Las Vegas, Nev., Mayor Gragson Visits County

Hon. Oran K. Gragson, mayor of Las Vegas, Nevada, and Mrs. Gragson, visited Friday, November 15, with his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gragson.

They were enroute to Hot Springs, Ark., where he was to speak at a meeting of some 400 newly elected city officials, coming from throughout the nation.

On their way home, Mr. and Mrs. Gragson are to attend another convention in Houston.

Reared in the Plymouth community, Mr. Gragson is now in his fourth four-year term as Mayor of Las Vegas.

KENNETH PORTER

Kenneth Porter One-Man Show Opens Here Friday

The paintings of Kenneth Porter, young Wellington artist, will be featured in a one-man show Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23, at the Heritage Room.

The public is invited to see this collection, which will include oil paintings, pastels, painting on weathered wood, and a papier mache piece.

The exhibit will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 9 p.m., and all paintings will be for sale.

A sophomore student in Clarendon College, Porter began painting 6 years ago, at the age of 16. His first teacher was Betty Burns, of Clarendon College, and he now studies techniques of oil painting with Mrs. Betsy Hawkins, also of the college.

The exhibit here will be his second one-man show, the first having been in October at The Shamrock Texan in Shamrock.

Included in the Wellington exhibit will be 20 oil paintings, either landscapes or wildlife, ten pastels, and a papier mache figure. An art form growing in appeal in the southwest are paintings on weathered boards, and Porter will have seven or eight of these -- painting from planking taken from old barns in the Wellington area.

Oils are his favorite medium, and southeastern subjects predominate in this exhibit.

"Some of the pictures have Spanish names, and that is because they match so well," says the artist's wife.

Plans Complete For Home Tour Sunday Afternoon

Wellington area residents will have the opportunity to see six of Wellington's finest and loveliest new homes as the 1924 Study Club holds its Golden Parade of Homes on Sunday, November 24, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Some of these homes are just completed others are only a few years old.

The tour will start at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vennum Fitzgerald, 1511 Corsicana Street, in a block which has been opened within the last year.

Others include the homes of:

-- Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hughs, 1604 Corsicana St.

-- Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur DePauw, 1603 Corsicana.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Thomason, 1604 Haskell Street.

-- Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rountree, 1009 East Avenue, the site of the old First Baptist Church.

-- Mrs. Jack Lowry, 1100 Bowie Street.

Tickets and maps are available from members of the 1924 Study Club.

This is a benefit event, and all proceeds will go the Collingsworth County Historical Museum, Mrs. Owens has pointed out.

Students Get Long Holiday

Students in the three county schools will have their longest Thanksgiving holiday in recent years, but teachers will get along on one day less.

The three schools will dismiss at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 27 and classes will resume at the regular opening hour for each school on Tuesday, December 3.

All faculty members will attend the Inservice Session at Wheeler all day Monday, December 1. This is a regularly scheduled meeting, although the agenda has not been announced.

Sue. One is "Madre y Caballita," of her mare and colt. "In English, we simply say a colt. Spanish nouns denote sex. Those ending in A are feminine, so this picture is of a mare and her girl colt. She is frisky, with a feminine look," Porter explains.

Another of his pictures is "El Caballo Grande," a horse with dignity.

Other of the Southwestern pictures are "Strawboss," a cowboy who obviously still has some good days ahead; "King of the Southwest," an old rancher after a day's work; "Old Routine," a cowboy saddling his horse, clearly a daily routine.

"Bad Weather," an abandoned house beneath storm clouds, and "Hunter," of a bird dog, are already sold.

Then there is "Southwest," an old wagon headed west with people walking alongside. "Wild Country" is a Colorado snow scene, and "Eyes of the Forest," just finished in time for the exhibit, shows an old wagon

Bloodmobile Here Nov. 26 For County's 118 Unit Quota

Collingsworth County residents are asked to give 118 units of blood Tuesday, November 26, when the Red River Red Cross Regional Blood Center sends its bloodmobile here for the semi-annual visit.

The unit will be at Bura Handley Community Center from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m., the Rev. Roy Collins, overall blood chairman, said.

The Ministerial Alliance is directing the blood donor drive.

County residents are reminded that providing blood at the bloodmobile's visit is part of the contract which enables Collingsworth General Hospital to receive an assured, adequate and regular supply of blood at all times, hospital administrator and permanent blood chairman, points out.

This agreement was entered into when the number of walking blood donors in the county was no longer sufficient to give the hospital this assured supply of blood for its patients.

Those giving blood are asked to allow about an hour of their time, which will include taking and checking blood samples, any waiting

Community Thanksgiving Service Will Be on Sunday

The traditional community service of Thanksgiving will be held Sunday, November 24, at 7:00 in First Christian Church.

As in the past, this is sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance, and all affiliated churches will dismiss their services in order that members may attend the Thanksgiving service.

The Rev. James Boswell, pastor of First United Methodist Church, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

Mrs. Lyndon Crelia will be the organist and Charles Waugh, minister of First Christian Church, will welcome the congregation.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Roy Collins, Jr., pastor of First Baptist Church. The Rev. Ervin Emmert of the Church of Nazarene, will be in charge of the offering, explaining its purpose, and afterwards, the Rev. Elvis Pitts of Faith Baptist Church will give the offertory prayer.

Special music will be presented by the Rev. and Mrs. Carl McKinney of the Assembly of God, while the Rev. Eddie Del Bosque of Mt. Sinai Mission Baptista will read the scripture. The song service will be under the direction of Benny Kilgo, music and education director of First Baptist Church.

The offering taken at this service goes into a central fund from which the Ministerial Alliance assists needy who have no other source of help throughout the year.

The public is invited to join in this Thanksgiving worship, which annually is one of the high points in Wellington's religious year.

The WHS boys and girls and the Junior Varsity boys will travel to Mobeetie Friday, November 22. The first game, the Rocket JV and Mobeetie B team, will begin at 5:00 p.m., to be followed by the Rockettes-Mobeetie girls, then the two

This will be a double header, with the girls game starting at 6:30 p.m. and the boys contest following.

