GROUP TO MEET

Pampa Right-of-Way Committee Must Collect Funds and Purchase Land; Delay to Slow Activity

FORT WORTH, Aug. 11. (AP).—Twenty-five bids for grading and bridge structures on the extension of the Fort Worth and Denver Northern railroad from Childrens to Pampa were submitted to E. C. Gowdy, chief engineer of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway, here today. Gowdy and A. P. Briggs, construction engineer of the project, immediately began tabulating proposals with a view to awarding the contract this week.

Powdy forecast an early beginning of construction, setting the date for the contractors to begin work at Aug. 18.

A meeting of the Pampa right-of-way committee will be held by the middle of the week, but not tonight, it was announced today. Mel Davis, general chairman, did not name the exact date. Several more men will be appointed to serve on the subscription committee, and plans for a quick drive will be announced.

Wilkins Sub Is In Trouble Again As Motors Crack

TROMSOE, Norway, Aug. 11. (AP).—After drifting helplessly with a broken engine in the Arctic seas for hours today, the submarine Nautilus got under way shortly after 4 p. m. and resumed her journey toward Spitzbergen.

TROMSOE, Norway, Aug. 11. (AP).—The submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins set out to reach the North Pole under the ice, today was reported adrift in the Arctic seas with engine trouble.

The report said the mechanical difficulty was of a nature which could not be repaired by the crew. The trouble developed soon after the submarine left Tromsøe yesterday for Spitzbergen.

A motor boat has put out from Tromsøe to offer assistance, for the Nautilus is north of this port at a point where the current is strong and the sound narrow, giving rise to fears she might be driven ashore.

Sir Hubert Wilkins set off across the Atlantic for Provincetown, Mass., in the submarine Nautilus on June 3. Ten days later she was disabled at sea when her engines failed. The Britishish Wilkins took her in tow to Ireland, and on June 22 she reached Cobh, continuing from there to Plymouth where repairs were made.

She went on to Bergen, Norway, on July 28. Additional repairs were made there, and last Wednesday she sailed from Bergen for Tromsøe, continuing her northward voyage yesterday for Spitzbergen.

The difficulties she encountered necessitated abandonment of a plan for meeting the Graf Zeppelin at the pole.

Lawn Fete to Be Tonight

Buckler Home Will Be Scene of Interesting Outdoor Program.

No civil event of the summer is expected to surpass in size of audience and perfection of entertainment the lawn fete to be held this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, 410 Buckler street.

Other gatherings formerly set for this evening have been postponed and the entertainment to be held at the Methodist church will be dismissed in time for the audience to attend at least a large part of the fete. The spiritual and jubilee chorus, which is to sing at the church, will assist in the fete.

Admission charge will be 25 cents. This will entitle a person to see the entire program and to be served fruit punch and cakes.

The latest additions to the program are personality singing by Joyce Turner, daughter of Mrs. Helen Turner, and readings by "Kiki" Lazarus, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lazarus, and Harold Leroy Malone, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Malone.

One of the outstanding entertainers will be John Sturgeon, who will give vocal solos.

A 30-minute concert will be given by the Collegians, a group of 10 youthful players organized this summer under direction of Vernon Lawrence.

Alfred Doucette and Joe Kahl, saxophone, and Charles Thomas, pianist, will give a special number. The Treble choir, an organization comprising the best vocal talent in the city, will make its debut in the following numbers: "One Fleeting Hour," and "Will o' the Wisp."

The chorus will be directed by Mrs. May F. Carr with Mrs. Ramon Wilson at the piano.

Miss Catherine Vincent, local dancer, will give "The Coquette," H. C. Ravel's "Bolero," and in company with her little pupils, "The Glow Worm."

Musical arrangements will be furnished by Mrs. Carr.

Constituting the personnel of the chorus are: First sopranos: Mesdames R. R. Jones, A. W. Dilley, Bob Chafin, Philip Wolfe, W. A. Bratton and E. W. Bisset.

Second sopranos: Mesdames J. W. Garman Jr., H. C. Price, J. B. Townsend, and Lynn Boyd.

First altos: Mesdames C. C. Dodd, H. C. Shumett, and A. W. Mann.

Second altos: Mesdames Glen Pool, M. W. Jones, Grace Brown and Raymond Harrah.

County commissioners resumed sitting as a board of equalization today, hearing protests of oil companies. The equalizing body of Pampa Independent school district will meet with royalty owners, Thursday and the remainder of the week. The county board will continue in the adjustment of taxes for another week. It is estimated.

Airmail Line Mappers Appear to Have Perished

Hope wanted today for Parker D. FOG FORCES FAMOUS PAIR TO END HOP

Lindberghs Postpone Arrival In Nome When Visibility At Near-Arctic Is Poor; to Proceed at Once.

LACK 75 MILES

Flares Arranged for Vacationists Now on Second Half of 7,000-Mile Journey to Oriental Points.

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 11. (AP).—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed on the north coast of the Seward peninsula about 11 p. m. last night (4 a. m. central standard time today), after leaving Point Barrow at 11:53 p. m. eastern standard time.

Messages received here did not give the exact location of the landing place but indicated it was somewhere on Kotzebue sound. Hence the flying couple fell short of Nome, their immediate destination, by about 75 miles. Nome is on the south coast of the Seward peninsula.

Advices said the Lindberghs planned to come here in the daylight.

Contact was made with the Lindbergh ship at about 10 p. m. and the radio station here was asked by Mrs. Lindbergh to have flares and bonfires ready on the beach for a landing around midnight.

The landing evidently was made when heavy fog enveloped the district over which they were flying, causing the famous pair to change their plans.

Lindberghs left Point Barrow last night after weather reports here indicated clearing skies and the end of rain which had been falling for two days.

About two hours after they left Point Barrow on the 523-mile hop to this town, fog began to settle here.

Although first information did not give the cause of the landing, it was believed here that the fog had extended over the coast and they came down rather than risk coming to a heavier bank later.

Within an hour after the Flying Colossus landed, the ship from the lagoon at Point Barrow, leaving behind the most northerly point on their tour to the Orient, he was reported passing over the coast guard cutter Northland at Wainwright, 80 miles southwest of Point Barrow.

About the same time Mrs. Lindbergh messaged from the plane that all was "Okeh."

The cutter, bound for Point Barrow, was to have unloaded food supplies for the Lindberghs there, but was unable to keep the appointment because of heavy ice packed along the shore.

The Seward peninsula is the most westerly point of the North American continent. It juts into the Bering strait just over the 168th degree of longitude. On the north the Kotzebue sound and to the south the larger Norton sound. The city of Nome is on the southern coast.

The peninsula is one of several titular monuments to William Henry Seward, secretary of state in the Lincoln cabinet, one of whose greatest achievements was the purchase of Alaska from Russia in 1867.

Beginning the second half of their 7,000-mile vacation air trip from Washington to the Orient, the flying couple left Point Barrow at 8:53 o'clock PST (10:53 CST) last night for a 523-mile hop to Nome. A prophecy.

Lack of Profit Cited as Reason for Bank Sale

The Pampa National bank quit business yesterday because the general economic conditions such as exist throughout the nation made it no longer profitable to operate. Officials and directors were not forced to dispose of the bank—they just decided to quit business, Mr. Barnard said.

Transfer of the deposits, assets, and liabilities to the First National bank was being completed today. Deposits of the Pampa National were subject to call at the First National yesterday. No arrangements have been made to dispose of the bank fixtures. Future plans of the bank employees have not been announced. Mr. Barnard owns the building which housed the bank. Repairs were being made on the roof today.

The Pampa National bank was the county depository, and the county funds have been transferred to the First National.

The deal whereby the First National acquired the other bank was consummated during the week-end, and officials did not have time to make an announcement to the newspapers, it was explained. Transfer of the bank's business to the purchaser is in charge of E. O. Sneed, who came to Pampa a year ago from a Dallas bank.

FOUR BODIES FOUND IN CAR

Quadruple Murder Theory Is Basis of Investigation At Ann Arbor, Mich.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 11. (AP).—The bodies of four persons were found today in a burned automobile parked on a narrow road near Willis, a village near the Wayne-Washtenaw county line.

Officers said they thought the persons, one believed to be a woman, were slain and then the car set afire.

Search was started for Harry Wheatly, 50, residing several miles away, to whom the license plates on the burned car had been issued. It was impossible, police said, to identify the bodies.

Bloodstains were found on the running board of the automobile and shrubbery surrounding the car was trampled, indicating, police said, that a struggle had taken place.

Dire Prediction Based on Melon; War Is Expected

A bespectacled and matronly negro woman who described herself as "a mystery woman," a "prophetess," a "Wester," a "Ruthie," visited the NEWS-POST office this morning, bringing with her two sections of a watermelon and speaking dire prophecies in a camp-meeting voice, the while she made impressive gestures with uplifted hands.

"They knows me from coasts to coasts as Mother Ward," she said.

On the meat of the watermelon halves she brought with her, some process of nature had left the letters "W" and "M" carved deep.

"White folks you know what that 'W' stands for—An undanstans' sech things. That stans for war! It's a-cum in this country. That 'M' stans for a corrupted church. War always comes when de church is corrupted. Ah tells you it's a-cum in this country! Look at 'w'!"

Mother Ward did not leave the watermelon. She took it back with her, admitting that the melon looked "deficient," despite the prophecy.

GOVERNOR TELLS MURRAY'S SPOKESMAN HE CANNOT SAY WHAT MOVE HE WILL MAKE

Charles West, Former Oklahoma Attorney General, Says Texas Can Use Martial Law Plan.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP).—Gov. Ross S. Sterling said today after a conference with Charles West of Oklahoma City, emissary of Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma, that he told West he did not know what Texas was going to do to curtail flush oil production in East Texas.

