Local Man Wins Honors At Denver

Darryl Dennis won top honors with his lambs at the 1968 National Western Livestock Show and Rodeo in Denver, Colo., January 11-19.

Thirteen of the fourteen head exhibited placed in the top seven of their respective weight class. All of the lambs were locally bred by Dennis and Hall Stock Farms of Olton and Kress and M & M Sheep and Pony Farm of Olton.

Placing in the lightweight Cheviot, Shropshire, Dorset class were second place (Shrop.) and third and fourth place (Dorset).

Heavyweight Hampshire: first and fifth with the first place winning Breed Champion. Lightweight Southdowns: second, third and sixth.

Heavyweight Southdowns: second, fourth and seventh with the second place heavy winning reserve Breed Champion.

Crossbreeds: fourth and seventh place winners.

Placing in the Pair of Lambs of each breed class as follows: first place Dorset; first place Hampshires; first and fifth place Southdowns; and fourth place Crossbreeds.

The first place pen of Southdowns were later named Grand Champion Pair of the show and the Jr. Show Pair were named Reserve Grand Champion.

The Grand Champion of the show was the Jr. Show Grand Champion belonging to Martin Kroge of Boulder, Colo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kroge, a friend of Darryl's who has made several stock shows with Darryl.

Methodist Revival Starts Next Sunday

Revival services will begin Sunday at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Clifford Trotter, one-time Olton resident, pastor of the First Methodist Church Hereford, will be the evangelist.

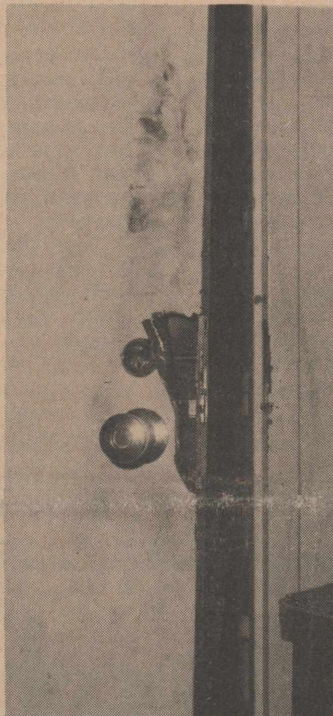

Rev. Trotter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Trotter of Kress. His father was associated with G. A. Bodkin before selling his interest to Ver-

School Lunchroom Theft Is Reported

A break-in at Olton School lunchroom early Monday morning netted unidentified intruders approximately $98 in cash.

Margie Slatten, lunchroom supervisor, said there was evidence that the person or persons had searched her desk. The door to the vault where all money and records are kept was removed from its hinges, after trying to pry the lock loose.

Mrs. Slatten stated that the employees had a "flower fund" that was also kept in the vault and there was approximately $20 in the fund.

In order to gain entrance into the office, the intruder had crawled through a small opening in a window where the air conditioner was installed. It was surmised that probably a small boy had crawled through the window, then opened the doors for others, since the opening in the window was so small. However, the door to the vault was a heavy steel door and would have taken the strength of more than a boy to have taken it from its hinges.

J. D. Lively noticed the door ajar when he reported for work about 5 a. m. When he saw that the door had been removed from its hinges, he went to the high school building and called the police.

Fingerprints were taken from the door and several youths have been questioned.

Late Wednesday night, the police reported that no one had been arrested in the case, but investigation was still being conducted.

Registration Deadline Nears For All Persons, Ages 20-100

With the deadline for registration only a few days away, Texas voters over 60 years old have been reminded of a new law which requires every voter to register, regardless of age or place of residence.

Heretofore, voters over 60 years old were required to register only if they lived in a city of ten thousand or more inhabitants. Wednesday of next week, Jan. 31, is the last day to apply for a registration certificate.

Texas Secretary of State John L. Hill issued the reminder in a statement summarizing registration requirements. As Secretary of State, Hill also has the title of chief election officer of Texas. He said that anyone who is now eligible to vote or who will become eligible by Feb. 28, 1969, may register at this time.

The 1968 voting year begins next March 1 and runs through Feb. of 1969.

Hill emphasized that registration for most voters will close on Wednesday of next week, and they will not be permitted to register after that date. The only persons who may register after the Jan. 31 deadline are new residents who move to Texas after Oct. 1, 1967, and persons who become 21 years old or become naturalized citizens after January 31, 1968.

Voters may register in person at the county tax assessor-collector's office or at the City Hall which will be open for the remainder of the registration period.

What Is It?

Role Of Government In Today's Society

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following remarks were taken from an address by Dr. Milford O. Rouse, president of American Medical Association.)

To a society as large and diverse as this one, large government is a necessity. To a nation as strong as this one, strong government is indispensable. There are many things that can be done only by government and best by government.

There are other things, however, that can be done only by the private organizations and individual citizens working together and best by them.

There is a feature in the nature of government that keeps it from accomplishing many things that need to be done. An understanding of that factor both inside and outside of government would do much to explain the frequent frustration caused when well-intentioned programs do not live up to expectations.

The feature is that no matter how positive a government wants to be and no matter how positive the statements of its officials are, its efforts are often negative in execution.

