Mother Pins Son

Mrs. B. D. Mason pins the Eagle Scout emblem for her son, Jerry Mason, honored Monday evening in Court of Honor in Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church. With them are B. D. Mason, left, who until recently served as scout master for his son's Troop 20, and Bob Dennis, new scout master.

New Eagle Scout

Court of Honor Presentation

Jerry Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Mason of 509 East 14th Street, Monday night received the honor rank of Eagle Scout.

The presentation was made by his father, who until recently was Troop 20 scoutmaster, in a Court of Honor in Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Mason, ninth grade student in Colorado High School, has been in scouting since he joined Cub Scouts at the age of eight. He has worked on his eagle rank for the past three years.

In Eagle rank requirements he has earned 21 merit badges, 11 required and 10 elective.

The 15-year-old scout is a member in brotherhood rank in Order of the Arrow.

He was on staff for one summer session of Scout Camp last summer at Scout Ranch in Davis Mountains. He is a member of First Baptist Church and last year was named to National Junior Honor Society at Colorado Junior High.

Guest speaker for the Court of Honor was Bill Carter, incoming Mitchell County Judge.

The judge-elect emphasized character, development and the need today for young men and women who love their country, respect its institution and belief in God.

Invocation was said by Jackie Ellis. Pledge to flag, directed by Bruce Hill, was followed by welcoming remarks by Mark Kimmel.

New Troop 20 scoutmaster Bob Dennis was introduced by Bill Ellis. Assistant Scoutmaster Steve Elmore and visiting Scout organizations were introduced by Larry Martin.

Among the 97 guests present were Cub Scout Pack 22 and leader, Mrs. Gerald Harrell;

ASC Leaders Are Renamed

Edward B. Roach has been renamed to Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee.

Delegates to the ASC county convention Friday elected the prominent Payne Community farmer.

Cub Pack 2 and pack master, Bill Helm; Girl Scouts and assistant troop leader, Mrs. Charles Goodlett, Senior Scouts, Margie Palmer and Annette Young, Troop 23 and Joe Vincent, scoutmaster, and Ted Burgoon, assistant.

Scout executive Jerry Rottler, District Advance Chairman Burt Runnels, Assistant District Advance Chairman Don Huddleson, all of Snyder; Order of Arrow Advisor Dub Day of Big Spring.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Day of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Day, Dannie, Lisa, Cindy of Forsan, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Yates of Big Spring.

Her four-year elective term begins Jan. 1, and it is expected that Commissioners Court now will officially name her to fill the unexpired three months of Leach's final term.

County Judge Martin said that Mrs. Bassham, as chief deputy clerk, will assume direction of the clerk's office until Commissioner's Court officially acts on the resignation.

"I have worked with Mr. Leach in this office for 17 years," Mrs. Bassham said, "and this is a surprise. . . a shock for him to retire before his term expires."

Leach's resignation was officially revealed in a brief

Latimer, Colorado City farm and ranch leader, was re-elected chairman and Roach was re-named vice chairman.

Terms of the county committee are for three years and are staggered. Roach's place was the only one up for decision this year.

The committee is responsible for local administration of federal farm programs within the county which include acreage allotments and bases, price support for eligible crops and cost-sharing for conservation practices.

In addition the committee has been a key factor in drawing federal attention to emergency disaster needs.

Delegates selecting the committee member and officers are ASC community committeemen elected recently by farmers within their own communities.

Patrolman Jim Latham is moving up to assistant chief of Colorado City Police.

The 58-year-old officer begins the new assignment Thursday, replacing Dan Pfeuffer, who has served as assistant chief for the last several months.

Latham, who has been a peace officer 35 years, will supervise the city's night law enforcement.

The shuffling of Latham and Pfeuffer came with only minimum comment by Police Chief Jesse Browning.

"It is for the betterment of the police department," said Chief Browning.

Pfeuffer, who has been assistant chief on a trial basis since the death of his father-in-law, Assistant Chief Billie Henderson last May, will return to patrol duty.

Latham, with more years of actual police experience than any member of force, has been with the Colorado City department since Oct. 4, 1957.

Prior to his move here Latham was a peace officer in East Texas. His wife is a teacher in Kelley Elementary School.

There is another change in police personnel, Colorado City loses a patrolman to Snyder.

Nick Martinez, who has served approximately six years in two tenures as patrolman, was on duty for the last time Tuesday night.

