Man Is Wounded At Slaton When Gun Discharged

RAILWAY OFFICER HOLDS SHOOTING ACCIDENTAL

(Special To The Journal)

SLATON, Mar. 24.—When W. O. West, Santa Fe railway officer, last night ordered three men off of a tank car in a slowly moving freight train, his pistol was discharged and one of the men was wounded. The other two escaped.

F. Kelley, 52, of Shenandoah, Ia., was the man wounded. A bullet believed to be of .41 caliber entered the upper right hip and was removed by a doctor at Mercy hospital shortly afterward.

Held Accidental

Chief of Police Tom Abel investigated the shooting and this morning reported that he was convinced that it had been accidental. Kelley's condition is not serious, the attending physician said.

Kelley said he had been in El Paso, where he had passed a week or more in a hospital, and was en route to Borger when wounded while on a freight train in the Santa Fe railroad yards here.

J. A. Gillies, division superintendent of the railroad, of Slaton, said it appeared that the man had ridden a Texas & Pacific freight train from El Paso to Sweetwater and a Santa Fe freight from Sweetwater to Slaton.

Standing between two tracks, West ordered three men on a tank car to get off, his pistol pointed upward, Police Chief Abel said.

The pistol evidently struck the car or some unseen projection, and a bullet hit Kelley in the right hip and ranged downward. West not knowing that a man had been wounded until later, according to the chief of police.

Another man who was riding about three cars behind Kelley heard the shot, found the wounded man, helped him off of the tank car and to a hospital, the police chief related. The man who helped Kelley off of the car said he was Carl Coleman.

Chief Police Abel, said no other officers were with West when the shooting occurred at about 9:45 p. m.

Division Agent Gillies said he understood that the bullet had struck one of Kelley's pelvic bones.

PORTO RICANS ARE LAUDED BY HOOVER

PRESIDENT TALKS ON ACHIEVEMENTS AND MAIN PROBLEMS

(By The Associated Press)

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 24.—Standing before Porto Rico's assembled native leaders, President Hoover today joined praise of the island's progress with an acknowledgement of the "grave problems" confronting it.

He named as one of these the danger of the population increasing more swiftly than the means of livelihood furnished by available and established industries. The chief executive pledged the support and cooperation of his administration toward continued Porto Rican progress.

"I know of no finer achievement" Mr. Hoover said, "than that of the people of this island who from their gaining wealth have builded up from a few public schools with but 35,000 scholars at the time of the occupation to a great system of several thousand schools, colleges and universities, which today gives instruction to over 200,000 scholars."

The president praised the efforts of Governor Theodore Roosevelt to secure new channels of livelihood for the island's increased population. He said the two other principal problems—one engendered by the hurricane of 1928, the other by the business depression—were "but passing events in our history."

FIVE FIREMEN MEET DEATH

ANOTHER DIES FROM SHOCK; ELEVEN ARE INJURED

MALVERN, Pa., March 24.—The siren of the Malvern volunteer fire department proved to be a summons to death for five members of the company and injury to 11 others when they responded to a grass fire alarm yesterday.

Word of the tragedy brought death to the sixth man, the father of one of the victims. He was Percy Matlack, a platinum worker. He fell dead in his home from shock when told his 17-year-old son, Clarence, had been killed.

When the siren sounded, 17 men mounted a combination pumper truck and started for the George J. Camp estate, two miles west of Malvern. When it was speeding along King road, at Halderman's crossing less than a quarter mile from the grass fire, something went wrong with the truck as the driver attempted to make a sharp left turn. It swerved from the road, crashed into a bank and then plunged into a tree.

Five men were caught between the bank and the side of the truck and crushed to death.

Those killed were Clarence Matlack, 17; Clifford Kilpatrick, 19; William Garret, 25; Clarence Gregg, 24; and Henry Munch, 50.

BANK ROBBERY IS NEAR FRUSTRATED

ERIE Kas., Mar. 24. (AP)—Two masked bandits whose carefully conceived plans were almost frustrated by a shotgun in the hands of an 18-year-old girl forced W. T. Craig, cashier, to open the vault of the Allen State bank before dawn today and fled with $1,000.

Before going to Craig's home, the bandits captured N. W. Bobine, night watchman, and forced him to assist them in cutting telephone wires leading out of town.

Accompanied by Bobine, whose hands had been bound with wire, the men aroused the Craig family. As it was being assembled in the living room, Lucille Craig, a daughter, snatched up a shotgun, pressed it against her captor and pulled the trigger repeatedly. The gun failed to discharge.

Craig was forced to drive to the bank in his own automobile and open the vault.

RESOLUTION IS TAKEN UP IN SENATE

SENATOR SMALL LEADS MOVE FOR DELAYING CONSIDERATION

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 24.—On motion of Senator Small of Wellington, the senate voted 13 to 12 to table, subject to call, the $200,000,000 state highway bond issue resolution.

Senators Berkeley of Alpine, Cunningham of Abilene, Greer of Athens, Hardin of Stephenville, Hornsby of Austin, Martin of Hillsboro, O'Neal of Wichita Falls, Parrish of Lubbock, Poage of Waco, Purl of Dallas, Rawlings of Fort Worth, Small of Wellington, Woodruff of Decatur, supported the motion to table the resolution.

Tilt Precipitated

Senator Woodul's move to bring up the resolution precipitated a tilt between himself and Senator Small. Small charged proponents of the resolution with attempting to "ram the resolution down the throats of the people." He stated the resolution had been laying over on the table for a long time and that it should remain there until set for special order.

Small said he understood that "Harris county had all of the rights," in this legislature. Woodul told Smith if he thought he was going to run "this into a private fight" he was wrong.

Woodul told Small that "the Senator from Harris will handle the resolution without asking any advice from the opponents."

ANOTHER RIOT THREATENED

BLAME STOOLPIGEONS FOR DISORDERS IN ILLINOIS PENS

(By The Associated Press)

JOLIET, Ill., March 24.—A warning has been sounded that there may be a resumption of disorders in the Illinois penitentiaries, in which three convicts have been killed in uprisings since March 14.

It was given before the legislative committee investigating unrest in the state's twin prisons, by Joe Moran, a convict serving time for bank robbery, who charged that he had paid $2,000 to a member of a previous pardon and parole board for his parole, but was rearrested after eleven months of freedom. He refused to give his name.

"Don't think this is the end," the witness said, in referring to the rioting in the old prison and the Stateville penitentiary. "The inmates didn't want to riot March 14 and they wouldn't have if it hadn't been for the stoolpigeon guards and inmates and their activity. Stoolpigeon guards brought on this riot and you haven't heard the last of it."

PRORATION IS TAKEN UP BY COMMITTEE

EAST TEXAS PROBLEM SHUNTED ASIDE FOR STATE-WIDE PLAN

AUSTIN, March 24.—The question of whether the new East Texas oil field should be prorated was temporarily shunted aside today as the railroad commission first took up the issue of state-wide proration.

The highly controversial East Texas question could not be ignored, however, even for a few hours. Attorneys for the East Texans objected to further proceedings of the hearing until the central proration committee should submit its recommendations for the new district as well as the other areas.

However, Robert R. Penn of Dallas, chairman of the central proration committee, said the figures of recommended allowable production would not be ready until this afternoon or tomorrow. C. V. Terrell, railroad commission chairman, held that the prorationists might go ahead with their testimony, offering witnesses to show the need of proration to prevent waste.

Dan Moody, former governor and leading counsel for the East Texans was applauded when he told Penn "we plan to defeat you here and if not here, in the court house."

The former chief executive asked Penn if it were not true that the central proration committee "planned to talk the East Texans to death." Penn denied that.

But Bartlett has grown fond of the baby and plans to adopt it.

Forty-two business men were present at the conference in which plans for getting Lubbock people out for the two days exhibits were made.

SLAUGHTER NO. TWO SHOWING MORE OIL

DRILLING IS CONTINUED ON COCHRAN TEST AT NOON TODAY

(Special to The Journal)

LEHMAN, Cochran County, Mar. 24—With drilling operations being continued at approximately 4,830 feet, the Continental Oil company's Slaughter Number 2, five and one-half miles, southwest of here, was "looking better" at noon today, reports from the test indicated. Core brought up from the hole in the early hours of the morning revealed a heavier showing of oil.

