Funds Bill Requires No New Taxes

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas legislators approved today a compromise $446.8 million one-year general appropriation bill that will not take any new tax money out of Texans' pockets.

The Senate vote was 27-4, the House 142-4.

House members expected to vote soon on a $48 million teacher pay raise which will use up all of the $33.4 million left in general revenue, plus additional money made available by bookkeeping maneuvers.

The appropriation bill includes the $3 million needed for additional teacher retirement costs because of the teacher pay boost.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said the measure, the product of a 10-member Senate-House Conference Committee, was "superior" to either the original Senate or House bills.

"Certainly this measure cannot be considered an instrument of frugality. It increases general revenue spending by approximately 38 per cent over the current year," Smith told the Senate before the bill was brought up by Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Smith, snapping once at Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas to pay attention to what he was saying, added: "It is not perfect. I do not endorse it word-for-word and line-for-line. Under the circumstances in which we were placed by a midstream switch from biennial to one-year financing, it is the best we can do. The report before you is realistic, reasonable, fair and adequate."

Aikin said although two months ago he wanted a two-year spending bill, I recommend this bill to you. I know it is not perfect, but it is good bill that every member of the Senate could vote for."

The appropriation bill now goes to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert for certification that it can be paid for by anticipated state revenue, which is expected to come shortly. Then it will go to Gov. John Connally for signature.

The measure, ready for legislators to look at Fridayn was brought up today after a 14-13 vote cut off debate on a teacher tenure bill which threatened to tie up the Senate.

'General Conflict' Feared By Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reported to the Security Council today that he feared a clash between Israel and Egypt over Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran would "inevitably set off a general conflict" in the Middle East.

He gave that estimate in a six-page report to the 15-nation council. The report followed his talk with President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo early this Thant called for "a breathing spell which will allow tension to subside from its present explosive level." He urged all parties to exercise restraint to let the Security Council deal with the underlying causes of the situation.

The secretary-general said that in his talk with Nasser Wednesday night, Nasser repeated the Egyptian position "substantially as set forth" in his Monday night speech, in which Nasser announced a blockade of Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran connecting the Red Sea with the Gulf of Aqaba and the Israeli port of Elath.

Diplomatic sources reveal Israel—in an effort to avoid an immediate showdown with Egypt—has ordered its ships not to attempt to sail through the disputed Strait of Tiran at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba.

This report circulated here on the eve of a report from Secretary-General U Thant to the Security Council on his talk in Cairo this week with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The sources said Israel had instructed her ships for the present not to attempt to go through the strait, her water exit to East Africa and Asia from the Israeli port of Elath.

Israel regards it as an international waterway. The Egyptians claim it is territorial.

Egyptian troops have replaced U.N. troops at Sharm el Sheikh on the strait since Thant pulled out the U.N. Middle East force last week on Egypt's detroops would prevent Israeli ships from passing through. His foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad, said in a French radio-television interview that any Israeli ships trying to do so would "be confiscated."

Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol declared that Israel would "protect ships of its own flag exercising the right of free and innocent passage" through the strait.

Israel's U.N. Ambassador Gideon Rafael, would not comment on when Israel would try to send a ship through.

Thant, who returned from Cairo Thursday night, spent most of Friday writing a report to the council on his talk with Nasser. The 15-nation council is expected to meet soon after it receives the report.

In a preliminary report to the council last week, Thant said withdrawal of the U.N. force left the situation on the Egypt-Israel line "more menacing than at any time" since the Suez war in 1956.

More Arrests In Valley Labor Rift

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Rangers arrested 20 persons Friday night and early today on charges of unlawful assembly as a farm labor union attempted unsuccessfully to picket a trainload of market-bound melons from Starr County.

A United Auto Worker's union representative, a minister, a school teacher and an Air Forcee captain were among those arrested during picketing at Mission and near Harlingen.

The first arrests came about three hours after a four - man Texas advisory committee to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission concluded two days of meetings at Rio Grande City.

Most of the union members arrested sad they had testified at the hearing concerning the use of Texas Rangers in the border county.

The arrested pickets were arraigned at Edinburg and Harlingen and three had been released early today on $500 bond.

Representatives of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, said their attempt to halt the train was by placing "informational pickets" along the railroad line from Rio Grande City to Harlingen.

The first arrest came when a group of union members lined up beside the railroad near the center of downtown Mission. The Rangers arrested 17 persons at Mission, including the Rev. Ed Krueger, a United Church of Christ minister, four women and Pancho Medrano of Dallas, a representative of United Auto Worker's union president, Walter Reuther.

The arrests at Harlingen came when Danny Lucio, a Pan American College student, stood with a picket sign at a grade crossing. Manuel Becerra, a teacher at Riverside Independent School located near Harlingen, was arrested when he asked a Texas Ranger to identify himself.

Tempo Mounting In Viet Conflict

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported powerful new assaults on Communist troops today in the sensitive border provinces of South Vietnam while American jets smashed again at North Vietnam's MIG airfields and a power plant inside Haiphong.

The raids cost the United States one downed Navy Skyhawk jet Friday, the 561st plane downed over North Vietnam. Returning pilots said one Soviet-built surface to air missile exploded 2,500 feet over the Kua Kam River and showered debris on a merchant ship moored in Haiphong. The nationality of the ship was not known.

Both on the ground and in the air the war appeared to be mounting in tempo.

A spokesman said the Marines have pulled all their men out of the southern half of the demilitarized zone, which they entered 10 days ago to wipe out Communist infiltration. Earlier today Marines had been locked with North Vietnamese troops on Hill 117 in the zone.

"As of now there are no Marines in the DMZ," a spokesman said. "But the situation around Con Thien remains fluid."

There was heavy fighting reported in the three northernmost provinces of South Vietnam. These are the provinces of traditional political opposition and where the Communists have focused massive efforts by guerrillas and regular North Vietnamese forces.

The South Vietnamese sent more than 1,000 soldiers, supported by armored vehicles, on a sweep today just outside the ancient city of Hue, the capital of Thua Thien Province.

Within three miles, the South Vietnamese hit about 500 Communist troops and fought a three-hour battle, with air and artillery support. Sixty Communists were reported killed.

To the south in Quang Tin Province, U.S. Marines lifted the security wraps on Operation Union City 2, south of Da Nang. In the preceding 24 hours Marines killed 172 Communist soldiers in a series of sharp battles through thick underbrush and rugged terrain.

