Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Troy Boone, area Scout executive, was explaining the advantages of having a lot of younger boys in Scouting the other day to Rotarians. It didn't take Boone long to put across his point either. "When they get a little older they become girl scouts," he said with a smile.

We do not want to make anyone think for a moment that we are doubting that Ranger has pretty women, but, why, we must ask, does the Ranger Lions Club have to import an Olden girl, Thelma Edwards, to serve as sweetheart?

This situation bothers us greatly since by doing so the Ranger club is actually using an Eastland girl. Everyone knows that Olden is one of Eastland's nicest suberbs!

They finally worked out that problem they had over who was gonna meet with who. Speaking of the Lions and Rotary clubs. You remember, each club arcepted an invitation to meet with the other for a joint Brotherhood Week program. Rotarians finally gave in and invited Lions to meet with them at the White Elephant. Or as Jim Horton, Rotary Gusher editor, put it. "We have invited them to meet with us at their own expense."

You know, that's a real sign of brotherhood in action. The Lions and Rotarians sitting down at the same table, we mean.

Donald Kinniard bid a $1.75 on a cake the other day during the March of Dimes cake auction. He bid sight unseen and was surprised to buy the cake for that amount. So when volunteers took Donald the cake he handed them $5, saying, "I'd be ashamed to pay less for a cake as pretty as that."

And that's what makes a March of Dimes drive go over!

They tell this one on Truman Brown, Seems as though Fuzz was called late at night by one of his customers the other night. He wasn't too pleased with things anyway, and when he got there he found the man who called him seemed to think he had to tell him how to do the job. As soon as Brown set foot in the door the fellow said, "Before you begin I want to acquaint you with the cause of the trouble."

The guy's wife was standing by his side when he made the remark, so Thuman bowed very low to her and said, "I am certainly pleased to meet you."

We welcome Kings Roller Rink to Eastland. Recreation facilities here have greatly improved in the past few months, and the new indoor rink—with one of the nicest pecan floor you will ever hope to see—is a definite asset.

Old Bloody Norman Wright is on the warpath again. Seems that Norman, the terror of Ranger, thinks that the citizens of Ranger should talk some oil company into giving them an oil derrick to replace the one they once had in the middle of Main Street. (Still trying to get something for nothing.) He says it would be useful to put up their "Welcome to Ranger" sign they once had on it, ant in addition he would "put another sign up there, emblazoned with letters high enough to be seen for miles away . . . GATEWAY TO LAKE LEON!"

"And besides", Norman says a derrick like that would be handy to string Eastlanders up to when they get out of hand. Ranger needs to hang one of them regularly, just as an example to the rest of them, so they will go easy when they start talking about digging that lake single-handed, using only their bare fingers, toes and teeth. We could keep a bunch of them dangling up there like so many catfish heads."

—vem—

Norm added earlier that, "By the time summer gets here we're going to have a paved road from right outside of town all the way

Beneficial Rain Wets Down Area; More Is Needed

One of the best periods of rainfall in recent years has blessed the Eastland area this week.

A total of .54 of an inch has been recorded by the official gauge, with the rainfall being measured on three different days. A heavy overcast still hangs over Eastland County, and hopes are high for a continuation of the rains.

Observers pointed out that this is an ideal time for the rain to do the most good. Most of the rain that has fallen has gone into the thirsty ground because of the slow nature of the rains. One farm expert said the rain had been more beneficial to farmers than "lots of inch and a half rains I have seen."

This week's rains came on the heels of .86 of an inch of moisture which fell last Wednesday and Thursday. With a trace of rain already recorded today, it pushed the total number of "rainy days" during the first 38 days of 1957 to 10. Total moisture for the year is only 1.57 inches, however.

The rains of this week have been general over a wide area. Almost every spot in Eastland County reported rains, with several sections getting more than an inch. Some sections of the state reported rainfall totaling as much as six inches, and Breckenridge had a heavy rain Wednesday.

Homer P. Cole, local county supervisor, announced Thursday that Farmers Home Administration is now accepting applications under the roughage program. Applications may be filed through Feb. 15 for a supply of roughage feed to carry basic livestock through March 15, Cole said.

An organizational meeting of everyone interested in Teenage baseball will be held Friday night at 7 p.m. in the Texas Electric conference room.

