Texan honored as Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texan Anne Armstrong was embarked today on her newest government job as U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, which she described as "one of the highest honors in our country's power to bestow."

Her South Texas rancher husband Tobin Armstrong was among those present as she took her oath of office, after which she received kisses from President and Mrs. Gerald Ford. The new ambassador was sworn in by Supreme Court Justice Lewis F.

The President observed that she is an example of what his wife has urged him to do — name qualified, highly competent women to positions of responsibility.

"Anne Armstrong is such a person," said Ford. "Whenever she has done something, she has done a superb job."

Mrs. Armstrong had been a counselor to both Ford and former President Richard M. Nixon, the first woman to hold that position. As ambassador to the Court of St. James, she is also the first woman ever to hold that post.

She promised to dedicate herself to serving well.

Mrs. Armstrong likened Ford to John Adams, who held a post comparable to ambassador when he was sent to Great Britain before he became president. She said one of Adams' strengths was his wife and remarked, "I have the feeling Abigail Adams would have been just as excited as Betty Ford and I."

The new ambassador said the main tie between Great Britain and the United States is the cultural similarities of the two peoples.

"To use a Southwestern term," she said, "I think the British and Americans both have true grit."

She will be one of six women ambassadors in America's foreign service.

TRA asks deletion of Midland route

Trans Regional Airlines, Big Spring, has asked the Texas Aeronautics Commission for the deletion of its scheduled routes between Big Spring and Midland-Odessa Air Terminal, according to R. E. McClure, vice president and chief pilot.

The action was revealed after the TEC set a public hearing for March 24 and called on the airline to explain why it is no longer furnishing scheduled air service between the two points.

McClure said, "The Big Spring and Midland-Odessa route has always been unprofitable. We have asked for its deletion from our scheduled routes. Even if we made 40 flights a day to Midland-Odessa and back, it still wouldn't pay."

The commission said it had been told that Trans Regional Airlines, which is operated by El Paso Air Transport, Inc., is providing passenger and cargo service between the two points on demand only.

The only other scheduled flight the airline has permission to fly is one from Big Spring to Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

The commission said Trans Regional Airlines asked and received authority last March 24, 1975 to furnish the service.

The airline recently filed an application asking the TEC for permission to provide twice-daily scheduled flights serving Austin, Brownwood, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Houston, Lubbock, and Dallas-Fort Worth.

It is protesting the application of Chaparral Airlines, Abilene, which filed for permission for similar service.

Override fails, alternate sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stunned by their failure to override President Ford's veto of a $6.1-billion public-works jobs bill, congressional Democrats are trying to figure out what kind of substitute measure they can offer. There were plans to seek a compromise measure, including talk of giving quick consideration to other job-creating legislation.

Nixon embarks for China

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard Nixon, private citizen, leaves today for the People's Republic of China, where four years ago he carried out the most spectacular diplomatic mission of his presidency. A Boeing 707 jet airliner sent by his Chinese hosts was serviced Thursday in Vancouver, B.C. It was to arrive at Los Angeles International Airport at 6 a.m. PST and depart from an out-of-the-way hangar three hours later with Nixon, his wife and a group of aides and Secret Service escorts. The former president is to arrive in Peking on Saturday after a flight by way of Anchorage, Alaska, and Tokyo.

'Swine' flu outbreak reported

ATLANTA (AP) — The National Center for Disease Control has reported an outbreak of influenza in humans similar to a virus found in swine — and recalling the flu of a half-century ago that killed 500,000 Americans and 20 million persons worldwide. A CDC spokesman said Thursday there is no immediate cause for alarm and that any major outbreaks of the disease could be controlled by modern vaccines. But, he said, precautionary steps are being taken, including consultation with the World Health Organization.

Senate leader says

Proposal is CIA shield

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate intelligence committee said today President Ford's proposals for overhauling the intelligence agencies are a dangerous "dragnet" that could be used to squelch attempts to disclose official wrongdoing and shield forbidden CIA domestic operations.

"Over-all the President's proposal is clearly to give the CIA a bigger shield and a longer sword with which to stab about within as well as without the country," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, in his first public comments in the President's plans.

The chairman made his remarks one day after the Justice Department said it will not prosecute former CIA Director Richard M. Helms for his role in a break-in and the House said it will investigate CBS newsman Daniel Schorr for arranging publication of a secret document.

Despite the Justice Department decision not to prosecute Helms, he remains under investigation for possible perjury. Other former intelligence officials are under Justice Department scrutiny for their roles in mail opening and electronic surveillance programs.

Church told a group of reporters during a breakfast meeting at the National Press Club that Ford's proposals give a larger measure of protection to the CIA and do very little to protect the American people from CIA abuses.

The chairman said his committee will ask Congress to write new laws to govern intelligence operations because it seems clear that the President's executive orders are not adequate.

Church said these new laws should include a prohibition against any CIA involvement with the media or with the activities of American missionaries and educators working abroad.

In addition, he called for a law prohibiting any U.S. government agency from murdering or conspiring to murder foreign officials.

"The President's proposals show little interest in protecting citizens' rights," Church said. "He would give the CIA authority to conduct counterintelligence inside the United States and on the face of it that is contrary to present law."

"I think the President reaches beyond his own power," the senator added.

Church said legislation offered by the President to protect classified documents and plug leaks of official secrets is so far-reaching it would put all federal employees under the threat of a prison sentence if they made information public that had been classified to conceal illegal, improper or unethical activities.

"Look very carefully at the President's bill because it is a dragnet which reaches out and encompasses many thousands of government employees who may disclose matters that ought to be made public and should not be secret," Church said.

He said he would support legislation which would provide criminal penalties for persons who had taken an oath of secrecy and who later revealed information disclosing the names of intelligence agents overseas, the sources of foreign intelligence, methods of intelligence gathering and other matters which he said are legitimate secrets.

Church said the real purpose of legislation as broad as that proposed by Ford might be to protect presidents and other high officials from allegations of wrongdoing.

The House voted 269 to 115 on Thursday to have its Ethics Committee probe the leak of the House intelligence committee's secret final report and to decide whether to take action against Schorr, who has admitted giving the document to the weekly Village Voice in New York.

The House suggested no specific action against Schorr, but Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., who introduced the resolution authorizing the investigation, said Schorr's congressional press card could be voided or he could be cited for contempt of Congress.

The Justice Department's decision not to prosecute Helms and other officials involved in the 1971 break-in at a Fairfax City, Va., photographer's studio run by a former CIA employee and her fiancé removed any possibility that criminal charges would stem from any of the 12 CIA break-ins uncovered by the Rockefeller Commission.

The "other break-ins occurred so long ago that by the statute of limitations it is impossible for us to prosecute," Assistant Atty. Gen. J. Stanley Pottinger told reporters on Thursday.

Refuses to answer 19 times

Patty takes fifth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst's attorneys, who instructed her to invoke the 5th Amendment 19 times in her bank robbery trial, faced another legal skirmish today in their battle to keep what they claim is potentially incriminating evidence from the jury.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter upheld Miss Hearst's right to refuse to answer the government prosecutor's questions Thursday about her actions during the 12 months before her capture.

But U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said he intended to ask Carter today to admit a taped jailhouse conversation as evidence of the defendant's willing commitment to radical social change.

In the contested tape recording, Miss Hearst told long-time friend Patricia Tobin within 48 hours of her Sept. 18 arrest that her future statements would be from "a revolutionary feminist perspective."

Such change, he argued, led her to join with her Symbionese Liberation

Army kidnapers in the April 15, 1974, robbery of a Hibernia Bank branch headed by Miss Tobin's father.

Chief defense attorney F. Lee Bailey contends the jailhouse tape is irrelevant to the bank robbery for which Miss Hearst is on trial.

Browning planned to resume his cross-examination of Miss Hearst today, the defendant's 22nd birthday.

Miss Hearst underwent her first full day of cross-examination Thursday and testified that she was not certain that she was brainwashed by her captors — as previously maintained by her defense lawyers. She said, "I'm not sure what happened to me."

She said she did not try to contact her parents during her underground odyssey because she felt they would not want to see or hear from her. She conceded that perhaps she should have risked accepting an early offer of freedom from her captors and cried when asked to recount physical abuse at their hands.

Then, with the jury absent, Bailey fought heatedly against the admission of dates, places and documents that might connect his client to a second bank robbery and apparent plans for others.

Carter took under submission the government's request that papers and notebooks found in Miss Hearst's last fugitive hideout be presented to the jury. Carter indicated it was unlikely he would rule before Monday.

San Mateo County Sheriff John R. McDonald Jr., in charge of the jail where Miss Hearst has been kept since her capture, has been called to testify about the taping at a hearing outside the presence of the jury.

The jury of seven women and five men was removed from the courtroom for more than an hour Thursday as opposing attorneys wrangled over the controversial documents and Bailey repeatedly instructed the pale defendant not to answer prosecution questions.

Bailey left the prosecution irate Wednesday when he wrapped up his three-day examination of Miss Hearst by skipping over a full year of her 19-month voyage in the terrorist underground.

