Reds Imperil Vital Railway

War Steadily Nears Rumania

Reds Wipe Out 8,000 Germans

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Jan. 11 — Russian spearheads, steadily bringing war nearer to Rumania, drove toward the vital Odessa-Warsaw railway today, and advance scouts felt out the eastern bank of the southern Bug river after capturing a long stretch of land southeast of Zhmerinka, a junction on that main railway line.

To the rear, the Second Ukraine army of Gen. Ivan S. Konev fought within 15 miles of the Dnieper bend rail town of Smela, after wiping out 8,000 Nazis encircled north of Kirovograd.

(The German high command declared the Soviets had launched a new attack from their bridgehead north of Kerch in the Crimea, with fighting still continuing. There was no Soviet confirmation. Berlin also said fighting raged all day yesterday for possession of Sarny, rail city 35 miles within old Poland.)

Rail Line Threatened

The First Ukraine army hourly increased the threat of severing the Odessa-Warsaw Railway, a disaster for the Germans that would throw them back upon Rumania for supplies and use of railways and highways, and put the biggest burden yet upon that satellite nation.

The danger to the Germans in the Smela gap also mounted steadily.

The German formations which were annihilated were the remnants of three tank divisions, one infantry division and a motorized division-totalling perhaps 50,000 men. Only a few members of these units were said to have escaped the trap.

Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's First Ukraine army, meanwhile, battling forward on Konev's right, slashed two branch lines feeding the Odessa-Warsaw railway and captured Bereznoe and Ludvipol, 22 and 37 miles respectively southeast of Sarny (35 miles inside old Poland).

12,000 Nazis Slain

Listing yesterday's advances a Russian communique said that more than 12,000 Germans were slain during the day.

In addition to the 8,000 wiped out by Konev's forces, Vatutin's veterans accounted for 4,000 more as they drove toward Sarny. Advance units of the Red army were reported five miles east of Sarny yesterday.

(Berlin dispatches to Stockholm newspapers said the Germans had evacuated Sarny and that Vatutin's army is threatening to encircle Rovno, another rail junction 50 miles to the southwest.)

Vatutin's left wing, operating about 70 miles to the west of Konev's army, captured Voronovitsa and Nemirov in a drive for Vinnitsa and the Warsaw-Odessa railway. A junction of Konev's and Vatutin's forces would isolate thousands of Germans already outflanked in the Smela-Kanev sector of the Dnieper bend. Konev's advance guards were within 15 miles of Smela, the communique reported.

Allied Ships, Planes Batter Hard-Hit Jap Supply Lines

BY MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor

Ships and planes of the United Nations blasted away at the hard hit Japanese supply line in a coordinated attempt to short-circuit the enemy's ability to strike back at Allied invasion of its island bases in the Southwest Pacific.

United States naval units, joining in the battle for northern New Guinea, dealt a blow to enemy efforts to repel American forces that landed at Saidor Jan. 2. They hurled their shells into Japanese shore installations at Gali point, 20 miles south of Saidor, while P-T boats destroyed seven barges loaded with troops and supplies.

Solomons Areas Hit

Allied planes swept Nipponese positions in the Solomons, New Britain and the Marshalls as well as New Guinea. The Japanese retaliated with ineffective air raids on American beachheads on New Britain and at Saidor.

Heavy and medium bombers dropped a total of 168 tons of explosives on supply and airbase installations around Madang, big Japanese base 55 miles north of Saidor, bringing to nearly 1,000 tons the bomb weight aimed at that sector in the last 10 days.

No ground action was reported in the Saidor area, but Australians driving north to join the U. S. Sixth army units there again encountered stiff opposition from Japanese troops pushed to within 65 miles of the American beachhead.

GOP Rally Is Set In Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (UP) — The Republican national committee unanimously selected Chicago today as the site for the 1944 GOP national convention. The committee voted to open the convention June 26.

J. Russell Sprague, Republican committeeman from New York, introduced a resolution proposing that the 1944 meeting be held here. The resolution pointed out that the Office of Defense transportation had asked that the convention be held in a centrally-located city, such as Chicago.

In asking that the convention be held here, Silas Strawn, chairman of a Chicago citizens' committee assured the national committee that ample hotel and meeting facilities would be available during the week of June 25.

REPUBLICANS WORKING ON SOLDIER VOTING POLICY

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (AP) — The Republican national committee moved today toward endorsement of a policy of cooperation between the states and the federal government to facilitate absentee voting by members of the armed forces in the November presidential election.

The committee's struggle with what promises to become 1944's No. 1 political problem overshadowed the purpose of its meeting here — to fix the time and place for the party's national convention.

The procedure of today's meeting, the first at which members gathered to exercise their official functions, had become so cut and

Lee's Renomination To CAB Approved

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP) — A Senate commerce subcommittee today approved the renomination of former Sen. Josh Lee, D., Okla., to the Civil Aeronautics board.

Lee has served one year as CAB member to fill out the term of George P. Baker, who resigned. If Lee is confirmed, he will serve the regular six-year term.

Bowles Says Clothes For Children Coming

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP) — Increased production of children's lowcost clothing will be apparent in retail stores "toward the end of the month," Price Administrator Chester Bowles revealed today.

He made the disclosure in a letter of reply to Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York who accused Bowles Sunday night of a series of "failures" in his price post.

The War Production board on Dec. 24 announced a program to stimulate production of inexpensive children's clothing following repeated protests by consumer groups which declared that only expensive or shoddy items were available.

Declaring that much of La Guardia's criticism was the result of "ignorance and personal bias," Bowles denied that politics had entered into his administration.

"I have never taken, nor will I ever take, political dictation from anyone under any circumstances," he said.

Mrs. Luce's Daughter Killed In Collision

PALO ALTO, Calif., Jan. 11 (UP) —Anne Clark Brokaw, daughter of Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, R., Conn., was killed in an automobile collision at an intersection here today.

Miss Virginia Hobbs, companion of Miss Brokaw, was injured in the accident.

Miss Brokaw, a senior student at Stanford university, had been visiting her mother in San Francisco, who arrived there last weekend on a speaking tour under auspices of the Republican party.

Labor Problem Nearing Peak

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (AP) — Chairman Truman (D-Mo) of the Senate's war investigating committee said today $8,000,000,000 in Army and Navy contracts have been cancelled to date and declared the time is coming when some communities will find themselves with "a serious unemployment problem."

"The manpower problem, although paramount today, is nearing its peak," the senator told the National Retail Dry Goods association's wartime conference here.

"Without attempting to prophesy the time when the war will end, I can tell you that the production of war materiel in some items has been so great that about $6,000,000,000 of Army contracts and about $2,000,000,000 of Navy contracts have had to be cancelled.

Only The Beginning

"This is only the beginning of such cancellations, and almost daily during the coming year you will see newspaper notices of contract cancellations, of plant shutdowns, of elimination of graveyard shifts, and of reduction in employes.

"Although the manpower problem will continue as a serious one for the nation as a whole, many communities will find that in their area they have a manpower surplus. In some communities, there will even be a serious unemployment problem.

"This makes it very important that sound action be taken now to provide for increased production of civilian articles."

The senator told the retailers care must be taken to maintain adequate stocks while, at the same time, avoiding the risk of building war-time stocks excesses that will carry into peacetime.

SWEDEN ON GUARD

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 11. (AP) — King Gustav V, in a speech from the throne opening parliament, declared today that Sweden must remain armed and on guard while the belligerents are "rallying forces with the aim or gaining a decision in the great struggle."

ODT APPOINTMENT

DALLAS, Jan. 11. (AP) — Col. Robert Cray of Abilene, recently retired from Army duty, has been appointed regional representative of the Office of Defense transportation's division of transport personnel for War Manpower commission region II, ODT's regional information office said today.

Eighteen American Generals Awarded British Decorations

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 11. (AP) — Eighteen American generals, including Lt Generals George S. Patton, jr. and Mark W. Clark received British decorations today by order of King George VI for meritorious action in the Mediterranean.

Patton, commander of the U. S. Seventh army, was made a companion of the Order of the Bath on recommendation of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in Italy.

The citation said the decoration was for his work as commander of the American Second corps during the Maknassy battle in southern Tunisia last year and added, "this officer took over the corps at a difficult time and by his undoubted powers of leadership was directly responsible for the success of these operations."

Wilson Confers Decorations

The decorations were conferred by the new Allied commander in chief, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, in a colorful ceremony. The other generals were praised in their citations for staff work and field leadership.

The decorations included Knight Commander of the Bath to Maj.

Berlin Reports Great Battle Over Germany

Hour-Long Parade Of U. S. Heavies Crosses Channel

LONDON, Jan. 11 (UP) — An hour-long parade of giant American planes streamed into Axis Europe today and radio Berlin reported that swarms of American heavy bombers and Nazi fighters were locked in a great air battle over central Germany.

The Luftwaffe, conspicuously absent during the heavy Allied raids on the French invasion coast in recent weeks, rose in strength to meet the American bombers, according to Transocean, which said "heavy losses" were inflicted on the raiders.

Simultaneously with the apparent resumption of the 8th U. S. Air force's assault on the continent after a three-day rest, strong formations of medium bombers and fighters attacked the French invasion coast.

Last Raid Friday

The Fortresses and Liberators last raided Europe Friday, when they blased unidentified targets in southwest Germany. Nazi broadcasts said the twin Rhineland chemical cities of Mannheim and Ludwigshafen were hit.

Twin-engined British Mosquitos resumed the British offensive against Berlin with a nuisance raid last night as authoritative Air ministry sources estimated that the campaign to knock the Nazi capital out of the war had been 40 per cent completed.

The Mosquito raid may have been a prelude in the nature of a reconnaissance attack to new block-buster assaults on Berlin, last hit by British heavy bombers early in the morning of Jan. 1 and 2. Mosquitos last attacked Berlin Jan. 5.

The speedy plywood bombers also attacked unspecified objectives in western Germany last night night. All raiders returned safely to their bases.

Sofia Blasted Again By RAF

HEADQUARTERS U. S. 15TH AIR FORCE, Italy, Jan. 11 (UP)— British Wellington bombers, intensifying what appeared to be an aerial offensive to blast Bulgaria out of the war, started fires visible for more than 55 miles last night in the second Allied raid on Sofia in 12 hours.

Guided to their target by fires kindled in the American Flying Fortress attack yesterday, the twin-engined Wellingtons carried out what returning crews described as a "highly successful" raid. Flames from one fire shot 100 feet into the air, they said.

The twin raids on Sofia coincided with reports relayed from neutral sources of a political crisis that may result in Bulgaria becoming the first of Germany's Balkan satellites to collapse under the threat of heavy Allied air attacks and the approach of the Red army.

Evacuation Planned

(A Stockholm Svenska Dagbladet dispatch from Budapest said Rumania was preparing feverishly to evacuate the government from Bucharest because of the danger of Allied air raids. All foreign legations have been urged to move from the capital to Transylvania, the dispatch said.)

Coincidental with the Flying Fortress raid on Sofia yesterday, Italian-based American Liberators attacked railroad targets at Skoplje, Jugoslav bottleneck on the trunk railway running into Greece. Many direct hits were scored on vital installations, official sources said.

The Fortresses dropped one of their heaviest tonnages of bombs in this theater in recent months on Sofia and the RAF night raid-

Called Session Of Legislature Is Discounted

Soldiers Must Pay Poll Taxes For Texas Vote

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 11—A special session of the Texas legislature could not greatly facilitate soldier voting Governor Coke R. Stevenson decided today.

Present law and the state constitution—providing military authorities dispatch the handling of applications and ballots — give Texans in the armed forces a fairly reasonable opportunity to vote in state elections, the governor said.

Based on an opinion given by Attorney General Grover Sellers, it was the governor's theory that time restriction on applying for absentee ballots could be eased by an act of the legislature but the restrictions presently are not too severe.

Could Pay Poll Taxes

The governor pointed out that soldiers, otherwise qualified, could in many instances pay poll taxes by Feb. 1 and thus become eligible to vote in state primary elections.

In a proclamation urging payment of poll taxes he urged particularly that soldiers and sailors meet this qualification which the attorney general said was requisite.

The governor said that soldier vote legislation under consideration in Congress might change the situation in Texas but he was neither willing to forecast what Congress might do nor forecast the effect of national legislation upon state voting requirements and administration.

