WINN FORCED BACK BY ENGINE TROUBLE ON START

(By Associated Press) OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 16.—Four airplanes, one carrying a woman, were flying out over the Pacific en route toward Honolulu late today in quest of fame and $5,000 in prize money offered by James D. Dole of Honolulu for the first trans-Pacific air derby in the history of aviation.

Mildred Doran, the "Dragon" of Flint, Mich., in a plane named for her, headed for Honolulu about 10 miles from the coast a few minutes after her plane had been forced to return to the airfield because of engine trouble.

As The Eight Entries In The Honolulu Air Derby Lined For Flight

There are eight entries in the Honolulu-Honolulu air derby, lined up on the field at Oakland, Calif., ready for the start. Number 1 is the foreground by the starting circle, in the plane flown by Jack Frost. The other planes are: No. 2, Art Goulet; No. 3, August Poldner; No. 4, Major Livingston Irving; No. 5, Martin Jensen; No. 6, Leonard N. A. Godard; No. 7, Charles W. Parkhurst; No. 8, Bennett O'Brien.

SCHOOL WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 12

LARGE ENROLLMENT IS NOW PREDICTED FOR COMING TERM OF YEAR

Youngsters, taken from their homes and sent to school, will again crowd the streets of Lubbock toward the various buildings at another session of the city schools next August.

Superintendent M. H. Duncan announced yesterday that final preparations for the opening of the schools were being made and everything would be in readiness by the close of the month. He said that the enrollment for the coming year will be the largest since the school was first opened in 1903.

At the same time, a committee was named to devise means of financing the holding of the 1927 crop until the minimum price was reached. Adoption of the 25-cent minimum price recommendation was by unanimous vote, though it was suggested by some speakers that it might be necessary to raise the minimum to 30 cents or more by the time the next government crop report is issued in September.

TAX REDUCTION UP TO CONGRESS SAYS COOLIDGE

SURPLUS OF ONE-THIRD BILLION DOLLARS NOW FORESEEN

CUT IS POSSIBLE

ACTION DEPENDS UPON PRESENT EXPENSE RATIO HOWEVER

(By Associated Press) RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 16.—President Coolidge is leaving another tax reduction up to congress with the suggestion that the available surplus is dependent upon an increase in government expenses above present calculations.

It was stated today at the summer White House that Mr. Coolidge feels congress is disposed to spend money for many projects but that the total tax slashed must be governed by these expenditures.

It was evident that the president believes the fiscal program was upset last session by congress in overruling his naval construction plans.

Naval Program Delayed—In appreciating what was described as an insignificant sum of money to start work on three cruisers, without an appropriation, the president feels congress really delayed the carrying out of a naval program also. He is of the opinion that a greater speed could have resulted had he been permitted to submit estimates this fall for work on a total of ten cruisers.

The three cruisers which congress looked upon as appropriations for were part of the eight it had previously authorized. The other five were already under construction. The president it was said here today, had planned when he attempted to present an appropriation bill for the starting work on these three cruisers, to obtain an authorization for future construction of a total of ten cruisers, including the five under construction.

Surplus $325,000,000—While no figures were dealt in with regard to tax reduction next year, it is recalled that director Lord of the budget had estimated a surplus of at least $325,000,000 this fiscal year.

Approval of his tentative budget by the president for the coming year had seemed to enlarge this surplus but no such definite disclosure today at the executive office.

With a surplus of $400,000,000 last year in mind, administration leaders have confidently anticipated a tax reduction next season of at least $200,000,000. Even this amount however, is felt by the president to be subject to additional expenditures by congress next session.

To Visit Ports—Plans moved forward today for a prospective visit by Mr. Coolidge to Yalobusha National park. It was stated that the president had not decided definitely on the trip but that he is considering time tables.

Meanwhile arrangements were understood to be under way by railroad officials for a start from Chicago to the park next Sunday. Three or four days are expected to be consumed in the journey.

Tomorrow Mr. Coolidge goes by train and motor to the Pine Bluff Indian reservation in the southwestern part of the state. He expects to make a brief address to the 18,000 Indians which live on the reservation.

TO IMPROVE HOSPITAL

State Institution For Insane To Have Overhauling At Once—Board of Control Decides.

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Contractors installing approximately $144,000 for both construction, wiring, heating and plumbing of a men's dormitory and nurses' home at the Wichita Falls state hospital for the insane were let today by the state board of control.

James E. Morgan of El Paso, contractor in general contracts for both buildings, the dormitory at $95,200 and the home at $48,800.

Plumbing and heating contracts in both structures went to C. D. Hughes of Wichita Falls, while James Johnson of Dallas, got the wiring contracts, all totaling about $130,000.

The applicants approximated $115,000 for the plumbing and $100,000 for the heating. The balance will be available for furnishings.

BABY KILLED IN WRECK

Friend Ray Dalley, 3, Dies After Automobile Accident Near Breckenridge, Texas.

FRECKENRIDGE, Tex., Aug. 16 (AP)—Friend Ray Dalley, 3, was fatally injured and his mother, Mrs. E. C. Dalley, and brother Bob, were hurt Monday night when the automobile in which they were riding collided with another car here.

The baby was thrown from the car, a piece of the windshield breaking a blood vessel in his neck. A sliver also in the automobile was unhurt.

THINK ATTACK MADE BY GROUP MOONSHINERS

ANOTHER WOUNDED AS CAMPING PARTY IS FIRED UPON

TWO ARRESTS MADE

FORTY MEN FORM POSSE AND COMB HILLS FOR CULPRITS

LOGAN W. Va., Aug. 16.—Three men one a state prohibition officer were killed and a fourth was wounded today when a camping party was ambushed, apparently by mountain moonshiners, near Chauncey, Logan county. Two men had been arrested tonight for questioning in connection with the slaying.

Police said they thought the moonshiners believed the members of the party to be spies masquerading as campers.

Prof. Agent Killed—Ed Henley, prohibition agent, his 15-year old son, Don, and Ernest Marcum, were shot to death when the camp, along Island Creek, was the target for rifle fire from the heavily wooded mountain sides close by. The wounded man was Howard Tomlin. All were residents of Hart's Creek.