Base-community relationship 'great,' says ATC Commander

The relationship between Webb Air Force Base and the community of Big Spring is rated as high as any within the Air Training Command, Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts told a reception in his honor Thursday night.

Gen. Roberts, who heads the Air Training Command from Randolph AFB in San Antonio, said that this kind of base-community relationship was something that didn't exist five or six years ago.

Roberts made a short talk following a reception and dinner at the Big Spring Country club which was attended by 100 members and wives of the Century Club and top officers and wives from Webb.

The general described Webb as "a great asset, not only to the Air Force but to this community."

"The IG (inspector general) says Webb is doing great, and I think you're doing great."

Roberts began his remarks by saying that he was not in Big Spring to make any announcements other than that he was glad to be here.

He praised the Century Club for work it has done in the past to help Webb receive building funds for bachelor quarters and many other projects.

Gen. Roberts said that this community knows that there is a big battle in Washington with Congress to get the dollars to run the right kind of defense establishment.

Roberts added that, as an American, he appreciates the Century Club's efforts and support in this area.

Century Club Vice President Ron McNeil emceed the dinner and introduced Gen. Roberts by noting that he was a man who began his Air Force career in 1943 as a fighter pilot, and he arrived at Webb Thursday afternoon in a T38, still a fighter pilot.

McNeil explained that the Century Club was an organization of 100 men and women who pay $100 a year to support the Air Force in whatever way possible.

Gen. Roberts also was presented a key to the City of Big Spring by city councilman Charles Tompkins, and Century Club President Tom Locke presented a desk set memento of the visit here.

Also at the head table was retired Colonel Ralph Brooks who served with Gen. Roberts both in DaNang and in the Pentagon.

Gen. Roberts spent Friday morning in briefings and touring Webb with Col. Robert Owens, wing commander, before departing for San Antonio.

from right, vice president; and Col. Robert Owens, Webb wing commander. Gen. Roberts is the commander of the Air Training Command.

Jaworski cites 'apathy' Gives news media credit for Watergate exposure

MIDLAND — Former Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski told his listeners they should scrutinize the moral foundations of representative government in the nation in a speech made to over 500 at the annual membership banquet of the Midland Chamber of Commerce here Thursday night.

Jaworski reminded the audience that "more than one nation had met disaster because of the apathy" of its citizens.

Watergate scandal did not just happen overnight but was an escalation of little transgressions that snowballed into large ones.

Runway lights chief topic of meeting

LAMESA — Dawson County Commissioners will hear members of the Airport board discuss runway lights when they hold a special meeting Monday morning.

The commissioners will also hear the board of directors of the Dawson County Soil Conservation District. They will consider approval of an increase of the membership assessment to the South Plains Health Unit.

The group will consider payment of the annual dues to the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission and Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

Judge Leslie Pratt was elected president of the PBRPC when it first organized.

The commissioners will study a report from the Texas Commission on Jail Standards and read communications from the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Secretary of State.

The commissioners are also expected to approve the date and time of a meeting to open bids for replacing the roof at Medical Arts Hospital.

Library wins prize

Webb AFB's library took second place in the Air Training Command (ATC) Library Publicity Contest for 1975.

Sylvia J. Sefcik, librarian, received the ATC certificate at the Wing staff meeting Tuesday morning.

In addition to the certificate, the library received $200 which will be spent on various projects to enhance the library, Miss Sefcik said.

To compete, base libraries compiled scrapbooks demonstrating how each promoted the use of the library during 1975.

Will return assault suspect

Robert Keith Ainsworth was arrested in Midland Thursday on a warrant for aggravated assault in Big Spring.

The assault charge was filed Oct. 17, 1974 with Beverly Read listed as the complainant.

Detective Avery Falkner went to Midland to bring Ainsworth back to jail here.

Coahomans nip grass flames

The Sand Springs fire truck was not in operating condition this morning, the sheriff's office reported.

So Coahoma was asked to respond to a grass fire on the Woody Robinson place south of Coahoma, the sheriff's office noted.

About 20 minutes after the fire was reported to the sheriff's office, the blaze was under control, the sheriff's office reported.

Consumer protection week

Postmaster Hardesty to attend conference

Big Spring Postmaster Frank Hardesty leaves from the Midland Air Terminal Saturday to attend the Feb. 21-25 Mid-Winter Officers Conference of the National Association of Postmasters.

Hardesty, currently the executive vice-president of the Texas NAPUS, will join three other Texans at the Washington, D. C. meeting.

Also attending from Texas will be John Rose, NAPUS president; Billy Wall, secretary-treasurer; and Bill Kennedy, editor.

Coincidentally, the week of Feb. 23-28 has been designated by Postmaster Benjamin F. Bailar as Postal Consumer Protection Week to emphasize the importance of consumer protection and inform the public of its availability to users of the mail.

"The Postal Service provides safeguards in the transportation of mail, against mail frauds and false representation, and provides assistance with mail-order and service problems," Bailar said.

"Our consumer protection program works through the Inspection Service, Consumer Protection Office of the Law Department, the judicial Office and the Consumer Advocate."

Working together these four departments resolve complaints of alleged mail-swindles when postal customers fail to receive merchandise ordered, refunds promised or find that the service or product purchased is not as advertised.

When a complaint is made, the Postal Service decides whether to investigate for possible commercial deception or to handle it informally as in cases where poor business practices are found to be the problem.

Whatever the action, the customer is notified. In cases where it is believed that false representation by mail exists, the Customer Protection Office working with information obtained from postal inspectors initiates administrative proceedings to stop the mail in response to the alleged false representation.

If it is found following administrative proceedings that the mails are being used to obtain money by misrepresentation, the Judicial Officer issues a mail-stop order which results in the return of all subsequent mail to the senders, unless it is clear that the correspondence has nothing to do with the scheme.

Where violation of the Mail Fraud Statute is indicated, postal inspectors refer the case to the appropriate U. S. Attorney for consideration of criminal prosecution.

The Consumer Advocate provides the consumer with a strong voice in postal management in cases of delayed or lost mail, non-receipt of mail order purchases or refunds, extension of rural routes, delivery schedules, and employee conduct.

"If you have any problems with the mails, come in and talk with me, or a postal inspector. We want to help," Postmaster Hardesty added.

Third strike but not 'out'

During the third time this year, members of the Albert Beanda family at 3700 Parkway Rd. reported a theft to city police.

The first time, their daughter's flute was stolen at Goliad Junior High. The second time, somebody entered their home and took two piggy banks that held close to $500.

Thursday, somebody entered their home and stole three wrist watches, a diamond ring, $30 in cash and three pass books of a savings institution. Entry was gained by breaking a window on the north side of the home.

Deaths

Catherine Meek

Catherine Faye Brunson Meek, 53, died 4:45 p.m. Thursday in a local hospital following a four-year illness.

Services will be held 11 a.m. Saturday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Loyd K. Morris, pastor of the West Highway 80 Church of Christ, officiating. Burial will be in Bronte Cemetery, Bronte, 4 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Meek was born Dec. 29, 1922 in Gordon. She was an assistant housekeeper at Malone and Hogan Hospital. She had lived here since 1954 and was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include a daughter, and son-in-law, Shirley and Randy Jowers, Big Spring; a son, and daughter-in-law, Millard and Glenda Meek, Nogales, Ariz.; three brothers, Woodrow Brunson, San Angelo, D. L. Brunson, McCamey, Neely Brunson, Abilene; four sisters, Mrs. Eva Lowe, Mrs. Ione Richardson, both of Abilene, Mrs. Charivelle Longguth, Mrs. Corine Henderson, both of Yuma, Ariz., and five grandchildren.

Howard Awtry

Services for Howard F. Awtry, 58, who died Wednesday night in an Odessa hospital, will be held 2 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. The Rev. Ray Cunningham, minister of the Vincent Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Webb AFB observing Black History Month

Webb AFB is observing National Black History Month with special activities concentrated during the last week of February. The national observance was initiated in 1926 to recognize contributions made by Black Americans in the development of the United States.

Usually observed for a week, the recognition was expanded to a month for the Bicentennial year.

