FIRST CONTACT WITH N. VIETNAMESE CONCERNS PROCEDURAL MATTERS

Signs Of A Wrangle Over Details Crop Up In Paris

PARIS (AP) —United States and North Vietnamese delegations made the first contact of their Paris conference today amid signs they may face a wrangle over arrangement details at the very outset.

Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance, the No. 2 man in the American group, and Col. Ha Van Lau, deputy for the North Vietnamese group, entered the International Conference Center in midafternoon to start talks that could lead eventually to a settlement of the war in South-east Asia.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and the leader of the negotiating team from Hanoi, Xuan Thuy, stayed in the background because it was agreed in advance, through French mediation, that this first session would be concerned only with procedural problems.

A spokesman said the United States accepted this arrangement, which was reported proposed by North Vietnam. U.S.

officials expressed disappointment that Harriman and Thuy had not been able to begin substantive discussions immediately.

A U.S. spokesman was asked whether the North Vietnamese had requested this approach and whether they were stalling.

"I don't want to characterize the meeting," he replied. "The meeting was suggested and we accepted it."

The procedural questions for discussion at this first session could include the matter of an agenda for the later opening talks between Thuy and Harriman.

An argument over the agenda could delay substantial talks in definitely, but U.S. officials said they had no word that the situation would develop in that manner.

William Jordan, an assistant to Harriman, told newsmen U.S. representatives at the midafternoon session would be Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance and Philip Habib, a State Department expert on Vietnam.

The session was set for the International Conference Center, the old Majestic Hotel, where the main talks are to be held.

The American delegation drove up first in three sedans and was followed within minutes by the Vietnamese in another trio of black sedans.

A crowd of 700 to 800 lined the broad Avenue Kleber, near the Arc de Triomphe, as the delegates arrived. Other curious hung out of balcony windows and windows of the International Conference Center itself. There was no applause or cheering.

The arrangement for a session on planning details was reported to have been a disappointment to American officials, who had hoped more substantial talks might begin today.

At the top of the agenda was the North Vietnamese demand that the United States unconditionally halt its bombing of North Vietnam, extending the curtainment President Johnson ordered March 31 to the whole country.

Until this is done, Hanoi has said, the political issues at the heart of the war cannot be discussed.

If a formula for a bombing halt can be reached, it is expected that the negotiators will then take up the sticky political questions. But no one pretends to know how long it will take to get an agreement to limit the war to South Vietnam's boundaries.

82 CREWMEN Release Of Pueblo Crew May Be Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman whose subcommittee deals in Asian matters says there is some indication North Korea is moving toward release of the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

But administration officials said they had no new progress to report in the long negotiations to win release of the ship and crew.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House subcommittee on Asian and Pacific affairs, told a newsman that while he couldn't go into details, "there is some indication that they will be released."

"There is no doubt that we are coming nearer to a return of the men," he added.

Communist capture of the Pueblo Jan. 23 set off an international crisis which is being dealt with mainly at U.S.-North Korean talks at the Korean truce site, Panmunjom.

State Department officials said Thursday the ship has been moved from Wonsan Harbor. The North Koreans first brought it there after seizing it in what the United States claims were international waters.

The Reds were reported to have moved the vessel to a smaller North Korean port about 50 miles above Wonsan.

Your Tax Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are examples of how the surtax agreed on by Senate-House conferees would affect individual U.S. taxpayers if enacted by Congress:

1967	1968	1969
$145-single	$145.00	$145.00
290-joint	290.00	250.00
500	537.50	525.00
1,000	1,075.00	1,050.00
5,000	5,375.00	5,250.00
20,000	21,500.00	21,000.00

NOTE: This table takes into account the fact the surtax, as now written, would apply only for nine months of 1968 and six months of 1969. If Congress should extend the surtax through 1969, the additional tax figures for 1969 would be doubled.

F111 Grounded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acting in the wake of another F111A crash, the Air Force has restricted all flights of the new, swing-wing plane, once called the TFX.

The latest of several crashes in recent months occurred Thursday in Nevada. The plane was operating out of Nellis Air Force Base. An instructor and student pilot escaped injury.

Full Turnout Urged For Conventions

County conventions for the Democratic, Republican and American political parties are to be held Saturday and chairmen of each organization is urging a full turnout of all precinct delegates.

7:30 P.M.

George Thorburn, chairman of the Howard County Democratic executive committee, has announced the Democrat's meeting for 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the 118th District Court room.

Democrats are entitled to send 12 delegates to the state convention which is to be June 11 in Dallas. The county's quota of delegates is determined by the number of votes cast in the last general election for governor. The county gets one state delegate for each 300 votes—12.

Thorburn urged all delegates and precinct chairmen to be at the meeting.

2 P.M.

The Republican Party county convention will be at 2 p.m. in the Howard County courtroom. Dr. Akin Simpson, county chairman, said his party will be entitled to four delegates at the state Republican convention, to be held June 11 in Corpus Christi. Like his opposite number, Dr. Simpson urged all delegates to make a special effort to attend.

The American Party, which had no primary election in this county but did hold precinct conventions, will have a meeting in the courthouse Saturday, but the time has not been announced. Judge Lee Porter, county judge said that he had told the party representatives they could use the grand jury room on the third floor.

Miners Due Out Today

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) —Two men trapped four days in the dark, flooded passageway of a coal mine crawled a half-mile through 10 inches of water today to reach another 13 known to be alive.

The remaining 10 of the 25 men, trapped when millions of gallons of water poured into the mine through a wall break Monday, are presumed dead. There has been no contact with them.

Mine foreman Frank Davis and miner Edward Rudd, isolated 1½ miles from the mine entrance, groped through the murky waters and reached the other group at 10:30 a.m. The group of 13 was cut off by the flood waters one mile from the mine opening.

LATE TODAY

The director of rescue operations said it was hoped that "we'll have them out late this afternoon."

C. E. Richardson, president of the Maust Coal and Coke Co., said much depended on the operation of the big pumps draining the passageway.

New Deluge Soaks Area

Many city property owners, who had wondered whether they had suffered roof damage in last Sunday's hailstorm, found out the hard way Thursday.

A deluge of rain, which totaled 2.39 inches at the U.S. Experiment Station, poured down on already soggy Big Spring. As was anticipated, the new rains showed that the battering of last Sunday had caused leaks in numerous houses.

GENERAL

The rains this time were fairly general in scope, but seemed to have involved no hail. They further damaged the seeded fields and increased the erosion, particularly in the Fairview area, where 3.5 inches of rain was gauged in the day's storm.

Rain waters washed roads in some sections which had already been badly cut up by the earlier storms. The rains also created traffic problems in Big Spring's lower lying sections and traffic was hampered for some time as result of high waters.

As is the general history of rains in this community, the volume varied widely. In the southwest part of town, the total was 1.70. The Texas Electric Service Switching station on the east edge of the city had two inches.

The area in the vicinity of Howard County Junior College had 2.02. Kentwood addition, which was battered badly by Sunday's hailstorm, had 1.6 inches.

During the storm there were some areas in the north part of town which were badly flooded and street damage will run high. Lake J. B. Thomas had 7 at dam and 5 at Big Spring Odesa intake, about five miles to the west. Elevation of the lake Friday morning was 2239.84, a gain of .02 of a foot, or around 100 acre-feet of water.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District reported 5 of an inch at the Morgan Creek pump station, 15 miles northeast of Big Spring, 2.5 inches at the Big Spring pump station north of town, 1.3 inches at the McWhorter station on the Martin-Howard

SERVICES MONDAY

Donald Van Meter Dies Unexpectedly

Donald D. Van Meter, director of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital and prominent civic leader, died unexpectedly Thursday in Ft. Hood after suffering his second massive heart attack in a week. He was 55.

Mr. Van Meter was completing two weeks' Army reserve duty as a lieutenant colonel when he was stricken May 2. He was taken to Darnall Army Hospital in Ft. Hood, where he had been progressing steadily, according to reports from his wife, Mrs. Van Meter was preparing to return to Big Spring Thursday evening when her husband suffered his last attack and died about 9:30 p.m. He first had been stricken two years ago in El Paso.

Burial, with full military honors, will be in the National Cemetery at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, following a memorial service in the cemetery chapel at 1 p.m. Monday.

NO COST ESTIMATE; UNANSWERED QUESTIONS; NINE ROUTES

Mississippi Called Best Source For West Texas Water

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Reclamation, seeking more water for the thirsty High Plains of Texas and New Mexico, said today the best place to get it seems to be the Mississippi River—1,000 miles to the east.

The bureau issued a preliminary study, authorized in 1967, that says the idea is worth further study, but cautioning that there are still a lot of unanswered questions.

It made no estimate of cost. Commissioner of Reclamation

Floyd Dominy emphasized; as did the report, that the Mississippi basin states have first priority to fill their own needs, and that long-distance diversion could be made only if there is water left over.

The report estimated that in 50 years the High Plains would need to import 16.5 million acre-feet of water a year for its farm, municipal and industrial requirements.

The average flow in the lower Mississippi is 400 million acre-feet a year. But at its lowest flows, the report said, it scarcely meets present needs and there would be times when there is no surplus for export.

The bureau and Army Engineers, acting through the Mississippi River Commission, studied a variety of possible water sources for the High Plains. They checked on surplus Canadian water; the basins of the Columbia, Colorado, Missouri, Arkansas, Rio Grande and Red rivers; the Texas Gulf basins; and the prospects of weather modification and the desalting of sea water.

"The Mississippi River system is the most favorably situated," the report concluded.

It suggested nine different routes for such a transfer, including canals, existing streams and lakes, and pumping stations to lift the water from the Mississippi to the High Plains.

Four of the routes begin at or above the junction of the White River with the Mississippi and traverse Arkansas and Oklahoma on their way to Northwest Texas. The other five begin farther south, and cross Louisiana into East Texas.

"The more southern routes appear to be the most desirable for future study," the report said.

They include both the two shortest routes and the three longest, ranging from 913 to 1,312 miles.

The northern routes range from 1,043 to 1,135 miles long. In crossing hills and climbing plateaus during the transfer, the water would have to be lifted a total of 4,000 feet.

Regardless of the route, the report said, importation would probably cost too much for irrigation farmers alone but non-farm beneficiaries could help pay the bill.

Costs could be further defrayed by including in the project other useful functions besides water supply, said the agency.

The High Plains, with some 34 million irrigable acres, now have about 7 million acres under irrigation. But for years, irrigation has been pumping water out of the ground faster than nature can replace it.

Without import water, irrigated acreage there will reach a peak of about 8 million in the 1980s; then slip back to its present size by the end of this century and shrink to only about 3 million acres by the year 2020, the report predicted.

With water imports, it said, irrigated land could continue to grow to some 11 million acres by 2020.

Hyperion Club Hears Review

Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. reviewed the book, "Here Comes the Bride, There Goes Mother," by Irene Kampen at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the 1965

Hyperion Club in the country home of Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr. Cohostesses were Mrs. L. K. Gladden, Mrs. Joe Hiland and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting.

Party Fetes Graduate

Cynthia McNeese was honored with a graduation party Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Edward Shive, 604 Bucknell.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums accented with gold and black ribbons. The figures, "68," were placed in the bouquet. Ice cream with assorted toppings was served with lemonade.

Senior girls attending were Ann Heith, Beth Ann Ross, Debney Estes, Candy Marcum, Ann Garrett, Jeanie Johnson, Sue Clark and Nancy Mathis. The honoree's mother, Mrs. Leslie McNeese, also attended. Miss McNeese received a gift from the hostess.

Alpha Beta Unit Sets Installation

Mrs. Joe Smith was hostess at the Tuesday meeting of Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi of Coahoma, in the Pioneer Gas Flaming Room.

Miss Charlotte Kinsley was presented a wedding gift. Mrs. Don Cunningham presided and announced that the chapter will hold a bake sale May 11 in Coahoma. Next year's program was chosen and will be announced at the next meeting. The pledge ritual and installation of officers will be held May 21 in the First Federal Community Room.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses flanked by yellow tapers in crystal holders. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The next meeting will be the final one until September.

Home League Sees Use Of Cosmetics

Mrs. James Rushing was used as a model for a make-up demonstration held at the Wednesday meeting of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Bart Deggs presided and announced Mrs. Leo K. Gee will be guest speaker at the next meeting. Refreshments were served to 14.

Advice On Landscaping Heard By Gardeners

Mrs. Dale Smith was guest speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Four O'Clock Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Guy Cook, 1006 E. 21st.

Mrs. Smith spoke on "Landscape Design" and directed a tour of Mrs. Cook's yard. She said a garden should be designed to compliment the home style.

should be functional and planned for low maintenance. She noted that trees should be planted first; planned in proportion to house and lot size. Shrubs and flowers should then be planted and grass or ground cover added last.

She warned that West Texas climate and soil should be considered in planning. Homeowners should avoid plants that will not thrive here or will be costly to maintain.

Mrs. Carroll Cannon, retiring president of the Big Spring Garden Club Council, was installing officer. The new slate includes Mrs. John Edgar, president; Mrs. Don Campbell, vice president; Mrs. Joe Horton, secretary; Mrs. Ronnie Richardson, treasurer; and Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr., council delegate.

