Bank Cashier Shot To Death In Bold Robbery

'UNCLE JOE' CANNON DIES AT NOON

Crowder Held Without Bond In Raid On Ranch

ACCUSED YOUTH TO GET HEARING NEXT FEW DAYS

MORE ARRESTS EXPECTED SHORTLY IN PROBE OF NEGROES' DEATH

(By Associated Press)
HOUSTON, Nov. 12.—H. B. Crowder, Jr., son of a Katy farmer, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of one negro and incineration of two others Wednesday night on the Blakeley ranch, 25 miles from Houston, probably will be given an examining trial next week before Justice of the Peace Charles Holman at Richmond. It was announced Friday.

Crowder will not be allowed bond until after the preliminary hearing, according to County Attorney F. M. D. Evans, who filed the complaint. The murder charge, he said, incorporates all three fatalities and not any one specifically.

Accused Surrenders
Crowder surrendered to Sheriff E. A. Hagan at Richmond late Thursday after the story had become widespread of the burning of the ranch boss' cottage. Crowder said suspicion had been attached to him because Scott Evans, negro ranch boss who was shot and killed, had employed Turner Evans, another negro, now held in jail in connection with killing of W. B. Crowder of Katy last Saturday night. Officers said that H. B. Crowder, in surrendering, denied any implication in the Blakeley fire.

While Crowder was being held in the Fort Bend county jail, officers of three counties were expected to make other arrests. Witnesses of the firing of the cottage said there were "six or eight young white men" in the raiding party.

No New Clues Found
No new clues had been found Friday. The state's case rests at present on the finding of a gun rented from a Houston sporting goods firm, statement of the manager of that firm, the statement of Cleo Chatham, youthful section gang boss and Mexican members of the gang who saw the burning, and the story of Frazier Holmes, slave time darkey, and the only occupant of the cottage who escaped.

Newberry was shot and instantly killed at six o'clock Thursday evening after he had been called to the door of his home by his assailant. No motive has yet been determined for the killing, but it is believed to have been the result of a dispute over wages. The Mexican, who did the shooting, is believed to have been a member of Newberry's crew. The shooting occurred within a short time after the crew had quit work for the day.

Slayer Of Section Foreman Is Sought

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 12. (AP)—Continued intensive search for the slayer of J. E. Newberry, Fort Worth and Denver section foreman murdered last night at his home at Goodnight by an unknown Mexican is under way by sheriff's officers and the police of Amarillo. A posse is also scouring the country in the man hunt.

Newberry was shot and instantly killed at six o'clock Thursday evening after he had been called to the door of his home by his assailant. No motive has yet been determined for the killing, but it is believed to have been the result of a dispute over wages. The Mexican, who did the shooting, is believed to have been a member of Newberry's crew. The shooting occurred within a short time after the crew had quit work for the day.

Airplanes Used In Williamson Gang War

HARRISBURG, Ill., Nov. 12. (AP)—The warfare between the rival Birger and Shelton bootleg gangs developed a new method today when an airplane flew over the Birger road house ten miles west of here and dropped three bombs, one of which exploded when it landed 100 yards from the resort. No fire was done.

Fire Into Homes
BENTON, Ill., Nov. 12. (AP)—Unidentified gunmen, believed by Franklin county officers to have been members of the Birger bootleg gang, early today fired into two homes at West City, near here, in the neighborhood formerly frequented by the rival Shelton gangsters. No one was wounded. Shortly afterwards Carl and Bernie Shelton were arrested in Benton by postal officers and taken eastward by train, presumably to Danville.

Loses Last Fight

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, veteran statesman, who through 36 years of life has been one of the most outstanding men in American politics, died today at noon at his home in Indiana, closing one of the most picturesque careers in the history of the American nation.

AUTO WRECKS MARRIAGE DAY

Several automobile accidents, some of them serious, marred the pleasure of Lubbock Armistice day celebrators, and news dispatches from other sections of the state indicate that accidents were general everywhere.

No serious accident occurred in the city limits of Lubbock, but several minor crashes have been reported. Late in the evening Ben Knight driving a Dodge coupe, collided with a team of mules and a wagon on the Littlefield highway just outside of the city limits. The wagon was heavily loaded with cotton and this alone probably saved the life of the farmer who was riding on top. Lights on the car were bad, Knight said, and the wagon was on the wrong side of the road. He was within a few feet of the wagon when he saw it. Both the car and the wagon were completely wrecked, and a mule was killed, though neither of the men were injured.

Wagon Tongue Hits Radiator
The wagon tongue struck the radiator and completely demolished it and then went out through the top of the coupe, missing Knight's head only a few inches.

A car was turned over in a lake on the Tahoka highway shortly after midnight, though occupants of the car were not injured so far as the Journal has been able to ascertain.

Another car was wrecked near Aberrath, though details of the wreck are not available.

Youth To Die For Grandmother's Death

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 12. (AP)—Robert Lee Bennett, who was accused of slaying his grandmother last July to obtain money so that he might marry, today faces the electric chair. The twenty-year-old youth heard a jury return a death verdict after deliberating an hour last night.

Big Oil Well Is In Near Big Spring

BIG SPRING, Nov. 12.—A "shot" of nitroglycerin in the Magnolia Oil company's Chalk field number 4, located 20 miles southeast of here last night, caused a several minutes flow of oil at the rate of approximately 500 barrels per day. Workmen immediately shut off the flow and on reopening at 4 o'clock this morning another heavy flow, throwing the oil high on the derrick, resulted. The flow was again shut off and reports current here indicate the biggest well in the history of operation in this territory.

VETERAN STATESMAN, HERO OF MANY STORMY POLITICAL BATTLES, DIES AT AGE OF 90

DOMINANT SPIRIT WITH WHICH HE RULED OVER REPRESENTATIVES FOR SO LONG SUMMONED AS LIFE EBBED SLOWLY AWAY

(By the Associated Press)
DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 12.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon died here today at the age of 90.

In the rambling brick mansion he had built for his bride many years ago, life slowly ebbed away from the old statesman whose iron handed tactics in congress won him the title of czar of the house back in the days before his fall in 1919.

The same dominant spirit with which "Uncle Joe" ruled the house of representatives so many years was summoned by him in his fight against old age. He continued his daily walk in a town until physicians last May ordered him to replace it with an automobile ride, and in recent weeks his fading mind and body had not permitted him to leave his home.

The first indication that his condition was grave was given when his daughter, Helen, was summoned home from Kansas hurriedly in September. For the first time since he voted for Lincoln in 1860, Cannon failed to cast his ballot a week ago last Tuesday. He would have gone to the polls, he said, but a long period of rainy weather prevented him from registering.

On the stroke of twelve noon, "Uncle Joe" peacefully breathed his last. He simply slept away. He had been in a state of coma for about ten hours before the end came.

Dubbed "Uncle Joe"
Time scarcely had touched with silver the thin locks of Joseph Gurney Cannon when he, the nation had rechristened him "Uncle Joe." And under that title, confirmed by millions who never saw him, yet knew every line of his worn face and every whimsical trait of his intense personality, "Uncle Joe" came at last to end his career as oldest statesman of the nation.

He came back in 1872 when first he came out of Illinois to take his seat in the House, even then a picturesque, fire-eating political gladiator to whom the uproar of debate and the tense moments in committee were the breath of life. The yellowed pages show day by day how the hot blood of youth drove him into every arena, his tongue lashing out at his opponents, his quick mind formulating at call the instant.

U. S. O. R. C. Elects Mullican President

Col. Clark M. Mullican, judge of the 72 judicial district, was yesterday chosen as president of the temporary organization of a South Plains chapter of the National Reserve Officers' association. Twenty four reserve officers elected Lieut. A. R. Waite as first vice president; Maj. Meade C. Griffin, Plainview, second vice president; and Capt. N. L. Peters as secretary. Treasurer to aid Colonel Mullican in organization activities.

