Texas Board Approves Dallas' Dental School

HEAT'S ON National Headache

By The Associated Press

Discontended municipal employes in Philadelphia and New York, the worsening strike of television and radio network newsmen and the ominously slow pace of Teamsters negotiations all added up today to a labor headache for the nation.

In addition, negotiations between 10 unions and five New York City newspapers seemed to be getting no better.

Most serious of the smouldering labor fires was the threat of a strike by the Teamsters.

Negotiations in Washington covering 450,000 employes of 12,000 trucking firms were to continue today after bargainers, up until 2 a.m., had snatched some sleep. A strike, if one should come, would have far - reaching effects on the nation's systems for distributing essentials such as food.

Money Main Issue

Teamsters locals throughout the country voted overwhelmingly over the weekend to authorize their leaders at the negotiations to call a strike if and when they feel further talks are useless.

The talks were reportedly down to the main issue: money. The last reported wage demand of the union was 56 cents spread over the three-year contract period. The industry's last reported counter to that was 37 cents.

Discussions between the nation's three principal television - radio networks and the American Federation of Television & Radio Artists stopped cold late Sunday night in Washington.

Despite the insistence of spokesmen for CBS, ABC and NBC that they were willing to keep going, the chief union negotiator, Donald Conaway, led his side out and said he had no idea when negotiations would resume.

Proposal 'Insulting'

"I regret greatly the inconvenience to the American public," Conaway said.

There was no point in continuing the talks when management's latest offer was inferior to its original one, he said. Without disclosing details of the management proposal, Conaway called it "insulting."

The union is demanding $325 a week plus a bigger share of commercial fees for its broadcast newsmen. When the walkout began last Wednesday the networks were offering $300 base pay and a smaller cut of the commercial fees than demanded by AFTRA.

Pension Plan Unrest

In Philadelphia, the City Council planned to review today a pension program that has been the focal point of unrest among non-uniformed city employes.

The program was worked out by city officials with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal employes last year but has not been formally adopted.

Firemen Threaten Strike

To put the heat on, thousands of workers took a "holiday" Thursday, creating absenteeism estimated by a city personnel department spokesman at 85 per cent.

New York firemen, having threatened a partial strike, canceled it and said they would decdide no later than Tuesday what to do pending negotiations with the city. Some 10,500 firemen in the United Firemen's Association had planned to keep on answering fire alarms and emergencies while refusing to perform other duties such as clerical work and inspections.

The New York Daily News was the principal weekend victim of a cold war situation involving 10 newspaper craft unions and five papers.

'Many Pages' Dropped

The Sunday News was skimpy in comparions with its usual chunkiness. The paper printed a statement telling readers "many pages" had to be dropped because the printers kept leaving the job in the past few days for special "unauthorized" union meetings.

'Embassy Row' Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small handmade bomb was detonated about 20 feet from the Turkish Embassy here early today, just a few hours before the arrival of Turkish President Cevdet Sunay.

The blast caused no damage to the embassy, although it apparently burned the left rear door of a car parked on a lot behind the building. It was not learned to whom the car belonged.

Police said the bomb had been placed in a cardboard box. They said first it apparently was thrown from a car, but later found a detonator with a wire leading to the blast scene.

Youth Award Nominees Now Number Sixteen

Nominees for the Zale-Herald Youth Award were up to 16 today, with a receipt of names of other young people whom friends support for their various leadership activities.

Latest nominees are three girls: Terry Edens, Coahoma senior; Kathy Ann Shaw, Big Spring senior; and Annelle Fitzhugh, Big Spring junior.

A nominee last week was Ray S. McKinnon, a senior at Forsan, and The Herald made an error in listing his name, for which apologies are tendered.

Nominations will be received the rest of this week. Anyone may submit a name, but must use the official form in The Herald (today on Page 1-A). A supplementary letter may be used.

The program is to give due recognition to young people — seniors or juniors attending the county's three high schools — who are outstanding in their contribution to school, church and community affairs. A large trophy and engraved watch will he presented at a banquet honoring all nominees.

Senate Panel Okays General Money Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee overrode spotted objections today and approved a $4.7 billion general appropriations bill for 1968-69.

Three senators—Ralph Hall of Rockwall, Bill Patman of Ganado and Chet Brooks of Pasadena —voted against approval.

The bill includes appropriations of $846.8 million from general revenue. Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris said he hoped that amount would put the appropriations within expected income, without any new taxes.

'I HOPE NOT'

"Will there be an opportunity to amend this bill on the floor?" Hall asked.

"I hope note," replied Aikin. "I hope it passes as it is."

Specific objections to the bill were made by Sen. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, who complained that Lamar Tech at Beaumont was not provided money for a computer which he said the school needed.

Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio protested that the new South Texas Medical School in that city would need at least $2 million more to operate.

The House Appropriations Committee is expected to report out its version of a general appropriations bill either late this week or early the next.

The $847 million senate bill is within expected 1968-69 income and compares with the Legislative Budget Board's recommendation of $836 million from general revenue and the governor's $911.5 million budget.

WOMAN RIDING IN REAR SEAT OF THIS CAR KILLED IN ACCIDENT
Mrs. Trinidad Torres, 45, was trapped in wreckage of crushed sedan

Mrs. Torres Killed In Sunday Crash

A 45-year-old Big Spring woman, riding in the back seat of a sedan struck by a heavily loaded tractor - trailer truck, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon to become the third traffic death on Howard County rural roads for 1967.

Dead is Mrs. Trinidad Torres, 307 N. Bell.

Injured in the same accident is Lupe Torres, 18, and Andre Nunez, 36. Both are in Cowper Hospital and Clinic. The younger woman has a fractured right leg and is not in too serious condition.

The Nunez woman suffered serious chest injuries. She is under observation and there is a possibility she has other injuries. Her condition is listed as serious.

Jack White, state highway patrolman who investigated the accident, said he was still considering the case and that he may file charges in connection with it.

He said that Mrs. Torres, with Lupe Torres and Andrea Nunez, were in a car driven by Raymond Nunez, 43. All are of Big Spring. Nunez is Mrs. Trinidad's brother.

The car was going west at 2:15 p.m. on IS 20. At a point 8.7 miles west of town, White said, a hubcap jolted loose from the Nunez car and rolled away from the vehicle. White said that Nunez brought the car to a halt in the traffic lane and got out of the car to retrieve his hubcap.

While he was out of the car, the truck, loaded with heavy road machinery, approached, also going west. It was driven by James Murphy, 25, of Odessa.

The big truck rammed into the rear of the car and telescoped the rear seat against the front. The tractor was heavily damaged, but the trailer did not turn over.

Murphy was not injured.

The body of the dead woman was brought to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

She was born Sept. 6, 1921 in Toyah.

She is survived by her husband, Joe Torres, Big Spring; three daughters, Lupe Lopez, Jaunita Torres and Sylvia Torres; two sons, Joe Torres Jr., and Jessie Torres; three brothers, Tiburcio Nunez, Joe Nunez, and Raymond Nunez; and two sisters, Mrs. Angelo Lares and Mrs. Alexandra Olivas. All survivors are residents of Big Spring.

FUNERAL

Funeral for Mrs. Torres, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday afternoon in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev. James Delaney, pastor, officiating, with burial in the City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home.

New Houston Med School Skips Hurdle

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas College Coordinating Board approved today creation of a new state medical school in Houston and a dental school in Dallas.

Both schools would be part of the University of Texas system.

Legislative approval is required to make the schools a reality.

SHOW OF HANDS

Approval of the dental school was unanimous. The medical school was approved in a 12-5 show of hands.

University of Texas regents last week recommended the establishment of a new dental school and said all their information pointed toward Dallas as the best location. The board went on record some time back as saying Houston would be the best site for a new medical school.

'DISAPPOINTED'

Dr. Abner McCall, president of Baylor University, said he was "disappointed."

"The courage of the board didn't measure up to political pressure," he said. "I don't want to see our school impaired or destroyed."

Baylor operates a dental school in Dallas and a medical school in Houston.

"If you do approve this, I hope the legislature appropriates enough money so not to give it (the Houston medical school) a hunting license to compete for the same philanthropic dollars," McCall said.

POOR SOLUTION

A board member, Mrs. Winifred Jones of Houston, said the "board's solution is a poor solution at best," referring to the medical school. J. C. Looney of Edinburg, also a board member, said, "I'm afraid we are taking hasty action which might cost the people of Texas a lot of money."

John Gray of Beaumont, board chairman, said the decision of the subcommittee was "made on a high professional basis without any political pressure."

Dr. J. G. Cigarroa of Laredo, chairman of the subcommittee, said that the clinical facilities of the new medical school should be made available to the Medical Branch in Galveston and to the University of Texas Medical School in San Antonio.

COOPERATION

Dr. Valter Brindley of Temple, who headed the subcommittee on dental education, said "the new dental school should be planned and designed to offer education not only for doctors of dentistry but for dental assistants, dental hygienists and dental laboratory personnel generally."

"The committee stresses the desirability and, indeed, the necessity of complete cooperation between the new dental school in Dallas and the Baylor University Dental School in that city," he said.

Most Jurors Are On Hand

The action of Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, in assessing fines on citizens who ignore summons for jury duty, appears to be bearing fruit.

Today only five of the panel of 120 called were absent without cause. The judge did not announce from the bench what action he planned, but he has said earlier the fines will be the regular policy for all panel members who ignore their call to duty.

The court selected a jury and began trial at 11:45 a.m. a civil case styled Freddie White vs. Victor McCrea, et al—a suit on a note.

Supervisors Changed In City Depts.

Several supervisory changes became effective in the City of Big Spring ranks today, all coincide with the new fiscal year.

A new position — superintendent of utilities — has been created with general supervisory authority over the water and sewer distribution departments, the water meter department, the water treatment plant, and the sewage treatment plant.

Loy H. Anderson, public works engineer, has been named to the new position. Present departmental superintendents have not been demoted and departmental operations will continue as in the past, according to Ernest Lillard, public works director.

The parks, cemetery, and golf course departments have been taken out of the public works department and placed under the supervision of Roy Anderson, assistant city manager. Individual department heads will also continue to operate much as they have.

There were no financial changes in the city budget, due to the shuffling of supervisors, however some expenses were moved between accounts.

Stock Mart Prices Dip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market cut its losses early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Losers still outnumbered gainers at a ratio of about 3-to-1 but better prices for some of the blue chips which compose the popular averages reduced the loss in the Dow Jones industrial average.

The Dow industrials at noon were off 3.79 at 862.19.

An early decline of 6.63 put the average slightly below the heralded support level of 860. Technical support was mustered there and the decline in the average was reduced.

Losses still ran from fractions to one or two points among blue chips and to several points among higher priced glamor issues.

Auto industry cutbacks and concern over the impact of lower first quarter earnings on stock prices were cited as factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 2.1 at 319.3 with industrials off 2.2, rails off 2.1 and utilities off .6.

IBM and Xerox were down about five each; Texas Instruments about 3½; Burroughs, Boeing, Polaroid, New York Central, American Airlines and U.S. Gypsum about two each.

Reichhold Chemical, a fractional loser, took away the volume leadership from Sperry Rand which alternated between a slight gain and slight loss.

MGM advanced more than a point.

Fractional gains were shown by General Motors, American Motors, Westinghouse Electric, Swift & Co. and U.S. Smelting.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange.

S. M. Smith Wins Roundup Honors

The fifth annual Rattlesnake Roundup was one of the best in the history of the event here, Jaycees reported this morning.

More than 2,000 spectators visited the Pet-A-Zoo Sunday afternoon, where the roundup was staged, for one of the largest crowds ever. Jaycees estimate as many as 5,000 probably visited the show during the three-day run.

A total of 1,136 pounds of rattlesnake were turned in during the roundup by 103 registered hunters.

S. M. Smith received the trophy for the first place award, plus a check for $50, for turning in the most poundage. He had 402 pounds of rattlesnake.

Bob Smith received the trophy and the $1 per rattle for the snake with the most rattles; he turned in one with 18.

Ray Fortson and Ray Dabney turned in the longest snake, one that measured 66 inches, and were paid $5 per foot and given a trophy.

