French Cabinet To Resign As Daladier Falls In Defeat

Deputies Are Not Moved By Dire Warning

Premier Goes Down In Defeat Fighting To The Last For A Balanced Budget To Save The French Franc

Inflation Looms

Members Of Cabinet Withdraw From Chamber And Prepare Resignations; Paris Streets Under Heavy Guard,

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 24. (Tuesday) — The French cabinet headed by Premier Daladier was overthrown by a vote of 329 to 241 in the chamber of deputies early today, and its members will resign.

Premier Daladier went down to defeat fighting to the last for a balanced budget in order to save the franc. He immediately prepared his resignation.

Inflation Inevitable

The chamber threw the ministry out, unmoved by Daladier's impassioned warning that failure to strike a budgetary balance would mean that inflation was inevitable "within five or six weeks."

The deputies refused Daladier's proposal to cut the salaries of government functionaries.

The members of the cabinet withdrew immediately from the chamber following the vote.

Prepare Resignation

They assembled at once to prepare their resignation after holding office almost nine months—the average life of a French ministry.

The chamber session ended in a hubbub which was reflected on the streets of Paris where the heaviest guards in many years patrolled.

The vote came on a compromise amendment cutting in half the government's original proposal to slash functionaries' salaries despite Daladier's firm stand that his proposed salary cuts should be retained.

It had been hoped that the government's last-minute acceptance of the compromise, which some deputies called "capitulation," would satisfy the socialists. But at midnight Leon Blum, socialist leader, refused the compromise thereby drawing a

Hull Plans For Good-Will Tour

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Simultaneous trade expansion drives along both the Russian and South American fronts appeared the goal of the United States today with the disclosure by Secretary Hull of plans for a good-will tour below the equator during the Soviet recognition discussions here.

The secretary said he hoped to sail by the end of next week on a trip that would take him down the west coast of South America to Santiago, Chile. He would then cross by train to Buenos Aires and head the American delegation at the Pan American conference at Montevideo, Uruguay.

Just as the recognition conversations between President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, will lean heavily upon trade and credit matters between the two countries, so Hull will seek to cement relationships prior to the Montevideo meeting in December.

Prices Will Advance With New Program As Dollar Drops

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Stocks and commodities surged upward, and the dollar declined, as financial markets endeavored to adjust themselves today to President Roosevelt's plan of establishing a government controlled gold market.

While financial quarters awaited anxiously for an elaboration of the plan, it was widely assumed that the program of fixing the price of gold would be used to advance the price, thus depreciating the gold value of the dollar, and boosting commodity prices.

Numerous Advances

Shares registered numerous advances of $1 to $7, with gold mining issues particularly buoyant. An extreme rise of $40 a share appeared in Homestake Mining, which reached a price of $340. Wheat rose in the Chicago pit 3 7-8 to 4 1-2 cents a bushel, corn and oats 2 1-2 to 3 cents.

The upsurge of the markets, however, was mild compared with that which greeted the announcement last April that the United States was off the gold standard, or the sharp depreciation of the dollar in relation to gold currencies last July.

Use Sound Money

While President Roosevelt made it clear in his address last night that the government proposed to use all feasible means to lift commodity prices sufficiently to restore economic balance (presumably to around the levels of 1926) he also said that it would be accomplished with a sound money and maintenance of the government's credit. This was accepted as an indication of determination to avoid reckless inflation, and no hasty flight of capital out of cash into shares and staples ensued comparable to that of April or July.

In fact, some markets receded somewhat from their best levels. This was particularly notable in cotton, which at best got up only

Ex-Convict Is Again Wearing Prison Shoes

Ray (Blackie) Day Confesses He Participated In Several Burglaries; Is Captured In Lubbock Monday

After confessing he had participated in burglaries in Amherst and Hale Center, Ray (Blackie) Day yesterday afternoon again was wearing the prison shoes he took off in the L. J. Grimes store at Amherst nearly a month ago.

Day was arrested in Lubbock at a wrecking yard on east Broadway yesterday by Sheriff Tom Abel and State Highway Officer John C. Keller. Sheriff Len Irvin of Lamb county came here for Day, charged with the Grimes burglary.

Footgear Exchanged

When Day, who had served a term for burglary in the Oklahoma state penitentiary at McAlester, and a companion burglarized the Grimes store of merchandise valued at about $700, they exchanged their prison footgear for new shoes.

When Mrs. Grimes came here a week ago today, after a part of the loot had been discovered in a local garage, she brought the shoes, hoping to fit them to the feet of suspects. Yesterday afternoon in Amherst, according to Sheriff Irvin, Day took off a pair of boots stolen from the store and put on the shoes he had worn at McAlester.

Deputy Sheriff Kelly Hooper of Hale county took a statement from Day in which the suspect admitted burglary of a Hale Center service station. Birdshot slugs in Day's neck, shoulder, and an elbow were received when he was fired upon at Hale Center, Sheriff Abel said.

RFC Millions To Help Banks

State Banks Will Be Asked To Sell Preferred Stock; Aid In Meeting Requirements Of Deposit Insurance Offered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. — President Roosevelt today put the millions of the Reconstruction Finance corporation behind the state banks outside the federal reserve system to aid them in meeting eligibility requirements for federal insurance of deposits which becomes effective on January 1.

He established a special division of cooperation in the RFC and designated Harvey Couch, a director, to head the agency with authority to purchase preferred stock in state banks which need a strengthening of their capital structure.

Urged To Apply

The 8,600 state banks outside of the federal reserve system must apply to receive the benefits of the deposit insurance fund authorized by the last congress and Mr. Roosevelt urged them all to do so. These banks must be examined by the federal government to determine the strength of their capital structures, thus for the first time giving federal supervision of all the banks.

"We hope," said the president in a statement sent to the federal financial leaders, "that all banks will

Veto Looming For Hospital Loan Measure

Executive Disapproval Likely Because Of Fear That It Is Dangerous To Entire Public Works Plan In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—A veto of a bill designed to add hospitals to projects on which cities could obtain self-liquidating loans from the federal government was in prospect tonight.

Executive disapproval likely will be predicated on two grounds: That it would endanger the entire public works program for Texas and would validate all illegal bond and warrant issues.

Arguments Are Heard

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her counsellor, former Governor James E. Ferguson, heard arguments today for and against the bill.

"I am frank to say that if the governor approved the bill we might just as well kiss goodbye to every dollar we might hope to get," Ferguson said. "The federal government would use admitted discrepancies in the bill to withhold loans and the whole thing would go up in smoke. I frankly think the public works administration is looking for an excuse to get from under and don't think they would cry if they couldn't make the loans."

Ferguson said his main objection was that it would validate all illegal bond and warrant issues.

Strike Action To Be Decided

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Oct. 23.—What part, if any, the Texas unit of the National Farmers' Holiday association will take in the national farm strike now underway in the middlewest will be decided at a meeting of the board of directors at Plainview tomorrow.

L. Gough, Amarillo, president of the Texas chapter, said he had called the meeting for 10 a. m. He said whatever action is to be taken will be decided at the meeting. Most of the directors, he said, live in the Panhandle-Plains area.

Gough declined to comment on the strike, stating that he did not care to express himself until he had learned the attitude of the directors.

He said the organization had about 3,000 members in Texas, most of them in the western part.

CLOVIS, N. M., Oct. 23 (AP)—Uncle Sam may be asked to lend West Texas farmers a few airplanes with which to conduct an aerial attack on sandhill cranes who are destroying hundreds of acres of crops in the region of Friona and Bovina, Texas, 30 miles east of here.

The farmers report the birds are eating everything in sight and have applied to the Texas state game authorities for permission to kill them. Failing in this they said they would ask the government for airplanes to be used in a campaign to rid the region of the birds. Thousands of ducks now coming south, the farmers said, also are causing trouble.

First Direct Thrust Is Made At Produce Marketing When Pickets Spill Milk Bound For Market Points

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 23. (AP) — Reports of milk dumping and picketing marked the first direct thrust of the national farmers strike at produce marketing today.

In Wisconsin, farm pickets spilled portions of a load of milk en route to a condensery at Vesper and another at Neillsville, permitting only 800 pounds of milk to reach the latter town's condensery during the day.

Trucks Turned Back

Plans for peacefully picketing all highways leading to the important Sioux City market in Northwestern Iowa, a militant farm sector were announced by W. C. Daniel president of the Woodbury county farm holiday association, who received tenders of support from the county groups in adjacent South Dakota and Nebraska counties. During the day pickets turned back many livestock trucks bound for Sioux City.

The initial marketing day of the strike—which started noon Saturday, a day of minimum marketing activity in the rural communities—revealed little pronounced effect, however.

Get Average Volume

Most Iowa markets reported milk, grain and poultry products received in average volume. An exception was Council Bluffs where produce trucking dropped off sharply. Across the Missouri river at Omaha, Neb., livestock trucking also was diminished but the rail shipments brought the total receipts to about the normal expectation. Grain receipts at the Omaha exchange were also curtailed. Dealers said elevator men

Tribunals Are Being Planned As Regulation

Chain Stores Are Exception Under New Change And Will Remain Under Code Regulation In All Areas

Drug Code Formed

Retail Plan Is Broadened To Include Drug Stores; Price Control Provision Stripped But Protection Offered

By JAMES COPE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. — Under the pressure of adverse farm sentiment, NRA today pulled out of the country's villages and small towns, and announced a protective chain of local tribunals to keep merchants from hiking prices too high.