Both Mobeetie and Samnorwood are Class B schools, and both put strong emphasis on basketball. Both teams have been in their regular schedule since the middle of October, playing two games a week, with the exception of two Norwood open dates. Even before this, both had several weeks of workouts before encountering an opponent.

Outdated Blood Not "Spoiled"—Collins

By Rev. Roy Collins,
Chairman, Collingsworth
County Blood Campaign

The bloodmobile will be in Wellington Tuesday, November 26, from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. We have received the co-operation of nearly every church in our area to provide workers and donors hopefully to far surpass the 118 unit goal for our county.

Recently on a nationally televised program a special report centered around the use of "bootleg blood" and the many abuses in the collection and distribution of that blood. In order to get to the bottom of the misunderstanding in our blood program, I spoke to Joe Arrington who serves as manager of the regional blood center in Wichita Falls. Here are the true facts about the blood program as sponsored by the Red Cross in our area:

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has set a goal of 5 per cent of "out-dated" blood. "Out-dated blood" is not "spoiled blood." Before the spoiling occurs, the blood is taken into the laboratory and is separated into its components. The plasma is extracted and is used in many needs within our area. The only loss ever is to the red cells of the blood.

The blood is rotated on the hospital shelves at regular intervals to insure fresh blood in our area constantly. Therefore, it is not the case that we give our blood, only to have it spoil.

The bloodmobile is an avenue for each of us to insure a continuing safe program for our county.

A free nursery will be provided at First Baptist Church for mothers who can donate blood and need someone to watch their children.

Nan Fidler In Who's Who

A senior at Tascosa High School, Nan Fidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Fidler of 5507 Emil, is scheduled to be featured in the eighth annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1974-75, the largest student award publication in the nation.

Less than three per cent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

She will compete for one of 10 scholarship awards of $500 to $1,000, funded by the publishers of the student award journal and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual Survey of High Achievers.

Miss Fidler is active in band, Future Homemakers of America, Girl Scouts, and Pink Angels at St. Anthony's Hospital.

She plans to attend Amarillo College for the West Texas State University School of Nursing course after graduation in June.

At 16, Porter exhibited his first picture, an entry in the junior division of the Collingsworth County Fair Art Exhibit -- and won a rosette. Since, he has won two more rosettes and numerous blue ribbons at fairs here. Besides the Shamrock show, he has exhibited his works in Clarendon.

Necessarily, he must do most of his painting at night, averaging about three hours each evening. Besides attending school and painting, he is presently working about 30 hours a week at Owens and Scott Grocery and during the summer he farmed with his father-in-law, John Wolf.

Bill to Seek Nov. 11 Return Of Veterans Day

State Representative London Williams of Houston announced November 14, that he has a bill ready for the 64th session of the legislature that will restore Veterans Day back to its original date of November 11.

Today, Representative Phil Cates of Pampa announced his support as coauthor to this bill.

Representative Williams pointed out that 42 states, by legislative action, have returned Veterans Day to its rightful date of November 11. "November 11 is a day associated with veterans, not a Monday in October, which has no meaning or tradition," he said.

We must return to the historical day of tribute to those who gave of themselves for their country and return Veterans Day to November 11, he continued.

Williams said that Governor Briscoe has publicly endorsed this proposed legislation, and that all veterans organizations, such as the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, World War I veterans and others have endorsed and are pushing to have Veterans Day moved back to November 11.

Representative Williams has by letter invited each state representative to sign the bill as coauthor.

Longs Visit In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long spent last week visiting relatives in Oklahoma City. They also visited one of Mrs. Long's sisters, Mrs. Pearl Dickinson, and other relatives at Comanche, Oklahoma.

A brother, Robert Benson, of Salinas, Calif., whom Mrs. Long hadn't seen in twelve years was also visiting in Comanche.

Mrs. J.K. Porter, now of Shamrock.

Both he and his wife were graduated from Wellington High School and attended Clarendon College together. In addition, she has worked as a nurse at Collingsworth General Hospital and as office nurse for Dr. Chas. B. Jones.

The Veterans Administration, with nearly 24,500 Vietnam-era veterans on its rolls, continues to lead all federal agencies in the employment of this group of veterans.

Fishing Licenses Valid Full Year

AUSTIN -- With this year's hunting and fishing licenses now available across most of Texas, the Parks and Wildlife Department reminds sportsmen that only the $4.25 fishing license will be valid one year from the date of purchase.

Previously, the fishing license expired Aug. 31 along with hunting licenses.

Now, if a fisherman buys a license in May for instance, it will be valid until May of the following year.

Not so with the $5.25 resident hunting or $8.75 resident hunting and fishing combination licenses. They will continue to be valid from Sept. 1 of each year to Aug. 31 of the next year.

You pay your money and you take your choice.

#1—continued from page 1 students 18 years of age may be blood donors without parental consent. Students 17 years old may give provided they have a signed consent from their parents.

Ms. Noble will explain the blood program in full at the Wellington High School Assembly and she will also answer any questions the students have to ask. Young and vivacious, she will be talking to the young men and women on their own level.

In the luncheon meeting, she will provide pertinent information to the student leaders that they in turn can take back to their classmates.

Cutting Horse Team Visits

One of the top husband-wife cutting horse teams in the northwest visited recently in Wellington, his former home.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Bartlett of Hermiston, Oregon, who were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Bartlett, and his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark.

They were in the Panhandle to participate in the National Cutting Horse Association Finals at Amarillo, and were among seven husband-wife teams competing.

Mrs. Bartlett -- Shirley -- is the current Northwest Open Cutting Horse Champion.

The couple trains cutting horses professionally.

