Cash And Narcotics Taken In Hijacking

Lytal's Pharmacy Is Robbed Monday By Armed Bandit

Identity of a jittery young red-bearded hijacker who at 8:58 p.m. Monday brandished a pistol and robbed Lytal's Prescription pharmacy at 1109 Ave. L of $175, an unreported amount of checks, 400 grains of assorted narcotic tablets and a quantity of powdered narcotics, continued late this morning to elude investigators.

The hijacking was the second such occurrence in Lubbock in the past month, two men, one armed with a pistol and the other with a sawed-off shotgun, having held up the Prescription Laboratory at 1629 College Avenue, the night of Dec. 26.

The red-bearded bandit in last night's holdup entered the prescription pharmacy, walked to the south end and around a counter, pulled a pistol on R. P. Lytal, pharmacist, and Arthur Burnett, about 19, a Tech student employed as delivery boy. Lytal is a brother of Sam M. Lytal, one of the owners of the pharmacy.

Asks For Narcotics

"Give me your morphine and dilaudid," he nervously instructed Lytal. Lytal handed over a store of dilaudid, approximately 400 grains, and some powdered dilaudid.

Medical authorities later said the amount of narcotics taken was unusually large and possibly might be for resale.

The young hijacker then took cash from the cash register, forced Lytal at gunpoint to open a safe at the north end of the store, and took most of the currency, silver and checks contained in a bag there, dropping some of the loose silver.

He then forced Lytal and Burnett back into a recessed space where chemicals are stored, warned them not to watch him, walked around the counter and out the door and disappeared.

Lytal called police.

Officers Throw Up Dragnet

Detective Capt. Pat Davidson and Detective LeRoy Boling, and numerous policemen rushed to the scene. An immediate dragnet was organized throughout the area, and a description of the suspect was broadcast.

Lytal gave police a detailed description of the man.

He described him as about 20 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing 140 pounds. He had a reddish-brown beard, needed a shave badly. He wore a dirty tan topcoat, over a jacket, a dirty felt hat and gave a general impression of untidiness.

Second Holdup In Month

Officers speculated that he fitted the description of a man who was suspected of theft of narcotics from a Lamesa hospital about three weeks ago.

He did not, however, fit the de-

MORE "Scatterings From Europe:" While the U. S. Zone in Germany doubtless has its normal complement of good looking German women, they aren't noticeable. This is due to the fact that feminine clothing is old and worn — entirely out-of-date. Also, the Winter weather, and lack of heat in homes, causes women to forget "looks," new and old, in favor of bundling up against the cold.

Most German women can get no rouge, no lipstick, and no stockings save of the ugly variety. Their shoes are utilitarian, not stylish. You don't see any of the "open-toe, open-heel" jobs you see here.

If a woman can't slick up her face and figure, if she hasn't sheer hose and graceful shoes, she can't look very good.

Therefore, an American male can stand on a German street corner for hours and never feel the necessity of giving vent to an "oh," or an "ah," much less to a wolf's whistle.

Parts Of Old Uniforms Worn

To give you an idea of how near to the bottom of the barrel the German male has reached for clothing, it is not unusual to see men wearing parts of their old Army uniforms on the streets.

During the earlier part of the occupation, the wearing or displaying of any part of a German Army or Navy uniform was "verboten." However, it soon became necessary to relax the rule because of the scarcity of garments of all kinds.

One never sees an entire uniform in use at the same time, and on coats regulation buttons have been replaced by the unofficial type.

A good many German males go hatless. Many others year their old military caps with ornaments removed.

AMONG the more impressive civilian employes in our occupation organization are the young women who serve as interpreters. Naturally, they are smart and we ran across a number of them who speak not only both German and English, but several other languages, as well.

The sturdy young brunet, (she's 22) who does General Clay's interpreting in more important sessions, interpreted for us over a period of several days. A mixture of Russian Jew, Belgian and English, she speaks six languages exceedingly well and a seventh well enough to get along.

The girl interpreters do their work standing, even when everyone else is seated. They stand straight, with arms folded, sometimes for an hour or more at a time.

They get better pay than most other employes and, of course, better food and lodging. They also have opportunity for travel.

School Kids Have Activities

In the German schools that are operating, there are extracurricular programs under way, similar to those in our own schools but not so numerous.

Fritz Schmaltz, of Berlin, a 17-year old doing high school work, sings in what we'd call his school's glee club and, as he puts it, "hits the drums" in the jazz band. He also plays

Party Policies On Issues Will Be Formulated

Pared Version Of Knutson Bill Is Receiving Favor

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 — Republican tax cutting plans reached the decision stage today.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass) called the House GOP steering committee to an afternoon session to shape party policy on the red hot domestic issue.

There was every advance indication the committee would:

To Ignore Urging

1. Ignore the urging of Bernard M. Baruch to put off tax cutting for two years.

2. Reject flatly President Truman's request for a $40 "cost of living" tax cut for everyone with an offsetting revival of the wartime excess profits levy on corporations.

3. Throw its weight instead behind a trimmed down version of the Knutson bill.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the tax-writing ways and means committee told newsmen he would carry into the meeting a demand that his $5,600,000,000 bill be adopted as the GOP tax slashing goal for 1948.

Trimming Forecast

But high Republicans who would not allow the use of their names predicted the Knutson plan would be trimmed down—possibly to an overall cut of $4,000,000,000 —with chief emphasis on lower rates for taxpayers in the low brackets.

There was general agreements among GOP leaders that present exemptions should be boosted from $500 to 600 and that the principle of community property taxation — allowing husbands and wives to split the family income for tax purposes—to be applied uniformly throughout the nation.

But there was some objection to Knutson's proposal for percentage cuts ranging from 30 per cent at the bottom to 10.5 for those with high-bracket incomes. The best guess was that these percentages would be trimmed all along the scale.

Republican spokesmen have adopted the view that upping of the personal exemption along with the community tax plan will appeal to the largest number of taxpayers and voters and will soften objections to some reduction for high-bracket individuals.

Wave Of Crime Sweeps Plains

A wave of armed robberies, burglaries, thefts and car pilfering was reported Monday and Monday night in six South Plains cities, including Lubbock.

Brownfield authorities reported that Shamburger Lumber yard in Brownfield was burglarized in the night and that a Sunstrand electric adding machine and a Royal typewriter were taken. Other South Plains authorities were asked to be on lookout for the loot.

Hijacking Reported

Levelland's City Marshal W. C. Rogers asked that a search be instituted for a negro man driving an old black car for questioning in connection with a reported hijacking late Monday.

L. W. Williamson of Levelland told Rogers he had stepped behind a Levelland restaurant for a moment when a negro approached him and wanted to gamble with him. Williamson said he declined, whereupon the negro struck him over the head with some heavy object and took a wallet containing $35.

Slaton asked assistance of other officers in finding a 22-year-old negro who, arrested Monday for burglary of a negro residence there, escaped by jumping from the car of Dep. Sheriff E. A. Gentry when en route to jail there.

Residence Burglarized

The negro was arrested by Gentry at the Santa Fe station at 4 a. m., a short time after Winnie Hill, negro woman, complained of loss of somewhere between $200 and $350 in pennies, nickels and dimes after burglary of her residence.

Gentry recovered $87 of the Resignation Offered By Amarillo's Coach

AMARILLO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Howard Lynch, for ten years head football coach at Amarillo high school, offered his resignation to the Amarillo school board last night.

Lynch served as line coach under Blair Cherry, present University of Texas football coach, when the Golden Sandies swept to three consecutive state championships in 1934, 1935, and 1936.

The resignation probably will be voted on at the Feb. 2 meeting of the board.

Soviet Sarcasm Is Aimed At America

MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (AP)—Pravda declared today that U. S. officials, "talking out of school," had revealed to Europe that the Marshall plan is an attempt to transform the continent "into a base for military-political adventures."

Commentator Yuri Zhukov's article in the Communist party newspaper pictured a Europe of the future dotted with American military bases, with "English, French, Italian, Belgian and other soldiers marching under the command of American officers, with American automatic rifles and singing Yankee Doodle."

None Seriously Hurt After Bus Accident

GREENVILLE, Jan. 20. (U.P.)—A Dallas-to-Texarkana bus rolled down an embankment without serious injury to any of its occupants early today when a berserk passenger grabbed the bus driver and forced him to lose control of the vehicle.

The accident occurred near Campbell, 12 miles east of Greenville.

Several passengers were given first aid treatment at a Greenville hospital before continuing the trip, while the berserk passenger was lodged in the city jail. Injuries were confined to scratches and bruises.

Arabs Cross Border To Raid Settlement

JERUSALEM, Jan. 20. (U.P.)—Private reports said today that 400 Arabs have crossed the Lebanese border and attacked the Jewish settlement of Yehiaam, 10 miles east of Acre.

The reports, by telephone from Haifa, said that a battle is now going on around the settlement.

John F. Dulles Urges Defense Pact Overseas

Statesman Claims Marshall Program Needed For Peace

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—John F. Dulles accused Russia today of trying "by every art short of war" to wreck Europe. He urged Congress to set up a hard-headed aid to Europe plan that would bind

FIGURES ARE REVEALED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP) — The State department estimated today Great Britain might receive $1,760,000,000 of the $6,500,000,000 which the administration wants to spend in Europe during the first 15 months of the Marshall plan.

In addition to this 25 percent slice of the outlay proposed for the period beginning April 1, the department gave Congress these other tentative figures in the first official breakdown of the requested appropriation:

France, $1,434,000,000; western Germany, $914,000,000; Italy, $869,000,000; the Netherlands, $705,000,000; Belgium-Luxembourg, $523,000,000; Greece, $186,000,000; Austria, $182,000,000; Denmark, $166,000,000; Ireland, $137,500,000; French-occupied Germany, $80,000,000; Norway, $34,000,000; Sweden, $33,000,000; Iceland, $13,000,000; the former German Saar area, $11,000,000.

the 16 western European countries together in a mutual aid pact to halt the march of Soviet dictatorship.

The Republican foreign policy expert told the Senate foreign relations committee that the Marshall plan was an essential step toward peace.

Cooperation Necessary

"If we do not take that step," he said, "we shall not get peace."

He cautioned that the amount of aid to each country should be tempered by the degree of cooperation.

Dulles said it was his belief that without the emergency funds voted by Congress for interim aid to Europe last month—"Soviet dictatorship might today be on the Atlantic from Normandy to Dakar."

The GOP foreign adviser's recommendation for a defense pact clause in the Marshall plan came only one day after elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch urged a similar defense union. Baruch urged that the United States be included in the group that would "go to war" to defend one another.

Dulles emphasized the necessity of choosing a Marshall plan administrator to use the nation's resources "hard-headedly to achieve a great end."

I am confident that if in the name of economy the European recovery program is abandoned, or made inadequate," he said, hitting at opponents of the $17,000,000,000 plan, "that will involve our nation

Directors Are Named By Community Chest

Five new directors of the Lubbock Community Chest were elected in the annual membership meeting of the organization this morning at the Hilton hotel.

The new directors, named to three-year terms, are: B. Hudson Bird, P. T. Glazner, E. T. Pope, Garnet Reeves and J. C. Sanders. Irving Jones and Dave Dawkins, agency representatives, have been re-named to the board.

Retiring directors are: Robert Maxey, Lewis Kerr, John Halsey, Cecil Cale and B. E. Hamilton.

Approximately 15 persons attended the meeting with Mrs. J. O. Morgan being the only woman present. L. E. (Jack) Davis, first vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of President J. D. Hassell.

Long Range Supply Of Water For West Texas Given Study

By H. I. KIEFER

BIG SPRING, Jan. 20.—West Texas' water conference, aimed at assuring a long-range supply of water, opening this morning in City auditorium appeared to be just another opportunity for Gov. Beauford Jester to make a couple of speeches in an attempt to mend a badly-broken political fence extending from the Big Bend to the Panhandle.

Gov. Jester opened the conference with a statement that similar conferences will be called in other parts of the state. Most of those in attendance from the 92 counties of the area were wondering why the state's chief executive had become so vitally interested in West Texas' water needs at the outset of his campaign for re-election for a second term.

Same Old Reports Read

Apparently nothing in the way of recommendations was to come out of the day's conference as no organization had been attempted. Statistical reports previously read at countless similar meetings in the past two years were submitted by various representatives during the morning session after Gov. Jester's opening remarks.

A luncheon at noon gave Jester another opportunity for a "political drum beating."

In the morning session, J. B. Thomas of Fort Worth, said that the Permian Basin area has sufficient rainfall to meet its orderly needs only with careful planning. He asserted that all the water West Texas will have is that from rainfall, and this must be guarded by utilization of both underground and surface reservoirs.

Halbrook Speaker For Area

Statistical reports submitted by sub-areas during the morning included those from the North Panhandle by Rex Baxter, Amarillo; South Plains by Winfield Holbrook, Plainview; Childress area, by L. A. Chapman, Colorado City; Abilene area, by John Womble, Abilene, Permian Basin area by M. J. Benefield, Odessa.

With the exception of the Abilene area all the regions were reported depending upon underground waters and all were looking for more supplies to meet the growing population.

Col. E. V. Spence of the state water board of engineers last night nailed the problem of water in West Texas to two main issues:

1. How to utilize fully without waste the "outtake" from both

Former Professor At Tech Is Killed

Gus Lee Ford, 63, of Dallas, Veterans administration employe who formerly was head of the history department at Texas Technological college, died this morning of internal injuries after his car was struck and carried a complete city block by a Cotton Belt passenger train, the Associated Press and United Press reported from Dallas.

The car was struck at a crossing in north Dallas.

Car Apparently Stalled

Ford died in a Dallas hospital about an hour and a half after his car was struck by the train. His car apparently stalled on the Cotton Belt tracks at University boulevard.

A. P. Black, Dallas police traffic investigator, quoted Engineer L. C. Fain of Commerce as saying Ford's car was stopped at the stop sign beside the tracks. Then the car started up and stopped again in the middle of the tracks, and it was too late to stop the train.

Vocational Advisor

Ford was a vocational advisor with the regional office of the Veterans administration at Love field. He had been with the VA since 1945.

He was a member of the first faculty at Texas Technological college, having gone to the college in 1925 as professor of history. He became head of the department of history and anthropology in 1932, serving in that position until he left Tech in the 1935-36 college year.

He prepared a history of Texas cattlebrands distributed in pamphlets in connection with the Texas Centennial celebration. He also was professor in a Dallas private school after leaving Tech.

Graduate Of SMU

He was a graduate of Southern Methodist university, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in 1920 and master of arts degree in 1921.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Keithley of Bremerton, Wash., and two grandchildren. Mrs. Wilson B. Holden, 2004 Twenty-ninth, is a niece. Mr. and Mrs. Ford had spent Christmas in Bremerton with their daughter and her family.

Phone Strike Threat Is Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (U.P.)—The threat of a nationwide telephone strike this spring vanished today as the Communication Workers of America (independent) gave up its fight for industrywide bargaining.

Union President Joseph Beirne disclosed the union's about face in bargaining strategy in a formal announcement that new wage demands soon will be made on the nation's telephone companies.

Beirne said the new contract demands would be made on a company by company basis.

No National Bargaining

"There will be no national bargaining this year," he said. "We shall strive to avoid a strike. Our members do not want a strike this year."

The all-out effort for industry-wide bargaining with the Bell system last year resulted in a six-week nationwide phone strike. The union finally was forced to settle on a piecemeal basis for about half its original wage demand.

Beirne refused to say how much of a wage increase his union would demand this year for the 233,000 workers it represents. He said it would be based "on the amount needed to offset the hardships from rising prices and to correct inequities existing between us and other industries."

One union source said the de-

Additional Trials Are Faced By Youth

Fifteen-Year-Old High School Boy Gets 25 Years In Slaying Of Minister's Wife

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 — James Hartmann, 15-year-old high school boy who was sentenced to 25 years in prison for murdering a minister's wife, today faced additional trials on two other counts.

Assistant State's Attorney Edmund Grant said he was "not pleased" with the 25-year sentence imposed against the boy late yesterday.

