Panel Slashes Allowable To 46.7 Per Cent

AUSTIN (AP) — Reacting to what it called an easing of the Middle East petroleum crisis, the Texas Railroad Commission has slashed September's 54 per cent oil production allowable to 46.7 per cent of potential.

"Most of the emergency demand created by the Middle East situation has been satisfied," said Chairman Jim Langdon. "This was quite obvious to us."

The 54 per cent factor was the highest since the commission began expressing allowables in terms of percentage factors. The same factor was used in August.

The reduction Thursday reversed a trend of spiraling allowables since the Israeli-Arab war in June.

Langdon said the cut amounts to 180,500 barrels per day and would reduce September's total production by 5,415,000 barrels. The new allowable factor would produce 3,133,500 barrels per day, he said.

Twelve of 16 major oil companies which sent representatives to a special commission hearing Thursday recommended reducing the allowable. They cited rising crude oil inventories.

The commission said five elements in the current oil situation made the reduction necessary:

—Recent increases in crude oil stocks. Texas stocks rose 1,182,000 barrels last week and U.S. stocks increased by 1,447,000 barrels, Langdon said.

—The loss of substantial domestic refining capacity because of crippling fires.

—The restoration of "normal to above normal production" rates in the Middle East.

—"The reported softening of the Arab attitude toward supplying crude to the United States and the United Kingdom."

—The "probable easing" of European and British demand for Texas crude.

According to the commission, Thursday's decision has the effect of giving September seven days on a 54 per cent factor and the remaining 23 days on an approximate 44.5 per cent factor, averaging out to 46.7 per cent for the entire month.

Companies asking for a reduced production factor were Mobil and Sun, 48 per cent; Gulf and Pure, 45; Phillips, 44, and Cities Service and Pan American, 40.

Atlantic-Richfield said it could operate satisfactorily if the allowable were set as low as 20 per cent of potential because of its refinery fire at Port Arthur on Aug. 18.

Proposing reductions only in terms of barrels per day were Humble, 75,000, and Shell, 15,000. Continental and Marathon suggested a cut but made no specific proposals.

Texaco, Sinclair and Standard of California indicated they were getting about what they wanted, but stated they recognized a problem existed.

Only Skelly asked the commission to leave the allowable as it was.

M. A. Wright, chairman of Humble, said he thought the oil industry should commend the commission for its handling of the problem.

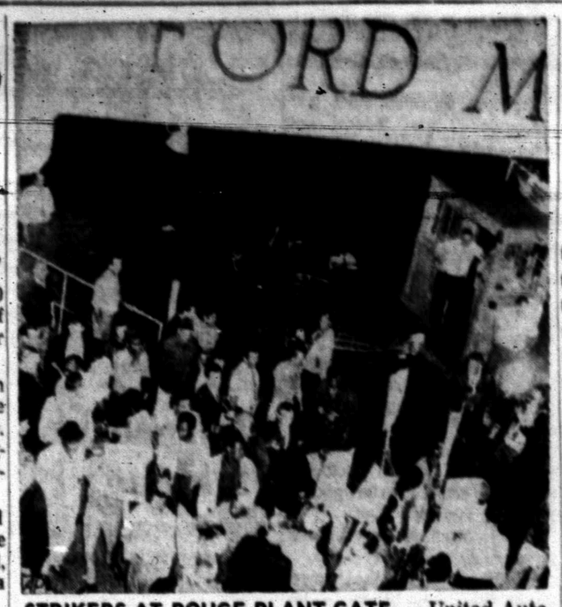

"Your flexible approach has made it possible for companies to solve their own problems in Europe without strong federal or super-national regulation. You have preserved the principle of state regulation," he said.

Wright said that for a variety of reasons, including greater use of coal and delays in crude purchases while the Middle East situation cooled, kept stocks in Europe from getting as low "as some of us thought they might."

He said the lifting of the Arab embargo on shipments to the United Kingdom was especially important in altering the situation.

Since the Middle East war, the commission twice has raised the allowable at mid-month, retroactive to the first of the month, and then raised the allowable again for the following month.

In June the allowable was raised from 33.8 per cent of potential to 35.9 per cent at mid-month. The July factor was set at 42.9 per cent, then was raised later to 48 per cent, retroactive to July 1.

Viet Barrier To Be Built

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chemical soil-killers will be used in South Vietnam warfare for the first time under the Pentagon's new plan to create a barrier against infiltrating North Vietnamese troops.

The Pentagon said earth-poisoning agents will be sprayed over the cleared barrier zone atop South Vietnam to prevent jungle growth from returning and providing concealment for invading Communists.

Introduction of the sterilants will add a new dimension—and perhaps a controversial one—to an already wide-ranging chemical program aimed at wiping out vegetation including crops in certain areas of South Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced plans Thursday for the barrier—actually an early-warning zone sown with mines and electronic eyes and ears. He elaborated little about its operation.

Confirmation of the long-rumored move came at a news conference at which McNamara labeled Michigan Gov. George Romney, a Republican presidential hopeful, as "blind to the truth" in accusing the Johnson Administration of misleading the public about the war.

McNamara also announced:

—The remaining two brigades of the 101st Airborne Division will be among the additional 45,000 men destined for the war zone by June 30.

—A new Army division, the 6th Infantry, is being created in January to offset troop deployments from strategic forces based in the United States.

—The Pentagon's open-housing program will be spread nationwide to end what he called "a shameful story of discrimination" against Negro servicemen. Housing sites near military bases which refuse to admit Negro servicemen will be placed off limits to all military men in those areas.

FOR PEACE IN VIETNAM

Rusk Asks UN Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States believes that the United Nations "has the responsibility under its charter" to do what it can to try to bring peace to Vietnam.

"We would welcome any contribution the U.N. can make to bring peace to Southeast Asia," Rusk told a news confereence.

He confirmed that the United States has been sounding out other countries on the possibility of United Nations action.

Rusk also declared that the United States "would certainly take very seriously" any proposal made by the newly elected leaders of South Vietnam for a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam.

He did say, however, that an actual pause would depend on Hanoi's response because the United States will not curtail its operations "while they continue their half of the war" without check.

Rusk disputed the charge of Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan, in connection with Vietnamese war information, that the Johnson administration had shown a "consistent lack of candor." But at the same time Rusk said "I do not want to to get into what I might call pre-campaign oratory" and he refused an extended reply.

