IT'S POPPY TIME—State Highway Patrolman Wendell Rehm succumbed to the salesmanship of two lovely young ladies, and ended up with two Buddy Poppies Saturday morning. Making the sales are Elizabeth Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lane, and Mary Kay Hoskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hoskins. In addition to the poppy sales, the Veterans of Foreign Wars set a memorial service at 9 a.m. Sunday morning in observance of Memorial Day. The service will be held at Snyder Cemetery with R. O. Gray, V.F.W. incoming commander officiating. Bugler will be Tom Bennett. Everyone is invited to the memorial service.

Astronauts To Attempt First Space Rendezvous

By CHARLES STAFFORD

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When astronaut Edward H. White II floats away from the Gemini 4 spacecraft, he will use a spacegun to try to move within 20 feet of an orbiting, spent rocket. It will be the world's first redezvous in space.

The dramatic additions to the flight plan of the Gemini 4 — following quickly the announcement that White will leave his craft — were announced Friday by a panel of space agency officials.

"If we are successful," said Dr. George E. Mueller, acting director of the Gemini program, "we will have done something the Russians have not tried, although I am sure they have the capability."

At Pad 19 in the Cape Kennedy complex, technicians unseated the Gemini spacecraft from its perch on the nose of a nine-story-tall Titan 2 rocket, replaced a faulty battery, and remated the two.

They worked through the night, rebolting the craft to its booster and verifying that the systems were functioning properly. They said replacement of the faulty battery went smoothly, and there would be no delay in next Thursday's scheduled liftoff.

Space buddies White and James A. McDivitt, both Air Force majors, and their backup crew — Air Force Maj. Frank Borman and Navy Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell — were up early for another series of practice missions. They passed up the 7 a.m. launching of the IMP 3 interplanetary laboratory, but reported to pad 19 an hour later.

Borman and Lovell climbed into the spacecraft toh run through two make-believe liftoffs, while White and McDivitt were running some engineering tests in a capsule simulator. During the afternoon, the first team was to don space suits, enter their craft and run through an abbreviated practice mission that would take them from liftoff to splashdown, hitting the highlights of their scheduled four-day mission.

Mueller described this sequence after Gemini 4 slides onto orbital path during the actual trip:

After separation of the spacecraft from the second-stage booster, six minutes after launch, command pilot McDivitt will hold a tight formation with the spent rocket, trailing it by about 300 feet.

During first orbit, the astronauts will depressurize the cabin while pressurizing their space suits. McDivitt will maneuver the 7,600-pound spacecraft to within 25 feet of the burned-out rocket.

White will open his cabin hatch and stand. Then as the spacecraft, now in its second orbit, begins its first pass over the United States, he will float free at the end of a golden umbilical cord.

Using a Buck Rogers-like spacegun that fires jets of oxygen, White will move to within 20 feet of the slowly tumbling rocket, but no closer. "It wouldn't be too wise to approach too close to a tumbling booster," said an official. White will take pictures with a camera mounted on the spacegun. McDivitt will photograph White. After about 10 minutes, White will return to the spacecraft, and the cabin will be repressurized.

About three hours later, at the beginning of the fifth orbit, McDivitt will maneuver from about 16 miles away to within 10 feet of the booster.

Then White and McDivitt will get on with the mission's primary objectives —to test the performance of the spacecraft during a long flight, and to measure the effects of prolonged exposure to weightlessness on the two-man crew. The flight of 97 hours, 50 minutes will be the longest yet for the United States.

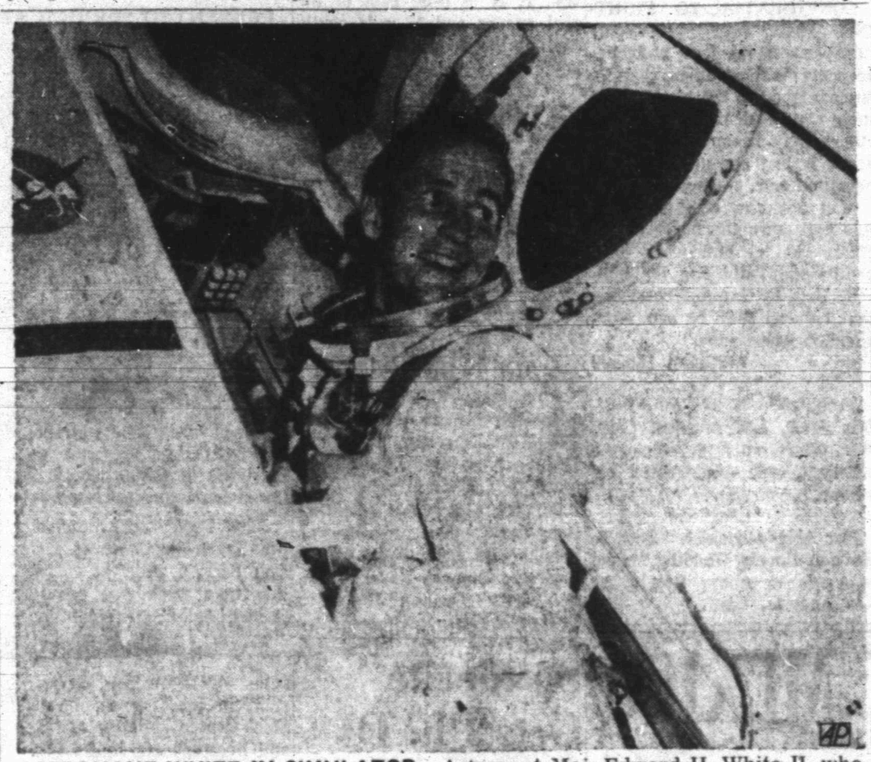

Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov was the first human to venture into space. He floated at the end of a tether without any means of propulsion last March 18.

Dr. Charles Barry, the astronauts' physician, said he was not worried about anything going wrong during White's space walk that would shorten the flight and thwart the medical objectives.

"I feel this is a safe procedure," he said. "The crew members are completely familiar with the equipment. They are well trained and perfectly ready for this mission."

Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of the Manned Space Center, said the new plans had not been motiviated by any desire to stage propaganda stunts but that each was in line with the objectives of the Gemini program.

"We know there are risks with all these flights," he said. "There is the risk of getting into orbit and of returning from orbit. But once we make orbit, we feel we should do everything we can do and are prepared to do before we come back down."

Little Hope For Miners In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A government spokesman said today there is little hope of anyone escaping alive from the shattered bhori coal mine in eastern India where an explosion killed an estimated 250 to 400 men.

Mine officials sealed some air intakes in an effort to stifle the flames that erupted after the blast had ripped through three levels of the mine before dawn Friday.

Flames and gases drove rescue teams back to the surface. With many exits covered by fire fighters, any survivors have little chance of escaping, a government spokesman said.

The official acknowledged he was "taking the low figure" in estimating that 250 men were dead. Labor union leaders put it at 400.

The blast came at shift changing time and officials could not say exactly how many men from the old shift had left the mine or how many of the relief had entered.

Teams wearing gas masks entered the mine about 12 hours after the explosion, the labor Ministry reported.

The rescuers pushed into three levels hit by the blast 150 to 200 feet below the surface but they withdrew when the flames broke out.

"Nobody who was working down there has yet escaped," the government spokesman said.

Unless the flames can be extinguished, he said, it is possible the mine will be sealed tightly.

If the government is correct in its estimate that at least 250 men are dead, the Bhori colliery explosion would be the worst mine disaster in India's history.

BRAZILIAN CHIEF, BUT

US Will Control Dominican Tactics

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The inter-American peace force in the Dominican Republic gets a Brazilian commander today but the United States has made it clear it will retain tactical control.

Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim arrives today to become chief of the 21,000 U.S. troops, 1,170 Brazilian soldiers, 21 Costa Ricans, 250 Hondurans and 159 Nicaraguans.

But Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of U.S. forces here, said Friday he expects to retain control over which troops to use and how to use them in carrying out their mission for the Organization of American States.

Palmer said in an interview he will receive instructions from Alvim or from Jose A Mora, OAS secretary-general, who will work with the inter-American Defense Board in Washington.

"If the OAS and the U.S. government get into a policy conflict, I would have to follow the guidance of my government," Palmer said. "I wear two hats."

Palmer said the peace-keeping force could eventually be reduced to 6,000 men—"assuming that both sides are serious about negotiating a peace settlement and maintaining the cease-fire now in effect."

President Johnson announced Friday he had ordered another 1,700 U.S. troops withdrawn, bringing the total recalled to 3,300. About 600 U.S. Marines left for home Thursday.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a television and radio interview Friday night that the United States would be prepared to remove its force "just as rapidly as he (Alvim) feels it is militarily prudent and safe to do so."

But, he said, "some American troops are likely to stay on in the Dominican Republic for weeks or months."

Rusk added that some Communists are still active in the rebel-held area of downtown Santo Domingo.

Johnson, in a speech at Waco, Tex., also proposed the creation of new inter-American peacekeeping machinery to protect the hemisphere from the "forces of slavery and subversion."

The suggestion quickly received support from Brazilian foreign minister Vasco Leitao Da Cunha. He told a repo ter in Washington that the President's proposal "will certainly find a warm response in those who are conscious of the perils of subversive action in our continent."

Other Latin American envoys in Washington were non committal.

The OAS began paying government employes of any political affiliation with the $6 million in U.S. funds made available Thursday.

Reports from Washington said the United States has al o sent more than $4 million worth of food to the Dominican Republic since the revolt broke out April 24, bringing the amount of U.S. aid to more than $10 million.

8 Killed In Plane Crash

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A twin-engine private plane crashed and burned today, killing its eight occupants, police reported.

The craft hit in a gully at 7:03 a.m., six minutes after taking off from Orange County Airport at nearby Costa Mesa, police said.

Lt. Ernest Laurin said the plane was registered to Richard G. Kennedy, Pasadena, Calif.

There were no survivors and no immediate indication of the victim's identities or destination, Laurin said.

Red Paper Accuses Envoys Of Spying

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet newspaper today accused two U.S. Embassy officials of espionage activities.

The weekly paper Nyedyela—Week—accused Malcolm Toon, counselor for political affairs, and Alan Logan, second secretary, of using their diplomatic status as covers for intelligence activities.

An embassy spokesman called the article "a highly scurrilous piece which is a complete fabrication."

The article accused U.S. authorities of conducting "an anti-Soviet campaign against the embassy of the U.S.S.R. in Washington and the United Nations representation of the U.S.S.R."

Red Alliance Seems Shaky

MOSCOW (AP) — The fragile Soviet-Chinese alliance on Viet Nam appeared today to have been shattered by a bitter new exchange between Moscow and Peking.

Observers here believed the dispute between the two Communist powers could have a profound long-range effect on the future of the war in Southeast Asia.

The Soviet Union implied on Thursday that the Chinese were seeking to touch off a world war over Viet Nam in hopes this would unite the Communist bloc.

