Carpet cushion plant reopened

by M. Gene Dow
General Manager

A local foam carpet cushion manufacturing business has been placed back in production under new ownership and management.

Two brothers, Durett Collins of San Antonio, and Burk Collins of Fort Worth, have entered a lease-purchase agreement with Liberty Cushions, Inc. to taken over the large operation.

Liberty Cushions, Inc., composed of four major carpet dealers in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, took over the operations of the carpet padding plant about two years ago from the original founders, the Hammond family of Colorado City.

The operation was shut down for a brief period before being taken over by the Collins brothers.

The new business name is National Foam Cushion Manufacturing, Inc.

Durett has been in the same business for more than 15 years. He began with General Felt Industry in Dallas in 1973, and became a partner in his own business in San Antonio, in which he still has one-third interest.

Durett is the active manager of the local facility, along with his wife, Betty, and son, Jerry, who plan to move to Colorado City.

Burk Collins is a successful general contractor in Fort Worth, where he has built numerous business complexes in that area during the past ten years. Prior to that he was in the carpet business for approximately 15 years. So they are both experienced in the business.

Burk will remain in Fort Worth where the corporate headquarters is established. All of the ordering, purchasing and sales processing will be handled out of the Fort Worth headquarters. The four carpet businesses that formerly owned Liberty Cushion remain major customers and outside sales people are working in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, and soon in Colorado.

S. L. (Mac) Morris, president and general manager of Costin Implement Company here, was appointed County Judge of Mitchell County by the Commissioners Friday morning.

Morris, who was selected from 15 applicants, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Bill F. Carter, who resigned at the end of the year after 18 years in the position.

The new appointee was sworn into office by 32nd District Judge Weldon Kirk at 1 p.m. Friday. The appointed term will expire following the general election in November, 1990.

Morris stated, "I am overwhelmed at the confidence and support I received from the Commissioners. I am grateful to have the opportunity to serve Mitchell County."

He added that "I know that I have big shoes to fill following Bill Carter, who was such a successful and compassionate judge. I hope I can do only half as well. I am looking forward to working with the county, the employees and the Commissioner's Court, and will strive for the betterment of Mitchell County."

'Class Dismissed' pleases audience

by Ray Mayo
Editor

Peer pressure, job pressure and the pressures of every-day life bring the action of the Colorado City Playhouse production of Class Dismissed to a near boiling point on the stage of the Opeja House.

The comedy/drama, superbly directed by Carl Moore, opened Thursday night to a packed audience as the cast of nearly 30 quipped their way through the sometimes slow story line.

The story revolves around a suburban high school and the problems encountered by students and faculty.

The popular English teacher, played by a talented David Shelton, reaches the breaking point when he is suspended from teaching for allegedly striking a student.

Shelton takes matters in his own hands, and holds five of his students hostage with an unloaded gun.

Shelton, a teacher in real life, makes his five hostages retake an exam. In the process, the teacher and his students learn more about themselves and each other as, one-by-one, they confront their hidden fears and thoughts.

The five hostage-held students are played by Amy Moore, Clay Yancey, Rachel Forehand, Bhavesh Patel and Ruben Hurt, all students at Colorado High School, and all seasoned performers.

Teen Court proposed here

by M. Gene Dow
General Manager

Organization of a Teen Court program in Mitchell County is being formulated by 32nd Judicial District Juvenile Department.

Steve Lawhon, chief juvenile officer for the department told Colorado City Kiwanians Tuesday that "the project involves the creation of a teen (peer) jury system which will bring together juvenile offenders, their peers and community agencies to determine logical and natural consequences for their offenses."

"The purpose of the process is to get young people to take responsibility for their actions, to provide restitution to victims and the community and to give the community an active role in solving juvenile crime."

Lawhon, showed a film of the Teen Court program in Odessa that has worked successfully and was recently featured on a Sixty Minutes TV program.

Under the Teen Court concept, first time disclaimor offenders, ages 10 to 16, who are guilty may elect to have a Teen Court hearing to determine the circumstances of the offense and have their peers develop contracts with such elements as restitution and apology to victims, community service work, educational programs, etc. for the juvenile offender.

The responsible judges agree to drop charges on all youth who successfully complete their contracts. However, should the contracts not be completed successfully, the youth would be referred back to the responsible court. The Teen Court is totally voluntary. All juveniles who claim innocence of charges or refuse service would be referred back to Court.