Dial Conversion Is Set For October '58

Walters Tells Lions Of Company's Plans

"Eastland will have dial telephone service by Ocober. 1958," Bill Walters, plant supervisor here, told Eastland Lions Tuesday at their regular noon luncheon.

Walters' statement was the first pinpointed time made by a Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. spokesman as to when dial would be put in use here. The company told City Commissioners last September that the city would probably get dial by 1958. When dial telephones go in here an automatic 50 cent increase for one party phones and 25 cent increase for two party phones will be made.

Walters, an employee of Bell Telephone Co. for 15 years, described how the local plant now operates and told them what the public could expect in the future. He said the common batter plant now in use in Eastland serves some 1800 local customers. Bell has 250 miles of line in use in Eastland and the local plant serves a large area in Eastland County.

Walters said that when the local plant does convert to dial in 1958 the step by step system would be used here. He said Eastland customers would be able to dial anyone in Eastland "without bothering an operator here or anywhere." When calling long distance, he explained an Eastland phone user will dial "O" and a long distance operator in Cisco, the cross-bar office, will answer the call.

Walters gave Lions a word-picture of what to expect from Bell laboratories in the near future. He said that before long local subscribers would be able to dial anywhere in the nation direct, without having to go through an operator at all. He explained that it would be accomplished by having

There will be a charge of $10 for permeasuring the first plot plus $2 for each additional plot. Producers who are interested in this service should contact the county office at once, Powell revealed.

The County A.S.C. office is now taking applications to place the 1957 Cotton Acreage Reserve Program.

Olden won the boys game 61-33 with Eddie Munn hooping in 41 points for high scoring honors.

Gorman's girls, rated as one of the best teams in the state, smashed Olden's girls 72-30 with a display of well-balanced teamwork. Miss Blain was high pointer for the game with 21 points.

Newfoundland GI Plans To Make Homecoming Here

Just what the Eastland High School homecoming can mean was pointed out in a letter from an ex-student recently.

The Air Force master sergeant hasn't been in Eastland for 31 years, but after being notified of the June 8-9 homecoming, M-Sgt. J. W. McAdams, now stationed in Newfoundland, says he plans to "move Heaven and earth to be there."

While in high school here, Jimmy, as he is known to most ex-students, was a member of the the 20's.

His recent letter to Class Agent Gene Harrison follows:

"What a surprise hearing from you after all these years. Thanks for your letter and the Eastland Telegram which brought back pleasant memories of the days spent in the "Red Brick" High School on the hill; football practice under coaches Bagget and Parker, the week-end games in the old ball park, climaxing the season with our arch rival "Big Tam Loboes."

"I haven't been back in Eastland for over 31 years, but visualize in my mind the many changes that must have taken place. Many of the names mentioned in your letter and those in the newspaper ring familiar. This reunion certainly sounds wonderful and I am moving Heaven and earth to be there.

"I have been in the armed forces since 1931, serving practically all over the world, at present my tour is at St. John's, Newfoundland. I was married in 1944, but we do not have any heirs. During WW II served in the grade of major, reverting back to master sergeant in the Air Force shortly after the end of the war. I was an instructor in ROTC at Kansas State College and St. Louis University for eight years, hope to retire within the next five years with 30 years service and settle down in Michigan.

"Well Gene, thanks again for your "looking me up" and I Would like to hear from you and any of the other "old timers". My address is:

Mavs Are Victims Of Clyde

by GENE MAY
Telegram Student Reporter

The Eastland Mavericks suffered two losses as they met Clyde Tuesday. The score for the boy's game was 61-41, cinching Clyde as the District 10-A champions. The score of the girls game was a 50-30 victory for Clyde.

Dale Slatton, star forward for the Mavs, was high point man for Eastland with 23 points. Bill Patton, 5'7" forward, was high for Clyde wih 26 points.

Breeding, another 5'7" man, seemed to be giving the Mavs some trouble until Odis Greene, a freshman in Eastland, stepped into the game. Greene seems to get better every game and is turning into a promising star for Eastland.

During the first three quarters Clyde kept about nine points ahead of the Mavs. The score at the half was 30-25 in Clyde's favor. During the fourth quarter, three of the Mavs were fouled off. Harvey Lewis, Johnny McMahan, and Clint Humphreys made a lot of difference in the strength of Lastland's team and their loss was really felt as Clyde racked up 16 points during the last quarter.

