PUBLICITY DRIVE OPENS NEXT MONTH

MORE FARMERS ON PLAINS IS CAMPAIGN GOAL

EXPENDITURE OF FUND SET ASIDE BY C. C. WILL START SOON

With Lubbock as a center, the South Plains of Texas, having millions of acres of tillable soil ready to be placed under cultivation, will be presented to the nation through display advertising in a number of leading farm magazines starting next month, it was announced this morning following a meeting of the advertising committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

This is in connection with an intensive campaign of the local Chamber of Commerce to bring additional settlers into this section and is the first definite step taken by the organization since $12,000 was appropriated several months ago to be used for advertising.

Starting November 15 and extending through February and March, display advertising will be shown in the Kansas City Weekly Star, Farm, Stock, and Home; Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman; Prairie Farmer; Farm and Ranch; Country Gentleman; and the Dairy Farmer. These nationally known publications have a combined circulation of 3,085,901, entailing several times as many readers.

Success of this advertising campaign will be measured by the number of requests that come in concerning this section. A special booklet is being prepared by the Southwestern Advertising company and will be sent in answer to any inquiries.

"It is impossible to tell everything that we would like to in a display advertisement," R. J. Murray, chairman of the advertising committee, said today. "But we hope by this campaign to stimulate interest that will enable us to distribute literature containing more information about the South Plains."

This campaign will cost about half of the $12,000 appropriation set aside by the organization for this year. Additional expenditures will be determined by the committee after the first definite step taken.

ROBBERS LOOT TEXAS VAULT

$5000 IN SECURITIES AND CASH TAKEN BY BAND OF BANDITS

TEKARKANA, Oct. 22.—Robbers looted the Guaranty Bond State Bank of Redwater, about 20 miles west of Texarkana, last night, of $5,000 in cash and securities.

I. W. Hanks, cashier, opened the vault today and found all doors locked as usual.

After they apparently had unlocked the doors with a skeleton key, the robbers turned the 4,000-pound safe on its face and cut a hole in its back with an acetylene torch.

Officers were unable to find any fingerprints, leading them to express the belief that the robbers wore rubber gloves. The loot comprised $3,000 in cash and $2,000 in securities. The loss was covered by insurance.

Hundred Attend Baptist Meeting

There is an attendance of about one hundred ministers and laymen at an associational meeting today at the First Baptist church.

GRIZZLY ATTACKS HOTEL KEEPER

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Knocked down and severely clawed by a grizzly bear, Ben Merrifield of Molt, Mont., an assistant caretaker at the Canyon Hotel in Yellowstone National Park, was recovering today from his injuries. More than 300 stitches were taken in the gashes inflicted by the animal.

Merrifield had gone to an out-building near the hotel for gasoline when he met the grizzly which, standing on its hind legs, knocked him down with one sweep of the paw. Unarmed, Merrifield decided to remain motionless until the bear left. The animal stalked off after clawing its victim about the face, head and left leg.

RECORD CROWD HEARS HOOVER AT NEW YORK

CRITICIZES SMITH FOR "STATE SOCIALISM," BORAH AT DALLAS

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Having been greeted enthusiastically in the home city of his opponent when he criticized "state socialism," the policies of Governor Smith, Herbert Hoover returned to Washington today.

Madison Square Garden with its seating capacity of about 18,000 was filled while thousands of others gathered in the street to cheer the speaker as he entered and left the hall.

"Because the country is faced with difficulty and doubt over certain national problems—that is, prohibition, farm relief and electrical power—our opponents propose that we must thrust government a long way into the businesses which give rise to these problems," he said.

"In effect, they abandon the tenants of their own party and turn to socialism as a solution for the difficulties presented by all three. See Government in Business."

"It is proposed that we shall change from prohibition to the state purchase and sale of liquor. If

DALLAS BATTLE FOR CITY HALL AS SPEAKING AUDITORIUM ENDS WITH CONFESSION PLAN WAS ALL A FARCE

DALLAS, Oct. 22.—The battle for the Dallas City Hall auditorium has finally ended with city officials apparently convinced that the subcommittee of Socialism is far enough removed from Royal Purple and Communist Red to make it safe for city property.

After denying the Workers (Communist) party and the "Royalist League of America" the use of the hall Arthur Reinhardt, street commissioner, has agreed to rent the auditorium to Lee L. Rhodes, Socialist candidate for governor for a campaign speech.

The permission was granted at about the same time that Richard Potts, Dallas lawyer, who almost but not quite, rented the hall for a discussion of the advantages of a benevolent monarchy over a "so-called democracy" fired a final humorous broadside at the city officials in which he admitted that his

DALLAS MAN IS SLAIN IN FRAY AT BIG SPRING

CHARLES WALLACE DIES FROM BULLET WOUND SUFFERED MONDAY

BIG SPRING, Oct. 23.—Charles Wallace, twenty seven, of Dallas was shot down at the Highway Filling Station eight miles north of Big Spring about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A. A. Bergdorf, 45, a carpenter who had been working in the oil fields near Big Spring for some time, is charged with the murder.

Bergdorf was arrested at Vealmore by Sheriff House and is being held in the county jail. Two bullets from a Winchester rifle struck Wallace in the temple.

Wallace, whose home is at 2224 Balder street, Dallas, had arrived in Big Spring Monday morning and had secured a job picking cotton at the Williams farm. He and a companion, R. A. Jones, 23, 5405 Garland Ave., Dallas, were waiting at the filling station for a car to be procured so they could begin work when Bergdorf drove up. While waiting, he seemed to notice the two men and asked if they were. Not getting any satisfaction he walked over and began talking.

An argument ensued, and bystanders said that Bergdorf walked to the car, getting the Winchester. The shooting followed.

