Volume Varied

Southern Half Of County Had Heaviest Rain

Rains, which swept over much of the county Saturday night and early Sunday morning, favored the southeast quadrant where the maximum fall was 1.7 inches at Coahoma. All of that section of the county benefited heavily from the rains, while the north half was afforded only light showers.

Up To 1.2 Inches Here

In Big Spring, which seemed to be on the north edge of the rain front, the reported rains varied in volume from 1.2 inches in the southwest part of the city to .62 inch at the U.S. Experiment Station on the north limits of the town.

The rains were highly beneficial regardless of their relatively lightness, but are still far short of the volume that farmers must have if there is to be a cotton crop this year. Most of the cotton planting areas are still too dry to permit the farmers to sow their fields.

More Rain In Forecast

The forecast today for Big Spring promises more possible showers today, tonight, and Tuesday. There is a 30 per cent chance for showers today and 20 per cent for tonight and Tuesday.

In the extreme northwest corner of the county, Ackerly reported .60 inch during the weekend. Vincent received .40 inch Saturday and only a trace early today.

Knott reported a trace Saturday, and Luther, .30 inch. Only a trace fell at Fairview. Coahoma reported 1.7 inches Saturday which was the heaviest rainfall in the county. Big Spring's report varied from .62-1.2 inches.

Southern Half

In the southern half of the county, Lomax received .50-.80 inches and Elbow reported one inch. Moss Creek collected 1.6 in the gauge, and Forsan received 1.5, and Chalk reported 1.04 inches.

Dawson County had heavy rains Monday morning. Incomplete reports showed from 2.4 inches in the area from Lamesa to O'Donnell. Lamesa and Fluvanna reported two inch measurements. Saturday night, Dawson County had about half an inch average fall.

Ready To Start Planting

In many parts of Dawson County, the rain is sufficient to permit planting to go ahead on farms. Snyder had a deluge of 1.5 inches in less than half an hour early today according to reports on the sheriff's office teletype.

Libel Judgment Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court threw out today a $500,000 libel judgment won by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against The Associated Press.

All nine judges voted to set aside the judgment, won by Walker in a Fort Worth, Tex., state court in 1964. They entered four separate opinions to state their views.

Publishing Standards

In the controlling opinion, Justice John M. Harlan said there wasn't "the slightest hint of a severe departure from accepted publishing standards" in the way The Associated Press reported Walker's activities at the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford in 1962.

"We therefore conclude that Gen. Walker should not be entitled to damages from The Associated Press."

'Assumed Command'

Riots swept the Mississippi campus the night of Sept. 30, occasioned by the admission of a Negro, James Meredith, into the university. The AP reported Oct. 2 and 3 that Walker had "assumed command of the crowd" and had "led a charge of students against federal marshals."

Harlan said there was no evidence of "personal prejudice or incompetency" on the part of the AP's reporter, Van Savelle, or The Associated Press.

UN Council Faces Another Long Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council early today banned any forward military movements by Israel or Syrian forces and called for a rollback of any that may have taken place since the cease-fire between them was supposed to become effective at 12:30 p.m. EDT Saturday.

The 15-nation council acted unanimously at an overnight emergency meeting on Syrian charges that an Israeli armored column had advanced inside Syria in a drive to capture the Yarmuk River feeding the Jordan. Israel denied the charge.

U.N. officials said the council had been called into another session at 6 p.m. today.

The resolution was the fourth the council has adopted since Israel, Egypt, Jordan and Syria locked in war last Monday.

It called for full cooperation with Norwegian Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, head of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization for Palestine, in implementing the cease-fire, "including freedom of movement and adequate communications facilities."

ISRAELI TANKS

That provision was taken to mean Israel should give Bull back his headquarters south of Jerusalem which fell to Jordanian troops and then to Israeli troops.

Syrian Ambassador George J. Tomeh telephoned Council President Hans R. Tabor of Denmark at 5 p.m. Sunday and asked for "an urgent emergency meeting." He said he had word from Damascus that "a column of Israeli armored cars and tanks supported by military helicopters and other forces" had moved eastward and southward from Rafid.

Tomeh said Israeli paratroops had occupied Rafid Saturday three hours and 17 minutes after the cease-fire was supposed to have gone into effect. That was the time Bull got a complaint of the paratroop action from a Syrian official.

MESSAGE READ

The meeting started just before 11 p.m., and Secretary-General U Thant read a message from Bull saying U.N. observers had reported that near Joukada village, below Rafid, a column of Israeli tanks had headed east and then south.

Israeli Ambassador Gideon Rafael conceded there had been "a movement of some military vehicles but this movement took place within the truce lines established by the cease-fire."

BIG POWERS

During a recess in the meeting, Tabor worked out the resolution from a draft produced by the big powers and India and cleared later with the other members.

The resolution "condemns any and all violations of the cease-fire" and affirms that the council's demand for a "cease-fire and discontinuance of all military activities includes a prohibition of any forward movements subsequent to the cease-fire."

The council adopted it at 3:03 a.m. and seven minutes later adjourned to 5 p.m. with the understanding that the afternoon meeting would be canceled if it was not necessary.

Texas Twister Watch Issued

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Weather Bureau issued a tornado watch Monday for the eastern Texas Panhandle and a portion of the South Plains.

The watch warned of the threat of one or two tornadoes and damaging hail from 4 p.m. till 10 p.m.

The alerted area lay 60 miles either side of a line from 30 miles south of Childress to 50 miles north of Dodge City, Kan.

Reds Fire Venus Shot

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a space rocket with an automatic interplanetary station in the direction of the planet Venus today, Tass reported. It said the flight to Venus will last four months.

The official news agency said the launching took place at 5:40 a.m., Moscow time (10:40 p.m. EDT, Sunday).

Lamesa Shooting Leaves 3 Dead, Another Charged

LAMESA — Eugene Garcia, 17, of Lamesa, was charged Sunday in the murder of three youths outside a dance hall here earlier that morning.

Dead as the result of gunshot wounds from a .25 caliber automatic pistol are two brothers, Richard Barrera, 20, and Billie Jo Barrera, 17, who both died shortly after arriving at Medical Arts Hospital. The third victim of the shooting, Raul Medrano Alvarado, 20, died en route to a Lubbock hospital.

Garcia, being held without bond in Lamesa, was arrested by a sheriff's deputy in Stanton about one hour after the incident. According to Dawson County Sheriff Shorty Hancock, the shooting occurred outside the Eureka dance hall about 12:20 a.m. Sunday.

Two of the victims were shot once each, and the third, Richard Barrera, suffered three wounds.

"As far as we can determine they (the three dead youths) didn't have any weapons," the sheriff said. He also stated that there seemed to be no apparent reason for the shooting, although some of his officers believed it had resulted from an argument during the dance.

Hulls from an automatic pistol were found, Hancock said, but the gun is still missing.

Joint services for the three victims will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in St. Margaret Catholic Church with burial in Lamesa Cemetery.

The Barrera brothers are survived by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Trino Barrera, three sisters and a brother, all of Lamesa. Richard Barrera is also survived by a wife and child. Alvarado is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Morin, five sisters and four brothers, all of Lamesa.

Israel Says It Won't Give Up All Territory It Captured

By The Associated Press

Israel has denied Syrian charges that its tanks invaded deeper into Syria after a cease-fire but says it intends to keep some of the land it won from Syria, Egypt and Jordan in the six-day Middle East war.

Cheering crowds in the Israeli port of Elath Sunday night greeted the first Israeli freighter to enter the Gulf of Aqaba since Egypt's proclaimed blockade of the gulf led the Middle East to the brink of war.

The Jewish nation had assured reopening of the gulf by capturing Sharm el Sheikh, from which Egyptian guns overlooked the gulf entrance at the Strait of Tiran.

15,000 KILLED?

An Israeli army spokesman said the war against the Arabs killed 679 Israeli soldiers and wounded 2,563. Jordan has announced that 15,000 Jordanians were killed. Egypt and Syria have not announced any casualty figures.

Estimates of the number of prisoners taken by Israel, mostly Egyptian, range from 13,000 to 15,000. They still are being counted.

The U.N. Security Council, meeting past 2:30 a.m. for the second straight day, adopted a new resolution demanding that Israel and Syria avoid any forward movement of troops and withdraw any units that have crossed cease-fire lines established Saturday.

Syria said Israel moved armored units forward Sunday. Israel said its tank movements were entirely behind the cease-fire lines. U.N. truce observers confirmed movement of tanks in the area.

Israeli troops now occupy Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, the Biblical cities in Jordan west of the Jordan River and a 25-mile Syrian front which extends as deep as 15 miles into Syrian territory. Foreign Minister Abba Eban told a public meeting Sunday night that Israel would not return to the armistice lines of 1949. For the first time, he said, Israel's Galilee settlements were out of danger from Syrian guns on high ground overlooking them.

Negroes Burn Entire Block

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A mob of 400 Negroes, spurred to violence when a policeman shot a Negro youth, went on a rampage in two slum areas today. They beat whites and sacked and burned an entire block of white-owned stores.

At least a dozen persons, including 10 whites, were injured. A deputy sheriff died of an apparent heart attack during the wild melee.

Armed with guns stolen from a smashed pawnshop, the Negroes exchanged shots with police, hurled bricks through automobile windows and went on a wild looting spree.

TEEN KILLED

At daybreak, the shooting had ceased and the fires had been extinguished. Smoke from fire-gutted buildings curled over a dingy area of bars, liquor stores, pool halls and one-story business houses.

Deputy Chief A.H. Wainwright said the riot erupted in the middle of a muggy night at Nebraska Ave. and Twigg St. when Martin Chambers, 19, was shot and killed as he ran from Patrolman James R. Calvert.

Police refused to allow Calvert to make a statement until the outcome of "a full investigation."

The officer said he shot after spotting the youth and two others running from the scene of a burglary.

LIKE VULTURES

Robert Gilder, 36, president of the Tampa NAACP chapter, said word that the youth had been shot in the back spread rapidly through a Negro district he called a "ghetto first class." "I thought it was the end," said Carl DeWitt of Tampa after he and his wife, Joyce, drove unwittingly into a howling mob. "They were on us like vultures."

DeWitt, 41, and his wife, 36, were dragged from the car, savagely beaten and robbed.

CHARRED RUINS

When dawn broke, two big buildings lay in charred ruins. Broken glass and merchandise looted from stores littered the shabby streets. Police armed with pistols, shotguns, tear gas grenades and rifles with fixed bayonets stood about in groups, on the alert for more trouble.

Gilder, claiming that he could have prevented the riot if police had summoned him, dispatched War on Poverty Workers into a mile-square area sealed off by policemen.

Gov. Claude Kirk flew into the city in a jet plane, surveyed the riot scene and met with police, National Guard officers and Negro leaders.

NO CALL

Three weeks ago, Gilder said, he stopped a potential riot in the area by addressing a mob. But this time, "dammit, they didn't call me. I could have stopped this one, too."

