PHONE MESSAGE BASIS OF LONG LEGAL WRANGLE

CHIPP'S THREATS ON LIFE OF PASTOR ARE ALSO HEARD AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)
COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—A telephone conversation in which D. E. Chipp is alleged to have cursed Dr. J. Frank Norris a short time before Chipp was killed in Norris' office last July 17, was related to the jury in district court room here today.

Mrs. Fanny Greer, telephone operator at the Westbrook hotel in Fort Worth on the day of the tragedy for which Pastor Norris is being tried for murder, testified she made the telephone connection and listened in on the conversation which preceded Chipp's fatal visit to Norris' office.

She said Chipp cursed Norris and later talked with such anger she was unable to understand what he was saying. Norris has said that Chipp in this conversation threatened to kill him. Mrs. Greer did not hear all the conversation.

The defense was prevented from getting into the records a purported telephone conversation between Mayor H. C. Meacham of Fort Worth and Chipp. Mrs. Greer said Meacham called Chipp at the hotel about two hours before the Chipp-Norris conversation, but Judge James R. Hamilton ruled it out because it apparently was not connected with Norris.

Another Threat Is Heard

Another alleged threat by Chipp to kill Norris was related by Mrs. Lena Cheek of Fort Worth. She testified here in the elevator in Mayor H. C. Meacham's Fort Worth department.

'Mad Empress' Dies In Belgian Chateau

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 19 (AP).—Charlotte, once empress of Mexico as the wife of Emperor Maximilian, died at her chateau near Brussels at 7 o'clock this morning. Thus came to a close one of the most tragic careers in European history, for her mind had been clouded ever since she heard of the execution of her husband, Maximilian, at Queretaro, Mexico, in 1867.

Several times in the last few years her strong constitution enabled Charlotte to withstand serious illness, but when last Saturday she was stricken with a severe attack of influenza, the physicians took into account her advanced years—she was 86—and held out little hope for recovery.

NEW TEXAS LAW WOULD CURTAIL PARDON POWERS

MANY ORGANIZATIONS DETERMINED TO GET NEW STATUTES

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19 (AP).—Numerous organizations and movements which had sprung up in protest against the pardon policy of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson were seeking to make harder than ever the way of the transgressor in Texas as the women's executive held down her office yesterday. The wholesale depletion of the prison population, including principals in at least a dozen "causes celebres" watched by the nation, promised to be offset in part, at least, by quicker and surer justice obtained through legislative reforms and aroused public opinion.

The first effort at limitation of the pardoning power by means of which Governor Ferguson extended clemency in 2,595 cases, of which 394 were announced a few hours before she left office, is contained in a bill now in the legislature.

Would Distribute Power

It would confer the power jointly on the governor, the attorney general and the chief justice of the state supreme court. Bills also have been sponsored by the crime-suppression league an incorporated body, to eliminate legal delays and loopholes in procedure, chief among which is one to provide that error clearly not prejudicial to the defendant shall not be cause for reversal on appeal.

Of the approximately 1,350 full pardons and 925 conditional pardons granted by Mrs. Ferguson about a third of them went to men convicted of murder, criminal assault, assault with intent to kill and manslaughter. Another third was taken up in granting pardons to men convicted of violation of the liquor laws and the remaining third included robbery with firearms, a capital offense, robbery, theft, burglary, incest, perjury, forgery, embezzlement, and lesser offenses. She paroled nearly two hundred convicts, remitted fines, jail sentences and forfeiture of bonds.

In addition she saved ten men from the electric chair, but let a dozen die in it. She commuted several life sentences to a few years imprisonment.

Roosevelt Scores Policies Of Smith

SYRACUSE N. Y., Jan. 19 (AP).—Accusing Governor Smith of employing political trickery which "has caused untold thousands of citizens to vote for him while he laughed in his sleeve," Theodore Roosevelt last night addressed republican leaders in telling the governor that they would no longer "hold the bag" and that he must either "put up or shut up."

Retailers' Drive To Open Thursday

The campaign executive committee of the Retail Merchants Association will meet at the office of the association in the City Hall Thursday morning at nine o'clock to appoint committees and transact other business in regard to the expansion campaign for the association. The committee is composed of the eleven directors and eleven other members of the association.

Directors of the association are: Paul K. Sherrod, W. W. Rix, J. C. Anderson, J. D. Hassell, J. W. Gamel, Joe Nislar, W. W. Royalty, W. R. Fickas, A. G. Hunt, B. F. Hodges, and L. C. Ellis. A letter announcing the campaign went out to Lubbock business men Wednesday.

FATAL LEAP TO CAR ENDS LIFE OF CECIL TIMS

BROTHER DRIVING TRUCK AT TIME OF TRAGEDY IN COUNTY TODAY

Cecil Tims, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Tims, of the New Hope community, was killed almost instantly on the Tims farm, 11 miles southeast of Lubbock this morning, when he sustained a fractured skull in an attempt to leap onto a motor truck, being driven by Jesse Tims, 22, an older brother.

The Tims boys had driven from their farmhouse home to a nearby field to get a load of cotton and while passing through an adjoining pasture noticed that two mules, the property of their father, were ranging loose. The younger lad jumped from the truck and caught up the mules while his older brother proceeded down the lane at a slow rate of speed. After catching the mules he ran to the truck and upon drawing up along side of it made an attempt to jump upon it as he while it was still in motion.

Hand Slips In Jump

As he made the leap his hand slipped, the brother reports, and Cecil was thrown under the machine in such a manner that some part of the truck collided with his head, leaving a gaping hole in the back of his skull, just above and to the left of the base of the brain. He was rendered unconscious and while his head continued to beat for slightly more than thirty minutes the lad died without consciousness. The fatal accident occurred shortly after 8:30 this morning.

The Tims family has lived in Lubbock about a year. Rev. W. R. Baker, a retired Baptist pastor of an old friend of the family, they came here from and since their arrival in this section have resided upon the New Hope farm where the tragedy occurred. The dead boy is survived by his parents and three brothers, Jesse, 22, Hubbard, 25, and N. C., aged 3. Jesse Tims is married and he and his wife reside with the rest of the family.

Funeral Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church here tomorrow afternoon, with Rev. W. A. Bowen, pastor, in charge. The Baker morticians have charge of arrangements. The truck which figured so prominently in the tragedy is a two-ton machine and was unloaded at the time of the accident. The wheels of the motor truck were passed over the lad's body, injury being caused by the collision of his head and a part of the truck's body.

ONE GUILTY IN ODELL ROBBERY

James Hairston Sentenced To 15 Years In Bank Case; Others Called

(By The Associated Press)
VERNON, Texas, Jan. 19.—James H. Hairston, was found guilty on a charge of robbery with firearms in connection with the robbery of the bank of Odell, December 18, and was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary by a jury in the forty-sixth district court this morning. Defense counsel has not indicated whether a new trial will be asked for. Hairston entered a plea of guilty at the opening of the trial.

Clyde Stratton and Lyter Huffman, also indicted for the robbery of the Odell bank, were arraigned in court this morning. Stratton pleaded guilty. Huffman pled not guilty and was asked for a change of venue. The action was overruled by the court, and the counsel immediately asked for continuance.

Robbery Is Explained

The three men are alleged to have looted the Odell bank of $7,500, and escaped with the loot and a patron in the bank vault.

The jury in the Hairston case deliberated about fifteen hours.

The court overruled the defense case for continuance in the case of Lyter Huffman, charged with robbery with firearms in connection with the robbery of the Bank of Odell, December 18, and the case was called for trial. Selection of jurors will begin when court convenes after noon recess.

John Gould Fletcher's NOT TO APPEAR IN CITY Geography Isn't Good

John Gould Fletcher, internationally known poet, is probably contemplating advising all other poets to learn well their geography lessons.

Because Texas actually is larger than many of the European kingdoms combined and hundreds of miles are spoken of with breathtaking casualness, Mr. Fletcher will not fill his scheduled engagement at the Technological college this evening. Moreover, he will not be here at all and those who have tickets will be refunded their money upon application at places of purchase.

It probably seemed a small matter to jump from one Texas town to another to fill dates on consecutive evenings and Mr. Fletcher booked an engagement in Denton at the College of Industrial Arts last evening. This morning he discovered to his dismay that Lubbock was more than four hundred miles to his west and that no possible train schedule would bring him here this evening.

'Good Will' Fliers Complete First Lap

FRANCE FIELD, Panama Canal Zone, Jan. 19 (AP).—All five planes of the United States army "good will" flotilla now have completed the first flight of the twenty thousand mile flight from San Antonio over Central South American countries. They left here last Saturday. After a brief rest, the fliers, in command of Major H. A. Dargue, will take off for Valdivia, Chile, where they will turn east to Argentina.

Escorted by twenty planes in battle formation, the San Antonio, San Francisco and Detroit reached the canal zone from Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, last evening. The other two planes, the New York and St. Louis, arrived here last Saturday. After a brief rest, the fliers, in command of Major H. A. Dargue, will take off for Valdivia, Chile, where they will turn east to Argentina.

Red River Bridge Is In The Courts Again

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP).—Rehearing on application for writ of error is sought in an application filed late Tuesday in the supreme court by Stanley J. Vaughn of Wichita Falls and others, plaintiffs in an injunction suit against the state highway commission to prevent erection of a bridge across Red River.

Vaughn and others sought to prevent the highway commission from spending state funds in the proposed Texas-Oklahoma Wichita county Red river bridge. The Travis county district court granted application for temporary injunction, the court of civil appeals reversed the decision, and application of the plaintiffs for writ of error before the supreme court was denied.

PRO-LAW CASE OF NEGRO OPENS

The case of Joe Allgamie, Mexican, who is facing a charge of burglary, was continued in district court here until next week when it was called Wednesday morning.

