Two Former Mustangs To Receive Recognition

Two former Mustang stand-outs, Elvin Lyon and Don Patterson, will be inducted into the OHS Athletic Hall of Fame Friday night. The duo will also be grand marshals of the homecoming parade.

School will dismiss at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 10 with a giant pep rally set for 3:15 p.m. in the high school gym. All Mustang supporters are invited.

It's still not too late for businesses or individuals to enter the parade with floats, antique vehicles, bikes or a-foot. The parade will wind its way down Main Street at 3:30.

Judges for the parade are Jolene Givens, Russell Strain, Mable Bizzell, Wendell Potts and Lois Brimhall. Winners will be announced at the game. Prizes will also be awarded the best decorated bikes.

Sponsors of the parade are members of the OHS Student Council.

Friday evening's activities begin with a taco supper sponsored by Mustang Booster Club. Serving will be 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria and will feature a menu of tacos, beans, cornbread, salad, tea and coffee.

Tickets are $3 for students or adults and are available from any Booster Club member. They will also be available at the door.

Kick-off for the game between the Mustangs and Hart's Longhorns is 8 p.m. Half-time will bring coronation ceremonies to name the Homecoming Queen. Candidates are Stacy Barnett, Gracie Cordova, Jamie Rich and Melissa McFadden.

Hall of Fame ceremonies will follow.

SIGNAL OF VICTORY - Uplifted hands indicate the Mustangs' touchdown Friday night against the Whirlwinds of Floydada. The six-pointer, coming in the second quarter, proved the only score of the game and nailed down the Mustangs fourth victory.

Mustangs Whip Floydada, Record Now Stands 4-0

By Freddy Stockdale

After shocking favored Hale Center and Abernathy in their first two games of the season, the Mustangs traveled to Lockney and promptly spoiled Homecoming activities by taking a 26-12 victory. They played in front of another Homecoming crowd last Friday night in Floydada and ruined things there en route to a 6-0 win over the Whirlwinds in conditions you wouldn't wish on your pet rat.

Actually the scoreboard should have read Olton 6, Floydada 0, Rain 12. A steady rain during the game forced a dozen fumbles and the players spent more time looking for the football than they did running with it. The Mustangs lost 4 of 5 miscues, while Floydada gave up 3 of 7.

With the aid of a two-day-old offense, the undefeated Mustangs kept control of the ball and the statistics. They finished with 161 yards total offense (148 rushing, 13 passing), compared to only 68 total yards for the Whirlwinds. They also won the battle of first downs 11-5.

Danny Garcia, the leading AAA rusher on the South Plains going into the game, was the big gun for the Mustangs with 132 yards and the winning and only touchdown to his credit. A lot of those yards were gained behind the blocking wall of linemen Kenny Smith and Lance Phares, who were converted to backs for the special offense.

"We just drew that up on the board Wednesday," said head coach Larry Shackelford. "We had been having trouble scoring with the veer and we wanted something we could use to punch it over with."

That offense provided more than enough punch on the Mustangs' five-minute, 10-play scoring drive. The drive was set up in part by a Kenny Smith coffin-corner kick that went out of bounds at Floydada's 3-yard line — one of three Smith punts downed inside the 10 — to put the 'Winds in a hole.

Floydada's drive stalled at their own 25 and Carlos Rainwater (a most appropriate name) was sent in to punt. Rainwater's punt rolled dead at Olton's 45 with 5:14 left in the first half.

Garcia and quarterback Gregg Smith provided all the yardage, and on fourth-and-goal from the two with only 16 seconds left, Garcia followed Kenny Smith and Phares into the endzone. Smith's extra-point try was unsuccessful but the Mustangs had all the points they needed for the win.

Even though the second half provided about as much excitement as a worm festival, the Mustangs did have two chances to add to their lead.

Late in the third period Scotty Cannon blocked a Rainwater punt and recovered the loose ball at the 'Winds' 22. The Mustangs drove as far as the seven, but blitzing linebackers halted three Garcia attempts up the middle. On fourth down, Garcia tried to score on a fake field goal attempt, but was stopped short.

After swapping punts, Olton recovered a Floydada fumble at the 'Winds' 13. A holding penalty pushed the Mustangs back to the 29. Three plays later, Garcia gave the ball back on a fumble at the 19.

Kenny Smith's coffin-corner kicks kept the 'Winds deep in their own territory for the rest of the game. Their only real chance to score came after Mark Nutt recovered an Olton fumble with two minutes left.

Scotty Cannon quickly doused all hopes for a Floydada victory. On first down he sacked quarterback Todd Beedy for a six yard loss. On the next play Beedy bobbled the ball, Cannon fell on it and the Mustangs had their fourth win, against no losses, in hand.

Shackelford attributed his team's unbeaten record to attitude. "Last year (during a 2-8 season) our kids took it on the chin quite a few times, but they never quit. This year the kids came back ready to play."

While admitting that Garcia stole the spotlight again, Shackelford was quick to mention the play of Olton's forgotten runningback David Smith. "A lot of people don't notice Smith because of the career Garcia has had, but he is a good player. The only difference is Garcia has been running the ball for three years, while this is Smith's first. He'll get his chances."

Smith, as well as Garcia and the rest of the Mustangs, will get some of those chances Friday night in front of another Homecoming crowd — this time in Olton — when they take on Hart at 8 p.m.

Country Fair Time Nears

Fair time is almost here. Olton's Country Fair promises to be special and is expected to draw a big crowd Saturday, Oct. 11.

Exhibits will be set up in the Granbery building next door to Carmen's Western Wear and Pioneer Natural Gas. Entries may be set up all during the day Thursday, Oct. 9. Judging will be that evening except for baked goods.

