Peronist Poggi Fails In Bid For Argentine Power

Fronzizi's Guido New Army Chief

By SAM SUMMERLIN
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Jose Maria Guido, supported by a tough cavalry general and a column of tanks, gained the upper hand over ultimatum-bearing Argentine military chiefs Saturday just as civil war seemed to be exploding.

The diminutive president imposed a truce while insurgent armor stormed into the outskirts of Buenos Aires and probed machine gun and artillery emplacements of army commander Gen. Raul Poggi in the heart of the capital.

The crisis, the nearest Argentina has come to serious blood-letting since dictator Juan D. Peron was ousted seven years ago, burgeoned when cavalry Gen. Enrique Rauch launched unexpectedly an insurrection against the army high command on Friday night from Campo de Mayo, Argentina's most important military camp, 30 miles outside the capital.

The insurrection snowballed and surprised Poggi, key leader in deposing and imprisoning President Arturo Frondizi on March 29. Guido is Fronzizi's military-picked successor.

All morning it seemed blood would be spilled on the issue of whether Peronists, who won in the March 18 elections, would be barred from office by Guido's dictatorial decree, as the high command demanded, or by legal processes sanctioned by Congress, as the insurgents insisted.

The upshot was a dramatic summit conference of Argentina's generals and admirals behind the heavily guarded gates of Guido's suburban residence.

Rauch, 48, commander of the cavalry corps at Campo de Mayo, came out smiling and declared himself satisfied with a truce formula proposed by Guido himself.

Poggi, sourly waved to newsmen and refused to talk. As events unfolded it seemed clear Guido had triumphed.

The main development suggesting this was, when Guido's office announced the appointment of Gen. Juan Bautista Loza, comparatively unknown politically, as the new army secretary, with a free hand to name his own army commander-in-chief.

In seven-minute ceremonies attended by Rauch, Guido swore in Loza as the new army boss late in the afternoon.

This meant Poggi, was through, as well as Gen. Marino Bartolome Carrera, army secretary, who resigned Friday night.

The showdown came quickly after Rauch, solidly based with more than 12,000 soldiers and 150 Sherman tanks at his command at Campo de Mayo, ordered an armored column to advance on Buenos Aires.

Poggi, depending on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Motorized Infantry Regiments, deployed defenders in trenches of the national radio station, the national radio station.

His forces wheeled out light artillery and anti-aircraft pieces behind a barricade of buses and cars around the dominating War Ministry building facing the Plaza de Mayo and pink-walled Government House in the heart of the city.

Rauch's tanks and armored personnel carriers stormed on into the suburbs, despite the risks of warfare, and 60 men seized control of the national radio station. But just as it seemed that something would break out, cars filled with generals began arriving at Guido's gates to seek a peaceful solution.

Gary Powers' Wife Stricken

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barbara Powers, wife of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, has regained consciousness, but officials at Georgetown University Hospital said today they still didn't know what caused her illness.

Mrs. Powers was admitted to the hospital suffering from what police described as an overdose of sleeping tablets.

A hospital spokesman said she regained consciousness about 10 o'clock Friday night and was responding well. Her general condition is satisfactory, the spokesman said. "As yet there has been no diagnosis. She is still being studied to determine the cause of her illness."

Powers, who spent 18 months in a Soviet prison after being convicted of spying on an aerial flight over Russia in May 1960, called "an ambulance in the couple's suburban Alexandria, Va., apartment early Friday morning.

Mrs. Powers was taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where she was treated and then transferred to Georgetown University Hospital for condition at the time was described as very serious.

Dr. G. E. Schneider, her attending physician, said the 27-year-old brunette was being treated for acute gastritis because "medication was available (but) we don't know if she took them."

Overthrow Movement Blossoms

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A new non-political military movement aimed at overthrowing Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist government has been organized underground in Cuba and openly in the United States.

A committee of three designated to represent the group in the United States announced formation of the movement Friday. The committee said Col. Ramon Barquin, former Cuban army officer operating a military school in Puerto Rico, had been chosen from inside Cuba to organize and head the movement.

Ignacio Mendoza, one of the three committee members, said the movement had begun operations underground in Cuba. He declined to elaborate, saying the military aspects of the movement would be secret.

Another committee member, Jose Aleman, said the movement would remain nameless because of its military functions.

AEC Gives Out Word On Underground Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced another underground nuclear test of low yield was conducted at the Nevada test site Saturday.

It was the 29th announced since the United States resumed testing. A low-yield nuclear explosion is equivalent to 20,000 tons of TNT.

Gen. Walker Blasts JFK Guard Stand

HOUSTON (AP)—Former General Edwin A. Walker asked President Kennedy Saturday night to turn over control of the Texas National Guard to the state.

Walker is a Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas. "In view of the national government's release of all state and national sovereignty under its announced program to place all arms and weapons under the control of the state militia," Walker said.

"American youth will be subject to draft by the United Nations. The original state militia, now the National Guard, must be returned to state control as a last line of defense."

Walker flared out copies of the wire at a press conference in Houston. Part of the Texas guard is an active duty now.

He told the three reporters present he considers disarmament "the most important of all issues before the public today" and refused to discuss Maj. Arch Roberts.

Roberts, who said he is a former aid to Walker, was suspended by the Army for making an unapproved speech. He has also said he is the author of the "pro-blue" program Walker used for troop instructions while stationed in Germany.

"I may have something to say about Maj. Roberts Monday night," Walker said. "I think I will have a statement then."

Campaign workers said before Walker's conference he changed his campaign plans on the spur of the moment and made an unscheduled stop in Houston to discuss Roberts with newsmen.

"Don't mind talking about Maj. Roberts," Walker said. But he never did.

Walker is to speak at a dinner here Monday.

He said 20 copies of his wire to Kennedy went to Gen. Edwin A. Walker, another candidate in the race. "I consider Kennedy's plan to place all armed forces and weapons under the United Nations to be a complete and final refutation of the Constitution of the United States," Walker said.

Friendliness Being Proved In Snyder

Proof that Snyder is a city of friendly people is being well demonstrated by the large number of nominees for the "friendliest, most courteous" employes in Snyder.

Winners of the contest for the "friendliest, most courteous" man employe and "friendliest, most courteous" woman employe will each receive a $50 bond. Owners and managers of the firms are not eligible.

Voting must be done on the official ballots which are found in The Snyder Daily News. The latest nominees include:

Francis Burdfield, Snyder Glass & Mirror; Nida Blacksher, Anthony's; Marietta Black, Dell's Twinkle Shop; Billy Rhyne, Clark Lumber Co.; Lurline Creswell, J's Super Market; Mrs. Burton Tankersley, Burgess Pharmacy; Bobby Krause, Piggly Wiggly; Bobby Melton, Piggly Wiggly; Tommy Rogers, Furr's Super Market; Johnny Starnes, Rainbow Market; Vera Stansell, Perry Bros.; Raymond Stansell, Higginbotham-Bartlett; Edith Shillit, Perry Bros.

Good Weather Due For Today

The Weather Bureau's Easter forecast for the Snyder area calls for partly cloudy skies with the possibility of a little cooler weather today.

The mercury reached a high of 56 degrees both Friday and Saturday. The low Friday night was a summer-like 62 degrees.

On the Texas scene, the maximum temperature reported to the Weather Bureau Saturday was 72 degrees at Wink in Far West Texas. Galveston's 73 was the lowest maximum. Daltner's Saturday morning reading of 41 degrees was the state's coldest.

No precipitation was reported, although scattered thundershowers are possible today, mostly in northeast and north central Texas.

Sunny skies and balmy temperatures are in store for the eastern third of the nation. Showers and brisk winds but mild temperatures were forecast for the nation's midlands from the lower Mississippi Valley to lower Michigan. Fair and cooler was on tap for the Great Plains. Fair skies and somewhat higher temperatures were predicted for the Rockies, the northern Great Plains and plateau regions.

A cold front sweeping across the western Great Plains stirred up strong northerly winds over the Dakotas, Nebraska and Wyoming.

The front, charged into Kansas in 70-mile winds, tapping some ahead of it, the mercury rose to 85 in Kansas City, breaking the 1910 record for the date.

Locally heavy snow fell for a short period at Casper, Wyo., and readings were in the 30s and 40s.

Widespread showers and thunderstorm activity broke out across the upper Mississippi Valley and upper Great Lakes regions.

By 11 a.m. the rain was over the entire area. The East Coast was generally clear over the West, except for light rain in western Washington.

SNYDER AREA OIL

C.T. McLanphin of Snyder has completed No. 1 Browning the east side of Scurry County's Varel (Glorieta) field.

The project pumped 7 barrels of 34-gravity oil, plus 75 per cent water, daily from perforations at 2,722-82 feet, which had been fractured with 45,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was nil.

The well is four miles east of Fluvanna and 330 feet from south and west lines of section 511, block 97, H&G survey.

Headwaters Oil Company of Dallas will drill No. 1 J.A. Roland, a 6,900-foot Pennsylvanian test 3 1/2 miles southwest of Girard in Kent County.

Drill site is three miles north of the Boomerang (Strawn) field, 1/2 mile southwest of a 7,000-foot failure and 660 feet from north and 750 feet from east lines of section 84, block 1, H&G survey.

Petroleum Producers, Inc. of Snyder will re-enter and clean out to 2,500 feet the No. 4 M.A. Fuller, seven miles northwest of Derr in the Corazon (San Andres) field.

It spots 1,650 feet from north and 1,004 feet from west lines of section 603, block 37, H&G survey.

New producer in the Iatan-East Howard field is Bond Oil Corporation's No. 8-AT L&N, five miles southeast of Coahoma and 900 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 20, T&P survey.

It pumped 52 barrels of 29.5-gravity oil, plus 50 per cent water, daily from perforations at 2,775-2,861 feet, after being fractured with 40,000 gallons.

United Production Company will drill two 3,000-foot tests in the Iatan-East Howard field, eight miles southeast of Coahoma in Howard County. Both spot in section 10, block 31-T-S, T&P survey.

The No. 9-A-W Denman-Jones is located 660 feet from south and 10 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of the section, and the No. 10-A-W Denman-Jones spots 660 feet from south and 50 feet from west lines of section 10.

Berlin Incident Scatters Tourists

BERLIN (AP)—Hundreds of Berliners and tourists on Easter holiday watched a brief battle of automatic weapons and tear gas between East and West Berlin police Saturday.

The trouble began when an East German policeman lobbed a tear-gas grenade at tourists in the West sector who ventured close for a look at the wall. The Communists built across the divided old German capital.

Nobody was hurt, though both East German and French armored cars rushed to the scene. About 20 shots were fired, and half a dozen tear-gas grenades exploded.