A posse of 40 men recruited when news of the slaying reached Logan tonight, located the bodies of the three victims, rounded up the air strikers of the party who had scattered to seek shelter from the withering fire of their unseen assailants, and then arrested Arch Atkins and A. T. Roberts, of near Chauncey. They were held for investigation. Three still were found in Chauncey Hollow, one quite close to the scene of the ambush.

THORNTON FARM HEAD

Leading Club Boy of United States Is Member of Committee of Agriculture At Slaton

SLATON, Aug. 16.—The agriculture committee of the Slaton chamber of commerce probably holds a record in one particular that is unexcelled anywhere. One of its members is a 15-year-old farm boy, I. J. Thornton, of Posey community, five miles from Slaton, and Thornton holds a record which is actually higher than that of any other farm boy club member in the United States at this time.

F. B. Taylor is chairman of the committee. The other members are W. P. Florence and T. E. Cobb. Thornton and these three will have charge of collecting, arranging and supervising the Slaton farm exhibit at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair to be held this year. Young Thornton will render valuable aid in cutting and selecting material for the exhibits.

BLAST VICTIMS BLIND

Four Hurt in Blast Near Sonora May Die and Three of Five To Lose Their Vision

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 16 (AP)—Five men injured in a dynamite explosion near Sonora, Texas, yesterday are in San Angelo hospital, four of them critical and three to lose their vision. While cringing under dynamite caps one man crumpled the wrong end and 300 caps exploded. The injured men were found by a timeworn and rushed here.

CHAPLIN IN NEW ROLE

Will Defend Self From Petition Filed by His Wife For Divorce and Property Settlement

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16 (AP)—Charles Spencer Chaplin came back to his home of films today prepared to open next Monday at the head of a court jury which bids fair to be anything but comical.

Chaplin, making the last leg of an arduous journey from New York last night by automobile from Del Monte in company with Henry King, one of his film directors. While the film's cast jester slept, his attorney went forward with plans for opening the trial Monday of Mrs. Chaplin's divorce suit.

Not a word concerning reported negotiations for an outside settlement involving a million dollars and the custody of the two Chaplin sons was forthcoming from either domestic camp.

Lloyd Wright, the comedian's attorney, paid a visit to his client at the secluded quarters during the morning but would not discuss what occurred.

RAIN HINDERS SERVICES AT UNION TABERNACLE ON MOSES AND HIS ROD

Rain hinders services at Union Tabernacle... The services at the tabernacle were interfered with again last night by rain. The evangelist had just about completed his discourse for the evening, when the rain began to fall, and many people who were on the outside were forced to leave and seek shelter under the tabernacle, which caused so much confusion that services were cut short, and no invitations were made for after service.

Evangelist offered a Bible to the one who had not missed a single night service... The evangelist offered a Bible to the one who had not missed a single night service and there were hands up all over the tabernacle—too many to give the Bible. He changed the proposition and asked all who had not missed a single night service at their church this year to stand, and only one could qualify. He got the Bible.

THE DAY OF THE LORD:—Return O Lord, how long? And let it repent Thee concerning Thy servants. Psalm 90:13.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, thou art long suffering, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to Thee, and have life.

AMERICA MUST NOT TOLERATE TERRORISM

The newspapers have been full of Sacco-Vanzetti for the past few weeks. The whole world seems to be upset about it, and perhaps no one criminal case in the country has excited so much interest as that of these two Italians, who stand convicted of murder in Boston.

The case is extraordinary only in certain respects. The defendants were not men of prominence. Neither was the victim of the murder with which they have been charged and convicted. The case gets its extraordinary aspects exclusively from the fact that the defendants and their friends have tried to make it appear that their offense if any, is political and that they are being condemned to die for no other reason than that they are avowed radicals. Their case has been in the courts for seven years. Exhaustive reviews of the evidence by both the courts and the executive of the State of Massachusetts have been granted. And the findings have all been the same, namely that the defendants were granted fair trials and that there has not been discovered any reasonable doubt as their guilt. But these very obvious facts have not quieted the clamor raised in certain quarters in their behalf. All sorts of demonstrations have been staged in almost every section of the civilized world in an effort to secure a reprieve. Terrorism has been resorted to in an effort to intimidate either the courts or the Governor or both, to grant clemency. To grant clemency now would be construed by the unthinking as a gesture to ally clamor that has been stirred up in behalf of the defendants, as a sign of weakness on the part of the agencies of organized government. If there was ever occasion for clemency that time has now passed. The law must vindicate itself. There can be no compromise between government and anarchy. The two are opposites and cannot be reconciled. The law must be supreme or not at all. There is no reason to believe that Sacco and Vanzetti have been denied any legal right. Certainly if they had been innocent they could have in seven years found some tribunal that would have at least expressed some doubt as to their guilt. But none has been found. No other civilized country on the court dockets for seven years. Not even the land of their nativity would long delay execution once a verdict of guilty had been returned. America has shown fairness, even leniency to the condemned men. There can now be no quarrel with the verdict except that which proceeds from the anarchist mind that believes it a duty to resist every act of organized government and to view every decision as an act of tyranny. To every mind that is not obsessed with the poisonous doctrines of anarchy and radicalism it must be clear now that the law must vindicate itself. To retreat in the face of threats would make government contemptible in the eyes of every man who believes in organized human government.

The new buildings at the Tech College have been commenced and that means quite a program out there for several months. The heads of the college are receiving large number of inquiries about the school, and it looks like there is going to be a very large enrollment this fall. It will no doubt go away over the two thousand mark, and it is a problem that the Board of Regents have to confront to keep the capacity of the school large enough to accommodate those who want to attend this school.

People who have been over the South Plains and have observed the crops, bring in the report that everything is looking mighty promising for a great yield this year.