Allgamie, now at liberty under bond, did not appear in court, and witnesses in the case were advised by the court that they need not appear until their notification, while officers seek to locate the defendant.

The case of Jesse Amos, negro, was called to trial. Amos is facing a charge of violation of the prohibition law following his arrest last summer. Witnesses in the case of M. Lucero, Mexican, who is facing five charges of pro law violation, were advised by the court to remain in the court room, indicating that the first of these cases probably will be called during the day.

The case of J. W. Dillon, local hotel and confectionery proprietor was set by the court for trial Thursday afternoon at 1:30. He is charged with violation of the pro law.

Head Of University Of New Mexico 'Out'

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 19 (AP).—Although he survived one concerted effort last summer to obtain his dismissal, Dr. David Spence Hill has been relieved as president of the University of New Mexico. A new board of regents appointed a week ago by Governor R. C. Dillon organized yesterday and immediately granted Doctor Hill a leave of absence until his contract expires next September. Dr. J. F. Zimmerman, faculty member, was made acting president.

The board's action climaxed a long fight on Dr. Hill by certain elements which charged he was unpopular with the students and that his "arbitrary" administrative methods were harming the institution.

Believe Four Miners Killed In Explosion

WELCH, W. Va., Jan. 19 (AP).—Four miners were believed to have been killed in an explosion in the Central Pocahontas Coal company mine at Caples today. Seven other miners, at work near where the blast centered, were uninjured. They were brought out by rescue crews.

WAR CORRESPONDENT DEAD

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP).—Martin H. Donohoe, 57, noted war correspondent, died today after several weeks' illness.

Frank Smith Makes Long-Expected Bid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP).—Frank L. Smith of Illinois made his long expected bid for a place in the senate today but was kept on the anxious seat while senators argued whether they had a constitutional right to exclude him.

As the debate over legal technicalities stretched out through the afternoon, designated listening from a seat in rear of the chamber. The leaders began to despair of a vote today and to lose some of their previous confidence over the outcome. There were multiplying predictions that the vote would be close.

Dr. Paul Horn Displays Suit Spun From Abernathy Cotton By Tech Textile Boys

Appearing in it for the first time, Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, today displayed to members of the Lubbock Rotary club his cotton suit, made in the college's textile department from the staple grown near Abernathy, marking the first time any man has worn a suit of material raised and spun in West Texas.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, told Doctor Horn and the Rotarians present at the regular weekly luncheon session that if he could get a suit like his contemporary's he would wear it in Canyon and have it officially labeled "his Tech suit."

W. A. Jackson, Tech professor, with an explanation of the workings of the supreme court, was the principal speaker of the day.

Scout Campaign Here Meeting With Success

The campaign in twelve South Plains counties to raise $20,000 to finance Boy Scout work in the area council, is moving forward with such a degree of success that officials of the council have filed application for a national charter. It was learned today.

Approximately 1,500 names of prospective subscribers to the campaign have been received at headquarters of the campaign here from members of committees in charge of the drive at various points over the council, and informative literature will go out to these individuals in the next day or two telling of the contemplated program of scouting, and the purposes and ideals of the organization. Actual solicitation work on the financial drive will not start for several days yet.

Arkansas Man Named To Trade Commission

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP).—Edgar A. McLaughlin, Democrat and a justice of the state supreme court of Arkansas, was nominated today as a member of the federal trade commission to succeed to the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Houston Thompson.

Harry Sinclair Will Be Tried Next Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP).—Harry F. Sinclair, oil operator will be arraigned in District of Columbia supreme court early next week on charges of contempt growing out of his refusal to answer questions of the senate oil committee. District Attorney Gordon announced today.

Texas Legislators Are Resting Today

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19 (AP).—Both houses of the legislature were resting today.

The house will convene this evening but the senate will not again meet until Thursday morning.

Governor Dan Moody will ask legislature to allow him to give his message in person but it is not known when he will make the request.

Hines Wants Direct Loan On Army Bonus

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP).—Authorized for making direct loans on veterans bonus certificates will be sought by Director Hines of the veterans bureau, who made plans today to have the necessary legislation introduced in congress.

Under the plan discussed today at the white house the veterans bureau would serve merely as a supplementary agency to the banks, making the loans in localities where veterans are unable to obtain money from the banks.

OLD JOCKEY DIES

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (AP).—James McLaughlin, famous old time jockey, died here today.

Journal News Reel

Cecil Tims, 18-year-old New Hope farm lad, dies in attempt to board running truck, driven by his brother. Norris trial testimony resumed as lawyers battle over Chipp's phone call to pastor-slaver. New Texas laws will demand distribution of pardon power. John Gould Fletcher forgets about Texas "wide open spaces" and is forced to cancel engagement here tonight. Moody slanted with party leaders today. One found guilty in Vernon-Odell bank robbery case. Pro-law trial of negro opens in District court here today. Chicago's White Sox strengthen roster for coming campaign. Gordon Cone, Lubbock boy, testifies in Corpus Christi murder trial. Arbitration looms on U. S.-Mexican difficulties.

General Wood Gives 30 Convicts Pardons

MANILA, Jan. 19 (AP).—Governor General Wood today pardoned 30 convicts in various insular prisons. Among them was a widow who had violated the law by marrying within 300 days after the death of her first husband. The board of pardons was inclined to regard the law under which she was convicted as archaic.

Col. Thompson Coming For Kiwanis Meeting

With Colonel E. O. Thompson, newly appointed Tech regent, Dr. Paul W. Horn and E. W. Provenza as scheduled speakers, the Kiwanis club is giving a special Technological college program Thursday noon at Hotel Lubbock. It was announced today. Claude Daniel is program chairman for day.

Toykajo Group Camp Fire Girls Vote On New Members

New members were voted into the Toykajo group of Camp Fire girls and a hike was planned for Friday afternoon at a called meeting with the guardian, Mrs. H. A. Lattimore, 1914 16th Street, Tuesday afternoon. Those in attendance were Mrs. LeChesne, Misses Lucile Moses, Louisa Addison, Laura Lee Duval, Lois Singleton, Stella Singleton, Pauline Singleton, Cleo King and Rose Lee Blackburn. The group is to leave on the hike immediately after school Friday and, after hiking for five miles, the girls are to prepare their own supper. Mr. and Mrs. Lattimore are to join the group at supper.

Concert Company Will Give Program This Evening

The De Witt Concert company, consisting of a number of students in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening as a number of the program being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher associations of the City De Witt Seminary play the concertina grade, an instrument that is used to approach the pipe organ in tone volume and to be equal to a concert lute in difference of tone quality. Mrs. M. J. Nelson, a soprano and pianist and L. N. Nelson, a tenor and pianist, are the other two members of the company.

Two National Delphian Workers Honored At Chapter Dinner

The history of the organization of the Delphian club, its growth, the meaning of the insignia and its value to women were discussed in short talks made last evening following an informal dinner served at 7 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock honoring Miss Emma Lou Walton, of Chicago, national organizer, and Mrs. Nellie A. Brown, her co-worker, who is also of Chicago. Twenty-four members of the local chapter and guests were in attendance. Mrs. C. E. Madigan presided as toastmistress. Miss Walton led in spirited club songs with Mrs. R. A. Mills at the piano.

Miss Walton as the principal speaker, said that Delphian means work for leadership and that, since the organization is national, it forms a point of contact for women in different localities. She explained the workings of the association and urged the members to keep the larger ideals and aims of the society uppermost in their work.

Short talks on various phases of the work and what it means to the mother, church worker and club member, as well as the meaning of the insignia and the history of the club name were given by Mrs. R. H. Martin, Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, Mrs. R. A. Mills, Mrs. R. J. Tubbs, president-elect, and Miss Mary Tucker. Mrs. T. A. White, who comes here from a chapter in Amarillo, gave two readings. Mrs. Walton gave two readings. Guests for the evening were the two sisters, Mrs. A. H. Crawford, a student at the Toykajo, who is a charter member of the Delphian chapter and past president of that organization, Mrs. F. M. Madigan, Mrs. S. B. Hay, Mrs. T. A. White and Miss Blanche Bean. Club members in attendance were Mesdames C. E. Madigan, J. V. Collier, A. H. Travis, Joe Baidridge, R. J. Tubbs, R. H. Martin, R. A. Mills, J. E. Hamilton, Le Yerne Koshner, T. R. Zellner, Ed O'Sullivan, Eric Stephenson, J. H. Jenkins, W. T. Ray, Lou Harry Hall, R. G. Shelton and Mary Tucker.

Dock, J. H. Burroughs and Homer Grant. Club members who were in attendance were Mesdames W. S. Poyer, Rose Wilson, Alice A. V. Weaver, O. L. Slason and T. H. Long. A light refreshment course was served.

The Parade Of Fashion

(By The Associated Press)

FRUIT CLUSTERS

The fashionable English woman is taking to wearing a little bunch of porcelain fruit on the right shoulder of her frock. The bunch is not unlike the china fruit seen people have as dining table ornaments, except that they are smaller and more realistic.

MUSICAL DRESSING GOWN

The musical dressing gown is a novelty in the world of feminine fashion. This garment does not produce symphonic sounds, but it carries the semblance of them about on it, so that its wearer may say quite truly that she dresses to music. The gowns are quilted about the top portion while big straws, clogs and notes of music are embroidered in black silk as a border around the bottom of the garment.

NECK MUFFS

The neck muff is the newest notion in cold weather neckwear produced in Mayfair. Shaped like an ordinary muff for the hands, but less padded and lined, it slips over the wearer's head, covering well up around the face and neck. It has no fastenings but has a collapsible spring inside, much like a man's opera hat, so that it may be collapsed in graceful folds about the wearer's neck.