It happened on Bernauerstrasse, made a showplace by West Berlin authorities where visitors can get a good look at the wall. Sightseeing buses include it on their tours. There were dozens of buses there when the trouble started.

Ts Vopas, the green-uniformed police of East Berlin, kept a close watch on the wall from the second-story windows over an old hardware store. When one of them threw a teargas grenade at the tourists. West police replied with tear gas of their own.

The Vopas came back with two bursts of 10 shots each from his machine pistol. Two West Berlin patrolmen replied with bursts from Tommy guns.

It was all over in a few minutes, and the tourists were soon crowding the street again. West police kept them on the sidewalk at a safer distance from the wall.

Tens of thousands of West Germans and foreigners are in Berlin for the Easter holiday. All of them want a look at the wall.

Pilgrims Crowd Jerusalem For Easter Rites

By DAVID LACASHIRE
 JERUSALEM (AP) — Pilgrims of many Christian faiths joined on this Easter Sunday morning to celebrate the Resurrection of Christ.

Midnight Mass ushered in the joyous holy day in ceremonies near the site of Christ's birth, agony and crucifixion.

Lights from the Mount of Olives twinkled over this darkened, ancient city in the hush before dawn.

Catholic worshippers gathered in the churches of St. Stephen and St. Saviour near the heavily guarded frontier of Israel to sing of the Resurrection.

Baptists, Methodists, Protestants and other faiths assembled for outdoor services at the rock of the garden tomb near Damascus Gate. Here, they held, lies the true crypt of Jesus. Other Christians believe it is within the massive Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

It was in the 1,800-year-old Church of the Holy Sepulcher, built by the Crusaders, that Saturday's celebrations began, at dawn.

Black-clad dragoons, with curved silver swords led Bishop Fulgenio Passini through the church to perform "the blessing of the fire."

Beside the Stone of Unction, where Christ's body was anointed, the bishop lit a candle to symbolize the light of the earth rising from the tomb.

The procession of hundreds of tourists solemnly followed the service to an altar before an ornate Byzantine sepulcher, erected over the tomb itself.

The only keys to the ancient church—the most hallowed spot in Christendom—have been held by a Moslem family named Jouhad since Saladin reconquered Jerusalem.

French Secret Army General To Be Tried

By HARVEY HUDSON
 PARIS (AP)—Gen. Raoul Salan, imprisoned chief of the European Secret Army, was formally accused Saturday of attacking the authority of the state in his campaign to keep Algeria, France, convicted on the charge carries the death penalty.

The charge was read to Salan in the stock exchange's prison cell. Prison officials said Salan, still wearing his black moustache and black-tipped hair, appeared relaxed as examining Magistrate Guy Courcel read the complaint. Under French law, a prisoner must be formally charged within 48 hours of arrest.

Earlier, Salan had been pictured as resigned, tired, seemingly without hope, as he told police interrogators his arrest was inevitable — "everything was collapsing around us."

Bemedaled Salan, former supreme French military commander in Algeria, was arrested Friday in Algiers. For the past year he had been in underground revolt against the Algerian policies of President Charles de Gaulle.

Reaction to his capture caused new bloodshed in Algeria, and Gen. Edmond Jouhad went into hiding. They formed the underground Secret Army Organization (OAS) which rallied European settlers for a last-ditch terrorist campaign against Algerian independence.

Salan and Jouhad were stripped of rank as generals at the time of the plot. Jouhad was captured in Oran March 23 and has been sentenced to death. The same fate probably awaits Salan—and he seemed to know it when he arrived at the prison gates Friday night.

Salan's trial probably will open around May 15. The investigating magistrate who will prepare the case for the special high military court—the same court that sentenced Jouhad to death—interrupted his Easter vacation to start work.

De Gaulle will meet with the Superior Council of Magistrates Tuesday to review the Jouhad case in a clemency hearing. No matter what the magistrates recommended, the final decision will be up to De Gaulle.

Letters and newspaper editorials have been urging a commutation of sentence for Jouhad, a native Algerian who said he could not stand idly by while his homeland was being torn from France. Many sentimental factors have been brought into play for Jouhad that probably cannot be made to work for Salan.

At Sainte Prison, Salan told police: "I saw too many people for silly reasons. People that I didn't know. That is probably how I was captured. But I was probably now, or later. What difference does it make? Everything was collapsing around us."

Salan told police he had planned a complete reorganization of the secret army in Metropolitan France and that one of the projects was to kidnap Marshal Juin and take him to Ireland. He said that in Ireland Marshal Juin would have been put at the head of a movement for a free French Algeria.

Marshal Juin, a native of Algeria, had expressed sympathy for Salan and the secret army but carefully remained aloof from their activities. He was kept in house arrest for a few days in Paris for sending a letter of encouragement to Salan.

BERLIN (AP)—Rudolf Hess, once Adolf Hitler's deputy, will be 68 next Thursday. It will be his 21st birthday in the hands of Hitler's enemies. He flew to Scotland in May 1941, and was taken captive.

Hess is one of the three people in Berlin still living under the joint rule of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France. The others are Albert Speer, Hitler's munitions minister, and Arthur von Schirach, his youth leader.

The three prisoners spend their time reading and gardening. They are allowed one 30-minute visit a month, but Hess does not receive visitors. At least this was the situation six years ago. Allied authorities now refuse any information on the prisoners.

It costs more than $60,000 a year to maintain the prison. West Berlin has to make up its budget, there are complaints about the cost of maintaining this large prison for three men. So far, however, the big four powers have not been able to agree about doing anything else with them.

EVIDENCE BOUND FOR GRAND JURY

Wilson Claims Airtight Case Against Financier

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said Saturday he has a clear-cut anti-trust case against Pecos financier Billie Sol Estes and his office will present the evidence to the Potter County grand jury in Amarillo next week.

Wilson said this would be done during the latter part of the week, perhaps next Thursday. Evidence would be taken that the large-scale sales of anhydrous ammonia but also Estes' grain-storage operations.

"It is against the state anti-trust law to sell below cost for the purpose of injuring or driving out a competitor," Wilson explained in an interview.

The sixth court of inquiry into Estes' operations was concluded in Dallas Friday. The Pecos financier already is under federal indictment for fraud.

"We really have just started out work in the case," Wilson said. "We have not had access to many of Estes' personal records—many of his personal bank accounts. All of that evidence is now in possession of receivers. But we have pending a request in federal court in El Paso before Federal Judge R. E. Thomason to obtain access to Estes' bank accounts and other personal records which we have not seen."

"If and when we get access to those, we might want to hold further courts of inquiry."

The attorney general, a candidate for governor, said he was more than satisfied with the six courts of inquiry conducted this month.

"They have had far-reaching consequences and an amazing amount of evidence has turned up," he said. "Reverberations have been heard around the country and in Washington. One U.S. Agriculture Department official has resigned and another has been fired."

Two courts of inquiry were held in Dallas and others at Amarillo, Plainview, Pecos and Lubbock.

"Frankly, I put many witnesses on the stand without knowing what they were going to say."

Our County Judge Should Be A Lawyer Re-Elect
Judge J. Ray Martin To A Second Term

The Constitution of the State of Texas (Art. V, Sec. 15) provides: "There shall be established in each county in this State a County Court, which shall be a court of record; and there shall be elected in each county, by the qualified voters, a County Judge, who SHALL BE WELL INFORMED IN THE LAW OF THE STATE..."

At the end of this year, 1962, Judge J. Ray Martin will complete his first term of office as Judge of our County Court. He should be elected to a second term.

Unlike Dallas County, Lubbock County, and numerous other larger counties in Texas, Scurry County does not have separate County Courts at Law, Juvenile Courts, and Probate Courts to try civil and criminal cases, condemnation suits and contested probate matters; consequently, our County Judge presides over the trial of all civil and criminal cases over which the County Court has jurisdiction, including condemnation suits instituted by the State of Texas. He exercises appellate jurisdiction over all cases, civil and criminal, appealed from the Corporation Court and all Justice of the Peace Courts in the county. As Probate Judge, the County Judge appoints administrators of estates, often valued at many thousands of dollars, and exercises supervision over these proceedings; appoints guardians of minors and persons of unsound mind; hears all applications to probate wills; and handles all proceedings for the commitment of persons mentally disturbed. Our County Judge also acts as Juvenile Judge presiding over the trial of minors charged with the commission of criminal offenses. Our County Judge is actually judge of four courts; and, in addition, he acts as the chief administrative and budget officer of the county, presiding over all meetings of the Commissioners Court.

The following are excerpts from editorial columns of leading Texas newspapers:

"No layman could possibly perform the many duties imposed upon a County Judge as well as a lawyer..."

"As has been pointed out, the very title of County Judge signifies an affiliation with the law. One who is untrained in the law, and who attempts to perform legal or judicial services, must rely upon the advice of a person with legal training. In criminal cases, it is normally the County Attorney, and in civil cases it would most likely be an attorney participating in the case. Neither of these situations can afford the court the impartiality, which is absolutely necessary for a fair trial..."

"It is inconceivable that a layman could do as good a job as County Judge as a lawyer..."

J. Ray Martin, a native-born Texan 42 years of age, is a highly qualified lawyer, having received an LL. B. degree from Columbia University in 1947. As an experienced trial lawyer he is a member of the State Bar of Texas, the Scurry County Bar Association, and the American Bar Association. He is also licensed to practice before the Tax Court of the United States and is the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit. Prior to his entering upon the practice of law in Snyder in 1949, he served two years as an officer in the School of Business Administration at Texas State University at Denton, from which school he had received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1942 with high honors.

Judge Martin has demonstrated his ability, competence, and honesty during his first term of office.

Land Grant College Era Marks 100th Anniversary

Yesterday's celebration of the traditional muster of Texas Aggies reminds us that this year marks the 100th anniversary of the "land grant" college era in the United States.

Texas A&M College is a land grant college, which means that it was established under provisions of the Morrill Act so named because it was introduced by a Vermont Congressman, Justin Morrill. His bill is credited with starting a sort of higher education revolution in this country, which, in turn, is generally credited with playing a vital role in the greatest industrial, technological and agricultural development in the history of the world.

American history indicates that the Morrill Act did indeed revolutionize higher education in the United States. Until its passage college courses were firmly fixed. The Vermont Congressman's bill provided for land grants to the states for the purpose of supporting colleges which provided elective courses and which specifically called for the establishing of courses in agriculture, engineering and in military training.

Thus, the land grant colleges represented a sharp departure from conventional academic curricula which had prevailed for centuries in colleges and universities, not only in America, but on other continents as well.

Prior to the Morrill Act, there were no schools of agriculture and no schools of engineering or technology.