Grant, who had told the jury that the case "well warrants the death penalty," demanded that Hartmann be tried as soon as possible on indictments charging him with burglary and a crime against nature.

The youth was first taken into custody on the burglary charge after he entered the home of a 35-year-old mother, assaulted her and looted the house. While they were questioning him in connection with those charges, authorities learned that Hartmann was involved in the death of Mrs. Gracelyn Bush, 35.

He was one of the youngest murder trial defendants in Chicago's history.

Loss Is Heavy In Blaze At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 20 (U.P.) — A three-alarm fire destroyed the $175,000 cleaning plant of the Federal Steel Products Corp. early today.

Firemen fought the stubborn blaze for more than an hour. They were hampered by a brisk norther which fanned the flames.

C. Milford Ferguson, president of the corporation, said the cleaning plant with $100,000 worth of machinery, appeared to be a total loss. The fire apparently started in a locker room.

District Fire Chief J. D. Baldwin said 15 pieces of equipment were used to fight the fire which had enveloped the cleaning plant by the time the first alarm was turned in at 1:25 a. m.

Survey Shows 85 Dead Over The Country

Critical Shortage Of Fuel Oil Felt In Many Sectors

(By The United Press)

A new cold snap rolled across the Canadian border today, destroying the hopes of frostbitten residents in the eastern half of the country for a respite from the seven day siege of frigid weather.

A survey showed that at least 85 persons died because of the low temperatures and inclement weather which have gripped the midwest and east for the past week. Fourteen persons froze to death in seven states. Another died of exposure and two died of overexertion in sub-zero temperatures.

Many Die In Fires

At least 68 died in fires caused by overheated stoves and furnaces.

The warnings of a new cold snap spurred public officials in their fight to alleviate the nation's critical shortage of fuel oil.

The Florida citrus commission ordered all shipments of fresh fruit to northern markets stopped for one week, beginning Thursday mid-night to protect consumers against fruit damaged by the prolonged cold weather.

Shreveport, La., hoped temperatures would rise high enough today to melt a 10 inch fall of snow that blanketed the city yesterday.

The last cold wave, which sent the mercury far below zero as it swept eastward over the weekend, still lingered along the North Atlantic coast and in the forests of Maine today before passing out over the ocean to be dissipated over the warm air of the Gulf stream. Temperatures in those sections hovered around the zero mark.

Will Plunge Again

The mercury rose slightly today in the middle west but forecasters warned that it would plunge again tonight when the new cold wave began making itself felt.

The weather bureau promised, however, that the cold snap would last for only a few days.

Storm warnings were hoisted at Lake Michigan ports today as the wind freshened before temperatures fell. The weather bureau said northwest winds would hit 40 miles an hour over the lake this afternoon.

Appeal Is Issued

The new cold forced city officials at Mellon, Wis., to appeal to state authorities for a special shipment of 5,400 gallons of fuel oil to replenish the depleted stocks of residents. Mayor Vernon Mere-

Five Persons Die In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Five deaths were attributed today to the icy weather which covered portions of Texas yesterday.

Freezing drizzle or light rain was falling generally over the state today, making travel again hazardous. Virtually all of upper Southwest Texas was covered by snow briefly today.

Three Dead At Brady

Ice-covered highways in the Brady area claimed three lives. The victims were Pedro Escomille, about 13, of San Benito, killed when a car and pickup truck collided on the San Saba river bridge near Brady this morning; C. W. Hill of San Antonio, killed yesterday morning when his car skidded into a railing on the same bridge; A. C. Rice, Brady, negro, killed in an automobile collision at Brady.

One person died and six others were injured after a series of accidents on icy streets in Fort Worth yesterday. Oliver R. Hunt, 58, died today. He fell yesterday and apparently was recovering when he suffered a heart attack.

In Dallas, physicians said Henry Thomas Gebron, 24, died of asphyxiation from carbon monoxide inside his car when he stepped on the accelerator attempting to get it started in the cold weather yesterday.

Snow Melts Rapidly

A six-inch snowfall was melting rapidly at Fort Stockton this morning. San Angelo had a two-inch snow which also was melting. Still suffering from prolonged moisture deficiencies, ranchmen hailed the wet snow as beneficial particularly since it melted and offered no feeding problems.

The snow and ice which covered sections yesterday began to drip but East Texas was still trying to dig out of the heaviest snowfall in almost 20 years.

Victim Of Robbery Was Up In The Air

CELINA, Tex., Jan. 20. (U.P.)—A search was underway today for an unmasked bandit who struck while his victim was "up in the air"—on a ladder.

T. O. Perry, hardware-variety store operator, said he had closed for the day and was counting the receipts when a man knocked on the front door. Perry said he admitted the stranger, who professed to want a bucket of paint.

When Perry mounted the ladder to reach the paint can on a high shelf, the man produced a pistol, held him at bay while he scooped up the receipts—about $600—and fled in his automobile, parked out front.

Allied Conference Rejected By Attlee

LONDON, Jan. 20 (U.P.)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee today rejected any conference of top Allied leaders at this time as inopportune.

Laborite Thomas Skeffington-Lodge asked Attlee in Commons whether he would take steps to bring about a conference between himself and the heads of other major Allied countries to "prevent any further deterioration in the international situation."

"While I am most anxious to take any steps which would lead to improvement in the national situation," Attlee replied, "I do not feel a conference of the kind suggested would be likely to advance matters at the present time."

PLEA IS REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP) — The Senate armed forces committee today rejected a personal plea from President Truman to allow Maj. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter to become chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board and retain his rank and pay as an air force general.

United Nations Preparing To Mediate India-Pakistan Row

By ROBERT MANNING
United Press Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 20 —The United Nations security council prepared today to set up machinery to mediate the India-Pakistan dispute over Kashmir in the wake of an agreement by the two dominions to cooperate.

The agreement was disclosed by a UN delegate who participated in a series of intensive negotiations between the two sides in the office of council chairman Fernand Van Langenhove of Belgium.

Great Britain and the United States were known to be anxious for any UN intervention that might end the fighting in Kashmir and keep a dangerous situation from spilling over the entire subcontinent of India.

Russia too was expected to go along on the mediation plan despite the fact that Andrei Gromyko objected last week to the procedure the council adopted in the case.

The plan, as embodied in a resolution drawn up by Van Langenhove, called for a three-nation mediation team to set out for Kashmir as soon as possible. The team was to be modelled on the group that has just succeeded in bringing about a truce between Dutch and Indonesian Republic forces in Indonesia.

Under the arrangement, each side picks one member and the two nominees pick the third. While the Indonesian trio was picked from council members, the Belgian proposal gave India and Pakistan room to go outside the council in making their choices.

Difference Over Scope

The biggest barrier to agreement by the two dominions was a difference over the scope of the mediation team. India wanted the team strictly confined to the Kashmir problem while Pakistan insisted that its work be extended to all issues separating the two dominions.

It was understood that the Belgian proposal attempted to bridge the gap by calling for immediate mediation of the Kashmir dispute and leaving the door open for possible use of UN good offices on other problems at some future date.

It was generally expected that mediation in Kashmir would be a prelude to an eventual plebiscite whereby the population, 80 per cent moslem, could decide whether to join Moslem Pakistan or Hindu India.

Taxi Driver Decides Inflation Now Here

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20. (AP) — A bandit held up taxi driver Richard Hartline but refused to take the money when he found it only amounted to two dollars.

March Of Dimes Is Opened On Monday

The annual March-Of-Dimes campaign to obtain funds for the fight against Infantile paralysis opened in Lubbock county yesterday, and reports from the various collection posts indicated 'satisfactory progress,' according to Marion T. Key, co-chairman of the drive.

Donations will be used to pay for treatment, to buy braces and crutches, and otherwise to help children suffering infantile paralysis.

Booths for collection of donations are being operated by the Junior Welfare League and Jaycee-Ettes at the Lubbock, Citizens and First National banks, Hilton and Lubbock hotels, and Hemphill-Wells company and Dunlap's stores.

A President's ball will be held January 30, at the Cotton club, in connection with the campaign.

CAMPAIGN ALSO GETS UNDERWAY IN LAMESA

LAMESA, Tex., Jan. 20 (Special) —The March-Of-Dimes campaign in behalf of victims of infantile paralysis got underway here yesterday under the direction of chairman J. P. White.

Receptacles for contributions were placed in a large number of business houses, and literature explaining the history of the drive, carried on annually in memory of the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt, is being distributed to schools in the county.

Half of all donations will be retained for treatment of local cases.

CORSICANA, Jan. 20. (AP) — Judge A. P. Mays ruled yesterday the city of Corsicana had a right to annex by ordnance without election some 2,600 acres of land adjacent to the old city limits.

Stassen Today To Visit Tulsa

AMARILLO, Jan. 20 (AP) — Harold E. Stassen brought his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination here last night and told an audience of 2,000 that Texas should be represented in the next Republican cabinet.

"This would establish constant participation in the establishment of national policy by a man with the background and knowledge of this great area of our nation," he said.

"It would also help in better informed decisions in the United States cabinet and would assist in interpreting national Republican policy to the people of this part of America."

Stassen spoke earlier yesterday at Lubbock, where he called for increased participation in politics by youth.

Urges Special Efforts

Stassen urged special efforts be made in Texas "to secure the election of at least two Republican congressmen in November."

He also expressed the hope Texas would some day be a two-party state.

In answering queries from the floor, he advocated a policy of firmness with Russia and said he favored continuing rent controls, universal military training and a modified Marshall plan to be administered by a bi-partisan agency.

Stassen scored President Truman's proposed income tax reductions as "a political offer of 40 pieces of silver for every voter." He said he favored an immediate $3,000,000,000 reduction in income taxes.

The GOP candidate was to appear in Tulsa today.

Veteran Rancher Charlie Baker Tells Of Cattleman's Problem

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
United Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20—Rancher Charlie Baker brought a load of calves to market and picked up $25 per hundredweight for them, pausing long enough to speak his mind about the future as it applies to him—and you, the consumer of the steaks he produces.

That $25 per hundredweight for his calves, Baker said, was a good price, about as good as he ever received for calves in his 30 years of Central Texas ranching.

Not Getting Rich

Most housewives might be inclined to disbelieve Charlie Baker and the other ranchers like him, but he insisted that he is not getting rich. That $25 is not "gravy," not by a long shot, Baker said.

At Fort Worth, where a good share of the cattle raised in Texas start toward the nation's meat platters, Baker spoke his mind about the meat problem. He said too much beef was being shipped out of the country, that rationing of meat should not be restored, and if controls are put on prices, they've got to be put on the prices of everything—not just meat.

He believed there was actually no need for a meat shortage. A look at his three-thousand-acre ranch near Granbury, Texas, would seem to bear him out. Baker has 300 head of cattle fattening on his ranch. His herd has been growing since he settled on the place 15 years ago, and he hopes it keeps on growing.

Higher Prices Seen

Cattle are worth a lot these days, but Baker said all wasn't velvet. He says cattle prices are high because everything that goes into raising a steer is higher too. The price of feed has been mounting steadily the past several months and probably will go higher, said Baker. If it does, the cattlemen will expect more for their cattle.

So far Baker's receipts at the market have kept pace with what it costs to run his ranch. As far as his own pocketbook is concerned, things aren't bad at all. As he put it, "everything balances up."

Now the question of price ceilings and rationing comes along. Baker has just one idea about price controls.

"You can't put a ceiling on beef unless you put a ceiling on feed and wages and everything else. If you're going to stop one price from going up, you have to stop them all. Otherwise a lot of cattlemen would go out of business," Baker said.

Blames Exports

The rancher added another comment. "I don't think," he said, "that the American people would stand for controls again."

As for rationing, Baker believes there would be no need for it if so much meat were not being shipped out of the country.

"First these foreign countries get loans from us," he says. "Then they buy our cattle with the money. Since it's not their money, they don't care what prices they pay and that just helps the price go up."

Against Rationing

In Baker's opinion, a return of rationing would mean a return of the black market right away. There would be a black market in meat, he says, just like there was during the war.

This rancher says he doesn't know what should be done, unless its fewer shipments of beef out of the country. Meatless Tuesday, incidentally, is a bit far-fetched in his eyes. He doesn't believe a voluntary program like that is cutting consumption of meat in this country hardly at all.

Baker admits there's a problem, and he's not sure what ought to be done. But he says he will be satisfied as long as all the prices balance out — as long as what he makes keeps up with what he pays.

Listening Post Plan Advanced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (U.P.) — The Justice department plans to operate a nationwide network of anti-trust "listening posts" if Congress grants a request for an extra $9,000,000, it was disclosed today.

Officials of the department's anti-trust division said they hoped to open as many as 12 branch offices with special emphasis on the south and southwest, which they called the most glaring "blind spots" in the government's anti-trust operations.

Boost Is Favored

President Truman has recommended an appropriation of $34,000,000 for the anti-trust division in the 1949 fiscal year — a substantial boost over 1948's outlay of $25,000,000. Division sources said almost all of the extra money would be used in the field.

At present, the anti-trust division has only eight branch or regional offices — in Boston, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Seattle, Cleveland, San Francisco and Denver.

Officials pointed out that whole regions of the country — the south and southwest, for example —were completely unpoliced by regional anti-trust investigators. The extra $9,000,000 requested of Congress is intended to remedy the situation. Among the cities mentioned as possible sites for new branch offices were:

New Orleans, Miami or Atlanta for the south; St. Louis for the southwest and the Mississippi valley; a city in Texas; Providence for lower New England; Buffalo for the eastern New York area; Minneapolis for the lake region; Cheyenne, Wyo., or Butte, Mont., for the mountain regions and Phoenix, Ariz., for the southwest.

Elections Staged Monday By Asbury Methodist Circles

Elections of officers were featured at circle meetings of Asbury Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service Monday afternoon.

When Mary Martha circle met in the home of Mrs. C. A. Powell, the following were elected: Mrs. Clarence Loving, secretary; Mrs. Russell Denison, program chairman; Mrs. O. C. Tune, spiritual life leader; Mrs. Sam Batton, Mrs. Elmo Collins and Mrs. Tom Moore, finance committee; Mrs. George Holman, visitation chairman.

Mrs. Collins was co-hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Crawford led a devotion and Mrs. Denison discussed "Texas Prison Reforms." Nine members and one new member attended.

In Harper Home

Kitty Bond circle elected the following at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Arch Harper:

Mrs. Harper, leader; Mrs. Edward Slaughter, program chairman; Mrs. E. E. Rhodes, secretary; Mrs. Grady Harrist, treasurer; and Mesdames Harrist, Bill Kiser and Henry Brown, finance committee.

Mrs. N. M. Lowery was in charge of a program and Mrs. J. E. Walter presented a devotion.

A prayer of dedication was offered by Mrs. J. W. Hendryx, WSCS president, at the first meeting of the new Jane Bickley circle in the home of Mrs. W. B. Kelly. Following a luncheon, circle chairmen were named and plans for the year were discussed. Sixteen members and five guests attended.

Mrs. Horace Gearhart, hostess to Hester Dale West circle, spoke on "Texas Prison Reforms." Mrs. Oscar Pollard brought a devotion and nine persons attended.

Rebecca circle met at the church annex wth seven persons present. Mrs. T. B. Cowan presided and Mrs. O. D. Peden discussed "Texas Prison Reforms." Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Russell Wimberly, hostess and leader for Naomi Ruth circle, appointed the following officers; Mrs. J. R. Hartsfield, secretary; Mrs. J. C. Thomas, program chairman; and Mrs. H. F. McLarty, spiritual life leader. Mrs. McLarty spoke on the "Good Samaritan" and Mrs. Thomas led a study of "Texas Prison Reforms." Thirteen members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Lillian Steely led the program for Suzanna Wesley circle in the home of Mrs. Norman Vaughan, 1905 Ave. V. Mrs. W. W. Owens led a devotion.

Mrs. C. A. Bickley, wife of the pastor, was a guest.

