

Screaming Japs Besiege Hagerty's Car

No Change In Ike Plan

TOKYO (AP) — Ten thousand screaming, leftist demonstrators fighting against an Eisenhower visit to Japan, besieged the car of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty for more than an hour today, slashing the tires and cracking windows.

Finally, a helicopter was used to rescue Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur II, and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens. None of them was injured.

Hagerty and Stephens had just arrived to scout Eisenhower's trip, and started into Tokyo from the airport, along the route Eisenhower is scheduled to follow nine days hence. That visit is still on, Hagerty announced, despite today's demonstration — and the White House in Washington added confirmation that the plans still hold.

Tokyo police said they had been caught by surprise today, though the demonstration against Hagerty had been announced in advance.

"It was a big blunder for us," a police spokesman said. "The Japanese government apologized."

Hagerty told a news conference tonight: "We are sure that the demonstrators in no way reflect the feeling and the attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom America has the warmest friendship."

In Washington, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President had "expressed gratification" that Hagerty and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens, who was with him, were not hurt by the demonstrators.

Asked whether the President would still go to Japan, Mrs. Wheaton said, "I know of no change of plans."

Hagerty, here to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit, said the demonstration was obviously carefully planned. He said the fact that the demonstrators were singing the "Internationale" — the song of international communism — raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

The demonstrators out to convince Hagerty that Eisenhower should postpone his trip, claim the song of international communism — raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

Shouting "Hagerty go home," the mob rushed the 10th embassy Cadillac as it started off.

The screaming, chanting demonstrators beat on the sides of the car, kicked at the doors and cracked windows on both sides.

Some crawled on top. But no one tried to enter the car or physically harm the occupants. Nor did they molest other American cars in the caravan.

Several hundred police at first made only token attempts to intervene as the mob of students and labor union members besieged Hagerty after his arrival from Okinawa to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit.

TO FLY OVER SNYDER—The Air Force's Mach 2 B-58 Supersonic bomber shown above on a training flight will soon be flying over Snyder as a part of its practice bombardment runs on San Antonio, Joplin, Mo., and Little Rock, Ark. Strategic Air Command crewmen are now training in this 1300 mph bomber built by Convair Division of General Dynamics Corporation. (Official USAF photo)

B58s To Fly Over Snyder

Supersonic jet bombers, soon to be a part of the Strategic Air Command's aerospace deterrent force, will begin flying over Snyder within the next few weeks.

The announcement, by General Thomas S. Power, SAC Commander in Chief, said these missions will be flown in Convair B-58 Hustlers. The B-58 is designed to carry nuclear weapons at twice the speed of sound (Mach 2). No weapon will be carried on these flights.

Snyder is located in an area likely to be affected by B-58 supersonic practice bombardment runs on Joplin, Mo., San Antonio, Tex., and Little Rock, Ark. Routes for the supersonic bomb runs have been approved by the Federal Aviation Agency.

"Since the B-58 is the free world's latest bomber and will replace a part of SAC's B-47 Stratofortress force, the training of SAC crews to fly in this supersonic aircraft is necessary," Gen. Power said.

The B-58 supersonic training flights will be flown in a corridor from 300 to 350 miles long at altitudes ranging from 35,000 to 50,000 feet. Other B-58 low-level flights will be flown at subsonic speeds.

Gen. Power said, "It is possible that the B-58 supersonic flights may cause sonic booms, but added, 'there is no need for alarm.'"

The general said, "The sonic booms — made sound waves from planes that crack the sound barrier — are going to be heard more and more."

Even in special tests where air planes have dived from 35,000 feet and pulled out at 35,000 feet, scientists have measured pressure no greater than 5 pounds per square foot on the ground.

Gen. Power emphasized that a sonic boom of this significance is far too weak to cause structural damage and pointed out that the B-58 bomb runs will normally be conducted in level flight.

The SAC commander continued, "SAC will do everything possible to cause as little annoyance as possible to citizens along the routes. I hope everyone will realize the necessity for training our crews under all types of situations. In every case, the safety of local residents and of our crews will be the paramount factor in our planning."

The president charged "certain interested foreign groups" with spreading false rumors so they could "have things their own way" and "split the unity of the Indonesian Republic."

He refused to identify the foreign groups.

Rumors circulated on the Amsterdam Stock Exchange Thursday that the Indonesian army had arrested Sukarno following his return from a 64-day world tour and taken over the government. The rumors were denied by Information Minister Maladi.