Relatives Might Pay

He pointed out that under Texas law soldiers away from their county of residence may pay their poll tax by mail or their wives or other members of their families might pay it for them. The soldier himself must make application for a ballot, however.

In his opinion Sellers declared that Texans in the armed forces, otherwise qualified, may vote by absentee ballot if they pay the poll tax.

Poll Tax Due Feb. 1

He added that the 1943 poll tax due by Feb. 1 (required for voting in 1944 state elections) cannot be waived.

This requirement is written into the Constitution, section 2 article 16, which prescribes qualifications of voters. Apparently, a constitutional amendment would be necessary if this were set aside. Another constitutional provision is that amendments must be proposed at a regular session of the legislature. The next regular session is in January, 1945.

Right Clearly Established

The attorney general said further that absentee ballots may be applied for at any time prior to three days before an election and may be sent to the application by a county clerk at any time not more than 20 days before an election.

The voting right of soldiers and sailors, as long as they are not in the permanent or regular armed forces, is clearly established by the constitution which exempts

Demobilization Jobs Stressed By Hershey

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Soldiers and sailors should be kept in uniform until jobs are waiting for them, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, declared today.

"In demobilization it will not be the part of wisdom to send home thousands to areas in which there is employment for hundreds," he said in a speech prepared for a conference on reemployment and rehabilitation of war veterans sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Hershey was unable to attend because of illness and his address was read by Col. John N. Andrews of the Selective Service staff.

He devoted most of his address to the problems of filling current draft quotas of 300,000 a month in the face of dwindling supplies of physically fit men between 18 and 37.

At one point he asserted elimination of the present blanket deferment of farmers may be necessary.

"Don't Let Anyone Stop Us Until We Get There"—Halsey

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Admiral William F. Halsey, jr., reporting the Japanese fleet is seriously crippled, declared today "we will keep on pressing and hitting him continuously," until Tokyo is occupied.

The 51-year-old commander of naval forces in the South Pacific urged that the American people refuse to accept any peace until troops reach Tokyo.

Halsey told a press conference that "there is only one definite place that has got to be taken and that is Tokyo. Don't let anyone stop us until we get it either."

He said that the forces in the Pacific in continuing to pound the Japanese are relying upon keeping the enemy guessing.

"He'll get set in one place and we'll hit him in another," he said.

Asked about the apparent reluctance of the Japanese fleet to fight, he replied:

"Either they are saving their force until we approach the shore of the Japanese empire or think they can wear us down by attrition tactics and we'll get tired and make a negotiated peace suit-

Five-Point Quick Victory Program Given Congress

Sweeping Service Proposal Would Give Government Direction Of Work Of Every Citizen; "Second Bill Of Rights" Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—National service legislation, designed to make available for the war effort the abilities of every able-bodied adult in the nation, topped a five-point quick victory program laid before Congress today by President Roosevelt.

He reported that his recent conferences at Tehran and Cairo involved no "secret" political or financial commitments, but were aimed solely at winning the war and laying the groundwork for future world security.

Then the President said that national service legislation would guarantee an earlier victory "and reduce the toll of suffering and sorrow and blood."

Under such legislation, the government would give direction to the work of all citizens, and through it, Mr. Roosevelt said, "every man and woman can find that inner satisfaction which comes from making the fullest possible contribution to victory."

Like Selective Service

Presumably, such an act would be administered for civilian tasks much as selective service is administered for military service.

In a report on the state of the nation, read separately in the House and Senate by clerks, the President also laid down a pattern for what he described as "a second bill of rights" covering future individual security, ranging from adequately paid jobs to protection against "economic fears of old age, sickness, accident and unemployment."

The national service act was proposed for the duration to "prevent strikes" and with some exceptions, "to make available for war production and for any other essential services every ablebodied adult in this nation."

These were his other four points:

1. "A realistic tax law."
2. Continuation of the law permitting renegotiation of war contracts.

"Cost Of Food Law"

3. A "cost of food law."
4. Re-enactment of the economic stabilization act which expires next June 30.

Cassino Facing Allied Pincers

Activity Flares On Italian Front

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 11 — A Fifth army pincers closed in on the German bastion of Cassino, 70 miles from Rome, today, with one arm reaching the outskirts of Cervaro, fortified village four miles to the southeast, headquarters announced.

Air, land and sea activity flared all over the Italian and Balkan fronts, as night bombers returned to Sofia to pound the Bulgarian capital in a swift followup to yesterday's daylight raid, and British destroyers sank three German schooners and damaged four others trying to run the blockade to Civitanova, Ancona and San Benedetto.

Threaten Mountain Defense

American troops advancing up the road to Rome threatened the German mountain defense of Mt. Rocchio, less than three miles from Cassino, while British troops completed the capture of Mount Pedro, five miles southeast of Cassino, and continued to forge ahead.

As the tentacles of the Allied offensive stretched out to take Cervaro, American troops captured Mount di Piperis, 1500 yards from the village and then pushed down toward the hreavily-defended town itself.

Foothold Is Established

American infantry established a foothold on the mountain in the morning against stiff resistance, and then launched an afternoon attack which met no opposition as the Germans had withdrawn.

Only patrol activity marked the Eighth army front.

American Liberators devoted their attention to another key Nazi rail bottleneck in the Balkans by attacking Skoplje in Yugoslavia, encountering no opposition.

Planes Support Troops

American Mitchells hit San Benedetto, 35 miles north of Pescara, the Eighth army's objective on the Adriatic coast, while invaders attacking communications north of Rome destroyed six German vehicles, a large ammunition truck, a tank and locomotive.

RAF and American bombers and fighters supported Allied troops in the battle area, while RAF Wellingtons bombed an airfield at Villorba, 30 miles from Venice, and RAF Mosquitos and Marauders shot up trains in the Po valley and near Bordeaux and Toulouse in France.

Nine German planes were destroyed for a loss of three Allied aircraft, headquarters said.

JUDGES' FUNERAL

TEXARKANA, Jan. 11 (UP) — Services were scheduled at 2 p. m. today at Texarkana's Highland Park Baptist church for George W. Johnson, 57-year-old chief justice of the Sixth district Court of Civil Appeals, who was found dead in his chambers at the city hall yesterday.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Cool Reception Given Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP) — President Roosevelt's proposal for national service legislation met with a generally cool reception in Congress today.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo) of the Senate military affairs committee predicted such a measure "could never get out of the committee" and Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House military committee told reporters:

McNutt—"No Comment"

"I've never been hot for it and I'm not hot for it now."

From Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower commission, came:

"I think 'no comment' is the best answer."

For months he has been meeting questions about the national service by saying it was up to the President. At the same time he has said that he did not believe a national service act would solve manpower problems.

Rep. Andrews of New York, ranking Republican of the House military committee, said he favored the legislation, but was doubtful if the committee would approve it.

Rep. Brooks (D-La) said he had found "no demand" and "no support for it" in his home district.

On the other hand, Senator Austin (R-Vt) declared a national service law "would be the answer to all this propaganda on the other side—it would show that there is no division or lack of unity of purpose in this country."

Upside-Down Flying Saves Part Of Crew

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 11. (AP)—Two men were killed yesterday in the crash of a Flying Fortress whose pilot and co-pilot flew the damaged ship upside down to allow most of the crew to parachute to safety.

Harding Field authorities said the ship had its entire tail assembly torn away in a collision with another plane. The second ship landed safely at Harding.

The officers said the crippled ship flew in the upside-down position for several minutes before coming to earth in a crash landing in a muddy cotton patch near the field.

Reds Cling To 1939 Partition Of Poland

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 11 — A clear warning that the Russians will not yield the Ukrainian and White Russian territories incorporated into the Soviet union in 1939 came today from the Soviet government, which at the same time reaffirmed its desire for a strong, independent Poland to be rebuilt with areas wrested from Germany, assuring her an outlet to the Baltic sea.

In an official declaration broadcast by the Moscow radio, the Russians offered the "Curzon line" of 1919 as a possible basis for a new Russian-Polish border, a line which would leave the U. S. S. R. in possession of all but 3,800 square miles of the Polish territory the Red army occupied under the 1939 Soviet-German partition of Poland.

Friendship Desired

The Soviet declaration, asserting that Russia was striving "towards the establishment of friendship between the Soviet and Poland on the basis of solid, good-neighborly relations and mutual respect," also suggested that Poland could join the Soviet Union and Czecho-Slovakia in a bulwark against the Germans by becoming a party to the Soviet-Czech mutual assistance pact recently signed in Moscow.

The broadcast, however, used strong language in referring to the Polish government-in-exile in London, asserting that the "emigre Polish government, cut off from its people, has shown itself incapable of establishing friendly relations with the Soviet Union."

It also declared that that government "has shown itself incapable of organizing an active struggle against the German invaders in Poland itself. More than that, by its incorrect policy it often plays into the hands of the German invaders."

Poles In London Silent

Poles in London who have been insistent on the restoration of all the territory within Poland's pre-war borders and who have made no secret of their aspirations for a large part of East Prussia declined immediate comment on the Russian declaration.

"We must give careful study to the full text," was their only statement as the post-midnight Moscow broadcast, which plunged immediately into the issue by declaring that on Jan. 5 the Polish government-in-exile had made an "incorrect" assertion about the Soviet-Polish border, caught them unprepared. The reference to the "incorrect" assertion evidently meant the Poles' remarks about the Red army having been reportd crossing th "frontiers of Poland" in its dash toward Sarny.

NEW DELHI, Jan. 11. (AP)—Allied ground forces under Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten are continuing their advance along the coast of Burma toward the Japanese base of Akyab and now are in possession of Maungdaw, 55 miles to the northwest, it was announced today.

Aided by RAF fighters and dive-bombers, the Southeast Asia forces pushed ahead west of the Mayu mountains to capture a number of enemy strongpoints. "On the central part of the front, our troops made similar advances," the communique covering operations since Jan. 5 said.

Negro 'Gorilla Man' Arrested In Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 11 (UP) — Dan Jackson, the negro "gorilla man" who had eluded city and Harris county police for four months, was arrested last night as he kibitzed a poker game in the home of his landlady.

Jackson, credited with a series of burglaries and assault attempts, escaped from the Ramsey state prison farm near Angleton, Tex., last Oct. 12.

He told police that he had been supporting himself by playing poker and shooting dice.

B. O. Morton's Rites Pending

Funeral services for B. O. Morton, 26, of Abilene, are pending arrival of the body here from Wichita Falls where he was found dead Monday in a tourist hotel cabin, apparent victim of asphixiation.

Morton, field representative in the Lubbock area for the Norris Tool company of Wichita Falls, spent Saturday in Wichita Falls on business. He registered at the tourist hotel Saturday evening. The body was found Monday afternoon by a maid.

All windows were closed, and the gas heating stove was still burning with a high flame.

FATHER HERE NOTIFIED OF FINDING OF BODY

Notification that the body of their son, Beverley Odel Morton, 25, of Abilene, former Lubbock resident, had been found in a Wichita Falls tourist hotel cabin, was received about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Morton, 2012 Twenty-third street.

About noon, the Lubbock man said, young Morton's employers, unable to locate their representative, telephoned him to inquire if his son had visited here durthe weekend.

The father said he was told by telephone that a gas heater had been found burning in his son's quarters. Young Morton was discovered, dressed for retirement, on the bed. It was the Lubbock man's understanding that his son had been dead since Saturday night.

Survivors include his wife, a son, Robert Beverley, 4, and a daughter, Melody, 2, of Abilene; his parents; four sisters, Betty Jayne, switchboard operator for Avalanche-Journat publications, Wanda Sue, Patsy Lee, all of Lubbock, Mrs. Johnny Bledsoe, Tacoma, Wash.; and two brothers, Jimmy and Donald Ray, also of Lubbock.

Two Men Indicted In Tulia Man's Slaying

COFFEEVILLE, Miss., Jan. 11 (AP)—Two men were indicted and a woman was named as a material witness in connection with the slaying last June of Pvt. Jimmy B. Deskin, 18, of Camp McCain, Miss., and Tulia, Texas.

Indicted by the circuit court grand jury were A. I. Shaw, jr., Coffeeville mule trader, and Aaron L. Hefner, Coffeeville pool room operator. Mrs. Margaret Nicholson Hunt of Yalobusha county was named a material witness and ordered brought here from the Hinds county jail at Jackson where she has been held following a hearing in the justice of the peace court here October 22.