DeWitt, a slender truck driver, said he was certain he would be killed. After he had been kicked, beaten and slugged by a gun barrel, he said one boy cried: "Shoot him!"

But another Negro suddenly yanked him to his feet, he went on, and told him to "Get the hell out."

BRA RIPPED

Mrs. DeWitt said the Negroes also pulled her out of the car, ripped off her blouse, slip, bra and shoes and hit and kicked her. Then one of them pushed her back in the car and told her to pull out fast.

The outbreak came just a few days after officials of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People mapped plans for a campaign of "quiet negotiation" in Florida during the summer of 1967.

AREA SEALED

The Rev. Joel Atkins of Winter Haven, state NAACP president, had said he hoped there would be no mob action to achieve the Negro goals of better housing, more jobs and broader school integration.

But he warned that "The spark is there," pointing to violence June 4 at Clearwater, when 150 Negroes rioted after police tried to break up a fight outside a barroom.

When daylight arrived at the Tampa battle scenes, police sealed off an area seven by six blocks in dimension.

Kirk described the meetings as orderly and said he expected no more trouble. But James Hammond, Negro administrator of the Tampa Commission on Community Relations, said the violence could continue all week.

FORCE VOW

Sheriff Malcolm Beard vowed to "use whatever force necessary" to prevent a second night of rioting. He said law officers would disperse any group of more than three persons in the district and would arrest anyone who refused the order to move on.

During the height of the rioting a mile-square section of Tampa was a no-man's land. Snipers shot at police and firemen with ammunition looted from a gun store in the area. Other Negroes hurled rocks at riot police who were illuminated by fires which left the area "bright as day."

DOZEN INJURED

Deputy Fire Chief Charles Wells said none of his men was injured. He said more than 100 firefighters were used to control the flames which caused an estimated $250,000 in damages to two homes, two warehouses and two shopping complexes.

More than a dozen persons were injured during the melee, including one Negro youth who suffered a gunshot wound. Aides at Tampa General Hospital said he was in good condition.

DEPUTY DIES

A white deputy sheriff, Sgt. Don Williams, died in the melee of an apparent heart attack. Negroes fought police with guns and ammunition looted from a gun store in the area as flames from the burning buildings left the scene "bright as day."

Police said a white man was severely beaten after he and his wife were pulled from their car as they drove through the riot area.

SHE FAINTS

"They've got my husband. They're beating him," screamed Mrs. Carl DeWitt. Then she fainted.

DeWitt was released about 45 minutes later, police said. They said he had been savagely beaten. He was rushed to a hospital.

Four young white men arrived bleeding at police headquarters and said they had been attacked in their car by Negroes who smashed every window in the auto with steel pipes.

In the west Negro district, an ambulance driver was pulled from his vehicle while answering a call. He was beaten and hospitalized.

Heavy firing was heard in the area until about 1:30 a.m. when squads of riot police marched through the streets accompanied by about a dozen police dogs.

Violence Takes Thirty In Texas

By The Associated Press

Violence claimed 30 lives in Texas during the weekend, including 19 persons killed in auto accidents.

The death toll was recorded between 4 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Among the victims were:

Ira E. Gilbert, 57, of Weatherford died under the wheels of a railroad switch engine Sunday evening in Fort Worth. A witness said Gilbert saw the engine approach as he was cleaning mud from the tracks, tried to swing aboard the locomotive and fell.

CAR OVERTURNS
Charles Hill, 16, and Mark Schmidt, 17, of Taft were killed Sunday night when their pickup and a big oil field truck collided near Taft. Kenneth Hutto, also in the pickup, was injured.

James Roy Jones, 22, a Texas Tech student from Vernon, was killed Sunday night when his car overturned 2.5 miles east of Dickens on U.S. 82. His wife and child suffered minor injuries.

SKID KILLS
Three men died in a shooting at a Lamesa dance hall early Sunday. Officers identified them as Ray Alvarado, Billy Barrera and Richard Barrera.

Ruben Delgado, 19, of Houston was killed Sunday when his automobile skidded off a rural road near Weelder in South Texas and overturned.

A one-car accident on San Antonio's north side Sunday killed Melvin Murphy, 51, and Chester Conway, 45. Both were San Antonio residents.

SHOT TO DEATH
Mrs. Anna Trinidad, 54, died Sunday when struck by a police car as she lay in a street on the side her San Antonio house.

Three hours later, Antonio Trinidad, 19, no relation to the woman, was killed in a similar accident on a farm route in Bexar County when a car ran over him as he lay in the road.

Emanuel Garcia Mender, 25, and Neida M. Rawlinson, 21, were shot to death Sunday at a Jacksonville motel in a flurry of bullets. A peace justice ruled that Mender shot the woman and then killed himself.

WACO FRACAS
Randall Mull, 21, died of gunshot wounds early Sunday after a fracas at a Waco eating establishment.

Glenn Alfred Black, 18, of Fort Worth was killed Sunday when his car overturned southwest of Fort Worth near the community of Benbrook.

A collision of two cars 4 miles south of Edna on Texas 111 shortly before midnight Sunday killed David Gibson, 51, of Edna. The accident happened as her car emerged from a driveway. Four other persons suffered injuries.

Lucas Gusher Vet Honored

HOUSTON (AP) — "I'm the only one left of the drilling crew that had anything to do with the financing or the drilling of the Lucas Gusher in 1901," the bright-eyed man said.

Curt Hamill, 95, was present recently in Beaumont for a Rotary Club Spindletop Day program and to participate in the dedication of a plaque at the Lucas Gusher Monument designating the spot a Registered National Monument.

Hamill of Houston said it was almost by accident that he was drilling when the gusher came in. Henry McCloud, the original driller, walked off the job when all the crew was asked to dig the sand out of the ditches which had lined up during the 10 days of drilling.

On the scaffold when oil was struck, he said he got soaked by the time he got to the ground.

Borden Tour Set Tuesday

There are still more than half a dozen seats available on the bus which is to take a group of Big Spring business and professional men on a general tour of Borden County Tuesday.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the tour, reported it will follow the pattern of the highly successful neighborhood visit in Glasscock County last year, and the bus will leave from the parking lot at Second and Main at 8:30 a.m.

The Chamber of Commerce asked all persons who are interested in the tour to communicate with its office as soon as possible. Forty-five can make the trip in the chartered bus but only 36 confirmed reservations had been made at 11 a.m. today.

Seven Minor Mishaps Listed

Police investigated seven minor accidents during the weekend, none involving major damage or injuries.

Saturday, Tonya Boyd, 702 E. 12th, and Robert Gates, WAFB, were involved in a crash at 1606 W. 3rd. An accident at Fourth and Scurry involved R. X. McNew, Vealmoor, and another car which left the scene. George Wallace Kelly, 101 Carey, and Harris L. Ray, Gail Route, were involved in an accident at Fourth and Gregg.

A collision at Third and Austin involved Linda Carol Gunderson of Carlsbad, N. M., and William Dusten Miller, 620 Colgate. Later that afternoon Olafie Caudle McMullan, 1309 Princeton, and Harold Morrison, 108 1/2 N. Nolan, were involved in an accident at Seventh and Gregg.

Sunday, a two-car collision at Fourth and Birdwell involved Doyl William Irwin, 3603 Tingle, and a second car which left the scene. A one-car accident was reported at Christian Day School on Wasson Road.

Crestview Bible Classes Close

Commencement exercises at the Crestview Baptist Church were held Sunday evening for the Vacation Bible School class following a week of emphasis on Bible and mission study.

Daily attendance during the week averaged 112 children between the ages of 3-16. Some of the workers constructed models of the Tabernacle and Solomon's Temple, to add to the study of the scriptures.

Of those attending during the week, approximately 100 met at city park Saturday with their parents for a picnic and hamburger cookout.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K96 ♥Q9653 ♦Q972 ♣8

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ 1 NT ?

What do you bid?

A.—Two spades. If you don't speak now it may become inexpedient to do so later. Partner should not play you for substantial values since you failed to double one no trump.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠10 ♥Q1072 ♦KJ8642 ♣75

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Partner's jump rebid in spades is not forcing and you have about the least that the law will tolerate for a one no trump response. If this hand will produce a game, partner would probably have been able to bid it himself.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South the dealer, you hold:

♠843 ♥QJ103 ♦A7 ♣AQ4

What is your opening bid?

A.—One club. A mandatory opening with 14 points. This is a prepared bid to avoid future bidding difficulties. If you open one heart and partner responds two diamonds, you will find the rebid definitely not to your taste.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KJ3 ♥874 ♦KJ3 ♣J1094

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You had a substantial one no trump response and we are inclined to take one further step. However, our choice is for three hearts rather than two no trump, as partner's rebid shows an unbalanced hand not suited for no trump play.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KQ10743 ♥Q103 ♦62 ♣52

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This hand is definitely not the no trump type and preference should be given, to rebidding a good six-card suit over returning to partner's hearts.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q109763 ♥KJ105 ♦62 ♣7

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Dble. 4 ♠ -5 ♥

5 ♠ 5 NT Pass 6 ♠

Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six spades. Your spade holding strongly suggests that no tricks can be taken in that suit against six clubs and partner's failure to double indicates that he has few defensive values on the side. The save should not prove too expensive.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQJ103 ♥864 ♦KQ3 ♣AQ

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass

3 ♦ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five spades. Since partner was strong enough to first bid his own suit and subsequently raise yours, hope for slam should not be abandoned. Your main concern is the heart situation and overbidding the game in spades after the other suits have been mentioned will clearly ask partner to go on if he has no more than one loser in hearts.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠—J8643 ♦AQ43 ♣J1087

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—One no trump. This hand is not strong enough to bid at the two level, yet some action must be taken. The only bid available is one no trump which designates a hand ranging from six to 10 points in high cards. When this bid is used as a response it does not necessarily promise a balanced hand.

UN Demonstrates It Can Be Useful In Putting Out War Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In providing the machinery to halt the Middle East war, the United Nations demonstrated that it can be useful now and then in putting out a fire.

This was the first time the United Nations had a hand in ending a major conflict in the Middle East. In 1948 it helped work out an armistice when the Israelis and the Arabs clashed over the Palestine partition plan. In 1956 it stepped in to help halt the Suez fighting.

In the two earlier conflicts, as in last week's six-day war, the United Nations did not have the power to move in to prevent a fighting. This delayed the first cease-fire vote for two days.

It turned out to be convenient, when Israel and Syria clashed, that the United Nations had a true supervision team on hand to move in quickly and station observers on both sides of the line to help implement the cease-fire.

But a cease-fire will not work unless one or more of the belligerents has had enough of the fighting. As long as both sides still hope for victory, their supporters in the Security Council will oppose a cease-fire or stall.

That is what happened in last week's council debate until the drawal in positions held June 4, frustrated because the United Nations did not have the power to force a decision on its members.

