County Precipitation in '40 Among Lowest on Record

Total Rain-fall Only 15.02 Inches

Four Other Years Of Record with Less Moisture

The total precipitation for Ochiltree County in 1940 was only 15.02 inches which was at least three inches less than the yearly average for the 50-year record kept by the Department of Agriculture. Since September 1923, Jack Allen, present District Judge, has maintained the government rain gauge for this area.

According to Judge Allen's records and those furnished by the government, only four other years received less moisture than 1940. The driest year in the past 50 years was 1935, with a total rainfall of 13.40 inches. The total moisture for the other dry years were: 1916, 13.70; 1917, 14.22; 1934, 14.23.

Slight snow flurries, that were reported to have been general over the Panhandle, brought an inch of snow totaling .10 of an inch moisture at Perryton early Monday, January 6. Rains fell on the South Plains. Farmers report that crops are looking good at the present time and that the snow will be an invaluable aid.

The average yearly moisture from 1890 to 1940 inclusive is 18.37. Our wettest year during this time was in 1915 with 34.41 inches of moisture. It is interesting to note that the wettest year was followed by one of the driest years. The second largest precipitation was in 1928 with 29.73.

Rainfall for the past five years is as follows: 1935, 13.40; 1937, 15.33; 1938, 21.26; 1939, 19.71; with 1940, month by month as follows:

January, 1.30; February, .70; March, .39; April, 1.65; May, 2.72; June, 2.29; July, .41; August, 1.12; September, 1.98; October, .28; November, 2.44; December, .45.

Classify Men for Military Service

On Wednesday, 106 men in Ochiltree County had been classified for military service by the Selective Service Board. And 48 more questionnaires had been mailed to registrars. The list includes order numbers from 1 to 136 inclusive, and those men who volunteered, according to Mrs. Scott Amend, Clerk of the local Board.

Thirty men were placed in Class 1-A—those ready for immediate induction into service. Classification for the others are: Class 1-B, limited military service, two men; 1-C, those now serving in land and naval forces, 3; 2-A, occupation deferment, 9; 3-A, those with dependents, 68; 4-A, for those who have completed their service, 0; 4-B, official deferment as governor and member of congress, 0; 4-C, non-declarant aliens, 0; 4-D, minister of religion or divinity student, 2; 4-E, conscientious objectors, 0; 4-F, those physically, mentally or morally unfit, 3.

Four classifications contain no names. To date, Ochiltree county has no conscientious objectors, no non-declarant aliens, and no one claiming occupational deferment. The January call was for six men who leave Tuesday, January 14. The next call for inductees is expected early in February. According to a ruling just received by the Local Board, the inductees will have no choice of branch of service or to the Post that they will be sent.

Three Counties Vote on Road Bonds

Collingsworth Votes For Bonds; Sherman And Donley Against

Three counties of the Panhandle, Collingsworth, Donley and Sherman, voted on a road bond issue the past ten days. Collingsworth voted in favor of a $500,000 issue. Donley and Sherman counties rejected a similar bond election. Donley voted against $565,000 in road bonds, and Sherman turned down a $350,000 issue.

By a vote of 584 to 129 taxpaying voters of Collingsworth County Saturday, December 28, approved the issuance of $500,000 worth of bonds for the surfacing of an east-west highway through the county, with the understanding that bonds are not to be issued only if and when they can be assumed by the County and District Road Bond Indebtedness Board.

Returns from Donley County disclosed that on December 28, 552 voted against and only 60 for the proposed $565,000 road bond issue. Of the 13 boxes in Donley County, only two boxes voted in favor of the issue.

Sherman County voters turned thumbs down by a small vote on the $350,000 Road Bond issue to pave 26 1/2 miles of the Stratford-Gruber road east to the county line, and 7 1/2 miles of U. S. 297 northward from Stratford to the Dallas county line. Bonds to be issued only when they would be assumed by the State. Bonds to be paid from the deferred gasoline tax. Sherman county voted on December 31, with only 256 of a possible 700 votes being cast. 136 voted for and 120 against.

Increase in Bank Deposits Past Year

Perryton bank deposits have steadily increased the past year. Total deposits of the First National Bank, at the close of business December 31, 1940, were $18,609.82 compared to $729,266.58 a year ago, or an increase of $187,403.24. And the December 1940 reports show an increase of $155,992.71 over the June 1940 financial statements.

Loans and discounts for the banks on December 31 amounted to $621,931.89, compared to $475,223.55 in June 1940, and $395,873.51 in December 1939. Both banks have increased their loans approximately the same per cent.

The financial statement of both banks as of December 31, 1940, appear in this paper. For further details, consult these reports. Since the December 1938 statements, bank deposits have increased more than $330,000.00.

Auxiliary Games Tournament Soon

A games tournament will be sponsored by The American Legion Auxiliary in February, according to Mrs. Sibley Jines, finance chairman for the Auxiliary. Initial plans were discussed at the business meeting Monday evening, with Mrs. Dewey Allen, president, in charge.

At this meeting, it was decided to create a fund to purchase a casket for the American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. J. C. Schultz, Pollett, who has served the Auxiliary in many capacities in Oklahoma and Texas, started this fund by contributing $2.50.

During a joint meeting of the Post and Unit on Monday, it was voted that the sending of flowers in case of death be limited to members only of both organizations. This question has been discussed many times. With a combined membership of approximately 250, officers are finding it impossible to learn of all deaths in families of members. And too, with such a large membership the sending of flowers to members' families is proving a heavy financial burden.

County Agent Makes Annual Report On Results and 1940 Accomplishments

E. W. Thomas, agricultural agent of Ochiltree County, released this week a summary of his annual report dealing with the farming activities in this county for 1940. A narrative report from this county is made annually by Mr. Thomas and sent to The Texas Extension Service, College Station. A summary of the 1940 report follows:

Pasture Work: Deferred grazing was carried out on 26,241 acres of land by 42 stockmen. Eradication of prickly pear showed a reduction for the reason that this pest is being rapidly destroyed on all ranches.

Wheat: Wheat as the major crop and source of revenue received specific attention for the first time. Two meetings were held to promote the seeding of the more desirable types of wheat. P. T. Dines of the Texas Wheat Improvement Association and E. A. Miller of the Extension Service assisted. A number of farmers showed certified wheat seed and others had their seed tested for purity. A decided reduction in the acreage of Chiefdom wheat for 1941 is expected as a result of the meetings and other publicity.

Agricultural Engineering: Pit cultivation was the chief practice carried out to conserve soil and water. 20,041 acres of small grain were seeded on the contour; 27 acres of row crops were planted on contour; 36 dams with a yardage of 27,608. Contour furrowing of pasture land showed a large increase over previous years. 30 new granaries were built and a large number of old granaries rebuilt for farm storage of wheat.

Silos and Silage: Two new silos were dug and 2 others enlarged. A total of nine silos were filled in 1940. Sheepmen found silage particularly adapted to feeding ewes. Farm Windbreaks: Eight new farm windbreaks were planted to make a total of 15 established in the County. Red cedar was demonstrated to be adapted for planting.

Beef Cattle: Sixteen calves were shown and sold by club boys in the spring. Sixteen feeder calves were shown in the Fall Show at Perryton and will be finished out to be shown and sold in the spring. Three adult demonstrations with small herds of beef cattle are being conducted.