Ribbon prizes will be given for the three top places in each category. "Peoples' Choice" and "Best of the Show" ribbons will be given in some categories.

Items to be entered in the arts and crafts department will be limited to four pieces or paintings per artist. Size is limited to 24x36 canvas (plus frame) and must be wired for hanging (no strip hangers, please.) Display areas will be provided; there is no entry fee.

Paintings in oils, watercolors and pastels will be divided into amateur and advanced with categories including landscapes, portraiture, still life and floral. First, second and third places will be awarded in each.

A separate division will feature other media - charcoal, pencil and pen and ink. Sculpture and wood carvings are also separate divisions.

Children's art work will be divided into ages six to 12 and 12 to 18 and may include oils, water colors, pen and ink, crayon and dough art.

All items must be titled, have a card indicating if items is for sale (and should be priced) or marked with "NFS" if item is not to be sold. If a piece of art work sells, artist may replenish his or her work as it sells but replacement work will not be considered for judging.

Viewers will be asked to vote on their choice of art work for a special Peoples' Choice Award.

Photography will include separate divisions for color and black and white. Categories in each include at work and play, nature studies, architecture (old and new buildings), portraits, and "cutesy" (children, pets, etc).

Entries in photography should also have titles.

Produce entries may include pumpkins, tomatoes, dried ears of corn, maize heads, etc. Canned goods may include fruits, vegetables, pickles, jams and jellies.

Hand sewn divisions may be tailored, dressy or sportswear. There will be a separate category for quilts and related items.

Needlecraft divisions include embroidery, needlepoint, tatting, knitting and crochet. Separate categories will include decorator items and children's toys.

Food items will include cakes, pies, cookies, breads and candies.

Specially for the men, there will be woodcrafts, leathercrafts and metalcraft.

A junior division will be judged if there are sufficient entries. For information, call Lois Brimhall, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Mike Hodges Is Winner, Janie Orosco Holds Lead

Perfect picks continue to elude contestants in the Enterprise guessing game. Four persons missed three games each in last week's slate of gridiron clashes.

Mike Hodges came nearest the actual score of the Mustangs-Whirlwinds game, missing by 15 points with a prediction of 14-7. He claims, the $5 first prize money for the week. Just one point back, Mike Williams' prediction of 16-6 was 16 points off and good for the second place win.

Bobby Williams missed by 25 with a prediction of 17-14. He picks up third place monies. Eliminated by his tie-breaker guess, Carl McClure was off 29 points with 21-14.

Janie Orosco continues to hold onto the season lead. She has 62 correct predictions over the four weeks of competition. Twenty-three other contestants are not far back. Those with 52 or more points are listed elsewhere in this issue.

"Don't give up," is the advise given all contestants. Standings are subject to change each week as contestants hit lucky streaks or fall into slumps. Careless mistakes still plague contestants, too, with several failing to circle a winner for every game or neglecting to fill in the tie-breaker.

Young Farmers To Have Kick-Off Breakfast

Olton Young Farmers will hold their Kick-off Breakfast Thursday, Oct. 9 at 6:45 a.m. in the Agriculture Community Building.

A country breakfast will be served with all the trimmings. Door prizes will be awarded, according to Mark Gunter, reporter.

Following the breakfast the group will discuss plans for the coming year, which will include the Annual Turkey Shoot and the announcement of committees. Dues will also be payable for the year.

All people involved in Agri-business are invited to attend. According to Gunter, "....that includes everybody in this area. If you sack groceries at a market, or if you change flats at a station....you are involved in Agri-business."

Men under 35 years are welcomed as active members. Over 35 years they are welcomed as associate members. The main object of the local organization is the educational aspect of Agri-business, with emphasis on community service.

All funds raised in Young Farmers Organization goes back into civic projects, most of it is used to aid the youth of the community.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Former Maj. Gen. John K. Singlaub, U.S. Army retired has recently indicated that the U.S. Government may have abandoned American POW's and MIA's still unaccounted for in the Far East, 2,800 men in all --- 2,490 from the Vietnam war and 389 from the Korean War some 30 years ago. Many of these men were known to be alive at the cessation of hostilities, or had been seen alive prior to Southeast Asian peace accords.

The government has "openly" admitted that 389 prisoners of war were left in Korean prisoner of war camps after the fires of that war went out. There is mounting support, both from unofficial and official sources that American POW's and MIA's are still held captive in Indo-China. After sorting through over 300 first hand sightings of Americans by refugee sources the American government is prepared to "listen" to the thunderings of such evidence, and possibly take action.

The recent hostage crisis in Iran, brings to the surface the pressing problem of the POW and MIA servicemen. Clarification of this issue is indeed both important, and essential. Americans must realize the possibilities that our government has in the past "abandoned" Americans in the sake of "normalization." This attitude cannot be condoned nor is it correct. It is also important to note that we cannot afford to go to war over this issue of hostages. If that were the criteria for war, we have a much better reason for seeking retribution in Indo-China. This is provided that war is a viable way of settling moral issues, and furthering idealism. But, the POW's and MIA's must not be forgotten.

Only the most ardent and convicted campaign of the American public will bring the ear of bureaucracy within hearing distance of the "captured Americans" plight. I urge all citizens and citizen-groups to write our public officials and request an accounting of the POW and MIA issue. Four important points should be stressed:

(1) ALL documents relating to POW and MIA's in Southeast Asia should be made public. These documents should include all material about Korea and Vietnam regardless of Classification or reference.