The Kremlin's official policy mouthpiece, Pravda, chided the Chinese. It said that true Communists should spend their time "not in waiting for a world war to break out, but in averting a chain of events that is liable to trigger it off."

Peking snapped back Friday with an angry charge that the Russians were "abetting the U.S. imperialist plot of peace negotiations and trying to subordinate the Viet Nam question to their general line of peaceful coexistence and soviet-U.S. cooperation to extinguish the Vietnamese people's revolutionary struggle."

The Chinese attack was distributed by the official New China News Agency. Its publication the day after the Pravda article seemed clearly intended as a reply to Moscow's rebuke.

The stinging Soviet-Chinese exchange came only three months after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin announced during his visit to Asia that "imperialist provocations" in Viet Nam had brought the Soviet Union and China together in determination "to curb the aggressors."

The Russians have shown signs of irritation over Chinese inflexibility on the question of negotiations to seek a settlement of the Viet Nam Crisis.

Now that their underlying differences over Viet Nam have been aired publicly the two Communist rivals may be expected to continue the polemic openly, observers believed.

Summer Classes To Begin At SHS

Summer classes will begin Monday morning at Snyder High School.

The classes for the summer school courses will begin at 7 a. m. and continue until 12:15 p. m. daily, Monday through Friday for a six weeks period.

All offices in the school administration building will be closed Monday for the Memorial Day holiday, but will reopen on Tuesday.

Pan American Petroleum Corp. has slated re-entry for wildcat tests in the Clear Fork in the Reinecke (Pennsylvanian reef) area of Borden County at the No. 2 A. L. Holley, a former field producer.

It is 695 feet from south and 1,144 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 52, block 25, HTC survey. It is 18 miles north of Coahoma, two miles south of the depleted Clear Fork opener and lone prodcer in the area. It will be plugged back from an unreported original total depth to 4,502 feet.

Nueve Operating Co. of Abilene has planned re-entry and cleaning out to original total depth of 3,652 feet for wildcat tests in the No. 2 W. P. Bomar, a Fisher County dry hole.

It was plugged by A. G. Hill of Abilene and Walter Duncan of Oklahoma City, Okla., in 1950. Location is three miles east of Roby, one location northwest of a recent Hope lime oil discovery, 489 feet from north and 1,725 feet from east lines of sec. 20, T. H. Crosby survey No. 20.

New Pastor For First Methodist

A new pastor has been assigned to the First Methodist Church in Snyder and a new superintendent has been named for the Big Spring District of the Methodist Church, which includes Scurry County.

The Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor of First Methodist Church here for the past year, has been appointed as pastor of the Methodist Church at Perryton.

The appointments were read Friday by Bishop O. Eugene Slater at the Northwest Conference at Lubbock.

New pastor of the First Methodist Church in Snyder is Dr. John A. English, who has been superintendent of the Childress District. The Rev. S. Duane Bruce, who will be succeeded by Rev. Tidwell at the Perryton church, was appointed to succeed Dr. English as Childress District Superintendent.

The Rev. Lloyd V. Hamilton, who has been Superintendent of the Big Spring District, was appointed pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Lubbock. Dr. Huber H. Bratcher, Superintendent of the Stamford District, was appointed new Superintendent of the Big Spring District.

Rev. Tidwell came to Snyder a year ago from First Methodist Church at Andrews.

In other appointments to Snyder churches, the Rev. Ross I. Dunn is returning to Trinity Methodist Church, the Rev. Marvin L. Roark to Union - Ira, the Rev. A. Ernest McGaughey to Hermleigh - Camp Springs, the Rev. Jesse Dea, Dunn-Buford. The Rev. L. Kiel Quesenberry was appointed to Fluvanna - Dermott, succeeding the Rev. Howell Watkins who was appointed to Northridge - Patricia.

Pair Wounded In Shooting Here

Two Snyder men were undergoing treatment in a Lubbock Hospital Saturday for gunshot wounds they received here Friday night.

Officers identified the men as J. C. Ward, 38, bakery goods salesman, and Kenneth Prather, 30, circulation manager of the Daily News.

The shooting occurred at about 9:45 p.m. in room 6 of the Sands Motel on the East Highway. The room had been occupied by Ward for several days.

Officers said that in the gun battle, 13 shots were fired.

Two bullets struck Prather in the chest, and it was reported this morning that one lodged in a heart muscle and the other in the pancreas gland. Hospital attendants here reported his condition very serious prior to his transfer to Lubbock.

Ward received a gunshot wound in the arm, and another in the leg. An artery in his leg was severed by the shot. His condition was said to be "satisfactory."

Sheriff Keith Collier said that two .22 caliber pistols were found in the room.

Both men were taken first to Cogdell Hospital, and at about 1 a.m. were transferred to Lubbock by Bell - Seale Ambulance Service.

Following the shooting, Prather went to the motel office and called for the sheriff.

The shooting was investigated by the sheriff's department, Snyder city police, and by District Attorney Wayland Holt. Holt said Saturday morning that no charges would be filed in the case pending completion of the investigation.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 48, but I am far from "old," if you know what I mean. A very prominent, well-to-do professional man (he is a widower) has asked to marry me. I've been a widow for six years. Melvin is very affectionate and full of fun, and he seems young at heart, but you never know. Please don't think I am silly, but a friend of mine, who was widowed twice and stung three times with older men, told me that men who lose their hair early in life do not have much "drive" romantically. (I hope you get what I am trying to put across.) I've known Melvin practically all my life. (His wife and I were good friends.) Melvin started to go bald in his late 20's and this worries me. I don't know what to believe. Is there any truth in what my friend says? Sign me. . .

YPSILANTI

DEAR YPSI: Absolutely not! Just because there's chrome on the dome doesn't mean there's no power under the hood. Tell your widow friend to get her oars out of your water.

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of five. Last week my ever-lovin' husband went downtown all by himself and traded in a perfectly good two-year-old, five passenger sedan for a little two-seater sports car. What would you say he had in mind?

MAD

DEAR MAD: Himself.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: It is always nice to be remembered with a gift on Mother's Day — even an inexpensive one, because it's the thought behind it that counts. When a gift is bought in the line of duty, it is meaningless. My sons married and live a short distance from me. I have never been a butting-in mother-in-law, but my sons' wives never cared much for me. I've never gone to their homes without an invitation, and those invitations were very rare. But the wives' families were always in and out. I wasn't missed. My sons slowly turned away from me. On Mother's Day I always get expensive gifts with beautiful cards with verses saying what a wonderful mother I am and how much they love me! It is like rubbing salt in the wound. One son hasn't been in my home for three years, but every Mother's Day he sends an extravagant gift. I hope you'll find space in your column to let young daughters-in-law know that all their husbands' mothers want from them is to love their sons and to take good care of their families. And if they showed a little respect for an aging mother-in-law who might not be around too many more years, they wouldn't regret it. Thank you.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — If everyone will lay aside the comics we can hold an enlightened discussion of the Six Day Shower Cure. This being one of the medical rages, according to a story published here.

The author says ancient Chinese tortured prisoners by letting water drip on them day and night (but fails to say for how long). And he adds that modern science transposed the idea into a sort of Marathon Bath to relieve pain and hasten healing in persons burned by such chemicals as lye, bleach or possibly too many martinis.

The current idea is to place people under a steady shower either in a stall or bathtub for as long as six days at a time. They even sleep there.

Frankly, I would be sceptical about someone pushing me in a shower stall and turning on the hydrants for six days. Unless they left the door open or had a huge drain.

There is this little village on the Pacific Coast of Mexico where they have coconut palms and jungle all around. Gorgeous place and I must go back there and write a column about it some day if I can remember the name.

A little restaurant on the beach has hammocks strung between poles that hold up the roof and you swing yourself with a bare foot tucked in the sand floor. Fine seafood served you in the hammocks at any hour of the day.

And out in back is this jungle - type shower, apparently built for curative purposes. Somebody put up a sapling platform in the quiet palm grove and set a 50-gallon drum on the platform.

When you need some therapy the gentlemen fill the drum with a rope and bucket rig. Then you get beneath the pipe and turn on the water with a butterfly valve and stand there for six days.

The water probably will not run for six days, unless somebody keeps working the rope and bucket, but if it did you would be safe. The stall is made of palm leaves tied to a sapling frame. Guaranteed drown - proof.

I recall some curing beneath this shower once. Had a terrible case of Rum Burn and the horizon looked like it was slanted. The restaurant owners two sons put me in the therapy stall and turned on the water.

After a while the cure was effected and I had to lie in a hammock for a couple of hours eating red snapper fillets and clams.

It was truly a triumph for science. However, things do not always work out so well.

There was this story about the fellow who cruised into the village one day and said he wanted a long shower to cool off from traveling. The bucket brigade got to work and the gentleman stepped in the shower.

After two or three hours the restaurant owner want to see what was wrong because the food his client had ordered was almost petrified. He came back shouting that the man had stayed in the water so long he had shrunk to practically nothing, then fainted.

Of course it turned out to be nothing but a midget plumber somebody had called to fix the butterfly valve because it was stuck. But I believe there is a message here for experimenting scientists.

For your own peace of mind, gentlemen, measure your patients before pushing them in a Six Day Shower. It isnt worth the agony, what with midgets and children hanging around your offices.

LUBBOCK — Ramon Monnie Hedges of Snyder is one of 12 receiving doctorate degrees this spring at Texas Tech.

Hedges has been granted the doctor of philosophy degree in absentia, since he is now on the staff of North Carolina Memorial Hospital, University of North Carolina, Chappel Hill. His major is psychology

Hedges earned his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Texas and did graduate study at the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston.

Alarcon Child's Rites Saturday

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. Saturday for Franklin Eugene Alarcon, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alarcon, 2807 Avenue N.

The child died Friday afternoon at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The services were to be held at Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church, with Fr. Peter Vergauwen officiating. Burial was to be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by three sisters and one brother.

Mishap Victim Transferred Here

Kay Powell, Texas Tech student from 3902 Muriel Drive, was transferred Saturday to Cogdell Hospital here from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Miss Powell has been under treatment for about a week for injuries received when she was struck by a car while crossing a Lubbock street. Her condition is said to be "much improved."

Weather Hinders Farming In Texas

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Rain, hail, winds and sand hindered farming in widespread areas of Texas the past week. Lowlands of major rivers near the coast were awash.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said at midweek that field work was being resumed, including replanting in many areas. The rains helped ranges a lot and grazing prospects for the weeks ahead are good in most areas, he said. Stock water supplies are good and livestock are improving.

Crop damage occurred in most sections but there is still time to replant major crops. And there are still dry areas and some are waiting for moisture for planting.

North Panhandle moisture increased, but is short in some western counties. Cotton planting is being rushed.

A good general rain is needed over the South Plains. Large areas in Cochran, Dawson, Lamb and Terry counties are still too dry to plant. Irrigated farms, especially those north of Lubbock, need no rain. About 90 per cent of the irrigated cotton is planted with 30 per cent of the Lubbock County crop up to a good stand. Cotton Seedling disease is noted in the north. Early grain Sorghum looks good.