There are land grant colleges in all of the states, and their effect upon industrial and technological development is evident on every hand. They did not do the job alone, because once the dike was broken other colleges adopted similar, or related curricula. But the land grant colleges innovated and have continued to lead in these varied fields. The 100th anniversary of the "movement"

Backstage...

If we were to ask what headlines you would like to see in tomorrow's paper, many people would say: "Scientists Find Cure For Cancer." An end to cancer can't come too soon. This year, 1962, marks a quarter century of progress in the fight against cancer. These past 25 years have seen Americans unite solidly under the banner of the American Cancer Society. As a result, greater progress has been made toward conquering this disease than in all the rest of mankind's history. Today one million people, now living, have been cured. In fact, doctors could cure one half of all cancer patients—if the disease is detected and treated in time. Let's all support the cancer society in their drives this week, and perhaps within the next 25 years we'll be able to write the headline that says "Victory Over Cancer."

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, presented an interesting observation on goals for "academic excellence" during his speech at the teachers banquet here Tuesday night.

He said a lot of people are calling for more academic strength in schools, and in almost every case the first thing they suggest is a shift of the curriculum. He suggested that more effort should be directed toward getting the most from the present curriculum, but noted that it would require some "help from the homes" in getting the pupils to apply themselves.

Dr. Cornette noted that teachers and school administrators have been interested in academic excellence for a long time, but too often have been unable to detect any concrete evidence of similar interest among parents, judging from the attitudes of the pupils toward the basic curriculum.

Even governors have troubles, just as you and I. We learned this Wednesday down in Big Spring. Two bellhops, one publicity man, this reporter and one unidentified member of Big Spring's Daniel for Governor committee spent five minutes looking for the governor's hat. The committee man from Big Spring was the hero, but where he found it we still don't know. But such a look or triumph as he trotted into the hotel lobby with the governor's hat perched up on top of his head we haven't seen in a long time.

He tried the governor's hat on for size, but found it way too small.

TO VISIT KOREAN "SONS"—Mrs. Grover Thomas of Lawton, Okla., who has befriended hundreds of Korean Army officers attending U. S. ## Tech Alumni To Gather May 5

A get-together of all Texas Tech ex-students and supporters within the Scurry County area has been arranged here for the evening of May 5, when barbecue and entertainment will be sandwiched in with the fellowship that has already been assured.

The fête will be held at the Towle Park Pavilion that evening beginning at 7 o'clock. Cost of tickets is to be $1.25 per person, which will cover the cost of the meal.

Tickets will be placed on sale Monday, and may be bought anytime through May 3 from either Roy Burgess, Dan Cotton, B. L. Dryden, Jim Erwin, Bob Hargrove or Ernie Sears.

The entertainment of the evening will be a film spotlighting a recent Tech athletic event. The title and text of the film will be announced at a later date.

All Raider exes and other supporters of the college are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Snyderites To Aid With Student Fair

Four Snyder men have parts on the program of the West Texas Student Craftsman's Fair at Odessa College on April 23. They are W. A. Mayfield, Frank Miller, Bill Raborn and Joe Harwell.

Mayfield, who is Director of the State Industrial Arts Students' Association, and Director of the State Students' Fair at Texas A&M, is in charge of the Fair's opening and closing ceremonies and will give the invocation at the Awards luncheon scheduled for 1 p.m. in the Odessa College Student Union Building.

Miller is director of the work section of the student exhibits. Raborn is co-director of the electrical exhibit and Joe Harwell is co-director of the mechanical exhibit.

Snyder public school officials who have received invitations to bring student exhibits include Bob Bowden, Miller, Harwell and Jerry Drennan.

More than 500 students from Abilene to Pecos and from Alpine to Seminole are expected to enter the fair, announced Clyde Chisum, Odessa College evening college dean, who is Fair chairman. Exhibits must be in the main campus gym by 9 a.m. Saturday, April 28.

Judging begins at 9:15. The area will be closed to the public until 12:30 p.m. Awards will be presented at a 1 p.m. luncheon in the Student Union building.

Each school is invited to enter a "Fair Sweetheart" contest. The winner will be presented at the luncheon and preside over the day's activities. Winners of the talent contest will perform in her honor.

Governor Daniel Leads Celebration

HOUSTON (AP)—With a roar of jets, a flourish of drums and a review of the Texas Navy, Gov. Price Daniel led Texas Saturday in observance of the 120th anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto.

It was at the scene of the observation, in the shadows of the San Jacinto Monument, that Gen. Sam Houston on April 21, 1836, with an army of 300 ragged Texans defeated the main force of the Mexican army and established sovereignty of Texas as a republic.

More than 150 boats, yachts and sailing vessels, passed in review to open the ceremony at the battleground.

Six C119 Flying Boxcars of the 446th (San Jacinto) Troop Carrier Wing at Ellington AFB and a flight of F102 jet fighters from the Texas Air National Guard flew low over the area to contrast modern military might with that of history.

Parachutists from the Galveston Parachute Club, carrying colored smoke grenades, drifted falls over the area—finally opening their chutes and dropping lightly on the battleground.

More than 300 riders of the San Jacinto Day Trail ride arrived at the parade grounds from Pasadena to end a 3-day ride from Galveston County Park on Texas 3. The ride is sponsored by the Pasadena Elks Lodge.

Daniel boarded the Harris County Navigation District's yacht, the Sam Houston, to review the Texas Navy. Then he led a parade of participants from the Battleship Texas to the San Jacinto Monument.

Permian Basin Rig Count Shows Gain

Permian Basin Empire rotary drilling climbed to 250 rigs making 1962 "moving target" for higher oil production, according to a report by the Permian Basin Petroleum Association.

This is an increase of 20 rigs over the previous week's total and 30 over the 220 counted this time last year in West Texas and southeastern New Mexico.

East County, New Mexico, with 49 active units, paced basin activity. Other more active counties included Ector and Crane, each with 13, and Pecos, 12. Scurry County was unchanged with three last week and three this week.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gannaway, Harnleigh, are the parents of a 9-lb. 4-oz. baby boy born Friday at 12:32 p.m. at Cogdell Hospital. Dr. and Mrs. Kirby Tatum of 1219 Cambridge, Odessa, announce the birth of a son, April 19 at 10 p.m. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, 3011 Avenue T.

Political Fever Can Be Cured Only By Voters

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

If you have your favorite political candidate, you better check his temperature during the Easter holiday.

Upeet fever and dark horse measles are spreading fast among Texas political corps. Not to mention an outbreak of financial flu which is particularly virulent among would-be office holders.

Sunday marks the beginning of the final two weeks of campaigning before the May 3 primaries. The date also brings up the old political adage:

"If you haven't got it made two weeks before election time, you haven't got it made." A determined attack by a political opponent in the final two weeks may not leave time for counterattack before the balloting.

Actually, voting already is going on. Casting of absentee ballots ends May 1.

Up to now the so-called political experts, opinion polls and voter samplings have been fairly consistent in forecasting the three hot races for governor, Lieutenant governor and attorney general.

These gazers into the political crystal ball don't always see the same things but a consensus of predictions points toward Gov. Price Daniel and John Connally as leading the governor's race, James Turman ahead in the lieutenant governor's chase, and Waggoner Carr as the current top man in the attorney general's campaign.

But the forecasters will sleep uneasy until the ballots are counted two weeks from now.

Some questions that will disturb dreams include the effect on voters of predictions points toward Gov. Price Daniel and John Connally as leading the governor's race, James Turman ahead in the lieutenant governor's chase, and Waggoner Carr as the current top man in the attorney general's campaign.

May 4. Then on May 6 the runoff races start, probably in all three campaigns.

Tors Edge Tigers, 4-3
In A-Contested Contest

BY JERRY ACKSON
News Sports Editor
LAMESA—In a game played under protest by Snyder coach Speedy Moffett as the result of a ninth inning flare-up, Lamesa's Tornadoes beat the Tigers 4-3 in a one-run district contest in as many outings here Friday.

Bucs Extend Win Streak
Against Mets

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The undefeated Pittsburgh Pirates nailed down their ninth victory Saturday in a 3-1 triumph over the winless New York Mets.

In a hectic seventh inning New York catcher Hobie Landrith was carried from the field on a stretcher after getting hit on the head with a bat and Pittsburgh pitcher Bob Friend suffered a hand injury when hit by a line drive.

Landrith, hit by the swinging bat of Bob Skinner, was taken to a hospital with a head cut. Friend's injury was not believed serious.

Friend, who gave up two runs on eight hits, notched his third victory with no defeats.

Pittsburgh grabbed a run in the second inning and New York came back with two in the fourth and led the rest of the way.

New York, entering the ninth inning trailing 8-2, fought back for two runs on a walk, two singles and an error before the uprising was put down.

Yanks Trip
Tribe, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP)—John Blanchard's three-run homer and Whitey Ford's six-hit pitching gave the New York Yankees a 3-1 victory over Cleveland Saturday, the 19th straight game the Indians have lost at Yankee Stadium since May 12, 1956.

Blanchard hit his homer into the lower stands in left field off Barry Latman in the first inning after Bobby Richardson and Mickey Mantle had walked.

Gene Green slashed a 430-foot homer into the left field bleachers in the fifth inning. It was the 14th blow hit into those seats in the history of Yankee Stadium.

Ford, a 25-game winner in 1961, won his first of the season after two no-decision starts. The Yanks won both of those games for relief pitcher.

Manager Mel McGaha, striving desperately to break the Indians' long stadium losing string in their first appearance of the year, used five pitchers. Each time the pitcher was scheduled to bat he sent up a pinch hitter. Frank Funk, Jim Grant, Bob Allen and Jim Perry followed Latman, the loser.

Grant was making his first appearance of the season on a week-end pass from the Army. He is stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va. Cleveland: 000 010 000-1 6 0

Nats Blanked
By Baltimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rookie Art Quirk and reliever West Stock of Baltimore put together a seven-hit shutout Saturday as the Orioles handed the Washington Senators their fifth straight defeat, 3-0.

Johnny Temple drove in the game's only run with a single in the third and a double in the seventh.

Quirk, making his first major league start, retired because of a finger blister after 5 1/3 innings. Stock permitted a base runner on each inning, but nobody got as far as second base.

Claude Osteen was the loser. The Orioles scored their first run in the fourth inning on a walk to Earl Robinson, a sacrifice and Temple's single.

They added two in the seventh. Osteen's last inning after two were out and Gus Triandos was on first with a walk. Stock also walked and Temple's double to center scored both runners.

Baltimore: 001 000 000-3 0 0
Washington: 000 000 000-0 7 0
Quirk, Stock (4-0), Triandos, Osteen, Green (2), Triandos, W-Quirk (1-0), L-Osteen (9-3).