Governor Sterling said no decision on a declaration of martial law would be made until after the Texas legislature had acted. He added that he still hoped the legislature would pass a satisfactory conservation law before the close of its special session tomorrow night.

West, a former Oklahoma attorney general, advised Governor Sterling he had power to take action similar to that of Governor Murray, who used martial law to close oil wells in Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma emissary pointed out that Oklahoma's drastic action was not as effective as it might be because many Oklahoma buyers were filling their needs from the unrestricted flow of oil in East Texas.

Governor Sterling said he had received a favorable reaction from his announcement he might declare martial law. Of perhaps 100 telegrams received today, he said only one was opposed to the move.

James V. Allred, Texas attorney general, and Bruce Bryant, first assistant, participated with Governor Sterling in the conference with West.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP).—A free conference committee of the Texas legislature trying to work out a composite oil conservation bill satisfactory to the administration and to its opponents, reported today that hope of success was high within its membership.

At 9:30 a. m. the committee met, organized and went immediately into executive session, excluding newspaper men and all others save members of the committee.

Fifteen minutes after the main committee organized, a sub-committee was appointed, the proposed new bill was appointed, two of its members being administration proponents and two being opponents. The fact that action was taken so soon, together with statements of members of the main committee, led to belief a compromise was in sight.

The sub-committee was instructed to report to the conference committee of the whole at 2 p. m.

"In Good Humor"

Rep. A. P. C. Petch of Fredericksburg, an administration leader, emerging from the executive conference said:

"There is every indication the sub-committee will get together and work something out suitable to all hands. Everybody is in a good mood."

Next "Interesting Event" Will Be In Tunney Family

DAMARISCOTTA, Maine, Aug. 11. (AP).—Mrs. Polly Lauder Tunney, wife of the former heavyweight champion, was taken to a hospital here a week or ten days ago to await the birth of a child, the Associated Press learned today.

A doctor advised her to go to the hospital when she suffered a fall on a motor boat landing on John's Island near here where she and her husband had been spending the summer.

Tunney left last night for an unknown destination. He said he would be gone for two or three days. Mrs. Tunney's condition was not considered dangerous.

OKLAHOMA SHUTDOWN ADDS MUCH TO UNEMPLOYMENT

Less Help Needed in Every Department of Industry, Survey Reveals.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 11. (AP).—A summary of apparent results of Gov. Murray's martial law shutdown of flush oil wells disclosed today. Oklahoma City production reduced from 82,681 barrels last Tuesday to about 1,000 barrels today. Pipeline runs averaged 73,318 barrels daily last week.

Daily average production in the greater Seminole area reduced from 15,000 barrels to 61,538 barrels as of Monday. The production is coming from wells exempt from the shutdown edict.

West Chandler and Tatum fields, with an ordinary allowable production of 48,000 barrels daily, almost completely shut in.

FIGHTING BOB SHULER GIVEN OKEH IN RADIO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP).—Ellis A. Yost, chief examiner of the radio commission today recommended renewal of the license of station KGEF, Trinity Methodist church, South Los Angeles, operated by the Rev. Bob Shuler.

Yost held the public interest would be served by granting Dr. Shuler's renewal application, but expressed the opinion the minister had been "extremely indiscreet in some of his broadcasts."

The commission, in recess until fall, has yet to pass on the examiner's recommendation.

"Evidently broadcasts were made by him before investigation and inquiry to determine the correctness of such broadcasts," Yost said.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11. (AP).—Rev. R. P. "Fighting Bob" Shuler, who has won the recommendation of Chief Examiner Ellis A. Yost of the Federal Radio Commission that the license for his radio station KGEF be renewed, has been in difficulty several times because of his broadcasting.

He served a short jail term last summer for contempt of court because of statements made over the air. Finally concerted efforts of his opponents brought a hearing here by Commissioner Yost.

Hen Parachutes Safely to Earth

MOSCOW, Aug. 11. (AP).—A high flying hen and a basket of eggs have successfully demonstrated the practicability of a new parachute designed to drop articles from airplanes without damage.

Tests were recently made at the Moscow airdrome by Soviet aviation experts. The hen, strapped to a basket filled with eggs, dropped 1,000 meters. It survived, clucking vigorously, and not a single egg was broken.

The parachute is very small and is not yet adapted to human use. It consists of a rubber-covered, air-filled bag attached to a regulation, umbrella-like apparatus. It costs only 50 rubles (nominally $25) to build and its designers claim it surpasses any similar contrivance because it drifts earthward much slower. It is expected to prove a big stride forward in small commercial deliveries by air mail in that it will obviate many stops.

Buick Is Stolen For Fast Journey

A new Buick was taken from the Rose Motor company last night, driven 126 miles and left parked near a water well being drilled by the city in northwest Pampa.

To get the car, the glass in a rear door of the automobile company was broken and unlocked. After taking the rather lengthy drive, the burglars took the precaution to lock the machine. They also took the clock which came with the car. Nothing else was damaged.

"Somebody felt they had to go somewhere in a hurry," Jack Mason said. "They couldn't have taken a better car—when better cars are built, Buick will build them, you know."

County and city officers are investigating the burglary.

Mrs. E. R. Turman was dismissed from Pampa hospital today.

STATE WRESTLING MATCH

The legislature was called into session reluctantly on its part, for the average legislator knew little of the intricacies of the business and was still confused after studying the problem for two weeks. It should be apparent to anyone studying the advisability of putting the government into business that a public enterprise managed by so large and varied a group could not be other than mismanaged. Good government in this complex age must be left more and more in the hands of honest experts, and a government should, as far as possible, act as referee or judge instead of manager of what logically is private enterprise.

At least three groups have sought legislative favor or have lobbied for or against various measures. Certain major companies have constantly advised the governor and, it is charged, have guided his program. Their lobby was large and capable. A group of smaller operators, desperately in need, have sought government control at any price in an effort to get temporary relief. The other group, and apparently a majority of the legislators, have felt that no momentary victory should be sought, but that principles good over a period of years should be followed. They avoided taking the responsibility of running the oil business. And there were selfish interests with an eye to their own success without sympathy for the industry or the state as a whole.

East Texas should cut her production. There is no denying that. The state should prevent physical waste; the producer should be wise enough to avoid economic folly. Oil marketing is an interstate problem, and it is a sad spectacle to see the states wrestling with it in devious ways while the national government does nothing to protect the industry from cheap foreign competition. Governor Bill Murray, using force, cannot work effectively in competition with cheap foreign and domestic oil. His program is not expected to stand up in the courts, although the major refiners will not go to court as long as they have another source of crude.

As this is written, the Kansas utilities commission is trying to secure a price for Kansas crude as great as the price paid for East Texas oil, including freight rates. The commission notes that supply and demand have not caused a boost commensurate with the actual cost of the Texas product. Again and again it is shown that the price of oil is set by competitive conditions and schemes, with little relation to the much (and over) touted law of supply and demand.

Given the same protection that other huge industries enjoy, the oil business could put its house in order. A relatively small group of producers, large and small, controls the industry which affects so many people. It is a production problem, but the production burden rests much lighter on the biggest concerns, which can take losses in producing and make it up in transporting, refining, and marketing. Basically, low production revenues can give the big concern its most effective weapon against production competition.

When the administration program failed, the biggest lobby took the defensive, as Sterling should have foreseen that it must. Transfer of the fight from Austin to Washington should be next, and those Sterling lobbyists will be found in the national capital working hard against an oil tariff or an embargo. And before it is over Governor Sterling will be a very much discredited man.

Meanwhile the legislators toil on toward their deadline—some pledged to this and opposed to that, some working hard for certain measures, while a few, who made bad bargains early in the session, seem to find it necessary to go outside for air every time an important vote is called. It is not a pleasant spectacle, but we have no desire to impugn the motives of many well-meaning lawmakers; they have done the best they knew.

The utter chaos which has developed in recent weeks is working a hardship on all alike. The situation now is such that Governor Sterling's political future, his patriotism, and his resourcefulness are involved. It is time to shelve schemes and prejudices, and to view the problem from the standpoint of supposedly intelligent business men who can, if they will, reach a solution without resorting to undemocratic and unsavory methods. The conditions are uncomplimentary to independent and major producers alike. An industry which has long boasted self control has been carried to the depths of disorganization. The people least prepared to withstand the shock are suffering most.

Banks were recently closed in Chile. But where is a more appropriate place to have frozen assets?

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (NEA)—A railroad strike is about the last thing anyone would want now, and there probably will not be any. The railroad labor unions believe the railroads intend to cut their wages, and if they do the possibility of a strike will become a threat.

Both sides are stirred by the effects the depression has had upon them—the railroads by their great loss of revenue and the unions by the unemployment of 350,000 railroad workers, the failure of the railroad executives' organization to co-operate with them in solving that problem and the belief that wage cuts are contemplated.

The woe of the railroads has been told to the Interstate Commerce Commission with their demand for a blanket 15 per cent freight rate increase—a story of serious financial straits and threatened bankruptcy. Railroad witnesses characterized their petition as only a desperate "last resort" to save the credit structure of the carriers.

The railroad executives have declined to confer about the unemployment problem with the heads of the 21 standard railway labor unions, declaring that the question must be taken up with individual roads. This refusal appears to have headed off what might have been a tremendously important experiment toward solution of unemployment problems. For the railroad unions seek a six-day week. The short day and the short week are often advanced by the most distinguished authorities as the most effective methods of absorbing large labor surpluses. It remains for some large industry and its employees to try out the plan. The five-day week is now operating in many individual plants.

It appears that the railroad workers are not going to get their readjustment of work and it is also widely believed that the I. C. C. will not grant the roads their rate increase. The latter opinion is held especially by union executives, some of whom go so far as to assert privately that the whole rate increase petition was only camouflage preliminary to wage reductions.

