Crude Time Bomb Discovered Concealed Atop Eiffel Tower

By JOHN RODERICK

PARIS (AP)—Police today discovered a crude time bomb hidden atop the famed Eiffel Tower visited by thousands of tourists annually.

The bomb contained about five pounds of dynamite, police said, and was powerful enough to have blown off the entire top framework which consists mainly of recently added televisfon installations.

The bomb was discovered as the French police force redoubled efforts to stem the wave of Algerian Nationalist terrorism sweeping France on the eve of a new constitutional referendum asked by Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Only this morning France's worldwide airline, Air France, ordered its representatives throughout the world to search all freight put aboard its airliners to prevent any possible sabotage.

The bomb was found in the public toilet at the top observation platform of the famed structure which is about 1,000 feet high. The platform is about 100 feet from the top of the tower.

Police said the bomb consisted also of an electric battery and an alarm clock. The device was set for 7 o'clock, but the clock had stopped.

Police did not know if it had been set to go off at 7 a.m., when the platform would have been empty, or 7 o'clock tonight when it would have been crowded.

The bomb was immediately brought down by special police who were called in.

Earlier submachineguns chattered in a vacant lot in the Aubervilliers section of Paris near the municipal slaughterhouse.

Three Algerian terrorists who opened fire on a police car were making their last stand. The gendarmes, including one whom the Algerians wounded, tracked them down.

Ten minutes later the three terrorists were dead.

At Metz in eastern France about the same time, an Algerian fired three bullets at a French noncommissioned army officer.

The soldier crumpled into the street, dead.

Across the Mediterranean in war-weary Algeria, authorities said French soldiers came across the mass grave of between 400 and 500 Algerian nationalist rebels.

An official French announcement last night said notes found with the bodies proved they were slain by their former comrades in arms for threatening to abandon the four-year-old rebellion. They all belonged to a rebel unit led by a Col. Amirouche, the French said.

A turncoat rebel doctor led French troops to the scene in a deep ravine of the Kabilyie Mountains, about 100 miles east of Algiers, the announcement said. Some 4,000 rebel troops in the area withdrew when army troops approached, it added.

French soldiers said the throats of most of the slain had been cut and some were shot after torture, mostly within the past week.

This was the second time the French had accused the rebels of the mass murder of turncoats. Last July more than 300 members of a former rebel unit that joined the French were found in a mass grave, the French said.

Authorities in Paris viewed the continuing violence in France and the reported mass murders in Algeria as part of the rebel campaign against Premier de Gaulle's proposed constitution. The constitution fails to grant Algeria immediate independence. De Gaulle never has said what plans he has for Algeria.

In Algeria, the rebels are trying to warn the people away from the polls, which will be open there Friday through Sunday. In France, where all voting will be Sunday, the rebels are trying to raise an outcry that would force the government to negotiate.

ON RED CHINA'S BID FOR SEAT

U. S. Expects Delay

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States felt confident of easily shelving for another year the Red China seating issue today as the General Assembly neared a vote.

The prevote debate was marked by a head-on clash between the Soviet Union and the United States on the Formosa Strait crisis.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge lashed back angrily after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had accused the United States of "playing with fire in the Far East."

Lodge told the Assembly Gromyko's words "hardly become a government with the brutal record of the Soviet Union."

The Americans were sure their postponement motion would get 45 favorable votes and that not more than 30 would be against.

Lodge angrily took the floor to answer Gromyko after the Soviet foreign minister had injected the Formosa question into the representation debate. Lodge had observed Assembly rules in earlier remarks and refrained from engaging in broader issues connected with the question.

Gromyko demanded that the United States pull its military forces from Formosa "while it s not too late."

"How long," he said, "Is the United Nations going to tolerate being used as a tool of a policy of interference in the internal affairs of another country, the policy of direct aggression pursued by the United States?"

He charged that the United States had occupied Formosa and had brought pressure on its allies to keep Red China out of the U.N.

Lodge retorted that Gromyko had taken advantage of a chance to launch a full-scale attack on U.S. policy.

"What kind of game is he playing here?" he demanded.

"We never interfere, we never impose our will on another country," he said. "It ill becomes the Soviet Union with its record of slavery to make accusations against us."

Lodge denied Gromyko's assertion that the United States was provoking war in the Far East.

"We are seeking peace and every single statement made by President Eisenhower — and you have read them—is proof of that fact," he said.

Lodge asserted that the Red shelling of Quemoy had claimed thousands of civilians' lives and called on the Kremlin to persuade Peiping to cease its policy of "violence and murder."

He said the Red Chinese were "rapidly shooting themselves and the rest of the world" out of a chance to settle the crisis over Formosa.

Gov. Clement Says Ike Not Meeting Responsibilities

By PAUL R. JORDAN

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Frank Clement today accused President Eisenhower of "not meeting his responsibilities" in the integration crisis and said he should be here instead of vacationing.

"This nation," said the Tennessee governor at a press conference prior to the second session of the Southern Governors Conference, "is faced with its most serious domestic problem since the Civil War. And yet the President is up in Newport with Sherman Adams trying to decide how Adams should bow out."

Clement said the President, to his knowledge was not invited to the conference here, but added "he shouldn't wait for an invitation."

The Democratic governor also said he has prepared a resolution which would put the conference here on record reaffirming states' rights coupled with a declaration of state responsibilities. It will be introduced, he said, "if I think it will pass."

At least two others governors have said they will introduce conflicting resolutions for consideration.

A formal expression on integration emerged as an issue when Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland proposed a resolution which, in effect, would put Dixie governors on record as favoring it.

Georgia's Democratic Gov. Marvin Griffin came back with a proposal urging the conference to protect the government "of the several states against all federal encroachment."

There was no indication when and if these resolutions actually would come up for a vote of the 14 governors attending the conference.

But one of them, Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, foresaw no chance of a majority agreeing one way or the other on integration.

The South's most burning issue, absent from the business agenda, got hotter yesterday when Gov. Elroy Collins of Florida said it should be resolved by Congress as the first order of business next January.

Collins told the opening business session the current pattern of integration conflict, if continued, could lead to a national catastrophe.

Elaborating at a news conference, he said President Eisenhower could organize commissions of local citizens with authority to resolve the problem at that level. He said federal courts "simply are not equipped to determine local problems."

CWA Strike Authorised In Pact Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the Communications Workers of America (AFL-CIO) were authorized today to strike in a contract dispute involving 15,400 Western Electric Co. installers in 44 states.

Joseph E. Dunne, the union's chief negotiator, said the union's Executive Board authorized the strike. The union's president, Joseph A. Beirne, is empowered to set a time for the start of a strike.

Dunne said he did not know when a date would be set.

Negotiations between the union and the company broke off last Friday at the end of a 30-day bargaining period. The talks were held under a reopening clause in a two-year contract that runs to Sept. 15, 1959. Discussed were wages, transfer allowances and vacations.

Current wage scales range from $1.45 to $2.92 hourly. Before negotiations collapsed, the union demands were an average increase of 13 cents an hour.

The company said its final proposal was an increase of five to eight cents hourly for installers and $1.50 to $2 weekly for job clerks.

The workers involved are employed in every state except Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Montana.

Butler Gets Air Time For His Rebuttal

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler will address the nation tonight on "the other side of the Adams case."

The television and radio networks had granted free time to Sherman Adams to announce his resignation Monday night as assistant to the President. Butler contended the announcement was partisan and political and asked equal time.

CBS said it would carry Butler's speech over its television and radio networks from 6:35 to 6:45 p.m. EST. Stations on the networks, however, are not required to carry the speech at that specific time. In New York City, for instance, CBS will televise the speech at 5:30 to 6 p.m. EST and will broadcast it from 6:35 to 6:45 p.m. EST.

The Mutual Broadcasting System said it would carry the speech at 5:35 p.m. EST, the same time it carried the Adams speech.

NBC said it was ready to telecast and broadcast the Butler remarks, but that it had not yet received any direct request to do so.

ABC still was weighing the matter.

State GOP Forms Fund Raising Unit

HOUSTON (AP)—State Republican Chairman Thad Hutcheson appointed today a Republican legislative campaign committee patterned after the national GOP senatorial and congressional fund raising group.

"This committee is designed to spearhead the most concentrated effort the GOP has made to break into the state house at Austin," Hutcheson said.

John Goode Jr. of San Antonio and Mrs. Hargrove Smith of Eagle Lake were named co-chairmen. Other members include Tom Cole of Midland, Max Mossholder of Abilene, Fred Neumann of Beaumont and V. H. Wright of San Angelo.

Waterlogged Texas faced another cloudy, rainy day Tuesday.

More heavy rains soaked Texas' lower third Monday, closing 24 roads and causing one death. The rain slacked off there Monday night, but light to moderate rain fell over the rest of the state.