This first major change in the industrial recovery program, was taken under an executive order by President Roosevelt, forecast by a single sentence in his Sunday night address to the nation.

Exception Is Made

An exception under the order was that chain stores, wherever located, will remain under code regulation. Also small factories and those doing interstate business and those employing more than five people still have NRA watching over them even in the otherwise exempt towns of 2,500 or less.

The order's issuance coincided with promulgation of the retail trade code which emerged with a price control provision stripped of the ten per cent markup fought by farmer and consumer representatives alike, but so phrased as to give the merchant substantially the same protection against destructive price cutting by competitors.

Definition Made Public

At the same time also the president had made public his own definition of the employer's right to hire and fire a worker on a basis of merit, saying this was quite legal so long as not used as a subterfuge to oust union men, but that it should not be written into a code. It was the hope at NRA that this word from the president would end the long wrangle between spokesmen for industry and labor over interpretations of the industrial law's grant of the right to organize, untrammelled by employer interference.

Recognizing the weight of farm sentiment against the price increases NRA has caused, Hugh S. Johnson, NRA executive, issued a lengthy statement on the president's order which said that while "it would be a tragic folly to turn millions of the reemployed back on the streets on the argument that thus the cost

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THERE are a number of people in Lubbock who do charity work. Some are well known. Others do the work so quietly that they are seldom known. Among these latter are several bridge clubs and other organizations.

Just which organizations do charity work, I am not sure, because this is a thing that is not usually advertised. However, there is the Congenial club, which fits glasses to children or pays for having tonsils removed occasionally. This is done with the monthly dues of a dime each, paid by the members. The fund was intended for a flower fund in the beginning but members subsequently decided to use flowers from their yards and help out some poor children.

The Sans Souci club used to have a milk and ice fund for Mexicans. The Stag Bridge club had a similar fund. The London club, which is a bridge club, does some work such as this.

All of the civic clubs do welfare work, but people generally know they do. It is the social clubs that are not usually expected to do this sort of thing and yet do.

AN OPPORTUNITY

THERE is still an opportunity for some one to originate a national beverage that is non-stimulating and yet hot.

Heat in most office buildings is unsatisfactory and people working in them frequently feel the need of a hot drink on wintry afternoons Yet the lack of such a drink is frequently discussed where business women, steflographers and other down-town people gather together.

Coffee is the beverage most frequently drunk yet there are few restaurants and other eating places that make savory coffee. Most of it "makes you feel that something terrible is going to happen," according to one stenographer. And even those who do not have such a morbid reaction find that it affects their nerves or keeps them awake that night.

Some coffee companies do offer coffee that is without these unpleasant after-effects but this type of beverage is not available at eating houses.

As to hot chocolate. There is no such article as far as commercial houses are concerned—and I should know because I have tried it in enough places. That's one drink that is not good made of water and every restaurant makes it that way. Good chocolate simply can't be bought.

Tea that is satisfactory can be bought in most places but it has the disadvantage of being almost as stimulating as coffee.

So the opportunity remains open. Some one who has ideas might make a fortune by originating a hot drink that could be prepared by restaurant cooks and hotel chefs and yet would not have an unpleasant reaction on the most sensitive nerves.

Will you experiment ONE WEEK to be RID of Constipation FOR LIFE?

Thousands have ended their bowel troubles this way

1 Get a liquid laxative that can be measured to the drop.
2 Take the amount found to bring a perfect movement.
3 Reduce the dose, as bowels begin to move without help.

Can constipation be overcome? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure any case of constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any habit-forming cathartic. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

Why Hospitals use a liquid laxative

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

What is a Safe Laxative?

In buying any laxative, read the label. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it. If you don't know anything about a preparation, ask some doctor about it. Temporary relief that you get from some habit-forming cathartic is very apt to be dearly bought.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation with its ingredients stated on the label. By using it, you avoid bowel strain. You can keep the bowels regular, and comfortable. You can make constipated spells as rare as colds.

NRA

Make the LIQUID TEST:

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative will prove to you that you are on the right track. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be as regular as clockwork. The secret is the right laxative, and the right dose. A laxative you can measure out, and reduce the dose as the need for help is reduced. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which every druggist keeps ready for use.

Help Is To Be Given Schools

Financial Problems Are To Be Scanned In Course Of Study Mapped Out After Report Is Made

CLAUDE, Oct. 23 (Special) — America's crippled school system may be helped by two measures that have recently been adopted by the board of managers of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in a semi-annual meeting in Washington, D. C.

First, support of emergency legislation providing federal aid, to schools was incorporated in the year's legislative program of the congress.

Second, a modern program of financing public schools, a course of study designed to familiarize parents with the problems of school finance, was adopted. Based upon the report of the national conference on the financing of education, held in New York this summer, under the auspices of the joint commission on the emergency in education, the study program will be promoted on a nationwide basis through parent-teacher associations. Presidents of the state congresses of parents and teachers were consultants on this conference.

Study Plan Prepared

The study plan was prepared by Miss Charl O. Williams, fifth vice-president and director of the department of education of the national congress. In proposing the study for consideration of the board, Miss Williams said: "This report represents the very latest thinking on the subject of school finance by experts in the field of education. Because parent-teacher associations are more closely related to the emergency than any other group, they need to understand the problems of school finance. It is hoped that laymen, particularly members of parent-teacher associations, will join with educators in a study of this report."

Miss Williams points out that study of the recommendations of the joint commission does not imply agreement with them, but that the purpose of the study course is to give laymen a better understanding of the problems of financing public schools.

Recommendations of the joint commission on which the study program is based include the following: Better methods of taxation must be effected to continue existing educational offerings and to develop school programs to meet modern social needs.

State responsibility for the foundation program of education must be assumed in the future in order to ease the burden of taxation on local communities.

Federal aid for education must be extended beyond its present scope if educational opportunity is to be maintained in the states.

Reorganization of local school units in some states must be effected before a genuinely economical administration of the schools is possible.

Public education in our modern complex society must be broad in scope.

The national board further adopted a resolution deploring the trend in some states to put high school education on a tuition basis and thus to destroy equality of educational opportunity at the crucial time when such opportunity is most vitally necessary to both individual and social well-being.

The board urges officers and members of the national congress and other citizens to take an active part in defending the rights of all American youth to free and equal educational opportunity until it shall become possible and desirable for them to have suitable employment.

Wanted To Give Program Chance

HOUSTON, Oct. 23 (AP) — "The reason we previously haven't taken an active part in the National Farmers Holiday association is because we wanted to give President Roosevelt's 'new deal' and the NRA an opportunity to work," B. E. Stallones, of Houston, vice president of the Texas division of the N.F.H.A., said today. Stallones also is manager of the Dairy Farmers South Texas Producers association, with headquarters in Houston.

He explained that "we" included himself, T. W. Morr and A. M. Hamilton, Harris county dairymen, members and directors of the holiday association, and around 700 dairy farmer members of the South Texas Producers association.

"We have been very patient," Mr. Stallones said. "But now I am beginning to feel like some other farmers, that if the 'new deal' is going to help the farmer, we want to know it. If we don't get help soon we are going after it.

"We are considering the advisibility of sending some one to Washington to plead our cause, and if that fails, then we will feel justified in doing what we think is necessary to protect curselves from selfish interests. If we feel it is necessary to follow holiday farmers in other states we will do so. We are not going to continue to sit back and let a few selfish price-cutters reduce our farmers to poverty. I think it would be unfair for us to do so."

Mayor's Race Hits A Snag

Mayor O'Brien Orders German Day Celebration Cancelled; Jewish Leaders Applaud His Anti-Nazi Action

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP) — The boisterous progress of New York City's rough and ready mayoral campaign, already accelerated by anti-semitism charges and national political ramifications, ran up against nazi-ism today.

Mayor John O'Brien, Tammany candidate, has acted in his official capacity to order cancellation of a German day celebration on the ground that it was to be turned into a forum on nazi anti-semitic propaganda.

Jewish leaders applauded his action, and a quartet of New York's most prominent Jews issued a statement denouncing the intrusion of racial and religious antagonism in the campaign.

It was signed by Governor Herbert Lehman, Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, Henry Morgenthau and Felix M. Warburg of the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb and Co.

Bernard S. Deutsch, president of the American Jewish congress and a candidate for president of the board of aldermen on the ticket headed by Joseph V. McKee, independent Democratic candidate for mayor, charged that Count Felix Von Luckner was coming to the United States to take over nazi propaganda.

With Tammany banking on victory from its support in home relief and patronage groups, regular Tammany machine voters and those with personal interest in the nail the virtually certain added support growing out of the nazi and anti-semitic issues can be regarded as so much reserve strength, political observers said.