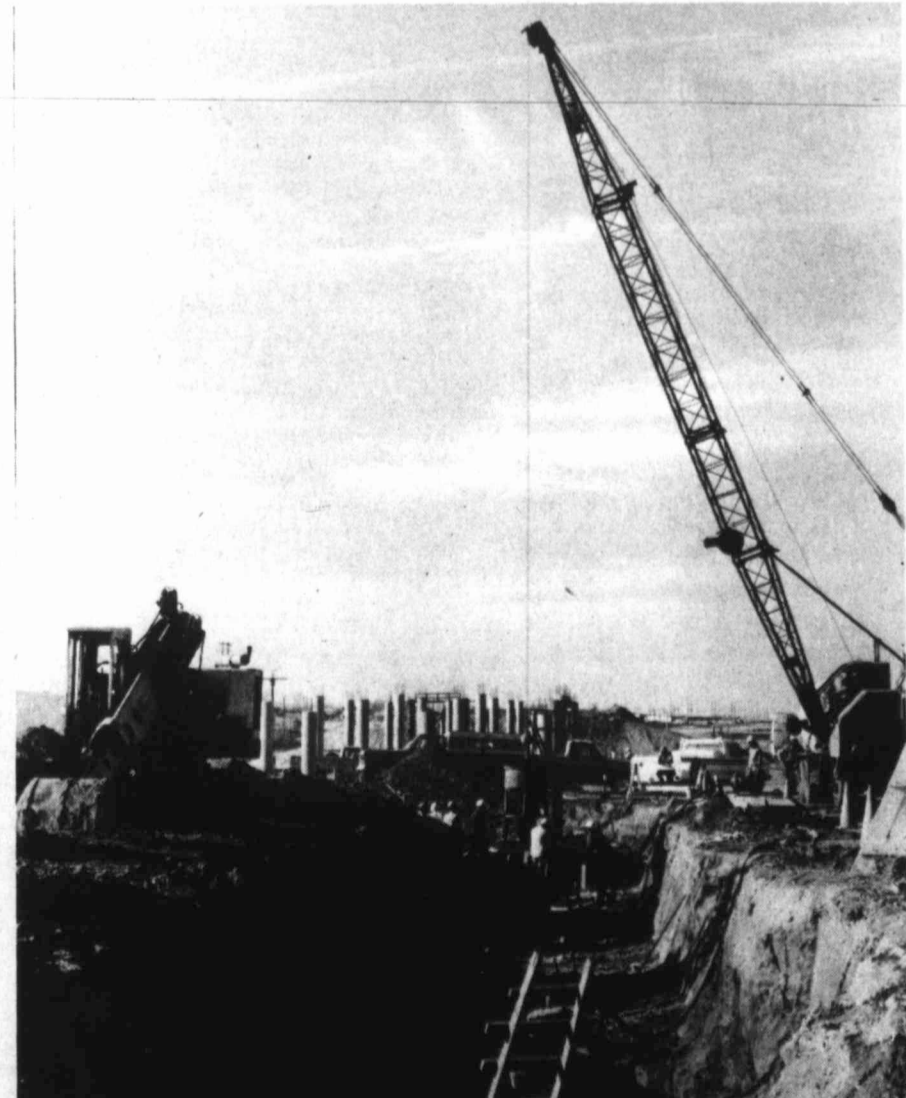

Webb's Minorities in Motion (MIM) is sponsoring a special program Sunday night in the John H. Lees Recreation Center.

Slated to begin at 7:30 p.m., the program will feature gospel music and a "rap session" with James Griffin, Big Spring High School history teacher and basketball coach. Also scheduled to speak is SSgt. B. L. Lindsey of Social Actions. Thursday night, a soul food buffet is set for 8 in the recreation center.

A disco dance, complete with quadrophonic sound and special visual effects, is planned next Friday night from 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. in the recreation center. The dance will feature contemporary soul music.

According to Charles Mays, MIM spokesman, other activities will occur; but plans have yet to be finalized.

APPROACH FROM THE SOUTH — The final dirt work for the foundation of pillars for the overpass from south of the T&P tracks is shown above. The pillars are already in place on the north side of the railway complex. Work will soon begin on the overpass which has been a dream of city officials in Big Spring for over 10 years. The overpass joins Texas 350 to Owens Street.

Liberty Tree ceremonies held at Howard College

A Liberty Tree, provided by the Texas Forestry Service and the Texas Forestry Association, was planted in special ceremonies this morning south of the gymnasium at Howard College.

A Tejas variety of the pecan tree, it is a symbol of the Indian word "friendly" for which the state was named. The planting of the trees across the state is a statewide Bicentennial project of the forestry service.

One tree is being planted in each county at an appropriate public place. The Garden Club Council chose the campus of Howard College since the college belongs to all of the people of the county.

At ceremonies this morning, opening remarks and introductions were given by Mrs. J. C. Pickle, president of the Big Spring Garden Club Council. David King, Howard College, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Polly Mays, mayor pro-tem of the city of Big Spring, presented the tree on behalf of the garden clubs, city and county to Howard College.

Mrs. Mays pointed out that "it was under trees that the early patriots met to discuss events that were to affect their lives and ultimately give birth to the United States of America."

Dr. Charles Hays, president of Howard College, gave the acceptance speech. The college is planning a landscaping project in the future and the tree was planted in a location where it will be included in the plans. K. H. McGibbon represented the college board and Judge Bill Tune represented the city.

Ex-state Rep. Dee Jon Davis suffers massive heart attack

Word has been received here that Dee Jon Davis, former state representative from Big Spring, suffered a massive heart attack Monday and is now in the intensive care unit at the Park Plaza Hospital at 1313 Hermann Drive, Houston. Zip code is 77004.

Davis has been practicing law in Houston the past couple of years. He planned several years ago to take up the study of medicine but decided later to return to the legal profession.

Davis served in the 62nd Legislature, during which time he was involved in work during one regular and four special sessions.

Iron bars rap hints trouble

A 33-year-old local man serving probation for theft from the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. was arrested after midnight Thursday for allegedly stealing from the firm again.

Manuel Ochotorena Sosa Jr., 901 W. 4th St., is in county jail awaiting a hearing over the motion to revoke his probation.

Sosa pleaded guilty in 118th District Court to theft of stereo equipment from a semi-trailer parked on railroad property in February 1973. District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III accuses Sosa of taking 604 pounds of iron angle bars from the railway Dec. 17, 1975.

These bars are used to connect railroad ties, the motion explains.

West Texas Press meet under way in Lubbock

LUBBOCK — The 27th annual mid-winter meeting of the West Texas Press Association got under way here today, with registration expected to top 150.

The meeting is headquartered at the Hilton Inn. A golf tournament was scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Registration formally starts an hour later.

Leon Jaworski, special prosecutor in the famed Watergate investigations, was due to address the group at 7 o'clock this evening.

Warren elected speaker at YMCA conference

J. Wray Warren, 2903 Navajo, son of Dr. and Mrs. Loran Warren, was elected Speaker of the House at the Texas YMCA Youth in Government Conference, Thursday night.

At the conference in Austin, Warren ran for the office along with seven other representatives from districts across Texas. He was elected by a majority of the 900 delegates in attendance, and will preside over the House of Representatives for the rest of the conference.

The delegates, including 40 from Big Spring, will enact legislation to be presented to the youth government through Sunday.

The conference takes place entirely in the Texas State Capitol Building. Youths attending are members of Hi-Y or Tri-Hi-Y clubs of community YMCAs across the state.

Auto burglary counts hit two

Will help clean up

People of Webb AFB will assist when the City of Big Spring kicks off its Spring Clean Up Saturday, Feb. 28.

The joint project will begin by concentrating on two areas adjacent to the base.

One area is from Marcy School west to the south gate, the other from Airport School south to the main gate.

The areas will be cleaned of all trash, weeds and unsightly matter. Local Boy and Girl Scouts will be on hand to assist city and base people. Volunteers are encouraged to take part.

QUANTITY OF QUARRELLING QUADS — HOW QUAIN! — Whose quads is the question. And quite a query it was as Nanny Goat tried to sort her four newborn kids from the four puppies born a week earlier. The menagerie came into the world at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seay, Moss Creek Road. One of the kids, born at 4 p.m. Tuesday, had a rough time of it and required mouth to mouth resuscitation by Mr. Seay. Revived, the Seays fed her milk through an eye dropper until two o'clock in the morning. With the quandary quelled, the quick-thinking Seays called it quits and went to bed (probably under a quilt).

Poets write epitaphs

Tombstone humor displayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pity poor Sally Lord. She had the misfortune to have her early American tombstone carved by a would-be poet. The stone, located in Skaneateles, N.Y., reads as follows:

"Underneath this pile of stones,

"Her name was Lord, it was not Jones.
"But Jones was used to rhyme with stones."

It's one of the whimsical epitaphs in a display of "American Gravestone Art, 1647-1903," now on exhibit at the State Office Tower. The display, sponsored by the Ohio Foundation for the Arts, was collected by Francis Duval and Ivan Rigby of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Most of the photographic exhibit is devoted to the extinct art of gravestone carving, illustrating the elaborate symbolism and detail of an art which had died by the 20th Century.

But a small portion noted the whimsy which sometimes accompanies death. There was, for example, this tombstone from Kittery, Maine:

"We can but mourn his loss,
"Though wretched was his life.

"Death took him from the cross
"Erected by his wife."

There was also a stoic acceptance in this Vermont epitaph:

"Beneath this stone our baby lays.
"He neither cries or hollers.

"He lived but one and twenty days
"And cost us forty dollars."

Social comment appeared in this New Haven, Conn., stone:

"God works a wonder
"Now and then.
"He, though a lawyer,
"Was an honest man."

A philosophical question appeared in another Connecticut gravestone:

"Since I so very soon
"Was done for
"I wonder why
"I was begun for."

