There was silence for a time and then Field snapped his watch shut. "Time's up," he said. "What's it to be?"

Estelle moved, swaying, toward the desk. She sat down to write unsteadily. Once she sat back, as if unable to go on. Her father picked up the sheet on which she had written the message. "All right," he commented gruffly.

She rose then to face him—a slender flame that had momentarily blazed into scarlet.

"I hate you," she said slowly in a voice that was too quiet. "I shall never stop hating you. My mother hated you. Any woman who knows you will hate you because you are cruel and merciless. If you ever so much as try to lay your hand on mine I will leave you forever. And remember, please, that I, too, keep my word. Is that understood?"

He tried to laugh but the laugh was a failure. "I imagine I shall get along—in some manner!" he muttered with a poor imitation of jauntiness. Estelle gave him a flaming look of hatred and then she, too, smiled—an echo of his smile.

Field pounded down the stairway, pallid and shaking from the force of his anger and the fright Estelle's words had given him. Carlito was responsible for this, he thought. Carlito who had carried notes between Estelle and Pablito.

"Kerry!" Field howled. Kerry came, alarm on his face.

"Get that — — — Carlito out of here!" Field roared, his voice breaking.

Kerry swallowed hard and then protested. "But his wife is in labor," he said.

He shrank as Field answered that, screaming vituperation and every sort of verbal filth. Was that his fault, Field demanded? He wanted the couple out and out now! Unless they went he would throw them out himelf!

• • •

Carlito's first-born was delivered near a roadside hedge and his young wife, struggling too long and being delicate, did not recover. The few servants who had dared dismissal by following Carlito in his trouble ranged around the body, wailing. Carlito, in the center of the ring, kissed over and over again the cold face of his young wife, who, for the first time, did not answer his appeal.

Kerry, making his way cautiously toward the great house, thought he would not care to be in Field's shoes. "You can not manage the world that way," he thought grimly, shaken by all that he had seen and heard.

"It was terrible!" he said to his wife, who was the housekeeper.

Alone, Field strode the length of the room he called his office. He heard the wailing, heard also the echo of his daughter's voice as she gave him her ultimatum and her opinion of him. He swore loudly at the wailing and summoned Kerry to have the long windows closed and bolted. Kerry did this, his mouth grimly set and his eyes cold.

"They're out?" Field questioned loudly, harshly.

"Yes, the wife is dead. The baby, perhaps, will live; it is not certain. Is that all, Sir?"

"All for tonight," Field heard himself answer. He bolted the door after Kerry and dropped to a chair before his desk. He fingered a small paper cutter, then suddenly laid it down, ashamed of the shaking of his hands.

• • •

Late that night Pablito received Estelle's note, delivered by one of Jim Field's chauffeurs. "Senor, there is no answer to this," said the man, "but she is crying wildly in her bed and Carlito's wife wro was turned out with him died in the road from the child's birth there."

"My God!" For a moment Pablito forgot Estelle and himelf.

Then the man again got into the car to disappear into the dark and Pablito was left with Estelle's letter in his hand. His heart broke as he read it. He knew what the writing of it had cost her. She must be made to know in some way that he understood this. In some may he must make her aware of that, together with the fact that they would not give up hope. Pablito looked down the road that Field's chauffeur had turned to follow. It was black tonight but not so black as the road before him, with only Beau able to save him—Beau who would have to give his own life if Pablito were to live his in the open.

"My God!" he whispered.

When Sir Aubrey arrived in Cuba in response to Billings' telegram he was met at the dock by the detective. Billings appeared somewhat constrained. Luck saw them through the customs house with unusual hast and, in a cab, they sped toward the Inglaterre.

"Tell me all about it," Sir Aubrey said eagerly as the cab lurched around a corner building with many balconies.

"If you don't mind I'd rather wait until we're at the hotel."

"Quite so then, but I'm no end impatient."

"I suppose so. Decent weather we're having. I'm glad it isn't so hot for you. It's been fierce!"

Sir Aubrey answered absently. The weather on this trip would make little difference to him.

HOT OIL FIGHT PROGRESSES

RAILROAD COMMISSION FORCES GIRDED FOR "FINISH" BATTLE

KILGORE, April 17. (AP)—State railroad commission forces banded in the East Texas oil field in a "finish" fight against hot oil, are "making progress" in their efforts, R. D. Parker, chief of the East Texas branch of the oil and gas division, said here.

