Secret Bases, Army Housing Are Included

Air Force, Army Construction Of $207 Million Set

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6 — The House is expected to okay today an Army-Air Force construction program to cost $207,000,000.

The building plans cover housing for uniformed personnel and their families here and abroad as well as defense projects. They include secret bases in Alaka and Newfoundland.

The program came to the House floor after nearly a year of delay and after it was pared by millions of dollars. House leaders agreed to the plans only after projects to cost $39,000,000 were lopped off.

Scores of bases, domestic and overseas, will be affected by the construction plans.

Little Debate Expected

Rep. George J. Bates, R., Mass., predicted the measure would be approved by the House with little debate. Bates is chairman of an armed services subcommittee that drafted the measure.

Bates said a companion bill to authorize a $209,000,000 Navy construction program may come up for a vote next week.

Both measures were approved by the Senate last year and okayed by the House armed services committee last July.

Chairman Leo E. Allen, R., Ill., of the House rules committee insisted that housing plans in both bills could be postponed. The rules committee declined to clear the bills for House debate.

Okayed This Week

The Army bill got a rules committee okay early this week after Bates said "all but projects of the highest priority" had been eliminated.

As it came to the House floor the Army bill would authorize construction in this country to cost $85,000,000, of which $54,000,000 would be spent for housing.

Projects outside the United States would cost $122,000,000, including $53,000,000 for housing.

Projects in the bill as it came to the floor included:

Continental United States

Alamogordo Army air field, N. M.: family quarters, rocket-firing facilities, utilities; $1,622,720.

Bergstrom field, Tex.: family quarters, utilities; $1,501,970.

Bond Set For Theft Suspect

Bond of $1,000 was set this morning by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, in binding Daniel D. Floyd, 30, alias Danny Floyd, over to grand jury investigation into a theft by bailee charge.

Floyd, of Lumberton, N. C., was returned to Lubbock Wednesday night by Sheriff Grady Harrist and Dep. Sheriff George Eubank from Lumberton, to conclude extradition proceedings.

He is charge with having violated a contract of borrowing a 1948 Hudson sedan from Charlie J. Biggs, by driving it away without paying for it. Date alleged was April 12.

Car Is Wrecked

The car, recovered at Lumberton, had been damaged $1,300 in value in a wreck, officials said they were informed. It original value they were told, approximated $2,600.

Floyd also was arraigned on a county court swindling by worthless check charge, and fined $5 and costs, it was announced.

Police arrested a 60-year-old man for investigation after complainants said he was brandishing a pistol. He had the weapon in his hotel room when arrested, they said.

LAW SAID NOT AIMED AT PRESS

News Leak Threat Will Be Cut Out

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6 — The threat of jail for newsmen who publish confidential information leaked to them by lawmakers faded today.

"It wasn't aimed at newsmen in the first place and I'll move to strike it out myself," Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) said of the controversial provision in a pending bill he is sponsoring.

The bill, designed to force executive agencies to give congressional committees requested data, would penalize any committee member, employe or "other individual" disclosing data held to be confidential.

Way Is Cleared

Hoffman's announcement that he would agree to removal of the "other individual" clause cleared the way for a House vote on the legislation next week.

Previously Speaker Martin (R-Mass) and Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana had told newsmen they would fight any proposal that threatened to invade the constitutional rights of the press.

Hoffman is chairman of the House expenditures committee, which drafted the legislation.

"The main and only purpose of the bill," he told newsmen, "is to compel executive agencies to give Congress the information it needs to do its work properly. We were so concerned that any confidential information received should be held in confidence that we wrote into the bill safeguards against leaks.

"There never was any intention to set up a committee censorship of what newsmen may write. The idea was to make it dangerous for committee members and committee employes to leak out information received in confidence."

Arab King Rejects Any General Truce

CAIRO, Egypt, May 6. (AP)—The newspaper Al Ahram quoted King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan today as saying:

"I reject any general truce in Palestine because it means outright submission to Zionist demands.

"I don't want to cheat my people. It is a matter of dignity and honor for all Arabs.

"I am still maintaining my first stand—to enter Palestine with my troops after May 15."

The paper quoted the King in connection with a report it published that the United States has proposed a general truce in Palestine and extension of the British mandatee for 10 days after May 15.

Light Damage Is Caused By Hail, Winds

Mass Of Cool Air Brings Rain Over Sections Of State

(By The Associated Press)

A blusterious spring cold wave tumbled temperatures down to the freezing mark in the northern Panhandle and swept squall-like thundershowers across much of Texas today.

Dalhart, in the upper Panhandle, recorded a low of 32 degrees this morning. Fresh winds out of the north, the weather bureau said, probably prevented frost from forming.

No Serious Losses

A number of points from Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells on down to the Gulf reported hail and wind damage, but no serious property loss or casualties was indicated.

Thirsty croplands in the eastern half of Texas received needed precipitation. Most of the western half continued dry with the situation described as critical in some areas.

A one-inch rain over Harris county today broke a dry spell that the county agent and farmers had said bordered on the critical point.

An electrical storm put two radio stations at Baytown out of of commission and disrupted telephone service for an hour.

Fence Is Flattened

One hundred feet of the fence at the Texarkana ball park was flattened by a strong wind. In young county, windows of South Bend residents were shattered and limbs torn from trees.

A wind that reached 70 miles an hour in gusts blew an estimated 100 trees into streets at Dallas last night.

Baseball games were called off last night at Paris, Waco, Marshall, Texarkana and Henderson, and hail resulted in some damage to field crops.

Nacogdoches reported 1.41 inches of rain and Austin listed 1.27 inches as the coll air mass pushed the squall line southeastward

Veterans Face Delay On Cash

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — Veteran trainees will have to wait until July or August for their pay increase approved by President Truman.

A Veterans administration spokesman said it will take that long to work out the complicated adjustments resulting from the higher ceilings Congress authorized.

The new pay scales, retroactive to April 1, cover veterans taking on-the-job training under the "GI Bill of Rights." They apply also to those full-time school and college students who have jobs on the side.

Higher Ceilings Set

The higher ceilings include the combined monthly wages and government subsidies allowances as follows: veterans without dependents, $10; veterans wtih one dependent, $270; veterans with more than one dependent, $290.

Veterans taking full time training will receive the same subsistence allowance as before — $65 for those with no dependents, and $90 for those with one or more.

Those taking combination educational and training courses will get increased allowances as follows: $75 if no dependents; $105 for one dependent, and $120 if more than one dependent.

Hopes For Strike Settlement Fade

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—Hopes faded today for an early settlement of the nationwide meat strike, now in its eighth week.

The government's latest efforts to end the walkout of some 100,000 CIO packinghouse workers broke off yesterday with no indications the union and the four major packers were close to an agreement on their wage dispute.

Both sides apparently are standing pat in their controversy over wages. The union refused a nine cents an hour raise. The major packers—Cudahy, Swift, Armour and Wilson—refused to boost the amount. The union had asked a hike of 29 cents.

House Leaders Split Sharply With Taft In Row On Housing

Defiant "Not Interested" Is Snapped At Senate-Passed Stop-Gap Insurance Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6—The House Republican leadership split sharply today with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in an angry row over housing.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) of the House banking committee snapped a defiant "not interested" at the Senate-passed stopgap bill to revive the government's "title 6" home loan insurance program until June 30.

Wolcott opened a deep grace for the bill when he made it clear he spoke for other House GOP leaders in telling a reporter:

"The Senate was informed last week that the House is not interested in a short term continuance. The House banking committee has not scheduled any hearings on the Senate's 60-day extension bill and it does not anticipate any."

Wolcott's plain brush-off brough into the open the long-smouldering housing dispute between a Senate group led by Taft and a House group headed by Wolcott. Taft is chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

The main issue of the scrap is the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long-lange housing bill designed to spur the construction of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958. The Senate passed the bill two weeks ago. Wolcott's committee is holding

POLICE STATE METHODS CHARGED

Bill To Curb Reds Called Dangerous

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6 — A House bill to curb Communism was denounced as both "dangerous and futile" today by Americans for Democratic Action, an anti-Communist organization.

Eight of ADA's top officers, including former OPA Boss Leon Henderson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., issued a statement asking the House to defeat the measure.

Push Reds Underground

They said its threat of drastic fines and penalties against Communists would only push the Reds underground and drive "well-meaning citizens from virtually every kind of progressive activity" for fear of being clasesd as members of a Communist "front."

They issued the statement as the House rules committee opened hearings on the bill. Rep. Karl E. Mundt, R., S. D., author of the measure, predicted the committee would speed it to the House floor.

"I expect the committee to clear the way to start floor debate a week from tomorrow," Mundt said. "That should make it possible to approve the bill and send it to the Senate early the next week."

Reps. Vito Marcantonio and Leo Isacson, American-Labor party congressmen from New York, said they will oppose the bill before the rules committee. They contend the bill is unconstitutional and smacks of police state methods.

The bill would require the penalties.

Communist party and its front outfits to register annually with the Justice department. It also would force party leaders to renounce any ties with Moscow or face stiff

In addition, Communists would be barred from the federal payroll and the right to seek or use passports. The party would be required to label any material sent through the mail and to identify its radio broadcasts.

The bill was approved by the House un-American activities committee last week. Henderson and his ADA colleagues said they oppose Communism as strongly as they resist Fascism but that the sweeping nature of the bill endangers the rights of loyal Americans.

Mrs. A. H. Collins, about 25, died in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital. Her children, Wayne, three; Heweldine, 18 months; and a two-week-old boy, died in the flames. Two older children were playing in the yard at the time of the blaze and escaped injury.

Causes, Not Effect, Should Be Fought

Family Conference Hears Plea To Improve U.S. Divorce Laws

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The national conference on family life heard a plea today not to war on divorce but to improve it.

That recommendation came from the American Bar association.

Judge Paul W. Alexander, Toledo domestic relations and juvenile delinquency expert, presented the bar group's report to the conference which is considering the many complex factors affecting American home life.

The ABA report said that in divorce cases "the spouses often act like juvenile delinquents and for much the same reasons." It recommended that "instead of attacking the effect, it would be better to attack te manifold causes that lead up to the effect."

For a fresh approach to the problem, the bar report proposed setting up:

1. A presidential commission to re-examine divorce and marriage laws with the aim of uniformity.

2. Family and juvenile courts staffed by psychiatrists, psychologists, marriage counselors

Young Boy Is Modest Hero

LYNN, Mass., May 6. (U.P.)—Fourteen-year-old Arthur Dalton, jr., cracked a freckle-faced grin today and said he wished folks would stop calling him a hero.

Heavy Damage Is Caused In Several Areas

Oklahomans Thankful To Escape Death In High Winds

(By The Associated Press)

Scores of thankful Oklahomans picked up debris around their wrecked homes today—thankful that the death wind of the great plains spared life and limb last night.

One tornado of moderate size lashed the tiny community of Blocker, ripping up four houses and a church and damaging every one of the other 16 homes there.

In Okemah, merchants and warehousemen were the heavy sufferers when a violent windstorm of near-tornado intensity did even greater damage to the larger center.

Other towns in a north-south line from Kansas to Texas were raked and harried by squalls that beat at them from black thunderheads spotting the eastern part of the state.

Thunder, lightning, rain and driving hail harrassed the homeless, but there were no deaths and only the slightest of injuries.

Bartlesville, Paolia, Asher, Eufaula, Castle, Pauls Valley, Sapulpa, Drumright and Ardmore all reported the storm, mostly with rain and hail driven before high winds.

Senate Okays Cash To Start Air Expansion

Immediate Start On A 70-Group Force Ordered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Funds for an immediate start on building a 70-group combat Air Force won overwhelming Senate approval today.

The senators passed $3,233,200,000 money bill as part of a program to increase military air power.

The measure now goes back to the House for action on several Senate amendments. That house previously had voted 343-3 to expand the Air Forces and the Navy's air arm.

Russia Singled Out

Senate action came after Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the appropriation committee singled out Soviet Russia as "our only possible opponent."

He said Russia now is expanding and modernizing the Soviet air forces and may have the atomic bomb secret in the next few years.

"By out action on this bill, we will help to determine what weapons this country shall have at its disposal in the period 1951 to 1958," Bridges told the Senate. "We are warned it is in that period Russia may have erased the great military advantage which we now hold by virtue of our exclusive possession of the atomic bomb."

Funds For Air Arms

The bill contains funds for both the Air Forces and the air arms of the Navy and Marines. The only dispute is over an $822,000,000 item which Secretary of Defense Forrestal neither asked nor wanted.

Forrestal and President Truman originally asked Congress to vote an expansion of air, land and sea forces, a temporary draft and a

Union Leaders Are To Confer With Steelman

Action To Avert Walkout May 11 Will Be Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6 — The White House today called a conference of railroad brotherhood chiefs for tomorrow to try to head off the threatened railroad strike.

Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential assistant and labor expert, telephoned the heads of three unions which have called a strike for next Tuesday. He asked them to meet with him at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Refuses To Elaborate

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who made the announcement, was asked if any definite proposal would be presented to the brotherhood leaders.

"I can't say any more than I have," Ross replied.

The brotherhood leaders are Alvanley Johnston of the locomotive engineers, David B. Robertson of the locomotive firemen and enginemen, and A. J. Glover of the switchmen's union.

Action Not Discussed

White House aides would not discuss what possible action might be taken if Steelman cannot persuade the parties to reach an agreement.

They turned aside such questions as whether Mr. Truman will talk personally with the disputants, whether the union leaders might be asked to postpone the strike date, or whether the government might seize the railroads.

A plea by President Truman for the railroad owners and the unions to settle their wage dispute without a crippling nationwide walkout is known to be under study.

Only As Last Resort

But those close to the chief executive are prepared to recommend it only if they feel there is a definite possibility that the quarreling parties will heed the appeal.

The 190,000 members of three railroad brotherhoods are set to walk out at 6 a. m. May 11. They are the locomotive engineers, firemen and enginemen, and switchmen. Together they could halt operations on the nation's major rail lines because they run the locomotives and control the switches.

Could Seize Lines

As a last resort, the President might order seizure of the railroads under a World war 1 emergency act which has never been repealed in full. Other presidential authority to take over properties involved in labor disputes was wiped out a year ago by Congress.

Embargoes By Railways Set

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—The nation's railroads today began posting lay-off notices in preparation for Tuesday's strike. Some roads announced embargoes as union leaders were summoned to Washington for a new attempt to settle the dispute.

The strike is slated for 6 a. m. Tuesday by members of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Must Give Notice

Under their contracts the individual roads are required to give anywhere from five days to 48 hours notice of impending layoffs. Rail spokesmen said "abolition" of jobs spoken of in some announcements was merely a legal way of saying "layoff."

Meantime the roads began other preparations for the strike through embargoing food and animal shipments. This is being done both to avoid damage claims and to prevent jamming of terminal yards.

The Pennsylvania announced it would shut down its entire system and not attempt to operate trains, but the Illinois Central said it would "try to maintain operations as normally as possible." The Louisville and Nashville, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, the Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis-San Francisco, placed their embargo for Friday.

The Southern railroad made its ban effective at 12:01 a. m. Saturday. The Association of American Railroads said no general embargo action is planned, since such steps are up to the individual roads.

Texas Crime Figures Revealed By Sociologist, Tech Graduate

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Dr. R. C. Koeninger, sociologist at Sam Houston State college, Huntsville, says one-third of all criminals convicted in Texas in the last 11 years have come from only five of the state's 254 counties.

The counties: Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant and El Paso.

With the cooperation of prison officials, Koeninger made a study of prison records over the 11-year period, 1937 to 1947 inclusive.

His conclusion:

"The slight increase in crime now prevalent corresponds to the slight increase in the movement of rural population to the cities."

City Rates Higher

The average number of criminal convictions per county for each 1,000 population over the 11-year period is 3.39

The big city counties have higher rates. Tarrant county (Fort Worth) has 4.84 convictions per 1,000 population; Bexar (San Antonio) has 4.38; Harris, (Houston), 5.83; Dallas, 4.85.

Harris county leads the state in convictions during the 11 years with 3,087. But then Harris county has the biggest population in the state.

El Paso has a high percentage of convictions . . . 8.78. The number of convictions also was high, about 1,100, Koeninger estimated off-hand.

Texas Tech Graduate

The sociologist, a 150-pound man of 40 with brown hair and brown eyes, a native of Plainview, Tex., and a graduate of Texas Tech, told us that the four worst counties in the state in percentage of criminal convictions are Dallam, on the Oklahoma-New Mexico border, and El Paso, Hudspeth and Culberson on the Mexico and New Mexico borders.

Culberson has the worst rate of all, 16.93 convictions per 1,000 population.

We asked Koeninger why the four West Texas counties should have such high rates of crime.

"I can think of several possible reasons," he replied. "First, the sparse populations of these counties makes a high percentage rate more easily possible. Second, you have the heritage of lawlessness in the west—that may have something to do with it. Third, the counties are in mountainous territory, and you find plenty of rugged individualists in such areas. Fourth, there is a big migratory element in the region. Fifth, the prospect of good hiding places could lead men to crime. A criminal in those four counties could consider getting away across the Mexican border or hiding in the mountains."

Here is a rather amazing fact. Koeninger found that three Texas counties had had no convictions at all in 11 years. They are: Kenedy and McMullen, in South Texas, and Loving, in West Texas.

Treatment Of Tuberculosis By Streptomycin Will Save Money

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 6. (U.P.) — A new trend in the use of steptomycin for the treatment of tuberculosis was disclosed today—a development that should save money for the patient and help him to prevent resistance to the drug.

The trend is indicated in a tentative recommendation by a group of medical experts to cut down sharply on the period of time during which stretomycin is administered.

Some Relapse

In some instances it has been given over a period of 10 days. Many patients have developed resistance to the drug during such a period of time and those suffering relapses found the drug to have no effect on the new crop of tuberculosis germs.

The medical group, known as the chemotherapy committee of the American Trudeau society, has sent its recommendations to six big pharmaceutical houses that make streptomycin.

For three types of the disease—military, tuberculous meningitis and acute tuberculous pneumonia—the group still recommends a long period of time, and the use of comparatively large doses per day.

The three types, before streptomycin — about $3.50 a gram. In days gone by, streptomycin cost about $6 a gram and it was given at a rate of three grams a day, making the cost run to more than $2,000 in some cases.