The Rolling Plains got more rain and some hail and now generally has moisture. A limited acreage of wheat has been harvested. Cotton and sorghum planting are on.

More showers in North Central Texas kept moisture adequate or surplus point. Most crops are suffering from too much rain.

Moisture is adequate to surplus in Northeast Texas. The hay crop is deteriorating due to rains. The peach crop appears to be smaller than early estimates.

It's hot and dry west of the Pecos and rain is badly needed. The rest of the Far West Texas District has fair to good moisture. Livestock are in excellent shape east of the Pecos. Alfalfa, onions and grain are being harvested. Cotton is making good growth except where hail and winds damaged it.

Moisture in West Central Texas ranges from adequate to surplus in the southeast. Some oats are falling, some have been cut and are ready to bale. Combining has started in the San Angelo area. Cotton and sorghum planting await dry fields. Fruit and pecan prospects are good to excellent. Sheep shearing is 75 per cent complete.

Moisture is surplus in Central Texas. Open weather would be welcomed.

Hail damaged grain in Brown County. Wheat harvesting awaits dry fields. Some losses have occurred from the heavy rains. Thrips are damaging cotton in Coryell and Hamilton counties. Peanuts have been planted in Eastland and Erath counties. Sheep shearing is about complete.

Moisture in East Texas is adequate to surplus except in the southeast. Some oats have been damaged by the rains. Corn looks good. Some cotton replanting started. The fruit crop will be short. Pecans look better.

Moisture in South Central Texas is excellent for ranges but is holding up harvesting. Corn, sorghum and cattle prospects are good.

Moisture is good in all of Southeast Texas except Orange, Liberty, Jefferson and Hardin Counties, where it is short. Flooding in the Brazos lowlands caused considerable crop damage. Much cotton will have to be replanted. Rains have helped pastures and upland crops and have filled most stock tanks.

Rains from one to nine inches, except in Cameron and eastern Willacy counties, left adequate to surplus moisture in South Texas. Some rain and hail damage occurred in Dimmit and Zavala counties.

Imp On Course, In Lopsided Path

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An interplanetary laboratory named Imp 3 raced deep into space today to scout scientific secrets and chart radiation hazards along the astronauts' pathway to the moon.

The 130-pound "flying physics lab" shot away from Cape Kennedy at 7 a.m. atop a towering Delta rocket. The booster's three stages fired with drill-like precision and hurled the satellite into space at more than 23,000 miles an hour.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced more than two hours after launching that Imp 3 was in orbit and gave it the official designation of Explorer 28.

The payload was aimed at a great elliptical course intended to take it 130,000 miles from earth before it swings back as close as 120 miles at the low point of its four-day orbit. NASA said it might require several days to determine exact orbital figures.

Although this distance is only halfway to the moon, Imp 3's sensitive instruments were to peer millions of miles into space to gather information.

The flight control center reported tracking stations were receiving clear signals from the high-flying satellite.

The only difficulty appeared to be that the payload angle to the sun was slightly off. Officials said this could affect data from some of the radiation experiments but did not consider the problem serious.

Imp 3, which stands for Interplanetary Monitoring Platform, is the third of seven similar satellites planned to gather radiation and magnetic field data in support of the U.S. Apollo project to land men on the moon in this decade.

A major assignment of the Imp series is to determine if satellite instruments can be used to predict when great flares will erupt on the sun's surface, dumping clouds of cosmic rays with their dangerous highly charged protons into space.

Scientists would like to develop a foolproof flare forecasting capability before 1969 when the first Apollo teams are scheduled to rocket toward the moon. The 11-year sun cycle will be at a peak of flare activity that year.

Without a reliable prediction system, manned lunar shots might have to be postponed to a calmer sun period. The space agency's Goddard Space Flight Center intends to map an entire 11-year solar cycle with the Imp series, sending two of the payloads into orbit around the moon.

The satellite was expected to provide new data on how the earth's magnetic field extends into space and is distorted by the sun's influence.

Actress Is Synonym For Topless Suit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In West Germany, says Christiane Schmidter, a topless bathing suit is called a Schmidomer. Why?

"I guess because I'm so beautifully sexy," she replies.

The buxom German actress has the figure for a topless bathing suit — 42½-26-38.

She is in Hollywood for her second movie in less than a year. Her first was "Ship of Fools" and now she is making "Boeing Boeing" with Tony Curtis and Jerry Lewis. It's the story of three airline stewardesses who share an apartment with Curtis, one at a time. And then the wacky Lewis moves in.

Burns Fatal To Baby From Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—Kathlene Marie Carroway, 2, was fatally burned and her playmate seriously injured Friday in a flash explosion and fire.

The blast occurred in the carport of a residence when a spark from a washing machine apparently set off a can of gasoline.

Injured and reported in fair condition was Mike Crivello, also 2 years old.

Wagner Says He May Quit Race

By GEORGE ESPER

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he is seriously considering not running for an unprecedented fourth term next November because of personal reasons. A withdrawal likely would have national political repercussions.

The disclosure of the Democratic mayor Friday night, however, was seen by some as a move to rally dissident or indifferent Democrats around him, and that he had no intention of pulling out.

The Brooklyn Democratic organization is bitterly divided over the county leadership of Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, whom Wagner has been trying to depose. Political observers said if Wagner pulled out, it would greatly aid Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in gaining control of the Democratic party in New York.

Wagner, 55, denied his statements were aimed at rallying dissident or lukewarm Democrats.

"I find I can't spend as much time as a father should with his boys," he said, referring to his two sons, Robert Jr., 21, and Duncan, 18. He said he also was considering how much his health might be strained by four more years. He said he would announce his decision "in a week or two."

The mayoral race took on added national significance May 13 with the entry of Rep. John V. Lindsay, East Side Manhattan Republican considered by some as possible presidential material. Lindsay, a proven vote getter in a predominantly Democratic district, viewed his entry at the time as a step toward the revival of the Republican party.

Robert Price, Lindsay's campaign manager, said the congressman would have no immediate comment.

It was learned that the Lindsay camp feels — at least right now — that Wagner has no intention of pulling out.

The mayor emphasized that he had been considering not running long before Lindsay threw his hat into the ring. There was some speculation Wagner might be concerned about losing to Lindsay, even though he was favored because of a huge Democratic registration margin.

It had been suggested by some Democrats that another well-known Democrat might have a better chance than Wagner of beating the popular Lindsay. Their reasoning is that dissident reform, independent and regular Democrats would close ranks behind another candidate rather than support Lindsay.

Should Wagner pull out of the mayoral race, the man considered most likely to replace him as a candidate is Paul R. Screvane, City Council president.

It had been virtually taken for granted that Wagner would run since last Feb. 1 when he said in an interview that he "most likely" would seek a fourth term.

Wagner's wife, Susan, died March 2, 1964, at the age of 52.

Wagner, who recently was pronounced fit and healthy by his doctors, said he felt that he must be a father and a mother to his sons since the death of his wife.

Citizenship Of Cage Is Reviewed

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — BenJack Cage's Brazilian naturalization is being reviewed to determine if there were any irregularities, an official of the justice ministry said Friday.

Rui Machado de Lima said Cage would be turned over to United States authorities if anything is found wrong with the way he obtained Brazilian citizenship. Machado de Lima is director of the Department of Interior and Justice.

Cage jumped bond in Dallas, Tex., after being sentenced to 10 years in the Texas penitentiary for fraud. Brazilian law law forbids the extradition of Brazilian citizens.

Cage became a Brazilian citizen in just three years although it normally requires five years. Cage was made a citizen in 1962 under a special clause making farmers and agricultural experts eligible after three years.

He was known in Texas before his arrest as an insurance man and financier.

Dyess Missile Sites Declared Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve missile sites at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, Tex., have been declared surplus.

The area was among 14 complexes approved Friday by a House armed services real estate subcommittee for disposal by the General Services Administration.

The launching silos are being declared surplus as a result of obsolescense of the air defense missiles they were built to accommodate.

The 121-acre Texas site is estimated to be worth $46 million.

Texas Spreads Still Boast Rustlers, Cowboys, Coyotes

EDITOR'S NOTE — Cattle rustlers and coyotes, cowboys and Bull Durham — they're all still there on the vast Texas ranches. There've been some changes made but it's still a hard life under the open skies, and the cowboys love it.

By JAMES W. MANGAN

STAMFORD, Tex. (AP) — The brown-and-white calf bawled in terror as the S and M branding irons seared its hide.

Then in less than a minute the second S brand was applied; the calf's left ear sliced; the budding horns snipped off, the wounds cauterized and the calf gelded.

Then the cowboys stepped away, a lever was released, and the calf scrambled away to the safety of the herd of anxious mother cows looking on, wide-eyed.

It was mid-morning of a chilly day in. January — branding time on the S. M. Swenson Throckmorton ranch, one of the most nodern of the great "spreads" in Texas.

The cowboy crew had been up since 5:30 a.m. After a big breakfast, they had trucked their horses about five miles to the branding pens, and started rounding up the grazing cows and calves. The men wore sheepskin or leather jackets, levis, dirty boots with spurs, and battered Western hats.

The round up had been difficult. Four times the nervous herd broke out of control as the shouting, circling horsemen drove them toward the open gate of the branding corral.

Finally, urged on by the shrill "hyahh" cries of the cowboys, the herd had poured through the gate on the fifth try and the job begun of branding and dehorning.

It was a typical day for the men on the Swenson ranches, which supply some 10,000 yearlings and calves each year to cattlemen in the Midwest corn belt, for fattening before slaughter.

The vast Swenson ranches, 165 miles west of Fort Worth, are rich in the traditions of the old West — as well as in oil. Although modern cowboys don't pack six-shooters, many still "roll their own" from Bull Durham tobacco, and ride the range as lustily as ever.

The average age of the single men on the SMS ranches is 18. Most are rawboned, strong fellows who grew up in the ranch country and feel hemmed-in and nervous unless they're out under the open sky.

They still sleep in the time-honored bunkhouse, although now the building is a clean, white-washed concrete block building with a television set in the reading room and a shower in the bath.

The cowboys still troop to the cookhouse to eat fried steak and sourdough biscuits, but now the building is spotless, decorated with flowers, with pictures on the walls.

And while today's cowboy may speed to town in a high-powered car on weekends, he is in the saddle from sunrise to sunset on the ranch, and treats his horse almost as well as he treats himself.

The two brothers who manage the 275,000 acres—430 square miles—of Swenson ranchland bear no resemblance to the cowboys, except for their style of dress. Like all Texas cattlemen, they favor fancy boots, string ties, and Western hats. Unlike the rest of Texas cattlemen, the Swensons speak Swedish.

