Violent Gun Battle Shatters Algeria's First Celebration

Over 100 Casualties Counted In An Hour

ALGIERS (AP)—A violent gun battle in the heart of Oran's European city today shattered Algeria's celebration of its first official independence holiday. More than 100 dead and wounded were reported in the first hour of the fighting, which swept the former stronghold of European Secret Army Organization terrorists.

Two hours after the fighting started, gunfire still rattled over the city. French riot police cars set up positions near the battle area.

The gunfire panicked tens of thousands of Moslems in the midst of a delirious celebration. An official of the city's main hospital said all the casualties taken there were Moslems. But a number of Europeans also were killed or wounded.

A Moslem policeman said the firing came from holdout terrorists of the European secret army, whose leaders had bowed to Algerian independence after months of murder and arson. The policeman's report could not be immediately confirmed.

The Oran violence, first since Algeria became formally independent Tuesday, erupted against a backdrop of a power struggle for leadership of the new-born nation.

In Algiers, nationalist Premier Youssef ben Khedda took the salute from 300 battle-hardened Algerian guerrillas. But the military show underscored the shaky position of Ben Khedda's moderate regime.

All the parading troops were from Wilaya No. 3, the only one of the guerrilla army's six zones to have firmly declared its loyalty to Ben Khedda. Three military zones, including the one immediately south of Algiers, have declared their support for rebellious Deputy Premier Ahmed ben Bella, a radical leftist who split with Ben Khedda on the eve of independence.

The 45,000-man nationalist army in exile—the key to any power struggle—was moving into Algeria from Tunisia and Morocco. Ben Bella commands strong loyalties among those troops whom he wielded into the fighting force the much larger French army could not defeat.

The advance guard from Tunisia had reached Souk Ahras, 110 miles east of Constantine. From the Moroccan side, the nationalist units marched toward Maenia. Ben Bella's home town, where he was expected to arrive in several days from his present refuge in Cairo.

Ben Khedda's regime strove desperately to bring order and assert its control before Ben Bella's new prime minister for congressional approval. If he does not—or if the Chamber of Deputies rejects three successive nominees—the Senate can name its own choice.

Goulart's difficulties began when Prime Minister Tancredo Neves and his cabinet stepped down on June 26 so they could qualify under the constitution for congressional elections in October.

The conservative forces blocked approval of Goulart's first nominee, ex-Foreign Minister Francisco San Tiago Dantas, a Labor-ite. As second choice Andrade was approved as prime minister 222-51 by the Chamber of Deputies on an economic reform program, but Goulart retained the right to veto his choice of cabinet members.

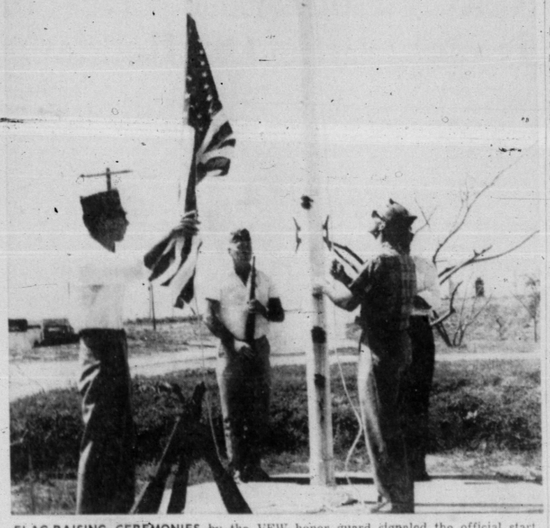

Union leaders have been demanding that a member of the labor party be named prime minister.

Although Goulart appealed to them not to strike, the unionists ordered the general walkout as a protest against Andrade's nomination. Even after Andrade quit, Dante Pelacani, president of the National Confederation of Industrial Workers, announced: "we shall go ahead with the strike anyway."

Gen. Osvino Ferreira Alves, commander of Brazil's 1st army, ordered his troops in Rio de Janeiro on alert. The government news agency said commanders of the 2d army in Sao Paulo and the 3rd army in Porto Alegre supported his call to maintain order.

SUZANNE SHEARBURN
...Miss Towle Park Pool of '62

FLAG-RAISING CEREMONIES by the VFW honor guard signaled the official start of the fun-filled activities at Towle Park yesterday. The flag, presented by Rep. Omar Burleson through his representative, Dean Johnson, is one which has flown over the United States Capitol.

Thousands At 'Fourth' Celebration

An estimated 7,000 people jammed the 132 acres of Towle Park yesterday evening as the brilliant fireworks display brought to a close the second annual Independence Day celebration in Snyder.

The event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, had been well-attended throughout the day since it officially started at 10 a.m., but the climax of the day was the shooting of the fireworks by the Snyder Fire Department.

Hundreds who were afraid to tackle the traffic in the park itself watched from nearby streets and yards.

In true Fourth of July tradition the celebration got underway with a flag-raising ceremony at the armory—Extending Congressman Omar Burleson's best wishes to the crowd was Dean Johnson of Abilene. He also presented the flag to Harold Lacik, Chamber president, who in turn presented it to the VFW color guard to raise. The flag itself had flown over the United States Capitol building.

A stiff south breeze whipped the flag, and at a signal from the parade-marshals, Sheriff Earl Abercrombie and Bill Zimmerman, the parade moved out. The parade route was lined with nearly 2000 adults and flag-waving children.

Jackie McNabb, newly-crowned Miss Snyder, received warm applause as her convertable covered the parade route.

Dozen of brightly decorated bicycles followed her, and most of the Snyder High band added just the right festive note.

Dozens of Boys Club members, all with flags and Uncle Sam hats marched along. The sheriff's Posse and the Junior Riding Club were in line, with the posse doing a precision drill as they covered the route.

Another touch of beauty was added to the parade as the contestants for the Miss Towle Pool title were driven by in their convertables.

After the parade dispersed, the crowds moved to the concession stands, to the tennis courts, to the swimming pool, and to the picnic areas.

Some visited the art show; many headed for the baseball diamond, some took a boat ride on the pond, and very few went home.

Members of the Boy Scout Order of the Arrow, under the direction of Lester Mundy, presented Indian dances on a portable stage near the pavilion. In the middle of the afternoon, when a sprinkle of rain fell shortly after one of their exhibitions, they were jokingly warned not to make the rain dances quite so authentic.