The council debates gave the public an impression of endless bickering, irrelevant polemics and paralysis. But in a conflict that threatened to escalate into a third world war, a week is not considered too long for debate and negotiations to produce results.

Some U.N. critics feel that, if the world organization had not started working as its founders had expected, the war between Israel and the Arabs would never have started in the first place. After 20 years, they ask, why had not the United Nations worked out a stable peace to replace the daily armistice that was negotiable for so many violations?

The reason usually given is that the Arabs refused to negotiate, to talk or to show any interest in a settlement. But many critics believe that, except for a Security Council's major failure, number of miscalculations and was in not being able to head off blunders, the war would never have started.

MAJOR FAILURES
One of the miscalculations here was President Gamal Abdel Nasser's decision to get rid of the U.N. Emergency Force and impose a blockade on the Gulf of Aqaba. Another of blunders the threatened blowup because of the Soviet army. After 20 days before the 100th anniversary of the Russian revolution, the Russians early on concentrated the Soviet through the discussion of military strength and in that there was in any sense and demonstrated the doctrine.

SAFETY MEASURES
The United Nations still faces a long, bitter debate on Soviet and Arab demands that Israel be part of a broader Soviet pact in the 1956 armistice.

Some U.N. observers feel that the United Nations get down to long-range demands that the United Nations get down to long-range demands that the United Nations get down to long-range for that quarter the year in the mid-1950s in the Middle East. They argue that the prospects are not good on other problems.

Big Spring (Trenton Herald, Monday, June 12, 1967)

Barbara Bain Thought Hubby Crude, Rude

By GENE HANDMAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I like having too much to do," remarked Barbara Bain. "There's the challenge of something new."

Crowding her life are roles as wife, mother and television personality on "Mission: Impossible." For that last job she won the Emmy recently as starring actress in a dramatic series.

Mounting the steps to claim her prize she seemed smilingly confident, sure of herself. Actually she was in tears at a time.

"Peter Falk said, 'And the winner here in Hollywood is Barbara!'"

"I swear an hour went by. In my mind I lived in 'Hollywood'—the big valley."

LAUGHING KEEPS

"And then he said 'Bain'—and I said, 'Bain, that's me!'" And Martin Landau, her husband and costar, also smilingly lifted me up. I went up those steps and my knees turned to liquid."

Miss Bain, 34, has large, blue-green eyes, streaked-blond hair that is naturally brown, and won't tell her measurements. "I think they're a bore," she studies her biography says she is 5 feet 7 and 120 pounds.

Barbara is one of those "overnight" discoveries who has been acting for 10 years in theater and television.

Chicago-born, a B.A. in sociology from the University of Chicago, she studied dancing in New York with Martha Graham. Then, a high-fashion model—

WITAKE

"I wandered by mistake into an acting class, got up on the stage and have never been the same since. I was awful—I couldn't act a lick. I was clumsy as a rail, as a model I'd had to lose 25 pounds."

Continued drama studies fitted her finally for "Desire Under the Elms" and other New York plays, "Studio One" and other television.

She met Landau in that first acting class.

"He dismissed me as a dumb, shallow, blonde model. I thought he was arrogant, crude and rude. A week later, at a party, we got to talking, solved all the world's problems and discovered each other wasn't like that at all."

Landau at one time was a New York Daily News artist, drew "The Gumps" for a while and illustrated the late Billy Rose's newspaper column, "Pitching Bismarck." Landau still paints and sketches.

A housekeeper helps care for the couple's daughters Sue, 4, and Juliet, 2.

Gets M.A. Degree From Akron U.

Carla Messner, 3403 Marcy Drive, has received her Master of Arts degree from the University of Akron. Commencement exercises were held June 5, when 60 degrees were conferred. Principal speaker was Fay D. Kohler, Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs.

Akron University is a 54-year-old municipal institution, and will become a state university on July 1.

Dallasites Donate Greek Sculpture

DALLAS (AP) — A Greek sculpture, dating from the 4th century B.C. and described as one of the greatest examples of original Greek art to reach the western hemisphere, has been given to the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Gibbs of Dallas.

The sculpture is a life-size marble figure of a young man, probably representing a god or a military or athletic hero of the day. The head and extremities are missing, but the figure is otherwise complete.

YOUTH CHOIR FROM McALLEN CHURCH

McAllen Choir To Sing Here

A concert of sacred music will be presented at the Baptist Temple Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. according to the pastor, Rev. James Puckett. The 55 voice Youth Choir of the Calvary Baptist Church of McAllen, Tex., will present the concert of anthems, hymns, spirituals, and songs of consecration.

The choir is composed of junior high and senior high students and is currently on a 10-day tour and trip to Gloria Baptist Assembly in New Mexico. The group will also present concerts in Memphis, Lubbock, and Espanola, N.M.

The group is under the direction of Sam Cotter, minister of music and education of the church. The pastor of the McAllen church, Dr. Jimmie H. Heflin, is also accompanying the choir.

This is the second annual tour for the choir. Last year, it presented concerts in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Weatherford on a five-day trip. The choir hopes to make the tour an annual event.

A special after-church fellowship hour for young people will be directed by the visiting group. They will present more special music including some fun songs. Some skits and fun games will also be presented. The public is invited.

On Dean's List

ABILENE — Helen Ruth Lemon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Lemon of Ackerly, has been named to the Dean's List, an academic honor roll, for the 1967 spring semester at McMurry College.

The list consists of students who achieve a grade point average of 3.5 or above and are carrying a minimum of 12 semester hours. The total number on the list does not exceed 10 per cent of the entire student body.

Senate Schedules Debate On Dodd Financial Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate debates this week whether to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd for alleged financial misconduct.

The Connecticut Democrat's only announced ally in fighting the censure resolution is Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who contends the Senate ethics committee, which recommended censure, is making a scapegoat of Dodd.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Sunday Dodd has a legitimate complaint in saying the Senate does not have an official code of ethics by which to judge him. Javits did not, however, say how he would vote.

ETHICS DRAFT — Long plans to propose after the debate opens Tuesday that the Senate discard the censure resolution altogether and instead ask the ethics committee to draft an ethics code. He disclosed Saturday he has sent to all senators a legal brief contending the ethics committee's investigation of Dodd doesn't support its resolution.

The six-member committee—three Democrats and three Republicans—unanimously recommended censure.

HIGH STANDARDS — Long intends to substitute for the censure resolution one commending the ethics committee for its efforts in the probe and its attempt "to promote high standards of ethics on the part of members of the Senate."

Long said it is essential the Senate have a code. "I think Sen. Dodd has a legitimate complaint in that there were no ethical standards for the Senate," he said.

All senators have been asked to be on hand for the debate, which is expected to last two or three days.

"TRAGIC MISTAKE" — The ethics committee accused Dodd, 60, of using for his personal benefit at least $116,083 in funds raised through political means and of collecting travel expenses for seven trips from both the Senate and private organizations.

Dodd has denied any deliberate misuse of funds, adding the committee made a "tragic mistake."

STERLING HIGH GRAD LANDS GIANT GRANT — What is probably the largest scholarship grant ever awarded to a Sterling High School graduate has been made to Miss Lee Douthitt, 1967 graduate of Texas Woman's University.

Miss Douthitt will use a $10,000 fellowship grant awarded under the National Defense Education Act to take her master's and doctor's degrees in science at the University of Florida.

RUSK TAKES OFF FOR LUXEMBOURG — Secretary of State Dean Rusk left today for Luxembourg to attend a meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization which is expected to discuss primarily the Middle East problem.

The United States, especially Rusk, has urged the Allies on various occasions to look beyond the relatively narrow area of NATO but the Allies up to now have not seemed interested.

Officials now see signs of rapidly growing interest in the Middle East.

Rusk's position is known to be that the Middle East is primarily a responsibility of Western Europe, especially the former colonial powers, Britain and France.

SCREENWRITER DIES — OCEANSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Hollywood screenwriter Frank Butler, who won an Academy Award in 1944 for his version of "Going My Way," died Saturday in a hospital. He was 77.

APES AUTHOR DIES — ENFIELD, N.H. (AP) — Dr. Wolfgang Koehler, 80, research professor of psychology at Dartmouth College, died Sunday at his home. He was the author of a classic study of chimpanzees, "The Mentality of Apes."

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots during the weekend destroyed or damaged 10 MIG jets on the ground at and near the Kep air base northeast of Hanoi, the U.S. Air Force reported today.

The claim brought the number of Red MIGs claimed destroyed or damaged in aerial dogfights or on the ground to about 115, or just about the size of the North Vietnamese air force in February, 1965, when the United States began bombing North Vietnam.

U.S. officers say the Soviet Union is providing replacement planes to maintain Hanoi's air force at about 100 combat jets.

TWO MISSING — North Vietnamese ground fire brought down four U.S. planes over the weekend, raising the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost in the air war in North Vietnam to 581. Three of the crewmen were rescued and two were missing.

The Air Force said six MIGs were destroyed or damaged during the ground Saturday raids on anti-aircraft sites around the Kep railroad yards 38 miles northeast of Hanoi.

The Communist jet interceptors were parked in protective rearmaments close to the anti-aircraft sites and two miles north of the Kep jet air base. Then the air field was hit Sunday by U.S. Navy planes and pilots claimed two MIGs destroyed on the ground and two damaged or destroyed.

EIGHTH RAID — The raid Sunday was the eighth on the Kep base, which U.S. planes first attacked April 24.

Since the raids on Kep began, the Communists have dispersed the MIGs in extensive rearmaments away from the field.

One lone flight of MIG21s made a firing pass at the raiders Sunday but then fled. Military spokesmen say U.S. pilots have downed 77 MIGs in aerial dogfights and scored nine more probable. There is no official tabulation of MIGs destroyed on the ground — day-to-day claims total about 30 destroyed or damaged.

DIRECT HITS — Other American planes raided the Uong Bi thermal power plant 14 miles northeast of Hanoi again and supply lines. Pilots who struck at the power plant claimed they scored direct hits on the plant's general hall and boiler house, touching off secondary explosions.

U. S. Planes Plaster Thermal Power Plant

Military headquarters said 87 strike missions were flown over North Vietnam Sunday.

Returning pilots reported destroying or damaging a near-record 91 railroad cars on lines running from Hanoi to Red China.

65 WOUNDED — There was scattered ground fighting in all the five provinces which make up the harried 1st Corps area adjoining North Vietnam. At least 119 North Vietnamese regulars were reported killed in scattered fights.

Ex-Ambassador To Haiti Dies — NEW YORK (AP) — John Campbell White, 83, former U.S. ambassador to Haiti and Peru, died Sunday in his Manhattan apartment after a long illness.

White, whose father Henry had been ambassador to Italy and France, served 31 years in the U.S. Foreign Service and retired in 1945.