Lawhon said that at Odessa, approximately 80% of the youth had elected to appear before the Teen Court, most have completed their contracts, and there have been few repeat offenders.

As an example, one youth who was accused of drinking alcohol on a school campus, was given 18 hours of community work and required to serve on three teen juries.

The responsible judge would preside over the hearings, a local Juvenile officer would serve as Clerk, there would be volunteer youth to serve as state prosecutor, defense attorney, and serve on six-person jury. There is no cost

For The Record . . .

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— "Now all the king's wise men came, but they could not read the writing, or make known to the king its interpretation" Daniel 5:8

Only 252 years ago tomorrow, Jan. 23, John Hancock, the first and perhaps most famous signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born. To commemorate super-scribe John Hancock, 15 years ago, the Writing Instrument Manufacturers Association dubbed the birth date of John Hancock "National Handwriting Day."

And who better to inspire a day celebrating the art of writing than Hancock whose very name has become synonymous with "signature" . . . e.g. "just put your 'John Hancock' on the dotted line..."

In fact, even though his illustrious political career included such distinguished posts as first governor of Massachusetts, American Revolutionary leader and President of the Continental Congress, it is for his elegant handwriting and distinctive signature that Hancock is best known.

My handwriting was never very good, and has deteriorated over the years while scribbling notes on meetings, speakers, interviews, etc. I even have difficulty reading my handwriting myself, once it has gotten "cold". When I was trained to be a Court Reporter while in the U.S. Army, I could read my Gregg Shorthand, better than my own handwriting. Unfortunately, few people nowadays have good handwriting. There should be more emphasis on teaching handwriting in the schools.

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "Scratching for ideas is one way to relieve the itch for success."

Have you ever heard the expression "Righty-tighty, lefty-loosey"? Remember it anytime you deal with a garden hose, turn a jar lid, install a faucet washer, screw a screw, or loosen or tighten a nut. Everything that has to be screwed or unscrewed works the same way. Unfortunately, however, there are a few "left-handed" gnomes. I encountered one the other day on my dishwasher ... the electric one!

DID YOU KNOW? Rockne, Texas, population 400 in Bastrop County was named after the famed Notre Dame football coach, Knute Rockne, after he was killed in an airplane crash in 1931.

Quality Eye Care

Although it has been a little over a year, many residents of Mitchell County haven't been taking advantage of the new Medicare laws that have been passed. The new laws allow Medicare beneficiaries to obtain equal reimbursements from either optometrists or an ophthalmologist. This is good news for the citizens of Mitchell County. Patients do not have to go any further than Phillips Eye Clinic at 2112 Hickory in Colorado City to get total eye care. Here, Dr. Robert Sheets will provide a complete exam that determines the health of your eyes as well as the tests needed to find an accurate prescription. Possibilities of cataract development and glaucoma will be discussed with every patient.

Any Medicare patients that are having any visual discomfort or symptoms, should contact the clinic. Our staff will promptly fill out the paperwork necessary for your Medicare reimbursement. Assuming your Medicare deductible has been met, your reimbursement will be mailed directly to you. If you have had cataract surgery, Medicare will not only pay most of the exam fee, but 80% of your frame, lenses, or even contact lenses. Phillips Eye Clinic will honor all senior citizens with additional savings of 10% off frames, lenses, and other materials, year round. In addition to Medicare benefits, we now accept a government quota of Medicaid patients as well. These are some of the ways in which we strive to keep our number one goal: Quality eye care for all.

The program is designed to provide a community-based alternative to the formal court process for alleged youthful offenders. It is intended to:

- * make available services that decrease conditions which contribute to youth crime;
- * hold the offender responsible for unlawful acts with logical and consistent consequences;
- * hold the community responsible for its role in contributing to youth crime;
- * reduce the likelihood of repeated involvement with the law;
- * minimize negative labeling of referred youth;
- * get youth involved in the system;
- * compensate victims of crime for their losses;
- * to reduce court time spent on less serious juvenile offenses by the courts;
- * be accountable to neighborhood and local control;
- * protect the Constitutional Rights of the offender while recognizing the rights of victims and the community; and
- * be cost-effective.

Basically, the Teen Court is for 10-16 year old youth who are referred by the police or courts, involving class "B" or class "C" offenses such as: vandalism, possession of small amounts of marijuana, minor in possession of alcohol, shoplifting, theft, simple assault, criminal trespass, reckless conduct, criminal mischief threats, and others.