Captain Burns Tatum of the state highway safety patrol said the first report of the slaying was made by the woman four months later when she telephoned him. The slaying occurred June 18 near a night club a half mile from Coffeeville.

What's This? Bureau Doesn't Want Any More Tax Payments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (UP)—Because thousands of taxpayers apparently are over-anxious to pay 1942 taxes, the bureau of internal revenue today issued a strange plea from a government collection agency—don't send any more money for 1942 taxes now.

It all came about because the bureau as a convenience to the tax-payer in filling out March 15 tax returns enclosed a simple statement of how much the tax-payer had owed on 1942 tax and how much had been paid in the March and June installments last year. Thousands of taxpayers in districts where March 15 returns have been sent out, mistook the statement for a bill, and have been sending in money and checks to complete the payment of their 1942 taxes.

The 1942 tax is the "forgiven" tax—75 per cent being forgiven for most people—and the statement was not intended to be a bill, but to help the taxpayer in his March 15 computations because many may have lost their receipts for March and June payments.

These payments, originally for the 1942 tax, are now applied to 1943 taxes, and by paying their full 1942 obligation, many taxpayers have been paying the "forgiven" portion.

The estimated 16,000,000 taxpayers entitled to refunds through overpayments under withholding in 1943 will not have to go through any "red tape" to get their refunds.

But it is estimated that it may take from two to four months after March 15 to get the refund because the March 15 returns will have to be checked against reports on withholding filed by employers.

SALES ARE HIGH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) — November chain store and mail order sales totaled $1,286,000,000, the Commerce department reported today, a slight decline from October's $1,326,000,000 but six per cent above similar sales in November, 1942.

Yugoslav Partisans Taking Heavy Toll

LONDON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Yugoslav partisan troops are taking a heavy toll of German forces pressing a determined offensive in central and western Bosnia, a communique from the headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) reported today.

Tito's war bulletin, which was broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio and recorded by the Associated Press, said the Germans were attempting to break the partisan lines from five different directions, so far without success. The Nazis were employing strong tank and motorized columns, in addition to their infantry detachments, in the drive to wipe out Tito's forces.

Soldier Overcome By Gas Fights For Life

AMARILLO, Jan. 11 (UP)—Physicians fought to save the life of S/Sgt. Charles R. McGee today after informing him that his 24-year-old wife had been asphyxiated in their garage apartment where McGee and his three month old daughter had been found unconscious from inhaling gas fumes.

The shock of learning of his wife's death, added to the already critical condition caused by the fumes, complicated the condition of the Pana, Ill., soldier. The baby, however, was in "good condition," doctors said. Both had been revived by pulmotor.

Mrs. Beatrice McGee was dead when discovered by their landlady Saturday in the tiny apartment in which a gas heater, unlit, was discovered turned on with only one small bathroom window open.

TRAFFIC FATALITY

Report Given On Feed Need

DALHART, Jan. 11 (AP) — Charlie Thomas, state AAA committeeman for the Panhandle district of 22 counties, says the need for protein feed in Dallam, Hartley, Sherman and Moore counties is greater than in any other Panhandle area.

Rancher and wheat farmer north of Pampa in Gray county, Thomas was here last weekend on a tour of his district to determine where the protein feed need is greatest and report his findings to state AAA Committee Chairman B. F. Vance at College Station.

He explained that the Commodi-Credit Corporation allocates the protein it owns to the states; state AAA committees make allotments to counties; and county AAA committees divide it among stockmen.

Many Cattle Shipped

He said the need would be just as acute in the Perryton-Spearman sector as in these four counties except that a big part of the cattle in that sector have been shipped out since the winter's first blizzard Dec. 9. He was told, he said, most of them went to market.

A good many cattle, Thomas said, are also being shipped out of Sherman county, to market or pasture.

Thomas gave figures showing that of the last 100 cars of protein allocated to Texas, 77 are going into the Panhandle.

Thomas estimated that the 24 Panhandle counties from Parmer north have from 221 to 225 cars of protein allotted. He said he didn't know how much had been delivered.

Barring "Esquire" From Mails Heaps Criticism On Walker

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—Postmaster General Walker says his conscience was his guide in barring Esquire magazine—with its slick-paper ladies in various stages of undress—from second class mailing privileges.

Since his action against the magazine which has been publishing about 10 years, Walker has been in a rain of criticism ranging from a charge that he was arbitrary to a suspicion he was trying to be censor of morals.

He denied in an interview that he intended to be arbitrary or censorial, said he disliked censorship on principle, and emphasized that nothing he said in the interview should be construed as apologetic for his action.

Questions Raised

"What is obscenity?" asked Walker rhetorically in his huge office with its red carpet and red leather chairs and sofas. "Who is going to draw the line? And where? The law in this case doesn't say. I had to follow my conscience."

Because he considers the law's language ambiguous ,Walker said, he would like the courts or Congress to clarify it once for all for the guidance of himself and future postmasters general.

He made it plain, however, that he did not move against Esquire to make a test case but acted independently of any desire for court action although he would welcome it and has given the magazine until Feb. 28 to appeal to the courts.

Walker Explains Case

Here is the case as Walker explained it:

Second class mail rates are the cheapest for distribution of newspapers and magazines. The U. S. postal service must make up the difference between the postage paid by the publication and the cost to the service to distribute it.

Walker considers this an indirect subsidy by the government. The additional cost to Esquire if it loses second class mail rates has been estimated at $500,000.

But—and this is Walker talking—to enjoy the second class privilege a publication must conform to the law governing it: "It must be originated and published for the dissemination of information of a public character, or devoted to literature, the sciences, arts or some special industry."

Obscene Matters Barred

There is also a law against sending obscene matters through the mails.

Now go back for a minute: about 18 months ago Walker discovered magazines monthly were submitting proofs of forthcoming issues to postal officials for their approval under second class requirements.

"I stopped this practice which had been going on for years," said Walker. "That second class mailing privilege had come to be regarded as a badge of merit for publications using it because permission had been given by postal officials."

Walker then served notice that thereafter publications using second class mail would have to conform with what he considered the intentions of the law on such mail.

Hearings Provided

Postmasters can suspend second class mail privileges simply by saying so. But he instituted a method whereby any magazine, notified that its privileges were to be revoked, could have a hearing before a panel of three postal officials appointed by Walker.

That panel, after hearing the evidence, could recommend to Walker that the second class mail privilege of the publication in question be continued or suspended.

"I did not set up the panel to be the final judge in the matter," Walker said. "But only to advise me. I personally can't attend all the hearings. I can consider the panel's recommendations, examine the evidence, and make my own decision."

Texas Bankers' Head Scores Sidetracking Of Feed By CCC

J. O. Gilham of Brownfield, president of Texas Bankers association, assailed the bureaucratic failure to provide feed for livestock in telegrams to Rep. George Mahon and officials of the War Food administration, it was disclosed here Monday.

The telegrams, which were filed to Cong. Mahon, Marvin Jones, War Food administrator, and Walter C. Berger, chief of WFA's feed and livestock branch, protested the recent action of the federal government requiring mills to set aside 20 per cent of cottonseed meal and 50 per cent of soybean meal of their production for the Commodity Credit corporation.

Gillham said it had "resulted in a major catastrophe for cattlemen of West Texas."

Mahon was told that the order added more woes to the already critical protein feed shortages. "Some ranchers have not been able to get any cake at all while most oil mills have hundreds of sacks on hand which they cannot release on account of the same being under control some bureau . . . hundreds of cattle died last in the Panhandle's worst blizzard in 50 years . . . the worst is yet ahead unless feed is forthcoming. The local oil mill (Brownfield) advises they have 1,200 sacks on hand which belongs to a government bureau."

The Brownfield man urged that immediate steps be taken to release the government-held feed.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Brief Bits Of Local News

T. R. Wikowsky, district manager for the Dr. Pepper company in Dallas since 1940, has become general manager of the Lubbock plant of that company. He and his wife and 2-year-old daughter live at 2722 Twenty-ninth street

For more than 24 years, Charlie Localton, 45, negro, had "served faithfully and continuously" as servant at Lubbock General hospital—but the climax came when Charlie died Monday night in the hospital where he had been a patient since October 18, 1943. He had suffered high blood pressure.

Royal Furgeson, district clerk, and Jerry Dye, manager of J. M. Radford Grocery company, have "landed" at Ft. Lawton, Wash., in a traffic regulation group, their wives learned this morning. They were inducted Dec. 17 and sent to the Ft. Sill, Okla., reception center.

Tonight's meeting of the Knife and Fork club, as announced earlier, has been "postponed indefinitely" because of the illness and subsequent relapse of Dr. Syud Hossain, lecturer, it was announced by W. W. Rix, club secretary.

Members of the Parent-Teacher association sold $46 in war stamps to students and teachers in George R. Bean school this morning. Mrs. Roy Wheeler and Mrs. R. L. Ingram conducted the sale. Totals since the weekly sales were inaugurated last September now stand at $4,725 in bonds and $843.95 in stamps.

The police should have slight trouble in finding this suspect. "A youth driving a burro to a two-wheel cart" is suspected of having stolen 32 sacks and two vending machines from Stubbs-Young Grain & Feed Co., at 501 Nineteenth street, and selling the sacks to Young-White Grain Co., at 812 Fourteenth street," the official report said. The Youngs are brothers.

The Second "obstruction of view" complaint in recent days was filed after a collision of motor vehicles Monday night — this time against a man who with four other persons were occupying the driver's seat of an automobile. Named was Hood Abercrombie, 23, of 708 Third street, who paid a $15 fine. Another driver was fined last week for driving an automobile which had a frosted and iced windshield. Only a "peephole" had been scraped for limited vision of the driver. Abercrombie drove his car into one driven by J. W. Keeling of 3021 Twentieth street, at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q, police said. R. E. Eakin of 1918 Fifth street and Walter Lee Overbay, 18, of 619 Avenue F were drivers of other cars in collision Monday night at Fourth street and Avenue X. None was injured in either mishap.

Brownfield members of the state highway patrol apparently ended the car-theft spiurge of a young man at Seagraves, judging by the morning's shortwave radio reports. The man's arrest was at Seagraves, where he was caught driving a stolen Brownfield car, reports said, "and he admitted having stolen a Levelland car that was recovered Monday at Tahoka, and to have stolen a Tahoka car that was recovered Monday at Lubbock." Several charges likely will be filed, it was understood.

This was a "different" plea, but it didn't work. A young man, hailed into court on a speeding violation, said he had read in Avalanche-Journal publications where the police had collected a record amount of fines from speeding motorists in December, "and I don't figure I ought to have to pay." The inference, said Solon Lea, police recorder, was that the City of Lubbock was doing well enough financially, as a result of the December fines, and didn't need any more money for awhile. The man paid a $5 fine, the minimum for a "First speeding offense." For the public's information, speeding tickets never are dismissed here. Fines usually run from $5 to $20.

Gus Walker, a negro, was back in court this morning — something not unusual for him. This time, the attorney-general, county attorney and others asked Judge J. E. Vickers of 99th district court for a writ of scire facias commanding Walker's appearance to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of a Nov. 9, 1942, permanent injunction enjoining his trafficking in liquor. The application, based on affidavit of C. D. McClain, deputy supervisor of the Lubbock district of the Liquor Control board, charged that Walker had violated the injunction twice, on Dec. 2, when he was found in possession of whisky for purpose of sale, as well as unlawfully transporting whisky. Judge Vickers set the hearing for 10 o'clock the morning of Feb. 14.

Lifetime Savings Of Couple Are Stolen

HOUSTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—Savings of a lifetime along with hope of buying a grocery store and home had vanished today for Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tol.

Burglars broke into their residence last night and took $5,000, mostly in $20 bills, from a cash box the Tols had locked in a wardrobe cabinet. The Tols planned to purchase a grocery store and home within a few days.

Tol, a Chinese, said he expected to be inducted into the Army within a few days.

Mrs. Tol said the burglary happened while they were visiting a relative and that "it was the first night in four months we had been out of the house."

Texas Nearing Peak In Oil Production

HOUSTON, Jan. 11 — From Texas oil fields about half a billion barrels of crude oil and products will pour this year to the nation's military, lend-lease and essential domestic users.

Alone of the five states comprising district three of the Petroleum Administration for war, Texas can flow slightly larger quantities of crude in 1944, says the district's production committee subcommittee on reserves and development.

