Junior Livestock Show Planned At Texas State Fair

DALLAS, July 21.—Youthful livestock and poultry raisers will compete for a total of $17,122 in junior shows at the 1954 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9 through 24, Livestock Manager Ray W. Wilson has announced.

The Junior Livestock Show, Oct. 18-22, Monday through Friday the second week of the fair, will include $15,480 for dairy and beef cattle, fat lambs and swine. Poultry premiums total $1,642 for turkeys and chickens.

The important junior livestock auction sales for fat steers, lambs and barrows will be held Oct. 22 and 23. Turkeys will be auctioned off Oct. 12 and broilers Oct. 21. The auction sales last year brought in a total of $111,169 for 687 Texas farm boys and girls.

The junior livestock show offers dairy show premiums of $3,370 for five breeds, Ayrshires, Guernseys, Holstein - Friesians, Jerseys and Milking Shorthorns. Premiums of $2,930 have been posted for the steer show, $3,200 for market steers, $3,100 for pigs, $1,015 in the Negro pig show, and $1,515 for lambs. A cash award of $350 will be paid to the best junior herdsman.

In addition, junior exhibitors of breeding Rambouillet and Delaine-Merino sheep will have an opportunity to compete for premiums of $914 offered in connection with breed shows on Oct. 13.

Poultry show premiums for junior breeders are $800 for market turkeys, $340 for the egg production flock division and $500 for market broilers.

Mr. Wilson predicted that the State Fair's junior shows will probably set a record for the number of Four-H Clubs and Future Farmer Chapters which will be represented. He said they would come from more different sections of the state than ever before.

The fair's junior livestock shows are supervised by W. L. Stangel, dean of the School of Agriculture at Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

USDA REPORT SHOWS TEXAS TO HAVE MORE ACREAGE IN CROPS

Total acreage of Texas crops for harvest this year, estimated by the Crop Reporting Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at 26.1 million acres, will be the largest since 1949 and about 13% or more than 3 million above last year's 23 million acres finally harvested.

In planting this increased total acreage for harvest, farmers made shifts in acreages of several crops. A sharp reduction in cotton acreage under the allotment program was much more than offset by a record acreage of sorghums. Acreages of corn, oats, barley, rice, sweet potatoes and hay crops also were increased. Moderate reductions were made by flax seed and potatoes.

The 1954 season got off to a slow start in central, south and southeastern counties because of delayed planting, irregular germination and slow early growth as critically dry conditions plagued the entire State during the winter and early spring. Soaking April rains in south Texas gave temporary relief and started breaking the drought in the plains. April, May and early June showers saved the wheat crop, and provided ample moisture to start the 1954 cotton and sorghum crops in the northwest. In central and eastern counties, however, moisture was scant all spring. On July 1, much of the State was again moving into a serious mid-summer drought as growing crops and a blazing sun depleted moisture.

Cotton in cultivation July 1, estimated at 8,000,000 acres, is 16 percent less than the 9,568,000 acres in cultivation a year ago. Under acreage allotment restrictions substantial reductions from last year are shown for most areas, south High Plains and northern Low Rolling Plains counties being the principal exceptions, where 1953 acreages were low because of extreme drought.

Wheat production estimated at 31,160,000 bushels on July 1 as the bulk of the crop was combined, was only slightly below the June 1 estimate, but about 10 million bushels above April 1 prospects. Last year's crop was 23,035,000 bushels and the 10-year average 57,221,000 bushels. A yield of 10.0 bushels per acre was combined from the 3,116,000 acres finally cut. Last year's yield was 8.5 bushels per acre and the 10-year average yield is 11.8 bushels.

All sorghum acreage for harvest as grain and forage was estimated at 8,661,000 acres, 65 percent above the 5,249,000 acres harvested last year, 31 percent above average and the largest acreage of record.

The first forecast of the season placed the 1954 corn crop at 38,448,000 bushels which would compare with 33,874,000 bushels last year and 51,266,000 bushels the 10-year (1943-1952) average.