King Non-Committal

COPENHAGEN.—King Christian is unwilling to inform prohibitionists whether he likes intoxicants served at court functions. The dries inquired in a letter to the king; the Lord Chamberlain replied, saying the king's refusal to answer was a matter of principle.

Edison And Speed

ORANGE, N. J.—A gold key is one of the most prized things in Tom Edison's shops just now. He won it for beating three officials of the Lackawanna railroad in telegraphy.

"What do you think of Queen Marie?" was telegraphed to Tom. "I don't very often," was the reply, clicked off so fast that two competitors did not get it.

Wins Flag Prize

By NEA Service
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12.—Robert Lobser, 17 and of Latvian parentage, is the winner of first prize—a $750 scholarship—in a national contest conducted by the American Legion for the best "Patriotic Flag Creed."

HOTEL MAN HELD ON PRO CHARGE

The Saunders Hotel, 1211 Avenue H, was raided by county and city officers shortly after noon today, and the owner, R. F. Dillon, was arrested and lodged in jail after officers located more than 200 bottles of "jake" and "pear extract" in the building. Dillon is also the senior partner of the Corner Drug company, located at the corner of Avenue H and 12th street.

Officers had been informed that considerable extract and Jamaica ginger was stored in the hotel, so they applied for a search warrant and went to investigate. They were soon rewarded for several cases, including 224 bottles of "jake" and 191 bottles of pear extract, were found. The liquid was confiscated and moved to the sheriff's office, while the owner was lodged in jail.

At 2 o'clock Dillon had not made bond, though officers indicated that he would do so before the close of the day.

The "jake" was shipped to Lubbock from three wholesale stores; one of them being the Lone Star Products company of Dallas, while the National Coffee company with headquarters in Fort Worth is responsible for the pear extract, officers said shipping tags showed. The pear extract contains 50 per cent alcohol, while the "jake" contains from 85 to 92 per cent alcohol, according to label marks.

Lakes Liquor Filled SEINED ONE AT A TIME

Court Official Declares

Lakes in and near Lubbock are filled with "liquor" in the opinion of one court official. When a bootlegger locates a customer all he has to do is go out to the lake and do a little seining. He finds a bottle of liquid that will fill the bill and then delivers it.

But bootleggers are more or less suspicious. They never try to make a big haul—that is get enough whiskey to fill several orders at one time. They have found it a safer plan to make a special trip for each sale, for if the "law" gets too hot on their heels they can very easily break one bottle and then look as innocent as a lamb. If there were three or four of a half a dozen bottles they might be bunglesome and prove very embarrassing.

The same official said that he had not measured the liquor in Lubbock, but he felt safe to say that there was not less than 25,000 gallons of whiskey, wine and beer in the county.

THREE BANDITS MAKE ESCAPE IN DAYLIGHT RAID

INDIANA BANK ROBBED OF $140,000 DURING FIVE-MAN RAID

(By Associated Press)
MINOT, N. D., Nov. 12.—Three bandits held up the Citizens State bank of Wheelock, Williams county, today and shot and killed H. N. Peterson, 45, cashier of the bank.

Indiana Bank Robbed
LA PORTE, Ind., Nov. 12.—The Peoples Trust and Savings bank of LaPorte was held up and robbed today by five armed men who escaped with $140,000 of which $10,000 was cash and the remainder securities.

Apparently with intent to intimidate, one robber fired a sawed-off shotgun as the five entered the bank. The charge embedded itself in the ceiling.

The other four men drew revolvers lined up five customers waiting at the counter and took charge of the institution.

Employees Forced to Floor
About a dozen persons, including employees were in the bank. All were forced to lie on the floor while two robbers stood guard over them.

George McClane, president of the bank, was forced to lie down with the others as was a woman who entered while the robbers were at work.

The robbers cleared the tellers' tills of about $40,000 in currency, and then forced Cashier Harry Keller to open the vault and there about $100,000, chiefly in negotiable securities, was seized.

Texas Firm Charged With Fraud In Mails

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—A grand order was issued today by Postmaster General Noy against H. Williamson at Cleo, San Antonio and Brownwood, Texas and against the Williamson Brokerage company at Brownwood. They are accused of using the mails to defraud in the promotion of oil stocks.

Buzzard Flies Into Window; One Is Hurt

CORSICANA, Texas, Nov. 12. (AP)—Walter Scott, passenger on a south bound Interurban, was seriously injured when he overrode the sight of a buzzard flying against the car window, crashing into the car. The accident occurred near Rice. Scott is in a local hospital where attendants fear that he will lose the sight of his eye. The buzzard was killed.

Leahy Is Refused Change Of Venue

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Nov. 12. (AP)—Harry J. Leahy, must stand trial in Live Oak county on an indictment charging him with murder in connection with the slaying of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, aged Mathis physician last May.

Judge T. M. Cox, of the thirty-sixth district court so decreed this morning when he overruled a motion of the defense for a change of venue.

Immediately the defense offered motions to quash the special venire of 500 men summoned for jury service and force a continuance. Judge Cox ruled that the continuance motion should be taken up first.

WANT A GARDEN NEXT SPRING? NATURE WILL DO THE WORK

At the convention of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association in Philadelphia, I was pleased to observe that a statement was made to the effect that the famous gardens of English estates were now inferior to American ones. I regretted, however, that an amendment was added intimating that there was the general inferiority in flowers in America that there is across the water.

Be that as it may, I believe most firmly that the time is coming very soon when such a statement will not be true. People have held back from the simple business of growing their own peas largely because they imagine it to be a complicated, difficult business that requires a sort of sixth sense to operate.

Now they are beginning to learn that it is the simplest thing in the world to turn up a bit of soil and put in a few seeds, or bulbs. Nature does the rest. As usual, Mother Nature will come ninety-nine per cent of the way if we take but one step in the direction. But we must take the first step.

Do you realize that an ugly little bulb that looks like an onion, stuck into the ground a couple of inches on the ground is soft and muddy now and this is the time for bulbs, any time before the ground freezes hard) will be a beautiful tulip or jonquil out any further efforts on your part? Freezing doesn't hurt it. Nothing will hurt it short of digging it up, and you have no idea what a thrill you will get when you see it poking its little green nose above the ground in March.

Bulbs are cheap. I paid twenty-five cents a dozen for tulips the other day. And a dozen make quite a show. For a dollar you can have a whole bed of them. And they come up every year for you without you so much as whistling. Department stores, seed stores, and even 5 and 10 cent stores, sell bulbs.

You can't get imported bulbs this year. They are the best, of course. But somebody passed a law keeping them out of our country. Why, I do not know. They were not diseased. Our biggest seed merchants assure us they were perfect. Why the law no one knows. But we have home-grown bulbs! They may not be so big or have such large blossoms, but they will be sweet and gay. When they finish blooming, scatter a dime's worth of flower seed for summer. You will never be without flowers after that. You need very little ground.

Brief Social Items

Mrs. Earl Moore is entertaining the Merry Twenty-four club this evening at her home on 15th street.

Mesdames Doris Armstrong, Maude Williams and Gladys Covington of Floydada visited in Lubbock Thursday.

Miss Mary Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott, is to spend the week-end in Dallas as a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Marr. She will be an honor guest at a bridge party this evening with Mrs. Marr as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Marr and daughter, Miss Velma Marr, of Dallas, spent Thursday in Lubbock as guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott.

Menu For Today

BREAKFAST—Apple sauce, cereal cooked with raisins in cream, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed oysters on toast, head lettuce with French Russian dressing, ginger bread with whipped cream, milk tea.

DINNER—Veal cutlets, creamed potatoes, squash croquettes, pineapple and cabbage salad, graham rolls, chocolate cream cake, milk, coffee.