Although declining to give definite figures or even speculate on the actual reduction in the flow of hot oil, Parker said "we are still making progress." He remarked that the amount of hot oil was less but admitted the task of expressing the exact reduction in numbers of barrels "is another thing."

Cooperation Pledged

Criminal action against violators will be pushed, Parker said. Three district attorneys in the area have pledged cooperation, J. D. Copeland, jr., evaluation engineer, said.

Parker also announced that permanent East Texas headquarters would be established at Kilgore. Both Kilgore and Overton made a bid for the site, but this town was selected because of its central location and the fact that many employes reside here.

Meanwhile, more than 50 East Texas refineries endorsed acceptance of the marketing pooling agreement and revised refiners control section of the code of fair competition at a large mass meeting at Gladewater last night. The entire gathering endorsed the agreement reached with major companies and the petroleum administration.

The group instructed the refiners committee to accept the offer of the major crude allocating committee at a meeting in Tyler today, subject to the terms of the agreement reached in a recent Washington meeting, including allocation of crude retention of market.

The most recent commission refinery department report showed 36 refineries shut down, 34 operating, and eight under construction. The department reported 33 are making daily reports.

Badly beaten, Mrs. Kinney surrendered the keys and, with Mrs. O. W. McCloud, a neighbor who attempted to help her but was also beaten, was taken to the car.

Their screams attracted Chet Yoe, a guard, and several civilians who subdued the two convicts before they could start the automobile. Crosby claimed he had reconsidered and turned back.

A lockout of 50,000 dress workers in New York was announced by the National Association of Dress Manufacturers as a result of disputes with jobbers over observance of the industrial code.

The Ohio labor situation became more complicated with a walkout of 350 to 400 automotive workers at the Logan Gear company in Toledo. Workers are also out at the plants of the Electric Auto-Lite company and the Bingham Stamping company in Cleveland and Barr Rubber Products company at Sandusky.

Horse drawn vehicles and roller skates were resorted to for transportation as a strike of street car employes in Omaha and Council Bluffs, Ia., continued.

Prisoner Recovers Clothing In Jail

BEAUMONT, April 17. (AP)—"Hmmm—just like mine, shirt and tie too," observed J. E. Miller, county jail prisoner, as a newcomer was thrust into the cell with him.

On closer scrutiny the mystery was cleared up.

"Say, how come you have my clothes?" Miller demanded.

He proceeded to strip the newcomer of clothes until only his shoes remained. They didn't belong to Miller but everything else did.

While W. J. Coons, the newcomer, wrapped himself in a blanket, officers investigated. They found that Miller's home, on the outskirts of Beaumont, had been robbed.

Now Coons, picked up for allegedly being drunk, faces charges of burglary.

SAMUEL INSULL, CLOSELY GUARDED, LEADS BERRY MERRY CHASE ON SHIP

BY JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Foreign Staff

S. S. EXILONA, Catania, Sicily, April 17. (AP)—This was Burton Y. Berry's busy day in his job of guarding Samuel Insull.

While the Exilona put in to Catania to take on freight, Berry, Istanbul American embassy official, stalked Insull everywhere in the fear he might attempt to leave the ship.

Leads Merry Chase

The chase of the grinning old captive led from deck to saloon to cabin to deck—and back again.

The Exilona, bearing Insull back to the United States for trial, reached Catania at 7:30 o'clock this morning, traveling at reduced speed to avoid arriving before daybreak.

The captain said that, as a precautionary measure, the Exilona would not put into port at night at any stop during the month-long journey.

The fact he was not allowed to go ashore did not prevent Insull's sending in a big bag of mail. He had been toiling over it since the departure from Smyrna, Turkey.

Apparently the former Chicagoan wanted to get the letters aboard the Rex, sailing from Genoa, Italy, April 19, so that they reach New York well ahead of their author.

Guarded Closely

The former Chicago utilities financier will have his name on the declared passenger list given to port authorities at all stops, but he will be guarded closely by Berry and held aboard ship throughout.

With the Exilona tied up at the waterfront, Insull would have had merely to walk down the companionway and he would have been on Italian territory.

Although he remained awake until well after midnight talking with other passengers, Insull was up early today — in time to see the sun rise over Mt. Etna as the vessel neared port.