Vows Read In Albuquerque

The marriage of Miss Frances Imogene Neil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Neil of Albuquerque, N. M., and Hugh C. Dryer, son of Hugh Dryer of Lubbock and Mrs. Rose M. Dryer of Oklahoma City, was solemnized in Albuquerque Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in the rectory of St. Charles Borromeo church. Rev. Daniel Krahe performed the double ring ceremony before a candle-lighted altar banked with gladioli and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dusty pink suit with brown accessories. She carried a white prayer book topped with orchids.

Miss Marie Neil of Albuquerque attended her sister as maid of honor and William J. Dryer of Oklahoma City served as his brother's best man.

Reception Honors Couple

A reception was held at the Alvarado hotel following the ceremony.

The couple has gone to Santa Fe and other points for a short wedding trip and upon their return they will be at home at 1511 Fourteenth. For traveling, the bride wore a palomino suit. A graduate of Plainview High school, she has been secretary-treasurer of the Smyth Auto parts here.

Mr. Dryer is employed in the Butler-Brasher Architects office. Graduated from Texas Technological college with a bachelor of architecture degree, he spent three years as a captain with the combat engineers in the Army, serving in both European and Pacific theaters of war.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Happiness In Second Marriage Is Blighted By Mother's Constant Harping About Past Years

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Four years ago I obtained a divorce from a man who had made life very unhappy for me. He was brutal and at times would beat me. Also, he would use any means of obtaining money.

He would lie to my family to get money or other favors from them, and once he took some heirloom jewelry of mine, several pieces which I greatly prized, and sold them without my knowledge. I was so hurt by his actions that I never expected to be happy again.

However, some time after my divorce I met a nice young man and we were married two years ago. Since then I have been very happy, happier than I had thought it possible to be; and we own our home and have a nice little business.

ALWAYS REMINDS SHE'S DIVORCEE

THE problem is my mother, who at every opportunity brings up my former marriage. When she is alone with me she never lets me forget that I am a divorcee; and she even brings up little things about the former marriage in my husband's presence.

To avoid trouble we have built our home in another town, away from her; but when she visits us or we visit her, it is the same old thing. As a result we don't go there very often nowadays; and now she says we aren't treating her as a mother, and that I am a very ungrateful daughter.

Can you tell me, please, why and for what reason she does these things; and also, how I can make her understand that I wish to forget I was married before?

(Signed) B. R.

MOTHER AT BEST IS A DOTING MOM

DEAR B. R.: At her best, doubtless your mother is a doting mom, whose idea of a full life is living solely for her children and having them feel beholden to her for everything.

It seems you married quite young the first time, and I daresay against her wishes. Then when things began to turn out badly, I suppose she rallied solicitously with aid and solace to meet your increasing need of family succor—ready to forgive your headstrong mistake not only because your sufferings made her feel so complacently wise and right about her original objections, but also because your crashed hopes brought you back to the nest; badly frightened with broken wings.

Now she jealously resents the good fortune you've found in your second marriage, because it puts you in the position of no longer looking to her for special protective nurture.

She isn't so stupid that she doesn't know (1) that you want to forget the unhappy first marriage and (2) that you deplore her tactless references to it as an affront to your second husband's sensibilities. But she harps on the subject primarily to pluck the bluebird of happiness bare, if possible; and secondarily as implicit singsong reminder of "all I, your mother, did for you in that terrible time which you brought on the family."

GLOOM IS MOM'S NATURAL STATE

IN brief, if you can be happy without dependency on her as principal provider of contentment, she feels wounded and rejected; hence involuntarily strikes with her tongue to hurt you back.

She is a melancholy, neurotic character, who respires unhappiness, drawing it in and giving it out, as naturally as she breathes. Gloom is her habitually cultivated emotional aura; and she feels like a fish out of water in the lighthearted atmosphere of your good companionship with your congenial husband.

If she can conspicuously depress your spirits and his, she feels for the moment en rapport with your feelings.

For advice: You were wise indeed to build your home in another town, away from her; and you are wholly justified in holding visits to a minimum, so don't let her pouting on that score disturb you.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of Lubbock Evening Journal.

Texas Weather

Marshall, where the minimum temperature today was 22 degrees and the maximum so far 29. Traffic conditions were haazrdous and the ice-covered sidewalks dangerous. There was little activity in town and schools remained closed.

Freezing drizzle was reported last night at Waco, Dallas and Fort Worth but had changed to a cold light rain in the morning hours.

Light drizzle was reported this morning at Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Alice and Brownsville. The lowest temperature last night was 19 at Clarendon. Amarillo, Lubbock and Childress recorded 20 degrees while Brownsville, Laredo and Del Rio reported 39.

Balmy days with blue skies were still in the future. A warm mass of air on top of the cold front produced cloudy weather over the state today and drizzling rains in many sections.

The weather bureau predicted that any snow which might fall in the state today would be in the extreme north portion.

Areas Are Snowbound

Hundreds of square miles of North and East Texas were practically snowbound yesterday by snow which neared the 1-foot mark at Marshall. No deaths were reported.

In Dallas, where two inches of snow fell, police said that one death could be attributed to the weather. Henry Thomas Gebron, 24, of Dallas, collapsed while driving his automboile. Witnesses said that Gebron had stepped on the accelerator when his car began missing and physicians attributed his death to asphyxiation by carbon monoxide inside the car.

Amarillo and Guadalupe Pass reported a low of 22 degrees at 11 p. m. last night, with no rain. At the same time, Tyler, Texarkana and Lubbock reported temperatures in the 20's with Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Dallas and Beaumont recording temperatures in the 30's.

Bake this old-fashioned
CRUMB COFFEE CAKE
a family treat . . . quick and easy

1 cup (8 oz.) lukewarm water
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 tbsp. Omar Flour
1 package Omar Hot Roll Mix
¼ cup chopped nutmeats
3 tablespoons butter
½ cup sugar

Pour water into mixing bowl, add dry yeast (contents of small envelope), stir until dissolved. Add contents of Hot Roll Mix package and mix until dough is well blended. Grease top of dough lightly, cover with wax paper and keep in warm place (80° or 85° F.) until double in bulk, about one hour.

Turn out on floured board, roll into oblong shape about ½ inch thick. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon, dot with ½ of butter. Roll as jelly roll, form ring by sealing ends. Cut deep gashes an inch apart; turn each piece on side. Sprinkle with topping made of brown sugar, remaining butter, flour and nutmeats blended together. Place on greased cookie sheet. Let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Bake 20 minutes at 400°F. Will make one large coffee cake or two small ones.

Four Weary Candidates Close Bitter Campaign In Louisiana

By CHARLES NETHAWAY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20 —Four weary candidates for governor stepped down off the stump today and turned a rowdy campaign over to the voters in Louisiana's Democratic primary election.

The march to the polls brought an end to a bid for votes that near the end flashed back to the Louisiana scandals of 1939 and the days of Kingfish Huey Long for its final punch.

The no-holds-barred race for governor ended in a storm of charges and countercharges finally involving two candidates in a million-dollar conspiracy suit.

Battle Over Incomes

Candidate Earl K. Long, brother of the late Huey, and candidate Sam Jones, both former governors, engaged in a dispute that finally boiled down to a battle over their incomes while each was in office.

Rep. James Domengeaux, (D., La.,) denounced Long on the floor of Congress last week and Long immediately filed his $10,000,000 suit against the congressman, Jones and two New Orleans newspapers.

He charge that they conspired to have Domengeaux make "libelous" charges under congressional immunity so the charges could be published in the pages of the New Orleans Times-Picayune and the New Orleans Item.

Domengeaux immediately returned to Louisiana and repeated his denunciation of Long after shedding his congressional immunity.

The battle raged around incomes and income taxes. Long yesterday offered to make public his income tax status for 1938-39 while he was lieutenant governor if Jones would do the same for the past nine years.

Jones was governor for the term 1940-44. He said last night that he would "be glad to authorize publication of all my income tax matters from 1938 to date if and when Earl Long authorizes the commissioner of internal revenue to reveal all his records."

The other two candidates, Rep. James H. Morrison, (D.,La.) and Circuit Judge Robert F. Kennon sidestepped the Long - Domengeaux-Jones fracas but drove hard on their own pet issues in pleading for votes.

Morrison is making his third race for the governor's chair in the skyscraper capitol that Huey Long built. His first two tries were unsuccessful.

Estimates of the turnout at the polls ran as high as 500,000, with nearly 200,000 persons qualified to vote in New Orleans alone.

The long ballot offered eight other state races and seven incumbent candidates. Present governor-movie actor-songster Jimmie Davis is prohibited by law from running to succeed himself.

A runoff election was predicted in most quarters. It would be held Feb. 17 to choose between the two top candidates if no one receives a clear majority in today's balloting. Although the election today is a Democratic primary, the winner is assured of the governor's chair in this one-party state.

Outside Orleans parish (New Orleans) where gambling is done openly, odds fixed Jones a 3 to 5 favorite. Kennon suddenly became a 2 to 1 bet; Long trailed at 4 to 1, and Morrison was outside at 15 to 1 or longer.

He Has A Personal Interest In Thief

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20. (AP) — Detective Benjamin Simon had a personal interest in his assignment to track down a thief who stole three pistols from a gun shop.

When Simon arrived at the shop yesterday he discovered one of the guns missing was his own—a .38 caliber police special revolver left for re-bluing.

PEARL: COME HOME

It was all my fault, Pearl. I admit I was surly and grumpy. No wonder that even the kids were scared of me. But everything's better now. I've found out that constipation caused by lack of bulk in my diet can be licked! Believe me, I advise others who suffer the same way to do what I did: just eat ½ bowlful of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day and drink plenty of water. They say it's America's most famous laxative cereal—believe me, it sure gets my vote. Or make it up into muffins — they taste grand too . . . Come home, dear, and find a bran new man waiting for you. That's me—your ever-lovin' husband, JOE.

Two Persons Killed In Traffic Mishaps

PECOS, Jan. 20 (AP) — Traffic accidents in the trans-Pecos area last night took the lives of two persons, one of them a resident of Pecos.

James Samples, about 30, Carlsbad, N. M., businessman, was killed when the automobile in which he was riding sideswiped a culvert, careened across the highway and turned over three or four times.

Leno Ybarro, about 34, Pecos carpenter, died last night after having been injured in a car-bus accident at Monahans an hour and a half earlier.

Acetylene was discovered in 1856 but was not produced in commercial quantities until 60 years later.

A Report to every American...

from a business which affects every American!

In 1947, FOUR OUT OF FIVE of our families enjoyed the protection of life insurance! And the number of people protected is still growing . . .

Few people can carry all their risks alone! But together, for their peace of mind, Americans have voluntarily built up individual life insurance programs planned for their individual needs—which at the end of 1947 totalled $191 billion. $16 billion of this was added in 1947!

The more than 500 legal-reserve companies therefore have great responsibilities to the American people. That is why the life insurance companies and their agents again report on how they took care of your money, and the benefits they paid.

In 1947, life insurance devoted the major part of its time to the interests of the 75 million policyholders owning the more than 180 million separate policies which are ALREADY IN FORCE!

THE TOTAL FUNDS INVESTED by the end of 1947 for future payments to policyholders, added up to more than $51 billion. This was active money! It earned interest. And it provided capital for the nation's life and growth. In this way, life insurance serves ALL the people.

HELPS HOLD FAMILIES TOGETHER!

In 1947, the life insurance companies paid out $1,330 million in the settlement of 1,250,000 separate death claims. Each of these cases meant money for the family in a time of need. Many cases meant another mortgage paid off, or another business carrying on, or another home with a regular income assured for wife and children . . .

HELPS MAKE DREAMS COME TRUE!

But last year, more than half of total life insurance payments were to the living! Many of these are the stories of people happily retired on annuities, of endowments which will buy apple orchards or long-dreamed-of trips, of boys and girls who are sure they can go to college!

Some have less, some have more . . . but total life insurance protection now averages about $4700 for every family! This is future security which American men and women of their own initiative have built up for themselves . . . programs built with the help of trained life insurance agents, who not only "sell" but help make sure that each policy fits the needs of the policyholder and his family . . . now and in the future.

Life insurance is a key to planning for family happiness. But every policyholder can be proud, too, of what his thrift and his foresight contribute to protecting our NATIONAL future!

Congressmen Expect That Rent Controls Will Get Extension

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—This will bring you up to date on rent control and what may happen to it.

Government rent control ends Feb. 29 unless Congress votes to continue it. Congress now is working on whether to keep the lid on.

Will it? Most congressmen predict that Congress will continue controls after Feb. 29 in one form or another.

Some Good Reasons

There are a couple of good reasons for thinking so:

1. This is an election year.

2. Rents, under the present law, already have gone up.

There's bad inflation in this country now. Many landlords are a cinch to boost rents if Congress lets the controls die Feb. 29.

That would just kick the cost of living so much higher.

Since this is an election year the voters are likely to take it out on the political party they blame for adding to their living costs.

Up To The GOP

President Truman has told the Republican-controlled Congress that rent controls should be continued. Now it's up to the Republicans.

If they let controls die and rents shoot up before election day, Mr. Truman then can tell the voters:

"I told the Republicans we needed to keep controls but they wouldn't listen to me."

Two Republican senators, Ives of New York and Baldwin of Connecticut, have put a bill in Congress to keep controls until June 30, 1949.

Rents already have gone up for a great many people because of the rent control law which Congress passed last summer.

This law said that landlords—by letting a tenant sign a lease for a year or more—could boost his rent as much as 15 per cent, if the tenant was willing. Why should he be willing?

Two reasons:

1. He might be afraid that Congress would let controls end Feb. 29 and then the landlord could raise his rent any amount.

2. By signing for a 15 per cent boost, he protected himself against a raise of more than that for at least a year if controls did end Feb. 29.

Figures Given

(The signing had to be done before Dec. 31, 1947.)

Government figures show that, as of last Nov. 28, the tenants of 1,456,113 rented dwellings had signed leases that meant a 15 per cent raise.

The same figures—they're from the rent administrator's office—indicate the tenants of 14,000,000 rented homes have not signed leases.

But what kind of rent control law will Congress pass, if it passes one? It's too soon to say. The air is full of congressmen's ideas on this right now.

Because many landlords have suffered hardship under rent control, Congress may pass a law to allow them to raise rents a bit generally.

Or, Congress may find some other way to give landlords a break while keeping controls after Feb. 29.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning . . . .

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, look better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic Helps Build Sturdy Health. Adv

Inquiry Into Blasts Is Continued Today

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 20. (AP) — A three-man board of army officers today resumed its probe into a series of sewer blasts and fires that damaged Fort Sam Houston and an adjoining residential area last Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

The board yesterday estimated damage to the post's sewer system at $15,000.

Fire damage in civilian areas nearby previously had been estimated by Fire Chief C. A. Hart of San Antonio as $20,000.

Members of the board of inquiry are Lt. Col. E. R. Cowles, post inspector; Lt. Col. Ruben Starr, assistant post executive officer and Lt. Col. K. D. Verner, post engineer and fire marshall.

NONE HURT ON YAP

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 20 (AP)—The typhoon-created sea waves which devastated Yap Friday caused no casualties among the 3,000 population, including 56 Naval personnel, 14 American wives, 13 children and five Harvard university anthropologists, the Navy reported today. A small but unknown number of American and Filipino construction workers and island trading company representatives also are on Yap.

Buried Bottle Containing Signed Terms Of Bet On Prisoner Liberation Located

MANILA, Jan. 20. (AP)—Buried bottle containing signed terms of a $1,000 bet on when American prisoners of war would be liberated has been recovered from the infamous Carbanatuan prison camp grounds, the U. S. Philippines-Ryukyus command disclosed today.

The bet was never paid, army spokesmen said; only one of three men concerned survived. He is Maj. V. O. McCollum (only available address: C/O adjutant general, Army department, Washington), who buried the bottle in 1944.

Two prisoners had bet a third that liberation would come by Christmas day, 1944. Actually, the Sixth Ranger battalion freed the camp 36 days after that.

The army did not release texts of the papers in the bottle. The spokesman said they included records of men imprisoned with McCollum and information on their fate, and have been filed at headquarters here. He added that the second prisoner involved in the bet died in a Formosa prison camp from pneumonia, and the third was lost on a Japanese prison ship hit by American bombs in the Lingayen gulf. Their names haven't been released.