The trail to the well was busy with cars this mirning as interested parties from over the South Plains drove out to visit the latest scene of oil activity, a long sought for event in this section.

Encountered Sunday

Showing of oil in the test was first encountered late Sunday at 4,794 feet and since then has been increasing. Core brought up at 4,813 feet and again at 4,827 feet revealed indications of a possible producing well. The core is completely saturated with oil and is a hard dark gray lime, it was said.

A slight trace of gas is also reported in the well. It's lightness may be due to the fact that the hole is filled with mud.

Less than two years ago, the attention of members of the oil fraternity of this section was directed to the Slaughter Number one, about a mile away, when a similar showing of oil was encountered at a depth of 4,870 feet.

Many visited

For more than two weeks, a steady stream of cars visited the scene daily as drilling operations were watched. Two other good showings were reported at 4,878 and 4,855. Drilling was continued until water was struck at a depth of 4,920, sulphur water filling the well at 4,965 feet.

Efforts were then made to plug back to where the oil shows were encountered and shoot the well, but after the shot it was abandoned

TRAGEDY ENDS MARRIAGE OF ONE WEEK

SON OF A PROMINENT BROWNWOOD FAMILY DOUBLE SLAYER

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNWOOD, Mar. 24.—Melson Wakefield, 19, son of a prominent and wealthy Brownwood family, shot and killed his bride of one week early today, then ended his own life with a charge from a shotgun. The shooting occurred at the family home in Brownwood.

The couple married last Tuesday in Del Rio but the wedding had not been announced publicly and only a few friends in Brownwood knew of the marriage. The girl was 16 years old.

Mrs. M. E. Wakefield, the youth's mother, told physicians and officers who arrived after the shooting she was preparing to retire when she heard a shot in her son's bedroom. She ran to the room but as she entered, the youth turned a shotgun on himself and fired. Both the boy and the girl died without saying anything and no cause for the shootings was known.

Wakefield's father died several months ago.

His wife, before her marriage, was Miss Dorothy Crost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Crost of Brownwood.

The youth's mother heard the couple return from a car ride about 12:30 a. m., tiptoe upstairs to their bedroom, then after thirty minutes or more of silence, heard a shot.

Dr. T. B. Bailey, family physician, was called but both the youth and his 19-year-old bride were dead when he arrived. Justice E. T. Parkinson began an inquest investigation this morning but at noon had not made a report.

The youth and the girl had been sweethearts for four or five years. The boy's mother told officers the couple had been living in her home and she had never suspected any trouble between them that would have caused the shooting.

BLAST WRECKS FACTORY

TWO INJURED, MANY THROWN FROM BEDS BY EXPLOSION

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Mar. 24.—Persons in adjoining buildings were thrown from their beds and windows were shattered for blocks around as an explosion and fire wrecked the factory of the Bon Dee Golf Ball company late last night.

The explosion was caused by ignition of a 40-gallon tank of naphtha, officials of the company said. The inflammable liquid is used for cleaning rubber used in the manufacture of golf balls, Stanley B. Nicholas, treasurer of the company, estimated damage at $100,000 and said 75 men would be thrown out of work temporarily through destruction of the plant.

The blast shattered the rear wall of the McGraw hotel nearby, and the flaming naphtha set fire to nine residences. Families were driven from their homes and were cared for by neighbors the rest of the night.

Only two men were injured. Albert Anselin and Richard Cyrier, employes in the plant, were blown into the street and they were burned and bruised.

No Shouts Of Greeting Heard When Survivors Of Viking Reach Harbor

(By The Associated Press)

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Mar. 24.—The sealer Sagona, with survivors of the Viking aboard, some sick and one dead, steamed into St. John's harbor early today.

There were no shouts of greeting, no bustle as the ship berthed. A silent crowd watched, with it the prime minister and the minister of marine and fisheries.

Stretcher bearers worked swiftly, silently. Loaded ambulances began to depart as soon as the gang plank was down.

Eager ears listened for first hand stories of the Viking's fate, how she exploded on Sunday night, March 15, eight miles of Horse Island, White Bay. The stories came reluctantly.

At 6 o'clock that fateful Sunday the crew of the Viking were below singing hymns. The sealer, making slow progress, hit a pan of heavy ice and lurched.

"Hell burst loose!" said one survivor.

George Day of Placentia was the only man aft of the smokestack who survived. He said he was flung into the air and

DREISER NOT FRIENDLY WITH LEWIS—HE WHO GOT SLAPPED

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Mar. 24 (AP)—Theodore Dreiser says he seeks no armistice with Sinclair Lewis, fellow author and cynic.

Dreiser, stepping from a plane here last night into a battery of cameras, was asked whether he had "mad up" with Lwis, author of "Babbit" and winner of the nobel prize whom he slapped in New York last week.

"No," Dreiser replied.

"What would you do if a situation similar to that arose again?"

"Use the other hand in the slapping, I think. I am trying to get it off my mind as a mere incident between temperamental people. Mr. Lewis is temperamental, you know, but am I." And then after a pause, "As for being friendly with him, where is the necessity?"

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

MAKES CHILD STUBBORN

"DEAR DR. MYERS: I read your article every night in the Times. Will you kindly help me with my problem?

"My son is 2 1-2 years of age. He is large for his age, strong, very active, and healthy. He is stubborn and very determined, and anything I tell him to do he answers 'No', and to get obedience, I have to whip him awfully hard. I have tried several ways of punishment, such as talking to him, and making him sit on a chair, but neither helps.

"But worst of all is that when he plays with other children he hits, slaps, pinches or bites them. This morning he bit one of his playmates, I whipped him for it, but it did not do any good, as he bit another this afternoon until the blood came. His father whipped him this time harder than I did. He is not afraid of either of us.

"Also, when any grown person speaks to him he will always say, 'Go away' or 'Stop'. He is very affectionate at times, also very destructive.

"I have tried everything I can think of to remedy these faults. Do you think he will outgrow them?

"Please help me, and thanks so much."

* * *

Answer: Although I advise some spanking as a means of teaching safety and specific inhibitions and of building the foundation of self-restraint in the early years, I should advise you to abolish spanking entirely. You have not employed it for the right things, nor has it always been immediate. You also are using pain to try to get the child to cooperate, and pain to prevent. By your present scheme you will make him stubborn.

Apparently he has good stuff in him, for which you should be grateful, and you have stirred up so much antagonism in him that he has grown in general resentful and is taking out his feelings on other children.

Observe him carefully while he plays with other children. The moment he injures them isolate him or make him sit in a chair for about 20 minutes by the clock. If he cries or begs or promises to be good, say nothing, do nothing. Just let him serve out his time. Show him where the hand of the clock will be when he may get down. Then seal your lips and stand by your plans. It, however, he gets down from the chair before the time set, spank him immediately.

* * *

Make it a rule never to command him to pick up the ball, say, or close the door. Ask him to do so; and if he chooses not to comply, do it yourself, and don't scold then or even look annoyed. When he cooperates, praise him heartily. By and by he will co-operate just for your approval. When, however, you see him doing something dangerous to him or to property, tell him to stop and expect him to do so at once, but be sure it is something he should not do. If he disobeys merely assign him to the chair in the fewest possible words. Only if he gets out of the chair without permission should you use pain.

Praise him more when he is good. Read to him, listen to his fancy yarns, and enjoy his creations. Celebrate successes in him.

This is a hard-water country

SOAP and hard water make scum. The hardness in the water combines with the soap. The scum collects dirt. There is a dirty ring around the dishpan, the washtubs, the bathtub. But soften hard water with Mel'o and no scum forms.

Water softened with Mel'o is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It makes the soap much more effective, too, saving from ⅓ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. Mel'o costs only 10 cents a can. You can afford to buy 3 cans and keep one in the kitchen, one in the laundry, and one in the bathroom. Get it at your grocer's.

DUBLIN TAKES SWEEPSTAKES

TECH JUDGING EVENT HELD MONDAY AT TEXAS TECH

Dublin High school teams were sweepstakes winners at the sixth annual vocational agriculture judging contests Monday at Texas Technological college.

Two firsts, a third and a sixth place were collected by the Dublin entries. J. M. Bird, Dublin coach who last year won the first two places while at Post, was awarded the sweepstakes banner by W. L. Stangel. A crowd of more than 600 persons was at the college livestock pavilion to see the presentation of awards Monday night.