And someone in Calais, Vt., decided to have the last word with the following gravestone addendum:

"P.S. The old nuisance."

USDA presents its case

Baby beef action fought

DALLAS (AP) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture was to present its case today in federal court where representatives of the baby beef industry are asking for an injunction against federal regulations affecting their product.

Industry representatives Thursday asked U.S. District Court Judge Patrick Higginbotham for a temporary injunction to stop regulations downgrading the classification of baby beef from going into effect next Monday. The federal regulations, industry representatives claim, would downgrade most of the baby beef now sold in stores from "good" to "standard."

Dr. Edward Uvacek, a professor at Texas A&M University said that the new grading will cause heavy losses to Texas' baby beef industry and higher prices for consumers because stores would refuse to buy the downgraded baby beef.

Baby beef is purchased at 250 pounds by a feed lot and fed mostly grain. When it reaches 650 to 750 pounds it is slaughtered.

Heavy beef is fattened on grass and then grain until it weighs 1,000 pounds or more.

Fred Pauley, head of a baby beef packers group, said that a "good" heavy beef is "fallout," a large animal that is not quite good enough for the "choice category." He said that a "good" baby beef is much better than a "good" heavy beef.

If you grow sorghum on sandy soils, it's time you tried Igran.

Because Igran® is the sorghum herbicide that really fits the sandy soil conditions in the South High Plains and South Rolling Plains.

And because it fits, Igran is easier to use. There's no guesswork or experimenting with rates. Just follow the label directions.

Then watch your sorghum come through clean and healthy. Because Igran controls those tough broadleaf weeds like carelessweed and annual morningglory. Controls them early, before they have a chance to rob your crop of vital soil moisture and nutrients.

Igran. Once you try it, you'll keep on using it. Because now you've got a sorghum herbicide that really fits your sandy soil conditions.

ABWA group selects Read as 1976 Boss of the Year

Bill E. Read, president of the Coahoma State Bank, was named the 1976 Boss of the Year by Cactus chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

The Rev. Billy Hendrix, 1975 Boss of the Year, presented the award during the Tuesday evening banquet. The 15th annual Boss Night banquet was held at the Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Frances Swann nominated her employer for the award.

Serving on the panel of judges for the Boss of the Year were Ms. Julie Simmons, Big Spring Herald; Ms. Janice Janice Rosson, counselor, Big Spring High School; and Ms. Sue Smythe, English teacher at Goliad Junior High School.

Read is a graduate of Gail Business College, Abilene. He has completed special courses in finance and banking at Southern Methodist University in Dallas and at the University of Texas at Austin.

Read began his banking career in 1946. He became president of the Coahoma State Bank when it was organized in 1961.

Read is president of the Heritage Museum, director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and director of the United Fund. He has served as president of Coahoma Lions Club and on the Coahoma City Council. He is a member of the Coahoma Church of Christ.

Bill Read was honored as outstanding citizen by the Future Farmers of America of Coahoma.

Mrs. Swann said, "He has a profound interest in his entire banking staff, encouraging them to further their education in order to keep abreast of the modern times."

Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder, was the guest speaker for the banquet. He entertained the group with humorous anecdotes of everyday life.

Mrs. Mildred Mitchell introduced the guests. Mrs. Gloria McComb gave the invocation and pledge of allegiance.

The vocational speaker was Mrs. Helen McDonald. She owns and operates a rental business.

Mrs. McDonald was recognized as Woman of the Year.

Mrs. Lucille Brown introduced past presidents.

"At the End of the Rainbow" was the theme of the banquet. Mrs. Bea Bonner and Mrs. Bill Conger presided at the refreshment table during the hospitality hour. Ms. Velma Graham registered guests.

Flapper wins Does' costume contest

A costume contest highlighted the Tuesday evening meeting of the Benevolent and Patriotic Order of Does.

Members attended the meeting in the Elks Lodge dressed in costumes representing several eras of American history.

Mrs. Maxine Anderson took the first-place prize dressed as a flapper of the Roaring 20s. She received two bicentennial silver dollars.

Mrs. Kay Williams was dressed as a pioneer woman of 1875. She received the second-place award of one bicentennial silver dollar and a bicentennial half dollar.

Mrs. Alma George placed third dressed as a pioneer woman of the 49ers. She received a bicentennial silver dollar.

During a social hour charter members were honored for their 25 years as Does.

Members with February birthdays were feted.

The next business meeting will be at 8 p.m., March 2 in the Elks Lodge.

Dear Abby

Wife's insults douse husband's fire of passion

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for over 30 years and have reached an age where we need separate bedrooms to get a good night's sleep.

When a little fire of passion burns within me, I go to the wife's room and tactfully suggest that a little physical togetherness would be pleasant for both of us.

Does she say she has a "headache"? No. She merely starts a monologue with something like, "If you hadn't bought that stupid old stock, we could have gone on a vacation this year." (I think you get the idea, Abby.)

Naturally, this line of chatter turns me off like a $1.98 alarm clock, and I go back to my room, feeling rejected and saying to myself, "I'm going to leave that woman." But I never do, and then I get to thinking maybe next time she'll forget these things and put out the fire in the proper manner.

Too rarely she does. Mine is a sad case for which I'm afraid there is no solution.

NEEDS LOVE

DEAR NEEDS: You're right. Yours IS a sad case for which there is no solution. But I'll print it anyway because misery loves company, and it may comfort the miserable to know they are not alone.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are getting a divorce. We have a 2-month-old baby. When our baby was 3 weeks old, I caught my husband with another woman.

To teach him a lesson I filed for a divorce, thinking it would make him regret what he had done and he would beg me to take him back. Well, it didn't work, so now I am getting a divorce from a husband I am still in love with and don't want to lose.

Maybe if you print this it will make people think twice before they file for a divorce they don't want. Sign me...
FOOLISH IN FLORIDA

DEAR FOOLISH: You are even more foolish if you don't get in touch with your husband immediately and tell him exactly how you feel. It may not be too late to pick up the pieces. It's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: I am a wife and homemaker who enjoys entertaining, and I am told I do it well. We recently entertained another couple in our home for dinner, and I prepared a delicious gourmet meal. (The man works with my husband.)

Before they left, the wife said, "I don't knock myself out cooking for company anymore, but I'd be glad to drive you uptown for lunch some day."

Abby, is that kind of invitation proper reciprocation for a dinner such as mine? My husband and I are interested in these people as a couple. It was not my intention to socialize at lunch with this lady alone.

How should this be handled tactfully if she invites me to lunch "uptown sometime"?

IN A BIND

DEAR IN: There's no way to tell her tactfully that you have no interest in seeing her without her husband. However, since that's the case, consistently and politely decline her luncheon offer and hope she catches on. (But don't hold your breath.)

Pole, Ripley pole

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwight Stones vs. Tom Woods ... the world's top-ranked high jumper against the runner-up.

Wladyslaw Kozakiewicz vs. Dan Ripley ... the indoor amateur pole vault record holder against the former record holder.

Guy Druy vs. Tom Hill and Willie Davenport ... the world's No. 1-ranked hurdler and 1972 Olympic silver medalist against the 1972 Olympic bronze medalist and the 1968 Olympic champion.

Those figure to be the top matchups tonight in the U.S. Olympic Invitational Track Meet at Madison Square Garden.

Stones and Woods, former teammates and friends when they competed for the Pacific Coast Club, now are bitter enemies and have been staging, long, torrid high jump duels this season. Stones, holder of the world outdoor record of 7 feet, 6 1/2 inches and the indoor mark of 7-5 3/4, now is back in school at Long Beach State University. Woods attends Oregon State University, but still represents the PCC.

They have met each other on six occasions this year, each winning three times. Last year, Stones had an 11-7 advantage. Woods has the best jump of the season, 7-4 1/4. Stones, the bronze medalist at the 1972 Games in Munich, is the meet's defending champion, setting the indoor mark of 7-5 3/4 last year, and the meet winner in 1973. He has cleared 7-5 more times than all jumpers combined.

Kozakiewicz, a 22-year-old physical education student in Warsaw, Poland, established the indoor amateur pole vault of 18-3 1/2 last Friday night at Toronto, bettering the mark of 18-3 set recently by his countryman, Tadeusz Susarski.

Ripley twice broke his own indoor mark of 18-1 earlier this season, clearing 18-1 1/4 at College Park, Md. and 18-2 1/4 at Los Angeles, before the Poles surpassed him.

Kozakiewicz was ranked the world's top amateur pole vaulter last year and another Pole, Wojciech BuciarSKI, was second.

Abilene aide heads Carroll

ABILENE — Bill Branum has resigned as offensive backfield coach of the Abilene High School football team to become head coach at Carroll, a Class A school located near the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

Earlier, Abilene aide Tommy Shields had resigned to become the top assistant of a new high school in Garland.

Branum played his high school football at Brownwood and attended North Texas State University. He coached at Lewisville and Burk Burnett before moving to Abilene.

Won't ruin game, inks $200,000 pact

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench, the latest $200,000 player in the major leagues, says it's time to stand up and be counted on baseball's reserve clause.