Mineral Wells, the Lubbock area, the Amarillo area and around Austin reported rain Tuesday. Fog blanketed Lufkin and Tyler.

More showers were forecast for all of Texas.

The Highway Department said 24 roads, mostly farm and ranch routes, were closed in the Beaumont, Del Rio and Bryan districts Monday.

A cool front aimed at Texas stretched from Lake Superior through Salt Lake City into California and promised to push eastward and continue the rain pattern across the greater part of Texas. The cool air mass was due in Texas by about Thursday.

This was the first day of autumn, which arrived officially at 7:10 a.m.

New Method Used To Create Clouds

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today it has managed to create clouds and destroy others by seeding them with ordinary carbon black.

The woman scientist who discovered the new method said experiments over southern Georgia produced a series of clouds "at a cost of 18 cents a cloud."

Much experimentation must be done before the value of the new technique can be determined. But if it proves successful, it could open the way to cheap and reliable means of making rain, or of breaking up storm clouds, or if dissipating fog.

The new technique was developed by Dr. Florence W. Van Straten, who livened up a desk job with the chief of naval operations by theorizing along new lines as to how rain is formed.

Earlier cloud-seeding methods using more expensive dry ice and silver iodide have been confined to supercooled clouds. The carbon method, Dr. Van Straten said, "apparently works with clouds at any temperature."

In the Georgia experiments, a Navy airplane dropped carbon black in both solid and liquid-suspension form into clouds and into clear skies. Additional studies using radar-tracked balloons currently are under way over Chesapeake Bay.

Results to date indicate that when the carbon is sprayed or sprinkled into a clear sky it causes clouds to form, and when it is introduced into clouds, it clears them up. Whether it actually produces rain in this process has not yet definitely been determined.

Probers Told Of Bribe Try

WASHINGTON (AP — A congressional staff investigator today related a story of an alleged attempt to bribe a former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and of a counter-charge the chairman solicited a bribe in a Pittsburgh television case.

Without gving any names, investigator Oliver Eastland told the House Legislative Oversight Committee of conflicting reports he said were given investgators by the former FCC chairman and one of the applicants in a fight for Pittsburgh's TV channel 4.

Eastland said the former FCC chairman had been a witness before the House committee.

George C. McConnaughley, who left FCC June 30, 1957, after serving as chairman since 1954, has testified before the subcommittee about the Pittsburgh case.

Channel 4 in Pittsburgh was originally sought by five applicants. It was finally awarded to a combination of two of these, WCAE, Inc., an affiliate of the Hearst newspaper organization; and Television City Inc.

Mexico Town Hit By Fire

RIO BRAVO, Mexico (AP)—An early morning fire destroyed six business establishments in this Mexican border industrial and agricultural boom town today, causing an estimated $90,000 damages.

Fire department units from Reynosa and Matamoros, Mexico, and Weslaco, Tex., fought the blaze.

A Weslaco Fire Department spokesman, who made the damage estimate, said the fire was believed to have been caused by defective wiring.

The town has boomed in 10 years and now has an estimated population of 15,000.

Car Makers Await Result At Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry waited today to see whether Chrysler Corp. would reach contract agreement with the United Auto Workers or whether it would await results of the UAW-General Motors negotiations.

UAW President Walter Reuther, who has personally directed his union's meetings with Chrysler since Monday, told Chrysler Monday it had until noon Wednesday to settle.

If no Chrysler agreement is reached by that hour, Reuther said he would "put the Chrysler talks on the back burner and let them simmer" while he turned his entire attention to GM talks.

Reuther's auto workers have set Sept. 30 as a strike date at GM if no new contract is worked out to replace the old three-year pact that ran out Memorial Day weekend. They also plan to strike Chrysler if contract talks fail, with the strike date to be set by Reuther and his top aides. The union settled with Ford last Wednesday.

Boards Complain Of Late Registrants

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Selective Service said today some draft boards had complained about an increasing number of youths registering late.

Segregationist Mothers In Little Rock Ready Petitions

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP — A segregationist mothers' group which seeks the recall of four members of the Little Rock School Board hoped to have enough signatures to file ouster petitions today.

The Mothers League of Central High School has been campaigning intensively in an effort to get rid of all board members except Dr. Dale Alford, who has often differed with board policies during the Little Rock school integration crisis.

Several signs of stiffening resistance to integration cropped up.

A youth group representing 17 Missionary Baptist churches in the Little Rock area adopted a resolution urging support for Gov. Orval E. Faubus in his attempts to keep schools segregated.

Foes of integration announced that efforts would be made to give wide publicity to statements by a Memphis attorney, William Gerber, who said at a Citizens Council rally that Negroes were mentally inferior to whites.

About 200 white students from closed-down Central High staged a demonstration on the lawn of the governor's mansion to protest any integration of the embattled school.

Many of the white and Negro students enrolled at the city's four high schools gathered around television sets again today to learn by viewing.

Student reaction to the first day of televised classes was generally favorable.

None of the high schools has opened for the fall term. They were closed by proclamation of Faubus in his fight to avert a resumption of integrated classes at Central High as ordered by the Supreme Court.

The governor said at Lexington, Ky., where he was attending the Southern Governors Conference, that he expected to reopen the schools next week. He has proposed operating the schools as private institutions in order to maintain segregation.

Little Rock voters will say yes or no to school integration in a referendum Saturday.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, president of the Mothers League of Central High, said the drive to obtain signatures on the recall petitions was "going very, very good," and they would be filed today if completed.

In order to get an election on recall of School Board members, petitions must bear the names of 6,235 persons—15 per cent of the city's qualified voters.

Adm. Felt, Chiang Discuss Formosa-Red China Crisis

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek and Adm. Harry D. Felt discussed the Formosa Strait crisis today as the Communist threat to the offshore islands went into a second tense month.

Continuing strong Nationalist demands for U.S. support in aerial attacks on the mainland gun positions presumably were voiced at the three-hour meeting. American officers have restrained such action for fear of spreading the vest pocket war.

The President of Nationalist China and the commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific were beleived ta have considered ways of getting more supplies to the besieged Quemoys.

The Natipnalists said another supply convoy got through to Quemoy and more supplies were parachuted to Little Qumoy. With the Communist bombardment continuing, however, the supply situation on the little islands remained tight.

The Defense Ministry said the Communists hurled 5,831 sheils at the islands in the last six hours yesterday, the last day of a full month's bombardment. Since Aug. 23, about 325,000 have been fired the Nationalist estimated.

The Nationalists have reported 280 military casualties among the 100,000 soldiers on the Quemoys plus 63 civilians killed and 159 wounded by shells.

The Defense Ministry claims 14 Communist MIG jet fighters shot down plus 3 probables without the loss of a Nationalist jet; and 7 Communist gunboats, 11 torpedo boats and 8 motorized junks sunk at the cost of 3 Nationalist landing ships.

These figures were reviewed here as Adm. Felt met with Chiang in the President's Taipei headquarters. Sinc the admiral's arrival on Formosa Saturday for a five-day vist, he was confeured with the ranking U. S. offcers here and with Nationalist military learers.

The big problem immediately facing these officers presumably was the supply situation. Nationalist ability to run the Red artillery blockade nine days in a row still has not resulted in sufficient reliveres to the islands.

The most pressing need is for medical supplies. Some were parachuted to big Quemoy Sunday in the first airdrop to that island Doctors reported that a high percentage of wounded were dying for lack of refrigeration for drugs or a blood bank.

Governors Doubt 3rd Party Coming

By RELMAN MORIN

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Democrats at the Southern Governors Conference are well and truly split today over desegregating the schools, but they agree completely on one point:

They doubt that a third political party will develop out of the towering controversy.

Some express emphatic opposition. Others simply say the possibility of another break-away movement, as in 1948, is remote. None reports any serious talk of it in his respective state.

"We're not going to be chased out of our own house," said Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia.

"I don't think there will be a third party for the simple reason that it would only give aid and comfort to the Republicans," said Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi.

The only reservation expressed came from Gov. A. B. Happy Chandler of Kentucky, who said, "It could be, if there are enough bitter-enders."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said he saw little likelihood of an insurgent movement within the party.

What will the Democrats do about a civil rights plank in the 1960 platform?

Chandler — who proudly relates how desegregation was accomplished in Kentucky—said, "You can't write one, as things stand now. It would be impossible."

Others gave we'll-have-to-wait-and-see answers.

Apart from the cleavage between Northern and Southern Democrats, there are side differences here respecting the next steps.

Pleading for a compromise, Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins said: "To contend that no desegretation is feasible at any level anywhere in the Southern states is simply not true. On the other hand, it is equally false to assume that some desegregation is possible everywhere in the Southern states, or that mass integration is possible anywhere in the Southern states."