If you are sure to serve some of the catsup or chili sauce you made this fall with your veal cutlets, you will find the dish greatly improved. Veal needs the sharpness of a piquant sauce to make it interesting. Falling catsup make a simple tomato sauce and serve with, not over the cutlets.

Such croquettes are a hearty vegetable dish suitable to serve with a light meat course such as veal or pork chops.

Squash Croquettes
Two cups cooked and sifted squash, 1 cup chopped nuts, 2 tablespoons butter, cream, salt and pepper, 1 egg, dried bread crumbs.

Bake a good sized squash, scrape from shell and rub pulp through a colander. Add nuts, butter, salt and pepper and cream to moist enough to handle. Form into small balls and let stand until cold and firm. Roll in crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 teaspoon milk and roll in crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat and drain.

Another Girl Is Gunman's Victim

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—A maniac marksman was sought today by police unable to explain otherwise the shooting of two young girls during a period of twenty four hours.

The wounding of 14 year old Esther Hass had not seemed so mysterious at first, but with a succession of cold trails and the circumstances, became as baffling as those of the slaying of Victoria Dorothy Delemata, 15 year old high school girl.

Several hours after the Hass girl was shot down in a field near her Blue Island home, detectives made an arrest on a theory that a stray bullet was responsible.

School Boy Questioned
One of the sisters, who witnessed the shooting, identified a school boy as having been in a nearby field at the youth denied he had a gun and his mother said he had been at home at the time of the shooting. Eventually he was released. The girl is expected to recover.

Meanwhile South Chicago police groped for clues in the killing of the Delemata girl, who was shot down the night before, within a hundred yards of her home, while returning from a violin lesson.

A theory of mistaken identity was proved erroneous.

Poincare Demands Budget Discussion

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Premier Poincare demanded the indefinite postponement of all interpellation on political and financial matters and the immediate discussion of the budget for 1927 when the chamber of deputies reconvened this evening.

The made postponement of interpellation a question of confidence, this immediately making the vote a test of strength of his government.

Bids On Mertzon Wool Is Refused

SAN ANELO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Bids on 95,000 pounds of fall short wool, its season's accumulation, were rejected Thursday by the West Texas Wool and Mohair association of Mertzon.

The offering followed bids here Wednesday on 89,140 pounds, of which only 148,425 pounds was sold. Mertzon bids, while unannounced, were reported to have been lower than those received by the Wool Growers Central Storage company of San Angelo, the peak of which, it was understood, was 27 7/8 cents per pound. Most of the buyers left San Angelo today for Kerrville to attend Charles Schreiner offering Saturday of 800,000 pounds.

Adopt Three Children

Cecelia started life as a hungry little daughter of poverty. Now her slightest wish is answered by her father's millions.

But the De Milles have not been satisfied with bringing up their one child in luxury. They have adopted three other children, Catherine 15, John 11, and Richard 3. They make no distinction between their own child and their foster children.

"I believe every wealthy man should adopt as many children as his home will hold," says Cecil De Milie. "Because I worked so hard for my money, I realize what it means, and I know how to use it for my children's benefit—and not for their ruin."

Twenty years of married happiness Milles believe that where there's a will to harmony, there's a way. "We didn't start out with the idea of divorce. We started out to see this marriage through to the end of life. And that's why we've been happy," they say.

Mrs. Chitwood Good Business Woman As Well As Food Expert; She Opens Avalanche-Journal School Monday

Mrs. Ida M. Chitwood, who will conduct the Avalanche-Journal's third annual free cooking school here next week, is not only a successful home economist and food expert, but she is also a most astute business woman.

Being familiar with conditions in West Texas after visits to the section of the state Mrs. Chitwood invested a small fortune to augment her earnings as a teacher of household and kitchen efficiency.

"Rigger and better than ever" is the slogan adopted for the Avalanche-Journal's school next week and plans for the greatest convenience of its kind in the history of West Texas are being worked forward. The school opens at two o'clock on Monday afternoon, November 15, and will be held in the basement of the Temple Ellis building, located on the southeast corner of Broadway and Avenue I. The school will continue on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, each class opening at two o'clock and closing at four. Mrs. Chitwood has a larger and more comprehensive course than ever before, she has notified the Avalanche-Journal, and since holding her school here last fall has studied under eastern food experts and had adopted a new and entirely different program for her classes.

Stage Being Erected
A large stage is being erected in one end of the basement of the Ellis building, on which will be placed Mrs. Chitwood's famous "Model Kitchen." Everything to make the work in the kitchen more pleasant and more efficient will be placed in the "Model Kitchen" and will be demonstrated by the expert while she is in Lubbock. Seats to comfortably accommodate between 500 and 600 ladies are being arranged and the basement will be well heated, ventilated and well lighted for the benefit of the ladies who will attend the school as the guests of the Morning Avalanche and the Daily Journal.

Ladies attending the classes are urged to bring notebooks and pencils with them so that they may jot down the high points of Mrs. Chitwood's addresses and demonstrations. The program of each day's class will be different than that of the one before.

Fingerprint Expert Here

Wayne W. Basham, former member of the police forces in Gainesville and Lubbock, has opened a detective and identification bureau in the Crump building here, he said today. Mr. Basham has had wide experience in his line and in addition to his work as an officer of the law is a fingerprint expert. A great part of his work will be along the line of private investigation.

Persis will spend more than $1,000,000 on its highways within the next year.

Six Defendants In Fraud Case Dismissed

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Charges against six of the sixteen defendants in the Morse stock fraud trial were dismissed in court today. Three sons of Charles W. Morse remain among the defendants.

The men dropped from further prosecution are James R. Nelson, Arthur W. Kohler, Lawrence N. Bremer, Maurice M. O'Purdy and Edward Lucas, curb brokers, and James Gill, who handled the publicity on the stock of the U. S. Shipping corporation.

Discusses Marriage for Money or Social Prestige is Unstable Compact

Mrs. Philip Lydig is astounding America. At last she opens the door to her life-time of experience—her associations with the men and women of New York's ultra-smart society. Tragedies that make you gasp are given in boldest relief—and in the next breath she tells you of the ridiculous and often amusing aspects of smart New York society.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

As Discussed by JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY

OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered.

People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs.

For example, he says—"The love triangle is often a happy solution to marriage problems. One's love-life is his own, and as long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn."

"That infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy."

"That freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamous marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored. You will suddenly wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you! It is a vital issue—and will be thrust into your own life with tremendous force, if it has not entered already. Which side of the fence are you on—have you the courage to agree with Judge Lindsey?

Who understands people in all their pretense and sham, groping and floundering, better than the author—the real author who does not exaggerate or color—but who paints words as true and realistic as any snapshot of life!

And never before have we been able to offer you a group of such popular and beloved writers as in this December Red Book Magazine—authors who write of the people of today with a shrewd, understanding that is uncanny in its realism. Such as Rupert Hughes, Owen Johnson, Rita Weisman, Leroy Scott, Virginia Dale, Struthers Burr, Samuel Lipewack and others—all names that mean stories that live for you, packed with the pulsating romance of Life—its ecstasies and tragedies.

Hamlet Honey Moon to Happiness

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. De Milie and three of their children, Catherine, Cecelia and John

By DAN THOMAS

NEA Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 12.—"Hearts Are Trumps," said the billboards. And "Hearts are trump," said Cecil De Milie to himself. Whereupon, despite poverty, artistic obscurity and social disparity between himself and Constance Adams, he went out forthwith and married the lady.

Both had been members of the "Hearts Are Trumps" company. All this happened many moons before De Milie became a name to conjure with in the film capital of America. Twenty years ago it was that Constance Adams, a judge's daughter and popular debutante of Orange, N. J., took her fling at the stage, and gave her heart to a strolling player who couldn't even pay for a honeymoon.