Knickerbockers In Reunion; Lubbock Man In Attendance

Among the Knickerbockers to gather early this week in Dallas in a reunion occasioned by the return of H. R. Knickerbocker, who after leaving Texas distinguished himself as a newsman by winning the Pulitzer prize for foreign correspondence, was a brother, Kenneth L. Knickerbocker, assistant professor of English at Texas Technological college.

The Knickerbocker family, 13 in all, was to assemble at the home of Dr. Bruce Knickerbocker in Dallas for four days, after which H. R Knickerbocker will return to the news agency under whose aegis he worked as a Moscow correspondent. After winning one of America's major journalistic prizes by his work in outlining Russian trade tactics Mr. Knickerbocker went to Germany, where he barely averted being expelled because of his stories of the anti-Semitic program of the Hitler government.

A former Southern Methodist university professor, Mr. Knickerbocker has corresponded for United Press, the New York Evening Post, and the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Football Officials' Ears Burn; Umps Get Call-Down From The Big Chief

Two Boners On Saturday Card Lessen Scores

Referees Join Ranks Of Grid "Goats" As Decision Costs Army A Field Goal, Brown A Possible Touchdown

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—It was the turn of several prominent football officials to join with burning ears today the weekly crop of "goats" developed each Saturday — players who muffed punts, dropped passes, missed tackles or a vital signal.

A wrong decision at Cleveland by Referee J. E. Keegan, of Pittsfield, Mass., cost Army a field goal and three points that would have boosted the Cadets' margin over Illinois to 9 to 0. Failure of E. J. O'Brien, of Tufts, to call a play correctly at New Haven may have cost Brown a second touchdown against Yale.

These two were the major "bulls" of the day, and though Walter S. Okeson, of Lehigh, commissioner of eastern officials and technically their "coach," did not take his squad off in a corner of the field for a little heart to heart talk, he did express regret at the situation.

"I can understand O'Brien's mistake at Yale," he said today in a telephone conversation from Bethlehem, Pa. "The rules on blocked kicks are not so clear as they might be and may have to come in for further consideration of the rules committee. But Keegan's error was very serious and unexplainable."

Keegan refused to allow a field goal made from the 15-yard line by Travis Brown in the second quarter of the Army-Illinois game because both knees of Paul Johnson, Cadet quarterback who was holding the ball for the placement, touched the ground.

"The rule declaring the ball dead when any portion of the ball carrier's person except his hands or feet touches the ground specifically exempts the holder of the ball in a place kick," Okeson said.

While not needing the points for victory, Army coaches felt the adverse decision keenly because it eliminated a margin wide enough to permit experimentation and resting of many regulars for the tough engagement with Yale this Saturday.

Maury Caito, Brown end, blocked one of Stan Fuller's punts in the Yale end zone near the close of the third period. The ball bounded crazily about, finally landed in the arms of Clare Curtin, Eli tackle, who in direct violation of the rules ran the ball out of Yale's 23-yard line.

"You can't really blame an official for letting Curtin run with the ball although the rules are specific that the kicking side, under no circumstance, can advance the ball, no matter what has happened. It's always a kicked ball until declared dead," said Okeson.

Too Late Then

"The rules are contrary to normal inclination, which is to get that ball and run. Brown apparently accepted the ruling without protest. You remember, a touchdown was scored under somewhat similar circumstances in the Yale-Georgia game last year and the fact it wasn't legal wasn't discovered until the next day."

The mistake at Yale was similar to one made by D. W. Very, of Penn State in the Penn-Dartmouth game at Philadelphia, but corrected after a prolonged discussing that did nothing to improve the morale of the Quakers, who thought they had just scored a touchdown giving them a 13 to 7 lead.

Bill Shannahan kicked for Pennsylvania. The ball bounced off the shoulder of a Dartmouth back, Wilbur Powers, near midfield, and was scored up by Pennepacker, a Penn end, who promptly ran 47 yards for a touchdown. The teams were ready to try for the extra point before Dartmouth convinced the official that no matter what happened, the kicking side can't run with the ball.

"At any rate," said Okeson, "I've received no formal protests, so the coaches can't be much excited about it. The boys just had a bad day."

Kizer For Hunk?

Persistent rumors that a substitution for the head coach of Notre Dame is to be made mention Nobel Kizer, above, Purdue mentor, as the successor to Hunk Anderson. Reports indicate Kizer is to succeed Anderson if his Boilermaker squad defeats the Irish, November 11.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

HAZING in the "good old" days: Pitching fresh freshmen out of second story windows. Unknown to them there was a net below the window to catch them. This little stunt always turned 'em white with fear.

Making rude freshmen take from 15 to 40 licks with a razor-strop. This always served as a good alibi for not attending classes the next day.

Ducking freshmen in water and then scrubbing their faces with a mop. This always assured the university of a clean "fish" student body.

Taking freshmen out on a country road and making them remove most of their clothes and hike back to the university.

Making the richer of the freshmen loan a few dollars to a senior so he could call on the freshman's co-ed sweetheart. This helped harden freshmen for crises in the financial world.

Enlisting the aid of freshmen to tie bow ties that are now passe. It was a novel idea to test a freshman's courage—allowing him so close to a senior's throat.

HAZING today: Clipping hair of freshmen, some of whom perhaps needed hair cuts.

LOT OF FUN

Whatever hazing there is left for college students is mostly mild. Time was when hazing was a lot of fun and even freshmen got enjoyment out of the many freak things they had to do to please upper classmen. Perhaps it is better that hazing as practiced in the bygone days has passed on, but few old college grads would want to return to college and be robbed of their privilege to haze a few freshmen. In those days they studied hard and hazed hard, but there was seldom serious injury. Get a bunch of business men together and start them talking of their college days. They will roar with laughter when they recall certain hazing stunts. Get a crew of present day college students together and they will tell you about the fairest co-ed in school.

FOOTBALL RAMBLINGS

BILLY STAMPS, who gained all-American honors with Corsicana High school a few seasons ago, is living up to all advance notices. He is an outstanding cog in one of the finest lines Southern Methodist ever boasted. Stamps is a rugged, chunky youngster, tips the scales at 190 and loves to mix it. He is one of the finest blocking guards to ever wear the red and blue spangles. He and Wetsel, the latter a product of Paris Junior college and Peacock Military academy form a duo of center-flankers hard to beat in the conference.

Stamps and little Robert Wilson, the Ponies' backfield find, figured in an amusing incident in the recent Southern Methodist-Rice game at Houston. Wilson pulled a leg tendon late in the fourth quarter and was taken out by Coach Ray Morrison. A few minutes afterward, the Owls fumbled and there was a pileup of players scrambling for the ball. Those on the bench were straining to see who had the ball. Finally, Stamps made a successful dive. Wilson jumped up and cried "Corsicana's ball." He and Stamps played together at Corsicana. The team is still kidding him for forgetting that, in spite of his mere 150 pounds, he's grown up and playing college ball now.

Purdue's Paul Pardonner The Drop-Kick Ace

Where Upsets Rock Grid World And Fleet Halfbacks Fail, Noble Kizer's Kicker Rarely Fails With Extra Point

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Upsets may rock the conference championship drive, the greatest line may crumble, and the fleetest back may not gain a yard, but you can wager your Sunday hat that Paul Pardonner will make that crucial kick.

He's the outstanding "pinch hitter" of big time football and probably the biggest gridiron hero of Purdue.

Pardonner, a soft spoken science student from Middletown, O., is closing one of the oddest football careers in the history of the game down at Purdue this year. So valuable is his ability to drop kick those precious extra points after touchdowns that he hasn't carried the ball more than half a dozen times in his three seasons of stardom for the Boilermakers.

Does He Kick?

But how he "kicks" about it! In three seasons, he has attempted to score extra points after touchdown 25 times, making 23 of them good and missing two that wouldn't have made any difference in the final outcome of the game, anyway, as the Boilermakers won them with wide enough margins. His boots, kicked from either foot, has saved game after game for Purdue.

Last Saturday week, Purdue scored a touchdown against Minnesota and needed that extra point to get an ultimate tie and keep in the Big Ten championship race. Coach Noble Kizer of the Boilermakers signalled to Pardonner. In he came, stone cold, but his kick was straight and true and the game ended in a deadlock. Against Wisconsin two years ago, he kicked the first point and then hurt his foot unbeknown to his mates. Called upon to kick again, he responded by arching the leather squarely through the uprights with his left foot.

"In kicking footballs, like hitting golf balls, you merely have to keep your eye on that ball," Pardonner said when asked the secret of his success.

Lazy Bones
This Guard Hustles On Quick Kicks

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 23 (AP)—How he cured a lazy but able guard on an early-day Carlisle Indian football squad is among the prize stories recounted by Gus Welch, new head coach at Haskell Institute.

"Just as soon as we scored that guard would quit," Welch said, "until the other team scored on us. So I took to kicking him in the pants during each game, and he thought the other team was responsible and played like a whirlwind.

"In the final game, though, when we had to have every man at his best, he refused to respond to the shoe.

