Johnston Counsel Wins First Tilt In Impeachment Trial

Elder Crosthwaite Claims Only $50 Expended To Secure Pardon

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 12 (UP)—The defense counsel for Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor of Oklahoma, won its first tilt of the two day old impeachment trial late today after having suffered three defeats Monday.

Johnston, who is being tried on a charge of general incompetency together with 10 specific charges won a technical victory when Chief Justice Charles W. Mason over-ruled certain parts of the testimony of Attorney General Edwin Dabney.

Testimony on Pardon

The testimony over-ruled related to Dabney's opinions regarding the legality of the pardon Johnston granted Dewey Crosthwaite, fugitive murderer. Chief Justice Mason ruled the prosecution must show that these opinions were conveyed to the suspended executive. John Head, chief prosecution counsel, then admitted it might be impossible to show conveyance because J. W. Mansell, pardon and parole officer, had died in the meantime.

The prosecution was attempting to prove by Dabney that the Crosthwaite pardon could have been revoked and that the attorney general had so advised the governor. This opinion was given Mansell to be conveyed to the governor.

Pardon Cost $50

In an earlier session this afternoon, T. N. Crosthwaite, father of the fugitive, testified that only $50 figured in securing his son's pardon.

The session was marked with heated arguments and a near fight between Senator Fletcher Johnson and an Oklahoma news reporter whom Johnson accused of publishing a story having him absent from roll call. Chief Justice Mason intervened and prevented the threatened altercation.

Crowd Smaller

The prosecution, attempting to establish the motive that prompted Johnston to pardon Crosthwaite without examining the records, placed J. Q. Newell, warden of the penitentiary, on the stand. Bitter controversy between Judge Thomas H. Owen, chief counsel for Johnston, and John Head resulted over Newell's answers to the questioning.

The gallery was not crowded today as it was Monday, the first day of the trial. The many vacant seats at 10 a. m., the hour of convening, gradually filled as the trial progressed during the day.

Death to Be Asked In Barfield Murder Trial

TEXARKANA, Feb. 12. (AP)—Death will be asked by the state for Cato Barfield, 25, when he goes to trial tomorrow at New Boston, Texas, for the murder of Roy Palmer. Palmer was fatally wounded Sept. 16, 1928, dying 67 days later, after having undergone blood transfusions. At a preliminary hearing Palmer's mother testified Barfield shot her son while he was in bed at home.

Doomed Girl Attacker Is Denied New Trial

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Lee Roy Merriman, under sentence of death for criminal assault, was denied a new trial here today. His attorneys gave notice of appeal.

Officers Seize Gun In Probe Of Slaying Here

Woman Admits Ownership of Weapon After House Is Searched; Rites Held at Walters for Pendergraft

Discovery of a pistol, fully loaded but said to bear one shell of a slightly different character from the others in the magazine, in the home of a woman visited by D. J. Hoobler on the night of the killing of Arthur Pendergraft, prominent Oklahoma farmer, was the climax of Tuesday's investigation into the shooting.

Okla. Officials

Sheriff C. O. Hooper of Cotton county, Oklahoma, (above) is leading the Oklahoma investigation of the death of Arthur Pendergraft, prominent farmer slain here. The first statement of D. J. Hoobler, held for the slaying, was given to Sheriff Hooper and led to the finding of the body. C. S. McCuiston, county attorney, (below) is prosecutor of Cotton county.

Hoobler, former foreman on the Pendergraft farm, was charged with murder after he led officers to a place near the head of Lake Wichita where the body of the slain man was found. The shooting occurred on the Henrietta road about sundown Sunday night, Jan. 27, according to Hoobler's statement.

Weapon Seized

The gun, found first by Frank Morgan, and later seized by members of the sheriff's department, is the property of the woman herself, according to her own declaration. In his original statement to officers following the discovery of the body, Hoobler said he went to the home of the woman shortly after he had concealed the body of his former employer. He asserted that he had thrown away the gun with which the shot was fired. Repeated attempts to locate the weapon on the road or at the place of concealment have failed. Clothing said to belong to Hoobler was also found in the course of the search of the Lake street home of the woman.

Hoobler, has consistently denied the implication of any one else in the shooting. Members of the district attorney's office refused to discuss his statements and would make no comment on the search of the Lake street home.

It was learned that the weapon found was a .38 caliber. Officers who examined the body of Pendergraft, shot through the side of the head, were of the opinion that a .38 caliber gun had been fired.

Sam Spence, district attorney, said Tuesday that he had not determined upon the exact date for the calling of a special grand jury to consider the case. C. O. Hooper, sheriff of Cotton county, to whom Hoobler's first statement was made, is continuing his investigations in the home community and may be able to announce another arrest before the end of the week, according to Bill Taft, deputy sheriff.

Gives New Details

Pendergraft left his home with Hoobler on the afternoon of Jan. 27 and was not seen again until the recovery of his body late Saturday afternoon Feb. 9. Alarm at his disappearance led his family to inves-

Leon Trotzky Arrives In Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 12—Leon Trotzky, exiled leader of the Soviet red army, arrived here from Odessa today. He immediately went into seclusion. The former Soviet leader, who stood next to Nicholai Lenin in the post-war period in Russia, has provided considerable mystery for the world since two weeks ago when the United Press reported that he was leaving his place of exile in Alma Ata, Siberian Turkestan.

Mexican Ship Starts Trip to San Francisco

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (US)—The transport "Progreso" of the Mexican navy has left Mazatlan, Mexico, and is en route to San Francisco where it is expected to arrive shortly. The secretary of state has informed the secretary of war the projected visit and Secretary Davis has ordered the commanding general of the ninth army corps in San Francisco to extend the usual courtesies and facilities to the officers and crew of the ship.

Hoover Returns From Abandoned Fishing Trip

GOEBEL PLANS WORLD FLIGHT

Pilot to Make Non-Stop Trip by Refuelling

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12. (UP)—The Illustrated Daily News will say in a copyrighted story Wednesday morning that Maj. Art Goebel, veteran pilot and winner of the Dole flight from Oakland to Honolulu, will attempt to fly around the globe in five days without landing.

The trip will be made in an amphibian ship, without pontoons, which will be refueled in mid-air, the News will say.

"Goebel will be accompanied by a relief pilot and a navigator. The flight will start in July from Wichita, Kan., and end there," according to the article.

"Major Goebel will follow the arctic circle, but will not enter it. Two refuelers at each seven points, or a total of 14 planes, will give him gasoline and supplies.

"Goebel will take off from Wichita in the evening and the trip will require 125 hours at a cruising speed of 125 hours an hour."

HOUSE PASSES MOODY'S CIVIL SERVICE BILL

Governor's Ideas for State Employes Included In Williams Measure

EAST TEXANS BITTER

Plan Allows Negroes To Hold State Jobs, Claim Of Opponents

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Governor Moody's civil service bill, an issue in his recent campaign, was passed to engrossment by the house today by a 64-48 vote after its opponents declared it would give negroes the opportunity to hold important state posts.

Introduced by Representative Williams of Travis, the bill follows recommendations of the governor in his message to the legislature four weeks ago.

Group Excluded

It authorizes the board of control to act as a civil service examining body with assistance of other state employes, and sets out a non-competitive class to which the act shall not apply.

In the group excluded from civil service examinations are elective officers or those whose appointment is required to be confirmed by the senate, the secretary to the head of a state department, members of a profession who hold a valid license, the judiciary, persons in the national guard or ranger service, and the secretary, chief clerk and stenographer in the governor's office.

Endorsements Required

The bill as written originally set out that each person deserving an examination should present a written application to the board stating under oath his residence, and that the application should be accompanied by a certificate from a commissioners court or governing body of a municipality stating that the applicant was of good moral character. An amendment by Purl of Dallas was adopted, specified that the applicant also must have the endorsement of representatives and the senator of the district in which he resides.

The classified service would include all employes now in the service of the state but would not affect appointees until the term of office of those employing them had been terminated.

Representative Barnett sought unsuccessfully to include all state workers under terms of the bill.

Negroes Blocked

Cox of Paris proved the bitterest opponent of the proposed change. He declared negroes would be able to pass many of the tests and that the examining board had no recourse other than to appoint them to state positions.

Binks of Giddings agreed with the East Texas legislator, saying "we would have the same trouble that Hoover did."

Friends of the measure contended that sufficient safeguards had been thrown around it to block efforts of negroes to replace present state employes.

The bill is similar to one introduced in the 40th legislature, which passed the house to be lost in the senate.

Texas Federal Building Funds Recommended

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (US)—President Coolidge today recommended to congress appropriations totaling $9,210,500 for post offices and other public buildings, including several projects for the south.

For a quarantine station at Sabine Pass, Texas, he asked $50,000, this building to cost $375,000. Recommendations were made that the authorized cost of the Fort Worth, Texas, federal building be increased from $1,200,000 to $1,400,000. Mexia, Texas, was listed for a post office to cost $100,000, an initial expenditure of $26,000 was recommended.

Bulky Ex-Gob Starts General Engagement by Slap Given Sis

A neat big of chivalric knife work was enacted in North Wichita Tuesday night when a man past middle age championed the cause of his daughter against his son, with the result that the lady's stalwart brother will be dismissed from a local hospital Wednesday with more than 50 stitches holding parts of his body together. The girl received a wound in the melee.

It happened like this: the father was engaged in a friendly game of 42 with his married daughter, the husky son who recently returned from a turn in the United States navy, and a fourth member of the family. An argument over a point in the game ensued, and waxed hot when the heavily-muscled ex-gob landed a heavy right against his sister's cheek. The 80 or more pounds handicap against the father was quickly overcome when he flashed a sharp blade in launching his attack. One deep flesh wound extended from the left shoulder of the young man down to the hip. Another exposed the biceps of his right arm, and the third swing established connections with his stomach. The daughter, in an effort to separate the two combatants, suffered a deep wound on the left thigh which required more than 20 stitches. It was said at the hospital that none of the wounds were expected to prove serious, barring complications.

The World Guesses Wrong Again!

Lily Langtry, the Jersey Lily and 'Toast of Two Continents,' Dies in Monte Carlo

By ROBERT H. WILLSON
Universal Service Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Lily Langtry, who died today of heart disease at her home in Monte Carlo, left a name that for two generations has been almost a household synonym with the English speaking race, for beauty, popularity and fame.

Securely written into the history of her time she may offer a puzzle to the historian who will discover that her beauty was not unquestioned, that her ability as an actress was but mediocre and that the greatest achievement of her lifetime could be summed up in the well worn phrase—"the toast of two continents."

Her Story Well Known

Yet the London costermonger, the Yukon musher and the Hassayamba cowboy knew the story of "The Jersey Lily" better than that of any queen of England, while the Lady de Bathe held for her own personal satisfaction a rank that meant little to her public.

It was a portrait of Lily Langtry by Millais that started her on the royal road to popularity and fame. It was portraits of Lily Langtry tacked up in the village blacksmith shop, papered on the walls of the prairie shack, and challenging everywhere the "post no signs" and "defense d'afficher" warnings, that caused school children to fix unconsciously upon common superlative—"as beautiful as Lily Langtry."

YOUTH, 24, SHOT BY GIRL PAL

Friendly Scuffle Results In Accidental Gunfire

Special to The Record News

LAMESA, Texas, Feb. 12.—Shot probably fatally by his 20-year-old sweetheart, Roland Baum, 24, of the Flower Grove community 20 miles south of here, was in a dying condition tonight in a sanitarium at Big Spring, Texas, near here.

The shooting was described by witnesses as wholly accidental. Baum with a companion returned from a hunting trip early today and stopped by the home of his fiancee, a Miss Ainsworth. In a friendly scuffle with the girl, Baum's shotgun was discharged, the load entering Baum's head.

Physicians at Big Spring tonight said that Baum had virtually no chance for recovery.

Reparations Board Hears German Plea

PARIS, Feb. 12. (UP)—The committee of experts meeting here to revise the Dawes plan of war reparations payments shut itself in the blue room of the Hotel George V. today and heard the first of Germany's arguments for a reduction of the payments which allied countries have demanded as "damage of war."

Ex-Texas Congressman Victim of Heart Attack

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Jack Beall, 62, excongressman from Texas, died suddenly at his home here late today of heart disease.

Mr. Beall had been president of the Texas Electric railway since 1915 and also was president of the Dallas Union Trust company. He was a member of a prominent local law firm.

Lloyd George Asked To Mediate 'Army' Dispute

NEW MEASURE TO CURB BOLT

Senators Parry Shafts On Party Loyalty

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. (AP)—Senate anti-bolters showed today that they were not yet beaten by offering a bill to give political parties power to bar "irregulars."

Under present statutes the state Democratic executive committee has power to prescribe qualifications for candidates or voters "provided that no person shall ever be denied the right to participate in a primary in this state because of former political views of affiliations."

Favorable Report

The bill, sent up by Wirtz, and signed by 15 other senators, a bare majority, would eliminate this limitation placed on the committee's powers.

The other signers were Russek, Martin, Stevenson, Berkeley, Beck, Parr, Miller, Hornsby, Gainer, Small, Cunningham, Patton, Holbrook, Thomason and Williamson.

A few minutes after the bill was introduced it was reported favorably on a floor report by the committee on privileges and elections. Love and Cousins signed a minority report.

Love Fights Bill

Love, mentioned as a candidate for governor in 1930, charged that this bill was another attempt to "elect Barry Miller governor by statute."

He alleged that the state Democratic executive committee was controlled by "Al Smithites," who would not be disposed to play fair with the "Hoover-crats" in the next election.

Wirtz asserted that the "Hoover-crats" and their sympathizers had refused to let the legislature fix requirements for candidates, as was proposed in the Mankin bill killed by the house yesterday and that they would now be given a chance to allow the parties themselves that power.

Jewish Convention Honors Lincoln's Memory

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12. (AP)—The Union of American Hebrew congregations in convention here, paused today to pay tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln on his birthday.

Aviators Report They Broke Another Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 12. (AP)—Lieut. Harry Johnson, air corps pilot, accompanied by Captain A. W. Stevens, who hopped off at Wright field, Dayton, at 2:26 p. m. today to establish a new altitude record for planes carrying two passengers, reported that the record had been broken unofficially when they were forced down at Norton field here late today by lack of fuel.

Thirty Steamers Locked In Ice Off Europe

LONDON, Feb. 12. (UP)—The European cold wave continued undiminished tonight and the toll of dead increased steadily with reports from all parts of the continent and British Isles. Thirty steamers were ice-locked off the Baltic coast and sending out SOS calls. Some of them reported food shortages on board and all were in need of help to escape from the ice. German battleships were attempting to assist them.

Court Sets Case of Archer County Woman Charged With Robbery

Trial of Mrs. Addie Stanley, young Archer county woman indicted for robbery with firearms in connection with the alleged holdup of Joe Head in Holliday on Feb. 6, will be called early next week in the 30th district court in Archer county.

Mrs. Stanley was indicted as both a principal and an accomplice by the grand jury in session last week.

A separate bill was returned against W. H. Crum, accused of actually completing the holdup.

Head was forced to give up $76 at the point of a gun, according to his statements to officers.

Both Mrs. Stanley and her husband, known as "Red" Stanley, were indicted for the sale of whiskey by the action of the same grand jury, Mr. Spence said.

FLYER SAFE AT HAVANA AFTER HOP OVER GULF

Ambassador to Mexico Announces Engagement Of Ace to Daughter

SPECULATIONS ENDED

Wedding Probably to Take Place in Spring at Mexico City Embassy

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 12. (UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here safely at 7:49 p. m. tonight after being delayed several hours on his air mail flight from Belize, British Honduras.

The flier declined to discuss the announcements in Mexico City of his engagement to Anne Spencer Morrow.

"Gentlemen," Lindbergh said in response to questions about his engagement, "I wish you would stick to business and aviation."

He would not say a word about Miss Morrow.

Lindbergh stopped on the island of Cozumel, off the Yucatan peninsula, to inspect the landing field and refuel his plane. He was delayed there for more than four hours, due to lack of suitable facilities for fueling the plane.

The second mail plane on the trip, piloted by Lyman K. Merritt of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., preceded Lindbergh here from La Fe.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12 (UP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's romance was revealed here tonight with the announcement of his engagement to Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, second daughter of American Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow.

Miss Morrow, 22 years old and vivaciously pretty, got a taste of what it will mean to be the wife of America's greatest hero and leading aviator at the moment her engagement was announced. At that time her fiance was hours overdue on a flight from Belize, British Honduras, to Havana, Cuba.

Riddle Solved

The announcement, made to foreign newspaper correspondents at the regular press conference this afternoon, answered a question which has caused much speculation throughout the world since Lindbergh landed in Paris from New York on his famous flight of 1927.

Lindbergh, the "lone eagle," the hero of a world suddenly gone crazy, was a perfect type for the role—except that there was no "love interest." Only one woman figured in the story of Lindbergh and that was Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, his mother. In vain, the world waited and watched for the hero aviator to show some interest in the millions of girls who dominated the crowds wherever he went.

Girls Rebuffed

Lindbergh was interested in airplanes, and airplanes only, and it was with some regret that the world read of his stern rebuffs to girls who attempted to kiss him as he passed through enthusiastic crowds.

And when, after his return from Europe, one over-ambitious girl flung her arms around him in an all-too-public spot such as Times square, New York city, and aroused the Lindbergh temper, the world was about ready to give up the idea of a Lindbergh romance.

Recent rumors had connected Lindbergh's name with that of Miss Morrow, as well as her sister, Miss Elizabeth Morrow.

But Lindbergh's flying took him to Mexico City and at Mexico City

FAMED BEAUTY OF JERSEY DIES

Lily Langtry Caused Threat Of 'International War'

E. Gladstone in a way that caused the Viscount Gladstone to call the author a liar which brought about a libel suit. Lily Langtry with her string of racing horses at one time dominated the English turf. Lily Langtry told millions of women how to keep beautiful and young.

She died practically alone. She had been estranged from her husband, Hugo de Bathe for many years. Her daughter, Jeanne, went her own way after her marriage to Sir Ian Malcolm. There were times when it was said a lucky turn at Monte Carlo was almost indispensible to the woman who had once ruled men.

A Woman For a Man

Lily Langtry was a man's woman. She had "it" before it was isolated and identified by Elinor Glyn. The story of her life bears this out.

She was born in 1852 on the Isle of Jersey, the daughter of an obscure and unambitious clergyman, the Rev. W. C. E. Le Breton. At the age of 16 Charlotte Le Breton was discovered by Edward Lantry, a London merchant of but limited means. He married her and took her to London.