Collins wants Congress to take up the problem, and promptly in January. Gov. Price Daniels of Texas, a state with sharp variations of opinion in the eastern and western ends, says, "It is a matter that should be left up to the local school board. That is the only principle that will work in the South."

Band Still Open Here To 6th Graders

The elementary instrumental music program is beginning to get underway for the school year here, but it is still not too late for sixth graders to enroll, according to Melvin Montgomery, school director of instrumental music.

The elementary program is conducted by Bill Green, assistant director, among sixth graders who have band periods two to three times weekly by schools.

In the program, they get an introduction to instrumental music through use of the basic band instruments, which are clarinets, flutes, saxophones, trombones, cornets, and drums. They do not specialize in the other instruments until they get into junior high school.

At the opening of school, sixth graders were given musical aptitude tests, and the enrollment in the band program is coming mostly from those who scored highest on those tests. So far about 130 are enrolled.

Students can still get into the program until next week, and parents are urged to make arrangements for instruments by next Monday. Montgomery said those seeking instruments can call the band hall at HI3-6303 and he will try to help them find instruments.

While learning in the band program, the sixth graders give a few concerts to Parent-Teacher Association groups by schools during the school year, then a combined all-Snyder sixth grade band gives a public concert in the spring.

'What A Crime,' Says Goldfine

BOSTON (AP)—Friends of Bernard Goldfine quoted the textile industrialists as saying "what a crime" when he heard Sherman Adams announce his resignation Monday night.

But there was no direct comment from the man whose generosity led to the difficulties that brought about the resignation.

Goldfine's wife told reporters at his home that she didn't know where her husband was.

WINS BICYCLE—Ronnie Thomas, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Kelley, DeLuxe Trailor Courts, displays the bicycle he won for selling the most tickets to the Clyde Beatty circus sponsored here last week by the Snyder Optimist Club. Bicycle Presented To Local Youth

Grady Elder, Snyder Chamber of Commerce manager, addressed the Snyder Optimist Club on the progress of the Industrial Foundation at the club's weekly luncheon Monday at Trinity Methodist Church.

Elder said that although a lot of people aren't aware of it, we're in far better position of applying for industries here than a year ago.

Elder said that the Industrial Foundation Committee meets twice a month and much progress has been made during the past year.

Another feature of Monday's program was the presentation of a bicycle to Ronnie Thomas of the Scurry County Boys Club for selling the most tickets to the Clyde Beatty circus of which the Optimist sponsored here last Thursday.

Young Thomas, 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Kelley, DeLuxe Trailor courts, is a fourth grader at Central Elementary. He sold 21 tickets.

The contest was open to all members of the Boys Club and Boy Scout Troop No. 34 of which the Optimists sponsor.

The bicycle was made possible through the cooperation of the Clyde Beatty Circus, Western Auto and the Optimists. The Optimists and the circus shared the cost while Worth Saynor at Western Auto sold the bike at cost.

Angelo Man Seeks To Buy Transit Firm

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission heard Oran Greathouse of San Angelo ask approval today to purchase the City Transfer and Storage Co.

The San Angelo company now is owned by Hobart McDowell of San Angelo, a U.S. marshal. Examiner Horace Soule said the sale would become final with the commission's approval which is expected in about 10 days.

"It's routine," Soule said. "There was no protest."

McDowell was not at the hearing which lasted about a minute. Greathouse said he paid McDowell $100 for the certificate to operate in Texas but would not disclose the price he paid for the company.

"There's been a lot of bad publicity about this sale but there is nothing to it," San Angelo attorney Carl Runge Jr. told reporters. "Bill is just trying to get in the business and he will be the bonafide owner if the commission approves the purchase."

Greathouse, a drilling contractor prior to buying City Transfer, said he lost some clients because of the publicity given McDowell.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough had said McDowell's reappointment as U.S. marshal would be carefully checked. McDowell, a Republican, did hauling for Goodfellow Air Force Base at San Angelo. His firm ranked fourth among 12 moving concerns in the amount of tonnage shipped. Maj. Gen. W. F. Fisher had said earlier. Fisher is deputy director of legislative liaison for the Air Force.

Greathouse said the July 1 contract sale included three moving vans plus warehouse equipment.

France May Import Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Agricultural Service said today France, normally a small exporter, may have to import wheat this year.

Excessive rain was said to have damaged the crop. Production may be down 21 per cent from last year.

The service said Austria may have to import more wheat. Dry, hot weather held down production.

The service said U.S. exports of rice during the marketing year ending Aug. 1 totaled 12,836,000 bags, or less than half the 26,150,000 bags shipped in the previous marketing year.

The downturn reflected reduced shipments to India, Indonesia, Korea, Belgium and Turkey.

SHRINKAGE

Owners of older models of clothes dryers have a more limited choice of temperature for drying fabrics, than those who have 1958 clothes dryers. To be on the safe side, tumble all garments that may shrink at a low temperature setting and remove from the dryer before thoroughly dry. New models of clothes dryers provide a wide range of temperature setting for the many kinds of fabrics now on the market. Controlled temperature settings for many kinds of fabrics now on the market. Controlled temperatures remove the dangers of excessive shrinking.

Candies Apple Ring

½ cup sugar
¼ cup red cinnamon candies (2 ounces)
½ cup hot water
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
2-3 to 3-4 cup milk
Melted butter or margarine
2 cups chopped, pared apples
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Combine ½ cup sugar, cinnamon candies and water in saucepan. Heat, stirring frequently, until candies are dissolved. Bring mixture to boiling and boil 2 minutes. Sift together flour, baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll dough out to rectangle 12 inches long and ¼ inch thick. Brush with butter or margarine. Arrange apples over dough and sprinkle with cinnamon. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut into 1-inch slices and place in well-greased 9-inch ring mold. Pour sirup over slices in mold. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 40 minutes. Serve hot with cream or hard sauce, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Porch Cost

That space can be converted for increased use of glass panels for winter, alternating with wood or metal framed screens for summer. A wall heater may be sed to supplement heat during cold weather.

About Pork

According to Margeret Spader, home service editor, shoulder cuts of pork have a larger percent of lean than many other pork cuts and usually carry a lower price tab. Cuts such as Boston butt, blade steak and picnic hams are particularly thrifty. Like other cuts of pork, these less expensive ones are considered good sources of thiamine, as well as protein and iron.

Third Round Of Talks Brings No Break In Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The third round of talks between the United States and Red China at Warsaw reportedly has brought no fresh hope of a break in the Formosa deadlock.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were expected to review the critical situation upon the President's return today from his Newport, R.I., vacation headquarters.

There is increasing concern that unless there is a favorable break, Red China's avowed determination to take Chinese Nationalist territory by force and drive U.S. forces from the Formosa area may lead to conflict.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Ambassador Wang Ping-nan of Red China held their third session on the crisis in Warsaw yesterday. It lasted 1¾ hours.

Diplomatic informants said that Red China was standing firm on its demand that the United States agree to abandon Formosa. U.S. officials said this was so completely contrary to basic American policy in the Far East as to be entirely beyond serious consideration.

The United States, for its part, insisted again that the Reds agree to a cease-fire that would halt their shelling of the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy.

Beam and Wang agreed to meet again Thursday. Some officials said that the United States would not break off the talks as long as the Reds want to continue them. But reports persisted that if there is no progress in the next few days the United States would take the crisis to the United Nations.

One dangerous element in the situation as seen here is evidence that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is becoming extremely confident and arrogant in his attitude toward the United States and other Western countries. If this is true, the fear is that his backing of Communist China may not be restrained by careful judgments of United States intention.

Without restraint on both sides as the showdown develops, officials said, the crisis could easily explode into a war between Soviet-backed Red China and the United States.

U.S. authorities still think this will not happen. They estimate that the Reds are trying to break down United States support of Nationalist China by threats of war. But they concede that the essential question is one of soviet and Red Chinese intentions and these are unknown here except for what Moscow and Peiping say about them.

Chehab Sworn In As Lebanon Chief

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Gen. Fuad Chehab was sworn in today as the third president of independent Lebanon and immediately pledged the withdrawal of American troops.

Chehab was elected by nearly all factions of Parliament July 31 as a compromise choice to end the political tension which erupted into open rebellion more than four months ago.

American Marines and Army troops began arriving here July 15 in response to the call of Chehab's predecessor, President Camille Chamoun, who charged that Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic was attempting to overthrow Chamoun's pro-Western regime.

Shooting again broke out in Beirut Monday night on the eve of the inauguration, and tension again climbed after a lull since Chehab's election. A curfew around the clock was in force as a result of mass kidnapings by political factions.

Gen. Chehab, the former army chief of staff, spoke to a special session of the Lebanese Parliament. He said his government will attempt to remove the tension between Lebanon and "some of its brother Arab countries."