"That guard finally played a whale of a game, but I'll bet he doesn't know yet who bit his arm."

On Main Mat Event Tomorrow Night

Here he is, Dutch "Man-Killer" Mantell, cosmopolitan rassle man of many fights and years, who meets young Bobby Sampson tomorrow night in the feature event of Sled Allen's regular Wednesday night wrestling show. Sampson, the "little giant of Los Angeles," will accomplish what nearly all other opponents fail to do if he throws Mantell. In the semi-windup tomorrow night, Lubbock's own Jack Van Bebber continues the pursuit of his young professional career in a match with Pat Garrison, the "Arkansas Razorback" who has fought here before.

Sports Take One-Sided Contest From Publishers; Federals Defeat Penney Company; Two Games Slated Tonight

With a three-run lead taken in the first inning and a seven-run splurge in the fourth inning, the J. and J. Sporting Goods team put it over the Avalanche-Journal Publishers, 13 to 2, last night in the first game of an indoor baseball doubleheader at the Auditorium.

In the second game of last night's doubleheader, the Federal Employees defeated the J. C. Penney company team, 14 to 6, another one-sided affair. The Federals took the lead with two runs in the second after the Penney club had scored once in the first. Each team scored twice in the third, but the Federals went ahead with five in the fourth, and five more in the sixth. In a late rally, the Penney team pushed over three runs in the seventh.

Right Fielder Cummings was an outstanding Performer for the J. C. Penney company, scoring three times. Watson, Adams and Gaither brought in the other tallies.

Jones Pitches Well

Lee Jones pitched effective ball for the Sports, limiting the Publishers to five scattered hits, and runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Jack Williamson and Truman Hutson took turns on the Publishers' mound, but their offerings were tapped hard and often by the champions of the outdoor season.

Lewis Price's double scored Hambright and Jones after McAlister had tallied on Mansell's single to start the attack in the first. Five consecutive singles and three errors served to bring in seven runs in the fourth.

In tonight's program, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, the Federal Employees meet the J. and J. Sports, and Hule-Ribble tangles with Peoples Ice company.

Last night's lineups:

Pig Slaughter Program Of Government Cuts Supplies

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—The government pig slaughter program reduced the total live weight of hogs slaughtered under federal inspection in the 1933-34 marketing year by eight per cent, C. L. Harlan, livestock statistician of the United States department of agriculture, said today in a discussion before the Institute of American Meat Packers.

"During the next 12 months, total inspected meat production will probably be little different from the last 12 months," he said.

Until restored by the 1933 legislature, legalized betting on horse races had been absent from Texas for 24 years.

IN FAVORITE PLAYS OF FAMOUS COACHES

FORWARD LATERAL IS SCORER FOR 'BAMA

BY ART KRENZ
NEA Service Sports Writer

"At Alabama we have used this forward lateral pass with great success," says Coach Frank Thomas of the play diagramed here.

This play is run from a "V" formation which is practically the same as a punt formation. This lineup is fine for kicking, passing or running the ends, especially when there is a triple-threat man in the key position.

At the snap of the ball the right end goes down the field for a decoy. The left end also goes down but only five yards, turns and comes back and receives a quick, hard pass from No. 4 back. While the stage is being set, No. 1 goes down and across to the left to receive a backward pass or lateral from the receiver of the forward pass, the left end.

The offensive guards leave the line of scrimmage and block the defensive tackles, while the offensive tackles concentrate on the defensive guards. Any attempt to rush the passer by the defensive ends is blocked by backs Nos. 2 and 3.

Muscle-Bound Westerners And Long-Faced Coaches Prepare For Invasion By El Paso Set

Date Of Game Is Changed To Friday Night Instead Of Saturday Afternoon; Austin High Coming Prepared

Muscles sore after their unimpressive triumph over Borger last week, the Lubbock Westerners under the tutelage of two long-faced coaches, went through a light drill at Fair Park yesterday.

On Friday night, the high school squad tackles Pat Murphy's high-scoring Austin high school of El Paso. Winners in a district tilt over Pabens by a 64-0 tally, the El Paso outfit is due to arrive in Lubbock, Friday morning primed for the Westerners.

Originally slated for Saturday afternoon, the date was changed to Friday night following an exchange of communications yesterday.

Murphy, former line-coach for the Abilene Eagles, piloted his squad through to a district title in '32, and only a tie game marks their record for this season.

Work On Blocking

At the high school workout yesterday, particular attention was given to blocking, a phase of the game the Westerners did not always consider in their exhibition at Borger.

With his casualty list mounting, Coach Chapman will again not have his full strength against El Paso. There are no major injuries on the squad, aside from Grimes' trick knee which appears to have turned trickster for a large part of the season, but the large collection of small ills and bruises may cramp the Westerners' style this week.

Matadors Won't Go Until Friday P. M.

Determined not to face another opponent, particularly this week's enemy, without being "ready," the Texas Tech Matadors indulged in the first of a series of four grilling workouts yesterday afternoon.

From head coach to waterboy, the Matadors admit their unpreparedness last Friday night when the Louisiana Polytecnic Institute Bulldogs came here and made monkeys of the Techsters for the first two and a half quarters. It took ten points by the opposition to wake them up.

Something To Inspire

Since they never did beat the Texas School of Mines Muckers, the Matadors have a definite aim in life this week. They depart from Lubbock Friday afternoon, instead of Thursday night as originally intended, for the border city and a whack at Mack Saxon's troublesome Miners.

The Miners also had their "off day" last week, and were held to a 6-all tie by the New Mexico Military institute eleven of Roswell. That after looking like a million dollars against the University of Texas and the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, the latter conquerors of Tech.

With nearly everybody in good physical condition, barring a charley-horse here and a jerked tendon there, the Matadors will practice hard this week. Blocking and tackling, the fundamentals of attack and defense in any football game, will come in for a lot of attention, as the boys didn't look any too hot in these departments last Friday night.

Collections Of Feed Loans Last Week Jump To $11,563

Collections of feed and seed loans last week by Fred N. Warren, Plainview, amounted to $11,563, J. M. Denman, who was county chairman, said last night. Loans amounted to $24,515, he added.

"We hope to make Lubbock county 100 per cent in collections," he said. "We have collected so far, $14,356 from the borrowers."

Lubbock county has had about 200 loans this year. Mr. Warren collected $2,793 prior to last week's collections.

Georgia Tech has two co-captains and three alternate captains for this year's football team.

Enjoy Living In A Properly Lighted Home

Millions of people each year are finding out the true comforts of living in a well-lighted home. Once this pleasure is experienced, it remains permanent. The first thing repaired is a worn or out of date light fixture.

Better Light!
Better Sight!

Then, too, it is a known fact that poorly-lighted rooms or offices are the greatest hindrances to good eyesight. Vision is impaired constantly (though probably unnoticed at the time) by trying to read in a partially lighted place. Check over your lighting fixtures today . . . eliminate the vision hazard at very little expense.

Railway Labor Backs Farmers

Sympathetic Cooperation Is Extended In Big Strike For Higher Prices; Meaning Of Gesture Not Known

CHICAGO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Railway labor extended its "sympathetic cooperation" to the farmers of America in their "strike" for higher prices on farm products today.

Alexander F. Whitney, chairman of the railway labor executive association, pledged that support to Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers' Holiday association, after hearing Reno's plea for support of the farmer.

Whether that pledge meant a mere gesture of moral support, or an active effort to aid the farmers in stopping movement of their products to the market, was not made clear.

Whitney is president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen as well as spokesman for all railroad brotherhoods.

After his conference with Reno he said, "If the farmers are unable to get relief through farm credit associations or other relief agencies of the government that would permit them to protect their homes, they certainly have the God given right to strike as a last resort."

British Government Opposes Adjournment Of Arms Parley

LONDON, Oct. 23 (AP)—It was indicated authoritatively shortly before a cabinet session today that the British government opposes an adjournment of the disarmament conference unless it is coupled with a provision for resumption of work at some future date.

The cabinet meeting was called unexpectedly to discuss the developments since Germany's bolt from the league of nations and the disarmament conference. The ministers ordinarily convene Wednesday.

The question of whether the foreign secretary, Sir John Simon, himself will return to Geneva will be decided, but when the announcement will be made was uncertain.

Large Sum Is Being Planned

More Than Billion And Quarter Dollars Will Be Spent In Next Two Years To Help Roosevelt Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP) — More than a billion and a quarter dollar swill be spent in the next two years to carry out President Roosevelt's program for the replacement of poor farm lands with good and for a reduction of all surplus crops.

Figures furnished today by officiallys working on the program showed that on the one hand the government is preparing to spend upward of $900,000,000 to reduce crop surpluses and to buy up some of the existing excess to feed the needy. On the other, $300,000,000 approximates the amount that will be spent for irrigation, reclamation, research and for teaching the farmer efficiency.

Adjectives Outlined

The objective as President Roosevelt has outlined it to his aides is this:

First, to turn to pasturage or some other use the marginal or sub-marginal lands which cannot be farmed economically.

Second, to replace, on the average, three acres of that land with one acre of new soil that will produce less than three acres but on a more soundly economic basis.

