AND NOW—TYPEWRITING BY RADIO

A radio typewriter which transmits written messages through the ether has been perfected by Glenn W. Watson of Detroit. The operator merely depresses the keys, as in ordinary typewriting, and each letter is sent out into the ether as an impulse which is picked up by the receiver set, which is synchronized to the sending machine and is in turn retyped by the receiving typewriter. Photo below shows Watson, right, demonstrating his device to Fred Wardell, his backer.

'Jake' Paralysis Strikes Twenty-Four Ex-Service Men; Probe Conducted

HUNDRED AND EIGHT OTHER CASES REPORTED IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY; EXTRACT IS SAID TO CONTAIN 80 TO 85 PER CENT ALCOHOL

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Twenty-four ex-service men, victims of paralysis caused by drinking an adulterated ginger extract were being treated today at the National soldiers home at Sawtelle, a suburb, as county and federal officers investigated the source of supply.

Dr. Maurice Smith of the United States public health service, who came to Los Angeles to advise on the 108 cases previously reported in the county, said the extract in most instances was purchased in drug stores.

Contains Much Alcohol

Investigators working under Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, head of the county health board, are obtaining samples of ginger extract at drug stores for laboratory tests. The extract contains 80 to 85 per cent alcohol Dr. Pomeroy said, adding it is a violation of the prohibition laws to sell it as a beverage and a violation of the state and federal drug laws to mislabel the product as Jamaica ginger. The extract which is causing the paralysis was found by the investigators to contain phenolester, an adulterant which supplants the ginger.

Dr. Smith attributed the outbreak of paralysis here to activities of eastern extract bootleggers who are using the adulterant to make a cheaper product and shipping it here for sale.

T. & P. BRIEFS UP THIS WEEK

MARCH 9 IS LAST DAY FOR FILING WITH ICC EXAMINER

Briefs for proposed Texas and Pacific Northern railroad to be built from Big Spring to Vega, with a line into Lubbock and another into Amarillo, are to be in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D. C. not later than March 9, according to word received here today. Hearing was held here early in December.

The commission will then assign an examiner to go over the briefs of the parties interested and will hear the tentative report of the examiner who conducted the hearing, Haskell C. Davis.

Supporting Briefs Made

Supporting briefs are to be made by the Texas and Pacific, the South Plains railroad committee representing the several chambers of commerce and cities along the proposed route, the Amarillo chamber of commerce and board of city development, traffic groups at Dallas and Fort Worth and a number of other interested concerns over the state.

Opposing briefs are to be filed by the Santa Fe, Rock Island and Denver lines. Also, the city of Olton and the City of Plainview will probably file statements of their positions, the former seeking to secure the route through the Lamb county seat and the other to have stated its position that Plainview is entitled to an east and west railroad.

Hearing held here lasted nearly two weeks. It was one of the largest attended sessions in the history of Interstate Commerce Commission hearings in Texas, there being an average attendance of several hundered people daily for the ten days the affair lasted. Four night sessions were held.

GRAND HUNT FOR SNAKES WILL BE HELD IN OZARKS

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—R. L. Ditmars is looking forward to a great time in April. He's going snake hunting in the Ozarks.

Dr. Ditmars, curator of reptiles at the Bronx zoo, said today that all the grown men in the country who like to play with snakes will be invited to take part in a grand hunt as the guests of George Vierheller, curator of the S. Louis zoo.

Only rattlesnakes will interest Ditmars on the jaunt. His hunting equipment is a piece of string, a stout stick and a canvas bag. Recognized as America's greatest authority on snakes and an annual participant in snake hunts, he has never been bitten.

SOLONS NEAR CLOSE TODAY

FINAL MOMENTS FIND LEGISLATION MOVES IN A SNARL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—Pent up feelings, tensed as last chances for much-desired legislation withered and died, held congress in a tight snarl today as it sought to wind up the session in orderly fashion.

The senate, far the most upset of the two branches, found itself at work until three o'clock this morning, deadlocked in a filibuster over a copyright bill which really had vital interest for only a handful of members.

Meets At Ten

It recessed then, to meet again at ten o'clock, expectant of the veto message of President Hoover on the Muscle Shoals operation resolution. It faced too the task of cleaning up work on the second deficiency appropriation, a hundred-million-dollars measure whose passage was imperative.

This was subjected to the withering cross-fire of conflicting efforts on behalf of other legislation. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, was determined against odds to put through the Jenkins immigration bill, restricting the alien influx by 90 per cent.

Rededication Of Texas Democrats Urged

RESOLUTION IN SENATE ASKS FOR UNION

RALLY AROUND PARTY STANDARDS ASKED IN BOTH HOUSES

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 3. — The senate today unanimously adopted a resolution by Senator Hopkins of Gonzales calling upon the democrats of Texas to rededicate themselves to the principles of the democratic party and to rally around the standards of the party for 1932 to throw off the "iniquitous treatment received from the hands of the republican party."

A copy will be sent to the National Democratic executive committee which meets at Washington Thursday.

Look To Party of Old

"It is to the pary of Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson that our people are turning today for relief from the slough of despond into which we have been cast by the iniquitous treatment received from the hands of the Republican party," the resolution said.

"This great commonwealth of Texas has during its long and glorious history been known as the rock-ribbed Democratic state of the American union," the resolution asserted.

Must Be United

"Only by united and co-operative effort of all Democrats presented in solid phalanx to our ancient and traditional Republican opponents can victory return to us in 1932."

"It behooves every Democrat of Texas to vigorously assert himself to the end that solidarity and unity may be restored to the party in Texas and the nation, looking to the success of the 1932 campaign."

A similar resolution was adopted unanimously by the house. It was proposed by Representative Keller of Dallas who said he was "so tired of 'Hoover prosperity' and so near broke on account of it that he could hardly afford to be a member of the legislature."

TO BAR SALES DURING WEEK

ONLY MERCHANTS TO BE ALLOWED TO BUY IN MARKET PROGRAM

Sale of personal items will not be permitted at the third semi-annual Market week, which will be held here March 16, 17 and 18.

That was decided by the Market week committee of the Retail Merchants association at a meeting at 9 o'clock this morning at chamber of commerce offices.

Although only resident-members of the committee attended today's meeting, a similar attitude was taken at a meeting Saturday of wholesale representatives who complete the committee. Object of the rule is to eliminate inconvenience of dealing with individual customers instead of with merchants.

The public will be invited to a style show which will be presented on the Market week program.

Action already taken in preparation for the spring market event was reviewed and approved by the committee this morning, and routine matters were discussed.

A meeting of the entire committee will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the Lubbock hotel.

Members of the committee are: Chairman Homer D. Grant, R. J. Keller, William Levine and I. A. Stephens, all of Lubbock, and E. B. Wark, C. E. Hooper, Dwight Kierbow and Irwin L. Jones, representatives of wholesale houses.

TECH TO HAVE SUMMER TERM

ABBREVIATED SALARIES TO BE PAID UNDER PRESENT BILL

Texas Technological college will have 12 weeks of summer term this year, provided Governor Ross Sterling signs the summer school appropriation bill which appropriates

AUSTIN, Mar. 3 —(AP)—by a vote of 165 to 6, the house today adopted a free conference report to appropriate $254,000 for operation of 1931 summer schools. The house bill originally called for $250,000 while the senate bill provided for $422,700.

$21,000 for the local work, according to Dr. Paul W. Horn, president, today.

"Yes, we will have a 12 weeks summer term, but we will not be able to pay full salaries," the president continued. "Just as soon as the bill is signed, we will begin to get out our catalogs and announce our courses."

The local school had asked for an appropriation of $35,000 for its 12 weeks summer term. The senate passed a measure appropriating that sum but the house reduced the figure to $21,000, or 40 per cent less than the amount asked for.

It is planned to start the summer session as soon as the regular term is over. It is largely attended by teachers who are working for a higher degree and who follow their profession for the rest of the year and spend the summer months in studying for advancement. Last year's summer session was the largest in the history of the school and it is believed that this year's attendance will be as large as usual.

TWO HUNDRED UNEMPLOYED STAGE RIOT

STATE TROOPERS ARE FORCED TO DRIVE OUT AGITATORS

(By Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3—Shouting and tumult amounting to a virtual small riot by two hundred demonstrators for the unemployed brought the New York assembly to a halt shortly after the session began today. State troopers seized demonstrators by the dozen and ejected them from the chamber while others in the galleriers shouted and waved their arms.

The uproar showed no signs of abatement at the end of five minutes with state troopers still striving to quiet the noise and eject the more violent demonstrators. A group gathered about on the steps of the capitol.

"Fight" Shouted

When troopers started to clear the galleries some of the communists shouted "fight." Troopers swung their clubs vigorously and at the end of ten minutes had evicted every one from the gallery over the speaker's rostrum and had forced the exit of those who were in the rear of the chamber.

One or two troopers were knocked down in the melee but soon regained their feet even before others had come to their aid. Members of the assembly and the spectators who had thronged the chamber applauded vigorously when the demonstrators were ejected.

Started At Opening

The disturbance started when the clerk began routine reading of legislative business. As he began, his voice was drowned out by a shout from a man in the rear of the as-

NEW YORK PROFESSOR SAYS AMERICAN MEN LOSING OUT CULTURALLY; PLACE IN ARTISTIC WORK TAKEN BY WOMEN

BY HAZEL BEAVIS

NEW YORK, Mar. 3 (AP)—Dr. Charles Gray Shaw, author of a best seller on culture and for thirty years a professor at New York University, warns American men that their women folk have out-distanced them culturally.

Men have gone in for physical culture and business, he says, while what used to be the weaker sex has developed artistically and mentally as well as physically.

"If this goes on in another generation women will supplant men in creative culture. Today our men of culture are all women."

Dr. Shaw means women will soon be writing the best books and painting superior pictures while the men play squash and tend to business.

This state of affairs is a distinctly American phenomenon, he believes, an outgrowth of women's freedom from household drudgery, large families and economic responsibilities—plus an aptitude for appreciation.