So when the labor union executives met here recently they issued a strong statement promising to meet any wage cut attempt "with every power at their command." And among themselves they discussed the possibility that the industry was headed toward something like the Plumb plan of government ownership, which was widely advocated 10 years ago or more.

Their theory, based on the I. C. C. rate hearings, is that the men who operate the railroads are not anxious to increase rates at this time, but that the financial interests behind the roads are insisting on either such an increase or wage cuts. Savings banks and insurance companies, which hold railroad securities will remove those securities from their lists of eligible bonds if the roads do not get more revenue, according to arguments presented to the I. C. C.

The railroad workers also point to a widely circulated Cleveland Chamber of Commerce bulletin which says "reduced labor costs" are the alternative to rate increases.

Requests for rate decreases by railroads within the last year have also contributed to the suspicions of the union heads. Among commodities on which the carriers have asked and received reductions from the I. C. C. have been oil, automobiles, fresh fruit and vegetables, non-ferrous metals, lumber and cotton. They had to compete, they said, with trucks, barges and other vital transportation facilities.

The situation presumably will hang fire until the I. C. C. makes its decision on the rate petition early in the fall. Outside union ranks there is some belief that the roads will be granted part but not all of what they ask.

Then there was the ignorant Scotchman who called in the plumber to repair his bag pipes.

Few ornaments become a gangster more, according to the public, than a bracelet—firmly about the wrists.

Nothing goes to a fellow's head so much as a strong attack of hay fever.

FEMININE FANCIES

Permanent relief from the depression cannot be brought about by ruthless spending, as some would have us believe. Spending is necessary—yes, but wise spending, and wise saving as well.

Pampa's women, the city's chief spenders, should make a dollar do its duty this year. Economy is to be looked upon with favor even in time of prosperity, but now that dollars are harder to get, saving is even more vital.

So while President Hoover continues to study the problem of unemployment and welfare societies are planning relief work, it is for the woman of every household to plan for the comfort and security of her own family and at the same time to do whatever is in her power to aid others who are less fortunate.

There should be a household budget. The business of economic living requires its system of book-keeping just as does any other business.

Clothing may take a large or small slice from the budget, depending upon the ingenuity and economy of the woman who plans it.

Says the HIGGINS NEWS: "Paris says that short coats are to be worn this winter. O well, what Paris says does not interest us. We are going to wear our old coat anyway. And there are lots of people going to do the same thing. But perhaps this tip may help. The old long coat may be cut off at the bottom. But last year's coats were not very lengthy, and when worn with the long skirt of the prevailing mode, coats may look short enough even for Paris."

August is the time to look over your winter clothing, to select those things which you can, by the clever use of your needle, in good shape for another year and to make a list of the new items you will need, together with their estimated cost.

Your coat, being the garment which is worn most, should be considered first. For economy's sake, all other items should harmonize with the coat.

To help Texas, boost her industries.

At the recent short course at College Station were shown cotton dresses for every occasion—and attractive ones, too. Cotton clothing should be worn not only by school girls but by every citizen who is loyal to Texas and who believes in economy.

Means also should be planned with nutrition and economy, as aims.

A. F. sends us a report from Florida that wheat is being grown more extensively in the Panhandle wheat belt than that ever before, and a statement from Miss Martha Faulkner, Floyd county home demonstration agent, that the grain is rich in vitamin B and vitamin A.

Miss Faulkner said numerous housewives of the wheat belt are canning the wheat for winter use. The advantage from canning, she said, comes from having the wheat ready to serve when needed. It requires one hour or longer to cook.

Miss Faulkner said most of the cooking and canning is being done according to the following rules: "Sort the whole wheat grains and wash thoroughly. For each cup of wheat add 1 1/2 cups of cold water and soak overnight. In the morning add 1 teaspoon salt for each cup of dry wheat used and cook under 20 or 25 pounds of steam pressure for at least 1 hour, or longer if very soft grains are desired. Serve in the same way as any hot cereal, with milk or cream.

"After the wheat has been cooked in the pressure cooker, it may be canned by the following method: Fill pint glass jars or No. 2 tin cans almost full with the boiling hot cooked wheat, seal, and process at 10 pounds pressure for one hour." Wheat can be used for muffins, pudding, cookies, and in preparing a variety of meat dishes, Miss Faulkner said.

HIGH OFFICIALS OF LODGES WELCOMED HERE

PRESIDENT OF TEXAS REBEKAH ASSEMBLY OF TEXAS TO SPEAK; PORT ARTHUR WOMAN GREETED

High lodge officials are being welcomed by two Pampa groups the first of this week. Mrs. Elsie Moore of Port Arthur, grand chief of Texas, and Mrs. Adell O'Connor of Fort Worth, grand mistress of records and correspondence, addressed the Pythian sisters last evening. The other prominent visitor is Mrs. Maggie Jordan of Paris, Texas, president of the Rebekah assembly of Texas, who will address lodge members of Panhandle, Borger, Amarillo, Clarendon, and Pampa in the local I. O. O. F. hall this evening.

The grand chief of the Pythian Sisters announced that she would return to conduct a class on Sept. 22.

Monday evening at the First Baptist church, she and Mrs. O'Connor addressed the Sisters on the work of the organization, and this morning they left by automobile for El Paso to attend a barbecue given for Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters of Texas and Oklahoma.

Refreshments served. Mrs. W. J. Turpin, most excellent chief, presided for the meeting Tuesday evening, and refreshments were served to about 15 members.

Mrs. George Jones from Seminole, Okla., and Mrs. R. L. Edmondson of El Paso, new district deputy, were visitors.

Planning for Hundred
Plans are being made to entertain about 100 persons at the Rebekah meeting this evening.

As entertaining features for the evening, Vern Springer and his orchestra will play and Miss Catherine Vincent will read and sing. Mrs. Helen Turner also has been invited to read.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Plans for the gathering are being made by the entertainment committee, Mrs. C. F. Claussen, Mrs. Claude Lard, and Mrs. Roy Sullivan.

The Noble Grand of the Panhandle lodge called a special lodge meeting last night and the group made plans to send a large portion of its membership.

Twenty more girls became members of the Girl Scouts when the group met Monday evening in the basement of the First Methodist church. This makes a total membership of 38.

It was decided to change the regular meeting day from 7 o'clock on Mondays to 3 o'clock on Saturdays.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to preparations for the Tenderfoot test to be taken after the girls have attended four meetings.

The test demands a knowledge of four woodcraft signs, methods of tying five knots, the scout promise, law, and motto, the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and how the flag is used.

Miss Catherine Wilkerson, captain, and Mrs. John I. Bradley, lieutenant, met with the girls.

U. S. Department Will Defend Its Cotton Estimate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (P)—The agriculture department today was prepared to defend its estimate of 15,584,000 bales for the 1931 cotton crop, which has been termed too high by some cotton traders.

Trade estimates were about 1,500,000 bales less on the basis of August 1 condition. Reports that the government's forecast had been questioned by traders also reached the farm board. It was made clear that the board was surprised at the large estimate issued Saturday.

"I am confident," W. F. Callender, of the department's crop reporting board, said, "that our estimate will be found to be reasonably accurate."

The August 1 forecast is the first of the season on the new crop. It is based on probable conditions, including weather, moisture and insect prevalence. Should drought develop during the succeeding months, for instance, the prospective yield is consequently altered.

Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, telegraphed Secretary Hyde yesterday, asking that all the records of last Saturday's report be preserved for a "thorough investigation." A memorandum has been prepared for the secretary by Callender.

Man And Estranged Wife Found Dead

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 11. (P)—Bullets in their hearts, Frank Leinen and his 25-year-old wife, Mary Moreno Leinen, who had been estranged in life, were found dead by police here today in a little one-room shack.

Two children of the wife by a former marriage were awakened from their sleep in an adjoining house by the shots.

Notes found in the house by police from Leinen to his wife, lamented their estrangement. Letters from three children of Leinen by a former marriage, pleading for their father to come back to his home in New Orleans, were also found by the police.

ATLANTIC CITY BIDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (P)—Atlantic City today formally extended an invitation to the Republican National Committee to select it as the site for the 1932 convention.

A committee led by Representative Bacharach including Governor Larson, Senators Morrow and Kean, Mayor Harry Bacharach of Atlantic City and a score of others presented the invitation to Senator Fee, chairman of the national committee.

MAY TAX OLEOMARGARINE

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—The house today engrossed a bill to levy a sales tax of ten cents per pound on oleomargarine. Enough votes were obtained by proponents to suspend the constitutional rule and finally pass the bill but the house recessed at noon without taking final action.

FUGITIVE NOT FOUND

HAVANA, Aug. 11. (P)—The Cuban gunboat Habana, cruising near Cape San Antonio today overhauled the yacht, Coral, on which former President Mario Menocal was reported to have fled from Havana yesterday, but found only three sailors aboard.

Menocal's whereabouts still was unknown to the police, who are seeking him as the leader of a revolutionary uprising which caused President Machado to declare martial law throughout the republic.

quite, had perished. Captain Ritz Larsen, Arctic flier, said they might have been forced far to the south by the storm and drifted out to open sea where it would be difficult to locate them. The water was reported to be choppy and the wind high.

A squadron of Danish seaplanes, aided by several vessels, searched the Kattgat from the southern tip of Norway to Copenhagen yesterday and another flotilla of Norwegian planes scanned the Skagard sea from Oslo to Bergen, but no clues were found.

Cramer and Oliver Paquette left Detroit, Mich., several weeks ago without announcing their destination and flew across Canada to Greenland to chart an air mail route from America to Europe. Hoping to fly to Faroe islands and the Shetland islands, they left for Copenhagen Sunday morning and were last heard from that afternoon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (P)—Capt. Lisandro Caray, Honduran flier, was unreported today after a mysterious take-off from Floyd Bennett airport, Brooklyn, presumably for a non-stop flight to Tegucigalpa, Honduras, 2,300 miles away.