Third, to hold production of basic commodities on all lands to a point where they will cease to pile up surpluses.

Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, is charged with the arduous job of harmonising the multifold federal activities in this direction. Which means that he must try to balance the crop reduction program against the research work, federal aid to colleges and experiment stations, irrigation and reclamation activities and the public works administration's building program.

Man Held Without Bond In Beaumont Examining Trial

BEAUMONT, Oct. 23 (AP)—Tommy McLaughlin, 34, was held without bond today in an examining trial before R. A. McReynolds, justice of the peace, to await action of the grand jury in the death of his wife early yesterday at their home.

The coroner's verdict alleged that "death was caused by a blow on the head."

Neighbors testified at the examing trial that the woman screamed and summoned them to her aid. A neighbor at whose home the couple had been visiting testified McLaughlin had been drinking.

The Need For Good Schools

OVER in the seventh and eighth columns of this page appears a letter, written the editor of The Morning Avalanche by a Hale Center school teacher.

The points made in the letter, we believe, are worth the reading time and careful consideration of every citizen of Lubbock and the South Plains. We recommend attention of the reader to the comment.

MONEY is circulating more freely in and environs today than it has in several years.

More than likely, the present condition will continue for several months.

With that in mind, we urge citizens of Lubbock to pay their school taxes now, rather than wait until January—and suggest to citizens of other South Plains points that they do the same.

And those who owe back taxes will be doing nothing more than their duty if they pay them, too, while they can and so they will not run a chance of getting any further in arrears.

THERE is no use side-stepping the situation. Practically every school district in this country—as well as those scattered throughout the United States—is lagging behind in finances.

Yet we all know we cannot afford to tinker with the school system of our individual communities or of the land as a whole.

Public education of the best possible sort is one institution we Americans must support if our country is to forge ahead.

ALERD E. SMITH, who even his staunchest foes must admit is a great American, sums the matter up neatly in a recent address he made at Albany when The University of the State of New York conferred upon him the degree of doctor of laws.

Declared the great Democratic leader and humanitarian:

"Education writes a good large insurance policy against the foolish notions of the Socialists, Communists, Nazis and all the others who are arranged against constututional government. It is all right to have economy . . . but don't let false economy fall on our public schools . . . It wouldn't do this state a bit of harm if we didn't build another mile of road for the next three years. But one single year that education is neglected can never be brought back!"

WE AGREE thoroughly with Alfred E. Smith in the above quoted opinions. He has, we think, hit the nail squarely on the head—not only for New York, but for the nation as a whole and including our part of it.

Although Texas needs roads more than New York needs them; although West Texas, and this section of West Texas in particular, needs them worse than any other part of West Texas, The Morning Avalanche believes Governor Smith's yardstick could apply here as aptly as it does in the Empire State, were it necessary to apply it.

Of course, we do not have to make the decision between roads and schools—and may be thankful for that. We can have both and must have both.

But were it necessary for us to choose between the completion of our needed highway system and keeping our public schools running we know which we would consider the most essential to the welfare of our territory.

There is no substitute for education!

If the government can't prevent counterfeiting in a federal prison, it is no wonder the task outside is so hard.

With a record of having sent to prison 207 thugs in three weeks, Chicago appears to be making an earnest effort to improve its reputation.

The trouble with bank investigations is that they are made too late, from the standpoint of the depositor.

Now that Japan and France are in a controversy over the ownership of nine coral islets in the China sea, Japanese jingoes may give the United States a brief rest as a target for their shafts.

No matter how low the dollar may drop in value, we'll always think highly of it.

With members of the civilian conservation corps eating 9,000,000 eggs monthly, the country soon may face an egg shortage unless the hens can be persuaded to speed up production.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

OFFICIALS of the American Federation of Labor have garnered the goods on chiselers against the Blue Eagle in literally thousands of cases.

Local Compliance boards are struggling manfully with the situation but so far have failed to hang up over many horrible examples for public scorn.

Presumably these public-spirited citizens serving without pay are leery of falsely accusing a next-door neighbor.

One of the flagrant cases reported to the A. F. of L. involves a company manufacturing two-for-a-nickel cigars.

No sooner had the company signed a code than it raised the price of its cabbage to 3 for a dime.

Then they set underpaid girls to working overtime pasting Blue Eagles on the boxes.

SWEATING: In another instance organized labor and the local Compliance board are definitely at odds.

Employees of a factory in a middle western town struck against pay and working conditions. Officials of the union dipped into the matter. They said they found conditions in the factory, sanitary and otherwise, pretty awful. They also reported the workers had been getting so little pay it would be a crime to touch them for union dues.

Union organizers were told not to take a nickel but to stand by for all the aid and comfort possible.

The chairman of the Compliance board made an inspection of the factory.

She—the chairman being a woman—gave the plant a complete bill of health and called on public opinion to force the men back to work.

Union leaders whisper madame chairman is the wife of a man who is financially interested in the disputed factory.

BIFF: The Khaki Shirts got biffed at the District of Columbia Line the other day when they advanced on the Capital to make a dictator of F. D. R. It was slightly different from the reception of the famous first bonus army.

That outfit was met by escorts, taken to specially provided camps and otherwise pampered for weeks.

This was under the gentler regime of General Pelham Glassford as Washington's chief of police.

Seemingly Inspector Burke, head of the detective bureau, who handled the recent crisis has more of the old school in him.

Local reporters were extremely charitable in their accounts of what took place when the potential Fascists attempted to invade Washington. In their favor it must be recorded that newspapers can't print all the blue and chilly language that sparked at the District line.

Inspector Burke met this Mexican Army, all of them officers, and said in effect: "Listen, you birds. The Philadelphia police raided your headquarters and found a couple dozen guns to say nothing of blackjacks, razors and other little things. The City of Washington will have no traffic with a bunch like you. Now get the hell out!"

The Khaki Shirts gave the inspector a Fascist salute, tumbled into their trucks and highballed back in the direction of Baltimore.

NOTES: A. F. of L. officials have actual pay envelopes in their possession as proof of code chiseling. . . . Some of them contained $7 and $8 for working weeks ranging from 48 to 54 hours. . . . Emil E. Hurja, administrative assistant in Public works, is an authority on Andrew Jackson. . . . He has in his possession a number of as yet unpublished manuscripts concerning this figure of history. . . . Marquis James, the biographer, is haunting Hurja's office these days while compiling a new tome on Jackson. . . . Attorney General Cummings thought he hit on a swell plan to bottle up the country's most desperate gangsters by sending them to Alcatraz prison. . . . San Franciscans don't agree with him, fearing that the entourages of these hoodlums will make headquarters in their city. . . . "Why not put them out in Santa Barbara channel with the wild goats?" they ask.

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

MEN who are gradually taking over affairs—those in the late thirties and early forties—expect to see Fascism and Communism at death-grips in their time of authority.

The best informed are predicting open war by Japan on Soviet Russia and Soviet China within the next few months. Manchukuo will be used as the operating front. That fiat nation has few treaties and no history to cramp the plans of military leaders. Japan will provide the leaders. The plans have long been set.

The principals of Fascism are native to the Nipponese. The Emperor has more power to bestow on the man of the hour than Victor Emmanuel could give Mussolini or Hindenburg transfer to Hitler.

Nazi leaders—military and industrialist—understand this well. No westerners do better in the Orient than the Germans. They click there.

Promoting the Japanese attack on Sovietism is a patriotic duty and a profit-making business for the Nazis. The supplying of war materials is a lusty trade now. The possibilities under an iron peace make threats of western boycotts the menace of a wooden sword. And in such a war is seen the first step toward forming an anti-Soviet front in Europe.

Germany intends to organize that front.

MAILS: Withdrawal from the League and reentry on a haughty basis may hamstring a German business nightmare.

Industrial spying is a fine art in Europe but the game has rules. Opening competitors' letters in transit breaks one of these. All the evidence has been gathered to prove that it is done on a well-organized scale in Germany.

This is no secret to those concerned.

Several firms in Denmark found their mail from Warsaw three days slower than a year ago. Metal clips in such letters showed rust-spots on the paper—an almost certain sign of steam having been applied. Further tests showed two layers of gum on flaps of envelopes passing through the German Post office. There was but one layer where other routes were used.

A far-flung investigation followed. The proof of indefensible espionage was about to be presented to the League of Nations when — — —.

But our well informed bankers doubt that.

The Imperial Chemical Industries of Britain have also been a help to the jobless.

They have been advertising for a research physiologist. The only applicants to be given serious consideration have all been experts in respiratory physics. They are the boys who know how to check up on the effects of poison gasses on the breathing processes.

EXPLANATION OF LAST SATURDAY'S CARTOON

THE RIVER THAT RUNS UPHILL

Up to 20 years ago the Chicago River drained Chicago and the country around into Lake Michigan. At that time the sewage of Chicago ran into the river, thus contaminating the lake which supplied the city with its drinking water. To remedy this most unsanitary condition, a great engineering feat was decided upon. The Chicago river was turned around, and now flows uphill to a mouth which used to be its source. Through a drainage canal which is actually a river built by man, 31 miles long and 26 feet deep, the backward-flowing waters of the Chicago river now empty into the Illinois and the Mississippi rivers. The canal is one of the great marvels of engineering. Its construction lasted eight years and cost $70,000,000.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOB WESTON, son of a millionaire, is in love with JOAN WARING, pretty Memphis girl. He has come to Memphis in connection with a textile plant under construction for his father's company.