About 8,000 troops of the U.S. 24th Infantry Division from Germany and about 1,700 Marines are still here of the original force of nearly 15,000 men. Three Marine battalions already have pulled out as a result of agreement between the United States on the one hand and Chamoun and Chehab on the other.

Secretary of State Dulles has said the United States would consult with the new President on the question of withdrawing the remaining forces.

A lifelong military man who trained at France's St. Cyr military school, Chehab is a Christian. Under the constitution of this half-Christian, half-Moslem country the President must always be a Christian while his Premier must be a Moslem.

Spacemen To Limber Up

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two men who emerged from a cramped space cabin yesterday faced a trot of 3 to 4 miles today to test their performance after 10 days of the hardships of high altitude living.

Dr. Bruno Balke, 51, and Sgt. Samuel Karst, 34, of Greenville, S.C., ended their experiment at Randolph AFB pale and weary but spent most of the 10 days under conditions at 14,000 to 20,000 feet. They donned pressure suits for the 50,000-feet tests.

After emerging from their small space cabin at the School of Medicine, the two greeted their wives and then stepped on a treadmill. They walked at 3½ miles an hour until their heartbeats reached 180 beats per minute.

Dr. Robert Clark, in charge of the tests, said early results indicate men in good physical condition can undergo the hardship of high altitudes without impairing their health.

Some In Classes At Closed School

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP)—Five of the 12 teachers at West Mahanoy Township High School were back at their desks today and more than 100 pupils were in the classrooms — but officially the school remained closed.

Teachers weren't getting paid. Pupils weren't getting credits.

The school board of this Schuylkill County community in the hard coal area of northeastern Pennsylvania had closed the school last Thursday because of a teacher strike brought on by a money shortage.

The walkout by the five men teachers a week ago brought the matter to a head. They demanded payment of some $90,000 in back pay owed them and the seven women instructors.

The board, noting it was broke, and with tax income constantly depreciating, decided to close the school. It directed the 183 students to attend classes in nearby Shenandoah and Frackville.

Parents protested. At a noisy, banner-waving meeting attended by some 500 persons Monday night they demanded the school reopen. The five striking teachers agreed to return to work—which they did this morning but, officially, found no work.

School Supt. William Rowan said the high school is closed.

Actually, the building has never been shut. The township's elementary grades attend classes there.

U. N. Emblem Is Removed From Planes

NEW YORK (AP) — The emblem of the United Nations — a polar view of a world map encircled a wreath — has been removed from planes of United Air Lines in response to a number of protests.

The protests came from "individuals as well as organized groups," UAL President W. A. Patterson said Monday. He did not identify them.

"Our company came to the conclusion that we did not desire to enter into any controversy on international policy or philosophy. The insignia was removed," he added.

Half a dozen of UAL's 190 airliners bore the emblem as part of a program started last May in support of the U.N.

A group of UAL crewmen, led by Capt. Charles Dent of Allentown, Pa., had initiated the program, hoping that all United States and overseas airlines would affix the insignia to their planes.

Underneath the emblem were to be the words, "We believe."

United was the only airline to subscribe to the program.

The United States Committee for the United Nations, a private organization, has published a brochure explaining the program.

A committee spokesman said Monday the group had been successful in enlisting support among a number of schools, local and national groups and concerns, which print the U.N. insignia on their stationery.

The emblem is to appear in commercial advertisements next month, he said.

Ex-Convict Held In Sex Crimes

DALLAS (AP)—An ex-convict accused of sex crimes was arrested by detectives yesterday.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz identified him as Billy Ehrhardt, 26, a house painter who served a federal prison term for auto theft.

"I committed some of the rape cases on your books," Fritz quoted Ehrhardt, "but I did not commit all of them."

Fritz said Ehrhardt had committed so many sex crimes police artists made a composite sketch of his face.

A widow, 26, identified him as the man who raped her Aug. 4.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE TIGERS MAY PLAY this entire season without three boys who were ticketed for starting berths. All three are hefty linemen, center Bill Rinehart, guard Tony Anger and tackle - guard Gene Williamson.

Taking three boys like this out of the heart of the line would cause many sleepless nights for any coach.

We don't know how much sleep the Tiger coaches are losing these nights but it seems the Tigers have done right well so far despite the odds stacked against them.

Coach John Conley, of course, is well pleased over winning the first two games but he shutters to think what lies ahead.

"I just don't believe we've got enough boys to make it through the season," Conley told us yesterday before the Tigers opened drills for the Big Spring game.

By that statement John, of course, didn't mean the Tigers wouldn't be able to show up for their last two or three games. He was referring to the tough line of opponents the Bengals must face from here on in.

To make it through the rough schedule that the Tigers have yet to cover, it will take depth, something the Tigers were lacking to begin with and then the situation became even worse when the Bengals had to replace the above three regulars.

Two May Return

It's possible that two of the three missing regulars will return before the season is out. But, even should they return, they're missing a lot of valuable experience now.

Rinehart may be back in a month and Anger could possibly return during that time. Bill is out with fluid on his lungs and Anger is still nursing a knee injury he suffered on the first day of fall practice. Anger's injury wasn't considered serious at first but the knee has failed to respond to treatment.

The boys who have been inserted at these spots are coming along nicely. Two of the three places are being taken by fellows with no previous varsity experience, sophomore guard Tommy Minton and junior center Devane Jones.

These boys, although short on experience, are long on desire and that goes a long way in making a football player.

Tigers Climb In Ratings

The Tigers climbed a few notches in the state rankings with last week's 34-12 victory over Andrews.

The Bengals are rated third behind Breckenridge and Sweetwater in the Dallas News poll and are fifth in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram ratings behind Breckenridge Sweetwater, Kingsville and Carthage in that order.

We don't know what to think about John Morrison's rankings in the Star - Telegram, though. He doesn't even have Levelland listed in the top 10.

Levelland is listed fourth behind the Tigers in the Dallas News poll which has 16 sports writers participating in the poll.

The top 10 in the Dallas poll reads thusly: 1. Breckenridge; 2. Sweetwater; 3. Snyder; 4. Levelland; 5. Cleburne; 6. Carthage; 7. Kingsville; 8. Killeen; 9. Phillips; 10. Nederland.

The Star-Telegram ratings show the following:

1. Breckenridge; 2. Sweetwater; 3. Kingsville; 4. Cleburne; 5. Snyder; 6. Phillips; 7. Weatherford; 8. Carthage; 9. Nederland; 10. Andrews.

WITH FOUR VICTORIES APIECE

Tigers, Steers Even In Series

Friday night's Tiger - Big Spring game at Big Spring will break a tie in number of victories scored by each team in the series between the two clubs, unless a tie results.

In the eight games played between the two arch rivals, each school owns four victories.

The Tigers have won the last three meetings from the Steers and the Black and Gold can break the longest winning streak of the series by winning Friday.

Prior to the current Tiger win streak, Big Spring had notched three consecutive wins.

The Tigers and Steers have been meeting each other every year since 1952. Prior to 1952, the two teams had met only twice, in 1928 and 29.

The Tigers' 39-0 victory in 1956 is the most lopsided win of the series. Big Spring's biggest margin of victory was 32-15 in 1954.

Total points for the series shows the Tigers with 140 points to 115 for Big Spring.

Following are the scores of past Tiger - Big Spring games:

1928—Snyder 7, Big Spring 0.
1929—Snyder 7, Big Spring 19.
1952—Snyder 13, Big Spring 28.
1953—Snyder 14, Big Spring 27.
1954—Snyder 15, Big Spring 32.
1955—Snyder 26, Big Spring 7.
1956—Snyder 39, Big Spring 0.
1957—Snyder 19, Big Spring 7.
1958—Snyder ??, Big Spring ??

TD Tendency Rates Frogs As Top Team

By DR. ALLEN N. SMITH

Among teams that have played at least one game in this preliminary state of the college football season, the No. 1 spot in the Smith Touchdown Tendency System of Ratings is held by the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian.

TCU, favorite for the Southwest Conference title, demonstrated its class with a 42-0 rout of Kansas.

Second place goes to power-laden Southern California which displayed a stonewall defense and a versatile offense to move past Oregon State, 21-0.

Pittsburgh's Panthers land in third, following their 27-6 conquest of UCLA.

Wake Forest exhibited a remarkable touchdown tendency in smothering Maryland, 3-0, to gain the No. 4 position.

Louisiana State's brilliantly playing Tigers roared to a thunderous 26-6 upset over Rice to rate No. 5. Washington State occupies the 6th rung by virtue of a convincing 40-6 win over Stanford. Close behind is Kentucky in 7th and Florida in 8th.

An under - rated North Carolina State team scored a 21-14 upset of North Carolina to rank No. 9.

At the 10th niche is South Carolina, which edged Duke, 8-0. Highly touted West Virginia unleashed enough power in overwhelming Richmond to send the Mountaineers into 11th place.