The loss, if allowed to stand, would lead to plummet Snyder to 0-2 in 3-AAA play and to the defending regional title Tornadoes to 2-0.

With the score knotted at 3-3, Jimmy Wyatt led off the controversial ninth by reaching base on a fielding miscue by Tiger pitcher Art Martin.

Wyatt hit down a bunt in an attempt to sacrifice him down, but the dribbler was grabbed up by chunker Freddy Miller, who wheeled and rifled to second to nip Wyatt.

Audrey Cox singled past third to advance Bailey to second and set the stage for the disputed call as Sam Flud was inserted as a pinch-hitter in the place of Robert Hollmann.

Miller prepared to make his delivery, but before he could uncork Flud stepped out of the batter's box, and it was at that point that plate umpire Dick Wren motioned to both runners to advance, ruling it a balk. Moffett questioned the decision vehemently and eventually, both he and Walker trudged out to the mound to confer with base ump Leonard Keller. When the decision was reversed and the runners were sent back to their original bases, Lamesa coach Jack Werzel sprang into action and persuaded the men in blue to revert back once again.

Team Recalled
Moffett called his entire team in from the field at that point, but after a short conference in the area of the dugout sent them out to finish the inning, which lasted only one more pitch. Flud, a right-handed swinger, picked on that delivery and sent a blooper single into short right to score Bailey with the untiring ruf.

Moffett's protest was from the point where Flud came into the game, with no count on the batter. He contended that both the batter and catcher must be in their respective boxes before a balk can legally called, and that umpire Walker admitted that Flud was not in the batter's box when the ruling was made.

The defect was a heartbreaker for Miller, who hurled considerably more effective ball than did winning southpaw Donnie Lybrand, who also went the nine-inning distance. Miller gave up six singles and only one earned run as compared to Lybrand's six singles, two doubles and a triple and three earned runs. He also struck out eight as stacked up against Lybrand's one.

Errors afield and Snyder's inability to bring his runners around cost them the game.

The Tigers edged out to an early lead in the second inning when Bob Smith golped a single past third—his first of three safeties for the day—look second on a passed ball and roared home when Miller smashed a line single into left.

The Bengals added another in the third when Bynum lofted a long fly to right that dropped in for a triple, then scored on a single past short by Smith.

The Tigers led a total of five runners stranded in the second and third frames, scoring only one run in each inning in spite of the fact that they bunched six of their nine hits into those two frames.

Have Big Fourth
The Tors proceeded to mop the bulk of their scoring eggs into one inning—the fourth. Woody Scott singled to start things off, after which James Woods rapped a double play ball to Marcu, who threw wild to covering shortstop Steve Free. The ball rolled all the way into foul territory in left field to allow Scott to come all the way home and Woods to take second.

Wyatt then singled to center, but Woods was cut down at the plate on a fine throw from Jerry Franks, Wyatt advancing to second. Jimmy Bailey next sent a bouncer to Marcu, who bobbled it, and Wyatt moved on to third. Bailey eventually pilfered second and both came traipsing home on a blooper single to right by Aubry Cox.

The Tigers tied it up the frame following Free hit the spark by hooking a ball first short left, that came down atop the foul line and was good for two bases. He took third on a liner to third by Smith, which Hollmann could only knock down to hold him to a single. Free scored easily on a perfectly-executed squeeze bunt off the bat of Miller.

Except for the fourth inning, when the Tors collected half of their six hits, Miller was practically uncatchable. He set his feet down in order in the first, fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

In the other district clash of the day, lefty Steve Hillhouse hurled his Cardinals' City-inates past Sweetwater, 4-0, pitching a perfect effort in the process. He struck out 11 of the 27 Mustangs to face him, and didn't allow a runner to reach base the entire game.

The win upped the Wolves—who had beaten Snyder in their opener, 3-2, behind the three-hit effort of Hillhouse to 2-0, and dropped the Ponies to 0-2. Snyder is to host Sweetwater Tuesday in his next action.

Reed Second
In Hurdles
At Andrews

ANDREWS—A partial band of Snyder Tiger trackmen made the trip here Friday for the running of the Mustang Relays, with Gall Reed placing second in the 100-yard low hurdles to be the only Tiger placer for the day.

Reed was runnerup to Mike Artis of Odessa in the event. Artis clocked a fine 18.4 to establish a meet record, clipping more than a second off the old mark of 19.5 set by Snyder's Bud Morgan in 1958.

It was one of five records set in the upper AA division, while one other was tied. All of the field event standards were topped.

The most notable performance of the meet was the running of a record 9.5 in the 100-yard dash by Zeke Williams of Hobbs, New Mexico. Stephen-Leddy of San Angelo was second in the event and Mike McCright of Wichita Falls third. Both of the latter speedsters were clocked in a time of 9.8. Hobbs and Midland Lee tied for the Division AA championship with 89 1/2 points each. Post-Stockton was an easy victor in Division A with 110 tallies to second-place Denver City's 53.

Following are the point totals in the upper division: Hobbs and Midland Lee 89 1/2, Brownwood 46, Lubbock 37, San Angelo 33, Lamesa 29, Pampa 20, Borger 12, Brownfield 10, Odessa 10, Permian 11, Kermit 8, Snyder 6, Colorado City 5, Andrews 7 1/2, Big Spring and Littlefield 6, Seminole 3, Lubbock Dunbar 2.

The Snyder tracksters will take part in one more meet—the Red Raider Relays in Lubbock Saturday—before taking a five-man team to the state meet in Austin May 4.

Federation
Proposal On NCAA Docket

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The proposed establishment of new federations to represent the United States in basketball, gymnastics and track and field in international competition will be on the agenda of two groups of the National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting this week in New Orleans.

The 16-member executive committee, which handles the financial and administrative affairs of the NCAA, will meet Wednesday. This will be followed by a 3-day meeting of the 16-man council, policy making body of the 583-member organization.

Walter Byers, executive director, said Saturday both groups will receive reports from the special committee on the Amateur Athletic Union and Olympic relations.

A tussle between the AAU and the NCAA ended last winter. The NCAA national convention endorsed establishment of the federations. The AAU is now recognized as the nation's international representative in the sports field.

The council also will receive a report from the NCAA committee on intramurals. This group has the authority to take disciplinary action against members between annual conventions.

Dodgers Fell
Braves, 4-1,
Behind Podres

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Los Angeles southpaw Johnny Podres hurled his first complete game in 11 starts since last August as the Dodgers defeated the Milwaukee Braves 4-1 Saturday with a nine-hit attack led by Tommy Davis and Frank Howard.

Podres stepped the Braves on seven hits in posting his first victory in two decisions this season. With near perfect control, he struck out two and walked only one in handling stumbling Milwaukee's eighth loss in 10 games.

Tommy Davis collected a pair of doubles, scoring after each on hits by Howard.

Held hitless for the first 4 2/3 innings by Milwaukee's southpaw Bud Hendley, the Dodgers picked up a run with two out in the fifth. Willie Davis walked, moved up as Podres also stroled on four straight pitches, and scored on Maury Wills' line single to left. That tied the count at 1-1.

With one out in the sixth, Tommy Davis doubled into the right field-corner and scored as Howard lined a hit to left.

The Braves tied the eighth with a double to deep right center and came around on Howard's double to the wall in left center. Howard advanced on a sacrifice and scored as Andy Carey dropped a single into short right center.

The Braves put together an infield hit by Hank Aaron, a fielder's choice, a walk and Mack Jones' single to left for their lone run in the fourth.

Milwaukee: 000 011 020-4 9 0
Los Angeles: 000 000 000-1 7 1
Podres and Roseboro: Hendley, Nottebart (8), Fischer (9) and Crandall, W-Podres (1-1), L-Hendley (1-1).

Titleholders
Crown To Be
Laid On Line

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Mickey Wright goes after what she hopes will be the first leg of a grand slam of women's golf Thursday when she defends her Titleholders Championship at the Augusta Country Club.

The tall, blonde slugger won the championship last year and then went on to record one of the great years in women's golf. She said Saturday the victory here was the springboard she needed and she hoped to use the meet for the same purpose in 1962.

Besides the Titleholders, Miss Wright added the Ladies Professional Golfers Association Championship and the U.S. Open crown, taking a total of 11 titles during the year.

To these three major titles, she hopes to add the Western Open this year.

The most notable performance of the meet was the running of a record 9.5 in the 100-yard dash by Zeke Williams of Hobbs, New Mexico. Stephen-Leddy of San Angelo was second in the event and Mike McCright of Wichita Falls third. Both of the latter speedsters were clocked in a time of 9.8. Hobbs and Midland Lee tied for the Division AA championship with 89 1/2 points each. Post-Stockton was an easy victor in Division A with 110 tallies to second-place Denver City's 53.

Following are the point totals in the upper division: Hobbs and Midland Lee 89 1/2, Brownwood 46, Lubbock 37, San Angelo 33, Lamesa 29, Pampa 20, Borger 12, Brownfield 10, Odessa 10, Permian 11, Kermit 8, Snyder 6, Colorado City 5, Andrews 7 1/2, Big Spring and Littlefield 6, Seminole 3, Lubbock Dunbar 2.

The Snyder tracksters will take part in one more meet—the Red Raider Relays in Lubbock Saturday—before taking a five-man team to the state meet in Austin May 4.

Titleholders
Crown To Be
Laid On Line

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Mickey Wright goes after what she hopes will be the first leg of a grand slam of women's golf Thursday when she defends her Titleholders Championship at the Augusta Country Club.

The tall, blonde slugger won the championship last year and then went on to record one of the great years in women's golf. She said Saturday the victory here was the springboard she needed and she hoped to use the meet for the same purpose in 1962.

Besides the Titleholders, Miss Wright added the Ladies Professional Golfers Association Championship and the U.S. Open crown, taking a total of 11 titles during the year.

To these three major titles, she hopes to add the Western Open this year.

Texas Open Sports Impressive Field

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—At least 12 of the 15 victors on this year's tournament trail, will play this week for the Texas Open, granddaddy of the pro golf tourneys.

Arnold Palmer will try to become the first man to win the $30,000 tourney three times.

Palmer's out of action since he was injured last year, but he is down the list at Greensboro, where he won in 1960 and 1962.

Only Palmer and Bill Melhorn, who won in 1959 and 1960, have taken the title more than once in the 27 years of the open.

Palmer is favored to make it three in a row, on the basis of his record as a clutch player and his triumphs earlier this year in the 37th Spring classic, Phoenix Open and the Masters.

Others sure to draw large galleries at Oak Hills Country Club are Billy Casper, Phil Rodgers, Gene Littler, George Knudson, Al Geiberger, Joe Campbell, Bobby Nichols, and Dave Marr.