Eight women competing in the National Finals came in for considerable attention. Most agreed they compete strictly for enjoyment. Their husbands are involved in the business, and they became involved, too. Most of the women are good friends and their conversation at the contest is pretty much as it is over a kaffeklach, clothes, children, their families and homes. And some of their biggest supporters are the men who were competing in the cutting horse finals.

#5—continued from page 1 that may be necessary during peak donor periods, and the short rest period required after blood is drawn. Taking the blood requires only about 15 minutes.

Many residents have been scheduled for specific hours during the day, and this recruitment campaign is headed by the Rev. Ervin Emmert. Anyone wishing to schedule their visit may contact him.

Blood needs for Collingsworth General Hospital remain as great as they have ever been, Mr. Altom points out. For the Red River Region as a whole, covering 26 northwest Texas and Southwest Texas counties, blood usage is up about 20 per cent, and this year it will total around 17,000 units.

"Our entering a contract with the Red Cross Blood Program is the only way we can secure the blood we need to serve the people of Collingsworth County," Mr. Altom pointed out.

While there are many walking donors who would give blood generously if they are called on, the need is for a constant, adequate supply of all types of blood, including rare types, and of blood components.

More blood is being used by doctors in patient treatment, and more and more blood components are being used. Whole blood remains on the shelves of hospitals in the Red River Region no more than 21 days. It is then returned to the Wichita Falls Center where it is turned into components which include:

- Fresh frozen plasma, used in the treatment of certain bleeding problems.
- Packed red blood cells, used for treating anemias where more liquid is not needed. It is also useful in nearly all conditions requiring whole blood transfusions.

Fractions which include:

- Serum albumin, used in the treatment of certain kidney and liver diseases and in malnutrition.
- Gamma globulin, used to modify or prevent measles.
- Vaccinia immune globulin, used for complications from smallpox vaccination and available only through the Red Cross Blood Program.
- Fibrinogen, a plasma protein essential to blood clotting, used in certain cases of hemorrhage.
- Antihemophilic Factor (AHF) used to control bleeding of hemophiliacs. There are a number of these people in the Red River Region.

Selected as delegates to the state convention were Mr. Tate, W.R. Breeding of Samnorwood, Mr. Langford, Mr. Morgan, Dudley Phipps and the president, Mr. DePauw. That meeting will be held Thursday through Saturday, December 12-14, in Houston.

At the close of the business session, plans were made for the annual Christmas party which will be Monday, December 2.

A $2.75 million Veterans Administration building designed specifically for outpatient and ambulatory care was dedicated recently at the VA hospital in Durham, N.C.

LISTENING ACTIVITY AT BOYS RANCH

* These Cal Farley Boys Ranchers are participating in a listening activity under the able supervision of the remedial reading teacher, Mrs. June Spivey, standing at left.

Seated at right and listening with the students is Ed Bawcom, formerly of Wellington, who is the new Elementary School principal at Boys Ranch.

City Council Interviews for Manager's Job

Members of the City Council began interviewing applicants for the place of city manager Monday evening, November 18, to pick a successor to Lyman Daniel. Mr. Daniel has resigned effective January 1 to enter business in Wellington.

Six applicants have been received and five of the six were present to appear individually before the council.

Any action was deferred to a future meeting.

In other business, the council voted to allow leasors of airport hangers to store in those buildings whatever they wished as long as FCC regulations were not involved. An earlier city council had passed an ordinance limiting stored items to those related to aviation.

This came before the council Monday when Gene Morrow asked for a clarification and if the city intended to continue this policy. Mr. Morrow owns Wellington Cottonseed Delinting and is also a pilot who has a hanger leased.

The council continued its hunt for someone to dig the trench silos at the new sanitary landfill and made plans for the annual Christmas party for the City Employees.

Boys Ranch Has New Reading Program

A new program for Cal Farley Boys Ranchers is a listening activity under the able supervision of the remedial reading teacher, Mrs. June Spivey, according to the new Elementary School principal, Ed Bawcom. "This program was developed under the Title One Program of the federal government. The remedial program has been in effect about 8 years, and has been effective in individualizing instruction for the students, said Mr. Bawcom. "Many of the students we have at Boy Ranch were behind their age group in reading achievement when they arrived at Boys Ranch. Under this program the students can work at their own level. Due to the deficiency in almost all reading skills, a greater emphasis is placed on perfecting listening skills in our program as compared to most other reading programs.

"Many machines, games, contests and various approaches to reading are utilized to motivate the child 'to want to learn to read."

Some students have raised their reading levels as much as two years in a school year and even more in isolated cases.

"I am learning a new job right along with the students' learning new experiences," Bawcom stated.

Miss Alfon, who is on the nursing staff of Collingsworth General Hospital, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Alfon of Barotac Nuevo, Philippine Islands. She attended Central Philippine University at Iloilo

City, Philippine Islands. The parents of her fiancé are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Buyten of South Lake Tahoe, California. The wedding will take place in First Baptist Church at Altus, at three in the afternoon.

High School Seniors Vie in $111,000 Betty Crocker Scholarship Program

The 21st Annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, a $111,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, gets underway Tuesday (Dec. 3). High School seniors here and throughout the country will join in a written knowledge and attitude examination which will determine individual college scholarships awards of $500 to $5,000. Participating seniors will compete in a 50-minute examination prepared and graded by Science Research Associates, Chicago, who are also responsible for all judging and selection of winners. The local winner will receive a specially designed award from General Mills and will, together with other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State winners -- one from every state and the District of Columbia -- will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

Women Telling Story Of Texas Agriculture

AUSTIN—Renee Barsalou and Linda Farrell, special assistants to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, travel the state telling the story of Texas agriculture.

"Since the Texas Department of Agriculture has numerous requests for speakers, a program was initiated in which qualified personnel supplement the administrative staff in filling speaking engagements," White said.

The women trained in various agriculture centers around the state learning about the department's divisions and duties and the problems of today's farmer.

They speak to schools, civic groups and clubs on such subjects as consumer education and agricultural careers. Slide presentations often accompany their talks.