(2) The POW and MIA issue should be included as a part of all negotiations with China, the Soviet Union, North Korea and other areas of Indo-China.

(3) Rewards to be paid in Gold should be allocated for the return of all "live" POW's still being held in Indo-China.

(4) Officials at all levels should be urged to publicly support the move of accountability of POW's and MIA' and strive to declare a national moratorium date to bring to bear national attention on this problem.

There is no final chapter in the annals of war. The wounded are many...both physical and mental and they are wounds that never heal, but, time makes them more bearable. The POW and MIA issue is such a wound. For the soldier it is physical wound, for the American conscience it is a wound which cannot be ignored nor go away, and though time has made the POW and MIA issue something we can "live with" it has not closed the books on those boys who are still "over-there". Help bring the POW home...Thank you.

"NO PROBLEM"

Three elderly women were discussing their lives. One said, "I have this problem....Sometime when I go to the refrigerator, I can't remember whether I'm taking something out or putting it in."

"That's nothing," said another. "I find myself standing at the stairs, wondering if I'm going up or if I've just come down."

The third woman said, "Well, I'm thankful I don't have any such problem." And she knocked on wood. "Oh! Oh!" she said, "There's someone at the door."

MRS. TIM CLARK

Recipe Revue

By Mozelle Trotter

When snow falls this winter, it will especially tease at least one "newcomer" to Olton. Growing up in Colorado and living three years in Alaska has given Mrs. Tim Clark ample opportunity to come to love snow machining. It is one of her favorite pastimes and one there'll be little chance for here, she realizes.

Glenda and Tim saw plenty of snow during the three years they lived in Salcha, Alaska. There, they never saw the ground from September through April. Winters meant only two or three hours of daylight each day.

"It's a nice change here," she says before adding "even though the summer almost killed me. I just stayed in by the air conditioner."

During their stay in the "far north", Tim pastored a Baptist church and worked with Continental Telephone Company. He is presently a ministerial student at Wayland Baptist College and serving as minister of youth and education at First Baptist Church.

Hunting and fishing are two hobbies Glenda shares with Tim. Before their children were born, they did lots of hunting. Glenda has proved her marksmanship for she has killed her own deer.

Glenda and Tim met as students at Hardin-Simmons University. Tim, the son of a minister, was born in Nebraska but lived a good part of his life in Florida. They were married in 1971.

"When I met Tim, I found what I 'wanted to be when I grew up' - Tim's wife," says Glenda with an engaging smile.

The Clarks are parents of three children. Elizabeth is five and a half; Emily, two in December and Joel, two months.

Glenda enjoys sewing and cooking. She likes trying out new recipes and shares some favorites which have never before appeared in this column.

PIZZA DOUGH
2½ c flour
1 pkg instant-blend dry yeast
1½ t salt
2 T shortening
1 c warm water

Combine ½ of flour, yeast and salt, mix well. Add shortening and water and mix by hand until somewhat smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make stiff dough. Let rest 15 mins. Press into two greased 12" or 14" pans. Bake at 400° 25-30 mins. Use favorite topping. Dough can be frozen before or after assembling and baking.

Hint: Roll pizza dough onto rolling pin, lay pin over pan and unroll pastry into pan.

SWEETER MUFFINS
1 egg
½ c milk
¼ c vegetable oil
1½ c flour
½ c sugar
2 t baking powder
½ t salt

Mix ingredients together only until moistened - batter should be lumpy. Fill greased muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake in 400° oven 20-25 mins. Makes 8.

SMOKED TURKEY
(turkey, wild birds, trout)
12 to 14 lb bird (use 2 gals brine)
Brine:
Per gallon water use:
½ c pickling salt
1 c Morton's Tender Quick
4 to 5 T Wright's Liquid Smoke

Soak turkey completely submerged in brine, with heavy bowl on it to keep it down. For a crock, use a plastic pail. Bird MUST NOT come in contact with any metal during soaking time. Soak for 24 hours in cool place, 45-50 degrees or less. Rinse off brine and dry with paper towel. Oil bird with salad oil (do not use butter).

Place bird on rack breast side down for entire cooking time. Use no foil for cover. Bake at 350° first hour, 250° thereafter. Bake 12-14 lb bird 12 hours. For smaller bird, bake at least 1 hr per pound.

Let cool in place on rack so juices run to breast meat. Cool 3-4 hours unless serving as hot meal. Slice and de-bone whole bird. Freezes well.

NEOPOLITAN REFRIGERATOR CAKE
1 3 oz pkg strawberry Jell-O

Dissolve Jell-O in ¾ c boiling water. Add ½ c cold water. Set aside until room temperature.

1 pkg fudge marble cake mix

Prepare cake as directed on pkg and bake as directed in 9x13 pan. Cool 20 mins. With cake still in pan, poke deep holes 1" apart in top of cake with fork. Slowly pour room temperature Jell-O over cake. Refrigerate while preparing topping.

TOPPING
1 env Dream Whip
1 sm pkg vanilla instant pudding
1½ c cold milk
1 t vanilla

Blend all ingredients with mixer until stiff. Spread over cake. Cake must be kept in refrigerator. Frosted cake may be frozen for storage. For best results, bake day before serving.

Courtney Lynn Cameron Feted With Layette Courtesy

Little Miss Courtney Lynn Cameron, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Cameron, was complimented Tuesday afternoon with a layette courtesy in the home of Mrs. Owen Norfleet.

Assorted cookies, finger sandwiches and punch were served from a party table laid with a white lace-edged cloth. An arrangement of hot pink dahlias with dried accents graced the table which was appointed with casual china.