He resigned and will report immediately to Snyder Police Department, where he begins at a salary $80 more per month than his Colorado City pay and with 20 less duty hours a week.

A replacement had not been named Wednesday.

Martinez entered police work here, then resigned to move to San Antonio. He rejoined the local force more than a year ago.

Leach Resigns In Surprise Action

County Clerk Gilbert Leach resigned his office Wednesday three months before expiration of his term.

"I am quitting now and going home," he told his office staff and County Judge Elmer Martin.

His action, a surprise at this time to the entire Courthouse, ends 27 years of service as county clerk.

Leach, who announced last year that he would not be a candidate for re-election this year, had been expected to continue as clerk until the end of his term, then retire.

But Wednesday was his last day.

Mrs. Marie Bassham, chief deputy clerk, is the Democratic Party nominee for the office without an opponent in the November General Election.

Leach requested that Commissioner's Court name her his successor.

Her four-year elective term begins Jan. 1, and it is expected that Commissioners Court now will officially name her to fill the unexpired three months of Leach's final term.

County Judge Martin said that Mrs. Bassham, as chief deputy clerk, will assume direction of the clerk's office until Commissioner's Court officially acts on the resignation.

"I have worked with Mr. Leach in this office for 17 years," Mrs. Bassham said, "and this is a surprise. . . a shock for him to retire before his term expires."

Leach's resignation was officially revealed in a brief

typewritten statement to Commissioners Court.

"I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all of the people of Mitchell County for having let me serve as Mitchell County Clerk for the past 21 years, but due to my health I am submitting my resignation to become effective Oct. 1, 1970," the statement said.

"And, may I suggest to you and the Commissioners that you appoint my First Deputy, Marie Bassham, to fill out my unexpired term of office."

"Again, may I say thanks to every one for their fine cooperation during my term of office."

Leach, who had been unbeatable political candidate as he was repeatedly re-elected county clerk, was employed in the county tax office before being elected to the office he held for 21 years.

Mrs. Bassham won the Democratic Party nomination last May without a runoff, defeating two male opponents.

She is a native of Colorado City, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wood. Three of her brothers--Bill, Jack and Eugene Wood--reside here.

SWCD Zone To Elect New Head

A new director for Zone II of Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District will be elected Monday.

The special election meeting is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. in Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room, according to Travis Turner, chairman of district board of directors.

Outgoing officer for the zone is Warren Anderson, completing his second term as director and presently serving as vice chairman of board.

Eligible to vote are landowner residents of Zone II (all land in Mitchell County located north of Highway 80 and east of Colorado River), Turner said. New director will be elected from nominations made in the Monday meeting.

Current board of directors for Turner and Anderson are Jimmy Harrison, secretary; D. M. Smith and Morgan Wright, members.

All landowners in the zone are invited to attend the election session by the district chairman.

Three Named For VFW District Meet

Three members of VFW Post 9178 have been named as delegates to district meeting in Stamford Saturday and Sunday.

They are Gerald Frizzell, post commander, M. F. Bearden and Don DeLaney.

Accident Toll Up

Weekend Wrecks Kill 1, Hurt 3

A series of weekend highway accidents has left a toll of one dead, another critically injured and two more hurt.

All but one were in the early morning hours of Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Killed in the first of the five serious wrecks was Mrs. Pauline Nix, Andrews cafe owner.

A passenger in her car, Mrs. Idell West of Andrews, was in critical condition in Methodist Memorial Hospital in Lubbock, where she was moved after emergency treatment in Colorado City.

The two women were traveling in a 1965 Pontiac when the car went out of control about 10:45 p.m. on Interstate 20.

State Highway Patrolman Jim

Mauldin said the driver lost control of the vehicle while attempting to pass another car. Her auto went into the center median, skidded 260 feet, crashed into a concrete culvert, then leaped 30 feet into the air before landing on its top, and overturning several times.

A car driven by Robert Castro of Lorraine blew a tire and careened into a highway sign in Lorraine at 4 a.m. Saturday. Castro was treated in Root Memorial Hospital for a broken leg.

At 2:30 a.m. Sunday, Patrolman Mauldin was called to his third accident of the weekend 7 miles west of Westbrook. Tommy Daniel of Colorado City, driving a 1962 Pontiac, escaped injury when his car went out of control and ran off the highway into a concrete culvert.

