Air Barrage At New Peak

RAF Night Riders Follow Record Assaults By Yanks

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, April 28—The Allies' merciless pounding of Nazi military installations winged into its 14th straight day today with an RAF attack "in strength" on Friedrichschafen.

This smash by Britain's big night bombers followed a record doubleheader daylight blow at Nazi targets in France by the U. S. Eighth Air force, which sent out more than 1,500 heavy bombers during the day.

In the 18 hours preceding the RAF's penetration deep into southern Germany more than 4,000 Allied planes hammered the continent with approximately 10,000 tons of explosives, a new high for such a period.

Radio Center Pounded

Friedrichshafen, site of an aircraft components factory and also a large plant manufacturing radio location instruments, is located on Lake Constance just across from the Swiss frontier.

Its last heavy attack was March 18 by American Liberators, who encountered savage opposition. That day the Americans lost 43 bombers, most of them on the Friedrichshafen mission.

From Thursday's operations nine U. S. heavy bombers, six fighters of the U. S. Strategic Air force and three Marauders of the Allied Expeditionary Air force were missing. Three enemy aircraft were shot down by the American fighters.

Enemy Opposition Weak

A communique said the "enemy opposition was weak" and added that the bombing results generally were reported as good.

Piling record on record—it was the heaviest total bomb load ever poured into the Hitler fortress in such a period—the Allies carried their pre-invasion softening-up campaign through its thirteenth straight day.

About 750 American Flying Fortresses and Liberators first hit German mystery installations on the French invasion coast this morning with about 2,000 tons of bombs, and then roared back again in an unprecedented repeat performance in the same strength at dusk, this time hitting German air bases at Nancy and Toul and railroad yards at Blaineville and Chalone-Sur-Marne in eastern France.

The morning run alone had been described by veteran southern English coastal observers as providing the greatest aerial activity ever seen over the channel, and before the day was out all previous "shows" had been far surpassed.

The record 18-hour period began with a 1,000-plane RAF night raid on the big German munitions

Lull On Soviet Front Continues

LONDON, Friday, April 28—Moscow said last night the lull on the eastern front continued through its sixth day yesterday, but the Germans declared the Russians still were attacking in northern Romania and in the Carpathian foothills.

Last night's Soviet communique said again there were "no important changes at the front."

400 Germans Killed

A supplement to the communique said the Germans lost 400 men killed and 15 tanks and four armored transports destroyed in a futile attempt to find weak spots in the Soviet defenses southeast of Stanislawow in the Carpathian foothills.

A dispatch from Moscow during the day described continued heavy shelling of the German-Romanian positions in besieged Sevastopol, a Red Star correspondent declaring, "the enemy still holds the dead streets and squares but Soviet guns have reached the Germans and Romanians in their last shelters." The date of the story was not given.

The German communique said there were only local attacks in the Sevastopol area, and a German "international information bureau" broadcast said cryptically, "the three-day defensive battle in the area of Sevastopol can be regarded as complete."

Still Hold Airdromes

Red Star's correspondent said the Germans still hold airdromes in the Sevastopol suburbs, but they were blocked by debris, while the Red Army captured an important suburban hill on which the Germans had established eight batteries of artillery and four of mortars.

It appeared the Red Army had settled down to wipe out the enemy in Sevastopol by siege tactics and artillery, regardless of the cost in ruined buildings.

The Germans said the Russians had attacked on the lower Dnestr front and north of Iasi, making local penetrations which later were "sealed off."

15 Men Die In Ship Hold Fire

At Least 20 More Narrowly Escape

PORTSMOUTH, Va., April 27 (AP)—Fifteen workmen were killed by suffocating and at least 20 others were overcome by smoke and fumes tonight when fire broke out in the hold of a naval ship undergoing repairs at the Norfolk Navy yard.

Fellow workers of the men caught in the ship crowded the dispensary at the Navy yard to identify the bodies of the victims whose names naval officers declined to release immediately pending notification of their next of kin.

The fire broke out in the vessel about 6:20 o'clock tonight. The men employed in the repair work on the ship were civilian workers at the yard.

All Ambulances In Use

All available ambulances were sent from the Norfolk naval hospital here to the Navy yard to remove the workmen to the yard dispensary, where many were given artificial respiration. Damage to the ship was said by a Navy yard spokesman as not extensive.

Edgar B. Johnson, 21, pharmacists mate third class, USNR, of Fuzzards Bay, Mass., who sped to the ship on the first ambulance dispatched from the dispensary told a reporter that when he reached the hold of the ship he saw "at least 25 men lying around, all unconscious."

"It was awful," said Johnson, who applied artificial respiration to the victims for more than two hours.

Appeared Suffocated

"We worked on the men right where we found them. The fumes had cleared out pretty well," Johnson continued. "We worked over them until they were pronounced dead. The dead men appeared to have been suffocated. Some were burned, but only slightly. None of them seemed to have burns severe enough to have caused death. We had all the inhalers we could get hold of."

The pharmacists' mate said two other hospital corpsmen, a doctor

1,000-Plane Pacific Raids Not Uncommon

HUTCHINSON, Kans., April 27. (AP)—Artemus L. Gates, assistant secretary of the Navy for air, disclosed today that "we have been having 1,000-plane raids in the Pacific."

Here for the graduation of the first air crew from the Navy's big new operational base, Gates said: "I don't think the public realizes that we've been having 1,000-plane raids in the Pacific. The new coordinated training here is part of the Navy's expanding offensive."

Gates said "we have been building up all the time, until now raids in which 1,000 planes are used are not uncommon."

He would not elaborate on that point.

He emphasized, however, that "the Navy has become a flying Navy" with its planes coordinating closely with the surface fleet and the Army, and described the airplane as the Navy's "most important weapon."

60 Billion In War Bonds Set As Goal

TULSA, April 27. (AP) — Ted Gamble, director of the national war finance division, said today the government must sell $60,000,000,000 worth of war bonds this year and the money is available to buy them.

He estimated that the people, after taking care of all necessities, would have enough cash left to purchase that many bonds.

Plans for the Fifth War Loan drive starting June 12 were outlined by Gamble to war finance executives from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico and Texas.

FEWER WOMEN AT WORK

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—About 200,000 fewer women were employed as factory workers in February of this year than in November, 1943, when a peak of 4,500,000 was reached, Secretary of Labor Perkins reported today.

Avery Ousted Bodily, Plans Court Battle

Injunction Asked By U. S. Attorney

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 27 — Defiant Sewell Avery was carried out of his Montgomery Ward and company headquarters by sinewy soldiers today amid indications that he would carry to the courts his fight against government seizure of the firm's Chicago facilities.

Avery was ejected bodily from his eighth floor office and was borne to an elevator. Then—seated on the hands of two combat-helmeted troopers—he was taken through an exit and deposited on the sidewalk.

He bowed to the military men, then escorted by city detectives, walked to his chauffeur-driven car. Efforts to reach him for comment on the melodramtic turn of events were unsuccessful.

Biddle Asks Injunction

The first of the legal moves and counter-moves that eventually may put the issue before the Supreme court took shape late in the day. Attorney General Francis Biddle asked the federal court here for an injunction prohibiting Avery and other executives from obstructing government operation of the Ward units and compelling them to turn over corporate records.

Ward attorneys petitioned the district court in the national capital for an immediate trial of the company's suit for an injunction restraining enforcement of the War Labor board's order directing the concern to extend an expired contract with a CIO union. Avery's refusal to comply with that in-

INJUNCTION ISSUED

CHICAGO, April 27 — Federal Judge William H. Holly tonight issued a temporary injunction restraining Montgomery Ward and company and Sewell Avery, chairman of the board of the huge mail order house, from interfering with government operation of the Chicago stores.

Attorney General Francis Biddle filed a petition for the restrainer late this afternoon, asking the court to enjoin the company from interfering with government operation and to order the officers to make available corporate records to the government director, Wayne Chatfield Taylor, assistant secretary of commerce.

Floods Spread Over Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

The flood-ravaged banks of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers today bore the brunt of damage from torrential waters nearing their crests and threatening costly inundation of additional croplands and property.

All the way from Jefferson City, Mo., to Cairo, Ill., the two rivers were rising toward top stages expected Saturday and Sunday.

Rains in central Missouri added to the already over-burdened Missouri at Jefferson City and sent it spreading over an area two miles wide. Highways across the river were closed within a 250-mile radius in the capital city's worst flood since 1903.

Heavy Crop Loss

At St. Charles, Mo., County Agent R. A. Langenbacker estimated if the Missouri reaches its predicted crest of 36.6 feet 98,000 acres will be flooded at a loss of $1,300,000 to crops and $500,000 to farm property.

Figures compiled by the Red Cross from its representatives throughout the flood area show a total of 759,000 acres inundated in Missouri and Illinois. More than 350,000 acres of crops already have been destroyed.

At Tulsa, Okla., the Arkansas river's crest was the third highest on record, 5.2 feet above flood stage. Waters were receding after flooding a comparatively small section of the city and forcing evacuation of approximately 100 persons.

There was no immediate flood threat at Muskogee, Okla., and no evacuation warnings were issued.

30 War Vets Are Baptized

ANZIO BEACHHEAD IN ITALY, April 27. (AP)—Thirty veteran American infantrymen were baptized in the cold surf of Anzio beachhead on the eve of their return to the frontline foxholes today. Chaplains said it was the largest ceremony of its kind in this war theater.

The soldier-converts sat on steel helmets while Capt. Leroy W. Raley of Cameron, Texas, who had just recovered from a shell splinter wound in his thigh, led them in singing "I Can Hear My Savior Calling."

Captain Raley immersed 24 Baptists in a white capped wave and six soldiers of the Methodist faith were sprinkled with sea water.

Ickes Lashes At WRA Opponents

Trio Accused Of Discrimination

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes today accused Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York City and two Republican governors, John W. Bricker of Ohio and Walter E. Edge of New Jersey of "racial discrimination" on the question of resettlement of Japanese-Americans.

In a statement the interior secretary said they have expressed a belief that law-abiding Japanese in this country are not entitled to the same privileges as non-Japanese, and said these opinionc "seem ominously out of tune in a nation that is fighting for the principles of democracy and freedom."

Stranger Than Fiction

"This is a strange fife and drum corps to be playing the discordant anthem of racial discrimination," Ickes said. "Stranger by far than fiction.

"The mayor of New York City, who has fought long and vigorously for racial equality and justice, carrying the flag, must be shocked and disturbed to find the drummer boy from New Jersey on his left and the fifer from Ohio flanking him on the right. I cannot but believe that he has joined this company through accident and misunderstanding rather than by deliberate choice."

Ickes, upholding the policies of the War Relocation authority accused Bricker "not only of prejudice but of disregard of the facts" in a Los Angeles speech the Ohio governor made last week. He said Bricker was "trying to further his presidential aspirations" and that he "deliberately kicked the constitution in the teeth."

Bricker Is Quoted

The secretary quoted Bricker as saying that after the war each west coast community should determine for itself whether people of Japanese ancestry should be permitted to return to their former homes, and of charging the War Relocation authority with releasing disloyal persons.

"The governor didn't know what he was talking about," Ickes declared.

He said La Guardia has protested against the relocation of persons of Japanese ancestry in New York City, "apparently on the theory that these people are dangerous and subversive. Actually there has not been one proven case of sabotage on the part of a Japanese-American since the war began—not even in

Bombed Raid Shelter Yields Up 19 Bodies

LONDON, Friday, April 28 (AP)—Nineteen bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of an air raid shelter demolished by a German bomb in an attack on a south coast town early Thursday and several persons rescued have died in hospitals, it was announced today.

The explosion trapped 78 persons in the shelter. Other bombs fell in a tenement district.

The British did not identify the city. The German radio said Portsmouth was the target.

Nazi Defeat Would Slash War Output

Civilian Goods To Absorb Difference

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27.—A 35 per cent drop in war production will follow the defeat of Germany, freeing that much manufacturing capacity for civilian goods, Charles E. Wilson of the War Production board, told the automobile labor advisory committee today.

Until Germany collapses, the executive vice chairman of WPB said, "only very limited civilian production will be possible."

When Japan is the only major enemy in the fighting, however, "35 per cent of the productive capacity now tied up with war work will be available for peacetime production." Wilson informed the newly-named group of seven CIO and AFL leaders in the automobile industry.

No Chance For Autos

Earlier, the labor spokesmen were notified by Chairman Donald M. Nelson, that he saw "no chance" of making passenger automobiles this year. The labor men were summoned by Nelson to help lay plans for ultimate reconversion of the industry.

Wilson asserted that three post-war plans were needed, not just one. The first and most urgent, he said, is a plan for carrying out arms production successfully by adjusting to shifting military needs and manpower shortages.

The second, Wilson said, is "a method of carrying out essential civilian production coincidentally with war work" by using the men and plants freed after the successful invasion of Europe.

The third plan is a "long-run postwar plan for full production and full employment—but this is still a long way off."

Labor's Proposals

The labor group came armed with proposals for immediate action. R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers, proposed creation of an "automotive industry council," made up of government, management and labor spokesmen, to develop jointly plans for reconversion.

There were several suggestions to hold down unemployment during the transition from arms to automobiles, including Thomas' proposal that a guaranteed weekly wage be fixed in the auto industry covering the adjustment period.

Both Thomas and Lester Washburn, president of the AFL International Union of United Automobile Workers, agreed that a regular 30-hour work week might be needed after the war to meet the unemployment problem.

Liberty Ship Said Wrecked By Blast

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—The War Shipping administration announced today the Navy had informed it that the Liberty ship John Straub, previously reported to have broken its back at sea with a loss of 65, had actually been destroyed "as a result of a violent explosion of undetermined origin."

"Her cargo was highly inflammable, consisting of high octane gasoline and oil," the WSA statement said. The fuel cargo was bund for the Alaska theater of war.

The WSA statement, based on Navy interviews with 15 survivors of the ship, continued:

"The survivors reported the first blast was apparently followed by others accompanied by brilliant flashes of whitish flame and rolling colors of smoke.

"The survivors report unanimously that faulty construction was not a factor in the sinking, and that, as a matter of fact, the sea was smooth, the night clear with a light breeze.

"The official investigation thus far is not conclusive as to whether the explosions were internal or external."

Airfields Already Put Into Use For Heavy Air Blows

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Friday, April 28—United States invasion forces closed the Hollandia campaign Thursday in six days, capturing the third Japanese airfield and putting all three into immediate operation within bombing range of the Philippines.

End of Japanese resistance to an undertaking, which entailed leapfrogging 500 miles up the New Guinea coast under the guns of a powerful naval armada and sending thousands of soldiers sloshing over muddy jungle terrain, was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Feints Draw Off Troops

The main Hollandia airfield was the last to fall to pincer forces which last Saturday opened drives from Tanahmerah and Humboldt bays, overrunning more than 350 square miles of Dutch New Guinea and crushing the feeble opposition.

The light Japanese opposition at Hollandia was attributed by a headquarters spokesman to feints which prompted the enemy to send 3,000 of the Sixth Nipponese south seas detachment of combat Marines southeast to Wewak. Many other Japanese service troops were removed to mountain bivouac areas before the invasion.

More than 400 miles to the southeast, the Australian forces which on Tuesday invested virtually deserted Madang and its airfield have moved on north to take Alexishafen which also has an airdrome.

The communique, however, mentioned only occupation of the town.

The Tadji airdrome at Aitape, 150 miles southeast of Hollandia, was seized on the first day of the invasion, making a total of five enemy airfields captured within less than a week.

Headquarters said the Japanese at Hollandia had fled inland and that all organized resistance had ceased in the pinched off sector of 350 square miles between invaded Tanahmerah and Humboldt bays.

At Aitape the American perimeter was extended in all directions.

Nowhere was there a reference to any organized opposition by the 14,000 Japanese which officials previously had estimated were in the sector.

The Fifth Air force kept impotent the airbases northwest of Hollandia which the Japanese might utilize in hitting back at the invasion.

Nimitz, MacArthur Confer On Plans

Complete Integration Of Pacific Drive To Japan Is Agreed Upon By Commanders

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, April 27 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz have "completely integrated their war planning so that a maximum of cooperative effort might be executed against the enemy," Pacific fleet headquarters said today.

The headquarters announcement said MacArthur and Nimitz recently conferred regarding the "future operations in the Pacific on their two commands."

The conference was the first wartime meeting of the two commanders.

Commands Defined

MacArthur is commander-in-chief of the Southwest Pacific area embracing Australia, New Guinea, the Bismarck archipelago and the Dutch East Indies. Nimitz is commander-in-chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet and Pacific ocean areas including the Central Pacific sea and island routes to the Philippines and the China coast.

The announcement did not specify the meeting place of the two commanders. The caption of an official photograph showing the general and admiral together before a Pacific map, said the two were conferring at MacArthur's headquarters.

First Wartime Meeting

The conference was the first wartime meeting of the two commanders.

With Nimitz were Read Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, deputy chief of staff and Capt. Cato D. Glover, jr., assistant plans officer.

Among MacArthur's aides were Lt. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, MacArthur's chief of staff; Maj. Gen. Richard J. Marshall, deputy chief of staff, and Lt. Gen. George Kenney, commanding general of the Fifth Army Air force.

Vice Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of Allied naval forces in the Southwest Pacific, also took part in the discussions.

Time Not Given

The meeting presumably took place before the recent invasion operations at Hollandia and Aitape, on the northern coast of New Guinea, by MacArthur's forces. The invasion was supported by major aircraft carrier units of the Pacific fleet in the first full scale offensive collaboration by the forces of the commanders.

The conference significantly highlighted an apparent converging of Allied lines of attack from the Southwest Pacific and the Central Pacific.

Full promise of teamwork and collaboration is made in the fleet headquarters announcement that "plans were completely integrated so that a maximum of cooperative effort might be executed against the enemy."

Japs Beaten As Monsoon Nears

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, April 27. (AP)—With the monsoon rains less than three weeks away, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese and American forces appear to have broken the back of Japanese resistance in northern Burma.

In a spectacular six-mile advance yesterday, "Uncle Joe's" infantry and tanks swept through the Mogaung valley jungle into the village of Manpin, only 10 miles from Kamaing and no more than 45 miles from Myitkyina, the enemy's main base of operations north of Mandalay.

Nearly Halfway

The campaign to open a land supply route from India to China—Stilwell's pet project — already had carried his mixed force some 120 miles into Burma, nearly halfway to a juncture with the old Burma road at a point inside China.

The enemy's counter-invasion of India, meantime, appeared to be rushing toward a bloody climax in the 6,000-foot hills ringing the Allied base of Kohima. Report that a major battle had begun there was expected almost hourly.

Dispatches today said Allied reinforcements of men, tanks and guns continued to stream into Kohima and that an assault to break the Japanese and send them reeling back along the trails toward Burma was imminent.

Hold Highest Points

The Japanese hold the highest points around Kohima, and just outside the town Allied reinforcements were confronted with a large white sign that said: "From this point you are in view of the enemy."

British and American staff officers estimated that the better part of two Japanese division, representing perhaps 20,000 men, already had been "chewed up" in the invasion of India. It is felt that the enemy either must capture Kohima or some other good base before the monsoon starts, or get completely out of India.