Her sudden rise to popularity was more dramatic than that of any star of screen or stage. The Lily Langtry profile, the Lantry pose, the Langtry clothes became the topic of press and tea-table gossip. It took her but a short while to exhaust the Lantry funds.

Langtry was sent off to a government post in the provinces. He disappeared from the picture early but his name kept on going.

Irked Young Prince

Lily Langtry managed men well but she made one mistake that could never be remedied when on an occasion of hilarity she dropped a piece of ice down the Prince of Wales neck. That lost her favor permanently with the future king.

One man is said to have tamed the imperious beauty. He was "Squire" Abingdon Baird who beat her and blackened her eyes. The result was said to be as salutary as the whip in the taming of the shrew. The Earl of Lonsdale and Sir George Chetwyn had a fist fight over her in Hyde park. She looked on indifferently and dropped them both.

At the age of 45 she married Hugo de Bathe who was then but 28. He went to the Boer war and she came to America.

It is difficult for old New Yorkers to realize that Lily Langtry was not "the first lady" of Broadway. She created a furore in America and is said to have made half a million dollars on her first tour. Those were the days when millions were spoken of with some awe.

In New York she found Frederick Gebhardt, a prosperous clubman, who traveled with her during her theatrical engagements. He secured for her that picturesque old brick house on Twenty-third street between Eighth and Ninth avenues that set well back from the street with a drive sweeping through the port cochere, conspicuous as an early example to be adopted later in mansions.

The Jersey Lily lived there when she was in the city and had also a summer place at Long Branch, N. J. when that was the fashionable resort. When Gebhardt bought her a ranch in California she became so enthusiastic that she took out her first papers of citizenship, but never completed naturalization.

Gil and Calles Receive Threatening Letters

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12 (AP)—Threatening letters have been received by President Emilio Portes Gil and his predecessor in office, Plutarco Elias Calles. Three more unexploded bombs have been found in residences of prominent members of the "National Revolutionary party," dedicated to preserve the policies of Calles and the late General Obregon.

Personality!

When Ziegfeld selects them, you can be sure they have personality. This lovely New York girl, now appearing in "Rio Rita," has talent—and beauty, too—enhanced by wonderful skin and the softest waves of dark brown hair.

"When friends ask me what I do to make my hair so soft and gleamy," says Miss Hargrave, "I have to think twice to tell them, because I give so little time to it. The method I use is very popular among New York girls. I just put a little Danderine on my brush each time I use it. I am letting my hair grow; but you'd never know it, Danderine keeps it so soft and easy to arrange and holds it in place so wonderfully. It gives my hair such a silky, soft and lustrous appearance, friends are always commenting on it. There isn't a trace of dandruff left now that I'm using Danderine regularly. And it keeps my hair and scalp so clean and comfortable that I don't shampoo half as often as I used to."

Danderine quickly removes that oily film from your hair, brings out its natural color, gives it more lustre than brilliantine. It makes the hair easy to dress; keeps it in place. It usually checks dandruff. It isn't oily; doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles. A delicately fragranced necessity for the well-groomed girl!—Adv.

Walters Cream Market Better

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 12.—Competition for cream in the Walters area is becoming intense as Cotton county farmers are becoming more interested in dairying.

The Fuller creamery of Lawton is opening a cream buying station in the block opposite the Walters Herald building on East Colorado avenue. The station will be in charge of Martin L. Simmons, who is an expert cream tester and will be equipped with the most modern equipment for testing cream.

Clarence Sherin, since last fall has been purchasing cream for the Mount Scott creamery at Lawton.

These two cream buying stations, in addition to the modern creamery being operated here by the Cotton County Ice and Creamery company, makes the local cream market one of the best in Southwest Oklahoma.

Bill Smith Granted Stay of Execution

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. (AP)—Bill Smith sentenced to death for the murder of Sheriff Bob Smith of Fisher county and scheduled to die in the electric chair early Thursday, was given a three months stay of execution by Governor Moody today.

Doctors reported to the governor that at the present as on several other occasions when his execution date arrived, Smith was mentally incapacitated.

The report said patients suffering from this form of insanity either died or recovered in several months.

LINDY TO WED ANNE MORROW

Ambassador Announces Plans of Daughter

he was the guest of Ambassador Morrow. In typical Lindbergh fashion, he appeared in public but seldom with the ambassador's daughters but on several occasions he took Anne Spencer and her sister, Elizabeth, on short flights.

Lindy Spiked Rumors

Last fall Lindbergh was again the guest of the ambassador in Mexico City, where he visited after a hunting trip in northern Mexico.

Later the rumors began to circulate, joining Lindbergh's name with that of Anne Spencer and again with that of Elizabeth. Lindbergh, however, declined to discuss any topic but aviation and the rumors died as quickly as they rose.

Then, out of the millions of girls who had worshipped the slim, boyish aviator, there emerged Anne Spencer Morrow, who will become "first lady of the air."

A quiet, studious girl, she appears in public only when it is necessary to fulfill social duties as the daughter of one of America's foremost financiers and diplomats. She has long dark hair and resembles her mother in temperament. Under any other circumstances than as the daughter of an ambassador, Anne Spencer might be classified as "home girl" who likes to read a great part of the time and who leads a tranquil existence.

Wedding in Spring

She appears in capital society only about once a week, when she assists her mother at embassy receptions.

She is a graduate of the Chapin school of New York and of Smith college.

Although it was believed probable that the wedding would take place here in the spring, no further details were revealed, in addition to the bare facts of the engagements.

Anne Spencer and Lindbergh met first on Dec. 14, 1927, just after the famous flier had landed here from New York at the end of his non-stop flight opening the Central and South American tour.

They met again in New York and several times later they were together in the United States during 1928.

Lindbergh's last visit here was in November after his hunting trip in the state of Chihuahua, where he spent several weeks with Col. Alexander J. MacNab, embassy military attache.

At the time of Lindbergh's second visit here there were rumors of the engagement, but these were denied by Morrow's secretary. It was said "they are just good friends."

And it seemed at the time, that the "just good friends" story might be true, for those who saw the famous flyer and Anne Spencer together remarked that "they didn't act like an engaged couple."

Anne Excited

Immediately after the announcement of the engagement today, the embassy notified correspondents that the ambassador had forbidden interviews.

This was typical of his desire to avoid publicity since his arrival here. He is seldom, if ever, quoted and that policy extends to other members of the family.

A friend of the ambassador said that Anne, since the announcement, had been at home "shaking violently."

MERRITT PRECEDES LINDY AT HAVANA

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 12 (UP)—Lieut. Lyman K. Merritt, accompanying Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in another plane on Lindbergh's flight here from Belize, British Honduras, arrived at 6:31 p. m., from La Fe Pinar Del Rio. Lindbergh was expected momentarily.

Merritt said that Lindbergh had stopped en route at St. Michael, off the coast of Honduras, to investigate the possibilities of a landing field being established there as an additional fueling station for the mail route..

New Mexico Man To Head Frederick Bank

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 12.—Announcement was made here today of the election of R. L. Case, vice president of the Meadow City bank of Las Vegas, N. M., as president of the National Bank of Commerce of this city, one of the oldest financial institutions in this part of the country.

Mr. Case resigned as vice president of the local bank two years ago to take a similar position with the New Mexico institution. In returning to become president, he succeeds W. W. Childers, who has been head of the National Bank of Commerce for a long period. Mr. Childers announced he will continue to live in Frederick, but had formed no plans for future business activities.

Mr. Case and his family expect to arrive in Frederick about March 1. It was said that a number of Wichita Falls bankers will probably become interested in the local bank within the near future.

Rites at Walters For Pendergraft

tigate. Hoobler was first placed under arrest for theft after the loss of 11 head of cattle from the Pendergraft farm was discovered. Grilled by members of the district attorney's office here and by Mr. Hooper, he several days later told of a fight between the two on the Henrietta road as they drove toward Fort Worth on their way to attend to financial matters in East Texas. Pendergraft had threatened him with a crank handle at the time the shot was fired, Hoobler said. Later he told officers he took the body to the "Miller place," recently leased by Pendergraft, and the next day returned to the Pendergraft farm, explaining that his employers would return in a few days.

In his statements Monday and Tuesday Hoobler is said to have added details to his first statement, telling of wrapping the body of Pendergraft in a wagon sheet after the shooting. A search for the sheet and the pistol, on which officers were accompanied by the prisoner himself Tuesday morning, proved unavailing.

RITES AT WALTERS FOR SLAIN MAN

By C. W. ROGERS
Record News Staff Correspondent

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 12.—A procession of automobiles bearing the immediate family, other relatives and nearly 300 friends today followed the body of Arthur Pendergraft, slain farmer of the Union Valley community, Cotton county, to its place of interment in I. O. O. F. cemetery at Walters.

The body was brought from Wichita Falls yesterday to the Pendergraft farm house, four miles north of Randlett. Funeral services were held at 10:30 o'clock this morning in Union Valley church by the Rev. George Hooper, Methodist minister of that community. Practically all the people of Union Valley community, including the children of the school, were present.

At conclusion of the services the funeral cortege proceeded to Walters, arriving at the cemetery at 12:45 o'clock.

The immediate family and near relatives at the burial were Mrs. Elizabeth Pendergraft, wife of the slain man, and their three children, Roy, 14; Esther, 12; Pauline, 7; Mr and Mrs. Riley Pendergraft of Emporia, Kan., parents of Arthur Pendergraft, and their sons, Roy and Clarence Pendergraft of Emporia; George Pendergraft of Bucklin, Kan., Luther Pendergraft of Union Valley; their daughter, Mrs. Anna Adams of Union Valley, and Asa Pendergraft of Emporia, cousin of Arthur Pendergraft.

Pallbearers were L. L. Richey, J. W. Rich, A. A. Willis, Jess Cornelius, B. J. Bowles and C. B. Gammill, all of southern Cotton county.

Thomas J. Huff, county judge, and Thomas Mullins, first sheriff of Cotton county, and numerous citizens of Walters were at the grave.

A bitterly cold wind was blowing. The commitment service was simple.

As the Rev. George Hooper intoned the words of the burial ritual, neighbors sought to comfort the sobbing relatives who were assisted to their conveyances when the closing words were spoken.

TEXAS CATCHES EYES OF EAST

Textile Development Predicted by Bostonian

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Great textile development in Texas and the south generally was predicted here today by A. W. Hill, representing the National Shawmut bank of Boston. Five per cent of the textile manufacture of the country now is done in southern states, he said.

"Eastern capital," he declared, "formerly shy at southern industry, has awakened to the opportunities of the south for textiles and is seeking outlets in this line.

"Texas, with all her natural resources, has attracted attention of bankers of the east and stands out prominently for investment in mills."

Mr. Hill is a member of a group of eastern and western bankers who are to attend district meetings of Texas bankers this week at Dallas, Houston, Laredo, Waco, Abilene and Brownwood.

The Dallas meeting was held today, with approximately 600 bankers of district No. 5 in attendance. Dave E. Blackburn of Denison is chairman of today's conference. Seventy-six members of the Texas group, accompanied by eastern bankers, will leave tonight for Houston.

Interferences At Penitentiary Told

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12 (UP)—How a state official interfered with discipline at the McAlester state penitentiary was told to the investigating committee today by W. W. Williams, former superintendent of industry at the institution.

Williams said a man named Butler came to the prison and gave the impression that he was to make an audit of records on direct orders of the governor.

Instead Butler aroused the anger of Doctor J. Q. Newell, prison head, by continually mixing with visitors and often taking one prisoner by the name of Crane out driving.

Shortly before the end of Butler's four or five months stay Crane was pardoned. Williams testified it was the general understanding that Butler had secured the clemency.

British Steamer Is Beached After Crash

GRAVESEND, England, Feb. 12. (AP)—The British steamer Highland Pride, from Buenos Aires, was beached near here today after colliding with the Norwegian steamer Braa which sailed from Savannah on Jan. 12. The Highland Pride, which is of 4,700 tons, suffered damages on her port side but the Braa, of 1,300 tons, was able to proceed on her voyage to Tyne. Tugs are standing by the Highland Pride

Extension of Indian Inquiry Is Demanded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—Charging that efforts were being made to halt the senate's inquiry into Indian affairs, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, announced today in the seante he would ask for the discharge of the committee on audit and control if it did not act soon on the resolution to authorise an extension of the Indian inquiry beyond the end of this session.

Oklahoma Woman Heard Famed Address of Lincoln 'Unwillingly'

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Feb. 12 (AP)—The anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth today recalled to Mrs. Nannie George of Bartlesville that against her childish wishes she accompanied an uncle to hear Lincoln deliver his Gettysburg address, sitting on the same platform from which the famous president spoke.

Mrs. George, who is the mother of E. L. George, secretary of the Bartlesville Chamber of Commerce, had gone to the Gettysburg celebration from her home in a neighboring Pennsylvania county with a group of young friends. She was 17.

"I wanted to stay with my friends," she said today, "but just as the procession to the platform began my uncle, who had been given two platform tickets, asked me to go with him. I little dreamed then the honor which was mine."

Mrs. George said she remembered the event well.

"After the usual preliminary musical numbers and introductory speeches Lincoln was introduced as the nation's president," she related. "He rose and in his clear, kindly voice, dedicated that national cemetery. I sat about 15 feet from him."

NEGRO IS CONVICTED

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Feb. 12. (AP)—Jake Bird, negro, convicted of committing a murderous assault upon C. Harold Stribling, East Omaha, Iowa, was sentenced today to 30 years in prison by Judge Earl Peters. The court overruled the defense motion for a new trial.

BROOKHARTFOR FUTURES BILL

Prevention of Cotton Speculation Discussed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, (AP)—Immediate enactment of the Caraway bill to prevent speculation in cotton and grain futures was asked in the senate today by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa.

The senator said the measure would be a start toward curbing a situation which he declared was injurious to grain and cotton growers.

The measure is sponsored by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and is opposed by a group led by Senator Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana, who yesterday said it would have an adverse effect upon grain and cotton prices.

'DREAM ISLAND' SHIP'S QUARRY

Famous Peary Off to Seek Sunken Reef

BOSTON, Feb 12 (INS)—Headed for a "dream island" somewhere off in the Pacific, the famous arctic exploration ship Peary, slipped gently out of the harbor today on the first leg of the journey which will take the vessel to Mexico. It was the second expedition in search of the imagined island.

The journey was the realisation of a "dream" of M. F. Bramley, wealthy paving block contractor of Cleveland, who has spent thousands of dollars in outfitting the craft for the fulfillment of the story told him in a dream.

According to Bramley, in his dream he saw a sunken reef in the Pacific off the coast of Mexico. Much time was spent in cruising about in search for the island without success. Finally an airplane was brought into use, and a sunken reef was found.

The first stop of the Peary, which is commanded by Captain Charles V. Griffin, will be made at New York where Mr. Bramley will disembark.

Aboard the refitted vessel were a corps of engineers who will conduct experiments into the feasibility of filling in the island for in that instance, it was explained, the island would not belong to any country but to the discoverer.

Trade Mark Conference Meets in Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (UP)—The Pan-American trade mark conference, the primary purpose of which is the protection of trade marks and commercial names, held its first session at the Pan-American Union building here today. Assistant Secretary of State White, head of the American delegation, was elected chairman.

TRIMMED

Chicago Neatly Frisked In Recent Paving Jobs, Report Says

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. (AP)—Chicago was jarred into an acute realization today of the sorry plight of its streets.

The city has been mulcted of millions of dollars in paving work in the last 12 years, Alderman John A. Massen informed a committee of the council.

His findings, he said, were a result of a five months investigation, during which 72 cores, or samples, of paving were taken from the streets and subjected to compression and thickness tests.

Carelessness in laying pavements, skimping on materials, and negligence in city inspection caused the wholesale loss to the city and property owners, the alderman declared.

Prison Visiting Fee Ordered Abandoned

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 12 (INS)—An admittance fee will no longer be charged for visitors to the state penitentiary, under an order issued by Gov. Henry S. Caulfield, today.

The admittance charge was established by Dr. Cortes F. Enloe, former director of penal institutions, and was characterized at the time as one of his pet schemes. His administration was further characterized as "incompetent, extravagent, mismanaged and operated in favor of certain persons," by a special committee investigating the situation two years ago.

"I do not believe Missouri should make a showplace of its penitentiary for revenue purposes," Governor Caulfield said, in ordering the elimination of the law.

State Police Board Proposed by Harvey

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12, (UP)—A bill creating a state police board to consist of a superintedent and not more than 20 members was introduced into the lower house today by Representative Harvey, Kiowa county.

All sheriffs, deputy sheriffs and members of city police forces would be considered ex officio members.

The governor would appoint the superintendent, who would be on a salary of $5,000 a year.

Aliens Cross Canadian Boundary Over Perilous Bridge Passage

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 12. (INS)—Two aliens were captured here today by immigration authorities after they had entered the country from Canada by crawling through a tube carrying high tension electric wires along the lower arch of the international bridge across the Niagara river. The aliens would have been instantly killed if they had made one misstep while negotiating the perilous passage through the tube, the authorities said.

Two runners, who guided the captured men through the tube, escaped by doubling back over the same route before immigration officers could reach them.

After reaching the end of the tube on the American side, the aliens climbed down a girder of the bridge until they reached the gorge railroad tracks. A misstep while the men were climbing down the bridge would have plunged them into a whirlpool 200 feet below.

Distinguished British Naval Officer Dies

LONDON, Feb. 12. (UP)—Admiral Sir Edmund Robert Fremantle, 92, died at his home here tonight.

He was the son of the first Baron Cottesloe and had a distinguished service record as an admiral in the United Kingdom navy. Fremantle served in the Burmese war of 1852 and was wounded in the Ashanti war 20 years later. He was awarded the thanks of parliament for his service and decorated.

Game Commission For Oklahoma Is Proposed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12 (UP)—A state fish and game commission of three members would be created by terms of a bill introduced in the house of representatives today by Representatives Moon and Dyer.

The commissioners would be appointed by the governor, one for a two-year term, another for a four-year term, and the third for a six year term. With completion of service of the original appointees, the terms would be of six years duration.

The salaries of the commissioners would be $10 per day for each day when they were actually engaged in work. Maximum salary for the month would be $100.

Noted Lyceum Entertainer Well Received by Civic Department

Observing an annual custom, members of the Civic department of the Woman's Forum entertained with a delightful luncheon at the Forum clubhouse Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock. The Valentine motif was noted in the decorations and the speaker's table was centered with a large vase of red carnations combined with white spring flowers. Streamers of red ribbon with tiny hearts attached to them were artistically draped to red tapers extending from silver candle holders. Other candle holders with tapers, surrounded by red hearts were placed at intervals around the tables.