Second place, $35 and a trophy went to Dalton Carr in the poundage race, who had 283½ pounds.

Delbert Hutchings, with 159 pounds, placed third, receiving a trophy and $25.

C. A. Tonn was fourth with 123½ pounds and Bob Silvers of Odessa was fifth with 68 pounds, both receiving trophies.

All proceeds from the Rattlesnake Roundup will go to the Jaycee fund to finance the organization's several charitable projects.

Bill Ransberger, Sweetwater snake handler, was to be hospitalized until Tuesday at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. He was bitten before the show started Saturday morning, the second time he has been bitten at the local show and the fifth time in his life as a snake handler. His condition is not considered serious.

John Hughes of Fort Worth was bitten less severely and has been released from the same hospital.

Approximately 50 attended.

A family birthday dinner was held Sunday in the Koberg home at 710 Runnels. Joining their mother for the celebration were Dr. O. W. Koberg of Fort Worth, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Koberg of San Angelo, and Mrs. Camille Patterson. Another son, Dr. Frederick Koberg, of Seminole will arrive today to visit his mother.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Check Temperature Of Wash Water

Dear Heloise:

I do my laundry about three times a week. I have tried every brand of soap on the market! I have used bleaches, "Fluffy stuff" and all of the other products.

My laundry is a mess. It's grey and soiled looking. Can you help me? . . . Housewife

* * *

Dear Housewive:

Not being in your home, I cannot test for you, but I will try to tell you how to test it yourself.

HELOISE

The first thing to do is go and look at the thermostat on your hot water heater. Be sure it is set at LEAST 140 to 145 degrees. Hot water is a necessity for getting clothes clean when using these type detergents.

Second, there is a possibility that you're overloading your machine. Get out the manual that came with the washer and you will see that you are supposed to have just so many gallons of water in each machine-load of laundry.

Your dial may need adjusting or your water pressure too low.

One machine we checked was supposed to use nine gallons of water and it only got seven because the pressure was too low. We actually discovered this by measuring the water in some buckets as it came out the end of the drain hose. In this case, the lack of water supply was why the clothes were not white.

Another machine which we tested just needed adjusting. I suggest you get a qualified repairman to do this.

And, dear little launderers, don't EVER overload your machine. Your manual will tell you how many pounds YOUR model holds.

If you have no scale, a good rule of thumb is "about one pillowcase full." It's far better to underload than overload. Gets cleaner . . . Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

In order to keep my sewing machine bobbins from getting tangled, I stuck round toothpicks into a piece of cellulose sponge and placed a bobbin on each pick. . . Doris Kurish

* * *

Dear Heloise:

When darning socks, I use a plastic Easter egg that is hollow and comes apart.

This plastic egg works just as well as the wooden, egg-shaped ones usually used for darning.

The best part is you can store your most-used color of darning thread and needle right inside the egg so that everything is at your fingertips. . . J.M.G.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

When I wash my walls, I take all the electric switch plates off and put them in a pail of ammonia water.

I let them soak a while, then scrub the little crevices clean with an old brush.

They look like new again . . . Mrs. O. L. DeWall

* * *

Dear Heloise:

If your purse tears on the inside next to the zipper, sew it back and forth with dental floss.

It doesn't show and the strong dental floss will give you many more months use of the purse . . . Rose Stewart

* * *

Dar Heloise:

Our baby was a winter nursing baby.

I kept the heating pad beside his crib and when I took him up for a night feeding, I turned the pad on warm and laid it in his bed.

When I put him back in his little crib I removed the heating pad. Because the bed was so nice and warm he settled down more quickly than he used to in a cold bed . . . Mrs. Wevrach

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Have you tried using toothpaste for removing tea and coffee stains from plastic cups? Sure works for me . . . Mrs. P. H. Moen

A LOVELIER YOU

Girls In Mini-Pants Should Heed Advice

By MARY SUE MILLER

Mini-pants had to make the teen scene. For summer wear chopping off long pants is a natural development.

Mini - pantsuits have cool comfort and tanned legs built in. Worn under mini-dresses, mini-pants fill a desperate need —the one that happens when a girl raises her arms and her skirt goes sky high.

So far, so good. But there's a rub: Not all mini-pants are flattering to all girls. Becomingness depends on the cut of the pants and the contour of the legs. Wouldn't you know?

Generally speaking, summertime pantsuits take two directions with the pants cut along the lines of Bermuda shorts or fullish culottes. Pants with mini - dresses — jumpers, smocks, tunics — either snug like a stocking or stand away like a bloomer.

To make a good choice just remember: The wider the pant-leg, the more slimming the result. That makes culottes and generously cut Bermudas ideal for a heavy leg. Only a right slim leg can stand up to the plumping effect of bloomers and "snuggies."

But, please note, no style of mini-pants looks right when the legs are mini-groomed. Scuff and fuzz have got to go. Like any other leggy fashion, this one requires a clean sweep of the leg complexion. Only got to work on the project now and on the first summery day you'll be ready to step out. Perhaps in one of those ducky, white duck mini-pantsuits.

LOVELY FIGURE

What's your figure problem? To achieve total attractiveness send for my booklet, "Secrets of a Lovely Figure." It contains easy ways to reduce weight and proportions; to overcome grooming problems, such as fuzz, freckles and blemishes; to move with grace and poise. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Ban The Smoke

If you're panfrying meat and it smokes, the heat's too high. If you broil the meat and there is smoke, it's too much heat. Moderate temperatures put a ban on these smoke signals and save meat.

'First Aid' Hints Given For Shoes

Ever had a new pair of stockings run because they caught on a ripped shoe lining? If so, you know that a quick do-it-yourself repair job is in order before you have the shoes repaired.

The job is a cinch if you simply tape lining in place. You'll find that stockinged feet slip gently over the first aid tape's unique ribbon - like surface and will hold until you get to the shoemakers.

Protect Coiffure

If you have to cook dinner for your family before going out for an evening and have just come home from the beauty shop, you can protect your new hair-do by wearing a large bouffant-type shower cap.

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although there is a harsh condition where your progress is concerned and you need to refrain from forcing issues in most any way, you can also gain much headway by an attitude of charm and consideration for others which breaks barriers of resentment and brings you much of value to bring relief from anxieties.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) There are pals who would be only too glad to assist you in new projects or duties, so why try to do everything yourself and become unnecessarily exhausted? Take more time for recreational activities, also. Spend sensibly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you listen to an expert, you find you get a new and improved approach at gaining your finest wishes. You are highly magnetic but your judgment may be a little erratic. Make the most of this quality.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although a series of annoying little matters crops up, take them in your stride and you find that these lead to much improved conditions by tomorrow. Handle that big problem wisely. You be the master of the situation.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't depend too much on good pals who are pretty much distraught, but be of assistance to them instead. Rely on your intuition which is very fine, although your reasoning may be a little faulty. Be dynamic.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Spending more time getting the approval of associates is wise instead of going after irascible highertups. Bide your time. Don't be forceful but take advantage of opportunities that present themselves.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Getting at your duties will take your mind off of unpleasant matters, problems that are vexing, petty individuals. Be more cooperative with a co-worker. This will make that new project very successful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Forget worrying about duties you think you should do and enjoy some engaging personality or celebration that comes up unexpectedly. Get into the spirit of things. Take your mate along with you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show you are neutral where some altercation arises between a partner and a close tie. Then all finally blows over nicely. Solve that problem by substituting the old with the new.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Getting busy at reports is fine, but don't expect a coworker to do more than his, or her, rightful lob, or take on your responsibilities. Contact a clever individual. Get ideas that propel you forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study ways and means by which you can gain a bigger income and be sure you get a clever expert to give you suggestions you need. Show charm. Forget that urge to get out for fun, since it could prove to be foolhardy right now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Advancement comes in business matters now, so be sure to take advantage of opportunities around you. Study how you can get right to the top in your field of endeavor. Be serious, ambitious.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Don't permit others to impose upon you and get out into the active world and accomplish a good deal. Care must be exercised in both buying and selling. Then you get desired results.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be socially minded and the nature is apt to be slightly discontented most of the time, since the ideas are big and money may not flow in as fast as desired. Nevertheless, the magnetism here is great and your progeny usually gets what is wanted in due course of time. Teach to smile more at right persons for best results. Help to work way through college.

THANKS

My sincere thanks and gratitude to all who supported me in Saturday's election. There are so many who have helped me over the years that there is no way to say thanks individually . . . so my appreciation to all.

Leukemia Drug Money Needed

DALLAS (AP) — Money in a great amount, plus time, is needed now to make L-asparaginase—the new anti-leukemia drug—available to all who might need it, its developers say.

Officials at the Wadley Institute of Molecular Medicine, until last year Wadley Research Institute, say that to achieve a mandatory increase in production money is the key factor.

Dr. Joseph Hill, director of Wadley Institute whose work led to successful use of the drug on human beings, estimates that it takes his staff about two weeks to produce enough L-asparaginase for just one course of treatment.

SMALL FIRM

Hill noted that Wadley Institute has been using a small biochemical company in Freehole, N.J., as a supply source in addition to that produced by the Wadley staff.

Hill said the New Jersey company has been interested only in producing the drug, not in testing and refining it. It has been producing the drug, administered by injection, and sending it to Wadley for testing and experimentation.

"The cost involved in the treatment," said Dr. Hill, "is terrific. It costs us $15,000 to acquire enough of the drug from the biochemical company for just one course of treatment."

He said a move to larger quarters, now under construction, by Wadley will aid in increased production.

NO PATENT

"At the moment," he continued, "money is crucial. We need to expand our scientific investigation. We are only now scratching the surface. We hope to expand our studies and perhaps even apply this to other types of malignancies."

The doctor said Wadley would seek no patent for the new drug. "You can't patent an idea," he said and added:

"Besides, we are interested in expanding production to make as much available for as many people as possible."

The new drug was announced in Texarkana, Tex., Saturday by J. K. Wadley, Texas oilman and philanthropist, who disclosed the discovery and described it as "a major breakthrough" and "possibly a cure" for leukemia.

GUIDING FORCE

"I'm especially excited by the fact that the principle of therapy involved seems to open whole new avenues of investigation covering other cancer as well," the 90-year-old Wadley said.

Wadley first breathed life into the institute in 1952 in memory of a child who had died of leukemia—little Kenner Bob Moseley who had died of leukemia. The child was his only grandson. Since its founding, Wadley has remained the Institute's principal benefactor and guiding force. He and his late wife gave funds in excess of $1.5 million to the institute that bears his name.

In his Saturday announcement, Wadley told of researchers at the institute clearing a nine-year-old Dallas youth of an advanced type of leukemia. With only weeks to live, the child had been called a "terminal case."

Specimens from 22 different kinds of cancer in test tube experiments showed that 17 were sensitive to this treatment. L-asparaginase, which works by starving malignant cells through amino acide depletion therapy, was developed by Dr. Hill and Dr. Joseph Roberts, 30-year-old research chemist from Canada.

PATIENT LIVES

When doctors began treatment on young Frank Hayes Jr., they said his neck glands were "swollen to the size almost of a grapefruit, and his spleen and stomach were also of the same size.

"After the first treatment,. . . his neck and abdomen were back to normal, and his leukmeia cells practically eliminated.

"Subsequent results showed all leukemia cells destroyed."

Wadley said before tests were conducted on human patients, similar experiments were tried on and "definitely cured" several hundred mice and a number of other animals.

Hill said three human patients had been treated with the new drug but that the supply ran out on the first two before treatment was completed.

The first was a seven-year-old boy with an advanced stage of leukemia. The medicine, available only in limited amounts, caused some improvement before the child died.

A youth of 18 was the second patient who also had an advanced stage of the disease. The drug brought a noticeable improvement in his condition, but the drug ran out before treatment was completed. The patient still lives.

TIME WILL TELL

In Bethesda, Md., Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod, scientific director for chemotherapy, National Cancer Institute, said the method is "interesting" and furnishes a new lead into childhood leukemia but "needs to be researched."

He said "virtually all patients" with childhood leukemia can be put into remission by drugs. He said sometimes these remissions last for years.