While the "ideal" drug has not yet been found, streptomycin has saved the lives of many thousands of persons, a spokesman for the group said. This is particularly true in the cases of those patients who need surgery. Without streptomycin to prevent spread of the disease surgery would have been useless, he said.

Private Plane Said Missing

SHANNON AIRPORT, Eire, May 6 (AP)—Planes began a search of the North Atlantic today for a missing C-47 transport plane more than 24 hours overdue.

The privately-owned craft was on a flight from Gander, Newfoundland, to Shannon. It is owned by the Superior Oil company and reportedly carried fuel sufficient to last only until yesterday afternoon.

The British ministry of civil aviation said it carried three crew members, but Shannon airport officials said it carried only two and no passengers.

Reports from Halifax, N. S., said the Royal Canadian Air force sent out a force of planes this morning. On this side of the ocean ships were alerted on the possibility the crew members may still be alive and afloat.

Airways control officials here said the plane carried a rubber raft and a good stock of food. They said there is a chance the crew members might be picked up by a passing ship.

Gopher Snake Blocks Hollywood Traffic

HOLLYWOOD, May 6. (AP)—A gopher snake held up traffic at a busy Hollywood intersection. Horns were tooting and tempers were mounting as a police officer arrived to get the situation in hand.

He found that some motorists were snaking it around left end, as it were, avoiding the cars that were blockaded by the squeamish drivers who waited for the snake to gophersnake it across the thoroughfare.

"We've got to curb this sort of thing," Officer E. W. Christensen said bruesquely, as he swept the snake toward the sidewalk.

Perfect pie crust in 5 minutes!
with new "Pastry-Blend"
ARMOUR LARD

First new pie crust recipe in years! You don't use ice water. You don't use boiling water. Mixing ingredients at room temperature makes the difference! Quicker-blending, better-keeping "Pastry-Blend" makes it possible! For "Pastry-Blend" is pure lard in Armour's new, exclusive formula that keeps without refrigeration. Easy as 1, 2, 3.

1 "Pastry-Blend" Lard makes the flaver rich! Measure 2 cups all-purpose flour without sifting. Sift with 1 tsp. salt. Add ⅔ cup new "Pastry-Blend" Armour Star Lard that you have kept at room temperature. Remember, "Pastry-Blend" Lard keeps its mild, delicate flavor, always. It gives the rich taste to your pie crust!

2 Light handling makes it flaky! Blend mixture with pastry blender, 2 knives or your fingers. Here's where "Pastry-Blend" goes to work for you! It blends with flour like lightning. And, less handling means flakier crust. Stop mixing when the lard is cut into pieces the size of small peas. It won't be long!

3 Scant water makes it tender! Add only 4 tbsp. water (room temperature). Sprinkle over flour mixture—pressing mixture with knife until it just holds together. The smaller amount of water you use with "Pastry-Blend" gives you more tender crust. Divide mixture into 2 portions. Roll out on pastry canvas or lightly-floured board. Makes one 9-in. double crust pie. Bake apple (or any fruit) pie at 450° F. for 10 min., then at 360° F. for 30 or 40 min.

"Pastry-Blend" Lard comes in 1-lb., 3-lb., 4-lb., and economy-size 8-lb. cartons.

Scientist Thinks Divine Power Directs Footsteps Of Mankind

Dr Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology and one of the foremost physicists of the world, presented the final lecture of his current series in Lubbock last night in the recreation hall before a gathering of approximately 150 persons.

Taking his subject from the words of William Shakespeare, Dr. Millikan spoke on "There Is A Divinity Which Shapes Our Ends,' indicating that at various points in each of our lives there is a superior power which turns our footsteps into the paths of endeavor for which we were destined.

Own Experiences Cited

Using his own life as an example, he pointed out various crossroads of his life at which this power, which he termed "my fairy," forced him to take steps which eventually led him into the field of scientific research on a higher level than he might otherwise have attained.

Having lived an athletic life in the small midwestern town where he grew up, he earned his way during his first years at college by working as student director of the gymnasium and tutoring physics on the side. Later, against his better judgment as to his abilities in the field, he was prevailed upon by one of the college professors to teach a course in elementary physics, a position which brought the first realization that he definitely liked the subject.

Fellowship Was Secured

Through efforts other than his own, he secured a fellowship of physics at Columbia university in 1893, only to lose it the following year. Losing the fellowship caused him to go to the University of Chicago for a summer quarter, where he met Professor A. A. Michael who attempted to influence young Millikan to go to Germany to study.

Going back to Columbia, he finished his schooling there and received his doctor's degree. He wanted to get a position teaching physics, he said, but his "fairy" refused to provide a job. "Had I secured the employment I sought at that time, I would probably have been content to remain for life in the backwash of true scientific progress," he stated.

Studied In Germany

Faced with idleness, Dr. Millikan decided to take Michael's advice, so he borrowed money and went to Germany for three semesters of post-gradute work. "The loss of the Columbia fellowship in 1894, my inability to get a job in 1895, and the subsequent trip to Germany undoubtedly changed the whole course of my life," Dr. Millikan said. For during his study in Germany, he was thrown into contact with some of the scientific giants of the 20th century at a time when the discovery of the x-ray, the advancement of the theory of radio activity and other discoveries were reshaping the entire course of physical science.

His intimate contact with the great scientific minds of that day was largely responsibile, he believes, for his entering the field of physical research after his return to the United States.

Dr. Millikan pointed out a number of situations during the last war in which, he believes, a greater power than man turned the tide in favor of the right-thinking forces of the world. He mentioned several specific instances, including the battle of Dunkirk, the battle of Britain, the turning of the German tide in North Africa, the battle of Stalingrad, and others.

"Just how we fit into the plans of the Great Architect is not known," he said, "but wise men of all ages have seen enough to be at least reverent."

Since the birth of conscience in man, brought about far back in the evolutionary history of the human race, "it has been our sense of responsibility for playing our parts to the best of our abilities that makes us Godlike," he concluded.

Baylor Teachers Are Supporting Wallace

WACO, May 6 (AP)—Dr. W. R. White, Baylor university president, today had disclaimed school responsibility for the Progressive party activities of two faculty members.

Dr. White said yesterday:

"First, the Baylor university administration knew nothing of this until it appeared in the press.

"Second, these individuals in no way represent Baylor university or its point of view, but speak for themselves only so far as the university is concerned.

"Third, Baylor university stands unswervingly for those great constitutional principals that have made her glorious and our country great."

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Weary Grandmother Urging Daughter To Claim Son Born Out Of Wedlock Four Years Ago

DEAR Mary Haworth: Wayne and I have been married 18 months. He is 27, a former veteran, and I am 18 years old. We have our own six-room house and are making progress in buying furniture.

My husband and I are very happy, but I am afraid I made a serious mistake in not telling him about my little son, who was born when I was 14 years old.

Only my parents and an older brother know that Benny is my child; because my mother claimed him as her own, due to the fact that I was so young (and unmarried) at the time. Benny is now three and a half years old and knows only his grandmother as his mother; and she has been very good to him.

However, for financial reasons, as she has five children of her own to support, my mother wants me to take Benny, and rear him now. I can't think of anything I'd rather do, as I love him dearly and sincerely; craveto be his "mother" instead of his "sister."

If I know Wayne would find it difficult to forgive my long silence. And how could I explain to Benny and others how I had suddenly become his mother?

Please help me, as I am very confused and unhappy. E. B.

PROBLEM BEARS THINKING ABOUT

DEAR E. B.: The serious questions you pose certain should be taken into consideration by your mother in process of trying to work out a constructive program of care for Benny that will also be fair to her.

If she thinks she would be justified in buckpassing the whole problem to you at this point, on the theory that you started it and it's yours to "pay" for, now that you're grown and married, she's wrong.

All of you must bear in mind that you were a child yourself, by civilized social reckoning, when Benny was born; and thus, on the one hand, it was your parents' responsibility (in which they failed) to shield you from the sort of companionship which brought such consequences; and on the other hand, it was their duty to "save" the situation as best they could, with decent devotion to your welfare and Benny's after the problem was developed.

CHANCE FOR MAN TO SHOW GREATNESS

IT SEEMS they sensed these basic truths at the time, by instinct rather than reasoning, probably, with feelings sensitized by panic and self-reproach. In any event, they chose a good course — the best and kindliest possible in the circumstances. But if they abruptly abandon it now, without concern to help you prepare a sure footing before going ahead, they might just as well have thrown you and Benny to the wolves at his birth.

Now about Wayne. He is 27, a former veteran, which suggests that in terms of experience he is a mature man who has seen the good and bad in human nature, knows the difference between naivete and viciousness, and perhaps has a fund of understanding that you don't give him credit for,—thus would see your mistake in better, more charitable perspective than you've been able to.

For advice: Trust him. Show him this discussion and tell him the truth. It affords him a chance to do a great work in a cruel world; and given his loyal dealership and help, you can work out a permanently good solution for Benny. If Wayne is the man I hope he is, he will take Benny to his heart as a son and, in due time, legally adopt him, after which you can style yourself "mother" on a legal basis. The constructive explanation (to friends and kin) for taking Benny is that your mother needs relief from other family burdens.

President Of Denton Teachers College Submits Resignation

By O. B. LLOYD, JR.
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 6.—Dr. W. J. McConnell, president of North Texas State Teachers college at Denton, today submitted his resignation to the board of regents of state teachers colleges.

The announcement was made by Judge William L. Kerr, Midland, chairman of the board.

Kerr said "the resignation was so unexpected that the board took no action except to express their sincere admiration and respect of Dr. McConnell and his work as an educator."

In his statement to the board, McConnell told them that he had planned for many years to retire at 65, an age he recently reached.

He was asked by a regent if he had any suggestions as to a successor.

No Recommendation

"No," McConnell answered. "I am recommending no individual."

However, he told the regents, "the standing of the college among the institutions of higher education of the nation and the unusual strength of its faculty demand: A man with no less than the earned doctor's degree from a ranking university or college, one with a proper balance of youth and maturity, one with a sympathetic understanding of the ideals and traditions of the people of Texas, and one possessed of a sound knowledge of the problems of teachers' education."

McConnell joined the staff of North Texas State Teachers college as a teacher of mathematics in 1916.

That was three years following his graduation from that institution.

He became head of the department of economics in 1919, associate dean in 1922, dean of the college in 1923, and was elected president upon the death of Dr. R. L. Marquis in 1934.

Held Many Posts

He was the fourth president of the institution. During his career as an educator he has served as president of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, president of the Texas Association of Colleges and as a member of the executive committee of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

At the time McConnell took the presidency, there were 1,701 students at NTSTC. There are now 5,246.

Selection of a successor, Kerr said, is a matter which the board will have to give "long and serious consideration.

The announcement of McConnell's resignation followed the injection into the board meeting of the thistle-sharp civic question of whether NTSTC should pay the city of Denton for water now furnished free.

The controversial question was raised by Dr. McConnell.

Closed Meeting

After 10 minutes discussion, which indicated sharp division of opinion by board members, the board went into executive session and asked that the press and visitors leave the room.

In his short discussion, McConnell told board members that in 1899 the city of Denton became party to a contract with the state under which it agreed to furnish the college free water.

At that time it had less than 200 students. Today it has an enrollment of 5,246.

McConnell said that the city officials have been insistent that the college now pay for the water being used.

McConnell, in answer to a question, said present cost to the city was about $1,500 a month.

City Legally Bound

He said that the college is paying for water being used in dormitories. It is not paying for other water.

McConnell said that an opinion by State Attorney General Price Daniel held that the city of Denton was legally bound by the contract of 1899 to provide free water and that the college could not legally pay for the water.

Walter Woodul, Houston, former lieutenant governor, caustically remarked, if they (city of Denton) "were so happy to have a couple of hundred students that they would give free water, they should be even happier with 5,000."

Kerr said the water controversy had no connection with McConnell's resignation.

The board adjourned shortly after 12 o'clock.

They were scheduled to reconvene at 1:30 p. m. for consideration of what Kerr termed "minor routine business."

Advocate Of Birth Control Sees Famine

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. (INS) — Margaret Sanger, noted birth control authority, declared today that if the world's population continues to increase as it is at present it will soon be impossible to feed everyone.

Mrs. Sanger, in San Francisco as the guest of the planned parenthood committee, cited research of the Department of Agriculture to back up her startling statement.

She said the research shows clearly that a definite amount of land is necessary to provide food for a given number of people.

For example, she said, the research shows that it requires 100 acres of good soil to provide sufficient meat for nine persons daily, and another 100 acres to provide 40 children with their daily supply of milk.

Mrs. Sanger urged extensive research in birth control as a means of avoiding overpopulation and the sociological problems related to it.

At an international conference on population and world resources to be held in England in August, Mrs. Sanger will be allowed one day on the program to discuss the need for birth control research.

She said Sweden is far ahead of the rest of the world in birth control education, and that Germany, Italy and Japan are "in dire need" of such education.

Commissions To Meet Jointly

AUSTIN, Tex., May 6 (AP) — Oil regulatory bodies of Texas and New Mexico will meet May 27 to determine production and drilling for an oil pool underlying both states.

A Texas Railroad commission source said this will be the first joint session ever held by the two agencies.

The area involved in Texas is known as the Scarborough and North Scarborough fields in Winkler county. It is the Rhodes field, Lee county, in New Mexico.

To Meet In Santa Fe

The meeting with New Mexico's Oil Conservation commission will be held at Santa Fe, the Texas Railroad commission announced today.

Determination that production in the two states was coming from the same pool was made March 10 at a hearing on the application of the Ohio Oil company for a new field designation and field rules to govern operations on its Scarborough estate lease.

Hearings were also scheduled today by the commission on applications for discovery allowable rights in several areas.

On June 23, the commission will consider the application of the General American Oil company for discovery allowable and new field designation for its A. F. Byrd well No. 1, Hale county.

Hearings Set

June 25 it will hear testimony pertaining to separate field designation for wells completed in the Gardiner-Wariner sand and Juan sand formations, Stratton and Agua Dulce fields, Nueces county.

June 30, it will consider the application of the Humble Oil and Refining company for a discovery allowable for its Flour Bluff state "P" well No. 1, Flour Bluff field, Nueces county.

Crew Cut Is Errol Flynn's New Look

HOLLYWOOD, May 6. (INS)—Errol Flynn and his wife, Nora Eddington, were to fly to New York tonight for an extended visit to Gotham.

Flynn, wearing a "new Look" as a result of his first haircut in 15 months, planned to attend eight Broadway plays.

It will be Mrs. Flynn's first trip to New York.

The couple plans to fly to Denver on May 18 for the world premiere of his latest film, "Silver River."

The actor, running his fingers through his crew haircut, explained:

"I didn't have a haircut through the filming of "Silver River" and 'Adventures of Don Juan.' I finally got shorn today—and I feel practically naked!"

BEFORE TAKING RETONGA SHE WOULD HARDLY EAT FOR WEEKS AT A TIME

"I Have A Hearty Appetite Now And Relish My Food," Declares Texan. Retonga Promptly Relieved Distress From Sour Stomach, Restlessness, And Weakened Feeling.

MRS. FANNIE WORTHAM

"Suffering the tortures and distress I did for several years, it is no wonder that I am so grateful for Retonga and the grand relief it brought me," happily states Mrs. Fannie Wortham, life-long resident of Mount Calm and Hill County, Texas, who gratefully continues:

"My appetite was so poor I would go for weeks at a time without eating hardly a bite. Food seemed to turn sour and fill my stomach with gas until the distress was almost unbearable. Many times at night I would have to sit up in bed to get my breath. I lost weight and felt so worn-out I didn't seem to have enough strength to do my housework. It looked like I would have to take strong laxatives the rest of my life and aches and pains seemed to be in every muscle in my body.

"I am so grateful for the grand relief that Retonga brought to me. I have a hearty appetite now, no longer suffer distress from sour stomach, those awful aches and pains in my body have let up, and I no longer take strong laxatives. I know what a good night's sleep means and I feel like my real self again. No one can be more thankful for Retonga than I am."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores. Adv.

'Two Worlds' May Be Only Path Open To Avoid World War Now

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Is there any possibility of cooperation between Russia and the democracies—within the United Nations or outside it?

That's the big question of the day, and yet it's one which a lot of peace-loving folk are trying to duck. They're attempting to evade the issue because they can't figure out the answer which they so deeply desire, namely "yes."

However, British Foreign Secretary Bevin, whose bluntness sometimes carries him close to indiscretion, has given a categorical answer to the House of Commons. Without trying to balance the feather on his nose, Bevin declared that so long as Russian policy aims at spreading the Communist ideology there is little chance of reaching a lasting settlement.

Turmoil Will Continue

"As long as this continues," said Bevin, "the world will be kept in turmoil, because the characteristics, the philosophy and the conception of life of the rest of the world will not permit us to indulge in compromises which are intended to achieve the objectives of Communism."

That strikes me as being correct, and it's the fundamental fact with which we have to deal.

There can be no real cooperation so long as the Communist general staff for world revolution, with headquarters in Belgrade, continues to spread the Red Ism by intrigue and force in unwilling countries—Czechoslovakia and Poland, for example. As a matter of fact there is nothing new in this situation. It has existed ever since the Bolshevist revolution of 1917 when the Soviet government was established.

It was because of Bolshevist efforts to communize the United States that we didn't recognize the Soviet Union until 1933, and then only after promises that Red propaganda would cease. Britain waged a continuous battle against Communist spies and fifth columnists after recognizing Moscow in 1921. London broke diplomatic relations with Russia in 1927 and didn't resume them until 1929.

So the only change there is in the situation is that the Muscovites have intensified their world revolution to the point of waging a "cold war" which is dangerously close to a hot one.

Obviously there is no possibility of friendly relations so long as that continues. Unless we are rash enough to believe that the leopard will change its spots, the best we can hope for is to halt the Bolshevist revolution where it now is. As this column has pointed out before, that would mean the division of our unhappy globe into "two worlds"—Bolshevist and Democratic.

However, it would be possible for these two blocs to live side by side without going to war, so long as the Bolshevists confined their efforts to consolidation of the already great gains achieved by aggression. The Democracies aren't going to war over what Communism already has absorbed; they might fight over another "rape of Czechoslovakia."