"Baseball is at a crossroads and I think it's up to the players to decide whether to keep it going," said the Cincinnati Reds' All-Star catcher Thursday after announcing he had decided not to play out his option.

"I don't want it to be said that I ruined the game for others," said the two-time Most Valuable Player of the National League. He views abolition of the reserve clause as "something that could destroy the price structure" of sports and endanger their existence.

Bench has signed a $200,000 one-year contract — only the third baseball player in history to reach that level.

The distinction may not stop there. Bench may be one of three $200,000-a-year players on the same team — if teammates Pete Rose and Joe Morgan get their way at the bargaining table.

Bench, one of baseball's most-feared sluggers, said he did some "soul-searching" before deciding not to play out his option. Baseball is currently in limbo over the legality of the reserve clause, which binds a player to the team he signs with.

His remarks came as a number of the Reds' players were scheduled to meet today in Cincinnati with Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association. Bench said he would not be attending since he was en route to New York to celebrate his first wedding anniversary with his wife, Vicki, a model.

Bench said he chose not to leave Cincinnati "because I'm happy here." He admits that modification of the reserve clause might be the answer for players who are disgruntled with a certain team or city.

Bench joins Dick Allen and Henry Aaron as baseball's highest-paid players.

The 28-year-old eight-time All-Star produced his best batting average in five seasons last year, hitting .283 despite nagging shoulder problems. He finished second in the National League in runs batted in with 110, 11 behind Philadelphia's Greg Luzinski.

JOHNSON SCORES — Howard's Marvin Johnson fights off Frank Phillips' Henry Crawford (35) and Herman Kirven (51) Thursday night to put in a layup during the early moments of the Hawks' 116-115 double overtime victory.

Campbell-LA Open Uncle Sam fires 67

LOS ANGELES (AP) — His straw hat covers the bald pate and his wide West Virginia smile shows satisfaction as the 63-year-old Sam Snead continues to show the youngsters that the oldsters have something left.

"It's great, no, in fact, it's fantastic that a man Sam's age can play as well as he does," declared British Open champion Tom Watson, 26, who like Snead fired a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's opening round of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open.

Both Snead and Watson were one stroke behind the leader, Tom Jenkins, 28, of Houston, but the old man still commanded the attention.

Except for a double bogey on the fifth hole when he hit a tree with his tee shot and banged a limb with his second.

"Other than that I played pretty well from tee to green," said Snead whose 34-year-old nephew, J.C. Snead, won the $180,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open just last Sunday.

J.C. had said he thought Sam might win another big tournament but personally kind of doubted it.

"I think that's about right," the slammer of yesteryear admitted. "I've been weighing between 190 and 195 the past 10 years. If I could get in better physical shape, I'd have a good chance."

But his club duties interfere with any further all-out tournament play. As an ex-champion, Snead came to Los Angeles for the Golden Anniversary celebration of the Los Angeles Open on Tuesday. He played par golf, better than the others of his era.

Jenkins, the leader, won the Philadelphia Classic last year for his only PGA victory since joining the tour in 1972.

The Texan carded five birdies without going over par on a hole. His putts for birdies ranged from two to 15 feet but generally it was his iron game that put him in subpar position.

Jenkins remains a long shot at longer odds than Snead. The Texan's best 1976 finish was a tie for 43rd in the Tucson Open.

Ben Crenshaw and Johnny Miller, the two golfers who have won two tournaments this year, remained in contention position. Crenshaw with a 70 and Miller with a 72, the same score posted by Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Steers finale tonight vs. San Angelo 8:00

San Angelo Central, with 5-4A leading scorer Arnold McDowell, help the Big Spring Steers ring down the curtain to this season's basketball schedule tonight 8:00.

The Bobcats, undefeated at home, brings a 19-10 record into the fray. They are 4-2 in district play for the second half and still have a slim chance to tie for first. Central has to beat the Steers and Cooper (5-1) has to lose to Abilene, the first half champs, while Midland upsets Lee (5-1) for the Bobcats to make it.

Big Spring 14-17 and 2-4 will go at Central with the most balanced scoring attack in the league. Rob Aldridge, James Zapp, Jim Ray and Bubba Strippling give the Steers four players in the district's top 20 scorers. They are the only team with that distinction.

More than half of Central's 59.7 points per game are produced by the McDowell-Speer duo. Top man McDowell is averaging 25.3 ppg, while his teammate Steve Speer, ninth in district, hits 14.2 ppg.

Abilene Cooper 60, Midland High 57, Tonight's Games at Permian, Lee at Midland, San Angelo at Big Spring.

Heavyweight bout live via Puerto Rico 8 CST

SAN JUAN (AP) — The heavyweight championship comes to Puerto Rico for the first time tonight, pitting Muhammad Ali, a man who has made millions of dollars from the title, against Jean-Pierre Coopman, whose purse will top his previous total earnings.

Ali is an overwhelming favorite to beat the unranked Belgian despite a bothersome cold and less than top condition.

The scheduled 15-rounder is set for the 12,000-seat Roberto Clemente Coliseum and will be televised live to the United States by CBS from 9 to 11 p.m. EST. The fight is scheduled to start at 9:45 p.m.

Ali, who is getting $1.1 million for his 17th appearance in a championship fight, worked out Thursday, then went to the Coliseum where he weighed in at 226 pounds, he weighed 1 1/2 pounds more than he scaled for his classic victory over Joe Frazier last Oct. 1.

Coopman, a sculptor of religious statues, weighed 206 for his big chance. He will get about $100,000 for tonight's fight. His previous biggest purse was $12,400.

The weigh-in lacked any of the flair that has marked previous Ali weigh-ins where the champion often gestured and screamed at such opponents as Frazier, George Foreman and Sonny Liston.

It does Ali little good to shout at Coopman because the 29-year-old Belgian speaks only Flemish and doesn't understand a word Ali says.

Coopman goes into the title bout with a record of 24-3-0 with 16 knockouts.

HC wins 116-115 in 2-OT

Hawks squeeze by FP

The Howard Hawks and Frank Phillips Plainsmen exploded for 38 minutes Thursday night then held their breath and walked on eggshells for the final two minutes of regulation play and two overtimes until Howard cracked the last shell for a 116-115 victory.

The two teams went into the fray tied for fourth in the Western Conference, which allows only four teams to make the playoffs. The tenseness of the situation didn't seem to affect either squad until the last part of the game.

With 2:10 showing on the clock in the second half Phillip's Gerald Booker hit a free throw to give the Plainsmen a 94-93 lead. Howard's Jimmy Paye answered with a bucket, 95-94 HC.

No one scored for the next minute, bad passes and turnovers abounded. Finally Larry Erves broke the ice for the Hawks hitting two free throws, HC 97-94, with 35 seconds left.

Howard's Ray Martin fouled out with 28 seconds to go and Booker hit both FT's, 97-96. The Hawk's Marvin Johnson high man for the night, with 36 points, was fouled with 18 seconds left. He missed. It was his fifth FT miss in succession.

Both teams scrambled for the ball under Howard's bucket the final moments of regulation time until Phillip's Herman Kirven was fouled with three seconds showing on the clock. If he makes one it's a tie, two it's a win for Frank Phillips. He made one.

Reggie Leffall snapped a quick basket through in the first few seconds of the first overtime 99-97. The Plainsmen tied it again shortly when Charles Smith made both ends of a one-and-one.

Erves put Howard back in front 101-99. Once again there were numerous turnovers by both teams until with 2:19 left of the five minute overtime Phillips got his first basket of the period to tie the game once more.

Johnson worked his way through three Plainsmen to put through a short jumper to put Howard ahead by three. With :53 remaining a Plainsman was called for traveling.

Booker then fouled out. Howard's Kirby Grant, who went in to replace Martin, missed the free throw. Crawford hit to tie the game 103-103, and Phillips got the ball back.

The Plainsmen stalled for the final minute. It appeared they stalled too long, because their final shot was thrown up by Smith from a poor position about twenty feet away. It bounced off the rim. Score 103-103.

Erves, Howard's second leading scorer with 30 points, fouled out nine seconds into the second overtime. But, becoming a common occurrence for both teams, Phillips missed the FT.

Lowell Walker put Howard in front 105-103. Smith hit on a three-point play to get the lead for Phillips 106-105.

Both teams began hitting like they had earlier. Usually Johnson and Leffall for Howard and Holland and Ronald Tatum, who replaced Johnson Booker, for Phillips. With 1:30 remaining Leffall put Howard ahead by three 114-111, but Tatum hit from the side to cut the lead back to one.

Going into the final half minute Leffall fought under Phillips basket. He put up a shot. Missed. Got the rebound and tried a layup. Missed. Then he reached up got the rebound again. Then he put through what turned out to be the winning points of the game.

Crawford sank one to pull Phillips within one, 116-115, but the Plainsmen couldn't steal the ball and the game finally came to an end.

With the Howard fans and players going crazy around him Frank Phillips coach Audie Apple kept motioning toward Paye and shouting, "He fouled out, he fouled out."