Yet Texas current daily output of about 2,000,000 barrels is within 100,000 barrels of top efficient production, states the subcommittee following a study of the flow in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas.

Vital Sinews Of War

Replacement of this precious fluid — one of the vital sinews of war compounded by nature through thousands of years — hinges on an upswing in crude oil prices early this year, assert oil industry leaders.

Adjournment of Congress left the Disney oil price bill in the Senate banking and commerce committee. Senate action is probable this month on the House-approved measure setting crude prices at not less than 80 per cent of parity.

Accelerated depletion of oil reserves under the prodigious production schedules essential to supply inflated war requirements is unavoidable unless Congress promptly enacts the Disney bill, insist oil men.

Would Spur Exploration

The incentive of a price increase, they contend, would spur exploration for new fields.

Current output is 50 per cent more than Texas' allowable at the end of 1941. During the first 11 months of 1943 well completions in Texas slumped 20.1 per cent under a year ago.

The industry generally anticipates Senate enactment of the price bill, a presidential veto and subsequent battle over rejection or acceptance of the veto.

By the second quarter of 1944, West Texas — the nation's only producing area not currently flowing at capacity — will hit peak output. New overland conduits to Oklahoma and from Midland to Corsicana will set all wells in West Texas flowing at top rates.

Movement Expedited

About 3,000 railroad tank cars recently were assigned by the Office of Defense transportation to expedite movement of West Texas crudes to eastern refineries.

East Texas, Southwest Texas and coastal producing areas will shoulder an additional burden when the 20-inch products line from the Houston-Beaumont area to the eastern seaboard swings into full operation.

An initial slug of 150,000 gallons of gasoline moved into the line recently. A steady throughput of 120,000 to 150,000 barrels of heating oil daily will follow the gasoline and continue through March.

New Plan In Effect On Gasoline Coupons

Lubbock War Price and Rationing board today reminded motorists and automobile dealers of Lubbock that the new plan designed to assure the return of outstanding gasoline ration coupons for all new and used automobiles and trucks that are sold is now in effect.

In order to be eligible for a gasoline ration, persons buying new or used vehicles from anyone have had to obtain a duplicate receipt for surrendered gasoline rations from the seller since Jan. 1.

Automobile dealers are to obtain duplicate receipts for surrendered gasoline rations for each car they have for sale, and will deliver both copies of the receipt to the buyer when the car is sold.

The local board explained that the buyer of a vehicle is to give the original copy of the receipt for surrendered gasoline rations to the tax collector's office where new registration certificates are obtained. Duplicate copy of the receipt and the tire inspection record are to be given by the buyer to his local board when he applies for a new gasoline ration for his car, otherwise the board cannot issue a new gasoline ration.

Some Loss Reported From Valley Freeze

McALLEN, Jan. 11 (AP) — Preliminary reports on week-end frost damage in the Rio Grande valley indicated spotted losses in vegetables. Growers will be unable to tell the extent of damage until probably tomorrow.

There was no citrus damage. A considerable acreage of peppers in Hidalgo county was lost but the most concern was over young tomato plants recently set for spring harvest.

NAZI WORKERS GONE

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 11 (AP) — Indicating the effect of Allied bombings on Berlin's war production, the Goeteborg newspaper Handels-Ochs Sjoefartstidning said today that 45,000 of the capital's workmen are missing—either casualties or fugitives from the city.

Judy Garland To File Suit For Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11 (AP) — Judy Garland came out of her dressing room with tears running down her cheeks told reporters she would file suit "in the very near future" for a divorce from Army Sgt. David Rose, former movie studio composer and musical director.

"I had hoped something could be worked out," the actress added, "but now it appears the best thing to do is go ahead and get a divorce."

Miss Garland, 21, and Rose, 33, have been separated since last January.

Flashes Of Life

(By The Associated Press)

FALLS CITY, Neb. — The thief who stole a pig and three hens from Dr. R. W. Hixson should not plan a banquet with his loot.

The hens, Dr. Hixon said, had a fowl typhoid, and the pig was suffering from pyemia, a hog disease.

DOUBLE-FEATURE FAN

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Marie Striker, who works at a war plant, says she can't find a place to live.

So she goes to the home of friends occasionally to freshen up a bit, and they're keeping her eight-year-old daughter Amelia.

They don't have room for Mrs. Striker, though, so she goes to the movies every day —to sleep.

DUTY BOUND

BOISE, Idaho — Bing and Lady, Canine guards at Gowen field, disappeared after a truck in which they were riding overturned.

An intensive search in the vicinity failed to locate them.

Later the dogs were found —on duty at their regular guard stations.

THREE'S A CROWD

SALT LAKE CITY — A Jap bullet that pierced his helmet didn't stop Lt. Auburn Marr of Salt Lake City on New Georgia island.

He got only a scalp wound. Then a second bullet almost tore off one finger.

After getting first aid, he returned to his post, and several hours later a third bullet pierced his hip.

That stopped him.

FRANTIC APPEAL

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia transportation company posted this notice:

"Ten dollars reward to any employe obtaining a new worker who stays in service at least 30 consecutive days."

CALLS HIS BLUFF

LONDON — Lt. Frederick D. Pogue, Camden, N. J., was seated in the front row in the Prince of Wales theater watching Comedian Sid Fields clown with a violin. Fields struck a few sour notes, Pogue made a wry face and the comedian banteringly suggested that he come up on the stage and see if he could do better.

To the delight of the audience, Pogue complied, and brought the house down by playing three choruses of "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

HEAVY MAIL

BOSTON — An accumulation of 800 letters that had been following him from post to post during 18 months service have reached Charles Martin who is recovering from wounds at a South Pacific base. His father, who is a postal superintendent, was so informed by one of young Martin's buddies.

LOYAL SUPPORTER

PITTSBURGH — Smiling hopefully, State Senator John M. Walker settled back to read the lone letter he received about his radio broadcast Tuesday as part of his campaign for judge.

"I admire your courage and straightforward attitude," it stated. "I like the way you presented your views and beliefs. I would like to vote for you—but I'm in prison."

Golden Gloves Meet Here Set Feb. 3, 4, 5

Prospects Bright For Big Tourney

New dates have been set for the district Golden Glove tournament at the Texas Tech gymnasium, Tournament Director Morley Jennings announced today. The prospects for a big tournament were pronounced brighter than at any time, but the postponement was felt necessary. The new dates set were Feb. 3, 4 and 5.

Jennings said that word from Tahoka indicated a strong turnout of scrappers in the tournament that opened there Monday night as a preliminary of the District Golden Glove and sponsored by Tahoka High school. The Tahoka school officials said Monday that they would offer a "team of champions" and possibly one or two others.

Jennings said last week that the tournament would be called off unless "as many as 28" fighters entered by Monday. He said Monday that headquarters for the tournament at Texas Tech had received 21 or 22 entries, and pointed out that the tournament was being postponed and not called off.

Jennings was confident Monday that the Avalanche-Journal-Texas-Tech tournament would be one of the best of the state this year and that the early list of entries indicated some matches of the highest quality were in prospect for fight fans.

Laabs And DiMaggio Get Unwanted Titles

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP) —The unwanted 1943 major league baseball championships — the dubious honor of striking out the most times — went to Chet Laabs, of the St. Louis Browns, and Vince DiMaggio, of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

DiMaggio, the innocent figure in the July rebellion of the Brooklyn Dodgers, fanned 126 times while Laabs whiffed 105 times. The records do not show how many times they went down swinging or took a called third strike.

A difference of opinion how to pitch to the Pirate outfielder played a leading role in the Brooklyn revolt. Manager Leo Durocher told Pitcher Bobo Newsom, he failed to carry out pitching instructions when DiMaggio doubled. The ensuing discussion provided the spark that set off the mutiny before the game the next day.

Joe Hoover, of Detroit, was the runnerup strikeout king in the American league, carrying his bat back to the bench 101 times. Bill Nicholson, of the Chicago Cubs, was second to DiMaggio in the National circuit, fanning 86 times. Nicholson, however, led both leagues in runs batted in with 128.

A total of 49,832 cases of robbery are estimated to have taken place in the United States in 1941.

Tahoka Invitation Boxing Tournament Off To Good Start

TAHOKA, Jan. 11 (Special)—The annual invitation boxing tournament sponsored by the Tahoka High school as a preliminary to the district Golden Gloves tournament, opened here last night before a packed house. Twelve bouts on the opening card failed to produce a knockout, but provided fans with plenty of action.

Only one final was held Monday night, this in the heavyweight class, which was won by A. L. Hodge of Tahoka by a decision over Ritter Holder of Lamesa.

In the middleweight class, Hillery Mather of Tahoka decisioned Gene Knight of Tahoka.

In the lightweight bracket were two fights Monday night with Bill Grider of Tahoka winning a decision over Trice Lee of Lamesa, while Derwood McClintock of Tahoka gained a decision over Lendall Sharp of Lamesa.

Most of the action Monday night came from flyweights with four bouts in this class on the card. The outcome of the flyweight battles found Bobby Scott of Tahoka winning over Dan Brookshire of Tahoka, Jackie Driver of Tahoka decisioning Pete Shaffner of Tahoka, Billy Breckeen of Slaton winning from H. L. McMillan of Tahoka, and Buddy Bragg of Tahoka punching out a decision over Murphey Horton of Lamesa.

There were two featherweight bouts on the card with Wayne Miller of Tahoka winning from Jimmy Stanfield and J. T. Miller of Tahoka beating Bill Ramsey of Tahoka.

The remaining championship bracket fight on the card was in the bantamweight class with James Tippett of Tahoka winning from Johnny Cox of Lamesa.

Wendall Stanley of Lamesa won a three round decision over Joe Minor of Tahoka in the curtain raiser, an exhibition affair. Johnny Sims, formerly of Texas Tech, was the referee.

The fights Monday night shaved off 11 contenders, leaving 20 boys to battle for the remaining seven titles on the line. There were 32 entered in the tournament.

Baylor Cagers, Texas Aggies Clash Tonight

WACO, Jan. 11 (AP) — The first of six games bringing all Southwest conference basketball teams into action is scheduled here tonight when Baylor's Bears meets the Texas Aggies.

Both teams opened the race last week with defeats — Baylor losing to Rice and Texas, and A. and M. to Southern Methodist.

Tomorrow night Southern Methodist meets Texas Christian at Dallas, then Friday and Saturday nights all teams except S. M. U. will have games, Rice and Arkansas clashing in a series at Houston and Texas playing A. and M. at Austin while Baylor tackles Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Since January, 1941, the death rate from disease in the U. S. Army has been the lowest in its history.

Westerners To Tangle Tonight With 848th Squadron Cagers; Besson Is Setting Fast Pace

The Lubbock Westerners will return to the basketball court tonight at 7:30 to battle the fast stepping 848th Squadron from South Plains Army Air field, and will at the same time tackle the problem that has baffled other teams in the squadron league, that of stopping Sgt. William J. Besson from Gladstone, Mich.

Besson, scoring leader in the fast South Plains Squadron Basketball League, has led the soldiers to three wins in four games in the league, and set a scoring record for the league by overworking the scorekeeper by accounting for 25 points in one game. He has totaled 46 points for the season, and the league leadership.

In the Squadron league, the 848th, are in second place with as many wins as the two teams tied for first place, but suffering one defeat.

White's lads have shown a lot of hustle this season in winning three out of four games, three of the games with the fast soldier teams from the two fields.

White indicated Monday night that he would turn the job of guarding Gesson over to R. W. Moyer, Westerner guard, and named Moyer in the starting post along with Marion Manderson, Bill Cope, Jerry Crawford and George Brewer.

The 848th Squadron five is made up from former high school stars over the nation, but no list of their personnel has been made available.

Lazzeri Challenges Resignation Request

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11 (U.P.) —Manager Tony Lazzeri of the Wilkes Barre club of the Eastern league today challenged officials of the club to oust him from his job in which he led the team to fourth place and a position in the playoffs last season.

"If they want to get rid of me, they'll have to throw me out," Lazzeri, former New York Yankee infielder, said in confirming that his resignation had been requested.