Asked about Romney's charge that Romney had been brain washed by U.S. authorities when he visited Vietnam last year, Ruck said he thought a rejection by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Thursday had "taken are' of the Romney complaint.

McNamara said Romney was apparently "blind to the truth."

"I support Secretary McNamara's statement that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland would not attempt to brainwash anyone . . . Vistors to South Vietnam get candid and factual statements from our ambassador and the commander in chief," Rusk said.

This was Rusk's first news conference since July 19.

On other points, he said:

1. He found no evidence in the actions of North Vietnam to indicate that the leaders in Hanoi are likely to be responsive to peace moves at this time—either the possibility of a new U.N. bid or a Saigon bombing pause proposal. Rusk added that since the conference on neighboring Laos in 1962 there has been "no response from Hanoi," designed to move the Southeast Asian war toward a peaceful settlement.

2. He cannot give any "gold-plated guarantees" that U.S. bombing operations close to the border of Red China will not lead to Chinese entry into the war. But Rusk said it would "be ill-advised for the authorities in China" to decide to go in. The United States as it has done since 1950—intends to oppose again this year all proposals for making Communist China a member of the United Nations.

4. Participants in the Middle East crisis—obviously meaning Arab and Israeli leaders—seem to be showing some sense of the realities they are up against. Rusk said that was true "on both sides" and he obviously took it as a slightly encouraging sign in the area.

VISIT BANK — Mrs. Bobby Stroud and her 4-year-old son, Billy, rode their horses up to the drive-in teller's window at Snyder National Bank this morning and saw nothing unusual in their mode of transportation. "We ride everywhere," she declared.

Horse Back In Modern Bank Traffic

It was just like the old west in Snyder this morning when two horsemen rode up to the Snyder National Bank.

The horsemen are Mrs. Bobby Stroud and her 4-year-old son, Billy. They nonchalantly rode up to the teller's window at the drive-in stand to conduct their business and saw nothing unusual about it.

"Why, you're liable to see us anywhere," declared Mrs. Stroud, the former Earline Chitsey. She was born in Loraine and raised in Hermleigh. The family resides at 600 Avenue O.

Even the teller, Lanell Hogan, didn't seem too surprised.

"I'm used to anything," she explained, "although I admit it is rather unusual."

Their business completed, Mrs. Stroud and her boy hit the trail (one of the main streets) again to return home.

Mrs. Stroud also is the mother of three other children — Bobby 10, Lejeania 7, and Cindy 1.

"They all like to ride," she said, " — Even the baby rides with us."

It may not have seemed unusual to Mrs. Stroud, but one startled observer said that he couldn't have been more surprised . . . unless Lady Godiva came riding up.

Mrs. Stroud was aboard Lulu or Lucy. Her son was riding Black Beauty or, as she explained, "Anything you can call her to make her go —she's kind of lazy."

'67 Cotton Crop Estimate Trimmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated this year's government-restricted cotton crop today at 8,185,000 bales, a decrease of 1,390,000 from last year.

The Texas crop was estimated at 2,800,000 bales and the yield at 363 pounds per acre. The forecast for Texas last month was 2,775,000, the smallest since 1946. Last year, Texas produced 3,175,000, the smallest since 1950 and 32 per cent below the previous year.

Last month the department forecast the crop at 8,332,000 bales, the smallest since 1921. By comparison last year's production was 9,575,800 bales and the 1961-65 average was 14,935,000.

This year's crop, like last year's, is being grown under a government program offering substantial payments to growers for diverting a part of their cotton planting allotments out of use. The purpose of this program is to make room in the market for a surplus.

The department has reported that only about 9,724,000 of the 16 million acres allotted growers under a control program were planted to cotton this year.

DOWNERS GROVE, Ill. (AP) — Ten persons, including three generations of one family, were killed Thursday night in a fiery head-on auto collsion here.

The station wagon victims included Hoffmeister; his wife, Paula, 27; her parents, John Brubaker, 51, and his wife, Esther, 56; and the Hoffmeisters' five children—Beth, 6; Jane, 5; Amy, 4; Peggy, 3; and David, 1.

Texas Unemployment Down During July

AUSTIN (AP) — Unemployment in Texas fell six-tenths per cent during July to a statewide level of 3.1 per cent, the Texas Employment Commission said today.

The June figure was 3.7 per cent. Unemployment in July 1966 amounted to 3.5 per cent of the civilian labor force.

Total employment in July was up 12,700 jobs to 4,195,700. The total labor force declined slightly as many summer job seekers withdrew from the job market after an unsuccessful search for work, the commission said.

Unemployed workers in July totaled 134,500, the TEC said.

Moon Rocket On Perfect Course

By HOWART BENDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Riding into space on the most accurate moon rocket ever launched by the United States, Surveyor 5 raced today toward a lunar soft landing with a camera and a small chemistry lab to analyze the soil.

The mooncraft launching before dawn today climaxed a spectacular space doubleheader that started Thursday night with the orbiting of millions of "astrobugs" and plants in a biomedical laboratory named Biosatellite 2.

Spider-shaped Surveyor 5 started its intended 65-hour, 221,575-mile lunar journey aboard an Atlas-Centaur rocket that blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 3:57 a.m. EDT.

Several hours later, the flight control center at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., reported the craft was on a near-perfect course that was only 37 miles off its target point in the Sea of Tranquility.

That's the most accurate shooting yet in 27 American moon launchings.

"We're on a real good course that will require only a small midcourse motor correction to hit the aiming point," a project official said. He added that all systems aboard the craft were working well.

H. Rap Brown Pleads Innocent

By RONALD THOMPSON

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Militant Black Power leader H. Rap Brown pleaded innocent today to federal gun charges while armed guards stood on the roof and at all doors of the downtown court building where he was arraigned.

He remained free on $15,000 bond.

Before the arraignment, Brown's attorneys filed a request for an injunction to prevent the federal government from trying Brown on the statute that states is is unlawful for someone under indictment to transport arms.

The complaint maintains that Brown's "life and physical safety have frequently and continue to be threatened. It also maintains that the law is unconstitutional.

In the same suit, attorney William M. Kunstler of New York, also attacked Louisiana's law governing treason and criminal anarchy. Gov. John J. McKeithen, named in the suit, had recently threatened to arrest Brown if he spoke seditiously in Louisiana.