The girls game, a 50-30-loss, got under way with Sue Day out of action. Sue was unable to play during the game because of a bad cold. Sandra Curtis did a fine job of filling the vacancy left by Sue. Kathy Williamson was high point girl for Eastland.

Gereldine Johnson, Judy Inzer, Peggy Humphreys and Jo Ann Hollis turned in fine games.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Wilson Held Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Oscar Wilson, who died Tuesday in the Eastland Memorial Hospital after suffering a heart attack

Services were conducted at the Episcopal Church with Rev. R. A. Lewis officiating.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by one son, Clifford Wilson of Eastland. She was the widow of the late Oscar Wilson, who preceded her in death last November.

Born March 19, 1874 in Forrest, Ill., Mrs. Wilson had lived in Texas since 1895 and Eastland had been her home since 1920.

Interment was in Eastland Cemetery under direction of Hamner Funeral Home.

Ground Observers To Meet Monday

A meeting of the Ground Observer Corps will be held here Monday at City Hall, Billy Jack Johnson, post commander, announced Thursday.

Johnson urged all post members to make the drill. He also revealed plans for a practice alert to be held Sunday, Feb. 24. S-Sgt A. Buchalter, area supervisor, was in Eastland this week conferring with Johnson.

Planning Board Of Girl Scouts Will Meet Here

The Senior Girl Scout Planning Board of the Heart of Texas Council will meet Saturday at the White Elephant cafe in Eastland, at 11 a.m., to make plans for their coming Senior Conference. Two girls from each troop throughout the Council are eligible to attend this meeting.

The Senior Conference is held each year and gives high school Girl Scouts an opportunity to come together for fun and fellowship and to exchange ideas and problems particular to girls of their own age. Senior girls are offered much through Girl Scouting, such as primitive camping, archeological expeditions, an exchange program with girls from other countries, and camping opportunities at such exotic places as "Our Cabana" in Mexico. Last year, five girls from the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council participated in the National Roundup held in Pontiac, Mich. with 5000 girls and 1000 leaders from seven countries present.

Girl Scouting offers a wide, progressive program for all girls, ages seven through 17, with many fields of interest.

Retired Federal Employees Meet In Eastland Sat.

A meeting of all retired federal employees will be held at 2 p.m., Saturday in the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church of Eastland, according to Ed Layton, president of the Oilbelt Chapter of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees.

Former Congressman Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland, will be guest speaker. Garrett was Congressman from the 17th District during the years 1937 through 1941. He is a former County Judge and County Clerk of Eastland County, and lately a Veterans Administration Representative for the Central Texas District.

Election of new officers for the coming year is also scheduled for the meeting, along with other matters of special interest.

Captain Sayre Lists Enlistment Quota for Guard

The Cisco National Guard unit will work to enlist 15 new members in a drive which began Feb. 1 and will end on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22. The unit will be taking part in a nationwide drive to enlist 15,000 new men.

In announcing the goal, Capt. Frank N. Sayre of Eastland said that particular emphasis will be placed on reaching the parents of the young men of the community who are faced with military obligations. It is our intention, Capt. Sayre stated, to show our local citizens how these young men can best fulfill their obligations by serving in the National Guard.

Through enlistment in the National Guard, Capt. Sayre said, a young man can receive his military training with his local NG unit while serving with his friends at home, can earn extra money and build up a retirement pension, and have opportunity to learn new skills which can be valuable in civilian life. Besides this instruction in soldiering and technical fields, the Guardsman can attend regular Army Service schools and receive pay while doing so.

According to Capt. Sayre, young men enlisting before April 1 do not have to volunteer for six months active duty for training although they may do so if they wish. After April 1 new enlistees will be required to take

1956 Is Best Conservation Year In History Of Eastland

Supervisors of the Upper Leon and Palo Pinto Soil Conservation Districts report that landowners of this area applied more conservation practices during 1956 than they had in any prior year.

The local work unit area includes approximately two-thirds of Eastland County. The Rising Star Work Unit serves the southwest portion of the County and the DeLeon Work Unit works the area around Gorman and Desdemona.