Footlight honeymoon But she did not miss the wedding trip afterward. For De Milie was, if not approved, at least resourceful. He got them both a job in a company which was to tour in "Hamlet" to the Pacific Coast.

And that tour was their honeymoon. After two weeks in Los Angeles, they decided that they would come back some time and make the town their home. Six years later they did return to Hollywood, and have lived there ever since.

Miss Adams' parents, contrary to tradition, had approved the match. But the young husband at first found it very hard to reward their faith in his ability.

Like all players, he had times of prosperity and jobless periods of tramping from agency to agency in search of work. After the De Milie baby, Cecelia, was born, her father often walked from 14th street to 157th street to save his nickel to buy milk for her.

"I had plenty of time to walk, but I had few nickels," he explains. "So I walked."

Adopt Three Children Cecelia started life as a hungry little daughter of poverty. Now her slightest wish is answered by her father's millions.

But the De Milies have not been satisfied with bringing up their one child in luxury. They have adopted three other children, Catherine 15, John 11, and Richard 3. They make no distinction between their own child and their foster children.

"I believe every wealthy man should adopt as many children as his home will hold," says Cecil De Milie. "Because I worked so hard for my money, I realize what it means, and I know how to use it for my children's benefit—and not for their ruin."

Twenty years of married happiness Milles believe that where there's a will to harmony, there's a way. "We didn't start out with the idea of divorce. We started out to see this marriage through to the end of life. And that's why we've been happy," they say.

DURAY WINS 100 MILE FEATURE AT CHARLOTTE

HARTZ SETS NEW RECORD FOR 50 MILE RUN AND LOCKHART WINS 25

(By The Associated Press) SPEEDWAY, CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 12.—Leon Duray of Beverly Hills, Calif., won the 100 mile feature race at the Charlotte speedway here after Harry Hartz had broken the world's record for 50 miles for motors of 81.5 piston displacement and Frank Lockhart had established a new mark for 25 miles.

Hartz's new record for the 50 mile event by roaring around the mile and a quarter speedway at an average rate of 129.35 miles an hour, which eclipsed the 128.24 mark made by Peter de Paolo at Salem, N. H., last July.

Lockhart won the first 25 mile race at a speed of 123.3 miles an hour, which shattered the record of 120.23 held by Leon Duray.

The second 25 mile event was won by Dave Lewis, at an average speed of 127 miles per hour.

Lockhart had the 100 mile race sewed up until the connecting rod on his car was broken and he was compelled to withdraw on the 44th lap.

Lockhart's car also developed engine trouble in the fifty mile event and Hennie Hill became ill after the race.

At the half way mark Hartz again plunged into the lead and held it until the race was completed.

Lockhart won his new speed crown in the first race of the day when a spectacular finish gave him the victory in the 25 mile event over Hill.

Hill Leads But Gives Way In the 50 mile sprint, Hennie Hill took the lead at the start, but on the fourth lap he was forced to give way to Lockhart.

'Nother Walsh

Charley Walsh

The name of Walsh continues to play a stellar role in Notre Dame athletics.

Back in 1924 Adam Walsh was captain and center of the Notre Dame team considered the outstanding eleven in college circles.

In the recent game with Northwestern which Notre Dame had a hard time winning 6-0, it was Charley Walsh, a brother of Adam, who caught the forward pass for a 50-yard gain, making possible the winning touchdown.

Slashing Drives Of Scarlet And Black Too Much For Wildcats And A. C. C. Crew Goes Down Here 29 To 6

Displaying a real offensive drive, the first of its class ever shown on the Matador gridiron, the Scarlet eleven defeated the archrival Felinos of the Athlete Christian College by a score of 29 to 6 here Thursday in the Armistice day feature.

'Big U' Freedland and Higginbotham showed to the football world yesterday that they have two sets of backs who can crash into the mightiest of defense, if they are of the temperament.

The flaming colors of the Tech crew marched consistently down the gridiron under the direction of Floyd Woodbridge, brilliant quarter, and scored four touchdowns, a field goal, by 'Bitch' Hill, two extra point kicks to pile up the Toreador's largest score of the season.

Walker Outstanding The scintillating threat of Walker was truly the characteristic performance of the afternoon; his long gains on end dashes, at line plays, and off tackle plays brought the frenzied fans to their feet and again during the program, Walker, who is like-ly to get loose in any game, rushed down the gridiron for the longest run of the game for a touchdown.

Twice this pass has been pulled by the Matadors and both times has been executed perfectly for touchdowns. The first time the Matadors attempted it was against the Progs of T. C. U. and then in the game yesterday.

Many Figure In Gains Woodbridge, 'Bitch' Hill, Roy Stevens, Cappelman, Duke Lassiter, Archibald Nicholson, and the Hamilton lads, 'Red and Iron head' all contributed flashy moments in the contest, plowing the forward wall of the Cats, skirting the ends, and stunning the rapid fire of the Felino passes.

Powell and Robinson, both fleetly and good gainers, were the only ones to successfully make the Freedland defense. Powell's return on punts was a sensation, often returning the kicks for 20 yards.

Passes Are Effective Three of the Matador touchdowns were made on passes. The first count was made in the early part of the initial quarter when Powell's punt went straight up and was downed by 'Red Smith' on the Matador 27 yard line and on several smashing plays the Scarlet and Black crew advanced the ball to the Wildcat 4 yard line where they were stopped; Powell again punted out which placed the ball on the Felino 23 yard line and from here it was a pass, Walker to Woodbridge for a touchdown; the second count was made by the Tech crew was on the triple pass for 44 yards. The third count was made after Robinson fumbled and Vinzant recovered on the A. C. C. 24 yard line and Hill and Walker, aided with a pass, Hill to Woodbridge, Hill bucked it over.

The Cats only count was made when Woodbridge fumbled on his own 29 yard line and Powell carried it over.

NEW RELATIONS SOUGHT BY BIG THREE LEADERS

EFFORTS AT PEACE MOVE STARTED BY HEAD OF HARVARD BOARD

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—While some Alumni of Harvard sought to restore athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard, possible new football alignments were being discussed today as an outgrowth of the most sensational college capture in years.

An eastern conference, a new 'big three,' consisting of Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth, and resumption of a long 'discarded' Pennsylvania-Princeton series, were among the possibilities suggested.

Seek Peace Moves In the face of apparent determination on the part of Princeton to stand firm in its declaration, Harvard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific railroad and president of the Harvard board of overseers, was joined by Yale men in opening wedges for peace.

Hope that authorities of the two institutions, will come together and bury the hatchet, was voiced by Mr. Elliott, who said that the break "affects much more the graduates of these two historic colleges than it affects to undergraduates."

Would Hurt Alumni Princeton and Harvard graduates all over the country are closely associated socially, in professional and business life, and in work for civic advancement.

Mr. Elliott added, "This unfortunate incident will strain these pleasant and useful relations and do harm."

A entirely different view of the situation is taken by G. H. Chase, dean of the graduate school at Harvard, who looks upon the rupture as "bound to be a good thing."

"It will put more life and good sportsmanship in football in the east," he said. "Harvard, Yale and Princeton have been tied together too long in football. This break will force an enlargement of their playing schedules and may lead to the formation of a big ten in the east."

MATADOR HALF IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Edgar 'B' Cappelman, scintillating forward pass receiver of the Scarlet and Black crew, who on two occasions received starting passes, the last one for a touchdown, in yesterday's game with A. C. C. will likely be out of the game for the remainder of the season as he is suffering with a broken shoulder.

Cappelman received the injury in his first play but with the true fighting spirit remained in the game until it was absolutely necessary that he come out and first knowledge of his injury was made on the sideline; he was substituted by Archibald.