The invocation was given by Mrs A. H. Carrigan after which Mrs. E. B. Lehrack presided at the luncheon and told of a few outstanding things the civic department had accomplished so far this year. Mrs. W. W. Cook gave a toast to the past presidents and Mrs. W. S. Curlee responded.

One of the features of the program was a number of vocal selections by Ernest Reeves, accompanied at the piano by George Kerner of Dallas.

The final number included several clever impersonations from C. L. Burgderfer, well known entertainer from the lyceum bureau of Dallas. Mr. Burgderfer furnished an hour of rare entertainment and was well received by his audience.

Among those making reservations were Mesdames P. P. Langford, Ed Howard, Cobb, T. T. T. Reese, J. C. A. Guest, M. L. Reid, W. J. Grisham, R. L. Tilton, E. J. Martin, W. L. Holloway, M. Even in hard water, dirty dishes are easy to wash

But before washing them, you must soften the water with Melo. Soap and soft water never make scum. In soft water no dirty ring forms around the dishpan. Dishes sparkle in soft water and grease is cut.

Water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. Melo makes soap more effective, saving from ⅓ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. Use Melo wherever you want soft water. Get it at your grocer's.

OIL MEN VOTE TO CURB WASTE

Resolutions Seeking To Bridle Output Passed

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 12 (UP)—While the American crude oil production record was shattered today for the sixth successive week, representatives of "this most valuable, limited and irreplaceable natural resource" transacted serious business here.

The quoted matter in the above paragraph is taken from a resolution of national scope adopted by the directors of the American Petroleum institute in the hope of curbing unbridled output which last week reached 2,690,350 barrels — a gain of 12,115 barrels over the preceding week.

Throughout the resolution the word "waste" was prominently used, and to eliminate that waste the biggest oil men of the country went on record in favor of state laws to compel economical development of the nation's oil supply.

As an after-thought, to give more weight to their demand for less production through curbing state laws, the institute adopted a second resolution which warned that "imminent overproducion threatens to develop an acutely serious situation," and concluded with:

"Resolved, that pending the enactment of the appropriate laws, the members of this board, in their capacities as executives of companies producing oil from pools where over-production is imminent, hereby pledge their full powers through all legal cooperative methods to prevent the development of such over-production with its attendant waste."

The oil men then went a step farther and appointed a committee to cooperate "with other agencies in the accomplishments of these purposes."

Cruiser Bill Expected To Be Signed Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (UP)—The cruiser construction bill is expected to be signed by President Coolidge within the next few days, it was said at the White House today. The measure was sent to the White House last week after the house had concurred in the senate amendments. Delay in signing the measure has resulted from the president's attempt to determine the amount required for the building program for the future.

Agrarian Party Indorses Saenz for President

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12. (US)—The Agrarian party of Mexico, after ousting from its executive board, a few days ago, two of its chief leaders, Aurello Manrique Jr., and Antonio Diaz Soto y Gama, has now endorsed Aaron Saenz as its candidate for the presidency in the election of next November. This adds to the Saenz column the last of the big organizations he has been making a bid for.

"DAINTY DRESS FOR CHILD"
Pattern 1626

Tiny dots are adorable for tiny tots and design 1626 is fashioned of just such fabric. Not the least of its charm is the lace edged collar and the dinning shape that it assumes. There is a small opening in the back of the frock. Lace finishes the short sleeves, too. Note the smart tucks that are at once a trimming and a practical addition for growing kiddies.

Dotted dimity, swiss or, for a heavier dress, dotted linen are suitable materials with which to fashion this little frock. A blue ground with white dots will be lovely with collar of plain white. Tan and brown linen is chic, the dress and collar of tan with dark dots and the collar and cuffs bound in brown.

May be obtained in sizes 2, 4 and 6.

Size 4 requires 2 yards of dotted and ½ yard of plain fabric.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of 15 cents in coins, carefully wrapped, or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Our latest fashion book will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents in coin. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York City.

A Girl May Be Free With Her Dates But That's No Sign She Loves You

The Fact That a Man Can Date a Girl Is No Sign That She Loves Him but if She Watches His Health and Takes Care of His Pocketbook It Is Time to Buy the Ring.

A young man wants to know how to tell whether a girl is in love with him or not. Well, son, you can't absolutely. There is no infallible test that you can apply to a girl's affection that will unmistakably registter its precise degree of warmth and let you know whether it is at fever heat or subnormal. In the end you have to take her word for the state of her heard, and you can't always believe even that. You see, women have played at the love game for so many centuries that they have become adepts at it. Their bread and butter, and cakes and ale, have depended on their making men believe what they wanted them to believe, and they have developed such finesse in simulating love, and hiding love, that it is not easy for a man to tell when they are leading from a full hand or merely bluffing.

Because you can always date a girl is no proof that she is really in love with you. The thing that thrills her about you may be your car, and not your personality. Or she may like to step out with you because you are a good-looker, and it makes the other girls green with envq to behold her with such a sheik. Or it may be because you are a good feeder, or a good dancer, or for a hundred other reasons unconnected with any sentimental reactions she may have toward you.

Nor is it any proof that a girl is in love with you because she is always calling you up over the telephone and telling you how she has missed you, and reproaching you for not having been to see her. It may only indicate that she has no steady and she is aware that competition is the life of trade, and that the more men a girl has hanging around her the more desirable she is in other men's eyes. Neither can a girl's love be gauged by her kisses, because in these petting-party days most young women's lips are on the bargain counter and are given to every Tom, Dick and Harry in exchange for a joy ride, or a ticket to the movies.

However, in spite of all this, there are certain signs of love by which a maiden unconsciously reveals her real feelings toward a man which should enable any astute youth to judge how he stands with her, and whether she looks upon him as her prince charming, or merely as a joy ride, or a meal ticket.

As the first straw which shows which way the wind of a girl's affection blow observe whether she brightens up at your approach, or nails on her face the smile that won't come off. Observe whether, when you takes her to places, she keeps up a desultory conversation with you, but becomes full of pep when some other man approaches, and whether she gives you just enough dances to pay you decently for the money you have spent on her, and give her a reasonable assurance that you wil ltake her out again.

No girl ever falls in love with a man who bores her, and dull and stupid or besotted with vanity must the youth be who cannot tell whether a woman really enjoys his society, or just endures him because he is an easy mark and a good thing.

The next sign of love that a girl gives is when she begins to manifest the fireside companion complex. As long as a girl comes down with her hat on when a young man calls she is not in love. She is looking upon him merely as a purveyor of amusement. He is only a means to an end and any other man with the price in his pocket would do just as well. She wants to dance, or to go to the theater, to be in the crowds in the bright lights.

When she falls in love she wants to segregate her man and monopolize him. She wants to get him away from other women who may be better looking and more charming than she is, and her idea of a perfectly thrilling evening is one spent on a sofa under a pink-shaded lamp at home, listennig to him tell her how perfectly wonderful she is, and how different she is from all other girls.

The next sign of love a girl gives is when she begins to consider a man's pocketbook. As long as a girl sulks if a man doesn't get the best seats at the theater, and orders all of the most expensive dishes when he takes her to a restaurant, and can't dance at a place where the cover charges aren't $10 per, and hints that a sapphire bracelet would be a suitable birthday present, she is merely gold-digging.

She hasn't a spark of affection for the man, and unless he is a millionaire, she hasn't the slightest intention of marrying him. She is just getting everything she can out of him as she goes along, and will cast him aside like a worn-out glove when some man she really cares for, or someone with more money, comes along.

When she falls in love with a man it is a different story. She begins to look upon his purse as her purse and feel a proprietary interest in his savings account. So, when a girl commences to suggest tuining in on the radio instead of going to a symphony concert; when she proposes riding on a street car instead of taking a taxi, and develops a taste for sandwiches instead of lobster newburg, it is a safe thing for the young man to begin pricing wedding rings.

The next indication that a girl gives of being in love is when she encourages a man to talk about himself, when she begs him to tell her all about what he did when he was a little boy with warts on his hands and pale green freckles on his nose, and when she hangs breathless on his account of how he sold a bunch of bonds, or an automobile, or got off a trial balance. There are only two women in the world who ever love a man well enough to want to hear all the details of his life, and they are his mother and the girl who expects to marry him.

for automobiles, she is in love for keeps, and she is ready to assume the job for life of looking after him.

So, son, apply these tests to your lady love and you can form a pretty good idea of whether she will say "yes" or tell you that she will be a sister to you.

Tejas Delphian Chapter Meets Tuesday Morning

Members of the Tejas chapter of the Delphian society met at the Memorial auditorium for their regular session Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. A. C. Bennett led the lesson on "The Latter Roman Republic," the general theme being, "They Who Live by the Sword Shall Die by the Sword."

Those who had topics for report included Mesdames: W. H. Barton, "The Punic Wars"; Miss Dorothy Campbell, "The Struggle for Sicily"; J. H. Cable, "Hannibal, Greatest Strategist of Antiquity"; R. G. Cocanougher, "The Eclipse of Grecian and Phoenician Power;" Rhea Howard, "Results of Conquest"; Frank Elkins, "Civil Wars"; Raymond Stanford, "Pompey"; F. C. Wages, "The First Triumvirate"; C. E. Beavers, "Caesar's Career;" C. E. Peterson, "The End of the Republic."

A general discussion was held on current events. About 35 members attended the meeting.

ESTELLE TAYLOR'S skin is like velvet.

Lovely Skin Essential Says Movie Director

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—James Cruze, well-known Hollywood director, agrees with 38 other foremost movie directors that a lovely skin is the first requisite of a girl's charm. "Few people can resist the spell of smooth lovely skin," he says.

"Every woman wants beautiful skin, but a star must have it!" Estelle Taylor, famous screen and stage star, says. And like 442 of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, she recommends Lux Toilet Soap for keeping the skin charming. "This white fragrant soap is a boon to me in keeping my skin heavenly smooth," she says.

Nine out of ten screen stars depend on Lux Toilet Soap to guard their lovely skin, and it has been made the official soap in the dressing rooms of all the great Hollywood film studios.

CAL TO RESUME SIMPLE LIFE

President Plans to Live In Northampton, Mass.

By ALFRED P. RECK
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—Calvin Coolidge is going back to Northampton, Mass., to the house he left eight years ago to become vice president and later president of the United States.

As soon as the inaugural ceremonies are completed March 4 and Herbert Hoover is established in the White House, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will board a train for home, it was announced at the executive offices today.

Chooses Modest Home

The president will leave the $15,000,000 mansion at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue with its beautiful grounds, army of servants, policemen and caretakers and go to the modest $36 a month, six-room half of a duplex house on a quiet residential street in Northampton.

He will pick up life where he left it eight years ago to become a world figure. His associates here have been diplomats, bankers, statesmen and notables. His neighbors and associates at Northampton will be villagers, trades-people and retired farmers.

Here he could look out of his bedroom window, or out of his study, across acres of well-kept lawn and flower gardens. At Northampton, his bedroom will look out on a quiet street and the houses of his neighbors.

What his plans are after reaching Northampton, no one has intimated.

Do your hands get dry and rough?

MOST folks do have trouble in winter, keeping their hands in good condition. Frequent washing, cold, alkali dust and wind all conspire to dry out the natural oils and chap the skin. When that happens, smooth in Hinds Honey & Almond Cream. It relieves chapping. Takes away the roughness. Makes the skin silky soft once more.

The secret is to use it often. At night, in the morning, every time you wash your hands. Then your hands will never chap.

Used as a powder base it makes the powder cling—and protects the skin from weathering. (It's weathering that ages—not the years.)

Try Hinds Cream and see for yourself. Lehn & Fink, Inc., Bloomfield, New Jersey.

AMBITION WAS ACTOR'S RUIN

Cause of Charles Ray's Passing Is Advanced

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12. (UP)—Talking a little about himself, "handsome, sophisticated Lewis Stone, veteran actor and soldier," explained the "passing" of Charles Ray in a copyrighted interview published today by the St. Louis Star.

"The cause of his failure," Stone said succinctly of the youth who immortalized the "small town boy" role, "was the age-old one of a comedian who wanted to become a tragedian."

Stone, a retired major in the army who trained infantry at Plattsburgh during the war and fought with the old twelfth New York regiment during the Spanish-American war, spoke with a degree of intimacy about Ray.

Wanted Stage Career

He recalled that 12 years ago Ray sat on the front steps of the Stone home at Hollywood to await his arrival, asked him "How can I become an actor?" and said he told Ray to forget about a career on the stage.

"In years that followed," Stone admitted, "he became one of the outstanding stars of the screen. His portrayal of country boy heroes was magnificent, and he was without a peer in those characterizations."

Ray's "Waterloo" proved to be a desire to play the role of "John Alden" in "The Courtship of Miles Standish," Stone said. "Producers who found in him a virtual gold mine refused to permit any change from the small town boy roles he portrayed."

Nevertheless, Ray, then a millionaire, refused to sign a contract unless permitted to play the role, bought out the rights of the production, and filmed it. "It proved to be a disastrous failure," Stone said, adding:

"When the last bills had been paid Ray was penniless. Movie goers did not care to see him in Puritan garb, wearing a wig. He tried to make good in a picture or two after that, but his name, which had been of great box office value, proved to be a liability.

Now Playing Stock

"Ray dropped from sight and when I last heard of him he was playing stock in Baltimore."

Stone believes Ray—despite the "John Alden" debacle—has a chance to "come back."

"There is no good reason why he cannot stage a come back," he said. "There is still a demand for the type of picture that made him world famous, and he is comparatively a young man."

BIRGER GANG IN GUN BATTLE

Convicted Bandits Subdued By Jailer

MARION, Ill., Feb. 12. (INS)—Two of the Charlee Birger gangsters, murderers of State Highway Patrolman Lory Price, under sentence of life imprisonment, led by a 19-year-old youth, awaiting trial for murder, fought a two-hour machine gun battle with Sheriff Orin Coleman and deputies here last night, it became known today.

The sheriff with a machine gun and tear gas bombs, drove the prisoners back into their cells.

The attempted escape from the Williamson county jail occurred after the dinner hour when a guard was overpowered. The men seized the guard's pistol and defied the sheriff.

The gangsters are Freddie Wooten, who once before escaped from jail, and Leslie Simpson, who was captured 16 months after his indictment for the Price murders.

The leader of the battle was Lester Dean, 19.

No one was injured in the affray. The prisoners fired two shots at the sheriff, neither taking effect.

"Helplessly alone"...

a place for a used car

A YOUNG WIFE who lives in a newly developed section said: "My husband is a newspaper man and works at night. He works in the city and drives in and out. That leaves me helplessly alone, and I wish desperately that I had a car to get about in. I should like to go to the movies or call on friends, but the car-line is quite a long walk from the house and I have to depend on the friends who may call for me."

Every year more and more families are finding that the used cars sold by General Motors dealers make it possible to own a second or third car at very low cost. Used cars are opportunities in unused transportation, and offer a wide choice of body type and style.

If your family needs another car, let a General Motors dealer help you. You will be surprised to discover how much can be bought for a very little. And you may pay on the convenient GMAC Purchase Plan.

"He who endures misfortunes patiently and keeps faith that all is well, wins his fortune in due time."

Your right to the finer things of life and your capacity for rightly using and enjoying them, can only be determined by the way you meet the trials and tests of misfortune and sorrow. LINCOLN

Daily Editorial

WE DO not know his sires. The line down which he came is lost somewhere among the shards of older lands.

Noble or serf, no one has traced the sport forebear, in whose blind loins the flame was born, that found, at last, its fuel in his waiting soul.

All spans to his far people remain broken—unmended. Backtracking history merely follows familiar roads—encounters the shiftless dolt, his father—hears confusing tales of prior origins—then loses the trail in a maze of surmise, mystery—and insinuation.

His son is gone, leaving only distaff seed. So not a single scion survives, to bear his name into tomorrow.

But memory shall wither and tradition die before its glory rusts.

His career, now, is a ward of eternity—a yardstick to measure human titles: who else rose farther from the deep mires to rank with saints and worthy kings?

THE PINE knots by which he read The Way are quenchless beacons to light all ambition through black hours of despair and obscurity.

Lincoln, himself, is not enshrined in the stately temple beside the shaft of Washington; his image still haunts a frontier cabin, a manger of chinked logs, a hut too poor to have a door.

There it was that destiny set the anvil on which a living sword was forged, to slay in humanity and deal the death stroke to slavery.

Never was a humbler instrument chosen for supreme tasks since Christ was called and anointed.

Time and perspective have canonized Lincoln—this farm drudge, this rail-splitter, this gaunt, gangling waif of a backwoods illiterate.

His figures towers with the years—casts an ever-lengthening shadow over all world thought.

Biography has drawn aside the homely masks he wore—revealed the secret majesty, the hidden heartaches that jest and lip-smile cloaked—and probed the agony within the saddest eyes that ever caught a glance of God's.

The star of Bethlehem hovered over wilderness, the night he came.

But the Wise Men, alack, brought no gifts to his cradle.

They waited to lay their tributes on his bier.

TALKIES INSTALLED

A Shrine to General Lee

THE MOVEMENT to purchase the boyhood home of Gen. Robert E. Lee and transform it into a national shrine is attaining country-wide proportions. Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York is the latest distinguished person to agree to serve on the national advisory board for the project.

A couple of decades ago there undoubtedly would have been a good deal of unthinking hostility to such a plan. In many parts of the North there would have been protests against honoring "a rebel."

But the passing of time has brought added wisdom. North as well as South, it is now universally realized that Lee, for all that he fought against the Union, was a great man and a splendid American. He is one of the few civil war heroes whose place in the national affections becomes more firm each year. It is perfectly safe to predict that the movement to turn his birthplace into a national memorial will not meet a dissenting vote.

Wilson's Memorial

THE FIFTH ANNIVERSARY of Woodrow Wilson's death saw only one memorial wreath deposited on his tomb in the great cathedral that is rising on Mount St. Albans, overlooking Washington.

This wreath, a simple affair of yellow jonquils, bore no message to identify the sender. It was merely marked, "For Woodrow Wilson's Tomb," and was taken to the place by a delivery boy. The only visitors to the tomb on that day were Mrs. Wilson and her brother. The anniversary had passed unnoticed.

Five years ago the scene was different. Messages and tributes came from every ruler on earth. Ambassadors, generals, statesmen saw the casket placed in the crypt. A bugler sounded taps, and a nation stood at attention as the sad notes of the trumpet gave one of the Titans of the century his last salute.

And now—one wreath and two mourners!