The professor observes that in American colleges women take cultural courses and men elect vocational subjects. Men began turning away from cultural education a generation ago, Dr. Shaw says.

SPEED IN CLASSROOM IS HINDRANCE TO LEARNING

RECENTLY WE discussed the ill effect of speed to the child in the classroom. A few more words today.

What about speed in relation to thinking? Can anyone think clearly when he is emotionally disturbed? Can any one think well when he is uncomfortable? Some think under pressure, to be sure, but rarely by the stopwatch. Now you and I do our best mental work when time is limited even by the stopwatch, if we hold the watch; but when another holds the watch we are likely to go to pieces.

To think well one must be comfortable and calm, one must be free from distractions and emotional annoyances. But the average schoolroom is about the last place for good thinking to be done.

The modern mania for speeding in our schools has resulted in a mental mess for most children. Instead of furthering good learning it has hindered it. If the modern stopwatch education meant more effective learning there might be some argument for sacrificing physical and mental health. Not many would concede so much as that.

How absurd it is that all over this country, from coast to coast and from the gulf to Canada, there prevails the general atmosphere of great haste in the schoolroom! This annoyance of speed prevents good learning and good thinking, and the resulting learning difficulties cause in turn more distractions; more emotional disturbances, more physical discomfort, more waste of energy, less co-ordination of the entire nervous system.

Watch a schoolroom full of children who are kept upon their toes in the exciting stopwatch atmosphere of the average elementary school. What is their likelihood of learning poise? What must be their pulse rate and speed of respiration? How much nervous tension they must suffer from. What anxieties they feel! And all to no purpose but to sacrifice these children to the Demon Speed! "How long, Oh, Lord, how long" shall this go on? The end is not in sight; nor has the worst arrived. The speed insanity has reached such a powerful momentum that if many brakes were thrown on, it could not be checked for several years.

Behind it is the bulk of pedagogical literature of the past ten years and the brains of many of the most gifted educational experts. Against the tide of speeding in the school almost none among school men have raised a voice or penned a line.

The medical profession is becoming conscious of the dire results. Physicians are observing evidence first hand. In the near future we shall hear from them. Parents have been much concerned. They have said but little just because they assume that those employed to direct the education of their children should know what they are doing. But let any one ask a group of parents how they feel about it. They will answer not ambiguously, but with a strong conviction.

Miss Nora Cocke, princess from Wellington, is a graduate of the home economics school at Tech last year.

Miss Virginia Johnson, princess from Dimmitt, and her maid of honor, Miss Mayme Calley, are former high school and college students here. Miss Johnson's home has been in Lubbock during most of her life and Miss Calley's home has been in Shallowater.

Miss Mary Jo Chamberlain, of Clarendon, who is maid of honor to the princess, Miss Lorraine Patrick, of that city, is another former student in the college here.

At Tech Now

The princess from Claude, Miss Mary Chauveaux, is attending Tech at this time.

Miss Maurine Largent, of Plainview, who is the maid of hoonr to Miss Helen Looper, has visited in Lubbock a number of times and is well known here.

Another of the princesses, Miss Pauline Lokey, of Slaton, has many friends here. Miss Lokey's home has been in Slaton for many years.

RESIGNS STORE MANAGERSHIP

PLAINVIEW—(Staff Special)—Lynn A. Williams, who came to Plainview two years ago from Lubbock to open the J. C. Penney store here, has resigned. He will be succeeded by a new manager from Eagle Pass. Meantime L. E. Moore is acting manager. Mr. Williams has not completed his future plans, but expects to remain here, he said.

POOR COMPLEXION?

Smoother, Clearer Skin overnight!

Nurses advise this simple night treatment

TRAINED nurses first discovered this thrilling beauty secret. Then, their friends and patients. Today over 4,000,000 women use this corrective night cream to clear and refine their skin!

They scarcely believe their eyes when they see how much softer, smoother, clearer it makes their skin —in just 8 hours. It's not imagination. They can actually feel the difference —their mirror shows them.

Yet it's easy to understand this big overnight improvement, when you know what's in Noxzema Skin Cream. It contains bland, soothing oils that soften the skin and sooth away roughness. A mild medication that quickly heals away distressing blemishes. Gentle astringents that close enlarged pores and refine the texture of the skin — leaving it satin-smooth, glowing with youthful loveliness.

There's nothing like Noxzema — you'll know this the moment you smoothe it on. Not simply because you'll like its dainty, snow-white creaminess — but because you'll really feel it start healing right away.

If you want clear, radiant skin beauty, get a small jar of Noxzema Cream. Use it tonight. Tomorrow morning, see for yourself how much fresher, smoother, finer textured your skin has become. Don't put off the happiness this new attractiveness will give you. Get your small jar of Noxzema Cream at any drug or department store today.

Study Of India Is Continued Monday

Twelve members of the Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal church met with Mrs. Mary W. Doak, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Doak conducted a lesson on another chapter in the book, "India Looks to Her Future."

ASK FOR INSPECTION

PLAINVIEW,—(Staff Special)—The county commissioner's court of Hale county has asked the state highway department to send an engineer here to inspect the route of a proposed highway between Plainview and Petersburg. The state department is to be asked to suggest a route for the road.

Government scientists have estimated that more than $13,000,0000 tons of soil are washed into the oceans by rivers in the United States each year.

That's why millions of women prefer this modern sanitary pad

BECAUSE Kotex absorbs by a scientific method, it is safer than ordinary sanitary protection. It is soft—not merely an apparent softness that soon packs into chafing hardness, but a delicate, lasting softness. That's because it absorbs laterally, giving it a larger area of protection than ordinary pads.

Kotex may be worn on either side, with no possible danger of embarrassment. It is adjustable. You can remove layers of the filler as your needs change. It is treated to deodorize. It gives safe, secure protection. And it is, of course, disposable.

Last year 85% of our great hospitals bought Kotex absorbent in great quantities. What a tribute to its hygienic superiority!

INCOME TAXES TO BE LARGER

CITIZENS MUST PAY 3 TIMES AS MUCH TO GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3—More than a million citizens, approximately half of those who must pay income tax March 15, will have to pay three times as much tax to the government as they did last year.

The situation is brought about through the return to the 1928 income taxe rates after a one per cent reduction for one year on incomes of 1929 payable in 1930.

The rates on normal income are 1 1-2 per cent on the first $4,000 of net normal income, 3 per cent on the next $4,000 of normal income and 5 per cent on all above $8,000. Last year the taxpayer having $4,000 or less normal income paid only 1-2 per cent, those having from $4,000 to $8,000 income paid two per cent and above that on normal income the rate was 4 per cent.

2,523,000 to Pay

Based on income tax statistics of 1928, the last complete year available, about 2,523,000 persons will have to pay tax on their incomes this year unless the depression of 1930 reduced the number. Of that total in 1928, nearly half or 1,233,077 had incomes of less than $4,000 a year and paid a total tax of $9,734,189.

The second bracket of income taxpayers, numbering 786,190, must pay a third more tax this year which is expected to approximate $17,701,052, the amount received from 1927 incomes, The third bracket taxpayers must pay a fourth more than last year on normal income.

In 1928 the income tax amounted to $1,164,254,037 and 4,070,851 persons made returns, but of that number 1,547,788 did not have to pay tax.

Whether the income tax returns will show more or less than received in 1928 is one of the problems that is puzzling treasury officials. They are awaiting the March 15 installment on 1930 tax to determine just how great a deficit will face the government at the end of the 1931 fiscal year next June 30.

PAUL WHITEMAN'S DIVORCE PLEA TO BE AWARDED, JUDGE INDICATES; WIFE TO GET $600 WEEKLY FROM JAZZ KING

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Mar. 3.—Paul Whiteman, syncopator of orchestral jazz, will get the divorce he asks from the former Vanda Hoff, Judge J. Eullivan indicated Monday.

The self-styled "king of jazz," filed in superior court a copy of an agreement he made with the former dancer September 11, 1929, showing what provision he had made for the support of his wife and their son, Paul, Jr., 7.

Gets $600 a Week

Under the terms of the document Mrs. Whiteman would get $600 a week unless that sum should become more than one third of the band leader's annual net income, in which case he would be allowed to deduct band salaries and expenses, federal and state income taxes and a miscellaneous fund of $5,000 before making payments to his wife.

Mrs. Whiteman was given three insurance policies, netting her $80,000 and an annual income of $12,000 in event of Whiteman's death. She must pay the premiums.

The weekly payments will continue until Mrs. Whiteman's death or remarriage. Whiteman will have custody of his son three months of each year, during which time Mrs. Whiteman will furnish his tutor and clothing.

Both agree not to do or say anything to "annoy, harass or vex," the other, and to cooperate in promoting the welfare of their child.

James F. Gillespie, Whiteman's business manager, testified he had known the jazz leader ten years and that he knew no reason why Mrs. Whiteman should have deserted him.

Whiteman, who has president at the Granada cafe, a South Side night club, for several months, refused to pose for photographers. He seemed irked at the large crowd which gathered for the hearing.

Nearly 1,800 horses and ponies were killed and 6,116 injured in British mines last year.

WELL BROUGHT IN

SHAWNEE, Okla., March 3 (AP)—The Number 4 Horn Gypsy oil well was brought in today for 100 barrels of oil an hour and an estimated 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

The well is less than a mile west of Asher in Pottawatomie county, in section NW 23-6-3. Drilling was going ahead with the bit a foot in sand at 3,468 feet.

Our Exports

AN excellent, common-sense view of the relationship of export trade to the current business depression is to be found in remarks made recently to the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce by John McHugh, chairman of the executive committee of the Chase National bank of New York, the world's largest bank.

After remarking that the foreign customer cannot possibly buy from us unless he can somehow get the necessary dollars, Mr. McHugh pointed out:

"We intensified his difficulty in this matter by raising our tariff in 1930. The time has surely come to forget whether we are Democrats or Republicans and think of this matter in business terms. This is no time to advocate free trade nor to advocate the sweeping away of the whole protective tariff system to which we have so long been accustomed. But it is time to consider downward adjustments designed to permit the foreigner to sell enough goods in our market to put him in possession of dollars that in turn will enable him to carry out the volume of exports which is necessary to keep a balanced situation in the United States."