Vice president and general manager of the Swenson Land and Cattle Co., Inc. is W. G. (Bill) Swenson, 71, whose father emigrated to America in 1880 from Sweden. Assistant vice president and general manager is Axel Magnus (Swede) Swenson, 65.

The Swenson land is composed of four immense ranches, which stretch out in all directions as far as the eye can see. Largest of the four spreads is Throckmorton Ranch, which totals 106,000 acres—170 square miles. Each ranch is surrounded by a continuous four-strand barbed wire fence.

Oil and cattle go together in Texas, and the SMS ranches have plenty of both. There are wells on all four ranches, with the richest producing about 800 barrels a day.

Grazing on the many miles of SMS pasture are some 14,000 brown-and-white Hereford mother cows, bulls, yearlings and calves. Bill Swenson, a tall, square man with a ready laugh who might be mistaken for a college professor when not wearing Western clothes, considers the Hereford and the Angus the best of the beef cattle. In his opinion, they are "the Cadillacs of the industry."

No longer, of course, are great herds of cattle moved overland to railheads or market cities. The animals are transported by trailer truck to the boxcar or direct to the buyer.

Along with the cattle, there are hundreds of saddle horses on the Swenson ranches. Each cowboy is assigned six or seven mounts for his personal care, and the rare man who neglects his horses is in for trouble.

Base of the Swenson operations is Stamford, a town of 5,000 population best known for its annual Texas cowboy reunion. From their spacious offices just off the town square, the Swenson brothers operate their old-time business with modern methods.

"We're operating to make money," says Bill. "We run it like a factory."

In the old days, for example, a horse-drawn, canvas-covered chuck wagon would follow the cowboys wherever they rode, bringing food and bedding. The men would sleep under the stars for weeks while branding calves and rounding up cattle. Some ranches today use chuck trucks to perform the same function.

But on the Swenson ranches, heavy-duty trucks haul the horses and men to the area where they work, and the men usually drive back to the cookhouse for the noon dinner. At night, the horses are hauled back to the stables and the men can watch a Western movie on television before going to sleep in their own beds.

Area Soils Described By SCS Office

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of a series describing the soils of Scurry County. Maps detailing the recent soil survey are available at the SCS Office.)

BY MARVIN L. DIXON
Soil Conservation Service

The Quinlan and Brokenland Soil Association in Scurry County consists of gently sloping to steep areas in the northeastern part of the county. Ridges and knolls broken by a complex damage pattern of deep, eroded guillies are characteristics of this association. It is about 39,998 acres in extent and makes up about seven percent of the county.

Quinlan and rough broken and stony land are the principal soils in this association. Other soils included in this association are Woodward, Carey, gravelly land and loamy alluvial land.

About 57 percent of the association consists of Quinlan soils. They are red to reddish brown in color and are 2 to 20 inches thick over reddish sandstone material. Quinlan soils occur mostly on the ridges and knolls.

Rough broken and stony land comprises about 21 percent and is confined to the deep gullies and bluffs of sandstone and gypsum material. these gullies are 20 to 30 feet deep near the head of drains, but deeper to canyon-like areas of 80 feet or more at the lower portion of some areas. The gully walls are nearly vertical in some places.

This association is unsuitable for cropland but it is fair to good cover of blue grama, sideoats, grama, buffalograss, sand dropseed and little bluestem. All of the Quinland soils are accessible to livestock, except for a few areas along drains. Forty to sixth percent of the Rough broken and stony land is relatively inaccessible to livestock, particulary cattle.

Won't Forget His First Bank Visit

HOUSTON (AP) — "He was as ugly as sin," said 19-year-old Robert Holloway of the middle-aged gunman who robbed the Republic State Bank of $10,000 to $12,000 Friday.

"He looked like he had been a laborer all his life," said Holloway, a customer. "He had coarse hands and a mash mouth with tobacco stains running down."

The bandit fired one shot into a wall of the bank when teller Mrs. Laverne Mims ran from her cage yelling to cashier W.G. Stephens.

Stephens ran to Mrs. Mims' booth, pulled out her cash drawer and handed it to the gunman.

Holloway said he followed the bandit in his car for about two miles, but not too close "because he had that gun." Holloway said the man abandoned a Chevrolet in a parking lot and drove off in a green Oldsmobile.

Holloway, who gave up the pursuit, later said it was the first time he had even been inside a bank. The experience made him hesitate about depositing $100, he said, but he did it anyway.

Bill Authorizes Plane For Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — House members took final action Friday on a bill authorizing purchase of a twin-engine executive-type airplane for exclusive use of the governor's office. The bill now goes to Gov. John Connally for signature.

Senators wrote into the bill an amendment appropriating $275,000 to buy the plane and $150,000 to operate it in the next two years.

GRADUATING—T. Brent McQuirk will graduate Monday from Arlington State College with a degree in business administration. He has a B average in college and is now employed by Braniff International Airways in Dallas. He is married to the former Lou Wayne Ragens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ragens.

TO GRADUATE AT TCU — Lynda Mize, Bassridge Dr., will receive the bachelor of arts degree in sociology June 2 at spring commencement exercises at Texas Christian University. Gov. John Connally, who will deliver the commencement address in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, will be awarded an honorary LL. D. degree.

Dodgers, Phils Take League Wins

In the Colt League Friday night, the Phillies whitewashed the Red Sox 7-0, while the Dodgers defeated the Braves 2-1 in Pony League action.

Bobby Clardy threw a masterful one hitter in shutting out the Red Sox team. No Red Sox was allowed to get further than second base. The Phillies, however, roamed at will on the base paths scoring seven runs. The Phils had a four run third inning which virtually eliminated the Red Sox.

In a close one, the Dodgers managed two runs off of one hit to beat the Braves. Brave pitcher, Mitch Rambin, only gave up one hit, but it was a double by Jerry Northcott which scored a run in front of him. Anallto Hernandez only allowed two hits in his winning cause. He allowed one hit in the second inning to Billy Blyth which scored Brave pitcher Rambin.

Few Can Beat Par At Greentree

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The major casualties in the Speedway Festival Open Golf Tournament, moved this year from the speedway course to longer and trickier Greentree Country Club, do not include old man par or Joe Kirkwood Jr., the leader at the halfway mark with a 139.

Only 15 players including Kirkwood, bettered Greentree's 71-71—142 par for 36 holes, two others matched it. Nobody beat par by more than three strokes, for either 18 or 36 holes, and only three players put together two subpar rounds.

Only Kirkwood could go three under par for the 36 holes Thursday and Friday, and he needed the two days to get that edge with 69-70—139.

Tommy Bolt went three under Thursday with a 68, but he slipped to 73 Friday and was in a nine-way tie for seventh place.

Lionel Hebert got the only 68 Friday. Added to his opening 72, it gave him 140 and a five-way tie for second.

Beside Kirkwood, the only owners of two sub-par rounds were Millr Barber and Dan Sikes, each with a pair of 70s.

Deadlocked with Hebert, Barber and Sikes at 140 were former champion Doug Ford with 69-71 and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez with 71-69.

Matson Finally Gets That Rest

HOUSTON (AP) — All season long Randy Matson kept saying he needed a rest, a plaintive cry sometimes followed by the addition of another foot to the world shot put record.

The Texas A&M giant, who broke the 70-foot barrier in the recent Southwest Conference meet with a 70-7 heave, has had an enforced rest — studying for final examinations — for the past two weeks as he looked forward to tonight's Southern Federation Championships.

If he can doas well with ha rest as he's been doing without one, they may have to warn the Air Force about unauthorized objects in the sky.

Spurs Are Drawing Unusually Big Crowds

By The Associated Press

If crowd support makes a ball club play better, Dallas-Fort Worth has no reason to be anywhere except on top of the Texas League.

That's where the Spurs are and they can point to Friday night as an example of how they play good before a big crowd.

There were 11,891 at Arlington as they beat Albuquerque 4-2 and stayed 2½ games out front in the eastern division of the league. It was the Texas League's biggest crowd of the year.

Leaders of the Western Division took it on the chin.

Tulsa edged leading El Paso 3-2 in 10 innings.

Amarillo nosed out Austin 7-6.

Tiger Game Time Changed To 4 P.M.

The Snyder Tigers were in Wichita Falls Saturday for a bi-district game with the Hirschi Huskies. The contest, which was originally scheduled for 2 p.m. was moved back to 4 o'clock. The change of time was necessary because of a game between Wichita Falls High and Castleberry of Fort Worth. Those two teams were to meet for the district championship.

The Tiger - Huskie clash was the first of the best 2-of-3 series. The second game is set for 4 p.m. Wednesday in Towle Memorial Park. If a third contest is necessary it will be played Thursday, also in Snyder.

WINNERS AGAIN! — For the fifth time in the last six years of the Roll 'n' Hope League, this team came out on top. Jim Wilson, owner of Jim's Welding and sponsor of the team, poses with the team and their trophies. Team members are Cille Wilson, Faye Eubank, Margie King, Jo Nell Kesner and Freda Childress. They had the high team average of 772; high game of 888; and high team series, 2456 in addition to the first place team honors.

Carburetion Tests Provide Last Chance For Race Cars

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Three hours of carburetion tests Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was the last chance for 33 drivers to handle their cars on the track before the 49th 500-mile race Monday.

In the past, this period has been largely an extra practice, but the tests have a closer meaning this year.

Many crews, particularly those with new Ford engines, have been trying to find a way to send their cars the full 500 miles on the two mandatory pit stops.

Some mechanics have admitted privately that if they use alcohol, three pit stops will be necessary. A possible solution is to use gasoline but that would mean sacrificing horsepower and would also be adding a fire hazard.

Some mechanics apparently hope to use a blend of the two fuels and varying formulas of such was what they tested today.

The carburetion test period meant much to two 500 veterans, Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., and Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex.

Both got in trouble and their cars hit the wall after they had qualified, causing heavy damage to both. Both were expected to be in shape for the last warmup.

The apparent readiness of the two cars seemingly dissipated the last chance for veteran Rodger Ward to make the race. A starter in 14 straight 500s, former winner Ward was the first alternate on the basis of his 34th fastest qualifying time.

Ward apparently was resigned to not racing, since it was announced Friday he will do the commentary on a closed-circuit television showing of the speed classic.

With the approach of the race, the city's 500 festival, in progress since May 1, neared its climax — the giant pre-race parade.

The procession of 33 elaborate floats, hundreds of bands and marching units and carloads of television, film and sports celebrities and other notables will wind through downtown Indianapolis at twilight Saturday along a route lined with 37,000 reserved seats in bleachers.

The annual governor's ball was held Friday night.

District Champions Decided

By The Associated Press

All except two district champions of Texas schoolboy baseball have been determined baseball the state race opens next week.

Wichita Falls and Fort Worth Castleberry clash at Wichita Falls today to decide the last remaining title in Class AAAA.

El Paso Austin plays Odessa, Lubbock Monterey takes on the Wichita Falls-Castleberry winner, Fort Worth Carter-Riverside plays Dallas Samuell, Denison tangles with Marshall, Houston Reagan plays South Houston, Port Arthur engages Galena Park, Waco Richfield tackles Brownsvill and San Antonio Lee plays San Antonio Harlandale in the bi-district round.