MARRIAGE A SOLEMN AFFAIR

From time immemorial the custom of marriage has been considered a solemn rite. Writers have classed the event as one of three outstanding things of a life. Birth, marriage and death is the trio that has been named as the dates in ones life that stand-out. We are not alarmists at all, but sometimes we wonder if the marriage ceremony has not come to be just an incident in the life instead of the great event that it should be. Every day one can find news notes in the papers of some rather unusual manner of being married. The ceremony is performed in an airplane, on top of high buildings, while speeding along in an auto, or at some very unusual time of the day. None of these are violations of the law of the land, but we are rather inclined to believe that when the marriage rites are said when surrounded by such unusual circumstances the solemnity is taken away to a very great degree. Marriages are sometimes culminated as the result of a wager. If that is not a crime, and almost a sin (these two terms are not synonymous), then what is lacking is not much. When two lives are joined together in matrimony it is a union upon which civilization rests, then is it not a sacred rite?

THE BLESSING OF HEALTH

Few people appreciate health till it is gone. We go along from day to day, and as long as we are feeling fine we do not think much about it. It is when we begin to feel badly that we begin to think about what a blessing health is. Health is the reason for so many stalwart young men in this country, and the great outdoor life is one of the reasons for the splendid health of the nation. Away back in the days of David we have an example of splendid manhood. David was no weakling. The stripling who slew Goliath had been reared a shepherd boy in the open air. He lived a vigorous life and attained old age in spite of plots and perils. But the blessing of good health was one he valued, and in what is perhaps his most beautiful Psalm of praise he links that blessing with one spiritual gift of the Divine Creator.

David's "who healeth all thy diseases, who redeemeth thy life from destruction," is the profound utterance of a believer in the Divine source, not only of life, but also of its preservation from disease. And after many centuries all of man's learning has not shaken the soundness of that belief. A good many people forget, if they ever knew, that the Bible is filled with rules for the preservation of health—rules presented with the force of Divine commands, but rules that modern knowledge recognize as physical laws which must not be disobeyed. Health in David's day was a blessing, a gift, a reward for obedience. And health still is a blessing, a gift and a reward for obeying the rules which sustain it. Neither the rules nor the rewards have changed since David's time; but man's understanding, has advanced, and he has learned many more rules than were needed in the Levitical laws for a primitive, nomadic people. And in a modern system of government, no longer theocratic, the rules for retaining health are promulgated, not by the priests, but by the physicians. In the Sixty-ninth Congress, Senator Ransdall of Louisiana introduced a bill to concentrate all public health activities of the Government. It would appropriate money for intensive research into problems of sickness; it would offer rewards under which expert workers could carry on such research, and it would authorize the United Public Health Service to accept gifts from individual citizens desiring to endow specific lines of these labors. Senator Ransdall's bill failed of passage, but he will reintroduce it. The measure has been endorsed by the American Medical Association and the American Chemical Association. And it is a somewhat unusual bill, for it creates no new bureau or commission. The purpose plainly is to provide more facilities for the United States Public Health Service to study causes of disease and disseminate its findings. And surely the findings of so able and disinterested a body as the Public Health Service, illuminating what are now obscure facts about the origin and spread of disease, would come near being a national blessing, as well as an individual blessing to many thousands. Not only are the economic losses from disease enormous, but a vast number of human relationships are affected by it. To cite one of the simplest instances, recall the attitude of the average man who has some minor ailment, toward his fellow-workers, his acquaintance and even his own family. No individual can think clearly or constructively if his bodily functions be handicapped by illness. How many laws have been introduced and enacted through the misdirected energies of men whose bias toward the world was twisted by some physical ailment of which perhaps, they were unconscious themselves. How many unjust judicial decisions can be charged to dyspepsia. How many teachers in the school-room have failed to inspire the growing generation with enthusiasm for knowledge because the teachers were physically below par. How many sermons have fallen short of the mark because the preacher had a headache! Good health is a blessing and greatly worth earning. It may be earned by obeying the laws which insure it. And any movement looking toward the improvement of the people's health, in city, state or nation, is to be welcomed.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think that the group of citizens who are to serve on the tax classification board will have plenty to do on August 15 when they receive the local tax payers into conference.

We think that Sliton has a fine lot of citizens. They are real boosters and their work for the betterment of the city is quite evident.

We think that your wife, as well as your time will find you out. We think that after working for the political boss for a job a person can afford to take it easy.

We think that Ahlberg and Taylor county are already gathering this year's cotton crop. Last Saturday the third bale was brought in and brought a good premium.

We think that usually about the first thing that strikes a visitor to this country is a motor car.

We think that any man who works only for pay seldom does his best.

We think that the Baylor university grid eleven will possibly work harder this fall than any previous year with the spirit of their ill-fated teammates leading them on.

We think that despite the General Assembly conference and naval party Uncle Sam is going ahead with a big building program in both the navy and army departments.

We think that it would certainly look good to see road construction camps working over the roads of this county.

We think that fast work is being done in the promotion of the West Texas-Gulf railway project. A charter has already been approved.

We think that many of the old-time cowboys will be found at the annual round-up August 28 at Canyon this year. Former range men of West Texas will attend the reunion this year.

We think that many West Texas cities are lining up for air ports. Lubbock should not hesitate to place her bid for an aerial route to this city.

We think that Lubbock does not have to worry, fret, and vote hundreds for water as that is one thing which is plentiful on the South Plains.

We think that one baseball umpire at the Pacific Coast League, after sweet revenge on a couple of players through court actions, is suing the players for $50,000 due to serious injuries, loss of his job, and humiliation.

THE FUR TRIMMED HAT: Jack rabbits are a major farming problem in many parts of South Dakota and other western states. Operations for the control of these western rodent pests are being directed by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. In South Dakota the work is to be aided by the establishment of a number of commercial stations for buying jack rabbit skins in the western half of the coming winter with products of the pelts in the eastern section. The value of jack rabbit skins purchased in South Dakota by the company last winter was $50,000 which represents a considerable reduction in the jack rabbit population in this region. These skins are used mostly in the manufacture of felt for hats, as they are not suitable for fur garments. The rise in price of the raw material has made it possible to utilize great numbers of jack rabbit skins that formerly were wasted.—Hanksville Herald.

Plant Colony On Barren Isle Of Mystery In South Pacific

Captain Leo Orourke (right) and his son Jean, who have organized a colony for the Pacific Island of Elao, which has been shunned by human beings for over a century.