All this being so, the course of wisdom would seem to be to recognize the existence of the two blocs and frame our policies accordingly. Time is a great magician. It might alter the complexion of the Russian program for world revolution. Indeed there are many who think it might bring about a revulsion against Communism within those countries which now are enslaved.

Be that as it may, realistic acceptance of the facts is the only safe course to pursue.

Circus Performer Is Injured In Fall

NEW YORK, May 6. (AP)—A circus girl aerialist suffered back injuries in a 25-foot drop from a whirling ladder as a matinee crowd looked on at Madison Square garden yesterday.

The girl was Jeannie Rockwell, 22, of Bellmore, N. Y. She slipped from a revolving ladder and plunged to the arena floor during the Monte Carlo ballet number of the Ringling Brother and Barunm & Bailey circus. Some 14,000 spectators saw her fall.

Hospital attaches said later that the ballerina suffered shock, dislocated vertebrae and sprained back muscles.

Quick Aid To China Sought

BOSTON, May 6 (AP) — U. S Rep. Judd (R-Minn) says the United States should give moral, military, and economic assistance to the Chinese government in its battle against Communism.

The former medical missionary to China said he has doubts a European recovery program can succeed "if Russia gets control of China—which means Asia — as Russia will if we don't help effectively at once."

Speaking at the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist church last night, Judd said:

"The Communists cannot be checked without American moral, military and economic assistance for the Chinese government.

Forthright Statement

"By moral I mean a forthright statement of our support of the Chinese government in its struggle against attempts of the Communists to destroy. it . . . By military I mean munitions—mostly surplus and at little or no cost to us, and an expanded program of giving military training and advice to Chinese forces at all levels."

If the Communists gain control of China, he added, Russia will have satellites and security along her Asiatic frontiers and will then be able to "aggressively concentrate all her attention and efforts on Europe in her announced purpose of defeating recovery 'here.'"

He said that peace "cannot be preserved by appeasement of aggression." Unless aid is given to China quickly, he added, "it will be tragically too little and too late. It is already more than two years too late."

Robert Cummings Is One Of Most Ambitious Actor-Producers, With Several Films Set

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 6. (AP)—Robert Cummings, one of the most ambitious of the star-producers, announces plans for the filming of an advanture drama in the Amazon jungle.

Cummings and Eugene Frenke, who head United California productions, expect to start "Poisonous Paradise" next month near Belem, Brazil. Taken from the South American novel, "Jungle," the movie will be shot almost entirely in a six-week location in the Amazon basin. The company will fly a full crew and cast to Brazil and Cummings plans to join them after he finishes "The Accused." He won't appear in the jungle drama.

Other Ideas

Bob has other far-sighted ideas for his company. Of the seven films on the production slate, three are scheduled for filming abroad (in Brazil, France and Sweden).

Red Skelton's proposed summer tour of the nation has been erased by MGM, which has other plans ("Neptune's Daughter") for him. "And I haven't been out of this town since I got out of the Army," moans Red. The comic, who expects another child momentarily, will move his family into a Bel-Air home.

Edward Arnold tells me "this curse has been taken off" his congressman role in "Command Decision." The solon was treated severely in the stage version, but the film will show him in a more favorable light. The movie industry is having enough trouble in Washington these days without asking for more.

Joan Leslie says she'll continue her legal fight against her Warners contract, even though she suffered a setback in the state supreme court. She says she'll take the case to the U. S. Supreme court. By that time, she may be playing character parts.

Mary Martin is nothing short of terrific in "Annie Get Your Gun," which opened the civic light opera season. Producers Rodgers and Hammerstein and composer Irving Berlin were in the first night audience to watch her triumph. Next week "Oklahoma!" arrives and these two may help lift the lagging L. A. Legit season.

Fit Men Will Be Freed From Housekeeping Duties In Services, Legion Leader Claims

INDIANAPOLIS, May 6. (AP)—The American Legion had the word of its national security commission chairman today that armed forces should release all fit men from housekeeping duties and put them into combat training

"Civilians can do the Army's KP chores and all other non-combatant work," Perry Brown, of Beaumont, Tex., told the Legion's executive committee. "We're going to need fighters, and the sources from which we have to get them just are not producing them. The manpower pool is disastrously low."

Manpower Pool Low

Brown said the nation's pool of manpower in the 18-25 age group available for military service has dwindled to 1,300,000. He said he was given the information in Washington last week and had authority from "high Washington sources" to make it public.

"The situation shows that actually in terms of last-ditch fighting manpower we have less than 5,000,000 World War II veterans standing as the last bulwark between our national security and national disaster in event of any emergency," Brown said.

He presented a breakdown showing more than 9½ million men in the 18-25 group. He listed more than five million veterans, more than 1½ million physically unfit, and the rest—except for the available 1,300,000—in the armed forces, National Guard or reserves, or deferred.

DENVER, May 6 (AP) — A new hazard has been added to Willis Case golf course-gophers.

Bob Rounds stepped in a gopher hole on the fairway at the eighth hole. The gopher charged out and bit Rounds' ankle before the Denver university student could kill it with his putter. Today, Rounds was in the hospital with an infected ankle.

Part Of Film Portraying East Texas Oil Boom Days Will Be Filmed In Tyler Area

By BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

The only thing California has that Texas doesn't is Hollywood, and nobody has ever said that Texas regretted it.

A small part of Hollywood, however, is moving to Texas soon to begin filming "Strike It Rich," a picture which will tell the story of the early days of the East Texas oil fields.

Shooting of scenes around Kilgore is slated to begin May 17. About one week will be devoted to shooting scenes in the East Texas fields, while the rest of the picture will be shot in Hollywood.

Stars Bonita Granville

"Strike It Rich" will be a production of Jack Wrather Pictures, Inc., and will star Wrather's wife, Bonita Granville, and Don Castle. It had been announced earlier that Brian Donlevy would play the leading male role.

Wrather, who turned producer after his discharge from the Marine corps in 1945, is a native East Texan. A former resident of Tyler, he inherited extensive oil properties—including the Overton refinery—from his father, a pioneer in East Texas oil.

A number of East Texas towns will be shown in the new picture. Tyler is hoping the motion picture company will make its headquarters there.

Local People To Act

Lindale, a small Smith county town, will be used to depict a pre-boom East Texas town. A number of local people will portray characters of the boom days of the early 1930's, Wrather has announced.

The picture, when it is completed, probably will have its world premier in Kilgore.

The movie will be directed by Herbert Leeds, with Rex Bailey as assistant director and Lewis Creber as art director.

Teachers Gain Strike Victory

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 6 (AP) — Striking Providence public school teachers returned to their classrooms today after scoring a victory in their demand for wage increases.

The two-day strike virtually paralyzed school operations in this city of 255,000. Fewer than 200 of the city's 1,099 teachers and only 1,000 of the 30,000 enrolled pupils attended classes during the walkout.

Agreement Accepted

The AFL Teachers Alliance accepted an agreement giving them a single salary schedule, replacing three schedules now in effect based on grades taught.

The accepted proposal gives all teachers an immediate raise of $200 a year, and establishers, effective Sept. 2, salary brackets of $2400 to $4800 based on length if service, with automatic raises of $150 a year.

The strikers established picket lines around various schools during the short dispute.

Treasury Will Take Action Against Woman Who Refuses To Deduct Taxes, Snyder Says

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder says his men will see that Miss Vivien Kellems pays up.

"We are taking appropriate action—proper steps to protect the revenues of the government," Snyder told a news conference yesterday.

Miss Kellems, a Westport, Conn., manufacturer who long has opposed administration tax policies, wrote Snyder last week that she had stopped taking the tax money from her 100 employes' pay envelopes. She added:

"Please Indict Me"

"I respectfully request that you please indict me."

Snyder did not say what the "appropriate action" might be, but in the past the Internal Revenue bureau has seized and sold property of concerns delinquent in turning in taxes.

Bureau officials pointed out further that the tax law carries a penalty of up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for criminal violation of the revenue act.

Miss Kellems said her refusal to collect the levy was based on her belief that the "law is not only unjust and tyrannical in concept but is in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States."

She stopped the tax collections on Friday, February 13.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. 4-29.

U. S. Broadcasts To Siberia Not "Jammed," Russians Say

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP) — Moscow says Russians aren't "jamming" American broadcasts to Siberia.

But State department officials, disclosing this story, said someone is.

Loud squeals and other discordant noises first were reported blacking out the broadcasts late in February. Since the interference came only during the period used by the Voice of America, local atmosphere upsets were ruled out.

Traced To Siberia

American ships have reported tracing the squeal to a powerful Soviet station at Kharbarovsk in Siberia.

Other American broadcasts, via Europe, to Russia and Soviet satellite states have escaped such difficulties.

Moscow's denial was in response to a protest filed in mid-March by Ambassador Walter B. Smith. Whether further diplomatic action is planned was not disclosed.

Power Hike Set

Congres, however, has approved a $3,000,000 supplemental fund for the State department's information service. This will permit stepping up the power of American relay stations at Manila and Honolulu in the next few months. Officials hope this may overcome any future squeals during broadcasts to Siberia.

Youth, 22, Attempts Leap From Building

CHICAGO, May 6 (INS) — A 22-year-old youth was seized by secret service agents today as he tried to leap from a sixth floor window in Chicago's Merchandise Mart.

He was identified as George Crowell, jr.

Shortly before he was seized Crowell had handed his last $6 to a woman employe of the U. S. Treasury department which has offices on the sixth floor of the mart.

Crowell told police he had become despondent because of his inability to hold a job.

Hubbers Smack Lamesa, Set New League Home Run Mark

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS
PAGE EIGHT, LUBBOCK, TEX., THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1948

The Lubbock Hubbers, defending champions of the West Texas-New Mexico league, gave a pretty good example last night of why they are still feared by other teams.

The Hub City nine turned loose a devastating home run barrage at the Lamesa Loboes, smashing nine balls out of the park and sumerging the losers under a 24-11 score. In beating the leather off the ball, Lubbock players tied two records and, with the help of three home runs by Lamesa, the two clubs establish two more new records.

Borger Beats Clovis

The home run hitting slightly overshadowed Borger's first defense of first place, the Gassers licking Clovis 8-5, while Abilene's Blue Sox stayed on their heels with a 6-3 victory over Pampa. Albuquerque at Amarillo was postponed because of cold weather.

Manager Jackie Sullivan led off the hit parade with three successive home runs, tying the league record. A few innings later Chick Fowler, who had struckout his first three times at bat, also hit three home runs. They were not in succession, but he and Sullivan entered the record books for tying the record of three home runs in one game by any batter.

Homers Total Nine

Two home runs by Virgil Richardson and another towering fourmaster by Charley Scarborough brought the Hubber total for the night to nine. This erases the mark of the most home runs eight, for one game established by Abilene on July 15, 1947, and tied by Lubbock ten days later.

When Murphy, Turner and Skrabacz also hit for the circuit for Lamesa, the two teams wiped out the record of 11 home runs by two teams in one game. This was set by Amarillo and Borger on June 8, 1947, and tied by Abilene and Borger on July 15, 1947.

Hub Batsmen In Groove

It was a pretty fair night for the Hubber batters, with Fowler leading the totals on four hits. Sullivan, Richardson, Scarborough and McAlexander each had three and not a single Hubber went hitless. Hubbers hits—22 in all—were good for a total of 51 bases, with Richardson, Boothe and Scarborough hitting doubles and Frank McAlexander getting a triple.

Tonight Lamesa and Lubbock tangle again, with either Bob Clodfelter or Cotton Russell hurling for the Hubbers against Paul Cook, who has one game to his credit.

Because Of Different Setup On Books

Every Winner To Set New Record In Meet This Year

By WERNER RENBERG
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 6 — Every boy who wins an event in the state track meet in Austin this weekend will set a new record.

Which doesn't mean that all their times and distances are going to be better than those in the record books.

It's all got to do with the new set-up this year.

As you know, the city slicker schools have divorced themselves from the rest of the group and are going to hold their own track meet in Dallas. That leaves the Austin meet for Class AA, A and B schools. They're going to print their own record book this year, and junk the old one.

One Record In Future

Otherwise, 1948 performances have, with the exception of one or two cases, not threatened existing marks. The records are:

120-yard high hurdles — 14.0, Lee Miller, Burbank (San Antonio), 1974. (Ties national record.)

100-yard dash — 9.5, Charles Parker, Jefferson (San Antonio), 1943.

200-yard low hurdles—22.1, Bill Hamman, Sunset (Dallas), 1941.

440-yard relay — 43.1, Jefferson (San Antonio), 1942, 1944.

880-yard run — 1:55.4, Ross Rush, Sunset (Dallas), 1933. (Ties national record Bush set at Chicago that year.)

220-yard dash — 20.6, Charles Parker (San Antonio), 1943. (Better than national record of 20.7, but not allowed because of wind.)

One-mile run — 4:25.0, Javier Montes, Bowie (El Paso), 1947.

One-mile relay—3:24.6, Corpus Christi, 1947.

Pole vault—13 feet, 1½ inches, Earle Meadows, Central (Fort Worth), 1933.

High jump—6 feet, 5 inches, ern McGrew, Lamar (Houston) 1946.

Shot put—58 feet, 9 1-8 inches; DeWitt Coulter, Masonic Home, (Fort Worth), 1943.

Broad jump—24 feet, ½ inch; Lester Scrimsher, Main Avenue (San Antonio), 1931.

Discus throw—155 feet, 7 inches, Alan Sparkman, Jefferson (San Antonio), 1944.

Mostly By City Boys

You'll note that of the 13 records in the books, all but two were set by fellows from cities now in the city conference.

Corpus Christi won the state meet last year with 46 points. Austin was second with 36. It's expected to be different this year. Austin is the odds-on favorite to take the cake.

In the individual events, first place is worth 10 points; 2nd 8, 3rd 6, 4th 4, 5th 2, and 6th 1. In the relay event it's 16, 10, 6, 4, 2 and 1.

Austin easily could double its total of 1947. The Maroons are expected to take several firsts and to place, too, in many events. And it's the places that count heavily.

Ray Clements Beats Detton

The fans were starting to talk with enthusiasm about Ray "Big Train" Clements today, after watching him turn on his former charmer, Dory Detton of Amarillo, last night at Sled Allen's wrestling arena.

Clements won two out of three from his former tormentor, while Billy Hickson downed Pat O'Dowdy in two out of three falls in the second main event. Eddie Gideon and Olan Boynton went 20 minutes to a draw in the preliminary.

Lots Of Action

There was a lot of action in the Clements-Detton match, with both men going all-out to win. Detton took the first fall after 13 minutes of struggling with a flying head scissors. Clements came right back to win in 17 long minutes, using a reverse crab to turn the trick. Then the Lubbock grappler threw Detton in the deciding fall in two minutes, using the same hold.

O'Dowdy, who loves the rough stuff, went 21 minutes before taking Hickson's measure in the first fall using a series of body slams and a body pin. But Hickson wasn't through. He came back to pin O'Dowdy in nine minutes with a stepin toehold and in the rubber match came through to victory in three minutes with a leg split and body pin.

Martin May Appear

Boynton and Gideon staged an interesting match, going the full 20 minutes to a draw.

Referees last night were Billy McEuin and Ace Abbott.

Sled Allen said after the bouts last night that he was trying to match Ray "Big Train" Clements with Wayne Martin in the feature presentation on next Wednesday night's card. If Martin will agree to the match, Allen believes he will have one of the best gate drawers in the ring business in Lubbock.

Baylor Still Given Bare Chance To Win

(By The United Press)

The Baylor Bears meet the TCU Frogs at Waco today with the Bruins' mathematical chance of a Southwest conference baseball pennant at stake.

Baylor already has been read out of the list of title favorites, now consisting of only Texas and Texas A. & M. But the Bears still retain a mathematical chance, should they win their remaining games and the Longhorns and Aggies lose all of those still scheduled.

TCU will be after its second victory of the season. The Froggies have lost 10 games. Baylor has a 5-5 record.

The second game of their two-game series will be played tomorrow. Rice and A. and M. and Texas and SMU play tomorrow also.

Three Lone Star Games Rained Out

(By The Associated Press)

Activity in the Lone Star league was cut to fifteen innings all told last night. Rain washed out three games.

Bryan's Bombers moved into a tie with Kilgore for second place by edging Tyler 4-3. Manager Jess Landrum singled to drive in Fran Drevter with the tying run and Corny Bean then singled in Landrum for the winning tally in the ninth inning.

Longview at Henderson was called at the end of the fourth frame because of rain, hail and wind. Lufkin at Marshall was called in the second and Kilgore at Gladewater was postponed because of rain.

WINS TENNIS TITLE

HOUSTON, May 6 (AP)—Glenn Hewitt of the University of Houston today wore the Lone Star conference tennis singles crown for the second straight year. He defeated teammate Jason Morton yesteray, 1-6, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4.

Seven Challengers Of Citation Listed

BALTIMORE, May 6 (U.P.) — Seven probable starters were listed today as challengers of Citation, Calumet's calculating comet, in the Preakness, May 15.

The entries were discussed gingerly, of course, for there seemed to be little faith in any horse beating the bay colt which pranced to such a one-sided victory in the Kentucky derby Saturday.

However, the Maryland Jockey club did promise at least token opposition in the for mof C. V. Whitney's Mount Marcy and Vulcan's Force, William Helis' Salmagundi, W. L. Brann's Escadru, Ben Whitaker's My Request and Bomar Stable's Piet.

At the same time, trainer Hirsch Jacobs said that King Ranch's Better Self and S. J. Sackett's Gasparilla also would be on hand at Pimlico a week from Saturday for the second lap of racing's triple crown.

Derby Is Washout For This Visitor

INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 6. (AP) —Turf official Wendell P. Cassidy of Hollywood Park race track came back from the Kentucky derby and announced:

"It was the finest race I never saw."

Cassidy had an excellent seat on the roof at Churchill Downs, but when the race began spectators leaped up in front of him.

So he scrambled up to stand on the seat, and it collapsed. Then the race was over.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Wasn't that a glorious display at Lamesa last night? Glorious, that is, if you like to see home runs and 24-11 ball games. Personally, we are much like the late Col. Jake Ruppert of the New York Yankees who, if the score was close, would get up and walk out because he couldn't stand close games. He wasn't happy unless the Yanks had a 10-run lead and even that close a score made him nervous.