"If they had wanted to be nice about it, they could have informed me sooner," he said. "Now the winter meetings are over, all the 1944 jobs have been filled.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. — The oddest of the "screwy season" ideas about baseball to turn up this winter is the suggestion offered to the Sporting News by advertising man William C. D'Arcy of St. Louis . . . He proposes a 16-team major league "road show" to pay week-end visits to smaller centers and thus stimulate interest and participation in the game . . . Besides requiring some 300 more players of major league ability, the program would need adequate parks in the small towns and some substitute for the minor leagues to develop young players . . . The fans would hardly support bush league baseball on week days when they could save their dimes and watch big leaguers on Saturday and Sunday.

FIRST DOWN, REFEREE DITTO

In a letter to Asa Bushnell, outlining his protest about football officials who get too close to the scene of action, Columbia Lou Little explains: "Next fall, if these officials do not stand where they belong, I am going to coach my men (if I have any who can run) to trample right over the official and not pay any attention to him."

SERVICE DEPT.

Bill de Correvont, star of the Bainbridge, Md., naval station grid team last fall, and earmarked for post-war service with the Redskins, may be through with football. He twisted his right knee playing infosmal basketball Dec. 31 and has been hospitalized ever since . . . Roger Terwilliger, 1942 national decathlon champion from De Kalb, Ill., is a cadet at the Pampa, Tex., Army Air field. He had 68 hours of flying time before his induction last May . . . Before the new year's Lily Bowl game in Bermuda, Frank Buckley, the Navy blocking back from Saranac, N. Y., wasn't sure he could remember the plays. So Buck had them typed out and taped to his football pants . . . When a teammate warned him that an Army player might see the instructions during a pileup, Buck replied: "I'm not worried about that. If they're like me, it'll take them a month to figure them out."

Jug McSpaden Adds $4,375 First Money In Los Angeles Open To His Golf Laurels

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11 (AP)—America's richest golf prize, the $12,500 Los Angeles open championship, is the latest conquest of Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia.

After winning four of his last six tournaments, the Quaker city professional triumphed in another yesterday at the Wilshire country club with a 72-hole total of 278.

He finished with a rush in the final 18 holes to post a scorching 66, five under par, and beat the best previous 72-hole score for the open over this course — a 285 in 1933 by Craig Wood, the New Yerker who holds the national open championship for the duration.

Jug won his newest laurels and $4,375 in war bonds by consistency in all departments of the game. His four rounds were 69-72-71-66 for the par 71 course.

Johnny Bulla Second

Johnny Bulla of Atlanta, who won the Los Angeles open in 1941, finished second this time with 281 to pocket $2,125. His last round was a par performance made in the face of McSpaden's previously posted score.

Leonard Dodson of La Jolla, Calif., Wood and Toledo's Byron Nelson tied with 282's for next place and a prize of $1,125 each. The veteran Willie Hunter of Santa Monica, Calif., was a stroke behind to collect $625. Tied for next place with 285's and winning $387 each were Olin Dutra of Los Angeles and Jimmy Hines of New York. Marvin Stahl, Los Angeles, and George Fazio, Pine Valley, N. J., tied at 286 to win $237.55 each.

Sammy Byrd, the former New York Yankee outfielder who set the pace for the first two rounds, cracked up badly and his final round of 75 left him tied at 287 with Ellsworth Vines, ex-tennis champion. Their purse was 0187.50 each. Art Bell, San Francisco, was next with 288 and $150, and Harry Cooper, Minneapolis, and Willie Goggin, New York, tied at 289 and $117.50 each.

Coaching School Set At Wichita Falls

(By The Associated Press)

Wichita Falls has gained an all-star high school football game this year and cancelled another —the Oil Bowl game — as a result of the decision by the Texas High School Coaches association to hold its annual coaching school in Wichita Falls Aug. 7-11.

In Fort Worth yesterday, Coach W. C. O. Harris of Amon Carter-Riverside High school, president of the coaches association, announced that the group's board of directors voted to hold the school at Wichita Falls and set the date for the all-star game on Friday night, Aug. 11.

At Wichita Falls, sponsors of the Maskat Temple Oil Bowl game, played each Labor Day in that city, announced they would suspend this year's game in favor of the all-star game and resume the classic in 1945. The Oil Bowl game matches high school stars of North and West Texas.

Harris said instructors for the coaching school had not been selected, that he was contacting those desired by a majority of the coaches and would release the names after acceptances had been received.

Association directors decided to have the coach of the state high school championship team on the staff, Jewell Wallace of San Angelo. This would be the first time that has occurred, Harris said, adding that efforts were being made to obtain a T formation instructor, a single-wing instructor, a line instructor, a backfield instructor and perhaps one for basketball.

War Administration Believed Driven From Berlin By Raids

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 11.—So many German government buildings—from Hitler's private chancellery on down — were destroyed or damaged in the first six raids of the battle of Berlin it is doubtful that the Nazi war administration could have been continuing from the capital even a month ago.

A list of destroyed or damaged places issued by the air ministry today on the basis of reconnaissance photographs up to Dec. 21 includes, besides the fuehrer's offices:

The home of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels.

Offices of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering.

Headquarters of the Gestapo.

Official residences of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbontrop.

The foreign office: the treasury; the ministries of justice; transport, food and agriculture, armaments and munitions, education; the home office and the Army records office.

60 Per Cent Destroyed

In the central Tiergarten district, packed with government offices, more than 60 per cent of the buildings were destroyed. In the midst of the government center district there were 628 acres of damage—an area nearly as large as the whole of central London.

The total building-covered area in the "built-up" section of Berlin is reckoned by the air ministry at about 8,000 acres.

At least 17 per cent of the actual buildings area in the "built-up" section—an acreage more than half covered with buildings—was destroyed in the first six raids, the air ministry said.

No Open Space

That 17 per cent—which doesn't include a square foot of open space—is the rock bottom minimum based on small scale photographs taken from around 30,000 feet.

More detailed pictures when the weather is clearer are expected to show much more damage.

In addition to the blows struck at official quarters, the Kroll Opera house, meeting place of the Reichstag since 1933, has been damaged by fire. Berlin's main shortwave studios were hit and 236 military huts were destroyed.

Four Gas Works Hit

Four gasworks, including the city's largest, were hit. Seven waterworks, five trolley depots and the main postal depots were damaged. The Lehrer and Potsdamer railroad stations were gutted.

Ninety-eight identified industrial plants were bombed including the great Rhein-Metall Borsig armament factory which makes everything from tanks to torpedoes. One-third of the Alkett car assembly plant was gutted and the Siemens electrical plant, blasted last summer, was further destroyed.

The Dornier-Heinkel airplane parts plants and the Argus and BW airplane engine factories were hit.

All this damage was done in the rain of 9,0000 tons of bombs up to Dec. 16. Since that time, four more raids have added 5,000 tons of bombs and destruction.

Definition of an island, which, no doubt, had its inception in the South Pacific:

"An island is a place where the bottom of the sea sticks up through the water!"

WELL, we keep hearing of other "20 year veterans" of Lubbock—others we failed to recall a week or so ago when listing local people who have been on the same job continuously over the past two decades.

Two of those innocently overlooked in the original listing are of the feminine sex. They are Mrs. Fred Higbee, 2011 Avenue M, who has been a clerk at the postoffice for 25 years; and Mrs. Tim Stovall, 1916 Thirteenth, who has been head of the piece goods department at Hemphill-Wells for 22 years.

The postoffice, by the way, must be a pretty good place to work. In addition to Mrs. Higbee, there are four other employes there with 20 years, or more, of continuous active service. They are:

C. H. Peek, superintendent of mails, who has 30 years to his credit. Mr. Peek, who lives at 2404 Fifteenth, joined the postoffice staff when there were only five employes—including himself and the postmaster.

W. C. Barnett, 912 Avenue K, joined the postoffice department 25 years ago and now is foreman over there. He has lived in the same house for almost 21 years.

R. Fred (Tommy) Adkins, 1705 Thirty-fourth street, has racked up 30 years and now is special clerk. How The Plainsman overlooked "Tommy" is a mystery, since we spent our first night in Lubbock in his home—then at either Fourteenth or Fifteenth and Texas—there being no room for us at either of the local inns. Prior to coming to Lubbock, Mr. Adkins worked in postoffices at Big Spring and Phoenix, Ariz., and his total postoffice service now stands at a flat 40 years.

John Morrison, 2021 Tenth street, is on his 21st year over in the establishment now presided over by Amos Howard. He has been on Rural Route 2 for 19 years and previous to that was a city carrier. Like Mr. Adkins, he had postal service before coming to Lubbock, starting in Winters in 1909. His record now stands right at 35 years.

Homer Hunt called our attention to the fact that we overlooked Gus Niblack, of 1628 Ninth street. Mr. Niblack has been with Western Windmill as a bookkeeper for the past 29 years and for the last 18 years has been at his present residence.

K. L. Riggs, 2123 Main street, says we were wrong in saying that Neil Wright is the only life insurance man who has been continuously in the business here over the past 20-year period. He says his record hits 21 years. Mr. Wright, however, has 10 years on him. He's been at the job here 31 years.

Charlie Adams, veteran abstractor, has been in the harness for 34 years—running the Guaranty Abstract and Title Co. all that time and at the same address, 1108-A Texas avenue. W. B. "Kid" Powell, one of The Plainsman's most valued friends over the past two decades, no longer keeps an office downtown, but he has continued in the real estate business continuously since 1918—25 years. Mr. Powell, who lives at 1202 Avenue N which was our happy address in earlier years, has been in Lubbock for 42 years.

With time out for Army service, Louis Murfee has had 27 years in insurance and real estate. His father, the late J. E. Murfee, founded the firm in 1916, started off in the Citizens National bank building and the firm has been located there all the time.

STILL another man who has been "sticking around" the Citizens National building for quite a spell is Claude B. Hurlbut, who lives at 2210 Broadway. Back in 1917, Mr. Hurlbut set up in the land, loan and kindred businesses and has carried on his affairs ever since from the same offices.

Marvin B. (better known as Benny) Hilburn, 1220 Avenue M, has been running his Lubbock Printing Co. for almost 25 years, having started out in August of 1919. Charles H. Read, and Edgar "Bishop" Lewis, are two others who should have been on our original list. Mr. Read, who lives at 2619 Twenty-first street, has racked up 22 years in general insurance, and Mr. Lewis, of Levelland highway, has been in the iron and steel business for well over two decades.

S. Elsmer (Susie) Cone, also of Levelland highway, has headed two businesses since 1918. One covers real estate and royalties, the other grain and seed. In the grain and seed field, Mr. Cone has been ably assisted for 24 years by John H. Williams, of 1910 Fourteenth street.

Alex McDonald, 2221 Eighteenth street, owner of the packing firm which bears his name, has been with the same concern since 1922, first as a partner of the late W. K. Dickinson and more recently as the controlling operator of the firm.

DOCTOR'S WIFE?

CHAPTER XX

Nancy went white, and then red. She cried, frantically,

"How did you know about him?" and then before her mother could answer, she added, "Never mind. I suppose you—"

Her mother said, "You do leave things around. And your Aunt Martha wrote—"

"I might have known," Nancy told her. She rose and walked to a window. She said, over her shoulder, "We'll skip that, if you don't mind. Only perhaps you understand why, if Frank had asked me, I might have considered."

"I don't understand you at all," her mother said plaintively.

"You needn't try," said Nancy. She slipped from the room and encountered her father on the landing.

"Busy office?"

"One infected finger, one bad indigestion, one summer cold," he reported. "And one call just now. Jim's taking it."

Nancy flew down the stairs, and through the small living room to the office corridor. She could hear Jim moving about in the office. She knocked and went in.

"Going out?" she asked him.

"Right away."

"Where? In the city?"

Out, 15 miles or so," he told her.

"Take me along," she demanded. "I'm bored stiff. Frank and Emily are billing and cooing in yonder porch swing. Let's go out the office door, and avoid them."

She put her hand on his arm and he picked up his bag and they went out together. He said warningly, "You may have something of a wait."

"I don't mind. It's a beautiful night."

In the car he asked, heading away from the house.

"Frank and Emily, you said?"

"Of course. He's mad about her, didn't you know that?"

"No," said Jim slowly, readjusting his ideas, "I thought it was —you."

Nancy laughed.

"I tried hard," she said with her appalling frankness, "but he wasn't having any."

"He doesn't seem Emily's type," Jim commented slowly, "not that he isn't a swell guy and all that."

"Men," she said didactically, "are very stupid about types. They haven't the faintest idea what sort of men women like, really." She leaned back and laughed a little. "Type or no type, he's in the bag so to speak," she said.