Discrimination Held In California Case By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP) — The Supreme Court held today that California discriminated unconstitutionally against a citizen of Japanese ancestry when it seized lands which his father, ineligible for citizenship and therefore barred from landownership, had bought in the son's name.

Without stating directly that it was doing so the court at least came close to throwing out a provision of the California law. This provision sets up a presumption in such cases that the father acted for his own benefit and was attempting to evade forfeiture of the land.

But the court refused to follow four justices—members of the majority in the 6-3 decision—who wanted to go further. That quartet argued that the whole structure of the state's alien land laws, forbidding ownership of agricultural property by persons who can not become citizens, should be thrown out on the basis of the current case. Those four drew a parallel between the law and the racist theories of America's enemies in World War II.

The law was not specifically upheld today, even in general, and the question could come up again, possibly in future proceeding in today's case.

At issue was title to two small parcels of land in San Diego county which Kajiro Oyama bought in 1934 and 1937, having title put in the name of Fred Oyama. The father obtained appointment as guardian for the boy, only six years of age at the time of the first purchase.

In 1944, California brought action to seize the property. The state relied largely on the land law provision setting up the presumption that when an ineligible father buys land in the name of a son who may legally own it, he actually does so for his own interest with intent to evade forfeiture to the state.

Independent Oil Men At Midland Meeting

MIDLAND, Jan. 20 (AP) — Problems of the independent oil man were stressed here yesterday as officers and members of the executive committee of the Independent Petroleum association of America opened a two-day meeting.

Merele Becker of St. Louis, association president, outlined the industry's problem and made particular reference to the material shortage and possible federal control of the industry.

Proposed legislation affecting the oil business was outlined by Russell Brown, Washington. Minor S. Jamesone, Washington, submitted reports on production and material shortages.

Harold B. Fell of Tulsa, executive vice-president, and C. E. Buchner, Ardmore, Okla., executive manager, also spoke.

Becker and E. C. Moriarty, Wichita, Kan., oil man, were on the night program.

Under Observation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 20. (AP) — Lonnie Robbins, Van Buren farmer charged with the murder of his 52-year-old bride of a few weeks, was in the Arkansas state hospital here today for mental observation.

Robbins was brought to the hospital yesterday by Sheriff Doyce Casinger of Clinton on orders of Prosecutor R. E. Bush of Harrison.

Mrs. Sadie Sue Dudley, whom Robbins married at Abilene, Texas, died a few hours after arriving at Robbins' home near Clinton New Year's eve. An autopsy showed a lethal amount of poison in her stomach.

Rationing Plan Gaining Favor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Chairman Tobey (R-NH) of the Senate banking committee came out today in favor of a "get ready" meat rationing law.

But Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), who heads the House banking group, said he still is opposed to granting President Truman any more cost of living powers "until we see what use he makes of the powers we already have given him to control inflation."

Would Get Ready

Actually the legislation sponsored by two of Wolcott's Republican colleagues, Senator Flanders (Vt) and Rep. Javits (NY), simply would authorize the administration to get ready for meat rationing.

Their bill would let the Agriculture department go so far as to print ration books, but Congress could veto any move to put the program into effect.

The two banking committees constitute the first hurdles the Flanders-Javits bill must clear before it can be considered by both the Senate and House.

Shortage Forecast

The Agriculture department has predicted a serious meat shortage by spring.

Mr. Truman several times has urged Congress to grant the administration stand-by-authority to restore rationing on a limited basis.

The Senate banking committee has been holding hearings on various bills to carry out these sections of the President's 10-point anti-inflation program. It arranged to hear today a group of army and navy oil experts.

Suspended Sentence Proposed For Youth

MORTON, Jan. 20 (Special) — Suspension of a five-year sentence was recommended Monday by a 72nd district court jury which found W. L. Hancock, about 21, guilty of assault with intent to rape an 18-year-old Cochran county girl Sept. 30.

Another indictment, charging Frank Griggs of Lubbock with removal of mortgaged property, was continued because of non-appearance of several state witnesses.

Judge Dan Blair presided. District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and an assistant, E. G. Pharr, represented the state.

Former Mayor Of Muleshoe Is Dead

MULESHOE, Jan. 20 (Special)—R. L. Brown, 74, former mayor of Muleshoe several terms, died about 7 o'clock this morning in a hospital here.

He had entered the hospital Sunday. He had been in ill health about a year.

Mr. Brown retired from office of mayor about two years ago, after serving several terms.

He was in the real estate business. He had lived in Muleshoe since 1922, moving here from Lavon.

Th body is at Steed Funeral home. Arrangements were pending arrival of relatives this morning. One daughter survives, in addition to sisters and brothers.

Actress' Bedroom Suite To Be Sold

DALLAS, Jan. 20 (AP)—A bedroom suite owned by Movie Actress Veronica Lake before her marriage to the Hollywood producer, Andre Detoth, will be sold here tonight at an auction.

The 5-piece hand-made French bedroom suite, which originally cost $5,700, will be included in the auction sale at Samuel Hart galleries.

Hart said that the suite, which has parquet panels, rosewood and walnut chest and dresser, the dresser topped with hand-polished marble, was part of the entire purchase of the actress' home in Hollywood after her marriage.

Poll Taxes Gain

With 487 poll tax receipts issued here Monday, total for Lubbock county for receipts and exemptions was pushed over 10,000, not including those issued at Slaton, J. B. Johnston, tax assessor-collector, said last night.

Total at close of business Saturday was estimated at 9,550. Johnston said last night the number issued at Slaton Monday had not been received here.

Johnston added that he planned to announce today rules governing procedure for those persons reaching 21 years of age.

DIVORCE OBTAINED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20 (AP) — Screen Actor Brian Donlevy obtained a default divorce today from Marjorie Lane Donlevy, who will receive more than $160,000 under a court - approved settlement which ended months of bitter litigation.

Anderson Believes Cutback Is Necessary

Voluntary Industrywide Agreement Will Be Asked To Cut Down Beer Production

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 — The government will ask the nation's brewers today to work out a voluntary agreement to curtail beer production by perhaps 10 to 20 per cent.

An informed source said Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson believes a cutback is necessary to provide additional grain for human and animal consumption and thereby ease inflationary pressures on U. S. food supplies.

The proposal, it was learned, will be presented today to a meeting of brewing industry representatives who were invited to Washington by Anderson to work out a voluntary grain-saving program. The Republican-sponsored anti-inflation law authorized the government to suggest such voluntary industry agreements. But it did not empower the government to force any but the distilling industry to accept its proposals.

The informed source said that in addition to a percentage cutback, Anderson would ask the brewers to extend their 90-day voluntary "grain conservation" program which expires Jan. 31. Agriculture officials believe this program has had little, if any, effect on beer production.

Disclosure of the proposal to cut beer output coincided with other developments affecting whisky production, which already has been curbed under a compulsory government grain - use rationing program.

Funeral Rites Set For Mishap Victim

LEVELLAND, Jan. 20 (Special)—Body of Wilson Grimes, 26-year-old trucker employed by Paul Musselwhite Rig Builders who was fatally injured at 5:15 p. m. Monday when crushed by a drill collar being loaded on a truck, will be taken to Hugo, Okla., this afternoon, Plains Funeral home of Levelland announced.

Funeral services will be conducted in Hugo Wednesday afternoon and burial will be in Hugo cemetery.

Grimes and several other employes were loading a number of the 2,400-pound pipes on a large truck when one rolled off, striking Grimes on the head and fracturing his skull badly over the left eye. He died instantly.

Services Not Set

A Plains Funeral home ambulance rushed to the scene but Grimes had already been pronounced dead.

Justice of Peace A. F. Odell of Levelland was called to the scene, and he said Monday night he would return a verdict of death by accidental falling of a heavy object.

Grimes was a native of Hugo, Okla., and efforts were being made to get in touch with relatives there tonight. He is survived by his wife and two small children, of Levelland.

Other survivors are his father, Walter Grimes of Grant, Okla., four brothers, Howard and Joe, Hugo, Okla., Sammie, St. Paul, Minn., and Harry, Seagraves.

The Grimes had lived in Levelland only two weeks.

RITES SET TODAY

MULESHOE, Jan. 20 (Special)—Funeral services were planned for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Muleshoe Baptist church for Joyce Peace, 18, daughter of Mrs. Grace Peace of Muleshoe, who was killed in an accident in which six other persons were injured Saturday 15 miles west of Clovis, N. M. Rev. A. W. Blaine, pastor of Muleshoe Baptist church, was to officiate at services, with Steed Funeral home directing burial in Muleshoe cemetery.

TAXES:

An Accounting Problem

Income is determined by account. So, accounting is at the root of income taxation.

Naturally, business has always turned to Certified Public Accountants for aid in preparing its income tax reports, and for assistance in settling disputed tax items with the government.

The government, too, welcomes the aid of CPAs in explaining to taxpayers the accounting requirements involved — as evidenced by the fact that the Treasury Department authorizes CPAs to represent clients in tax proceedings.

By assisting in the prompt payment of the right amount of taxes—corporate or individual—Certified Public Accountants help to reduce the cost of paying and collecting—the Nation's taxes.

Plains Teams Are In Action

South Plains Class A basketball teams plunge into their conference schedules again tonight, but, with the exception of the Abernathy-Tahoka contest, the action will be mild compared with that which went on in tournaments during the weekend.

Levelland, the defending regional champion, saw some "handwriting on the wall" Saturday night when Sudan high's explosive Hornets trimmed Abernathy's Antelopes in one of the feature games of the South Plains cage campaign. The Hornets were rather methodical about their work against the Antelopes, winning by the same margin, eight points, by which they vanquished the Levelland Lobos in their first meeting of the season. But Levelland will be much tougher afloor when Sudan meets its Lobos in Levelland next month.

Abernathy Is Favored

Sundown turned back the Tahoka high Bulldogs for the second time in a row after bowing earlier to Coach "Jake" Jacobs' goalers. Just now both Sundown and Abernathy appear to have the edge over Tahoka in District 4-A's south zone.

While Sudan's victory over Abernathy gave its rangy Hornets only the championship of the big tournament it did prove that, in all probability, the north zone will again be the scene of the stretch fight for the district title.

Littlefield high's Wildcats, who have shown much improvement of late, may give somebody trouble in the title race although both Sudan and Levelland have edged the Littlefield five. Springlake plays in Levelland; Littlefield goes to Muleshoe and Olton is in Sudan to round out tonight's north zone schedule.

Tonight may be rough for Tahoka's Bulldogs as they tangle with the high-scoring Abernathy Antelopes on their home floor. There is little doubt but that the Tahoka high gym will be packed to capacity.

Sundown goes to O'Donnell to keep its south zone drive in high gear.

In District 3-A Spur and Paducah tangle; Lockney meets Ralls and Floydada goes against Matador.

Shallowater high's rangy Mustangs continued their winning way in Shallowater last night as they trimmed Cooper high, 41-24. The Cooper girls team defeated the Shallowater sextet, 23-8.

TRINITY MAKES BID

(By The United Press)

Trinity makes its bid for its first Lone Star conference basketball victory when it meets Southwest Texas State at San Marcos in tonight's only game involving conference teams.

Trinity has lost two games Southwest Texas has won one while losing two.

LUBBOCK FIVE WINS

IDALOU, Jan. 20 (Special)—Crawford Electric of Lubbock nosed out Gulf Service of Idalou, 45-44, here last night in a torrid independent cage battle. David Bonner chalked up 17 points for the Electricians and Holt scored 23 for the Idalou five.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

We wish to express our gratitude to those sport fans who backed us in our investigation of conditions surrounding the Westerner basketball squad's trip to El Paso. And by "us," we mean the sports department. Ever since the first release on conditions was made, we have been called on the telephone, stopped on the street and congratulated in the office. In addition, we have received letters from some well-meaning persons who, unfortunately, failed to sign their names.

As stated early after our arrival, we take no stock in letters that fail to bear a signature. Anything worth writing is worth signing and when it isn't signed we pay scant heed to the contents. Signing a name does not mean that the signature will be made public, but if there is pertinent information that needs developing, we know where to turn. Please, any time in the future it becomes so imperative that a letter be written, sign the missive.

We also were glad to be given the true conditions surrounding the athletic setup at the high school. Apparently every effort is being made to better conditions and to put the athletic program on a business basis. By the same method, it centers responsibility and that also is a good thing. We doubt that additional excursions are made without adequate protection and high school officials know that bad conditions will be publicized. At the same time, we want to print the truth and to give credit where it is due.

Football contracts are being signed at Texas Tech faster than the ink can dry on paper. Tuffy Nabors was the first to blacken a contract and since then two others have indicated that they will play pro ball. Bernie Winkler, the hefty tackle, has okayed an agreement with Don Ameche's Los Angeles Dons, while Guard Floyd Lawhorn has dittoed a contract with the Washington Redskins.

Halfback Ralph Earhart is waiting for the arrival of a business agent representing the Green Bay Packers, expected to arrive in Lubbock this week, while End Joe Smith also is said to be on the verge of signing. This year's crop might produce another Tech grad with the ability to stick, as did Schlinkman, Rankin and J. R. Callahan.

Golden Glove entries continue to arrive daily and this year's crop of fighters continue to give the impression that they will put on the best show ever seen in Lubbock. No weight class has been clinched by pre-fight talk and eight divisions in the open and novice classes are wide open. There are favorites, of course, but there is a wide difference between being favored and winning a fight. Ask LaVern Roach, who pinned Tony Janiro's ears back at 6½-5 underdog odds.

Incidentally, just to set the record straight, LaVern now has won 23 of 24 fights as a pro, the last 18 in succession. He won his first five by knockouts, was decisioned in January, 1948, by Artie Towne and then hit the winning trail. The reason his record was twisted to read that he had lost his first fight, then won all the others in succession, was to enhance his reputation and to gain him a crack at the Garden. It was no hocus-pocus on LaVern's part; merely the working of a clever press agent who knew how tough it was to get into the New York fight center without an impressive record. Now the record speaks for itself.

We note that the Texas Tech basketball squad doesn't play a game until Feb. 6 and, while we realize exams will be on, we hope that something even more powerful will erase whatever went wrong on the recent road trip. From the road record, there's nothing wrong that a new squad couldn't improve.

Baylor Bears Given A Scare

(By The United Press)

Baylor, the only undefeated Southwest conference team to risk its perfect record this week, got a big scare last night before nosing out Texas Christian, 52-48, to remain tied with Texas and Arkansas for the conference lead.

With seven minutes gone in the game, TCU led, 10-2. The Horned Frogs held their biggest margin, a 19-8 lead, with sixteen minutes away.

It took only four minutes for the Baylor Bears to begin finding the range. They chalked up 19 points while holding the Frogs to three, giving Baylor a 27-22 halftime lead.

Baylor clung tightly to its hard-earned lead in the second half, stopping TCU's last-minute rally four points short of the Bears.

Bill Johnson of Baylor led the scoring with 14 points. Next were Frank Kudlaty of TCU and Jim Owens of Baylor with 12 each.

It was Baylor's fourth conference victory and TCU's third consecutive conference loss. The Frogs lost two of those games by four points, the other by six. TCU has yet to win a game in conference play.

All SWC teams are idle tonight. Texas A. and M. meets Rice at Houston tomorrow night while Arkansas goes outside the loop to play Alabama at Memphis, Tenn.

Softball League Is To Be Formed Here

Local softball enthusiasts got an early start this week and made preliminary plans for the formation of an eight-club league here which would start operating about mid-April.

Softball leaders met in the Hilton hotel Sunday afternoon, naming Lucian Thomas president and Ralph Bumpass as secretary.

At that time at least five, and possibly six organizations made plans to enter teams in a local league which will get under way near mid-April. Those on the line with teams were: Baldridge bakery; Thomas Jewelers; Cloverlake; Hoyt furniture and the Sunbeam laundry. Also represented and studying possibilities of entering was the Culligan Soft Water service of Plainview.

Secretary Bumpass said each team entering, and he hoped the organization would have at least eight teams, would be asked to to put up $200 as forfeit money to insure completion of the season. All games in the league will be played at Jumbo Webster field.

