Nationalists Say 5 MIGs Shot Down

Crude Flow Pattern 11 Days For October

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today slashed the statewide oil allowable for October by 246,555 barrels a day, fixing the permissive production figure at 2,957,936 barrels a day.

The statewide pattern was based on 11 producing days. The reduction was the first after four consecutive monthly increases.

All but one of 14 major oil-buying companies recommended reductions in the October flow of crude oil from Texas wells. The 11 day pattern also was recommended by most of the independents.

Jake Hamon of Dallas, who represented a group of operators there, urged the 11 day plan and told the oil regulatory body that major oil buying companies were obviously urging too high production.

Hamon said that the companies also had estimated desirable levels of stocks much too high. He told the commission that residuals and gasoline stocks were too high and that this year's demand for oil had not come up to what had been expected.

"Now is the time for caution," Hamon advised.

The only company asking for an increase was Humble, the largest buyer in Texas. Humble recommended 13 days of production and said despite spot purchases of 86,500 barrels a day in September, the company's inventories were still far below a desirable working level.

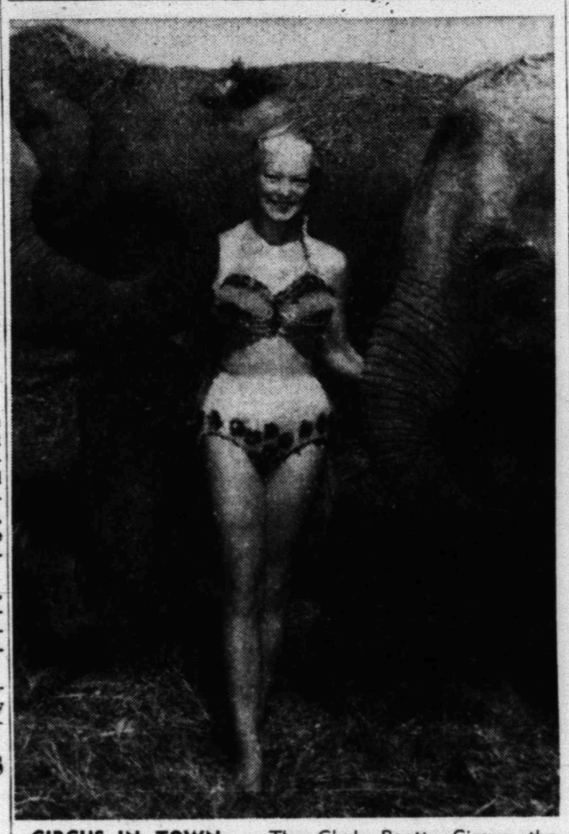

Another big buyer, Gulf Oil Co., reported that even on its recommended 11 day pattern, the company would like to sell about 30,000 barrels a day.

Jack Coates of Houston, representing Gulf, said the company sold 46,000 barrels a day this month on the 12-day pattern.

Dee Kelly, of Fort Worth, representing the W. A. Moncrief interests, said that if Texas continues to hold down its production the state may suffer a "permanent loss of its rightful share of the market." Kelly asked for 12 days.

A representative of Hunt Oil Co. said the "industry has much to gain by tightening its belt" and recommended only 10 days.

Nominations by companies: 13 days, Humble; 12 days, Atlantic, Indiana, Cities Service, Texas; 11 days, Magnolia, Shell, Gulf, Continental, Standard of Texas, Suntide; 10 days, Sinclair, Phillips

Typhoon Kills 24 Persons

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty-four persons were reported dead, 42 missing and 108 injured as Typhoon Helen lashed Tokyo and eastern Japan this morning, sped out toward the Pacific Ocean, then headed back toward the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido with renewed fury. One American airman was among those reported missing.

The casualty list in Tokyo and eastern Japan came from national police headquarters, which also reported varying degrees of typhoon damage to 30,000 homes.

More than 3,000 persons were made homeless by torrential rains and flooded rivers that accompanied Helen on its rampage through Tokyo and eastern Japan.

The missing U.S. airman was Sgt. Arch L. Mitchell, 36, of Monterey Park, Calif. He was believed drowned when his rubber life raft overturned on the flooded Naguri River, near Johnson Air Force Base, 38 miles northwest of Tokyo.

Soviets Say American Threatens Bombing

LONDON (AP—The Soviet Embassy in London said today it has received a letter from a man claiming to be an American pilot and threatening to drop an atomic bomb on the Soviet Union.

The letter also contained a threat to drop a hydrogen bomb on Poland, the Embassy said.

Earlier this year the Soviet Embassy said it received a letter from an American pilot threatening to drop a bomb in the North Sea off the English coast. But nothing happened.

Little Rock Corporation To Organize

By ROBERT E. FORD

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Officers of a private corporation established to take over Little Rock's closed high schools planned an organizational meeting today amid predictions from Negro leaders that the plan cannot stop integration.

Mrs. Gordon P. Oates, one organizer of the newly incorporated Little Rock Private School Corp., said the schools will be segregated if the firm operates them.

However, Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, declared: "When the schools open, be it under public or private guidance, Negro children will be there."

Little Rock's four high schools—including a Negro school — are closed under a proclamation issued by Gov. Orval E. Faubus in a move to prevent integration.

Segregationists have looked to private operation of city schools as one maneuver to avoid Supreme Court rulings that public school segregation is unconstitutional.

The Justice Department in Washington had no immediate comment. But its attorneys are known to feel that a transfer of public schools to private operation can be successfully challenged in the courts if continued use of public tax money is involved and if it can be shown that the conversion is only a device to avoid Supreme Court rulings.

All principals indicated they plan no action until after Little Rock voters ballot 10 days from now on whether they favor integration or segregation.

Wiley A. Branton of Pine Bluff, Ark., NAACP Attorney who has handled suits aiming at integration here, said, "We think it is illegal to lease the schools for private operation. We don't believe there is anything which can be done under private operation which cannot be enjoined by the federal court."

In New York, NAACP general counsel Robert Carter said the organization would adopt a waiting attitude toward the new corporation. He said the association also wants to see what the federal government plans to do.

Faubus has announced he will make a statewide television address tonight on the Little Rock integration controversy.

Little Rock School Supt. Virgil Blossom said at a news conference that the school board has not yet considered leasing any school buildings to the new private corporation.

Dulles Calls For Prompt Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Secretary of State Dulles declared today the Chinese Communist campaign against Formosa poses a grave threat, with ominous implications. He called for a prompt cease-fire.

Dulles made his comment in a major policy address before the U.N. General Assembly as that 81-nation body opened general debate in its 13th regular session.

He expressed hope the talks now in progress in Warsaw between U.S. and Chinese Communist ambassadors would end the current crisis, but reserved the right to bring the problem to the U.N. if the talks appeared headed for failure.

Dulles charged that the Chinese Communist regime is now attempting to extend its authority to the offshore islands by the use of naked force.

"The issue is thus a simple one: Armed conquest," he said.

He said the current actions of the Peiping government demonstrate again that Red China is not "peace-loving"—a phrase used in the U.N. charter in defining requirements for membership in the world organization.

Dulles spoke a few hours before the Assembly's Steering Committee was to consider whether the U.N. should debate the question of seating Red China. The committee was expected to reject an Indian proposal for such a debate.

"We seek a prompt cease-fire and equitable conditions which will eliminate provocations and leave for peaceful resolution the different claims and counterclaims that are involved," Dulles said of the Warsaw talks.

"If it seems that the bilateral talks between ambassadors are not going to succeed, the United States reserves the right to bring this matter to the United Nations."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was expected to speak at the Assembly's afternoon session.

On other world problems Dulles made these points:

Hungary and Germany — The United Nations cannot let itself be discouraged by the refusal of the Soviet Union to end the "brutal suppression of the Hungarian people" and by its refusal to help reunify Germany.

Middle East—The United States is somewhat, but not wholly, reassured by the recent course of events in the Middle East. It is going ahead, however, with the withdrawal of another contingent of U.S. forces from Lebanon. Further, the United States will discuss with the new government of President-elect Fuad Chehab a specific schedule for early withdrawal of other U.S. forces as soon as Chehab takes office next week.

U. S. Planes Set To Help

By FORREST EDWARDS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist air force headquarters claimed its Sabrejets shot down five Communist MIG17s and possibly a sixth in air battles over Quemoy today. A communique said all Nationalist planes returned to base safely.

The communique reported two aerial engagements in the late afternoon in which four Sabrejets took part against more than 30 MIGs. The Sabre jets were providing cover for Nationalist supply convoys when they became locked in the dog fighting.

Air force headquarters also claimed its Sabre jets sank three Communist torpedo boats and damaged a fourth in the Quemoy area.

The last previous encounter with MIGs took place Sept. 8, when the Nationalists claimed their jet fighters shot down seven Red planes and damaged two more near the mainland seaport of Swatow.

The American command on Formosa has indicated that U.S. jets will join in fighting off any Communist warplanes that try to prevent supply drops to the offshore islands.

So far the Chinese Communists have made no attempt to attack Nationalist C46 cargo planes parachuting supplies to Little Quemoy Island. Two more drops were made without incident Wednesday, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said.

American fighters flew high over the Formosa Strait off Little Quemoy while the drops were made, ready to swoop down on any Communist MIG fighters that might attack the cargo planes, a U.S. spokesman said.