The light showers which fell later failed, however, to dampen the spirits of the celebrants in the park, although they did seem to make the 97 degree temperature seem just a little hotter.

A high point of the day's activities came with the crowning of Miss Towle Pool following the water show at the swimming pool.

Suzanne Shearburn, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Shearburn, was chosen to succeed Paula Avant, last year's winner. It became official when Harold Lacik, Chamber president, bestowed a kiss upon the victor.

Runners-up in the contest were Judy Lemon, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lemon, and Susan Gracey, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gracey. Also competing for the title were Donna Sellars, Sandra Henning, Susan Lamb, Sheila Dupree, Jodi Snyder, Connie O'Neal, Candy Bass, and Cheryl Brown.

The winners of the AAUW baby contest were announced shortly after the balloting closed at 8 p.m. Nell Sears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sears; Gerald James, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. James, and Russell Gafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gafford were declared winners.

Others in the contest were Kathleen Calvert, Steve Chandler, James McCormick, Benna Halamicek, Lori Glass, Debra Ann Allen and Delbert Ann Powell.

There were several cases of sunburn, several lost children, a number of dummy aches, but no serious problms to mar the biggest and best Fourth of July celebration in Snyder.

Krush Urges Bigger Force

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today the country is "duty bound to strengthen the might of our armed forces."

"We will not allow anyone to catch us unawares," he told the graduating classes of Soviet military academies at a gala reception in the Kremlin.

To the ballroom full of young officers, whom he called the "backbone of our armed forces," Khrushchev began by declaring that the basis of Soviet foreign policy was peaceful coexistence.

Then he went on to accuse the Western powers of frustrating the work of the Geneva disarmament conference where, he said, the Soviet Union had made constructive proposals.

In these circumstances, he claimed, "We are duty bound to strengthen the might of our armed forces. The stronger, the less the danger of attack and a devastating thermonuclear war."

Any imperialist aggression, he said, "will have a shattering retaliation."

Khrushchev drank a toast to the American people at a U.S. Embassy Fourth of July reception and said he wished for peace.

At a Kremlin reception later, he said there must be agreement on a German peace settlement.

He indicated he was speaking out now lest his administration wind up being blamed for what happened.

The subcommittee let Freeman read his statement into evidence although members questioned whether political influence helped Texas financier Estes in profitable manipulations under cotton and grain storage farm aid programs. Estes' operations are not involved in the report to which Freeman referred.

Chairman John McClelland D-Ark. told his colleagues that Freeman having already testified will accept responsibility for anything which happened under his administration had a right to make the statement.

The senator added however: "I don't think the committee should be used nor do I intend to permit it to be used as a springboard for answering headlines about other things."

To the best of his ability McClellan said he is "not going to permit any substantial diversion or distraction" from the job at hand and added that he hoped to get the truth about the Estes dealings "whatever the facts are . . . as nonpartisanly as possible."

Freeman testified that 452 FBI agents have investigated various aspects of Estes' operations, but have found no wrongdoing by anyone in his agency who had not been dealt with already.

He did not detail the findings, but the department has announced the resignation or discharge of three officials accused of accepting gifts or other favors from Estes.

Freeman Will Try To Recover Loss

WASHINGTON (AP—Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman told Senate probers today he will try to recover for the government losses on challenged cotton deals for which he blamed the Eisenhower administration.

Involved, he said, is a compromise general report dated June 29 that brokers acting as agents for his department's Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC) in 1959 and 1960 "sold to themselves $800 million worth of government cotton ranging up to $20 a bale less than published market prices."

The report made public Monday, said the practice was stopped in April 1961. It did not name brokers involved, but recommended that the department try to recover any deficiencies in sales proceeds paid to the CCC.

Testifying before the Senate Investigations subcommittee in the Billie Sol Estes hearings Freeman said Horace Godfrey now one of his top aides had registered several protests against this policy all to no avail while Republican Ezra Taft Benson was secretary.

Freeman said he was acting at once to "recoup for the government whatever losses have been sustained" on the deals.

Traffic Accidents Kill 143

By The Associated Press

Traffic	143
Boating	15
Drowning	34
Miscellaneous	36
Total	248

The death count on the nation's streets and highways exceeded the one-day Fourth of July holiday record set in 1956, the last year when a one-day observance was held.

The National Safety Council estimated earlier that during the holiday period from 6 p.m. Tuesday, to midnight Wednesday the traffic toll would fall somewhere between 110 and 130.

It also said that nearly all of the country's 76 million cars would be on the go.

Traffic accidents killed a record 114 persons during the nation's 30-hour observance of Independence Day.

The country's over-all accident death toll was 248. It included 15 deaths in boating accidents, 34 drownings and 36 deaths in miscellaneous accidents.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, termed the record toll tragically high.

"We can only draw one conclusion from this needless waste of human life—drivers are failing to observe basic rules of common sense and courtesy," Pyle said.

Probers Still Seek Owner Of $2.4 Million Cash Cache

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Investigators concentrated today on convicted gambler Joseph "newsboy" Moriarty in attempts to solve a $2.4 million question—who left the cache of cash in an abandoned automobile?

The Jersey City police chief, Austin J. Conley said it all points to Moriarty—$2 now serving a 2-to-5 year term in the state prison at Trenton.

Conley said government bonds found with the currency were registered in the name of Moriarty and Moriarty's brother Alfred who died five years ago.

Lawrence A. Whipple Hudson County prosecutor and three aides spent 15 minutes with Moriarty Wednesday at the prison and told him of the find.

"You've just lost $2½ million," Whipple said he told the prisoner.

"He listened deadpan" Whipple related then he said "Your're telling me this Mr. Prosecutor." He would neither admit nor deny ownership of anything that was found. He said he would get a lawyer. He said he would consider making a statement afterward."

The fortune at issue ranging in denominations from $1000 bills down to $5 was found Tuesday by two unidentified carpenters in the trunk of a 1947 Plymouth hoised in a garage.

R. W. Bachman special agent in charge of the Newark office of the FBI said Moriarty was arrested in a 1947 Plymouth in 1951.

Also found in the car were four guns—45 and 32-caliber revolvers a 32-caliber Belgian automatic and 22-caliber rifle—and considerable ammunition. Equipment of the type used by bookmakers and numbers operators, was discovered in a 1951 Ford stored in an opposite garage.