Accompanied by Bert Acosta, one-time pilot for Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Caray arrived at the airport Sunday afternoon and announced he would make a load test. Airport mechanics placed 360 gallons of gasoline in his monoplane, and accompanied by Acosta, he rolled away.

Field officials said Acosta got out of the plane at the edge of the field and the plane took to the air and soon was out of sight. That was at 2:30 p. m. central standard time Sunday.

Fliers said he had enough fuel to last him 30 hours, which was up at 9:30 p. m. last night. He should have reached the Honduran capital by 5 o'clock last night.

S. Parades, Honduran consul-general at New York, said the flier would receive a court martial if he landed at Honduras, because of a military escape.

Beauty Spurns Gift of Farm

Adrienne Ames' husband, a member of the New York Stock exchange, couldn't resist her plea when she coaxed for permission to accept a screen offer. And who could?

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10.—Beautiful young society matrons sometimes have been offered fabulous inducements by movie producers to leave their charms to the screen.

Adrienne Ames, one of them, was offered a beautiful Connecticut estate—by her husband—if she would stay off the screen.

But here she is in Hollywood. Adrienne Ames, nee McClure, is a Fort Worth, Tex., beauty, a rival to all other contenders for the title of Hollywood's best-dressed woman.

She has, moreover, a warm and cultured southern voice which, with her natural poise and grace, is expected to make her a popular screen favorite, even though she never before has acted on screen or stage.

Two years ago Miss McClure, in New York and interested in fashion designing, met and married the wealthy Stephen Ames, member of the New York Stock exchange.

This summer they visited Hollywood after a Honolulu vacation. Adrienne, meeting Ruth Harriet Louise, the noted woman photographer, had some professional pictures made.

Miss Louise suggested that these be sent around to the studios. The result was several invitations for interviews, and the offer of a term arrangement with Paramount as a featured player.

Mr. Ames, meanwhile, had gone on to Chicago, where his wife joined him later. Her task, then, was to convince him that she should come back to Hollywood.

"Naturally," says Adrienne Ames, "he was opposed. We are in love. But he understands my viewpoint too. I want this chance to do something creative."

"We talked it over on the train, all the way from Chicago to New York. Yes, it's true that he offered to buy me this Connecticut farm, which I adored, if I would give up the notion of pictures. But finally he consented, agreeing with me that if I did not take this opportunity I would spend the rest of my life wondering what I might have accomplished."

She is very matter-of-fact about her movie trial. "I'm not going to stay if I find out that I'm to be just another hanger-on. If I don't make the grade I'm not going to waste my own time or the studio's."

WOLVES TROUBLESOME CONROE, Aug. 11. (P)—Montgomery county is considering the employment of a government trapper to protect stock raisers from packs of wolves infesting the range.

Liquor Searchers In Thankless Work

When it comes to dealing with vendors of intoxicating liquors the life of a peace officer is a thankless one, any way you take it, Sheriff Lon L. Blansett said.

Just now the sheriff is getting many complaints that it's extremely difficult to obtain beer in Pampa. These come from citizens who drink and don't care who knows it, but at the same time wouldn't want the "laws" to see them at it. Other citizens swear up and down that you can buy beer in every block and that that's a disgrace and is ruining the reputation of the town.

The other class who want beer and can't find it assert that the liquorless condition of the town is a disgrace and is killing it.

County and city officers cruised over the city from dusk until last midnight. A number of places were investigated. The raids netted one arrest.

THORMAHLEN INJURED

GALVESTON, Aug. 11. (P)—Frank Thormahlen, Buccaneer pitching star, will be out of the game for several days as a result of injuries he received last night when an automobile in which he was riding overturned on the outskirts of Houston.

Nights Are Short

Because of the short nights of this near-Arctic region it was believed the Lindberghs would proceed down the coast within three or four hours, providing the fog did not become so dense as to be unsafe for even daylight flying.

It was a disappointed crowd of Nomeites that turned from the beach here, where practically the entire population of the town had been waiting for almost two hours, when word was received the flying vacuumists would not arrive until later today.

Preparations had been made for the landing and flares and huge

Kansas Body Has No Assurance of Increase In Price

TOPEKA, Aug. 11. (P)—No indication was received by the public service commission this morning of the reaction of purchasers of Kansas crude to the commission's announcement it would order a hearing looking to the determination of the nature and extent of a shut-down order unless the price of crude was raised this week.

Thurman Hill, who wrote refiners yesterday of the commission's intention, said he had had no word from any of the purchasers. He added, however, he had expected no action immediately.

The commission, in its letter, said it was clear Kansas crude was worth "at least 60 cents a barrel" on the basis of prices which it learned refiners were paying for Texas oil shipped in to supply needs of the refineries.

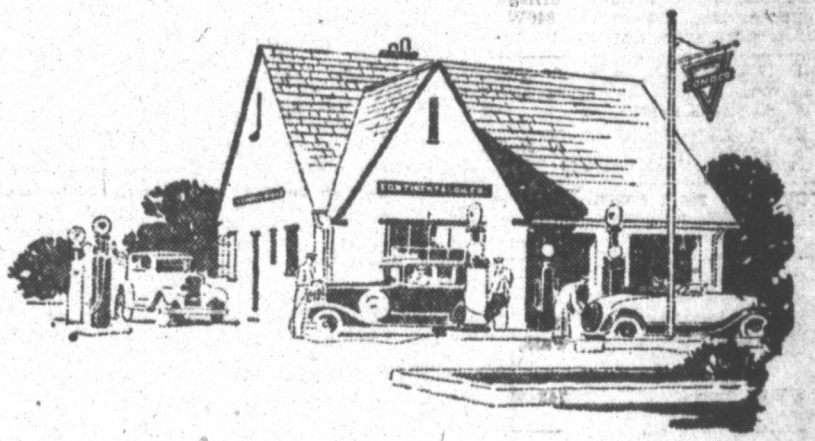

piles of driftwood and old lumber were all ready to be lighted.

This is the second for the Lindberghs, who have encountered since arriving in Alaskan territory. While flying from Aklavik, N. W. T. Saturday, they ran into a bank east of Barrow, but flew around it and landed in clear weather at their first Alaskan stop.

Mrs. J. F. James underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital this afternoon.

Baseball School Will Be Held

DALLAS, Aug. 11. (AP)—Manager Happ Morse of the Dallas Steers has announced he will conduct a baseball school here Sept. 15 to 26. Morse, who Saturday was appointed manager of the Steers for 1932, will select from the two week baseball school, a number of sandlot players for spring tryouts next season. The school will be for amateurs only. Morse pointed out that such a school, following immediately after the Texas league season, is superior to the usual spring school because it will give him a chance to see youngsters at the peak of their playing form because all will be in good condition after a season playing amateur baseball. Morse said the Dallas club will furnish equipment, but those attending the fall school will have to bear their own expenses. If enough players enroll, Morse plans to organize a four-city league, playing a doubleheader daily with a reward for the winning team.

MOON OF DELIGHT

by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS: Nelly Belaise does not understand when her grandson, Kirk Standard, tells her he is engaged to her guest, Senorita Flores. Had not the senorita's chequered, the marquis, told her and Adrian Fouches the mother of the girl's engagement to a Spaniard? But Nelly would be shocked and look her jewels more tightly if she knew that the marquis is responsible for the thefts in several New Orleans homes where she and Juanita Basara—now posing as the senorita—have visited. Adrian had Kirk, as well as Juanita herself, know nothing of this Spanish engagement, but Juanita has something to confess to him that she thinks may make a difference in his feelings. He is to return this afternoon to Biloxi, where they are all Nelly's guests.

Chapter 24

ADRIAN INTERFERES

Juanita stood at her window, watching Kirk ride away. She hoped he would turn and wave. There! Juanita waved back. The trees hid him.

She leaned against the window jamb, closing her eyes. She must tell him this afternoon. But she had had her happiness. All her life she had prayed for such happiness as had been hers in the garden. It was love, after all. And love was like this. What wonder it had brought havoc to the world—ecstasy—death.

The marquis slept still. The marquis slept, though the world had changed. . . . Juanita looked down at the pearl ring on her finger. Kirk had taken it off, had held it in his closed palm, then slipped it on her hand again. "That keeps the bond," he had said. "I'll get the other."

"Don't bring the other," she had answered, "until—"

She had meant to say, "Until you know everything." But she was aware that such a precaution would be disregarded by him. Nothing could make any difference, he had told her. It was heaven and she had until 4 o'clock this afternoon to keep that blind assurance against her heart.

Four o'clock—in the library. They would be uninterrupted there, as no one but himself ever invaded it.

"We'll have our conference in the window seat, where my grandfather used to deliver all his homilies—and they had about as much effect on my behavior as yours will have this afternoon."

And so she had not said, "Until we have had our talk," but, "Until I go."

"Tell you go where, young woman?"

"Back to the Tignon."

"You aren't going back to the Tignon. The first thing I know the marquis will be away with you. She's smelling mice around here, as it is, but can't tell which mouse smells the worst—Adrian or me. The only place you're going from here is to the parsonage—next door to my house in New Orleans. Old Dr. Bruce is the only man you're going to see, if I have anything to do with it."

But she had said again, "Please wait, Kirk, dear. For the ring, I mean." Had said it so earnestly that he had promised, smiling a little, holding her close. "I'll wait, Juanita."

Juanita started. Lorena was knocking at her door. Mrs. Belaise wanted to see her.