Government can pass laws against theft, but no law can make a people want to be honest. Government can pass laws forbidding the abridgment of freedom of religion, but no law can make a people want to worship God. Government can pass laws against drunkenness, but no law can make a people want sobriety.

Even in its attempt to assure basic civil rights to all citizens, which appears positive, government can only pass laws against denying a member of any race the right to live wherever he wants and to work wherever he qualifies. No law can make families, neighborhoods, employers or workers want to share what they have with members of another race.

Government can and does try to stop people from doing undesirable things, but it cannot make them want to do desirable things.

The real danger to freedom today, as well as the cause of much frustration, anger and bewilderment, is that too many people are looking to the government to grant freedom, assure rights, build prosperity and create brotherhood--things no government in history has ever been equipped to do alone.

Many people expect the government to do what only they can do for themselves.

Our nation faces an apparent widespread deterioration in personal integrity, seen in practically every segment and level of society, from the repairman who does shoddy work . . . to the factory worker who gives no thought to the quality of the product he is making . . . the clerk who takes office stamps . . . the salesman who pads his expense account . . . the manager who cheats on his taxes . . . the attorney who recommends an unjustified lawsuit . . . to the physician who might expand a medical report to inflate the insurance payment to himself and his patient. It also is seen at every level of government, from censure proceedings in our highest legislative bodies to a city where national guard troops are mustered to prevent election abuses.

Government alone cannot solve the problem. There already are laws against all of these things. The solution can come only from a heightened desire by all people to be honest themselves and a willingness to insist on integrity in their neighbors, associates and elected officials.

Leaders in government understandably see it as their duty to do for the people of this country whatever they believe, or whatever they are told by citizen groups, is not already being done equitably, effectively and efficiently by the private sectors of society.

When private citizens abdicate their responsibilities and ask the government to do a job, government responds in the only way it can: it passes more laws and usually appropriates more money. And every time another law is passed, it means another small or large restriction on somebody's freedom.

As citizens, in other words, we have this choice when facing a situation that needs correcting. We can do it ourselves, or we can ask the government to pass a law that says we must not fail to do it--and that sets up an administrative mechanism to enforce the prohibition. The former choice is by far the best way to meet a situation, at least from the standpoint of economy and independence; and often from the standpoint of speed efficiency and effectiveness, depending on the nature of the problem.

The government will be called on to help. Its resources and responsibilities certainly cannot and should not be overlooked. But the initiative, leadership and work should remain in the hands of the citizens.

PTA Meeting Slated Feb. 1

Mrs. Elma Burleson will be program leader for the Founders Day meeting of the PTA Thursday, Feb. 1. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria.

Theme of the program is "Youth Responsibilities For Better Neighborhoods". The Rev. Gerald Davis will present the devotion, Bob Allford will moderate a panel discussion following the film, "Right or Wrong".

All parents are invited to attend.

Daugherty Horse Wins At Amarillo

Fleeta Rita took top honors at the Amarillo Stock Show Quarter Horse arena Saturday. Winning top honors is not new to the four year old mare nor to her owner Curley Daugherty. Fleeta Rita, during her yearling age won nine firsts out of nine shows. Saturday's show was her first showing in the aged mare class. She has also been named Halter Futurity Champion and Golden Spread Champion Mare.

Fleeta Rita's grandmother, a mare named Panzarita Daugherty, won grand champion mare

26 years ago at Amarillo's first Quarter Horse show.

Other winners in the Amarillo show were My Lady in Red, second among mares foaled in 1966, owned by Curley Daugherty; Wimpy's Cardinal, fifth among stallions foaled in 1966, owned by Clifford Carlisle; and Travellin Band second among geldings foaled in 1964 or before, owned by J. Frank Daugherty and Ragtime Band, fourth among stallions foaled in 1966, owned by Joe Edd Carson of Hart.

FLEETA RITA, owned by Frank (Curley) Daugherty was named grand champion mare at Amarillo Saturday.

How Would YOU Vote?

We have tried to "get across" to the public the importance of registering this month in order to be eligible to vote. This is a requirement by law -- IF you want to vote in any election this year. And most of you are aware that this is a MOST IMPORTANT election year.

There are going to be many political decisions made in 1968. . . . decisions that will be a part of each citizen's future. We will have the kind of government we VOTE for -- not the kind we just WANT.

We wonder if there are not too many American citizens who think they are entitled and going "to get his share" of public tax moneys.

When we stop to think -- tax money is OURS to begin with. As Congressman Bob Price stated when he visited in Olton -- the American citizen must wake up to the fact that all these programs in which we participate actually take money from one of OUR pockets and puts it in the other -- only we lose a big share of it to "administration."

Let's use this story from Farm Bureau "Facts For You" as an example:

Citizen A is told by Citizen B that he seems fairly well informed on political situations and asks him why he doesn't run for Congress.

Citizen A answers that he would if he would be assured of his vote, to which Citizen B replies that he can count on him.

Then Citizen A informs Citizen B of the situation: "At present our community is seriously in need of expanding its water facilities. The federal government has already invested huge sums of money in a reservoir to supply the city's additional water needs.