Mrs. Barsalou has a bachelor of education from the University of Texas. She taught elementary school in Houston before joining TDA.

It's that time of year... and we'd like to express our thanks

... to those determined people who, some 40 years ago, had the vision and persistence to form rural electric cooperatives.

... to our members—today's consumers—who care about this system and keep it responsive to changing needs.

... to our community, for being our community—interested and concerned about our progress.

Today, nearly a thousand rural electric systems like ours provide light and power to more than 20 million consumers in 46 states. We're proud to carry out our responsibilities... and we're thankful for understanding and support, as we gear up to meet the difficult challenges ahead.

We wish you a good Thanksgiving

Fix-It Tip

Installing new light fixtures need not be as difficult as you think. Loosen the old fixture and see how it was mounted and what hardware you might need for the new fixture.

The simplest fixtures, the kind found in basements, bathrooms and kitchens, are usually held to the outlet box with a pair of screws.

There will be round holes with narrower slots to the side. This allows you to slip the base over the heads of the bolts and then hold it in place by twisting it slightly so that the bolts go through the narrow slots which the heads cannot go through.

Another type of fixture mounts on a metal strap that is in turn mounted on the box. There are threaded holes in the strap through which you run machine screws that hold the base in place.

WTSU Band Seeks Guinness Listing

AMARILLO -- The 240-piece West Texas State University Band will "make history" Saturday, Nov. 23, when they march 20 miles from Canyon to Amarillo.

The longest such march known for any band, their effort will qualify West Texas State for a listing in the Guinness "Book of World Records" and hopefully raise enough money to send the Symphonic Band to California.

"We need approximately $20,000," noted director

Gary Garner. The West Texas State group was selected from nationwide competitive tape auditions to be one of six bands to perform before the prestigious College Band Directors National Association Feb. 5 in Berkeley.

"This represents the association's recognition that the West Texas State University Symphonic Band is a top concert band," Garner said.

Garner said that each student will have to raise approximately $150 by seeking sponsors to pay any amount they wish per mile.

The estimated four-hour trip, beginning at 10 a.m., will culminate with a concert in Amarillo's Western Plaza Shopping Center.

1954 Study Club Visits Altus AFB

Members of the 1954 Study Club visited Altus Air Force Base Thursday, November 14, to learn more of the defenses protecting the United States, and to hear a former North Vietnam prisoner of war, Major Thomas Pyle, tell of his ordeal.

The Club's hosts at the base were Col. and Mrs. Fred Barnes, and their tour guide was Sgt. Loomis. Mrs. Barnes is the former Marjorie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Quail.

Major Pyle spoke during the "Pride in Patriotism" program at the luncheon in the officers club attended by the visitors and 200 officers' wives from the base.

First was to inform the American people of the real conditions of war, and second is to continue the search for other prisoners not yet accounted for.

Faith in what they believed to be true was all the men had to hang onto, Major Pyle told the women.

Adjustment was easier through pictures and letters from home, and these the prisoners shared with each other. The one thing that kept them going over the long period was "getting out of here," the officer said.

The Altus High School Choir provided musical selections and color slides for the program.

The morning tour, made by bus, took the 1954 Study Club members first to a classroom for a film showing the importance of the C-5 and C-141 military aircraft which provide the U.S. defense mobility. Altus AFB is the 443rd Military Airline Wing and is altogether a training school, whose motto is "Safety Through Knowledge."

There are four stages of training, club members were told: programmed texts, class instruction, through simulators and finally, flight training.

At their next stop, the women saw an instruction classroom, or CPT Trainer room.

Next they had a close-up inspection of the simulators, the cockpits of the C-5 and C-141s. Part of the training is through computer programming the use of TV cameras and a model terrain board.

At the fourth stop, an officer, Carleton Philbeck, pilot of a C-5 jet, took the women on a tour through one of these aircraft.

Members taking the trip were Mrs. Roy Collins, who won a door prize of a patriotic floral arrangement, and Mrs. Don Lacy. Mrs. Jerry Nix, Mrs. Paul Spillman, Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mrs. Lynn Wright, Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. A.J. Fires, Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Guy Owens, and two guests, Mrs. B.M. Sims and Mrs. Denzil Lacy.

CREDIT CARD GROCERIES

Competition has created another use for those bank credit cards; buying groceries at your neighborhood chain supermarket. Chains have resisted the bank credit cards, which have become an established part of all other retail operations. Chain grocery stores were a natural for credit cards because they are the biggest cash and carry business around. Profit margins are low in the chain grocery field (less than 1 1/2%), so the chains weren't anxious to give up any of what little profit there was. The bank credit cards charge the retailer an average of 3% of volume, but the grocery chains have worked this service charge down to 1/2 of 1%.

Supermarkets are also interested in the bank credit cards because the losses in personal check kiting are huge. The cost of handling checks also runs into big administrative and financial costs because of the time employees have to spend running down the check passer, writing letters and trying to collect on the bum checks. Getting rid of the rubber check problem is a big plus for the credit cards because there are no bad check losses under the arrangement with the banks. Funds also process faster with the credit cards. This can make a big difference in the profit or loss of a supermarket.

Another intriguing reason for supermarkets going to credit cards is the average charge transaction is $19

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. As a Catholic Priest and an old friend of the Kennedys, were you happy to learn of Senator Kennedy's withdrawal from the presidential race?

A. Very happy. There are still some strange creatures out there in the jungle who hate this great family, and I am happy to see Senator Ted has removed himself from that very dangerous arena, to take proper care of his wife and children, his first concern in life.

Q. Just how large an area does you own parish cover, Father?

A. My parish covers all of Collingsworth and Wheeler counties, and since there is only a part-time priest in Childress, I am "on call" for Childress and Cottle counties, too. My Diocese, with its HQ in Amarillo, covers everything from Texline to Plains to Aspermont and Follet, a huge rectangle, taking in all of Northwest Texas.