CAROLINE CHRISTENS MAMMOTH SHIP

Carrier Named For John Kennedy

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) —Little Caroline Kennedy stood by today to christen a mammoth aircraft carrier named for her martyred father, and President Johnson offered a prayer that the USS John F. Kennedy's years "will be years of peace."

Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her 6-year-old son, John, were on hand, too, with a throng of other family members and thousands of spectators for the ceremonial naming of the 1,000-foot vessel and the breaking of the customary bottle of champagne on the bow.

But 9-year-old Caroline and Lyndon B. Johnson shared the honors.

Johnson's remarks were prepared to precede the actual christening.

Because John F. Kennedy understood that strength is essential to sustain freedom and recognized that we cannot afford to mark time or stand in place, the President said, he asked Congress in 1963 for the funds for this $188.55 million carrier.

"In the year 2000—and beyond," Johnson said, "this majectic ship we christen today may still be sailing on the oceans of the world. We pray that her years will be years of peace. But if she must fight, both the flag she flies and the name she bears will carry a profound message to friend and foe alike."

No president, Johnson said, understood his nation's historic role and purpose better than John F. Kennedy, and no man knew the burdens of that role more deeply.

"And no man," he said, "ever gave more."

The present President honored the former president in another way today by announcing enroute to the Virginia ceremony that he had signed Friday night a bill making the house where Kennedy was born 50 years ago next Monday the John Fitzgerald Kennedy national historic site.

"For years to come," Johnson said in a statement, "for great numbers of visitors it will make more rich, more vivid and more meaningful the memory of a great American."

Warships Stage Korean Gun Battle

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — An unknown number of South Korean naval vessels engaged a 20-minute gun fight with North Korean shore batteries today across the armistice border off the west coast of Korea, military sourcecs said.

The fight started near the Youngpyong Island, 50 miles northwest of Inchon when the Reds opened fire on South Korean warships patrolling the area to protect fishing operations, they said.

It was not known whether either side suffered cacsualties or damages. It was the first gun battle between South Korean navy craft and Communist coastal batteries on the west coast since the 1953 armistice.

In January, a South Korean patrol craft was sunk by Communist shore batteries on the east coast and 40 persons were killed.

It was not known whether any of the South Korean naval vessels in the area crossed the demarcation line during their patrol work.

Spokesmen for the Korean Defense Ministry and the U.N. Command said they had no information on the gun battle.

Youngpyong Island is located less than 10 miles from the nearest Communist shore on the west coast.

One source said there were more than 10 South Korean naval vessels in the area when the Communists opened fire. He said the South Korean side suffered no damages nor any casualties because the Communist coastal shells failed to reach the area.

The newspaper Donga Ilbo reported that a South Korean fishing boat was abducted by what was believed to be a Communist naval craft in the same general area Friday.

Quoting military authorities, the paper said a South Korean naval vessel patrolling the area observed the hijacking on its radar but dense fog prevented it from going to the scene.

Blackout Cripples Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A power failure crippled downtown Cincinnati today, disrupting normal city activity and forcing three major department stores to close.

All power in a square-mile downtown area was shut down at 6:30 a.m. so repairs could be made in a cable failure that had touched off the power crisis at 11:35 p.m. Friday.

Hotel and office building elevators were at a standstill. Essential electric facilities in restaurants and other business places were out.

Police reported numerous instances of looting and vandalism.

The first indication of trouble came with the short-circuiting of the 13,200 volt cable strung on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway bridge over the Ohio River, which also feeds power to Newport, Ky., at the southern end of the span.

A utility spokesman said the short-circuit caused a feed-back explosion to a generator in the company's West End plant, thus spreading the darkness.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother whom I haven't seen for 21 years. I was 9 and my brother was 4 when she gave us away to a neighbor to bring up. I am now happily married and have two small children.

Out of the blue my mother wrote saying she wants to visit me and see her grandchildren. I wrote back making her welcome. Now large boxes and crates have begun arriving here, addressed to my mother. My husband says it looks to him like she is planning to live with us. He says the day she arrives he will tell her she can stay for one month and that is the limit.

Abby, I feel sorry for her as she has had a rough life. Altho she hasn't been much of a mother, she has paid for her mistakes, and if I can make the rest of her life a little happier, I want to do all I can. She is only 47 years old.

I can't blame my husband, but it's my house, too. What should I do?

TORN

DEAR TORN: Don't make any judgments or decisions until your mother arrives. I do believe, however, if her presence creates any problems betwen your husband and you, you owe your husband more thán the "mother" you describe. (P. S. I don't know who raised you, dear lady, but somewhere along the way you acquired an admirable character, showing understanding and compassion.)

• • •

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that mine is not a "have to" wedding. Clyde (fake name) and I have been engaged since last Christmas. The problem is, I think I am pregnant and my wedding is 4 months off. I know I shouldn't wear a white gown and veil, but I already bought mine and if I can get into if I plan to wear it. I haven't told anybody except Clyde, but I may have to tell my mother because I feel rotten in the morning and she may guess the reason. If I am pregnant, would it be O. K. to go ahead and have a big church wedding like I planned? We would tell people later that the baby was premature. Please rush your answer to me as I am nervous and confused.

CLYDE'S BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: Under the circumstances, I would suggest you have a simple wedding — and soon! Don't count on fooling anyone who can count to nine. Least of all the clergyman who will officiate at your wedding and will be called upon shortly thereafter to baptize the baby.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A woman was shocked. She had received an invitation to a cocktail party from "The old Mrs. John Doe" in honor of "The new Mrs. John Doe."

Well, I wonder what she would have thought of me. My ex-husband and his new wife lived with my new husband and me for four months because they were broke. Next Saturday I am giving a baby shower for my ex-husband's bride. She is due in 2 weeks. We get along very well — all four of us. Just wanted you to know that "good sports" like us are not as rare as you may think.

"GOOD SPORT" IN BERKELEY

DEAR ABBY: What's so "sporting" about a divorcee giving a party to introduce her ex-husband's new wife? I am a divorced man, and for years I have been looking for some nice guy who will marry my ex-wife. Believe me, if I ever find one I will throw a party for the two of them the likes of which this town has never seen. Sign me, "Another good sport in Beverly Hills," or . . .