By WM. C. ETHERIDGE NEA Service Writer SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Based on one of the strangest ventures ever originated here, the staunch old schooner Bretagne recently sailed out of the Golden Gate, pointing across the Pacific to colonize the island of Elao, South Sea spot of land which has been shunned mysteriously since its population mysteriously vanished a century ago.

Once on the broad Pacific, the vessel will point toward the far-away Marquesas islands of the south Pacific, where a historical experiment in humanity is to be enacted within the next few years.

Elao, most northwesterly of the group, isle of death to the Polynesian and greatest spot to archaeologists who have been unable to explain the forgotten civilization which flourished there, is the ultimate destination.

Captain Leo Orourke, Frenchman, is the organizer and genius of the expedition. He is skipper of the schooner, with his son, Jean, as first mate. He plans to transport to Elao a Tahitian family, careful not to mingle with the natives, a new world apart from other civilization. The Tahitians already have been selected, taken from the educated agricultural class.

The schooner is carrying lumber for houses to be erected on the island, and a complete set of agricultural machinery and outfit.

Mystery in Island History—The island was inhabited as late as a hundred years ago by a population of 16,000. Almost overnight all disappeared, leaving no signs of the disaster suggested by the white out of all traces of them. Left only were the roads and buildings of long-stem age civilization which flourished independently. No Polynesian will not go near the island of mysterious death.

Superstitions—Legend—argument with the island's history about their inside when Captain Orourke's venture is related.

"The island is marked," he declares.

Today's Poems

IT ALL DEPENDS—If you rise with the dawn and keep peering away At whatever there is to be done, If you never permit your attention to stray From a task that you once have begun, If no matter how weary you happen to feel, With trouble you gamely contend, And although at last you may stagger and reel, You carry the job to the end— You are sure to reach plenty of good and joy, and content, So I bear—though I never have tried it myself. If you wear a brave smile when you've spent your last cent, And are shabby and hungry and cold, You look upon life with unfeigned content, In the midst of afflictions ungod, If you vow that tomorrow you'll start forth anew, Look steadily Fate in the eye—

Bankers Are Given Drubbing By First Place Wholesalers

It was a hard afternoon for the Shylocks as they gave up a loose game to the Wholesalers in the first game of the series. In the first game of the series, the Wholesalers, with a score of 7 to 1, gave the highly touted Wholesalers a one game lead with only one to go. The Wholesalers meet with the Shylocks on Thursday at the Tech park. Wholesalers drop their game to the Shylocks and Judge Riley's bunch won over the Laundry this afternoon at the Merrill park, the Bankers and Wholesalers will be in the second half of the league card, but the Wholesalers have to lose and the Bankers win.

Bankers Eratic
The Bankers with their fast working infield machine failed to function in the ninth yesterday and as a result were out of the game. The Bankers were out of the game with the Shylocks and off entirely with "Tuba" Nicholas hitting the third strike of Brothers on through him; then with a wild pitch by Hill and another passed ball by Nicholas gave the Wholesalers their first run which was secured. However, the Wholesalers pitched in four runs in the third frame to put the game on ice. Taylor singled to right and Hill test Brothers sacrificed to fill the bases—then with "Tuba" Nicholas double to deep right scored two runs. Kato struck a high fly behind home that, after having been held by other batters, was caught by Woliver, but scored a couple of runs. Again in the fourth inning the Wholesalers were handed two runs with a single by Galbraith to left and with three successive errors. Taylor, one of the Wholesalers, mounted the hill for the crew in excellent condition and allowed the Bankers but one hit. This hit, however, went for four bases and was driven out by Woliver. Woliver's home run was one of the longest hits to ever be punched out on the Tech park.

Twice the Bankers threatened to score on the Wholesalers and a good chance presented itself in the fourth. Nicholas hit a warm fly to center field which was caught by Riley. Riley grounded to Shepard and Chas. Guy were forced time and again to get squarely over the plate to render their decisions. Twice at the pinch hit by Ted Kato, first, second and third base runners fell on the bat. Kato hit the ball but the ball was caught by the pitcher. Kato's home run was a home run but the ball was caught by the pitcher. Kato's home run was a home run but the ball was caught by the pitcher.

"I owe this idea to Herbert Brenon"

Alton Hamilton remarks to his friend Carl de Mel as he offers him a Lucky trike at the Manor Country Club.

Herbert Brenon, noted Film Director, writes:

"During the pandemonium of motion picture production—as in my direction of 'Beau Geste'—I find Lucky Strikes are not only soothing to tired vocal chords, but they have the best flavor. The constant use of my voice in my work demands that I keep it in condition. Lucky Strikes are the only cigarettes which protect me from an irritated throat, and which I enjoy to the utmost."

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

WELLINGTON PLANS WELCOME TO NEXT C. OF C. REGIONAL CONVENTION THERE

WELLINGTON, Aug. 16.—The North Plains District Chamber of Commerce convenes in Wellington Aug. 25 and they are laying plans and getting the program ready for one of the largest gatherings of Chamber of Commerce people and officials from all over that district and some from out of that district. That will be one of the largest gatherings of Chamber of Commerce people that has ever been held in that city, and it is very important that they know at once if you can attend and how many you can bring with you.

Helps C. of C. Work The object and purpose of these regional meetings is to create interest in all Chamber of Commerce work and to help the general West Texas convention. It is also a get-together meeting where all Chamber of Commerce people can exchange ideas for the best interest of all West Texas. If it were not for these auxiliaries of the main Chamber of Commerce, it would be impossible for it to be what it is and to function properly. They are expecting a great time in Wellington on that day, for crops have never looked better and the people in general are highly elated over their condition, and the trading public is spending all the money that is possible from a good business standpoint, and it looks as though they are going to have a great harvest in West Texas this fall.

There will be some of the best speakers in West Texas, with Homer D. Wade and President Haystack in the program. Resolutions of appreciation were passed by the body voting thanks to all the clubs committees, chamber of commerce, Joe L. Ray, Dawson County Sheriff, and Mrs. W. K. Grawley for the entertainment. FLOYDADA GETS NEXT MEETING OF SHERIFFS; ELMER BARKER BEST SHOT

LAMESA, Aug. 15.—The West Texas Sheriffs' Association closed here today after a very successful session of business and entertainment. The next meeting of the association goes to Floydada by unanimous vote of the body, there being no other contenders. The next date of meeting is Nov. 10 and 11. The morning session was occupied by business of the organization with Bob Miller, ex-president and founder of the association, in the chair, the president, R. E. McWilliams of Ballinger, being forced to leave at the close of the first day.