Approximately 40 landowners constructed 74 miles of terraces, protecting some 1500 acres of cropland in 1956. Terracing is the building of channels with supporting ridges across the slope at various intervals to intercept runoff. Terraces are built of proper cross section to carry excess water and permit farming operations with farm equipment. Many of the landowners are pleased to note that terraces and contour farming hold maximum water on their fields that would otherwise runoff. In two instances small grain was combined on terraced land and on that portion of the field unterraced grain was too light to justify harvest. Landowners felt that the difference of yields were due to water held on terraced land during a "flash" rain.

Approximately 2000 acres of cropland was contour farmed for the first time. Farming operations are done with terraces and on flat areas below bottom terraces. Diversion terraces were constructed by 35 landowners for a total of nine miles. Diversion terraces are large terraces constructed primarily above cropland to intercept outside water and prevent damage to lower areas. These are designed to carry runoff in excess of what could be carried by standard field terraces. Diversions are also used to divert water in or out of farm ponds.

Seventeen landowners constructed waterways on their farms. Waterways provide the natural way to dispose of excess water from cultivated fields without causing gullies and unnecessary soil loss. Waterways, where needed, are the foundation of a good terrace system. They aid in maintaining the value of your investment in cultivated land and can be used for grazing and grass seed production.

Cover crops of rye and/or small grain and vetch were seeded by district cooperators on 2200 acres for the first time. Approximately 26,000 acres of cropland in the work unit area was seeded to cover crops. Cover crops help hold soil and water in place and serve as an excellent soil improvement crop.

Another cropland practice closely related to cover cropping is crop residue utilization. This is the management of crop residues or other plant material so as to leave a protective cover on the surface of the soil during the critical rain and blow period of the year. District Cooperators of the work unit managed residue on 2278 acres of cropland for the first time and approximately 9000 acres of properly managed residue was reported for the work unit as being maintained over a period of time. Proper use on rangeland was reported on 11,370 acres for the first time and an estimated 31,000 acres of range land was properly used last year. Proper use may be defined as grazing at an intensity which will maintain adequate cover for soil protection and maintain or improve the desirable grass species.

Closely connected with proper use of rangeland is the practice of range deferment. This is the resting from grazing for a definite period to improve forage vigor or to insure the production of grass seed. Three thousand seven hundred and fifty-three acres of range land was given a deferment during last year.

Range seeding was applied on 504 acres last year. Range seeding is the establishment of perennial forage grasses on either depleted range or former cropland.

Farm ponds were constructed on 97 farms and ranches of the Eastland Work Unit area last year. Ponds are built primarily to furnish livestock water and improve grazing distribution.

Fish were received to stock 25 farm ponds of this area.

Many of the above conservation practices such as farm ponds, field terraces, diversion terraces, waterways, range seeding and cover cropping are County Agricultural Conservation Program practices as selected by County ASC Committee, Soil Conservation Servivce technicians, County Agricultural Agencies, Soil Conservation District Supervisors and others. Necessary site selection, layout, supervision and final checks and certifications of practices are made by Soil Conservation technicians. These practices are certified to the County ASC Committee for cost share payments as set forth in the County Agricultural Conservation program handbook.

In most instances dirt moving contractors of this area have constructed a high percent of all mechanical practices. These men realize the needs of the land and are anxious to construct practices that will meet these needs. In a true sense of the word they are "conservationist" and are regarded as an important member of the team in getting all land used within its capabilities and treated in keeping with its needs.

The County has a good ACP program for next year, 1957. Conservation farmers and ranchers are encouraged to continue to apply conservation practices to their lands "for our soil is our strength" a spokesman said.

Safety Hints for Driving on Winter Roads Given

"Motorists should learn and practice a few simple precautions for driving modern cars safely on winter roads," E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, said today in commenting on the program to combat winter automobile hazards sponsored this month by the Texas Safety Association.

"The driver's seat should always be adjusted so that the driver's foot rests fully on the accelerator pedal," McFadden said. "This removes the danger of sudden bursts of power which can cause an automobile to go out of control on icy roads.' '

He also pointed out that proper seat adjustment gives better control over the clutch and brake pedals.

"Motorists should practice smooth driving all years," he said, "so it will be a habit when roads become slippery in winter. They must learn to use power brakes gently, because over-breaking is very easy with power brakes, and very hazardous on slippery roads.