Gary Player, last year's leading money winner, will try to improve his record by winning the tourney, staying in South Africa. Also among the missing will be Jack Nicklaus, former amateur star.

Schoolmasters
Tourney Set
For Monday

Teachers from Snyder and the surrounding area will converge on the Colorado City Country Club Monday for the first annual Schoolmasters Golf Tournament.

The time for teeing off has been set for 9 a.m. with 18 holes of medal play being prescribed for championship purposes. Flights have been set up with three such divisions tentatively on tap for the final tournament.

A pre-tournament event is slated Wednesday with tournament play starting Thursday.

Former Tiger Manager
Dies Of Heart Attack

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bill Norman, 51, a scout for the Chicago White Sox and former manager of the Detroit Tigers, died at St. Luke's Hospital Saturday following a heart attack.

The hospital said Norman, who had complained of not feeling well, was given an electrocardiogram when a physician diagnosed his condition as a heart difficulty. Norman had trouble breathing and died within a few minutes after the test was completed.

The Black Hawks, trailing three games to two in defense of the Cup they won last year, have two things in their favor in the sixth contest of the Cup's championship round.

First, a whooping capacity crowd, modestly estimated at 16,666, will give the Hawks the noisiest possible backing.

Secondly, neither the Maple Leafs nor the Hawks have yet lost on their home ice in this best-of-seven series. The Leafs won at Toronto April 10, April 12 and April 19. The Hawks won in Chicago April 15 and April 17.

Giants Spank Cincy, 8-6

CINCINNATI (AP)—The San Francisco Giants, profiting handsomely from a home run by Ed Bailey plus two doubles and two singles in timely spots, wiped out a 6-1 deficit in the late innings Saturday and defeated the Cincinnati Reds 8-6.

The Reds got away in front and built their lead to 6-1 after four innings. Three of the runs came on Vada Pinson's homer in the fourth.

The Giants clustered two runs each in the sixth, seventh and eighth, and pinned the defeat on Jim Brosnan, who relieved starter Don Purkey in the seventh.

Summer Temperatures Help Fishing Outlook

Warmer weather should bring out the oil cans to put fishermen's reels in top shape for a fast pickup in Texas fishing prospects for both fresh and salt water fishermen.

Most Texas lakes are reporting heavy runs of White Bass and Crappie, the Game and Fish Commission reports. A light run of Spanish mackerel on the coast received a setback from north winds last week, but warming water is expected to make mackerel fishing hot again shortly.

The conservationist reports improved fishing in Trinity and Galveston bay. Fishermen braving high winds, recently caught back with the full of croakers and gaff tops, the first of the season. The newspaper also reports one White Perch take on Turtle Bayou near Anahuac of 16 one weighing 25 pounds. The paper warns that White Perch fishing won't last long.

The State Parks Board adopted a "no fishing" policy last week ending the proposed fishing on the Gulf Coast near Bay City "as enhancing recreational opportunities generally and coastal fishing in particular."

Arrested 257 persons who were fined $8,889, the Game and Fish Commission said. Fishing licenses are required of all persons between 17 and 65 who fish outside their home county or who fish with rod and reel. They cost $2.15 for residents and non-residents.

The Lake Mathis Fishing Rodeo will open Saturday and continue to May 5.

Bryan state legislators were heaped with Game and Fish Association honors at a recent annual meeting in Bryan of the Brazos County Game and Fish Association.

State Sen. W. T. Moore and Rep. B. H. Dewey Jr. were presented certificates of appreciation for their efforts in conserving wildlife by the local organization. Moore also presented the distinguished "poor-man's award" by the Bayshore Rod, Reel & Gun Club of Baytown.

The State Parks Board adopted a "no fishing" policy last week ending the proposed fishing on the Gulf Coast near Bay City "as enhancing recreational opportunities generally and coastal fishing in particular."

One pound black and white bass catches were reported at Granite Shoals at Kingsland.

United World Enterprises is staging the card, with Louis a matchmaker.

The veteran Machen, ranked No. 2, will clash with Ray White of Baltimore, and Clay, No. 9 and 1960 Olympic light-heavyweight champion, meets Frankie Logan of Boise, Idaho.

There are four 16-round bouts slated for the Sports Arena card. The other contests feature No. 1 welterweight Ralph Dupas vs. Gerald Mason of Albuquerque, and lightweights Eddie Garcia of Los Angeles against Tony Perez of Mexico.

The bouts will be telecast over a closed circuit in 30 communities from the West Coast to the East. The local area will be blacked out. There will be no radio broadcast. Dupas and Ramirez will lead off the evening, starting at 10:30 p.m. EST.

Chicago's Early Wynn, 41, making his first start since last July 22, lasted four innings and left trailing 4-1.

Chicago's Early Wynn, 41, making his first start since last July 22, lasted four innings and left trailing 4-1.

The White Sox, who fell behind the New York Yankees in the seventh inning, cracked a 6-6 tie and helped the Kansas City A's to a 9-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox, tumbling the Pale Hose out of the American League lead Saturday.

The A's 13th-inning attack also included a two-run homer in the third by Norm Siebern, who Friday night pitched a three-run game in a 7-5 triumph over the Sox.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

ACAPULCO, Mex.—We are always talking about how things were in the good old days. Folks got along with more ingenuity and less foolishness. And other such items.

Well, in my good days, which happen 20 something years ago, where I am now sitting with my top covered with rocks and lizards. I climbed it one day and sat on a granite boulder wondering why inarnation I had done such a thing. Because I had to climb back down again.

Along came some accommodating persons with bright ideas and now the hill top is the Hotel Prado Americas. Several acres of lawn, air conditioned rooms and cottages, a life-size swimming pool overlooking the Pacific Ocean 500 feet below and surrounded by everything that grows. Hibiscus, bougainvillea, almond trees, banana trees with real bananas and coconut trees with clusters of real coconuts.

Naturally, while sitting around such frontier-like territory, a man who is worth his salt is apt to contemplate all sorts of things. Such as who wants to work for a living, why go home, what holds up strapless bathing suits and other subjects that sit wives to gnashing their teeth. When they are not along.

This is not to say wives should not go along on such excursions. In fact, it is recommended in most cases for they become very appreciative of little attentions like visiting this spot.

Breakfast under the coconut palms with the morning sun slanting in across vines of yellow flowers called Cup of Gold. Right on the banks of the turquoise swimming pool. And do coconuts ever change looses and spatter eggs on the customers at breakfast?

No, senor, said the waiter politely. He pointed out that coconuts are carefully removed from trees before they are left.

The bartender climbs a tree and whacks down a clamp of coconuts when they are ready. Then he whacks off the tops, pours in a noggin of rum and sells the whole thing to thirsty clients.

A pair of these upstarts and you don't care if the roof falls on your head.

It is a rugged life down here on the rim of the Southern Seas. Especially at night, sitting out on the big open terraces where the management decided it would be a good place to work up an appetite.

A native combo turns out soothing tropical melodies while waiters sither from table to table with trays of tasty calories. Dim lights hidden in the trees make it part shadow and part light. The moon puts splashes of yellow in a crazy quilt across the huge bay, far down below. Lanterns from fishing canoes are punctums on the water. The dugout canoes go out at sunset and they fish all night for the local market.

A bay that looks like mountain-to-mountain carpeting of ocean. And the mountains are piles of black velvet with dots of colored fire scattered along the slopes.

These are the primitive conditions under which the clients are forced to take on nourishment.

Down the steep hillside, you can see fireflies blinking away. A gentleman sitting next to you every day. "She calls me every day," said Mrs. Griffin, "no matter where she is."

Mrs. Griffin chaperoned Debra everywhere when she was a teenage starlet, and Debra earned the reputation as the only starlet who had never been kissed.

She began her career at 16, and her exotic looks—which belied her domestic origin—quickly won her roles in adventure dramas, usually as the flaming girl with the long, dark hair, the sultry eyes, the filmy costume and the bells on her toes.

Miss Paget, 28, was married to Kung Thursday at Las Vegas, Nev. They are honeymooning today somewhere in Southern California. Miss Paget's mother, Maggie Griffin, says even she doesn't know where.

She told a newsman Friday that she didn't know anything about Kung's background in China.

"It's unimportant," she said. "He's such a fine, lovely boy. I just love him, and I know his mother loves my daughter, too."

"He wooed my daughter in such a wonderful, old-fashioned way—so proper and correct—and with such gentility and consideration," she said. "I just couldn't ask for a nicer son-in-law."

Miss Paget was married twice before. To singer David Street, for 10 weeks, and to Director Budd Boetticher, for 16 months—although she and Boetticher first separated after only three weeks of marriage.

Mrs. Griffin said the couple plan to live in Houston. She said she expected Debra would continue her habit of many years' standing—telephoning her mother continually. "She calls me every day," said Mrs. Griffin, "no matter where she is."

COMANCHEROS COMING

BY STUART WHITMAN

Stuart Whitman and Sheila MacRae serve as hosts and introduce a guest lineup that includes Hugh O'Brien, Janet Blair, Michael Landon, Mary Costa, Paul Lavalie, Meredith and Heather MacRae and special guest Juliet Froscoe.

Dear me! What an upstic manner to speak of love. Here the lightning bugs go about playing the guitar of romance for posterity and science takes all the fun out of it with chilling logic.

It is enough to make a man stay on a few days longer—just to rid his mind of such scholarly thoughts. And to forget about the often days of him climbing on foot when all you could purchase in the local saloons was a mixture of canned heat and creek water. Instead of the high octane stuff they now serve in the tall, frosty glass.

Because for my peccos, the good old days are taking place right now.

9:00 NBC "Highways of Melody" is a sixty-minute concert based on a musical motor trip from Chicago to Miami. Gordon and Sheila MacRae serve as hosts and introduce a guest lineup that includes Hugh O'Brien, Janet Blair, Michael Landon, Mary Costa, Paul Lavalie, Meredith and Heather MacRae and special guest Juliet Froscoe.

8:30 CBS "Jack Benny" decides to take in a board, but the kind of people who answer his advertisement shouldn't happen, even to him. Frank Nelson, Maudie Prickett, May Carver and Donna Douglas are featured. Russell Trent and Jonathan Hole are seen as the boogies.

MRS. RICHARD STOKER wears a pale pink silk dress trimmed in white by Julie Clark. A gold pin gives the perfect effect for a dress-up occasion. She accessorizes her costume with white gloves and shoes.

MRS. SIDNEY JOHNSON models a petite Sandra Sage dress featuring black and white polka dots in 100 per cent cotton. Notice the scooped neckline in back, and ruffles adorning the neck and sleeves. She chose black patent shoes with red straw hat by Nola, and white gloves.