The U.S. jets did not fly directly over the outpost islands in order to "avoid provocative action," the spokesman added.

He called the American planes far superior to the MIGs which Red China has concentrated on mainland airfields in the Quemoy area. The Nationalist air force presently has available for combat only U.S. planes of older types than the MIGs.

However, Nationalist pilots are now training in six supersonic F100F Super Sabre Jet fighters, AP correspondent James Cary reported from an air base in southern Formosa. The first group of pilots is expected to be checked out in the planes within six weeks and then will begin training a full squadron of F100 pilots.

The date when the nationalists will have a full wing of Super Sabres is a guarded secret but conversion to the newer aircraft is on a rush basis, Cary reported.

Lt. Col. James Hallmark of Loraine, Tex., commands the American instructors at the base.

The Communists continued their bombardment of the Quemoy islands which has hampered Nationalist efforts to supply them by sea. In order to supplement the sea route, a massive air drop on big Quemoy is expected by many observers in Taipei.

UAW Attention Now On GM And Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union, after reaching a contract agreement with Ford Wednesday, turned attention to General Motors today with a warning that "the time has come for them to quit playing games."

GM—biggest of the auto makers —stood out as the No. 1 target of the UAW's unfinished contract talks. The UAW resumed talks with Chrysler, but union officials made it plain they would concentrate on GM.

GM officials declined comment on the Ford-UAW pact which included the first severance pay plan worked out by the Big Three auto firms—Ford, Chrysler and GM.

In 1955, last year of negotiations, Ford became the first auto maker to grant a supplemental pay plan, under which the company granted unemployed workers payments in addition to the unemployment compensation paid them by the states. GM and the other auto firms followed suit in subsequent contracts.

UAW President Walter Reuther rested at home after the marathon 30-hour final bargain session with Ford Wednesday. Aides said he might join GM or Chrysler talks today and certainly would be there Friday.

DETROIT (AP)—Here are the highlights of the new Ford Motor Co.-United Auto Workers contract agreed on yesterday:

Wages—No flat pay increase for production workers. However, continuation of annual improvement factor and cost-of-living adjustment provides immediate increase of between 9 and 10 cents an hour. A fraction less than 7 cents comes from the 2½ per cent improvement factor, 3 cents from the cost-of-living adjustment. New approximate average hourly pay is now $2.52.

Skilled worker wages — An increase of 8 cents an hour in base pay for tool and die workers and other classifications. These pay rates vary.

Layoff pay — Extension of the maximum payment period from 26 weeks to 39 weeks and an increase to a flat 65 per cent of take-home pay for the full period; formerly it was 65 per cent for the first four weeks and 60 per cent for the remainder. Layoff pay (supplemental unemployment benefits) is in addition to state unemployment compensation.

Pensions—Increased from $2.25 a month for each year of service to $2.40 for all past service and to $2.50 for all future service. Employes now on pension are increased to $2.35. Early retirement permitted at age of 60 on double benefits; single benefits take effect when retire becomes 65 and is eligible for Social Security.

Severance (or separation) pay—A lump sum payment based on length of service to workers losing their jobs because of plant relocations. It pays up to a maximum of $3,000 for 30 years service. This is an entirely new contract provision.

Coup Is Nipped By Lebanese Officers

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Lebanese intelligence officers have broken up a plot hatched in army circles to prevent Gen. Fuad Chehab from taking office as president of the troubled republic Sept. 24, Beirut informants said today.

Success of the planned coup could have dragged Lebanon back to the brink of civil war, since Chehab now is regarded as the only man able to bring the feuding factions together.

McElroy Will Visit Formosa On Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy will leave next week on an inspection trip which will include a visit to Formosa.

He plans to be gone about five weeks, the Pentagon said.

Tentative plans call for a two-day stop in Formosa about the middle of October.

Fall Weather Hits Area In Full Force

Snyder area residents were greeted by a real fall morning today, as the temperature dropped to a 49-degree reading.

It was the lowest reading recorded here since early spring, coming on the heels of a fairly mild maximum of 82 degrees Wednesday.

Temperatures were expected to climb higher today, as effects of a cool front faded from the West Texas area.

By The Associated Press

It was nippy over North and West Texas Thursday and cloudy and rainy over the south and east.

Light rains fell Thursday morning at Beaumont, Lufkin, Galveston, Tyler, Longview, Brownsville, Port Isabel and College Station. Palacios and Houston had fog.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged from a cool 49 degrees at Lubbock to 75 at Galveston.

The cool weather came from a front which passed across northern Texas and into the Gulf and Louisiana. Heavy rains kicked off by the same front tapered off Wednesday.

Heavy rains continued Wednesday in northern Mexico and scattered rains fell in the Valley and along the coast.

Most of the South Texas flood threats eased, but the Rio Grande remained swollen and continued to rise at Eagle Pass, posing a possible threat to farmlands.

Brownsville had an unofficial 3.80 inches of rain Wednesday and an official .45. Eagle Pass had some more rain Wednesday, boosting the total since Monday to 7.7 inches.

Official rainfall reports at U.S. Weather Bureau stations for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. Thursday included Laredo 1.26 inches, Houston 2.61 inches, Beaumont .65, Brownsville .62, Cotulla .41, Palacios .24 and lesser amounts at scattered points across the state.

Highs Wednesday varied from 70 at Dalhart to 91 at Beeville.

Family Night Value Event Planned Here

A special Family Night Values program was planned yesterday by members of the merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee, in approving the program, recommended it to merchants in all fields here.

The plan calls for Thursday nights of each week, beginning Oct. 16, to be special family nights, with cooperating stores to stay open from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and have special values which will be included only during those hours.

The special night each week would give customers in the Snyder trade territory a time to shop after their working hours.

The 15 members attending yesterday's merchants committee meeting unanimously approved the program and recommended it. Many of them had talked to other merchants, who favored the plan.

J. W. Phillips, chairman of the committee, this week will appoint teams of committee members who will contact merchants, explaining the program and determining how many will participate in the program.

Attempts will be made to contact all merchants, Phillips said, but those who are not contacted and want to participate have been asked to call Phillips or the chamber office so the number participating can be determined.

"This is not just for dry goods merchants," said Phillips, who is a hardware merchant. "It is for anyone who sells anything." Merchants will work together to use that time to promote shopping here.

Congressman Visiting

Omar Burleson of Anson, whose congressional representative district will include Scurry County next year, has been visiting in Snyder today.

Burleson was a visitor at the noon meeting of the Rotary Club.

Reds Renew Test Threats

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union renewed today its threats to end a self-imposed ban on nuclear weapons tests unless the United States and Britain stop their tests immediately.

The two Western powers have announced a halt to tests for one year, beginning Oct. 31, when they open talks with the Soviet Union on a worldwide nuclear explosion ban, provided the Soviet suspension continues.

Moscow radio did not mention this Western suspension. But it indicated the Kremlin cannot wait until Oct. 31.

"If Britain and the U.S.A. continue to perfect nuclear weapons by means of test explosions, the Soviet Union also probably will be forced in the final analysis to resume tests," the English-language broadcast said.

"Western powers are simply forcing the Soviet Union to take back" its own test suspension announced last March 31, the radio added. That suspension came shortly after the Soviet Union concluded an extensive series of nuclear blasts and just before tests by the United States and Britain were to begin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said at the time the Kremlin would feel free to resume testing if the two Western nuclear powers failed to follow suit.

East-West scientists agreed in Geneva Aug. 21 that a worldwide system to enforce a nuclear weapons test ban was technically feasible. The next day Washington and London proposed political talks on a ban and offered to stop their tests when the talks opened if the Soviet Union did not resume test.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed Aug. 29 to send his negotiators to Geneva Oct. 31 for the talks. At the same time, he accused the United States and Britain of using the Soviet ban to gain military advantage.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced Sept. 8 that it had completed nuclear tests in the Pacific but 10 low-powered atomic blasts in Nevada are scheduled before Oct. 31. Britain is still conducting tests in the Pacific and says she will continue until the Geneva talks begin.

The Steering Committee of the U.N. General Assembly accepted yesterday a Soviet proposal to discuss discontinuance of nuclear weapons tests. U.S. delegation sources charged that the Soviet Union was giving a propaganda twist to the issue at a time when negotiations were about to begin. Moscow radio's comments today were in a discussion of the Assembly agenda.

Ex-Snyderite Quits Post

Robert N. Eastus, Jr., former Snyder man who for the past three years has been executive secretary of the Abilene YMCA, will vacate that post by Dec. 31, when he will probably become program secretary.

Making plans for expansion of the YMCA, the organization's board in Abilene yesterday adopted a recommendation of their personnel committee that they begin looking for a thoroughly experienced YMCA man to take over Eastus' duties. They also voted to recommend to the new executive secretary that he consider Eastus for the position of program secretary.

The board praised Eastus for his job during his three years in view of his lack of earlier YMCA experience. Eastus went to the Abilene post from here, where he had been district executive for the Boy Scouts of America. He had worked professionally for the scout organization a number of years.

Eastus said he was proud of his record during his three years at the head of the Abilene YMCA, that membership has grown during that time from 635 to 1,588.