CHANGES IN LINGERIE

There is a marked change in English lingerie fashions. The latest designs demand that before everything else "nudity" should be feminine, even to the extent of the return of that much despised garment, the petticoat. Boudoir caps are also creeping back to favor. Yokes, which have so long been featured on frocks, are now seen on under things. Crepe de Chine is a favorite material. Nightgowns are being made with square necks. Lace and smilings are used to get the "feminine" effect. Pink still retains its superiority as a favored color.

GLASS HEELS FOR DANCING

Another striking fashion in shoes is the use of glass heels for dancing. They catch and reflect the light. Unlike Cinderella's slippers they have a foundation of wood and are, therefore, serviceable as well as pretty.

"SUGAR BAG" HAT

The "sugar-bag" is the English spring successor to this winter's "wings" hat. It really looks more like the dust bag on a vacuum cleaner, but appears very smart when worn. You put this quaint thing on so that it reaches in front, following the line of the head, and then, when you have squashed it down, you get the Dutch boy effect with the crown flat against the side of the head.

INSECT ADORNMENTS

At a Mayfair tea party, many persons were interested in a brown velvet hat worn by a New Year debutante, the soft crown of which was held down at one side by a big bumble bee. It is typical of the insect craze which is one of English fashion's latest vagaries. Bees, dragonflies and other insects in realistic colors and shapes, fixed in the front or at the side of the hat, are much in favor. Some of these hat insects are modelled in rich enamel. Sometimes when a bee is worn on the hat, another bee is fixed on the coat lapel instead of the stereotyped flower.

STIFF SILK SCARFS

Newest of all the scarfs is the kind made of stiff silk like a necktie. This is passed straight around the neck and knotted in the back. The new mode is being seen on Broadway and the Strand.

FACES ON SHOE HEELS

Strange things happen in the fashion world of the Royal Borough of Kensington. Latest of these is the new heel mode of the evening shoe. It is a painted face of a woman with striking headgear, executed in emeralds and brilliants and which tones with the decoration of the slipper and evening gown.

SENTIMENTAL MOODS

Fashion seems to be in a sentimental mood at the moment. One of the new English shades is called "Love bird green" while another attractively named color is "Tears and a smile" of the Victorian times is a shade known as "forget-me-not."

SAGA OF THE SAGACIOUS SIR GULLIBLE

The office called him "Sir Gullible." He believed what he was told and as a consequence of his faith and credulity easily became the butt of all their jokes. The office set, like most practical jokers, was always alert for a trap. He had faith in nothing and nobody. His nickname was "Doubting Thomas from Missouri." He loved Sir Gullible. Oh, how he loved him! "The poor boob," he used to call him at times. He made life very, very pleasant for those about him. One day a man came in to see the manager. The manager was out. The man sat down and explained to the office force that he had invented a brake squalizer and was trying to get up a stock company to finance it. "Any of you can get in for a couple of hundred dollars," he explained, "and time payments at that." Never mind what Thomas had to say about gold bricks. Sir Gullible, however, talked to the man for a few minutes and wound up by subscribing all his savings. The office then had a Roman holiday at Sir Gullible's expense. They tied carbon paper around their sleeves and did a funeral march around his desk. One day some years later Thomas of Missouri answered an ad. "Book-keeper Wanted." He was preparing some wise cracks for the new book. He had had enough experience handling jobs to know how to turn the trick. He was shown into a mahogany office and there behind the desk sat Sir Gullible. "Well, I'll be darned!" was the only word that he could think of. "Say you will," said Sir Gullible cheerfully, "unless you drop your membership so the Sikepikes Society if the world was what you think it is, I'd hate to live in it. And if I had as little faith in people and things as you'd hate to be alive at all, I'm surprised that you don't think the 'rod' in the parlor was a merry little joke." Then he added, "The job is yours. But there's a nice trusting fellow in your department who is a bit credulous. He believes in things and people. Let him alone or out you go."

Miss Pauline Carnes Leads Study Club Lesson Tuesday

With Miss Pauline Carnes leading the lesson on Russian and Spanish art, the Junior Twentieth Century club met Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church. Miss Mayme Alexander made a talk on "Russian Art" and short talks on masterpieces of the two centuries were made by Miss Blanche Bacon, Mrs. H. E. Douglas, Mrs. B. C. Dickinson and Mrs. Velton Spikes.

EAT SEAWEED?

SAN FRANCISCO.—The ideal food for all ages is seaweed. So declares Miss Josephine Tilden, head of the botany department of the University of Michigan, who stopped here on her return from the Pacific Science Congress at Tokio. People were healthy who used to eat it in bygone days, she said. It was the food basis for all the life, Miss Tilden said.

An airplane of only 22 horsepower, recently flew over the Alps, attaining a height of nearly 14,000 feet on the way.

Mesdames Temple H. Ellis and Pink Parrish will entertain the Merry Bidders club at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Guy L. McAfee, 2906 Main Street.

Miss Inez Zachary And Howard McElroy Are Married

Howard McElroy and Miss Inez Zachary were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Bowen, pastor of the First Baptist church, at his residence after which they left for Dallas where they will visit in the home of his parents for a few days before returning to Lubbock to make their home. Mrs. McElroy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Zachary. She has been an employee of the Southwestern Bell telephone company here for several years. Mr. McElroy is employed by a local restaurant.

"Pardon Ruling" Made—AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—Because it "deluded hope for pardon" led him to withdraw his appeal, James Davis, convicted in Bell county for theft and given two years, cannot again appeal his case, the court of criminal appeals held Wednesday.

The sixty year sentence imposed on N. J. Osborne in Hill county in connection with an attack on an 8-year-old girl was affirmed.

The court also affirmed the 25 year sentence of Levenith (Cockle) in Dallas county in connection with the slaying of the Mae Ocklethorpe November 25, 1925, and the five year sentence assessed Ed Maddox, Leon county, for murder in connection with the slaying of Willie Jackson, August 2, 1924.

Approximately 42 appeals were dismissed today at the request of appellants.

New Orleans Men In Mail Fraud Charges

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (AP)—J. K. Lewis and John B. Lewis, operators of the Crescent Produce Brokerage company were in custody today with Peter Tardo, employee of the concern, on charges of fraudulent use of United States mails. Federal authorities charged the men had been operating a plan which had swindled farmers in different sections of the country out of more than $25,000.

Officials said the men ordered produce applied potatoes and onions from growers at prices above the market and sold the produce on the local market at figures below the prices charged elsewhere. The firm, they alleged, was able to operate successfully in that manner, because there was no interruption of paying the producer unless forced to do so.

JOCKEY CLUB WORK TO START

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Laredo Jockey club will begin work within 30 days on its $1,000,000 project near Nuevo Laredo, John W. Choate, president, announced here Wednesday. He said the Mexican government had promised to build a million dollar paved highway from the international bridge to the club.

Lilies Of Field Not So Gay As Negligee

Three negligees as elaborate as dinner gowns, left to right: turquoise blue and gold, flesh-colored crepe elizabeth and crimson velvet.

BY HENRI BENDEL For NEA Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Fashion has conspired to furnish certain conventional attire upon woman. She may not be too colorful in the morning, or too severe in the afternoon and only go so far but no farther with her sport attire.

But fashion has also allowed a compensation for these restrictions. "Go as if as you like" with the bigarre and the extreme when you select a negligee—she tells us.

Love of Color Speaks Probably it is because of the standardization of clothes generally, the restraint in line and elimination of detail that negligees and lingerie have blossomed out so luxuriantly. Women are born with a love of beauty and color. Restrict them at one point and they burst out somewhere else.

"Aesthetics" in dress is frowned upon today. We have become democratic in our ideas. No woman really wants to look very different from her friends so far as her day clothes go. She wants to be perfectly groomed, but she wants her hats high when other are high and her skirts short when other are abbreviated.

But in her boudoir she will still the mistress of her clothes. If she yearns for red velvet pajamas and a pink silk skirt—she can be her's.

Shouldn't Be Practical A negligee is an expression of comfort, ease and utility. It is not "practical" and leaves all its elegance when it tries to be. It does not have to consider elements of the prevailing rays of the sun. It can be itself.

And here I will divulge one of my own convictions: every woman should own at least one absolutely colorless and entirely feminine negligee, as a support to her vanity and her femininity. It is as much of a moral support in times of depression in the night as it is.

A negligee should be of the liveliest and softest fabrics and of colors that give the wearer the greatest pleasure. Line is none the less important even if it looks casual, for the modern woman wants to look slim and narrow in her most negligent attitude.

Illustrated today are three negligees as elaborate as dinner gowns that make hours of ease particularly decorative.

The model at the left is of turquoise blue metal cloth through which the gold threads gleam with a fascinating lustre. Those medieval triangular sleeves that fall to the bottom of the negligee are bound with blue satin, and the closing is a tie of the blue.

Flesh-colored crepe elizabeth makes the Callot model in the center, and the embroidery is in self colors. The rolled collar and winged sleeves are of deep cream edged with embroidered bands of the pink crepe.

Essentially colorful is the third model which is a composition of crimson velvet, georgette and gold lace. The slip is of the same material and is a mantle of crimson velvet made on the bias trimmed with a ruffle of gold lace and a narrow band of skunk fur. This overdress is pointed and may be worn in a train or draped to suit the fancy of the wearer.

You will notice that shorter skirts prevail even in boudoir attire, so that these stiletto hose and fancy mules are an essential part of the ensemble.

What Advertising Means to The Customer:

Sometimes a merchant who has never advertised sees the light and changes his mind.

His advertising starts—yet his prices do not increase.

His business improves—he turns his stock faster.

Often you find him lowering his prices and yet making more money per year.

