Council Approves Execution Of Loan

The City Council of Colorado City, Tuesday morning authorized the second part of a loan designed to ease the city's financial problems.

On April 19, the council authorized Mayor Marion Bassham and City Secretary Brenda Tarter to execute a 10 day $60,000 loan with the City National Bank. The purpose of this loan was to insure that the city's general fund would be in the black at the end of 1978-79 fiscal year which ended on April 30. The city charter states that the general fund must be in the black at the end of the fiscal year.

The city pledged $60,000 of delinquent taxes as collateral for the loan.

The loan authorized by the council Tuesday purchased back the $60,000 pledge and also provided an additional $40,000 to meet current expenses. The interest rate on the loan was eight per cent which Mrs. Tarter said was very favorable to the city.

The resolution authorizing the loan stated, "That the City of Colorado City, Texas, shall borrow the sum of $100,000, due and payable on or before April 30, 1980, from the City National Bank of Colorado City, Texas, for the purpose of repurchasing from said bank currently pledged delinquent tax accounts and for the purpose of paying current operating expenses, said note to be repaid with interest out of anticipated current revenues from the City's Water and Sewer Revenue and/or collection of property taxes for the current fiscal year."

How to handle trash pick-up in Loraine took the spotlight at the regular monthly session of the Loraine City Council Tuesday night.

Loraine Concert Tonight

There will be a spring concert tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the Loraine High School auditorium.

The Loraine elementary band and the Loraine High School band will present the music.

The public is invited to attend and there will be no admission charge.

City and Loraine entering in a contract regarding trash collection.

Mason presented figures to the council comparing costs of the service. According to Mason's report, if Loraine decided to build their own landfill, the initial investment would be about $75,000, and that would not include the land purchase.

Operating expenses for the sanitation department of the City of Colorado City is $82,421 annually, with a monthly average of 1,951 customers.

Loraine would have 364 customers.

Mason suggested that the Loraine council consider having trash collected once a week on Wednesday at the cost of $4.50 per customer.

Presently, Loraine residents do not pay for the service of trash collection, but the city absorbs the cost of $1 per customer each month.

Presently, Loraine contracts Sylvester Rose to collect the trash once a month. Rose deposits the trash at the Loraine dumpgrounds. However, the landfill does not meet state requirements and a new one must be constructed.

Mason explained to the council that if a town provides trash pick up service, the residents are not permitted to burn trash.

Kindergarten Registration Is Today

Loraine kindergarten students will have an opportunity to pre-register today (Thursday).

Pre-registration will be held from 8:30-10:30 a.m. in the Loraine kindergarten room.

Children who will be 5-years-old by Sept. 1, 1979, are eligible to register.

Birth certificates and immunization records must be presented at registration.

Officers Billy Williamson and Bobby Calloway spotted the fire while on patrol shortly after midnight.

The fire itself was confined to the bedroom in the southeast corner of the house. Alviderez, however, was found in a hallway leading out of the bedroom.

Fire Marshall Mike Mickle said that it appeared that Alviderez had tried to leave the room after it caught on fire and had been overcome by the smoke.

Mickle stated that the probable cause of the blaze was faulty wiring in an air conditioner.

The body wasn't badly burned except around the face and hands and Justice of the Peace Henry Doss ruled that death was caused by smoke inhalation.

Mickle said that Alviderez was apparently home alone at the time of the blaze.

Alviderez was born Nov. 8, 1913 in Colorado City and had lived here all of his life. He was a carpenter.

His services were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Ann's Catholic Church and Father John Busch officiated.

Burial was in Mitchell County Cemetery.

Alviderez is survived by his wife, Beatrice; a son, Tony of Colorado City; a daughter, Angie Domenges of Colorado City; seven sisters, Mary Flores and Carolina Conteras of Visalia, Calif., Rosa Herra, Ester Garcia and Maria Madrid of Windsor, Calif., Gertrude Alvarez of Madison, Calif. and Josefa Franco of Colorado City; six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

THE COLORADO HIGH School building trades class is now putting the finishing touches on a house located at 111 East 22nd Street, which the class members constructed. Bids for the purchase of the house will be advertised at this month's meeting of the Colorado Independent School District board of trustee meeting. Those participating in the class project were (front row, left to right) Rene Hernandez, Mike Beck, Ruben Garcia, Weldon Walker, Danny Rivera, Joe Rivera, (back row, left to right), Michael Johnson, Larry Reyna, Jesse Rios, Michael (Tut) Marcom, Jerry Fox and Grady Furlow (instructor).

Local Students Build House As Class Project

At this month's meeting of the Colorado Independent School District board of trustees, the announcement will be made to advertise for bids for a house located at 111 East 22nd Street.

After two years work, the building trades class at Colorado High School has almost completed the second house which will be sold by the school district.

Under the direction of A. G. (Grady) Furlow, the students have worked during their afternoon building trades class to complete the project.