Mrs. Crane presided and introduced the guests, Mrs. Harry Woodley, Mrs. Robert Boland, Mrs. Beade Northcutt, Mrs. S. Clark and Mrs. Smith. The next meeting will be Sept. 11.

Combine Children For Happy Family

Sixteen children will make a doubly happy family when Frank McHugh and Eileen White (center) of San Francisco wed. Mrs. White, 45, and McHugh, 48, were childhood friends. Mr. White died five years ago; Mrs. McHugh two years ago. They plan to marry as soon as they can find a house with at least eight bedrooms. Mrs. White has eight children, and McHugh has eight. The children's ages range from nine to 23.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Discovers Use For Old Eye Glasses

Dear Folks:

If you happen to have an extra pair of reading glasses and the earpiece breaks and you must buy new frames . . . instead of throwing those old ones away, break off both ear pieces and keep the glasses on top of your phone book.

Now, when the phone rings and I don't have my reading glasses handy—or a guest comes in and they've left their glasses at home and need a pair to look up something real quick, those extra ones are right there!

Surprising how many of my house guests use my discarded glasses. So don't throw 'em away folks. They come in mighty handy . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have found a way to save the lining of those lovely little evening bags. Somehow none of the cosmetic holders seem to fit inside of these petite purses, so I simply cut the top off a little clear plastic bag, slide it down inside my evening purse and proceed to drop my powder, lipstick, etc., into it. You'd be surprised how neat and clean the lining stays. Mrs. Yvonne Upthegrove

Dear Heloise:

As a child I was a fussy eater and would never touch an egg. Unknown to me, however, I ate many an egg into mashed potatoes and beat some more. This gave them a yellow color. She called them "Golden Potatoes." Since this name was very appealing to me, I enjoyed eating them, not even realizing I was eating an egg at the same time.

It occurred to me that many mothers might use this idea . . . Mrs. H. M. K.

Dear Heloise: Let me tell you about the gadget I rig up in rainy weather which I'm sure will be a big help to others who have wet boots and shoes to contend with.

I turn an old folding TV tray upside down, opening it the same as it would be if right side up. But placing it on an old washable rug near the door where everyone comes in. As wet boots and shoes are removed, they are turned upside down and stuck on the leg ends of the table which helps them dry faster. This arrangement takes care of two pair of boots.

If more "legs" are needed, I simply use another table placed upside down on top of the first one. It will hold another two pair of boots.

The flat table area can be used for drying shoes stuffed with paper. If newspaper is placed on this table space, it will absorb the drips and help hasten the cleaning up process. . . . Charlotte VornDick

Dear Heloise:

Many young couples don't have trouser hangers. Instead of folding the legs over the hanger, simply clip the cuffs with clothespins and hang on regular wire hangers. Just like skirt hangers.

This way, they don't need a press job each time . . . Mrs. A. T.

Another thing that's great about Carol's idea is that if one section should get soiled only a portion need be removed.

Another saving. Both time and money wise . . . Heloise

Planters Club Installs New Slate And Names Committee Chairmen

The names and histories of wild flowers were given in answer to roll call at the Tuesday meeting of the Planters Garden Club in the home of Mrs. J. W. Trantham, 1319 Stadium.

Mrs. D. S. Riley, a member of the Big Spring Garden Club and director of the Southern Zone, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., performed the installation of new officers.

"The world and man began with a garden," said Mrs. Riley. "There are many references in the Bible to gardens, so it seems God certainly felt that planting and growing things would be necessary to man. Familiarity with nature never breeds contempt, for the more one learns, the more he expects surprises—and the more he becomes aware of the inscrutable. We never tire of tending. We weed, knowing full well, the weeds will grow again."

The new slate includes Mrs. Paul W. Guy, president; Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, first vice president; Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, second vice president; Mrs. J. A. Andrews, recording secretary; and Mrs. J. O. Murphy, treasurer. Mrs. Luke Fortenberry will be reporter.

Mrs. Guy appointed the following committee chairmen: book and historian; Mrs. W. D. Rankin, yearbook and publicity;

Mrs. Sanderson, pilgrimage; Mrs. Fortenberry, litterbug; Mrs. Trantham, flower display; Mrs. Jack Cunningham, plant and seed exchange; and Mrs. Clinkscales, parliamentary.

On display at the meeting was a woodrose from Hawaii shown by Mrs. J. W. Andrews. Tentatively set for July 10 is a showing of slides taken at an international flower show. Mrs. A. C. Moore and Mrs. Clinkscales will be hostesses.

BILL WOULD GIVE NATION

Four Long Weekends Each Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a bill that would give the nation four long weekends a year by moving three national holidays to Monday and creating a new one—Columbus Day—also to be observed on Monday.

MEMORIAL DAY

Rejecting the charge that it was uprooting the nation's historic past, the House voted 218 to 183 to scrap the existing dates for Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day.

Under the bill, which faces a questionable future in the Senate, Washington's Birthday would fall on the third Monday in February, Memorial Day on the last Monday in May, Columbus Day on the second Monday in October and Veterans Day on the fourth Monday in October.

The changes would take effect Jan. 1, 1971, in order to give the states time to enact conforming legislation and calendar-makers time to adjust.

Only the District of Columbia and federal employees would be affected by the bill, but the states are expected to go along if the new lineup becomes law.

Greater business efficiency and a lessening of absenteeism were the major reasons given by supporters for passage of the bill, which is strongly supported by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

PATRIOTISM

Opponents countered by declaring it violated history, tradition and patriotism and was an exercise in frivolity at a time of national crisis.

The strongest fight by opponents was directed at keeping George Washington's Birthday on Feb. 22. Only Christmas Day is more sacred to the nation, said Rep. Dan Kuykendall, R-Tenn.

Four Frontier Forts Donated To State Parks Department

AUSTIN (AP) — Four historic frontier forts, some little more than ruins, passed into the hands of the state Parks and Wildlife Department Thursday. The department hopes to make them into tourist attractions.

All the forts came to the state by donation. Their acquisition was recommended by a legislative study committee and authorized by the 1967 legislature.

A $75,325 operating budget for the next 3 1/2 months, covered by existing appropriations, also was approved for the forts.

Fort Leaton was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skidmore, El Paso; Fort McKavett by Fort McKavett Restoration, Inc.; Fort Lancaster by Claude W. Meadows Jr., Hency C. Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Benckenstein, and Crockett and on northern pike from

The park, which has a two-acre swimming pool fed by San Solomon Springs, was built in the 1930s by the Civilian Conservation Corps. The water district had leased the park, then subleased it to a concessionaire for operation.

When the district took the park back from the concessionaire, it realized its incapacity to operate it and asked the commission to take it back.

Baptist Association To Hear Foreign Missionary

The Big Spring Baptist Association will hear Mrs. Tom McMillan, missionary to Tanzania, at its regular monthly workers conference Monday at the Lenora Baptist Church.

Rev. Byron Orand, moderator, said that Mrs. McMillan will meet at 5 p.m. with the young women of the association. At 6 p.m. there will be an executive board meeting and the program will begin at 7:15 p.m.

The program will include the presentation of the Permian Basin Baptist Encampment calendar for the summer. Rev. John Rankin is manager of the camp, which is located north of Stanton.

Mrs. McMillan was appointed by the Southern Baptist Convention for overseas service in December, 1959. She received her master of religious education degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Puzzle of Thursday, May 9, Solved.

Tower Plays Veep Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., scoffed Thursday at the mention he might be the GOP's vice presidential choice if New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller becomes the Republican presidential nominee.

"I think there's absolutely nothing to that," he said. "I have been told by some I'm somewhat less than acceptable to Rockefeller."

Tower, told that some opposition had arisen to his being the favorite son from Texas on more than the first ballot, said "I have no desire for the presidency. I seek only to enhance the strength of the Texas delegation."

"I ask all Texas Republicans to stand with me in this endeavor."

Tower said the vast majority of the state's GOP convention delegates probably favor either Richard Nixon or California Gov. Ronald Reagan as a presidential nominee.

Tower said as far as Rockefeller was concerned, "It's inconceivable the Texas delegation would go for what we call a liberal Republican."

He said the delegation is looking for a nominee it considers "both electable and compatible."

U.S. So Far Fails To Tie Defendants With Crimes

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The federal conspiracy trial of 15 persons was in its second month today with little evidence presented so far in an attempt to link the defendants with 18 bank burglaries over a wide area of the Southwest and Midwest.

The defendants are charged with conspiracy in the burglaries of the banks and with operating an interstate prostitution ring. Five of the defendants are women.

23 EXHIBITS

The state introduced 23 exhibits and seven more government witnesses Thursday.

J. Rex Dewe, president of a bank in Lucas, Kan., told of his bank being burglarized of $1,600 in silver coins and $10,000 in travelers checks.

U.S. Dist. Judge D.V. Suttie, who denied a defense motion for a mistrial Wednesday, was hearing testimony from fingerprint expert, Billie Weir, now employed by the University of Texas at Austin, when the trial was recessed Thursday. Testimony resumes today.

Other witnesses included FBI agent J.C. McMerri of Sabine, Kan., and Edna F. Bird and Ella Vaughn, both of Lucas, Kan., who told of missing valuable rings from safety deposit boxes that had been broken into during the bank burglary.

PLAN ARTHRITIS FOUNDATION PROJECTS
Mrs. Robert Angel, Mrs. Horace Garrett and Jim Thompson

Two More Major Programs For Arthritis Campaign

Two more major activities are planned by the Big Spring unit, Permian Basin Chapter of the National Arthritis Foundation.

Saturday, area youth will be participating in "Teen Tag Day," in downtown Big Spring and in Highland Shopping Center. Among them will be the Rainbow Girls, the Order of DeMolay and the Boy Scouts. The teenagers will be accepting contributions and distributing armbands throughout the city, according to Celia Fowler, who is coordinating the effort.

In addition, letters are being mailed to area businessmen for the special gifts appeal, asking their support, according to Mrs. Robert Angel, who is chairman of the local unit.

Mrs. Floyd Mays and Mrs. W. P. Edwards Jr., who were co-chairmen of the Victory March

Don't Blame Tiger

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Some kids tossed a peacock into the tiger grotto at the Portland Zoo, and no more peacock.

"You can't blame the tiger," said zoo Director Jack Marks. "Peacocks are a natural food for the tigers in India."

Big Swindler Gains Parole

SANDSTONE, MINN. (AP) — Convicted swindler Paul Amos

Sandblom has been paroled from the Federal Correctional Institution here and that's about all the information federal officials will release.

Officials said Sandblom was paroled May 1 on good behavior after serving less than three years and two months of a 15-year term.

Sandblom, 43, must report to his parole officer at Phoenix, Ariz.

In 1965, papers were filed in bankruptcy court in Corpus Christi, showing that some $32 million passed through the bank accounts of Sandblom between 1958 and 1964, but less than $40,000 was recovered to satisfy claims totaling $5.5 million.

Sandblom, the state contended, raised millions by offering hundreds of Southwest investors the prospect of high returns—up to 120 per cent a year—for their cash.

Smith Asks Gov. Connally For Backing In Runoff Race

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith visited with Gov. John Connally Thursday afternoon and asked for his support in his runoff Democratic race for governor.

Smith said in a statement he was "real happy" with their meeting. But he said any statement on whether Connally would endorse him had to come from the governor.

The lieutenant governor and his runoff opponent, Don Yarborough, will share the platform Saturday at the regional conference here of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

Stuart Long, Austin, president of SDX in a four-state region, said each would make a 10-15-minute talk, then answer questions.

Waggoner Carr, one of the candidates in the Democratic primary who didn't make the runoff, offered Smith his full support. Smith released a tele-vote," Smith said.

"I told him I'd love to have his support in my race, just as I want the support of every Texan."

TAX TALK

"We went over in detail the special session and the problems and plans and tax program for the session," Gov. Connally is completely familiar with everything he plans to propose, but these are subject to change and he asked me not to reveal these things."

Locke's two-sentence telegram congratulated Smith reaching the runoff and said, "I am pleased to join your other friends in pledging my support of your candidacy in the run-

Safety Report Hard To Believe

BOSTON (AP) — The executive director of the governor's Highway Safety Committee says it's men, not women, who have the most accidents. James J. Stratford Jr. told the legislative Committee on Public Safety that in 1963 women who completed driver education programs in Massachusetts had no injury claims. Men, on the other hand, submitted between 77 and 20 claims for every 100 cars insured. In 1966, he said, accidents caused by women drivers were one-third to one-half the number caused by men.

ed that no flowers be sent, but prefers memorials to the Heart Association or to a favorite charity.

An active community leader since coming to Big Spring in April, 1964, to take over the helm of the local VA, Mr. Van Meter was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the cultural affairs committee and the master planning committee. He was an avid Boy Scout enthusiast and had supported the Buffalo Trail Council for two years, serving as chairman of the advancement committee.

He and Mrs. Van Meter devoted much of their time and effort working together in the Howard County Heart Association and the Howard County Cancer Society. He had served as special gifts chairman of the heart association and was a member of the board of directors of both groups.

Mr. Van Meter supervised many improvements and renovations at the local VA and was dedicated to his work and to his goal to provide the best possible care and treatment for the veterans of this area.

He was a longtime Veterans Administration employee, having served as assistant director of the VA hospitals in Atlanta, Ga., Richmond, Va., and Memphis, Tenn. He had also served as area director of administrative services for the San Francisco, Calif., and the St. Paul, Minn., VA area offices.