While in the game Cappelman netted twenty-five yards on passes and one touchdown. Two successive passes were received by the fleetly half back and were no doubt the most sensational plays of the game as he was forced to leap high to bring the passes down.

at an inquest. The cottage, surrounded by a wooden picket fence, sat near the San Antonio and Arkansas Pass Railroad at Gaston, about a mile and a half from the Blakeley ranch house. The highway 1 1/2 between the house and railroad. Two chimney trees grew in the front yard and behind the house were chicken coops and shanties for horses and stock.

Quartered Near Scene
Chatham and his squad of ten or twelve Mexican workers lived in a car on the railroad siding. In the cottage Wednesday night were Scott Evans, negro, 50, employed on the ranch for 20 years; Frazier Holmes, negro, 50, Robert Browning, negro cowboy and his wife, Sylvia.

Shots Ring Out
The sound of foot steps clumping down the hall, a volley of shots and Evans' scream: "My God, they've killed me!"

Still other shouts were "you niggers come out of there. We are not going to hurt anybody that did not have anything to do with this," Chatham said.

Hearing Postponed
HOUSTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Preliminary hearing of Tamm Evans, negro, held on a murder charge in connection with the killing of Wallace Crowder last Sunday, was called off Friday by Campbell Overstreet, Houston justice of the peace. The case was to have been held at 2 p. m. The charge was referred direct to the grand jury.

Andrews School Is Accepted By Board
FLOYDADA, Nov. 12—The Andrews ward school, recently completed, was accepted by the school board last week and the opening was held Monday of this week. This marks another step in the progress of the Floydada independent school district, which now has a total valuation of $210,000.

Uncle Joe Cannon Succumbs Closing Colorful Career

expedients that are the weapons of political combat. Month by month he climbed toward leadership, growing more knowing as each session brought its new conflicts, hardening with time into the forceful, relentless champion of his party, until that day when the grave was placed in his hands and he was mourned by the nation as a master of the House to rule alone for four years as few men before him had ruled that body.

Many Picturesque Tales
"Uncle Joe" was then a veteran and in the heyday of his power. Around him had gathered a lore of tales, some true, some false, but all picturesque and through the news columns and cartoons his personality had been stamped indelibly on the minds of men all over the land.

Defeated Only Twice
In the political deluge that fell upon his party two years later, "Uncle Joe" failed in re-election for the second time in his national career. Once before he had practiced law in Danville after his defeat for Congress. When he came back again at the next election, age had begun to cool his ardor. He sat many days without sharing in debate and it was only in flashes that his old fire showed when he took the floor.

Political Probe Is Asked In Virginia
CHARLESTON, Va., Nov. 12 (AP)—The senate campaign funds committee was asked today by Representative J. Alfred Taylor, democrat, to extend its investigation to West Virginia, if it has jurisdiction. Representative Taylor was defeated by 28 votes for re-election in the sixth West Virginia congressional district by E. C. England, republican.

SENATORS RAP COOLIDGE TALK

Opinions Differ But Approval Of Declarations Seem To Hold Upper Hand
(WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Mixed feelings in which approval seemed to predominate were expressed today in senatorial comment upon President Coolidge's declaration yesterday in Kansas City, that there would be little prospect of American adherence to the world court unless the nations now members accepted the senate reservations.

Says Will Survive
"Mighty good so far as it goes," said Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, who led the group of 18 senators in vigorous opposition to American adherence, even with reservations, but Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, staunch supporter of the court with safeguarded reservations, declared that "the world court will survive this valdication."

Speech Sets Index
"The president's speech sets the index for the American attitude toward world events and I go with him in declaring that the deliberate action of the senate, in ratifying the protocol of the so-called world court, marks the limit of American entanglements in old world politics."

Illness Holds Court To Slow Movement Here
District court machinery has been moving very slowly this week, and it now appears that if as many as four or five minor cases are tried during the week conditions will have to change. Delays have been frequent and in most instances no individual can be held responsible for the delay.

Many Cases Postponed But State Is Ready In All Instances
District Attorney Howard is ready to try about 30 criminal cases; but lawyers for the defense are not so anxious to begin work. Several cases have been continued and postponed on account of witnesses being sick; others because lawyers were not ready for trial.

Lucero Cases Postponed
The cases of State of Texas vs. M. Lucero were called early today, but trial had to be postponed until Monday of next week as Lucero's attorneys were neither able to be present today. Judge Marshall is sick at his home and Hill Stewart is at the bedside of a sister who is critically ill.

The Case of Hershel Hamilton
The case of Hershel Hamilton, (colored) was continued as the defendant is out of the city attending the funeral of his mother. Hamilton is charged with violating the prohibition law.

Witnesses In Above Case Were Dismissed By The Court
Witnesses in the above case were dismissed by the court early Monday, with the exception of those in the Terry case who will not report until the January term.

There are two other cases, the State of Texas vs. L. W. Utley, who is charged by indictment with burglary, and J. P. Lynch, charged with violating the prohibition law, that will be called this afternoon, it was announced at the morning session, and very likely one of them will be tried during the afternoon.

The case against Don F. McCombs, who is charged with violating the prohibition law, was called Wednesday and could have been tried today had officers been able to locate the defendant who is out on bond.

Built to make radio tubes work better and LAST LONGER!

HERE is a new "A" battery made especially for radio use. An exclusive formula used in its construction enables it to deliver steady, level voltage and gives it extraordinary long life.

Like all Ray-O-Vac batteries, it has staying power. It retains its strength when not in use, and after being used it starts to rebuild its strength the instant the current is turned off.

Ray-O-Vac batteries are used and endorsed by the leading radio engineers of the world—men who know radio and who know what it demands of batteries.

The best way to be sure of getting radio "A" batteries with uniform voltage and staying power is to ask for Ray-O-Vacs No. 1211 by name and number and identify them by the carton shown here.

You can buy Ray-O-Vac batteries ("A", "B" and "C") at the better radio and electrical dealers, music and department stores and auto supply shops.

CAMPUS REBELS

BY VIRGINIA SWAIN COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

JUDITH MARTIN, English teacher at Pendleton University, sides with ERIC WATERS in his rebellion against DEAN TIMOTHY BROWN.

DR. PETER DORN, astronomy professor, admires her and disapproves of Eric.

MYRA ALDRICH is in love with Eric and torn between affection for Judith and jealousy of Myra. Eric is suspected of complicity with "KITTY" SHEA, town bootlegger, in selling poison liquor from which two students have died. Judith publicly defends him.

Judith befriends Mrs. Timothy Brown and keeps the secret of Mrs. Brown's love affair, discovered in a week-end trip to the city.

"KITTY" Shea tries to blackmail Mrs. Brown and threatens to expose the fact that Judith and Eric dined at the Blue Moon roadhouse, the night it was raided.

Judith appeals to Eric for help.

Dr. Dorn, having seen Eric climb down the trellis from Judith's room, and not knowing that he had merely ascended to ask her to unlock the door for Myra, is now avoiding Judith.

Myra asks Judith to stay in her sorority house to supervise the servants during Christmas holidays.

The professor comes to the house to see Judith, but Myra captures him at the door.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVI

Myra danced into the parlor, beckoning to the professor. But he fell back for a moment to speak to Judith.

"I'll come back again, to see you," he said, shame-facedly.

Judith turned away toward the stairs. When the door slammed a few minutes later, she could see from her position by the desk, that Myra was clinging to his arm and chattering gaily, as they walked up the street.

"No mistletoe," said the man at the flower store, next door to the College Inn. "No market for it nowadays. What does this neckin' and muggin' generation want with mistletoe? Don't need any excuse to kiss. Plenty of fine holly wreaths, though. Couple of poinsettia plants too."

"I don't want the holly," said Judith. But she stopped to finger the velvety red flowers of the poinsettia. At last she drew a bill from her purse. "Please send this one to Mrs. Timothy Brown, 811 Avon place," she said, to the clerk. He handed her a blank card and a pen.