Peanuts planted for all purposes are estimated at 364,000 acres, 6 percent higher than last year. The flaxseed crop, estimated at 578,000 bushels, is 33 percent below 1953 production. Acreage harvested and per acre yields were reduced by drought.

Peach production, estimated at 180,000 bushels, is the lowest of record, only 15 per cent of 1953 production and 18 percent of the 1943-52 average as the result of late freeze damage.

There's Plenty Of Water If You Can Conserve It

AUSTIN, July 24.—Texas streams annually supply more than enough water but ways are needed to conserve and distribute it, Dr. Walter L. Moore of the University of Texas asserts.

Approximately 63 million acre-feet of water are available in intrastate and bordering streams, Dr. Moore, a civil engineer and water-control expert, says in a report to the Southern Regional Council of State Governments.

Texans now use only 8.5 million acre-feet of water from streams and wells annually, he adds. Irrigation takes 51 per cent, manufacturing and industry 30 per cent; municipal and domestic users, 7 per cent, and storage losses, 12 per cent.

The 53rd Legislature enacted laws strengthening powers of the State Board of Water Engineers, primary agency controlling Texas water, Dr. Moore reports. The Legislature also established a nine-member water resources committee now working on a longrange plan for statewide water conservation and development as a resource.

Progress Reported On New Structure

Several buildings are being remodeled and redecorated at the Cisco Junior College in preparation for the fall term of school, President Carlos J. Turner reported today. This work is being done in addition to the erection of a new administration building.

The summer work program at the campus includes substantial repairs and improvements for the boys dormitory, the preparation of a music building, and repainting of the cafeteria, Mr. Turner said.

Roy Fenley, local contractor, is in charge of improvements for the dormitory and music building. At the dormitory, the interior is being painted and changes are being made in the bath rooms. Plumbing work is being done by Rawson Plumbing Company.

The white, wooden classroom building on the campus is being converted into a permanent music hall, Mr. Turner said. Rooms will be arranged for practice work with one large room for group rehearsals, recitals and similar activities.

The B&W Construction Company this week was pouring the concrete slab floors for the new administration building, which is due to be ready for use in late fall. Brick work is due to begin in the near future.

Mr. Turner pointed out that "we will be ready for business as usual when school opens." Most of the groundwork for the opening of fall classes has been completed, he added. Those who desire information concerning classes this fall can contact school officials at the campus daily this summer.

The main building was destroyed by fire last winter.

FARM TO LIVE AND LIVE TO FARM

The week of July 25-31 will be an important one in the world of agriculture. By Presidential Proclamation, it has been designated as the 11th National Farm Safety Week. The President also suggested the theme: "Farm to Live and Live to Farm."

The Week is sponsored jointly by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and has the cooperation of the Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the Farm Equipment Institute and many other organizations. There can be no doubt that intensive attention to the farm safety problem is needed. More accidental deaths occur in farming than in any other major industry. It is forecast that, unless the farm safety picture changes materially from that of the recent past, within the next year 14,000 farm residents will die as the result of accidents and 1,200,000 will be injured.

Farm people are exposed to all the hazards common to the public at large, such as highway accidents. In addition, in this age of highly mechanized and electrified agriculture, they are exposed to hazards which are peculiar to farm operations. In order to better cover this wide field, the Week is to be divided into a series of special days. Sunday will be Church Day, with ministers urged to discuss the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill," and it will be followed in order by Home Safety Day, Livestock Safety Day, Fall Prevention Day, Highway Safety Day, Machinery Safety Day, and, finally, Review Day.