Referrals may come from Municipal Court, Police Department, County Juvenile Court, school districts, and County Justices of the Peace.

The Judge may determine a case is not appropriate for Teen Court services and may refuse to accept the referral.

The advantages to the defendant are: (1) his/her record is kept clean if the sentence is carried out satisfactorily, and (2) the Teen Jury decision is not binding; he/she may choose to attend the appropriate Court at any point in the process.

HOW IT WORKS

A Teen Court will be convened on a regular basis, as needed, with a Judge or Coordinator present for each session. One or more jury panels are selected with their own chosen foreman, one or more state attorney, one or more defendant attorney, and two bailiffs—all teen volunteers.

The procedures begin with the Judge welcoming all present, and briefly explaining the Teen Court program, emphasizing that the program is optional. Following the introduction, all participants are sworn in and given instructions.

All participants are required to sign a statement agreeing to keep confidential all statements about the incident. Through the participating attorneys, the Teen Jury performs the hearing in an effort to identify the circumstances that led to the referral and to develop a contract with the accused person. The role of the Jury is to recommend appropriate services and to deal with accountability and consequences of the alleged incident.

The Clerk, a Juvenile Officer, announces the case and records the proceedings. The Judge calls to the bench and swears in the defendant. At this point, the Judge may recommend a sentence, which the defendant may either accept or waive and proceed with a jury trial. Sentences from the bench usually occur for first-time, minor traffic law infractions and recommendation is usually the Defensive Driving School option. Instances when the Judge will hear a case alone may include sensitive matters of "moral turpitude" which could cause extreme embarrassment.

When trials go to the Jury, the Judge reads the charge and partially reviews the incident. Direct questioning of the defendant is then begun by the volunteers acting as prosecutor(s). They may ask the Judge to read from the police report, or other statements and documents. The purpose of prosecution and defense during the trial is not to establish guilt or innocence, but clarification of offense and indicents leading to it as well as the intentions and motivations of the defendant. Procedure, though much more informal, resembles actual courtroom process. The attorneys are briefed by the Judge prior to the court session, recommending certain court techniques, rules, etc.

At the conclusion of questioning, the Judge may ask the prosecuting attorney and then the defense attorney to recommend punishment to the jury. Finally, the defendant is permitted to add anything of relevance that he believes has not been said or needs to be stressed. The Jury then adjourns to make a decision on the sentence.

The Jury's recommendation for sentencing is usually accepted by the Judge, although on rare occasions, he may reduce a stringent sentence after consultation with the jurors. With the defendant present before the bench, the Judge issues sentence and asks whether it is accepted or rejected.

Lawton pointed out that agreements have already been received from local judges, the Juvenile Board, police, school districts, etc. The Juvenile officers are to go to Odessa to review the proceeding there. Finally, they will request approval from the City before the program can be implemented.

Wildcats beat Blackwell

Scooter Hines scored 22 points to lead the Westbrook Wildcats to a 61-54 district 26-A basketball victory at Blackwell Tuesday.

The Wildcats improved to 14-7 with the win which followed a close loss at Highland Friday.

Westbrook is 2-1 in district play and ends the first half of the district schedule by hosting the Loraine Bulldogs Tuesday.

The Wildcats held a 15-14 lead after one quarter of play at Blackwell. The teams were tied 25-25 at halftime and Blackwell led 43-44 going into the final period. Westbrook outscored Blackwell 18-10 in the final period.

"We lost by 2 to Highland on a slop shot at the buzzer," said coach Jim Hill. "We should've beat them but we just didn't play well. Next time we shouldn't have that much trouble with them."

Also scoring in the win over Blackwell were Jason Morris 14, Bubba Botts 15, Marty Browne 6 and Spencer Cannon 4.

Each team committed two turnovers to begin the final period of play. The Hornets put their offense into high gear by scoring 6 unanswered points to make the score 49-44 with 6:22 left in the game. Sophomore guard Anthony Williams came right back with 2 points to put LHS back in front by seven but trouble came as Williams, the Bulldogs' leading scorer, fouled out with 5:18 left to play. Casey Cooper soon fouled out, too.

The score was twice tied in the final period-at 54-54 with 2:35 left and at 56-56 at the 1:52 mark. The Bulldogs sent the Hornets to the line for four consecutive free throws and Highland made all four and then held on for the win.