"One patient going into complete remission for two weeks isn't very impressive," Dr. Zubrod said. "Only time will tell and it takes years to find this out."

Car-Wagon Crash Toll Hits Eleven

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A carstation wagon crash that on March 24 claimed 10 lives added another to its toll Sunday when Amelia de la Cruz, 16, died.

The Pleasanton girl had been in critical condition since the Good Friday crash.

Families of two Baptist ministers, 15 persons, were in the station wagon. Nine of them, along with the driver of the automobile, died in the crash or within a short time afterward.

Four De la Cruz children remained in a San Antonio hospital Sunday night, one in poor condition. the others in fair condition. Another child is hospitalized with injuries from the crash.

Spring Floods Rout Hundreds

By The Associated Press

Spring floods surged down the Mississippi River system this weekend and in Wisconsin killed two persons and drove hundreds from homes.

Gov. Warren Knowles declared a flood emergency in a 10-county section of northwest Wisconsin as the Chippewa River, swollen by melting snow, reached its highest level since 1941.

Evacuations were reported along the Chippewa, Black, Bad and Red Cedar rivers. A father and son drowned at Neilsville when three canoes on an outing overturned in the Black River.

Other flood threats existed in east Kansas and west central Missouri. Authorities prepared for a possible flood emergency as a line of thunderstorms ranged from Maine into Kansas.

Cold air followed the rain into the Midwest on a flow of brisk northwest winds. Cold wave warnings were posted for northern Minnesota and North Dakota where temperatures near zero were predicted.

Defections Threatening Gandhi's Slim Majority

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Three weeks after her re-election as India's prime minister, Indira Gandhi's position is threatened by defections from her Congress party

Congress party members have bolted in two Indian states, leaving the party with legislative majorities in only seven of 16 states. Some fear that the defections will reach the national level and reduce or wipe out the party's 20-seat majority in Parliament.

The Cabinet Mrs. Gandhi formed last month after India's general elections could then fall on a parliamentary vote of no confidence. Although Mrs. Gandhi's personal position appears in danger, observers expect the Congress party to retain power.

NO MONOPOLY

All six opposition parties in Parliament would have to unite and be joined by at least 15 defectors from the Congress to put together a new parliamentary majority, and there appears to be no conceivable prospect of this happening.

After ruling India unchallenged since the country became independent 20 years ago, the Congress party has declined both in appeal to the voters and party discipline. The party lost 82 parliamentary seats in the February elections and its nearly complete monopoly of the state legislatures was broken.

Seventeen party members joined opposition legislators in Uttar Pradesh State over the weekend and brought down the Congress government by a 215-198 vote.

The leader of the dissidents, Charan Singh, 64, was sworn in today at the state's new chief minister to head a coalition of all major non-Congress parties. Singh cut his ties with the Congress after 45 years because of differences with local party leaders.

Uttar Pradesh, with 75 million residents, is India's most populous state and Mrs. Gandhi's birthplace. Her personal popularity in the state seemed undimmed, as she was warmly received Sunday on a tour of its eastern regions to inspect drouth damage.

Thirteen Congress party members defected in Hariana State two weeks ago.

In addition, the party's slim majorities in the legislatures of Assam, Andhra Pradesh and Mysore States are menaced by factionalism and disputes among party leaders. Opposition groups now control all the states of north India.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North

Opening lead: Six of ♠

South capitalized on a mix-up in defensive signals to steal home with his four heart contract.

West opened the six of spades and East proceeded to cash the A-K-Q of the suit. On the third round, West discarded the three of diamonds.

After [illegible] deliberation, East continued with a fourth round of spades. He reasoned that if his partner held as good as two hearts headed by the ten, the spade play would promote a trump trick for the defense. South ruffed the trick with the nine of hearts, however, cashed the ace of diamonds and crossed over to the ace of clubs to discard his remaining club on the king of diamonds. The heart finesse was taken next and after trumps were drawn, declarer claimed the rest of the tricks.

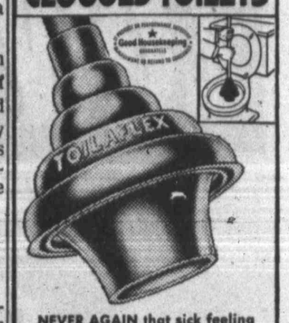

In the post-mortem discussion it was observed that a club shift by East at trick four would have defeated the contract for, West's queen will dislodge the ace of clubs before South is able to unblock the ace of diamonds, and the latter is unable to obtain a diamond discard.

East contended that West should have discarded the eight of clubs on the third round of spades to suggest that he had an honor in that suit, in which case the club shift would have been more clearly indicated.

West countered by pointing out that his actual discard of the three of diamonds indicated that he did not have the ace of that suit, and therefore, East should lead a club in any event, for unless West holds the queen the defense will be unable to win a trick in the suit.

It was observed that West could have assisted his partner by trumping the third round of spades in order to lead a club himself. This might not have worked out so well, however, if South had the king of clubs and East the ace of diamonds. Be that as it may, East's course of action was clearly marked out at trick four, for he had nothing to lose by making the club shift.

CHAMBER WEEK

Success Of C-C Work In Hands Of Committees

The success of the Chamber of Commerce program is dependent on the efforts of its members, particularly those who take committee assignments and help pursue the program of work.

Committees are named to cover most areas of activity of a busy community.

Jimmy Taylor is chairman of the Agriculture Committee for 1967, with Bill Jones acting as board coordinator.

The committee is working to have the U.S. Experiment Station declared a regional research center; establishment of feedlots here; supporting passage of cotton research and promotion act; repeating the St. Lawrence Community trip on enlarged scale, plus similar goodwill trips to other communities; increase interest in legislation that affects Howard County economy and farmers; continue National Cotton Week participation; continue "first bale of cotton" awards; urge better participation in demonstration programs; sponsor Business - Agriculture Day; and sponsor farm and ranch tours.

Connie Edwards is chairman of the Aviation Committee, with Jack Little as board coordinator.

This committee is working to maintain good local air service by cooperation with Trans-Texas Airways; pushing efforts to secure more and better weather information service at the Howard County Airport; working with County Commissioners in the airport improvement program; planning to sponsor some kind of annual affair for flyers, aviation fans and visitors.

Mrs. Janelle Davis is chairman for the Cultural Affairs Committee, with Dr. M. W. Talbot as board coordinator.

This group is studying plans for a cultural center or community center; focusing attention on cultural events; planning an attraction similar to the 1949 Centurama as a tourist attraction; sponsor concerts and plays in the City Park; pushing plans for a museum.

Members of these committees include:

Gas Blast Injures 15

FORT WORTH (AP) — A natural gas explosion in suburban Forest Hill turned a residential street into a roaring holocaust Sunday, injuring 15 persons and causing an estimated $250,000 damages.

At least three homes and four automobiles were destroyed by the blast and resultant fire.

None of the injured, all treated at Fort Worth hospitals, were believed in critical condition. Fire Marshal E. H. Campbell made the damage estimate.

Windows were shattered in homes for several blocks around the usually quiet suburb. Paint was scorched on several homes, and fences, shrubs and trees were charred.

A Lone Star Gas Co. foreman, W. C. Johnson, said the explosion came just as workmen had nearly completed installation of a 16-inch gas line near a curb in front of the William McNeeley residence.

Johnson said the gas popped from the pipe when a metal strap used to secure a joint broke between two sections of the line as pressure built up. He could not explain what ignited the gas.

Johnson's Weekend Wooing Generates Latin Goodwill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's weekend wooing of Latin diplomats in his native Texas seems to have achieved its limited goal — generating increased goodwill for the United States.

Comments from the President's guests—29 Latin-American envoys and their ladies—were enthusiastic.

"A thrill to come here," said Dr. Rodrigo Jacome, ambassador from Ecuador to the Organization of American States. He termed it a "well-organized weekend" and voiced only one regret: that he did not have more time for sightseeing and other tourist-type activities.

'WE'RE GRATEFUL'

Mrs. Celso Pastor, wife of the ambassador from Peru and sister of that country's president, fairly bubbled as she summed up her feelings: "The most unblemished weekend I've ever had. The President tried to show us a part of his wonderful state and we're so grateful."

The ambassadors said in a statement upon their departure from Texas that Johnson's initiative in inviting them to the ranch was of "special significance" coming near the April 12-14 meeting of American chiefs of state Punta del Este, Uruguay.

They predicted the forthcoming conference would contribute to the deepening and speeding up of continental solidarity.

NO PRESSURE

The ambassadors said that from the moment of their arrival to the moment of departure each had a complete sensation that their visit was like being in their own homes.

Some of the diplomats were particularly pleased because they had expected Johnson to try to sell them "a bill of goods." In his statements to them, he never even mentioned the hemisphere summit or, in any other way, put pressure on them, they said.

The diplomats, who flew to Texas with the President and Mrs. Johnson Friday night, returned to Washington aboard the presidential jet late Sunday. The Johnsons returned later on a smaller craft.

The Texas sojourn produced no serious discussions of hemisphere problems.

White House sources said today this was in keeping with Johnson's basic plan for the weekend—to seek a closer personal relationship with Latin ambassadors based in Washington. They said he never intended to engage in policy talks in Texas.

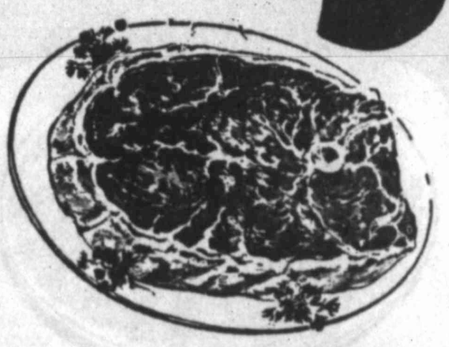

With scant advance notice, the President and Mrs. Johnson joined the diplomats for the final public event on the weekend program—attendance at a Roman Catholic Mass in the historic San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio. Built in 1738, the church serves as the tomb for the defenders of the Alamo.

TRAFFIC TOLL SOARS

Thirty - Three Die Violently In Texas

By The Associated Press

Motorists took to the roads by the thousands on April's first weekend and traffic accidents sent the violent death toll soaring.

An Associated Press count showed that 33 persons died violently in Texas from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday, 25 in traffic mishaps.

Vito Salvato, 82, of San Antonio died in a San Antonio hospital Sunday of injuries suffered in a two-car, head-on collision near Three Rivers, Tex., on US 81.

Myrtle Abbey, 55, of Dallas died Sunday night when she fell or jumped from the Manor House high-rise apartment building in the center of downtown Dallas. Police were investigating.

Lewis Conrad Akin, 39, a Houston mechanic was killed Sunday when his motorcycle collided with a car on Houston's northeast side. Akin's wife, Karen, 22, was injured.

FATAL STABBING

Roy Harris Jr., 31, was stabbed to death Sunday in a Houston home. Sherman Lee Byrd, 35, was charged with murder by Houston detectives.

George Lee Thomas, 50, of Fort Worth was killed Sunday when he was thrown from an automobile as it overturned several times. The accident occurred on Farm Road 1187 in southeast Tarrant County.

Johnny White, 22, died Saturday night at an Odessa hospital after he was shot in the head a few hours earlier at a Monahans bar. Police filed murder charges against Richard Valle, 26, of Monahans.

HEAD-ON CRASH

A head-on collision near Richardo in South Texas Saturday killed Hilaria Martinez Lara, 33, of Abernathy; Adrian Balderas, 27, and Froilan Balderas, 50, both of Roswell, N.M. Five other persons were hurt.

Marine Capt. Charles J. Clanton of Beeville was killed Friday night when his F11 Tiger jet trainer malfunctioned while making a landing approach at Chase Field near Beeville and crashed.

Carol Wilcox, 17, died Friday night when a freight train hit her automobile at a Wichita Falls grade crossing.

Melissa Perales, 6, was struck and killed by an automobile Friday night when she darted away from her mother during a walk at Plainview.

TRAIN HITS TRUCK

James Curtis Blackburn, 39, of Garland was killed Friday night when his pickup truck and a Southern Pacific freight train collided just outside the Dallas suburb of Richardson.