The officers followed Bergdorf to Vealmore and arrested him at a grocery store.

Various Road Changes Made

HIGHWAYS SHORTENED AND TURNS CUT OUT NEAR BROWNFIELD

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 22.—Highway development and new designations still hold the spotlight in Terry county, as the highway department in existing routes are being made an effort to shorten distances between Brownfield and principal towns adjoining.

One change has just been completed which shortens the distance to the west line of the county and reduces the mileage between Plains and Brownfield by three miles at the same time eliminate ten right angle turns. Arrangements have also been made for the construction of a cut-off on the highway between Brownfield and Lubbock, which when completed will shorten the route by two miles, eliminate two right angle turns and do away with two railroad crossings one of them being considered as very unsafe.

Several months ago a request was made to the highway department to designate extension of Highway No. 53 from Brownfield to Odessa, by way of Seagraves, Seminole and Andrews and as it has recently been inspected by officials of the department, it is expected that the extension will be placed with the commission at the next regular meeting.

Further efforts toward highway development are being made by the Chambers of Commerce of Lamesa and Brownfield, joined by the commissioners of Dawson and other counties and it is very likely that a request for a designation of the highway connecting the two towns will be made within the next few weeks.

Parachute Fails to Open; Jumper Hits on Big Tent

KING WINTER HOLDS TEXAS IN FIRM GRIP

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 23.—James J. McFadden, parachute jumper, has had his greatest thrill, and incidentally, his closest escape from death.

McFadden, who was recovering in a hospital today from concussion of the brain, went aloft yesterday in a balloon as a special "stunt" for the Georgia state fair.

A throng which idly watched him leap from the balloon at a lofty altitude and drop downward, was heard to gasp a moment later when his parachute failed to open.

Helplessly spectators stood by, watching the jumper sprawling earthward at a terrific speed, until he finally disappeared on top of a large canvas tent which covered the main show of a circus.

McFadden, it was found, had landed on the canvas, head downward, but had escaped with only a slight concussion of the brain. He was expected to be released from the hospital soon.

Subway Contract Is Not Yet Ready

No word has been received from the San Francisco railway company recently concerning the contract for the subway construction under the San Francisco tracks in Lubbock.

The proposed contract was sent to the railway officials for approval several weeks ago by the city commission. City Manager Gus McCleary said this morning that several matters between the city and the railroad would have to be worked out before the contract was awarded.

The city commission will meet in regular session next Thursday. Routine matters will comprise most of the agenda, but nothing of special interest has been scheduled.

Five Men Burn To Death In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Five unidentified men were burned to death and seven others were injured, two so seriously they probably will die, in a fire today in the Eagle Hotel, a lodging house for men in South State street.

About eighty others fled to the street or were carried to safety by firemen. The fire, of undetermined origin, almost completely destroyed the upper stories of the building. Charles Koet, hotel clerk, was taken into custody after firemen said he had been drinking and William Dillon, division fire marshal, described the hotel as a death trap.

FIVE KILLED BY BOMB

LAHORE, British India, Oct. 22 (AP)—Five persons were killed today and 21 injured when a bomb exploded while a large Hindu crowd was returning from celebrating the Hindu Festival of Dussehra.

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 22 (AP)—Ozell Sewel, 26, night man at a cafe here, was shot to death early today. Officers found a pistol with one shell discharged near the body.

Premature Blast Is Felt To Six

BRIDGEVIEW, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP)—Failure of a mine to ten tons sticks of dynamite had a firm them is believed by Robert Lilly, state mine inspector, to have caused an explosion last night which cost the lives of six men in the McAlpin Coal company mine near here.

The bodies of the six men, including that of B. B. Burthold, who according to Lilly, failed to place the explosives in a hole before firing, were recovered by rescue crews six hours after the explosion.

T. T. Durham, Richard Durham, Lanning Ross, John Harrison and Alfred Davis, the latter two negroes, were the other victims.

Tornado Breezes Thro'gh London

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Unroofed buildings, shattered glass and fallen trees today marked the path of a miniature tornado, which swept upon London last night with a violence rarely experienced in England.

It had been raining steadily but was otherwise fairly calm when people were startled by a sudden roar and whirling debris. Wind and rain, shattering glass and falling stones, tiles and bricks.

The circus and the neighboring streets were the center of the storm's violence. In that neighborhood many of the roofs of several buildings were ripped off. Plate glass windows of the big show and dressmakers' models displayed in the windows were whisked out in to the street by the wind.

San Antonio Will Be Scene Of Most Important Maneuver In History Of United States Army This Afternoon

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 22.—With command posts of six divisions established by the "Blue" army defending San Antonio against a "Red" force along Cibola river and with three corps and army headquarters ready to function, the stage was set for the opening gun at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the largest command post exercise ever conducted by the United States Army.

Headquarters are maintained at eighth corps area headquarters, from which point Brig. General Albert J. Bowley, corps area commander, will direct machinery that would require a force of 200,000 men in actual war.

Corps headquarters have been established along a line running through Camp Bullis, and the division command posts extend along a line between the Leon Springs military reservation and the northern border of Bexar county.

Army air corps headquarters are being maintained at Kelly Field, where approximately 100 airplanes are ready to take the air to cooperate with the ground forces.

The first formation of airplanes took off early today on a reconnaissance of the enemy position and for a demonstration over Fort Sam Houston. Ninety planes from Kelly Field and 13 from Dodd Field were in the air during the demonstration.

The army air corps under command of Major W. N. Hensley, air officer at corps area headquarters was prepared to be on the alert practically all of Tuesday night as sealed orders to be opened at midnight and at 1 a. m. had been received from army headquarters.