"Do you think that Emily—?"

"She hasn't confided in me. He asked her to marry him tonight," she went on, "he shouted it for all Atlantic street to hear. And I have good ears. She'd be crazy not to, of course."

"But her work—" he began.

"Oh, work," said Nancy lightly. "Emily's no different from thousands of other girls working to mark time until a man comes along. Mind you, I'm not saying that she doesn't like her work. But liking work and loving a man are two different states of mind."

He said,

"I always think of her as wholly wrapped up in what she's doing."

"But not hermetically sealed," Nancy told him. "Drive faster—you're a doctor going on a call. No one will stop you. It's the sort of night I'd like to drive and drive."

He said, "You're the strangest girl—"

"Why, because I like to drive fast and let my hair blow?" she demanded. "Did I ever tell you I was in love once?"

He asked soberly, "With Frank?"

"Donkey, of course not. With another man. You wouldn't know him."

* * *

Her voice was light and hard. He asked gently.

"What happened?"

"He didn't love me — enough," she said.

"I can't imagine that," Jim told her. He slowed the pace of the car, and put his arm around her. Unprotesting, she leaned her bright head against his shoulder.

"Like to tell me about it?"

"No, Grandpa, I wouldn't. Not now. Maybe some other time. Just drive. It's nice like this. You're a comfortable sort of person," she said, dreamily.

He drove on, very conscious of her nearness, and her attraction for him. He thought, poor kid. He thought, I'm in love with her, I suppose. Yet if he were it wasn't at all the same feeling he had experienced for Sally, back in the hospital days. He felt protective toward, and afraid for, Nancy. He worried about her. He thought, She's a grand girl, she isn't half as shallow and grasshopper-minded as she pretends. He'd been more than once estranged by her glancing moods, varying, veering. She seemed as light as ashes and he'd told himself over and over that he couldn't afford to think seriously of a girl like that. She'd make a very bad wife for a doctor! Yet, tonight—

She was unhappy, he decided, that was all. Well, he could wait until it passed. He knew from experience, he told himself, that it would pass. And meantime they could be good friends.

He asked, suddenly, as if he had been thinking aloud.

"You know that, don't you?"

"Know what? Golly, you scared me. I was half asleep."

"Sorry. I thought I'd been talking to you all along. I meant, you know I'm your friend."

"Of course," said Nancy sleepily. "This is fun, Jim, let's do it often. There's no reason why I can't go out on these early night calls with you. I love it."

Perhaps, after all, she wouldn't be such a bad wife for a doctor, he thought, happily.

Back in 1915, when Jake still was in high school, he got his foot in the door of the Lubbock Tailoring Co., delivering clothes and doing the cleaning after school hours.

In 1922, he became a partner in the business, with Eric Posey. Later, Mr. Posey left the firm and now Mr. Sanders is sole owner, employing 14 people.

With the exception of a few months in 1919, Mr. Sanders has been with the firm continuously for 29 years. He lives at 1614 Avenue O.

If we have left out any more veterans of 20 years or longer, continuously in the same business, we'd like to hear about them. Readers are asked to phone or write in the details.

A shabby individual visited a swank church, decided he'd like to join. So, after the service was over, he sought out the frocked and boutonniered minister and advised that worthy of his intentions.

The minister looked the man over, then said:

"I'm not sure you'd be happy with us. Let me suggest that you go on home, pray over it, and let me hear from you later."

The man agreed, left — and then showed up in the pastor's ornate study next day.

"Did you pray over your problem, my friend?" asked the minister, rubbing his manicured nails on the lapel of his Prince Albert coat.

"Yes, preacher, I did," said the man. "I talked it over with the Lord and He said to me:

"What makes you think you can get into that church, brother? I've been trying to get in there myself for the past 10 years!"

They say women workers are fitting in surprisingly well in a lot of jobs here-to-fore dominated by members of the male sex. But it is only natural that, from time to time, women find themselves bumfuzzled while pursuing strange tasks.

A dairy farmer in up-state New York had a Brooklyn girl working for him and one morning he noticed her giving one of the cows a drink of milk from a bucket she had just filled.

"What are you doing that for?" the surprised farmer asked.

"Well," said the girl, "the milk I got from her seemed pretty thin to me, so I thought I'd better put it through the process again!"

THE fairness and the downright decency of the Good Neighbor program, especially as it applies to Mexico, is quickly recognizable by perusal of Texas papers published in border cities.

The Brownsville, Laredo, Harlingen, San Antonio, Del Rio and El Paso papers, for instance, mirror daily the contribution Americans of Latin ascendants are making to the war effort of the United States. Juan Gonzales is marching side-by-side with John Smith, living with him, fighting with him, being wounded with him and, in all too many instances, dying with him. To the Americans of Mexican ancestry are going full shares of decorations, too, as a perusal of Texas border papers quickly shows.

New Mexico, which has given from its slender population several hundreds of its sons who will never return, has contributed to this nation's never-to-be-forgotten Hall of Fame literally scores of lads whose names indicate their Latin backgrounds. There's no doubt about it—Latin Americans are doing their part fully as well and as generously as Anglo Americans.

If for no other reason, the Good Neighbor policy as it applies to Mexico makes good sense. Not to follow it would be ungrateful and indecent.

Today's Journal Editorial

A RECOGNITION, WELL-EARNED

It is difficult to think of anyone more deserving of expressions of appreciation and recognition from their fellow citizens for a difficult and thankless job well done than the men and women through whom the war price and rationing programs are operated.

Therefore, it was peculiarly appropriate that the Rotary club made its luncheon last week an occasion for tribute to the men and women who have thus served in Lubbock county.

If ever there was a thankless job, it is that of the man or woman who serves on a rationing panel. It pays less than no material compensation. The man or woman who accepts such a responsibility not only receives no payment for services rendered, but has, on occasions, to dig into his or her pocketbook to discharge the duties of the position. But, worse than that, anyone who engages conscientiously in such service—as nearly all of them do—is sure to become the target for unjustified abuse and resentment. We know personally of friendships of years standing which have been breached because the ration official did his duty as he saw it.

True, mistakes have been made from time to time, as the officials themselves are the first to admit. But no fair-minded person can deny that the services of these men and women may have saved the nation from chaos. Any honors that can be paid them is small recompense for the services they have rendered.

A GROUP of midtowners were discussing the banning of Esquire from the mails because of allegedly lewd stuff. "It's all pretty silly," said a gal-about-town, "because the country is crowded with sex maniacs who will get their feelthy peectures somewhere."

"As a matter of fact," she added, "do you realize what the percentage of sex maniacs is? It is one out of every man!"

The difference between Palm Beach and Miami Beach — is the difference between the social register and the cash register.

At the Newspaper Guild Canteen a hostess was dancing with a Coast Guardsman. When the music stopped, he pulled out routine 77B and said "Now let's sit down and talk about you." They sat and he put an arm around her.

"I get it," she said, "I see you talk with your hands."

"Honey," he grinned, "I'm only whispering now."

The youthful Clark recommended a certain distance from the firing lines, but the older Giraud shook his head and said: "Too far back. I like to be right up there on the line."

"But, sir," said Clark, "you were captured twice."

SHORTLY after the Sullivan parents of Waterloo (Iowa) learned of the loss of their five sons aboard the cruiser "Juneau," they visited Washington, where they volunteered to do anything to complete the job their boys had started. A tour of defense plants was arranged.

"Mom" Sullivan (after a lifetime in Waterloo) suddenly found herself a lady of leisure. There was plenty to keep her busy (with 10 and 12 defense plants scheduled), yet she missed the little tasks of cleaning the house, getting breakfast, etc.

One morning when the Navy lieutenant (who accompanied them) called at her hotel room in Chicago he found Mom making the beds. She confessed she had been tipping chambermaids (throughout the country) for permitting her to make the beds herself. "I just wanted to keep my hand in," she said.

Hospital attendants said all would recover.

Yanks Tote Great Weights Along Mountain Trail Under Fire

Human Supplies Packers Have Strenuous Jobs

By ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

AT The Front Lines In Italy, Jan. 11. (By Wireless)—The human packers of supplies to our group high in the Italian mountains interested me much more than the mule trains, partly because their job was much harder and partly because they talk instead of beehawing.

You can get an idea of the magnitude of this human freight service when you realize that in one 10-day period American soliders packed up this one mountain nearly 100,000 pounds of supplies for their battalion. That was just one outfit. The same thing was being duplicated in a dozen or more places during the same time, and it continues to be.

More than half the trail was out in the open, across bare rocks, all under German artillery fire.

ERNIE PYLE

The top part of the trail was so steep they anchored weights alongside the path for the men to pull themselves upward with.

We tried to hire Italians to do the packing, but after the first day they were never seen again.

I heard a report that on one mountain Italian women had volunteered and were carrying up five-gallon cans balanced on their heads, but I was never able to verify this story. I think it's a myth.

Some of the soldiers carry the water cans on their shoulders while others lash them onto packboards. At first some of the packers would cheat a little and pour out some of the precious water when the can become too heavy. But the laws of physics soon stopped this, for with the can only partly filled the water would slosh around inside and throw the packers off balance and make it doubly hard to walk.

Champ From West Virginia

From the bottom of the mountain to the top a good walker carrying nothing whatever could make it in three hours. Carrying a heavy load it took longer than that, and yet there were some fantastic exhibitions of human strength on that mountain.

The champion packer in our outfit was Pfc. Lester Scarborough, but he had left the area when I was there and I never did get to see him. He was from somewhere in West Virginia, and he was a miniature Paul Bunyan.

HE had been sick and was supposed to be convalescing, yet he could take a full can of water to the top and be clear back down again in 2½ hours, where others took three hours and longer just to get up.

He didn't do this just once, but day after day. He reached the climax of his carrying career when he made four round trips in one day—the fourth one being an emergency dash to the mountaintop to help beat off a German counterattack.

Scarborough is no giant. He is 18 years old, stands only 5 feet 7½, and weighes only 135 pounds. I have never heard of so much strength in such a small package.

Never Shot His Rifle

When I went up the trail my guard was Pfc. Fred Ford, of East St. Louis. He is a tall, rugged fellow, and he had two weeks of whiskers and grime on his face. He looked sort of ferocious but turned out to pleasant and friendly.

Like practically all the regular packers, Ford was a line soldier who had fought for weeks on top and was supposed to be down for a rest. He was a Browning automatic rifleman in an infantry company. And there's a funny thing about that.

"I threw dozens of hand grenades, and even rocks, and I guess I killed plenty of Germans," Ford said. "But I never had a single chance to shoot that automatic rifle."

On the back of his jacket Ford has printed in purple ink his serial number, the name "Betty," and underneath that "East St. Louis, Ill." Betty is his wife, and she is a chemist in a defense plant.

FORD'S feet were all taped up because of blisters, and he walked on his toes to save his heels from rubbing. "Sometimes going up the mountain you get to the point where you know you can't make it," he said, "but somehow you always do."

Actually some of them don't. I saw packer after packer report back in at the bottom of the trail saying he "couldn't make her." He'd dumped his load and come back down.

A few of these may have been malingerers, but most of them were genuine. The men were exhausted, and their feet were broken out, and infirmities such as arthritis, hernia or heart weakness would leap to the fore on those man-killing climbs.

No "Pressing Engagements"

When we started back down, German shells began dropping quite a way behind us.

"If I get to going too fast for you, just yell," Ford said. "When they start shelling we practically fly down the mountain. We don't stop for nothing."

But I didn't have any pressing business engagements along the way to detain us, so Ford and I flew down the mountainside together, going so fast the rocks we kicked lose couldn't even keep up with us.

Court Ruling Asked On Flag Saluting

AUSTIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—Hayden C. Covington, Brooklyn attorney formerly of Amarillo, Tex., has asked the Texas Supreme court to rule on validity of the Amarillo school board requiring pupils to salute the flag.

The Amarillo court of civil appeals held that a case involving the question became moot at the end of the 1943 school term.

Covington in his application to the state supreme court says that if the ruling is followed the Texas Supreme court never will get a chance to decide, because school terms are nine months or less and a case cannot get to the Supreme court in that time.