DIANNE BROWN is probably wearing this little number today in the Easter parade. Her attractive white sun dress with matching jacket has red trim in the form of clever appliques.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 12, NO. 305 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, APRIL 22, 1962 SECTION B

"Mostly Moods And Modes"

is the title of the fifth annual flower show to be presented by the Snyder Twilight Garden Club on Saturday, April 28 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

The public is invited to attend the show between the hours of 3:30 and 8 p.m. A special added attraction will be a style show with models from the merchants of Snyder.

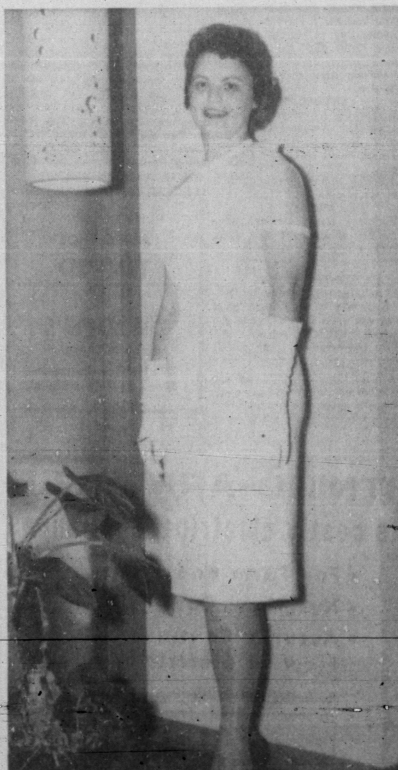

Chairman for the various committees are: Mrs. R. E. Patterson, schedule; Mrs. Skeet Jones, entries and classification; Mrs. Robert Hargrove, judges, clerks and awards; Mrs. Gordon Taylor, style show; Mrs. Buford Browning, staging; Mrs. Nellie Smith, publicity; and Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, hospitality.

MRS. CUSTIS FLETER and Mrs. Sig Line will work with the judges of the flower show as clerks, and will present the various awards to the arrangements. Their job is a tiring one as any clerk knows. They are shown with the hogarth and the new analogous arrangements.

MRS. HOWARD JONES is the talk of the town in this beige sun dress of nubby cotton, linen texture with yellow lining. The Donnies of Dallas has a circus in brown motif encircling the skirt.

MRS. CARL DILLAHA models a white linen Ann Fogarty dress with silk organza yoke. Her white leather gloves and magenta shoes make a striking ensemble for after 5 o'clock.

MRS. MARK MCLAUGHLIN is stunning in this Addie Masters dress of white cotton. The strictly tailored dress is merely trimmed by the red, green and blue stripe belt. She wears a Nola Original broad brim white straw hat.

Spring Menus That Please Guests And The Budget

You can look forward to entertaining guests this spring season because you can plan your luncheon or dinner parties with festive and elegant foods — without straining your budget. Here are low-cost menus fit for a gourmet's palate that will have your guests raving about your culinary wizardry.

- Dinner for 4 for $2.50
- Entrée — Tuna Chinois with shredded potato chips ($1.00)
- Vegetable — Creamed Spinach (23 cents)
- Salad — Marinated Artichoke hearts (25 cents)
- Dessert — Walnut and Seed Pudding (40 cents)
- Beverage
- Tuna Chinois With Shredded Potato Chips
- 1 medium onion
- 3 stalks celery
- 1 green pepper
- 1 1/2 oz. tin water packed white tuna
- 1 cup peas
- 1 1/2 tsp. cornstarch
- 1 tsp. soy sauce
- 1 cup water
- Butter
- Chop vegetables coarsely. Sauté in hot butter 3 or 4 minutes. Mix cornstarch in 1 cup water. Add to vegetables — cook 3 minutes. Add flaked tuna. Heat through. Add soy sauce. Cook till blended. Serve with shredded browned potato chips, made as follows:
- 1-5 oz. pkg. potato chips
- 1/2 tsp. peanut oil
- Paprika
- Chopped parsley.
- Heat peanut oil in large frying pan. With scissors cut chips each in 3 strips and sauté quickly in hot oil, stirring gently until brown and crisp — about 5 minutes. Dust with paprika and chopped parsley. Serve like fried noodles.
- Walnut-Seed-Pudding
- 4 slices white bread buttered
- Orange Marmalade
- 3 tsp. pulverized potato chips
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar
- 2 eggs beaten
- 1 cup milk
- Sauce
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1 tsp. orange marmalade
- Butter pudding dish well. Spread buttered bread with marmalade. Arrange in layers in dish. Sprinkle with potato chips and brown sugar. Beat eggs into milk and pour over mixture in dish. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.
- Luncheon Party for 4 for $2.75
- Entrée — Mushroom and Bacon Tarts ($1.50)
- Salad — Red-Cabbage Cule Slaw (30 cents)
- Dessert — Caramel-Rice Pudding (50 cents)
- Beverage
- Mushroom And Bacon Chip Tarts (Serves 4)
- Pie Crust: 1/2 cup coarsely chopped potato chips
- 1/2 pkg. pie crust mix
- Prepare 1/2 pkg. crust mix according to directions on box. Work in potato chips. Roll very thin on lightly floured wax paper.

Six Years After Its Introduction Rose Circus Is Climbing To New Fame

You just can't keep a good rose down! If it's one of the select few bush roses introduced nationally each year that succeeds in "catching on" with the public, then it is almost certain to try to reach up for additional popularity as a climber. The newest and best example of this is Climbing Circus. An All-America Rose Selections Florida Winner for 1956, Circus' introduction as a climber provides home gardeners with an extraordinary new color tool with which they can now figuratively paint their landscapes. Just how and when popular bush rose varieties assume the additional role of climber depends a lot on Mother Nature and the ever watchful eye of the commercial hybridizer. Not too many people are aware of the fascinating story of how a popular bush rose becomes a climber. First, to clarify, there have been excellent hybrid climbing roses introduced in the past 20 years, such as High Noon, to name one outstanding example. These roses were bred as climbers and, because of their hybrid origin, they can never be anything other than a climber. In other words, it is quite possible for a bush rose to change to a climber, but for a hybrid climber to become available as a conventional bush rose is extremely remote. How did Circus and many other popular bush roses, such as Charlotte Armstrong, Pinkie and Sutter's Gold, become climbers? When a commercial hybridizer has introduced a bush rose that appears destined for lasting popularity, he is immediately concerned with locating a climbing "sport" or mutation of this variety. Out of the hundreds of thousands of plants of a particular variety of bush rose being grown, there are sometimes a few which, because of a genetic change in the heredity control structure of cells, perform differently. This phenomenon is called a "sport," and these "sports" can result in characteristic changes such as color, or possibly a basic change in the growth habit. A "sport" of a given variety can be either inferior or superior to the original species. However, all "sports" are not necessarily climbers. It's simply a case that some of these "sports" reveal climber-type characteristics. For, in essence, a climbing rose is just an extraordinarily vigorous growing plant. Over 100 years ago, the eminent rosarian William Paul defined climbing roses as: "The most vigorous selected from various groups." The climbing rose does not, in the true botanical sense, really "climb." It is void of tiny suction discs as found on the Virginia Creeper; it doesn't have the tendrils of the clematis, or the twining like honeysuckle. Climbing roses plainly and simply have the capacity to grow with amazing vigor to unusual lengths. Technically, the basic difference is that the climbing "sport," rather than terminating a main shoot with a cluster of individual flowers, will keep on growing in length bearing a series of flowers on lateral shoots. Climbing "sports" of a given variety do not vary in foliage or disease resistance; their plant advantages and faults are the same. Generally speaking, any essential difference among the climbing "sports" of the same variety is in vigor. When these "sports" are discovered, the job of the commercial researcher then begins in earnest. The "sport" is propagated, and plants of it are set out to be tested and observed, sometimes for a period of years. It's almost as though nature was delighting in her own sort of scientific treasure hunt, with the commercial grower doing the hunting. For the grower knows from experience that somewhere, somehow, sometime one of his popular bush roses will very likely reveal itself as a climbing "sport." The climbing "sport" of Circus was discovered a few years ago, and subsequent exhaustive tests found that it was indeed a true climber, semi-spreading, easy to train and had characteristic large, multi-colored clusters of yellow, orange, pink, buff and red blooms recurrently throughout the normal flowering season, and particularly resplendent in the spring. The elevation of Circus from a bush bloom into a wonderful new application for a favorite rose. The thousands who loved it as a low hedge and border planting will delight in having this color espaliered on walls, trellis work or trained along fences.

CREAMY after dinner mints are dissolved in the filling of this mint chiffon pie to give it a marvelously refreshing, yet subtle flavor. Dots of whipping cream and additional mints decorate the top.

Mint Chiffon Pie

You won't want to pass mints with coffee when you serve this pie. For mints are an essential ingredient of the chiffon beauty — as frothy and refreshing as dessert as you could choose for the spring-time of the year. Like all true chiffon pies, the filling is basically a custard with gelatin added to help "set" it. Egg whites and whipped cream are folded in to insure fluffiness. But the real surprise lies in the discovery that a small package of after dinner mints provides the cooling, satisfying flavor captured in the filling. It's easy to do, too. The mints are simply dissolved in the hot milk used in making the custard. A little green food coloring intensifies the attractive color of the pie. And swirls of whipped cream add more mints garnish it. Here's the way to make it!

MINT CHIFFON PIE
(Six - Seven Slices)

1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1 cup milk

1 1/2 cups after dinner mints (4-ounce package)
3 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Few drops green food coloring
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup of the milk for 5 minutes. Scald remaining milk. Add mints; stir until dissolved. Gradually beat a fourth of the milk mixture into beaten egg yolks. Stir into remaining milk mixture. Cook over moderate heat until slightly thickened. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in salt, vanilla and food coloring. Chill until partially thickened. Beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar. Continue beating until whites will hold a soft peak. Gradually add sugar; continue beating until stiff and glossy. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into pie shell, spreading evenly. Chill until set. Before serving, decorate with sweetened whipped cream and mints.

WHAT'S GOING ON

Quite a number of Snyderites attended a coffee Thursday morning at the Phillips 66 dining room honoring Mrs. John Connolly who made a special visit to Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Mark McLaughlin were gracious hosts to Mrs. (Nellie) Connolly and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Merrill (Mary) Connolly. The gathering was one of the most friendly and down-to-earth visits we have had the pleasure of attending. The ladies in their simple chic spring dresses were ready to talk about everything from gardening and furniture to raising children.

MRS. GENE GRIFFIN

Minnie Lee Mathis, Gene Griffin Wed In First Baptist Church At Post

The First Baptist Church of Post was the setting for the marriage of Miss Minnie Lee Mathis and Mr. Gene Griffin on April 22 at 7 p.m. Brother Bill Hogue officiated at the double ring service.