Highland outscored Loraine 22-7 in the fourth period. Luis Leija led the Bulldogs in scoring with 18 points. Also scoring were Cooper and Ruben Vasquez 10 and Williams and Shawn Finley 9. Vasquez led in rebounding with 18. Williams had 12 rebounds and 6 assists. Loraine had 12 steals, 8 blocked shots and 14 turnovers.

The Bulldogs hit 5 of 16 from the free throw line for 31% and 23 of 61 from the field for 37%. Scoring for Highland were R. Bryan 9, B. Allen 11, G. Wright 11, D. Burke 16, C. Burke 2, S. Harris 9 and J. Johns 2.

Football Banquet

The annual Colorado High School Football Banquet will be held Thursday at the middle school cafeteria. This year's banquet is by reservation only and the public is invited to attend.

Tickets are $4.00 and can be purchased through CHS Wolverine sponsor Bebbie Blair. The banquet is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. There will not be a guest speaker but entertainment will be provided by "Sims and Co.," said athletic director and head football coach Tom Ramsey. The musical group entertained at last spring's sports banquet.

The 1988 Wolves finished at 10-2 with an unblemished District 7-AAA Championship and several players received post-season honors.

Bulldog girls top Highland

The Loraine Bulldogs dominated the Highland Hornets in Loraine Tuesday night and came out on top, 55-32, in girls basketball action.

The win gives LHS a 10-7 season record, 2-1 in district 26-A play. The Hornets are 9-9 overall and 1-2 in district. LHS is second in district play behind 3-0 Roscoe.

Highland managed to keep it fairly close during the first quarter but it was all Loraine after that.

The Lady Hornets managed to score first on two consecutive shots from the free throw line. Michi Atkins drew first blood for the Bulldogs by scoring on an offensive rebound. Highland came back to take the lead by fell to Loraine's full court press. LHS led 16-10 at the end of the opening period.

The Hornets turned the ball over to begin the second quarter. Highland fouls sent Atkins, Amy Vasquez and Michelle Garcia to the free throw line where each player made one of two shots. Highland turned the ball over after rebounding a free throw. It led to a layup by Loraine's Garcia with 5:41 left in the half. During a timeout coach Jackie McNew told his players "See how easy it is? Keep it going."

The Bulldogs were up by 12 at that point and went on to hold Highland to 2 second period points for a 35-12 halftime lead.

McNew went to his bench midway through the third period but went back to the starting five for the entire fourth quarter.

LHS hit 23 of 76 shots from the field for 30%. Loraine was 8 of 18 from the free throw line. The Bulldogs committed only 13 turnovers.

Atkins led Loraine with 22 points, 19 rebounds and 6 steals. Michelle Garcia and Amy Vasquez added 13 points each. Trena Williams 6 and Christi Blair 1.

Scoring for Highland were Abbott 4, Hyde 2, Miller 8, Wright 2, George 1 and Monroe 6.

Loraine lost to Highland 38-14 in a junior varsity contest. Scoring for Loraine were Brooke Moore 4, Michelle Clayton 2, Betty Garcia 4, Becky Garza 2 and Joann Vasquez 2.

FOAM PLANT--Shown above is the 38,500 square foot manufacturing plant and office complex of National Foam Cushion Manufacturing, Inc., located on Highway 80 west, which has been put back into operation under new ownership and management.

RAW MATERIAL--Plant supervisor Floyd Rodgers is show stacking the large bundles of reclaimed polyethylene foam and carpet scraps and remnants that are used to make the carpet cushioning. Most of the raw materials come from Europe, shipped to the port at Houston and then trucked to Colorado City.

FOAM SLABS--The grinded up raw materials are mixed with glue, steamed and molded into these 6'x10'x21" slabs. Special machine then slit the slabs in various thicknesses for use as carpet padding.

produces carpet cushioning, in the 38,500 square foot facility, located on west Highway 80, housing a considerable amount of specialized equipment—grinders, mixers, slitters to produce the foam carpet cushion.

In the first two weeks under the new operation, 22 employees have been put to work on an 8-hour per day, 5-days per week shift.

Within the next 12 months, Collins said they will be producing high-grade prime cushioning such as used in mattress, chairs, etc.

The carpet padding business slowed down the last couple of years due to the decline in home, apartment and commercial building.

But Durett said it is coming back strong. He hopes to be able to add a second shift within the next three or four months. Within 2 years, the company anticipates employing as many as 50 people.