One hour later Sunday at 3:30 a.m. Clinton Crawford received cuts and abrasions in a one-car accident a mile west of Colorado City. The 1965 Chevrolet El Camino he was driving hit a culvert, swerved back across the road and struck a guard rail.

Mauldin said the driver apparently went to sleep. A passenger, Elmer Davis, also of Lovington was not hurt.

Also escaping injury was Frederick Austin of Lamesa, whose 1963 Volkswagen went out of control on wet pavement and hit a culvert four miles west of Colorado City at 3:40 a.m. Monday.

Wolves Travel Play Ector Friday

Colorado High Wolves travel west on Interstate 20 Friday hopeful the route is safer than last time.

They'll be in Odessa for an 8 p.m. kickoff against Odessa Ector, last of three opponents before District 3-AAA title play.

Last time they traveled west on the interstate, the Wolves took a licking in every department as they were upset by AA Coahoma, 24 to 18.

They had been expected to lose in their opener to No. 1 state ranked Monahans. But the Coahoma loss was a stunner.

The Wolfpack had an open date last weekend, though, and they should be ready for Ector. Only sour note this week has been a new injury for Skip Maines, the hardluck running back.

Ector is like Colorado City--without a win this season. Last Saturday Ector's winged T was knocked down by 3-AAA Lake View, 26 to 21.

The Wolves will board their bus Friday at the gym immediately after the 2 p.m. pep rally. Quarterback Club is urging fans to be there to cheer the team onto the freeway.

Booster of the week is Jack Pharris and dad of the week is Emmitt Banks, both selected Tuesday night by Quarterback Club.

Starting Colorado City's football action this week will be 8th Grade, traveling to Snyder for a 5 p.m. with Snyder Lamar.

Thursday night at 7:30 Colorado City "B" will meet Coahoma "B" here.

Parade Prize Winner

Winning $50 top prize in Mitchell County Fair's parade was this float by Business & Professional Club depicting with Mrs. Don DeLaney, Mrs. Lena Porter, and Mrs. Chester Hart a community of lake recreation, industry and agriculture. Evening Lions won second and $25 and Looney Home Demonstration was third for $15. Top in the kid's decorated bikes competition were Scott Morris and Jim Jordan ($5); Janet and Jeff Wallwork ($4 and $3); Renee Jones $2 and Don Jones $1.

4-H Banquet

Top Awards to 25

Annual Mitchell County 4-H achievement banquet will be Saturday, 5 p.m., in Colorado High School cafeteria.

Highlighting program activities will be presentation of Gold Star awards to the outstanding girl and boy in 4-H work.

Twenty-five awards - including citizenship, leadership, achievement and Project - will be presented in addition to top county awards.

Spar clip awards are to be presented to two friends of 4-H work.

Principal speaker for the late afternoon banquet affair will be Tad Corbett, adolescence psychologist at Big Spring State Hospital. Also on program will be the Swingers, a Colorado High School choral group directed by Miss Margaret Mathis, high school choral director.

Westport 4-H Club members are in charge of decorations.

CONVERSATION CORNER

GROWN-UP people have always enjoyed quoting children and teen-agers -- their kids, their grandkids, kids they teach, and kids who come to visit.

Art Linkletter, who collected sayings of children and put them in his book "Kids Say The Darndest Things" is not by himself in appreciating what the young ones say. Nearly everybody does it on occasion.

Favorite of the week came from a C-City grandmother who was quoting her Junior High granddaughter. Her little story went like this: "Go get me the scissors, Hon. Your bangs are too long and I want to trim them so your hair won't

3 Teams Tie

Three teams of players tied for third place in Monday Evening Duplicate at Colorado City Community Center.

They were Mrs. Noey Smith and Mrs. Joe Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wistrand, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Handie.

Mrs. and Mrs. Glen Choo of Loraine were top winners in the weekly session.

Mrs. Jack Coffee of Loraine and Mrs. H. E. Goodwin were second high team.

always be down in your eyes, she told her granddaughter.

"OH NO!" said her granddaughter in a voice full of anguish. "Do you want me to look HETARDED?"

TEEN-AGERS have a way with language. Have you noticed that this season whatever discepts them has become "gross"?

Next month, of course, it will be something else because once grown-up people catch on and start calling things "gross", the younger set will start working on some other word.

Last thing any teen-ager really wants is the closing of the generation gap or the solving of the communications gap, either.