Woodrow Wilson was a proud man. He walked with kings, saw great crowds cheer themselves into hysteria at the mention of his name, found himself, for a time, the most powerful man on earth. Two million men crossed the Atlantic at his bidding to face death. He flung phrases at the world and saw them taken up and made into national creeds. He pushed the German emperor off his throne and helped remake the map of Europe.

But he died only five years ago, and already the anniversary of his passing has been forgotten!

This might mean almost anything. It might mean that the defeat that came upon Wilson after the war ended was a lasting defeat, and that he is steadily sinking into the shadows, never to emerge. It might mean that his country has taken his measure and found it small, and so has decided to forget him. It might mean, in short, that he was an utter, pitiable failure, deserving oblivion.

But probably it does not. The thunder of the guns has died away, and the cool depths of the Argonne forest are quiet and peaceful once more. The armies are disbanded, and the great fleets lie at anchor. But it happened that Wilson let loose into the world, during those terrible years, something that may yet prove all of the sacrifice, all of the pain, all of the horror.

Into a world racked by war Wilson dropped a vision; a vision of a new order of things, in which justice and freedom should be something more than pretty words, in which the common man should at last get a chance to prove his divinity for himself, in which war could be done away with as human sacrifices and medieval torture chambers have been done away with.

Many men have dreamed that dream. But it remained for Woodrow Wilson to make it take on color and enter the hearts of ordinary men. And a vision of that kind, once raised, is immortal. It goes on and on, until in the long course of years it compels men to translate it into reality.

And there is Woodrow Wilson's real memorial. What, after all, is a wreath more or less?

Where College Students Come From

WHAT CLASS of the population provides the largest proportion of college students?

Statistics recently gathered at the University of Illinois provide a partial answer to this question. Of the 11,000-odd students there, 5,180 are sons and daughters of business men. Oddly enough, the next largest division of parents is that classified as skilled and unskilled laborers; 2,061 students come from such parents. Farmers rank third, with 1,763, and the professions, with 1,719, are fourth.

Incidentally, half of the students come from cities of 25,000 or over. Chicago alone contributes more than 3,000.

These figures are extremely interesting. They give a valuable light on the backgrounds of the young men and women who are being trained for leadership.

THE "EWE LAMB'S" CRISIS

While evidence in the Johnston impeachment case shows that Mrs. O. O. Hammonds apparently had usurped the prerogatives of the governor's office, there is room for belief she may have been merely an eager helper to save Johnston's administration from collapse.

Fighting to save the governor from his enemies, struggling to take any advantage that would give the administration some strength in the lower house, matching her wits with the brightest minds in the senate clique to gain some political vantage for the governor in the upper house, Mrs. Hammonds now sees her labors on the brink of collapse.

GOOD FARM PRACTICE ANYWHERE

The Weeks small farm opening at Wichita Falls was pulled off Saturday as advertised, though the attendance was small on account of the inclement weather. Mr. Weeks promises to put on a big opening later on, at which it is hoped the attendance will be better. While the Weeks idea is more applicable to an irrigated section, yet many of the things connected with the small farm idea can be worked in any community. One of the basic principles is that the farmers grow most of their own living, and this idea is not bad anywhere.

A Delicate Shot to Make!

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Did information ever ask you for some information? It has been done, and here is how.

The Hoosier housewife was making up a dinner party, and delegated the Hoosier husband to get a certain friend on the telephone. This friend, a widow, had recently had a new telephone installed, and wasn't listed in the directory. So husband called information.

"I would like to get the number," he said, "of one Mrs. Doe, who will be listed as Mrs. Jane Doe or as Mrs. Schuyler Doe. She lives at the Park Lane."

There was a long, long wait.

Finally—"I'm sorry, but I can't find any one named Doe living on Park Lane."

The husband had some difficulty in making it clear that the Park Lane is an apartment, not a street, so he asked for the chief operator. That dignitary listened to an extended version, the site of the apartment having in the meantime been learned.

"I wish the number of one Mrs. Doe, who will be listed either as Mrs. Jane Doe or as Mrs. Schuyler Doe. She has had a new telephone installed, and told me about it, but I forgot the number. I think the exchange is Murray Hill. She lives in the Park Lane, which is an apartment house, situated at 299 Park avenue. Information said she couldn't find it, but she didn't seem too clear as to what I was talking about."

Chief operator would call back.

Meantime the Hoosier housewife pointed out that the object was not conversation with telephone operators, but with Mrs. Doe. The Park Lane was called by its number, and Mrs. Doe answered the extension phone in her room. She accepted the dinner invitation, and gave the Hoosiers her telephone number, which was duly entered on their list.

Some 15 minutes later the telephone rang again. It was the chief operator.

"Are you the party who was trying to get the number of some one named Doe?"

"Yes."

"I'm sorry, but we don't seem to have any telephone in that name."

"Well, it's really all right, because in the meantime I've called the lady up through another channel, and she told me her telephone number."

"Oh, really. What is it?"

The husband had just enough presence of mind to remark that that was a question which the telephone company ought not to have to ask, but he was left gasping by the remark which finished the conversation.

"I'm very sorry, too, about that other party named Schuyler, but there are so many of those on the list that we really can't find the one you want."

Americans who have traveled abroad have been surprised to observe the leisure with which natives take their meals. In a crowded Paris restaurant it is the custom to ask for a particular magazine or a writing board or a chess or checker board. But to find such comfort in busy New York hardly could be expected.

Yet in one of Fulton street's busiest places not long ago six men made up a party that adorned a center table. The hour was 1:30, but business was brisk. Four of the six men were finishing their lunch and between bites two checker boards were working. The elder men who appeared to have plenty of time, according to the methodical moves made, were being observed by two younger men who evinced great interest in each play. Not a word was spoken during play.

An observer who said he had never seen the like before asked the manager of the place if it was a custom with many of his customers. He said it was not, but he would not object.

"They first eat a substantial meal and then settle down to their game. All is quiet among them. They do not annoy any one and I do not need their table. If I did I would not say so. I would appreciate more like them."

The family was gathered for Christmas. The youngest grandson, whom we shall call George Jones, approached his grandfather, took the photograph of a pretty girl from his pocket and asked grandpa if he knew who it was.

"Why, of course I do," said grandpa. "It's Ellen Smith, who visited us last summer."

"No, it isn't grandpa," replied Mr. Jones.

"It is, and I'll bet my bottom dollar on it," grandpa replied. "I knew Ellen and her father and mother, and you can't fool me. I'll bet you $10 it's Ellen Smith."

"I won't bet because I'd win," said the grandson. "The girl's name used to be Ellen Smith, grandpa, but since day before yesterday she's been Mrs. George Jones. We were married—secretly!" Which is something new, at least in wedding announcements.

In the days of "Saint Elmo" and hooped skirts and bicycle rides, A. H. Woods was a ham actor. Today he is one of Broadway's foremost theatrical producers.

"There were two Irishmen," said Woods, "and for the sake of tradition we shall call them Pat and Mike. They were vacationing at the seashore. Neither had ever eaten oysters, so they decided to try them. Pat spied a diner nearby who was eating the same dish—saw him saturate the oysters with tabasco sauce. Pat decided that must be the proper thing to do, so he followed suit. Mike did likewise. The first oyster brought tears to Pat's eyes.

"'Faith, Pat, and ye're cryin', said Mike. 'Wot's the trouble?'

"'I've just heard from me aunt in Detroit and she's very sick!'

"Mike took his first oyster and immediately began to cry himself.

"'Pat, taking a drink of water, asked the cause of Mike's tears.

"'I've just heard from that aunt of yours, and she's dead!'"

Bomb Sender Given 99 Years in Prison

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 12. (AP)—A sentence of "not less than 99 years," was imposed today on Amos Jury, after he had pleaded guilty to an attempt to kill Everett Bailer by sending him a bomb through the mail.

Jury had declared he "didn't have anything against Bailer," but that the latter's wife had jilted him to marry Bailer and he "wanted to get even with her."

Drug Store Bill Aimed at Quacks

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12. (UP)—A law requiring drug stores to be drug stores was introduced in the lower house today.

The bill prohibits using of the term "drug store" and "pharmacy" unless documentary evidence is presented to proper authority showing registered pharmacists are employed.

The bill has been mailed to every registered pharmacist in the state who are said to be supporting it wholeheartedly.

Its authors are Representatives Kidd, Harvey, Mitchell, Graham, Orner, Trent, Gibson, Street, Phillips and Mrs. Eylar.

Snow Is Great Aid to Quanah Wheat Fields

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, Feb. 12.—Farmers and wheatgrowers are jubilant over the prospects for wheat since the recent snows, which put moisture and season in the ground. It is believed the roots are so well grounded that without additional moisture for even six weeks the crop will be in no danger. A large acreage of wheat is planted in the county, but prior to the snow of the past 10 days the outlook was gloomy on account of the lack of moisture.

George Washington Has Rival in London Church

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 12. (AP)—George Washington has a living rival here.

During a sermon on sin, a preacher offered $10 to any one in the congregation who could swear he never had told a lie. The Londoner walked on the platform and claimed the money.

The preacher found he did not have $10 and deferred payment.

Lubbock C-C Wins Grain Rate Plea

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Feb. 12.—The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has been advised by the railroad commission of Texas that rates on less than carload shipments of grain and hay seeds produced in the Plains-Panhandle section, cancelled as of Nov. 8, 1928 will be re-established effective Feb. 15, 1929.

This action will mean the saving in freight charges of thousands of dollars monthly to farmers and seed dealers of the Plains-Panhandle section, and comes as a result of a petition filed Feb. 4, by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

La Follette Chiefs Get Into Trouble

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 12. (INS)—Criminal prosecution of four La Follette candidates and one newspaper and removal from office of three state officials of the same faction was demanded in court here today by Attorney Arthur R. Barry, Milwaukee, special counsel who has completed an investigation of La Follette campaign expenditures. His report lists more than 100 violations of the state corrupt practices act. The report was taken under advisement by Judge S. B. Schein, who will decide if criminal warrants are to be issued.

Criminal prosecution was asked of Joseph D. Beck, defeated candidate for governor; Lieut. Gov. Henry A. Huber, Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds and Secretary of State Theodore Dammann; Samuel Sigman, secretary of the La Follette progressive campaign, and the Capital Times, Madison La Follette newspaper.

The report also asks the prosecution of Richard H. Lee, 150 Broadway, New York, for alleged irregular contributions he made to the campaign in Milwaukee.

4,000 Soldiers to Walk In Inaugural Parade

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (UP)—Approximately 4,000 officers and men of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard and national guard will occupy military sections in the Hoover inaugural parade, according to plans made public by the war department today. Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the army, will be grand marshal of the parade.

Convicted Slayer Given Stay of Execution

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. (UP)—William Hauke, who was scheduled to be executed Friday, was granted a stay of execution today until March 15 to allow time for the supreme court to review his case. Stays were denied to Anthony Grecco and Charles Walz, also sentenced to die Friday.

COP REQUESTS HIS DISMISSAL

Police Captain Demands Trial and Vindication

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (US)—Capt. Guy E. Burlingame, veteran police official and alleged author of "Heartsore Daddy" letters to Mrs. Helen E. Bialock, a fortune teller, was today suspended from the police department at his own request.

Under fire from members of both houses of congress, Burlingame requested that Maj. Edwin B. Hesse suspend him "until charges have been preferred and my vindication secured."

Burlingame's alleged friendship with the palmist, known as Mme. Zanza, was brought to the forefront recently by Representative Tom Blanton of Texas, who made public a number of love letters which he alleged the police captain wrote to "Mme. Zanza."

The letters were given to him in Texas by the palmist, according to Blanton. Mrs. Bialock's present whereabouts is unknown, despite a search for her by Washington newspapers. According to Blanton she fears to return to the capital.

The letters purported to show that Mrs. Bialock had turned over large sums of money to the captain on various occasions.

In the absence of formal charges against him, Captain Burlingame stuck to his post until today, when he forced the issue by demanding a trial. Major Hesse directed that corporation counsel draft specific charges "from such material as is now at hand or may be obtained."

Senator Caraway of Arkansas joined Representative Blanton in the fight against Burlingame on Saturday when he sponsored a resolution in an appropriation bill withholding the captain's salary

Three Huge Chicago Banks Merge Interests

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. (UP)—Formal approval of the merger of the Union Trust company, First National bank of Chicago and the First Trust and Savings bank, consolidating approximately $600,000,000 in assets, was given by stockholders here today. Stock of the First National was increased to $24,000,000, of which 40,000 shares, par $100, was allotted to Union Trust stockholders, share for share.

TARIFF BOARD CHANGE URGED

U. S. C. C. Presents Plans For Drastic Revision

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—The removal from the tariff commission of its power to recommend to the president the lowering or raising of import duties under the flexible provisions of the existing tariff law and the investing of such authority in a separate non-political board was proposed today by the chamber of commerce of the United States.

The suggestion was contained in a report to the house ways and means committee now holding tariff revision hearings, the Republican members of which today set March 2 for a meeting to map out a program of action for the 15 subcommittees which will formulate the rates to be carried in the new tariff bill.

Activities Confined

Under the proposal, transmitted by William Butterworth, president of the chamber, the tariff commission would confine its activities to ascertaining statistical information bearing on the tariff and would not make recommendations unless requested to do so by the house, where all tariff legislation must originate

The separate board would have no other function than that of adjusting rates within limits fixed by congress. The president, as at present, would have final authority to pass on the changes suggested. The flexible provisions as they now stand permit the executive to raise or lower duties as much as 50 per cent upon recommendations of the tariff commission.

Officials of the chamber explained their proposal was based on the theory that the duty of adjusting rates under the flexible provisions should be placed in a board composed of men of the executive type of mind as distinguished from the statistical type.

Reasonable Protection

Other proposals made by the chamber follow:

"Reasonable protection should be afforded American industries which are of benefit to any considerable section of the country and are subject to destructive competition from abroad, including agriculture.

"So far as consistent with the first recommendation, there should be recognition of the desirability of maintaining and developing our export trade, by keeping a friendly reception for our goods in foreign markets.

"Anti-dumping legislation should be maintained.

"Means should be afforded for meeting foreign export and import restrictions.

Trade Zones Urged

"Establishment of foreign trade zones in American ports should be authorized."

Into these zones, the report declared, foreign goods intended for export could be entered for manufacture, repacking or other necessary handling "without the expense and delay incident to passage through the customs."

"The establishment of such zones by local bodies at their own expense, under approval regulation," the reported added, "would provide part of the equipment needed by a country as our own doing a diversified international trading business. The establishment of such zones would, we believe, inure to the benefit of American industry, American commerce, and American merchant shipping."

EAGLE EYE

West Texas Ranchman Lassoes Feathered King In Flight

COLEMAN, Texas, Feb. 12. (AP)—Eagle roping is a new sport in Coleman county and Henry Jameson of Talpa, near here, claims the championship. He reported today that while riding over a hill, he saw an eagle devouring a rabbit. The bird did not see Jameson until he was almost upon it, but took wing immediately. Jameson had his rope in his hand and caught the bird around the neck and wings despite a stiff wind, he said. The eagle, measuring 27 inches from tip to tip, was exhibited by Jameson as evidence.

"Skinny" Women Gain Weight

New YEAST and IRON builds weight quickly. Your own druggist guarantees results—or pay nothing

If you are skinny as a rail, with gaunt limbs, and you seem to lack all energy, you need the good pounds of "stay-put" flesh and vitalizing strength that Ironized Yeast can give. Thousands of rundown, weak men and women have regained their normal weight and vigor with Ironized Yeast.

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial.

This yeast is treated with iron, the same as found in fresh vegetables—spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form Iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for iron is needed to bring out the weight-building values of Yeast. By this formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast and iron taken separately.

Start taking Ironized Yeast today and get pounds of weight and new strength. You will not only feel better, but you will look better, as Ironized Yeast clears out the old deadening poisons and brings new healthy color to your cheeks and sparkle to your eyes. Pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle, safe for everybody. Do not upset stomach nor cause gas or bloating.

Go to your druggist today and get a single course treatment. If not absolutely satisfied with weight and health benefits gained, money refunded.—Adv.

WOMEN HELD IN ANTIQUE THEFT

Relics Missing From Lee Mansion Are Found

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Feb. 12 (INS)—Three women were being held today for the Fairfax county authorities charged with the theft of antiques from Ravensworth, historic mansion of George Washington Curtis Lee, which was wrecked by fire more than a year ago.

Recognition of some cut glass in an antique shop here as belonging to the Lee family led to their arrest. Dr. Bolling Lee, of New York, and son of G. W. C. Lee, a noted confederate soldier and brother of Gen. Robert E. Lee, came and identified the articles.

The women arrested were Mrs. Eva Garland, and Mrs. M. L. Minter, of Alexandria, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Jessie Desrosiers, of Washington. A warrant was obtained for another woman living in Washington, it was said today.

"Ravensworth" is eight miles from Alexandria on the Leesburg pike.

Damper Put on Indian Probe, Wheeler Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (INS)—A studied effort has been made to halt the senate Indian affairs committee investigation of the Indian bureau and conditions existing among the Indians, Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, charged today. He accused the audit and control committee with holding up the inquiry by withholding action on an appropriation of additional money for the investigation.

Investigation of N. Y. Federal Court Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—A resolution demanding an investigation into the court practices of Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow, of the southern district of New York, was presented to the house today by Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York. La Guardia read the resolution with a declaration that he intended to introduce it later.

—that's Lone Star Gas' winter job!

"Keeping the home fires burning" is not merely an echo of the world war to Lone Star Gas Company---but an every day job! There's food to be cooked---there are folks to be kept warm in winter. And supplying natural gas for the cooking and heating needs of 200,000 homes, and thousands of hotels and restaurants---well over a million people---is no small job. It takes ample resources---and a large and well trained organization, animated by the spirit of service.

Such are the resources and the organization of Lone Star Gas Company---producer, transporter and wholesaler of natural gas---which serves you through your local gas company. Over 3,200 miles of main pipe lines---and 20 giant gas compressor stations with 33,000 horse power capacity---are required to bring gas from 21 important gas fields to more than two hundred live and growing communities.

And, here's a point to remember about Lone Star Gas Service. While the gas demand falls off in summer to one-fifth its winter volume, this giant organization (and most of the expenses involved) must carry right on through the warm weather when there is no heating demand---to be ready to serve you, and a million others, when cold weather comes again. Twenty years of dependable service---is the record of Lone Star Gas Company ---and we strive each year to make our service better---more complete---more dependable.

PACKARD

Available in Three Price Ranges

FINE CAR enthusiasts who desire the supreme luxury and distinction of Packard Eight transportation today have a wide choice in models and in prices. For the famous Packard Straight Eight is now available in three complete and separate lines—and in three distinct price ranges.