A two-car crash just northeast of Beaumont early Sunday killed Leon Bonura, 63, and Rita Castolenia, 38, both of Beaumont. Two others were injured in the collision.

Taylor Luke Nunez, 31, of Houston, was killed and six other persons injured in a two-car collision near China, west of Beaumont, late Saturday night.

Mrs. Modell Vaughn, 58, of Waco, was killed late Saturday when the car in which she rode hit a pillar while making a U-turn near Interstate 35 in Waco.

Janice Moreland, 7, died Saturday when her Terrell home burst into flames and rescuers were unable to reach her.

BARTENDER FIRES

Adolph Koehn, 84, stepped in front of a car in Austin and was killed Saturday.

Joe Alverez, 27, was shot during an argument at a Dallas tavern Saturday night.

A 56-year-old woman bartender broke up a fuss at a Dallas lounge Saturday, fatally shooting Vernon Lee Thomason, 36.

Jack Wright Johnson, 59, of Houston, took the short way across State 146 east of the La Porte-Baytown Tunnel Saturday and was struck by a car and killed. His family and two other families had been fishing in a bay near the tunnel and crossed under the bridge but Johnson said that was too dangerous.

Two Ft. Hood soldiers, Stephen W. Briscoe, 20, and Larry J. Hughes, 19, died Saturday when two cars collided head-on near Killeen on US 10.

DALLASITE DROWNS

Rufus Christian, 55, of Dallas was drowned Saturday while fishing in White Rock Creek in Dallas.

Beverly Koy Barclay, 33, of Houston was killed early Saturday in Houston when her car struck a bridge abutment while exiting from a freeway.

Samuel S. Harris, 79, was hit by a car and killed Friday night in southeast Houston. The driver, Mrs. Lee Cassels, 37, was charged with negligent homicide.

Tracy Lynn Jernigan, 1, was fatally injured when she wandered into the path of a car near her house Friday in Houston. She died Saturday.

Dead were Willie McKee, 63, and Juanita Smith Whaley, 24, both of Silsbee.

A city garbage truck backing up in Port Arthur crushed to death a boy following the truck on his bicycle. He was Tommy Thompson, 9.

Power Blaze Delays Paper

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A transformer in a main power supply short-circuited Sunday night, shutting off electric power to the El Paso Times shortly before the newspaper's final edition was to go to press.

The fire and heavy smoke forced evacuation of some 100 employes from the three-floor Newspaper Printing Corp. building which houses the El Paso Times and the El Paso Herald-Post.

One employe, linotype operator Herbert Haskell was overcome by acrid fumes. The fire department worked on him and he revived.

The shutdown was expected to continue through this afternoon.

The newspaper, which had just finished running its bulldog edition, put out the final edition offset with the help of Sun Publishing Co.

The building was plunged into darkness at 11:33 p.m. Power to downtown El Paso was shut off an half-hour to help prevent the electrical fire from spreading from the main switchboard.

There was no damage estimate and the cause of the short-circuit was not immediately determined. The fire was confined to the switchboard.

Four Linked To $400,000 Truck Holdup

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Police said today they are investigating four men in connection with the robbery of more than $400,000 in cash and checks from an armored truck.

Still unaccounted for today was more than $300,000, about half of it cash. Four bags found Sunday in a wooded section yielded $94,577, including $17,000 cash.

Hijackers slipped into the cab of the truck Saturday night at a shopping center while its two guards were beside the vehicle. The guards ran after it, firing several shots, but were unable to halt it.

Capt. Paul LaHive of the Quincy Police Department said the four men sought in the investigation are from Quincy, Weymouth, Hull and Rockland, all suburbs in Greater Boston.

'WE KNOW NAMES'

"We know names," he said, but would not elaborate.

Officials of the Skelly Detective Agency, owner of the truck, said an exact total of the amount taken would not be available until they check duplicate deposit slips held by stores.

Police dusted the empty truck, found Sunday in nearby Weymouth, for fingerprints, but would not say whether this provided any leads.

One car that police said the hijackers used was found near the four bags of money.

A second car believed to have been involved was found parked on a highway in Quincy. Police said it contained two submachine guns, several other weapons, ammunition and a nylon mask.

KEY TO CAB?

David Connell of Fall River, son of the president of Skelly Detective Agency, said the hijackers apparently had a key to get into the cab of the truck, because the doors to it automatically lock when shut. He provided reports on the amount of money taken.

He said the two guards "were standing beside the truck changing keys in order to swap assignments when the thieves slipped into the cab."

He said company policy calls for the two-man truck crew to take turns driving and going into the stores.

"The man whose turn it is to drive has the key to the front door," Connell said. "And the other carries a key to a different lock on a rear door."

The truck was making the last of 45 stops on a route which had begun in the morning and taken it as far north as Derry, N.H., Connell said.

Ex-Newsman Dies

BOSTON (AP) — Charles Mungie, 74, of Brookline, retired circulation manager of the Record American and Sunday Advertiser, died Saturday after a short illness.

Dear Abby

'Hams' Assert Themselves

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for telling that woman who insisted that a Ham Operator in her neighborhood was interfering with her TV reception to get her set checked — that she needed a FILTER COIL!

Whenever it becomes known that there is a Ham Operator within 10 miles, every time there is trouble with a hi-fi, stereo radio, or television set, the Ham gets blamed. After an investigation, the trouble is usually traced to a faulty electric blanket, refrigerator, incandescent light (about to burn out), thermostat on a tropical fish tank, even a hearing aid in the home of the complainer!

I stood right in the living room of a lady who insisted that my Ham Radio was ruining her reception, so she KNEW I couldn't very well be operating my set, but she said, "I don't care what you say, I can see your radio tower from here, and I KNOW that's what's causing my trouble!" So, go fight city hall. J.J.S., K3PZU

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for "RECEPTION RUINED," who insisted that a Ham Radio Operator in her neighborhood was ruining her TV reception: I hope you have your TV set checked as Abby suggested, because if it picks up my signal, the trouble is in your set, which, if properly constructed, should be able to reject unwanted signals.

You called all Ham Operators "useless nuts." Perhaps you did not know that Ham Radio is more than a "hobby," it is frequently the only means of communication to a disaster area in cases of floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes, sinking ships, and in locating people in faraway places where there is no electricity or telephone.

In order to become a licensed Ham, one has to study hard to pass the examinations, and then abide by the rules of the Federal Communications Commission. His "rig" is also inspected and monitored by the FCC to be sure it is kept "clean." There are over 280,000 licensed Hams in the states today. We buy our own equipment and use it constantly as a public service without cost to anyone. Thank you, Abby, for letting me get this off my chest.

A HAM SINCE 1926

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I would like for you to tell Reception Ruined that during January, 1967, the "useless nuts" who operate Ham Radios handled 3,708 phone patches and 5,398 personal messages for the boys in Vietnam.

Furthermore I just turned off my rig after listening to two of those "useless nuts" secure vaccine for a child who was bitten by a mad dog. Of course all a person would have to do is pick up his telephone and call a doctor, except this occurred in an out-of-the-way village in Ecuador!

Yesterday I helped locate some "eyes" which were donated through the LIONS EYE BANK and saw to it that they were sent immediately to an eye surgeon who needed them to restore sight to a blind child.

"Useless nuts," indeed!

Officials Impound Election Records

MESQUITE, Tex. (AP)—City officials Sunday impounded vote records, keys and seal numbers of voting machines pending an inquiry into Saturday's city election.

Officials said there was a wide variance in votes between the totals cast in the mayor's race and those cast for city councilmen.

Of the 1,192 votes recorded at Central Fire Station, 673 were recorded in the mayor's race.

"It could have been a foul-up in one or more of the machines," said City Mgr. Carl W. Riehn. "But it is odd that 43 per cent of those who voted at Central Fire Station didn't vote in the mayor's race."

In The Public Interest

The Texas Legislature is being asked to declare legal the practice of optometry under trade or assumed names and in multiple offices, if the practice is owned by a licensed optometrist, and it should do so.

The effect would be to restore what was the law until the State Board of Optometry adopted a rule prohibiting the practice, and the Texas Supreme Court, reversing the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals, held that the board was within its authority in promulgating the rule.

Five of the six members of the board are members of the Texas Optometric Association which tried unsuccessfully in 1939 and 1953 to get the Legislature to forbid the practice of optometry under a trade name.

A REHEARING is being sought before the Supreme Court, but if the recent ruling stands, as seems likely, it is quite possible that the cost of eye care and glasses for Texans will increase substantially. Advocates of the pending legislation, House Bill 933 and Senate Bill 423, contend that the increase would be anywhere from 30 per cent to 50 per cent, without any improvement in optometric care to the public.

There is no doubt at all that permitting licensed optometrists to practice under trade or assumed names and in multiple offices has had the effect of keeping down the cost of eye care and glasses to the people of Texas, and there is no evidence that it has been contrary to the public interest in any way.

The increase in patronage which these practitioners are enjoying is perhaps the best evidence that the public needs and wants this type of service. There is convenience, as well as other benefits, in being served by the same optometric organization when one moves from one Texas city to another or from one neighborhood within a city to another.

LICENSED optometrists engaging in this type of practice must meet exactly the same standards, as those who practice in offices under their own names.

The Herald feels that the rule of the State Board of Optometry is not in the public interest and that the Legislature should, by enacting specific legislation, declare to be legal what has been permitted in the past.

Modernizing County Government

Gov. John Connally last week talked to a group of county judges and commissioners about proposals to modernize some of the functions of county government.

He didn't get very far, and one official (who supports his ideas) said "perhaps you're a little ahead of your time."

This could be correct, but we feel that perhaps too many of the county officials are unwilling to face up to the changing conditions in the state of Texas.

The county governmental system (and most county officials encounter examples every day) is actually 50 to 100 years behind the times. It was set up when travel distances were great, when there was a high preponderance of rural population, when small towns actually were under the guidance of county governmental direction.

None of these conditions exists any more. And sheer economy and practical practice of government should demand some modernization.

Many county offices are in a sort of professional category, and need no longer be elective; there is an impractical situation when county commissioners can control a budget but have no authority over other elective offices; there is a duplication of services in several areas. In many counties there exists other duplication between municipal and county functions. A lot of things should be remedied.

The remedy comes only when the people demand it. Gov. Connally's proposals perhaps will have to bide their time, until the public becomes aware of their advantages.

The Farmers' Fight For Freedom

WASHINGTON—It was fun the other day to hear somebody say "We're winning." It was all the better because he was speaking for more than a million real Americans. He was hailing an in-sight victory for hard work, free enterprise, down-with-subsidies, and rah-rah for his land of liberty. He was representing an association of family business where profits are the thing, but money isn't everything.

HE WAS Charles B. Schuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and he had some of us to lunch to talk about agriculture. It seems a long time since a general reporter would bother to write, knowing that the general public wasn't going to read columns about the farm problem.

These days when you say "farm" policy, people are apt to think you're mispronouncing "foreign." But in the Truman days, Secretary Ezra Taft Benson was always good for a story about why we kept on paying farmers to raise more food than we could eat. Until quite recently, however, Secretary Freeman has been in danger of going stir-crazy from newspaper neglect, and agriculture has become as boring a subject of conversation as the Beatles.

ALL THAT IS changing. The National Farmers Union has instituted a buyers' strike against manufactured goods like tractors and motor cars. Angry men from the cow barns are spilling milk into the gutters to get the price up. Mr. Schuman and his followers, who represent about 70 per cent of all working agrarians, don't go for this spiteful boycotting of other people's products or for this publicity-racket vandalism.

MR. SCHUMAN said we're winning the fight to get out of that fix. He noted that Secretary Freeman, addressing the Farmers Union convention last month in Oklahoma City, mentioned a "no program" farm policy as a real possibility. That's what the Farm Bureau wants — no more programming in Washington of farm production and a full but phased return to the free economy of the marketplace. It was a sign of coming victory for the Secretary to admit as much as he did.

Another sign, as Mr. Schuman saw it, was that Congress, having tried every conceivable plan to socialize agriculture, would be going home for Easter to find farm prices at a dangerous low and farm unrest at a dangerous high.