Skillful steering is another "must" for safe winter driving, according to McFadden. Drivers should get the feel of the road and be careful not to over-steer their cars, particularly when driving power steering. The steering wheel should not be held by the spokes or at the top, but gripped with both hands wide apart on the wheel to insure steady, precise steering.

Winter motorists also were warned to keep their cars in good mechanical condition, and equipped with good tires. A set of reinforced tire chains should be in the trunk, ready for use when needed for dangerous or stalling ice or snow conditions.

"Cars today are easier to drive than they have ever been," McFadden said, "but they require even more alertness and responsibility on the part of motorists if they are to be driven safely, particularly in wintertime."

to the lake, and Ranger will fairly be the 'Front Gateway' if there ever was one."

He's still worrying about us calling Ranger the back door to the lake, we suppose. If you are wondering about that paved road "all the way to the lake" you can forget it. Norm is pushing his pavement just a little far. Actually the road will be paved up to the paved road coming from Eastland. In other words, Ranger's gateway will now have excess to a paved road which Eastland has always had.

But to end an apparantly otherwise endless argument, we will grant The Ranger Times the right to use the word "Gatway to Lake Leon." And we hope a lot of Ranger citizens take advantage of the new road to drive out to Eastland's fine lake

—vem—

That's about it for now. See you Sunday.

Wedding Ceremony Is Read for Margaret Ammer, Drake Keith

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drake Keith are at home in College Station following their wedding January 27 at 4 p.m. in the First Methodist Church in Monahans. The bride is the former Margaret Ann Ammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ammer of Monahans, formerly of Eastland, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Keith of Breckenridge.

Rev. Lloyd Peters, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was assisted by Rev. C. C. Gober, pastor of the Wickett Methodist Church of Monahans.

The soft afternoon light gave an ethereal effect to the alter scene, framed by the handsome Gothic arch and focused on the indirectly lighted cross. Immediately under the cross was a huge all-white sunburst of large chrysanthemums and pompoms in the center, circled by stock and graceful gladioli. On three levels, standing candelabra holding white cathedral tapers, flanked the arrangement and two smaller sunbursts on white pillars decorated the foreground. White satin bows marked the ends of the pews.

Mrs. H. C. Womach presented a recital of pre-nuptial selections and the wedding marches and she accompanied Miss Joan Roberts of Plainview as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Ich Liebe Dich" from the back of the church. Miss Margaret Schindeler sang "Wedding Prayer" for the benediction.

To begin the service, Bobby Switzer, Layne Turner, Jr., and John Thomas Taylor of Brownwood lighted the tapers.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the beautiful bride was gowned in white lace and satin. The empire waist and long tapered sleeves were fashioned of the lace embroidered in irridescent sequins. Tiny satin-covered buttons closed the back of the gown. Fitted princess lines at the waist flared to extreme fullness in the satin skirt and full length train.

Her illusion veil drifted from a pearl and rhinestone tiara, and she carried a white mother-of-pearl Bible and an exquisite all-white cascade bouquet of gardenias, lilly of the valley and velvet leaves.

Miss Margaret Schindler was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Lana Turner, Miss Melba Watzon, Miss Joan Roberts of Plainview, Mrs. Bob Curnutte and Mrs. Felix Bulls. Little Mary Parker of San Angelo was flower girl.

Bill Black of Breckenridge served as best man, and the groomsmen were Tommy Harris of A&M and Breckenridge, Bobby Lockett of A&M and Paris, Charles Cahill of Hobbs, N. M., and Warren Greenlee of Breckenridge. Ushers were Jack Thomas of A&M and Fort Worth, Felix Bulls of Kermit, and Dennis Gochring of A&M. Tommy Kent served as ring bearer.

The church parlor was the scene of the reception honoring the couple after the wedding. Mrs. James Brunner of Marfa poured punch and Mrs. Robert M. Reese of Odessa presided at the silver coffee service. Mrs. E. L. Kent, Mrs. W. D. Parker of San Angelo and Mrs. H. P. Taylor of Brownwood served the cake.

Miss Maggie Jean Cleghorn and Miss Laura Jo Pinkerton alternated at the guest register. Piano selections were played by Miss Mary Ann Kent.