Sheep: Thirty-five men handled sheep in the county in 1940. Thirty-one have flocks of breeding ewes and four handled lambs only. Fleec samples were taken in six flocks and sent to the Wool Scouring Plant for shrinkage tests. Sheep have shown a profit for their owners in all cases.

Swine: Shortage of feed and low prices of hogs reduced the volume of market hogs produced. One Club boy finished out a litter of 11 pigs to a weight of 2,110 pounds at 5 1/2 months of age.

Grasshopper Control: Distribution of poison started on June 6, and continued in small volume to August 31, when distribution was discontinued. A flight of lesser migratory hoppers into the area in early October made fall poisoning necessary. A total of 164 tons of bait was distributed to 176 farmers. 85 per cent of the total was mixed.

The last attempt to make the sale of beer legal in Ochiltree County was on May 27, 1939, when the measure was defeated 390 to 247. And for the previous three years the voters decided against the legal sale of beer.

Legalization of beer went into effect in Ochiltree county with the advent of national repeal on August 26, 1933, and was rejected in March, 1937. The legality of this election was questioned and actual sale of beer by legal means was not stopped until November 8, of the same year.

Qualifications for voting in the election scheduled for January 15 will be the same as for other elections. Voters must have lived within the state, county and precinct the required length of time and must either have a poll tax receipt or be exempt by reason of age or duration of residence.

Attention of voters is called to advertisements in this issue of the Herald, giving reasons for and against legalizing the sale of beer that does not contain alcohol in excess of four per centum by weight.

FSA Loans Available to Ochiltree County Farmers Who Need New Capital

Farmers in Ochiltree County who need operating funds in 1941 and who can not get adequate credit elsewhere, should make application to the Farm Security Administration, immediately, according to Arthur R. Turner, County FSA supervisor.

Funds in the form of loans are available to qualified farmers for the purchase of feed, seed, tools, livestock and other equipment necessary to carry on farming operations.

"The Farm Security Administration," Mr. Turner said, "was created to help needy and low-income farm families and we invite the farm operators in Ochiltree County to come in and discuss their problems with us. We may be able to help them."

Mr. Turner explained that this agency has a number of programs designed to help troubled farm families in addition to that of making rehabilitation loans to individual farmers. Among those mentioned by Mr. Turner were loans for community services, farm debt adjustment services and tenure improvements.

"Community Service loans," Mr. Turner said, "will be made by the FSA to groups of qualified farmers to buy tractors, combines, powered sires, feed grinders, veterinary services and many other services and facilities which a single farmer could not afford alone."

"For farmers in Ochiltree County who are overburdened with old debts, the FSA offers help to have the debts adjusted to their ability to pay. This service is available without cost to all farmers, whether or not they take part in other phases of this agency's program."

Mr. Turner explained that a local farm debt adjustment committee meets with the debtor and his creditors for a discussion of their mutual problems. These meetings often result in an agreement for extending the time of payment, reducing interest rates, scaling down the debts, or refinancing part of it through an FSA rehabilitation loan. In this way, the farmer is saved from foreclosure, and the creditors get substantial payments on what might otherwise have been bad debts.

In an effort to conserve and build up the soil in this country, and to assist landlords and tenants to improve the tenancy system, the Farm

Security Administration is encouraging better leasing arrangements. Mr. Turner said that emphasis is placed on long-term or renewable contracts and on agreements which will encourage the tenant to protect the soil and improve the property. Flexible farm-lease forms are obtainable at the FSA office and the personnel will be glad to assist in drawing them up for the landlords and tenants.

"I feel certain there are many farmers and landlords in Ochiltree County who need the services of this agency," Mr. Turner said, "and I wish to issue an invitation to everyone to visit our office in the City Hall at Booker, Texas, and give us a chance to be of help."

"The Farm Security Administration," he concluded, "is a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is maintained by and for the people of this country and we want to help all farm families who need help."

Ochiltree Club

"The walls of the living room should be a good background for the furniture," stated Miss Elizabeth Huffines, county home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the Ochiltree Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Arlo Williams on Friday, January 3.

The walls should be papered to suit the size of the room. In a large room a pattern which has a large design may be used but in a small room a faint design or plain pattern is better suited. If the walls are high the ceiling may be dropped and wide border used but if walls are low leave off the border to make them look higher. Rooms on the north of the house should have a warm color selected while those on the south may need a cool color design.

Mrs. Robert Thurman was elected yard demonstrator and Mrs. James Blasingame, living room demonstrator. Committee chairmen appointed were: Mrs. Jack Dodson, yearbook; Mrs. James Blasingame and Mrs. Ed Terhune, exhibit; Mrs. Delbert Goucher, expansion; Mrs. Kirt Williams, finance; Mrs. Nellie Schwab, flower; Mrs. A. L. Carter, Beryl Dodson and Mrs. Also Williams, social; Beryl Dodson, program; and Mrs. Dell Wilson, Texas Agriculture reporter.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames Kemper Warren, C. H. McCartney, Jack Dodson, Kirt Williams, Nellie Schwab, Delbert Goucher, James Blasingame, Robert Thurman, Claude Crouch, Beryl Dodson, the hostess and agent—Mrs. Jack Dodson, reporter.

The Recruiting Service Hits the Road

Now the modern Army will come to you. The trim, silver truck and trailer shown above is one of the Recruiting Service's new offices on wheels, designed to reach localities where there are no established recruiting stations. They provide sleeping quarters for five men, as well as full office facilities. At right is an interior shot of one of the Army's swanky, new recruiting trailers with a recruiting sergeant preparing a recorded address for broadcast over its public address system. Completely equipped as a streamlined office, the trailer also provides living quarters, cooking stoves, sinks and clothes closets.

These mobile recruiting stations are now in operation in all the nine corps of the United States, two in each corps area. Much public interest is being manifested in their activities.

Isolate Whooping Cough Victims

AUSTIN, Texas—Careful isolation of a child ill with whooping cough is a measure that pays health dividends, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. There is no other communicable disease so dangerous as whooping cough to the very young, and there is no other infection to which there is a more universal susceptibility in infancy and childhood. Over 90 per cent of all deaths from whooping cough occur in children under five years of age. Whooping cough is dangerous, moreover, because there is no natural immunity against it during the first six months of life as there is in measles.

Whooping cough is usually transmitted by direct contact with the secretion of the mouth or the nose, or with articles freshly soiled with the secretion. Only a short exposure is required to contract the infection. The communicable stage extends from seven days to three weeks after exposure until development of the characteristic whoop.

Among precautionary measures to be considered by parents as protection of their children against whooping cough are the following:

1. A child with what appears to be an ordinary cold should be kept away from others and a physician consulted to determine the true nature of illness.

2. Whooping cough vaccine of the approved type is of value in preventing or lessening the severity of the disease. The vaccine is usually administered during the first year of infancy.

3. If whooping cough develops in a community, young children should be kept at home to escape exposure.

Isolation plays a hardship on a child in that it keeps him from seeing relatives and playmates. On the other hand, isolation exerts a two-way, salutary influence on public and individual health. First, isolation of the patient helps to prevent the spread of whooping cough to others who are susceptible. Second, and this is of immediate importance to parents, isolation protects the sick child against possible exposure to severe infection which may be carried by otherwise healthy persons.