How do you explain that?

If a store has 1,000 customers a day and averages 10 cents profit per customer, the profit for the day is $100.

But if a store has only 500 customers a day, it must average 20 cents profit per customer to make $100 for the day.

Advertising increases the number of customers and that means that the prices and profits PER CUSTOMER may be lower and at the same time the store may make more money PER DAY.

Trade with the stores which advertise.

Chicago White Sox Strengthen For Pennant Race

PECK AND WARD MAKE CLUB ONE OF FLAG CLASS

RAY SCHALK WILL CATCH MOST OF GAMES, HE TELLS WORLD

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—A keystone combination of the 1921 world's series Aaron Ward at second base and Roger Peckinpaugh at short stop has been added to the infield of the Chicago White Sox this winter, giving the Sox the strongest roster they have had in several years.

From their own ranks the Sox have drawn a new manager for this year, one of the seven new pilots in the major leagues, the veteran catcher, Ray Schalk. Coming to the Sox in 1913 from Milwaukee, Schalk has caught more than 100 games a year with one or two exceptions. He is one of the few playing managers left in the big leagues, and takes the place of Eddie Collins, who went back to his original club, the Philadelphia Athletics, when he resigned from the Sox management.

Ward As Second Base

Ward who has spent his major league career in a New York Yankees uniform will fill the gap at second base caused by the passing of Collins, while Peck, obtained from Washington, will play short.

Moe Berg and Bill Hunnefeld, two highly respected infield stars, with Bill Kamm at third and Earl Sheely at first.

Surplus pitchers and a catcher were traded for Ward and Peck, but the Sox still have plenty of battery strength. Schalk ready for his fourteenth campaign in the major leagues expects to do lots of catching this year, in addition to running the team as manager. Buck Crouse and Harry McCurdy stand ready to relieve him behind the bat.

Five Veteran Pitchers

The pitching staff, headed by five veterans has had few additions this winter. Red Faber, Ted Lyons, Ted Blankenship, Alphonse Thomas and George Connally are the mainstays. Blankenship's brother Homer has been coaxed back for another major league, two likely southpaws, will be the Coast League ace Charlie Barnabe, two likely southpaws, will be taken south this spring.

The Sox outfield also is unchanged, with Bill Park, Johnny Mostil and Bill Barrett composing the regular trio.

Bristling Battles of Bare Fist Days

My Life Story by Jack McAuliffe

Did you ever hear of a prospective opponent giving an undefeated champion $5 to kick him along and prevent him running out of a fight?

It gave me a laugh, but it really happened in the fall of 1884 because my own manager because Bill Madden was too busy campaigning for Charlie Mitchell. I made a match with Billy Frazier, boxing instructor at Harvard University. I wired for Patsy Sheppard, a well-known sport and saloon keeper of Boston, who I had never met before, to be my second. Arriving at Boston, I went into Patsy's saloon to wait for him. I was cold and had eaten nothing since leaving New York, so I ordered two bottles of stout. They made me dizzy and I soon fell asleep with my head on the table. Patsy came in, took one look at me and said, "I'll not second that drunk and I'm going out and put my money on the other fellow."

That put me in line. I had no money as I thought I could get some from him. I went around to Dave Blanchard's gym on Washington street to see Frazier train. It was then I had my first look at a punching bag, crude as the thing was. Frazier brought a bottle of tea along with him and sipped it at intervals. He busted the punching bag and that gave me a cue to have a little fun so I hollered, "I'm not going through with this fight. He's too strong. I'll have none of him!"

They all gathered around me trying to make me change my mind. Frazier then did the magnificent act of digging down into his pocket and handed me a five-dollar bill!

I spent it all on steaks, I was as hungry.

We met in a wholesale house's loft three days later. Frazier had a terrific upset, but nothing more than that. He was easy because I was cautious with him for about ten rounds and then stepped out and mowed him down in the 11st round.

That night I learned something. I went back to Patsy's saloon and who did I find behind the bar with a mirror in his hand sorrowfully gazing at the bumps and welts on his face but Frazier. He was vain and I had marked him quite a bit.

That gave me an idea. In all later fights when I began to cut an opponent up I always told him about it as I went along.

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the next chapter McAuliffe tells about a drastic rule against prize fighting and how a friend of his was given 10 years in prison for attempting a fight.

Mr. Jim Maloney Thrives on These "Furriners" German, Italian And Swede Heavies Fall Before Bostonian's Attack

By JOE WILLIAMS

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—It seems that this here Jimmy Maloney, of the swell south Boston Maloneys, hasn't a speck of use for furriners.

Ask Franz Deiner, the German. Ask Arthur De Kuh, the Italian. And Harry Persson, the Swede.

These are the three furriners Jimmy Maloney, of the swell south Boston Maloneys, has bounced around in recent weeks to re-establish himself as one of the stand-out heavyweight youngsters of the ring.

Deiner, De Kuh and Persson all had pretensions to heavyweight greatness, and Mr. Tex Rickard, a promoter who is trying to get a start in a small way hereabouts, had pinned plenty of faith in the illustrious immigrants.

Particularly in Persson. Mr. Rickard thought this baby was the goods, and he had visions of ballyhooing him into another Liza Frip as a turf stifle magnet. But not any more.

Maloney, fighting an impressive fight, outsocked the Swede in ten rounds out of ten. Had he fought with less impetuosity he would have knocked him out. As it was the Swede was helpless at the final bell.

There is still another furriner on Maloney's list of tentative opponents the honorable Paolino of Spain, known more picturesquely as the Basque Woodchopper. If Paolino and Maloney are matched and the south Bostonian wins he will have completely eliminated the foreign menace among the heavyweights.

Maybe you have forgotten who Maloney is. A couple of years ago he was looked on as a better prospect than Jack Sharkey, the other young Boston heavyweight, who knocked out Harry Wills. In fact Maloney seemed to have so much promise at the time that Jack Kearns, an old acquaintance of Mr. Dempsey, tried to steal him.

The circumstances, as I remember them, were that Kearns went to Boston and offered Maloney $20,000 to use in buying his own release from Johnny McGrath, a cigar store man, who had discovered and developed him. A match between Maloney and Dempsey was to be promoted. After the ballyhoo had centered attention on Maloney, Dempsey was to retire formally and proclaim Kearns' new protégé as his successor.

Either Maloney figured Kearns was using stage money or his loyalty was greater than that of most fighters to their managers. At any rate, the scheme did not materialize.

Kearns' interest in Maloney dated back to a time when Dempsey was barnstorming through the west, meeting the local champs. This was shortly after he had won the title from Jess Willard at Toledo. Maloney, who had run away from home and joined the army, was in Kansas City when the Dempsey entourage arrived.

A three-round bout was arranged. Maloney was then only 17 years of age. Dempsey flattened him with that old-time murderous left hook at the start of the first round, but Maloney managed to get up before the count of nine. He survived the round. He was in there at the end of the second and he was still in there when the third closed.

Kearns never forgot that. Maloney hasn't either.

"If Dempsey couldn't put me away when he was great I don't think any of the fellows who are posing as great now can do it," he says.

Maloney has been out of the ring for about a year because of the disagreement with McGrath, his old manager. He is now in hands and is fighting well enough to be ranked right along with the foremost contenders for Gene Tunney's title.

Wayland College Basketeers Will Open Matador Cage Season Here On Thursday Night; Tech Squad Ready

Coach Grady Higginbotham has arranged for his Matadors to open their card earlier than previously scheduled and will call on the cage combination of the Matador recruits to battle with the Wayland Baptist college quintet tomorrow night in the new assembly hall. It has been scheduled that the opening game would be with the Sul Ross Lobos, of Alpine, but since the Wayland Jackrabbits were open on Thursday of this week, Coach Higginbotham will bring them here for the Matador's opening contest.

The Matadors will no doubt be rather unorganized in the opener as they have had but a short time to prepare and since the beginning of the basket ball training Coach Higginbotham has had something like seventy or more candidates to handle, which takes some two weeks of work before actual training may be permitted. Only for the past few days the Matadors have been training on plays and are yet unfamiliar with the working combinations that will be used on the floor.

The game will be called promptly at 8 o'clock, according to Coach Higginbotham.

Many Reactions

Since the major leagues permitted the first four teams to share in the world series, receipts, it practically killed off the use of new material in the fall.

Prior to permitting the first four clubs to share in the big melon, the moment a manager realized his team was definitely out of the race, he would make use of many of the recruits gathered up by the scouts.

In this way it was possible for a club to get a mighty good line on a great many of the bush league phenoms. Often it added the club in sorting over the material and eliminating a lot of players, who otherwise would have to be taken south for spring training.

While letting the first four clubs get a piece of the world series coin has undoubtedly kept clubs going at top speed, it has had other reactions that have hurt the sport.

Admirers Wrangle Over Kid Swimmer

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 19.—Any return of George Young, youthful conqueror of the Santa Catalina channel to his home in Toronto, Ont., at this time will be opposed strenuously by his manager and trainer, Frank "Doc" O'Byrne, himself a Canadian and former resident of Toronto.

Mr. O'Byrne disclosed today in charging that a group of Canadian promoters are attempting to have Young return to Toronto to sign a contract for two months' personal appearance tour of Canada.

Take Your Choice

"Swede" Ribberg says the Chicago club handed over to the Detroit Tigers the sum of $1100 for throwing four ball games to the White Sox.

Eddie Collins and Ray Schalk say the money was paid to the Detroit club for winning three games from Boston, that club at the time being Chicago's most serious contender.

It seems the whole matter simmers down to the veracity of the players involved. I have always found Collins and Schalk two of the finest characters in baseball, gentlemen with reputations.

Warnings Disregarded

During the 21 years that I have been in the American League, President B. B. Johnson has constantly stressed the growing gambling evil.