S. C. Duke of Altus, Okla., spoke to the body on closer co-operation of peace officers between Oklahoma and Texas. Strong support was made by Bob Miller to keep politics out of the association, while Woody Townsend, of Bastrop, discussed the fee and salary question of sheriffs. Many speeches along the lines of co-operation between peace officers were made by the sheriffs assembled. Resolutions of appreciation were passed by the body voting thanks to all the clubs committees, chamber of commerce, Joe L. Ray, Dawson County Sheriff, and Mrs. W. K. Grawley for the entertainment. Lenses by the sheriff assembled. Resolutions of appreciation were passed by the body voting thanks to all the clubs committees, chamber of commerce, Joe L. Ray, Dawson County Sheriff, and Mrs. W. K. Grawley for the entertainment.

At noon today 100 plates were spread before the peace officers. Judge Gordon B. McGuire served as toastmaster and addressed the officers on law enforcement. Many punts were pulled, among the most applauded, that of presenting Bob Miller, of Paintrock, with a loving cup which was a small tin cup, although he was sure he would get the large and expensive cup on the table before him and presented by Lamesa's mayor, Judge C. P. Rogers. The house roared with the presentation, but the joke was turned on Rogers when he was called to speak concerning Dawson county, and behind him played the hand of a large dished bull board pointing to such words as "bull" and "ravings," while Rogers told of his county and the sheriffs laughed. Judge Carl Rountree of this city spoke of sheriffs old and new, while Sheriff Townsend of Bastrop paid a glowing tribute to the sheriff's ways. Music and readings also added to the entertainment of the banquet.

The dance, swim and barbecue were well attended last evening, there being 150 present, including committees from the chamber of commerce. Another honor goes to Floydada in the shooting contest. Elmer Barker of Floydada made the highest score and was presented the $50 gun offered by the committee. Tom Hudson of Anson was awarded a small derick as the booby prize, with the admonition to protect himself as he could spot use his gun. Through out the session the peace officers referred to Lamesa and Dawson county as clean and law abiding, ranking foremost in the state.

Another rather disturbing feature of the general situation is that any number of girls ranging in age from 12 to 15 years seem inclined to regard Martin Taylor as a precedent.—Ohio State Journal.

JUROR BOMBED

BOSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Governor Alvan T. Fuller tonight indicated he would take immediate steps toward offering a reward for the capture and conviction of those responsible for the explosion which wrecked the home of Louis McHardy, Sacco-Vanzetti trial juror, in east Milton today.

Police Head Bomed PHENIX ARIZES, Aug. 16 (AP)—A bomb was exploded tonight on one of the balconies of the private residence of Eduardo Santiago, chief of detectives of the Buenos Aires police department. There were no casualties but the wall of the building was wrecked. The bomb is said by the police to have been placed by Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers.

Court Considers Plea

BOSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Decision on the latest legal steps taken in behalf of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti rested tonight with the Supreme Court. Four members of the court sitting as the full bench heard arguments today and took the matter under advisement, with no intimation as to when they would announce their ruling. They also had before them a new petition for a writ of error addressed to the full bench, filed by defense counsel at the conclusion of the arguments. Arthur D. Hill, chief defense counsel, and Attorney General Arthur K. Reading elaborated before the court on briefs which they had filed for and against the plea of exception. The trial, a revocation of sentence as a stay of sentence, and to Justice Sanderson's denial of a writ of error.

ARMOUR DIES

BOSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Lester Armour, a nephew of the late John D. Rockefeller, died here about a month ago, but because of his weakened condition he was not told of his death. Mr. Armour was conscious until within forty seconds of his death, according to information cabled to Chicago. He died at 4:30 p. m. London time, or 10:30 a. m. Chicago time.

Clark Is Winner Of Hereford Golf

HEREFORD, Aug. 16.—Hereford's first city golf tournament closed Sunday, and J. J. Clark is now golf champion. In the final Sunday he eliminated Fred Patton in one of the hottest contests of the entire tournament. About thirty players entered the tournament, which started some two weeks ago. Patton shot par in with number one. The two tied with two birdies for the second hole. Patton won the third hole, and Clark parred to take four, five and six. The men halved seven. Patton won eight and Clark took nine. Patton won ten, but lost eleven and twelve to Clark. Clark dropped thirteen, tied with Patton on fourteen and then took fifteen and sixteen to win the contest. The two men tied on seventeen.

Sportsmanship In Protecting Car That Is Parked By Your Own Is Demanded

One form of courtesy that motorists as a group will might display is that involved in protecting the other man's car when pulling into or out of a narrow parking space, says Mrs. Jewell Hall, secretary of the Dallas Automobile Association. "Hundreds of dollars of damage to automobiles is done in this way monthly," says Mrs. Hall. "Unfortunately it is true that the careless motorist can 'get by' with a great deal of the damage he does to the machines parked alongside of his own," says Mrs. Hall. "Owners of the machines so injured can not stand behind them all day to check up on the inconsiderate driver but with the acute dearth of parking space existing, it is becoming almost necessary to do just that in some cases to make certain that his car will be undamaged. He had friends and admirers in all Chicago, but there was one club which barred him. It was the "Vagabonds club," Mike Walsh, president, who said Mr. Armour envied the carefree life of the hoob, proposed him for membership, but the club refused Mr. Armour, although they bore him no ill will. At one time, Mr. Armour built, at a cost of $65,000 a wall a mile long, and seventeen feet high, to screen off the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad from his Melody farm, near Lake Forest, Ill. The farm was said to have cost more than $5,000,000, and its upkeep exceeded $300,000 a year.