There were 100 teams from 32 high schools, with around 400 boys and 32 coaches, who participated. Judging began at 9 o'clock in the morning and the work of adding up the totals for the winners was not completed until after 7 o'clock.

Scholarships Given

On behalf of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college, first place individual winners in each of the five main divisions, were given a scholarship at Texas Technological college. This was an added award, not previously announced, and the announcement was greetod with applause.

Sweepstakes winners were: Dublin, 11 points; McLean, 14; Tahoka, 21; Tulia, 30; Dimmit, 30.

High individuals in each class, winners of the scholarships, were: dairy cattle, M. Jones, Dublin; farm shop contest, M. Windom, McLean; livestock judging, F. C. Schillingburg, Dublin; plant production, L. Smith, Post; poultry judging, W. Smith, Hale Center.

High teams were: dairy cattle, Dublin, 1,334 points; farm shop contest, Breckenridge 1,172; livestock judging, Dublin; grain sorghums, Post, 1,837; poultry, Tahoka, 1,341.

Stangel Presides

W. L. Stangel presided at the evening program following the lunch served by the Lubbock chamber of commerce. A check of the number served showed 786 persons were taken care of.

In his opening remarks Mr. Stangel stated that five years ago he predicted the contest would reach a total of 100 teams. "This year we have had 100 teams of boys in this contest," said the speaker.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the school, was introduced by Prof. Stangel and welcomed the boys to the school campus. Declaring that "all the development that has taken place in West Texas" in the past few years is "just a beginning," Dr. Horn predicted that "there is no telling what it will be in the next five years" if the present growth of the contests is maintained.

Davis Is Speaker

C. L. Davis, Austin state vocational agricultural director, made a few remarks. J. C. Dykes, of Texas A. & M. college, also made a short talk. Both men praised the vocational work as exemplified by the work of the boys Monday.

To the winning individual man in the plant propagation contest C. H. Mahoney of the horticulture department presented a budding knife and to the winning team, Silverton, he presented a bundle of shrubs and trees.

Professor Ray C. Mowery, director general of the contest, took occasion to express his thanks to the boys of the school of agriculture who aided in the handling of the contest. Between 50 and 60 students, he said, handled the contest.

Silver loving cups were presented winners of first place honors in team contests in each group. H. W. Stanton of the Standard Milling Co., the Myrick Hardware company and the chamber of commerce, donated the cups. Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Avalanche and Journal, made the presentation speeches for the loving cups. The cups are annual presentations, the team winning a cup three times having it as a permanent trophy.

The sweepstakes banner was made by the Caprock Embroidery and Uniform company of Lubbock and it is also an annual award.

Family Refuses To Move Out Of Church Home

ANTIOCH, Ill., March 24. (AP)—The address of Clarence Spiering and family still is:

"Methodist Episcopal church, Hickory Corners, Illinois."

After his home across the street from the church burned, Spiering moved his family in, bag and baggage, declaring the church trustees lost their right to the property because services were suspended during the winter.

He was overruled by a justice court but appealed from a charge of "breaking, entering and usurping, of property" the case is pending.

MOST OF LOANS ARE APPROVED

ABOUT SEVENTY - FIVE PER CENT CHECKS RECEIVED HERE

Seventy-five per cent of applications made by Lubbock county farmers for federal drouth relief loans have been approved by the district offices at either St. Louis or Fort Worth and checks have been received, J. B. Shannon, in charge of the Lubbock office, says.

"We are making some supplemental loan applications, for food, under the new act," Mr. Shannon added. "After congress passed the bill to provide loans for food as well as feed, we began including them in the applications. But a number of the first applications have come back with supplemental loans."

Total number of checks received up to this morning was 196, out of a total of 260 applications. Checks amount to $33,617.

Not all of these checks are for the full amount of the loan that was granted. For the larger loans, that is for those above $200 to $350, only a part was sent in the first check. The remainder will come later.

Average check received is slightly under $172.

The right way to use the new HUMIDOR PACK

1 Do not tear Cellophane. Look for the convenient flap at the top and back of package

2 Simply lift this flap and you will break the specially devised air-tight seal

3 Hold package as shown and with your thumbs push it part way out of Humidor Pack

4 To avoid tearing tin foil, slip first finger of each hand under Revenue stamp and break it

5 Help yourself to a fresh cigarette, then slide package back into its Humidor Pack

6 Close package. It guards Camels from dust and germs and provides sanitary protection

THE moment you open the new Camel Humidor Pack you begin to note the advantages of this new, scientific and sanitary method of wrapping Camel cigarettes.

At once you are greeted with the delightful aroma that comes from choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos in prime condition.

Your sense of touch also detects the freshness of Camels, for unlike moisture-robbed cigarettes Camels are pliable to the fingers.

But the real difference comes when you light a Camel and inhale its cool, fragrant smoke.

Cigarettes brought to you so perfectly conditioned deserve to be kept that way in your pocket.

That will keep intact the mildness and freshness that is making the whole country say: "Now I'd walk two miles for a Camel because they're twice as good."

Then go back tomorrow if you can.

Thought For Today

In that thou lovest thine enemies and hatest thine friends.—II Samuel 19:6.

* * *

He who has ceased to enjoy his friend's superiority has ceased to love him.—Madame Swetchine.

Reward Of Faith

Charlie Curtis of Pomeroy, O., may smile a little sometimes at the mottoes and poems which optimistically tell the world to keep on keeping on. It is so exactly what he did And he won.

It took him 24 years to learn to walk after a farm accident paralyzed him at the age of 20. But he never gave up.

He could only move his head for the first 10 years of his illness. But he could talk into the telephone and give news as a country correspondent for a newspaper. Most men have an idea that heroes are found only at the head of the line of march where warriors go, steelclad, to follow the flame of a gallant banner. They have not learned that there are infinitely greater martyrdoms where it takes more strength to make a lantern of one's courage and swing it in the dark, than to face the conquering cannons.

So Charlie Curtis kept on. Not because he wanted to be a hero. Just because he wanted to walk. After 10 years he sensed a slight feeling in the tips of his toes and fingers. Then he found he could roll over and could crawl a few inches. His sister flitted pads to his knees and hands as he crept. Then he grew strong enough for crutches and finally he threw them aside and walked. Now at the age of 70, he walks proudly and gayly from house to house, with wares to sell.

He won his reward . . . a pair of legs which most men never lose. He did it because his faith never faltered.

One Task

For 65 years Saran Thompson of Hendrysburg, O., has been piecing together bright squares of cloth to make a quilt. Now the quilt is finished.

Sarah was 10 years old when she began cutting and sewing together the bright colored squares of cloth. The quilt was designed for her hope chest. Back in the 1860's, sewing for a hope chest was the proper occupation for all young girls. They learned thus to make neat, even stitches and to take a sober, practical view of the future.

It was an ambitious pattern which Sarah Thompson chose for her quilt—a handsome pattern. There were times as the months and years passed when Sarah sewed diligently and other times when the work was neglected. Gradually time passed and it became evident that the quilt was not to take its place in a bride's hope chest. Miss Thompson never married.

Sixty-five years is a long time to devote to a single task. The 65-year-old quilt takes on the character of a life work. Ever since childhood the aged woman has had before her as a goal the day when her ambitious quilt should be completed.

Now the time has come. Sixty-five years of sewing bright colored scraps of cloth together are at an end. It is almost certain that the quilt maker will find something missing from her life now that the task is finished. Other men and women who have undertaken long drawn out objectives have felt the same. It is an ancient truth again demonstrated. Work, against which the human family is inclined to rail so often, takes on the glamour of a privilege once the worker is deprived of it.

The pastor of a New York church has engaged a jazz band to play in the church. For heaven's sake!

The butcher wouldn't complain if the average customer came in like a lion and went out with some lamb.

Illinois farmers are to conduct a campaign to make the public "milk conscious." Isn't that what the milk man does when he rouses us in the morning?

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says many women worth looking at are not worth listening to.

* * *

When it's springtime in West Texas,
And the sand blows every day!
When the air is full of rubbish,
I would like to leave and stay
In a clime that's not so breezy,
Where a white shirt lasts a day!
When it's springtime in West Texas—
Then I'd like to go away!
(With apologies to no one at all—not even to the dude who wrote "When It's Springtime In The Rockies!")