Guests were informally registered. Gifts were registered by Mrs. George Jones.

Alpha Rho Delta Sponsors 'Plant Party' & Program

Jolene Arnold of Tulia was guest speaker Tuesday evening when Alpha Rho Delta members hosted a "plant party".

Displaying a variety of plants, Ms. Arnold explained how plants can be grown in rocks and water and shared information about the different plants.

Hostesses were Mmes. Stephen Smith, Gary Wood, Jim Aldridge and Benny Akin. They served sand tarts, thumb print cookies, pecan bars, iced tea and coffee.

Guests attending were Jessie Kinnison, Jennifer Howell, Becky Howell and Cynthia Rochelle.

Attending were Mmes. James Hall, Sue Carson, George Jones, Ronnie Redinger, John Hair, Craig Smith, Randy Milloy, Danny Collins, Ward Nicholson and the hostesses.

Boxing Team Begins New Year Competing In Amarillo Tourney

Olton Boxing Team participated Friday and Saturday in Amarillo in their first tournament of the season.

Fighting both nights and winning both outings by decision, Raton Perez fought Ray Inguanza and Danny Palome, both of Lubbock. Roy Sanchez lost Friday night by decision against Jamie Benitez of Lubbock and won Saturday night against Bryant Fugate of Amarillo.

Anyone interested in getting involved in boxing is invited to contact Coach Tony Perez at 285-2318. Donations to help with expenses incurred by traveling to tournaments are welcomed. An account for the Olton Boxing Team has been opened at Olton State Bank.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

"I'll Never Lie...," He Said

"HAVE YOU EVER been sorry you said 'I'll never tell a lie'?," Jimmy Carter was asked when he ran for President the first time.

"No," he replied, "I've been surprised that it arouses any interest..."

It arouses interest, of course, because Americans always want to know if their President is telling them the truth.

This is especially so when the candidate loudly proclaims his veracity, as Carter repeatedly did, while making a bookfull of promises, including promising "I keep my promises."

As President, has Jimmy Carter kept his promises? Or has he lied?

IT IS OFTEN difficult—but it's not impossible—to pin down the truth or falsity of a Carter statement because he is a master of ambiguity and clever phraseology.

As David E. Rosenbaum of the New York Times wrote in 1976, the President "likes to take a position that encourages both sides of a question to believe that he is on their side."

But, sometimes, Carter makes flat statements for which he must be held accountable as he seeks a second term.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"We can attain a balanced budget with full employment by 1979," Carter said on the campaign trail four years ago.

"If you elect me President," he said on another occasion, "before this next term is over we're going to have a balanced budget in Washington and you can depend on that."

"We will have a balanced budget by Fiscal Year 1981 if I am elected," he said in the first Presidential debate of 1976. "I keep my promises to the American people."

Last year's Fiscal 1979 budget deficit was about $30 billion. This year's deficit already had hit $65.2 billion by the end of August with one month yet to go.

Next year's deficit, despite a $100 billion tax increase under Carter, is projected at anywhere between $30 billion and $50 billion.

Unemployment, which stood at 7.9 percent when Carter took office, stood at 7.8 percent in July.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"There will be no new programs implemented under my administration unless we can be sure that the cost is compatible with my goal of having a balanced budget before the end of (my) term," Carter said in 1976.

"New programs" have flourished despite continued deficits and new windfall taxes.

Federally guaranteed loans have been used to bail out debt-ridden New York City and the Chrysler Corp. A new Department of Energy and a separate Department of Education, each with multi-billion-dollar budgets, have been created and funded.

New income transfer programs have included special handouts to help the poor pay higher fuel bills, government taking the bulk of the higher energy prices through its new windfall tax on domestic production.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"I'm not going to add a tax burden on working families and the medium-income categories, $15,000 income," Carter said in St. Louis in 1976.

Since then, Social Security taxes on the working person have increased from a maximum of $965.25 in 1977 to $1,587.67 this year —and it goes up again next year.

The windfall tax on gasoline hits hardest at the low- and middle-income family, taking as much as $100 a year from the typical Texas motorist.

The average family of four in the U.S. is paying $1,399 more in federal taxes in 1980 than it did in 1976, according to the Congressional Joint Committee on taxation.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"Under my administration, if I'm elected," Carter told a crowd in Des Moines, Iowa, four years ago, "there will never be another embargo that singles out farm products."

This year, he imposed an embargo on shipments of grain to the Soviet Union in retaliation for its invasion of Afghanistan.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

In June, 1976, Carter told a Texas audience that the 1,900 federal agencies could be cut to 200 "conservatively."

After his election, instead of whittling the bureaucracy, he enlarged it. He asked for, and got, the afore-mentioned Departments of Energy and of Education. Only token cuts have been made in agencies; the trend has been the other way.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

On Oct. 27, 1977, Carter said he and then-Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board "exchange our views very frankly with each other. Sometimes, there's a sharper disagreement at our private luncheons even than there is in public."

But on Nov. 10, 1977—just two weeks later —Carter reversed himself, saying he and Burns "discuss economic issues openly and freely...We've never had any disagreements on those subjects."

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

After the discovery of a Soviet Union combat brigade in Cuba, President Carter bristled that the status quo was "unacceptable."

When the Soviet Union refused to back down, he found the status quo acceptable.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"I would continue the effort to be friendly with Russia (but) I would be a much tougher negotiator," Carter said in seeking election the first time.

Subsequently, he finished negotiating a SALT II treaty that guaranteed Soviet superiority in weapons systems for the foreseeable future.