HAWAIIAN FLIGHT

San Diego, navigated by Lieutenant K. C. Hawkins of San Diego, and the Pabco flyer, the little orange and black monoplane piloted and navigated by Major Livingston Irving of Berkeley, Calif. The fact that these three men escaped death was considered miraculous by those who witnessed the accidents. Two Return The Dallas Spirit, piloted by Captain W. P. Erwin, Dallas, and the Oklahoma, piloted by Bennett Griffin, Oklahoma City, got off the runway safely but were forced to return to the field. Both Erwin and Griffin announced they hoped to get away later after making repairs. The other entry in the derby, the Air King of Peoria, Ill., was disqualified by the starting committee after the department of commerce had reported that it did not have sufficient gasoline capacity to complete the trip. Aloha Progress A radio message from the steamer Wilhelmina reported that the Aloha passed north of the ship about 175 miles out at 2:50 p. m. approximately 2 hours and 20 minutes after the start. The steamer Silver Fir also reported the Aloha about 115 miles from the mainland. Naval radio advised reported a plane believed to be the Mies Doran passed the Farrallone Islands at 3:33 p. m. The Oklahoma was the first plane to take the air. It taxied to the starting line, started down the runway and left the ground just at noon.

El Escanto Turns Over Goddard's El Escanto was the next entry at the post. It hunched down the runway and the crowd gave a gasp as it veered off the path at the 4500 foot mark and landed over, crashing one wing off. A sheet went up when both Goddard and Hawkins crashed out. There was a short delay and then Major Irving gave his Pabco flyer the run, he roared down the stretch but was unable to get more than a few feet off the ground, he taxied back, refueled and started off. A sheet "cracked up" at the end of the lane. Irving emerged from his cabin with tears in his eyes, exclaiming "now it's impossible for me to take off." His terror stricken wife and five year old baby girl rushed to his side and were overjoyed to find him safe.

Golden Eagle Off First flying the San Francisco Examiner's Golden Eagle, was next in the air. He was followed closely by Fodder, who carried the girl school teacher and Lieutenant V. B. Knapp of San Diego. Next went Martin Jensen, Honolulu aviator, flying the monoplane Aloha. Goebel took his turn, making a graceful takeoff in the monoplane Woolaroo.

The last off the runway was Captain William Erwin in his Dallas Spirit. The Dallas Spirit took off beautifully and flew as far as the Golden Gate, but was forced to return to the field by mechanical trouble, and after circling about the field a few times to be sure that the runway was clear it landed safely. Aloha in Fast SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Ship reports received here by the navy radio at 5:30 p. m. said that the Dole air racer Woolaroo, piloted by Art Goebel of Los Angeles, was sighted approximately 270 miles west of San Francisco at 4 p. m. and that the plane Aloha, piloted by Martin Jensen of Honolulu, was sighted approximately 290 miles west of San Francisco at 2:50 p. m. The information was received from the Destroyers U. S. Meyer and Hazelwood. No reports were given

LOCKNEY ENJOYING MUCH PROSPERITY

LOCKNEY, Aug. 15.—An era of development, revealing that of Florida and California, is the story that is being told every day about the South Plains of Texas. Never in the history of the Plains has this section taken such a suspicious growth, a growth that is steady with not even the semblance of a boom feature present. Even though there is a rapid and permanent development in this section, big business men state that the era has just begun. Every day news creeps out of some capitalist or group of capitalists making investments in Floyd county and it is a fact that big business rarely ever goes wrong in their ventures. Few Big Factors Just a few of the factors that are inducing capital into this section are: a soil enriched for the growth of any crop peculiar to the temperate zone, a land surface so level that drainage is the only problem.

Coop or Coop-Pay? Two colored gentlemen talking about anti-unionism by their respective employer. "An' den he bought 'em." "You don't call dem 'em' is announced 'coop-pay' is what you get whether 'em' or not, what with de 'em'." Superior First "Well, if a man tried you would you call a 'bell' 'em' a minute 'em'—Union."

LAN LAMESA AND DAWSON HIGHWAY

ROAD BETWEEN LAMESA AND CITY OF STANTON WILL BE IMPROVED

LAMESA, Aug. 16.—At a joint meeting of the commissioners of Dawson and Martin counties plans were worked out whereby a road between Lamesa and Stanton would be placed in the best travelable condition. Brown county has already placed a part of the road between Lamesa and the south county line in the best of condition. Martin county will begin at once, according to Mr. Burton, Dawson county commissioner, to grade this road placement in as good condition as possible.

This road connects at present the north and south oil fields, connecting with the Bankhead highway at Stanton for the Big Lake pools and also for Midland and Odessa. The route will be practically straight and will be maintained according to the two courts. Work is also being started in connection with getting a road from Lamesa to Andrews leading southwest of here. Highway 33 west of this time, according to commissioner Bartlett of this county. He believes that this road will be one of the best natural dirt roads in west Texas when the work which now being done is finished. Work being rushed on highway number nine south of here, connecting the state highway department. The road from Lamesa to Brownfield has also been graded and is now a heavy traffic route of tourists into the New Mexico mountains.

Plainview Bridge Now Completed

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 16.—The concrete bridge south of Plainview on highway nine across Runningwater Draw, the head waters of the main river, has been thrown open to the public following its completion last night. The bridge, which is of solid concrete construction, was built by the state highway commission. Hale county and the city of Plainview cooperatively, and the Austin bridge company had the contract. The bridge is the only structure of its kind in this county, and the bridge on the sixty-five mile state highway in Hale county.

It is said that Florida realtors are no longer seeking land by the ton—Pennsylvania style.

Cotton Men Will Have Price Meet

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 16.—Several delegates departed today for attendance upon a State meeting that has been called for Dallas on August 16 in which the Farmers Marketing Association of America and the Farm Labor Union will join in an effort to determine a fair and equitable price that should be paid for the 1927 cotton crop. The delegates go with the full endorsement of their organizations and it is hoped that plans will be formulated that will result in a solution of the cotton marketing problem.

Littlefield Is To Have Celebration

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 16.—The business men of Littlefield are arranging for a two day celebration which will be held here Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27. Quite a program will be carried out; a carnival and rodeo, and very large crowds are expected to be here on that occasion. With the splendid crop prospects that now prevail the people will turn out in large numbers to celebrate and get acquainted.