Eastus said the Abilene YMCA now stands in fifth place among such organizations in a four-state area.

He expressed a willingness to step down from the top administrative job as the organization begins its expanded program and said he would like for the board to recommend him as program secretary.

Adult Class Session Set

The last chance for organizing new adult classes for this semester at Snyder High School will come in a meeting to be held tonight.

The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in Room 124 at the high school.

T. D. Wiman, high school principal, said a shop course has already been organized, and others interested in that course can attend its session in the high school shop building tonight.

But other courses still did not have enough for the minimum of 15 per class. Interest has been indicated in typing, shorthand, and arts and crafts. If there are not enough for those classes by tonight, the attempt to organize them will be abandoned.

The adult classes will be held on Monday and Thursday nights for two hours, if scheduled. The 15-week course costs $16.

Wiman asked that those interested who cannot attend tonight's meeting to contact him.

Coach Speaks To Kiwanis

Head Football Coach John Conley was principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club's luncheon meeting at Starr's Restaurant at noon Wednesday.

Conley gave the club members a rundown on the Tigers roster and commented briefly on last Friday night's 14-6 victory over Borger and this week's upcoming game with Andrews.

Conley said injuries have hurt the Tigers, who already were "thin" in material. However, he said he believed the local team would be able to put up a tough battle, once the squad gets back to full strength.

Guests at the luncheon, along with Conley, were Kenneth Drake and Jimmy Allen, two Tiger first-stringers.

Montgomery Is Retiring

PARIS (AP) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery today ended a military career that spanned 50 years.

The famed desert warrior of World War II and leader of the Allied Normandy landings gave up his post as deputy allied NATO commander in Europe and prepared to fly home to retirement in Britain.

Standing beside his boss, Gen. Lauris Norstad, the 70-year-old Montgomery spoke quietly of the Atlantic Alliance as the sole hope for maintaining peace and warned again—as he has done for a decade or more—against Soviet maneuvers to divide Europe and America.

Montgomery's going-away present was a parchment scroll of commendation signed by the four Americans he has served under here—Dwight D. Eisenhower, Alfred M. Gruenther, Matthew B. Ridgway and Norstad.

A&M Coed Case Arguments Heard

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers went before the 10th Court of Civil Appeals today to argue whether women students should be admitted to all-male Texas A&M College.

The hearing before Justices Frank McDonald and Jake Tirey was on the state's appeal against a district court ruling at Bryan that the school should let co-eds enroll.

Two Bryan women, Mrs. Lena Ann Bristol and Mrs. Barbara Alice Tittle, went to court after A&M officials refused to accept them as students earlier this year.

Dist. Judge W. T. McDonald ruled in their favor March 18, and the state appealed.

The trial court verdict, based on a finding that women's rights under the 14th Amendment to the Constitution had been violated, held that the college board of directors exceeded its authority in rejecting women students.

In an appeal filed July 11, Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson contended that only the Legislature, and not the courts, had the power to change Texas A&M to co-ed status.

His brief maintained that the U.S. Supreme Court has held that classification by sexes is a state power. It added that the college directors have legislative authority to fix admission standards, and thus are within their rights in refusing to admit women students.

Wilson's petition further claimed that Texas has made ample provision for educating both sexes in 18 state-supported colleges, and that the system, viewed on the whole, does not discriminate.

Mrs. Bristol and Mrs. Tittle had argued that it was practical for them to attend A&M because they lived only about 7 miles from the college. They said they otherwise would be unable to attend a state school.

Texas A&M has been an all-male school since it was established in 1876, although at least one woman has taken a degree at the college and others have received certificates for completing certain work.

College officials in recent years have allowed women to enroll during summer sessions but have refused to admit them for the regular fall and spring semesters.

Theft Of Oil Maps Probed By Officials

HOUSTON (AP)—Federal and and oil company officials tried today to track down reports oil maps valued at seven million dollars had been stolen.

Gordon Kroll, former assistant U.S. attorney here and now an attorney for the Edgar Tobin Aerial Survey Co., said the maps were made by the Tobin firm and sold to major oil companies.

He said it was believed the maps had been stolen from one or more oil companies and photostated.

Kroll said the maps covered 20,000 square miles of southern Louisiana, considered a hot oil producing area.

The attorney said it was learned through rumors three months ago photostatic copies of maps which the Tobin firm had sold were being offered in the oil and gas industry.

The Tobin company employed the Southern Research Co. of Shreveport, La., to investigate an infringement of its copyright on the maps. The FBI entered the case recently.

Kroll said a private investigator contacted the sellers of the maps several days ago.

Yesterday, representatives of the Tobin firm, Southern Research, the FBI and Humble Oil and Continental Oil conferred with U.S. Atty. William Butler. The group also visited the office of U.S. Commissioner Billy Costa.

No one would discuss the case with newsmen.

The maps are made from aerial pictures to which are added seismographic and gravity data and other geophysical data. Oil firms which buy the basic maps then add their own geophysical information.

Negro Says He Was Urged To Take Land

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Louis Phelps, a Negro veteran, testified yesterday two associates of C. O. Hagan induced him to apply for land under the veterans land program by telling him the state was giving it away.

Hagan, a McAllen produce dealer, is accused of conspiring to defraud the state of $146,816 in veterans land deals.

Peeples, a former shoeshine boy of Victoria, and Cletus Ernster, Cuero manufacturer, and Henry Robinson, a Negro now living at Victoria, contacted him during the early days of the land program.

He said they told him only that the state was giving veterans land instead of bonuses, signing the application would cost him nothing and he could sell the acreage after three years.

Peeples testified he was told he would receive a check every month from a lease on the land.

"They told me I wouldn't be out nothing. They didn't tell me about a loan or any payment," he said.

The veteran said he didn't read the papers he signed.

The 20 acres of Zavala County land was sold to Peeples by the Alamo Development Co., which the state claims Hagan formed to make land deals with the Veterans Board.

GUEST SPEAKER—The Rev. Cecil Moore, right, was introduced to the Woman's Culture Club by Mrs. E. W. McLeod Tuesday. Rev. Moore showed many beautiful and educational slides that he had taken in Alaska. He assisted Mrs. N. W. Autry who was in charge of the program. (Lee Watson photograph)

Woman's Culture Club Hears Program On The 49th State

The Woman's Culture Club met Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Mrs. H. L. Wren, president, presided.

During the business session the club voted to buy a student membership to the Civic Music Association.

A most interesting program was presented on Alaska, our newest state, by Mrs. N. W. Autry, assisted by Rev. Cecil Moore, who showed slides of interesting places which he took while he and his family were living there, and conducting mission schools.

The speaker said in part. "Alaska as you know is the 49th state of the USA and is our largest state. It has been asking admittance since 1916. Juneau is the capital with a population of 7,100 which is 900 miles northwest of Seattle and 75 miles from the Pacific ocean. Your access to Juneau is by boat or plane only.

"It is a town of narrow streets and steep hills. The rainfall is 90 inches with a mild but moist climate. You get a mean temperature of 56 in July and 30 in January. The highest ever known was 89 and the lowest 15 below.

"The population is estimated 94-500 with Anchorage as the largest city, and gold is still being found there.

"The U.S. Smelting and Mining Company operates six large dredges, and does a business of 10 to 12 million dollars a year. There is said to be more coal in Alaska than there is in Pennsylvania.

"Alaska covers an area of 586,400 square miles, which is more than twice the size of Texas, one-fifth the size of the U.S. and only two percent of Alaska has been surveyed. About one-third of Alaska lies north of the artic circle, with frigid weather and brief summers.

"Alaska imports more than 95 per cent of its food, mostly from the United States. The income is about 500 million dollars a year, with 70 per cent from the U.S., government spending.

"Go. Price Daniel named his brother, Bill Daniel of Liberty as ambassador of Texas to Alaska recently. Mr. Daniel spent a week there on a good will tour recently and presented the official proclamation of Texas to Gov. Waino Hendrickson at the capital at Juneau.

"The proclamation declared that for 113 years Texas has been the largest state and 'a leading defender of the rights and responsibilities of the states' It added that the name Texas means friendly and 'while yielding to Alaska in size, Texas will always strive to be the first in friendship among all the states'."

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Annie Bailey to 17 members and the guest, Rev. Cecil Moore.

Work Saving Tip

Cooking for three meals at once is worth a try if you have never tried it. The secret is to vary the use of the basic food. Take corned beef for instance. Cook 6 or 8 pounds in the same time you cook 4. Serve it in New England boiled dinner, reheat it with a glaze in a hot oven for about 20 minutes and serve with scalloped potatoes or sweet potatoes. Left-over slices may be used several days later for sandwiches, or shredded and added to salads. It can be chopped with potatoes for corned beef hash and ground and used with cheese or mayonnaise for appetizers. collection of garbage and trach.

Looking over the cook's shoulder: pancakes were made from mixes at the end of the last century when a ready-prepared combination of wheat and corn flour first appeared on the market in a one-pound package.

Next time you make up a batch of garlic-flavored butter, add a little minced fresh or dried crushed basil to it. Besides using the butter for garlic bread, you'll find it good to spread over halved tomatoes before they are baked or broiled.

Once Jailed, Now Fights For Women's Rights

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH

NEW YORK (AP) — Herawati Diah is a fighter.