Floyd Rodgers is the plant supervisor. With the present equipment, facilities, and employees, the plant can produce as much as six million square yards of the product annually.

The raw material comes from waste polyethylene foam and carpet scraps and remnants, from furniture, autos, replaced carpeting, etc. Nearly 75% of the waste product used here comes from Europe, shipped to the Houston port, and the bundles or modules trucked to Colorado City.

The scrap material is then grinded up in various size pieces. The pieces are then mixed with prepolymer glue and poured into large molds. The 6'x10'x21" slabs that are produced are then steam treated to solidify the glue and material.

Six of the slabs are then placed on a conveyor and fed into a slitting machine. The padding can be cut to various thicknesses from less than a half inch to almost any desired or requested thickness.

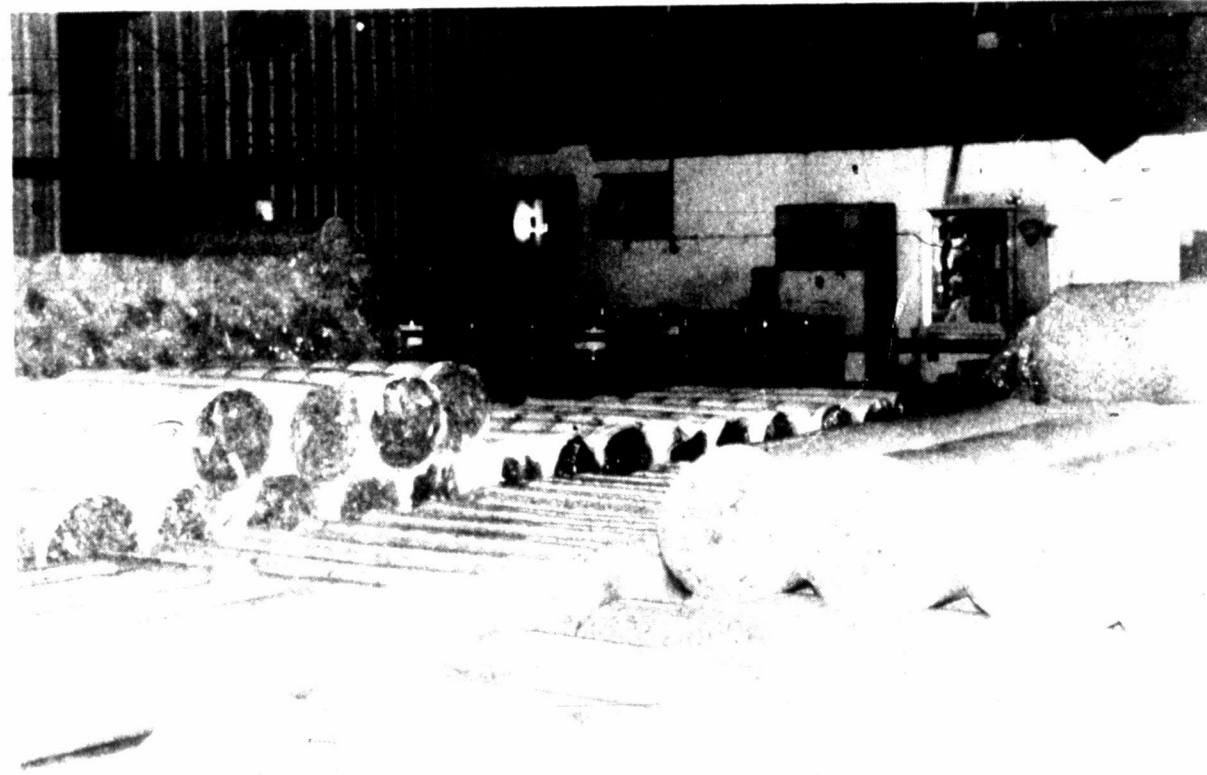

The layers of cushion then are run through another machine which laminates the back side to give the product strength.

The final product comes off in rolls of about one foot by 6 feet, which are vacuum sealed in plastic containers for shipment.

It is quite a large manufacturing facility that is benefitting Colorado City in jobs, payroll, taxes and notoriety throughout the Southwest.

PACKAGED--Two of the 22 employees presently working at the plant are show packing the foam cushion rolls in vacuum sealed plastic container for shipping to customers throughout the Southwest.

INVENTORY--After being in operation for only about three weeks, a sizeable inventory of the product is already stacking up and waiting for shipment.
