SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Twins weighing a total of more than 15 pounds were born Monday, April 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cruse of Hereford at the Friona hospital. The girl, Merry Denise weighed 8 lbs. at birth, and the boy, Larry Denis, 7 lbs., 2 ounces.

The Cruse family recently moved to Hereford from the Friona community. Mrs. Cruse and the twins were scheduled to return home from the hospital Saturday.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Benson of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Cruse of Pierre, S. D., formerly of Friona.

Marcella Diller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Diller of Hereford, Texas will graduate from Sacred Heart Junior college, Wichita, Kansas, on May 22. During the year Miss Diller was managing editor of the Echoes, Secretary of the Sodality, member of Kappa Pi Kappa, Masquettes, W.A.A., and the Dramasquers.

Burl Elliston, who is said to know more about Palo Duro Canyon than any other person, spent one day last week and plans to spend more time next week at Palo Duro pointing out old camps, trails, and other points of interest. He is working with John McCarty, park manager, and others on plans for the opening of the new road down Palo Duro in June.

Grady Hall of Hereford is one of 288 candidates for a Bachelor of Business Administration degree at the University of Texas at the annual commencement exercises on June 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roach of Tatum, N. M., became the parents of a son, William Wallace Roach, on April 28. Mrs. Roach's mother, Mrs. Bess Werner, left for Tatum Friday night on a two week's visit.

Even the rodeo queens didn't attract as much attention Friday at the Lubbock parade, attended by 19 members of the Hereford Riders, as did Cecil Rockwell and others of the club who have that "special look" for Mid-Plains Pioneer Day, May 18 and 19. The little girls giggled, the big girls laughed, and the men covered their faces to hide their grins as Rockwell roared by. He received all manner of insults—much to his amusement.

The local Chamber of Commerce office received word inviting all Hereford businessmen to a "Small Business" clinic at Clovis, N. M., Wednesday, May 9. Place of the meeting will be the district court room, county court house. The morning session will begin at 10 a.m. and the afternoon session at 1:30 p.m.

$2000 Loss From Explosion, Fire

Fire took its toll in Hereford Friday as two blazes caused an estimated $2000 in damages to property.

The firemen were called to the Fraser Oil company at 7:40 p.m. Friday by an explosion in one of the service station's three gasoline pumps. A short circuit was named as the cause of the blast, which sent flames shooting up from the pump about 20 feet into the air. The blast occurred when Jim Robinson, who was just coming on duty at the station, turned on the driveway and pump lights. After the blast, Roy Campbell, the day attendant, turned off the supply of gas from the storage tanks and Robinson called the fire department.

The blaze was confined to the center of the pump but the smoke went the course of a wiring tunnel built under the pumps. It is believed that the spark caused by the short circuit ignited fumes accumulated in the wiring tunnel.

All three pumps at the station were damaged and the center pump will have to be rebuilt. Damage caused by the explosion and the fire is estimated at about $750-$1000.

At the Jowell blaze, the damage was estimated at about $1000 to the garage and no complete estimate can be given for the contents, although loss of replaceable items amounted to about $250.

The blaze was first discovered by Mrs. James Witherpoon who called the fire department and then notified Mrs. Jowell and Corrinne Jennings, her daughter. Both were sleeping in a bedroom at the northeast corner of the house, away from the fire.

Some farm equipment belonging to Richard Jowell was stored in the garage and it was completely destroyed. Several tires to be used on farm vehicles were stored in there and they helped feed the fire. Two barrels of high-priced oil stored in the garage were not damaged.

Murrell Returns From Korea; On 30-Day Furlough

Pvt. Don R. Murrell, of the United States Marine Corps, arrived in Hereford Thursday afternoon from Korea to spend a 30-day furlough.

Murrell spent nine months overseas. He will be stationed at San Diego at the end of his 30-day furlough.

Hoop Skirts, Big Hats Proper Wearing Apparel

Western regalia is the proper wearing apparel for all residents beginning Monday, according to the members of the Pioneer Day committee. The regalia will be in style from now until Pioneer Day May 18 and 19.

Hoop skirts, bonnets, cowboy hats, boots, levis, and even spurs will be completely in order whether for shopping, going to a movie or to work. Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, urges everyone to wear a complete western costume if possible - if not, wear at least one piece of western attire.

At the meeting of the Pioneer Day committee Wednesday night in the Chamber of Commerce office, the program was definitely arranged as follows:

- Friday, May 18
- 9:30 Registration of old settlers begins in Jim Hill Hotel and continues all day.
- 11:00 Judging of business windows by the county home demonstration clubs.
- 11:00 Horse shoe contest begins at Lake Park.

The house, located about four feet from the garage, did not burn, but the exterior was blistered and windows on the side next to the garage were all broken from the intense heat generated by the blaze.

Flames shot 50 feet or more into the air as firemen battled to keep the fire from spreading to the house. One hose was directed at the house, successfully keeping it from breaking out in flames.

Origin of the blaze was unknown. Fire Chief Earl Phillips said the garage was not wired for lights, packed for gas, and there was no automobile stored in it.

Mrs. Jennings said her brother, Richard and his step-son had entered the garage with a flashlight between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Thursday night and noted nothing amiss. Neither of the two who went into the garage even carried matches, she reported.

Richard Jowell stored a great deal of farm equipment in the building and the building had not been locked for about a week because he was removing a lot of the stored items.

The loss at the Jowell residence was covered by insurance as was that at the Fraser Oil company.

FLAMES FROM THE fire that destroyed the garage at the Mrs. G. R. Jowell residence on Fourth street Friday morning can be seen in the above picture. The blaze, fed by rubber tires and trunks and other items stored in the garage, was kept from spreading to the house by the firemen's efforts.

HEREFORD'S SECOND fire Friday was just brought under control when this picture was taken. Firemen are shown spraying water through the underground wiring tunnel for the gasoline pumps at the Fraser Oil company. An explosion occurred in the middle pump when a short circuit in the wiring tunnel apparently ignited fumes in the tunnel. Staff Photo.

Two of the OPS visitors will be experts in the beef control regulation and price field and one will be a general expert.

All interested persons in this area are urged and invited to attend.

Labor Camp First Sanitation Target

A far-reaching program designed to improve the health and sanitation facilities at the labor camp southwest of the city as well as several of the camps within the city limits was inaugurated this week by City Health Officer Dr. L. B. Barnett and City Sanitarian Hollis Rainey.

Purpose of the program, Dr. Barnett said, was to cut down on infectious and fly-borne diseases that have been prevalent in Hereford the last few years.

"We want to stop squatting in town before it starts," Dr. Barnett said, "and this is the first step in our overall health and sanitation improvement program."

After the areas under fire are improved weekly inspections will be made by Rainey to assure the health department that regulations are being complied with.

Dr. Barnett and Rainey met with the management of the labor camp Friday night to plan an overall program for the camp. This program will consist of a drainage system for the camp grounds, the relocation and improvement of all toilet facilities, and the scheduling of weekly inspections.

It is also planned, Dr. Barnett told The Brand, to eliminate all temporary camps within the city limits that do not meet the city health code in regard to sewer and water supply.

Last year, from 300 to 400 migratory workers lived in 10 such camps. There are 151 apartments in the buildings at the labor camp with the peak population reaching about 600.

Rainey is now engaged in locating and planning the sanitation facilities at the present time, Dr. Barnett reported, and the program will begin immediately.

Each barracks has water and showers and they will all have the state-approved outdoor toilet facilities under the program, according to the city health officer.

Dynamite, Caps Stolen Wednesday

The theft Wednesday night of an undetermined amount of dynamite caps and dynamite from a Magnolia Petroleum truck west of town on Highway 60 is still being investigated by the Deaf Smith county sheriff's office, according to Sheriff J. C. Reese.

Thieves who knew what they were looking for and where to find it forced two strong locks on two compartments of the company's exploration crew truck which was parked at the Magnolia magazine just outside of town.

Discovery of the theft was not made until Thursday morning as workers returned to the truck. Reese told The Brand that two sets of footprints were found at the scene of the theft. The absence of tire tracks indicated the thieves left their car on the highway and went to the magazine on foot.

The exact number of dynamite caps or the amount of dynamite stolen could not be determined by the Magnolia personnel.

The locks, which were forced open to get the dynamite, were very substantial, Reese said.

Sheriff Reese warned of the danger of these sticks of dynamite or the caps falling into the hands of children, but the possibility of the theft being committed by children was not given much credence by Reese.

Mavis Hensley Wins West Texas Scholarship

Mavis Hensley, a Hereford High school senior, won a $100 scholarship and other prizes Tuesday morning when she was named winner of the quiz program sponsored by the West Texas State speech department. Mavis participated with four other students representing Adrian, Vega, Follett, and Lefors. Bovina was scheduled to have an entry, but was not represented.