Juanita said she would come. She had not wanted Kirk to tell Nelly, but he had begged. Nelly would be glad. He quite overlooked the fact that their engagement was not a reality, and would not be until after she had talked with him—if then. There were no doubts in Kirk's mind as to himself or Nelly. Yet Juanita knew that even though Kirk's blindness might carry him to foolish lengths, Nelly would see clearly where Kirk was concerned. "And I want them to see clearly," Juanita told herself. "But I'll like a little happiness—just for today."

ings and light-weight leather coat, the proper regalia for Tarpon Point for which they would start at 5 o'clock. He hurried down to the library that he might be there when Juanita came.

All the way home his thoughts had been with that meeting, not because of what she might have to tell him, but merely because he would see her again, hold her in his arms, realize more fully perhaps that she was his. The outcome of the morning had surprised him as much as it had her. All day he had felt a pounding and singing in his veins. How he had managed to accomplish anything was a mystery. Luckily, the office had sort of run itself.

Kirk got a book and went over to the window seat. The book was Mrs. Browning's poems. He turned to "Lord Walter's Wife," the poem Juanita had mentioned at Caprice.

"But why do you go?" said the lady, A: both sat under the yew, And her eyes were alive in their depths.

Like the bracken beneath the sea blue.

"Because I fear you," he answered. "Because you are too fair, And able to strangle my soul."

Kirk read the poem through. "Why, the damned thing's written to prove we can be true if we want to," he thought. "If I don't confront Juanita with this. . . ." He took out his pencil and began to mark certain of the verses. He looked at his watch. Five minutes of four. Some one came in from the hall.

It was Adrian. Kirk had spoken to him on the stair a moment before. Adrian had asked if Kirk thought it was going to rain. It was like him, Kirk thought, to invade the library at this time. Kirk rose. He would be in the hall when Juanita came down the stair. They would go into the garden. . . . Juanita, however, might not come down the stair, but by way of the veranda, through one of the long French windows from which Adrian stared so unhappily at the darkened sky. Kirk sat down again. When Juanita entered, they would both.

"Don't let the weather rumple you," he said to Adrian. "Tarpon Point's jolly when it rains."

"The weather?" Adrian turned, hands in his pockets. "Senorita Flores is engaged," he said abruptly.

"That so?" Kirk answered after a pause, his pencil moving beneath a line. How had that got out so soon? He looked up. "Did she tell you?" he asked.

Adrian shook his head. "I have not seen her today, except at lunch. It was my mother told me. Nelly told her. Last night the marquis gave my mother the particulars. . . . Senorita Flores is engaged to a nobleman in Barcelona."

Kirk looked down at his book. So that was what she had had to tell him. "Barcelona's a long way off," he said. "The ocean to cross, and all Spain, if I remember my geography. You going to let that stop you?"

Adrian thought, "She's told him herself." But had she told him all? "Senorita Flores is not only engaged," said Adrian, "but she is in debt to this man—for her education, her clothes, her travels. Whoever else should marry her would have to assume that obligation. It is so stipulated."

Kirk's eyes were on the page.

"Why, now you no longer are fair! Why, now you no longer are fatal. But ugly and hateful, I swear. . . ."

"Good you found out in time," said Kirk.

Adrian nodded. "Suppose I had proposed and been accepted?" he remarked. "I thought you should know also. Nelly told my mother that you had not been told."

Kirk thanked him, and Adrian sauntered out through the French windows, down into the garden. Kirk went to the hall door. There was no sign of Juanita. He waited until ten minutes after the hour when they were to meet in the porte cochere for the drive to Tarpon Point.

There he found her, on the front seat of Adrian's sedan, Adrian beside her. She smiled gayly at Kirk, buttoning the collar of her brown suede coat, pulling her russet cap down around her ears. Kirk's smile

American Women Again Win Cup

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—American women tennis stars have captured the Wightman cup for the fifth time since the international series with Great Britain was inaugurated in 1923.

Showing decided superiority in singles, where Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs won two matches apiece, the American team regained the trophy by a margin of five to two, the most decisive victory of the series since 1927.

All five American points were scored in singles with Mrs. Moody first, overturning Phyllis Mudford and then Betty Nuthall, while Miss Jacobs reversed this procedure beating Miss Nuthall on Friday and Miss Mudford on Saturday. Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of Oakland, Calif., No. 1 ranking star, added the fifth American point by defeating Dorothy Round in the third-string singles match Friday.

In doubles Great Britain once again showed an overwhelming advantage, sweeping both matches in this style of play for the fourth successive year.

Chicago is connected with 100 miles of the United States by air transport lines.

North Carolina ranks first in the nation in manufacture of wooden bedroom and dining room furniture.

Glider Flight Is Success Sunday

A second successful flight was made yesterday afternoon by C. F. Jones in a glider that he made himself at the Jones-Everett Machine shop. Mr. Jones is the son of M. W. Jones, vice-president and treasurer of the Jones-Everett Machine company.

Jones took his glider 10 miles east of Pampa before making the flight. This was done by pulling the glider at the end of a 500-foot rope and cutting loose when sufficient altitude is reached. First flight in the glider was made recently by Mr. Jones. The contraption was hauled in a trailer. Wind did some ripping in route back to town which will necessitate some repairs. The owner expects to take another flight soon.

He is a glider enthusiast, and hopes that with practice he will be able to take some lengthy hops.

Trial in Dynamite Killing Is Begun

LIVINGSTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Additional jurors were being selected today to hear the case of Joe B. Zimmerman, 49, charged with murder in connection with the death of Malie T. Nettles, 56, farmer, last December. Nine veniremen were selected yesterday.

Zimmerman was said to have made statements to officers after his arrest in which he admitted depositing dynamite in the chimney of Nettles' home. At the time his strange wife, a step-daughter and two or three of his children were at Nettles' home.

Nettles was killed by an explosion in his stove shortly after he had lighted the morning fire.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally
(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals) present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

GEORGE PAYNE IS SECOND PITCHER TO WIN 20 GAMES

HOUSTON ACE HANDS LOSS TO PORT CITY

Lefty Hansen, Castoff of Fort Worth, Defeats Former Mates.

Associated Press Sports Writer. The second pitcher in the 1931 Texas league pennant marathon to win 20 games is George Washington Payne of Houston. Payne stepped along with Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, who has won 22, last night when he handed Galveston a 2 to 1 defeat. While Payne was busy holding the Buccaneers to 7 hits, the Buffaloes checked in with their tenth consecutive victory and their thirteenth triumph in their last fourteen games.

Payne's 20th victory had a sweet taste to it thanks to another error. He made Hansen's ninth straight victory since joining Dallas.

The San Antonio Indians suffered a bad spell of errors and the Beaumont Exporters, taking advantage of the bobbles, scored a 5 to 4 decision. The Exporters counted three in the first inning with the aid of two errors, and two more in the fifth thanks to another error. Of course the Exporters mixed in nine base hits, which are enough to win most any ball game minus errors.

Rowland, in the role of a pinch hitter, doubled, driving in two runs to tie the score, and then Geygan drove home the winning run to give Shreveport a 5 to 4 victory over Wichita Falls. The Sports uncovered their rally in the ninth inning.

Texas Player Is Kansas Favorite

INDEPENDENCE, Kans., Aug. 11. (AP)—Play in the men's singles of the Kansas state open tennis tournament entered the second round today with three outstanding players from out of the state posted as favorites.

Two of the favorites were Richard Rosebrough, Louis and Fred Royer, Dallas, Texas, both former champions. They advanced by default yesterday. Royer over John Pierpont of Wichita, a well-known Kansas player, and Rosebrough over Tom McCarthy, Wichita Falls, Tex.

The other member of the trio was Gerald Huff, Oklahoma City, holder of the sooner open title, who entered the second round with a 6-2, 7-5 victory over Leroy Butler.

Others besides Pierpont on the defaulting list were Ted Brooks, Wichita; Searcy Ferguson, Dallas; Ard'n Newsom, former Central conference champion; Joe Apple, Durant, Okla.; and Lauren Barnes, Tulsa, Okla., who is not defending his Kansas open crown this year.

Albert Rollins, one of the seeded players from Okmulgee, Okla., drew a bye in the first round of the tournament and entered the third round by defeating Bruce Stewart, Independence, in straight love sets.

Kenneth Kell, Topeka, who defeated L. Gerhold, Gridley, Kans., in the men's singles survived the first round in the junior division by downing Jesse Opp, Tulsa.

Doubles competition begins today.

LeFors Beaten By Skellytown Team

Skellytown gave the surprise in the Gray-Carson league with a 3 to 2 win over LeFors Sunday afternoon on the LeFors diamond. The Carson county boys outdid LeFors 10 to 1 to walk away with the game in the first and second innings when they scored eight runs.

Carroll, Skelly, ace, pitched his third victory in as many starts. The previous Sunday he let Panhandle down with three hits. Teamed with Horner, slugging outfielder, Skellytown has won three out of four games in the second half and stand to be the team to beat the Magnolia Mags, wonder team of the league. The two sides will clash in Skellytown next Sunday afternoon.

Ingram pitched nice ball for LeFors but his support was ragged in spots. LeFors will have an off-day next Sunday and will probably go to Canadian for an exhibition game.

Horner, Skellytown slugger, connected for three singles in four trips to the plate to score five runs. Parker, catcher, hit a homer with one on in the second inning. The fielding of Skellytown was particularly sparkling.

"Pockets" Flynn, LeFors catcher, got to Carroll for two hits besides a catching one of the nicest games seen this season. Newsome hit a homer with two on base in the first inning to account for all the LeFors runs.

Score by innings: LeFors 300 000 000—3 5 4 Skellytown 350 000 001—0 10 1 Batteries: LeFors—Ingram and Clemmons, Flynn, Skellytown—Carroll and Parker.

IN THE MONEY

Magnolia Has Easy Hold On First Position

Apparently nothing can stop the Magnolia Mags in the Gray-Carson league. Sunday afternoon on Mag diamond the home team took a 20 to 2 game from the Phillips Oilers, given a real chance to beat the league leaders. While the Mags were defeating the Oilers the Skellytown entry was knocking LeFors from the top rung of the league to leave the Mags undisputed on top.