Kunstler, Brown's chief lawyer, alleged that federal and state prosecutors have harassed and impeded" Brown and his followers in exercising fundamental rights "in order to achieve the freedom and equality guaranted to the black citizens of the United States."

Dist. Judge Lansing Mitchell set Sept. 20 for a hearing on Kunstler's suit.

Brown arrived a few minutes early for the arraignment and waited quietly in the spectators' section until court convened.

He wore his usual garb of denim trousers, jacket, black turtle neck sweater, sun glasses and tennis shoes.

The proceedings were orderly throughout.

Standing before the judge, Brown kept his hands in his jacket pockets, leaning first on one foot, then the other. As the arraignment began he was asked if he had read the indictment.

"Yeah," Brown said. "I read it."

Then he was asked how he pleaded. "Not guilty," Kunstler said. Brown remained silent.

Strict security precautions were maintained. Only one door of the large granite building was unlocked.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a young housewife with a small child. My husband, I'll call him Arthur, is still in the university, and I work part time to help support us. We have very little money and seldom go out. We have friends in occasionally and find time to have fun together, but here is the problem:

A friend of Arthur's is getting married soon and Arthur mentioned that he would like to go to a stag for this friend.

I told him if he went out I would not sit home alone, but would go out and have a good time somewhere. Arthur objected to this.

I say, in the first place a married man has no business going to a stag. Besides that, I don't like to stay home alone. I get depressed and miserable and sit and look at the clock. Am I wrong?

EQUAL RIGHTS

DEAR EQUAL: Yes, you are wrong. Married men do go to stags. And an occasional night out with the boys is healthy for a man and also for his marriage. You show a possessiveness and possibly mistrust that is unbecoming and unjust. Send Arthur to the stag with a smile, and while he's out get your nose back into joint and into a good book.

DEAR ABBY: There is a man (married) in our circle of friends who always greets me with a great big powerful bear hug.

I am pleased that he feels so warm and affectionate toward me, but I do not happen to feel the same about him. Yet when he gives me this kind of greeting it is impossible for me to refuse his embrace without practically insulting him.

I just do not like to be drawn chest to chest with a man and crushed and hugged. Is there some nice way I can get this big moose to keep his hands off me?

Don't tell me to tell him off. I'm not the type.

PEE WEE

DEAR PEE WEE: When you see The Crusher, approach HIM with your right arm outstretched, and put a lot of enthusiasm into a welcoming handshake. Try it. It works.

DEAR ABBY: For some years now I have been wondering what ever happened to the good old - fashioned fist fight between two youngsters when they had a difference of opinion?

Nowadays, it seems that the acceptable method of settling a difference consists of unmerciful — and sometimes — beatings administered not by one fellow, but by three or four cowards — or a whole gang against one.

I grew up in one of the toughest neighborhoods in New York City 40 years ago, and if I happened to wander alone into the other gang's territory, the worst I could expect was that I'd have to fight ONE of the other gang. If I happened to be getting the better of the guy, I didn't have to worry about any of his buddies joining in to help him. Each kid took pride in fighting his own battles.

If anyone jumped in to help a pal, his whole gang would disown him on the spot, and his name would be "yellow belly" from then on.

We never heard of "rat packs" in those days. And we didn't use switchblades and lead pipes. It was one guy's fists against another's. Some of our fights were pretty bloody. But they were fair.

What's happened to our kids? Anyone care to comment?

Gives Voting Machine The Acid Test

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State John Hill has given an electronic voting machine the acid test. He called in a hotel waiter who said he quit school after the eighth grade and asked him to work the machine.

The waiter, Henry Sistrunk, 36, a balding man with long side-burns, thin mustache and a tiny patch of hair on his lower lip, worked on a ballot in IBM's votomatic machine.

The ballot, furnished by IBM, was the lone one used in California's general election last year.

"Now, Henry, why did you vote for Gov. Brown and Mr. Reagan too?" Hill asked.

"I didn't know I did that until you called my attention to it," Sistrunk said, resuming his hesitant punching of the ballot card with a stylus.

The legislature this year okayed the use of electronic voting machines that win the secretary of state's approval. Hill held the first hearings Thursday, on the IBM machine and on one made by Seiscor, Inc. It will be two or three weeks before Hill gets reports from the three hearing examine he appointed under the new law. Hill said he would not make his decision until then.

"Henry, what do you think of the votomatic?"

Sistrunk said he would not have as much confidence in a card with holes it it as he did in the old paper ballot.

A lawyer representing IBM argued that Sistrunk would have voted faster if it was a real election and he knew the candidates. The psychological situation in a hearing and in a real election are different, the lawyer said.

The votomatic costs $225 with a shield and $185 without. The shield is supposed to provide the voter more privacy. Ballot cards, about $13.50 a thousand, are extra. And each county that decides to use Votomatic or the Seiscor machines, if Hill approves them, will have to buy a computer costing $50,000 or more to count the ballots.

The computers can count from 160 to 1,000 ballots a minute, depending on how long they are.

Charged In Stabbing

FORT WORTH (AP) — "I didn't want to kill the boy—he was one of my best friends," said the young ex-convict, charged in the August knife slaying of Ernest Silva, 26.

"I pulled a steak knife from my belt and started cutting on Ernest. I closed my eyes and don't remember how many times I cut him, but I just started cutting and stabbing."

Roy Meza Jr., 25, blurted out the story to investigators and newsmen Thursday, more than a week after Silva's mutilated body was found in a North Side alley.

A medical examiner said the former Waco convict had been stabbed and slashed 98 times.

Meza said Silva had threatened his brother's life after a midnight drinking spree Aug. 28, and the two, Meza and Silva, stepped from a car into a darkened alley.

Meza said he heard a rattle and attacked Silva because he thought he had a knife. He was jailed without bond.

ON INDONESIAN ISLAND

Sterility Drug Sought

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — In the gloom of Indonesia's primitive island of West Irian, the stone - age medicine man mumbled strange words over the bitter concoction he mixed up in a wooden cup. The woman beside him drank it and then ambled out of the smoke-filled hut.

The mysterious mixture she had just stoically downed would prevent her from becoming pregnant that month, possibly longer. Neither she nor the medicine man understood the principle, but they knew it worked.