Three Men Killed In Crash Of Bomber

DALLAS, April 27. (AP)—Three men were killed in the crash of a heavy bomber today near Lillington, N. C., the Fifth Ferrying group of the ferrying division of the Air Transport command at Love Field announced.

The men, all based at Love Field, were:

THEATER BURNS

DALLAS, April 27. (AP) — The Urban theater in Urbandale community near Dallas burned to the ground today, a loss estimated by A. F. Cameron, manager, at $42,500.

Man Convicted Of Land Sales Fraud

ATLANTA, April 27. (AP)—Eugene Bourland, 42, of Dallas, was convicted by a federal district court jury today on three charges of mail fraud in connection with alleged sales of lands described as oil-bearing.

One government witness testified that Bourland sold lands in Brewster county, Texas, for large sums, while actually it was worth less than $1.50 an acre.

Judge E. Marvin Underwood said he would pronounce sentence later, probably Monday.

Auto And Bicycle Quotas Announced

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Maintaining this month's rationing quotas, the Office of Price administration today authorized release in May of 10,000 new passenger automobiles and 12,000 new adults' bicycles to eligible purchasers.

In addition, regional reserves of 2,600 cars and 3,000 bicycles are provided.

EXPENSIVE SOLDIER

WICHITA FALLS, April 27. (AP) Jvt. Theodore G. McCreadie, sr., of Hamilton, O., reached Sheppard Field today and the finance department labeled him an expensive soldier. Pvt. McCreadie has a wife and 11 children, all dependents. The Army will pay him more than $300 monthly.

Britain Becomes Moated Fortress

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—Britain became literally a moated fortress at midnight tonight as severe regulations went into effect forbidding any civilian to leave this island for any reason short of urgent national business.

As the United Kingdom—now a vast and frowning military base—became isolated as it had not been isolated for hundreds of years, the Germans across the channel engaged in a seemingly frenzied game of guessing on the prospects of invasion.

Suggestion From Paris

A Paris military commentator, Jean Parquis, threw out—somewhat hopefully — the suggestion that simultaneous Allied offensives in the west, east and south would be impracticable because of "rapidly changing weather," and at the same time specifically declared that Berlin doubted the Allies would invade the Balkans from eastern Italy although fresh landings on Italy itself were expected.

Thus the Nazis talked on and on—and from the Allied side there were only thunders of silence.

The German radio asserted that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had asked outright militarization of British railways and that they were placed under his command, now that the invasion was "imminent."

The Weather

WEST TEXAS—Mostly cloudy with widely scattered showers, warmer except El Paso area and Big Bend country Friday; Saturday partly cloudy, cooler El Paso area and Panhandle. Fresh to strong winds.

NEW MEXICO—Partly cloudy Friday and Saturday, few scattered showers and thundershowers mostly in north; cooler in west Friday.

Texas Rail Brotherhoods 'Almost' Vote For Fourth Term; Officers Are Named

FORT WORTH, April 27. (AP)—Going as far toward indorsement of a political candidate as their by-laws permit, the "big four" railroad brotherhoods of Texas almost but not quite gave President Roosevelt their joint blessing Friday as a fourth term candidate.

Fort Worth was chosen as the site of the next biennial convention in 1946.

The railroaders struck from a resolution a phrase which would have named by name, "our great president."

As adopted, the resolution urged brotherhood members to see that "all friends of good government" attend precinct conventions in the state on May 6 "and that only friends of organized labor go to the county conventions."

The brotherhoods of railway trainmen went even further, and strongly memorialized the "fine service" of Texas' senior congressman, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham, and — without outright indorsement — added the friendly comment that "he wouldn't make a bad vice president."

The trainmen re-elected officers, including H. G. Hamrick of Amarillo, chairman; W. H. Savage, Sanderson, vice chairman; H. H. Clarkson, Tyler, secretary; F. L. Vivrette, Beaumont, assistant secretary, and Joe T. Steadham, Fort Worth, legislative representative.

Officers re-elected of the engineers were W. M. Conway, Fort Worth, chairman; Sam Lewis, Amarillo, first vice chairman; H. L. Reynolds, Beaumont, second vice chairman; Leon Krus, Houston, executive committeeman, and J. H. Vallee, Wichita Falls, secretary.

Repeal of Texas' union registration law, House bill 100, was demanded in a joint resolution submitted by the BLE.

The joint big four assembly called on all 1944 candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and the legislature in Texas to state whether or not they will vote against a sales tax "in any form."

Sordid Story Of Juvenile 'Wolf Pack' Is Disclosed

SEATTLE, April 27. (AP)—Sentencing of three adult residents of a Bremerton housing project and of three Navy sailors, on morals charges involving two girls 13 and 14 years old, was announced today while authorities investigated the sex and liquor orgies of juvenile "wolf packs' in the war industry federal housing projects at Renton near here.

In the Bremerton case, a man and his wife received six months jail terms; the other civilian, three months, and the sailors' state reformatory terms were deferred by Superior Judge H. G. Sutton.

At Renton, Sheriff H. S. Callaham and Police Chief Vincent Stewart estimated 75 arrests will be necessary, involving boys and girls brought here from the midwest to work in war plants.

Girls Disclose Details

Two 15-year-old girls, detained by juvenile authorities, uncovered details of the sordid affairs at Renton. One said that the "wolf packs" membership qualifications included illicit relations at the demand of any and all members of the "pack." She said she had relations with 13 members since joining in January. They also said members of the club, all of them minors, were able to buy beer and liquor from Renton taverns and bootleggers, paying as much as $14 a quart for whisky.

Three persons appeared in justice court yesterday to answer charges in connection with the case, Mrs. Don Houcks, 44, pleaded guilty to a charge of furnishing liquor to minors. J. H. Tureman, 39, a bartender, pleaded not guilty to a similar charge, and Mrs. Pearl Hoefs forfeited $25 bail when she failed to answer a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

100 Youths Evicted

In connection with the case, Sheriff Harland S. Callahan said about 100 boys and girls under 21 years of age have been evicted from a Renton war housing project because of vice conditions existing. He said five paroled convicts were living at the housing project and their paroles were revoked for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Callahan said among those scheduled for arrest were almost a score of young women, residents in bachelor quarters at one housing project, who will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of Renton boys of high school age and younger.

The evicted war workers, all between the ages of 16 and 21, were brought here at government expenses to work in war plants.

Dallas Residents A'Twitter About Alligator On Lawns

DALLAS, April 27. (AP)—A huge alligator which has sun-bathed for months on expensive lawns of Highland Park's Lakeside drive, had that exclusive neighborhood a'twitter today. A blast from a shotgun may have crippled his awesome jaws some residents say, but he has plenty of bite left.

Not even Alvin Aly, Highland Park policeman who banged away at the monster, would venture to say he was dead.

"He sprang straight up into the air," Aly reported, "dived into the lake and that's the last I saw of him."

Dr. I. J. Morris, on whose grounds the shooting took place, reported the incident.

A painter who had been doing some work around the Morris home took a long look down the front yard and ran to fetch the doctor.

"Say," he panted, "there's an alligator on your lawn taking a sun bath."

Dr. Morris telephoned police and Alvin Aly showed up with a pistol. He gazed a moment at the beast and went back to the police station for a shotgun. Then he took careful aim and fired.

"I don't think the buckshot did more than possibly knock out a couple of teeth," the doctor stated. "From the way he cleared those lily pads though, I'd say he was practically scared to death."

John William Rogers, another resident of the neighborhood, has seen the alligator.

"Nearly everyone up and down Lakeside Drive is acquainted with him," Rogers declared. "He frequents small lakes in the district and lives on young ducks and fish. When he isn't swimming around he sun bathes on people's lawns.

"We don't know where he came from but lots of children in this area have had tiny, baby alligators for pets. I guess he is one of those that got away and made good in the big city."

3,500 gallons, while the tank inventory was only 1,100 gallons.

"Part of the coupons charged back against the dealers are counterfeit. Checking for counterfeit coupons in the district office has revealed that one-half of one per cent of all A, B, C, D, and R coupons are counterfeit. Three per cent of all C coupons are counterfet. Counterfeit testing devices used by the gasoline audit section in the district offiec can easily detect "phony" coupons. Through endorsement, these coupons are checked back directly to the person who passed them to the station," according to Patterson.

Demo Meetings Will Be Held

HOUSTON, April 27. (U.P.) — Texas Democratic leaders were instructed today to prepare as usual for precinct and county conventions.

George A. Butler, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, in a letter addressed to all county chairmen, advised that the recent Supreme court ruling on negro participation in Primary elections need cause no alteration in established procedure for conventions.

He said the court's decision was not even binding in determination of primary voters' eligibility until the high court disposes of a motion, now on file, for rehearing of the case.

The text of Butler's letter:

"Consideration has been given to the matter of participation in the Democratic precinct and county conventions, which will be held Saturday, May 6, and Tuesday, May 9, respectively. Some question has been raised with respect to the effect, if any, of the recent Supreme court's decision in the Allwright (negro vote) case upon the eligibility of participants in and voters at these Democratic conventions.

"The Allwright case involved only primary elections and did not involve party conventions. A motion for re-hearing in the Allwright case, which was seasonably filed, is now pending in the Supreme court, and, until that motion is disposed of, even that decision handed down by the court on April 3, 1944, is not final

"It is the view of the state Democratic executive committee that no change should be made in the established procedure for holding and conducting the precinct and county conventions"

Capt. Stewart, who has been assistant to Major Zubrod, is a graduate of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.

WOULD ADD MIDLAND

DALLAS, April 27. (AP)—A. N. Kemp, president of American Airlines, announced today his company has filed with the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington a petition to add Midland, Tex., as an intermediate stop on its air mail No. 4 route now operating between Dallas-Fort Worth and Los Angeles.

Argentine Barley And Canadian Wheat Have Relieved Shortage

HOUSTON, April 27. (U.P.) — Arrival of barley and wheat shipments from Argentina and Canada within recent days has temporarily relieved a livestock feed shortage in Texas, E. B. Reiner said today.

Reiner is president and general manager of the Houston Milling company, which is acting as agent for the Commodity Credit corporation in distribution of the Argentine barley and Canadian wheat.

The barley shipment amounted to 421,000 bushels, Reiner said, and was transported here aboard an American ship. The wheat, 75,000 bushels, was transported on barges, via Chicago and the Mississippi river route. More wheat-laden barges are expected soon.

Endorsements Of Gas Coupons Aiding OPA Enforcement

Rigid enforcement of rationing regulations will bring about a more balanced and equitable distribution of rationed goods, the enforcement division of the Lubbock district Office of Price Administration declared Thursday as they announced figuers concerning endorsement, counterfeiting and debiting information relative to the gasoline program.

"Both the public and those delegated to make sure that gasoline rationing is carried out, as fairly as it is possible for a single organization to deal with 29,000,000 individuals, are more anxious to make sure that consumers play by the rules of gasoline rationing," Harold L. Patterson, enforcement attorney, stated.

Endorsements Increased

When the first endorsement check began the first of March, only 50 per cent of the coupon holders in this district had endorsed their coupons. The estimate of consumer endorsements today is better than 90 per cent.

Following through on the nation-wide endorsement check of March, 280 gasoline dealers in this district have had their ration banking account debited by 115,936 gallons of gasoline. "That is, these dealers have had that many gallons taken from their total tank inventory because they have accepted coupons that were counterfeit, unendorsed, improperly endorsed, expired, or not yet valid. In this way, operators may put themselves out of business by having more gallons charged back against them than their total tank inventory," Patterson explained.

Two stations in the Lubbock district have been closed. In one case, charge backs totaled almost

"I DISCARDED HARSH LAXATIVES"

Ex-Constipation Sufferer Praises Kellogg's All-Bran

Taking nasty doses—for constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet? Then read this letter.

"I wish to submit this voluntary testimonial about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN as a remedy for constipation. For years I found it necessary to take so-called patent laxatives. They gave me only partial aid. Since starting to use KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN I have discarded artificial aids. My reason for sending this note is to help those who are in the same boat I was." —Wm. F. Fraser, 90-10 Barr Place, Hudson Heights, N. J.

More and more people write in about the joyous relief they get from KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. It really gets at one common cause of constipation — lack of certain cellulosic elements in the diet. For ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help to fluff up and prepare colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. Remember, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative or medicine, it is a grain cereal — a gentle-acting "regulating" food.

If your constipation is due to a bulk-deficiency in the diet, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, as cereal or in several muffins. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't enjoy lasting relief. Get genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Texan At Anzio Gets Bronze Star For 'Fixing Flat Tire'

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, April 20. (Delayed)—"Sure," the veterans will tell the rookies, winking slyly to one another, "sure, it's easy to get awards. Why, look at Ratcliff. He got the Bronze Star for fixing a flat one day."

DIXON

And sure enough, they're telling the truth — but not the whole truth. That makes quite a story.

It's Pfc. E. N. Ratcliff of Tyler, Texas, they're talking about.

One day back in February when the outfit was fighting on the Cassino line, Ratcliff's cannon company ran almost out of 75 mm. ammunition. And that was no spot to run out of ammunition.

Seven Miles Of Shelling

But it was seven miles back to the nearest ammo dump—seven miles of winding, twisting, barbarous road. We called it "88th avenue" and "artillery boulevard" because the German observers could see every foot of it so clearly they could tell the color of your eyes. And their artillery was zeroed in on the corners of the crossroad. They'd spot your vehicle, estimate your speed, synchronize their watches, count it off and then yank the lanyards—and you and the 88 would arrive at the same corner at the same time.

At least that was their system, but it didn't always work.

A change of pace could throw them off, and Pfc. Ratcliff knew something about change of pace. So despite the fact that it was broad daylight he crawled in his truck and took off for the ammunition dump.

They chased him with shells until he finally vanished around the last turn. Then he loaded up with 75 mm. shells and headed back for his cannon company.

Nazis Were Waiting

They were waiting. As soon as his truck's nose came around the corner they started shelling. He kept going. Shells landed in front of him, behind him, on both sides —some fragments even ripping gashes in the top of his truck, but still Ratcliff kept highballing down the highway.

Finally a fragment tore a hole in a tire and the truck careened crazily a moment before it got braked to a safe stop. The German gunners went crazy then. They had a sitting duck to shoot at and they didn't aim to let it get away.

Didn't Take Cover

Watchers on the hills waited for Ratcliff to leave the truck and take cover in some convenient ditch—the only sensible thing to do, for the truck load of ammunition seemed doomed. But the boys back at the gun needed the shells and Ratcliff knew it.

So he crawled calmly out of the truck, jacked up the wheel, changed the tire in the midst of all that bursting hell, crawled back in, drove on and delivered the ammunition.

Yep, that's all you gotta do to win the Bronze Star. Just fix a flat.

Aerial Barrage

center of Essen and other targets in Germany and France, and involved today, besides the American heavy bombers, hundreds upon hundreds of medium and light bombers and fighter-bombers and fighters — more than a dozen types of planes in all.

The Eighth Air force had staged double-header operations several times before, but never in such strength. The previous record was around 1,000 heavy bomber sorties. On the peak day of the first all-out air drive late in February it was officially disclosed that the Eighth and 15th Air forces had sent out more than 1,200 heavies from Britain and Italy together.

Fighter-Bombers Follow

The heavy and medium bomber contingents were followed up by a three-ply force of American fighter-bomber — Lightnings, Thunderbolts and Mustangs — which bombed German air bases farther inside France and then swooped down and strafed anything left undamaged.

The daylight operations followed hard upon an RAF night offensive in which the air ministry announced well over 1,000 British big bombers attacked the heavy industry center of Essen and the ball bearing city of Schweinfurt in Germany, and the railway center of Villeneuve Saint Georges, 15 miles southeast of Paris.

Essen alone was plastered with more than 2,200 tons, and perhaps 4,400 tons were dropped on all night targets. Twenty-nine big bombers were lost.

Marauders Have Part

American Marauders, which with RAF Bostons and Mitchells made up the medium bomber formations attacking the installations in northern France, contributed 350 tons of the 2,000 unloaded on these targets, plowing through strong anti-aircraft barrages on their fourteenth cross-channel foray in ten days.

Later in the Ninth Air force's Mustang-Thunderbolt section of the fighter-bomber contingent hit five targets in Belgium, including the Haine-St. Pierre railroad yards, without loss.

German resistance to all these operations was notably light. Fortress and Liberator crews reported no German fighters were seen and that only light anti-aircraft fire was encountered. Two Marauders were shot down, presumably by anti-aircraft batteries.

The northern half of the Kuril islands have been virtually uninhabited since 1884.

Montgomery Ward

struction—and a similar one from President Roosevelt—led to federal control of the local plants.

Silas Strawn, member of a law firm representing the Ward interests and a director of the concern, announced an injunction suit would be filed in federal court within the next few days in an effort to halt continued federal operation of the plants.

"The government has no more right to take over that property than you have," he declared, "and you will find that will be the case when the matter comes to court."

Attorney General Francis Biddle, who moved into Avery's suite with other federal officials after the Army had gained possession, told reporters Avery was hustled out because he refused to cooperate and insisted he was the boss.

Rapid Fire Developments

Developments ensued in rapid-fire order here and elsewhere as the nation watched the controversy as a guard of the President's power to take over a self-styled non-war enterprise and a test of the WLB's ability to enforce its directives. They included:

In Washington, Rep. Dewey, Chicago Republican, charged that the seizure was "highhanded and un-American" and savored "strongly of gestapo methods." He demanded a congressional investigation.

Sixteen of the 18 Illinois Republican representatives signed a statement protesting the seizure as "illegal, unjustified and arbitrary."

"We further believe that the President's action has no basis in law nor under the powers granted him by the constitution," their statement said.

Threat And Menace

"Such arbitrary use of power is a threat and a menace to the peaceful continuation of all private business, even to every corner drug store and every corner grocery store in the United States."

Ten ranking Ward executives were reported to have met to discuss whether they should walk out in Avery's wake.

Wayne C. Taylor, undersecretary of commerce and the federal operating manager of the firm's Chicago mail order house, retail store and warehouse, stated he hoped to conduct trade without loss of efficiency and with the help of the employes.

Thirty-five soldiers, some with bayonetted rifles, patrolled the administration building and the entrance to the nearby retail outlet.

Apparently expecting legal action by the company, five assistant U. S. district attorneys kept vigil in federal, state, county and municipal courts.

Biddle's Account

Biddle gave reporters this account of Avery's ejection from the sanctum from where he had engaged in labor disputes with the White House, WLB and a CIO union for two years:

"When Mr. Avery reported at his office we asked him if he would cooperate and he refused to do so. Mr. Avery was asked to turn over company books to government bookkeepers so they could set up new books. He refused.

"Mr. Avery told us he was the boss and would continue to do things his way or not at all. We asked Mr. Avery if he would advise his staff to cooperate and he refused and said he would instruct them to do the opposite.

"In view of his refusal to cooperate with the government, Mr. Avery was told that we desired him to leave the plant. He refused to leave voluntarily.

"Mr. Taylor, on my advice instructed Maj. J. R. Weber (in charge of the troops) to conduct Mr. Avery out of the building and not to let him return. Mr. Avery resisted and was carried bodily out of the plant. When he is ready to cooperate with us and the United States government, we will be glad to have him back."