The 30-minute program included question on American history, American literature, and grammar. In addition to the scholarship, Mavis won a dress and a make-up kit. Mavis, who attended Hereford schools about six years, lives with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Powell, five miles south of Summerfield. She is planning to make use of the scholarship next year, at W.T. where she will either major in speech or radio. After winning the contest Thursday, she made her room reservations at W.T. Supt. and Mrs. George Graham attended the contest with Mavis.

F. H. Oberthier is on the war path. He just finished reading reports that the United States faces a national calamity in the loss of the current crop in the winter wheat belt. The report showed more than 80 percent loss in Texas—with probably even greater loss by harvest time.

This is all bad enough, but what really burns Mr. Oberthier to a crisp is the fact that several groups of people right here in Hereford are circulating petitions to send two million tons of wheat to India. He has lived here a long, long time and Mr. Oberthier predicts that we will need every grain of wheat possible in the United States, before we have another bumper crop or even a normal yield, green bugs considered.

If we just have to give it away, why not give this $2.50 wheat to the folks of Deaf Smith county? This is how Mr. Oberthier reasons the matter and he feels reasonably sure it will be needed for seed next year. He has written to his congressman, who replies that extreme pressure for the India wheat is being urged by letters and petitions from people all over the district. In addition to all of these things, he furthermore figures that we are merely aiding and abetting Red China and Communism by helping India; at least, this is the same method by which we handled the Chinese who wound up by fighting us with our own supplies.

All of which makes pretty good sense. No one likes to think about people starving in India, but it is still better than having them starve in the United States. People should certainly think twice before they sign a petition to send wheat to any foreign country. Besides, India turned to cotton and voluntarily dropped a lot of their wheat acreage.

The Erickson crop reporting service says: "The government estimated that Texas planted 6,416,000 acres to winter wheat last fall. I estimate that 5,132,000 acres have already been abandoned." Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma have likewise suffered severe losses.

GUESS WHO? On Extreme right

Notice in The Brand where Hereford now boasts a city sanitarian. I think his first job should be to carefully check the ducking tank on Main Street. Jim Lipscomb says two goldfish were placed in the tank and one has already died. What could you expect with guys like Dick Lucas and Leo Forrest being ducked in the tank? This should be an immediate challenge to Hollis Rainey. He might investigate thoroughly by being personally ducked. Anyway, the water should be changed. Even Leo admits this much.

In the above picture are the three Reese children and the pudgy little fellow on the extreme right is none other than Sheriff J. C. Reese. It just goes to prove you can never tell about kids when they are little. You sure can't.

Joseph Chmelik of Winter Haven, Fla., dropped in for a visit Friday afternoon. Mr. Chmelik owns land in this area and always finds time to drop into The Brand office. Mac Jackson is one of his best friends. The Chmeliks plan to visit in Chicago and thence back to Florida. He figures the reason Hereford is such a good town is because the people pull together so well. He says no where else in the country do you find such fine cooperation among the people. We agree 100 percent. Mr. Chmelik is right. In addition, he is a splendid fellow but in the newspaper business we would like to pass a law against anyone spelling their name in such manner.

Judge Harry Schultz of Dalhart also called to thank The Brand for running the notice that Jurors would not be needed last Monday. He said it saved the county several hundred dollars. This shows the difference in points of view. All the while I was thinking how much time it saved the prospective jurors. Anyway, it served two purposes. Only three of the 55 showed up.

Understand the Hereford Riders are planning a really big rodeo here for Pioneer Days, May 18-19. They have announced $1,800 in prizes—and rodeo performers all over the area are planning to participate.

Another interesting event is the "Flour Scramble". This is Tom McFarland's idea. He says they will take several barrels of flour and place 25 dollars bills, along with a fiver or so, in the flour which will be poured into a huge pile. Boys who wish can delve into the pile and rescue the money. Tom says he saw one of these scrambles in Oklahoma once and it was really an event worth seeing twice.

I really felt sorry for Jim Whelan the other day. Jim got the toughest job in the whole Lions convention. He inherited the job of taking down the streamers and decorations. I can't think of a worse job. However, he pitched in and got the job done and I sure admire his spunk. I think he should have some sort of special

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm near Bootleg reports on worrying this week, something he has very little knowledge of, if you ask me.

Dear editor: One of my neighbors went into town and sold a calf the other day and he came home so pleased over the fact that he got $150 for it, he almost felt guilty, like he'd cheated somebody. Kept looking around like he felt maybe somebody was gonna take it back. "Most money I ever hope to get for one calf," he said. Personally, I don't feel that way about it. I ain't never seen a calf of mine I wouldn't rather get $160 for than $150, or any other lower price you can name.

The point is, with farm prices sort of high, a lot of my neighbors are worried, they have the idea they are maybe gettin too much, although that's the last thing they'd want to leak out and I ain't seen none of em sendin any money back. With me, the things I have to sell just can't get too high, although I could stand some reduction - in the gouging I get when I have to buy something, and it has never bothered my conscience any to get a big price for cotton or corn or calves or anything else that works its way up through the Johnson grass out here.

But in order to help my worryin neighbors, to sort of ease their conscience when they get $150 for a calf, I would like to point out that I found a newspaper out here this mornin which quotes the United States Department of Agriculture on the question of high farm prices. Accordin to it, farm prices have gone up recently, especially when not many farmers around here have much to sell, but so has a lot of other stuff. Since the Korean war started, for example, tin has gone up 138 percent, aluminum 78 percent, clothes 32 percent, chemicals 27 percent, etc., while in the same period prices received by us farmers have gone up only 21 percent.

Now maybe we all should be worried about inflation and high prices, but personally I'm gonna go sort of slow and hold back and let the tin boys and the textile boys and aluminum boys etc. get in their worryin first. Let them worry their prices down to my level first. Yours faithfully, J. A.

CONG. ROGERS REPORTS

War Contract Leeches Will Be Shaken Loose, Made To Answer

Mail: The mail is still coming in on the MacArthur matter and continues to run in about the same ratio as reported heretofore. Out of about 400 communications received by my office, 390 were in violent protest to the President's action. Six approved the President's action and four were to the effect that both the President and MacArthur were wrong. In addition to these, I received approximately 750 replies to the Fulton Lewis questionnaire. These have not been completely tabulated as yet but the ratio reflects an overwhelming majority against the administration. I should have a final tabulation on these within the next two weeks. The great amount of mail coming in from these two sources, in addition to the regular mail, has prevented the office from keeping up with the correspondence as promptly as we would like. However, those who have written me will receive replies within the next few days, as we are doing our best to get the mail out as quickly as possible.

Appropriation Bills: You are reading in your daily and weekly papers of the present activities of Congress in appropriation matters, but there are a few things I would like to bring to you which are not contained in some of the regular news stories. It is interesting to note that in all departmental appropriation bills and other appropriation bills not directly connected with national defense there are many amendments cutting down expenditure. The committees from which these bills come have done a wonderful job paring down the appropriations, but the committee cutting does not satisfy the whole House and numerous cuts are made in all of these bills. On the other hand it is interesting to note the almost unanimous approval of expenditure for national defense. The appropriations bill that was before the House yesterday authorized additional expenditures for defense purposes of approximately six billion dollars. This bill was ably explained by the Honorable George Mahon, from Lubbock district, and the Honorable Albert Thomas, from the Houston district. There was probably a great deal less debate on this measure than has been the case on most defense appropriations matters involving less than one percent of the six billion-dollar bill. It certainly proves that this Congress is not going to be a penny-wise and pound-foolish in so far as preparedness is concerned, but is going to cut non-defense expenditures to the bone. During the debate on the defense appropriations bill it was brought out forcibly that this country is not prepared at the present time to wage a full scale war against a major power and that in order to remedy this situation, the defense program is a matter that cannot wait. It was also said that there might be some consolation in the fact that no other major power is at present prepared to wage a full scale war against us; the logic being that if Russia was so prepared, she would have already commenced hostilities on a full scale measure. There is no definite assurance that this logic is correct. No one knows just what Russia has. We do know that she has proceeded in the past by the infiltration method and by instigation internal strife and turmoil. It is against these weapons that we must be ever vigilant. We cannot let down our guard for an instant.