Bill Synchronizes Counting Of Votes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A bill requiring all California election ballots to be counted at the same time—no matter when the polls close—passed the Senate 22-0 Friday and was sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Sen. George E. Danielson, D-Los Angeles, said news media thus would be prevented from announcing computer predictions of election results before some of the polls close.

California polls close at 8 p.m. in large cities but an hour earlier in most other areas.

American Business Women Reflect On Americanism

The Scurry Charter Chapter of ABWA held their regular monthly dinner meeting at the American Restaurant on May 25, at 7 p.m. There were 16 members present.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Bertie Smith, secretary at the Chamber of Commerce office, and Mr. Gene Merrifield, manager of the Chamber. Mr. Merrifield delivered the main address for the evening on "Americanism." Having been at one time a Prisoner of War, the speaker was particularly zealous about his subject, and inspired in his listeners a new depth of patriortsm.

With Independence Day very close at hand, Mr. Merrifield briefed his audience on the adoption of the Declaration of Independence by the Second Continental Congress on July 4, 1776. He reminded them of the valor and spilled blood required of our forefathers to obtain the liberty we enjoy, and to retain it through the years. Stating that the most important step in any endeavor is the drawing up of a blueprint, it was pointed out that the blueprint for our liberty and freedom was drawn up on that first Independence Day, and it has stood through the years as a priceless heritage — carrying with it the greatest blessings ever known to any Nation.

Mr. Merrifield urged parents to instill in their children a knowledge of the beauty and depth of meaning cocntained in the Declaration of Independence, quoting in part: "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." The speaker emphasized the dependence upon Divine Guidance recognized by these early patriots in the drafting of the blueprint for freedom and in pledging of their lives, fortunes and honor to uphold that freedom.

Quoting from Daniel Webster, "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it." The speaker urged his listeners to remember that today the American flag flies over 50 states and islands of the two oceans — more than 205 million people owe it allegiance. It has been brought to this proud position by love and sacrifice, and we should do all in our power to preserve its honor and dignity, rededicating ourselves to better citizenship, to greater alertness against any and all encroachments upon our constitutional freedoms and rights, and to more active participation in the affairs of our government . . . . adding new glory to OLD GLORY.

Comparing the doubts, fears, and troubles faced by our forefathers with those faced by our nation today, Mr. Merrifield stated that a prayer uttered by George Washington, if made a part of our lives, coculd give us the strength and courage to face with calm confidence the problems of our own time:

"Almighty God, who has given this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will.

"Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners.

"Save us from violence, discord and confusion; from pride and arrogancy, and from every evil way.

"Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought out of many kindreds and tongues.

"Endure with the spirit of wisdom those whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be peace and justice at home, and that through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth.

"In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail.

"All of which we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

Mr. Merrifield also gave a brief report on "Operation Sparkle" which is in progress for the beautification of our town. Later Scurry Charter Chapter of ABWA voted unamimously to sponsor the beautification of the railroad crossing area near Safeway.

The Chapter installed two new members at the close of the business meeting. They were Mrs. Sue Trice, employee of C. R. Anthony Company, sponsord by Inez Teaff; and Mrs. Frances Tidwell, employee of Stinson Drug, sponsored by Vondell King.

tarts

1-½ cups sifted enriched flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
3-6 tablespoons water
1 pkg. (2-¾ oz.) custard mix, prepared
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peach slices, thawed and drained

Sift together flour and salt. Cut in shortening until pieces are size of small peas. Sprinkle with water, a little at a time, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and press together. Roll out ⅛-inch thick. Cut 8 or 9 circles; form over tops and sides of inverted muffin tins. Prick bottoms and sides; bake in preheated 450 degrees oven, 10 to 12 minutes, or until lightly browned. Remove from tins and cool on wire racks. Pour prepared custard mix into cooled shells. When firm, cover tops with peach slices. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

½ cup warm water
1 cup finely grated cheddar cheese, lightly packed
2 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
2 cups (about) unsifted regular flour (stir before measuring)

In a medium mixing bowl dissolve the yeast in the water. Add 2-3 cup of the cheese, sugar, salt, egg, butter and 1 cup of the flour. Beat until cheese is thoroughly mixed in — about 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer. Gradually and thoroughly mix in the rest of the flour. Fill 12 muffin cups (⅓-cup capacity) about half full of dough. Sprinkle remaining 1-3 cup cheese over tops. Cover and let rise in warm draft - free place until doubled — 1 to 1½ ours. Bake in 375 degree oven 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Blooper Bills May Slip By In Legislature's Final Rush

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP) — If the legislature passes a law taxing sidewalks or making murder a misdemeanor or abolishing your mother-in-law, it may be some time before anyone finds out.

Some lulus have slipped by in previous legislatures.

The regular sessions closes at midnight Monday, and the scurrying in the Capitol will be only slightly less frantic than that last dash in Pompeii.

Legislators are near the end of their endurance. Since January, they have worked on committees and in House and Senate sessions up to 20 hours a day except for weekends.

"Hey, look at old Partblue over there," a represntative will say. Partblue, a big man, slumbers in his chair while the House is considering a resolution honoring a "distinguished" Texan known to maybe five people outside his own county.

Everybody is dragging. Still, they flit around the floor the final days making deals and planning strategy. Attention is divided. Everyone is bidding for it.

Lobbyists cluster outside the door, grabbing representatives as they thread their way through.

Monolithic Corp., a weak enterprise grossing only $3 billion a year, needs protection, the lobbyist says, and should be exempted from the sales tax.

Inside the House, the clerk drones into the microphone: "House Bill 438 by Blowhard, an act to..."-and he seems to mumble the rest.

"What's four-thirty-eight?" one representative shouts above the din on the floor.

"Liquor by the drink," another replied.

"What!"

"Horse racing," another says.

The first one catches himself, realizes they are pulling his leg, and settles down.

The point is, the representatives do not know the content of every bill they vote on. it would be impossible. Even if they memorized all the bills introduced—more than 2,000—they cannot know all the amendments tacked on in committees they do not serve on.

And new bills are always being introduced. It takes a four-fifths vote to get one introduced after the first 60 days, but uncontested bills affecting only one county usually can get in without objection.

Members, this is just a local bill that establishes a hospital district in Bakedland County," a representative may say.