Officer Schools To Be Cut To Eleven

WASHINGTON, April 27. (U.P.) —The original 26 Army officer candidate schools in the country will be cut down to not more than 11 by this fall because of decreasing demand for officers as the Army levels off in size, the War department announced today.

Three schools were closed in March, seven were closed previously, and five others will be shut down this summer.

Faculty Honors Tech President

President Clifford B. Jones, who is soon to retire from the helm of Texas Technological college, and Mrs. Jones were honored Thursday night at a farewell dinner party sponsored by the Tech faculty club in women's dormitory No. 2.

Clerical workers in all the college's divisions joined faculty members in paying respect to the couple. It was the club's final meeting of the year, and it was turned into a general farewell affair.

Lockard Heads Club

Robert I. Lockard was elected president of the club to succeed Ray C. Mowery in the annual election of officers. Miss Martye Poindexter was elected vice president to succeed Major Frank Hangs; Mrs. Margaret Manicapelli secretary to succeed Miss Vivian Johnson, and E. R. Heineman treasurer to follow Miss Anna Jo Pendleton.

The club presented Dr. and Mrs. Jones with a dozen service plates in Mrs. Jones' Wedgewood pattern. Oscar St. Clair made the presentation and Dr. Jones gave the response.

Beard Chairman Speaks

A short talk was made by Chas. C. Thompson, chairman of the Tech directorate. Mrs. Thompson was also present. The Thompsons live in Colorado City.

Four musical numbers were presented by Dr. and Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz. Dr. Blitz played the cello with Mrs. Blitz as piano accompanist.

Mowery was toastmaster.

Ickes Raps Critics

Hawaii . . . I can see no basis for the mayor's fears or for his protests."

Of Governor Edge, the secretary said:

"In talking to a group of farmers who had succeeded in driving five thoroughly investigated and law-abiding Japanese workers from a neighbor's farm, Governor Edge told the protesting group, 'I guess I don't blame you.'

"Prior to the governor's statement, the farmer who had contemplated hiring the Japanese workers had received anonymous telephone calls, had been threatened with violence, and finally had had one of the buildings on his property destroyed by fire.

"If Governor Edge can condone this sort of lawlessness and violence in his state and still hold his head up in the company of democratic men, then to him the constitution is nothing but a dust rag."

Ickes declared he had no hesitancy in saying that an overwhelming majority of the American public hold no animosity against "these homeless and blameless victims of a wartime military decision" — the decision to evacuate Japanese-Americans from the west.

and a large number of sailors and firemen worked with him in attempting to revive the victims.

Lieutenant David J. Kieselbach, USNR, Navy yard safety officer, said that blowers and suckers were used to clear the fumes from the hold.

Navy yard officials declined comment as to the cause of the fire and announced that a court of inquiry would be appointed immediately.

May 1 Is Scheduled As Child Health Day

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP) — A proclamation issued by Gov. Coke Stevenson set aside May 1 as Child Health day.

"The future greatness of our state and nation is contingent upon the proper and wholesome development of our children," said Stevenson, "and the principal objective of this program is to promote the health of boys and girls of high school age, surrounding them with special protection so that their safety, health and normal growth may be assured."

"Depriving children of the protection science has made available amounts very nearly to criminal negligence," Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said in adjunct to the proclamation.

He urged parents to immunize children against two special foes: Diphtheria and smallpox, very early in the child's life. In this way many lives can be saved, said Cox.

Man Sitting Next To Polish WAC Was Nice

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—A uniformed pestka, polish WAC, burst into quiet sobs at a recent performance of "The Merry Widow," when Jan Kiepura, star of the operetta, sang "Kujawiak," popular Polish folk tune.

A portly man seated next to her leaned over and said consolingly: "Don't be discouraged. I expect Poland to be free again."

The girl dried her tears and murmured a grateful "thank you."

As she left the theater, the white-haired man shook her hand and said: "Keep your chin up."

"Please tell me your name," she said.

"Of course," he replied, "It's Hoover—Herbert Hoover."

miles northwest of Hollandia, a Navy Liberator set something of a record for a single flight by destroying two east-bound Japanese cargo ships and 10 barges loaded with fully armed troops, set fire to two Japanese fishing vessels and shot down a Nipponese bomber. North of Manokwari, 475 miles beyond Hollandia, two Japanese coastal vessels were destroyed by strafing planes.

At Hollandia, the invasion columns moving east and west from their bay beachheads joined Thursday.

Fields Already In Use

Fifth Air force planes began using the seized airfields while engineers still were improving and repairing them.

The total of Japanese killed in the sector was 274, indicative of the light nature of the opposition. Prisoners totalled two dozen.

A spokesman said an early estimate of 14,000 Japanese in the Hollandia area was based on captured documents, aerial photographs and the number and size of planes on the airdromes.

The figure was reduced by at least 3,000 when the Japanese anticipated an attack on Wewak and withdrew crack Marine troops. Probably between 4,000 and 6,000 service troops were chased to hill bivouacs to escape the pre-invasion bombings. Captured stores indicated the Japanese were preparing to reinforce Hollandia.

Aussies Occupy Town

On the southeastern end of the ground front, Australian forces reached the bay area of Alexishafen Wednesday, the day after the capture of Madang, 10 miles south. The Aussies occupied Alexishafen after an amphibious landing on a small island offshore had overcome machinegun and artillery resistance.

Liberators Wednesday hit nearby Hansa bay supply areas with 16 tons of bombs. Solomons planes cratered Borpop airdrome on New Ireland near Kavieng with 48 tons. Tuesday other Solomon planes roamed north to drop 22 tons on Truk and Satawan in the central Carolines. Woleai in the western Carolines was a target for other raiders.

San Angelo Service Blocked By Army

DENVER, April 27. (AP)—Terrell Drinkwater, vice president of Continental Air Lines, said today service would be started next Monday between San Antonio and El Paso, with San Angelo left off as a stop for an expected ten days —or perhaps longer—depending upon the Army's action on use of facilities at the San Angelo Army Air field.

Other stops will be at Midland-Odessa and at Big Spring.

The run originally was scheduled to start on April 15 but was postponed when the Army objected to Continental's use of the field-facilities at San Angelo. Continental has appealed to higher Army officials and the matter now is under study in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)— The Army announced today that the Breakers hotel at Palm Beach, Fla., operated as an Army hospital since March, 1943, will be returned to its owners next Dec. 11.

Two Held After Store Break-In

Two men believed to be escaped convicts were in jail Thursday night after police, answering a tip that Bowman's Little Super-Market, at Seventh street and Avenue Q, was being burglarized, rushed prowl cars to strategic spots in the neighborhood, cutting off escape routes for the pair.

Another man seen in the vicinity at the time of the breakin, which happened about 10:30, managed to flee.

Found Hiding In Store

A 27-year-old man was found hidden behind sacks in the store, by Glynn Hudgens, city-county officer, and Military Policeman Sgt. Pat Davidson. He had entered through a hole broken in a glass-panel siding.

The other suspect was captured after officers closed in on him after a foot-chase of about a block and a half.

Chas. Bowman, manager, said four to five dollars were missing and several packages of cigarettes had been taken. Police said the man nabbed in the store had change in his pockets amounting to $3.61.

From Prison Farm

One of the men told officers that he and three other prisoners "walked away" Wednesday from a prison farm near Granite. He stated only three of them came to Lubbock.

Police were investigating possibility that the trio may have used a car found abandoned here and listed in stolen car reports as taken from Frederick, Okla.

The tip came to officers from Lloyd Henry Stevenson, who lives with his father, D. Stevenson, near the store.

Nazis Beaten Back On Adriatic Front

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 27 (AP)—Allied troops on the Adriatic sector of the Italian front have thrown back two small-scale attacks, one south of Canosa and the other in the Ortona area, it was announced today.

Both ground and air warfare in the Mediterranean theater hit the doldrums, with bad weather cutting air activity to 80 routine patrol flight and the small Adriatic action the only noteworthy incident anywhere aground.

On the Adriatic the first attack, by two German platoons a mile south of Canosa, was repulsed, and a subsequent enemy movement in the same area was taken under artillery fire.

Lifting Of Low Wage Controls Is Asked

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)— Declaring that millions of white collar, low income workers are living in a "borderland between subsistence and privation," a Senate committee recommended tonight that the War Labor board remove wage controls on incomes up to $200 a month for family heads and $150 monthly for single persons.

In an interim report on its investigation of the plight of fixed-income groups in the wartime economy, a labor subcommittee headed by Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) said it found that "inflation already has begun" for some 20,000,000 citizens in those groups and called upon the administration to evolve immediately a policy for raising substandard wages.

News Briefs

The WAC section of the West Texas recruiting and induction station announced Thursday that Mrs. Mittie Eugene Lynch of route 4, Lubbock, had been enlisted as a private in the WAC. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ketcham of Flat, Texas. She was employed in the Pan-Tex Ordnance plant at Amarillo prior to joining the WAC.

A 26-year-old Lubbock man is to be charged this morning with liquor law violation after he was arrested early Thursday night by liquor board officers on the Brownfield highway with four cases of wine in his car.

Residents in the 1700-block on Avenue G Thursday night were irked after a "big bulldog" allegedly bit three children in the neighborhood. Police were told its owner had refused to keep it tied. The dog, it was reported, had received rabies immunization.

J. R. Dickerson, of 1501 Avenue H, informed police Thursday afternoon of the theft of five pipe wrenches and other tools. Chas. C. Jones, of 2309 Seventh street, and Hoyt Agnew, of 2107 Fourteenth street, reported thefts of radios.

Mrs. Pryor's Trust Fund Is Set Aside

SAN ANTONIO, April 27. (AP)— In an instructed verdict, Judge Robert W. B. Terrell of 37th district court here today set aside the $500,000 trust fund which the late Mrs. Myra Stafford Pryor, widow of Ike Pryor, West Texas rancher and cattleman, had turned over to the Frost National bank here as trustee.

Attorneys for the bank immediately filed an exception to the verdict.

After reviewing the legal aspects of Mrs. Pryor's will, Judge Terrell upheld only one part which left one fourth interest in a ranch in Zavala county to Ike Pryor, jr., son of her late husband.

The will had ordered the trust fund to be held in perpetuity by the bank, which could give "any part of the money at any time to any charitable organization it deemed fit, which organization could use the money at its discretion."

Attorneys for the six nieces and nephews who were contesting the will argued the document was contrary to state statutes. They pointed out that since no specific charitable organization was named, no one could demand an accounting of the fund which "would eat itself up in perpetuity."

Germans Tell Turks They Better Behave

(By The Associated Press)

The Berlin radio bluntly told the Turks last night that a German foreign office spokesman considered Turkey's suspension of chrome shipments to the Reich a breach of contract and that Nazi Ambassador Franz von Papen, called home to report, would not return to Ankara "for the time being."

"This should remove the slightest doubt about the degree of German-Turkish tension," said the German Transkontinent News agency dispatch beamed to the Turkish press.

Von Papen was reported to have left Istanbul for Berlin by plane yesterday noon.

The suspension of chrome shipments to Germany was announced last week by Turkey.

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)— In the first 12 weeks of the new mustering-out payment law, the Army has paid $653,800 to 3,345 honorably discharged personnel or their survivors, war Secretary Stimson announced today.

As of April 25, 279 men and women had received the maximum $300 payment, authorized for those with overseas service; 2,594 had been paid the $200 authorized for those with more than 60 days service, all within the United States, and 178 had been paid the $100 authorized for personnel with less than 60 days service.

Germany Wilts Under Punches

WASHINGTON, April 27. (U.P.)— German resistance to air raids is steadily decreasing and the damage inflicted by Allied bombers is steadily increasing as the Allies press their aerial warfare against Germany and occupied Europe, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today.

"They still have enough fighters to make each attack a battle. But it is becoming more and more apparent that the average of German resistance is decreasing and becoming less forceful and the damage to German installations is increasing.

Plane Output Drops

"The Allied command in London has reported a steady lessening in German plane output since January."

Circumstances are similar in the Balkans, Stimson said. He recalled that formerly it was very costly in planes to attack the Ploesti oil fields in Romania, but that the most recent attack on Ploesti and Bucharest was made with a loss of less than two per cent of the bombers.

"There is a little line of drama in the meeting of the Allied forces in the Balkans from the east and west," Stimson continued. "It reminds us of the time during the war between the states when Sherman, coming from the South, came up and let the northern army along the Potomac. That was near the end of the war."

Candidates To Get Campaign Gasoline

AUSTIN, April 27. (U.P.) — Sec. Chas. E. Simons of the state Democratic executive committee announced here today that under an OPA ruling candidates for office may be issued a special gasoline ration for campaign purposes.

Campaign managers, however, are not entitled to the campaign gasoline.

Regulations restrict the gasoline grants to those who have fulfilled all requirements of candidacy, such as formal application and payment of filing fees. The gasoline is to be available only when alternative means of transportation is lacking. It will be for one vehicle to be used personally by the candidate.

Many Unused Acres Said In South Texas

EDINBURG, Tex., April 27 (AP) An estimated 300,000 acres of fertile lower Rio Grande valley land is lying unused, covered mostly by native brush, report two soil experts now concluding a survey of 1,300,000 acres of land in this area to determine the guayule-growing possibilities of deep South Texas.

The survey is by Glenn Robinson, former research assistant at Purdue university, and J. B. Hammond of California, previously employed on the rubber emergency project in Arizona.

"We estimate that 100,000 acres in Hidalgo and 200,000 acres in Starr county is excellent land if it just had water," said Robinson.

Curb On Spread Of Bollworm Is Asked

NEW ORLEANS, April 27 (AP)— L. F. Curl of San Antonio, Tex., chief of the division of pink bollworm control, bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, told members of the New Orleans spot cotton merchant's association today that the bollworm might "invade" the lower two-thirds of the cotton area, if not controlled.

"Establishment of non-cotton zones, such as those now in effect in Cameron parish, is the only effective way of combatting the insect," Curl added.

KILLED IN FIGHT

DALLAS, April 26. (AP)—Sidney Adley, 24, of Dallas, was fatally injured tonight in an altercation that involved three men in naval uniform, city detectives reported. The incident occurred near a Dallas skating rink.

Goodrich Official Sees Improvements In Synthetic Tires

DENVER, April 27. —A synthetic, fire-type rubber probably will come into its own long before natural rubber again becomes available, James J. Newman, vice president of the B. F. Goodrich company said today.

Speaking before a luncheon meeting of business executives, Newman freely admitted that if natural rubber were available now it would outrank the synthetic product both in price and performance. But from now until perhaps two years after the recapture of the Far Eastern rubber lands, synthetic rubber will be perfected and developed to emulate and even surpass the real things.

The synthetic rubber program will probably force natural rubber prices to an appreciable low after the war, Newman predicted and it is quite possible that the tires of the future will be a combination of natural and synthetic material.

He blamed the rubber industry's severe manpower shortage and increased military demands for his prediction that "ordinary A-card drivers" would be unable to get new tires before the end of this year. His only suggestion for harassed, tire-less motorists was prompt recapping of worn tires.

Geographical Pick Of Justices Asked

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)— Rep. Gossett (D-Texas) has introduced legislation which would require appointment of Supreme court justices on a geographical basis.

Gossett's measure would provide that at least three justices be residents of states west of the Mississippi river and that the "Old South," including West Virginia, be represented by at least two members.

The Texan told the House that "this bill is not an effort to pack or unpack the Supreme court. It is not a reflection upon the court as at any time constituted. It seeks rather to give the various political, economical and geographical areas of this great country proportionate representation."

Cattle Moving North After Flood Delay

FORT WORTH, April 27. (AP)— Movement of Texas feeder cattle to northern grassland, embargoed Saturday because of flood waters in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, was improved today with railroads reporting limited shipments and cessation of rains in the intervening states.

The embargo, modified but not lifted, was permitting curtailed cattle shipments over roundabout routes. The first shipment of cattle to reach Wichita, Kans., yards since last Friday arrived there yesterday.

Poll Taxes Expected To Cut Negro Vote

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP) — Because so few negroes have paid poll taxes, the U. S. Supreme court decision opening the Democratic primaries to negro voters will have little effect on 1944 elections, says Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, professor of government at the University of Texas.

Speaking to the Exchange club here, Dr. Weeks also expressed the opinion that pending anti-poll tax legislation before Congress is unconstitutional, and that the soldier vote bill is inadequate.

ITALIANS FREED

MEXICO CITY, April 27. (AP)— President Avila Camacho today ordered cancellation of all wartime restrictions upon Italian residents.

Belgium, with a population of 8,500,000 and an area of 11,755 square miles, is one of the most densely populated and highly industrialized countries in the world.

TODAY'S GAG

OUR FAVORITE story of the week is from Charlotte, N. C., and concerns the soldier who parked a jeep beside a parking meter. A bystander said, "Better put a nickel in the meter, soldier."

Gazing at him levelly the soldier reported "You put in a nickel, mister. It belongs to you as much as to me."

NEW TREATMENT FOR JAR RINGS

RUBBER jar rings manufactured for home canning this year will be entirely reclaimed and synthetic rubber like most of last year's supply. As some of the wartime rings have more odor and less "stretch" than peacetime supplies, canning specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture give the following recommendations to home canners for handling all rubber rings:

"To help remove rubber odor and any specks of rubber dust, scrub rings with a brush and hot soapy water. Then boil ten minutes in water and baking soda, allowing one quart water and one tablespoon soda to each dozen rings. Rinse well. Start with fresh soda and water for each lot.

"Do not give wartime rings a stretch test, because they will not spring back like crude rubber. Stretch them as little as possible by putting them on the jars or lids while they are wet and hot. Wet rubber is more pliable.

"Rings come in two sizes; the smaller to fit on a glass lid like a collar; the larger 'shoulder' size, to fit on a glass jar itself. Last year, some homemakers tried to force small rings over jar shoulders, not withstanding the jar seal that consists of a glass lid, rubber ring and metal screw band."

FEMININE APPEAL

PRESERVING your feminine distinctions—and that includes woman-talk, just in case you think it is unimportant—pays a girl dividends, particularly if she's filling a man's job or wears a uniform.

For this nugget of wisdom, you can thank Emily Chapin, who matches skill as a ferry pilot with men and wears a uniform differing very little from theirs. Learning to pilot a plane while working as a file clerk for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, Miss Chapin enlisted 18 months ago in the Air Transport auxiliary and recently returned from the British Isles to begin training with the WASPs.

"The more man-sized your job," says Miss Chapin "the more you need to cling to your femininity. Besides watching out for things such as an attractive hairdo, a clear skin, rosy nails and cream-softened hands, be on your guard against shop talk, which, if you're filling a man's shoes, will be man's talk."

In other words, you'll hold the ears of your boy friend much longer talking about his favorite recipe, women's fashions or the house of tomorrow than you will discussing altitudes, air pockets or new wrinkles in welding or riveting.

"Look, I'm making that new quick cake!" —says Kate Smith

"WHAT cake, Kate?"

"Why, that wonderful, easy-to-mix cake that everybody's talking about. Just watch me!"

"No creaming?"

"No creaming. And see—the dry ingredients go in all together. What's more—you beat the batter only three minutes!"

"And do you really get good cake?"