• • •

That's one thing about this year's Hubber team; they'll make you nervous, but you'll come back for more. They're trying so hard it's almost pathetic and their dressing room after they have won is almost like a winning college team. Their spirits are high and that is in their favor. Once they begin to win, they may keep on rolling. They have made mistakes, will make more, but they are beginning to look like a club that may go places.

• • •

The most heartening thing about the Hubbers is the way they are hitting the ball. When they were losing earlier this short season, they showed signs of murderous power, but never sustained. Now this power is beginning to come to life. It won't be true in every game they play, for there are bound to be some pitchers who will throttle them. But if it is consistent, they will win more than they lose.

• • •

Along with their hitting, the greatest thing for the Hubber revival was the acquisition of Catcher Don Moore. The chunky little receiver is doing everything that was expected of him. He is hitting the ball nicely, good timely hits that are sharp and clean. He leaves little to be desired with his fielding. And he is handling the pitchers as if he had been with them all spring, rather than just a few days. Give him time and the rookies may be pitchers yet.

• • •

We were talking with Herby Pitts yesterday afternoon and he said that you could notice the difference. He didn't want to step on Floyd Walker or Kermit Altizer, the two likeable rookie backstops, but he said that Moore did all the thinking for you and knew just what yould should throw. Moore, in his estimation, could do a lot to make or break any pitcher and, from Pitts' performance Monday night, you knew he meant what he was saying from experience. The Indian boy hurled a pretty fair game against Pampa, his best of the year, and Moore had a lot to do with it.

• • •

We also dropped into the dressing room after the second Pampa game to talk with Moore. We asked him about the two bad decisions Umpire Bill Hiemann called and the catcher said: "I'll give any ump the benefit of the doubt on one call, but when he calls two bad ones in a row, I'll tell him plenty." He did, and he had assistance from Manager Jackie Sullivan.

• • •

Jackie, as you probably know, had had just two hours sleep the night of the second Pampa game. He drove all night to McKinney to see if his relatives were all right and had gotten back for just a little sleep. He admitted that he was plenty willing to leave the game when Umpire Tiemann gave him the thumb in the seventh inning. But from our perch in the press box, there was no question that Frank Boothe's hit fell inside the line by a foot. Marvin Alexander in the bull pen swore to it, as did Royce Mills in the coaching box. Hubber players give Third Baseman Tony Range an assist on the play, claiming that he called the ball for the umpire.

• • •

Incidentally, Don Moore has a wife and two children and, like the other Hubber players, he needs a place to stay. If any of you good sportsmen and women know of a place for them, let the Hubber management know right away.

• • •

The Hubbers got down to the 16-player limit, which expired at midnight, by sending Jackie Haynes to Marshall of the Lone Star league. Jackie came here from Odessa and had been used sparingly both in the outfield and in the infield. He shows possibilities of being a good player, but needs a little more experience. In four games with the Hubbers, Haynes hit .375 on three singles in eight trips with two runs scored. He accepted eight chances ,six putouts and an assist, with one error, for a fielding average of .875. Keep your glances turned his way; he may be back again.

Tech Gridmen Set Exhibition

Football fans of Lubbock and the vicinity will have their first opportunity to see the lights in the new Jones Stadium turned on, when the Red Raider football squad at Texas Tech plays an exhibition game Saturday night.

The practice game will end the regular spring football season at Tech and the tilt is expected to be hard fought. Coach Dell Morgan will divide the squad into Reds and Whites, sending them through a regulation sixty-minute grid contest.

No Admission

Tech officials said that there would be no admission charge for the game and urged the public to watch the Raiders. Several thousand persons may turn out for the game, which promises to supply plenty of football action.

Fans may see an offensive struggle, if the similar scrimmage of last Saturday is duplicated. The Reds and Whites battled through an hour's play, with frequent player changes, before the Reds gained a 27-20 victory.

Tim Hatch, Wellington freshman, galloped 60 yards through the line to set up the first touchdown for the Whites, Bud Conley Quanah fullback, going over two plays later from the one-yard line. Shaff DeGaish, Sweetwater, later passed 30 yards over the goal line to Dingy Davis, Lubbock end, for another White counter and Hatch kicked goal. A third White counter resulted from a 45-yard pass to Zac Henderson, Quanah back, who went over standing up. Conley kicked goal.

Red touchdowns came on a 12-yard end run by Glenn Lewis, Quitaque; a 12-yard end run by Walter Maloney, Roscoe; a 10-yard pass from Bill Lyman, Littlefield, to Maloney over the goal line and a 50-yard pass from Lewis to Bill Davis, Littlefield end. Milburn Haydon, Weatherford guard, Lewis and Earl Jackson, Phillips fullback, kicked conversions.

Bosox Cash Deals Begin To Pay Off

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox's $375,000 deals for Junior Stephens, Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder finally begin to look like good busines.

Red Sox fans had their misgivings when wins failed to follow the cash outlay. Up to five days ago, neither Kramer nor Kinder had thrown a ball for Boston. Stephens, the boy who was supposed to knock holes in Fenway Park's left-field wall, was hitting a sorry .200.

Picture Now Changed

Events of the last few days have served to change that picture. Kramer won himself a ball game Saturday, and yesterday Stephens hammered an 11th inning homer that gave Kinder a relief decision.

Stephens' hitting surge is the most heartening development in the Boston camp. After smashing a homer opening day off Phil Marchildon of the A's, his power disappeared. Sunday he banged a home run off Joe Page of the Yanks and he had two hits in each of the last three games.

Still far below par at .255, Stephens is beginning to find the Fenway range. Yesterday's clout off Dizzy Trout was his most telling blow for Boston. It accounted for the Sox' 4-3 win over Detroit, their fourth straight victory.

Pirates Continue To Sizzle

The Pittsburgh Pirates continue to sizzle in the National, rolling to their sixth straight win by a 3-2 shade over Boston. It was their first test against a club that is supposed to be a pennant contender and they came off in fine shape. They now lead the second place New York Giants by a full game.

Cincinnati's Kent Peterson, making his first start of the season after five bullpen jobs, limited New York to five hits in fashioning a 5-2 victory. Homers by Johnny McCarthy, playing first for the injured Johnny Mize, and Bobby Thompson provided the Giants' scores. McCarthy's two-run boot in the first put starter Sheldon Jones on the ropes. Grady Hatton hit a home run for the Reds in the third.

The Phillies won a game from Chicago, 13-9, but lost the services of pitcher Schoolboy Rowe for at least two months. Rowe suffered a fractured thumb on his left hand when struck by a liner off Peanuts Lowrey's bat. Although Rowe was hit freely before the accident, the Phils rallied to win for Sam Nahem, the ex-bushwick who was picked up as a free agent last week.

Rain washed out the Brooklyn-St. Louis game in the National and the St. Louis-New York and Cleveland-Philadelphia games in the American.

Walt Masterson held Chicago to four hits in a night game at Washington, won by the Senators, 6-0, before only 3,846 fans. Al Kozar struck the big blow for Washington, a three-run dbuble with the bases loaded off Glen Moulder in the fourth inning.

The former Jeff Davis High star from Houston led the Bears in scoring with 328 points in 32 games last season and is an alternate on the U. S. Olympic team.

The first Baylor basketeers to receive the award was Jackie Robinson, all-conference guard of last season and a member of the Olympic squad. Robinson was awarded the honor last season.

Westerners Coast To Plainview Win

Lubbock High's undefeated Westerner nine coasted to an easy 20-3 District 1-AA triumph over the Plainview Bulldogs Wednesday night at Rosenthal field behind the two-hit hurling of James and Jim Wilson and an eight-hit attack that was aided by seven Bulldog errors.

Approximately 300 shivering fans watched the Plainview schoolboys take a one-run lead in the first stanza, then saw the Westerners go ahead in the second frame and clinch the conference victory with a 10-run assault in the fourth inning.

Lubbock Tops District

The win kept the Westerners at the top of the district standings with a record of five triumphs and no defeats, while Amarillo's Golden Sandies hold the runner-up slot with four wins and a single loss.

Catcher Bill Wylie paced the home nine in the slow tilt, slamming out two doubles in two trips to the plate, but Charles Galey collected two singles for a perfect night. Dorrance Guy, Westerner first sacker, blasted out the longest hit of the game in the wild fourth frame when he rammed a triple down the first base line.

Wilson Hurls Well

Lanky James Wilson gained credit for the hurling triumph by holding the Plainview boys to two safeties and three runs in four innings, but sophomore Jim Wilson was even more effective as he held the visitors hitless in a three-frame relief job.

The Plainview nine opened the tussle as if it might give the Westerners a bitter fight, with Bobby Kay scoring the first tally on an error and a fielder's choice. But the Lubbock nine bounced right back in the bottom of the initial stanza to deadlock the count as Jack Alderson went all the way around when his long fly to right field was muffed by Charles Morgan.

Griffin Steals Bases

The Westerners went ahead in the second frame when Bill Wylie connected for the first of two doubles with Dwight Moore on base and Bobby Griffin, speedy third sacker, stole second, third and home after getting a free pass to first base.

Four more Lubbock runners crossed the plate in the third, as the Westerners capitalized on two walks, a balk and Wylie's second double, then the local nine turned the contest into a rout with a 10-run splurge in the fourth.

Texas League Pitchers 'Hot'

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas league always has boasted of being a "pitcher' league." Last night's round of games strengthened that claim.

The hurlers dominated the scene. One threw a no-hit, no-run game for six innings—until a high wind and a rainstorm halted the proceedings. Another twirled a five-hitter. Two more combined for a five-hitter. Another gave up only six hits. Still another held the opposition to eight.

Exporters Whip Cats

The league-leading Fort Worth Cats were victims of the six-hit exhibition, put on by Lefty Kent Sterling of Beaumont as the Exporters licked Fort Worth 6-1. Beaumont got 10 blows off three Cat twirlers.

Shreveport's Sports edged toward the first division as garth (red) Mann held Dallas hitless for six innings while Shreveport was winning 4-0. A 55-mile-per-hour wind combined with rain to stop the game and prevent Mann from possibly notching the league's first no-hit, no-run reuglation affair of the season.

Houston and San Antonio stayed in a tie for second place—a game behind Fort Worth—by beating Tulsa and Oklahoma City respectively.

Houston Beats Tulsa

Cloyd Boyer hurled a five-hitter to pace Houston to a 3-1 win over Tulsa. Houston got only five blows off John Stone and Felix Renso but did a good job of bunching them for tallies.

San Antonio and Oklahoma City played twelve innings with the Missions emerging victorious 4-3 when Luke Majorki homered. Ray Minor, pitching his first game for San Antonio, gave up eight hits and fanned 11.

The clubs continue the same stands tonight with Fort Worth at Beaumont, Oklahoma City at San Antonio, Tulsa at Houston and Dallas at Shreveport.

Favorites Out Of Experimental Meet

DALLAS, May 6 (AP)—The medalist and the favorite were out in the cold today, but a couple of their teammates were ready to battle for spots in this afternoon's finals of the southwestern intercollegiate experimental golf tournament here.

Medalist L. M. Crannell, jr., of North Texas State knocked off favorite Joe Moore of Louisiana State, 5 and 4, in the first round yesterday. After lunch, Bart Haltom of Texas A. & M. ousted Crannell, 4 and 5.

In today's semifinals, Haltom meets Bob Watson, No. 1 man on the University of Texas team. Meahwhile, little Gene Towry of North Texas was paired against Les Thornton of LSU.

Cotton Center Enters Meet

Cotton Center Senior High school, about 35 miles northwest of Lubbock, has sent two entries to the annual Texas Interscholastic League Meet finals to be held in Austin May 6-8. Sharon Cone, winner of senior girl's declamation, will represent Cotton Center in the Austin finals, as will the one-act play cast, which also won top Class B honors here in regional finals held April 24.

Students who appeared in Austin are Geraldine Harris, Joy McKnight, Agnes Kocich and Sylvia White. Miss Harris, who played the lead, was named by judges to head the all-star one-act play cast selected here during the regional meet.

Six Others Entered

At Austin the Cotton Center cast will compete against six other plays to be presented by Conference B schools.

Miss Cone, a senior, emerged with top honors from the regional meet over seven other senior girl declaimers.

Mrs. G. C. Applewhite, who directed "Gray Bread," will accompany the group to Austin.

Teams Resting In Boys Club League

Teams in the Lubbock Boys club baseball leagues were resting today, following triumphs by the White Sox over the Cardinals, 12-11, and the Pirates over the Indians, 18-5.

The White Sox picked up only four hits, but two of them in the fifth inning won the game. Jackie Lewelling's single drove in both the tying and winning runs in the PeeWee league game. Charles Blazi had two singles for the losers out of their five-hit total.

The Pirates had little trouble winning a Midget league game, with Barry Allen getting two for three, one of his hits being a four-master with two men on base. Lindle Bailey had a perfect day at the plate for the losers, getting three for three.

Advance Guard Arriving For Annual TIL Meet At Austin

AUSTIN, May 6—The advance guard of the interscholastic league state meet hit the University of Texas campus this morning.

Their arrival was only a slight ripple, so to speak. The bulk of the contestants were expected to reach Austin tonight. By the time the last entry reports tomorrow morning, the university will be virtually engulfed by high school activities.

Only competition in conference AA one-act plays was scheduled today. Tomorrow brings a full schedule of contests in literary and oral events, preliminaries and a few finals in field and track events.

Triples Previous Meets

The nation's biggest high school track, field and literary meet this year's affair is expected to be triple the size of previous years.

That's because of a new league plan under which there will be meet championships in three separate classes: AA, A and B.

Roy Bedichek, league director believes the new set-up is a big encouragement to the smaller schools.

He anticipated 1,700 boys and girls would compete here during the three-day show. The track and field meet alone boasts 218 schools with 512 entries. Then there is tennis for boys and girls singles and doubles titles. Aside from the athletic competition, there will be contests in debate discussion, declamation, extemporaneous speech, one-act play, ready writers, typewriting, shorthand, journalism, slide rule and number sense.

Some Finals Friday

Preliminaries and finals are scheduled tomorrow afternoon in the discus throw for all three conferences; pole vault, conference B; and broad jump, all three conferences.

A new state record is expected in the discus. Reed Quinn and Bill Milburn, both of Austin, have tossed the platter farther than the record of 155 feet 7 inches, with Quinn chalking up one tremendous throw of 166 feet 5 inches.

Though there will be competition in four conferences—AA, A and B in Austin and city conference next week at Dallas—only the best set of marks will become state records.

Other Possible Records

Other events in which records which may fall are the 200-yard low hurdles, mile run, and pole vault.

Paul Leming of Beaumont, had done 21.8 in the hurdles. The record is 22.1. Javier Montes of Bowie (El Paso) may knock a few seconds off his own record of 4.25 last year. His best time this season is 4:29.6.

Mike Michon of Kerrville has gone 13 feet 1 inch into the air only a half-inch below the state vaulting record.

Texas Challenges California In National Meet At Phoenix

PHOENIX, May 6. (AP)—Challenging the supremacy of California athletes, three Texas schools have entered their champions in the national junior college track and field meet starting today.

Thirty-seven schools in all will participate in the meet, but 27 of them are from California. Arizona, Utah, Washington and Oregon schools also have teams entered.

Amarillo Dash Man

O. D. Chessir, Amarillo college speedster, recently won both 100 and 220-yard dashes in the Texas Jaycee meet at College Station. His reported best time of 9.6 seconds rates him with the top men in the century.

Bob Evans of Edinburg (Tex) Junior college recently broke the NJCAA record in the 120-yard high hurdles when he chested the tape in 14.7 seconds. Evans also has topped the 220-low sticks in 23.6.

Bull Welch, Edinburg half and quarter-miler and Pike Be La Garza, also a middle distance performer, of the same school, also will be on hand.

Wayland Sends Speedster

Bill Knighten of Wayland Junior college at Plainview, winner of the mile run at the Texas junior college event, is listed to match strides with the Californians here. Also entered from Wayland are John Cox and Leon Burch, the former a quarter-miler and the latter the only Texan entered in the weight events.

Qualifying heats will be run tonight with the finals on tap tomorrow under the lights.

Half Of Swimming Records Menaced

COLLEGE STATION, May 6. (AP)—Half of the records in the Texas high school swimming tournament are likely to be erased here May 15 when Texas A. and M. college plays host to the state's splashers.

Wynant Wilson and John Crawford, both of Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), and Harvey Bouldin of Austin recorded times in the southwestern invitational high school swimming meet at Dallas that are slightly better than state marks.

One Game Played In Lone Star League

(By The Associated Press)

Sherman-Denison was the only club able to advance in the Big State league race last night.

The Twins whipped Austin 8-5 in the lone game played in the circuit to slip past Austin into third place.

Wichita Falls at Texarkana, Gainesville at Paris and Greenville at Waco were called off in deference to the weather.

Sherman-Denison put on a five-run rally in the ninth to beat Austin. The Pioneers had taken a 5-3 lead with a five-run splurge in the eighth.

Tonight Wichita Falls will again be at Texarkana, Gainesville at Paris, Sherman-Denison at Austin and Greenville at Waco.

Reds Land On Korea Island

SEOUL, May 6. (U.P.)—Army-trained Communist agents have landed on Cheju island, 50 miles south of Korea, to direct guerrillas in a terrorism campaign connected with next Monday's elections, the U. S. military governor of Kirea charged today.

Sixty persons have been killed in bloody rioting on the island since April 2.

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, who has just returned from an inspection trip there, said separate investigations by him and South Korean officials led to the conclusion that agents of the North Korean Communist army had been landed.

Induce Murder

They were sent, he said, to "induce misinformed young men to murder people favoring the elections and to burn their homes."

Two hundred members of the national assembly will be elected in the American-occupied southern zone in a race which Russia has said should be smashed to save Koera from becoming an American colony.

Violence is expected because of Communist pledges to halt or discredit the elections, which have been sanctioned by the United Nations.

Air Force

separate universal military training program.

The defense secretary then suggested it might be wise to begin contracting for some of the new aircraft this fiscal year, which ends July 1, by moving ahead part of next year's funds and authorizations.