Passengers who went ashore to spend the day promised to bring him magazines and other simple requirements for which the 74-year-old passenger had expressed a desire.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Cotton opened easy, 8 to 14 points decline under heavy overnight liquidation and on lower cables. May 11.50; July 11.63; Oct. 11.74; Dec. 11.87; Jan 11.93; Mar. 12.02.

The market held steadier during the balance of the morning. July sold at 11.57 during early trading but as soon as stop orders uncovered by the early decline had been executed there was covering of scattered buying accompanied by talk of an improved technical position. Rallies in wheat also helped the tone of the market and at midday July was selling around 17.70 or about 13 points up from the lowest with the general list showing net declines of only 3 to 5 points on the more active months.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 17. —(AP)—Cotton opened lower in active trading today. Liverpool was worse than due and there were liberal overnight selling orders in evidence. First trades here were 9 to 13 points and prices declined further after the start, May dropping to 11.49, July to 11.59, October to 11.71, and December to 11.84, or 11 to 16 points under yesterday's close. The market rallied a little later on covering by satisfied shorts, May advancing to 11.58, July to 11.65 and October to 11.78, or 6 to 9 points up from the lows, but subsequently the market lost 4 to 5 points of this gain and at the end of the first half hour ruled 11 points net lower on the active months.

Cotton continued easy until the end of the first hour on long liquidation, stop-loss orders being uncovered on the scale-down. July dropped to 11.57, October to 11.70 and December to 11.81, or 14 points under yesterday's close.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Financial markets felt a little better today, but they still showed signs of yesterday's headache.

Liquidation tended to dry up in stocks and there even were a few modest rallies in scattered groups. Traders kept one eye on Washington and the other on the grain pit.

Wheat and corn dropped another cent or so a bushel and the other cereals were inclined to slip. At the same time most of the selling here was attributed to overnight margin calls and offerings dwindled after early adjustments. Bar silver again turned downward, but the futures recovered. Rubber was about even and cotton was only moderately lower. Bonds were mildly irregular, although some secondary issues were still in supply. International dollar rates recorded no important changes.

Shares of American Telephone came back about 2 points, and preferred issues of U. S. Rubber, Armour of Illinois, Mullins Manufacturing, M.-K.-T., and American Beet Sugar recovered 1 to around 2. Small gains were registered by Public Service of New Jersey, Consolidated Gas, Case, International Harvester, Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward. Some department store stocks such as Spiegel-May-Stern, Interstate and National advanced a point or more. Chrysler was a bit higher, but the other motors were virtually at a standstill. U. S. Steel and many others were about unchanged.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 17. (AP)—Fresh downturns in prices tumbled the market for each grain down more than 2 cents a bushel today the moment trading began. Selling out to stop losses was continued on a big scale.

Fluctuations were extremely rapid, with wheat rebounding a cent from the maximum initial drop.

Opening 1-2, 2 1-8 cents lower, May 78 to 78 1-2, wheat afterward rallied, overcoming much of the loss. Corn started 1-2, 1-8 down, and subsequently showed upturns.

TECH-YAQUI TRIP MEMBERS TALK TO STUDES, LIONS

Members of two Lubbock groups, the Texas Tech student body and faculty and the Lubbock Lions club, heard members of the Tech-Yaqui expedition into Sonora, Mexico, speak today. The college convocation was at 10 o'clock at the gymnasium and the Lions program was at the Hilton at noon.

Dr. W. C. Holden, director of the expedition, Dr. C. J. Wagner, Dr. R. A. Studhalter, Chas. A. Guy, W. G. McMillan, Frank Maddox and Bennie McWilliams appeared in the programs, Dr. Studhalter being unable to attend the Lions event.

Trophies Explained

At the Lions program, presided over by Emmett Kerr, members of the expedition were introduced by Chas. A. Guy and after a few brief remarks by Dr. Holden in which he expressed thanks for public support given the expedition, W. G. McMillan explained the various trophies brought back from the trip.

At the convocation at Tech the expeditioners were greeted by an unusually large crowd of students, faculty members and by a sprinkling of townspeople. The meeting, presided over by President Bradford Knapp, consisted largely of explanatory speeches by Doctors Holden, Studhalter and Wagner and by W. G. McMillan, who demonstrated uses of various trophies brought back from the Indian country by members of the party.