Trial of Rumely and Patterson: A District jury here convicted Dr. Edwin A. Rumely for contempt of Congress for failing to fully disclose the source of the funds used in carrying on his lobbying activities. He will be remembered as the head of the "Committee for Constitutional Government", and the same man who was convicted after World War I for violating the "Trading with the Enemy" Act. His conviction there grew out of his activities with the Imperial German Government during the war. He has been called one of the leading proponents of fascism in this country. William L. Patterson, the negro communist leader, was also tried here, but his trial resulted in a hung jury, which was 9 to 3 according to the reports. His counsel consisted of Vito Marcantonio, a former member of Congress from New York, and also one of the lawyers who represented the eleven communists who were tried and convicted before Judge Medina. A great deal of testimony in the Patterson's case centered around a heated argument in the Congressional hearing between him and a Georgia congressman by the name of Henderson Lanham. The argument of course was on a racial basis. It is my understanding that Patterson is to be retried.

Discrepancies in Government Contracts: In a previous news letter I called to your attention on some discrepancies that had been discovered in payroll matters in connection with the Sampson Air Force Base in New York. These discrepancies were uncovered by the Appropriations Committee. Here are some more that were brought out at one of the hearings, and I quote from the record:

"The administrative payroll for the period (week) ending January 6, 1951, of the original contractor (Five Boro Construction Corp., and Malan Plumbing Co., Inc.) shows salaries at regular rates as follows:

Arnold Kagan, president, construction corporation, general policy determination in charge of subcontracts, corporation liaison with U. S. Government on job — $1,000.
Sid Feldman, vice-president, construction corporation, general policy determined in charge of subcontracts, general manager plumbing and heating, corporation liaison with U. S. Government on job — $1,000.
Nathan Cohen, secretary of construction corporation in charge of New York office in conjunction with Irving Feldman in charge of purchases and expediting of general construction materials and supplies for job — $600.
Edward Feldman, assistant project manager in charge of plumbing and heating and purchases of plumbing and heating materials and allocation to sites, progress schedules re plumbing and heating — $500.
Hyman J. Feldman, assistant project manager in charge of plumbing and heating supervision of field operations plumbing and heating — $500.
Sol Feldman, assistant office manager New York branch office; assistant purchasing agent and expeditor of plumbing and heating materials — $250.
Irving Feldman, treasurer of corporation, in charge of New York branch office in conjunction with Nathan Cohen in charge of purchases plumbing and heating — $250.

Nathan Prashker, assistant secretary of corporation in charge of finance, liaison with banks, etc. — $200.
"The payroll for the period ending January 13, 1951, appears to be the same as the one indicated above with the exception that at the end there is added the names of Robert J. Frankel, resident counsel-administrative representative in charge of subcontracts labor relations and other legal matters, for which no salary is indicated; and Raymond Borge (last name in doubt), office manager in charge of office personnel and operation, at $150 per week.
"The payroll for the period ending January 20, 1951, appears to be the same as the preceding one, including the last two names mentioned in the paragraph above.
"The payroll for the period ending January 27, 1951, appears to be the same as the preceding one with the exception that on this payroll Robert J. Frankel received the sum of $300.
"The payroll for the period ending February 3, 1951, appears to be the same as the preceding one with the exception that the salary of Raymond Borge is $175 instead of $150 as shown for the preceding period, and there was added the names of Frank A. O'Hare, project manager at $300; Joseph Henrichs, assistant project manager in charge of progress schedules and general construction purchase orders subcontracts at $300; and William J. O'Hare, assistant project manager in charge of general field operations at $300.
"The payroll for the period ending February 10, 1951, appears to be the same as the preceding one."

You will note that the figures shown are on a week basis and not a per month basis. It was practices of this kind that cost the taxpayers during World War II, and this Congress is not going to stand for any recurrence of this sort of thing. The "Renegotiations Act" this time is going to have teeth in it and is going to be used, and leeches on the Government are going to be shaken loose and required to answer for all shady practices. I am sorry that space will not permit me to go further into this matter, but will do so later on.

Four Deaf Smith County women are leaving today for Carlsbad, N. M., to take a two-weeks home nursing course in order to become home nursing instructors for Deaf Smith county.

All four of the women are members of county home demonstration clubs who are especially interested in each community in the county having a home nursing course. The individual clubs have already selected a home defense chairman who are working on the project with Mrs. R. R. Wills, Red Cross home nursing chairman for the county.

Taking the course, May 7-18, will be Mrs. Ed M. Cox, West Hereford Club; Miss Ethel Browning of Vega, Heilsman club; Mrs. George Epling, Ford club; and Mrs. P. B. Sowell, Westway club. The women met Thursday afternoon at the local Red Cross office with Mrs. Wills, Fred Baird, chapter chairman, and Mrs. Dyalitha Bradley, executive secretary, to complete plans for the trip. All expenses are being paid by the local chapter of Red Cross in order to obtain competent in-

Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs held its fourth and final luncheon-program of the season Monday at the Methodist Church. Hostess clubs included; Hereford Garden Club, Farm and Ranch, Sims and Ford Home Demonstration Clubs and the Pioneer Study Club.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Neill, chairman of Fine Arts Department, and Mrs. Jim Clark, chairman of International Relations.

Three students from other countries presented the program which included music and discussions. Each displayed his country's flag and other emblems with Katsuro Tauro of Hawaii serving as master of ceremonies. He sang two songs of his instructors for courses here. Miss Taylor of St. Louis, Mo., American National Red Cross home nursing instructor, will teach the course, called "Care of the Sick". The first week of the course will deal entirely with instruction, and the second week each student will do practice teaching under the supervision of Miss Taylor. "Red Cross has no boundary lines", Mrs. Bradley pointed out when explaining that Carlsbad was the nearest point available for receiving instruction in the art of teaching home nursing. Plans are now underway for home nursing courses to begin as soon as these instructors return to Hereford.

Paul dePaula of Brazil said his country was as large as the United States and another Texas, and devoted his time to explaining that there is something more in Brazil than jungles and that most of the people are civilized.

Sammy Hun told of his native China and explained why it is hard for Americans to understand China. He told of her vast resources and stated that if China and the United States could work together and combine their natural resources, they could rule the world. Following the luncheon-program a board meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, presiding. Members voted to continue programs presented by the various departments with the present departmental chairman, and Mrs. Earl DeHart serving as program chairman for the 1951-52 season. It was decided that the schedule committee which will include incoming presidents of clubs with Mrs. Guy Waiser, president of the Summerfield Study Club, as chairman, will hold a special meeting on Saturday, June 16 at 2:30 p.m. in the court house in order that schedules may be mailed to club presidents in time to be included in next year's year book.

Range, Pasture Seeding Underway In Deaf Smith Erosion District

Many farmers, most of whom are cooperators with the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District, are starting on their plans to reseed parts of their cultivated land to native and adopted pasture grasses, according to M. W. Stewart, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

While the mixtures of seed vary, most of them contain Blue Grama, Buffalo, Side Oats Grama and Western Wheat Grass. Some also add Crested Wheat grass and either Sand Lovegrass or Weeping Lovegrass. A common mixture per acre consists of: Blue Grama 4 1/2 lbs; Side Oats Grama, 5 lbs; Buffalo-treated, 1 lb; Buffalo-untreated, 1 lb; Western Wheat Grass, 4 lbs.

If Sand or Weeping Lovegrass is seeded it requires only 1/2 to 1 pound per acre. All grasses have a much better chance of survival when planted in a good, undisturbed stubble or cover of weeds, sudan or sorghums. Now is the best time to seed spring grasses so that the first rains will bring them up. Control of weeds, which sap the moisture, is best accomplished by mowing. Spraying with 2-4D will kill the weeds but may also injure or kill the small grass seedlings.

Those who have seeded dry land grasses include: Tom Fields, 60 acres; Ed Jacobson, 40 acres; Norman Jacobson, 35 acres; H. V. McCabe, 60 acres; Carl Wimberly, 20 acres; C. C. Stewart, 8 acres. Others planning to seed soon are: Paul Knupp, 320 acres; C. G. Richardson, 325 acres; Fred Paschal, 300 acres; James Fangman, 80 acres. Several farmers have also seeded or soon will plant a mixture of warm and cool season grasses under irrigation for improved pastures. Generally these mixtures include about 16-20 pounds of grasses per acre divided with some variations about as follows: Southern smooth brome, 8 lbs; Perennial rye, 3 lbs; Orchard grass, 5 lbs; KY 31 Fescue, 3 lbs; Crimson clover or Ladino clover, 1 lb. Irrigated pasture grasses are usually seeded in early fall to avoid excessive competition from weeds. However, they may be successfully established in the spring if weeds are controlled, preferably by mowing.

Farmers who have seeded irrigated grasses or are planning on seeding this spring are: Tom McFarland, Elmer Reinart, Baker Wombie, Wilbur Axe, Archie Brawley. Many of these farmers have used the new Hancock Grass Seeder which the District owns and which is for rent to farmers cooperating with the District. Those interested should see Mr. Newman, caretaker at the county Bull barn in Hereford.