Rejuvenated Older Home A Source of Local Housing

Housing remains one of the critical needs in the Wellington area. Many young couples as well as older families would like a new home but construction costs have put them out of sight.

In other parts of the country many families are turning to older homes to be rejuvenated, with the families doing part of the work. True the cost is still high, but it is an avenue of home ownership.

On a drive through the county you pass many once substantial houses left vacant so long they are not habitable. But how many others are there that with remodeling would be good homes. Would the present owners be interested in selling these rather than let them fall down? What owners would be interested in making of them rural rent property? Many families would prefer living on a farm. However, the potential owner of rural rent property should find out ahead of time what is involved in being a landlord.

If you plan to rehabilitate an older home, certainly every cost angle should be studied, including location, and if in the country, the availability of phone, mail and school bus service, and other factors.

What it boils down to is this: have we exhausted all our sources of housing just because some hard work and expense would be required? A new home gives special delight, but an older remodeled home also can give its owners joy and comfort.

Season of Blessings

The spooks of All Hallow's Eve have come and gone, and suddenly it is time for ... Thanksgiving? For turkeys and cranberry sauce and smothery, front-doorstep embraces?

But if that is so, how has it come upon us so fast? All was pumpkins and black cats just a couple of weeks ago. Soon the pumpkins will be no more than triangular wedges atop glistening white china.

Thus it goes in these dwindling weeks of the year. They are weeks of activity and festivity. It is always something. First, Thanksgiving; then Advent is upon us; and at last Christmas Day itself. As if that were insufficient, only one week after Christmas comes the start of a whole new year.

It is a breathless time; breathless and breathtaking. Full of sensations that flip over as rapidly as shuffled playing cards.

Few months of the year have real character. April, no doubt, with its budding branches; and mellow October. For the rest, they are hard to define. But November and December: Here are two months defined not so much by their skies and sunsets as by their big days. For that reason they are beloved months.

The joy ride is over

Those anti-theft devices manufacturers began installing on automobiles in 1970 are working. That was the report of the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn. to the recent Annual Midwest Motor Vehicle Theft Conference.

The MVA noted that in 1971, 970,000 cars were stolen at a cost to the American public of over $1 billion. The number of thefts threatened to exceed a million the next year if the rate of increase continued.

However, thefts dropped to 940,000 even though the national car population increased, making 1972 the first year in which a decline was reported. The association credits both the anti-theft devices and new reporting systems and improved police techniques for the decline.

Early reports for this year register a 6 per cent drop in car thefts from 1973, with predictions that the decline will continue as older cars are replaced with new models.

The steering column ignition lock, which also locks the steering wheel and transmission, is the most identifiable of the improvements designed to make cars more difficult to break into and drive away. Other features include tamper-resistant ignition switch terminals, recessed lock cylinders, improved latches and locks, better vehicle identification, key-in-lock warning systems and inside hood releases.

The manufacturers say they are working on even more advanced systems to thwart both the professional car thief and the transient "joy rider."

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — The whopping state surplus expected to be available to the legislature will permit $500 million in new spending without generating tax bills for another eight years.

This was the good news handed a House revenue and taxation sub-committee last week.

However, Texas Research League added the warning that spending all the billion dollar surplus in sight would make a $1.43 billion tax bill necessary in 1977.

Legislative Budget Board has told lawmakers present spending levels, plus mandatory increases for state employee salaries and emergency school aid, will "leave over" $1.502 billion at the end of fiscal 1977.

A TRL projection handed the legislative sub-committee discussed creation of a tax stabilization fund as one alternative for dealing with the unprecedented surplus.

Creation of the fund would make it possible to avoid new state taxes for at least eight years and still permit new program spending of $250 million a year increasing to $500 million a year by the 1982-1983 biennium, TRL calculated.

However, TRL conceded: "It may be unrealistic to suggest that the next three sessions of the Texas legislature might be willing to hold in trust such a large surplus solely for the purpose of avoiding tax increases in future years. There is no historic precedent for such restraint."

SCHOOL AID ALTERED — An attorney general's opinion, hailed as one of the most significant in recent months, signaled a new approach to state formulas for finance aid to schools.

Atty. Gen. John Hill held the Commissioner of Education should require county tax assessors to report the percentage of market value used in determining assessed property value.

And he said the commissioner should use that data in "computing the county economic index to achieve uniformity of property values of each county as compared with every other county."

Education Commissioner Dr. M. L. Brockett last week wrote all county tax officials requesting the data, and said it will be used for computing the 1975-76 economic index to be considered by the State Board of Education next March.

NEWSMEN OUT — Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, expected to be named speaker next January, said consideration is being given to barring news reporters and other non-legislators from the House of Representatives floor.

No firm decision has been made, however, Clayton stated.

Meanwhile, the House administration committee named a three-man sub-committee to consider what facilities may be made available for reporters covering the legislature if they are banned from the floor during legislative debate.

Clayton said he considered the move only in the interest of promoting "decorum" in the legislative process. He said onlookers at the capitol are dismayed by what they see on the House floor, and anything that helps restore order may be a public service.

COURTS SPEAK — Failure to buckle a seat belt is no legal cause to cut down compensation to accident victims, the State Supreme Court held.

In another case, the High Court directed a fullscale trial of a lawsuit by the widow of a crane operator against an oil company in a controversy over safe working conditions.

A retrial was ordered for a $250,000 alienation of affections suit filed by a Brazoria County man against a chiropractor.

The Court of Criminal Appeals held that a person's presence in a house where LSD is discovered is not enough grounds for conviction of possessing the drug.

The same court concluded that former House Speaker Gus Mutscher and associates convicted of conspiracy to accept bribes must start serving five-year probationary sentences, although they have taken further steps to appeal.

AG OPINIONS — A police officer may not break into a dwelling to execute a court seizure writ on personal property, Atty. Gen. Hill held. In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- University land lease record files (except for sealed bids) are public information no matter who requests access.