"We don't know yet who the money belongs to—ownership is a legal question for the U.S. attorney's office," Bachman said. "This is the largest amount of money I have ever come in contact with in all my experience with the FBI."

The exact amount he said was $2,421,500.

The FBI claimed the money bonds and related papers on the basis of a $250,000 tax lien against Moriarty.

Authorities also pressed to determine the owner of the car which had no license plates.

Accorting to Conley a Miss Anna Petrick was the last owner. He said the car had been seized by the county prosecutor in 1952 when Moriarty was arrested in it on a gambling charge. Moriarty was subsequently acquitted and Conley said the car was returned to Miss Petrick.

Conley said Miss Petrick left on a two-week vacation Saturday.

A call to her home brought only this response: "She isn't here." The party then hung up.

The two carpenters meanwhile were reported to have filed claims against the fortune. And Frank Munzy 54 owner of the garage in which the cache was found was considering a similar claim.

The double row of 24 small garages where the kar wasddaaprd is located in an alley in a quiet residential section.

Ike Defends New GOP Policy Units

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says two new-born Republican policy groups will help the party build an organization to do justice to its principles.

Eisenhower defended the All Republican Conference and the National Republicans Citizens Committee Wednesday against the attack of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who had labeled them as forces of confusion and distrust.

In forming the two groups, Eisenhower said, Republicans made "the most progressive steps our party has taken in many years."

The All Republican Conference was formed last Saturday by Republicans meeting at Eisenhower's farm in Gettysburg, Pa. Organization of the citizens committee was announced in New York later the same day.

Eisenhower's defense of the two organizations came in a letter to Republican National Chairman William E. Miller. Miller is an active sponsor of the conference. The GOP chairman, in advancing the idea for the group, said Republicans should form an organization of leading party members, in and out of office, to coordinate efforts to win control of the House and trim the Demeratic majority in the Senate.

Rex Bell Is Dead At 58

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Rex Bell, a cowboy star of the silent film era who married the "It Girl" of the 1920's, actress Clara Bow, died Wednesday night of a heart attack. He was 58.

Bell collapsed at the home of a friend a few hours after addressing a Republican party rally. He was the only announced GOP candidate for governor and was widely regarded by political observers as the only person who could rally strength for Nevada Republicans.

GIFT TEA—Miss Virginia Payne, bride-elect of Jack Kea was honored with a gift tea Monday evening from 7:30 to 9 at the home of Mrs. Alfred Lieb, 3773 Sunset. Co-hosting with Mrs. Lieb were 11 others. A color theme of green and white were carried out in the home and refreshment table. Miss Payne and Mr. Kea will exchange vows on July 7 at the Ira Church of Christ. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Payne and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kea. Pictured above Miss Payne admires some of the lovely gifts received at the occasion.

THIRD REUNION—The McLeod family held their family reunion at Towle Park Wednesday. This was the third time the group gathered in Snyder on July 4 for the occasion. Pictured above are Mrs. N. L. McLeod of Merkel, the eldest member present, and Bruce Hale, 10 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hale of Lamesa, the youngest member present. Mr. and Mrs. Sam McLeod of Snyder, made arrangements for the affair. Mrs. McLeod is a teacher in the Snyder Public School system.

Cutting Capers

Q—What is the best way to cut a round, 3-tiered wedding cake?

A—Proceed from the bottom layer up. To ease serving: With tip of knife, make a circular cut around the complete base of second layer, cutting through bottom layer. Cut vertically (from the circular cut outward) and remove servings (in modified wedge shape) from cake. Next, cut the second layer in the same manner as bottom layer, making a circular cut at the base of the top layer and cutting the slices vertically. When pieces from the second layer have been served, return to the bottom layer and proceed, in original manner, to cut the now-exposed portion of this layer. The remaining center of the tiers are cut into wedges, cutting one layer at a time. The top layer is usually removed, as a momento for the bride.

Q—Is there a preferred method for cutting a jelly roll?

A—Forego a knife and use a heavy white thread to slice cake rolls. Place a 15-inch piece under the cake roll where you want to slice it. Bring ends together up over top, cross thread and pull it down quickly to cut through cake roll.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A small group of pacifists marched in silent protest against war Wednesday before the famed Civil War battlefield's Peace Light Memorial.

New Faces In Fall Sweaters

Wool sweaters turn a host of bright new faces toward Fall '62 in new shapes textures patterns and lively styling innovations. They're bouncy demure or sophisticated, ready to play a multi-wardrobe role for every girl. It's variety like this that has made sweater collectors out of students and careerists.

Among the most outstanding new-face fashions in wool sweaters are:

LEGGY NECKLINES: Turtle-neck sweaters in fine wool merinos worn under bulky V-neck pullovers in tweedy thick yarn emphasizing the tall swanlike throat.

T-SQUARE NECKS: Widened bateaus that extend far out to the shoulders.

DIVIDEND SWEATERS: In twin combinations of cardigan and pullover, or sleeveless vest and long-sleeved pullover; and in matching hood, scarf and hat accessories.

KNIT-TEENIES: Cropped little cardigans and pullovers for flaring skirts.

"SPARE" LOOK: Of sleek fine gauge woolknit sweaters and slacks with trim, lean uncluttered lines.

BUBBLE-SHAPING: In long seat-curving pullovers, some with bow-gathered fronts and others with drawstring hems.

WHOPPER LOOK: Thick-textured skirts mated with bulky wool sweaters.

OFF-SIDE TREATMENTS: In side-buttoned or zippered plackets, or contrasting panels on both cardigans and pullovers.

Other specific themes include roll-up sleeves in bulky wool pullovers; zippered closings in cardigans and also in pullovers with zippered neck plackets; and styling details of low hem-bands and low slung pockets and fishtail hems.

Adding an extra spark to the pattern excitement are the animal kingdom designs of leopard, pinto pony and Dalmatian, realistically screen-printed on fur blends.

New-face wool sweater textures for Fall vary from the lofty and dimensional to the sleek and supple flat knits. Among them the links n' links stitches, ottoman ribs, brushed and lacy layered mohairs, fluffy and bulky roving yarns, and thick and thin yarns.