Support Price Increase on Grain Sorghums Announced

Farmers are being urged to plant more grain sorghums by the Department of Agriculture. PMA officials were told Wednesday in a meeting at Amarillo.

The Amarillo meeting was one of two such parleys held in Texas to outline the government's situation on grain sorghums.

A raise of the support price from 65% of parity to 75% of parity was also announced on Wednesday as an inducement to get more grain sorghum acreage.

Southwestern farmers are being urged to grow 10 million acres of grain sorghums this year, according to J. D. Walker, representative of the grain branch of the PMA.

The USDA is urging farmers to grow more grains because present requirements will rapidly deplete the reserves and "The time to take action against a future shortage of feed is not when we have run out of reserves, but now," a department spokesman reported.

In Deaf Smith county, the quota for grain sorghum production before the increase was asked for Wednesday was 139,000 acres. According to the best available estimates, the present acreage will be about 165,000.

The support of 75% parity made on March 15 parity, $2.95. That would make the local support price $2.21.

Oppenheimer Book Review Well Received

Evelyn Oppenheimer was at her artful and imaginative best in her review of "The Left Hand of God" by William E. Barrett Thursday night. She displayed her unique ability of assessing the book in its entirety and weighed, without moralizing, its basic truths.

From the first glimpse of Jim Carmody, the man who masqueraded as a priest, committing the gravest of all sins to save his life and escape a Chinese mountain war lord, the audience was held with the conviction that people of all faiths are striving toward the same spiritual end. It was an achievement that Miss Oppenheimer was able to do without ever being dull or confusing.

In the end Jim Carmody's challenge of finding his soul through experience of misery and violence was accepted by the audience as their own, and the listeners departed exhilarated by the lofty heights reached by the book, and challenged by its ideals of truth which Miss Oppenheimer so capably identified as the spiritual hunger that both separates and unites the people of the world.

Over 250 of Hereford's literary minded populace attended the review which was the first public entertainment of its kind for Hereford. Presented through the courtesy of Sangers of Dal-

MUCH TO THE SURPRISE of Bert Shackelford, manager of the Texaco company at Friona, who is shown standing on the porch, the roof and part of the porch had been lifted Sunday night from the Texaco warehouse by a small twister Sunday night about 9:15. Shackelford didn't know about the twister until he went to work Monday morning and found the roof missing from his building. Repairing the building Monday morning were Friona carpenters, J. H. Hush-Puppy Stands Bid For Popularity of Hot Dog

Hush-Puppies has been a favorite dish with southern Americans since the days of the Civil War. With a pack of hounds at every doorstep, the negro cooks would throw the leftovers of this particular dish to the yapping dogs to silence the noisy puppies clamoring for food. According to legend the slaves would become exasperated with the noise and toss out the food saying "HUSH PUPPIES" and that is how they got their name.

Now, however, hush-puppy stands are rivaling the traditional hot-dog stands all over the United States and when you run across one, stop and eat for hush puppies are really delicious.

Mrs. Phil Radovich collects recipes and one of her favorites is the one made famous at Alpine Lodge in Tennessee. They serve hush puppies with everything. Mrs. Radovich likes to serve them with fish or vegetables, particularly baked beans.

Hush Puppies
 1 cup cornmeal
 1 tablespoon flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 egg
 1 tablespoon grated onion
 milk enough to make a stiff batter (about 1/2 cup)
 Deep fat for frying
 Blend dry ingredients together first, and then add egg, and milk. (Just enough milk should be added to make a stiff batter). Form mixture in oblong patties with hands to size of a small wiener. (Mrs. Radovich measures a tablespoon full and shapes into an oblong roll). Fry in very hot deep fat until brown all over and drain on

Another Progressive Step

Hereford's city officials took another progressive step last week when they announced the appointment of a city sanitarian to keep close tab on the sanitation practices of the community.

The appointment is the end of a long search for a man with suitable training to handle the job. Hollis Rainey, the new sanitarian, took a six-week course on sanitation at Austin at his own expense and returned to Hereford to supervise the local program.

Not only will Rainey check the operation of the food and drink dispensers of the city, he will also be available to assist with and supervise improving sanitary conditions throughout the community.

Many of us are aware of situations around us which are not conducive to good health. There may be many more situations all over the city of which we know nothing that are just as dangerous. That is why we are having a city sanitarian—to ferret out the trouble spots.

His work will be to protect the general health of the community.

He will be responsible for the sanitary condition maintained in Hereford's eating and drinking establishments and the health of those who dispense these products for our consumption.

Hereford has not had a sanitarian sooner because men with adequate training were just not available. The training Rainey received at Austin has imbued him with the fundamentals of sanitation and has qualified him to give us a fundamentally clean city. He will work under the supervision of our city health officer, Dr. L. B. Barnett, so his practical sanitation training will be meshed with the medical knowledge and services of the health officer.

This new department created by the city should have nothing but a beneficial effect on business and the health of our citizenry. It will also aid to correct unsightly conditions throughout the city which work against our common effort for a clean, healthy town. It will assure the consumer that the food and drink he buys is prepared under sanitary conditions and served the same way.

It will assure us that we will have competent assistance on any matter of sanitation and control of rodents and pests we may undertake.

Recognition of the sanitation angles in our daily life to this extent is the mark of a wide-awake city. Our mayor and our city commission deserve our thanks for taking this step for the benefit of the community. Our city sanitarian needs our wholehearted support in his task of making our city a healthier place in which to live.—W. W. K.

Fable of a Little Town

Once upon a time there existed an ideal little town. It had everything: nation-wide publicity, wonderful soil, oceans of water, bountiful crops and above all, some of the finest people on the face of the earth.

The folks in this little town knew an important secret, too, and many of them thought this was why it was such a nice town and why it kept growing. There were, of course, a few who just went along for the ride. All in all, though, the community leaders summed things up with the following sentence:

"A town either gets larger or smaller—it never stands still."

One day several years back, a group of these folks got together and planned an expansion program, based upon the secret formula. You would be surprised to have seen the results. The little town grew and grew and grew. A lot of folks went around complaining it had "growing pains" and when those who were going along for the ride got a little bit crowded you should have heard them scream. Everyone, even the boosters, began to wonder where it was all going to end. Why, you wouldn't even have known the little town. It had street lights, parking meters, a swimming pool, miles and miles of new paving; it had a new hotel and hundreds of new homes—even a few new business buildings. People all over the region talked and bragged about how the little town had prospered and grown.

Maybe a lot of the new people didn't know about the secret, and a lot of the old ones forgot. Anyway, the town began to catch up with itself. Rentals began to slow down. Business volumes were under last year. Crops weren't even so good and a few people began to worry about the little town.

Thus, my friends, the status of this particular little town came to be a question mark. Some folks said the end of the story could not be written now, that only time could record the future. Some of the people remembered the old adage, though, and wanted to start a drive to locate a small factory or two in the little town. Others objected and said, "No. No one gave me anything when I came here." Still other contended that they liked the little town just as it stood that day.

If you think the above is a story of Hereford, you're wrong. It is the story of scores of other towns as well. Some of them are doing things about the condition; others are coasting on their reputation. One small town adopted a Board of City Development in conjunction with its Chamber of Commerce; the move has resulted in the past twelve months in locating three moderate size factories. Still another started supporting its Chamber of Commerce in an equitable manner, financially and morally, to secure the same result. More of them, however, remained little towns; many were over-built and under-populated.

What Hereford does will, of course, depend upon its citizens and the planning board they select. Regardless of the course, however, will always remain the fact:

"A town either gets larger or smaller—it never stands still."—J. M. G.

Let's Clean Up For Pioneer Day

Sponsorship of a clean-up week from May 14-17 was accepted last week by the Hereford Safety Council.

The campaign is not the realization of a need to "clean up" the town, but rather a determination to put a last-minute polish on the city before our Pioneer Day celebration.

Both city officials and members of the Safety Council are in agreement on the overall cleanliness of Hereford homes, yards, streets, and alleys, but they are striving to show our Pioneer Day guests how we can cooperate and shine up our town for them. Hereford had a good chance to put its best foot forward for recent Lions club guests. From comments on our town by visitors, we did it with flying colors.

Now we can outdo ourselves for Pioneer Day.

This is the time of the year when we all like to get out in the yard and brighten things up for the summer anyway, so let's just go a little further and synchronize our efforts with the overall program being sponsored by the Hereford Safety Council.

We'll be amply repaid for our efforts by the impression a tidy town will have on our visitors.