Out of the Sea comes
•STRENGTH
•STAMINA
•POWER
The sea is our richest source of animal proteins, vitamins and minerals which livestock must have to be healthy, productive and fast-growing.
STANTON'S 13% LAYING MASH
brings these vital elements straight from the sea and puts them to work in your poultry yard. This fine feed, milled right here in Lubbock, contains ManAmar and B-G Plus, blended with our local-grown grains into a feed especially adapted to the needs of West Texas feeders.
B-G PLUS
is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 13% Laying Mash.
MANAMAR
in Stanton's 13% Laying Mash supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials — fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."
• • •
ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 13% Laying Mash. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Freeze Sought On Payroll Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), declaring there is "no justification" for doubling the present 1 per cent social security payroll tax, set out today to convince the Senate that the current rate should be frozen for the rest of this year.

"This is one time when I know I'm dead right," said Vandenberg, who on two previous occasions helped block what otherwise would have been automatic increases.

Just before the Christmas recess, Congress enacted stop-gap legislation holding the rate at 1 per cent on both employer and employe through January and February. A year-long freeze was attached by the finance committee to the $2,275,600,000 tax increase bill, slated for Senate consideration today, immediately after the reading of the President's annual message.

Congress Set Rule

Vandenberg noted that in 1939 Congress laid down a rule as to what should constitute an adequate reserve in the social security fund from which old age and survivors' benefits are paid. The reserve, Congress stipulated, should be at least three times the highest anticipated drain on the fund in any one of five succeeding years.

"Now," Vandenberg said triumphantly at a press conference, "the reserve is 11 times, instead of three times, the lowest estimate of the social security board, and five times the highest estimate of the contemplated drain.

"Furthermore, it is estimated that the payroll tax at the existing rate of 1 per cent will produce in 1944 more than was originally contemplated to be received from a 2 per cent tax. (He later estimated the 1 per cent rate would yield $1,500,000,000 this year.)

"Under those circumstances, there is no justification for a 100 per cent increase in payroll taxes in 1944."

STEELS, RAILS LEAD RALLY

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP) — Steels and rails led the stock market on a more or less sedate rally today as buyers saw an optimistic trend in the President's message recommending a national service law to prevent strikes and put the country on an all-out war basis.

The list turned upward after a hesitant opening and prices setups were at their best, with gains running to 2 points or so, before the Roosevelt communication was released a few minutes past noon.

The pace was fast for awhile in anticipation of bullish inspiration from the White House. Dealings slowed when the address appeared on the news tickers and, with doubts arising as to whether the chief executive's desires could be translated into a statute, profit cashing reduced peak quotations near the close. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

South Porto Rico sugar jumped to a 1943-44 top as hopes revived for a boost in the island's sugar ceilings to offset wage demands and other costs. Farnsworth television also touched best levels for the past year.

able to them, which God knows I hope no one will permit."

U. S. Has Superiority

Halsey said American forces have "definite superiority in the air, on the sea, and on the land wherever we are."

When he was asked whether the Japanese fleet could now be considered to be badly crippled, he replied: "I would say rather than badly, seriously."

But, he continued, the enemy still can muster a fleet large enough to put up a serious battle.

Truk Strongly Defended

He noted that the major Japanese naval base at Truk in the South Pacific, is "very strongly defended by air, fortifications and mines" and that the Japanese undoubtedly have good repair facilities there."

Asked if he considered it necessary to capture Truk, he replied that the only definite place which must be taken is Tokyo.

Concerning Japanese hints about a major offensive in the Pacific in 1944, the admiral said: "There are no bigger liars in history than the Japanese. If you read their propaganda you can read anything."

Early Greeks and Romans smeared honey on the rim of the cup holding a bitter dose to disguise the taste of the medicine.

Clano Reported Executed Today

LONDON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Count Galeazzo Ciano was shot to death today, the German agency DNB announced, after his conviction on charges brought against him for voting to oust his father-in-law, Benito Mussolini, as Italian dictator.

DNB said that four other men convicted with Ciano also were executed. These were listed as Marshal Emilio de Bono, Giovani Marinelli, Carlo Pareschi and Luciano Gottardi. They were among 19 former members of the fascist grand council who were convicted yesterday on treason charges, the Germans announced. Of the remaining 14, 13 have not been arrested but were convicted in absentia and one convicted man, Tullio Ciannetti, was listed as having received a 30-year sentence.

The German report was datelined Verona, in northern Italy, where DNB said the trial took place.

Frontier reports continued contradictory and confused.

One such advice asserted that Pope Pius XII asked clemency for the condemned men.

The fascist press and radio did not mention either the trials or the sentences.

Corriere del Ticino of Lugano said the trial in Castel Vecchio actually was a mockery held in secret and attended by only a few trusted followers of Mussolini. The newspaper said it had been rumored that Mussolini was supposed to attend and accuse Ciano and De Bono.

It was learned definitely, however, that Mussolini was unable to leave his villa on Lake Garda where his health is steadily declining despite the attention of specialists.

Opinion Summarized

"All members of the armed forces in the service of the United States government, except members of the regular Army and the regular Navy, are entitled to vote in the coming primary elections of this state, provided that they are otherwise qualified to vote in such elections.

Grand Jury Returns One Indictment

LEVELLAND, Jan. 11 (Special)—A 72nd district court grand jury of which E. M. Barnes was foreman returned one bill of indictment to Judge Dan Blair Monday afternoon.

Named was C. W. Ware, a negro, who was charged with robbery.

Records of Burton S. Burks, district attorney, show the negro was charged with having taken approximately $4 worth of money and other property from four Clauene men. A charge says he robbed John McCormick, who was able to testify against him Monday, despite having been shot, and took a knife and 40 cents from Pat Medford, 80 cents from Albert Medford and $1 and a purse from Fred Medford. The shooting charge remains on the records.

The trial probably will be sometime in February, Burks said.

FDR Asks National Service Legislation

gress, which he was prevented by the grippe from delivering in person, Mr. Roosevelt dwelt largely on domestic problems, but he spoke also of the war and its progress.

His legislative program was proposed "in order to concentrate all our energies and resources on winning the war and to maintain a fair and stable economy at home."

His five measures, the chief executive said, "from a just and equitable whole."

Law Said Necessary

The President said he was convinced that a national service act was necessary.

"Although I am convinced," he said, "that we and our allies can win without such a measure, I am certain that nothing less than total mobilization of manpower and capital resources will guarantee an earlier victory."

Supporting his arguments for a national service act, he said millions of Americans "are not in this war at all" and that the act would be a means by which every man and woman could make the fullest possible contribution to victory.

Mr. Roosevelt described "a realistic tax law," the first point in his legislative list, as one which would tax all unreasonable profits, both individual and corporate, and reduce the ultimate cost of the war.

Revenue Bill Hit

The revenue bill now in Congress, which would yield only about a fifth of what the administration had sought, does not start to meet this test, he said.

Backing up his request for continuation of contract renegotiation the chief executive asserted it would prevent "exorbitant profits and assure fair prices to the government." he recalled that he had pleaded with Congress for two years to take undue profits out of war.

On his third point, a cost of food law, he said it should enable the government to put a reasonable floor under farm prices and a ceiling on the prices that consumers pay. It should apply only to necessities, he declared, and public funds will be required to effectuate it. He figured the cost would be about one per cent of the present annual cost of the war.

Price Chaos Foreseen

Unless the stabilization statute is renewed, he said, the county can expect "price chaos by summer." Stabilization cannot be accomplished by wishful thinking, he said, and positive action must be taken to maintain the integrity of the dollar.

The President touched with relative brevity, at the outset of his message, on the war conferences which took place overseas in the final weeks of 1943. He hailed them as intended to prevent mistakes made at the conclusion of the last war.

"Of course, we made some commitments," he said. "We most certainly committed ourselves to very large and very specific military plans which require the use of all Allied forces to bring about the defeat of our enemies at the earliest possible time.

No Secret Treaties

"But there were no secret treaties or political or financial commitments.

"The one supreme objective for the future, which he discussed for each nation individually, and for all the United Nations, can be summed up in one word—security.

"And that means not only physical security which provides safety from attacks by aggressors. It means also economic security, social security, moral security—in a family of nations."

Mr. Roosevelt warned against over-confidence and complacency, asserting the way to fight and win the war is "all out" and not with half an eye on battlefronts and half an eye on personal, selfish, or political interests at home.

Transcends Politics

He said he hoped Congress would recognize that while 1944 is a political year, "national service is an issue which transcends politics."

He said he believed the American people would welcome a measure based on a just principle of "fair for one, fair for all."

Asking Congress to look into means for implementing what he termed an economic, second bill of rights, Mr. Roosevelt vigorously assailed "whining demands of selfish pressure groups who seek to feather their nests while young Americans are dying."

He spoke of the need for unity at home, pounding away on a theme he has used before—that there is only one front in the war.

Solemn Obligation

"Each and every one of us," he declared, "has a solemn obligation under God to serve this nation in its most critical hour—to keep this nation great—to make this nation greater in a better world."

His second bill of rights, under which he said a new basis of security and prosperity could be established for all, included these points:

1. The right to a useful and remunerative job.

2. The right to earn enough to provide adequate food, clothing and recreation.

3. The right of every farmer to a return for his products which will provide a decent living for him and his family.

Right To Decent Home

5. The right of every family to a decent home.

6. The right to adequate medical care and an opportunity to achieve and enjoy good health.

7. The right to adequate protection from economic fears in old age, illness, accident and unemployment.

8. The right to a good education.

"All of these rights spell "security'," the President said. "And after his war is won we must be prepared to move forward in the implementation of these rights, to new goals of human happiness and well being.

"America's own rightful place in the world depends in large part upon how fully these and similar rights have been carried into practice for our citizens. For unless there is security here at home there cannot be lasting peace in the world."

Grave Concern Felt

If history were to repeat and America were to return to the so-called normalcy of the 1920's, he said, it is certain that though we have conquered enemies on battlefields abroad "we shall have yielded to the spirit of fascism here at home." All clear thinking business men, he added, share a concern over the grave dangers which would ensue from a "right-ist reaction" in America.

It is definitely the responsibility of Congress, the President emphasized, to explore methods to effectuate the economic bill of rights. Some of its features already are covered by pending legislation, he said, and he added that he would communicate with Congress from time to time on these and further proposals.

He gave Congress this warning:

"In the event that no adequate program of progress is evolved I am certain that the nation will be conscious of the fact.

People Expect Program

"Our fighting men abroad — and their families at home—expect such a program and have the right to insist upon it. It is to their demands that this government should pay heed rather than to the whining demands of selfish pressure groups who seek to feather their nests while young Americans are dying."

Although he did not make the recommendation at this point, the President appealed for federal legislation to give soldiers, sailors and marines the right to vote.

Men in uniform know that an overwhelming majority of them will be deprived of a chance to vote, he said, if the matter is left entirely to the states under existing state laws, and that there is no likelihood of these laws being changed in time to let them vote at the next election.

"It is the duty of Congress," Mr. Roosevelt said, "to remove this unjustifiable discrimination against the men and women in our armed forces—and to do it as quickly as possible."

No amount of legalistic argument, he said, can becloud the issue in the eyes of 10,000,000 Americans in uniform.

BRITAIN'S ACT PROVIDES COMPULSORY SERVICE

LONDON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Great Britain's national service act, lauded by President Roosevelt today as a "unifying moral force," provides for compulsory service in the nation's forces for both men and women and is administered by the ministry of labor.

Subject to the act are men between the ages of 17 and a half and 45 and women between 20 and 25.

Women called up can choose nursing or industry as an alternative to the other services—Auxiliary Territorial Service (like the WAC), the Women's Auxiliary Air Force, Women's Royal Naval Service or Women's Land Army.

The ministry of labor also administers registration for employment by which it recruits men and women for war industries and other essential work. Men and women 18 to 50 are directed into whatever work the ministry specifies.

Congratulations To:

Capt. and Mrs. L. E. Boren, 1922 Twenty-fourth street, received a telegram from the War department today notifying them that their son, 1st Lt. Lemuel M. Boren, an officer in the "Lost Battalion," was officially listed as a prisoner of war of the Imperial Japanese Army and is being held in Burma. The telegram was the first official word they have received on the whereabouts of their son since February, 1943 when they were notified he was still being carried as missing in action. He had been previously listed in June, 1942, as missing in action in the fall of Java to the Japs. Capt. and Mrs. Boren received a prisoner of war form postal card from Lt. Boren Christmas week, saying that he was well and safe in a Burma prison camp. They also received a letter this week from another son, 1st. Lt. Claude Boren, who is with the U. S. forces somewhere in England. He has been overseas since July.