There is no defending state champion in Class AAAA, Brazosport having been eliminated in the district race.

Kilgore and Palestine clash at Kilgore today to determine the last district championship in Class AAA. Kilgore leads the series 1-0 but if Palestine wins today, there will be a double-header.

Hereford vs. Kermit, Snyder vs. Wichita Falls Hirschi, Arlington Sam Houston vs. Dallas Lake Highlands, Kilgore-Palestine winner vs. Waxahachie, Vidor vs. Brenham, El Campo vs. Alvin, La Vega vs. Seguin, South San Antonio vs. Mission make up the bi-district round next week.

South San Antonio is the defending state champion.

Each class will eliminate down to four teams for the state tournament at Austin June 15-16.

Stanley Dancer has won the harness driving championship six times at Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury, N. Y.

Robinson And Radatz Are Back In After Absence

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Brooks Robinson one game to get back into shape. Dick Radatz needed six weeks.

Robinson returned to the Baltimore line-up after a 19-day absence as the Orioles divided a doubleheader with the Los Angeles Angels Friday night, losing the first game 3-1 before taking the nightcap 3-0.

Radatz made his third straight appearance as Boston whipped Kansas City 3-9.

The American League's Most Valuable Player last season, Robinson suffered a broken right thumb when hit by a pitch May 8. He played part-time the next day but hadn't appeared in a game since then.

Against the Angels in the opener, he failed to get a hit in three trips to the plate. The rust wore off quickly, however, and he started the second game with a second-inning single.

Then, in the fourth, the ace third baseman doubled across two runs and scored the Orioles' other run on Jerry Adair's single.

Radatz, the AL's Fireman of the Year in 1964, had been having more than a little trouble this season prior to the last three days. Consistently ineffective, the 6-foot-5 veteran saw his earned run average soar to 7.43 two weeks ago.

With 5 1-3 innings of shutout relieving the past three days, though, Radatz has sliced his ERA to 6.19.

He relieved Jim Lonborg Friday night in the seventh inning with two runs in, two Athletics on base and one out. He got out of the jam and finished the game with one hit allowed and seven batters struck out.

His performance was only one of many outstanding pitching exhibitions in the American League.

George Brunet pitched a two-hitter for Los Angeles in the first-game victory over Baltimore whil Steve Barber came back in the nightcap and held the Angels to three hits.

Hank Aguirre pitched a two-hitter as Detroit edged Cleveland 1-0, and Chicago trimmed New York 2-0 behind Joe Horlen's six-hit hurling. Minnesota defeated Washington 4-1 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain canceled the second.

In the National League, San Francisco shelled Cincinnati 12-7, Milwaukee nipped Los Angeles 5-4, Houston took St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings, Pittsburgh whipped New York 6-1 and Philadelphia stopped Chicago 3-1.

The only Oriole hits off Brunet in the opener were Jack Brandt's first-inning single and Bob Johnson's double in the seventh.

Felix Mantilla supported Lonborg and Radatz with a two-run homer in the third inning and a run-scoring single in the eighth. Lenny Green and Ed Bressoud added homers for the Red Sox.

Don Wert's eighth-inning homer off Cleveland's Ralph Terry gave Aguirre his fifth victory against two defeats. Terry, 4-3, gave up just five hits.

The White Sox were held hitless by Bill Stafford until the sixth inning. Then, Johnny Romano led off with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored as Don Buford bounced a single off the glove of first baseman Joe Pepitone.

Tony Oliva drove in three Minnesota runs with a single and a homer. Bob Allison also homered for the Twins. Dave Boswell held the Senators to one hit through 5 2-3 innings until he was forced to leave the game with a blistered finger.

Sox, Braves Win In Farm League Games

The White Sox defeated the Athletics 22-9, while the Braves nipped the Giants 14-13 in Farm League play Friday night.

The White Sox scored nine runs in the fifth inning while every man in the batting order scored one time to bury the Athletics 22-9 in a real slugfest. The Athletics had tied the score in the top of the third, but the White Sox came back and scored four and were never caught after that.

The Braves scored five runs in the fifth inning to nudge the Giants by one run 14-13. The Giants managed to score first, but in the second inning the Braves scored seven times and were not caught until the fifth inning. The winning run was scored by Jim Waters after he had driven in the tieing run with a triple.

Snyder Eagles Host Winters

The Snyder Eagles will play Winters Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. in Winston Park.

The Eagles currently are supporting a nifty 6-2 record. They are entering this game with a recent victory over a Lubbock team.

IC4A Track Battle Looming For Villanova And Maryland

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — "I don't see how we can possibly beat Maryland."

That's what Villanova Coach Jumbo Jim Elliott said early in the week and again Friday after Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference champions put a damper on Villanova's hopes for a sixth straight IC4A Outdoor Track Championship.

As expected, the meet turned into a rerun of the indoor games in New York last March with Maryland and Villanova spreadeagling the field. The Terrapins of Coach Jim Kehoe qualified 13 individuals and a mile relay team in Friday's trials while Villanova placed nine men and a relay quartet.

All 18 finals were scheduled for today in Rutgers Stadium, with scoring on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis. Villanova edged Maryland indoors 24 to 21-½.

Despite Maryland's edge in Friday's trials, the team championship was far from decided. On today's schedule were five events in which no trials were necessary. Of those five, Villanova was loaded in the mile, three-mile and steeplechase and the same goes for Maryland in the pole vault and high jump.

In addition, Villanova had two men in today's 220-yard semifinals to Maryland's one. The 220 semis were the only non-final on today's program.

An IC4A meet record in the javelin by sophomore Russ White paced the Maryland push. White hurled the spear 241 feet, ½-inch, erasing the mark of 235-7 set by another Maryland star, Nick Kovalakides, in 1960.

The only other record Friday, as the athletes paced themselves, came in the discus where defending champion John Bakkensen of Harvard uncorked a toss of 173-8-½. That abolished the mark of 171 feet set by Yale's Vic Frank in 1950.

Otherwise, the Heptagonal champs saw their long-shot chances fade with only five individual qualifiers. Cornell had six but was not considered a serious threat.

Braves, Atheletics Take LL Victories

The Braves and Athletics both took Little League wins Friday night in Towle Memorial Park.

The Braves managed a victory over Giants by a score of 4-1 on the strength of Lee McNair's pitching. The Braves had a big third inning in which they scored all four runs. Three singles by John Boren, Gary Gallman, and Bobby Weaver produced one run which was followed by a three run homer off the bat of McNair.

The Giants scored their lone tally in the fifth inning when Bobby Thompson hit a double to drive in Jim Province who had previously singled.

In the American League, the Athletics won over the White Sox by the score of 3-1. The game had been at 2-2 standstill until the Athletics managed a run in the fifth inning of play when James Hood scored on a double by Randy Keller. The White Sox had tried the score in the third inning when Jack Tovar lead off the inning with a base hit and eventually scored.

Rain Delays Zaharias Golf Open

BEAUMONT (AP) — They make a fresh start on the $8,500 Babe Zaharias Open golf tournament today, playing a doubled-up 36 holes because the first round was washed and blown out.

Heavy rain and high winds forced postponement of the opening round Friday with only eight players having finished. Scores were all wiped out.

Sue Maxwell, the Oklahoma lass, felt worse about it than anybody—she had carved out a fine one-under-par 9 and was in the club house when Barbara Romack, president of the Ladies Professional Golf Association, fired a flare gun to halt action at 4:45 p.m. (CST).

Betsy Cullen had the second best score—a 72 — which also went down the drain.

The co-favorites for the championship —Mickey Wright and Barbara Whitworth — should have been happy that a new start could be had. Each was two-over-par at the time play was halted.

The 35 pros and two amateurs play the first 36 holes of the 54-hole tournament today. The final round will be Sunday.

14th NAIA Meet To Begin Friday

SIOUX FALLS, S.D., (AP) — An outstanding field that includes 11 defending champions will put one world record and 13 meet marks in danger at the 14th Naia Track and Field Championships Friday and Saturday.

Southern University of Baton Rouge, La., with clockings of 3:05.6, 3:05.7 and 3:06.5 this season, will shot for the lorld mile relay record of 3:04.5, held by Arizona State.

Southern's team includes one junior, Theron Lewisn and three freshmen—Anthony Gates, Webster Johnson and Everett Mason.

Among the meet marks in jeopardy are those held by four Olympians—Bob Hayes with a 9.3 in the 100, Ralph Boston's 25-7¼ broad jump, John Pennel's 15-1 pole vault and the 21-flat 220 by the late Stone Johnson.

Richard Stebbins of Grambling, La., with season bests of 9.2 and 20.6, heads the list of challengers. Among 16 NAIA runners at 0.5 or better are Ed Roberts of North Carolina College who finished third for Trinidad in the 200 meters at the Tokyo Olympics.

Norman Tate of North Carolina College, a double winner in the 1964 NAIA, has a best of 25-6 in the broad jump and holds the meet triple jump record of 51-9.

John Camien of Emporia, Kan., State will bid for his fourth straight NAIA mile crown. He holds the record of 4:04.3 and a career best of 4:00.7. He is getting back to top form after a throat infection.

Emporia State, The defending Team Champ, will have trouble repeating with Southern, Grambling and North Carolina College in the picture.

Sam Houston Goes After Victory

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sam Houston State went after the clinching victory in the Texas NAIA baseball playoff today with Pan American as the projected victim.

The Bearkats beat Pan American 3-1 in the opening game of the series Friday and need only one triumph today to make their way into a playoff with Northeastern Oklahoma State.

If Pan American should win there would be a second game to decide the issue.

Sam Houston had to go 11 innings to beat Pan American yesterday, scoring two runs in the second extra frame. Franklin Thomas' double brought in one run and pitcher Albert Choate drove in the other with a sacrifice fly.

Choate also hurled two-hit ball to post his ninth victory of the season. He has lost only one.

Sam Houston scored first in the sixth and Pan American tied it up 1-1 when Hector Salinas doubled in a run in the seventh.

Navigation Device Tested In Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A new space navigation device, carried on the rear portion of an X15, got an in-flight test wher Air Force Capt. Joe Engle took the rocket plane to 210,000 feet.

In the course of Friday's flight, Engle reached 3,682 miles an hour —five times the speed of sound.

The new device, designed to provide a more accurate reference point for guiding orbital flight, utilizes several wavelengths in scanning the horizon. The horizon thus is defined more sharply than with instruments which use only the visible-light wavelength.

Aggieland Says Goodbye To Norton

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Aggieland said goodbye Friday to the man who brought it its greatest football glory.