Extra Cash Tacked On

House leaders grabbed this suggestion and ran away with it. Instead of the 55-group Air Force proposed by Forrestal, the House said there should be 70 groups including many new jet-driven fighters and long range bombers. It tacked on the $822,000,000 extra to start work on those planes.

Some lawmakers said frankly they hoped quick action to build up the nation's air power might avoid an election-year vote on the touchy issues of drafting young men or putting them in UMT camps.

Forrestal, insisting there should be a "balanced" defense program rather than one pegged to "emotional" factors, offered a compromise 66-group plan with the 11 additional groups to be equipped largely with World War II bombers and fighters now in storage.

More Expensive Plans

Congressional critics called this a "mothball" Air Force and pushed ahead with the more expensive plans for new jet fighters and bombers.

Neither a UMT nor draft bill has reached the Senate or House floor, although a House committee approved a UMT plan last summer.

The Senate armed services committee met again behind closed doors today to try to perfect its plan for combining the draft and a UMT-substitute. This involves one year of training in regular services for 18 year olds with a two-year draft for those 19 through 25.

The House armed services committee has approved a separate draft measure, but like its UMT bill of last year it is in the hands of the House rules committee. The chairman of that group, Rep Leo Allen (R-Ill.) has advanced his own plan for aiding a draft—a special bonus for volunteers. This would be $1,000 for a two year hitch and $1,500 for three-year volunteers.

The outlook is for mostly fair skies and cool temperatures through tomorrow.

While Dalhart registered a low of 32 degrees this morning, Brownsville recorded a 74-degree minimum.

Laredo was the hottest point in the state yesterday, recording 101 degrees to tie Blythe, Calif., as the hottest spot in the nation.

The cold wave moved in from the Rocky mountain region. Colorado, Wyoming and western Nebraska all reported freezing or near-freezing temperatures.

Colorado's coldest spot was Fraser, up in the mountains, where the mercury dropped to 15 degrees.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

ON RECOVERY SIDE

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—The stock market shifted to the recovery side today behind selected rails, oils and industrials.

Prices hardened in virtually all departments after an early slip. White House moves to avert the railway strike threatened for next week, received much of the credit for the comeback.

While assorted pivotals were more or less indifferent, and minus signs persisted here and there at the close, gains of fractions to 2 or more points predominated. There were a number of new highs for the year. Aviations enjoyed a late flurry when the Senate approved funds for a big air combat force.

Transfers were in the vicinity of 1,300,000 shares.

Touching 1948 peaks were Northern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Seaboard Oil, Union Carbide and Brooklyn Union Gas (on another rate boost.)

Better performers included Santa Fe, Western Maryland Railway, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Nickel Plate Railroad, Texas Co., Standard Oil (NJ), U. S. Steel, Boeing, United Aircraft, Cerro De Pasco, Phelps Dodge, American Woolen, International Paper and Paramount Pictures.

The petroleum group again had the benefit of fuel shortages and expectations of climbing earnings in this field.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Cotton futures turned steady following easiness in early dealings today as mill buying, along with New Orleans and local covering met only limited offerings. Indications of an oversold condition following rent liquidation pressure and a revival of the talk that approval of the private cotton credit program for Japan was imminent had a steadying influence on the market.

In early dealings the market had eased 80 cents a bale on selling in the near months, influenced partly by the issuance of 15 additional May transferable notices. One private survey estimated cotton acreage will be a little better than 7 per cent above last season.

Futures closed 30 cents to $2.05 a bale higher than the previous close.

specifies a one-year prison sentence and a $1,000 fine.

The measure is an outgrowth of the Commerce department's refusal to give the un-American activities committee an FBI file in the case of Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards.

File Not Sent

An un-American activities subcommittee described Condon as one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security and asked for the FBI file to continue its investigation. Condon denied the charges and was backed up by the Commerce department.

The House later passed a resolution directing the department to produce the file. It has not been sent to the committee and President Truman has indicated it will not be.

Hoffman conceded that if the Condon files are turned over to the President, the pending bill would have no effect on them since the measure deals only with executive agencies, not with the President's office.

Rail Parley

Frank P. Douglass and Francis A. O'Neill, jr., conferred at length with Steelman kept Mr. Truman informed on the status of the railroad talks —which collapsed in Chicago Tuesday.

The three unions stood pat for more than the 15 1-2 cent hourly pay increase which the other railroad brotherhoods accepted. In addition, they demanded action on long-pending rules changes. The rules have a lot to do with pay and hours of the firemen and engine crews while doing certain jobs under certain conditions.

Meantime, some railroads, like the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern Railway system, placed a voluntary embargo on shipment of perishable goods beginning this week end.

Housing Row

hearings on it.

Wolcott left no doubt that he regards the Senate insurance extender, backed by Taft, as a move to force his committee to send the T-E-W bill to the House floor, intact with its controversial section providing for 500,000 government-owned and operated public housing units.

Wolcott used crackling language to emphasize that he and his colleagues won't be pushed. He said:

"The House is not going to be pressured into premature action on such an important matter by any childish tactics which are considered beneath the dignity and responsibility of Congress."

The T-E-W bill has a provision extending the home loan insurance program through next March. The House has passed a separate bill providing for the same extension.

But Taft and other Senate backers of public housing don't want to act on the House measure. They want the House to act on the omnibus T-E-W bill.

Yesterday, after another round of hot debate, the Senate passed its stopgap 60-day extender to revive the government's loan insurance power which expired last Friday night.

Before the bill passed and went to the House, the Senate smacked down, 43 to 28, an amendment by Senator Cain (R-Wash) to strip the insurance program from the T-E-W bill and extend it through next March, as the House did.

In addition to a federal housing program, he said there is need for federal education aid and expanded public health services.

Two-Day Hearings On Oleo Tax Bill Set

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP) — The Senate finance committee voted unanimously today to hold two days of public hearings, starting May 17, on the House-passed oleomargarine tax repeal bill.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) said time at the hearings will be equally divided between supporters and opponents of the measure.

It also represented a victory for backers of oleo tax repeal.

Friends and foes of the measure predicted the Senate eventually will join the House in passing thr bill to wipe out the 62-year old oleo levies. Both sides said all doubt was removed by the major setback dairy interests suffered yesterday.

Mexican Official's Wife Dies In Crash

PUEBLA, Mexico, May 6. (U.P.)—Senora Juana Carrera de Barriguette, wife of the military commander of Ciudad Juarez, was killed when a station wagon overturned on the Puebla-Tehuacan highway near here yesterday.

Her husband, General Sebastian Barriguette, driver of the car, was injured. Senorita Maria Luis Robles, a friend of the family, also was killed. The general's son, Jose Maria, was injured.

Highway patrolmen said the accident was caused by a tire blowout.

Widespread Search For Bandits Made

HAMEL, Minn., May 6. (U.P.)—Police in five states searched today for two dapper bandits who robbed the Farmers' State bank of about $30,000.

The bandits strode into the bank yesterday with drawn pistols and ordered cashier C. O. Dorweiler to hand over all the money.

"They cleaned us out completely," Dorweiler said. "They took every bit of currency we had. Everything from $1 bills to $100 bills."

State police in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota were alerted to watch for the bandits. Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also entered the search.

Elizabeth, Robot Converse At Show

LONDON, May 6. (AP)—Princess Elizabeth chatted with a robot today.

Opening a health exhibition, she was introduced to "Godfrey," eight feet tall and weighing 560 pounds, a mechanical man.

The robot talks about himself, and explains the workings of the human body and his own "brain". As he talks he shows listeners how his insides function.

Controlled from behind the scenes, he amused the princess for ten minutes. He wound up with an apology for not being able to bow to her, saying he would have to wink an eye in farewell instead.

The robot said: "I hope my gesture will not be misunderstood by your Royal Highness."

"Not in the least," the princess laughed.

In a brief speech at the opening, Princess Elizabeth appealed to Britons to support the new nations' health act, providing no-fee medical care for all. The scheme, which many physicians dislike, comes into effect July 5.

Judge Hears Story Of Fatal Stabbing

BALTIMORE, May 6. (AP) — A police magistrate was told yesterday how an expectant mother fatally stabbed her husband, and then fled from the dying man as he chased her with the knife he pulled from his wound.

In direct testimony ahd in a statement read by police, Mrs. Rita Zagzdryn, 28, said she "somehow or other" grabbed a knife from the kitchen table after her husband "grabbed me and went for my throat." She said they had been arguing about her three children by a former marriage.

Assistant State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro told Magistrate Frank J. Schap that an autopsy showed William Zegzdryn to have died of "one stab wound which pierced the heart." Further testimony said Zegzdryn did not collapse until he had managed to chase his wife through the house to the street and stab her in the shoulder.

Reservoir May Be Ready This Week

The city's new 1,000,000-gallon, 135-foot water storage reservoir in southwest Lubbock will be tested and probably put into service by the end of the week, City Engineer John Rushman said today.

The reservoir should assure adequate pressure during most periods of peak water demand in large areas of South and southwest Lubbock, he said. The huge tank is to be connected with a main on Avenue and the areas expected to benefit most are those served by smaller laterals branching from that line.

Normal slack-time pressure in the main, averaging about 60 pounds per square inch, will be relied upon to fill the overhead tank, water department officials said. The weight of water in the reservoir then will be expected to maintain pressure at the faucets during periods of heavy use.

The bowl-shaped tank rests upon steel columns about 100 feet high. It has been installed at a total cost of about $125,000.

Claude N. Gray, 15, of 2506 Third was issued two traffic tickets by local police as the result of a collision between an automobile and a motorcycle about 6 p. m. Wednesday in the 2000 block on Eighteenth. The tickets were given Gray for negligent collision and no drivers license.

Gray and Betty Lou Lee, 15, of Lubbock route 5 were riding a motorcycle which collided with a car driven by Charles Anderson of 2719 Walnut. Gray and Miss Lee suffered cuts and bruises, and were treated and dismissed at Lubbock Meromial hospital. Anderson was uninjured. Both vehicles were badly damaged, police said.

Portly Policeman Is Swift-Footed Anyway

FORT WORTH, May 6 (U.P.) — The Fort Worth cop may have looked portly, but he could run. A cowboy-booted robbery suspect knew that today.

The gun-carrying suspect lost a two-block foot race last night with Buck Dean, radio patrolman who tips the scales at 271 pounds.

Dean and a fellow officer arrested the suspect after a Fort Worth man identified him as the one who held him up in a downtown tavern and took $10. The suspect made his break from the patrol car. That was when the footrace occurred.

Esther Williams Declares New Bathing Suits Are Too Scanty

* * *

HOLLYWOOD, May 6 (AP) — The new scanty bathing suits are too scanty for Esther Williams.

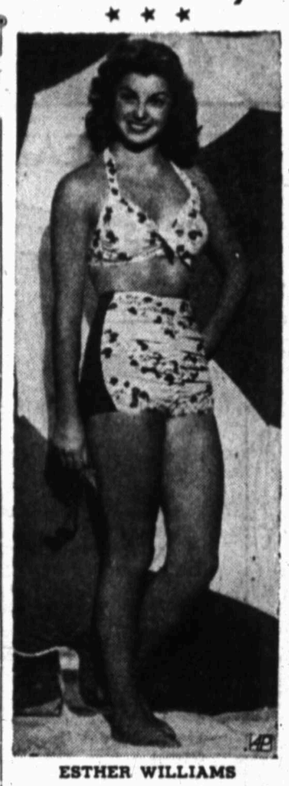

Esther, a gal with more curves than the Boston post road, should know whereof she speaks. The movie actress, who was national swimming champion, says the scanty-wantys are "unflattering, immodest, impractical."

Come Off In Water

"Why they come off in the water," she confides. "If you can't swim in them, what good are they? They don't do anything for the female figure. If the object is to get more skin exposed to the sun, I say sunbathing should be done in the back yard, not at the beach or pool where men have nothing to do but look."

Esther said she thinks women should have their swim suits tailored to their figure as they do a dress.

All the while she was saying this, she was wearing a swim suit that looked like it had been sewn on her.

Arabs Give Up Jaffa Defense

TEL AVIV, Palestine, May 6 (AP) —The Arabs apepared today to have given up Jaffa both as military center and as supply port. All but 10,000 of its 70,000 inhabitants were reported reliably to have fled.

Jaffa, previously predominantly Arab, adjoins Jewish Tel Aviv. The Jewish underground Irgun Zvai Leumi captured its Manshieh quarter last week and handed over the gains to the Jewish militia Haganah.

A high Haganah officer said today only a few score Arab volunteer soldiers remain in Jaffa. He added, "it was the soldiers who led the flight."

Jews Encircle

The reasons for the exodus appeared here to have been the deepening of the Jewish ring of land encirclement of the city and a strong suggestion from Irgun's success that after the British leave May 15 the Jews will be able to take the whole city if they want.

Haganah estimates that altogether a quarter of a million Palestine Arabs now have abandoned their homes and fled to places of refuge. Eighty thousand of these are believed to have left Palestine.

Neutrals who have been in Jaffa the last few days have reported the city without light at night, banks and newspapers closed and shops boarded up.

Haganah said an Iraqui commander and his staff fled last week and Jaffa's mayor left Tuesday. Reports reaching Tel Aviv indicated that, except for British military control, no municipal administration remained.

Yesterday and the day before not a single cargo vessel was in Jaffa's historic port, while 18 to 20 ships waited to discharge cargo in the Tel Aviv basin a mile and a half away.

UN Tuberculosis Agency Completes Plans To Test 50,000,000 European Children

By DUDLEY HARMON
United Press Staff Writer

PARIS, May 6. — The biggest public health project of its kind in history will be started shortly, United Nations officials have disclosed.

It will involve the testing of 50,000,000 European children for tuberculosis and the inoculation of some 15,000,000 of them.

The project is sponsored by the UN's International Children's Emergency Fund, which has European headquarters here.

Although east and west continue at loggerheads on most subjects, they co-operated in the ICEF. Both the Soviet Union and the United States are on its executive board, which has spent more than half of the $40,000,000 allotted it for war-stricken children.

Much of the aid has gone to Rumania, Poland, and other "iron curtain" countries, although the Soviet neither has applied for relief nor contributed funds.

The tuberculosis project will begin in about two months. ICEF officials told the United Press. A fund of $40,000,000 has been assigned to the program. Half of the money will be used immediately in Europe. The other half will be reserved for "countries other than Europe."

The program will test 50,000,000 children for positive or negative reactions to the disease. An estimated 15,000,000 expected to show susceptibility then will be inoculated with a serum called the BCG. Inoculation already is compulsory in Denmark, Hungary and other countries.

The Danish Red Cross has been carrying out such a program in Denmark. The Danish government has offered 2,000,000 crowns to the children's fund for continuation and extension of the program in collaboration with Sweden and Norway. The ICEF said arrangements will be made between the Danish Red Cross, the countries applying for the program and the ICEF itself.

The ICEF hopes soon to line up teams of doctors and organize equipment. It estimates that between 200 and 300 teams, each consisting of a doctor, two nurses and two secretaries, could do the job in about 18 months.

Tuberculosis in Europe increased severely as the result of World War II. According to the ICEF, Poland's death rate went up from 17.5 per 1,000 to 50. In Finland the death rate from tuberculosis increased about five per cent for all ages and "strikingly" among children.

EVERYTHING SET FOR SHOW

Gainesville Circus Opens Here Friday

* * *

Offering a two-hour program in three rings under its own big top that seats 3,000 people, the Gainesville Community circus is to open a two-day stand of four performances here tomorrow, with a wide variety of circus acts that are performed by amateurs, but are in no sense amateurish.

The only show of its kind in the world, because it is wholly non-professional and non-profit, the Gainesville circus has gained wide renown, although it has never appeared outside of Texas and Oklahoma.

Except for hometown appearances, the circus this year is to play only ten engagements, all of them in the two states, and because all of its personnel are Gainesville citizens in normal business pursuits, only a few overnight engagements are accepted.

Non-Profit Setup

A non-profit organization, none of the performers draw financial remuneration for their time and efforts. Money derived is spent for additional equipment to enlarge and better the show, and for operation expenses.

Performers and all other personnel are Gainesville citizens who in every-day life are lawyers, doctors, business men, clerks, housewives, soda dispensers, school teachers, delivery boys, students, etc.

The program of 100 feature acts includes acrobats, aerialists, tight wire performers, trained horses, ponies, dogs and monkeys, and about 50 clowns.

Has Wide Acclaim

The circus idea sprung up in the spring of 1930 as an extra-activity of a Little Theater group, which in the early 30s needed financial assistance. Its first performance proved so popular with performers and spectators alike that is was repeated the next year and made its first out-of-town appearance at Denton where two capacity crowds acclaimed it.

Since then outstanding success has met its 235 performances witnessed by more than a half million people in the Southwest. For example, at the Will Rogers Memorial Colliseum at Fort Worth, 52,250 people saw three performances. At Houston the circus appeared under Shrine auspices and showed to 30,000 people, and at College Station every one of Texas' 254 counties were represented in an audience of 11,000 at a performance given during an annual farmer's Short course.

Due to home town ties and business operations, the circus was forced to turn down an offer by Billy Rose, world famous showman, for an all-season engagement at Fort Worth's Frontier celebration, and another by the William Morris agency in New York which wanted the troupe for a summer showing at Atlantic City.

The circus, sponsored here by the Lubbock Women's club and the Lions club, will set up at the Panhandle South Plains Fair grounds for afternoon and night performances Friday and Saturday. Matinee time is 2:30 o'clock, and night performances start at 8 o'clock.

Tickets are on sale in booths in the lobby of the Hilton hotel downtown, and at the Varsity Book store on College avenue.

Three Die In Air Collision

DETROIT, May 6. (AP)—Three men were killed and a fourth seriously injured yesterday when two light planes collided in flight and showered glass and other debris over a two-block area of east side Detroit.

The body of Donald W. Baer, 26-year-old student pilot from Port Huron, Mich., was thrown from his small plane as it crashed with a BT-13. Witnesses said the youth's body plummeted toward the ground, smashing through the roof and floor of a porch. It was partly buried in the ground.

900 Feet In Air

The tragedy occurred about 900 feet in the air near the Detroit city airport.