At the same time the leaders said they would attend a meeting at the Settles hotel in Big Spring Monday at which time plans will be made for the organization of a West Texas amateur softball league. Leaders will be present from Abilene, Lubbock, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and San Angelo.

Lubbock High Will Invade Panhandle

Lubbock High's Westerners, defeated by Amarillo in their initial 1-AA outing last week, prepared for a two-day invasion of the Panhandle this weekend with plenty of hard work Monday afternoon at Senior High gym.

Coach Harvey Dunn, obviously displeased by the showing his charges made against the Sandies, sent the Lubbock cagers through the roughest workout of the year. No phase of play was neglected during the lengthy session, but ball-handling and set plays drew a major share of attention. The shooting accuracy of the Westerners, which was very ragged in the Amarillo tussle, was improved Monday.

The Westerners will leave early Thursday morning for Pampa, Dunn announced, then will go to Borger for a Friday night tilt. The Pampans have compiled a seventeen game winning streak this season and are currently ranked as the top quint of the district. The Lubbock squad will return here Saturday night to play host to the Brownfield Cubs.

GASSERS WIN GAME

ABERNATHY, Jan. 20 (Special)—Lubbock's Plains Gassers, paced by Abie Reed's 13 point high, drubbed the Abernathy Sturvies' quint, 59-36, in an independent basketball game here last night. Lester Brown chalked up 10 points for the losers.

Lifetime Job With Ags Stiteler Wish

HOUSTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Gray-haired Harry Stiteler, the incoming Texas Aggie football coach, said today he hopes to make College Station his lifetime residence despite lack of a long-term contract.

Speaking before the Houston A. & M. club, Stiteler brought laughs by saying:

"When I discussed terms with the Athletic Council, I knew no power on heaven or earth could get anybody a five-year contract."

Then he added:

"But I want to be regarded as any other member of the faculty—head of a department—and if it should ever be that a change is best or desired, I would want to be reassigned to another department.

"I'm at A. & M. to stay for the rest of my life."

(Former students of Texas A. & M. in December paved the way for Stiteler's appointment by paying a reported $20,000 for the balance of a five-year contract held by Homer Norton, retiring coach. At the time of Stiteler's appointment, an A. & M. official said the contract could be considered as being made on a year-to-year basis.)

Texan Wants To Be Best Of Fighters

LaVern Roach Has Several Good Reasons For Pushing Toward World Championship

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 20. (AP)—If LaVern Roach, the Texas marine, ever battles his way to the middleweight championship, he'll enlarge on those words a fighter ordinarily says over the radio from "hello, ma; I won" to "hello ma, hello pa; I won for you."

That's the big obsession of the pride of Plainview as he pushes his way toward the top in boxing. The journey thus far has been in the category of sensational because he's only had 23 professional fights and lost just one—the first.

The other night Roach reached the big time as he licked Tony Janiro, a well-ranked fighter in his first appearance as a headliner in Madison Square Garden. Now they're talking in New York about Roach drawing a $100,000 gate in a bout with Marcel Cerdan.

Well, the quicker the money rolls in the better. Here in this Panhandle town they know the greatest ambition of the gentlemanly, clean-living young ex-marine is to help his parents. They encouraged him in his desire to be the world's best fighter and his father had much to do with his development.

There's also another good reason why the 22-year-old Roach is after the big dough: A pretty Plainview girl.

At Quitaque, Tex., today his father is operating a garage made possible by young Roach.

LaVern was a good fighter from the start. As an amateur he did well in the Golden Gloves and while in the marines engaged in 33 bouts winning all except one—a disputed decision to Joey Varoff in an inter-camp match.

Named the most promising boxer to come out of the armed forces in World war II, Roach received the identical award that presaged the long strides into boxing history of Gene Tunney of World war I.

Teams In Late Bowl Contests Very Likely To Tangle Again

By WERNER RENBERG
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Jan. 20.—It looks like football teams won't let well enough alone.

An announcement from Williamsburg, Va., says William and Mary, Southern conference champion last season, will meet Arkansas at Little Rock next Nov. 27 for a re-play of the New Year's day Dixie bowl game. Arkansas won that one by a single point, 21-20, and it looks like the Indians want to avenge such a close loss.

No Small Secret

It's no small secret that southern Methodist and Penn State may play off their 13-13 Cotton bowl tie some time in the near future. Both schools have their 1948 schedules carded. Commitments may take care of 1949, too, but, officials of both schools have confided, 1950 may be the year.

The other two bowl pairings involving Southwest conference teams—Texas and Alabama, and Texas Christian and Mississippi—may meet again on the gridiron in a few years. Plans for such contests have not yet been made, however.

Curtice Disillusioned

Shed a juicy tear for the fellows in the football coaching business.

Jack Curtice of the Texas College of Mines has returned to El Paso from the NCAA get-together a sad, disillusioned man.

"When I looked around and saw how many former coaches-of-the-year had lost their jobs," Curtice moans, "I could not help but think that they are the most abused humans in the world.

"It is grossly unfair to a profession which has so many highly-trained men."

He Doesn't Know It

If Bill Dubose, the popular Waco high school football coach, has been chosen for some job at Texas A. and M. he doesn't know about it, he says. Ask Dubose about reports that he's headed for Aggieland, and he'll tell you of all the plans he's making for his schoolboy gridders.

Dubose was line coach for Harry Stiteler, now Aggie mentor, at Corpus Christi and later at Waco high schools.

The gentlemen from the Baltimore Colts of the All-America conference and Chicago Bears of the National league who want the autograph of Bobby Layne, the blond terror of Texas grid teams, may have to sweat it out until after the Southwest conference baseball season.

Want His Autograph

They want Bobby's autograph on the dotted line. But Layne can't sign for a bonus and be eligible for baseball, too. And the flashy quarterback wouldn't think of sitting in the stands, watching the Orange and White in combat. He wants to pitch again, to extend the sensational mound record he has acquirred at Texas.

Meantime, the men from the pro clubs wait, checkbooks in hand, for Bobby to make a gesture towards either team. His grand performance in the Sugar bowl has given Bobby quite a voice in deciding what the eventual check will be made out for.

A number of other Southwest conference stars are waiting, too, while the All-America and National clubs outbid each other. Thanks to having two rival professional football leagues, the prospective player is having his day.

Greenville Majors Have New Manager

GREENVILLE, Jan. 20 (AP) — The Greenville Majors of the Big State baseball league had a new manager today: Morris "Buddy" Hancken.

Club President Edgar Ablowich last night announced the former manager of the Ballinger Cats in the Longhorn league had been named to manage the Majors this year.

Hancken, 31, a catcher, formerly played with Beaumont, Seattle, and Philadelphia.

He became manager of Ballinger in mid-season last year and guided the Cats from sixth place to third in the regular season standings and the Cats won the Shaughnessy playoff.

Favorites Are Hard To Locate In Scramble For Cage Honors

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Favorites are hard to find as teams in Texas' gigantic high school basketball race head for the half-way mark.

With few exceptions, two or more teams in each district are running head and head for a spot in the playoff and a crack at the state championship in class AA, A and B.

More than one thousand teams are shooting at these three state titles, scheduled to be decided in the annual tournament at Austin in March.

Closest In Years

Class AA, making its last stand with big city schools as members, has come up with its closest race in years and in almost every case district titles will be decided on a round robin basis.

Class A and B, where the majority of Texas schools compete, will decided their regional titlists in tournaments, and almost every district is a dizzy scramble.

Sportswriters who cover schoolboy basketball have summarized in their area. And the state situation is briefly this:

Five Are Capable

Class AA:

Five teams are capable of winning district one: Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Pampa and Borger.

Three players have stood out thus far. They are Bill Howton, Plainview; Darrell Davis, Pampa, and Jack Alderson, Lubbock.

In district two the powers are Childress, Vernon and Wichita Falls. For individual stars in this loop, Childress has T. Jones and Billy Ray Hall, Wichita Falls has Kenneth Standrige, Gene Boren and Billy Skidmore.

Big Spring's Steers might get a feeble vote as district three favorite, but Abilene, San Angelo and Odessa are strong contenders.

Abilene, winner of the district title eight of the last ten years, has only two lettermen back, Gene Landrum and Bob Bailey.

El Paso's defending state champion is on the spot in district four, but Bowie (El Paso) and Austin (El Paso) are each able to come in first. Nemo Herrera's Bowie Bears have an impressive early-season record, having lost only one game.

Overshadow The Others

Sherman and Bonham, the latter with Max Hickfang as its ace, overshadow other teams in district five. Sherman's center Don Klein sparks his team.

Highland Park (Dallas) and Denton are doped to fight it out for district six honors.

In the Fort Worth district, seven, Polytechnical is a shade ahead of Arlington Heights and Paschal.

Crozier Tech, Woodrow Wilson and Sunset make Dallas' district eight a three-team affair.

Breckenridge and Stephenville are the two top teams of dist 9-AA.

Could Alter Picture

Temple's Wildcats and Ennis appear strongest in district ten, though the rest of the loop could alter the picture and surprise none.

Longview, Kilgore, Gladewater and the remainder of district 11-AA make it one of the better district races.

Lufkin, Nacogdoches and Bryan pace dist. 12-AA, while the Houston district of 13-AA has Milby, Jeff Davis, and Sam Houston in a scramble.

Milby won 18 straight games.

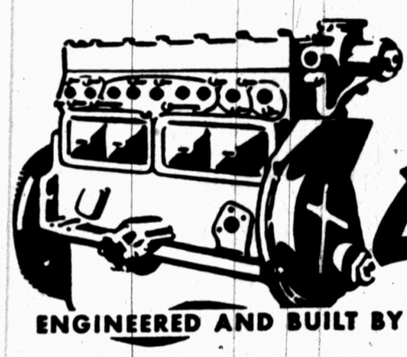

Beaumont, Goose Creek and Pasadena run about in that order in dist. 14-AA.

Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), Lanier (San Antonio), Brackenridge (San Antonio), Austin and Kerrville could finish on top in dist. 15-AA, which shapes us as one of the toughest districts in the state.

The valley teams in dist. 16-AA look like they'll need the full season to decide a winner.

Young Recipients Of American Assistance Show Appreciation

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20 (AP)—Some youngsters in Germany, Austria and Japan are really grateful for American relief food—and show it.

Several thousand children abroad have sacrificed some of their essential materials to say their thank-yous and make their gratitude known in the United States with gifts of homemade toys.

1,000 Toys Received

The American friends service committee said more than 1,000 toys, ranging from complicated mechanical devices to tiny book ends and penwipers, were shipped to America by the school children of Darmstadt, Germany, alone.

The toys were sent here in the same wooden crates which carried powdered milk to Europe.

"It's a concrete example of thanks that comes from the heart," said Louise Andrews, committee worker in charge of visual education.

"A small piece of wood can cook a meal but many pieces were used to make these simple toys," Miss Andrews said.

"Cloth, even the tiniest bit, is needed to clothe the ragged population but the Darmstadt children sacrificed enough to make their toys and shipped them, together with Christmas messages, to the U. S."

The toys were set up as exhibits and are being shown throughout the country at schools, churches and libraries.

"Sale of the toys would bring little money," Miss Andrews said, "but the psychological value is very great. It proves that some persons know where aid is coming from and are appreciative of it."

The committee, working through the council of relief agencies licensed to operate in Germany, said it helped supply one supplementary meal a day to some 6,000 Darmstadt school children on the basis of the greatest need.

Young trade union apprentices are the greatest sufferers in Austria, the committee reported. Each normally receives 1,600 calories a day but those 15 pounds underweight are eligible for vacations at a trade union rest home. The unions supply about 2000 calories a day and the committee provides an additional 600.

Beautiful, stuffed dolls were made by girl apprentices "vacationing" at one rest home in appreciation, the committee said, "for supplementary food they received."

A letter received by the committee from the Austrian trade unions said the dolls "were made in the rest home for girls in Mittenwald, Karnten, for America as an expression of thanks for the gifts of food . . . the production of dolls is being continued provided remnants of material can be found."

Japan Gives Thanks

The Quakers have nine workers in Austria, busy in a program started in February 1946. Other services include furnishing supplementary food packages to some 10,000 tuberculosis patients under 25 years of age, and supplementary food to several hundred children in a Vienna TB sanatorium.

Japanese relief began in June, 1946, with most of the food and clothing supplies going to Tokyo, Karagwa, Aiichi, Kyoto, Osaka, Hyago, Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

In Japan, as in Germany and Austria, grateful school children made dolls, sandals, drawings and sent them to the U. S. as thanks for food given them by 13 American relief agencies, including the Quaker service committee.

Comedy Maker Plans To Resume Career

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 20—Mack Sennett, the man who made a nation laugh, celebrated his 64th birthday with plans to renew his fabulous movie career.

Sennett, who started the film careers of Charlie Chaplin, W. C. Fields, Bing Crosby, Marie Dressler and many others, has been living quietly in Hollywood. Hale and robust, he plays golf almost daily and is working on some deals to bring him back to film production. Among them is his own biography.

Bing Crosby is a changed man. At an Al Jolson party he happily posed for pictures, much to the surprise of everyone . . . Madeleine Carroll heads for New Orleans for the Edgar Bergen show. Before leaving, she tested at MGM for "Vespers in Vienna." . . . Dick Powell says the outlook appears better for June Allyson to star with him in "Mrs. Mike."

Wayne Morris could have had the Burt Lancaster role in "The Killers" but Warners held out too much money for the loanout. That picture would have been a break for Wayne . . .

Van Johnson has reportedly bought another motorcycle. His last one nearly cost his life in a serious accident.

Will Turn Pro

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 20, (AP) — Tony Holquin, 21-year-old San Antonio city golf champion, will turn professional Thursday when he enters the Phoenix, Ariz., open tournament.

Holquin, winner of a number of tournaments, is credited with a 62 in practice over Brackenridge park course here. This ties the course record.

Five Are Sentenced

TEXARKANA, Jan. 20. (AP) — Sentences ranging from three months to three years were handed five inmates of the federal correctional institution here who escaped and were recaptured in November.

Sentenced yesterday were Orville A. Holleman, Grand Prairie; Lamar Barnett, Victoria; William McDonald, Waco; Thomas Wigley, Pasadena, and Rod Milton Powell, jr., San Antonio.

All pleaded guilty to charges of escaping and of theft of a government car in which they made their escape.

Legion Stages Defense Rally

AUSTIN, Jan. 20 (AP)—The United States has not gone to sleep following World war II as it did after previous conflicts, Sumner T. Pike, member of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission, told post officers of the Texas American Legion in a defense rally here yesterday.

While Pike believed the nation's chances of being prepared for war are better than in any other postwar period, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Fifth Army commander, stressed the need for keeping up the armed forces through universal military training.

"Until world peace can be assured, we must set up a force to show that aggression will not be profitable," Gen. Walker declared.

Training Demanded

Texas Adj. Gen. K. L. Berry joined Gen. Walker in a demand for universal military training. In no other way will the National Guard be able to recruit the 682,000 men required over the nation, he stated.

The atomic bomb is a weapon of offense that will be launched against civilian rather than military targets in case of attack, Pike stated. It is likely to be used on industries, commerce, finance or ports of embarkation—to wherever great number of people are brought together.

Gen. Barry declared the next war will be "on our necks the first day." Troops must be scattered over the entire country, especially in strategic spots, he stated, adding that the National Guard troops will be the only ones so dispersed.

The atomic bomb is no more suitable as the only weapon for national defense than is a 16-inch gun for guard duty, Pike stated. It does not dispense with any branch of the present armed services, he explained.

Push-Button War

His personal view was that preparedness for war will not necessarily bring on war. The contrary view of the pacifists hardly fits the facts of history, he observed. Pike's other individual beliefs were that any future war will not be a "push button" war.

He emphasized his stand that atomic energy control should not be returned to the military, holding that the civilian administration with close military laision will produce a more fruitful program.

Gen. Walker, in advocating military training, recalled that members of the armed forces have been charged by congressmen and others of propagandizing.