Watching the process with a more analytical mind was Dr. Robert C. Barnett, a small, chain-smoking American biochemist. Barnett is convinced the drug is an anti-conception mixture and he may now be on the verge of a major breakthrough in birth control measures.

Barnett, a graduate of the University of Chicago, walked through West Irian's 200-mile long "Cannibal Valley" for two months in search of the rumored drug.

But his tests over the past two years show startling results: One shot of the drug when developed may prevent a woman from becoming pregnant for more than two years.

Barnett feels the impact of this drug would be far greater than the coils and pills now widely used — and widely mistrusted in many underdeveloped countries.

It would be cheaper and far less complicated than present birth control measures.

Barnett, intense and prematurely white-haired at 47, took more than 400 samples from medicine men in his trek through the primitive island.

Tribesmen in the interior of West. Irian, formerly called West New Guinea, practice extensive birth control measures. Barnett believes this is done because of the difficulty in merely staying alive in the neglected and forgotten area.

Tribesmen judge their wealth on the number of wives they have. The wives do all the work in the sweet potato fields while the men hunt occasionally. But if a wife is constantly pregnant or has a brood of children to care for, she is unable to work properly.

Barnett heard of instances where the tribesmen kill any wife who has more than two children.

Getting the special ingredient away from the tribesmen meant long hours hunkered around smoky huts with the medicine men, bargaining knives, tobacco and salt for their magic.

Much of the ingredients he collected was nothing but hocus-pocus, feathers and ordinary herbs.

In addition to all the other difficulties they faced on the expedition, Barnett and his small group arrived just as two primitive tribes had launched a war.

Cannibalism, nearly eradicated when the island was under Dutch colonial rule up until 1962, has now returned. Barnett recalled passing a file of nearly naked tribesmen on the path, one of whom was munching a finger as he walked.

On his return from the other world of West Irian, Barnett began the laborious process of testing the hundreds of samples. He obtained four positive results:

One was a deadly poison that killed his mice outright.

The second had a particularly beneficial influence on the respiratory system. Barnett believes this could lead to new treatment for lung ailments, such as asthma, but has not had time to develop it. The third drug made all the mice exceptionally fertile, just the opposite of what he was after.

The final positive result was what he had been seeking so long. One shot of the drug kept the mice sterile for six months with no sign of adverse affects. Normal litters of mice were born when the drug wore off.

Barnett said the amount he gives to one mouse would be equivalent to giving two pounds of the drug to a 130-pound woman, which would keep her sterile for approximately 2½ years.

The drug comes from the bark of a tall tree that grows in West Irian's dense jungles. To protect his findings, Barnett declined to reveal the name of the tree, although he has a botannical identification.

Similar searches for an anti-conception drug are being conducted in South America but with no known results yet, he said.

Barnett, who is financing his project with much of his own money and some assistance from the Indonesian government, is now working under less than optimum conditions.

He boils and grinds the bark exactly like the medicine men prepare it. Using a special needle, he then inserts the mixture into the stomachs of the mice.

Working primarily in his home, he has spent the past several months running sterility tests on all the samples he collected.

Barnett and his vivacious wife Marina came to Indonesia in 1960 as part of the "Kentucky Team." This was a group of doctors, scientists and teachers brought here under the sponsorship of the Agency for International Development.

The team was booted out in 1966 under pressure from former President Sukarno. But Barnett by this time was already on to the anti-conception drug and opted to stay on his own.

The mysterious drug originally was given to him by an Indonesian scientist. Barnett's initial tests more than one year ago showed it was an anti-conception drug.

He asked for more samples and where it came from but the Indonesian, apparently holding out for a large cash payment, refused further assistance.

Barnett acted on his own. He spent $2,000 of his own money and with considerable help from the Armed Forces, including transportation, he ventured into West Irian to find the drug himself.

Barnett is now a crossroad in his career. The archtype forgetful professor, he said he was not interested in making a fortune from the drug sales.

He wants at this point to turn it over to a major drug firm for development. However, the Indonesian government is also intent on developing it, although it lacks proper facilities.

But Barnett, who was born in a cave 14,000 feet high in the Peruvian Andes, has been an adventurer all his life. He found the drug and ran the initial tests. He may let the powers squabble while he begins looking for new projects.

The All-Tile Bath

Ceramic tile has long been recognized as the ideal surfacing material for bathroom floors and walls, says the Tile Council of America, but frequently is used in too limited an area for full advantage to be taken of its easy upkeep and durability. An all-tile bathroom where floors, walls, showers, and even tubs are of tile will reduce cleaning chores to the minimum and be less expensive than other materials over the life of your home, it adds.

IF CONGRESS WANTS TO DO SOMETHING--

Romney's Statement Opens Way For Vietnam Debates

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Romney may have pulled the plug for increasing political debate in the months ahead over the Vietnam war.

The Michigan governor, an active if undeclared candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, may not have had that in mind in complaining he had been "brainwashed" about Vietnam.

But it probably will be one result. And it flies counter to hopes of some Republican strategists as to timing.

Months ago Congressional Republican leaders, assessing the political implications of the war, concluded that careful restraint on criticism was advisable for the time being.

They thought it was much better to let Democrats carry the ball in criticism of a wartime Democratic president.

After all, it is more than a year until the election. Why get painted into a corner this early in the game?

There was no lack of Democratic critics.

The long list was topped by such eminent ones as Sens. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Wayne Morse of Oregon, a committee member.

Then there were such Democratic senators as George McGovern of South Dakota, Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Frank Church of Idaho and others.

To be sure, there have been Republicans all along unhappy with Johnson's course. But these, such as Sens. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Mark Hatfield of Oregon, have not been so vocal as many Democrats.

Now Romney has stirred things up. To many, Romney's own course on Vietnam does not appear wholly consistent.

Last April, he delivered a major speech at Hartford, Conn., which was widely interpreted as pretty much backing Johnson's policies. The President himself viewed it that way.

But Romney, along with saying he was brainwashed, also says the interpretations of his Hartford speech were wide of the mark.

If there has been a shift of his views, it comes at a time when many political figures think there is a discernible increase in voter opposition to the war.

Morse and Church profess to finding such a trend.

A development of importance in the Republican camp on the war issue was a recent pronouncement by Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky that "I was wrong" in thinking increased bombing of North Vietnam would bring the Communists to the negotiating table.