At a conference held Monday afternoon in the war department theater.

DIRECTORS OF INSTITUTION HIGHLY PLEASED WITH RECORD ENROLLMENT OF 1,801. THEY SAY IN BUSINESS MEETING TODAY

HOPE TO MAKE SUMMER SESSIONS LARGE

FIVE OF NINE REGENTS ATTEND MEET CALLED FOR DISCUSSION OF ROUTINE BUSINESS; CHAIRMAN C. B. JONES PRESIDES

Planning for the greatest summer session in the history of the institution, discussing its remarkable growth and studying minutely the program of expansion which will be laid before the next session of the state legislature for official approval, the Board of Regents of Texas Technological college held a regularly called business session here today. The session took up most of the morning and part of the afternoon and was held in the executive offices of the administration building with Clifford B. Jones, of Spur, chairman of the board, presiding.

In addition to Mr. Jones, members of the board present were John W. Carpenter, Dallas street traction and power magnate; Frank E. Clarity, Port Worth, vice-president and general manager of the Port Worth and Denver lines; Henry T. Kimbro, Lubbock, grain broker, and C. G. Comery, McKinney, capitalist. Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo hotel owner; Houston Harte, San Angelo newspaper publisher; R. A. Underwood, Plainview banker; and Mrs. F. W. Drane, El Paso, were absent from the session. Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college, and E. W. Provenza, business manager, met with the board and made their reports.

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICIAL WILL CONFER HERE

DEAN TO ADVISE LOCAL GROUP ON FEDERAL AND STATE AID

Harvey Dean, assistant state highway engineer of Austin, is expected in Lubbock within the next few days to confer with officials of the Lubbock County Good Roads association concerning the state and federal aid on the units of the proposed county-wide paving project here.

Following his visit here, Mr. Dean will make recommendations concerning the state aid. He is being met here at the request of Judge F. J. member of the state highway commission.

Presentation of the petition which was scheduled to be given for the county commissioners meeting yesterday was postponed pending the arrival of Mr. Dean. Several hundred names are on the petition which calls for a bond election to provide for county-wide paving and hard surfacing of highways to the amount of about two million dollars.

It is expected that the delay will be only for a few days as Mr. Dean was reported leaving Austin yesterday. In writing to J. E. Rix, chairman of the good roads organization here, the state highway commission complimented the county on its proposed step. The association here wishes to gain definite figures of state and federal aid before another step is taken.

COTTON LABOR STILL NEEDED

ESTIMATE 10,000 ARE LACKING IN SOUTH PLAINS SECTION

Although each day brings hordes of cotton pickers to this section, R. P. Nelson, federal employment agent stationed here, this morning stated that about 10,000 cotton pickers were yet needed in this section.

He said that this was more than the present need but it would take this many before the season is completed. The steady incoming of pickers is taking care of the most pressing need to a great extent, Mr. Nelson said. He stated that there was no cause for alarm among the farmers as pickers from all parts of the state were being sent here.

Between one and two thousand pickers have already been distributed in this section and new ones are coming in daily. The cotton gins are to come in to the local chamber of commerce offices for additional pickers.

Mr. Nelson stated that a hard freeze at this time was only thing that could damage the cotton of this country.

AIRPORT SITES ARE INSPECTED

SEVERAL LOCATED NEAR CITY LIMITS BEING CONSIDERED HERE

Possibility of the establishment of an airport here within the near future was augmented with the announcement yesterday of George Benson, chairman of the airport committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, that the committee is now considering fifteen or twenty proposed sites near the city.

Prices have been received on the sites. All of the ones under consideration are close to the city and available. The committee has been working on the airport problem for several months.

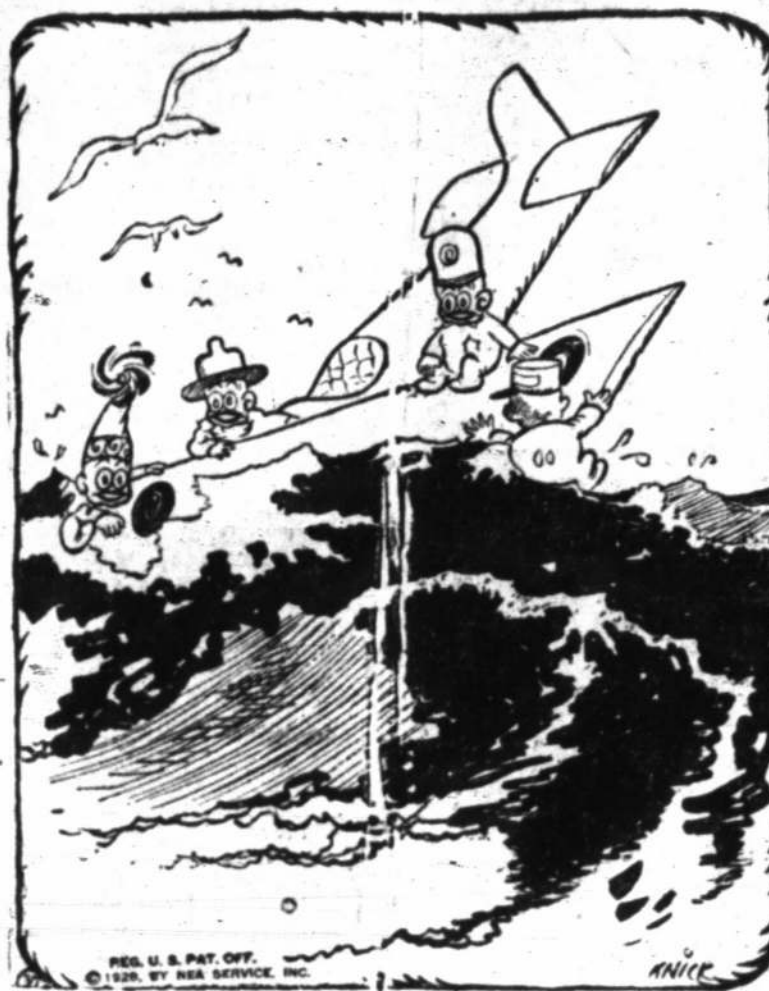

Several representatives of the Alexander Eaglerock Aircraft company of Colorado Springs, one of the largest companies of this kind in the nation, are expected in the city within the next few days to aid in the selection of an airport. Local men will confer with the visitors concerning what is needed in a standard airport.