- Questions concerning validity of a proposed inter-agency government agreement should be submitted initially to the Board of Control.

- Student records are available to educational institution personnel, the student, parents, guardians or spouse.

REGULATION SOUGHT — Nine organizations banded together to support legislation calling for a state regulatory agency to deal with utility rates.

Spokesmen indicated cities would be offered an option whether they wanted a state board to regulate their rates and services.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — E. Hartley Sappington will be new assistant deputy commissioner of community services of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, effective January 1.

Angelina County District Attorney John Hannah, former state legislator, will succeed Randall B. Wood as general counsel and lobbyist for Common Cause, "the people's lobby."

Randall Meyer of Houston is chairman of Texas Research League for 1975, and Ed R. L. Wroe Jr. of Austin is treasurer.

Balancing Act

QUICK ONES

Atty. Gen. Hill proposed creation of an underground water conservation district to deal with the subsidence problem in the Harris County area.

Gov. Briscoe requested declaration of Reeves and Hill counties as disaster areas due to losses to farmers and ranchers because of adverse weather conditions.

Plans were announced for a $155 million expansion of the International Paper Company's pulp and paper mill in Texarkana.

Teachers will ask the legislature for a billion dollar salary raise—providing $8,200 starting minimum, and an average $595 above the national median.

Cotton production dropped 40 per cent from 1973.

As tested in GM Proving Grounds City/Suburban Driving Schedule, this 1975 Chevy C10, using unleaded fuel, shows about a 14% reduction in fuel consumption over a comparable '74 model using leaded fuel. That's 700 fewer gallons in 50,000 miles. Cost figures could vary, depending on the price of leaded and unleaded fuel in local areas; however, at a price of 56¢ per gallon for unleaded fuel, allowing a one cent per gallon increase over leaded fuel as permitted by Federal regulations, this would represent a net savings of

Rockets Drop Final Game to Clarendon

By Charles Waugh

The Wellington Skyrockets closed out the 1974 football season with a 34 to 14 loss at the hands of the Clarendon Broncos. The young but talented Rockets put together one of Wellington's best football records in recent years. They were five and two in district action and six and four for the year.

The Skyrockets traveled to Clarendon for their final game and faced one of the better running backs in the area, Kenneth King. The Rockets co-captains against the Broncos were George Brewer and Jim Bob Nall. The Rockets won the coin toss and elected to receive the kick off from Clarendon.

Not only is Kenneth King a fine running back but he is also a good place kicker. King kicked off for the Broncos and put Wellington with their backs to the wall at the beginning. The Rockets were only able to return the ball to their own seven yard line where play began. From there they had difficulty getting the offense moving. George Brewer fumbled the opening snap from Randall Maxwell, but recovered the ball for Wellington. On the second play Brewer rolled out to his right and was thrown for a loss back to his one yard line. Jim Bob Nall picked up two yards on the next play leaving the Rockets with a fourth down and sixteen from their own three yard line. Brewer punted for Wellington and the ball went out of bounds on the Rockets thirty eight yard line where Clarendon began in excellent field position.

Kenneth King carried for Clarendon in their first series for gains of four, two, and six yards and a first down. With the Rockets expecting King to carry again, running back Larry Shields took the hand off on a counter play and raced twenty yards untouched for the Clarendon touchdown. King failed to convert on the point after attempt leaving the Broncos with an early 6 to 0 lead. Following the Clarendon kick off the Rockets put the ball in play from their own twenty yard line. Sammy Gonzales was held for no gain on the Rockets first play. Wellington picked up a first down, however, on the next play at their own thirty-five yard line on a pass interference call against defensive back Gary Jack. Brewer connected with Gonzales on a sixteen yard pass play following the first down giving the Rockets good field position at the Clarendon forty-six yard line. As the Rockets began to move the ball, the fumble interrupted the drive and the Broncos' Gary Davis recovered at his own forty-eight yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, running back Lynn Floyd picked up seventeen yards and a Bronco first down at the Rockets thirty-five yard line. On the next play King carried the ball and was fortunate to have his fumble bounce right back into his hands and he went twenty three yards for a first down to the twelve yard line. King was not so lucky on the next carry as he fumbled the pitch out and Jim Bob Nall recovered for the Rockets at their own eighteen yard line. Neither team scored in the remainder of the quarter.

Wellington couldn't get their offense in gear in the second quarter as Clarendon was able to score on the first and last plays of the quarter. With a fourth down and long yardage situation, George Brewer's attempted punt was blocked and returned ten yards for a Clarendon touchdown. Lynn Floyd, who picked up the ball and returned it for the score, also scored the conversion as he received a pass from Kenneth King.

With the Skyrockets in possession of the ball and time running out in the second quarter, they elected to go for the first down on

KEEPS ON GROWING

This radish, pulled recently from the garden of the Rev. and Mrs. Ervin Emmert, couldn't quit growing. The large portion is as hot as horseradish, said Lynn Emmert, who is holding it. The second small radish which had begun growing near the bottom of the roots, was as sweet as any in spring.

fourth down and six from the twenty six. Brewer carried and picked up two yards to the twenty eight with four seconds left in the quarter. The gain was not enough for the first down and the Broncos took possession with time for one play.

It proved to be all the time Kenneth King needed as he raced twenty eight yards for a touchdown as the buzzer sounded ending the first half. The point after by King was good giving Clarendon a 21 to 0 halftime lead.

The Skyrockets came out after intermission determined to get back in the ball game. They kicked off to Clarendon and the Broncos fumbled in their first series and Edward Thomas recovered for Wellington at the Broncos forty-six yard line. Upon converting two fourth down situations on pass plays of eleven and seventeen yards from Brewer to Thomas and Davis, Jessie Davis scored the first Rocket touchdown from four yards out on a fine run. Tony Martinez added the two point conversion on a pass from Brewer. So with 7:09 to go in the third quarter, Wellington was on the scoreboard.