"If I were to run for Congress there would surely be a public political discussion. One of the key points to be discussed at the political meeting would be additional federal money for the water system. When I explain my position to the community the following question is sure to be asked: 'Would You favor additional federal appropriations for our new lake?' My answer would be: 'if you want water, vote a local bond issue, build your own lakes and finance your own water system.'"

"Then my opponent would be asked the same question, and he would reply that if the community would elect him he would do everything in his power to obtain as much federal money as was needed to complete the project. Now, under these conditions, who would you vote for?"

Citizen B hung his head and quietly replied, "I guess under those conditions I would vote for your opponent."

What is your reaction to this situation? How would YOU vote?

Mr. Lincoln said that "a tyrant will not come to the United States from across the seas. If he comes, he'll ride down Pennsylvania Ave. from his inauguration and take up 'legal' residency of the White House."

Let's THINK before we cast our votes -- but first let's register so we CAN vote.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor:

You certainly have a fine group of people in your community who deserve plaudits.

These are those fine folks who have made a recent investment in boys securing the Boy Scouting program. Theirs was the purchasing of a part of the South Plains Council 1967-68 budget through the Sustaining Membership Enrollment.

You will know these persons by the special Membership Card they carry if their investment exceeded $12.00 annually. To all who invested, may we say "Thank You" in behalf of the boys in your town and the 20 county Council Area.

Sincerely,
Jack Strong

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE OLTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

So many times we appreciate the help that people give us but we fail to express ourselves. The good deed that the Olton Fire Department did on putting out the Halsell fire was beyond the call of duty and I felt that it should not be put aside without acknowledging those who gave of their time and help.

The Olton Fire Department did a magnificent job and this is the first time I've ever witnessed such cooperation and dependability that was displayed by all of those that helped.

Many helping hands were extended and we were so thankful for them. It was as though each person had a job to do and he performed it to a perfection.

Again, I extend my sincere thanks to the Olton Fire Department for all their time and help in putting out the Halsell fire.
John L. Murrell

Sue's Views

This Little Pig....

BY SUE CANNON

Oh, the things that come up around our house!

In the role of both parents, I find myself in some gosh-awful predicaments some times, but I guess the latest one is when my oldest son, who is a freshman agriculture student, told me he had to go get his project -- a pig -- and move him to another pen.

Well, now, I have another son who is 13 and he was all for going to the ag barn and helping move this little critter.

After they got down to the barns and found the little fellow, which by the way was in a pen with several others, -- they couldn't catch him! I began to think I was going to have to get in there and catch him for them. But finally with my instructions as to how to catch a pig, they got hold of him.

By then they were so tickled, they barely could hold on to him and all the time they are laughing, the pig is squealing and grunting like he's in misery, (which he probably was -- as they had him by all fours with him lying on his back.)

He looked so LITTLE -- but he was SO HEAVY!

They couldn't carry him and of course, I had to help or let the rascal loose and I knew if he got loose, we never would catch him!

There was water and mud and a little "cowboy mud" too all over the place and by the time we got him down to his pen and up over the fence and down on the ground again, WE were grunting like pigs!

We got him fed and watered and settled for the night and started back home when my 13 year old came up with the question of how come I knew so much about pigs.

He was very surprised to know that at one time, I was left to take care of quite a number of pigs when my folks went to Oklahoma.

I don't know about you but I sure am glad I'm not as dumb as my kids think I am.

My dad used to make me furious when he would ask me how I thought he ever did anything until I got old enough to tell him how -- and now I know what he was talking about!

MRS. DARRYL LYNN McLAIN

Double Ring Ceremony Read In Dimmitt Church

In a double ring ceremony Friday evening, Miss Linda Sue Harman became the bride of Darryl Lynn McLain. Bill Talley, directed the vows in the Northside Church of Christ in Dimmitt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harman of Dimmitt. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McLain are parents of the bridegroom.

Candelabra bearing white cathedral tapers were flanked by baskets of white mums and carnations. The traditional wedding march and recessional were used.

The bride presented her mother with a long stemmed yellow rose during the processional and the mother of the groom a long stemmed yellow rose at the recessional. Candles were lighted by Billy Harman, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a formal length gown of imported silk organza with re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced with seed pearls and crystals. The Empire bodice of Alencon lace fell in a capelet design with scalloped edge and short flare sleeves. Her sheath skirt was of organza over taffeta, applied with Alencon motifs. A detachable train was of organza over taffeta bordered with organza and adorned with Alencon lace motifs. Her veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a halo of re-embroidered Alencon flowers and leaves accented with seed pearls. A cascaded bouquet of Frenched white carnations surrounding a white orchid with white picot satin streamers were tied in lover's knots carried atop a white Bible, gift of the groom. Also tied in the bouquet was a baby ring belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. G. R. Bennett, for "something old". She was presented in marriage by her father.

The bride's sisters served as her attendants, Miss Jo Lynn Harman was maid of honor, Miss Dana Harman as bridesmaid. They wore formal length gowns fashioned with dark blue bodices and baby blue skirts. Their floor length trains were of dark blue satin. Matching bows held their illusion veils. Each carried nosegays of white carnations.