Booker News Has Another Birthday

The Booker News is celebrating its 17th birthday the first Thursday in January.

The paper was started 17 years ago this week. The first editor of the paper was Fred Crowley in 1924. The News office was located in the O. J. Bell building where Joe Purer's garage is now located. Later it was moved to the "Doc" Coffee building in the south part of town, then to Fowler property which was located north of the A. L. Clark store.

R. S. Norman became editor in October of the same year. He was editor for some time, and sold out to Leonard Smith.

Leonard moved the News office to the north half of the building where Walt Bragg now has his shoe shop.

John Merriman bought the News from Leonard and moved it back to the News building in the south end of town.

W. E. Campbell, Jr., bought the paper May 20, 1935, and has been editor of the paper since. He had his office at the south part of town for some time. Then he moved it to its present location—The Booker News.

The Rookies Are Due to Break Into the Lineup for the Yanks

DOWN the sports trail: Competent observers rate "Hi Ya Gentlemen," starring Maxie Baer, a real "turkey." . . . THE future book: Crystal gazers predict the Yankees will open the 1941 campaign with the following lineup: Johnny Sturm, first base; Gerald Priddy, second; Phil Rizzuto at short; Joe Gordon, third; DiMaggio, Keller and Henrich in the outfield; Rosar behind the bat; and old Charlie Ruffing on the mound. . . . Claim if Sturm, who worked at Kansas City last season with Priddy and Rizzuto, shows the slightest hitting prowess, Babe Dahlgren will be benched.

Trapped Game Put In Other Areas

Antelope and deer trapping the two major projects of their kind carried on by the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission still flourish and are expected to continue to do so for at least two more months, the executive secretary of the Commission has announced.

Birds and animals trapped on overstocked areas are planted in sections suitable for game, but from which they have been shot out.

Latest reports are that nearly 300 antelope have been trapped in West Texas and that 100 more than that number of deer have been taken in the traps set by Game Department workmen on South Texas ranches.

Antelope already trapped outnumber the total taken last year and the 400 deer enticed into traps are within three score of the deer distributed last year.

The Game Department is using airplanes with which to round up antelope with horsemen co-operating. Cost of the rounding up of the fleet has been reduced to where it is now $1.70 per animal. That is believed to be the smallest cost of trapping any kind of big game animal managed in this country.

Fight Infantile Paralysis Campaign Will Open January 13 Through Jan. 30

One of the slogans of the "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign which opens January 13 and continues through January 30, President Roosevelt's 59th birthday, is "Help the Youngster Around Your Own Corner." In the following signed story, Clifton Padman, noted radio commentator, writer and lecturer, calls attention to just what helping the youngster around your own corner means.

"They're inviting you to help the youngster around your own corner. Perhaps he or she doesn't live around your handiest corner.

I never counted them, but there must be hundreds of thousands of corners in the U. S. A.—each serving as the handiest to one or more persons.

The corners already involved in this particular invitation are pretty numerous, however. During 1940 alone, youngsters who lived around ten thousand corners became needful of your help. Before that—and still requiring a bit of your best big brother stuff—were many thousands more, each just around as many different corners.

From the way this infantile paralysis thing hits, you never can tell when its target may be the little lad or lass who waves at you as you stride home from your day's labor or as you are polishing the windshield before a trip into the back country or to the lake or the shore.

Yes, in inviting you to help the youngster around your own corner they are thinking in terms of youngsters who have been made the victims of infantile paralysis.

The organization which actually does the work is the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Its main objective is, of course, the discovery of a cure or a preventative.

Its research workers, scientists and doctors are devoting their days and frequently their nights in that hunt. It has been a long one and it continues a difficult one because the essence of the disease is a virus which won't show itself in the most powerful microscope or allow itself to be isolated by the finest of laboratory filters.

While the big hunt is going on—and an expensive hunt it is—the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is seeing to it that the harm done by the virus is kept at the lowest possible minimum.

The Foundation has more than 1,000 permanent chapters in all parts of the nation, each ready to rush aid to the victims the moment the symptoms make their appearance. Its chapters maintain a supply of iron lungs, braces, splints and other equipment employed to prevent or limit deformities caused by the disease. The Foundation keeps a reserve of such equipment which it hustles into the sectors where epidemics have broken out.

Must Include Room-Board In F. O. A. B

In developing information pertaining to claims for Federal old-age and survivors insurance, it has been found that some employers do not understand that wages may include other items than cash.

Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo, Texas Social Security Board office, said today:

"In instances where an employer hires a person and agrees to pay him a certain amount of cash per day, week, or month, plus his board and lodging, then, these two last items are considered wages and are taxable under the law."

It was explained that the tax, similar to premiums paid on an insurance policy, represent a percentage of the worker's wage. Until 1943 the tax is 1 per cent paid by the worker and 1 per cent paid by the employer. Employers deduct each worker's tax from his pay and send it in quarterly, with an equal amount of their own, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. At the same time, the employer makes a report showing the amount of wages paid to each employee.

"The worker's wages," Reed said, "as reported by his employer when he turns in his taxes, are credited to the individual's social security account kept for each worker according to his social security account number by the Social Security Board. When a claim is filed, the wages credited to that worker's account are used to compute the amount of his benefits."

Darrouzett Girl's Basketball Team Will Meet Eastern Team January 10-11

Basketball fans will have the opportunity of seeing the Panhandle's top-flight girls' team tangle with Thompson's Beauty School of Des Moines at Darrouzett, January 10-11, when Coach Leroy Roberts' girls play the easterners. Games will be played nightly.

This is not the first time that Roberts is bucking the Des Moines Team for last year at the National Tournament at St. Joseph, Mo., his Texas State Championship team from Wayside, Armstrong county, defeated the easterners 15-14 in an up-set game.

This year as coach at Darrouzett, Roberts claims to have another smash ball club that has not lost a game this season. He is adding to the Darrouzett club three all-state players from Wayside. They are Lahoma Payne, Lucille Moore and Billie Haral. Lucille Moore is the National AAU Queen.

A trio of high scoring forwards will be seen in action at Darrouzett, when Thompson's Beauty School of Des Moines swings into action. Heading the array of talent is Berline Frazier, an even six-footer, who has averaged 20 points a game. At another forward Ruby Lushinger, often called the "one-girl basketball team" because of her 28 point a game average in high school. Martha Driftmeir, 5 feet 10½ inches, who averaged 21 points a game in high school, is the other forward and has developed into a fine rebound player.

Emogene Pedersen, green at the start of the season, is rapidly becoming a scoring threat, utilizing her six feet two inches of height well beneath the basket.

The guarding duties are divided between husky players. Thelma Acord, 5 feet 11½ inches, takes care of one position Dorothy Williams, 5 feet 11 inches, holds down the other job, while Anna May Jacobs, rated one of the finest softball pitchers in the country, and Marjorie Johnson divide time at the other backcourt position.

So far this season Thompson's has lost 4 games, the defeats all being avenged, and won 24 games. Last year the team played 60 games, losing 13 and traveling 15-000 miles, playing in nine states. The defeats were all at the hands of the first five ranking teams in America.