Jack McDonald, publicity director, and Ray C. Shrader, chief pilot, and other members of the company, are expected here in connection with an extended air tour in three company planes.

It would be a pleasure if some of the fair ones who ride in stuffy street cars had better seats. Or none at all.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Much to the Tinymites' surprise, they soon began to realize that they'd been rescued from the sea, and now were high and dry. Said Clowdy, "We all still look pale, but think we've landed on a whale. Our plane's all right, right now, but what's to happen by and by?" "Supposin' Mister Whale gets mad. Then things would sure turn out bad. He's big enough to toss us all away up in the air. Let's be quiet as can be. I much prefer to dodge the sea. It's funny that our small plane failed to give the whale a scare."

"He didn't hear the loud kermack when we swooped down upon us back," said Carpy, "or I'm sure he would have swished his tail around. I think it best that we don't peep, 'cause maybe he is asleep. When he wakes up per-taps he'll swim and take us to dry ground."

The whale began to move a bit, and all the bunch near threw a fit. "Oh, look," cried one, "we're gliding through the water. This is great. Then scouty said, 'Oh, don't cheer yet. I still think we will get all wet. I'm sure the whale will play a trick on all of us. Just wait!'"

What Scouty said turned out just right. The whale swished round with all his might until the plane, upon his back, began to slide a bit. "Oh, grab our plane! Don't let it go!" cried Carpy, "we will have no show of staying on the whale's back, 'cause we'll have no place to sit."

Alas! Alack! A big scare came. "Hang to the plane. Someone may rescue us."

The Tinymites are rescued in the next story.)

GUERRILLA WAR IN NICARAGUA

AMERICAN AIRPLANE IS FACTOR IN SAVING OF ONE LIFE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A tale of renewed guerrilla warfare in strife-torn Nicaragua, describing also how one man's life was saved through the appearance of an American airplane, has come through official channels to the state department.

Reporting to Secretary Kellogg, Brig. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the American Electoral Mission, declared that bandits led by Pedro Altamirano, reputedly a lieutenant of Sandino, swooped down upon a group of peaceful Nicaraguan citizens at San Marcos, Jinatega, brutally killed several and then made for the border, plundering as they went.

The purpose of the attack, General McCoy asserted, was to terrorize the inhabitants and thereby prevent them from voting at the coming election. General prisoners were released, he said, with instructions to spread the warning that Altamirano would return and kill all who should attempt to vote.

The victims were campaigning on behalf of General Moncada. The attack occurred on the night of October 1, after they had retired. Juan Lopez, one of the two who escaped after being wounded, said the leader of the campaigning party, Dr. Juan Medietta, a prominent Managua lawyer, begged Altamirano and his men for mercy, but with his companions was ruthlessly struck down and hacked to pieces with machetes.

It was Lopez whose life was saved by the appearance of the airplane and this incident was described not only by General McCoy but in dispatches from Managua as well. On the day following the night attack Lopez again encountered the outlaws. A struggle ensued which was interrupted by the roar of the airplane motor. Frightened, the outlaws fled in all directions, enabling Lopez to escape.

The bunch were wet as they could be. Then Scouty cried, "Hang to the plane. Someone may rescue us."

The Tinymites are rescued in the next story.)

It is charged that the stock was held in Amarillo for 48 hours causing the plaintiff to reach Wellington the day after the rodeo was over.

WHAT IS A GOOD SPORT? IS A "GOOD FELLOW" ONE?

What is a good sport? It is the person who goes to the game, enjoys the game, and is a good sport. It is the person who goes to the game, enjoys the game, and is a good sport.

"Dear Mr. Lee: I have a girl friend who is very dear to me. Last night we were sitting on the porch and she said to me, 'We are both 18 years of age. I told her to be careful and she said, 'I am a good sport. I am a good sport. I am a good sport.'"

New Ways To Prepare Vegetables And Salads To Be Told By Mrs. M. Dougan

The beginning of cookery marks a step in civilization. The historic man learned that meat put on a forked stick and held over the glowing embers was more appetizing than when raw. To place his fruits and vegetables in the hot ashes, also, gave them an odor more pleasing to his nostrils, and it was just a step further to learn that the cracked grains spread on hot stones provided a food both pleasing to his eye and satisfying to his taste.

With the development of spits, fireplaces and utensils the preparations of food became more and more varied. Today, with different foods and utensils at our command, the making of many new combinations of old foods but after all the food values remain the same. Our problems are what methods of cookery are best to retain the nutrients of the food; to make it pleasing to the senses and usable by the body and at the same time conserve the time, strength and energy of the home-maker.

These are just the problems that will be solved for the benefit of the women of Lubbock and surrounding territory at the Lubbock-Journal first-day cooking school to be conducted at the Uptown Dance Palace by Mrs. M. Dougan, noted culinary expert starting Monday, October 29, and continuing through Friday, each afternoon at 2:30 to 4:30.

"All Fruits Very Healthful"

Fruits as a source of vitamins, minerals and roughage in the diet are invaluable for health sake. The addition of bulk to the diet is a very desirable factor in a balanced meal.