"Better write 'Congratulations' on that card," said Eric Waters, stepping up behind her.

Judith turned in surprise. Eric was carrying a traveling bag. "Just making the train for home, Judith," he said. "I've been trying to call you all day. Let's get out of here, and I'll explain."

Eric handed the card to the florist and left the store with Judith.

"I've seen Shea," said he. "We had a heart-to-heart talk. I think you needn't worry about him any more. That's why I said you might congratulate Mrs. Brown."

Judith looked at him inquiringly, but he shook his head. "Don't worry about the how of it," he said. "Just forget the whole affair, and have as merry a Christmas as you can. It's rotten that you are to be in this dead hole alone."

Judith smiled and Eric said no more. When they reached the corner leading to the railroad station, he held out his hand. "Good by, Judith. And please take care of yourself. I don't like to leave you here. And I think you should see that the Gamma Delta house is thoroughly locked up, every night."

He held her hand tightly for a moment, and abruptly walked away.

The walk home was not reassuring. The Christmas exodus was well under way. Judith passed happy groups on the sidewalks, bound station-ward, and the street was full of hurrying taxis and baggage trucks.

When she reached her boarding house, Myra's large wardrobe trunk was just descending the stairs, on the shoulders of two puffing men.

Myra called to her as she climbed the steps. She was standing in the door of Judith's room, wearing the new fur coat and a little green hat, and hugging a monstrous basket of fruit.

This she held out to Judith with a sigh of relief. "Merry Christmas, Jude. And all I ask of you is, please remember to tell me what's in the little silver foil wrappers scattered among the fruit. I've always wanted to know."

"Take one and see," laughed Judith. But Myra shook her head.

There was an ominous crash from below stairs, she called. Myra ran to the railing. "Don't jim that trunk," she called. Then, turning to Judith, "I'm going to dump everything out of it, and bring it back filled with new clothes. Mother's still in the West Indies, and Dad is so much wax in my hands."

She gave Judith a fly-away kiss and ran downstairs. Shortly afterward, a taxi, with Judith in it, whirled into Providence road. The Gamma Delta house was a great white Colonial structure, gaily accented in its square lawn, with the college golf links stretching away to the east and a wooded pasture that belonged to one of the old estates of the town as its western outlook.

The two-story portico, with its four great pillars, enclosed a wide and hospitable door. There were lights in many of the windows.

The servant who answered Judith's knock was a handsome young mulatto, with flashing eyes and a crisp little mustache. He surveyed her inquiringly as he led her over polished floors to the winding stairway. Judith caught glimpses of rich paneling and heavy furniture, through the side arches that opened into other rooms. "All the young ladies is gone, miss," said the man.

In the upstairs hall, she found every door but one standing open. In the bedrooms, disorder ran riot, with clothing and wrapping material scattered about on the floors.

A negro maid came running up the stairs. "This room, miss," she said, opening the one closed door. The room beyond had been set to rights. One wall was composed of six windows in a row, which looked just over the front floor. Outside, the four pillars swept up past the windows to the roof.

Judith set her bags down and looked around. There was a small fireplace and some built-in book shelves in one wall. Opposite them was the inland dressing table, on which was enthroned a long, limp doll with red wool hair and grotesque limbs twisted in knots.

The maid was watching Judith with more than casual interest. "We didn't know you were comin' tonight," she said. "Thought you'd be here in the mornin'." She went out, closing the door sharply.

Judith prepared for dinner. She ate it in solitary state, at one of the great dining tables, with the mulatto hovering about, in evident haste to finish serving her.

"Do you all live in the house?" asked Judith.

"No'm, just me and cook—she's my sister. Amarylla has home nights—she's do maid." He shot a cuff back to smelt an ornate wrist watch. Judith swallowed her dessert hastily.

As she rose, she shivered slightly. The man noticed it. "No'm, I'll put some coal on de fire. Let it get kind-a-burn. Been huntin' all afternoon. Brought back twelve cotton-tails and a 'possum." His face widened in a grin.

Judith ran upstairs for her hat and coat. When she came back, the mulatto was not to be seen. She went through the passage that evidently led to the kitchen.

She opened the kitchen door and stopped. The room was full of negroes, seated on the chairs and tables and on the floor. A general expression of gloom was visible on their faces.

At Judith's entrance, several rose awkwardly. She saw the mulatto looking at her defiantly, and noticed that he held a shot gun in his hand. On the floor at his feet lay the bodies of the 'possum and the rabbits.

Judith turned to the young maid, "I am going to the movies," she said. "Please lock the house carefully tonight and leave lights burning. If you go to bed before I return, the girl nodded. Smiles broke out on the faces of several of the negroes, and the houseman bent over his rabbits again.

In the lobby of the theatre, Judith met Dean Angela now, who halted her with delight. "Come sit with me," he cried, "and I'll take you home in the coupe afterwards." Judith gladly assented.

The picture was an amusing one, and they came out of

ZONING SYSTEM IN CITY GIVEN WOMEN'S OKEY

CLUBS TO APPEAL TO DAN MOODY FOR AID IN CONTROL MEANS

By the Associated Press. DALLAS, Nov. 12.—Federal club women of Texas today took a step toward securing the zoning system, which the neighborhood garden, filling station, and other alleged nuisances in residence districts.

Calling upon Governor-elect Dan Moody and members of the legislature to do something to protect residential districts from the intrusion of the commercial invaders. "We realize that cities must have stores and factories of all kinds in order to supply the needs and desires of the people, but we insist that there are places in every city much better situated from every standpoint than our residential districts and that such locations can only be correctly determined through comprehensive city planning."

PASSENGER KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Barry Miller is Heard

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, who said he was "scared" and did not have any more idea what he was going to say "than the man in the moon," advocated passage of a national child labor law and a minimum wage. He advised the women to get legislators "lined up" before they are elected, because he said it was too late to get them on record after election.

Auto Of Local Man Burns Last Night

An Overland automobile, the property of P. J. Hogan, mortician with the Baker Furniture and Undertaking company, was burned Wednesday night just outside of the city limits on the Milton highway. Mr. Hogan was returning to Lubbock and noticed a blaze flare up from the foot board of the car. He stopped immediately and jumped from the car and as he did the vacuum tank blew up, scattering parts of the car in every direction. Mr. Hogan says the car was a total loss without any insurance.

Dallas Will Seek Culture Of Roses

YAN NUYS, CALIF., Nov. 12 (AP)—Donald Rossiter, 21, of Los Angeles, a passenger, was killed when a north bound air mail plane of the Pacific Air Transport company crashed from an altitude of 3,800 feet into Whitley canyon, three miles south of here, early today.

The crash occurred shortly after the plane had left Los Angeles for Seattle. Widener told police he was flying at an altitude of 3,800 feet when he ran into rain clouds. He said he saw his ship was about to go into a tall spin, and called to Rossiter, who also was wearing a parachute, to jump. He said he shouted to Rossiter twice more to jump and then he himself leaped from the plane.

Horace McFarlan, editor of the Rose Annual, who is a member of the American Rose Society, has been invited to lecture at the rose school.

During the sessions, educational displays will be put forth in schools, churches and clubs, including luncheon clubs, boys and girls clubs, and civic organizations, and by means of radio and advertising. Fifteen woman representatives of club and civic organizations have pledged their efforts to the educational campaign.

SAINT AND SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

"Is that 'wee-wee' female gone?" "Long" Lane flung his cap to the sideboard and dragged a chair up to the still unset dining table. "When do we eat? You frails may think this georgette crepe or whatever you call it looks good enough to eat, but I'm a working man, I am, and I crave food."

Faith swept the scraps of chiffon from the dining table and flung a white oil cloth upon it. "Has Dad come in yet? Mother's feeling badly today, and I've been keeping an eye on her and helping Madame Denise, too. And I'm so tired I could lie right down and die," she moaned, almost in tears. "When I get married—if I ever do—I'm going to sleep. No big church wedding for me."