Michigan's Swimmers Are Not Finding Enough Competition

BY ART BRONSON

MATTHEW MANN and his national swimming champions of the University of Michigan have been boycotted. The coaching admirals of the Western Conference have blocked his swimming armada.

Why? Here are the allegations of the articulate Mr. Mann:

"Chicago gets out of Big Ten football because it's no good. We get out because we're too good. These coaches who make their schedule on personal gripes and fears are keeping swimming a minor sport.

"They accuse me of buying men, stealing and what not so they don't have to swim against my boys.

"The whole thing smells bad."

MATT MANN refers to the recent Big Ten meeting in Chicago, at which rival coaches pruned the Michigan schedule to two dual meets. Purdue, coached by a Michigan grad, and Iowa, with obligations as the 1941 sponsor of the Big Ten meet, consented to meet the Wolverines. Northwestern has since added its name to the list.

The opposition doesn't "agree" with Mann's methods. They assert his products are not all home grown. They accuse him of flouting their stars.

First, they point to Ed Kirar, a resident of Kenosha, Wis., Kirar was so outstanding he was captain-elect of the Badger team at the end of his sophomore year. That summer he transferred to Michigan, won a national title under Mann's tutelage. He claimed Wisconsin didn't have the courses he wanted.

Recently there was the case of Francis Heydt. He won a Big Ten championship in the backstroke as a sophomore at Iowa. He was at Michigan next year. Mann denies he approached these men. He claims Kirar was only mediocre at Wisconsin and that he tried to dissuade Heydt from transferring.

THE "hands off" policy has spread beyond the conference. Yale, Navy, Princeton and Harvard, among others, turned down Michigan invitations, although Yale will meet Michigan in 1941.

Michigan could schedule only Pennsylvania, Michigan State and Iowa State outside the Big Ten this year.

Most bitter of all Matt Mann critics is Mike Peppe of Ohio State. Says Peppe:

"I cannot discuss why we could find no place for Michigan on our schedule. I suggest that you call Matt Mann and ask him why he had difficulty in scheduling Big Ten teams this year. I can assure you that it was not because Michigan had swum itself out of the conference, as Mann says."

Air Corps Offers Many Advantages

The War Department is offering to eligible former flying cadets and to certain civilians who meet the prescribed requirements a course of training to qualify as Air Corps ground duty officers in the field of engineering. This course carries with it no pilot instructions.

The status, as well as pay and allowances, etc., of cadets undergoing this specialized non-pilot course of training is the same as that for cadets receiving pilot training. They are designated "Flying Cadets" and, upon satisfactory completion of the course (requiring about nine months), are eligible for commissions as 2nd Lieutenants, Air Corps Reserve.

Applicants for this course must meet the general requirements for appointment as flying cadets. They must be unmarried citizens of the United States between the ages of twenty and twenty-six inclusive, of good character, sound physique, and in excellent health. While the physical requirements are less rigid than those required for pilot training, candidates must meet the standards required for appointment in the Officers Reserve Corps of the Army.

This engineering training program is designed to qualify students as "Squadron Engineering Officers." First priority candidates for this course must be college graduates with degrees in engineering. Candidates with senior standing in engineering will be eligible in second priority. The training program will include theoretical and practical engineering, training in both civil and army schools pertaining to the maintenance of aircraft.

Classes of fifty students will commence at both New York University and Purdue University every three months beginning with January 1941. The course at these schools will be of twelve weeks duration and consists of instructions in engineering theory pertaining to the maintenance of aircraft.

Any further information relative to the above may be obtained by contacting Corporal Harvey M. Gist, at the Recruiting Office located in the Post Office building at Pampa, Texas.

Vacancies for men with less education exist in the Air Corps, at Kelly Field, Texas, Barksdale Field, Louisiana, and in Puerto Rico. The Infantry at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, The Field Artillery, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and the Medical Department, at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, Texas.

Food Stamp Plan Helps Hall County

That the food stamp plan of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation is helping in Hall County no little amount is shown by figures released this week by R. L. Madden, issuing officer, for the first 11½ months of operation of the plan.

The plan was started January 15, 1940, and during the year a total of $137,189 in food stamps have been distributed. Mr. Madden reported.

Of these, $73,730 worth of the stamps were orange—the type which have to be bought. The remaining $63,459 has been distributed in blue stamps, representing that much extra money as having been spent in this county by those eligible to receive the stamps.

With the purchase of $1 worth of orange stamps, each person receives an additional 50 cents worth of blue stamps. Those who are not financially able to purchase orange stamps are given blue stamps free of charge. Eligibility is determined by members of the county welfare office.

With the orange stamps, there has been given a total of $36,860 in blue stamps. Blue stamps only have been issued to the amount of $26,609, Mr. Madden explained.

The bumper month for the sale of the orange stamps was September, when $8,630 worth were bought. During the same month, only $1,991 in blue stamps only were issued, indicating that during that month those eligible to buy the stamps were more prosperous than almost any other month in the year.

November was the month in which the lowest amount of blue stamps only was issued—only $1,620 worth. June was the highest month for the issuance of blue stamps only, when $2,793 worth of the stamps were given.

The plan started off slowly in January, when only $1,456 in orange stamps were sold in the first 16 days of its operation. Sales gradually increased, however, until September, the peak month. A number of WPA jobs have been cut off during the months since September, probably accounting for the slight drop, it was explained.—The Memphis Democrat.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Jesus' Valuation of Personality

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 12
Text: Luke 14:1-14

At a time when every day's newspapers carry fresh tales of wars and slaughter all over the world, it is particularly timely to consider the valuation Jesus placed on human life, or personality.

"How much is a man better than a sheep?" Jesus asked. Yet every day masses of our fellow-men are being driven or led to slaughter just like sheep.

Contrast with all this the emphasis Jesus put on the value of human life, or the value of personality. In His own day He was in conflict with those who valued their own ideas of religion and of orthodoxy more than kindness and helpfulness toward their fellowmen.

A RULE of the Pharisees—a good church member, as we might say today—had asked Jesus to his home on the Sabbath Day, and while He was there, there were others who were spying on Him. Whether this man, prominent among the Pharisees, had invited Jesus there that they might spy on Him is not clear; but Jesus was there, a guest in his home. It has been suggested that this Pharisee was himself breaking the Jewish Sabbath law in thus having a feast on the Sabbath Day.

At any rate, among the company, or as one who was brought in, was a man who had dropsy. Jesus realized that these narrow-minded people, knowing His reputation for healing, were questioning whether or not He would heal the man. So He took the initiative and asked them, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath Day or not?" They ignored His question, but Jesus went ahead and healed the man, who went away.

JESUS, realizing the thoughts of the company at the table, asked them a further question, "Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fall into a well and will not straightway draw him up?" Again, they did not answer. But silence evidently did not indicate consent or approval of the fine act of healing Jesus had done.

What is the highest thing in personality? Jesus here suggests that a very high thing—if not the highest—is humility. The more a man feels the height of great standards, the more the glory of the moral law appears to him, the less he will be disposed to overvalue himself. The finer a man's spirit, the keener his perceptions, the more inevitable it is that his attitude is one of humility toward God and toward his fellowmen. So, along with this lesson of humility, Jesus taught the lesson of kindness and service to others.

Blessedness in life, according to Jesus, comes not from what we do for those who can recompense us, but in what we do for those who are in need. It is the things we do without hope of reward that constitute our real expression of what we are and what we value most.