The remark is commended to all who would like to see good times return.

A Relief

Perhaps it is just as well everybody concerned that General Smedley Butler is going to resign from the marine corps and go on the lecture platform.

The country is at peace and apparently will stay that way for some time, so that the services of this able warrior can be spared. General Butler apparently likes to make speeches, and he quite certainly is able to find interesting things to say. Both he and his audiences should be happier under the new arrangement.

Last but not least, official Washington should be vastly relieved. When General Butler is no longer a member of Uncle Sam's armed forces, secretaries of the state and navy departments will no longer have to worry about what he says. He can be as indiscreet as he likes, and they won't have to reprimand him. They should, and probably will, feel much better.

The Marines

It is gratifying to learn that our marines are to be withdrawn from Nicaragua. The government shouldered a thankless job when it sent them down there, and probably no one will be more relieved to have them return than official Washington.

Nevertheless, there may be in the land a few skeptics who will believe in the marines' return only when they see it.

If you will let your memory wander back a few years, you may recall that the marines were to have returned as soon as the 1928 election had been held. The election was held—and a good job the marines did in that connection, incidentally—but the marines stayed. Now we are told that they will be pulled back after the 1932 election. Well—we can but hope for the best.

A group of physicians gave an annual art exhibition in New York recently. Did the admiring spectators open their mouths instinctively and say "Ah"?

A professor in an Ohio university says potatoes may yet provide rubber. When the time arrives they'll probably be called inner tubers.

Atlantic City has made a bid for the next Republican convention. It should be a good place for president makers—and breakers.

Beauty shops are now said to rank sixth in American industry. The business has stimulated many good wives.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a good lawyer is all right but a woman defendant with a pretty ankle can accomplish quite a bit in court herself.

Bigamy teaches a Bible lesson. "No man can serve two masters."

THE Plainsman hates to keep harking on it, every time he puts his nose out of Lubbock county, but being the type that compares, he usually finds something in other places that he thinks will interest the home folks.

As mentioned in this column the other day, The Plainsman recently completed a business trip to Abilene and while there was a guest at the Abilene club. Seeing the club, located at Hotel Wooten, made him think how nice it would be to have a Lubbock club—similar to organizations in El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and other cities in Texas.

The Abilene club takes up about a floor of the Wooten and consists of three recreation rooms, a lounging room for men and one for women, a gymnasium and a dining room to which food is brought from the hotel's kitchen. There, business men can meet their friends, their wives can entertain chance visitors and the club is nothing short of a downtown headquarters.

AND it doesn't cost a great deal either, from what The Plainsman learned. As he recalls, each membership is $100, which is considerably less than most country club memberships, and nominal dues are charged on top of that. Of course food, cigars, tobacco and soft drinks are paid for by the club member ordering them, which it largely up to the individual how much belonging to the club costs him. Wives of all members are eligible to use the club without paying extra memberships or dues.

Of course, this isn't an opportune time to talk about organizing such a club but any time is opportune for discussing what they are doing in other places. The Plainsman hasn't any personal axe to grind and, frankly, hasn't any idea how he'd scrape up a hundred bucks to join a club if given the opportunity. But one of these days there will be such an organization in Lubbock and it'll be nice for the city.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says his wife trusts him implicitly. She even thinks the parrot taught him to swear.

THE Plainsman used to work on a newspaper that had the hardest of hardboiled managing editors and the rawest of raw cub reporters. The managing editor was forever riding the reporter because of the latter's long, drawn out stories and was demanding that the youngster make his yarns short, snappy and to the point.

One night the kid ran across a shooting story that included some of the mightiest of the mighty in the town. The story he wrote read:

"A shooting affair occurred last night. J. Landingham Millionbucks, a guest at Mrs. Gottrox's dinner dance, complained of being ill. He took a highball, his hat, his coat, his departure, no notice of his friends, a taxi, a pistol from his pocket and finally, his life. Nice chap. Regrets and all that."

SOME folks like to kick about the newspapers—any and all newspapers—because they're not edited and arranged to suit them. Irving S. Cobb one time said they're more good newspaper people outside the business than are in it and he's probably right. But be that as it may, The Plainsman has just completed looking over his mail which, as usual, gave him a big pain. It always makes him feel like nine out of ten people who mail letters are trying to take the newspaper reading public— and the newspapers — for a nice long ride.

This particular armful of mail includes the following, futile stabs for for publicity.

A motion picture making concern reports a lot of slush about it's various performers . . . A discredited press agent craves publicity on various subjects, ranging from soup to nuts . . . An Iowa fraternal order would like to have some of its workings explained to Texans . . . A Washington news syndicate offers material smacking strongly of advertising . . . A nationally known meat firm wants a free ride on its radio program . . . An oil company makes the same request . . . Also a soap company and a radio chain . . . The Western Railways committee would propaganda-ize a little . . . A California radio station would cram a lot of hokum down the gentle reader's throat . . . A great and prosperous life insurance company prefers to beg for publicity rather than pay for advertising . . . An automobile concern, which hasn't been represented in Lubbock for several months, wants to waste space telling of its product—and on on until The Plainsman's nerves are jaded!

AND the moral to all this is merely: Think how much worse your Journal might be!

Suppose all that hooey howled at you from the columns of your paper—all that hooey and a lot more? Suppose the real news was thrown in the wastebasket to make room for the 'gimme boys,' who expect—though Heaven knows why—that a reader is glad to get anything to read, regardless of the subject?

This is another of The Plainsman's pet peeves — Believe It Or Not!

That Costly Waiting Charge!

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Lack Of Service Records Cheats 34 Men, Who Fought In One Of Bloodiest American Fights, Of Official Recognition

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Thirty-four men who fought one of the bloodiest battles in American history while serving in the army still go unrecognized by the War Department, which has no record of their service. Their survivors never went on the pension rolls.

Congressman John M. Evans of Montana tells the story to illustrate the fact that official records can sometimes be incomplete, to a veteran's loss. An example appeared to be the case of Sergeant Homer Horine, for whom a bill was introduced to provide an honorable discharge so that he might receive a Spanish-American War pension.

President Hoover vetoed the bill because the War Department had no record of Horine. The House sustained the veto. Evans showed, however, that the captain of Horine's company and the major of his regiment, along with the others, well remembered Horine's service in the Kentucky Volunteer Infantry and that Horine had once ably commanded a group of troops which averted what might have been a serious race riot.

On the day the men were sworn in, Horine's child was involved in a serious accident and Horine ran home. He was sworn in alone a few days later, it is alleged. Anyway, there is plenty of evidence that he served.

But Evans had a better story than that—how 34 men fought in one of the most desperate of all Indian battles, a third of them killed or seriously wounded on the field, and probably saved a command of 150 troops from annihilation.

It was in 1877, the year after the Custer massacre, when the Nez Perce tribe with 400 fighting men, under Chief Joseph, left its reservation in Idaho and started for Montana, with the idea that all the Indians were going to get together and wipe out the white men. There were few people in Montana then and the Indians at first defeated such troops as were sent against them. Little companies of soldiers were formed in settlements for protection and mud forts were built. One of the small units was John B. Catlin's company of volunteers.

General Howard was following the Indians with 600 men but failed to overtake them, running three or four days behind. Colonel John Gibbons came in from another direction with 150. Catlin, who had gone with his company of 34 to a mountain pass and retired when he found the Indians hopelessly outnumbered him, offered to join the pursuit. Gibbon, badly in need of men, promptly accepted the offer and the expedition hastened on without bothering to swear in the new recruits. Women and children of the section remained in mud forts.

Catlin's company was in the lead when the expedition hit the Indians at daylight. The Indians soon had surrounded it.

Every officer in the command was killed or wounded. Thirty-six white fighters were killed and 38 wounded, a casualty percentage of 40 per cent. Six of Catlin's volunteers were killed and as many wounded.

"It was as desperate a fight as the nation probably ever had, except Custer's fight," Evans says.

"Surrounded and greatly outnumbered, they fought from daylight and late into the evening. The night was cold and the men were soaked from crossing and recrossing the river. There was no medical attendance and the wounded suffered intensely. The Indians kept yelling and shooting. Billy Edwards, one of the citizen volunteers, offered to carry dispatches to Deer Lodge.

"Edwards left at 11 o'clock on a Thursday night, crawled through the encircling Indians, walked 40 miles to French's gulch, rode 40 more and at 10 a. m. Saturday reached the Deer Lodge telegraph office. Friday morning the troops he left behind had breakfasted on a horse shot by the Indians.

"As a boy of 15, I saw Billy Edwards come in on a jaded, foam-flecked horse, bearing the news that the Indians were likely to wipe out that band of whites as they had Custer's. They wanted help, medicine, doctors and food.

"Chief Joseph was finally captured at Bear Paw mountain in northeastern Montana by General Miles after a 1500-mile march in which he had killed hundreds of women and children, but his band was disseminated and broken at that battle — which came to be known as the Battle of the Big Hole—by Colonel Gibbon, Captain Catlin and their men.

"General Sheridan, then head of the U. S. Army, remarked that the losses of the battle were greater in proportion than those at Balaklava, Waterloo or Gettysburg. The Indians later admitted 208 killed or mortally wounded, or 26 more than Gibbon took into the fight.

"Many of our greatest Indian fighters pointed proudly to that struggle and the bravery of the Catlin volunteers. Congress pensioned the families of the men who died on the field and later carved their names on a stone monument erected there. But when I came here 20 years ago and asked a pension for some of the people, the War Department said it had 'no record.' I think all the Catlin volunteers are dead now. Not one of the survivors ever received a pension for his gallant service at that time."

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE. Four pamphlets and six articles by Dr Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr Logan Clendening in care of this paper, Central Press Association, 1434 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Hygiene of Women," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

WATCH DIET FOR CAUSE OF ILLNESS

It was found a great many years ago that sometimes infants and children would repeatedly have skin eruptions, and other kinds of distress that occurred when they ate certain kinds of food. Often these were very common foods, such as milk and eggs and wheat. When these were eliminated from the diet no recurrence of the symptoms occurred.