In his remarks Doctor Holden particularly stressed the aid he had received in forming and carrying out the expedition. He gave thanks to President Knapp, to the members of the college directorate and to faculty men who helped in the endeavor.

Members of the expedition sat upon the speakers dias and heard President Knapp praise the success of their efforts which he characterized as "Texas Tech's first great scientific expedition."

DAIRY SHOW

faced 12 miles of mud before reaching pavement. Lubbock's delegation vies with Amarillo and Tulia for attendance honors.

Twenty-one cities and West Texas Teachers' college at Canyon had named princesses and maids of honor for the annual pageant—"The New Horizon"—which will be given tonight.

The queen of the pageant, who will reign over dairyland for one year, will be selected by drawing from among visiting princesses. She will not be announced until tonight.

Muddy grounds, resulting from half an inch of rain here, delayed judging of dairy show entries for more than an hour.

Production honors went to Bessie's Little Topsy, 3-year-old jersey cow owned by J. W. Heavin, Plainview. She produced 2.6 pounds of butterfat from 58.8 pounds of milk during the 24-hour test.

Second honors were won by Majesty's Kathie Spot, 4-year-old owned by Chester Eliff, Swisher county club boy, who won first honors last year. Her production was 2.13 pounds from 43.6 pounds of milk.

Allen Premier's Sayda, belonging to O. L. Stansell, Floydada, placed third with 2.07 pounds of butterfat from 45.1 pounds of milk. She also was in the four-year-old group. The three winners were Jerseys. There were 26 entries.

Jack Stansell of Floydada, son of Oscar Stansell, former president of the show, exhibited the grand champion of the dairy calf club show. His calf was champion of the senior class.

Second honors in the senior group went to Ervin Graham, Floydada.

The junior champion was shown by Green McClesky, also of Floydada. Second place was awarded to Jack Stanell's entry. Third went to Dick McSpadden of Canyon. Both senior and junior champions were Jerseys.

The auditorium is 50 by 66 feet. In the new basement and upper floor, 15 class rooms have been added.

JAP PROTESTS

to which they are accredited.

The draft declares:

"Japan must object" when efforts to aid China take the form of "the supplying of military airplanes, the establishment of airdromes, the furnishing of military advisers and instructors, and the granting of political loans."

The spokesman declined to state how this would be applicable to the sales by American manufacturers of airplanes to China, participation by American companies in the establishment of Chinese air routes; the United States government's cotton and wheat loan to China and the employment of American aviation instructors by the Chinese government.

He continued, however:

"History shows that technical or financial aid to China almost inevitably becomes military or political, in which event Japan must object."

There are many American aviators in China at the present time selling airplanes and instructing Chinese fliers.

Among these American airmen is Frank Hawks, speed pilot, who is demonstrating a huge bomber to Chinese government authorities.

The spokesman declined to speculate on what the form of Japan's possible objections would be or how far they would go.

Requa Implicated In Airmail Probe

WASHINGTON, April 17. —(AP)—Mark L. Requa, Republican national committeeman from California, and described as "close friend and adviser" of former President Hoover, was pictured to the senate airmail investigating committee today as having volunteered to use his Washington influence in 1931 in the interest of an aviation company controlled by E. L. Cord.

Chairman Black (D-Ala) read into the record a telegram from Lyndal Young, and officer of Century Air lines, to L. B. Manning of the Cord corporation, dated in September, 1931, said Young knew Requa personally and believed "his influence with the Hoover administration can be used to our advantage."

Man Freed Because Of Early Sunrise

COLUMBUS, O., April 17. (AP)—Because the sun rose before 6 a. m. last July, Frankie Bell, Youngstown, O., was freed yesterday in county criminal court of a burglary charge.

He was on trial for the burglary of a drug store here last July 17. The testimony of alleged accomplices agreed they had broken into the store at 6 a. m.

T. Vincent Martin, assistant prosecutor, moved that the charge be dismissed. Burglary, he pointed out, must be in the "night season" as defined by Ohio law. Judge John R. King praised the prosecution for its fairness in asking the dismissal.

Prison Riot Tops Spanish Disorders

MADRID, April 17. (AP)—A prison riot at Vitoria today topped off a series of minor disorders in Spain.

Nine syndicalist prisoners overpowered the officer in charge, bound him, seized pistols and made a dash for freedom. Civil guards and soldiers drove them back to their cells.