You are urged to attend all services of the church. It does not stand to reason that a football player can become a star by simply practicing now and then, but he must observe all practice rules. Neither does it stand to reason that you can be a most loyal churchman and efficient Christian by attending services only occasionally. In order for one to be the best and most efficient Christian, he must attend all services.

We are looking forward to a happy and successful year. This will be realized with every member co-operating.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 12.

The Golden Text is: "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all" (II Corinthians 13:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (I Corinthians 5:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We worship spiritually, only as we cease to worship materially. Spiritual devotion is the soul of Christianity." (page 140).

Farm Machinery —Boon or Bane?

Use of wheat combines has drastically cut need for migrant farm labor during harvest time.

WASHINGTON.—Is the large increase in farm machinery justified from a profit standpoint? There seems to be some doubt, according to a report made by the Department of Agriculture—a report which shows a marked increase in employment of hired help, particularly migrant labor. Increased use of tractors and other farm machinery, of course, means an increased capital outlay, and the report shows that in many cases the gain in profits is not large enough to justify the expenditure. Gross profits go up, but so do costs.

During the years 1910-14 depreciation on farm machinery amounted to 6 per cent of the farmer's cash receipts; costs of operating machinery were less than 1 per cent; wages for farm labor were 9 per cent. These three items totaled about 16 per cent on farms where horses and mules were still largely used and where considerable hired labor was necessary.

BY 1929 the cost of depreciation of machinery had risen to 9 per cent and the cost of operating it to 12 per cent. Cash wages for labor dropped to 7 per cent. But cost of the three items rose to 28 per cent of the cash receipts—due largely to increased use of machinery. Greater use of machines has been a blow to casual migrant labor. Department figures show that with the use of harvester-threshers combines and tillage and seedage equipment, labor required to grow wheat dropped from 12.7 hours per acre in 1909 to 6.1 hours in 1936. For oats working hours dropped from 12.5 in 1909 to 7.9 in 1936. For corn the decrease was from 29 hours in 1909 to 23 in 1936. For cotton the time dropped from 105 hours per acre in 1909 to 88 in 1936. Decrease in cotton working hours was due largely to the shift from the eastern states to the west, where the crop is grown on a larger scale and where work—up to picking time—can be performed chiefly by machinery.

Combines are now used almost exclusively in the winter wheat area and largely in spring wheat country. Three men do the work formerly requiring eight or 10—and in less time. Consequently, from 100,000 to 200,000 migrant workers can't find employment.

On an average 320-acre wheat farm, the report shows, the place run with horses and mules requires 88 hours of labor as against 18 on tractor-run farms. On the typical 200-acre corn belt farm, the one employing animals requires 1093 more man hours than the machine-run farm.

School Taxes Are Due!

Taxes for 1940 in the Perryton Independent School District are due and must be paid before February 1, 1941, to escape the burden of additional penalties and interest charges.

The officials of the Perryton school district appreciate the general attitude of the taxpayers toward the importance of keeping the schools functioning. We know that many have sacrificed in order to make their school tax payments.

Due to this splendid spirit of cooperation on the part of most of the taxpayers of the district, the Perryton schools have not only been maintained at a high rate of efficiency, but it has been possible to gradually raise the standard of the school system.

Delinquent Penalties!

Pay your 1940 taxes before February 1, 1941, and avoid the addition of extra penalties and interest charges. Remember that penalties on 1940 unpaid taxes are added at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent per month until July 1, 1940, when the penalty is increased to eight per cent and interest charges at the rate of one-half per cent per month are added.

Taxes Must Be Paid Now!

Although valuations have been lowered five per cent the tax rate remains at 80¢. The operating budget is higher and delinquent taxes must be collected. All property owners in the district must carry their part of the load. Delinquent taxes are going to be collected! Arrangements can be made to pay delinquent taxes on the partial payment plan. Do this and avoid suit.

U. S. Farms Are Ready

Over in Great Britain for many years, like a voice crying in the wilderness have been the speeches of David Lloyd-George urging that more land be cultivated. The former prime minister, who guided Britain through the trying last years of the World War, warned the people that in case of war their food stocks would be in peril unless they put to use every inch of land capable of growing something edible by man.

He foresaw the dangers to Britain's fleets of food ships in case an enemy once more became active with submarines. But, until almost too late, his wise words carried no conviction and won few believers.

In a world whose decent order is threatened by dictators the United States is in more fortunate position than Britain. The British could conceivably be starved out. No foe could starve America.

In our vast country stretch endless farm lands. They are run and owned by men who know how. Providence has usually blessed their labors with abundant harvests.

America's problem at present is not so much how to get food, but how to obtain markets for the distribution of that food.

In Washington men in the government are worrying about the rearmament program. They have to mobilize factories and men. But one worry is spared them. They do not have to lose sleep about the nation's food. The American farms and the American farmers are mobilized every day of the year.

They are good and faithful soldiers, both in peace and in war times. They handle the nation's true basic industry and handle it well.

In Europe the belligerents match blockade with blockade. The object is to starve the enemy into submission. The American farmer is the one who will see to it that no such fate ever befalls this country.

Help The Youngsters

Under new slogans—"Help the Youngster Around Your Own Corner"—and—"Enlist in our National Defense Against Infantile Paralysis"—this boy and girl are marching forward in the 1941 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign. Known to millions, this picture is again being used by the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday on posters, birthday cards, coin collectors and buttons as the emblem of the appeal for funds to fight the crippling disease, infantile paralysis.

Marriage May Not Mean Deferment

Many inquiries are reaching Selective Service Boards about the status of men who married after the Selective Service Law was enacted. The Boards have been instructed to keep in mind all of the Selective Service Regulations. Marriage does not automatically put registrant in deferred class.

In a recent ruling on "Classification of Married Men," Fred Upchurch, Capt., Judge Advocate Gen's Dept., Legal Division, Austin, states "when a change in status of a registrant is brought to the attention of the Local Board, whether it be by marriage, birth, death, accident or what not, his classification should be reviewed but it does not necessarily follow that it should be changed."

A complete copy of this ruling by Capt. Upchurch will be printed in next week's Herald.

VOTE DRY

SOME OF THE REASONS WHY OCHILTREE COUNTY WILL NOT LEGALIZE BEER

Bread is more important than beer. There is just a limited amount of money for the average person to spend. It's bread—not beer they need.

People (even those that do not particularly oppose beer) do not care to see the eating places of the town turned into beer joints.

Liquor drug stores and a few bootleggers are undesirable but not as much so as numerous beer joints that may be located at any place and time, throughout the county.

Legalized beer does not make a town better—but worse. We have tried it and it has proved that way. Other towns have it and Perryton does not, but how many people are moving from Perryton to Beer-selling towns?

The misleading argument to the aged people to vote for beer in order to make pensions possible is little less than an insult to their intelligence and self respect in their old age. Old people that need pensions are entitled to them without surrender of conscience and sacrificing the moral standard of the community.

When a majority voting some years ago said they desired beer legalized, the "Drys" accepted the will of the voters and abided in good faith by the election returns without contest. But when the voters later decided they did not want legalized beer the "Wets" refused to abide by the vote of the people, stood on technicalities and contested the election which contest cost the county several hundred dollars to go to the higher courts and compel the beer dealers to close up.