With twenty five seconds to go in the third quarter the Skyrockets had a good defensive drive stopped at the Clarendon fourteen yard line. Kenneth King on the first play ran eighty-six yards for a touchdown that gave the Broncos a comfortable lead going into the final quarter. The conversion failed leaving Clarendon on top 27 to 8.

Wellington's final score of the game came on a forty-four yard touchdown pass play from George Brewer to Jessie Davis. The conversion failed, leaving Clarendon in front 27 to 14. The Broncos closed out the scoring on a fifty one yard run by Velma Calloway and Barry Shafer converted the point after. The final score was 34 to 14.

We want to congratulate all of the Skyrockets players who did an outstanding job of playing heads-up and

County Asks Designation as Disaster Area

The Commissioners Court has requested the office of Governor Dolph Briscoe asking that Collingsworth County be designated as an emergency loan area by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The request is based on damage to crops from hail, drouth, wind and sand, according to County Judge Zook Thomas.

Hail in damaging amounts occurred on April 19, May 23, June 4 and June 6. Not all the county was affected each time, but just about the entire acreage had damage during one or another of these hail storms.

Damaging to the crops also was the drouth that lasted from October 1973 to April 4, 1974. Again there were drouth conditions from a date designated as May 20 to the middle of September, according to Judge Thomas report. Some crops suffered from excessive wind and sand during June.

Estimates given in the report indicate that 80 per cent of the county's 1,043 farmers were affected to some extent by the adverse weather conditions, and that at least 70 per cent of the total 255,302 acres of farmland or 178,711 acres spirited football from the opening game to the closing game. Also we congratulate the coaching staff of James Williams, Phil Bailey, Robert Hicks, Bruce Dollar, and Ronnie Glenn for doing an outstanding job with the football program from seventh grade through varsity. We look forward with great anticipation for next season when the Skyrockets will be definite contenders for district champions.

were affected.

The report estimates that the normal wheat yield of 16 bushels per acre was cut to a 6 bushel average due to drought conditions. Only 5 inches of rain was received between October 1973 and

Are Natural Gas Curtailments Going To Affect Me?

During cold days in the winter, when the demand for natural gas is really high, some industrial users are asked to cut back their consumption of natural gas. But we want to assure our residential and other high priority customers that it's highly unlikely their natural gas service will be interrupted.

The pipelines used to deliver natural gas can only hold so much gas. And during extremely cold winter days, there's sometimes more demand than we can supply. Some people ask, "Why not build bigger pipelines?" But that would be like building a church for the Easter or Christmas attendance, rather than the weekly congregation. The cost would be tremendous and gas rates would be much higher.

Instead we developed a "curtailment" program many years ago. Our industrial customers have signed contracts agreeing to "curtail" their use of natural gas during these peak times. And in return, they pay a lesser rate reflecting the probability of being interrupted.

If you were considering replacing an existing gas appliance or purchasing a new one, be assured that Lone Star can provide the energy. We have the natural gas, and our residential and other high priority customers may continue to rely on Lone Star's dependable service now as in the past.

Seventh Grade Closes Season With Victory

Wellington Junior High Seventh Grade Football Team closed out their season with a 20-0 win over Clarendon Seventh Grade here Thursday, November 7.

Wellington took the ball on kickoff, then on the third play of the second series, James Thomas ran 35 yards around end to score the first touchdown. Alvin Pennon made the two-point conversion on a run through the middle to give a 8-0 lead.

During their next possession of the ball, Clarendon was unable to move the ball and the first quarter ended with no more scoring.

Wellington worked the ball down field in the second on some good runs through the middle by Baldo Nevarez, who placed it on the Clarendon four. Thomas then took the ball on in for the second touchdown. Try for the two point conversion failed and at halftime Wellington led 14-0.

Clarendon couldn't travel and punted to Wellington. Marty Warrick rolled out for a pass but fumbled the ball. Thomas grabbed it up and ran down the sideline 50 yards for the third Wellington score. Again the try for extra points failed and that was the last of the scoring.

"Clarendon has a smaller team than we were, and we have a much improved team since the first of the season," said coach Ronny Glenn. "The boys did a real fine job and I am proud of the way the seventh grade came along. Toward the end, we played Memphis a 6-6 tie and lost to Shamrock only 14-12 in the last few seconds of the game. I think they are going to be a real good bunch of boys next year in the Eighth Grade."

The seventh grade season record includes:

Shamrock 18 Wellington 0.
Memphis 26 Wellington 0.
Wellington 8 Clarendon 0.
Shamrock 14 Wellington 12.
Memphis-Wellington 6-6

PEOPLE here on the Plains love to go to the ocean, particularly the Gulf Coast to fish, to swim, to ride on boats and just to see the endless waves. They are fascinated by the sights, the sounds and the stories of the seas. It is well that they should be, for the ocean is just as important to the people of the plains and the mountains as to the people along the coast.

NOW the scientists are exploring the last frontier which is the bottom of the sea. The study is called oceanography and it is revealing vast stores of oil, gas and mineral deposits.

THE STUDIES also reveal that South America, Africa, Antarctica and Australia were once a single body of land that has drifted apart. Get out your globe and see how South America, Africa, Australia and other great land masses would fit together if you could move them back as they were millions of years ago.

THE STUDY shows that continents as well as the ocean floors continue to pull away from their former location. South America is moving away from Africa at the rate of 2 inches a year. So the study of the bottom of the oceans goes on with one of the leading Oceanographic schools of the nation being located at Texas A&M. Many astonishing discoveries have been made; but the most disturbing one is that up to 1965 Russia had made a more intensive study than any other nation of the ocean floor of the Gulf of Mexico.

THE picture of the veterans of World War I and World War II standing in front of the Frank King Post of the American Legion in last weeks Leader brought back many memories. It was also a reminder that Nov. 11 should be Veterans Day and not some Monday.