"Is there objection?" the speaker's voice booms through the loudspeaker. "The chair hears none. It is so ordered." and his big gavel slams down.

Sometimes such a bill is more than local.

In 1947, a representative who did not like the director of a certain division of a state agency introduced a "purely local" bill that included a repeal of a law identified only by article and number.

That law was the one that established the director's division, and the bill with the repeal passed both houses and was signed by the governor before—too late—it was discovered.

Sleepers are not always deliberate.

In 1945 and again in 1956, separate elections on constitutional amendments had to be held only a few days apart because someone put the wrong date in a legislative resolution.

The voters balloted on Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1945, in a general election that included a number of constitutional amendments. They had to go back two days later and vote on another amendment because "Thursday" had been written inadvertently in the resolution instead of "Tuesday."

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, 1956, Texans voted on a number of constitutional amendments in a general election, then had to vote again one week later on a single amendment because someone had written "second Tuesday in November" instead of "first Tuesday."

These errors cost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The enrolling and engrossing clerks catch almost 100 per cent of the errors—even at the hectic end of the session.

Last week, for example, they suggested a corrective amendment to a hospital district bill that provided for a five-member board that could transact business whenever six members were present.

The governor's staff can be counted on to catch the few errors the clerks miss, and a veto prevents the mistake from becoming law.

Every once in a while, however, a dilly gets by everybody.

This Role Is A Rub Around Ears

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Leonard Nimoy, bitten by the acting bug at the age of 8, is still infatuated with his profession although it presently rubs the skin off his ears.

Nimoy has worked up for 17 years through character parts to costar status in NBC's "Star Trek." He plays the part of an intragalaxy half-breed, Mr. Spock, in that science-fiction adventure series. Mr. Spock is half Vulcanian, half earthling, which means that his blood is green, he exhibits no human emotions and he has the ears of a faun. The rub is quite literally around the ears.

Those pointed ears are achieved by carefully molded and delicate bits of plastic that fit over his own ears. But no matter how carefully they are fitted and adjusted, there is some small amount of movement when he talks and moves his head. The result is that exquisite agony every woman has encountered from a pair of too-tight earrings.

"I sometimes change my ears several times in a day," Nimoy said, "but they still rub raw spots."

The show, renewed for another season, concentrates on the interplanetary adventures of a space ship of the 21st Century on a five-year mission among the stars. The official leader is William Shatner, captain of the ship, and he is a standard type of all-American hero — handsome, brave, strong and loyal. The Boston-reared Nimoy is the chief science officer. Somewhat to his own surprise, he has emerged as a sort of teen-age favorite and the most interesting character in the series.

"I don't quite understand it all," he said, "but I suspect that the character's remote quality—a sort of loneliness because he is different from the rest of the earthling crew—makes the kids react. I think they see some of their own feelings in his loneliness and inability to be one of the group."

Because Nimoy's television name is the same as that of Dr. Benjamin Spock, a nationally known child-care expert, the actor expected some incongruous fan mail. Actually, there has been little confusion.

Junior Editors Quiz on ST. BERNARD

QUESTION: Where did the St. Bernard get his name? Is he the biggest dog?

* * *

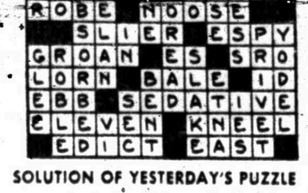

ANSWER: The highly intelligent St. Bernard gets its name from the monastery of Saint Bernard, in the Swiss Alps. Monks in this monastery developed these dogs as a special breed to be used in the rescue of travellers who had lost their way. After a St. Bernard, using his keen sense of smell, located a lost person, he would bark for help. Is he the biggest dog? This depends on whether you mean heaviest or tallest. Weighing up to 220 pounds or more, the St. Bernard is one of the heaviest dogs—but for height when standing up, the Irish Wolfhound is taller. As you can see by our picture of Jerry with his pet wolfhound, Merlo, these giant dogs are as high as a tall man when standing on their hind legs. But a Wolfhound, weighing from 105 to 140 pounds, is not as heavy as a St. Bernard. It is built for speed; for once this dog was used in hunting down wolves in Ireland and has been used for hunting timber wolves and coyotes in the United States. Our artist could not resist going to the other extreme and showing you the smallest dog, which is the cute little chihuahua.

Some King-Sized Troubles Crowding In On Wilson

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

The prime minister's problems for the moment overshadow successes such as a slow fight to insure that Britain pays its way in the world as a strong, influential member of the Atlantic alliance.

Wilson's difficulties range from political setbacks at home to diplomatic humiliations abroad.

Voters have demonstrated in countrywide local elections they no longer love him—partly because of his viselike squeeze on wages, prices, profits.

Left-wing followers have reviled him for refusing to denounce American policies in Vietnam. Right-wingers have fired at him for declining to come to terms with Ian Smith's assertion of white domination in Rhodesia.

The tide of world events, as in the Middle East, has been running against Wilson's Labor government.

Some sacred cows of Britain's vanishing empire are in danger of being slaughtered. Prosperous Hong Kong is under fierce pressure by Communist China. Spain is covetously eyeing the bastion of Gibraltar.

President Johnson is being portrayed as feeling something less than happy with Wilson.

His feeling is said to stem from a sense of grievance over Wilson's evident readiness to phase out Britain's military role east of Suez. As Americans see it, this readiness cuts across a personal undertaking Wilson once gave Johnson that Britain would maintain a military presence in the vast region.

The issue is bound to loom large when they meet in Washington. Insiders say Wilson means to straighten the record somewhat. His reassurances may run something like this:

The British Cabinet last month decided conditionally to speed the process of disengagement from the Asian mainland, meaning Singapore and Malaysia. Conditioning factors were to include:

—The reactions of such British allies and friends as Singapore, Malaysia, Australia, New Zealand and of course the Americans.

—The conclusion of satisfactory cost-sharing arrangements which would plug the drain of Britain's foreign exchange resources. In this context the British have in mind a variety of contingency schemes calling for the sharing of defense facilities by all countries participating in defense arrangements.

Wilson's runaway electoral victory 14 months ago seemed likely to leave him in power for up to a decade. Yet today left-wing Laborites, whose support thrust Wilson into the party's leadership, talk about the possibilities of replacing him. Their ability to influence any such upheaval is limited, however, partly because Edward Heath's opposition Conservatives would dearly like their enterprise to succeed.