Patti Hendon of Hereford, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of white lace trimmed with blue ribbon and carried a nosegay of white carnations and candytuft. Mike Reed served as best man. Groomsman was Ricky Ray Bennett, cousin of the groom. Guests were seated by George Ed Bennett, cousin of the groom, and Jerry Parker. The bride's mother wore an orange dacron knit suit with bone accessories. Mother of the groom chose an ensemble of pale blue lace with beige accessories.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Dimmitt Country Club. The table was laid with a white cloth. The bridal bouquet and attendant's nosegays formed the centerpiece, flanked by crystal candelabra with white tapers. Mrs. Murray Hall and Mrs. William Bellinghausen presided at the table. Sandy Bennett registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride chose a dress of beige knit with bone accessories. They will be at home in Canyon after Jan. 23.

The bride is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and is attending West Texas State University. The groom graduated from Hart High School and E. C. P. I. Computer program.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Baptist Church

Shirley Ann Mallow became the bride of John Lewis Brown Saturday evening in First Baptist Church of Halfway. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mallow of Halfway. Mr. and Mrs. Durward L. Brown of Plainview are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. John Prentis McGee, pastor of the church, directed the vows before an arch of white tapers and garlands of stephanotis. A wrought iron kneeling bench was flanked by a trio of white tapers. Seven-branched candelabra and tropical palms completed the setting.

Eddie Everett of Kermit was soloist. He was accompanied by Miss Ruth Giesler of Skellytown at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of chantilace and organza over taffeta. The Empire waistline was accented by a sweetheart bow of organza. The portrait neckline was outlined in pearls and the long petal-point sleeves were fashioned of lace. Her controlled A-line skirt featured a front panel of organza, bordered on either side by scallops enhanced with sequins and seed pearls.

A chapel train of chantilace fell from the shoulders in a cage effect. She carried a white Bible sent to her by her sister while she was in Jordan. It was covered with mother-of-pearl and lace and was topped with an orchid surrounded with garlands of white sweetheart roses.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a head piece of lace petals enhanced with seed pearls.

Jeannie Mallow of Louisville, Ky., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Sondra Lewis of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, Elaine Pinkerton of Plainview and Linda Adams of Amarillo were bridesmaids. They wore formal length dresses of royal blue satin fashioned with Empire bodices and chapel length trains. Their headpieces were blue satin bows with veils. They carried bouquets of white mums and lemon foliage.

Alecia Wilmeth of Tulsa, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Mark Wise of Santa Rosa, Calif., the groom's nephew, was

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

I'm glad I'm square!
I'm glad I grew up in MY generation - the one that today's teenagers think belongs to the horse and buggy. Don't get me wrong, I'm not advocating the "good old days" - to me, the good old days are now - every day! But I am glad I was a teenager before now, I'm glad I belong to the age that thinks that a pretty dress is one that covers the thigh. I don't agree with the fellow who says "We used to see their ankles. Now we see their knees. All we ask is just to live, A little longer, please."

I'm very glad I belong to the group that thinks a pretty girl's face should be seen - not camouflaged with white make-up and hidden beneath a MOP of hair.
After doing my ironing Saturday I've even discovered I'm more square than I'd thought! No, I am not square because I iron - it's just that I iron in front of the TV set and Saturday had to choose between "Cool McCool" and "American Bandstand". Deciding to see how out-of-date I really am (I'm from the Como-Crosby-Sinatra era) I concluded that Cool could manage very well without me and I tuned in A.B. - and stayed with them and through most of "Swinging Set" when I just had to quit ironing! Oh, me! This psychodelic lighting plus the unshaven, uncombed, unwashed look is out of this world all right! That's the only place for it!

And, then, I'm so very glad to live in a little town where our youth do not have to make daily choices of whether to take an LSD trip or smoke pot, I'm confident our youth wouldn't want to do these things if they did have the exposure.

I'm so very thankful that I don't need drugs for my "kicks" out of life - I can get all the thrills I want - or need - from being with family or friends, reading a good book, listening to good music or many other square little things in life.
Oh, yes, I AM glad I'm square.

CARMEL CHIFFON PIE

28 Kraft Carmels
1 cup hot water dissolved in a double boiler.

Dissolve 1 pkg. gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water. Add this to carmel mixture and chill. Fold in a 6 oz. can of chilled, whipped Pet milk.

Put in pie shell.

FOOD FOR THE GODS

1 large can of pineapple
2 T. sugar
1/2 pt. thin cream
1/2 lb. small marshmallows
4 egg yolks
1/2 pt. whipping cream

Warm the thin cream in a double boiler then add well beaten egg yolks and cook until thick. Drain juice from pineapple and cut into cubes. Mix the pineapple and marshmallows; add the cooked custard and mix well. Whip cream and add to the mixture. Let set in refrigerator 24 hours. Add 1 cup of pecans if desired.