In almost every annual report made to his club owners over that period of time, he has called attention to the great amount of money that was being wagered on the sport.

He has pointed out the necessity of combating the evil within the ball parks. However, with the exception of posting signs stating no gambling is allowed, little attention has been paid to the situation.

Perhaps the present scandal is the result of the half hearted manner in which the warnings were taken.

Human Equation

Greedy for money has created most of the present unpleasantness in baseball. The thing to do is erase the conditions that create the evil.

When several teams are battling for the win, place, show, or fourth money in major league baseball, the law of human equation will always enter into the actions of the players on the teams that have no chance to cut in on the money.

Certain teams and players are always more popular than others. While the teams out of the running may not have any dishonest motives at heart, it is always just possible they might not exert themselves as much against the popular club as the other contenders.

This is unfortunate, but the law of human equation is mighty hard to get aside.

INVADING DRIBBLERS ARE WESTERNERS' NEMESIS. BY 30 TO 19

With a good organization and constant machine work on the part of the Southland quintet the Lubbock high school Westerners were defeated by a score of 30 to 19 at the local high school gymnasium last evening before a good crowd of basketball fans. The Von Tingenmen were unable to work the ball down the court, and were lacking in ability to take advantage of open shots at the goals. Repeatedly the visitors crashed through the Westerner defense and with good team work scored on their offensive drives.

King of the Southland club was among the outstanding players on the floor. He worked diligently and systematically with his team mates in both the offense and defense departments. He, however, was not high point man for the evening, but his mate, Hord, gathered in five field goals and two free pitches for a total of 12 points to be leading scorer on the floor.

Coach L. J. Von Tungen led in a number of substitutes, while the Southland coach retained his original line-up throughout the contest.

Hitting Sports Highspots

With James R. Dow

The Southland quintet romped to defeat over the Westerners here last evening, winning with a score of 30 to 19. Apparently the local high school cagers are unable to break through with any degree of team work. Then, too, after getting an open shot they are lacking in taking advantage of the opportunity.

Coach Grady Higginbotham will send his Matadors on the floor at the new assembly hall against the Wayland Baptist college tomorrow night. This will be the opening card for the Matador's 1927 calendar instead of the Sul Ross Lobos.

The DeLaney-Maloney bout has been set for February 18 at Madison square and has a $200,000 gate is expected for this bout. Both fighters are strong contenders for the heavyweight crown, which is now held by Gene Tunney.

As soon as heat is piped in the new assembly hall the Matadors will be able to start initial baseball training. Plenty of room is found on the west side of the hall, where baseball recruits may lumber their satchels before the real training begins.

Already the cinder path followers are on the track getting wind and form. Coach Higginbotham will again have charge of the track work and states that he will have a much stronger team this year than he had last season.

The Simmons University Cowboys took two in a row from the Howard Payne Yellowjackets, defeating them last night at Abilene by a score of 25 to 23.

S. D. Burton's herd of buffaloes will be a tough bunch on the Matador basketball schedule. The teachers have defeated some of the strongest cage combinations in the Southwestern conference this season, and have also defeated the strong club of Oklahoma Central Teachers college. Burton has had for the past three seasons one of the strongest basketball teams in the state.

HARDWARE DEALERS MEET

DALLAS, Jan. 18.—The year 1927 will see some decline in prices and competition, especially in the hardware business, will become stiffer, necessitating quicker turnover for the retailer, E. B. Sheets of Indianapolis, secretary of the National Retail Hardware Association told the dealers that, as a class, have been slower to adjust themselves to changing business conditions than probably any other set of merchants.

Chicago Ready to Pay

Besides indignantly denying responsibility for all these troubles and many more which are alleged, Chicago says the levels can be restored by construction of compensating works in connecting channels and says it is ready to pay for such works.

Below Chicago there has been loud complaint from property owners along the Illinois river, however. Fisheries worth $5,000,000 a year are said to have been destroyed by the sewage. Land previously reclaimed is now said to be flooded during rainy seasons. The Illinois, once a beautiful stream with its banks full of attractive homesites, is now a stench.

But the Mississippi valley states below the Illinois river—the co-defendants in the suits—are happy over the increased water supply, saying that it aids navigation and is otherwise beneficial.

Chicago Is Charged With Stealing Lake

Charles Evans Hughes Will Judge Case

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
(Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Charles Evans Hughes is busy again on the job which was too big for the United States supreme court.

The former justice and secretary of state on Jan. 19 will reopen hearings on the Great Lakes drainage suits brought against the sanitary district of Chicago by Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.

Previously Hughes, acting as a master appointed by the supreme court, has heard the complaining arguments of the lake states other than Illinois which, with Canada, has long been agitated by the diversion of water from Lake Michigan through the Chicago river and into the Illinois river.

Hear Defense Next

Now he will hear the defense arguments of Illinois and Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana. Six Mississippi valley states which have come into the case as voluntary co-defendants.

Hughes must decide whether Chicago has the right to divert the lake water, whether the War Department has had the power to grant its permits for such diversion and, most far-reaching of all, whether anyone has the right to divert water from one watershed to another to the detriment of property rights on the body of water from which diversion is effected.

He will soon file his report or brief to the supreme court, which undoubtedly will follow his recommendation, and final decision is expected this year.

The defendant witnesses will tell Hughes that the diversion is absolutely necessary to proper sanitation of Chicago until the city has devised other methods of keeping pure its water supply and disposing of its sewage.

They will assert that the actual divide between the Chicago river and the Illinois river is so slight that an ordinary rainfall virtually would change the watershed and that the backward flow of the Chicago river, accomplished artificially, is a very nearly natural flow.

Caused Typhoid Epidemic

The diversion began about 1900, Chicago's sewage was being dumped into Lake Michigan, where her water supply comes from. There were outbreaks of typhoid. The Illinois legislature organized the sanitary district for the purpose of building a drainage canal to wash the sewage into the Illinois river, which flows into the Mississippi. This was done and in 1902 the Chicago river began to flow the other way instead of into the lake under a permit from the secretary of war, which allowed a diversion of 412 cubic feet a second.

Subsequently the diversion has at times reached 10,000 cubic feet a second. New War Department permits have been granted, the latest limiting the flow to 8500 cubic feet, a little more than is now actually being diverted.

Water levels of all the Great Lakes except Superior have been lowered. Army engineers have said that the drainage canal is responsible for some six inches of the drop on Huron and Michigan and less elsewhere. The levels fluctuate, however, with rainfall and snowfall and Chicago says her diversion is no more responsible for lower levels than any one of a half dozen other causes.

The complaining Great Lakes states charge great loss to their shore property and to navigation. With shallow lakes, they say, ships cannot load to capacity and higher shipping rates must be charged. Dock pilings built for submersion are alleged to rot when exposed to the air above the lake surface. Resorts are alleged to have been ruined by the change.

One Wisconsin section complained it was no longer able to take in water, its intake pipes having been built close to the surface. Canada is interested because she wants to maintain the level of the St. Lawrence—Power interests claim to have lost many millions of dollars.

New Invention

PASSAIC, N. J.—If hopes are realized Chief Zuber will be able to give orders to all his dogs within a range of 3 miles by use of each one's badge as an aerial for a radio set as big as a package of cigarettes. A little red light worn like a wrist watch will flash when a cop is called. Anyhow the invention is to be given a trial.

CHAPLIN IS BETTER

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Marked improvement in the condition of Charlie Chaplin, III at the fifth avenue home of his attorney, Nathan Burkan, indicated Tuesday, the film comedian would be able to leave his bed in four or five days. Dr. Gustave Tieck, Chaplin's physician said tonight that a change from a liquid to a soft food diet made today is expected to hasten complete recovery. Dr. Tieck said Chaplin has lost 10 or 15 pounds since the beginning of his domestic troubles.

Chest Colds Need Direct Treatment

IT IS AN obstinate cold indeed that can resist the direct, double action of Vicks. Rubbed on the chest, it acts two ways at once:

(1) Direct to air passages with its healing vapors released by body heat.

(2) Like a poultice, it "draws out" the soreness.

ARBITRATION LOOMS IN MEXICAN OIL ROW

KELLOGG READY FOR SUCH MOVE IS NEW REPORT

MEXICO RESTS EASIER AS PROSPECTS BECOME MUCH BRIGHTER

By Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Prospects for arbitration of the dispute with Mexico over that country's new oil and land laws have brightened with the announcement by Secretary Kellogg after a conference with President Coolidge, that he approved of that method in approaching a settlement.

President Calles of Mexico has indicated unofficially that he might look upon arbitration as a way out of the controversy, and Mr. Kellogg's announced views are expected to bring to the forefront in future discussions this means of composing the situation.

The sudden switch of the spotlight from the civil war in Nicaragua to Mexico came last night when the secretary of state, after a half hour talk with the president, declared in a formal statement that he approved of a resolution introduced by Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, calling for submission of the Mexican dispute to arbitration or to some impartial tribunal.

Expression is Welcomed
 He said he welcomed such an expression of opinion in the senate and added that for some time he had been giving careful consideration to the question of the "definite application" of the arbitration principle to the "existing controversy with Mexico."

The Arkansas senator's resolution has been referred to the foreign relations committee, which tomorrow plans to take up resolutions regarding withdrawal of American naval forces from Nicaragua and to decide whether it would make public a "corrected" copy of Secretary Kellogg's testimony on Nicaragua which was delivered before it in executive session.

Mexico Breathes Easier
 MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—Mexico is breathing easier with the announcement of Secretary Kellogg's willingness to submit the controversy over the Mexican oil and land laws to arbitration.

The immediate reaction to publication of the secretary of state's views was a subsidence of the extraordinary tension of the last week and expressions of hope that the preliminary negotiations for arbitration would be conducted in a conciliatory spirit.