* * *

SPEAKING of springtime, ho hum, that romantic season was officially ushered in last Saturday, but South Plains newcomers are warned not to dig up their panama hats yet awhile. Before Easter, when most males doll up in their new lids, it's liable to be as cold as blue blazes.

* * *

But spring's really ruling in the sections adjacent to Lubbock and the Plains area. Down 'off the cap' the fields are taking on a vivid green hue and the pastures are dotted with yellow daises, sometimes called 'corn pone flowers'. Orchards are in bloom, dotting the country-side with a happy coloring and the unmistakable breath of the July and August to come can be felt across the cheek.

* * *

Springtime's 'just around the corner', all right. There's no doubt about that. And if you want to be able to tell the very day it gets here, just watch the ladies. They'll usher in spring by donning their fur coats.

* * *

A miss in the hand is worth two in the motor.

* * *

ALTHOUGH about a dozen gasoline pumps and as many market scales have been 'tied up' here by a state inspector, The Plainsman refuses to believe there are that many dishonest business people here or that the percentage of 'tie-ups' is any greater here than it would be in any other city or town, anywhere.

* * *

If a typewriter inspector should come in to inspect the machines at the Avalanche-Journal, The Plainsman shudders to think what he'd say. And we don't let our typewriters get run down to be dishonest with anybody. We let 'em run down because we're too busy to fool with having them fixed up—because we can't spare a machine sometimes long enough to get it worked on—and because we just don't think about having them worked on at the right time.

* * *

The Plainsman doesn't know where a single one of those 'tied up' pumps and scales are. Further, he doesn't care. But if he were a betting man he'd lay plenty of dough on the line that the 'tie-ups' came as a result of misunderstanding, carelessness or business rush, rather than because the business man wanted to take advantage of his customer.

* * *

If there are a dozen scales working under-weight in Lubbock, there are probably as many, or more, working over-weight. Same way with the gas pumps. The inspector will likely find plenty of gas pumps giving too much gas to the gallon before he's through with his investigation.

* * *

THE PLAINSMAN hasn't had an opportunity to notice any scales in Lubbock but he has had occasion to buy gasoline from at least a dozen different places. When the hose is working he never fails to check his gas guage against the size of the order and has yet to find himself getting 'gyped' at a local gasoline station.

* * *

In making his report to newspapermen, the state inspector of weights and measures who 'tied up' the pumps and scales here, didn't intimate that there were any dishonest motives behind the inaccuracies which he found. Nobody has asked The Plainsman to leap to the defense of those, whoever they may be, whose pumps and scales fell under the ban. But it's natural for people to think the worst if the best isn't pointed out.

* * *

* * *

An oldfashioned parent in our neighborhood says if one of his kids dons a new fangled bathing suit he'll get tanned, rain or shine!

* * *

PAUL KARDOW, 52, was a brave man. There's no doubt of that. Several years ago, when a market in which he was employed was 'stuck up' by a bandit, Kardow, former wrestler, snatched the bandit's gun and later turned him over to the police.

* * *

On last Saturday Kardow walked into the market where he had worked as a butcher, to find his manager being held up at a pistol's point. He immediately engaged the gunman in physical combat and the upshoot of the whole business was that Kardow was killed.

He was a brave man, all right, and subdued the second robber before he died. But the fact remains that Kardow, with all his fine bravery, is dead.

* * *

A man with a pistol is always dangerous—especially a man who knows he'll do a penitentiary stretch if captured. If discretion is ever the better part of valor, it is when an unarmed man faces a desperate robber holding a pistol a foot or two away.

* * *

Money is important and very much to be desired.

But The Plainsman believes the loss of a brave citizen like Paul Kardow far overshadows the importance of a small sum of money.

Kardow was a brave man. He should be honored for his courage. But the price he paid for it is much too high

Progressives Blame Congress' Ills On The Methods Of Procedure, Voters, Lame-Duck Sessions, Other Causes

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Congress, recessed after an unusually hard season of razzing from editorial paragraphers and its ears still ringing with vociferous assurance that the country's safety depended on its adjournment, was dissected and analyzed at the Progressive conference by folks who believe that in its proper functioning lies the nation's hope.

Blame for the sins of Congress—commissive and commissive—were attributed to methods of procedure, to the voters who elect congressmen, to opponents of progress in both houses, lameduck sessions, the administration, failure to keep up with the age and other causes.

One point most of the Progressives agreed upon: Backing a common program, with Progressives in one house working in collaboration with those of the other, they might expect to make the 72nd Congress much more valuable to its constituents than the 71st.

Press Opposed Extra Session

Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico said the press had almost unanimously urged against an early extra session of the new Congress. He pointed out that if the theory that the country was better off with Congress out of session had any foundation at all, the country obviously would be more prosperous if Congress never did meet. But as long as the people had hardly anything to say about nominating presidential candidates, Congress would be the only branch of government directly selected by the voters.

Congressman Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, writing from his hospital bed, declared that major party leaders had a tendency to legislate on fundamentals "laid down in the age of the stage coach, the spinning wheel and tallow candles."

Hence, LaGuardia said, wealth had become concentrated and the large masses of workers were at the mercy of a few for their very existence. Failure of legislation to keep abreast of the age resulted in a condition which found the country with unprecedented wealth, warehouses full, millions of willing workers out of employment and many close to starvations.

"With the exception of additional appropriations for public improvements, nothing constructive was done to meet the economic depression," he said. "There was no cooperation between executive and legislative branches of government. Threats of vetoes, pronouncement of platitudes, states' rights slogans, met every constructive program offered or even suggested by Congress.

Flays Relief Plan

"The one so-called relief measure gave the farmers in drouth-stricken areas opportunity to borrow when they are so destitute as to be unable to borrow. The mere suggestion of constructive help to industrial workers was met with howls and groans."

Working days and working weeks must be shortened, LaGuardia said. As for congressional action, he pointed out that opponents of liberal measures had sought to create friction between the two houses and delay or deadlock legislation. He recommended occasional conferences and exchanges of views between Progressives in the two legislative chambers.

Dr. Charles A. Beard of Columbia University, the noted liberal historian, complained that Congress frittered away thousands of precious hours on such legislation as bills to give away an ancient 12-pounder to a relief corps in Hillsboro, Ill., and to reimburse a Florida farmer for watermelons destroyed by soldiers. It passed on hundreds and thousands of petty, trifling bills, he said, which never should occupy the attention of statesmen. He recommended that these thousands of bills be disposed of by executive departments or special agencies, Congress keeping a supervisory power over the disposition.

Beard also urged that Congress empower itself to call cabinet officers to the floor of the houses for questioning.

To check executive usurpation of power, he suggested that Congress make its statutes more explicit where necessary, to leave less room for executive discretion, that it create a grand joint committee to sit during and between sessions to scrutinise federal commissions and other establishments engaged in lawmaking. It is necessary, according to Beard, for Congress always to keep a check on the executive branch.

Congressman George Huddleston of Alabama put in a realistic note when he said: "When the people want a better government and deserve one they will get a better one. You can't blame Congress, with each of its 531 members elected by the people, for being what it is. It isn't that the people aren't patriotic; they're ignorant and haven't the facts. Congress is composed of men who want to be re-elected and they will do anything in order to be re-elected, even to the extent of faithfully and honestly representing their constituents whenever that becomes necessary."

Diet and Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening may now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1439 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding," and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

REDUCING

Since we suggested the forming of reducing clubs in different neighborhoods and different cities, there is another thing I would like to see proved or disproved.

Dr. Clendening

The statement often is made that you can reduce where you need to. That you can lose, for instance, around the hips and nowhere else on the body. I do not know whether this is true or not. It is reasonable to suppose that since the hips and buttocks have a great deal of fat, and fat is the tissue the body breaks down in the reducing process, that the hips would naturally reduce more rapidly than any other part of the body during a reducing cure.

I have grave doubts, however, whether this is true of the arms and calves and ankles for which special exercises are also prescribed. But I am willing to be convinced—and would like to obtain accurate measurements, the result of experiments.

Measurements for ideal proportions show that for women aged 20 to 40 the hips should be 32 inches at a height under 5 feet, 34 inches at 5 feet; 34 inches at 5 feet 3 inches; 36 at 5 feet 6 inches; 38 at 5 feet 8 inches. Over the age of 40, 33 inches when under 5 feet; 35 inches at 5 feet 1 inch, up to 3 inches; 36 at 5 feet 6 inches, and 40 at 5 feet 8 inches. The measurement should be made at the level of the trochanter of the femur.