MT. VERNON CHEESECAKE

3/4 c. sifted all-purpose flour
3 T. sugar
2 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/4 c. butter
1 egg yolk
1/4 tsp. vanilla

1 8-oz. and 2 3-oz. packages cream cheese
3/4 c. sugar
4 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. vanilla
3 eggs

1/2 c. sour cream
1 T. sugar
1/4 tsp. vanilla

1/2 c. sugar
1 1/2 T. cornstarch
1 1-lb. can red tart cherries
Red food coloring

Mix flour, sugar and lemon peel; cur in butter. Add egg yolk and vanilla; mix well. Pat dough into a 10-inch pie pan. Bake in 400 deg. oven for 5 to 8 minutes. Remove from oven and reduce heat to 325 deg. Soften cream cheese and beat until light. Gradually add sugar, lemon juice and vanilla. Add eggs, one at a time and beat well after each addition. Pour into crust and bake in a 325 deg. oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Combine sour cream, 1 table-spoon sugar and vanilla; spread over cheesecake and bake 10 minutes longer. Cool. Combine 1/2 cup sugar and cornstarch; add cherries. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add red food coloring, if desired. Cool. Spoon over cheesecake. Makes 8 servings.

Bryant Seeks County Office

Elmo Bryant has announced his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner for Precinct One.

In a statement to the Enterprise Bryant said, "Upon solicitations of numerous friends, and after serious consideration, weighing each problem and the responsibilities that go with the office of County Commissioner, I have decided to make the race."

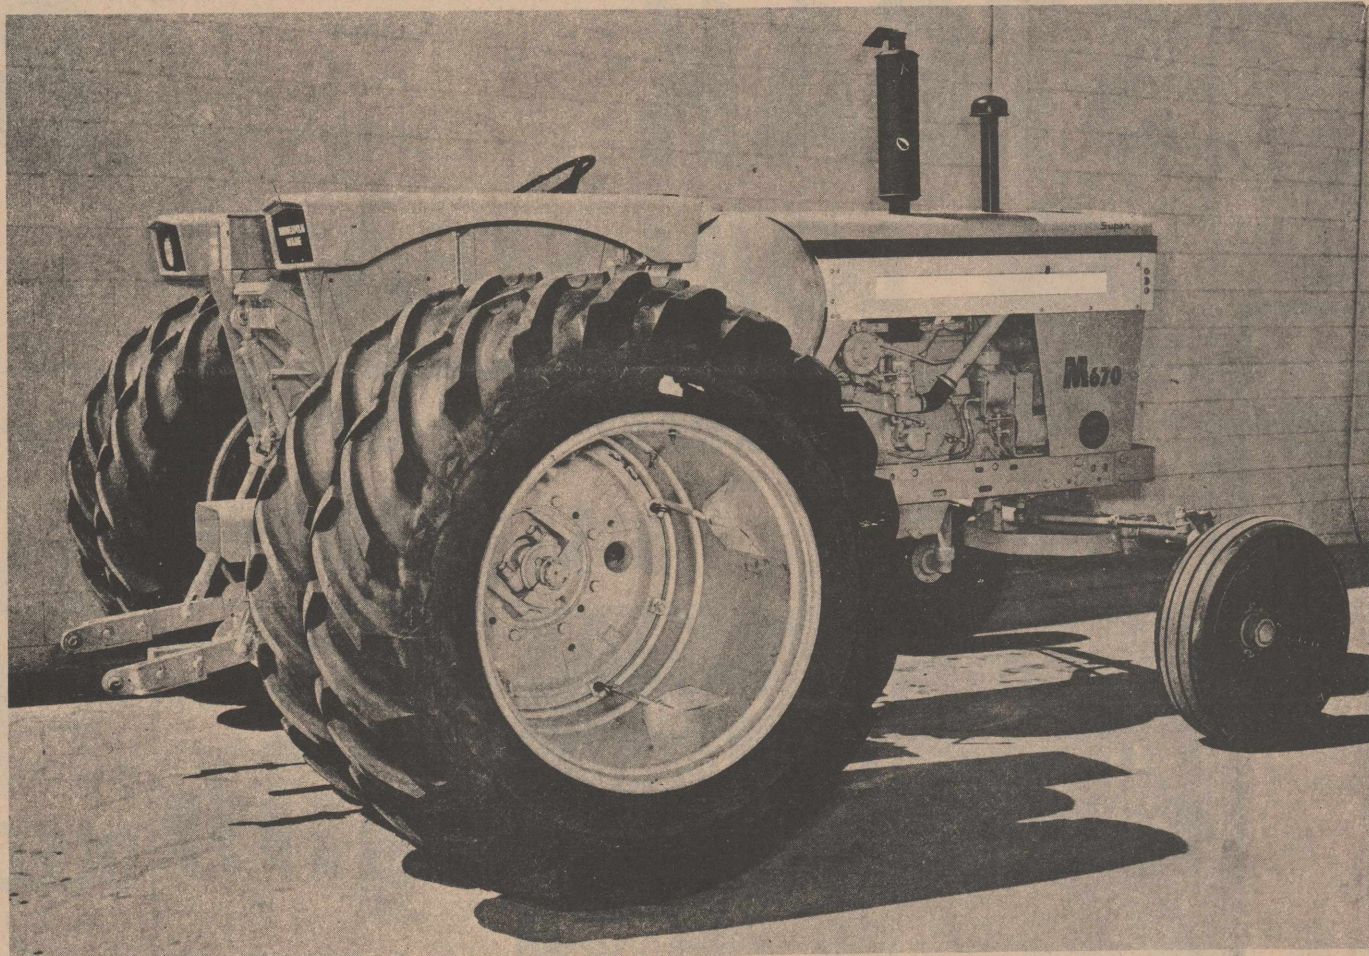

Bryant added "There is not much I can tell you in regard to my background as I have spent the last 42 years among you with the exception of three years in the service."