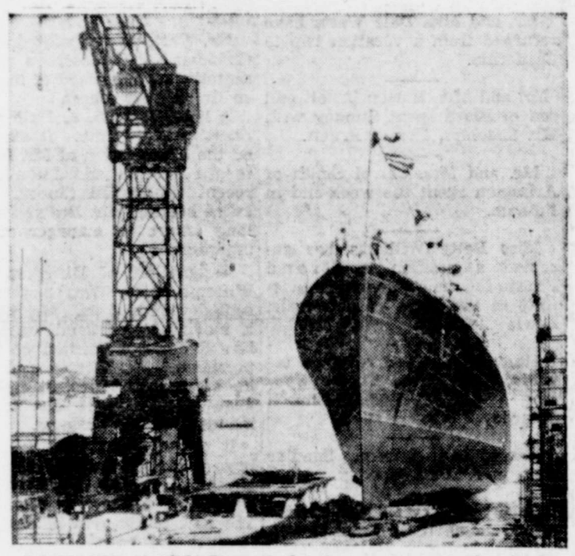

The list of topics and principles that will be stressed is a long one. Fatigue and overcrowded schedules are accident producers. Haste makes for mishaps as well as waste. Orderliness and good housekeeping in all phases of farming are important safety factors in their own right. Good planning means better production and fewer accidents. On the highway, knowledge of the laws and proper driving practices coupled with a live and let live spirit, is a vital need. Special precautions and training are needed when there are small children on the farm.

The Farm Equipment Institute has long worked and continues to work toward safer machinery — and also toward safer operation and better maintenance of that machinery. Particular attention has been given to the question of lights on equipment that travels the public roads — an unlighted, slow-moving machine at night obviously presents a great hazard. It has promulgated clear and comprehensive rules for safe tractor operation which, if followed, reduce the chance of accident to the vanishing point. The equipment engineers have made all manner of major improvements, such as shielding power take-off shafts, once a leading cause of accidents. The industry not only wants to produce the best equipment, but the safest. One serious problem over which the equipment people have no control is found in make shift home-made attachments. These are often excessively dangerous.

In his proclamation, President Eisenhower requested "all persons and organizations interested in farm life and welfare to join in a campaign to free as many farm homes as possible from the tragedies and losses caused by needless accidents." That is a great goal, and high hopes are held for its attainment.

FOR THE SCRAPS—A workman in Geneva, Switzerland, seems to have his hands full of wicker as he steadies a toppling column of wastepaper baskets at the Press House. The Swiss must have known that the many newsmen gathered for the Far East Conference were going to have plenty of scrap paper. A lot of doodling must be finding its way into those baskets. also.

DOWN THE WAYS—France's fighting power got a shot in the arm with the launching of this escort vessel at a shipyard in Seyne, near Toulon. U. S. and French naval dignitaries witnessed the launching of the ship, christened the Escorter E-6.

Phillip Waters Weds In Dallas Ceremonies

Miss Dorothy Rowena Haymes, daughter of Mrs. W. G. Morrison of Topeka, Kansas, and granddaughter of Mrs. William Franklin Ramsey of Dallas, became the bride of Phillip Martyn Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Waters of Dallas, formerly of Cisco, in ceremoneis performed Friday evening, July 16, in Dickerson Chapel of the First Methodist Church in Dallas.

The Rev. Calvin W. Freehner performed the ceremony and music was furnished by Mrs. George Soderstrom of Dallas and the groom's cousin, Miss Diana Waters of Cisco.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Knox Ramsey, wore a gown of ice blue alencon lace and tulle over white taffeta with an off shoulder neckline and a satin cummerbund. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to a white beaded tiara. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Lena Wenzel and Norvell Turner of Fort Worth served as honor attendants.

TIME IN THE SUN—Well, almost in the sun, but 18-year-old Yolanda Marconi has a parasol handy in case she gets too many ultra-violet rays. She's posing on a beach along the Straits of Messina, which separates Italy from Sicily, pictured in the background. Yolanda is a pleasing sight anywhere.

THREE "Rs" TO A SPOTLESS WHITE WASH

Right Temperature

The water must be 150 degrees to clean clothes properly and restore their original whiteness.

Right Quantity

The average wash consists of three loads of clothes; each load uses 14 to 25 gallons of hot water for the various cycles. This means between 42 and 75 gallons of hot water always must be available.

Right Quality

Your equipment must be first class – The water heater should be of non-rust materials to keep out particles that might spot your clothes.