Through a little extra effort, we can show our guests that Hereford is a wonderful town to live in from the standpoint of cleanliness, too!—W. W. K.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

The Midnight Statement

IT WAS not until about 11:15 Tuesday night that President Truman actually decided to issue his 1 a.m. statement firing General MacArthur.

The decision to make this momentous step had already been taken, but the timing was set for Friday, not Tuesday midnight. And the reason for the sudden nocturnal press announcement was a telephone call from Secretary of the Army Pace in Tokyo tipping off Truman that MacArthur planned to jump the gun and get out his own statement first.

The President was still smarting from an incident around March 24 when MacArthur had jumped the gun on him, so naturally he was leery. He had sent MacArthur a policy statement for his perusal and personal reaction—a policy which the White House planned to announce as a peace feeler to China. But MacArthur, without notifying Washington, issued the statement himself.

So when Secretary Pace called from Tokyo Tuesday night intimating that MacArthur might rush into print again, the President called Secretary of State Acheson and Deputy Undersecretary Dean Rusk to the White House where they prepared the MacArthur press release.

Prior to that, late on Monday afternoon the joint chiefs of staff held a highly secret session at which there was unanimous sentiment that MacArthur must go.

Bradley Gets Hot

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and a most mild-mannered man, was hottest under the collar against MacArthur.

Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, and reported by some as favoring MacArthur's strategy against China, actually threw his weight behind Bradley. Though MacArthur's tactics included a naval operation against China, Admiral Sherman argued that we can't afford to get involved in a war with China, and that if you go into China just a little bit—as in bombing bases—you have to be ready to go in all the way.

Only military man who dragged his feet on MacArthur's ouster was Secretary of Defense Marshall, who has known MacArthur a long time, is 70 years old against MacArthur's 71, and who was in France as a World War I captain when MacArthur was a brigadier general.

Ridgway Can Hold

One highly significant exchange of information made between the pentagon and Lieut. Gen. Matthew Ridgway in Tokyo was a cable from Ridgway stating that no matter what happened, his troops could hold out for 60 days. Regardless of what was thrown at him, Ridgway informed the joint chiefs of staff, he could hold for two months.

This cable was in reply to White House fears that following MacArthur's removal, there might be a Chinese attack and a series of American defeats for which Truman, having removed the supreme commander, would get the blame.

Humble Harry

President Truman's usual peppy remarks have not been in evidence during the MacArthur controversy—not even to his personal advisers. The nearest he came to peppy was at last week's cabinet meeting, just after speaker Joe Martin released the MacArthur letter.

"It's time to show the MacArthurs, the Time-Life people and the Scripps-Howard newspapers who is running American foreign policy," he observed tartly.

Day after MacArthur was relieved, however, Truman received a call from Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas, who congratulated him.

"What you have done will make sure that my grandchildren will be free and that civilian government will continue in the United States," Maverick said.

The President was neither cocky nor apologetic. He looked a little sad, as if he had made a terrifically hard decision and knew that a terrible storm was going to break over his head.

"Thank you, Maury," he replied. And he wept just a little. "I do my best. I have to follow the constitution."

Rayburn's Ghost Troops

What Speaker Sam Rayburn had in mind when he told congress that "non-Chinese" troops were in Manchuria, was not Russian troops, but four divisions of Russian-trained Japanese troops. There has long been a small contingent of Russian troops in Manchuria used for purposes of turning Russian equipment over to the Chinese. But there have never been any Russian combat troops in Manchuria. Much more dangerous are the Red divisions massed around Siberia.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell
Congratulations to Bessie Patterson who won the Panhandle Pen women's first place award in their latest contest with her short story "Tim's Time."

After twenty years of wishin' to go through the railroad shops the opportunity presented itself last Saturday and then we found out that a round house isn't round after all—just a semicircle with a lot of tracks and a turntable out in front where we got a ride without fare.

George Jowell of the fire department who was guest speaker for the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. O. C. Williams Thursday would like for everybody to keep in mind the new V. P. resuscitator given to the department by the Kiwanis Club. It offers the best in artificial respiration in case of drowning, asphyxiation, or electric shock.

We don't know who thought it up but one of the most accurate definitions we've heard is the one which defines a split second as the time after the light turns green before the fellow behind you honks his horn.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Majority of Housewives Here Disagree With Mineral Wells Women

Angry Texas housewives at Mineral Wells recently sent bitter telegrams to congress protesting the social security provision covering tax on wages paid domestics. Do you believe regularly employed housekeepers should be included under social security?

Mrs. M. O. Sowell—I guess so. It is a job just like anything else. It should give them security they wouldn't have otherwise—that's what social security means. They probably don't want to go to the trouble to do anything about it—to fill the farms out. It would be a lot of trouble if part time help were covered.

Mrs. Gene Bradshaw—Yes, I do. I believe they should.

Mrs. John Winkler—it would be a lot of trouble. If I hired that kind of help, I'm sure I would be willing to do that much for them to have their social security when they need it. I know my husband has paid social security some time, and sometime we expect to get something out of it. I'm sure the people that do that kind of work would like to, too. If I had that kind of work done, surely I would have time to fill out a social security form.

Mrs. Leroy Williams—Yes, I do because that is a benefit for them. I have been in public work a lot as a bookkeeper and I look forward to mine if I ever need it in later years.

Mrs. Jim Robinson—No mam, I sure don't. I don't think it is right for them to pay social security. There is just a lot of them who don't benefit from it when they get older and get where they can't work.

Mrs. Berry Orr—Yes, I do. If it's just and equitable for other people, why not for the housewife? Incidentally, I'm from Marshall, Texas—I was reared there, and I notice they are kicking up the biggest racket. They will probably disown me.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:
My husband is very critical of my clothes. Before I buy a hat or dress I have to bring them home for his approval, or he doesn't like it one bit. Some of the things he likes I can't abide, so I go around wearing unbecoming clothes just to please him.
Don't you think I should have the privilege of choosing my own clothes?
WIFE
ARKANSAS.
Answer:
I think every woman and every man should have the right to choose her or his clothes and enjoy wearing what they like. Most of us like to wear clothes that our better halves like, but if it comes to the place where we have to wear something he doesn't care for, then I feel sure that the choice should lie with the person wearing the clothes.
This is a funny old world and the male population seems to be divided up into two parts—those who pay no attention to their wives' clothes and those who pay too much attention to them. The wives of each set complain so I suppose it is about six of one and half dozen of the other.
Try to strike a happy medium with your clothes and get things that you both like.
LOUISA.
Dear Louisa:

STRAWBERRY PARK IN PORTALES?

The Portales Tribune has a wise idea—it features a photo of a triangular plot of ground, known as Lilac Park, where "once the lilacs so proudly grew." Why no lilacs? It seems a councilman discouraged the idea, saying lilacs only bloomed once a year. Someone suggests that everbearing strawberries be planted as they bloom from early spring until frost. Then someone would probably desire to change the name of the place to Strawberry Park. It might work, but we'd be tempted to take the sugar and cream along about the time the big berries get red.

$14 PER HOUR

Enthusiasm at Portales runs high over the contest to select the Favorite Mother of 1951—the favorite selected in balloting at each of the stores of the participating merchants will receive more than $200 worth of gifts by co-operating merchants. . . . And in Portales, as in Hereford and many other places, it seems a deaf and dumb man was making money at the rate of $14 per hour until he was apprehended by the Portales police. Showing a card stating he was deaf and dumb and needed help, the man collected $35 in small change in Portales in 2 1/2 hours.

TRY OUT TEACHERS

J. Milsap in his "Soliloquy" column suggests, "You know it wouldn't be a bad idea if we chose our teachers and other types of public servants as carefully as we choose our preachers. They come and put on a demonstration as to their ability, if we wish, we call, if they do not suit us, we look again."

CONFUSION REIGNS

Hereford businessmen were confused and so were the business people at Levelland and every other town in the U. S. by OPS regulation 7. The Hockley County Herald says confusion continued last week as to the actual interpretation, meaning, and effect of ceiling price regulation number 7. The Levelland merchants pointed out that the regulation would control to some extent local price rises, but no effective control was fixed on basic costs—labor and materials.

STILL WITH US

It's comforting to note from the United Press releases that bubble gum will still be with us—what could we do without it. Bubble gum should have the same snap this month as last as the National Production Authority has allocated the same amount of rubber for chewing gums in May as in April, but this is 10 per cent below the pre-Korean war level.

MORE GAS THAN OIL

The Sun-News, Levelland, says, "Thursday's oil story was more gas than oil" and posthole digger sales didn't jump at all as a result of the story, which related how oil was being produced in Colorado City from postholes and how a University of Texas youth met college expenses by producing 22 barrels of oil a day from holes dug with a shovel.