There was speculation as to which side would make the official proposal. President Calles has already declared unofficially that he might consider arbitration to avoid greater evil for Mexico.

Melton Files Appeal Trial
 Convicted On Pro-Law Charge And Sentenced To A Year, Asks A New Trial

Notice of appeal from the conviction of sentence of one year in the penitentiary was filed in district court here today by counsel for E. E. Melton after a jury in district court Tuesday night returned a verdict of guilty on a charge of transportation of intoxicating liquor. Melton is represented by Vickers, Campbell and Schenk.

The jury, which was given the case at 5:25 p. m. Tuesday, deliberated about one hour, and set publication at one year in the penitentiary.

Case Two Years Old
 The case was nearly two years old. Melton was arrested along with C. C. Reed the night of March 2, 1925, after officers had watched for several hours a cache of alleged intoxicating liquor secreted about five miles northwest of here.

Melton is now at liberty under a new bond pending disposition of his appeal. The jury in Melton's case was composed of the following:

Forney Henry, Shaton, R. C. Camp, J. W. Brown, C. H. DeBuck and R. F. Hutton. Delator, C. L. Blackburn, W. E. Hilton, W. J. Baker, J. S. Hemphill, Will McCrummen, O. A. Truer and D. E. Meredith, Lubbock.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points in response to higher Liverpool cables and reports of continued activity in cotton goods at Manchester.

The advance to 15.55 for March and 15.35 for July met considerable realization by recent buyers and a little more southern selling or holding.

Business tapered off after initial buying orders had been executed, prices sagging five or six points from the start.

While buying was not aggressive, it proved sufficient to absorb the early offerings on reactions to about yesterday's closing quotations and the market steadied up again on continued talk of probable light spinning returns, reports of a steady spot situation, and renewed covering, March advanced to 15.55 and July to 15.35; the market showing net gains of about 6 to 10 points.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Cotton opened firm with first traders showing gains of 2 to 3 points. Prices continued upward after the start, until March traded at 13.48, May 13.66 and July 13.82, or 3 to 5 points above yesterday's close. The advance attracted realizing which caused prices to decline 4 to 5 points. At the end of the first half hour, however, the market was inclined to rally, helped by a bullish weekly weather and crop report.

Scattered buying developed during the morning and as offerings were light prices advanced, March trading to 13.54, May to 13.72 and July to 13.89. With this demand supplied the market showed a tendency to ease off again and by noon prices were 1 to 5 points down from the highs.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Stock prices displayed a firm undertone at the opening of today's market. A brisk demand was again in evidence for the railroad shares, particularly the dividend paying issues, and stronger buying support was apparent for some of the motor and equipment which had been heavy earlier in the week. Initial gains of a point or so were recorded by International Telephone and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe.

Speculators for the advance appeared to have regained control of the price movement, at least temporarily, with the Industrials again taking a prominent part in the advance. Profit-taking continued to retard the advance in the rails although early gains of a point or so were recorded by Union Pacific, Reading and Texas and Pacific. Prospects of easier money rate stimulated pool activity. Vick Chemical and Maytag mounting to new record highs, while substantial gains were recorded by General Railway Signal, Eureka Vacuum, Gas Elevator, International Combustion and Liquid Carbonic. Baldwin, which broke over four points yesterday, recovered more than half its loss before the end of the first hour, and U. S. Steel common, general motors Mack Trucks and Pullman all sold a point or so higher. Foreign exchanges opened steady, demand sterling ruling around $4.84 1-8 and French francs around 2.06 cents.

FIRST DEFICIENCY BILL REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The first deficiency bill of this session of congress, providing $225,000,000 to meet deficits in governmental activities under current appropriations, was reported to the house today by its appropriations committee.

Of the total, which agrees with budget estimates, $175,000,000 is to reimburse the treasury for funds during the past calendar year of illegally collected taxes.

Of the remainder, $225,000,000 is to augment fire fighting funds of the forest service, another $1,140,000 going to the department of agriculture for building forest roads and trails under contract.

The war department would receive $2,000,000 with which to complete capitalization of inland waterways corporation.

OWSLEY TALKS TO FARM BUREAU

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Delegates to the seventh annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau federation, were told today by Clarence Owsley, head of the Texas Safe Farming association that to date efforts upon the part of bankers' association and individuals to retire the 1928 cotton crop from the market had amounted to practically nothing.

The Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association and the bankers of the state offered means to retire one million bales of this year's crop until better prices prevail, but negotiations for the redempt of approximately 100 bales have been the sole result of those offers, he said, in arguing the need for more co-operation among farmers.

The results of efforts to organize cotton reduction committees in 200 Texas counties were to be seen in this organization in only two counties, Hill and Grimes, he declared.

THE WRONG ROOM

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 19 (AP)—A tell tale note at the marriage registrar's office.

A muscular young fellow presented himself at the surgeon's office in the town hall of a small town. He was told to strip to the waist. He complied and was duly measured.

"Strip over that chair," the surgeon ordered. "Now bend back, touch the floor. Now run around and let me test your heart and wind."

"I'm hanged if I will!" the man exploded. "I'd rather stay single."

Columbus Discovered The World's Greatest Opportunity

---for YOU!

More than four centuries ago when the galleons of Columbus nosed their way to a new hemisphere, he expected to unfold greater treasures than his day knew.

He found this continent and thereby opened up to the colonization of our forefathers a land today the greatest of the world. Little did he appreciate the ultimate of his discovery—beyond his wildest flights of imagination was the thought that here in his new-found land there would arise the world's greatest nation—THE land of opportunity.

But no man could foresee such. Vision, thought and foresight develop and from a land of wilderness has come this wonderful country. Men with foresight have built cities—and these cities have spread and are still spreading.

Foresight, today just as much as in the past, is to be rewarded. Even greater fortunes are still to be made by those with faith in the development of cities.

Around YOU on every side are avenues for profit in real estate investment. As new home sections have sprung up before your very eyes, so they will continue. With foresight you, too, can reap rich reward.

Our city is growing—new homes are needed—and this demand cannot cease. NOW is your opportunity!

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN COPYRIGHT, 1926 NEA

"Tired, darling?" Bob Hathaway dropped into his seat beside Faith in the small empty courtroom in which she had been permitted to await the action of the grand jury.

"You want to go out for a little something to eat now? You look dreadfully tired, poor darling."

"Do you think we'll hear their decision tonight?" Faith asked, as she clung to Bob's arm going down the long flight of marble steps of the courthouse.

"Pretty sure to hear tonight," Bob answered her, after they had escaped to the dingy little hole-in-the-wall restaurant across the street from the courthouse.

"I can't eat," she moaned to Bob, who disregarded her wishes and ordered thin, brown toast, hot tea—and he sure it's made fresh, or better still, bring a spoonful of dry tea and a pot of hot water—and for himself, a roast beef sandwich.

"You didn't have a hard session of it, did you, dear?" Bob leaned forward and took her hands across the table. "No, Mr. Banning was very kind to me," Faith acknowledged, her lip quivering.

"Extra! Extra! Cherry indicted—first degree murder!" A small, incredibly shrill newsboy dashed into the restaurant, a heavy load of papers under one arm, a copy waving in his grimy right fist.

Faith took one long, startled look at the great headlines, then clumped forward in a faint.

"Water, hurry with that tea!" Bob sprang to his feet and shouted so that his voice could be heard across the street.

The press photographers did not miss their opportunity. Before Bob could lift the unconscious girl into his arms, cameras were recording just how the sister of the alleged murderer was "taking" the news of the indictment.

TOMORROW: A new tragedy awaits Faith's arrival at the Myrtle Street house.

Skin Eruptions Laid To Poison In Dyed Fur

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

EVERY winter physicians who specialize in disease of the skin are asked to see cases of eruptions around the throat and wrists resulting from poisoning with insecticides or improperly dyed furs.

The principal symptoms are blotches and swelling with itching and burning, so severe in some cases that the person cannot sleep at night.

Rabbit Becomes Beaver The trouble is found in most instances to result from rabbit that is dyed to imitate beaver, although all sort of furs may be involved.

In these cases the poisonous substance is usually a compound of paraphenylenediamine, the same poisonous substance that causes irritation of the scalp of those who attempt to dye gray hair black.

Many foreign nations have introduced laws to prevent the use of this substance in hair dyes and to regulate the fur-dyeing industry. Similar laws have been passed in some of our states, but there is as yet no national regulation regarding the use of this substance.

Investigative Cases Not all persons are equally sensitive to this dye. Some may wear furs dyed in this manner without symptoms, but those who are sensitive develop severe reactions.

Several investigative committees are attempting to secure a record of all of the cases of this type that occur. If anyone knows of such an instance, the report may be sent to the Committee on Dye Poisoning of the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn street, Chicago.

Seventeen-Year-Old Swimmer Conquers Channel

George Young, 17-year-old swimming sensation who came out of Canada to conquer the Catalina channel, is pictured here on the stretcher which awaited him as he reached the San Pedro (Calif.) breakwater. While all his competitors, including foremost American aquatic stars, were succumbing to the rigors of the 24 miles of icy water between Catalina Island and San Pedro, the youthful Canadian valiantly fought his way through. He won a prize of $25,000 offered by William Wrigley. This NEA Service photo is the first picture of Young's victory in three respects: It was the first picture taken of him after he left the water, it was the first picture of the finish transmitted eastward from Los Angeles over the telephoto wires, and it is the first printed in any South Plains newspaper.