Sukarno spoke with newsmen immediately following a ceremony in the presidential palace at which he relieved Chief Minister Djundjanda of the presidential powers he had exercised in the president's absence.

The president told the newsmen there was perfect understanding and appreciation of Indonesia's problems between him and Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, the army chief of staff and minister of national security.

New on Friday and Saturday students from all phases of the growth and decline of the Fluvanna school will gather for "auld lang syne" whether the old times are the 1890s or the 1950s.

Saturday morning will be spent in further registration and visitation with a barbecue lunch followed by a program in the school auditorium at 2 p.m. with class reunions concluding the 1960 homecoming.

Registration for the Fluvanna Homecoming was to get underway at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Buford Browning, chairman of the food committee, reported that he had ordered $500 worth of beef to barbecue and is holding hams in reserve just in case there are more than 1,000 former students.

Bob White of Snyder, one of the first students to attend the Fluvanna school when the school term was three months long in the early 1890s, will be one of the ex-students on hand. The first school was located in the east of Light on the creek in 1891. Then, in 1900 it was moved to Light and on to Fluvanna in 1908. The school building was 32 feet by 60 feet partitioned into two classrooms by blankets and the school term was lengthened to five months.

When the first train (Roscoe Snyder and Pacific) came to Fluvanna in 1908 the towns people held a three-day picnic. Town lots were sold from $150 to $1,500 with premium lots given at a drawing. Also in 1908 the cotton gin moved from Light to Fluvanna.

The next year, 1909, the rock school was built with two rooms upstairs and two rooms downstairs, as the community enjoyed a boom.

The Fluvanna water works (one well) was installed, a depot was erected, stock pens were built, Methodist and Baptist church buildings were erected and the old school building was sold to the Presbyterian church.

Twister Hits Building At Amarillo AFB

By The Associated Press

A tornado associated with a building at Amarillo Air Force Base Thursday night as a wave of thunderstorms moved across the Panhandle of Texas.

Rain continued to fall early Friday at Amarillo where a down-pour flooded low areas and underpasses and stalled more than 250 automobiles.

The heaviest rainfall was at Amarillo Air Force Base, east of the city, where more than 4 inches fell in the two hours preceding the tornado.

The twister knocked off most of the second story of the non-commissioned officers club and caused part of the walls to collapse. Power and phone lines at the base were knocked out. There were no injuries reported among the 14,000 men stationed.

In Amarillo rain fell so fast that two feet of water flowed in the eastern part of the city. One underpass was flooded to a depth of seven feet, trapping two automobiles.

While only 1.20 inches fell during the height of the storm at Amarillo, rain continued throughout the night. At midnight the city had received 3.86 inches for an 18-hour period. Between midnight and 6 a.m. another 2.21 inches fell for a 24-hour total of 6.07 inches.

A pilot reported seeing a 40-mile-long band of thunderstorms sweeping eastward from Amarillo across the Panhandle.

An early morning thunderstorm at Amarillo dropped the temperature to 60 degrees, lowest in the state.

Skies were partly cloudy to cloudy in the Panhandle, far West Texas and along the southeast coast. Elsewhere skies were clear.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy weather through Saturday with scattered thunderstorms and little change in temperatures.

But Rockefeller countered with, "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'"

This is the crux of the issue I have raised. The people, the Republican party and the delegates to the Republican convention are entitled to know what a 'new program' means. They have a right to know before, not after, the nomination of a candidate, precisely where he stands."

The two may meet face to face today in New York. Both were scheduled to appear at a luncheon honoring Prince Philip of Britain. The vice president and Philip were in New York for the opening of the British exposition.

A MOTHER'S CHILDREN RETURNED — Mrs. Audrey Whetzel of La Puente, Calif., who is losing her sight, tearfully embraces the daughters she thought her eyes might not see again, at Los Angeles International Airport. The girls are Vickie, left, 10, and Patricia, 9. They went with her to her native Coventry, England, early last year when she returned there hoping for a cure for her progressive blindness. She returned to California in January of this year, but did not have money to bring the girls, who stayed with relatives. Nixon Says Views Known

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he has discussed key issues in more detail than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who had prodded him to make his views known before the nominating convention.

In reply, Nixon suggested that the two "have a discussion in depth" before television cameras.

The New York governor promptly rejected the proposal. He said Nixon "does not need me to interrogate him on television."

"Once the vice president has made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him," Nixon said.

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and Senate and the vice presidency I have entertained questions on every major issue."