The small plane, its tail structure torn by the larger BT-13, caught fire before crashing in the backyard of a home. The other craft landed in a cemetery.

Other victims were Robert F. Heels, 25-year-old Detroit flying instructor who was in the Cub with Baer, and Joseph McKevitz, 56, of Detroit, owner of the BT-13.

Flying with McKevitz was Ralph Hanneman, 27, of Detroit, the only survivor. He told police he blanked out as the two planes crashed, and remembered nothing else until he crawled out of the wreckage at Forestlawn cemetery. He suffered serious internal injuries.

Arizona Prisoner Wanted At Marshall

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 6. (AP)—A 23-year-old negro prisoner here today had been identified through fingerprints as Henry Brown, wanted in Marshall, Tex., on a murder charge.

Sheriff Barry Rosborough of Marshall told local officers that Brown is wanted for the September shooting of Mrs. Clara Moore, about 50, of Harleton, Tex., Brown is reported wanted for questioning in the death of a negro man who was fatally wounded shortly after the Moore killing.

The sheriff said a federal warrant charges Brown with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Identification officers said the fingerprints of a Henry Jones who was serving a 90-day sentence for theft matched those of the man wanted in Texas.

Sheriff Cal Boles of Maricopa county here said the prisoner admitted identity as Brown but denied knowledge of the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Moore.

GROUP LEAVING FOR AUSTIN

Local Students To Enter In Contests

Eleven track and field hopefuls and six literary aspirants from Lubbock Senior High school left Lubbock at 6:30 a. m. today to complete the list of 21 Westerners journeying to Austin to compete in Texas Interscholastic League finals to be held this weekend. The Lubbock High school one-act play cast left Wednesday morning for Austin.

Lubbock will send a strong group of hopefuls t the Austin meet this year. The Westerners amassed 53½ pints to cop first place honors in Conference AA division of the Region 1 Interscholastic track and field meet held at the Texas Tech oval on April 24. In literary events, Lubbock High entries won four first places and walked away with top honors in the Region 1 Class AA one-act play competition.

Teachers Accompany Group

With the students who left this morning were J. W. Reid, debate coach, Marlin R. Hayhurst, track coach, and Mrs. Dick Cozby, director of publications, who is attending the meet as state chairman of the Texas Association of State Journalism directors. She will attend the Interscholastic League Press conference to be held Friday and Saturday.

Literary entrants who left this morning were J. A. White and Dan Davis, boys' debate; Wanda B. Smith, girls' extemporaneous speech; Shelley Furr, typing; Jack Alderson and Coleen Baldwin, number sense.

White and Davis, coached by Reid, won the right to the Austin trip by topping other Region 1 debaters on the subject, "Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes in Basic Industries." For the past six years Reid has sent a team of boys to state in debate, and for the past 13 years' his teams—always boys and occasionally girls—have come out as winners in the district Interscholastic league contest. Under new arrangements in Interscholastic league debate rules there will be only five teams of boys competing in each division at Austin this year.

Cast Is Named

The cast of "Thursday Evening," Lubbock's one-act regional winner, includes Bert Nelson, Aletha McCasland, Nancy Davis and Jo Simmons. The play, which is the first Lubbock High school has ever sent to Austin, is under the direction of D. M. Howell, who accompanied the group. Bert Nelson was named No. 1 boy on the Region 1 all-star play cast, and Aletha McCasland was chosen second place feminine performer.

Dr. Campton Bell of the University of Denver has been named by league officials to judge the Conference AA plays which will be presented as the opening contest of the state meet, today, at 6 p. m. Dr. Bell is director of the

Crosby Negro's Appeal Heard

Appeal of George Holland, 33-year-old Crosby county negro, from a death conviction for the Aug. 2 slaying of Sheriff J. J. Pierce of Crosbyton, was submitted Wednesday to the Court of Criminal appeals in Austin on brief and oral argument.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin of the 72nd Judicial district was in Austin to argue the case for the state. Bryan B. Dillard and A. C. Cooke, of the firm of Dillard, Cooke and Dillard, were in Austin representing the defense

New Trial Overruled

Holland's case was transferred to Lubbock county for Sept. 15 and 16 trial in the 72nd district of Judge Dan Blair.

New trial motions were overruled by Judge Blair.

The defendant appealed on four bills of exception, all of which were controverted by the state in a brief filed by Croslin and his assistant, E. G. Pharr. The defense bills were: 1. That the trail court erred in overruling a defense motion to squash the indictment voted Aug. 8 in Crosby county; 2. The court erred in overruling a defense motion of continuance and a "supplemental motion for continuance;" 3. The state failed to prove commission of the offense alleged in the indictment as having happened in Texas; 4. The court erred in overruling the second amended motion for a new trial.

The state answered that the bills of exception were not properly before the court inasmuch as: 1. They were not duly filed—having been "offered 65 days after the date of an order overrul-

CITY'S CHIEF IS A NEWSBOY

Mayor Checking Up On Public Opinion

* * *

SCIO, O., May 6 (AP)—Picture your mayor ringing the doorbell, handing you the evening newspaper and asking: "What's wrong with the city?"

Well, Mayor Charles S. Grace—the only "newsboy" in this village of 1,200—does it every day and gets results.

"The taxpayers get to tell me personally what they want and what they expect. And that," says the 73-year-old mayor, "is my idea of real democracy."

The daily delivery stint is no political, vote-getting sheme. As proprietor of the village news stand, he has been selling papers some 38 years.

Mayor Grace is proud of his 150 steady customers. Each takes more than one out-of-town paper and so all, he says, are widely read on current events.

They Have Ideas

"They know what's going on in the world and have some pretty good ideas of the way things ought to be," he boasted.

Maybe that's why they elected their newsboy mayor in a write-in campaign last year. It was a close count, Grace winning by 48 votes. He is a Republican.

"The people wanted new blood in the government," he explained "and figured I could give them an honest administration."

But even in this modest village tucked in the hills of eastern Ohio, being mayor is no simple job.

"We've got plenty of headaches."

Town Goes To Pots

First, he explained, the town has grown in industrial activity

Scio is the home of the Scio Pottery Company, makers of white china ware.

"The pottery has brought more traffic. Our streets are too narrow for all the trucks and automobiles that have been pouring in and out of Scio lately," said Mayor Grace.

"And there aren't enough people paying taxes to finance repair of streets and other services."

Getting help is the mayor's second big headache. There are few willing to work for the low salary—$100 a month—that Mayor Grace is paid.

Shun City Jobs

The town is without a law enforcement officer. The city can pay only $25 a month for a marshal.

Most townspeople prefer to work in the pottery and farm in their spare time. They shun the low paying jobs in the city government.

But the mayor still has his news business to fall back on for steady income. Through 38 years it has seen him and Mrs. Grace through good times and lean and supported the Graces' six children who now are on their own.

HIZZONER, THE NEWSBOY
Mayor Charles S. Grace

"I walk the 19 and a half miles every day in good weather and bad," he said.

"I don't mind it a bit. Keeps me fit and I get to talk to most of my customers and their neighbors.

"I may be old, but I know what the young ones need and I'm going to help them get it."

With that, Charles Summerfield Grace unwrinkled a twisted suspender, pulled down the sleeve of his underwear and put on a shirt.

"Time to deliver my papers," he said.

Red Ryder Has To Walk Off Diamond

HOLLYWOOD, May 6. (AP) — Cowboys for the open range or the movies, and baseball players for the diamond.

When the twain meet things happen.

Red Ryder and his handsome boss, Thunder, served as an added attraction last night at the Hollywood-Los Angeles ball game. It was father and son night and a rootin' tootin' crowd it was.

And what happened? Ryder's saddle cinch broke and the cinema cowboy had the mortifying experience of having to walk off the diamond.

Greek Liberal Ministers Offer Resignations To End Stalemate

By L. S. CHAKALES
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATHENS, May 6 (AP)—All Liberal party ministers in the Greek cabinet have placed their resignations at the disposal of Premier Themistokles Sophoulis, it was reported here today. Populist party ministers are expected to do the same, informants said.

The resignations were said to have been submitted to permit the premier, a Liberal, and Constantin Tsaldaris, vice premier and Populist, to go ahead with plans to re-shuffle the two-party coalition cabinet. Last night Sophoulis suspended parliament for a month because he and Itsaldaris were unable to agree on cabinet changes.

New Cabinet Seen

It is expected that a reconstruction cabinet under Sophoulis will be sworn in this evening, and that between ten and 12 of the present ministers will be dropped, thus ending a government crisis which threatened to overthrow the eight-months-old coalition.

Among those expected to be replaced are liberal ministers George Varvoutis, national economy; D. Dingas, air; Phocion Ziakis, supplies; Andreas Pirakis, posts and telegraphs, and Theodore Kazins, mercantile.

On the populist side, these were expected to be dropped: Anthony Pappademos, education; Panos Kladjipanos, transport; Athanasios Pappathanassis, agriculture and Demitrius Londos, reconstruction.

It was over the replacement of Varvoutis that the crisis originally arose.

Guerrillas Executed

Constantin Rentis, minister of public order, announced that 13 guerrillas, including two women, were executed this morning. They were sentenced to death by a military tribunal. This brings to 165 the number of persons put to death in Greece this week. Tuesday, 152 died before firing squads after being convicted of murder in connection with the Leftist uprising of 1944.

The suspension of parliament was announced by Sophoulis after conferences with Dwight Griswold, administrator of American aid to Greece, and Karl Rankin, U. S. charge d'affaires. Parliament had been slated to meet next Monday.

Sophoulis, a Liberal, talked with the two American officials after a split developed between the Liberal and Populist parties over proposed changes in the cabinet. The government is a coalition of the two political groups.

Discontent Grows

Suspension of parliament postponed any stand it might take on the present Greek government. There had been widespread belief that parliament would not support the cabinet with a vote of confidence.

There has been growing discontent among members of both parties in parliament with the government. Some have charged the government is not effectively coping with the present internal situation. There has been sharp criticism in the press.

The dispute apparently has no connection with the execution Tuesday of 152 persons convicted of murder. The executions seem to have the general approval of both the public and government officials, the attitude being that murderers should pay the penalty for their crimes.

Sophoulis placed the blame for the political rift on vice-premier Constantin Tsaldaris, a Populist who was premier before Sophoulis assumed office in September, 1947.

Charges Violations

Sophoulis said Tsaldaris had violated agreements on the planned re-shuffling of the cabinet. He said an agreement was made with Tsaldaris after they met with King Paul yesterday. Last night, he said, Tsaldaris had made new demands.

He said Tsaldaris had brought up the question of removing minister of national economy George Varvoutis. Varvoutis is a major liberal leader, and informants said the premier could not risk his enmity and keep control of the party.

Sophoulis asserted that it was in the national interest that the two parties cooperate. He said there was no doubt that the government would win a vote of confidence from parliament.

He declared that the crisis would not prevent him from making a trip to northern Greece tomorrow, and said the current situation would be cleared up when he comes back to Athens Sunday.

Triple Services Set Today In Sundown

Triple funeral services will be held today at 2:30 p. m. in the Sundown High school auditorium for Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Miller of Sundown and their son, William Lesley Miller, 22, who were killed in a Michigan grade crossing accident Sunday.

The Levelland American Legion post will conduct military rites for William Leslie Miller, who served three years in the U. S. Navy. Interment will be in Levelland cemetery. The three were killed when a fast passenger train struck their car at a railroad crossing near Saginaw, Michigan while the Hockley county couple were returning their son to Reece, Michigan to his wife and small daughter after a visit at Sundown.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller had been residents of Hockley county for 19 years where he had been engaged in farming, and later in the oil business.

Young Girl Confesses She Killed Her Father After He Attacked Her In Home Last January

WHEATON, Ill., May 6 (U.P.) — Investigators today checked the possibility that Frances Korbelik, 17, had an accomplice when she killed her father last January.

The dark-haired girl confessed that she shot her father, William, 42, president of the CIO United Steelworkers local 2840, after he raped her in the living room of their home near Hinsdale, Ill.

She had maintained a stony calm during early questioning and broke down only when she confessed. She recovered her composure shortly afterwards and showed no emotion as she attended Korbelik's funeral yesterday.

Kept Her Secret

She said she had kept the killing a secret for nearly four months and that no one else knew anything about it. But Dupage County Sheriff Elmer Hoffman said he thought she had not told the entire story.

He said his office was attempting to determine whether some one else helped her.

Hoffman said Miss Korbelik told half a dozen wild and conflicting stories during two days of questioning. She finally broke down and admitted she shot her father as he lay in bed Jan. 10, the morning after he allegedly attacked her.

Korbelik's nude, decomposed body was found by the girl's mother, Mrs. Frances Korbelik, 40, and a sister, Dorothy, 15, beneath a woodpile in a basement storeroom last Sunday.

Miss Korbelik was arraigned on a charge of murder late yesterday.

She pleaded innocent.

Unable To Sleep

In her confession, the girl said she was sitting in the family living room in her nightgown on the night of Jan. 9 because she had not been able to sleep.

She said her father came home shortly after midnight. He apparently was "feeling high" and went to his room and undressed, she said.

"He asked me if I had fun a couple of nights before. When I told him I didn't know what he was talking about, he said some people had seen me and a boy together and told him that the boy was monkeying around with me," she told police.

She said she denied the accusation. Then he slapped her and forced her down on the davenport.

The rape followed, she said.

"Something Came Over Me"

The following morning, after her mother went to work, Miss Korbelik got up and walked to a stairway near her father's bedroom where a .22 caliber rifle and several shotguns were kept.

"Something came over me," she said.

She loaded the rifle, walked into her father's room and shot him, "two or three times." Then she dragged the body down the stairs and put it in the basement storeroom under the woodpile.

She stripped the bloody bedding off her father's bed, burned it, and hid the mattress and the rifle in the attic.

Her sister, Dorothy, apparently slept through it all, she said.

Hoffman said the lie test indicated that she told the truth about everything except the details of the attack. Authorities said there was no way the charge could be proved or disproved.

Women Not Necessary On Jury, Court Says

NEW ORLEANS, May 6. (AP)—The U. S. fifth circuit court of appeals says it would place too great a strain on the constitution to rule that men are entitled to have women on juries.

It was strain enough, the court said yesterday, to hold that negroes are entitled to have negroes on the on the jury.

The court's comment was voiced in affirming judgment of the U. S. northern district court of Georgia in refusing to release Rubin V. Johnson of New Orleans from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

The court said:

"It put strain enough on the constitution to hold that negroes are entitled to have negroes put in the jury boxes. It is too much to hold that men have a constitutional right to have women jurors."

Johnson was convicted in federal court on mail fraud in connection with the sale of oil lands. He appealed on the grounds that women were intentionally and systematically excluded from the grand and trial juries.

Boy, 11, Returns $1,200 He Found

MEDFORD, Mass., May 6 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Freddie Dohehey found a woman's pocketbook containing $1,200—but rather than touch the money he borrowed a nickel from his brother to call the police.

Freddie couldn't understand all the compliments coming his way today and refused a reward.

Mrs. Mary Thomann, owner of the purse, said she was sending him a bike anyway.

"Well, okay," said Freddie, "but I'm giving it to my brother John."

John, who is 12, was with him at the time, Freddie explained—"and besides it was John's nickel we spent to call the police and tell them about finding the money."

Screen Writer Is Missing In Plane

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 6 (AP)—Missing and feared lost in the Pacific today was 43-year-old film writer David Hertz.

Hertz' monoplane developed motor trouble 17 minutes after he left Clover field yesterday morning. He last reported he was flying along the coast at 2,000 feet.

Fog hampered early search by air but planes that covered a wide circle over the water and in the mountains area back of Santa Monica found no wreckage.

Hertz, born in Selma, Ala., was educated at Tufts college and Yale and began screen writing in 1935. His last work was "Tender Is The Night," a film not yet released.

Hertz has a 10-year-old daughter, Katherine, who lives with his divorced wife, Margaret Hertz.

Coming Election Is Confusing To Koreans, Unused To Ballot

By JAMES E. ROPER
United Press Staff Writer

CHUNCHON, Korea, May 6 (U.P.) This little town, like others in Korea, is going through its first election campaign in 4,000 years. The people are excited, amazed and bewildered.

Shopkeepers talk about the "strange" method of marking a secret ballot. Tired-looking women, with babies strapped to their backs, waddle to their water wells, and look at election posters as they go.

These people are trying to learn democracy in one easy lesson. To most of them, it comes hard.

Politics Complicate

Complications arise from the big-power politics that have split Korea into American and Russian occupation zones.

The United States is determined to hold elections in its zone on May 10 and set up a new Korean government. The Russians are just as determined to turn Korea into a Communist state.

Reasons for this rivalry are beyond the understanding of the slant-eyed girls who stand at machines in Chunchon's two big factories. So American-sponsored movies explain that the election is a "king of contests" among men, and show how to mark the ballot.

Many Illiterate

This is a big problem in Korea because so many cannot read and write.

In one Chunchon district, half the people registered could not sign their names. They rubbed their thumb-prints on the registration papers.

Ho help illiterate voters, candidates have a number, designated by a series of vertical lines after his name on the ballot. The voter who cannot read can remember that his favorite candidate is designated by a certain number of vertical lines.

The 2,600 persons in this town are especially tense because they live only eight air miles from the Soviet-American border.

Chunchon will have one of the 200 seats in the new assembly for southern Korea.

Venice, Italy, is built on 117 small islands, and its so-called canals are natural estuaries of the Adriatic Sea.

PORK WILL BE PLENTIFUL TOO

Buttermilk To Flow Like Wine At Gov. Long's Inauguration

BY E. C. GATES
United Press Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE, La., May 6—Buttermilk by the gallon and fresh pork from the clay hills of Winn Parish will be added attractions in Baton Rouge May 11, when graying Earl K. Long takes over for a full term as Louisiana's chief executive.

Already, Long's inaugural ceremony committee has been busy at work arranging for a plentiful supply of fresh buttermilk. Louisiana's next governor himself has promised to supply the pork "if it takes every hog in the Winn Parish hills."

And it's likely to take a lot of each.

During his fiery pre - election campaign, Long who described himself as a "small-town lawyer and hill farmer," pleaded with his listeners to "come down to Baton Rouge when I'm elected and watch me take office. I mean all of you and I guarantee you all will be welcome."