The sanctuary was lighted with an array of cathedral tapers, and decorated with baskets of gladiolus and large palm trees. The bride wore a gown of white with a ruffled collar and a full skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid surrounded with feathery carnations atop a white beaded Bible, given to her by her grandparents. For something old she wore a gold wedding band of her maternal grandmother, something borrowed, her veil, something new, her gown, and something blue, a blue garden edged with white lace with gold wedding rings tied on by blue ribbon love knots.

Mrs. Gary Watson of Tahoka was matron of honor. She wore a dress of apricot brocade satin, designed with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves, bouffant skirt with a cummerbund of apricot chiffon falling into streamers in the back. The head piece of apricot tulle was adorned with a wreath of roses. Her shoes were matching satin. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dale Kinser of Floydada, Mrs. Mildred Kennedy of Post, Miss Judy Griffin of Snyder, sister of the groom, and Miss Inez Butler of Post.

Her dresses were identical to the maid of honor.

Marla Beth Mathis, cousin of the bride was flower girl. Ring bearers were Lance Harlan Mathis, also a cousin of the bride. Other attendants were: Miss Donna Mathis, junior maid of honor, Miss Karen Potts and Mrs. Bonnie Morris, both of Post, candlelighters. They wore costumes fashioned as the other attendants.

John Billy Koonsman of Snyder was best man. Groomsman were E. L. Franklin, John Ward, Sidney Johnson and Jimmy Cloud of Snyder. Ushers were Jimmy Avery Moore, Post, and Bill Valentine of Snyder.

Mrs. Glen Norman was organist and accompanied Lex Roby, both of Post, who sang "I Love You Truly", "Oh, Promise Me", and "The Lord's Prayer".

The reception was held at the community room of the First National Bank. The bride's table was laid with white net cloth with floor length ruffles over apricot. The centerpiece was of white gladiolus with feathery carnations, flanked by white tapers.

Mrs. John Billy Koonsman poured punch. Mrs. Sidney Johnson served cake, and Mrs. Bill Valentine registered approximately 150 guests.

For her wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride chose a white sun designed and made by her mother, with apricot accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage, a gift of the groom.

The couple will make their home in Rotan.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Post High School and attended North Texas State University, Denton. Mr. Griffin is employed with H. K. Rodeo Stock Producers of Snyder.

Out-of-town guests were from Snyder, Innesa, Kernit, Hereford, Tahoka, Slaton, Levelland, Friona and Lubbock.

The bride's mother wore a dress of mint green with matching accessories. She wore a white feathered carnation corsage.

The groom's mother chose a dress of navy blue with powder blue accessories and a white feathered carnation corsage.

Mr. Carver graduated from Lamar State College of Technology, a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He is presently attending Baylor University College of Dentistry, and a member of Xi Psi Phi Dental fraternity.

Mrs. Minta Randle Hostess To Hermleigh H-D

The Hermleigh Home Demonstration Club met in regular session in the home of Mrs. Minta Randle at 811 Sixteenth Street at 2:00 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Bob Swint. Eight members were present.

Plans were made to attend the District Meeting in Colorado City on April 26. Almost 100 per cent plan to attend the meeting.

Plans were also made for the May 4th Craft Day to be held in Towle Barn. The public is invited to visit and see what each club is doing.

At the end of the business session, refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, cake, coffee and Cokes were served to Mrs. Sam Houston, Mrs. W. E. McDowell, Mrs. Frank Nachlinger, Mrs. Bob Swint, Mrs. E. E. Brock, Mrs. Connie Clup and Mrs. Ben Henderson by the hostess.

After refreshments were served the group went to the County Library for a visit. Mrs. Mary Nell Smith showed the group through the library and the bookmobile. It was an interesting visit as well as beneficial.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ben Henderson.

Mrs. Baker Hostess To Church Circles

The Gardeners Corner

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

A KNOCKOUT is available for your garden this growing season. Knockout is the name of a new compact dwarf-cushion chrysanthemum in rich orchid pink that has won All-America honors. Another that won the same high honor in mumdom is Flameburst, a coral early bloomer with 3/4 inch flowers on long cutting stems.

Knockout is of the squat, bushy type with spreading branches. The 5-inch flat-topped double blooms usually cover the plant. This variety is suitable for edging or planting boxes.

Flameburst is gold toward the petal bases, blending to coral and flame red.

The All-America trial judges reported both winners were well ahead of other entries. Knockout was tops by a fraction of a point in the averaged scores.

While we are on the subject of garden mums, we'd like to review recent All-America winners as suggestions for adding fall color to your garden.

The 1961 winners were Apricot Sheen, her Majesty and Bingo. The former is a cactus-cushion type in pastel coloration. Her Majesty is a two-footer with 3-inch, slightly incurved flowers on good cutting stems. Bingo is a deep red cushion that bears 1 1/2-2 inch blooms profusely.

The 1960 choices included Headliner, walnut coral decorative with 4-inch blooms; Mardi Gras, 4 1/2-inch cactus blooms of red and bold combinations; and Pink Chertub, purplish pink pompon cushion 16 inches tall with rianty 1 1/2-inch flowers. Earlier winners were Girl Friend, coral rose, and Burning Bronze, both so-called decorative; Crimson Lady, Flair, a lowender, and 18-inch Emperor, with 3-inch yellow pinwheel flowers, all cushion mums.

Mums are comparatively easy-to-grow perennials, will come through rugged winters, need only fair garden soil and survive early frosts. They are an excellent source of cut flowers when almost everything else has gone.

Be skeptical about sprays guaranteed to cure Dutch Elm disease. Sprays alone aren't likely to eradicate this wretched problem. The most effective preventative measure is to destroy all dead elm wood regardless of what caused it.

The New England Wild Flower Preservation Society (Horticultural Hall, Boston) has published 20 wallcharts, in color, showing 40 poisonous plants of the Northeastern United States. A key indicates whether a plant is poisonous on contact or when taken internally.

Paula's An Over-All Success Spring Greeted With Song

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newscast Writer

Do you think you are too tall? Laugh it off. That funny feeling will last until you are about 30, then the boys sort of catch up to you," says pretty Paula Prentiss.

The Texas born movie star, 5 feet 9-3/4 inches, says she too had qualms about her height until she learned to have a sense of humor about it.

A popular coed at Northwestern University where she got her B.S. degree and did graduate work until 1960, Paula is chestnut-haired, brown-eyed and bursting with gaiety. What's more she's a willowy type that most short girls would envy, and her height paid off. She got her first movie role because of it.

"The problem seems worse about the 9th grade though, when most girls are taller than boys. You've just got to keep thinking you'll live through it," she advises.

Paula's decision to look as if she enjoyed being tall wasn't easy at times.

A Sad Tune

"I had a terrific crush on singer Tommy Sanders who sat behind me in music class at Lamar High School in Houston. Our seats were built up on tiers so that we looked fine together," sitting down. "But when we stood up, oh my!"

There are ways to appear shorter, she discovered.

"I used to wear very long evening dresses, then kick off my shoes the minute I got up to a dance, and I could even bend my knees without looking too silly," she says laughing.

After she had made up her mind to live happily with her height, she just wore what she liked and let it go at that.

"There is a certain way tall women can wear simple clothes so that they look elegant. But tall girls must learn to be graceful. Some girls slump, trying to look shorter," she says.

Paula keeps her weight at about 120.

Willowy Way

"I diet as soon as I gain a few pounds. I sometimes eat a tremendous amount for a few days. Then I cut down for the next few days," she says.

She studied acting at Northwestern where she had started out as a pre-med student for no particular reason except she'd studied science in high school. But drama sold her on returning for a year of graduate study.

"And I got a lucky break in one of our plays. A Hollywood agent saw me. He remembered me when he was looking for a tall girl to play a college girl in 'Where the Boys Are.'"

She's a recent bride of a tall man, Richard Benjamin, whom she married a few months ago.

How Informal Should Baby Eat-iquette Be?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

GRANDMA'S SNOWY tablecloth, lovely to look at but a chore to launder, has given way to place mats at the family's everyday dinner table.

At this meal, too, table napkins are more likely to be paper than damask.

Kitchen-counter breakfasts, tray lunches, help-yourself suppers often overtake us all.

If the modern informality makes meals enjoyable and relaxing, who would be against it?

But what food customs should mothers NOT be casual about? Serving their families meals and snacks bustling out with nutrition, and offering these at the good old regular periods.

Milk, vegetables, fruit, eggs, meat, fish or poultry, cereal, and bread and butter — these are daily diet essentials for all children.

Small boys and girls in particular need the rhythm of regularly spaced mealtimes, including mid-morning and mid-afternoon fill-ins. To these youngsters the world is a wide and wonderful place made for all sorts of experimenting, and in contrast routine events offer pleasant reassurance and stable satisfactions.

But do be informal about the "how" of eating when it's a matter of trial and error. Children aren't born with table manners; in time they acquire them. Before they're a year old, babies learn to pick up food with their fingers. In the beginning this is a matter of trial and error, with lots of messes and spills. But any sensitive mother, catching the sober look of concentration or the beam of triumph on a toddler's face when he finally masters the eating ritual, is bound to feel the smeared-mouth-and-table-and-crumb-in-the-hair period was definitely worthwhile.

Of course this period is trying at times, but it's cheering to remember that agility with fingers eventually leads to deftness with baby spoons and forks.

Be casual, too, when your youngster is ready for foods of varying textures, size and flavor.

Babies have a surprising capacity for boredom. Sometimes they act distinctly blasé about certain familiar foods. These may be the moments to try out something different. When you do introduce a new food, give your child plenty of time for exploration.

Babies are artists. When Junior is presented with a new food for the first time, he may want to give it the good old once-over. He may pat it, pinch it, sniff it, pick it up and throw it down again—all before he puts it in his mouth. When he's finally tasted it, don't expect him to eat up every bite. If you bide your time, the next meal the food is served that honey-child of yours may just welcome it as a long-lost friend.

Be a politician. Some foods most children like. If, following in Papa's steps, they go for meat and potatoes, you can offer a less popular food with that tried-and-true course.

Ever watch a toddler snatch at a bright red truck or run toward a vivid yellow train? Color and design interest him. Present food simply but attractively, and the chances are it will appeal to him.

French investigators have reported that molds can control sheep hookworm.

Want To Plant A Tetraploid?

More and more you read about "tetraploid" in your garden catalogs. What are they?