All the scorers' books showed Paye, who was in the game at the end, with just four fouls. All, except Phillips book, that is.

During the game Marvin Johnson passed Taylor Williams to become the second leading scorer on the Hawks all-time list. He also broke Archie Myers first season mark of 920-points for one season with 938. Johnson doesn't have a chance to match Myers second year output of 1279.

Howard coach Harold Wilder reported that Larry Kelly practiced on Wednesday, but quit the squad before Thursday night's game.

Webb volleyballers host Reese, Laughlin

The Duster volleyball team, missing three starters, split a pair of matches with the Cannon Roadrunners Saturday and hope to improve on their 1-1 mark tomorrow when they host the Reese Rattlers and the Laughlin Raiders for round robin play.

Set to get under way at 9 a.m. in the base gym, the day long action will also see the Webb Spikettes facing women's teams from the same bases.

In the season opener for both teams, the Cannon spikers rallied from a 14-8 deficit in the deciding game of the first match to win, 15-11, 12-15 and 16-14.

The Dusters fought back, after dropping the first game of the second match, to pick up their first victory, 10-15, 15-8 and 15-10.

"We were just getting the feel of competition," says player-coach Bill McGee. "We should be at full strength this week and get a better idea how we shape up. We were missing half the starters last week because of injury and duty commitments. I think we'll round into a pretty good squad."

The Dusters held their own against a strong Cannon team that included a former All-Air Force volleyballer and an All-Pacific Air Force spiker. The booming spikes and all around play of Aria Tabar-Framar and McGee paced the Webb effort. Bec Cannistraci, a former Air Force Academy volleyballer, and Bastani-Gholam Hassan added put away points.

Insurance exec talks 'survival'

R. L. McMillon, past president of both the National Association of Life Underwriters and its training council, spoke to the local association of life underwriters at noon Thursday.

McMillon, who is a well-known insurance exec from Lubbock and who has won almost every possible honor offered in his profession in Texas, talked "survival" to the local group.

He spoke about how much federal regulations, and other regulatory bodies have changed the possibilities in the insurance line.

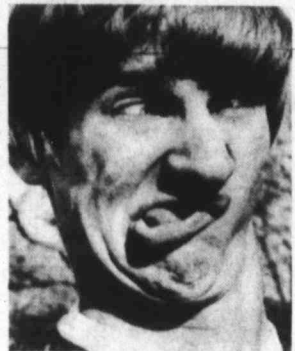

He also discussed the rising inflation which has no built-in raise for insurance agents. He told the group that they must combine training, skill and energy with their available market to stay even in today's world.

He suggested that each one discuss agent's compensation whenever they meet top insurance officials and remain ever alert for new possibilities within the field of life insurance sales.

He also discussed motivation and energy supply of the individual agents. He warned that federal health insurance is probably on its way and discussed the best program for retired persons today.

John Bennett, local president, presided over a short business session and introduced the speaker. Bennett also told the group of 14 that the board is discussing nominating a member for a district office in the state association.

Did poachers kill Bambi?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two hunting arrows and the partial remains of a deer have been found at the Columbus Zoo, leading officials to conclude that poachers were responsible for the disappearance of a zoo deer named Bambi.

Zoo director Benjamin Blackson said the 3-year-old doe was missing when staff members went to feed her Tuesday. She apparently had been killed and dressed the night before.

"She had become kind of a pet to everybody here.... It's just a darn shame that anybody would do something like that."

Geologist recognized

Retired Army Col. J. Howard Samuel, Box 1163, has been recognized for his 50th year as a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

Col. Samuel's name will be published in a list, the association president wrote.

Gem, mineral show booked

Advance plans are already under way for the seventh annual Gem and Mineral Show.

The event will be held March 6 and 7 at the Dora Roberts Exhibition Building at the Howard County Fair Grounds. Sponsors are members of the Big Spring Prospectors Club.

An exhibition of the beauties of nature in gems and minerals by collectors and dealers will be presented. There will also be working demonstrations, exhibits and sales.

Price is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students between 6 and 12 years of age.

DALLAS (AP) — A temporary court order has stopped the Dallas County Hospital District and county commissioners from dismissing the district's auditor.

Auditor Wayne Roberts, fired Saturday by the hospital district, obtained a temporary restraining order Monday.

His suit claims he was denied due process of law in his firing. Roberts also wants any accusations against him made public.

Judge Leonard Hoffman set a hearing for Friday on the temporary injunction.

The suit names as defendants the Dallas County Commissioners Court and the hospital district's board of managers. The commissioners court oversees the hospital district.

The hospital board had locked Roberts out of his office for several days last week, saying he could no longer serve efficiently.

Roberts said he had uncovered what could amount to irregularities in the hospital district's financial records.

Money taken from suspects

Police admit dividing cash

HOUSTON (AP) — Two former Houston narcotics officers have told a federal court jury how they and other policemen in 1972 divided thousands of dollars they had taken from narcotics suspects.

Michael E. Chavez, 49, a retired narcotics officer who has been relocated by the federal government and given a new identity after testifying to a federal grand jury, named each of six Houston officers on trial here as participating in the split.

The six are being tried on charges of illegal wiretapping, theft of money from suspects and tax evasion.

Chavez testified Thursday the officers met in a grocery store parking lot the night of the arrests of three drug suspects and each got as much as $1,000 from money taken in the arrests.

Chavez said he and Carlos Avila, another witness who worked as his partner, each received $1,450. He said Douglas W. Albert, Gilbert Gonzalez and Jesse Smith received $1,000 and Bennard D. Jackson, Richard Y. Garcia and John J. Davis each got $800.

Chavez said James E. Fowler, a communications officer not charged, was given $400 for his help with wiretap devices.

Avila, who spent most of the day testifying, described how he and other officers used illegal wiretaps to monitor the narcotics suspects in July 1972.

Avila said he and other officers spent three weeks monitoring wiretaps placed on two residential telephones and a pay telephone to gather information about a possible marijuana transaction.

The wiretap equipment, he said, was provided by the police communications division and the monitoring took place in a police-owned van and camper.

Wiretapping is illegal in Texas except by federal court order.

EMT training courses may be held in Cee City

COLORADO CITY — An Emergency Medical Technician training school for the planning council region centered in Abilene may be held at Colorado City's Wallace Center.

Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter has been contacted by Homer K. Taylor, manager of instruction at Texas State Technical Institute in Sweetwater. The school will conduct the courses required for certifying ambulance drivers.

Tuition for the 80-hour course will be about $40, Carter said. There are other groups interested in taking the course other than ambulance drivers.

"The ambulance drivers, Colorado City Volunteer firemen and Loraine firemen, as well as a group from Robert Lee and maybe some others" are the groups of people Carter outlined as interested in taking the EMT course.

Judge Carter said that it is probably just a matter of time until all the ambulance services in Texas will have to comply with the regulation and in the meantime, the TSTU training course will certify local personnel.

Ambulance driving in Colorado City is now handled by off-duty policemen with the county and hospital district contributing funds to help with salaries.

The local ambulance service began operating in May 1974 and the new system of centralizing drivers and phone calls to the police department began the first of this year.

A board of directors is set up for the Mitchell County Ambulance Service and includes Paul Hunter, representing the county; Dr. Elton Berkman, city representative and Wayne Shawn, hospital representative.

The county-city-hospital district set-up has drawn attention from throughout the state as an ideal cooperative effort. Judge Carter has received many calls asking about the successful venture.

Mayor seeks third term

MIDLAND — Midland mayor Ernest Angelo has announced he will seek a third term in office in the April 3 elections. Angelo has resided in Midland 17 years and has served on the board of directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and the Midland United Way.

He has also been Midland County Republican chairman and currently is a member of the State Republican Executive Committee.

High school weekend to be held

ABILENE — weekend for high school students will be held at Hardin-Simmons Friday and Saturday, Feb. 27-28.

Ed Jackson, admissions and registrar, said about 300 students are expected to attend throughout the weekend. Student-Found organization will sponsor the event.

"One of the important parts of the weekend will be the opportunity for students to visit with professional fields of interest," said. "But the main part of the weekend is the planned strictly entertainment."

The visitors will arrive Friday, Feb. 27, and will be get-acquainted with activities at the Center. Saturday, the students will be sessions dealing with financial aid, student religious activities and features of Hardin.

The students will be the University musical product and "Dolls" on the afternoon in the Theater.

High school weekend to be held

ABILENE — A special weekend for high school students will be held at Hardin-Simmons University Friday and Saturday, Feb. 27-28.

Ed Jackson, director of admissions and recruitment, said about 300 prospective students are expected to attend throughout Texas and neighboring states. The Student Foundation, an organization which promotes scholarships for student and student recruiting, is helping sponsor the event.

"One of the most important parts of the program will be the opportunity for the prospective students to visit with professors in their fields of interest," Jackson said. "But there also are parts of the program planned strictly for entertainment."

The visitors will arrive Friday, Feb. 27. That evening will be devoted to get-acquainted sessions, with activities in Moody Center. Saturday morning the students will attend sessions dealing with admissions procedures, financial aid, student life, religious activities and other features of Hardin-Simmons.