BARBARA COURTNEY, society girl, whom he knew in New York is scheming to win him away from Joan.

PAT, Joan's younger sister, is infatuated with JERRY FORRESTER son of her employer. MRS. WARING, hopeful that her two daughters will marry well and escape the drudgery that has been her lot, has made every effort to give her daughters advantages.

Through Barbara, Joan is invited on a house party. Barbara realizes Joan will be ill at ease among so many strangers and hopes Bob will be disillusioned. From the very beginning of the house party things go wrong for Joan. She has nothing in common with the sophisticated wealthy girls who take it for granted that Bob is in love with Barbara.

Doubts fill Joan's mind. Unhappy because of Barbara's possessive attitude toward Bob, too proud to show that she is hurt, Joan accepts the attentions of JIM WARFIELD. There is a dancing party and Joan determinedly gay, has plenty of partners. Bob, not understanding her conduct, is disappointed in her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

Joan and Bob had barely circled the room when Jim put his hand on Bob's arm, cutting in on the dance. Bob made his way toward Barbara. The orchestra was playing a slow waltz. Barbara's bright head nestled close against Bob's shoulder, a smile curving her lips. The music stopped and they left the floor.

"I've been trying to get a word alone with you all evening," Jim told Joan, "but you're too popular. Listen, I'm out of cigarets. Will you go with me to get some? There's a little store a few miles away that stays open all night."

Joan hesitated.

"Please come!"

"Why not?" she answered, thinking of Bob and Barbara leaving the dance floor, going through the door leading to a dimly-lighted porch.

"Don't bother about a wrap," said Jim. "My overcoat is in the car."

A few minutes later they were spinning along the smooth highway. The small store, windows bright even at this late hour, loomed up suddenly. Jim drove past.

"Your cigarets?" said Joan.

Jim laughed. "In my pocket."

"In your pocket?"

"Don't be silly, Joan. You knew that was an excuse."

"I certainly didn't!" Joan answered. "You said you wanted them."

"There were plenty at the house, even if I hadn't been well supplied. And I am." He reached into his pocket.

"Strike a match for me, Joan." He checked the car's speed. Joan struck a match and as it flared up she saw his bright, feverish eyes.

"Thanks." He pulled the car to one side of the road, stopping it.

"You know very well why I brought you away," he went on. "I wanted you here with me — away from that crowd. It isn't your crowd, Joan. And I'm crazy about you!"

His arms were about her suddenly. He was lifting her face to his. Joan, resisting fiercely, said: "If you kiss me I'll never forgive you, Jim."

"You don't think I'd lose this opportunity?" He was laughing.

"I liked you," Joan said steadily. "You seemed decent and understanding. I thought you were the best friend I had there."

His arms dropped. "Well, have it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't listen to you."

He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.

"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."

"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.

"Hell!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.

"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."

"How far is it?" asked Joan.

"Nearly three miles."

"Let's start" she spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably, "This is what comes of jealousy. I'm paying the piper."

"Where's that good-looking Joan girl?" Fred sang out.

"With Jim on the porch probably."

"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."

"Probably went to the store for cigarets. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.

"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.

"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."

Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and infernal speculation!

He went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neigborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.

Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.

"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."

"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.

"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.

There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.

Joan and Jim!

They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoul-

Hale Center Teacher Says Pedagogues In Need Of Help

Editor, The Avalanche: Isn't it the funniest thing, not funny "ha-ha" but funny "peculiar", that the other trades, professions and "what nots" are all thought and coded and the school teachers of the land utterly ignored?

To bring the subject quite close to home, there are 14 teachers in a little town just 35 miles from Lubbock, not an untrained, inexperienced one in the group. Last year the most cash that any one received was $170. The superintendent who teaches two high school classes was awarded this munificent sum for 8 months work.

We were all issued warrants and very few of them have been cashed yet. No store in Lubbock would accept these warrants as payment for merchandise even at a big discount. The banks would not cash them for any consideration, save in one or two cases and by issuing small warrants our stores at home could not accomodate us.

This year is a repetition of last year. Nothing but warrants in sight so far. I understand that many of our districts are in the same financial trouble.

I quote from the Pathfinder: "When a schoolboy learns what a great thing schooling is and then learns what a small thing the teacher's pay is, he's bound to be bewildered."

The little boy, as well as the high school boy, will be a little bewildered when he reads that "chorus girls can sing and dance to 'Happy Days' under provisions of the theatrical code. Those appearing in movie houses would get $25 a week or more while principals would get $7.50 per day, with a minimum of $40 weekly for those with more than two years experience."

And that "New York teamsters won a 48-hour five-day week from a board of arbitration set up under the NRA. No overtime work will be permitted and wage scales of $55 for 4-wheel truck drivers, and $60 for 6-wheel truck or trailer drivers are allowed."

Also, "another strike settled by the NRA Labor Mediation board was that of 1,200 bushelmen tailors employed in New York retail stores. This agreement stipulates a $35 scale for a 40-hour week."

This letter is not intended for a complaint, but as a mere truthful statement of existing conditions.

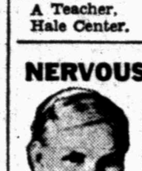

No objection is raised to the chorus girl's pay, the truck driver's or the "bushelmen" tailors, and we are glad indeed that they were of sufficient importance to attract the attention of the NRA.

Those of us who are trying to uphold the best ideals and set good examples are finding it a little difficult these days, for just on the surface it would seem as though it doesnt pay. Not in cash!

Won't the mothers and fathers and friends of the children get busy and see if this situation cannot be remedied? Their teachers need your help. We appeal to you with the old Macedonian cry, "Come and help us".

A Teacher,
Hale Center.

BUS NEWS

DID YOU KNOW—

That the Bus Companies have not used the N.R.A. to boost fares? In fact, our fares are lower than they have ever been and we are carrying more passengers than we have carried since 1929. Because of the N.R.A. we have had to employ a number of extra people and it is costing us more to operate, but the increase in our business will more than off-set the additional cost of operation.

In recent years and especially h the growth of chain stores, a ctice has grown up of selling one two items at a loss in order to people into a store. The little w cannot afford this. The pub- s fooled because what it saves one item it loses on another.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—With stocks and commodities advancing and the dollar weak, reactions of today's financial markets to President Roosevelt's new monetary plan indicated that at least moderately inflationary implications had been gleaned therefrom by many speculative quarters.

Wall street opinion was rather confused as to certain aspects of the plan, with respect to the proposed currency management. Comment in banking quarters was varied, but there was a general tendency to await developments. It seemed evident to some observers that control of the dollar's relation to gold would mean a lower value for our currency, since the administrator has again reiterated the necessity of raising commodity prices by one means or another.

The stock market's first response to the news was a buoyant upturn and, for a time, it looked as though traders had revived their old inflationary spirits. Opening gains were large in brisk trading, experiencing some contraction as quick profits were accepted, but then meeting a little expansion toward noon when prices got 1 to around 7 points higher. Afternoon trading was relatively quiet and the general market tapered off a bit toward the close.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23. (AP)—The cotton market was fairly active today. Prices advanced sharply during the morning on a bullish construction of the president's last night speech but later reacted on realizing, closing 7 to 11 points net higher.

The opening was firm, due to the president's speech, higher Liverpool cables than due and a sharp advance in sterling. First trades showed gains of 22 to 26 points and the market continued to improve after the start until December traded up to 9.44, January to 9.54 and March to 9.66, up 24 to 27 points above Saturday's close.

Later in the morning prices reacted 15 to 16 points on rather liberal profit-taking by satisfied longs. The market again rallied in sympathy with higher stocks and December made a new high at 9.46 or 26 points above the previous close. The later months duplicated their earlier highs 26 to 27 points above the previous close.

The market ruled easier in the afternoon in sympathy with a reaction in stocks and due to long liquidation. Prices made lows for the day right at the end with December at 9.27, January at 9.33 and March at 9.49 or 17 to 19 points down from the highs of the morning. The close was at the bottom with December 7 points net up and March 9 points net up.

Port receipts 56,111, for week 97,743, for season 3,042,158, last season 2,617,155. Exports 48914, for week 90,921, for season 2,037,245, last year 4,032,579. Port stock 3,873,357, last year 4,032,579. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 157,453, last year 135,974. Spot sales at southern markets 44,184, last year 83,406.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—An advance of $1.25 to $1.35 per bale in cotton on general buying in response to the president's address, was followed by partial reactions today under southern selling and realizing. After selling up to .48 for December, that month eased to 9.28 and closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady at net advances of 8 to 13 points.