Remember the Beer Case fight in the Courts. Remember the beer deal at Waka. It could happen in any community.

Previous elections show that numbers of "Drys" did not go vote. Don't fail this time.

Why build good schools and good churches and vote for one of their chief enemies—the beer business?

If your vote legalizes the sale of beer you become a party to the business.

Re-Open Sale Of Annuals

The staff of the Perryton High School Annual, composed of Wilma Holland, editor; Louise Flowers, assistant editor; George Hohmann, business manager; Irvin Williams, business manager; Ona Grace Frances, proofreader; and Miss Verna Harris, sponsor; met with Mr. Winkler, representative of the firm from which the annuals will be purchased.

In addition to selecting the back of the annual, the interior of the annual was discussed. The back is now on display in the Senior High Library. It was decided that the book contain eight more pages, and that all modern bookmaking features be included.

After a conference in which Mr. Winkler stated that 70 per cent of the students should have bought annuals, it was voted to re-open the sales. George Hohmann and Irvin Williams will sell annuals Thursday and Friday of this week. The price has been increased to $1.15.

Hobby Club

The hobby club met and talked about an airplane meeting of those interested in building model airplanes. The one with the best model airplane would go to Amarillo to an airplane meeting. Miss Mitchell, then asked about the girls' handwork and how they got along. Most of those who started something never finished. Some did not even start.

EDITORIAL

One of the most detestable persons is the ingrate. People constantly do something for him and he never appreciates it. There are people in this old world who have been aided tremendously in their goal for a successful life. Then after they have attained it they kick the "guy" who is pushing them over the wall to success.

Many times it has come to my mind how much truth there is in the old saying, "A person appreciates that most for which he works the hardest." Don't misunderstand me. I don't think that every one who has been successful is an ingrate. However, it is astonishing how many people are ungrateful for the many opportunities that offered them by the sacrifices of others. Stop and think; you do not have to be given instances of ingratitude. Think them up yourselves.

You know that you should be grateful for home, peace, food and life in general. Anyway, you should be. You have been told to be grateful often enough. I am wondering, though, if we really gave the idea of gratitude a lingering thought, whether or not we would be more grateful to the one who gives us these advantages.

No Mid Term Exams Given This Year

There will be no mid-term exams this year. Nine weeks exams will take their place. This will be a great help to students, as only the last 9 weeks' work will be required.

The nine weeks exams will come on set days this year. Classes will meet as usual. The exams will be only one period long. The second and sixth periods exams are set for Monday, January 13. First, fourth, and seventh period exams will be Tuesday, January 14. Fifth and eighth period exams will come on Wednesday, January 15.

Students are warned in advance. Take the hint and start preparing now. Mid-night oil comes pretty high this year especially when the exams are the following day.

What Are You "Gripping" About?

Getting out this newspaper is no picnic.

If we print jokes people say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we clip things from magazines, we are too lazy to write them ourselves.

If we stick close to the job all day we ought to be out hunting news.

If we go out and try to bustle, we ought to be on the job in the office.

If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius; and if we do the paper is filled with junk.

If we make a change in the other fellow's write-up, we are too critical. If we don't we are asleep.

Now like as not someone will say we swiped this from some other paper. Well, We Did.

Meet the Teachers

Miss Minnie Ethyl Wainscott teaches the third grade. She attended college at N. T. S. T. C. Denton, and W. T. S. T. C. Canyon. She received a BS degree from Canyon. While in college, she enjoyed most English and Sociology. The type of clothes she likes best are sport clothes. A book that she enjoyed reading was "White Banner" by Lloyd C. Douglas. Miss Wainscott's favorite actor and actress are George Brent and Bette Davis. The season she enjoys most is winter. Her favorite sport is basketball. Miss Wainscott thinks Perryton Schools are grand. She says she likes the cooperation of the students in all school undertakings.

Rangers Lose at Spearman Tourney

The Perryton basketball boys returned from the Spearman Tournament Friday evening after losing a hard fought game to Stinnett, with a score of 28 to 20. The Rangers were leading at the half with a score of 8 to 10.

The boys making the trip were: Wilbert Hart, Joe Pete Lile, Lindsay McWilliams, Joe McClung, Hal Chase, Irvin Williams, H. G. Evans, Charles Patton, Jack Allen, Archie Correll and Ray W. Veale.

Some Traits for Perfect Teacher

No one is perfect, but everyone has traits of some type which are commendable. We have selected some of these good traits from our own teachers, combine them and make a perfect teacher. First, the teacher should have Miss Harris's teaching ability, and Mr. Kelley's trait for keeping order. Miss Mitchell's knowledge in general and lecturing ability would be essential. Mrs. McSpadden's and Mr. Philbrick's ability to mix with students, and Mrs. McElvey and Mr. Truax's musical talent would add greatly toward perfection.

Mr. Reeve's large vocabulary would aid in explanation and Mr. Williams' ability to bring out the best in a student. Mrs. Burk's knowledge of a library and explanations to a student as how to find book "larkin." Mr. Scott's scientific knowledge and humor. Last but in no way least comes Mr. Wedgeworth's ability at public addressing.

How would you like this person for a teacher?

Mullins Addresses Chapel on January 3

Otis E. Burk was in charge of the chapel program, Friday January third.

E. J. Mullins, minister of the Church of Christ, was the speaker of the morning. His topic was "Doing While Doing is Good." Following his very interesting talk, Mr. Wedgeworth gave some New Year's Wishes. An announcement was made by George Hohmann, to the effect that annuals will be on sale Thursday and Friday of this week.

Just Imagine

Mary Ellen—falling in typing.
June Lance—passing. (Or me either for that matter).
Miss Harris—saying ain't.
Mr. Kelley—not in a hurry.
Mr. Payne—discussing ladies' fashions.

The El Sombrero Staff—getting enough news on time and thinking of something original.

Mrs. Burk—reading a funny book.
Finley Hamman—not thinking of some girl. (Just so they wear skirts, says Finley).

Dick Thomas—calling everybody by their right names. (Nicknames are what he usually uses).

Ambitions

Polly Ann Holmes—To be a school teacher. (Poor Students!).
Clair Brillhart—To be a farmer. (Well, we won't starve if we have many farmers like Clair).

Jane Rogers—A school teacher. Wow, who started this fad? Surely not our dear teachers.

Carmeneta Wright—To be a homemaker. (I thought that certain boy already had a home).

Margaret Mary Pletcher—A stenographer. (Well she is studying short hand right now, hope you pass).

Kenneth LaMaster—Horse doctor. (I pity the horses).

Bernice Unruh—To be a school teacher. (This is not final and she reserves the right to change it with out notice).

Bob Holt—To be a football hero. (He must have wanted to get along with the beautiful gals).

Mrs. W. J. Tuley returned to Oklahoma City Sunday after spending two weeks in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Payne. Mr. Tuley came after her and spent the week-end here.

Orchids to Glenn Truax, music director, for the splendid manner in which he has built up the different music organizations of this school. These organizations consist of: the Tonette Band, the Junior Band, the Ward School Band, the Mixed Chorus, the Orchestra, the Drum and Bugle Corp, and the Senior Band. All of these organizations have been presented at least once this year, and some more than once. The audience seemed to thoroughly enjoy hearing them. The Senior Band has very attractive new uniforms and the Drum and Bugle Corp has new uniforms and all new instruments.