These three lines—the Standard Eight, the Custom Eight and the De Luxe Eight—differ only in size, in detail of appointment and in the degree of individuality obtainable in upholstery and in color. In fundamental design and in quality of materials and craftsmanship they are alike—finer in engineering than any cars Packard has built before.

The Packard Standard Eight is priced from $2435 to $2835—the Custom Eight from $3175 to $3850—and the Eight De Luxe from $4585 to $5985—at the factory. Individual custom cars are also available to order on the De Luxe chassis.

When will you take the model of your choice for a trial drive?

If you prefer to buy out of income, you will find the Packard Payment Plan most attractive. Many take possession of their new cars without any cash outlay—because the used car allowance equals or exceeds the down payment on the new car.

LINCOLN NATAL DAY OBSERVED

Gettysburg Address Read In Lower House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—The 120th anniversary of the birth of Lincoln was observed in Washington today both at the capitol and at his memorial overlooking the Potomac river.

In the house of Gettysburg address was read by Representative Moore of Ohio, and in the senate tribute was paid by Senator Smoot of Utah. At the massive memorial building numerous patriotic societies gathered and heard Senator Shortridge of California, eulogize the martyred presidens.

The capitol was decorated with American flags while Pennsylvania avenue, a long stretch of mud and water when Lincoln was born, also was bedecked with the national emblem. At the east front of the capitol, where in a few weeks a new president will take the oath on the same spot where Lincoln twice stood, more flags were displayed.

The day, however, was not a holiday in the city and all government departments were at work as usual and neither senate nor house interrupted its program, except for the brief commemorating speeches.

"Lincoln," Senator Smoot said, "was not a pacifist, and would not be a pacifist if alive today. National honor and national defense were the keynotes of his whole life. The birthplace of Lincoln is dedicated to peace; yet Lincoln was not for peace at any price. He was ready to fight for human freedom and a united nation."

Aimee Denies She Took Any Part In Asa Keyes Payoff

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 12. (UP)—Positive denial that she could be implicated in the Keyes scandal in Los Angeles was made here by Aimee Semple McPherson today after she had read dispatches quoting District Attorney Buron Fitts as saying that Ben Getzoff, the "pay-off man," had mentioned her name in his confession.

Getzoff Mentions Aimee

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 12. (UP)—The possibility that the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnaping case might be revived through the confession of Ben Getzoff, the "pay-off man" of the Asa Keyes conspiracies, drew fire from a special state assembly committee today.

Members of the committee, now engaged in examining Mrs. McPherson's love offering of $2,500 to Superior Judge Carlos Hardy during 1927, the year of her asserted abduction, said if Mrs. McPherson was mentioned by Getzoff that the committee would go into the matter.

Impeachment proceedings against Judge Hardy now depend upon a report the committee will make to the assembly this month. The committee conducted an open hearing to determine if the money paid the jurist was a "love offering," as Mrs. McPherson said, or an attorney's fee. Judge Hardy violated the state code, it was said, if he took the money for legal advice rendered.

District Attorney Buron Fitts declined today to comment on probability of re-opening the kidnaping investigation.

Educator's Wife Dies Mysteriously

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Feb. 12. (INS)—Mrs. Anna D. Starbuck, wife of Dr. Edwin T. Starbuck, head of the character education and research bureau at the University of Iowa, was found dead in bed here today.

Her husband at the time was en route to Minneapolis with the body of one of his assistants, Miss Linnette A. Nelson, who ended her life Sunday.

Coroner George Maresh declined to say what he thought was the cause of Mrs. Starbuck's death, but be revealed that, in so far as he could determine, she had not been ill previously.

Mrs. Starbuck, who was 51, had been on the staff of the College of Music since 1906. She was the mother of five children.

Children Call Firemen After Parents Are Slain

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio, Feb. 12. (AP)—Answering a fire alarm call turned in by three children, firemen today found a case of murder and suicide instead of a blaze. The children of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Jones told firemen that their father, an insurance agent, had shot and killed their mother soon after breakfast, then killed himself. Jones was 48 and his wife 44. The children told police their father recently had displayed a violent temper.

It's human nature

Pride in personal appearance is inherent in all of us. No one wants to look seedy, unkempt, to appear ill-dressed or classed as a has-been. It's only human nature after all.

Advertisements are the barometers of style. The advertisements of collars and clothes have served as the models after which the modern well-groomed young man patterns his personal appearance—even to the dressing of his hair.

The advertisements of fashionable gowns from Paris, the exquisitely dressed women pictured in the advertising of silks and other dress materials, are the criterions by which the twentieth century woman judges whether she is costumed to the minute or not.

You cannot ignore advertising and be up to date in matters of dress. No more can you pass over advertisements that tell you of the latest necessities and luxuries that make for better and happier living. In fact, advertising keeps us modern in every sense if its reading is made a daily habit.

CHURCHES HOLD SPECIAL RITES

Ash Wednesday Services To Mark Opening of Lent

The observance of Ash Wednesday with special services here in three churches on Wednesday will mark the opening of Lent, the 40 day period of abstinence and sacrifice preceding Easter, which has been celebrated in its present form since the ninth century.

The ancient ceremony in which the ashes of the palm leaves burned on last Easter day are blessed and distributed upon the worshipers will be used in the 8 o'clock mass Wednesday morning at the Sacred Heart church. The rosary, sermon and benediction of the blessed sacrament will be included in the services to be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening. On Friday night at 7:30 will be held the third of the special services commemorating the opening of Lent, when the stations of the cross and the benediction of the blessed sacrament will be given.

Ash Wednesday services will be held at the Trinity Lutheran church at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The litany and the penitential office will be included in the special service to be held at the Church of the Good Shepherd at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. An evening prayer and sermon will be given at 7:30 p. m., and on Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock the holy communion will be celebrated.

Realty Board To Sponsor Survey

Plans for a complete survey of downtown lease and rental property were launched by Walter S. Curlee at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Real Estate board at the Kemp hotel Tuesday noon, which was devoted to a general discussion of real estate and business conditions here.

Isolation for housewives from possible intruders was named as the chief factor in creating increasing favor for two story houses in preference to the bungalow type. A pronounced preference for brick construction instead of frame buildings on the part of prospective home builders also was reported.

The survey proposed by Mr. Curlee will be taken up again at the next meeting on Feb. 26, it was said.

Salesmen Best Ads For City, Club Told

Three hundred or more traveling salesmen representing the jobbers and manufacturers located in Wichita Falls constitute the highest class of advertising the city can receive in its trade territory, according to L. H. Estes, president of the Empire Paper company, in his address to the Ad club Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Mr. Estes stated that the greatest aid local jobbers could receive would be the consistent support of local merchants, both in direct orders and in their influence upon buyers in nearby cities.

A report on the club's finances was given by A. E. Kelly, president, and V. N. Armstrong made a brief talk on behalf of the Little Theater's production of "Dulcy," three-act comedy.

"Orgatone Has Completely Relieved Me of My Stomach and Gall Bladder Trouble" She Says

"When it comes to getting rid of bad stomach and gall bladder troubles, Orgatone beats anything I ever heard of," said Mrs. J. R. Walkup of 1510 13th St., Wichita Falls, Texas, while in Allison's Drug Store recently.

"If there is anything that will make life miserable for a person," she continued, "it is a real bad case of stomach trouble. Several years ago my stomach went back on me and I have had a mighty tough time of it ever since. I lost my appetite and could hardly eat enough to keep my strength up so I would be able to do my work. About every six or eight months I would have bad spells with my gall bladder, causing very severe suffering, but never found a medicine that would give me relief. I always felt tired and run-down and was very nervous and had pains in my side.

"So many of our local people have endorsed Orgatone so highly, I began taking it and it has certainly proven to be the right medicine for me. I feel like a different person and I have only taken two bottles. I can eat most anything I want, eat three meals every day and always seem to be hungry. My stomach seems to be stronger and I'm not nervous and I don't have the aches and pains in my sides any more. In fact, I feel better all around and I haven't had a spell of gall bladder trouble since I began taking Orgatone. I am feeling better in every way, than I have felt in a long time and there is no doubt about it, Orgatone is a good medicine and I am glad to endorse it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly upon receipt of price, one bottle for $1.25 or six bottles for $6.25.—Adv.

Chaldean Queens Were Buried Amid Bloody Orgies, Excavations Show

Royal Tombs of Ur Yield Bones of Subjects Slaughtered at Rites; Precious Relics Found

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE

LONDON, Feb. 12 (US)—When the queens of Ur of the Chaldees were buried more than 4,000 years ago their funerals were orgies of blood and human sacrifices, according to a report of the joint expedition of the British museum and the museum officials. The joint expedition of British and American archaeologists have just started their seventh season of excavation in the site of the royal tombs of Ur.

C. Leonard Woolley, reporting direct from Ur, tells of this season's continuation of excavations initiated last year in the royal tombs of Mes-Kalam-Dug who was a king over Ur long before Abraham, the father of Israel, ever quit the city on his wanderings in the desert. Sinking down through many strata of pottery shards and the relics of funeral votive offerings, including the bones of sheep which had been sacrificed, the excavators came upon a veritable "death chamber," as the archaeologist-reporter calls it.

Bones About Coffin

Here were the bones of 39 men and one woman strewn about a great central coffin of a queen whose name the scientists have not yet deciphered from the original cuneiform script. It was the position of the skelotons about the stone sarcohpagus which revealed after these hundreds of centuries the story of the horror which had attended the obsequies of the dead queen. The skeleton of the woman was that of the queen's serving maid, so the archaeologists reason by past discoveries amid the royal tombs of Ur, and the men were soldiers.

They had been slaughtered so that their souls might accompany that of the queen to the land of the dead.

"In the tomb of the queen," reports Mr. Woolley, "besides the more or less conventional headdress of gold ribbons, leaves and rings, beads, ear-rings and finger rings, was a pin of unusual type, very long and of solid gold; a delicate fluted gold tumbler like that found in the grave of Queen Shub-Ab last years and—most peculiar of all—a cylinder seal of gold engraved with scenes of feasting and of musicians.

Other Graves Found

"Other rich graves have been unearthed. One, which might be called the grave of the baby princess, contained the body of an infant and with it a golden head-dress which was almost a replica in miniature of that worn by Shub-Ab, while a miniature set of silver vessels, tumbler and bowls seemed pathetically appropriate.

"A very interesting discovery was that of a harp. The woodwork of the frame had all perished, but luckily a workman noticed in good time the holes left by it in the soil, and by filling these with plaster of paris we obtained a complete cast of the harp's body, to which was attached the bull's head of copper inlaid with lapis lazuli; the most astonishing thing was that when the earth was carefully cut away to expose the cast there were found yet surviving as lines of white powder the 10 cat-gut strings!

"Prominent among our other objects are a copper statue-head of a god having a human face and the horns and ears of a bull, and a painted clay pot whose connections with kish and the circumstances of its finding here are most important for comparative chronology.

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 12. (UP)—Mrs. Lulu Smith, 28 years old, and her six months old daughter were burned to death when their shack home beside the Arkansas river here was destroyed today. Two other children, two and four years old, were rescued by a neighbor. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Congress Causes Set March 1-2

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—House Democrats and Republicans have set March 1 and 2, respectively, for their caucuses to name candidates for speaker, party leaderships and other offices in the house for the next session.

Speaker Longworth and Majority Leader Tilson are expected to be renominated for their respective positions. Representative Garner of Texas has little or no opposition as Democratic candidate for speaker, which in effect would make him minority floor leader upon the selection of Representative Longworth by the Republican.

Representative McDuffie, of Alabama, is being mentioned as a candidate for Democratic whip.

GIVES HER CHILDREN BLACK-DRAUGHT TEA

Tennessee Lady Tells About the Use of This Old, Well-Known Medicine in Her Family For Over 30 Years

RUTLEDGE, Tenn. — "For 30 years or longer we have been using Black-Draught in our home as a family medicine, and have found it to be very handy," says Mrs. John McGinnis, of near here.

"Since I have been married and had children of my own, I have found it to be a fine medicine to give them for colds and indigestion. I have three little girls, and when I see one of them fretful and 'droopy' in the morning, I begin treating her with a course of Black-Draught. It is not long until she is lively and well again.

"I make a tea of it and give it to the children, as they take it best that way.

"I take Black-Draught for constipation and indigestion. If I wake up, with a bad taste in my mouth and feel sluggish and dull, I know it is time for a dose of Black-Draught.

"We try to keep a box of Black-Draught always in the house and are seldom without it. My health is generally good, but I think it is a good thing to keep a mild, dependable remedy on hand for spells of constipation."

Thedford's Black-Draught is made from pure, medicinal herbs and roots.

In use for over eighty-seven years. Sold everywhere. Price 25c and $1.

MOTHER WINS COURT'S AID

Writ Keeps Father From Removing Children

Judge P. A. Martin Tuesday afternoon granted a temporary injunction restraining a father from taking three small children from the custody of their mother and moving them out of the county.

The mother pleaded for the intervention of the court after the father had gone to the sheriff's office in an effort to get aid in seizing the children. Members of the sheriff's department disclaimed the authority to take the children.

Claiming that he is legally divorced from the mother of the children by a decree from Carson county, the father recently appeared in Wichita county and announced his intention of taking charge of the family. The children are 10, 7 and 5 years of age.

The mother in her petition to Judge Martin claimed that she had never been served with any citations concerning the filing or the trial of the divorce and that she is not legally divorced. She alleged that she has been supporting and educating the children and is able to continue doing so. She is represented in her plea by Ralph P. Mathis, attorney.

Lions Club to Study Needs of City Zoo

General discussion of plans for the establishment of a monkey island and other improvements at the municipal zoo, and further preparation for the presentation here next month of "The Drama of Life," for the benefit of the zoo, will occupy the Lions club membership in the regular weekly meeting at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday noon.

Martha Wick, violinist, and Jack Rudd, pianist, will entertain with musical numbers. These two young musicians are pupils of Miss Oscar Lillian Bilbro, and have been regular performers on the childrens' hour programs presented under Miss Bilbro's direction every Saturday over station KGKO.

Salt Water Fish Measure Killed

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—The "salt water fish" pendulum swung back to Holbrook today as the senate, by a vote of 14 to 13, killed the Parr substitute measure.

Another substitute for the Holbrook bill was sent up by Stevenson before the noon recess.

The senate spent the entire morning on Parr's substitute, which would have left the bays from midway in Matagorda to Mexico in their present state and have closed the other gulf coast inlets to seines and trawls. The original bill would close all the bays.

Since Parr and Stevenson had the upper hand yesterday on a motion to table the substitute bill the vote today was a surprise.

Stevenson's substitute would close all bays to dragnets but would not bar set nets. He asserted that Holbrook claimed the dragnets destroyed the spawning grounds.

Hyer's motion to kill both the Holbrook bill and the Parr substitute lost, 17 to 10.

Boy Slightly Hurt In Auto Accident

Billy Joe Clingman, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Clingman, 119 North Austin street, was slightly injured when the automobile in which he was a passenger collided with a truck at Burnett and Seventh streets Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

The boy suffered slight cuts and bruises about the head, according to attendants at the Wichita General hospital.

The trailer of the truck with which the automobile collided was loaded with poles, O. A. Roberson, city motorcycle officer who investigated the case, said.

LIQUOR TRIAL OPENS TODAY

Three Face Vernon Court In Seizure of Plant

Trial of Duke Martin, J. H. Leverett and Buck Ellis, all of Electra, on charges of manufacturing whisky in connection with the seizure of a large plant in Wilbarger county on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 13, is called for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at Vernon.

Sheriff W. G. Bralley and Charlie Gant, deputy sheriff, who worked with Wilbarger officials in raiding the stills and seizing cement mash containers with a capacity of 13,000 gallons, will be among the principal witnesses for the state. The three men were arrested after officers had surrounded the still, hidden near the banks of a creek in Wilbarger county, and ordered their surrender. A great fire was roaring beneath one of the copper stills at the time of the seizure, Mr. Bralley said.

Two other indictments charging possession of whisky for sale are pending against Duke Martin in Wichita county as the results of raids conducted early in January by members of the sheriff's department.

The Film that discolors teeth and then destroys them.

Film Destroys Teeth and robs them of all lustre

It clings to teeth so ordinary brushing fails to remove it successfully. A new way dentists urge.

FILM is the cause of dull, discolored teeth as well as the serious tooth and gum disorders. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays.

Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it. And germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Ordinary brushing fails to remove film successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent curdles film, then removes it in gentle safety to enamel. No other way will make teeth as sparkling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, or ask your druggist for full-size tube.

YANKEES' PITCHING HOPES REST WITH PENNOCK AND MOORE

THIRD BASE IS ALSO PROBLEM

Koenig or Outfielder Byrd May Succeed Dugan

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Wanted by the New York Yankees: A star pitcher, righthander preferred, but a southpaw will be accepted, who can win 20 games.

Although Miller Huggins has a difficult problem to solve on the left side of the infield, he is worrying more about his pitching staff than about shortstop and third base.

The Yankees' pitching problem hinges on rejuvenated arms of Herb Pennock and Wiley Moore. If these two pitchers report in shape and are able to regain their effectiveness, the world champions' pitching staff will need no help, but the reverse may be the case.

Waite Hoyt, Henry Johnson, George Pipgras and Tom Zachary are the veterans Huggins is counting on to form the backbone of the pitching staff. Help is expected from three youngsters—Ed Wells who won 25 games and lost 7 for Birmingham, Gordon Rhodes who won 17 and lost 10 for Hollywood and Floyd Van Pelt who won 26 and lost 11 for the Montgomery, Southeastern league club.

Hug Seeks Rommel

Huggins, however, would feel safer with one more dependable pitcher. Ed Rommel, veteran righthander of the Athletics, has been mentioned as the pitcher Huggins is seeking, but Connie Mack thus far has shown no inclination to deal with the Yankees.

The reported Lou Gehrig-Mickey Cochrane trade never got past the early stages, if even it got that far. Huggins, when he heard of the trade from newspaper men, said he wouldn't trade Gehrig for Lefty Grove and Cochrane, the outstanding battery in the American league, which was as much as saying he wouldn't give Gehrig for the entire Philadelphia ball club.

Huggins' early plan to shift Mark Koenig from shortstop to third base, and play Lyn Lary, the 23-year-old Pacific coast flash, at shortstop may be abandoned, and Koenig kept at his regular position. Sam Byrd, a fleet outfielder, may be given a trial at the hot corner if Koenig stays at shortstop.