THE LITTLE pre-school and primary school ones are easier to quote. They are, usually, the only truly uninhibited people you'll ever meet. Inhibitions are not born. They are acquired as people get involved in the growing up process--a necessary process, like straightening the teeth, and often just as painful.

CHILDREN are extremely literal especially before they become what we call literate.

REMEMBER how people used to say a lot "You can bet your bottom dollar." My mother still likes to recall how her own little boy, then aged two, took that phrase literally.

Seeing his mother put a silver dollar in the collection plate at church he whispered loudly, "Muvver, is that your bottom dollar?"

READER'S DIGEST, which also specializes in child talk, tells in its newest issue of the little boy who went to school for his first day, then came home saying nearly all the kids cried some.

"Nearly everybody cried but me and I wanted to cry," he announced. "Asked why, he said 'Well, when I looked around, I was the only guy there that I knew'."

KNEW a little girl once who heard her grandmother exclaim, "Oh dear, I don't have the sense to get in out of the rain today."

The little girl went to the window and shook her head in sympathy. "Well, don't worry about it, Grandmother," she said. "It isn't even raining."

ANY former kindergarten teacher has a rich memory crowded with things children had a way of saying.

There was a birthday party at MCK (Mrs. Coffey's Kindergarten) once with cake and five candles provided by the birthday boy's mother. The children made birthday wishes one by one.

Last little girl to wish and blow stood up and said simply, "I wish... I wish I had a horse."

It was the most natural thing in the world to the other children. They just echoed as one voice, "Me, too."

CHILDHOOD is not always all wonderful. But one of its most wonderful aspects is saying what comes naturally.

Still like to remember a friend's little girl who went home from her third piano lesson, flung herself on the bed and wept. "You are wasting Daddy's money, Mother. I still can't play one thing."

TROUBLE with being a grown-up person is that you've had to learn one way or another to say mostly what is expected to you. That's etiquette.

To wish you had a horse at somebody else's birthday party is not considered polite after the age of five.

And that's why, maybe, grown-up people don't often get quoted by Art Linkletter or Reader's Digest or even Conversation Corner.

HATTIE RAMSDELL, who lives in Brussels, Belgium; did send a note along with a page from the International Herald Tribune quoting somebody named David Wayne.

Mr. Wayne bravely writes that auto drivers in Belgium are the worst drivers in the world. "Belgian drivers are the most feared by tourists and the most unpredictable," he holds.

Makes a West Texas wonder if the man has driven in Dallas or Houston lately.

SEEN LATELYS on the home front included Glenn Thomas on the downtown scene. J. A. Sadler, Jr., city manager, who looks more like his father, the late Mayor Sadler, every day.

Saw Wayne Dubose (Major Retired) who is recently back from showing his wife a lot of Europe on their vacation tour. He and Joyce Wilkerson, Lone Star man, were in a coffee-break together.

Greeted Margaret (Mrs. Pat Jr.) McKinney, Vera Simpson, Mozelle (Mrs. George) Callender, Annie Dixon talking the fun of the B&PW convention held here last weekend. Jim Mauldin and his pretty wife Linda who was wearing one of the new "wet look" raincoats. Lou Landeros (Mrs. Joe).

HEAR TELL that C-City was visited last weekend by several young couple who grew spheres.

Guests of Clem and Frances Myers and of Mrs. Edna Simmons were Bill and Nancy (Myers) Simmons and their children Scott and Sally Ann of Oklahoma City. Sally Ann is a little doll just six weeks old.

Also visiting Mrs. Simmons were her son Kenny Simmons, his wife Sue (Blackard) and their son Shawn (or is it Sean?) of Austin. The little family visited Sue's parents the Joe Blackards, too, naturally, Kenny, Prudential man, and Sue are both taking several courses at University of Texas.

The Simmons daughter Deanna and her husband Richey Cary of Denver, Colorado, divided the weekend between his mother Mrs. Garland Cary, First State Bank employee in Loraine, and Deanna's mother Mrs. Simmons. Richey is with Standard Oil.

SUNDAY was a big day at the home of Bea and Lloyd (Pint) Richards over on Watson St. They talked to both their sons. Wesley of San Diego USN Base called to say he, his wife Wanda, and their children Kim and Lloyd were still safe in the face of the worst fire in California history.

Then the Richards called son Roger, submarine crew member based at Pearl Harbor, to wish him a happy birthday.