"I am aware of the fact that the commissioners and judge have one factor to work for the betterment of our county, trying to give the people a dollar's service for each dollar spent. Keeping these things in mind, I will to the best of my ability give you an honest administration. I will try to see each of you before the Primary, but if I do not, please accept this as a solicitation of your support."

VISIT MOTHER

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith visited with his mother, Mrs. W. B. Smith Sr. Friday. Mrs. Smith is a patient in the hospital at Hale Center.

Her Family Is Her Interest

"I still like those western ways!"

This is the statement Mrs. Ethel Schreier made when discussing the days of her youth when she lived in New Mexico. Born in Montague County, Forestburg, Texas, January 11, 1898, Ethel Freeman Schreier and her sister were reared by their mother's sister, after their mother died when Ethel was six weeks old.

The family moved from Granite, Okla. to Isidore, N. M. when Ethel was only 10 years old. Isidore was only a post office and store at that time which Ethel's foster parents owned and operated.

Ethel said that it was "a very isolated country then, thickly timbered and of course, after dark, those trees looked like Indians to us women folks. We were very much afraid of Indians when we first moved to New Mexico."

"Our home at Isidore was considered a ranch then and we owned the only well of water for miles around. Tourists made it to the 'Chatham Ranch' to camp and in order to have water to use."

She remembered that their ranch home was located 15 miles from Tucumcari and eight miles from New Kirk and within a few miles of what is now "Conchos Dam".

She continued, "We used to ride horseback across the prairie there and never dreamed of such a fine project as Conchos Dam ever being located there."

School at Isidore was located about a half mile from the ranch home. Ethel and her sister walked to school and "had to climb a rocky bluff to get there" Ethel recalls. "When it was bad weather, we rode horse back to school or Dad would take us."

"When we had snow storms, there was no transportation in or out, no mail for weeks as mail carrier couldn't possibly get through those snow drifts."

There was a big corral on the ranch and the cowboys would "round up" their cattle and make it to the ranch and corral their cattle there overnight and make camp. Driving them on to Montoya, N. M. the next day.

Until more families moved to Isidore Ethel's family conducted Sunday school in their home each Sunday. After others moved in, they would meet in other homes as well.

Finally, a preacher moved into the community and the families had church in the school building for several years. Since there were no cars then, all the young folks rode horse back and the older folks rode in wagons or a light hack.

For entertainment, there were Sunday school singings, parties and good old fashioned candy pullings every once in a while.

"My daddy had a molasses mill and made our own molasses," Ethel said.

"At Christmas time, we had no trouble finding a Christmas tree, as we had lots of cedar and pine trees and we made all our decorations in those days -- stringed popcorn, cranberries paper chains and foil decorations," Ethel recalled.

The family later moved to Tucumcari and Ethel and her sister attended high school there.

Ethel was married to Louis Schreier in 1917 at Santa Rosa, N. M. when she was 19 years of age and came to Olton to make their home.

Members of the Re-Organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Louis and Ethel were parents of two sons, (Sandy) Louis Clarence and Wilbur.

Louis, better known as "Pappy" Schreier, owned and operated Schreier's Shop until his death Feb. 17, 1961. Their son, Sandy, died Feb. 2, 1944. Wilbur, who is married to the former Ann Ward, is manager of his father's shop at the present.

Mrs. Schreier says her main interest in life now is her family -- her son and his wife, grandchildren and great grandchild. Her grandson, Jimmy Schreier, is stationed at Memphis, Tenn. where he is serving in the US Naval Air Force and attending an electronic school. He is married to the former Brenda Thurman.

Her granddaughter, Sharon, wife of Ronnie Digby, resides at Olton and her baby, Ronnie Jr. is his great-grandmother's pride and joy.

And in her own words -- "I eagerly look forward to visits from my family and truly value the friendship of my many friends and hope to live a Christian life every day."

Lockney was the first contender against Olton to begin the second half of district basketball play.

The Longhorns went home defeated Friday night with a score of 62-58. Pat Bodkin scored 19 points, Charles A. McClain netted 16, and Lannie McClain dropped 12. Pat also rebounded for 18 balls and Lannie jumped for 10.

A score of 51-46 was the final evidence that our OHS Fillies had defeated the Lockney girls for the second time this year. Lynn McGill was top point maker with 31 and she also rebounded for five offensive balls. Kate Carson netted 18 points, Pam Foster and Sherry Moss rebounded defensively for four each.

Both the coaches and players are hopeful for a better second half and to have a chance at the district 3AA crown.