The New York Giants would like to swing a deal for another pitcher and a righthanded hitting outfielder. John J. McGraw has high hopes that Carl Mays, the veteran submarine hurler, who was signed last year after he had been given his unconditional release by the Cincinnati Reds will win a regular berth. After spending the winter in Florida, Mays believes that he has rid his arm of the neuritis which halted his career last season.

Giants Need Outfielder

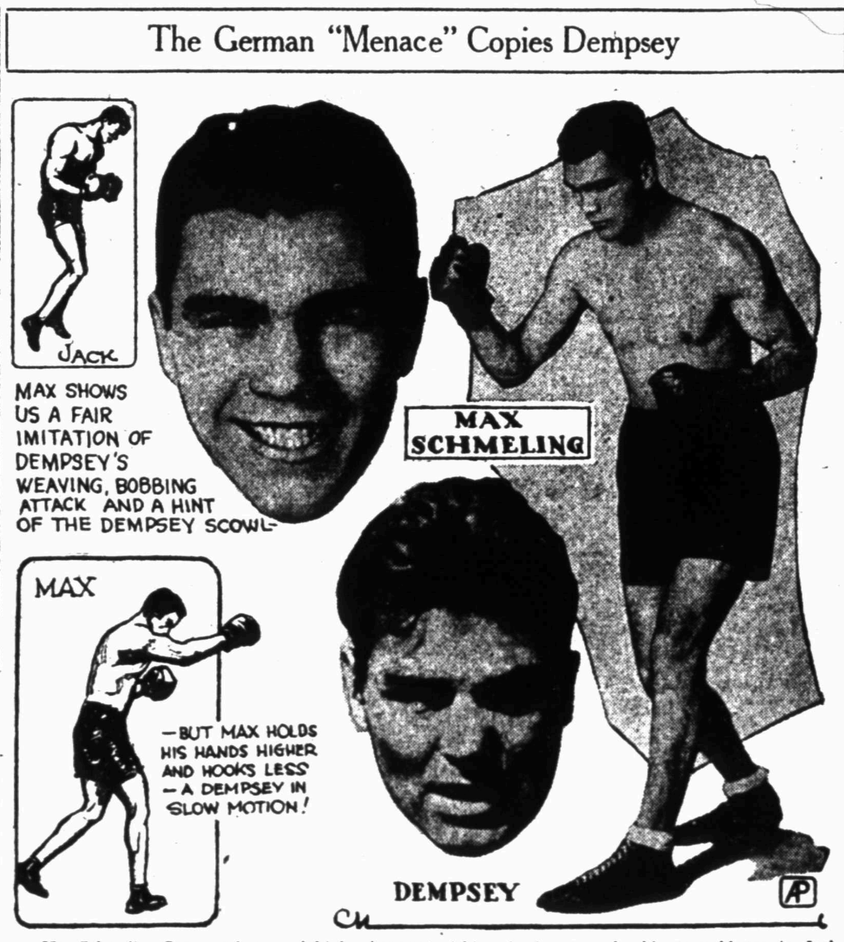

Four of the seven Giants' outfielders are lefthanded hitters, and the three righthanded hitters are all recruits. McGraw needs a righthanded hitter to alternate with Melvin Ott in right field. Ott, a demon hitter against righthanded pitching, but is weak against southpaws.

Tony Kaufmann, who formerly pitched for the Cubs, Phillies and Cardinals, may be the righthanded hitter McGraw needs. Forsaking the mound for the outfield, Kaufmann batted .386 for the Rochester club last season. The other two righthanded hitters are Art Veltman, who batted .333 for Springfield, and Chick Fullis, who batted .275 for Toledo.

The Brooklyn Robins, among other things, needs an infielder. Unless Wally Gilbert from Atlanta makes good at third base, the Robins may have to shift Glenn Wright, obtained from the Pirates in the deal for Jess Petty and Harry Riconda, to third and use Davy Bancroft at shortstop.

The Robins have only six infielders, Bissonette, Flowers, Wright, Bancroft, Gilbert and Leo Bader from Macon, Ga., Billy Rhiel, another Atlanta product, may be brought in from the outfield to try for an infield berth.

The German "Menace" Copies Dempsey

Max Schmeling Gearman heavyweight, has been astonishing boxing fans by his resemblance to Jack Dempsey. He even apes the ring style of the Manassa Mauler with minor differences.

By GLENN ALLAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Max Schmeling, Germany's gift to the cauliflower industry, is causing noticeable consternation in circles pugilistic.

This husky with his uncanny resemblance to Jack Dempsey is ruining the local theory that European fighters spend their off hours practicing plain and fancy dives. Herr Schmeling has remained painfully erect throughout his American bouts, to the humiliation of his opponents, unaccustomed as they are to public sleeping.

Herr Schmeling has become a menace. People are not forgetting that the Davis cup, like my bonny, lies over the ocean. People are musing that even so American an institution as the heavyweights title could be taken away. So loud has been the rumbling that Madison Square garden has taken over the invader for the next two years.

He will fight in April, according to announcement. If successful, he will meet other young men. Herr Schmeling will be given a chance to make good in a large way. A menace from other lands is always good at the box office, in spite of their unsuccessful forays in the past.

Schmeling copies Dempsey's ring style fairly closely. It is explained that he studied fight films of the mauler in Germany. The weaving, bobbing attack of Dempsey is there, a shadow of the Dempsey scowl is there, the beetle-browed glower is there, but it is done in slow motion. In repose Max looks like Dempsey. In action, Max looks like somebody trying to look like Dempsey.

He carries his hands higher, comes in slower, hooks less and has a straight right for a finishing blow. He hits hard and has shown in his fights over here that he can take plenty. Joe Sekyra did his best but lost in ten rounds. Pietro Corri went horizontal in the first two minutes, and Johnny Risko was battered so fiercely that the referee stopped the argument. Joe Monte was the first sacrifice.

Altogether, the young man from Hamburg seems due for a place in the spotlight this year. He is being unofficially mentioned for a match with the winner of the Sharkey Stribling fight. In the meantime he has returned to his family heath to brush up on his English and his punches.

CHARGE FACES BOSTON BRAVES

Attorney General to File Complaint Today

BOSTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—State Attorney General Joseph A. Warner announced tonight he would make complaint in municipal court tomorrow against the Boston Braves as consequence of his investigation of the Outdoor Recreation league which supported a bill legalizing Sunday sports in this state during the last state election.

Evidence of violations of the corrupt practices act had been unearthed, the attorney general said.

"Violations of the corrupt practices act, as disclosed by my investigation, if proven, are misdemeanors and not felonies with which our grand juries are more primarily and properly concerned," the report said.

"The usual practice in misdemeanor cases in Suffolk county is to bring complaint in the municipal court. I intend to follow the usual procedure."

The demand for an investigation of the Outdoor Recreation league grew out of the recent finance committee's hearing on the charge of Braves' officials that bribes had been demanded of them by a Boston councilman.

During the hearing suspicion was aroused that the Recreation league had a close connection with the Boston Braves. It was found that the contributors to the league's funds were officials or friends of officials of the Braves.

"The investigation shows expenditures of about $30,000," the attorney general's report said, "which were made in behalf of this legislation. The expenditures were made by the Boston National League Baseball company by their own checks.

"An examination of the return made by the Outdoor Recreation league by Orrie J. Brusse shows certain inaccuracies."

Counsel for the parties involved have been notified to appear in court Wednesday, where they may be heard when the complaint is made, the report said.

Complaint also would be made against O. J. Brusse, of Brookline, treasurer of the league, which raised a fund of $30,000 to wage a campaign in favor of the sports measure, Warner said.

Investigation of the league started when, in an altercation between officials of the Braves and the Boston council over adoption of the sports measure in Boston, it was charged that the Braves had contributed heavily to the $30,000 fund. It also was charged that Brusse filed a false list of contributors to the fund with the secretary of state to cover contributions made by the Braves.

Famous Golf Shots of 1928

By FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 12. (AP)—No single shot, but a shower of them, a two-day barrage of par-chasers, falling with the steadiness of English rain and peppering a much-perplexed American, Walter Hagen, was responsible for one of the most sensational golf matches of 1928.

It may be recalled that Archie Compston beat Hagen 18 up and 17 to play in a big 72 hole match for money at Moor Park near London late in April.

In the long history of the game no golfer with an international reputation ever suffered so severe a rebuff, and the moral—if there must be morals in golf matches—is the very obvious one that even the great masters must practice to keep from looking like dubs when they meet their class.

"Compston had me hopelessly beaten at putting," said Hagen after the mauling was over. "I know now that I should have practiced putting, whatever else I did."

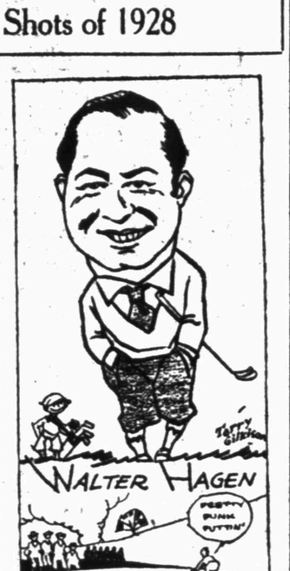

Probably nobody could have stood up against the big Englishman in that match, but Hagen could not have done better on the greens.

The short tenth, 145 yards, on the third round was typical. Hagen was making his last big effort. His tee shot was a beauty, it pitched close to the cup with underspin that almost could be heard. Compston took three for a change, the first time he had missed a birdie here. With the putt holed, perhaps Hagen could turn the tide.

It was one of those easily holeable—or missable ones—a four footer, or thereabouts. But Hagen's touch wasn't there. The ball never looked like dropping in, the hole was halved instead of won, and the American never had another chance.

Hagen came to England with plenty of confidence, but without practice. Compston had worn all the turf off the village common of his home town of Penn, practicing, practicing, practicing, all winter long.

Came the big match and Compston shot par and better, rounds of 67, 66 and 70. Hagen saw the score against him mount higher and higher and higher. He went to lunch on the second day 18 down and 18 to play! The first hole in the afternoon finished the struggle.

An odd thing about the drubbing was that it humanized Walter Hagen in the eyes of the English.

"In all that he did he showed himself to be a great golfer and a sportsman, and his reputation has suffered not at all," said a famous British critic.

"No golfer of proved worth and world-wide fame has ever received such a buffeting, yet Hagen met it with a serenity and good temper that was altogether admirable and a lesson to those present."

It certainly was a lesson to Walter, anyway. He went down to Sandwich and started practicing. A fortnight later his 294 beat Compston, and all the others, and he wears the British open championship crown for the third time.

HALL TO FACE RILEY TONIGHT

Cyclone and Sam in Return Bout Here Tonight

All aBOUT 'Em

Main event—Cyclone Hall, Childress, vs. Sam Riley, Altus, Okla., middleweights, 10 rounds.
Semi-windup—Tommy Scott, Electra, vs. Buck Atkins, Childress, lightweights, eight rounds.
Six rounds—Jimmy Wilson, Oklahoma City, vs. Pug Sutherland, Childress, welterweights.
Four rounds—Jack Betts vs. Benny Leonard, both of Wichita Falls, middleweights.
Four rounds—Aubrey Langford, Quanah, vs. Lefty Hemmi, Scotland, welterweights.
Four rounds—Jimmy Hood vs. Jack Smith, both of Wichita Falls, lightweights.
Four rounds—Tommy Mounds vs. Pete Dixon, both of Wichita Falls, paperweights.
Battle royal.
Place—Alax Ross gym, 821 Indiana avenue.
Time—8:15 o'clock.

Cyclone Hall, the Childress k. o. socker and Sam Riley, the Altus, Okla., middleweight, go to the wars again tonight in the feature 10-round bout of Alex Ross' boxing show. Riley and Hall stepped 10 fast rounds here a few weeks ago with the result disputed by ringsiders. Hence their return go tonight and local boxing enthusiasts are much interested over the affair. They are middleweights.

Six other bouts, making a total of 40 rounds, comprise the excellent program billed by Entrepreneur Alex at his gym at 821 Indiana avenue. Tommy Scott of Electra, a brother of the brilliant Howard and Buck Atkins of Childress, will go eight rounds in the semi-windup. They are lightweights and Alex says that they should provide a good scrap. Scott is a slugger and Atkins a clever boxer, a combination that usually makes for a lively bout.

Jimmy Wilson, the rugged Oklahoma City fellow who has made many friends here with his aggressive and courageous milling, faces Pug Sutherland of Childress over the six-round distance. This looms as another scrap with much action.

Four four-round mills and a curtain raiser, which opens the show at 8:15 o'clock, complete the card.

Basketball Shots

By ED VOSBURGH
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

To jump or not to jump—that appears to be a question now in the game of basket ball.

The proposal put forward by Dr. Meanwell of Wisconsin that the tip-top at center be relegated to the ash-heap and a pass from beyond the sideline be substituted has not gone entirely friendless. Cornell, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo in the east have come out in favor of such a change.

None of these institutions is possessed of any particular attenuated centers and that fact may have something to do with their stand.

Certain it is that Coach Ed Kelleher of the Fordham team that appears likely to rank at or near the top in the east is emphatically against the proposal and it may not be entirely because his own great team has a six-foot-two-inch youth at the pivot post either.

Kelleher thinks the idea is of a piece with the one about junking the dribble which came very near finding its way into the official rules a couple of years ago.

"Doing away with the jump at center," he said, "would take away one of the most spectacular features of the game, just as abolition of the dribble would do."

Surprisingly enough it was a team coached by Dr. Meanwell himself that proved decidedly that a team with a tall center is not blessed with an asset that is sure to make it a winner. Only a few days after Meanwell had unburdened himself to this effect, his own Wisconsin team stopped the beanpole of Purdue, Stretch Murphy, in a game that will go down as one of the classics of the Big Ten.

Basket ball is not the only sport in which height is an asset. The skyscraper type makes the best oarsman provided he has the requisite height and weight. Height is a big asset to a first baseman, and the rangy type is finding favor in the tackle posts in football as well as on the ends. Yet you could hardly help matters by passing a rule that would limit the tall boys' activities.

Until that night the six foot, six inch Murphy had been running wild. Operating from a dizzy height above the heads of most of his opponents this human giraffe had been dropping them in at a pace that seemed destined to break all scoring records. A pass fed to Murphy was as good as basket.

How Wisconsin put a stop to that is history and the hero of the fray was a leech-like Wisconsin unpronouncable who spells it Hank Kowalczyk. Both he and Murphy made four points and the rest of the Wisconsin team, which runs to height as well as speed, had enough of an edge to win by 31 to 26, thereby depositing Michigan, the surprise team of the conference, at the head of the big parade in Purdue's place.

The experience of Princeton seems to indicate that 25 points are not enough to win its basket ball games.

For five games in a row, strangely enough, the Tiger team scored exactly 25 points, but was victorious only once.

Despite the energetic guarding of Mike Miles and Eddie Wittmer, football stars, such smooth teams as Army, Columbia, Fordham, N. Y. U., C. C. N. Y. and Penn are giving the Tiger one of his worst seasons. Opponents are city-slicking the earnest Princeton lads with lightning fast passes and fakes in a disconcerting variation of the old shell game.

Ever since it broke all records with a winning streak extending over several years a few seasons ago, Passiac, N. J., High school has been heard from in a basket ball way.

Two of its alumni, writes G. Sachs, are such effective spark plugs of the Rutgers College of Pharmacy five that the team took the lead in the Intercollegiate Pharmacy league and reeled off five straight victories. Kievitt, captain and forward, made 61 points in the five games, and Judlowitz, center, made 56, which is shooting in any company. Both are sophomores.

Cochran Meets Schaefer Today

Jake and Welker to Play For 18.2 Cue Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (AP)—Jack Schaefer, former champion from Chicago, blasted the title hopes of Kinrey Matusyama and jumped into a tie for first place with Welker Cochran, Hollywood, Calif., sharpshooter by defeating the tiny Japanese sensation 400 to 331 this afternoon in a final round match of the 18.2 Balkline billiard title tournament. The match ended in the eighteenth inning.

Schaefer closed the match with a display as brilliant as his play had been mediocre in the opening innings.

Schaefer's victory, added to that of Cochran last night, pushed Matsuyama out of first place and all chance of winning the crown with a record of three wins and two defeats.

Cochran and Schaefer, who will play for the title tomorrow night, now are tied for first place with three victories and one defeat each.

TILDEN BEATEN IN THREE SETS

Van Ryn Gets Straight Win In Indoor Tourney

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (US)—Young John Van Ryn, former Princeton tennis star, not content with having upset Frank T. Hunter, America's second ranking player, on Monday, played the best game of his still infant career to trounce William T. Tilden in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2, in the final of the Heights casino indoor invitation tournament today.

Van Ryn left no doubt in the minds of the capacity gallery that he was in top form.

Tilden played his best game of the afternoon in the second set. He put on a hard attack to take the lead. The former Princetonian, however, came right back to even the score and then draw ahead by breaking through Tilden's weakened service. After Tilden had tied the score at three-all, Van Ryn took his second set by winning three of the next four games.

In the final set, it was all Van Ryn.

Few of Tilden's shots seemed to work. His backhand was weak, only his forearm functioning well.

Van Ryn lead all the way in the third set. Tilden won only the third and fifth games. Van Ryn rapidly drew in front, 2 to 0, before Tilden won a game. With the score in his favor, 3 to 2, Van Ryn clinched the match by taking the next three.

Taylor, Singer Sought For Return Ring Bout

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (UP)—Matchmaker Tom McArdle of Madison Square Garden expects to close this week with Eddie Long, manager of Bud Taylor, for a return match between the Terre Haute, Ind., featherweight and Al Singer, New York's east side idol, for March 11.

Singer already has agreed to the match, but Long is holding out for a guarantee of 2½ per cent more than Taylor received for the first match which ended unsatisfactorily when Singer was awarded the victory on a foul in the fourth round.

Record Entry Listed For College Track

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (AP)—A record entry of 742 athletes representing 26 eastern colleges was announced today for the inter-collegiate indoor track and field championships, March 2, at the 102nd regiment armory here. This exceeds last year's list by two colleges and 14 individual contenders.

Cornell university, defending the team title, has the largest entry of 94 athletes.

Six 1928 indoor champions will defend their honors.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (US)—Looks like Mr. Hoover went to Florida to get away from that cabinet he hasn't selected yet.

You can bet one thing on that new cabinet.

There will be some big men who will resign from it.

From what we can dope on cabinets, past, present and hopelessly future, we suspect that it will consist of eight members carefully selected by Herbert against his will.

Every politician in America is rushing into the suspected zone fearlessly exposing his bare chest to the onslaught of Herbert's index finger.