"You sure do! If you follow the directions exactly... and use the ingredients called for... you get the loveliest, lightest, finest cake! You know... the kind you always expect from Double-Acting Calumet!

"These new cakes taste even richer ... keep fresh longer, too!"

"Yes, folks, whether you're making one of the new quick-mix cakes, or following one of your old favorite recipes—Calumet's Double-Action is what you need to protect your batter! It works first in the mixing bowl and then in the oven—and those two actions together give you a triumph of fluffy lightness every time!"

TRY THIS CALUMET RECIPE!

Speedy Spice Cake (2 eggs)

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour (Not ordinary flour)
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, and allspice
½ cup vegetable shortening
¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons molasses
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Praline Topping

• Sift Swans Down Cake Flour once; measure into sifter with baking powder, salt, sugar, and spices. Have shortening at room temperature; stir just to soften. Sift in flour mixture; add ½ of milk, molasses, eggs, and vanilla. Stir until all flour is dampened; then beat 1 minute. Add remaining milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. Grease 10x10x2-inch pan, line bottom with waxed paper, and grease again. Turn batter into pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 40 minutes, or until done.

Spread hot cake carefully with Praline Topping, a small amount at a time. Return cake to oven and bake 5 minutes longer.

Note: Time may be taken out to rest, but count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow 100 strokes per minute. If electric mixer is used, proceed as directed, using low speed. Scrape down bowl and beater often during mixing.

Praline Topping. Mix together ⅓ cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon Swans Down Cake Flour, 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon water, and ½ cup finely chopped nut meats.

(All measurements are level.)

Walton Charges A&M Board Holds Staff Under Duress

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLLEGE STATION, April 27.—The board of directors of Texas A&M college, despite a repeated request, has refused to assign him duties to perform as president emeritus of the college, Dr. T. O. Walton asserted today.

Testifying before a state Senate investigating committee, Dr. Walton who was not re-elected as president and then elected president emeritus post only on condition that he be assigned actual duties after he recovered his health.

"Under no circumstances would I accept money for doing nothing," he testified.

Bolton Wanted Him

He said also that the acting president of the college, Dean F. C. Bolton, had hoped that he (Dr. Walton) would be made a public relations counselor for the school.

Dr. Walton's testimony concerning his hoped-for assignment preceded statements from him regarding administrative policies during his last few years as president of the school.

He asserted that conditions such that certain accrediting agencies which have approved the school are considering a "re-evaluation" of it.

Staff Under Duress

Dr. Walton asserted the board had created a condition which placed every member of the college staff under duress that it had declined to set policies when requested, that it had made more and more administrative officers directly responsible to it.

He made the further statement that the board failed to make public two sections of a report made by a survey committee of national educators recommending changes in board rules.

The recommendations, he said, included delegating administrative powers to the college president and retaining for the board the exercise of quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial functions, reducing the number of board rules giving principal administrative officers longer tenure than one year, and reducing the number of board committees.

At previous sessions of the committee in Austin and Fort Worth board members had testified Dr. Walton did not keep pace with the college's growth and that from time to time differences of opinion existed between Dr. Walton and certain board members.

The former president said that he differed with the board with regard to pledging dormitory revenue to the amortization of loans for building more dormitories. He said that at one time the board ordered that no student be permitted to live off the campus until all dormitories were filled, a ruling that cut off 850 to 1,000 boys who had made plans to attend A&M, because the board decision seriously reduced the number of project houses in which students principally from the state agricultural and industrial population lived by doing their own work, cooking and even conserving meat and vegetables.

Military Training

Another point in Dr. Walton's testimony was that the board of directors had failed to heed his recommendation that it take cognizance of proposed federal legislation for compulsory military training that threatens the college.

One of these proposals, he said, was for establishment of regional West Points by the Army which would deprive land grant colleges of their military training programs.

Texas Business Registers Gains

AUSTIN, April 27. (U.P.)—Business activity in Texas during March today was reviewed in reports of the University of Texas Business Research bureau which showed:

Building permits in 37 major cities in the state totaled $2,756,091, about half as large as for March, 1943.

Fifty businesses were incorporated with capitalization of $314,000, compared with 39 for $1,576,000 for the month last year.

Dairy plants used 92,663,000 pounds of raw milk last month to produce 2,765,000 pounds of butter, 1,520,000 gallons of ice cream and 1,229,000 pounds of American cheese. Ice cream and cheese output was substantially higher than for the comparable month in 1943, while butter was off nearly 300,000 pounds.

Credit Purchases Reduced

Credit purchases during the past year in department and apparel stores were reduced from 49.5 per cent to 46.4. During March purchasers paid 66.7 per cent of their outstanding accounts; 60.7 per cent did so during the month last year.

Industrial electric consumers used 24.3 per cent more power in March than a year ago; residential, 21.4 per cent more; commercial, 15 per cent more, and all others, 10.7 more.

Postal receipts in 43 major cities were $2,232,992, compared to $2,100,000 a year ago.

Petroleum production in March averaged 1,868,000 barrels daily, or 500,000 barrels daily above March, 1943.

Lumber production averaged 206,170 board feet per week per unit to 245,985 board feet per week per unit in March a year ago.

Pittsburgh Just Nuts Over This Boy Kelly

PITTSBURGH, April 27 (AP)—Tech Sgt. Charles E. (Commando) Kelly today fidgeted at his Shawano street home and wondered with his "mom" if the unfettered enthusiasm of his neighbors and other Pittsburgh admirers has been at least partially satiated.

Because last night, a crowd estimated by police at more than 20,000 surged through police lines in West park just a few blocks from his northside home to abruptly end a day-long celebration that set Pittsburgh agog with feverish delight.

"We want Kelly," the unmanageable crowd shouted, as the reception committee entreated the adoring populace for quiet and order.

Five women fainted in the melee and 20 children were lost and had to be recovered at a police station before the Congressional Medal of Honor winner spoke in desperation.

"I don't have much to say," he said, "but I appreciate what you are trying to do and I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

Police then forced through the milling throng in an automobile directly to the bandstand to pick up Kelly as the committee cancelled the remainder of the program.

One police captain said it was one of the most spontaneous demostrations he had witnessed in 30 years.

Handicapped People Hold Picnic Sunday

SAN ANTONIO, April 27. (AP)—The "Cheerleaders," an organization composed of handicapped men and women of Texas, will hold their annual picnic, business session and social gathering here Sunday. Although many are crippled or confined to wheel chairs, it was reported about 100 members are expected to come from Beaumont, Houston, North Zulch, Alice, Falfurrias, Alvin and other cities.

Local members of the "Grandstanders," an organization of persons who are not handicapped and who assist the Cheerleaders, have arrapged the program.

Under leand-lease, the United States has sent the Soviet Union more than 7,800 planes to date.

Many Rejected For Service Due To TB

Miss Patsy Nichols of Austin, executive secretary of the Texas State Tuberculosis association, was the principal speaker at a luncheon of the Lubbock county Tuberculosis association Thursday noon in the Hilton hotel. She said that a total of 6,668 rejectees of Selective Service in Texas were revealed as having significant tuberculosis symptoms.

Miss Nichols also revealed that Texas had a total of 3,700 deaths from tuberculosis last year and that the state as a whole is about 4,500 beds short in meeting the minimum hospital standards for care of tubercular patients. Texas has only about 3,500 beds for tubercular patients, 2,000 of which are available to the public.

She declared the state needed more beds and more tubercular clinics such as the set up by the local association. Only 22 such clinics are in operation in the state, she said.

It was revealed at the luncheon by Dr. M. M. Ewing, Lubbock county association president, that plans are being prepared for tubercular patch tests for household employes in Lubbock.

In the recent patch tests conducted in the schools in the county, a total of 126 positive reactions were found out of 2,455 children tested, Dr. Ewing revealed.

Miss Nichols, on one of her periodic visits to this section of the state, is conferring with Mrs. Preston James, county association secretary, and Mrs. O. D. Raifsnyder, office manager, regarding certain phases of the work here.

Famous Polish Flier Among Dead In Crash

MONTREAL, April 27. (U.P.)—Polands most famous ace, Flight Lt. Kazimierz Burzynski, was captain of the RAF transport command Liberator which crashed in downtown Montreal Tuesday and killed 15 persons, including its five man crew, the RAFTC announced today.

Burzynski, 47, was one of three Polish Army fliers aboard the craft when it struck a row of tenement houses shortly after leaving Dorval airport for an overseas air base. He made a desperate attempt to keep the plane in the air until it reached the St. Lawrence river 1,000 yards away, the transport command said.

A flier with more than 1,000,000 miles on his record, Burzynski was known in Poland as "the father of our air."

Country Dogs Safe As Long As They Don't Bite Cows

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 27 (AP)—If a mad dog bites a man one foot outside the city limits, it takes a state health department quarantine to empower the sheriff to capture the dog but if the rabid animal bites a cow, the sheriff has a green light.

This phase of the state law, a hangover from the days when the longhorn was the king of Texas, was discovered today when city officials were studying means of depleting the ranks of stray dogs and cutting down on the number of cases of rabies.

As a tagless mad dog may easily cross a city line, Dr. F. H. Oberg, county veterinarian, was worried about the estimated 20,000 dogs that wander on the outskirts of the city. The city has its hands tied unless the dogs can be lured across the city line and brought within the law, or, if a cow is bitten, the dog loses his immunity to capture.

Hidalgo Man Refused Death Commutation

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—The board of pardons and paroles today denied the application of Juan Gutierrez of Hidalgo county for a commutation of sentence from death to life imprisonment.

On March 3, Gutierrez was granted a 60-day stay of execution for further study of his case.

Gutierrez was given the death sentence for the slaying of M. A. Albrecht, Hidalgo county deputy sheriff.

Army-Approved Booklet Is Called Subtle Propaganda

By D. W. DITTMER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27. — A congressional committee charged today that a booklet called "The Races of Mankind," offered by the Army as reading material to soldiers, was filled with "all the techniques—more or less subtly presented — of Communist propaganda."

The charges were made by a House Military Affairs subcommittee, headed by Rep. Carl T. Durham, D., N. C., and engaged in investigating the "infiltration" into the Army and its training programs of teachings or philosophies "inimical to the interest of the people and the government."

Many Shady Statements

In a report on the "Races of Mankind," written by Ruth Benedict and Dr. Gene Weltfish of New York, the subcommittee said most of the statements attributed to science or scientists were vague and "range all the way from half truths through innuendos to downright inaccuracies."

The inquiry into the pamphlet began after certain southern congressmen charged that it conveyed the message that northern negroes oftimes were the "intellectual equals" of some southern whites.

"The authors see no objection to cohabitation and intermarriage between members of different races," the subcommittee said, "yet they admit that, when the Germans and Czechs tried it ,that did not make the two countries like each other."

It charged that the illustrations were "crude, grotesque, and frivolous, entirely incongruous with the text of a real scientific treatise," and, it added "Adam and Eve are depicted with navels."

Comparison Cited

The report said that "the most controversial statement" in the book was a World war I comparison of "southern" whites from states having much larger budgets to the detriment of the former."

According to the report, 55,000 copies of the booklet were purchased by the War department for distribution among students of the Army orientation course, but that as a result of the committee's action the Army decided against this plan, although still permitting distribution for "off-duty discussion."

DICKENS, April 27. (Special)—J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, will be the principal speaker at a banquet of the Dickens county Farm Bureau in Dickens High school Tuesday night, May 2, at 8:30 o'clock, officials of that organization have announced. Also expected to attend is W. R. Tilson of Brownfield, manager of the Lubbock district.

The meal will be served by the Dickens county home demonstration club. Tickets for the affair are now on sale at the City drug store in Spur.

Floy Watson, president, and S. L. Benefield, secretary of the Dickens County Farm bureau, stated a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the banquet.

Major Is Blazing Trail For Possible Parapooch Branch

MUROC ARMY AIR BASE, Calif., April 27 (AP)—Major is a St. Bernard dog attached to this base, but he's not the snowplodding type with a bottle of rum tied around his neck. As a parapooch, he's introducing a new and exciting role for St. Bernards.

The 150-pound canine is the willing subject of army experiments to determine if such dogs, with their proverbial ability in life saving, can be dropped from planes to aid service personnel stranded on icy wastes.

Col. Ralph A. Snavely, commanding officer, says Major has made seven high altitude jumps with a regular-size parachute. The dog, he reports, doesn't seem to mind wearing a specially fitted oxygen mask.

MINISTER IN LONDON

LONDON, April 27 (U.P.)—Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada arrived in London today to attend a conference of empire prime ministers.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tobin Pitches No-Hitter; Browns Break League Mark

Star Misses Perfect Game By Two Walks

BOSTON, April 27 (AP)—Jim Tobin, added his name to the select group of pitchers who have hurled no-hit, no-run games today when the Boston Braves blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-0.

TOBIN ALSO HITS

BOSTON, April 27 (AP)—Big Jim Tobin's 2-0 no-hit victory today over the Brooklyn Dodgers is not the Californian's only claim to fame.

The big fellow had previously crashed the record books by hashing out three home runs in one ball game back two seasons ago as he defeated the Chicago Cubs.

Tobin is the only big league pitcher in modern baseball to turn in such a batting performance.

Cards turned the trick against the Reds on Aug. 30, 1941, and the first by a Braves' pitcher since Tom Hughes did it in 1916. Tobin failed by just two men of pitching a perfect game.

The veteran moundsman walked Paul Waner twice. 'Big Poison' led off the game with a base on balls and moved to second on an infield out. From then on, until two were out in the ninth, Tobin set the Dodgers down in order. Waner then drew another walk but Dixie Walker grounded out to Steve Schemo.

Tobin struck out six Dodgers, while his teammates fielded faultlessly behind him.

Tobin also hit a home run for one of the five safe blows yielded by Fred Ostermueller, Dodger southpaw. He struck his circuit blow in the eighth after the Braves had punched across a run in the third on Connie Ryan's double, a long fly, and Charlie Workman's single.

Fletcher Still Not Wanting Managership

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Acting Manager Art Fletcher said "no thanks" when the Yankee managing job was first offered him after Miller Huggins' death in 1929 and he still has the same idea after a taste of being boss again during Joe McCarthy's illness.

The long-jawed coach who has cut in on 10 World Series slices as third base "traffic cop" for the world champions, is definitely not interested in managing the Yankees or any other ball club.

Art is interested in winning all the games he can, naturally, but these are days of headaches for the man who fell heir to the trying job of fitting together a few holdovers and a flock of farm system graduates into a pennant contender.

Marse Joe still had many decisions to make when he was stricken a few days before the opener but had counted on working the kinks out of the lineup during the early weeks of the season. Now that job is Fletcher's for an indefinite period.

Managing the club hasn't been any breeze so far with only three of six starting pitchers finishing. Hank Borowy's opening day shutout has been the hurling standout effort but Nick Etten's lusty .524 batting average has more than made up for the mound troubles.

Orff Wants To Play In Odessa Tourney

WICHITA FALLS, April 27 (AP) Erle J. Orff, a top Minnesota amateur golfer, has arrived at Sheppard Field for basic training as a private in the Army Air Forces.

"I'd like to get into the service men's meet at Odessa next month," Private Orff told his superiors, who haven't acted yet on the request.

Private Orff was medalist in the last state amateur championship, and has been a consistent winner in pre-amateur team match competition.

Arcaro Sure This Is To Be His Big Year

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who is aboard the winning colt at the Kentucky Derby every third year, points to the 1944 calendar and swears he will keep up the habit next month on Stir up—a declaration which Earl Sande emphatically seconds.

Arcaro, who won with Lawrin in 1938 and Whirlaway in 1941, says that if Stir Up, purchased by Col. J. H. Whitney for $3,800 two years ago, "runs as he did in winning the first section of the Wood Memorial it will be fast enough to take the derby."

"And I'd give my share of the purse to win on Stir Up at Louisville May 6," added the slim Italian.

A triumph that day would make Arcaro one of three jockeys to have won the derby three times. The other two are Sande, who did it in 1923, 1925 and 1930 and Isaac Murphy, who got his trio in 1884, 1890 and 1891.

Browns Erase Yanks Old League Record

ST. LOUIS, April 27 (AP)—Like Ol' Man River, the unbelievable St. Louis Browns just keep rollin' along.

Today they won their eighth consecutive victory without defeat, beating the Cleveland Indians 5 to 1, to establish a new American League record for an opening-season winning streak. The modern National League record is nine straight.

The Browns won with only four hits, one of which they wasted. In the opening inning, two walks, a wild pitch and Vernon Stephens' single scored two runs. A single and two walks filled the bases in the second inning. One run scored on an infield out and Hal Epps' single drove in two more.

Nelson Potter allowed the Indians seven hits and walked five men but got airtight support from an infield that turned in two double plays.

Grade School League Plays Busy Schedule

Thursday was a busy day for the grade school softball teams with six games reeled off during the afternoon and a seventh game reported that was played Wednesday.

Central Ward was the only school to turn in a clean sweep during the day, both boys and girls of that school winning over K. Carter Coyotes. The Central Ward boys won a well played 5-to-1 victory while the girls outslugged the Carter girls to win 16-to-10.

The Sanders Sandies split with the Hunt Pioneers while Wilson Wranglers and Dupre Dodgies were doing the same.

The Sanders boys nosed out an 8-to-7 victory while the Hunt girls were blasting out a 16-to-4 victory to even the series. Wilson's boys team coasted in with a 9-to-1 win over Dupre, but the Dupre girls nosed out a 17-to-16 victory over Wilson as Christine Toles, the Dupre pitcher hit two home runs to help along the cause.

Wednesday afternoon, the Dupre girls staged a wild slugging uprising and romped off with a 34-to-10 victory over the Hunt girls.

Over 200 Register To Play Junior Baseball This Year

Over 200 boys have registered for junior baseball in Lubbock, and more cards are still pouring in from prospective players, H. J. McCabe, chairman of the American Legion committee on junior baseball, said Thursday night.

Plans will be pushed rapidly to have everything ready to go as soon as possible. A meeting has been called for May 9 for all sponsoring organizations, sponsors and coaches to work out the final plans for the starting of the leagues.

School Dates Set

Dates also were set Thursday for the holding of the baseball school preceding the start of the league play. The school will be held May 24-25-26 and 27, but site and instructor have not been named.

Many of those who registered during the past two days are players who took part in the leagues who held in Lubbock in 1941. The use of these boys in the older bracket leagues should provide teams with some seasoned stars around which to build some fast teams.

At the present rate of registration, it is thought that two leagues will take care of the demand. If this plan is followed, one league will be made up of boys from 12 to 14 and the other league take in boys from 15 to 17 years of age.

Schoolboy Baseball Loop Planned Here

Schoolboy baseball may be seen in Lubbock within the next few days, according to an announcement made Thursday afternoon by G. L. Farrar, superintendent of schools at Frenship, who was in Lubbock in the interest of starting a league of teams from area schools.

A meeting has been scheduled for Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the office of the county school superintendent with seven schools invited to attend. It was also pointed out that any other in the area that have teams, and are interested, are invited to attend.

Field Is Problem

The main problem will be the finding of a suitable field on which the schoolboy teams can play. The league leaders want to play all the games in Lubbock, using this city as central meeting place for the teams in order to conserve travel.