Dancing And Wine, Too

He told them "there's going to be plenty of buttermilk for my Baptist and Methodist friends from the hills who don't care about drinking that hard liquor."

For his "folks from the bayou country," he promised "a little dancing and maybe a little wine on the side because I know you don't care too much about that buttermilk."

The only thing Long didn't promise was a "bucket of diapers in each corner of the governor's mansion for mothers with children"—a promise that was carried out by his late brother, United States Senator Huey P. Long, at his first inauguration as Louisiana's governor.

But Earl has told the women of the state "to bring your children along. We gonna have plenty of nurses there to take care of them so you can have a good time."

Even before his election in the second primary, Long and his attractive brunette wife, Blanche, mailed out more than 400,000 personally-signed invitations to state voters urging them to attend his inauguration.

Officials believe some 300,000 people, a lot of them from the hills and bayous, will answer that call.

The "people's ceremony" will be held in Louisiana State University's huge football stadium.

On that day the shadow of another Long will be along the sidelines of the rambling horse-shoe shaped gridiron. It will be the shadow of Huey, who used to run along the sidelines, urging his football teams, or striding in front of the university's 120-piece band while thousands cheered.

But to Earl Long, the inauguration will be fore than becoming governor. To him, it will mean exoneration of the charges that were thrown at him in the Louisiana scandals of 1938-1939, during which he was elevated from lieutenant governor.

As the votes poured in on the night of last Feb. 24, indicating a landslide victory for him, Long stood in the living room of his New Orleans home with tears in his eyes and said:

"The people of Louisiana didn't lose faith in me. They have proven they didn't believe all those charges. Now I'm happy again."

And in his own words, he will have a chance "to clean the name of Long that has been dragged through the mud for 10 years."

Directors Elected At Final Session

Three new directors were elected at last night's final dinner meeting of the season for Lubbock Knife and Fork club at which Col. Jack Major of Paducah, Ky., was the featuged speaker.

Elected were Mrs. Lila Lenning, Joe Bryant and Mrs. O. R. Hand. They fill vacancies caused by tne death of S. Lamar Forrest and expiring terms of Mrs. O. L. Byrd and Mrs. M. C. Overton, Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, club president, announced.

The speaker, billed as .he "Man Who Makes You Laugh," did just that, according to reports. His subject was "Taxes, Women and Hogs." Col. Major was introduced by O. B. Ratliff.

Dr. Jackson presided at the session held in Hotel Lubbock with approximately 275 person attending.

Man, Wolf Surprised To Meet Each Other

FORNICK, Ia., May 6. (AP)—Its hard to say which was the more surprised, Frank Modde or the wolf.

Modde was walking through a field near here the other day. Coming to a creek, he saw some straw lying on the opposite bank and leaped into the straw. There was a wolf under the straw. It reared, threw Modde off balance and into the creek. Modde related the story to friends yesterday.

That Girl on Broadway says nothing brings out the fool in a man like the sudden acquisition of some extra spending money.

* * *

Sudden Thought: A bed is a strange thing. It's something nobody wants to get into—or out of.

* * *

THE Dallas Morning News runs a little drawing called "Remember," by Bill McClanahan. It is given over to things nostalgic, in the days when some people, at least, were interested in something else besides making another dollar and then running out to spend it frantically trying to have "a good time."

One of these little drawings caught our eye the other day. It showed some white folks," a-settin" on the front porch at evenin' time, being serenaded by a trio of negro singers, one of whom also was giving the accompaniment by way of the banjo.

We have no way of knowing how many people hereabouts remember how negro songsters used to do that nightly in the Summer time, giving pleasure and collecting tips. But it once was a very pleasant part of living in the Old South.

* * *

We do know, however, that a great many people around here do remember when "settin' on the front porch "of evenin's'"—sometimes just the family, other times with friends and neighbors—was a great American custom, and a healthy one, as well.

It's too bad the custom has gone with the cigarstore Indian, and with the negro serenader.

* * *

COME to think about it, not only front porch "settin' " custom has gone. The whole porch is gone from the modern American home. The very few you see on new houses these days are of the second story, or "overhanging gallery" type which, while architecturally pleasing, never seen to be used for "settin' " purposes.

Now you can blame an awful lot of things on architects, but you can't blame them for the passing of the old front porch. That came because people quit staying home on Summer evenings; (or, for that matter, most any evenings) and because even if they did they couldn't have much pleasure "settin' " on the porch while automobiles were racing up and down the streets, brakes squealing and threatening mayhem any minute to everyone within a radius of a city block.

* * *

Although graying, balding and generally coming apart at the seams, The Plainsman still is more than anything else a product of what is called—for lack of better term—"This Modern Age."

Therefore, like most everyone else, we've done very little front porch "settin' " since we put on long pants, which was quite some time ago. Fact is, unless we borrowed somebody's else porch, we couldn't do any. Like most houses, ours ain't got no front porch to "set" on.

But as a kid, we remember Summer evenings on porches—at home, at the homes of friends—and as we remember them they were pretty fine evenings.

The men would talk politics and prohibition and the price of oil. The women, usually doing some of that kind of sewing in which little hoops were employed, would talk about Things Important to Females. Always there'd be lemonade and cookies. Sometimes even ice cream.

* * *

READERS under 30—if they've stayed with us down to this point—will hoot at the idea that a group of people could have pretty good, comfortable, satisfying times "settin' " on a front porch.

They'll find it hard—if not impossible—to understand how such relaxation could possibly compete with the racing automobile, the juke box joint, the picture show, the blaring radio.

But let us tell them that it not only could prove mighty pleasant, but it did so prove—and as one who has tried most forms of amusement, including real as well as synthetic, we can testify that something very fine and very wholesome went out of the American picture along with the front porch and front porch "settin' ".

And on the purely statistical side, when there were front porches to "set" on, and when people "set" on 'em there were a darn sight fewer carnages on the highways; a darn sight fewer divorces; a darn sight fewer people dying in the prime of life from heart ailments.

There were more closely knit families, too, whose members got a chance to really know each other, instead of just collections of kinfolks, living under the same roof but, in all reality, only casual acquaintances who happen occasionally to meet while changing clothes to go somewhere else!

* * *

One person may now live as cheaply as two did four years ago — providing, of course, he doesn't live very much!

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says from what he hears the center of gravity in the 1949 automobiles will be lowered to match the hemline of the current model dresses.

Hey! Who's keeping the Dove of Peace refueled during its long endurance flight?

* * *

SPORTS DEPT. — The Hubbers, the Dallas Steers, the Boston Braves, or some baseball outfit (the way baseball books are kept now-a-day would baffle even a Philadelphia lawyer) have a very promising piece to property in young Floyd Walker, the big rookie catcher. Regardless of which organization owns Walker, he can be made a very valuable player—even this year, especially if Don Moore got laid up for a week or more, as catchers are wont to do.

What Walker needs is some intensive instruction. Incidentally we hear he is the sort of kid who wants to be taught and is willing to take instruction.

This tip, then, to Long Larry Larsen, in the Hubber front office:

Here in Lubbock is one of the wisest catchers who ever donned a mask in Texas. He had something like 30 years experience, from the sandlots to the big show, as player and manager—most of them "under the log." Why not turn Walker over to Sled Allen for afternoon tutelage for about 15 days during which the Hubbers are at home? You'd be surprised chum, at what you'd see as a result.

* * *

Politics amuses and entertains us. It supplies us with almost unlimited topics for conversation and argument. It touches us all and, someway finally gives us some sort of government.

But, like sin, we doubt if it's worth what it costs!

* * *

A LITTLE item tucked away on an inside page (in our book, it should have been featured on Page 1) the other day told of how a Fort Worth man "preached his own funeral oration" by way of a pre-arranged recording. In fact, the entire service was on platters—music and all—and was played by the undertaker in keeping with an agreement with the deceased two years before the latter's death.

It seems to us the idea has a lot of merit. Certainly, it opens up a whole new set of possibilities.

* * *

A guy pre-arranging his own funeral service could do a lot of things via the disc-jockey method.

First, he could have his funeral just as he wanted it—which might have its points.

Secondly, he could express his own sentiments regarding his relatives and friends—might even "tell off" a few bloks sitting piously at his bier; yet who gave him a raw deal, here and there, while he was around.

And, thirdly, a guy could eliminate a lot of the barbaric clap-trap that tradition and custom have forced upon us in the matter of laying the dead to rest.

* * *

IT seems to us, too, that employment of records to be played along with the reading of wills might be a good idea, too. That way, a guy could be explicit about how much Cousin Willie doesn't get—and, maybe, even why.

Recordings have many usages and among them, too little explored, are those which may be devised by an individual to outlast him, if need be.

Humberto Sosa Molina, Argentine war minister, is coming to Washington to discuss details of an agreement by which Argentine armament plants would be licensed by the United States to manufacture a number of the latest American weapons.

PEARSON

Sosa Molina is coming on the joint invitation of the National Defense and State departments. Accompanying him are Gen. Manuel Savio director of Argentine arms factories; Gen. Felix Urdipilleta, former minister of the interior, and various other high-ranking officers.

Conclusion of this deal will mean that, for all practical purposes, Juan D. Peron's Fascist Argentina has supplanted Brazil as our chief South American ally. It will also be a personal triumph for pleasant, persistent Gen. Carlos Von Der Becke, former Argentine chief of staff, who has spent almost two years selling Washington officials on the plan.

Von Der Becke first arrived in Washington in June, 1946, and laid the arms-licensing proposal before Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Ike gave him no encouragement, although there was much favorable sentiment and attempted pressure on lower levels of the War department.

Now Secretary of State Marshall, who always thought well of the idea, has become convinced that it should be put into practice, and has brought Gen. Omar Bradley around to his view. As usual, Marshall's decision was based strictly on strategic considerations, without regard for the ideological or political angles. Unfortunately, the effect on Brazil and other staunch friends of the U. S. A. will probably be disastrous.

Exit John Snyder?

Despite all the denials, it looks more and more as if Secretary of the Treasury Snyder is leaving his job in the Truman cabinet to join the Gianninis' Bank of America, largest bankers in the U. S. A.

Big, bluff, genial A. P. Giannini was in Washington the other day at a significant luncheon. Luncheon host was Eric Johnston, dynamic head of the Motion Picture Producers, and a director of Giannini's bank. Other guests included Paul Hoffman, head of the Marshall plan; Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, A. P. Giannini, Walter Braunschweiger, Giannini's executive vice president and Roland Pierotti, Giannini's Washington representative. John Snyder seemed to feel right at home among all the Gianninis.

When Tom McCabe was appointed chairman of the federal reserve board, replacing Giannini critic Marriner Eccles, the venerable west-coast banker was given credit for getting Eccles out. Though he denied this, it was interesting to note that last week in Washington, Giannini and the man who replaced Eccles as Federal Reserve board chairman, Tom McCabe, huddled alone in Eric Johnston's office.

NOTE—President Truman, though making a public commitment to appoint Marriner Eccles vice chairman of the Federal Reserve board, so far hasn't come across. Some people are attributing this to the strong hand of the Gianninis via John Snyder.

THE honeymoon appears to be over for those commodity speculators who have been manipulating their "long" and "short" trading accounts to evade income taxes.

The Internal revenue bureau has started an undercover probe of more than 600 speculators and their use of a loophole in the tax laws by which they convert short-term purchases and sales (transacted within six months) into long-term (over six months) accounts. By this simple device they escape taxes on 50 per cent of their net profits.

All the speculators have to do to reap this windfall is keep their accounts "open" on their books longer than six months. They do this simply by instructing their brokers to delay payments.

The Commodity Exchange authority, which tipped off the Treasury department about the tax-dodgers, estimates that last year they knocked down around $5,000,000 in unpaid taxes.

Merry Mortician

Acting Senate Leader Kenneth Wherry, the merry mortician, recently had the chaplain pray twice and start a new legislative day in the middle of a Senate session in order to bring up a bill that had not been carried on the Senate calendar its full time. By starting a new legislative day, the bill was given one extra day on the calendar, thus making it available for passage.

Afterward, when Wherry was razzed by his colleagues and accused of using the chaplain to cloak this unusual parliamentary maneuver, Senator Kilgore of West Virginia cracked:

"You can always depend on an undertaker to have everything on time for the obsequies."

Direct Transportation To The White House

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

ONE of the most likeable qualities in a woman is often summed up by "She's easy to have around."

The woman who fills that bill: Doesn't talk too much. A woman who talks constantly isn't easy for anyone to have around.

MILLETT

Is not a perfectionist. Most people aren't, so the perfectionist is too hard to please. She's too much trouble to try to live up to.

Is calm, rather than jittery A little of the companionship of a nervous, jittery woman goes as long,long way.

Takes things as they come. The person who gets upset over trifles or gets in a dither when plans have to be changed complicates things wherever she goes.

* * *

A GOOD SPORT

IS willing to fall in with what the majority wishes to do, and not in a "well, if that's what the rest of you want to do" manner, either.

Isn't bossy. No matter how good her ideas or her intentions are, the bossy woman is hard to put up with.

Isn't a clock watcher. The person who wants everything to run according to schedule is forever trying to hurry others and push them along faster than they want to go.

Hasn't a long list of violent dislikes. That kind of woman has to be catered to constantly.

Has a good sense of humor and knows how to use it.

Isn't temperamental. The woman who has emotional flare-ups on a moment's notice isn't the hit of any crowd.

Today's Thought

This then is the message which we have heard of him and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.—I John 1:5.

Reactionary Congress Would Be Disastrous At This Time

WASHINGTON—As the presidential campaign draws on, the headlines give us the views of Taft, Dewey, Stassen & Co., on a wide variety of subjects. We begin to get some idea of what the presidential candidates stand for.

CHILDS

In voting for Taft, Dewey or Stassen, we would have a reasonable expectation of the kind of President we would get. But of the kind of government we would have with a Republican sweep we can have no assurance.

The mystery lies in the complexion of the Congress to come in with a Republican President. It is a mystery that gets very little attention. Reading the headlines, the visitor from afar would think that the President and his cabinet were the sole authority in fixing policy and in carrying it out.

A sweeping Republican victory might well bring in a hopelessly reactionary Congress. A William McKinley congress elected in the middle of the twentieth century would be just as much of a disaster as a William McKinley President. Such a Congress could, in fact, make mincemeat of the honest pledges of the most forward-looking Republican President.

This sobering thought is underscored by the behavior of the present Republican Congress. Increasingly, the tendency is to try to defer decisions until next year. The voter has every right to demand to know what this means.

* * *

Hold Back Decisions

The latest and most significant example is the reciprocal trade agreements act that expires next month. Republican leaders in the House are apparently determined to put this decision over until next year through a year's extension which would leave the power of the chief executive to adjust tariff schedules more or less untouched.

This maneuver originates with such men as Chairman Harold Knutson of the House ways and means commitee and Representative Bertrand W. Gearhart of California. They stand for high tariff protectionism in the best McKinley tradition.

In postponing such a vital decision, they are plainly hinting at a sly belief that the time is not yet quite ready for the kind of action they really want. Wait, boys, they seem to be saying, until next year, when we have both branches of the government. Then we can go ahead and cut down this New Deal monstrosity.

Representative Gearhart said something very like that in a recent statement. He indicated that the GOP does not intend to consider the reciprocal trade program as part of a bi-partisan foreign policy.

The trade program is essential to world recovery. If a Republican victory is to mean an end to that program and a revival of old-fashioned protectionism, then we are entitled to know it now.

* *

LAST summer at Geneva and then this fall and winter in Havana, an enormous amount of work went into the outline of an international trade organization. Other countries, and Great Britain in particular, have made important concessions to the United States. They have surrendered certain advantages in order to go along with the American concept of world trade on a more or less free basis.

To throw that over now would be to nullify most of what has been done for European recovery. It would be a signal that the U. S. intended to sit behind its own high tariff wall and let the rest of the world get along as best it may. That was what the signal of the Smoot-Hawley tariff meant in 1930, and we have seen the terrible consequences that flowed from it.

In his Ohio primary campaign, Senator Taft has talked freely about the record of Congress, denouncing Stassen because he took no part in helping to make the record. That is all right as far as it goes.

But the fact is that the record of the Republican Congress is pretty spotty. It is skimped here and skimped there. If major decisions are to be put off until next year, the voter has a right to be suspicious of Republican intentions.

Even in his own field of housing, Senator Taft cannot do much pointing with pride. He has been able to get action out of the Senate. But nothing has moved the stubborn reactionaries in the House. The voter looking at the record wants to see accomplishment. He is interested in the out-

REALISTIC APPROACH TO ALCOHOLISM

The realistic approach of alcoholism as a disease which must be treated as such has been furthered in Texas by the location at Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, of a southwestern division of the Yale Institute of Alcoholic Studies which will be opened May 14th.

Basic purposes of the Yale institutes in Fort Worth and elsewhere are described as two-fold: First, research to seek all facts possible of every kind pertaining to the causes and results of excessive drinking of intoxicants; and, second, to train personnel qualified to aid in coping with the problems of alcoholism.

An increasing need for such personnel seems inevitable as schools, localities and humanitarian agencies devote more and more attention to these problems through preventive education and through clinics where the alcoholic can obtain treatment for the disease from which he suffers. The problem is one of gigantic proportions and an adequate trained personnel is an obvious necessity to any large-scale attack upon it.

The establishment of the institute at Texas Christian is a most important step toward the provision of trained people needed in our own state and the Southwest. It isn't to be expected the institute will work any miracles within the next one, two or five years. But it is the start of an endeavor which, given time, almost certainly will make the problems of the alcoholic and alcoholism far less acute than they are now

Treatment To Prolong Life Is Claimed By Italian Professor

ROME, May 6 (U.P.)—Two medical treatments, one designed to prolong life and the other to cure arthritis, are being discussed in Italy today. Both came to public notice in a somewhat bizarre way.

The treatment to prolong life popped up when Ermete Zacconi, 90-year-old actor, wrote to a weekly magazine denying that he was a patient of the famed Serge Voronoff, the monkey gland man.

His extraordinary energy, he wrote, was "due only to Fraschini therapy."

That threw the spotlight on Prof. Alcide Fraschini of Milan, who announced he had used "vital harmonic therapy" based largely on injections of vital hormones. Those, he said, were intended to restore internal balance and delay the changes which m an old age.