Exercises used to reduce the hips are:

1. Standing position, arms extended. Squat down, rising on the toes until you sit on your heels.

2. Standing position, raise extended right leg to level of hips in front of body. Same with left leg.

3. Standing position. Swing right leg out to side of body as far as possible. Same with left leg.

4. Lying on back. Bend knees and bend hips, bringing knees up towards chin so that forelegs are flat on abdomen.

5. Lying on back. Do bicycle movements.

6. Lying on side. Raise leg straight up and down, in scissors movement. Roll over on other side and repeat with other leg.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. L., Abilene, Kansas: "In using cured hams and bacon, is the raw meat safe to use so far as the trichina is concerned? I have felt that a cure that would preserve meat would destroy trichina germs. When slicing such meat preparatory to cooking, the children and I enjoy eating thin slices raw."

Answer: The United States Bureau of Animal Industry requires a minimum temperature of 148.33 degrees centigrade at which pork products must be cooked in establishments operating under federal inspection.

An authority says: "Thorough cooking so that all parts of the meat reach the boiling point, destroys the parasites; but in large joints the central parts are not always raised to this temperature. Salting and smoking the flesh are not always sufficient, and experiments have shown that animals were readily infected when fed with portions of the pickled and smoked meat as prepared in America."

SWAN

In New York With Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Murneau touch—that certain subtle irony—was there even at the end.

The great director of "The Last Laugh," which will live long after the name of Murneau and De Mille and Griffith have become hazy memories, had discovered Paradise. At least, so he thought.

A letter he wrote from the west had read something like this:

"I have found at last a place where politics is an unknown word; where no one has been touched by sophistication; where there is simplicity and charm and an art that is not self-conscious; where there is sunlight and the complexities, as we know them, are strangers—where there are none of the social involvements. It is primitive and lovely."

Being a director who had received $1000 a week and more, after he had been brought from Germany in the wake of the success of "Variety," the ace director had saved something like $50,000.

In the Society Islands ,this is a fortune too fabulous for conception. He could have lived more than comfortably for the rest of his life. He could have been a combined Rockefeller and Morgan of the South Seas.

He was going to Germany to make a picture promised to UFA—for, after all, this had been the concern that gave him a break. After that he was going back to Bora Bora, a veritable Nepenthe of the southern waters. He would make two or three pictures there.

Fred W. Murneau, one of the greatest film directors of all time, was preparing to go native—

When—

The wire dispatches announced the other day that "F. W. Murneau was killed in an automobile wreck."

He was driving from Hollywood to San Francisco. But a short time before he had returned from the South Seas with many rolls of film for the picture, "Tabu."

Hollywood, after its fashion, had disowned him. To be sure, "Variety" was great box office stuff. And critics had agreed that "The Last Laugh" was a classic of the cinema. He made "Sunrise" for Fox, and it was an artistic success. Then he had done one thing and another—they had eased him out.

But, in so far as commercial values are concerned, Murneau "was on his way back." They would have told you that almost anywhere.

Meanwhile he had found that certain peace in the Nirvana that all humans search for. Yes, he would go on making pictures—but he would also slip from the world. He would not die with the irony of brass buttons, as had his doorman in "Last Laugh."

Getting back to the less idyllic America—Murneau had bought a car. He had a valet and a chauffeur. He was the sort of person—with a shock of red hair and athletic body—who liked to ride in an open car. His valet and chauffeur rode in the front seat. He rode in an open rear seat. So when the accident happened, the valet and chauffeur were practically unhurt.

But Murneau, sitting behind, was tossed over a precipice to his death. Somehow, it reminded one of the Murneau endings. Particularly when a man had found Paradise and was just washing his hands of worldly affairs before going there.

There was, too, they will tell you, a certain Polynesian girl. Maybe she had a leading role in his film, maybe she didn't.

Oh well—many have complained that Murneau insisted upon unhappy endings.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The little oxcart bumped along and Clowny broke out in song. "We don't know where we're going, but we're on our merry way. The strong ox travels rather slow, but what's the difference? On we go! As long as we are safe, right in this cart I'm going to stay.

"We'll see the sights and have our fun and be tired out when day is done. And then we'll find a big hotel and get a good night's rest." The others listened to his song and, as his voice rang out real strong, the Travel Man said, "Say! That's fine! With good voice you are blest."

Then Scouty said, "Gee, I will bet that we could have a fine quartet. Let's pick a song with harmony and see what we can do." And so they tried. And me, oh, my, the Travel Man began to sigh. They soured a lot of notes and he was glad when they were through.

"It's your turn now," woe Coppy cried and Mister Travel Man replied, "All right, I'll sing, if you can stand the best that I can do. My voice, though deep, may not be bad." They then found that he really had a voice of mellow baritone, and it was real strong, too."

The song was o'er and then the bunch decided they would stop for lunch. "Let's turn the oxcart loose" said one. "I think we've had enough. We'll walk a while and stretch a bit and eat when we are feeling fit. My bones are rather achy 'cause that ride was really rough."

They paid the oxcart man and then set out upon a hike again. "Oh look!" cried Carpy. "What is that that's stretched out on the ground?" "A sacred bull," the Travel Man replied. And up to it they ran. "They're plentiful," said Clowny. "I have seen them all around."

(The Tinymites visit a great cloth bazar in the next story).

WEALTH OF TWIRLING TALENT SHOWN BY ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

Collier Parris

SPYING ON SPORTS

Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler, former world's heavyweight champ and still the byword of the boxing profession, is out for another title. But not a boxing championship. If you have ambitions to see or hear of Dempsey's appearance in the ring as a party in a championship fighters' argument prepare to replace them now. For Jack is after the championship referee's crown.

• • •

"The old urge has gone", avers the Mauler. "I feel that I could not justify the ambitions of my friends were I to go back. I also know that I could not be at my physical best." Dempsey will be 36 years old in June, which is past the accepted fighting limit. He has been going for a long time, winning his first world's title in 1919 when he knocked out Jess Willard in the third round. He wore the crown six years, longer than any other heavyweight champion. Johnson held the scepter five years and Jeffries held it five years. Dempsey never fought Johnson or Jeffries, but Johnson did meet Jeffries, the latter taking the count in the 15th round.

• • •

"If the one-year eligibility rule passes, Coach Odus Mitchel of the Pampa Harvesters will be knocked out of the services of three transfers to the Pampa institution of learning. They are all backfield men but little is known of their ability." Thus saith Harry Hoare, Pampa scribe, in an article dealing with Pampa's prospects for the 1931 grid race. He says three men will be forced to wait another year should Professor Duncan's one year transfer rule be passed in May. Yes, at least three.

• • •

If the rule is passed we are asked to believe that Pampa will have just another ball club this fall. What with the passing away from high school ranks of Quarterback Lard and Fullback Saulsbury the Pampa writer would have us believe that the Harvesters will have a time staying in Class A. And that should be an incentive for Dr. Duncan to work harder on his rule. It's very likely that it will be passed, too, for statewide comment is almost unanimously in favor of the proposed rule.

• • •

Pampa, like the Oil Belt schools, does not attempt to hide the fact that rich gridiron material is coming to the Harvester institution in the persons of transfers. Here're three of them: Wayne Kelley, Shamrock lad who was a great factor in the Irish backfield last year; Paul Hill, last season with Central High of Fort Worth, another backfield man of note; and Laurence McWright of Mt. Hope, Alabama. That's getting 'em from distances. McWright comes from a football family says Hoare, and if he is eligible he will be counted on to furnish lots of the power in the Harvester backfield this year. His brother, the "Great McWright" of the University of Alabama, was selected by several sportists as all-American material at the end of the late grid season.

• • •

Business depressions may come and go, but football depression never goes. At least it is an annual storm in the ranks of pre-season football camps to be pessimistic over pending prospects. The story from Pampa is blue. Amarillo's prospects were painted an even darker blue tint and this department contributed its share of gloom to the early dope columns. It's all in the game. If the stories could be taken literally, all teams would be on an even basis at the beginning of a season. We haven't heard from Plainview and Canyon yet but dope gathered from remnants of last season has it that neither of the latter will finish in the top flight this year. Right now it looks like Amarillo, Pampa and Lubbock will fight it out for the District 1 title. In District 2, until this year known as the east half of District 1, things are as gloomy. Vernon, Electra, Childress, Quanah, and Wichita Falls should have a merry race and it is hard to determine just which outfit looks better. The Vernon votes should be stronger this year than last, however if they do not change at all they would still be weak.