The freshmen basketball boys lost a close game to Frenship Thursday when they were defeated by the score of 42 to 38. Luis Rey was high point man for Olton with 14 points. Next in line was Steve Culwell with 7 points.

Saturday the freshmen boys downed Littlefield 43 to 35 in the Littlefield Tourney. Again Luis Rey was high point with 13 points. Mickey Crowder scored 10 and Steve Culwell came up with 9 points.

In their second game of the tourney they were defeated by Brownfield 63 to 45. Mike Parsons scored 20 points and Luis Rey made 17. Olton placed second in the tourney.

Monday against Abernathy the freshmen boys lost 29 to 25. Mike Parsons scored 13 points followed by Luis Rey with 6 points. Mickey Crowder led in rebounds with 13.

The freshmen girls played against Abernathy with disappointing results because they fell to the opposing team 36-29. Connie Hall was high point girl with 12 points.

We want to welcome a new teacher in OHS, Mrs. Ed Miller. Mrs. Miller is the wife of Coach Miller and she taught in elementary before teaching in high school. She teaches English II.

The following honors were announced last week:

Mr. OHS - Steve Spain
Miss OHS - Jackie Harrod
Most Likely to Succeed-Phil Cox and Jane Ann Duncan
Best All Around - Pat Bodkin and Jackie Harrod

We have heard much about LSD, "pot", or other rebel youth activities, but exactly what effect does it have on the young people of our community? And what attitude is there toward the ones who have taken part in such activities?

We asked several students for their opinions and the reports were as follows:

Carl Roberts: I think that the young people that take part in activities such as taking LSD or "pot" are the kids that are afraid to face life as it really is. They want to have fun with little or no work involved, LSD or "Pot" may make life more enjoyable for a short time, but what do they do when this stuff has a damaging effect on their mind, eyesight, or speech? This is when the problem becomes more serious.

I have no sympathy with these kids. They have the choice to make, and if they choose to throw their lives away that is entirely up to them, and they have no one but themselves to blame for the outcome.

Jackie Harrod: In my opinion, no one can justify taking LSD. If the hippies are searching for an identity, they won't find it through a revolution—not for their personal satisfaction. I realize that teens have great pressures in their daily lives. Yet, I'm a teen and trips on LSD could not interest me less!

Leslie Holladay: I don't understand these people and their need to experiment with drugs, and I don't agree with their ideas. I really don't know enough about them to judge their actions; I only know that, for myself, I'd much rather live in Olton, Texas and go to OHS than to have a blast in Hippyland.

Phil Cox: I cannot condemn them. They were born with intelligence and responsiveness equal to mine or anyone else's. Most likely I would react to society just as they have, had I been reared in their shoes. A misfortune of these individuals is having fallen under poor guidance, or more exactly—no guidance at all. Yes, the greatest misfortune of not only the social rebels but of society included, is the fact that no one is interested in helping them.

Larry Johnson: To me the hippie generation is worthless. People who refuse to go to any of the fighting forces of the US has no rights to be an American citizen.

Kenneth Johnson: Hippies, to me, are the worst generation of young people today. The young people who want to be known as a hippie of course have their reasons, but what good reason can they give to define their need and motive so that every young American will have an understanding of their needs—why hippies should exist.

I feel detached from hippies because they are unwilling to sacrifice for the good of our generation that exists; instead they are trying to make one of their own which cannot exist.

Mary Smith: I feel that the hippie is a social outcast. A person who would get "kicks" out of living in pads and smoking pot needs to see a Doctor in a bad way. A person who would experiment with anything like LSD is needing excitement.

and it is the latest craze to mention the newest drug.

I think hippies are for the people who have lost themselves in the rat race and are afraid to face the world today.

Letha Estes: I think the young people who are taking part in the hippie and drug movement are only expressing their desire for a new way of life. Teenagers are the group that always look for something new and the hippie idea is "in" now. I like new and different things too, but I don't need drugs to express myself. As long as there are teenagers there will be new fads coming and going, and as far as I'm concerned the movement cango on as long as it doesn't come to our town.

Gary Dickenson: I think the youth of Olton cannot really understand the hippies. I think they are really searching for happiness and things that maybe even themselves don't understand. We, the youth of Olton, have homes and happiness and we don't know why the hippies are like they are. The hippies, their action, and ideas are repulsive to most of us. They are trying to find something that really they have at their feet. They are trying to find everything that American ideas are based on.

Donnie Fancher: I don't consider them members of the same generation as we who do not partake of drugs. I feel that they have detached themselves from us rather than us shunning them from our society.

Adding color to the OHS sports scene these days are the sharp-looking Fillies in their new blue blazer-suits. We can be justly proud of a team that looks good both on and off the court!

ATTENTION FHA'ERS: Be sure to turn in your name and your date's name plus $1.25 for each to Sue Church by February 7.

WHO'S WHO

Kathy May: What's it like to be unknown?!!

Carol: No one gets something for nothing! It's just that some get by with less!

Steve B.: And where were you when your car got stuck!!

Teresa: So you don't remember anything, Letha!!

Welcome to high school, Mrs. Miller!!!

JoEllen: Don't you think it's about time he found out?!!

Barbara C.: See! It wasn't so hard, was it?!!