With all its appealing new faces, each enriched by the natural beauty of all-American wool, the sweater sets the fashion pace for Fall '62 as the most ubiquitous costume-maker in the wardrobe.

Story Often Runs Parallel To Real Conflict In Africa

UHURU. By Robert Ruark. McGraw-Hill. $5.95.

In this massive volume, Ruark has written a fictional account of East african political and social ferment arising from the concept of Uhuru — roughly translated, "Freedom."

It is fictional, and yet as the author points out in a foreword, some of his plot devices have turned up in thoroughly factual newspaper dispatches before his manuscript could be converted into a finished book.

It is a pretty grim story, for it chronicles bloody conflict such as the world already has witnessed in the Congo and Algeria. One of the chief pictures a reader carries away from this book is a portrayal of a Stone Age culture in which a handful of educated, self-seeking, native politicians is seeking to gain control, as the frightened white farmers gradually give up their holdings in the face of murder and witchcraft.

The story's setting is Kenya, and the chief protagonist is a white hunter named Brian Dermott, whose Aunt Charlotte is a grand dame who runs one of the larger farms in the colony.

Dermott, having just sent his divorced wife Valerie back to England, goes on safari with two American clients, Paul Drake and his sister Kate. Meanwhile a political tension is building up over the execution of a white man for slaying a native—which wouldn't have happened in older days.

On safari, Dermott and Kate fall in love. But Kate is murdered by some bungling minions of one of the black political leaders. Dermott, sensing that the politician is both literally and symbolically responsible for the tragedy, shoots him in cold blood. The final irony is that the only way to save Dermott from hanging in these modern days is to get another black politician to defend him.

The whites in this book are skillfully depicted. Aunt Charlotte tries to get a land reform program going on her own acres, but as Dermott bluntly reminds her, it is too little and too late. Another farmer, Donald Bruce, flees with his family to the safety of Scotland, but returns alone at the end to fight murder with murder.

The blacks range all the way from the gunbearer who is faithful unto death to his white bwana and memsaab, to the devious black politician exemplified by Stephen Ndgwa, whose three wives run the gamut from primitive to high yellow.

The book is filled with local color, and saturated with the political talk of East Africa. It has a score of major characters, the safari and a brilliant exposition of current unrest in the bush country. But its 554 tightly packed pages make it too long, and much of the time it is slow-moving.

It is a novel that requires some effort from the reader to stick with it. But for those who persist, it builds into quite a panorama.

SAN FRANCISCO LOBSTER BISQUE

2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped green onion (scallion)
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
¼ pound mushrooms (sliced)
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon seasoned salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can (14 ½ ounces) chicken broth
1 can (6 ounces) lobster
1 cup heavy cream
Dry sherry

In a large saucepan cook the onion and green pepper in the hot butter until soft but not browned. Add mushrooms and cook until limp. Stir in flour, salt and pepper, then broth and lobster including liquid in can. Cook gently and stir constantly until slightly thickened; cover and simmer about 10 minutes. Add cream and reheat but do not boil. Stir in 2 tablespoons sherry; add more if desired. Makes about 1 quart.

It's exasperating to become so delightfully sleepy that your eyelids droop—and then find yourself wide awake by the time you are "ready for bed." To avoid this paradox, try to finish your grooming routine early in the evening.

After the dishes are washed and the tots are in bed, take your warm relaxing bath, brush your teeth, give yourself a soapsuds facial, and set your hair. Then, when that wonderful drowsy feeling develops, you'll be all ready to sleep!

From me to you
A DAILY VIEW
Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"The fool says in his heart, there is no God."
Psalm 14

To us who believe, it seems impossible that there are many who say, "there is no God". Yet there are many in our world who say just this. Perhaps it is just wishful thinking on their part, because they don't want to be bothered by a Supreme Being. It could be a case of ignorance, because no one has told them about God, and his love for mankind. Often it is a case of intellectual arrogance, for they feel they know so much about the Universe that there can not be a God behind it all. Others yet, may say," there is no God," because of some personal tragedy or great sorrow that has come to their lives, and they feel that if God does exist, he would not allow "this" to happen.

One cannot prove that God exists; but one who is really fair and honest about seeking the truth, and will not form pre-judgements until all the evidence is presented, will find in the faith and testimony of believers such a message of God, and an assurance of his existence, that they will not be able to say "There is no God".

Locals Dealt Double Dose

It was Independence Day on the local scene Wednesday and the Snyder Merchants really "set free" the Abilene Merchants, who swept a twi-night doubleheader by 3-2 and 5-2.

Things looked rosy for the Snyder nine going into the sixth frame of the opener. Lonnie Crosby had given up just one single to the visitors, and the locals looked to be well on their way to victory when the roof caved in.

With one out in that inning Teddy Tedford was hit by a pitched ball. Then Bill Raines singled, and both came scampering in with the tieing tallies ahead of Jack Richards, who tripled. Richards scored the deciding run with the help of a sacrifice fly to right.

Snyder picked up its first run in the initial inning on the strength of some daring base running by shortstop Kenneth Drake. He singled, then proceeded to pilfer second and third, and came barrelling on home on an overthrow to the plate.

Second baseman Mickey Sterling dented the platter with Snyder's second run in the third. He landed a single and came all the way around on a double by Drake, who led the way at the plate for the locals during the game with his two-for-three.

Crosby and right fielder Baker produced Snyder's other two hits of the game, one-base blows in the fourth and fifth, respectively.

Abilene touched Crosby for four base knocks in taking the win, while the Snyder Merchants garnered five off winner Eugene Rogers.

The locals also connected for five hits in the nightcap, led by third sacker Jim Wesson with his triple in the second and double in the fourth. He scored following his triple when catcher Dale Brown singled him home and tallied his team's other run in the fourth on a single off the bat of right fielder Kenneth Baker.

Abilene got off on the right foot in the very first inning when Tedford, Frank Crow and Richards singled and were brought home on a double by Richard Carr.

The visitors notched their other two markers on solo homers in the fourth and fifth by Tedford and Richards.

Guy Sullivan went the route in absorbing thee loss for Snyder.

The City Softball League enters its second round of championship play tonight when Ray Taylor Well Service and Greenhill Baptist pitch battle in a single game. Two contests are slated for Friday, when Sunray and Denson Gulf meet, to be followed by R. E. Smith and the Harlin Oilers.