Baylor rounds out the top dozen in 12th.

Many of the teams have not opened their seasons yet, and, therefore, cannot be rated. For this reason, ratings of the conferences could not be made at this time, but will start next week. However, all teams will have seen action when the results are in for next Saturday's games, and these will undoubtedly cause a vigorous reshuffling of the rankings.

CARDINALS ON REBOUND

Roscoe Next On Hermleigh Slate

Hermleigh and Trent, the last of the unbeaten - untied teams in District 6-B, fell by the wayside in last week's games.

Hermleigh's Cardinals were surprised by the Knox City Greyhounds, 12-6, while the Trent Gorillas were dumped by the Baird Bears, 10-8.

District 6-B still has an undefeated team left in the Bronte Longhorns. Bronte, however, has been tied.

The Cardinals will be seeking to rebound from last week's defeat to Knox City when they invade Roscoe Friday night for another non-district engagement. Trent goes to Jim Ned.

Bronte will put its unbeaten record on the line against Woodson at Bronte Friday. Bronte whipped Wylie of Abilene last week, 18-0, after opening its season the week before with a 0-0 tie against Eden.

Jimmy Roemisch, star Cardinal fullback who has been out since being injured in the season opener with Coahoma, is expected to return to the lineup at Roscoe Friday.

Kenneth Heatly of Trent continues to lead all scorers in 6-B with 40 points. Another Trent lad, Jerry Williams, is second top scorer with 30 points.

Untested Ohio State No. 1; TCU Frogs No. 6 In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Still untested Ohio State and Oklahoma this week retained the No. 1 and No. 2 positions they were awarded in the Associated Press preseason football a week ago.

Ohio State still held its whopping margin with 45 first-place votes and a point total of 903, to Oklahoma's 12 ballots for top place and a 828 total.

Notre Dame and Auburn, also untested, switched places as the sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll changed their minds as to the potential of the two teams. Notre Dame, third in the preseason balloting, was dropped to fifth, and Auburn moved up from fifth to third. Michigan State retained its fourth spot.

Auburn, in fact, ran second this week in first-place votes, garnering 18. It had nine last week.

Only three of the top 10 preseason teams have seen action, and one was defeated. North Carolina, 10th last week, was upset by North Carolina State and dropped out of sight. Mississippi played Memphis State and Texas Christian played Kansas, both winning their games handily.

Washington State replaced North Carolina as the No. 10 team, and Navy, which was seventh in the preseason poll, dropped to 11th as Pitt, on the basis of its victory over UCLA, was moved from 19th to the Navy's spot. Army moved up a notch to eighth place although it ranked behind Navy a week ago.

The top 10, based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. (first-place votes in parentheses):

1.	Ohio State (45)	903
2.	Oklahoma (12)	828
3.	Auburn (18)	561
4.	Michigan	507
5.	Notre Dame (6)	504
6.	TCU (12)	474
7.	Pittsburgh	198
8.	Army	186
9.	Mississippi	171
10.	Washington State	153

The second 10: Mississippi State 144, Navy 117, West Virginia (2) 108, Wisconsin (2) 81, Miami 78, Kentucky (2) 75, LSU 78, Florida 72, South Carolina 72, SMU (3) 69.

Braves Hold Pitching Edge Over Yankees

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Psychologically, physically and statistically, the Milwaukee Braves hold the edge over the New York Yankees in pitching.

Psychologically because Lew Burdette, who ran up 24 scoreless innings while winning three games against New York last year, again will be on the firing line. Manager Fred Haney probably will start right off with him instead of waiting until the second game as he did in 1957.

Physically because Whitey Ford, Don Larsen and Ryne Duren, three of Casey Stengel's most dependable hurlers, have done little to help the Yankee cause in the last couple of months. Ford and Larsen have been plagued by sore arms and Duren came down with a leg injury on top of a beaning.

Statistically because the Braves' Warren Spahn has lost none of his effectiveness, winning 20 or more games for the ninth time. Burdette is having his best year and Bob Rush and Carl Willey filled in exceptionally well for the injured Bob Buhl. Conversely, Bob Turkey was the Yanks' only reliable pitcher after Larsen and Ford were sidelined.

Led by Spahn, the major league leader, Milwaukee pitchers have gone the distance 69 times. Yankee mounds have 53 complete games. New York leads in shutouts — 20 to 15. Spahn has 23 complete games while Turley tops the American League champions with 19.

Twenty-two pitchers will be eligible for the World Series which starts in County Stadium, Milwaukee, Wednesday, Oct. 1. Before that date Stengel will decide which among right-handers Larsen, Murry Dickson and Tom Sturdivant will be on the sidelines.

Only nine hurlers, however, figure to have anything to say about the outcome. They are Turley (21-7), Ford (14-7), Larsen (8-6) and reliver Duren (6-4) for the Yankees. And Spahn (21-11), Burdette (19-10), Rush (10-6), Willey (9-6) and reliver Don McMahon (7-2) for Milwaukee.

Duke Maas (10-8) of the Yanks has an outside chance for a starting assignment.

Burdette's three victories and one by Spahn enabled Milwaukee to take last year's seven-game set. Ford, Turley and Larsen won for the Yankees.

Brayes' Joey Jay To Miss World Series

MILWAUKEE (AP)—An injury, believed at first to be only minor, has robbed Joey Jay of a chance to pitch for the Milwaukee Braves in the coming World Series.

Jay, a 23-year-old right-hander, underwent surgery here Monday night on the fractured ring finger of his left hand and will be out for the rest of the season.

The finger was injured at St. Louis last Wednesday when Jay was struck on the gloved hand by Irv Noren's hot liner.

Manager Fred Haney had been counting on Jay as his third starter in the series.

Jay, 7-5 for the season with an earned run average of 2.13, was slated to start here tonight against Philadelphia but was replaced by Bob Rush.

State Agencies Told To Cut Fund Demands

AUSTIN (AP) — State agency heads have 16 days to answer Gov. Daniel's sharply worded letter that they slash their budget requests.

"The total of the requests is wholly unrealistic and far above what I can conscientiously recommend to the Legislature," Daniel said. "I simply want to be thoroughly satisfied that you and I have done everything possible toward providing efficiency and economy and eliminating any unnecessary expansions or expenditures."

Requests for appropriations during the next biennium, which the Legislature starts considering in January, show an overall 13 per cent increase over the present 1958-59 budgets. The total requests also show a 34.6 per cent increase in demands on the general revenue fund, which pays most of the costs of state government.

The governor's letter, distributed yesterday while he attended the Southern Governors Conference in Levington, Ky., said:

"With the exception of the governor's office, only the building commission and the secretary of state have asked for a decrease in the amount of funds requested."

Daniel noted that the secretary of state's decrease was partially because it no longer had control and registration of securities in Texas.

State Comptroller Robert Calvert previously said the general revenue fund dropped from a balance of $54,939,107 at the start of the fiscal year to $13,401,949 on Aug. 31. He has predicted the state may be as much as 100 million dollars in the red at the end of the 1960-61 biennium, if state spending was continued on its present level.

Calvert will make his next estimate on the state's financial condition priot to the Legislature's convening next year.

Daniel said the total requests received by his office from all agencies show a total increase of 272 million dollars over the 1958-59 budget with $98,095,000 of the increase asked from the general revenue fund.

"The increases requested by other agencies run from less than one per cent to more than 500 per cent," Daniel said.

"Before I work further on the budget I am asking each of you to re-examine your budget requests to see if every possible economy has been considered and to eliminate any non-essential items," Daniel said.

"As you know, our state income for this biennium is expected to be several million dollars less than anticipated, and it is predicted that revenues for 1960-61 will be less than the amount necessary to carry forward present services at the present level of appropriations."

The Legislative Budget Board said the Aeronautics Commission asked for $445,030 compared to its present budget of $84,106, and the Texas Youth Council asked $880,615 for its central office compared to its present $130,942 budget.

The Aeronautics Commission said most of its increase was to provide funds to help counties improve and build airports.

The Youth Council said its big increase is to pay for a paid-parole system for juvenile delinquents.

Next week the two groups will meet in Snyder on Tuesday night and will see the film on the A&M-Houston game, which is being played this Saturday.

Sir Lancelot Loses Despite White Horse

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Sir Lancelot's attempt to win back Gwenivere failed Monday, despite a white horse.

James C. Hamm and his wife, Ruth, called each other Lancelot and Gwenivere in the early days of their marriage 20 years ago. (Hamm spells it that way instead of "Guinevere.")

Mrs. Hamm filed for divorce from the 42-year-old real estate broker Sept. 2, leaving their home from the 42-year-old real estate at nearby Belevedere with their two children.

Hamm rode a white horse down the main street of this San Francisco suburb and hitched it to a parking meter while he entered the Albert building to meet his wife and her attorney.