He will relight his pipe and tell you musingly:

"A week's a long time in politics, you know."

In other words, Wilson knows he has time to stage a recovery, to transcend today's woes with tomorrow's wonders, to restore himself.

Barring some catastrophic development in the nation's affairs Wilson has four years of premiership ahead before he need expose his government and policies to the test of a general election.

On the day Wilson installed himself at 10 Downing St.—Oct. 16, 1964—he turned to his aides and said breezily:

"Nice little place we've got here."

Marine Brass Seeks To Scotch Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top Marine rejects reports the corps top brass is unhappy with both a lieutenant general and a rifle.

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, described Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt — recently recalled from Vietnam — as "my right hand" and termed the M16 rifle "superior in design to any we have ever had."

Both Walt and the M16 have been reported recently as out of favor with the Marine hierarchy.

But Greene told a Pentagon news conference: "Any implication that Gen. Walt has done less than an outstanding job in Vietnam is an injustice to a fine officer." He said reports reflecting on Walt "bothered me considerably."

Walt, who commanded the 75,000 Marines in Vietnam for two years, will become the corps' personnel chief. Some observers felt this amounted to putting him on the shelf.

But Greene said the personnel job is being expanded. He said the post has become one of the Marines' most crucial because of Vietnam manpower needs.

Greene also said he wanted to scotch reports the Marines are disatisfied with the M16, a lightweight fast-firing rifle issued to about 20,000 Marines in Vietnam.

A House Armed Services subcommittee plans to visit Vietnam June 1 to investigate complaints the weapon has malfunctioned in battle.

Greene conceded the M16 has malfunctioned on occasion, but said this also was true of rifles used by the corps in other wars.

He suggested some individual Marines may have been lax in maintaining the rifle, and added: "The M16 rifle is superior in design to any we have ever had, but you do have to take particular care of it."

Cambridge Preparing For Arrival Of Student Prince

By EDDY GILMORE

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — "When we first heard that Prince Charles would be coming to Cambridge a lot of us groaned and made sad faces."

Talking was an undergraduate at Trinity College which the 18-year-old heir to the British throne will enter as a freshman Oct. 7.

"I was very skeptical about the whole business," said the sophomore. "I'm less skeptical now."

All in all, however, Cambridge is taking the arrival of the student prince in stride. Among the more than 600 students you hear neither joy nor alarm. Fair play being anchored deeply in the British character, the young men at Cambridge will give His Royal Highness a fair shake.

Trinity College, 50 miles north of London, has had royalty before. For one, there was the Duke of York, who became King George VI. He was Prince Charles' grandfather.

Under present plans, the prince will study archeology and anthropology the first year. He can switch later, if he desires. He is expected to stay at Trinity two years and then go to a university overseas—to McGill in Canada, or perhaps to Harvard or Stanford.

Prince Charles will enter Trinity with about 225 freshmen. He will live in New Hall, a rather gloomy 123-year-old dormitory, and he will have neither central heating nor a private bath. To take a bath he will have to scamper across windy cobblestones to soap himself in a communal bathroom.

Like others, Prince Charles will probably cook his own breakfast in his apartment, which is called a "set."

Queen Elizabeth II, Charles' mother, and Prince Philip, his father, and Charles himself hope that he will be treated like any other student.

Says Lord Butler, the master of Trinity: "The idea is to lead him towards as natural a life as possible. The other undergraduates are anxious that no special arrangements be made for him. I'm sure they will treat him normally if we, the faculty, treat him as just one of them."

The student prince can entertain girls in his rooms, but all guests must leave by midnight. If he wants to give a dinner party for more than five persons—female or male—he will have to ask permission. Likewise for a cocktail party of more than 20.

There will be no hazing. It just isn't done at Trinity, prince or no prince.

Answering questions about possible girl friends and mothers of eligible girls in the area, Lord Butler says with a smile:

"Various aspiring ladies are panting to receive him."

Friends of the royal family say that Prince Philip, Charles' scientifically minded father, is anxious for him to study sciences.

"Up to now he's not shown his father's interest in science," says Lord Butler, "but that could come later."

Charles is interested in music and dramatics. He sings well and plays several instruments, including the viola.

What sort of future king will emerge? After talking to 71-year-old Dermot Morrah, who will publish an authorized biography of Charles next autumn, the London Times said: "A young man principally interested in the humanities, but fascinated by medicine and with an interest in biology, and an even stronger interest in anthropology and archaeology."

"A young man—perhaps to the disappointment of his father—who is quite unmechanical and devoid of a mathematical sense; a good horseman, in fact better than his father but a less good polo player, because unlike the more ruthless Prince Philip, he will insist on sparing his mount. A young man, in fact, who would have made a good schoolmaster, specializing perhaps in history and languages."

Reagan Asks Big Hike In Taxes

By BILL STALL

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gove. Ronald Reagon, less than five months after his inauguration, is the author of a tax increase program totaling more than $1 billion.

Reagon asked the legislature Friday to add $128 million to the $946 million tax boost asked in March. He said faltering business wasn't bringing in the revenue the state's fiscal forecasters had expected, forcing the boost.

In January, Reagan pledged that his new Republican administration would turn to new taxes only if it "becomes clear that economies alone cannot balance the budget."

Reagan soon found that the built-in mounting costs of running a state of nearly 20 million residents would overwhelm his economy efforts.

By the third week in January, aides spoke of the need of $273 million in new taxes to balance Reagan's first budget. The size of the tax increase has been rising since then.

Reagan's budget is well over $5 billion, largest in the state's history.

The major feature of Friday's request is extension of the sales tax to cover repair services and gas and electricity for other than residential use, raising another $80 million.

Earlier, Reagan asked the legislature to raise the sales tax from 4 to 5 per cent; to virtually double the $500 million collected by the state personal income tax, and to boost levies on liquor, cigarettes, banks and corporations.

Reagon contended the Democratic administration of former Gov. Edmund G. Brown left him with a big cash deficit because of inadequate financing of the 1966-67 budget.

Other slices of the tax program are needed to increase salaries, pay for unexpected costs of the state's medical aid program, help poor school districts and provide the property tax relief the governor promised.

A final tax settlement in the legislature isn't expected until shortly before the start of the new fiscal year on July 1.