The Snyder Merchants see their next action here Saturday night at 7:30 when they take on Abilene Athletic Supply in a twin bill.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP — Bob Garibaldi, the new $150,000 component of San Franciscos pennant-seeking machine, hopes to begin working immediately with the Giants though he won't officially join them until July 15.

Giants Manager Alvin Dark and pitching coach Larry Jansen are equally as eager to see their towering 6-foot-5, 205-pound fireballer in action.

"I've never seen him pitch," said Dark. "I won't know how I'm going to use him until I see him. But he'll be doing some work for us."

Reasonable Facsimiles Noted In Handicap

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Back in 1956 Swaps won the $100,000-added Hollywood Gold Cup Handicap for owner Rex C. Ellsworth, setting a track record which still stands at Hollywood Park.

Horseman Ellsworth has no Swaps today but he can boast of a potent one-two combination. Prove It and Olden Times, which may be hard to beat in the Gold Cup July 14.

Olden Times wore down the opposition and Prove It came on to polish it off and win the $55,350 American Handicap Wednesday.

Only seven horses have scored back-to-back victories in the American and Gold Cup Handicaps. One of them was Swaps.

Champs Crowned In Scurry Net Tourney

Championship play in the annual Scurry County Tennis Tournament came to an almost-end Wednesday when titlists in all divisions of play were named with the exception of mixed doubles.

Due to conflicts, the mixed doubles final involving Janet and Jim Wesson vs. Helen Ivison and Eddie Phy was postponed, but will be reeled off in the near future.

A Wesson win in that event would constitute a double victory, in that morning play saw the men's singles crown going to him by 7-5, 6-3 over Jim Erwin. Wesson had advanced to the finals by felling Doug Chitsey 6-3, 6-3 in the opening round, after which he dropped David Midkiff in the semi-finals by 6-2, 6-2.

Bill and David Midkiff, a brother twosome, reigned supreme in the men's doubles. They stoned Erwin and Bob Womack by 6-2, 6-2 for the title after leaping past Eddie Phy-D. V. Marcum by 6-3, 6-2 and Ken Brotherton-Ken Holt by 6-0, 6-3.

Carol Bailey ground out a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Linda Ivison to take top honors in the women's singles after removing sister Helen Ivison from contention, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

Emily Kincaid took twin wins in junior girls competition. She roared past Carolyn Glenney 6-1, 6-0 in the singles finals after drawing a first-round bye and stopping Diane Hargrove 6-2, 6-3, then teamed with Miss Hargrove to annex the doubles title with a 6-1, 6-0 triumph over the team of Rosemary Lutkins and Ruth Alexander.

Gary Blackshear and Larry Black reign as boys doubles victors. They ousted George Glenney and Eldon Tipping in the finals by 6-2, 6-4 after taking out Doyle Gallman and Sam Head by 6-0, 6-0.

John Flynn, in a Tuesday championship duel, copped the boys singles title by submerging Truman Ivison, 6-4, 6-2. Flynn nudged Larry Black in his opening match to gain the finals bracket, 6-4, 7-5.

LA Achieves Status As 'Baseball Capital'

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers have passed the July 4 milestone with a half-game edge over San Francisco's Giants and added baseball tradition to their line-up in their struggle for National League supremacy.

Tradition jumped on Los Angeles' bandwagon after Wednesday's program as the Dodgers swept their seventh consecutive doubleheader by belting Philadelphia 16-1 and 7-3. The twin triumphs kept the Dodgers a half-length ahead of the Giants, who whipped the New York Mets 11-4 and 10-3.

That, according to baseball's July 4 rule of measure gives the Dodgers a commanding edge over the runner-up Giants. In the 61 seasons since the turn of the century, 39 NL teams leading after the holiday gamees have won the pennant—as average of 64 per cent.

The Dodgers' sweep turned Los Angeles into the baseball capital—for a day at least—as the 2-year-old Angels moved into first place in the American League by defeating Washington 4-2 and 4-1. In the AL, 41 of 61 July 4 leaders—or 67 per cent—have won the pennant.

Pittsburgh remained in third place in the NL, taking Houston 7-0 and 4-3. Fourth-place St. Louis stopped Milwaukee 2-0 after losing the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game, 7-5. Cincinnati's defending champs, in fifth place, defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees fell to second by losing to Kansas City 11-1 before winning the nightcap 7-3. Third-place Cleveland edged Detroit 1-0 in 10 innings and 6-2 in 13, minnesota beat Boston 8-4, then lost 9-5 and Baltimore defeated Chicago 7-3 before the White Sox won the second game 5-2.

Frank Howard's single and bases-loaded double drove in five runs in support of Sandy Koufax' five-hit pitching as the Dodgers pounded Chris Short (4-5) and his successors for 18 hits in the first game. Koufax (12-4) didn't allow a hit until Ted Savage homered in the seventh inning.

Howard drove in two runs in the nightcap. Tommy Davis had a two-run homer and run-scoring single. Joe Moeller (6-5) got credit for the Dodgers sixth consecutive victory. Dennis Bennett (2-4) was the loser.

Home runs got the job done for the Giants in both halves of their doubleheader with the Mets. Willie McCovey smashed a pair in the opener. Ed Bailey and Jim Davenport also connected as Bob Bolin (3-0) won it with a seven-hitter. Bob Miller (0-7) was the loser.

Willie Mays hit two homers in the second game to give Billy O'Dell (10-6) enough working room to last the distance although tagged for 10 hits. Billy Hunter (1-4) took the loss.

Vern Law (7-3) continued his comeback for the Pirates in the opener to post his fourth consecutive triumph. Bob Bruce (6-2) was the loser.

An 11-hit offensive also worked for the Pirates in the nighcap. El-Roy Face, working in relief of Earl Francis (5-5) ran-into trouble in the ninth when the Colts pushed across two runs, but got Merritt Ranew on a grounder to end it. Jim Golden (5-7) was the loser.

Ed Mathews clinched the verdict for the Braves in the suspended game by breaking the 5-5 tie with a two-run ninth inning homer. The Cards took the regulation contest as Ernie Broglio (4-3) checked the Braves on three singles to beat Warren Spahn (7-10).

Leo Cardenas' brilliant play on Billy Williams grounder after the Cubs had scored four runs in the eighth preserved the Reds' triumph for Jim Maloney (3-3). Dick Ellsworth (4-13) lost it.