"You and me both," Junior returned as he cheerfully. "Me and Fay have it all doped out—just a raid on the city hall, a pow-wow with the justice of the peace, and the deed'll be done."

"You and Fay?" Faith stopped short in dismay, her hands full of dishes from the sideboard. "Oh, Junior! You're not really thinking of getting married, are you? You're so awfully young! And Fay—"

"I'm nearly twenty-two, the oldest one of the bunch," "Long" thrust out his lower lip in little-boy petulance. "And I'll wreck the joint if anyone else throws it up to me about Fay's being married before. She wasn't really married, and you know it as well as I do. Her Dad had the marriage annulled."

Fay set the dishes upon the table with a bang, such an unusual sign of irritability that "Long" whistled with amusement.

"Steady old girl! What you grouchin' about? Gore because Bob Hathaway's give you the gate? Saw him out driving today with Selma Pruitt. He was showing her them new bungalows Dad's building for him out in Enfield. Why don't you pep up a little, if you want to boss him? Learn to strut your stuff, like Cherry does! Learn to do the Charleston, take the brakes off them big brown eyes of yours! You're not bad lookin', Faith, honest! But you've got a lot of high-class competition in this old burg."

"Oh, shut up!" Faith rumbled his hair affectionately, unable to resist his heavy-footed, well-meaning cheerfulness. "Joy!" she called sharply. "Where in the world is that child?" "Well, I guess I'm coming, ain't I?" Joy retorted impudently, appearing with her mouth smeared with tell-tale chocolate sauce.

"You've been into the dessert again," Faith seized her little sister's hand and slapped it sharply. "Oh, hello, Dad! Leo look tired, honest. Things going all right on the job?" Her irritability vanished as she laid her smooth white cheek against his wrinkled, leathery one.

"Kessie's fell down on the cement job," her father told her wistfully. "The driveway's got to be torn out and put in again. Looks like I may be late on my contract and have to forfeit that five hundred I put up!" "Oh, surely not!" Faith soothed him, but her eyes betrayed her dismay. "Don't give up too easily, dear. It probably won't rain again for a month. Mother's not feeling very well. She's been asking for you. Supper's nearly ready, but Cherry isn't here yet."

"I don't guess she'll be here, either," her father spoke with dull, angry weariness. "I saw Cherry in Chris Wiley's roadster."

"Oh, Dad!" Faith's hand went to her throat. "Are you sure? I don't think she'd be so foolish—"

"Ain't got a lick of sense and never did have," Jim Lane retorted bitterly. "I ain't mistaken. Wiley's car got held up in traffic right along side the street car, and I caught her eye. I yelled to her to get out of that car and come home with me, but that scoundrel shot his car ahead and she had the gall to wave at me."

"No, and that ain't the first time," "Long" struck the table sharply with the knife which Joy had just given him. "I think she's been pulling the wool over Dad's eyes long enough. Faith, and it's time he knew the tricks she's up to. She's out with him two or three times a week. And her wedding day less than a month off!"

"Faith, can I go to the movies with Cora Parson? Her mother's going to take her to the seven o'clock show at the Cozy."

"You know you can't go to a movie on a school night," Faith protested wearily. "Why do you keep asking over and over? And why did you get home from school so late today?" Joy began to cry noisily. "I don't never have any fun," she sobbed. "All the other kids get to go to the movies five times as much as I do."

"Why didn't you get home before five o'clock today?" Faith demanded sternly, although the slight of the convulsed little face wrenched her with pity.

"Well, I guess it ain't my fault if that old hell-cat, Miss Peabody, made me sit on the school steps for an hour and a half! She's got it in for me, she has! Picks on me all the time since Cherry got engaged to that old man! I didn't do nothin' but eat a piece of candy in 'rhythmic class.'"

Another grief directly traceable to Cherry's insane engagement, Faith thought bitterly, as she stooped to kiss the trembling tips of her little sister.

ENGINEERS HONORED

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 12.—The unusual distinction of election to Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, has been accorded one junior and eight senior students at the University of Texas. They are J. Wayne Couster of Fort Worth, the junior and Leland L. Antes of San Antonio, S. June Bell of Tenaha, William A. Cunningham of Austin, W. Lee Moore, Jr. of Wichita Falls, Glenn C. Hunt of Austin, Mercer H. Parks of Wichita Falls, and Albert R. Thomas of Wichita. It is the purpose of Tau Beta Pi to mark in a fitting manner those engineering students who have distinguished themselves in scholarship and character while in the University.

LEGION WANTS TO BANISH WAR LEADER AVOWS

BEST PREVENTATIVE IS ADEQUATE DEFENSE SAVAGE SAYS

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 12.—The American Legion went to war once, and with honor, wants no more of it, Howard P. Savage, national commander of the legion, declared in an address here last night at a legion day dinner.

While the legion is pushing forward its endeavor of community betterment, providing good homes and an even chance in life for the orphans of the veterans, it is not forgetful of the horrors of war and he determination of preventing future wars.

Need Adequate Defense

"It believes and is insistent that the best preventative is adequate defense. The Legion stood squarely behind the national defense act of 1925, and today it insists that the provisions that act be observed. The legion asks that as a national insurance against war, because the legion went to war once, and with honor, wants no more of it."

Mr. Savage said the legion stands today on the threshold of a new year of activity.

"I say it is your legion whether you be a World War veteran or not, because for seven years the Legion has held the respect and love of the entire people of the United States."

There has been a definite reason for this. It can be summed up in two all embracing words—faith—on the part of the fathers and mothers, and friends of the World War Veterans, and the word—service—on the part of the legionnaire.

Legion To Continue

"The Legion born through the desire to keep alive those associations made in the crucible of war's hardships and sacrifices, will continue to grow in members and influence as the veterans get farther away from their active military duty, and as the footholds that they regained in civilian life become more secure."

Mr. Savage referred to the American Legion meeting in Paris next year as "the greatest peace-time pilgrimage in the world's history."

"This must be a success," he said, a contact that will return to every section of this country a sympathy and understanding of the post-war problems of a great nation that will insure for all time the friendly international relations that are the prayer of every right-thinking American."

HOW OSAGE SPENDS IT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—The palm for twentieth century spending was awarded today by the interior department to an Indian brave.