Other disorders occurred at Zaragoza, where two small bombs damaged a street car, and at La Coruna, where a contractor's house was bombed.

Civil guards from La Coruna also were sent to the nearby town of Mellied to quell a demonstration for lower grain prices. One rioter was wounded.

A morning program, a noon lunch, and a sports afternoon will be had at McClung school Thursday, May 3, its annual "get-together day," J. W. Alspaugh, a member of the board and chairman of the community organization, said here Monday.

Mesquite Indicates Cold Weather Over

SAN ANGELO, April 17 (AP)—"You can't fool a mesquite" is an familiar adage among old-time West Texans who say that danger of cold weather returning in the spring never has definitely passed until the mesquite trees start leafing.

Mesquites now are coming out all over this section. Fruit and pecan trees have been blooming and a few already are leafing.

Only a few wild flowers are out but recent heavy rains have assured a multi-colored blanket for the prairies during the early months of summer.

Contracts Talked By Committee Here

Community cotton committees and the county control committee of Lubbock county conferred Monday in the county agent's office upon contracts made for 1934-35 reduction.

Ches Merrill, Shallowater; Vie L. Cade, Union, and Douglas Pounds, Acuff, comprise the committee. Contracts were returned from this state board with an explanation that the average yield was too high. It is necessary to make a substantial cut in order to lower the totals to what the state board considered the proper figure.

These Pickets Cover the Waterfront

As you see, all was not clear sailing in the shipbuilding craft when more than 2500 workers of a Camden, N. J., concern walked out on strike for higher wage. While some strikers picketed the street near the plant's entrance, others did their picketing from the waterfront, as this group illustrates.

STEPS TAKEN TO MAKE ARMY AIRMAIL SERVICE ATTRACTIVE TO CIVILIANS

SAN ANTONIO, April 17 (AP)—Steps to make army airmail service more attractive to experienced civilian pilots who so far have failed to accept active duty for mail flying in their present grades are being taken by eighth corps area officials upon instructions from the war department.

Army regulations are being waived in respect to appointment and promotion of air reserve officers and the flying time of commercial flyers on scheduled air lines is being made the basis of such appointments and promotions, according to word sent to civilian pilots from Fort Sam Houston.

Qualifications Set

For appointment as second lieutenant in the air reserve during the period of the emergency in connection with carrying the mail, a commercial pilot must have 2,000 hours certified flying time on a scheduled air line and must hold a scheduled air transport rating.

For promotion to first lieutenant and captain, the civilian pilot must have 4,000 or 6,000 hours, respectively, along with the other stated qualifications.

Commercial pilots also are being informed that reserve flyers in the airmail service are entitled to the same benefits as officers in the regular army.

Fliers who qualify for reserve commissions under the airmail regulations will be given a year after the air corps stops carrying the mail in which to qualify for their military duties in their respective grades. In case they fail to qualify for their new grades they will revert to the status held before entering the air mail service.

NEW THEATRE MACHINE

GREECE ASSAILS RHODES KILLINGS

ATHENS, April 17. (AP)—The Greek press bitterly assailed Italian authorities of the island of Rhodes today for the killing of ten peasants in an election day clash.

Dispatches said that in addition to ten slain, at least 30 peasants were wounded. Hundreds were said to have been arrested. Others were reported hiding in the mountains.

The killings came Saturday when the Italian gendarmerie attempted to interfere in the Salahos local election in favor of a government candidate.

Peasants gathered, seized stones and sticks, and fighting broke throughout the village. The natives finally fled, but not until many of their number had fallen.

Conditions generally in the islands of the Dodecanesian group, in the Aegean sea near the coast of Asia Minor, were described in unofficial dispatches as serious.

By the treaty of Sevres, Rhodes came under Italian sovereignty in 1923. There are about 32,000 persons on the island. About three-fourths still are Greeks, despite the fact many have emigrated to Greece since the island came under Italian rule. Most of the others are of Turkish origin.

POSTAL RECEIPTS GAIN

ANTON, April 17 (special)—Postal receipts for Anton for the first quarter of 1934 showed a gain of 65 per cent over the corresponding period for 1933, it was announced.

Receipts this year were $6,023.31, compared with $3,568.34, a net gain of $2,454.97.

VOTE FOR BEER

DICKENS, April 17 (Special)—Dickens voters are favorable to the legal sale of 3.2 per cent beer. By a vote of 74 to 45 citizens of the county seat went on record in favor of the sale.