Others in the house party were Misses Katy Hale, Ruthie Stallings of College Station, Ardith Campbell, Rose Mary Jones; Mesdames Joe Collyns, Hubert R. Jones of Eastland, Thura Taylor of Eastland, E. L. Kent, J. R. Watzon, R. E. Ward, W. M. Cleghorn, Jack Hale, Jim Conine, Bill Shelton, Patsy Hall Autrey, Charles Switzer, C. C. Gober and W. O. Hixson of Kermit.

Attending the wedding from Eastland were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert R. Jones, Richard and Rosemary Jones and Mrs. Thura Taylor.

Pre-Nuptial Tea

Among the pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride was a tea at the Woman's Club hosted by Mmes. J. F. Collins, C. W. Geue of Fort Worth, Frank Hightower, Hubert Jones, Thura Taylor and Norris Wilson.

The honoree was assisted in receiving the guest by her mother, Mrs. Joe Ammer of Monahans, her grandmother, Mrs. John Sawyer of Monahans and her aunt, Mrs. Henry Taylor of Brownwood.

A violin motif was used with red and white azaleas tied with miniature violins being used profusely throughout the club. The tea table was laid with a white applique nylon lace cloth and was centered with a huge spray of red gladiola featuring a pearl and sequin violin.

Spiced tea, toasted nuts and white cake squares decorated with red hearts were served by Mmes. Bill Arthur, James Horton, Arthur Murrell and Norman Watson of Graham. Mrs. J. C. Looney presided at the guest book. Other members of the houseparty included Miss Barbara Hightower, Miss Rosemary Jones, Mrs. J. O. Earnest, Mrs. J. O. Ernst, Mrs. Ben Hamner and Mrs. A. L. Gallagher.

Mrs. J. Perkins To Attend Forum At Mary Hardin

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland is among the more than a thousand invited to attend the Texas Women's Forum on Water at Mary-Hardin-Baylor college Saturday. The one-day meeting will include two day-time panels and a dinner meeting.

The forum will be sponsored by Mary Hardin - Baylor college and the Brazos River Authority jointly to explore the present and potential water shortage. Water experts of the state will explain the water problem in terms of family life and relate possible solutions for it in terms of what the state and its agencies must do.

Hog Prices Due To Be Up In '57

COLLEGE STATION — Hog prices in 1957 will be well above early 1956 lows and will probably continue higher than last year's prices, except for seasonal fluctuations, predicts John G. McHaney, Extension Economist. Little hope is held for any major uptrend in either cattle or sheep prices.

Swine prices for the first half of 1957 will get their biggest boost from decreased slaughter because a smaller 1956 pig crop will supply slaughter animals until August of this year. It looks like the 1957 spring pig crop might equal that of 1956, due to lower corn prices and improved profit opportunities, McHaney says.

Total cattle numbers and prices will depend largely on 1957 moisture conditions. Although prices will probably be above the depressed figures of early 1956 no real gain is forecast for 1957, declares McHaney, because indications for cattle and calf slaughter in 1957 appear as large as 1956.

Sheep and lamb prices after the middle of 1957 may be below 1956 figures, while prices during the first half of the year will tend to be above those of a year ago, McHaney explains. Prolonged Southwestern drouth is the main drawback against expansion in sheep production although encouragement comes from the wool incentive program and currently higher lamb prices. No reduction in sheep slaughter and no great increase in prices is likely until farmers and ranchers hold back more ewes for breeding.

Summarizing the meat animal outlook, McHaney predicts a year of large meat supplies only slightly under the 1956 record volume.

JUST THE RELEVANT FACTS, MA'AM

The tests of truth and relevancy which courts apply are stricter than those which we use in daily life. As a rule we don't put a man under oath. We don't cross-examine him if his story fails to hang together. We don't jail or fine him if he lies to us. But we do these things in court.

Why is that? Because we think everything that takes place in a courtroom is important. Your property, your personal or civil rights—even your family's welfare or your life or liberty—may rest upon the truth of testimony in court.

Eager as courts are for facts, their tests fall short of those of science. When a scientist doubts the outcome of an experiment, he need not rely upon somebody else's word. He just repeats the experiment in question.