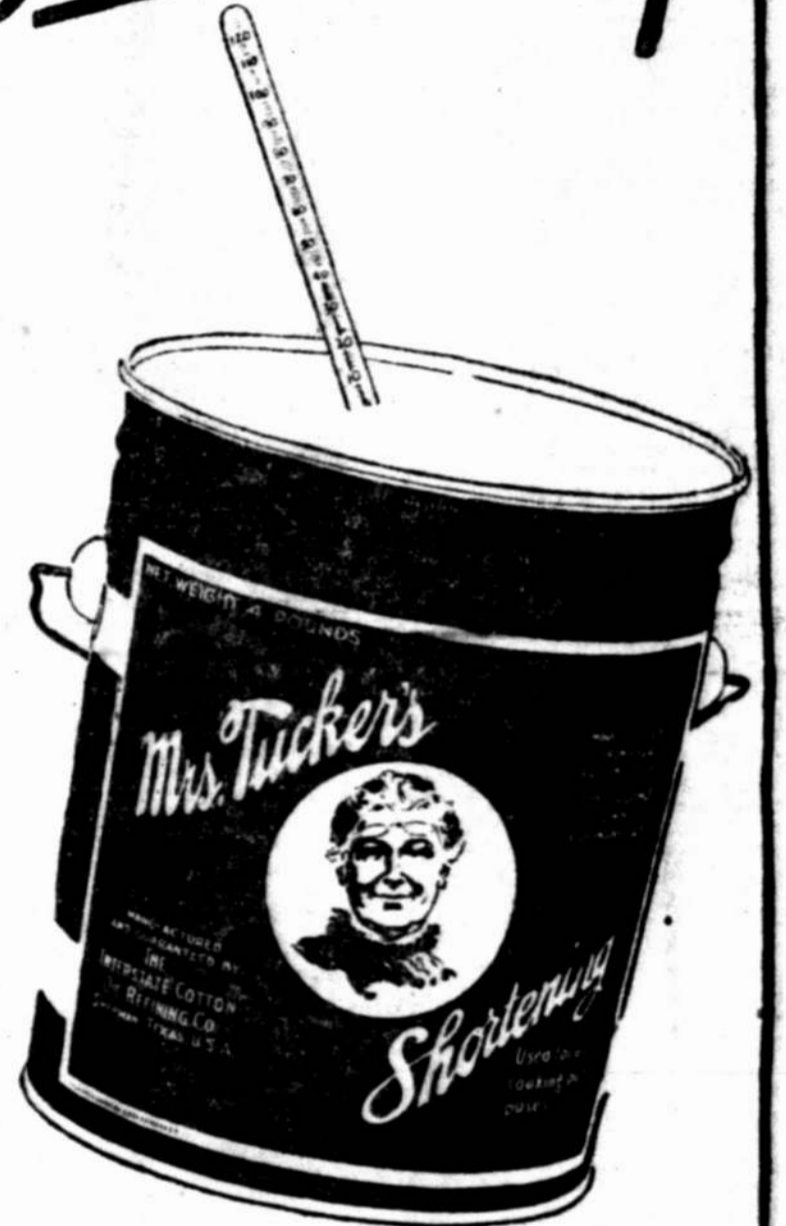

Records placed before department officials showed that an Osage who has just reached 21 is facing outstanding debts of $30,000. In three years he has bought nine automobiles, has put first and second mortgages on all his land, and has become jointly indebted with his father and a brother in various enterprises.

The young man has accumulated oil royalties amounting to $45,000 to his credit, however, and department officials will undertake to untangle his affairs.

CHILL IT!

you can still cream it easily

Outside the window in winter . . . inside the ice-box in summer. Anywhere to get it chilly cold . . . that is the right way and the best way to use shortening in pastry, biscuits or cake. Everything cold and dry and then you get the best results.

Be sure the Shortening is Mrs. Tucker's. It creams "beautifully" at any temperature. You can easily and quickly blend it with the flour or sugar with no loss of time or temper.

This is another reason why good cooks prefer this all cotton-seed oil shortening.

Editorials THE COAL WE WASTE

The commercial and economic genius of America is due for an awakening. It is an economic crime to burn coal for heat alone.

European authorities are bringing the lesson across to us. They will convene at Pittsburgh soon at a special coal conference called by the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

At the present rate of consumption our proven sands will yield a sufficient supply of oil for only six more years, some "experts" contend.

General Georges Patart of France has a process similar to the Fischer method. A large American chemical company already has obtained rights to the exclusive use of it here.

All three of these processes merely heat the coal, put the oils and gases out of it and leave the remainder to be burned as fuel.

A PRODUCTIVE THOUGHT

The conversation ran something like this: Cotton prices are very much lower than usual, and I wonder how conditions will be next year. The railroads are not doing as much business as they were at this time last year. Then someone mentioned the fact that their "rooms were vacant," some had "apartments," others "houses" some had "furniture" to sell. They were wondering what they could do to overcome these conditions, when a friend dropped in and suggested using the Avalanche-Journal classified ads. They are real business getters. He knew, because he had used them. They filled his vacant rooms, apartments, houses, sold his old furniture. You may use the classified ads, and obtain the required results. Ads taken over the phone until 9 p. m. every night.

ARMENIA AGAIN GIVEN NAME OF MARTYR NATION

EARTHQUAKE RESULTS IN HEAVY TOLL OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.-Sombre and impressive is the new sorrow thrust upon Armenia by the recent earthquake in the region around Mount Ararat. Official reports received by the Near East relief corporation confirm a total of at least 500 dead, 80,000 homeless, the destruction of 12,000 homes, much property and a large part of the country's food supply. Again the Armenians with the sad distinction of the title of "the Martyr nation." Within historic times, no other white race has been proportionately, more often stricken with all the drear aspects of misfortune, war, invasion, persecution and massacre. The age-long record of misfortune, sustained by a race like the Armenians in a region like Armenia, would appear most deplorable if the record could be doubted. A sturdy people, no less physically than morally, the Armenians have always been indistinguishable in intelligence and commercial genius, industry, persistence, temperance and loyalty to each other and to their region. Although close to Syria's burning deserts, the land they inhabit lies at so great an elevation that it enjoys the climate, somewhat severe yet invigorating, of the north temperate zone. Though mountainside, it has many fertile tracts, producing numerous staples. Here, one might surmise, are the elements of a prosperous and fortunate national life.

Unlucky People Apparently it is not the people that have inspired the ill luck of Armenia. Rather it is their geographical location. The great natural highways between interior Asia and the Mediterranean converge upon this region. Rich, populous lands lie toward the south and the west, and in the past, restless and lawless favored nations filled the areas toward the north and east. Toward the north were the Black and Caspian seas, beyond the southern plains the Persian gulf. Medes, Persians, Tartars, Turks, conquerors all, passed through this area-Asyrians too, and Arabs. Hence, the train of formidable invasions beginning in days the most remote. Themselves invaders, the original Armenians are traditionally alleged to have come from Thrice. An Arryan people, using European speech, they outnumbered the Semitic dwellers in the land and presently absorbed them. Tradition alone tells of the centuries that followed, but the Armenians had been well consolidated by their own rule when their own country was occupied, in turn, by Persians, under Cyrus, Macedonia of Alexander's army and Roman legions under Caesar.

Nation Pays Tribute To Soldier Dead As Almost Entire World Halts Activities In Armistice Celebration

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The world paused a moment Thursday in the frenzied struggle for existence and aggrandizement to recollect that exactly eight years ago there had come the winning word from France that gripped men's hearts as no other message could have done.

The great war was over—the roaring guns stilled at last. Rejoicing followed. An ecstasy and rejoicing and triumph had followed. In that first wild burst there was no thought of the maze of perplexities that was to beset the pathways of peace. What mattered it the boys were coming home.

GIRL SHOT DOWN IN CHICAGO STREET

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Shot down last night as she was hurrying home from a violin lesson, fifteen-year-old Victoria Dorothy Delemata was slain, police believed today, as a result of mistaken identity.

High Aspirations

Mrs. Margaret Butler, of Cleveland, Ohio, has had high aspirations all her life, she smiles. "That is, I've always liked to climb," she explains. She is her husband's partner in the trade of steep-ladders. The next photo is a close-up of Mrs. Butler at work painting the railway water tower.

Engineer Student Only Fifteen But Courses Very Easy

AUSTIN, Tex. Nov. 12 (AP)—Clifford Ramsey is one of the youngest students in the University of Texas and the youngest taking architectural engineering. Moreover, he finds the courses are so easy that little study is required for him to make A's.

After New Honors MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY.—This country has its eyes now on winning the marathon at the next Olympic games. It is planned to enter two Indians, who ran 62 1/2 miles in 9 hours 27 minutes. To compensate them for loss of their cotton crop during a celebration over their feat their own terms have been met, plus. They stipulate 30 yards of cloth each. Each got the cloth, a plough and a crimson silk handkerchief.

Economics Professor Tours Valley Schools

AUSTIN, Texas Nov. 12.—Miss Bess Hefflin, associate professor of home economics in the University of Texas, is making a trip through the Rio Grande Valley visiting high schools where domestic economy is taught by former students of the University. Her work is in the manner of a follow-up course of the department of home economics for its graduates to aid them in solving their teaching problems.