Dr. Clendening

As children grow up and the range of food they eat enlarges many of them will again be observed to have repeated mysterious breakings-out on the skin or attacks of asthma, or perhaps attacks of abdominal trouble—diarrhoea or vomiting spells.

Frequently it is found that these attacks follow the use of some article of food not so common as milk, eggs, or bread. Different kinds of nuts, particularly peanuts, are likely to be responsible here. Other foods frequently found guilty are sea food, such as lobsters and oysters; also berries, particularly strawberries. Cabbage and cauliflower, tomatoes and lima beans among the vegetables are the most often incriminated. Watermelon, oranges and bananas lead the fruits. And chocolate among the beverages.

It is astonishing what a small amount of these substances is required to cause the symptoms to appear. The story is told of a whole family which was found to be sensitive to eggs. Whenever they ate eggs they broke out with hives. Eggs, or any parts thereof, were ordered eliminated from any foods cooked for them—no mean feat, as you cooks know.

This worked splendidly for a time and then one day the whole family broke out with skin splotches. The cook was interviewed and denied having used any eggs. The icebox was examined and two eggs found. Was that all the eggs she had? Yes. How many were there yesterday? Three. What had become of the other egg? The cook had eaten it herself. Well—what did she do with the spoon she used? The cook gave a gasp and remembered that she had used the spoon she opened her egg with to stir some dish she was preparing for the rest of the family.

That small amount of egg which got on the spoon had given them all the hives. So small is the amount of offending shubstance required to cause the symptoms. Believe it or not.

Often patients are sensitive to several different foods. If they eat them together their symptoms are much worse than if they eat one alone. Remember the Honorable George in that grand comic novel, "Ruggles of Red Gap"?

"Dining with the Americans," said the Honorable George.

"Might I suggest sir, that your choice be a grilled undercut or something simple, bearing in mind the undoubted effects of shellfish upon one's complexion?" The hard truth is that after even a very little lobster the Honorable George had a way of coming out in spots.

"What cheek! Decids for myself," said the Honorable George. But, sad to relate, when he came home the Honorable George was more than spotted—he was splotchy.

SWAN

In Barbary With Gilbert Swan

Notes from the diary of a New Yorker in Barbary:

The incongruous seems to follow one all over the globe. Sooner or later you're going to stumble over any number of minor ironies. Well, for example—

Years ago, when my sophomore period was at its peak, I fairly saturated myself in Omar Khayyam—as who hasn't? And from that day I have buried a desire to look upon a half dozen muezzins in the process of standing upon turrets of gorgeous mosaic, chanting their call to prayer—"Allah—Allah Akbar—Allah Akbar—"

So it came to pass that I found myself in Fez, city of a hundred mosques and mosquettes and twice as many minarets. I had wandered down into the second oldest of three native towns which make up Fez.

I had come to an exquisitely decorated doorway, which turned out to be the mosque of Mulai Idriss, which until the French arrived was barred to all outsiders. And I was in the process of holding my breath before the Mosque Kairouan, largest of all temples and center of religion and culture.

When dear old Gaye, my courier, came panting up, "Hurry, we have just time—up to the roof tops—the muezzins are about to appear—" Up we scampered, up crumbling stairways and under electric wiring. And found myself with five different turrets circling the particular spot. Then, like jacks-in-the-box, up popped five muezzins.

The one I was watching contemplated the sun for a moment and then reached under his columinous robes, took out a perfectly good dollar watch, observed the minute hand and began his call. The others followed him. Soon voices were echoing over the city. I'm going to tear up my Omar when I get home!

It was at Rabat—a Sunday afternoon and the French army men were drifting in for an afternoon dance. A bit weary, I sank into a chair and watched the handsome uniforms shift past and the lovely women appear as dance partners.

The room was equipped with a loudspeaker from a tricky phonograph in the lobby. Ah, thir was the life—thousands of miles from nowhere—How different from New York.

Then the music started. A voice came booming from the loudspeaker—Great heavens, it was Rudy Vallee singing "Im Just a Vagabond Lover"—I fled back to the souks.

Or again—we sat in front of a little Arab cafe when a combination shoeshine lad newsboy and flunky stopped to present a handbill. In French it told of a dance resort and, at the bottom in the best of American English appeared the words "Joe and his Californians, those peppy boys with the jazz band."

"Let's go see what a flock of Californians are doing out in this part of the world." I suggested. It was getting toward midnight.

We proceeded down some rickety steps, found ourselves in a bar—outside of which was a large dance hall. Peering through, it seemed to me that I was back in San Francisco in the days when Mason street was called "the uptown tenderloin." And there we met the Texas Guinan of Morocco—

"Bon soir payean," came the greeting.

"Hello sucker, yourself. Where the dickens did you ever pick that up?" I came back. "Dont you know there's a patent on that in New York."

We sat down. We ordered a drink of beer. The hostesses, as we refer to them on Broadway, ordered champagne. I noticed a chilled bottle on each table. I winked.

Just a bunch of smart New Yorkers being suckers out in the middle of nowhere. And—oh, yes—the "Californians" turned out to be a wandering orchestra from Spain. They knew nothing of jazz.

The stock of the Boston Bruins, champion hockey team, is up to $300. Here's one instance where stocks have risen on a "Bear" market.

Al Capone is insulted because General Smedley Butler said he ought to be deported. Now maybe Al expects an apology from the government.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

Around Johannesburg they road. The Tinies made a happy load and kindly Mister Travel Man enjoyed their shouts of glee. Said he, "Say, Clowny, sing a song and let your voice ring out real strong. Then all the rest can join right in, but please don't call on me."

"All right," cried Clowny. "Here I go. I'll hit the high notes and the low." And then he started singing, as their truck splashed in a rut: "Oh, how we skid and how we thump each time our old truck hits a bump. And how the engine hums along with merry putt, putt, putt."

The others joined right in. You bet. And 'twas a very nice quartet. They made up all the crazy words just as they went along. They sang until they'd had enough. Each Tinymite began to puff. "That's great," exclaimed the Travel Man. "I liked your little song."

The truck went rolling o'er the ground and Scouty asked, "Where are we bound?" "To Kimberly, a town nearby," the Travel Man replied. "The roads are really rather rough, but we will be there soon enough. And when you see the place you will be glad you've had this ride.

"We'll visit at a diamond mine. I'm sure that you will think that fine." And, sure enough, they reached the mine. 'Twas wondrous as could be. A man said they could look around and, my, what startling things they found. Said Scouty, "We're seeing things I never hoped to see."

They watched some native workers who were sifting gravel through and through to try and locate diamonds they had taken from the earth. A pile of gems was shown the crowd. To touch them they were not allowed. While eyeing them, wee Clowny cried, "Gee! Think how much they're worth."

(The Tinymites see some more diamonds in the next story.)

DEALERS MAKE READY FOR SHOW

SIX DEALERS OF CITY TO SHOW $30,000 WORTH OF CARS

Approximately $30,000 worth of automobiles representing the latest efforts of six leading manufacturers will be displayed at the third annual Lubbock automobile show which will be held Friday and Saturday in the Uptown Dance Palace.

The exhibition will open at 9 o'clock Friday morning and will not close until Saturday night.

The Uptown dance palace is being especially decorated this week, the floor being divided and marked for the different exhibits.

Lubbock automobile dealers hope to make the 1931 show one of the best of the time. In comparison with other years the show may be smaller as for as the number of cars is concerned, but it is optimistically expected that the demonstration of the advances made in automobile engineering during the last year will more than bring the exhibition to a successful close.

Lubbock companies to be represented in the show and their models are: Kuykendall Chevrolet company, Ratliff-Rogers Buick company, Scoggin-Dickey Oakland and Pontiac, Hub Jones Chrysler company, Lubbock Auto company, Fords and Lincolns, and Royalty Motor company, distrjbutors of Dodge and Plymouth products.

LOCKHART'S BILL ON JUDGES TABLED

AUSTIN, Mar. 3. (AP)—The house judiciary committee has voted to table a bill by Representative Lockhart of Lubbock which proposed to empower judges of trial courts with all authority on the granting or rejecting of a defendan't plea for a new trial in civil cases where misconduct of jurors was alleged. The bill proposed to prohibit the state appellate courts from reversing the decisions of trial courts.

Representative Holland of Houston said he feared the sentiment of some sections would work a hardship on defendants if Representative Lockhart's bill became a law. He said he believed a defendant should not be denied the right to appeal to the higher courts. He charged in some cases judges had been known to rule juries with an "iron hand."

YOUTH GETS 20 YEARS

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 3. (AP)—Stoicism and sullenness marked the demeanor today of Daniel Flores, 20-year-old youth who attempted to assassinate President Ortiz Rubio twelve months ago, as he was called for official notification that he had been sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

KILGORE 'CLEANS HOUSE' WITH AID OF TEXAS RANGERS; CITIZENS PLAN TO MAKE EAST TEXAS OIL TOWN ONE 'THAT ISN'T TOUGH,' OFFICERS' PLEDGES ARE BEING FULFILLED

(By The Associated Press)

KILGORE, Mar 3—Into the quiet of Kilgore, the black galconda recently blazed its trail.

Striking and turning, turning and striking the burnished drill bit deeper into the earth.

A turgid, viscuous stream poured forth.

Someone screamed "oil."

The race was on.

Kilgore Awakes

Kilgore, nestled among the whispering pines of East Texas' deathless hills, awoke one morning to find itself in the spotlight of the eyes who search for treasure at the core of the earth.

The caravans poured in: oil scouts, speculators, promoters, laborers, machinery.

Men and machinery, their trucks and wagons, creaking and grinding over the winding trails which lead through the eternal hills to Kilgore.

Men and machinery, feverish activity, the search for land, lease, oil.

Peace and Quiet Vanishes

Kilgore's peace and quiet vanished and in its place appeared the bustling, hurrying excitement of the oil camp.