Cabinets are a thorn in the side of an election promise.

Herbert is up against a tough job. We met a real cabinet member but once.

The effect was astounding. We went staggering away like a groundhog that had seen too many shadows.

If you have not been mentioned for the Hoover cabinet it is because you have cultivated neither your friends nor your whiskers.

The list of prospective members is longer than a widow's veil.

We recommend Frederick Bloop, who carried Florida in a blindfold test. Mr. Bloop is a big man in a small way. He would have made a good secretary of navy if the 15-cruiser bill had been defeated.

Fannie Binkle wouldn't be bad for the traffic post. Fannie is so timid around taxicabs that she is afraid of being struck by a car while crossing a T.

The secretary of agriculture should be a dirt farmer who knows the latest dirt.

The man for that job is Oscar Plankbum. He was once a farmer but got smart. Then he became editor of a tabloid and now holds the world's record for writing 15 insults on a postal card.

We don't need any secretary of the army because the marines are doing all the work anyway.

We don't know anything about the secretary of the interior. That's a mysterious job. Nobody seems to know anything about it. The secretary of the interior is like a worm in an apple. He doesn't attract any attention until he comes out and shows his head.

Of course, we have international relations, industries and commerce. But why bother the cabinet about that when Los Angeles takes care of it all?

On a couple of second thoughts, why have a cabinet?

Why not let Herbert and Curtis run the works and make our national anthem, "Tea for Two"?

Loughran-Walker Battle Planned

Harmon Goes Ahead Despite Ban by N. B. A.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12 (UP)—Promoter Paddy Harmon announced tonight that he is determined to stage a Micky Walker-Tommy Loughran fight here for the light heavyweight title which Loughran now holds.

Harmon met difficulties in staging the match when Paul Prehn, president of the National Boxing association, announced that he would not sanction a Loughran-Walker match because Mickey has been ordered to fight a middleweight within 60 days or surrender the middleweight title which he won from Tiger Flowers.

"I told Walker he had to defend his title and I meant what I said," Prehn announced.

Harmon said tonight he thought the commission would sanction the fight since Walker has signed for a middleweight bout this summer.

Paddy plans to stage the light heavyweight championship bout next month at the opening of his new Chicago stadium, seating 25,000 people.

Giant Vanguard Off to San Tone

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (UP)—The first squad of New York Giants departed today for San Antonio, Texas, to begin spring training.

Headed by Secretary Jim Tierney, the party included Catcher Jack Cummings, Pitcher Charley Ogden, right hander from Buffalo; Pitcher Floyd Johnson, a young semi-pro; Infielder Red Kavanaugh, picked up from New York sandlots, and a delegation of newspapermen.

The party will be joined at St. Louis tomorrow by five other Giants, Pitchers Larry Benton, Bill Walker and Joe Genewich, and Catchers Joe Witry and Ray Schalk.

Schalk, who will be McGraw's first lieutenant, will have charge of the players at San Antonio until McGraw arrives. The remainder of the Giants are scheduled to report Feb. 28.

Nurmi to Run Monday In New York Games

NEW YORK, Feb. 12. (UP)—Paavo Nurmi's next start in the metropolitan district will be in the two-mile race in the New York A. C. games at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

It was in this same race four years ago that Nurmi set the present world's record of 8:58 1-5 for two miles, considered by many track experts as the best record on the books.

No More Bow-Legs

It has been believed in the past that bow-legs are caused by the baby attempting to walk too early in life, but there is practically no evidence to indicate that this is true. Babies do not attempt to walk or crawl until their tissues are strong enough to withstand the strain.

Most cases of bow-legs are caused by the bay's diet not being rich enough in bone building substances. Of course, a few babies seem to be bow-legged naturally, but I am quite sure that the majority would have correctly formed limbs if the mother's diet preceding the birth, and the baby's diet subsequent to birth, were properly balanced.

If the mother notices that the child's legs are distinctly bowed, she may be able to correct the deformity if she begins early enough in the child's life before the age of 15 to 18 months, while the bones are still pliable.

A slight bow of the baby's legs is normal and should cause no alarm, but if the bending is excessive, it can be corrected to a large extent by gently attempting to bend the baby's legs in the proper direction two or three times daily. This may sound like a severe treatment, but if it is done properly, it will not cause the least bit of discomfort to the baby, since the child's bones bend readily. Very severe cases, of course, should be treated by an orthopedist.

If the expectant mother's or the nursing mother's diet contains a sufficient quantity of the bone-building foods such as spinach, cabbage, swiss chard, turnips, asparagus, cress, lettuce, celery, cucumbers, tomatoes, lemons, oranges, milk and egg yolk, the baby will also receive sufficient bone forming elements. If the baby is bottle fed, it should be allowed plenty of raw certified milk and orange juice, to which diet may be added small amounts of raw carrot juice, spinach juice or tomato juice.

A baby with improper bone formation should also be exposed for a few minutes daily to the action of the direct sunlight, or if this is not available, to the actinic light which many physicians have installed. After 18 months of age, it is still possible to correct bow-legs to a slight degree through the use of leg bending and strengthening exercises, but the bones are harder and no great change can be expected.

It is almost useless for adults to expect to straighten the bones of their legs if they are badly bowed. However, by taking exercises such as the deep knee bend and alternately raising on the toes and heels, the muscles of the calf may be so developed that the bow is not noticeable. Sometimes adults have their legs broken and reset in a straighter position, but this treatment is not generally advisable because bones do not always heal exactly as they are supposed to, and sometimes the result is not pleasant to the patient.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Bleeder

Question: J. W. L. writes: "When I cut myself while shaving, the bleeding sometimes continues for an hour or more. I am 35 years old and seem to be in good health otherwise. Can you tell me why the blood doesn't coagulate?"

Answer: It is possible that you are a type of person known as a bleeder in which the blood does not coagulate properly. These cases can often be remedied by a short fast of orange juice, say from five to seven days, followed by a diet rich in alkaline elements and protein. A liberal amount of gelatin in the diet seems to be of assistance in many cases.

Eggs Are Wholesome

Question: D. T. asks: "Are eggs a good healthful, strengthening food? How would they effect a person should he eat them each morning?"

Answer: One or two eggs may be used by any healthy person every day. They are quite wholesome and nourishing.

Angina Pectoris

Question: Subscriber writes: "I have an unusual case of angina pectoris. What kind of work can I do that would not hurt me? Would a fast help me?"

Answer: Many cases of angina pectoris are greatly benefited by the orange juice fast. The diet after the fast must be rigidly guarded as to the correct food combinations. Very little exercise should be taken during the fast, but after the diet is started, moderate exercise should be used and gradually increased as the strength of the patient permits.

Sagging Abdomen

Question: M. P. B. writes: "I have a sagging abdomen. Have worn a belt for nine months. It does no good because it doesn't retain its elasticity. What is the remedy? What exercises should be taken?"

Answer: You should develop an "internal corset" by exercising your abdominal muscles until they become strong. The best exercises are those taken while lying on the back and alternately raising the legs and the trunk.

Guelph, Ontario, home town of Edward Johnson, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, has received $28,000 for the purpose of developing musical talent among children.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AN' MACK

MORAN—Why did that man run outta yo' chair, Big Boy?

MACK—Well, while I was shavin' th' back of his neck I cut off his suspender buttons.

MORAN—That was an accident, wasn't it?

MACK—It was an accident until he lost an ear.

MORAN—Yo' sure is a deadly barber.

MACK—Where did YO' study barbain'?

MORAN—I took my lessons by mail.

MACK—Yo' musta run out of postage.

MORAN—I was th' prize pupil.

MACK—They tell me th' letter carriers was so scared they used to hand yo' lessons to yo' on th' end of a long pole.

MORAN—Well, if YO' is so good how come we lose so many customers?

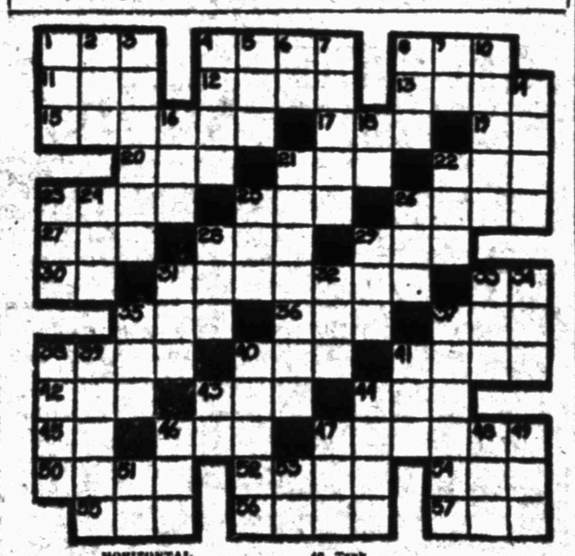

MACK—I guess we forget to STRAP 'em in th' chair.

MORAN—What's become of that bottle of hair tonic?

MACK—Is THAT what it WAS?

If Big Boy actually drank that hair tonic it looks as if he is going to be all fuzzy inside. He is sure going to grow himself a home-made raccoon coat. The Two Black Crows haven't gone so good in the Barber League as the customers are scoring all the runs.

Maud Expects More Gushers

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 12.—More gusher wells are expected in the Misener sand formation in the Maud field of the Greater Seminole area.

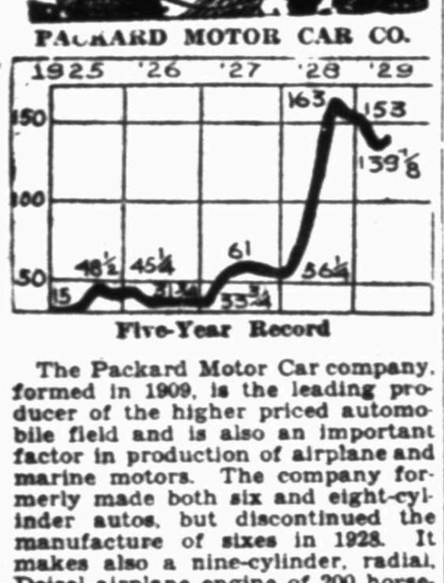

The Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Wallace, in the southwest of the northwest of the southwest of 17-8-5, an east offset to the Gypsy No. 2 Miller, had the hole loaded with water and started to bail Monday night. Three gas taps have been set and two master gates are connected up. The Misener sand was topped at 4013 and drilled to 4017 feet. It will probably be drilled in early Tuesday morning.

Gypsy Oil company No. 4 Miller, in the northwest of the northeast of the southeast of 18-8-5, connected up two master gates and is drilling out the plugs. The eight-inch casing was set at 4,000 feet.

Its No. 3 Miller, in the southeast of the northeast of the southeast of 18-8-5, the gusher well of the Maud pool, flowed 5,353 barrels during the 24 hours ending Monday morning. Between 6 and 7 a. m. Monday, it flowed 280 barrels. The Misener sand was penetrated from 4027 to 4030 feet.

Dallas Woman Struck By Street Car Dies

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Mrs. J. M. Harrison, 40, died en route to a hospital this afternoon after a street car struck her. She stepped in front of the street car to avoid an automobile, witnesses said.

Five-Year Record

The Packard Motor Car company, formed in 1909, is the leading producer of the higher priced automobile field and is also an important factor in production of airplane and marine motors. The company formerly made both six and eight-cylinder autos, but discontinued the manufacture of sixes in 1928. It makes also a nine-cylinder, radial, Deisel airplane engine of 200 horsepower. The company is represented by selling organizations in 60 countries, the foreign dealers totaling 233. It also has branches and a wide distribution system arranged in the United States. The company has a site of 75 acres at Detroit with 3,500,000 square feet of floor space. The factory shipped 47,148 cars in the year ended Aug. 31, 1928. Production in the calendar year 1928 was nearly 50 per cent ahead of 1927.

The company has both record sales and earnings in the 1928 fiscal year. Net income was $21,885,416, as compared with $11,793,498 in the previous 12 months.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding consists of $30,042,640 in shares of $10 par value. The dividend rate at present is 30 per cent per annum ($3) a share, payable in monthly installments, and there are also extras from time to time. Several stock dividends were paid up to 1926.

As of August 31, 1928, total current assets were $41,680,330, total current liabilities were $14,705,741 and net working capital $26,947,589. Book value applicable to the outstanding stock amounted to $60,471,582, or $20.12 a share.

DAIRY COWS IN DEMAND HERE

Hope Revived for Revolving Fund to Aid Buyers

A marked increase in the demand for thoroughbred dairy cows among farmers and dairymen in the Wichita Falls community has been observed during the last two or three days, according to leaders in the milk producing industry here.

During the recent period of unusually severe weather, with the consequent thaw, activities diminished noticeably, and deliveries of milk were more or less irregular, it was said. During Monday and Tuesday, however, local plants have been receiving their normal amount of milk, and numerous calls have been registered for good cows. A small number of select dairy cows remain in the herd of W. A. Baber, on the Petrolia road, which has been maintained for the past several months in cooperation with the chamber of commerce agricultural department as a means of providing high class dairy stock to milk producers in this vicinity.

Plans for the establishment of a revolving fund whereby farmers may purchase dairy cattle on easy terms, payment to be made out of milk checks, have been revived, and it is thought that within a short time this added contribution to rapid dairying development here will have been perfected.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Feb. 12. (AP)—While today's offering of cattle and calves was a little more liberal than the corresponding day last week, it consisted mostly of mixed loads of rather common quality. Lower values in prospect on most classes of cattle.

Most of the steers offered were lightweights but some of them carried fair flesh. The demand for steers was very narrow and no early sales reported.

A few cars of slaughter yearlings found buyers slow in placing bids and such bids as were made were lower, except on the very best kind that were about steady. A few packages sold at $11.75@12.25.

Cows were receiving bids that were 15c to a quarter lower with a three-car lot at $7.75 and one load at $7. Very few canner and cutter cows offered, but they were generally steady with the bulk of the business at $5@6.00.

The supply of calves was light and generally lacked quality. Packer buyers paid $11 and less for the better calves with culls at $6.50@7.00. Good heavy stocker calves sold at $11.25.

Except for small packages very few stocker cattle changed hands during the early session with values steady.

No bulls of any consequence included in the receipts. Values steady.

Sheep steady, wooled lambs at $15.75 and wooled wethers at $10.50; wooled yearlings at $14 and clipped wethers at $9.

Hogs 10 to 20c higher; best rail butchers at $10.20 and those in the truck division at $9.60. Packing sows sold at $8.25@9.00; bulk of the butchers $9@10.20.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 12. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Cattle trade at most points around the 11-market circuit continued slow with further price declines enforced on fed steers. Lower dressed beef prices at Boston, the key market for heavy steer beeves, made the live trade on heavy steers very sluggish. Light yarlings registered no material change but packers were bearish towards heavy heifers and fat cows and slaughter yearlings in Chicago topped at $14.25 while best weighty steers on the same market stopped at $13. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 33,950, as compared with 32,043 a week ago and 42,605 a year ago.

Hogs found a fairly broad outlet to both packers and shippers at strong to 25c higher price levels. The day's extreme top of $10.40 was realized at Chicago and St. Louis. Total offerings were around 108,000, a decrease of 36,500 from a week ago and 16,000 less than the corresponding day last year.

The sheep supply approximated 50,000 against 43,676 last Tuesday and 61,308 a year ago. Fat lambs ruled slow at steady to 25c lower values. Aged stock showed little change. Choice lambs in Chicago reached $17.35, a figure equal to yesterday's best price.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 36,000; 15@25c higher; top $10.40 for 170 to 210-pound weights; packing sows, $9.25@9.75.

Cattle—Receipts 8,500; calves 2,500; weak to lower; slaughter steers, good and choice 1300 to 1500 pounds, $11.75@14.75; 1100 to 1300 pounds, $11.75@14.75; 950 to 1100 pounds, $11.75@14.75; vealers, milk-fed, good and choice, $12.00@15.00.

Sheep—Receipts 11,000; weak to 25c lower; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down, $16.00@17.35; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down, $7.50@9.00.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 12. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 10,000; 15@25c higher; top $10.15 on 190 to 240 pounds; packing sows, $8.25@9.25.

Cattle—Receipts 7,000; calves 700; weak to lower; slaughter steers, good and choice 1300 to 1500 pounds, $10.75@13.75; 1100 to 1300 pounds $10.75@14.00; 950 to 1100 pounds $10.75@14.00; cows, good and choice, $8.00@9.75; vealers, milk fed, medium to choice, $8.50@14.00.

Sheep—Receipts 7,000; lambs steady to 15c lower; sheep steady; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down, $15.25@16.25; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down, $7.50@9.50.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 12. (UP)—Hogs—Receipts 2,000; market 10 to 20c higher; top $10.20; truck top $9.60; bulk medium to choice 185 to 240-pound rail hogs $10@10.20; bulk desirable 175 to 250-pound truck hogs $9.25@9.60; packing sows steady, mostly $8.25@8.75.

Cattle—Receipts 3,400; quality of run unusually plain and common; receipts mostly mixed butcher classes; desirable grades slaughter steers practically lacking; trade in most classes cattle dull, tending lower; she stock and half fat yearlings weak to 25c lower; steer trade poorly tested.

Sheep—Receipts 700; market all classes steady; wooled fat lambs $15.75; good to choice wooled fat yearlings $14; good to choice wooled fat wethers $10.50; fresh shorn fat wethers $9.

Two Killed in Terrific Colorado Snowslides

CREEDE, Colo., Feb. 12. (UP)—Thundering 12,000 feet down the Cochetopa and La Plata mountains, a series of snowslides spread fear today through southwestern Colorado. Two lives were reported lost, and the neighboring towns of Silverton and Durango were cut off from each other by even higher banks of snow than those which blocked highway and railroad traffic a week ago. Several small mining camps were snowbound.

Bankers Name Gill Head of Fifth District

DALLAS, Feb. 12. (AP)—Ben L. Gill of Terrell was elected president of the fifth district of the Texas Bankers' association at the annual convention here today. Griffith Carnes of Dallas was named secretary. Next year's convention was awarded to Dallas, which has had all district conventions for the past 25 years.

TEXAS CATTLE IN GOOD SHAPE

Ranges in Fair Condition On First of Month

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. (AP)—Texas cattle are coming through the winter in good condition with losses from exposure and starvation comparatively light prior to Feb. 1, H. H. Schutz, statistician with the bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture, said in a report today.

The condition of Texas ranges on February 1 was 82 per cent, two points lower than one month ago but slightly higher than the five year average, Schutz said.