The horse bore a cardboard shield reading: "Sir Lancelot's white charger. Gwenivere, I love you."

Gwenivere didn't see the white charger—she entered and left the building by a rear door—and she went on to Superior Court and asked for temporary alimony and child support.

Lancelot wasn't so chivalrous last July, she testified, saying he kicked her in the stomach.

Britons Say Their Jet To Be First

LONDON (AP — Britons were happily laying odds today that the first jet plane to make the rich Atlantic passenger run will be British.

A glance at the headlines in most London papers was enough to lift English hearts.

"Comet will beat the 707," said the News Chronicle.

"Comet winning Atlantic race" was the headline in the Empire-minded Daily Express. The Daily Herald wrapped it all up ahead of time with a front page spread: "Comet nips in first—Britain wins Atlantic jet race by a week."

Chief competitor of the sleek, four-engine Comet is America's larger Boeing 707, scheduled to make the first New York-Paris passenger crossing for Pan American World Airways Oct. 26 and the New York-London hookup Nov. 16.

If the fondest hopes of British aviation leaders work out, the Comet may streak across the Atlantic with passengers as early as the second week in October.

Overhanging the jet stampede is the question of noise restrictions. Airport officials from New York, London and Paris started work in the French capital today to try to hammer out some kind of common operations control system for jet airliners.

Their decision is scheduled to be announced within the next two weeks.

New Schedule Set By Library Here

On other days, through Saturday it will close at 6 p.m., the regular time.

Carey Led Strike In School

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Thirty-seven years ago a wisp of a boy rose up in school, and his eyes blazing, yelled: "Down with the arithmetic teacher!"

Responding partly to the boy's strong personality and partly to a natural distaste for numerals, the class joyously struck for less homework.

That was the first known strike led by James Barron Carey.

He's 47 now, a shade on the heavy side and his once black hair grained with gray. He has a wife and two children. These are the badges of contented middle age, but don't think Jim Carey has lost the zing and zeal of nine years ago when his union came into being here.

Carey and the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers are back in Philadelphia for a convention this week. Many of the speeches and most of the pageantry will be a salute to Carey's 25 years as a union leader.

And of course he'll be in the midst of another struggle — this time bargaining for an employment security agreement with General Electric, and his union free to strike on the issue after Oct. 1.

Over the years Carey has tangled with big men in Washington, judges, industrialists. He has disputed with other giants in labor, notably John L. Lewis.

He set his strength against communism, criminality and cant, in and out of labor, but especially in.

His own union adopted a code of ethics a year and a half ago, the first in the AFL-CIO to do so.

Carey was born Aug. 12, 1911, in Philadelphia, the fourth of 11 children. All his grandparents came from Ireland.

Out of high school, young Jim got a job as a movie projectionist. He lost it four hours later when a strike was called.

His next job was with Philco, testing radios. It was there he organized his first union; in reality a fishing and social club, with the hope of making it a mouthpiece for grievances. Eventually it became a true union—the United Electrical Workers, a founding union of the CIO in the mid-30s.

Carey was the UE's first president, and at 27 the first and only secretary-treasurer of the CIO. He remembers that needlers called him boy, kid, junior, even less flattering names sometimes.

Cleavage over Communist sympathies in the UE developed quickly and spread with the years. In 1949 the CIO cast out 11 unions, the UE among them, for Red domination. The IUE was chartered and Carey became its president. He has been re-elected ever since without opposition. The job pays $22,500. Leaders estmate the IUE membership is now about 40,000.

Some observers size up Carey as a brilliant strike leader, but a somewhat less effective bargainer. Bargaining calls for patience, diplomacy, the polished arts of argument. In such a setting Carey's mercurial nature has now and then exploded.

Ohio Woman Is Top Baker

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Don de Vault, 36-year-old Delaware, Ohio housewife, today won the $25,000 first prize in a national baking contest with a new version of that all-time favorite—apple pie.

She called her creation "spicy apple twists." In addition to putting apple pie into a new form with both taste and eye appeal, she halved the cooking time.

Her apple twists bake in 20 to 25 minutes, compared with 45 minutes to an hour for the time-honored variety of dessert.

The apple twists are made from strips of flaky pastry twisted around quartered apples, then brushed generously with butter and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar. When done, they look like small eclairs.

The 10th annual bake-off was sponsored by the Pillsbury Flour Mills.

OUR VIEW

The Real Water Problem

There has been little drought talk in Texas this year, particularly during the past two weeks when the rains have indicated a "catch-up" trend.

At this writing some points in South Texas and Central Texas have measured their September rainfall by the foot, rather than the customary inches. Floodwaters have poured into many cities and towns.

The Scurry County area, along with most of West Texas, has escaped the floods so far, but rainfal throughout the year has been "normal" or above, whic contrasts sharply with the early and middles 50s We could have used a shower or two during the monti of August, but, all in all, it has been a good year weather-wise.

Down south where floods have developed serious situations have been emphasized by slow run-off, but ultimately most of the water which has fallen managed to evaporate, or flow into the Gulf of Mexico. Our own rainfall, while not in over-abundance at this stage of the season, has experienced the same fate.

Thus, the state's greatest water problem does not appear to be a shortage of rainfall over the long run. Instead it involves projects to conserve and make full use of that which is received.

The Soil Conservation Service people have called attention to this in the past, even during the big drought. Some progress has been made, but the recent drought itself is proof enough that much remains to be done.

The time to prepare for the drought is during the "wet" years, and this subject is getting more attention state-wide today than ever before. If we can harness that which is cast at our feet, two-fold benefits will result. Flood damage will be reduced, and more water will be available when the rains take a recess.

The iron is hot, and it looks like a cold, damp winter ahead.

Gold Supply Drop Is Slowing Down

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The sharp drop in the U.S. gold supply may be ending. It is slowing down after setting a record for any one year.

But today the conditions that led other nations to build up their gold reserves at our expense seem to be going into reverse.

Part of the outflow of gold has been due to a sharper drop in U.S. exports than in its imports, enabling foreign lands to build up their reserves as Americans paid for what they bought abroad.

Another factor is the large investment of American corporations abroad, amounting to about four billion dollars last year and bringing the total to 37 billion dollars.

Other nations are also selling their holdings of U.S securities and putting the money into gold.

The net result is that so far this year the U.S. gold supply has shrunk by about 1¾ billion dollars. This is slightly more than the outflow of gold for the entire year of 1950, the previous record, when the Korean War caused the United States to buy heavily from other lands.

The gold supply here now is just under 21 billion dollars — more than ample as legal backing for the volume of currency outstanding.

In the first half of the year our exports dipped 20 per cent below the like 1957 period. But the Commerce Department reports that the April-May-June quarter saw improvement over the first three months of this year. Exports seem to have leveled off during the summer and many hope that other lands will be buying more from us in the months just ahead.

Part of this hope is based on the belief that the recovery in U.S. business will lead to increased imports of foreign materials, giving other nations more of the wherewithal to buy U.S. finished goods.

Imports in the second quarter rose over the first three months of this year, the Commerce Department notes. For the first half as a whole they were only slightly below the first six months of 1957.

The ending of the recession here also is counted upon to rebuild foreign confidence in U.S. business and currency and thus end what some have called a flight from the dollar into gold.

But more important in that respect probably will be the rise in interest rates and in the yields of U.S. securities.

It was the sharp drop in returns on dollar securities during the easy money period that led many foreigners to sell their holdings and put their funds into gold. Now yields are rising and U.S. securities look better.

The buildup in foreign gold and dollar reserves has pleased Washington on the whole. Stable currencies abroad are good for world trade and help political stability.

Oklahoma Panel To Set Allowable

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma Corporation Commission held its monthly market demand hearing today prior to setting the state's oil allowable for October.

Commission Chairman Ray Jones said yesterday that for the first time in several months operators have cut their requests by some 13,000 barrels of crude oil.

Jones said nominations toled 546,000 barrels per day compared with the September allowable of 560,000 barrels.

Red China Hints Pitch At Summit

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Hints from Warsaw suggest Red China may make a pitch to bring the Far East crisis before a summit meeting at which Peiping would be represented.

These hints come from Communist informants at the scene of the U.S.-Red Chinese talks in the Polish capital. Communist informants have a way of scenting how the wind blows.

Such a drive would be difficult to counter. It could have the appearance of a Red Chinese concession to peace.

The Red Chinese have the initiative. Peiping has the power to turn Far East crises on and off as easily as turning a spigot. It was Peiping initiative that turned the spigot in mid-August, after months of a sullen, glowering sort of near-truce throughout the three months of the dangerous midsummer Arab East crisis.

Peiping has been accused of trying to shoot its way into U.N. membership. It could also try blackmail. The U.N. Assembly's Steering Committee has voted to bar the Red Chinese membership issue for this year, but India and six other Asian-African nations are clamoring for a reversal of the decision.