ARMY SERVICE

Mr. Van Meter was born in Elliott, Ill., Dec. 9, 1912, and attended high school in Lansing, Mich., and Madison, Tenn. He studied a pre-medical school course at Madison College before becoming superintendent of Newberry Hospital, Newberry, S.C.

He entered the Army in 1942 and served in the North Africa and Italy theaters. His Armed Forces responsibilities included serving as adjutant of an Air Force hospital in Chicago, Ill.; as executive officer of the Air Base in Salt Lake City, Utah; as commanding officer of the Medical Supply Depot in Italy; and as executive officer of the 306th Station Hospital, also in Italy.

ORGANIZATIONS

Mr. Van Meter held memberships in many national organizations, including the American College of Hospital Administrators; the Texas Hospital Association, where he served on several committees; the Federal Hospital Institute Alumni Association; the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists; and the American Society of Clinical Pathological Technologists. He was a member of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Carmela Van Meter; one daughter, Laurel Van Meter, a student at Incarnate Word High School, San Antonio; two sons, Grant Van Meter, Santa Cruz, Calif., and Donald Van Meter Jr., New York City; two brothers, Glenn Van Meter, Dallas, and Albert Van Meter, Arcadia, Ind.; two sisters, Mrs. G. Rugsby, of Arcadia, Ind., and Mrs. George Carbaugh of Evanston, Ill.; and two grandchildren.

Contractor Permitted To Get Area Limestone

ROBERT LEE — A temporary restraining order was issued Thursday by District Judge Joe L. Mays to permit a contractor for the Colorado River Municipal Water District to get limestone off Meadow Mountain for oil well muds.

The order restrains I. A. Bird and his relatives from interfering with operations. The district will post $10,000 bond pending the hearing for a permanent order on June 24.

Roland Scherer, who holds a contract to construct muds and protect them with rock riprap, testified he was barred last week from entering the property of I. A. Bird, et al. O. H. Ivie, CRMWD general manager, said he went to the ranch to check the reason for locks being changed on the gate and was met by N. C. Pentecost, who had a shotgun. Ivie said he was told to get out and that "I got out."

Mrs. Evelyn McKinley, a daughter of Mr. Bird, and Mr. Bird said they signed the contract to supply 100,000 cubic yards of rock on Jan. 30 thinking that it involved only four acres on top of Meadow Mountain. The contract called for $5,000 damages and five cents a cubic yard for rock mined. Bird and his daughters testified they did not read the contract before signing it. Ivie testified that he said that if the rock were 40 feet thick, as it appeared, about four acres would be required, but that he had no way of knowing about the thickness.

After core drilling indicated that more than four acres would be needed to supply the rock, the Birds asked on March 25 to repurchase the contract. Ivie refused, saying that Scherer's contract with the district was based on availability of rock from the Bird property.

Ivie also said that the muds had to be complete before the dam closure could be started, and delaying this could conceivably affect the schedule for completion of the new lake project above Robert Lee. Representing the CRMWD were James Rosser and Joe Carroll of Snyder and George Finley, San Angelo, and representing the Birds were Gordon Asbury Jr. and Robert Batjer, Abilene.

Firing Of Ship's Captain Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House members have urged a formal Capitol Hill probe into the Navy's firing of a ship's captain, and one called on the secretary of the Navy to resign because of his role in the affair.

Rep. Joseph Resnick, D-N.Y., concluding three days of unofficial hearings on the case of Lt. Cmdr. Marcus Arnheiter, said Thursday that Navy Sec. Paul Ignatius tried to protect a senior admiral involved in approving Arnheiter's dismissal as commanding officer of the destroyer escort Vance. The admiral wasn't named.

Resnick, running for the Senate, said Ignatius "has shown he is not fit to handle the Navy."

The Navy has maintained silence on the Arnheiter case and on Resnick's hearings. It did not supply witnesses for the unofficial panel and consequently the only questioning was by congressmen and Arnheiter's lawyer.

Arnheiter, 42, was relieved of command in March 1966 after some of his junior officers complained about him. He subsequently appeared at a private hearing at Subic Bay in the Philippines, and was convicted of three of 41 charges against him.

Arnheiter has claimed he could not call witnesses at that session and Resnick supports his contention that an official court of inquiry should be called.

Rep. Philip Burton, D-Calif., joined Resnick in calling for a congressional probe.

Resnick said he also wants Congress to study the background of a change in duty for an officer who had come to Arnheiter's defense. He is Capt. Richard Alexander, 45, who, after speaking out for Arnheiter at the Pentagon, declined command of the battleship New Jersey.

Arnheiter and Alexander both have shore duty now—Arnheiter near San Francisco and Alexander in Boston.

Testimony, not given under oath due to the unofficial nature of the hearing, turned up allegations of brutality aboard the Vance before and after Arnheiter's command.

Midland Federal Measure Advances

MIDLAND — Both the Senate and House Public Works committees have given their approval to authorization of $4,002,000 for a post office and federal building in Midland, according to Rep. George Mahon. He pointed out, however, that this is the first of many steps which might lead to the construction of this unit.

Minor Wrecks

Four minor accidents which occurred Thursday are being investigated by police.

The parked car of E. C. Miller, 1614 Bluebird, was hit by a car which left the scene at Key Rexall Drug, Highland Shopping Center, at 700 Gregg, John Clark, 2506 Carleton, collided with a no parking sign, at Third and Ayford, cars driven by Dorothy Marie Thomas, Southland Apartments, and Irving Leaky, Denton, ran together; and Charles Edward Martin, 710 La Mesa Drive, and Oliver Henry Thomas, 1008 E. 14th, were involved in an accident at Fourth and Scurry.

Tall City Rain Cuts Attendance

The Village Kiwanis Club of Midland had a rather abbreviated meeting on Thursday. The attendance comprised four members of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club and the secretary of the Midland club.

The brief lunch session was held in a dining room with a steady drip of water pattering down through the leaking roof.

The Big Spring Kiwanians were in Midland to visit the Village Club. What they hadn't anticipated was the seven-inch deluge which transformed the Tall City into a lake.

The downpour was so terrific that only the secretary of the club managed to make it to the meeting place. There he met Nat Shick, Roscoe Newell, Ernest Welch and Jim Beam, the Big Spring Interclub visitors.

The quartet from Big Spring set out to get back home. They made it at 4 p.m. after several hours of wandering along flooded Midland streets trying to find a way to get back on IS 20 and back home.

CONFUSION ENGENDERED

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Sammy and Nila gave birth to a 39-pound baby Thursday but no one knows what its name will be.

Attendees at Jangleland haven't determined whether the new arrival is a boy hippopotamus or a girl hippopotamus.

Officers Arrest Forgery Suspects

Joe Spangler, wanted in Lubbock to answer charges of forgery, was arrested here by Sheriff A. N. Standard Thursday. Lubbock officials have advised Sheriff A. N. Standard they will come for the prisoner soon.

Dwight Minor, who is wanted in Howard County to answer a charge of theft and forgery, has been arrested in Abilene. Standard has been informed. Minor was picked up on a local warrant and released when he posted $1,000 bond in that city.

Birth Control Pills Hazardous To Health?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration announced today new labeling requirements for birth control pills because of new evidence it says indicates the pills may be hazardous to health.

The FDA cited findings recently published by British researchers indicating those taking the pills increase their chances of death or disease due to blood clots by seven to 10 times.

The new labeling will say that under adverse reactions, a statistically significant association has been demonstrated between the use of oral contraceptives and death or disease from blood clots which lodge in the brain or lungs.

Suitcase Stolen At Bus Station

Marshall Williams, 1024 Ridgeroad, told police a suitcase containing assorted items of clothing valued at $100 was taken from a bus at the Greyhound Bus Station, 315 Runnels, Thursday.

Williams said he had left the suitcase on the bus and had gone into the terminal to make a phone call. When he returned, he said, the suitcase was gone. Officers are investigating.

Young GOPs Go Wallace

Young Republicans conducted a presidential poll during the lunch periods Tuesday and Thursday at Big Spring High School, and George Wallace came out on top. He had 95 of the 407 votes cast, leading Robert Kennedy with 88, Richard Nixon with 66, Eugene McCarthy and Lyndon Johnson with 40 each, Hubert Humphrey and Ronald Reagan with 24 each, Nelson Rockefeller with 13 and George Romney with five.

About 20 per cent of the student body cast ballots, according to Dennis Brewer, president of the young GOPs.

line, 2.9 inches at the Martin County pump station in central Martin. The Odessa filter plant gauge showed 1.75 inches.

At Moss Creek, .80 of an inch was measured, but the lake level, now about 2 1/2 feet below spillway, was upped only around two inches, to elevation 2327.50. There was no report from Powell Creek lake.

HIGH WATER

Sheriff A. N. Standard said his department heard of high water on the Gail road and of a woman motorist stranded one and a quarter miles out on the Snyder highway.

The Moss Creek Road was closed at Beale Creek. This morning the creek was still high.

Old Highway 80, from FM 700 to the Moss Creek Road, was barricaded.

IS 20 was closed at 2:30 p.m. at Big Spring and traffic rerouted on Third Street. At the same hour, south of Jonesboro Road at the intersection with Birdwell, high water and big rocks made driving hazardous.

Third and Birdwell were blocked by high water at mid-afternoon and ruled impassable. At the same hour, the loop road from Birdwell to FM 700 was under three to four feet of water and barricades were placed to block travel.

Two miles out on the Andrews highway, water from six to eight inches deep was pouring across the road for a time and closed the road to travel. Five miles northeast on the Snyder road apparently no high water occurred.

At 7 p.m. last night a woman reported her husband was boating in the street in front of their residence, in the 900 block on West First Street.

The U.S. Experiment Station said that Thursday's rains brought the year's total to 11.01. So far May has contributed 4.45 to the year's total. Rain was gauged May 4 at .03; on May 5 at .70; on May 6 at 1.23; and yesterday at 2.39.

Chalk had an even two inches Thursday, according to TESCO. Morgan Creek reported 45 inches; Lamesa station gauged 20 inches; and Snyder 46. Sweetwater had 29 and Eskota 33.

Knott community, which was well soaked earlier in the month, had a half inch but the rain was enough to cancel plans the community had for a blood typing project last night to revamp the community walking blood bank.

There was a heavy rain in the Fairview community with 3.5 inches at the Edgar Phillips place.

L. J. Davidson, northeast of town reported 2.75. Lomax community had 1.50 inches, according to Arthur Stallings.

Vincent had 60 inch and Luther 40 inch. Vealmore had a short 2 inch shower.

All city crews were out during the afternoon, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works. Lillard said the only major incident occurred at North Ninth and Goliad, where a house occupied by the Robert Garcia family was in danger of the floodwaters. Workmen temporarily set up a dike to keep the water out, Lillard said.

Barricades were set up, due to high water, at Second and Birdwell, North Eighth, North Ninth and North Tenth.

Lillard said damage to the streets was not as bad as Sunday but many streets were still in need of repair from the deluge that swept into town late Sunday afternoon.

Thousands Of Army Troops Will Go On Alert Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Army troops in the Washington area reportedly will go on alert Saturday to be ready for any violence accompanying this weekend's arrival of the vanguard of the Poor Peoples' Campaign.

The Pentagon said the Army was taking certain "prudent actions" but declined to detail them.

Sources said these actions include alerting troops at posts and bases near Washington to be set to move, if necessary, in as little as one hour.

RIOT DUTY

Elements of the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., also will be alerted but won't be flown to the capital area unless needed, sources said.

Units of the District of Columbia National Guard, most of them military policemen, will undergo weekend drills at the D.C. Army and will be available for any riot duty. Other guardsmen will stand by at home or within easy reach.

It was reported that some Army agents were observing the progress of the Poor Peoples' Campaign to determine the probable size of the crowds that will reach Washington, the mood of the marchers and those who are leading and influencing them.

Although leaders of the campaign maintain they will adhere to nonviolent means in seeking expanded social programs from Congress, fears have been expressed in Capitol Hill and elsewhere that violence could erupt.

GRAB CONTROL

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has told the Senate his investigating committee has uncovered plans by militants—he refused to name them—to grab control of the campaign and turn it to rioting.

Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., a Negro, challenged McClellan's charges Thursday at a news conference, saying the Arkansas statements "sound to me like some more rumors that are calculated to disturb the citizenry."

The Washington Post reported meanwhile that federal officials are close to agreement with campaign leaders on a site for the shanty-town or tent city the demonstrators plan to erect to house the marchers.

The Post said a large area field in West Potomac Park near the Lincoln Memorial and its reflecting pool was under consideration. Use of this site would be limited to 3,000 persons, the paper said.

Plans for dealing with possible major disturbances have been sharpened in two episodes since last fall—the antiwar march on the Pentagon last October and the capital rioting that followed.

Standard accepted the resignation with regret. He said that no appointment would be announced at this time for Ward's position.

Ward, who came here from Snyder, has been on the force about a year and half. He and his wife and their three children live in Forsan and will continue to live there. His new job will be connected with lines near that community.

Ward expressed regret at leaving the sheriff's staff and thanked Standard for having provided him with a job here. He explained that he felt that he must accept the offer of the job with Couden since the compensation was materially greater than on the sheriff's force and would enable him to better provide for his family.

the death of Martin Luther King early last month.