Removal to new sites and additional facilities were not included in the minimum clause. Speculation is rife. Much speculation is now prevalent here as to the probable location of the new building, but according to Mr. Vaughan, the price must be reasonable before any purchase will be made. Definite action in connection with the purchase is not expected to be made until the appropriation is finally approved by President Coolidge and Congress. Leaders in the movement here, do not anticipate either not approval or reduction of the amount.

University Of Texas Records Come Into Prominence In Bonner's Trial As Gordon Cone, Lubbock, Takes Stand

(By Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Jan. 19.—Records of the University of Texas and the recollections of classmates were presented today as circumstantial evidence in the prosecution's attempt to prove that Frank Bonner, young San Antonio radio engineer, murdered his prospective father-in-law in 1923 with a charge of dynamite. Bonner is being tried for the murder here of J. A. Barnes, whose daughter he later married.

I. M. Gafford, an instructor in electrical engineering at the university testified that he gave a quiz on the day on which the state alleges Bonner came to San Antonio to put the infernal machine addressed to J. A. Barnes in the express office. Gafford said Bonner did not turn in a paper for that examination. Gafford refused to say, however, that Bonner was absent. He said that he was marked absent but that that was the only day during the course in which Bonner's name was followed by a blank in the column where the grades were recorded.

Dynamite Is Stolen Joe Macken, contractor who built the biology laboratory at the university testified that the tool house used in constructing the building was broken open a few days before the murder and that 25 or 30 sticks of dynamite was taken and a box and a half of dynamite caps.

James Clark, son of Bonner's landlady while Bonner was at the university testified that he and Bonner had experimented in 1920 or 1921 to discover a method of exploding dynamite caps and that they succeeded in accomplishing this by using an ordinary dry cell.

Previous witnesses testified that the package supposed to have contained the bomb was delivered to the office of the express company in San Antonio by a Mexican boy, Juan Morales, who is expected to testify today.

Lubbock Man Testifies G. M. Cone, of Lubbock, was called to the stand today and testified that he had roomed in the house in which Bonner lived in Austin for two months in 1922. He said that while he and Bonner were not very friendly, they never had any trouble. He testified that he had never been in San Antonio, that he did not know Barnes and never sent a package to him.

G. M. Cone, of Lubbock, whose testimony in the Bonner case is mentioned above, is the son of Mrs. Jessie Cone, of the Liberty community, 14 miles northwest of this city, and is the brother of S. E. Cone, wholesale grain dealer, residing here. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1926 and is well known here. His first name is Gordon, and he has been connected with the legal department of the El Capitlan Oil company, San Angelo. He was called to Corpus Christi as a special witness. He is a graduate of Lubbock high school.

NORRIS TRIAL

store when she heard Chipps tell the mayor he'd kill Norris if the pastor did not stop attacks on Meacham.

Trial Is Resumed COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, TEXAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Trial of Dr. J. Frank Norris on a charge of murdering D. E. Chipps of Fort Worth, was resumed here today following one day recess caused by the illness of the defendant. Dr. Norris was in court slightly pale. He was ill with a severe cold and inflammation of the throat. Jesse M. Brown, an attorney of Fort Worth, former county judge and district attorney of Tarrant county, testified as the first defense witness that Chipps' reputation as a drinking man was bad. He was not questioned by the state.

Character Attack Continues The defense continued evidence designed to show that Chipps was dangerous when intoxicated. They introduced thirty witnesses Monday to present similar evidence. W. H. Lee, chief of police of Fort Worth, testified he arrived at Dr. Norris' office shortly after the shooting.

of Chipps on July 17. Defense asked him why he left so quickly with Norris, and Attorney William McLean objected that the question was irrelevant and the objection was sustained after conference among attorneys and Judge James R. Hamilton.

Chipps Talking Angry At this point Mrs. Greer said she left the line and when she returned Chipps was talking so angrily she could not make out what he was saying.

Defense again offered the Meacham telephone conversation and state's objection again was sustained. Mrs. Greer said she and her mother were in Hot Springs, Ark., when summoned in the trial and that she made a written statement there to some one about the case.

Attorney McLean, reading from grand jury testimony, asked Mrs. Greer if she did not deny before the grand jury that Chipps cursed Norris on the telephone. She replied she had testified she didn't hear Chipps curse Dr. Norris, simply heard him curse some one.

Didnt you testify there was no cursing of any kind in that telephone conversation? McLean asked, still referring to the grand jury record. "I may have," she answered.

The record as read by McLean showed Mrs. Greer had testified that she heard no cursing of any kind in the Chipps-Norris conversation. Mrs. Greer said Chipps and Norris were talking calmly at first: "When Norris said he couldn't understand Chipps' name, wasn't that when Chipps raised his voice?" McLean asked. "Not at first, but later," the witness said.

"You are very friendly to Dr. Norris, aren't you?" "I'm a member of his church."

"That's not the question."

"Yes, I'm friendly."

Get's Lawyers' Advice Mrs. Greer said a Hot Springs attorney advised her to return to Texas to testify—but didn't know who had hired this lawyer.

"Now lets see whether you ran off or not," said Attorney Simpson, when the witness was turned back to the defense.

"Did you slip off and go to Hot Springs or did you get on the train and go with your mother?" "I went with my mother."

"Did you try to dodge service?" "No."

Attorneys argued about a statement Harry Hamilton, Tarrant county detective, was said to have obtained from Mrs. Greer at Hot Springs. Defense wanted to go into circumstances of how the statement was obtained. McLean objected because he said the state was merely laying a predicate to impeach the witness and that evidence of the circumstances was inadmissible. Attorney Dayton Moses said the statement obtained by intimidation and that a part of the statement already had been admitted and that all the circumstances should be admitted.

tion with Norris, which witness said came about two hours after the Meacham conversation.

"Chipps called from his room and asked me to get Dr. Norris on the line and I called Dr. Norris at the church. Some girl answered first and then Dr. Norris came on the line."

"Chipps said hello, Dr. Norris said, 'who is this?' Chipps said it didn't make any difference and cursed. He asked if Norris was going to be in for about 20 minutes and Dr. Norris said he could wait two hours and thirty minutes if necessary. Norris again asked Chipps, who he was and Chipps told him."

Chipps Talking Angry At this point Mrs. Greer said she left the line and when she returned Chipps was talking so angrily she could not make out what he was saying.

Defense again offered the Meacham telephone conversation and state's objection again was sustained.

Mrs. Greer said she and her mother were in Hot Springs, Ark., when summoned in the trial and that she made a written statement there to some one about the case.

Attorney McLean, reading from grand jury testimony, asked Mrs. Greer if she did not deny before the grand jury that Chipps cursed Norris on the telephone. She replied she had testified she didn't hear Chipps curse Dr. Norris, simply heard him curse some one.

Didnt you testify there was no cursing of any kind in that telephone conversation? McLean asked, still referring to the grand jury record. "I may have," she answered.

The record as read by McLean showed Mrs. Greer had testified that she heard no cursing of any kind in the Chipps-Norris conversation.

Mrs. Greer said Chipps and Norris were talking calmly at first: "When Norris said he couldn't un-

Postmaster Vaughan Urges People Having Building Sites To Turn In Their Locations For New Structure

While no definite information has been received here from postal authorities regarding the proposed new federal building for Lubbock, especially concerning location, Postmaster John L. Vaughan said today that he believed the proper thing for property owners to do at the present is to line up proposals for sale of sites for the building, and have them ready for submission to inspectors of the federal department when they are called for. Such, he said, will probably save much time in beginning of actual construction work, for if all this preliminary work is done when inspectors arrive, their busy duty will be to pass on the proposals submitted.

Prices Must Be Reasonable He cautioned, however, that a reasonable price must be attached to the proposals, for the postal department will not consider any exorbitant prices.

The report on which the joint committee approval was given the Lubbock proposal shows that Lubbock has made a larger percentage gain in both postal receipts and population served than any of the other 390 applicants for federal construction or improvement projects.

Only two new projects were allowed each state under the minimum clause of the appropriation measure, and due to the almost fractional gains by the Lubbock office during the past ten years, the committee is believed to have heeded the plea for additional facilities. Huntsville was given the other new project in Texas.

Whenever American Statesmen Talk In Official Capacity Germany Listens Attentively; Speeches Are Broadcast

BERLIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—Every time that President Coolidge, Dawes, Kellogg, Mellon or Borah issue a public pronouncement, there is unusual activity in the press divisions of the German foreign office on Wilhelmstrasse. It is because there is a standing order in the department that press reports of the utterances by these American statesmen should immediately be brought to the attention of President von Hindenburg and the other members of the government.

The manner in which these pronouncements as well as other newspaper facts are communicated to the German leaders is as different in each case as it is interesting. Take the Marx cabinet as an instance. Hindenburg Likes Comedies President von Hindenburg reads but few newspapers aside from a daily from his home town, Hanover. The digest of the world's news is communicated to him orally each day at 11 a. m. by the chief of the government's press bureau, Dr. Zechlin.

Zechlin goes at his job from a journalistic point of view, that is, he narrows the news in the order of its importance. Following the news come the leading cartoons of the day and newspaper jokes on persons in the public limelight. The soldier-president enjoys this feature of the daily report immensely, and it is reported that Zechlin has become a favorite of the president by his judicious selection of humorous material.

The president also receives a daily press report on military matters. Soldier that he is, he watches the ministry of defense with keener interest than any other governmental department.

Marx Read German Chancellor Marx confined his reading of newspapers chiefly to the Germania, the Berlin daily organ of the Center party, and the Koelnische Volkszeitung, Cologne organ of the Center party for the Rhineland. The chancellor is a native of Cologne.

Dr. Marx also received a daily digest of news from the press division. In his case, however, interest centered particularly in the provincial press. As the political head of the country he was anxious to know what the folk out in the country thought.