• • •

The Westerners are still battling daily on the Fair Park wrestling field. The "Jellies" and the "Toughs" are having quite a season of intersquad play, and when the Jellies won last Friday they evened the count with the Toughs. Things could use a lot more dismal for the Westerners but if they did we'd hate to print it.

• • •

It seems that we almost put our foot in it last week when we participated with local civic leaders in a trip to their respective homes on the proposed Texas Tech relays scheduled for April 11. A pun directed at

EIGHT GIRLS' TEAMS ARE IN RUNNING

AGE COMBINED WITH YOUTH ON STAFF

FRESHMAN CLASS IN CARDINAL CURVING TO BE FARMED

BY ALAN GOULD

BRADENTON, Fla., March 24. (AP)—If pitching, as a number of the expert witnesses maintain, is anywhere from 50 to 75 per cent of the battle, the St. Louis Cardinals will start the defense of their national league crown without much to worry about.

The strong impression made by the Red Birds in their month of training here has been due largely to the wealth of twirling talent paraded by Manager Gabby Street.

Have Too Many

"Sure, we've got lots of good pitchers," smiled Gabby. "So many, in fact, that we can't accommodate them all on the club this year."

The freshman class in Cardinal curving will be distributed among the "chain store" teams for additional seasoning. The varsity looks good enough to keep the Red Birds in full flight all the way.

Street has two weather-beaten veterans in Burleigh Grimes and Jesse Haines, each 38 years old this year but showing few, if any, signs of weakening. He has one of the game's fastest southpaws in Wild William Hallahan and a powerful right hander in Flint Rhem, the erstwhile bad boy. He has two sensational newcomers in Jerome (Dizzy) Dean and Paul Derringer.

Wealth of Reserves

The Cardinals have a wealth of fine reserves in other departments. To make doubly sure about the infield help, they have recalled the diminutive Andy High, whose pinch-hitting had a lot to do with the team's strong finish last season. To show, also, that they respect age as well as youthful promise, the Cards recalled Miguel (Mike) Gonzales, the lanky 38-year old Cuban, for catching service.

SHIELDS BEATS BOROTRA

UNEXPECTED VICTORY GIVES AMERICANS EVEN CHANCE

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Thanks to an unexpected victory for young Frank Shields over the veteran, Jean Borotra, America's tennis youngsters were all even with France today in their international team series with three more matches yet to be played.

Borotra fell before Shields in straight sets last night but the evening's program ended in a stalemate when Christian Boussus came from far behind to defeat the slightly-built Texan, Berkeley Bell.

Tonight the doubles match will be played with George Lott and John Van Ryn, Davis cup stars, meeting Borotra and either Boussus or Pierre Landry.

Tomorrow night the final two singles matches will be played with Borotra matched against Bell and Boussus against Shields.

JIM LONDON WINS OVER NEW YORKER

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Jim London, heavyweight wrestler, last night threw Herb Freeman of New York with an airplane spin and body slam after 43 minutes, 40 seconds of a match in Madison Square garden. London weighed 200 pounds; Freeman 218.

Sandor Szabo, 202, Hungary, defeated Floyd Marshall, 220, California, 16:32.

Ray Steel, 213, Indiana, defeated Billy Bartush, 212, Chicago, 15:15.

Sergie Kalmikoff, 260½, Russia defeated Ferenc Holuban, 235, Hungary, 4:26.

Gino Garibaldi, 207, Italy, defeated Taro Miyaki, 190, Japan, 9:54.

The match between Dick Shikat, 218, Germany, and Rudy Dusek, 217, Omaha, was declared no contest when Shikat accidentally fouled his opponent after two minutes, 45 seconds of wrestling.

INDIANS MEET GIANTS

SAN ANTONIO, March 24. (AP)—The San Antonio Indians, composed mostly of rookies, make their bow before the home fans today, playing the New York Giant regulars in an exhibition game. They play the Chicago White Sox Thursday. The Giants and White Sox meet Wednesday in a night game.

A replica of Fort Nashborough has been erected on the Cumberland river at the foot of Church street in Nashville, Tenn.

Ultra-Slow Golf Movies Make Pros Look 'All Wet'

DUFFERS FIND THAT NOT EVEN PROS KNOW IT ALL

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, March 24. (AP)—Many professionals who have been teaching duffers how and when not to swing their golf clubs all these years may have some explaining to do this summer when the ultra-slow movies of those two aces of golf, Bobby Jones and Joyce Wethered, are exhibited in their home town clubs.

For the movies, to be shown by the Professional Golfers' Association of America, will convince Mr. and Mrs. Duffer that not even their pro knows everything about the royal and ancient game, and that, in three startling instances, they were wrong.

Pros Astonished

As a group of well known Chicago pros watched the pre-review of the slow movies in the ante room of the P. G. A., there were expressions of astonishment and chagrin.

"Well I'll be a baked golf ball," mused Alec Pirie of Chicago, former president of the P. G. A., and a well known teacher of golf since 1898. "Did you see what I saw? Why neither Bobby or Miss Wethered broke their wrists on the back swing until the club has travelled approximately one-third of the way. And did you notice how Bobby hesitates at the top of his swing to shift his body and get planted before he brings the club head back again? And did you notice that neither Miss Wethered or Bobby broke their wrists at the point of impact with the ball as most of us have been teaching for all these years? Well, I'll be doggoned! Let's take another look at them."

Further Convinced

But another view of the pictures, exactly 300 times slower than the slow movies seen in the average cinema house, only succeeded in further convincing the pros that either they had been wrong on those fine points or else Miss Wethered, classed as probably the greatest of all women golfers, or Bobby, emperor of the men divot diggers, were unorthodox players. But the pros admitted the strong possibilities that they were the ones who were wrong.

The most startling revelation gained by the pros from the Jones and Wethered pictures was their action at the top of the swing. The commonly accepted style was that the first action at the top of the swing was made with the hands to start the club head back. Miss Wethered and Bobby, however, pause at that point, bring around their hips and plant their left firmly to the ground, thus getting an early pivot and fixing a fulcrum, which combines to give great power and the finest timing.

Pros Teach Differently

For years, golf teachers have been instructing their pupils that the wrists should break almost the same time the club head leaves the ground on the backward swing but not so with Bobby and Joyce. Bobby brings his club back almost horizontal with the ground before even the slightest break is noted in his wrists. Miss Wethered brings her club two-fifths of the way back without a wrist break.

The third "unorthodox" style of the two champions is at the impact of the ball.

"Snap your wrists when the club head connects with the ball," the pros have taught with stentorian voices.

But Bobby and Joyce go through steadily without a break.

AROUND TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

WITHHOLDS AXE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24. (AP)—Young hopefuls with the New York Yankees can breathe freely for a few more days. Manager Joe McCarthy has decided to withhold the axe until after the Yankees break camp here.

"LEFTY" ALL EVEN

HAVANA, March 24. (AP)—William (Lefty) Clark, who does a lot of high-powered pitching for the Brooklyn Robins, is all even with the mayor of Havana, Senor Tirso Mesa.

Lefty was chatting with the mayor the other day and told him he liked Havana a lot but that he couldn't understand the language, and that was a draw-back. The mayor, who speaks excellent English, made no particular reply but it was perfectly obvious he couldn't make head nor tail of Clark's Mississippi drawl.

EXPERIMENT SUCCESS

SAN ANTONIO, March 24. (AP)—John McGraw's "noble experiment" becomes more and more of a success with each passing day.

Freddy Lindstrom, one of the best third basemen in the game, has been playing the outfield just as though he'd always been out there but even more to the point is the fact that Johnny Verges, the coast lad, is beginning to hit. Verges's ability to cover the third base post was the big question mark in the experiment.

HAS ONE WORRY

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 24.—(AP)—Preparing to break camp here today and start homeward with the Philadelphia Athletics' second string squad, Manager Mack said his only worry was about a pitching staff. He hopes to dig up another ace somewhere to go with Grove and Earnshaw, but admitted he hadn't found one.