Army officials say military force would be applied in three stages, as needed.

The first stage would be the use of the 18,000-man D.C. guard to back up city police.

The second phase would involve bringing in about 8,000 soldiers stationed in the general Washington area, including posts in Virginia and Maryland.

If further show of force was necessary, two brigades totaling some 4,000 men would be flown in from Ft. Bragg.

Over-all, the Army has earmarked 22 brigade-size forces totaling some 44,000 troops around the country for civil disturbance duty, if called.

In addition there are some 24 battalions totaling an additional 18,000 men or so available as reinforcements.

As in the disturbance following the King slaying, the resources of the Air Force's transport fleet could be mobilized to fly any of these reinforcements to the Washington area.

Last month, federal troops were brought into Washington and nearby positions from as far away as Ft. Carson, Colo.

mark in America. They include a Navy officer, a retired Air Force colonel, three teachers, two nurses, a lawyer, a football coach and a baseball coach.

Her family, including 80 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, is spread from Minnesota to California although six of the children make their homes in North Dakota.

When they are not at their own home in Velva, N.D., Mrs. Bodine and her husband, Frank, a retired farmer, visit the children's homes, stopping about a month at each place.

NIXES MINIS

Mrs. Bodine, who came to the United States with her parents in 1913, was named the 1968 award winner Thursday in a candlelight ceremony at the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Asked her advice for young mothers today, Mrs. Bodine replied: "I think religion is the basis of a family. Religion came first in our house."

She said that mothers and children today have more freedom because of the conveniences of modern life. She recalled that electricity did not come to their farm until 1945.

Mrs. Bodine said she was particularly proud that 16 of her 18 children had attended college. She frowns on miniskirts and hippies.

Four Scouters Seek Woodbadges

Four local Scouters left today for the Boy Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains for a week of grueling training.

They are Paul Bruns, Lt. Jim Hohlt, Sam Morris and Don Meyers, all candidates for the Woodbadge degree in Scouting. In effect, they enter camp as though they were tenderfoot scouts and go through various stages to emerge as though they were Eagle Scouts within a 10-day period. Emphasis is primarily upon Scoutcraft and outdoor activities. The woodbadge is held by relatively few in Scouting.

Heart Transplant Patient From Alpine Is Improving

HOUSTON (AP) — Doctors reported improvement in one heart transplant patient and said the other remained in excellent condition today at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Concern had been voiced Thursday night over John Stuckwish, 62, of Alpine, Tex., who was reported in grave condition with complications. He received a new heart Tuesday.

By morning, a hospital bulletin stated Stuckwish appeared to be improving although still on the serious list.

SCRAPPER
Everett C. Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., described doing excellently, slept comfortably and spent an uneventful night, the bulletin said. The heart of a 15-year-old Houston housewife was transferred to his body a week ago today.

Concerning Stuckwish, the hospital said his blood pressure, heart rate and temperature were normal. It added, "Mr. Stuckwish is described by his doctors as a determined scrapper. He is alert and manages a thankful grin."

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, who heads the surgical transplant team, said earlier there were "a lot of secretions" in the lungs of Stuckwish and he still suffered from uremia, a poisoning from body wastes which the kidneys fail to remove.

SO LITTLE
"We are concerned all the time about him because we started out with so little," Cooley said, meaning he was in such critical condition at the time of the operation.

The Arizona patient ate leg of lamb, walked about his private room, watched television and received a visit from his wife Thursday.

Thomas was the first recipient in three such operations performed by the hospital's surgical team. Stuckwish was the third. James B. Cobb, 48, of Alexandria, La., who became the second patient last Sunday, died Wednesday.

Cooley said Cobb's death probably was due to infection. Bacteria that normally live in the body, he explained, could have taken over when Cobb's natural defenses were reduced by the same drugs used to help prevent the body's rejection of the new heart.

EMERGENCY

Cobb and Stuckwish had advanced coronary artery disease and had suffered heart attacks and heart failures. Doctors said Stuckwish's operation was an "absolute emergency."

Briscoe Won't Choose Sides

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Dolph Briscoe, who ran fourth in the 10-man Democratic gubernatorial primary, says he will not choose sides between runoff candidates Don Yarborough or Preston Smith.

Briscoe, in a statement issued Thursday at his South Texas hometown, said: "I have no present plans to participate actively in the runoff."

Briscoe's supporters are among the big unknown quantity for the June 1 runoff, pitting the liberal Yarborough against Lt. Gov. Smith, a conservative of long standing.

"I want to thank everyone who worked so hard in this campaign," Briscoe said in the statement. "It has been a great and heartwarming experience."

Conservatives Rout Laborites

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's hold on Britain's ruling Labor party was threatened today by an unprecedented electoral rout of his party from town halls from one end of Britain to the other.

Conservatives swept Labor out of strongholds that had not known a Tory mayor for generations. In England and Wales, the Laborites were left in control of only 43 town halls out of 368, and only seven were in big cities.

MOWED DOWN

London went almost solidly Tory as Labor lost 16 of the 20 boroughs it held in the capital. In the provinces, Labor lost 560 seats and the Conservatives gained 570.

The voting did not affect the Labor party's 74-member majority in the House of Commons. But the party now faces the next two or three years before national elections with its grassroots machine mowed down, and many party workers cut off from local office.

Conservative leaders made predictable demands for Wilson to resign and call new national elections. On the basis of Thursday's voting the Conservatives would almost certainly win them.

But as long as Wilson can hold together his majority in the House of Commons, the government is unlikely to face the voters stripped of local political authority and influence. Parliament's term runs until the spring of 1971. Sara Barker, the party's national agent, said Labor would use the time to rebuild its fortunes.

SCAPEGOAT

In more immediate danger may be the political fortunes of the prime minister himself. If the party can organize a palace revolution, it could make Wilson a scapegoat for the government's failures.

Leading a move for this was Cecil King, owner of the tabloid Daily Mirror which has backed Labor in the last two elections.

King, distrusted by the Labor high command as a would-be kingmaker outside the party, called today for Wilson's resignation in a front-page, signed editorial. He said the prime minister had "lost all credibility, all authority." But some political commentators said that if anything, this might help unite the embattled Labor party around its leader.

The polling represented the first nationwide test of political sentiment since Wilson's government was forced to devalue the pound last November.

Orders Million Pills Destroyed

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — More than one million diet pills have been ordered destroyed in Abilene by U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster.

The pills include 65 cans of thyroid-digitalis. The drugs were seized in January on a civil complaint, saying they were misbranded and dangerous to the users.

Brewster's decree ruled another 13 cans of thyroid pills safe if properly labeled. He said they will be returned to the manufacturer on payment of $73 in court and storage costs.

The bidding:

North East South West

Pass Pass 4♠ Pass

Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠

After two passes, South elected to open the bidding with four spades which was passed all around. The queen of hearts was opened and overtaken by East with the king, so that he might shift to the seven of diamonds. Declarer played low and West won with the queen, cashed

the ace on which East dropped the six, and West

Since East was unable to ruff, South won the trick, ruffed out his losing hearts and discarded his losing club on dummy's ten of diamonds.

You can see that this performance would give rise to some discussion—particularly when it can be seen that East and West could easily have made five hearts on the deal.

West claims that East

should have opened the bidding. East contends that

West should have doubled

four spades, whereupon East would have overridden the double with a call of five hearts. He charged further that West should have cashed the setting trick with the ace of clubs. West argues that East should not have led high-low in diamonds as if he wanted to ruff the third round. It's all very involved. What is your decision?

Despite the fact that the hand lacks the textbook requirements for an opening bid, I have no objection to an occasional opening bid with the East hand. It has great playing power if partner happens to have a preference and in order to find out if one exists, an early start must be made—otherwise the bidding might readily get out of hand before both suits can be shown. If East does elect to open, a heart bid should be preferred. A subsequent bid of five clubs, if found desirable, will not be surrounded with nearly as much danger in that sequence.

West might hazard a double of four spades, but I don't believe his pass is subject to the slightest criticism. And if he did double, it is by no means certain that East would have selected hearts. He might have chosen his six card suit which, in this case, would not have worked.

I agree that East's better return would be the six of diamonds instead of the seven, but West should still have saved the day by cashing the ace of clubs. The four spade bid surely was based on a six card suit and East would, therefore, have no trumps. That is a moral certainty, whereas the fear that South had no clubs was rather farfetched.

CHICAGO POLICE ARREST 13 STUDENTS

They Barricaded Themselves In University

Chicago police arrested 13 students Thursday night after they barricaded themselves in a Roosevelt University office in a continuing demonstration. The school suspended 24 others arrested earlier.

Elsewhere there were these developments in the disturbances which have hit the nation's campuses:

—About 800 Marquette University students marched through the campus to back demands for more school involvement in Milwaukee's racial problems. No incidents or arrests were reported.

—The administration of Stanford University in California agreed to the two main demands of students who staged a three-day sit-in at the Old Student Union.

AMNESTY

President Wallace Sterling and provost Richard Lyman agreed to amnesty for the sit-in participants and to set aside proposed suspensions of seven students who demonstrated last fall against CIA recruiting.

—Columbia University President Grayson Kirk said the school could not drop criminal trespass charges against students who occupied five campus buildings during a week-long sit-in.

A Columbia disciplinary committee had recommended that the militants be placed on probation for a year, that those guilty of vandalism or theft be expelled but that the criminal trespass charges be dropped.

The 17-day campus revolt continued to subside. "Every day shows an increasing return of classes being held in the usual way," said Dr. George W. Fraenkel, dean of graduate faculties at the 25,000-student university.

SHOW OF FORCE

—A show of force by 500 Philadelphia police Thursday night ended a rally by 150 student demonstrators at Temple University who had assembled to test a court order banning campus protest gatherings.

The injunction was granted earlier to end a sleep-in by 51 students at the campus social activities center. The protesters were demanding a greater voice in policy making.

—At Southern Illinois University in Carbondale student protesters called for co-eds to "sleep-out" from their dorms in support of anti-administration demonstrations.

Five students were charged with mob action and a warrant issued for the arrest of a sixth in connection with the abortive takeover of the president's office Wednesday night.

—Anti-Vietnam demonstrators at the State University of Buffalo in New York invaded the president's office briefly and used his stationery to send letters condemning the war to President Johnson and other officials.

—On the floor of Congress, the power struggle at Columbia was cited repeatedly by House members as they voted, 306 to 54, to deny federal loans, scholarships and grants to students who participate in serious campus uprisings.

FEDERAL FUNDS

The vote was on an amendment to a two-year extension of a $1-billion program of aid for about 15 million of the nation's six million college students. The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., bars federal assistance to students who refuse to obey a lawful order of college authorities or who have taken part in activities leading to disruption of the school.

In the Roosevelt University protest in Chicago the students are demanding that the president approve a full-time teaching appointment for Staughton Lynd, controversial history instructor and Vietnam war critic.

About 100 of the university's 4,700 full-time students have been waging an increasing protest. There were 24 arrested Wednesday during a sit-in outside the president's office. They were suspended as of May 8.

The Marquette march took place after the Rev. John P. Raynor, president of the 12,000-student Roman Catholic institution, agreed to meet with student leaders to discuss demands.

These include demands for black history and culture courses, 100 additional scholarships for Negro students and the firing of the campus security director.

Sen. McCarthy Makes Glum Assessment Of His Chances

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has made a glum assessment of his chances of besting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Nebraska, battleground of the moment in the presidential primary circuit.

Nebraskans of both parties will vote Tuesday.

McCarthy said in an interview Thursday that if it were just a Kennedy-McCarthy contest he could match the New Yorker.

OTHERS HURT

"If we were meeting head-on," he said, "if it were just two in the contest, I think the outcome would be 50-50. But these others who are in the race will hurt me more than him."

Besides the names of the two senators, the Democratic ballot will list President Johnson even though he announced March 31 he would neither seek nor accept nomination for another term. And a write-in campaign is building for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, whose decision to seek the nomination came too late for him to be listed on the ballot in Nebraska.

A prediction that none of the Democratic contenders will receive a majority Tuesday came from Nebraska Democratic Chairman John Mitchell.

EUGENE MCCARTHY

Kennedy told the United Auto Workers convention in Atlantic City Thursday that countries "unable or unwilling" to manage their own affairs ought not to expect the United States to take on the chore.

NO MORE VIETNAM

"We can help those who are able to help themselves to meet the needs and desires of their own people for justice and independence," he said. "But we cannot do this job for them."

The United States, Kennedy said, "must adopt a foreign policy which says, clearly and distinctly, no more Vietnams."

An indication of another candidate's thinking on Vietnam came in Lawrence, Kan., Thursday when Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who is challenging Richard M. Nixon for the GOP nomination, said the South Vietnamese should be permitted complete freedom in choosing the type of government they want.

"What if they choose to be Communist?" said one of the students in a crowd of 17,500 that packed the University of Kansas fieldhouse. "Would you allow that as President?"

"I think these people have got to have the right to choose what kind of government they want," Rockefeller answered. "If that is what they want to do, that is their idea of freedom."

WAR CASUALTY

Vice President Humphrey, speaking in Denver to Colorado Democrats about the events that brought him into the race for the Democratic nomination, said it was the war that caused President Johnson to decide against running again.