The Asian-African move reflects genuine fear in the East that the Formosa Strait crisis could explode into war. Pressure upon the United States to give ground increases.

The dilemma facing American policy is whether to stick stubbornly to its China policy and risk wholesale loss of friends both in Europe and Asia, or to give ground under Communist pressure and lose prestige.

The United States seems jockeying for time. Its moves appear to add up to a calculated gamble. Washington seems to be betting the Red Chinese—and even more, the Soviets—are not going to let the Formosa crisis explode into major war.

What's behind this reasoning? The cold war's history shows a definite pattern—a rhythmic rise and fall in temperatures in the Far East. The pressure never really was lifted at all in the past half-dozen years. But the lulls have been noteworthy, seeming to betoken a cautious Red preference for handling just one major crisis at a time.

Red shelling of the offshore islands has been going on sporadically all this time. But the lulls came in 1953 immediately before and after Stalin's death, at the height of the 1954 Indochina crisis, at the time the Soviets were manufacturing the Geneva spirit in 1955, and again during each of the Middle East crises of recent years.

The guns were virtually silent for the three months of the last big Middle East crisis, and roared again as some sort of restless calm was restored to the Arab East. Each renewal of the war threat was another abrasion for the world's nerves. Each caused rising annoyance among America's allies with a policy many in those countries considered insupportable.

This time the Red Chinese attacks have been more severe than ever. Possibly that is because Peiping sees the opportunity as greater than ever.

The United States has held out a prospect of some sort of solution through peaceful negotiation. This would require concessions on both sides. Any concession the United States might make would be a political victory for Red China. Washington hardly can compromise without going back on its pledges to Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Irishman First To Reach Iceland

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Lost in the maw of history is the startling fact that an Irishman discovered Iceland.

The present natives don't even remember his name. But when the first Vikings hit these misty shores, they found a Paddy in port.

He was a hermit, and how he reached this off-beat, volcanic, lava-laden land of gorgeous sunsets, strong winds and fishy waters, nobody seems to know.

The theory is irresistible, however, that the original Irishman must be responsible for the always delightful, sometimes crazy, generally surrealistic behavior of a large number of the island's 165,000 inhabitants.

Iceland is a High North country, but it's hospitality is Deep South.

When people invite you to their homes at 2 o'clock in the morning they expect you to come and enjoy yourself.

And when you apologize to your friend's wife for invading her house with the dawn, she looks puzzled and replies:

"I don't think you understand. This is Iceland. You're welcome at any hour."

Then she floats into her modern kitchen — dishwashers, washing machines, eletcric driers and toasters are as common as cod in Iceland—and whips up a dream of a dish. It's not fashioned from whale blubber, either.

Icelandic parties are puzzlers. One of the reasons is the extremely unique system of peoples' names.

Less than 100 families have family monikers. The rest of the people are known by their fathers' first names.

It can be startling to have your host say, "I'm Magnus Jonsson. This is my wife, Helga Olafsdottir."

"How do you do, Mrs. Jonsson?"

"Fine, but I'm not Mrs. Jonsson. I'm Helga Olafsdottir."

"But Mr. Jonsson is your husband?"

"He's my husband, but he's really not Mr. Jonsson. He's Magnus, the son of Jon, or Magnus Jonsson."

"But why aren't you Helga Jonsson?"

"Because my father was Olaf. I'm Helga, the daughter of Olaf, or Helga Olafsdottir."

"And your son? What's his name?"

"He's Benedikt Magnusson."

"Not Benedikt Jonsson?"

"Of course not. His father, my husband, is Jon's son, or Jonsson. He—our boy—he's Magnus' son, which makes him Benedikt Magnusson."

"And your daughter?"

"She's Inga Magnusdottir. It's all so simple."

Army To Improve Lake Facilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said yesterday it would spend $750,000 improving Lake Texoma recreational facilities during the fiscal year starting July 1.

That sum was set aside by Congress in approving $750,000 for civil works projects of the Corps of Engineers.

Junior Editors Quiz on INSECTS

QUESTION: Are all ladybugs females?

• • •

ANSWER: The ladybug is a small beetle that gets its name from its shapely figure and attractive coloring. Despite the name, there are male as well as female ladybugs.

There are about 150 species of ladybugs in the United States. Most are very helpful to farmers because they feed chiefly on harmful plant lice and scale insects. In the early part of this century, plant lice almost destroyed the fruit crop of California, and several thousand ladybugs were brought into the state to destroy the lice and save the crop. There are two kinds of ladybugs which harm beans, melons and other garden plants. They aren't too common, however, and don't give farmers too much trouble.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: The ladybug in this picture is about to become part of the bird's dinner. Color the picture, making the ladybug a bright orange.

IRS To Open Its Files On Exempt Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today it will open its files Nov. 3 to disclose all approved applications for income tax exemptions granted nonprofit educational, charitable and religious organizations.

The action will be taken under a new law which permits the service to make public the applications together with its reasons for granting the exemption.

A revenue service spokesman said both the agency and the Treasury Department favored the change. He said the agency often has been asked by Congress members and others for an explanation of its actions on exemption applications, but has been barred by law from giving one.

There has been debate in Congress over tax exemptions granted a number of organizations including the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Fund for the Republic.

All approved applications will be available for public inspection, together with any papers submitted in support of them. Provision is made for withholding supporting documents which might disclose defense or trade secrets or other information that would adversely affect the organization.

Says Plane Had Trouble

HONOLULU (AP) — A passenger aboard a four-engine Military Air Transport Service plane which limped into Oahu Monday with two dead engines says the aircraft had the same trouble before.

The Superconstellation landed safely with 38 passengers and 10 crewmen at Hickam Air Force Base after a tense flight from Wake Island. Two engines were out and a third was going out when the plane was 200 miles west of Honolulu.

Sgt. 1C. John F. Woods, a passenger from Ironton, Ohio, said the same thing happened when the plane was going to Wake two days ago.

"The same two engines went out," he added. "We spent a day on Wake while they worked on them. It took us seven hours to get out of Tachikawa in Japan because of maintenance on the bum engines.

"When I get to Travis (northeast of San Francisco) I'm going to take a train home."

8,817 Are In Disputes

AUSTIN (AP)—A total of 8,817 Texans were involved in work stoppages Sept. 1, the Texas Employment Commission said yesterday.

Another 1,023 were involved in labor-management disputes but remained on the job.

In Beaumont and Houston, construction projects were involved in most of the stoppages by strikers. One Sabine area stoppage involved 2,000 laborers and another in the Houston-Conroe-Baytown area involved 5,000.

Construction work stoppages also were reported from Abilene, Dallas, El Paso, Midland, Nederland, Odessa, San Antonio, Zavala, Jefferson, Mineral Wells, Texarkana, Uvalde and Wichita Falls.

There also were transportation work stoppages in Abilene, Dallas, El Paso, Houston and San Antonio.

Crude Flow Shows Gain

TULSA (AP) — Daily average crude production, helped by good advances in Oklahoma and Kansas, increased 71,375 barrels to 7,105,425 the week ending Sept. 20, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma rose 41,900 barrels to 568,100 barrels, and Kansas was up 34,325 to 344,075.

The Journal estimated 1958 production at 1,723,122,100 barrels compared to 1,916,600,969 a year ago.

Arkansas rose 100 barrels to 73,750.

Colorado fell 1,300 barrels to 130,700.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,890,500 barrels; Louisiana, 882, 400, and New Mexico, 279,100.

Youth Shoots Self Because Of Move

DETROIT (AP) — Two weeks ago the family of Buddy Leon Cole, 15, moved from their Metamora farm home 40 miles north of Detroit.

Under a new suburban Highland Park city ordinance, the father, Bulger Cole, had to be a city resident to keep his city job. Buddy loved the country life.

Buddy died yesterday in Highland Park General Hospital of a self-inflicted bullet wound in his stomach.

Police Chief Dewey Schultz said that Buddy whispered to him before he died: "This is the only way. I couldn't go on any longer."

Shrimper Skipper's Language Too Salty

HOUSTON (AP)—A shrimp boat captain whose language was found too salty for radio waves on the high seas was indicated by a federal grand jury yesterday.

M. C. Martin of Port Isabel was accused of "uttering obscene, indecent and profane language by means of radio communications" while aboard ship in the Gulf of Mexico.

Adams Yields To Pressure, Resigns

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — While millions watched with varying reactions, Sherman Adams bowed out last night as the man closest to the throne in the Eisenhower administration.

Still insisting "I have done no wrong," the presidential assistant yielded to renewed pressure from Republican candidates and continuing criticism from Democrats of his relations with Bernard Goldfine, the Boston millionaire and long-time friend from whom he acknowledged receiving gifts.