Furlow has been building trades instructor at Colorado High for the past four years. Before entering teaching, he was a building contractor and a brick mason.

Furlow noted that since the students did not have a precise time limit to follow in building, they were able to design and construct the house carefully.

Under Furlow's direction, the building trades class at Colorado High completed their first house in 1977, which is located next-door to the new project at 109 East 22nd Street.

Plans for the house at 111 East 22nd Street were borrowed from another high school building trades class, but were modified.

The students set the forms for the house, dug the foundation and built the frame.

The roofing, shingling, bricking and painting was all completed by the students.

In addition, the class members fully insulated the house and installed the air conditioner and heating units. A professional plumber installed the plumbing for the house and the students assisted with the electrical wiring.

The gray brick house has three bedrooms, two full baths, family room, kitchen and dining room combination and a double garage. Double paned windows are used in the house and it is totally electric.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin - After sometimes petty, sometimes passionate debate, the Texas House this week passed a beefed-up version, at least where salaries are concerned, of a state budget.

The price tag on the House spending plan for 1980-81 is $20.3 billion. Gov. Bill Clements says that's about $600 million too much. House members increased various salaries by almost $200 million. Clements had made it clear long before the House began its work that he was against many of those pay hikes.

It took the House four days and part of a fifth to finish the initial step in the appropriations process that now moves on to the Senate. Afterwards, the budget will probably be hammered out in a conference committee, and then, the governor must approve it.

Acting as if they didn't know Clements had threatened to veto teacher pay hikes that exceeded 5.1 per cent, House members voted teachers a 7 per cent raise for 1980 and 1981, on top of step increases. That amounts to a 20 per cent increase in pay for teachers over the next two years. Teachers say that will just about keep them up with the inflation rate.

The House also approved raises for Department of Public Safety troopers (40 per cent, state employees who make less than $20,000-a-year (seven per cent), district judges (14.8 per cent) and district attorneys (36.7 per cent). It must be pointed out that everytime legislators raise district judges salary, they raise the amount of their own retirement pay which is based on a certain percentage of a district judge's yearly salary.

When the House was finished only $530 million in state funds was left unspent. Remember, school finance is still to come.

After several emotional speeches, the tedious work of approving the two-inch thick appropriations bill crept along punctuated by a bomb scare that came at the end of a long day of debate, legislators' giving the "Hook 'n' Horns" sign and singing the "Eyes of Texas" when discussing teacher salaries at UT.

The Governor At almost the same moment Gov. Clements was announcing at a press conference that he wouldn't say what he would do if the Legislature passes to his desk a separate presidential primary bill, the House was attaching a rider to the appropriations bill that would prohibit the use of state funds for any primaries other than those in May.

Clements, who in effect killed legislation raising home loan interest rates by his announcement that he would veto such a bill, said the issue of a presidential primary was the Legislature's "baby," and that lawmakers should do their duty and vote without waiting to see what he will do if the bill reaches his desk.

From now on, Clements seemed to be saying, lawmakers would no longer have advance notice of how the governor would act regarding certain pieces of legislation. "We are not going to play this game that way," Clements declared.

The way the Senate was playing this week left the governor with little to cheer about. Senators rejected attempts to bring up legislation that would have given Clements budgetary powers. Senators opposing the bill said it would have given the governor the power to almost rewrite the budget. Opposition forces were quick to point out that the Senate also refused to give such powers to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Wiretap Bill Wiretap legislation that Clements supports emerged from a Senate subcommittee this week even though the bill's author had pronounced the legislation "dead" only a week before. The bill would legalize electronic surveillance in hard drug cases. Sen. Ed Howard, sponsor of the wiretap legislation, appeared to have the votes necessary to move the measure out of the Jurisprudence Committee and onto the Senate floor.

And, when more than 5,000 union workers descended on the State Capitol this week, chanting "Kill that bill" in protest against legislation that would repeal the prevailing wage law, Clements, true to his earlier statements, said he had no opinion on the bill. "I do have an opinion about them being a little quieter," Clements said jokingly while tradesmen in hard hats and carrying their lunchpails swarmed over the Capitol Building in one of the largest protests since the days of the Vietnam War.

Short Snorts Those who had been biting their fingernails over an economy that had grown by 6.9 per cent in the final quarter of 1978 breathed a sigh of relief this week when numbers released showed a growth rate of only 0.7 per cent in the first quarter of this year. The "overheated" economy that had been roaring along at the end of 1978 was supposedly one of the contributing factors to the ever-increasing inflation rate.

Another economic note-statistics released this week show major corporations with hefty increases in their profits during the first quarter of this year. Texaco's profits were up almost 80 per cent in that period, and Exxon's increased by more than 35 per cent.

Finally, the Senate version of Rep. Wayne Peveto's tax reform bill, sponsored by Grant Jones of Abilene, slipped out of the Senate Finance Committee this week.