White was appointed minister to Haiti in 1941 and became ambassador when the post was elevated to an embassy in 1943. He was named ambassador to Peru in 1944.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids — And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication, with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Dear Abby — A Grown Girl Now

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am worrying needlessly, but I can't help it. Our daughter will be a freshman this fall in a co-ed university halfway across the continent. It's considered a fine school, but I understand there is practically no supervision. I mean, they stay in dormitories, and there is a dean of women to talk to, but their hours are very liberal. They can "sign out" for weekends, and with so many freshman girls, ours will get no special looking after.

We've never had any trouble with our daughter, but with all we hear about pre-marital sex in colleges, we are concerned. Shouldn't the colleges try to control the freshman girls a little more strictly? After all, it is the first time many of them have ever been away from home.

WORRIED MOM — By the time a girl goes away to college, her moral code is well established, and what she didn't get at home and in church she will not get from the dean of women. It's time parents realized that even more important to college students than "supervision" is a good, sound moral grounding during their impressionable years at home.

Educators cannot be expected to police the morals of college students much beyond the general injunctions that apply to society as a whole.

DEAR ABBY: Am I dreaming, or didn't I learn somewhere that if one wore a pink or red carnation on Mother's day it meant his mother was still living. But if he wore a white carnation it meant his mother was dead?

I mentioned this to someone last Mother's Day and he looked at me like I was some kind of nut. Please confirm or deny.

NUT OR NOT — DEAR NUT: You're not a nut. I've always been under the same impression, but I was told that practice went out with the fox trot.

DEAR ABBY: I nearly flipped when I read that letter from the bride who wanted her own brother to be best man at her wedding instead of her fiancé's brother, because her brother was tall and handsome, and his brother was short and not very good looking.

Why doesn't she marry someone who has a tall brother? She says as long as her parents are paying for the wedding she should be able to pick the people for the wedding party. I think I know her problem. Her parents are not only paying for the wedding, but for the man, too. Please print this. The poor groom might see it and wake up in time to be saved a lifetime of despair.

NEARLY FLIPPED IN LAGUNA — How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The Weather Bureau reported that Malone, 17 miles east of Hillsboro, caught 6.60 inches for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today. West, 15 miles north of Waco, received an official 5.84 inches.
Eastland, a town 55 miles east of Abilene, recorded 5.85 inches.
Ex-Miss America Dies At Age 58
BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. William R. Prongerast Sr., Miss America of 1929 as the representative of Minnesota, died Sunday after an 18-month illness. She was 58.
Briefly torrential downpours in front of the Munson's ear- they escaped injury. At least two barns close by were demolished.
Vicious thunderstorms formed one squall line after another, mostly from West Central into North Texas, and unmeasured torrents of rain in rural areas sent big crests roaring down a few small creeks.
FLOOD WARNING
One such deluge apparently hit southwest of Corsicana, sending Richland Creek out of banks and temporarily blocking a road in the Malone and Dawson neighborhood. Chambers Creek likewise went on the rampage.
The Weather Bureau warned against possible flooding both in the area near Corsicana and around Eastland, where state police estimated 2.5 inches of rain Sunday brought the two-day total to more than four inches.
Heavy thunderstorms soaked the countryside from Coleman and Brownwood northward to near Abilene, and an area south of Fort Worth around Corsicana, Hillsboro and Meridian.
BRISTLING STORMS
Another patch of bristling storms lingered into early today from a little east and south of Abilene past Cisco and Eastland. Quarter-inch hail pelted Cisco and Eastland but police said there appeared to be no serious damage.
Still another band of threatening storms began building up before daylight around Tahoka and Lamesa, south of Lubbock on the South Plains.
TORNADO WATCH
Turbulence late Sunday caused the Weather Bureau to post a tornado watch for part of the Panhandle-Plains sector, West and Northeast Texas and the north edge of North Central Texas, plus sections of neighboring states. This alert expired without word of twisters causing any further damage.
Forecasts promised still more thunderstorms in Northwest and North Central Texas and at least scattered showers in most other portions of the state, plus continued warm weather.
Heart Attack Takes Cardinal Ruffini
PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini, a staunch conservative prelate of the Roman Catholic Church, died of a heart attack Sunday at 79. During the 1963-65 Vatican Ecumenical Council, Cardinal Ruffini was an implacable foe of many of the decrees promoted by progressive elements of the hierarchy and eventually approved by the Pope. He was made a prince of the church by Pope Pius XII in 1946.

Arrest Of Black Power Advocate Triggers Racial Violence

PRATTVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The arrest of Stokely Carmichael, black power advocate, touched off a gun battle Sunday between police and Negroes. National Guardsmen moved in early today with orders to shoot to kill if necessary to restore order.

Jury Panel Reports Today

A jury panel reported to Judge Lee Porter in Howard County Court at 1 p.m. today for service in the trial of a scheduled criminal jury docket. However, the probability there would be any work for the jurors today, after they have been qualified, was remote.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that he did not believe any of the cases tentatively set for trial today would be ready. The jury docket extends through the week.

Several of the defendants whose cases were set for today have told Davis they intend to plead guilty. One or two others have been passed, because their attorney is busy in other courts.

Davis said that the pleas will be entered as the defendants report to the court.

He also said that of nine recent appeal cases from the corporation court which had been set on the docket for trial, eight have been ordered quashed by Judge Porter.

In each of these cases, Davis said, the complaints were attacked by the defendants as being faulty and the court sustained the contention.

Davis said he had notified the city of the development and it was possible Tom Huckabee, city attorney, might refile in some of the cases.

The ninth of the appeal cases was passed.

ICC Starts Rail Hearing

DALLAS (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) opened a hearing today on application by two railroads to stop passenger service between Dallas and Fort Worth and Denver.

The hearing in the Baker Hotel is the first of a series on the applications.

Willard Cohen, ICC examiner, will hear testimony in the case involving the Colorado Southern and the Fort Worth & Denver Railway Companies.

The Colorado Public Utilities Commissioner, the state of New Mexico and Chambers of Commerce of several towns and cities on the route oppose the applications.

Other hearings on the applications will be held within the next two weeks in Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Clayton, N.M., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Denver.

King Guilty Of Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the contempt of court convictions of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and seven other Negro leaders of desegregation demonstrations in Birmingham, Ala., in 1963.

Justice Potter Stewart announced the court's 5-4 decision. Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Abe Fortas dissented.

The case involved an attempt by the eight ministers to hold demonstration marches in Birmingham on Good Friday and Easter Sunday, 1963. If denied a permit for parading and picketing, they planned to proceed with the demonstrations. The city obtained a state court injunction and when the demonstrations were held arrested the Negro ministers.

City Program Has Slow Start

Threatening weather and an ailing bus caused the free City-wide Summer Recreation program to get off to a slow start Monday.

The bus, which was undergoing an overhaul, likely will not be ready before the Wednesday schedule, said Mike Harris, director. Parents have been telephoned that it likely will not meet the Tuesday itinerary. They were urged to transport their children Tuesday to the city park where Harris has a full staff of adult leaders waiting to direct the youngsters in a rounded program of activities ranging from arts and crafts, to games, gymnastics, trampoline and swimming. He urged parents to enroll children by calling the YMCA.

raided a house involved in the gunfire and removed some 30 Negroes and a double-barreled shotgun. Several rounds of ammunition were found in a car parked outside, Sheriff Phillip Wood said.

GO HOME

The troops and civilian officers, numbering more than 150, met no resistance when they moved in after a nightlong vigil.

Wood said today 10 persons were arrested at a concrete-block house and were charged with inciting to riot. He said most gave out-of-town addresses and "many said they were with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee."

SHOTS SWAPPED

Police said Negroes barricaded inside the house had exchanged shots with city, county and state officers during the night while other shots were fired from a nearby wooded area.

The gun battle left three law enforcement officers injured slightly. Wood said a prison trusty handling dogs also was wounded slightly in the violence which came after Carmichael was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

PERFECT ALIBI

Police Chief Obie Thompson said Carmichael threatened to kill one officer and told police he would "tear up this town."

Carmichael was in the county jail a mile away while the gun battle raged.

The sheriff said the 10 and Carmichael, former chairman of the SNCC, would appear to day before Judge James Loftis of the County Court of Records. He said bond for the 11 probably would be set at the hearing.

Restored Cabin Lures Sightseers

WINTERS, Tex. (AP) — Ranchman Roy Smith sometimes has trouble keeping his gate closed since tourists have discovered his place on FM-1770 near here.

What brings sightseers is the restored log cabin which once was the Blue Gap Post Office, established in 1878 to accommodate ranchmen and about 30 Texas Rangers stationed in the area to protect settlers from Indians.

It was declared Runnels County's first post office by the County Historical Society, which later learned there once was still an earlier one, at the now-vanished town of Walthall.

The discovery hasn't hurt the drawing power of the Blue Gap structure at all. And Smith keeps having to close his gate

TRAPPED

One of the Negroes in the house told officers he "got trapped in there and couldn't get out." He said he had just left a church across the street when he heard shooting and ducked into the house for safety.

The gunfight erupted, Wood said, after Assistant Police Chief Kenneth Hill narrowly escaped injury from a bullet which tore through the window of his squad car as he drove

Former Beaumont Engineer Nominated

BEAUMONT (AP) — Frank H. Newnam Jr., former engineer for Beaumont, has been nominated by the board of the American Society of Civil Engineers to the post of president.

Newnam is executive vice president and co-owner of the Houston headquartered consulting engineering firm of Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam Inc.

BACK ON DUTY

Hill ducked and lost control of his car, sending it into a curb and knocking him unconscious

Ammo Blasts Kill Worker

KENVIL, N.J. (AP) — Two explosions rocked an ammunition plant today, killing one man and injuring three others.

The blasts at the Hercules Inc. plant, about 35 miles west of New York City, occurred as the men were working on smokeless powder for sporting goods ammunition, according to a spokesman at the company's headquarters in Wilmington, Del.

The dead man was identified as Fenton Sherwood of Roxbury Township. He died in a hospital about an hour after the blasts.

The injured were hospitalized with bad burns.

when his head struck the interior of the car. He recovered quickly and was back on duty after a physician at Prattville General Hospital found no evidence of serious injury.

Also treated at the hospital for superficial gunshot wounds were city policeman Norris Champion and Autauga County Sheriff's Deputy John Griffin.

SHOTGUN THREAT Chief Thompson said the officers went to the Negro First Baptist Church and found Carmichael and a group of Negroes outside after a Montgomery resident complained he had been threatened with a shotgun as he drove past the church.

The police chief said officers, with a search warrant, found a shotgun in a panel truck and another in an automobile parked at the church. He said the truck had the name Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee on it. Carmichael is a former chairman of SNCC.

TIN BADGE

When the police arrived, the chief continued, Carmichael told Hill: "Take that tin badge off and I'll take care of you myself."

Then, Thompson said, Carmichael turned to another Negro and told him, "Hand me that gun and I'll take care of him," meaning Hill.