But Rockefeller countered with, "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'"

Oil Reserves Are Adequate, Says IPAA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Domestic oil production could be increased three million barrels a day without any further drilling should a national emergency require it.

So estimates the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America. Current production averages about 7 million barrels daily. The IPAA figures that output could be kicked up almost overnight to 10 million barrels and maintained at that level for six months without any new wells.

But any such emergency undoubtedly would bring an accelerated drilling program and increased production capacity.

A program is ready for mobilization of all industries in event of an emergency. Paul Hopper of the Interior Department's Office of Oil and Gas is coordinating the program for the oil industry working with the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

One problem that might arise is one that the government and industry had to cope with in previous emergencies—that of transporting more oil and oil products from the point of production and refining to the point of consumption.

Some new tankers have been added to the nation's fleet since the Suez crisis in 1957. But no new major transcontinental pipelines for moving oil or gasoline have been added since then.

But under the plan pipelines, tankers, railroads and other methods of transportation could be mobilized as it started off.

Latest figures show that the nation's refineries are operating at about 82 per cent of capacity. The rated capacity is 9,700,000 barrels of products daily.

Plans were made to reopen 19 of the 22 shows by Monday night. The League of New York Theaters, representing the producers, unanimously agreed to accept a peace formula hammered out earlier Thursday under the direction of City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix. Members of Actors Equity Assn., by secret ballot, voted 73-54 for acceptance.

David Merrick, one of the producers, said he did not think the settlement would force a raise in ticket prices. "With careful management," Merrick said, "we will be able to hold the price line."

Under the new contract Broadway actors get their first pension fund the crux of the dispute which shattered Shubert Alley. The pension terms extend for six years, two years beyond the life of the pact.

Other terms are: Minimum pay for actors on the road will be $145 for the next two years and $150 the following two years. The present minimum is $135.

Per diem pay out of town goes to $10 or $12.50 depending on whether rehearsal payments are made. The present minimum is $7.50.

Rehearsal pay will be $82.50 for the first two years of the contract, $92.50 in 1962 and $97.50 starting in 1963. The minimum now is $75.

Minimum New York pay for actors goes from $103.50 to $117.50 a week.

Barton Zorn, the league's lawyer, described the settlement as a fair and reasonable compromise "with no victory on either side."

Helen Hayes, a member of the Equity council, hailed the settlement as "wonderful." One of the most significant aspects of the stage stoppage, she said, was that "the people of New York have been brought to a sharp realization of how important the theatre is to the city."

To finance the pension program, producers will contribute one per cent of the actor's salary the first year, two per cent in the second and third years, and three per cent in the final three years.

Merrick disclosed that a five per cent contribution by ticket brokers would add producers in holding the ticket-price line. He added that the Greater New York Hotel and Restaurant Assn. also made a contribution to the contract cost, but gave no details.

New Banks Are Rejected

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Banking Commission rejected today five applications for new state banks.

The commission approved an application for the North Dallas Bank and Trust Co. and postponed action until June 17 on the long-pending application for the San Valley State Bank in Houston.

Applications declined were for the South Texas State Bank at Fallurris, First State Bank at Farmers, B ranch, Community State Bank at Pasadena, Bank of San Angelo and American State Bank at Lamesa.

Still pending is an application for the Fair East State Bank in Fort Worth.

TV Hero's Ideal Girl: His Cleaning Woman

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"MARRIAGE is a risky business no matter how you look at it," says 27-year-old bachelor Gardner McKay.

"It's not just the 75 per cent tax bite I can't see myself in the married role right now, because I'm a worshiper of marriage," explains the tall, dark and handsome actor.

The average girl treats marriage as "sweet drudgery and enforced labor," Gardner would have us believe.

A typical wife, he says, takes this attitude:

"Oh, I've got to do those dishes. I'll only take me a couple of hours then I'll be with you, dear."

Their home is likely to be anything but the romantic setting a man visualizes, he says. But whether Gardner knows it or not, girls, he's getting ripe for marriage, because nostalgia has reached the stomach.

"I'm bored eating in restaurants. I pass seven restaurants on my way to the studio set in the morning. Each day I try to choose a different one. Then I try to vary the menu. One day creamed chipped beef, the next, French toast. It's disgusting. The food at the studio lot is good, so I eat lunch there every day. But it's not a home cooked meal," Gardner says wistfully.

His dream girl must accept marriage and her home as a lovely experience, but he doesn't know that he'll meet her.