Recent guests of Bea and Pint have been her cousin Dr. James Hupner, staff member at Rusk State Hospital, and his sons Kirk and Jim. The doc-

Spade HD Plans Abilene Tour

Members of Spade Home Demonstration Club will tour West Texas Rehabilitation Center and weather station in Abilene.

Plans for the upcoming educational trip were made Sept. 22 in a regular meeting in ranch home of Mrs. Wright Hock.

Mrs. Robert Bolin spoke club prayer and led recreation for the afternoon program. Mrs. Hock, club president, read devotional thoughts.

Mrs. Stanley Moore, home demonstration agent, was speaker for the afternoon program of public speaking.

She emphasized the need of remembering that listeners have a few basic rights - the right to expect interesting and useful ideas, to see and hear a speaker who talks with the audience.

"Basically," the speaker said, "public speaking is enlarged conversation and it should be enlarged enough to fill the room and all that are there."

Look the audience in the eye, she advised. "Notice how they react. As a speaker you are leader. To be a leader you must have respect of others and yourself."

Mrs. Moore cautioned members to prepare thoroughly, get enthusiastic about subject, act with complete confidence and don't overdo self-respect.

"As listeners, we have the responsibility of listening effectively, weighing and considering what the speaker has carefully and skillfully presented," Mrs. Moore concluded.

Refreshments of coffee, punch, mints, cinnamon toasted doughnuts topped with ice cream and nuts were served from a table covered with white linen and centered with an antique-fruit bowl featuring an arrangement of permanent grapes.

Guests in addition to Mrs. Moore were Mrs. J. J. Light and Mrs. Roy Wilson.

Members present were Mrs. Herman Salley, Mrs. Bolin, Mrs. Ross Hargrove, Mrs. Nolan Fincher and Mrs. Hock.

Next meeting of the group will be Oct. 13, 2 p.m. in home of Mrs. Salley. "Yeast Breads and Cool Rise Yeast Breads" will be program topic.

Pollution fighters. Every Olds engine is designed to cut emissions, run efficiently on no-lead, low-lead or regular fuel.

Double comfort. New Flo-Thru Ventilation features both upper and lower outlets for greater control better air circulation.

Solid security. Side-guard beams are welded into the doors for protection. One of many Olds safety features for 1971.

Cutlass Supreme. Oldsmobile's "little" Oldsmobile places all-out elegance within the reach of nearly every new car buyer. And does it so beautifully—with a classic profile outside.

deep comfort and luxurious appointments inside. If you're longing for elegance—and economy—you and Cutlass Supreme are made for each other.

IN HIS FOOTSTEPS

Today brings a change of faces on East Second Street. L. J. Taylor, long respected in our business community, hands over the reins of one of our oldest retail businesses to a younger hand, Bobby Sparks.

Taylor, who was associated with pioneer Jerold Riordan in the store before assuming sole ownership, is retiring for a bit of ease and leisure.

In his footsteps now comes Bobby, who even is younger than L.

Our best wishes to both—to L. J. Taylor for his years of good business for our community and to Bobby Sparks for loads of success as he becomes another young man finding opportunity here at home.

Supper Honors Mrs. Beeman, Self Culture Club President

Mrs. Paul Beeman, new president of Self Culture Club, was honored at a re-assembly salad supper Sept. 22 in home of Mrs. R. M. Reed.

"Meeting Today's Challenge" was topic of Mrs. Beeman's president address.

"It is a challenge in itself to have the honor of leadership in an organization such as Self Culture Club," the new president said.

"We cannot be content to rest on the laurels of our past leaders who through enthusiasm and dedicated efforts left us such a rich heritage."

Mrs. Beeman emphasized the need to take advantage of prevailing opportunity to move forward to "meet new challenges and responsibilities."

"For many years this club has been weaving itself into constructive policies of its present state," she continued, "each year becoming a large factor which made better homes, better schools, better citizenship and better individual culture. Thus we want to continue to grow in such policies."

Mrs. Beeman closed remarks with a poem, "Club Going."

Mrs. A. H. Jackson read club constitution and by-laws during a business meeting. Club

5 Get Double Crafts Awards

Five persons received two merit awards each for entries in crafts division of last week end's Mitchell County Fair.

history was presented by Mrs. Wilfred Fox.

Club members voted to contribute items to gift bags for service men serving in foreign countries.

Fourteen members and a guest, Loretta Simpson, attended the opening club fete. Vases of small chrysanthemums decorated dining tables. Yearbooks marked each place setting.