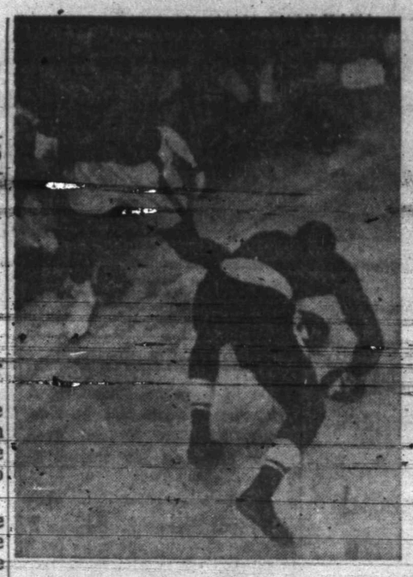

Homer Norton, eulogized as a "man of much love, a man of honor and a man without bitterness," was buried while former players, assistant coaches and officials of Texas A&M looked on.

Norton, 69, died of a heart attack Wednesday.

He coached at Texas A&M in the thirties and forties and produced three championship teams, one of which won the national title—in 1939.

Homeless Schofield Is Not Bothered In Giant's Field

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The next time Dick Schofield's phone rings, it may be that little old landlady with the $700-a-month place to rent giving it another try.

Schofield, who hasn't been able to locate a place to live in San Francisco, continued to remain right at home on the field for the Giants, again playing a key role Friday night in a 12-7 victory over Cincinnati.

Acquired from Pittsburgh in a straight shortstop swap for Jose Pagan, Schofield went shopping for a place to live Thursday, bumped into the landlady and was almost bowled over by the price tag on her living quarters.

Schofield adds to his value every day with the Giants. He has hit safely in all six games for his new mates, building a .364 batting average.

And against the Reds, he led off with his first homer of the season, kept Cincinnati from moving ahead in the fifth inning with a spectacular fielding play and then got a seven-run rally started in the sixth inning by walking and scoring the run that put the Giants ahead to stay.

Elswhere in the National League, Milwaukee knocked off the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4, Houston edged St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings, Philadelphia downed the Chicago Cubs 3-1 and Pittsburgh made it seven in a row with a 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox blanked the New York Yankees 2-0, Detroit shut out Cleveland 1-0, Boston belted Kansas City 9-3, Minnesota beat Washington 4-1 and the Los Angeles Angels downed Baltimore 3-1 before the Orioles took the nightcap 3-0.

Besides Schofield, Jim Hart also homered for the Giants while John Edwards and Tommy Harper connected for the Reds. But the decisive fireworks came as the Giants sent 11 men to the plate in the sixth.

Schofield started it by walking with one out, coming around to break the 4-4 tie on singles by Jesus Alou and Willie McCovey. Hal Lanier stroked a key two-run single during the uprising and Tony Perez let in two runs by fumbling a grounder by winning pitcher Bob Shaw.

The Dodgers built a 4-0 lead against new Milwaukee pitcher Ken Johnson, but the Braves came back with two runs in the fourth and then put it away against Claude Osteen, 3-5, with a three-run fifth.

A walk to Hank Aaron and singles by Joe Torre and Gene Oliver produced one run. Eddie Mathews then walked and Mack Jones stroked a two-run single that put Milwaukee ahead to stay.

Jim Wynn's single and a double by Walt Bond accounted for the Astros' winning run in the 12th as Jim Owens squared his record at 2-2 with three innings of perfect relief pitching.

Cardinals starter Ray Sadecki limited Houston to five hits and had a 2-1 lead until Bob Aspromonte led off the ninth with a homer.

Ray Culp got home run support from Tony Gonzalez and Wes Covington but needed Chris Short's one-out relief help in the ninth inning before subduing the Cubs.

The Pirates moved out of the NL cellar and the Mets moved in when Bill Mazeroski's sacrifice fly and Willie Stargell's three-run homr produced a four-run eighth inning against Warren Spahn. Bob Veale, 5-2, got the victory with a five-hitter.

Negro Baseball Delayed By Rain

WACO (AP) — Rain prevented the start of the championship playoff in Negro schoolboy baseball Friday night and the two teams—Waco Moore and Houston Kashmere—move to Houston today.

They also will clash at Houston next Monday in a doubleheader if three games are required to decide the issue.

What's the catch? There isn't any.

Plunk $1691 into a salesman's hand and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)

Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it.

Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

AMUSEMENT

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Sun., May 30, 1965 7

Jane Wyatt Still Reaps Residuals

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It has been five years since Jane Wyatt cooked her last meal for the Anderson family, and still the residuals for "Father Knows Best" keep rolling in.

Jane is living testimony of the benefits of having a successful television series. She still gets a regular, sizable check for her six years of service to "Father Knows Best," and this pleasant practice may well continue for years to come.

"I'm now getting paid for the sixth rerun — think of that!" says Jane exhuberantly. "After we went off the air, the show ran for three years in prime time, and for two years it has been playing every day on the network. It's also playing all over the world."

For such blessings Jane can naturally look back on the series with great fondness. But upon reflection she had to admit that doing a series for six years is not without its hazards.

"The first year was sheer joy," she recalled. "The second year was when the problems started to set in. But we licked them and the third year was smooth going. Fatigue began to set in during the fourth year. We got through the fifth year only because we all thought it would be the last. The sixth? Pure hell."

The trouble with the show was inherent in its very nature, she explained.

"Being a family show, we all had to stick around," she said.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice of the Names of Persons Appearing as the Owners Of Unclaimed Amounts Held By: WEST TEXAS STATE BANK SNYDER, TEXAS

This notice is given and published pursuant to Section 3, Article 3272b, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, in an effort to locate persons who are the depositors or owners of amounts in accounts that have remained inactive or dormant according to the provisions of Article 3272b for more than seven (7) years. The unclaimed amounts due the depositors or owners listed herein will be paid upon proof of ownership at the office of the named depository within nine (9) months, and if unclaimed thereafter they may be subject to report to and conservation by the State Treasurer in accordance with said Article 3272b.

Actress' Will Is Probated

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Linda Darnell, who left an estate valued at less than $10,000, named her adopted daughter and close friends as heirs.

The will was filed for probate Friday in Superior Court.

Miss Darnell, 43, was fatally burned in a fire April 10 at Glenview, Ill. Her will asked that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane Curtis, at whose home the fire occurred, become guardians of the actress' daughter, Charlotte Mildred Marley, 17.

Miss Marley, chief beneficiary under the will, is to graduate next month from the Ojai Valley (Calif.) High School. She will make her home with the Curtis family.

The will, dated April 18, 1962 and revised last year, made no mention of airline pilot Merle Roy Robertson, whom she divorced in 1963.

Charlotte was adopted by the actress and her first husband, the late J. Peverell Marley, in 1948.

HAYLEY MILLS, who started in motion pictures as a child of 12 and progressed through roles as a teenager, now, six years later, has her first adult romance on the screen with James MacArthur in the romantic comedy adventure, "The Truth About Spring." It is coming to the Palace Theater here June 6-9.

Cool Approach Is Best For Actors

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The acting business is like fishing. If you're really desperate to land that big catch, you'll never make it. But if you play it cool, you might come up with a whopper."

The allusion came quite naturally to Lee Marvin, who would rather fish than act — almost. He was poised to leave for a deep-sea tournament in Mexico and he exulted over finding a rare, imported fishhook quite by accident in a hardware store. You'd have thought he had won an Oscar.

Come to think of it, he might do just that. The talk around town is that Marvin will be a front-runner for the Oscar next year because of his rip-snorting, double-barreled role in "Cat Ballou."

Not only that, the raw-boned, tuba-voiced actor comes on like a tropical hurricane in "Ship of Fools," according to preview reports. It might ven turn into a Marvin vs. Marvin race in the coming Oscar derby.

All this somewhat amazes Marvin, who isn't exactly a deb star.

"I've been acting for 18 years and I've been in pictures for 15," he remarked. "I waited a long time for this to happen — and now I get two in a row! Boy, it feels good!"

Marvin admitted there were many years when he despaired of ever hitting the heights. Son of a New York advertising executive, Lee didn't think much about acting until after his wartime service in the Marines. He got interested in a little theater in Woodstock, N.Y., studied at the American Theater Wing under the GI bill and apprenticed in off-Broadway and television.

His first film was "You're in the Navy Now" with Gary Cooper, and he quickly became a serviceable young character actor. No pretty boy, he couldn't rise above his status.

He saw an out in a television series, "M Squad." His reasoning: "Everybody knew me, but nobody knew my name. Every young actor should do a TV series to establish himself. That's the only way you can stand out from the crowd."

His labors for "M Squad" have brought him a half-million dollars. That gave him the independence to play it cool and wait for that big catch. Lee was 40 before it arrived, but the wait was worth it.

Producers are already looking at him through different eyes. Columbia has signed him to four pictures in five years at more than double his previous salary.

Brian Kelly Spends Summer In Miami

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Handsome Brian Kelly has a home here but spends most of his time in Florida, where he's shooting "Around the World Under the Sea" in Miami.

As soon as he finishes the movie, he starts shooting the "Flipper" television series — also in Miami.

'Superagent' Is Big Word As New TV Shows Develop

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The magic word in the Hollywood mills, which are now grinding out next season's television entertainment, is "superagent."

All this probably started with Ian Fleming's bigger-than-life James Bond, who became a literary fad and then, in the person of Sean Connery, a big box-office movie.

Bond — brave, debonair and terribly sophisticated — may be the spiritual ancestor of a couple of television's current heroes: Amos Burke, the fun-loving homicide captain torn between solving murders and charming beautiful girls; and Mapoleon Solo, and intrepid character actually dreamed up by the late Fleming before he knew that his motion picture contract permitted him no television activities.

Next season, network television will be awash with secret agents cut along Bond lines.

Capt. Burke will quit the force to start chasing the boys with microfilms, changing the name of the show to "Amos Burke, Secret Agent." In addition, to "the Man From U.N.C.L.E." there will be a series with the forthright title of "I Spy." Don Adams will be turning up in a series called "Get Smart," a spoof of the secret agent fad. There will be a series called "Honey West," about a jolly lady sleuth who knows karate. And even a comedy called "The Wild, Wild West," featuring a cowboy counteragent, of all things.

In the course of the usual television cycle, the beginning of the end is in sight when there are too many programs of the same general type to support public interest. It may be that the tongue-in-cheek superspy is already a television cliche. It is now invading the commercials with a bakery salesman identified as "James Bread from Bond."

However, one jaunty secret agent of the old school — the one that went in for disguises, false identities and played it straight — goes on and on. John Drake, Daring Drake works for some vague but intelligence outfit with London headquarters and pops all around pursuing the forces of evil.

Drake first appeared in America on CBS during the summer of 1961 in "Danger Man," a series of half-hour shows originally made for British television. Since then the series has been around in reruns.

Now, expanded to an hour's length, honest John is back for a summer run on CBS, but now the series is called "Secret agent." The only difference is that now Drake has more complicated adventures. There is still the big battle at the end of each episode and, of course, he always come through successfully, if slightly battered.