MR. SCHUMAN found a third harbinger of eventual farm liberation in Congressman Tom Curtis' (R., Mo.) bill which proposes a strong beginning at de-control. The Curtis bill (H.R. 7326) is a repealer—which is the only way to start a reform of excess legislation. It would strike down the programs on wheat and feedgrains; it would forbid Betty Furness and Orville Freeman from getting the President to depress farm prices by the dumping of surplus grains. It would provide farmers with loans to tide them over an adjustment period.

IT WAS GOOD to hear Mr. Schuman talking of success in setting our farmers free again. It was better yet (I thought) to hear him give the educated opinion that farming wasn't a get-rich enterprise, but that it had other human values in public service and home life.

Billy Graham

The Bible has something to say about the harlot and the adulterer. But is there any place in the Scriptures where homosexuality is mentioned? The answer to this question is important to my mental and religious well-being.

I. C.

Yes, the Bible mentions this subject and deals with it in quite plain terms. Paul wrote his epistle to the Romans from Corinth, the sex capital of the ancient world. High above Corinth was Acro-Corinth where the temple prostitutes accommodated both men and women, according to their desires, for a price. In fact, that's the way the temple was financed. Paul knew that the same or similar conditions existed in urban Rome, so he dealt with the subject "without gloves," so to speak. Following is his dissertation on sexual perversion:

"Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonor their own bodies between themselves: Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed forever. For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections; for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise, all the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet." Romans 1:24-47. I believe this Scripture is self-explanatory.

Thant's Plans Appear Hazy

WASHINGTON (AP) — U Thant persists in placing the burden for peace in Vietnam on the United States. This puts him back where he started. And where he started got him no place.

The United Nations secretary-general's ideas for bringing about peace were ignored or repudiated by the North Vietnamese and he reacted by making the one-sided demand that the United States, not North Vietnam, make the first concessions.

He had offered two peace plans, one recently. The North Vietnamese rejected the first and apparently rejected the second. Now Thant is adding to and changing his second plan.

THIS INDICATES Thant either failed to think his plan through or failed to state it fully.

Many months ago he produced a three-part plan: A halt to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam; a de-escalation of the fighting by all sides; then negotiations by all sides. Hanoi rejected this.

It called for a permanent halt in the bombing, unconditionally. But the United States had halted the bombing several times, hoping for some response from Hanoi to indicate it was interested in peace. There was no response.

PRESIDENT Johnson took this position: No halt in the bombing unless North Vietnam was willing to scale down the fighting on its side, too, for otherwise it would mean one-sided American concessions while Americans got killed.

Last December, for the second time in 1966, the United States asked Thant to do what he could to bring peace. Then last month he revealed he had made a second proposal to both sides in the fighting.

As he presented it, this looked like enough of a modification of his first plan to look like a big change. He didn't present a halt in U.S. bombing as a first step in this second plan.

THIS IS what he proposed: A truce, then negotiations by both sides, then an international conference. If Hanoi answered Thant directly on this, he did not reveal it. But Hanoi over its radio in effect rejected the second plan.

But the United States accepted it, with a reservation suggesting that instead of just calling for a truce and then negotiating the two sides should discuss a truce first and then continue talking after it was established.

The Johnson administration isn't saying so, but Thant looked naive in suggesting that a truce, in such a mixed-up and scattered jungle war as this one, could be established by simply calling for it instead of discussing it first and laying down rules for it.

ALTHOUGH the United States accepted in general but Hanoi apparently rejected, Thant then added some second thoughts over the weekend.

Now he is saying he considers a halt in U.S. bombing a "prerequisite" to other peace steps he suggested, although he didn't say that when he first offered his second plan. That had been the first step in his first plan.

Mail Bag Wisdom

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A dental expert estimates Americans have more than 700 million unfilled cavities.

The newest status symbol among skin-diving devotees is to have prescription lenses ground for their underwater goggles.

SOME AUTHORITIES believe that one reason women are safer drivers than men is that they daydream less while behind the wheel.

A study has found that families which include working wives spend 15 per cent more for alcohol and 10 per cent more for tobacco than those in which the wives remain at home.

Specialists believe sedentary, middle-aged men might avoid heart trouble if they jogged or trotted each day until they could do a mile or more in this fashion without undue strain.

PEOPLE IN a food-short tomorrow may munch on dried yeast instead of meat, since yeast can make protein more efficiently than any other plant or animal on earth. A pig produces only six pounds of pork for every 100 pounds of feed; yeast, on the same amount of feed, yields 65 pounds of protein.

Quotable notables: "If you live only for yourself, you are always in immediate danger of being bored to death with the repetition of your own views and interest." — Dr. Beran Wolfe.

If you want to do something for science, you can will it your body. And from all sources they get only 3,000 bodies of the 7,400 they say they really need for instruction purposes.

ALMOST 25 per cent of U.S. households now have two or more television sets.

Americans now spend approximately $600 million a year to park their cars — not including what they pay for parking tickets.

Can you identify the U.S. presidents who bore these nicknames: "Second John," "Flatboat Man," "Uncle Jumbo," and "Red"? They were, in order, John Quincy Adams, Abraham Lincoln, Grover Cleveland, and Calvin Coolidge.

It was Nicholas Chamfort, French wit, who observed, "A beautiful woman is paradise for the eyes, hell for the soul, and purgatory for the purse."

Proper Diet Won't Stunt Normal Growth

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son is 13. He is 4 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 115 which makes him overweight.

I would like to put him on a diet but am afraid this would interfere with his growth. Is there a remedy like growth hormones or other medication?

When could he start dieting? Obviously puberty is now beginning. — MRS. J. E. M.

This lad is within normal limits in height for his age. But as you say, he is overweight.

Depending upon his present eating habits, a simple restriction of sugars, confections, desserts and fats may be all he needs. Starches (including sugar) and fats are high in calories and can pack on the pounds, but they are not necessary for normal growth.

If he avoids sweets, he will still get such starches as he needs from other foods. If he stops eating fried foods and gravies, he will cut down his fat intake but will certainly get enough fat for his needs from other sources. Americans on the average eat something like twice as much fat as they need or should eat.

Likewise he can drink skim milk instead of whole milk. This again will reduce his fat intake but will not deprive him of calcium and the other constituents of milk which he needs for strong, sound growth.

Your own doctor may elect to put him on a more specific diet of 1,000 to 1,500 calories but in that case you should follow his directions as to what the diet should contain.

It is, however, quite possible for you to reduce his total calories substantially without harming him and without retarding his growth.

One important matter to consider is whether the boy is getting plenty of exercise, or does he tend to be a sitter? Exercise is a normal way to use up excess calories as well as contributing to his general health.

As to a growth stimulator (growth hormone) I would abandon that thought.

Ultimate height (and this lad has at least three or four more years to grow) is largely governed by heredity, and we ought to be very sure we know what we are doing before we interfere too casually with nature's plans.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that eating too many pickles and olives can make your red blood corpuscles turn white. I eat at least one small jar of olives a week and five pickles. — C. M.

Forget it. There's nothing to the story.

Around The Rim

The Unfinished Bridge

One thing and another:

If you go to Mexico by way of McAllen and Hidalgo, you make your way across an ancient bridge that sways gently to and fro if you are aboard at the same time a heavy truck happens to be going over.

Within sight of the old span is a spanking new bridge, construction of which stopped short of completion two years ago.

The new arch was started from the American side of the Rio Grande River but never quite made it to Mexico. It seems the owner of the property on the other side of the river suddenly decided the price of real estate had gone up.

THE LAND BARON reportedly is asking something like $80,000 in unmarked American bills for the right to plant the bridge on the Mexican side. Until he gets it, commuters are either going to have to take their chances on the old bridge or wade across the river.

Twenty feet more and the bridge would have been completed.

The spacious customs office maintained by the United States was built at the north end of the new bridge and is operated there today. For that reason, those individuals coming in from Mexico must make a 90-degree turn into the customs office.

CARE TO STAGE a party amid historical surroundings?

Then the old isle of Alcatraz might be just the spot. Abandoned as a federal prison almost four years ago, the spot of land is now for rent—to certain selected tenants—for $2,000 a day.

MGM studios in Hollywood recently leased the island to film a picture, planning on a stay of a week or 10 days. The agency doing the leasing is the General Services Administration.

Imagine having a sock hop right on Al Capone's old cell block.

CARE TO HAVE an elephant stuffed and mounted? The going price is $12,000.

Inflation is running rampant in the field of taxidermy because the craft is becoming a lost art in this enlightened age.

It costs up to $50 to mount a deer's head in some areas.

Not all those big fish you see displayed from a polished board in some friend's den are real, either. Many are plastic models, now much preferred to the real thing.

Increasing Racial Friction

WASHINGTON — The cause of civil rights in America would be further ahead today if it were not for the mistakes still being made by some of the individuals and organizations professing to speak for the Negroes. An example is the news that has just come from Bimini in the Bahamas, where a group of seven Negro leaders and state legislators announced, after a conference with Adam Clayton Powell, that a national organization of "Negroes elected to public office" would be formed.

IN CALIFORNIA, there was recently organized a "conference of Negro elected officials," and the same thing has been done in New York and Arizona. No comparable organization of whites is in existence, nor is there any such assembly of elected officials who happen to belong to any other racial or religious group.

THERE HAVE been in recent months, moreover, cries for a crusade in the name of "black power." This has lost Negro leaders the support of some citizens in both races. The principle behind the whole civil-rights movement is that there shall be no racial or religious discrimination by persons in public office or by the use of federal facilities. This has been taken to mean that racial groups should not be isolated by others and should not isolate themselves within the American governmental or political system. The organization of Negroes in a separate association of elected officials can only accentuate racial friction and retard the efforts of those Negroes as well as whites who have been trying hard to eliminate the color line in public affairs.

THE DISSENT among the Negroes themselves against some of their leaders is increasing. The other day, the Houston Chronicle published a letter from a local resident — Elton A. Wilborn — who said in part:

"I am a Negro. I am proud of the accomplishments of the American Negro. In the past 12 years, I have followed with interest and supported financially the civil rights drive.

"I had deep respect for such leaders as Dr. Martin L. King, Roy Wilkins, Farmer, et al. My respect became lukewarm when they began supporting such as Stokley Carmichael, and criticizing American foreign policy, especially as pertains to Vietnam which I support wholeheartedly.

"MY RESPECT for these leaders now has become very cold, due to their support of ex-Congressman Adam Clayton Powell. It is hard to believe that men of such training and stature could honestly support a man who not only has been proven to have abused his office and trust, but has also been held, and still is, in contempt of court.

"On top of all this, Mr. Powell's absentee record is among the worst in the history of the U.S. Congress, for other than health reasons. This fact indicates that he did not have the best interest of his constituents at heart.

"THE ARGUMENT that others do what Mr. Powell did is not logical. In the event my neighbor commits a disdeed, does it justify my committing a misdeed? In the event it is proven that other congressmen are guilty of the same breach of ethics then they too should lose their seats. . . . .

"The race argument simply does not hold water. On the contrary, I believe that had Mr. Powell been white, he would have been denied his seat years ago. Sen. Bilbo from Mississippi was white and he was denied his seat after years of serving in the Senate. The charges against Bilbo were minor compared to the charges against Mr. Powell. Mr. Powell can only blame Mr. Powell for his current problem."

THE CIVIL-RIGHTS movement today in America owes its progress to the activities of persons of all races who wish to see achieved the broad goals of equality of treatment for every citizen irrespective of race. Discrimination is to be deplored, but its practice will not be eliminated by devices that emphasize racial consciousness.

Will The Buyer Become Active Again?

NEW YORK (AP) — April is the cruellest month, the poet said, and already some evidence of this has been provided by April fool jokes and more support is upcoming April 17, the deadline for income tax payments.

The showers seem also to be drawing some flowers from the dead land, risking death by frostbite perhaps in the unpredictable economic climate.

SOME SAP seems to flow again through that dried and shriveled husk called consumer confidence. There seems some indication now that nourishment is being provided by those swollen savings accounts.

Evidence that the consumer might become more active in the market comes from the University of Michigan.