They were Swenson Boyd, Dr. W. S. (Bill) Rhode, Roy Ritchey, Mrs. Bobby Kimmel and Mrs. Glenn Wilson.

Boyd received a blue ribbon for wood craft entry and a white award for a second craft in miscellaneous division.

Dr. Rhode's pottery entries were judged blue and red and Mrs. Glenn Wilson got two red ribbons for entries in decoupage and miscellaneous.

Prize Winner

Members of Looney Home Demonstration Club were winners of third prize in last Thursday's Mitchell County Fair Parade in downtown Colorado City. Float featured a salute to farming and ranching, agribusiness, industry and recreation in Mitchell County. Evening Lions Club entry was second place parade winner. Business and Professional Women won first place.

Installation Dinner Honors New Officers of 1949 Club

Trees were likened to people recently as Mrs. Warren Anderson installed new officers for 1949 Study Club at a dinner in Villa Inn.

Auxiliary Gift To Kindergarten

A cash gift of $5 has been sent to Kelley Elementary bilingual kindergarten by VFW Auxiliary.

The contribution, to be used to finance daily snacks for kindergarten students, was given following a regular business session in VFW Post.

Plans were begun for a district meeting to be Saturday and Sunday hosted in Stamford.

Local Auxiliary members voted to contribute an electric skillet for a district fund raiser project. They will also be responsible for a basket of groceries to be sold with money going into VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"They never stop growing as long as they live," Mrs. Anderson said, "... forever climbing upward and upward, reaching for the top, for the fulfillment of their dreams."

Mrs. Anderson, guest for the 1949 installation dinner, used parts of a tree—roots, trunk, limbs, fruit and leaves—in her program.

Officers taking office were Mrs. Doug Chitsey, president; Mrs. Don Adair, vice-president; Mrs. Bill Holbert, recording secretary; Mrs. Joe Weaver, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. W. A. Findley, treasurer; Mrs. Trevlyn Kelley, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Arlene Morris, historian-librarian.

In beginning the ceremony, Mrs. Anderson read "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer.

Invocation for the meeting was spoken by Mrs. Fred McKay. Mrs. Don Adair reviewed club history for past years.

Mrs. Arlene Morris said benediction.

Mrs. Chitsey presented her president's message and Mrs. Don Dulin presented yearbooks.

Mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Mrs. Trevlyn Kelley, immediate past president. Place cards and programs carried the club's course of study theme, "Climb 'til You Reach Your Dream."

Attending were Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Dulin, Mrs. Bob Chalker, Mrs. Truman Nix, Mrs. Buddy Everett, Mrs. Rick Perkin, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Findley, Mrs. Chitsey.

Also, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Adair, Mrs. Joe Weaver and Mrs. Bill Holbert.

Mrs. Wallace Price, director for new bilingual kindergarten program in Colorado City Schools, will be speaker for next meeting Oct. 19 in home of Mrs. Nix. Mrs. Holbert will be program leader.

Canning and freezing foods are a family affair for the Root Hospital and his wife, Jean, and their children - Holly, Susie, Greg and Scooter. This summer they canned over 3,000 pints and quart jars of food as well as freezing other products - all this while adding finishing touches to the home they built themselves at Lake Champion.

And the busy family also found time to build an entry for Thursday's fair parade.

The Hicklins have a special 12 x 20 foot storage building for their small "grocery store."

Sgt. and Mrs. Shepherd and children, Michael, Kenneth, Gary, Suzanne, Jeanette and Katrina visited his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Bud Shepherd of Lorraine before Sgt. Shepherd's departure.

Mrs. Shepherd and children will be at home in Lorraine
while Sgt. Shepherd is overseas.

Busy Family
Hicklins Lead Fair

Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Hicklin had 26 different entries of canned food in Mitchell County Fair.
That's a lot of entries for one family.
Making it a little more unique, though, is the fact that all but two of those products, carrots and pine apples, were grown in Mitchell County this year.
And from their numerous entries, the Hicklins were awarded 16 ribbons.
Sgt. Arthur (Max) Shepherd of Lorraine left recently for Okinawa and re-assignment for a one-year tour of duty.
Sgt. and Mrs. Shepherd and
children, Michael, Kenneth, Gary, Suzanne, Jeanette and Katrina visited his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Bud Shepherd of Lorraine before Sgt. Shepherd's departure.
Mrs. Shepherd and children
will be at home in Lorraine
while Sgt. Shepherd is overseas.