Leslie H.: We guess they just want to keep you in suspense!!

Pat Bodkin: There's always post-hole diggers!!

Charles A.: We hope you'll be back in school soon!

Steve B.: How would you like a "Lady Sunbeam"?!!

Shirley: Do you always imitate Steve?!!

Ottis: You mean you shave too?!!

Hugo: So you've lost your touch!!

David: You mean to say you really aren't going blind?!!

Carl: Really, two sisters!

Steve and Shirley: We didn't hear a thing!!

ALL FOR FUN

Mr. Huguley: "Good heavens son! Why aren't you at the top of your class once in a while, instead of always at the bottom?"

Garland: "It doesn't make any difference, Dad. The teacher talks so darned loud you can hear at both ends."

When they pulled the absent-minded professor, half drowned, from the lake, he sputtered, "How exasperating! I've just remembered that I can swim."

Drip: "Can you stand on your head?"

Drop: "Nope, it's too high."

How are you going to teach logic in a world where everybody talks about the sun setting, when it's really the horizon rising?

Husband to wife weeping as she watches TV: "For heaven's sake, Emily! It's only a commercial for acid indigestion!"

HART CAMP HAPPENINGS

MRS. EDWIN OLIVER
Ph. 262-4242 Fieldton

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Parkey were in Lubbock Monday to be with Mrs. Parkey's father, C. L. Jarrett of Floydada, who had surgery in the Methodist Hospital Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Foster, Pam and Kimmie, were in Lubbock Sunday to see the movie "Gone With the Wind".

Mrs. Wesley Neinst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Kinn, moved back to their home in Spur after he was hospitalized several days following a heart attack during Christmas. They had intended to spend the winter here near their daughter and family.

Very few families in the community have escaped the flue bug during the last few weeks. Several children have missed school because of illness. Some who have had the fly are members of the family of James Overman, Dewey Parkey, O. J. Neeley, Edwin Oliver, George Stewart, Don Muller, Gerry Langford, M. W. Wheeler and J. W. Johnson, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Langford and daughter, Kathy, visited over the weekend in Paul's Valley, Okla. with relatives.

A church study course will be conducted next week, Monday through Friday evenings at the Hart Camp Baptist Church. The topic of study will be "Studies in Luke". Rev. Wayne Sage, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Fieldton will teach the adult and young people. There will also be classes for the Intermediates, Juniors, Primaries and Beginners. This is a study course for the Hart Camp Baptist Church and the Fieldton Baptist Church. Anyone wishing to attend is welcome. Each year these two churches combine their efforts in order to have a better study course with more inattendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mc Curry and Jimmy of Springlake visited Sunday afternoon in the O. J. Neeley home.

Mrs. Blanton Martin and Mrs. Elma Burleson were WMU members of the Hart Camp Baptist Church represented at the Llanos Altos Quarterly WMU Meeting last Thursday at the Parkview Baptist Church in Littlefield. The meeting was an all day meeting with the host church serving lunch at the noon hour. General theme for the meeting was "We've a Message to Give". Main speaker was Rev. Winter, who is the pastor of the Edmonson Baptist Church. His topic was "Missions With a Message". Films of Mexico were shown to emphasize the message. Conferences were led by different associational leaders.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney O' Neal of Syracuse, Kan. announce the arrival of a son, Scott David, born Jan. 18. The little lad weighed eight pounds. He has a sister, Schell, six years old. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore, Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brigrance. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. O'Neal of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lynn Burrus of Paris are the proud parents of a son, William Bentley, born Jan. 18. The little lad weighed seven pounds. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Paul Burrus. Maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Owen and Mrs. E. N. Burrus. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. O. D. Robinson of Lubbock and great-grandmother Mrs. W. A. Weems of Denton.

Cards of Thanks

I would like to say thank you to each of you for your visits, calls, flowers, cards and good wishes while I was in the hospital. God bless you.
Lillian George

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for all the kind deeds, thoughts and prayers in our behalf during the illness and loss of our sister and aunt, Mrs. Allie Williamson. May God's richest blessing be yours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spain and family
Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Howard and family.

WEEKEND GUESTS
Visiting during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Frazier and Darla were the Frazier grandchildren, Roger and Debbie Harrell of Anton.

FATHER HOSPITALIZED
T. C. Favor of Fieldton is in the Amherst hospital suffering from a severe attack of influenza. Favor is the father of Burley Favor.

Ginger Michelle Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Bell, was born Monday, Jan. 15 at the Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. She weighed 6 lbs, 13 oz, and was 22 inches long. Mr. and Mrs. Bell have one son, Keith, 3.

HOSPITALIZED
Sherrilyn McGill, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack McGill was admitted Tuesday to the Lubbock Methodist Hospital because of an ear infection.

OKLAHOMA VISIT
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gabehart returned recently from a three weeks' trip to Oklahoma. At Binger they visited Mrs. Gabehart's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Smith, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Scott. In Oklahoma City the Gabeharts visited Mrs. Gabehart's mother and sister, Mrs. Ina Smith and Mrs. Joe Wright. Mrs. Gabehart spent several days in a clinic in Oklahoma City where she was given a series of tests.