Morton, a former GOP national chairman, said if a Republican is to be elected president in 1968 "he's ;ot to come up with a real program on Vietnam which will attract the voters, which shows some hope of disengagement."

Romney's brainwash pronouncement set him up immediately as a target.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said the governor must be "blind to the truth" in accusing the Johnson Administration of giving out inaccurate information on the war.

Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey rushed out a couple of statements rapping the governor.

Henry Bellmon, top manager in Richard M. Nixon's undeclared presidential race, declared Romney had revealed weaknesses as a campaigner which would prove damaging in a contest for the White House.

Bellmon, a former governor of Oklahoma, also said he was in Vietnam in 1965 with Romney and didn't feel 'we were misled or brainwashed in any way."

Nixon has his differences with Johnson's strategy, but those close to him say he is deeply convinced U.S. security requires an American effort in Vietnam.

It may be that a major Romney-Nixon debate over the war is shaping up when—and if—they clash in next year's presidential preference primaries.

-A Junior Editors Quiz About HOUSE PAINT

QUESTION: What goes into house paint?

ANSWER: Paint is magical stuff – look how quickly it can bring new freshness and life to worn-out, battered surfaces. People in the U.S. use more than 635 million gallons of paint a year. Paint is liquid with powders called pigments added. Some of these, the prime pigments, give the color, but others, the inert pigments, are added to give the paint body and make it more durable. In early days, colors in paint, especially the browns and reds, came mostly from colored earths. Ancient Egyptians made blues and violets from plants. In 1897, a process of getting colors from products of coal tar was discovered, so the modern paint maker has a wide list of prime pigments from which to choose. Besides talc and clay, mica is often used as an inert pigment. Also, in addition to the older liquids or vehicles we show, there are newer ones such as alkyd resins. There are paints with water and rubber bases.

Little Lad, It's Time For Kindergarten

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Advice to a young man just starting Kindergarten:

Knuckle away those tears, Johnny. It's time you set about the task of becoming a man.

But no one can blame you for crying, son.

It's hard to leave Eden forever, and that's what they are making you do.

Going to kindergarten is the most mementous step in a young fellow's career. The golden, carefree hours are past. The Die is cast. It is sink or swim for you now for the rest of your days.

No wonder you feel bewildered, forlorn and old—older than you'll feel again for a long, long time. Nothing ages a human being faster than a sudden heavy burden of responsibility.

All the others in the house except you are secretly amused, aren't they? They think they remember what childhood is like, but they don't. They don't know that the unknown pitfalls of kindergarten strike almost as huge a terror in your small heart as does the fear of death—the big kindergarten remaining for them—in their hearts.

But courage, lad, courage. It's wise to be a bit cautious of the strange and new. Smart angels hang back where fools rush in to tread.

Right now you're king of the hill, probably, in your own household. Now, at the age of five or six, you'll find a different situation in kindergarten. There you'll meet a lot of other young kings and queens, or at least crown princes and crown princesses. You'll have to learn to share the peak with them.

Learning to share with others will now become the biggest problem in your life, a problem you'll be trying to solve as long as you live.

Kindergarten is ruled, more or less firmly, by an awesome lady known as the teacher. Whether she is a kind Good Fairy or a Mean Old Witch depends to a large extent on you.

If you make her feel that nothing she does helps you, she will think of herself as a Mean Old Witch and you as a Fresh Kid or a Spoiled Brat. But if you convince her that she is prettier than Elizabeth Taylor and smarter than Margaret Mead, she will tell everybody that you are a Wonderful Child, almost Too Good to be True.

As a reward, she may even let you dust off the blackboard erasers.

Yep, kid, you can't learn too young the Art of Buttering Up Persons of Importance. In later years, you will find that, in addition to letting you do their work for them, they will sometimes pay you Cash.

There are so many new things to learn in kindergarten, such as numerals and how to draw animals with four legs. Better concentrate on the numerals. A guy who doesn't learn them will grow up to be the kind of guy who is cheated by restaurant waiters and grocery clerks and second-hand-car salesmen.

Even more important is reading. The letters of the alphabet are magic because they make words, and words—along with deeds— win or lose the world. Books are even better than friends, because books never die and leave you.

TRI-CAPTAINS — From left, Ronnie Shields, Frankie Grimmett and Jerry Rains, tri-captains of the Tiger football team at Snyder High School. The Bengals open the 1967 season tonight at Andrews. Kickoff is set for 8:30 p.m.

IN INITIAL GRID OUTING

Mustangs Test Tigers Tonight In Andrews

Two eager squads inaugurate the 1967 football season tonight when the Snyder Tigers tangle with Andrews' Mustangs on alien turf. Kickoff is set for 8:30 p.m. in Mustang Stadium.

The game pits a seasoned Tiger defense against a potent Mustang offense. Unless the opponents battle to a stalemate, the tussle could decide which is more important — a good offense or a good defense.

There are no returning lettermen in the Tiger backfield whereas Andrews can rely on senior fullback James Baird, 180, and senior halfback Tommy Finley, 205. Coy Watson, a senior squadman, is expected to divide the quarterbacking chores with Ron Leach, 170, junior, and Larry Martin, 170, senior. The hosts also can call on senior Charlie George, 160, and Terry Niblett, 170, for help as running backs.

The Andrews line is anchored by Jack May, 215, senior letterman, and senior lettermen ends Steve Bales and Tim Pearson, both 160.

Jerry Rains, Larry Wadzek, Tim Mebane, Bobby Clayton, Dwaine Boydstun and Frankie Grimmett all can bring numeral - winning experience to the Tiger forward wall.

Two junior quarterbacks will be getting their first test of varsity fire — Steve Holder and David McGinnis. The fullback post will be ably manned by Ronnie Shields. He was switched from guard but saw action as a fullback on the "B" team two years ago. Raymond Rios, a junior with only Junior High experience to his credit, will man the tailback spot while Craig Bell, an end-turned-back, will be flanked wide in the Tiger split T attack.

Snyder just about held its own in scrimmages with Odessa Ector and Midland while Andrews "outscored" powerful Odessa Permian, 3-1, in a practice session. The Mustang performance could be misleading, however, since Permian Coach Gene Mayfield was concentrating on "learning a few things" rather than trying to outscore the Mustangs. Whatever the Panthers' motives, any team that can cross their goal line, even in practice, is bound to have something going for it.