Only An Automatic Gas Water Heater can assure the right quantity of water at the right temperature—because he tremendous "heat ability" of Gas makes it possible to replinish the hot water while it is being used.

There's a Futuramic model "made to order" for this area. See your dealer or installation man.

The Futuramic will out-perform the antenna you are now using on the present channel. And when the change is made, this superior reception will continue on the new channel without interruption. Don't be caught without reception. All antennas cannot be changed overnight. Be prepared by installing the Futuramic NOW.

2. Areas in which new VHF stations are being added.
The thousands of single channel antennas now in use will be unable to receive these NEW channels. Have the Channel Master Futuramic installed today to improve your present picture, and to provide reception on the future channels at no additional expense.

3. Areas served at present by 2 or more VHF stations.
Don't struggle along with poor pictures just for the sake of getting two stations. The Futuramic provides brilliant, multi-channel reception while avoiding the expense of separate antennas for each channel. Change now to a Futuramic, the most effective multi-channel antenna yet developed by modern science.

TRAFFIC CONTROL BEGINS AT WHEEL, SAFETY OFFICIAL SAYS

"Traffic control begins at your wheel."

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, explained in these words today the importance of the individual driver in maintaining safety on the nation's streets and highways.

Col. Tilley, who was speaking in connection with the July traffic safety program being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council, said that laws and official highway signs can be effective aids to traffic safety only if drivers heed them.

"The theme of this July safety effort, 'vacation driving,' is especially appropriate to the month when so many motorists will be taking holiday trips," he said. "With increased travel on the roads, it becomes increasingly important to drive with caution and courtesy."

"Experience of past years," he said, "has shown that more traffic accidents occur during July and August, when travel is great, than in the earlier months of the year.

"One tangible way that drivers can contribute to safety, and help keep down the accident rate, is to know the 'signs of life' and obey them," Col. Tilley said.

"These 'signs of life;" he explained," are traffic signs that state the law and warn motorists of potential dangers on the road ahead."

"The five basic sign shapes used for 'signs of life' are extremely helpful to drivers," he said, "for each shape bears one distinctive type of message, making recognition easy."

"Another important safety job for vacationing motorists," he said," is to learn the traffic laws of areas through which they expect to travel.

"Laws vary from state to state and from region to region," he said. "Driving in these areas without proper knowledge of the law can cost a vacationist his life."

He advised travelers, before they leave home, to check with police or motor clubs to get information on vacation-land traffic laws.

"A third vital factor in safe vacation motoring is the practice of courtesy behind the wheel," Col. Tilley said. He urged all drivers to follow the July slogan of the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the National Safety Council, "Vacation Time — Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road" and also to recognize and acknowledge the courteous highway acts of others.

"By observing traffic signs and signals, learning traffic laws and practicing courtesy," he said, "motorists will go a long way toward making our streets and highways safer for vacationists and all other drivers and pedestrains."

Letters

Editor:

We hear a lot about juvenile delinquency these days, and we have a few people in our town who squawk to high heavens about our children's actions. But do they do anything to remedy the situation? No.

They yell to the police because a few children are playing ball on a vacant lot they happen to own which is covered with grass and weeds. It's people like these who have forgotten that they were children once themselves and probably needed a place to play. And most of them were far from being angels. However, now they are grown-up, supposedly responsible adults and business owners who just can't be bothered with children!

What are we supposed to do with our children? Stake them out like cows and horses or put them on leashes like dogs? It's people like these who are responsible for a large part of our delinquency, yet they turn up their self-rightous noses at the very thought of helping someone else's child to become a useful citizen.

If the habitual squawkers would do an about face and help our children on the road to a normal healthy life instead of kicking them down at every opportunity, our community would be a much better place in which to live. But, maybe that's asking too much from our "perfect" adults.

CHARLES H. DAWSON

CANDIDATE FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE
76th DISTRICT OF TEXAS

THE DECISION FOR TEXANS

What Sort of State Do You Want Texas to Be?