Teams from Frenship, Ropes, Cooper and Idalou have been playing and are expected to be represented at the meeting. Invitations have been sent to Abernathy, Shallowater and Petersburg.

Games will be played in the afternoons for the rest of the school term, ending sometime late in May.

Rodney Stone of the Harry La Montgue stable collected $24,725 as a two-year-old winning the Sanford Stakes and Albany Handicap at Belmont.

Parker In Top Form For Schoolboy Meet

SAN ANTONIO, April 27 (AP)—Time runs short for trackdom's Golden Boy—Flyin' Charley Parker, the pony express of Thomas Jefferson High school—and jammed into a few weeks will be his bid for title of "world's fastest human."

He may attain that next week when he swishes his swan-song as a schoolboy sprinter in the Texas Interscholastic League meet at Austin. After that comes graduation and probable armed service.

Parker is ready, says his coach, Barlow Irvin.

Come Along Slowly

Charley has been brought along slowly this season, principally because there has been little weather favorable for "putting out." But Parker "put out" enough in the Texas Relays for 9.6 in the 100-yard dash and 21.1 in the 220, which Irvin says, are the nation's fastest times this year.

Irvin wouldn't forecast that Parker would better his state record of 9.5 and 20.3 set at Austin last year, but did say if there is sunshine and no wind such as ruined his chances of having his 220 time recognized as a national record in 1943, Charley will be batting mighty close to the best marks in the books.

"I always have considered Charley a better 220 man than 100, said Irvin. "This is because of his usual slow start. Charley really picks up when he gets under way."

May Enter AAU

Parker will appear in a special race at an Army meet here in May and has an invitation to the National AAU at New York in June. If he's able to make the latter he will run in the junior 100 and senior 220.

The 17-year-old Parker now has gone through almost three full seasons without suffering a defeat. In other words, he has won 47 final races during his streak and figured in dozens of records, either individually or as a member of the Jefferson sprint relay team.

Recently Irvin toyed with the idea of Parker running the 440 either as a contestant in this event at the state meet or on the mile relay team. Parker had shown he could race the quarter with the best of them when used in a meet, but Jack Grieder, star sprinter who had been on the 440-yard relay team, suffered recurrence of a leg muscle injury and will not be able to run at Austin. Therefore, said Irvin, Parker will return to the sprint relay team and not run the 440.

Black Badge, owned by Abe Hirschberg, piled up $32,482 for its owner last year in winning the St. Aubin Handicap, the second division of the Lansing Handicap, all at Detroit, and the second division of the Remsen Handicap at Jamaica.

Scrimmage Set By Westerners

The second intra-squad game condition scrimmage session of the spring football camp has been set by the Lubbock Westerners for 4:15 o'clock this afternoon, Coach J. Mule Davis announced Thursday night.

Both squads have been bolstered by the use of track men for this battle and another real scrap is expected by railbirds who have watched the teams prepare for the second clash.

The scrimmage last week resulted in a 14-to-12 win for the Blacks over the Whites, winning on the margin of extra points, but the Whites have put in a busy week overcoming this defect.

Key Men Out

The two squads will feel the loss of some key men today through injuries and four stars of last week's battle will be missing. T. J. Price and John Paul Jones are both nursing injuried knees. Johnny Gamble is laid up with a hip injury and Johnny Pearson will be out of town.

The backfields will draw the brunt of the new power from the track men, and both sides will have two veterans added to the backfield. The Whites will have Jim Lowrey and Bueron Lindsey in the backfield while Johnny Davis and R. W. Moyers have been added to the Blacks' backfield.

The probable starting elineups as announced by Davis are:

G. Davis	LE	Benefield
Lawson	LT	Knight
Foster	LG	Wall
Pressley	C	Haley
McGowan	RG	Crawford

Two Stars Ruled Out Of Penn Relay Meet

NEW YORK, April 27 (U.P.) — Dan Ferris, national secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, said today that shot-putter Al Blozis and discus-thrower Archie Harris, who were professional athletes before entering the Army, still were considered in that category and therefore were ineligible to compete in the 50th annual Penn Relays Saturday.

Both athletes had entered the competition, accepting invitations from Director H. Jamison Swarts, who said he assumed that all service men, regardless of their previous civilian status were eligible.

Ferris said the A. A. U. regulations froze all men in their civilian status when they entered military service. Blozis was a tackle for the New York Giants' professional football team and Harris was a coach at a Southern negro college. Both men hold Penn Relays records for their events. Blozis with a shot-put mark of 55 feet 5 3-8 inches, and Harris with a discuss distance of 167 feet 10 1-8 inches.

Detroit Hopes Soar With York Rejected

DETROIT, April 27 (AP)—Big Rudy York, Major League home run champion, was rejected for military service today because of a trick left knee, the result of an old basketball injury, and the Detroit Tigers immediately looked up timetables for an early departure from the American League's second division.

The 30-year-old York, whose 34 circuit clouts was peak 1943 output, was turned down at the Detroit induction center because of loose cartilage in the knee he injured several years ago. He was the ninth Tiger to be classified 4-F, giving the squad 17 players exempt from selective service.

York went directly from the examining room to Briggs stadium where he worked out in preparation for the opener tomorrow of a four-game series here with the Cleveland Indians.

With York still in there swinging, the Tigers have fresh hopes of getting up close enough to say "boo" to the St. Louis Browns and other early pacemakers in the league race. Except for an infield highly vulnerable to the draft, Manager Steve O'Neill expressed himself a fortnight ago as being well satisfied with his club's chances.

BUSY TRACK SLATE

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—With the idea of providing as much competition as possible for service men, the Amateur Athletic Union and its member clubs have arranged a schedule of eleven outdoor track and field meets during the next three months. Another is definitely scheduled for New Haven, Conn., in August and several more are contemplated. In addition to national and sectional A. A. U. championship.

There are 95,240 feet of seats in the Yale Bowl, or a total of 18 miles.

TRAVEL BY BUS

It doesn't matter what time of day or night you decide to travel, get the habit of calling Texas-New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches for schedules on buses to the place you wish to go.

We are proud of the organization you Westerners helped build to its present high degree of efficiency . . . we are also proud of the fact that even under war-time conditions bus service is still available to all who wish to travel, and at the same time, take care of the transportation needs of our armed forces.

You can help us do a better war job by carrying only one piece of luggage . . . extra pieces may take up seating space needed by men and women in uniform and other essential travelers May we have your cooperation!

and remember . . .
Our busses can serve you better if you plan your trip on week days instead of over week ends!

Alfalfa, Onion & Orange Land

8600 Acres—All Can Be Irrigated From Wells

Well located in the famed Winter Garden district of Texas, 105 miles southwest of San Antonio. Railroad switch on the land. Eight (8) miles of all-weather roads through the land. Six (6) miles Nueces River frontage. 6,000 acres river bottom land that will grow alfalfa and onions very successfully, and make very large yields. 1,800 acres more land well adapted to Rhodes grass. Oat pasture in the winter time, and all kinds of fall, winter and spring vegetables. 200 acres real good pasture land. Cost over $100,000.00 to improve it, and can be colonized within three years, according to my judgment, in tracts of 40 to 160 acres to net the owner or owners over a million dollars.

I want to sell half of this land, as I am not able to hold it all, or, would sell two-thirds of it, as I am forced to sell some of my land, as I own too much. There is one man who is farming 150 acres of this land this year, in onions. I believe he will make over $50,000.00 net on same. Mr. J. W. Little is farming the same kind of land 10 miles away, in alfalfa, and claimed to have made over $200.00 per acre, net, last year. There is lots of turkey and deer on this land, and fish in the river, and lots of other wild game. The land that is now in cultivation is worth more than the price asked for all of it. All that is in cultivation has plenty of water from wells, and plenty of water to irrigate with. The whole tract can be irrigated from the wells.

For quick sale, priced $30.00 per acre. My representative, Mr. W. H. Wilson, Carrizo Springs, will show you the land. I will be in Carrizo Springs during the next ten (10) days, so come to see this land immediately if you want to make a fortune. Can be had on liberal terms.

Write or wire for proof, and will send you a 64-page booklet, with plenty of proof to convince any sane man.

Market Reports The Nation Over . . .

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP)—Rye staged a rally toward the close on the grain market today, advancing above the preceding session's finish on buying which was believed to be mainly short-covering upon the part of professional traders. Grain men were impressed during the early part of the session with the strength of May rye, which did not reflect the decline in other contracts.

Although wheat and oats rallied from their early lows in sympathy with the firmness displayed by rye, these grains were not able to go above yesterday's close. Selling during the first few hours was based upon improved weather conditions, expected to give farmers a chance to complete spring farm work, and expanded hog marketings, decreasing the potential demand for feed grains.

At the close deferred wheat contracts were off ¼-½, July $1.70 ¾, deferred oats were ¼-½ lower, July 78 ¼, and rye advanced ¾-1, May $1.36 ¼. There was no trade in barley.

Stanton's Feeds are making their way by the way they're made.

Minerals, which every animal needs to grow and produce, are not as plentiful in the grains and roughages you feed today because wind and rain and former crops have taken them from our soil. Mineral deficient soils result in mineral deficient crops. These deficiencies must be made up if the livestock which feed on these crops are to be made healthy, vigorous and productive. Stanton's ManAmar Feeds supply the vital minerals, along with equally essential vitamins and animal proteins. They are made with ManAmar and B-O Plus which, in turn, draw all these elements from their richest storehouse, the sea. Ask your Stanton dealer today how to put Sea Power into your poultry and livestock rations.

MANAMAR
ManAmar supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials — fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex." Made from ocean life, it supplies "sea power".

STOCKS HOLD FIRM

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—The stock market cut another notch in the recovery standard today without attracting real buying enthusiasm.

The comeback of yesterday was extended at the start and gains at the best ranged from fractions to a point or so for leaders.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .3 of a point at 91. Transfers totaled 320,000 shares compared with 404,415 the day before.

Bethlehem finished ahead ¾ and, after the close, directors voted the usual $1.25 dividends on the common and reported net for the first quarter of $1.81 a common share against $1.54 in the like period last year and $3.72 in the final 1943 three months.

Schenley was up a point or so on top of the 4¼-point jump of Wednesday, partly in reflection of optimistic profits forecasts, but most all but ¼ of the day's improvement. American Sugar hit a peak for the year, up 3¾ at 39. West Indies Sugar jumped 1¾ and Park and Tilford as much. Union Pacific was up 2½. Lesser advances were shown for Cuban American Sugar, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Steel, Southern Railway, Johns-Manville, Chrysler, Willys-Overland and Oliver Farm.

Montgomery Ward retrieved a point in the face of the Army's seizure of the company's plants in the WLB union dispute.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Cotton futures closed steady today as 15 to 25 cents a bale higher on limited mill price-fixing against textile contracts and short covering in May.

Dealings were light as traders digested the announcement that a joint War Production boardOffice of Price administration committee had formulated proposals for control of textiles—including price adjustments to alleviate a threatened civilian goods shortage.

Ten Crewmen Missing After Boat Collision

CONNEAUT, O., April 27. (U.P.)—Ten crew members of the Great Lakes ore carrier James Reed, were missing after the boat sank in a collision with the steamer Ashcroft in Lake Erie 20 miles north of here today.

The boat, owned by the Interlake Steamship Co., of Cleveland, was en route from the upper lakes to Buffalo when fog and shifting winds took it off its course.

The James Reed carried a normal crew of 36 men.

Allied Air Losses Drop As Damage To Germans Soars

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Allied 'round-the-clock air bombardment neared its second week-end over Germany with no sign of abatement and with high Washington authority noting that its percentage losses are steadily declining while the damage wrought to Nazi war industry and communications as steadily soars upward.

SIMPSON

War Secretary Stimson stressed the fact in his regular weekly commentary covering all active fronts. He concurred in the theory that the Nazis are hoarding fighter planes, probably largely accounting for waning German Air force day and night attacks.

Tighten On Denmark

There is another development of the last week or so to indicate how close the German high command deems the Allied amphibious follow-through, and where it expects at lease one feint or actual beachhead drive. Danish underground reports via Sweden leave small doubt that the Nazis are taking special precautions not only to suppress sabotage but to stiffen defenses in Denmark against possible Allied invasion thrusts.

London apparently doubts that Nazi censorship would permit word of heavy reinforcement of German garrisons in Denmark to leak out. That is subject to two reservations, however. The first is that the Stockholm accounts of Nazi repressive activities in Denmark have been invariably attributed to Danish underground communication channels. They have been persistent enough to warrant the conclusion that something significant is going on.

A second reason lies in the geographical situation of the Jutland peninsula and the nature of its terrain. From the moment when Allied preparations for invasion of the continent became a reality to Hitler's generals the possible vulnerability of the Danish segment of the Atlantic wall must be concerning German defense planners gravely.

The Jutland peninsula is flat, open country washed by the North Sea but offers none of the natural defensive advantages of the low countries coastline. There are no important Danish sea dykes to permit flooding of wide stretches at the approach of sea-borne invading forces. The defense of Jutland must necessarily depend on troops, and on man-made fortifications should it prove to be an Allied invasion target.

Motion To Consider Anti-Poll Tax Bill In Senate Is Slated

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky said today a motion to take up the controversial anti-poll tax bill would be made in the Senate May 9.

Barkley made the announcement after a conference with supporters of the measure and representatives of a Southern Democratic group which plans a filibuster to prevent its passage.

Confident that advocates of the House-approved bill can not muster more than 38 votes in support of a cloture rule to limit debate, opponents weer reported ready to risk an early vote on that issue. Cloture requires a two-thirds majority.

The Southerners plan to filibuster a few days against a motion to take up the bill, then allow it to be taken up to permit the filing of the cloture petition. They say that once the rule is defeated, proponents will abandon attempts to break the filibuster and force a vote.

Participating in the conference with Barkley were Chairman McCarren (D-Nev) of the judiciary committee, Senators McFarland (D-Ariz) and Mean (D-NY), supporters of the bill, and Senators McKellar (D-Tenn), Byrd (D-Va), Russell (D-Ga), and Eastland (D-Miss), opponents.

DALLAS, April 27. (AP) — The Texas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons will hold next year's convention at Galveston, the organization voted, at the same time electing Dr. Robert E. Morgan of Dallas president for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected at yesterday's closing sessions included Dr. Robert B. Beyer, Port Arthur, first vice-president.

The auxiliary to the association named Mrs. Jack Crawford of Dallas president-elect and installed Mrs. J. Francis Brown, of Amarillo, as president; Mrs. M. P. Ollom, New Braunfels, vice-president, and Mrs. E. H. Mann, Amarillo, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Crawford takes office next year.

The Texas branch of the Osteopathic Women's National association elected Dr. Virginia Ellis, Naples, Morris county, president, and Dr. Laura Lowell, Clarendon, vice-president.

Juarez' Customs Are Nearly Double 1942

MEXICO CITY, April 27. (AP)—Customs authorities at Ciudad Juarez opposite El Paso, Texas, estimate that 1944 customs receipts would be nearly $5,000,000 compared to less than half that in 1942.

Jesus Vidales, collector of customs at the port, reported to President Avila Camacho that Ciudad Juarez's share of the receipts was being spent for paving and schools. Grade and high schools for 1,400 pupils will be finished this year at a cost of $254,000.

Baruch Gives Million For Advancement Of "Physical Medicine"

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch has donated $1,100,000 for promotion of "physical medicine," especially for treatment of returning war veterans, and says that "if it works out, I am prepared to put most of my fortune into it—I believe in it."

Physical medicine makes use of massages, water, light, heat, cold, electricity, occupational pursuits, exercises, muscular manipulations and various mechanical devices in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases.

The 73-year-old fanancier, who for years was chairman of the commission which developed Saratoga Springs, N. Y., into an international famous spa, gave his donation in honor of his late father, Dr. Simon Baruch, to be used over a 10-year period for research and for training technicians.

Support Of Court Vote Ruling Asked

ATLANTA, April 27. (U.P.)—The Georgia committee on interracial cooperation today released a resolution calling on party and government officials to abide by the "logical, honest and just" U. S. Supreme court ruling that negroes may vote in Texas primary elections.

The committee said that it appears that the decision will probably apply to primary elections in all states where negroes, on the basis of their race or color, are now excluded from primary elections, but noted that some Democratic party officials had asserted the decision will not be followed in certain states

"We believe that the time has come for every state in our great nation to treat all of its citizens justly and equally," the resolution said, "believing also that the integrity of the nation and of its whole people is definitely related to our acceptance of the rulings of our courts and that good government cannot exist in a locality or state or a nation where the people attempt to circumvent the studied and honest decisions of their courts" . . .

Radio Waves Fleeter Than Cupid's Wings

GALVESTON, April 27. (U.P.) — Radio waves are fleeter than cupid's wings, or a railroad train, so a Houston woman got her daughter back today, unmarried.

The woman reported to police last night that her 16-year-old daughter was missing and that she feared the girl had eloped to marry a youth four years her senior.

Police broadcast the distraught mother's alarm. Twenty minutes later, Galveston officers took the couple in custody here as they stepped off a train, altar bound. The girl was sent back home—without a husband.

AUSTIN, April 27 (U.P.)—Martin G. Ettlinger, 18, a chemistry graduate of the University of Texas two years ago, has completed residence requirements for a doctor's degree at Harvard, the Daily Texan, campus newspaper, said today.

The youth is engaged in chemistry research at Harvard on a war problem for the committee on medical research and does not know when it will be possible to complete other work for his doctorate.

His father, Dr. H. J. Ettlinger, is a University of Texas mathematics professor. Young Ettlinger at the university was the youngest member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, in its history.

Dewey Urges 'Big Four' To Maintain Solid Relations

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared tonight the United States, Great Britain, China, and Russia must maintain "solid relations" to solve the post-war problem.

"No initial measures against Germany and Japan, however drastic, will have permanent value unless they fall within the setting of a durable cohesion between Great Britain and ourselves, together, I hope, with Russia and China," Dewey said in an address prepared for members of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Rear Admiral Aaron S. Merrill, Pacific veteran who soon will become director of Navy public relations, also were speakers.

Mistakes Of Last Peace

Dewey, cautioning against a repetition of the mistakes of the last war, said that a structure of peace, built through international cooperation and "backed by adequate force to prevent future wars," was one of three objectives of a foreign policy upon which, he said, there was "overwhelming agreement' among American people.

He said the other objectives were:

"To carry on the war to total crushing victory, and in so doing to drive home to the aggressor nations a lesson that will never be forgotten;

"To establish and maintain in our relations with other nations conditions calculated to promote world-wide economic stability not only for the sake of the world, but also to the end that our own people may enjoy a high level of employment in an increasingly prosperous world."

Hardheaded Business

"Russian affairs are in the hands of hardheaded, realistic leaders," the governor declared. "That is nothing we should be afraid of, provided we are equally realistic and devoted to our country. If we are, the United States and Russia can deal with each other with candor, while building firm mutual respect and friendship."

The governor asserted that Secretary of State Hull's recent utterances on foreign policy were "excellent" and "deserve respect," but "have done little to relieve the concern and uncertainty our people feel."