She took part in Indonesia's once was jailed by the British. Today she is fighting for her young republic's women.

"Independence has meant a great deal for the women of Indonesia," the attractive, 41-year-old journalist said, "but we are not yet finished. We must amend our marriage laws."

She explained that a new marriage act, pending before the Indonesian Parliament, will make it more difficult for Indonesian men to continue polygamous marriages.

Like other Moslems, Indonesia's men can take up to four wives. Moslem marriage laws have not been changed, although Indonesia's new constitution gives women considerably more freedom than they have ever had, and voting rights.

"We don't, of course, want to change the Koran," Mrs. Diah said with a smile. "But we want the men to take their marriage vows seriously, and live up to the Koran."

The Koran, she pointed out, allows a man to take four wives. But it also stipulates that he has to give an equal share of his love and care for all wives.

"This is easier in theory than in practice," she added.

Editor of the daily Indonesian Observer in Jakarta, Mrs. Diah writes editorials, edits local news, does a feature article and two weekly columns for her newspaper.

No stranger to the United States, Mrs. Diah was a 1941 graduate of Bernard College. She returned to the United States in 1956 to attend an international seminar at Harvard. This Time — her third visit — she is attending the American Press Institute's seminar for South and Southeast Asian newspaper executives.

Mrs. Diah was born and raised on Billiton, an island near Singapore. Her father was doctor in the government service. The family moved to Jakarta after 10 years and she attended a Dutch school.

During the Japanese occupation of Indonesia — then the Dutch East Indies—she married a journalist. He started the newspaper, Merdeka, after the war. In the strife-torn era just after the hostilities, she was imprisoned by British landing forces for allegedly distributing pamphlets calling for Indonesia's freedom.

The British apparently had thought she was responsible because the slogans were in English and similar to America's cry for freedom against the British. She was released after a week in a Jakarta jail.

Then came independence, she said. "The women felt they had to do something to help. We occupied administrative posts without previous training. We did the best we could."

Mrs. Diah said there's more freedom for women in Indonesia than in Japan.

Popularity Is Always A Problem

By VIVIAN BROWN

Are you faced with that old popularity issue now that you are back in school? If so, don't despair.

There are girls who are not popular with boys, and girls who are so popular with boys they aren't popular with girls. Every girl needs both, the companionship of girls and boys, to have a happy teenhood. She should make an effort to achieve that goal with her new classmates.

Let's look at a couple of popularity problems, and see how they may be handled effectively.

There is the girl who is popular with boys, but not with girls. Why?

One reason is that she devotes herself entirely to the boys, and has little time for girls. Another is that she doesn't doubledate with girl friends and their dates.

The attitude of other girls to her may be indicated by their failure to try to interest the girl in extra-curricular events or that they do not invite her to their special little hen parties.

The girl who is snubbed may suspect she is being slighted and campaign to gain or regain these friendships. She can do it (1) by having an all-girl party or if she suspects that won't attract her friends, (2) by having a soiree they can't resist such as a big win-ding with you know who — BOYS. Even the perennial grudge carrier will forget her chip-on-the-shoulder for a party with boys, and a popular type should be able to pull off that party.

It is more difficult to gain popularity with boys so the girl who finds that her problem is in attracting the male animal to her hunting grounds had better make a new pitch.

Strike a happy medium pose with males you like — do not gush over them, but don't ignore or belittle them, if that has been your technique.

Let a boy talk about himself and his pursuits, and be prepared to gain a little knowledge on his favorite subjects so you will not be left in the lurch when he asks you a simple question along these lines. Be a good listener.

Oh, yes, you may talk occasionally, but don't pick a dull subject. Once the conversation gets into the realm of "girl - talk" boys become uneasy. Wait until you know him well to spout off about your girl friends, your parents, the size of your allowance.

Be jolly, if you'd get good mileage out of your date. Take leave from him early enough, so he'll wish the evening had continued.

One thing to avoid at all costs is the subject of marriage. Young men are very shy about such things, and while you may invite him to meet your family, taste your cooking or even knit him socks for his birthday, once he suspects that your motive is matrimony, he'll fly the trap.

Late Discovery

Residents are demanding more and more services from municipalities. With the exception of hitching posts, almost every service demanded a generation ago still is wanted and many new requirements have been added. One new household appliance promises to help reverse the trend. It is the smokeless-odorless household incinerator that has been developed by gas appliance manufacturers. This new appliance can help reduce mounting costs for collection of garbage and trash. It is smokeless and odorless and will burn nearly all combustibles, even wet garbage and bones.

Steelworkers United For Negotiations

By JOHN MOODY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Steelworkers lined up behind their president today in an apparent united front for next year's contract talks with the basic steel industry.

David J. McDonald, whose leadership had been questioned openly for more than a year, appeared in firm control of the 1,200,000-member union now past the midway point of its ninth constitutional convention.

An opposing faction which polled almost a quarter of a million votes at the union's 1957 international officers election found itself with only about 15 of 3,500 delegates supporting it Wednesday.

In the first three days of the five-day convention, McDonald received an overwhelming vote of confidence and beat back on constitutional issues what now appears to be a small but highly vocal minority.

The opposition came from a segment of the membership called the Dues Protest Committee. It was organized after the 1956 convention increased membership dues from $3 to $5 a month and raised McDonald's salary.

The committee is headed by Donald C. Rarick, a McKeesport, Pa., mill worker who ran for the union presidency against McDonald last year and lost by a vote of 404,172 to 223,516.

McDonald altered the convention agenda to bring before the delegates issues the protest committee had raised. The constitution must be approved section by section at each convention, but that action was scheduled for later in the week.

Rarick first spoke in support of a resolution to alter the constitution so staff officers—business agents, organizers and the like—would be elected instead of appointed. The committee raised the issue months ago.

Before permitting a vote on the issue, McDonald saw to it that every delegate who wanted to comment on the issue had an opportunity to do so.

McDonald was accused in some quarters of forcing the dues increase through the 1956 convention without giving all delegates an opportunity to express their views. Wednesday he said: "Everyone must be heard."

Rarick spoke amid boos and heckling that McDonald tried to quiet. Rarick said he did not advocate right-to-work laws and denied he was receiving support from management in an effort to destroy the union. He had been accused of both in some quarters.

After nearly three hours, including talks by Rarick and McDonald and delegate comments on the issue, a standing vote was taken. Only 15 of 3,500 seated delegates voted in support of Rarick.

Later, the constitutional section specifying McDonald's salary at $50,000 a year was approved without opposition. It was increased from $40,000 a year at the 1956 convention.

Former President Harry Truman, addressing the USW convention, said the Republicans in Washington are deliberately "following economic policies designed to prevent full production."

He said Republicans want "a little unemployment" and the holding down of wages because "they think it makes for higher profits."

Here's How To Study Lessons

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Millions of students are back in class wondering if they have what it takes to shine as scholars.

They should lend an ear to Dr. Leslie N. Nason, professor of education at the University of Southern California. He's specialized for 20 years in the helping students do better at exams.

Study habits, he says, can make all the difference. And he has a lot of helpful hints.

Here are some he devised for college freshmen—"the freshman year is an ideal time to cultivate proper methods" — but which should benefit students at other levels:

"1. Read the material in the table of contents of whatever book you are studying.

"2. Read the first paragraph or two of the first chapter.

"3. Skim through the chapter rapidly.

"4. Read the summary at the end of the chapter.

"Then start reading the chapter carefully. At the end of each paragraph, ask yourself, 'What did the writer say?' And if you can't answer this question, you were reading too slowly.

"Slow reading allows extraneous thoughts and material to penetrate the consciousness. Reading faster serves to whip the mind to a faster rate of operation, thus limiting the circle of perception exclusively to the material at hand."

On lectures:

"You have to prepare for the lecture by glancing at the material to be lectured on beforehand. You get an over-all pattern in mind. You are filling up mind space which is not utilized by the lecturer. He's not talking fast enough to fill up your mind.

"There is a little game you ought to play. If the lecturer is too slow, try to anticipate what he will say about the subject. If you do that, then the entire circle of perception is filled either with the lecturer's ideas or with the over-all pattern of the subject matter."

Rogers Says Court Is Final Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers says opponents of the Supreme Court's decisions against school segregation are causing confusion by questioning its powers.

In a speech yesterday, Rogers said the high court's authority to interpret the Constitution and to function as the final arbiter in constitutional controversies was set forth by the Founding Fathers and reaffirmed by an early Congress.

"Various notions," he said, "have been circulated by persons opposed to the school decisions . . . that a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States interpreting the Constitution of the United States is something less than an authoritative expression of the law.

"This is an unsound notion which causes misunderstanding and confusion."

The attorney general told a national citizenship conference that individuals may not determine for themselves when they will obey the decree of the courts and when they will ignore them, adding: "Constitutional rights must not yield to defiance or lawlessness."

Rogers' speech came a day after he conferred with President Eisenhower at Newport, R.I., on the school integration controversy. It was viewed as an official statement of the administration on the flaming issue.

He said no public official, sworn to support the Constitution, has a right to defy Supreme Court decisions. Every citizen is dutybound to obey the Constitution as interpreted by the court, he added.