Rigs appeared. Boilers dotted the landscape. Derricks like eerie skeletons, silhouetted the East Texas skyline.

Blackface headlines in a thousand newspapers proclaimed the new discovery. Column after column of type, in papers from coast to coast, told of fortunes made overnight in small farming communities.

Values skyrocketed. Business was accelerated. The population grew by leaps and bounds.

Men Poured In

The men of the oil fields poured in.

Men of brawn, Hairy chested, heavy handed sons of toil. Those who hew the wood and draw the water and grind the wheels of a colorful industry.

And after them swept the scum.

Kilgore, whose doors were seldom locked, became suspicious of this tide which swept in the wake of the hosts of labor.

Turbulent humanity flocked the streets of the new oil field town.

Robberies startled the old settlers of Kilgore.

Stores were rifled of the contents.

A slugging or two was reported.

Women, gamblers, thieves, bootleggers, confidence men, mingled with the population which was growing with such speed than no man could keep check on its increase.

Same Old Story

A lurid page—similar to the red pages that blot the history of every oil boom town was being written.

A night or two ago a few, a very few, quiet-eyed gentlemen got off a train at Kilgore.

Their broad brimmed hats, their high heeled boots, their bulging hip pockets—blended well with the general scheme of life as it was lived in Kilgore.

Their arrival created no comment.

Activity Continued

The activity of the field swept on. Gamblers stood at corners. Furtive women gazed from windows or sauntered slowly down dim lit streets.

Domino halls, pool parlors flourished.

"Little Juarez," nearby, blazed in all its bizarre, mushroom glory—vortex of a swirling whirlpool.

Drifters from other fields— the hordes who follow the booms, found a haven here.

Thievery Goes On

The usual petty thievery went on. Local officers policed the town to the best of their ability—with a force that would have been sufficient to take care of any event before the town struck oil—but pittifully small for the booming Kilgore.

In the fields the rigs creaked and groaned. At night derricks thrust their light-festooned points toward the stars.

Quiet eyed gentlemen, few in numbers, stalwart in spirit, rich in legend, walked the streets of Kilgore, single and in pairs.

Speaking sparingly, they nevertheless pictured in their minds a vivid mission of things as they are—not as seen through the eyes of a novice.

Monday morning's biting norther gripped oil fields. The tented city displayed little activity. Those who were not working sought their makeshift abodes.

The Rangers Struck

The time was propitious.

The rangers struck.

Quietly, effectively, they did their work.

From mouth to mouth swept the news—big news to the denizens of the oil field underworld—"the Texas rangers are in town."

After the raid began, typewritten notices, signed by Kilgore's chief of police, gave "undersirables" warning to get out of town.

The exodus began.

Kilgore, the lawless, Kilgore, the brutal, Kilgore, the blustering fist-to-chin oil boom town, is no more.

The Rangers Are There

The rangers are there—they are doing their work.

An improvised jail bulges with inmates. Hundreds fled ere darkness fell Monday night. Others in darkness ploughed through the muck and mire to other and greener fields.

The raid followed by three days the appointment of Pike K. McIntosh, former ranger, as Kilgore's police chief. It followed by a week the election of the town's first mayor. Malcolm Crim who said when he took the oath of office: "we will make Kilgore one oil town that isn't tough."

His pledge is being fulfilled.

Kilgore is "cleaning house."

In its place stands a new Kilgore.

Kilgore is busy. Kilgore the industrious, its stalwart settlers declare, will rise on the wings of labor, to thrive in the kindly Texas sun.

Mexico Provides For Returning Mexicans

MEXICO CITY, March 3 (AP)—To take care of Mexicans returning from the United States because of lack of work there, the national railways have agreed to transport them from the border to that part of the country in which they wish to settle for 20 per cent of ordinary passage.

The governments of Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi have agreed to pay this transportation for Mexicans native to those states to any part of the state where they want to reside. Governor Saturnino Cedillo of San Louis Potosi donated four bulls for a bull fight to help Peidras Negres raise funds for returning Mexicans.

'TRIGGER MAN' ELECTROCUTED

BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 3 (AP)—Thomas F. Martin, of Philadelphia, "trigger man" in the holdup and murder of C. Cameron Cook, aged bank messenger, was electrocuted at Rockview penitentiary Monday.

ANOTHER ROAD BID READY

JOHNSON SAYS ROUTE OF 24 PREPARED FOR CONTRACT

Route of highway No. 24 east from Lubbock is expected to be one of the contracts up for bidding at the next state highway department letting of contracts for road construction.

"My plans for the highway have been sent to Austin" Guy R. Johnston, district construction engineer, explained. "They are finished and ready for the commission to act upon."

Jury Of View Named

It is believed that the county will be able to secure all of the right of way before the latter part of the month. Judge E. L. Pitts has named a jury of view to hold hearings and determine damages.

Present plans for the route through to Idalou and the Crosby county line include: from the court house east on Broadway through the underpass and to the P. P. Brown corner east of town. From there, the route will angle northeast to near the point where the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains and the Santa Fe railroads cross. Here the present highway will be used into Idalou and to the county line. The route crosses the northwest corner of the state experiment farm about three miles east of town.

No Date Set

No date for the next letting has been announced by the state highway department. It is expected that it will be the latter part of March, Mr. Johnston explained.

Work can be started on the highway within two or three weeks after the contract is let by the state. Should this be done, the drainage and grading will be completed by late in the summer.

NORTHWESTERN WINS

COLUMBUS, O., March 3 (AP)—Northwestern University Wildcats clinched the Big Ten basketball championship here Saturday night by defeating Ohio State, 32 to 18.

HORNSBY PREPARES CUBS FOR SEASON WITH MUCH CARE

TECH BOYS TO BOX, WRESTLE

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

The Texas Tech Matador cagers returned from a rather chilly ramble over the snow-laden hills of New Mexico and the regions of Far West Texas Sunday night reporting "a good time had by all" with punctuating sighs and signs of pleasure at setting foot again on home soil even if the latter was covered with agoodly layer of crystals.

Skipper Crip Golightly, who chauffeured one of the automobiles for the Matadors on the trip, provided a touch of pathos to the winding up of a more or less successful cage season when he made the drive successfully from El Paso, coming through snow and ice that tested the true driver between Lubbock and Tahoka, hauled up in front of a local drug store and became solidly stuck in the freezing snow. The stricken auto was removed with aid of a wrecker Monday morning.

The Matadors won three and lost two games on their road trip. In Socorro they found the New Mexico Schoool of Mines institution after a search of the precincts and administered a neat defeat to the MetaDurgists. Next day they drove to Albuquerque and arrived in time to take a licking from the University of New Mexico Lobos in the game that formally opened athletic relations between the two schools. They remained over, according to schedule, and thrashed the Lobos soundly. They bring back to Lubbock favorable impressions of Albuquerque and the university and particularly of the gymnasium where they played.

According to the statements of Golightly and his charges, they play a rough and tough basketball game in New Mexico. Evidently they had heard of the bad boys of Texas and they wanted the locals to feel at home. Golightly says if they play football as roughly in proportion to their basketball tactics that the game here next fall between the Matadors and Lobos will be well worth attending. He adds, however, that for once officials of the law might have some business at a football game.

In El Paso the Matadors fared little better than in Albuquerque. They dropped the opener to the Miners of Mack Saxon and won the second. They were offered a vote of thanks for the latter success in the form of a quail dinner in Juarez with Coach Crip toting the bill, and the responsibility.

He hasn't been around with his picture yet and he has not offered us a private interview, but we hear through channels not to be neglected of the rise to fame of another local athlete. He is "Gray Eagle" Pender, wellknown Class B football official of this section, famouse grand-stand mentor, one of the cheer leaders in the Anvil Chorus and eminent professor of government at the local college. The "Gray Eagle" has taken up volleyball, wit wim and wigor and wisdom. The accompanying snapshot by the department's eagle-eyed photographer shows the Eagle in the act of gloryifying the drowning game. The men who really play the game were using the volleyball and a regulation basketball had to be substituted.

This fellow Ross McWhorter, who went out of the men's clothing business to take up golf on a larger scale, has been setting the Country Club links afire with his pet irons recently. No one at the club when the snow came for the course needed cooling. McWhorter completed the 72 holes of qualifying play preparatory to the ladder tournament with a total score that forced him to fifth place, which was good to start with. Then he took on Jo Dick test last Sunday week. The picture here was posed especially for this department by McWhorter, who is not at all selfish and who would spread the knowledge of his success, declaring this stance with the putter gets results that put Bobby Jones and his Calamity Jane in the shade.

Slaughter and won, ascending to fourth place. He's the same man, this McWhorter, who won second place in the driving con-

NO PREDICTION FORTHCOMING FROM RAJAH

ILL-FATED HAPPENINGS OF LAST SEASON ARE RECALLED

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN,
Associated Press Sports Writer

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., Mar. 3. (AP)—The spectre of last year's ill-fated happenings which went a long way toward keeping the club from a National league pennant, has put caution on the tongues of those who would like to prophecy a great year for the Chicago Cubs.

Rogers Hornsby, playing manager, who figured prominently in these disastrous occurrences, steadfastly refuses to predict, although he willingly admits that the pitching prospects are much better than last season and the rest of the squad holds greater promise.

Recalls Past Jinxes

William Wrigley, jr., whose money has made this possible vouchsafes that it is the "best outfit he has ever seen assembled here," but he recalls the untimely death of Harold Carlson, veteran pitcher; Hornsby with a broken leg and Lester Bell and Riggs Stephenson with arm injuries and will not forecast his club's chances.

The pitching staff is so good the Rajah is puzzled as to just whose names will be crossed off the roster. He contemplates keeping eleven of the sixteen who reported here.

Besides such veterans as Charles Root, Guy Bush, Pat Malone and Sheriff Blake, at least two of the rookies hold promise and three tried and proven hurlers from Boston, Cincinnati and Philadelphia are helping to make the spring training grind a cheerful one.

Of these, Bob Smith obtained from the Braves and Lester Sweetland from the Phillies, stand out in particular, while Frank May, like Sweetland, a powerful left hander, is counted on to turn in his usual wins over the New York Giants.