The Mags landed on the offerings of five Oiler hurlers for 27 safe hits, including 21 singles, three doubles and two triples. All the Oilers could get off Koch, Mag's new hurler, and Raburn Burke, who relieved him in the seventh, was five hits, three coming in the seventh inning when they scored both their runs.

Lister and Bozeman were the stick wielders for the Mags, Lister getting six safe blows on seven trips to the plate, and Bozeman five, Cahill followed with three safe bingles. Bozeman, Shriver and Thorne hit doubles while Marshall and Lister hit for three bases.

Score by innings: Magnolia 610 151 132—20 29 4 Phillips 000 000 200—2 5 4 Batteries: Magnolia—Koch, Burke and Bozeman, Phillips—Ellis, Kirkpatrick, Warren, Pullian, and Caddy, Kirkpatrick.

Canyon Outfit Defeats Oilers

The newly organized Pampa Oilers met one of the fastest teams in this section Sunday afternoon at Gulf park when they lost a 5 to 1 game to Canyon. The game was fast with both nines playing at top speed from the opening inning.

Strain, Canyon pitcher, allowed the Oilers only two hits, one by Manager William Latch and the other by DeShazo. Ellis pitched nice ball for the Oilers, allowing the Slugging Buffaloes only seven scattered hits.

Weathered, former Pampa playings, got the only extra hit for the Canyon crew. He scored two of his team's runs as well as catching a sensational game. McNish was the star in the field, taking everything that came his way.

Ellis had six assists to his credit. He was making the Buffaloes hit weak rollers that he gobbled up with ease. DeShazo also played a stellar game at second base.

Thursday afternoon the Oilers met the Ogee Indians of Oklahoma. Preceding the game the Indians will give a war dance.

Score by innings: Canyon 102 010 001—5 7 3 Pampa Oilers 000 000 010—1 2 3 Batteries: Canyon—Strain and Weathered, Pampa—Ellis and Kelly.

DIZZY DEAN FACES WYATT IN TITLE TILT

Houston and Beaumont to Meet Tomorrow in Last of Big Series.

HOUSTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean for Houston and Whitlow John Wyatt for Beaumont are the pitchers due to take the mound here tomorrow night, when Houston and Beaumont compete in the fourth game of their title play-off for the first half Texas league pennant. If Houston triumphs, it will give the Buffaloes the first half pennant with three consecutive victories. If Beaumont should win, the series will stand 2 to 1 for Houston with the fifth game scheduled for Thursday in Beaumont. In the first three games July 25, 26, and 27, Houston won the first 3 to 2, tied the second 4 to 4 (15 innings), and won the third 14 to 11.

"Dizzy" Dean, who has registered 22 victories this season against six defeats, trimmed Beaumont in the first game of the recent series. He returned the next day to pitch seven innings in the 15-inning struggle. Wyatt, who has won five and lost one this season, worked in part of the tie game. Houston will have George Washington Payne and Tex Carleton in reserve. Beaumont will have Izzy Goldstein and Luke Hamlin ready to relieve Wyatt if necessary.

Other stars who will be seen in action include Carey Selph of Houston, league's leading scorer; "Duck" Medwick, second in home runs and runs driven in, and Joyner White of Beaumont, leader in three-base hits this season.

Houston is far in front in the second half race, and if the Buffaloes win the first half play-off there will be no usual past-season series prior to the Dixie championship play.

Speedboats Are Being Groomed For Crack At Title

MONTAUK, N. Y., Aug. 11. (AP)—The far west and midwest are grooming two formidable challenges for the gold cup, coveted speedboat trophy on which the east has maintained a stranglehold for five years.

Dick Loyne, veteran California pilot, now is assembling the motor of his Californian which he brought, via steamboat through the Panama canal for the gold cup race on Saturday. In her two trial runs the 24-cylinder motor developed trouble and prevented Dodge from taking the wheel.

Seven other challengers, including the 1930 winner, Hotsy Totsy, are being tuned up for the race.

Tampico Sends Aid To Thousands Homeless In Flood

TAMPICO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Tampico was faced with the double task today of evacuating its flooded low-lying districts and dispatching aid up the Panuco and Tamesi rivers to thousands of refugees marooned in a vast inundated zone in Northern Vera Cruz and Southern Tamaulipas.

The few refugees from the interior who reached Tampico told of heavy loss of life in villages which were suddenly inundated when the rivers after two weeks of steady rain, left their course and spread out over the neighboring country.

Advices from Temporal, in Vera Cruz, said a dam burst there, releasing a solid wall of water from the Temporal river upon the town and trapping many of the residents before they could gain safety. Many are said to have been drowned but a reliable check-up is as yet impossible as all means of communication with the town have been disrupted.

It was feared the flood here would reach grave proportions. Besides evacuating inhabitants from the inundated region, police, firemen, and volunteer workers removed perishable goods from other sections likely to be flooded.

The water invaded the customs house and the city hydraulic plant leading to the fear that the plant would be put out of commission and the city would be left without drinking water.

In response to urgent appeals for aid from the Tamesi river region in Tamaulipas, where 20 villages were said to be entirely submerged, water and clothing to thousands of refugees whose plight was described as pitiful.

Three thousand refugees were housed in the small town of Panuco and the food shortage there became so acute that disorders were feared.

Indiana game wardens made 211 arrests and got 191 convictions in June.

PIRATES ARE DOING BETTER AFTER FLOP

Glenn Spencer Develops Into Winning Pitcher; Grid Star Is Big Aid.

By HERBERT W. BARKER. Associated Press Sports Writer. The Pittsburgh Pirates have no hope of winning the National league pennant just at present but they evidently still are of the opinion they can smash their way into the first division before the curtain falls for the season.

After three months of floundering around while their pitchers tried to find their effectiveness, and their batters searched vainly for their batting eyes, the Pirates pulled themselves together just when it looked like they were going to fall right out of the league.

The insertion of the Amherst football star, Howard Grossgloss, at second base, the return to hitting form of Paul Waner and the overnight development of Glenn Spencer into a starting pitcher who could win were three primary causes for the Pirates' spirit since July.

Yesterday with Spencer working on the mound, the Pirates nosed out the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.

The defeat dropped the Cubs from a virtual tie with the second place New York Giants to a position half a game removed from the runner-up rung.

The Pirate-Cub game was the only one on the major league schedule yesterday as both leagues prepared for inter-sectional warfare starting today. In the National league western teams come east and in the American, eastern clubs battle the west.

Man Surrenders After Shooting

TEXARKANA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Bard Watson, about 50, was held in Bowie county jail at Boston today after the shooting of Ed Smith, 33, in the business center of Corley, 23 miles west of here.

Watson surrendered yesterday to officials and said the shooting followed an argument over a load of lumber. Watson said he told Smith not to take the lumber from his property. Smith was employed by his brother, Tom, who operated a small portable sawmill on Watson's farm.

Witnesses said five shots were fired at Smith as he sat on the wagon with his two small sons.

More Questioning For Yank Aviators

TOKYO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr., American aviators whose plane was held by government authorities because they took photographs while flying over Japanese territory, were questioned today by the public prosecutor, who will determine whether court action shall be taken. The procurator decided to continue the questioning tomorrow.

Meanwhile customs officers called on the fliers and requested a deposit or a guarantee of the payment of duty on their plane and providing for an exemption from payment of customs for one year on the condition that they leave Japan within a year. The matter was left unsettled.

Pangborn and Herndon started a speed flight around the world but abandoned it at Khabarovsk, Siberia, and came to Tokyo to make a non-stop flight across the Pacific to America.

Verdict in Damage Case Is Unusual In Local Courts

Officials of 114th district court said today that as far as they knew, the first verdict in favor of the defendant in a compensation case was returned last night by a jury here. There have been numerous instances wherein the court instructed the jury to render a verdict in favor of the defendants in such cases, but records of 114th and 84th district courts show that juries have consistently decided in favor of the plaintiffs in compensation cases.

The verdict returned last night held that H. B. Black was not entitled to receive damages from the Texas Indemnity Insurance company and the intervenor, the Texas Elf Carbon company. Mr. Black alleged that he contracted tuberculosis at the carbon company plant when a sack of black burst in his face. The defense introduced testimony intended to show that the plaintiff suffered from the disease before he began working at the plant. He claimed damages in the amount of $8,020.

The suit was the longest of its kind ever tried here. Hearing of evidence required a week. On the first ballot, the jury voted 3 to 4 in favor of the defendant. The next vote was 9 to 3, the next, 10 to 2 and the final vote, the 12 jurors voted for the defendant.

The court in his charge charged the jury on 22 issues. The 12 men found that Black was not injured while an employee of the company in a manner that caused him to contract tuberculosis. Arguments required four hours for delivery yesterday afternoon. Will B. Saunders represented the plaintiff, and W. M. Lewright and Judge S. D. Stennis the defendants.

LEGISLATURE

humor and ready to get down to business."

The legislative session will end tomorrow. It was called by Governor Ross Sterling to aid the oil industry, whose markets have been demoralized by the tremendous flush fields of East Texas. The governor yesterday, commenting on the refusal of the legislature thus far to accept any of his ideas, intimated he might put East Texas under martial law to stop overproduction and waste if the body held out to the end against his program.

The governor's pleas for a new conservation commission was refused early in the session, but the house passed the sort of conservation regulations he wanted. The senate did not, and that resulted in today's free conference. Mr. Sterling indicated he would be content if a strong conservation bill resulted from today's discussions.

The senate as a whole, meanwhile, took one step designed to provide relief to oil property owners damaged by excessive or wasteful operations of their neighbors, passing a bill to make injunctive relief more available. Heretofore, a damaged owner must sue for injunction only after providing the neighbor insolvent. Under the bill, he might sue, be the neighbor solvent. The bill must go to the house.