Mrs. Dougan discusses most interesting and thoroughly the value and uses of fruits in a well-balanced diet. She tells of their use as best ways to cook them, how they are made into pie, sauce and puddings. She tells how to retain the most fruit flavor in pie and pastry. In short, she leaves nothing untold regarding fruits and their uses. She will demonstrate the making of delicious new salads with which you may please your family and guests.

"Vegetables are 'Protective' Foods"

"Vegetables form a part of the protection of each day's diet if adequate vitamins and minerals are to be used. Like fruits, vegetables add bulk and roughage to the diet, qualities which give satisfaction to the meal," says Mrs. Dougan.

"Vegetables furnish food nutrients as well as minerals and vitamins and the many ways in which they may be cooked singularly and in combination with other foods."

You will want to see Mrs. Dougan, head, bake, steam and boil various vegetable dishes. It will prove interesting and instructive. She will show you little tricks in seasoning that will prove effective in bringing to yourself the praise of your family and friends when you serve.

Plans to attend all five classes. Remember the dates, Monday, October 29, through Friday, November 2.

NEW SPECIAL TRAIN READY FOR NOMINEE

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR SMITH'S FINAL JAUNT IN EAST

(By Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23.—A new special train will be at the command of Governor Smith tomorrow for his final campaign swing which will carry him through the thickly populated industrial sections of North Atlantic seaboard.

The long train of compartment and sleeping cars in which he traveled some 10,000 miles in the West has been broken up and in its place a train of less than half its length has been assembled for the short, daylight jumps to be made in the East.

The new train, however, has been ordered only after careful study of the needs of the trip. It will include the St. Nicholas, the private car of W. F. Kenny, New York contractor and boyhood friend of the governor; a work car for newspaper correspondents; and a combination club-baggage car.

These three cars are the only ones of the first eleven car special which was disbanded after the nominee's return here Sunday. The other two cars will be standard Pullman chair cars. On any trips where it may be needed a dining car will be added.

Keep Printing Plant

In the baggage section of the combination car, Joseph L. Cohn, the governor's publicity manager, again will maintain the printing establishment as on the two western trips. When arrangements for this car were being discussed, the nominee wanted to know why it would be needed.

"What use are you going to have for a mimeograph machine?" he inquired.

"Well we have to get out your speeches and there may be an interview," replied Cohn. "We have got to be prepared."

But apparently this did not satisfy the nominee, for he insisted the correspondents would not have any use for it after the train arrived at Boston, the first stop on the trip, until 10 o'clock Thursday morning, when he departs for New York.

"Then we are just riding to New York," he went on.

"The train will stop at different places and something will have to be written about each place," interrupted a correspondent, "there will be plenty to do."

And Cohn's mimeograph machine will be in its accustomed corner of the baggage room when the train leaves tomorrow for Boston.

A New and Larger Victory Six
by DODGE BROTHERS

Until you have seen, experienced and passed upon Victory smartness and performance, you can't possibly realize what a great car the new Victory Six is—and why the world is so emphatically sold on its amazing value.

NEW AND EXCLUSIVE Victory Six construction sets the highest standard yet known for riding ease and roadability.

BODY AND CHASSIS are mutually designed for each other. The body is bolted directly to the chassis frame, replacing the usual body sills and eliminating body overhang.

RECENT AND VITAL improvements have been announced including still greater roominess and luxury, wider doors and windows, greater vision areas, more generous leg room and still richer interior appointments.

BRILLIANT Victory Six performance is unparalleled for quick pick-up, instant acceleration, speed and flexibility.

Three Great Driving Advantages of Exclusive Victory Construction

Lowering the center of gravity brings the weight of body and passengers nearer the ground. You feel that you are riding IN the car and not ON it. The Victory grips the road more firmly, and is safer and easier to handle on sharp curves.

Victory riding ease on all kinds of roads is nothing less than marvelous. The strength and rigidity of Victory coachwork contributes to the enjoyment of passengers by eliminating squeaks and rattles.

The perfection of Victory balance benefits all phases of performance. Steering is amazingly easy, acceleration is faster and smoother, and hydraulic four-wheel braking is extraordinarily efficient.

MATADORS SHOW SPIRIT IN WORKOUT FOR HORNFED FROG TILT

WESTERNERS WORK HARD FOR STRENUOUS SCHEDULE AHEAD

PASSING MAY PLAY BIG PART IN OFFENSIVE

'BEAT T. C. U. NOT HOLD THEM' IS ADOPTED AS TEAM SLOGAN

Having adopted the slogan, "Beat T. C. U. Not Hold Them," the Tech Matadors resumed training Monday afternoon in dead earnest for the coming battle with Matty Bell's Horned Frogs.

The memory of past encounters with their Southwest Conference rival and the recent victory of the Belmen over the Texas Aggies has spurred on the Bullfighters to put everything into their practice sessions this week. In spite of the apparent odds against them, the entire personnel of the squad is in high spirits over the game Saturday.

Frogs Are Unbeaten

The Horned Frogs hold the distinction of being the only undefeated team in the Southwest Conference. Having met and defeated four minor conference teams previous to their victory over the Elbie crew last week, the T. C. U. eleven now looms as a dangerous contender in the conference race and the Matadors will be hard put to hold their own against the powerful Frogs Saturday.

With the Matador defense already proven, coaches Frelund and Payne will give most of their attention this week to perfecting an offense which will be able to cope with the formidable attack flashed by T. C. U. Coach Grady Huggins, both teams scouted the Horned-Frog Aggie tilt last Saturday and the Matadors will use the T. C. U. plays as a working background during the practice sessions this week.