A pair of right handers stand out over the group of five newcomers. Big Ed Baecht, whose curve ball earned him 26 victories with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league last year and a chance with the Cubs, has taken to big league hurling well, while Hornsby has also been impressed with the work of a strapping Arkansas youth, Lon Warneke, who came up from Reading, Pa., of the International league.

Not To Forget Two

The Rajah will not overlook Art Teachout, youthful southpaw who finished last season strong, as well as Bob Osborn of last year's staff.

Although Hornsby says without hesitation that he figures to use Hack Wilson, Riggs Stephenson and Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler at his regular outfield, he is pleased with the spring training bat work of Johnny Moore, up for the second time from Los Angeles, and Vincent Barton, a big Canadian from Baltimore. They both hit .342 last year.

Wilson May Shift

There has been some talk of shifting Wilson to right field, where his fly chasing activities will be less, in an effort to increase his .356 batting average and the home run record for the senior circuit of 56 four-base hits. Stephenson's arm appears to be in good shape again.

Rogers intends to play right through at second base, regardless of his managerial handicap, and contemplates using the same infield as last year with Charles Grimm at first, Elwood English at short and Lester Bell at third.

For these reasons those who are so privileged would like to predict a great year—but hold their tongues, lest lightning strike twice in the same place.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 3. (AP)—All the Chicago White Sox except Moe Berg, Smead Jolley and Carl Reynolds were present for today, but unless there was much less wind than yesterday, another session of throwing was on the program.

Berg and Reynolds are listed as holdouts over salary figures, while Jolley has a boil on his left leg.

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 3. (AP)—There's another Babe Ruth in training here with the Cincinnati Reds, but there are some who wonder whether he will live up to advance notices during the regular playing season. Manager Dan Howley, speaking of outfielder Nick Cullop, acquired from Minneapolis in the American association, said: "He packs as heavy a wallop as Babe Ruth. If he can acquire confidence in himself he is going to be a big boy for us."

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 3. —(AP)—Whoever wins the left-fielding job for the Cleveland Indians this year is going to beat out some stiff competition. Manager Roger Peckinpaugh has two worthy veterans, Bib Falk and Charley Jamieson, and two highly rated youngsters, Bob Seeds and Joe Vosmik, for the post. Peck hopes one of the youngsters comes through because Falk and Jamieson have to be rested occasionally.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 3—(AP)—Stewart Bolin, left handed pitcher drafted from Baltimore by the Phillies, is one of the new Quaker boxmen who look good to Manager Shotton. "He's a fine prospect," Shotton said, "and should make the grade."

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 3. —(AP)—Freddy Lindstrom has turned up in the New York Giants' training camp with a waistline of close to aldermanic proportions. Somebody wanted to know where Freddy had found so much excess weight.

"In Chicago," he said. "It's a great climate. They told me I was going to be an outfielder this year so I wanted to look like Babe Ruth and Hack Wilson."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 3. (AP)—Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, has 33 players in camp. All he wants to be happy is a few days of the Florida sunshine he's heard so much about.

The Yanks have been in camp only seven days but already they've seen more wet weather than in any one training season in the last six years.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 3. (AP)—Wiley Moore, the former Yankee game-saver, comes pretty close to being the hardest working man in the Red Sox camp.

Cy thought he was done for when his arm went back on him while with the Yanks, but a year with the St. Paul club of the American association has given him a new start. He weighs 205 pounds, stands six feet tall, and is 33 years old and has to work mighty hard during the training season to get in trim.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 3. (AP)—Duffy Lewis, popular performer in a Red Sox outfield that was once rated one of the greatest in the game, is here to make his National league debut as a member of the Braves' coaching staff. The little Californian starts work today with Hank Gowdy in developing the tribesmen.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 3 (AP)—John Picus Quinn, at forty-something years of age, has amazed Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Robins with the way he has cut loose with his ancient pitching arm. Robby, who thought one of Quinn's venerable years would need lots of time to get in shape, asked him about it.

"Oh, I was heaving them around for a few days at Hot Springs," Quinn answered. "I'm ready now to go five innings. Just call on me any time."

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Counting noses today Manager Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics found his roster complete, with the exception of Earnshaw and Simmons, who are training according to their own ideas at Hot Springs. The outfit here numbers 38 players and three coaches.

BRANDENTON, Fla., March 3. —(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals will hold no practice games among themselves.

"I believe that's a waste of time and effort," Manager Gabby Street said today, "and that more can be accomplished by staging morning and afternoon practices."

Pitcher Dizzy Dean was to undergo an operation today for the removal of his tonsils.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 3. (AP)—Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns was hopeful today for a break from the weather man. Except for last Friday, when the sun broke through in good style, it has rained every day since the Browns reached camp.

PASO ROBLES, Calif., Mar. 3.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates expect two of their star outfielders, Paul Waner and Adam Comorosky, to report in camp next week. Waner has been a patient in a St. Louis hospital and Comorsky is under medical attention in Pittsburgh.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 3 (AP)—With the Detroit baseball club in camp here, "farming out" reports that the Sacramento Senators of the Pacific Coast league may be sold were heard here today.

Stanley Harris, manager of the Detroit club, denied a report that Des Autels, his promising young catcher who worked the latter part of the 1930 season, would be farmed out to Toronto this year.

Frank P. Navin, owner of the Detroit club, was reported en route to Sacramento and it was rumored he would confer with Lewis Morehing, owner of the Senators, regarding purchase of the team.

BILOXI, Miss., March 3. (AP)—Walter Johnston is counting on Lloyd Brown, agile little left hander from Corpus Christi, Texas, to get the Washington Nationals off to a flying start this season as he did last year.

Brown, who believes in the early bird adage, has been here about a month, golfing, fishing and hiking to get in shape.

CHANGE FIRM NAME

SPUR.—(Staff Special)—Ralph Jackson, who recently purchased the C. R. Edwards and Co. store here, has announced the firm will hereafter be known as the Jackson Dry Good company. Mr. Jackson is well known in this section.

FIFTY MEN REPORT FOR INTRAMURAL TILTS ON MAT, IN RING

More than fifty men of Texas Tech have reported to Del Morgan, assistant coach, for intramural boxing and wrestling and with the invitation open for another day or two several others are expected to enter the matches which start toward the latter part of the week.

Boxers and wrestlers in all weight divisions will be matched in an elimination schedule of bouts with the championship fights postponed until about March 18 when the athletic department of the college entertains the men of Lubbock and of Tech with their monthly open house fun night.

Appearances

"Never judge by appearances, says Tilford Moots who wuz held up an' robbed in his own home by a caller with a furcoat an' chauffeur.

"Jest because a feller drives a big car it ain't no sign he's paid fer it.

"An' it ain't safe to bawl out a guy in a flivver these days till you've checked up in the social register.

"It's a sign o' the times. Look at cigars. You can't tell a five-cent rocky ford with the band off from the kind your boss used to keep locked up in his bottom drawer.

"An' a list of the men I've heard of who smoke 'em 'ud read like a Blue Book."

ROCKY FORD is long-filler, Sumatra-wrapped. Made in a sunlit factory, the pride and show-factory of Richmond, Va. . . . a factory as clean as a modern bakery . . . a factory that is automatic-machine-equipped throughout.

Tonight Decides Southwest Title

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 3—Southern Methodist Mustangs and T. C. U. Frogs, stacking almost equal offensively and defensively, take the painted court here tonight to settle the who is who question in the Southwest conference cage race.

They are in a deadlock for leadership with eight wins and three defeats each.

The Mustangs, in eleven played games, have scored 433 points against their opponents 342 points. T. C. U., in the same number of games, registered 412 points against, opponents 330. Thus the Mustangs, on season's play, are 21 points in front of T. C. U. offensively, but 12 points behind the frogs defensively. There isn't enough difference here to establish either quintet as a pre-game favorite.

THE HOUSE that JACK and JILL .... BUILT ....

Jack and Jill, two mythical characters that live through all time with us, yet we know not why. They build houses, they carry buckets of water, they live in the minds of children, who knows why? Fiction writers use them, cartoonists abuse them, children imitate them, yet Jack and Jill keep building houses.

.....and the City

So it is with city builders. Those men who fifteen years, twenty years and even to the naming of Lubbock over three decades ago, laid the foundations for a city. What they did or just how they did it is known only in part by people who today enjoy the results of their efforts. We might say Jack and Jill built the city. But regardless of who built the city, or how it was built, the unfinished work remains for those of today. Brace up! Be a builder! Make a contribution to the force that is now keeping Lubbock on the progressive upward trend.

Young Lady Says She Had No More Trouble After Taking Cardui.

Greenville, Miss.—Mrs. C. W. Leach, of 109 Pecan Street, this city, says that she is glad to tell others how she was benefited by taking Cardui.

"When I was a young lady at home," writes Mrs. Leach, "I used to suffer a great deal with cramping spells. I would have something like a chill, and would have to go to bed for two or three days.

"I suffered with my back and from weakness. I took Cardui and it helped me. My back seemed to get stronger. I did not have to go to bed any more with cramping spells. I certainly can recommend Cardui for cramping.

"When I began taking Cardui, I would lose two or three days at a time from school, and this would be very hard on me, but after I took Cardui, I did not have any more trouble."

Cardui contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by women of all ages.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS ON LUBBOCK COUNTY JAIL

Notice is hereby given that on the 16th day of March A. D. 1931, the same being the third Monday in such month, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., the Commissioners' Court of Lubbock County, Texas, at the Courthouse in Lubbock, Texas, will open bids for the construction of a jail building to be constructed in said county. Plans, construction and the bids for the same will include five contracts as follows: general contract, plumbing and heating contract, electrical contract, jail cell contract, and elevators contract, each including the installation of such equipment.

Each bid on each contract must be accompanied by a certified check on a local bank, payable to the undersigned, for five per cent (5%) of the amount bid, and such must be filed with the undersigned not later than the above date and hour for opening same, said checks are required to be used by said court as liquidated damages in case of default of contractor to comply with the terms of his bid should contract be awarded to him.