VANDALS HIT TWICE

Vandalism over at Canyon, just 30 miles away, took an expensive turn last week with the most expensive property damage being a pure bred heifer, valued at $500, which was shot and killed on the Arch Hunsley place north of town. The vandals hit the Hunsley place again last Sunday afternoon, letting a herd of Herefords into an alfalfa field where three cows became badly bloated (by quick action the animals lives were saved); then the intruders pushed a wagon load of fence posts and building materials into the creek, rolling the wagon off a 200-foot bank into 6 feet of water. Investigating officers believe the vandals are either men or good sized boys because of the weight of the wagon.

A federal offense was committed by vandals on Tuesday night of last week when they tore down mail boxes along Rural Route 2, running east and northeast of Canyon. FBI officers and Sheriff M. E. Cantrell are investigating.

DISASTER AREAS

How do Deaf Smith County farmers compare? Both Roberts and Hemphill counties, according to the Miami Chief, have been declared disaster areas because of a prolonged drought and insect infestation. The action means that farmers in the two counties will be eligible to apply for loans from the Farmers Home Loan Association to meet the effects of the drought and insects.

ANTI-SOCIABLE HOSTS

Who wouldn't be anti-social? Mr. and Mrs. Walter Powell of Dumas were anti-social hosts Sunday night to an uninvited guest—a coon which descended through the chimney but was unable to enter the living room because of a metal covering in the fireplace. The coon wore a tag, but no address or name. Finding himself unwelcome, he left the house the same way he entered.

"We don't see where they get their information," remarks The Ochiltree County Herald. "In spite of all evidence to the contrary, the U. S. Department of Agriculture persists in predicting wheat yields of 50 per cent of normal in Texas and Oklahoma this year."

"Crop reporter A. W. Erickson, who certainly does visit the wheat belt, declares the government is always about three months behind the facts in its estimates. It would appear that Erickson is being conservative. The government is about two years behind."

and never says anything of importance. All the time I am reading or listening to the radio, she is asking questions or shouting some gossip at me.

What can I do to slow her down without hurting her feelings?

"MERE MAN".

Pennsylvania.

Answer:

You probably see lots of people during the day and by the time night comes you have heard all the news and exchanged views with half a dozen people.

Your wife, on the other hand, has been busy at home all day with no one to talk with and only the babies for company. Consequently, by the time you come in she is all set for a nice chatty evening, while all you are looking for is peace and rest for a worried mind.

The best solution to such a problem, I think, is for you to make it a plan to devote part of the evening to her and claim a part for yourself. Don't grab the paper or turn on the radio the minute you get in the house. Tell her the news and listen to what she has to say. Let her know that you want to read the paper and hear your favorite programs, but that you are also interested in her.

You probably found her vivacity one of her main attractions before you were married so naturally she thinks you still enjoy some lively conversation. And if she turned grumpy on you now and kept quiet all of the time, you would no doubt miss her talkativeness.

Try to get together on this problem by putting yourself in

Oppenheimer Selects Own Books To Review for Public

A pioneer in Texas in her particular field, Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer, who says she started reviewing books "entirely by accident", gave a public book review of "Left Hand of God" here Thursday evening, sponsored locally by the Episcopal and Methodist Women.

The book reviewer is sent out by Sanger's of Dallas, with whom she pioneered the Texas field, her first presentation being in 1936 in Dallas. Her first hit was her review of "Gone With the Wind" which she reviewed 170 times.

When asked if she would review almost any book she was asked to do, she replied, "Good Heavens no! My reviews are entirely my own selection. I refuse to do some books because they are not good enough."

Miss Oppenheimer said she was home (Dallas) on vacation when she was asked to do her first book review. After the review, she investigated the book review field learning that "a lot of sins are committed in the name of book reviews", so she began forming plans to enter the book review field as a professional. Previously she had been employed as a reporter on two different Chicago papers, serving for a short time as police reporter.

The guest reviewer said she has never had a course in speech in her life. Her college training was in the field of writing with a background in literature.

Miss Oppenheimer spends her time doing public reviews rather than presenting programs for women's clubs which are limited in membership. She reads many books in order to find the good ones which she reviews, working one season ahead of her reviews. Through the season, she reviews an average of 15 to 16 books. Her reviews are original from a written manuscript and are not "cuts" memorized from the books themselves, she explained.

If her audience expresses the view "I want to read that book" or "I understand that book better now", Miss Oppenheimer is satisfied.

McLeroy Becomes Castro County Agent May 10

Effective Tuesday, May 1, Raymond King, Castro County agent, resigned to accept a position with the Lubbock Cotton Oil Mill.

Ed McLeroy, assistant county agent in Hale county, is to arrive in Dimmitt on May 10 to take over the duties of county agent.

Turner Fined

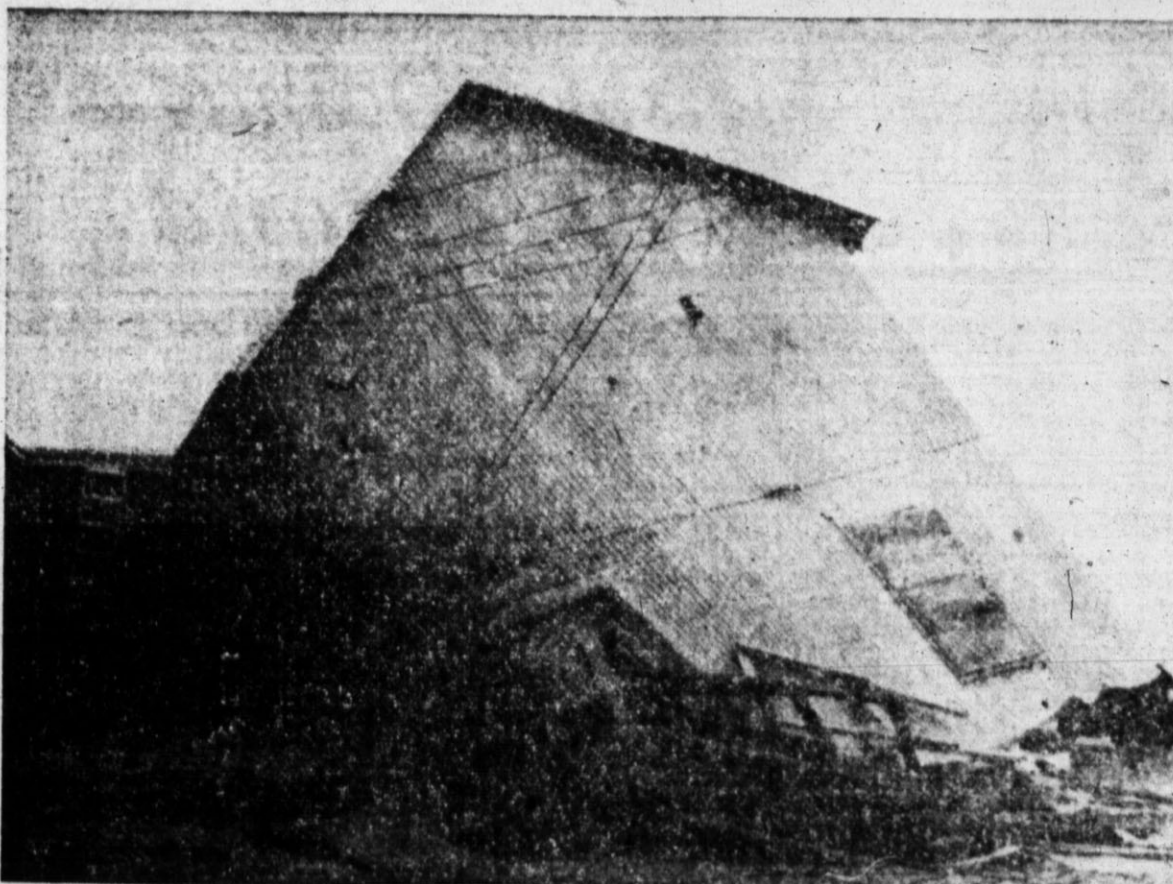

Kenneth Turner of Dimmitt probably would have received another fine from the Dimmitt Lions Club if The Brand photo of Mrs. Turner had not been ruined.

Recently Turner was fined by the club for letting his wife work in the yard. The Brand photographer just happened to take a photo of Mrs. Turner sprinkling her new stand of grass at her home in Dimmitt, but the photo was ruined, so the Dimmitt Lions may never know she is still taking care of that new lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath have returned from a two weeks stay in Tennessee with relatives. They also visited relatives in Atlanta, Ga.