Foreign Minister Stresemann was the most ardent newspaper reader in the cabinet. He personally perused about a dozen newspapers daily and then rang up the government press division to make sure he had not overlooked anything. He particularly desired to know what leading foreign journals had to say. Several translators were accordingly kept busy, putting together comments and items from the world press.

Gessler Immune to Comment In contrast to Dr. Stresemann, the minister of defense, Dr. Otto Gessler, would tell everybody who cared to hear it that he never read any newspaper. If he did, he claimed, he would soon jar his nerves at reading all the attacks to which his department was constantly subjected. When one watched Gessler in the reichstag, however, through the leading Berlin dailies each as he answered the attacks of the opposition, one was inclined to think that somehow he found out after all, what the press said about him.

The minister of the interior, Dr. Wilhelm Kuehl, personally went day and marked for closer reading whatever items especially interested him. These were then cut out by his secretaries and given him for perusal whenever he had a few moments' time.

BAREFOOT FOOTBALL. HONOLULU.—"Barefoot" football, a species of the sport which has its habitat in Hawaii, and which causes more or less skepticism in the minds of mainland football fans, is now ending a successful season in the islands. The barefoot teams are composed of youths having no affiliation with high school or college teams, but who are organized into leagues sponsored in many cases by newspapers and business houses.

RETURNS AS KING AFTER 30 YEARS

By NEA Service. LONDON.—Thirty years ago Premiers King of the Ashanti in the West African coast, stirred up one of Great Britain's expensive little wars. He was exiled, but recently has been "allowed to be elected Chief of the Kumasi division of Ashanti," according to a Colonial office statement.

Ashanti, once a bloody center of wars and terrors, is now a prosperous district. Human sacrifices, mounds of skulls and hideous torture marked Ashanti thirty years ago, but now the region is tame and the tribesmen engage in commercial pursuits.

SERVANT RETIRES

ROME.—"Linda," as Miss Teodolinda Banti is called, has grown feeble and will retire shortly from the service of Pope Pius XI. She is 70 now and has served the pope ever since she entered the priesthood. For years she has prepared or looked after the Pope's meals. The Pope eats but little—usually soup, fish or vegetables with a small glass of wine making up his principal meal, usually taken about 2 p. m.

BROWNING UP AGAIN

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Edward W. Browning, wealthy realty man, named in suit for separation by his wife, Frances Heenan Browning, and in a suit by a reporter and a once-adopted daughter, both asking damages—was today made defendant in another case. Today's action was brought by Renee Shapiro, 21, 2884 old Brooklyn actress, who seeks $100,000 damages, alleging an attack upon her July 5, 1923.

Frank Grace Is Head Katy Railway System

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19. (AP)—Appointment of Frank W. Grace as general superintendent of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, effective February 1, was announced Jan. 18. Grace who will have headquarters at Denison, Texas, is now superintendent of the Katy's McAlester district, with headquarters at Muskogee, Okla. He entered the railroad's service more than twenty-six years ago as a train caller at Muskogee, when he was 16 years old, he subsequently was employed as station helper, seal clerk, brakeman, yardmaster and train master and was promoted to the superintendency in Wichita Falls in 1919. He was transferred to Muskogee four years ago.

Ask Receiver Named For Chaplin Studio

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19. (AP)—An appeal from the appointment of a receiver for the Chaplin Studios, Inc., was filed by Attorney Gavin McNab in court Tuesday. It was explained that as soon as a bond sufficient to insure the carrying out of the court's order for the payment of alimony to Lita Grey Chaplin has been filed, the receivership becomes suspended, until the supreme court rules upon the appeal. Filing of the bond is expected to be made by today.

BANDS TO WACO

WACO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Waco was chosen as the city for the state band contest in May, during national music week, at the meeting of the Texas Band Teachers' association, incorporated, here Monday. The elimination of the division contests was voted and the decision to hold the consolidated contest in Waco will bring approximately four hundred bands here for competition. Money prizes, upon motion of Secretary E. A. Lightfoot of Allen Academy were abandoned and the awarding of medals and loving cups will be made at a future contest.

COOLIDGE WAITS ON LOANS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—In formulating policy in regard to loans on the bonus certificates of world war veterans, President Coolidge is inclined to be guided by the advice of the veterans bureau. At the White House it was that Mr. Coolidge understood Director Hines favored an arrangement under which former services men could turn their certificates at the veterans bureau and receive loans, a plan favored by many banking institutions, which have declined to make loans generally.

Drill Of Deepest Oil Well Seeks To Tap Virgin Wealth

At the left is the derrick which towers over the "Olinda No. 96," the world's deepest oil well. At the right is A. E. Spear examining the special drill which has eaten its way down 8046 feet—nearly a mile and a half.

By DAN THOMAS

NEA Service Writer. OLINDA, Calif., Jan. 19.—Man and his oil well drills are busy here working for greater depths in the earth than ever before have been penetrated.

"Olinda No. 96" is the trade name for the effort? It's the name of the deepest oil well in the world's history. The drillers are down to 8046 feet—290 feet below any previous boring.

At that level the drillers encountered water. Further drilling is impossible until the hole is cemented through the water strata. But despite the water, a favorable formation has been found and it is expected that 25 or 30 feet more will bring in oil.

Drilling is done with a specially constructed geared rotary drill on a two-inch drill stem. This stem is in 95 strands, each 85 feet in length. More than 8000 feet of steel cable without a splice—the longest ever used in an oil well—is attached to the drill

TOBACCO MADE FOR PIPES AND CUT FOR PIPES
-PACKED SENSIBLY AND ECONOMICALLY

-isn't that exactly what pipe smokers want?

AFTER all, what men want is good tobacco, first and foremost; a better packing or lower price is always secondary. And good tobacco is precisely what Granger Rough Cut offers—quality Burley of the ripest, richest grade, specially made by "Wellman's Method," an old-time secret for sealing in the flavor. What's more, the "Rough Cut" is the one way pipe tobacco should be cut for cool smoking. The lower price is welcome, of course—but it's what's inside that has made Granger the most talked-about new brand in all our experience.

Page Maude Lee Mudd, Indian Heiress $7,000 Each Month Piles Up For Her

By NEA Service. "Maud Lee Mudd, Indian Heiress" is the title of a story of the federal government figuratively are crying the unromantic name up and down all the states of the Union.

They want to present Maud Lee Mudd, vanished Indian Cinderella, with a fortune that would assure her ease and luxury for the rest of her life.

But Cinderella doesn't answer. Her silence lies of the strange story of the many perplexing problems Uncle Sam, as guardian of his Indian citizens, has faced since the Midas hand of oil discovery was laid on Oklahoma's scraggly Indian acres.

Late in November Maud Lee Mudd attained the age of 18. The federal authorities hoped she would reappear then. For the birthday marked her legal majority, signifying that she could take complete control of the wealth that has accumulated in her name.

Disappointed. But with the birthday weeks past, Cinderella persists in remaining in the shadowy land of the missing. The nobody who became a somebody has turned a nobody once more.

Maud Lee Mudd was born on a reservation, child of ignorant Indian parents. Her father died when she was nine months old, a year later her mother deserted her, leaving her on the charity of the tribe. Maud Lee Mudd had a childhood like Topsy's; she "just grew."

Four years ago, however, that ragged Cinderella came into her own. It was discovered that her father's share in tribal lands, now her property, was worth a huge sum; in addition, she inherited on aunt's estate which included valuable lead and zinc mines.

Maud Lee Mudd was somebody. William Simms, government probate attorney, was given a court order declaring him her guardian. Then her mother suddenly reappeared and claimed her.

Flight and Marriage. There were legal fights over the girl's custody. But the mother came in an auto one day, got Maud Lee Mudd, and drove out of Oklahoma into Kansas. From there they went to Council Bluffs, Iowa, in a car driven by one Earl Gordon, a white man.

On the trip Maud Lee Mudd either became fond of Gordon, or else her mother made entreaties to which she submitted meekly; at all events, she and Gordon were married in Council Bluffs.

The three then went to Los Angeles, and there Cinderella disappeared. Nobody can find out much about this disappearance.

She left a theater in Los Angeles one night, after her husband had arranged a party with a number of friends. She said she would wait for the group at their hotel. She has not been seen since.

Her husband and mother returned to Oklahoma, but could shed no light on her disappearance. Government agents took up the investigations, both here and in the west, but in vain. (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

POLICE SEARCH TWO LOST BOYS

Lubbock Officers Receive Two Inquiries, One From Okla., One From New York

Two inquiries, one from New York City and the other from Oklahoma City were received by Lubbock police today, seeking aid in location of two boys, one of whom has been lost for two years.

A letter from Miss Hester W. Dahl, of New York, seeks to locate her brother Harold Dahl, from whom she has not heard in two years. The letter says the last information she had from her brother, he was living with a family here named Yarbrough, but no initials were given. The boy resided with the Yarbroughs until two years ago, since which time she has lost track of him, she says.

Young Lad Sought. The other inquiry, from P. B. Lawrence, of Oklahoma City, says that his son, a 14 year old boy by the name of Sherman Lawrence, left the public schools of that city at noon January 13, and that it is presumed he is en route, or has reached the home of his uncle, Arthur King, who lives eight miles west of here. Efforts to reach Mr. King this morning were unavailing.

The youth is described as being

Stomach Trouble Gone, Bakes 40 Pies

I was a nervous wreck with stomach trouble. Had dizzy spells and could scarcely walk. I began taking Adierika, and now I run a restaurant and bake 40 pies a day. When my friends ask how I do it, I tell them about Adierika.—Mrs. L. Amrol.
Adierika differs from most medicines because it acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel. It gives the system a REAL cleansing, and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, just ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adierika brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adierika will surprise you.—City Drug Store and other Stores. (Adv.)