Plans and specifications for said building in all of its parts may be obtained at the office of S. B. Haynes, 911 Myrick Building, Lubbock, Texas, any time after March 1, 1931.

The Commissioners' Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids and the bidder receiving a contract for any one or more of the parts of said building will be required to execute a bond or bonds as the law directs.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—The stock market drifted lower during most of the earlier trading today, but developed a firmer trend when trading became very dull on the reaction.

Rails, utilities and merchandising shares were prominent in the decline, which saw Baltimore & Ohio, Lackawanna, Illinois Central, American Water Works, North American, National Power & Light, Macy, Montgomery Ward and Safeway Stores a point or two lower. Radio Eastman Kodak, Columbia Carbon, Paramount and International Harvester were also heavy.

U. S. Steel moved in a one point range, bobbing up and down erratically. J. I. Case converted a two point loss into a one point gain when the improvement set in and Allied Chemical rallied 2 net. Auburn Auto opened 3 3-4 lower, lost its gain and then bounced more than 5 points above yesterday's close.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 2 points March was relatively easy under some liquidation, while later months were generally steady on buying promoted by firmness in Liverpool and encouraging reports from India.

The near month offerings were absorbed by trade buying with March selling up from 11.08 to 11.12 or 2 points net higher by the end of the first half hour while May advanced from 11.29 to 11.34 with the more active positions showing net gains of 2 to 6 points.

Reports that German spinners had decided upon a policy of curtailed production after March 16th may have encouraged some of the early selling. Offerings were comparatively light, however, and the market soon steadied up on trade buying and covering. May advanced to 11.39 and October to 11.90, with active months showing net gains of about 5 to 10 points and the market was within 3 or 4 points of these prices at midday with trading quiet and the tone steady.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 3. —(AP)—Cotton had a uiet and irregular opening. Liverpool cables came in much better than due, but the market here was apparently still under influence of the easier stock market of yesterday. First trades showed 3 points gain to 3 points loss, with the late months easier. The market rallied one to 3 points after the start but soon eased off again to 11.30 for May and 11.79 for October, or 3 to 4 points down from the early highs and about unchanged from yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was slightly steadier.

The market ruled rather quiet all morning. Prices gradually improved for a time on short covering, induced by a rather bullish fertilizer report by Secretary Hester, which showed a decrease in the sale of fertilizer tags in ten southern states up to the end of February of 600,908 tons. May traded up to 11.40 and October to 11.90, or 10 to 11 points above the lows.

Near noon, the market eased off some owing to a lower stock market, losing four to six points from the highs.

Clubmen Postpone Visit To Plainview

Indefinite postponement of a program which Lubbock Rotarians were scheduled to present at a luncheon of the Plainview Rotary club today has been announced by Dr. W. A. Jackson, president of the Lubbock club.

The muddy condition of the roads was given as reason for postponement. Neil Wright, chairman of Inter-city Relations committee of the Lubbock club, was to have been in charge of the program.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—Grains underwent early downturns today, with corn and oats outdoing season bottom price records. Weakness of Liverpool quotations and favorable weather for United States winter wheat were leading bearish factors.

Opening unchanged to 3-8 to 3-4 cent off, wheat afterward held near to initial figures. Corn started at 3-8c decline to 1-8c advance and subsequently rallied.

Wheat closed irregular, 1-4 cent off to 7-8 up. Corn 1-2-1 advanced, oats showing 1-8-3-8 gain, and provisions 5 to 17 cents higher.

SNOW'S RESULTS

were reported as operating this morning. Texas Motor Ways coaches operated into Ralls, Monday. Service to Dickens and Spur was not resumed until this morning, reports indicated.

City street crews Monday and this morning were engaged in expediting drainage of city streets. The snow had resulted in obstructions hampering drainage into sewers.

Maximum temperature here Monday was 47 degrees, according to the state experiment station, the minimum being 16 degrees—the second lowest mark of the season here.

CONGRESS END

Senator Hebert, Republican, Rhode Island, held on fast for passage of the Vestal copyright bill against which two Democrats, Trammel of Florida and Dill of Washington, waged a determined talking campaign.

Supporters of oil embargo legislation apparently had lost their last hope during the long night session. It was virtually impossible to enact their proposal in the remaining time.

Law Is Upheld

FRANKFORT, Ky., Mar. 3. (AP)—The constitutionality of the statute permitting pari-mutuel betting at Kentucky race tracks was upheld by the state court of appeals today.

Must Pay Highest

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3. —(AP)—The bill providing that contractors receiving government contracts pay the highest wage prevailing in the locality was signed today by President Hoover.

Snow In Missouri

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Mar. 3 (AP)—Heavy snow was falling this morning, after a night of frost which was welcomed by fruit growers as preventing premature budding.

More than 7,000 research projects are under way at the experimental stations of the department of agriculture.

T. A. RITCHIE FACING TRIAL

BURGLARY OF STORE IN CITY CHARGED TO MAN; UP TODAY

Trial of T. A. Ritchie on a charge of burglary was started today in 72nd district court here before Judge Homer L. Pharr. The court convened for its February term Monday.

Ritchie was charged in connection with theft of about $15 cash from the Panhandle Grocery company's store at 816 Main street the night of February 9. Following his arrest, officers said he had made a signed statement confessing the robbery.

Two Cases Tried Monday

Two cases were tried before Judge Pharr, Monday, both resulting in convictions on charges of chicken theft. Ed Harriss was sentenced to a year in the state penitentiary and Bill Fulcher received a similar term. Both are negroes.

Eighteen criminal cases are docketed for trial this week. Harriss is scheduled to be tried on another chicken theft charge.

Prisoners Returned

Six Lubbock county prisoners were to be returned here for trial in district court by Chief Deputy Sheriff O. B. Conley, who left Lubbock early today to escort the suspects from the Hale county jail at Plainview.

Razing of the Lubbock county jail resulted in temporary keeping of some of the county's prisoners in the Hale county jail. Others were taken to the Lubbock city jail and the Crosby county jail at Crosbyton.

The men who will be brought to Lubbock today are Boyd Moore, charged with forgery, Raymond Short, charged with arson, Dale McMinnis, charged with arson, Frank King, charged with robbery with firearms, Paul Hain, charged with robbery with firearms and C. Kennemore, charged with theft.

IMPROVED BUSINESS CONDITIONS BEING SEEN OVER STATE

Improved business conditions both over the state and on the South Plains were reported yesterday by two railroad officials, G. B. Hogan, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific and E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent here for the Santa Fe.

"I think we will have a better spring movement than we had expected," Mr. Hogan stated.

Freight Increasing

With an increased number of cars of automobiles coming onto the South Plains and to Lubbock, Mr. Kancher sees an increase in the movement of freight. Declaring that during January and February his railroad had handled into Lubbock more cars of automobiles than it had for the last four or five months in 1930, the local official predicted a still further increase.

"Conditions look better now than they did, especially to the farmers," Mr. Kancher added. "They have a brighter outlook. Before this snow the soil was in the best shape in years and this snow has added greatly to the benefits."

head of an organization which was formed to fight prohibition even before the eighteenth amendment went into effect and which today is backed by a few men of wealth who hope to profit enormously financially by the repeal of prohibition.

"Mr. Curran and his employers are afraid to give prohibition that fair trial which it has never had and to which it is entitled. Their frantic opposition is based upon their recognition of the fact that prohibition is right and their cowardly fear that it will more fully succeed unless they can persuade the people that it is failing.

"Mr. Curran's claim that the majority of the American people are in favor of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, while utterly unfounded, is quite in harmony with the usual baseless claims made by the spokesmen for the brewers and distillers. It may be that Mr. Curran, coming in contact only with a small group of 'wets,' makes the mistake of believing that the great body of sober Americans are like his usual associates."

Saving To Result From Paving Work

Paving of state highway No. 9 north from Lubbock to the Hale county line will cost less per square yard than did the pavnig from Lubbock to Slaton, according to Guy R. Johnston, division construction engineer, who prepared the plans and specifications for both jobs.

"The Interstate Construction company made a bid of $1.86 per square yard, or 14 cents under the Slaton paving," Mr. Johnston said. "It looks like the state and county will be able to save money on the job."

Pouring of concrete is expected to start about the first of April according to the engineer. Within two weeks the machinery for the job will be arriving here, he said, with material coming right on its heels.

GET HALF HOLIDAY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3. —(AP)—President Hoover today signed a bill which gives government workers a half holiday on Saturday the year around.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 3. (AP)—Governor James Rolph, jr., announced today he had received a telegraphic invitation from Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma to send a California representative to a meeting of oil producing states in Texarkana, Tex., March 7. Governor Rolph replied he had asked the state legislature for authority to name a delegate.

Governor Murray explained an organization called the oil states advisory committee had been formed, including Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, New Mexico and California. A meeting was held Saturday and Sunday at Fort Worth, at which the committee was formed for the purpose of dealing with questions affecting the oil industry.

Franklin Kills Two Bulls Despite Injury

2 PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mex., March 3 (AP)—Chill blasts of a "norther" and a gored right leg he suffered in a fight at Nuevo Laredo a week ago failed Sunday to deter Sidney Franklin, Yankee matador, who braved the danger of a dust-filled arena to kill with ease two fierce bulls allotted to him, gaining the applause of several thousand fans. Although he limped slightly, Franklin seemed at ease in his first appearance but was booed by the crowd because he was compelled to strike a second time with the espada to kill the bull.

Fast Teams Entered In Texas Cage Open

DALLAS, March 3. (AP)—A galaxy of fast teams were matched here today in the Texas open basketball tournament. Entries included the Dallas Athletic club quintet, and teams representing the Baylor freshmen, the Denton Teachers college and the Texas Military college of Terrell. The Dallas Athletic club and the Baylor representatives were favored by many to win the tournament.

LOCAL MOVIE ON TOMORROW

'ROMANCE OF LUBBOCK' TO BE AT LINDSEY FOR 3 DAYS

First showing of the local film, "The Romance of Lubbock," will be had as a preview at the Lindsey theatre tonight and the showing for the public will begin at the same theatre Wednesday, George L. Satterwhite, of the Photo Arts Production company of San Antonio, announced Tuesday.