We will expect much entertainment from them in the future.

We, the Seniors

Johnie Luthi was born January 30, 1924, at Gage, Okla. He has brown hair and blue eyes. He has been a son of P. H. S. five years.

Johnie's favorite comic strip is Ally Cop. He likes Chevrolet cars, especially maroon ones. He is going to go to school at Denton (I think there is a misunderstanding somewhere) to major in mechanical engineering. Johnie is going to be a farmer. His favorite class is Agriculture. Football is his favorite sport. Johnie made the first string the first year he went out and really made a good showing. I think he should be congratulated.

Dale Kerns was born on April 29, 1921, at Gray, Okla. He has blond hair and blue eyes. He has gone to school here four years.

Dale's favorite sport is basketball. He played on the first string two years. He is noted for his left-handed goal shots at the goal. His favorite subject is Agriculture. Instead of going to college Dale is going to get married. (I don't think he means it.) He is going to make welding his profession. Dale's nickname is "Corn." He likes wine Fords better than other cars. Pop-eye is his favorite comic strip.

Jack Tregellas was born April 27, 1923, at Alva, Okla. He has blond hair and blue eyes. He has gone to school here three years.

"Terry and the Pirates" is his favorite comic strip. He likes red (not Maroon) Chevrolet. He is going to school at Oklahoma A. and M., and is going to major in civil engineering.

Science is his favorite subject. Archery is his hobby (maybe he is figuring on playing Robin Hood sometime). Hunting is his favorite sport.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buhner spent the week-end in the home of Mrs. Buhner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Payne. Mr. Buhner returned home Sunday to Syracuse, Kansas. Mrs. Buhner will remain a few days.

High School Takes Pictures for Annual

Most of the Senior High and Junior High teachers have had their pictures taken in the last few days. This year the pictures for the annual will be made at the teachers' desk instead of the portrait which was on the last year annual.

Not only are the teachers having their pictures made, but the students also. The Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors had their made last Tuesday. Senior pictures have already been made.

This might be the reason for the students being "sliced up."

Look In-Look Out

At last Weldon W. is "stuck on" a certain little girl. At least he is seen with her pretty often. Rah! Rah! Weldon.

Wendell B. surely seems to enjoy typing. Or is it that cute little girl that sits next to him? Could he, could he.

Miles S. seems to be getting slightly like Jiggs. (In the funny papers). At least the other day he was saying, "Gosh, Maggie sure has a temper."

"Kackie" seems to be in the habit of taking pictures away from helpless little boys. Naughty, naughty, "Kackie."

What's this we hear about Marcela F. getting a snow-bath? Bob H. ought to know.

If a certain little Brillhart boy isn't better in 8th period Algebra, teacher is going to "spank."

Jackie A. does not like snow. Anyway not from fourth graders.

All the freshmen, sophomore, and Junior boys surely did come to school looking nice Tuesday. I guess they still like to have their pictures taken.

Letha B. is sure going "plumbing." And with a "plumber" at that.

Mrs. H. A. Hawk, Mrs. H. I. Hudson, Mrs. R. P. Hurn and Mrs. W. C. Herndon were Amarillo visitors Thursday.

Students Notice Message of Merit

A gift from the Perryton Club last year was the Message of Merit "Plaque." It consists of form and over fifty Merits.

This plaque hangs in the hall and the messages are changed weekly. If you will apply them to yourself during coming year, I think you will be much better for your efforts.

Teachers' Ambitions

Did you ever wonder what our teachers wanted to be before they became school teachers? Well, like everybody else, childhood ambitions. Some of these ambitions fulfilled; others not.

Here are the childhood ambitions of our faculty. Perhaps these ambitions are keys to the personality of each; perhaps not. Here are—

Mrs. McSpadden wanted to be an aviator; Miss Mitchell, a million; Miss Robertson, a good seamstress; Mr. McElroy, a doctor; Mr. Scott, a doctor; and Mr. Scott, a doctor.

Mrs. McElvey wanted to be a piano accompanist; Mr. Payne, an engineer on a train; Mr. Payne, a coach; Mrs. Burk, an actress; Mr. Kelley, an actor; Mr. Truax, an engineer on a train; Mr. Truax, an orchestra leader.

New Army Recruiting Trailers Are Appearing in Towns Throughout Nation

Like the old time "tea wagons" which plied the streets of smaller communities, bells tinkling and heavy scents of spices and fresh coffee lingering behind them, the U. S. Army's new recruiting trailers which are appearing in cities and towns throughout the country are designed for "direct selling" of the Army and its advantages to the young men of the Nation. Corporal Harvey M. Gist, Pampa, Texas, said today.

Unlike the "tea wagons" which many old folks and some of the younger will remember as small, heavily-laden wagons, creaking through the streets with their burdens of food samples, kitchenware, spices, herbs and condiments stuffed helter-skelter into many drawers and shelves, the Army's trailers are trim, sleek and compact—modern in every way.

But the idea is the same. The Army is taking its wares to the customers in those communities where the customers can't get to the Army with ease, and it hopes the streamlined Recruiting Trailers will be effective in aiding national defense.

Corporal Gist explained that the trim trailers, two of which are assigned to each of the Army's nine corps areas in the United States, are exactly what they are called: Mobile recruiting units. Each is towed by a powerful truck and may stay on the road indefinitely, setting up shop in communities which have no regular recruiting offices, or aiding local recruiting officers and civic agencies in recruiting campaigns and assisting public organizations on patriotic occasions.

At night, the units have comfortable living accommodations for a crew of five men. Beds, heating facilities, stoves, sinks and clothes closets are provided. During stops, the beds fold neatly into attractive lounges, desks appear and facilities are provided for medical examinations. A power plant supplies current for a public address system with which gatherings at fairs and meetings may be addressed, and to operate motion picture equipment to show movies of Army life and activities. A canopy can be rigged during fair weather so that exhibitors and interviews may be held.

Even coyotes have a homing instinct—provided they have a home to go to, says the Corpus Christi Caller. Mickey, a 6-month old coyote raised by E. C. Schneider of Mercedes, recently was given away to a family six miles east of town. Being raised in the city ever since the day he opened his eyes, the young coyote evidently never developed a liking for the wide open spaces and even the farm had no appeal to this civilized convert of the wolf pack. Mickey returned to his home here when his new owner turned him loose.

"Eating meat scraps from a plate is probably a lot easier than running down jackrabbits for a daily meal," Schneider says in trying to figure out why the wolf pup returned. "Confidentially though, I believe he likes his old master."

in the open air.

Corporal Gist said the trailers were designed by Lieutenant Colonel Harold N. Gilbert, who, under Major General Emory S. Adams, the Adjutant General, is responsible for the Army's recruiting activities.

No longer need young men of Perryton, who are turning Army life over in their minds as prospective careers hesitate for lack of information, the recruiting officer pointed out. The Army, taking a tip from the "tea wagons", will bring itself right up to their front doors, figuratively speaking, and let them see for themselves and ask their questions for immediate answers.