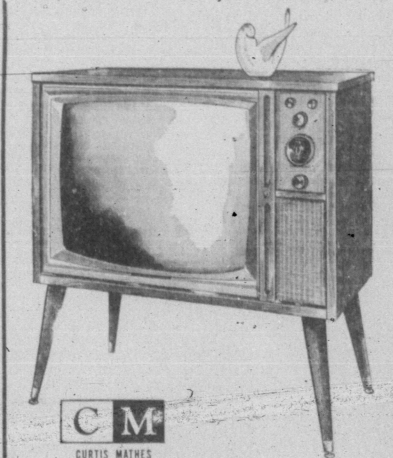

Literally, the meaning is "four in number," and it refers to the plant's internal structure. Tetraploid plants' cells have four chromosomes — which carry the characteristics of the species from one generation to the next — for every two that a regular or diploid plant of the same species has.

Doubling the chromosomes to create a tetraploid is done generally by treating regular plants with the drug colchicine from the fall crocus. This method, we are told, by David Burpee, was inaugurated in separate 1937 experiments by Dr. Albert F. Blakeslee and Drs. B. R. and Mabel R. Nebel.

Increasing the chromosomes may alter characteristics of a plant. For instance, Burpee says, on snapdragons it works very well and a tetraploid has larger flowers and a wider color range on stronger plants.

Tetraploiding may kill a plant and it doesn't react on some.

TFWC 65th Annual Convention Set For May, 8, 9, 10, In San Antonio

The 65th Annual Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in San Antonio on May 8, 9 and 10. Convention headquarters will be at the Granada Hotel. Mrs. Harry Griffiths, state president, has announced that Mrs. Frank Galusha will be the local convention chairman with Mrs. Henry F. Shaper, Sr. of San Antonio serving as the official hostess for the meeting.

Mrs. E. N. Smith of Marshall is the State Convention Program Chairman and she has announced the acceptance of some very outstanding speakers during the two and one-half days' meeting.

For the pre-convention activities on Tuesday evening, May 8th, there will be a Moonlight Boat Ride on a party cruiser from the Granada Hotel to Casa Rio for a Fiesta Dinner. The program is to be held on the banks of the river, and will be in charge of Mrs. Preston Dial with an emphasis on the international flavor, typical of the San Antonio atmosphere. This promises to be one of the outstanding events of the convention.

Pre-convention meetings of the President's Advisory Board, the District Presidents, members of the Board of Trustees, Executive Committee and State Board of Directors will begin at 1:00 o'clock on May 8. With these preliminaries taken care of the day before, the official opening will be at 9 a.m. on Wednesday morning with a colorful opening by the Advancement of the Color Guards of the Joint Services, Ft. Sam Houston, and the Drum and Bugle Corps of St. Mary's University.

The business session will be held on Wednesday morning with reports from the Executive Committee, standing committees, presentation of candidates for office and the State President's address to the assembly at 11:30. Her topic will be "Our Accomplishments — Thanks to Mrs. E. N. Smith, Jr. of College Station will be guest speaker at the Education Luncheon and a District Presidents' Symposium will be in the afternoon. The always exciting Vogue Style Show will take place at 4:15. Ambassador DeLesseps S. Morrison, former Mayor of New Orleans, and now United States Representative on the Council of Organization of American States will speak at the International Dinner on Wednesday evening, after which a reception will be held in his honor.

Guest speakers on Thursday will be Dr. Joseph R. Shaeffer, Director, Santa Rosa Medical Center, and Mr. Roy A. Pennycuik, San Antonio, whose subject will be "Americanism — A Time To Stand which is the convention theme.

For the Texas - Pioneer Dinner on Thursday evening, Mrs. Michael Bunson will entertain the guests with her interpretation of "A Woman is Beauty".

The Junior Conference under the supervision of Mrs. Clyde Anderson of El Paso, who is Director of Junior Clubs for Texas, will begin at 9 a.m. on Thursday morning.

Placing of a wreath at the Alamo with proper ceremonies will take place at 4 p.m. on Thursday. The San Antonio women will furnish transportation for the Pilgrimage to this Shrine of Texas Liberty.

Honorable Bob Calvert, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas will officiate at the installation of new officers who will be elected on Thursday. The following are unopposed candidates for the various offices of Federation:

Mrs. J. L. Ginnings, Pilot Point, first vice president; Mrs. B. F. Seay, Andrews, second vice president; Mrs. Henry F. Shaper, Sr., San Antonio, third vice president; Mrs. John P. Ward, As-perment, secretary; Mrs. Byron Campbell, Raymondville, treasurer; Mrs. Sammy Hale of Floydada, and Mrs. Bill J. Reasoner of Burkburnett, for co-directors of Junior Clubs — Western and Eastern Regions.

A reception at 10 p.m. on Thursday evening honoring the newly elected officers will climax the 65th annual meeting of this organization of Federated clubwomen.

Pink Snow Balls Make A Delightful Dessert

Snow balls as a springtime dessert may sound slight out of season but when you read on you'll find how delightfully appropriate they can be.

This particular variety is concocted of whipped nonfat dry milk, flavored with almond and lemon

WATERING PLANTS

If you're planning to leave on an extended trip and can't get someone to water your plants in your absence, try the wick watering method.

First, water all plants thoroughly. Submerge their pots up to their rims in tepid water for about 30 minutes, and spray all leaves except fuzzy ones. Then take these steps:

1. Set all pots around a large container of water. The container should be level with or higher than the pots. (Or use several individual quart bottles of water.)
2. Use 18-inch lengths of cotton wicking or clothesline (with dressing removed). To prevent water evaporation, cover the middle section of each strip with aluminum foil.
3. Insert one end of the strip into the water; the other end into the soil of each pot. For a two-week supply, use one quart of water for every two 6-inch pots.

We would all do well to remember the words of Thomas Jefferson who said "I have sworn upon the altar of God, eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

As to what plans can be made to improve library service in higher community. One of the things we desperately need is an organized "Friends of the Library" group. Every County Library has the friends by the hundreds; however, they would contribute more to library service as an organized group.

Another activity of some of the organized groups of Friends has been interviews with pioneers. And in this connection one thing would like to see under way is a "Who's Who of Sevier County." Before long many of the histories of those who have contributed most to the county will be lost in memories. Students often request information on the history of the county and so little is available.

and coconut, tinted pink, and sprinkled with sliced almonds.

The snow ball shape is achieved very simply by fitting small squares of quilted foil over a water glass. The snow ball mixture is then spooned into these handy foil forms and frozen for about three and a half hours.

This light and bright dessert makes a fine finale to a company dinner.

PINK SNOW BALLS

- 3/4 cup nonfat dry milk
- 1/2 cup ice water
- 4 1/2 tablespoons sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- Few drops lemon extract
- Red food coloring
- 1/2 cup shredded coconut
- Sliced almonds
- Quilted cooking foil

In chilled bowl beat dry milk and ice water until stiff. Beat in sugar, salt, extracts and red coloring for desired "pinkness." Fold in coconut.

Spoon lightly into foil cups and sprinkle with sliced almonds. Freeze about 3 1/2 hours or until firm. Makes about 12 snow balls.

Library Notes

BY MRS. G. V. SMITH

Sevier County Library is a public institution, completely tax supported, so it is both your right and your obligation to know more about its objectives, problems and innerworkings.

Of course you know that we operate under the jurisdiction of the Commissioners Court and under the direct supervision of the County Library Board. Besides the central library, the system includes a bookmobile that serves the rural schools. It has been well accepted that the service has been a double stopping at the schools once each week instead of every other week as we did early in our organization.

The branch library, located in the Lincoln School, for service to Negro patrons has been used beyond all expectations. We have enjoyed complete cooperation and gratifying appreciation in this area of the county program.

This afternoon we would like to briefly explain some of the achievements of our library, some of the goals we have not yet reached, and how you as patrons can contribute to the advancement of our library.

Of course the book is still the framework of the library, but we want to point out some of the other facets of information available on a search through your library for information.

We shall assume you are working on a club program. The very first step you should take is to consult the card catalogue which is your guide to your library.

Now if you happen to need only brief, concise information, and your time for working is limited, you may need to use our reference section.

The reference department of a library is that part of the library which is charged especially with the task of aiding readers in their use of the library. In its widest and best development, the work of a reference department covers everything necessary to help the reader in his inquiries including the selection of an adequate and suitable collection of reference books and the arrangement and maintenance of the collection in such a way that it can be used easily and conveniently. For special subjects there are certain recognized types of reference materials. The principal one are guides, manuals, bibliographies, handbooks, dictionaries, atlases, and encyclopedias. In the Encyclopedia field we have the Americana, Britannica, Collins, Jr., Britannica and World Book. For a volume reference book the Lincoln Library of Essential Information is an outstanding work.

Generally speaking, people are better informed and better educated now than in the past. We are living and learning at a very rapid pace. We find the demand for new and up-to-date information of any given topic is a need that the modern library must meet. This material in the form of books and periodicals flows into your library.

Another way you are helped by your library is through the Inter-library Loan. It is physically impossible and financially prohibitive to provide materials needed to meet patron needs. This is the reason your library is a member of the Bibliographical Center for Research. The Bib Center is located in the Denver Public Library and has a centralized catalog on major libraries in the nation including the Library of Congress.

One other source of information to which I would like to call your attention is the Vertical File. This contains nonbook materials to supplement the book resources of the library. Newspapers and magazines which are not kept on file permanently are sources for items which may be clipped for the vertical file; also manuscripts, brochures, pamphlets and booklets with bindings unsuitable for book circulation are a part of this file. Patrons supply valuable materials of interest from vacation trips, etc. Maps are also a valuable part of your library collection. In addition to the bound volumes of atlases, numerous individual maps are available.

Your library subscribes to 60 periodicals & 6 daily newspapers. Magazines provide a very important kind of reading; their greatest advantages over books are their up-to-dateness, their diversified viewpoint, and their fun of materials which has never been published in book form; they often contain materials not found elsewhere.

By the use of microfilm many years of material can be housed in the space that only a few weeks of one publication should occupy. Thus we might say that the purpose of microfilm is to preserve and make easily accessible a maximum amount of current information. This is an area of library service we are most fortunate to have in our small library.

Another area in which we are equally fortunate is the record library. Your library is equipped with a record player for the use of either hi-fi or stereo records. The record library of approximately 450 single records, the record library of approximately 450 single records and albums are of music and the spoken word. The music section is principally classical. The spoken records include history, literature, drama, sermons, foreign language and short hand dictation. We have the recording of Alan Shephard's flight into space. Think how much more exciting it would be to hear the voice of Christopher Columbus as he first set foot on the shores of America than it is to read the account from a history book. Think what an advantage the recordings of the first flights into space will be to students in the future.

We think it well that we remind ourselves of the privilege we have in our library and of our duty to continually seek the best materials to serve all purposes and needs of our free society. The established board policy for your library is that the collection shall be built around the needs of the community and shall reflect tolerance and respect for the readers' ability to select his reading ma-