"The only girl who comes close to my ideal is my cleaning woman," he says. "She's 35 years old, plays the horses, but takes her work in chemistry. She may marry her yet."

Gardner remembers a girl he liked—the cheerleader at Darien, Conn. High School where he played football and basketball. They were 15 at the time. He spent a year at the school, and he has wonderful memories of those fun days. An outdoor type, he hunts, fishes, skindives.

The 6-ft-5 star of "Adventures in Paradise" is a multi-faceted individual. After two years at Cornell he became a copywriter with an advertising agency in New York, but gave it up because his accounts had one thing in common: they were boring. He scripts free-form designs in metal (two are in museums) and is a big man with the camera, having sold a number of pictures, including some of the Andrea Doria ship collision. He was aboard the Ile de France at the time.

Gardner majored in English. He wanted to be a writer.

"I suddenly realized I didn't have that much to say, although I think I have a good way of saying it," he remarks.

A date with a girl in Los Angeles is likely to be for a film show or a concert.

"I work hard so I don't get involved as much as other fellows. I'm on the set at ABC studios at 7 a.m. for makeup and work through until 8 p.m., then I go home to rehearse the next day's script. I'm in a coma on Saturdays, relax on Sundays."

Once in a while Gardner invites a girl to watch him play basketball on the studio lot, but he doesn't know why girls don't have proper instincts," he says.

"I started the team, so wouldn't you think the average girl would understand that I'd get depressed if we lost? But, no, they expect me to be the life of the party after the game, win or lose."

He likes feminine women.

"The should wear skirts instead of slacks, and figure out how men like them to dress instead of worrying about what other women think. It's too much trouble for some women to be feminine. Ask a girl why she doesn't wear a skirt, and she's likely to whine. Oh, I want to be comfortable."

Every girl says Gardner, should learn the words of the Rodgers and Hammerstein song, "I Enjoy Being a Girl." If she'd appeal to men. Here are a few lines:

"I adore being dressed in something frilly."

"When I have a brand new hair-do with my eyelashes all in curl."

"I drool over dresses made of lace."

GARDNER MCKAY—Doubts he'll find his dream girl.

Some Trees Find Every Wrap's Great Big Boost

Some trees that blew their tops—and lost branches and limbs, too—may need a good wrapping.

These are the ones, notably the thin-barked kind, that lost so much timber during the heavy rains, winds, snow and sleet storms of the late Spring that they may have become exposed to excessive summer sunlight. You can't apply sunburn lotion, but burlap or paper wrappings around trunks and larger limbs is good protection for woody parts.

The shedding has a twofold purpose. It discourages borer attacks as well as sunscald until recovery is assured.

Thin-barked trees, such as birch, red maple, lily and pin oak, may have to wear their wrappings for at least one and perhaps two years, depending upon how badly they have been injured. This type of first-aid bandaging is appreciated by the foliage, as well as the tree itself, in the real torrid weather.

Wrappings minimize moisture loss through the bark and more water is thus delivered to the leaves.

New transplants are particularly susceptible to sunscald and should be wrapped for moisture-retention, too. Because of imbalance between the abbreviated root system and top, such trees already are moisture deficient and may be susceptible to over-exposure to sun from necessary top thinning.

Indians, Yanks To Hook Up In Showdown Series

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cleveland Indians, leading the American League by 1 1/2 games over the Baltimore Orioles, will have a four-game series tonight in a showdown with the revived New York Yankees.

Cleveland now has won five in a row, sweeping a four-game set at Boston with a 3-2 victory over the last place Red Sox Thursday. Baltimore, blowing a 1 1/2-game lead in 48 hours, dropped a tight doubleheader to Detroit, 7-5 and 7-4, as the Tigers swept the four-game series and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games.

The Yankees, 3 1/2 games behind after winning five of their last six, made it three straight over Chicago with a 5-2 victory that spilled the White Sox to fifth, 602 percentage points behind Detroit. Kansas City ended its losing string at five with a 7-2 victory at Washington.

In the National League, Pittsburgh regained a two-game lead with an 11-3 victory at Chicago while Cincinnati whipped second place Milwaukee, 4-1, games behind, defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in the only game scheduled.

A sixth-inning home run by George Strickland, the first of the year by the Cleveland third baseman, hung the defeat on Bill Monbouquette (5-5). Rookie Wynn Hawkins (4-3) needed two innings of two-hit, shutout relief by John Klippstein for his first victory in three decisions.