It was so decidedly one-sided in the Soviet Union's favor that even a dovish Democratic Senate wouldn't ratify it and Carter himself quit pushing for it after Afghanistan was invaded.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"I would not be in favor of relinquishing actual control of (the Panama Canal) or its use to any other nation," candidate Carter said. "...I would be glad to yield part of the sovereignty over the Panama Canal Zone to Panama."

As President, Carter rammed through Congress a treaty that abolishes the Canal Zone and, ultimately, turns over complete control and sovereignty, to Panama.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

As a candidate, Carter pledged to decontrol natural gas prices. As President, he fought decontrol of natural gas prices, then bragged of decontrol of natural gas prices.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

In mid-April, 1980, Carter said he would not campaign for re-election until the hostages in Iran were "back here, free and at home."

Just two weeks later, Carter hit the campaign trail. The hostage issue, he explained, was "manageable."

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

Carter promised, if elected, to cut defense spending by $5 billion to $7 billion by eliminating waste.

Instead, he increased defense spending while cutting muscle, not fat, until finally becoming alarmed himself over the lack of readiness of the nation's military and advocating substantial increases in the Pentagon's budget for next year.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

This Labor Day, Carter said that "after years of decline under the Republicans before I took office, this last four years we have steadily rebuilt our military capabilities."

Rebuilt? Carter cancelled the B-1 bomber, delayed development of the cruise missile, rejected a nuclear aircraft carrier, and killed or stretched out other new weapons programs to such an extent that his own Secretary of Defense said this summer the Soviets now have the capability to knock out our land-based missiles.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"Inflation has fallen sharply," Carter said in Philadelphia on Sept. 3, 1980. It "fell" upwards, from 4.8 percent when he took office to 12.6 percent in the first seven months of this year.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

"There has not been a President in modern history, including Franklin Delano Roosevelt and including Lyndon Baines Johnson, who has a better record of support from the Democratic Congress than has Jimmy Carter," Jimmy Carter boasted to a Democratic luncheon at the party's National Convention in New York last month.

According to the Congressional Quarterly, which didn't compile figures during FDR's time, the lawmakers backed Johnson 93 percent of the time, Jack Kennedy 87 percent.

By comparison, CQ says Congress backed Carter 77 percent of the time last year, 78 percent in 1978 and 75 percent in 1977.

"I'll never lie to you," he said.

But he did.

Two Car Accident Injures Five Persons

A two-car accident late Thursday afternoon injured five persons and left two in hospitals in Plainview and Lubbock.

Diana Graham, driving alone in one car, underwent surgery Thursday night for a collapsed lung.

Mrs. Dennis Givens, driver of a van in which her three children were passengers, was treated and released from Central Plains Hospital. Two of the children, Lori and Dale, were also treated and released. The older son, chad, was transferred to Lubbock and remains in intensive care from a brain concussion.

Flower Show Arrangements Made For Country Fair

Details for the flower show division of the Olton Country Fair were completed too late for the front page story in this week's Enterprise. They are announced here.

Categories will include miniature, all fresh materials (may be all foliage), all dried and mixed fresh and dried. All entries must be titled.

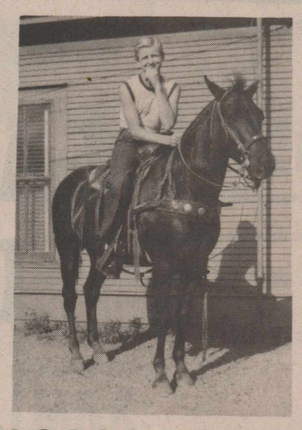

Ribbons will be given for first, second and third places. A Best Overall Award will also be presented.

WEEKEND VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sluder joined family members last weekend in Canyon at the home of a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gheer and son. Mrs. Peggy Hull, Koni and Koye of Kimball, Neb. were also in Canyon to attend Parents Weekend at West Texas State where their daughter and sister, Kari Hull, is enrolled as a freshman. Also attending the weekend observance were Orville Finch and Mrs. O.H. Finch Sr. of Dalhart. Mrs. O.H. Finch Jr., the former LeaBelle Sluder, was in San Antonio attending a meeting of school boards. Their son, Carl, is a third generation WTSU student.

agri-facts

One of the real old-timers in the cattle business was the subject of a feature story last month in the WALL STREET JOURNAL. This particular "old-timer" has gone from trail drives to the tinsel of Hollywood. From the heights of acceptance and popularity to the depths of disregard and disuse. Now he's on the way back. He's wiry, tough, stubborn, smart and a natural survivor . . . the Texas Longhorn. Ten years ago, there were less than 5000 Longhorns left. Today, there are just over 28-thousand. Five years ago a Longhorn cow could be had for about $500. Today it's over $3000. Some five years ago a three-year old Longhorn bull was headed for the local McDonalds (through the back door) when he was bought for $350. Today his asking price is $150-thousand. How long it'll last nobody knows . . . but the old-timer is definitely on the way back.

Seven From Kenya Visit Olton Lions Club Tuesday

Visitors from Kenya talked with Olton Lions Tuesday, describing facets of their country's agriculture. Seven presidents of banks or credit institutions in Kenya have been in America four months.

Accompanying the seven to Olton where they also visited at Olton State Bank, were Glenn Shurr, senior ag economics major at Texas Tech University, and Dr. Lee, ag economics professor at Tech. The seven from Africa were E.A. Maina, Michael Abade, Sospeter M. Njuguna, George M. Kiok, John Thongo, John Jandara and Paul Kipkuto.

Visiting Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania, Minnesota and New York prior to coming to Texas, the group stayed in Houston before coming to Lubbock. They have visited financial institutions and greeted farmers throughout their stay here.