The latest Michigan survey shows that the confidence line, which had dropped steadily for a year or so, has begun to wiggle upward a bit. Hopefully it will continue to strain that way.

REFLECTING THIS hope, General Motors officials say there are now definite signs of a spring upturn in automobile sales. "There is a rising reservoir of consumer cash reserves for needed and wanted purchases," an official said.

This statement sounds very good until the damp cloud of memory obscures the sunny outlook, reminding the listener that the statement is similar to what auto officials have said weekly throughout the automotive sales drouth.

THIS IS THE critical month for the automotive industry. If the consumer is not "strongly tempted," as GM officials hope he will be, then this year could really be a horrible year for autos.

Already car dealers begin April with 1.5 million vehicles, or enough for the next two months without additional production. Such inventories, and the realization that they must be worked off, awe economic analysts.

There is a more positive direction to the recent turn in interest rates. Most money men feel rates will continue to fall. Some even foresee another drop this month in the prime interest rate, a rate basic to all others.

BUT THERE is evidence also that the rising thermometer might also measure a rise in some consumer prices. And rising prices, tempers and temperatures is the formula for a long hot summer for the housewife and those near here when she explodes.

Jobs will continue to be plentiful during April, despite layoffs in spots and a possible further reduction in the number of overtime hours available.

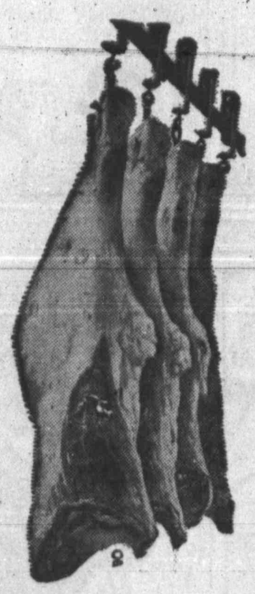

Estimates early in April of the direction the stock market might take are not nearly as precise. Neither are the forecasts clearly on the side of the bulls, as some people seem to think. Many advisors, including some to the big institutional investors, still see mixed weather. Some even are suspicious.

Stewardess Takes Walk

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Miss Champa Malkani, 24, walked 5¾ miles the other day at an average speed of just under 600 miles per hour.

Miss Malkani, an Air India hostess, carried a pedometer during a London-New York flight as part of a company experiment to see how much walking their hostesses do.

On the subsequent return journey to London, Miss Malkani walked only 3¾ miles, but it was a late night flight and the hostess did not have to serve drinks or dinner.

Celtics Domination Seems About Over In The NBA

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics' eight-year reign as National Basketball Association champions teetered on the brink today, and one member of the Philadelphia 76ers was already reading the obituary notice.

"It's all over . . . I think so, I really do," said Hal Greer after the 76ers won a 107-102 nationally televised thriller Sunday at Boston Garden to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 Eastern Division final playoffs.

"We're not going to let up just because we're two up," the veteran backcourt star added. "We're going to bear down even harder than ever."

The Celtics weren't quite ready for the funeral yet, and even the other 76ers were a bit more cautious. But both sides agreed that the way Philadelphia beat Boston at its own game was significant.

"We ran, we got the ball up the floor, we played good defense," said 76ers Coach Alex Hannum. "We did what Boston usually does."

The 76ers used another Celtics standby — a new hero for each crucial spot — but once again it was 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain who dominated over-all action with 15 points, 29 rebounds, five assists and five blocked shots.

"We'll show up for the third game in Philadelphia Wednesday night," Player-Coach Bill Russell said. "We wouldn't show up if we didn't think we had a chance."

Chet Walker's 23 points led the balanced 76ers attack. Wally Jones had 22, Greer 17, Luke Jackson 15 and Bill Cunningham 13.

John Havlicek had 26 and Bailey Howell 22 for Boston.

In the only other playoff game over the weekend, San Francisco took a 2-0 lead over St. Louis in the Western Division finals with a 143-136 triumph in San Francisco Saturday night.

The third and fourth games of the series will be played in St. Louis on Wednesday and Saturday.

Few Repeat In Aquatics

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — There have been four championships decided in National AAU indoor diving and only one 1966 titlist has repeated.

But one of those eliminated, Chuck Knorr of Columbus, Ohio, who failed in the one-meter dive Sunday, has another chance. He is defending champion in platform diving, the final event to be held. It will be run off here Wednesday.

Sue Gossick of Tarzania, Calif., was the only defending champion to make it. She won the women's three-meter final with 416.40 Sunday.

Previously, Keith Russell of Arizona State University, won the men's three-meter while Lesley Bush, a 1964 Olympic champion from Princeton, N.J., took the women's one-meter.

Bernie Wrightson of Phoenix, Ariz., was defending champion in men's three-meter. Joel O'Connell of Santa Clara, Calif., was the 1966 women's one-meter.

Miss Gossick and Micki King of Ann Arbor, Mich., who finished second in the three-meter, will go to the Pan American Games in Canada.

Patsy Willard of Phoenix is defending champion in women's platform diving. She puts her title on the line Wednesday afternoon.

Texans Grabbed Up In ABA Cage Draft

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)— Texas collegians were plentiful in the first draft of the newly formed American Basketball Association Sunday.

Nine were taken, including Darrell Hardy, Baylor's 6-7 star, and Denny Holman, ace of Southern Methodist, both drafted by Anaheim, Calif.

Charles Beasley, another Southern Methodist standout, was drafted by Indianapolis.

Dallas took Jeff Fitch of East Texas State.

Denver reached to Texas at El Paso for Neville Shedd and David Lattin, stars of the NCAA champions of 1966.

Houston chose Tony Eatman of Pan American and Guy Manning of Prairie View.

Louisville took Earl Beecham of Midwestern.

The two clubs in Texas, Houston and Dallas, drafted the following in addition to Fitch, Eatman and Manning:

Houston—Bob Benfield, West Virginia; Bob Reidy, Duke; Frank Stronezek, American International; Keith Swagerty, University of Pacific; Don Carlos, Otterbein; Hal Hale, Utah State; Jim Monahana, Notre Dame; Mike Gnau, Oregon State; Jerry Pettway, Northwood, Mich.; Dale Schlueter, Colorado State University.

Dallas—Paul Brateris, Tennessee Wesleyan; Ted Manning, North Carolina A&T; Duane Heckman, Dickinson; Gilbert McDowell, Tennessee Wesleyan; Jerry Southwood, Vanderbilt; Tom Storm, Montana State; Matt Altch, Michigan State; Jim Burns, Northwestern.

Henderson Gets Stephenville Job

STEPHENVILLE — Johnnie L. Henderson, formerly head coach at Forney, has been named head coach and athletic director of the Stephenville schools. He replaces Kenneth Scott.

Henderson's Forney team went to the Class A State finals in 1966. He also served as track coach at Forney, where his teams won seven district championships in eight years.

He coached at Avery, Ryle (now Grady Spruce in Dallas) and Royce City before moving to Forney.

Reflected Glory Doesn't Shine As Derby Favorite

By The Associated Press

An agonizing reappraisal of Kentucky Derby eligibles was under way today in the wake of the surprising out-of-the-money finish of Reflected Glory in the Florida Derby.

Reflected Glory, who had replaced Successor as the winter book Kentucky Derby favorite after his smashing come-from-behind victory in the Flamingo at Hialeah, finished seventh to In Reality in the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park last Saturday.

What happened? Reflected Glory had beaten In Reality by 3½ lengths in the Flamingo. This time the Hirsch Jacobs-trained colt didn't make up any ground on In Reality, who took the $99,400 first money by 2¼ lengths over Biller.

"He kept trying," said Jorge Velasquez, the jockey on Reflected Glory. "But he didn't seem able to handle the track as well as he did at Hialeah."

Some people pointed to the slower pace as hampering a come-from-behind colt like Reflected Glory.

In Reality blazed the first six furlongs of the Flamingo in 1:09 4-5 and couldn't hold off the stretch burst of Reflected Glory who did the 1¼ miles in 1:48 3-5. Saturday the time for the first six furlongs was 1:12 with In Reality doing the 1¼ in 1:50 1-5. The track was listed as fast.

Earlie Fires, who rode In Reality for owner Mrs. Frances A. Geneter of Minneapolis, said his saddle slipped a little on the last turn, "but I wasn't worried. He ran a game race."

The defeat of Reflected Glory probably will move Damascus, winner of the recent Bay Shore at Aqueduct for Mrs. Edith Bancroft, into the favorite spot for the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs next month. Famed jockey Willie Shoemaker has picked the son of Sword Dancer as "my Derby horse if trainer Frank Whiteley likes me."

In Reality moved up in the Derby picture, of course, along with Disciplinarian who beat Solo Landing by three lengths in 1:10 4-5 in the six furlong Pimlico Stakes at Baltimore. Still to be heard from is Dr. Fager, who is expected to make his first 1967 start in the Gotham at Aqueduct next week.

The $50,000 Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park on Saturday and the California Derby at Golden Gate Fields next week will help clarify the Kentucky Derby picture even more.

Cool Archer Wins Meet

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — "How would you like to be leading this tournament and learn you had to play your last round paired with Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders?"

That's what one gallery member asked his buddy Sunday before the last round of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament in which George Archer found himself playing with Palmer and Sanders.

"I'd probably blow up," was the reply.

Well, Archer didn't blow up. He maintained his poise and the lead by shooting a 68 over the par 71 Sedgewood Country Club course.

It gave him a 72-hole total of 267, 17 under par and two shots better than the old record, for first prize money of $25,000 in the $125,000 event.

It also earned for him an invitation to the Masters Tournament opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga.

Archer, a 27-year-old fourth-year pro whose only previous pro tour victory was the Lucky International at San Francisco, his home town, two years ago, was two shots ahead of Sanders, a 64 finisher for a 269 worth $15,000.

Palmer shot a 66 for third at 271, good for $9,375 to make him the first to go over $800,000 in official winnings. He also took over this year's money lead at better than $54,000.

Archer three-putted the first hole, for his only bogey, and had to make two late birdies to reach the turn in 35, one under, to retain a two-shot lead over the charging Sanders and Palmer, two of the finest and most popular golfers on the tour.

They both turned in 31 and the pressure was on the leader.

But Archer picked up two back nine birdies to withstand a third-birdie finish by Sanders, the defending champion. Palmer finished erratically, with three birdies, three pars and three bogeys.

The day produced a tournament record 33-30—63 by John Schlee, Phoenix, Ariz., pro in his second year on the tour. He finished tied for eighth at 277 to win $3,687.50.

Dave Stockton, tied with Archer for the 54-hole lead, drove into the woods for a first-hole double bogey. He never regained his earlier form and finished with 74 for 273 and fourth place worth $6,250.

Charlie Sifford's 68 for 274 meant fifth place and $5,375.

Ags Suddenly Come Awake

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M may be the surprise team in the Southwest Conference baseball campaign.

The slumbering Aggies, who scored only one run in losing their first three conference games, awoke with a roar last week, belting league-leading Southern Methodist 10-5 and Baylor 5-3.

The Aggies jumped from last place to fourth and meet the cellar-dwelling Rice Owls at Houston Friday and Saturday.

Texas A&M was one of four teams to share the conference title last year with 9-6 records. It was the first time that a team won the title with as many as six defeats.

Southern Methodist, which won only four games last year and finished last, has a big jump on the conference this season.

The Mustangs have won five of seven games and will pass the halfway mark of the 15-game season when they play a two-game series with Texas Christian this week. None of the other five conference teams competing for the baseball title will have reached that point.

Although second-place Texas and third-place TCU also have lost only twice, those games already in the win column give SMU an edge.

The Mustangs swept a two-game series from Rice last weekend, winning 7-2 and 2-0. The Saturday game saw the end of Bill Rainer's 16-game hitting streak for SMU.

Baylor and Texas A&M were locked in a 1-1 game until the eighth inning Saturday. Then the Aggies put over four runs with Lou Camilli driving in a pair with a bases loaded single and Joe Staples pushing across the other two with a single.

In other games Friday and Saturday, Texas is at Baylor.