Rogers said "the orderly process of constitutional amendments" is available to persons disagreeing with court orders calling for integration of Negro and white pupils in public schools.

An attitude of defiance is futile and damaging, he said.

But he voiced the conviction that the difficulties of adjusting to school integration can be overcome "by a determination on the part of men of good will to find constructive solutions within the guidelines marked out by the Supreme Court."

Both Parties Hike Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gearing up for the big November election push, the Democratic and Republican national committees spent more than $200,000 each during the three months ended Aug. 31.

But the Democrats kept their spending closer to their level of campaign contributions, paying out $207,010. They took in $201,117.

Republicans received $150,288 but spent $208,055.

Financial reports have been filed with the clerk of the House in accordance with the corrupt practices law.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee reported total expenditures of $23,707 and receipts of $38,201 during the three months, while its Republican counterpart received $85,994 and spent $104,218.

Each made a $3,000 contribution to the campaign in Maine, where the Democrats picked up one House seat.

The Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee listed receipts of $30,800 against expenditures of $82,399. The Democratic Senatorial Committee has not yet filed its report.

The fourth largest of the 48 states New Mexico has only 155 square miles of surface water.

50-Cent Pill Can Prevent Pregnancy

SAN FRANCISCO AP — A Harvard gynecologist said yesterday a 50-cent pill to prevent pregnancy has proved 100 per cent effective with no lasting side effects in a 2½ year test.

Dr. John Rock, clinical professor emeritus of gynecology at the Harvard Medical School, made the statement at a press conference called by the Planned Parenthood Assn. of San Francisco, Inc.

Results were decisive in experiments with 285 women in Puerto Rico and also in Los Angeles, Dr. Rock said.

Dr. Rock said about 14 per cent of the Puerto Rican women experienced some side effects—nausea or breast symptoms, "but after the third month these vanished. There were no lasting side effects on the breast, on fertility or anything else."

The drug is a synthetic compound, chemically related to sex hormones, that halts production of eggs in the female ovary, the professor explained. Egg production resumes when the pill taking stops, he added.

"The drug was 100 per cent effective in preventing conception in the Puerto Rico experiments," he said. "When women stopped using it, there was no difficulty experienced in becoming pregnant."

Dr. Rock's views differed markedly from those of two physicians who tested the pills and reported results at the San Francisco meeting of the American Medical Assn. in June.

Drs. Edward Tyler and Henry Olson of the UCLA Medical School told the association that in tests covering 3082 woman-months, there were 22 pregnancies for a 9.3 per cent rate, about the same rate as for standard contraceptive methods.

Eddie Sings, Gets Ovation At Banquet

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eddie Fisher, relaxed and in shirt sleeves, made a hit last night in his first public appearance since his separation from Debbie Reynolds.

He sang for 10 minutes and was applauded loudly by more than 200 attending a Greater Los Angeles Press Club banquet.

Fisher and his estranged wife both had been invited before the couple parted. Debbie, who didn't appear, said last week she will divorce Fisher. This was after he and actress Elizabeth Taylor made headlines on a New York night club visit.

Fisher, who is recuperating from infectious mononucleosis, a blood disease, was pale and tense before he went on.

But once in the spotlight, he relaxed, seemingly enjoying himself. The audience loved it.

He made no direct reference to his marital troubles, but after his first number the perspiring singer shed his coat and smiled.

"It's hotter there than it has been—anywhere," he said.

His first song, "I Hear Music," was not his usual opening number, he told the audience. "The original song didn't seem appropriate right now."

His usual night club opener is a medley of songs billed: "Forget It."

At one point he seemed dissatisfied with his voice and told the crowd: "That wasn't the effects of my mononucleosis. It's just that I'm tired."

Lawyer Observing TV In Courtrooms

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—A Roswell attorney assigned as a televised murder trial observer is preparing a report on whether the use of television cameras in courtrooms would be successful.

Attorney Robert Wagner observed the use of TV cameras in the murder trial in Amarillo, Tex., of David McKnight, 21, charged with the hammer death of Raymond Reed, 52, Amarillo pawn shop operator.

Wagner's report will go to Ross Malone of Roswell, new president of the American Bar Assn.

Malone will submit the report to the National Bar Assn. committee of the ABA, which is considering whether TV cameras should be permitted in courtrooms.

Banking Prestige

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The new Bank of Phoenix, opening soon, will require an initial deposit of $1,000 and a monthly average balance of that amount for checking accounts. Bank officials said the policy was set up to add to the prestige of customers and the bank.

Movieland Intrigues Soviet Ambassador

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, visiting a Western movie set, asked: "Are those buildings real?"

He was taken in back and shown they were merely false fronts.

Menshikov appeared intrigued yesterday as he watched Audie Murphy, war hero turned actor, engage in a hand-to-hand battle with the movie's villain, Charles Drake.

The Soviet envoy arrived here by train Tuesday for a brief, informal visit.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE DAILY NEWS WILL introduce another football prognosticator this season whose past record is about as good as any you will find anywhere.

Dr. Allen Smith's "Touchdown Tendency" will make its first appearance in the Daily News tomorrow. The releases will be on Thursday's editions through the remainder of the season.

DR. ALLEN SMITH

Dr. Smith also will pick his "Top Dozen" teams each week and they'll be released in Tuesday's editions.

The San Jose State doctor has several college degrees, including a B.S. Degree in Chemical Engineering from Tulane University, M.S. in Chemical Engineering from Georgia Tech and Ph. D. from Chemical Engineering from Oregon State College.

You might say, "how does this serve as a recommendation as a football expert?"

Well, Dr. Smith claims he uses a combination of mathematics and statistical studies to make his predictions each week and his educational background is a big help in using this method.

Last season Dr. Smith had an 83 percentage for the entire year and that's going some if you've ever attempted this prognosticating business in football.

Ball Control Big Factor

Ball control is a big factor in winning football games. This factor alone paid off dearly for he Tigers and Borger in their games against each other the past two seasons.

Last year Borger got off 68 plays from scrimmage including running passing and punting plays to 36 for the Tigers and the Bulldogs won, 12-7.

This season the situation was virtually reversed. The Tigers got off 72 plays to 42 for Borger and the Bengals won by almost the same score as the Bulldogs won last year's game, 14-6.

The rushing figures were almost identically reversed. Last year Borger got off 60 rushing plays to 29 for the Tigers. The Tigers this year executed 60 rushing plays to 30 for Borger.

There's one thing for sure, you have got to get possession of that football to score.

Top Ranked Teams On Tiger Slate

Any resemblance to the top 10 teams in the State Class 3A ranks this week and the Tiger schedule is purely coincidental.

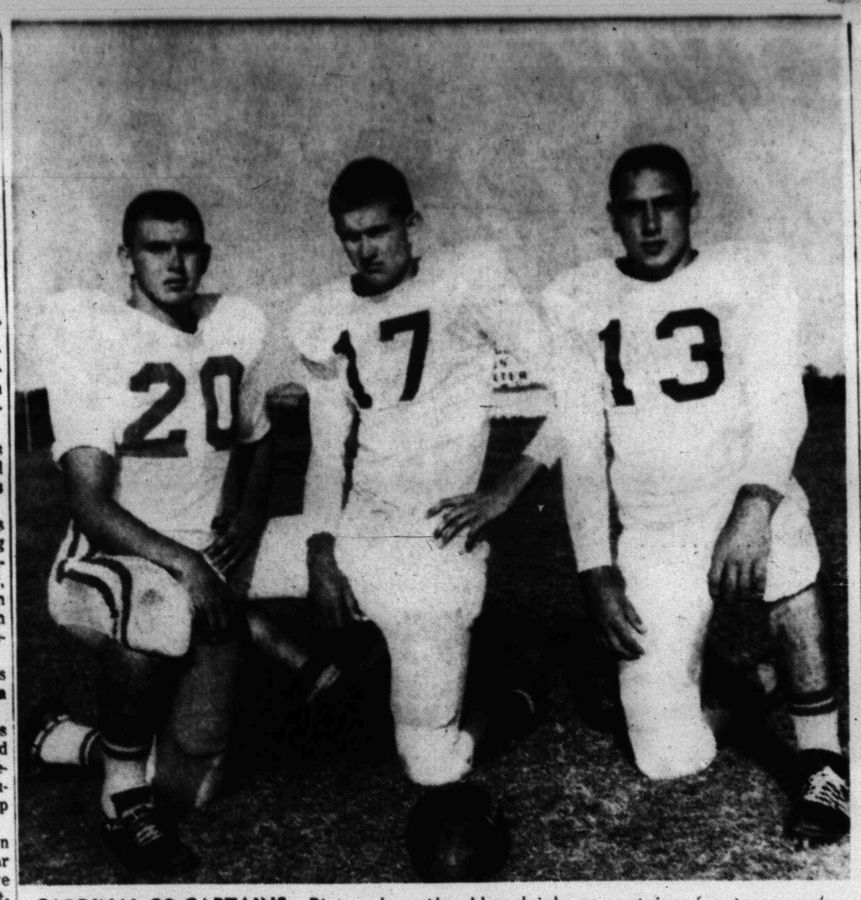

Four of the seven teams that are ranked ahead of the Tigers in most of the state polls this week appear on the Tiger schedule this season.