The Tigers made it six out of seven on a pair of home runs by Frank Bolling who drove in five runs to beat reliever Arnie Portocarrero (3-2) in the opener. Then the Tiger second baseman triggered a five-run fifth with a two-run homer as Detroit wiped out 2-1 Baltimore lead and beat Hal (Skinny) Brown (5-2).

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Now, my friends, it can be told. What may or may not be common knowledge is that Snyder's Tigers had a finely-conceived "spy system" setup which helped immeasurably in their trek to the Class AAA playoffs.

"Signal-stealing" is the term most commonly identified with the system. Now don't get me wrong. It's all legal, just like base stealing, Sunday pienes, and alimony. It takes to capitalize on it an alert team armed with eagle eyes.

This type of legalized thievery is nothing new, of course. Every one who has the insight and know-how practices it, taking the age-old process to the limit when feasible. Keith Moffett, who was one of the most valuable Tigers of the past season even though he saw limited action on the field of play, proved himself to be a master in the third-base coaching bin in the calling and relaying of signals.

To the novice baseball fan, a base coach must pose somewhat of a ridiculous figure as he alternately claps his hands, tugs at the bill of his cap, shouts "attababy, hottaboy, you're the one now" at the batter, and swipes his hand across the letters of his flannel shirt. The majority of those mannequins in a something, however, and aren't just passings of the time of day.

Moffett, a team co-captain, has been a mainstay in this artful occupation the entire season, but one vivid example of his application of same took place in the second district game of the year in Lam.

Stage Is Set: Bring On The Actors

THE SETTING WAS PERFECT. With the score, even up at 5-5 going into the seventh inning, Moffett was called on as a pinch hitter to lead off the inning, and worked pitcher Melvin Keithley for a free pass to first next up, Bennie Greenfield, who laid down a sacrifice bunt and advanced him to second. Bubba Fleming went down swinging for the second out of the frame, bringing on Mike Moffett.

He proceeded to push a perfect hit-and-run single over first to score the former Moffett from second with the winning run.

"Keith got that hit," Coach Speedy Moffett remarked to me even before the dust had cleared, as we both were perched atop the dugout at the time.

"Huh?" I replied, always quick with a suitable come-back, and suspecting that Coach Moffett must have been getting his playing Moffetts muddled somewhat.

"Yeah, Keith got it, not Mike," he continued. "Didn't she see him motion Mike from second and tell him what pitch was coming?"

I was forced to admit that I hadn't. But it proves the point, nonetheless. From his vantage point in leading off, Keith was able to catch the Lamona catcher's signal meant for Keithley, and passed on the up-coming delivery to Mike, who in turn braced for a curve, fast ball, or come-what-may.

A runner at second can accomplish this feat, whereas those at first or third are somewhat hamstrung, in that the catcher is able to conceal the signal from their vision with a well-placed knee.

Shucks, We're All Pretty Good At It

NOT ONLY MOFFETT, but all of the Tiger baserunners became adept at that type of reciprocal back-scratching. He typified the success of the system, though, in the aforementioned play.

Okay for the goose, but what about the gander? "Oh, sure, they (Tiger opponents) try to get wind of our signals, too," Coach Moffett explained further.

er. "But we mix 'em up through the game and manage to keep 'em pretty well off-balance that way."

Not all of baseball is the bread-and-butter, down-the-middle type of competition. The established firm of Moffett, Moffett, and Moffett proved that theory very effectively with their own particular brand of U-2ing.

Red Sox In Initial Win Over Tigers

The Teenage Continental League had the wraps removed from its schedule here last night, as the Red Sox made the most of three base hits in downing the Tigers, 7-6.

Mike Moffett went all the way on the hill to post the victory, while Reuben Gonzalez and Bob Pene combined efforts in absorbing the defeat.

Moffett gave up a total of six safeties, one of which was a double by Abe Gonzalez. John Curry, also hit a two-bagger for the Sox.

The opener of the evening involving the Texas League Braves and Sports was capped by the Sports, who blasted their way to a 16-1 triumph behind the twirling of Keith Moreland.

Blake Roberts was the starter for the Braves, and was charged with the defeat following his relief in the third frame.

Three other hurlers took the mound for the losers including Lupe Lopez, William Robinson, and Albert Rainwater.

The line score:

Tigers	000 60-6
Red Sox	112 21-7

Sugarman Favored In Rematch Shot

BOSTON (AP)—Challenger Sugar Ray Robinson rules an 8-10-5 favorite to keep his unbeaten record intact against champion Paul Pender tonight in a two-state middleweight title fight.