Coach Wayne Tyrone of Snyder and Coach Fred Weir of Andrews will be making their debuts as head coaches in Districts 3-AAA and 4-AAA respectively.

Thursday, the Snyder squad reviewed all phases of the game. The team worked on offense Monday with the junior varisty providing the defense. In Tuesday's session, the junior varsity ran Andrews' offensive plays at the varsity while Wednesdays drill was a mixture of everything with the emphasis on offense.

Probable starters:

Safeties — Dwaine Boydstun, 158, sr, and Mike Flynn, 144, sr.

The Bengals and Mustangs stand at 5-all in their series which dates back to 1951 and has been unbroken since 1958.

Charge Filed Against Finley

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The running feud between Kansas City Athletics baseball players and their owner, Charles O. Finley, headed toward a hearing before Commissioner William Eckert as the A's unlimbered further charges Thursday on two fronts.

Eckert announced in New York that the dispute had been set for a hearing Monday in his office.

His announcement had barely been made when the Major League Baseball Players Association filed an unprecented unfair practices charge against Finley before the National Labor Relations Board.

And Lew Krausse, A's pitcher whose suspension and fine by Finley precipitated the squabble, charged that Finley had intimidated him into making a statement that the owner was justified in his fine and suspension. Krausse also said Finley had repeatedly tried to get him to influence other players to withdraw their request for a grievance hearing before the baseball commissioner.

"He's through scaring me," Krausse was quoted as saying in a copyrighted story in the Kansas City Star. "I love baseball and I owe a lot of it, but if that man doesn't trade me, I'll hang up my glove. I don't want to play for Finley again. As soon as you think you can confide in him and trust him he burns you."

It was Aug. 18 that Finley fined Krausse $500 and suspended him indefinitely for alleged misconduct aboard a commercial air liner. The players, through their player representative, pitcher Jack Aker, drafted a statement critical of Finley and immediately afterward Manager Al Dark was fired; first baseman Ken Harrelson, now with the Boston Red Sox, was given his unconditional release, and Aker was fined for allegedly violating curfew.

The action before the Labor Relations Board was filed by Richard Moss, attorney for the Players Association and their executive director, Marvin Miller. It contends Finley has "threatened individual employes in an attempt to coerce them into withdrawing their pending grievances" and "by so doing had interferred with, restrained and coerced players in the exercise of their individual rights which are guarantteed by law."

Tennessee has back its star kicker, Gary Wright of Heflin, Ala. Wright made 28 of 29 extra points in 1966 and booted four field goals in seven attempts.

Illinois and Minnesota have 15 football lettermen returning.

Duncan Slam Rips Dodgers

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Catcher Dave Duncan hit the first pitch ever thrown to him in the major leagues for a home run.

Duncan, 21, later sent down to the Kansas City farm team at Birmingham, now can say he has hit the last pitch thrown to him for a grand slam home run.

At least until Albuquerque, the Texas League champion, and Birmingham, Southern League kingpin, resume the Dixie series Saturday in Birmingham.

Duncan's grand slam gave the Brimingham Athletics a 9-7 victory Thursday night and cut the Albuquerque Dodgers' lead in the best-of-seven-game series to 2-1.

It was a low fast ball on the outside corner," said Duncan. "I was guessing for a change-up. I just got lucky."

The A's took a 3-1 lead before Albuquerque exploded for six runs in the seventh inning on a two-run double by Don Williams and run-scoring singles by Bill Sudakis, Luis Alcaraz, Ted Sizemore and Kenny Washington.

A single and a forceout scored two runs in the Birmingham half of the ninth inning. Then reliever Norm Dermody loaded the sacks and Duncan cleared them.

Marcel Lachemman, the fourth of five A's hurlers, picked up the victory although he pitched only 1 1-3 innings.

Lions, Cards Vie Tonight In Warmup

By BOOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football League presents its first full schedule of regular season play this weekend while Detroit is at St. Louis tonight in the start of the National Football League's final series of exhibitions.

The AFL opened its regular season a week ago, Denver taking Boston 26-21 in the only game, but has its first full, four-game schedule starting Saturday.

Defending champion Kansas City is at Houston and Boston is at San Diego, both at night, Saturday. New York is at Buffalo and Denver is at Oakland in day games Sunday.

The NFL offers eight games, six of them Saturday, with single games Friday and Sunday in the close of exhibitions that is certain to push preseason attendance past the two-milloin mark. The NFL opens regular season play the following weekend.

Saturday's schedule has Atlanta (2-1-1) at New Orleans (4-1); Baltimore (3-1) at Dallas (2-2); Chicago (1-3) vs. Philadelphia (4 - 1) at Memphis, Tenn.; New York (1-2-1) at Green Bay (5-0); Pittsburgh (2-2) vs. Washington (3-1) at Norfolk, Va., and San Francisco (2-2) at Los Angeles (5-0). Cleveland (0-5) is at Minnesota (2-2) Sunday in a nationally televised game.

The Chiefs, odds-on to repeat as AFL champs, have virtually the same team back that dominated the league last year. The major change has defensive halfback Fletcher Smith replacing injured Fred Williamson.

Len Dawson, who sat out the final exhibition game, will start at quarterback for the Chiefs, who beat Houston 24-9 in an exhibition match. Jacky Lee will go for Houston.

Buffalo has settled on trade acquisition Tom Flores as its No. 1 quarterback over Jack Kemp. The Bills' nationally televised game with New York is the first of a four-game home stand. Buffalo beat New York 31-23 in a preseason game less than two weeks ago.

JV Clash Set Saturday

Three more Snyder football teams swing into action Saturday.

The junior varsity, coached by Roy Carter and Jerry McLeod, host Sweetwater's junior varsity in a 7:30 p.m. clash in Tiger Stadium.

Lamar 8th and 9th grade teams will be in Big Spring to challenge Goliad 8th and the new Toros eleven, respectively. The 8th grade contest begins at 6 p.m., followed by the Toros tussle at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. Travis 9th opened its season Thursday, and the varsity gets its first test tonight. Travis 8th will get into action next Thursday in a 6 p.m. tilt at Sweetwater.

Coach of the Lamar 8th grade team is Ken McAllister. Tommy Echols and Gene Westmoreland are at the helm of the Lamar 9th grade team.