Plan For Special Train

Interest in the game is running high in down town circles as well as on the college campus, as plans for the special train to the scene of battle go forward. A huge bonfire is planned for Thursday night. A horde of green-clad freshmen were busy last night collecting boxes, barrels, ice cream and other articles for the pep rally to be held on the night preceding departure for Corvallis. The affair is calculated to give the ambitious Matadors a great send-off. Against the Matty Bell Indians last week the Matadors flashed their most impressive offensive drive of the current season, displaying a passing attack which may prove their most valuable weapon against the conference aggregation Saturday. Three more days of intensive training should put the gridders in shape to make their best showing against the Toads.

Well-Balanced Schedule Allows Breathing Spells Between Games With Easy and Tough Opponents

BY JOCK SUTHERLAND

Coach, University of Pittsburgh

It is not always possible to arrange a well-balanced schedule, but I believe all college and high school coaches will agree that if games can be scheduled in such sequence that the squad is allowed gradual development it is highly desirable.

The 1928 schedule of the University of Pittsburgh team was well balanced. The schedule for this season is quite the opposite, although practically the same teams will be met.

I would just as soon meet the five strongest teams in the country every year if the games were so arranged that my squad would develop slowly and "breathing spells" would be afforded.

I believe the well-balanced schedule consists of from seven to nine games. It starts off with two or three easy contests, the outcome of which should never be in doubt. The games, however, should become increasingly difficult and the third or fourth game should be a real test for the team.

Last season Pittsburgh met their teams in the order indicated: Thiel, Grove City, West Virginia, Drake, Carnegie Tech, Allegheny, Washington and Jefferson, Nebraska and Penn State. The first two games permitted me to experiment with plans and players. West Virginia gave the team a good test as did Drake. The annual inter-city battle with Carnegie Tech was a high point of the season and the game with Allegheny the next week was what I call a "breathing spell."

Then came hard games with Washington and Jefferson, Nebraska and Penn State.

This season, too, must meet Carnegie Tech, Syracuse, Washington and Jefferson, Nebraska and Penn State on consecutive weeks. Such an arrangement allows no "breathing spell."

I imagine gridders' grinds grind for five solid weeks.

We met Thiel last Saturday in the opening game, followed by a real test from West Virginia. Allegheny the following week permits a brief let up, but my team must be well developed by the last week in October if we are to make a good showing against five strong teams in a row.

Of course, schedules can not always be arranged as the coach desires. Theoretically the well-balanced schedule would be the best arrangement for high school and college teams. Coaches would have an opportunity to develop inexperienced material and the season would be less of a strain on the players.

No play is ever given a real test until it has been tried in a game or against a defense that knows nothing about the players. The reserves or freshmen know the play as well as the varsity does and are usually prepared to meet it.

An arrangement which provides for a reserve or "B" team gives the coach an opportunity to test his plans and players thoroughly. Football players, regardless of their degree to play and their mental and physical ability, are after all, developed under fire.

It has been my experience that a boy who has taken part in a game will never for practice the following Monday imbued with confidence and self-assurance, and is as valuable to the squad.

Many of the best players I have coached have developed fast and displaced regulars because easy

Games at the beginning of the season gave me an opportunity to try them out.

I can well remember the first game of football that I started as a regular. I made mistakes—plenty of them—but I learned more football that afternoon than I had learned in a month of practice.

In theory, the balanced schedule plan is ideal for high school and college teams. In practice, it seldom works out because of conflicts in dates.

THE PERSONAL WAY IN WHICH HE acted toward the crowd, especially his fans in the bleachers, seemed to have in it the act of a great artist who knew he was in his last big moment and who was taking his loved ones right to his bosom. His mannerisms had in them the attitude of the big star who says: "Boys, this is my last big act and I'm making it a good one." He didn't act that way in the other three games nor in any other game of his career.

There always before had been a certain dignity about the way he accepted applause.

You might say that he was out there to show up those who had mourned late in the season when he wasn't hitting a ball, and he didn't feel like commanding. He is not barnstorming for money. He is enjoying himself at the only recreation he loves.

No Rest in Season

The real hard test was applied to the Babe last season for the first time. He had to play through the whole season without a rest. And he broke down under the strain. In previous years by misfortunes which did him no good, he had two or three weeks, but this year he had to pound and pound and down until they all but fell off him.

His friends on the ball club think that he will not be able to play another season regularly. And so did Speaker and Collins. But they weren't built out of proportion like the Babe with a heavyweight wrestler's trunk on a chorus girl's ankles.

That had a thing on him," Hendricks said. "He is about the best all around player I have ever seen, and he hasn't reached his best form yet."

My What A Man!

Hendricks also rates Denny Vance as one of the greatest pitchers of all time.

"If that big fellow ever got into a world series he would be the sensation of all time," he said. "I never saw a pitcher who could do as much all alone as Vance can. If he had a ball club behind him, he wouldn't lose more than a couple of ball games a season."

"His career is strikingly parallel to that of Walter Johnson. Walter never got a chance to show until he was past his prime, and Denny never may get his chance."

"Denny and one hitter would be a whole ball club."

It seems to be accepted as a fact that Bob Meusel will not be playing with the Yankees next season.

There hasn't been anything particularly wrong with his game in New York, but the Yankees will have to give some of their good players away to make some deals during the winter, and the New York fans wouldn't rebel if Meusel was passed along. He never has been popular in New York.

It is understood that the White Sox want him, and will send Bill Falk to New York in the deal.

"They can talk all they want to about trading him, but that young fellow will have something to say about it," Irish Meusel, his brother, said, during the world series.

NEA Service Sports Writer

While he was hitting all those home runs, making all those heroic catches and playfully raising his fans with all those defiant gestures in the late world series, it may have been that the Babe was making his last glorious baseball stand.