YOUR VOTE ON JULY 24 WILL DECIDE

SHALL WE KEEP THIS . . .

PEACE as Texans live together and work together, mindful of Texas traditions, to find their own answers to Texas problems without outside dictation or influences.

PROGRESS as Texas — with true Texans as leaders — continues to build a sound, enduring foundation for a growing economy where the door of opportunity is open wide to every individual.

PROSPERITY as Texas holds to the course of sound, orderly development of its natural resources and native businesses, fighting against efforts to impose unneeded Federal controls, assuring continued high levels of employment and productivity.

DIGNITY as Texas' leadership, faithful to the heritage of our State, stands proudly before the nation and speaks up effectively for the honest convictions of the people of Texas.

COURAGE as Texas leaders firmly oppose outside interference in Texas affairs, refusing to be intimidated or influenced by threats of retaliation or personal smears.

VICTORY for Texas as experienced, sincere leaders reject compromise and fight to the finish to uphold the rights of all Texans to enjoy the benefits of the Texas way of life as we know it and want it.

This is the sort of Texas we have had under Allan Shivers' administration as our Governor. Isn't this worth keeping?

OR RISK THIS . . .

STRIFE in Texas as our respected traditions are torn away, standards of other regions imposed upon us, "bossism" allowed to dictate the course of State policy?

TURMOIL in Texas as outside groups seek to make our state a scapegoat for punitive measures, as dreamy-eyed one-worlders and cold-eyed opportunists turn Texas into a sociological laboratory for their experimentation.

UNREST in Texas as Texas leadership looks to Detroit, Chicago, and Washington for "orders" and steers the State down an uncharted course of extravagant spending, mounting tax burdens, economic folly.

APOLOGY from Texas leaders for our Texas heritage, our Texas principles in a weak-kneed effort to curry favor in the eyes of bosses from other regions who despise the independence Texans have shown.

SURRENDER by Texas leaders in fights for Texas rights against the encroachment of the central government and efforts to dictate Texas policy from outside the state.

DEFEAT for all Texans on the effort to preserve the rights of Texas to maintain local control over our public schools and on all the efforts of Texans to build a strong, stable economy to support continued prosperity.

The program of those groups — inside and outside Texas — which are fighting Allan Shivers will bring these things to Texas. Do you want to change Texas into this sort of State?

Governor Allan Shivers Stands for a Peaceful Texas Run by Texans

Most Texans like Texas the way it is.

Today those who want to change Texas are waging a vindictive, below-the-belt campaign against our Governor, Allan Shivers, in an effort to destroy him — and what he stands for.

TEXAS COMES FIRST

With Allan Shivers, Texas comes first. He believes Texas should be run by Texans, for Texans. With Allan Shivers out of the way, the outside labor bosses of the CIO-PAC and the inside political bosses such as George Parr of Duval County know they stand a better chance of controlling Texas, running Texas their way.

Which way Texas goes depends on how you vote Saturday, July 24, in the Democratic primary. You know — for sure — a vote for Allan Shivers is a vote for Texas.

PRINCIPLES AHEAD OF POPULARITY

During his term as our Governor, Allan Shivers has never allowed a challenge to Texas to go unanswered. When it was a choice between principle and popularity, Allan Shivers has chosen principle. He is one of few men in public office in modern times who ever, knowingly, staked his very political life on the conviction of the rightness of a principle.

ALLAN SHIVERS WON FOR TEXAS

In 1952, Texans gave Allan Shivers a majority of nearly 500,000 votes over the same man who is now opposing him again. Along with that majority, Texans gave Allan Shivers a mandate to recover the tidelands for our Permanent School Fund.

Allan Shivers did everything an honorable man could do to win that fight — and Texas won. Within the past year, the tidelands have brought in $32,000,000 to support Texas public schools.

THE SHIVERS' RECORD

Under Governor Shivers' administration, Texans have worked together to solve Texas problems in the Texas way.

★ State support of public schools has more than doubled; average salaries for teachers have increased more than one-third.