The students will be guests of the University for the musical production "Guys and Dolls" on Saturday afternoon in the Van Ellis Theater.

Worst slogan displayed on licenses

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A resolution before Tennessee's legislature would place the motto, "Last in Education," on all 1977 automobile license plates in the state.

Rep. Bill Owen, a Democrat, said Wednesday that his resolution was prompted by the Tennessee Education Association's recent statement that the state ranks last in the nation in the amount of expenditures per pupil for elementary education.

Journalist Force dies

DALLAS (AP) — Kenneth Foree Jr., a respected member of the Texas newspaper fraternity for half a century, died Wednesday night after suffering a heart attack. He was 79.

Foree was best known as a colorful and zesty writer of outdoor news for the Dallas Morning News, where he retired in 1966.

His professional career spanned more than five decades, all as a newsman except for 10 years as a cotton buyer. Before joining the Dallas paper in 1920, he was editor of the Denison Gazette and later of the Sherman Morning Courier and the Sherman Afternoon Courier at the same time.

With the News he was a reporter, feature writer, night city editor and editorial columnist before becoming outdoor editor, a job in which he traveled all over the world. Since retiring he had continued to write outdoor copy frequently as a special correspondent.

He leaves his widow Leida and two sons, Earnest Foree and Dr. Kenneth Foree III.

Clean robber gets only food stamps

KERBY, Ore. (AP) — A clean but immodest armed robber got nothing but a few food stamps and some canceled checks when he held up store owner Kenneth Helliwell at his home here.

Helliwell told Josephine County sheriff's deputies he had just returned to his home after closing the Kerby Market when a naked man wearing a pillow case over his head and an electric cord around his neck stepped from his bathroom.

The man, who had just used Helliwell's shower, pointed a pistol and ordered Helliwell to give him the money bag he was carrying.

The robber looked in the bag, which contained no money, and pulled out a few food stamps and checks. Then he fled — after returning to the bathroom to dry off.

Dr. Bert Affleck picks up his copy of "Dios Llega al Hombre" and walks across McMurry College campus to Iris Graham Dining Hall just before 5 p.m. each Thursday. He meets there with eight students to study the Bible in Spanish. Affleck says it dovetails neatly with his current Underwood Fellowship study of Mexican-American and Anglo-American relations in the Southwest from the standpoint of campus ministries.

Most of the Bible study group speak English as a first language. However, among them also are Maria Muro of Juarez, Mexico, and Roy Salas of Hereford, who is president of the freshman class.

"They give us good guidance," says Affleck. "The rest of us Anglos are struggling to learn the language. We feel it is important for Christians in the Southwest to become bilingual to communicate not only with Mexican-Americans but also with Mexicans and South Americans."

Dr. Affleck has the McMurry faculty rank of professor of religion and philosophy and he teaches, but the bulk of his time he devotes to his administrative appointment as minister to the college. Dr. Affleck is the son of Mrs. Marie Affleck of Big Spring and nephew of

Mrs. Oakey Hagood. His Underwood Fellowship, which is sponsored by the Danforth Foundation, is particularly aimed at campus ministries, "as possible forces of justice and reconciliation."

Affleck has come to his current strong interest in Mexican-American relations gradually. While earning his BA from McMurry, his BD from SMU's Perkins and his PhD from Drew University, Affleck learned German, French and Greek. But his only Spanish was learned in elementary school.

But McMurry, which belongs to the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences of the United Methodist Church, has many ties with the Mexican-American culture.

March Specials schedule units

Dr. Bert Affleck, Jr., who is discussed in the article above, will be one of the speakers at the March Sunday Night Specials at First United Methodist Church.

Four courses will be presented March 7, 14 and 21 with Dr. Claus Rohlfis speaking on March 28.

Dr. Jim Jenkins and Dr. Robert C. Monk will also be speakers at the event.

Baptist Association features 'Praising'

The Big Spring Baptist Association will feature an association-wide "Praising" Monday, February 23, 7 p.m., at College Baptist Church. Congregational singing will be emphasized.

A presentation of old and new hymns, gospel songs and choruses will be led by various ministers of music, using the new Baptist Hymnal. This will be a unique experience in worship.

David Norvelle, association music director, and Minister of Music at College Baptist Church will be in charge. He invites all to attend. Of course, there will be no charge.

Evangelist speaks here

Bob Terrell of Throckmorton was an evangelist speaking in Big Spring Wednesday night at services sponsored by the Solid Rock, Christian Center.

The special services were held at the center of Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Hamby. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Franklin were in charge of arrangements.

Ackerly Baptist Church relates local history

In the year 1923, the Baptist people of the Ackerly community were meeting in the old Sparenberg school building located on what was known as the old Will Garten place, near the spot where the Bill Wallace residence now stands.

They had Sunday School each Sunday afternoon with preaching once a month by different preachers. Later, a new school building was erected on the southwest corner of the same section and it was then called the New Sparenberg School.

In August of that year, the people of New Sparenberg, Soash and Flower Grove communities met and agreed to build a tabernacle and hold a revival meeting in Ackerly on Raymond Lyons' townsite. Mr. Lyons furnished most of the material with George Ingram helping to furnish the pews. Mrs. Wilson gave the nails and Mrs. John Stewart's piano was used for the two weeks' revival.

Out of this revival the First Baptist Church of Ackerly was organized with the following 13 charter members: Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Mauldin and Truitt; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Appling; Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Etheredge; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hinson; Mrs. John Stewart; Mrs. M. M. Smith; and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Miller. Mr. Etheredge is the only one still living.

At the close of the revival, the membership numbered 38. The first two deacons were N. J. Etheredge and W. D. Appling. The new Sparenberg school house was chosen for a meeting place for church services and Sunday School. Missionary J. F. Woods preached for the church until January 6, 1924, when the first pastor, H. D. Martin, was called.

Then in February of 1924, Mr. Lyons gave the first lot and the building program was started. However, the church was not completed until early in 1925. That building was to be a 40 by 50 ft. structure.

On December 19, 1937, the church being free of debt, was dedicated to the Lord. In January of 1942, the first parsonage was bought and that same year, a small building was bought and moved on the grounds to be used as Sunday School rooms.

The fund for the second new church building was begun in January of 1948 and the building was completed in the early part of 1950.

In 1963, the new parsonage was built and in 1968 the present educational building was completed and dedicated. Dedication of the new sanctuary was held on November 26, 1972.

The names of all former pastors of this, the First Baptist Church of Ackerly, are as follows: H. D. Martin, E. E. Mason, J. L. Isabel, J. F. Woods, E. E. Mason, Ralph Grant, Willis Taylor, J. O. Heath, Rev. Cooper, J. C. Thomas, Rev. McCorkle, W. B. Waldrop, Jesse Leverett, R. R. Cumble, Roy Clayton, H. C. Goodman, Bruce Giles, O. H. Garner, J. I. Steele, W. F. Poole, H. E. Snell, J. Matt Hale, J. Roy Haynes, J. D. Mabry, W. L. Cass, M. A. McCasland, Bob Cheek, E. W. Duggins, Jim Hill, Judson Mills, Jim Ray Mosley, and Don R. Long.

PERRY COTHAM

Former minister due here

Perry B. Cotham, a former minister from August 1963-May 1972, is to be the guest speaker Sunday morning at 10 a.m. at the Church of Christ at 14th and Main.

The reason for leaving Big Spring was to enter the field of evangelism. He and his wife purchased a home and moved to Grand Prairie. He has preached in meetings in 27 states of the United States as well as in Mexico, Belgium, Holland, Wales, Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Hong Kong, Formosa, Korea, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, Hawaii, Tasmania, England, France, Africa, Rhodesia, Canada, Scotland, Jamaica, West Indies, Nova Scotia, Canal Zone, South America, Suriname, Honduras, Guatemala City since moving from Big Spring.

He is sponsored by the Skillman Avenue Church of Christ in Dallas and by individuals the world over. He is the author of many excellent tracts — some have been translated in French and Spanish. He is also the author of a book.

The public is invited to be present Sunday morning.

Day of Prayer service slated

Church Women United will celebrate World Day of Prayer at Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, 1009 Hearn, on March 5th. The service will begin at 10 a.m.

This is an exceptional service, prepared by the Christian women of Latin America on the theme "For All Of Life". They call their sisters throughout the world to join in celebration on March 5. The public is welcome.

Delegation plans to attend assembly

A delegation from First United Methodist Church will be among those attending the Northwest Texas Methodist Assembly at Camp Butman this weekend. The camp is located south of Merkel.

Bob Crowell is conference lay leader. Going along with him will be Cliff Chapman, chairman of the council of ministry; Bill Bosworth, director of Christian education; Charles Beil, chairman of the administrative board; Russell Dorsey, Bobby Hill and Ted Hatfield.

Among those conducting the assembly will be Bishop Alsie Carleton, bishop of the Northwest Texas Conference, who will bring the morning devotions. The Rev. Roger Deschner, director of Sacred Music at Perkins School of Theology at SMU will serve as song leader.