One of those teams, the Andrews Mustangs, will be the Tiger oppostion tomorrow night. In the three polls we speak of, Andrews is ranked 2nd, fourth and fifth.

The other top-ranked teams to be met by the Tigers this season are Breckenridge, No. 1 in all three polls; Sweetwater, No. 2 in two of the polls and third in the other; and Levelland, fifth and seventh in two of the polls, the Lobos not being ranked in the top 10 in the other.

The Tigers were ranked 8th in two of the polls and 9th in the other.

Aside of these four toughies, the Tigers play three rugged Class 4-A foes. Is there any argument that this is the toughest Tiger football schedule of all times?

Card-K-City Tilt Is Area Grid Feature

The Hermleigh and Knox City game at Hermleigh tomorrow night features the area football slate this weekend.

Hermleigh's Cardinals are unbeaten in two starts and will be gunning to make it three in a row tomorrow night.

The Cardinals have defeated Coahoma, 14-12, and Aspermont, 24-8 in their two starts to date.

Kickoff time tomorrow night will be 8 o'clock.

Two other games are on tap in the area tomorrow night. Undefeated Gail goes to Pettit and Hobbs journeys to Jayton.

Ira, another area team, will be idle this weekend.

Gail has posted wins over Union Terry, 38-14, and Smyer, 31-0.

Hobbs has split in two games, winning its opener from Mattson, 38-8, but losing to Weinert in her second start, 38-0.

Allen To Miss Andrews Tilt

Another casualty hit the Tiger grid camp today. Halfback Jimmy Allen has been advised by the team physician to sit out Friday's game at Andrews.

Allen suffered a head injury in the season open with Borger last Friday and although he has recovered, it was believed best to hold him out of this week's game.

With Allen out the Tigers will be without their Nos. 1 and 2 right halfback in the Andrews game. Allen's understudy, Johnny Drake, suffered a knee injury in the Borger game and will definitely miss the Andrews game.

Tiger coach John Conley has been forced to make some shifts in the Bengal secondary. Fullback Paul Stanley will be moved to Allen's halfback spot and Eddie Watson will open at fullback in tomorrow's game.

Otherwise, the same boys who started the Borger game will open at their respective positions tomorrow night.

The starting Tiger lineup for the Andrews game will be as follows:

Ends— Kenny Drake and Bill Dubose.

Tackles — Ronnie Giles and Terry Lee.

Guards — Tommy Minton and Mickey McGrew.

Center — Devane Jones.

Quarterback — Richard Mahan.

Halfbacks — Dick Hayes and Paul Stanley.

Fullback — Eddie Watson.

Word was received today that center Bill Rinehart may be able to suit up for tomorrow's game. Rinehart is due to be released tomorrow morning from the hospital where he has been undergoing treatment for acute bronchitis.

Rinehart may see part time action in the Andrews game.

Stanley and K. Drake have been named co-captains for the Andrews game. Both are seniors.

The Tigers went through their last full-scale drill yesterday prior to the Andrews game and they will work out in shorts today, checking offensive and defensive signals.

The Tigers will leave at noon tomorrow for Andrews and will return immediately following the game. Kickoff time will be 8 p.m. About 1,000 Tiger fans are due to follow the Bengals to Andrews for what has been tabbed as the state's top Triple-A game this week.

Smith's TD Tendency To Appear In DN

By Dr. Allen N. Smith

Twice weekly throughout the college football season in the Daily News will appear the ratings of the nation's gridiron teams by Dr. Allen N. Smith of San Jose State College.

The Smith Touchdown Tendency System of Ratings is a combination of mathematics and statistical studies. Factors such as sectional favoritisms, hunches and popular consensuses are ignored by the System in its football predictions.

The Smith Rating System for predicting the outcome of football games is based on the "touchdown tendencies" of the opposing teams plus the offensive and defensive factors of each team.

Here is what is meant by touchdown tendency.

A team that rolls up terrific yardage, yet scores only a few points, has a high yard-per-point ratio, that is, a low touchdown tendency.

Conversely, a team such as the 1957 Michigan State squad, which was capable of scoring from any part of the field, has a low yard-per-point ratio and, therefore, a high T-T.

After determining the teams' tendencies and their offensive and defensive factors, both passing and rushing, these figures are substituted in a set of simultaneous equations, from which is determined the winner and point difference between the two teams.

Because of their sound statistical and mathematical background, the Smith Ratings forecast the WINNERS and POINT DIFFERENCES with the highest accuracy.

The System, like any other such affair, becomes more accurate as the season progresses, due to the greater amount of data available on which to base calculations.

Cardinals Stall Braves Flag March

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, without a manager and with only a slim hope for a fourth place finish, are back at the old stand — making life a bit tougher than it should be for the Milwaukee Braves.

It was in 1956 that the Cardinals, settled in fourth, knocked the Braves out of the National League pennant. Last season, when the Braves thought they had it all locked up, they had to put on another drive to knock off the second place Cardinals, who had closed within two games.

Last night, hours after Fred Hutchinson was fired officially as field boss, the Cards took the Braves 5-3, knocking off 20-game winner Warren Spahn, a longtime nemesis, to boot. That delayed the Braves' run to a second consecutive flag. Their magic number still is three over second place Pittsburgh.

The Chicago Cubs tied Los Angeles for sixth by beating Philadelphia 6-2 in the only other NL game scheduled. It was held to seven innings by rain.

In the American League, Detroit again beat the champion New York Yankees, 5-2. Boston split a doubleheader at Kansas City, winning 4-2 after a 6-3 defeat.

Gene Green drove in two runs, with his 12th homer and a triple for the Cards, who came off with a 3-3 record against Spahn for the season. Larry Jackson (13-12) was the winner with Jim Brosnan's relief in the ninth.

Stan Hack, fired as a coach in the St. Louis house cleaning, agreed to direct the Cards for the rest of the season. The Cards' front office refused to name a manager for next year—likely ex-infielder Solly Hemus, now with the Phils—to replace Hutch, who was the fifth to get the gate this season in the majors.

Rookie Bob Anderson (3-1) beat the Phils with a five-hitter, and held batting leader Richie Ashburn hitless in two at-bats, dropping his average to .342 for .004 edge over the Cards' injury-idled Stan Musial. Ray Semproch (13-11), once a rookie of the year candidate, lost it, giving up a two-run homer to Ernie Banks, his 47th.

Former Army tackel DeWitt Coulter set an Army shot put record in 1946. His toss went 54 feet, 7¼ inches.

Hutchinson Is Fired As Card Pilot

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals fired Manager Fred Hutchinson yesterday but won't name his successor until the end of the season.

The replacement undoubtedly will be former Cardinal Solly Hemus, known to be the favorite of owner August A. Busch.

In announcing that Hutchinson was out, General Manager Bing Devine said the Cardinals would announce a new manager after the end of the season and before the World Series.

With Hutchinson went his three coaches, Stan Hack, Terry Moore and Al Hollingsworth. Hack agreed to manage the Redbirds until the end of the season. Then he's on his way out of the Cardinal organization, as is Moore. Hollingsworth might be offered another job in the system.

The only stumbling block in the way of Hemus' selection appeared to be terms the Philadelphia Phils might want for him. At second base for the Phillies, he has been one of the few live wires on that team.

Eddie Stanky, now a coach with the Cleveland Indians, will be with the Cardinals next year. He'll act as a "baseball brain," with a final say on trades, bonus players and rookies.

Favored for a pitching coach is Eddie Lopat. Next in line is Sal Maglie. The Cardinals would have to obtain a release of Lopat from the New York Yankees, whose Richmond farm he manages. If he should turn down the job, Maglie can switch from Cardinal player to Cardinal coach.

Casey Denies 'Fight' Rumor

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — Casey Stengel says his New York Yankees are just normal, healthy, red-blooded, playful American boys.

They do not fight among themselves, he says, and there have been no fights between players and coaches. The whole squad, says Stengel, is saving its Braves and the World Series.

The New York Post said Wednesday that Coach Ralph Houk and relief ace Ryne Duren "engaged in a bloody battle" during the Yankees' victory party Sunday night.

"A lot of bunk," Stengel growled. "Just a lot of newspaper bunk."

Houk denied it, too, and Duren was in Wisconsin attending his grandfather's funeral. Other Yankee players said it was just horseplay and some writers covering the club said there was no exchange of punches.

The Post said the fight took place on a train carrying the club from Kansas City, where the Yankees clinched another pennant Sunday, to Detroit. "By agreement the sports writers traveling with the team kept it secret," said the Post. "Today it leaked out."

Everyone seems to agree on one point — that Duren apparently had been drinking and that there was at least a slight disorder involving the pitcher and the coach. Houk was in his seat, chewing on an unlighted cigar. Duren pushed it into Houk's face.

"I never left my seat," said Houk Wednesday when asked about the incident. 'I reached up with my hand and brushed him away. My ring caught him around the eye, I guess, but there were no punches and there was no fight."

One of the New York writers said that he, Duren and Houk had breakfast together Monday morning. "They were laughing and talking about their kids," said the writer. "Everything was fine and dandy."

One Of Author's Wives Confesses She Is Not Wed

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Eleanor McPartland, wife of a best-selling author and Monterey's Mother of the Year in 1956, said last night she was, unwed — and disappeared quietly with her five children.