Snyder Colt Stars Blank Abilene, 6-0

Snyder's Colt League All-Stars helped to make the July Fourth holiday complete here Wednesday with a 6-0 whitewashing of their Abilene Colt League All-Star counterparts.

Leslie Brown hurled two-hit ball through 6 innings for the triumph, then stepped down to make way for Blake Roberts, who relinquished one safety during his one-inning mound stint. Brown struck out six and walked four over the span of his tour. The three hits collected by the visitors were all of one-base vintage.

The Snyder Stars were limited to just one base knock the first three innings before locating their batting eyes. They ended up with five for the game while Junning over one tally in the fourth, two more in the fifth, and their final three in the sixth.

A leaky infield was instrumental in affording Snyder its three-run outburst in the sixth, when three miscues in that area and a timely two-run single off the bat of Tom Kincaid combined to earn for the local nine its insurance markers.

Snyder's initial run was scored by Donnie Daniel; who doubled to left and was squeezed home by Barry Hughey. Jay Williamson laid down another squeeze bunt in the fifth to bring Kenny Gay home, while the other fifth-inning run was scored by Rob Hall on a wild pitch.

Daniel's two-bagger was the only extra-baser of the contest.

Starter Don Ray was the loser. His mound successors included John Moore and Mike Choate.

The afternoon's opening action matched the Canyon Reef Sports Center Sports and the Snyder National Bank Rebels. It ended in a 6-6 stalemate at the conclusion of the regulation seven innings.

Following a four-run third frame, sparked by a three-run inside-the-park roundtripper by David Cadena, the Sports took a commanding 5-0 lead. The Rebs chipped away at them with a run in the fourth and three more in the sixth, however, then in the do-or-die seventh pitcher Randy Hales smacked a two-run single to center to knot the count and bring about the standoff.

In addition to Cadena's homer, one other blow went for multiple bases. It was a triple in the fourth by Augie Garcia, also of the Sports.

Hales went the distance for the Rebels. Freddie Benitez and Cadena toiled for the Sports.

Roberts Wins At Daytona In 153.688

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Glenn (Fireball) Roberts is back in form after scoring his second stock car racing victory of the year on the fastest track in the world.

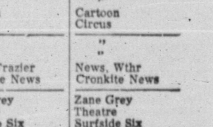

The 31-year-old Roberts drove "my kind of race—wide open all the way" Wednesday in winning the Firecracker 250. Roberts roared across the finish line in his 1962 Pontiac 12 seconds ahead of the runner-up, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., who also drove a Pontiac.

A four-car smashup which eliminated the vaunted Ford team of Nelson Stacy and Fred Lorenzen forced the race to be run under the caution flag for seven laps, ruining any chance for a record.

Roberts toured the 2½-mile high-banked track in 1 hour 36 minutes and 36 seconds for an average speed of 153.668 miles an hour.

Bob Shaw, pitcher traded by Kansas City to Milwaukee, is now the workhorse pitcher on the Braves staff. In the team's first 50 games he worked 85 innings in 14 appearances.

Texas Tech returns its first four rushers of 1961—fullback Coolidge Hunt, quarterback Johnny Lovelace, halfbacks Bill Worley and David Rankin.

Tree-Planting Campaign Is Changing Face Of New York

BY INEZ ROBB

Something new has been added so gradually to New York City in the past 20 years that only now is it apparent that Shakespeare's great Birnam Wood, or a reasonable facsimile, has been advancing on the metropolis.

East Side, West Side, there is a veiling of green all round the town, from the Battery to the Bronx. That tree in Brooklyn no longer has a monopoly! It is suddenly obvious that there are trees all over the city, which is rapidly losing its barren, craters- of-the-moon look.

Visiting firemen who see the city for the first time cannot really appreciate the thousands of trees that have been planted in New York's concrete in the past two decades. It is one of the most interesting reforestation programs in the nation. Its extent was borne in the other day when, for the first time in ages, I drove up the dirty, disreputable old Bowery, and discovered that the Bowery's bums can now sprawl under the shade of a row of trees planted on each side of that sad street.

Every day is Arbor Day in New York, with the city encouraging property owners to plant trees to add a note of grace to the city. It is a tribute to property owners that so many thousands have bought trees, a major investment in the city.

It costs not $5 or $10 or even $20 but $100 to plant a tree in this metropolis. First, the owner must inform the Park Department of his good intention, whereupon the department surveys the site and gives the nod.

For his C-note the property owner gets a tree two to three inches in diameter. Next, a private contractor working through the Park Department is dispatched to cut a sizable block of concrete out of the sidewalk, feed and enrich the soil below, and plant the tree.

In the meantime, the property owner is instructed to give the tree tender, loving care. He is responsible for watering his tree or trees, as well as giving them suitable fertilizers at stated intervals.

As for the city, it, in turn, guarantees the life of the tree for one year. It is also responsible, forever after, for spraying and pruning said tree or trees.

For the property owner who is loaded, the city will supply three-to-four-inch trees at $150 each. Heretofore, these have been the plane tree, which likes city life. But come autumn, the city will allow the buyer to specify whether he would like a gingo, willow oak, silver linden, honey locust or plane tree.—Although the plane tree is a real city slicker, the other four also have proved they can thrive on carbon monoxide as readily as human beings.

The stone canyons have been considerably softened by the tree planters. Nowhere is it more noticeable, with the possible exception of the Bowery, than on Third Avenue, a noble-dark warren until the old elevated structure was removed some years ago. To its surprise, the New York discovered that Third Avenue, then old and shabby, was one of the broadest and brightest thoroughfares in town.

Not only is the avenue being rebuilt, but trees have been planted the length of it. In another decade, it is going to be one of the handsomest, leafiest streets in New York.

The late Fiorello LaGuardia, when mayor, seized every inch of ground he could lay his hands on, the better to plant trees to shade benches on which New Yorkers could lay his hands on, the better to plant trees to shade benches on which New Yorkers could take their ease and the air. Only a fortnight ago the Board of Estimate pointed up a fat appropriation for the planting of 3,000 trees to further beautify the city before the World's Fair in 1964.

It is unlikely that New York will ever offer any competition to the forest primeval or become a leafy bower, such as large sections of Paris. Nonetheless, it is possible today to look down into many a concrete canyon and say, "How green is my alley!"