"This is not primarily because of dissatisfaction with words Mr. Hull has used," Dewey said. "It is because we see reported in your papers developments from abroad and other statements from high government officials at home which do not seem to fit in altogether with the words Mr. Hull has used.

Johnston told the publishers that "machinery of war government" must be dismantled after the war just as the "machinery of war production. . . .

"There are two ways in which our patrimony of liberty can be lost," Johnston added. "It can be taken away from us by frontal assault as the Axis is threatening to do. This is a danger we are surely overcoming. But it can also be lost by default."

Admiral Merrill promised the publishers they would receive facts "as quickly and accurately as possible."

Senate Group Okays More Lease-Lend Aid

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP) — The Senate foreign relations committee has voted unanimously to extend the $22,500,000,000 lend-lease program another year, after a 60-minute session in which it was described as a vital factor in pre-invasion strategy.

Asserting he will seek to call up the House-approved lend-lease extension bill in the Senate next week, Chairman Connally (D-Tex) said the committee accepted the program as an "established war policy."

The House passed the bill, extending lend-lease a year from June 30 and allowing a three-year period for the liquidation of its affairs, 334 to 21 only last Wednesday.

It wrote in a provision that in the final settlement of a lend-lease contract, the president must consult Congress before any commitment he makes on post-war military, economic or international relations questions is binding.

Italians To Put Off All Reforms

By ELEANOR PACKARD
United Press Staff Writer

NAPLES, April 27.—The Italian coalition cabinet at its first formal meeting voted today to postpone consideration of all major political reforms until after the war, including the proposed elimination of the monarchy.

Opponents of King Victor Emmanuel and the House of Savoy who were brought into Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio's all-party cabinet last week concurred in the decision.

Set Aside For Duration

Because of urgent problems demanding immediate action, the cabinet agreed to set aside for the duration all questions involving sweeping reforms, such as the monarchy issue, it was announced at the end of the two-hour meeting.

These reforms will be submitted to the Italian people after the war, when the entire country will be able to express itself freely, an official communique said.

The cabinet also discussed means of increasing Italy's contribution to the war effort, including the use of Italian troops, and allocated a fund of 200,000,000 lire to the ministry of public works for a rebuilding program in war devastated areas.

The communique said the cabinet further agreed to a general purge of all Fascist elements in the Allied-controlled section of the country, emphasizing that this program would be undertaken not for vengeance but in the interest of military security.

Other steps agreed upon at the meeting included measures to relieve war suffring in Italy by reorganizing transport and cracking down on the black market, and a proclamation calling upon Italians in German-occupied territory to demonstrate against the Nazis on May day, next Monday.

The celebration of May day in Allied-controlled Italy will be held next Sunday, April 30, so as not to interfere with war production.

Bowles Claims Gas Black Markets Cut

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP) — Chester Bowles, price administrator, told a press conference today that black market gasoline operations had been reduced materially in recent months, and "we're getting on top off" the problem although it is not yet "licked."

"Between 8 and 9 per cent of all gas coupons formerly were counterfeit or were illegally used, and we've got the figure down now to around 2 per cent, but that's still too high," he said.

The secret service, cooperating with the OPA and local police, made more than 1,000 arrests last month throughout the nation, he added, declaring that continuance of coupon endorsement by motorists was the most effective weapon against black market practices.

Civilian Flying Units Due Cut

SAN ANTONIO, April 27 (AP) — Operators attending a two-day conference of civilian primary training schools training army pilots were told here by J. Wendell Coombs of Washington, D. C., president of the Aernautics Training society, that at least 24 out of 64 schools in the nation will be put on a "stand-by" basis by Aug. 1.

The conference was attended by civilian operators and officials of the army air forces central flyig command and training command.

Replacements Wanted Now

"From now on you will train for replacements only," Coombs declared after pointing out that these schools have already given more than 100,000 combat pilots the fundamentals of flying. "Although many schools must necessarily be put on a standby basis, the civilian-army system itself will surely be continued during the postwar period on the basis of its efficiency, saftey and economy," he declared.

He said that one fourth of all the primary schools in the country are located in Texas.

One-Third Of Ickes' Men Draft Deferred

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP) — Almost one-third of the 6,696 men of draft age employed in the Interior department have occupational deferments, a House committee reported today, and expressed belief that the "great majority" could be replaced without detriment to the war effort.

Reporting an $87,672,580 appropriation to run the department during the 12 months beginning next July 1, the House appropriations committee said 2,221 of the department's male employes aged 18 to 38 had occupational deferments. Of these, it added, 2,073 were deferred at the specific request of the department.

The report disclosed that members of the committee had a verbal joust with Secretary of Interior Ickes over the department's deferment policies when the appropriation was under consideration.

Ickes told them he considered the government "important enough in itself to merit deferment of key workers."

The recommended appropriation is $9,151,672 below budget estimates, $26,279,496 under the current year's appropriation, and $247,672 below the minimum Ickes said was required by the department.

Treaties On Fishing After War Proposed

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP)—Anticipating a great exploitation of Marine fishing off the shores of the continent after the war, Dr. Ina N. Gabrielson, director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, today proposed that machinery be set up to negotiate treaties with neighboring countries as a basis for effective management of the fishing areas.

His address was prepared for delivery before the ninth North American Wildlife conference.

Juan Zinser, Mexico City, D. F., secretary of the department of use and conservation of natural resources of Mexico, said the Mexican federal government had stepped in to preserve the wooded area and wildlife of that country.

"Our conservation program is new well-developed," Zinser declared in another prepared speech. "We have set up reserves for white-tail deer, antelope, and bighorn sheep in the states of San Luis Potosi, Zacatecas, Sonora, Chihuahua — the latter two bordering on Arizona, New Mexico and Texas—and we are constantly increasing the budgetary appropriations by the federal government for game preservation."

Danes Caught With Firearms To Be Shot

STOCKHOLM, April 27 (AP) — The Germans published an official order in Copenhagen today announcing that all persons found carrying arms henceforth would be summarily shot. The isolation of Denmark from Sweden continued through the second day.

The Swedish newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, reported that sabotage in the Danish capital in the last 24 hours was on the biggest scale since the Nazis overran the country.

Home Care Of Meat Important

HOME CARE — A 1

Home is an important conservation center in wartime. Correct methods of storing and serving meat can do a great deal to conserve it in the home so it will yield the greatest number of servings possible. Spoilage and waste are the two enemies of these objective and the thrifty homemaker's practices are directed to eliminate them.

Without proper care food will spoil either before or after cooking. Jessie Alice Cline, home economist, states that uncooked meat keeps best when it is stored uncovered or loosely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Removing the wrapping also prevents the paper from absorbing the meat juices.

Store Cooked Meat Covered

Cooked meat should be stored in a covered container in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Drying out of the meat is thus prevented.

When purchasing ready-to-serve meat in large quantities it is helpful to remember that cured dry and smoked sausages keep almost indefinitely in the refrigerator.

All meat bones should be sayed to use in making soup stock. Cool stock quickly and refrigerate. If stock is not used immediately it should be heated to boiling daily to prevent spoilage.

Carving Needs Sharp Knife

Careful carving of a roast does a great deal to increase the number of servings it will yield. The most important tool to supply the carver is a sharp knife. A sharp knife used on a properly cooked roast will prevent crumbling of meat which wastes the precious edible portions. Roasts that are allowed to stand in a warm place for at least 30 minutes after they are removed from the oven will carve more easiy than those brought promptly to the table.

Serving each person two thin slices will seem more generous than one thick slice and will help to make the meat go further.

Utilize every bit of left-over meat. There are so many ways in which even the smallest piece can be used in combination with other foods that not one bit should be wasted.

SOYA SPOON BREAD

Three-quarters cup corn meal, ¼ cup soya grits, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups cold water, 1 cup milk, 2 or 3 eggs, separated, 2 tablespoons melted fat.

Mix together the corn meal, soya grits, salt, and water. Let the mixture come to a boil and boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add the milk, beaten egg yolks, and melted fat. Beat the egg whites stiff and fold into the mixture. Pour into a well-greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 1 hour. Serve at once from the baking dish.

You never "sausage" good point value as there is on ready-to-serve sausage items. They give their point and money's worth. From one pound of any meat loaf you can get from 10 to 14 slices; from one pound of bologna, 12 to 14 slices; one pound of dry sausage, 30 to 35 slices. In one pound there are 8 or 9 frankfurts.

KITCHEN KORNER

Try bacon-wiches for Saturday supper. Saute cheese sandwiches in bacon drippings or spread drippings on outside of sandwiches to be toasted. Gives them a delicious bacon flavor.

Flavor vegetable cream soups with frankfurt slices. Or cubes of salami, bologna, or leftover meat are tasty additions to cream of pea soup, potato, bean, celery, or cauliflower soup.

Speaking of the spice of life, these "variety" meats yield from four to five servings per pound—liver, kidneys, hearts, brains, sweetbreads, and tongue.

Here's a note for kitchen books. In the way of steaks and chops, figure 3 to 4 servings in one pound of veal, pork and lamb chops; 3 to 5 servings in a pound of veal steak; 4 to 6 servings in a pound of hamburger; 4 to 5 servings in a pound of beef round steak, flank steak, or porterhouse. From 4 pounds of shoulder potroast of beef you can serve from 10 to 12 people.

Pastry Scraps: Make up pastry for several pies at once, wrap dough in waxed paper, and it will keep for 7 to 8 days. It's simonsimple to whisk together a pie for dinner.

As an omnious note, don't work pie dough too much and don't add too much water. There are two common causes of failure in pastry.

To create a Creole, flour, season and lightly brown 4 lamb chops. Arrange in baking dish and sprinkle with ½ cup diced onion and chopped green pepper to suit your taste. Combine ½ cup tomato soup and ½ cup water and heat to boiling point. Pour over chops. Cover and bake at 325 degrees F. for about 1½ hours.

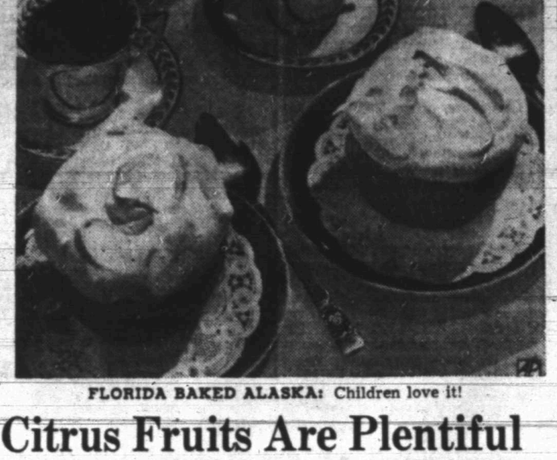

Liver and sour cream harmonize perfectly. Dredge liver with flour, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and saute in bacon fat. Turn frequently. Add ¾ cup sour cream and cook until thoroughly heated. Sprinkle with finely chopped parsley.

Liver is fork tender and perfect in flavor when braised with tomato juice, vinegar, lemon juice, or sour cream. Long, slow cooking puts any meat on the tender side.

Wives who cook for their husbands serve them home-made pies with tender, flaky lard crusts. The pies are apple, cherry, lemon, pumpkin, chocolate, custard and mince . . . in that order.

Know why lard is the perfect shortening for the perfect pie crust?—It has high shortening value, gives just the right amount of flavor to the crust, and makes a flaky pie crust.

Don't be stuffy! Try stuffed bacon rolls. Combine 2 cups bread crumbs, 1 small chopped onion, and 1 tablespoon minced parsley. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with hot water. Place 1 heaping teaspoonful on end of each of 12 bacon slices. Roll slice around dressing and fasten edge with toothpick. Broil, turning frequetly to brown all sides.

FLORIDA BAKED ALASKA: Children love it!

Citrus Fruits Are Plentiful And Add Variety To Diets

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Now is the time to make the most of citrus fruits. Other fruits customarily on the market are scarce and high priced. But we've raised a bumper citrus fruit crop, and though the demand is heavier, most of us are able to buy, at reasonable prices, all the oranges, lemons and grapefruit we want. What are you doing with yours? Squeezing them? A good thing, too, but I hope you don't strain them. You lose a lot of food value that way.

I never tire of citrus fruit juice, but I like oranges and grapefruit used a great many other ways too. With almost no other fruits to draw upon, except those which some of us prudently put up last summer, it behooves us to serve these vitamin-packed citrus fruits often as dessert. But please don't just cut them in two and loosen the sections. What else? Here's what!

First, because it's the most fun, and perhaps the most unusual of all, I want to tell you about the dessert which is illustrated here. It's easy to do, but it looks like the work of a French chef.

Florida Baked Alaska

4 large Florida oranges
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
Few grains salt
½ pint vanilla ice cream

Cut slice off top of oranges about a third of the way down. Using a sharp knife, loosen sections, cutting along dividing membranes and skin. Beat egg whites stiff; gradually add sugar and salt, beating constantly, until whites stand up in peaks. Have ice cream frozen very hard. Pile two tablespoons of ice cream on center of each orange and top with meringue, being sure that meringue completely covers ice cream and top of oranges. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 450 degree oven three or four minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned. Serve at once.

Let's not forget grapefruit, either. Here's a dessert your family will cheer about.

Grapefruit Crisp

4 grapefruit
4 tablespoons fortified margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¾ cup sugar
½ cup flour

Section grapefruit. To do this easily, cut slice off top and bottom. Using a sharp knife, "shuck" off peel and outer membrane by cutting off in strips from top to bottom of fruit. Remove sections by inserting knife between dividing membrane and lifting out section. Put grapefruit sections into baking dish. Blend together margarine, cinnamon, sugar and flour until crumbly. Spread over grapefruit. Bake in 375 degree oven about 30 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

And here's one that gets in lemon, too. Don't forget—those little yellow things are packed with vitamins!

Orange Sponge Pudding

3 egg yolks
½ cup orange juice
Grated rind one orange
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups sugar
3 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons fortified margarine
1½ cup milk
3 egg whites, beaten stiff, but not dry

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Mix in juices and rind. Add all other ingredients except whites. Beat vigorously. Fold in whites. Pour into baking dish and bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes. This will be sponge on top and filmy custard underneath. Serve hot or cold.

Hot Biscuits Can Pep Up Your Meals

Whether there are two people in your family or ten, there is something about a batch of baking powder biscuit dough that inspires you to do all kinds of interesting things and incidentally to improve the tone of your meals no end. There is no occasion for wartime meals to be dull and grim. Liven them up. Hot biscuits is one way to do it. Of course you know that lovely flaky biscuits can be made with no-point lard and that's no small consideration these days.

Hot biscuits don't have to have butter for a spread. Try honey for a change, or some of your home-made jellies or jams. Here is a combination hard to beat. A dessert made with rich biscuit dough in the following way: Pat the biscuit dough into a shallow baking pan and arrange drained sliced canned cling peaches over the top. Sprinkle top with sugar and bake in a moderately hot oven. Serve with canned peach syrup which has been slightly thickened. The combination of cling peaches with the biscuit dough will become one of your choice desserts.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN

Mashed or sieved calavo, seasoned with a bit of salt, makes excellent food for young children. The generous quantity of fruit oil is readily digested.

"She holds the record for collecting waste fat."

To protect minerals and vitamins when cooking vegetables, cover them with little or no water.

Be sure not to prepare fruits or vegetables until just before cooking.

To measure a fractional part of a cup of shortening, fill the cup with water, pour off water equal to shortening required, and add shortening until water rises to the cup rim.

Wipe off meat with a damp cloth as soon as it comes into the kitchen, place flat on waxed paper or dish and store in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Meat should not be soaked as it will lose flavor and vitamins.

When the flavor of butter is really needed for such things as hard sauce or plain white icings, conserve butter by using part vegetable shortening and part butter.

If you start your makeup with a completely clean face and do a thorough job of makeup with your first application it is possible to make it last for an entire day.

Even on your busiest days
be sure your House Cleaning is Sanitary House Cleaning
...for Greater Health Protection!

HAVE YOU noticed how some days turn out to be extra busy ...crammed with things to do? Yet, busy as you may be, you can't afford to neglect family health, especially now when there are fewer civilian doctors and medical facilities. A simple yet important health-protective measure is the use of Clorox in routine cleansing. Cultivate the healthful habit of Clorox-Cleanliness ...the type of cleanliness recommended by health authorities.

WHY TAKE CHANCES!

In the Kitchen make sure sanitation is not slighted, even on those extra busy days, for infection dangers can spread rapidly. High standards of sanitation are easily attained with Clorox. It disinfects, deodorizes, also removes stains from dishcloths, china, glass, tile, enamel, linoleum, wood surfaces; and it destroys mold ...reducing risk of food spoilage.

In the Bathroom, too, protective cleansing measures are important as an added health safeguard. For in the bathroom germs may be easily transmitted and as a result, it can be the most dangerous of all home "danger zones"...unless made sanitary. Make hygienic cleanliness the rule by using Clorox in routine cleansing of washbasins, bathtubs and toilets.

In Laundering, Clorox gently bleaches dingy white cottons and linens snowy-white (brightens fast colors); makes them fresh, sanitary ...removes stains, scorch, mildew; and Clorox lessens rubbing, thus prolonging the life of hard-to-replace linens. By using Clorox in regular laundering process you assure whiter, brighter washes, greater health protection.

Clorox is ultra-refined, free from caustic, an exclusive, patented quality-feature. It has the same full strength, same high quality standards, today as always. Simply follow directions on the label which also lists many important personal uses. Always ask for Clorox by name.

FEATURING QUALITY FOODS!

Another Salvage Drive Is Mapped

Another waste paper, rag and scrap metal drive for Lubbock and vicinity is being planned, according to Lieut. Lang M. Sheppard, LAAF salvage officer, who recently has issued some ideas and plans for making the drive a bigger success than the last one.

One of the most critical items needed at LAAF and local air fields is rags, preferably cotton rags, which have been purchased on the open market heretofore but now must be collected by other means since the supply isn't adequate to fulfill the needs of the fields. In the forthcoming drive, the rags should be clean and tied in bundles when collected.

Starts On May 1

The waste paper and rags drive will start May 1 and continue until Thursday, May 11, when the items will be picked up on street corners as before. Scrap metal will be collected between May 1 - 13, will be picked up at school houses on or after May 13. Local air bases will furnish trucks to collect the material.

Here are some of the "do's" and "don'ts" to remember about waste paper salvage:

(1) Magazines should be grouped according to size, in bundles of 30 to 40 pounds. Don't put them in sacks or wad them up in bundles.

(2) Newspapers should be tied separately from magazines. During the last drive a laxity in bundling of papers and magazines was noticed throughout the city. Newspapers should not be wadded into boxes, but laid flat before being tied. LAAF has the authority to dispose of the paper to its contractor not necessarily baled but placed loosely in box cars if properly tied.

PIGGLY WIGGLY "A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE"

Quick Action To Head Off Fabric Shortage Is Urged

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Swift, concerted action has been urged on price and production authorities to head off a serious shortage of cotton textiles for civilians this year.

Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production board, and Price Administrator Chester Bowles are scheduled to confer tomorrow on means of coping with the shortage without clothes rationing.

May Avoid Rationing

WPB's commitment to avoid rationing can be kept, an interagency "task committee" reported unanimously, if machinery is quickly set up to permit government scheduling of production from cotton mill to finished garments.