Ida McPartland, who lives 125 miles away in Mill Valley with her 10-year-old son Donald, first broke the news of John McPartland's two families. She said that in fairness to Donald she wanted it known that she, and not Eleanor, is the widow of the man who wrote "No Down Payment" and a dozen paperback novels.

McPartland died of a heart attack Sunday night and Eleanor was listed as his widow. But Ida said she was married to the writer in Tyler, Tex., in September 1943 and bore him Donald.

Eleanor had been received here as McPartland's wife for a decade. She bore him five children, aged 4, 6, 7, 9 and 10.

"I confirm Ida's story," she said after Ida told newspapermen she is the real widow. "Other than that, I have no comment." Later, she said she was leaving with the children to avoid further publicity. She did.

Ida said the easy-going author had lived with both her and Eleanor over the years and each woman knew of his relations with the other. She explained she never legally separated from him because he kept promising to give up Eleanor and return to her and Donald.

"Why, he made that promise as late as last week," she added. She reported he had spent two weeks with her this month, returning to Eleanor in Monterey only the day before he died.

Eleanor and McPartland formerly lived in the country club district here, then moved to the exclusive Del Monte Forest on this art colony peninsula.

Eleanor was active in Parent-Teacher Assn. and Cub Scouts work.

Ida said she was very sorry over the publicity, but considered the story must be told to establish that McPartland was her son's legal father and that she is the widow.

Her attorney in San Francisco, Jay Pfotenhauer, said he plans to ask that Ida be named administratrix of her husband's estate.

There was no mention of the size of McPartland's estate but friends here said they doubted it would be large.

Imports Of Cattle Small

WASHINGTON (AP)—An aide to President Eisenhower says cattle imports from Canada, Mexico and New Zealand are relatively small.

Bryce Harlow, presidential administrative assistant, wrote Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) that "imports are quite small relative to the commercial slaughter of cattle and calves.

"During the first six months of 1958," Harlow said, "imports of 514,769 head compared with a slaughter of 16,395,400 head. Most imports, moreover, are not destined for immediate slaughter.

"I am advised," he wrote, "that cattle imports from Canada and Mexico are primarily feeder cattle and that the smaller imports from New Zealand are entirely so, which facts further minimize the impact of these imports on fed cattle markets."

Vegetables, Fruits Bargains

By The Associated Press

Cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, grapes and apples top the best buys in vegetables and fruits at Texas markets this week.

Good apples, coming from ten states, are cheaper than a week ago, the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture says. Tokay grapes are a little lower, but Thompson seedless are a shade higher. Italian prunes are plentiful and attractively priced.

Banana and lemon prices are up a little but price tags for limes and California valencia oranges are unchanged. Best quality peaches and pears are also up a little. Pech supplies are dwindling, however. First shipment of Michigan Elbertas arrived in many Texas markets this week.

The bulk of cabbage is coming from Colorado, with prices steady to slightly lower than a week ago. Pascal celery is also priced a little lower, along with bunched greens and okra. Supplies of squash are declining and price tags have been marked up. Red potatoes from Texas and Colorado are unchanged in price; however, Colorado and Washington russets are a little cheaper. California tomatoes are still in good supply and prices unchanged. Other vegetable items in good supply and priced reasonably are sweet potatoes, lettuce, green peppers, corn, cucumbers, locally grown eggplant, bulk turnips and pole beans.

Broiler prices are up a few cents. However, they are still a good protein buy. Red meat prices are mostly unchanged, although supplies are seasonally increasing and prices of some cuts are down a few cents.

Egg prices are mostly steady, with medium and small size in best supply. Large Grade A are reported short in several areas of Texas.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — U.S. Deputy Marshal Hugh Stevens traveled hundreds of miles during the past three months trying to run down Raymond G. Pendergrass on a stolen check charge. Stevens was on his way to his office in the Post Office Building yesterday when he bumped into and nabbed Pendergrass standing at the money order window.

Decision On Process First Step In Salt Water Tests

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department is trying to decide what process to use in the first of five experimental salt and brackish water conversion plants it is to build and operate.

Fred Aandahl, assistant secretary of interior, wrote Rep. Joe Kilgore (D-Tex) that this is the first decision under the congressional act authorizing the plants.

The choice also is likely to determine the part of the country in which the first will be built.

"As you know," Aandahl wrote, . . . (the) enabling act provides for the establishment of three sea water conversion plants, one each on the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf coasts. In addition, there are to be two brackish water plants, one in the northern Great Plains and the other in the Southwest.

"The secretary of the interior is to select the first process six months after enactment (which Sept. 2) and the other four plants at three month intervals thereafter.

"Therefore, you will appreciate that process selection is to be given primary emphasis and that site selection and process selection may be interdependent."

The principal processes under consideration are distillation, freezing, electrodialisis or membrane, chemical solvents and solar.

The electrodialisis method, a process which early research indicates may be most feasible for brackish water conversion, could be the first process chosen. Such a plant likely would cost less to construct.

The interior official said it is too early now to set forth complete criteria for selection of plant sites. He suggested, however, that availability of low-cost fuel, local offers of sites, and other cooperative gestures might well be the determining factors.

Data he submitted to Kilgore stated that except in the solar process (evaporation by sun rays) the cost of fuel is vital.

Other factors to be taken into consideration, Aandahl continued, will be accessibility to saline water, fresh water storage and distribution facilities, local market for water produced, and beneficial effect of a demonstration plant in an area.

"Every attempt will be made to erect plants in locations where the long range benefits can best be served by saline water conversion (to) fresh water supplies," he added.

"The recommendations of the state water authorities will be given every possible consideration, and cooperative agreements are being negotiated with several states at present, including Texas. One is already in effect with California.

Jersey Man Convicted On Morals Count

AUSTIN (AP)—Stanley Press of Atlantic City, N.J., was sentenced yesterday to 13 years in prison after an all-male jury said he was guilty of sodomy.

Press was stationed at Ft. Hood last February when he allegedly forced an Austin woman, 21, into an unnatural sex act near here.

The jury deliberated for about two hours before returning its verdict. Press showed no emotion, but his father moaned and his mother sobbed aloud. Dist. Judge Mace Thurman ordered a hearing for 10 a.m. tomorrow on the defense attorneys' motion for a new trial.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter in final arguments asked Press be given the maximum 15-year sentence.

The defense argued that criminal law provides that testimony of an accomplice must be disregarded unless corroborated by other witnesses. Defense attorneys claimed the woman, a state employe, was an accomplice because the state did not prove she was forced into the alleged act through fear of bodily harm or death.

No defense witnesses were called.

Moscow Rules Soviet Labor

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE

At a time when many labor union leaders in the United States are laying the groundwork to demand a 30-hour work week, the national magazine Business Week comes forth with details on a typical union contract within Soviet Russia. This is the new contract recently put into effect at the Sverdlovsk Machine Construction plant in Sverdlovsk, an industrial city of 500,000 population in the Ural Mountains. It governs the labor relations of some 6500 workers.

These workers are required to put in 46 hours a week minimum at the plant and the chief purpose in negotiating a new contract is to bring about an increase of 6.6 per cent in productivity of the plant for the ensuing year. Trade unions in the Soviet Union, says the magazine, basically serve as agents of Moscow to get maximum production out of workers. Contract bargaining is wholly one-sided with Moscow laying down the law.

In this country, when unions bargain with management, both sides negotiate on equal terms. There is no interference from the government. Yet we attain a greater over-all production than any other nation in the world. Through our genius for mass production and our over-all technological know-how, we have led the world since the beginning of the machine age.

This is still our boast but if we are to continue to hold leadership in a world where our chief competition comes from the Soviet Union, we must continue to demand a reasonable amount of production from our workers.

U. S. Marshals Are Hazy On History

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. marshals don't know whether Matt Dillon, Wyatt Earp and Wild Bill Hickock were ever U.S. marshals—despite all the legends and television programs about them. They may have been town marshals.

In fact, what U.S. marshals don't know about U.S. marshals would fill a bunch of big books.

These officers are in the news now because about 150 marshals and deputies have been sent into Little Rock where, if things get rough, they may go after violators of a federal judge's order to integrate Central High.

But meanwhile, E. J. Matchett, boss of the 804 marshals and deputies in the United States and its territories, has asked them to let him know anything they can find about the history of U.S. marshals.

The reason: there's a terrible gap in their history between 1789 and 1870, and even afterwards. What's happened to the records, if there were records? Matchett says he doesn't know.

He has his office in the Justice Department — where the attorney general has supervision over marshals — and he says: "We've turned this place upside down" in search of records "and we can't find them."

The name "marshal" goes away back in colonial and even British history. But Congress in 1789 created the job of U.S. marshal to work with the 13 federal district courts which were created, one for each state.

Matchett says he has the names of those first 13 marshals appointed by President Washington but no others until 1870 when the government printed a register of marshals. It's been printing this register at intervals ever since.

But even the register has gaps, Matchett says. That's why he's asked marshals around the country to search their local records. The information he'd like to get, he says, would fill big books.

As for people like Earp and Hickock, Matchett says he thinks they may have served as town marshals. But he says he has nothing to show they were ever U.S. marshals.