Poor People's March Collecting Followers

The Poor People's Campaign continued collecting followers across the nation today, as separate groups in the massive march gathered strength and moved on toward Washington.

The swollen Southern wave of the campaign planned to spend tonight in Macon, Ga., following a daylong pilgrimage Thursday in the native city of its assassinated leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Other march activities continued in Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, Massachusetts and Mississippi.

BENEFIT SHOW

Campaigners from Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia visited King's college, church and home in Atlanta Thursday and dedicated a plaque at the house where he was born.

The day ended with a musical benefit show to raise money for the campaign, where an audience of about 9,000 persons heard a white civil rights worker vow, "We'll convince Congress if it takes all summer in shanty town."

...Father James Groppl, the white Catholic priest who led successful open housing demonstrations in Milwaukee, said, "The man is going to listen—we are preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ. We've got to teach white America that black is beautiful."

King's widow, Mrs. Coretta King, told the assemblage, "I'm sure my late husband is smiling on the enthusiastic and overwhelming welcome and support for the Poor People's Campaign."

EQUAL JUSTICE

About 1,000 marchers from Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Indianapolis converged on Louisville, Ky., where they were joined by about 400 persons at a rally. They heard King's brother, the Rev. A. D. Williams King, say the poor must press Congress for equal justice and opportunity for all the poor, both black and white.

Eight busloads of campaigners were to leave Boston today for Providence, R.I. They planned to go from there to New York to be joined Saturday by the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, King's successor as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Abernathy spoke at a fund raising luncheon in Boston Thursday before flying to Atlanta for the benefit. The luncheon netted the campaign $15,000.

Leaders of the Tennessee segment of the campaign said their bus caravan would go from Knoxville to Raleigh, N.C., today, to Danville, Va., Saturday and on to Washington Sunday.

PROTECTION

An estimated 500 persons are in the Tennessee contingent. Meanwhile, the Washington area readied itself to receive the throngs.

In Silver Springs, Md., students, housewives and professional people have been gathering daily at Xavierian College to build shelters for the campaigners. An estimated 500 prefabricated units have been completed, a spokesman said, and "several hundred more" are partially built.

And in Washington itself, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., called for protection for the city's poor in case violence comes with the arrival of the campaigners. He said troops should be stationed in Washington's low-income neighborhoods.

"There are plans to protect the Capitol, the White House, the foreign embassies, but they have no immediate plans to protect the poor people of Washington," Curtis told the Senate.

HHH Is Garnering Delegate Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is reported garnering delegate strength in at least three of five big Northern states that could hold the key to his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The reports come from sources not committed to Humphrey as well as from his campaign organization.

Humphrey is making inroads in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan, the sources say. But his status with the hefty Illinois and New Jersey delegations is tied closely to the as yet obscure preferences of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago and New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes. Both were backing President Johnson for re-election before he bowed out.

These five states will have 541 votes at the Democratic National Convention, where 1,312 votes will be needed for the nomination.

Humphrey backers are counting on most of the 762 Southern and Border State delegates. They claim he already has 1,100 delegates, many of them not yet chosen.

Many delegates in the five big Northern states may stay nominally uncommitted until after the June 4 California primary. Meanwhile, a string of primary victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy could win him some of these votes.

A Devotional For The Day

"I will put my laws into their minds, and write them on their hearts." (Hebrews 8:10, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear Lord Jesus, the stories of Thy disciples through all ages give me courage and desire to follow their example. By the presence of the Holy Spirit give me the power to do so. In humility and gratitude I beseech Thee. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Don't Generalize

Three members of the local police force last week were named in indictments arising out of a burglary case investigation and therefore are due to face trial on the accusations.

This is unfortunate. We do not argue the merits of their case, for this is for the courts to decide. What makes it unfortunate is that the public mind often tends to generalize.

Generalizations are unfair and can even be dangerous. One cannot rightly question the Armed Forces because some soldier might come under question; or churches because a cleric might be accused of misdeed; or ethnic groups because some hot-head may spout inflammatory statements; or public officials because of alleged malfeasance by a few.

There is no point tarring persons, who are doing their jobs, because they fall into a general classification. This undermines confidence, deals a sore blow to morale, and reduces the capacity for effective service to the public.

Delicate Balance

One of the most dangerous developments in American life today is the rapid polarization of opinion on the limits of dissent in a free society. The struggle conceivably could rend the fabric of the American system even to the extent of ushering in totalitarianism.

In the process of choosing up sides, Americans tend to blur the distinction between violent and nonviolent protest. At its worst, force which leads to the death of nonviolent protesters is sanctioned in the name of law and order.

On the other hand almost any rebellion against authority is excused by some if the motivation appears to be righteous.

Yet there must be a limit to dissent that creates chaos. As Justice Holmes once observed, there is no constitutional right conferred by the First Amendment to cry "fire" in a crowded theater. We have lost our way. Slowly and painfully we must try to find it again.

The way must lie somewhere between the extremes of sanctioning unlimited force to suppress legitimate protest and doing nothing while our cities burn. We have been able to strike a rough balance in the past. We must strike it again, now.

If we really believe that our form of government best reconciles freedom and authority, then we should recall the eloquent words of Thomas Jefferson in his third annual message to Congress when he spoke of "cultivating general friendship, and of bringing collisions of interest to the umpirage of reason rather than of force." This counsel is as relevant today as it was 165 years ago.

A Bill For The People's Welfare

WASHINGTON — Sen. John McClellan (D., Ark.) has long deserved well of the republic. His crowning achievement, however, may be his co-authorship and floor-management of the Crime Control bill (S.917) now buffering its way through the Senate.

No Federal law of itself can save us, but this one could help us reduce the criminal classes and subdue their supporters. This bill is so important to the nation's safety that it can be regarded as a veritable touchstone.

THERE ARE NOT many absolutes in life, and fewer in politics. But a stand on this bill is a stand for or against the American people and government, for or against crime and crime-coddlers.

The Crime Control bill is the work of several years by several senators who deserve honorable mention in due time. But mainly it is a selection of McClellan's own ideas, frequently expressed and debated. Without him these ideas wouldn't be compacted into a single measure. Without him this measure wouldn't be up for action in this long, hot summer. I think it is useful to lay out the bill in its four parts, the risk of being pedantic.

TITLE ONE grants Federal funds to the States for Law Enforcement, and could be called a riot-suppression subsidy. Also in this section is the founding of a three-member Law Enforcement Administration, and of a National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. Two new bureaucracies and a $400 million appropriation will hardly quell the crime wave, but this section ties into what follows.

TITLE TWO makes life rough for confessed criminals and for the Federal courts, chiefly the Supreme Court, which have permitted the guilty to go unpunished. In the well-known cases of Mallory, Escobedo and Miranda, rulings by the Supreme Court have thrown out police-obtained evidence and proclaimed freedom for killers and rapists. McClellan proposes to curb the flagrantly abused appellate powers of Federal Courts. This proposed restraint, up till now, has been considered impossible. But McClellan has found a way. The Constitution, Article Three, reads that the Supreme Court "shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make." Congress can do anything it chooses to curb the runaway Court in this field, and it should choose the McClellan bill.

TITLE THREE protects the privacy of everybody except crooks. In brief, it imposes hard punishment on private wire-tappers and bug-artists, but allows the police to listen in on criminals and to use the evidence in court. Permission to eavesdrop on lawbreakers must be requested by a prosecutor and given by a judge.

Title Four denies concealable weapons (hand-guns) to felons and juveniles, transients and importers, but not to the rest of us. The craze to disarm the nation in a time of insurrection is part of the broader hysteria to achieve "peace" at the cost of self-defense. This section would strengthen existing laws on firearms and would extend the coverage to "destructive devices" such as bombs.

McClellan anticipates many amendments to weaken and scuttle the anti-court and pro-eavesdrop sections. But this is so plainly a bill to preserve the American people that its opponents ought not to be in the people's pay. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Teenager Dies In Refrigerator

YUCAIPA, Calif. (AP) — Inside a sealed refrigerator, police say, young William B. Moore wrote of his ordeal.

"It is 1 a.m.," the 17-year-old's note declared. "I have sealed the inside with masking tape."

"I have taken sleeping pills. I have an awful taste."

"Moisture is condensing on the walls. There's a lack of oxygen. Pass out soon. Feel like fainting."

On both sides of a paper and one side of a piece of cardboard were scribbled "Goodbye," "T h a n k s," "Love," and other words fileable.

The notes and a flashlight were found beside the boy's body in the refrigerator in a shed behind his home.

Four student friends said they received letters from young Moore saying that he intended to take his life. No reason was given.

For Peace Talks Paris Hotel Spruced Up

By RODNEY ANGOVE
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The old Majestic Hotel is all spruced up for the Vietnam peace talks, radiating the anticipation of change that is the mood of Paris this spring.

Flowers and plants went into the gray stone building by the truckload Thursday. Delicate pastel tapestries went up on the walls. Ushers smiled, and even the policemen laughed when confronted by a crowd of foreign newsmen anxious to see the conference room.

FRANCE is following peace talk developments with pride, but it is student rioting, not Vietnam, which is mainly preoccupying the French this spring.

The riots got far worse than expected, and the government is upset that they have come at a time when Paris is hopefully becoming "the capital of peace." Paris is enjoying one of the earliest springs in memory. The chestnut trees are in rich leaf and set off white and pink candle-like blossoms.

THE 32 BY 39 foot conference room, known as committee meeting room No. 5, is used practically every day for some kind of international conference. Its capacity is 56 persons, says the descriptive pamphlet. For the peace talks, it is set up with about 40 chairs.

The rectangular table, partly covered with light green artificial leather, will separate the two sides by about 10 feet. Nine steel tube and artificial leather armchairs were pulled up on each side, with 12 more against the walls. Each position has earphones for the simultaneous interpreters, who work behind wood panel and windowed booths against the wall opposite the tapestry.

THE ROOM LOOKS directly onto street level of narrow Rue La Perouse, which will probably be closed during the talks. The three tall double windows are protected on the outside by ornamental iron grillwork.

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Harold L. Gray, 74, the man who created saucer-eyed Little Orphan Annie, ageless heroine of 44 years of comic strip adventures, died Thursday. To Your Good Health Why This Woman Craved Coffee Grounds

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Fifteen years ago when I was pregnant I started craving coffee grounds, before they were boiled. Some days I ate as much as three tablespoons.

Two years ago I was so depressed I went to a psychiatrist. His counseling helped some but not much until one day I mentioned my craving for coffee grounds. He found that I lacked niacin and prescribed niacin pills.

During that time I felt fine and did not want coffee grounds. I have since moved, and the craving for coffee grounds has returned. Should I see another doctor? — Mrs. W. J. B.

Weird cravings such as this are often based on a dietary deficiency of some sort — sometimes the craving fits the need, sometimes it doesn't. Our instincts sometimes play us false. In your case, you obviously hit on the right thing to crave—coffee is very high in niacin. (Other foods rich in niacin are meats, especially liver, cereals, and nuts.)

Your letter leaves me in some doubt as to just what happened when you moved. Did you stop taking niacin, or do you still take it?

There may be, in some cases, a strong psychological factor involved in the moving — anxiety and tension, departure from old friends and familiar surroundings. That, I suppose, might be upsetting you.

But if you have stopped the niacin, resume it. It's certainly more pleasant than nibbling coffee grounds.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please tell me how cranberry juice helps the kidneys. — Mrs. B. L. C. It helps only in certain circumstances. Most fruit juices leave what is known as an "alkaline ash" — an alkaline residue after digestion. The urine tends to become alkaline.

Cranberry juice, among a few others, leaves an acid ash, so urine becomes more acid. In some kidney and bladder problems it is highly desirable to increase the acidity, hence the value of cranberry juice in those cases.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Stalemate In Washington

WASHINGTON—The ominous stalemate here in the capital and the shouting and the tumult in the presidential primaries seem to be happening on two different planets. The moon people have been out in Indiana releasing rivers of words and money and they will go on to repeat the performance in Nebraska, Oregon and California.

THE EARTH PEOPLE in Washington are locked in mortal combat over how to move the nation out of the slough of despond. Since he is not a candidate and since he must bear the burden for another eight months, that earthiest of the earth people, President Johnson, speaks out in anger and anguish.

The tax bill is a symbol, as are the economies demanded as the price for passage of a tax increase. They symbolize the stalemate under the American system of divided powers between the executive and the legislature.

THE PRESIDENT, who both hoped that his renunciation of further ambition would help both in bringing peace in Vietnam and agreement with Congress, is not a dictator. He confronts Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, whom he regards as irresponsible on this issue. The problem of the deteriorating cities, accentuated by the Poor People's March on Washington, and the threatening crisis over the dollar are the dimensions of the trap in which Johnson is caught as his term runs out.

ROBERT F. KENNEDY and more particularly Eugene McCarthy were saying in Indiana what should be done if the evils plaguing America are to be abated. Their prescriptions have the ring of urgent necessity except, of course, for those on the right who consider any and all government spending as an inherent evil. They would turn billions in federal revenue to the cure of hunger, joblessness, and the pollution of air and water.

THEY DO NOT SAY—it would be too much to expect any politician seeking office to say—how they would do this. They do not say how they would persuade the American people to tax themselves for the programs they propose nor how the congressional system of seniority and small town-country domination could be made to work even with such persuasion.