Kenya has no winter, said a spokesman for the group. Temperatures average 60 to 75 degrees Fahrenheit all year. With an average rainfall of 45 inches, there is no need for irrigation.

Farmers in Kenya also have problems with insects they said, adding they must spray cotton. They grow maize, cotton and other seasonal crops. They also grow tea and are second to Brazil in exporting coffee.

During the business session, Lions voted to support a building program at the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville by contributing $1 per member per month for one year. This special giving comes above the $10 per member per year contribution already approved by the club.

Lion Boss Bill Yoakum announced Ladies Night for Tuesday, Oct. 7. The 7:30 p.m. meeting will be held in the agricultural community building.

Other guests Tuesday were Lioness Pauline Strain, Gary Cooper and Joe Hartman of Clovis.

Roundup® herbicide controls 3 of the meanest weeds in cotton.

Whiteweed* Blueweed Field bindweed.

They're mean. Tough. And stubborn. They can choke a cotton field right out of production. Most herbicides can't stop them. But Roundup can.

Just make sure the weeds are actively growing after harvest and not under drought stress. Then, spot or boom apply Roundup, and you'll see how Roundup gets to the root of those weed problems.

Reach for Roundup® herbicide —and clean up those cotton fields this Fall.

INSUR-MATION

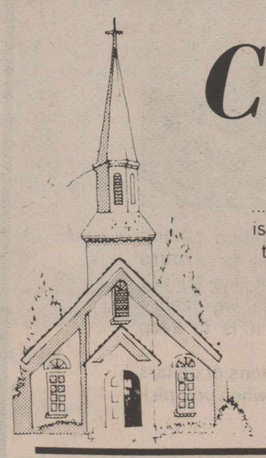

I am working on a plan to open a small, independent business. In working on my budget - rent, etc., I'm trying to estimate the liability insurance I'll need. Can you help me?
Generally, the type of liability insurance required is determined by the type of business. In a retail business the primary hazard is the premises, itself, which can be covered by an Owner's Landlords and Tenant's Liability policy. This policy's premiums are usually based on square footage. In addition, a retail business might need a Products Liability policy which would insure you against liability for any faulty merchandise. Both types of coverage are included in a Comprehensive General Liability policy. For complete information, consult your agent.

Future Farmers Exhibit In South Plains Fair

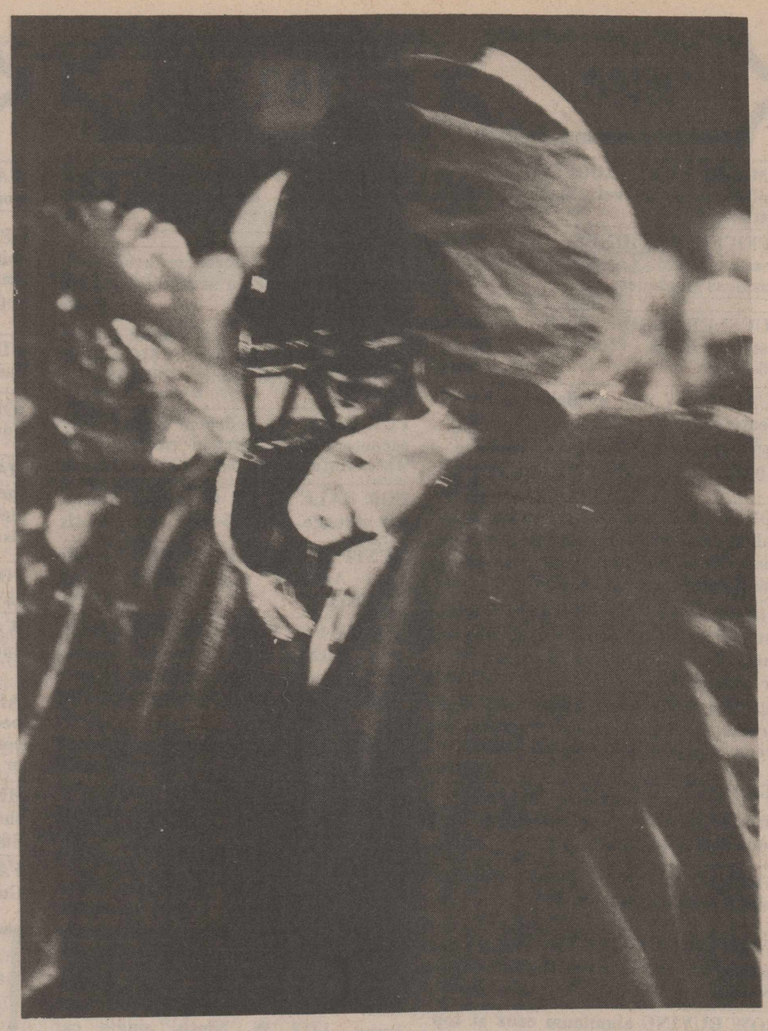

Olton Future Farmers made a good showing last week with livestock entries in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair.

Exhibiting and placing with swine entries were Kelli Smith, ninth place, heavy weight Hampshire and Chad Givens, seventh place, lightweight Chester.

Lambs were shown by Kregg Hukill, thirteenth place, heavyweight Fine Wool Cross and Chad Givens, ninth place light weight Suffolk and Fine Wool Cross.

Young Givens also exhibited the third place lightweight British breed calf. Others competing in the steer division were Gregg Smith, sixth, lightweight Cross; Kregg Hukill, tenth, lightweight Cross; Dwain DePrang, tenth, lightweight Cross; Kelly McCall, twelfth, medium weight Cross; Steve Graham, fourteenth, lightweight Cross and Melissa McFadden, fourteenth medium weight Cross; and Mike Hodges, sixteenth.