THE DIMMITT WHEAT GROWERS ASSOCIATION is doubling capacity of its elevators at Dimmitt. As shown in the photo, the new bins are being built in the space between the present bins and the boxcar at right. At the time the photo was made, workmen were getting ready for the pouring of concrete which began a few days ago.—Brand Staff Photo.

GREATEST DAMAGE SUNDAY NIGHT from a small twister which hit Friona about 9:15 was to this sheet iron building which had only one of its four walls standing Monday morning. The building, owned by Bill Harnold, was once the utility house for Friona, housing the engine and generator. It is located just behind the Farm Bureau office on Main Street in Friona.—Brand Staff Photo.

SEVEN SINGLE WINDOWS in circular shape form most of the east wall of the living room in the Fred Bruegel home, five miles west of Dimmitt. Although it gives the appearance of a much newer home, the Bruegel home was built six years ago. Eleven rooms, including four bedrooms, are in the house, which was designed by the Bruegels. Michael, age 2, sits on the divan whereon Sandra, age 3, is sleeping. Newest item in the Bruegel home is a television set. At the present time the family gets only flashes of programs from Oklahoma City and San Antonio, but they are planning to put the antenna on top their grain elevator and hope to get better reception. The oldest son of the Bruegels, Fred Jr., is a student at Texas Tech, and Carl is a senior in Dimmitt High school.—Brand Staff Photo.

THE KITCHEN IN THE WESLEY FOSTER HOME is perhaps the outstanding room of the home because of its unusual design and decorating. Mrs. Foster is shown at her stove, and in the background may be seen the natural-finish cabinets. The kitchen includes three "Lazy Susan" built-ins, grooved paneling, glass brick over the sink and preparation areas, and both sewing and eating areas.—Brand Staff Photo.

AT WORK ON THE NEW DIMMITT GRADE SCHOOL AND GYMNASIUM on which construction started recently is A. T. Kirby, Dimmitt carpenter who has been in the business about 20 years. Kirby has been a Dimmitt resident for the past eight years. A $375,000 bond issue was voted on July 1 for the building; however bids on the building exceeded available building funds.—Brand Staff Photo.

Storage Capacity of Elevator Is Doubled

The largest grain elevator in Dimmitt, the Dimmitt Wheat Growers Association is more than doubling its grain storage capacity with the addition of bins with 450,000 capacity, thus bringing their total storage to 850,000.

George Blanton, assistant manager, said the elevator will have 19 bins when completed. Pouring of the walls was started last week in order that the new addition may be ready if needed for wheat harvest. Blanton expressed the belief that some of the wheat in the county will "make it" if it receives moisture soon.

In addition to the Dimmitt Wheat Growers Association, elevators are operated in Dimmitt by Kimbell Elevator Milling company, Castro County Grain company, Dimmitt Elevator company, and Kearns Grain company.

Friona Paving To Be More Than Tripled

Work will be started in the next few weeks on the paving project at Friona which will more than triple the number of blocks of paving in the town, according to Roy Wilson, city clerk and water superintendent.

The new project, included in the $100,000 bond issue passed by Friona residents, includes 62 blocks of paving in the town in all of the main part of town and much of the residential area. There are now 27 blocks of paving.

Wilson said it was necessary because of advanced prices of materials and labor, to reduce the width of the paving in order to contract it for the money available.

At the present time the city is working on a plan to reduce the size of the proposed city hall, for which bonds have already been voted, because bids for the construction were higher than funds available. The new building is to include two offices for use of the city and a fire station. The location will be on Main street just north of the park, Wilson said.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Gale of Leedy, Okla., returned to their home Tuesday after spending the week end in the home of her niece, Mrs. G. W. Edwards.

Dimmitt Gin Being Built for Big Crop

An estimated 60,000 acres of cotton will be planted this year in Castro County, and the Dimmitt Gin Company is planning to be ready for operation when cotton picking begins this fall, according to Bob McLean, president of the co-op. Construction has just begun on the centennial-type gin.

A 4-stand gin, the new establishment will have the latest in equipment. The gin is being constructed on the highway just south of Dimmitt.

Because of government allotments less than 15,000 acres of cotton were planted in Castro county last year, McLean said.

Twenty years ago there was a gin in the county, but in recent years there has been no gin there. The officials of the new co-op report the cotton outlook is different now to what it was several years ago.

George Bradford, vice-president of the company, who is moving to Dimmitt from Lubbock, will be active manager of the gin. Jack Cowsett is secretary of the co-op, and G. L. Willis Jr., W. W. Gilbreath, J. C. Gilbreath, Jack Miller, Carl Kemp, and Miss Ella Mae Willis are members of the board of directors.

Construction of Friona Gin Begins

At Friona the North Plains Gin Company will be ready for ginning the 1951 cotton crop, estimated at from 10 to 12 thousand acres in the Friona territory, which includes approximately one third of the county.

In a recent survey made by J. Alan Romick, Friona Chamber of Commerce secretary, it was revealed that at least 10,000 acres will be planted to cotton in the territory and the gin owners believe the crop will run a little more than that.

Nearly two years ago the gin at Friona burned down, and farmers have been sending their cotton elsewhere since that time.

Wright Williams, manager, said Monday that construction will start on the new gin in the next 10 days at the location on the Muleshoe highway just south of the railroad. Owners of the North Plains Gin Company are G. B. Buske, Williams, and J. B. McFarland.

Approximately half the cotton acreage in the Friona area is on irrigated land, Williams said.

Mrs. D. W. Hawkins spent the past week end in Amarillo visiting with relatives.

One Fourth Wheat Crop In Castro Still Alive

County Agent Raymond King of Castro county says approximately 25 per cent of the wheat crop in the county will be saved this year if the farmers get moisture soon. To help recover some of the 75 per cent loss, the majority of the farmers are turning to cotton and grain sorghums, he said. "Most of the insects are gone", King pointed out, "and the wheat remaining will make it if we get some moisture". King said some farmers have planted legumes.

Carl Eastland, a Castro County farmer, believes he may save 2000 acres out of 3500 acres planted. He recently estimated the acreage would make 10 bushels per acre -- not an unusually good crop, but better than a total loss as suffered by a majority of the wheat farmers in 1950. Roy Haber, who lives southwest of Dimmitt, has prospects of harvesting some wheat.

King said that last week about 600 acres under certification with the state department were reported in condition to make some yield. Among those raising certified are George Bagwell, Jay Boston, Mrs. Frank Davis, and J. C. Gilbreath. Farmers in the county report farming conditions are as good or better this year than last

New Members Are Welcomed By Rebekahs

Two new members were initiated into the Rebekah Lodge Tuesday night when a meeting was held at the IOOF hall. Reports were given by delegates to the Panhandle Association meet held recently in Shamrock and after a short business session the new members were honored.

Mrs. Charlotte Calvert gave a welcome to the new members and Mrs. Alyene Lomenick gave an appropriate reading. Both were presented with corsages.

Refreshments were served by when the wheat crop was a complete failure. Conditions are a little better this year because the ground is not quite as dry as it was at this time in 1950.

Small Twister Damages Property at Friona

Little property damage and no injuries resulted Sunday night from a small twister which struck Friona at about 9:15. A sheet-iron building belonging to Bill Hannold was blown down, the roof was torn from the Texaco warehouse, and a chicken house was overturned.

Hannold said his building was not in use. It was once the Friona utility house where the engine and generator were housed. The building, located behind the Parmer County Farm Bureau on Main street, had only one of its four walls standing Monday morning.

Bert Shackelford, Texaco manager, said he knew nothing of the twister until he went to work Monday morning and found the roof and part of the porch missing from the sheet-iron warehouse. He soon had a crew of carpenters repairing the building, which he estimated as damaged to the extent of $200 or $300.

One Friona resident who was in church at the time of the twister described it as sounding like a train. He expressed the belief that everyone knew it was a twister, but no one became very excited.

Bill McGlothlin, who operates the theatre in Friona, said several customers wanted to leave the show, but he locked the door and persuaded them to stay in the building for fear someone would be struck by flying debris.

Business went on as usual Monday morning in Friona with only an occasional passer-by stopping to inspect the wind damage.

Hereford was chosen as the place for the next Spring Presbyterial which will be held in April 1952.

Texas Cotton Growers Harvested 205 Pounds Lint Average in '50

COLLEGE STATION — Texas cotton growers in 1950 harvested an average of 205 pounds of lint an acre despite weather conditions which increased insect infestation and made control difficult. This yield was not only among the state's highest record of production but emphasized the trend toward increasing per acre yield as compared with the 1939-48 ten-year average of 170 pounds.