The opening was firm with active months selling about 25 to 26 points net higher after the call on trade and commission house buying. This demand was supplied by southern selling but reactions of 14 to 15 points brought additional buying with May selling up to 9.82 at the best and active months generally showing net gains of 26 to 27 points. The demand tapered off during the afternoon, however, and prices weakened under increased hedging and realizing or reselling. Closing quotations were at the lowest of the day showing reactions of about 15 to 20 points from the best on the more active positions.

Exprts today 49,914 making 2,052,647 so far this season. Port receipts 57,111.U. S. port stocks 3,865,954.

One of gold's valuable qualities is its resistance to water; it has been found in perfect condition after being buried or submerged for centuries.

Veto Looming

against payment of a debt illegally incurred," he said.

Senator Will D. Page, of Tyler championed the bill. He said its approval would not jeopardize the public works program in Texas, but admitted that it might delay it some. The bill was introduced, he said, to afford Tyler an opportunity to apply to the government for a loan with which to construct a hospital. Veto would prevent that application.

Several objections were entered to the bill. One was that the caption and the body of the bill did not conform. Another was that it would prevent cities from making any extension of public improvements, "even to buying fire hydrants," without a vote of the people. It also contained a conflict with government's requirements concerning repayment of borrowed funds, it was asserted.

Attitude Made Known

The attitude of the federal government toward the bill was made known in telegrams from administration officials.

One of them quoted Walter Koons, former assistant Texas attorney general and now connected with the public works administration as bond advisor, as saying the bill would "seriously impair if not frustrate loans on revenue bonds."

Another telegram from the assistant to the secretary of the interior stated the bill would "seriously retard and might have the effect of denying benefits of the public works program to Texas."

about $1.50 a bale, and at the close was up 35 to 65 cents. Many shares fell back $1 to $2 from their tops, and alcohol stocks reacted sharply, National Distillers losing all of an early gain of $6.

Wall Street was eager to see the actual start of the price fixing of gold by the RFC. The treasury today continued to fix the price of newly mined gold on the basis of the world market and the level of the dollar in relation to other currencies, which made the price $29.59 an ounce, up 56 cents from Saturday. Bar silver jumped 3-4 of a cent an ounce.

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons

Associated Press Staff Writer

Charles E. Simons

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Oct. 23. (AP)—The Democratic primaries next year may see as many candidates for lieutenant governor as for the gubernatorial nomination.

Walter Woodul, state senator from Houston, is regarded by many as a sure contender. Three members of the house reportedly have yearnings along that line, Reps. J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth, R. M. Johnson of Palestine and W. M. Harman of Waco.

Harman also has received mention as a participant in the campaign for speaker of the next legislature.

Long Been a Topic

Woodul's candidacy long has been a topic of comment in political circles. The same may be said of Rep. Johnson.

The night the first special session of the legislature closed, Duvall was placed in nomination by his Fort Worth colleague, Rep. T. J. Renfro. Duvall neither denied nor confirmed the report, but Renfro said Duvall had been carrying on a quiet campaign for the office.

Renfro lauded Duvall's house service and jokingly remarked that with Duvall wielding the senate gavel the house might be able to get some cooperation out of the upper branch.

Witt To Run

A source close to Lieutant Governor Edgar E. Witt reports that Witt definitely is making his plans to enter the prospective free-for-all race for the gubernatorial nomination next year. Witt probably would have entered the race last year had it not been for former Governor R. S. Sterling's decision to seek a second term.

Certain post-mortem political observers believe Witt passed up an opportunity by not getting into the race, regardless of Sterling's candidacy. In support of their contention they point to the large vote polled in the first primary by Tom F Hunter of Wichita Falls, who up to the time he announced for the governorship was comparatively unknown.

They figure Witt with his wide political acquaintance, could have placed in the runoff. Others doubt it.

terrific denunciation from Daladier.

Strikes Threatened

Pressure from the functionaries whose salaries Daladier wanted to cut, caused the majority of socialists to throw their weight against the ministry. The functionaries had threatened a demonstration and strikes.

The overthrow of the ministry came when it failed to rally sufficient votes from the center to counterbalance the top-heavy socialist ballot.

Among the men most prominently mentioned to succeed Daladier is Minister of the Marine Albert Sarraut because he is a senator and thus detached from the wrangling in the chamber.

Chautemps Suggested

Camille Chautemps, who was premier in 1930, also was suggested, but his support of Ex-Premier Edouard Herriot in the matter of paying the war debt to the United States last year was likely to prove a handicap even though the debts are no longer an issue.

It was expected that the next ministry would have much the same political complexion as that of Daladier and would be more or less temporary in nature until the domestic situation becomes clearer.

Herriot is out of the picture due to his illness as well as his attitude on debts, on which the chamber's attitude remains unchanged.

It is expected that heavy pressure will be placed upon President Lebrun to attempt formation of a concentration government but many doubted that the political situation is as yet ripe enough to permit such a step.

were apparently withholding grain to "see what happens."

Due to North Dakota's wheat embargo, receipts of 49 cars of spring wheat and 15 cars of durum at Duluth, Minn., were the smallest since the new crop started moving to markets.

Chicago, Minneapolis and South St. Paul dealers reported "no effect."

Although 21 states are listed with membership in the National Farmers Holiday association, sponsor of the strike, only six thus far have joined in the movement. They are Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Will Find Capital

"We need the banks and want them to have adequate capital. As a rule such capital cannot now easily be found in the communities. As recovery continues such capital will be found.

"But in the meanwhile and temporarily but for such length of time as may be necessary, the government will supply the necessary capital through the Reconstruction Finance corporation in its purchase of preferred stock. The Reconstruction Finance corporation will thus serve as a Recovery Finance corporation.

"The banks must feel free to function well and the government will help them prepare themselves to play their important part.

"To accept the government's offer to purchase preferred stock does not mean that a bank is weak but that it is eager to cooperate in the recovery effort to the fullest possible extent and thus undertake to put this additional capital to work. We are not thinking of idle capital. We are thinking of working capital — capital working for recovery."

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN, No. 2

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Lord Greystoke thought of the length to which Rokoff had once gone to ruin him. He knew that was as nothing compared to what the villian would attempt now that he was free. For himself he did not fear. Often he had thwarted Rokoff's designs upon his life. But now would not Rokoff strike at him through his wife and son? For in no other way could he inflict greater anguish.

His fears were well founded. As he and d'Arnot talked the matter over in Paris, two others, dark and sinister, faced each other in a low den on the outskirts of London. One, whose face wore the prison pallor of long confinement, was speaking: "In three hours I shall be on my way with one of them. By tomorrow you should arrive with the other. Adieu, and good luck!"

As they parted, both thought of the pleasure and profit that would reward their efforts, if successful, when next they met upon the decks of the Kincaid. Already that little vessel was anchored near the water-front of Dover—waiting! Her few necessary lights blinking through the foggy gloom, she silently awaited only the arrival of the plotters, to put forth into the Atlantic.

Two hours later, a messenger arrived at d'Arnot's apartment, with a telegram for Lord Greystoke. Already he was preparing to depart for London. As Tarzan tore open the envelope and learned its contents, his face went white. "Read it, Paul," he said, handing the slip of paper to his friend. "The blow has fallen." Eight words told a tragic story: "OUR SON HAS BEEN KIDNAPED. COME AT ONCE. JANE."

Injuries Are Going Higher

One Boy Hurt Monday While 10 Other Persons Are Injured Sunday; Finger Is Cut Off By Saws At Gin

One boy was hurt late yesterday and at least 10 persons were injured Sunday in South Plains mishaps.

Thirteen-year-old Guice Bryant, an orphan of Smyer, suffered a severely lacerated hand when he was caught in saws of a gin his grandfather, J. T. Jones, was operating under a lease at Smyer. The accident occurred at about 7 o'colck. The little finger of the boy's left hand was amputated at Lubbock sanitarium.

Six Hurt In Crash

Six persons were hurt late Sunday afternoon when a Chevrolet in which they were riding went into a ditch 2 miles northeast of Acuff after a Ford V-8, passing, raked the other automobile. Vernon Britton, driver of the Chevrolet, suffered a lacerated hand, Miss Faye Britton a lacerated knee and a leg injury, and Guy Britton and Mrs. Vernon Britton minor bruises and scratches. All were treated at West Texas hospital. The Brittons were children of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Britton of Ralls.

Others Are Injured

Miss Marie McCrary, 15, and a brother, Orby McCrary, 20, children of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. McCrary of Ralls, also were in the Chevrolet. They were brought to Lubbock sanitarium. Miss McCrary suffered a back injury. Her brother, a side and arm lacerated, left after emergency treatment.

Paul Payne of Emma was driving the Ford, which skidded in sand in passing the other car and collided with it as Payne whipped the Ford back to its course, Mrs. McCrary said. Three persons riding in the Ford escaped serious injury. The Chevrolet was damaged considerably.

Two negroes were injured, one perhaps critically when a Ford-T coupe in which they were riding struck a culvert abutment about noon Sunday on state highway 53 southwest of Lubbock. Mary Sweat, suffering of a skull fracture, was being treated at West Texas hospital. Her husband, A. C. Sweat, who suffered a cut above an eye, was held in county jail. A filling station operator said the negroes were fighting when the coupe, going southwestward, about 3 miles from Lubbock, passed him.