Littlefield Farms Have Enough Rain

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 16.—Rains amounting to about two inches fell over this country Sunday afternoon and night. This puts a thorough season in the ground and no more rain is needed for cotton. What is now wanted is continued dry warm weather. The seasons are also sufficient to mature large grain crops. Farmers and business men generally are very optimistic, and with good prices should have the best year that this country has so far experienced.

Slaton Baptists Holding Revival

SLATON, Aug. 16.—A revival meeting is in progress at the First Baptist church here, of which the Rev. H. G. Holloway is pastor. The preaching is being done by the Rev. W. Y. Pond, of Dallas, evangelist working with the executive board of the Texas Baptist convention. Services are held twice daily, the evening service being conducted in the open air, a temporary tabernacle having been arranged on the church property near the church building. The meeting will continue until Aug. 23, according to the pastor.

DEBATE OVER WATER OWNERSHIP AT ABILENE WILL DRAW MANY DELEGATES

ABILENE, Aug. 16.—Scores of West Texas business men, farmers, and other interested leaders in its commercial and industrial life, as well as representatives from many different sections of Texas, and prominent State officials, will flock to Abilene Thursday to attend the All-Texas conference called jointly by the Texas Conservation Association and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to discuss water rights of West Texas, according to indications received and according to press reports over the entire territory where great concern is being manifested.

A special train has already been ordered to bring the Brownwood delegation. Other cities will send delegations by motor caravans.

Held At Fair Park The water-rights meeting will be held in the Fair Park Auditorium, Abilene, Texas, August 23, beginning at 10:30 a. m. An organized program will initiate the formalities, after which an open forum discussion will be in order. Governor Dan Moody, Attorney General Pollard, members of the Board of Water Engineers, and Dr. T. E. Taylor, dean of engineering at Texas University, as well as many other notables, will appear. The big conference, the theme of which may be stated in the words, "Whose Water?" is attracting perhaps as widespread attention as any other monumental issue taken up by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during its nine years of existence. It is equally important in the momentous fight waged by that organization for the establishment of Texas law in the West.

Lamesa C. Of C. Is Given Real Dinner

LAMESA, Aug. 16.—150 Lamesa business men members of the Lamesa luncheon club and their wives were entertained here this evening in a most unique old time western way. Mrs. W. E. McWhorter, owner of the Western hotel, sponsored and gave the entertainment. The appearance of the barbecue, cowboy and old chuck wagon, gave evidence of the original type of western entertainment. Mrs. McWhorter opened this unique affair with a few remarks among which she said, "This comes from a heart that wants to reward worthwhile effort in building my city and community. I feel that I cannot do this better than through this courtesy to the members of the Lamesa luncheon club of which most of our business men are members."

W. H. Collins, president of the luncheon club, presented Mrs. McWhorter with a large bouquet of flowers. Judge C. P. Rogers served as toastmaster.

The following program was rendered: Address—Old Time Entertainment—M. C. Lindsey; musical reading—Mrs. W. McCutchen and Mrs. T. C. Brannon. Out Where the West Begins; song—Miss Natalie Taylor; reading—Ed. Like to Be in Texas When They Round Up in the Spring; Mrs. Philip Yonge; reading—Alaska; Mrs. T. C. Brannon. Old time fiddling by the oldest settlers and musicians in the county furnished fine time breakdowns during the program. Lamesa business men pledged themselves to the task of joining shoulders in making Lamesa a better city in which to live. The meeting adjourned in haste for the hostess and the famous Lamesa aprit. The barbecue was prepared by R. C. Harris, city marshal famous for his barbecues.

THE SUN NEVER SETS ON CHESTERFIELD'S POPULARITY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

VERA CAMERON, plain but efficient private secretary, agrees to let JERRY SHACKLYN, advertising manager for the Peace-Knox Cigarette Co., transform her into a beauty, after she falls passionately in love with a man who ignores her. Jerry proposes to furnish her photographs in advertising booklets.

Refreshingly, the beauty specialist uses a picture which Jerry finds in his files.

Vera is so beautiful after the change that Jerry falls in love with her. His love persists even after Vera's suit, FLORA CARTWRIGHT, tells Jerry that Vera is to spend her vacation at Lake Minnetonka because the hope is to meet there the man she is in love with.

At the summer hotel, Vera is mistaken for some one else and is treated with a deference that mystifies her. SCHUYLER SMYTHE, the man she is in love with, tells her to meet her five years before at Palm Beach, and attempts to convince him and the other guests of her true identity. She finds Frank and continued denial difficult. Schuyler is devotedly attentive to Vera, to the jealousy of NON FOSDICK, whom, rumors says, he has intended to marry for her money.

In her room, Vera opens a letter which Jerry gave her before she left. From it she learns that he fears she will be mistaken for a VIVIAN CRANDALL, who is in the midst of a matrimonial snafu. The clippings he encloses tell of wealth, marriage to a Russian prince, divorce, disappearance. Jerry warns Vee-vee not to try to play "business tactician." Vera, for some unknown reason, tucks the letter beneath her pillow but puts the pictures and clippings in the dresser. While she and Schuyler are in the garden, Nan surprises them in a sentimental moment. A knock at her door late that night startles Vee-vee.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXI

"Oh, hello, Nan! Won't you come in?" Vee-vee curled her lips in a welcoming smile, but her heart was pounding.

"Thanks, Miss Cameron," Nan Fostick said brusquely, making no effort to smile.

Vee-vee watched the girl's big, splendid body as it swung with a mannish stride across the room, to drop into the only straight chair in the room as if she scorned comfort for her body when her heart was swelling with angry pain.

"Only she knew how to dress," Vee-vee thought pityingly. She placed a little flat round pillow of emerald green satin behind her head, choosing it instinctively because she knew that it would contrast with the burnished copper of her hair. She was becoming a little more used to her beauty, arranged lovely settings for almost automatically. A couple of months before she would not have given a thought to the selection of a pillow.

Nan Fostick leered her big brown hands over her hunched knees, throwing the billowy folds of her pathetically unbecoming frock of peach taffeta into awkward angles. Vee-vee noted that she had had her hair styled, very short, very fringed, in a harsh, apologetic manner, that her small black eyes glittered through patches of badly applied orange-tinted rouge. Poor thing! She had been trying to make herself attractive, feminine, in a tragic effort to "improve" her features, which she considered a reflection of beauty.