One-Legged Chick Is Not Hampered

SWEETWATER, April 17 —(Special)—A 3-day-old baby chick which S. J. Eason found in a hatch of 84 chicks, has only one leg. But the chick apparently does not plan to let the loss of a leg hamper him in getting about as he has begun to learn to balance himself on one leg.

The right leg is perfect. On the left side of the chick there is no sign of a leg or even a thigh joint.

Yesterday a delegation from Terry county appeared before the board.

There are 35 counties in this district that are to be checked by the district board. Six comptometer operators are working in two shifts compiling reports. A clerical employe also is used with each shift.

Sir Aubrey paced the floor as the detective told his story. When he had finished Sir Aubrey sank to a chair beside the table, his head in his hands.

"Without doubt," he said slowly when he could command his voice, "this is my responsibility. I have left this boy—who is my son—unbefriended and alone—" He stopped, unable to go on.

"It's very fine of you to take it that way, Sir Aubrey," said Billings with a slight cough.

"What else could anyone with any conscience do."

"Well, a good many wouldn't look at it that way. However, there's no use going into that. What are we to do now, Sir Aubrey?"

"I want you to watch the boy. If he needs help you are to advise me immediately. There is no doubt that he did this thing?"

"There is plenty," Billings said loudly.

The color came back into Sir Aubrey's usually florid cheeks. "What do you mean?" he asked sharply.

"I mean that the boy isn't the kind that makes criminals. He isn't—he hasn't the look. I've seen plenty of 'em in my time. This kid—I'd swear he's decent. Shall I take up that side of the case? Find out who did it if I can?"

Sir Aubrey mopped his brow. "By all means," he answered, not quite steadily. "Most assuredly!" He breathed harshly and unevenly for some minutes. Then he was on his feet, pacing the floor. "Mind—no sparing of expense!" he ordered.

"Say," Billings thought, "anybody but me would skin you alive!"

He had often before felt a rush of affection for this man who was so far from his own world and understanding. Now he rose to slap Sir Aubrey's tweed-covered shoulder with a broad, thick hand. "Never mind, old scout," he said. "We'll get there yet!"

Sir Aubrey blinked. "Oh, quite!" he agreed. "That's the sporting line, eh?" He slipped his arms through Billings', who seemed such an odd chap and, to his mind, "typically American." He had a great and growing affection for Billings, he realized.

"What say to our ordering a lemon squash, Billings?"

"Righto," Billings agreed. "Damn it!" he thought, somewhat perturbed. "If I ain't careful I'll be talking English!"

"I SELL THEM GASOLINE BUT THEY SOLD ME Plymouth!"

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH VERNON F. KRAUSE OF CHICAGO, ILL.

1. "I wanted a new low-priced car, but I wanted to be sure I got the best. So I decided to let my customers tell me how they liked 'All three.'"

"Talking with Drivers of 'All Three' Convinced me that Plymouth gives the Most for your Money"

When Vernon Krause decided to buy a new car, he didn't have to take any time off to "look at All Three." He stayed right where he was . . . in his service station . . . and the cars came to him.

"I just stayed right here," Krause says, "keeping my eyes open and listening to owners compare notes."

Plymouth won their vote in the low-price field . . . hands down. But there wasn't just one reason. There were all kinds of reasons.

Some of his customers said how pleased they were with Hydraulic Brakes. Others boasted of having Safety-Steel Bodies. Many of them mentioned the extra comfort they got from Floating Power engine mountings and Individual Wheel Springing.

"It all added up to the fact that Plymouth gave the most for the money," says Krause.

"The most for your money." Isn't that exactly what you want in a new car? Then Plymouth is the car for you. It's the only low-priced car with all four of the vital features you need.

Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer demonstrates Plymouth.

2. "I found that Plymouth owners got more out of the gasoline I sold them. Plymouth drivers all agreed their cars were easy on their pocketbooks."

3. "I liked Plymouth's looks. But my customers showed me there was a lot more to Plymouth than that. They pointed out other features—like Individual Wheel Springing and Hydraulic Brakes."

4. Mr. Krause with his De Luxe Plymouth Sedan. Prices from $530 at the factory, subject to change without notice. Duplate Safety Plate Glass at low extra cost. Time payments on the Chrysler Motors C. C. Co. Plan.