Dr. J. Chess Lovren, pastor of Boston Avenue United Methodist Church in Tulsa, will be one of the main speakers along with Judge Eldon Mahon, Judge Mahon was born in Loraine and is presently United States district judge for the northern district of Texas. He is a lay leader at Westcliff United Methodist Church in Ft. Worth.

Workshop prepared here

Dr. Ewart Watts, editor of Church School Publications and Dr. Rueben Job, associate general secretary of the Division of Evangelism, Worship, and Stewardship of the Board of Discipleship of the United Methodist Church from Nashville, Tennessee will be the special consultants for a series of Workshops in Northwest Texas entitled "How To Develop a Dynamic Sunday School". One Workshop will be held on Thursday, February 26 at 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. at First United Methodist Church in Big Spring.

Westside church slates singing

The Westside Baptist Church, 1200 W. 4th, is hosting a gospel singing at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Special guests will be the Kentwood Adult Center members, who will be in charge of leading the singing and providing special music. Rev. H. C. McPherson, pastor, stated, "Everyone who loves to hear and sing good gospel music is invited to participate in this service."

The Marsalises

Many a village began at the crossroads. Most towns grew up around the intersection of two important thoroughfares. And the vast cities which now fight the penetration of traffic with beltways, thruways, and by-passes were themselves spawned by the very highways they would now escape.

Our civilization is largely the product of men's encounter with men at the crossroads of geography, sociology, history and science.

Never lose sight of the vital Crossroads . . . Religion.

That is the encounter of men with God! It has constantly offered positive, constructive approaches to the problems that surround the other intersections in time and experience.

When you hear the church bells next Sunday, remember. It is good to live at the Crossroads where Christ touches all human relationships with His power and love.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

SATURDAY, FEB. 21, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Try to reconcile whatever differences you may have with an associate. The time is not ripe to make any changes. Study all aspects of a project you have in mind.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You could be wavering between old and modern thinking and need to plan your time better. Be kind to mate.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make sure you carry through with any promises you have made with congenials. Show increased devotion to kin.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A civic affair could keep you busy now, so schedule your time wisely. Be alert to sudden changes at this time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Attend to necessary duties early in the day so you will have more time for recreation later. Be alert.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use your creativity for making your home more comfortable. Make plans early for recreation in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know what it is that mate desires the most and then try to please. You can now do things that were once difficult.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talk matters over with a financial expert who can give you the right advice. Take time to improve your surroundings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Improve your appearance before attending the social. Come to a better understanding with the one you love.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make plans so you can improve your operations in the future. You can make headway in a romantic matter.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan social affairs early in the day. Gain the support of a friend for a new plan that is important to you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Attend to career matters that have been difficult in the past. Later engage in favorite hobby with congenials.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study new systems of operating so that you can become more successful in the future. Sidestep a troublemaker.

To prepare tax returns 'free' for Viet refugees

Federal income tax returns will be prepared free of charge for Southeast Asian refugees living in this area. The tax clinic will be in the south end of the Civilian Personnel building at Webb AFB, Bldg. 230, Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. and Monday and Tuesday from 6 to 9 p.m.

The New Citizen Sponsorship Committee of Big Spring is making arrangements. Sponsors are asked to assist refugees in completing income tax questionnaires which were sent them last week. These questionnaires will help in the speedy completion of the tax returns. Sponsors are also asked to help identify pertinent records to be brought to the tax clinic.

In most cases, these returns can be completely prepared for the taxpayer and then signed by him during the clinic. For this reason, all wage earners should come to the clinic rather than sending just one family member with several completed questionnaires. In addition, sponsors are strongly encouraged to attend.

Having entered the United States during the tax year, the refugees are subject to special tax rules which will affect the use of dependency deductions, the use of optional tax tables, and the filing of joint returns. A Form 1040NR or statement must be attached to the Form 1040. The Form 1040A cannot be used.

The returns will be prepared by Capt. Richard L. Klein and 1st Lt. Theodore S. Fulson Jr. of the Air Force Audit Agency Office at Webb. Also, questions on returns already submitted by refugee taxpayers will be answered.

Forsan MOD volunteers win praise
"March of Dimes volunteers in Forsan deserve special recognition," said Rose Teems, executive secretary for the local MOD chapter.

Mothers' March workers in Forsan collected $276 of the $2,200 collected for birth defects work in the immediate area including Big Spring, Coahoma and Sand Springs.

Leaders of Forsan's Mothers' March include chairman Ann Fairchild, Shirley Summers, Loretta Yarbrough, Faye Turner and Eunice Thixton.

Mrs. Teems noted that she will show the March of Dimes film "Exploring Inner Space" Monday at the Forsan PTA meeting.

Other Mothers' March returns in the MOD CapRock chapter were Big Spring, $1,575; Coahoma-Sand Springs, $357; Ackery, $87; Lamesa, $1,067; and Snyder, $2,163, bringing the chapter's total march receipts to about $400 more than last year's.

New Jersey cowboy labeled tough to get on ground

DENVER, Colo. — Sandy Kirby, a cowboy who was raised in New Jersey, is the man pro rodeo contestants consider "the toughest to get on the ground in the demanding events of bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding."

The 26-year-old, originally from Woodstown, N.J., competes out of Greenville, Tex., and so far this season he has clawed his way to second in North American all-around championship standings with more than $10,000 in winnings, and leads bull riding with $6,374.

Kirby started out as a child trick riding star, and switched to competition when he outgrew the act.

Kirby has yet to win a championship, but he has done what only a few others have accomplished — won the coveted "average" in both bareback and bull riding at rodeo's world series, the National Finals. This year he placed at rodeos in Denver, Amarillo and Fort Worth. Denver and Fort Worth were the two richest contests to date this season on the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association circuit. And he placed again at the El Paso rodeo, which wound up over the weekend.

Kirby took second in bareback at the contest, winning $1,192.

The leaders in each category — ALL AROUND COWBOY — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $14,633. SADDLE BRONC RIDING — J. C. Bonine, Hydam, Mont., $4,202. BAREBACK BRONC RIDING — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $3,972. BULL RIDING — Sandy Kirby, Greenville, S.C., $6,374. CALF ROPING — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $8,862. STEER WRESTLING — Bob Marshall, Chowchilla, Cal., $14,096. TEAM ROPING — Leo Camarillo, Oakland, Cal., $2,733. GRA BARREL RACING — Jimmie Gibbs, Valley Mills, Tex., $1,759.

Kirby has yet to win a championship, but he has done what only a few others have accomplished — won the coveted "average" in both bareback and bull riding at rodeo's world series, the National Finals. This year he placed at rodeos in Denver, Amarillo

'OSCAR' NOMINEE AT HOLLYWOOD AFFAIR — Ann-Margret, nominated Tuesday for an Academy Award as best actress for her role in "Tommy," arrives with her husband Roger Smith in Santa Monica Thursday night for the televised "People's Choice Awards" show. The show honored public favorites in the entertainment world.

The people's choice

John Wayne named actor of the year

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — "Jaws" snapped up the movie of the year award, while John Wayne and Katharine Hepburn were named actor and actress of the year in the "People's Choice Awards."

"After 50 years of being in showbiz, this award is a significant affirmation of the industry and my career," said Wayne, who also won the top actor award last year.

Jack Albertson hosted the second annual People's Choice awards, which were nationally televised Thursday from the Civic Auditorium in this Los Angeles suburb.

"All in the Family" won the favorite television comedy award, and "The Waltons" scored as the top television drama.

Carol Burnett and Telly Savalas were chosen favorite television performers, and John Denver was named favorite musical performer. The year's favorite song was "Love Will Keep Us Together."

Robert Blake was chosen "Favorite Performer in a New Television Series." The favorite new television show award was shared by "Welcome Back, Kotter" and "Starsky & Hutch."

Bob Hope and Tony Orlando shared honors for "All Around Male Performer," and Carol Burnett and Mary Tyler Moore were cowinners of the female performer award.

"People's Choice" organizers noted the winners were those who got the most votes in a poll conducted by a professional research company of 10,000 persons, representing a demographically correct microcosm of the American public.

Salvation Army helping needy

The Salvation Army advisory board issued its monthly report for January this week.

The board reported that garmets were issued to 150 persons, 14 families were given food, and 56 other persons were assisted in some manner.

The facility provided lodging for 276 transients, including six women and children. The transients were served 640 meals during the month.

Now thru Saturday
Save 25%
on your Next Vacation

You only have until next Saturday, February 21, to save 25% on American Tourister luggage. Until then we're reducing prices on selected pieces from our 1000 series of molded luggage for women. With many models to choose from, you can start planning a trip around the world or a weekend in the country. We've got the right size suitcase for any size vacation.

All have standard American Tourister features, including tough stainless steel frames, non-spring locks and padded handles. And because they're not irregulars or a line about to be discontinued, you'll be able to add later to what you've bought now. It's a good way to save on your vacation, before you've even started planning for it.