Thompson quoted Carmichael as telling the officers, "We came here to tear this town up and we're going to tear it up."

Carmichael was then placed under arrest and as he was led away, police said, shots were fired at them, and the long gun battle ensued.

JOB STATUS

Prattville, located 14 miles northwest of Montgomery, has been the target of sporadic racial demonstrations in the past two years.

Racial peace was marred in this Autauga County seat in the spring of 1966 when Negroes staged sit-ins downtown in what they said was an effort to gain equal employment status.

Pistol Shots Are Reported

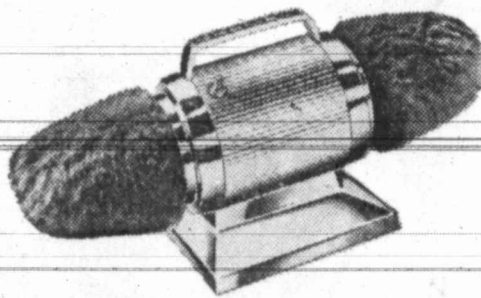

Pistol shots rang out on the North Side late Saturday, but apparently no one was injured.

When shots were reported at 704 N. Cherry, police reported Elbert L. Ford and Francis Ford were on the premises, who said the pistol discharged by accident.

Mrs. Raymond Alaniz was treated and released at Malone and Hogan clinic early Sunday morning, after she was assaulted in an alley in the 900 block between Eighth and Ninth. Her husband reported the two were walking home when a car drove up carrying two men, one of whom jumped out and hit his wife on the head with a tire iron. The pair then sped away.

Oil Endangers Farm Animals

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Danger to farm and ranch animals can result from used lube or crankcase oil, Tom Green County Agent Ed Hyman has warned.

Hyman said using the oil from motors that have run on ethyl gasoline, which leaves a lead deposit, can be damaging if placed on gates or corral fences which cattle may chew.

Used to treat hogs for lice or mange, the oil can be fatal, the agent said.

Wind Wonders

Mrs. Leonard Taylor stands in bedroom of her home which was hit by a tornado Saturday night. The wind ripped the roof off the house, and suction tore the carpet off the floor and whisked it away, although the furniture in the room remained intact. Straw and debris are on the floor. Mrs. Angie Silvia, 22, and her three children died as the killer storm caught them en route to a cellar. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ten Twisters Cut Destruction Path

By The Associated Press
Ten tornadoes cut a path of property destruction through early today. Turbulent weather plagued parts of the nation for the eighth straight day.
Clashing warm and cool air masses set off severe weather in the nation's mid-section. More of the same was predicted. Scattered showers dampened the Pacific Coast, the Central Plains, the upper Great Lakes, northern New England and Florida.
KANSAS SLAMMED
The first wave of twisters raked north Illinois and south Wisconsin. The next wave slammed into east Kansas and west Missouri several hours later.
The Weather Bureau reported

Middle East War Teaches Oil Lesson?

By MAX B. SKELTON
DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A Texas official says he hopes the oil emergency caused by the Middle East war contains a lesson for federal officials.
Jim C. Langdon, chairman of Texas' oil and gas regulatory commission, said some federal policies, such as oil import controls, have made it difficult in recent years for the domestic industry to maintain healthy drilling and exploration rates.
He told newsmen Sunday the United States is fortunate in being in such good shape it can meet shortages resulting from the shutdown of Middle East production and the closing of the Suez Canal.
CLIMATE CHANGE
"Louisiana and Texas could do it alone or jointly," he said, ready to produce and move additional oil to meet the current emergency.

The two regulatory officials are in Denver for today's opening of the three-day mid-year meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. The 33-state body serves as a forum on oil and gas conservation matters.
FLEXIBILITY
"We are just waiting for someone to tell us how much more oil is needed," Menefee said. "We have the oil and the flexibility to move it," Langdon said.

The Texas Railroad Commission is to meet Thursday to set a July production allowable and Langdon said he expects to have some idea then as to how much more oil will be needed.
He said Texaco, Inc., already has asked for an emergency hearing.

Bond Denied Rebel Chief

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Alfonso Sanchez said today he intends to hold Reyes Tijerina and several persons arrested with him without bond in connection with a raid on a rural courthouse until a trial.
Tijerina was arrested early Saturday two miles south of Bernalillo on US 85 after one of New Mexico's largest manhunts. He was charged with two counts of kidnapping and three counts of assault with intent to commit murder.
Two policemen were wounded, another beaten and two persons taken hostage last Monday when armed men seized the Rio Arriba County courthouse where Judge James Scarborough was concluding preliminary court proceedings for some of Tijerina's followers. After the raid state police and National Guardsmen chased the gunmen into the hills east of Canyon and the manhunt was on. All but about three of Tijerina's top lieutenants have been arrested.
"This case is in court and ethically I can't comment on it," Sanchez said when asked why he disapproves of bond. "Kidnapping is a capital offense and it speaks for itself."

A Devotional For The Day

From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Timothy 3:15)

PRAYER: Our Father, we pray that we may be granted the wisdom we need to guide and direct others in pathways toward Thee. Through scripture, prayer, and daily living may we influence them toward salvation; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Try, Try Again

The 60th Legislature, which refused to take a firm stand for state constitutional revision, did further demonstrate why such is needed. It submitted 19 constitutional amendment proposals for popular vote, six for a special election Nov. 11 and 13 more in the 1968 general election.

It is ridiculous—fundamental law at its cumbersome worst—for a state constitution to be so restrictive, inflexible and detailed that it has to be amended so much. The 1876 Texas Constitution has been amended 178 times, an average of nearly twice a year. The 59th Legislature submitted 27 amendments, 11 voted on in 1965 and 16 in 1966. Obviously, accelerating change and the growing complexity of government will continue mass submission of amendments to an even longer and more confusing constitution unless a new, flexible, model document can be drafted and adopted.

Gov. John Connally this session gave constitutional revision top priority. But the Legislature, mainly the Senate, balked. The House has tried, by simple resolution, to set up an interim commission that might work up a revision plan for consideration by the 1969 (61st) Legislature, but that effort is highly doubtful.

The governor could, in the special session now required to provide for the second half of the biennial budget, again urge the 60th Legislature to authorize a firm procedure for the preparation of constitutional revision. A special session cannot submit constitutional amendments, but it could do that.

Connally shouldered perhaps the most difficult and controversial task a governor can assume in pushing for a comprehensive redrafting of the state constitution. Serious trouble was expected. But this session's setback should not be considered failure, only a disappointing delay, for the Texas Constitution is getting into such a mess that it is obvious that drastic reform must be pursued, and sooner or later will succeed. Gov. Connally will, we hope, continue to exert the maximum influence he can muster to get a satisfactory resolution of this increasingly pressing issue.

Reduce Inequities, Increase Study

Postmaster General O'Brien's proposal that the postal service be turned over to a non-profit federal corporation has not attracted great support. Remarks he made at the time did, however, freshly illuminate the grave problems that confront the mail system. The postal service, which expects a net operating loss of some $1.2 billion this year, has long been a deficit operation.

O'Brien warns that unless some fundamental changes are made the system is headed toward collapse. It is a warning that cannot be taken lightly. There is need for both prompt remedial action and for a long-range overhaul of the system.

Postal revenues could be increased by boosting rates all along the line, but that is not necessarily the best—and certainly not the fairest—approach.

For whereas first-class and airmail letters more than pay the actual costs of handling, other classes are subsidized in varying degrees.

Some of these subsidies spring from the sound concept that the widespread dissemination of thought and opinion at relatively low cost benefits the public. Thus, according to Post Office estimates, non-profit publications paid a mere seven per cent of costs in 1966, and fourth-class mail paid 42.4 per cent. But even bulk third-class, direct-mail advertising reportedly paid only 61.2 per cent of cost, which is hard to justify as a use of public funds in the public interest.

An effort should be made to reduce inequities as part of a rate revision. Beyond that, Congress ought to get at a study of the whole complex matter of how to provide much better postal service.

Cost Or Effectiveness?

NEW YORK (AP)—Admiral Hyman Rickover's attack on modern management's tendency to judge the merits of technological goals in terms of cost rather than effectiveness strikes at the core of a very prevalent problem.

Rickover, who heads the nuclear-powered ship program, told members of Congress that America too often was measuring the worth of goals by a cost-effectiveness ratio. Perhaps, he indicated, effectiveness rather than cost should be the main ingredient of the formula.

SINCE THIS criticism was aimed chiefly at the Pentagon's management methods it is going to surprise some congressmen who had been convinced the tradition there was one of overspending rather than of ruthless saving.

More important, it points to a much larger difference of opinion, the difference between the researcher and the manager, the difference between the scientist who is goal-oriented and the manager oriented to costs.