"It is our duty to lay the facts before the people," he declared. "We must give the people the facts and let them decide."

Diet To Be Opened

TOKYO, Jan. 20. (AP)—The Japanese diet will open its second session under the new constitution tomorrow, with Emperor Hirorito attending as a symbol of national unity.

Hirohito will offer a brief statement, expected to urge the legislators to work in harmony.

Mardi Gras Social Whirl Is Launched

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20 (AP)—The gay Mardi Gras social whirl is on, heralding start of this city's carnival season and the big night parades that highlight Mardi Gras are not far off.

Tickets for seats in reviewing stands will go on sale here today.

Prices are $1.20 a seat, and $1.80 for the super parade when Rex reigns on Mardi Gras day. City hall officials reported a heavy demand for the ducats. The city's general fund benefits from the sales.

Mardi Gras day is Feb. 10.

Kaiser-Frazer's Expanding Production Offers Opportunity to More Dealers

By the end of 1947 Kaiser-Frazer production had passed 1,000 cars per day. It will now be further increased—to more than 1,500 cars per day! And still greater production will be reached before the end of the year.

The demand for Kaiser and Frazer cars has continued to grow along with our expanding production. There is every evidence that it will keep on growing. And our stepped-up advertising and sales-promotion efforts are planned to steepen the gratifying up-curve of buyer demand. K-F will always be aggressive in both building and selling!

In recent months Kaiser-Frazer dealers everywhere have been receiving a larger and steadier flow of cars—in proportion to number of dealers—than the industry ever dreamed could happen!

This is good news to the many thousands of able merchants who are interested in a profitable franchise. We can now again consider franchise applications, as we expect to sign contracts with quite a number of new dealers in existing open territories within the next few weeks.

If you are interested in the Kaiser-Frazer franchise, write Arthur Wm. Welsh, Regional Manager, Rms. 403-7 Thomas Bldg., Wood and Akard Avenues, Dallas, Texas.

OKLAHOMA FIGHT BACK TO COURT

School Branded A "Jim Crow" Move

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20—The legal battle of a 23-year-old negro woman to enroll in the University of Oklahoma law school today was headed back to the United States Supreme court, which only last week directed the state to establish equal law school facilities for negroes and whites.

A negro school of law established here in a surprise move yesterday by the Oklahoma state regents for higher education was branded by negro leaders as a "Jim Crow law school."

Contempt To Be Charged

At a mass meeting here attended by some 600 negroes, James E. Stewart, president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the association's attorneys will go back to the Supreme court to contend that "some unit of the state government is in contempt" of the court's ruling.

Roscoe Dunjee, editor of a negro newspaper here and a national director in the NAACP, said the organization's legal staff is to meet today in Washington, D. C., to plan future legal steps.

Ada Lois Sipel Fisher, the negro seeking admission to the university's law school, will not attempt to enroll in the newly created law school but will stand on her application for enrollment at the state university, Dunjee said.

Accompanied by Dunjee and NAACP officials she visited the state university at Norman yesterday morning and filed application to enroll.

A few hours after her application was accepted the state regents announced at a special meeting the establishment of a negro school of law here as a branch of Langston university, the state's only negro college at Langston, Okla.

Marshall Plan

in future costs far greater than any present saving."

The white haired statesman said he was "for the plan" as it now stands, but suggested several improvements including the clause for a defense pact and economic union; the selection of a business administrator to supervise the plan; basing continued aid on continued cooperation; and setting production targets for the countries involved.

Reds Are Condemned

Dulles speech to the committee was filled with condemnation of the methods used by the Soviet foreign office.

He said that after attending seven post-war conferences he was convinced that "we cannot get a peace treaty for Europe until it is known that the free nations of Europe are going to stay free."

"Soviet leaders believe that, in Europe, free institutions are tottering," Dulles said, "and that if they are given a few well-timed pushes, they will fall. The Communist party stands ready, able and willing to deliver those blows."

Dulles said that after talking with Prime Minister Clement Attlee of Great Britain and President Vincent Auriol of France he was convinced that, with urging by the United States, Europe can become a political and economic unit.

UN Not Strong Enough

Dulles, a delegate to the United Nations general assembly, admitted that "the United Nations is not yet a strong enough reliance" to defend Europe from aggression.

"Not one of the 16 nations participating in the Marshall plan, sharing a continent dominated by Soviet land power can be expected, standing alone, to defy the power," he said.

He recommended a regional defense pact for Europe "like our hemisphere pact made at Rio last year."

"So long as there is no regional unity for security," he said, "each nation will be weak and afraid. Each will turn to us for moral and material support which could come, and properly should come, from a unity of their own making."

Boy Sentenced

March 1 as the date for trial on the other charges and Grant said that if the youth was convicted he would ask that the sentences be added to the murder sentence instead of running concurrently.

Hartmann's mother, Kathleen, wept on her husband's shoulder when she heard the verdict. The boy's step-father, Leroy, said he and his wife were pleased with the sentence, however.

Normally, Hartmann would be eligible for parole after serving 15 years and nine months of his sentence.

The pudgy youth, who had testified that he "didn't mean" to kill Mrs. Bush, when he tried to rob her in a southside parking lot, received the sentence with no perceptible emotion.

DEALINGS ARE SLUGGISH

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP) — Timid professional bidding for a technical rebound aided individual oil, rail and industrial stocks today although dealings were sluggish throughout and many market leaders suffered from neglect.

The ticker tape frequently idled after a moderately active start. Advances of fractions to a point or so were fairly well distributed at the close but drops of as much persisted. Transfers for the full proceedings of around 750,000 were among the lows for the year to date.

Wilson Co. and Barnsdall Oil tilted forward on pleasing dividends. Ahead most of the time were Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Southern Railway, Pacific Western Oil, Mission Corp., Texas Pacific Land Trust, and International Telephone. The majority of steers, motors, rubbers and aircrafts clung to a slim groove.

Intermittent hazards included International Harvester, Firestone Tire, North America, American Tobacco "B", Johns-Manville, Phelps Dodge and Gulf Oil.

Brokerage customers continued to give the market a wide berth or trim accounts because of increasing skepticism regarding taxes, the long-term business outlook and murky foreign affairs.

Bonds were mixed.

Fritz, who was a sort of Hitler Youth platoon leader when the war ended — and is the only German who admitted to me that he once was a Nazi — is the son of a seamstress and her divorced husband. The latter, before the war, held a position in German movies and the legitimate theater comparable to that held by Frederic March here.

Fritz appears to be completely reclaimed from Nazism, into which he was trapped at the tender age of seven.

Incidentally, the boy's real name is not Fritz Schmaltz. I know his name and have a letter from him. I just don't want to use his real name for fear of possible reprisals. This is a small world and his reclamation might get back to Germany and, conceivably, cause him trouble.

SINCE our plane landed at Tempelhoff airport in the middle of Berlin, the old German capital afforded us our first view of Germany. Even more than the bombed-out areas near the airport — which, incidentally, are not nearly so bad as in other parts of the city — we were struck by the scarcity of traffic.

To hop from traffic-ridden Washington into a large city thousands of miles away and see streets empty of vehicular traffic is a shock to any American. In Berlin, the principal motor traffic is that afforded by French, British, and Russian military cars and trucks, and U. S. military cars, trucks and privately owned automobiles. American traffic makes up most of the total.

Berlin, a city of around 3,500,000 people, seems almost without motor traffic. You'll see ten times more motor traffic at any hour between 7 a. m. and midnight in the vicinity of College avenue and Nineteenth street in Lubbock than you can see in any part of downtown Berlin.

Army Must Have Texans!

I could fill up a column with names of Texans with whom I came into contact in all cities I visited from Trieste to Cologne and from Vienna to Paris. Most of the scores of them live in places considerably removed from Lubbock, but there were some of them from here and around here.

In an Army snack bar below Munich I ran into Capt. Bernard White, who used to live in Crosby county and whose grandfather still lives there. In Wasserberg, there were Maj. and Mrs. Leonard R. Day, who used to live here when the major was an ROTC officer at Tech. Also in Wasserberg are Lt. and Mrs. H. L. Bradford. The husband, an LAAF graduate, is in the Air Forces. Mrs. Bradford is the daughter of Mrs. Viola Younger, 1513 Eighteenth street, and also is a niece of KFYO's Judge Landis.

At Nurnberg are Ist Lt. Jack Wheelis, formerly of Texas Tech, and his wife, of Mart. In Munich, are William C. Jones, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Jones, 1814 Avenue J, and his new wife, Sally, a New Yorker. Bill, a West Pointer forced into civilian life through war injuries, is vice-consul at Munich.

For others living hereabouts, I had pleasant chats with Capt. Guy L. Tucker, of Morton, and Sgt. Jim Langley, of Colorado City, both of whom are stationed in Viernna.

I've often heard it said that "you can't run the Army without sergeants." Whether or not that is true, I'm sure the Army would collapse without Texans!

AMERICAN women, in Germany with their husbands are doing a great deal of charity work, especially among sick and needy German youngsters and old people, hardest hit by conditions.

Much of their work is done personally; some of it by loosely organized groups, the rest of it by completely organized effort.

Through their German servants, seamstresses, etc., they find persons needing help, then assist them in most practical ways.

Some of the older American women are accomplishing a great deal through efforts to reclaim from the Nazi philosophy German boys and girls of 'teen age or slightly older.

This program, while not touching vast numbers of German young people, is effective beyond its visible scope, because the youngsters affected often attempt to influence their friends.

It is very worthwhile, and the pure charity efforts of American women in Germany are productive of better understanding and goodwill.

Man Fined $5,000 In Football Lottery

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 20 (AP) —Charley Gordon, 45, Shreveport, owner of the Spot Commission company, pleaded guilty in federal district court today to charges of using the U. S. mails to conduct a weekly football betting system, and was fined $5,000 by Judge Gaston L. Porterie.

Gordon waived indictment and pleaded guilty to five counts of a bill of information drawn up by U. S. Attorney Malcolm R. LaFargue.

Gordon was fined $1,000 on each of the five specific counts of the government charge. Permission was granted by Judge Porterie to apply $2,500 in bond money on the $5,000 fine.

The five counts charged Gordon with sending a letter concerning a lottery through the mails to H. C. Faucett, Little Rock, Ark.; mailing a parlay line sheet to Elbert Wooten, Coleman ,Tex.; mailing a line sheet and "teaser" prices to C. B. "Oily" Simmons, Dallas; and mailing a weekly line sheet to Paul Davis, care of Dunlop company, Henderson, Tex.

Farmer Is Speaker At Optimist Club

The South Plains area, because of its moisture situation, faces a greater problem of recovery of depleted soil than in areas where more rain falls and as a result conservation of the soil and water is the area's most important agricultural problem, Frank Gray, Lubbock county farmer, declared in a talk at the Optimist club luncheon at Hotel Lubbock today noon.

Gray cited the rapid changes in agriculture in the area in the past ten years and then posed the problem of future changes.

"How long can we continue at the present rate of production?" he asked. "Even the farmers are beginning to realize that something must be done to protect the fertility of our soil and conserve as much moisture as possible."

Gray cited mechanized farming, the growing of combine-type sorghums and irrigation farming as the three principal changes in farming methods in the past 20 years. He said a better system of diversification of crops, terracing and soil-building practices must come if production is maintained.

Gray was introduced by H. E. Mather, program chairman. Bryan Chapman of Henderson was an out-of-town visitor at the luncheon.

Dr. C. D. Eaves Is Speaker At Meeting

Approximately 50 members and guests of the Texas Tech chapter of the Army Signal association heard an address by Dr. C. D. Eaves, professor of history, Monday night at a meeting in the military science building.

Dr. Eaves discussed experiences in Japan, where he spent a year.

Members of the Society of American Military Engineers, several Tech students, T. C. Root, assistant to the president, and several members of the military staff at the college were guests. Maj. J. M. Goodman, sponsor of the Tech chapter of the Army Signal association, introduced the speaker.

Young Is Reported Studying Film Deal

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP) — Robert R. Young, railroad financier of Texas has been "looking at both RKO and United Artists," he said today, "but to date nothing has come of it."

He issued the following statement in reply to inquiries about his interest in the film companies:

"A group of private investors associated with me have been looking at both RKO and United Artists with a view toward a possible investment but to date nothing has come of it.

"Whether agreement can be reached on price and other factors is a question for the future to decide.

Fourteen white women and four negro porters were arrested in "vice" raids on small hotels here overnight and were fined $25 each, the women for vagrancy by prostitution and the porters for associating with prostitutes. The men were released upon payment of fines, but the women will be required to take treatment of city health authorities, corporation court officials said.

Alton J. Ammons and others planned to complete evidence this afternoon in their injunctive action against Fort Worth and Denver City Railway company and others, after which the railroad and others, an associated line, was expected to commence presentation of its own testimony. Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary, was to take the 99th district court stand early this afternoon as the plaintiffs' last witness, and was to present record evidence. Plaintiffs, 19 residents of the Summerhill addition to Lubbock, testified that extension of an industrial spur track proposed by the railroad along Ave. L between Thirtieth and Thirty-fourth would affect value of their property, which, they claim, is restricted under city ordinance to residential purposes exclusively. All evidence presented in the two days of the proceeding before Judge G. V. Pardue has been slanted in that direction.

The sheriff's department said this afternoon that a 21-year-old man charged as Glenn L. Miller but who signed a statement as Thomas Eugene Cossey had posted bail of $1,500. Bond of $2,500 set Saturday by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in binding the defendant over to grand jury investigation of a felony swindling charge, had been reduced.

Theft of a tire from the J. E. Martin farm six miles west of Lubbock was reported today to the sheriff's department.

Six $20 Bills Taken

Lawrence Bunton, jr., reported the front door of his residence at 205 East Twenty-first, in the negro section, had been knocked in. A report by two police patrolmen showed a yellow shirt, a pair of green and black shoes, five pairs of pants, two jackets and a sweater were missing.

The sheriff's office was notified late Monday that six $20 bills were taken in a burglary of the Wayland residence, seven and a half miles north of Lubbock on the old Plainview highway, on Jan. 17. A suspect was described.

Deps. Sheriff George Eubank and Carl Francis went to Shallowater Monday on request of residents there who complained that cars parked at the school were being broken into during basketball games.

T. M. Lawson of three miles east and one mile south of Monroe told the sheriff's department two batteries were stolen from his well house.

Darwin Willbanks of 2616 Ave. K notified police of theft of a bicycle.

Water Supply

surface and underground water source.

2. How to balance that "outtake" with the "inflow."

Gov. Beauford H. Jester called the conference and those attending heard anticipated needs of communities in the 92 counties based on this information:

Information Given

Current and future estimated population; average daily water consumption; average annual precipitation; present sources of supply and capacity; quality of surface water supplies; an estimate of future water demands for domestic industrial and irrigation purposes; water and soil conservation activities now under way; flood damages; existing and proposed water districts; data from surveys, including underground resources, surface flow measurements, quality and analysis, and size and location of future water reservoir sites.

The regions to be represented at the conference went through one of their driest years in history in 1947.

Spence said he expected the conference to disclose a necessity for a great deal more study of underground water and for more gauging of smaller streams. He mentioned also the possibility of piping water to arid regions.

May Place More Dams

Expanding on the gauging of smaller streams, Spence said this may lead to the placing of more dams on streams and stream tributaries to provide for a larger water supply.

Gov. Jester and Spence spoke, as did: J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth, John D. McCall, Dallas, water rights attorney; various members of the U. S. Geological Survey, including specialists in underground waters, surface waters and water qualitative problems.

Jester named Frank Kelley of Colorado City as coordinator of the conference.

Lubbock is being represented in the conference by S. L. Forest, chairman of the Lubbock Water Resources board; A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; City Manager Homer Hunter, City Engineer John P. Ruhmann, Dr. A. W. Young, Dr. Waldo Glock, County Judge Walter Davies, and County Commissioner Ottis Isom.

Killed In Cave-In

CORONA, Calif., Jan. 20. (UP)—Funeral arrangements were pending today for A. E. Coleman, 49, of Albuquerque, N. M., who died near here yesterday in a cave-in.