Starters for the junior varsity:

Offense: Ends — Mike Elkins, 152, and Larry Greene, 150; tackles —Ray Ellis, 178, and Dennis Carlton, 170; guards — Delbert Hirst, 141, and Eddie Ray McClung, 165; center — Rocky Land, 150, or Darden Stokes, 181; quarterback — Lee McNair, 160; halfbacks — Otis Archie, 160, or Willis Harrison, 145, and Randy Levens, 150; and, fullback — Archie or Gary Welch, 160.

Defense: Ends — Greene and Land; tackles — Ellis and McClain; guards — Carlton and Phillip Hill, 160; ;linebackers — Hirst, Archie, Brent Beall, 120; and halfbacks — Mark Gilstrap, 133, and Levens, 150.

SEASON OPENER

Whirlwinds Roll Past Travis Ninth, 32-0

Lamesa's powerful freshman football team rolled to a 32-0 triumph over Travis 9th grade in a contest held on the Junior High field here Thursday night.

The Blue Devils fought back gamely, gaining most of their yardage in the fourth quarter, but the ability of the visitors to strike from long distance was the deciding factor in this season opener for both teams. It was one of the best Lamesa teams ever to perform here. Travis, on the other hand, had only four days of workouts prior to the tussle.

Corley fielded a punt for the visitors at his own five and stepped 95 yards for the first touchdown. After he cleared the first line of defenders a wall of blockers formed and escorted him to the goal. A right end sweep for bonus points left the count at 8-0 with only 59 seconds remaining in the initial period.

Another spectacular play resulted in the second Lamesa touchdown as Corley intercepted a pass at the Blue Devil 33 and burst into the clear. Another end run added two points and the advantage went to 16-0. Only three seconds remained on the clock in the initial stanza.

Manual scooted around right end for the Whirlwinds early in the second quarter and managed to wrench free from several would-be tacklers. The safety almost nabbed him near the east sidelines, but a block launched from the side cut him down and the last 20 yards was easy as pie. Davis attempted another jaunt around right end for extra points, but the defense was laying for him and banged him down rudely short of the goal. However, a penalty gave the Whirlwinds another chance and Davis sliced over left tackle to boost the margin to 22-0 with 7:36 remaining in the half.

Lamesa's final TD spanned 22 yards with Manuel doing the honors. He chugged through tackle and slanted towards the southwest flag, crossing the goal with 32 seconds remaining in the third quarter. Another right end run for extra points was good, leaving the final count at 32-0.

The Blue Devils cranked up a 20 yard drive past midfield in the first quarter, a 25 yard march in the third frame and a 30 yard thrust in the last period, but they were never able to penetrate the 20.

Stewart Sims, Blue Devil quarterback, almost broke free during the third quarter march, but the safety managed to grab hold and pull him down just when it appeared Stewart might break into the clear. This particular drive ended in the fourth quarter when Clemens was stopped six inches short of a first down at the 22 on fourth down.

Johnny Matta and Harvey Pinkerton also had their bright moments carrying the ball. With more seasoning, they'll be able to mount some sustained drives.

The fact that the Blue Devils refused to give up is reflected in the statistics which reveal the hosts outgained Lamesa, 39 yard to minus nine in the fourth quarter.

Travis will be home Thursday week against the Big Spring Toros.

Red Sox, Lonberg Clip Yanks

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Lonborg, down about 20 pounds from his normal weight, says he's a little tired. The New York Yankees, down about 20 games from their normal position, are not impressed.

Lonborg, the ace Boston right-hander, threw his second three-hitter against the Yankees in nine days Thursday night, leading the Red Sox to a 3-1 victory. Minnesota, beating Baltimore 4-2, remained in first place in the American League, one percentage point over Boston.

The victories shattered the virtual four-way tie as Detroit and Chicago, idle Thursday, fell half a game off the pace.

Lonborg's victory over the Yankees, now mired in ninth place 17½ games off the pace at a time when they're usually running away with the flag, was all but a carbon copy of the one in New York on Aug. 29.

Economists Expect Critical Days

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With prices, wages, credit costs and spending either at high levels or now rising sharply, many economists believe that critical and eventful days are ahead of us.

It is a little early to say how this drama will be played out, but some of the characters now are being cast. They include taxes, inflation, labor-management discord, business-government disputes and guideposts.

None of these is assured a role, although the chances are remote that many of them will be left out. The only certainty is that politics will play a big role, center stage much of the time, as elections near.

At this point in the drama's development the administration is seeking a tax increase to help offset a large and inflationary budget deficit which tends to dilute the value of everyone's dollar.

This deficit is the result of heavy government spending without provisions being made for payment except through cheaper money. It means that the government has made an excessive demand on the economy.

Now the government seeks to correct the problem by raising money through taxes to pay for its purchases. In its opinion the reduction of demand by less spending will not be sufficient. Therefore, higher taxes.

A tax increase, as viewed by its proponents, would serve two related purposes: reduce the budget deficit; and by taking money from business and consumers, lessen their ability to make excessive demands on the economy.

As the tax debate continues, the inflationary pressures are becoming more evident in higher prices for haircuts, steel, automobiles, appliances, rubber goods. Wage demands also are rising.

There is nothing whatever wrong about higher prices and wages. It is when these wages and prices exceed productivity that the damage is done. Greater productivity is what pays for higher wages and prices.

If productivity decreases or remains stationary, wages and prices can increase only at the expense of each other. Unless the pie is larger, nobody can have a bigger slice without depriving someone else.

What nobody can say at this stage is whether the government will succeed in convincing Congress of the need for a tax increase, or even that a tax increase will solve the problem.

This suggests another role in the drama: the chance of wage and price controls. This is a remote possibility. Note these words, uttered earlier this year by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers:

"As one who spent about six years of his life, during two wars, engaged in price control work. I can report my view that continuous peacetime price and wage controls would be a disaster."

If this possibility is remote, then the possibility of a new guidepost formula is not.

Guideposts were seemingly effective earlier in this decade in tying wage and price increases to rises in productivity. Last year, however, they were pounded into the ground by wage and price increases.

Since then the inflationary fires have been getting hotter, and now there seems to be a very real need for a new guide post formula. The administration, however seems to be having difficulty in devising one.

Nevertheless, rising wages and prices — and the damaging consequences of them—should remind everyone of the somewhat cryptic statement early this year by Ackley.