LAUGHS AT REPORT

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 24—(AP)—Reports that Chuck Klein might be traded for Chick Hafey of the St. Louis Cardinals were laughed off today by Burt Shotton, pilot of the Phillies. He said if any deal was on, it was news to him. Both Klein and Hafey are holdouts, and both are hard-hitting outfielders.

KILLEFER HARD-BOILED

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 24. (AP)—Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns, usually quite docile, suddenly has become so hard-boiled that an observer in the Brown's training camp here today remarked he threatened to make Simon Legree resemble a kindergarten teacher by comparison. Skipper Bill's sweet disposition has been utterly ruined by the inability of his players to hit and field on the same day.

AT FULL STRENGTH

BRADENTON, Fla., March 24.—(AP)—With the exception of holdout Chick Hafey, the St. Louis Cardinals today were at their full strength. Little Andy High, who refused to report to Rochester and was "repurchased" by the Cardinals, has reached camp, looking fit to take care of whatever work, such as pinch-hitting, falls his way.

GLOOM DISAPPEARS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 24.—(AP)—The gloom which had hung over the Pittsburgh Pirates squad since their four-straight thumping at the hands of the Chicago Cubs had disappeared today and everybody was talking about yesterday's slugfest when the Bucs hammered out 19 safties to beat Los Angeles 13 to 4.

INDIANS TO RETURN

NEW ORLEANS, March 24. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will come back to New Orleans next year after all. Two weeks ago General Manager Billy Evans said the Tribe would go to California next spring, but Governor-Elect Huey P. Long got into action and the reversal of plans was announced at a dinner last night. The Indians have gone north from here the last four years in fine condition but haven't been able to schedule many major league exhibitions.

GARDNERS LOOK GOOD

TAMPA, Fla., March 24. (AP)—After several weeks of worry over his outfield, manager Dan Howley of the Cincinnati Reds, believes his gardners will give him little cause for concern henceforth. Nick Cullop has begun hitting the ball again and looks like the regular center fielder, while Wally Roettger easily has lived up to expectations in left field. For the right field, Howley has a promising rookie, Gene Moore, and Cliff Heathcote, erstwhile Chicago Cubs utility gardner and pinch hitter.

FIRST FLIGHT ENDS TODAY AT DALLAS

TWO TEXAS TEAMS ARE FAVORED TO ENTER MATCH FINALS

DALLAS, March 24. (AP)—First round competition in the Girls' National Amateur Athletic Union basketball tournament will be concluded here today. Part of the first round was played yesterday when Wichita, Kansas; Mingus, Texas; Monticello, Arkansas; Houston, Texas; Durant, Oklahoma; Cisco, Texas, Sun of Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas, triumphed. The Sunoco Oilers probably established a national tournament scoring record when they plastered a 108 to 20 defeat on May, Texas.

Today's schedule:

Detroit vs. Celeste, Tex.; Kansas City Criterions vs. Prairie View, Kas.; Casa, Ark., vs Chattanooga, Tenn.; Ashville, N. C., vs. Perryton Tex.; Wichita Thurstons vs. Dallas McCrory; Dallas Cyclones vs. Waco, Texas.; Nashville, Tenn., vs. Mesquite, and Eureka Springs, Ark., vs. Las Animas, Colo.

The Dallas Cyclones, who recently won the Southern A. A. U. tournament at Shreveport, La., will make their first tournament appearance tonight against Waco, a team the Cyclones recently had a tough time defeating. The Cyclones are favorites to reach the finals against Sunoco of Dallas with two Tennessee teams, Nashville and Chattanooga looming as serious threats for the championship.

Lubbock Attorneys To Protest Measure

George W. Dupree and J. E. Vickers, members of the Lubbock Bar association, left here Monday for Austin where they will protest a judicial re-distribution bill being considered by the judicial committee of the house of representatives.

The considered judicial re-distribution bill would cut the number of judicial districts in Texas from 120 to 109, and would leave Lubbock with one district court in place of the two now in existence.

MISSING MEN FOUND

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Mar. 24 (AP)—Missing since March 9 while on a flight with mail to upper Yukon river points, Pilot Fred Moller and a passenger, Frank Hodges, were safe today and en route here afoot. Three airplane parties flew 2,000 miles in a search for them.

SORE THROWING ARMS MENACE

WICHITA FALLS, March 24. (AP)—The sour note that has stolen into the training of the Spudders thus far is sounded by an epidemic of sore throwing arms on the infield. Nothing resembling a sore arm has developed among the pitchers and the catchers have arrived at the stage where they are making rifle bullet throws to the bags, but infield workouts are being hindered by arms that refuse to come around. Among the ailing are Joe Hassler, Debs Garms and Art Scharein. All three are to be used in the two games tomorrow and Thursday with St. Paul at Mineral Wells, but each of the trio is pushed to the limit in heaving the ball across the infield.

STEERS MEET S. M. U.

DALLAS, March 24. (AP)—The Dallas Steers and Southern Methodist university Mustangs were set today for the second game of their exhibition series here today. The Steers opened the series with a 12 to 2 decision yesterday. Manager Happ Horse liked the way Todd, big rookie catcher, hit the ball yesterday. He hit four for five.

More than $5,000,000 in tidewater construction work is under way or in prospect in the vicinity of Norfolk, Va.

Buying... with YOUR EYES OPEN!

MANY of the products that greet you from shelf and counter today bear familiar names.

Names you know by their advertising. By their reputation. Or by personal experience. They seem like old friends.

Other products are strangers.

What do you know about them?

Often their appeal is a "bargain price." But are they always bargains?

Their labels are attractive. More inviting, sometimes, than those of the products they seek to imitate. But how can any shopper ever know what these labels conceal?

Remember this every time you buy—

Before there can be an imitation, there must be something worth imitating.

Have you ever seen an imitation as good as the original?

Clerks who try slyly to sell you something "just as good" are looking only to today. By tomorrow the same product may not be on the shelf. Perhaps even today the clerk does not know who made it.

Ask yourself..."Why does he offer me this substitute? Why does he urge me to buy this or that product instead of the one I want?"

There are many reasons. Most of them selfish. Certainly, none of them springs from the desire to serve you better.

THE ANSWER TO SUBSTITUTION IS ALWAYS . . . "NO"

These facts are published by this newspaper to tell you of your danger. To protect you against substitution. To warn you to buy with your eyes open.

No deserving product ever needs the claim, "just as good." When you hear those words, you may know there is something better. And that package which "holds a little more" often holds little more than disappointment.

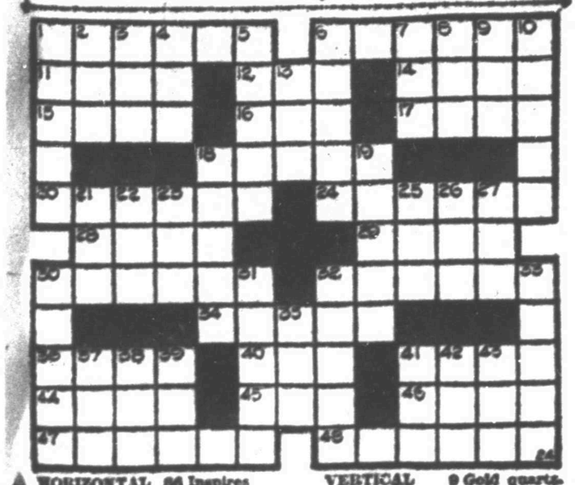

There is only one sure way by which you can avoid substitution.

Ask for recognized brands. Ask for them by name. Accept no questionable imitations.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

HOPES GIVEN FOR ANEMIA SUFFERERS

EMORY UNIVERSITY, Ga., Mar. (AP)—Increasing hope for sufferers from anemia is being provided 1678 through experiments with "metallized milk."

Dr. J. L. McGhee, head of the department of bio-chemistry, avoids using the word "cure" in his report on the progress of the "metallized milk" treatment, which was originally announced almost a year ago, but he says virtually all anemia victims have shown striking improvement after drinking the fluid.

In one experiment conducted in a Georgia cotton mill, 135 of 140 workers showed a big increase in the percentage of hemoglobin, the coloring matter of the red corpuscles, from the treatment.

The "metallized milk" is simply raw milk in which an alloy of copper and iron has been soaked until small quantities have dissolved. Dr. McGhee is now conducting extensive experiments to determine the most effective amount of the metals in the treatment, and also to discover if any other combination of metals would be superior to iron and copper.