DESPITE THE tremendous outpour-

Billy Graham

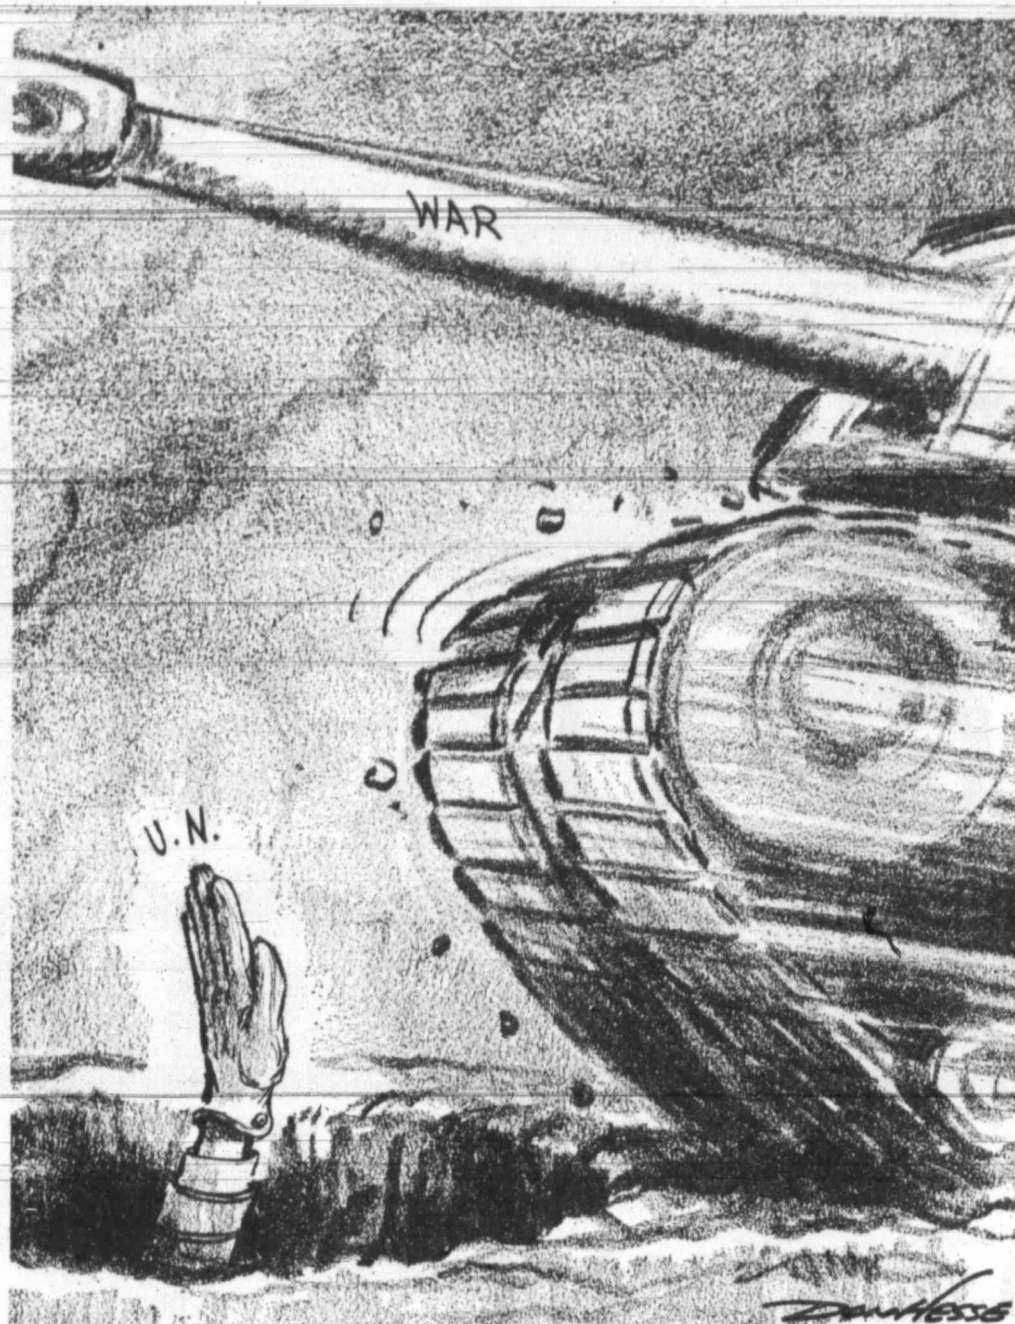

Before I found Christ I was very successful in business, but since I've had to change my business tactics, I'm now in the red. Does a person have to go broke to be a good Christian?

H.G. Certainly not! I know some dedicated Christians who are very successful in business. It sounds to me like you may be in the wrong business. If your success is determined by principles and ethics which are not Christian, then you should fail. But if your profits are just temporarily off because you have started being honest, then I predict that you will soon be in the black again, for honesty is, after all, a better policy than dishonesty.

No, a person doesn't have to go broke to be a Christian, but I would say that he would rather go broke than to compromise his ideals and principles. There are some things worse than financial failure, although in our culture some people seem to think that success, by any means, is the supreme goal. I said that I know some very successful businessmen who are dedicated Christians—but I also know some great Christians who have little of this world's goods. They might be called "economic failures," but spiritual successes. If I were to fail in one or the other, I would rather be a financial failure than a moral failure.

FUTILE TRAFFIC COP

No Question: Fortas Is Liberal

WASHINGTON (AP)—His two years on the Supreme Court are long enough to determine whether Justice Abe Fortas is liberal or conservative. No question: he's liberal.

This onetime big-business lawyer, the newest member of the court, is no mouse. He can be tart when he dissents from the others, including the liberals, and their reasoning irritates him.

Last January he was in the minority in a 6-3 decision which said private individuals suing for damages under the law of privacy must prove "knowing or reckless falsity by the publication they claim injured them."

FORTAS DIDN'T like this decision. He said: "Perhaps the purpose of the decision is to indicate that this court will place insuperable obstacles in the way of recovery by persons who are injured by reckless and heedless assault provided they are in print, and even though they are totally divorced from fact."

"If so, I should think that the court would cast its decision in constitutional terms."

WHEN JUSTICE Arthur J. Goldberg, a liberal himself, resigned from the nine-man court in 1965 to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, he left behind a court evenly divided four to four between liberals and conservatives.

The labels liberal and conservative mean the positions in which the various justices most consistently line up although there is some occasional switching around, depending on the individual case.

THE LIBERALS—now, at the time of Goldberg's departure, and before that—were Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas.

The conservatives—now, then, and before—were Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron White.

Since the president names the justices, President Johnson had the power in 1965, through the man he named as Goldberg's successor, to decide the course the court would follow in the years ahead.

WHEN he picked his longtime friend and adviser, Fortas, there was some wondering about which side he would join, perhaps because of his big-business connections as a lawyer.

Thus Fortas held the balance of power. He quickly showed he would take the liberal road although, being an individualist like Warren and Brennan, his vote was not always predictable.

MOST OFTEN he has voted with Warren and Brennan, two consistently liberal justices but not as absolute as Black and Douglas. Sometimes Douglas dissents from Warren, Brennan, Black and Fortas because they are not liberal enough for him.

More And More Widows

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If your snoring keeps your wife awake, it may be simply because you're too fat. Other causes of snoring as reported by the American Medical Association: allergies, too much smoking, sinus condition, and general poor health.

UNLESS men learn how to live longer, it's estimated there'll be 10 million U.S. widows by the end of 1975, but only one-fifth that many widowers. On the average, a 20-year-old girl who marries a 22-year-old man will outlive her husband by eight years.

Tiny Israel, which has a population of only 2,650,000, is one of the most conglomerated countries on earth. In the last 19 years it has drawn a million migrants from nearly 100 other lands.

SCIENTISTS say 12,000 people a day die of starvation or malnutrition disease throughout the world—but the number of people alive on the earth is increasing by 7,000 a hour.

Quotable notables: "Education is the ability to listen to almost anything without losing your temper or your self-confidence."—Robert Frost.

Folklore: If you see a falling star and say "money" three times before it disappears, you'll become wealthy. Touching second base every time he comes on and off the field will bring good luck to a baseball player. A mixture of ground beans and bedbugs—ugh!—will cure chills or fever. Cage a robin in your home and you'll have bad luck.

U.S. FARMING methods are so efficient that food production has doubled since the end of World War II, although the area of tilled land has declined by about 60 million acres.

Women don't have to be behind the wheel to cause traffic accidents. Investigating 96 drivers involved in mishaps, a Michigan psychiatrist found 20 per cent had been emotionally disturbed just prior to the crashes. Most of the drivers, he said, "had had violent quarrels for the most part with women."

Worth remembering: "Flattery is something nice someone tells you about yourself that you wish was true."

To Your Good Health

Explaining 'Childhood' Type Of Tuberculosis

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: One of my children was exposed to tuberculosis and was hospitalized for six months with what was called "childhood" type of T.B.

Friends and neighbors say he will be handicapped for the rest of his life. Please tell me the truth. — J.F.

I am shocked that you were told such a thing. It is not true. "Childhood" type of T.B. is involvement of the glands which are situated in and around the trachea and bronchi—roughly speaking, the windpipe and passages leading to the lungs proper.

In this type of T.B., the germs have affected these glands but not the lungs themselves. And—especially important—the germs have not succeeded in establishing what we call an "open-type of T.B.," or areas in which the germs are flourishing and reproducing.

one close enough to breathe them.

With the "childhood" type, while the glands are affected by the germs, the body is still succeeding in combatting them, has prevented open infection from starting in the lungs proper, and is not producing germs which will be breathed into the air and passed on to others. In short, in that form it is not contagious.

If the body's defenses are sufficiently strong, the "childhood-type" will be fought off successfully. This often happens. If the body's defenses begin to lose, however, then there is every likelihood of the disease advancing to the lungs and becoming the full-blown, "open" case of tuberculosis.

Thus it was fortunate that your son's case was detected and he was treated before serious damage was done. With such treatment, people (including your son) can live an entirely normal life, no restrictions of any kind. It is inconceivable to me that anyone with any factual knowledge would have made such a bald and unfounded remark to you about the boy being "handicapped."

As a matter of fact, people of my age often have scars to show that we had the childhood-type of T.B., because it was very prevalent in our youth. Most of us—except those who developed open T.B.—never knew until later that we had had the childhood-type. The only ways it could be detected were a positive tuberculin test, showing that we had been exposed to the germ, or X-rays showing calcified (scarred) nodes of the glands.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there some kind of shot or medicine for relief of jaundice? — MRS. L.B.

Jaundice isn't a disease; it is a symptom. Hepatitis and other liver diseases, and sometimes disease of the gall bladder tract are the principal causes of the yellowness, which is jaundice.

Hemorrhoids can be cured. If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Dog That Rules The Household

A British biologist named Dr. A. C. Hardy says that dogs are possessed of some sort of telepathy, by which means they engage in wordless, soundless communication with each other.

It has also been theorized that dogs know what their owners are thinking, that often they are prone to "jump the gun" before their humans give a command, obeying before their lord and master actually has spoken.

WE HAVE a dog around our teepee who didn't go to that school. She doesn't respond to orders. She gives them. She won't shake hands. She won't chase cats, especially when the felines are inclined to do a little fraternizing in the mid-watches of the night.

Spot, as we call her, is prone to give sparrows a bad time. She apparently has concluded that sparrows can offer little resistance. The birds descend upon our back yard at times for food and drink and see no reason why they shouldn't share equally the rations allowed the dog.

SHE OBJECTS, loudly proclaiming that she shares with no one, even while they are perched atop the fence and staring down at her in utter disgust. But when her energies have been spent and she stops her declaiming for a return to her nap on the porch, the birds are prone to swoop down again and resume their meal.

They believe in co-existence, though I would not be surprised to see a couple of them enlist the aid of an eagle, pick up an anvil, circle over the head of the four-legged mutt and drop it.

OUR DOG figures the best time to be taken on her daily constitutional is when we get settled in the easy chairs in the parlor at eventide and she reasons the best way to focus attention on her request is to repeatedly climb the side of the wall. She, no doubt, concludes that she can outlast us in the war of attrition, that we can't long enjoy anything we're doing as long as remains animated without. The pathetic part about it is that we usually yield to the pressure and let her have her way.

THIS DOG goes slightly ape when she thinks she's going to get to ride in the family buggy. It would be all right, perhaps, if she remained in her appointed place in the back seat but this spoiled creature thinks she belongs in the lap of the driver.

I think she's been taking driving lessons on the sly and it's only a question of time until she starts asking for the keys.

When that day comes, she's in for the surprise of her life. Her name will cease to be Spot. It becomes Mudd.

I'm trying to teach her an exciting new game—Russian Roulette.

On Patronage, Not Merit

WASHINGTON—Our First Congress (the one which enacted the Bill of Rights) also created the office of Attorney General of the United States. The Judiciary Act of 1789 did not give the President a carte blanche appointment of his chief legal officer. The statute specified that the Attorney General must be "learned in the law."