A subsequent motion in arrest of judgment and a motion for a new trial were denied by Judge G. V. Pardue. Both negroes are also charged with murder of C. A. Improvement Plans For City Outlined Approximately $485,000 in improvement projects are planned by the City of Lubbock "as quickly as possible after the close of the war," City Manager Marlin R. Smith declared in a talk before the Lubbock Lions club today noon at the Hilton hotel.

Addition of laterals and extensions to the storm sewer system; paving of approximately 100 blocks of residential and business streets; extension of sanitary sewers to the Mexican section and building of a relief outfall line in the business district; increase in distribution mains, wells, pumpage, and overhead storage in the city water system; additional fire stations and equipment, and installation of a city-wide street lighting system are included in post-war plans, some of which are already prepared, Smith outlined briefly in his talk.

Present funds, which have accumulated in the war years, for financing the projects total approximately $450,000 and would not necessitate a bond issue before starting the program, Smith revealed.

The city manager also discussed briefly the city plan and how plans have been prepared to care for the future expansion of Lubbock.

Smith was introduced by G. R. Kennedy. Robt. H. Bean presided in the absence of President Ewell Hunt. Out-of-town visitors are the luncheon included Homer Wilson and Everett E. Dale of Dallas, J. Y. Boyd, jr., of Great Lakes, Ill., Capt. Herman Lambrecht of Beaumont and Dwight McFarland of Fort Worth.

Discharge Pay Bills Pushed In Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Two House committees vying for jurisdiction over service men's legislation moved swiftly — and separately — today to get Congressional action on benefits for discharged men and women.

Chairman May (D-Ky) called the military committee "to report out before the end of the day" a bill for cash payments upon discharge.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss), assembled the veterans committee to hear the views of the American Legion on the whole subject of veterans' assistance, including mustering-out pay.

Sidetracked for the moment was a dispute over which of the two committees should handle mustering-out pay.

Visitors at the meeting included Lt. and Mrs. George O. Elle, who are enroute to Lt. Elle's new station in Maryland.

Big Three Expected To Enforce Peace

NEW BANK—The old reliable "First National" comes in sheer cotton mesh now, as Claire Trevor demonstrates in her costume as the "woman of the town" in her new film.

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

How many of you noted the highly important declaration by James C. Dunn, State department advisor on European political relations, that but for the agreement reached at the Moscow conference by Russia, America, Britain and China, a third world war was certain?

His disclosure fits well with a statement made in this column about a month ago on the question of peace versus war. The subject represents one of the greatest problems of the day — of our generation, for that matter.

In the previous column I recorded that there's a very considerable school which feels that the maintenance of peace must depend on a military alliance among the Big Three — America, Russia and Britain — just as the winning of this war hinges on the continued cooperation of these three dominant world-powers on the battlefield.

Must Retain Leadership

Field Marshal Jan Smuts, prime minister of South Africa and one of the great soldier-statesmen of our time, said, "these three powers must retain the leadership in war and in peace and be responsible, in the first instance, for the maintenance of security and for the preservation of world peace; and this primary responsibility will not be affected by any duties resting on the rest of the United Nations."

It strikes me that if the lesson of the League of Nations means anything, it is that any peace organization to be successful at this junction of our history must have as a nucleus and alliance of the dominant powers which are agreed to maintain peace by force if necessary. Around this nucleus may be formed a United Nations. Certainly China should be included in the alliance, but at the moment her strength is potential rather than actual.

Have Necessary Strength

The Big Three, taken as a unit, have the physical strength to enforce their decisions. If the advocates of this alliance are right, then peace can be maintained just so long as the trio hangs together. Peace will be in danger the moment the combination breaks up.

There's one fear which I constantly encounter in discussing this burning problem. Many Americans are afraid that an alliance with Russia may in some way result in communism being thrust upon this country, or at least in the barrier to it being lowered. They seem to have the idea for some reason that they must be kind to the "ism" because of friendship with the Soviet Union. However, I haven't yet found anyone who can explain why we are under obligation to foster any political belief we don't want, any more than Russia is under obligation to accept our American form of government. We don't have to establish a monarchy because of a close working agreement with Britain, and we should fight the idea tooth and nail if it were proposed.

Missionaries Believed Lost

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 11 (AP)—The great mysterious hinterland of the Amazon valley apparently has claimed the lives of nine American missionaries who entered the Bolivian jungle near the Brazilian border last November.

The missionaries, eight men and one woman, representing the new tribes mission, left the village of Robore last outpost of civilization 300 miles east of Santa Cruz, Bolivia, in the direction of the Brazilian frontier and the unexplored Matto Grosso region further east.

They plunged into a region inhabited by wild Indian tribes who are completely untouched by civilization.

Advice Disregarded

Disregarding the advice of Bolivian frontiersmen, the missionaries refused to carry arms, explaining that they did not wish to antagonize the Indians. The party, none of whose home addresses were obtainable, was led by Cecil Aaron Dye and included Wallace Roland Wright, Hipolito Thomas Moreno, George Hochsbachjn, Lloyd Hunter, David Raymond Bacon, Robert Clyde Collins, Robert Winfred Dye, and the latter's wife, Dorothy Nell Dye.

Days after they left Robore, three members of the party were reported to have returned to the village, where they notified the authorities that the missionaries were being followed by a tribe of hostile Indians. A detachment of soldiers was sent out on the trail of the party, but it faded out near a jungle landmark known as Santa Corazon, 80 miles from the Brazilian border, where traces of an Indian camp were found. It is now believed that the missionaries died at the hands of these savages.

Recent reports from the sparsely inhabited region between the Rio Grande river and the border said that the Yanaguas Indians had been on the warpath and that one pioneer family of seven members had been attacked and wounded, three of them seriously.

Officials of the United States embassy at La Paz were attempting to obtain additional information regarding the fate of the missionaries, but all reports indicate they perished at the hands of the Indians.

Coffee And Tea Supplies Up

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (AP) — The chances that your favorite hot beverage will be on tap for breakfast on chilly winter mornings are better in 1944 than at any time since the war began.

There's a three months' supply of coffee in the United States and despite occasional rumors of difficulties in the coffee trade, such a surplus is a lot of coffee.

It would take a big jolt, coffee men said, to put coffee back on the ration list again.

Traffic In Tea Heavy

The traffic in tea, meanwhile, has been so heavy in recent months that big tea interests are concerned about teaching America to drink this beverage in larger quantities again.

Tea is principally imported from Ceylon and is such a light, easily-handled product that ships returning from the eastern Mediterranean theater of war can always find space for it.

Four times as much cocoa was imported in 1943 as in 1942, which is still not as much as the United States consumes normally, but nevertheless a great comfort to America's sweet tooth.

More than any other beverage product, cocoa is at the mercy of the war's turn of events. South America has increased its shipments to the U. S., but the supply from Africa is still uncertain.

Heroism Of Texans Widely Publicized

DALLAS, Jan. 11. (AP)—Heroism of Texas boys in the war gets front page publicity all over the world.

A copy of the London Express of Dec. 20, 1943, was received by Mayor Woodall Rodgers today from John W. Wilton, King's Heath, Birmingham 14, England, carrying a front page picture and story on Lieut. John C. (Red) Morgan of Amarillo.

Lieutenant Morgan received the Congressional Medal of Honor from Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker for miraculous and heroic performance during the American heavy bomber attack on Hanover July 28. The picture showed him getting the medal and Wilton said he thought the home folks would like to see it.

The Express, a big London paper, had only four pages for all the news and advertising.

Factory Wrecked In Mexico City Quake

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 11 (AP) — One factory was wrecked here yesterday as the result of a strong earthquake which shook the capital shortly after 3 p. m. (CWT). No one was injured.

The epicenter of the temblor was in the Pacific about 89 miles from the port of Acapulco, from which place there were no reports of casualties.

The national seismographic observatory said the quake had a force of six on the Mercali scale, which has a maximum of ten.

One small textile factory in this city was shaken down by the first shock, which occurred at 3:10:39 and was the strongest. A second one at 3:35:07 had a force of five on the scale. Minor shocks were felt for several hours.

History Is Made When 75 Wounded Soldiers Flown In Ambulance Planes To Hospital

TEMPLE, Jan. 11. (AP)—Seventy-five wounded soldiers made Army history here yesterday when they were flown in three large ambulance planes from Charleston, S. C., to Temple in a six-hour and 15-minute trop that by train would have required two or three days.

Texans, Oklahomans and Californians comprised the group participating in the first mass evacuation of wounded soldiers by air to an interior hospital in the history of the United States Army.

They rode in Army troop carrier command planes from Charleston's Stark General hospital, landed at Temple Army Air field between 2:30 and 3:20 p.m., and were taken to McCloskey general hospital in ambulances.

35 Litter Cases

Thirty-five of the men were litter cases.

Every patient made the trip without difficulty, said Lt. Madeline D'Eletto of New Castle, Penn., nurse on one of the three ships bearing 24 litter patients. "There was no air sickness. Most of the men I've been evacuated by air from Italy to North Africa and this was nothing new to them," she said.

Flight surgeon for the evacuation was a Texan, Major Glenn E. Kahler, of Buckholts, Milam county.

The group included Pvt. Thomas F. McNeely of Plainview, a paratrooper who hit a land mine when he got to earth.

COMPANY AID MEN SAVING MANY LIVES

TEMPLE, Jan. 11. (AP) — Company aid men are saving more lives at the battlefront than all the doctors, a doctor with the 36th division who returned to McCloskey General hospital yesterday in the air evacuation convoy from the Italian battlefront, said on his arrival.

He is Capt. Jack O. Akins of Tulsa, whose wife and two children are living temporarily at Bauxite, Ark.

Wounded At Salerno

Captain Akins, a company commander with a medical battalion, was wounded in action at Salerno, Sept. 9, when he was hit with machinegun fire durng a tank attack. He lost his left foot as a result of that action.

"I was treating a German officer about three miles inland. He had been shot through the leg. He was scared to death and was crying. He had been told if he was captured by an American officer he would be killed. When I was shot, he started rubbing my head and sobbing, 'poor comrade, those —Germans'."

Never Bat An Eye

"The company aid men deserve more credit than any one outfit I saw them go out under shell fire and never bat an eye. Five of my own men were killed. The medicos are splendid."

Captain Akins said he never saw so much shooting as he did from the darkened porthole of the ship evacuating him to Africa that night.

"One thing you can say," he added, "I never saw an American boy holler out while he was being treated. They've got guts, those boys."

Investigation Of Meat Controls Suggested

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP) — Rep. Ploester (R-Mo), submitting a document which asserted that large meat packers and producers "have undertaken to frustrate" the program to control meat prices, called today for a joint Senate-House investigation.

He suggested to Chairman Patman (D-Texas) of the House small business committee that this group and its Senate counterpart look into "the methods and influence which have controlled pricing and rationing of meat."

French Underground Recognition Sought

ALGIERS, Jan. 11 (AP) — A demand that the French underground be recognized officially as the vanguard of invasion and a declaration that French "traitors" would be purged regardless of the British and American governments were placed before the United Nations by the French consultative assembly today.

The assembly yesterday adopted a five-point resolution calling on the French national committee to seek official recognition for the underground groups through both military and political channels. The assembly also demanded that a place be made for them in the strategic invasion plans of the Allied general staff, and that battle equipment be furnished them immediately.

At the same time Gen. Charles de Gaulle, blaming the Allies for what he called "painful, dolorous negotiations," with the committee declared:

"When our yellow book is published—it will show a sad story and that we are not at fault."

De Gaulle said the battle of France "is one and indivisible," waged by people within and without France, and would continue until the French government returned to France.

Determination of the assembly to rid France of "traitors" was emphasized by Interior Commissioner Emmanuel D'Astier de La Vigerie, following a two-day discussion of the resistance movement. He added: "To the Allies we say: 'the sooner the purge is over, the sooner order will be re-established'."

Thompson Advocates Universal Training

AUSTIN, Jan. 11 (AP) — Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson believes that universal military training on the basis of a year's service for every able-bodied man, would be one step toward world peace.

Speaking before the Austin forum of public opinion, Thompson who served with the U. S. army of occupation in Germany, said such service should include duty in occupied territory to give Americans a vision of world needs.