Patrick McGoohan, a handsome red-haired actor, has made a successful career playing Drake. He has also built a large body of American fans, even though his accent takes a little time to get attuned to.

Curiously, these accents are those of a fellow born in New York City 37 years ago. However, McGoohan's Irish parents returned to their homeland when he was very young. He grew up south of Dublin and was educated in England.

McGoohan, his attractive brunette wife, Joan, and their three children live 10 minutes from the studio where McGoohan triumphs in 26 exciting adventures a season. Each episode takes 10 days to shoot and after all these seasons of wall-scaling and fights he still enjoys the work.

TINY CITY OF IMPACT LIVES UP TO ITS NAME

Editor's note: A tiny strip of land surrounded by Abilene emerged in 1960 as the town of Impact. The town has lived up to its name.

By MIKE COCHRAN

IMPACT, Tex. (AP)—It was 1961, and a writer commented:

"At present, there are two major problems confronting the United States. The Berlin crisis and the Impact controversy in Abilene." Whatever the merit of this wry observation, it might be said that this tiny West Texas oasis fared better in the last four years than Berlin.

Cars often bumper to bumper, stream steadily into Impact. Cash flows in and liquor flows out at an astounding pace.

The angry cries of indignant Abilene citizens, including bootleggers, have dwindled. The Sunday sermons have shifted to other topics.

"The storm has subsided," says Mayor Dallas Perkins.

Perkins is the unchallenged ruler of Impact. His constituents number little more than 200, spread haphazardly across 47 undeveloped and barren acres.

His domain lies entirely within Abilene, a city of about 100,000 which takes great pride in its three denominational colleges and rich religious heritage.

Abilene is "dry." In fact, until recent years it was so dry that one had to go a considerable distance to purchase legally anything stronger than a soda.

Impact changed all that, but only after a bitter and prolonged dispute. Fireworks erupted from pulpit and courtroom for 33 months before the Texas Supreme Court late in 1962 recognized Impact as a legally incorporated city.

Two days before Christmas the doors of Jerry-Built liquor stores swung open and, said Perkins:

"They haven't been closed since, except for Sundays and elections days."

The makeshifts soon gave way to two gleaming, well-stocked liquor stores and a food mart which also handles beer.

There is currently no on-premises consumption, although a City Council vote could abolish the local statute momentarily.

How much money pours into impact annually isn't known, but Perkins said its about the same as 1963.

At the end of 1963, Impact's first full year of operation, beer and liquor revenue totaled $2.5 million. This was established through the existence of a city sales tax, discarded after funds were raised to pave streets which looked like cow trails.

"You don't go through Impact to get anywhere," Perkins said. "The only way to get to Impact is to be going there."

Perkins, 39, tall, blond and affable, literally owns Impact, most of its houses and its buildings. He leases the liquor and beer enterprises on a percentage basis.

He and his attractive wife, Nancy, and their three children live in an unpretentious two-story house close to "downtown" Impact.

Baptists Get Prison Term In Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Two American Baptist missionaries have been sentenced by the Havana military court to long prison terms, the Swiss Embassy said Friday.

Both men, the Rev. Herbert Caudill, 63, and the Rev. David Fite, 31, formerly resided in Fort Worth, Tex.

The Rev. Mr. Caudill, who received a 10-year prison term, was a resident of Waynesboro, Ga., when arrested on charges of dealing in black market dollars.

Fite, who lived in Omega, Ga., at the time of his arrest in Cuba, was charged with a similar offense.

The two men were arrested in April and were tried May 14 with 32 Cubans, most of whom also were Baptist missionaries, on charges of espionage, counter-revolutionary activities and illegal currency dealings.

The prosecution asked for a 10-year term for Caudill and 18 years for the younger Fite.

Fite was acquitted on the espionage charge but there was no announcement by the court on what action it had taken on the same charge against Caudill.

Current Historical Novel Set

THE AMBASSADOR. By Morris L. West.

It must be classed as a novel, but this book really is another excursion by West into the interpretation of contemporary history. It is about an American ambassador's dilemma during the overthrow of a South View Nam government.

So this is a roman a clef. The setting is as actual as a documentary film, and some of the characters are close to real life. The Vietnamese president (named "Cung" in this account) against whom the generals are plotting is a Catholic who rules a predominantly Buddhist country, and there are riots and scenes of fiery immolation. But there is no character who is an equivalent of Mme. Nhu.

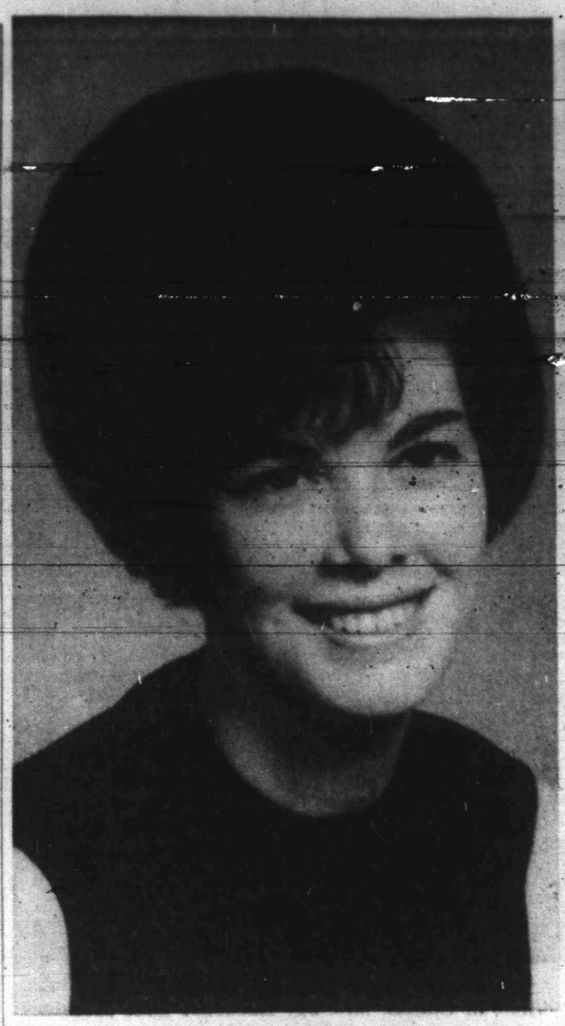

The story is told by the ambassador, Maxwell Amberley, who had been transferred to Saigon from Tokyo and in a few short weeks found himself in a tight position. He could not make Cung listen to reason and he had little confidence that the plotting generals would or could improve the situation.

The plot contains lots of action and there are backstage scenes of embassy and CIA activity. But all this is embedded in a great many ideological arguments, presented from varying viewpoints by a large cast of characters. The author even gives himself a bit role as a visiting novelist.

Amberley is not a very admirable character, and the book's narrative pace is retarded every time he goes into some soul - searching doubts, or ruminates about Zen, which he had discovered in Japan.

As in the case of West's "The Shoes of the Fisherman," which came out about the time the present Pope was elected, this novel is close enough to recent headlines to have a highly topical, conversational appeal.

There are some readers who feel uncomfortable over fictional interpretations of history, especially when they involve contemporary events. But they do have the heightened drama of frontpage realism, and in this example novelist - journalist West has served up a real thriller.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Johnston of Dunn have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Charlene, to Norman Keith Trepke of Lakewood, Colo. The prospective groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Strauss of Denver, Colo. Marriage vows will be exchanged at 8 p.m. June 26 at the Dunn Baptist Church.

Creamy Cauliflower

1 medium head (1¼ pounds) cauliflower
1 cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup light or heavy cream
1 tablespoon butter blended with 1 tablespoon flour
½ cup grated cheddar cheese

Wash and separate cauliflower; halve small flowerets; slice large flowerets into thirds, as you would slice mushrooms, with flowerets and stalks attached. Boil in a 10-inch skillet with the boiling water and salt, covered, just until tender-crisp—about 8 minutes. Drain. Heat the cream in a small saucepan; add the butter - flour mixture; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened; off heat, stir in cheese. Fold sauce into cauliflower and reheat if necessary, but do not boil. Makes 6 servings.

Living Room Can Double As Area For Your Hobby

Do you need a recreation room, but have neither the space nor finances for it?

You may be able to solve the problem by remodeling your living room. For instance, one wall or a corner might be converted into a hobby area. A desk and chair placed near a window can provide the necessary work space. Shelves or an adjoining wall will provide storage for record albums or for displaying the results of your hobby — whether it be model airplanes, needlework or hunting trophies.

One material that owners of small homes are finding increasingly desirable for their hobby walls and shelves is ceramic tile. This ancient material is now available in an almost endless variety of colors, shapes and patterns so that it can blend with any decor. It cannot be scratched or stained and it never needs to be painted or polished.

You can be sure of getting high quality tile for your project by insisting on tile that is "quality certified" by the Tile Council of America. This trade association of domestic manufacturers is now testing tile of participating companies to insure that it equals or exceeds the highest standards of the United States government.

Your hobby offers a myraid of design possibilities using real tile. There are even nautical tiles for the fisherman or model shipbuilder. And there are appropriate patterns for the gardener, the stamp - collector and the traveler.

Producer Seeking Polyglot Company

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Papp, executive producer of the city's free Shakespeare Festival is aiming next at development of an acting company that reflects fully the polyglot nature of the community's population.

"We would like a company representative of all facets," says Papp, "not for sociological reasons but for artistic reasons."

Diversification of the troupe, he feels, would be a further step in development of new audiences for theater exhibits.

Experimental Plays Sign Off-Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — An experimental exhibit that became a box office success in Los Angeles, "The World of Ray Bradbury," is moving to off-Broadway.

The program of one-act plays goes into August rehearsal for local presentation. The sponsors are the trio who recently launched partnership with a 20th anniversary revival of "The Glass Menagerie" — Claude Giroux, Frank Carrington and Orrin Christy Jr.

Enrollment Is Underway For Clothing Workshop

Registration for the annual Adult Clothing Workshop to be held June 7 - 16 in the high school Homemaking Department is currently underway.

Classes will be conducted daily from 9 to 11 a.m. under the direction of Mrs. Helen Martin, high school clothing instructor, and Miss Jean Smith, Lamar Junior High School homemaking teacher. The course is free, but participants must furnish their own supplies.

Instruction will be given in basic construction techniques, tailoring, shoe - covering, and hat-making. Hat-making will be taught June 14-16. Both beginning and advanced seamstresses may enroll in the classes.

Mothers enrolled in the workshop may bring their pre-school children to a playschool to be supervised by Miss Vera Perlman, high school homemaking teacher, during class hours. Children will participate in both indoor and outdoor games, have story hours, and see movies while their mothers study. Girls completing summer projects for homemaking will help with the play school.

Women interested in enrolling in the workshop may contact Mrs. Martin at the high school between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. until June 7 or may register at 9 a.m. at the first class session.