"The condition of cattle on Feb. 1 was 84 per cent, compared with 86 per cent last month. Cattle usually decline about four points during January but this year weight has been maintained somewhat through feeding on the range. More feeding has been justified this winter than usual as cattle are now too valuable to lose by starvation, when comparatively cheap roughage is available, and supplemental feeding will help prepare cattle for an early spring market. Fat cattle were well sold out last fall and it is the general belief that not as many fat cattle as usual will be available for the spring market.

"Receipts of cattle and calves at Fort Worth during January were 63,127 head, compared with 87,841 head received during January, 1928. Receipts of hogs were practically the same as during January, 1928, while receipts of sheep were about 12 per cent greater than for the same period last year.

"The amount of wool shorn in Texas during 1928 is estimated at 35,591,000 pounds compared with 32,725,000 pounds in 1927. The average weight of wool per head of sheep shorn was 8.4 pounds compared with 8.5 pounds in 1927. Texas continued to lead all states in wool production by a wide margin."

COW TESTING IS EMPHASIZED

Davis Discusses Problems Of Dairying

LUBBOCK, Texas, Feb. 12.—Discounting guess work and emphasizing several phases of the problem of dairying, R. B. Davis, agricultural agent at Brownfield, explained the value of testing in dairy herd improvement in a speech before the first Farmers' Short course recently held at Texas Technological college. He also explained how to test by mail.

Mr. Davis said: "What is the value of cow testing in herd improvement? These tests mean testing for butter fat. I wonder if we are going about dairy development in the right way? We pick up a dairy bulletin and notice that some cow gave 1,000 pounds of butter fat. Then we wonder if it would do us much good if we knew how much old "Spot" gave. We would like to know anyway. It would be very valuable for us to know.

Many Phases

"There are many phases to dairying: feeding, management and breeding. We must consider all of these things in building up our dairy herd. How do we know what to do? Are we going to guess at it? That is about all we have been doing. I am often asked the question, 'How can you tell a good Jersey cow and a good Holstein cow from any other?' Anybody will tell you that the best way to tell the difference is with a pair of milk scales and a Babcock tester. We are in it to make money. By testing we know which cow gives the butter fat and which cow doesn't. That is the only way we can tell. After all you may find an old crooked-back cow that gives more butter fat than one that is more symmetrical. You can't judge by the appearance of the cow, but by testing her milk.

"The Cow-Testing association has just finished a year's work. The figures show a relative amount of what the cows are doing. They showed that each of the five winning or highest cows returned an average of $206.65 above the cost of their feed. The five lowest cows returned a profit of $34.77 each. Thus, there is $171.88 difference between the best cows and the lowest cows. If we could see these five lowest cows and five highest cows mixed up, we might pick some of the lowest cows for some of the highest. The milk scales and the Babcock tester is the best judge. You see how important it is to you to know what your cows are doing—how much butter fat they are giving.

Cow Feeding

"How do you feed your cow? Most of you go and get a scoop and throw in all the feed that your cow will eat. One man checked up and found that if he had not used a ration for his cows instead of the method described above he would have lost $757 on feed. If he had gone on feeding without using a ration he would have used that much money in a year in feed that would not have returned a dime.

"When we select our calves we usually pick the good-looking ones. We should keep the calves whose mothers are the best producers. The breeding is very important, too. Know the sires of your calves. We go out and pay $500 to $1,000 for a young bull, taking a chance. We know his record but don't know what he is going to do. In the testing association the fact was brought out that a young cow returned $55.68 more profit on butter fat in a year than did her mother. The sire had a good deal to do with it. We are never sure of the best sires until we test their daughters. At the dairy show at Plainview we found that four out of five winning cows were daughters on one bull. We would never have known this if we hadn't tested their milk. The value of the sire would not have been known had not the daughters been tested. In this way you know which cows to keep and how to build up your herd.

Testing by Mail

"When it was first suggested that cows could be tested by mail most people didn't see how it could be done. They didn't know the 'mail-order' business could handle testing. It has not been done in Texas yet, but it can be done. In Wisconsin it is being done and 20,000 cows were added to the testing list in three months. In five years' time they found that mail-order testing was more satisfactory to them than regular testing associations that sent a man around once a month to take samples of milk for testing. Once each month a central office sends out a testing pot to each herd. In this pot is a can for each cow. The can has a number on it corresponding with the number of the cow on the milk sheet. The milker puts the samples in the cans and mails the pot back to the centralized office. Later the report is sent back to him. This kind of an association would be very desirable for us down here. There would be a number of men who would join it, send it their samples, and check up on their herds. This could be done at one-third or one-half the cost of maintaining a testing association. I sincerely hope that in the near future such a plan can be worked out here."

Murder Charge Filed In Death of Texas Soldier

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 12. (INS)—Fred Lachapelle, 36, was charged with murder today in a complaint filed in justice court in connection with the slaying of Edgar Gordon, Fort Sam Houston soldier, who was shot to death yesterday afternoon. Richard R. Raylor, of Houston, and Mrs. Lachapelle were said to have witnessed the shooting.

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad Department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon papers up until 11 a. m. same day.
Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.
Sunday paper up to 7 p. m. Saturday night.
Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. And telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

The House That Classified Advertising Sold

YOU'VE SEEN IT. It was not large. Nor was it small. It was just comfortable. Every line of its architecture shows the hand of a master. It was built of splendid, lasting materials. From cellar to attic it is perfect. It was completely equipped with modern labor and time saving devices—oil burner, washing machine, vacuum cleaner, electric irons, electric fans, etc. Everything needed to make living a pleasure was there.

EVERYTHING IN IT from the asbestos shingles on the roof to the concrete foundation blocks was advertised—even the plan itself, made by a famous architect, was bought for a nominal sum.

THE CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS make it possible for you to live better.

C.-C. ENDORSES STATE AIR LAW

Drastic Regulations Urged To Control Flying

The aviation committee of the chamber of commerce, headed by W. N. Bonner, Tuesday afternoon adopted resolutions urging the passage of a measure now before the legislature at Austin which would make it unlawful for any unlicensed person to fly an airplane within the state, or for any person to fly a plane which has not been licensed by the government.

Line to Amarillo

The measure would have the effect of adapting to intrastate flying the same regulations imposed by the federal government upon interstate aeronautics. Under the proposed measure, individuals would be forbidden to fly private planes unless both flyer and plane were duly licensed, as a commercial pilot and his ship are restricted under the present regulations.

Consideration of the measure was occasioned by the visit of Tom Hardin and Silliman Evans of Fort Worth, officers of the Texas Air Transport corporation, who landed at the Municipal airport here shortly after noon Tuesday and were entertained at a luncheon in the Wichita club by directors and aviation committee members of the chamber of commerce. Mr. Hardin and Mr. Evans both asked the local organizations to register support of the measure with the legislature.

Announcement was made of the T. A. T.'s expectation of opening air passenger service between Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Amarillo within the next few weeks. The service will be inaugurated, Mr. Hardin said, as soon as equipment already ordered has been delivered to the company which he heads. Delivery on five ships has been promised for this month, with additional deliveries in March, it was stated, making it probable that the Wichita Falls-Amarillo line may be opened by April 1.

Company Expands

The possibility of later extension of the service from Amarillo to Denver, and of the establishment of a branch line from Wichita Falls to San Angelo, also was discussed at the luncheon. Night flying over the line through this city was said to depend upon the illumination of landing fields here, and the managements of both Staley and Kell fields stated that boundary lights would be installed at an early date.

Mr. Hardin stated that by May 1 the T. A. T. company would have 40 planes and 63 pilots active in its service, and that its ships would be flying a total of 10,000 miles daily between important Texas cities.

Scottish Rite Club Plans Banquet Choir

Plans to sponsor a choir of 40 voices were made at the monthly meeting and dinner of the Wichita Valley Scottish Rite club Tuesday night in the Maskat temple auditorium.

The proposed choir is to be composed of 20 men's and 20 women's voices. It will render numbers at the Maundy-Thursday banquet which will be held March 28, and will be established as a permanent institution of the Scottish Rite club.

Members of the club who were present at the meeting were as follows: Rabbi S. J. Schwab, Albert Ellis, Bentley Bacon, J. G. Graves, J. M. Franklin, Guy Rogers, John Elder, F. E. Shoop, Dr. L. D. Parnell, Frank Collier, J. S. Nichols, Gene Leopold, C. L. Mansell, Dr. J. H. Fletcher, Eli Morgan, Charles Miller, Harry Carson, J. D. Hunt, R. L. Wilhite, J. Cohen, Steve Rowe, Harry Darnell, L. H. Thurman and J. M. Spoonts.

FIRST AID CLASS

The regular weekly first aid training class will meet at Boy Scout headquarters in the Memorial auditorium at 7:30 Wednesday night, according to Frank B. Creighton, scout executive here.

This week's session will be conducted by Doctors Clayton Shirley and J. B. Nail. Not only scout leaders, but any one in the city who is interested in additional first aid training, is invited to join the class.

◇ ◇ ◇

Although synchronized sound pictures—which includes the terms "talkies" and "movietones"—have been before the public only a few months, they already have passed largely into the category of calmly accepted facts which soon harbors all startling innovation in the onrush of progress.

◇ ◇ ◇

Cut-backs and meaningful subtitles, which contribute so tremendously to the smooth continuity of picture stories, gained their important places in moving pictures so quickly and quietly that with the average patron only the absence of such aids would have called attention to their part in the production. Colored pictures, on their first appearances, were viewed with awe, but few people now exclaim at the same phenomenon.

◇ ◇ ◇

Those who seek their entertainment in sound pictures, however, will continue to be deeply influenced unconsciously by the music accompanying the screen play in a measure never effected by other innovations in the technique of motion picture production. The emotions of the auditor are prepared by the musical score for more sensitive response to the progressing action of the play, and without recognizing the magic of the music, he experiences greater excitement, deeper pathos, and a keener appreciation of graceful motion and beauty of appearance, all of which contribute to his enjoyment of the show.

Medical Society Warns of Danger From Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Proper Ventilation of Gas Heated Rooms Urged in Resolution At Meeting Here; Radio Address Scheduled

Steps were taken by the Wichita County Medical society at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, to give additional publicity to the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning, which each winter reaps its toll of fatalities throughout the country, and which has resulted in two cases of near asphyxiation in and near Wichita Falls, within the last two weeks.

Radio Address

The society passed a resolution in which it approved the suggestion that a member of the society give a talk over the local radio, in which preventative measures would be outlined, and the dangers of lack of ventilation in the home stressed. The speaker probably will be named next week, it was indicated.

This action followed an address on "Carbon Monoxide Poisoning," by Dr. William Rosenblatt. In it he warned people to keep rooms properly ventilated while gas heaters were burning, and urged that vents be installed next to all water heaters and ranges in order to isure a continual flow of fresh air through the room.

The doctor also discussed the dangers of this form of poisoning, pointing out enormous number of deaths ascribed to it each year. The first symptoms of the poisoning, he said, is a slight dizziness, then a headache. If something is not done before the headache develops in intensity, the victim will fall unconscious, and death will follow, the physician said. However, if fresh air is obtained, recovery is almost immediate.

Dallas Man Speaks

Carbon monoxide poisoning nearly claimed the lives of several persons in Electra several weeks ago, when a Sunday school teacher and several of her pupils were overcome in the small room in which the weekly Sunday school lesson was being taught. Only a few days ago, a Wichita Falls family was overcome by the fumes. They are now on the road to recovery.

Besides this subject, the physicians heard a discussion of "Sub-Acute Bacterial Endocarditis," by Dr. George W. Underwood, of Dallas. Comments on the address were offered by Drs. Stevenson, Meredith, and Whiting.

About 40 members attended the meeting, which was held in the Wichita club. The regular monthly dinner was served.

Deaths

MISS OLA EDDINGTON

Miss Ola Eddington, 19, 113 Fort Worth street, died in a local hospital Tuesday afternoon. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary.

Miss Eddington is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Eddington, two brothers and one sister.

MRS. F. W. PAYNE

Funeral services for Mrs. F. W. Payne, 33, who died Sunday at her residence, 200 Burnett street, were conducted from the Hines mortuary chapel Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Payne is survived by her husband and one son.

WILLIAM WOOD WINTERS

Funeral services for William Wood Winters, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Winters, 2302 Yale avenue, who died Monday night in a local hospital, were conducted from the Merkle Undertaking company parlors Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burial was in Rosemont cemetery.

B. Y. P. U. SCHOOL

Attendance at Training Course Climbs To 200 Tuesday

Enrollment in the B. Y. P. U training school of the First Baptist church increased to 200 Tuesday, the second day classes in the work have been conducted here, officials announced. The school is to continue through the week, with courses in B. Y. P. U. training and stewardship being offered, under the direction of P. C. Gardner, Dallas, general secretary of the Texas B. Y. P. U.

Prizes for attendance in classes were awarded to five teachers Tuesday. The teachers, and the number of pupils present, follow: Mr. Gardner, 75; H. C. Mayers, 21; Miss Grace Conn, 20; Dr. O. L. Powers, 16, and Miss Lola Leath, 16.

Third Performance Of "Dulcy" Draws Crowd

The third and final presentation of "Dulcy," popular three-act comedy selected by the Little Theater here as the opening play following its recent reorganization, was greeted by a much larger attendance Tuesday night than was present at either of the performances given last Thursday and Friday nights.

The play was repeated Tuesday night because of numerous requests for its third presentation by people who had been prevented from attending last week by inclement weather, and in the hope of enabling the Little Theater to meet all expenses incident to its production. Leaders in the movement were highly pleased with the results of Tuesday night's performance, and expressed confidence in the assured support of local citizens to perpetuate the work which began in the production of "Dulcy."

Two Building Permits Issued for $65,000

A renewal of building activities was indicated by the issuance of permits Tuesday by F. M. Rugeley, city engineer, for two new buildings whose total cost will exceed $65,000, and for repairs to residence property which will approximate $1,000.

The largest structure for which permit was issued is the warehouse soon to be erected at 1103 Ohio for the Tarry Warehouse and Storage company. Another permit covered erection of a two-story brick dwelling at 2203 Avondale, in the Country Club estates, by Chester Wynne.

Much interest was taken in an exhibit of several varieties of rabbit furs, belonging to W. L. Smith, corresponding secretary of the association, which were said to be sold commonly in the fur market under the names of sealskin, ermine, beaver, blue fox, red fox, French silver, martin and others.

State Show at Burk

Following the judging, a meeting of the directors of the association was held with J. E. Musick of Burkburnett, president, presiding, at which plans were laid for entertaining the state association rabbit show at Burkburnett on March 28-29-30. Mr. Musick stated that entries from all over the southwest will be included in the exhibition to be held at Burkburnett.

Scouts of Area Attend Meet Here

Approximately 250 Boy Scouts and scout leaders of Burkburnett, Henrietta, Bellevue and Wichita Falls gathered in the basement of the old First Methodist church building Tuesday night for a session of games and other amusements as the closing event of anniversary week observance here.

Burkburnett was represented by more than 40 scouts, Hehrietta sent about 25, while 16 from Bellevue were present. Competitive games and a miscellaneous program of stunts were conducted by Scout Executive Frank B. Creighton.

Public Market Under Municipal Control Urged for Truck Growers

The special committee on truck and fruit appointed by the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce met at the home of Solon Downing, chairman, Tuesday night for the discussion of plans by which its members hope to give Wichita Falls better marketing facilities for produce grown in this community.

A canvass of numerous truck growers in the vicinity of Wichita Falls, it was reported, indicates that they are unanimously in favor of the establishment of such a market under municipal supervision. Various downtown locations are being considered. During the coming week members of the committee will continue their investigations of methods used in conducting municipal markets in other large cities, Mr. Downing said, and at a meeting to be held next Tuesday evening, Feb. 19, at the home of E. F. Moore efforts will be made to formulate detailed plans for inaugurating a similar trading point here.

Consideration also was given by the committee to the matter of taxing representatives of outside produce dealers for the privilege of retailing their wares on the streets of this city. Under the present regulations, it was stated, a $5.00 tax is required for such privileges, but it is probable that a new ordinance will be sought effecting a considerable increase in the amount required for such a permit.

Besides Mr. Downing, E. F. Moore, Tom Fields, O. R. Barnes, agricultural agent of the chamber of commerce, and Mr. Bruner were present at Tuesday night's meeting.

FIRE LOSS GROWS

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Texas towns and cities lost $11,736,125 in fires in 1928, as compared with $10,268,505 for 1927, said a report of the state fire insurance commissioner today.

First Christian To Hold Meeting Tonight

The weekly "church night" gathering at the First Christian church will be held on Wednesday night this week instead of Thursday, in order to make available for the occasion addresses by two visiting missionary workers of the Christian church organization.

Miss Edith Eberle, who has been engaged in missionary work in the Philippine islands for the last several years, will be one of the speakers for Wednesday evening. The second speaker will be Mrs. Ora L. Shepherd of Dallas, field representative of the United Christian Missionary society, who is now on a seven weeks' speaking tour of the southern states.

Supper will be served as usual at 6:30 o'clock, with the evening program beginning at 7 o'clock.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Just Rub Away Pain

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, and takes the place of mustard plasters.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

Committees on Drug Convention Called

A meeting of all local committees appointed to make preparations for the entertainment of the West Texas Retail Druggist association's semi-annual convention here on March 19 and 20 has been called by Wilford Harrison, general chairman, to be held at the Kemp hotel at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

All details for the convention have been worked out by the committees, it was said, and final preparations for the convention program will be made at Thursday's meeting.

ASPIRIN

To break a cold harmlessly and in a hurry try a Bayer Aspirin tablet. And for headache. The action of Aspirin is very efficient, too, in cases of neuralgia, neuritis, even rheumatism and lumbago! And there's no after effect; doctors give Aspirin to children—often infants. Whenever there's pain, think of Aspirin. The genuine Bayer Aspirin has Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

CONOCO-ETHYL is weatherproof

B-r-r-r-r-r-r! Whew!

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs at its best twelve months out of every year. It knows no seasons.

It gives the same quick start in February as it does in May—and it follows through by delivering steady, sustained, "knockless" power against the piston heads.

That's important! It's not hard to find a motor fuel that will start easily. Your chief concern should be in what it does after starting.

Being a combination of Conoco, the Triple-Test Gasoline, and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound developed by General Motors, Conoco Ethyl is the ideal motor fuel. You'll feel the difference in the operation of your car the very second you switch to Conoco Ethyl.

So why not join the thousands of contented Conoco Ethyl users? Why not get out of your car all of the power which its designers put into it?

Start the habit today by drawing up to a Conoco Ethyl Pump—at service stations and garages.