Others attending were Kelly Slover, Wade Nafzger, Jana Nafzger, Kevin Hukill, Mark Boone and Mike Williams.

THE HOODED MUSTANG -- The weather was not the best for the Mustangs' game against the Floydada Whirlwinds as evidenced here by a Mustang dressed for the occasion.

Olton Woman's Brother Buried

Paul H. McAlister, 60, of Amarillo died Saturday, Sept. 27. A former resident of this area, he was brother of Mrs. Jewel Huggins.

Services were held Monday in Blackburn-Shaw Martin Road Chapel. The Rev. Bill O'Dell, Chaplain at Veteran's Administration Hospital, officiated. Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery.

A native of Oklahoma City, he had lived in Amarillo 16 years. He was a retired service station operator and veteran of World War II.

Other survivors include his wife, Glenda; two daughters, Susan Segler of Amarillo and LaDonna McAlister of the home; two sons, Glenn and Tony both of the home; three brothers, N.E. of Amarillo, Claude of Logan, N.M. and Lloyd of Rankin; one other sister, Lola Goodwin of Manitou, Okla.; and one grandchild.

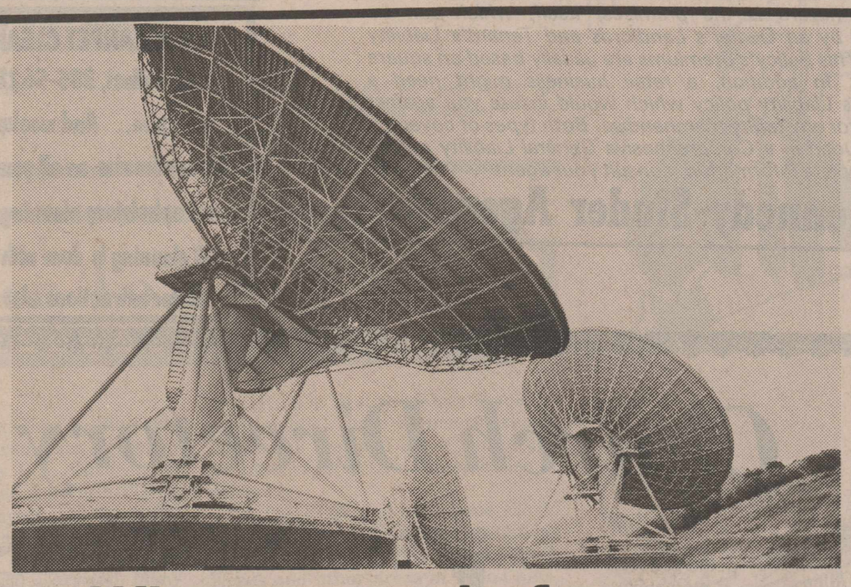

4-H Club Meeting Slated Tuesday

A meeting of Olton 4-H Club will be held Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 7:30 in the Agriculture Building, according to the club reporter.

Mrs. Don Russell will have charge of the program which will concern posters. All members are urged to be present. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

A computer analysis revealed that the square most likely to be landed on in the game "Monopoly" is Illinois Avenue, followed by Go, the B&O Railroad, and Free Parking.

Who goes out of this world for you?

We do... General Telephone.

This is one of our earth stations. It beams 18,000 phone calls at a clip to a satellite hovering more than 20,000 miles above the equator. It gathers in the same number of calls, and sends them out over our regular telephone network.

It's part of the incredibly complex system that's just about the world's most efficient communications system.

And it has reliability built in, whether it's an earth station talking to outer space, or a cute little phone built like Mickey Mouse. Because we realize how important it is to keep you in touch with your world.

We spend hundreds of millions of dollars every year, making sure that when you pick up your phone...

It works.

We keep you talking.

"We put the heat pump in our home based on the recommendation from a builder. He said, 'by having a heat pump, you will save money over a long period of time on heating and cooling costs.' And, he was right! We are saving money with a heat pump. The heat pump really does do an efficient job of heating and cooling the home. If we were doing it all over, we would put a heat pump in again based on the results we've seen with lower electric bills. We are extremely pleased with the way the heat pump has performed."

Cheerleaders!

CHEERLEADERS! They appear so carefree, so light-hearted as they bounce and kick, lead rhythmical chants or...swinging their pom-pons... come racing across the football field, leading a horde of charging Mustangs...eager for the fray.

But if we look a little deeper we find that all is not glitter, glamour and glory! Behind the distinctive uniform and the disarming smile they wear...lie many hours of intensive preparation, some of it back-breaking drudgery.

The girls work under the watchful eye of Mrs. Mary Spradley, teacher of physical education and health. She is serving her second year as sponsor of varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders.

Desire for the role of cheerleader may have been born in the heart of any one of these performers when she was just a little girl watching some cheering squad of bygone days. The dream may have been nurtured all through the painfully slow passing of years...until finally, the day comes for try-outs.

This ordeal produces the agony of appearing (possibly) for the first time before the entire student body, of straining every nerve, vying for approval...hoping fervently to be among those chosen to "wear the school colors".

Once selected as one of the six fortunate ones, training must be had. Practice must begin, and plans must be made to attend a Cheerleaders camp during the summer months...but first some money must be made for expenses.

To finance themselves, these promising young hopefuls stage the ever-popular "car wash", sell T-shirts, pom-pons, megaphones, popcorn balls, ice cream, sponsor a junior cheerleading clinic....and try any other respectable opportunity that presents itself, (including a current project... selling seafoods from a truck parked on the parking area of Olton Grain Co-op, Thursday, Oct. 9, from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.).