Approximately 15 per cent of farm people enumerated in the 1960 census had lived their entire lives in the same house.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHELLFISH

QUESTION: Do shellfish such as oysters have eyes?

* * *

ANSWER: The oyster belongs to the soft bodied group of animals called mollusks. Lacking skeletons, many of these creatures secrete lime which hardens into shells inside of which they live. When just hatched, the oyster larvae swim freely for awhile but soon find solid objects to which they attach themselves for life. Most of the time, the oyster keeps its two shells slightly ajar so that water can pour in, bringing oxygen for breathing and minute sea life for food. Since they don't move around and hunt for food, oysters have no need for sight. Certain faint spots on oysters' bodies may be traces of eyes once possessed by their ancestors, before the oyster tribe developed two shells and began to live in a world of darkness. Other mollusks, which move around, have eyes which really work. The snail's tiny eyes are set on short stalks. It probably gets more use out of the long sensitive feelers. Notice the large, staring eyes of the squid—also a mollusk. Since it has no shell to retreat into, the squid must swim rapidly away from its enemies, and so its big eyes are of great value.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: If you can capture a garden snail, put it in a jar and examine it when it puts its head out and starts to move. Using a magnifying glass, try to find the eye stalks close to the base of the feelers.

Allowance For Child Is Stern Test

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the sterner tests of the principle of family togetherness is a child's demand for a weekly allowance.

Looking back now, it seems the first thing my daughter, Tracy Ann, did after we pinned her first diaper on, was to stretch out a pudgy small hand and demand:

"Where's my allowance?"

Ever since then I've been a miser at bay.

For a while I thought it was kind of cute to hold out a nickel and a dime in my hand, and watch her pick the nickel because it was bigger.

But her favorite playmates are Susie and Markie, the children of Mark Stumpf, attorney who lives down the hall, and the time came when I suspect Tracy got the benefit of counsel.

First she learned to choose the dime from the nickel, then the time came when she peeled off both coins.

Then I made the error of telling her that when I once demanded a weekly allowance of a quarter from my father, he told me: "Sure, son, here's the broom. Sweep out the store."

My daughter thought that over for about two swift seconds.

"I know where the broom is, Papa," she replied. "But what did you do with your daddy's store?"

Reluctantly I had to fork over the two-bits. Over the years the demands have steadily grown. Now and then I raise a feeble flag of resistance, but get nowhere.

When Tracy was 7, the allowance level soared to 50 cents a week, 10 per cent of which she agreed to plunk into the piggy bank.

Tracy is now 9 years old. Recently she decided to raise her weekly allowance to a dollar, of which she agreed to bank 35 cents. I made a small scream and a long speech, then caved in, borrowed the money from my wife, and paid the allowance.

As my wealthy daughter trudged down the hall I heard one of her playmates ask her:

"Gee, who did you get it from—the big shot?"

"Yes," answered Tracy. "From Mommy."

My friends who have older children have small sympathy for my hollers.

"When kids get to be teenagers, they think nothing of asking for $5 at a clip," they say. "Just you wait."

Well, I'm in no hurry. I can wait.

My idea now is to hold out until I get Social Security from Uncle Sam—and then split my allowance 50-50 with my daughter.

Educational Television Aided By Grants

NEW YORK (AP) — Grants totaling $8,527,000 have been announced by the Ford Foundation to aid educational television.

The New York metropolitan area's first educational television station, WNDT, on Channel 13, received $2,994,000 to assist it in beginning operations Sept. 16.

The National Educational Television and Radio Center was given $4.7 million for programming services and other activities to assist the nation's non-commercial television stations.

A grant of $838,000 was awarded to start a nationally televised college course in economics.

Nine in 10 households now have television sets and one in eight has two or more.

Yarborough Will Back Democrats

HOUSTON (AP)—DON Yarborough has reaffirmed his pledge to support the Democratic ticket in the November general election.

"I will work for and support every Democratic nominee on the November ballot," the Houston attorney told a rally attended Wednesday night by about 1,800 Harris County liberal Democrats. Yarborough did not mention John Connally, the Democratic nominee for governor, by name.

Yarborough lost the nomination to Connally in the June 2 runoff primary by about 26,000 votes.

Yarborough said three weeks ago he would support Democratic nominees, but said his law practice might limit his campaign time in behalf of the November ticket.

He said Wednesday all Democratic nominees must support President Kennedy and work for legislation to meet the needs of the people.

He warned that a two-party system is on the way to Texas.

"And Democrats are going to have to talk and act like Democrats if they hope to be elected in the future," he said.

9:00 CBS "The Fat American". This sixty-minute program reports on the Nation's gigantic food industry, an $80,000,000,000.00-a-year enterprise, and suggests that plain overeating may be a cause of obesity. It also shows several of the labor saving devices that keep Americans out of trim. Among those interviewed is Dr. Paul Dudley White, consulting physician to former President Eisenhower.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

6:30 NBC "Outlaws". Guest star Lloyd Nolan plays Deputy Chalk Breeson's scheming father whose illegal antics threaten to ruin his son's career as a lawman. Bruce Gordon and John Abbott are featured.

7:00 CBS "Frontier Circus". Guest star Vera Miles plays a blind equestrienne whose rare show horse is killed during a gun battle and who despairs over the loss of the animal, which had understood her blindness and had become her companion.

7:30 NBC "Dr. Kildare". Guest star Ann Francis, Cathleen Nesbitt and comedian Jan Murray (the latter in a rare dramatic performance) join series stars Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey for the story in which Kildare clashes with a clan of filmland revellers.

Gondoliers Block Venice Waterways

VENICE, Italy (AP)—The "war of the canals" is simmering again with the ancient gondoliers challenging the increasing invasion of modern motorboats.

This picturesque port city was all but paralyzed for two hours Wednesday as the gondoliers blockaded the main canals that are the streets of Venice.

More than 400 gondoliers lined up their black boats across the city's Grand Canal. Other gondolas blocked smaller canals.

The steam ferry boats that provide Venetians with municipal transport could not move. Motor-powered taxi boats — the direct competitors of the gondoliers — were trapped.

Once the gondolas were the only public transport in Venice.