This year an underlying concern, reflected in the polls and above all in the number of undecideds, is whether any of the candidates can win decisively and govern the country.

A CLOSE ELECTION — an election very possibly thrown into the House of Representatives under the antiquated machinery of the electoral colleges—can only continue the stalemate. For in close elections as in landslides the Wilbur Millses and the others from the Southern small towns always come back.

Is Kennedy another Roosevelt? Is Eugene McCarthy by way of becoming a national figure with national acceptance? Can Hubert Humphrey, who is not in the primaries, unite the country? Richard Nixon, whose slogan "Feel Safer with Nixon" could win both the nomination and the election and yet be without a mandate. If the answers come out of the primaries, then the interminable oratory and the vast expense will be justified. The primary game will not have been in vain. Negroes Demand Segregation

WASHINGTON — Is "racial segregation" only when it is demanded by whites, but exempt from any interference when Negroes themselves favor segregation? This is one of the questions now raised as a group of Negro students, after a 36-hour occupation of the business office of Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., obtained what they term "complete victory."

For the University authorities have decided that the Negroes will be entitled to "segregated housing" if they want it.

UP TO NOW, it has been assumed that neither whites nor Negroes are permitted to impose a system of segregated housing. Federal as well as state authorities have intervened in many cases where members of the Negro race have been excluded from the sale or rental of private property owned by whites as well as from admission to universities and colleges which previously had barred Negro applicants.

It may come as a surprise to many people that Negro students insisted upon segregated housing and that a university in the North has decided to give it to those students who desire it. This is what has frequently been called "freedom of choice" not only in housing but in enrollment of students in public schools.

IN THE CASE of Northwestern University, the authorities have gone even further and are providing Negro students with their own lounge and meeting room. It has been decided also to establish an advisory council composed solely of Negro members, so as to make sure that the demands of the Negro students are carried out. Approximately 124 Negroes out of 6,400 students are enrolled at Northwestern University, and virtually all of them participated in the demonstration which closed down the University offices.

SO FAR there has been no comment from the Department of Justice here on the Northwestern University decision to put into effect "segregated housing." It may be that the officials are searching the records to see whether there are any ways by which such a system can be maintained.

INDEED, one of the most interesting cases now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States is that of Girard College in Philadelphia, where more than a century ago Stephen Girard left a will in which he bequeathed a large sum of money for the establishment of a private college, with the understanding that it would be available only to "poor, white, male orphans." The lower courts now have brushed aside the terms of the will and insisted that the representatives today of the man who was the great benefactor of the educational institution in question have no "freedom of choice" and that the college which has become the beneficiary of his funds must open its doors to all students regardless of race or sex.

NORTHWESTERN University not only has promised racial discrimination in order to increase Negro enrollment but is apparently willing to discriminate against those white students who might also like to live in segregated housing. It may turn out, too, that the ruling made by Northwestern University will permit the Negro groups to discriminate against those "liberal" white students who would like to live in the same dormitory with Negro students.

In any event, the Department of Justice could find this the most interesting case of racial discrimination that has turned up since the "desegregation" decision of the Supreme Court was handed down in 1954. (Copyright, 1968, Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

PROPOSED NEW SANCTUARY FOR ST. PAUL PRESBYTERIAN
Groundbreaking Sunday for $95,000 structure

St. Paul's Plans New Sanctuary

Ground breaking ceremonies for a $95,000 sanctuary for St. Paul Presbyterian Church, 1008 Birdwell, will be held Sunday during the 11 a.m. worship hour.

This is the church's 15th anniversary year, according to the pastor, Rev. Dan Sebesta, and the services Sunday will thus have a special meaning.

Talbot and Talbot are the general contractors, and Glen Puckett is the architect. The new facility will include a chapel area, an educational wing and office space, Rev. Sebesta said.

Construction is to begin immediately, and with weather permitting, the congregation is optimistic about moving in in approximately nine months.

Members of the building committee include James Cape, Burt Allison, Joe Horton, George Bair, Mrs. L. B. Edwards and Mrs. Gene Peters.

Salvation Army Week Set, Local Corps Maps Plans

In observance of Salvation Army Week May 13-19, the local unit has planned a variety of activities to commemorate the founding of the world-wide religious and charitable institution in 1865 by William Booth.

"Many people think of the Salvation Army as only a home for transients," Lt. Bart Deggs, commander, pointed out. "But we are basically a religious institution and have a variety of religious activities slated throughout the week."

These include 10 youth meetings, covering Sunday school, Girl Guards, Sunbeams, Boy Scouts, and others; five adult meetings, with worship services Sunday morning and evening, street services and Ladies Home League.

The Salvation Army has a unique history. In 1865, Booth left the Methodist ministry to preach in the slums of London's East End as an independent evangelist. He made many converts, but they did not feel "at home" in churches, so Booth set up Christian Mission Centers.

The organization follows a military theme, because it believes in efficiency and discipline, Lt. Deggs said. Officers are ranked by seniority and merit. Women hold equal rank with men (if married, a woman holds her husband's rank).

The Army's basic doctrines are that it preaches the Gospel to win people to Christ, and it helps people without discrimination as to race or creed.

Officers of the Salvation Army can perform marriages and burials, administer social welfare, conduct business of the organization and spread the Gospel. There are three types of members, and Lt. Deggs reminded that membership is open to anyone who will be converted to Christ, accept the organization's doctrines and agree to active support of the Army's principles and work.

The members include commissioned officers, who are ordained ministers trained in Salvation Army schools for officers, who dedicate their lives to the work; soldiers, who are members of the congregation who are in the local corps; and adherents, persons of good standing and character who consider the Army to be their place of worship by attendance and financial support.

Services locally are held in the Citadel, 600 W. 4th.

WISDOM FOR FAMILY LIVING FOUND IN SUNDAY'S LESSON

Perhaps the greatest breakdown in parent-child relations today is in the area of communication. While not expecting a perfect relationship and realizing the problems of both generations, parents should do all that they can to keep the channels clear—and open—between them and their children.

So much is heard today of the "generation gap," the lack of understanding between parents and children and the question arises, "Where do we place the blame?" Is it the fault of the child or the parent?

Parental responsibility is the answer, and parents have to learn to demonstrate both discipline and sweetness at the same time. A good family life is the result of open communications between the generations.

There are those who say, "But I send my child to Sunday School!" or to church. But is sending the child just enough — when he sees the parent stay at home.

The Bible teaches, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Scripture for this week's International Uniform Lesson Series comes from Proverbs 4, 6 and 31.

Callison's Bat Aids Phils' Flag Drive

By The Associated Press

Johnny Callison has thrown away his weights and now his bat is weighing into Philadelphia's push towards the top of the National League.

Callison drove in four runs with a double, triple and home run Thursday night, helping the Phillies beat Cincinnati 7-3. It was the third straight victory Houston downed San Francisco over the Reds for the Phillies and the second straight game in which Callison homered.

NOW IN SECOND

The victory pulled the Phillies into second place, one game ahead of Cincinnati, Los Angeles and San Francisco and three back of St. Louis. The Dodgers dropped Chicago 6-0.

5-3 and Atlanta topped Pittsburgh 4-2 in the only other National League games scheduled Thursday.

Callison spent a week last winter with Gene Berde, the 63-year-old conditioning expert from Wakefield, Mass., who was credited with developing the body-building program that turned Carl Yastrzemski into baseball's top slugger last year.

"It wasn't a muscle-building thing," says Callison of the week he spent under Berde's tutelage. "As a matter of fact, he told me to throw away my weights. He told me all they did is build tired muscles."

So Callison climbed ropes, went through breathing exercises and rested his tired muscles. The result was a revitalized spring in which he felt leaner and stronger than at any time during his career.

He looked strong enough to hit the Reds. In the first inning of Thursday night's game, he followed a walk to Tony Taylor and Cookie Rojas' single with his three-base hit.

Then, after the Reds had tied the score in their half of the first, Callison unloaded his third home run of the season in the third inning with Taylor aboard.

BLAST IN NINTH

Rojas climaxed the Phillie attack with a three-run homer in the ninth that wrapped up Larry Jackson's third victory. Dick Farrell finished up for Jackson when the Reds nipped him for a run in the bottom of the ninth.

Jim Wynn and Ron Davis both homered and Dave Giusti pitched a six-hitter as Houston defeated the Giants. Davis also drove in another Astro run with a fifth-inning single.

Hal Lanier, a Giant infielder, was tagged with an indefinite suspension and fine by Manager Herman Franks when he reportedly threw his bat and helmet after being lifted for a pinch hitter.

Rookie Ron Reed won his third straight game as Sonny Jackson drove in three runs with a pair of singles and the Braves whipped the Pirates.

Jackson's bases-loaded single in the second got Atlanta off in front and then he singled home another run with two-out in the eighth inning. Jim Britton, another rookie, relieved Reed in the ninth and got the final out.

Rocky Colavito smashed his third homer in two days for Los Angeles and Bill Singer's three-hitter shut out the Cubs.

Zoulo Versalles and Bob Bailey also connected for the Dodgers.

Tagged At Home

Atlanta third baseman Clete Boyer (6) is tagged out at home in second inning of National League baseball game Thursday night in Atlanta. Pittsburgh catcher Jerry May (12) held onto the ball despite Boyer's hooking the catcher's arm while trying to book. Boyer was thrown out on a fielder's choice on a ball hit by Braves' pitcher Ron Reed. Atlanta won 4-2.

White Sox Using Long Ball To Win

By The Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox are back on the road to the pennant race, using a new way—for them—to travel. The Sox are 6-10 start to win eight of its last 13 games.

Pete Ward, their newly discovered slugger, smacked two solo shots, his seventh and eighth of the season, and powered the Sox to a 4-2 victory against the Oakland A's Thursday night.

LAST 8 OF 13

But Ward is not alone. Joining him have been Tommy Davis, Luis Aparicio, Tom McCraw and pitcher Gary Peters as Chicago has turned around from its 13 games.

Peters went 8 2-3 innings, giving up only five hits, for the latest triumph which moved the still last-place Sox only 7½ games behind American League leader Baltimore.

Minnesota broke a third place tie with Oakland by coming from behind for a 4-3 10-inning triumph over California on Rod Carew's double and Cesar Tovar's single.

The Washington Senators snapped a six-game losing streak in the only other AL game, beating Boston 3-1 behind the pitching of Phil Ortega and Dave Baldwin.

Ward's first belt in the fifth inning tied the game at 2-2 and his second in the seventh off starter Lew Krausse put the White Sox ahead to stay.

Peters left after Rick Monday tripled with two out in the ninth, and Bob Locker got the last out as Chicago's always stingy pitchers continued to take advantage of the hitting windfall.

The victory was only the second against three losses for Peters, who won his last game by hitting a grand slam homer. Three days later, McCraw hit a slam for the normally light-hitting Sox and gave Joe Horlen his first victory.

Added steam. Before that, it was homers by Ward, Davis and Aparicio that broke the Sox out of their horrible start and put some steam in their pennant hopes.

Carew, last year's Rookie-of-the-Year in the AL, took another step on the sophomore jinx by raising his average to .337 with three hits, scoring after each one.

He singled in the first inning, stole second and scored on Harmon Killebrew's single for a 1-0 Minnesota lead, but the Angels' Tom Satriano wiped that out with a three-run homer off Jim Merritt in the third.

After Ted Uhlaender's bunt single scored Tony Oliva, who had doubled, from second base in the seventh, Carew and Tovar singled in the eighth and Carew scored on Frank Kostro's pinch sacrifice fly for a 3-3 score.

With Ron Peralta holding off the Angels for two innings for his first AL victory, Carew and Tovar teamed again in the 10th against Jim Weaver.

Ortega helped himself with his bat to his fourth victory, doubling in Washington's third run in the sixth. He scattered seven hits in seven innings before Baldwin came on.

Little Leaguers Call Off Games. All Little League activity was cancelled here Thursday night due to the downpours of rain which had hit the city earlier in the day.

Barring additional rain, most of the leagues will get in games tonight.

Swim Program Opens June 3

Plans are being firmed up for the city-wide recreation program this summer, and according to Curt Mullins, YMCA executive secretary, the city-wide swimming program will be held June 3-7 at three Big Spring pools.

Locations will be the municipal pool, the Lakeview pool and the northeast pool, Mullins said. Fee is $1 per person, however, no youngster will be turned away for lack of funds. The lessons will be administered in a series of five sessions, Mullins said, each lasting approximately 30 minutes.

Further information will be distributed through the Big Spring School District and the YMCA.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle says four players whose names have entered a federal grand jury gambling probe are innocent of any wrongdoing.

Pittsburgh tackle Fran O'Brien testified Thursday as the grand jury in suburban Alexandria, Va., wound up three days of secret hearings.

Subpoenas were cancelled without being served on Washington quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, Redskins guard Vince Promuto and Baltimore defensive end Andy Stynchula.

Redskins' President Edward Bennett Williams, an attorney, said Jurgensen and Promuto have been cooperating willingly in the investigation. He said the two players were questioned by federal officials several weeks ago.

The federal grand jury decided to take a five-week recess and resume the investigation June 12.

The probe is aimed at alleged illegal use of interstate facilities to conduct and promote gambling in the Washington area. Court sources have said witnesses have been called to give information and not as suspects.