TYLER, Aug. 11. (AP)—Five governors, whose states are especially afflicted by the rock-bottom crude oil prices have been invited to address the oil operators in the East Texas field here Friday. Invitations were sent to Governors Sterling of Texas, Murray of Oklahoma, Woodring of Kansas, Long of Louisiana and Parnell of Arkansas.

The meeting was called for a discussion of a probable close-down of the giant field in an effort to re-establish crude prices. Arrangements were being made to receive virtually all interested operators.

TYLER, Aug. 11. (AP)—East Texas oil men looked today to a complete shut-down of production or to formation of a co-operative sales group as their only hope for relief from over-production, as they urged attendance at a mass meeting called for Friday.

Plans for the mass meeting were completed yesterday at a session here of an operator's steering committee, attended by 91 oil men.

The committee telegraphed a plea to Governor Ross S. Sterling and Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler to again beseech the legislature to pass remedial statutes. Some of the operators attending the meeting expressed belief that a shut-down of the field would prove extremely difficult but predicted that a co-operative sales group would be formed at the mass meeting Friday.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—Congressional redistricting moved a step nearer accomplishment in the Texas legislature today, but its chances remained slim, due to the fact the session ends tomorrow.

The senate passed the Greer bill which would give East Texas, West Texas and South Texas new districts, under the increase in population entitling the state to three new congressmen. It refused, however, to take up the Puri bill to provide that in event there was no redistricting, each candidate for congressman-at-large would be required to elect the place he sought—2, 3 or 4—and thus enter a run-off if he failed of a clear majority.

Senator Archie Parr of Benavides fought the move to take up the bill and staved off the necessary two-thirds vote. Parr said the bill was aimed at "one man" whom he did not name. Senator George Puri of Dallas denied that.

The Greer bill, besides making Dallas, Harris and Bexar counties districts within themselves, would rearrange the district of Congressman John Garner, ranking democrat, to make it follow the Rio Grande from Del Rio to Brownsville. Greer said it would make Garner's re-election "even more certain than it now is."

Now, in August, he is preparing for an attempt to break the junior transcontinental flying mark. And, in September, he will compete in the Junior National A. A. U. diving championships at Long Beach to defend his low board title. He is shown in the inset training for the diving contest.

Amarillo Horse Show Will Attract Entries and Fans From Panhandle

AMARILLO, Aug. 11. (Special)—Panhandle people who cling to their love of horse flesh and the romance of things equestrian will have the opportunity to attend a creditable local equine exhibition when Amarillo's second annual Horse Show is held next Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Junior Welfare League and the Tri-State Fair association.

"Advance indications point to the biggest and most successful horse show Amarillo ever has had," Jimmy Hamilton, local riding instructor who is directing the event, said yesterday. "A great many animals have been entered, and considerable interest is being shown in the various contests to be held."

Among the entries are jumping horses, fine harness horses, five-gaited classes, road hack classes, walk-trot classes, plantation classes and others. The finest horse flesh in all the Panhandle will be represented. Prominent stables are included in the list of owners, as well as individuals who follow the sport on a somewhat smaller scale.

"Nearly everyone is a lover of horses," Wilbur C. Hawk, Tri-State fair president, pointed out, "and in order that everyone may attend, admission charges will be as low as 50 cents. Other prices are 75 cents and $1, and box seats will be $1.50. Children will be admitted at half price, boxes excepted."

John Studer of Pampa will enter two horses in the local show. Mrs. J. L. Van Pelt of Panhandle will probably be seen on horses entered by her father, Dr. George P. Groat.

Negro Confesses Killing Man During House Burglary

ROCKWALL, Aug. 11. (AP)—James Williams, 24-year-old negro, confessed to Rockwall and Hunt county officers here today that he killed Joe S. West, 77, at Royce City while in the act of burglarizing the West home shortly after midnight.

The negro was arrested by Sheriff Earl Hall of Rockwall county, who found him working a yard here later in the morning, as though nothing had happened. West's pistol, from which one bullet had been discharged, was found in the negro's home and West's pocketbook was discovered in his possession.

Sheriff Hall turned the prisoner over to Sheriff L. L. Porter of Hunt county, and he started immediately for the Hunt county jail at Greenville with him. No charges had been filed.

Mrs. West told officers she was positive the negro who shot her husband was a man who had worked for them, as he referred to her husband as "Joe" in talking with her after he had shot West.

She said after her husband had been shot, the negro grasped her arm and demanded, "get me the key to that trunk." She said she told him she would have to light a lamp to find the key and he quickly warned her, "don't light a lamp or I'll kill you."

The woman said she replied, "you have already killed my husband so go ahead and kill me." He assured her he had "shot Joe low and he'll be all right."

Mrs. West said she frightened the negro away by pretending there were other people in the house, calling "Mrs. Allen!" When the negro asked her if there was anyone else there she told him a man and his wife were in the next room. The intruder then ran out the front door.

The West family was considered one of the wealthiest in Hunt county.

Officers learned that negroes had been talking about a trunk in which they believed West kept money.

Fliers in Hawaii Saved by Jumping

HONOLULU, Aug. 11. (AP)—Three United States army airmen were saved today through parachute descent from two airplanes which became unmanageable yesterday in heavy rains over the Waiānāe mountains.

Lieut. Weldon E. Rhoades landed on level ground and was rescued without difficulty. Lieut. Donald E. Meade, air corps reserve, and Private James D. Koons landed in a desolate section and were rescued by a foot party after a fighting by searching planes.

Meade and Koons fell in a clump of trees overlooking high cliffs and crumbled to safety through the branches. "For several hours searching parties aloft and planes overhead looked for them without avail."

Japan Hard Hit By Severe Storms

TOKYO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Japan suffered greatly from the elements today and yesterday. There were five known deaths, scores injured, thousands of buildings destroyed or damaged and many fishing boats missing.

The known deaths and damage resulted from a typhoon that swept the islands of Miyako and Ishigaki in the Loo Choo, south of Japan. Two eruptions of the volcano Asama, near Karuzawa, showered the surrounding country with ashes and small stones.

Citizens ran into the streets at Hamamatsu, Shizuoka Prefecture about 100 miles southwest of Tokyo, when an earthquake shook the city shortly before midnight. The town was in darkness for hours, but no damage was done other than the breaking of electric lines.

The quake also was felt at Yokohama, only a few miles from Tokyo, and at Osaka, Nagoya, Atami and Shimizu.

Authorities estimated 2,000 buildings were destroyed and 3,000 homes damaged by the typhoon on Miyako island.

Lancaster is conducting a revival meeting at Estelina. The revival began Sunday and will continue at least a week. Rev. Lancaster is a former Chilli-cothe pastor.

The two fliers, who failed in an attempt to set a new speed record around the world, have been undergoing questioning by Japanese officials for several days.

Man Is Indicted In Girl's Death

SINTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Newton Yarberry was indicted by the San Patricio county grand jury on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Dorothy Doris Symons, 18, whose body was found Aug. 1 in a grave of mud and seaweed near the Aransas Pass breakwater.

Sheriff S. F. Hunt arrested Yarberry at Corpus Christi. Bond had not been set today.

The grand jury exonerated Tom Conner, who had also been charged with murder in connection with the chole singer's death. Sheriff Hunt, however, continued to hold Conner on a warrant issued at Aransas Pass.

Conner's attorneys planned to have an examining trial today before Carl Otterbach, justice of the peace.

The grand jury recessed until Thursday, when it will resume its investigation of the case.

Miss Symons' body was clad in a bathing suit and marks on her throat led officers to believe she had been strangled. She had been missing since the night of July 26. Texas Rangers continued their search for evidence at Aransas Pass today.

R. F. Tesson of Canadian, tester for the Northeast Panhandle Cow-Testing association, was transacting business here today.

'NOW... We Are Three!'

KATHERINE AND BILL—what fun it is to know them! They seem to get so much out of living. You met them a little over a year ago—the week before they were married. Ten days later it gave you a pleasant glow of anticipation to receive the trim card telling you when they would be "at home."

And today you got another card, headed "Now we are Three!" Bill's signature comes first, then Katherine's, and then—the guided, chubby scrawl of the newcomer, Jeremy.

You happen to know that although he is in line for an important promotion, Bill's present salary isn't large. Most other young couples would consider themselves 'up against it' if they had to manage on so little. Yet Katherine and Bill maintain a standard of living that is the admiration of all their friends.

You know how they do it, for Katherine has told you. They budget all expenditures. And when they decide a purchase is to be made, whether it is a new shade for the reading lamp, or a suit for Bill, or shoes for Katherine, they study the advertisements until they find just what they want for the price they can pay. Careful, budgeted buying of consistently advertised merchandise enables them to get the most out of their dollars.

It's a wise baby that picks parents like these.

MURRAY FOR PRESIDENT TO BE PROMOTED

Oldtime Boon of Similar Proportions Is Recalled by Politicians.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 11. (AP)—The little "Murray for President" button they talked about in Chicago last week was explained by Carlton Weaver, speaker of the Oklahoma house, as not necessarily making a presidential candidate. "Now," says the Oklahoma City Times, "another button has dropped out of the past to recall what a will-o-the-wisp this game can be."

It's about the size of a dollar and between the photographs of two men it says: "Bryan and Murray—1906."

The biography and historical sketches of Governor William H. Murray don't mention it and some say it was a premature vice-presidential boom that got no further than a back room of the Brown Palace hotel, Denver, and that few persons ever saw the button and its mates.

There is no evidence that Murray ever knew about it and it was no part of the news of the democratic convention at Denver that nominated Bryan and John W. Kern of Indiana.