"Don't look at me like that," Vee-vee said softly. "I didn't mean to look at you like that. Is there anything I can do for you? Though I hope you only come to pay me a call," she started to touch those tightly locked hands with tender, comforting fingers, but who knew she did not dare.

"Yes, there is something you can do for me!" Nan Fostick cried abruptly. "You can let Schuyler come to the beach! You don't want him? You're only playing with him, amusing yourself with a little fish because there isn't a big one in the pond—not big enough for you anyway?"

"Nan, you mustn't talk like that," Vee-vee spoke gently but firmly. "You'll be sorry tomorrow, hate yourself for having given yourself away to another woman. Let me order some tea and little cakes sent up—you'll feel better after a cup of hot tea."

"Tea? Ye gods! The younger girl snorted angrily. "I don't want to sit down! Everyone here is looking down to the earth before you, but I won't today—no, just because you have 40 millions and have been a princess!"

"Nan!" Vee-vee interrupted sharply. "I've told everyone that all that is not true, that I'm just plain Vera Cameron." She went on recklessly. "After all, why not convince this little girl, who would be glad to believe her, and take the consequences of Nan's gossip?"

"Oh, sure, you've said so, but do you think anyone believes you? It's your own business, I suppose, if you want to run around the country with an alias, but you know you can't fool anyone with that—that face of yours! If you'd really wanted to come here incognito, why didn't you get a wig and a pair of spectacles? You're having the time of your life, pretending to be innocent, but you're running my life—and my life too. You'll break the heart and lungs of just as you've broken mine. Oh, I've not such a dumb kid that I haven't heard gossip, Miss Cameron," she added, with bitter emphasis. "Oh, you've got to please go away! You must be tired of this

DAILY MARKETS

COTTON SCORES INCREASE NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)-Continuance of showery weather in the south, accompanied by increasing reports of damage by insects and talk of bullish private conditions and crop figures, appeared responsible for an advance of more than 1/2 a bale in the cotton market today. December contracts sold up to 197 or 56 points net higher and closed at 195, the general market closing firm at net advances of 1/2 to 3/4 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 26 to 31 points on a crop figure of yesterday's buying movement, evidently stimulated by relatively firm Liverpool cables. Considerable realizing and possibly some scattered selling for a reaction were absorbed on setbacks of 15 or 20 points from the best and the market advanced. Continuance of showery weather since the first of the month, with the reiterated reports of increasing insect activity, appeared to be creating bullish sentiment and the advance was probably accelerated to some extent by a private crop report making the condition 68 and the indicated yield 12,500,000 bales.

Prices reached the highest level of the day in late trading. October selling at 190 and March at 29.25, net advances of about 5/8 to 3/4 points on active positions and more than a dime on a range from the closing quotations last Saturday. There was a little more realizing in late trading and perhaps a little southern selling, but last prices were within two or three points of the best on active position.

Reports of damage by boll weevil have been reached here from almost all parts of the south during the day, and some buying was reported on a theory that any advance made for deterioration in crop prospects in the government's crop indications report of August 1, will likely be retained.

Private cables reported continued buying with calling and rebuying by recent sellers in the Liverpool market.

The preliminary figures of the census bureau on the cotton over in this country seemed about in line with expectations.

Exports today 22,808; making 149,174 so far this season. Port receipts today 36,627. U. S. Port stocks 945,824.

COTTON ADVANCES NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16 (AP)-The cotton market here today approximated 22 1/2 a bale, net advance of 1/2 point on active positions and more than a dime on a range from the closing quotations last Saturday. The opening was firm due to strong Liverpool advice. First trades showed gains of 18 to 23 points. Prices continued to advance all morning with a few minor reactions until near mid-session. October had traded to 19.57 and December 19.54, 52 to 53 points above yesterday's close.

Profit taking in the early afternoon caused a reaction of 18 to 20 points with October dropping to 19.27 and December to 19.50, but a revival of market over the day following, took them over early before they are sold.

Market continued to advance in response to the firmness of cotton and lard and the steadiness of crude oil. Sales 17,400 barrels. Prime crude nominal; prime standard fell 5/16 to 57 1/2. September closed 64 1/2. Market 1927-1928, 1927-1928, 1927-1928.

LIVESTOCK HIGHER FORT WORTH, Aug. 16 (AP)-Increased prices were generally in vogue on the livestock market here today. An increase of from 10 cents to 15 cents were recorded in the hog trade, while the cattle market was active and steady, with calves up to 2 cents higher. Sheep were generally steady.

COTTON OIL FIRM NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)-The cottonseed oil market was moderately active and firm today. Storage brought up a sharp rally in the late trading and all months made new highs with October at 16.25 and December at 16.37, 54 to 55 points net up. The market closed off 3 to 4 points at the end, resulting in a net advance of one half cent.

A private authority issued a mid-month report today making the condition of the crop 68.5 and the indicated yield 12,500,000 bales. The report has no effect on the market. Exports for the day totaled 22,808 bales.

THERE SHOULD BE PROSPERITY ON THE SOUTH-PLAINS!

THE OPPORTUNITIES ARE REAL AND PLENTY IF WE ALL RECOGNIZED THEM--AND TOLD THE WORLD ABOUT THEM!

The Avalanche-Journal Publishing Company believes in the South Plains—in its opportunities. So much so that we are buying space in 30 different publications of the South and Southwest and publishing in them the following message:

WE NEED FARMERS

¶ The largest area of PROVEN, undeveloped farming lands in the Southwest is the South Plains of West Texas. Productive lands with abundant water near good schools are available at the LOWEST prices and EASIEST terms. There are 16 good South Plains counties with, literally, millions of acres of opportunities for agricultural, commercial and industrial development. Get full and accurate information of the South Plains FREE by writing for a copy of the South Plains' Fair edition of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal to be published Sunday, September 25th. Write now: Avalanche-Journal Publishing Company, Lubbock, Texas.

We believe the same co-operation that builds prosperous communities into thriving cities develops prairies into productive agricultural sections.

These Newspapers seek the co-operation of every community on the South Plains in spreading the news of —“this land of opportunity”—the section we serve.