In New York, Rozelle said, "when we were informed of the situation, we conducted an investigation and are satisfied that the players are not guilty of any wrongdoing."

Controversy Raging Over Par Reduction

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Controversy raged today over the redesigning 15th hole at the plush Lakewood Country Club golf course where the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open moved into its second day.

"I don't think it's a fair hole," said Bob Stanton, the 22-year-old Aussie who fashioned a six-under par 65 Thursday to take a one-stroke lead after the first round.

"I think it was a better hole to play as it was," said Tom Weiss, the handsome Ohio shot-maker who leads this year's money winners with nearly $80,000.

Jack Nicklaus, golf's Golden Bear, said of No. 15, now a par 4 hole playing at 470 yards: "It was a wonderful par 5, but a lousy par 4."

"I don't give a damn what they say," commented Jack Weiss, a tournament official. "I think it's a real fine hole now."

The tee was moved up 60 yards on the hole, making it 470 yards and a par 4.

The hole is a most hazardous one to drive because a ball hit to the right or even slightly to the left could land in the lakes on either side of the narrow fairway.

Flight of the 10 eagles made in last year's tourney, when 15 was played at par 5, were made on the hole.

"The official records show that there were more birds than pars being made, necessitating a redesign of the hole," said Weiss.

"Inasmuch as it was a very long tee, officials decided to play from the very front of the tee at 470 yards, which is, according to the rules of golf, a par 4 hole. Therefore, the hole is a long and difficult par 4 rather than an easy and short par 5."

Radio and television networks paid a fantastic $48,810,213 for air rights to games involving 23 pro and 124 college football teams last season.

Despite the approach to saturation, NFL and AFL teams played to 90 per cent of stadium capacity over the year.

Little wonder the pro footballers are yelling for a bigger slice of the melon.

Bob Nichols, medalist in the 1958 Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, passed up the recent Byron Nelson Classic at Dallas to play an exhibition match with Frank Beard in Tokyo, Japan.

Nichols, incidentally, missed the 36-hole cut in the Houston Champions Classic, as did Rives McBee of Midland, Don Massengale, Lefty Bob Charles, Doug Ford and several other fine golfers.

DeWitt Weaver, the former Texas Tech coach, is now peddling aluminum backs for stadium seats and stop-action cameras.

He also stays busy as director of the Mustang Club, which boosts SMU athletics.

Colleges like TCU, SMU and Baylor are hurting financially in athletics because of the pros.

Time was when their Southwest Conference football clashes drew big crowds. Baylor never did draw too well at home but could be expected to lure banner turnouts in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. That is no longer the case. The pros have caught the fancy of the crowds.

Abner McCall, Baylor president, revealed recently that $283,000 had to be appropriated from school funds to balance the athletic budget.

Few colleges, not even so-called big-time schools like TCU, SMU and Baylor, can long afford to operate lavish athletic programs with their programs so out-of-balance.

Odessa Ector opened its first spring football training in history earlier this week, with 11 lettermen on hand. Ector is stepping up to 3-AAA.

Ector finished 10-1 last year but was practically wiped out by graduation, which is one reason Coach Jim Payne moved on. Harold King inherited Payne's duties, after 11 years as a head coach at Midland High.

In all, 89 boys asked for training gear at Ector.

Area Girls To Take Part In State Track Carnival

Area girls eligible to take part in the State High School Track and Field meet at Abilene today and Saturday include Beverly Jacob, Garden City; Lois Heuvel, Robert Lee; Carolyn Rogers, Ira; Debby Dennis, Cheron Billick, Sandra Hancock and Carol Gray, all of Gail; and Jackie Conley, Robert Lee.

An estimated 400 girls will be competing for state honors. The meet is being staged under the sponsorship of the Girls' Track and Field Association rather than the Texas Interscholastic League.

Meet director is I. B. Howard, superintendent of schools at Baird.

The area contestants will compete in Division B of the meet, which includes Class A and B schools. Division A embraces entries from Class AA through Class AAAA.

Miss Heuvel, former Howard County resident, will enter the triple jump, 440-yard run and the 80-meter high hurdles.

The Gail entries will run in both the 440 and 880 yard relays.

In addition, Miss Billick will compete in the broad jump and 100-yard dash while Miss Dennis will take part in the broad jump and 220.

Miss Jacob of Garden City will enter both the shot put and discus. Ira's Miss Rogers will be active in the triple jump, 220 and 80-meter hurdles.

Robert Lee's Conley will take part in the 60 and 100 yard dash events.

Returning to the meet will be Roberta Roots of Follett, the defending champion in the discus throw. Miss Roots is coached by Charley Skeen, one-time

Foster Leads Race Drivers

ODESSA — John Foster of Midland continues to lead the West Texas Racing Circuit point standings by 27 points over his nearest contender, Charley Koen of Dallas. Marvin Phillips of San Angelo and Leroy Brooks of Abilene were the pace setters the past week.

The Odessa Speedbowl saw some of the most outstanding stock car racing in its history Friday, May 3, with Nicky Beam winning the trophy dash. Charley Koen was the winner in the second heat, and the semi-main barely edging out John Foster, who won the featured race of the night.

Lefty Smith of Odessa won the fast heat and Louis Ashley was the consolation winner.

The point standings at Odessa Speedbowl are as follows: John Foster, with 113½ points; Louis Ashley, with 103; Nicky Beam with 73½; and Lefty Smith with 56.

Leroy Brooks was the big winner at the Abilene Speedbowl with wins in the fast heat and the feature. Bill Gallahar was the semi-main winner, and Hubert Franklin won the slow heat.

Reservations Filling Up For Supper Theatre

Residents were reminded today that reservations are filling the house for the upcoming Supper Theatre program of the Little Theatre of Big Spring. The comedies include "The Street of Good Friends," with a cast of Margaret Goodwin, Doris Vaughn, Molly Ennor and Maxine Boardman. "The Devil on Stilts" includes Audra Kapsaroff, Cheryl Haas and Pat Adams. Two other surprise features are included on the program. The steak dinner will be served at 7 p.m., and the program starts at 8 p.m. All admissions must include dinner, which is part of the ticket price.

Taxes - Spending Measure Facing Rugged Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rugged House opposition awaits a compromise measure combining President Johnson's proposed income tax hike with a mandatory $6-billion spending slash. Senate House conferees nailed down Thursday a version tacking the spending cut demand onto the 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson has sought since last August.

HEAD COUNTS

In most respects, the conferees agreed to the bill passed earlier by the Senate. There has been no test in the House.

Reversing earlier indications, handlers of the legislation said it probably won't be brought to a House vote next week. They cited the time required to prepare a report on the complicated bill.

But it was evident the delay also is planned for careful head counts and persuasion of undecided members.

A major factor is Johnson's attitude. He faces the choice of blessing the measure because it contains the revenue he says is desperately needed, or fighting it—even with a veto if it is passed—because of the $6 billion cut.

That's $2 billion more than the figure he reluctantly agreed was acceptable and he has said a cut of this depth would be against the national interest.

Johnson himself has not commented on the conferees' decision.

ENEMY FORCES KILLED, CAPTURED

Cong's 'Second Wave' Crushed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have virtually crushed the Viet Cong's "second wave" offensive against Saigon, intelligence sources said today.

A police source said from 80 to 90 per cent of the enemy military force fighting inside the city has been killed, captured or scattered.

TINY RIPPLE

He said the force which pushed past the city's outer fringes never totaled more than about 150 fighting men at any one time. A U.S. military source said there may have been somewhat more than 200 at the peak of the fighting.

This does not include Viet Cong agents, guides and supply personnel long inside the city.

During the Tet offensive which began Jan. 31, some 4,000 to 5,000 Viet Cong fought inside Saigon.

In terms of casualties, scope and destruction, the Communists' widely heralded follow-up to the Tet offensive has been little more than a ripple.

No one is prepared to say the Communist command can't launch fresh battalions against Saigon and its Chinese section, Cholon.

JET ATTACK

Also terrorist units could slip into the city to carry out commando-type raids.

But so far the Communist attack has fallen far short of Viet Cong plans, reported to U.S. and South Vietnamese intelligence, which called for 10,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops to be sent against the capital.

Vietnamese and American sources say intelligence was as good this time as it was poor during the Tet attack.

U.S. units north and west of Saigon fought a series of major battles with units on the way to Saigon. A U.S. source said elements of some 19 enemy battalions were intercepted and most were seriously hurt.

BURIED WEAPONS

A major portion of the fighting inside the city limits this time was done by commandos who infiltrated earlier and dug up buried weapons. But this force was significantly reduced before the offensive by the police, who arrested about 70 Viet Cong and found a large number of weapons.

The timing of the second wave offensive—for the days just before the opening of peace talks in Paris—aroused speculation that the enemy would seek to raise the level of fighting in Saigon above the Tet level and content himself with shelling over most of the rest of the country instead of the heavy ground fighting that hit most of South Vietnam's major cities during the Tet offensive.

The main and only real thrust was at Saigon as predicted. But U.S. and South Vietnamese sources agreed that the second wave carried about one-tenth the punch of the Tet offensive.

Vietnam War Slowing Down As Envoys Prepare To Battle

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen clashed repeatedly today along the southern fringes of Saigon with bands of snipers and rocket-firing Viet Cong, but generally the Vietnam war slowed down as American and North Vietnamese peace negotiators prepared to meet in Paris.

The Americans from the 9th Division appeared to be driving the enemy away from South Vietnam's capital on the sixth day of the Viet Cong's "peace talk" offensive.

Intelligence sources said U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had virtually crushed, at least for the time being, the waves of attacks on Saigon that began last Sunday.

RED SETBACK

They said one reason for the enemy setback was that U.S. troops sweeping the countryside around Saigon intercepted much of the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces before they reached the capital.

Two major developments were reported in the air war against North Vietnam. U.S. Navy pilots said they blew up the biggest oil depot in the southern half of North Vietnam.

And the U.S. Command confirmed a report earlier in Washington that Communist MIG fighters are operating in the North Vietnamese panhandle south of the 20th parallel for the first time in the war.

The command said a MIG-21 shot down an American F4 Phantom Tuesday about 145 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

3,000 DIE

The U.S. Command reported nearly 3,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in the last five days of fighting around Saigon. One U.S. source said elements of 19 enemy battalions pressing toward the city had been repulsed during the past week with heavy losses.

Most of the capital was calm today, with life back to normal. Reports from the field and U.S. communiques indicated the pattern was much the same up and down the country, except for harassing enemy shelling.

But there still was heavy enemy fire from both sides of the Kinh Doi Canal which forms the southern boundary of Saigon. An American helicopter gunship making a rocket pass south of the "Y" Bridge across the canal crashed and burned, possibly brought down by enemy fire.

The enemy offensive had produced a rash of battles Thursday in which the U.S. Command said 364 of the enemy were killed around Saigon.

In the air war against North Vietnam, U.S. Navy jets hit the Xom Trung Hoa fuel storage area and barracks 16 miles west of Vinh for the second day in succession. Pilots claimed they set off more than 100 secondary explosions, countless fires and a huge fireball.

AIR ATTACKS

The U.S. Command said the North Vietnamese jets are operating south of the 20th parallel for the first time in the Vietnam war, apparently in an attempt to counter the increased American air attacks on the southern panhandle.

Previously enemy MIGs had always operated in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas and north of those two major cities, well above the 20th parallel which President Johnson proclaimed as the northern boundary for U.S. bombing on March 31 in a bid for peace talks. However, since the curtailment of the target area, U.S. pilots have been flying as many bombing missions against North Vietnam's panhandle area as they formerly flew against the whole of North Vietnam.

Annual Cancer Crusade Aids Educational Program

The annual cancer crusade is producing increasing results from its educational program. Dr. Berry Squires, Denver City, told the Howard County chapter of the American Cancer Society Wednesday evening.

Education is even more important than money in the battle against cancer, said Dr. Squires. This is why it is so important for women volunteers making the house-to-house canvass to be familiar with their assignment in disseminating information about cancer and the seven danger signals, he said.

One sign that is becoming effective is that most physicians are now seeing more patients for cancer check-ups in the weeks immediately following the annual fund appeals, he said.

Smoking has definitely been tied to lung cancer, the No. 1 cancer killer among males, and if women do not let up on their rate of smoking this type of cancer will soon surge into the lead over breast and female organ cancers. Combined statistics put rectal and colonic cancers in the lead for both men and women. Skin cancers are more numerous but are far easier to detect and treat.

New officers installed were Dee Jon Davis, president; Mrs. Bob Galbraith, vice president; Mrs. Ralph W. Caton, secretary; John Burgess, treasurer; Mrs. Paschal Odom, Mrs. Wade Choate, Mrs. Delaine Crawford and Jimmy Ray Smith, new board members.

Delegates to the district meet in Odessa June 18 will be Mrs. Neil Norred, Mrs. R. W. Caton, Mrs. Bob Galbraith, and Dee Jon Davis, with Mrs. H. W. Smith as alternate. The meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and Lynn Sherrill, Andrews, was a guest.

El Paso Police Corral 'Bomber'

EL PASO (AP) — Freddie Lee McKenzie, 27, charged with murder in the fire deaths of eight in Fort Worth, was in custody in the United States today. Police reported he was brought over from Mexico Thursday.