In retrospect, now it seems manifest to not a few of those who saw the Babe in his last game in St. Louis that he was inspired by something more than the mere love of the things he was doing.

He was doing for so many years.

The personal way in which he acted toward the crowd, especially his fans in the bleachers, seemed to have in it the act of a great artist who knew he was in his last big moment and who was taking his loved ones right to his bosom. His mannerisms had in them the attitude of the big star who says: "Boys, this is my last big act and I'm making it a good one." He didn't act that way in the other three games nor in any other game of his career.

Thought For Today

We all do fade as a leaf.—Isaiah 64:6.

As sailing into port is a happier thing than the voyage, so is age happier than youth; that is, when the voyage from youth is made with Christ at the helm.—Rev. J. Pulsford.

Model A

Dispatches from Detroit report that production of the Model A Ford car is now slightly above 5000
a day, and still going up. Stimulatingly, it is stated that Chrysler is now making 5300 cars daily.
The average reader, no doubt, sees all this in terms of a great race, or battle, between Ford and General Motors, with overtones of clinking cash registers as the enormous profits are gathered in. Actually, however, its significance is something quite different.

There are upwards of 10,000 automobiles being made daily for the American public. They are excellent cars—good looking, reliable, sturdy, low-priced. They will serve to bring freedom of movement to countless Americans. The rivalry between two industrial giants, with the attendant vast profits, is not the important thing. The important thing is the rate at which the motorization of America is being continued.

Women Voters

The "women's vote" may not always have a very decisive effect on politics, but now and then it swings an election most unmistakably.

Such a case occurred in Omaha
not long ago.
Omaha was using artificial gas.
A new company offered to substitute natural gas at a substantial reduction in rates. Offhand, one would imagine that the proposition would have been accepted without much delay.

But it wasn't. It got snowed under at the polls heavily. The reason?
Omaha housewives were told —whether rightly or wrongly, we don't know—that natural gas in kitchen ranges would make their pots and pans black. So they turned themselves down. No dirty pots and pans for them—and Omaha sticks to artificial gas.

Seeing America

The Department of the Interior announces that 3,026,273 people visited the United States national parks and national monuments during the 1928 travel season. This
of a million any previous total.

Those figures are significant. They mean that an ever-increasing number of Americans is discovering that the vast government parks constitute as fine an assortment of vacation grounds as could be asked.
To "see America first" is apparently becoming more and more popular.

This is a fine thing. This country of ours is so constituted that to see it more is to love it more. These vacation trips to national forests and monuments are builders of the finest kind of patriotism.

A Dog Story

The story of the faithful dog that roused members of the family when the house caught on fire, thus saving their lives, is an old one.

Here's the reverse of it—not so pleasing to dog lovers, probably, but interesting because it goes counter to one of our traditions.
A Chicago man, passing along a street late at night, saw smoke pouring from a house. He rushed in to arouse the occupants. A police dog leaped on him in the hallway and nearly killed him. The man had to overpower the dog before he could proceed upstairs and carry out two women and a baby, all partially stupefied by smoke.

The faithful dog, in this case, was undoubtedly the villain in the piece. The story, accordingly, undermines the old "man-bites-a-dog" formula.
—NORRIS.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway, says lots of flowers grow from bulbs, but still have no connection with electricity.

One day last week two automobiles collided at Avenue T and 16th street and a quantity of glass from smashed wind-shields was scattered over the thoroughfare. Last night, as The Plainsman drove up 16th he noticed that the glass was still strewn about the street.
Pretty hard on automobile tires, it appears, especially when the city has a lump of money invested in a street sweeper.

Perhaps the street department knew nothing of the glass, perhaps it had not been informed. If it wasn't so posted it should have been for this writer has seen two different motorcycle patrolmen riding up and down 16th street since the accident occurred and has seen the glass on the street at least twice every day since the crash. Doubtless other city employees have also passed the spot since the accident.

Although The Plainsman has never been a motorcycle patrolman or has never worked for a municipality, it seems to him that employees of various departments should work for the common cause, just as they do in private businesses. Nobody expects policemen, firemen or utility plant employees to do the work of the street department, or the workers in the street department to do the work of the others. It does appear logical, however, that the word in such matters might well be passed along for the good of the city and of the citizens.

Speaking of motorists reminds us:
Have you ever seen the crowds returning to town after a Tech football game?

Honestly you'd think that 90 percent of the motorists have received a death message and it is imperative that they look at the parking grounds adjacent to the gridiron in nothing flat. The fact of the matter is most of them have nowhere to go but home and they don't have to get there very fast but they make their way through the setting of a new speed record was just in the offing.

The students and townspeople whose misfortune it is to walk to the football games are forced to leap for life and limb at every turn and corner and the way they are powdered with dust from flying wheels must be a wonderful sight to the cleaner and prosperous. Most of the folks were hitting at in no hurry and have little left to do in the way of spending the evening. If they were in such a big rush as their actions in the afternoon watching a football game.

It was The Plainsman's unpleasant experience to watch another form of "hurry-motors"
Sunday afternoon—the type which is worse than the post-football game speeder. A burial, funeral was making the way eastward on 16th street and at Texas avenue several cars had halted respectfully to permit the motorcade to pass.
Along came two big cars filled with pleasure riders, who evidently had to get somewhere in a rush so that they could hurry back.

To make a distasteful story short they pushed their way through the procession and then proceeded leisurely south on Texas avenue—
the perpetrators of one of the most disgusting blunders imaginable.

If we would only stop to consider the feelings and the rights of others we'd be more careful about being rude from behind a steering wheel of our cars. Most of us commit more indignities in a single afternoon's ride than we do in a year as pedestrians. Think it over.