WHILE THE stipulation is broad, it should clearly have disqualified the inexperienced, 35-year-old Robert Kennedy, the Presidential kid brother of 1961. A strict interpretation of the job requirement might have disqualified the 39-year-old Ramsey Clark in 1967, another beneficiary of nepotism, the son of Associate Justice Tom Clark, a Texas crony of President Johnson.

THE FIRST Congress had a very good reason for defining the type of man to be Attorney General. The Constitution was a framework, but as yet there was no body of Federal law. The Presidential oath was purposefully vague. The President swears or affirms that he "will faithfully execute the office . . . to the best of my ability." Historian Arthur Bernon Tourtelot points out: "There was not a word of what he should refrain from doing, nor was there any literal pledge that he would obey, much less enforce, the statutes."

"Congress was counting on the Attorney General, a specialist in law, to advise the President in that field."

"THE ATTORNEY GENERAL," the Supreme Court has noted, "is the hand of the President in taking care that the laws . . . be faithfully executed."

In erudition, in experience, in probity, our Attorneys General until recently have ranked above our Presidents (many were politicians and soldiers) and just below our Chief Justices. Eleven Attorneys General (not nine as miscounted in an earlier column) have been nominated for the Supreme Court and one declined. Only one of the 66 Attorneys General to date (Daugherty of the Harding Administration) was publicly thought lacking in honesty. Only one (Mitchell Palmer in the Wilson Administration) was seriously accused of overstepping his authority, and this was because he rounded up suspected Communists in a well-intentioned drive to establish American internal security shortly after the Russian Revolution.

MEN WERE supposed to bring their reputations with them into the office of Attorney General. It was not considered a place for on-the-job training until cronyism, nepotism, and whimsy ordered the odd appointments of recent years.

The decline of the office commenced with President Truman's three nominees—Clark, McGrath, McGranery; was not abated under President Eisenhower's men—Brownell and Rogers; was rendered precipitate with the Kennedy-Johnson choices—Bob Kennedy, Katzenbach and Clark.

IT IS POSSIBLE, of course, for unqualified men to prove some worth after taking the office, and this can justly be said of Rogers and Kennedy. Ramsey Clark, the present incumbent, may turn out to be an able administrator and advocate. But his concept of his job as the nation's prosecutor suggests that something drastic has happened to the highly regarded, highly important, highly specialized post of Attorney General, as a future column will discuss.

Plenty Of Warning In Mid-East

WASHINGTON—Most people are surprised when a war breaks out anywhere because they are not aware that trouble has been brewing for a long time. The record of what has been happening in the Middle East in the last year and a half seems to have been overlooked not only by people generally but by the United Nations, which has the responsibility for bringing out into the open the danger of a coming war. Here is a selection of the incidents as narrated in an official report by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee:

1966
April 30, Israeli troops retaliated for six incidents during April by raids which blew up houses and killed 11 people in two Jordanian villages.

MAY 19, Israel announced that a limited number of tactical aircraft would be supplied by the United States. Jordan had announced an agreement for the supply of F-104's with the United States on April 2.

September 11, Israel complained to the Security Council about recent sabotage incidents along the Syrian-Israeli border. Another complaint was filed against Jordan after a bombing in the Romea quarter of Jerusalem.

October 10, Israel asked the Secretary General to obtain assurances from Syria that the infiltration would stop. The day before, Israel had filed another complaint to the Syrian-Israeli mixed armistice commission about two explosions and four killings near Lake Tiberias.

OCTOBER 19, Israel's border areas with Lebanon and Syria were the scenes of continued skirmishes, bombings, minings, and killings. The United Nations truce supervisory organization could find no conclusive evidence in the incidents under investigation and did not report any significant military concentrations.

October 22, The United Nations said that both Israel and Syria had violated the armistice agreement in the demilitarized zones. The United Nations also reported that no military buildup was evident.

NOVEMBER 13, Israeli troops crossed into Jordan early in the morning and destroyed the town of Samu.

People were evacuated by the Israelis and their homes were blown up. A Jordanian army column rushing to the rescue was ambushed and incapacitated. The Israelis withdrew four hours later.

November 23, The Security Council condemned Israel for the attack on the Jordanian village of Samu. Premier Levi Eshkol pledged that Israel would continue to resist the Arab infiltrators despite the U.N. vote. The Israeli Broadcasting Service noted that the U.N. had not censured the Arabs once in the past 12 years.

JANUARY 12, Syrian and Israeli tanks and artillery exchanged fire across the border in the Hulah Valley. Syria claimed to have driven Israeli planes away from the battle scene.

January 16, U Thant reported that Israel and Syria were massing troops along their borders and called the situation a threat to the Middle East peace.

February 5, Israel sent a warning to Syria through diplomatic channels that a large retaliatory raid would be forthcoming if the border incursions from Syria did not stop.

MAY 15, Heavy troop movements were reported in the United Arab Republic. The army was put on alert status and a state of emergency was declared.

May 18, U Thant instructed the commander of the United Nations Emergency Force to withdraw from the armistice line between Israel and the United Arab Republic. U Thant said his action was in response to a formal request from the United Arab Republic.

JUNE 5, War broke out along the Egyptian-Israeli border in the area of the Gaza Strip. Each side claimed the other had started the hostilities.

In view of the foregoing report of what has been happening in the last year and a half and which covers only a few of the incidents, should anybody have been surprised last Monday when war came in the Middle East? Did the United Nations do its job?

Carter's Offers Many New Styles

J. W. and Terry M. Carter, a father-and-son partnership, features every type of furniture style and offers polite, efficient, knowledgeable service.

Carter's Has Large Selection Of Early American Furniture

Nine thousand square feet of floor space devoted strictly to Early American Furniture may be why Carter's has the largest selection of Early American Furniture between Fort Worth and El Paso.

From Early American to patio furniture, the perfect choice for your home is on display at Carter's two huge buildings.

No matter what you want in furniture, you can get it at Carter's Furniture, 100-110 Runnels.

J. W. and Terry M. Carter, a father-and-son partnership, have been in the furniture business in Big Spring since 1948 (when they had Carter's Shop & Swap on Second and Gregg). They moved into 110 Runnels in 1957, and then acquired the old Montgomery Ward warehouse, 100 Runnels. The addition of the warehouse gives Carter's 21,000 square feet of floor space — 9,000 at 110 Runnels and 12,000 at 100 Runnels — to display whatever furniture the customer wants to see without crowding either the furniture or the customer.

The newly enlarged operation gave Carter's room to departmentalize all furniture. They put all the Early American suites, pieces, tables, chairs, in the building at 110 Runnels. At 100 Runnels, they put different furniture in different rooms — French Provincial, Modern furniture, Spanish, colored accent pieces, patio and outdoor furniture, and dining room furniture to match all groups.

With all the furniture, it is quality that counts with Carter's. All is brand-name furniture — merchandise of quality. Such famous brand-names as Tell City, Broyhill, Sealy Mattress, Berkline Recliner, Lane Cedar Chests and Empire Furniture abound.

"We service what we sell," Terry Carter says. "And we offer a time payment plan, or we'll hold for 30, 60, or 90 days with no interest or carrying charge."

Something popular at Carter's is the $1 table, where a real variety of gift and accessory items are always kept on hand, each selling for only a dollar bill.

The departmentalizing of the furniture makes it easy to shop Carter's. If your taste runs to Spanish, Carter's has an extremely large, varied stock in the big building at 100 Runnels. Colored accent pieces? Carter's has them in abundance in grays, greens, any color to match your style and choice. French Provincial? The middle room of the building has all you expect. Modern? A whole big room full of the latest styles in

Blue Lustre Is Answer

Carpets collect soil — more than any other piece of furnishings in the home. You always notice dust on a table; it's closer to your eye. Rugs and carpets continually collect soil from busy footsteps that tramp it into the fibers, where so often it goes unnoticed, until colors get dull and the true beauty of your floor covering is lessened and finally lost.

It used to be quite a chore to get carpets really clean, but that's not true any more. Now you can bring back the beauty of colors almost forgotten, and at the same time eliminate all the soil easily and quickly. This can be done for such little cost with Blue Lustre — America's new favorite for home carpet care.

Blue Lustre instantly brightens colors and provides deep-down cleaning for all types of rugs and carpets. It is a liquid concentrate and only one-half gallon is necessary to clean three 9x12 rugs. It's so easy to use — you just vacuum your rug, shampoo with Blue Lustre, let dry, and then revacuum.

When you purchase Blue Lustre you can rent a lightweight electric carpet shampooer for only $1 a day. Don't let the children scuff up dust from carpets to settle on table tops, when you can keep your floor covering free of soil. The frequent use of Blue Lustre and the handy electric rental shampooer helps you do the job quickly and easily. If you have never used Blue Lustre you'll be surprised and pleased with the new look of your carpets.

It is available at Big Spring Hardware, now, at 117 Main.

'Ole Adolfo'—He Gets Four Homers

By The Associated Press
Adolfo Phillips still takes his share of lumps, but the Chicago Cubs' Panama Flash has stopped running for his life—and started hitting back.
Phillips smashed four homers Sunday, driving in eight runs and leading the suddenly ferocious Cubs to a 5-3, 18-10 doubleheader sweep over the New York Mets.

But Can He Run On The Grass?

By The Associated Press
Just how good is Buckpasser on a grass course?
The 1966 Horse of the Year will provide the answer at Aqueduct on Saturday in the $50,000 Bowling Green Handicap when he goes after his 16th straight victory.

Pitted against the famed 4-year-old son of Tom Fool probably will be Assagai, the 1966 American grass course champion; Ginger Fizz, winner of the Edgemere Handicap on the turf last Wednesday; War Censor, winner of three turf stakes in Florida this year, and Moontrip, who won the Bowling Green last year.

Buckpasser wouldn't have any trouble against such a field on a dirt track, but on the grass it might be different.

Assagai, for instance, seldom is any good on the turf, but is a demon on the turf. He won the $100,000 United Nations at Atlantic City last year and so far this year is 2-for-2 on the grass. His latest victory was in the Round Table Handicap at Arlington Park in Chicago.

In contrast the Bowling Green at 1 1/2 miles will be Buckpasser's first start on the turf and is expected to provide a line on how he will do in his invasion of France next month. Owner Ogden Phipps has entered Buckpasser in the Grand Prix de St. Cloud in Paris on July 2.

Buckpasser, who won the Metropolitan Mile in his last outing on Decoration Day, has been working well on the grass at Belmont Park.

Furl Sail established herself as the leading 3-year-old filly of went down for the count when he tried to steal home in the eighth inning of the opener. But he bounced back in the nightcap, walloping three homers to vault into the National League's top five in both homers (11) and RBI (38).

AARON HOT
While Phillips was landing Sunday punches against the Mets, Atlanta slugger Hank Aaron was on the run against San Francisco. Aaron collected four hits—including a pair of infield singles—and stole three bases before scoring the win.