Exhibit Missing From Alaska Exposition

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — When Alaska 67, the state's centennial exposition, opened its gates today one of its exhibits was missing.

A reindeer, apparently tired of the last-minute hustle and bustle, leaped an eight-foot barrier around the fair's outdoor zoo Thursday night. The antlered cow bounded down a road, swam across the Chena River and vanished into residential sections of the city.

SPORTSCUTTLE

Comes a letter from S. A. Smith, golf pro at the Andrews Country Club, who notes that the West Texas P. G. A. is sponsoring a program for junior golfers in June, July and August.

The purpose of the Junior Golf Tour, he said, is to give the youngsters of the area more tournament experience on a variety of golf courses, thereby raising the caliber of golf in our section of the state.

Age brackets are 12 and 13, 14 and 15, and 16, 17 and 18. The tour is open to boys and girls with high school eligibility. Since there will be no special division for girls, they will be allowed to use ladies tees. Events will consist of 18 holes of medal play, and all playoffs will be sudden death.

Winners of any age bracket of any junior tour event will be eligible to play in a tournament of champions to be held at the conclusion of the tour. Play will consist of 36 holes of medal play with 18 daily.

There will be no fee for the tournament of champions, although a $2 entry fee will be charged for all other events. Trophies will be given to the winner and runnerup of each age bracket.

Smith, chairman of the committee, says a schedule for the month of June will be announced soon. Other committee members are Jake Bechtold, Odessa Country Club; Gidd Faircloth, Winkler County Country Club; and Horace Norman, Monahans Country Club.

Speaking of golf, the Snyder Open promises to be one of the most interesting ever to be held here. Although there is a small gallery fee, we feel that many local golf fans will want to go out to watch some of the top personalities in the world of sports play. Several top - notch pros also will be on hand for the 54-hole affair. The pro "dark - horse" to win the pro division, in our opinion, is the duo of Doug Higgins of Fort Worth and Buddy Branum of Odessa.

CLEMENTE'S SINGLE IN 12TH SINKS REDS

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Juan Marichal entertains the Los Angeles Dodgers, it's a Candlestick Park breeze.

But whenever — and wherever — Roberto Clemente and the Cincinnati Reds run into each other, it's a fight for survival.

Marichal became the major leagues' first eight-game winner Friday night by scattering six hits as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the visiting Dodgers 4-1.

Clemente, meanwhile, continued his one-man crusade against Cincinnati by stroking a bases-loaded single in the 12th inning that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 nod over the National League leaders.

In other NL action, Philadelphia topped St. Louis 7-4 on Don Lock's three-run homer, New York nipped Atlanta 1-0 on Don Cardwell's three-hitter and Houston flattened Chicago 17-4 in a club-record scoring spree.

Detroit slugged Washington 10-5, Minnesota blanked Kansas City 5-0, Baltimore edged Boston 4-3, Cleveland shaded New York 4-3 and California split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning 7-2 and then losing 2-1 in American League games.

In taming the Dodgers for the 14th time in 14 Candlestick Park decisions, Marichal ran his winning string to eight after three setbacks at the start of the season. The Dominican dandy has beaten the Dodgers twice this year.

Clemente, the league's leading hitter, settled an 11-day-old score with Cincinnati by breaking up the extra-inning struggle at Pittsburgh. When the clubs opened a three-game series at Cincinnati on May 15, Clemente drove in seven runs with three homers and a double, only to come out on the short end of an 8-7, 10-inning decision.

Home runs by Jim Hart, in the second inning, and Ollie Brown, in the fourth, made Marichal's job an easy fling. He blanked the Dodgers until the eighth, when Willie Davis' run-scoring single averted a shutout.

The Reds, however, gave Clemente a dizzy run for his money. He singled in the first inning, was robbed of an extra-base hit by right fielder Tommy Harper in the third, and chopped a hard grounder in the fifth that got through shortstop Leo Cardenas for a two-run error.

With the score tied 2-2 in the seventh, the Pirates' superstar struck out. With the game deadlocked 4-4 in the ninth, he reached base on another error by Cardenas, but was thrown out at the plate trying to score from second on a passed ball.

Finally, after Cincy reliever Darrell Osteen loaded the bases on a walk and two hit batters in the 12th, Clemente delivered the hit to left field that broke a 5-5 tangle.

Lock capped a four-run Philadelphia rally in the eight inning with his three-run blast after getting a life when Cards second baseman Phil Gagliano misjudged his foul pop outside first base.

Johnny Callison crashed a pair of homers for the Phillies and Rich Allen singled across the tying run in the eighth before Lock connected.

The Mets' Cardwell made Jerry Buchek's second inning home run stand up against the Braves, who have scored in only one inning of their last three starts and have had just eight hits during that stretch.

The Astros walloped four homers, good for 10 runs, in topping their previous high of 16 runs, scored against the Mets in 1962. Rusty Staub and Joe Morgan hit three-run homers while Jim Wynn and Ron Davis belted two-run shots.

Cards Shell Cubs; Yanks Bomb Sox

The Cardinals erupted for eight runs in the 3rd frame to overcome a 3-0 deficit and went on to win a slugging battle, 18-14, over the Cubs in the National Farm League at Towle Park Friday night. In the other game, the Yankees socked the White Sox, 15-3.

The Cubs benefitted from five walks and a single by Mickey Cornett to go ahead of the Cardinals, 3-0, in the 2nd. Then the roof fell in on them in the 3rd as the Cards pushed across eight tallies on four walks, a sacrifice, a double by Richard Cornett and a home run by Jal Dennis. They added 10 in the 4th to hold onto their victory margin, although the Cubs rallied with six runs in the same frame.

Corriett also doubled in the 4th. He, Dennis and Mickey Neves each collected two hits for the Cardinals.

Weldon Sears, Mickey Burnett and Moell Blalock each rapped singled for the Cubs.

Cornett relieved Neves in the 2nd and received credit for the verdict. The Cub pitching chores were divided between four boys.

The White Sox - Yankee tilt was close for one inning, but the Yanks made a rout of it in the 2nd with 11 runs. Steve York knocked a home run, and Rinker and Kornegay both doubled for the winners. Doug Sims and Rich Featherston divided the mound duties.

The White Sox rapped 8 hits, but the Yanks came across with 18, and that was the difference in the game.