Coleman was killed when he was caught in a cave-in as he was working on a culvert. The carpenter's helper was buried under six tons of dirt for more than an hour. Three other members of the Santa Fe railway section crew were injured in the accident.

GRAPEVINE MAN KILLED

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20 (AP) — Robert Archie Chamblee, 48, of Grapevine, was killed instantly early today when struck by a bus as he adjusted snow chains on his automobile on highway 121 a quarter-mile east of Birdville.

scription of either of two men who on the night of Dec. 26 held up the Prescription Laboratory, 1629 college, with a pistol and a sawed-off shotgun.

Lytal was unable to describe the type of pistol the man carried, but said it was a revolver-type, rather than automatic.

The night following the holdup of the laboratory on College Avenue here, an Amarillo liquor store was robbed by two men who fitted the description of those involved in the hijacking here. However, none of those suspects have been caught, police here said.

Medical authorities this morning expressed opinion that the amount of dilaudid taken was unusually large, which led to speculation it may have been taken for resale.

Newsmen recalled that on Jan. 10, a woman giving the name of Mrs. Thelma Stanberry, 38, of Long Beach, Calif., and accompanied by a woman she identified as her daughter, of Lubbock, Texas, hanged herself in an East St. Louis, Mo., police headquarters jail cell after being booked for investigation.

The woman she identified as her daughter was named as a Mrs. Arlene Callender, 19, who was reported by the East St. Louis Journal to be a former Texas Technological college student and who with her mother was reported to have been fleeing from a gang of West coast narcotics racketeers attempting to involved Mrs. Stanberry and her husband in the racket, according to the story Mrs. Stanberry was reported to have related to Chief of Police Henry Bishop in East St. Louis.

No report of a Mrs. Callender having lived in Lubbock has been found.

Confessed Bank Robber Facing Grilling In Death Of Officer

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (U.P.)—James Smith, 24, who admitted participating in a $130,000 New Orleans bank robbery, was questioned today about the killing of a Philadelphia policeman nearly a year ago.

Smith, a former bartender in Philadelphia, appeared eager to tell investigators all about the robbery of the Hibernia National bank at New Orleans, Jan. 9, but "wouldn't admit anything," about the death of Policeman Cecil Ingling.

Prints Are Checked

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said it was possible that Smith was involved in the slaying. They were checking his fingerprints.

Ingling was shot to death by one of three bandits he tried to capture after they held up a supermarket.

Ingling, who was unarmed and off duty, was in his car outside the market when two bandits fled from the market and ran toward a car where a confederate was waiting.

The policeman saw a patrol car approach the market. His suspicions aroused, he grabbed one of the bandits entering the getaway car.

Shot Three Times

Ingling's wife, Helen, and their two children watched the slaying. She said the bandit pulled out a revolver and shot Ingling three times.

In the ensuing chase, one of the bandits was captured. Police named James F. Smith, jr., and David Almeida, 33, both former convicts, as the two still at large.

Authorities who compared pictures of the wanted man with those of Smith taken after his capture here said there was a "very close" resemblance.

Maintains Silence

Smith, whose fondness for long taxicab rides resulted in his capture, maintained his silence about the Ingling affair, although readily admitting his part in the armed robbery of the New Orleans bank.

Armed robbery in Louisiana carries a possible death penalty.

Smith was traced here on a tip from a Memphis cab driver who said Smith had given him $500 for a ride to Chicago.

FBI men located him at a Chicago hotel and found him asleep when they entered his room. He had $17,776 in his possession when he was captured.

dith said oil was being rushed from Superior, Wis., to take care of 100 families who were without fuel.

Meanwhile, Minnesota state fuel conservator James W. Clark told the state's fuel oil conservation committee that the fuel shortage threatened to last from two to five years.

Clark suggested that police and firemen be used to inspect oil tanks of residents who claim they are short. The police and firemen would determine whether a hardship actually existed.

H. B. Lidstone of Austin, Minn., told the committee that up to 175 homes would be without fuel in his city today.

Clark said he had appealed to the Coast Guard to open the Mississippi river early this year so that tank barges could rush oil northward. He said the Coast Guard had appeared "not too sympathetic" to the proposal.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

A FOOL and His Money—Scratch a gambler and you will discover an optimist . . . And a chump . . . No matter how often he loses or is fleeced—he invariably feels sure that a winning streak will eventually enable him to retire in luxury . . . The thrill of trying his luck becomes more important than the bankroll . . . Runyon once said: "To gamblers—dollars are merely the tools of their trade" . . . Heywood Broun observed: "You aren't really gambling until you can't afford to lose," and June Aster, one of the most lovely roulette players in the land, has said: "A gambler's wife never owns jewelry. She just wears her husband's reserves."

Broun also stated: "If you make money at poker, that's gambling. If you make it at bridge, that's a social duty. If you make it outguessing Wall Street, that's a miracle!"

THE late W. C. Fields told Bob Benchley that he had to borrow coin to pay off a gambling debt . . . "That experience," he said "taught me a lesson" . . . Bob asked: "You mean you're giving up gambling?"

"Oh, no," countered Fields, "but I am going to stop playing with money I haven't got!"

Alec Woollcott noted that John Barrymore lost $10,000 in a dice house. A friend tried to comfort him: "Sometimes you win; sometimes you lose. But you must admit there's a lotta money in gambling."

"Yes," sighed John, "a lotta money that used to be mine."

A HORSE player was giving Wilson Mizner counsel on gambling. "I think," he said, "that most people can't resist the temptation to bet because it is a way of getting something for nothing."

"If you gamble long enough," Mizner rejoined, "you will discover that it is a way of getting nothing for something."

Sportscaster Bill Stern relayed this one . . . Mrs. Bradley, wife of the famed racehorse owner, Col. E. R. Bradley (Bradley's at Palm Beach), had her own unique system. She wagered $20 on every horse in a race except the favorite . . . The colonel told his betting commissioner to take her coin but "don't place it." He was cautioned to keep it a secret . . . One day Mrs. Bradley backed a 942 to 1 shot, which romped in a winner . . . Bradley paid the $18,860 out of his own jeans . . . Mrs. B. never learned that her bets "didn't get down."

NAPOLEON'S Foreign Minister, Prince Talleyrand (a lady-killer), was at a Parisian casino trying to outsmart the roulette wheels.

"Which do you prefer," he was asked, "the Red of Black?"

"The blonde," was the absent-minded reply.

This week in Miami reporters for a nationally circulted magazine and a news wire service visited gambling estabments to check on the talk that "money" wasn't abundant . . . "Just came from Colonial Inn and Greenacres," said one of them, "and they were so crowded with people anxious to gamble, I had to take my turn in line to get space at a dice table."

The United Press man later corroborated it. He played until he lost part of his expense account. "There may not be as many $1,000 bills as there used to be," he observed, "but there are dozens more $20 and $50 players, which practically makes up the difference."

THE "big money" gamblers, it seemed to us, patronize the spots where they feature "New York craps," meaning where only money is used, not chips . . . Chips don't excite them as much. Colonial Inn doesn't have that sort of game . . . The 115 Club (and Club 88) not yet open (because of a local city official's quarrel) attracted the heavy doughboys . . . Many of them are marking time in hotel rooms and elsewhere staging their own games . . . And at these games they do not have to pay the "house" that devastating 5 per cent.

Nearly all big Beach hotels have bookie concessions, of course . . . The most recent price at one hotel was $150,000 (for 3 years) "to make book" on horse-races . . . "It was no use," sighed the manager. "We had to let them in. They were corrupting our bellboys and life guards by staking them $100 and more every week to pass the word around that guests could make bets, so we decided to take their 150 Gs and see what happens."

"Congrats," said a colyumist, "now you're one of the mob."

THE Mayor of Miami Beach pointed out that the local newspapers (only last Sunday) reported this headline on the real estate pages: "Greater Miami's Biggest Boom" . . . The story went on to say that realty sales were over $30,000,000 at the Beach alone, much more in Miami across the bay, and millions more all over Florida.

BY DREW PEARSON: RUSSIANS FORMING A UNITED STATES OF THE BALKANS

United States Of Europe Ought To Be Pushed

WASHINGTON — Clare Boothe Luce, who can't be accused of being remotely pro-Communist, once diagnosed the USA-USSR tug-of-war as follows:

"In the early part of the last century, the United States was a young, rebel republic. We had a new political idea. Everybody wanted to imitate us.

PEARSON

"Today, Russia has come along with a newer political idea and assumed the political leadership of Europe. We've got to get that leadership back."

Phony as the Communist political leadership is, Clara Luce is right. The Soviet ideology is new, has been sold with great cleverness and has bamboozled a good many people. Furthermore, it has sold Europe on at least one idea which is definitely worth while and which, without the Communist taint, could be the solution of the European imbroglio.

Plan Balkan Federation

After World War I, I spent considerable time in the Balkans. At that time the hate between the peoples of that area was beyond belief. To illustrate: I once tried to work out a deal whereby the broken-down locomotives of Yugoslavia would be repaired in the idle machine shops of Austria in return for Yugoslav corn. Vienna was then starving. Corn in Yugoslavia was rotting. However, the Yugoslav government said they would rather have no trains at all than feed the hated Austrians.

In no part of southern Europe was this hatred worse than between the Italians and Yugoslavs around Trieste and Fiume.

Two weeks ago I revisited this part of Europe. There are still a great many Italians along the Yugoslav border who hate the Yugoslavs and vice versa. However, I was amazed to find that Tito and the communists had been able to make an appreciable change.

They have been able to convince a surprising number of Italians and Yugoslavs that they should live and work together peaceably—provided, of course, they lived and worked under Communist rule. I was almost amazed to find that in northern Italy where the Communists control about 50 per cent of the local governments, it is bad political medicine to criticize Tito.

In other words, the Communists, by some of the shrewdest propaganda in the world, have managed to wipe out at least some of the age-old hatred between these countries. They are also making progress toward Moscow's plan for a United States of the Balkans, which would unite Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Roumania, Albania and the new independent so-called republic of Greece.

NO MATTER what you may think of Tito, it remains a fact that economically this part of the world was much better off when its diverse resources were pooled under the old Austro-Hungarian empire. If they are pooled again today under Tito, they might also be better off economically. Politically, it's a horse of a different color. Furthermore a United States of the Balkans would be a powerful and embarrassing weapon against the USA in our attempt to keep Greece out of Soviet hands.

All of this boils down to the fact that the gentlemen in the Kremlin have been smart enough to steal the best political weapon the United States of America has—namely, the United States of Europe.

At this point the Marshall plan comes in. Whether the Chicago Tribune likes it or not, the Marshall plan has been the most powerful road-block so far in the westward sweep of Communism. It has given Moscow a definite setback in France and Italy and sent the Politburo scurrying around to find new victories in Greece, Austria and perhaps Czechlovakia.

The Marshall plan has given great encouragement to a democratic Western Europe. But the big question is: Does it go far enough? Will the Marshall plan be merely a temporary stopgap? Will it carry Europe definitely over the reconstruction hump and put her permanently back on her feet?

Marshall Plan Falls Short

My own conclusion is that it does not go far enough, and that Europe will never get permanently back on her feet until the artificial barriers which break Europe up into petty pools of potential hate and flattened out. In other words, there has got to be a United States of Europe.

And the biggest mistake made by the Marshall planners—though not an irreparable one—was not to tie up the United States of Europe with the Marshall plan.

There is still time to do this. Already France and Italy have started to discuss tariff barriers and mutual economic problems. France, for instance, needs labor. Italy, on the other hand, has heavy unemployment. Therefore France plans to use some of this Italian labor.

However, these two countries alone cannot build a United States of Europe. Furthermore, European prejudice is deep-rooted. It will take astute and forceful statesmanship from the outside to build a United States of Europe. In his Harvard speech General Marshall has already laid the foundation for such a union, but he will have to go a lot further.

OBVIOUSLY the first step is a United States of Western Europe which would include such countries as France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, the Scandinavian countries, Switzerland and so on. Once this is organized, the chances are strong that, one by one, the countries on the edge of the iron curtain — Czechlovakia, Austria, Poland — soon would start veering over to the United States of Western Europe.

The trouble with the United States of America is that though it has built up the most successful and powerful federal union in history, it has hid its light under a bushel. Our most convincing selling argument in the world is to point to our own success. Instead, we have let Moscow steal our thunder and start organizing a United States of the Balkans.

Almost every European is a potential American. His dream is to migrate to the United States. The problem is to convert him into an American without actually transporting him across the Atlantic.

The problem is not an easy one. But by using the tremendous reservoir of good will we have in Europe, by using the Marshall plan, and by using a lot more American salesmanship to build a United States of Europe, it can be done.

SMALLEST FORCE

The smallest British military force in the world is located on the Pacific islands of Gilbert and Ellice. The Ocean Island Defense, as it is known, consists of one officer and 20 "other ranks."

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Truman State Of The Union Message Was Non-Commital

WASHINGTON — The few definite recommendations in the President's state of the union message are like lonely raisins in a large and very sweet pudding. It is as though the White House cooks, faced with the stalemate of a political year, decided it would be best to whip up a pleasantly flavored mixture that would produce a minimum of controversy and a maximum of easy acceptance.

CHILDS

To glance back at the state of the union message of a year ago is to realize how many of the nation's pressing problems have been quietly buried. They cannot be concealed with the magic of words, no matter how full of goodwill those words are meant to be.

Take housing as an example. In his message of a year ago, President Truman said some brave things about housing. He told the Congress that in 1946 1,000,000 family housing units had been put under construction and that more than 665,000 units had "already been completed." Then he went on to predict that in 1947 "the number of dwelling units built will approach, if not surpass, the top construction year of 1926."

The figures for '47 fall far below these optimistic hopes. The number of units started last year, according to the housing and home finance agency, was 794,600, and the number of units completed was 745,100.

Promises Not Kept

The President, in making his claim of a year ago, referred to the peak construction of 1926. In that boom year, 849,000 units were started. The real peak in that period appears to have been in 1925, when the number of family housing units started was 937,000.

Thus, 1947 was under both those years and under the actual peak by a wide margin. The meaning of this is clear when we stop to think that the need twenty years ago was not nearly so great as it is today. The population was smaller. And World War I did far less than World War II in interfering with the normal flow of construction.

"The government," said Mr. Truman in January of 1947, "will continue to expedite the flow of key building materials, to limit non-residential construction, and to give financial support where it will do the most good."

A month before he spoke those good intentions, the President had permitted Wilson Wyatt to resign as housing administrator. Wyatt's resignation came after it had been made plain to him that he would not get back for measures he believed essential to carry out a realistic housing program.

In 1947 the flow of key building materials was not expedited. Non-residential construction — race tracks, roller coasters and theaters—flourished at a greater rate than ever. Financial support went to so-called veteran's housing. But with soaring construction costs, this rents at a rate which puts it beyond most veterans.

Yet, on the state of the union in 1948, we find Mr. Truman saying:

"Within the next decade, we must see that every American family has a decent home. As an immediate step we need the long-range housing program which I have recommended on many occasions. This should include financial aids designed to yield more housing at lower prices. It should provide public housing for low-income families, and vigorous development of new techniques to lower the cost of building."

BETWEEN "should" and "will," or between "should" and "must," there is a vast gap. That gap represents the division between the executive power and the legislative power — above all, when the powers are divided between the two major parties. That kind of division occurs, on the average, in one out of every three years.

It is easy, of course, to pass the blame back and forth. The President can say that it was impossible to back Wyatt's program since the Republican Congress would never have approved it. The Republicans can pass the knife back to the White House.

In the end, however, no amount of fine words can cover up the failures. The noble words may do more harm than good, since they hold out so much promise when everyone knows that performance falls so far short.

Housing is only one example. On inflation, on taxes, on displaced persons, on a half dozen topics, and similar to gripes heard since 1929.

He found that every Beach hotel reported 100% capacity, except one hotel (way below the swank deadline), which said it had only 93% rentals . . . "And that," added the reporter, "was 10% better than it had the year before when it was only 83% filled!"