The report said the disappearance of low-priced goods from dealers' shelves threatens the entire economic stabilization program.

A 50 percent deficiency in the supply of fabrics for low priced clothing such as house dresses, infants' clothing, men's shirts, underwear, and children's school clothes was predicted by the committee which is composed of two members each from WPB, OPA and the Office of Civilian requirements.

Firm Allocations

The committee's recommendations called for "firm allocations" of unfinished cotton goods for civilian use. The group proposed a prompt start on special production programs for the critically needed apparel. It urged that minimum quality standards be set to insure wearability and to permit the fixing of retail dollar-and-cents price ceilings.

The ceilings probably would be higher in most cases than present prices because the output of low-priced goods has slumped as manufacturers with limited labor and materials turned increasingly to luxury goods which bring higher prices and profits.

ASTP Courses At 2 Texas Schools

DALLAS, April 27 (AP)—High school graduates who are 17 and who received notice that they passed the Army-Navy college qualifying test March 15 are eligible for Army specialized training reserve program courses opening May 8 at two Texas institutions, the AST division of the Eighth Service command said today.

A. and M. college at College Station and Baylor university at Waco will receive students from the enlisted reserve corps for classes starting on that date.

Should Report Immediately

Eligible students, who have received the notice but have not expected a call before July 1, should report immediately to a recruiting and induction station, the headquarters said. After they have been inducted, they will be placed in the enlisted reserve corps for the purpose of receiving specialized training.

They will be furnished tuition, textbooks, housing and meals, and will wear the Army uniform, but they will receive no Army pay while in the reserve status.

Parallel To Freshman Work

The course of study will parallel basic college freshman work. In addition to their studies, the reserves will have 5 hours of military training and 6 hours of physical training each week.

The Army reserve training is available not only to those who expressed preference for the Army when they took the test, but also those who chose the Navy but were in excess of the Navy quota.

Standard Oil Income Nearly Doubles 1942

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP) — Standard Oil Co. (NJ) reported today consolidated net income for 1943 of $121,327,773 or $4.45 a share, nearly 50 per cent more than the $81,809,835 or $3 a share shown for 1942.

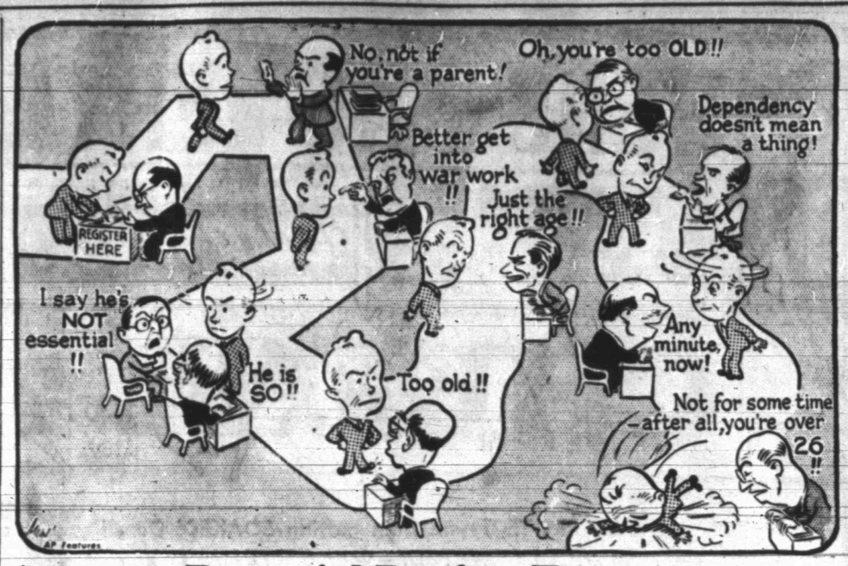

The company and its affiliates did a total volume of business last year of $1,302,812,300, President Ralph W. Gallagher said in his annual report, compared with $1,039,338,781 the year before.

NET PROFITS HIGHER

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP) — West Texas Utilities Co. reports net profit for 1943 of $1,667,892 equal to $4.78 a share, compared to $1,336,837 or $3.50 a share in 1942.

BIG GROWTH PREDICTED

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Tremendous growth of savings and loan associations was predicted for post-war years by Fred C. Morse, president of the Texas Savings and Loan league. The group will conclude a two-day session here today.

Anyway, Potential Draftee From Among 'Forgotten Man' Ranks Gets Attention

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — Young men between 26 and, say, 29 can't tell these days whether the draft is blowing their way or not. The Selective Service System is in another period of change, entering its third phase so far. These phases have been:

1. The period when dependency was the standard.
2. The "essentiality" era.
3. The current phase, when age determines, largely, whether a man will be drafted.

Emphasis On Youth

The changing needs of global war lie behind these sweeps of policy. Right now the armed forces want young men to replace older men who may be killed, injured or mustered out because of age.

Hence the present emphasis on the 18-26 age group.

Before Pearl Harbor, the emphasis was largely upon dependency. A draft board had to decide whether a man's family needed him more than Uncle Sam. During this period the armed services increased from about a million to 2,300,000 men.

The second period came after Pearl Harbor, but gradually. Selective Service built up the armed forces to 6,500,000 by the time it was placed under the War Manpower commission in December, 1942, but after that the question became more and more a matter of how essential a man's work was to the war effort and vital civilian economy.

The Father Question

A definition of "essential" that satisfied everyone never was reached, however, and meanwhile uncertainty developed as to whether fathers should be drafted. After Pearl Harbor the age limit was changed from 21-28 to 21-45, later was cut back to 18-28 after it was decided to draft teen-agers.

The Navy had been ordered to take its manpower from Selective Service instead of relying upon volunteers, and during 1943 higher manpower goals were announced by the armed forces at the same time that war production continued expanding.

Congress debated the drafting of fathers, and this had the effect of causing local draft boards to postpone inducting fathers. In the meantime, Congress had legislated to defer essential farm workers, thus withholding a slice of several hundred thousand out of the prime manpower pool from the purely military standpoint.

Now comes the latest shift in policy — the emphasis on youth. The Army announced April 6 that it had filled its manpower needs of 11,000,000 men (and would reach a peak of 11,300,000 by September) but would need replacements. Two days later it said exactly where it wanted to get these replacements—from the 18-26 age group.

Age Is The Standard

President Roosevelt had complained in February that too many young men were deferred. Induction tightened upon young men under 26, including farm workers, while those over 26 had their inductions indefinitely postponed by Selective Service director Lewis B. Hershey.

Age is the standard upon which nearly all other countries base their draft systems. The usual reason given abroad is that the age-class system enables everyone to know when he'll be drafted and plan accordingly.

Here, however, the reason given by the Army and Navy is that they want the best combat replacements they can get, and that young men in the 18-26 bracket make the best.

Some men over 26 still will be needed, it's indicated, but some time may elapse before policy is settled on that.

Oil Consumed During 1943 Is More Than 5 Times Discoveries

DALLAS, April 27 (AP) — The 1,423,906,000 (billion) barrels of oil produced in 1943 was more than five times the 271,048,000 barrels of new reserves discovered that year, says Dr. Frederick H. Lahee, Dallas, chief geologist of the Sun Oil company.

In an address before the 20th annual meeting of the National Oil Scouts and Landmen's association, Dr. Lahee said that new reserves added through extensions and revisions of oil fields in 1943 in the 11-state major U. S. producing areas, added to the reserves discovered in 1943 brought the grand total of new proved reserves up to 1,234,255,000 barrels, or 189,651,000 barrels short of the amount produced during the year.

Using statistics from the American Petroleum institute's oil reserves committee, Dr. Lahee said that proved crude oil reserves in Arkansas, California, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas declined from 19,260,415,000 barrels as of Jan. 1, 1943, to 19,070,764,000 barrels as of Jan. 1, 1944.

Another speaker, Sidney Lee, research scientist for the Atlantic Refining company, Dallas, said that planes using 100 octane fuel have about 45 per cent faster climb at 20,000 feet than do planes burning 87 per cent octane gasoline.

H. L. Johns of New Orleans was elected president of the National Oil Scouts asociation. He succeeds Bell J. Crosby of Houston, who was made chairman of the board of directors.

Troy Stalls of Midland, Texas, was elected first vice president; Buddy Robinson, of Evansville, Ind., second vice president, and J. L. Smith of Wichita, Kas., secretary-treasurer.

Howard R. Brooks of Dallas, was named editor in chief of the annual year book.

SHERIFF WARNS OWNERS

HOUSTON, April 27. (AP) — Mares eat oats, and does eat oats, etc., but cows eat victory gardens, Sheriff Neal Polk said today. The county has received more than 40 complaints within recent days that stray cattle have trampled and eaten from gardens, the sheriff said, and he warned owners to keep the animals penned.

Living Costs In Britain Mounting

LONDON, April 27 (AP) — The cost of living in Britain now is 29 per cent above its pre-war level and still rising despite government attempts at stabilization which last year alone cost $760,000,000, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Anderson told Commons today.

In his budget message he said personal incomes in the country had increased $2,400,000,000 above 1942.

Of the 1943 increase in income, more than half—$1,540,000,000—was paid out in additional taxes. A part of the remainder, $884,000,000, went into national savings. The rest was spent.

Without the steady increased government expenditures toward stabilization—mostly in subsidies—the cost of living would have increased about 45 per cent over pre-war levels and might have reached 50 per cent this year, Sir John said.

Wages Rise 11 Per Cent

Wage rates, he added, have risen 11 per cent more than the cost of living to date.

Britian's invasion year budget with expenditures of $23,748,000,000—$3,124,000,000 over 1943—was submitted to commons by Sir John, who proposed that taxation produce slightly more than half, roughly $300 from every man, woman and child in the nation.

Making Of Synthetic Gas Said Expensive

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP) — Synthetic gasoline production costs about three or four times what it costs to make natural gasoline says Director R. R. Sayers, of the federal bureau of mines.

Dr. Sayers, testifying in hearings before a House appropriations subcommittee, on a plan for the recently authorized synthetic gasoline plants for which an appropriation of $30,000,000 is proposed, said plants authorized in the O'Mahoney-Randolph bill will represent small units of commercial plants. They will not produce for commercial purposes but private concerns would be able to utilize the results merely by increasing the size and number of the units, Sayers said.

Lumber Production Expected To Drop

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP) — Lumber production in 1944 probably will fall short of the year's goal of 34,000,000 board feet, the War Production board said today, blaming shortages of labor and equipment.

February production, however, declined only 0.8 per cent under January—less than the normal seasonal drop.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

All Freedom Is Imperiled

REGARDLESS of individual opinions and sympathies in the controversy involving Montgomery Ward & co., on the one hand, and the Roosevelt government and the CIO, on the other, two facts stand beyond the possibility of contradiction. They are:

First, the company has declared its willingness to require its employes to maintain membership in the CIO IF an election shows that a majority of the employes desire it. The government has said, through the War Labor Relations board with the full and declared support of the President, that the employes must pay tribute in the form of dues and must acknowledge obedience to the overlords of the CIO, even though the majority may oppose it. And WLB, joined by the administration and CIO, has avoided for five months a determination of how the employes may feel on the proposition. Obviously, with the administration, even a minority with CIO membership is enough to make a majority among the employes.

Second, the company has asked repeatedly that the whole question of the legality of the course pursued by WLB be threshed out openly in the courts of the land. Montgomery Ward's has pleaded for this sort of test in spite of its knowledge that the final determination of the issues will be in a Supreme Court packed with administration appointees. Clearly, the company must feel that right, justice and the law are on its side so overwhelmingly that not even a packed and prejudiced court would dare to rule against. In contrast, WLB, the administration and the CIO have done everything they could to avoid a court showdown—even when they and all reasoning people know that the final showdown would be in a court which has demonstrated repeatedly, and very recently, that it is sympathetic to the theories, principles and practices of the New Deal administration.

WHAT could be the motives behind the high handed position the administration has taken in this controversy? Could they, perchance, be of political nature?

In considering the answer to these questions, certain facts are beyond the possibility of dispute. Let's consider them: CIO represents a voting power of several millions. These votes, almost in their entirety, are in doubtful states with large electoral votes. While CIO members represent a very small fraction of the total votes in those states, it is entirely possible that the CIO membership, by voting solidly, might hold the balance of power in several or many states. It also is a fact that CIO has become no less than lukewarm—frequently violently critical—of the administration. Only by some very drastic action could the New Deal hope to regain the aggressive support of the relatively small CIO political machine which, by standing together, might decide the occupant of the White House for the next four years.

Regardless of whether the administration's recent course has been motivated by political expediency, the presumption must be that the action meets with the approval of CIO and similar organizations. Beyond reasonable question, the New Deal has rekindled active support among all selfish, minority and radical factions.

But has the New Deal actually gained strength through this sort of maneuvering? This question is one for the rank and file of American citizens to decide. The possibility is that so many Americans will be aroused—and perhaps frightened—by the events affecting Montgomery Ward that the New Deal will lose more strength than it has gained.

The fate of Montgomery Ward & co., as an individual concern in this controversy is unimportant to the nation as a whole. The fact that is important to every American citizen is this: If the administration can pursue an illegal, high-handed and unconstitutional course with an establishment as large and powerful as Ward's, then no business in this land is safe.

If CIO can succeed in dictating how the administration shall treat Ward's, then it soon will be dictating how every last one of us shall be treated.

We shall be governed, not by our government, but according to the self-interest and the whims of the CIO and other labor overlords.

It is reported than an Alabama man traded his wife for a 40-acre farm. He may have made a bad trade, as farming is quite a gamble these days.

The One Minute Sermon

Ye shall have one law for him that sinneth through ignorance, both for him that is born among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourenth among them.

But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.

Because he hath despised the word of the Lord, and hath broken his commandment, that soul shall utterly be cut off; his iniquity shall be upon him.—Numbers 15:29 through ...

Take Away The Lady

By Lester Dent

(Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.)

THE STORY: Lieut. Link Belt, Army Air Corps radioman, is interned in Niji Prison, Yokohama. His plane was brought down while bombing Tokyo. Without apparent reason, he is taken from his cave cell to the office of Captain Azaraski, commandant of the prison. He is dismayed at the detailed information Azaraski seems to posses about him.

PILOT OFFICER BALDWIN

IV

"SURPRISED you, did I?" The Jap beamed.

"You practically took my hair off," Link admitted. "As a matter of fact, I do not recall that anybody in the U. S. Air Corps knew I belonged to the Its Club."

Azaraski consulted a wrist watch. "Link, I am pushed for time," he said. "What do you say we talk about it later. Some other time. You can go back to the cell now."

"This," said Link suspiciously, "is all that will come of this?"

"That's it. Just checking up." Azaraski sat down and picked up another document. "Sorry if we made you nervous."

Azaraski waived at two soldiers, said in Japanese, "Return Lieutenant Belt to the cell. And bring me"—he examined the document he had picked up—"Pilot Officer Baldwin, the Australian."

In English, he told Link, "By all means, let's do have a talk some time. I mean that. I've always been interested in osteopathy."

Then Azaraski jumped up. "Say, I have it," he called. "What about tonight? Why don't you have dinner with me?"

"You kidding?" Link asked.

"Of course not," said Azaraski. "We could go out to my home. I believe you would enjoy that. What about it?"

Link, who was puzzled, and who had been in a Jap jail long enough to be alarmed by the whole thing, asked, "Do I have any choice?"

"Don't be so suspicious," Azaraski said. "Say we make it about six o'clock. That's fine. I'll be seeing you, then. Six tonight."

"I don't suppose," said Link, "that I'll be hard to find."

THE prisoners had a word game going in the cell. Pilot Officer Baldwin was playing with them. They were having a row over whether a word was in the dictionary.

"You're all crows," Link said. "For all you knew, they might have taken me off to bayonet me in the posterior, the way they like to do."

Baldwin looked at Link in surprise. "You seem to have survived," he said. "What did they do to you, anyway?"

"I got invited out to dinner," Link said.

"You're joshing!"

"Maybe you'll get an invitation, too," Link said. "The bull of the woods told them to fetch you up next."

Baldwin didn't think it was funny. When he realized Azaraski had actually sent for him, he raised a commotion.

But Baldwin walked out of the cell without the Jap soldiers having to lay hands on him. In the hall, however, he refused to start climbing stairs with his bad foot.

Surprisingly, the soldiers gave in, and they all went up in the elevator. Once they were out of sight and hearing of the cell, Baldwin's attitude toward the soldiers changed. He elbowed one of them out of his way.

Azaraski noticed Baldwin's attitude toward the Jap soldiers when the man entered.

"Leave us alone," Azaraski told the soldiers in Japanese. When the soldiers had tramped out and closed the door, Azaraski told Baldwin, "You are a little brazen toward my men, aren't you? They think you are only an informer."

Baldwin shrugged. "They hate all white men, don't they? They tried to make me walk up those stairs with this foot." He walked around Azaraski's desk, pulled open drawers and searched. "Where do you keep those American cigarets?" he demanded.

Azaraski gave him a cigaret, then went over and opened the door to make sure none of his soldiers had their ears to the keyhole. He came back and said, "I invited Lincoln Belt out for dinner."

BALDWIN stared at the smoke from the cigaret.

"That's fine," he said. "Now Link is as suspicious as a rooster with a rubber worm."

"Think how he's going to feel before we're through with him," Azaraski said cheerfully.

"I guess there's no gentle way of sucking him in," Baldwin admitted. "He's an osteopath, all right. I had him dress my foot again this afternoon, and now I'm sure of it. The way he worked on the muscles to get the soreness out, he knew what he was doing."

"You should have seen his face," Azaraski said, "when I asked him how he'd like to be sitting on the porch of the Its Club."

Baldwin took his cigaret off his lips and stared at the other.

"You're pretty casual, aren't you," he said.

"Oh, our Intelligence assembled the information on Link," said Azaraski.

"I guessed as much. But aren't you afraid of seeming a little too interested?"

The remark jabbed Azaraski. He did not want to show Baldwin that he was uneasy, but he could not help glancing about the office, looking at the pictures, the moulding, spots where a microphone could be concealed.

Suppose there was a microphone hidden somewhere? He didn't think there was. But it could be. He wished now that he had been more honest in the past. It would have been better if he had not bought the fine home in the Nogeyama quarter a few months ago. He could not have come within many thousand yen of saving the cost of the place on his captain's salary.

Azaraski felt the need of a drink

Prior to the war, Americans were traveling 350,000,000,000 miles a year.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

MY MORNING paper carried a headline that I liked very much.

"Drops 18 per cent as loafers," it read, and the story was about an engine plant in Portland, Ore., which fired a lot of employes for "persistent tardiness and absenteeism."

Loafers—that's what they are. There's altogether too much fancy language today to hide plain facts. Too much icing and not enough cake.

I don't know when this apologetic kind of writing and talking started.

To my mind it indicates weakness and fear.

When I was a kid, we used to call shirkers loafers and bums not "absenteeists" or other fancy names.

Today it's "juvenile delinquents," it used to be fresh little brats.

Diplomacy and politeness are admirable traits, in their place. But why not call a spade a spade and say what you mean when it might be ever so much more effective?

Everything is psychology these days and research and so-called science.