Two Trucks Collide

An International truck driven by J. O. Barnett of Sudan and a Ford truck piloted by Bill Gentry of Slaton were in collision as the larger truck was passing the other on state highway 7 just southeast of Posey Sunday afternoon. A 3-year-old son and 9-year-old daughter of Barnett were in the cab with him. None was hurt. Both trucks were loaded with cotton bagging and ties.

Harvey Allen Bates, 10, son of R. H. Bates of Tahoka, suffered a fracture of the right thigh Sunday as he jumped from a pony. He was brought to West Texas hospital. Young Bates was a nephew of W. L. Hester of Lubbock.

A girl about 9-years-old, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Roberts, living about 5 miles east of Lubbock, suffered fractures of both bones of the left leg, and bruises and abrasions of the head, arms, and body Sunday as a result of attempting to close the door of an automobile in which she was riding southeast of here. Wind caught the door, drove it open, jerking the girl out. She received medical attention at West Texas hospital.

Mexican Is Injured

A Mexican hurt in an automobile accident was treated at West Texas hospital early Sunday night.

A Mexican also was reported to have received a laceration of the forehead in an altercation with another Mexican late Saturday or early Sunday.

A Ford sedan driven by Luther Green and a Ford coupe driven by an unidentified woman collided about 6:55 p. m. Sunday at Broadway and Texas avenue. None was hurt. A running-board of the sedan was ripped off. Another man was in the sedan.

When an obstructing sack of flour prevented quick access to a handbrake, a car driven by a Lubbock woman struck and broke the west display window of Walton's, The Man's shop, at Broadway and Avenue J, late yesterday morning.

More Than 40 Worried Mothers Make Inquiries About Man Called "Sonny"

NWE YORK, Oct. 23. (AP) — More than 40 worried mothers have made anxious inquiries about the man who called himself "sonny."

The man died from injuries resulting when he jumped under a railroad train October 17. Though conscious, he refused to disclose his identity, meeting repeated inquiries with "my mother called me sonny."

Many persons have either visited or written the undertaking establishment of Joseph Mackin in Rockville centre, New York, seeking more information.

Numerous letters requesting a full description also have been received by the Associated Press.

The man was between 27 and 29 years old; five feet, nine inches tall; weighed 140 pounds and had black curly, almost kinky hair, dark brown eyes and a long, thin face.

He was emaciated. There were no scars on his body. He wore about his neck a gold crucifix on a gold chain. The crucifix was encased in leather. He also possessed a leather wallet, which was empty.

His hands and feet were rather large.

For the first time in years Ireland was visited, this season, by more French tourists than Americans.

Forgotten Sweetheart

by Mary Raymond

ders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.

Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"

"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"

"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.

"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.

"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.

"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

Bob stepped forward but Barbara caught his arm. "Please, Bob, you are making it hard for Carol."

"Come on in," said Enid, striving for gayety. "I have a dance with someone."

Joan slipped out of the big coat and handed it to Jim. "I'm going up," she said. "Good night."

She went inside and up the stairs slowly. As she reached the top she heard Carol's voice, "I shouldn't have invited her—Barbara warned me. Blood will tell, you know. What could you expect from a girl whose father was a thief and a suicide?"

Joan put out one hand steading herself against the railing. Wave upon wave of humiliation and shame poured through her. Shame most of all for herself. She had brought this upon herself, trying to be like the others, seeking cheap popularity. Trying to win Bob—when he wanted Barbara!

As she entered the room the group moved apart quickly. Carol said stiffly, "You must be tired. Is there anything I can do for you?"

"Nothing," said Joan steadily.

"Hurry," Sally said to Enid. "Don't dwadle so. We're wasting a heavenly waltz." Enid dusted powder on her face and followed without a word.

"They know I heard," Joan thought. "But it really makes no difference to them."

Joan began undressing mechanically. Once, passing the mirror door, she saw a strange girl with tragic eyes, all the blood drained from her face. She felt tears against her lashes.

And three days before she had driven from Memphis, sure of happiness ahead.

Someone knocked at the door but before she reached it an envelope was slipped through. Joan stooped and picked it up. On the envelope was written "Joan," and inside was a brief message.

"I've been damning myself for letting you in for this. I'm fed up with the whole bunch and leaving for Memphis about seven in the morning. I hope you can forgive me, Joan. I'll call you tomorrow night at your home. Jim."

Joan stood looking at the message thoughtfully. It was Jim, not Bob, who was concerned about her. Bob had gone back to dance with Barbara. He was completely indifferent to her unhappiness. Probably he bitterly regretted bringing her here. Carol—when she thought of Carol Joan's heart contracted again. Carol, with the veneer of friendliness removed, her eyes angry and hostile.

Joan went to the window, letting the cold air blow against her. Her face seemed to be burning up with fever but her hands were icy.

Below a brooding silence lay upon the garden, shot with silver where the moon had found early blooms. It was there Joan and Jim had talked in friendly, careless fashion only yesterday. It seemed years ago. Jim had been sweet from the start.

Suddenly Joan made her decision. Turning from the window, she began hastily to assemble her possessions.

"I couldn't stay in Carol's home a moment longer than I have to!" she thought. "I couldn't drive back with Bob. I'll go with Jim!"

Keith Neville Says Retail Code Will Help In Measure

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Oct. 23. (AP)—Keith Neville, resigned NRA chairman for Nebraska today said the new retail code signed by President Roosevelt would undoubtedly help, "but didn't go far enough."

"The retail code will help," he said, "but I think there is no difference between the small merchant in a town of 2,500 or 5,000 or 25,000 in agricultural states.

"I think firms with up to ten employes ought to be exempted, but if they had exempted all businesses with five employes it would have been more helpful than just exempting those in the smaller communities."

BOND IS SET

BIG SPRING, Oct. 23 (AP) — Loy Acuff, former tax collector of Howard county, today made bond of $1,000 in each of two indictments charging embezzlement. Acuff was removed from office recently by the commissioners' court when bondsmen withdrew and no new bond was filed. The indictments were returned after an audit of all county offices.

Felt Much Better By Taking Cardui

"I took Cardui at two different times for a run-down condition," writes Mrs. P. M. Deason, of Tyler, Texas. "I would get nervous and could not sleep well. This would make me feel badly in daytime. I read about Cardui and thought it would be a good idea to take it. I took eight bottles one time and six another. I felt much better after taking it and was able to sleep."

If you are weak, run-down, nervous, take Cardui, for women.

Convict Held In Jail Here

Teague Lawler Is Captured At Farm House Sunday Morning; Faces Life Imprisonment In State Penitentiary

With 28 years in prison behind him and life imprisonment ahead, 50-year-old Teague Lawler was held in Lubbock county jail for state penitentiary authorities.

Sentenced At Midland

Sentenced to a life term for robbery with firearms at Midland May 11, 1928, Lawler, made a state-approved trusty, rode a mule from Harlem state farm at Richmond May 20, 1933.

Lawler said, according to Sheriff Tom Abel, that he had been sentenced to the state penitentiary three times, receiving 15 years for armed robbery, five years for an escape in which a guard was shot, and 99 years for holding up and robbing a gambling house of $730 near Midland. He said he was a fugitive when he executed the larger holdup.

Serves 28 Years

The convict told Sheriff Abel he had served 28 years in jails and in the penitentiary. He once escaped from the county jail at Stanton.

A $25-reward was posted for Lawler's arrest, Warden W. W. Waid informed the sheriff. When taken into custody, Lawler said he was Joe Allen.

Sheriff Abel and three deputies, Baxter Honey, Bedford Carpenter, and Cap Moore went to a farm house about 17 miles west of Lubbock soon after daybreak, expecting to find the suspect there in bed. The place was deserted. Honey and Carpenter remained, arresting Lawler when he arrived afoot about 11:30 a. m. Although empty .45 caliber cartridges were scattered there, a gun was not uncovered, officers said.

Development Of Balanced Structure For Taxes Goal Of House Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP) — Development of a balanced tax structure, which will include—in the event of repeal—$500,000,000 in liquor revenues, today was the goal of a house ways and means sub-committee.

It summoned treasury experts for recommendations in opening a study of the federal tax structure. Representative Sam Hill (D., Wash.) subcommittee chairman, explained his group's purpose:

After Balanced Structure

"We are after a permanent, well-balanced tax structure that will bring in sufficient revenue to maintain the government's credit under any economic condition."

Besides new liquor levies and a tightening of income tax laws, the administration program embraces the possibility of removing the so-called nuisance taxes of the 1932 billion-dollar revenue act.

Hill said liquor taxes would receive first consideration. He forecast a rate of at least $2.60 a gallon distillates with probable compensatory boosts in wine levies.

The $2.60 figure, Hill said, would return $391,000,000 on the administration's 150,000,000 gallon estimate of the first year's consumption. Import duties were expected to provide another $100,000,000 after a possible reduction to $3 from the present rate of $5 a gallon.