That Man on Avenue Q says it's an ill wind that blows nobody good.
Look at the widespread practice of chemistry since the prohibition law into effect!

"There's a seat in the rear on the left side," said the bus driver to the new passenger as he glanced into his rear-view mirror, "right back there next to the lady wearing the lavender bloomers."

Today's poem is not original with the writer of this column. It's the work of another unknown author!

STRAIGHT TALK
If you want to live in the kind of town
Like the kind of a town you like,
You don't have to slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you're left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new It's a knock at yourself if you know at your town
For it isn't your town—it's you!
Real towns are torn-down by men
Lest someone else gets ahead;
If everyone works and nobody

Letters To The Editor

TO THE PUBLIC:
Judge Clark Mullican has broken out again on the subject of Catholic society writers. The judge, originally said in his speech "that the author of Ditteland, the song of the South was a Confederate soldier and a Roman Catholic." I promptly stated that these were not facts and that the judge was wrong.

This is not a fact. I am in possession of a telegram from the mayor of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, where Dan Emmett is buried and this mayor, R. L. Jones, says that the author of Ditteland was not a Catholic. Let's stick to facts when we are trying to influence voters. I will donate $25 to the Smith campaign fund if Judge Mullican can prove that the Bonnie Blue Flag was written by a Confederate soldier who was also a Catholic. He so stated in his speech. This Catholicism has been injected by Al Smith to be-fuddle and befog the real issues. It is the same with the negro question.

I would like to ask Judge Mullican and Pink Parrish a question.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 6 points in response to better Liverpool cables than due. Demand continued active after the start and December traded up to 19.23, January 19.25 and March 19.18, or 6 to 7 points above yesterday's close.

Prices weakened later when the weather map failed to disclose predicted frost in the western belt. There was some selling by ring traders attributed to fears of large gains totals for the last period and before the offerings were absorbed. December and January eased to 19.10 and March 19.05, or 13 to 15 points below the early highs and 6 to 8 points under yesterday's close.

Later the declining tendency became more pronounced when a private report was issued, making the total gains $2,234,469 which indicated that 3,300,000 bales were ginned during the last period, which would be the largest total on record for that period. Before offerings were absorbed December traded at 19.06, January 18.98 and March 18.92 or 26 to 27 points under the highs and 20 points below yesterday's close. Near noon some trade buying developed at the decline and prices rallied 5 to 8 points from the lows.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 7 to 14 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables, reports of frost at two or three points in the southwest and rains in some eastern and central belt sections. The demand appeared to be quite readily supplied by selling and southern selling at the advance of 19.81 for December, however, and the market later eased on the forecast for warmer weather in the southwest and talk of an easy spot basis in the South. December sold off to 19.66, with the general market showing net declines of about 6 to 8 points at the end of the first half hour.

After the early buying had been supplied, prices worked gradually lower under southern selling and liquidation accompanied by a December easy spot basis. December eased off to 19.58, or about 14 points net lower. October, relatively easy under liquidation, sold off to 19.59.

A private report placed the ginnings at $2,234,469 to October 18th, which it was said, would represent about 60 to 61 per cent of the probable total for the season.

NORRIS GROUP MAY TURN FOR SMITH, BELIEF

ROBINSON TOUR INTO NEBRASKA BIG AID TO DEMO CAUSE

EN ROUTE WITH SENATOR ROBINSON TO SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 23 (AP)—Nebraska democrats today expressed the conviction that the Nebraska tour of Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic vice presidential nominee, has opened a way for republican friends of Senator George W. Norris to vote for Governor Smith for president.

Senator Robinson in his Nebraska campaign, which closes today, has drawn a picture which party leaders say draws a picture illustrating the similarity of views held by many Nebraska republicans to those propounded by the democratic standard bearers.

One of the questions claiming attention of Democratic workers in Nebraska is whether Senator Norris, a republican, will make a flat declaration in favor of Governor Smith. Those who expect that he will point to his statement in Massachusetts that although he is a republican he would vote for Senator Walsh, a democrat, if he lived in Massachusetts and declared that they wouldn't be surprised at a similar statement about Governor Smith.

As for the part Senator Robinson took in Nebraska in erasing strict party lines, democratic workers of the state are confident the senator's praise of Norris will ease their job of getting republican votes in their effort to carry the state for Smith. At Grand Island, Senator Robinson praised Norris as a man "who stands by his principles and votes the way he talks," and at Lincoln last night he spoke of the Nebraska senator as "second only to Roosevelt as a progressive leader." In a number of speeches Mr. Robinson has said that "the democratic party has now become the progressive party."

CURTIS HEADS INTO ALBANY

INVADERS OFFICIAL HOME CITY OF OPPONENT GOVERNOR SMITH

(By Associated Press) EN ROUTE WITH SENATOR CURTIS TO ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23—Senator Charles Curtis, republican vice presidential nominee, headed into the official home city of Governor Smith today in his campaign of upper New York but with the determination not to make a political speech in his opponent's city. He said it was against his practice to do so.

The republican vice presidential nominee agreed, however, to say a few words of greetings at a luncheon of party workers at Albany and also to appear at a republican meeting before departing for Pittsfield, Mass., where he will talk tonight.

In an address at Utica Senator Curtis struck out more vigorously than usual at the Governor, referring to him as the "dear governor" and as "the distinguished man who thinks he is running for president."

The senator said Gov. Smith had changed his position and "colors so fast it is hard to keep up with him." He spoke on the tariff and urged retention of republican rule in order to maintain the protective tariff. He said the governor had referred to the tariff in 1922 as a "cold blooded holdup of the American people," and now was advocating a "competitive tariff."