C. N. Haskell, first Oklahoma governor, who headed the state delegation that year and was chairman of the committee that drafted the Bryan platform said he "never saw the button or heard of it before."

"And I don't think Bill Murray ever did," he added.

Murray attended the convention and made numerous speeches about the state constitution he helped to write not long before.

The Oklahoma governor hasn't said anything officially to give it impetus, but Oklahoma's "Murray for President" boom won't be downed.

A. H. Meyer, who would promote it here, said today he hoped to set up headquarters next month to start things on a national scale.

Germany Happy on Birthday of New Republic

BERLIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—Germany, confident that her financial and political troubles had been solved, celebrated today the twelfth anniversary of the founding of the republic.

The republican black, red and gold flag floated from all official and many private buildings and most officials participated in the festivities. Chancellor Brüning, Finance Minister Dietrich, the president of Prussia, and the lord mayor of Berlin were on the program for addresses at the opera house.

The Berlin police, smarting under the loss of two of their officers in a battle with communists Sunday, had a celebration of their own in the Lustgarten in front of the former kaiser's palace.

A program of sports and concerts under the auspices of the Reichsbanner organization will be followed tonight by a torchlight procession and a joint gathering of authorities at a time when a virtual stage of siege exists in one quarter of the city, the Von Bülow Platz, communist center.

Premier Otto Braun of Prussia, victorious in the failure of the Steelhelmet plebiscite, said in the newspaper Vorwärts that social democracy could observe from this day with justifiable pride in having received ample assurance that the nation, faithful to the Weimar constitution, would now bend itself to the task of rebuilding its economic system on a basis of law and order aimed at insuring a fair deal to all citizens.

MANY PAMPANS ATTEND CAMP

Both the First Baptist and the Central Baptist churches will be well represented at the Baptist encampment being held this week at Studer lake, near Canadian.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First church here, was speaker last night. Others from his church making the trip were Melvin Lancaster and Misses Cornelia Barrett, Loma Groom, and Geneva Groom.

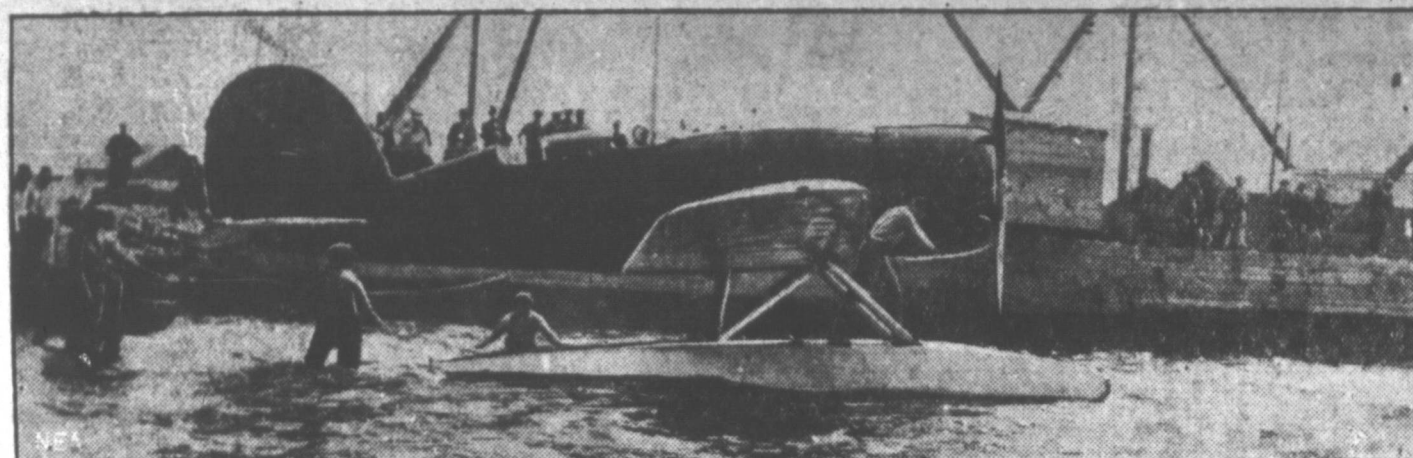

Among those from the Central Baptist church who are spending today at the encampment are Mrs. W. B. Barton, Miss Louise Barton, Mrs. S. L. Anderson, Misses Kate and Miss Esther Stark, and Miss Mary Burke. The group will leave about 11 p. m. for the opening night. The largest crowds, however, are expected to begin attending this mid-week. A number of the delegates are camping at the picturesque spot.

NO HOPE FOR MAN
MINEOLA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Physicians said today that Jimmie Franklin, 20, of Emory, had little chance of recovering from injuries he received yesterday when a freight train struck a car he was driving at Silver Lake crossing, 7 miles west of here.

Hoover Reparations Plan Reaches Complete Agreement in Details

LONDON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Complete agreement has been reached on measures designed to make the Hoover reparations holiday plan effective. It was announced today in an official communique issued by the committee of international experts charged with dovetailing the Hoover plan and the Young plan. Hugh S. Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, represented the United States as an observer at this commission's meeting. Those who participated will sign an agreement at the treasury office this evening.

"Complete agreement was reached," the communique said, "as regards the detailed measures required to give effect to President Hoover's proposal in case of payments by Germany under the Hague agreement of Jan. 20, 1930."

"Recommendations of the experts in suspension of these payments have been approved by the governments of Australia, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Greece, India, New Zealand, Portugal, Rumania, and South Africa, and a formal protocol to give effect to these recommendations will be signed at the foreign office on behalf of those governments this afternoon."

"Agreement also was reached in regard to detailed measures for suspension of interallied war debts to the United Kingdom, France, and Italy of payments under agreement with Czechoslovakia."

"Agreement also was reached on the principle that payments due by Hungary under the Paris agreement of April 28, 1930, and payments by Bulgaria under the Hague agreement of Jan. 20, 1930, should be suspended during the year ending June 30, 1932."

"But in this case certain adjustments must be made, as complete suspension of these payments to individuals which under President Hoover's proposal were not to be affected."

Accordingly the committee agreed in principle that all payments to funds 'A' and 'B' under the agreement signed at Paris on April 20, 1930, should be continued during the Hoover year.

Negotiations are continuing in regard to adjustments required in the case of Bulgaria."

Price Fixing Is Proposed by Nye

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—A proposal for government price fixing on staple products during the present economic depression is to be laid before President Hoover and other government officials by Senator Nye.

The North Dakota republican believes the government "must engage in a program of price fixing for two or three years while we are getting our bearings and building up again." He also recommended a debt holiday for the farmers, suggesting the federal government postpone collection on its intermediate credit bank loans.

Urging the government to "take some positive step in aiding our situation," he said prices should be fixed on such commodities as cotton, wheat, dairy products, beef, potatoes, pork and wool. He noted congressional approval would be necessary, and did not suggest any prices for the commodities named. The drought condition in his state, Nye said, had not been exaggerated, adding that the wheat crop would be about one-fifth of normal production.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan and children returned yesterday from a vacation trip spent in Colorado. While en route to Colorado, the family stopped at Red River, N. M., to fish. They were gone three weeks.

WHEAT DROPS
CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Grain prices averaged lower early today after an initial show of firmness that resulted from unlooked for upturns of Liverpool wheat quotations.

A bearish construction put upon the United States government crop report as to wheat, however, led to enlarged selling, and so likewise the corn belt rains. Opening unchanged to 5-8 cents higher, wheat afterwheat underwent a general sag. Corn started 3-8 off to 3-8 up, and later declined all around.

COTTON IS QUIET
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11. (AP)—The cotton market had rather a quiet and easier opening. Liverpool cables came in lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 6 to 7 points. Prices rallied 2 to 4 points right after the start on a little covering but soon eased off again owing to a lack of buying power, October trading down to 6.89 and December to 7.08, or 7 to 9 points under yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was very quiet and at the lows.

Home-Made Feeder Plans Available

Blueprints for home-made hog feeders have been received by County Agent Ralph R. Thomas and are available to farmers wishing to build feeders. Mr. Thomas says they are simple and inexpensive and have proven satisfactory.

There are not many hogs being raised in this county and the county agent would like to see more farmers raise hogs, even if they are for home use or to be sold to neighbors to kill. They play an important part in the "live off the farm" program that was recommended at a farm-ers short course at College Station this month.

Mr. Thomas maintains an office on the ground floor of the new courthouse.

ROOSEVELT CLUBS FORMED IN SOUTHERN CITIES ARE BECOMING NUMEROUS NOW

Congressmen of South Being Polled on Whom They Favor for President.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Organization of "Roosevelt Southern Clubs" supporting Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York, for the democratic presidential nomination is proceeding.

The headquarters of the clubs at Atlanta already is sounding out members of congress on their attitude toward the New York governor for the democratic nomination.

A letter sent by F. B. Summers, executive chairman of the organization, has been received by members of congress from the southern states, soliciting their views on Roosevelt.

The letter, dated July 29, read: "Our organization is taking a poll of southern and southwestern congressmen as to their preference for the democratic nomination, for use in press service stories next week."

"If you favor the nomination of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, we would be glad to have a brief expression from you to use in these stories."

"If you have no preference at present, nothing will be said about it and this letter to you is absolutely confidential."

No announcement so far has been made of the results of the poll by the organization. However, the New York governor has received recently several public endorsements by southern members of congress.

Dr. Luther P. Baker of Atlanta, is honorary chairman of the Roosevelt Southern clubs and with organization actively in the field political observers here believe it has the sanction of the New York governor.

The stationery of the organization describes it as "a south-wide volunteer organization, advocating the nomination and election of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, as president of the United States—organized Dec. 25, 1930."

Other officers include A. Kemper, secretary; and C. W. Jones, treasurer. Warren S. Reese Jr. is named as vice-chairman for Alabama. No other vice-chairmen are listed on the stationery.