Now the gondoliers complain that the city fathers are issuing too many licenses to motorboats. They say the new taxis offer unfair competition and their graceful boats are endangered by the big waves raised by powered craft.

Protests by the gondoliers have been frequent in the past. Once they created a small sensation by putting a monstrosity on the canals—a gondola powered by a motorboat.

They won this round. The city fathers, with an eye to the tourist trade, promptly ordered a speed limit for the power boats.

Now the gondoliers want to stop the licensing of power boats.

Princess Anne On 'Secret Mission'

LONDON (AP)— Princess Anne —third in line of succession to the British throne — has gone to France on what a Buckingham Palace spokesman described as an educational visit.

She arrived in Paris this morning. Plans for her trip were kept secret and only a handful of people knew about it in advance.

Princess Anne will be 12 on Aug. 15.

The 1960 census counted 9.7 million foreign-born residents in the United States.

Accidental Firing Guarded Against

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has informed its European allies of the successful development of a new secret electronic lock which will be used to reinforce safeguards against the accidental or unauthorized firing of nuclear weapons.

President Kennedy is expected to ask Congress soon for an appropriation of funds to complete work on the device, start manufacture and begin installation in nuclear weapons.

The Allies were told through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was learned, that the new electronic lock will broaden the margin of safety in nuclear weapons control systems and strengthen the exercise of direct control over weapons by top commanders. U.S. officials said the development of increasingly secure control systems becomes more important as the number of weapons increases.

The locking device is already perfected for the larger nuclear weapons such as those warheads deployed in the European NATO area for use on medium range ballistic missiles. According to present plans the first operational use of the device will be in the forward missile deployment area.

The device is authoritatively described as an electro-mechanical system controlled by a radio signal to be sent from a command headquarters remote from the actual missile site.

In effect, the device in its normal position makes a break in the electrical circuit necessary to the firing of the nuclear warhead. It couldn't be fired until an authorized commander dispatched the necessary coded radio signal that would operate the device. The device itself would not do the firing but it would control the arming of the warhead. This is comparable to cocking a rifle in advance of firing it by pulling the trigger.

Associates said that like his predecessors in the White House, Kennedy has put heavy emphasis on the need to surround nuclear weapons with a variety of safeguards.

The degree of security with which weapons can be surrounded has been a source of concern to many governments—not only the United States and its Allies but also Soviet bloc and neutralist nations. In the long run U.S. officials believe that the employment of the electronic device as now contemplated will serve to reassure a number of nations about the extent of control which can be exercised over the weapons.

Another aspect of the device is particularly interesting to allied governments.

The possibility of arming a warhead only by a coded radio signal sent from supreme command headquarters could simplify the procedures involved in creating a NATO nuclear command system.

At present the United States stockpiles nuclear warheads at medium range ballistic missile sites in several allied countries, including Italy and Britain, and nuclear weapons of various kinds are available to American forces stationed in Western Europe.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY—All ye with problems might as well take your sufferings to the Plaza of Santa Domingo here. Where public scribes are engaged in impromptu business advising and mild forms of psychiatry. Also, they patch busted hearts by mail.

This dying industry dates back to the days of the Spanish visit, when economically unsound men of letters peddled their writing services to the unschooled. And now that everyone is learning to read and write, this enterprise is on the skids.

The typewriter pilots are making a last stand beneath the arcade on the western side of the plaza. There, they operate ancient writing mills, many of which look like relics left behind by the Spaniards when they departed at bayonet point.

And as they flail away at the keyboard, the scribes listen to the woes of the public.

A lad from a small village may want to write home. To let the folks know he is still around, in a manner of speaking. Also to remind that pesos are very scarce here is the city and some extra funds would do no harm.

Off to Santo Domingo he trots and selects himself a scribe. And the work is then done. For it is the duty of the type-jockey to put ideas on paper in an acceptable form. This he does by taking notes, gazing intently at the clouds and finally attacking the mill with great vigor.

Frinstance, a gallant calballero blushes at the thought of proposing to a widow lady so he consults a scribe. In this, the keyboard maestro must be a combination of Miss Ann Landers and Mr. Alf Tennyson. He may also pick up a nice piece of change for passing out a successful throbber.

Job hunting domestics often need fancy letters of recommendation, even though they have never worked before. For a sharp scribe, this is no real situation. He merely turns out a masterpiece by a former employer who has no telephone and whose address is much too remote and confusing for a personal check.

Besides performing on his writing contraption, the scribe must be a shrewd judge of economic conditions. This way he sets his fee. It may range from a few cents per letter for peons, to several pesos a page for persons who can stand the tariff.

The unpopular clients are those who take half an hour to hash over what is to be said. Then change their minds and walk off with free ideas. A little experience and they learn to post this type when he drops by. And scat him away for the cash customers.

Senor Benito Mendoza considers that in 20 years of scribing, he has struck about every situation in all fields. Explanations to government tax collectors, a complaint to a department store by an incensed lady who popped her new girdle and a rap to the weather observatory on behalf of a peasant farmer who delared it had not rained enough out in his direction.

Maestro Mendoza also recalls recalls with certain nostalgia the classic feud, by mail, between the popcorn vendor and his fiancee who sold turnips and other items in the market.

That exchange of notes went on ofr months. It helped pay the rent, got a down payment on a pegleg suit and some very zooty shoes. The maestro considers he might have made a lifetime career of this project if they had not caught on. For he was writing the letters for both sides.

It is my considered opinion that the public should patronize this worthy enterprise and prevent it from becoming scarce like the gooney birds. Education or not, it is of great service to all who are long on ideas but short on time and talent to put things down properly on paper.

For a mere peso or two, the public scribes will whip up a very professional job in a matter of minutes. I suspect that several of my news colleagues patronize these scribes, especially when a good feature with somebody's byline appears in print.

And mind you, I said I only SUSPECT this goes on. For I have never really seen any of my constituents at Santa Domingo. Especially, when I go there to get a job done.

Caroline Goes Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four-year-old Caroline Kennedy is going abroad next month.

Her mother, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, will take the child with her when she visits in Italy with her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, the White House announced Wednesday. John Jr., 19 months, will remain at home.

The precise date of the trip has not been set, said Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary. Nor is it known what parts of Italy Mrs. Kennedy will visit, Miss Turnure said.

Princess Radziwill, her husband and their two young children are already in Italy. Their home is in England.