Runnels Barely Misses First

For a moment Saturday it appeared the Runnels Junior High tracksters would stage a mighty upset and win the Kermit relays in the ninth grade division.

Needing only a third place to grab the meet, Runnels was running in the spot in the mile relay until 10 yards from the finish. The fourth place, however, gave the Runnels a total of 95 points, only 2 1-3 behind Fort Stockton. New Mexico Hilands of Hobbs has 91, followed by Monahans 84, Kermit 81½ and Levelland 55.

Fort Stockton won on strength of a strong showing in field events, betting 15 points to only three for Runnels.

Runnels placings included:

Ricky Ray Thomas, first in 100-yard dash 10.6; Louis Switzer, first in 70-yard high hurdles, 9.4 (record); Charles Huff, Kyle Rosene, Herman Evans and Ricky Thomas, first in 440-yard relay, 46.8; Ricky Thomas, Kyle Rosene, Herman Evans, Charles Huff, first in 880-yard relay, 1:37.6.

Herman Evans, scored in 75-yard dash, 8.2; Fernando Mendoza, third in 660-yard run, 1:34.7; Louis Switzer, fourth in 120-yard low hurdles, 14.8; Lupe Rodriquez, fourth in 1,320-yard run, 3.52; Henry Salazar, Charlie Rodriquez, Fernando Mendoza, Johnny Rutherford fourth in mile relay, 3:57; Roman Ramirez, fifth in 1,320-yard run, 3:53; Ricky Peurifoy, fifth in chinning, 15; Noel Brooks, sixth in chinning, 14.

In the eighth grade division Runnels placings included: first, Lane in 660-yard run; second, Krebs in low hurdle; third, DeBosque in discus, Dunbar in 100-yard dash, Viera, 1,320-yard run, Krebbs in 70-yard high hurdles; fourth, Viera, chinning; fifth, Runnels 880 relay team; sixth, Lane, discus, Lane 330-yard dash; Runnels 440-yard relay team; Peterson and Franklin, tied in high jump. Runnels eighth graders piled up 54 2-11 points.

Cards Open By Blanking Odessa Club

Ronnie Osteen, pitching superb ball, shackled the Odessa Angels here Sunday while his mates were capitalizing on bits and enemy miscues to launch the Sacred Heart Cardinals to an opening win, 6-0.

Osteen did not allow anything but singles, and no more than one in any inning. He gave up only four walks, two of them the first two men to face him. However, in the opening frame he settled to pop Garcia and Covos to center and struck out A. Stone. A hit and walk in the second got him in trouble, but he promptly whiffed the next two batters. After that he had the Odessans eating out of his hand.

The game was played at Teen-Age Park, where the Cardinals will entertain the Midland Rebels next Sunday.

Steers To Open Home Season

Fans will get to see the Big Spring Steer baseballers in action in their first district home game here Tuesday.

It will be under more challenging circumstances, for Oakey Hagood's charges (1-1 in district play) face the Abilene Cooper Cougars, who are leading the league with two wins and no losses.

Last week the Steers opened with a victory over Midland Lee, but Saturday they faltered with a couple of bad innings and lost to Odessa 11-6. It was the first time Big Spring pitching had broken down in six games. Big Spring is 9-4 for the season.

Robinson-White Trade Continues To Be Sour

By The Associated Press

The much publicized and criticized Frank Robinson and Bill White trades resulted in another minus for the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals after a weekend of adding and subtracting.

The Reds crossed the name of relief pitcher Jack Baldschun off their roster Sunday, another unkindly cut against the deal that sent Robinson to Baltimore before last season and brought Baldschun, Milt Pappas and Dick Simpson to the Reds.

Robinson, of course, went on to win the Most Valuable Player award in the American League while the Cincinnati trio failed to distinguish themselves.

The Cardinals gave up on pitcher Art Mahaffey a day earlier when they sent him to the New York Mets with Jerry Buchek and infielder Tony Martinez for infielder Ed Bressoud, outfielder Danny Napoleon and cash.

Mahaffey, once a 20-game winner with Philadelphia, came to the Cardinals with Alex Johnson and Pat Corrales for White, Dick Groat and Bob Ucker.

REDS UNLOAD

The Reds put a former major league pitcher label on several others as they sent Jim Duffalo, Dick Stigman, Roland Sheldon and Dom Zanni shuffling off to their Buffalo farm club.

Joe Nuxhall, the youngest player ever to appear in a major league game at 15, left of his own accord, retiring at the age of 39 to become a sportscaster.

Kansas City bundled up pitchers Diego Segui, Jim Dickson and Dick Joyce and catcher Rene Lachemann and sent them to Vancouver.

The Mets played the good guys, welcoming Ralph Terry, another former 20-game winner, to their roster after a good performance Saturday. But they dropped pitchers Tug McGraw and Rob Gardner and catcher Johnny Stephenson.

GOOD TOSSING

Sammy Ellis, Curt Simmons and Juan Pizarro joined Terry with good shows Sunday as they tried to erase lackluster seasons in 1966, but Camilo Pascual's comeback took a turn for the worse.

Ellis, a 19-game loser last season, allowed two hits in five innings and combined with 18-year-old rookie Gary Nolan for a five-hitter that beat Philadelphia 2-0 at Tampa, Fla., as the spring training season moved into its final week.

Simmons allowed one run and three hits in seven innings as the Chicago Cubs dropped California 3-2 in Palm Springs, Calif.

Pizarro, bothered by arm trouble last year, limited the New York Yankees to three runs in seven innings and his Pittsburgh teammates clobbered the Yankees 9-3 at San Juan, P.R. Donn Clendenon hit two homers as he and Gene Alley each knocked in four runs. Mickey Mantle hit his first homer of the spring for the Yankees.

PASCUAL CLUBBED

Pascual, also injury-ridden in 1966, fared poorly against Minnesota, his former club, as the Twins bombed him for six runs and beat the Washington Senators 9-6 at Orlando, Fla.

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Houston Astros, playing like the regular season already has begun, struggled through 17 innings in the Astrodome before Dick Schofield tripled and scored on Claude Raymond's wild pitch for a 4-3 Dodger victory.

Tigers Open With Win Over Odessa

TOM ARISTA

ODESSA — The Big Spring Tigers exploded with two big innings to crush the Odessa Dorados here Sunday in an opening baseball game for both.

Danny Valdes registered no strikeouts but neither did he give up any walks while scattering eight hits well. He had it won in the sixth, although the Tigers added six more runs in the ninth. Tom Arista tore Dorado pitchers up with his hitting, gathering a pair of triples and six RBIs. He got three in the sixth, scoring Mendoza, Pineda and Fierro, who had all walked. Valdes had batted in Rodriquez, and came home on Mendoza's walk. Martinez and Rodriquez walked to open the ninth, and Flores walked to jam the sacks. Valdes, helping his cause, singled to center, scoring two. Mnedoza walked and Arista again tripled.

Odessa got three runs in the second when Benavidez singled to center and Roman to right, through short. Mata scored when Valenzuela's grounder was mishandled at second. the fourth when Roman walked, Hinojos was safe on an error, Tucker and Valenzuela hit safely. Lopez sacrificed in the final run.

GO-SLOW SIGN

Tax Loopholes Are Examined

EDITOR'S NOTE — Some people in and out of Congress are urging tax reform — a general closing of loopholes—as a substitute for President Johnson's proposed six per cent income surtax.

Through those loopholes pours an estimated $50 billion a year.

Are major tax reforms in the offing? Writer Sterling F. Green, a member of the AP's Washington special assignment team, reports on the prospects and also examines some of the major tax loopholes in the following story.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has planted a go-slow sign in the way of congressional proposals to plug some of the major tax loopholes through which an estimated $50 billion of revenue escape every year.

Instead of a major loophole-closing, officials expect President Johnson to seek modest changes, mostly cinching up corporation tax rules and offsetting any revenue increases by tax relief for lower-income families.

The presidential package won't reach Congress until July or August, under present plans. They could not be enacted before 1968. And under White House orders, the revisions will not produce a gain in revenues.

LITTLE AND LATE

"The reforms will be little and late," predicted Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a ranking member of the Senate-House Economic Committee.

He has urged prompt loophole-closing as a substitute for Johnson's proposed 6 per cent general surtax at midyear on most income taxes. But Reuss reported no signs of a major tax reform effort in the executive branch and added, in an interview: "Unless there is strong presidential leadership you cannot get real tax reforms out of Congress.

"Congress is where the vested interests live. The White House is where the national interest lives."

Administration aides agree that the President's promised reform package won't go to Capitol Hill until after Congress takes its action, if any, on Johnson's tax surcharge proposal.

LBJ SAYS 'NO'

And they concur that Johnson in effect has said "no" to the Reuss plan — and is not changing his mind. Johnson's economic report to the new Congress in January said proposals to reduce tax inequities and distortions were being prepared, but the President added: "These proposals will be designed to avoid significant revenue effects."

He is expected to ask clampdowns, of still undisclosed severity, on asserted tax abuses by private foundations, on the swelling flood of tax-exempt "industrial development bonds" issued by cities, and on the mushroom growth of mulitple-unit corporations being organized to claim surtax exemptions in wholesale quantities.

DRASTIC REFORMS

But an apparently growing number of lawmakers wants reforms considerably more drastic in impact, to lighten the load on the less-favored taxpayer.

In the group, besides Reuss, are Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., who joined Reuss in attaching a separate demand for reforms to the annual report of the Senate-House Economic Committee; Republican Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, who bedeviled Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler about oil and gas depletion allowances in last month's tax hearings; Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and others.

'PREFERENCES'

Some cite a 1963 estimate that potential revenue totaling $40 billion a year escapes through the honeycomb of "preferences" in tax laws. The figure probably should be $45 billion now because of growth in income, taxed and untaxed.

But not even a determined loophole-closing drive could possibly recover much more than half that. Some "preferences" are not likely to be tampered with, like those benefiting the blind, aged, crippled and ailing — or even the income-splitting privilege of married couples.

But some huge and heretofore "untouchable" loopholes are now drawing public criticism. One is the virtually all-inclusive tax exemption of the churches, among other tax-exempt organizations. Another is the unlawful — and therefore untaxable — segment of the "industry" of gambling.

OWN GOOD

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike estimates that the churches — moving ever more rapidly and deeply into business by borrowing, buying, investing and reinvesting their tax-exempt income — probably avoid with complete legality more than $4 billion of federal income taxes. That roughly matches estimates of the local taxes they do not pay on their real estate holdings.

For the churches' own good, Bishop Pike contends, their business enterprises should be taxed like other business to avoid future dangers to society and the church itself.

Other churchmen share the bishop's concern. The magazine "Christianity Today" recently published the estimate that with present tax exemptions and prudent management "the churches ought to be able to control the whole economy of the nation within the predictable future."

GAMBLING

Gambling represents not a loophole but a floodgate of escaping revenue. The bishop's guess on the potential revenues from church-owned businesses is dwarfed by a newly published estimate that gambling could pour $30 billion into the Treasury each year — if the government would legalize and control all organized gambling, and take for itself a cut of the profits that now finance rackets, crime, loan-sharking, prostitution and encroachments on legitimate businesses.

All the preferences and loopholes together — and counting the various special treatments of the oil, gas and minerals industries as being worth perhaps $5 billion (higher than some estimates, but much lower than recent estimates of up to $10 billion) — seem to add up to well over $50 billion.

$55 BILLION

That roughly matches the amount — $55 billion — which the Treasury expects to collect by April 17 from all American taxpayers in 1966 income taxes.

Reuss, Bolling and colleagues don't ask or expect anything nearly so drastic as an assault on church exemptions or an attempt to legalize gambling.

Reuss prodded Secretary Fowler, during February hearings on the President's economic report, to work up just $3 billion or $4 billion worth of immediate loophole-closers as a substitute for Johnson's proposed tax surcharge.

"Bring in a reform package and let us take the responsibility," Reuss challenged.

Fowler said Assistant Secretary Stanley S. Surrey was working up a package and promised: "You'll have your reforms."

MILES APART

But their ideas on reform are miles apart. Reuss wants a quick start on revisions to capture some of the billions legally immune from taxation. This would help quell the inflationary pressures which Johnson foresees in second-half 1967, Reuss said, but would not hit consumers so hard as to bring on the recession which many economists fear.