Instead of the direct approach to difficult problems, we take the round-about way and give ugly things euphonious names.

Isn't that simply a sign that we are becoming soft and afraid?

You remember how you were always told about how crude we are here in America and how polished the French, how cultured the English, how musical the Australians were.

We used to send our kids abroad to acquire the "finishing touches."

Finishing touches is right! The whole business over there is just about finished, dying by its own over-sophistication, over-culture, over-stagnation.

* * *

DON'T let us be gutter snipes over here, don't let us be vulgar or crude.

But whatever we do, don't let us degenerate into a nation of hypocrites and trained monkeys.

America is young. Youth means courage, enterprise, strength, DIRECTNESS.

One good thing will come out of this war: The millions of young Americans that have gone over there will have brought some of the American way of life to Europe.

Let us hope that they won't bring any of the European way back to us.

I like my eggs fresh, my sunshine warm, my fellow beings truthful, sincere, outspoken and AMERICAN.

Why do you think our ancestors came over here from abroad? To get away from slavery, stagnation and sham or to transplant it to this country?

Bums are bums no matter what you call 'em!

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

SEVERAL recent battlefield tests, especially those conducted at such widely separated spots as Tarawa and Cassino, have established the specific functions which the Anglo-American air forces will perform in the forthcoming invasion of Festung Europa. The experiments settled conclusively hot arguments involving the respective champions of aerial, land and naval might.

The outcome in the Pacific and in Italy demonstrated that planes alone cannot make for a quick or easy triumph over well-entrenched units. Advance fleets of bombers cannot pulverize or paralyze opponents fighting from caves or sunken and fortified pillboxes. Indeed, they cannot prevent the enemy from retaliating against attackers by keeping him below ground during combat.

These actions proved that the air arm has limited tactical value in actual combat. Fast fighters will be needed to provide an umbrella for infantry, artillery and engineers and to fend off strafing Nazi flyers.

Fortresses, Marauders and Mitchells will be assigned the task of disrupting supply lines in the rear, smashing land installations and destroying interior factories engaged in making new weapons.

MOLES: These demonstrations have driven home one unhappy conclusion at London and Washington—namely, that our losses in the early stages of the grand assault may be heavier than expected.

The airmen will help in reducing casualties such as those suffered by the French and British in France, but they cannot guarantee a pushover.

Aerial observation has revealed that Hitler's defenders along the European coast have gone underground to a far greater and deeper extent than had the Japs in Tarawa or the Nazis in Cassino. Their subway system rivals New York's and London's in its extent and ingenuity.

Gallant tournaments between knights of the skies will highlight the headlines and thrill the world audience. But the decisive battles will be fought in a large measure by unsung moles beneath the earth.

WINS: This pre-invasion repudiation of extravagant claims that air power alone can win wars, together with our great naval successes in the waters of the vast Pacific, has had an excellent psychological effect on the Anglo-American armies, from the General Staff and Navy Board down to the most insignificant infantryman.

Never in modern times, perhaps, has a triphibious force faced its fateful test in such a cooperative mood. The jealousies and strategic disagreements which handicapped the Allies since Dunkirk have vanished. These preliminary experiments have enabled the Joint High Command to assign each branch to the discharge of its proper role.

In Tunisia, Ike Eisenhower taught that the doughboy and the tankmen, doing the dirty, plodding work, are the ground gainers. On the sea Rear Admiral William Halsey showed how Blue jackets, Marines and naval aviation can wrest historic strongholds from the Japs. Lt. Gens. Clark, Spaatz and Ira Eaker have demonstrated where and how bombers, fighters and transports fit into the general scheme of war.

This fundamental lesson has an importance which is not generally sensed outside the circle of topnotch strategists. It is best expressed by a football analogy, and two old-time gridiron greats in Washington—Gen. George C. Marshall and Maj. Gen. Alexander D. Surles—frequently apply it:

"When the line and the backfield are constantly arguing as to which really wins games, they usually lose 'em. The tackles and guards won't open holes in the opponent's defenses, and when they do, the ball carriers won't use 'em. But when each knows that it is equally essential, understands its assignments and does it, that team wins games!"

CHAGRIN: John L. Lewis recently revealed that he doesn't give a fig—or a lump of coal—for the [illegible] or popularity. The man who has bearded Presidents, cabinets and capitalists took time off to shock the distinguished guests at one of Elsa Maxwell's bizarre New York parties.

The society entrepreneur had assembled a galaxy of "big shots." They included columnists, radio commentators, publishers, actresses, the so-called "wealthy intellectuals." The program stipulated that each person should make a speech. In view of the character of the crowd, the majority bubbled about the brighter and greener world which would emerge from the present holocaust. Then came the president of the United Mine Workers of America.

"I should be the best informed person in this room," he declared sardonically. "You are writers and radio analysts. But you are so busy preparing your copy and script that you don't get time to find out what is going on.

"Meanwhile, I sit in my home at Alexandria or in my office at Washington, and have time to read and listen to all these wise men and women. Therefore, I should know everything. I would if what you write and say were correct.

"All I know is what I have read of history for the last 500 years. All I know is that England and Russia have never willingly given up an inch of ground which they have taken, and they have covered a lot of territory!"

The hostess, presumably to the chagrin of her guests, subsequently described John L.'s outburst as the "outstanding speech of the evening."

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

DIRE warnings by enemy mouthpieces that India would revolt as the Japs invaded the territory in the Manipur jungles have failed to materialize.

Despite the pleadings of renegade Subhas Chandra Bose, the natives have not uprisen against American and British soldiers. Indians, here to attend the International Labor Organization conference, assert that the traitor and his masters never had a chance to win over the masses, especially after escaped Moslem and Hindu prisoners of war had revealed their brutalities.

As the delegates are strong advocates of independence, they cannot be accused of being either puppets or propagandists of New Delhi. Here is their story—part of it too grim for publication except in wartime as a further revelation of the nature of our foe:

Bose was originally kicked out before the war by fellow Indians in the Congress party—not by the English. He fled to Berlin and later to Japan and is now said to be with the Nipponese troops in Burma, inciting rebellion across the border.

His appeals are hampered as he has no efficient medium for spreading his poison. Local papers are censored; illiterates cannot read handbills and only a few own radios. But even more, he has to reckon with men who have endured Japanese cruelty.

ROARED: Home at last, they relate their adventures in the bazaars and villages and their accounts are circulated by word of mouth. The former captives are visual evidence to their neighbors of the real attitude of Japanese toward Indians—more potent testimony than American or British pep talks or enemy whispering campaigns.

A Sikh colonel slipped from prison in Singapore and, disguised as a fakir, walked 900 miles through the forests to Assam. He and his staff had been kept without food for days. The arms of each were then bound and the victims were forced to sit with crossed knees. A hard crust was placed on the floor and the assembled Japs roared with laughter as each starving wretch tried to nibble the bread from his awkward position.

In another camp, Gurkhas, with their hands tied behind their backs, were made to crouch beside a road while soldiers gave each three thrusts of a bayonet. By a miracle one who had collapsed got away and reached the lines.

A diary taken from the body of a dead Jap infantryman described his pleasure in witnessing the suffering of a Hindu sergeant who had been strung up head down and disembowled.

Spring Is Dangerous Time For Hydrophobia Spread

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, April 27 (U.P.)—Spring generally is considered a season of gaiety, but to the State Health department it's a rather serious time.

During March, April and May rabies or hydrophobia begins to flourish.

For instance last year in the three spring months there were 268 animals found to have been "mad" by state laboratory tests. During the other nine months 553 cases were determined.

For some reason spring simply comes around as a rabies season, records of the department show.

In the first quarter of 1944, out of 789 heads of animals tested by the laboratory, 309 were found to have had rabies. With such a high infection rate in three months, indications were that 1944 may rival the peak year of 1936.

Then 981 "mad" specimens were determined, the number being the largest during the 1930-43 period.

Upward Cycle Begun

After 1936, the annual totals decreased until 1943 and now it appears another upward cycle has begun. In 1940 the laboratory determined 396 "mad" animals, 353 in 1941, and about the same number the following year. But in 1943 the figure soared to 821.

Dogs—especially the "stray" or "alley" varieties—represent by far the largest source of rabies infected, in fact if this species could be controlled authorities believe that a lot could be accomplished toward eliminating the infection.

During the first quarter of 1944, of the 309 "mad" animals examined, 287 were dogs.

As for the remainder, they include gophers, fox and squirrels as well as cats, horses.

POSSIBLY the domestic animals were bitten by dogs, since they are the main carriers. As to where the gophers, fox and squirrels got rabies—that's something that just hasn't been figured out yet.

Some dog owners have noted that their pets did "unusual" things when afflicted by rabies. Authorities expect them to because, as they point out, rabies is an "unusual" disease.

It's tiny virus affects the central nervous system and are transmitted by the ailing animal by saliva. The salivary glands function to access and the fluid from them contains the rabies virus.

Authorities say there are three stages of hydrophobia, which generally run its course in three or four days after the first or "irritability" stage. Next is what you might call the "furious" stage, generally when the infected animal does most of his rampaging. Last is when the animal is paralyzed—he gets completely down and dies.

During any of the stages transmission of rabies is possible through a bite—those deep bites which strike near the central nervous system, such as on the face, head or neck, being most dangerous.

In some instances, the mad animals travel considerable distances. One case is recorded in Travis county where a dog tore a distance of nearly 25 miles before being shot.

TREATMENT for persons bitten by mad animals consists of daily injections for 14 days of a vaccine which is exceedingly powerful and never administered as a preventative or for psychological effects.

The vaccine is made at the state laboratory from nerve tissues of rabbits that have been especially treated and died from rabies. Too, there are commercial concerns that make the serum.

Annually the state laboratory ships to health officers in Texas enough vaccine to treat from 1,200 to 1,500 persons.

By no means is all of the testing of animal heads for rabies done by the state laboratory. Much of the work—which consists of inspecting brain tissues under a microscope—is done at the Houston City Health department and at Tyler City Health department.

Commercial laboratories which do a considerable amount of the work are located at Fort Worth and El Paso.

Few West Texas Cases

Rabies does not appear to develop as an epidemic like influenza, or a similar disease might. However, most cases appear in the heavier populated areas of the state.

This year the largest number of animal heads examined here have come from San Antonio, Port Arthur, Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, Palestine, Greenville, Sherman and Galveston.

The wide expanses of west Texas report relatively few cases of rabies.

TWO courteous thieves who burglarized a grocery store left a "thank you" note on the empty cash register in Houston.

The manager of the store reported to police that 6,000 red and blue ration stamps, $300 in merchandise, $45 in change and $5 in postage stamps had been taken.

The polite note was signed "E. H.' and "C. W. M."

A pint of whisky was the impetus that started two negro youngsters—one five and the three—to the emergency ward in a hospital in Houston.

Sorry and sick they were returned to their home.

Hospital attendants said the pair spent their time in the hospital singing negro spirituals.

City To Equip Offices For New Recreation Department

Contract to erect partitions in the city hall space formerly occupied by the corporation courtroom so as to provide offices for the personnel of the new city department of recreation was awarded to Guy H. Gilstrap on a bid of $312 at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon. Gilstrap's bid was the lowest of four submitted.

The city manager, Marlin R. Smith, jr., was authorized to buy the necessary furnishings, the estimated cost being around $400. He also was authorized to order ledger sheets, bills and meter sheets printed for the city water and light department, cost estimates being approximately $700.

Chlorine Purchased

Purchase of 24,000 pounds of chlorine from Southern Alkali corp. of Dallas at 8 cents per pound also was approved. It is used in purifying city water. The price is the same that has been paid during the past several years, the city manager reported. Only one bid was submitted.

Citizens National bank was reappointed city depository for the next two years.

After extensive discussion and study by a special committee, members of the commission concluded that it would be impractical to reduce city water rates to encourage victory gardens sufficiently to be of any benefit. The rate cut was suggested in a communication from a committee representing local garden clubs.

Commissioners pointed out that even a very substantial cut in existing rates would amount to less than 50 cents per month to the average consumer. Yet the aggregate of this lost revenue to the city would be so substantial that it would be necessary to make up the difference elsewhere — probably by increasing the tax rate. Officials reminded that all profits from the water department go into the city general fund, from which operating costs of the city government are paid.

The commission authorized the city manager and Police Chief Don Reeder to designate representatives to attend the joint meeting of the Texas Traffic Courts conference, the Texas Safety association and the Texas Police association in Dallas May 9 and 10. A plaque awarded to Lubbock for having had the best traffic safety record of any Texas city between 25,000 and 50,000 population during 1943 is to be presented on that occasion.

All members of the commission attended the meeting. They included Mayor W. O. Ribble and Commissioners W. B. Price, Hub Jones, Fred Childress and J. Ray Dickey.

Fourth Of Car Owners To Be Without Cars By 1945, Official Says

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—One of four pre-war auto owners will be without cars by July, 1945, William E. Holler, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor division, General Motors corporation, told dealers of this area here today.

"That means six and a half million former car owners will be doing without," said Holler." And by July, 1945, nine and a half million owners will be driving 'junkers' worth less than $100."

Production of 18,400,000 new cars and trucks will be necessary to get this country back to its pre-war standards of motor vehicle transportation, he said.

U.S. Casualties Now At 192,836

WASHINGTON, April 27 (U.P.) — Announced casualties of the United States armed forces total 192,836, it was disclosed today. The total last Thursday was 189,300.

Comprising 148,425 Army casualties as of April 15 and 44,411 Navy casualties as of today, the total includes 44,497 killed; 72,030 wounded; 41,923 missing and 34,386 prisoners of war.

Prisoners Reported Dead

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson divided Army losses into 25,582 killed, 60,166 wounded, 32,727 missing and 29,950 prisoners. Of the wounded, 33,077 have been returned to duty, Stimson told a press conference, while 1,679 prisoners have been reported to have died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied territory.

Navy casualties to date embrace 18,915 killed, 11,864 wounded, 9,196 missing and 4,436 prisoners of war.

Dallas Is Dubious Of Houston Health Claim

DALLAS, April 27 (U.P.)—Houston's fine health record as indicated by only 42 communicable diseases for the week ending April 15 was taken "with a grain of salt" by local health authorities today.

They suspected the state's largest city was a victim of some figure juggling on the part of its officialdom since its reported number of diseases was all out of proportion with its population of an estimated 650,000 (Harris county).

In comparison, they pointed out, Ellis county, with only one-tenth that population, reported 47 communicable diseases, while Dallas county, its nearest rival, had 382 cases.

Beachhead Medicine Show Sends Nazis Into Jitters

By DANIEL DE LUCE
(Substituting For Kenneth L. Dixon)

ANZIO BEACHHEAD, April 20 (Delayed)—It had the German 14th Army worried. First came a trumpet wail about sugar blues and then a street corner spiel on the curative powers of akka marakkus, the India medical discovery.

The place: The American edge of no-mans-land; the time: 3:30 a. m.

Nazi supermen stirred uneasily in their sand-bagged mortar and machine-gun pits under the Italian stars. General alarm messages were telephoned to supporting batteries of Krupp guns. Shells screamed over the Carano cemetery and mushroomed in flame over hundreds of yards of ground.

"Dinah" Peals Forth

But again the trumpet raised a brassy voice in a disturbing, fluttering lament. This time it was "Dinah."

As the only genuine frontline vaudeville company on the beachhead continued its performance, 30 gaunt unshaven Gis pounded their grimy hands in applause.

"The Baron" courteously acknowledged the tribute with a tip of his steel helmet.

"Gentlemen," he said, "and I mean even those who go home on rotation, I bring you akka marakkus. Its magical medical properties are absolutely, and positively guaranteed to benefit man, beast or soldier."

Here's The Evidence

Pvt. Baron Ormsby, 28, Fresno, Calif., tantalizingly shook a brown bottle which looked as if it might once have contained atabrine. One hand jauntily clutched the lapel of his newly pressed tuxedo provided by a special services officer, Capt. Kenneth H. Conner of Longmont, Colo.

"You know, gentlemen," he said. "A bottle of akka marakkus was accidentally broken at the Elks club in Kansas City and the iron deer walked off the lawn! Yess sirree! Do you know that a lady 90 years of age bought a bottle of akka marakkus last year? And where is she now?"

"The Baron" hissed his answer in a stage whisper:

"She's pitching for the Cincinnati Reds."

"Only 10 cents, a thin dime, will put akka marakkus in the foxhole of every intelligent inhabitant on the beachhead.

"And need I remind you," he added, "that if you take a bottle you'll never live to regreat it."

First Time On Beachhead

In Naples, Guadalcanal or Kumming you sometimes see the glamor folks of the world show business perform, but not here. The first touring troupe of the beachhead was plucked straight from the ranks of an infantry division that had been long in action. As soon as the soldiers reached a rest area nearer the sea the troupe was organized, and went right back to the front line "to practice."

Ormsby, who says he was born on a ranch renowned for its skunks —"Hole Water"—at Abbott, Maine, doubles as a comedian and sleight of hand artist when he is not carrying a rifle. He can take an American flag out of a hollow china egg, and prove it to be a real eggs by breaking it open and donating it to his audience for the next meal.

Red-haired, freckled faced Pvt. Kenneth Bertilson of Hollywood, Calif., plays "Beer Barrel Polka" on his accordion when he is not a grease monkey in the infantry division's motor pool.

Pfc. Howard Seim, Schenectady, N. Y., a clarinetist, rigged up the advertising for the troupe. It is a sign hand-painted on six empty sandbag sacks.

"If we can't have our names in lights, what's wrong with burlap?" he asks.

With a Sing Sing haircut and a face so tanned it never turns pink no matter how hard he blows, Pvt. Bill Becker of Bergenfield, N. J., is known as "Trumpet Blues."

Others in the troupe are saxophonist Pfc. Vito Tanzi, Cranston, R. I., and Guitarist Pvt. George Heitz, Wheeling, W. Va., and Angelo Famiglietti of Everett, Mass.

CHILD FATALLY SHOT

FORT TOWSON, Okla., April 27 (AP)—Archie Cecil Meriott, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meriott, died today in a Paris, Tex., hospital of a .22 caliber rifle wound received yesterday at play.

The father, a guard at the state penitentiary, said it was not clear how the tragedy occurred. The child had gone with two other boys to a creek a mile south of town, and one of his companions reported he had been accidentally hit, Meriott said.

Tech Prexy Faces Tough Questions By City 'Farmer'

You don't have to know everything to be a college president, but it helps sometimes, ruminated Texas Tech's President Clifford B. Jones as he survey a letter from a 32-year-old Detroit man ambitious to operate a farm in Lubbock county.

Confessing that he had always been fascinated by agriculture, the big citian said he would not consider farming anywhere but in Texas, preferably around Lubbock. He bombarded the Tech prexy with questions.

Am I too old to start? How much money does it take to start? How are the schools and electric service there? How many pounds of "seed soy onion" does it take to plant an acre and what is the average yield per acre? How do you raise pigs? Lambs? Cotton? Onions?

But the question which set Mr. Jones to dusting off his thinking cap was this one: "What is the average yield of an orange tree and how old do orange trees have to be to bear fruit?"

However, Dr. Jones said the letter and questions would be answered, as he does all mail to him, though he indicated he might have to call a conference of his professors.