Library Notes

Texas Reading Club program, sponsored cooperatively by the local public library and the Texas State Library, is scheduled to begin registrations on Tuesday morning, June 1, at the Scurry County Library. All school age children, from high school to those who were first graders during the 1964-65 school term, are eligible to sign for the program.

Slogan for the reading program this year is "Open your future, read." Besides encouraging children to fill long summer vacation hours with constructive and often times profitable reading, the program is designed to widen his or her reading experience.

In order to qualify for the program, children must call at the Scurry County Library and fill out an abbreviated form which includes such information as his or her name, address, age and grade in school for the coming fall term. Any school child in the county may qualify.

Children may choose their own reading material from books at the library. Credit will be given for 12 books read during the summer vacation period, providing the books selected are suitable for their age and grade reading level. To acquaint children with more authors, only two books by any one author will be honored for credit toward a reading certificate. A child may read as many books as he wishes, but only 12 is necessary for credit.

The vacation reading program will end on Aug. 15. Certificates, issued by the Texas State Library at Austin, will be given each child who satisfactorily completes the required number of books. Certificates may be picked up at the local library after Aug. 20. Certificates not called for will be mailed before Sept. 1.

This year, each child or parent will be responsible for keeping a list of books read. They will also be responsible for returning the list to the library for credit. At registration, the participant will be given a Texas State Library form which must be used for this purpose.

All school children are eligible for library cards, providing their permanent residence is in Scurry County. If the child has been issued a library card previously and the card is lost or misplaced, a nominal charge of 25 cents will be made for a new card. Most Scurry County school children have already received library cards, either from the bookmobile or at the local public library. All Scurry County cards are honored by the library.

Children who will begin their school experience with the coming fall school term will be eligible for library cards in September when the new term opens.

The vacation reading program is carried out state-wide. Approximately 200 Scurry County children complied with the reading requirements and received certificates at the close of the program last year.

For a delicious salad, use cooked chicken, cooked rice, cooked peas and grated raw carrot. Moisten with French dressing or mayonnaise.

DRUG FACT 992

In almost all cases, the price of an effective new drug goes way down after mass production takes over. This was true of Cortisone, vitamins, Salk vaccine, the steroids, etc. And because they work so fast, modern drugs usually reduce your total cost of illness. Your prescriptions filled here are uniformly and fairly priced, always.

MRS. NONNIE FORD

Doublering Rites Unite Miss Feather And Mr. Ford

A doublering ceremony at 4 p.m. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church united in marriage Miss Glenda Feather and Nonnie Ford.

The Rev. John Gordon, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Feather, 3798 Dalton Drive, and parents of the bridgroom are Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Ford of Polar.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her wedding dress was of white taffeta with French lace trim, and her headdress was a pearl crown with a veil. Her flowers were a white cascade of French mums.

Miss Evelyne Feather, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a dress of white brocade.

Debbie Ford, the flower girl, wore a white voile dress, and Paulette Ford, the bridesmaid, wore a dress of white brocade.

Billy Grimmett of Snyder was best man, and John Walker of Snyder served as usher.

The altar of the church was flanked with palms and white mums.

Mrs. Irene McFarland, organist, played pre-nuptial music, "Liebestraum" and "Salut d'Amour." Mrs. Bob Womack sang "Because."

For the wedding trip, the bride selected a pink suit and pink accessories. Following the wedding trip, the couple will be at home in the Polar community.

The bride attended Hockaday School in Dallas and Snyder High School, and Mr. Ford is a 1965 graduate of Snyder High School.

Getting At A Government

THE PRIME MINISTER'S DAUGHTER. By Maurice Edelman.

The principal virtue of Edelman's novel is an old fashioned one. It contains the proper ingredients of a story - such as a beginning, a middle and an end; a hero and a villain, a conflict and a climax.

The hero is Geoffrey Melville, the Prime Minister. Like Sir Charles Snow," Edelman is engrossed by the aspects of political power, and his story is about a struggle to censure Melville's government.

The villain is Mayland, proprietor of a group of newspapers and television stations, among other interests, a man ambitious for a title. He becomes Melville's enemy when the prospective title does not materialize.

The daughter is Sylvia, who has returned from the United States in a state of emotional turmoil. She had been having an affair with a married man.

One of Mayland's tactics is to hire a young member of Parliament as a political columnist. Another is to hire spies to watch Sylvia, and they turn up an incident in which she is arrested after a minor traffic accident. This is followed by thunderous charges that the case has been fixed, and there is a full-scale battle in the House of Commons.

Edelman, a Member of Parliament for 20 years and an experienced novelist as well, is a good narrator and a man who makes his action, characters and setting so convincing that the reader effortlessly enjoys his book for what it is — a genuine novel.

Ever, add minced green pepper along with minced onion to that ground beef you are making into hamburgers? This combination is excellent served with hot catchup.

Stuffed Celery

2 bunches celery
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, soft
1 wedge (3 ounces) Roquefort cheese, crumbled
Heavy cream
2 tablespoons each minced fresh dill and chives
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
Salt and paprika

Trim celery; cut ribs into 3-inch pieces; wash, drain and dry with toweling. Beat together the cheese; beat in just enough heavy cream to make the consistency of very stiff whipped cream. Fold in dill, chives and caraway; add salt to taste. Spoon into celery cavities; sprinkle with paprika; chill. For an elegant touch, fill celery by pressing the cheese mixture through a pastry bag with a large star tip. Makes 10 to 12 appetizer servings.

Note: The 3 ounces of Roquefort called for will be ¾ cup crumbled of 1-3 cup packed.

AND DIOGENES THOUGHT HE HAD A JOB!

Preservation Of Laos May Be Long, Costly Project

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — When Uncle Sam adopted the Laotian waif after the French defeat in Indochina in 1954, he might not have known it was going to be a long term child-rearing task.

Laos, then a country of 2.5 million multiracial people with little national consciousness and landlocked between six neighbors, was totally unprepared to face the demands of independence in the 20th Century.

It created a virtual vacuum in the heart of the Indochina Peninsula which, if left unfilled, would have quickly sucked in communism from militant North Viet Nam, opening the floodgates to South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Thailand.

The United States has spent $600 million in the 11 years since 1955 trying to plug this hole, an annual average of $55 million.

American officials here, looking back over the period, contend the price has not been exorbitant to keep this strategically located country from the clutches of communism, even if half the territory has been lost to it.

What has the American taxpaver got for his money? Chiefly the preservation of the existence of Laos. He has also saddled himself with a semipermanent moral and practical obligation to continue spending approximately $45 million a year to keep his adoptive child alive.

Today, the Laotian kip is one of the few currencies in Asia that is freely convertible into dollars. But this monetary stability rests on an economy propped up by foreign aid like Laotian homes built on high stilts.

Terminating or drastically reducing American aid here would be tantamount to condemning this Laotian house to collapse.

Foreign aid fills the gap between less than $1 million in exports and more than $10 million in imports. It brings a two-thirds subsidy to the nation budget. American aid equips and pays for the national army of 65,000 men plus the 8,000-man neutralist army of Gen. Kong Le, which also fights the Communists.

Administration of U.S. aid was not entirely successful in the early years.

The Laos that emerged from the early and massive influx of American dollars bore the ugly features of greed, corruption, injustice and inefficiency. A new class of rich sprang up overnight. The privileged few bought expensive cars, built villas and piled up bank accounts.

This contrasts with the Vientiane the first American aid officials who came in 1955 had found. They had to work out of tents because of lack of housing. Electricity was failing and even drinking water was a problem. There were less than 100 cars on the streets and people lived modest lives.

The scandals of the late 1950s, however, have been gradually reduced through tighter controls. American officials say aid in Laos in the past few years has been placed finally on the right track.

Junior Editors Quiz on SLEEP

QUESTION: We all sleep — by why?

• • •

ANSWER: Sleep is a way in which nature insures that our bodies will have a chance to replenish themselves. While awake, a special group of cells in the brain directs us in our conscious activity. But there is another part of the brain, lower down, which can turn on or shut off the activity of the upper cells. This wise lower brain, symbolized in our picture as the little cell man, seems to know when the conscious parts needs to be shut off, so it makes us drowsy and we tumble into bed. While sleeping, we use very little energy. This allows the nerve cells to build up supplies of the chemicals they need to get us going when we wake up. We all need sleep; when young, children should have ten hours rest, when older, nine or more. Adolescents need from eight to nine hours. Experts say it doesn't matter what position we take when we first go to sleep. Without knowing that we are doing so, we change our position several times during the night. This gives a chance for all the muscles to relax. It is important that a sleeping person be protected from cold, because, during sleep, the body produces less heat than when awake.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch your behavior throughout a day. A person who hasn't had enough sleep is likely to be grumpy and cross. If you find yourself that way, get more sleep! 5/29

Whites In Africa Are Forewarned

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Nearly every white South African householder has received a frightening little booklet entitled "Survival Brochure No. 1."

Its foreword, by Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster, warns the reader that the world is in a state of ferment, that ideological war is being waged on an ever increasing scale and international relations are near breaking point; that nuclear war is a serious threat — and South Africa might become one of the main objectives.

The minister concludes with a grim warning: "We must plan to insure our survival."

The booklet is part of an all-out civilian defense drive under the government's new emergency planning bill, which gives Vorster sweeping powers in the event of a national emergency.

Every able-bodied white South African man and woman from 17 to 65 who has not undergone military training will be liable for compulsory training if the minister decrees. No reference is made to South Africa's 12 million African people.

The new civilian defense program is aimed at the republic's three million whites and features three basic points which, according to Vorster, threaten to undermine the country:

1. The possibility of external aggression from newly emergent black African states close to her borders.

2. The increasing danger of Russian and Chinese Communist infiltration on the African continent.

3. The possibility of South Africa becoming a target for nuclear attack.

By implementing the survival plan, the government hopes to organize a large army of civilian wardens whose primary task will be to insure the safety of South African citizens in the event of a national emergency.

A national emergency is defined as a state of emergency in terms of public safety, war and internal riots or any disaster including any form of sabotage, except an act of God.

Summer May Top Gasoline Use Records

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — The 1965 spring-summer gasoline consuming season may break records.

Gasoline inventories have dropped rather sharply from their March peak despite refiners maintaining production well above last year.

The heavy demand season starts in early April and moves into full swing in early June.

After recording steady increases in gasoline demand for 1963 and 1964, domestic refiners prepared for 1965 by boosting inventories to a record level.

Gasoline stocks reached an all time high of 232 million barrels the week ending March 26. This was 16 million barrels above the year earlier peak and 6 million above the previous all time high set in 1961.

Between March 26 and May 14, motor fuel inventories dropped 14 million barrels. The comparable decline in 1964 amounted to only 6 million barrels.

The 14 million barrel decline developed despite a high level of gasoline output. Domestic refiners, operating at 84.4 per cent of capacity, processed more 31.4 million barrels of gasoline a week the four weeks ending May 14. This output exceeded year earlier gasoline production by almost 500,000 barrels a week.