Boxer Faces Murder Rap

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Rubin "Hurricane" Carter, who slugged his way from state prison to a near miss at a world's boxing championship, faces a life sentence for a triple barroom murder.

The 30-year-old former middleweight contender and a codefendant, John Artis, 21, were convicted Friday on three counts of first-degree murder.

They were accused of shooting down a bartender and two customers with a shotgun and pistol in a local tavern in the early morning hours last June 17.

The state had sought the death penalty but the jury recommended life imprisonment.

Superior Court Judge Samuel A. Larner scheduled formal sentencing for June 29. He can impose the three life sentences concurrently or consecutively. If concurent, the defendants will be eligible for parole after 14 years.

The jury of eight men and four women deliberated for 5½ hours.

AFTER SLUGGISH START

Orioles Nip Boston, Climb Into Third

BY HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don't look now, but here come the Orioles.

Somewhat sluggish from a stumbling start, Baltimore has weaved its way up through the American League standings and today Hank Bauer's defending world champions are breathing the heady air of third place.

It's not the rarified atmosphere of first place which the Orioles enjoyed almost all off last year, but it's much better than the dingy cellar surroundings they occupied just two weeks ago.

The Birds won their ninth game in the last 12 Friday night, nipping Boston 4-3 on strong relief pitching of Moe Drabowsky. In other American League games, Cleveland edged New York 4-3, Minnesota blanked Kansas City 5-0, Detroit battered Washington 10-5 and California split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning 7-2 before losing 2-1.

In the National League, Houston walloped Chicago 17-4, New York shut out Atlanta 1-0, Philadelphia dropped St. Louis 7-4, Pittsburgh topped Cincinnati 6-5 in 12 innings and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 4-1.

Baltimore jumped out to a 4-0 lead and Dave McNally struck out seven Boston hitters in the first four innings.

But the Red Sox knockced him out in the fifth with run-scoring singles by Reggie Smith and Mike Ryan. That brought on Drabowsky, and the veteran reliever allowed only one hit the rest of the way.

Drabowsky got credit for the victory, his third this season and ninth straight over two years with the Orioles.

Dave Johnson scored Baltimore's first run after a first inning double and drove in two more with a single in the fourth.

Charlie Smith's two-base throwing error in the eighth inning set up Cleveland's winning run against the Yankees.

Joe Azcue rapped a sharp grounder to third and when Smith threw wild on the hit, Azcue raced all the way to third. Pedro Gonazlez followed with a base hit.

Max Alvis accounted for the first three Cleveland runs with a third inning home run against loser Fritz Peterson. Steve Hargan, who went the distance for the victory, allowed all three Yankee runs in the second when New York bunched five singles.

The Twins jolted Jim Nash for three runs in the first inning and got five-hit pitching from Jim Merritt to blank the Athletics.

Gonzales Heads State Track Team

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robert Gonzales of Falfurrias, the greatest miler in Texas schoolboy track history, has been named to the Texas Sports Writers Association All-State team for the third straight year—the third trackster ever to receive such an honor.

High jumper Barry Noble of Jourdanton made the team in 1963-64-65 and George Aldredge of Highland Park in the same span.

Gonzales' 4:07.4 at the state meet this year is the fastest a high school boy ever has made the distance in Texas.

Rocky Woods of San Angelo Lake View was picked in three events to become the first athlete attaining such a status since Billy Foster of Dallas Sunset made it in both sprints and the broad jump in 1961.

Woods got his places in the high hurdles, 330-yard hurdles and high jump.

Several others were picked in two events, including Fort Worth Tech's Willie Black, Grand Prairie's Melvin Carrway and Odessa Ector's Johnny Gentry in the 100 and 220; McKinney's Jack Faubion in both hurdles, and Irving's Kelvin Korver in the shot and discus.

Dave Morton of Spring Branch Memorial, who ran the half-mile in 1:49.9—the first Texas schoolboy to better 1:50—was among the unanimous choices for the team.

Others were Black and Gentry in the 100 and 220, Gonzales and Spring Branch Memorial's John Drew in the mile, Faubion and Woods in both hurdles, Sam Walker of Dallas Samuell in the shot, Korver and Spring Branch Memorial's Ken Pearson in the discus, Beaumont South Park's Dwight Harrison and Kermit's Ronnie Burrows in the broad jump, Riley Odoms of West Oso in the high jump and Steve Green of Dallas Bryan Adams in the pole vault.

Raise Deer Bag Limit?

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department says a proposal to raise to four the deer bag limit in the Trans-Pecos region will be considered at county hearings on game and fish regulations.

"In the Edwards Plateau, Oak Prairie and South Central regulatory areas sufficient interest has been indicated in having an early season on antlerless deer," the department said.

A spokesman said the proposal to increase the bag limit on deer in the Trans-Pecos area was made to reduce the population of the animals in some areas. The limit would allow two mule deer.

An experimental prairie chicken season Oct. 14-15 is proposed for Hemphill, Lipscomb and Wheeler counties in the Panhandle. The daily bag limit would be two birds and the possession limit four, the department said.

Also under consideration is a proposal to change the Aoudad sheep season from early December to Jan. 6-10 in five Pal Duro Canyoun counties.

The department said it will suggest at some county meetings to begin the antelope season Sept. 30 in order to open on a Saturday. The hunting dates would be Sept. 30-Oct. 8 in the Trans-Pecos and Permian Basin, and Sept. 30-Oct. 3 in the Panhandle.

The department is required to hold hearings in counties where it regulates all game and fish laws. Hunting and fishing season dates will be set at the July meeting of Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Other proposals include:

—Setting the quail season in South Central counties from Nov. 1 to Jan. 31.

"STINGER" BEING USED TO CLEAR MESQUITE IN SCURRY COUNTY — Billy Roach, Scurry county agricultural agent, examines the "stinger," a piece of equipmen which attaches to the front of a dozer and is an effective means of digging out mesquite. It is presently being used on the R. H. Odom, Jr., ranch near Snyder.

Good Grazing System Is Needed In Brush Control

A good grazing system must be the first step in an effective program of range management and brush control with increased forage production being the ultimate goal.

With a system of deferred rotation, brush control can be effectively incorporated into a rancher's range program, pointed out range specialists at a Brush Control Workshop held here Monday and Tuesday.

Conducting the training session were Garlyn Hoffman and Bobby Joe Ragsdale, Extension range specialists at Texas A&M University, and John Seibert, Extension area farm management specialist at Lubbock.