But not so in court. The acts told of in courts cannot be lived over again, for the court to see first hand. For example, you cannot bring back and ask a dead man whether he signed a will or whether the accused killed a man. We cannot re-do a murder; we can only get the witnesses to tell what they know first hand.

To protect each party, there are a number of safeguards. One of these is that we put the witness under oath or pain of penalties for lying. Another is that we cross-examine the witness.

The relevancy test is still another example. Evidence which does not meet the test may be excluded from consideration in determining the facts of the particular case, upon objection by the opposing attorney.

Evidence is "relevant" only when it legitimately tends to answer some question of fact involved in the controversy or case at hand.

Lawyers may seem always to be objecting to testimony. They have a duty to their clients and the court, to see that the judge and jury hear only what is true and relevant under the law.

If a lawyer protests, the judge may rule out some kinds of facts and tell the jury to ignore them. Sometimes too, some facts seriously break the rules of evidence. Then the judge declares a "mistrial" and orders a new trial.

He does this when the testimony is so unfair as to put the rights of the accused in danger. He does this also to protect the public.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

LAWS OF OTHER STATES

We're all proud that Texas is a growing state. Each year thousands of people swarm here from other parts of the country to benefit from the many opportunities in business and industry. In addition to their skill and brainpower, these newcomers bring with them a variety of legal papers and ideas which are based upon the laws of other states.

We don't always remember that federal laws are only a part of our system and that each of the 48 states has "reserved powers" under the constitution to make its own laws. "States' rights" is one of the most jealously-guarded principles in American government.

Because of this difference in state laws, for example, a state like Nevada becomes a popular spot to get a divorce, many businesses incorporate in Delaware, and other states become havens for quick marriages. But there are many lesser-known variations in state laws which can have quite a bearing on your legal affairs.

If one is new in Texas he should take a second look at his legal standing in the light of Texas law. If one should move to another state, he should do the same thing when he gets settled there. Or if one has a plot of land in Florida or California as part of his retirement plans, lets say, or even minor interests in another state, he should protect himself beforehand against any possible complications due to differences in state laws.

The best-laid plans in your home state might put you or your heirs at a disadvantage when interpreted under the laws of another state.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mesquite Trees Cost Farmer $9 Yearly Loss

College Station—A dead mesquite tree is worth more in economic value than a live one, declares G. O. Hoffman, Extenstion Range Specialist. A live one, 10 inches in diameter, will use a ton of water to produce a pound of beans. That same ton of water could produce four pounds of good grass! For five cents the tree can be killed and if it isn't, says Hoffman, it could represent a yearly loss approximating $9.00.

The not-so-busy, not-so-hot winter months are ideal for getting rid of brush and undesirable trees in pastures. Percentage of kill from the 2,4,5-T and diesel oil chemicals is better in the winter and, too, no crops which are harmed by them are growing then, says Hoffman. It's also a lot easier to get close to the brush and give it a better treatment during this time of the year, he adds.

Trees over 4 inches in diameter should be frilled or cut off and treatment applied to the cut surface. After making a frill, spray solution in the ax cut surface until it bubles out of the frill. When spraying freshly-cut stumps, let some of the solution run down the bark channels to the ground line, advises Hoffman.

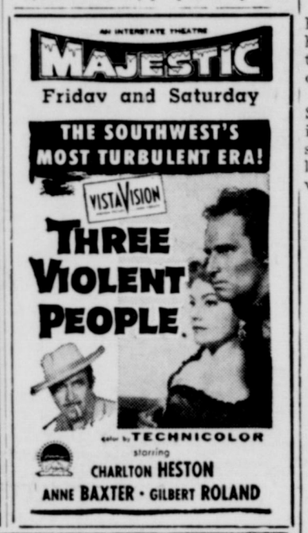

Hoffman says kerosene or coal oil is another good oil to use in brush control. For mesquite eradication, mix one gallon of 2,4,5-T to 40 gallons of oil and for oaks use one gallon 2,4,5-T to 24 gallons of oil. Rate of application per acre will depend on the tree size. Cost of application for a 4 inch diameter mesquite is 1 1-2 cents, and 3 cents for an oak. All you need to work with is an ax, a knapsacksprayer, and chemical solution, he concludes.

Remember the dates, June 8-9. That's when Texas' biggest Homecoming of 1957 will be held in Eastland.