Astros Win Opener, Cave In On Second

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Aspromonte for Houston and Don Pavletich for Cincinnati proved to be the batting heroes Sunday as the Astros and Reds split a doubleheader.

Houston won the first game 7-4 as Aspromonte's double helped the Astros to a 3-2 lead in the fifth inning and by his homer put Houston ahead by three runs in the sixth.

Pavletich hit two homers for the day, his second—a pinch-hit grand slammer—winning the nightcap 8-4 for the Reds.

With the score tied 4-4 and the bases loaded, Pavletich parked the ball for victory.

Mike Cuellar notched his seventh pitching victory of the season in the first game but had relief help from Carroll Sembera in the ninth.

Houston built a 4-2 lead in the second game as Jim Wynn drove in three runs with a single and homer and Aspromonte cracked a solo run-tripper.

By Pete Rose's sacrifice fly got a third Red run in the eighth, then in the ninth Cincinnati tied it up when Leo Cardenas walked to force in a run and set the stage for Pavletich's grand slammer.

The Lions pecked away for an 8-3 victory over the Red Sox in a Saturday evening Sophomore league game.

Ricky Steen struck out 15 Red Sox batters and held them to four hits. Randy Womack, Larry Vasquez and Terry Roundtree helped him with a well-executed double play.

In an earlier game, the Lions blanked the Angels 13-0. Dickie Stanley was the winner, giving up three hits.

King And Casals Win In Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals captured singles matches Sunday and brought the United States its second straight Federation Cup, the women's equivalent to the Davis Cup.

Miss Casals of San Francisco outlasted Virginia Wade of Great Britain 9-7, 8-6, and Mrs. King of Long Beach, Calif., clinched the women's team world tennis championship by upending Ann Jones of Britain, 6-3, 6-4.

Perry's Stay Too Long For Orioles

By The Associated Press
Jim Perry provided the Minnesota Twins with relief in more ways than one and then went home in an effort to get some for himself.

Perry, suffering from a sore throat and fever, entered the second game of a doubleheader Sunday in the third inning. He left after the sixth inning and went home.

In between his arrival and departure, the veteran right-hander was tough on Baltimore batters, hit a two-run homer and singled in another run as the Twins won 10-7 after losing the opener 5-2.

While the Twins and Orioles were splitting, the Chicago White Sox moved into first place in the American League by a game over Detroit. The White Sox scored 2-1 and 3-2 victories over the New York Yankees, and Detroit lost 6-4 to California.

Cleveland beat Kansas City 12-1 and 3-2 and Boston split with Washington, winning 4-3 before losing 8-7 in other AL games.

Perry, now 24, relieved Jim "Mudcat" Grant in the third inning with two runs in and a man on third. He gave up a run-scoring single and then got the next two men to end the inning.

Minnesota tied the game at 4-4 in the fifth when Ted Uhlaender singled and Perry hit his first homer, and won the game in the sixth with four runs.

Singles by Tony Oliva and Bob Allison and a walk to Rich Rollins loaded the bases. Then after a force out at home, Russ Nixon tripled and Perry singled.

The six-hit pitching of Bill Dillman and Curt Blefary's two-run homer in the fifth inning, which broke a 2-2 tie, gave Baltimore its first-game victory.

Wayne Causey's RBI single in the fourth inning broke a 1-1 tie in the first game and Gerry McNertney hit a three-run homer in the fourth of the nightcap for Chicago's sweep.

Bruce Howard held the Yankees hitless in the second game until Joe Pepitone singled in the seventh. Howard needed relief help in the ninth when Ruben Amaro doubled and Jake Gibbs homered.

The Yankees tied the first game on singles by Horace Clark, Amaro and Mickey Mantle. The White Sox had scored in the first on Walt Williams' double and Don Buford's single.

Mantle's pinch hit appearance in the second game tied him with Lou Gehrig for most games played by a Yankee—2,164. A Bat Day crowd of 62,582—largest in the majors since 1965—watched the games.

Jim Fregosi's three-run homer in the ninth did in Detroit and gave the Angels their fifth straight victory. The one-out blast followed Jose Cardenal's double and a walk to Paul

Bill Brow Victim

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Two time drivers have died at her wheel in two years of unlimited hydroplane racing but the "Miss Budweiser" will be rebuilt and race again.

"I think Bill Brow would have wanted it that way," said the boat's owner, Bernie Little of Tampa. "We're going to be professionals about it."

Brow, 41, of Seattle, Wash., was riding the thundering hydroplane across Tampa Bay Sunday at more than 150 miles an hour—out in front, as usual.

Among the 10,000 fans on shore were his mother, brother and sister. For the first time in Brow's nine-year racing career his wife had stayed home. Their 18-year-old daughter, Becky, was graduating from high school.

The boat roared into the smooth-backstretch and apparently hit a swell, a wake rolling back from one of 200 moored spectator boats, or something in the water. No one is certain.

Three tons of boat, engine and man tipped up on its right side and disappeared in a wall of white water.

A Coast Guard helicopter pulled Brow from the water. He was unconscious and was given mouth-to-mouth resuscitation as the chopper rushed him to St. Joseph's Hospital.

At 2 p.m. Dr. Dave Worthington turned from Brow's broken body and said, "He probably never had a chance."

Brow already had his second chances. In 1959 Brow survived a similar accident in Lake Couer d'Alene, Idaho. One year ago, also in the first lap of the Tampa Suncoast Regatta, Brow fractured his shoulder.

So Don Wilson of West Palm Beach, Fla., substituted for Brow at Miss Budweiser's throttle in the President's Cup race in Washington, D.C.

A boat driven by Rex Manchester, also of Seattle, collided with Miss Bud killing both drivers. Ron Munson, also of Seattle, was killed in the same race and Chuck Thompson of Detroit died two weeks later in the Gold Cup race on the Detroit River.

Brow's death was the fifth in the last nine unlimited hydro races.

Over-all winner in the $25,000 race was Bill Schumacher of Seattle driving Miss Bardahl. His average speed was 96.914 m.p.h.

O'Halloran was second in the Miss Madison at 89.356 m.p.h.

Angels Rally To Rap Giants

The Angels rallied for three runs in the last inning and then went on to topple the Giants 6-5 in two extra frames in a Saturday evening Sophomore league game.

Zarbita had a wild pitch in the bottom of the ninth, allowing D. Gamboa to score the winning run. Mike Gamboa was the game's leading hitter, knocking in three runs for the Angels. Dave Duncan, allowing only four hits, was the winning pitcher. John Armistead, with a man aboard, slammed a homer in the first to stake the Giants to a lead they didn't lose until the seventh. Casualty Yours

Golfers are likely to disagree (and usually do) on how to play the greens — but they are all agreed this morning on one point — Big Spring Country Club's first annual Open Amateur Partnership Golf Tournament was a winner for even the losers.

My nostalgia may be showing, but I couldn't help but think it was almost like old times. I kept expecting to see Shirley Robbins bustling about or hear the fellows comparing notes on the Calcutta Pool. Of course, I didn't.

But it was fine and fun for everyone. Jerry Green and Earl Reynolds outdid themselves, as did many others, including members of the LGA who manned the concessions along with other chores.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS: Bobby and Carol Bluhm's pretty little doll, Vicki, feeding nachos to her uncle Ray. Bill Coleman looking bigger than his transportation when he hitchhiked on the back of Bob Bell's Volkswagon.

Mrs. G. B. McNallen showing off a pretty paper dress and matching hat in bright orange. John Taylor passing on Sam Thurman's sad story of a loser's luck.

Mrs. E. L. Powell, Mary Greenwood and Mrs. Jinx Powell staying cool in the lounge and probably discussing bridge more than golf.

Mrs. Floyd Mays maneuvering a pick-up truck over the course to deliver the LGA gals to their stands.

Adam Ramos and Armando Torres looking sassy in their matching maroon and white attire.

Pretty Mrs. Bobby Wright giving her favorite fellow moral support, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marvin (Virginia) Wright saying that the first part of their vacation was spent coming to the tourney.

Rick Terry looking big enough to beat anybody and teamed well with young Tommy Wilkerson. Dewey Byers and the Varieties playing pretty, danceable music that served well for both the frug and the businessman's bounce. And all those young, energetic couples like the Dexter Pates, Jerry Barons and Jackie Touchstones (she in a pretty white shift and he in a blue, double-breasted blazer) who make me feel old, old, old!

(Remember when all these kids were caddy instead of competing?) Dot Coleman worked hard all day but still had energy for the dance floor.

So did the W. E. Ramseys, the Carl Marqums, the Chub Joneses, the Charles Neefes and the H. L. Reaveses. ex-Big Springer Joe Williams coaxed to the piano. . . and Weldon Bryant remembering with me the other tournament dances — and the faces we missed in the crowd.

TIDBITS: Note came this morning from Barbara and Hugh Butler McCauley who send greetings from "marvelous" London. They are on their annual trip to Ireland. . . Nice letter from Mrs. Gerry (Judie) Green from San Mateo, Calif., who says come out and see us. They were at Webb before he joined Pan Am several months ago. She says he is flying to Honolulu, Tahiti and Tokyo. . .

Mrs. W. G. Wilson says son Bill is now working in Tripoli, Libya, so was not caught in the crossfire during the Middle East mess. . . The Jimmy Jennings and the Cui Grigsbys left by plane this morning for five days in the Bahamas. . . Brenda Cooper is working in Austin this summer. . . Understand Mrs. Ayra McGann is in Farmerville for a visit and took along her grandson, Mike. . . Linda Hall is home from Tech. . . and home again, also, is clever Kay Loveland, who made it from Spain in time for little sister's wedding. . . When the Grant Boardmans were in Independence, Mo., for son's wedding open house was held for them and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore of Hurst. Hostesses were her aunts, Mrs. J. West and Mrs. A. R. Moler. They had a leisurely trip back and visited Grant's mother, Mrs. Clark Boardman, in Monroe La. . . Probably get some funny stories from those five senior girls, Linda Cochran, Linda Robertson, Lonnie Fulbright, Sally Wade and Vicki Jones, the latter of Lubbock. They celebrated graduation by setting out to see the world in a week. We'll see if they managed it. Deadline. Call me?

Honored At Gift Party

Mrs. Jim Nelson, the former Miss Betty Dennis, was complimented with a gift shower Friday evening at the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mrs. Bill Battle, Mrs. Eldon Pounds, Mrs. Charles Wright and Mrs. Les Duffer.

Mrs. Nelson and her husband were married June 3 in the Marcy Drive Church of Christ.

The honoree was presented with a nylon net corsage interspersed with kitchen gadgets. Mrs. Bill Davidson, aunt of the bride, was also presented with a corsage.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow and centered with a floral arrangement. Cake and punch were served from crystal appointments.

Approximately 35 attended.