The entire gate receipts had been tied up by court orders hours before the noon weigh-in at the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Pender, 17 years the junior of 40-year-old Sugar Ray, won the New York Massachusetts version of the world 160 pound championship by beating Robinson in a 15 round split decision here Jan. 22.

Though a late influx of money is expected to back the one-time fireman from suburban Brookline, Robinson is the people's choice to win in the 15 rounder at Boston Garden.

Television and radio (NBC, 9 p.m. Eastern Standard time) will carry the scrap nationally with the Boston-Providence area blacked out on TV.

Robinson, stripped of his crown by the National Boxing Assn. and suspended in New York, who nevertheless recognizes the title bout, is out to win the middle crown for the sixth time in his 22nd championship encounter. As the challenger he gets $105,000 of the $150,000 TV money.

The gate receipts, which may reach $100,000 off promoter Sam Silverman's estimate of an 11,000 attendance, were tied up late Thursday by restraining orders issued by Judge Charles Bolster in Superior Court.

Each fighter is supposed to receive 30 per cent of the gate with the balance going to Silverman.

The orders followed the two rapid-fire suits. One by a Baltimore boxing club asked a $9,000 claim from Robinson for failing

Yanks, Sox Pace Farm League Play

In a wild melee of scoring the Farm League Yankees lowered the boom on the Athletics here last night, bouncing them to the merry tune of 27-15.

The victory represented the fifth in seven outings for the Yanks, as the White Sox retained a firm grip on the loop lead by downing the Indians 8-6 in the nightcap.

Randal Hollis and Clay Landon shared mound duties for the winning Yanks in the opener.

The White Sox-Indian encounter found Toby Green, in addition to hurling his team to victory, being the leading hitter of the game with three bingles, one of which was a fourth inning double. Ronald Potts also slammed a two-bagger for the winning nine.

Russell Laver was the losing moundman, relinquishing a total of 10 hits.

Witnesses Plan Big Assembly

Preparations are well under way for the coming four-day "Peace Pursuing District Assembly" of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held June 22 to 26, presiding minister, J. D. Cook, of the Snyder congregation, announced today.

"The assembly will be Jehovah's Witnesses largest in Texas since their gathering at Houston, Texas in 1957. Twelve thousand delegates are expected," Mr. Cook said, adding, "14,000 hours must be spent before June 22, to complete arrangements which will include reserving 5,000 rooms for delegates." Local delegates will write for reservations.

"The Witnesses are widely known in the earth at conventions," said Mr. Cook. "They have held conventions in all parts of the world from Rome's beautiful glass and marble Palace of Conventions to a several acre clearing in the Northern Rhodesian bush country from the small high school auditorium to using simultaneously New York City's two largest sports arenas," explained Cook.

The 12,000 delegates, composed of "Christian families" will come from some 27 states, Canada and Mexico.

Cook said, "The program is designed to improve all men, women and children mentally and morally by Christian missionary work and by charitable and benevolent instruction of the people on the Bible and incidental subjects, historical and literary subjects. All meetings are free."

Cattle Drive To Publicize Parley

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — A 1,000-mile cattle drive to St. Louis, Mo. starting Sunday, will publicize the National Junior Chamber of Commerce convention there June 19-24.

The week-long trip may seem anti-climatic to Wyoming Jaceys. They traveled twice that distance to round up the 68 animals. Trail boss Lee Jaccioletti said the group plans to arrive at North Platte, Neb., Monday, Lincoln, Neb., Tuesday or Wednesday, St. Joseph, Mo., Thursday, Hannibal, Mo., Friday or Saturday and St. Louis Sunday.

The cattle will be driven only during daylight hours. They will be loaded into trucks at night and moved to the next town.

This Fruit

... looks like an apple from a good tree. God used this parable to teach an authoritative lesson of truth to some who were calling, "Lord, Lord." He answered, saying, "Not everyone that calls me Lord, shall get to heaven." He spoke plainly and used small words, and said, "Only those who bear good fruit will make it." See this tree loaded with fine fruit! Few of us stop to ponder its history. But every orchard expert knows well every sound tree. The good fruit is detectable from way off. The lesson is clear. Goodness all the way to the core is the kind of fruit God wants. Soundness of heart, purity of mind and integrity of character are essential if one's fruit is to please God. No one gathers grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles. Read the Sermon on the Mount; Meditate on I Corinthians; Hear what He says in Romans 2 and 12. Here one will find soil where good trees may grow and from which good fruit may be gathered.