Purpose of the workshop was top rovide training in brush control and range management for county agricultural agents in Howard, Briscoe, Scurry, Crosby, Gaines, Yoakum, Mitchell, Garza and Borden Counties.

An aftermath of the workshop was the developing of range management production guidelines which will be made available to all ranchers on the South Plains which have brush infested land.

"Deferred rotation should be used whenever possible with the stocking rate based on the weakest pasture in the system," said Ragsdale. A two, three or four pasture system will work well if this guideline is followed. "However, decreasing stocking rates is often quite a difficult task for a rancher to undertake," added the specialist.

Tests at the Throckmorton Experimental Ranch have shown that increased weaning weights per cow amounted to 44 pounds over a six-year period on a four - pasture deferred rotation system. At 25 cents per pound, this produced an $11 gain per cow per year.

There is an overall brush infestation of about 77 per cent on the 20 counties of the South Poains and the average stock rate is one animal unit per 30 acres.

"At present, there are more methods available to control mesquite than any other brush species," explained Hoffman. "However, due mainly to reinfestation, eradication of mesquite is out of the question."

He stressed that present control programs must be increased tenfold if any significant progress is to be made. About one million acres of brush are now under a control program.

"The main purpose of brush control," pointed out Hoffman, "is to increase forage production on rangeland and thus increase stocking rates." Brush and weeds consume about 11 times more water than forage and also compete for soil nutrients. Controlling brush and weeds eliminates this competition.

The best time to spray mesquite is 40 to 90 days after green leaves appear in the spring, explained the specialist. This is usually about mid-April to mid-May. At this time stems have made their longest growth and leaves are fully developed. Proper timing of application is essential for a good kill and will determine the length of control.

In order to reduce downwind drift, thickened sprays have been used on an experimental basis. Although drift was reduced by ten per cent, the increased cost involved due to the increase in amount of spray for adequate coverage has made the effort too expensive at this time. Another problem involved is getting the spray down to the lower foilage of the brush.

"Aerial application of 2,4,5-T is one of the cheapest methods of mesquite control," said Hoffman. However, he added that this method is most effective when combined with chaining.

If mesquite growth is young and vigorous, spraying should precede chaining, the specialist explained. If the trees appear half dead or are more than four inches in diameter, chaining should be done first.

The recommended procedure is to chain in the fall of the year and then spray three seasons later. Spraying should continue at four-to five - year intervals.

"It takes time, usually about five years, to improve a poor range," pointed out Hoffman. "Along with a brush and weed control program, good management is essential if forage production is to be increased."

In addition to 2,4,5-T, other chemical controls discussed by the range specialists included picrolam (Tordon), silvex, 2,4-D Ammate, diesel oil and kerosene.

Among mechanical methods mentioned were the roller chopper, root plow, grubbing hoe, stinger, dozer, chain or cable, shredder and forklift.

In discussing the economics of brush control, Seibert stated, "The objective of economical brush control is to obtain the longest control at the least cost consistent with economic levels of forage and livestock production."

A brush control program can provide increased returns per animal unit or per acre through increased forage production result ing in increased stocking rates. "The greater the carrying capacity of rangeland, the lower the investment per animal unit per acre," the specialist added.

Two government programs at present offer financial assistance for brush control work, Seibert pointed out. These are the Great Plains Program and the Agricultural Conservation Program. Assistance varies depending on the extent of brush control work desired by the individual.

In addition to increasing stocking rates, an effective brush control program will also reduce labor and supplemental feeding costs per animal unit and will result in an increase in land value.

Brush control combined with well managed livestock production can mean an overall increase in ranch income.

Outlook Bright For Natural Gas

By MAX B. SKELTON

Houston (AP)— Natural gas is to assume a greater role in the vast foreign operations of the world's largest oil company.

Impressive discoveries in the Netherlands, Australia, the North Sea, and Libya should permit foreign gas sales by the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) to match or exceed domestic sales within a few years.

Jersey Standard marketed 3.16 billion cubic feet of gas daily in the United States last year but Jersey's share of sales from only one foreign discovery, the vast Gronigen Field in Holland, are expected to exceed one billion cubic feet a day by the early 1970s.

"The outlook appears particularly bright," said Michael L. Haider, the board chairman of the firm that has oil and gas producing or exploration activities in 27 countries.

"Gas has been an important part of our business in the United States many years," Haider said. "Abroad, gas has come into prominence more recently. These developments give us every reason to believe natural gas will continue to make an increasing contribution to our overall earnings."

Groningen was discovered in 1959. Substantial volumes of gas already are being sold in The Netherlands. Deliveries of relatively small volumes began in 1966 to Germany and Belgium, and Jersey expects that significant quantities should begin to flow in the next year or two to these countries and to France.

Jersey now is participating in the construction of a major natural trunkline system to service Holland and neighboring countries.

These projects, Haider believes, will make increased contributions to earnings in the years ahead.

"The large investments made in the past few years did not immediately contribute, as they were in effect pre-investments in anticipation of developing markets," he said. "Now these markets are materializing."

He expressed hope that negotiations with the United Kingdom will permit Jersey to begin moving natural gas in large volumes from the North Sea discoveries into Great Britain in the not too distant future.

"The project to move liquefied natural gas from Libya to Italy and Spain is under way and should result in sales of more than 300 million cubic feet daily by late 1969," he said.

"In Australia, plans for the development of offshore producing and onshore separation facilities are moving forward and these facilities are expected to go on steam in late 1968."

Earlier, Jersey Standard's annual report to stockholders had said the discovery of gas in commercial quantities off the east coast of Great Britain made gas quite important to the British economy. In the discovery in which Jersey is involved, an affiliate holds a 50 per cent interest in the exploration venture.

Another affiliate in partnership with the Broken Hill Proprietary Co. Ltd. found natural gas in commercial quantities off the southern coast of Australia in 1965. A second gas field with what has been described as a significant show of oil was added in 1966.

A Libyan affiliate's natural gas project calls for an investment in excess of $300 million and deliveries to distributors in Italy and Spain are expected to begin in about two years.

Jersey believes the Libyan venture as a large-scale transporter and marketer of liquefied natural gas will leave the company in an excellent position to participate when other opportunities in this new and rapidly developing field occur.