Storage of Wheat Seldom Pays, Study at Oklahoma A. & M. Reveals

STILLWATER, Okla. — (Special) — In the long run, Oklahoma wheat farmers who store their crop in elevators in hope of receiving higher prices later stand a greater chance of losing money by this practice.

A study of wheat storage by Adolphe L. Larson, Oklahoma A. & M. College agricultural economist, shows that it does not seem to be profitable for the Oklahoma farmer to hold his wheat for higher prices regularly from year to year particularly if he has to pay storage costs of at least one cent a bushel each month.

The possibilities of losing money are greater for the farmer who places his wheat in storage in June rather than the one who stores his grain in July. In both cases the loss possibilities are greater if storage periods average a year or more in length. For the farmers who have available storage facilities themselves for which the extra costs would be very small, the results are modified but even then the chances for gain are not great in most years, the study showed.

Questions Are Asked
"The questions which commonly come to the minds of wheat producers," says Larson, "are: Does storage of wheat pay? Should I hold this wheat in the hope of getting a higher price for it? These questions arise as a result of a rather common belief that prices are depressed at harvest time.

"The question to be answered," Larson said, "is: To what extent are wheat prices depressed at harvest time and what chances are there of making a gain through holding wheat for higher prices? It is commonly known that there is a general seasonal movement in prices of products which are produced seasonally, during just one or two months, but consumed regularly throughout the year.

"In this case it is necessary for some agencies to assume the storage and handling of the product from the time it is produced until it is finally consumed. Consequently price tends to rise between production periods.

"This study is concerned primarily with farmers who do not have storage space available but would find it necessary to store the grain in an elevator," Larson said. "The rate commonly charged in Oklahoma for such storage is one cent per bushel per month."

To discover the possibilities of gain or loss, Oklahoma farm prices of wheat for the years 1921-22 to 1938-39 were tabulated for different storage periods of the year. The number of years for which gains would have been made through storage were determined and the number of years losses would have resulted also were found. Also the average gain or loss for these 18 years were determined, based on the assumption that storage was paid for at the rate of one cent a bushel a month.

Prices Alone Studied
The government wheat loan program was not considered in the study, it was pointed out.

At first the price increases and losses were studied without consideration of the cost of storage, in an attempt to answer the question: How frequently do wheat prices go up for the various storage periods? It was first assumed that the wheat was stored in June and then assumed that it was stored in July. The profit or loss for various storage periods was determined.

In examining the prices of wheat stored in June it was revealed that in 10 of the 18 years the price of wheat dropped by July. In 10 of the years it had dropped between June and September; in nine years it dropped between June and December; in seven between June and March and in 11 of the 18 years between June and the next June.

It was found that the results are modified if the storage begins in July rather than June. This was because the July price receded from that of June during the 18 year period. However, still not considering the storage fee, it was found that prospects for gain are not great.

For July-stored wheat, losses would have resulted in seven of the 18 years for wheat held from July to September in eight of the 18 years for wheat held from July to March and in 10 years for wheat held for the full year.

Storage Fee Considered
In the second analysis, price gains and losses were considered with storage rate included as a cost to the producer. In the case of wheat stored in June storage for one month would have brought a loss to the farmer in 13 of 18 years if he paid the one cent a bushel a month storage cost.

Storage for three months would have been unprofitable in 11 of the 18 years; for six months in 11 of the 18 years; for nine months in 13 of the 18 years, and wheat stored from June to June would have suffered losses per bushel over the 18 years for the shorter storage periods was about 3 1/2 cents a bushel and when the storage period increased the losses became greater. Losses for the nine-month storage period was 5 1/2 cents and 15 cents when the wheat was held a full year.

In the case of July-stored wheat, when storage charges were considered, the losses were not as great as for the June-stored wheat, but they were not greatly different. Storage for the shorter periods was not as great as for the longer periods but it was found to be unprofitable in eight of the 18 years for the two-month period and for the five-month period.

Years in which losses would have occurred increased to 10 of the 18 years in storage period of 11

Communities differ widely from one another. Sitting here, I think of two: one is practically free of tuberculosis, in the other there is a disproportionate number of cases and the physicians have paid for newspaper advertising to oppose any governmental seeking out of child victims. In a third city one family in four owns its home, while in a fourth more than three out of four are homeowners. A fifth city is a metropolitan service station for a dozen coal mines and 80,000 persons and there is not a single bookstore.—Allen D. Albert in the January Rotarian Magazine.

months and one year. Again it was true that the average loss per bushel for the 18-year period was relatively low for the shorter periods, of five and eight months but they increased significantly to 11.6 cents for 11 months storage and to 14.8 cents for 12 months storage.

Faith and throughout a lifetime of service to his fellowman was first and last a devout church worker and always stood firmly for righteousness.

At an early age he moved with his parents to Kansas where he grew to young manhood, completing his schooling at Olathe and later attending college at Atchinson.

Following his schooling Mr. Mead was united in marriage to Miss Hattie I. Bloomer at Olathe on May 21, 1889.

The young couple settled on a small farm near Gardner, Kansas, where a son, John F. Mead, was born to the union. When the son reached the age of seven years the family moved to Webb City, Missouri, where Mr. Mead opened a hardware and furniture store and remained until 1908.

In the spring of that year with his wife, son and daughter, Katie, he came to Ochiltree County and purchased land near the old townsite of Ochiltree, later expanding operations to include a hardware store in town. In 1912 the hardware store was sold to J. S. Black and Mr. Mead turned all of his attention to farming interests until 1919 when he moved to Perryton and retired from active business.

Following the death of his wife on September 18, 1929, he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Whippo, where he departed this life on December 31, 1940, following a number of years of ill health.

In his passing Thomas William Mead leaves a void in the hearts of the hundreds of friends who were intimate with him during his life. Surviving relatives are the following: a daughter, Mrs. C. E. Whippo, Perryton; a son, John F. Mead, president of Amarillo Junior College, Amarillo; four grandchildren, Betty and Marion Mead, Charles and Bobby Whippo, a great-grandchild, Charles Whippo, 111; one sister, Mrs. J. T. Shirk, Kansas City, Mo.

Gene Tucker, who has been working during the Christmas holidays in the W. W. Virtue Dry Goods store, will take the place of Douglas Smith, who leaves with the first drafters on Tuesday for a year's training in the army.

This Hunting Tale Tops 'Em All

A recent report in this county of a grandfather and grandson hunting so simultaneously that they knew the other had fired an even better story from (Ted) Dealey, president of H. Belo Corp., publishers Dallas Morning News, a grandpa hit and grandson Dealey and a hunting party only shot simultaneously, hit the same javelina at the same spot. Best of all, getting along toward dark, so dusky that it made for a hard shooting.

Mr. Dealey's story, which ran up all yards of its kind: "We were on the way back to at about dusk when two jumped out of a live oak one of those fellows, a which we estimated weighed pounds, stopped in a little glade about 15 yards from the live oak. I was alone hunting partners, Donald and Raymond Foy, by my side.

"When the javelina stepped into the grassy glade, I fired simultaneously. I saw he had shot and he didn't had fired. Each of us then had killed the boar. When him to camp and the started skinning him out, there was only one bullet in his skin where the bullet had hit. However, there were two holes right through the cap, approximately a half inch apart could have covered both with a silver dollar."

That from hunters who standing 25 yards apart and ing in near dusk!