Says He Feels Younger

"I feel like a 50-year-old lad," Zacconi wrote to the magazine. "My only regret is that I learned of the Fraschini treatment only last year."

Fraschini said his injections were "a powerful biological energetic and the treatment is a new system designed to furnish to the human bodies a certain amount of vital hormones at their top efficiency."

The treatment, he explained, "is therefore not specifically aimed at increasing or stimulating sexual activity but is for the purpose of promoting an internal balance of hormones, which balance changes in relation to age, thus achieving prolongation of the organs' functions."

Fraschini claimed that Voronoff admitted that the Italian treatment "is the most logical and effective."

From Siena came word that Nicola Fiore, a chemist, probing in the drug store records of the medieval village of Le Piazze, discovered the "lost" formula for an arthritis treatment which brought fame and properity to Dr. Alberto Rinaldi a generation ago.

The formula disappeared when Rinaldi was murdered by a peasant in a dispute over some land in 1935.

Rinaldi's injections were credited with bringing relief to many afflicted persons, although he surrounded his treatment with mumbo-jumbo reminiscent of witchcraft. Arturo Toscanini is reputed to have been one of his patients.

Rinaldi treated his clients in the dead of night, waving an enormous syringe in one hand and a flaming torch in the other. He said the act served to awaken the chemical reactions he wanted from the body. After the injection, he often made his patients run around and shout until exhausted.

Another feature of his plan to arouse "abnormal agitation" was his high fees. No one would believe in a cheap treatment, anyhow, he contended. After his death every book in his library was found to shield a 1,000-lire note.

Permit For $32,000 Residence Issued

Permit for a $32,000 brick veneer residence at 2435 Twenty-seventh street for L. P. Bennett was included in $88,150 in newly authorized construction shown by city building department records today. Pribble & Bryan has the contract for the one-story three-bedroom dwelling.

Five other residence permits also were issued, including three to J. D. Sanders for dwellings costing $7,500 each at 3301, 3303 and 3305 Thirtieth. Another for a $10,000 house at 3313 Twenty-sixth was obtained by Sam Hallmark, while T. A. Bates was listed as contractor and W. H. Fielder as owner of a $3,250 dwelling at 2703 Merthel.

Other permits included: Broome Optical co., owner, and P. M. Porter, contractor, alterations to business building at 1214 Broadway, $11,500, and A. M. Johnston, owner, and C. C. Andrews, contractor, tourist court at 119-123 College avenue, $7,500. The optical firm is to be moved from its present quarters at 1201-A Broadway to 1214 Broadway, formerly occupied by the South Plains Music co.

The permits increased construction totals in Lubbock to $164,575 or the month and $4,383,451 for the year.

Hog, Challenge Are Sent To President

DYSART, Ia., May 6. (U.P.)—R. H. Daily, Iowa farmer, today challenged President Truman to try to make a profit raising hogs.

Daily sent a 230-pound prime butcher hog to Mr. Truman and asked him to feed it for 30 days and then try to sell it for a profit.

Daily said the packers are "taking advantage" of the meat strike by selling meat at prices out of line with what they pay for live porkers.

AMAZING RESULTS WITH MERTOX TONIC

Mrs. Ben Grossman of Houston writes us as follows:

"For a long time I have had occasional billious spells. My head would hurt and I would vomit my food. My last spell was very severe and I just thought I would die. My appetite was poor and I couldn't sleep at night. I was so troubled with my limbs stiffening just before I would have a spell of gas and bloat. I would be dizzy and I would have a severe headache. My food soured and it just seemed as if everything was wrong with me. To anyone suffering like I was, I recommend Mertox highly."

This splendid medicine, containing 25 ingredients, works fast to eliminate poisonous matter from your system. It helps to build rich, red blood. Relieves constipation within a few hours and helps to create a more rhythmic bowel action. Get Mertox Compound today from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

Fishing Boat Said Drifting With Ice

SEATTLE, May 6 (AP)—The 119-foot fishing boat Tootsie crashed into the ice 30 miles north of Port Heiden, Alaska, last night and was drifting with the ice today with 13 men aboard.

Distress calls from the vessel, bound from Port Oller to Nushagak, were picked up by the Coast Guard cutter Bittersweet. The Bittersweet put out from Cold bay, at the tip of the Alaskan peninsula, for the Tootsie and expected to reach her at 1 a. m. tomorrow (EST).

The Tootsie radioed that she was leaking aft.

Her supply of fresh water also was running low.

Planes from Kodiak and Port Randle were to try to reach the craft.

The Coast Guard was unable to identify the Tootsie's owner or any of the personnel aboard.

W. E. Johnson Rites Planned For Today

Final services will be held at the Tahoka Funeral Home chapel today for William Earl Johnson, 42, of 3006 Allen, who was crushed to death beneath the wheels if his own truck early Wednesday on an incline on the Morton Plains highway 14 miles south of Morton. The services are tentatively set for 4 p. m., pending arrival of a relative.

Investigating officers said they believed that the victim had been working on his truck and that one of the dual rear wheels rolled over him.

Survivors include his wife, a 14 year-old step-child, Jimmy Craddick; his father, George Johnson, of Paris; and two sisters, Mrs. Floy Rogers, of Bairdstown, Irene Simpson, Seminole; and a brother, T. C. Johnson, of Seminole.

James C. Plemons To Be Reburied Friday

The body of James Cecil Plemons of Lubbock will arrive Friday morning from a Fort Worth army depot for burial here tomorrow afternoon at 5 p. m. in Memorial Park cemetery. Final rites will be held at the graveside, with a Veterans of Foreign Wars chaplain officiating and members of of the V. F. W. in attendance.

Plemons, who entered the Army Air Corps in September, 1939, was killed Oct. 15, 1942, while serving as flight engineer on a B-24 volunteer search mission over the Cocos Islands off the coast of Central America. The plane crashed into a mountain and the entire crew was killed.

Sgt. Plemons was pothumously awarded the Soldier's medal for bravery and heroism displayed during the rescue mission in which he was killed. He was also awarded the Air medal for meritorious achievement while participating in long range patrol flights over the Pacific and Caribbean approaches to the Panama canal as aerial engineer over 200 hours from May, 1942 to August, 1943.

He is survived by his wife, a son, James C. jr.; his father, J. H. Plemons of Smyer, and two brothers, Bill and Clyde Plemons of Smyer.

Man Who Voted For Abe Favors Dewey

LEBANON, Ore., May 6.—(INS)—A man who voted for Abraham Lincoln told Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today that he is just as strongly for the New York governor as he was for "Honest Abe."

The centenarian is "Uncle Jimm" Smith of near Waterloo, Ore., who is now 105 years old. He voted for Lincoln in 1864 and he says he has cast his ballot for Republicans ever since.

Smith was introduced to Dewey on the stage of the Lebanon High school auditorium, where the New York governor spoke to 1200 students and townsfolk.

The Free Territory of Trieste is one-quarter the size of Rhode sland.

MAY ABANDON PORT

SHANGHAI, Thursday, May 6 (AP)—Plans to abandon the northern port of Chefoo to the Communists were reported today without government confirmation. Dispatches from Tsingtao said a large number of ships had sailed from that Shantung peninsula port northward to withdraw the nationalist garrison.

Tri-Cities Airport Operating At Loss

McALLEN, May 6. (AP)—Plans to continue operating the Tri-Cities Municipal airport in spite of losses had been announced today by Mayor T. B. Waite, jr., of McAllen.

Waite and Mayors Felix McDonald of Edinburg and W. H. Braden of Mission yesterday made public an audit which showed that the airport, operated jointly by the three cities, had a net loss of $3,542 in the last four months.

Crosses dating from the 5th century have been found on the British Isle of Man.

Union Head Denies Communist Charge

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—Reid Robinson, a CIO union official, is back in the United States following his deportation by Canada on a charge of being a Communist. Robinson says he is not a Communist.

The eastern president of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers was released at the border here yesterday by a Canadian immigration official. He left a few hours later for his home in Chicago.

Robinson went to Canada last fall to organize gold field workers of northern Ontario. He had been held in jail since his appeal against a deportation order was rejected two weeks ago by an Ontario supreme court.

Ottawa officials ordered him deported under a rule which permits deportation of aliens found to be Communists. He was arrested in Timmins, Ont., March 23. Immigration officials charged he favored overthrow of the Canadian government by force and that he had been connected with Communists in the United States before going to Canada.

Robinson said he was deported for "union activity," and denied what he termed "the ridiculous charges of advocating violent overthrow of the Canadian government." He added that he "was not and never had been a Communist."

London Communist Editor Asks Press To Protest Executions

LONDON, May 6. (AP)—In a special frontpage appeal, Daily Worker Editor William Rust called upon fellow editors today to protest against the execution Tuesday of 152 Greek Communists.

Claiming that 830 more are to be executed within 10 days, the Communist paper's editor declared:

"A powerful protest from the London press could save the lives of these men.

Convicted Of Murder

"When one man was shot in Bulgaria your newspaper denounce this act for weeks on end."

(His reference apparently was to the execution of Nikola Petkov, Bulgarian peasant leader and Communist foe, who was hanged last September for plotting against Bulgaria's Communist-controlled government.)

Those executed in Greece Tuesday all were convicted murder, most of them in connection with the leftist revolt of 1944.

Government Shocked

Christopher Meyhew, a foreign office undersecretary, told the House of Commons yesterday that the British government had been shocked by the executions. He said the British ambassador in Athens had been instructed to inform the Greek government of that fact "in the strongest terms."

The leftist League for Greek Democracy said it was asking Prime Minister Stalin of Russia, Henry A. Wallace of the United States and Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations to intervene to save others awaiting execution.

Uncle Sam imported 1663 tons of dried figs in 1946-47 and 921 tons of these came from Turkey.

"Kissing Jim" Folsom, Alabama Governor, Marries 21-Year-Old

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 6 (AP)—Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama, whose antics with the women earned him the title of "Kissing Jim," has married the 21-year-old girl who once left him speechless.

The surprise wedding of the six-feet, eight-inch widower to Miss Jamelle Moore, who stands five-feet-five, took place late yesterday at Rockford, Ala.

For the 39-year-old governor and father of two small daughters, his marriage to the brunette, state-employed secretary was the climax to a busy 24-months, political and otherwise.

Named In Suit

Early last March he was named defendant in a paternity suit brought by an attractive red-haired divorcee who charged he was the father of her two-year-old son. He shortly thereafter took a trip to Washington and New York.

In Washington, government secretaries leaned out of windows and some even whistled. In New York a models group crowned him the most eligible bachelor of the year, and he stopped traffic on Fifth avenue by kissing most of the girls within reach.

Still later in Texas he was photographed on a kissing spree and even before this there were stories of his cross-country romance with Virginia Warren, daughter of California Gov. Earl Warren.

After yesterday's ceremony at a little Baptist church, the governor and his bride returned to Montgomery for a brief talk with newspapermen. Afterwards the governor and Mrs. Folsom disappeared, the governor saying he planned to be back in the office today.

Tells Of Meeting

The governor told the newspapermen of his first meeting with the young girl who now is the first lady of Alabama.

"I was making a speech," he said, "when I was running for governor. I saw her in the crowd and I stopped speaking. I missed about a minute of my speech before I could catch up."

While the new Mrs. Folsom toyed with a lock of hair and observed, "I feel like I'm going around in circles," the governor told how the wedding came about.

"We just took off from work," he said. "She quit her job today. She just up and lost her job at the highway department."

The governor and Mrs. Folsom were accompanied to the church by a member of his staff, Bill Lyerly, and Mrs. Winston Stewart, wife of the probate judge who issued the license.

Mrs. Folsom attended high school in Ensley, Ala., and became a cheer leader and memebr of the rifle team.

While the governor was talking with newspapermen, his two daughters, Rachel, 8, and Melissa, 5, played on the lawn outside the executive mansion. His first wife died in 1944.

"The girls," said Folsom, "are all for it."

The paternity suit against Folsom, was brought by Mrs. Christine Johnston of Hanceville. A hearing has been set for May 12.

The wedding came just as Folsom's presidential aspirations were taking a tumble.

A candidate for delegate-at-large in Tuesday's democratic primary, Folsom had said he would stump other states on benalf of his candidacy if he received an overwhelming vote.

At last count Folsom was tenth in a field of 24 candidates, eight of whom were to be elected.

New Inducements Offered By Guard

Seeking to interest more eligibles in National Guard membership, a list of inducements as provided under the present law, was cited yesterday by Lt. S. K. Flatt of the local Guard unit, following its release by Adjutant General K. L. Berry.

Lt. Flatt also stressed the weekly meetings of the local unit, each Monday night at the base, with outbound pickups as follows: at courthouse 7:10, American Legion hall 7:15, Broadway and Ave. Q 7:20, Broadway and College Ave., 7:30, and Green Acres at 7:40, allowing time to reach the base for the 8 o'clock meeting.

Among inducements offered for Guard membership are:

Longevity pay for armory training as well as for summer training; longevity pay in federal army, navy, marine and coast guard service; exemption from service (not registration) under universal military training bill as now written; exemption from registration and service under selective service as the bill now is written; eligibility for retirement pay under the proposed non-disability bill.

Prospective members are warned that in order to have advantage of any such exemption, he must be a member when the legislation is passed. Otherwise he will be subject to removal from the reservist component and called for immediate service.

Men Are Spanked By Crusading Woman Writer In New Book

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 6 — April Taylor, who gave up teaching school to crusade for her sex, has given the male of the species one of the most savage spankings on record.

"All men tell lies to all women," is Miss Taylor's theme. Her catalogue of what is wrong with the opposite sex runs for 185 pages of a newly published book, "Love Is a Four-Letter Word" (Beechhurst Press).

There is one grudging chapter in which Miss Taylor admits there may be some good in very few men. She titles it "A Good Man Is Hard to Find."

But for the most part Miss Taylor is swinging without her fine kid gloves. On behalf of the masculine victims of Miss Taylor's attack, I lunched with her to inquire whence sprang all this venom.

Ready To Wed Again

Miss Taylor is a shy, nice-looking brunette who usually hides her shyness behind dark glasses. She has been thrice divorced but hastened to assure me that it had not affected her viewpoint and she was looking forward to a fourth marriage.

"I still love every one of my husbands dearly and wish them well, wherever they are," she said, sounding as though she meant it. "I wrote the book because I've felt that too many men have for too long forgotten too much for too little."

When word of the text got around, Miss Taylor's book began to sell in the thousands before publication, presumably to women who wanted ammunition for belaboring husbands or boy friends. They got plenty.

"A man in pajamas likes to feel like a god," said Miss Taylor apropos of nothing that had gone before. Then she said that married women "who are lovely, sensitive souls, trying to hold fast to some poetry in this world," usually fall in with that mood by telling their husbands they are wonderful.

They Believe Them

And what does womankind get for this kindhearted co-operation? The married man is usually out looking for a girl friend he can tell my-wife-doesn't-understand-me. And the poor girl friend, also clutching fiercely at the poetry of the world, believes him.

For such a double betrayal Miss Taylor said she had less than contempt. She wants men to recognize marriage for what it really is—a comfort, a solace, a refuge, an unworldly companionship. And if a man looks at it only as a plot against freedom he's better off single.

"Better off dead," amended Miss Taylor.

With more than a dozen trips abroad to her credit, Miss Taylor, basing her opinion on information and belief, says the American man is the best all-around male.

Italians, she says, are the most eloquent lovers and invincible in that department on their home grounds. She doesn't think much of the French ("too much art, not enough heart") and confirms the standard opinion that the Briton would rather play cricket.

Measles Cases Are Reported For City

A concensus of opinion taken from reports of several children's physicians today indicated that while there are several cases of measles in Lubbock, there was no reason to believe that the condition had reached an epidemic stage.

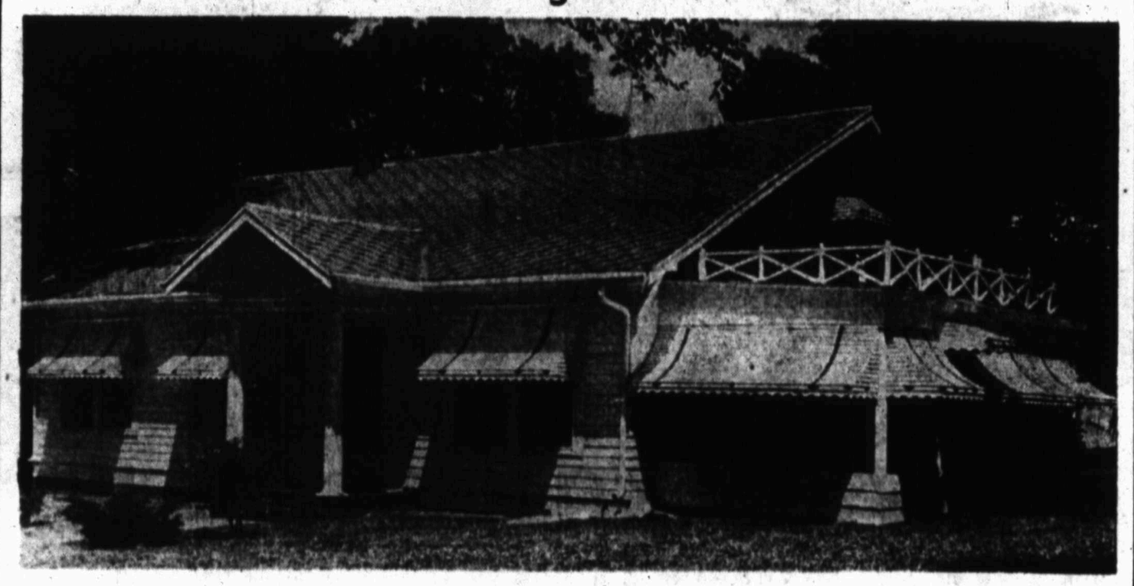

One physician stated the increase in cases of German, or red, measles, is a cyclical occurrence, usually reaching its peak in April and the early part of May, and that the number of cases can reasonably be expected to decline in the near future.

Two of the physicians expressed regret that measles are no longer classified as a quarantinable disease in Texas, and stated that the increase often may be traced to contagion from another youngster at school or at the movies.