"I suggest," he told the Society of American Business Writers, "that the next steps in the revival and strengthening of the guideposts must be and will be taken soon, for the present breathing space in price pressures will not last forever."

That statement was made in May and did not include any indication of timing, nor did it even suggest a specific proposal.

If Ackley does decide to have guideposts play a role you may be sure it will provoke the suggestion from private enterprise that government, itself, abide by the guideposts.

This is the drama now unfolding.

Two Texans Die In Crash

SAUNEMIN, Ill. (AP) — Two persons, a Texan and his daughter, were killed Thursday when their auto was struck by a Norfolk & Western passenger train.

The dead were Domingo Casillas, 20, of La Pryor, Tex., and his 2-year-old daughter, Margaret. Casillas' wife, Maria, 22, was taken to a Fairbury hospital where she was reported in fair condition.

The accident occurred north of Saunemin at a point where police said Casillas' vision may have been obstructed by a cornfield.

Police identified Casillas and his wife as migrant tomato pickers. They were taking the little girl to a doctor when the collision occurred.

Home Is Suddenly Filled With Toys

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — There was a thunder-like crash of noise Thursday and suddenly the Albert Saenz home here was filled with toys.

But it wasn't the magic of an early Christmas.

The brick wall of an adjacent warehouse had collapsed and hundreds of the goys stored there crashed through the Saenz roof.

"I heard what I thought was a big thunder and stuff started coming into my room," Mrs. Saenz told police.

Damage was estimated at $22,000. Firemen were still trying late Thursday to determine the cause of the wall's collapse.

Be still

"If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his live is perfected in us." I John 4:12.

If Christ were like us then He was a man!
Approach Him in ways? Of course, we can!
And though perfection we never grasp,
A bit of His love we all can clasp.
Ideal of ideals is He—sublime—
To reach His feet is worth the climb!

Fete Honors Gonzalez

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, will be the featured speaker here tonight at a testimonial dinner for Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex.

Total of 1,100 tickets have already been sold for the $10-a-plate fund-raising affair, according to Charles de Leon, chairman of a committee in charge.

Gonzalez said the funds will go into an account used to cover the expense of holding office, cluding the $400 a month he spends for weekly television and radio reports to the voters.

Tribute and campaign fund dinners have been held here annually for Gonzalez since 1950, the year he was elected to the state Senate.

Following each dinner he releases an accountant's report on the use of the funds raised. Last year's dinner brought in $20,320.

DESPITE COMMUNIST ATHEISM

Soviets Still Believe In God

By JOHN WEYLAND

MOSCOW (AP) — Religious belief persists in the Soviet Union in surprising strength despite 50 years of Communist power.

In a recent survey in the large city of Kazan—the first of its kind known to have been made—21 per cent of the adults questioned said they believe in God. Another survey in a typical collective farm area showed that 57 per cent of the families had religious shrines in their homes.

The actual number of believers is probably larger than these figures indicate, since refusal to avow official atheism has social and career disadvantages.

Soviet authorities have expressed concern about the persistence of religion. Pravda, the voice of the Communist party, earlier this year called for an increased struggle against "religious survival." It said this caused "damage to our society" and called for more education in atheism for all age groups.

There is cecent evidence that new and more subtle methods will be used since the old crude antireligious propaganda has not worked so well.

Komsomolskaya Pravda, the newspaper of the Young Communist League, unexpectedly printed a letter last week advocating belief in God. This was accompanied by arguments in favor of atheism.

But a polite and rational tone was maintained throughout.

The paper, which is read by millions of young people, apparently was trying to get through to those seriously considering the basic problems of life and death. It was not just dismissing the argument for religion as ridiculous.

The Soviet leadership seemed confident at one time that religion could be made to wither away, just as Marx said the state would under Communism.

Although the 1936 Stalin constitution guarantees freedom of worship, churches have been closed gradually and the training of new priests or other religious leaders has been hampered.

The obvious calculation behind this was that the people, without the traditional means to sustain their faith, would lose interest and accept the atheism taught in the schools and extolled in the press.

The churches to survive are obliged to be inconspicuous and unassertie. The Communist regime imposes many restrictions to keep them from getting publicity and to reduce their importance in the community.

Social and charitable work is banned. Sermons are censoced. Children are not allowed to attend services.

Some members have balked at this state control and broken away y from the recognized groups like the Russian Orthodox Church under Patriarch Alexei of the All-Union Council of Evangelical Christians and Baptists.

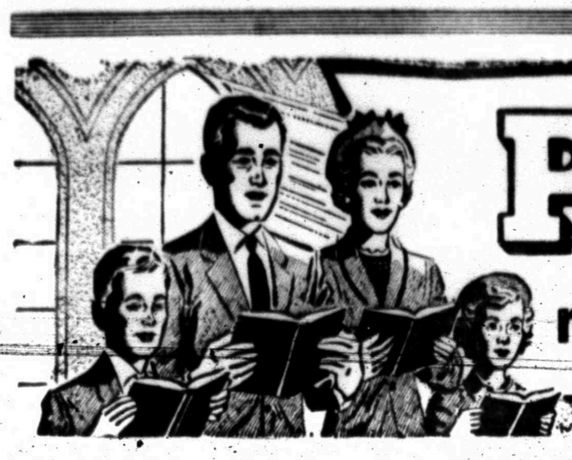

These underground believers are little heard of, except when their leaders are caught and tried for violating laws against teaching religion to the young or holding unauthorized meetings.

The result has been that while religious belief continues the outward manifestations are rare.

SMALL MEASURE

Of all things — a man measuring his religion with an eye-dropper. An eye-dropper is used to administer small doses of medicine but it is not proper in the realm of religion. The mercy of God is an ocean divine, a boundless and fathomless deep. An eye-dropper is much too small to convey riches so abundant.

How unfortunate is that life that will attempt to take the bounties of God with an eye-dropper. Yet, there are those among us who are satisfied with second-hand religion... the kind a man gets when he attempts to let his wife do his church-going for him. God seeks to talk to all of us direct. Mister, He doesn't want your wife delivering yours via the eye-dropper. Go to church... listen to the Divine voice of God as He seeks to pour His infinite grace and goodness into your soul. Don't be satisfied with such small measure... an eye-dropper full.