★ More miles of farm-to-market roads and new highways have been built than in any comparable period.

★ Our State Hospital System has been transformed from an out-of-date, overcrowded, understaffed operation into one of the most progressive of the nation.

★ Allan Shivers wrote the first Texas old-age assistance law and today, under his administration, more persons over 65 receive pensions in Texas than in any other State, except one.

★ Texas' prison system — the worst in the nation a few years ago — is now one of the best; the cost to the taxpayers of keeping inmates in prison has been reduced 50 percent per day.

★ Texas has made remarkable gains without new tax burdens — such as a sales tax or state income tax — on the people. TODAY TEXAS' PER CAPITA TAX RATE IS THE SIXTH LOWEST IN THE NATION.

This outstanding record has been achieved by Texans working together in harmony and peace, without strife and contention. Allan Shivers as Governor has displayed a rare genius for bringing good men together to find solutions to difficult problems — the mark of a true leader.

Allan Shivers will continue to provide Texas with good leadership and good government — to keep Texas the way Texans like it.

A SYMBOL OF TEXAS INDEPENDENCE

Throughout the nation, Allan Shivers — as Governor of Texas — has become a symbol of the modern-day Texas spirit of independence. He is respected universally for the honesty and integrity of his high standard of public service; he is trusted by the people of Texas because they know he is a man of his word who has worked tirelessly and faithfully to help build a greater Texas.

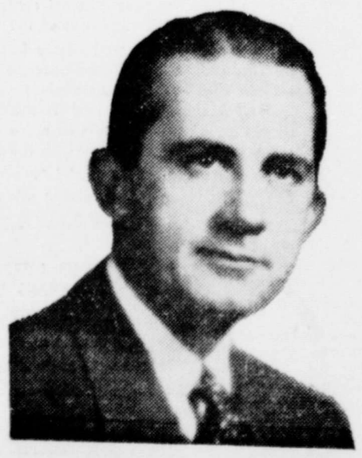

CAN CIO-PAC DICTATE TO TEXAS?

On Saturday, July 24, the eyes of the nation will be on Texas to see if the bosses of the CIO-PAC can now dictate to Texans and penalize this man for making a valiant and successful fight for right.

Your vote is important. With Allan Shivers, as our Governor, Texans have tested leadership — a man who knows how to defend Texas principles, a man who is willing to fight for Texas rights.

Your vote for Allan Shivers is a vote to keep Texas the way Texans want it. You know, for sure, Allan Shivers is for Texas.

"ON ALL SIDES, OUR TEXAS TRADITIONS AND TEXAS IDEALS ARE UNDER ATTACK. THE COURSE WE TAKE WILL BE DETERMINED IN LARGE MEASURE BY THE SORT OF LEADERSHIP TEXAS HAS."—Gov. Allan Shivers.

ALLAN SHIVERS—"A Credit to Our State"

In the short time he has been Governor of Texas, Allan Shivers has won the respect of the nation as a sound, dignified, courageous Governor who practices what he preaches about the rights and responsibilities of the states.

He has served as chairman of the Southern Governors Conference. In 1953, he was chairman of the National Governors Conference — the highest honor his fellow governors could bestow. In polls conducted by national magazines, he has been selected as one of the nation's best Governors.

Allan Shivers is a true Texan, the son of a country lawyer and judge. He helped pay his way through the University of Texas by working in a shoe store. He practiced law in Port Arthur and served 12 years in the State Senate. During World War II, he volunteered and served overseas. In 1946, he was elected Lieutenant Governor, then re-elected by the greatest number of votes ever given an opposed candidate in Texas.

Governor and Mrs. Shivers and their family of four children are known and loved throughout the State as representatives of the highest type of Christian citizenship. Governor Shivers is particularly well known for his leadership as a layman in church activities, finding time to teach the Men's Bible Class each Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church in Austin.

In all things, Allan Shivers, as Governor, has been and will continue to be a credit to Texas.

YOU KNOW - for sure - ALLAN SHIVERS IS FOR TEXAS