The educational portion of the Texas A & M College Extension Service's cotton program was for the fifth consecutive year within the framework of the national Seven-Step Cotton Program. Its objectives were fitting of cotton into diversified farming; soil conservation; planting best varieties; effective use of labor and machinery; insect and disease control; picking and ginning for high grades; and selling for grade staple and variety value. During the year outstanding progress was made in the organization and use of county Seven-Step Cotton Committees. Encouraged by the Extension Service cotton work specialist, county agricultural agents formed such committees made up of farmers, and representatives of agricultural agencies and allied cotton interests in 138

"NEWER HOMES TOUR" in Friona Friday, May 11, begins at the Wesley Foster home, located one block south of the highway. counties. The extension cotton work specialist Fred C. Elliot set his educational program in motion in December, 1949, and pursued it systematically throughout the succeeding months. Training meetings at which visual aids were freely used, tours, practical demonstrations, and publicizing through radio and press comprised his major teaching media. His monthly activities were chiefly with the Extension Service field personnel and devoted to adapting the Seven-Step program to local requirements. In pursuing his objectives the specialist visited 100 counties, held 123 training meetings, and trained 188 county agricultural agents and 1,093 voluntary leaders. In addition, he attended a cotton conference in Mississippi, the three-state regional conference at Texarkana, and participated in the Texas Certified Seed Breeders annual meeting of the Central Texas ginners. Meanwhile he was host to three representatives of the Turkish Department of Agriculture studying Texas cotton work.

Although Texas' 1950 cotton acreage was materially less than in the previous year the use of mechanical equipment for cultivating and harvesting the crop showed no decline except in the number of spindle pickers. These totaled 255 and were used in 63 counties compared with 335 in 69 counties in 1949. On the other hand, 7,134 stripper harvesters were used in 82 counties against 7,003 in 84 counties the preceding year, and 10,004 rotary hoe equipped tractors operated in 97 counties compared with 1949 totals of 6,966 in 81 counties. Machine hoeing reduced the cost of manual labor by about 65 percent.

Gross results of the Seven-Step program, according to year-end summaries by county agricultural agents, show that 42,181 farms in 162 counties were assisted in fitting cotton in balanced farming; 17,094 in 129 counties applied barnyard manure to cotton land; 34,549 in 152 counties planted cotton following legumes and phosphate, and 6,089 in 82 counties reported decrease in root rot. The quantity of insecticides used in 1950 suggests the extent of infestation by destructive insects on the 5,285,005 acres of cotton poisoned. This protective service absorbed 98,000,000 pounds of dust and 3,000,000 gallons of spray.

The program of the Extension Service ginning specialist, F. E. Lichte, sought improvement in the quality of ginning, discontinuance of distorted and underweight bales which are often penalized at compresses, and protection against fires originating within gins and "fire packed" bales. He gave frequent demonstrations in controlling fires originating in the latter with chemicals and wetting agents applied with a portable kit. Further, he recommended new equipment for ginning machine-harvested cotton and measures for eliminating static in ginning. During the year the specialist worked with the Texas Risk System in modernizing a gin, and the $25,000 invested in new equipment was amortized in the 1950 crop. Plans have been made to modernize two other gins operated by the system in accordance with the specialist's recommendations in 1951.

Newer Homes Tour Friday in Friona Features Nine New, Modern Homes

Nine new homes of Friona will be featured in the "Newer Homes Tour", sponsored by the Modern Study Club Friday afternoon, May 11, from 2 until 6 o'clock.

A variety of styles and interior decorations are presented in the nine homes, according to Mrs. J. T. Gee, club president, who extends an invitation to everyone to attend the tour. Tickets are $1, and proceeds will be used for community service.

Signs advertising the tour are placed on the lawn of each home listed. The tour begins at the Wesley Foster home, located one block south of the highway. Tour officials advised out-of-town residents to turn off the highway at the laundry in the west part of town and go one block south to the Foster home, which has a cream brick exterior. Special features of the Foster home include special built-in desks in one bedroom, and special attractions in the kitchen are three "Lazy Susan" built-ins grooved panelling, glass brick oversink and preparation areas, and special sewing and eating areas.

The Ernest Osborn two-bedroom home is described as a "well-planned GI home" with a sewing room which could be used for the third bedroom, built-in bookcases in the living room, china closet in the dining room, recessed dresser and closets in the child's room, and a special laundry and service room.

"Excellent use of floor space for a four-room house" is displayed in the Weldon Dickson two-bedroom home where outstanding points include plenty of storage space, sliding doors, pink and blue color scheme in the kitchen, birch doors and built-in book shelves. The front of the house has a brick trim.

The picture window over the sink and preparation area in the kitchen are points of unusual interest in the two-bedroom home belonging to the Fred Whites who always have plenty of flowers in their yard all summer.

When the Wright Williams planned their new two-bedroom home, they arranged the garage and service porch on the west so that there would be "no west openings" in order that the home might be protected from dust. A patio outside the living room and picture windows on both the north and south walls of the living room as well as the panelling in the den are among the interesting features at the Williams home.

Located on the north side of the highway at the East edge of Friona, the spacious Bert Chitwood home will be open for inspection during the tour. The new brick home features a bath with each bedroom.

Among the special attractions in the J. G. McFarland home is the stairway which descends into the living room. The four-bedroom home includes a den and two baths.

Just across the street from the Friona public schools are the Sloan Osborn and Pete Buske homes, which will also be included in the tour. The two homes were featured in The Brand two months ago. Both homes are large and modern in design and furnishings and both feature radio controlled garage doors.

Mrs. Ralph Miller is chairman of the committee in charge of the tour and members are Mesdames Bruce Parr, J. E. Tidwell, Cecil Robinson, Bill Stewart, and A. L. Black. Following is a list of club members, including the complete club roll, who will serve as hostesses at each home.

Wesley Foster home: Mesdames Bruce Parr, Gene Boggs, O. J. Beene, and Frank Spring.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
By Hal Foster

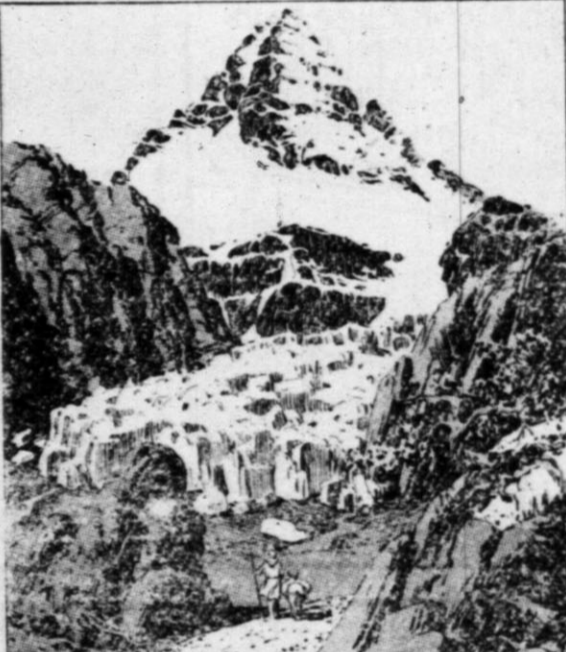

Synopsis: "ARF'S FEET WERE FROZEN CROSSING THE PASS," SAYS PRINCE VALIANT. "EVEN NOW HE IS FIGHTING FOR HIS VERY LIFE; YET WE HAVE A MISSION TO COMPLETE." RUFUS AND EGIL AGREE: A QUEST IS A QUEST.

THEY BID ARF FAREWELL, PROMISING TO RETURN WHEN THE WORK IS FINISHED.

AND VAL LEAVES A PRINCELY SUM FOR HIS YOUNG SQUIRE'S CARE.

PAUL TURNS HOMEWARD, ONCE MORE TO PIT HIS STRENGTH AND SKILL AGAINST THE PERILS OF THE PASS WITH ITS BITTER COLD, ITS AVALANCHES AND ITS CHASMS.

VAL, EGIL AND RUFUS SPEED ON THEIR WAY. THE OLD ROMAN ROADS ARE GOOD BUT THE WEATHER IS NOT.

THEY ENTER ROME AND, THROUGH THE MIST AND RAIN, SEE THAT THE CITY IS A PLACE OF RUIN. THE SCARS OF THE VANDALS' TERRIBLE VISIT ARE STILL VISIBLE.

QUARTERS ARE FOUND AT AN INN

NEXT MORNING THE SUN IS SHINING, THE WORLD LOOKS BRIGHTER AND VAL ANNOUNCES: "LET US AWAY TO THE BAZAAR AND REPLACE OUR TRAVEL-STAINED GARMENTS WITH RAIMENT BEFITTING AMBASSADORS OF THULE!"

NEXT WEEK—Business in Rome.