Mr. Satterwhite received a message from Victor Shuler, photographer of the company who took the films here and who went to San Antonio to develop them in the company's laboratory, stating that the shots were all good.

"Fine All The Way"

"Picture fine all the way through and really deserves all possible publicity," Mr. Shuler wired Mr. Satterwhite.

The film was to come in today and will be ready for tonight's performance.

More than 2,000 persons in all were photographed in the making of the film. With a cast headed by Miss Mildred Gunn and Brooks Penny, a number of local people carried through the story of the picture.

Scenes shot included Texas Technological college, the city building and chamber of commerce offices, street scenes, four down town churches, Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Church of Christ, a wedding in the latter church and several country home shots.

To Present Ring

A style show will be given in connection with the showing of the picture for three days at the Lindsey, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Presentation of a diamond ring to the most charming screen model will feature Wednesday night's performance.

Mr. Satterwhite, who is a director of experience, had high praise for the cast in the picture. The film is not an advertising medium and there will be no advertisements used in connection with it, Mr. Satterwhite emphasized.

sembly chamber who said he wanted to speak "in behalf of the children that are hungry."

The movement of troopers toward the individual was a signal for the beginning of shouts from the demonstrators.

While the demonstration was proceeding in the assembly chamber, another group of unemployed was holding a mass meeting on the steps of the capitol. They were joined by their fellows who had been ejected from the building.

Jeers and Boos Heard

The troopers then cleared the capitol steps. They encountered some opposition, and again the clubs were wielded freely. In a short time the steps were cleared and the agitators were scattered about capitol park, jeering and booing at the constabulary.

Some of the group formed lines and paraded down State street while spectators lined the sidewalks.

After the main body of the demonstrators had paraded away from the capitol grounds, small groups began filtering back toward the steps, but were kept at a distance by the troopers.

A squad of troopers was detailed to surround the executive mansion.

Officers scoured the country in search of the guilty persons, but did not find them immediately.

THREE NEGROES ARE SENTENCED, CHARGED

GROESBECK, Mar. 2. (AP)—Murder charges, as well as heavy sentences for burglaries and on attempt to wreck a train, today confronted three negroes, Sonny Miller, Cal English and Tom Henry Armstrong.

They were indicted for murder here yesterday in connection with the death recently of Charles Hunter of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., who was thrown from a freight train near Kosse.

Previously, at Corsicana, they were given seven years each on pleas of guilty to an attempt to wreck a Southern Pacific passenger train near Corsicana.

LOT CLEANING

said this morning.

No Outsiders Wanted

Men having families, and single men or boys who are supporting or helping to support their families will be given preference in applications for jobs, according to John Dalrymple, chairman of the emergency employment committee of the chamber of commerce. Outsiders will not be given jobs. Single men, who are supporting only themselves will not receive employment, unless places are left after others have been issued work orders, Mr. Dalrymple said.

The emergency employment committee estimated that the program would furnish jobs for about 300 men for two to four weeks. Lots in both residential and business areas will be cleaned. There are approximately 3,800 such lots in need of cleaning.

Only men receiving work orders, issued by the bureau at United Charities headquarters and addressed to a specific district foreman, will be allowed to work on the lots.

Fine For Chicago

TERRY EXPECTED TO CALL HIGHWAY ELECTION SOON

Terry county voters will probably be asked soon to approve a bond issue of approximately $700,000 for the paving of the present 47 miles of state highway in that county and the additional 20 miles on No. 137 that would be designated.

J. H. Hankins, president of the Carlsbad Caverns U. S. No. 62 Highway association and chairman of the good roads committee of the Lubbock chamber of commerce, received word from Brownfield indicating that the county was making plans to call an election soon.

"If Terry county's issue is successful, No. 137 will connect as a paved link with the Broadway of America, the Bankhead highway, at Odessa and will offer an outlet to the oilfields of that section of the state," Mr. Hankins stated.

Terry county has two highways at present, No. 84 east and west across the county, connecting with Plains, Yoakum county and New Mexico points including Tatum and Roswell, one the west, and Tahoka and Post on the east. No. 137 is designated from the Hockley county line to Brownfield. The county has a highway from Brownfield southwest to Seagraves in Gaines county.

It is expected that No. 137 will be designated from Andrews in Andrews county through Seminole and Seagraves in Gaines county to the Terry county line, as a result of Saturday's election in Gaines county.

KILPATRICK IS EXES CHIEF

LUBBOCK ATTORNEY IS ELECTED IN ANNUAL BANQUET MONDAY

A member of the University of Texas law class of 1916, J. I. Kilpatrick, was elected president of the Lubbock Texas Exes association at its annual dinner in the Matador ballroom of the Hilton hotel Monday night.

Seventy-four former students and alumni of Texas university, and guests, attended the affair. A reception on the mezzanine floor preceded the dinner. Theme of the dinner-program was "Texas Under Six Flags," appropriate to Texas Independence Day.

President Kilpatrick a Lubbock attorney, succeeds Mrs. William Dingus, who presided at Monday night's program. Other officers elected for the ensuing year included:

Vice-president, William H. Evans; secretary, Dorris Baugh '30, and Alcalde reporter, C. W. Ratliff.

The program was opened by the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" followed by invocation by Dr. A. W. Evans.

Earhart Honor Guest

E. P. Earhart, Sr., Lubbock pioneer was introduced as a "native Texan" and the distinguished guest of the evening. He was born in 1845 and has seen it under three flags.

Following introductory remarks by Mrs. Dingus, a letter of greetings to all Texas Exes was read by R. A. Mills. A short talk was made by Prof. C. B. Qualls on the work of the graduate school and Jas. H. Goodman gave a humorous talk on pee wee golf as a much needed addition to the university course.

Interspersing the program were yells and songs, William H. Evans led the yells while Edgar Shelton had charge of the songs. Mrs. R. A. Mills accompanied on the piano.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, in closing the program, paid a tribute to the late Will C. Hogg and told of his continual efforts to advance Texas in the field of education. He also paid special tribute to Dr. William Sutton. The entire group stood for a moment's silence in tribute to Mr. Hogg.

The banquet registry book showed the following present: Mrs. William Dingus, Mrs. R. S. Williams, M. H. Starnes, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins, P. W. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Fullingim, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Corry, Dr. and Mrs. Leroy T. Patton, Mrs. R. L. Ragsdale, Elnorna Leslie, Johnnye Gilkerson, William H. CO-OP ENJOYS GOOD YEAR

MORE THAN 20 PER CENT OF GINNINGS ARE HANDLED

The Lubbock office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association has handled about 80,000 bales of cotton, or more than 20 per cent of total ginnings in district No. 2, according to Charles M. Davis, manager.

"We are well satisfied with the results in the district," Mr. Davis said. "Considering the season and the short crop, we have done very well.

"Our membership is increasing. There is more interest this year than ever before in farmers securing longer staple and pure seed. I believe we will go over the top in this district this year."

Lubbock Leading

Lubbock's branch office continues to hold the lead in the way of number of bales received. Totals for the week ending Saturday were 16,745, or nearly 100 bales more than the next largest office, Wellington, which had 16,660 bales.

Other large offices in the district include the following South Plains towns; Lamesa, 8,248; Levelland, 6,735; O'Donnell, 2,800; Littlefield, 6,480; Brownfield, 7,000.

The Lubbock branch will be kept open for the remainder of the year. It is in connection with the district office and is handling the receipts for all nearby towns.

It is expected that K. B. McWilliams in charge of the Brownfield office, will close his work there this week. A receiving agent will be named to succeed him.

Some cotton is being received at Levelland and Littlefield. These offices probably will be maintained for a little while longer.

A receiving agent is in charge at O'Donnell.

The Lubbock branch with approximately 80,000 bales, ranks second in percentage of the ginnings for the year, and fourth in total number of bales, latest figures announced from the general offices of the association at Dallas, show.

The receipts are slightly less than 21 per cent of the ginning total as shown by the latest government figures. Ginnings were 381,371 bales.

Lubbock also ranks second in total membership in the state, 10,590 farmers holding memberships here. Only the Dallas district has a larger number of members.

POSTPONE DATE

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has postponed from April 1 to June the date when revised freight rates on grain and grain products are to become effective.

The revised rates were ordered by the commission several months ago but a number of extensions have been granted the railroads.

United States government chemists have developed a poisonous paint to prevent the growth on ships' hulls of barnacles, which are estimated to cause an annual loss of $75,000,000.

··Blending makes it better

In the test kitchen of a great soup maker, the gifted master-chef creates the blend of ingredients to produce the perfect soup. In a scent-laden room in a corner of France an expert blender of perfume invokes his highest genius that our sense of smell may be gratified. In a work-room fragrant with the aroma of many types of coffee beans, a highly-paid specialist concentrates his energies that we may be provided with a coffee blend to please our palates.

Whether it's soup or soap, tobacco or tea, music or mustard.. blending is vital to the production of the best of each. Equally as vital, if not first in importance, is the knowledge and genius of the blender. He must know how

The best gasoline, too, is blended. In the processes of a modern refinery three types of gasoline are produced. They are, Natural Gasoline, Straight-run Gasoline, and Cracked Gasoline. Each possesses certain desirable qualities necessary for perfect motor operation... but... no one of them possesses all these wanted characteristics.

So Conoco Gasoline is a blend of the three. There is Natural Gasoline, to give quick starting. There is Straight-run Gasoline, to give power and long-mileage. There is Cracked Gasoline, with its desirable anti-knock quality. Just as carefully as the perfume blender at his delicate task, Conoco refiners have developed their balanced blend of these three ingredients. Theirs is the gift of knowing how to merge the qualities of the three gasolines to create a balanced, triple-test fuel. One brand of coffee outsells all others because of the expertness of its blender. And so, with Conoco Balanced-Blend Gasoline, the skill of the blender accounts for the popularity of the product. Stop today at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle and have your gas tank filled with this better motor fuel.