Announcing his resignation in a 10-minute nationwide radio-TV appearance, President Eisenhower's top aide said, "I must give full consideration to the effect of my continuing presence on the public scene."

But political controversy boiled unabated over the "corruption" issue, and much of the comment indicated a belief Adams had acted too late to remove it from the November election campaign.

Adams gave his listeners no hint how quickly the "orderly process" of his resignation would take him from his watchdog quarters next to Eisenhower's White House office.

Neither was there any positive indication from administration sources about a successor who will move into a spot from which his political enemies often said Adams was running the government.

In immediate speculation, however, the name of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, stood near the top. Gruenther has served before as Eisenhower's good right arm.

Eisenhower accepted Adams' resignation "with sadness," but the President's chagrin at Adams' self-imposed fadeout obviously was not shared by Republican congressional candidates. They breathed sighs of relief.

Democrats made it clear Adams' exit will not diminish their gleeful attack on what they call "corruption" within the Eisenhower administration.

The Democrats asked for time —probbly to be taken by National Chairman Paul M. Butler — to reply to Adams's statement that to stay on "might possibly diminish the chances which my party has of regaining control of the Congress in the November election."

Holding a manuscript loosely in his hands between slanting microphones, Adams slowly and solemnly read his denial that he had ever influenced or "attempted to influence any agency, or any officer or any employe of any agency in any case, decision or matter whatsoever."

Unmentioned in his simple, forceful 750-word statement was the name of Goldfine. Nor was there any mention of Adams' repeated calls to regulatory agencies considering cases involving Goldfine's companies.

He said nothing, either, about his future plans when, at 59, he steps from the $22,500-a-year post he has held for nearly six years.

Licking his lips occasionally in his only show of nervousness, Adams said "a calculated and contrived effort" had been made to discredit him.

"A campaign of vilification by those who seek personal advantage by my removal from public life has continued up to this very moment," he said, raising his eyes to look squarely into the television cameras. "These efforts, it is now clear, have been intended to destroy me and in so doing to embarrass the administration and the President of the United States."

Adams did not say who initiated these attacks. Most of the demands for his resignation have come from members of his own party. Democrats generally have remained silent on this aspect of the controversy.

Adams said it was not his nature to run under fire. Neither, he said, did he want to give any grounds for substantiating the accusations against him.

But he had to think, Adams continued, whether his retention in office would delay or retard the achievement of Eisenhower's goals and whether it would damage the chances of the GOP to regain control of Congress.

With a look of sadness, Adams reported that in a visit to Eisenhower's vacation headquaters in Newport, R.I., earlier in the day he had offered his resignation to the President.

"This he has accepted, to be effective as soon as an orderly transition can be arranged for the assumption of my duties and responsibilities," he said. Then, lifting his eyes again, he added with emphasis: "This action of mine is final and unqualified. It is not open to reconsideration."

Eisenhower, who had given Adams a parting pat on the back as his assistant left to fly back to Washington, said in a letter to Adams, "I deeply deplore the circumstances that have decided you to resign as assistant to the President." He praised Adams for "selfless and tireless devotion" to his job and to the President.

"Your performance has been brilliant; the public has been the beneficiary of your unselfish work," the letter continued. "After six years of intimate association you have, as you have had throughout, my complete trust, confidence and respect."

"I accept your resignation with sadness. You will be sorely missed. . . ."

Eisenhower, who had said Adams was "imprudent" but "I need him," now must replace his most valuable assistant. The thought among some administration officials was that the President might turn instinctively to Gruenther, a trusted old friend.

This speculation was heightened by reports that Secretary of the Interior Seaton and Wilton B. Persons, Eisenhower's deputy assistant, had been eliminated from consideration for the post.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Voters To Decide On Annual Sessions For Legislature

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas voters must decide soon whether they think annual sessions of the Legislature will promote governmental efficiency or merely spawn more government and more taxes.

Yearly sessions and a $7,500 a year salary for the 181 lawmakers is the most controversial issue among the nine proposed constitutional amendments to be decided at the Nov. 4 general election.

If approved, Texas would become the 34th state to pay its legislators annual salaries. This state is the only one among the top 10 populationwise which has not done so already.

Almost all legislators themselves are backing the proposal. Some are taking to the stump extensively to promote the proposal. But privately many do not think the public will approve it.

Supporters think annual salaries will attract higher caliber lawmakers while annual sessions will allow budgets and appropriations to be set up a year ahead instead of forcing the legislators to have to plan more than two years in advance. The Legislature now meets in January of odd-numbered years and must pass an appropriation budget for two years from Aug. 31.

Opponents point to the past and claim that the more often the Legislature meets the worse a beating the taxpayer is in for. They think annual salaries will tend to attract incompetents and professional office holders lured solely by cash. The cost of the legislative department would be at least doubled.

The amendment would give lawmakers a per diem for up to 120 days during odd-numbered years, 60 days for even-numbered years and 30 days for special sessions. It would permit the Legislature to set its own daily expense rate.

Texas pays its senators and representatives $25 a day for the first 120 days, plus office costs and mileage. Under the proposal, legislators would not receive a mileague allowance but would get office expenses.

Stirred by an unsuccessful legal move to oust the lieutenant governor and speaker from their living quarters in the Capitol building, the 55th Legislature wrote the amendment so as officially to authorize these accommodations. The practice of these two officials and their families living in the capitol has been long established. The lieutenant governor would draw the same salary as the other lawmakers.

The authority of the Legislature at the second regular session—those on even-numbered years—would be limited to annual appropriations and the consideration of emergency matters submitted by the governor. A two-thirds vote would be required for passage.

Critics think the first regular session would have the same load as under the present system and the budgetary and emergency session would not be worth the time and expense involved. They also think the second session should be free to legislate on all subjects as is Congress.

Kentuckian Is Shot, Held In Slaying

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A man critically wounded after officers said he pulled a gun on a policeman is being held for London, Ky., authorities.

Kenneth Nicely, 20, of London, was shot after police said he drew on officer Raymond Cruz yesterday. Cruz said he found a loaded pistol in the glove compartment of Nicely's auto. He said when he questioned the man, Nicely whipped another pistol out of his shirt.

Cruz shot Nicely in the neck.

The Kentuckian was stopped for investigation, officers said, after he sped through a school zone.

The body of a missing automobile salesman was found last night near London and officers wired Texas asking that Nicely be held.

State Police Lt. James Mayes of Kentucky said Tony Brown's body, shot at least three times, was found at a dump. It apparently had been there, he said, since Brown disappeared Saturday while demonstrating an auto.

Mayes said a murder warrant for Nicely was being forwarded to Corpus Christi, where Nicely was hospitalized.

The FBI at Louisville said Nicely was reportedly driving the auto Brown had been demonstrating.

Noted Tree Called Fraud

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The demise of a withered old cedar tree raised a question yesterday over its historical worth.

The tree was sawed down by vandals Sunday. According to legend it was the only tree in the Salt Lake Valley when Mormon pioneers arrived in 1847.

"It's very discouraging," said Mrs. Kate B. Carter, president of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers. "The Utah Daughters have fought hard for the preservation of these old relics."

But Utah Historical Society Director A. R. Mortenson labeled the tree "a historical fraud." He said it was ridiculous to believe it was the only tree in the valley in 1847.

Bride Is Tardy For Session In Court

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP—Algereta Bennett, 29, was due to be sentenced after pleading guilty to forging a check.

She was 15 minutes late and Judge Joe Ingraham ordered her $500 bond forfeited. Then deputies found her getting out of a cab in front of the courthouse Monday.

"I was getting married," the defendant explained.

Judge Ingraham recommended the bride, an admitted narcotics addict, be committed to a hospital.

King Has Pneumonia

NEW YORK (AP) — A touch of pneumonia has complicated the condition of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

X-rays disclosed the pneumonia in King's lower right lung. Doctors said it had been expected and was nothing to worry about.

The 29-year-old Montgomery, Ala., pastor, advocate of nonviolent resistance for Negroes in their struggle against segregation, has been on the critical list at Harlem Hospital since Saturday. He was stabbed with a steel letter opener by a Negro woman in a Harlem department store as he autographed copies of his book "Stride Toward Freedom."

The woman, Mrs. Izola Ware Curry, 42, is under mental observation at Bellevue Hospital, where doctors said she could give no coherent explanation for the attack on King.

Mechanical Weather Observers Developed

DENVER (AP) — Mechanical weather observers that will funnel information at the rate of 1,000 words a minute to electronic computers are being developed.

Air Force Lt. Col. George A. Guy described the mechanical forecasters yesterday to the American Meteorology Society.

He said the machines, being developed at the Lincoln Laboratories in Massachusetts, will report their information automatically to one of six automatic data computers along the East Coast.

The computers will digest the information, prepare forecasts and draw national weather maps which will be transmitted throughout the country in minutes.