Modern U.S. marshals — unlike sheriffs, or city police or the FBI —can't go snatching law violators off the streets. They make arrests only on orders from a federal judge for some specific offense against a court decree.

For this reason the marshals in Little Rock couldn't be used to preserve order for its own sake but only on instructions from a federal judge if one of his orders was disobeyed.

But marshals do other things: they take convicted federal prisoners to federal jails, preserve order in federal courtrooms and serve court orders. Under court decree they guard property or seize it, and pay witnesses and jurors in federal court cases.

There are 94 U.S. marshals, one for each judicial district. Salary: from $8,330 a year to $12,770, depending on the size of their job. They're appointed by the President for four years, can be fired any time before then.

They're really political appointees, and change with administrations in Washington. They appoint their own deputies, when there's an opening, and usually from their own political party.

But deputies keep their jobs, don't change with administrations. Pay for the 710 deputies starts at $4,490, goes up to a top of $5,880. Their jobs are not covered by civil service.

But they can get a pension and, despite the low salary, Matchett says turnover is small. They must meet certain requirements to get the job, get a physical test and take a marksmanship test once a year.

Brigham Young is unbeaten against Canisius in basketball. BY won 50-49 in 1942 and in 1945 the score was 62-52.

Nasser Has Few Foes In The Open

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

There are no signs in Egypt of any organized opposition to President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Indeed, few Egyptians speak out against him in private conversation.

But one—a strinkingly beautiful woman—has been at war with him, openly, for more than five years.

She is Mme. Dora Shafik, poetess, erstwhile magazine publisher, and a tireless crusader for women's rights in the Moslem world. It is not alone on feminist grounds, however, that she battles Nasser.

She has publicly accused him of depriving Egyptians of their liberties and shackling them with a new kind of colonization.

Mme. Shafik is tall, dark, with flashing black eyes. She is married to a Cairo lawyer. They have two teen-age daughters.

When Nasser promulgated the Egyptian constitution in 1956, she says, Cairo reporters telephoned and asked her to comment on it.

"I said no one who believes in liberty could accept it," she says. "This is not freedom. This is a new kind of colonization for the Egyptian people.

"Legally, we are not permitted to discuss the revolution, nor to criticize the constitution. The reporters asked if they could quote me. I told them they could."

The result, she says, has been a slow, shadowy, indirect form of reprisal.

At that time, she was publishing four magazines for women. Only one dealt with political questions. All four are gone now.

She also ran an employment agency for women, and a kind of cafeteria where destitute women would buy food for their families. These, too, are out of existence.

She used to have her poems published regularly in books. "There are no takers for them any more," she says.

"It was a kind of sabotage. There were strange accidents, delays, constant friction. Nothing you could put your finger on. But it succeeded in killing the magazines."

Women stopped coming to the employment agency and cafeteria.

"They spread rumors that I had had a nervous breakdown and was completely deranged. My husband secretly put me in a hospital and had five doctors examine me to disprove it," she said.

"Then they tried to cause trouble in my family. They said that when I was in America there were other men, and that my husband was going around with other women—all absolute lies."

She said her house is constantly watched. Recently, she was refused a passport to attend an international woman's conference in India. Officials gave her no reason for the refusal.

What now?

"I will go on fighting," she said. "Many are suffering under Nasser but they are afraid to speak. I am not. I am not afraid to go to prison. In fact that would be better—it would be in the open then—to this invisible campaign."

Bankers Interested In The Fairer Sex

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Bankers are learning about S-E-X. At least the bankers in New York State have decided that the hand that rocks the economy should be told about the facts of financial and banking life.

The New York State Bankers Assn. has set up a women's committee to tackle the problem of women's understanding of money. Many husbands may think that women already have their own understanding of money — there's never nought of it.

But this isn't the idea the lady bankers have in mind. Rather it's a matter of spreading information about banking and finance. And the committee feels sure that its program quickly will spread to other states.

First, the women bankers will work through the various women's clubs and organizations. There are some 800 of these in New York State alone, with a membership of around 200,000.

Already the committee has 204 women bankers organized for the job. This, in the words of Albert L. Muench, executive vice president of the New York State Bankers Assn., is quite an accomplishment.

Women aren't hard to find in banking circles hereabout. There are more than 3,000 with banking titles. In the United States there are perhaps 300,000 bank women. But that isn't the reason the association is calling on them to do the job.

The fact is, men, that women are important. Muench says women vote about 70 per cent of the shares at annual meetings of American corporations. He says they are the beneficiaries of 80 per cent of the trust funds. And they have the say-so in spending the greater part of the 353½ billion dollars a year of personal income of the nation.

Their economic importance to bankers also arises from the fact that 21 million women are employed, bringing in some 42 billion dollars before taxes.

Prime goals of the new drive, under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Noble Smith, assistant manager of a branch of the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank in New York City, are set forth thus:

1. To make the public aware of the bank's role in the community in financing business, agriculture, municipalities, families and individuals. 2. to expose the destructive force of inflation and preach the need for sound budgeting and planning. 3. to make the public see the bank as essential to the American type of a capitalistic economy.

Mrs. Smith says the committee will spread the gospel at the drop of a bonnet. It's ready to move in on the women's clubs when and if invited—and it's trying hard to see that it is.

The Constitution, Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence are protected by a 50-ton steel safe in the National Archives in Washington, D.C. The largest safe in the world, it is invulnerable to fire, flood and theft.

Colin P. Kelly III Entering College

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Colin P. Kelly III, 18, son of America's first Medal of Honor winner in World War II, enters Dickinson College today for a year.

Young Kelly plans to study mathematics, chemistry and French before accepting a presidential invitation to West Point.

Near Wardensville, W. Va., Lost River disappears under Sandy Ridge and reappears more than four miles away at the headwaters of the Cacapon River.

Junior Editors BIRD QUIZ

QUESTION: How does a robin locate a worm?

* * *

ANSWER: Robins are greedy eaters who have keen senses to help them satisfy their appetites. They take a nip of fruit on occasion but like worms and insects especially.

Worms moving through the earth make a slight noise that we could not possibly notice but which the robin's sharp ears can detect. Any worm moving near the surface doesn't have much of a chance if a hungry robin is near.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: If there is a robin in your yard, watch him locate worms. See how he moves his head to listen? Color this picture so that you will remember his appearance.

* * *

(A $10 award will be given for a good question. Send yours on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. Tomorrow: Why do wheels in a movie sometimes seem to go backwards?) 9-18

Showers Aid Crops, But Delay Harvest

AUSTIN (AP) — Widespread showers last week further improved prospects for the late cotton crop but at the same time delayed opening and slowed down the present harvest.

"Recent moisture has brought out a new crop of blooms but their chances of making seem remote," the report of the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today. "Grade was reduced in areas receiving heavy rainfall although in most places moisture fell slowly and relatively little damage resulted. Northern blacklands growers have begun defoliating and will start mechanical stripping when weather permits. Cotton is opening on the High Plains but peak harvest remains several weeks off."

Frequent showers, particularly along the coast, slowed field work of other crops also. In the high plains wheat seeding gained momentum with some farmers plowing ahead of the drill to destroy the volunteer crop.

Vegetable crops made good progress in all areas.

Fall pasture prospects improved with rescue grass coming up to thick stands in the eastern half of the state and native grass greening in central and southern counties. All classes of livestock were in good condition.

Moose Sets Institution Next Tuesday

The Loyal Order of Moose will institute a lodge in Snyder next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the old youth center building on Avenue T.

The institution will be in charge of Hamilton T. Murphy of Amarillo, regional director for Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

The ritual work will be exemplified by the degree staff of the Big Spring Lodge No. 1852.

W. T. McClintock, governor of the Midland Lodge, No. 1777, will install the following officers: Frank Stephenson, past governor; M. W. Pilcher, governor; W. L. Kinney, junior governor; Earl Spiller, prelate; Raymond Graves, treasurer; Earl Long, secretary; Norman Spencer, trustee, one-year; Carl Ballard, trustee, two years; W. A. Disheroon, trustee, three years; Bernie D. Smith, sergeant-at-arms; R. P. Ware, inner guard; J. W. Holdren outer guard.

All men who have joined the Loyal Order of Moose are urged to attend the institution so that their names will appear on the original charter. Anyone desiring further information on the new lodge may contact Ray H. Miller, district director, at Brown's Courts.

A special meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the youth center building to work out final details for the institution.

Four Orphans Lose Parents Within Week

RUMSON, N.J. (AP) — The home at 13 Sailer's Way was like most other suburban homes. Mr. and Mrs. James Adams lived there with their four sons.

Then, last week, Mrs. Adams entered Monmouth Memorial Hospital.

Her husband, editor-manager of the New York Purchasing Review, would catch a train so that he could be in his office by 9 a.m.

The youngest child, Peter, 18 months, would be left in the care of a baby sitter. The others, James Jr., 15; Steven, 11; and Kurt, 8, would go off to school.

But on Monday, Adams was delayed in getting a baby sitter.

He left a little later than usual, taking a later train to New York. Wednesday his briefcase was found aboard the third coach of a Jersey Central Railroad train that plunged into Newark Bay Monday.

His station wagon was traced, and the name of James Adams, 45, was added to the list of those missing and presumed dead in the train wreck.