"The loophole dollars we'd collect are not the dollars that buy goods and services," Reuss said in an interview.

"The money we'd go after is the untaxed income which now goes into over-saving and over-investment — which just bids up stock prices and real estate prices.

PAYMENTS PROBLEM

"A lot of it goes overseas in search of higher investment profits. That aggravates the balance of payments problem," he added.

In their joint statement of March 17, attached to the Joint Economic Committee's critical report on Johnson's economic program, Reuss and Bolling said: "We reiterate this committee's repeated recommendations to reform our national tax structure and to plug the loopholes that allow so many, particularly in the middle and upper income brackets, to escape their due share of the national tax burden.

"Such a reform would yield billions."

OIL ANGLE

Another House member, Rep. Herbert Tenzer, D-N.Y., has introduced a bill to create a "commission on unequal taxation" to overhaul the tax laws, with the 27½ per cent oil and gas depletion allowances as a specific target. Nobody in the administration or in Congress expects Johnson to mount an attack on the allowances.

Johnson's declared position is that reform and revenue don't mix. And to avoid any "significant budgetary effects" in his tax package, officials report, any loophole closings which add to federal revenues would be canceled out by revenue-losers.

Officials explained: To seek broad reforms would incite bitter controversy. That could delay the tax surcharge, which will be needed in a hurry if needed at all. And the whole surcharge strategy could be spoiled by enacting a permanently higher revenue level, because Johnson wants a temporary tax boost to curb inflation but quickly removable if inflation subsides.

Privately, they argue further: Opening up the tax code for revision could invite even more raids on the Treasury. They point to last year's "Christmas tree bill" — the Foreign Investors Tax Act. It wound up decorated with a dozen unrelated special tax amendments having a potential annual cost to the Treasury of about $125 million.

Australian Ground Sweep Puts Pressure On Commies

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military headquarters today announced two new major ground sweeps — including the biggest operation so far by Australian forces in Vietnam — aimed at steadily increasing the pressure on Communist units.

The U.S. command said 19 ground actions are currently under way seeking out Communist units from the highlands to the marshes of the Mekong Delta. But only scattered contact was reported, with 60 to 65 of the enemy killed.

The U.S. command also said the Australian guided missile cruiser Hobart, which joined allied forces off the coast last Friday, shelled a Viet Cong assembly point below Quang Tri City. It was the first offshore bombardment by an Australian ship in the Vietnamese war.

FORCES FAN OUT

The biggest U.S. ground operation of the war, Operation Junction City in Tay Ninh Province near Cambodia, continued to run into significant numbers of Viet Cong troops in the area where a Red regiment lost at least 581 men last Friday and Saturday. A U.S. spokesman said the U.S. troops reported killing 25 to 30 Viet Cong in scattered skirmishes today.

It appeared that small Viet Cong units were still fleeing the area of the major battle, and U.S. forces were fanning out to catch them.

The Australian ground sweep in coastal Phuoc Tuy Province began March 21 but was kept under security wraps until Monday. It numbers perhaps 4,000 men, including U.S. soldiers under Australian command.

UNDER WRAPS

The operation, called Portsea, is aimed at clearing an area long under the control of the Viet Cong and is intended to open local roads so peasants can reach the district market without harassment.

At the same time the Australians moved out, more than 1,500 U.S. soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade swept into the coastal mountain area of Phu Yen and Khanh Hoa Provinces in Operation Summerall. It, too, was kept under security wraps until today.

Neither operation encountered significant Viet Cong forces in the initial phases, the U.S. command said.

The heaviest ground fighting today was by troops of the South Korean Tiger Division who killed 16 Viet Cong in a sharp fight in Phu Yen Province on the coast. Two Korean divisions there are trying to clear a large area of the central coast and reopen the main north-south highway.

SIX GIs DIE

Also on the coast, soldiers of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division killed 19 Viet Cong in Binh Dinh Province. Sunday, while six of the Americans were killed and 20 were wounded.

All of the coastal operations are aimed partly at driving Viet Cong units back into the jungles and mountains where they cannot live off the country and where air power can blast them at base camps.

U.S. B52 bombers from Guam made three such raids in South Vietnam Sunday night and today, all against jungle areas where air and ground intelligence had spotted Communist bivouacs. One of the raids today struck at an enemy base camp only 25 miles east of Saigon.

BOMBERS DELAYED

In Bangkok, Thai and American officials said that American B52's will not begin arriving at their new base in southern Thailand today as previously announced. An American spokesman said the big bombers are not due at the Utapao airbase for "a week or two."

A spokesman for the Thai supreme command said the first B52 is scheduled to arrive at Utapao next Friday. Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said last Monday the first three B52's would arrive today at Utapao.

Pilots of U.S. fighter-bombers flew 108 missions against North Vietnam Sunday despite heavy weather that covered much of the country.

Carrier pilots hit coastal traffic at the mouth of the Red River east and southeast of Haiphong. A Phantom jet from the Enterprise pinpointed a 500-pound bomb on a 100-foot barge carrying oil and left it flaming in the mouth of the river.

FREEDOM FIGHTER

Other Air Force and Navy pilots ranged up and down the coast from the delta area to the 17th Parallel and to the west where Red supply routes filter across the Laotian border to the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Vietnamese military headquarters announced that South Vietnam's air force will receive its first jet fighter-bombers from the United States in mid-April, and they will go into action in June.

The plane will be the supersonic F5 Freedom Fighter, which the U.S. Air Force is already using in Vietnam. The headquarters said 31 Vietnamese air force officers completed combat crew training at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., last week and are the first pilots qualified in the Freedom Fighter.

Nary A Drop Of Texas Rain

By The Associated Press

A weak cold front pushed into the northern Panhandle today, but unfortunately for powder dry Texas nary a drop of rain was reported.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the front might trigger a few thundershowers tonight over the Panhandle and along the Red River.

Temperatures were to continue warm over all the state except a little cooler over the Panhandle today and tonight.

The mercury climbed to a sizzling 95 degrees Sunday at Presidio. Laredo, Waco, Wink and Cotulla reported 87 degrees.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures will average 7-10 degrees above normal in Texas the next five days. Scattered showers are expected about midweek and again along toward the weekend.

No precipitation was recorded in the state Sunday.

Vandals Attack Church Cemetery

SPOTSWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Vandals attacked a historic Middlesex church yard cemetery Sunday for the second time in two weeks, overturning 36 tombstones and demolishing some dating back to the Revolutionary War.

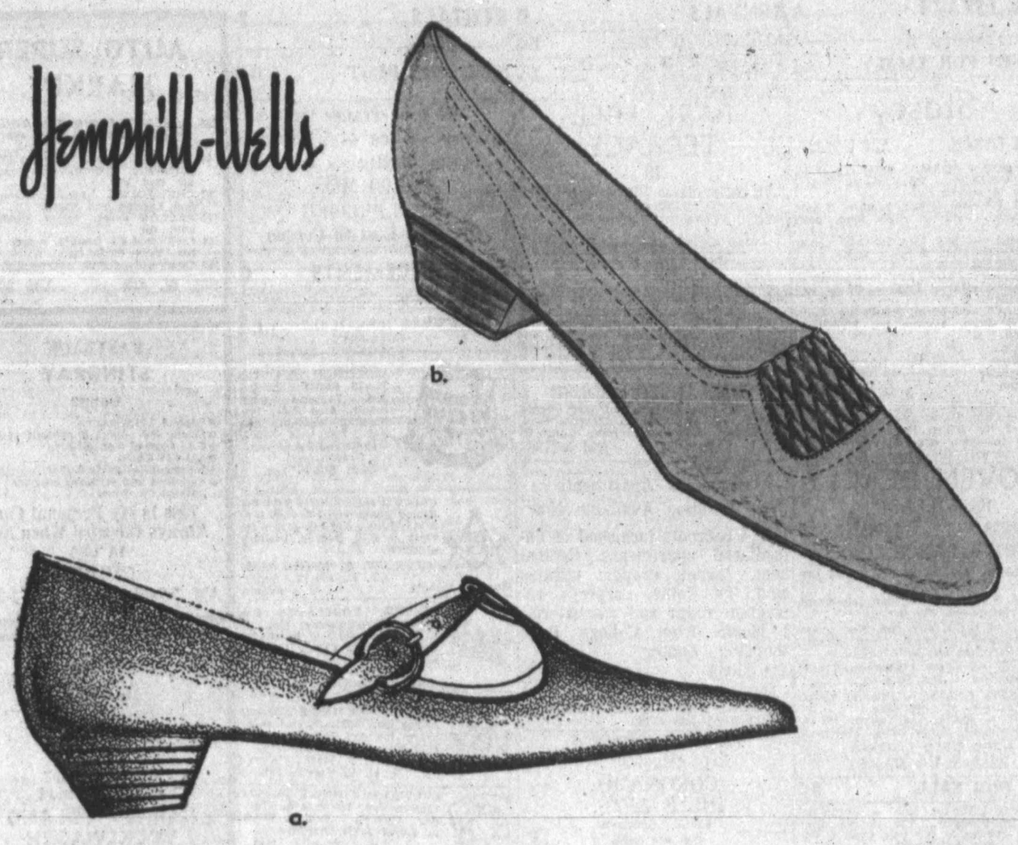

The Rev. Canon J. Perry Cox, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, estimated damages at the 211-year-old cemetery would run about $10,000.

A dozen tombstones-including those of the first three pastors of the church-were demolished.

Five tombstones had been overturned at St. Peters' two weeks ago.

Canon Cox said the church would replace the stones.

War Labeled 'Unnecessary'

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Kenneth Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, says the Vietnam war is "unnecessary" and "will be even more disastrous for the Democratic party."

Galbraith spoke Sunday as newly elected president of Americans for Democratic Action, which called Saturday night at its convention here for acceptance "without qualifications" of United Nations Secretary-General U Thant's proposals for ending the war.

The Thant proposals, however, were rejected Sunday by Nhan Dan, North Vietnam's official newspaper. The Hanoi publication was particularly critical of their lacking any reference to the Viet Cong.

Galbraith said when he heard generals "or high State Department officials speak blithely of a five- or ten-year war I am willing to believe that they have not considered the political consequences.

"Perhaps they can afford to be indifferent. But for the rest of us there is no excuse for innocence. This disaster could, indeed, mean the death and burial of the Democratic party," he told ADA.

Various aspects of U.S.-Vietnam policy also came under attack by four senators in separate forums.

Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., urged a harder line but Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., criticized he resumption of bombing. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., complained of an information gap between Congress and the war leaders.

Elements of the war policy were defended by George W. Ball, the State Department's former No. 2 man.; Roman Catholic Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio, who was sermonizing with President Johnson in the congregation; and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand.

ADA's Vietnam resolution asked immediate and unconditional cessation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and criticized policy which it said confuses "the insurgency of national independence movements with the threat of communism."

Delegates defeated a proposed commendation of the Johnson administration for favorably considering recent peace proposals.

Fans Of Monkees Hurt Policeman

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — A city policeman was injured Saturday night after a performance by the Monkees, a mop-haired American singing group, at the Winnipeg Arena.

The policeman, whose name was not released, was struck by a wire fence which collapsed when thousands of fans surged towards the rear exit in an unsuccessful bid to catch a glimpse of their departing idols.

The policeman was treated in a hospital for cuts on his head and arms and released.

Two members of the singing group were knocked to the ground by teenagers when they left the Fort Garry Hotel for the arena.

'Georgy Girl' Weds Former Child Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Lynn Redgrave, tall and blonde British actress, and actor John Clark, once a child star in Britain, were married Sunday.

The bride, 23, nominated for an Academy Award for her role as the awkward and gangling "Georgy Girl," was attended by her actress sister, Vanessa, also nominated for an Oscar.

Sir Michael Redgrave and Rachel Kempson, famous British actors, flew from London for the first marriage of their daughter.

The bridegroom, 34, was divorced two weeks ago in Mexico from his first wife, Canadian actress Kay Hawtrey. He has just left the cast of "Macbird," an off-Broadway play.