OF course there is always the hunch player, the fellow who sees a number on a subway car or door and decides to play the numbers policy racket the next day . . . Or the "gambler" who sees the name of a person or a slogan or a title in the newspaper —or on some building wall—and puts $2 on a nag with a similar name . . . That's what happened because of the last words in this column Sunday night: "Spare a Dime" . . . And so you might as well shoot yourself if you didn't take that "tip" and play the horse called "Spare a Dime" at Gulfstream Monday . . . It won, paying $12.80.

Then there's the one about the gambler who got a trimming by a "legit" businessman, who "took him" for $500 selling him a used car that didn't run. The gambler decided to get his money back and swindle someone else . . . He sold the car to another gambler . . . Then the man returned and said: "I never thought one sportsman would do that to another."

"Why not?" was the reply. "I got taken good by a respectable legitimate businessman, so why can't I do it, too?"

"That's not the point," said the fellow. "You can expect that from a legitimate businessman, perhaps. But you're a gambler—and your word must be better!"

"You Can Be Clearing The Ground, There"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

Today's Thought

That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate . . . —I Timothy 6:18.

An arm of aid to the weak,
A friendly hand to the friendless,
Kind words so short to speak,
But whose echo is endless.
The world is wide, these things are small,
They may be nothing—but they are all.

—William C. Gannett.

IT never too late for women to make New Year's resolutions. Here is a list of a few tested resolutions, that will be useful any time, if you stick to them:

MILLETT

1. Find time for at least one thing you really enjoy doing, every day.
2. Think more and talk less.
3. Make an effort not to criticize other women.
4. Give anyone who talks to you your undivided attention.
5. Be as courteous to members of the family—including the children—as you are to outsiders.
6. Think more about what you have, than what you want.
7. See more of the people you honestly like and enjoy, and less of the other kind
8. Laugh more easily and more often.
9. Be more generous with praise of others.
10. Keep your troubles to yourself.
11. Don't strive to impress other people. And don't let the pretenses of others impress you.
12. Don't be catty.
13. Stand by your friends.
14. Keep on learning.
15. Be as happy as you can. For a happy woman makes others happy.

Today's Journal Editorial

NEEDED: A UNIFORM DIVORCE CODE

Those who advocate federal divorce laws to supplant those of individual states have been given additional ammunition by a recent episode in Arkansas. The supreme court there invalidated a lower court and all its actions, including more than 1,500 divorce decrees. The technical reasons for the action are not important outside of Arkansas.

But the plight of the people who had every reason to suppose they were divorced is something to think about. Many had remarried and, technically, are bigamists and/or adulterers. Children born to such unions technically are, or will be illegitimate.

The experience emphasizes the complete absences of uniformity of the divorce laws of individual states. A decree granted in one state may be completely void in others. A divorce granted today may become wholly meaningless tomorrow—as has happened in Arkansas. It is a condition which has led to the creation of statewide divorce mills, operated strictly for profit, as in Nevada, as well as in Arkansas.

This situation cannot continue indefinitely. The time must come when individual states must get together and work out a uniform divorce code. It is to be hoped they will do that. Otherwise they must expect that the need for the protections of uniformity will require the transfer of such litigation exclusively to federal jurisdiction.

DIPPY — By John Cross

BY PETER EDSON

Supply Meeting Demand But Prices Are Still Going Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 — Curbstone opinion is pretty general now that you can walk into the stores and buy almost anything you want. You can even have it wrapped and delivered.

There are two notable exceptions, and a big "if." The two exceptions are automobiles and houses. The "if" is, if you can pay the price.

EDSON

But, aside from autos and houses, there is enough stock on hand to make this a buyers' market. The wartime sellers' market — when you couldn't get nylon hose, new suits, dining-room tables, sheets, radios or other electrical gadgets, toilet tissue, beefsteak, bonded whisky and the ordinary run of household necessities unless you "knew somebody" — those dear, dim days are pretty well beyond recall.

That being the case, more prices ought to be coming down. That's what the men said, at any rate. "Wait until production catches up. Wait until supply catches up with demand," they said. "Wait until we have a competitive market again. Then you'll see prices falling all over themselves."

Supply Caught Up

But here we are with supply now well ahead of demand. In a few spots there may be a slight delay in getting a particular model of a particular make of mechanical refrigerator, or a few items of hardware. The supply of new gadgets like television sets is, however, unlimited. And still prices don't tumble.

The only faint ray of hope came from General Electric's recent announcement of a three-to-ten per cent cut on a long line of consumer appliances.

While this is good news, there may be several invisible factors dictating the move. One is the relationship of competitors' prices. Another is the GE tax, profit and inventory situation, which will be revealed when the company issues its 1947 financial statement. Finally, GE has important wage negotiations coming up in the near future. The price cut may turn out to be a good counter-move in heading off pay increase demands.

Whatever the cause, it is the effect that is most important. Will it lead competitors to follow suit? Will suppliers meet the cut? Will it spread to other lines of merchandise? What are the hopes for general price cuts that will really bring down the cost of living?

Government economists are pretty cautious in trying to give the answers to those questions. The Bureau of Labor Statistics divides the cost of living index of consumer prices into half a dozen categories. Food, clothing, rent, fuel and light, house furnishings and miscellaneous items like taxes, schools nad health care, which are lumped together. Take a look at the trend in each field.

NO one can see any indication that the cost of food is coming down. Individual items like citrus fruits and raisins, which are in long supply, have dropped. But they don't make up a big item in the family food budget. Meat is heading into short supply this winter. That can mean only higher prices. European relief requirements will cut U. S. domestic supplies, and therefore tend to keep prices high.

Demand for raw cotton for Europe may prevent cotton goods from coming down, even though the textile situation is not as tight as in wartime. Supplies of clothing are more than adequate, in spite of the high style for the "new look." At the worst, prices should go no higher.

Rents have been going up one per cent a month under the rent "control" law of last year, which permitted voluntary increases. That law expires Feb. 29. It will probably be renewed, may be strengthened. But the present upward trend, at the rate of 12 per cent a year, is bad news for tenants. For the housing shortage is just as bad as at the end of the war.

There is little chance that new housing construction costs will drop until the supply of shelter comes closed to demand.

While supplies of home furnishings are at prewar levels, the single exception offered by GE is not enough to indicate prices will come down generally. Something besides full production is keeping them up. Too easy credit, perhaps, and a willingness to charge and to pay all that the traffic will bear.

SCOTLAND TO THEM

Scotland is called "Sotimaa" in the Magyar language, "Skotsko" in Czechoslovakian, "Iskocya" in Turkish, and "Szkocja" in Polish.

"Try And Stop Me"

OUR best writers continue to mock at the standards and tastes of movie makers in Hollywood, although they usually are on the way out there with a fat contract in their pockets by the time their scathing articles appear in print. Robert Nathan, for instance, declared, "I do not believe that the art of writing has ever had an honest trial in Hollywood."

It was particularly interesting that Mr. Nathan should say this because he was on the other side of the fence only last year, when he worked on the screen version of Paul Gallico's "The Clock."

Mr. Gallico observed Nathan's handiwork and wrote, "Robert Nathan, the poet, was in our house for dinner one evening before departing for Hollywood to keep his assignment to murder our piece, and we had a chance to kill him then and there, as a preventative, not for vulgar revenge."

MARK TWAIN, trapped in conversation by an interminable bore, finally escaped by remarking "Excuse me, won't you? My foot seems to have gone to sleep, and if you don't mind, I propose to join it."

Freedom Train Route Includes Amarillo, But Misses Lubbock

Lubbock, which for a time Monday appeared to be "on" the Freedom Train rerouting was "off" again last night, but apparently changing policies of sponsors of the train left some hope that the South Plains might yet have an opportunity to view the historical documents being sent over the nation.

At last reports, the Freedom Train was not to stop in Lubbock, according to its present schedule, but has been scheduled for a visit to Amarillo. For a short time Monday afternoon, it was belived here that the train was also scheduled to stop here.

But apparently Wilbert Lee O'Daniel was wrong, as he frequently is.

Senator O'Daniel wired the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Monday that he had been advised by the attorney general's office that arrangements had been made for the Freedom train to visit Lubbock and "tentativcly, it should be there around the middle of May, but no specific date has been set yet."

About the same time, a telegram was dispatched by Cong. George Mahon, to Mrs. J. E. Hartley, president of the Lubbock City Parent-Teacher council, composed of 16 groups. Congressman Mahon wired that the attorney general's office had informed him the train had been rerouted and would stop at Amarillo—which he said was unwelcome news since he had urgently requested it come to the Lubbock area.

In a telephone conversation with Mahon after both telegrams had been received in Lubbock, The Lubbock Morning Avalanche was told the attorney general's office had informed Mahon that a stop in Lubbock is not scheduled, but that in view of great protest the routing had been changed to include Amarillo.

Congressman Mahon immediately wired the American Heritage foundation, sponsor of the train, asking for the route of the train. He said that if the train goes through Lubbock en route to Amarillo there is "a good chance" a stop in Lubbock may be arranged.

Late Monday night, the American Heritage Foundation in New York said that the schedule of the Freedom Train visits through the United States may be extended for a second year in order to meet requests from cities not included in the train's present itinerary, the Associated Press reported.

The foundation also said that Freedom Train trips now were being financed by local funds from cities visited by the train.

Originally, it was planned to support the cost of Freedom Train trips with voluntary contributions, but the cost of operating the train for the scheduled first yea. of its trips has been estimated at $1,000,000 and the foundation is now asking each city visited by the train to make a contribution on a quota basis.

Information Checked

The city parent-teacher council here had protested routing of the train in a manner that would miss this part of the state.

Mahon's telegram to Mrs. Hartley follows: "Attorney General's office has just called to advise triumphantly that the Freedom train had been rerouted and would stop at Amarillo. This was unwelcomed news to me as I had urgently requested and demanded that the train come to the Lubbock area, and naturally I am disappointed and disgusted with the action of the foundation, but I wanted you to have this latest word. Of course, I am glad we were successful in getting the train routed somewhat closer to our part of West Texas. I will continue doing anything in my power to be of assistance."

Congressman Mahon said in the telephone conversation he had talked to Cong. Gene Worley, whose information corresponded to that received by Mahon. Worley represents the congressional district in which Amarillo is located.

Officers Are Moved

The Lubbock rent control office has been moved from the first to the second floor of the Owens building, corner Tenth and Ave. K, it was announced yesterday.

The space formerly occupied by rent control, and other adjoining space in that end of the building, is to be used by Stanolind Oil company, which is now moving equipment and fixtures in, the announcement said.

Entrance to the stairway leading to the new rent control quarters is on the Tenth street side, near the center of the building.

Blood Bank Plans Will Be Discussed

Details of plans for a blood bank in Lubbock county are to be discussed at a meeting at which Dr. Raymond F. Barnes of the Blood Donor Services of the American Red Cross will be present at 7:15 o'clock tonight in Hotel Lubbock.

Definitely planned as a Red Cross project, the proposed blood bank would provide blood transfusions to take the place of the diminishing supply of blood plasma given to hospitals here almost two years ago by the Red Cross from remaining war supplies.

The Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society has asked for the blood bank and pledged cooperation.

Dr. Barnes will discuss plans with local representatives tonight. Ruel C. Martin is chairman of the blood donor planning board of the Lubbock county Red Cross chapter.

More than 1,500 transfusions were given in Lubbock last year, according to information received by the Red Cross.

Tech Registration To Test Machines

Pre-registration for students who were enrolled for the fall semester at Texas Technological college will begin today with much interest being focused on the new system that has been designed to cut down the time spent in lines by the students from several hours to less than 30 minutes.

Installation of the new IBM machines which are expected to perform near miracles has been completed and are awaiting the assault of thousands of stacks of cards and registration forms.

An indication of the efficiency of the new system has been received at the office of the coordinator of veteran's affairs where 2,211 men had completed one phase of their processing without a single hitch, by noon Monday. "The veterans have been flowing through there like a dream," according to Registrar W. P. Clement.

No decrease in enrollment for the spring semester is predicted, despite the fact that the number of students usually decreases during that time, Clement said. Current enrollment totals over 6,000.

Pre-registration for former students will continue from Jan. 20-29 and new students may start registration Feb. 4.

Editor Speaker At Lorenzo Gathering

LORENZO, Jan. 20. (Special)—A capacity audience comfortably filling the Lorenzo High school auditorium, listened with deep interest to conditions in post-war Europe as related by Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of The Avalanche-Journal.

Mr. Guy summed up impressions received by his recent six week's trip through the devastated countries of Italy, Germany and France. He delved into questions that the audience might have asked and covered his vast subject with comprehensive intensity.

Following his hour-long address, the Lubbock editor answered questions from the crowd, which showed considerable interest in the report.

Mr. Guy's address was sponsored by the Lorenzo Parent-Teacher's association, which held a short business meeting under the direction of Mrs. Alvin F. Hamm, president, before the address.

A piano, obtained through the efforts of the P-TA, was presented to the high school by Mrs. S. E. Smith, who earlier had opened the meeting by giving the invocation.

Receipt of the piano was acknowledged by D. L. Jones, superintendent of schools, who expressed his appreciation for the gift.

A letter from Cong. George Mahon of Texas, regarding the Freedom Train, was read. Cong. Mahon decried the failure to route the train through Lubbock and the South Plains, but declared that no amount of force had been able to sway directors to change from the present itinerary up to the time the letter was written.

Visitors from Ralls and Robertson were introduced and a new member of the P-TA was welcomed into membership.

The meeting was concluded with a benediction by the Rev. George Bryant, pastor of the Methodist church.

Mr. Guy will speak Tuesday night in Hale Center.

The U. S. Marine Corps was organized and permanently established during the administration of President John Adams in 1798.

Army Air Fields In Nation Are Renamed

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20 (AP) — Fort Worth army air field today became the Graffis Air Force base, in honor of one of the first air force men killed in World War II.

The order changing the name of the Fort Worth field was received from Air Force headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The new name honors Lt. Col. Townsend Graffis, Buffalo, N. Y., who was shot down in England Feb. 15, 1942.

The Washington order changed Roswell air field at Roswell, N. M., to Walker Air Force base in honor of Brig. Gen. Kenneth N. Walker, shot down in the south Pacific in 1942. Davis-Manthan air field at Tucson, Ariz., was renamed Davis Monthon Air Force base, and Kearney air field, Kearney, Neb., was changed to Kearney Air Force base.

In 1947, the annual U. S. death rate from appendicitis was reduced to 3.2 per 100,000, less than one third what it was 10 years ago.

Telephone preview for 1948

As we enter 1948, the 50,000 telephone people in the Southwest are continuing to work hard to make telephone service better than ever and to get service to people waiting. Here is what we think 1948 will bring:

INSTALLATIONS

Shortages of switchboards, cable, and wire continue, but we were able to install 460,000 new telephones last year for a net gain of 295,000. This year we expect to equal or better that total.

CONSTRUCTION

Dollars spent on construction last year came to 115 million, close to three times as much as in any prewar year. In 1948, the job will take even more money—150 million dollars! That will buy new buildings, switchboards, cable, wire, and other things needed to supply more and better telephone service.

DEMAND

The demand for telephones continues at 50,000 a month. New orders keep the waiting list long, but it is smaller now than a year ago. About 200,000 persons in the 700 exchanges we serve are now waiting for service, but 3 out of 4 of them applied in 1947.

LONG DISTANCE

Improvements in long distance service are coming in 1948 as we add more miles of wire needed to handle calls. Some 50,000 miles of circuits were added in 1947. We expect to double that total in 1948.

SERVICE

Telephone service will grow better as more switchboard equipment brings relief from the extra-heavy loads now being carried. More than 18 million calls a day were made in the Southwest during 1947. This is well over a million more than the previous year, and a new record. The trend is upward for 1948.

RURAL SERVICE

We connected 50,000 more rural telephones last year. Our large-scale program to bring telephone service to more farms will continue in 1948. We hope to be serving 260,000 telephones in rural areas by the end of this year, nearly twice as many as at the start of 1946.

We worked hard to do what we did in 1947. We've still got an uphill job. We'll be doing the best we can to put in more telephones and further improve telephone service during 1948.