Hotel Charges So Much Per Sleep

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24. (AP)—If a hotel keeper rents a room on a "sleep" plan, how much does he get by the day?

This was only one of the puzzles facing census officials trying to digest nation-wide returns in a survey of the hotel business. One owner included in his rated "a few rooms" for which we get 35 cents per sleep.

Another said prohibition ruined his business and added: "I am foreign born. I was born in Missouri."

"If it is necessary to have the signature of the owner on this report, forward same to the Atlanta penitentiary," said a reply.

One volunteered "we haven't got any bell-hops falling all over our customers with a towel on their shoulders looking for tips, and there is one thing we haven't got and that is cockroaches to contend with and we do not sell liquor of any kind."

Out-of-state tourists, numbering 780,023, spent $12,870,906 for gasoline and oil in southern California, the state department of agriculture announced.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—The stock market dipped rather sharply under light selling pressure in the initial transactions today, but showed rallying tendencies by the end of the first half hour.

After the initial sell off, signs of short covering appeared in some issues, particularly U. S. Industrial Alcohol which had a sharp break yesterday. Today it rallied more than 2. General Asphalt also had a special move, getting up 2 points.

Losses of a point or two were numerous. Auburn dropped 4½ points, then recovered 2. Columbian Carbon dropped 4. Shares losing 1 to 2 points included U. S. Steel, North American, Dupont, Bethlehem Steel, Eastman, Union Carbide, Loews, Anaconda, Johns Manville, Sears, Public Service of N. J., and Standard Gas, Radio and General Electric declined fractionally.

There was little in the overnight news to influence the trend and the list remained primarily under the influence of floor traders. A little real liquidation appears to have been engendered, however, by the feeble character of the market of late and dividend uncertainties.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Cotton opened today 3 to 7 points lower under further scattering liquidation combined with some local selling which was promoted by the weakness of Liverpool and declines in the market for Egyptian cotton.

Business was moderately active and offerings were absorbed on the decline by further trade buying which eemed to come partly through brokers with Japanese connections, and some covering or rebuying by sellers of yesterday. May contracts eased off to 10.77 and October to 11.32 with the market showing net declines of about 5 to 8 points at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said there had been hedging together with continental and Bombay selling there and reported a small business in cotton cloths with India and China. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 34 to 66 points lower and the spot quotation for Indian cotton in Liverpool was 14 points lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 24. (AP)—Cotton opened moderately active and somewhat easier in sympathy with much lower Liverpool cables than due. that market being influenced downward by weakness in Egyptian cotton.

First trades here showed losses of four to six points. The market continued to ease off in the early trading until May traded down to 10.74 and October to 11.30, or 7 points under yesterday's close. At the end of the first hour the market rallied slightly on denial of reports that the farm board had included cotton in its statement of yesterday relative to not buying more wheat of the 1931 crop.

Prices rallied two to four points from the lows.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, March 24. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today

Amendments Die In Committee Session

AUSTIN, Mar. 23. (AP)—The house constitutional amendments committee last night killed two constitutional amendment resolutions introduced by Representative Parmer of Fort Worth. One would have given the legislature authority to exempt industries from taxation for ten years.

The other would have provided for initiation and referendum in legislation.

A resolution by Representative McGregor of Austin to abolish the poll tax as a requisite for voting was voted out unfavorably.

Building Valuation Increased By $500

Valuation of March building permits was increased $500 this morning when F. O. Kelly, contractor, was authorized to move a partition and insert another at 808 Main street for C. N. Hodges, owner.

The permit was the fifth issued at the building inspector's office this week, authorizations this week totaling $22,750 in valuation. A total of 13 permits total $42,504 for the month, and 32 issued this year aggregate $73,707.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 24 (AP)—Fresh low price records quickly came about in wheat today, largely as a continuing result of removal of artificial props to values of new crop deliveries. Favorable weather for domestic winter wheat growth was an additional bearish influence. Open 1 3-8 cents off to 1-2c up, wheat underwent a further sag before showing power to rally. Corn started 1-8-5-8c down, but subsequently scored gains.

and the hole plugged. The rig was skidded to the present location of number two.

Drilling operations on the Slaughter No. 2 have been going on almost continuously since January 1. The showing Sunday was the first of any importance reported.

Much interest is centered around the outcome of the test as surrounding leases are held by several major companies.

At the time the Number 1 well had made its showing, several geologists expressed an opinion that commercial production was available in the area.

The test is located in what is known as the "Scraped Out" pasture of the Slaughter lands.

George was taken into custody at the scene of the accident. He still was in city jail shortly before noon today, although a brother had indicated that he would obtain the bond necessary for release.

On the cause of the explosion nearly all had theories, hardly any two of them alike.

Varick Frissell, New York movie producer, Harry Sargent, Boston explorer, and A. G. Penrod, movie cameraman, were in the cabin just before the explosion. Frissell and Penrod still are missing with 22 others. Sargent was aboard the Sagona and his sister was on hand to meet him.

The powder magazine of the Viking was in the very stern on the starboard side.

Frissell had been speaking of the danger of the magazine with its ton of explosives.

He had just said: "I'm no artist but I'm going to make a danger notice." Penrod was engaged with some films. Sargent was discussing the next day's operations.

Frissell had scarcely spoken when the ship lurched before the explosion.

There are 20 districts in the state, each presided over by a director. Since the annual election last year, the following South Plains and West Texas men have been serving as directors: No. 11, W. H. COURT'S ACTION HALTS BUSINESS

A petition of involuntary bankruptcy was filed in federal court here Monday against C. H. Grollman by Style Park Hat company of Philadelphia, Jofee, Cohen & Lang, and the Paragon Novelty company of New York.

Charging intent on the part of the defendant to hinder and delay his creditors, the petitioners asked that a receiver be appointed.

Following service of the papers on Mr. Grollman by Deputy Marshal J. P. Edgar and the closing of the Grollman store at the corner of Broadway and Avenue J, W. D. Girand, Jr., was appointed receiver in bankruptcy by W. D. Girand, Sr., referee in bankruptcy.

Mr. Grollman has twenty days in which to file answer to the charges, Mr. Girand said yesterday. If sufficient proof is presented, the petition can be defeated, he added.

Pardue and Harralson, local attorneys, are representing the petitioners in the case. Accounts filed by the three firms total less than $1,000.

Mr. Grollman would make no statement last night when reached by telephone other that two of the accounts had already been settled and that the whole case had been illegally filed. He made known no future plans on his part regarding the store.

The Grollman store has been in operation here for the past four years. A store is also located in Plainview but is operated under a different corporation, Mr. Grollman stated last night.

"I Took Cardui, It Built Me Up and I Felt Like New," Says This Lady.

Clarksville, Tenn.—"When I was a girl at home, my health wasn't very good," writes Mrs. Della Pentecost, of 945 Charlotte Street, this city. "I suffered quite a bit from pains in my side and back.

"My mother thought I ought to take a tonic, and knowing Cardui was good, I decided on that. Just two bottles cleared up my skin and eased the pain, and I felt much better.

"After I was married, I was weak and run-down, and at times very nervous. I would get tired so easily, and did not feel like doing my work. I took Cardui again, two bottles, and it built me up and I felt like new. I am glad to recommend it as a reliable medicine."

If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a purely vegetable reconstructive medicine of long established value.

Experience of several generations has shown that Cardui helps women to health.

...your Servant-Gas-that makes ice, heats water and cooks food in the Modern Home

The tiny, blue-white flame that glows above a gas burner in your home is the only visible evidence you have of a marvelous co-ordination of mechanical and human efficiency. Consider, for a moment, the great underground network of pipes that spread out from your gas company's plant—as do the limbs, branches and twigs of a great tree.

Invisible carriers of an invisible fuel—these pipes save an enormous expenditure of human labor in our city. Each tiny gas flame replaces and eliminates the hauling, storing, shoveling and fire-tending required for the use of a solid fuel.

Because it is the simplest and most versatile of fuels, GAS brings both beauty and comfort to the modern home. Beauty through the elimination of such unsightly things as ash cans, fuel bins, garbage pails and trash heaps. Comfort by virtue of its effortless, automatic control.

In the completely modern home, GAS cooks food, heats water, freezes ice, destroys rubbish and heats the home—all for an astonishingly nominal cost.

Do you lack one or more of these conveniences in your home?