LINDON WILLIAMS of Houston will introduce a bill in the next session of the Legislature to make Veterans Day Nov. 11 in Texas. It has been endorsed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Rep. Phil Cates is a co-sponsor, so you veterans should let them know what you think about the matter.

BUSTER HUGHES inquired as to why so many firms here and elsewhere were starting their Christmas sales and Christmas merchandizing early. I told him there could be a number of reasons in individual cases; but one of the general reasons in the general reasons was that Thanksgiving comes a week later than it did last year. This year there will be only 22 shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

FULL MOON of November comes the day after Thanksgiving and the full moon in December arrives three days after Christmas so we should have bright nights before and after each holiday. We should have some good shopping and crop gathering days ahead. The weather map indicates that we are in a vast area of some 22 central states from Mexico to Canada that will have below normal or near normal temperatures for the next thirty days and the rainfall will be below normal. That will be good. We need some bright clear days for the harvest season.

ROSE WELLS, who re-

Eighty-Four Children Checked At Speech and Hearing Clinic

Eighty-four Collingsworth County boys and girls four through six years of age were checked during the free speech and hearing clinic here Saturday, November 16. This number was so much larger than anticipated that the team of speech and auditory specialists conducting the clinic worked for two hours beyond the planned closing time in order that every child could be seen.

"This is a memorable experience," said Paul Caillet, team head and clinical audiologist at the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center. "It is wonderful to see such a turnout. It's the greatest we have had all fall and the county is to be commended. And we appreciate Wellington's wonderful hospitality!"

cently returned from a trip to South Texas, says one day she went across the border and bought sugar for 10 cents a pound. That may not be correct, but it is the figure I remember.

SUGAR is not a problem with Henry and me. He does not drink coffee and does not use sugar in his tea and I do not use sugar in my coffee. We have our chow chow made for the winter and someone picked our cling peaches that do not ripen until November. The only foods with which we have been accustomed to using white sugar are cream of wheat and oatmeal and Henry contends honey would be much more healthful. It contains natural vitamins, is predigested and goes into the bloodstream immediately, giving instant energy without taxing the liver.

WE HAVE only one canister of white sugar in the house; but we have two boxes of dark brown sugar, two boxes of light brown sugar and two boxes of powdered sugar and besides we have inherited a half gallon of karo syrup that is so useful in making cookies and candies.

IN ADDITION to our brown sugar, karo and honey, Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Johnson brought us a bucket of genuine Tennessee sorghum molasses the week before, so sugar and sweets are about the last thing in the world we are worried about at this time.

WELL, I had just finished writing this and was about to start on ways the dieticians say you can use substitutes for sugar and the TV announces that sugar may be 26 cents a pound next year due to decline in demand. Merchants should take notice of this as well as hoarders.

A&M HAS good news for the Thanksgiving feast, Turkeys are 20 cents a pound lower in price than last year and turkey meat is the least fattening of all high protein foods.

SO you weight watchers eat all the turkey meat you can hold, both light and dark. Go easy on the sweets and the highly seasoned potatoes, cakes and pies.

ASK Mrs. Charles Darter or Mrs. Luther Gribble about this: "An Irish potato contains no more calories than an apple of equal weight." It is the sour cream, the butter or other enrichments that we put on the potato that makes the difference.

HAPPY EATING Thanksgiving and take a moment to enjoy the nearly full moon.

Approximately 20 per cent of the children tested had speech or hearing problems, but Mr. Caillet assured that most of these could be corrected by the family

National Guard Unit Receives Superior Rating

Wellington's National Guard unit of the Texas National Guard recently had its annual command maintenance inspection, and has been notified the Detachment 1 rating was a Superior with a score of 97, according to Platoon Sgt. Eddie Riley. Riley is a non commissioned officer in charge of the unit.

The 8-man inspection team from the Inspector General's Office in Austin was headed by Warrant Officer

Sgt. Riley said the inspection included maintenance of equipment, weapons, vehicles and the armory itself.

The Guard unit, which is Detachment 1, Support Company, 2nd Battalion, 142nd Infantry, held its November week end drill at the Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, firing range, firing live ammunition from 4.2 mortars.

Lt. Edgar Bailey of Memphis is commanding officer of the unit, which includes 30 enlisted men. There are presently three openings in the unit.

Sgt. Riley, who came to the unit a short time ago, is a Collingsworth County man and the son of Buford Riley. He has had 12 years in the National Guard, along with active duty at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Ft. Jackson, South Carolina, from June 22, 1961 to December 19, 1963. He was graduated from Quail High School in 1960.

Prior to coming here, he was at Boys Ranch six years, teaching vocational meat processing and in charge of the meat program, which included processing and curing 280,000 pounds of beef and pork each year.

physician. Only a few need to be evaluated further, he added. This percentage is about what is to be expected in any testing, it was explained.

Each child was tested for five things:

- Vocabulary level.
- Articulating skill (sound)
- Receptive language level (do they understand what you say to them).
- Expressive language level (how well they put words together).
- Hearing ability.

In the auditory portion of the check, a new machine, invented only recently, was used, the electro-acoustic impedance bridge. This not only tells if a child can hear, it tells if the middle ear is functioning.

Miss Rita Lowrie, EPCO instructor in Elementary School, was in overall charge of the clinic, with La Paisana Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, as the sponsor. Members assisted at the clinic, which was held in Wellington High School.

Team members, who donated their Saturday to make this trip, were Mr. Caillet; Evelyn Hunter, a teacher in the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center; Carolyn Price, Johnnie Mae Coleman, and Evelyn Wells, speech therapists with the Amarillo Public Schools; Sylvia Harned, in charge of the infant and parent training program for the hearing impaired at the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center; Teresa Carter, speech pathologist for the Tulia Public Schools; and Patty Pattillo, a senior student in speech and hearing therapy at West Texas State University.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G.A. Montgomery over the weekend were their children and families, Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery and Johnny of Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. Bill England, Becky and Phillip of Amarillo; and Joe Montgomery.