The Jones-Peveto bill would set up single appraisal units for each city, school district and special district in a county. Hopefully, the legislation would create standards and guidelines by which property could be taxed locally and state-wide in an equitable fashion with homeowners and commercial interests paying their fair share of the tax burden.

During the last two legislative sessions, Peveto's bill ended up buried in the Senate Economic Development Committee. But the bill was amended this time around to satisfy real estate interests that managed to kill the measure in 1975 and 1977. The amendment permits voters to roll back property tax increases over five per cent. Peveto said he could live with such a provision.

coached the junior varsity girls' basketball team and the girls' varsity volleyball squad.

In addition to the coaches which have been rehired, Ramsey has also hired David Clapp as first assistant.

Clapp served with Ramsey as assistant coach at Mt. Vernon for the past three years and for the five years previous to that was assistant football coach at Irving High School.

Ramsey stated that five vacancies remain on the coaching staff and he hopes to fill these as soon as possible.

Ramsey said that concerning the Wolves spring drills so far, the boys had come a long way. He added that they had worked very hard and had done everything he had asked of them.

He said that there were now 63 boys working out and that they were still dividing their time between agility drills, weights and the specialty areas of football such as kicking, throwing and receiving.

If Colorado City is contracted to collect Loraine trash, Mason said that they would not collect trash which had been burned. Mason explained that it would be hazardous for the sanitation department to collect burning trash because a truck may catch on fire.

As an alternative to Colorado City collecting Loraine trash, the council considered proposing a contract permitting Loraine to use the Colorado City landfill. The trash would be hauled from Loraine by a private business and would be dumped at the Colorado City landfill.

Mason noted that he did not know what the charge would be for Loraine to use the landfill, but he estimated about $4,800 per year.

The council discussed the possibility of the city absorbing some of the trash collection fee, but no decision was made.

Instead, the council decided to table the matter until the May 10 called session. Prior to that meeting, the council will meet with the City Council of Colorado City in their session Tuesday night to further discuss possibilities.

In other business, City Secretary Brenda Lee reported to the council that the Loraine budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year needed to be revised. However, the council will consider adopting the budget at Thursday's called session.

In final business, Jim Allen, representative of the Steel Tank Service Company of San Angelo, addressed the council concerning painting the exterior of the Loraine water tank.

Allen had appeared before the council several months ago, proposing that he would paint the tank for $2,900. Allen noted that his offer still stood. The council decided to wait until Loraine was notified about the Community Development Grant before a decision regarding painting the water tower was made.

Mrs. Sikes 6th grade science class has turned in projects for this six weeks. It was on the human body.

The reports covered ten body systems, a poster of the four food groups and three charts: one on the ten systems, one on what you ate for five days, and a vitamin chart. For extra credit you could turn in articles, pictures and extra reports.

The CMS speech class presented three Reader's Theaters. They were "The Elephants Child," "The Ten Worst Things About A Man," and "Mrs. Perkins, Lady Astronaut."

A Readers Theater is a play, but it is done with a script. The object of a Readers Theater is to use a lot of expression, but with little movement, try to get the scripts meaning across to the audience.

The only props the class used were a chair and a stand for their scripts.

The speech class will put on two plays later this year.

Westbrook High School's Terry Webb lifted himself over the high jump bar by a height of 6'3" Saturday at the regional track and field meet in Levelland to grab first place in that event and with it a trip to the state meet in Austin on May 12.

Webb was the only athlete from District 10-B to qualify for the state meet.

Ricky Reyes of Westbrook took fifth place in two field events in the meet when he pole vaulted a height of 12'0" and long jumped a distance of 20'6".

Junior Martinez of Lorraine was fifth in the 400 meter dash with a 53.6 time and John Daniels of Westbrook was 10th in the 800 meter run when he turned in a time of 2:16.9.

Certified Seed Pays

In side-by-side field tests, cotton researchers have proven that certified seed produces higher yields than farmer-saved or select seed of the same varieties. And the extra production — as high as 18% more lint — is more than enough to pay for the cost of planting the certified varieties.

Before you plant another row of non-certified seed, consider the advantages you get from Pioneer® brand certified cotton planting seed.

- Certified cotton planting seed from Pioneer has not undergone genetic deterioration in the field. Volunteer plants and undesirable cross pollinations have been eliminated.
- Certified cotton planting seed from Pioneer is free from pests and weeds which often accompany non-certified varieties. You can be sure of the purity and uniformity in the seed and the crop it produces.
- Certified cotton planting seed from Pioneer is carefully handled and stored to avoid contamination by other varieties. Then, if it doesn't meet high standards for germination and purity, it's not used.

MY THANKS

I would like to express my appreciation for the business and friendship of my customers. The personal feeling of friendship along with business transactions is what I will miss most about leaving business here. This is a valuable asset that businesses in larger towns do not realize. I hope to continue the friendship of my now former customers and would like again to say how much I have sincerely appreciated your business and invaluable support.

Thank You
Bobby Sparks