McKenzie was turned over to immigration authorities who brought him to the U.S. side of the international bridge, where El Paso police were waiting.

Police had a warrant charging McKenzie with murder by arson.

LEGAL RIGHTS

Fort Worth officers were expected in El Paso shortly to pick him up.

The accused was taken before Justice of the Peace Danny Snooks and told of his legal rights as required under Texas law.

Lt. Al Hajar of the El Paso police said McKenzie made a statement to him, saying he set the night club, called The Grave, afire after he lost an argument with a waitress.

He made a similar statement in Mexico, Mexican police said, but then denied doing so when interviewed by a newsmen.

McKenzie was taken to the county jail.

He was arrested at a hotel Tuesday by Mexican secret police. He was registered under another name.

SMOKE DEATHS

Six men and two women died when the night club was set afire late Sunday night. A Negro man threw gasoline into the building and tossed a lighted match into it, witnesses said.

The eight, six men and two women, died of smoke inhalation when they entered a back room believing the door led outside.

The night club was integrated but Fort Worth officers said there were no racial overtones. Seven of the victims were Negroes.

Says Failures Part Of Life

Rex Kiker, former governor of the Oklahoma - Texas Kiwanis Club district, told members of the Key Club of Big Spring and their guests last night that failure is a basic part of life and that to succeed it is inevitable that you must first fail. If one perseveres despite the failures, his ultimate achievement is success.

Kiker is a professor of speech at Abilene Christian College. He was here as guest speaker at the Key Club installation dinner at Cosden Country Club.

Big Spring Kiwanis Club members were special guests. The Kiwanis Club sponsors the Key Club which is an organization for high school boys.

Ward Jackson, former lieutenant governor Kiwanis Club Division 22, acted as master of ceremonies for the dinner. He introduced Kiker to his audience.

Despite the inclement weather, a good turnout of both Kiwanians and Key Club members, along with wives of the Kiwanians and the parents of the Key Clubbers were on hand for the dinner.

Larry Taylor was installed as president of the Key Club. Soc Walker acted as installing officer. Leon Taylor is sponsor of the Key Club which has 50 active members.

Annette Fitzhugh, vocalist, with Carolyn Crawford at the piano, provided special music.

Clark Heads Optimist Club

Sidney T. Clark, newly elected president of the Big Spring Optimist club, will be formally inducted into office on June 7. He succeeds James Ballios. Clark's new term of office opens July 1.

Other officers elected are Paschal Odom, first vice president; Gene Haston, second vice president; Sam Wrinkle, Glen Leppard, Wayne Vaughn, Wayne Henry, Jess Looney, Kent Brown, Joe Motal and Charles Lusk, directors.

The Optimists meet each Wednesday morning.

The club election was at the last meeting of the club.

Choir's Variety Show To Assist Danny's Tour

World War I Vets Expect Big Turnout

Members of the World War I Veterans, Barracks 1474, and Ladies Auxiliary are expecting a large turnout Saturday when the District 19 convention is held here at the IOOF Hall.

George Nichols, Irving, state department commander, is due to be here for the session and will address the meeting in its morning session. Mike Mullins, Victoria, department vice commander, is due to be guest speaker at the luncheon meeting.

Presiding over the sessions will be R. M. Crabtree, Plainview, 19th district commander, and Mrs. (Opal) Crabtree, who is the auxiliary district president.

Mrs. Bell Sneed, San Antonio, auxiliary department president, also will address the morning session, which will be highlighted by a talk by Capt. Glen Jones, returned Vietnam veteran now stationed at Webb AFB.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. and G. L. Monroey, commander of the local barracks, will call the group to order with the Pledge of Allegiance at 9:15 a.m. Fred Eaker, Big Spring, district chaplain, will word the invocation. The welcome will be by Mayor Arnold Marshall, with Nichols responding.

At 1:30 p.m. the barracks and the auxiliary units will have their separate business sessions.

Newby To Lead Highland Revival

A revival will be held tonight through Sunday at the Highland Church of God, Sixth and Settles, with James A. Newby, Portland, Ore., as guest speaker.

Services will be held Saturday and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sermons will include "Where Are You?" "Love or Show?" "The Greatest Gift a Mother Can Give Her Child" and "How Great the Cost of Salvation?"

The public is invited.

Family Week Is Slated

Christian Family Week, observed May 5-12, has as its purpose providing additional motivation for home and church cooperation. Emphasizing the nurture of Christian values in personal behavior and a social responsibility, the 1968 theme is: "Strong Families - Strong Community."

Phillips Church Slates Revival

Rev. Bob Clements, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Brownsville, will be the evangelist for a week-long revival beginning Sunday at Phillips Memorial Baptist Church.

Rev. Dan Sanford, pastor, said that James Kinman will be the song leader. Services will be daily at 7:30 p.m. and beginning Tuesday, morning services will be held at 10 o'clock.

A nursery will be provided and the public is invited.

Clubbers Receive Industrial Tips

STANTON (SC)—The Stanton Rotary Club Wednesday heard Paige Eiland and Bill Terry, representing the Chamber of Commerce, speak on industrial development in this area. There were 14 members and three visitors from Big Spring attending.

Mitchell Grand Jurors Vote 15 Indictments

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Mitchell County grand jury returned 15 indictments this week, including a charge of rape against Manuel Martinez, 20, of Colorado City, accused of raping a 16-year-old Colorado City Latin American girl in September, 1967.

Jimmy Hernandez, 20, of Colorado City, was charged with driving an automobile without the consent of the owner, in connection with a Monday night incident in which Hernandez is alleged to have waited in the back seat of a car parked at the Root Hospital until its owner, Mrs. George Fugate, came out and got into the car.

Hernandez allegedly attempted to force Mrs. Fugate to carry him to Snyder, but at the first opportunity, about a block from the hospital, Mrs. Fugate opened the car door and jumped out. Hernandez is charged with driving the car away. It was found the next morning in a residential area. Mrs. Fugate was unharmed.

Sammy Contreras, 19, and Alfonso Mendoza, 20, both of Colorado City, were charged with attempted arson in connection with allegedly attempting to throw a burning flare through the window of T. M. Molina, March 30.

Felix Ismael Silva, 17, of Colorado City, is charged with the attempted burglary of the L. J. Taylor store April 27.

Timothy Tijerina, 23, of Colorado City, was charged with the willful destruction of property. Tijerina allegedly broke out the windshield of a 1961 Chevrolet belonging to Lito Ramirez, March 9.

Ruby Luera, 19, of Colorado City, is charged in two indictments, one for aggravated assault and alleges that he entered the house of Gabriel Badillo and hit him with a piece of iron. The other charges him with the destruction of property in connection with the breakage of windshield glass in a car belonging to Jesse Garcia.

Five persons were indicted for DWI, second offense. They include: Wayne Hogue, 42, Colorado City; Ismael Reyes, 20, Snyder; Claude Ezra Beeler, 57, Lovington, N.M.; James Edward Nail, 61, Colorado City; and Brigid M. De La Cruz, 21, of Colorado City.

Three indictments were returned against persons not yet apprehended. They include forgery, car theft, and removing mortgaged property.

HCJC Tryouts Slated Saturday

The last day of tryouts for the Howard County Junior College scholarships for choir and stage band will be held starting at 9 a.m. Saturday at the music building.

John Stanley, instrumental instructor and who will succeed Van Hale as head of the department next autumn, urged any young person who would like to try for these scholarships to come to the music building and audition. The tuition scholarships are worth $60 a semester and are renewable. This year the band has about a dozen in it, but Stanley is hoping for at least twice as many next year, as well as for a still larger choir.

Lions, Ladies Event Tonight

A Ladies night banquet program for Lions clubs in this zone will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at Cosden Country Club. John Wood, Stanton, is zone chairman.

Lions and their ladies from the Downtown and Evening Clubs in Big Spring and from Grady, Coahoma and Sterling City will take part. Some of the clubs, including the Downtown unit, will use this as the occasion for officer installation.

2614 N. Chabourne — Hwy. 87 No. San Angelo, Tex.

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

We leave out the radiator. So the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry. It's air-cooled.)

We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.

We leave out the drive shaft. You know the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)

Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.

As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

Dear Abby

Companionable 'Setup'

DEAR ABBY: In our circle there is a widow past 65 who has a man living with her. He's a cousin (widower) about her age. She tells people that she is afraid to be alone in the house without a man. The home is hers and this cousin helps with the household chores. They share expenses, and seem to be enjoying the arrangement.

Most of her friends do not approve of this setup, but so far they haven't let her know how they feel. What do you think of such an arrangement? TRUMPS

DEAR TRUMPS: I think every widow over 65 should be so lucky as to have a male cousin about her age with whom to share her home, expenses, and to keep her company. And that goes double for widowers.

DEAR ABBY: I met a girl four months ago and we were immediately attracted to one another. We saw a lot of each other, so our four months courtship is not really as brief as it sounds. (She's 22 and I am 26.)

We plan to marry soon, but she says we have to keep it a secret from everyone but our folks on account of her job. She says she promised her boss before he hired her that she would not get married for at least TWO YEARS. (She's been there almost a year.) She says they wouldn't have hired her otherwise as they don't hire girls who plan on getting married because after they marry they get pregnant right away, and then they either quit or take a long leave of absence, and they're never the same after that.

I say she should tell her boss she's taking "The Pill" and doesn't plan on getting pregnant for at least five years, and if he doesn't want to keep her, she can get another job.

She says she likes her job and doesn't want to risk losing it. Besides she gets a nice bonus and increases after each year.

I say, no wife of mine is going to work as a "miss" and leave her wedding ring in the drawer. Who is right? JIMMY

DEAR JIMMY: I think you are. And if your girl doesn't see it your way, she obviously is more interested in her job than she is in you. Tell her to explain to her boss that she made the promise not to wed before she met you, also that she doesn't plan on having a family for several years, but how she intends to go about it is strictly her business.

Here's How Federal Tax Boost Plan Would Work

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Americans will begin paying more federal income taxes shortly, if Congress enacts the 10 per cent surcharge package worked out by Senate-House conferees—and if President Johnson signs it.

The President has sought the tax hike but it is not certain he will go along with congressional demands for a $6 billion spending cut that would accompany it.

10 PER CENT

Here is how the tax proposal would work:

Q—When would the 10 per cent tax surcharge affect my paycheck?

A—The surcharge, if signed into law, would go into effect 15 days after the signing. The Treasury Department is now planning to begin collecting the additional tax about June 10.

Q—What is a surcharge?

A—It's actually a tax levied on a tax. The Treasury and Johnson administration preferred the tax increase in this way instead of a basic change in rates to preserve its identity as a temporary tax and to make it easier to remove once the Vietnam war permits.

Q—How many Americans will pay the tax?

A—The Treasury estimates about 83 million. About 17 million others in the two lowest income tax brackets—those who pay taxes at the 14 and 15 per cent rates—will pay nothing more.

HOW LONG?

Q—How long will I pay the tax?

A—Beginning with the first paycheck after June 10, according to the present schedule, your paycheck will reflect a deduction covering the surcharge. For example, if $15 a week is now deducted from your paycheck for federal income taxes, you will pay an additional $1.50 for a total of $16.50.

Q—How long must I pay this extra tax?

A—Until June 30, 1969, unless Congress extends it beyond that point.

Q—Isn't the tax retroactive?

A—Yes, but it won't affect the amount withheld from your paycheck. The surcharge on individual taxes would go into effect as of April 1. You won't begin paying it until June under the tentative schedule, thus missing more than two months of deductions from your paycheck.

Q—Will I be required to pay this later?

A—Yes, but not until you file your income tax return for 1968 by April 15 of next year. When you figure out how much tax you owe the government for 1968 at that time, you will be required to assess the surcharge from the previous April 1.

This will be included in the instructions the Internal Revenue Service will send to you next January at income tax-filing time. As a result of the surcharge you may get a smaller refund next year or be required to pay more by April 15 than you ordinarily would.

Q—How about an example?

A—Let's suppose you're married with two children and earn $10,000 a year. For 1968, you would pay $1,114 in federal income taxes if you took the standard deduction allowed on your return.

With the surcharge effective April 1 you would pay $1,198 in taxes this year, an increase of $84. During 1969, your tax bill would be $1,170, or $56 above what it would have been without a surcharge.

Q—Who is exempt?

A—Single persons who pay $195 or less in taxes will pay nothing additional. The same applies to persons filing joint return and pay $90 taxes or less and persons filing as head of a household who pay $220 or less in taxes.

Q—Will corporations also pay a surcharge?

A—Yes, and for corporations the tax will be assessed from last Jan. 1. Corporations also face a speedup in their tax payments to put them on a more current basis.

Q—Are there other parts of the tax package?

A—The measure also includes an extension of the 10 per cent tax on telephone service and the 7 per cent manufacturers excise tax on automobiles.

Q—How much will the government collect over-all from the surcharge?

A—Through June 30, 1969, the government expects to collect

$7.75 billion in additional taxes from individuals and $3.83 billion from corporations—$11.6 billion in all. The speed-up in corporate tax collection will mean an additional $960 million to the Treasury while almost $3 billion will come from extension of the excise taxes.

This raises the total to $15.53 billion, including almost $1.5 billion in the current fiscal year and $14.04 billion in the next fiscal year.