Once funds were available this year, the girls attended Stephenville NCA Cheerleading Camp in mid-summer. There they encountered blistering heat, strict discipline and rigid rules. Arising at 6 a.m. each of the six days spent on the campus, the girls struggled to master the finesse of each technique offered; the skillful grace of four dance routines; the artful strategy of the human pyramid; all the while learning some 30 chants or cheers, perfecting jumps and finding ways to incorporate all into acceptable routines. They returned home with 'polish' - and confidence.

Late August, in addition to their continued practice, the sextet began painting and placing yard signs at the homes of each of Olton's Mustangs and their coaches.

As the season progressed, the girls decorated school halls, the gym, the boys' dressing rooms and even invaded the sanctity of each player's home to decorate his bedroom on a more personal level.

Endless numbers of signs had to be created, streets had to be painted (with permission and under the watchful eye of city officials). Some 24 ceramic football players were painted to be used in room decoration; and each girl was assigned five Mustangs with the admonition to "make phone calls to them, deliver messages, build up spirit and moral and do nice things for them" throughout the season.

As the weeks passed, the girls had to find time every day for practice, meetings or performing some courtesy. Every week locker tags must be placed, building anticipation for the up-coming game; Thursdays they served the hard-hitting Mustangs, delicacies such as cookies, ice cream or cake; and at Saturday morning team meetings, following Friday night victories, special Victory Cakes were served to the winners.

Of course, four days each week Pep Rallies had to be planned and practiced to help keep the entire student body mentally alert and ready for the next conflict.

All of this myriad of activities must be carried on during the girl's own "free" time. Each cheerleader is also expected by the administration to carry a full load scholastically...with an acceptable grade point average.

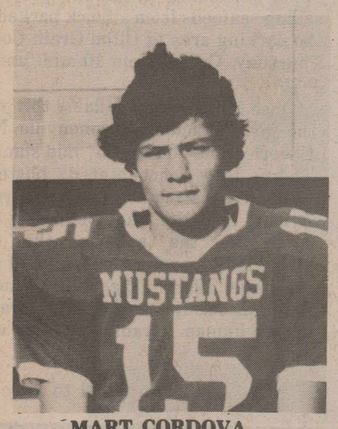

But....enough of this looking backward over the endless chores that accompany the exalted position...Here it is HOMECOMING - and time for one of the prime games of the season.

Here come the Cheerleaders, carefree....light-hearted....racing across the gridiron swinging their pom-pons...leading a horde of charging Mustangs....eager for the fray!

Exes Of 1939, 1940, 1975 To Be Reunited Oct. 10-11

Classes of 1939, 1940 and 1975 will hold reunions during Homecoming Weekend, Oct. 10-11. Many former teachers and students are expected to attend.

Members of the Class of 1939 plan to attend the parade and other Friday activities and gather at 10 a.m. Saturday in the agricultural community building. Lunch will be served at 1 p.m. followed by picture making and visiting.

Class of 1940 will begin registing at 4 p.m. Friday in the PCA party room. An after-game fellowship will be held in the home of Peggy and Clovis Poteet.

Saturday, the group will gather for a 12:30 p.m. dinner in the school lunchroom. Cost of the meal is $5.

Class of 1975 will meet after the ball game Friday night in the community room of Olton State Bank. They will re-assemble Saturday for a salad luncheon in the community room.

Army Buddies Visit After Many Years

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rape had the unique privilege last weekend of entertaining as house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wheelock of Jamestown, N.Y.

Wheelock and Rape were army buddies some 35 years ago and had not met since serving together in Manheim Germany. Members of occupation forces following WWII, they were with the 42nd 50th Quartermasters Procurement Battalion attached to the 3rd Army. In line with their duties there, Wheelock and Rape traveled quite a bit in Germany and became good friends. They have kept in touch through the years, but had not visited. The wives had never met.

The New Yorker was once stationed in Fort Hood for a few months but had never been to this area of the State. Accustomed to 40 acre plots of farmland in the rolling hills of his native state, he was overwhelmed at the size of Texas farms, and at the level plains of such great distance. He greatly enjoyed visits to the Coop Cotton Gin, Olton Feedyards, and the new Tolk Station of Southwestern Public Service Company near Earth.

Rape says the visit was so enjoyable that he and his wife have already begun to plan to return the visit, "one of these days".

OHS Cheerleaders Selling Seafood

Olton High School Cheerleaders are sponsoring a seafood truckload sale with orders to be picked up and paid for from the Trans Alaska Truck. The large seafood truck will be parked on the parking area at Olton Grain Co-op Thursday, Oct. 9 from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

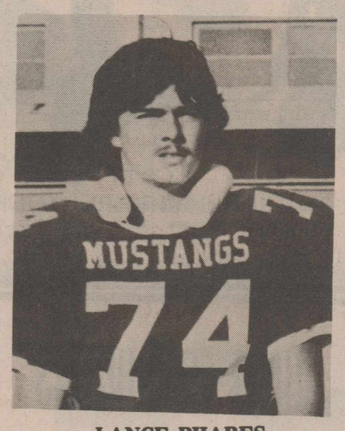

Fresh frozen, top quality seafoods will be available as pink or silver salmon steaks, whole pink or silver salmon, smoked salmon, halibut steaks, red snapper fillets, cod fillets, North Pacific walleye fillets, ling cod steaks, Snow Crab, scallops and shrimp.

Orders may be placed with any cheerleader or by calling cheerleader sponsor, Mary Spradley, 285-2522.
